Arthur Roskies Tells of Conditions in Israel

Gives Address at Meeting of Rotarians in Huntingdon on Monday

Members of the Huntingdon Rotary Club listened with great interest on Monday to an address given by Mr. Arthur Roskies on conditions in Israel. He was introduced to the gathering by Rotarian Louis Levine, as follows:

Arthur Roskies was born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1927. He was educated there until the age of 12, and in 1939 he came to Canada. He spent his first year on this continent in the United States and finished public school in Irvington, New Jersey. After that he attended Westmount High School where he graduated in 1944, ranking third in the Provincial High School Leaving Examinations. In the fall of 1944 he entered McGill and obtained there the degree of Bachelor of Commerce.

Then followed two years in the Philadelphia Textile Institute. I think it will be generally agreed, according to the textile record of progress in Huntingdon, that he made a good vocational choice. On further thought, he could hardly have chosen otherwise. In 1951, Arthur was elected President of the Inter-Collegiate Zionist Federation of America for a term of one year. During the summers of 1949 and 1951 he made trips to Israel and Europe. His speech today will deal with these trips.

At this distance it has been possible to follow the events in the newly created state of Israel only through newspaper reports. It will therefore be a stimulating experience to hear a first-hand account of the progress which is being made in that country, as well as our speaker's impressions during his visits to Europe.

Following the presentation of the address, Mr. Roskies was thanked by Rotarian Gilbert MacMillan.

Below is the address given by Mr. Arthur Roskies:

MY TRIP TO ISRAEL

In the summer of 1949 I visited Israel. I went over with a group of about thirty Canadian college students and we visited Holland, Belgium, France and Italy on the same trip. We went over by student boat and our plan was to work in Israel in order to earn the expenses of our upkeep there. Although I was not overly interested in Israel when I first visited it, the contagious enthusiasm which is present in that country took hold of me too, and when I returned I decided I wanted to help Israel in every way possible. Thereupon I became very active in an organization called IZPA, the Inter-Collegiate Zionist Federation of America. IZPA has about 100 chapters at universities in the U.S. and Canada and its purpose is to acquaint students with Israel, to sponsor trips there during the summer, such as the one I went on, to raise money, food, or text books for the country, and in general to act as public relations men on the university campuses. Eventually I became national president of this organization, and in that capacity I was sent over in the summer of 1951 again on official business. It is my impressions of these two trips that I would like to share with you this afternoon.

I would like to start by pointing out that the state of Israel which exists today is really the third independent Jewish Commonwealth in history. The first one was the one that existed in the times of the Bible when Moses led the Children of Israel out of Egypt and into the Holy Land. This kingdom lasted till the year 586BC at which time the Babylonians took the Jews into captivity. The state was re-established less than a hundred years later, and this second monarchy lasted till the year 70AD. In that year the Romans overran Judaea, destroyed the Temple in Jerusalem, and dispersed the Jews. Ever since then, Jewish tradition and Jewish prayers containing references and hopes for the return to Zion and rebuilding the Temple. The modern movement to return to Palestine started with the founding of the Zionist Organization at the end of the 19th Century and was much influenced by the persecutions of Jews in Poland and Russia during the last century. At first the Zionist movement and the settlement of Jews in Palestine encountered great difficulties, but by the end of the Second World War there were over 600,000 Jews living there. Many of these were Jews who were saved from the clutches of death of the Nazi extermination camps and it will ever remain an open question how many of the six million who perished would be alive today had the State of Israel existed and welcomed them at the time.

Eventually the United Nations took a hand in the Palestine controversy and in 1947 decreed the partitioning of Palestine into a separate Jewish and Arab State. Thereupon, Britain announced that she would leave Palestine and on May 15, 1948, the day the last British soldier left the country, Israel declared its independence. I saw when I first was there. For war broke out and went on till some time in 1949, at which time, field troops were arrived at between the warring nations. No peace treaty was ever signed and it is an Israeli with a background of this sort of uneasy peace that I want to talk to you about today.

One of the things that struck me most about Israel was the immense amount of hustle and bustle, the continuous growth, which made me feel as if I were living on the brink of an eruption volcano. There were parts of the country that I simply did not recognize on my second trip as being the same places brink of an eruption volcano. There were thousands of new people living there in a virtually new city which literally swallowed up the old town. Similar instances can be given of the growth in other parts of the country.

Man Who Kissed The Blarney Stone To Wed Its Owner

CORK, Ireland, (AP) — The woman owner of the famous Blarney Stone — said to confer the gift of eloquence on those who kiss it — has been talked into marriage by a man who did.

This was disclosed by Mrs. Penelope Hamilton, who inherited Blarney Castle and the legendary stone early this year. Her successful suitor is a childhood friend, Major Jack Hilyard.

"I proposed just a few moments after Mrs. Hamilton and I had kissed the Blarney Stone," Hilyard told a reporter. "I believe in the legend."

Government Grant of $45,000 Is Announced For Huntingdon County Hospital

Ground Will Soon Be Broken For One Storey Brick Fireproof Addition

Huntingdon County Hospital came into being through a rather unusual set of circumstances. It so happened that during the early days of World War II, the late Dr. H. R. Clouston was to aid in the launching of a Victory Loan campaign meeting that was being held in the O'Connor Theatre. The Rev. Canon Gower-Rees was the guest speaker for that Sunday afternoon and Dr. Clouston was to introduce him to the large Huntingdon audience that was present. On that October afternoon wet leaves on the highway caused a young squaw, the valued professional services of Dr. Clouston were demanded and he did not get to the Victory Loan meeting.

That afternoon he prevailed upon the Gleaner to see what could be done to help relieve the many demands upon a few medical practitioners then in this area. It so happened that at the time of the accident he was returning home from attending a confinement case. The Barrie Memorial Hospital was then taken to capacity and there was no place to take a confinement case, consequently the time of the few medical practitioners was being unduly taken up through long waits with patients. The Ormstown doctors and officials of Barrie Memorial Hospital suggested to Dr. Clouston that he make an effort to get a suitable hospital started in Huntingdon where patients could be taken and thereby relieve the congestion at Barrie Memorial Hospital and at the same time give doctors more time to make professional calls.

When the subject of a Hospital for Huntingdon was presented to the public through the columns of the Gleaner, the public responded. The public wanted to have a medical service when required, and if through having a hospital it was going to help the situation, then that is what they would subscribe their money toward attaining. Many ardent and staunch workers came to the fore and in a matter of weeks money was raised and shortly after the Presbyterian School Home was converted into a hospital with 14 beds and a nursery with 8 bassinets.

The necessary funds for financing this hospital were largely raised by public subscription and gift of kind. The Rotary Club raised several thousand dollars for the Hospital. Actually the Huntingdon County Hospital attained such remarkable support that when the Hon. Dr. J. H. A. Paquette, Quebec Minister of Health, visited Huntingdon, he was literally speaking of a reality. Specifications are now in the hands of potential builders and within a few days time ground will be broken for the building of the one storey brick fireproof addition. The addition will provide single and semi-private rooms with bath, operating room, and several other rooms required for a present day modern hospital. At an early date we hope to have more complete details as to the building and how its space will be allocated.

Mr. W. U. Hughes, a Governor of the Hospital, has seen to it that plans for the addition were prepared and made acceptable to the Quebec Department of Health. Other members of the Board of Governors along with Mr. H. A. D. Somerville, M.L.A., took the matter of assistance toward the building of the hospital addition before the Quebec Government officials.

Thanks are due everyone who played a part in preparing the way toward making the Clouston Memorial a reality. Specifications are now in the hands of potential builders and within a few days time ground will be broken for the building of the one storey brick fireproof addition. The addition will provide single and semi-private rooms with bath, operating room, and several other rooms required for a present day modern hospital. At an early date we hope to have more complete details as to the building and how its space will be allocated.

Mr. W. K. Pope was named Co-Chairman to represent the English-speaking population and Mr. René Corbell, Valleyfield, Que., was named to represent the French-speaking population. It was arranged that Mr. Foisy should be approached for his consent to act in the above capacity.

It is expected that a house-to-house canvass will be held throughout the county and that canvassers will be organized to conduct such a canvass. The objective of the campaign is $1,000. This money remains within the jurisdiction of the local committee as to its use and distribution where needed. The Field Representative of the C.N.I.B., Mr. René Corbell, Valleyfield, Que., will make recommendations to the local committee on cases he investigates and the committee will have the final say on whether assistance should be given and to what extent. Cases submitted to the local committee and which come to the attention of any member of the committee, will be investigated by Mr. Corbell and he will pass along his recommendations based on the results of the investigation.

During the course of the several meetings already held in Huntingdon, Mr. Corbell has given many instances of where blind persons have been helped in this county and may still need help in the future. This shows need for a committee such as the one that has been organized and now it needs the funds with which to do the job it has to do. New cases are cropping up all the time. These are not necessarily all to do with actual blind persons, but many have to do with treatment leading to the possible prevention of blindness. The C.N.I.B. is more concerned with this phase of the work as they wish to cut down the number of blind persons where at all possible. When blindness does strike, then they will do all possible to help such persons become as self sufficient as possible so that they may be and feel as independent as other people.

In addition the following canvassers have been appointed for the Dundee area: Team Captain: Mrs. Vernon Elder; Canvassers: Lake Shore I: Miss Thelma McMillan; Lake Shore II: Miss Esther McNeil; Lake Shore III: Mr. Cameron McNeil; Dundee Centre I: Mrs. Wm. McPherson; Dundee Centre II: Mr. Stewart Ferguson; Ste. Agnes I: Mr. Roy Leslie; Ste. Agnes II: Mr. Harold Arnold; Ste. Agnes village: Mrs. Vernon Elder; Beaver: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Platt; Ridge Road, Miss Lois Kazulak.

The 1952 Salvation Army campaign had its official opening on Monday evening, September 15th, when the canvassers and officials met at the Chateau in Huntingdon, with Senior Major Carswell and Major Smith present. A splendid meal was served by the chateau and following this the group adjourned to the Gal Lounge, where the local campaign co-chairman, Mr. George Dixon of Huntingdon and Major Carswell addressed the gathering on behalf of the Salvation Army. A film entitled, "The Quality of Mercy" was shown by Major Smith. This film showed how the Salvation Army in Canada meets the human need irrespective of race, creed or color. It touched on the various phases of Army work, such as Family Welfare Services, Sunset Lodges for Aged Men, Fresh Air Camps, Institutional Visitation, to mention only a few. This picture helps one to realize the countless ways the Salvation Army helps those in need, whether it be spiritual difficulty or material difficulty. The redemption of the soul and the rehabilitation of the body constitute the aims of this "Army of Mercy."

The following are the canvassers who will be calling on the people of Huntingdon Town and district in an effort to raise the objective $1,200 for the County of Huntingdon: Mr. David McCoy, Mr. Charles Gray, Misses Hazel and Beatrice Cairns, Mrs. Ed. Middlemiss, Miss Betty Lou Mose, Mr. Anthony Small, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rivett, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ferns, Mr. Clifford Murray, Mr. T. M. Forrest, Dr. A. A. White, Mr. Myles Titilston, Mr. M. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. B. Myatt, Mr. A. Elder, Mr. J. A. Scriver, Mr. D. A. Grant, Mr. W. Dawson, Mr. J. G. Henry, Mr. E.

First Polio Case Reported In Recent Outbreaks

The first case of polio reported in this area in the recent outbreaks in various parts of the country, comes from Ormstown. Kathleen Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Murphy, of Ormstown, who was attending school in Ottawa, recently returned home and is now confined to her home with polio, however, she is improving.

Plans Made For C.N.I.B. Campaign

To Take Place In Early October

A meeting of the recently organized local committee to work in conjunction with the Canadian National Institute of the Blind, was held on Wednesday evening with a fair representation present. Mr. René Corbell and Mr. Zuplaski, representatives of the C.N.I.B., were present to assist the committee.

Mr. G. McHardy, Chairman for the Huntingdon Committee, conducted the meeting, while Mrs. W. K. Philips attended to the secretarial duties. The main business of the meeting was to set a date for the start of a financial drive in behalf of raising funds as capital for this newly organized district. It was finally decided that the period of the drive would be from October 1st to October 15th, with leave to extend if circumstances warranted it.

Mr. W. K. Pope was named Co-Chairman to represent the English-speaking population and Mr. René Corbell, Valleyfield, Que., was named to represent the French-speaking population. It was arranged that Mr. Foisy should be approached for his consent to act in the above capacity.

Newspaper Publishers Hold Convention at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea

Spend Interesting Week of Discussions and Programs of Helpful Nature

Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.B., owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway was the delightful spot where the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association held its annual convention. The convention was attended by upwards of 350 people representing weekly newspapers from all provinces of Canada. From this area those attending included Adam Sellar and Mrs. Sellar, Huntingdon; Ken Hutton of Huntingdon Theatres Limited and who is the circulation Manager for the Monitor of Notre Dame de Grace and the Verdun Guardian, and Mrs. Hutton; Albert Wallot, Le Progrès, Valleyfield, Mrs. Wallot and their daughter Marie-Josée who incidentally celebrated her 21st birthday during the convention week.

The programme for the meetings of the convention were far from being up to par, but for all that it was a very successful get-together. The publishers gained considerable information from another during the five days spent at the Hotel Algonquin. The press party left Montreal on a special C.P.R. train, which incidentally took 15 cars to transport the delegates. The two dinners on the train were kept busy serving meals from 1:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Upon arrival at St. Andrews, a typical sample of a "pea soup" of a day prevailed. The fog was heavy and prevailed until evening. During the next four days the weather was delightfully warm with a light breeze, and summer clothes worn by all until late on Sunday when a top coat was very acceptable.

The Algonquin Hotel may be old in years, but if its appointments are not the most up to date they are such that no one need feel critical, for everything is exceptionally well maintained. The hotel service was perfect and a commendable staff would indeed be very difficult to locate anywhere.

Taxi drivers at St. Andrews are also equally as obliging as is the hotel staff. The taxi men made their patrons feel quite at ease, no speeding or chances taken, but careful driving for the general comfort of customers was the thought kept in mind at all times. Should the fares wish to do a bit of shopping the taxi drivers were most willing to extend a helping hand and wait for their customers and did not charge excessively for time so consumed. It was quite evident that all quarters about St. Andrews aimed to please summer visitors.

During the convention, "wake-up breakfasts" were the order of the day and nearly all conventionists were in and out of the dining room between 8 and 9 a.m. With such a start each day, it meant every programme arranged was carried out according to schedule.

Thursday afternoon Senator Cairne Wilson, of Ottawa entertained the ladies at her palatial summer home "Clirrig" to a garden party. Senator Wilson has not been in the best of health of late, but was to the fore that afternoon and greeted all the ladies in a most cordial and friendly manner.

Salt water swimming was enjoyed by a few, but as the water was 62 degrees, it was found a bit fresh. Fishing had its appeal and every day a group of men would get out for a few hours on the sea. The results were not exciting, but during the first morning one young lad came into the hotel trailing a cod fish proved ample advertising that fishing must form a portion of the delegates entertainment programme, when at the convention.

A shore dinner was organized. A shore dinner was something new to upwards of 90% of the visitors. The dinner was held a short distance away from the hotel. Two marquees were raised and near them was an open fire. Over the open fire sheets of metal were spread and covered with sea weed. In the sea weed were placed hundreds of lobsters and the lobster dinner was held in the lobster traps. In addition to the lobsters were clam which were also so steamed. Baked beans, potatoes, corn-on-the-cob and coffee were all served piping hot. Tomato juice, cheese and crackers as well as brown bread were also served, and so a healthy and substantial meal was served to all.

The Armdale Choir Undoubtedly some of our readers heard the C.B.C. Broadcast of the C.W.N.A. when the Armdale Choir of Halifax rendered a beautiful programme of music. The choir of 25 voices were transported from Halifax to the Hotel Algonquin through the use of an air plane from Halifax to St. John, N.B., and by bus from St. John to St. Andrews. The broadcast was made on Saturday evening previous to the Association banquet when the prize awards for various competitions are made. At the close of the banquet the choir re-appeared and rendered another half hour of singing.

The musical and cocktail hour entertainment provided each evening, materially added in making this convention a real social success. Breakfast morning 1952 at the Town Hall with the following results:

Votes in favour of the By-law 73
Votes against the By-law 18
70% of the Tax-payers voted representing 84% of the Valuation.
The 73 favourable votes represented 56% of the total number of Tax-payers and 71% of the total Valuation. The 18 who voted against the By-law represented 14% of the Tax-payers and 19% of the total valuation.

Thanks go to the C.P.R. and the CNR, who made it possible for many to attend the annual meeting. The railway officials did everything possible to arrange transportation, thereby affording the utmost of comfort in the travel of the editors and their wives to and from the convention and their respective homes across Canada.

All of this costs money and each district needs a group of persons to look after the details in connection with the administration of disbursements.

Details of the campaign have yet to be worked out and announcement will be made of this when this has been done. Meantime the public is urged to think about the plight of the blind person and to give as generously as possible when the campaign gets under way.

The plant will purchase this fruit for cash and the apples will be processed into juice. For the present this will be the main operation of the plant — making juice. As time goes on other methods of processing will be introduced and carried out. This will depend upon the co-operation of the growers in patronizing the plant which will turn their surplus and waste products into a cash crop for them.

NOT CAUGHT IN LAKE ST. FRANCIS

This 13 foot, 423 pound Marlin was caught in the Pacific Ocean off Acapulco, Mexico, by Jack VanVliet of Lacolle and Montreal while he was vacationing there recently. It took three hours and five minutes to land and is the biggest fish caught at Acapulco in the last six months. The word "TONA" seen on the fish is the name of the launch used on the fishing trip.

parts of the country. The reason for this is the tremendous population growth which in a period of four years has increased the country's population to the equivalent of Canada's population rising from 14,000,000 to 37,000,000 in a similar time span. Just think of the economic difficulties, the pressures on demand, the price rises, etc., that would be engendered by this right here. And this is precisely what has happened in Israel. The most varied type of people have come to the country. You see negroid types with dark skins; you see Indians; you see orientals in their native costumes; you see blond haired Nordic people and Europeans — and all of these people go under the name Jew. To give you an example of one kind of people who have come to the country I would like to tell you something about the Yemenite immigrants. These are dark-skinned people who have come from a country on the south-western tip of Asia and are by and large primitive, while many of them are quite religious. Although when they first came they had never seen any of the 20th Century inventions, they stepped into the planes which brought them to Israel and watched the take-offs very matter-of-factly. You see, it says in the Bible that God would bring the Children of Israel to Palestine on wings of eagles, and to these Yemenites the planes represented the wings of eagles. The story is even told that when they arrived at the airport near Tel-Aviv and were transferred to the airport buses, they could not understand why the buses too didn't fly. When they were given soap, some of them started to eat it; they didn't know what to do with it. Or when they were given some furniture such as chairs, bedding, tables and so on, they put the chairs on the tables and sat on the floor, since they didn't know what chairs are used for. I only mention these things to show you the immense amount of teaching that has to be undertaken to make useful citizens out of people such as these. Many of these new immigrants live under very difficult conditions. It is most usual to see several hundred living in a work village composed of corrugated sheet metal huts. These huts are very primitive and uncomfortable affairs, especially in the summer time when they heat up and when a family made up of 10-12 people has to live in a hut the size of 10 x 10 ft. One of the most gratifying sights in Israel is to see new, permanent, white cement houses growing up beside one of these camps. You

VALLEYFIELD CANNING CO. A PROGRESSIVE INDUSTRY

When an industry can employ as many as 150 employees, we can say it is an important one. And it only adds to its importance to say that it is one of the oldest in the city. Valleyfield Canning Co. is located on St. Lawrence St., Valleyfield, Que., near the store owned by Mr. Oscar Slocot, and is the scene of a surprising amount of activity these days. 150 employees are presently employed in canning tomatoes and tomato juice. In the left picture at the top, an inspector of the Federal Government Agricultural Department examines plants coming in to Valleyfield from the United States last May. On the right, thousands of tons of tomatoes are coming into the Valleyfield Canning factory by trucks and other means of trans-

Parker at their cottage in the Laurentians.

Misses Shirley and Joyce Hunter are taking in the sights of New York City this week.

The Ladies' Aid Society, St. Edward's Presbyterian Church, spent Tuesday at Lachute, Quebec, attending a lunch and dinner on this, their annual outing.

Hemmingford

Mrs. Frank Richard and Mrs. Lawrence Hebert entertained the W.A. of St. Andrew's United Church on August 13th in the church hall. Miss Wilson presided over the devotional period. Mrs. Paré was in the chair. Mrs. Donald Orr reported on information received regarding cost of redecorating interior of church. It was decided to go ahead with this work, with details left in the hand of committee. Mrs. Wylie reported on work completed in Mansie and Mrs. Ellerton on sick and shut-in friends remembered.

The Hall representative, Mrs. D. P. Orr and committee, Mesdames Kennedy and Wylie reported on work done in Hall kitchen and a new linoleum purchased.

A motion was made and carried to again put on a turkey supper early in October, date to be set later. A donation of $25.00 was made to the Deaconess Home Building Fund. 18 members answered the roll call. Afterwards refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

Rockburn

Guests at the home of Mrs. John Oliver on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Modler and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchings of Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. James Sweet, of Chateaugay. Mr. James Lawson of Ottawa spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. A. Pollock.

realize that the new immigrants are building their own homes of the future, and that in three or four months, or perhaps a half year, these people will be living in decent housing as all human beings should.

Before I leave the subject of the influx of immigrants, I would like to mention the great pressures of shortages it has brought with it. The rationing is much more severe than it ever was in Canada, or for that matter even in England. Housewives have to line up every day for hours to make sure that they get even the things that they are nominally entitled to under the ration system. I remember last summer there was a period of several months when the people could not even get the four ounces of meat they were entitled to. The reason for this is the difficult foreign exchange situation. Since Israel must buy much of her food with hard currencies, she often finds it more important to use this hard currency for machinery, medical supplies or arms, and if there are not enough dollars to go around, then food simply cannot be bought. You see lines everywhere in the country. I remember I stood in line many a time for several hours waiting for a bus from one city to another. Or I remember last summer, during an ice shortage, people used to line up at 2 o'clock in the morning to be sure to get their place in line, when the ice vendor came around at 6 o'clock in the morning. But the people are taking all this more or less philosophically, and the motto is "Yihyeh Toy", "Everything will be alright." Note that the emphasis is on "will be", not is.

The language of the country is Hebrew, which is to a large extent like the Hebrew of the Bible, with many additional words and phrases which did not exist at the time the Bible came into being. Newspapers are printed in dozens of languages in order to accommodate the new immigrants. But every effort is made to teach them Hebrew, since without it, you cannot fully participate in the political and cultural life of the country. Hundreds of free government classes have been organized for this purpose. A surprisingly large number of people speak English. In fact you can get by very easily in the country by speaking only English. The reason for this is that many of the older settlers speak English, since during the days of the British mandate English was indispensable. In fact the British influence is still very strong in the country. The entire civil service is molded on the British pattern, as is the army, the police, the fiscal system, even the currency they use is the Pound. It is interesting to note that the third language in the country after Hebrew and Arabic is French, and in government buildings such as post-offices, you will find inscriptions in Hebrew, Arabic and French, mainly for the benefit of the many immigrants from the French colonies such as Morocco and Tunisia. The army is one of the best transformers and teachers in the country. Since every man and woman must serve in the army for a period of two and a half years, there is plenty of opportunity to teach the new immigrants not only how to defend themselves, but also a trade, the language and in general how to become useful citizens. This has helped greatly in quickening the process of integration so that it is no wonder that Israel has been called not only a melting pot but a pressure cooker as well.

The political aspects of the country amaze me. Here in Canada we, as a rule, do not pay too much attention to politics, and only get interested in it to an appreciable degree before election time. Over there politics is an important part of a man's daily life. It determines what school his children go to, what clubs he belongs to, what newspaper he reads, who his friends are, etc. Politics is always one of the favorite topics of conversations. On the one hand this may lead to narrow partisanship, but on the other hand it shows that there is a healthy interest in the doings of government. There are about 20 political parties in the country, the largest being the middle-of-the-road Labor Party which may be compared to the British Labor Party, and is in fact even more conservative and to the right of its British counterpart. This party received 35% of the votes in the last election and forms the government in coalition with the religious parties who received about 10% of the votes. It is interesting to note that while the majority of the people are not what may be termed religious, still the day of rest is Saturday. On this day all the stores are closed and there's no public transportation via trains or buses because this is contrary to Jewish religious law. Still on the subject of politics, I would like to mention that the great majority of the population is opposed very bitterly to Communism, and it is very evident that their sympathies and interests lie with the West.

One of the most unusual aspects of the country are the numerous settlements on some of which I worked while I was there. Each one of these has about several hundred members who own all the property of these large farms jointly. Many of these settlements are located in places where no farmers could not and would not go for one of two reasons; either because they are located at the borders or on outlying areas, or because the ground is too rocky and unfertile which necessitated the removal of stones for many years before any planting could be done at all. I remember how surprised I was one evening during a concert when I saw someone walk out of the hall every half hour. It wasn't until a few days afterwards that I found out that ever since a two-and-a-half-hour guard was kept against Arab marauders and infiltrators, and that the watch had to be changed every half hour. We worked in various branches on these settlements, out in the grain fields, vegetable gardens, fruit orchards, in building houses, in digging ditches, and in clearing away stones, so as to make the ground ready for planting. I even worked in a textile mill in one of these settlements, (since all of them have at least one industry in addition to their farm operations) and here I helped to set up looms. While this was somewhat more up my alley, I must say that I preferred working in the fields in the open. Every day we got up at 5.30, had a first breakfast of coffee and bread, worked from 6 to 8 and then had our second and main breakfast from 8 to 8.30. Work continued till noon, and then there was a two-hour break during the hottest part of the day for lunch and rest. After that work went on until about 5 o'clock again. At night there was usually some sort of a concert or play, or discussion, given by visiting performers, who made the rounds of the rural areas.

I was very amazed by the cultural level of these people, but after a while I got used to their discussing subjects of Aristotle, Plato, Van Gogh or Cezanne, and picking plums in the fruit orchards. No money is used in these settlements. The members get all they need such as clothes, cigarettes, candies and toys for their children freely. Each family has its own house, but all meals are taken in a common dining-room, so that each woman does not have to do her own cooking. The children do not live with the parents, but are taken care of on a twenty-four hour basis by professionally trained people. The parents see the children every day after work around supper time and spend all day Saturday together. This system seems to have worked out quite well and has resulted in well adjusted individuals who love their parents as much as our own children here go. I should mention that the majority of the agricultural farming is done by private farmers but I took time to describe this other system because it is more unusual.

The country is unbelievably beautiful. I suppose this is due partially to the many biblical associations that each place has. Virtually everywhere you go you see where such and such happened in the Bible, or where so and so lived. I remember how struck I was with the old walls of Jerusalem, even though there were Arab Legion soldiers patrolling their tops, and they were reputed to get trigger-happy if anyone attempted to take pictures; I remember the view of the city of Bethlehem which you can see from a distance of only two miles since it's in Arab territory; or the Church in Nazareth where you can see the house where Jesus lived and worked as a carpenter, and you can still see the places where he kept his tools, food and his water. I will never forget the breathtaking sight of seeing from one spot, simultaneously, the Dead Sea, the Jordan River, the Sea of Galilee, and Mount Hermon. In passing I would also like to mention that the holy places of Christianity and Mohammedanism are in the respective churches and the Israel government keeps a strict hands-off policy.

In summary I would like to say that Israel is having a very tough time of it right now. Perhaps I over-emphasized this point, but if I did so, it is only because this strikes you so distinctly when you visit Israel. But just as important, and in the long run, even more so, are the tremendous accomplishments of the State of Israel. The country is rapidly becoming the most modern in the near East. There is a Kaiser-Fraser factory, a Ford factory, a Bulova factory, a tire factory, a shoe, textile, cement, plants, oil refineries, etc. Many of these industries are financed by American capital which Israel needs badly. Her job in making useful year Israel allowed people who have virtually lost their will to live as a result of their experiences during the war, is in itself a marvel. Despite the hardship she experiences in receiving each new immigrant, her gates are completely open, and they even take in hundreds of whom they are sick with incurable diseases, knowing full well that they will be a burden to the government for the rest of their lives. Jews are still being saved from those countries where their lives are insecure; for instance, last year Israel allowed all those Jews who wanted to, to leave the country within a certain time limit. Israel organized an air lift to get them out before the deadline. Israel's accomplishments have attracted many gentiles to her shores, hundreds of whom fought with Israel during her war of independence, and hundreds who stayed over or who came afterwards. Not the least of her ac-

Help For The Apple Growers Of Our District

IN the news columns of this issue of The Huntingdon Gleaner will be found a short item on the opening of an apple processing plant at Havelock. Already a large cold storage warehouse is in the course of erection at Franklin and rapidly nearing completion with the hope it will be in time for this year's crop. The letter is separate from the processing plant, being a co-operative enterprise of several growers in the area.

After studying the problems of the growers in the Covey Hill Fruit Belt, this newspaper has put forth suggestions that storage facilities and also those for processing the culled fruit, would be a good investment for the growers. These projects appear now to be going into operation in the area and we feel that the growers are going to reap a benefit from them. In addition to this, if the apples that are processed by the new plant can be labelled as coming from this particular area, it will mean much beneficial advertising for the products of the growers. Depending upon the support obtained from the growers in supplying the fruit for processing, will be the types of processing. At the present, the processing will be for juice only. There are many other possibilities in processing that can be developed if the right amount of support is obtained. Each of which will help the growers in getting the most out of their crops with little or no waste as has obtained in past years. With a processing plant located fairly well in the centre of this large fruit growing area, the growers should find little difficulty in transporting such fruit to this factory and with added returns to themselves.

We feel that all of this adds more importance to this area and will help the growers to a very large extent. Another suggestion is that a form of co-operative marketing should be worked upon similar to that used at other fruit growing points. In this way and through advertising, the product from this district can become better known to the consumer and will be asked for, especially if some brand name can be obtained. Orderly and attractive marketing means much for any product and we feel that the growers in the Covey Hill Fruit Belt have the product once it is more widely known to the public.

The steps already taken are in the right direction and while the Chateaugay Valley is widely known as a Dairy Farming Area, we feel it can also become quite as popular as a fruit growing area, especially for the many varieties of apples.

Two Worthwhile Appeals Going Out To The Public

THIS week a campaign on behalf of the Salvation Army opens in Huntingdon and other points throughout the Beauharnois District. The Salvation Army campaign is an annual affair in Huntingdon and the citizens are well acquainted with the great work that is done by this world-wide organization. Not only does it carry out a religious program, but it also does great work along humanitarian lines. It is principally this that the army is known so well for and thus it deserves the support of all in this campaign for funds.

The money collected in the various districts remains as a credit for that district, to be used as recommendations from the local committees may direct from time to time. In this way the monies contributed by the people in each district remain for use of that district if required. Much help has been extended to various needy persons throughout the Beauharnois District over the years and during war time, members of the armed forces have received gifts, etc., through the Salvation Army.

The Army cannot carry on this benevolent work without our assistance and thus it is that each year we are asked to contribute as much as we can afford to help them in this great work. We ask you, then, to give as much as you can when the canvasser calls on you during the next few weeks.

Another appeal that will follow that of the Salvation Army is new to this district, it is one in connection with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. We perhaps do not pay much attention to the blind and this may be because their plight is not brought to our attention as often as it should. However, in this Huntingdon district we do have several cases of blind persons, who from time to time may need our help. A local committee has been organized and through this committee the needs of blind persons and those who may need assistance as a preventative against blindness, will be helped. For the first time an organized drive for funds to assist this work is to be made in this district. Not only do those who are actually blind need assistance, but it is doubly important to assist those who may be approaching blindness. It is possible by taking certain precautions to prevent blindness and thus save a person's sight. The C.N.I.B. is greatly interested in this end of the work, for it is better to prevent blindness than to have to suffer the loss. While these blind persons learn to live useful lives, they have lost a most precious faculty and are condemned to a life of darkness. The C.N.I.B. also trains blind persons to read and see through their fingers and to make various articles that are for sale. This part was demonstrated through the booth which was at Huntingdon Fair. Many a person remarked on the wonderful articles that were on display there and how beautifully made they were.

As in the case of the Salvation Army the money contributed to this cause remains at the command of the local committee to recommend its use and distribution. If insufficient is raised and more is needed, it can be obtained from the headquarters of the C.N.I.B. The urge of the blind person is for the sighted person to preserve his or her sight. There are many causes of blindness, some are preventable if action is taken in time — they suggest that everyone takes care of their eyes. At the first sign of failing vision, expert advice should be sought before it may be too late.

This campaign will be conducted in October and organization is now underway. We ask you to give every assistance possible in order that a fund may be set up to assist any who may be in need of help.

Name Margaret Barrie Synonymous With Hospitals

TWO Chateaugay Valley hospitals, viz Barrie Memorial Hospital at Ormstown and The Huntingdon County Hospital at Huntingdon each received a bequest of $1,500 from the estate of the late Miss Margaret Barrie, Huntingdon.

The late Miss Margaret Barrie, like her sister the late Miss Annie Barrie and brother the late Mr. James Barrie, left bequests to the Huntingdon County Hospital. It was a distant relative of the late Miss Margaret Barrie who left the legacy that brought the Barrie Memorial Hospital into being. The late Miss Margaret Barrie of Ormstown visualized the desirability of having a local hospital, left the entire residue of her estate for such a purpose. The second Miss Margaret Barrie who left bequests to the two local hospitals had always been keenly interested in hospitals, and for a very good personal reason. Miss Barrie was unfortunate in that for a great many years she was a sufferer and was almost continually under the care of a doctor. Miss Barrie suffered much during her lifetime and undoubtedly she felt that what she might do in the way of aiding the finances of these two hospitals, would to some degree, make it possible for them to accord aid to other people who may be in need of assistance from either of these hospitals.

Miss Margaret Barrie, Huntingdon has passed to the great beyond, but her so remembering these two Chateaugay Valley hospitals means they have been aided to carry on the humanitarian work that was evidently paramount in her life, as was similarly the case of her namesake, the late Miss Margaret Barrie of Ormstown.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken From Gleaner Files

November 9 — Thanksgiving day for the States falls on the 30th and buyers are scouring the country for turkeys. The general price here is 7 cents a pound live weight.

Dundee—A fisherman of Lake St. Francis sends down to Montreal once a week, 2 or 3 barrels of fresh fish. To see a large number of fine fish done on would hardly think they were all caught with a hook and line, but of course the people here are all law abiding.

November 16 — The gang of men who have been at work for two months renewing the telephone line between here and Malone left on Tuesday. There is now a metallic line between here and Malone and conversation between that town and Montreal can be conducted with ease.

December 7 — From the annual report of the past year it appears the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's raised $250 for church purposes. The Aid numbers only 13 members.

Last night the N.Y.C. Station was again entered, this time the thief got only 30 cents.

Howick — David Ness has purchased the farm opposite his father's place consisting of about 50 acres, from Wm. Stewart; reported price $3,000. Mr. Ness has adjacent land which will make altogether a very desirable farm. Mr. Stewart intends to buy a larger farm on Fertile Creek.

January 4 — Alex. Rennie of the upper end of Youngs Bay reports having threshed 61 bushels of barley from 2 sown and 84 bushels of black sea wheat from 4 sown.

January 25 — At a sale of dry cordwood owned by Robert McIntosh there were a number of buyers, and the whole was sold, at prices varying from $2.25 to $3. a cord, average $2.50. Frank Bissett conducted the sale.

February — Large quantities of pressed hay continue to be transferred here by the Grand Trunk to the N.Y.C., which hauls it to New York, where it is rebaled and shipped to Africa. The hay comes from all over the eastern section of the province and is of the best quality. As many as 20 cars have been transferred in one day.

February 15 — Dundee—It is no doubt a great source of regret to the maidens that this is not leap year. To think of the long space of eight years having to pass without their having a right to pony up these dilatory and bashful young men is too bad.

March 1 — W. H. Ferns yesterday shipped from Chateaugay Station 18 head of cattle and 3 horses. He has bought a farm in New Hampshire and goes to swell the colony from this country that has been formed in that state. Another addition to it is Andrew Elder. The inducement to change from Huntingdon to New England is cheap land, a cash market for everything at the door and fine buildings. Excellent places have been bought at from $1,200 to $2,500 containing from 150 to 200 acres.

Howick — The price of oats continues about $2.25 and hay is firm at from $8 to $8.25 pressed and delivered at the station.

March 8 — After reading the unheard of price of 31 cents from creamery, butter has fallen in Montreal and is offered at 28 cents. The high prices of last week attracted butters from the states and the increasing daily supply indicates a further decline. In this village storekeepers are paying 23 cents for dairy and cannot get enough to supply customers. Eggs are 14 cents.

March 15 — The matter of remodeling the present St. Andrew's Church came before a congregational meeting yesterday when the subject was fully considered. The mind of the meeting was that no money be spent in altering or even improving the present church and that a new church be left in abeyance for a few years.

Weekly Review

Cat-Fight on The Lawn

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

A friend sent me some back-numbers of the high-class, charming magazine, Country Life, which I have been browsing and drowsing through in the shade of the baronial trees on the lawn of my estate, with a lazy dog at my feet, the rhododendrons in full bloom, and a lack singing in high over my 100 acres. This sort of reading is a beautiful detail, by the way, are purely imaginary and based partly on the pictures of manorial mansions advertised for sale in the magazine, and chiefly on my memories of Croxteth Park and Sandfield Park in West Derby on the outskirts of Liverpool. As a boy I had a part ownership in those estates and mansions, for I spent many happy hours wandering through their woods and over their meadows, and lying on hillock listening in rapture to the dark scattering of a certain of passionate melody over the countryside—until it was all merged into the realms of sleep and dreams.

It was a dream-ownership, of course, but I have full rights of possession and can enter into them, especially on the summer holidays, when the remittance man whose family had run-out or had been considerably reduced, so that he had difficulty in keeping up his appearance as a gentleman of means. He used to try to sell me tickets for Irish Sweepstakes, and he once sent me confidentially that he had picked out an estate advertised in Country Life which he intended to buy when he got a lucky ticket. I felt sorry for him, but he seemed happy in his dream of future affluence and return to those haunts of an earlier peace.

But I have wandered away from what I intended to write about in the first place. In this magazine Major C. S. Jarvis writes a column entitled, "A Countryman's Notes," in which he tells a vivid story of a cat-fight that seemed to me to be a remarkable instance of natural and human nature in the world in general. "A neighbor of mine," writes the major, "owns a large tom-cat who is very insistent about his manorial rights and has the greatest objection to trespassers on his preserves. The other morning a stray tom-cat visited the garden, and a fight took place on the lawn between the two animals which lasted for many rounds before it was stopped by the owner of the home cat. The contest had evidently been far more savage and protracted than the usual verbal encounters which take place between males of the feline species, since the newly-mown lawn was strewn with tufts of grey and ginger fur, and my neighbor was about to fetch a broom to clear up the unsightly litter when it became obvious that there was a fatigue party ready to perform this task for him.

"With a joyful twitter that obviously said, 'The very thing I have been hunting for everywhere,' a chaffinch swooped down from a nearby tree to carry off a beautiful grey fur for the lining of her nest, with a few strands of ginger for decorative purposes. She was followed by two blue tits, a great tit and a hedge sparrow. Then a goldfinch and a bullfinch arrived to select some of the few wisps that remained, and when they had collected their requirements the lawn was cleared of all the untidy traces of the combat." That is a nice little story, charmingly told, of a sudden outbreak of war in a peaceful old-world garden, with a happy and profitable ending—for the birds. The Major did not point the moral of his story, but it has a wide application to this world of ours. Let us manly hope and pray that the man-fights of ideas and arms will have as useful and peaceful ending as that cat-fight on the lawn.

Hemmingford

HEMMINGFORD — Mrs. Mabel Keddy, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alan Maynard and Mrs. Gordon McCrea, Champlain, N.Y., attended the wedding of their cousin, Miss Nancy Keenan to Mr. Donald Ayres, Burlington, Vt., on Saturday, August 30th.

The members of the W.M.S. met for their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. T. E. Clelland, Robson St. The meeting opened by singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and the scripture lesson taken from the 11th chapter of Luke, was read by Mrs. Charles Smith and prayer was led by the president, Mrs. J. P. Simpson.

A very interesting letter was read from Miss Bessie Cairns, a former Hemmingford girl, regarding missionary work in Shinjokai City, Japan, where she is supposed to spend the winter before coming back to Canada.

A reminder of home is "the Happy Gang" which she hears every Wednesday afternoon.

The President, Mrs. J. P. Simpson mentioned the sectional meeting to be held in Howick and hoped several of the ladies would be able to attend. Instead of the usual food sale it was decided that each member make a cash donation toward the fund. Mention was also made that the W.A. group had donated $25.00 toward the collection for the United Church Training School. Although the day was very warm, a quilt was quilted and a large number of blocks sewn for another.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA, (CP) — Parliament Hill became the forum last week for a wide and free discussion of the issues facing the Commonwealth.

The 41-year-old Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, with delegates from 48 parliaments, met in Canada for the first time since 1928. The topics ranged over immigration, economic and financial relations, international affairs and defence.

The discussions were frank—the speakers included both government supporters and opposition members from the various parliaments, and the meetings were held privately. The association adopts no resolutions for governments back home.

Many of the proposals, made public in daily summaries, seemed pointed toward the forthcoming Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London in November.

Population Factor
A commission to study immigration on a Commonwealth basis was urged by Hector Hughes, Labor member of the United Kingdom parliament. Hon. Jules Koenig of Mauritius said the forthcoming might help to solve immigration problems.

A fundamental approach to the problems of over-populated and under-populated countries was suggested by T. G. D. Galbraith, Conservative member of the U.K. government. He urged family control, rather than mass migration.

If each family in India were to reduce its size by one, the population of that crowded country would decrease by 50,000,000 in one generation, he said. If Canada were to add one member to each family, it could soon double its population.

Trade and economic problems were also laid at the doorstep of the prime ministers' conference. D. Heathcote-Amory, Britain's Minister of Pensions, said he hopes the London meeting will discuss the need for more investment money for the development of Commonwealth production.

Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson opened the conference a few hours before flying overseas for talks with North Atlantic Treaty Organization leaders in London and Paris.

Camp on Lac Quenouville. It was sponsored by Miss Ruth Low, Assistant Supervisor of English for the Dep. of Education. This was the first camp work shop in Quebec and proved most successful and profitable for many educational problems were discussed. Those attending from this district were Mrs. M. E. Lindsay, Miss Dora Upton and Miss Janet Cockerline.

Mrs. M. E. Lindsay spent three weeks' vacation sight-seeing in Canada, stopping in Port Arthur and from there taking the North Shore bus drive around Lake Superior to Duluth where she was the guest of her sister, Miss Agnes Campbell.

Beauharnois

BEAUHARNOIS — Mrs. N. S. Spencer, Mrs. A. Kokko, Mrs. Gordon Cuttle and Miss Peggy Spencer visited Plattsburg during the week.

Howard Smith office staff ball team took a terrific trouncing from the "Gumbo Boys" on Monday evening. A cup of questionable origin was presented to them on behalf of the winners.

He urged constructive policies to resist the threat of the reactionary right or the communist left. Whatever its label, the threat was the same. "Under whatever name it masquerades, it is as old and repulsive as tyranny itself."

Canadian Ace
A Canadian pilot in Korea is rapidly shaping up as an ace. Ft. Lt. Ernest Glover of Leaside, Ont., is one of a half-dozen R.C.A.F. pilots serving with the U.S. Air Force to gain experience.

In two days he destroyed two Red MIGs, the first one without shooting when he outmanoeuvred the Red pilot and forced him to crash. In addition he has damaged three other Communist planes in little more than two months. The bag total of the six Canadians is five destroyed, two probably destroyed and damaged.

Fighter planes have been Ft. Lt. Glover's stock-in-trade. In the Second World War he flew Hurricanes for the R.A.F. until shot down by German anti-aircraft fire in 1943 and taken prisoner. Now the 29-year-old flier is aboard Sabre jets.

Babies, More Babies
Canada's diaper wearers have edged out the grown-ups.

Adding up the country's population last year, census-takers found that babies and toddlers, aged four years and under, are the biggest age group in the country. In 1941 the leader was the 15 to 19-year-old group, but since then the tots added almost 600,000 to their ranks to take the lead.

Census-takers attributed the baby boom to the big crop of war and post-war marriages. In 1951 there were 1,722,000 in the youngest age bracket.

In the 10 years before 1951, Canada's population climbed to 14,000,000 from 11,500,000 and of that increase, 1,000,000 were under 15.

Of the total population, 4,200,000 were 14 years old and under—a mighty crowd of school and preschool youngsters. Another 4,300,000 were between the age of 15 and 34, while the remainder, about 5,500,000, were 35 and over.

The census also showed that in the marriageable age groups, between 20 and 34, there were more women than men in 1951—a reversal of the 1941 situation.

Atlantic Hop
The R.C.A.F. is planning the largest trans-Atlantic jet flight in air history.

Late this month Canada's second fighter wing earmarked for European defence will fly to its new base at Gros Tenquin, France. Sixty F-86 Sabre jets will take part in "Operation Leapfrog."

Plans are for them to make the move in six hops—with just over seven hours' actual flying time. But the movement is expected to take some two weeks to complete.

No Border for C.D.
A United States civil defence expert told an Ottawa conference that planning for civil defence must go ahead "as though no boundary line existed."

Alden E. Bevier, director of civil defence welfare services for New York State, spoke at a national Civil Defence welfare conference. He said joint planning between the two countries was not "just another international gesture."

"When we say that we need you and that we think you will need us, we are in dead earnest. The test exercise in Niagara Falls, N.Y., last month made our mutual dependence very clear."

"Thousands of people theoretically would have suffered and died had it not been possible for New Yorkers to cross into Ontario and for Canadian aid to come across into New York."

100% Canvassing Record

Canvassing for the support of the Salvation Army is now the order of the day. Mr. Anthony Small hung up a bit of a record as to promptness and thoroughness for a job well done. He was given his instruction on Monday evening and on Tuesday morning started out on his every home canvass on Prince St., between Bouchette and Lake Streets, and by 5 p.m. of the same day he had received a cash donation from every home and the aggregate of the canvass resulted in $110.10 being received. Well done Mr. Small. The people of Prince Street are standing firm behind the Salvation Army, and let's hope many other streets and roads throughout this area will emulate this example.

that time, many of the old friends have gone. They plan on spending a few weeks, before returning home to Calgary.

Shower for Bride-to-be

A bridal shower in honor of Miss Greta Thompson, was given by Mrs. A. W. McNaughton and her daughters, Dorothy and Shirley, on Tuesday, September 9th. Forty-five ladies were present as well as a number of gentlemen. Decorations in the living room and the dining room were carried out in pastel shades of pink, blue and white. Over a chair to be occupied by the guest of honor, was a novel decoration consisting of an ordinary umbrella trimmed carefully and daintily with pink, blue and white crepe paper, with paper rain falling from it to the chair. A balloon filled with confetti was also attached from the umbrella. This was released over the bride's head as she commenced to undo the parcels. Lovely fall flowers decorated the two rooms. The bride-to-be, who knew nothing of the arrangements, was greatly surprised when she entered the room and the lights were turned on to reveal all the waiting guests. The bridal chorus was played by Mrs. E. B. Glynn and when the lights were turned on she played "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." The gifts were placed in a gaily decorated basket and were brought in by Dorothy and Shirley and placed in front of the bride. After the gifts had been admired, the bride thanked her for their kindness and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Good wishes to the bride-to-be brought the evening to a successful conclusion.

WEDDING AT HOWICK

CAMPBELL-MacRAE

The marriage of Marion Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. MacRae of Howick, Que., to Donald Townsend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell of Almonte, Ont., was solemnized at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 6th, in Howick United Church.

Multi-colored gladioli, hydrangea and fern composed a fitting background for the ceremony conducted by the Rev. C. Leslie Taylor of Ormstown, Que. Mrs. Florence Matrice provided the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. A. Ziebarth as matron of honour and by Miss Bernice Kerr as bridesmaid. Mr. John Gourlay acted as best man while the ushers were Mr. Robert Campbell and Mr. Oakley MacRae.

Under a boero of white chantilly lace with sleeves tapering to points over the hands, the bride was wearing a strapless gown styled with close fitting bodice of matching white fabric, and skirt of very full skirt of net veiled over taffeta. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a dainty bandeau of orange blossoms and she wore a string of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

The attendants were dressed alike in sleeveless floor length gowns of marquisette over taffeta, styled with fitted bodices and very full skirts. They wore matching nylon marquisette hats. The matron of honour in rose, carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations, while the bridesmaid in sky blue, carried a similar bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. MacRae, mother of the bride, was wearing a gown of navy brocade taffeta with matching accessories, while red carnations composed her shoulder spray. The groom's mother in cocoa brown crepe with green accessories wore a corsage of yellow roses. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where asters and gladioli formed the decorations.

Later the couple left on their wedding trip to the Laurentians before taking up residence in Deep River, Ont.

For travelling the bride chose a grey flannel shawl with gold hat and gold and grey accessories, and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Included in the wedding party were guests from Plattsburg, Asbestos, Almonte, Ottawa, Pembroke, Renfrew and Montreal.

Huntingdon TOWN AND NEWS

Complying with a belated request, Huntingdon Citizens' Band played a number of marches at Huntingdon Fair Grounds, Sunday afternoon, in conjunction with the horse-racing events. Owing to the fact that the bandmen were unaware of the engagement until the previous afternoon, the band was at less than half-strength; however, the selections rendered were well received by nearly 800 spectators. In the absence of the bass drummer, Mr. Robert Moore, former bandmaster of the Canadian Grenadier Guards, capably filled in for the performance. A versatile musician, this gentleman is present visiting his grandson, Bandmaster D. Moore, while in Huntingdon. Mr. Moore Sr. has helped the band considerably, both by his sound advice and by conducting several numbers, thereby allowing Bandmaster D. Moore to study the tonal qualities of each section from a distance. Mr. Robert Moore expects to return to his home in Toronto within the next few days.

Valleyfield Canning Co. Is An Important Industry

At Present the Pack is Tomatoes And Tons Are Being Processed Daily

Mr. David McMeekin, Sr., of Valleyfield certainly had a good idea when years ago he founded an important canning industry, the Valleyfield Canning Co., on St. Lawrence St., Valleyfield, Que. Recently a representative of this newspaper paid a visit to the Valleyfield Canning Co. We were not only surprised, but amazed, to see the great activity of this plant. First, there are a great number of employees. Further, the large quantity of tomatoes required is almost unbelievable.

Valleyfield Canning Co. has been in operation in Valleyfield for about 40 years now. The McMeekin family has considerable knowledge of the operation of an industry like this, specializing in the canning of tomatoes, tomato juice and during the winter months, the famous pork and beans, "Pac-Rite."

September is synonymous with tomatoes. Activities of all kinds at the Valleyfield Canning Co. are carried out in a good stone building. It is the belief of some that this is the 3rd oldest building in Valleyfield, after Montreal Canning Ltd., and McDonald and Robb Ltd. Mr. David McMeekin started canning tomatoes about the year 1913.

At the beginning, this industry was working under the name of Huntingdon Canning and Mr. McMeekin, Sr. was in charge in Valleyfield for this company. About the year 1919 Mr. McMeekin became owner of the business and changed the name to Valleyfield Canning Co. It is needless to say that there were difficult times for Mr. McMeekin during his greater courage and good health enabled him to overcome them with encouraging and interesting results in 1952. Today Valleyfield Canning Co. is managed by Mr. David McMeekin, a son. Like his father, David McMeekin, Jr. is only happy and satisfied when the factory is working well. An example of this was given this week. There were 150 men and women (especially women and girls) employed in carefully cleaning the tomatoes received the same day from the farmers of the region. But Mr. McMeekin said at the beginning of the season they probably only employed 25 persons.

Before the canning season, Valleyfield Canning Co. makes elaborate preparations. Mr. McMeekin goes to the southern United States during the winter months, every year, there he buys tomato plants from the negro growers. It is not a small quantity, but tons at a time. The plants from Virginia are transported by plane to Malone and from there by trucks to Valleyfield. After that they are distributed to the farmers or transplanted on the large farm owned by the Valleyfield Canning Co. near Laiterie Belle Vallée, where Mr. Langevin & Bros. are managers. On this farm about 110 acres of tomato plants are planted which bring forth about 500 tons of tomatoes.

Valleyfield Canning Co., is at present buying all the tomatoes delivered and the purchase price is between $35 and $45 a ton.

When the tomatoes arrive at the plant, they are washed under pressure and peeled by steam and by hand, by the employees. The tomatoes are then placed in pails and transported in a tank and washed again before canning. The tomatoes in metal containers are boiled at a great heat. The labeling and packing follow.

Mr. McMeekin was asked where he sold this great quantity of tomatoes and tomato juice. He answered, they had representatives in all towns in Canada and a few parts of the United States. In Valleyfield, we have a representative who looks after the sale in Beauharnois - Chateauguay - Huntingdon counties.

Valleyfield Canning Co. hopes to complete a processing of 80,000 cartons of tomatoes. Each carton contains 24 cans. They will also make 50,000 cartons of tomato juice.

As far as "Pac-Rite" Pork and beans are concerned, they make these during the winter months according to the demand. Valleyfield Canning Co. sells its products under the brand name of "Pac-Rite", "Glenview", St. Lawrence, "Valleyfield."

When people see these Brand names at their favorite store they are sure to find quality, quantity and satisfaction. Each carton contains 24 cans. They will also make 50,000 cartons of tomato juice.

Athelstan

Athelstan Y.P.S. A regular meeting of the Athelstan Y.P.S. was held on Friday evening, September 12, at the home of Bernice Bernhardt with an attendance of seven members.

The devotional period opened with the singing of hymn 77, followed by scripture reading by Peter Tully. Mr. Mawhinney led in prayer. Bernice Bernhardt led the discussion period on the topic "What is Success?"

Plans were discussed for the next meeting, which is to be a special "Open-House" membership meeting, to be held in the Church Parlour on Friday evening, September 26. Refreshments were served. The evening closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

in the Sunday School rooms the first Sunday of every month. The children, although a few are in a younger age group than the usual Mission Band members, seem to enjoy the meetings. So far, the sum of $20 has been forwarded to the Presbyterial Treasurer in Montreal and this is considering the number of members there are in the Band. Several of the ladies voiced their appreciation of Mrs. Fraser's efforts in keeping the Mission Band alive and of her patience in working with the young children.

Mrs. W. D. Fraser gave the lesson from the new Study Book, "Along African Trails," written by Rev. David H. Gallagher, who is Secretary of the Board of Overseas Missions of the United Church of Canada. This great land, once known as the "dark continent," is coming into greater prominence in world affairs, including trade and international relations, and is now more commonly known as the "land of tomorrow." Rev. Mr. Gallagher was sent by the Board of Overseas Missions on a tour of Africa. He was expected to visit the United Church Missionaries in Angola, to see them at work, and to learn of the future needs of the mission. He was also expected to survey other areas in Africa with a view to recommending missionary endeavour in which the United Church might have a share when funds were available.

Angola, the province we are to be most concerned with is a Portuguese possession in West Africa, bordering on the Atlantic Ocean. Its coastline is over 1,000 miles long and its population is about 4,500,000.

The Ovimbundu, among whom our mission serves, constitute 1/3 of the population of Angola. They are a friendly folk, always ready to welcome the visitor, often with song and eager to express their gratitude by presenting gifts of oranges, vegetables, live goats and chickens. One kindly soul presented Rev. Mr. Gallagher with a hamper of no less than 250 eggs. Needless to say, he couldn't use them all personally, but he says they were of real service among the patients in the hospital. The tour of the Angola mission revealed the benefits derived from the programme of agricultural, education and medical services and the ever growing influence of the African Church.

Mrs. Jones served a most delicious supper to 14 members, after which a social hour was enjoyed. A visit to Mrs. Jones' flower garden was a delight to all, and so ended a very pleasant afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fleming spent the past week-end with Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Hagar at their summer home, Tremont Park, Gananoque, Ont. Since returning home, Mr. Fleming has become ill and is confined to bed and under the doctor's care. It is hoped that he will soon be able to resume his usual duties once more.

Mr. Robert Parndon and daughter Diane motorcycled from their home in Montreal on Saturday and were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Marchand. Mr. and Mrs. Mac Leslie and family were Sunday guests at the Marchand home.

Mr. J. B. Myre has been confined to bed for several days and under the care of Dr. F. G. Ronan of Fort Covington, N.Y. His condition has been quite painful, but at time of writing he was hopeful that what improved. His friends hope for a speedy and complete recovery.

A letter was read by Mrs. Ella McNeil from Mrs. Malcolm concerning donations from associate helpers. It was decided to order some associate members thank-you letters to these people, who, although not enrolled members are nevertheless interested in the welfare and maintenance of the Mission Society.

The roll call was answered with a Bible verse containing the word "idol." Mrs. Colquhoun gave the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. V. Elder, a Holy Bible with a concordance to the Scriptures to be used by the members whenever they so desire. As the roll call is always answered by a Bible verse containing a special word, the concordance is almost essential to a Missionary member and Bibles bought today seldom, if ever, contain one.

Mrs. Lester Fraser, leader of the Mission Band, reported for this group. They hold their meetings

ENLIVEN FALL MEALS WITH VEGETABLES

The word "vegetable" comes from a Latin word "vegetabilis" meaning "to enliven." It's a fitting name for there are a host of colourful fall vegetables that can be used to enliven autumn meals.

These new to kohlrabi are always curious about it. It's like an above-the-ground turnip with leaves sprouting out like the quills of a porcupine and it is prepared and served in much the same manner as turnip. Wash, peel, cut in half inch cubes and cook in boiling salted water for 20-25 minutes. Drain and season with salt, pepper and a little grated cheese.

Salsify is sometimes known as the "oyster plant" because the flavour of the cooked root somewhat resembles that of an oyster. It is a long tapered root not unlike a carrot in shape but more like a parsnip in colour.

The Home Economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture say that artichokes are another of our more unusual dishes. The type grown here are called Jerusalem artichokes and they are round, white and knobby, really very much like a potato, but sweetening in flavour and more watery.

Another star in the galaxy of fall vegetables is egg plant. Satiny, sleek and sophisticated with its smooth purple-black curves, you almost expect to see it wearing a top hat and tails.

Obituary

THE LATE MRS. JOHN McCLATCHIE The relatives and friends of the late Mrs. John McClatchie were shocked and saddened when they heard of her sudden death at her home in Elgin, on Wednesday, Aug. 27th, 1952.

The deceased was born July 27, 1885, and was the elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wood. On Oct. 19th, 1903, she was united in marriage to the late Mr. John McClatchie of Powerscourt, who predeceased her Aug. 22, 1935.

Since that time she has shown courage in carrying on to the best of her ability. She was assisted by Mr. Reginald Macrow, who has spent the greater part of his life with her. Mrs. McClatchie had a very quiet and kind disposition and was a true friend and neighbor. She was a home loving person and took great pleasure in growing flowers and house plants of all kinds which did her great credit. She spent the greater part of her life in Powerscourt, where she worked faithfully for many years for the Ladies' Aid, of which she was a member. Since moving to Elgin six years ago she joined the Women's Association there and performed her duties as far as her failing health would permit. She bore her sickness with patience and courage, always hopeful of better health.

The funeral service was held in Powerscourt Church on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 30th, at 2 p.m. Rev. W. W. Conrad officiating. The hymns sung by the Salter choir were "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me" by Mr. Eric Salter.

Interment was in Powerscourt cemetery where she was laid to rest beside her husband. The pallbearers were Messrs. Fred Wood, M. Atchinson, Walter Levers, D. L. Brown, Art. Goodfellow and Euclide Daoust.

Flowerbearers were Billy Brown and G. Daoust.

She leaves to mourn her loss, Mr. Reginald Macrow, also Miss Loretta Prevost, who lived with Mrs. J. McClatchie during her childhood days and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Delphin and family from Roslyn Heights, New York City, visited over Labor Day at the home of Mrs. Ward Donnelly.

HOWICK CALF CLUB SHOW

We have been informed by Miss Muriel Cairncross, Secretary of that Club, that the annual Howick Ayrshire Calf Club Field-day and Show will be held at the farm of Mr. Chester Orr, Riverfield, Que., on Saturday, September 20, commencing at 11 a.m.

There will be the usual Judging Competitions, preceding the judging of the heifer calves and older heifers owned by Club members, and, of course, the showmanship competitions. We are not aware of who the other judges will be, but we understand that the calf and heifer classes will be judged by McNaughton Cumming, Glangary Farms, Lancaster, Ont.

It is only a few short years ago since McNaughton Cumming was himself a member of a Calf Club. His Club being the Glangary Ayrshire Calf Club. However, as one of the junior members of the Cumming Bros. firm, he has had a lifetime experience in feeding, fitting and showing Ayrshires.

Will be Good Show The Chester Orr farm makes an ideal place for the Howick Ayrshire Calf Club Show and that that Mr. Orr has made his grounds available year after year, judging by the appearance made by quite a few of the Club's members at this year's Ormstown Exhibition, it could well be assumed that this year's event will be no exception.

Remember the date, September 20, commencing at 11 a.m.

HOLSTEINS FOR CHILE

The first shipment of Canadian cattle to leave for South America since the foot and mouth outbreak last February took to the air at Malton Airport, Malton, Ont., Sept. 8th. It consisted of eleven richly bred Holstein bulls including the Junior Champion at the recent C.N.E. Their destination being Chile, South America.

The flight marked the first time that a Chilean plane either commercial or military had ever visited Canada. In fact it is the first South American commercial plane to pick up a cargo at Malton for several years.

The eleven bulls included one from the U.S.A. and were purchased for the Institute of Inter-American Relations by Ismael Jordan of Santiago, Chile. Assisting in making the selections was Dr. Gullermo Gomez, Head of the Animal Husbandry Department of the Chilean Ministry of Agriculture.

Five head were from Rosaf Farms, Brampton, Ont., two each from J. J. E. McCague, Alliston, Ont., and Hays Ltd., Oakville, Ont., and one each from G. Leslie Peer & Son, Milton, Ont., and Butterfly Farms, Mexico, N.Y.

The Hays consignment included Pomona Sovereign Papoose, the first prize Junior Yearling and Junior Champion at the C.N.E. He was bred by Bert Thornton & Son, Thamesford, Ont., and is out of the highest record daughter of Montvic Commander with 801 lbs. fat on twice-a-day milking.

From J. J. E. McCague's Glenafon herd, came two sons of the junior herd sire, Glenafon Hallmark. Both were out of daughters of the six times All-Canadian "Marksmen" and since he is also the sire of "Hallmark" they were double grandsons of Marksmen.

Rosaf Farms, Brampton, Ont., supplied five head, these including A.B.C. Reflection Sovereign, All-Canadian Aged Bull for 1951 and three sons of the XXX Inka Supreme Reflection.

From G. Leslie Peer & Son, came a son of the three times All-Canadian Spring Farm Pond Hope out of a dam classified as "Very Good" in Selective Registration and with a yearly record as a four-year-old on 3x of 24,639 lbs. milk containing 902 lbs. fat. The Butterfly Farms bull was sired by Pebble Beach Viking Chloe and is out of a dam with a seven year old 365 day 3x record of 21,626 lbs. milk containing 950 lbs. fat, average test 4.4 percent butterfat.

The round trip from Santiago to Malton and return is approximately 15,000 miles and the plane delivered a load of horses at New Orleans on the way up.

OUTSTANDING QUEBEC HOLSTEIN SIRE Very few Holstein cows ever produce 150,000 lbs. of milk in their lifetime and it is therefore news to learn that a Quebec bull has sired no less than four daughters, each with 150,000 lbs. milk in their lifetime. No other bull in Canada has duplicated this feat, says a report issued by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

These cows all made their records in the herd of William Bousquet, La Presentation, Que. The name of their sire is Bijou De Tensen whose worth as a Superior Sire was recognized by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada when he was awarded a class Extra rating in Selective Registration, thus making him one of the select few bulls of the breed to receive this honour.

Of the four sisters, the largest lifetime record is that of Finette Reina Tensen who produced 167,534 lbs. milk containing 6,157 lbs. fat, average test 3.68 percent butterfat in eight lactations.

The other three are: Elegant Bijou Tensen with an eight lactation lifetime record of 159,735 lbs. milk containing 6,086 lbs. fat, average test 3.81 percent butterfat; Lisotte De La Presentation with a nine lactation lifetime total of 5,457 lbs. fat from 152,353 lbs. milk in their latest lactations. Gloutonne has twice passed the 20,000 lb. mark. Lisotte's 30,000 lb. record is a new herd high which was recently established on Hawthorn Farms, Marshall, Virginia. Their purchases included the 2 year old heifer Augusta Beatrice at $2,300.00 and her baby heifer calf at $1,600.00.

SHORTHORN SALE Canadian Shorthorn cattle breeders are naturally gratified, as also encouraged, over the results obtained at the recent Grant Campbell, Campbell Farms, Moffat, Ont. sale. This being the third annual sale of imported Shorthorns staged by Mr. Campbell.

Most encouraging was the bidding of a considerable number of people from the United States which resulted in that United States buyers took slightly over half of the 43 lots offered. The understanding in that respect being that all such animals would be kept and cared for at the Campbell Farms until the United States embargo is lifted. However, these men became the actual owners as soon as their purchases were

ROCKBURN - Wednesday evening last, over 75 guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr in honor of their daughter Iris, whose marriage to Mr. Lawrence Cowan of Chateaugay, N.Y., is to take place on Sept. 27th. Iris was absent from home and on arriving later was greatly surprised to find this gathering awaiting her. She was escorted to a chair fittingly decorated for her, while Mrs. Trainer at the piano led in the singing of a song, voicing the good wishes of the company. Little Norman and Marion Dawson, nephew and niece, helped usher in the little wagon piled high with parcels which were opened by Iris, assisted by Mrs. Barr and Margaret and proved to be an assortment of useful and beautiful gifts, for which the bride-to-be thanked all very graciously. After a very pleasant social hour lunch was served by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Everett Lindsay, Mrs. Preston Baxter and Miss Lily Barr, whose contribution was a large and beautifully decorated cake.

Mrs. H. Lawson was with her mother, Mrs. Pollock, over the week-end.

Miss Alana Reid and Miss P. Lattimore of Hudson, Que., were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Reid, on Friday and Saturday.

The Misses Johnson of Lebanon, N.H., visited with their cousin, Miss Florence Johnston, on Thursday.

A very happy evening was spent on Thursday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis with Mrs. Wm. Beaudin as guest of honor. A rare treat to most of this district was to enjoy the Television recently installed in the home and the visitors certainly did, as well as the delicious refreshments. Mrs. W. Welburn acted as hostess.

Mrs. M. Sloan and Mrs. Sloan-Stoltz spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Sloan.

Kilbain KILBAIN - Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilson, of Montreal, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ferris.

Mr. Cecil O'Connor, of Montreal, "knocked-down" to them, and they assumed all risks in connection with same.

Average $1,834.32 The 43 head offered in the Campbell sale sold for a total of $78,875.00 or a general average of $1,834.32. The top priced animal of the sale was the yearling heifer Bantaskin Symmetry 8th for which Col. T. Beardmore, Mono Mills, Ont., paid $4,600.00. The top price for a bull was $4,000.00 which was paid by W. H. Merry, Oakville, Ont., for Kirkton Grand Alliance.

Twenty-three animals sold to United States buyers brought a total of $38,450.00. In that respect eleven sales were represented— as far west as Missouri and Nebraska and south as Alabama and Florida. In the latter instance 6 head were purchased for a total of $9,975.00. N. Holmes, owner and James Napier, manager, purchased 4 head, for a total of $7,950.00, for a new herd which was recently established on Hawthorn Farms, Marshall, Virginia. Their purchases included the 2 year old heifer Augusta Beatrice at $2,300.00 and her baby heifer calf at $1,600.00.

Valleyfield VALLEYFIELD—The Valleyfield Ladies Lawn Bowling Club held a friendly competition on Sept. 3rd. Due to rain in the morning they were not able to play, but the weatherman was kind, so they were able to play two games in the afternoon, after which all enjoyed a cup of tea. Lunch was served at the noon hour so a very pleasant day was spent by all the ladies.

The Valleyfield Lawn Bowling Club held a Tournament on Saturday, Sept. 13th, when clubs from St. Lambert, LeCharne, Verdun and Caledonia competed.

There were 72 players in all and they had two games in the afternoon and one in the evening.

Tables were set up in the club house and each one brought a box lunch, the tea and coffee being provided by the Club.

The winners: 1st prize, Mr. McAlpine, Verdun; 2nd prize, Mr. Williams, Verdun; 3rd prize, Mr. D. Boyd, Valleyfield. A most enjoyable day was spent by all.

Plan Canada-U.S. Civil Defence As Though No Boundary Exists

A New York state civil defence official said recently that Canada and the United States must study their joint problem of civil defence organization "as though no boundary line existed."

Alden E. Bevier, director of civil defence welfare services for New York State, told the opening session of a national CD welfare conference that joint planning between the two countries was not "just another international gesture."

"When we say that we need you and that we think you will need us, we are in dead earnest. The test exercise in Niagara Falls, N.Y., last month made our mutual dependence very clear."

"Thousands of people would have suffered and died had it not been possible for New Yorkers to cross into Ontario and for Canadians aid to come across into New York."

Mr. Bevier said all CD planning is directed toward the possibility that atom bombs will be dropped on the principal cities, and all at once.

"We are told that the enemy has the planes and the bombs with which he can bomb our cities. That is what we must be able to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor.

Mr. Joe O'Neill has left for Vermont to pick apples.

Messrs. James Higgins, Michael Foran and Ed Bannion attended the horse racing contest in Huntingdon on Sunday.

Mr. Bill Bannion, Mrs. Ed. Bannion, Mrs. James Higgins, Sharon and Bobby motored to Nitro, Que., and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Curran and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Legault spent the week-end at the home of Mr. Michael Foran.

deal with. When we can solve the problems of atomic attack, we can meet any kind of attack."

An atom bomb of the Hiroshima type could badly damage an area with a two-mile radius. For the point of view of welfare "that means that the area is uninhabitable."

"The people who slept there last night can't sleep there tonight. They can't eat today where they ate yesterday... 50 to 100,000 people made homeless in a few minutes."

"That is our job."

Mr. Bevier stressed the need for more concentration on organization in non-target areas which must rush aid to stricken urban areas. Such outside aid was not only important, it might have to take over virtually the entire CD work in the stricken city. In New York State mobile welfare teams would be increased threefold.

Health Minister Martin, who administers Federal CD planning, opened the conference of more than 50 delegates from Federal, provincial and municipal governments.

He said defence has become an "inescapable duty" for every Canadian. He reviewed Canada's steps to date — provision for a warning system, fire fighting, training instructors, stockpiling medicines and the like — and said welfare was an important part of the total plan. It might appear that welfare planning had lagged but actually it has been going ahead quietly but steadily.

Glenelm GLENELM—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rutherford and family from Allan's Corners, visited at the home of her brother, Mr. W. Seward, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Vaughn and family of Westville, visited at the home of Mrs. A. Watson, on Sunday.

Friends and neighbors are glad to note that Mrs. A. Watson is getting along nicely. Her many friends are looking forward to the time when she can be with them all again.

This community was saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. P. Elder. Sympathy goes out to the bereaved family and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Tannahill, Mr. and Mrs. George Rutherford and daughter Vera were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art. Goodfellow, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stark, Calgary, Alberta, are spending a holiday with relatives and friends who welcome them back East again and hope they have an enjoyable vacation.

Misses Louise and Marjory MacIntosh of Whitby, Ont., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry.

night, when Hemmingford came to town for the first game of the best of five final series for the Ormstown District Softball Championship.

Those attending saw by far, the best game of the season to date, when the Merchants squeezed out a 2-1 win over the boys from the front and it took two extra innings to do it.

Merchants scored their first run in the bottom of the first frame, McCallum singled, Senecal sacrificed Walt along to second and Jon Proudfoot singled the "Squirt" home.

Hemmingford wasn't long in tying it up. In the top of the second, Ed. Keddy reached first on an error. Fortin singled, Guenaud was safe on another Merchant's bobble but Fortin was out at second. Bud French was safe on a fielder's choice, "Irish" Jack Brennan walked, Lussier fanned and Fortin was forced out at home on Fawcett's hit. That ended Hemmingford's scoring but they came close in the top of the ninth, when Guenaud led off with a two-bagger, French got in, on an error, Brennan was out at first and, with two men on, Fawcett popped out to Proudfoot.

In the last of the ninth, Bill Bernhardt was out. L. Keddy to E. Keddy, and Pringle popped to Fawcett. Things looked pretty dark for the Merchants with two out and none on, but Paul Deropentigny came up with his second single followed by Gerry Brisebois, who also singled, then that little man with the big bat, Walt McCallum, produced his second hit of the game driving in Paul Deropentigny with the winning run.

If Jon Proudfoot lives to be a hundred, we'll bet that he won't forget that catch he made of Fawcett's pop foul into the stands in the ninth with two on and two out. Talk about your grandstand catches, that one was the real McCoy, for Jonnie went half way up the seats for it, at the expense of several square inches of epidermis off his shins.

Tommy Kirnan pitched the game of his life, allowing only four hits to the visitors, that's good hurling in any league.

John Brooks got into the act too with a sharply hit pinch single in the seventh. Morrie Pringle ran for him and was out at second when Gerry Brisebois hit into a double play.

Fortin, Guenaud and French supplied all of Hemmingford's safe hits, Guenaud getting the only extra-bare blow off Kirnan, a double in the ninth.

French pitched a creditable game and wasn't "clobbered" to hard, (is that better Bud?)

We were pleased to renew an old friendship in the person of Jack Brennan, the warbling ball-hawk. Jack informs us that he is now the proud pappy of five little Brennan's. We knew Jack back in '40 when he was a carefree young gaffer from Griff. Time flies.

Talking of proud fathers, League President, George Renaud, is mighty happy about the newcomer to his house too.

After the game, the consensus of opinion (is M. Janek listening?) was that both clubs agreed it was the best game of the year, the umpiring was good and, for once, there were no kicks. Huntingdon errors could have proven disastrous but, somehow, they kept the scoring down.

Hemmingford: Fawcett, Hawkins, L. Keddy, E. Keddy, Fortin, Guenaud, French, Brennan, Lussier and Menard.

Huntingdon: McCallum, Senecal, Proudfoot, Moniqui, Kirnan, Bernhardt, L. Deropentigny, Brooks, Pringle, Paul Deropentigny, Brisebois.

Umpires: Soucy, Watson and Gavin.

Evened Up Hemmingford was the scene of the second game of Ormstown District Finals, Friday night with the home team coming out on top 6-5 to knot up the series at one game each.

The visiting Huntingdon Merchants outlast the homesters 10 to 5, but were overgenerous with walks and errors, one might say they lost it in the first inning, when Hemmingford pieced together 2 hits, 3 walks and a Merchant's error for four tallies on the board.

Merchants chalked up a pair of runs in the top of the first, with one out. Smith and Proudfoot singled and both scored when Rene Senecal rifled a two-base blast.

In their half, for Hemmingford with one out, Hawkins walked and L. Keddy tripled him. E. Keddy drew a pass, Menard was safe on an outfield error scoring L. Keddy. Fortin singled in E. Keddy and Menard. Guenaud stroled, Lussier hit into a fielder's choice and Fortin was out on the play. Brennan fled out to Moniqui ending the inning.

The end of the fourth produced a brace of markers for Hemmingford, with one away. Brennan tripled and crossed the plate when a Merchant miscued on Fawcett's rap. Hawkins doubled and Fawcett was out at home, Senecal to P. Deropentigny, L. Keddy was safe on another error.

In the bottom of the fifth, Merchants marked up two more, Gerry Brisebois doubled, McCallum sacrificed him to third, Smith singled scoring Brisebois, Proudfoot clouted a three-baser scoring Smith and was out at the plate Keddy to Fawcett.

Louis Deropentigny blasted a homer in the sixth with nobody on board, to end the scoring. Merrill Smith allowed only 5 hits, but was quite generous with his free tickets, passing 6, and the three Merchants errors didn't help his cause at all. Merrill had three singles for four trips and scored twice.

On the other hand, Menard gave up 10 hits but kept them fairly well scattered, he fanned 5 and walked 2.

So now it amounts to a new series. R H E Hemmingford 200 021 0 5 10 3 Huntingdon 400 200 6 5 0 0

Treatise On Spikes Spikes and spikes designed with the idea in mind of giving the ball player better footing on the ground and not for climbing on the various parts of an opponent's anatomy.

We do not know of any player in the Ormstown District League who is out there playing for any monetary reward, they are there purely for the love of the game, and many have been known to lose time at work so they could participate. We would hate to see any one of these fellows maimed by the improper use of the spikes.

Most of the players in our compact five-team league have families to support and would be tough on one of them to have to lose a couple of weeks salary because of someone's misguided idea as to what these articles were designed for.

Ty Cobb may have gotten away with it, but, it didn't improve his popularity, even with his own team mates.

Another Washout Hemmingford was supposed to pay another call on Huntingdon Monday night but the contest had to be postponed because of rain.

Tentatively, the next two games of the finals are set as follows, Hemmingford at Huntingdon last night (Tuesday) and Huntingdon at Hemmingford tomorrow evening (Thursday).

The fifth and deciding game, if necessary, will be played in Huntingdon on a date yet to be decided.

Athletan League Wind-Up After a successful season the Athletan Athletic Association League held their championship tournament in Athletan last Saturday with the third place Elgin "Wildcats" copping the silverware.

The Athletan squad, after coming out on top of the league in regular season play by one point, were eliminated by the Wildcats 6-3, and fourth place Powerscourt ended second place Clyde's Corners hopes.

In the final, Wildcats trounced Powerscourt 20-4. The Elgin squad were deprived of the services of their regular pitcher and had to import a "ringer", Monk Moniqui, to do the tossing and Monk put them in the blue chips. Dawson did the catching and, for Powerscourt, Prevost and Lefebvre were batting mates.

The Gore

THE GORE - Mr. and Mrs. Jenson Ellis returned to their home in Toronto, after spending holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Anderson.

Mrs. Ruth B. McNair, R.N., spent a few days the past week at the Gilligan home.

Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Gilligan and Viola were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Cronin from Rouse's Point, N.Y., Mrs. Elva Smith from Malone, N.Y., was a Thursday guest at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Graham and Mrs. W. F. Frideric were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ritchie, Dewittville, and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Gale of Potsdam, N.Y., who spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie.

Following is a passage taken from the September issue of the United Church Observer, as tribute to our late pastor, Rev. Ernest Davis:

Ernest Davis died at Bridgetown, N.S., April 12th, 1952. The Church in Eastern Canada lost one of its very best men, thoughtful, learned, eloquent and good.

He was born at Harbour Grace, Newfoundland, on January 29th, 1887, son of Orestes and Mildred Davis of that town. Received into the Church in Eastern Canada at the pastorate of the late Rev. J. W. Bartlett, D.D., he heard and obeyed a clear call to the ministry and after college at Mount Allison and Wesleyan (Montreal), he was ordained in 1917. In the same year he was married to Florence Parsons, who survives him.

Mr. Davis' pastoral charges in the Newfoundland Conference included Little Bay Islands, Corner Brook, Carbonear, St. John's (Cochrane Centennial) and Musgrave town; and in the Maritime Conference the parishes of Bridgetown, Oxford, N.S. His last charge was Franklin Centre, Quebec.

Held in high regard in the Newfoundland Conference, he was elected President in 1930. In 1935 he visited the Holy Land on the Macpherson Bequest, an experience whose value and use he used thereafter to enrich the lives of his people.

During the past year, Mr. Davis carried on his work at Franklin Centre in the face of failing strength and suffering, until he could do so no longer. It was at Bridgetown, N.S., a former charge, where he went to be near his son and his son-in-law, both medical men, that he died on the day before Easter. The memorial service was conducted by Rev. W. R. Seeley, D.D., assisted by Rev. J. Warr as well as Revs. Neil MacLeod, Murray Gardiner and Ray Milley.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Dorothy, wife of Dr. Mahoney of Bridgetown; and a son, Gerald, in medical practise at Annapolis Royal. A brother, Frank, resides at Carbonear, Nfld.

Our late beloved friend was a rare person. Modest and self-effacing to a degree, he yet won and kept the affection of a rosy circle of friends. His natural gifts included an acute appreciation of pictures, music and books, so that on a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, one seemed to tread the slopes of Parnassus. But it was his clear insight into the meaning and scope of the Christian evangel that made his conversation, no less than his sermons, so rich a feast of reason and a flow of soul. His remarkable power as a preacher of the Word arose, not only from a natural eloquence, due perhaps to a Welsh ancestry, but more from his gifts of lucid thought and his ability to expound with clarity, "the riches of the glory of this mystery".

Newfoundland has given many good men to the sacred ministry. Few can have better exemplified the Christian Gospel than Ernest Davis. Surely "All the trumpets sounded for him on the other side." (A.G.H.)

Committee of Huntingdon County Council Appointed to Look Into the Matter

Huntingdon County Council met on Wednesday, Sept. 10. The Warden Mr. Henri Phillon and Councilor Turcot were absent; Mr. W. J. Graham acting as Pro-Warden, and Mr. Geo. Gowdy replacing Mr. Turcot, as Pro-Mayor of Havelock.

Mr. Caldwell was appointed Pro-Warden for the next three months. The rate of taxation for county purposes was set at 1 1/2 mills. The Mayor of Elgin, the Mayor of Godmanchester and the County Secretary were appointed to make the necessary arrangements to have the Kelvingrove bridge repaired and put back in proper shape, after being wrecked on Monday, August 26th, 1952.

Rosario Taillefer is to be notified that he will be held responsible for the damage done to the above-mentioned bridge over the Trout River by his truck on Monday night, August 26th, 1952, and to govern himself accordingly.

By-law No. 108 was read and accepted by the County Council, and signed by the Pro-Warden and countersigned by the Secretary-Treasurer, and sealed with the seal of the Corporation.

The petition laid on the table by Stewart McEibson was read, and Mr. W. L. Carr was appointed special superintendent on the McPhee discharge and branches.

Covey Hill

COVEY HILL — All are hoping for fine weather on Wednesday for Havelock Fair. An interesting little souvenir has come of hand in the shape of a membership ticket for the Fair of 1876, bearing the name of Chas. McDiarmid, President. It also carries an artistic small-scale sketch of the various domestic animals generally exhibited, including a pair of spirited horses, a complete cow with horns, and, for good measure, a Collie dog.

In the background there appears what a pessimist might take for a rain cloud which, of course, just hasn't any business floating around Havelock Fair, but on closer inspection it turns out to be a hill with a farm house on it, while a tree and grass complete the rural scene.

This year the Directors deserve credit for their energy in securing so great a number of special prizes. Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson of Glendale, Cal., are enjoying their vacation with relatives in Vancouver and Kelowna, B.C.

Mr. McFarlane's people here have been interested to hear of his son's marriage to a young lady from the Maritimes, who has taken her professional nurse's training in Montreal.

On Sunday, Mr. McFarlane tendered an invitation to Covey Hill friends to attend the anniversary celebration of Hemmingford Presbyterian Church, the supper next Saturday evening and the preaching service Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Prominent clergymen are expected to be present at both gatherings and the Covey Hill service at the Union Church will be omitted. The pastor also announced that a Communion service would be held for the Presbyterian congregation at Covey Hill on Sunday afternoon, September 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cavers and three children and Mrs. Sorensen, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Simpson.

Miss Patricia Foran, of Montreal, has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards.

Mr. Charles Robinson, accompanied by his aunts, Mrs. Waldron and Miss Mabel Whyte, of Montreal, spent the week-end at his house here.

Ormstown

Mr. Thomas Gauthier left on Wednesday for Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Que., where he will take a course in Science.

Mr. Allan K. English has returned home after a combined plane and motor trip to the West Coast and to various points in the Western States.

Friends of Mrs. Cecil Bryson called at her home on Monday afternoon to bring her birthday greetings. A very happy afternoon was spent and tea and delicious refreshments were served. Among the guests were Mrs. F. Duncan, Mrs. O. Bradley, Mrs. G. McLaren, Mrs. Ross Bryson, Mrs. George Kilgour, Mrs. R. E. Walsh and Mrs. Alan Hooker.

Misses Betty McKenzie and Shirley Kinnie of the Montreal General Hospital were Sunday guests of their friend, Miss Mary Bryson.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam McNeil were — Inspector Sterling McNeil, R.C.M.P. of Regina, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunn and family of Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson and family of Riverfield and Mrs. Mary McNeil.

Shower for Bride Elect — Misses Eleanor McCaig and Patricia Lawrence were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect, Miss Lois Robinson. About forty friends and relatives were present and Lois was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Decorations were in pastel colors with summer flowers. Lois graciously expressed her thanks to her many friends. Games and music were enjoyed and dainty refreshments served by the hostesses.

Woman's Association — A beautiful autumn afternoon brought out a goodly number of members and visitors to the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Association held in MacDougal Hall, on Tuesday, Sept. 9th. There were 37 ladies present. Mrs. Wm. Hamilton presided. Mrs. Frank Martin had charge of the Worship Service — The theme "The Changing Seasons," with the Scripture reading from John 4: 31-39. Nature's messages with the changing seasons, are real messages, our field crop as well as the human crop are full of possibilities, and if we are to get the best results from both, the soil must be well tilled, for weeds and evil habits need no cultivation. The leader closed this devotional period with prayer.

With no August meeting held, several items of pressing business were attended to and new business discussed. The purchasing committee are to see about a few pieces of necessary kitchen equipment. The treasurer reported a substantial sum in the treasury.

A pleasing and interesting program for the afternoon was presented by Miss L. Walsh, opening with all joining in singing "O Canada." Miss Martin, for several years, and until recently, a social service worker in Montreal, was introduced by Miss Walsh as the guest speaker. Miss Martin gave a splendid account of what St. George's Society has done, and is doing, over the years for the unfortunate as well as newcomers to our shores, who need advice and help. Several humorous experiences were cited, proving the personal interest to the talk. Founded in 1835, with a membership of 48, this Society has now over 200 members enrolled. Miss Martin was heartily thanked for her informative address.

The poem "This is God's House" by George Frederick Sarge was recited by Mrs. Howard Reid to her accompaniment on the piano to the tune "Take time to be holy." The meeting closed with the National Anthem. Gorgeous autumn blooms decorated hall and tea tables. Delicious refreshments, served cafeteria style, were provided by the day with relatives in Elgin. Mr. John Cullen spent a few days in Toronto and attended the Canadian National Exhibition.

Postal Thefts Laid to Trio

Case Heard at Valleyfield, Tuesday

Three men, one a Montrealer, were arraigned in a Valleyfield court Tuesday on charges of breaking and entering and theft from two district post offices and a store.

They are alleged to have stolen about $5,000 worth of clothing from a Beauharnois store on Sept. 2; about $125 worth of stamps from the post office at St. Martin on August 16; and a safe containing $1,200 in cash, victory bonds and stamps from the post office at Colinet, Argenteuil Co., on Aug. 22.

Dets. M. Rheault and L. Cedlot who investigated the first theft on orders from L. Marcel Patenaude, chief of the mobile squad, said part of the clothing has been recovered.

Sgt. A. Bisailon and Det. S. A. Crevier, J. Tellier and R. Nolet were credited with solving the St. Martin robbery, and the theft from the Colinet post office was investigated by Sgt. A. Bisailon and Det. Nick Anderson.

Lt. Patenaude said more charges may be laid against the three men and that further arrests might be expected in connection with the thefts.

The Council hope for a successful and pleasant year.

Rev. J. Marshall met the High School boys to discuss arrangements for a soccer team. The boys received a half-hour's practical work demonstration.

It is hoped that enough interest will develop in the Chateaugay Valley, that soccer will be featured as an autumn sport.

Of the various members of the High School Graduates, Hazel Elliot is at McGill University for music, Mack Watson is at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, taking Science; while Jean Gebbie, Helen Craig and Mel Eggen are taking preparatory courses at St. George's Williams College.

Braves to Hold Exhibition Game at Valleyfield

Les Canadiens of National Hockey League fame, will be playing one of their first exhibition games of the current hockey season at Valleyfield Arena, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21st, at 2:30 p.m. They will meet the reigning Valleyfield Braves of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

This will be the first exhibition contest at Valleyfield Arena and it is expected to attract a crowd of at least 3000 people. Reservations to date have been most encouraging and Braves directors feel confident that the exhibition put on by such stars as Maurice Richard, Elmer Lach, Kenny Mosdell, Masmick and others on Canadiens line-up will alone be worth the price of admission.

Hector "Toe" Blake is reserving some surprises for his fans at Valleyfield this year. He has new talent now practising with his team and there is no doubt that Blake will organize his lines in such a way as to cause some embarrassing moments to Canadians.

Braves were scheduled to start practising on Tuesday evening but the extremely mild weather which prevailed last week-end retarded the making of a smooth sheet of ice. It is expected that some 30 players will be skating at Valleyfield arena as of this evening (Wednesday). Blake also intimated that he will hold at least two practices daily for the next two weeks so that his team will be in tip-top shape when the Q.S.H.L. opens its schedule at Valleyfield, on October 15th.

Buffalo Bisons will also play an exhibition tilt at Valleyfield Arena against the Braves on Sunday, September 28th.

There is a strong possibility that other pre-season contests will be scheduled between Braves and American Hockey League teams during this month or early October.
