NIAGARA CLAIMS MAN IN BARREL

Foolhardy Englishman Goes
Over the Falls While Movie
Camera Clicks

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 11.—In another contest between man and the mighty Niagara, the latter won. Charles Stephens, the barber, who came all the way from Bristol, Eng., to go over the Falls in a barrel, took the leap Sunday morning and lost. A few pieces of the barrel eventually drifted in, but of Stephens, there is no sign.

He had made a contract with a Toronto moving picture concern and then completed local arrangements for the voyage, but in so-called secrecy, as it was believed that the provincial police might forbid the trip.

The start was made at 8 a. m. Stephens appeared perfectly at ease. He had absolute confidence in his barrel and in his oxygen supply outfit, which he was testing out for the inventor with a view to having the device ultimately used by divers.

The oxygen device may have been all right, but the barrel was a failure. This was demonstrated while the barrel was yet in safe water, when possibly 100 yards from shore, a hoop of the barrel broke and was seen by several people on the shore to leap up and curl off. The motor boat towing Stephens pulled up, but after an examination of the barrel, the trip was continued.

The barrel was weighted at Stephens' feet, but after all that, it went over the falls head first.

When ten, fifteen, twenty minutes went by without sign of the barrel, the spectators, who by this time had grown to large numbers, grew anxious.

"Has he any chance?" was the query put to Bobby Leach, the only man who has gone over the Falls and lived to tell the tale.

"No chance. I told him yesterday that his barrel wasn't strong enough," said Leach.

Of three attempts to ride the Falls in a barrel, two have been successful. Mrs. Anna Taylor went safely over about twenty years ago and Bobby Leach repeated the performance some years later.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS REVOLT IN BELGIUM

Incensed At Their Long Internment, Seven Hundred
March on Antwerp

Antwerp, July 11.—A force of seven hundred Russian prisoners of war who had been interned near Turnhout, 25 miles northeast of this city, escaped from the internment camp last night and marched upon Antwerp. A regiment of cavalry sent in pursuit of the Russians surrounded them and interned them again in one of the Antwerp forts.

The prisoners were a part of a contingent of 1,100 Russians who were to be released on Saturday for return home. They were informed late in the day, however, that owing to a failure by Great Britain and the Soviet government to reach a definite agreement so far with regard to exchange of nationals they would have to endure further detention.

Incensed at this, 700 of the prisoners rushed the barbed wire barriers, overpowered the sentries and proceeded in marching order toward Antwerp.

The men offered slight resistance, however, when the cavalrymen appeared and rounded them up. No report had been made up to this morning as to the casualties during the incident.

EXPECT TO NAB BERGDOLL SOON

Washington, D.C., July 11.—The United States War Department received information yesterday that Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, escaped draft evader, had been located in the northern part of the United States, and if this information proves to be correct, his arrest is expected shortly.

Officials of the Department declined to discuss this report beyond saying the information seemed to be more direct and circumstantial than similar reports since Bergdoll's escape from his home in Philadelphia.

ESKIMO 'BAD MAN' IS ROUNDED UP

By Mounted Police Near the North Pole and Brought To Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont., July 10.—As a stop-over on their long journey back to the land of endless ice and snow, Sergt. Douglas, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Ouangwak, an eskimo murderer from the regions around the North Pole, arrived in Ottawa yesterday and are quartered at the "Moose" headquarters at 120 Victoria Street.

Ouangwak cannot be said to be a foreigner as his forced trip to Ottawa is the result of his being a British subject.

Those who are accustomed to the usual description of an eskimo, two coats of fur hood and fur boots and mitts, might not recognize the snort thick set man who is under strict guard at the military barracks here. After his long journey from the Northland to Winnipeg, his native garments were in a sad state of disrepair and substitutes had to be obtained. Such clothing as he preferred were not to be had so that he comes to Ottawa in the raiment of a whiteman. He is in the neighborhood of from 20 to 27 years of age and has been noticeably falling since he left his native shores.

The eskimo is charged with having murdered a brother native in order to obtain the latter's wife whom he wanted for his own. Several other cases of murder have been reported to the Mounted Police from the region around Chesterfield Inlet and Ouangwak is going back to stand trial in his own land to show the natives that the law of the whiteman must be respected.

He will be the first native who has ever been tried in his own country. Next year the Department of Justice will send a judge on the long journey to Chesterfield and a court will be held there for the edification of the eskimos. This will be the first time that a judge has ever penetrated into that part of the north-west territories.

"Has he any chance?" was the query put to Bobby Leach, the only man who has gone over the Falls and lived to tell the tale.

"No chance. I told him yesterday that his barrel wasn't strong enough," said Leach.

Of three attempts to ride the Falls in a barrel, two have been successful. Mrs. Anna Taylor went safely over about twenty years ago and Bobby Leach repeated the performance some years later.

FRIENDS OF IRELAND AT VARIANCE IN U. S.

Daniel O'Connell, of Boston,
Blames De Valera's Activities for Breach

Washington, D.C., July 11.—(By Canadian Press).—Daniel T. O'Connell of Boston, Director of the National Bureau of the Friends of Irish Freedom, in a statement issued here, criticizes the activity of "President" De Valera, of the so-called Irish Republic, and that of Frank P. Walsh as well, at the two United States national conventions.

O'Connell declared that the failure of the de Valera faction to secure a plank in the platforms of the two parties endorsing the alleged Irish Republic has caused widespread disappointment among the Friends of Irish Freedom.

He blamed the dissension between the de Valera faction and the followers of Supreme Court Justice Cohan for the failure at the Democratic convention in this respect.

ARRANGING FOR TRADE WITH RUSSIA

Seattle, Wash., July 11.—As a result of the order issued by the United States State Department removing restrictions on trade with Soviet Russia, the Universal Shipping and Trading Company announced yesterday it will place several wooden ships in operation between Seattle and Vladivostok. The first vessel will depart in about six weeks.

GRAND TRUNK ARBITRATORS

Toronto, July 10.—Hon. J. D. Reid who was in the city today secured the acceptance by Sir Thomas White of the position as arbitrator for the Dominion government in the taking over of the Grand Trunk Railway. Hon. Mr. Reid said he thought that W. H. Taft, former President of the United States might be the Grand Trunk arbitrator.

HELP FOR POLES IS CONDITIONAL

To Their Making No Territorial Grab—Then Allies Will Aid Against Bolsheviki

Spa, Belgium, July 11.—(By the Associated Press).—If the Poles consent to retire within the neutral frontiers of Poland, the Allies will give them all possible assistance in the event of their being attacked by the Bolsheviki. This announcement was made here today.

Poland's S. O. S.

The decision of the Polish government to appeal to the Spa Conference for moral and material help in the fight against the Bolsheviki comes as a climax to a task extending over many months in securing ammunition held up in London by the refusal of workmen to load the ships and by the withholding of other shipments by the Czechs, it is declared, in retaliation for the disagreement over the Teschen district plebiscite.

Spa dispatches tell of the arrival of a Polish note there, probably the appeal referred to, but state that the note was so garbled in transmission that it could not be deciphered.

It is charged by the Poles that the Czechs delayed indefinitely a train of 38 cars of ammunition for which Poland had urgent need just prior to the Bolsheviki attack. Austria is also said to have been hindering shipments, holding that they were contrary to the Peace Treaty.

It has been a common prediction for months in various circles that unless ammunition was forthcoming the Poles would be forced to withdraw before the inevitable summer attack by the Bolsheviki.

Poland claims never to have suffered a shortage in men, and thousands are offering their services daily in the new army being organized in the hope of stemming the Bolsheviki advance. It is estimated officially that three hundred thousand men and women have entered the service within two days.

A volunteer army of 18,000 was enlisted at Vilna, and the entire city of Lemberg is said to be determined to defend that city to the end, sixty thousand having offered their services.

FLAT INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES ASKED

Application Filed With Board of Railroad Commissioners
To Amount of 30%

Ottawa, Ont., July 11.—An application has been filed with the Board of Railroad Commissioners asking permission for a flat increase of freight rates in Canada to the amount of 30 per cent.

The application was sent into the Railway Commission Saturday afternoon by the Canadian Railway Association and their request is made on behalf of all the railways in Canada members of the Association, and also on behalf of all other Canadian railways subject to the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission.

It is expected that there will be a long fight over this application, one which will probably engage all the best legal talent of the Dominion. It is understood that the railways in making the application have not filed any very lengthy document. Their reasons for asking the increase number eight in all, but in a general way these reasons can be summarized under the general term of the vast increases in wages, material and operating expense generally.

"BONE DRY" BY LARGE MAJORITY

New Brunswick Plebiscite a Surprise to Many—Clearly a Womens Victory

St. John, N.B., July 11.—With a majority of 21,000 for the retention of the Provincial Prohibition Act, and a majority of approximately 18,000 against the sale of light wines and beer, the Province of New Brunswick gave emphatic expression Saturday to its position regarding the great question of prohibition, at the plebiscite held throughout the Province.

For three weeks the "pros" and "cons" of the question have waged a campaign of education and when it came to the day for the voters to make their decision, the managers of the two factions in the fight were reticent regarding any prediction and each could only hope for the success of the side in which he was interested.

All advance signs failed and there were many surprises when the returns were finally tallied. It had been freely predicted the cities would surely be strongly in favor of the light wines and beer, and that the northern counties, inhabited largely by the French, would also favor that question. This proved to be a wrong view of the situation. The cities and larger towns, what might be termed the industrial centers for which beer had been urged, polled large majorities against beer and wines, as well as being solidly for retention of the prohibitory law. The four counties, Restigouche, Madawaska, Gloucester and Kent, which had been practically conceded to the "wets", upset all indications and with the exception of Madawaska, returned a verdict for prohibition and against wines and beer. Restigouche did, however, give a slight majority for beer and wine.

These were the counties feared by the prohibitionists and the ones expected to damage their cause. Workers for the cause of prohibition feel that the question has been settled for all time in this Province and that it is now up to the Government to see that a rigid enforcement of the law is carried out.

The women of New Brunswick were most active in the campaign and at the polls. They were active in support of the present law and against wines and beer. They were all at the polling booths and worked diligently for the success of their cause.

SCOTLAND YARD HELPS IN MURDER MYSTERY

Was Called in Yesterday To Aid in Finding Murderer of Joseph Elwell

New York, N.Y., July 11.—Scotland Yard was called upon yesterday to aid in solving the mysterious murder here of Joseph Brown Elwell, well known expert turfman and "Don Juan."

After following followed many female trails, apparently without success, the authorities have turned to another woman of Elwell's acquaintance.

Her name was not made public, but it was said she had met Elwell at Palm Beach and Miami last winter. She is said to have told a friend that Elwell was sending her to England, intending to follow later. Her picture was found among the dead man's effects and the authorities have expressed a desire to question her concerning any knowledge she may have of a motive for the crime.

The District Attorney's Office today began examining the bank accounts of several women numbered among Elwell's friends.

SOLDIERS SETTLEMENT BD. MAKES INSPECTION.

Ottawa, July 11.—Chairman Black, of the Soldier Settlement Board, has returned from the tour of inspection of the Maritime Provinces and Quebec.

"Generally speaking, the returned men are well located on the land in the East," said Mr. Black, "and we expect that fully eighty-five per cent of them will make good. On Prince Edward Island the situation is particularly favorable, and we believe that ninety-five per cent of our settlers there will succeed. We have had four or five cases where men were found to be unsuited, but the Board has been able to make a readjustment without financial loss."

"The crop situation is fair, but hay is light, owing to the lack of early rains. Throughout Eastern Quebec there has been very little rain and the crop outlook is poor. In Central Quebec it is fair."

COLLIERY LABOR PROBLEMS

Halifax, N.S., July 11.—M. E. Quirk, of Montreal, William Stavert, of Montreal, and W. P. Hutchinson, of Moncton, have been named by the Minister of Labor as commissioners to inquire into labor questions at the collieries of Nova Scotia. Word to this effect has been received at United Mine Workers headquarters, Glace Bay, from the Labor Department at Ottawa.

Mr. Quirk, who is Chairman, was formerly Fair Wage Officer for the Province of Ontario.

LUMBER YARD WIPED OUT

New York, N.Y., July 11.—A four-alarm fire which started yesterday in the P. W. Starr lumber yard, wiped out the yard and whole block of two and three story dwellings and business houses facing on Third Avenue, between 27th and 28th Streets in Brooklyn.

PRODUCED PLAN OF REPARATIONS WITH HESITANCE

German Delegates Say Coal
Decision Will Modify the Proposals

Spa, Belgium, July 11.—(By the Associated Press).—After some hesitation, due to the coal question, the German delegates today produced their plan showing how Germany would deal with reparations, but they specified that the decision reached regarding the coal would modify their proposals.

The Allied experts had decided they did not consider that even the figures submitted by the Germans would justify modification of the protocol signed July 9, but admitted the justice of the German experts' pleas on two points: first, relieving Germany of the obligation of reporting to the reparations commission regarding the distribution of coal with Germany; and second, approving the proposal to increase the output by improving the food and welfare of the miners and suggest that the German and Allied governments discuss means to this end.

Dr. Simons at the outset of the session remarked that coal was the central point of the whole economic life of Germany. "The solution given to the coal question by the experts," he said, "will react upon the different plans of reparations prepared by the German delegation, which had understood that an agreement which would take into account the economic conditions judged essential to Germany would be arrived at. The plans cannot be handed over this evening, as was expected."

Premier Millerand expressed surprise that the communication of the German plan as announced yesterday should be brought into question and subordinated by the experts' solution of the coal question.

Dr. Simons rejoined that the German delegation had prepared plans that must be studied as a whole to be understood.

The German delegation retired to reconsider the matter, and on the resumption of the session the Foreign Secretary declared that since the final decision regarding coal could not be taken until tomorrow, the German delegation had decided to hand over the plans as prepared, but he added that the Spa conference had for its object the substitution of an opening discussion by the Allied and German delegates for one-sided decisions on various questions.

"The question of coal is a question of life or death to the Germans," said Dr. Simons, "and remains the basis for all other plans."

Premier Millerand replied that there could be no question of modifying the Treaty of Versailles on that subject, and that it must be executed.

Dr. Simons thereupon handed the reparations plan to the General Secretary of the Conference.

TURN WASTE STRAW TO PULP IN SASKATCHEWAN

Big Mill Planned in Close Proximity to Coal Field—Toronto Firm Interested

Regina, Sask., July 11.—Plans are now under way for the establishment of a million dollar paper mill in Southern Saskatchewan. Large financial interests in Toronto are behind the scheme. It is proposed to utilize the thousands of tons of waste straw in this province for the manufacture of the paper.

Close proximity to an adequate supply of cheap coal is one of the essentials in the location of such a plant and it is believed by the men behind the scheme that the lignite fields of Southern Saskatchewan offer the necessary fuel requirements.

DISCUSSED COAL

The Allied and German conferees in session here met at 11 o'clock this morning and resumed their discussion of the coal question. Before entering the conference room Hugo Stinnes, the steel and coal magnate who is sitting with the German delegation said he had come here to take part in what he supposed would be a technical discussion over the German coal deliveries to the allies and that he was disposed to express his mind frankly upon what he considered the unreasonable course of the Allied yesterday in simply announcing their will without giving opportunity for full discussion by the technical experts of the various countries who know so much about the coal question that it is impossible for one to deceive another.

H. Hilgard, the Swedish authority on coal, is here in connection with the conference and Dr. Walter Rathenau, President of the German General Electric Co., has arrived to take part in the reparations discussions with Dr. Theodore Melchior, the German financial expert.

NORRIS GOVT EXPECT GOOD WORKING MAJORITY

Winnipeg Man., July 11.—The present administration is confident of sufficient support to secure a good working majority in the House at the next session and rumors that the Government intends to relinquish control are without foundation," declared Premier E. C. Norris, Saturday.

A conference of Government members will be held next week, following which a statement of the Government's policy with regard to the election will follow.

GOOD COAL PRODUCTION

Halifax, N.S., July 11.—The government reports show that the number of men employed in Nova Scotia's coal mines last year was 12,925. The production per man in tons was 566.

REPAIR DEPARTMENT

This is the month to examine the household Table-ware, Spoons, Forks and all silver plated articles.

Collect the worn and damaged pieces and send them to us to be repaired, replated and refinished.

The work will be done carefully and thoroughly during the summer months, and the goods returned to the owners in first class order in September.

For July and August we make a special display of Antique Jewels to interest Tourists. This exhibition of old fashioned jewelry has developed until, today, it is a feature of our business in the summer time. The demand is for old Jewels in solid gold, old solid silver wares, diamonds in antique settings, more especially solitaires.

We again submit our advice on accidents to watches during the boating, bathing and fishing season.

If during your vacation your watch should fall into water, open up the case and immerse the whole watch in coal oil, sweet oil, or any oil obtainable, do not delay; watch materials are excessively expensive at present and often difficult to procure, the oil will prevent rust.

Mail the watch to us as quickly as possible.

G. SEIFERT & SONS WATCHMAKERS

A DISTINCTIVE OUTING COSTUME.

By Gertrude Beresford.

This striking costume for outdoor sport will please the young girl who is planning vacation clothes. The skirt is made of a light-weight wool fabric in large black and white checks. It is kilt pleated, so that when it spreads there is plenty of fulness to permit perfect freedom in play. The blouse developed in a heavy white silk. The trimming of black embroidery conceals the fastening, for this model is slipped over the head. The long sleeves are finished with embroidered cuffs. A leghorn hat—very large—trimmed with black and white ribbon, finishes this costume.

SALADS FOR SUMMER.

By Lorette C. Lynch.

An Authority on All Matters Pertaining to Domestic Management.

"We live near the terminal of a trolley road in a small town and I have thought that I might pick up a little money during the summer by catering light lunches. Will you advise me..."

This is the gist of a letter from a reader. Have you a problem somewhat like it? In the first place, a woman with a home on her hands and very little help, will do well to concentrate on a few things and always serve these things well.

A friend of mine living along the Columbia highway in Oregon, became so famous for her salads that folks drove out many miles just to get one. Yet, she did not try very elaborate salads. Here particular success seemed to be because of the serving.

Mrs. B.'s salads were always served ice-cold. Only the daintiest, prettiest china was used. The lettuce leaves were carefully picked over and no ragged or outside leaf ever found its way to her guest. Another thing appreciated was the fact that she could get a salad ready in a short time.

Some people called for a simple lettuce salad. To prepare this, a head of lettuce is separated into leaves. The leaves are put to soak in cold salted water. The salt in the water has a tendency toward making the small, almost invisible insects crawl off the leaves. The leaves are then rinsed in fresh water and carefully dried with a soft cloth, care being taken not to break the mid-rib of the leaf, as this causes wilting. The leaves are wrapped in cloth or paper and put in the refrigerator to chill. The plates on which the salad is served are also put to chill. The dressing is always kept "icy-cold."

A simple dressing within the ability of any woman to prepare, is made by first rubbing the inside of the mixing bowl with a tiny bit of garlic. The garlic is removed, and six tablespoons of oil, two tablespoons of strong vinegar and a saltspoon of salt are thoroughly whipped together with a dower egg beater. The garlic can, of course, be omitted.

One of the mistakes folks make in salad dressing is the use of rancid oil. You may purchase the very best olive oil and still not like the salad dressing you make if you have failed to take care of the oil. Folks leave the bottle of olive oil standing in a warm room for weeks. Yet anyone knows that butter often becomes rancid if it stands in a similar place but a few hours. Oil, not only olive, but every one of the good oils which we find on the market, should be kept in the refrigerator after the can or bottle has once been opened.

Tomatoes should be dipped into boiling water on a wire spoon for a moment when the skin can easily be peeled off. If to be sliced, they may then be then laid in a bed of lettuce before being served. The whole salad in every case should be thoroughly chilled before being presented.

Some salads call for mayonnaise. In the summer it is best to set the mixing bowl in a pan of ice before beginning. Mayonnaise keeps a couple of weeks in a cold temperature; therefore, make up enough to last for a time. The quantity given is enough for a small family for a couple of times.

Canned pimientos may be cut into strips or fancy shapes and used as a garnish. Capers are another excellent addition to a salad. These are tiny buds pickled. The pickling liquid should be removed before the capers are added to the salad.

Try your hand at a salad for luncheon or supper some warm evening.

HON. WILLIAM
DENNIS DEADWas One of Best-Known and Most Successful Canadian Newspapermen

Halifax, N.S., July 11.—The death of Hon. William Dennis, of Halifax, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, late this afternoon, is announced in messages to the family here. Senator Dennis, on the advice of specialists, had gone from Ottawa for an operation which was performed on Friday. It was at first thought that the operation had been successful, but early this morning complications developed.

Senator Dennis was 65 years of age. He was born in Cornwall, England. At the age of 12 he was a commercial traveller. Two years later he came to Canada and had been actively identified with the conduct of the Halifax Herald and the Evening Mail, since the establishment of those papers. He was one of the best known and most successful of Canadian newspapermen. A Conservative in politics, he conducted his paper on outspoken and independent lines. Himself, until his death, a vigorous and searching writer, he had that rare faculty of infusing his staffs and the papers they edited, with much of his own enthusiasm. Though for years a victim of physical infirmities, Senator Dennis always seemed to bring to his work—and he was capable of a tremendous amount of work—a buoyancy and optimism that gave no hint to the outside world of the physical pain he suffered. The widow, one son and four daughters, survive. His eldest son, Rice Dennis, was killed at Vimy. The remains will be brought to Halifax for interment.

IS THERE A CONSPIRACY
AGAINST WESTERN COAL?Calgary Tells Of a Situation
Both Odd and Unpleasant
If True

Calgary, Alberta, July 11.—The statement of "a leading coal merchant" of Montreal, contained in a Canadian Press despatch from that city that all domestic coal mines in Alberta, owing to lack of orders, are at the present time only working to about 25 per cent of their capacity. The party largely applies to Drumheller, the largest domestic coal producing district of the Province.

ECREMENT HELD
WITHOUT BAIL

New York, July 11.—(By Canadian Press).—The Ellis Island Immigration authorities announced yesterday that Arthur Ecrement is still being held without bail. A motion for his release which was booked for yesterday was not heard owing to the non-appearance of Ecrement's lawyers. It is reported that his case is to be taken to the United States Federal courts in the form of an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

ESTABLISH FOX FARMS

Kingston, Ont., July 11.—A silver fox farm on the Gallop Islands between the Pointe and Cape Vincent is to be established by capitalists from New York state. The situation is said to be ideal, the animals being permitted to rove in their native conditions without any danger of their getting away.

RUMORED OCCUPATION OF MINSK IS UNCONFIRMED.

London, July 11.—A roundabout report that the Bolsheviks, driving against the Poles, had occupied Minsk, it was stated, and was forwarded by the Central News correspondent at Copenhagen.

This report has not been confirmed from any direct source.

WANDERER MUST FACE GRAND JURYOn Charge of Murdering His Wife and an Unidentified
Stranger

Chicago, July 11.—Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant and self confessed slayer of his wife and an unidentified stranger, was ordered held to the Grand Jury to two charges of murder yesterday by the Coroner's Jury.

The ragged stranger killed by Carl Wanderer was partially identified today as Al Watson, said to be the son of a New York "millionaire and turkman."

The identification was made by Mrs. Catherine Vano of this city, who visited the morgue this afternoon after reading news of the body.

Watson is said to have been a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. It is presumed he made the acquaintance of Lieut. Wanderer while in the service.

Mrs. Vano said she met the man in Manchester, England. He was at that time a member of the Second Mechanical Transport Engineers of the Canadian Forces, and that he told her he was the son of a New York millionaire horseman.

Mrs. Vano is an elevator operator. She accompanied several policemen to the morgue, where immediately on glancing at the body, she identified it.

Mrs. Vano said she was a war nurse in Manor House Hospital, Manchester, England, and that Watson was in the hospital for some time recuperating from wounds received in France. Mrs. Vano could not recall whether his name was Albert or Alfred.

On receipt of a dispatch from Chicago stating that the ragged stranger killed by Carl Wanderer, alleged wife slayer had been "partially identified" as Al Watson, son of a "millionaire" turkman of this city, the New York police recalled that last May an Alexander E. Watson had been reported missing by his wife, Rose.

On May 11, this Watson was traced to Paterson, N.J., where, according to New York police records, he was found. The police, however, now are ignorant of his whereabouts.

DID DARTMOUTH STUDENTS
SMUGGLE CANADIAN LIQUOR

Hanover, N.H., July 11.—(By Can. Press).—Those in charge of Dartmouth College during vacation, state that up to Friday, President Hopkins had not made a reply to the charges made by A. H. Meade, a Chicago lawyer, that whiskey smuggling from Canada had been conducted by students of Dartmouth and demanding President Hopkins resignation.

It is said that the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Chicago has already telegraphed to President Hopkins, who will probably send directly to them his reply.

MILLION DOLLAR DEAL

St. John N.B., July 11.—The Fraser Companies Ltd., have secured the Dominion Pulp Company's mill near Chatham and holdings of 285 square miles of crown land timber limits. Some what more than $1,000,000 is involved in the transaction. The mills have a present capacity of 50 million pounds of refined sugar valued at $11,190 were imported into Canada for consumption. The total duty on these consignments amounted to nearly fourteen and a half million dollars.

SOME SUGAR FIGURES.

Ottawa, Ont., July 11.—For the year ending March 31st over one billion pounds of raw sugar valued at more than $65,000,000 and over one million pounds of refined sugar valued at $11,190 were imported into Canada for consumption. The total duty on these consignments amounted to nearly fourteen and a half million dollars.

TREASURE TROVE
FOR WHEAT BELTForty-One Million Dollars To Be Distributed by Canadian Wheat Board

Winnipeg, Man., July 11.—The Winnipeg Telegram says: "Forty five million dollars is to be distributed throughout Western Canada immediately as payment on the participation certificates of the Canada Wheat Board, making an advance of $15,000,000 over the amount of the initial payment intimated at a recent meeting of the Board."

"Following a private meeting of the Board in Winnipeg which terminated yesterday it was learned unofficially that arrangements were being made for the payment of 30 cents per bushel on the certificates, which will mean the distribution of $45,000,000."

"A short time ago the Board announced that the certificates would be redeemed at not less than forty cents per bushel and that the first payment would be fifty per cent. It could not be ascertained today whether a definite price had been fixed or if the redemption value of the certificates would be much in excess of the amount originally announced, namely forty cents a bushel."

"Mrs. Vano said she was a war nurse in Manor House Hospital, Manchester, England, and that Watson was in the hospital for some time recuperating from wounds received in France. Mrs. Vano could not recall whether his name was Albert or Alfred."

NATIVES ENGAGED
IN AGITATIONAland Islands Lie Between Sweden and Finland in Gulf of Bothnia

New York, July 11.—The natives of the Aland Islands which lie between Sweden and Finland, at the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia, are engaged in a lively agitation for reunion with Sweden, according to the advice received by representatives of the Swedish government in this country. The population of the islands is about 12,000. Formerly they were held by Sweden but they were taken over by Russia 120 years ago. After the world war a delegation from the islands presented to the peace conference a claim for annexation to Finland. A commission was appointed by the conference which recommended that the Archipelago be neutralized under a guarantee of the League of Nations.

Apparently this delegation did not faithfully represent the attitude of all the islanders for other Alanders have been agitating for self-determination and permission to join with Sweden since the beginning of 1918. The Swedish government has taken up the subject with the Powers and has asked the government of Finland to submit the question by referendum to the natives of the Aland Islands.

According to a statement drawn up by a Swedish premier, efforts to settle the matter between Finland and Sweden have failed and the Swedish government has appealed to the Peace conference in support of the demands of those Alanders who desire to be annexed to Sweden.

On June 1, a delegation of the County Council at Aland, empowered by 95 per cent of the population of the islands, visited Stockholm and was received by King Gustave. This delegation presented the demands of the islanders for their right of self-determination and their intention to reunite with Sweden, declaring that their failure to receive these rights were causing impatience and that if they were withheld while being granted to others would cause great apprehension with the Aland population.

The King assured them that Sweden was making all possible efforts to obtain a decision which would be based on the vote of the islanders themselves.

GREEK AND ITALIAN
TROOPS HAVE CLASHED

Constantinople, July 10.—Greek and Italian troops have clashed at Nazilli, 25 miles northeast of Aidin, in the Italian zone. The Greeks claimed the right to enter the Italian zone in pursuit of Turkish Nationalists organizing attacks there against the Greeks. The Italians claimed that they were policing the district and declared that they were not willing to permit the Greeks to intervene.

TROOPS OCCUPY
BUILDINGS ON
EVE OF JULY 12Anniversary of Battle of the Boyrne, Ulster's Greatest Holiday

Belfast, July 11.—(By The Associated Press).—On the eve of Ulster's greatest holiday, the 12th of July, anniversary of the battle of the Boyrne, its municipal buildings for the first time in recent history are occupied by troops, while contingents of soldiers on the various roads into the city prevents any one from entering or leaving without a search for arms.

This display of force, however, seems to weight lightly with the thousands in Belfast's streets tonight, bent on starting the holiday early, and keen observers say that the precautions taken to forestall a Nationalist outbreak far surpass the danger.

Every household displayed its Union Jack, some from seemingly inaccessible tops of the highest trees in the yard and from the steeples of nearly every church floated the same emblem. Belfast itself is not decorated, except along the line of march where at least 20,000 Ulstermen will parade for four miles to hear speeches from five platforms and generally make merry. Seventeen speakers are on the programme, with the interest centering on Sir Edward Carson. He has not yet intimated the exact line of his address, but it is expected to harmonize with the known intentions of others to denounce the Sinn Fein.

Numerous outrages occurred in and around Cork today. Sergeant Seery is dying in the Cork Military Hospital from several bullet wounds received in an attack upon him while he was carrying the police mail to the Grena Post Office near Cork. His assistant seized the mail and dumped it.

The Sergeant in charge of the Rathmore, Cork Barracks, was killed by a bomb and two constables were wounded while defending the barracks from an attack. Three abandoned police barracks in Cork City were burned today.

Another police party returning from the Post Office to the barracks at Dungle, on the Downal seaboard, were attacked by a mob. Sergeant Mooney's head and body were riddled with small shot, but with the aid of his comrades, he succeeded in reaching the barracks.

Seven justices of the peace in Cavan County jointly tendered their resignations to the Lord Chancellor. In their letter they said: "We no longer wish to be associated with an executive whose actions are subversive of justice and equity and repugnant to the feelings of a vast majority of our fellow countrymen."

In Belfast today quiet prevails. The military gave permission to the Derry Orangemen to carry out a foundation stone laying ceremony near the City. Previously the stone laying had been prohibited in the fear of a demonstration.

A detail of troops occupied the City Hall last night for protective purposes. Troops were stationed at the former asylum on the Grosvenor Road while the Castle yards also were garrisoned. No disorders were reported.

Attack the Police

The attack upon the party of police, in which Sergeant Mooney was wounded while returning from the Post Office to the barracks at Dungle is attributed to an unpleasant experience of three Irish-Americans, Michael, Eugene and Neil O'Donnell of New York, brothers, who are now visiting Donegal.

The O'Donnells attended a fair at Dungle a new days ago and while returning to the residence of friends the same evening, met a party of police on the road some miles from Dungle. In passing a policeman, Michael and Michael O'Donnell, in a jocular mood, also coughed. The police resented this and one of them, alleged to have been Sergeant Mooney, struck Michael O'Donnell with a rifle, knocking him down and fracturing his jaw. Michael was carried unconscious by his brothers to a neighboring house, where it is declared, he now lies in a critical condition.

The news of the assault created indignation at Dungle according to the report, and the following day, Mooney was shot by a person stationed in an unoccupied house in Dungle. Whether Mooney will recover from his wounds is considered doubtful.

Court House Occupied

Dublin, July 11.—The Cork Court House was occupied yesterday by troops, which erected barbed wire entanglements, sand bags and other defences. The troops removed a Republic tri-color which had floated over the building for several weeks.

TRAINED NURSES NEXT
MEET IN QUEBEC

Fort William, Ont., July 11.—Miss E. Dickson, of Toronto, was yesterday elected President of the Canadian Association for Trained Nurses. In convention here, Miss Jean Brown, of Regina, and Miss Ethel Johns, Vancouver, were elected Vice-President and Second Vice-President, respectively.

Among the councillors, elected were Miss Young and Miss Hersey, Quebec. Quebec was chosen as the place for the 1921 meeting of the Association.

LEONID KRASSIN
IS TO RETURNLeft London Recently For Moscow After Consultation
With Allies

London, July 11.—Leonid Krassin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce, who left London recently for Moscow, after having had consultations with Premier Lloyd George and Allied representatives on the subject of commercial relations between Soviet Russia and the Allies, will return to England immediately, says a Moscow wireless dispatch.

Conditions which the British government is declared to have stipulated before trade could be resumed with Russia and which the Russians have accepted, are given in the Moscow wireless message as follows: "That each government agree to refrain from inimical action or official propaganda against the institutions of the other governments. In particular, that the Soviet government shall not assist the Eastern people in hostilities against Great Britain."

"That British subjects in Russia and Russians in Great Britain be permitted to return to their homes. That the Soviet government agree in principle to recognize its obligations and to refund to private individuals British subjects losses suffered through the sale of goods or personal services rendered to Russia."

"That Great Britain agree to conditions of the Soviet government regarding trade on a mutual basis but retaining the right to object to the appointment of any official agent of the Soviet."

NO DEVELOPMENTS
OVER WEEK-ENDPremier Meighen Will Not Discuss Further Cabinet
Appointments Yet

Ottawa, Ont., July 11.—(By Can. Press).—There were no new political developments over the week end, following the swearing in of Premier Meighen and Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, on Saturday. The new Premier said tonight that he had nothing to add to the announcements made on Saturday and would not discuss cabinet appointments any further than to state what had already taken place.

By tomorrow night or Tuesday, he might have something to say as to further members of the Cabinet, he said.

The name of F. B. McCurdy is being prominently mentioned as an outsider likely to be taken into the Ministry, but no official intimation to this effect has yet been made.

The new Prime Minister spent part of today at the residence of Sir Robert Borden, his predecessor in office.

It is now stated that the big power dam at Chelsea which will raise the level of the river over twenty feet will be started this Fall or early next Spring. This dam will create an enormous amount of power, and will raise the river as far up as the Cascades that is, seven miles. Chelsea Island will be several feet under water when the river is finally raised by the dam.

It is said, however, the river will be so high, once the dam is built that the road up the Gattineau and also the railway tracks in the neighborhood of Kirk Perry will be flooded by the new level and will either have to be elevated or rebuilt on higher ground. The seven miles of still river which this dam will create will be used as a reservoir for the pulpwood.

PROFITEERING
PROTEST PLANNEDBig Meeting to Discuss Ways and Means to Procure Legislation.

Atlanta, July 11.—John A. Manget, Georgia fair price commissioner, has announced a public mass meeting, to be held in the auditorium of this city on July 1, for the purpose of getting the co-operation of the citizens of Georgia in an effort to procure legislation at the next session of the Georgia Assembly to stop the "suffering caused by these rent hog landlords."

"Help bring this matter to the attention of the lawmakers of Georgia by attending this mass meeting," Mr. Manget urges. "You will hear things that will astound you." Continuing, he says in part:

"If your rent has been raised to a point beyond all reason and endurance, beyond the bounds of decency and justice, meet with the thousands of others who are in the same position at the auditorium-armory on Thursday night, July 1, at 8 o'clock. A mass meeting is called for this date, and every one who is interested in lowering the present exorbitant rents being demanded by the 'rent hog' or who desires to do a service for humanity, is cordially invited to be present. You can, by your presence, rebuke the men who are ruthlessly robbing their fellow man."

"It is at the point of a revolver that the highwayman robs one of his money and valuables. One submits because he has no power to overcome the advantage of the robber. The 'rent hog' raises his rents, not because his investment justifies the increase, but because he has the power to do so—the power of the necessity of a roof over the heads of yourself and family."

"In many cases rents have been raised to a point that is yielding 100 per cent and more on the investment. As an instance, one of them is forcing his tenant to pay 10 per cent on an investment of almost $100,000, while he gives the property in at a valuation of $16,000. This is nothing less than legalized robbery. What are we going to do about it?"

"There is a way to protect the tenant against this robbery. There are laws on the statute books for the punishment of other criminals. The 'rent hog' has not as yet been classified, but the lawmakers of Georgia will enact a law and make such a classification if the matter is brought to their attention."

FACTORY DESTROYED

Calais, Maine, July 11.—The factory of the Maine Axe and Tool Company Limited, at St. Stephen, N.B., was burned yesterday. The loss was estimated at $200,000, principally on machinery and stock.

BIG GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

BULLION SHIPMENTS HEAVY

Cobalt, Ont., July 11.—Bullion shipments from the camp during the past week were heavy, three mines sending out approximately 230,000 ounces. The ore shipments totalled about 370 tons.

GATINEAU VALLEY
TO BE DEVELOPEDOn a Big Scale by the Riordan
Co.—Plan Big Power Dam
at Chelsea

Ottawa, July 10.—The development of the Gattineau Valley by the Riordan Company, Limited, the big firm which has absorbed the Gilmour & Hughes and C. E. Edwards Co., Limited, interests, will soon, is shown by notices which have been received by the residents of Chelsea Island, a few miles from Ottawa and opposite Chelsea, Que.

All residents of that island have received notices to quit their cottages by September 30th, next in view of proposed developments. The cottages are rented from the Gilmour & Hughes interests and have been used for many years as summer residences.

It is now stated that the big power dam at Chelsea which will raise the level of the river over twenty feet will be started this Fall or early next Spring. This dam will create an enormous amount of power, and will raise the river as far up as the Cascades that is, seven miles. SUN PREVENTED
SERIOUS OUTBREAKSpanish Mobs Paraded the Streets, Menacing Store-
keepers Who Were Open

Madrid, July 6.—The sun prevented what threatened to be a serious outbreak in Madrid during the recent baker's strike. The first two days of the bread scarcity were dull and threatening and the hungry poor were so affected by the lowering skies and the lack of food that they paraded the streets in groups uttering shouts and menacing storekeepers who kept their establishments open.

On the third day the sun shone and although still hungry and compelled to wait indefinite hours for the loaves to be doled out, the people did so patiently and even cheerily. All kinds of laws and police regulations were broken by the men, women and children forming the almost endless bread lines, but the authorities took a lenient view of what occurred.

When an old man brought a camp bedstead, set it up on the sidewalk and stretched himself on it, a policeman arrested him and led him to the station house with his bed. The police captain then looked grave, then began to laugh when the old man explained he knew he might have to wait anything from twelve to twenty hours for his bread and had merely provided against fatigue. He was released and returned to his place in the line with his bed amid the applause of the crowd.

Another group hired a barrel organ whose owner played popular melodies while the people waiting, with grumbling appetites and hollow stomachs danced merrily. On the Calle de la Magdalena a cobbler arrived carrying a stool, his tools and a pair of shoes, which he was able to sell and heel before his turn came to obtain a loaf.

Similar scenes were enacted day after day amid general hilarity until the municipal authorities decided to try the big bread-line with distributing loaves from a larger number of centres. The danger was then over.

LEON TROTSKY IS
OWN MESSENGERSoviet War Minister Carries
His Own Despatches To All Nations

Moscow July 11.—Leon Trotsky war minister is often his own messenger. While he is carrying important despatches to one of his colleagues, The Associated Press Correspondent had a fleeting interview with him in Kremlin the other day.

Replying to a question as to whether he would appoint time to discuss with the correspondent the activities of the working army, he said: "This is a time of momentous decisions in Russia and until party politics for the coming year are determined I cannot talk for publication."

QUEBEC, JULY 12, 1920.

THE STANDARDS FOR WOLFE'S TOMB.

In connection with the Dean of Westminster's recent request for two Canadian standards with which to permanently decorate Wolfe's tomb in the Abbey, replacing all the Canadian battalions colors that had been deposited there for safe-keeping during the war, the Chronicle has now received courteous intimation of the willingness of the Daughters of the Empire to co-operate by undertaking the necessary needle-work. This means that the expense involved will be relatively small and surely, if the women of Quebec are prepared to make the flags, funds to purchase the necessary material will be forthcoming from the men. Enquiry is now being made as to the exact cost of this material and, as soon as the information is received, we will open a subscription list as promised a few days ago.

When the subscription list is complete, the Dean of Westminster will be notified of the intention of a number of citizens of Quebec to decorate Wolfe's tomb in accordance with his request. The standards, as soon as they are worked, will be forwarded to the Abbey, together with a small brass plate setting forth that they are the gift of Quebec citizens to replace the Canadian Battalion colors deposited there during the war, and that they have been worked by ladies of the Quebec Municipal Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. The names of all subscribers to the fund will also be sent to the Dean.

An effort will be made to have the formal presentation undertaken by some representative resident of the Ancient Capital, if there are any visiting London at that time; otherwise the Honorable P. Pelletier, Commissioner for the Province of Quebec, and, failing him, the Canadian High Commissioner, will be asked to officiate. We are confident that there will be no difficulty in securing the small amount of money required to perform this graceful and patriotic act.

OUR MARITIME DESTINIES.

There has just come to hand from the Navy League of Canada, a pamphlet written in the French language to which contributions have been made by Sir Robert Falconer, Lieut.-Col. F. C. Hamilton and Mr. J. Castell-Hopkins. The preface is the work of Mr. Leon-Mercier Gouin, B.A., LL.L., who is a member of the publicity committee of the League, and has for its subject, "Our Maritime Destinies."

Expressions coming from such a source will naturally commend themselves to the study of his countrymen and Mr. Gouin is to be congratulated upon a really striking presentation of the Navy League's case. After referring to the late war and its lessons, he proceeds thus in part:

"Enriched by this new victory, the British flag still flies over this splendid half of the North American continent that belongs to us. Our victorious standard remains the symbol and the guarantee of our constitutional liberties. If it had been conquered, we should have borne the yoke of a foreign domination or, left to our own weakness, we should have made the costly experiment of an independence as illusory as ephemeral. Thus suddenly deprived of the support of our metropolis, we should have striven in vain to prevent the rapid partition of our territory. . . . It is the protection of Great Britain that gives to our young nation the tranquillity essential to its growth. Without her, we could neither attain our normal development nor conserve our ethnic individuality. . . . I conclude, therefore that we are vitally interested in maintaining the power of our metropolis.

"Canada should watch jealously over the protection of her territory and of her commerce. It is important that she should retain all her markets from one end of the world to the other. Thus our national prosperity is indirectly bound up in that of the other parts of the British Empire.

"Our programme (that of the Navy League) constitutes a patriotic task that is necessary among all others. We desire our compatriots to consecrate to maritime questions the attention that is their due: to have it at heart to provide: first, for the defence of our coasts by our own naval units and, second, for the development of our trade by our own merchant marine. For a half-century the naval side of our history has been unfortunately too much neglected. The important role that navigation has played in our national life in the past has been forgotten. Above all it has not been understood what a splendid future the sea reserves for our people, if they only know how to prepare for it. "From our first beginnings we were exclusively a maritime colony depending for our provisions on the efficiency of the French fleet. So true was this that Colbert placed us under the Ministry of Marine and Colonies. Since our earliest origins, two industries have been established in the country: fishing and ship-building.

"We wish—is it so great a crime?—that our Canadian produce may be carried in Canadian ships, that is to say, built in Canada by our compatriots and manned by Canadian crews. We also wish to build warships in Canada, not from an insensate and rash desire for conquest, but solely to protect ourselves. We believe this to be an urgent necessity. Moreover, a fleet in proportion to our resources, far from being a burden to us would be a benefit. It would definitely establish marine construction in the country, thus giving employment to our workmen and engineers. Similarly, once it is launched, it will offer attractive and remunerative positions to our young men.

"In closing I salute with a thrill of admiration that indomitable British fleet which, during all the late war, protected our coasts, our troops and our trade. We owe it an unforgettable debt of gratitude. It is to be hoped that we will co-operate at the earliest moment, we Canadians, with the Imperial navy in the defense of our common heritage."

INTERESTING INFORMATION.

The saying is an old one that "when thieves fall out honest men come by their own" and, although it is far from our intention to suggest that capitalists and laborers are two bands of thieves, it frequently happens at least that when these disagree over wages, the public comes into some interesting information as to production costs and manufacturing profits.

At the present time hearings are being held at Scranton, Pa., before the Federal Anthracite Mine Commission upon the wage dispute of the miners and operators of the United States. The miners, who are naturally anxious to make out their case for increased pay, have been discussing the practices of the coal operators in a manner that tends to justify suspicions that the consumers may have entertained for some time past.

The workers declare in fact that the anthracite industry, "has been organized into a huge combination, a monopoly very similar in structure to an octopus. Its head and body are a very small group of banking interests. Its outlying arms are seven railway systems, which control, at their extremities, the anthracite mining operations of the country." The mine workers declare also that "a well-defined process exists by which the profits of the anthracite industry are successfully concealed, while the high prices are explained by apparent high costs." They declare that transportation costs are inflated, and written into the cost of anthracite in such a manner as to bridge the gap between the actual mining cost and the high prices to the consuming public. This financial policy, they say has furnished a basis for extensive watering of the capital employed in the industry; it has furnished large returns as interest on bonded indebtedness; but more than anything else, it serves, they declare, to blind the public in its long-continued effort to find the real reason why the price of coal is so high.

On the other hand there has been a persistent effort on the part of the mine owners to withhold from the public all figures of every sort which might show the revenue and income of the coal companies. This attitude of course, as the Christian Science Monitor points out, goes almost as far as the mine workers' allegations to show that the suspicions of the public with respect to the propriety and justice of the methods of carrying on the coal business in the United States are more or less well founded.

Now we are unaware as to whether the American producers of coal have been exacting unjustifiable profits or not; this is a matter beyond Canadian control and we have simply to pay for our coal or do without it. At the same time, if costs at the mine are needlessly high, that is all the more reason why we should keep down the cost of distribution as rigidly as possible. Where the coal is handled first by an importing company and then by local dealers, there are two intermediary profits to be made, at least one of which might very well be done away with; while there will be an evidently greater economy if the consumer can find some means of dealing direct with the American producer, as for instance through the Co-operative Association suggested by the Chronicle. Have Quebecers the energy and initiative to take advantage of those means? If not they can no longer complain of dear fuel and the high cost of living.

Some Things the Public Would Like to Know:

(Pertinent Questions on Matters of General Public Interest are Invited)

Is it a fact, as rumored, that out of $17 a ton, which is the current price of coal in Quebec, $2 goes to importing companies while the dealers receive $1?

What is the next surprise the weatherman has in store for Quebec?

THE ABANDONED FARM.
(Philadelphia Evening Bulletin)

If there are, as Secretary Rasmussen of the State Bureau of Agriculture, estimates, from four to six thousand abandoned and untilled farms in the State, the fact is by no means of negligible consequence. The work of listing the properties might profitably be extended to an inquiry to determine the reasons for their abandonment, as well as the possibilities of their reclamation and successful operation. If there were a like number of abandoned industrial plants in the State, capable of practical utilization, we should probably see public spirit in at least some of the communities where these idle plants stood, hunting for business enterprise to take over the property, start the wheels again and provide employment for idle hands. Isn't a farm that is capable of producing food supply for the workers as important to the extent of that capacity as a factory providing them with work?

A PRESENT-DAY HERO.
(Toronto Globe)

The world loses a supreme benefactor in the death of Major-General Gorgas, former Surgeon-General of the United States army. He drove the miasma from Havana and made the Panama Canal Zone safe for human beings. With the courage of the noblest traditions of his calling, he led the warfare on typhus in Serbia, taking his life in his hands. Had he lived he would probably have conferred similar blessings on British West Africa, to which he was preparing to go on a mission for the British Government. The Imperial authorities had already recognized his achievements by making him a Knight of the Order of the British Empire, an almost unique honor for one not a British subject.

General Gorgas was a hero of a modern type. His conquests were not made on the fields of carnage; his battles were fought to save human life, not to destroy it. The warrior of this kind will have a wider sphere of service in the future than the soldier or the sailor.

THE FREEDOM OF YOUTH.
(London Daily Express)

Today, at least boys and girls may choose for themselves. It is the age of freedom, and it belongs to youth. Girls are no longer sold to the high bidder. Gaunt, time-serving, and respectable mothers no longer have the power to bar the agreeable detrimental and force upon their dottle and well-brought-up daughters rank which they hate or wealth which they detest. Marriage, according to the cynic, is a lottery more full of jeopardy than any Derby sweep. Marriage, as wise men know, is that one sure recipe for happiness, so subtle and so perfect, that all the failures, whatever their number, however great their disaster, are well ignored. That explains the weddings of June and the crowds who invest unknown couples with the halo that belongs to "movie" stars.

TEETH AND CRUSTS.
(Manchester Guardian)

In order to achieve sound and fine teeth, said Lady Rhonda to a Manchester audience the other day, youth must be encouraged to eat hard crusts. The answer is (writes an anxious house-mother) that the hard crust has very nearly disappeared from English bread. The points of a week's experience are added. Our correspondent tried four different bakers on successive days, buying both white and wholemeal loaves. On only one loaf out of a dozen or so was there anything that our grandmothers would have called a crust. British house-hold bread has degenerated into pulp. If our children are to grow fine teeth, they must exercise them on other foods.

FORTUNES IN SALT

Poland is a well-salted country. Even before the partition the salt mines of Galicia provided a large part of the national industry; the salt of Poland was exported to the Far East, and large fortunes were made by the private companies engaged in the business. One hundred thousand tons of salt, it is believed for lack of more exact statistics, were exported yearly from the mines of Galicia, about 24,000 tons from those of Wloclawka, and about 17,000 tons from Bochnia. After the partition an Austrian monopoly on salt ruined the Polish salt industries for nearly a century and a half, confiscating or buying out all the private concerns and warehouses, and leading to the closing of the smaller salt mines. From 1773 to 1841 the production of salt in Poland diminished from about 140,000 tons a year to 25,000 tons; then the production began to increase until 1812 it had reached 100,000 tons and is expected this year to reach more than 200,000. This, however, is considered simply a beginning of a great modern industry, for the Polish Government sees in its salt a source of national wealth which it proposes to develop to the utmost. There are more mines now than there used to be, and salt beds are to be found in all parts of the country. The supply, says an authority in "Przemysl i Handel," which is Polish for "Industry and Commerce," amounts at least to 10,000,000,000 tons which certainly gives scope for a long period of "przemysl" by the miners and a highly profitable "handel" in salt with other allowances."

IMPORTANT NOTICE

In virtue of a new by-law, all bottles which have been used for the distribution of milk, must be washed as soon after they are emptied as they are returned to the milkmen.
This new precaution is all in the interests of the public, because it is the surest means of ascertaining the cleanliness of these bottles, which are all the harder to wash when they are left over.
It is also commendable to use these bottles for any other purpose.

LAW OFFICER DIED SUDDENLY

Mr. Jean Bouffard of Crown Lands Dept., Passed Away Amidst General Regret

It was with feelings of deep regret that the many friends of Mr. Jean Bouffard, law officer of the Provincial Departments of Crown Lands and Forests, learned of his death, which occurred suddenly, Friday night at his summer residence on the island of Orleans.

The late Mr. Bouffard, who was sixty years of age at the time of his demise, was one of the oldest, as well as one of the best-known officers of the Provincial Government. He joined the service in December, 1891, as law officer, which position he held until his death. He was most conscientious in the discharge of his responsible duties, which required the services of a man possessing special knowledge regarding the laws concerning the lands, rivers and fisheries of the Province, and in the performance of his duties he gave the utmost satisfaction and thus earned the entire confidence of the Members and Deputy Members of the Crown Lands, and other officials with whom he came in contact in the course of his work, and they as well as his other employees in the Department will feel his loss very keenly.

Mr. Bouffard was born at St. Laurent, Island of Orleans, in 1860. He took his classical course at the Quebec Seminary and his law course at Laval University, and for a time he was a partner of the present Chief Justice of the Superior Court, Sir Francois Lemieux. Previous to entering the service of the Provincial Government, he was in the employ of the Post Office Department, this city, which he resigned on appointment to the position of Assistant Clerk to the Recorder of Quebec which he relinquished on accepting that of Law Officer of the Crown Lands Department.

Mr. Bouffard some ten years ago was named Professor of Forestry Law in Laval University, and was held in the highest esteem by the authorities of that institution, as well as by the professors of the other faculties. He was the author of various works relating to forestry, his latest production being "Loi du Domaine," which is at present being published, and will be a valuable contribution to the legal profession in this country. In his capacity as Law Officer to the Crown Lands Department, Mr. Bouffard has been very successful in drawing up briefs, and the great care he exercised in this important work has been no small factor in the winning of many actions at law, in which the Government has been involved from time to time.

Mr. Bouffard was a devoted member of the Roman Catholic Church, and with him the call of charity never found a ready response. His quiet and unassuming manner endeared him to a host of friends, especially those of the legal fraternity and the members of the Provincial service.

The surviving members of the late Mr. Bouffard's family are his widow formerly Miss Emma Campbell, of this city; two daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) J. R. Gobeil, of Chateau Richer, and Miss Marguerite Bouffard, and four sons, Messrs. Henri, Maurice, Jean and Robert Bouffard, for whom the greatest sympathy will be felt by the community in the bereavement they have sustained.

The funeral service will take place at St. Laurent this morning, and the remains will afterwards be conveyed to Quebec by special boat, arriving here at 10:30 a.m., for interment in Belmont Cemetery.

LA FETE DE LA SILLERY WAS EN FETE YESTERDAY

The festival of St. Jean Baptiste was observed yesterday, instead of the 24th June, by the residents of Sillery Parish in a fitting manner, and the weather was all that could be desired for a proper celebration of the event, which was one of the most successful carried out in recent years.

The celebration this year consisted of a procession, followed by a High Mass in the Parish Church, and in the afternoon athletic sports were held. The organizers of the day's programme certainly fulfilled their duties in a very satisfactory manner, not a hitch taking place during the whole proceedings, which the people of Sillery Parish entered into with the great enthusiasm.

Bunting was flown on practically every residence in Sillery and Bergeville, and here and there flags were strung across the road through which the procession passed.

The procession was formed at the School House by the Marshall, Mr. G. Martineau, at 8:15 a.m., and proceeded down Church Hill, through the Cove Road, up Gignac's Hill, thence to St. Louis Road into Bergeville and back to the Church by Sillery Hill. The order of procession was: St. Jean Baptiste banners, followed by the children of the Parish, the Harmonie Band of Quebec, Allegorical cars with representations of Champlain, Ancient Canadiennes, Faith, Hope and Charity, represented by the Misses May Aubin, Laurette Aubin and Bella Julien; St. Jean Baptiste, represented by Louis Nadeau; Little St. Jean de Baptiste, by Lorenzo Nadeau, and Jacques Carlier by Jos. Gauthier. The remainder of the procession was composed of Independent Order of Foresters, Fire Brigade, Chasseurs de Lalaberry, with their chaplain; Limboul Cadets and Band, St. Jean Baptiste Cadets with Band, Catholic Order of Foresters with flag; The Mayor of Sillery, Mr. J. Arthur Gauthier and town Councilors, and the St. John de Baptiste Society of the St. Sauveur and Sillery. The procession was an impressive one and was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators from town and surrounding district.

The High Mass commenced at 10:15, and was attended by an exceedingly large congregation which included His Honor the Lieut. Governor, with his A.D.C., Capt. Staunton. The celebration of the mass was Rev. Father Jean, of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament Church, Quebec, assisted by the Rev. Fathers Gagneau, as deacon, and Blanchet, of Jesus Marie Convent as sub-deacon. The preacher for the occasion was the Rev. Father Lavergne.

Battman's Mass was sung during the service by the choir of the church and amongst the soloists who assisted in the musical programme were, Mrs. J. Gauthier and Mrs. Jos. Laliberte, who sang the Kyrie. The "Domine" of the Gloria by Mr. J. A. Gauthier and Mr. St. George Legendre; The Credo, J. A. Gauthier, and Mrs. St. George Legendre; Agnus Dei by Mrs. J. A. Gauthier and Mr. Bertraine; Ave Marie, Mrs. J. A. Gauthier; "Et in Spiritum," Messrs Theophile Aubin and J. A. BOY PAINFULLY INJURED

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Gerard Thompson, aged between 15 and 16 years, was painfully injured, when he was struck by the shaft of a carriage yesterday afternoon. It appears that the shaft pierced his side, and the lad is said to be suffering from several broken ribs. At the present time he is in the St. Francois d'Assise hospital, but no report of his condition could be obtained last evening.

WINDSOR GROCERS JOIN MOVEMENT

Windsor, Ont., July 11.—A special meeting of the grocers section of the Retail Merchants' Association has been called for Monday night to protest against the order of the Dominion Board of Commerce, requesting that a detailed monthly report must be made of all sales. The grocers have notified W. C. Kennedy, M.P. for North Essex, that the order cannot be obeyed. Representatives will be named Monday to go to Ottawa to formally file a protest.

QUEBEC CROWDED WITH MANY VISITORS

Quebec city for the past week has been crowded with tourist travel, and the Hotels have been doing a thriving business. The Chateau Frontenac is filled with guests, many of whom from the United States and Canada West, were on their first visit to the Ancient Capital and delighted with the various points of historical interest, and scenic beauty of the city and its environs. The remarkable fame of the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, is evidenced by the large number of tourists who are visiting the Shrine daily, which is taxing the car accommodation of the Montmorency Division of the Q. R. L. H. & P. Co.

MAN FELL OFF SHED ON LOUISE BASIN

On Saturday morning between half past five and six o'clock, as Constable Jeffrey was making the round of the Louise Basin, he discovered a man lying on the tracks by Shed 20. The ambulance was called, and the man transported to the Hotel Dieu, where it was later ascertained that his name was Roach, and that he was a shipbuilder who had fallen from the roof of Shed 20 to the ground below. The unfortunate victim was a resident of Sault au Matelot street.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

The name "Bayer" is the thumb-print of genuine Aspirin. It positively identifies the only genuine Aspirin—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada. Always buy an unbroken package. Larger "Bayer" packages. There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer". Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monacalender of Salzig. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross".

"BABE" RUTH SCORES ANOTHER HOME RUN

EXCELLENT CARD OF BOUTS IS ON PROGRAMME FOR THE RUSTIC THEATRE THIS P.M.

Three Rattling Good Boxing Matches And a Wrestling Bout
Are On Bill—Jones Arrived in Town Yesterday Afternoon
From Sherbrooke—Great Demand for Seats

The scene is all set for the big battle at the Rustic Theatre this evening when three rattling good bouts are on the bill, as well as a wrestling match.

Soldier Jones Canada's lightweight champion, who meets Silas Green tonight, arrived in town yesterday from Sherbrooke where, on Saturday night he knocked out Battling Joe Wilson in two rounds. With Jones is his manager, "Daredevil" Daniels, and Dan Keller, Jones' trainer. According to advices from Sherbrooke, Jones gave Wilson a bad mauling although the American was over thirty pounds heavier. In the first round, the soldier connected with his terrible right hand and Wilson went down for a count of nine. He managed to hug through the remainder of the session but in the second round was floored four times. Towards the close of the session, Jones heaved over another right hander and Wilson went down like a log. Time saved him from being counted out but when the bell rang again for the resumption of hostilities in the third round, Wilson lay unconscious in his corner and Jones was declared the winner.

Since his last appearance here, Jones has fought some of the best men in the business and has developed into a fighter who has to be reckoned with. He has a long list of knockouts in his credit indicating the terrific force behind his drives. Among those, Jones has put to sleep are One Round, Buffalo's famous heavy, Stanley Meyers, Indian Jamieson, Jim Stockley, and Jack Williams. Jones knocked out Jamieson in Toronto and established a new Canadian record for disposing of a man in quick time, the soldier showing his opponent away with one punch ere the round had gone more than ten seconds. Naturally, Jones' manager, Daniels, can only see one winner to-night but he frankly admits that Green is a real tough man, as Daniels saw the colored man give Fred Fulton quite an argument.

After his fight here, Jones is booked to fight in Toronto and will later meet the famous Gene Tunney, lightweight champion of the A. E. at Jersey City.

Green is expected in this morning, while his opponent put the final touches to his training yesterday, and will only take a little light exercise this morning. Spike says that he is going to challenge the winner of tonight's bout.

Sullivan's opponent is from the Empire, and his mates have all been helping him get in the best possible condition and one and all predict a victory for him.

The preliminary bout will see young Corrigan, of Laval, try to repeat his performance of last week, when he put Charlie Chaplin Crozier away in the first round, but he is up against a tougher customer this time.

All three battles should be hummers, for all of the men want to get their fists over as quickly as possible, and say that they will win by the knockout route in double time.

The wrestling match will see two good men pitted against each other for two fifteen minute periods, which will be looked after by Ad. Audette, while the boxers will be taken care of by Alf Lynch.

The first event will start sharp at 8.30, so it behooves all who wish to witness the scraps to get there on time.

"BABE" RUTH NEAR HEAD OF BATTERS

Home Run King is Second to Sister in American League —National Figures

Chicago, July 10.—With a new world's record within his grasp "Babe" Ruth, the New York slugger, today is driving towards the batting championship of the American League.

Reposing in fourth place a week ago the home-run king is now second in the list of batters with an average of .386—thirty-three points behind George Sisler, the St. Louis star, who is leading the league. Ruth has the veteran, Tim Lincecum, of Cleveland and Joe Jackson of Chicago, who are tied for third place, behind him.

Although Ruth failed to fatten his home-run record during the week, he connected with thirteen hits in nine games. In addition he pulled away from Speaker for scoring honors. He has crossed the plate seventy times, while the Cleveland star is two runs behind him.

Other leading batters: Weaver, Chicago, .365; Rice, Washington, .357; Milan, Washington, .346; Johnston, Cleveland, .344.

Eays, of Boston, pitcher, outfielder and pinch-hitter, donned Rogers Hornsby as leader among the National League batters who have participated in forty or more games. He is batting .403 for 47 games, in which he cracked out 29 hits in 72 times at bat. Hornsby, however, is the real leader among the regulars with a mark of .378 made in 73 games.

Other leading batters: E. Smith, New York, .366; Konechey, Brooklyn, .339; Nicholson, Pittsburgh, .326; Kousch, Cincinnati, .326.

ST. PATRICK'S WON FROM NAPS

Final Score Was 12 to 11 —Protest Entered Over the Match

Coming from behind in the fifth inning yesterday afternoon at the C.B. grounds, the St. Patrick's nine slugged their way to a 12 to 11 victory over Jules Joncas' Napoleons in a game that was featured by the scoring of the first home run that has been made in Quebec City League ball for a considerable number of years.

Marcel Savard was the gentleman who tried to cop some of Babe Ruth's glory, and he slammed one of Metivier's offerings in the sixth frame far enough to allow him to circle the bases for the first home run of the season. There was nobody on bases at the time.

The Naps started out by grabbing four runs in the first frame but the Saints came back with a brace of tallies in the first half of the second, and did the same in the third, while the Naps were scoring one in both their halves of the second and third session.

The fourth inning proved blank for both teams, but in the fifth, with the score standing six to four for the Naps, the Irishmen took a brace and before the inning had ended, and before the Naps had ended, the St. Pats runners had crossed the home plate, putting the Irishmen in front, where they stayed for the rest of the game, although the Naps slammed four more runs across the plate in the last half of the ninth, and came within one run of tying the score.

St. Pats used three new players, and Manager Jules Joncas protested the game on the grounds that their contracts were not handed in to the League president before the commencement of the game.

It was a great and glorious game, featured by both heavy hitting and snappy fielding, and the big crowd that took in the game got a good afternoon's sport.

The C.B. team put in an appearance on the diamond, but the Standards did not, so the game was awarded by umpire Joe Ledden to the C.B.s by the usual forfeit score of 9 to 0.

NEW RECORD MADE

Toronto, July 11.—In the Olympic 100 mile bicycle contest at Exhibition Park on Saturday, held under the auspices of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, there were sixteen entrants and W. Webster was the winner. His time was five hours and one minute and 45 seconds, said to be a record. H. Bounsell, finished second, and S. Martin third.

MADE ANOTHER RECORD

New York, July 11.—Man O'War, the Glen Rivie Farms champion three years old, made a new record in the United States in winning the Dwyer Stakes at 1.3 miles over the Aqueduct Race Track yesterday. He ran the distance in 1:49.1-5, or one fifth of a second better than the previous record made by Borrow.

EMPRESS TEAM PLAYED IN DRAW

Shared Eight Goals with R.
C.G.A.—League Suspends
Operations For One Month

Coming from behind in the second half of their league game with the R. C. G. A. on Saturday evening at the Exhibition Grounds, the Empress of France managed to divide the points with the Soldiers, but they just managed to do it, for about fifteen seconds after they had scored their fourth and tying goal, the final whistle blew.

The Empress started out well, and scored the first goal but the R. C. G. A. came back determinedly, and could not be held, before they had scored three goals in reply. Then the Empress had another spell of life, and made the count 3 to 2, but the Artillerymen scored a fourth stopped the ball inside the line.

On changing ends, the Empress eleven started to work in real earnest, and following a hot attack on the Artillery citadel, they were successful in reducing their opponents' lead to one goal when Henshaw stopped the ball inside the line.

Then came the best part of the game, with the Empress striving to score the equalizing point, and the soldiers determined not to let the mariners through. Just before the final whistle went, however, the Empress men went through with an irresistible rush, and tied the score.

The goal scorers were Hay, E. McGrath, and Sweeney 2, Bolton and Edwards for the Empress of France. Just before the game, Mr. D. Wright announced that he would present a new ball to the winners, so the two captains tossed after the match, the R.C.G.A. winning the toss and the ball.

Teams: R.C.G.A., Henshaw, goal; Pugh and Kear, backs; Warner, Hay and Taylor, half backs; E. McGrath, Tingman, Lobbs, Turner and W. McGrath, forwards.

Empress of France, Charnock, goal; Evans and Sherwin, backs; Rockett, Grant and Mattoc, half backs; Bolton, Shevlin, Sweeney, Edwards and Lawson, forwards.

Immediately after the game a league meeting was held on the Exhibition Grounds, and the Secretary and President both tendered their resignations, but it was decided to suspend operations of the league for one month from Thursday next, as the R.C.G.A. are going away to Halifax for their summer training, and during that time only one league game will be played, between the Corinthians and the Victorians.

ONE CANADIAN RECORD BROKEN

In Olympic Trial Elimination Contests at Montreal On Saturday

Montreal, July 11.—One Canadian record was broken in the javelin throwing contest and Montreal will be well represented in the Olympic trials here this week on the showing made on Saturday by local athletes in the elimination contests held here on the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association grounds.

D. J. Cable, the M.A.A.A. star entered, threw the javelin in record distance of 146 feet, 10 inches.

Murphy won the 100 metre race in the fast time of 11.2-5 seconds.

Lawrence won the 5,000 metre race in 16 minutes, 49.3-5 seconds.

W. R. Kennedy, the McGill man, was not able to compete but will turn out next Saturday.

With the above and others to represent this city, Winnipeg, Toronto and other points will have a hard task to gain places on the Canadian team.

FRENCH DAVIS CUP TEAM ELIMINATED

Eastbourne, Eng., July 11.—The French Davis Cup team was eliminated from the series as the result of yesterday's play in the match against the United States. In the doubles, Gobert and Laurents were beaten in straight sets by Johnston and Tilden. The scores were 6-2, 6-2, 6-2. It was unnecessary to play either of the two remaining single matches on the schedule.

The British team will play the United States representatives on July 15 to decide which shall play the entrants from Holland, the winner of this last match earning the right to play the cup holders, the Australian team, for the trophy.

FRONTENAC WON FROM FIREMEN

Defeated the "Pompier" by Count of 17 to 2—Foot
Races Run Off

In a regular league game at the Kent House lacrosse grounds yesterday afternoon, the Frontenacs, last year's champions, administered an overwhelming defeat to the Firemen's team, winning by a score of 17 to 2. From the way the game started off, it seemed as if the Firemen were going to win, and during the first minute and a half they bombarded the Frontenacs nets, but without result. Gradually the Frontenacs asserted themselves, and from the end of the first ten minutes the result was never in doubt.

The game was very clean, only one player being banished, and that for a minor offense. The officials were very strict, and kept the players in hand all during the time the match was in progress.

During the intervals between the twenties, the remainder of the foot races that were postponed from Dominion Day were run off, and after the game the prizes were presented to the lucky winners by Mr. Harry Fontaine. The only regrettable thing about the races was the lack of entrants, as there were just enough to ensure each contestant getting a prize, and as all the prizes were of a very high class, it was too bad that a larger number of players did not compete.

The game and the races were witnessed by about fifteen hundred people, and they enjoyed the events thoroughly.

Sporting Notes

Yesterday's hero—Marcel Savard. The champion boxer of the Saint Pat's, ball team accomplished something that none has been able to do for the last few years: Clout out a home run.

What with horse races, lacrosse, baseball, football, and the foot races, sport lovers had enough to fill the want of the most capricious of all over the week-end.

Babe Ruth clouted another home-run yesterday, bringing his total up to 27 for the season, or two off his last year's mark.

New York and Cleveland are having a merry struggle for the initial place in the American League. Cleveland are there just now, but are barely hanging on by the skin of their teeth.

Toronto and Buffalo are not letting Babe Ruth have it all their own way in the International League, and yesterday Buffalo jumped into the lead while Toronto tied the Orioles for second place.

Even though St. Patricks managed to defeat the Napoleons, they may lose the game on a protest, the Napoleons took advantage of a small technicality to protest the game.

In the preliminary to the city league game yesterday the Athletics trimmed the Arsenal outfit by a count of 7 to 4.

The newest slugger on St. Pat's is on time.

KILL OF PRAIRIE DOG

Pierre, S.D., July 10.—(By A. P.)—A rigid campaign for the extermination of the destructive prairie dog from many western South Dakota countries is being carried on with a view to turning thousands of acres which in past years has shown little growth of grain, into fertile pastures and cultivated land.

Crews of men with regular camping outfits take the field and work half a township thoroughly in search of these rodents. Poisoned bait is spread and after passing on to the other half of the township a rear guard again surveys the ground first covered. If there is need this territory is gone over a second time. Many such crews are now at work.

LABOR CHURCH IN THE WEST

Fourteen Have Been Established in Western Provinces Within the Last Year.

Toronto, July 11.—A significant social movement in Western Canada today is that of the Labor Church. In less than a year, fourteen of these churches have been established—eight in Winnipeg and one each in Fort William, Brandon, Calgary, Edmonton, Victoria and Vancouver. All have not been christened "Labor" churches; some are termed "People's" Churches. But the underlying motives and the plans of organization are similar; and while each today is individual and independent, co-operation and co-ordination are bound to follow.

The church in Calgary—the "People's" Church—was established but the other day. As a matter of fact, its organization is not yet fully completed. There was first a tentative proposal, to test the strength of the financial support likely to be secured; then the appointment of a committee, to plan the organization and arrange effective propaganda; and before long the church will have a preacher, not ordained in the usual sense, but appointed to minister to the needs of its adherents.

This is a new movement in Canada, but one not unknown in Britain, where a few Labor Churches were established some years ago. The revolt from orthodox religion in Britain, as typified in the formation of Labor Churches, did not acquire any great strength. The cause of this may have been, and probably was, the adherence of those radically inclined to the labor and socialistic organizations—the Independent Labor Party, the Social Democratic Federation, and the Fabian Society. These bodies have had a very important bearing on the development of economic, political and religious thought in the Motherland. Among the masses, they have developed a strength rivaling that of the orthodox churches.

What power the movement may develop in Canada cannot as yet be well estimated. It is more or less of an adventure, a task, a revival, as the Rev. A. E. Smith, of Brandon—one of its pioneers, organizers and evangelists—said recently when speaking in Calgary.

Some critics contend that the Labor Churches already formed are but socialistic societies masquerading under a new name. From what I know and have learned of the prominent men in the movement, I hardly think this is so. There are radical principles and a leaning towards communism in the teachings of the new church, but its work is not that of the socialistic bodies.

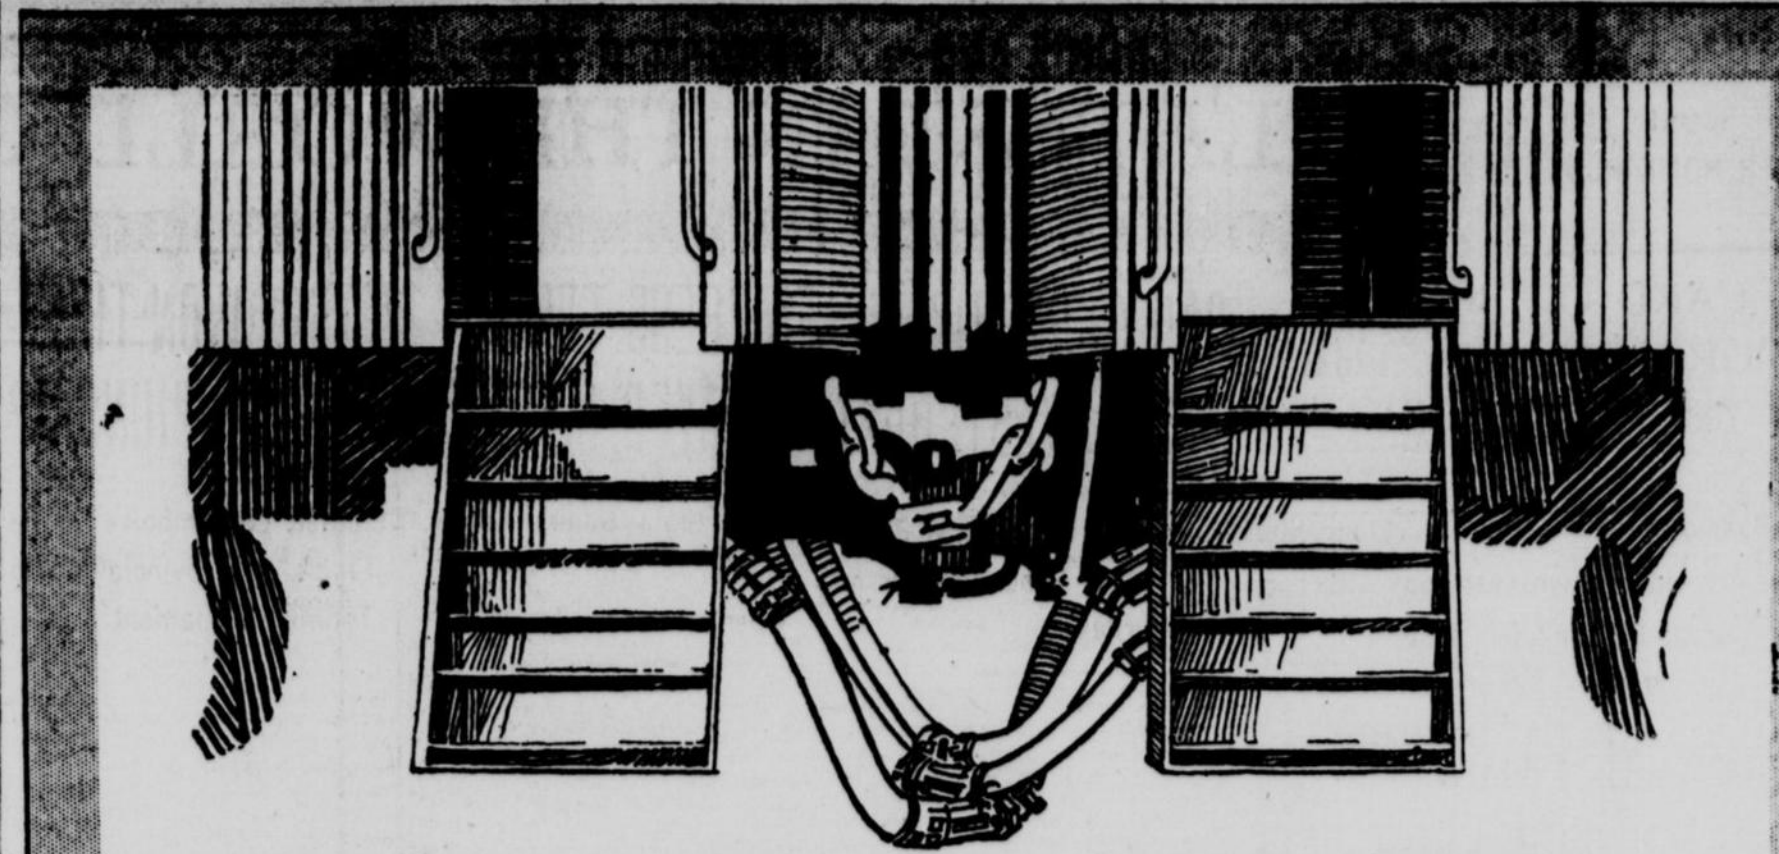

In the Calgary People's Church, for example, any person is eligible for membership "who believes in the need for and possibility of a better day for human society, and who is willing to make some systematic, consistent and constructive contribution of thought, time, influence and means towards that end." The aim is to bring about "a society based on fraternity, in a Commonwealth of Good." Nor are these Labor Churches materialistic in spirit. The men who have done much to promote them—A. E. Smith, J. E. Woodworth, W. Evans and even Dr. S. G. Bland—are all devotedly religious, although the first three have either left or been driven from the orthodox church as ordained ministers.

The new church is opposed to the old in two vital fundamental principles. It aims at the emancipation of religion from the enslavement of dogma and creeds. It teaches that conduct is not virtuous when based on the expectation of reward, here or hereafter; that virtue and true religion are dependent on duty well done for duty's sake. It seeks the emancipation of religion from "overhead control," as the Rev. A. E. Smith terms the organization of the orthodox churches. The new church is to be controlled from the level of its own life, that is, from the ideal and aspirations of its adherents, and not by any governing body. No select or appointed few are to hold a position of power and be able to impose their authority on the people. There are to be no sacraments, baptism, or ancient rites or traditional doctrines. The new church is to grapple with the problems of today—ethical, economic, industrial.

With the official birth of the Labor churches in Western Canada dates but from last year, yet the movement for emancipation in religion and adaptation to present economic and social needs has been gaining a firm foothold in Calgary during the past four years. Under the pastorate of the Rev. William Irvine, the Unitarian Church took a big step forward in ideals; and when, some two years ago, the Central Association could not continue giving financial support, the pastor "carried on" for forming the All People's Church, financed wholly by its adherents. Calgary can, I think, rightly claim the foremost place in the Labor or Democratic Church movement in Canada, although the All People's Church—the first one of its kind—ceased to exist when its pastor decided to leave the ministry for another field. And it is noteworthy that the pioneer who did so much to vision the movement—"Bill" Irvine—is now devoting his time and talents to the organization for political purposes of the United Farmers.

THE THREE SEAS.

Mr. F. L. C. C. Pelham-Clinton, who has more Christian names than any other white man who ever came out of the interior of China, has just arrived in Vancouver for the purpose of settling on a small farm in British Columbia. Mr. Pelham-Clinton comes from a collateral branch of the family of which the Duke of Norfolk is the head. He has been soldier, explorer, adventurer, idealist and editor, and has written a number of books on the Orient. Among his intimates he is usually referred to as "Three Sea."

Industry Needed Better Hose —and Goodyear Built It

GOODYEAR Industrial Hose is built to meet modern industrial needs. Built as though hose had never been built before.

Breaking away from accepted but antiquated methods of hose building created Goodyear Industrial Hose—a hose that gives longer, more satisfactory service under present-day industrial conditions, and costs less in the end.

Water, Air Drill, Pneumatic Tool, Steam, Fire Hose—Goodyear studied and created a particular hose to meet the most exacting standards of each of these.

In the case of Steam Hose, Goodyear has done away with the inconveniences due to wire-winding—a choked hose due to bent wire, bulges and blisters under pressure; a cracked tube and weakened fabric; the inconvenience of cutting into shorter lengths, the cutting of the hose by the wire.

Goodyear has made wire-winding on steam hose unnecessary, by developing a hose fabric strong enough to resist high pressure without the addition of wire. Compounded an inner tube capable of withstanding the effects of high-pressure steam. Fitted the hose with a tough, durable cover. Created a steam hose that will meet the severe conditions under which it is used—at a very low final cost.

Let a man trained by Goodyear in hose problems call and explain them to you. No obligation. Phone, wire or write the nearest branch.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST WILDCAT STOCKS

Three Government Departments are Co-operating to Protect the Investing Public

Washington, July 11.—The Department of the Interior, Department of Justice and the Treasury Department are co-operating in an effort to protect the investing public against the wiles of the promoters of fake stocks, especially oil stocks, which have been so easy to sell regardless of values because every one knows that oil is scarce and high priced. What not every one knows is the proportion of failures to successes in the oil fields, especially in the new ones, where the average prospector has about as much chance of striking oil as the old-time prospector had of finding gold. The few who "strike it big" become rich, and every one knows about them. Many keep on in vain, or get discouraged and turn to something else. No one is interested.

One of the reasons that the Treasury is interested is because so many persons have been selling their sound government securities to put the money into worthless stocks. W. L. Lewis, director of the war savings division of the Treasury Department, said the continuance of such practices would destroy the greatest asset the nation derived from the war, which was to convert a nation of spendthrifts into a nation of savers. Before the war there were 400,000 persons who invested their money in government and other bonds; after the war there were more than 20,000,000 bond buyers in the country. Legitimate Development Necessary, John Barton Payne, Secretary of the Department of the Interior, has called attention to the legitimate development of oil lands, which is necessary to meet the shortage of petroleum products.

"The first thing to be done in encouraging the legitimate development of the 20,000,000 acres of oil-bearing land is to resolutely suppress with every power that the government can command the activities of the swindling oil promoter," said Judge Payne. "Wildcat oil promotion is criminal in many ways. Its continuance will spell disaster."

So far as the Department of the Interior has any power the peddling of worthless securities is going to be stopped. A short time ago, Secretary Payne caused indictments to be brought against companies and individuals in Kansas and Colorado who were selling bogus titles to oil lands and taking in exchange government bonds. The situation in Iowa is also going to receive attention. Oil geologists in the department are being employed to make examinations of as many as possible tracts of private land which are alleged to contain oil and being used for the basis of the selling of stock. A venture of this kind was put forth within a few miles of the capital a few weeks ago and was widely advertised in the local newspapers. Engineers promptly announced that the geological formation of the locality gave no evidence of the presence of oil and their verdict was given all possible publicity. The hazards of oil drilling are such that geology cannot always guide a man to oil, but it can tell him where it is not.

Advice to be Provided. Mr. Lewis is co-operating with the Attorney-General, A. Mitchell Palmer, in arranging with chambers of commerce and other trade bodies with a view to furnishing advice to those who want to make investments. Several such bodies have appointed committees to investigate oil projects in their respective cities, and if they are found untrustworthy to warn the public against it. It is being urged that no one should invest in oil stocks until he has first consulted the chamber of commerce or some responsible financial authority in his city.

Mr. Lewis says that it would be a great advantage if financial news could be printed in language intelligible to the ordinary person. "The peculiar financial jargon is the fake oil operator's opportunity," he asserted. "He has learned it and uses it to impress the man who doesn't know it, and in this way thousands of millions of dollars have been expended on worthless stocks. The public must be educated to the understanding that the government will live up to its contract and pay when due. Investments that offer 100 cents on the dollar and interest more than 6 per cent interest must be viewed as a hazard."

The Department of Justice and the Post Office Department worker together in corraling a large number of brokerage firms and individuals alleged to be selling worthless oil stocks, using the mails to circulate the "literature" of the stocks, and selling stock on false representations, in New York last week.

"This kind of campaign will be continued wherever the authorities can reach persons or firms believed to be guilty of such practices."

CHINA HATS

Ta-jong, the wisest monarch who ever governed Korea, worked on more ingenious lies than those followed by its Japanese rulers of today. When Ta-jong came to the throne his subjects were the most quarrelsome of Oriental races, and the number of deaths caused by daily sudden brawls had reached alarming proportions. It was, therefore, decreed that no adult male should appear in public without a china hat in the shape of an inverted flower pot. Hard fighting was impossible in such fragile headgear, the removal of which in any public place rendered the culprit liable to a dose of the bastinado for the first offence and decapitation for the second. Within a brief space brawling ceased almost entirely, and Ta-jong issued another decree congratulating his subjects on their peaceful behaviour. The Koreans still wear hats of this shape, made of straw instead of china.

INNER TRAGEDY OF NEW TURK

Is Analyzed by Constantinople Correspondent of London Daily Newspaper.

Constantinople, July 11.—The inner tragedy of the modern Turkish intellectual, who with his assimilated Western ideas loses his roots in the native Turkish soil without becoming Europeanized, is analyzed by the Constantinople correspondent of the London Morning Post, who writes: "Westernization, as far as it has reached the Turk, has produced in him, both in his men and women, a melancholy and a sense that he is at a loss, neither belonging to one thing nor the other. Especially in facing the adventure of marriage do the old customs of his country hamper him in his choice when he has seen the West."

"For an example, on the male side there is my typical Westernized acquaintance, Ali Fuad Mehmed Bey, back here after a long spell of study and pleasure in London and Paris. He has been pestered day in and day out by his relatives to marry and enter the family traditions of the Osmanlis. Hardly a day passes but his lady mother calls him and talks to him about it. And the way her pleading goes, he tells me, is something of this sort: "But, my son, I assure you she is a very nice girl. Blonde, tall, large gray eyes and a gentle expression, instructed in music, and with a very sweet and equable disposition, she is fit to make any man happy."

"Yes, my mother, but I should like at least to see her. All you say may be true enough and yet she may not be suitable for me. If I could have but one interview!"

"So the amiable quarrel goes on perpetually, and my poor acquaintance is never bold enough to overcome his new-fangled prejudices in favor of seeing the girl suggested to him and making up his own mind after a sight of her. Though here the wiser Westerner points out to him that women's appearances are deceptive and that as many mistakes are made in marriages by sight as in marriage by faith. But under the false glamor of a tradition not his own he is wilful and in the end, to face, is to marry a foreigner. This they know, would cut them absolutely off from their nation, not primarily for religious reasons — for Turkey and the Turk are now practically sceptical—but by the strength of the tradition which, whatever may have become of the Moslem dogmas, still separates, and will perhaps ever separate, the Osmanlis from the rest of the world."

"On the other side, there are a few women who have been brought up in Western surroundings and who have a little culture not belonging to the traditional Turkey. Upon them comes a melancholy and sense of separation from their kind which oppresses them. There are before them two alternatives and both frighten them. One is to marry a Turk and forget all they have learned. But the trouble is that when they look around the men of their race they find there is in themselves a fastidiousness which rejects every possible suitor. These men, they feel, for whatever cause it may be, are not what they want—are narrow, even fierce. The alternatives, which they are not bold enough to face, is to marry a foreigner. This they know, would cut them absolutely off from their nation, not primarily for religious reasons — for Turkey and the Turk are now practically sceptical—but by the strength of the tradition which, whatever may have become of the Moslem dogmas, still separates, and will perhaps ever separate, the Osmanlis from the rest of the world."

This clash of new knowledge with ancient customs really brings an impasse into the lives of that small minority of Turkish youth which is at all modernized, and it oppresses them with the sense of futility. Probably the stout, ancient Pachas laughed—the young ones never do. And though they think they are sad because, as they say, their country is foundering, their sadness is really due to the much more general fact that they do not see in their country a chance for a happy home life."

Commercial and Financial News

CLOSING LETTERS BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

(By Canadian Press)
New York, July 10.—The session of the Stock Market today was of the usual mid-summer week and the variety consisting largely of settlements, speculative contracts. Dealings were light, but fairly broad, with displaying pronounced strength. Firmer tendencies among transportation were associated with the United States government crop report, issued after the close of yesterday's market, in which forecasts virtually insure bountiful harvests of principal cereals, with a surplus for export. Realizing sales caused irregular reactions in oils, steels, equipments and shippings and also in diverse specialties, more or less remotely related to leading industries. Extreme reactions of one to five points in these groups were partially relieved at the close. Sales amounted to 325,000 shares.

The monthly tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation of June showed only a nominal increase, but at the brought the amount of unfilled orders up to the highest total in exactly three years. Turnover dealings in bonds were relatively much more active than in stocks. Internationals continued firm to strong, but Liberty issues were again inclined to waver.

Sales, par value, aggregated $4,875,000. In the old United States issues, coupons and registered four gained 1-2 per cent on call during the week. The week's more expansive market operations were not reflected in the clearing house statement, actual loans contracting by about $38,600,000, but reserves of members in the Federal Reserve Bank decreased almost $2,000,000 and total excess reserves fell to slightly over $10,000,000 as compared with last week's showing of about $53,425,000.

DAILY GOSSIP ON THE LEADING STOCKS

The Pig Iron output increased in June showing that the net result of all the shifts in the railroad situation was favorable, according to the Iron Age. At 3,043,540 tons for the 30 days the daily average was 101,451 tons, a gain of about 5000 tons a day upon the May output, which was 2,985,682 tons for 31 days. May in turn showed a gain of 5000 tons a day over April. But the industry is still nearly 7500 tons a day below the peak reached in March, when the daily average was 108,900 tons.

The Canadian Consolidated Cotton Mills declared an initial dividend of 10 per cent on the common stock, payable August 1 to stock of record July 15. In accordance with the participating feature of preferred stock provisions, a special dividend on preferred is in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent paid July.

Further upward progress was made by securities prices in yesterday's New York market. It was not a big market in any sense, but more of a professional trader's affair. There was some profit taking in the early afternoon, followed by some further advances, and at times the tone was very irregular. At the close American Beet Sugar was up 2 1-2, American Locomotive 2 American Woolen 2 3-8, Atlantic Gulf & West Indies 1 5-8, Canadian Pacific 1 3-4, Central Leather 1-4, Southern Railway 1-2, United States Food lost 1-4.

The regular monthly cash dividend of 1 per cent will be paid by the Dominion Oil Company August 1 to all stockholders of record July 10.

The Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal Company declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on the preferred stock, payable August 2 to stock of record July 17.

Oil shares continued cheerful on the London stock exchange yesterday. Shell Transport and Trading was 7 1-4, and Mexican Eagles 9 11-16.

Investment support caused a further advance in gilt-edged investment issues. French loans were flabby because of the position of exchange.

Home rails were steadier on impending dividend announcements. Canadians were quiet, and Argentine descriptions showed fresh buoyancy. Diamonds were strong.

Trading in Treasury certificates among banking houses and investors at Philadelphia is increasing and has been stimulated by recent sales of certificates carrying 5-3-4 per cent and 6 per cent interest. These higher rates have resulted in former issues being traded in under par, to yield 7-8 per cent to 6 per cent. Trading has been active in series T. D. 4 3-4 per cent, dated January 2, 1920, maturing December 15, and bearing 3-4 per cent.

Wheat trading will start July 15 in December delivery, according to decision of the committee of 16, representing eight leading exchanges, subject to approval of the advisory committee of 31, representing all foreign markets. Few changes have been made from original plans.

The British India Banking & Industrial Corporation Ltd., has been floated with authorized capital of 100,000,000 rupees, and its policy is to offer all possible assistance to the engineers, manufacturers and pioneers of industry who go to India for the purpose of manufacturing the raw materials of India.

CLOSING LETTERS BY THE LOCAL BROKERS

(By Brunneau & Dupuis)
New York, July 10.—The market was fairly active today for a Saturday and in the main quite strong although here and there profit taking is in evidence and in at least one case, like Am'n. Woolen, a real reaction from adverse trade conditions.

The rails all well. Canadian Pacific and So Ry. have had quite sharp advances, the former is certainly a wonderful property and there has been bull talk on the latter for some time, as one of the cheap rails in view of the performance of the road in recent years. It is one of the few roads that elected not to renew the government guarantee during the current six months.

There is no new development today of interest. Now that the nominations have been made, we will probably have a political breathing space for a couple of months. From abroad the news from the Spa conference is reasonably favorable but the Polish situation is very unfortunate. In the market the general indication is for strength and considerable activity in the next month or so. Sales 337,500.

(By Breen & Gourdeau)
New York, July 10.—The irregularity that developed in the late trading yesterday was again in evidence at the opening of the stock market today, but with selling pressure more pronounced. The overnight announcement of the closing down of the American Woolen Company's mills throughout the East, caused a heavy selling movement in that stock, which resulted in a severe decline. This weakness of American Woolen, in turn, tended to unsettle the general share list, good seized setbacks occurring in a large number of issues.

The character of this selling was a combination of realizing and short selling.

The final hour the share list presented a more uniform appearance and with a general improvement setting in the list under the leadership of the railroads.

The general market's undertone was satisfactory, despite the declines. Sentiment at the close was very cheerful.

Sales stocks, 337,500; bonds $4,621,000.

(By L. G. Beaubien & Co.)
New York, July 10.—The market has pursued a rather irregular course today with the industrial section showing reactionary tendencies and rails continuing quite strong. The opening figures showed little change but American Wool declined a considerable amount, unsettled shortly thereafter and this rather disturbed the rest of the list.

Wool has been under pressure because of shutting down of its mills and also failure of stockholders to take up but a small part of recent offering of new stock.

Oil stocks showed profit taking and steel issues were also off moderately. The aggressive buying of rails was again a feature however and provided ground for confidence in the market outlook.

Southern Railway was a strong feature together with Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific, the latter gaining over 2 points.

'Twill be Called
"The Pulp and Paper Boom"

But it is not a boom. World demand and the water-powers and raw materials to fill the demand are behind it.

This is a pulp and paper year—but only one year of many yet to come. Canada's leadership in the industry should increase for the next five years and perhaps for a decade.

Why? Because Canada has the last great accessible forest reserves. The world must have our pulpwood and lumber, and the price must be paid.

Those who possess sound pulp and paper securities should retain them and increase their holdings at every available opportunity.

Write, if you wish, and we will advise you of some choice pulp and paper securities to invest in. Address:

At The Theatres

Max Linder at the Victoria,
In Screen Version of "Little Cafe";
Also Slovak Review at Valcartier

A triple attraction is offered at the Victoria Theatre today. Max Linder the famous French comedian will be featured in "The Little Cafe", the last episode of "Trail of the Octopus" will also be shown and a Pathe weekly with pictures of the Czech-Slovak review at Valcartier is included in the bill as well as a good comedy. A remarkably fine show in every way.

Carlyle Blackwell in Comedy Drama at the Empire Today

CARLYLE BLACKWELL AND EVELYN GREELEY ARE CO-
STARRED IN THE FEATURE ATTRACTION "HIT OR MISS"
WHICH IS BEING SHOWN AT THE EMPIRE FOR THE NEXT THREE DAYS.

Carlyle Blackwell ably assisted by Evelyn Greeley comes to the Empire today in "Hit or Miss" a very amusing comedy drama with an original plot and a sensational climax which assure an ideal entertainment. As an added attraction a two part outdoor story "Under Sentence" is presented. Differing from the usual western story, and based on a highly dramatic theme, this offering is practically certain to please those who are fond of stories of the great outdoors. A polite Strand comedy and the News Weekly complete the program.

The increasing and steady patronage of the Classic Theatre, evidences the fact that the patrons appreciate the policy of the management which is the projection of nothing but the biggest and best pictures regardless of cost.

Today the wonderful Olive Thomas, the prettiest girl on the screen, starts a three day's engagement in one of her greatest successes "Love's Prisoner". This is a fascinating tale of a "Lady Raffles" and gives the occasion of one of Miss Thomas' finest interpretations. It is an exceptionally big feature in every way embodying the consummate science of master direction and production. The play is well worthy of such a star as Miss Thomas. The picture will be shown at regular prices.

A splendid comedy will supply "barrels of fun", a Chester Outing feature, Topics of the Day, and the Classic Weekly News and the other are the other interesting features of the bill.

Take a Maple Ave. car to De Salaberry St., and hear the big orchestra.

The Auditorium Offers Good Bill of Pictures Today

Summer shows are no longer "stale" or "just shows", since the Auditorium has inaugurated its specialty of full season attractions during the holiday period.

Today again, the Auditorium presents a big bill, including a feature entitled "When Bearcat Went Dry"; also a comedy and a weekly. This bill will be on again tomorrow and Wednesday.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the bill will be changed, offering Elaine Hammerstein in "Whisper", along with a comedy and a weekly.

COMING NEXT WEEK

"Male and Female" with Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels and Thomas Meighan. The sensation of the age in Quebec.

Colonial Difficulties.
Halifax, July 9.—At Barbadoes, Lord Camberme has found it necessary to dissolve the General Assembly of that Island. At Nassau, N.P., the Colony has been left destitute of a Revenue for nearly three years past, and the Provincial Officers are of course suffering under great privations. At Bermuda, Sir W. Lumley addressed the House on closing its last session, with strong mark of displeasure. Nor did Sir P. Maitland, in proroguing the Assembly at York, U. C., appear to have been pleased with their conduct. The Parliament of Lower Canada, after having declared itself incompetent to all, refused to receive a message from the Administrator in Council; and the door of the House is said to have been shut by order of the Speaker, Governor Smyth, of N. Brunswick, on closing the session at Fredericton, expresses a hope that the time is not far distant, when that honorable body will not require so large a remuneration for its services—but it is unpleasant to go further. Let us hope that unanimity and good understanding between the Governors and the governed may henceforth characterize His Majesty's dominion in all parts of the world.

POLICE CHIEF AYERS GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

"My Only Regret Is That I Didn't Meet Up With Tanlac Years Ago," Says Popular New York Officer

"My experience with Tanlac has been remarkable and I feel that I would be dodging my duty not to come out and tell my friends about it," was the statement made by W. E. Ayers, Chief of Police of Montour Falls, N. Y., in an interview a few days ago.

Mr. Ayers has been Chief of Police of Montour Falls continuously for thirty-four years, and although now seventy-five years of age, he performs the duties of his office with the same alertness and vigor that has been characteristic of him ever since he received his first appointment.

Mr. Ayers is not only widely known as an officer, but is also prominent as a man and citizen. In 1863, at the age of eighteen, he volunteered for service in the Civil war, engaged in many of the fiercest battles, and after the struggle ended he returned to his people and his home town, Montour, unscathed.

"For a good many years," said Mr. Ayers, "I have been subject to frequent and dreadful attacks of acute indigestion, and have tried about everything known in the way of medicines, but always with the same disappointing results until I got Tanlac."

When these attacks came on me I had such terrible pains in the pit of my stomach that I would just double up like a jack-knife, with both hands folded around me holding a hat water bag to my stomach. These spells with my stomach were the one thing I dreaded above all else because they meant the worst of misery and torture to me.

"About a month ago I began to read about Tanlac and was so impressed with what others said the medicine had done for them that I concluded to try it myself. Well, in my case it has come up to every good word I read about it. I had hardly finished my first bottle when I could tell it was doing the work."

"It is by far the best medicine I have ever come across. Why, I can now eat what I want without fear of indigestion for Tanlac has put my stomach in fine condition. Tanlac has built up my whole system, adding to my weight and giving me strength I never thought possible for a man of my age to have. It has proved to be such a wonderful thing in my case that I am telling all my friends about it."

"I am back at my desk every day with energy and strength to tackle any task that may come up. They say a man is only as old as he feels, and if that is true I am just about forty-five and I can't find words to fully express just how wonderful I think Tanlac is. My only regret is that I did not meet up with it years ago, as it would have saved me so much suffering and unhappiness."

"If the rest of the people who are in poor health don't try Tanlac they'll certainly be the losers. I believe it will help anybody who gives it a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold in Quebec by Jolicoeur's pharmacy; and by Martel and Dion; and in Lewis by Maurice Dion; under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.

Obituary.

The death of Wm. Neilson, of Valcartier, which occurred on the 7th inst., at the age of 90 years, removes a once familiar figure in the early colonization of several of our parishes by Scotch and Irish emigrants. A son of the Hon. John Neilson, he studied law for some years in the office of the late Judge Duval, but upon the purchase from the Government of a large tract of the Jesuit estates by the Hon. John Neilson and the Hon. Andrew Stuart, he removed to Valcartier to superintend his father's colonization scheme. About 1838 Mr. William Neilson became the publisher of the Quebec Gazette, but the charms of a courtly life were too potent to be resisted, and he again returned to Valcartier and here he resided for the last years of his life in the quiet pursuit of a country gentleman.

SHORTAGE OF MANPOWER

IN CONCORDIA, KANSAS
Concordia, Kan., July 10.—Shortage of manpower in the harvest fields has prompted the organization of a peace-time counterpart of the famous war time "Waacs".

The peace time nomenclature, however, is "Women's Auxiliary Agricultural Corps." During the war the famous British "Waacs" order was "Women's Auxiliary Corps."

"It is only way to meet the crisis," said one of the women leaders in the movement. "There is much work that we can do and the work has to be done. Male applicants for work are scarce and want too much money."

The harvest "Waacs" are working in the harvest fields by the score, driving "headers" and binders, shocking wheat, raking hay and frequently doing more strenuous labor.

The Only Dessert of This Kind

There are numerous forms of quick gelatine desserts. But Jiffy-Jell is the only one with the real fruit flavors sealed in glass.

They crush the fruit, condense the juice and seal it. A bottle of the liquid fruit essence comes in each package of Jiffy-Jell. In a moment's time you can prepare a delicious fruit dessert.

Sugar is used in Jiffy-Jell—not saccharine. And real-fruit flavors in place of artificial. It will give you a new conception of these delightful delicacies.

Jiffy-Jell is often used in place of jam, marmalade, etc. Additional sugar may be used to suit the taste.
