FRENCH PRESIDENT DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED BY ASSASSIN'S BULLETS

Death Expected to Follow Attack on Seventy-Four-Year-Old Paul Doumer—Was on Way to Open Exhibition of Books When Shot by Assailant—Police Official and Novelist Slightly Injured in Attempting to Arrest Assassin.

Paris, May 6.—President Paul Doumer was shot four times and desperately wounded by an assassin this afternoon while he was on his way to an exhibition of books by ex-soldiers. Late this afternoon, the Havas Agency reported him dying from his injuries. At 3.20 o'clock this evening President Doumer underwent a second blood transfusion. The doctors appeared uncertain as to his chances for recovery.

The noted novelist, Claude Farrere, and Paul Guichard, director of Paris police, were slightly wounded.

All the members of the cabinet were waiting in the home of Baron De Rothschild, near the Elysee Palace, for the arrival of the President, who was to have opened the exhibition.

M. Doumer was escorted to the official suite and entered the exhibition room. With Joseph Germaine he walked to a platform. At the end of the room M. Germaine handed him a book to sign. As he prepared to do so five shots were fired. The President crumpled up and sank to the floor with bullets in the front of the head, in the side behind the ear and in the shoulder. Farrere, the novelist, who stood nearby, sprang forward and seized the assailant.

The man raised his smoking pistol and fired point blank. One bullet struck Farrere in the arm. Guichard, the policeman, was running forward also. Another bullet struck him in the arm.

Police seized the man and in a moment found the revolver where he had flung it after firing the last shot.

In his pocket was another gun, fully loaded. He was identified as Paul Gougouloff, a Russian and a doctor of medicine.

The President was carried immediately to Beaujon Hospital on the Rue Du Faubourg St. Honore.

An operation was performed immediately, but the doctors said the seventy-four-year-old President was in extremely critical condition.

Premier Andre Tardieu was the first to call on him. Meantime the police were having considerable difficulty in the exhibition hall to protect the assassin from an infuriated crowd.

Madame Doumer, who gave four sons to France in the war, was grief-stricken when she reached the bedside.

As the evening wore on and a crowd pressed about the hospital bits of news trickled out. The doctors disclosed that after the emergency operation, the patient rallied slightly.

"Ca va," he murmured, the doctors said. That means, "I'm all right."

Paul Doumer, distinguished white-bearded statesman who has served his country for many years in the field of politics, became President of the Republic last May.

His closest competitor was the late Aristide Briand, but the "man of peace" had alienated enough of his contemporaries by his policy of rapprochement to prevent his election.

So M. Doumer, at seventy-four, became the thirteenth President of France. It was the second time he had been a candidate. In 1906 he ran against Armand Fallieres, president of the Senate, and lost.

He is a man of humble beginning. His father was a section boss on a railroad. He died when the President was a boy, and it was a struggle to attain an education, for he had to leave grammar school at fourteen to help support his widowed mother.

He laid the foundations for his political career in newspaper work. When he became interested in politics he specialized in finance and became Minister of Finance in 1895.

Subsequently, for seven strenuous years, he was Governor-General of Indo-China, and on his return from that faraway post was re-elected to the Chamber of Deputies. Three years later he became President of the Lower House. He held that office when Fallieres, then President of the Senate, defeated him for the Presidency of the Republic.

M. Doumer's heaviest sorrow came in the war. Three of his five sons were killed in battle and a fourth died of his wounds soon after the armistice.

During the war M. Doumer was a busy man in several minor government posts, although in 1917 he was minister without portfolio in the Painleve Cabinet which was overthrown by Clemenceau.

In 1921 Aristide Briand, then Premier, made him Minister of Finance. Six years later he became President of the Senate.

"SUICIDE FLIGHT" FEARED TO BE FATE OF AVIATOR

Boston, May 6.—W. Hamilton Lillie, World War flyer and a salesman out of work, was missing in his monoplane today many hours after he started on a "short flight" and a relative feared he had flown into the mists to a new kind of premeditated death.

Lillie, who lived in Newton, hired a monoplane yesterday morning and said he was going to take a half-hour flight over the city. He headed down the coast in his plane that carried little fuel.

Lillie's uncle, W. H. Reynolds, expressed the opinion that Lillie had flown his plane over the ocean until the fuel was exhausted, with suicidal intent.

Three National Guard planes were sent out to search for him early today.

PIERS SWEEPED BY TERRIFIC BLAZE IN NEW YORK TODAY

Liner California, Moored at Pier When Fire Broke Out, Was Pulled to Safety by Tugs.

New York, May 6.—A terrific blaze this morning swept Pier 54, North River, at the foot of 18th street, the long pier used by the Cunard liners Aquitania and Mauretania, despite concentration of fire apparatus brought out by five alarms.

Assistant Fire Chief Thomas F. Dougherty abandoned hope of saving the pier—nearly 1,000 feet long and considered one of the best in the city—and concentrated his efforts on saving the two adjoining piers, Nos. 53 and 56.

The liner California, with no passengers aboard, was moored at Pier 56 when the fire broke out, but was pulled to safety in midstream by tugs.

Dense smoke choked the entire area and caused a traffic tie-up on the nearby elevated highway.

Both the liners Aquitania and Mauretania are at Southampton, England.

A GRANBY BOY IS VICTIM OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Inquest Being Held Today into Tragic Death of Eleven-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Fernand, of Granby.

Granby, Que., May 6.—An inquest is being held today into a tragic fatality which occurred here yesterday afternoon when Simon, eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Fernand, 138 St. Peter street, was knocked down by an automobile and killed.

The mishap occurred shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the boy was crossing Main street. An automobile driven by Mr. Rudolph Duhamel, 412 St. James street, was travelling in a northern direction, and the driver apparently did not see the lad until too late. He swerved the car in an effort to avoid striking young Fernand, but the rear mudguard of the vehicle knocked him to the hard pavement.

Mr. Duhamel immediately stopped his vehicle and removed the unconscious victim to Dr. Rummels' Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from head and internal injuries. He passed away a few hours later.

MADRID POLICE CLAIM TO HAVE UNVEILED PLOT

State Plans Had Been Drawn Up to Assassinate President Alcalá Zamora, Premier Manuel Azana and Other Members of Republic's Cabinet.

Madrid, May 6.—Police said they believed they had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Alcalá Zamora, Premier Manuel Azana and other members of the cabinet of the Republic.

The announcement was made following the arrest of a man named Antonio Rodriguez, who, the officials said, visited Valencia recently at the same time President Alcalá Zamora and Premier Azana visited there. Rodriguez's visit, they said, was made under suspicious circumstances.

QUIET REIGNS IN POLITICAL HEADQUARTERS

Problem of Leadership Prevents Active Movements in Provincial Opposition Encampment.

Montreal, May 6.—Although provincial politicians of both parties are quiet, they are not sleeping, and the apparent lassitude that exists at the present moment is described as the lull before the storm. On the government side, little action is needed. The Liberal Provincial machine is in good order, and all that is needed is a little oiling here and there before it can be set in motion.

But in the Conservative camp the situation is different. Camille Houde, ex-deputy for St. Mary's seat and ex-Mayor of Montreal, is the party leader in theory if not in fact. Should he refuse to play the game and not retire, he can only be removed in one way, and that is by a party convention, duly summoned.

This would be a grave step, and many fear the results on the morale of the party. The election of a leader, especially when he has been converted from the camp of the Liberals, opens the way for discussion. Some feel that he can be useful to the party, but only under leadership. The problem is to find a leader.

Montreal is mainly made up of two men for the leadership. One is Onesime Gagnon, M.P., for Dorchester county, the man who defeated Hon. Lucien Lamontagne, and who has strengthened his position in the party since his election in 1930, and the other is Maurice Duplessis, M.L.A. for Three Rivers. Mr. Duplessis admittedly stands head and shoulders over anyone else as far as the provincial Conservative membership is concerned, so much so that it is not a secret that C. E. Gault, of St. George, Montreal, was named House leader by the Conservative Party as a block Mr. Duplessis from becoming House leader, and thereby gradually, even almost imperceptibly, acquiring the party leadership. This would have made a party convention unnecessary.

However, the question of adding strength to the provincial party arises, and the suggestion that Mr. Gagnon leave the federal field follows this view. For Mr. Gagnon to make the switch would mean that the links with the federal party—sometimes weak, sometimes strong, and but imperfectly reconnected—would be firmly knit, and certainly so as long as Premier Bennett leads the federal party, for the Dorchester M.P. has the confidence of his Ottawa chief, and his very selection to the provincial leadership would be evidence that the dissonances between provincial and federal Conservatives have disappeared definitely.

MANY NATIONS MAY CLOSE DOORS TO FOREIGN TRADE

Warning Against High Tariffs Issued at Joint Convention of National and Pacific Foreign Trade Councils.

Honolulu, May 6.—Economists and business leaders of nations bordering the Pacific have been warned that high tariffs may compel many countries to close their doors to all foreign trade except raw materials.

The warning was issued by K. Seko, representative of the Japan Economic Federation of Tokyo, at yesterday's joint convention of the National and Pacific Foreign Trade Councils.

Other speakers joined in urging alleviation of tariff walls.

JOURNALIST ADVOCATES IMPERIAL UNITY TO REMEDY ILLS OF WORLD

Enlightened Selfishness Will Play Large Part in Success of Coming Imperial Economic Conference, Declares Sir Wilmott Lewis at Meeting of Canadian Press—Countries Must Be Willing to Buy as Well as to Sell if Parley Is to Have Results.

Toronto, May 6.—Sir Wilmott Lewis, noted journalist, who is Washington correspondent for the London Times, today stood as a firm advocate of British Empire cooperation as a means of curing the economic ills of the world.

In an address last night before the annual dinner of the Canadian Press and the Canadian Daily Newspapers' Association, Sir Wilmott said the fate of civilization rested upon the cold, shrewd political sense of the British peoples who will be gathered together at the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa next July.

The Ottawa Conference, he said, must seek a middle road between economic idealism of unattainable world-wide free trade and the present nationalist trade systems, which are leading to complete collapse.

Sir Wilmott, speaking as a student of world affairs with experience in capitals of many countries, said the present trend to higher tariff barriers was leading civilization to "a situation no lighter than the darkest crisis he said. He thought the world had too many experts, and that it needed now a common, garden variety of good management it was not getting. "The world needs some solid, dispassionate good management, and if it cannot find it in the British Commonwealth I do not know where it can find it."

Sir Wilmott dealt enthusiastically with the prospect of success in the Ottawa Imperial Conference. "A great deal depends on the people of the British Commonwealth, for without us the present sorry mess will be sorrier. Let us hope we will find some way to do something about it," he suggested.

JAPAN STARTS EVACUATION OF SHANGHAI AREA

Mixed Commission to Supervise Carrying Out Terms of Recently Signed Sino-Japanese Truce.

Shanghai, May 6.—The vanguard of what remains of the powerful Japanese army at Shanghai, estimated at 30,000 men today, began evacuating the area about the city from which it drove the Chinese in the last battle of the "war."

The evacuation, which is in accordance with the truce agreement signed yesterday by Japanese and Chinese officials, is slated to continue increasingly each day until the entire Japanese force has retired under the truce. The movement is expected to be completed within one month.

A mixed commission, consisting of two representatives each of China, Japan, Great Britain, the United States, France and Italy, will supervise the withdrawal and also see to it that the Chinese positions pending further Sino-Japanese conferences.

The Chinese emphasized, when signing the treaty, that it restricts in no way the movement of their troops in Chinese territory.

The Nanking Government announced a special force of Chinese constabulary would take over the area now occupied by the Japanese and police it.

Reports emanating from Japanese sources said the Japanese Government probably would move for a round table conference here to settle all Sino-Japanese issues, including the problem of Manchuria and the anti-Japanese boycott in China.

NORFOLK AGENT MAKES ANOTHER MYSTERY TRIP

Trio Still Hopeful that Negotiations for Lindbergh Child Will Prove Successful, Despite the Lengthy Absence of Youngster.

Norfolk, Va., May 6.—To the long series of moves which three Norfolk intermediaries believe will lead to the recovery of the stolen Lindbergh baby, John Hughes Curtis, principal of the trio, planned today to add another trip by water.

The yacht Maroon, used by Curtis and his associates on their secret cruises, remain in readiness at the naval base, where she arrived last night from a trip of comparative short duration made during the day.

The results of this trip were shrouded in the same secrecy that has covered the manoeuvres of the intermediaries since their lengthy negotiations were started.

The Maroon has repeatedly sailed from the naval base to unannounced destinations since the scene of Mr. Curtis' activities was apparently shifted on April 22nd from the land to the sea. The first of the cruises was followed almost immediately by another, and since then only short intervals of rest have come between the movements of the yacht. It was learned that at least several of the cruises were made out to sea.

Reports continue to link Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh with the Norfolk negotiations as an active participant aboard the boat. Others known to be accompanying Mr. Curtis include Lieutenant George L. Richard, naval air pilot, and Edwin B. Bruce, of Elmira, N.Y., an old friend.

Except for the brief comment that "we are still hopeful," the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, former Canadian clergyman, and Rear-Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, the other intermediaries, have refused to give any information regarding their work.

PORT ALFRED PULPWOOD BLAZE ALMOST SUBDUED

Two Million Dollars Damage Caused During Seven Days of Terrific Conflagration.

Port Alfred, Que., May 6.—Two million dollars of damage having been suffered during the seven-day fire in the enormous pile of 250,000 cords of cut wood at the Port Alfred mill of the Consolidated Paper Company, the fire appeared today to be about to be brought under control.

With the dredge General Montcalm pouring thousands of tons of water on the pile, it is expected that the fire will soon be under control. The General Montcalm began its second day of throwing water on the burning heap today and due to its effective work the fire has assumed signs of abating. Fears that the mill and the village of Port Alfred might be destroyed by the blazing wood have been dispelled.

ACCESSION OF KING GEORGE IS COMMEMORATED

Twenty-Two Years Ago Today His Majesty Ascended Throne to Rule Over British Empire.

London, May 6.—Today was the twenty-second anniversary of the King's accession to the Throne and a salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the court bombardier at Windsor Castle, while the bells of St. George's Chapel pealed merrily.

The court removed to Buckingham Palace on Wednesday and will remain in London until Whitsuntide, the end of next week, when Their Majesties go to Sandringham, Norfolk.

On Sunday, Their Majesties and other members of the Royal family will privately inspect the new exhibition of the Royal Academy.

On May 30 the King and Queen will pay their annual visit to the music hall, the Palladium having been selected for this year's command performance. The performers, largely comedians, will be all British and the dresses, scenery and stage fittings will be of British make, while the orchestra will confine its programme to music by British composers.

PIERRE ST. PIERRE EXECUTED AT EARLY HOUR FOR MALLOY MURDER

Hereford, Que., Bootlegger Went to Death Calmly at 5.05 O'Clock This Morning for Complicity in Slaying of Norton Mills, Vt., Youth—Made Spiritual Will Last Evening Before He Bade Final Farewell to His Family.

The sinister sentence Pierre, alias Albert St. Pierre, notorious Hereford, Que., bootlegger, heard from the lips of His Lordship Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault, on December 18th last, "and hang by the neck until you are dead," was fulfilled this morning when the slayer convicted of the murder of Rene Malloy, of Norton Mills, Vt., ascended the scaffold and paid the supreme penalty. Exactly at 5.05 o'clock as the first streaks of dawn announced the birth of his last day on earth, the trap was sprung by hangman Arthur Ellis. Fifteen minutes later the body was cut down and pronounced dead by Dr. J. E. Daigneault, jail physician, and the ends of justice had been met.

Resigned to his fate after he had made a spiritual will on the eve of his execution, St. Pierre walked to the gallows at a steady pace, accompanied by two stalwart guards and by his spiritual advisers, Fathers Verschelden, chaplain of Bordeaux Jail, Montreal, and Ira Bourassa, chaplain of the local prison. He fairly raced up the thirteen steps leading to the top of the gibbet, which was hidden from curious and morbid eyes by a screen. In but few minutes the straps were adjusted around his ankles and arms, the black cap placed over his head and everything in readiness as the rope was slipped around the doomed man's neck.

Owing to the early hour, there were but few spectators who lounged around the prison walls. As soon as the black flag ascended to half-mast, several members of the waiting audience started homeward to spread the news, while others remained with the hope that they would be permitted to examine the gruesome scaffold after the body had been removed. The flag was later hoisted to the top of the flag pole and the corpse removed to a local undertaking parlor. The remains were claimed by the family and will be taken to Hereford today for interment.

PREMIER MACDONALD HAD RESTLESS NIGHT

London, May 6.—A medical bulletin issued from Downing Street this morning said Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who underwent an operation on his right eye for glaucoma yesterday, had a somewhat restless night but that the condition of his eye was satisfactory.

HEAVY TOURIST BUSINESS THIS YEAR EXPECTED

Traffic on Highways Due to Ascension Day Holiday Reported as Quite Brisk in This District and Throughout the Province.

The manner in which St. Pierre met his death astonished those who had close connection with the case. Several believed he would attempt to make a demonstration as he was led to his death, but as the end approached these fears were dispelled. Yesterday afternoon St. Pierre's characteristic sang froid and composure failed him when he was visited by his wife, father, two sisters and two children, and learned that there was absolutely no hope. Pitiful scenes marked the last farewell of the two young daughters, while a heart-rending drama was witnessed as the faithful wife and father took their departure shortly before eleven o'clock last evening.

During the evening, in the presence of one of his wardens as witness, St. Pierre made a spiritual will. The text of the document, which was signed Pierre A. St. Pierre, was:

"I declare before God that I prefer my death will be accorded such publicity and all those who know me will learn of the particulars. I wish to make this spiritual will before the God, who will judge me, with the sole objective of telling the truth and to protect my wife and children against public calumny against me and my family before, during and after my trial.

"I die in the bosom of the Church which I did not always obey as I should have.

"I pardon all those who injured me, ask pardon of all whom I harmed during my life, and above all ask God to pardon my sins as I forgive the sins of those who injured me.

"As to the matter which leads me to the death I am about to undergo, I declare before God that I have no other intention but to deliver justice to the men whom I knew were coming to steal my goods. I declare I made my prisoners fully understand that they had nothing to fear as long as they remained still.

"I declare that I never uttered the words 'I am a thief' nor any similar threat. I am still convinced that those who came to steal my property were armed, and I only used my gun after I had been attacked.

"I did not perform any of the things ascribed to me in respect to the victim while he was complaining and groaning in his death agony. As to the statements I would have made in the presence of different witnesses after the tragedy when I was guarding the body so that nothing would be touched or disturbed, I declare before God that I never repeated exactly as I said them, the outcome of my trial might have been different.

"I declare before God that I prefer dying without the stain of murder rather than live with the scourge of having taken the life of one of my peers.

"I also declare that I did not organize a conspiracy with the object of committing murder, a matter I never thought of and that I had no motives to do so.

"I pray God to give to my dear wife and devoted children in heaven that I could have done had I lived."

Shortly after the hanging a proclamation was posted on the bulletin board beside the entrance to the jail. The declaration contained the report of Sheriff Omer Lapierre, Clerk of the Court J. V. Artois and Jailer J. A. Charest, testifying to the fact that St. Pierre had been executed in the common jail, and also included the report submitted by Dr. J. E. Daigneault that he had examined the body and pronounced life extinct. At the bottom of the long sheet was the verdict of the coroner's jury, presided over by Mr. Leonidas Bachand, which testified

REMOVE THE BARNACLES FROM THE SHIPS ON LAND.

An article in a recent issue of the Review of Reviews, in which the writer puts his finger on the basis of all the railways' troubles of recent years, is well worth consideration by the legislators of both Canada and the United States.

In forceful and sincere language, and briefly told, is the story of H. T. Newcomb, vice-president of the Delaware and Hudson Railway. The author is evidently a real business executive, and he comes to the point with the incisive words with which a section man would drive in his spikes.

In his mind the railways have been shackled by too much government interference, too much red tape and supervision by unintelligent bodies known as Commissioners. It is in the United States as in Canada, only with a difference in name.

Our neighbours call it Inter-State Commerce Commission.

We call it a Board of Railway Commissioners. Ours was fashioned on the other by the late Hon. A. G. Blair, who copied the idea and called it his own, just as many other of our freak laws are the freak experiments of other countries introduced or foisted upon our much-governed country as original conceptions.

How can we look for prosperity in railways shackled and hampered to a very large extent by ill-conditioned legislation? The managers are deprived of the power to manage. They cannot adjust their property to meet the changing conditions of travel and transportation.

First they are drained and well-nigh scuttled by the Railway Trainmen's organizations, which maintain at every Capital a bulldozing lobby to threaten each individual member and scare his head off his shoulders.

Mr. Newcomb may put it in polite and diplomatic language, but we never believe in calling a spade an instrument.

But with the Board of Railway Commissioners, acting in the slothful and slumbering way of most government departments, there is scarcely anything a railway executive can do which is exempt from deprivation or interference.

We first tie the railways up in this knot, and expect them to run with the kindergarten Commissioners, chiefly amateurs who do not know a crowbar from a shim.

The Commissioners play badminton with any request, making one grand rally with a "bird," which is supposed to be a request for prompt action. From pillar to post, over the net and out of bounds the bird goes, and then the shuttlecock is returned for more information, or the request is refused.

How in the name of Van Horne and all the veterans of the bygone years the railways can be expected to meet the rapidly-changing conditions from day to day when they are hamstringed to such an extent, is more than any business mind can understand.

Abolish the Railway Commissioners, all seven of them, remove the Old Men of the Sea who cling to the back of the railways and give them the freedom to thrive and prosper.

All big men of big affairs, know that to-day they can only do business through the good-will of their customers, through fairness and uniformity of rates. The little weaned squeezers of the olden days, who thought they sat on top of the world, disappeared when "Jim" Hill and Van Horne showed the world how to conduct railways.

The Vice-President of the D. & H. cites a case where a railway was compelled to keep on a train for nine hours where the crew of the train exceeded the number of passengers carried. And things like this have happened quite near home when the Q.C.R. withdrew their 4.10 train to the South.

JUST A HINT OF HIDDEN THINGS IN AUDITOR-GENERAL'S REPORT.

There are certain things that our various governments should do and could do which would help us climb the hills and look upon the valleys of depression as a darksome piece of scenery that the observation car has passed a few miles back.

Some of them may be little things, but they loom large in the mind of the public.

The resumption of payment for the ministerial motor cars should be abrogated. This costs $36,000 a year, on top of an income of from $14,000 a year upward to each of eighteen ministers.

There are twelve Boards of Commissioners for this and that. Nearly all of these are created and carried on where the Government is sticking its nose into business affairs which should be conducted by the particular business interested. These commissions have staffs and offices, and have become a permanent incubus costing from five to ten millions of dollars. They did not exist a few years ago, and we got along better without them.

The Board of Railway Commissioners have a staff sufficient to manage the C.N.R. The salaries of the six Commissioners foot up $50,833 a year, and their one hundred and fourteen secretaries, engineers, inspectors and clerks, with their assistants, their travelling expenses and miscellany, cost Canada another $299,853 each year. Quite a luxury for a figurehead.

At one time we had members of Parliament who went through the Auditor-General's report with a fine tooth comb and thus became anathema to the lobbyists, the contractors, sellers and civil service, so these interrogating members were translated to the Senate.

It takes seventeen finely printed pages, with two pages to the column, to relate all these fine and fancy departments where staffs of clerks are kept, and where are shown the devious ways in which expenditures have been mounting up. Chiefly the creations are the freak notions of some of the people who, even in big business, build up a network of red tape which finally chokes the business to death.

HOT AFTER A NEW FORM OF TAX-CHASING.

Radio broadcasting is to be governed, chiefly to eliminate the tiresome advertising of pale pills for purple ills. What form of regulation this will take just depends. Some are set for government ownership, which means political operation and all the increased debt on the country which that implies. Then there is the suggestion of private ownership under one governing body, whilst the third scheme is based on Canadian control by an established League, which will finance through fees and advertising, with at least five hours free from the objectionable entry of advertising.

It might be well for the promoters of all these schemes to look into the formation of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association, which embraces regulation, and which eliminates pests in short order. There they would find a well-balanced organization which dispenses news without partiality to all of one hundred daily newspapers in Canada. Each publisher has a voice in the distribution of news, and for years there has been harmony and co-operation.

There is an objection to the yearly fee imposed on all owners of radios. It becomes an irritating tax. Sufficient would it be to turn the six per cent. sales tax over to the Radio Association, for it is quite unfair to hamper any new industry by forcing it to contribute to the cost of other undertakings.

Nor do radio owners accept the theory that the Government shall put their proboscis into their private affairs.

Until the matter is settled and the fee question adjusted it would be well for owners not to be in a hurry to send their names in to any station on requests by advertisers.

The right scheme has not yet been formulated.

EDITOR'S NOTES.

"Throwing good money after bad" is the way the Montreal Gazette describes further sums spent by Parliament in connection with the Village of Churchill, and the Hudson Bay railway project. But they do continue to vote millions to that which was nothing but a gigantic steal by hungry contractors and land speculators. When will Canada get a Parliament which can maintain an honest perspective in spending the people's money? The Hudson Bay project is and always was a mad venture in public expenditure.

A prohibition officer in New York flames into the local newspapers of that City of Easy Virtue under the name of McCampbell. Where in the name of Roderick Dhu did the man ever gather the Mac, for the Campbells are always coming! In the name of McFortin, of Magog; of McDonald, of Scotstown; of McLean, of Megantic, and all of the Township of Durham, we demand a retraction of that Mac in Campbell, or to be told of its genesis or leuiticus.

The virulent gossip may interest and entertain you, but you do always feel that it will be saying the same stinging things about yourself as soon as you are not there to hear them.

This division would be between the 9th and 10th ranges, placing ranges 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 into a township named Stanstead East, and leaving the balance as Stanstead Township. No protest against this division was made by the council.

A resolution was passed stating that the distribution of the $30 per mile on summer road work be left to the discretion of the councillor and road overseer of each seat or division.

The mayor and secretary were authorized to deed the gravel pit and town building to the municipality of Ogden.

ACTIVITIES OF THE RED CROSS ARE REVIEWED

Annual Session of Canadian Society Informed of Meritorious Work Accomplished During 1931—Local Lady Elected to Executive Committee.

Montreal, May 6.—The wide scope of meritorious and praiseworthy work accomplished by the Canadian Red Cross Society was outlined during the course of the annual meeting held here. Three important phases of Red Cross work covered during the past year were explained to the gathering by General G. Eric McCuaig, president, namely, the maintenance of a hostel for homeless ex-service men, the administration of the civic fund for homeless men and the assistance given in equipping other hostels for homeless men.

The meeting was informed that, although general unemployment relief is not a branch of the society's work, the unsettled state of affairs during the period under review had affected the organization to a great extent in that it was faced with a large increase in the number of ex-soldiers appealing for aid on account of illness. As a result, the provincial division of the society reported an excess of expenditure of $57,233 over revenue.

Norman Sommerville, of Toronto, chairman of the national executive of the society, stated that the Red Cross outpost hospitals in Canada helped 35,000 persons during the year and brought 1,300 babies into the world. The Dominion membership in the Junior Red Cross, first organized in Quebec is over a quarter of a million, and over twelve million throughout the world.

A lengthy but explicit report was submitted on behalf of the executive by its manager, Col. John F. Buckley, who reviewed the year's work in all the different departments of the society. The report pointed out that the society experienced considerable difficulty obtaining hospitalization for ex-service men not qualified under the Quebec Public Charities Act, their treatment becoming a charge upon the Red Cross.

The report of the Junior Red Cross read by A. E. Hoyt, the chairman of its committee, showed that the membership this year amounted to 45,871 children in 1,485 branches, or approximately 80 per cent. of the enrolment in the Quebec Protestant elementary and intermediate schools. The work of these junior groups is based on a programme to improve health conditions and to provide medical care for children of indigent parents not eligible for care under the Q.P.C.A. Contributions to the Crippled Children's Fund amounted to $4,841; 128 sick children totalling 143 cases were financed by the juniors at a cost of $4,120 for hospitalization and $600 for travelling expenses. Other activities included donations to Child Welfare Clinics, the provision of lunches for under-nourished children, the making of layettes, etc. The financial statement showed revenue of $98,914. The budget for 1932 provided $85,000 for expenditure.

At the election of officers, Mrs. W. E. Paton, of Sherbrooke, was elected to the executive committee.

I want you to know the amazing things that Floating Power does to an automobile.

That's why I join with every Plymouth, De Soto, Dodge and Chrysler dealer in Canada in inviting you to take Floating Power Ride tomorrow or any day next week.

I can't describe a Floating Power Ride to you. Nobody can. It's something you have to feel and experience.

But I promise you a surprise and a thrill.

Imagine, if you can, a car without vibration. Think of the smoothest car you've ever driven. Multiply that smoothness by two or more. Then you'll have some idea of Floating Power smoothness. The flexibility of Floating Power. A handling ease beyond your dreams.

A Nationwide Demonstration of FLOATING POWER

Starting tomorrow and continuing throughout next week, thousands upon thousands of Canadian motorists will participate in the greatest and most spectacular of all automobile demonstrations—the Floating Power Ride.

Of course, you're invited. Cordially invited. You and your family and your friends.

Merely ask any Plymouth, De Soto, Dodge or Chrysler dealer for a Floating Power Ride. Or, if you prefer, ride with a friend who owns a Floating Power car.

You can enjoy performance like this in only four cars—the Plymouth, the De Soto, the Dodge and the Chrysler. Because Floating Power is exclusive.

Of course, competition is making lots of claims about riding smoothness. But can they prove their claims? Find out for yourself.

Ride in a Floating Power car. Then ride in any car without it. You'll find there's a world of difference.

I've said repeatedly that any car that hasn't Floating Power is out-of-date. I mean just that. I know you'll agree with me after you've ridden in one of our Floating Power automobiles.

So I urge you to take a Floating Power Ride during Floating Power Demonstration Week in Canada. Take the wheel of any Floating Power car as my guest. Ride for fifteen minutes and you'll want to ride for an hour. For a day. That's how Floating Power gets you. Just take a Floating Power Ride. You'll see.

"I agree with Mr. Chrysler 100 per cent. And every Plymouth, De Soto, Dodge and Chrysler dealer in Canada is ready to prove the truth of his statements. Take a Floating Power Ride—and discover things!"

REVENUES SHOW REDUCTION AT LOCAL OFFICE

Total Collections at Sherbrooke Office of Department of National Revenue $62,414.71 Last Month Compared With $64,673.78 in April, 1931.

A continued decline in the receipts from import duties and greatly enhanced excise tax collections featured the revenues for the Sherbrooke office of the Department of National Revenue during the month of April, 1932, as compared with the corresponding month last year, according to a report issued by W. R. Moore, the chief clerk.

For the opening month of the fiscal year, the revenues for the local office totalled $62,414.71 as against $64,673.78 for April, 1931, or a decline of $2,259.

Excise tax collections, principally the sales tax, were nearly trebled and closely approached the import duties as an income producer. The collections for the past month totalled $30,787.48 and in April, 1931, were $11,068.08, an increase of $19,699.40. This increase was accounted for to a large extent by the increased sales tax and a rush during the earlier part of the month to clear goods before the added sales tax took effect.

An increase of $36.05 was shown in excise duties collected. These duties are mainly taxes on the production of cigars and tobacco, and indicate a somewhat healthier state in these lines of business. These collections for April, 1932, amounted to $331.05 compared with $295 for the same period last year. Sunday collections were also higher last month at $111.50, an increase of $57.30 over the figures of $54 for April, 1931.

PLANE CRASHED AT COMPTON AIRPORT One of Sherbrooke's young flying men experienced a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday afternoon when the plane he was piloting crashed into the field of the Compton Airport. The aviator was Florrie O'Donnell, who has been connected with the Sherbrooke Flying Club since its foundation and who has become a capable and experienced flyer. He was handling Paul Winter's craft when the mishap occurred, and although the plane was quite badly wrecked, O'Donnell escaped uninjured, except for a few minor scratches and bruises. O'Donnell had just brought down a young girl from a trip over the Compton Airport when he went up again alone. He circled the field and when he swooped down for a landing, something went wrong with the motor of the plane, it suddenly stalled and the plane crashed into the field. Florrie O'Donnell was fortunate in escaping uninjured. He is none the worse, however, for his shaking up.

LENNOXVILLE

CONFERENCE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS HELD A gathering of Sunday school workers of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville was held in Douglas hall on Wednesday in two sessions, afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the Religious Education Council of the Province of Quebec.

Miss G. Grover, teacher of the Girls' Work Board, and Rev. D. T. J. Forsythe, secretary of the Religious Education Council, conducted a round-table conference in the afternoon and addressed the meeting on topics relative to the evening.

Miss Grover in her address outlined the objectives of the Sunday school, which she said, were to teach appreciation of the nature of God, knowledge of His word, and to develop Christian character. Believing that distorted views of Christians were often secured in Sunday school from a careless teacher, Miss Grover stressed the importance of example. The necessity of trained leaders and teachers of young people was dealt with in Miss Grover's remarks.

Mr. Forsythe spoke from the subject, "Making People Care." A great need of people who care existed, he said, in the world today. Hunger, inequality, and anxiety were everywhere. There was need, he pointed out, of more enthusiasm in the churches, and here he contrasted the enthusiasm of the golfer and the sportsman with that of Christian workers. It was almost impossible, he said, to man the different departments of church work because of the lack of members that would take the trouble to do this kind of work.

The dangers of disillusionment and loss of the enthusiasm of living when people refused to do their share of the church's work, were stressed. "Others, too, were affected by what we do and are," the speaker declared, explaining that modern life had brought people and nations so close together that whatever affected one affected all.

Rev. F. R. Matthews presided over the programme, which opened with a sing-song led by Mr. Allan Willard, with Miss M. M. Simons at the piano. Rev. R. M. Pergau, of Sherbrooke, read the Scripture lesson, and Dr. W. S. Lennon offered prayer. Dr. G. Ellery Read was also present. A male quartet, "Open My Eyes That I May See" was sung by Messrs. Allan Willard, Ernest Gibbey, Lawrence Pergau and Douglas Hadlock.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. W. J. Lane, Mrs. A. B. McKee, Mrs. P. Pergau and Mrs. D. J. Lowry, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Woodside, Mrs. E. J. Astell, Mrs. Herbert Banfill, Mrs. Majeury, Mrs. Ingham, Mrs. Stalker and Mrs. J. S. Marlin. The guests were received by Mrs. Pergau, who was in charge of the programme.

BIRTHDAY TEA A FEATURE OF LADIES' AID MEETING A birthday and salad tea held yesterday afternoon in Douglas hall, following the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid proved very interesting and successful, as well as very pretty and artistic. Twelve tables were arranged to represent the twelve months of the year, each with appropriate decorations, and with a musical selection or reading. The January table, arranged by Mrs. F. R. Matthews, suggested the passing of time, an old man with a sickle and a young boy representing the passing of the old and the coming of the New Year. A skating song, sung by a trio of girls, Misses Emma Matthews, Geraldine Lane and Norma Edwards, proved very timely for this month. Mrs. H. W. S. Downs arranged the February table. Valentine decorations being used. A solo by Mrs. S. J. Forbes was the item on the programme for this table. The March table was arranged by Miss Scott and Miss Johnston. Ma' flowers around a Maypole draped with red, white and blue, forming the decorations. "Springtime in the Rockies," sung by Miss Thelma Crawford, illustrated this month. Graduation month, June, was represented at a table arranged by Mrs. J. A. Seale and Mrs. H. P. White. Three girl graduates, Misses Ruth Meade, Lilian Salis and Alison Ewing, in gowns and caps, and an essay on graduation symbolized the month. The July table had Orangemen's Day decorations as a basis, with flags and bunting in honor of Confederation Day. Mr. Douglas Hadlock sang an appropriate solo, and Mrs. John Munroe arranged the table. Mrs. R. E. Willard had charge of the August table with its harvest decoration, and Miss Emma Matthews sang a suitable solo. September was represented as the school opening month, a pile of school books surrounding a centerpiece of apples proving appropriate decorations. Mrs. J. G. Tremholm arranged the October table, with a display of Thanksgiving edibles as the centre. The November table was looked after by Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown, with a maple tree in the centre. The December decorations consisted of a small Christmas tree with candles, and music, was supplied by the Coates family.

Other speakers will be Mr. J. E. Lemire, a dairy farmer and Mayor of the Township of Ascot, Mr. Andrew Crawford, one of the successful farmers of Orford, and Mr. Francois Charland.

This gathering on Wednesday night is the outcome of a meeting held in Sherbrooke some weeks ago when a group of agriculturalists from this district met to view the problems confronting the

MANY EXPERTS WILL ADDRESS FARM MEETING

Quebec Branch of United Farmers of Canada Promises Many Features at Gathering to be Held in Arena on Wednesday.

Many speakers of Province-wide repute are scheduled to address the first gathering of the newly formed Quebec Branch of the United Farmers of Canada, which will be held in the Exhibition Arena at Sherbrooke on Wednesday evening, May 11th, at 7:30 o'clock. The speakers include practical farmers, agricultural experts and men who are interested in the welfare of the farming community. The headliner will be Dean Barton of Macdonald College, who is considered to be one of the best versed men in the problems facing the agricultural sections of the country today. The Dean is an able speaker, and has the ability to convey his message in a clear and forceful manner.

Supporting him will be the president of the Catholic Farmers' Union of the Province, Mr. LeLond. This Union has a membership of sixteen thousand, and has promised its hearty support in extending the activities of the newly formed organization throughout the length and breadth of this province, and ultimately to assist in its organizing out in the other provinces of Canada.

Laurent Barre, M.L.A. for Rouville, politician, farmer, writer and orator, founder and first president of the Catholic Farmers' Union, will also be present. His fluent and entertaining manner of address has won for him a large following, and his presence alone at this gathering is sure to attract a large following.

Then that veteran champion of the farmer's cause, Dr. F. H. Pichel, M.P. for Bromme-Missisquoi, has promised to attend and outline the political possibilities and benefits of a well organized union of farmers.

One of the chief sponsors of the Quebec Branch of the United Farmers of Canada and its first president is Mr. Edwin Ducker, a farmer and market gardener, of Sherbrooke, who will preside over the gathering on Wednesday and outline the aims of the movement.

Associated with Mr. Ducker in this movement is Mr. J. B. Reed, a prominent farmer and dealer of North Hatley, who has always displayed a leading part in farm discussions in the Eastern Townships. Mr. Reed will be present to give his conception of the needs of the Canadian farmer today.

Other speakers will be Mr. J. E. Lemire, a dairy farmer and Mayor of the Township of Ascot, Mr. Andrew Crawford, one of the successful farmers of Orford, and Mr. Francois Charland.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

ANNUAL SPRING CHURCH PARADE TO BE HELD ON SUNDAY On Sunday next, May 8th, the Boy Scouts will hold their annual spring church parade and attend service in the Baptist Church. Following the service they will pass in review before Alderman J. R. Sangster, the District Commissioner, His Worship the Mayor of Sherbrooke and Mr. J. Phillips, president of the local Boy Scout Association. Inspection for the Lister Trophy will also take place on Sunday.

Instructions have been given for all packs, troops and crews to meet at Portland Square at 9:30 o'clock on Sunday morning for inspection by the judging committee. The orders provide that summer uniforms be worn, and that colors, including totems, be carried.

Those taking part in the church parade will assemble under the direction of the district officers in charge of their particular section in sufficient time to be ready to move in parade formation at 10:30 o'clock. The 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th Packs will be in charge of D. C. M. Hicks, the 2nd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th Troops under the direction of D.S.M. Price, and D.R.L. Carrington will look after the 2nd and 6th Crews.

The Girl Guides have also arranged to hold a church parade on Sunday, and will attend service in the Baptist Church along with the Boy Scouts.

COMPANIES HAVE RIGHT TO VOTE ON MUNICIPAL BY-LAW According to legislation recently passed by the Provincial Government, the various companies of Sherbrooke will have the right to vote on the by-law providing for the borrowing of $385,000 with which the City Council hopes to balance the city's debt. This by-law is to be submitted to the ratepayers on May 30th.

In the past companies were deprived of the right to vote, but now all that is necessary is for the directors of any company to sel-

NOMINATED MODERATOR OF UNITED CHURCH

Vancouver, B. C., May 6.—T. Albert Moore, of Toronto, yesterday was nominated unanimously for the moderatorship of the United Church of Canada by the Vancouver Presbytery. Dr. Moore was for many years on the Dominion executive of the former Methodist Church, and has since the formation of the United Church in 1925 has been its secretary.

At this meeting the decision was also reached that a mass gathering of all farmers should be held in the near future at some central place. A committee appointed to take charge of this rally named the Sherbrooke Arena as the most suitable location, and after considerable study the date of May 11th was chosen as the great night.

The organization that is sponsoring Wednesday's meeting is merely the nucleus of a body that it is hoped will spread throughout the length and breadth of Canada, embracing within the next few years every farmer in the Dominion worthy of the name. The organizers declare that the Eastern Townships farmers can best bring about this dream by attending en masse at the Arena on Wednesday and making the meeting an overwhelming success.

IRISH TREATY DISCUSSED IN BRITISH HOUSE

One Member Would Refer Difficulty to International Tribunal at The Hague or to Special Court.

London, May 6.—Uproar ensued in the House of Commons yesterday when Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, repeatedly questioned Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Dominions Secretary, urging the Anglo-Irish dispute to be submitted either to the specially constituted Imperial Court of Appeal or the permanent court of International Justice at The Hague.

answer, but after some excitement with a number of Opposition members joining in. Mr. Thomas declared the matter in dispute was a treaty between two parties. It was customary when there was a difference of opinion for one of them to consult with the other, but President Eamon de Valera had not done so. It was not for the British government to do other than draw the Irish Free State's attention to the "breach of the treaty" implied in the Free State government's intention to abolish the oath of allegiance and withhold payment of the land annuities, the Minister concluded.

"If I were you, Jones, I wouldn't be a fool," said Smith during an argument. "You're right; if you were I, you wouldn't be a fool," answered Jones.

He: "Your husband has given up smoking? It requires a pretty strong will to accomplish that." She: "Well, I'd have you understand that I have a strong will."

RUMORS HINTED A REPRIEVE FOR DOOMED SLAYER

Detention of Phillip Malloy, Brother of Slain Victim, for Questioning Last Evening Gave Rise to Supposition that St. Pierre Might Not Be Hanged.

As the final proceedings surrounding the concluding chapter of the Herford murder case were thick and fast throughout the city that an eleventh hour reprieve had been granted. These rumors were strengthened by the fact that Phillip Malloy, a member of the ill-fated expedition and younger brother of the slain victim, had been detained at local police headquarters for questioning. What information the authorities received was not divulged, but the young American was released shortly after being taken into custody.

Mrs. St. Pierre, the convicted slayer's faithful wife, maintained her loyalty towards her husband until the end. She remained with him in his death cell yesterday afternoon and last evening, offering him consolation and preparing him for the ordeal he was about to face. His grief-stricken father and sisters did their utmost on his behalf, basing their efforts on the fact that St. Pierre was to be executed for a deed which he did not actually perpetrate. However, the case was one where the hand of justice fell more heavily on the man who conceived the crime than on the one who was the agent in carrying out the plot. According to British justice, admittedly the most sound institution of the civilized world, an accomplice is as guilty as the hand which commits the offence, and St. Pierre had to suffer the consequences.

The contrast was made more sharp by the fact that Vezina Dube, who fired the shot which took Malloy's life, was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Nevertheless, although sympathy towards the end favored St. Pierre, the logical contention that the country was better rid of criminals of St. Pierre's type and calibre slowly turned the tide of opinion.

St. Pierre's execution marked the third hanging in the local district jail within the past fourteen months. The parade to the scaffold during that time was led by Antonio Poliquin of this city, who paid the supreme

Social and Personal

Congratulations are today being extended to Mr. N. D. Cascaadden on the occasion of his birthday.

Goodhue, who has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, in Toronto. Mrs. Goodhue accompanied her son to Sherbrooke and will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goodhue at their home on Quebec street.

Yesterday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the sub-regularity of the Quebec-Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Mrs. James McKelvie, Academy street, Lennoxville. The president, Mrs. W. R. Price, occupied the chair. After the devotion, the program was drawn up and final arrangements made for the sub-annual meeting to be held in Scottstown in June. Mrs. J. R. Graham closed the meeting, after which Mrs. McKelvie served afternoon tea, assisted by Mrs. Murchie.

Dean Carrington, of Bishop's University, was the guest speaker last evening at St. Peter's Church hall, when, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, he gave an address before a large and most appreciative audience. The Rev. Canon H. R. Bigg, rector of St. Peter's Church, introduced the speaker. Prof. Carrington's scholarly and intensely interesting address was on "The Natives of New Zealand," and his graphic word-pictures of that part of the British Empire were outstandingly realistic and vivid.

At the conclusion of the lecture, Mrs. Fred Hall, first vice-president of the W.A., extended a hearty vote of thanks to the Dean, after which the evening closed with "God Save the King."

Last evening before a crowded house "Chintz Cottage," the delightful comedy presented under the auspices of the St. Agnes' Guild on the previous evening, was successfully repeated in the Church of the Advent hall. Following the performance the Guild entertained the members of the cast and orchestra and those who had rendered assistance in the production of the play. Delicious refreshments were served by the members, after which dancing was enjoyed. The social ending and relaxation after the successful production of "Chintz Cottage" on two consecutive nights was heartily appreciated by those who had spent many evenings in rehearsing and preparation for the final event.

Sherbrooke music lovers are assured of an unusual treat on Monday evening next, when members of the Schubert Music Club and several prominent musicians from Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships will present a programme in the City Hall auditorium. Among those who will take part in the programme are: Mrs. L. E. Codere, Mrs. Bachand-Dupuis, Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. J. Robertson, Mrs. D. P. Diplock, Mrs. J. Schwartz, Mrs. J. K. Edwards, Mrs. P. D. Mathias, Mrs. A. G. Nakash, Mrs. F. C. Churchill, Mrs. J. G. Ranshouan, Mrs. D. C. McRae, the Misses Mildred Largie, Germaine Janelle, Lucille Moore, Norah Leonard, Mona Bizeg, Kathleen Leonard, L. Ranshouan, M. MacDonald, A. Sangster, K. Edgell, Messrs. Graham Ferguson, Fernand Perron, Conrad Jameson and E. Armitage.

The annual meeting of the Teachers' Association took place yesterday afternoon in Plymouth United Church hall, with the retiring president, Miss Natalie Peabody, in the chair. Following the adoption of the annual reports, the election of officers was proceeded with, resulting as follows: President, Miss Bessie Bryce; first vice-president, Miss Idonea Nourse; second vice-president, Miss Marion Parker; recording-secretary, Miss Dorothy Hall (re-elected); corresponding-secretary, Miss Verna Hatch; treasurer, Miss Gladys Lennon (re-elected); and convener of Library committee, Miss Ina Colleigh, (re-elected).

A pleasing incident in connection with the gathering was a presentation made by Miss Bessie Bryce, acting on behalf of the Association, to Miss Anne Armstrong, the exchange teacher from England.

During the business period plans were made for the annual picnic in June. Prior to the meeting the members of the Teachers' Association were guests of the teachers of the Central School at afternoon tea in Plymouth Church hall, when Miss Nourse presided at the pretty flower bedecked tea-table.

penalty for taking the life of his Italian wife, Albert Vincent, of Roxton, falls, was the next payer to pay his debt to society for murdering his employer, Edmond Trudeau, of Flobden, Que. At present, Adelard Dube, of Herford, the third member of the party held criminally responsible for Malloy's death, is an inmate of the local jail awaiting next Wednesday when he will go on trial for his life. Unofficial opinions points to the improbability of the younger Dube being found guilty of the capital offence.

In another section of the government headquarters Frederick Appleton, of this city, is held pending his trial before the next session of the Court of King's Bench. Appleton is accused of the murder of Alberic Couture, of Milby, which occurred about a month ago in the small gasolene station which the crippled Couture operated on the highway between Sherbrooke and Norton Mills, Vt.

Mr. Erie Sweeney and sisters, Miss Laura Sweeney and Mrs. Lindsay Reid, Dorval street, have been called to their home in Cookshire, owing to the serious illness of their father, Mr. Frank Sweeney.

Mrs. S. A. Jones, who has been in Montreal, attending the annual Provincial meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society, for the Metropolitan area of Quebec, where she will attend the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary annual convention.

Mr. Hugh Crochetiere, Bank street, left this afternoon for Antigonish, N.S., where he will attend the graduation exercises at St. Francois Xavier University. During his stay Mr. Crochetiere will be a guest at the Junior Prom.

Mrs. G. E. Hyndman entertained yesterday afternoon at a charmingly arranged card party at her home, 107 Portland avenue. Cards were played at three tables, the prizes being won by Mrs. W. E. Loomis, Mrs. Frederick Hovey and Mrs. F. S. Rugg. In the tea room pink sweet peas and baby's breath adorned the lovely tea table, at which presided Mrs. George Armitage, who poured coffee, and Miss Van Yllet, who served the tea. Marigolds and purple hyacinths were effectively used in the living room, while stocks and tulips were placed about the entrance hall.

Mrs. A. C. Ross, Mrs. T. R. MacKenzie and Mrs. Fraser Armstrong were hostesses at the tea hour yesterday afternoon, following the regular meeting of the Women's Association in Plymouth United Church hall. Jonquils and pussy-willows centered the tea table, at which Mrs. G. Ellery Read presided. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Billing and Miss Ranshouan. Members of the Teachers' Association came in at the tea hour, when Miss L. Nourse poured tea at a special table reserved for the party. Prior to the afternoon tea a short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Nelson Whitman, in the chair.

Members of St. Peter's Anglican Young People's Association had a real treat in store for them when Mr. Jean Perron, of Paris, France, a fortune teller and hypnotist of considerable note, paid a visit to St. Peter's. Mr. Perron gave a most interesting display of his art, consisting of character reading, fortune telling with cards, palm reading and a few astounding demonstrations of hypnotism, all of which thrilled his audience. Mr. Perron's visit was made possible through the efforts of Mr. Edwin Moore. In the absence of the president, the chair was occupied by Miss Dorothy Hall. The table-tennis championship was undecided as the finalists, Miss Emily Gillam and Mr. William Paton, were unable to reach a decision, the score being deadlocked three to three.

A. M. SANGSTER RETIRES FROM RAND COMPANY

During Forty-Two Years of Continuous Service He Rose from Position of Mechanic to That of Works Manager.

After forty-two years of continuous and efficient service to the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Company, during which time he rose in position from that of skilled mechanic to the important post of Works Manager, Mr. Andrew M. Sangster has retired from active business and is now to receive the reward which comes to a life well spent.

Mr. Sangster is indeed deserving of rest, for he has given of his strength, ability and time in a most unselfish manner to the growth and development of the firm with which he has so long been associated.

His association with the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Company goes back to the year 1890 when, as a skilled mechanic, he first became a member of the staff of the firm, then but a small industry. From 1890 until 1901 he remained in the capacity of skilled mechanic. In 1901 he was named foreman, and from that time until his appointment as Works Manager, which was made during the World War, he advanced with the concern. The firm grew in importance and Mr. Sangster grew in position.

When Mr. Sangster entered the employ of the company it was located in a little building situated near the Panther Rubber Company, Bank street. This building is still standing. In 1896 the company moved to the Jencks plant, and later to its present imposing location.

The original staff consisted of eight men. During the Great War the employees numbered at one time between five thousand and six thousand. At the present time there are about three hundred employees although it is expected that once industry picks up again this number will be greatly increased.

No successor will be named to replace Mr. Sangster.

CITY BRIEFLETS

SOUP KITCHEN MAY BE OPENED NEXT WEEK

Alderman Omer Blais, chairman of the poor committee, is not forgetting those who are in need of help. He is doing his utmost to bring about relief as quickly as possible, and is devoting every spare minute of his time to this important task.

Speaking to the Record this morning, Alderman Blais said that he expected the municipal soup kitchen would be opened early next week. He has already made a trip to Montreal in connection with this project, and while in the Metropolitan studied the manner in which such relief is administered there. He is confident that the Sherbrooke kitchen will prove very beneficial and helpful.

There are still several points to be cleared up before the local kitchen can be inaugurated, but these are at present receiving attention. Since assuming charge of the poor committee, Alderman Blais has rendered very valuable assistance. At the last meeting of the City Council the Mayor announced he did not propose administering the city himself but would leave the activities of each committee to its chairman. With this assurance from the Chief Magistrate, Alderman Blais is now prepared to take the lead and to go ahead with what he thinks will prove most beneficial. When the new committees were formed, following the recent municipal elections, Alderman Blais was not changed. He was left with the poor committee, over which he presided last year. This shows that his work was successful and that the aldermen are convinced he is quite capable of handling this committee, which at such a time is no easy task.

HISTORY OF COTTON REVIEW

The history of cotton was traced last evening at the Y's Men's Club by Mr. George Carrigan, superintendent of the Sherbrooke Cotton Mills, who delivered an instructive and interesting address. Mr. Carrigan is very familiar with this subject, having been in the cotton manufacturing business in both England and America, and he is now at the centre of the world's greatest cotton producing district, Lancashire, where he acquired much valuable experience. He came to America about thirty years ago, and subsequently found his way to this city.

"The values of cotton were known and appreciated from times immemorial, antedating all written history, but it is only in recent years that cotton has become one of the most important industries of the world," he said. The rise of this industry was especially noticeable in England. In 1770 one billion pounds of raw cotton were manufactured and in 1931 the output of the Lancashire mills alone was 3,500,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Carrigan spoke about the different districts where cotton is grown—the Southern States, China, India, Africa and Egypt. The latter country, he said, has fifty million acres under cultivation, and Egyptians are regarded as the best packers of cotton in the world.

"There is a large field for inventors in better methods of picking cotton," continued the speaker "as at the present time practically all the work has to be done by hand."

Y's Man Howard Moffatt thanked the speaker at the close of his address. During the evening Martin Corcoran rendered two solos which were much appreciated.

It was agreed at last night's meeting that "Ladies' Night" would be held June 4th. Y's Man Ernest Johnston was appointed chairman of the arrangement committee.

MAPLE SUGAR OUTPUT AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Estimated 1932 Crop Will Reach Over 24,000,000 Pounds in Province, Twice Production of Last Season.

Quebec, May 6.—A rough estimate of the 1932 maple sugar crop in the province was placed at 24,000,000 pounds yesterday by Cyrille Vaillancourt, director of the maple sugar service, who is submitting a report to that effect to Hon. Adelard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture.

"The maple sugar season is now ended and generally it has been better than first expected, though it extended over a longer period than anticipated," stated Mr. Vaillancourt. "From what I can gather the product this year will reach slightly over 24,000,000 pounds of maple sugar, which is double the crop of last year and compares with a normal crop of 30,000,000 pounds in ordinary years.

"Prices, though they are far from satisfactory due to the fact that some farmers need immediate cash to buy their seeds and other necessities have a trend to stabilize higher and I expect this will be the case very shortly.

"The quality of the maple product this year is very good though the color may not be quite so good as in previous years.

"The educational campaign carried out by the department and the efforts of the Maple Sugar Producers' Association have been successful. Each year the standard is improving.

"As far as the Maple Sugar Producers' Association is concerned its activities have been appreciated to such an extent that at present there is no room to take any new members, though applications are being received. The maple products handled by that association are one hundred per cent pure and while substitutes for a time had their popularity, it is now evident the public wants the best and nothing else as far as purity of food is concerned. As a result the orders coming to the association and to the other producers, who are really supplying one hundred per cent purity in their products, are over expectations.

"The publicity campaign, which has been carried out by the Maple Sugar Producers Association through the goodwill and co-operation of Hon. A. Godbout, which forms part also of his 'buy at home movement' has been very effective and orders in less than twelve months have increased more than four times over last year.

"Also through the co-operation of the Minister's booklets showing the various uses of maple sugar products and means of preparing maple sugar and maple syrup, many have taken advantage of the delicious national product."

Regarding the value of the sugar crop, Mr. Vaillancourt stated it was very difficult to figure it out at present, but in good years it should be recalled that farmers at a time when they needed money through this crop were seeing their revenues increase by $800 to $1,000.

A man who is fitted for a half dozen jobs has a harder time getting a job than the fellow who is perfectly fitted for one.

"We were still wearing bustles!"...

said this charming lady, "when I first used Surprise Soap."

"I can remember that quite distinctly because we had just moved from the country into town, and that Spring mother bought me a wonderful new dress complete with a stunning little bonnet and muff to match.

"In the country, in my young days, we had always made our own soap, but once we came into the city my mother tried Surprise and after that she never bought soap any more."

"She found Surprise much more effective and just as economical, and throughout the intervening years she continued to use it.

"From time to time she tried other soaps, of course, but always came back to Surprise. She found it gave clothes a better colour and lasted longer than other soaps."

"I use it in my own home to this day, and I find it excellent not only for washday but for cleaning paint work too. And Surprise is wonderful in the dish pan and for a hundred odd jobs around the home."

"Quality first" was the policy adopted when the first bar of Surprise Soap was made in St. Stephen, N.B., forty-six years ago. This policy has never been altered and the quality has improved with advancing knowledge, keeping pace with modern requirements.

DEATHS REPORTED

REV. JAMES LAMBERT ALEXANDER, COWANSVILLE, May 6.—Rev. James Lambert Alexander, D.D., of Hamilton, Ont., pastor of Pilgrim United Church, died April 22, at the General Hospital following an illness of ten years' duration.

Mr. Alexander was born in Bowmanville, the son of the late James and Philippa (Stephens) Alexander, and received his preliminary training in the Bowmanville school. He later attended McGill university Montreal.

He went to Chicago, where he studied for a time at the Chicago seminary and was awarded the B.D. degree.

Coming from Cowansville, Que., to Hamilton ten years ago, he took over the pastorate at First Congregational Church (since church union in 1925 known as Pilgrim United church) and began a ministry outstanding in its fruitfulness, the church making rapid progress under his leadership.

Charges held in Congregational churches by the deceased prior to coming to Hamilton were at Granby, Que., Calgary, Alta., Ottawa, Ont., Bradford, Vt., and Cowansville. While in the Congregational church Mr. Alexander was honored by his colleagues with the office of chairman of the Congregational Union of Canada, and in 1926 was made president of the Hamilton conference of the United Church of Canada.

Mr. Alexander was a member of the Masonic order, belonging to Acadia lodge; a member of the I.O.O.F. and the I.O.F. and a Kiwanian.

In 1906 he married Miss Margaret A. Croft, who survives him. Also left to mourn are a niece, Miss Katherine Croft, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander; two brothers, William, of Canton, N.Y., and Harry, of Vancouver, and three sisters, Mrs. H. H. Tyler and Mrs. Elizabeth Hosley, in Canton, and Mrs. Charles Abernathy, in Collingwood.

The funeral service was held in Pilgrim United church, Hamilton, Ont., interment at Canton, N.Y.

JOHN H. THOMPSON, WORCESTER, MASS., Worcester, Mass., May 6.—Funeral services were held here, Tuesday, May 3rd, for John H. Thompson, aged ninety years, a former resident of Erie, Quebec, Canada, for over fifty years, who died Saturday, April 24th, at the home of his son, Archie S. Thompson, Fairbanks street, West Boylston, Mass.

Rev. Maxwell Savage, of the First Unitarian Church, Worcester, conducted the services. Burial was in West Boylston Cemetery.

The late Mr. Thompson was born at St. Sylvester, Quebec, in the year 1842, and was twice married, his first wife being Ruth Mackey, of South Ham, Quebec, by whom there were born thirteen children, six of whom are now living. In 1897 he married the late Elizabeth Daigneau (Westman), of Maribon, Quebec.

Leaving Erie, Quebec, in 1906, he made his home for many years in Lyme, N. H., later going to Holden, Alberta, Canada.

Besides the son, Archie, with whom he made his home, he leaves two other sons, Albert H. of Quebec, Canada; Orville, of Abbotsford, B. C.; and three daughters, Lillian V. Tasker, Brookline, Mass., widow of the late Charles H. Tasker; Daisy, wife of T. W. Kernaw, Edmonton, Alberta; and Olive E., wife of Ralph M. Buffington, Cambridge, Mass.

MR. FRANCIS GALAGHER, ST. SYLVESTRE, QUE., St. Sylvestre, Que., May 6.—The death occurred here April 27th of Mr. Francis Gallagher, son of the late Francis Gallagher and Ellen Mullaney Gallagher.

Deceased had been in his usual health until ten days before his death. He was a kind neighbor and had many friends in this district who were shocked and saddened to hear of his sudden passing.

The funeral service was held Saturday morning, April 30th, and was largely attended. Rev. O'Daly, of St. Patrick's, received the remains at the door of the church, while the mass was sung by Rev. Verreault. The bearers were Messrs. W. Moorn, P. Mulvey, F. Burns, W. Kirby, Abe Stevenson and W. Moorn.

Deceased leaves to mourn his loss one brother and two sisters, John Gallagher, and Mrs. Elizabeth Donahue, of this place, and Mrs. A. Foster, of Granville, Vt.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. Fred Gallagher and Mrs. James Pickford, both of Berlin, N. H.

MRS. F. A. ALGER, NEWPORT, Newport, Vt., May 6.—Mrs. Florence Abbott Alger, wife of Roy R. Alger, died Wednesday morning, April 20th, at the Orleans County Memorial Hospital, after an illness of less than a week, following an operation for a serious case of appendicitis.

Thus the curtain falls on another tragic episode in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Alger, which have been filled with sorrow for over seven years.

Mrs. Alger suffered a mental collapse shortly after the birth of her only child seven years ago.

A brilliant pianist, she remembers not a single note, she was unable to connect the notes. She neither read nor sewed, nor was she able to do her housework in the methodical manner to which she was accustomed. She realized that she was unable to remember or concentrate, and the knowledge of her lack troubled her greatly. She was, however, improvising and her family had reason to believe that she would eventually recover.

Last fall Mr. Alger, who is a Canadian Pacific car inspector, while hunting, shot himself in the right foot, a portion of which was amputated, and he has been unable to work since that time.

On April 14th, Mrs. Alger was stricken with a very acute case of appendicitis and was rushed to the hospital. The end came the following Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Florence Alger was the youngest daughter of the late Warren Abbott and his wife, Mary Emery, of Magog, Que.

FARNHAM LODGE MEETING HELD; GENERAL NOTES

Organization Prepares for Convention of Union Auxiliary to Be Held in Farnham Shortly—Newsy Items and Personals from Vicinity.

Farnham, Que., May 6.—On Thursday evening, April 28, the officers and members of Farnham Auxiliary Lodge No. 804 to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen were honored by the presence of one of the Grand Lodge officers in the person of Sister Mary Cusack, second grand vice-president of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Twenty-four members of Farnham Auxiliary assembled at the Odd Fellows' Hall to exemplify the various floor work, drills and marches for Sister Cusack's inspection, after which inspection the Grand Lodge officer addressed the members, greatly complimenting them upon their efficient work, which they are preparing to present to the union meeting on May 19. In closing remarks, Sister Cusack informed the members that she regretted being unable to be with them to attend this union meeting, but expressed her wishes for a complete success for this lodge and their entertaining of the union members and their numerous guests at this time.

Following the closing of the reception and work of the evening, the sisters and their distinguished guest repaired to the dining room where a social hour was spent. All enjoyed the refreshments of chicken salad, cold cream, ice cream and coffee, served by the social committee of the lodge. The long dining room table was prettily centered with a silver basket of daffodils and further adorned with a small silver vase of daffodils at each end of the table. The members after bidding farewell to their guest, departed about midnight for their respective homes.

SOCIAL EVENING HELD Officers and members of Browne Lodge, A.F. and A.M., held a very enjoyable social evening in the Masonic Hall on Friday, April 29th. The hostesses for this occasion were Miss Maud Starke, Mrs. F. S. Dorrance, Mrs. John Bockus, Mrs. Gerald Wright and Mrs. J. L. Bromby.

At eight-thirty o'clock card playing commenced at twenty tables, when both bridge and five hundred were enjoyed for two hours. At the conclusion of the games the prizes were awarded to the following: In bridge, ladies' first prize, Miss Margaret Emerson, of Enlacs; gentlemen's first prize, Mr. J. L. Kilburn; second prize, Mr. Roy Cook. In five hundred, ladies' first prize, Mrs. William Baker; second prize, Mrs. Edith McGuire; gentlemen's first prize, Mr. A. E. Beaton; second prize, Mr. Thomas H. Ridgely. The prizes which were very neatly wrapped in white and tied with a deep blue shade of ribbon (the lodge colors) were presented to the winners by Miss Maud Starke and Mrs. Gerald Wright.

Refreshments were served by several of the brethren about eleven o'clock and consisted of sandwiches, cakes, ice cream and coffee.

Dancing immediately followed and was indulged in to about two o'clock. Favors distributed during the dancing added much to the merriment of the evening.

The hall was very tastefully arranged with hanging decorations of white and deep blue, while golden emblems of the order were noticeable about the hall.

There were approximately one hundred people present, including several from out-of-town guests, coming from Montreal, Brigham, Cowansville, Granby and Drummondville.

Downing, for the purpose of choosing a distinctive name for this church. Three names were submitted, First Church, St. John's Church and Grace Church, with the majority in favor of "Grace Church."

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. A. L. Longtin for the presentation to the church of a new Honor Roll, and also to Mr. W. S. McCorkill for the use of a very historical map of West Farnham, as prepared by his late father, some thirty years ago. This is hung in the lower hall and can be viewed at any time the hall is open.

PIERRE ST. PIERRE EXECUTED AT EARLY HOUR FOR MALLOY MURDER

(Continued from page 1) that the sentence of death pronounced on December 17th, 1931, had been carried out. This report bore the signature of the coroner and the juryman, who included Drs. R. L. DuBerger and R. Desjardins of Sherbrooke; R. Laurence and I. D. Talmesse, of Coaticook; and Messrs. T. A. Lebeau and J. R. Plante, of this city.

St. Pierre's execution this morning concluded the career of a notorious character whose bootlegging activities along the international border separating the Province of Quebec from the state of Maine earned him the name of the "Al Capone of the northern country." Although only forty years of age, St. Pierre had spent several years of his life behind prison bars, and for the past few years, since he made his escape from an American jail, he had ruled the frontier with an iron hand.

As the spotlight of publicity was focussed on him through his connection with the Malloy murder, many stories of his daring escapades came to light, and the man's astute ability and resourcefulness gave Canadian authorities an inkling of the type of criminal they had to deal with. However, he reached the inevitable end of his chequered career through his association with and implication in the Malloy slaying.

FAIRLY GOOD SUPPORT ON WALL STREET EXCHANGE

New York, May 6.—Early gains of one to more than two points in an assortment of leading stocks were modified by renewed offerings in today's markets, but the list then steadied and a slow upward movement got under way.

MONTREAL APPLE MARKET REMAINS ABOUT STEADY

Montreal, Que., May 6.—The following crops of fruits and vegetables arrived in Montreal for the week ending May 3: Apples 9, other fruits 24; other vegetables 27; other tropical fruits 31; potatoes 89; onions 3. Total cars 183.

The apple market is about steady, small quantities. Domestic Spies in bushel hampers bring from $2.50 to $2.75 while a few odd barrels of the same grade and variety sell from $7. Boxed stock of Winesaps Delicious and McIntosh are unchanged in price.

The domestic potato market is very weak. Prices have eased somewhat and present quotations are from 40c to 42c for No. 1 Green Mountains and 30c to 40c for the same quantity of local stock.

and the three youths experienced little difficulty in finding their objective and employing a ladder to gain access into the loft. Langlois, who declared he was the last to ascend the ladder, testified that he had mounted halfway when he was ordered at revolver-point to continue his interrupted ascent.

One of the bullets from Vezina Dube's rifle struck Rene Malloy near the heart, inflicting a fatal wound. The young victim staggered a considerable distance before he finally fell to the ground in an exhausted condition, three hundred feet distant from the spot he had been shot.

It is alleged that at the time of the exchange in question, the defendant guaranteed to the plaintiff that the two horses which he had given him had no defects. This, it was claimed, was not the case in connection with the red horse.

The defence, conducted by Col. Rioux and Philippe Monette, K. C., of Montreal, offered no plea, basing their surprising action on the ground that the Crown had failed to establish its case beyond the shadow of a doubt, that St. Pierre had killed Rene Malloy. However, the jury required but short deliberation to return a verdict of "guilty of murder," and the sentence of death was passed, and the original date for the execution being set as March 18th last.

JUDGMENT WAS GIVEN AGAINST BROMPTON

Company Ordered to Pay Augustin Doyon of Cookshire, Sum of $275 — Other Decisions Rendered Today by Mr. Justice C. D. White.

The Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, was ordered to pay Augustin Doyon, of Cookshire, the sum of $275 with interest by Mr. Justice C. D. White in the Superior Court this morning.

Doyon alleged that he was the proprietor of a farm situated in the Township of Eaton, and that in the spring of 1929 serious damage was caused his property by floods. The plaintiff declared that this damage was the result of the erection and maintenance of a dam built by the Westbury Electric Light and Power Company and in 1928 leased to the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company.

It was shown, in rendering the judgment, that the evidence was contradictory as to whether or not the erection and maintenance of the dam had any effect upon the ice or upon the spring freshets as far up the river as Doyon's land.

In the case of Joseph Bernier, of Wottonville, against Mastai Drouin, of Weedon, and two mis-en-cause, Joseph Armand Potras, of D'Arceville, and Donat Manseau, of Ham Sud, concerning a certain property the plaintiff sold the defendant for the sum of $15,000, the Court ordered that the sale between the plaintiff and the defendant in October, 1921, before the mis-en-cause, Mr. Potras, be annulled and set aside by altering the wording of the contract.

Two other actions were dismissed with costs by Mr. Justice White. The first of these concerned J. Alfred Belanger, of Brompton, against Armand Laverdiere, of Windsor Mills. Belanger tried to revivificate a touring car in the possession of the defendant, claiming that he was the rightful owner of the machine.

It is alleged that at the time of the exchange in question, the defendant guaranteed to the plaintiff that the two horses which he had given him had no defects. This, it was claimed, was not the case in connection with the red horse.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, in Addressing Liberal Women, Says Cabinet Has No Policy for Relief of Unemployment.

Ottawa, May 6.—With the declaration that "economic disarmament has become a necessity in the world," and that the "Tory" Canada first policy is one of destruction of, and real madness," Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, and federal member for Quebec East, addressed a Liberal women's meeting here. Condemnation of the tariff and trade policies of the present Government, charges that the administration has no policy of unemployment, and an assertion that the present Prime Minister will go down in history as "the ten per cent. Prime Minister," featured the speech of Mr. Lapointe, who was listened to by about four hundred delegates to the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada, in session here.

PROBLEMS OF EMPIRE CHANGE WALES INTO A SERIOUS WORKER

The old and the new Prince of Wales in pictures . . . above he is shown in one of the steeplechases of which he was very fond, but now these have been practically abandoned. The lower photo shows him as he is today, a very busy and serious citizen.

London, May 6.—Born in his 38th year—a new Prince of Wales! His change is marked by his more serious men when he appears at public meetings. It is evidenced by the more impassionate tone in which he speaks. It is amplified by studious appeals he makes to his fellow-countrymen.

The present Prince of Wales—never a wastrel—has turned grave long before the problems of kingship fall upon him. It is true he still plays, and no sound-hearted Englishman envies him his play. He attends an occasional dance and he still goes up to Melton Mowbray for hunting. He dashes around the country in his new hobby—the airplane.

But these are merely the intervals between real, hard, serious work. Two things he never forgets for one moment: First, the fate and fortune of the officers and men with whom he came in close contact during the World War.

Second, the necessity of binding together all sections of the British democracy into a unit, cutting out class distinctions and class hatreds, and pulling together to make Britain a better place for everybody, from the highest to the lowest.

For instance, when conditions of unemployment in the Welsh mining regions were at their worst, many comfortable people said it was all newspaper exaggeration. The Prince, Spendlove on May 5, for the dinner hour to wish Mr. Clarence Rollins and Mr. Archie Bacon many happy returns of their birthdays. A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Spendlove was assisted by Mr. Rollins' sister, Mrs. Rose Brown, and Mr. Leon Farnell, and family, accompanied by Miss Priscilla Jones, motored to Newport on Saturday, April 30. They called on Mrs. Charles Humphrey, who has been seriously ill but who is somewhat better.

Little Joyce Woodard, of Beebe, has been spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Walter Keeler. Her father, Mr. Ezra Woodard, went to the Sherbrooke Hospital on Sunday, May 1, for an operation. His condition is very satisfactory.

BLIND PERSONS MAY BE AIDED BY NEW DEVICE

Vienna Architect Has Devised an Apparatus Which May Make Seeing Without Eyes Possible.

Vienna, May 6.—Seeing without eyes is claimed to have been brought within the range of possibility by an apparatus invented by a Vienna architect, Joseph Gartlöruber, which was demonstrated to newspapermen and doctors. Herr Gartlöruber has been working for years on the theory that vision is caused by "bi-polar equalization of organic electrical tension," maintaining that human beings in principle do not see with their eyes, which are actually only natural electric photographic cells activated by the differences of light intensity. Incapable or totally absent eyes or even incapable nerve vision could be replaced artificially, he concluded.

With the help of a blind physician, Dr. Fritz Guggi, he constructed an apparatus consisting of a sort of small goggles like a mask which, he said, would collect electrical waves of light like the lens of the eye and transmit them over the nerves to the brain. Since to use the apparatus it is necessary to keep the natural electrical field of the body highly charged, the subjects of yesterday's experiments were first subjected to electrical currents. On being blindfolded and donning the apparatus, a man with normal vision declared he could distinguish when the lights were turned on or when the position of the lamp near him was changed.

A woman forty-eight years blind said she could distinguish light from darkness, and another who had been blind only to perceive light claimed he could see clearly three feet away. The inventor himself says he can read a newspaper.

BLAST KILLED EMPLOYEE OF A LONDON PLANT

Three Other Workers in London, Ont., Fruit Warehouse in Critical Condition Following an Explosion Last Night.

London, Ontario, May 6.—One man is dead today, three are probably fatally injured and six others are receiving hospital care as the result of a terrific blast, which last night made flaming runs of the wholesale fruit plant of C. Catalano and Sons. The dead man is John Moczulski, seventeen year old plant employee, who succumbed to severe injuries three hours after the explosion. The condition of John Noore, aged nineteen, Andro Piskum, aged twenty-five, and Alex Polinski, aged sixteen, all Catalano employees, is still serious, it was stated by hospital authorities early today.

Cause of the blast—which shattered windows for several blocks in the vicinity of the warehouse and caused approximately $5,000 damages—has not yet been ascertained, although theories are numerous. A theory that the place had been deliberately destroyed was characterized as unlikely by the police. It was believed possible, however, that either the furnaces in the banana ripening room or the ether used to spray storage tomatoes might have caused the fire, which spread quickly through the crumpled edifice and brought all available police and firemen to the scene.

The explosion occurred at 7:40 o'clock while several employees were in the building. Richard Catalano, the manager, who was in his office, suffered a neck wound and facial lacerations. He was released from the hospital after treatment. A passerby, Pele Lencham, is in a hospital suffering from minor injuries, caused by flying bricks. All other casualties were employees of the Catalano Company.

Wife—I told Mr. Jones I was thirty-five, and he said I didn't look it. Husband—Well, you don't. You haven't looked it for fifteen years.

Soccer League TO OPEN SEASON OVER WEEK-END

Three Games Booked for Opening of Eastern Townships Football Association Tomorrow Afternoon—Y.M.C.A. Faces Magog on Parade Grounds.

The 1932 edition of the Eastern Townships Football Association will be presented to the soccer-loving population tomorrow afternoon when three scheduled league games will be played in Sherbrooke, Drummondville and East Angus.

The Parade Grounds will be the scene of the Y. M. C. A. squad's debut, with Magog forming the opposition. Faithful practice by Sherbrooke's lone representatives has placed the aggregation on edge for the initial contest.

Ambrose Wootton will handle the game on the Parade Grounds and the "Y" will field the following line-up: Goal, Stoyles, Pease, Pearce and Twyman; half backs, H. Loach, W. Taylor and C. E. Ford; forwards, H. Grims, McNally and B. Grime; R. Foley and C. Gardner with C. Hatch and Booker as reserves.

At East Angus, where Beebe will provide the attraction, reports state that the playing pitch is in good shape and indications point to a close battle for premier honors. W. Rice has been selected to officiate.

The third fixture will be contested in Drummondville, where the Celanese squad will tackle Knowlton. The Brome Lake team has added strong material to its roster and promises to make the league interesting until the final whistle. R. Smith has received the referee assignment for the game.

Winnipeg Won Senior Title Last Evening

Toilers Captured Third Dominion Basketball Championship by Defeating St. John Trojans in Two Straight Games.

Saint John, N.B., May 6.—The Winnipeg Toilers today were sitting on top of the Canadian basketball world. They won the Dominion title by taking two straight games from the Saint John Trojans. The western victory last night by a score of 35 to 19 proved beyond a doubt the worthlessness of the Toilers as title-holders. They captured the first game of the series on Tuesday night by 39 to 37. It was the third Dominion championship to be won by the Winnipeg team.

The Trojans wondered what it was all about in the first half when the Toilers ran up sixteen points while the Saint John team remained scoreless. Perfect ball handling and combination play by Winnipeg left the local squad without a chance to get in any effective work. The half ended with the one-sided score of 22 to 5.

Saint John came out fighting in the second period, the play grew faster and fouls were more numerous. Had the shooting and general floor work of the Trojans equalled their luck in the result might have been different. As it was, they went down fighting with a better team.

Once near the end of the game the Trojans flashed the brand that conquered Windsor-Walkerville Alumni in the Eastern Canadian two minutes, but during that time Saint John dropped ten points through the hoop, more than were gained by the local team in the other thirty-eight minutes of play. The crowd went wild at this point, but the Trojans were unable to continue the pace against a quintette of the Toilers' ability.

The brilliant playing of Al Silverthorne, the new champions' right guard, caught the fancy of the house. His cool defensive work and ability to keep the ball from eager Trojans were outstanding. Henry Toilers, veteran Trojan guard, stood out on the Saint John lineup. He was fighting mad, dashing up over the floor to knock down Winnipeg passes.

The Toilers will leave this afternoon for home and will play an exhibition series en route.

Mackmen Blast Ferrell from Pitching Hill

Athletics Found Cleveland Ace for Twelve Hits in Seven Innings and Defeated Indians 15 to 3—Terry and Critz Lead Giants to Victory.

New York, May 6.—Wesley Ferrell won more games than any right-hander in the American League last season, twenty-two of them, but he still is just a "cousin" to the Philadelphia Athletics. The Cleveland ace started against the Mackmen six times last year, was knocked out of the box twice and charged with five defeats, almost half his total reverses against all clubs. He didn't win out.

Yesterday, flushed from five consecutive victories over Western teams, Ferrell was chosen to open the Eastern campaign at Shibe Park. Possibly Manager Roger Peckinpaugh wanted to learn if lightning could keep striking in the same spot, and sure enough it did.

When Ferrell finally threw in the sponge in the seventh inning he had been raked for twelve hits by the League Champions and the score was eleven to two. The final count after the A's had finished up on Pete Jablonowski, was fifteen to three, and the Indians had slipped from second place into third, behind the idle Detroit Tigers.

Ferrell's route spoiled what had promised to be a pitchers' "natural." Lefty Grove held the invaders to six hits, struck out five and didn't allow a blow until the seventh when Willie Kamm hit one far and wide with Vosmik on base. Eric McNair knocked in five runs with a homer, a double and two singles, while Jimmy Foxx hit four across with some runs and two singles and scored five times.

In the only other American League ruse, the St. Louis Browns rallied to score nine runs in the sixth and seventh rounds and defeat Boston by eleven to three. Bumps Hostenbach travelled right-handed, held the Red Sox to seven hits.

Thanks to two errors by their opponents at crucial spots, the Brooklyn Dodgers opened their tour of the National League's Western points with a two to one victory over the Chicago Cubs. Moore's wild throw from the outfield gave the Dodgers their first run off Charley Root in the sixth, and Stan Hack's fumble put Lopez on base with the winning run in the seventh. It was Root's first defeat this year.

Ernie Lombardi, big catcher, returned to the Cincinnati Reds and knock in four runs with a home run and a triple and prove a big factor in the Reds' nine to six defeat of the Boston Braves. The Reds knocked Ed Brandt from the hill in the fifth, when they scored five runs. Boston won the hitting honors by thirteen to nine, but couldn't get them in clusters.

Led by Bill Terry and Hughie Critz, the eighth-place New York Giants slugged Bill Hallahan and three other Cardinal pitchers for a ten to six victory in their opener. Critz collected a double and three singles, and Terry his seventh home run of the year and a single. The Phillies were rained out at Pittsburgh.

SPORTING NOTES

BASEBALL'S BIG SIX Only two members of the "Big Six" were in action yesterday, but Jimmie Foxx and Hughie Critz, leaders of the American and National Leagues, respectively, did enough hitting for the whole group.

Foxx had three official times at bat and made three hits, including his sixth homer of the season. He scored five runs and shot his average up twenty-eight points. Critz registered a twenty-seven point gain with four hits in five times at bat.

Soviet Russia Still Feeling Adverse Trade

At End of 1931 Adverse Trade Balance Was 293,824,000 Rubles, as Compared With 151,020,000 Rubles in First Six Months of Same Year.

Moscow, May 6.—Foreign trade figures for 1931 show that Soviet Russia is still feeling the effect of world economic conditions. At the end of 1931 the adverse trade balance was 293,824,000 rubles (nominally $146,912,000) as compared with an adverse balance of 151,020,000 rubles in the first six months of the year.

Exports were in greater volume than in 1930, but more than a fifth less in value because of declining prices in the world market. The 1931 figures were 21,775,806 tons valued at $11,210,000 rubles, as compared with the 1930 totals of 21,486,395 tons valued at 1,093,871,000 rubles. The increase in volume was 13 per cent and the decrease in value 21.7 per cent.

Imports aggregated 3,564,882 tons valued at 1,105,084,000 rubles as compared with 2,855,900 tons valued at 106,882,500 rubles in 1930. Here economic conditions worked to the advantage of Russia, enabling importation of larger quantities at only a slight increase in prices. The chief exports were agricultural products, oil, timber. Imports were principally metals and machinery.

AVIATRIX PLANS DEFENCE FOR CAPTAIN LANCASTER

Mrs. Keith-Miller Says There Are a Thousand Things to Be Brought Out in Fairness to British Flyer.

Miami, Fla., May 6.—Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, has joined in planning a defense for Captain W. N. Lancaster, her British flying partner, in the event he is indicted for the murder of her young fiancé, Haden Clarke.

"Everything brought out in the case has made Bill (Lancaster) look badly," the woman flyer said yesterday as she worked with Lancaster's attorney on preliminary defense plans. "There are a thousand things to be brought out in fairness to him that are yet undisclosed," she added.

She cited her partner's war record and expressed the view that statements she previously had made in an attempt to establish that Clarke took his own life had been interpreted in a manner to reflect on Lancaster. She said she feared a grand jury indictment for this reason.

The grand jurors concluded their inquiry into Clarke's shooting yesterday, but probably will make no report before Monday. Lancaster has been in jail three days since State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne swore to a warrant for his arrest on a murder charge.

Clarke, who was collaborating with Mrs. Keith-Miller on a story of her life, was fatally wounded in her home where both he and Lancaster were guests a short time after the couple had disclosed to the captain their plans to marry.

Quartette Not to Ask Pardon for Lynching

Darrow Advises Them to Postpone Demands for Restoration of Citizenship Rights Until a Later Date.

Honolulu, May 6.—Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, and two others may not see a pardon for their conviction of manslaughter in the slaying of a Hawaiian. The sentence of each, at ten years at hard labor, was commuted to one hour by Governor Lawrence M. Judd of Hawaii. They served that in custody of the territorial high sheriff and were not at any time confined to prison. Then came the announcement a full pardon would be sought for the four who were tried for lynching Joseph Kahahawai, who allegedly had confessed participation in a criminal attack on the naval officer's wife, Mrs. Thalia Massie.

Indications were today that upon the advice of Clarence Darrow, their adviser and defender, they would discontinue their efforts to obtain a pardon. Darrow denied he had ever asked Governor Judd to pardon the convicted quartette, explaining that newspapermen had misunderstood a statement in which he said "they ought to have a full pardon."

Minimizing the importance of a pardon, Darrow advised them late last night to let the matter drop. He told them to accept Governor Judd's commutation of sentence, without seeking further relief at this time. He suggested the restoration of their citizenship rights, rights which they did not regain by the commutation—be taken up later.

Although indicating Massie, Mrs. Fortescue and the two navy enlisted men, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, were anxious to be pardoned, he also indicated they would be guided by what he said. As the matter now stands, Massie and his associates have lost their right to vote and to hold office in Hawaii. Their status outside the islands, Territorial Attorney-General Harry R. Hewitt said, depends upon local laws. He said he had not considered the statutes of each state, but it was probable their rights would be lost in some states, and not be affected in others. Should Governor Judd decide on pardons, he almost certainly will do so in the face of criticism from the native element and a portion of the white population. The Citizens' Organization for Good Government, made up largely of white women, has circulated petitions "demanding" a pardon. It became practically an accepted fact today the four men accused of attacking Mrs. Massie would not be brought to trial again. With her husband ordered transferred to another assignment, Mrs. Massie and her mother, Mrs. Fortescue, have booked passage on the Malalo, which sails on Sunday.

With Mrs. Massie gone, the territory has no case, since he is the key witness. Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley said he would not try to force Mrs. Massie to testify. The first trial last November ended in a jury disagreement. Kahahawai also was one of the defendants then.
