A REMARKABLE CASE IN HULL, P. Q.

A well-known Merchant of Hull writes the following:—

HULL, 30th August, 1894.

TO THE ANCHOR MED. CO.,

AN ENORMOUS PAY SHEET.

HOW THE GRAND TRUNK WILL PAY ITS MEN.

A Change in the System of Paying the Salaries of Twenty Thousand Men---The Old Pay Car is Doomed.

The new system of payment inaugurated by the officials of the Grand Trunk Railway last week is expected to be beneficial in every respect and an advance upon the old methods, and, judged by broader views, to practically remove the serious risks the Company ran under the old system of paying by car, which delayed payment of salaries along the line several days. All the leading railways of the United States are contemplating a change from the old system.

The Grand Trunk paid all their employes on the "car side," Point St. Charles, some five hundred in all, by the new system and it resulted so satisfactorily, both to the company and employes, that the officials intend to pay the men on the whole system by check next month.

In conversation with a STAR reporter today on the matter, one of the officials said: "The object is to make available the banking and other facilities which have grown up since the Grand Trunk initiated methods or adopted English ones many years ago, instead of transmitting hundreds of thousands of dollars through the country with the attendant risks, counting money over and over, making up numerous remittances for one class of payers, and sending paymasters with the requisite equipment for another class, it is now realized that funds are lying in the cities and all the more important towns, adequate for all local wants, whilst at smaller places there are the Company's own funds to draw upon. The express arm of the Grand Trunk service also affords a valuable adjunct in the distribution and supply of money. By the means now successfully introduced, though to a limited extent, the placing of funds at remote points only to work back to the large centres, is avoided. The banks assume the actual disbursement of the money for which their agents are eminently qualified, and the Company's staff will devote every care to the

and to the delivery of them to those entitled according to the pay rolls. The banks have cordially entered into the plan, and it is to be carried out without cost to either the employes or the Company. The compensation to the banks is to be found in the increased note circulation and the opportunities which will be afforded their payees to become acquainted with banking facilities and the consequent incentive to provident habits. It is confidently believed that as the plan gets fully introduced employés will realize that the pay draft is available ready money for outstanding accounts, for deposit at banks from which it may be drawn as occasion requires, or, better still, it may augment some accumulation already lying at interest.

If properly understood and applied, there will be no rush to particular points, and the ample margin of time given for collection will be so appreciated that the unseemly crowding which has prevailed under the "pay car system" will cease. At present it is understood the whole of the month succeeding that in which the money is earned is occupied in drawing, distributing, paying and checking up the necessary accounts. Hereafter it is anticipated there will be no remarkable inequalities in the dates of payment to the members of the large body of nearly 20,000 men affected by these arrangements, indeed we understand it may be practicable to circulate all the drafts by the fifteenth, instead of not until nearly the close of each month. It would seem as reasonable to expect the Grand Trunk employes to use the pay drafts as we have suggested in their own time and convenience, as it is for them to rely upon themselves in their matrimonial and other appointments. We trust the plan inaugurated may prove beneficial to the Grand Trunk service, and predict that other large corporations will see the advantage of adopting similar methods."

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

The Executive Committee of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal.

At the regular meeting of the Executive Committee of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal yesterday afternoon there were present: His Lordship the Bishop presiding, and the Revs. Archdeacon Lindsay, Naylor and Evans, Rural Dean Longhurst, Canon Mussen, Dr. Norton, Rural Dean Saunders, Messrs. Brown, Renaud, T. E. Cunningham, G. Osborne Troop, T. Empson, Messrs. Bethune, W. Drake, L. H. Davidson, E. P. Hannaford, Wm. Owens, W. H. Robinson, T. P. Butler, W. W. L. Chipman, P. A. Peter, Richard White, E. Judge and E. L. Bond.

It was decided to take steps to induce the authorities of the various missions to make some suggestions in connection with the better support of the Mission Fund.

It was reported that the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel had renewed the grant for 1895 at the old rate, namely £310 sterling.

Mr. Hannaford reported that the shipfever cemetery at the end of the Victoria Bridge had been fenced and put in better order.

The Bishop of Algoma asked for assistance towards the support of his missionary at Lake Temiscamingue, a portion of whose mission is in this diocese. Referred to the mission committee.

The meeting then adjourned.

GORDONSMITH-HALL.

Mr. Charles E. W. Gordonsmith, journalist, was married yesterday to Miss Alice Mary Hall, daughter of the late Mr. Jos. Hall. The wedding took place at the residence of Mr. James Wardlow, 31 Victoria street. The Rev. Chas. E. Gordonsmith, F.S. Sc., Lancaster, Ont., officiated. The wedding was very quiet, being attended only by members of the families and intimate friends of the parties. Mr. and Mrs. Gordonsmith left shortly after the ceremony on a western trip, during which they will visit Toronto, Niagara Falls, Stratford, Ont., and other places.

AN ACCIDENT TO NO. 4 REEL.

Yesterday afternoon while the fire department was being shown off to the naval visitors by the members of the City Council, an accident happened to No. 4 reel. The reel was well up Beaver Hall hill and was about coming to a halt when the front axle snapped off at the hub. The hill at the point the breakdown took place is very steep and the department can consider itself fortunate that nothing more serious happened.

BISHOP OF MOOSONEE.

The Bishop of Moosonee is about to start on a visit of his huge diocese, which will not be completed until late next spring, and perhaps later.

A NOR'WESTER'S VIEWS.

Mr. J. R. Campbell, of Grenfell, N. W. T., sailed for England to-day by the Lake Winnipeg after an absence of six years in the North-West Territories. Mr. Campbell spoke freely of his experiences. Wheat, notwithstanding the dry season, was a good crop in his section. The locality has proved an excellent one for the raising of horses and cattle which have proved a healthy stock. The stock remain in the open all through the winter except on very cold nights, when they are put under shelter. Almost any kind of crop, including fruit, can be raised. There are prospects of a cheese and butter factory being started in the future. Some very satisfactory experiments have lately been made at the Indian Head Experimental Farm. Settlers in that region have vast advantages over those of some years ago, as everything they need can now be had much cheaper. A reduced duty on agricultural instruments was being urged. "What many of the settlers want more than anything else are good wives," concluded Mr. Campbell.

THE FRENCH FRIGATE.

The Entertainments to the Officers and the Petty Officers.

It was late yesterday afternoon before the Corporation banquet to the French naval officers on the summit of Mount Royal was over. The speech of Commandant Desmaps, a brief resume of which appeared in the STAR last evening, was much enjoyed. The gallant commandant is as graceful and forcible a speaker as it is possible to imagine, and his elegantly rounded phrases drew round after round of applause from the spectators. The hospitality of Montreal, he said, was a tradition in the French navy. His comrades had spoken to him of it and envied the good fortune of himself and officers in being ordered to this port. He had found that Montreal had come up to his ideal as to hospitality and everything else. The spectacle presented by the city from the place where he stood was enchanting. There was eloquent evidence of progressive industry. Commerce, art and nature combined to impress him with the wealth, the importance and the enterprise of Montreal. It was gratifying to the national pride of a Frenchman like himself to realize that the city, while owing much to the business enterprise of another race, owed much to the courage, the culture and the refinement of men of French blood. It was a French navigator who, braving the dangers of unknown seas, had discovered this noble spot, and named the picturesque mass of rock and foliage on which they stood. It said much for the vitality of the French race that French Canadians had developed in importance as they had. Frenchmen were proud binding them to the Canadians, though the latter owed their allegiance to the flag of another powerful nation. It was a gratifying spectacle to see Frenchmen and Englishmen living together on such good terms as they did in Canada and understanding themselves so well. Frenchmen had nothing but respect for French-Canadians for their loyalty to the British flag, which protects them and guarantees them the enjoyment of every liberty. Fidelity was appreciated by all men of French race. The French-Canadians had no reason to complain so long as they were allowed as now liberty to speak their own language, and to practise their own religion besides being guaranteed in the protection of their own laws.

TO RECOGNIZE THE TIES OF BLOOD

Ald. Beausoleil proposed the toast of the "Commercial Interests of Montreal" for the purpose, as he explained, of giving some of the English-speaking gentlemen present an opportunity to speak. Mr. Beausoleil said that the British flag floating over Montreal guaranteed liberty to all, and French Canadians were faithful to it. The English people recognized the principles of their French fellow citizens, and respected them. While loyal to the Union Jack they were proud of the Tricolor.

After descending the Mountain, the officers were treated to a run of the Fire Brigade, and then driven to their ship.

The petty officers of the Nielly were entertained by the members of the French colony last evening; Mr. J. Herdt in the chair. Among the entertainers were Messrs. A. Girard, P. M. Beauvais, Beullac, H. Rolland and Chas. Gendron. Refreshments were served and an interesting programme of songs and speeches gone through. Several songs were contributed by the sailors. Commandant Descamps and Capt. Laporte dropped in during the evening.

THE HARBOR WORKS.

The Progress Made as Shown by the Engineer's Report.

The engineer's report presented at yesterday's meeting of the Harbor Commissioners showed the progress made on the harbor works during August. At Windmill Point the drill boat has been kept at work throughout the month drilling and blasting rock on the upper end of the basin. The quantity drilled and blasted was 3414 cubic yards measured in solid; approximate cost $1607, or 47c per cubic yard. One of the large dipper dredges has worked nearly four weeks near the lower part of the basin dredging solid shale and trap rock, overlaid in places with hard pan. Quantity dredged, 8212 cubic yards, box measurement: approximate cost, $2346, or 28½c per cubic yard. One of the smaller dredges worked a few days in the early part of the month cleaning out alongside the wharf, and also stripping the loose stuff off the rock in front of the drill boat. Quantity dredged, 1282 cubic yards, scow measurement, costing approximately $651, or 51c per cubic yard.

At section 43 and 44, Hochelaga—Two cribs, measuring together 337½ feet in length, were sunk in place during August, making in all 614 linear feet of the crib work of the new wharf in place at the close of the month. Three other cribs, of the total length required to complete the upstream side and corner of the pier, are being prepared. Two-thirds of the crib work in place is filled with dredgings and the remainder is nearly filled. Approximate expenditure during the month for cribwork and filling $11,430.

One to two dredges were employed throughout the month in dredging the sites of the cribwork and in making the basin below the new pier. Quantity dredged 15,807 cubic yards, scow measurement; costing approximately $2317, or 16c per cubic yard.

At sections 46 and 47, Maisonneuve—a dredge was employed a week in enlarging the basin at the lower side of the pier and at the same time procuring sand required for roadways and other work. Quantity dredged 2550 cubic yards; costing approximately $360, or 14c per yard, scow measurement.

At the island shoal, dredging has been continued throughout the month with one dredge. Quantity dredged, 9254 cubic yards, scow measurement, approximate cost, $1850 or 19½c per cubic yard.

The extending of the guard pier up stream towards the Victoria bridge has been steadily continued. The length made during the month is 351 feet, or 13 feet per day, and the quantity of material, about half of which is rock and stone, is 41,264 cubic yards, or 1484 yards per day, box measurement. Approximate expenditure, $4444, or 10¾ cents per yard. Molson's shoal, opposite sections 26 and 27, dredging for the removal of the shoal has been continued throughout the month, the work done being at the upper end. Quantity dredged 23,500 cubic yards, box measurement, approximate cost, $2744, or 11 2-3 cents per yard.

DEATH OF DR. PALARDY.

Dr. Joseph H. Palardy died very suddenly yesterday at his residence, St. Hugues, where he enjoyed a very large practice. Deceased was born at St. Hyacinthe in 1833, and pursued his classical studies at the St. Hyacinthe Seminary. He graduated in 1856. Deceased was a prominent member of the Union Médicale of Montreal, and one of the founders of the Medical Association for the district of Montreal. He was highly known at Montreal and was a prominent member of the Hotel Dieu and Victoria University.

FLATTERY FOR QUEBECERS.

The Dominion Grocer, published in Montreal by J. Lovell Wiseman, in its Quebec Exhibition number pays a compliment to the old Rock City, in the following felicitous terms:

"Quebecers cherish the traditions of a chivalrous race of projenitors, and their prevailing temper noblesse oblige is less a metaphor than a truth. Proud and stately as the rock which gives to their city its unalterable contour in countless prints, the temperament of Quebec is at once cordial and hospitable."

MR. CLERK SUBMITS HIS DEFENCE

IN THE SUIT AGAINST HIM BY MR. ROBIDOUX.

He Holds He Bought the Shares in Question, Paid the Money and is Guilty of No Offence.

Mr. E. N. St. Jean, counsel for Mr. Alton F. Clerk broker in the suit brought against him by Hon. J. E. Robideaux has submitted the following factum to the Magistrate:

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, DISTRICT OF MONTREAL. } POLICE COURT.

The Queen vs. A. F. Clerk.

DEFENDANT'S FACTUM.

On the nineteenth of July last, the Hon. J. E. Robidoux, acting in his wife's name, laid a complaint against the defendant, accusing him of having on the nineteenth, and on the twenty-seventh of July, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, obtained from Mrs. Robidoux on each of the above dates five hundred dollars by falsely stating that on the first of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, he had bought for Mrs. Robidoux one hundred of the Montreal Street Railway shares.

The only witnesses heard on behalf of the prosecution were Messrs. Robidoux and Lusher. Mr. Robidoux swears that on or about the first of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, he told Mr. Clerk to buy the hundred Montreal Street Railway Company shares to which I have just referred. He also swears that defendant never bought those shares. Being cross-examined so as to know what could justify the above declaration, he says that he asked Mr. Lusher to let him know if on or about the first of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, the Company's transfer book could show that one hundred shares had been transferred to Mr. A. F. Clerk. Having ascertained that no such transfer appeared in the transfer book, Mr. Robidoux, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Lusher then and had thence told him that those shares could have been bought by Mr. A. F. Clerk, without any entry being made in the transfer books, came to the conclusion that defendant had never bought the shares. This is a fair recapitulation of the proof brought up by the prosecution.

The documents produced show that on the first of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, the defendant wrote to Mrs. Robidoux in the following terms:

No. 11, 468-9.

MONTREAL, March 1, 1893.

MADAM CLARA ROBIDOUX,—I have this day bought for you (subject to the rules of the Montreal Stock Exchange):

|---|---|
| 50 Montreal Street Railway Co. at 191½ | $4787 50 |
| 50 Montreal Street Railway Co. at 191¼ | 4781 25 |
| Bro | 12.50 |
| | $9581 25 |

Your obedient servant,
ALTON F. CLERK, Broker.

By the above letter he informed Mrs. Robidoux that he had made the transaction he had been requested to make.

As the complaint is made the only question to examine is whether or not the defendant bought the said hundred shares

Defendant's witnesses prove clearly that on the first of March the defendant bought from Messrs. Moat & Co. fifty Montreal Street Railway shares at 191¼ (Mr. J. H. Wallace's evidence); that these shares were delivered through the Clearing House, as it is always done. The same witness, Mr. Wallace, maintains that on the second of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, the defendant borrowed from Messrs. Moat & Co. four thousand five hundred dollars to pay the amount due for those fifty shares.

Mr. Patterson swears positively that on the first of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, the defendant bought from Messrs. McDougall Bros. fifty of the Montreal Street Railway shares at 191½, four thousand seven hundred and eighty-one dollars and twenty-five cents ($4781.25).

Another witness, Mr. Smithers, declares that on the second of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, Messrs. Burnett & Co., loaning brokers, lent the accused four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500), so as to enable him to pay those last fifty shares. All those facts are clear and could not be contradicted.

The statement produced shows that defendant credited Mrs. Robidoux in his books for the hundred shares in question, and that he charged the amount he had to borrow to pay for said shares. We must not forget that the only disbursements made by Mrs. Robidoux through her husband for the buying of these shares amount to two hundred and fifty dollars ($250); therefore, the balance had to be borrowed somewhere.

On the nineteenth and twenty-seventh July, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, the defendant asked Mrs. Robidoux for five hundred dollars to cover the margin on the hundred shares referred to (see letter produced by the prosecution).

Mr. Wallace proves clearly that on the nineteenth July defendant had under his control two hundred Montreal Street Railway shares, and that the following day, after receiving from Mrs. Robidoux the five hundred dollars ($500); he immediately paid Messrs. Moat & Co. three thousand dollars ($3000) to cover his margins. It is also proved by Mr. Smithers that on the twenty-seventh July defendant had at Messrs. Burnett & Co.'s over two hundred Montreal Street Railway shares, and that on the twenty-seventh or twenty-eighth of the same month he paid two thousand dollars ($2000) to Messrs. Burnett & Co.

Consequently, the proof clearly shows:

1. That on the first of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, defendant bought the hundred shares in question;

2. That on the nineteenth and twenty-seventh July, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, when he asked Mrs. Robidoux for five hundred dollars to cover the margin, he had in his possession a great deal more than one hundred of Montreal Street Railway shares;

3. That the two sums of five hundred dollars ($500) received on the nineteenth and twenty-seventh July, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, were applied to pay the margins due to those that had advanced money on those shares, viz.: Messrs. Moat & Co. and Messrs. Burnett & Co.

There is nothing in the proof to show that defendant is guilty of the offense mentioned in the complaint or of any other offence known in our Criminal Code.

The whole humbly submitted.

E. N. ST. JEAN,
Attorney for Defendant.

Montreal, September 10, 1894.

ALLEGED ASPHALT COMBINE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, September 12.—From a batch of correspondence placed yesterday in the hands of Ald. Lamb, chairman of the Board of Works, the latter concluded that there exists an asphalt combine. The correspondence relates to the unsuccessful endeavors made by the firm of G. D. Peters & Co., of London, a newly organized paving company, to obtain 1000 tons of asphalt from the Trinidad Asphalt Company. The Peters Company offered an increased price and were willing to purchase the material either in the crude or the refined state, but all their efforts were futile. The various letters in Ald. Lamb's possession go to show that the American companies controlling the lake asphalt output refuse to do business with any new concerns, confining their operations in Ontario to three companies already organized.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

DECATUR, Ill., September 12.—Alfred Krokski and two companions whose names could not be learned were struck by a Wabash train here yesterday. Krokski was instantly killed. The others will die.

CHATHAM'S MOURNFUL DAY.

CHATHAM, Ont., September 12.—The funeral of three young men, Messrs. Christie, Rispin and Northwood, who were drowned in French River while on a canoeing expedition on August 22, took place yesterday from the Drill Shed. The funeral was a public one, and was attended by members of Parliament, the clergy, professional men, fraternal societies, and a large number of citizens. The procession was over half a mile long. All business was suspended during the afternoon, and altogether it was the most impressive and mournful ceremony that Chatham has ever seen.

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE.

Story of the Killing of Bernard by Lafleur—Evidence in the Case.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

L'ORIGNAL, September 12.—The autumn assizes for the united counties of Prescott and Russell opened here on Monday, Mr. Justice Ferguson presiding. The only case on the docket is that of Joseph Lafleur for the murder of a man named Bernard at Clarence Creek, in the county of Russell, in the month of March last, since which time the prisoner has been in gaol here awaiting his trial. Considerable interest is being shown in the case, the court room being thronged with an interested audience, although owing to the time which has elapsed since the commission of the crime and the extenuating circumstances connected with the offence, less interest is evinced than on former similar trials. The facts connected with the case may be summarized as follows: The prisoner Lafleur is a native of the province of Quebec, and for a number of years past has been living in the Western States, returning home about a year ago. About a month before the commission of the crime he went up to Clarence Creek to visit a brother living there, drinking a good deal during the visit. On the night of the crime, which was a Saturday, he and a number of companions were drinking in Bazinet's Hotel at Clarence Creek. Lafleur became intoxicated and very excited smashing bottles and other things around the bar. Deceased, who was a quiet inoffensive young man living in the village, was acting for the time as bartender and in his efforts to restrain Lafleur got into a quarrel with the latter. The parties were separated and after a time Lafleur went home and, as it is alleged, left his money with his sister-in-law. Taking a knife which he had recently had made, he started back towards the hotel—meeting Bernard and a companion named Diotte. They had waited until Lafleur had had time to reach his home and then started for home themselves. According to the Crown's version Lafleur began swearing at Bernard, who took off his coat and started after the former who had turned away, but on seeing Bernard coming after him again turned round. Diotte seeing they were going to meet one another ran towards them, the three met together and without a word being spoken Lafleur instantly drew a knife and stabbed Diotte in the hand, then turned on Bernard stabbing him in the heart. Although the heart of the murdered man was almost severed, yet incredible as it may seem he was able to reach the door step of Dr. Derosiers, about 200 feet distant before he expired. After the commission of the deed Lafleur went home to bed, where he was found by the constables who went to arrest him. Since his arrest Lafleur has appeared to feel his position and for several days after being brought here refused food.

Nothing else being on the docket when the court opened the murder case was at once entered upon. His Lordship in the course of an able and very clear address to the Grand Jury fully explained to it the essential elements of the crimes of murder and manslaughter and the distinctions between the two offences. The Grand Jury retired to their room about 4 o'clock and began the examination of the Crown witnesses, which continued until 9 o'clock at night, when a true bill of murder was returned.

When the Court opened at nine o'clock yesterday morning the trial was immediately proceeded with, after a jury had been empanelled. B. Bazinet, the owner of the hotel at Clarence Creek, was put into the witness box, and testified as to what took place in his hotel on the evening of March 10. His evidence was to the effect that he, Diotte, Bernard and Lafleur were in the bar-room together and had two or three drinks. Once Bernard went behind the bar and gave the prisoner cider instead of strong liquor. This angered the prisoner, who suddenly became very much excited and threw a decanter and several other articles towards Bernard. He wanted to thrash Bernard. Bazinet interfered and shortly afterward Lafleur left and in a few minutes after his departure the witness barred the door and put out the lights to prevent Lafleur re-entering. Bernard and Diotte remained in the hotel for some time in order to allow Lafleur time to get to his house, which was only about 150 feet from the hotel. They shortly afterwards heard some one outside, whom they took to be Lafleur and in order to avoid him went out the back way. Witness shortly afterwards went out in front and saw a man running in the direction of Dr. Derosiers, who turned out to be Diotte. This took place about 11 p. m. He then went over to the doctors and found Bernard lying dead, stabbed to the heart. About an hour after he and a constable went to Lafleur's to arrest him, finding him lying on his bed partly dressed and apparently asleep. When aroused he wished to fight witness, but was held and handcuffed. Mrs. Bazinet, wife of the last witness, was the next witness, she also testified as to what took place in the bar-room, and gave additional evidence as to Lafleur's return shortly after leaving and swearing outside the building, calling upon Bernard to come out and fight.

METHODISTS AT LONDON.

Reports of Committees Yesterday—Britain and the United States Represented—Reference to the Late Dr. Douglas.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, Ont., September 12.—After four hours spent in committee work, Conference reassembled at 4.30 p. m. yesterday to receive Rev. Mr. Parker, representative of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. He reported that his church had 600,000 members in the United States, Canada and the West Indies. They owned 5000 churches, 3000 parsonages and 23 colleges. He thought the fire of Methodism would win the world for God, with a little Baptist water thrown on to make steam. (Laughter.) He was given a vote of thanks, on motion of Rev. Dr. Antliff, Montreal.

The report of the Women's Missionary Society was presented by the secretary Mr. E. S. Strachan and showed great progress. The auxiliaries had increased in four years from 237 to 337. There were 12,498 members a gain of 5270 and 645 life members, an increase of 252. Young peoples societies numbered 6640 an advance of 3087. The total membership was 19,771. The yearly income now is $3,794,416 a gain of $1,566,788. The receipts, in the 12 years of the society's existence were $21,930,990. In addition goods had been sent to mission fields. The society had 827 missionaries, 16 in Japan, 7 in Indian work in British Columbia, 5 among the French in Montreal, 2 in China and 2 among the Chinese in British Columbia.

The committee work yesterday afternoon was as follows: The committee on the deaconess movement recommend that other conferences imitate Toronto in the matter of a deaconess home. The council and study committee approved of making probationers examination before ordination. The Church Union Committee adopted Rev. A. C. Courtice's motion to establish a federal court for Protestant churches in order to devise plans for covering the missionary territory better. Mr. Courtice suggested the foundation of French Canadian Protestant churches in place of the existing missions, but this was not entertained.

The Sociological Committee was organized with Rev. Dr. Williams, chairman, and A. Odulum, secretary; and the civil rights committee with Rev. Dr. Potts, chairman; and Rev. Dr. Williamson, secretary.

The General Conference Committee reported that during the quadrennium, receipts and expenditure would be about equal except for some extraordinary expenses.

Mr. J. J. McLaren's proposal to tax Conference members $5 each was defeated. The Systematic Beneficience Committee reported that until a reformation was made in the methods of giving, the church would never be released from wretched penury.

Among notices of motion was one by Rev. H. S. Matthews to elect the General Superintendent every four instead of every eight years, and another by Dr. Parker to make the minimum salary of married clergymen $750. There were many more proposed amendments to the much-abused discipline.

The evening session was devoted to receiving Rev. H. J. Pope, of Birmingham, Eng., ex-president of the BRITISH WESLEYAN CONFERENCE.

The big church was crowded. He presented letters of greeting from the English Wesleyans and the Irish Methodists in both of which touching reference was made to the patient endurance, fervent devotion and brilliant qualities of the late Dr. Douglass, of Montreal. In his address he said the British Wesleyan Church was in prime financial condition, but could not join the Anglican Church on account of the latter's Romanizing tendencies.

Rev. J. H. Potts, of Detroit, was introduced as the sole representative of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States. He is stone deaf though a splendid speaker. His eulogy of Canada and Britain aroused much enthusiasm. He admitted that in practical religion his own nation was not an ideal one. Among its evils he classed the accursed saloon, the Mormon blot, the notorious divorce courts, a political life fartoo corrupt, violation of the Sabbath sanctity, the Dominaton of the Roman Catholic Church in public life and Church divisions. There was a corruption of wealth and a carnival of crime, lust and folly. American life is not yet hell, he said, though some portions of it border closely upon perdition. There was a leavening of American Society working for righteousness however.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

THE SAMOAN QUESTION.

LONDON, September 12.—A despatch to e Times from Berlin says that an article ently published in the Vienna Politische orrespondenz, advocating dual control by reat Britain and Germany over Samoa, as attracted great attention in Berlin. The espatch adds that the proposal is unfavorbly received, and it is firmly insisted that ly a German protectorate is possible. The Cologne Gazette says Great ritain must learn that all attempts stow away Samoa in her immense colonial bag will be completely hopeless. The reuz Keitung demands that Germany, ithout delay, make good her predominant aims to Samoa and again show Great ritain she does not intend to be treated as quantite negligeable. It says: "We will hereby gain the respect of the other colnial powers and everywhere it will be elt that Germany could be relied upon in uture negotiations while England has been reatly shaken by events of last few months. ual control would be in no way more atisfactory than tripartite arrangement."

THE "TIMES" AND TRADE.

LONDON, September 12.—The Times this morning, commenting on the address of Sir Albert Kaye Rollit to the Associated Chambers of Commerce, says: "We recognize in the address and discussion thereon an acknowledgment that in Great Britain, at any rate, the principles of free trade must be accepted as beyond challenge. We are emerging from a deluge of depression before those countries which thought they had guarded themselves against the possibility of competition by protection." The article proceeds: "The results of protection on the Continent, however, are of small importance compared with the revision of the tariff in America, which must be treated as a practical improvement upon the McKinley Law. The main advantage is that British manufacturers and shippers know the conditions under which they will have to conduct their business for the next three years. It is too soon to look for larger consequences from this legislation."

ATTEMPTED TIN COMBINE.

LONDON, September 12.—The Times says: Despite the ignominous failure of the syndicate, which engineered the corner in tin in 1887, another combination of French and Dutch speculators is now trying to obtain control of the tin market. It is asserted that they already hold about 16,000 tons of tin, but the actual quantity is thought to be nearer 12,000 tons. The low price of tin has apparently induced the formation of a corner. The purchases of the combination have already caused a rise in the price of £6 a ton. They have hoped that America would be obliged to have recourse to the European markets, but they are likely to be disappointed, as America should easily supply its requirements direct from Chinese merchants or the East Indies.

ENFORCING GAME LAWS.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., September 12.—Gamewarden Smith has returned from Peterboro County, where he fined William Wigg $45 for killing deer out of season. He also fined a Yankee $20 for shooting ducks without a license and issued two permits for hunting to visitors from the States.

WORST STORM SO FAR.

QUEENSTOWN, September 12.—The White Star Line Steamer Majestic, which arrived last evening from New York, met stormy weather on the passage. The captain reports that at eight o'clock on the morning of September 9a terrific gale from the north east set in, which soon caused a tremendous sea to run. The gale hourly increased in violence until midnight, when it blew with hurricane force. It was deemed unsafe to force the steamer into the sea, and her speed, therefore was reduced throughout the night. The storm lasted until the afternoon of September 10. The Majestic made good weather of it throughout and came through without sustaining any damage. It was the worst storm the steamer had experienced this year.

WELCOMED ABERDEEN.

The Address Presented at the Quebec Exhibition Yesterday.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, September 11.—The address presented and read to His Excellency Lord Aberdeen by Senator Landry, the President, and on behalf of the Quebec Provincial Exhibition this afternoon was quite eloquent and breathed loyalty in every sentence.

It said in part: "Your appearance in our midst is a happy augury and enthusiastically greeted by the population who surround you and who, one and all, sincerely tender you, as the accredited representative of our august and ever gracious Sovereign, their homage and the expression of their unalterable loyalty to the British Crown. Devotedly attached to their institutions, the people of this province respectfully salute the flag which protects them, and fervently bless the guilding hand of Divine Providence, which under the powerful ægis of Great Britain, has secured to them the possession of the soil reclaimed by their ancestors from the forest, the free exercise of their most cherished liberties, and the untrammeled working of constitutional government."

Reference is made to the former conflict on the historic plains—the "imprecations against Old Albion." But now, the address goes on, all that is changed and peace reigns: "the wounds of the past have been healed;" the very battlefield is the friendly meeting-place.

Lord Aberdeen answered in English and French. His remarks were to the point and instructive. He strongly advised the Canadian people to go into farming and to abandon the idea of emigrating. His Excellency's speech was interrupted by prolonged cheers. Lieut.-Gov. Chapleau also spoke. There were present the Honorable Messrs. Casgrain, Pelletier, Beaubien, Sharples, the Mayor of Quebec and Council, Bishops Fabre, Begin and Emard, and the Right Reverend Bishop Dunn. After the inaugural speech, Lord and Lady Aberdeen, followed by their suite, and escorted by the officials of the Fair, visited the different buildings.

MORE CHINESE SMUGGLING.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., September 12.—Five Chinamen have been on a farm back of Prescott several weeks, and yesterday a man, who was suspected of managing Chinese importation, came up from New York for them. He was followed to Prescott by United States Treasury officials and watched. At one this morning the Chinamen started across the river. They were met by the Treasury agents, Jenkins and Sessions, and arrested. The hearing took place this morning before the United States court.

WANTS ALIMONY.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, September 12.—John Holmes, a retired builder at 223 Carlton street, married Mrs. V. P. Humphrey on October 21 last. Yesterday an action for alimony was commenced by Mrs. Holmes against her husband, who is said to be worth $120,000. The ground of action is cruelty.

CRISPI AND THE VATICAN.

LONDON, September 12.—In reference to the rumored approach of a reconciliation between the Pope and King Humbert, the Standard's Rome correspondent telegraphs: Premier Crispi's allusion to Cardinal Sanfelice is regarded as a fresh sign of his tendency toward the policy of conciliating the Vatican. His friends regard the speech as chef d'œuvre, but the clerical journals are unamiable and inclined to ridicule his return to faith. The Standard says editorially: Premier Crispi is aware of Italy's difficulties and the Pope's amiability. In consequence, he is more anxious for a reconciliation than before. But this will render the Vatican only more exacting.

WILL ADOPT THE FENDER.

TORONTO, September 12.—As a result of the investigation into the death of little Arthur W. Knox, who was killed by a trolley on Queen street, west, a day or two ago, the Street Railway Company has definitely promised to have fenders placed on all their cars within three weeks. At the inquest last night, President Mackenzie made the announcement. The jury found that a fender would probably have saved the life of the lad.

A DUEL TO DEATH.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., September 12.—A frightful duel with knives was fought by two prominent farmers, Thomas Osborne and Marcus Murphy, near Polkville, last evening. Murphy's hogs broke into Osborne's cornfield and this caused the trouble. The two cut and slashed each other in an indescribable manner and were both found dying in pools of blood.

DIAMONDS ARE DUTIABLE.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—The Treasury Department holds that diamonds other than glaziers' and engravers' diamonds are dutiable as precious stones as under the new tariff law. This disposes of a supposed "kink" in the new law which by erroneous punctuation seemed to bring all diamonds under the free list instead of simply those intended for miners, glaziers, etc.

BANDITS HOLD UP A STAGE.

CHICAGO, September 12.—A special from Phœnix, Ariz., says: A stage was held up seven miles south of Congress, on Monday night, by two masked highwaymen. Six passengers were in the coach. They were relieved of all their valuables, the bandits securing $500 in coin.

RELIEF FOR FIRE SUFFERERS.

TORONTO, Ont., September 11.—The Ontario Government at a council meeting, decided to grant a further sum of $1000 for the relief of the settlers on the Rainy river district who have suffered by the disastrous forest fires. This is in addition to the $500 first granted.

WARNICK KILLED RADCLIFFE.

TILBURY CENTRE, Ont., September 12.—The Coroner's jury have returned a verdict that the deceased, John Radcliffe, came to his death through wounds received from the prisoner Warnick, who was remanded for further examination before the magistrates.

OWENS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

LEXINGTON, Ky., September 12.—W. C. Owen has issued a proclamation to the Democrats of the Ashland district in which he says: "Have no misgiving of the result; the victory is assured." This is the district the Breckenridge men are after.

LIFE GUARD DID NOT WORK.

BUFFALO, September 12.—Mrs. Mary McMahon, of Maurice street, lost her life last night under the wheels of a trolley car. The life guard failed to hold her and the wheels passed over her, killing her instantly.

THE IRRIGATION FRAUD.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The injunction asked for in the complaint of J. H. Beattie, of Hamilton, against J. C. Beattie, et al has been granted by Judge Lacombe, and the case set for September 18.

BONES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

BRISTOL, Tenn., September 12.—Charles Rector and another boy while inspecting a cave near Seven Mile Ford, thirty miles east of here, discovered two skeletons forty feet below the surface. The cave had long been known, but no one had ever ventured to explore it, because of its great depth. When the find was reported, a party of citizens went to the cave to investigate further. In all, ten skeletons were taken out and were adjudged to be bones of women and children.

HIGHWAYMEN DO MURDER.

Right in the Highly Civilized Bay State, Too.

LOWELL, Mass., September 12.—Roy Foster, aged 46, a well-known citizen of Burlington, was shot and killed by three unknown highwaymen, near Billerica Centre, late last night. Foster was a milkman, and was returning home with his team from Boston. About four miles south of Billerica he was chased and overtaken by three men in a waggon.

They pulled up to his team, and with drawn revolvers compelled him to give up all his money. He was then released, and drove toward Billerica for assistance. On the road he picked up two Burlington men, and the party drove to the Stearns House, in Billerica Centre, and there were joined by Constable Livingstone. Weapons were secured and the party drove back to the scene of the robbery. The highwaymen were overtaken and a lively fight ensued. When the firing ceased, Foster was found lying dead in the middle of the road. The highwaymen escaped. Foster leaves a wife and several children.

THE HOWLEY-CUSHING CASE.

A LEGAL DISSERTATION ON PERJURY.

The Feeling Between Litigants Said to Have Been Bitter — The Case for the Crown is Closed.

The enquete into the Howley-Cushing alleged perjury case was continued yesterday afternoon before Judge Dugas. Mr. St. Pierre represented the prosecution and Mr. J. N. Greenshields the defence.

Mr. J. M. M. Duff, accountant, was on the stand. The examination had barely commenced when the judge was called in to decide if the following question could be put:

"Do you remember if in any conversation, during the past two months, Mr. Cushing has shown any animosity toward Mr. Howley or any member of his family?"

Mr. St. Pierre had proposed this to Mr. Duff in order to show, as he said, that Mr. Cushing committed the alleged perjury out of animosity to the Howley family, said alleged perjury being, in Mr. St. Pierre's opinion, the best means of bringing the family into discredit and misfortune. Mr. Greenshields argued to Judge Dugas that in a matter of ascertaining the truth or falsity of a charge of perjury the question of feeling does not enter into the case. Mr. Cushing had sworn that a certain section of the Howley property was under seizure. The whole question dwindled down to a question of fact, was the alleged perjury a perjury or not? They, the defence, would prove that what Mr. Cushing said was true. What if Mr. Cushing had made any remarks which tended to show an unfriendly feeling toward the Howley family? It was not feeling, but fact, and the question should be quashed.

Mr. St. Pierre rose in rebuttal and replied that it was a matter of necessity to show the intention of the perjury and a feeling of anger certainly entered into the question of judging of the intention and motive. Mr. Cushing had sworn falsely, purposely to ruin the whole Howley family, it was true that in matters of perjury outside of criminal cases, the necessity of proving the motive of the said perjury was not recognized, but he believed that this case formed one of the exceptions to the general rule.

MR. GREENSHIELDS RE-AROSE

and stated his position in a nutshell. The greater part of the Howley property lay within the city limits, and by the city laws all lands under arrears of taxes are placed, ipse facto, under seizure. Mr. Cushing had sworn that a certain section of the Howleys' land was under seizure. In this the prosecution maintained he had committed perjury, as said lands were not under seizure. Now, as a matter of fact, this particular section of land lay just without the city limits and was under heavy arrears of wages. Mr. Cushing had been given the impression that this land fell under the same category as those within the city proper. Therefore, he swore this land was under seizure, when, as a matter of fact, it was not, but the mistake had been through misinformation and not through intention.

Judge Dugas, who had patiently awaited his turn to say something edgewise, now delivered himself on the matter. There was no doubt that in cases of assault it was necessary to prove the intention lying at the root of the perjury. He had doubts on the matter now before him. Was it right to prove that false swearing was done intentionally? His impression, on the whole, was that the question under discussion was allowable. He was, however, willing to hold the question under reserve and did so, at Mr. Greenshields' request.

Mr. Duff was then questioned. He was of the opinion that the feeling between the two litigants had sometimes been bitter. He was not in a position to state whether this feeling had abated. Had he heard Mr. Cushing utter any such phrase as "crush them" during conversation? He might have heard such phrase after the present proceedings were begun. Mr. Greenshields cross-examined him briefly.

"Did not Mr. Duff know from experience that the feeling between litigants was always bitter?" He believed so.

"Was the present feeling particularly strong?" He had seen feeling a good deal less.

"A good deal more?"

"No, I don't think I ever did."

A few more unimportant questions and with Mr. Duff's examination Mr. St. Pierre declared the case for the Crown closed. Judge Dugas will take the case en delibere as soon as Mr. Greenshields hands in his factum, which Judge Dugas requested him to make short and sweet, with legal phrases, like sugar-plums, few and far between.

VIBERT-M'LEISH.

James C. Vibert, son of Captain Vibert, Deputy Port Warden, was married last evening, in Trinity Church, to Miss Grace McLeish, of Glasgow, Scotland. The ceremony was performed by Rural Dean Saunderson. Mr. P. Macfarlane, of Wyoming, was best man; he was assisted by Mr. E. Summer, of this city. The bridesmaids were the Misses Maud and Sybil McLeish, sisters of the bride. After the ceremony a reception was given at the residence of Mr. W. C. McLeish, brother of the bride. Last night the newly wedded couple left to spend their honeymoon in Boston and other places.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.

Another old veteran of 1812, Mr. Ambroise Savoie, has just passed away at St. Barthelémi, Que., at the advanced age of 100 years and 11 months. Deceased in his early life was a well known business man. He also took an active part in the rebellions of 1812 and again in 1837-38, when he played the role of a patriot. The funeral took place yesterday at St. Barthelémi and was attended by over one thousand persons, many of whom were from Montreal.

GORED BY A BULL.

A young man named Maston, son of John Maston, farmer, of Lacolle, Que., was badly gored by a bull at the St. Johns Fair yesterday afternoon. He will recover.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

MONTREAL WHOLESALE MARKETS.

GRAIN.—There is no material increase in activity here nor is any looked for until after the arrival of new barley. Actual business to-day was again confined to oats at 33½ to 34c and peas at 72 to 72½c. There is no corn on offer and there have been no noteworthy spot transactions in either rye or wheat for some days.

FLOUR.—The general market rules quiet and no sales are reported in excess of moderate quantities to meet consumers' immediate wants, but steadiness prevails regarding values. Manitoba strong bakers are still reported in fair demand. We quote: Patent spring, $3 40 to $3 50; do winter, $3 20 to $3 50; straight roller, $2 85 to $2 90; extra, $2 50 to $2 60; superfine, $2 25 to $2 40; strong bakers', $3 25 to $3 40.

FEED.—The market is brisk at unchanged prices. Bran is quoted at $16, shorts at $18 to $20, and mouillie at $20 to $22.

OATMEAL.—No further change in prices have occurred. Current trading, while fair in the aggregate, shows only jobbing proportions. We quote: Granulated, per bbl., $4 35 to $4 40 per bag; $2 12½ to $2 15; rolled per bbl., $4 30 to $4 40, per bag $2 10 to $2 15; standard, per bbl., $4 35 to $4 40; per bag, $2 12½ to $2 15; pot barley, per bbl., $3 75, per bag, $1 75; pearl, per bbl., $7 25; half bbl., $3 75; split peas, per bbl, $3 40 to $3 50, per bag, $1 70.

PROVISIONS.—There have been no developments in the spot market this week calling for extended comment. No large sales are reported, but hams continue to move freely, and business in lard is of fair average volume. Pork is in a little better request. We quote: Canadian short cut mess pork, per brl., $18 50 to $19 50; mess pork, Western, per brl., nominal; ham, city cured, per lb., 10 to 12c; bacon, per lb., 11 to 12c; lard, compound, 7½ to 7½c; lard, pure Canadian, 8½ to 9c.

CHEESE.—There is a lack of animation in the demand to-day, but no change in tone, which was strengthened, if anything, by the advance in the cable to 50s 6d. At Ingersoll yesterday no sales were effected.

BUTTER.—There is nothing new to note in the situation. The amount of business being transacted is far from satisfactory, but holders nevertheless continue to show confidence, and in anticipation of an increased export demand, quote firm prices. The result is that only a limited amount of stock, necessary to supply the local wants of the moment, is moving. August creamery, of finest quality, is quoted at 19 to 19½c; Townships dairy at 16 to 16½c.

EGGS.—Arrivals of strictly fancy stock sell readily at 10½ to 11c, but prices of medium goods are in buyers' favor.

Groceries.

Reports of merchants upon the condition of the market this week differ but slightly from those of last. At the moment buyers are plenty and in some cases anxious and all the wholesale houses seem to be enjoying a good trade while prices, speaking generally, remain about as before.

TEAS.—Teas are still in active demand, country dealers being free buyers at the full advance mentioned in a recent report. Jobbers too report a good enquiry from the local retail trade and consequently show a disposition to pick up readily all supplies suited to their wants. In New York there is nothing very new suggested as to the general conditions of trade. Some operators complain a trifle over a smaller run of orders than expected, but that is considered only one of the natural fluctuations of demand and there is no evidence of a positive falling off of interest among buyers. A letter dated August 14 recently received from Yokohama says: Our last letter was dated the 3rd instant since, when a steady daily business and increased enquiry for better grades, together with a scarcity of desirable leaf, has advanced prices from $1 to $2 all round. Supplies have come forward only in small quantities and stocks have been decreased to 10,000 piculs at the two ports composed chiefly of medium to common grades. Settlements here and at Kobe amount to 301,000 piculs against 295,700 last year and 319,000 piculs in 1892. Export figures stand at 32,136,567 lbs., an increase of 4,300,000 lbs. over last season at the same date.

COFFEE.—There has been no large volume of business in the spot market during the week, but some wholesale houses seem to be quietly absorbing a fair trade. Maracaibo coffees are firm at the advance, and prices of all grades show steadiness. Stocks of Brazil coffee in New York on Monday last were 228,756 bags, in the United States 225,597 bags, with the quantity afloat for this country 252,000 bags, making the American visible supply 507,397 bags, against 251,930 bags at the same time last year.

SUGAR.—Values are not quotably higher, but continue to rule very firm. Jobbers report a steady receipt of orders, and refiners say that there is in consequence sufficient doing in round lots to render last week's remarks as to an active demand still applicable. For granulated the price at the refinery is still 4¼ and the range for yellows is 3¾ to 3¾c.

DRIED FRUITS.—The first consignment of Valencia raisins, consisting, however, of only a very small lot, has arrived since our last report, and sold at once at 6c. The fruit, although a little disappointing as to size, was of excellent quality otherwise. Several other lots on their way to this market have, it is understood, been sold on invoices at about the same figure. The New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin in its issue of to-day, says of the market there for foreign and Pacific dried fruit: So far as relates to the sale of spot goods the market retains an exceedingly quiet and tame appearance, the demand from interior sections being extremely light, and local interest of an unimportant character. For forward deliveries of new goods some little enquiry is experienced, but the demand is by no means of a spirited nature, buyers, as a rule, showing a disposition to go slow until values have become more stable, and goods are upon the spot from which to make selections. Of Valencia raisins to arrive some few sales are mailing at 3½c to 6c for layer, and 4½c to 5c for cutstalk. These prices are for goods upon the two first steamers, the third boat, Armenia, being offered at 3½ to 5½c for layers. The Pacific coast raisin combination appear to have wearied of waiting for orders upon the previously established basis, telegrams from California to-day advising a break in the price to 3½c for three-crown in 50 lb. boxes, 4½c for four-crown, $1 25 for three-crown London layer, and $1 50 for four-crown do. These values, however, are regarded by the trade as rather extreme, particularly in the face of the lower views expressed by outside packers, and it is hardly probable that important orders will be placed upon the quoted basis. There is some little enquiry for spot old, with previous values realized. There is no improvement in the demand for old crop currants, and the absence of attention influences an easier market; prices, however, are not quotably lower. The nominal values are 2½c in bbls. and in cases. New crop per Scotia are held to arrive at 3½c and 3¾c for the two styles of packages respectively, and per Borghese 3¾c and 3¾c. Prunes remain quiet, with, however, no change in the quotations for either spot or forward goods. Citron is improving in demand, and the market is firm at 8½c for good ordinary quality. Dates and figs are unchanged. Tarragona almonds are offered at 14c and Ivica are maintained at 16c; the demand, however, is limited. No further change is noticed in the position of shelled. Walnuts, filberts and Brazil nuts are in moderate jobbing request at unchanged prices.

THE CAPTURED LIGHTER.

A Story of Brazil.

The American ship Reindeer swung at her anchorage in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro, and to her side was lashed a lighter, into which the larger vessel was discharging her cargo of flour that had been brought from the United States.

Tending the slings and tackles at the rail was the second mate, assisted by Howard Deering, ordinary seaman, a lad of eighteen years.

An "ordinary seaman," be it understood, is one who has passed the several grades of "green land," "boy" and "first-class boy," and has but one more step to take ere he becomes an "able seaman"—one who is supposed to be capable of performing any duty required of a sailor, aside from navigation.

The younger mariner, however, claims to simply know how to "hand, reef, and steer." "Hand," in this instance, means to furl a sail, while to "reef" is to take in

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1894.

NOT DIGNIFIED.

It is beneath the dignity of the Government to play with the by-elections. The Ministers are, of course, not responsible for the gossip of their friends, but neither can they pretend not to have heard that gossip. It is a matter of public report that certain constituencies are to be opened and certain by-elections brought on. The country should now know something authoritative on this point. If these ridings are to be opened, let due notice be given and the thing done; and, in any case, the seats now vacant should be filled at once. It has the appearance of playing seats in Parliament like so many party pawns to see these uncertain manœuvres as the balances of chance seem to dip now this way and now that; and the dignity and authority of Parliament is imperilled thereby. The Government should announce its programme in the matter and let the necessary by-elections be held.

A DODGING DEFENCE OF PARTIZANSHIP.

Ex-Senator Ingalls, one of the pyrotechnic talkers that the West sent to Washington in the days before Populism had arisen and taught the farmers to take their politics seriously, has been speaking in favor of "partizan politics." He might as well have harangued his audience in favor of atmospheric air. There is no known kind of politics to-day in a free country except partizan politics. The party system is commensurate with free government. It is not the party system that men of independent political thought assail, but the abuse of that system—its removal from the tool-chest to the cushion of the "mace." Hence it is pure idleness for a man to defend partisan politics as opposed to some imaginary kind of politics in which there shall be no parties; and it would be as harmless as it is idle, if it were not done with the air of one scoring a point for rabid partisanship and against independence in politics. It is as if a man were to stand before a blazing building where fire has thrown off the yoke of servitude and seized a ruinous mastery, and attempt to argue the firemen into inaction by pointing out to them that fire is a necessity of modern life. This is precisely the kind of thing that a staunch partizan like Mr. Ingalls does when he sententiously says such things as these:

Every man and woman should be a partisan politician.

I know of no way this country can be carried on successfully without partisan officers.

Partisan politics put the best men into office.

Yet he imagines that this sort of fling makes against the Independent, for he goes on to say some further things of similar vagueness intended to cast ridicule upon the voter who believes in the responsibility of the individual judgment. "There is no room in this country for a man who is too good to belong to a partisan party," he says. "When a man advertises himself as too good to associate with his fellow man, he is a rascal." And so on. He is now plainly scoring the Independent, having made a decent foothold for himself by bombastically asserting that partizan politics is a necessity of the day. But his foothold is out of range of his target. Independence in politics does not mean the banishment, but the intelligent use, of party organization. Men, desirous of securing any reform, can do nothing on polling day until they either ally themselves with some party pledged to that reform or else organize to fight for it, single-handed. The difference between an Independent and a partizan is that the Independent decides upon his position toward all public questions individually and without reference to previous alliances; while the partisan thinks that his whole duty in politics is comprised in faithfulness to his party. That this is the kind of party service which Mr. Ingalls has in his mind is shown by the language he falls into when once he has got away from his "atmospheric air" position and begun to let out his venom against independence in politics. "The best way for a man to discharge his political duties is to belong to a partisan party, no matter what party he belongs to," is one of his fine, wholesome statements. "No matter what party he belongs to!" Issues are nothing. The main thing is that he shall not think and shall not insist that the battle of politics be for something more than the "spoils." Get him in the ranks; load him down with prejudice and passion and the false loyalty that owes its allegiance to a party junta. Another of Mr. Ingalls' maxims of the same kind is that "the best citizen is a man who chooses his party and fights for it and its principles." What if it deserts its "principles"? Then the best citizen is the man who punishes it for recreancy and makes the most effective fight he can for the "principles" no matter what becomes of the party. And such a man is an Independent and not a partisan. What would be really interesting would be a straightforward defence of the thing commonly known as "partyism"—an ignoble passion with few sponsors but far too many devotees.

TWO COMMENTS.

The Regina Leader prints two snap-shot editorials on its last page. One points out that "Mr. Laurier's visit has been a disappointment to everybody," and the other runs thusly:

THE TARIFF.

Elsewhere we give some comparative tariff figures. Further steps in tariff reform will now be taken.

1. Implements. 2. Barb wire. 3. Binder twine. 4. All lumber, dressed as well as half dressed. 5. Coal oil. 6. Iron. We should like to see all these in the FREE LISTS.

Which, think you, is the editor's real comment upon the Laurier visit? And, by the way, a certain Mr. Davin will be after the Leader, for he has expressed himself as pleased with the Foster revision of the tariff, "clerical errors" and all.

CELESTIALS GOING HOME.

The Scene They Presented at the Station—The Customs Officers Puzzled.

The great event of the morning at the Windsor Street Station yesterday was the loading of four special extra cars with 151 Chinese men, women and children returning to their fatherland. Between the persons and the baggage of these Celestials the railway officials had to hustle at no mean pace. The common herd went quietly along glad to get another seat or couch. Going throughout the length of the four cars one could see the very inferior type of Mongolian that was in transport.

Countenances of fierceness, cunning, stupidity and every contemptible quality on every hand. Of course the opium pipe, but a good many were smoking cigars and cigarettes. They had a good deal of baggage with them too. Some wooden boxes met with an accident and got broken. The contents of one puzzled the United States Customs people. They could not make out whether it was salted pig, smoked fish or embalmed heathen. But there was no time to call in an expert to decide. A hammer and nails had to be found to re-close the mystery.

In the State sleeping car a grandee with his spouse, a dark girl dressed in blue, offered themselves for admiration. "No Englese," he said to a STAR reporter. But madam exhibited the baby to a few platform spectators and seemed very pleased. They were evidently superior people and their faces had well defined features and were not of that uniformly amorphous kind of the common heathen Chinee.

DOMINION ALLIANCE.

Favors a Provincial Plebiscite and a Thorough Police Investigation.

The executive of the Quebec Provincial Branch of the Dominion Alliance held a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The meeting was largely attended by representatives of the various churches. The secretary in his report brought up the question of a plebiscite in the province of Quebec. A circular had been issued by the Alliance to the various temperance organizations of the province as to the desirability of taking a plebiscite. Of the 100 replies received, a majority were in favor of a plebiscite being taken.

The following resolution was adopted:

That this Alliance records its profound sympathy with Mr. W. W. Smith, president of the Brome County Alliance, in the recent murderous assault made upon him, resulting from his earnest and successful efforts in the cause of law and order in the County of Brome, and this Alliance trusts that full justice will be meted out to the perpetrators of this atrocious crime.

The Alliance also unanimously adopted the following resolution regarding the investigation into the police force:

That this Alliance endorses the demand for a thorough investigation into the police force, and is impressed with the necessity of having the investigation conducted by citizens outside of the City Council; and the Alliance calls upon all temperance electors to see that their names are duly recorded upon the voters' lists, now being revised, and it will render all possible assistance to this end.

ATTENDANCE AT THE SCHOOLS.

A Considerable Increase as Compared With the Past Year.

The Protestant public schools have now been opened for a week since the summer vacation closed, and Mr. Arthy, the superintendent, has received reports from all but two, the Boys' High School and the Britannia School. The attendance in all the schools has increased very materially, and the Boys' High School returns will show even larger increases. The attendance figures are as follows:

|---|---|
| Ann Street School | 575 |
| Berthelet Street School | 457 |
| Dufferin School | 602 |
| Hochelaga School | 83 |
| Lansdowne School | 658 |
| Lorne School | 580 |
| Mount Royal School | 678 |
| Riverside School | 627 |
| Royal Arthur School | 470 |
| Sherbrooke Street School | 423 |
| Victoria School | 542 |
| Senior School | 179 |
| Girls' High School | 445 |

The increase in attendance will, it is expected, be more marked before the end of the month.

CITY ITEMS.

Pierre Berard was killed by falling down the hold of the SS. Lake Winnipeg, and not the SS. Parkmore as stated.

A reception will be tendered the officers and men of the French man-of-war 'Nielly' at Sohmer Park this evening under the auspices of St. Jean Baptiste Society.

Mr. Henri Belanger, grocer, at the corner of Laprairie and Grand Trunk streets, states that the bread he purchased from J. Normandin, of Longueuil, was of the required weight.

On the evening of September twenty-fifth Miss Jessie Alexander, the well-known elocutionist, will give an entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the St. James Methodist Church.

To-morrow, September 13, the G. T. R. train for Huntingdon, which usually leaves Montreal at 6.35 a. m., will leave at 7 a.m. This is done to accommodate those desiring to spend the day at the Huntingdon exhibition.

BUTCHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Butchers' Association held a meeting in their hall on Notre Dame street last evening, Mr. Jos. Denis, the president, occupying the chair. A petition for the improvement of Rachel street, from Papineau to Frontenac street, was drawn up and will be presented. The horse-racing protest was settled, Caron Bros. being awarded the prize. The committee of management of the picnic were tendered a vote of thanks for the success of the outing, the receipts being $500.

THE SIR DONALD.

A number of gentlemen interested in the Deep Sea Mission held a business meeting in the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon. Mr. Stewart Munn read a letter from Dr. Grenfell, dated Battle Harbor, Labrador, August 16, in which he says that they were just putting the Sir Donald on a slipway, and that the Albert had been despatched to St. John's, Newfoundland, for a new shaft. The doctor ends by referring to the kind way in which they have been received.

BAZAAR AT ST. HENRI.

A bazaar is being held this week at St. Henri for the benefit of the orphans of that place. The affair is being conducted by the ladies of the parish, assisted by several gentlemen, the chairman being Captain Joseph Giroux. A miniature production in tin of the St. Henri Church by F. Seguin, of St. Henri, is offered for sale on one of the tables.

THE HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

THE PRIZES AWARDED IN THE VARIOUS SECTIONS.

The Excellent Display in the Victoria Skating Rink Well Patronized—Admirers of Flowers and Fruits.

The Horticultural Show last evening was all in complete order, and was well patronized by the public. The judges worked hard all the afternoon at their duty, but the number of the exhibits is so great that they were unable to finish their work before the evening. However, their task has proceeded as far as follows:

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

How it Works in Britain, According to Mr. Dayton.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The New York Evening Post has the following: Judging from the experience of Postmaster Dayton, there would be no surer way of hastening the progress of civil service reform than by shipping the chief spoilsmen to England, with instructions to study the workings of the merit system where it has been in operation for many years. Mr. Dayton is most frank and emphatic in his confessions. To a question by the London correspondent of the Times whether there is enough difference between English and American practice regarding the civil service in the department to attract his attention, he replied: "Yes, my admiring attention. It is hard for an American to realize how completely the notion of partisanship, offensive or defensive, has been eradicated from the civil service here. The postmaster-general is, of course, a politician, who retires with a change of administration. When he is an important public and party man, like Mr. Morley, he has a seat in the cabinet. But think of it! Out of the 125,000 men in the postal service of Great Britain, not to mention 16,000 women, he is positively the only individual whose tenure of place can be affected by any political change." Mr. Dayton says further that he has devoted some time to investigating this particular question, and that the employés are "perfectly free to hold party views, and I find some of my friends among them belonging to political clubs, equivalent to the Manhattan or Union League at home, but of aggressive partisanship I can't discover a trace. It isn't that they dissemble it; they simply don't feel it—don't know what it is." Evidently this was an unexpected revelation to the postmaster of New York, though the facts are perfectly familiar to every student of governmental methods. It may be hoped that Mr. Dayton will return cured of the absurd idea with which he announced his acceptance of the office, that in filling vacancies he should always give the preference to members of Tammany Hall.

WORKED THE STUDENTS.

A Map of Part of Quebec Province Made.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR]

KINGSTON, Ont., September 13.—Captain Lee, with the following cadets of the Royal Military College, have arrived home from Laprairie: Messrs. Brigstock, Beatty, Gibbs, Gordon, Lefevre, Osler, Thacker and Tyrwhitt. They made one of the best typographical surveys ever made in Canada, taking in a triangular piece of land which ran from St. Lambert to Dundee on the front and as far back as Marieville and Freighsburg, which contain about 1800 square miles. The work was for the Dominion Government and it was the first time that the Government had ever employed a large number of graduates from the R. M. C. The map will be 21 feet long and 9 feet high. While at Pigeon Hill on his survey trip, Captain Lee was presented by an old settler with a muzzle-loading Springfield rifle found at the time of the Fenian raid.

HAMLIN ON HIS WAY EAST.

He Will Stop in Montreal and Look Into the Chinese Smuggling Matter.

WASHINGTON, D.C., September 13.—Telegrams were received at the Treasury Department from Assistant Secretary Hamlin, saying that he had arrived at St. Paul and would be in Duluth to-morrow. He will come east at once, stopping on the way at Sault Ste. Marie and Detroit, and on Friday will reach Montreal, where he will investigate the Chinese immigration business which has caused so much trouble on our northern border. This will complete Mr. Hamlin's tour of inspection, and he will return to Washington.

A FINE CHURCH BURNED.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

BELLEVILLE, Ont., September 13.—On Sunday St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at the corner of Hotel and Church streets was destroyed by fire. Col. Lazier's servants, who slept on the west side of the adjoining house, were awakened by the crackling of burning wood, and on looking out of the window saw the flames bursting from the southeast corner of the church. They at once awakened Col. and Mrs. Lezier, who at once gave the alarm. The fire brigade responded as quickly as possible, but when they arrived the whole interior was a mass of flames and little or nothing was done to check their progress. Dr. Eakins was also one of the first to discover the fire and give an alarm. The firemen worked at the flames for about two hours, but the flames could not be quelled, and what was once one of Belleville's most handsome churches, was nothing but bare walls and charred timbers.

The church was built under the pastorship of Rev. Mr. Smith, who was succeeded in 1873 by the present minister, Rev. M. W. Maclean. No one seems able to advance a reasonable theory for the origin of the fire. The janitor left the church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and everything was all right then. The loss on the building and contents will total between $32,000 and $35,000. The insurance is $18,100.

MAIL CLERKS MEET.

OTTAWA, September 12.—The sixth annual convention of the Railway Mail Clerks Association of Canada began here yesterday. Representatives are present from almost all the divisional points in Canada. A banquet was tendered the visiting mail clerks by the members of the Ottawa division in the Russell House last evening. All the sessions are to be private. An emergency meeting of the Executive Committee was held yesterday to permit Chairman Armstrong to present his report without delay, that he might leave the city at once to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law in Montreal.

LOCKJAW FROM A PIG.

WEST GROVE, Pa., September 12.—Lockjaw from a pig is the case that is puzzling local physicians. Fred Jacob is a young man who has been largely engaged in raising pigs on the Conard farm. He was doctoring a pig several days ago which had lockjaw, and some of the saliva from its mouth got on Jacob's face. He grew ill soon afterward, and is now in a critical state suffering with lockjaw.

ELECTIONS IN HAWAII.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 12.—The President of Hawaii has designated October 29 for the election of members of the Legislature of the Republic, and registration of voters has already begun, the natives in some districts registering in considerable numbers, while in others they are holding back in hopes of a restoration of the monarchy.

FAVORS PENNY POSTAGE.

LONDON, September 12.—The Daily Chronicle publishes an interview of a column and a half with the Canadian Postmaster-General, Sir A. P. Caron, and attaches great importance to his statement that Canada favors the imperial penny postage system. Sir A. P. Caron said: "One thing alone has blocked the way up to the present, and that is the colonial interdict. In this country there is a practical unanamity in favor of it. It is quite a mistake to suppose that Canada would object to a penny rate from England to the Dominion. On the contrary, we would welcome it. It is part of the onward march of civilization. The Chronicle thereupon says: "Here, then, is an opportunity for their first step in the direction of Imperial penny postage, for which all are waiting. Canada puts no obstacle in the way. Then let the beginning be made with her. Let penny postage be established to the Dominion and to such other colonies as do not object, and the day of the penny rate throughout the whole Empire will not be long delayed. The reform is one which would work its own way if only given a chance to prove its value. The Canadian Postmaster-General was also questioned in regard to the proposed Pacific cable, and from his replies it was evident that material progress had been made with the view of carrying out the recommendations of the recent Intercolonial Conference.

ADULTERATION FRAUDS.

And the Aggregate Cost of the Same in the States.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—The question of adulteration of food and drugs in this country is discussed in detail in the report of Special Agent Alexander J. Wedderburn of the Agricultural Department. After referring to the fact that the public ideas of adulteration of food are in many cases very much exaggerated, the report says: It has been proved that adulteration is general and increasing, and that no kind of food, drugs or liquors is free from the finishing touches of the manipulators. Whether the intent be criminal and vicious or simply fraudulent, the result is the same, and the people will continue to suffer until the strong hand of federal law steps in to supplement and support the action of the state.

The extent of adulteration is fully 15 per cent., of which two per cent. is of a character injurious to health. But to furnish 65,000,000 people with food, drink, and drugs costs not less than $6,760,000,000, and it is found that the amount of adulteration reaches the immense sum of $1,014,000,000 annually. As at least two per cent. of the whole is deleterious to health, $135,200,000 constitutes the annual amount paid by the American people for sacrifice of their lives or injury of their health. As there exists no more serious or exhaustive drain upon the resources of the people than the adulteration of their food and drug products, the Federal Government should enact a law to prevent the transportation of misbranded, poisonous, or deleterious food and drug products from one state or territory into another, not interfering with the police powers of the state. This being done, the various state laws would become effective, and by systematic effort on the part of officials or honest dealers and manufacturers adulterations would be produced to a minimum and millions of dollars saved annually to the country. The cost of execution of such a law would be moderate and should be borne by the manufacturers of food and drug products.

LOOK AT THE MOON FRIDAY.

Partial Eclipse Will Be Visible Over All of North and South America.

NEW YORK, September 12.—At this opportune time when so many things—such as gubernatorial booms and pantatas—are being eclipsed, the moon has decided to be in the swim. She will favor the country by having a partial eclipse fairly early in the evening of September 14, and it will last for almost two hours, thus insuring lasting cricks in the necks of enthusiastic amateur astronomers. The affair will begin at 9.36 o'clock. The first part of the eclipse will be visibible from the western parts of Europe and Africa and over all of North and South America. But before it has lasted long the Europeans will be out of it, and the show thenceforth will be a purely American one. At 10.30 o'clock the eclipse will be at its maximum, and at 11.28 the moon will triumphantly emerge from the shadow.

BECOME A ROMAN CATHOLIC.

The Rev. Walter Clayton Clapp Leaves the Episcopal Church.

NEW YORK, September 12.—One of the most prominent of the High Church Episcopalian divines in this country has announced his conversion to Roman Catholicism, and in all probability will become a priest. Walter Clayton Clapp, the clergyman referred to, is the son of a Baptist deacon. He is a graduate of Amherst College and the General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church of this city. He has always been an ultra-ritualist, and was for some time professor of exegesis in the Nashotah Theological Seminary in Wisconsin. He has recently returned from Rome, and it is believed that it was while there that he finally made up his mind. At present he is stopping with the Paulist Fathers on Fifty-ninth street.

A WEIGHTY PETITION.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, September 12.—The big delegation of the Roman Catholics of Winnipeg and surrounding district that yesterday marched in a body to the Government buildings, to lay before Premier Greenway and his ministers their petition for the re-establishment of separate schools, was received in the Legislative chamber by the Premier and Hon. Messrs. Cameron and McMillan. After the petition had been read Premier Greenway promised a reply in writing at an early date, and the gathering dispersed. The petition was a monster one. It was 320 feet long, weighed three pounds and bore 50,000 signatures.

turday's Race for the Longueuil Subscription Cup.

On Saturday afternoon a race will take ce between the yachts Lulu and Good ck. The boats are now being put into ing trim. The race, should good full nds prevail, will prove to be the most exing yachting contest that has ever taken ce in Longueuil waters, or in fact in any nadian water. The Lulu, owned by Mr. Ryan, will be sailed by Mr. Alex. Irving l a picked crew. The builder and ner of the Good Luck, Mr. Mabe, will l his boat, with the Eliott brothers as rt of his crew. It would be impossible find more fearless sailors amongst our chting amateurs.

What is desired for Saturday is a full sail eze to make things lively. As both ners of the boats have travelled up the nal at different times to race with the ys on the lake, with true sporting spirit, would be a fine opportunity for the owner the Zania to come down and contest for e cup and honors.

Pointe Claire Notes.

Last night, Mr. Chas. Archbald gave a chting party. The night was a perfect e on the lake and the moon and stars re doing their utmost to make it more autiful.

Returning about half-past ten the party re entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. avidson at whose house supper was rved.

The following composed the party, Miss rchbald, Mrs. Chas. Davidson, Miss May cFariane, Miss Hansley, Ottawa; Messrs. has. Davidson, Chas. Archbald, Jas. Kingorn, A. McFarlane, Geo. Napier, A. Fry, Thomas and V. Pelletier.

LACROSSE.

his Evening Will Be the S. A. A. A. Theatre Night.

This evening the Shamrocks will hold heir second annual theatre night at the ueen's, and, judging by the enthusiasm isplayed by the members of the large horus who are to occupy the "gods," the Cross Roads of Life" will be enhanced in splendid degree by the numerous horuses, duets, quartettes and solos, hich will be rendered at the close of each ct.

The Association has achieved many triumphs on the field, and they are now most nxious to score a victory in their recent enture of a theatre night. Mr. Collier is a ember of the Shamrock Club, and the embers are anxious to give him a right oyal welcome, as well as desirous that all heir patrons should join them in the undertaking.

Another Big Match.

Some time ago it was announced that he Shamrocks and the Capitals would meet gain this season. The match is now been definitely fixed. A meeting of the officials of both clubs was held yesterday, and it was agreed to play one match. The game, which will be played in October, as early as possible, will be for a $200 trophy.

Long Throws.

The Crescents will turn out to practice every evening this week on their old grounds, Delorimier avenue, to prepare for Saturday's match with the Young Shamrocks.

THE WHEEL.

To Ride in Quebec.

Montreal will be represented at the bicycle races, which take place to day in Quebec, by the following list:

E. L. Weatherhead—Quarter, open; mile [2.50 class]; mile, provincial championship; 2 mile [six minute class] and 3 mile provincial championship.

A. Martineau—Quarter mile, open; mile [2.50 class]; half mile, open; mile, provincial championship; two mile [six minute class]; one mile, open; 3 mile provincial championship.

R. D. Macphail—Mile, novice; half mile, open; mile, provincial championship; 2 mile [six minute class], and 3 mile, provincial championship.

R. J. Smart—Quarter, open; mile [2.50 class]; half mile, open; mile, provincial championship; one mile, open; 3 mile, provincial championship.

R. Soutar—One mile, novice; mile [2.50 class]; 2 mile [six minute class.]

Radway Breaks the Canadian Hundred Mile Record.

TORONTO, September 12.—F. F. Radway, of the London Bicycle Club, succeeded in reducing the hundred mile record yesterday. It previously stood at 5 hours, 32 minutes, 0 1-5 seconds, by Nasmith, of Toronto. Radway reduced it to 5 hours, 1 minute, 10 2-5 seconds. The track was perfect, weather cold and half a gale of wind blowing.

The Trial Heats at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., September 12.—The preliminary trial heats for to-morrow's bicycle races were run off yesterday morning. The wind was strong and the time of the heats was very slow. Bliss did not get a place in the half mile open. Tyler was shut out in the mile handicap, and Allen, the crack class "A" man, finished at the rear of the bunch in the class "A" mile handicap.

ATHLETICS.

Canada Will be Represented at the A. A. U. Games.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The entries for the national championship games of the Amateur Athletic Union, to be held at Travers Island next Saturday, closed yesterday with Secretary James E. Sullivan. The entry of every athlete of prominence in America has been received, and if the weather is favorable it is quite probable that several records will be broken. In the 100 and 220 yard dashes the speediest sprinters in the country will compete. Among the more prominent entered are C. W. Stage, of Cleveland, Ohio, the winner of the international sprinting championship; H. D. Carr, of Montreal, Canada; C. T. Bucholz, of Philadelphia; Cary F. Spence, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Thomas I. Lee, of the New York Athletic Club; D.W. Colville, of Syracuse, N. Y.; T. E. Burke, of Boston. The men who will try for championship honors in the middle distance runs are all well known and have scored many victories on the cinder path. Perhaps the best of the lot are Charles Kirkpatrick, the intercollegiate champion: C. G. Waldron, of Montreal, Canada, the Canadian champion; George F. Sanford, of Yale; F. Rowe, of Boston; R. H. Patterson, of the Xavier A. A.; M. McKenzie, of Philadelphia; E. W. Allen, of the New York A. C. In the hurdle race three record holders and four champions and exchampions will race. The best known men are "Fred" Puffer, the international champion; Stephen Chase, the record holder; E. H. Cady, of Yale, and W. F. Garcelon, of Boston.

The principal entries in the one and three mile walks are as follows: "Sam" Liebgold, the international champion; Frank Murray, the ex-champion; Thomas Letson, of the New York A. C.; W. A. Beaudette, of Boston. A fleet footed band of distance runners will face the starter in the distance event. Among the noted "stayers" are George W. Orton, the Canadian champion; "Tommy" Connell, the record breaker; "Ernie" Hjertberg, the steeplechase champion; E. C. Carter, the ex-champion; J. J. McKinnon, of Dorchester, Mass. The crack jumpers who have entered are M. F. Sweeney, the holder of the world's record; E. W. Goff, of the New York A. C.; "Dan" Long, of Boston, and L. P. Sheldon, of Yale.

The pole vault will be looked after, for Canada, by C. R. Watson, Montreal Lacrosse club.

THE TURF.

Yesterday was the Best of the Season at Gravesend.

NEW YORK, September 12.—A mammoth card and the delightful weather brought down the largest attendance of the Gravesend meeting yesterday and some of the best racing of the season was witnessed. The principal event of the day was the race for the Culver stakes. Domino was in a bad temper again and refused to get away, but after several breaks they finally got away and Lissak took the lead. Domino kept close up, and when the stretch was reached took charge of matters, having everything his own way the rest of the journey home and won in a gallop by an open length. Stonenell all but beat Lissak eight lengths for the place. Another big event on the programme was the race for the Sea Breeze stakes, for three-year-olds, which was captured by Galilee, who disposed of his field in summary fashion in the last sixteenth and won with something to spare by a length. The handicap race for three-year-olds and upwards was won by the old campaigner Banquet, who easily drew away from Saragossa in the stretch and won without apparent effort by a length. Summaries:

First race, ¾ mile—Flush, 97½ [Griffin], 7 to 2, won; Canterbury, 93 [Isom], 7 to 1, 2; Export, 93 [Brown], 10 to 1, 3. Time, 1.01. Enchanter, Buck Massie, Navahoe, Luscan, Lobengula, Countess, Achiever also ran.

Second race, 1 mile—Phœbus, 102 [Penn], 5 to 1, won; Kennel, 97½ [Griffin], 3 to 5, 2; Nicolini, 100 [Lamley], 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1.03½. Blossom filly, Curious, Parthenia, Velvet, Rose, Harry Kesler, Don Errerare, Milton T. also ran.

Third race, ½ mile—Banquet, 153 [Simms], 2 to 5, won; Saragossa, 106 [Reagan], 10 to 1, 2; Yo Tambien, 117 [Taral], 9 to 2, 3. Time, 1.53½. Sir Knight also ran.

Fourth race, ¾ mile—Domino, 116 [Taral], 2 to 7, won; Stonenell, 122 [Simms], 9 to 2, 2; Lissak, 91 [Isom], 12 to 1, 3. Time, 1.13¾. Three starters.

Fifth race, 1 1-16 mile—Galilee, 102 [Reiff], 6 to 1, won; Hydebrae, 108 [Hamilton] 7 to 1, 2; Priz, 102 [Penn], 30 to 1, 3. Time, 1.48¾. Declare, Figaro, Song and Pochohontas also ran.

Sixth race, 5 furlongs—Connoisseur, 114 [Taral], 5 to 1, won; Flying Dutchman, 118 [Simms], 7 to 5, 2; Golden Rod, 106 [Reagan], 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1.10. King Gold, Sabile, Hermanita also ran.

Seventh race, ¾ mile—By Jove, 104 [Reagan], 10 to 1, won; Piety, 94 [Shedd], 40 to 1, 2; Leonawell, 107 [Simms], 7 to 5, 3. Time, 1.16½. Zika, Clemtine, Potentate, Soprano, Billy S, Hibernia Queen, Pantata, Meridicant, Long Bridge, Marguerite, Milan also ran.

Eighth race, ¾ mile—Little Billy, 101 [Reiff], 2 to 1, won; Adelbert, [108] Simms], 5 to 2, 2; Miss Dixie, 100 [Isom], 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1.15¾. Anna Bishop, Beldenonio, Hardy Fox, Old Dominion, Integrity, Stonemason, Will Elliott, Jim Lee, St. Felix also ran.

A sale of horses in training took place in the paddock shortly after noon yesterday. The prices, considering the calibre of the stock offered, were high. Bassetlaw brought the highest price. He was knocked down to his former part owner, M. M. Allen, for $8750. Apprentice brought $700, Brookdale $5350 and Golden Dawn $1500. The others brought smaller prices.

The Terre Haute Track Re-opened Yesterday.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 12.—Yesterday was not an ideal day for racing on the opening day of the Terre Haute race-track. The rain made the track heavy and a strong northeast wind was blowing. The track became faster after every heat, and in the 2.10 trot Azote knocked off a second off her record, and Nightingale went the best mile of her life. The great Pilot Medium colt was a hot favorite in the Horse Review stakes, but in the 1st heat he made two bad skips and was sent back to ninth place for running. After that there was nothing in the field to give him any argument. Alix goes to-morrow to lower the Nancy Hank's mark, and Carbonate to beat Directly's pacing record of 2.10¼. Carbonate did an ½ to-day in 1¼ seconds.

A Well-known Australian Jockey Killed.

VANCOUVER, B. C., September 12.—Mail advices from Australia, by steamer Warrimoo, say that Thomas Corrigan, a famous jockey in Australia, was killed at the Caulfield steeplechase, while riding his well known jumper, Walter. His funeral extended two miles and a half in passing through the streets of Melbourne. Ordinary traffic was suspended. Royalty and the most prominent men in Australia contributed wreaths, while cable messages of regret were received from all over the world.

The Grand Circuit at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., September 12.—The second day's grand circuit races at the Philadelphia Driving Park were more interesting than the events of Monday. It took six heats to decide the 2.10 pace, Major Wonder winning first money after he had lost the first three heats.

The Huntingdon Races Open To-morrow.

The first meeting of the Huntingdon Driving Association will open to-morrow. As the annual fair opens to-morrow, visitors to Huntingdon these days will have plenty of events to take up their time. The track, which is a new one, is in good condition and, if the weather is fine, fast time may be expected. The card for the first day's race is composed of a green race for horses in the district of Beauharnois, a 2.45 class race and a half mile running race for which some well known horses are entered. On the second day, the first race on the card is for the 3.00 class, the next is for the 2.35 class, the programme is brought to a finish by the free-for-all. There will be bicycle races in addition to the horse racing.

Domino and Henry Navarre Will Race.

NEW YORK, September 12.—Secretary McIntyre has secured the meeting of Domino and Henry of Navarre in a special sweepstake, at a mile and one-sixteenth, on Saturday next. Each contestant will carry 122 lbs., and the weather and track must be good. The contest will definitely settle for all time the question of the four-year old supremacy.

A Well-Known Trotting Stallion Dead.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The fast trotting stallion, King Darlington, 2.16, died at the Fleetwood track early yesterday morning, from the effects of a cold contracted during his race here last Friday. The trouble went into inflammation of the kidneys and pneumonia, and after a three days' fight for his life the grand young horse succumbed early yesterday morning. He was owned by A. B. Darling, of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and was valued by his breeder at $30,000.

The Stallion Logan Stolen.

BOUND BROOK, N. J., September 12.—At an early hour yesterday morning the racing stable of Alex. Shields, near this place, was broken open and his best stallion, Logan, was stolen. The horse is well known in sporting circles, and valued at over $15,000. The horse was seen passing through the town in a northerly direction by several persons. A negro was riding him.

Farnham vs. St. Albans.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

FARNHAM, September 12.—The all absorbing topic of interest among sporting men is centred on the great baseball struggle at Granby on Friday next, when the champion Farnham team will meet St. Albans. Doheny and Moseley, who have played with Farnham all summer, will be the battery for the St. Albans Club upon this occasion. Farnham, therefore, is fully aware of the necessity of having a strong nine, and in order to maintain the dignity of champions no stone will be left unturned to give the Vermonters a warm reception. Two umpires will officiate, one from Farnham and the other from St. Albans. Under this arrangement fair play is guaranteed.

CHESS.

Lipke Leads in the Leipsic Tournament.

LEIPSIC, September 12.—Yesterday the twelfth round of the international chess masters' tournament was played, the results being as follows: Tiechmann and Berger drew; Schleichter beat Scheve by default; Lipke beat Weydlich; Walbrodt and Marco drew; Baird beat Suechling; Blackburne beat Seuffert; Tarrasch beat Janowsky; Whitemason vs. Zinkl and Mieses vs. Schiffers had to adjourn their games. In the afternoon the games left unfinished in previous rounds resulted as follows: Tarrasch beat Mason; Walbrodt beat Janowsky; Tiechman beat Marco; Schiffers beat Weydlich; Zinkl and Schiffers drew.

The score up to date is as follows:

| | Won. |
|---|---|
| Lipke | 10 |

CRICKET.

The Maritime Provinces Draw With Toronto.

TORONTO, September 12.—Yesterday the cricket match between the Maritime Provinces and Toronto was continued. Cameron and Bethune, of the Toronto team who were not out from the previous day, added 14 runs to the previous score making a total of 160 runs for the first innings. The visitors went to bat and only made 77 runs, being 83 runs behind. They followed right on and added 109, making a total of 186 for the two innings. The Torontonians again went to bat and secured 24 runs for 4 wickets. When six o'clock was called they had not made any more runs, and the match was declared a draw.

Notes.

At Chelmsford, on Wednesday, F. E. Bacon, of the Walthamstow Harriers, the one-mile and four-mile amateur champion, beat the world's record (W. G. George's) for one mile on a grass course. Starting from scratch he ran a great race, and won by two yards from H. F. Pash, of the Essex Beagles, who had 168 yards start. Bacon's time, 4 min. 19 sec., beats all previous performances for the distance on a grass track by one-fifth of a second. He accomplished the quarter-mile in 58 2-5 sec., the half-mile in 2 min. 3 2-5 sec., and the three-quarter-mile in 3 min. 13 2-5 sec.—Licensed Victuallers' Gazette.

ALLANS ANSWER BRASSEY.

Another Chapter in the Fast Atlantic Controversy.

LONDON, September 12.—The Allan Line people have a letter in to-day's Times denying the reflections cast upon their enterprise by Lord Brassey in his letter of September 8. Canada originally subsidized their steamers, they say, but when, for motives of safety, they lengthened the passage, the Government reduced the subsidy, "When the service ceased to pay," says the letter, "the Government refused any advance, even at the risk of the abandonment of the service. The only condition of the advance was a number of new steamers of the costliest type. For such steamers the subsidy was only a drop in the bucket toward our expenditures. For nearly ten years we had hung over our head this demand of Canada, which we could not meet and which hindered our giving a better service. The craving for the impracticable in part hindered the development of the Canadian trade, and the best is being made of such natural advantages as the St. Lawrence possesses." The Allans remind Lord Brassey in alluding to the Bryce-Douglass scheme of 1891, that he finally wrote to them that he and his colleagues were convinced of the necessity of direct support being given by the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk railways.

THE SPRING HILL MONUMENT.

SPRING HILL, N. S. September 12.—The unveiling of the miners' monument yesterday was an impressive occasion. At four o'clock Mayor Conway called the people to order, and in a short address stated the object for which they were called together. On a platform at the base of the monument, which was erected expressly for the delivery of addresses, were seated Sir John Thompson, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Hon. J. W. Longley, T. R. Black, M.P.P., Charles Tanner, M.P.P., A. E. Fraser, M.P. P., A. R. Dickey, M.P., Judge Townsend, and Judge Morse. The choirs of the churches gathered about the platform and sang Psalm C, and the Rev. D. Wright offered prayer. Sir John Thompson expressed his pleasure on seeing so many people gathered at the unveiling of the monument. He referred to the sad event which took place on February 21, 1891, and expressed his sympathy for the distressed. He gave the miners great credit for erecting such a monument. Mr. Tanner, M. P. P. of Pictou, strongly sympathized with the miners of Springhill. In Mr. Longley's opinion the great needs of our country were not supplied by any one class of workers, but by all classes. There were perils in all occupations of life, but the miner's life was especially fraught with perils. Mr. Arthur Dickey, M.P., united his sympathy with the others and extended congratulations on the erection of the memorial. Sir C. H. Tupper spoke of the evidence of universal sympathy shown by contributions which came from all parts of the country to relieve the distressed. Monuments were not unnecessary, for they expressed ties of sympathy which bound men together in one common brotherhood. The ceremony of unveiling being closed all united in singing the National Athem.

BRITISH COMMERCE.

LONDON, September 13.—The congress of the Associated Chambers of Commerce opened here yesterday. Sir Albert K. Rollit presiding. In his opening speech the presiding officer said that all current data concurred in promising a revival of the trade. It was one of the greatest of facts that any movement causing a relaxation of the tariff in America must be beneficial to British trade. Whatever England had suffered through bad times, other countries had suffered more. A delegate from the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce proposed a resolution declaring that British trade interests with Spain required that treaty reintions should be settled with the least possible delay.

The debate on this resolution disclosed the growth of a tendency towards reciprocity. Several delegates urged an increase of duty upon Spanish wines until a decreased tariff upon English goods were accorded by Spain. The resolution was adopted.

TROTTING AT GUTTENBURG.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The Guttenburg race track has been converted into a trotting course and is to be operated under the supervision of the Gentlemen's Driving Association which was re-organized yesterday by the election as president of M. T. Connolly, who represents the interests of Dennis McLaughlin. Ex-Coroner Geo. Brockner will be secretary and treasurer. John K. Carr, another stockholder of the old track is on the executive committee with Edward Farley and John E. McArthur, president of the Street and Water Board. Trotting races are to be held first and then running races against bicycle riders. It is believed that McArthur's presence on the executive committee means that an effort will soon be made to run races this winter, he being a prominent Republican leader and a lieutenant of Sheriff Toffey.

NICE CITIZEN SOLDIERS.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., September 12.—Gov. Markham has appointed a military court of enquiry to investigate the conduct of the state militia in this city during the recent railway strike. One company failed to obey orders when commanded to advance upon strikers, who had gathered about the railway station, and subsequently that company and two others were withdrawn from the field. The whole state militia has since been drawn into a bitter dispute. The court will convene in San Francisco on September 17 instant.

SNAKE THROWS A CYCLER.

POTTSTOWN, Pa., September 12.—William W. Bechtle, of Stowe, was out cycling on one of the old style high wheels, when he espied a snake wriggling across the road ahead of him. The next moment the tire struck the reptile, and a second later the rider bit the dust. Subsequent investigation revealed the snake wedged tightly beneath the seat, blocking the wheel.

The Mystery of a Diamond Ring.

Jack Bolton and George Staynor were boys together. Approaching the twenties they became inseparable, and when Jack started housekeeping with a matchless piece of femininity, George was a constant visitor at that temple of domestic bliss.

Now, Jack and George were a pair of opposites. Jack succeeded in everything; George was an uncompromising failure. It was Jack who carried off all the honors at college, Jack whose recitations and songs were received at the smoking concert with such favor.

Jack, whose little flyers in the stock market always came off as anticipated. On the contrary, George had an invariable way of having his fondest aspirations crushed. He was the Jonah in the football team and the hoodoo of his business associates. It depressed him; he became cynical and forgot how to laugh. All this changed, however, when one Lena Goldthwaite smiled on him. He began to think fate was capricious, yet was not one-sided in its decrees, and life became very sunny, indeed, for Mr. George Staynor, more especially as Lena was pretty and Lena had a rich maiden aunt whose will was drawn in her favor.

In an unlucky moment he introduced his life-long friend, Mr. Jack Bolton, and the fair but fickle Lena smiled on him no more.

When a year after she became Mrs. Bolton, poor George took to cultivating a taste for the cup that cheers with a most demoralizing effect on his person, his pocket-book and his morals.

Whether Mrs. Jack Bolton had a little twinge of conscience or not nobody knows, but it is a fact that she played the part of the good Samaritan, and she and her husband set about to reclaim their friend from the jaws of a certain very warm place, with the result that Mr. Staynor was a frequent visitor at their house.

Now, Mr. Bolton was renowned, among other things, in the possession of a magnificent diamond ring. It was really a famous stone, worth, perhaps, fourteen or fifteen hundred dollars, and it had often been the theme of several caustic remarks by that trustee of ill-luck, Mr. Staynor.

He would hold it was a crime for some people to be clad in purple and fine linen and be bejewelled when others were starving. He even went so far as to point out that poverty was an excuse for any crime, and starvation should steal rather than go hungry, and be justified therein.

All this I learned some time after my connection with this story, and when I made the acquaintance of Mr. George Staynor, but I will put the rest of it as told me by that gentleman.

"I had always hated the sight of that diamond ring; it had a peculiar fascination for me. I would watch the play of the light around the stone come and go; it would see its prismatic hues dance in and out until it seemed to me like a living thing, glaring at me, mocking me in my poverty and wretchedness, while its owner sat there, calm, content, happy with all that the world could give him in love, honor and wealth.

"What wonder, with the consciousness that my life was a failure; that the only woman I had cared for was the wife of that man, I felt the world was out of joint?

"All of sudden, one evening, when I was looking at it, as usual, it flashed across my mind 'why not possess it?' I was in great straits for money at the time, and it was easy enough; there were a thousand opportunities to take it, and who would suspect me?

"That night we were playing billiards. He had had his usual luck, I mine. I was incensed, and, and when he left the ring lying on the marble basin, after washing his hands, I took it.

"It was mine, mine at last! I hardly waited for the store to open next day; I might easily have been taken for a thief in my anxiety, but I did not think of that. I placed it upon the counter; I saw the peculiar smile of the jeweller as he said, 'This is not a diamond; it is nothing but paste.'

"I was dumb-founded. I examined it, and sure enough the beautiful brilliancy had vanished; it was nothing but a clear piece of common crystal. I was staggered. Even in this the curse of my life clung to me. But one night in my possession and the diamond had changed to paste!

"I determined to return it. Of course it was my intention to do so without being discovered, but oh, what a weary day it was! The thing burned in my pocket, and I longed to throw it away, yet a desire to see if it would regain its brilliancy overpowered me.

"At last the evening came. With a feeling of considerable nervousness and inner excitement I entered the drawing-room, only to receive another stagger, for in its usual place on the hand of Jack Bolton was the diamond ring, flashing in the brilliantly-lighted room with all its old fire.

"I felt in my pocket; there was the ring I had taken safely enough.

"Then there must be two rings, evidently, and one was genuine, the other imitation, and, with my usual luck I had taken the worthless one.

"'What's the matter with your ring?' I ventured to say, 'I never saw it look so bright.'

"'Ah! thereby hangs a tale,' said Jack. 'Some time since I was troubled by a feeling that some one was watching for an opportunity to steal my ring.'

"'I looked up quickly—did he know?

"'I tried to shake the impression off,' he continued, 'but without success, and finally I gave up wearing it. But I had had it so many years that I was

FUNERAL OF THE COUNT OF PARIS.

THE OBSEQUIES OF THE UNCROWNED KING.

Thousands of People Came to Stowe House to View the Remains of the Dead — The Interment at Weybridge.

LONDON, September 12.—A private mass for the dead Count of Paris was celebrated at Stowe House at 7 o'clock this morning. The ceremony was attended only by members of the late Count's family. Large crowds of people, from daybreak, this morning, commenced wending their way from Datford, Buckingham and other places to Stowe House, the English residence of the late Count.

There the remains were exposed in state, in the handsome marble hall at the home of the exiled head of the Royal House of Orleans and Bourbon, and a large number of people passed silently with uncovered heads before the bier, from the earliest morning hours until the signal was given to clear the hall and prepare for the removal of the body to the railroad station. The throngs which passed up and down the splendid avenue of trees leading to Stowe House were of all classes and degree of nearly all nationalities and creeds. French and English mingled with Germans and Americans; rich and poor elbowed each other; the deeply moved Royalist of France followed behind the tourist of many lands, all bent upon reaching the same goal, the marble hall, draped with violet velvet besprinkled with fleur de Lis, in which rested the mortal remains of the descendant of a long line of Kings of France. The arrangements for the funeral were completed when, shortly after sunrise, a hearse drawn by six superb Flemish horses, arrived from London and were slowly driven to the secluded portion of the grounds. The early train from London also brought to Datford hundreds of notable people, including official or unofficial representatives of nearly all the nations of the world, and gathered there, during the day, were princes and princesses representing nearly every reigning family in Europe.

The funeral cortege left Stowe House at 7.30 o'clock, the body being conveyed in a hearse drawn by six horses. The hearse was followed by twenty carriages, containing the Princes and Princesses connected by ties of blood or marriage with the Orleans family. The procession was received at the railway station by the Mayor and municipal authorities of Buckingham. The blinds of the houses along the route to the station were closed, and the road was lined with silent spectators. The special train conveying the body started for Weybridge at 9.30. The cars were all draped in black.

The funeral train arrived at Weybridge at noon. It had been preceded by four special trains from London bearing the Duke of York, the Duke of Connaught, the Marquis of Lorne and a large number of the French nobility. A procession was formed at the station and the body was taken to the Church. The Duc d'Orleans and the other princes of the family walked immediately behind the hearse.

In the procession the Duke of York was accompanied by Prince Hermann of Saxe-Weimar and Prince Philippe of Saxe-Coburg. The Duke of York wore his naval uniform. The Emperor of Germany and most of the other European royalties were represented.

The coffin was received at the door of the Roman Catholic Church (which formerly contained the remains of King Louis Philippe of France, his consort and his daughter-in-law, the Duchess of Orleans), by Monsigner Hulst, who was attended by a number of priests and acolytes. Monsigner Hulst and his companions preceded the procession into the church, the Duke d'Orleans occupying the position of chief mourner. The church which is small was crowded. When the coffin had been placed in front of the altar, Cardinal Vaughan and the Bishop of Southwark, the Right Rev. John Butt entered the sanctuary, a great silver crucifix being before them and the services began. Two bannerettes, presented by the young Royalists of France, were placed on either side of the coffin which was covered with tricolors.

The music was taken from Spohr's "Last Judgment," and all of the solemnities of the church were observed. The services were concluded with the pronouncement of an absolution by Cardinal Vaughan, after which the body was placed in the vault near the altar.

SWORDS' ALLEGED TORTURERS

They Are Arrested and Taken to Brockville.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

BROCKVILLE, September 12.—John Brady, Hugh Brady, Eugene Brady, three brothers, and John Murphy are the four men named by John Swords as his assailants, in his evidence made a few days ago, in connection with the outrageous attack upon him some time ago, in which his feet were burned and he was otherwise brutally tortured by four men, who also stole $150 from him. As the matter was taken in hand by the Crown authorities, yesterday Chief Rose went down to Kemptville and arrested the men, who were brought here last night. All are well known and well-to-do farmers, neighbors of Swords, and the arrests naturally created no end of excitement around Kemptville. The men express great indignation, disclaiming any knowledge of the outrage altogether. Swords is still confined through the blisters on his feet, and likely will be for a couple of weeks yet, and was, consequently, unable to come to Brockville to appear against the men in the preliminary examination. They were brought before Police Magistrate Deacon, and as they are heavy land owners around Kemptville and not likely to "get out," were liberated on heavy bail to appear as soon as the old man sufficiently recovers to be brought here.

THE GREAT CANAL.

It Will go on at Once, According to the News From Paris.

LONDON, September 12.—The correspondent of the Standard at Paris says the issue of new Panama Canal shares has been postponed from September 18 to September 22.

"The names of the president and directors of the new company are not yet publicly known, but I am assured that they are men of the highest standing, whose presence on the Board will inspire the confidence of the public" the correspondent says. "The engineer at the head of the technical department, too, is a man of the highest standing in his profession, and his capacity for good organization is generally recognized. Thirty million francs will be expended in the first instance at the Cumebra cutting. It is estimated that the present issue will suffice to carry on the works for eighteen months, perhaps longer. Several thousand workmen are already assembled at Panama, awaiting the resumption of the work on the canal. M. Gautron, liquidator of the canal company, and M. Le Marquis, the representative of the bond-holders, will send a circular to the old share and bond-holders giving particulars concerning the new issue, and offering them preference in the allotment."

LAURIER AT VICTORIA.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

VICTORIA, B. C., September 12.—Hon. Wilfred Laurier addressed one thousand people in the new market building on Monday night. The enthusiasm was tremendous. Conservative in politics as the people of Victoria are, they gave Mr. Laurier such an ovation as it is seldom the good fortune of political leaders to receive. The hall was elaborately decorated with flags and bunting presenting a scene of beauty and animation. Dr. Milner, President of the Local Liberal Organization, occupied the chair, and around him were grouped the leading Liberals of the city. An address was presented to the leader by Mr. Milner, in behalf of the Liberals of Victoria and vicinity. Mr. Laurier's address was in the same strain as those delivered en route. At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. and Madame Laurier held an informal reception. Mr. and Madame Laurier attended a reception given in their honor at Government House during the afternoon.

CHOLERA STATISTICS.

These Are the Figures Compiled in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 12.—In this city from September 1 to 7, 146 new cases of cholera and 101 deaths from that disease have been recorded.

From August 26 to September 1, in the Government of Petrickof, there were 607 cases of cholera and 359 deaths from that cause.

During the same period in the Government of St. Petersburg, 287 cases of cholera were reported and there were 114 deaths from the disease.

In the Government of Novgorod, between the same dates, 229 cases of cholera were recorded and 109 deaths from that sickness occurred.

In other places from August 19 to September 1, there were 1126 cholera cases and 527 deaths.

In the Government of Warsaw, from August 19 to 25, 1383 new cases were announced and 640 deaths reported.

In the Government of Kielce, during the same period, 1017 cases of cholera and 571 deaths were recorded, in the Government of Random, there were 718 cases and 360 deaths from that disease.

This makes a total from the several Provinces of Russia of 5513 new cases and 2881 deaths.

CABINET CHANGES.

They Will Affect Messrs. Curran, Wood and Dr. Montague, 'Tis Said.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, September 12.—There is a report current here to day that Solicitor-General Curran is to retire and be placed upon the Superior Court Bench in Quebec.

John F. Wood, Controller of Inland Revenue, it is said, will take the place of Mr. Curran as Solicitor-General. In the place of Mr. Wood, it is understood that Dr. Montague, M. P., will be Controller of Inland Revenue.

It is said that these changes will strengthen the Government in Western Ontario.

HIPPOLYTE FEEBLE.

An Attempt on His Daughters Life Failed.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The steamer Ozama, of the Clyde Line arrived early this morning from Haytian ports. Authentic and reliable reports from the Haytian capital state that President Hippolyte is in a very dangerous condition. He is extremely nervous and is suffering from heart trouble. Any sudden shock and excitement, it is said, endangers his life. In order to hasten this end, his enemies in the revolutionist party about August 20 also, attempted to assassinate the President's married daughter, who resides with him at his palace at Port au Prince. The attempt proved a failure. Hippolyte at once ordered the arrest of ten men among the revolutionists, whom he believed to be the instigators of the plot. These men were arrested and shot within twenty-four hours. Great excitement prevailed over the attempted plot to kill the President's daughter, and much trouble is anticipated, owing to the condition of the President and his expected demise.

A YOUNG ADVENTURER.

Picked up by the Carnegie Party and Taken Care of.

NEW YORK, September 12.—Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, the only woman who is a member of the N.Y. Yacht Club, set sail from New Port at 6 o'clock yesterday for this city in her yacht Bungeoness. They were about 3 miles south of Roton Point, Conn., and 5 miles from shore at 6 p.m., when Captain Fish espied a skiff near by with a tiny occupant at the mercy of the waves. It was found to contain a ten year old boy, who was feebly endeavoring to use the heavy oars. The lad was Geo. Bennett, and that his home was in Danbury, Conn. The lad said that he had gone to Roton Point with some excursionists. He said he saw the boats going by and wanted to go away in one of them. He will be sent home by Mrs. Carnegie to day.

FRANCE AND MADAGASCAR.

LONDON, September 12.—A despatch to the Daily News from Paris says: It is not the English, but the Americans who oppose the subjugation of Madagascar, by the French. The American trade in striped cloths in Madagascar is very extensive, and the Americans hold that the Patenotre treaty does not admit of a French protectorate over that country.

M. Paul de Cassagnac, writting to the Paris Autorite, advocates the permanent occupation of Madagascar by France. The Matin urges that the march of the French upon the capital of Madagascar be no longer delayed.

DEBS VS. SARGENT.

CHICAGO, September 12.—President Eugene Debs, of the American Railway Union, started last night for Harrisburg, to attend the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, now in session there. He is accredited also with being the bearer of the wishes of the directors of the American Railway Union, that Grand Master Sargent shall be defeated for re-election. Those firemen who did not join the strike of the A. R. U. were undoubtedly held in line by the efforts of Sargent to keep his men out of the struggle, so he is one of the old brotherhood chiefs against whom Debs' opposition is aimed.

GOD PRESERVE THE CZAR.

VIENNA, September 12.—A despatch from Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, says that at a court banquet given there yesterday afternoon, Emperor Francis Joseph, who visited Lemberg to attend the exhibition, toasted the Czar, saying: "I drink to the health of my dear friend, Emperor Alexander, whom God preserve." The toast was warmly responded to, and the band played the Russian anthem.

MATHEWS FOR GOVERNOR.

SARATOGA, N. Y., September 12.—At the Populist convention here yesterday, Charles B. Mathews, of Buffalo, was nominated for the office of governor. The nomination was made by acclamation. Mr. Mathews, who is an oil refiner of Buffalo, refused to go into the Oil Trust.

SPANISH GRANDEE SUICIDES.

MADRID, September 12.—The Duke of San Carlos, Gentleman of the Bed Chamber of the King of Spain, committed suicide yesterday.

HON. B. F. ANGEL DEAD.

GENESEE, N. Y., September 12.—Hon. B. F. Angel died at his home in this village last evening at the age of 88. He was widely known and respected in the State. He had always been a strong Democrat and was a particular friend of President Cleveland. During the administration of President Pierce he served as consul to Honolulu, and at different times filled a number of offices in the county.

THE UNEASY SOUTH.

Bluefields Fugitives Have Arrived at Puntarenas.

NEW YORK, September 12.—Special despatches to the local papers from South America contain the following advices:

The Brazilian Monarchists are still chafing under the Republican form of government, and it is said that they have not yet abandoned the hope of re-establishing the monarchy. In fact, reports are current that they are at the present time engaged in organizing a revolution.

The Republic of Colombia has presented Nicaragua with a second protest, claiming sovereignty over the Mosquito Reservation under old Spanish titles.

The Herald's special from Lima, Peru, says: Cablegrams from the south announce that the forces of Pacheco Spedes have revolted. Many were killed and wounded and forty joined the constitutional forces. The rebel forces of Seminarce, in the north, are being energetically pursued by the Government troops.

NEW ORLEANS, September 12.—The Times-Democrat has the following from HORTICULTURAL SHOW—A BEAUTIFUL VARIETY.

THE HORTICULTURAL SHOW—A BANANA TREE.

Costa Rica, September 4: The following exiles from Bluefields, eleven in number, arrived in this port via Puntarenas yesterday afternoon: E. D. Hatch, the English acting vice-consul; H. S. Hodgson, native, clerk of the Supreme Court; S. A. Hodgson, Judge Supreme Court; Washington Glover, English, clerk; A. Markland Tyler, English, editor and owner of the Bluefields Messenger; G. R. Wiltbank, American, planter; W. H. Brown, English, merchant; J. N. Lampton, American, planter; Charles Paterson, native, vice-president; J. W. Cuthbert, English, Attorney-General and J. O. Thomas, English, judge Supreme Court.

These are all prominent in business in the Reservation, most of them leaving considerable property behind. The following is a verbatim report of the affair given by Mr. J. B. Lampton and corroborates in every particular.

"On the morning of August 26, twelve of us, all residents in Bluefields, and business men of more or less prominence, were notified by the Chief of Police in the service of the Nicaraguan government that Dr. Jose Madriz, special commander of the Mosquito Reservation, desired to see us. On arrival at the government building we were met by armed soldiers. The officer in command carried up our respective cards, and we were at once admitted into the Council Chamber. Here we were notified to consider ourselves as prisoners of Nicaragua, and a decree was read to the effect that we would have to proceed at once to Managua to answer certain charges. In the case of refusing to go we would be expelled from the country. On enquiring the nature of these charges, the Nicaraguan Minister of War told us that he was unable to give them, upon which the twelve present, including E. D. Hatch, W. A. Brown and G. B. Wiltbank arose to leave the country, on the ground, that the Atlantic coast had been declared by the Nicaraguan Government to be under martial law. The others agreed to go to Managua to answer whatever charges might be brought against them. We then asked for time to wind up our affairs. After consideration by the Nicaraguan officials, we were given one hour only to consult with our people and this had to be done in writing with copy ink and a copy taken by the Nicaraguan Government. At this time we were all penniless and without extra clothing or bedding as we were taken to Managua. From this point we were sent to Puntarenas. We have never been informed of any charge or charges against us; in fact, we are just as well informed as when we left Bluefields."

ARTILLERY MEN AT LAPRAIRIE.

Lieut.-Col. Wilson, R. C. A., Kingston, arrived up from Quebec last evening and left this morning for Laprairie, to complete arrangements for the field artillery camp, which opens to-morrow. Detachments from all the field batteries in Canada will attend the camp in succession. The horses for two gun detachments will be brought by A Battery, R. C. A., from Kingston, and two of the guns of the Montreal Field Battery will be taken over to Laprairie for the use of the camp. Major Drury, R. C. A., will act as umpire-in-chief for firing practice, and Captain Pelletier, R. C. A., as camp adjutant.

CITY SUES STREET RAILWAY.

The city has entered an action against the Street Railway Company to have the latter compelled to refund, according to contract, half the cost of grading on Craig street, Notre Dame street and St. Lambert Hill, which was performed at the city's expense. The amount claimed by the city in the present action is $20,000.

FOUND DROWNED.

The body of a man named Lafontaine was discovered floating in the Richelieu River, opposite St. Johns, this morning, in two feet of water. An inquest will be held. The deceased belonged to St. Johns.

LADAS ONLY GETS SECOND.

DEFEATED FOR THE ST. LEGER STAKES BY THROSTLE.

Matchbox was in the Running and Took Third Place — A History of the Great "Sellinger."

LONDON, September 12.—To-day at Doncaster the great St. Leger stakes, for three-year-olds, was ran. Sir F. Johnstone's Throstle won, Ladas; Lord Rosebery's Derby winner, second, and Sir F. Johnstone's Matchbox was third.

The other starters were the Duke of Portland's Amiable, Mr. Henry Milner's None the Wiser, Lord Bradford's Hornbeam, Lord Alington's Legal Tender, and the Duke of Portland's Galston. The betting was 50 to 1 against Throstle, 11 to 10 on Ladas, 20 to 1 against Matchbox, 50 to 1 against Amiable, 50 to 1 against None the Wiser, 50 to 1 against Hornbeam, and 500 to 1 against Legal Tender and Galston.

For place the betting was 10 to 1 against Throstle, 4 to 1 on Ladas, 50 to 2 on Matchbox, 2 to 1 against Amiable, 50 to 1 against Hornbeam, and 10 to 1 against Legal Tender and Galston.

The St. Leger, which was run to-day, was the one hundred and eighteenth one. The first St. Leger was won by Lord Rockingham's Allabaculia, ridden by J. Singleton. There were eight entries, five of whom started. From the very first the race was a success, but it was not until the new century celebration (eighteen hundred) that a Derby winner first triumphed on the old Town Moor of Doncaster. This distinction was achieved by Mr. Wilson's Champion, by Pot-8-os, who, ridden by Buckle, disposed of nine opponents.

From that year the St. Leger became more and more popular. In 1831, when Chorister won, it attracted an increased attendance, and according to all accounts, a tremendous crowd poured into the town from all quarters. And what a sport-loving crowd it was! The cautious Yorkshire Tyke doing his level best to worm out of a knowing young prig of a trainer's lad what was to win; then a South countryman taking in tow some jockey's "gentleman," while every yokel had his fancy and his bet. It goes on in very much the same manner nowadays. It was an exciting race, that St. Leger of '31." The Saddler had done so well in previous races that he stood first favorite for many weeks, and started at a 3 to 1 chance. Neither Spaniel nor Riddlesworth, who had respectively and Guineas were in the race, and Marius closely pressed the Saddler for favoritism at the finish. Chorister's price was 20 to 1. The parade was then, as now, a great feature, but with it associated a ceremony which, thank the pigs, has dropped out of date. The clerk of the course was wont to sermonize the jockeys on the virtues of patience and obedience when "drawn to the post." Sir David Baird, too, in his day made a point of addressing the Leger "jocks" when occasion required. Having got wind on "Chouster's" day that several false starts were likely to occur, the worthy baronet duly admonished the knights of the saddle relative to this rumor. In fact, Sir David's speech, though not in the words, was to the purport of one delivered by Sir Bellingham Graham in 1816, when the mare Dutchess of Leven won the Leger, and in which year he was steward. Having heard that some pranks were to be attempted at starting, when he got the jockeys assembled he thus addressed them: "Now, gentlemen, said he, when you are at the post you will be asked if you are 'ready,' and on a reply in the affirmative being given you will be asked to go; then when those who do not choose to go had better make the best of for they will not be allowed to have anything to do with the race.

WON THE DERBY

"Rockingham's race is said to have been the worst run St. Leger on record, and is chiefly noticeable from the fact that Squire Osbaldeston at the last moment created considerable confusion by changing his jockey, as the Squire had but Jim Robinson to John Watt, for Belshazzer, but did not intimate so much to his jockey until they had all weighed. He then made Robinson change jackets with Nicholson, the transfer being from "blue" to "green," and the famous Jim swore roundly thereat, declaring that he would not change again for the first duke in the land, then followed the years in which Touchstone, Queen of Trumps and Ellis carried off their respective "Sellingers," while two years later "Bill Scott," the jockey, became a series of brilliant triumphs. Since then many great turf battles have been fought. The following are the winners since 1870:

1870—Mr. T. V. Morgan's Hawthornden.
1871—Baron Rothschilds' Hannah.
1872—Lord Wilton's Wenlock.
1873—Mr. Merry's Mary Stuart.
1874—Mr. Launde's Apology.
1875—Mr. W. S. Crawford's Craigmillar.
1876—Lord Dupplin's Petrarch.
1877—Lord Falmouth's Silvio, by Blair Athol.
1878—Lord Falmouth's Jannette.
1879—Count Lagrange's Bayon d'Or.
1880—Mr. C. Brewer's b c Robert the Devil.
1881—Mr. P. Lorillard's br c Iroquois.
1882—Lord Falmouth's Dutch Oven.
1883—Duke of Hamilton's Ossian b c.
1884—Mr. R. C. Vyner's b c The Lambkin.
1885—Lord Hastings' b c Melton.
1886—Duke of Westminster's Ormonde.
1887—Lord Rodney's Kilwarlin, by Arbitrator.
1888—Lord Calthorpe's Seabreeze.
1889—Duke of Portland's b c Donovan.
1890—Duke of Portland's br f Memoir.
1891—Sir F. Johnstone's br c Common.
1892—Baron Hirsch's La Fleche.
1893—Mr. H. McCalmont's Isinglass.
1894—Sir F. Johnstone's Throstle.

WEDDING AT ST. EUSTACHE.

A large number of Montrealers left last evening for St. Eustache to take part in the marriage of Dr. L. M. Pelletier, of West Bay City, Michigan, with Miss Evelina Champagne, daughter of Judge Champagne, of the Circuit Court, Montreal. The marriage was celebrated this morning and the church was tastefully decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony a déjeuner was served at Judge Champagne's residence. Mr. and Mrs. Pelletier will leave for West Bay City this morning.

PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION.

The American Pharmaceutical Association held its 42nd annual meeting in Asheville, N. C., last week. There were nearly 300 delegates present from all parts of the United States and Canada. Mr. W. C. Simpson, Raleigh, N. C., is the new president. The Montreal delegate, Mr. J. E. Morrison, was made third vice-president. Denver, Col., was selected as the next meeting place for 1895. It is expected that the Association will visit Montreal in 1896.

MET WITH AN INJURY.

Mr. J. W. Brakenridge, B. C. L., Secretary of McGill University, is confined to his room suffering from a severe injury to his right leg sustained by a fall. He was mounting the steps to one of the bookcases in the University library when the steps slipped and he was precipitated heavily to the ground and had to be removed to his quarters and medical assistance summoned. No bones were broken; but he will be confined to his room for several days.

THE ST. LAZARE ROBBERY.

Detective Carpenter states that he is certain the two Levesques who were implicated with Joseph Dupont, since convicted in the robbery of the Jewish peddler Marks near Vaudreuil, will be caught shortly.

A TAR AND A POLICEMAN.

Last evening a sailor from the French Warship Nielly, who was in charge of a petty officer of the ship, created a scene on Notre Dame street. It seems that the sailor was attempting to desert and the officer was endeavoring to restrain him and get him back in safety to the vessel. The sailor proved too much for the officer and he called on a handy policeman for help. After a good deal of deep thought and some argument from the bystanders the police officer concluded that he had no jurisdiction in the case and the sailor went his way uninterrupted.

ONLY THE GROOM MISSING.

A Matrimonial Episode at Caughnawaga.

There was a great time at Caughnawaga last Monday. A widow and a widower were to wed. All the preparations were made. The banns had been published and, as is customary among the poorer classes of Indians, a collection was taken up to defray the incidental expenses of the happy occasion. On Friday last the intended husband went to the hopfields, but as all his belongings were at the widow's house no one had the slightest doubt but he would return in time for the ceremony. A magnificent wedding cake was one of the items provided to lend dignity to the wedding feast. The widower, however, did not turn up. The St. Regis boat came down, but no groom. A council of war was held and it was decided that it would be a pity to waste the good things provided, so the wedding guests assembled and ate, drank and danced and made merry to their hearts' content. In fact, it was a complete wedding, with nothing lacking but the groom.

Appalling Calamity.

The only person saved from the wreck was one little maiden, and she, with the forethought natural to her sex, had provided herself with a piece of Cleaver's Terebene Soap, and washed herself ashore. Cleaver's Terebene Soap is, without exception, the most antiseptic and disinfecting soap in existence. It should be used by every family during the heat of summer.

Blairgowrie was recently visited by a tremendous thunderstorm—worst experienced for thirty years.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

Special Notices.

To remove the sting from the bite of insects, apply Dr. Manning's German remedy, the great pain killer. Price 50 cents a bottle.

INSIST UPON A

KNABE

When you are ready to purchase the piano for a lifetime—not the makeshift instrument for a few years' use, but the piano whose sterling qualities will leave absolutely nothing to be desired—then insist upon a Knabe. Its pure singing tone is not an artificial quality soon to wear away, leaving harshness in place of brilliancy, dulness in place of sweetness, but an inherent right of the Knabe. Fifty-five years of patient endeavor upon this very point—non-deterioration with age—has made the Knabe what it is—the accepted standard of durability.

Remember, the Knabe Piano is sold only by Willis & Co. Any other firm advertising the Knabe in such a way as to give the impression that it is sold by them does so to divert attention to some would-be competitor of the Knabe. Do not be deceived.

"OUIDA" IS AFTER CRISPI.

SHE PAINTS THE ITALIAN PREMIER DARKLY

And Ascribes to Him a Total Lack of Moral Character—The Troubles in Sicily and Giuseppe Giuffrida.

LONDON, September 12.—"Ouida," the well-known novelist, has written a long letter to Truth, making a virulent attack upon Crispi for his treatment of political prisoners. The letter deals chiefly with the case of Giuseppe de Felice Giuffrida, who was recently sentenced to a long term of imprisonment for the part he took in the Socialist troubles in Sicily. "Ouida" says that the prisoner is the one that Signor Crispi most dreads, and, therefore, persecutes the worst. He is confined in a cell, the dimensions of which are 3 by 5 metres, in the fortress of Volterne. He is doomed to three years solitary confinement, after which he will have to serve a score of years at hard labor working in total silence. "Ouida" thus describes Signor Crispi: "Englishmen should abhor the actions, public and private, of this turncoat, this Red Revolutionist, who has become an Opportunist, a Reactionist. Crispi has the suppleness, insincerity and cunning of an Italian lawyer. He has also the harshness, passion for persecution, vindictiveness and the overwhelming quantity of a politician. He has foresworn every principle to which he was wedded and vowed in his youth, and has climed up by the credulity of those he serves to the highest position in the State."

TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE.

An Agricultural Department Report on Its Treatment.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—The results of investigations dealing with the question of tuberculosis in cattle, from both economical and sanitary standpoints, are embodied in a report of the Agricultural Department prepared by Theobald Smith, chief of the animal pathology division. It reviews the examinations, discusses the history and character of tuberculosis, and presents many valuable suggestions for the diagnosis and prevention of the disease. The report gives directions for the inspection of animals and taking their temperature before and after making the injections. It suggests that a careful inspection of all dairy herds with the object of detecting and removing all advanced cases of tuberculosis, and especially of cows with diseased udders, would probably exclude the sale of most infected milk. The report goes on to say:

TO ATTACK TUBERCULOSIS

as it exists at present is a most difficult problem and no single measure, however sweeping, is likely to be successful. The present wide dissemination of the disease and its prevalence among other domesticated animals, as dogs, cats, horses, and, above all, its prevalence among man, makes the complete extinction of the malady an unrealizable problem. Infection through the air is the most serious problem to be dealt with. A question of such practical consequence is the effect of repeated infections. That cattle may be infected more than once is self-evident. The more frequent the infections the more rapid the disease and the speedier the danger of the one case to other animals. The fewer the tubercule bacilli in the air the more reduced the danger. It is highly probable that cattle may under conditions inhale a few tubercule bacilli without permanent injury. The importance of reducing the amount of infection in a herd by all possible means and keeping it permanently reduced is one necessary condition for the successful eradication of tuberculosis.

Generalized infection may be recognized by the discovery of food of disease in organs not accessible to the virus in any other way than through the circulation, or in the lymph glands of such organs. Tuberculosis of the subcutaneous lymph glands and of those situated in the muscular tissue of the trunk and limbs is universally accepted as indicative

OF THE GENERALIZED DISEASE.

Such glands may be infected from without, but infection through wounds of the skin is quite rare. Generalized infection, both chronic and acute, has obtained considerable attention owing to its important bearing on the infectiousness of meat and milk. In all cases of generalized disease the milk should be regarded as dangerous. The difficulty from the practical standpoint lies in the recognition of the generalized infection during life. With the meat the question is simple, and resolves itself into the thorough inspection of every carcass at the abattoir by a trained inspector, and with the living animal there are only a few guides such as the condition of the udder lymph glands or enlargement of some of the superficial lymph glands.

In recommending general sanitary measures, the report concludes:

Cattle-owners should become familiar with the general nature of tuberculosis, thereby lifting themselves above the plane where quackery and specifics abound, and understand precisely what to expect after the

DISEASE HAS ENTERED THE HERD,

and how to meet the demands of public health. Sanitary precautions should begin with the removal of diseased and suspected animals. Attention should be paid to the stables, and owners should look out for the inhalation disease so common in tuberculous cattle. Each animal should have plenty of room, always occupy the same place, and be housed as little as possible. The infection of food and water should be cautioned against. Much of the difficulty which arises when radical measures for the suppression of the disease are discussed, is the economic value of the cattle products, the meat and milk. The investigations show that the milk of tuberculous animals is not so frequently infected as supposed. Milk of animals in the earliest stages of the disease and with perfect udders, does not contain tubercule bacilli. Only those showing signs of labored breath and emaciation should be gravely suspected, and their milk excluded at once from sale. The relative danger of the stable air to human beings is another phase of the question that should not be overlooked.

GREENWAY'S POLICY.

Intimates That His Reply to Roman Catholics Will be Unfavorable.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, Man., September 12.—In announcing that he would consider fully the petition of the Roman Catholics in reference to separate schools yesterday, Premier Greenway assured the deputation that he appreciated the importance of the matter; but, as the question was one involving the policy of the Government, he thought it better, in order that any misapprehensions might be avoided, instead of giving a verbal reply, to communicate the answer of Government in writing. He promised that there would be an early meeting of the Government and that he would lay the memorial before them and give the deputation their reply.

COUNTERFEIT SILVER.

BALTIMORE, September 12.—A number of arrests have been made in Baltimore recently on the charge of passing counterfeit silver coin. The counterfeits are almost entirely of the silver dollar and half-dollars, being excellent imitations and well calculated to deceive. A Secret Service officer of the Government says he has found more counterfeit silver dollars and half-dollars in Baltimore than in any other city he has visited.

DID NOT ALIENATE.

Ending of a Scandal in the Owen Sound District.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OWEN SOUND, Ont., September 12.—Mrs. May MacNab, wife of John D. MacNab, land surveyor, has entered an action against Miss Louisa Wood, for alienating the affectations of the plaintiff's husband. MacNab ran away with Miss Wood to Toronto last winter. In that city MacNab, by means of a power of attorney, which he pursuaded Miss Wood to sign, got hold of the latter's property. This supplied the rift in the lute, which widened until there was serious trouble between the guilty lovers. Miss Wood returned to Owen Sound and prosecuted MacNab on three charges of fraud, on each of which he was sentenced to five years in the Kingston penitentary, the sentences to run concurrently. Mrs. McNab then turned around and sued Miss Wood as above stated. The action is the second of its kind tried in Ontario in which both parties are women. At the conclusion of the plaintiff's case the jury declared their conviction that it had not been proven that Miss Wood had enticed McNab into wrong-doing, and the plaintiff was accordingly non suited. McNab, who was kept in goal here to give evidence on this case, will now be sent down to Kingston to put in his term there.

FAILURE OF INOCULATION.

LONDON, September 12.—The Times publishes a despatch from Calcutta which says that during the recent cholera epidemic at Lucknow several soldiers who were inoculated with Dr. Haffkine's virus were attacked, and that the proportion of mortality among them was the same as among ordinary patients. This contradicts the Calcutta experiments in June last, when Dr. Haffkine and Dr. Simpson, health officer of that port, successfully inoculated a large number of persons.

CRIME AGAINST CHILDHOOD.

The Police Denounced from the Bench.

JUDGE WURTELE FIRED WITH INDIGNATION

On Learning that Children Are Being Utilized for Immoral Purposes.

There was an outburst of indignation this morning in the Court of Queen's Bench, which was voiced in unmeasured terms by Judge Wurtele, speaking from his seat, in the case of the man Archambault, whose trial for criminal assault on a little girl named Blanche Lemire, has been occupying the attention of the Court for the last three days. The case is admitted on all hands to be unparalleled in the annals of crime in this city and to throw light upon a depth of degradation and depravity which was a revelation to men who never suspected that such a thing could exist. This state of things was known to the police, because both a lieutenant and a constable have sworn so in this case, and still nothing was done.

"I blame the conduct of the police authorities," repeated Judge Wurtele no less than three times in the few minutes to-day, his face flushed with indignation and his voice trembling with emotion.

"This state of things is unheard of. The police are aware that children are being sent to houses of ill-fame and utilized for immoral purposes, and yet nothing is done," continued His Honor.

The revelation had been made to him by Constable Giguere, No. 231, of No. 4 Station. Giguere had said: "This little girl's mother had reported to the station that she went to bad houses."

"Why did you not tell your superior officer," thundered the judge.

"I did, Your Honor, I did," stammered the policeman two or three times.

"What," exclaimed His Honor, "the mother of this girl reported this crime to the police authorities. You also did the same, constable, and yet nothing was done."

IT IS A SHAME.

The judge's words were producing a profound sensation throughout the crowded room. "Mind you, constable, I do not blame you. You did your duty, but the police authorities of Montreal have not done theirs. These houses, when such a crime was perpetrated, should have been closed at once and the guilty parties punished. I blame them openly and declare that this state of affairs is really deplorable."

This incident in the trial of Archambault brings into strong relief a matter which the Judge, Crown Counsel, Crown officers and all who heard the evidence in this case pronounce to be a disgrace to Montreal. The victim in the case, Blanche Lemiere, is a mere child wearing a short dress to her knees. Her mother had said in the witness box that she was outraged some six years ago by a man who was never punished for his abominable crime. Since then her mental equilibrium has been unbalanced and she has been taken advantage of. It is in evidence, and was so declared this morning by a lewd woman in the witness box, that she herself had sent her to the house of a friend of hers at night, and that she was turned away the next morning as unsatisfactory, after having been abused by three men. Judge Wurtele on hearing the evidence of these women ordered the High Constable to keep them into custody until the present case was ended. On the first day the little girl gave her evidence and was three hours and a half on the stand. The next day her little brother barely seven years of age corroborated her story in so far as the present case is concerned. It was the little lad who ran for his mother across the Champ de Mars as the accused Archambault entered the house on Champ de Mars street in which the children were alone at the time of the assault. The boy was swift-footed, and the mother and neighbors had soon arrived, and Archambault was arrested, with all the evidences needed for conviction at hand. During the little girl's cross-examination she admitted that she had been abused before. The defence tried to use this plea that her general reputation was bad. She had given the names of the houses to which she had been sent and where she had been received. The crown and court officers took notes, and deciding to probe the matter to the bottom, officers were sent out and the

WOMEN KEEPERS BROUGHT TO THE COURT.

The first of these, a Mrs. Smith, of Cadieux street, denied that she kept a house of ill-fame at the time the little girl was sent to her, but her evidence was destroyed by a Mrs. Hill, a friend of hers, in the same line of business, who swore that she had sent the unfortunate child to her for the purposes now known. The child was too poorly attired when she came into this house, but a dress much too long for her was given to her. She remained there only one night and was sent away for reasons which are known. The child's mother declared on oath that she was tracked by women of ill-repute and repeatedly she complained of this. Blanche has given the names of other girls of her age, who are being looked after. A number of boys were brought in the witness-box by the defence to-day to testify as to the character of the girl. Lieut. Soulière yesterday declared that he had been informed of the girl's actions. In the meantime the case is still going on. The Crown officers declared that they will employ the utmost power of the law to punish crime against childhood, while citizens generally laud the firm and energetic stand taken by Judge Wurtele.

BIG GOVERNMENT CONTRACT.

Local Contracting Firm to Deepen the Lachine Canal.

The Dominion Government has awarded the contract for the deepening of the Lachine Canal by two feet from St. Gabriel locks to Lachine to Mr. F. B. McNamee and Mr. William Mann, both of this city. The Government figured the work to cost $600,000, but it is more than likely that that figure will be exceeded. Work will be commenced just as soon as the contractors secure the necessary plant for the work. The contract calls for the work to be completed in three years. Mr. Wm. Mann, one of the successful tenderers was formerly contractor for the removal of the garbage from the streets of the city.

Specifications have also been issued for the formation of a new channel in Lake St. Louis. The channel is to be located on a straight line, starting from the Grand Trunk Railway wharf at Lachine and running in a direct line until deep water is reached. The channel is to be 300 feet wide and 16 feet deep at low water. The specifications are now in the hands of several contracting firms. This work, it is estimated, will cost fully half a million dollars.

POLICE COURT JOTTINGS.

George Dagenais pleaded not guilty this morning in the Police Court to the charge of stealing scrap-iron and counling-pins and was remanded. The thefts took place from the C. P. R. trains on the wharf between Dalhousie square and Hochelaga. This pilfering occurred over a month ago and Silas H. Carpenter, of the Canadian Secret Service, was notified of the matter by Mr. Spencer, of the C. P. R. After two hours, Mr. Carpenter had located his men, one of whom, Verreau, was arrested and sentenced to 15 days imprisonment, but Dagenais got wind of the affair and disappeared. Yesterday, Detective Carpenter received word that his man was working on a farm at St. Leonard, Port Maurice, some fifty miles north of the Back River. In company with Constable Coté, of No. 3 Station, Mr. Carpenter started in pursuit and captured Dagenais, returning with him to the city this morning. Joseph Duplantier, 23 years of age, and living on St. Charles Borromée street, pleaded guilty to larceny and received 9 months at hard labor. Duplantier was arrested yesterday evening by Detective Gladu, on a charge of stealing $92 in cash and a diamond ring worth $50 from a man at the corner of St. Dominique and Vitre streets. He admitted his guilt at the time of the arrest and when searched, a pass-book for $50 in a Montreal bank was found upon him.

Moise St. Onge, a printer living in Richardson street, and 32 years of age, also pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing two overcoats and a vest from John Murray and received a like sentence of 9 months. James Fenton, who was arrested Monday charged with being a pickpocket, and who was remanded until yesterday, when an enquete was held, appeared this morning and pleaded not guilty. His case was sent to the Queen's Bench.

Edmond Bastien pleaded guilty to stealing a piece of cloth from Louis Hebert, and was sentenced to six months.

Isaac Albert, a boy of 12 years, also pleaded guilty to stealing a pair of spectacles from Leo Charland. His father was bound over for $100 to keep his son from mischief and Isaac was discharged.

A DISGRACE TO THE CITY.

SHAME! Shame on Montreal, that can tolerate the existence of a system of prostitution of little children! Shame on the human beasts who have defiled mere infants in years and knowledge! Shame on the police, who knew of a child being bartered around from brothel to brothel and never raised a hand to protect her. And shame to any man in Montreal who can rest until the city is purged of such iniquities, and until police officers, who have connived at such abominations are lashed out of the force and out of the community. Let the aldermen who are trying to burk a genuine police investigation read the indignant protest of Judge Wurtele made from the bench to-day. Let them read the evidence which called forth that protest, and then let them protect their uniformed "pantatas" and panders if they dare.

All the chicanery and trickery of law, all the cunning artifices known to the city "fathers" (Heaven save the mark) to save the police authorities from exposure of their incapacity or worse, and not a finger raised to save a little child from the pollution our blue-coated protectors know was being practised upon her!

You aldermen, who have been crying for specific charges against your police proteges! Is this charge specific enough? Is a judge of the Court of Queen's Bench a sufficiently responsible person to make a charge against the police! Is the charge black enough to warrant the trouble of investigation! What is a police force for—to protect "pantatas" and panders against children!

There is a point at which public patience must stop even in a law abiding community like ours. Let there be no more aldermanic fooling and trifling with the police question.

INTERVIEW THE COMPTROLLER

Directors of the Canada Jute Company Explain their Case.

The Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, Comptroller of Customs, spent a portion of yesterday between the Custom House and the Examining Warehouse. During the afternoon he received a deputation of the directors of the Canada Jute Company, who discussed the recent seizure with him at some length. Their side of the matter was laid before him, but he was unable to promise anything until the Customs side had been thoroughly gone into. The case will be in the hands of the Government at Ottawa in a few days.

CITY ITEMS.

The aldermen visited the French man-of-war Nielly this morning. They were cordially received by the officers.

J. D. Anderson, H. D. Filion, F. Tuck and J. W. Eaton, railway mail clerks have gone to Ottawa to attend the annual convention of the railway mail clerks.

Mr. H. W. Buchanan, of New York, formerly an enthusiastic worker in Y. M. C. A. circles in this city will address the men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall on Sunday next.

THE GOLF SEASON.

The first of the annual autumn competitions of the Royal Montreal Golf Club will take place on Saturday next, the 15th, for the Sidey medal. The season is expected to be one of the most successful in the history of the Club.

MR. MERCIER BETTER.

Hon. H. Mercier is progressing favorably towards recovery, and his physician hopes that he will be sufficiently recovered to leave his room in a few days.

MR. PATON'S CONDITION.

Mr. James Paton passed a very good night and is doing better than expected.

THE BUSY POLICE COURT.

BURY CONVICTED FOR WIFE DESERTION.

Mr. Lynch Used His Whip at the Naval Review, but is Acquitted — The Keeley Gang in Court.

The usual cases still continue to rivit the attention of the curious on the Police Court. Judge Desnoyers presided and delivered his judgment in the case of Brown versus Lynch.

James A. Lynch is the owner of a waggon, and, being of a patriotic turn, was present at the naval review on the Champ de Mars. Being also of a kindly nature when not irritated, he volunteered his waggon as an observatory for a certain number of ladies. Now J. L. Brown was also present, and, being a trifle pressed by the crowd, as he says, climbed up on the spokes of one of Lynch's wheels; now the waggon was on an incline, and Lynch deposed that said action of Brown joggled the waggon and forced one of the ladies to jump to the ground. This little denouement came about after Lynch had repeatedly warned Brown not to climb, and, a trifle ruffled by this persistence, struck Brown over the head twice with his whip.

After mature consideration, His Honor dismissed the case, holding that Brown had no right to climb.

Judge Desnoyers next turned his attention to the Bury-non-support-of-wife case, which was postponed from last week by Judge Desnoyers to allow the parties concerned to come to an agreement if possible. During the intervening time Mr. St. Louis, for Mrs. Bury, wrote to Mr. Lanctot, for the defence, proposing, as a settlement, that alimony to the amount of $5 a week be settled on Mrs. Bury, and that said alimony be guaranteed by Mr. Bury's father. Moreover, that the payment be made monthly at the home of Mrs. Bury's mother, 56 Victoria street.

To this Mr. Lanctot would not agree, but stated, on behalf of his client, that Mr. Bury was willing to take back his wife and child, and live with them. Mrs. Bury, from previous experience, distrusted this offer and refused to accept it. When this had been explained fully, Judge Desnoyers said his only course was to fine the defendant $20 or three months. An appeal to the Court of Queen's Bench will in all probability be taken.

At this point Judge Dugas took the Bench and called the case of The Queen vs. George Dunham, on a charge of vagrancy. It will be remembered that George Dunham, his brother and two others, alleged to belong to what is known as "The Keeley Gang," were arraigned a week ago in the Police Court on a charge of vagrancy. Their cases were postponed until Monday, and their cases will be tried separately. At the time of their arrest they had been practising the nut-shell game in the suburbs, and had become a great nuisance, the police arresting them for vagrancy, in the hope of disposing of them. Special Constable Suthergill, who made the arrest in company with Special Constable Richard, was the first witness, and testified to their loitering and obstructing the streets during certain hours on the last days of August, particularly the 21st, 25th and 28th. Richard substantiated his testimony, and Chief Cullen testified to the defendant's bad habits. Henri Poirier, the ex-de fence, objected strongly to Cullen testifying as to Dunham's business. Judge Dugas changing the question, asked Cullen, if to his knowledge, Dunham had any trade. Witness said no. This concluded the testimony for the Crown. Jeremiah Crowley was the first witness for the defence. Mr. Jeremiah Crowley continued and flatly many of the statements of Constable Suthergill in relation to the whereabouts of Dunham during certain hours on August 25th and 28th. For example, Jeremiah testified that Dunham and he left the city by train at 4 p. m. on the 28th, while Suthergill has it down in his book that Dunham was under surveillance in this city between 3 and 11 p.m., August 28th. Again, Crowley deposed that Dunham and he left the city at nine in the morning for the printers' picnic on August 25, returned to the city at 4 p. m., and journeyed to the Shamrock grounds, where they viewed the Shamrock-Capital match until after 6 p. m. Suthergill says he watched them in the city at frequent intervals during the morning and afternoon. And so the testimony went. A man named Barceleau followed in like strain and Alphonse Abiea, came after him.

David H. Fraser, an auctioneer, testified that Dunham had purchased horses and vehicles from him during the last few months and had paid one bill for $80 during June. Isaac Vineberg and Dunham's father, George F. Dunham, concluded the witnesses for the defence. His father was rather hard pressed to tell what Dunham's trade might be and ventured on the assertion that, during the last thirty days, Dunham had been trading in horses and carriages. Hardworked Dunham! The father also added, at Mr. Poirier's request, that his son was unable to work very hard and had been under the doctor's care for some time. Dunham smiled, as did the Court. Judge Dugas spoke briefly on the necessity of ridding the community of troublesome persons and postponed judgment until Wednesday next.

THE JAY BRIDGE CRIME.

The Alleged Murderer Said to Be in Montreal.

A few days ago, near Lewiston, Maine, Daniel Thibaudeau, residing at Jay Bridge, was murdered. The crime was believed to have been committed by one J. B. Ouellette. He, however, made good his escape from the scene of the murder and the next seen of him was a few days later at St. Johns, P. Q., where he was in company with his brother-in-law, Arthur Chouinard, who has since been arrested as an accomplice. Chouinard admitted to the police that Ouellette had made a confession to him. Thibaudeau was traced to Montreal. A person who knows the man claims to have seen him on Notre Dame street yesterday, but on becoming aware that he was recognized took a cab and started out in the direction of Outremont. The authorities of Lewiston have been notified, and an officer is expected in Montreal when an arrest will be made.

FELL FROM TELEGRAPH POLE.

William Brisbois, a line-man employed by the Street Railway Company, met with a severe accident on Craig street about half-past one this afternoon. Brisbois was employed making repairs to the lines of the Company on a pole opposite the Major Manufacturing company, when he received a shock from the wires and was precipitated to the sidewalk below. He was taken to the General Hospital, where it was found his knee was fractured.

DEATH OF MRS. PRIEUR.

Mrs. M. D. Prieur, wife of Dr. J. A. Prieur, of the Longue Pointe Asylum, died last evening at her residence, Longue Pointe, after a brief illness. Deceased was the eldest daughter Mr. L. H. Collard, one of the Prothonotaries of the Superior Court, of Montreal. Mrs. Prieur was but twenty-eight years of age and leaves two young sons besides her husband to mourn her loss. She was well known in Montreal.

LEFT MONEY, BUT STOLE PAPERS.

A singular robbery took place at Professor A. Roy Macdonald's Dancing Academy in the Queen's Block, between Saturday night and Monday morning last. On Monday morning when Professor Macdonald opened his safe he noticed immediately that his books of account referring to his business for last season in Ottawa and Buckingham were gone. Further search revealed the fact that several receipts and letters important in regard to a civil action entered by Professor Macdonald against a late employe had also been taken. These books and papers were also to be used in a criminal complaint which Professor Macdonald intended making on Monday, and concerning which he had been consulting his lawyers on Saturday. Detective Robinson was promptly summoned and has discovered a clue. An arrest will probably soon be made. The money in the safe was untouched.

THEY WERE DROWNED.

The Beaconsfield Disappearance Solved—The Skiff Found Drifting in the Lake.

The mysterious disappearance of the three men who went out for a boat sail on Lake St. Louis opposite Beaconsfield on Monday evening is at last solved. At six o'clock this morning the lighthouse keeper, Pointe Claire, noticed an upturned skiff floating down the lake near the lighthouse. This he towed to shore, where it was recognized as the boat the missing men went out in. Yesterday one of the oars belonging to the boat was found near Dorval yesterday afternoon. It is now believed that the men were all drowned. None of them drink, and the lake being calm it is supposed that they got fooling and upset the boat and, none of the party being able to swim, they were drowned. Only one of the missing men's names was known, that of Joseph

Taylor. The other two men were known in Beaconsfield as Willie and Oliver and worked at "The Grove."

M'GILL'S NEW BUILDING.

The new medical faculty building at McGill University is being pushed on to completion, the interior fittings alone remaining to be done. It will be ready for occupation by the date set for the opening lectures, October the second, but the formal opening will not take place until later in the session.

LAFLEUR'S CASE.

The Counsel For and Against the Prisoner.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

L'ORIGNAL, September 12.—In the Assize Court was resumed the trial of Lafleur this morning. The defence announced that it had no evidence to offer, and at 10.30 Mr. Dowdell, the Counsel for the Crown, commenced what proved to be both an eloquent, exhaustive and fair address to the jury. After pointing out the general duties of himself and the jury he traced the ownership of the knife directly home to the prisoner; how, without provocation, were Lafleur's actions and the threatening language used by him outside; his deliberate turning around when near his own door and returning towards the deceased, and generally revised the whole evidence. He was followed by Mr. Constantineau, the prisoner's counsel.

HOW LADAS WAS BEATEN.

Ladas last. Upon reaching the old mile mark Matchbox took the lead and Throstle dropped back to the rear. Half a mile from home None-the-Wiser pulled up abreast of Matchbox, the pair leading Hornbeam and Amiable with Ladas gaining upon the leader. Matchbox entered the straight just clear of Ladas who was followed by None-the-Wiser, Throstle and Hornbean. On the line for home Matchbox was beaten. Ladas drew clear of him and was closely followed by Throstle, who challenged the Derby winner for first place and won by three-quarters of a length. Ladas finished two lengths ahead of Matchbox. Time, 3.12 1-5.

HALIFAX, N. S., September 12. — The Government steamer Newfield, which was ashore in Westport harbor yesterday, was floated off without damage.

COMPROMISED FOR ONLY $40,000.

THE CASE OF THE QUEEN VS. LARKIN & CONNOLLY.

It Comes, Therefore, to a Sudden Termination in the Exchequer Court at Quebec — No Wrong-doing in the Matter.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, September 12.—The case of the Queen vs. Larkin, Connolly & Co. in the Exchequer Court here, for the recovery of about three-quarters of a million dollars came to a sudden termination yesterday afternoon, by the defendants, Larkin, Connolly & Co., allowing judgment to be entered against them for $45,000.

It is understood that the Government abandoned any charge of wrong-doing in connection with the Quebec contract of the firm, but as certain changes were made in the British Columbia graving dock by the Minister of Public Works and the Chief Engineer, without the authority of Parliament the contractors, on the advice of counsel, and in order to rid themselves of the vexations proceedings and enormous expense, allowed judgment to be entered for the above amount.

At the conclusion of yesterday's proceedings His Honor Judge Burbidge said that it must not be inferred that the Messrs. Connolly or Mr. Larkin could be accused of any wrong doing in connection with any of the contracts in question.

THE LAVAL DEMONSTRATION.

Ministers and Their Friends at St. Vincent de Paul.

[SPCEIAL TO THE STAR.]

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, September 12.—The special excursion train from Montreal arrived here at half-past twelve to-day, bearing a party of Montrealers, among whom were: Hon J. A. Ouimet, Hon. J. J. Curran, Dr. Lachapelle, M. P. for Hochelaga; ex-Ald. Beauchamp, ex-Ald. Clendenning, Senator Tassé, Hon. P. E. Leblanc, M. P. P. for Laval, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, and Messrs. Girouard, M. P. for Two Mountains, Guilbault, MacDonell, M.P., for Bagot; W. Mount, T. Pagnuelo, G. Marsan, A. Ouimet, Club Conservative; E. A. D. Morgan, L. C. Pelletier, M.P. for Laprairie; Labrecque, J. G. H. Bergeron, M.P. for Beauharnois; Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons and many others. They were met at the station by the brass band of the town, which played as the visitors left the train.

Hon. John Costigan arrived here on an early train this morning from Ottawa. Mr. Ouimet was the guest of his cousin, the Warden of the penitentiary, who also entertained Messrs. Curran, Leblanc, Bergeron and other members of Parliament. The weather here is perfect and a successful meeting is anticipated. The minister is pleased with his reception, which was cordial although not extraordinarily enthusiastic. The meeting will be held during the afternoon in front of the parish church, where a platform has been erected covered with bright colored drapery, and having the words bienvenue, welcome, inscribed overhead.

The Minister's utterance upon the Manitoba School question is looked forward to with considerable interest, and he is expected to criticise the indefinite character of Mr. Laurier's statements on the same subject.

MR. SEXTON'S POSITION.

DUBLIN, September 12.—The Independent to-day says that Mr. Thomas Sexton, M. P. for North Kerry (Anti-Parnellite), has accepted the position of Resident Commissioner of the Board of Education. According to the Independent this is a fresh element of disturbance in the Irish party.

IT IS MURDER NOW.

Cosgrove Dies at Cornwall From the Effect of his Wounds.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

CORNWALL, Ont., September 12.—The man Cosgrove, who was found in an unconscious condition on Water street east yesterday, died this morning, at the police station, and the authorities are now busy working up a case of murder.

"Paddy" Cosgrove, as he was generally known was a quarryman and worked here several years ago, when the first addition to the canal was under construction, and has been here at intervals ever since, he was known to be a quiet, inoffensive man, but was given considerable to drink. Cosgrove is said to have come to Cornwall on Monday from Cardinal, where he worked for Murray and Cleveland, contractors of that town. He was well dressed, every particle of his clothing being new and clean. Cosgrove was noticed in the eastern part of the town between 12 and one o'clock on Monday night. That was the last seen of him until found by a coal shoveller in Plack Bros.' coal shed on Water Street East, where he was in a sitting position with his back against a coal screener and his face covered with blood. His hat was found in another part of a shed on a plank, which was also smeared with blood. Policeman Smith was notified, and Cosgrove was removed to the police station, where he was made as comfortable as possible. There is nothing in his pockets to show where his home or relatives are. Only a key and clay pipe were found on his person. It is known Cosgrove had money in his person on Monday evening, but whatever cash he had then was missing when the pockets were searched. Five doctors visited him yesterday and on close examination the fact was revealed that Cosgrove received a blow at the base of the skull, inflicted by a club or some blunt instrument. The scalp was not cut. His case was then pronounced serious. He never regained consciousness, and died at five o'clock this morning, leaving behind a mystery known only to his murderers.

A man named Speck claims he heard cries of murder in the vicinity where the body was found, but did not notify the police. The police have a clue, which they are working on and which, if properly worked, will probably throw some light on the mysterious death of Cosgrave. Coroner Hamilton has summoned a jury and the inquest took place at one o'clock this afternoon. The authorities at Toronto will be communicated with and provincial detectives will likely be put on the case.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

LOCAL MARKET VERY HEAVY.

There was a great falling off in active business to-day on the local stock exchange. Trading at the forenoon session had got back to the old peddling rut and orders were few. The holding of the two sessions a day has not, as was expected, boomed business, and there are some brokers who think now it would have been better to have continued the one meeting a day until the beginning of next month. Advices from London to the "street" reported the market there dull and lower, and the American Government crop report had produced an easier feeling. The money markets at all the leading financial centres continue to be well supplied, and in the local market there is no change in commercial rates At the forenoon session trading was light. Street Railway old stock sold at 156 and a few shares of Cable were placed at 143. Telegraph changed hands at 151½ to 153. Telep one sold were placed at 150 and the new stock at 148. A round lot of Corporation 4 p. c. bonds sold at 104. Banks were very quiet and steady. The only trading was in Commerce a few shares of which changed hands at 141. The rest of the general list was neglected.

In New York the situation shows little improvement as yet. The general opinion on "Wall street" among financiers is that "From causes connected with the excess of manufacturing plant there is possible to be, for some time to come, a check upon the flow of new capital into the industries. The tendency of the moment, indeed, is rather towards the consolidation of the several separate capitals of important trades into a single great monopoly, for controlling the effects of excessive production and consequent competition. This, for the moment at least, directly tends to divert the increasing wealth of the country from industrial uses and forces it into other forms of investment. Railroads are the more calculated to attract this diverted capital, because they are becoming less and less exposed to competition from the creation of new companies and the construction of new line. Experience is improving their methods of operation; public opinion is enforcing upon them greater integrity of management; the current wholesale reorganization of large companies is not only weeding out the weak spots in their finances, but also exhibiting the necessity for more conservative capitalization and a stricter accountability of managers; while the decline in the cost of supplies and in wages is conducive to greater economy of operation. These facts should make railroad stocks and bonds more acceptable to those who, for the time being, find some other forms of corporate investment surrounded by doubts arising from unsettled industrial conditions.

MORNING SALES—50 Bell Telephone at 150; 30 Bell Telephone (new) at 148; 20 Commerce at 141; 100 Montreal Telegraph at 151½, 15 at 151¾; 50 Street Railway at 156; 2 Cable at 143; $1000 Corp. 4 p.c. bonds at 101½.

DULL AND LIFELESS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, September 12.—The Post's financial article says: In the morning's early trading there was no change of consequence outside of sugar certificates and Burlington and Quincy, both of which stocks sold off. Generally the market was dull and lifeless.

Meredith & O'Brien's Wall Street Gossip.

London is 2½ lower on St. Paul, ½ lower for L. & N., and rest of list ¼ off.

Better understanding about crop report has produced an easier feeling abroad.

Senator Blackburn says the Senate Committee on rules will be ready to report an amendment to the rules immediately on assembly of Congress in December, which will put the majority in control, he expects to see the house free sugar bill pass before the holiday recess.

Northern Pacific, first week September, increase $43,947.

Probable corn yield in Nebraska only eight million bushels.

Citizens' Bank of Plattsmouth, Neb., has suspended business and a receiver has been appointed. Failure involves about $200,000.

Look for a lower market.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

The market did not furnish to-day anything of very great interest. The Government crop report having failed to impart the looked for impetus, trading was comparatively light and fluctuations in price were not such as to cause excitement. December wheat opened fractionally higher, fell off to 57¾ and during latter part of the morning swung between that and 57¼. May began the day a shade higher than yesterday's closings and kept in the immediate neighborhood of 62½. Corn too started higher for all the options, but eased off slightly as the day advanced.

Messrs. E. G. Logan & Co., telegraph Messrs L. J. Forget & Co., over their direct private wire to-day as follows:

This has been a quiet day in the wheat market. Fluctuations in December have been from 57¼ to 57⅝, closing at 57¼ to ¾. The market has been largely of a local professional character. The Government report is now forgotten. Two-thirds of the trade do not believe it when it comes, but it has its influence all the same. The scarcity of other feed products must tell on the consumption of wheat, and when it is felt, higher prices we think must follow. It appears certain that 60 will not go much, if any, lower, but this, of course, depends on what receipts at interior points amount to. Cables are steady, without any special active buying.

Corn was quite active at times, opened higher, but sold off on long offerings, and then advanced on bu
