Jean Louis Muir heads first PMA at Campbell's Bay

A group of parents whose children attend the St-Jean Bosco French School at Campbell's Bay, at a meeting held in the Court house yesterday, formed the first French Parents Teachers Association (Association Parents-Maitres) of this locality.

Elected on its first board of directors were:

Jean-Louis Muir, PSC, President; Mrs. J. O. Laflamme, secretary; Mrs. Leonard Crawford Treasurer; Dr. Roland Chretien, 1st vice president; Mrs. Romeo Pilon, 2nd vice president and Councillors, Mrs. Freddy Laxton, Jean-Guy Lariviere, Miss Jacqueline Martineau and Chaplain, Rev. S. M. Shulist, PP.

Campbell's Bay, is the fourth locality in the County of Pontiac, after Calumet Island, Chapeau and Fort Coulonge to form an association of Parents-Teachers French section, and it is expected that a fifth will be formed in the near future at Otter Lake.

This new Campbell's Bay Association was sponsored by the Pembroke Diocesan Council of the "Parents-Maitres Association" Quebec section, which is affiliated to the Quebec Federation of "Parents-Maitres Associations".

Presiding this foundation meeting was Mrs. Irvin Shea of Calumet Island, president of the Pembroke Diocesan Council of the Association, Quebec section. Assisting her were the immediate past president, Mrs. Louis Leblanc of Fort Coulonge and the secretary Roger LaSalle of Calumet Island.

6 great grandchildren, as well as the Rector, Rev. John Pearce.

Visitors from a distance included Tom, Louise and Donna Wallace, Danville; Hilda Sparling, Embyle Brownlee, Jean Hamilton, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Al Monahan, Richmond; Wallace Sparling and Stirling Luffman, Montreal.

The Diocesan Chaplain Rev. Roland Pilon, PP of Fort Coulonge, addressed the gathering, and after outlining all the advantages and benefits that could be derived by both parents and teachers through the PMA, wished the new association a long and profitable existence.

Assisting at the meeting were Miss Jacqueline Martineau, Principal of the St-Jean Bosco School and Rev. Sister Marie-Lucien and Mrs. Leonard Crawford both teachers at the same school.

The newly formed Association members were very enthusiastic about their undertakings, and plans are already underway for activities and meetings which will be of great interest.

Cyprus problem like Canadian says Henderson

The problem of Cyprus is one of interest to all Canadians because it is an example of two races who have been unable to live together under one federal system. There are those who believe that the same forces that have destroyed Cyprus are at work in Canada. It is the belief of Larry Henderson, newscaster, news analyst, television personality and world traveller, that in Canada there is a prosperous majority unwilling to make concessions, and a more backward minority, reacting with exaggerated demands and even violence. The degree to which we try to understand the Cyprus problem and help in its solution, he believes, is a measure of our ability to solve our own problem.

Larry Henderson's film "Cyprus, the Glory and the Grief" is vastly interesting and timely because of this parallel. It is also a most colorful and historic film of the Mediterranean beauty spot, showing the Greek and Turkish heritage, the classical remains, crusader castles, folk dance and song, and the Canadian Peace Force in action.

Larry Henderson will appear in person with his film in Shawville High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 23, sponsored by the Shawville and District Home and School Association. For advance tickets, contact the president, Mrs. Donald Dods.

Chapeau Economic Council to plan for recreation hall

A recreation centre at Chapeau will be discussed on the evening of January 31 at 7:30 p.m. in the French school at a meeting called by the Chapeau Economic Council executive. The purpose of the meeting is to hear the views of all concerned.

Council members, school board members and other group leaders in the community will receive special invitations to the meeting and it is hoped to determine whether a recreation centre is needed who is responsible to build it and then how to go about it.

At present the schools are used for all sorts of meetings and it is felt by some that with a

Social worker guest speaker at H & S meeting

Mr. Denis Savage, Social Worker, from the Hull Social Service with offices at the court house in Campbell's Bay every week will be the guest speaker at the Campbell's Bay and District Home and School Association Thursday evening, January 28 at 8 p.m.

Also of interest for this meeting will be two films expected for a previous meeting but which will definitely be here for this meeting. They are entitled "The Gifted Ones" and "The Eternal Ones".

Please do your best to attend this meeting as we are sure you will find it most interesting and informative.

"Beckett"

Len Coyne, who operates the Bryson Theatre feels that though there have been some great pictures taken in our time the movie "Beckett" is the greatest of them all. Starring Richard Burton as Beckett and Peter O'Toole as Henry II it tells the story of Canterbury, England, eight centuries ago when Beckett was Archbishop and also Henry's chief advisor. The era has been immortalized by Chaucer in his Canterbury Tales and now this great movie will be shown at Bryson Saturday and Sunday, January 30 and 31, one show each evening at 7:30.

105 years old

Alexander Tremblay became 105 years old on Saturday. The year he was born they laid the cornerstone for Canada's Parliament Buildings. As has been pointed out in a story in the Ottawa Journal, he is seven years older than Confederation and was a middle aged man of 54 when World War one broke out.

Mr. Tremblay lived on Calumet Island for ninety five of his 105 years and now lives at the St. Charles Home in Ottawa, which is run by the Grey Nuns of the Cross. On Saturday, Mr. Tremblay received telegrams of congratulation from the Queen, Prime Minister Pearson and from the Mayor of Ottawa Don Reid, but the greatest stir was caused when 56 Tremblays representing five generations of descendants descended upon the Home to honor the family patriarch. The nuns looked after all the arrangements and the staff joined in the gala celebration.

Stanley Snowden, sent relief bales overseas, held rummage sales, entertained choir members and Sunday School teachers at a dinner, and gave donations to C.G.I.T. and Messengers. The final big event was the Christmas Bazaar.

The Canadian Girls in Training, under the leadership of Mrs. Don Dods, Mrs. Don Paul and Miss C. Murphy, reported a good year. During the year the girls held a World Day of Prayer

MINOR HOCKEY WEEK

This is Minor Hockey Week in Canada. This week we salute the good sports who give leadership to the entire minor hockey movement. Wherever there are boys in Canada who want to get in the game, there must be men with unfailing sense of good sportsmanship; a sound grounding in the rules of hockey, a real abiding love for little people and a fairly strong ability to stay up on skates under fire.

In Shawville we have a reliable corps of such good fellows and credit is due to them for the success of our magnificent Minor Hockey program.

Other rinks with other leaders operate in the surrounding areas, all to the great credit of the communities which support them. All year round the citizens of the area benefit from the training these boys receive in their games but this is the one week in the year which is specifically set aside for the purpose — and perhaps its just as well we are reminded to do this — otherwise its quite possible some of us might let the year slip by without mentioning it!

TRI-CENTENARY

1965 marks the 300th anniversary of the arrival in Canada of Jean Talon the first intendant of New France to come to the shores of the St. Lawrence.

Jean Talon is credited with having made this colony self-sufficient by promoting livestock breeding, growing flax, stimulating the fisheries, establishing industries, promoting mining and opening a naval shipyard. His regiment, the Carignan-Salieres, was sent to Canada to fight the Iroquois, and some of its officers, once retired, were granted seignories and thus contributed to the growth of the colony.

Jean Talon didn't go straight to Quebec City to begin his mission as intendant. He left his ship along the Beauré coast and undertook to visit each of the settlers in the region personally. Within a few years of his coming, the era known as the golden age of New France commenced. It is the story of Jean Talon in the minds of loyal French Canadians which makes it difficult for some of them to become too hysterically enthusiastic about our celebration plans for the Centennial of Confederation. This year for them is a far more important Tri-centenary, which seems to be slipping along with little fanfare.

PONTIAC PFFFT —

OR IS THERE ANYTHING WE CAN DO?

Preliminary maps prepared for use by the electoral redistribution commission indicate that politically speaking Pontiac County is due to disappear. There is a good chance that Litchfield and west will join Villeneuve riding and Clarendon and east will be part of Gatineau. Pontiac will be the County that was!

Campbell's Bay and Fort Coulonge will be an unimportant fringe on the far edge of one very large constituency and Shawville and Quyon will be in a similar outer limits on the rim of another. It all sounds very logical when you look at the figures on paper but the people those figures represent may find they are more forgotten now than ever before.

An anonymous writer from Fort Coulonge has come up with a great solution and that is to separate from Quebec and form a Pontiac Province. This has been proposed before in this paper, in jest and with fantastic ramifications. But this fellow from Coulonge really means it. If he had just taken the trouble to put his name on his letter we would have published it all because its very interesting.

He points out that we have the resources within t County to become a Province and that if the money we send to Quebec in taxes were administered locally we could manage quite well and still pay our share to the Federal Government in Ottawa.

The number of decisions from Quebec which seem unsuited to this County have apparently preyed on this man until he felt it necessary to almost speak out.

His anonymity actually expresses the one big reason why Pontiac County could never take any such a step and that is the lack here of the people required to shoulder responsibility of that sort. We have water power, lumber, agriculture, mines but whenever we do find a person with a little foresight he is afraid to speak out.

grist...

Coach Vic Cooligan of the Eardley Hockey team informs us that his boys will be playing hockey at the Agricultural Arena on Tuesday night against one of the Senior teams at 8:30 p.m. February 2.

An anonymous letter writer from Calumet Island wishes us to publish his views about the unfairness of having the chairman of the league also serving as secretary of the league and manager of one of the clubs in the league. Without going any further than that into the situation we would like to suggest that anyone wishing to relieve this overworked volunteer would, we feel sure, be most welcomed by him. Also it might be noted here that the chief referee of the league is a Calumet Island man, so things can't get too far out of hand against the interest of the Islanders. In spite of this the guy has a lot of complaints and if he had signed his letter it would be published. Why should we publish something he's afraid to sign?

The municipal council of Campbell's Bay will be operating a Community Rink in the village for 1965 season. It is expected that the council will be able to provide a schedule of hours for ice time in the next issue of The Equity.

The Canadian Electrical Association celebrates its 75th anniversary this year. Its members who are the producers and distributors of power employ about 40,000 people with an annual payroll which exceeds two hundred million dollars, and the electrical manufacturing industry $400,000,000 in their annual employs about 80,000 with about payroll.

Campbell's Bay CGIT

The members of the CGIT of St. Andrew's Church, Campbells Bay accompanied by their leader Miss Mary Jay attended the CGIT conference at St. James United Church, Hull, Que. on Saturday, January 23rd.

They were Marlene Frost, Cheryl Stewart, Jo-Anne Smith, Donna Brown, Donna Rutherford and Mary Anne Rutherford.

A total of 47 girls and leaders went by bus to Hull. One of the interesting items of the day was the showing of a film taken last summer at Camp Kalalla where some of the girls had spent their vacation.

Shawville CGIT

About 30 Shawville Canadian Girls in Training attended the annual CGIT Conference in Ottawa Saturday, Jan. 23rd.

The conference was held in St. James United Church at the corner of Second Ave. and Lyon. On arriving at the church the girls registered. There was a sing song followed by a short talk by the theme speaker, Mrs. John Wayling. She spoke on "Faith in Orbit" The girls were divided into groups and had Bible Study. Such questions as: "Can we get along without the church in the future" were discussed.

Later the girls saw a film on "Camp Kallalla". Lunch was then served at Glebe United Church Hall. After lunch a short sing-song was held in the basement of St. James. (The leaders had a discussion in the basement of Glebe Church Hall). The roll was then called.

The girls later saw a film "Peter Mahadeo's Quest". Dis-

The reason, of course, is because he will be criticized and there are too few people willing to be criticized for their beliefs in this day and age, particularly in Pontiac County.

So, on to oblivion! Or, is there anything we can do?

Opinions aired at Home & School

Last Tuesday evening an interested group of Shawville and District parents, teachers and students gathered in the High School cafeteria to discuss such matters as television programs we could do without, hockey and homework, teenage drinkers and so forth.

A panel composed of parents Mr. Maurice Pilotte and Mrs. Gale Reynolds, teachers Miss Orla Mee and Mr. George Stones, and students Dorothy Stevens and Richard Telford first expressed their views on the various topics and then opinions from the floor were aired. The members found this sort of a program stimulating and revealing. The panel was moderated by Mrs. David Dickson.

The panel discussion was preceded by a short address from Clarendon School Board chairman Dr. Wallace Hodgins on progress with the Department of Education and a very interesting dissertation by Principal Malek Hanna on an educational experiment in team teaching which he studied in the States and which he has promised to introduce here.

Quyon Fair Board all re-elected

The Quyon Agricultural Society annual meeting heard an address from Agronome N. A. Drummond on the past year's achievements. The audit was read and approved and the secretary thanked the board on behalf of the President who was unable to attend, mentioning the help given by all to make 1964 a successful year.

An election of officers was held and the entire slate was returned as for last year.

A directors meeting followed immediately and the executive, was chosen as follows: President Austin Clarke Jr. with Llewelyn Hodgins, Lloyd Balharrie and Thomas Tracy as first, second and third vice presidents. Don Reynolds was rehired as Secretary Manager following the election of the executive.

Senior Citizens club forming

All "senior citizens" of the Aylmer District are invited to attend the inaugural session of what is hoped will become one of the more flourishing activities in the area in St. Mark's auditorium on February 4th. A provisional committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carroll Boucher has been laying the groundwork for a social gathering to take place at approximately two week intervals to fill a gap in the facilities for couples or "singles" (this includes widows and widowers too!) in the way of a meeting place. Other members of the committee include Mrs. Geo. Kelley, Mrs. L. Jowsey, Mrs. S. Majka, Mrs. Carman McKenzie, Mrs. Moodie and Mrs. Joe McDonald. It is hoped to have some representation from St. Paul's Parish on the committee as well. The social gatherings are to take place on a rotating basis in accommodation provided by each of the different church groups in turn. Light refreshments will be provided, and, depending on the success of the venture, participants will be asked to submit their own suggestions for the type of activities they wish to have carried out. A sing-song at least is assured for the first evening, together with games and whatever other entertainment seems appropriate. It is stressed that the gatherings are completely non-denominational but just strictly for fun — and to let the young oldsters in the community have an evening out at little or no expense to themselves. Anyone wanting to attend, but in need of transportation, is asked to get in touch with any of the committee members listed, as the Rotary and Lions club have already signified their willingness to look after transportation for those who need it.

There was a short sing song and games. The girls then met in the sanctuary. A report was given by the camp council. Worship ended an enjoyable day of fellowship among the girls who are trying to strive to become the girl that God would have he be.

Karoly - Dagg wedding

Miss Isobel Grace Dagg, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dagg, Shawville, became the bride of Miklos Karoly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Karoly, of Hungary, in a double-ring ceremony at Yarm United Church, Yarm, Que. on Saturday, January 16, 1965. The officiating clergyman was Rev. L. Emard. Mrs. Emard played the wedding music.

The bride, given away by her father, chose a brown and beige wool suit, with gold accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Lawrence Dagg. She wore a pink wool suit with black and white accessories, and a pink and white carnation corsage. Mr. Lawrence Dagg attended the groom.

The bride's mother chose a green and brown wool suit, with brown accessories and a gold corsage.

Dinner was served to the immediate family and friends, at the bride's home following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Karoly will reside at Charteris.

Leonard Lett's 25th Anniversary

A surprise party was held on Friday evening, honouring Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lett on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. A large crowd of neighbours and friends assembled in St. George's Anglican Parish Hall where Mrs. Lett was presented with a corsage by their daughter Shirley while another daughter Judy presented her father with a boutonniere. The couple were presented with a set of flatware. Mr. Jos. Smiley read the address and the presentation was made by Mrs. Elmer Wall. Mr. and Mrs. Lett thanked everyone for their kindness. A lovely three tiered cake was a gift of Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. Lett's mother. A social hour was followed by refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Lett were married in Campbell's Bay by the Rev. Don Andrews and have four children, Gail 24, a registered nurse, now at Halifax, N.S., Gillis 18, Shirley 16 both students at Shawville High School and Judy 10 who attends Campbells Bay Intermediate School.

The discussion was held because of the fears aroused locally by uninformed speculation as to the nature and necessity for the tests. Evidently someone thought that there was an unnecessary invasion of the privacy of the student and of certain personal information requested. By pointing out that any results of the tests were maintained in the strictest confidence, and in a completely autonomous service, Mr. Pelletier managed to allay any doubts on that score.

The extent of the interest in this whole question was manifested by the fact that the meeting went on long beyond its normal 10 p.m. deadline, and all panelists freely answered not only the questions put from the floor but also replied privately to other questions after the formal session had been brought to a close.

Monday evening last a panel discussion on Guidance Service, as being applied in the new Regional Schools set-up was held at St. Mark's regular monthly meeting of the PTA. Panelists were the director of Guidance Service for the Outaouais Regional School Commission, Mr. R. Pelletier, the Director of Studies, Mr. Omer Plouffe, English Guidance Counsellor, Mr. Emil Polich, Assistant Director of Studies (English Section) Mr. Harold Kehoe, and moderator was Robert Joyce.

PTA studies guidance program

Monday evening last a panel discussion on Guidance Service, as being applied in the new Regional Schools set-up was held at St. Mark's regular monthly meeting of the PTA. Panelists were the director of Guidance Service for the Outaouais Regional School Commission, Mr. R. Pelletier, the Director of Studies, Mr. Omer Plouffe, English Guidance Counsellor, Mr. Emil Polich, Assistant Director of Studies (English Section) Mr. Harold Kehoe, and moderator was Robert Joyce.

Mr. Pelletier stressed that the service was in no way being forced on any student — but he pointed out that any student who failed to make use of the system was doing himself a disservice and would in the long run only serve to make his own road through school unnecessarily difficult. As Mr. Plouffe pointed out, if the Parent Report is implemented as expected, then a student who has not had the basic aptitude tests will soon find himself lost in a maze of options, obligatory options, and possible frustration at the end of one or two years after finding out that he is totally un-equipped for the course he thought he would like to take.

The condition of Miss Kay Thacker who was struck by a car on Christmas eve and who is now in the Civic Hospital is improving. She received several fractures and multiple cuts and gashes and has both legs in casts. An operation was performed on her right leg yesterday. Kay was walking on Church St. returning to her home from work at Tucker's store at 5 p.m. when a car driven by Guy Normondeau going in the same direction knocked her down and was found unconscious. She was rushed to Pontiac Community Hospital for repairs and the same evening taken by ambulance to the Civic Hospital.

Mrs. Joseph Laroche and Mrs. Annie Delorme are patients in Pontiac Community Hospital. We wish them both a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Anne Brinkworth has taken an eight week leave of absence from work at the RCA Victor Co. in Renfrew and is under doctors care at home.

The Hanrahan Building As It Used To Be

Before the Hanrahan Building in Campbell's Bay got its face lifted under the new ownership of Shea, Lariviere and Allard, it presented an entirely different aspect. In this picture it can be seen that the section occupied by Mr. Edgar Allard's law office had already been renovated but the front of Raymond Shea's restaurant and of the L & M Electronics Store of Jean Guy Lariviere were undergoing the first stage of what turned out to be a beautiful refacing job. The site had seen many changes since first built upon around the turn of the century, especially in 1928 when the entire structure was rebuilt after a devastating fire. Now, with its sheet glass store fronts, the Hanrahan Building is one of the most modern business establishments in the County Seat, displaying beautiful furniture in its center portion, housing Canada's biggest little restaurant in the right end and the law office of Edgar L. Allard and Bowie Insurance Agency in the left end, with three families living upstairs. Shea, Lariviere and Allard purchased the property from Dr. John A. Bradshaw in November.

HANRAHAN BLOCK - 1928

CHANGES OWNERSHIP

The Hanrahan building situated on Main St. of Campbell's Bay, was SOLD by ANDRE AUDET agent for ANDRE TESSIER Limited Real Estate, Hull —Audet Studio Photo

Completely renovated building now houses modern business premises

An important transaction took place in the Village of Campbell's Bay on the 1st of November, 1964, when the building known as the Hanrahan Block was transferred by Dr. John A. Bradshaw to three young business men of Campbell's Bay, Raymond Shea, Jean-Guy Lariviere and Edgar L. Allard.

At the time of the purchase these three were already in business in the building, Raymond Shea operating the restaurant known as the Campbell's Bay Grill, Jean-Guy Lariviere local manager of the L & M Electronics Store and Edgar L. Allard practising law.

The Hanrahan Building was built in 1928 with exterior walls of solid brick and all the floors of concrete cement and completely fire proof. The present Hanrahan Building was built in 1928 for John Hanrahan by the firm of Michael Sulphur. The original Hanrahan Block had burnt down in 1928 at a great loss to the owner. At that time the building contained several businesses such as a garage, barber shop, a hairdresser shop and a 5c to $1.00 Store and living accommodations for two households. The present building contains an excellent restaurant, a furniture centre specializing in electronics such as stereos and televisions, together with household appliances and modern home furnishings, a law office, and the second floor contains three large apartments which are all occupied. The building itself is situated on the Main Street of the Village of Campbell's Bay and adjacent to the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Ottawa House Hotel.

The records at the Registry Office furnish us with a little bit of the history of the Hanrahan Building and the lot on which it is situated. On the 6th of September, 1909 one James Beech sold the property to a well known local personality, Edward C. Lawn who in turn resold the building to Norman McCuaig on the 27th of November, 1911. Norman McCuaig then sold the place to William J. Lough on the 5th of May, 1913 and Mr. Lough owned it from that time until the 6th of May 1914, when he sold it to James W. Hennessy. Mr. Hennessy occupied the place until it was sold to George A. Smith during the same year. On the 11th of July 1923, the property was again transferred by George A. Smith to Aldophe Rougier who then transferred it to John Hanrahan who built the present building in 1928. At that time the building contained a barber shop and a pool room operated by Albert Richard and dry goods store operated by John Hanrahan and a garage operated by Edgar Landen and George Landen for several years. From that time on also the place was occupied by Leo Lemaire and his wife who had a barber shop and hairdressing salon. John Martineau also had a hardware store in the building and the hardware business was subsequently sold to Antoine Arbic who presently operates the 5c to $1.00 Store in Campbell's Bay. In 1950 the building was sold to John W. Derouin and Wilson Vibert who resold it in 1951 to Dr. John A. Bradshaw who was the family doctor of numerous Campbell's Bay and district residents until he moved to England in 1962.

The building has now been completely renovated and its present appearance contrasts with the old building.

He sailed to New Westminster a hundred and two years ago

Norval Kilgour has handed us an account in verse written by his uncle Alex Kilgour after his arrival in B. C. after a thrilling voyage, much of it by the water route. It took a lot of courage on his part as that was before the railroad went all the way. His venture proved successful in spite of great odds. He worked at first as a feller and the large trees they had in B. C. then made this job more than man-sized. Then he secured land and raised dairy and beef cattle. His land is now the air port on Sea Island.

The poem was probably addressed to a friend John Anderson but came into family hands and the original copied below is dated December 16, 1862 which is 102 years ago.

(That was before the furnishings of the Parliament of Canada were floated down the St. Lawrence and up the Ottawa River by barge to move the capital from Quebec City to Bytown.)

The brother who met him in Montreal was a Methodist minister, the George referred to was Norval Kilgour's father.

Norval's remark on the poem is that it seems very well composed considering he was not a poet, just a Kilgour. Well the two are synonymous in some branches of the family and The Equity is honoured to publish this historic epic.

RICHMOND ISLAND December 16th, 1862

By Alex Kilgour

Dear John although from you remot

I still can visit you in thought.

And think it could not be a crime

If I should visit you in rhyme

My power to woo you know is little

And Burns says the jade is fickle

But I must try a while to woo

The muse while writing unto you.

Since that an exile I've become

And left my dear and native home

And if I err you must not thunder

A poet has got leave to blunder.

The twelfth of March I left my home

Possessed with some desire to roam

My father wept my mother's heart

Seemed like to break when we did part.

Elizabeth my sister ever dear

In anguish shed a bitter tear

While George and Agnes on my way

Came down as far as Ottawa.

But here again I felt the smarting
And anguish at the thought of parting.
My loving sister I caressed
And fondly held her to my breast.

My brother's hand I shook, the yell
Of whistle hurried our farewell
To Montreal the Iron Horse
Soon bore me rattling on its course.

And there to crown my expectation
Found Joseph waiting at the station.
A day and night we spent together
And much we talked about the whether

T'were better I had stayed at home
Or venture out so far to roam
However we did both agree
The world I had a right to see,
We parted and I never saw
Since — relative by blood or law
The iron horse now quickly bore
Me forward from the Atlantic shore.

In Uncle Sam saw many sight
That filled my heart with strange delight
Saw more than I have time to speak
In famed New York or broad way street.
For thirteen days I marched around
To see what ever could be found
And much there is for to look at
Besides the far famed "what is that."

All-fools-day and I was one
Who stepped the North Star's deck upon
At noon of day the sun shone clear.
The Steamer loosed from off the pier
And steaming on with graceful motion
Sailed out of bay into the ocean.
In six fine days we hove in sight
Of the West Indies green and bright

In other two, much pleased were all
To find us nearing Asping Wall
At half past nine the moon shone clear
Our steamer fastened to the pier.
We went on shore and saw such sights
Dark ladies dressed in robes of white.
Like fairies flittered in the light
And strange to say most every jade
Sold bread or fruit or lemon aid.

At half past eight the iron horse
Soon bore us snorting on his course
And I must say such vegetation
I never knew was in creation
It was not long until we crossed
Safe through to the Pacific coast
Where we were stowed with sin and sorrow
On board the wretched old Lonnore

10
For San Francisco we did steer
The sun was hot the sky was clear
But once we halted on our way
At Acapulco spent a day
We now steamed on both day and night
Till San Francisco came in sight
And every heart seemed light to bound
When we set foot on solid ground.

11
Five days I spent when I had got
To get aboard a cotton boat
Sierra Nevada put to sea
And bore us safe to Victoria.
About this place was little stir
I sailed for New Westminster.

Some notes on the Parent report

Vol. III

A third volume of the Royal Commission on Education has been released. This volume, which is in effect an amplification of proposals made in the second report, deals with curriculum and educational services. It will be of particular interest to note that in dealing with curriculum problems, the report points out that school reform is centered on the pupil and that educational progress should be built on a steady attention to him, as well as on research. To this end, the report recommends support for all efforts to increase cooperation between parents and teachers!

As far as educational services are concerned, the proposed recommendations aim at correcting some deficiencies in the guidance system heretofore in vogue; at a substantial development of the use audio-visual techniques and of libraries; at making available to the students a psychological - medical - social service; and at encouraging the construction of schools adapted to modern teaching needs.

In the curriculum field provincial organizers are to be named in each of the following fields: French as a mother tongue; English as the mother tongue; French or English as second language; modern languages, dead languages; music, plastic arts, film education, mathematics Science, geography, history, science of man; physical education; philosophy and social education. Each of these organizers will be advised by a consultative committee of teachers and specialists. They will be responsible for the curriculum and the choice of texts in their respective fields. The teaching of morals and religion will be the responsibility of the Catholic and Protestant Committees of the Superior Council on Education.

A key recommendation of the Parent Commission is to have technical education integrated into the secondary school system, and to accomplish this they have recommended that a provincial organizer be appointed for secondary - school teaching.

The English edition of this report is not yet ready, but copies in French are available from the Queen's Printer in Quebec at the usual $2. per copy. It is interesting to note that the entire first run of the Second Volume, (12,000 copies) is already out of stock and a second printing is being rushed through. This is an indication of the interest sparked by this revolutionary report not only in Quebec, but outside the province as well.

Mrs. Wm. Elliott

Late Wednesday afternoon on Dec. 30, 1964, Agnes Eva Lexie Elliott passed away at the Nursing Hospital, Newington, Ontario where she had been a patient the past ten months, at the age of 73 years. She was the daughter of the late Wm. T. Barber and his first wife, Abigail Wilson.

Born at Shawville on May 10, 1891 she married Wm. W. Elliott on Oct. 25, 1916, also of Shawville who predeceased her over four years ago. She is now survived by two daughters, Willetta, Mrs. Hugh McWhinney, Gooderich, Ont., Dorothy, Mrs. Cecil Gogo, Ingleside, Ont. seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Also four sisters

Mrs. William Welch

Relatives and friends were saddened to learn that death had claimed one of our well known citizens of the Starks Corners Community on January 15, 1965. Mrs. Wm. Welch (Dolly as she was known to all of us) passed peacefully away in a Hull hospital after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Welch, the former Marjorie Ida Dale, was born in Ottawa on September 24, 1918 and was the only daughter of the late Fred Dale and his wife Jessie McJanet. She received her education in Ottawa and was employed in the Air Force Treasury Department before her marriage.

On April 4, 1942 she was

Mrs. Harry Corrigan, Mrs. Harvey Wilson, Mrs. T. S. Harris and Mrs. J. H. Wilson; three brothers, Percy, Windsor, Ont., Edwin, Pembroke, Ont. and Hollis of Shawville.

Many relatives and former neighbours from Shawville and district attended the funeral on Saturday, January 2nd.

married in Parkdale United Church in Ottawa to William H. Welch of Shawville. The young couple lived in Shawville for a few years, later moving to their new home at Starks Corners. To their union were born two children, Marilyn, now of Ottawa and Dale in Shawville.

Mrs. Welch was a member of the United Church and took a deep interest in the women's organizations where she held offices at various times. She was P.N.G. of Adina Rebekah Lodge No. 40 in Shawville. A Rebekah service was held in her honor at the Hayes funeral home on Saturday evening.

Left to mourn her loss besides her husband, are Marilyn and Dale, her mother, Mrs. Jessie Dale and three brothers Arlington, Kenneth and Holly of Ottawa.

It has the kind of headturning beauty that gathers a crowd, yet it's responsive and agile as a hard-muscled sportscar. And you can pack it with exactly the 6-cylinder or V8 power you like for your kind of driving. There are 12 models in 4 series . . . including 3 completely different convertibles. By Walker Riley,
Macdonald College,
Agricultural Extension

I just came across this splendid little item. It is too good to keep. "What is a farmer? Farmers are found in fields plowing up, seeding down, rotating from, planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting it. Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agriculture Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, weather can delay them, but it takes Heaven to stop them.

When your car stalls along the way, a farmer is a considerate, courteous, inexpensive road service. When his wife suggests he buy a new suit, he can quote from memory every expense involved in operating the farm last year plus the added expense he is certain will crop up this year. Or else he assumes the role of the indignant shopper, impressing upon everyone within earshot the pounds of pork he must produce in order to pay for a suit at today's prices.

A farmer is a paradox—he is an overall executive with his home his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa and antibiotics; a production expert faced with a surplus and a manager battling a cost-price squeeze. He manages more capital than most of the business men in town.

He likes sunshine, good food, picnics, county fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his neighbours, Saturday night in town with shirt collar unbuttoned and, above all, a good soaking rain in August.

He is not much for droughts, ditches, throughways, experts weeds, the eight-hour-day, helping with housework or grasshoppers.

Nobody else is so far from a telephone or so close to God. Nobody else gets so much satisfaction out of modern plumbing, good weather and homemade ice cream.

Nobody else has in his pocket at one time a three-bladed knife, check book, a billfold, a pair of pliers and a combination memo book and general farm guide.

Nobody else can remove these things from his pockets and on washday have overlooked: 5 staples, one cotter key, a rusty spike, 3 grains of corn, the stub of a lead pencil, a square tap, a $4.98 pocket watch and a cupful of chaff in each trouser cuff.

A farmer is both Faith and a Fatalist—he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capabilities amid an ever-present possibility that an act of God (a late Spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drought) can bring his business to a standstill.

Might as well put up with him he is your friend, your competitor, your customer, your source of food, sober, and self-reliant young citizens to help replenish your cities. He is your countryman a denim-dressed, business wise, fast growing statesman of stature. And when he comes in at noon, having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew with the magic words: "The markets up".

Providing rural vacations is a farm business that is sure to grow in the years ahead. Urban population is growing; leisure time and paid vacations are increasing; roads are improving; public campsites are limited.

An interesting little pamphlet I picked up the other day in Vermont gives several examples of what has been done by landowners south of the border to develop profitable recreation projects on their farms. In Pennsylvania, twenty-two commercial shooting preserves had an average net yearly income of $7,600. This was the annual return to the operator for his labour, management and capital after all costs of operation were paid.

In Alabama, the average value of fish harvested from farm ponds was estimated at $75. per acre per year with the usual charge being $1.00 per day for the privilege of fishing.

The average vacation farm in the North Atlantic region took in $3,000. extra income per year for summer tourist accommodations. With some, the gross was over $10,000. The average was eleven guests, two or three families at a time for a period of three months. In good hunting or ski areas, some vacation farms have guests during fall and winter months.

Pastoral comment...

Theme: Our Great Cheerleader
by Rev. L. Emard

All of us need to be cheered. We cannot afford to yield to melancholy or grow cynical and pessimistic. Best of all we have the world's greatest Cheerleader, the Christ of Galilee, who is constantly saying, "Be of good cheer!" That call should put determination into our wills, iron into our blood, and ultimate victory into our vision.

Let us think of four different occasions and differing situations when Jesus said "Be of good cheer."

First, good cheer for the sinner. On his return from the coasts to Capernaum, there was brought to Jesus by interested friends a man sick of the palsy. He was a bedridden paralytic. The most he hoped for, was a little material help, accompanied perhaps by a word of sympathy. But when the Great Physician looked upon him, he said, "Son be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee."

His soul was cleansed and his body was healed.

This palsied man is a type of the sinner whose condition is hopeless. Yet close to every sinner today there stands Jesus with this word of hope and courage. "Be of good cheer." Never give up, never despair, He came to seek and to save the lost.

Secondly, He came to cheer the storm-tossed.

After feeding the five thousand on the mountain, Jesus sent his disciples in their boats on the return to the Bethsaida shore while he remained to send the crowd away. As night came on a sudden storm, for which that little sea was noted, broke upon them.

They toiled desperately against the waves, but the "wind was contrary unto them." However, Jesus had not forgotten them, for "he saw them toiling in rowing." In the midst of their fear and struggle, but before it was too late, he came to their rescue, walking upon the sea, and saying "Be of good cheer; it is I: be not afraid" and the wind ceased.

This is a picture of life. Sooner or later, as we make our voyage across life's sea, the storm will break upon us. If you are storm-tossed today, Hear him say, "Peace be still", and experience great calm in your soul.

Thirdly, Good cheer for the defeatist. As Jesus was nearing the close of his earthly life, he was talking to his followers about the trials and tribulations that surely would befall them. Then, lest they should be discouraged beyond measure, he hastens to say to them, "But be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." In the midst of the many afflictions which will inevitably come even to the righteous there is danger that our faith may weaken and our courage wane. Like Jacob, depressed by his troubles we may throw up our hands and exclaim, "All these things are against me." That is a defeatist attitude toward life. And as a matter of fact, these things to which Jacob referred were not against him, but as subsequently developments proved, they were for him.

Fourthly, Good cheer for the mistreated.

Paul was a good man. Yet the brethren at Jerusalem doubted his conversion and gave him the cold shoulder. And almost everywhere he went his presence "started a riot". He gives a long list of the indignities and abuses which those he was trying to serve inflicted upon him. On one occasion the chief captain "feared lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them," but the Lord stood by him and said, "Be of good cheer, Paul; for as thou hast tes-

Rev. Gauvin inducted at Campbell's Bay

On Friday, January 15, at 8 p.m. the Reverend Joseph H. A. Gauvin was inducted as priest incumbent in the Parish of Campbell's Bay. The Reverend James G. Bovington, rural dean, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. Fr. Ed. McColl of Quyon. The Rev. Lyndon L. McKeown, rector of St. James' church, Hull preached.

Fr. Gauvin's first official function in the Parish was the celebration of the Holy Eucharist tified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also in Rome."

Like, Paul, many good people suffer unjustly at the hands of those who misunderstand, misjudge, and mistreat them. At such times our comfort is that always there is One standing by us who does understand and who is saying to us, "Be of good cheer."

which immediately followed the service of induction. Mr. McKeown acted as Deacon.

Despite the sub-zero weather there was a good number of persons present. After the service all were invited to the reception which took place in the Parish Hall.

Fr. Gauvin was priest-incumbent in the Parish of Wakefield Lacelles before being transferred to this area.
