The Turkish troops were compelled to retreat so quickly that they were unable to do much damage to the railway.

The Turkish troops defeated by the Servians and Montenegrins on the direct road to Novi Bazar are arriving in hundreds in Uskub, having crossed the frontier.

Col. Charles Vereur Repington, one of the best informed military writers in an article in the "Times" today, after a silence since Oct. 24, says that the military situation in the Balkans has been so hopelessly confused that it has been useless to attempt any appreciation of it.

London, Oct. 30. The Bulgarian army was defeated by the Turks at Visa, Homi and Mirai yesterday, according to official despatch received by the Ottoman embassy here. The Turkish loss is stated six killed and wounded.

TURKEY WOULD SUE FOR PEACE

London, Oct. 30. In the event of a decisive battle at Adrianople, Turkey is sure to sue for peace, according to George H. Moses, former United States not clear, but it is believed he will attempt to relieve Adrianople and its garrison of 50,000 men, while at the same time holding the Bulgarians on his left flank. He seems to take calm, as the cutting of the railway between his army and Constantinople. This might indicate that he is obtaining supplies and reinforcements by way of Rodosto or some other port on the sea of Marmora.

GHAZI MOUKTAR PASHA, superseded as commander-in-chief by Nazim Pasha.

The rumors that Bulgarian troops had reached the sea are unconfirmed, and it is more likely that only raiding bands have gone so far south.

Zekki Pasha is gathering the remnants of his army in the western sphere of operations at Monastir to meet the advancing Servians and the allied Bulgarian column. It is thought he may make another Plevna of Monastir and prepare himself there for a long siege.

The failure of the ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid to arrive at Constantinople whither he was being removed from Salonika seems to confirm the report that they should not starve or depend on charity.

"Let the government pay part of the license fees to them," she said. "In the Western States, the government paid $10 a month to the wives, and $5 a month for each child of a man in jail for drunkenness."

PROTECT THE WORKINGMEN

The Rev. Father Daly, for the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, urged that steps be taken to protect the working classes from the evils of the liquor traffic. In his part of the city there were seventy-five licenses, and he could go from door to door, finding cases of liquor.

He urged also the education of the children. Pamphlets and leaflets should be distributed and lecturers sent out showing the evils of intemperance. Lecturers were sent out by the government to speak on good roads, but the temperance cause was more important.

The Rev. T. E. Bourke said there was hardly a day that he did not see little boys and little girls carrying home bottles from the groceries, no doubt to their mothers. The Government should give attention also to the kind of men who get licenses. Some of them were absolutely unscrupulous. There should be local option in wards as there is now in St. John, N.B.

Mr. H. S. Ross, K.C., for the Baptist Church, said they were in favor of all the recommendations placed before the Commission.

Mr. J. H. Roberts, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, then went in detail into the amendments to the various clauses of the License Act, asked for by the temperance people. He said that Bishop Gauthier would be present this afternoon to speak for Archbishop Bruchesi in favor of the recommendations.

Mr. Roberts replied to the statement that beer drinking did no harm by citing the evil done in England, a beer drinking country. He urged also that those seeking licenses be compelled to get a petition of a majority of the people in the district.

He would also give the local License Commissioners power to discipline license holders, and in Montreal he would not compel them to issue a certain number of licenses if they thought it better not to.

Ex-Alderman Carter, president of the Dominion Alliance, was present this morning, and sat at the front table with Mr. J. H. Roberts and Judge Lafontaine.

BIG BATTLE

Constantinople, Oct. 30. —1.50 p.m.—The Turkish commander-in-chief, Nazim Pasha, telegraphs that a big battle has been in progress since this morning. The troops engaged on each side number at least 150,000. Nazim Pasha says the position of the Ottoman forces is favorable.

NO HOPE FOR MR. SHERMAN.

Utica, N.Y., Oct. 30.—Vice-President Sherman's death is a question of only a few hours.

So said Dr. Peck soon after leaving the Sherman house a few minutes before twelve o'clock to-day. Dr. Peck expects the end during this afternoon or to-night.

A petition was presented to Mr. Justice Gervais today by [illegible] on behalf of Frederick Anderson, a taxpayer of Lachine, [illegible] the purpose of disqualifying A. Lecompte, councillor of that municipality. The grounds alleged are that respondent has voted for municipal contracts for amounts of $2,000 or over, for which tenders had not been called, and further that he had voted for the expenditure which had not been appropriated. The matter is to be heard.

A telegram has been received from the Minister of Justice at Ottawa announcing that Eberts's sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment. Preparations had been made for hanging him next Monday, the scaffold built and witnesses arranged for. Eberts will probably be removed to Edmonton penitentiary.

'BOBS' CRITICIZED IN COMMONS

(Canadian Associated Press)

London, October 29—'Bobs' campaign advocating national military service was referred to in the Commons to-day, when Sir Edward Grey, replying to a question, said, amid cheers: 'No representation concerning the speech has been made by Germany. I should very much deprecate any suggestion that either government should notice unwise or provocative speeches by persons not in the position to control the policy of their respective countries.'

MAY FORCE PROVINCE TO ACCEPT LORD'S DAY ACT OF THE DOMINION

Lord's Day Alliance to take Action Against Sunday Moving Pictures—Sunday Real Estate Business will also be Considered.

An important meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance will be held on November 2nd, when a full case will have been prepared against the proprietors of moving picture theatres which open on Sunday.

It is only two years since British Columbia adopted the act. The clause which directly affects the question under consideration by the Lord's Day Alliance is:

'It shall not be lawful for any person on the Lord's Day, except as provided in any provincial act or law, to engage in any public game of contest [illegible] prize [illegible] reward, or to be present thereat, or to provide, engage in or be present at any performance or public meeting elsewhere than in a church at which any fee is charged directly or indirectly, either for admission to such performance or meeting.'

The best means of compelling the authorities to stop real estate agents doing business on Sunday will also be considered.

CHARGED WITH BETRAYAL

Alleged Dynamiter Hockin Said to Have 'Split' on His Partners

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—Herbert S. Hockin, accused of being a dynamiter equally guilty with the McNamara brothers, was again charged by a witness at the 'Dynamite conspiracy' trial to-day with secretly having given evidence to the Government. Charles F. Freeman, a public accountant, testified that during the federal grand jury investigation of alleged illegal shipment of explosives, Hockin voluntarily turned over hundreds of letters taken from J. J. McNamara's office.

Hockin, as acting secretary of the Iron Workers Union, was in charge of the office in the absence of President Frank M. Ryan. The Grand Jury which examined the letters, indicted Hockin along with the 44 other defendants now on trial.

'He went to the Iron Workers Headquarters last December,' said Freeman 'Hockin was there, he pointed out such letters, books and other papers as we wanted, and then left us undisturbed to do as we wished.'

Two other witnesses had said Hockin aided the prosecution, and District Attorney Charles W. Miller charged him with having 'betrayed' the other defendants.

W. J. Roche. The administrative oath was also administered to the Hon. Robt. Rogers, as Minister of Public Works in succession to the Hon. F. D. Monk, and to the Hon. W. J. Roche as Member of the Interior. This completes the cabinet rearrangement made necessary by the resignation of Mr. Monk. The writ for the by-election in Hochelaga division, Montreal, where Mr. Coderre will seek re-election, will be issued without delay, and the voting will be over before the House meets on November 21.

SONG BIRDS HAVE GONE.

Mr. J. R. Innes, secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, told the 'Witness' yesterday that the work of the Society in chastising those 'sportsmen,' who shoot song birds in the surrounding district is finished for the season. 'The birds have all migrated, and there is hardly a target left for them in the countryside,' said Mr. Innes. 'We shall have to wait until another batch of foreigners require a lesson next year.'

NOTED JESUIT DISAPPEARS

Father Vaughan's Absence Beginning to Cause Worry in West.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 29.—Considerable anxiety is expressed in various quarters as to whereabouts of the Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, the famous English Jesuit. He left Moose Jaw at two-thirty o'clock on last Friday for Winnipeg, intending to go to Chicago, and thence to New York, where he intended to remain two weeks. At Chicago he had an important lecture appointment for Sunday night, but failed to arrive. Inquiry at the Bishop's Palace here elicited the information that Father Vaughan was expected there in a few days, but his present whereabouts is unknown.

With a severe cut in his throat, George Gibson, of Laprairie, was admitted to the General Hospital yesterday morning. He was unconscious.

That he did not know he was within the city limits was no reason why O. J. Evans, of Dorchester street, should exceed the speed limit with his automobile. He was fined $20 and costs yesterday.

While trying to dispose of a stolen fur coat and watch, Albert Smith, of 141 St. Urbain street, is alleged to have stolen a bracelet from J. Miller, St. James street. He pleaded not guilty yesterday was remanded.

The Rev. Sister St. Aniclet, mother-general of the Congregation of Notre Dame passed a bad night. She has been ill for a year, and her death may take place any time.

FINANCE

BROKERS ASK 20 POINT MARGIN ON C.P.R.---MARKET

The feature of the stock market yesterday was the depressing influence practically all along the list. The trading was limited to several of the leaders, which showed, with the exception of Dominion Textile, a decline from the opening quotations.

Canadian Pacific declined 2 1-4 points, and brokers were asking a 20-point margin, which is rather significant. The uncertainty of the war situation, coupled with the United States presidential elections, has certainly given the bears an opportunity to carry on their downward tactics.

There is as yet a tightness of money, but this does not mean that our banks are in any way finding it difficult to finance what business is going.

Pending a clearer situation abroad, careful dealing in stocks is desirable.

NEW BOND ISSUE OF R. & O. AND OTHER CHANGES IN VIEW

The board of directors of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company are working on a plan which will result in a rearrangement of the entire bond capital of the company. By the present plan it is intended to obtain the rights to issue up to the amount of about $8,000,000 5 percent bonds, and to issue at the present time enough to retire all the old bonds of the old R. & O. Company, and all the subsidiary companies now included in it.

In this way the entire bond capital will be standardized, being all at the same rate and maturing at the same date.

London, Oct. 29.—The failure of a small firm of jobbers in the Kaffir section accentuated the prevailing weakness on the stock exchange to-day, and the market generally closed at the lowest.

The reported peace overtures in the Balkans had no effect. Home rails suffered from forced liquidation, and Can. Pacific was a weak feature on Berlin selling. Brazilian rails and Peruvian shares slumped heavily in the afternoon. The closing was dull.

IS BANK MERGER HELD UP?

President S. J. Moore, of the Metropolitan Bank at Toronto, has issued a statement denying the report that the Metropolitan Bank is likely to absorb the Banque Internationale. He admits, however, that negotiations have been carried on with this object in view, but that they have now been definitely concluded with all any action having been decided on.

On the other hand interests close to the management of the Banque Internationale declare that negotiations are pending with a view to having their interests and premises taken over by the Metropolitan Bank, which at the present time has no branch in Montreal.

The Toronto bankers, they state, have carried on negotiations with a view to establishing their business here in the head office of the Banque Internationale and extending their branches throughout the city at every branch now operated by the retiring bank and eventually acquire other premises for more branches in the suburbs of Montreal.

The outcome is being awaited with keen interest in Canadian banking circles, and some are inclined to the opinion that some move is seriously contemplated.

The favorable position of the cotton trades at this period and the opportunities for expansion are reflected in a new offering of $1,000,000 five percent bonds of Canadian Cottons Limited through the Royal Securities Corporation.

'NOT A WORD' SAYS MR. HILL ON BANK DEAL---BIG CROPS

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 30.—When questioned about reports that he would enter the banking business through purchase of Second National Bank of St. Paul and other banking institutions in the Twin Cities, Mr. James J. Hill, now here on a periodical visit, said: 'Not a word to say. Not a word.' Of the story that his purpose in acquiring the banks would be to loan money to farmers at lower rates of interest than have been prevailing, he said that it was 'the vaporings of some reporter's mind.'

Discussing general agricultural conditions in the North-west, Mr. Hill mentioned the remarkable development of Montana, where Great Northern has been doing much educational work among farmers with excellent results. The wheat yield per acre has gone as high as 30 to 32 bushels. The average of the country is about 14 bushels.

Mr. James Anderson Now Supt. of Branches

The Bank of British North America announce the appointment of Mr. James Anderson to be superintendent of branches in succession to Mr. H. B. Mackenzie, appointed general manager. In 1899 he was appointed manager at the Atlin, B.C. branch, and was successive manager at Greenwood and Rossland. In 1904 he was appointed assistant inspector, and in 1905 was promoted to chief inspector.

London, Oct. 30.—(Cable).—All sections of the Stock Market opened strong and cheerful to-day. The strength was due to a report that Austria and Russia had reached an agreement regarding the Balkans. Trading was active, and prices advanced on good buying.

Rather Strange Bid Made for Cobalt Stock by Broker---Is it a Mystery

A PRACTICAL THANKSGIVING.

The annual thank-offering meeting of St. Paul's Church Missionary Auxiliary was held last evening, with a good attendance and very gratifying results, the collection amounting to $380.41. Mrs. E. B. Busteed presided, and the Rev. Bruce Taylor took part in opening the meeting.

The generous offering was probably due in part to the freshening of interest in the work of missions as presented in a simple but convincing talk, by Dr Jessie MacBean, of Kongmoon, South China, one of the missionaries sent out by the Presbyterian Mission Board. Dr. MacBean is connected with the 'Marian Barclay' Hospital, the attainment of which is due to the Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church, and which is named in honor of Mrs. Barclay, of Montreal, wife of the former pastor of St. Paul's. A view was shown of the new hospital, which the lecturer said is one of the finest buildings of the kind in South China.

Dr. MacBean told of the early days of the mission among the villages, and the growth of the work. She described a medical missionary's day, including visits to outside dispensaries where many cases were treated, and perhaps ending with a call to a patient a long way off, the journey to be made in a sedan chair. Before the hospital was built, patients had to be treated in their own homes. These were often of one room, such light and ventilation as they received coming only from a door. A corner was curtained off for the patient, and in this nook there was no ventilation and no light to speak of, the doctor being obliged to work by feeling rather than sight. Hence a clean, well-lighted, and equipped hospital, where the sick could receive proper care and attention, was a great boon. Dr. MacBean was leaving Kongmoon on furlough before the hospital was ready to open, but a Chinese woman doctor, a graduate of a medical school, gave her assistance in selecting the requisite supplies, and sent her niece, also an M. D., to stay until Dr. MacBean's return.

A number of interesting lantern views were shown, and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

TURKEY MAKES HER LAST STAND

Crisis is at Hand, When Ottoman Troops Must Retrieve Disasters or Surrender Constantinople

London, Oct. 30.—The long-awaited battle which will decide the fate of Turkey is now being fought. The army under Nazim Pasha, minister of war, and commander-in-chief, is engaged, and according to Constantinople official despatches the operations are favorable to the Ottomans. The despatches, however, do not indicate where the chief action is taking place or how the opposing forces compare.

It is Turkey's last chance to relieve an almost hopeless campaign. Nazim Pasha is fighting with his back to the wall; his communications have been cut and it is impossible for him to get fresh supplies or reinforcements.

In Constantinople the feeling of confidence is reviving. It is believed that the war minister has at last assumed the offensive. But this is by no means certain, as the battles may have been forced upon him.

Sofia despatches indicate a continued forward movement of the Bulgarians, but give no details. There is still no confirmation of the reported capture of Lule Burgas, Demotica and Drama. The Bulgarians are still fighting in the direction of Visa in pursuance of their plan to advance to the extreme east in the direction of Constantinople.

The Greeks also are marching, with victories to their credit, towards Saloniki, where a feeling of extreme anxiety is said to prevail, and provisions are running short. The fact that no apparent effort is being made to stem the Greek advance to Saloniki is held to indicate that the bulk of Turkey's army there has been transferred to Thrace.

No recent information has been received of the operations around Scutari or other points to the west, and Sofia yesterday observed a significant silence.

Diplomatic activities continue in London. The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, had an audience with the King yesterday. No formal action has been taken or is likely to be taken until the result of the great battle is known.

DEAD BODIES FOR BREASTWORKS.

London, Oct. 30.—The 'Daily Telegraph's' correspondent at Kossni describes the Turkish force opposing the Greeks as entirely disorganized and incapable of offering resistance. He says that the Greek force is advancing by mule road to Verria, while the Greeks also hold the Monastir Railway, and adds that if the Turks have no reinforcements at Saloniki that town will soon be in the hands of the allies.

The Greeks showed great dash and bravery in assaulting and carrying the positions in the long defile of Sarandaporo where they suffered very severe losses.

Terrible details are reaching Belgrade, according to the 'Standard's' correspondent there, of the retreat of the Turks from Kumanova. They tried to stop the Servian advance by making breastworks of dead bodies. Six thousand corpses were found on the road from Kumanova to Uskub and six truck loads of petroleum had to be brought from the rear for the purpose of burning the dead.

The Constantinople correspondent of the 'Standard' says it is considered a bad sign by the Turkish authorities that no news has been received of Zekki Pasha's army in the north of Macedonia.

It is officially announced that the railway to Kirk-Kilisseh is again in operation, and that the Turks have begun the offensive movement.

The Turkish forces at Veles numbered 80,000, says a Belgrade despatch to the 'Express.' The fighting there was exceptionally sanguinary. The Turks were utterly demoralized and made a wild retreat in the direction of Monastir and Salonika.

The difficulties of the Greek army in transport and commissariat, in the absence of a railway, are described in a Larissa despatch. Everything must be carried by pack animals. The roads are in a terrible condition and cut up by artillery.

The Crown Prince is pushing east with frenzied haste, as the army must have bread. He wants to reach Saloniki, where his supplies will be replenished by way of the sea.

A report is given in a Vienna despatch to the 'Daily Telegraph' that Turkey has already approached Servia with a view to peace negotiations, as Servia so far has taken possession of the most important places.

King Peter has already warned King Ferdinand of this scheme, which is regarded as a Turkish attempt to stir up dissension in the Balkan federation.

SERVIAN CAVALRY CAPTURED VELES.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 30.—The capture of Veles was effected by a comparatively small body of Servian cavalry under command of the King's brother, Prince Arsene. It was a daring deed which has excited admiration. It has also provoked comment because, had the Turks been aware of the smallness of the Servian force, the results might have been serious. As it was, they were taken by surprise, and hastily retreated.

OTTOMAN TROOPS GAINING GROUND.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—The Minister of War has advised the Government that an important battle was in progress yesterday afternoon along the whole front, and that the Turkish troops were gaining ground.

10,000 LOST AT KUMANOVA.

Vranya, Servia, Oct. 30.—At the battle of Kumanova the Servians lost five hundred killed and two thousand wounded. The Turks lost ten thousand killed or wounded.

POSITION OF TURKISH TROOPS.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—A late telegram received from Nazim Pasha says that the battle, begun yesterday, is still being waged with great violence. He adds that the situation for the Ottoman troops is very favorable.

Another official despatch reports fighting between Uskub Dere, to the east of Kirk-Kilisseh, and Visa. Two battalions of Bulgarians were cut off from the main body and sustained heavy losses.

CONTRABAND OF WAR.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The American embassy at Constantinople informed the State Department of the classes of articles which the Ottoman ministry of foreign affairs will consider as contraband of war during the present Balkan conflict. The list, the scope of which will limit commercial transactions in the Mediterranean, includes powder and explosives and implements for their manufacture, clothing and cloth fabrics, including boots and shoes, gold or silver coin or bullion, as well as paper money, boats of all kinds, docks, railway, telegraph and telephone materials, balloons and flying machines, including their unassembled parts, barbed wire, horse shoes, harness and saddlery material.

This list comprises articles mentioned in the final protocol of the London Naval Conference.

WILL STARVE ADRIANOPLE.

Sofia, Oct. 30.—It is announced that the Bulgarians have abandoned the idea of storming Adrianople in favor of investment, as it is known the place is short of provisions. This has caused disappointment here, as the capture of Adrianople has been daily expected. This decision also gives rise to rumors that the Bulgarians have suffered a check near Adrianople.

KIAMIL PASHA NEW GRAND VIZIER.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—Kiamil Pasha, president of the Council of State, assumed the office of Grand Vizier yesterday afternoon in succession to Ghazi Moukhtar Pasha, who resigned.

An Imperial decree commands the new Grand Vizier to prosecute the war with all energy in order to secure a victorious issue.

TURKEY'S LAST STAND

Vain Attempt to Prevent Annihilation by the Allied Forces in the Central Y.M.C.A.

There was a sound of revelry by night, rather less harmless than the Byronic kind, when about two hundred and forty brave men were led to the final attack on Turkey by a score of beauteous Amazons, suffragettes and other varieties of the feminine persuasion, some with white plumes in their hats, and some with black, and some with no plumes at all. The battle field was the auditorium of the new Y. M. C. A., on Drummond street, and the occasion, the Thanksgiving Dinner for strangers.

Shortly after 6.30, General (Secretary) Green directed the onslaught, and the first charge (of 25 cents) although apparently very inadequate, was nevertheless, entirely successful.

After the confusion of the first shock of battle had somewhat subsided, a filibustering expedition, which has gone somewhat in advance of the main body, presented its weather report: 'For it's always fair weather, when good fellows get together,' and this being received with enthusiasm, the same group, which was said to consist mainly of fellow-citizens of the incorrigible Champ Clark, and were to be suspected of a plot to annex Canada immediately and bodily to the United States, explained the reason for their presence as follows: 'We're here, because we're here,' and then explained further, 'I'm working on the railway.'

At 7.20, Turkey having been wiped off the map, together with some accessories after the fact, like pumpkin pie and ice cream, the command 'attention' was given by Field-Marshal Goodwin, of Goodwin's Limited. His limitations were not serious, however, and were scarcely perceptible to the naked eye. He remarked that this was a great building, a great day, and a great crowd, and that there was a great deal to be thankful for, and so his first general order was the Doxology, which, with Mr. Armour at the piano, was very heartily sung.

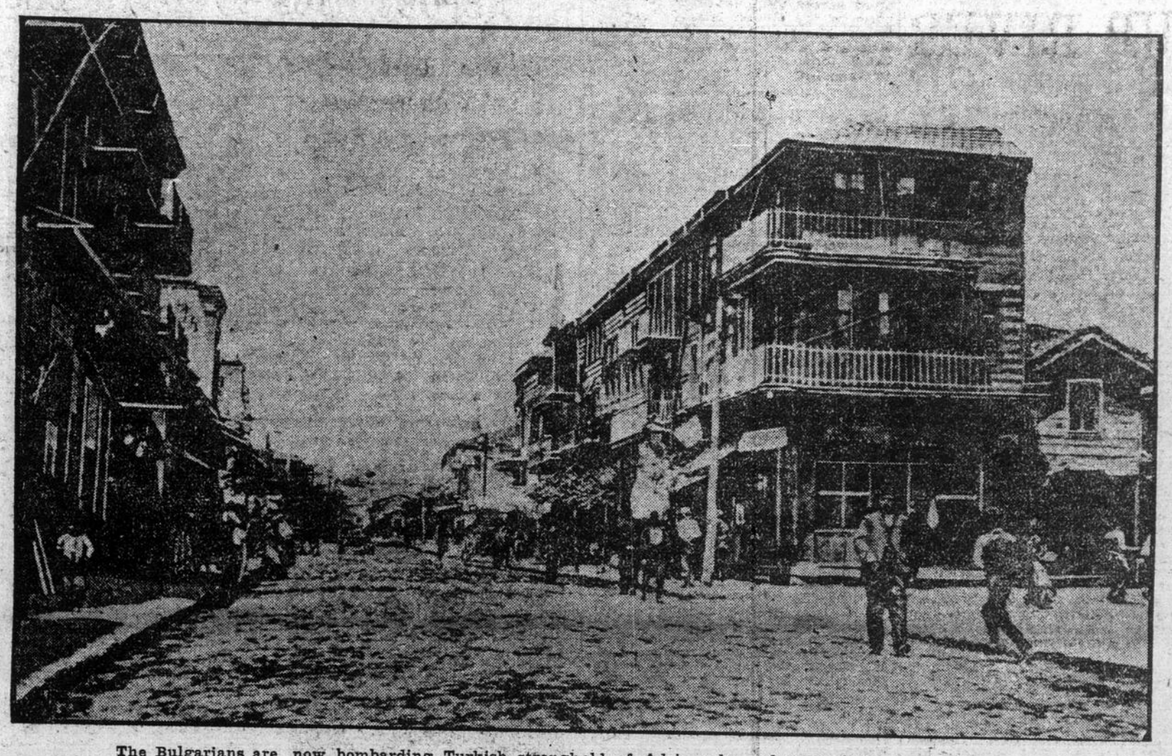
An inquisition was then instituted as to the time of enlistment of the troops present, and it was found that about half of those present had joined the association since Thanksgiving of last year, and others having been members from five to forty years. General-Secretary Budge claimed to have been a member for forty-three years. Probably, judging from his youth, one would have to reckon part of this time from a previous incarnation. At any rate the other members decided that 'He's a jolly good fellow,' and did not hesitate to tell him so to his face, with three cheers and a tiger.

Then the Field-Marshal examined into the nativity of the combatants, and commenced with the 'United Statesers.' About twenty-five or thirty responded, and at his command sang, 'My country, 'tis of Thee.' About forty admitted that they had come from England and celebrated with a stanza of 'Rule Brittania.' Then came about fifteen Scotch, who, just as if they were starting a new Anglican Synod, sang 'Auld Lang Syne.' Then the Field-Marshal hesitated, evidently fearing that there might be some Ulterites present, but finally screwing up his courage, he called for the Irish, who presented themselves to the number of about a dozen. Being scattered in the large room, there was some confusion as they attempted to give their war cry, but finally one good voice sung out 'They're hangin' men and women for the wearin' of the green.' In response to the next summons two Welshmen stood up, and sung a song in their native tongue. Then as representatives of other nations were called for, it was found that men were present from Jamaica, Austria, the Bahama Island, the Barbadoes, Germany, Denmark, Egypt, British Guiana, Hungary, Mexico and Roumania. One man claimed to have just come from Turkey, but that stroke was recognized as a fowl play upon words. The native Canadian contingent was not large (about thirty) but it sang the refrain of 'O Canada,' with a good vim, after Mr. Armour had sung the first stanza, and then everyone stood, and sung the refrain through again, and followed it with 'Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love.'

At this point the Rev. R. Bruce Taylor, D.D., was called upon and confessed the things he had to be thankful for. He first mentioned a terrible toothache which he had had all day, and the fact that the dentists were all away on a holiday. He was also thankful that he was a Scotchman with a real sense of humor, instead of a mere Englishman with nothing better than wit. He rubbed the bald spot on his head comfortably as he expressed his gratitude that he was a young man, only forty-three years old. (It was a simple calculation that he had paid his initation fee into the Scottish race just about as Mr. Budge was joining the Y. M. C. A). Dr. Taylor was thankful that he had studied in Germany and forgotten the language, and that he was in Canada, and that he had got married on $800 a year, and for many other great blessings

After hearing such a report from one of His Majesty's prominent subjects, it was felt necessary by all to sing 'God save the King,' and that brought this interesting and delightful event to a close.

PANORAMA OF ADRIANOPLE



The Bulgarians are now bombarding Turkish stronghold of Adrianople, and outer forts have fallen.

LEAP IN DARK, SAYS MR. TAFT

Thus Characterizes Policy of Democrats, While Seeking Republican Ohio

Washington, Oct. 29.—'No man would care to have his state fall him, but wholly apart from selfish reasons, I want to see Ohio go Republican by a large majority,' said President Taft in a letter to Mr. Fred. A. Geier, of Cincinnati, made public to-day at the White House.

The President attacked Governor Wilson and the Democratic party on the tariff question, and said that Ohio would suffer particularly if the present tariff protecting the steel, wool and pottery businesses were disturbed.

President Taft yesterday made public a statement in which he declared that the 'four years of depression which followed the second election of President Cleveland' were due to the promise of tariff reform and the Democratic changes in the tariff that followed.' The President said that the issue before the voters is clear—'on the one hand prosperity and real progress on the other, a leap in the dark.'

'The American people,' he continued, 'have more than once surprised those who thought the people were being successfully fooled, and I believe that a similar surprise awaits our opponents on the coming fifth of November.'

ASHAMED OF THEIR FELLOW CHINESE

'In view of misleading reports, and deeply regretting present disreputes, the Chinese Christian Association wishes to state that most of the Chinese in Montreal including merchants, restaurant keepers and laundrymen have no share in the present quarrel in Chinatown, indeed, the active participants are but few; and if the gambling evil could but be eliminated, the Chinese colony would soon become as peaceful as ever.' Lee Kin, president; Chan Nom Seng, secretary.

The above official communication of the Chinese Christian Association has been received by the 'Witness.' The Chinese consul-general in Ottawa has had the question of Chinese discontent in Montreal brought before him, and has expressed his willingness at an early date to meet and discuss schemes for the promotion of peace and general well being.

Meantime the mission and Chinese Sunday schools are extremely energetic in their efforts to counteract the evil influences at work.

PROBING ALBANY CITY AFFAIRS

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 29.—Of the twenty-five persons indicted by the special Grand Jury as a result of the investigation into the affairs of Albany city and county by a committee of the Senate, five have been arrested.

James W. McNamara, charged with having leased property for alleged immoral purposes, was arraigned to-day before County Judge Addington and entered a plea of not guilty. McNamara is alleged to have been the owner of property at 49 Division street, which Detective Robert S. McLellan, of New York, while in the employ of the Senate Committee, leased and fitted up as a disorderly house.

Benjamin Lichtenstein, Joseph Corrine, Joseph Mangini and John Mangini, were arrested, charged with being common gamblers. Corrine pleaded not guilty to-day.

FOOT OF SNOW IN WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 29.—Nearly a foot of snow fell here last night, and driven by a strong wind it piled up on the streets and sidewalks in huge banks. The street cars were blocked for several hours this morning and are not running yet on some streets at ten o'clock.

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that I never used any medicine that did me so much good; in fact, I am entirely cured of my old trouble. The Nerve Food not only strengthened the nerves, but also built up my system in every way." Under date of Aug. 29, 1912, Mrs. McKellar writes, confirming her cure, and states that she has had inquiries from many people who had heard of the great benefits she obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"MY STOMACH IS FINE

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Merkhuger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach", she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

MONTREAL DRY DOCK COMING UP RIVER

Towed by Four Big Tugs She is Nearing the End of Her Sixty Day Voyage.

Slipping up the river, the big dry dock, the Duke of Connaught, is nearing the end of its long trip across the ocean to-day. Unless some unforeseen accident occurs, the long voyage at the end of the tow line will be over to-morrow, and the dock moored safely in the berth that the Harbor Commissioners have made for it in the river at Maisonneuve.

Four big tugs—two of them from the other side of the Atlantic—are towing the unwieldly load up the river from Quebec. Batiscan was passed at 10.20 o'clock last night, the dock travelling at the rate of three and a half miles per hour. Already about sixty days have passed since the voyage from the yards of the builders at Barrow-in-Furness began, and the successful tying up of the dry dock will mark the end of a long and arduous voyage. Again and again, the Duke of Connaught broke away from the tugs in the passage, and one day they pursued it as it raced away from them across the angry waves of the sea. It was an exciting trip, and every man on the dock will be glad when the charge is committed to the harbor commissioners.

DIMENSIONS OF THE DOCK.

The dry dock was built in the yards of Messrs. Vickers, Limited, at their naval construction works at Barrow-in-Furness. It is one of the largest yet built. It is of the double-sided self-docking type, and consists of a pontoon or lifting portion of the dock, and two parallel side walls built onto and forming part of the same.

The general dimensions of the dock are as follows: Length over platforms, 600 feet; length over pontoons, 550 feet six inches. Width over all 135 feet; depth of pontoons at centre, 17 feet; length of side walls, 470 feet; height of side walls above the pontoon deck, 42 feet; width of side walls at base, 17 feet six inches; at top, 12 feet six inches; clear width between roller fenders, 100 feet; draught of vessel, 27 feet six inches; lifting capacity, 25,000 tons.

The pontoon consists of a rectangular structure plated in all round with the exception of the portion of the deck which comes directly under the wells, and stiffened internally by longitudinal and transverse girders. It is divided into three sections by joint chambers. The two end sections have their outer extremities built in the form of a point or bow terminating in a working platform carried on plate and braced girders.

The pontoon is divided into four compartments by three longitudinal intercostal watertight plate-bulk-heads. Transversely the pontoon is divided into54 bays, 20 in the central section and 17 in each end section, by transverse girders.

In addition to the bulkheads, the deck and bottom platings are stiffened by means of a series of longitudinal frames, which run fore and aft over the length of the pontoon, intercostal between the transverse lattice-girder under the wall, intermediate transverse ordinary frames are fitted 2 ft. 6 in. apart, and are prolonged upwards, forming the ordinary frames of the walls.

The walls of the dock are plated horizontally and have a batter on the inside wall. An engine-deck, on which is placed all the machinery of the dock, is fitted about 16 ft. below the top deck, and is arranged watertight.

WATER-TIGHT DIVISIONS.

Each wall is divided, in addition to the joint chambers, into ten watertight divisions by plate bulkheads, coming in line with the bulkheads in the pontoon, of which they are a continuation. At each end of the wall a docking land is formed, on which the central portion can rest when being self-docked.

Both ends of the central section and the square ends of the terminal sections are provided with a joint chamber, by means of which the sections can be joined together or parted. For the purpose of dealing with commercial vessels, the dock has been designed so that it can work when required in two independent units of unequal size, and to facilitate the rapid connection of the two portions, cast-steel rocking joints are fitted at the level of the keel-blocks.

The pumping installation of the dock is driven by steam generated in boilers carried on the dock itself. Each section of the dock has its own complete pumping installation, and each installation consists of two boilers and two engines and pumps installed in specially constructed chambers on one of the walls. The pumps, which are of the centrigugal type, 17 in. in diameter, are seated on a main drain at the bottom of the dock, which is continued over practically the whole length of each section. From the main-drain compartment pipes are led to each separate water-tight division of the dock.

Each compartment is governed by its own separate valve, and each main inlet pipe and pump discharge pipe are governed by a screw-down valve and in addition have each a non-return flap valve fitted on the outside. The compartment valves of each section of the dock are all operated from a valve-house placed on the top deck of each section by means of the electro-pneumatic system, which is based on the principle of operating presses by compressed air and controlling the same from a distance by means of valves operated by an electro-magnet. Each valve-house is in telephonic communication with its respective engine-room and also with each other when the dock is working as a single unit.

LIGHTED BY ELECTRICITY.

The dock will be lighted throughout the machinery compartments by means of electric lamps. Box terminals are also fitted on the walls, from which lamp clusters can be taken by flexible leads for lighting any particular portion of the ship on the dock. Electric current will be supplied through cables from the shore.

The dock is provided with the usual bollards and timber heads. Roller fenders are also fitted to protect the walls of the dock from an entering steamer. Eight mechanical sides hores, four on each wall, are provided. These can be screwed in or out by a standard fitted on the top deck. Keel-blocks, side or docking keel-blocks, and bilge-blocks are provided; the latter are arranged to be pulled in or out to suit the shape of the ship when she has taken the keel-blocks.

The keel-blocks are strongly made and closely spaced, to enable them to take the weight of the heaviest and most modern ironclads. Ladders are fitted leading from the upper deck of the dock to the pontoon-deck, and also into the various compartments of the dock. Suitable handrails are fitted all round the top deck.

Ventilation by means of cowls and downcast pipes is arranged to each boiler and engine-room, and also to the interior of the walls. A valve-house large enough to contain the valve-control table and the recording instruments is fitted on the top deck of each of the three sections; each valve-house contains the apparatus necessary for controlling the valves of its own particular station.

STEAM PUMP FOR FIRE PROTECTION.

Each section of the dock is also provided with a direct-acting steam-pump, arranged to draw from the sea, and capable of providing a full stream of water for fire service or washing down vessels. These pumps are also connected to the main drain, so that they may be used as a drainage service for completely emptying the compartments. Two similar steam-pumps are also fitted on the opposite wall of the dock.

The dock is provided with eight steam capstans, four on each wall, down vertically to the level of the pontoon deck, where, in a small chamber in the wall at this level, cable-lifters are fitted, so that the mooring cables may be hauled in or paid out when the dock is being moved about. Donkey boilers are provided on the wall remote from that in which the main boilers are fitted, to provide steam for the capstans and fire-pumps fitted on that wall.

On the top deck of this wall a 3-ton electric travelling gantry crane is fitted and arranged to traverse the whole length of the wall. At both ends of the combined dock a pair of flying gangways or swinging bridges are fitted, affording access from one wall to the other.

WILL REMAIN AT MAISONNEUVE.

The dry dock will rest at Maisonneuve, where a basin has been prepared. It is 1,000 feet long and over 500 feet wide, dredged to a depth of 50 feet in the centre and 30 feet near the outside. For three years a fleet of dredges and scows have been busy there, and over 1,000,000 cubic yards of mud have been removed to prepare for the great dock.

With its addition to the equipment of the port of Montreal, the largest liner that sails the St. Lawrence can be repaired here. No longer will it be necessary for damaged ships to creep across the Atlantic to the home ports of the British Isles for repairs, for in Montreal a dry dock 600 feet long and with a lifting capacity of 25,000 tons will be ready for such emergencies.

RAILWAY NEWS

3,960 HOMESTEADS.

A western despatch states that 3,960 homesteads of 160 acres each, a total of 633,600 acres of land, in a strip 165 miles long and 6 miles wide, bisected by the Grand Trunk Pacific's main line from the Alberta-British Columbia border, westward to Fort George, will probably be opened by the Government to pre-emption next spring.

G. T. P. AT MUD CREEK.

Steel on the Grand Trunk Pacific main line east from Prince Rupert has now reached Mud Creek beyond Hazelton, and steel for the bridge is daily expected by Vancouver. Mud Creek bridge is one of the larger structures of its kind on the new Transcontinental line, and will take two months or so to construct.

PASSENGER TRAIN TO PRINCE RUPERT.

The first passenger train on the Grand Trunk Pacific main line was recently run over the newly laid tracks west to Prince Rupert. Passengers on this train, which was a 'special,' were Chief Engineer Kelliher, General Superintendent Mehan, Engineer Beaudette, Supt. Shephard, Supt. Engineer Van Arsdol, and the contractors, Messrs. Stewart and Welch.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST WESTERN BRIDGES.

The massive C. P. R. bridge across the Saskatchewan river at Outlook, the connecting link on the main line between Winnipeg and Edmonton, has been completed. The last girder was put into place last week end, and immediately the work of laying the rails was commenced. To-day the first train will be operated over the bridge. This bridge is one of the biggest in western Canada, being over three thousand feet in length, and 156 feet in height. The construction work was commenced in 1909, and is conceded to be one of the biggest undertakings ever attempted to cross the Saskatchewan river. There are nine solid piers of solid concrete and the piers are 110 feet above the water level with a steel superstructure 46 feet high.

A MISTAKE FARMERS MAKE.

Mr. A. Price, the superintendent of the C. P. R. at Calgary, in an interview says: 'Farmers of this province make a big mistake in not building store barns on their farms to store their threshed grain in, for as long as there are crops threshed in Alberta the railroad will not be able to rush all grain out of the country at the time it is threshed. Farmers cannot expect a railroad to put on special trains, hire trainmen, conductors and all the help that is needed to carry the grain of the west and Alberta off in two or three months, and then discharge the men again after the crop is taken east. The railroad would not be able to hire the men the next year to work on these special trains, for they will not consider work for a couple of months, and be satisfied with being laid off then. No, the farmers must get wise to the fact that their grain must be stored for some time, and they must build storehouses. The C. P. R. is doing all it can to carry the grain away, but it will take time, and some of the grain will have to wait until such time as cars are available.

COQUITLAM YARDS IN USE SOON.

According to the plans now formulated by the Canadian Pacific Railway the big yards at Coquitlam, B.C., on which a million of dollars are being expended, will be in use on December 15. This is a little later than was at first expected when the scheme was started. The crews for the operating of the yard in general have to report for duty on that date. The station is to be constructed in the near future. The yards on False Creek and Burrard Inlet Vancouver, will be maintained as in the past with the exception that the freight trains, both east and westbound, will be made up in the new yards. The congestion experienced at Vancouver will be done away with, as the yards at Coquitlam will be used to classify the outgoing trains and distribute the cars of the incoming.

TRAINMASTER OF FOURTH DISTRICT.

An official circular has been issued announcing the appointment of Mr. A. D. McCarthy, trainmaster of the fourth district, and Montreal terminals, with headquarters here.

J. J. HILL AND THE GREAT NORTHERN.

J. J. Hill said in New York yesterday, 'At present the Great Northern, which had the biggest year in its history, is loading 5,000 cars a day. This is equivalent to a freight train forty miles in length. Gross earnings for the first three weeks in October were over $1,000,000 ahead of last year, and the gain for the entire month will not be less than $1,500,000. The country has been slowly recovering from the effects of the panic of 1907. There is a better feeling now, and merchants and jobbers report satisfactory conditions. Farm lands are in excellent shape.'

STRICT WITH EXCURSION TICKETS.

The United States Commerce Commission decided that excursion tickets at reduced rates on the railways must be used within the dates specified, or else the holders must buy new local tickets to finish their journeys.

TWO DROWNED.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—Two families of this city were plunged in grief last night when one member of a hunting party returned with the news that his two companions, Edgar Guy Lees, and Henry Keane, had been drowned at Netley's Portage, in the storm that swept over this section on Monday night.

Edgar Lees is the son of the Superintendent of the Industrial Bureau and the Exhibition Grounds. Kean is the eldest son of a widowed mother, who lives at 164 Burrows avenue.

DROPPED DEAD.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 30.—William Simpson, a veteran furniture manufacturer of this city, dropped dead while standing on the Grand Trunk station platform about 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had walked to the station with friends who were leaving for Toronto, and, while conversing with them, suffered a sudden attack of heart failure and his death was instantaneous. Deceased was in his eighty-second year.

COUNCIL SENDS PAVING LAW REPORT BACK TO CONTROLLERS

Aldermanic Resolution Returns it With Expressions of Opposition.

THE CIVIC SALARY LIST.

Union of Civic Employees Demands Increases Commensurate with Cost of Living.

Although the Board of Control reported against any repeal of the present paving law the majority of the aldermen led by Ald. L. A. Lapointe passed a resolution reiteratng certain arguments of theirs for abolishing this statute at the meeting of the City Council yesterday. The views of the Controllers and Aldermen on this question will therefore probably come in conflict before the Legislature.

The Controllers in their report said that it would be too great a burden upon the city to pay for the permanent pavement done each year out of the loan fund. The loan account would be entirely too inflated after a time, and the interest charges without an adequate sinking fund would be too great a burden upon the general revenue of the city. The big interest payable each year would eventually eat up all the surplus revenue, said the Controllers, and not sufficient money would be left to pay increases in salary of City Hall employees. The Controllers also said that the present abnormal increase in the city revenue was not a permanency, and it would soon resume normal proportions. Therefore it would be a mistaken policy to pay for public works required out of the general revenue.

Alds. Emard and Morin endeavored to have the Council return this report to the Controllers in order that they might supply recommendations for an amended law which might fall more equally on all citizens than the present law does.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe was most active in defending a return to the old conditions. He proposed that the report of the Controllers be sent back to them for the following reasons:—

Ald. L. A. Lapointe.

(1). The arguments given by the Controllers are not sufficient to induce the Council to reverse its decision to ask a repeal of the paving law; 2. The arguments which have been advanced in favor of the repeal of the paving law are not contraverted by the Controllers; (3). The financial position of the city is sufficiently strong to render unnecessary. The imposition of new taxes on the proprietors especially as it is known that the increase in assessment is about 126,000,000 which will provide the city with power to borrow on loans more than thirteen million dollars, and to increase the revenue to a considerable degree without taking into account the increase from other sources of revenue, water taxes, licenses, etc; (4.) The Board of Control declares itself that the existing law is not equitable, but does not suggest a single means of rendering it just and equitable.

Ald. Lapointe said that the Council has already taken two stands for the repeal of this law. He said also that the city would have plenty of money in the revenue account to do its paving.

Ald. Emard said that Montreal property owners had endorsed the local improvement law.

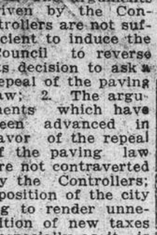
"The Citizens' Committee and the Real Estate Association,' said Ald. Mederic Martin in the course of a long speech, 'are not the important bodies that they claim they are. When Ald. Tetreau resigns his seat for St. Denis Ward, said Ald. Martin, 'we shall elect an opponent of the Board of Control in his place.'

'I hope Sir Lomer Gouin will put the Citizens' Association and the Board of Trade in their proper place if these bodies go down to Quebec for legislation,' said Ald. Martin in a sort of bravado.

CITY'S DEBT IS ALREADY TOO LARGE.

Ald. Ward said that the city already had sixty millions of debt, and if it continued borrowing capital a limit would eventually be reached. If the old system is reverted to, said Ald. Ward, proprietors will be presented with twelve million dollars worth of work.

'I agree with Ald. Martin in one thing' Mayor Lavallee here expressed great surprise.



Ald. Ward.

'Ald. Martin said that real estate men were having streets past their properties macadamized for nothing. These are speculators, and they can afford to pay for this improvement. The retention of the present paving law,' said Ald. Ward, 'will benefit the workingman. He will have cleaner streets past his home, and enjoy better health while the proprietors will pay for the improvement. Men who think of coming here and spending money in founding industries are being driven away, because of the lack of cleanliness of the city. Owing to the small amount of paving that is being done the growth of the city is being retarded.

Controller Lachapelle said that the Controllers, instead of repealing, proposed to improve the present paving law. There might be a reaction in real estate prices, and therefore it was not advisable to repeal the present law. It was not good administration to borrow money to the full extent of the law each year. The city had many wants that could not be supplied owing to the scarcity of money at the present time, and this state of affairs might increase.

The present division between the Council and the Board of Control, said Controller Lachapelle, militates against progress in the city's work.

Ald. Morin said that if the present law was repealed most of the work would be done in the new wards, and speculators would be benefited.

Ald. Giroux censured Controller Lachapelle for having said that this city was behind other cities, and began to praise the Montreal police and fire departments, when he was cut short by Mayor Lavallee, who ruled his speech out of order.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe said that if the Council occasionally was at variance with the Board of Control, it was only to find the best possible solutions. He feared the newspapers would use the remarks of Controller Lachapelle to initiate another attack on the City Council.

Controller Lachapelle said that the Controllers and aldermen should be willing to meet together to discuss the best means of improving the paving law, but the majority of the aldermen gave no evidence of a desire to retain the paving law. This was a poor sample of the way to administer the affairs of the city of Montreal. This city was behind others, not in the administration of departments, but in the condition of its streets and pavements.

The motions of Alds. Morin and Emard to ask the Controllers further to study this question and submit suggestions on the improvement of the present law was rejected by a vote of nineteen to seven.

The motion of Ald. L. A. Lapointe to send back the report to the Controllers with expressions of opposition to it by the Council was then carried by the following vote:—

Ayes: Ald. L. A. Lapointe, N. Lapointe, Garceau, Clement, Letourneau, Mayrand, Bastien, Turcot, Lariviere, Martin, Seguin, Giroux, Stroud, Poissant Blumenthal, Vandelac, McDonald, Menard and Judge—19

Nays—Ald. Ward, Robinson, Boyd, Monthan, Emard, Drummond and Morin—7.

CITY EMPLOYEES WANT INCREASES.

The following resolution was received from the Union of Civic Employees:

'Seeing that the cost of living is increasing at an alarming rate, we, the employees of the city of Montreal, are obliged to demand that our pay be advanced, for we can no longer live on the meagre salaries that we are receiving; so we are assured that you have already considered this; for everything is costing so high that, as you see, an increase in salaries becomes almost obligatory. After mature consideration we have determined to make this demand.

Division foremen: An increase from $3 a day to $3.50 a day; free transportation in the tram cars; and fifteen days' vacation instead of ten each year.

Section men: An increase from $2.10 a day to $2.50 a day.

Day laborers: An increase from $3.15 a day to $3.50 a day.

Single drivers: An increase from $315 a day to $350 a day

Teamsters: A raise from $5.50 a day to $6 a day.

The section men also ask ten days' holidays instead of six days; that the permanent staff should receive pay for fifty-two weks in the year, and that pay and a half be given for overtime and Sundays.

Increase to $18 a week for E. Charron, timekeeper of the eastern division; and to $15.50 a week for P. Paris, watchman, was asked.

MAYOR IS CENSURED BY ALDERMEN.

Ald. Menard censured Mayor Lavallee for not signing a resolution of the Council that authorized the expropriation of some land in his ward. He said that the delay had enabled the taking of an action in the courts questioning the reasonableness of the price the city was to pay for the widening of a street at a cost of $13,000.

Ald. Menard.

Mayor Lavallee said that he delayed signing the document till he legal opinion as to whether this matter was in the interest of the city.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe said that it was curious that when Mr. Archambault gave an opinion the Mayor had found a way to get another opinion on the same law. This produced delays.

The matter was allowed to rest till a full legal opinion can be had.

SUPPORTS OFFER TO BUILD HOSPITAL.

The Board of Trade wrote officialy notifying the Council and Controllers supporting the offer of Colonel Jeffrey H. Burland to build a home for incurable consumptives, at a cost of $100,000, provided the city and the province each contribute $7,000 annually towards its maintenance. The public, it is hoped, will give the $7,000 extra needed to make up the $21,000 yearly required to maintain this hospital. The Council of the Board of Trade expresses the hope that the corporation may favor granting an annual contribution as asked.

WANT TRAM CO. TO CARRY FREIGHT.

A petition from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was received asking that the Montreal Tramways Company be permitted to carry freight in the city and suburbs provided that the ordinary passenger service be not interfered with or delayed, the interests of the city be safeguarded and the company be not given the exclusive right of the carriage of freight in electric cars.

A letter from the Chambre de Commerce was read endorsing the enlargement of Lafontaine Park, according to the plans of Ald. Poissant, to take in the Normal School property.

This drew a protest from Ald. Mederic Martin, who wanted his scheme to take in other land for the park to be accepted.

Ald. Stroud asked the Controllers to reconsider their decision not to widen Roy lane for the present.

The Bell Telephone Company ask permission to open parts of the following streets to place theiron their telephone poles and wires: Stanley avenue, Buller avenue, Marchand street, Monklands avenue, Cote St. Luke road, Snowdon avenue, Cianranald street, Hadley street, De Bienville avenue, Monk boulevard, Rossland avenue, Parthenais street, Ogilvie avenue, Masson street, Bourdages street, Boyce street, and Moriette avenue.

NEW CAR LINES FOR WESTMOUNT

Complaint Received and the Tramway Company's Answer.

The following letter has been received from Mr. Chas. P. Rice, of 624 Victoria avenue, concerning the state of street car traffic from the city to Westmount Boulevard. Mr. Rice is one of the many residents of the upper level who have been suffering much annoyance and inconvenience from the awkward changes and long waits which an inefficient car service entailed to passengers along that route.

Mr. Rice writes:—'She was standing at the corner of Guy and St. Catherine, wondering whether to take a St. Catherine car going west, or to risk going up Guy with the probability of changes and waits, mud and discomfort—for she lived on Victoria avenue, the top, and the other way meant a long climb from Sherbrooke street.

'The first car along helped her to decide—it was a Guy and with a guy as a conductor. Still, she hesitated on the step and inquired, "How long before you will get to Victoria avenue." The conductor, whose vocabulary was evidently greater in French than English, replied, "Wan mont', ma-am."

'Now, we all know that those responsible for the present conditions are doing their very best, and the weather has been exasperating and has been the cause of much, if not all, of the delay; but if you can obtain answers to the following questions it would greatly relieve the tension, and we will dig up some more of the patience which has been exhibited during the long past.

'First, how much longer must we wait before we will once more enjoy even the same old service we once had, and are we to be rewarded with something "de luxe" when the good time arrives?

'We hear two weeks mentioned, and again that, on account of the sewer to be laid, it will be spring before we will call the present service a memory or a horrible dream.

'Second, why not forbid entrance to the cars at the transfer point, top of Cote des Neiges, excepting at the shed or shelter? By doing so we all will alight there in some comfort, and wait and embark under cover. This would avoid confusion. As it now is arranged or disarranged, one dare not risk doing this, because the car going west may leave one behind, and frequently half the passengers get in only to be turned out in the mud and rain because "this car is going into the city," or for some other reason. The weather is becoming increasingly unpleasant, and the shelter is something better.

'Third, why was it necessary to run on one track?

'In the city it was always possible to use the single track for only a short distance—a few yards—and when laying new rails it was necessary to place them in the same position as the old, whereas on the boulevard one of the new tracks is being laid on a new part of the street. Could not a smaller part have been torn up at a time, and with a third set of rails, could not a double track be reserved almost entirely, and thus avoid the long waits at the junctions?

'The old track is becoming increasingly rough and dangerous, and the cars will be worn out and not even left fit for curios for use as specimens of the "early Montreal"' in the Chateau de Ramezay.

'These are the questions one hears asked by the passengers, and if some of us knew the answers, we could inform our fellow-sufferers and could use them to "open conversation," and by doing so "become acquainted" and thus we will "change partners" and make what is now our "awful experience getting home" a "delightful little function."'

'Some people also want to know if it would not be possible to arrange a loop line, single or double, say down Claremont avenue and along Sherbrooke, in order to reach St. Catherine street that way.

'Explanations are due to us, and if we obtain them, we promise to be good.

'CHAS. P. RICE.'

These questions being submitted to the new manager of the Tramways Company, Major Hutchison, were met with this encouraging statement:

The new tramway lines to Westmount boulevard will be completed next week.

Changes from one car to another over muddy crossings have caused many complaints to be made to Major Hutchison, who argued that until now there had been no real grounds for complaints.

Anxious to finish before snowfall, the contractors had torn up the whole roadway; consequently disturbance and annoyance had been caused to passengers along that route.

Some delay had been caused by shortage of material, but the long time occupied in completing the work was due to the excellence which was required by the specifications.

'The new tramway,' said Major Hutchison, 'will be the most modern and perfect on the continent, and it will certainly be in full commission next week.'

London, Oct. 30.—The following are results in Canadian cases taken to the Privy Council:
Parsons versus Sovereign Bank, concerning claim for debts; allowed.
Outremont versus Joyce, regarding street levelling; dismissed.
McKenzie versus Chilliwack Township, B.C. In this case Daniel McKenzie, while jailed, was fatally burned His relatives sought damages. But it was held that no negligence had been proved against the township. It was not unreasonable in such a small place to assign other duties to the jailer, some of which he attended to on the night of fire. Appeal dismissed.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1912.

It is coming to be understood, especially since the resignation of Mr. Monk, that Mr. Borden's policy about to be revealed will be an emergency grant of an overwhelming amount—thirty millions is the figure given—as a subvention to the Royal Navy. As there is no emergency there is no excuse for an emergency subvention. The only emergency is in our own politics. Mr. Borden, having joined the Nationalists to the extent of supporting their cry that no money should be given to the navy without the policy being first submitted to the people, finds in an imperial emergency the only method of escaping from that undertaking. In support of this proceeding the emergency idea is being worked up by the general machinery of the Jingo organization throughout the Empire. According to some wise ones there is to be a continuance of emergencies. The total subvention, they tell us, is to amount, in a few years, to a hundred millions. We believe that Canada should take her honest place in sharing the imperial burden, but that it should be done as a sober settled policy, and not as a challenge to a supposed enemy. We want Germany as a friend. It is the worst of statesmanship to insist on her being an enemy.

The index number of the Department of Labor which indicates the comparative wholesale price of commodities has been going down for the last two months. Too much prominence has been given to this fact to accord with its importance. It is due solely to the cheaper price at which vegetables can be bought on the harvesting of a heavy new crop. The index numbers for the last four months with the corresponding ones four months of last year are:—

June	126.1	136.9
July	126.9	134.8
Aug.	127.2	133.4
Sept.	128.0	132.5

These figures indicate the average price of two hundred and fifty-six commodities as compared with the average for the years 1890 to 1899. The index number for the group of sixteen to eighteen articles of fresh fruits and vegetables for the same months of the two years is:—

	1911	1912
June	148.1	185.3
July	150.2	156
Aug.	143.2	147.8
Sept.	140.7	122.5

This drop, due to the harvest, is an annually recurrent one, and this year we have reason to be thankful that it is unusually large. The drop from 185 to 122 when multiplied by the sixteen commodities that constitute the list of fruits and vegetables gives a drop of a thousand, which divided by the two hundred and fifty commodities that constitute the list would mean a drop of four points in the index number. A reference to the first table given above will show that this is equal to the total improvement in the index number for this year, and that we may consequently conclude that prices of commodities not affected by the season are staying about steady. Last year the case was different. The reduction of prices due to the new drop was very much less, only totalling nine points on sixteen commodities, and affected the index number by a reduction of less than one point. This was far more than overcome by the rapidly rising price of other sorts of farm produce which are little affected by the season. Dairy products and eggs are shortly due to make an advance, with the approach of winter, that will go a considerable distance toward counteracting the present decline in the average.

THE REAL GERMANY.

It was in Manchester that Lord Roberts spoke the other day in warlike tones. We must look for all sorts of scares from all sorts of Jingo sources until Mr. Borden's navy policy is announced and disposed of. From Manchester also comes a book with a very different kind of message. The book is published by the Manchester University and is entitled, 'Germany in the Nineteenth Century.' It is dedicated to 'Thomas C. Horsfall in acknowledgment of his long and earnest labors to promote a better mutual understanding between England and Germany.' The introductory note to the volume is by Viscount Haldane, who says that it is the work of highly competent students who have united in the effort to present from different standpoints a picture of modern Germany. Though the standpoints are those of varying kinds of scholarship the picture is a single picture. It is confined to modern Germany for the reason that Germany is essentially a modern country. The source of the stream of its life, intellectual as well as political, lies in the Reformation. But it was in the end of the eighteenth century and in the beginning of the nineteenth that a current, unique in the history of the world, began to flow in a fashion that has been since then as unceasing as it has been characteristic. Since the days of ancient Greece there has been no such spectacle of the intimate blending of the life of the statesman with that of the thinker. The spirit of the Germany of to-day is highly concrete and practical. But it is based on foundations of abstract knowledge, and that is why it is well-ordered. For orderliness becomes easy when first principles have been clearly defined. The country that has produced a Kant and a Goethe can later on produce a Bismarck; 'Aus dem Lernvolk soll ein Thaetvolk werden'—from a people of knowledge must come a people of deeds.

These weighty and true words at the beginning of Lord Haldane's introduction give the key-note to the work itself. It consists of five lectures delivered to British journalists and others, last year. The first one, on 'The Political History,' was by Dr. J. Holland Rose, the historian; the second and third, on the 'Intellectual and Literary History,' by Professor C. H. Herford; the fourth, on 'The Economic History,' by Professor Gonner, and the fifth, on the 'History of Education,' by Professor M. E. Sadler. There have been other presentations of the great lessons which the development of Germany offers to modern civilization elsewhere, but this is one of the most timely and effective in its condensed thoroughness. It is a eulogy, but it is also a practical sermon. Germany has not been behind other countries in the recognition of the principle of natural development in human history. In fact her historians were among the very first to perceive and apply this principle to the records of the past. But she has also been the first, and the most successful, in recognizing that the national development might also be directly influenced by intellectual forces. The thoughts of her thinkers have not been the mere adornment of her literary history; they have been the directing power of her national life. We have more than once pointed out to our readers that the educational policy of Stein in Prussia over a hundred years ago, which formed the basis of the splendid educational system of all Germany to-day, was based upon principles of deliberate national purpose. Prussia had been crushed under the heel of Napoleon, and her statesmen wisely saw that the one means of national regeneration was a great and thorough system of national education.

The history of the development of this purpose is the crowning part of this book. No one could speak more authoritatively on the history of German education than Professor Michael Sadler. The famous Sadler reports, issued some years ago by the British government upon the educational systems of the world, were prepared by a number of experts under his direction. No one is better informed as to the principles, the details and the comparative merits of those systems. He is far from advocating a complete assimilation between English and German education. They are of different historical origins, and to some extent for necessarily different purposes. But the most significant influences upon English education during the last century were of German origin. Coleridge and Carlyle had familiarized the English public with the idea of State-organized education; Roebuck, Brougham, and others in 1833-35, quoted German precedent for compulsory education, and it was through the Prince Consort that enlightened German ideas as to the action of the state in public education were most widely extended in political and official circles in England. With the help of Lyon Playfair and others, Prince Albert succeeded in developing the state department of Art and Science, and in promoting wise extensions of state activity in elementary and technical education. Professor Sadler says:—'In these respects German influence has been especially strong in English education during the last seventy years. It has supported the idea that the State should bear an effective part in the regulation of all grades of national education. It has stimulated in the highest degree the scientific study of the philosophy of education and of methods of teaching. And it has helped in securing a more general acceptance of the view that the State can increase the economic welfare of the nation by the systematic encouragement of liberal and technical education and of systematic scientific research.' It is a definite national policy of education that we most need in Canada—one of supreme fitness for our intellectual development and adapted, above all, to the advancement of our agricultural and industrial efficiency. We, too, have something to learn from Germany.

HONOR FOR LONG SERVICE

Bishop of Mid-Japan Had Degree of Doctor of Divinity Conferred

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The twenty years of unselfish service rendered in the missionary field in Japan by the Right Rev. Hebber James Hamilton, Bishop of the Diocese of Mid-Japan, were recognized last evening by the conferring of him of the degree of Doctor of Divinity (honoris causa) by the corporation of the University of Trinity College.
The stately ceremonial incidental to such an occurrence included his introduction by Chancellor Worrell, his presentation for the acceptance of the degree by Professor Duckworth, public orator of the College, and his formal investment with the rich scarlet D.D. hood by Canon Bryan on behalf of the missionaries of Mid-Japan. His own speech of acceptance followed.
Early in the evening a farewell address and purse of gold was presented to the Rev. Dr. Lloyd, vice-provost of the College, by Bishop Sweeney, on the occasion of his departure for Halifax to become rector of All Saints Cathedral, and Canon Residentiary. Mrs. Lloyd received a bouquet of orchids from the hands of Miss Kammerer, the only lady member of the staff. Dr. Lloyd will assume his new duties immediately, leaving for Halifax last night.

BIG CENTRAL BLOCK SOLD FOR $50,000

Another $50,000 deal in St. George street property was concluded when J. C. King, acting for the Cochrane Estate, sold to M. L. Morris a big block, situated on the west side of St. George street, near St. Catherine street. There were 8,900 square feet in the property, so that the sale price was about $5.60 per square foot. A clothing factory is planned for the site. The transfer was made by the Beresford Realty Company.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Formality Past, But Becker Likely to Live to Ripe Old Age.

New York, Oct. 30.—Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, convicted of procuring the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, was to-day sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing during the week of Dec. 9. The sentence was pronounced by Justice Goff at 10.40 o'clock.
Becker's execution will be stayed, however, by a notice of appeal from the verdict of the jury, soon to be filed by his counsel, which may take a year to determine.
He was at once delivered into the custody of Sheriff Harburger, who immediately left with him to take a train to Sing Sing prison where the convicted man will be placed in solitary confinement until his fate is determined.
Becker was brought into court shortly after 10.30 o'clock. He walked slowly to the bar, and catching the eye of acquaintances among the newspaper men nodded to them with a faint smile.
Charles Becker, have you any legal cause to show why judgment of death should not be pronounced against you?' asked the clerk.
Becker opened his mouth as if to speak, but before he could reply John W. Hart, his counsel of record, rose to make the usual motions to set aside the verdict and to arrest judgment.
Justice Goff denied the motions, and then pronounced the sentence.
Becker heard himself condemned without any show of emotion, other than the closing of his eyes and the compression of his lips.
Mrs. Becker was not in the court room proper, but was waiting in an ante-room to accompany him to Ossining, where she purposes to take up her residence during his confinement.
J. F. McIntyre, Becker's chief counsel, wh osuffered a nervous collapse after the close of the trial, was unable to be in court to-day. His condition is serious, though not critical.

MET RULES WITH HER LIFE

Child Had to be Orphan to Get Shelter, and Mother Orphaned Him

Detroit, Oct. 30.—Informed by the superintendent of a Detroit institution that her two-year-old boy could not be admitted to the place unless he was an orphan, Mrs. Mabel Green, formerly of Toronto, whose real name is said to be Mabel Potter, shot and killed herself in a rooming house at 42 Abbott street yesterday. Rollin A. Green, with whom she claimed she had lived in Toronto three years ago, resides in a handsome house on Scotten avenue here with another wife and three children.
Green is said to have been legally married to his present wife in England seven years ago.
At the home of Rollin Green last night his wife denied absolutely that Green had ever been married to Mabel Potter, and said the whole affair was the outgrowth of a mad infatuation on the part of the girl. The case is one of the saddest with which the authorities have had to deal. No word has yet been received from Mrs. Potter, mother of the dead girl, and the coroner' office is anxious that news should reach her. They have no information as to her Toronto address or her initials.

NOTES ON THE WAR

BY CAPTAIN J. REID, R.E. (T.)

The frantic cheers of the excited Allied fans over the score of Kirk-Kilisseh die away!

* * *

I have taken due note of their chorus of shouts that by the capture yesterday by the Bulgarians of Demotika, Koulelli-Bourgas, and the seizure of the Adrianople-Constantinople railway at Tscherbessen beside Tchorlu, the remainder of the Turkish army separated from Adrianople was hemmed in down on the same railway where it skirts the north bank of the Erkene river.

* * *

Well, the merest tyro in strategy could point out that both Bulgarians and Turks so heavily encumbered must have covered such a long distance over mountains between Kirk-Kilisseh and the Erkene in a mighty hurry.

* * *

These shouts of captures, occupations, railway bridges destruction, capitulations, retirements, etcetera, rising from the Adrianople amphitheatre of war like the jubilant cries from a hunting field in full view are expressive of a great wish, father to the sublime thought.

* * *

War is a stern reality fought on carefully prepared plans. Reckless violation of the same means disaster. We were officially told that having fought for three days at Kirk-Kilisseh on the fourth day the Turks, stubbornly covering their retreat, retired in a southerly direction from the same.

* * *

The Turkish war office at Constantinople states that a great battle was being fought yesterday with the IInd Bulgarian Army. Nothing more. Sofia maintains a dead silence thereon. The problem now is: Where are the respective lines of the two great fighters again drawn up?

* * *

Clearing the ter: n of all the report-captures of strategic positions as so many 'camp shaves' the great question to consider first is: Did the capture of Kirk-Kilisseh break the Turkish line of defence between Adrianople and that city?

* * *

Personally I do not think it did. Why? Because the Ist Bulgarian Army is still badly held before Adrianople. A report from Sofia dated yesterday admits that rumors are agitating its officials because of 'a check their army has suffered near that city.'

* * *

My own opinion is that the Turkish main line of defence is drawn between Adrianople and Bunarhissar, across the Teke Dereni River at a point about ten miles south of Kirk-Kilisseh, with its extreme right resting on Visa, and along this front the fighting now rages.

* * *

If, however, the IInd Bulgarian Army did pursue its full advantage on Thursday's fateful retreat from Kirk-Kilisseh and really reached Eski-Baba just touching the railway on the Erkene River then the new Turkish line of defence, under the command of Nazim Pasha, the commander-in-chief is drawn up in a semi-circle between Lilieh-Bourgas, Bunarhissar, Visa, and Serai, with their reserves at Chorlu, and their rear towards Constantinople.

* * *

The telegraph 'sounder' in the room where I write will soon tick off the news where the great battle has raged and its result. It must be somewhere on the northern line I specify, because a despatch yesterday from Sofia says: 'The Bulgarians are still fighting in the direction of Visa in pursuance of their plan to advance to the extreme east in the direction of Constantinople.'

* * *

Visa is forty miles north as the crow flies of Tcherkessen on the Constantinople main railway line, which the Bulgarians were said to have captured on Sunday!

* * *

The Turkish messages from Constantinople claim the Turks have bested the Bulgarian attempt to creep round their right flank between Visa and the Black Sea coast.

* * *

The Greeks are the lucky people of the war. Their army has now occupied Verria, the important town on the Salonika-Monastir railway running from this Greek seaport on the gulf that bears its name to the city of Monastir, lying 100 miles (air-line) to the very mountainous northwest.

* * *

A second Greek army is now advancing from the mouth of the historic vale of Tempe, along the shores of the gulf of Salonika, under the shadows of the majestic snow-covered Mount Olympus. It has occupied Katarina seaport village. Its objective is Salonika. Will it join forces with the first Greek army, now at Verria, and triumphantly seize this great free sea-port of the Aegean?

* * *

I hope they get there before the Servians. But what will Austria say? I do not believe Austria cares. She has Trieste and Pola on the Adriatic.

* * *

Now, where is that old Royal Spider holding his greek warships? What are they doing? Has he again some tricky 1897 sort of agreement with Turkey over his army's head?

* * *

The same question is asked of Zekki Pascha's command after Kumanova's rout. Where is it? I suppose it is retiring southwards from Uskub down the Salonika railway along the Wardar river valley to join the army the Greeks are pushing before them at Verria.

* * *

We will find out in due time. Don't worry. The old Turk-badger has bitten deep. He has left the marks of his fangs everywhere behind him. The losses of his pursuers at Kumanova, Sarandoporo, and Kirk-Kilesseh have been terrible.

* * *

As at Plevna, he has been making temporary parapets of dead bodies. And Kumanova way the dead too plentiful to bury are being cremated by bonfires as in the gullies behind Port Arthur. They said there that when the wind carried the smoke downfield the stench was awful!

CAN'T LOCATE FUGITIVES

Couple Wanted in Connection With Chicago Murder Still at Large

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Although police in every part of the city kept a sharp lookout for Charles D. Conway and his wife, wanted in connection with the murder of Miss Sophia G. Singer, of Baltimore, yesterday morning, no trace of the couple had been found early to-day.
Neither did any clue develop from hundreds of circulars sent to towns and cities throughout the country bearing a description of the pair as well as a picture of the woman.
It is the theory of the police that Miss Singer met her death between 9.30 and 1 o'clock. A druggist near where she lived said that the woman was in his store and wrote several postal cards. He fixed the time she left at 9.30 o'clock.
William R. Worthern, the fiancee of Miss Singer, who came here from Baltimore with her, will be questioned further by the police to-day.

CHURCH RESOLD FOR $150,000

Purchaser of Stanley Street Presbyterian Church Cleared $25,000 on Investment

Stanley Street Presbyterian Church, which was sold by the congregation on March 14 last, for $125,000, as announced exclusively in the 'Witness' that day, was resold yesterday to Mr. John Withell for $150,000, or a gain of $25,000 since spring. The property has a frontage of 100 feet on Stanley Strfeet, and a depth of 119 feet, so that the sale price is over $13 per square foot, while the one last spring was about $11.
Mr. Withell has not yet decided what he will do with the block, but there is a prospect of it being used as the site for a big modern garage. Its nearness to the Windsor Hotel makes it very suitable for such a project.

STOPPED HOIST WITH HIS FOOT

In his endeavor to stop the hoist at the Montreal Furniture Exchange, 131 Craig street east, this morning, Phillip McIntyre slipped. His right foot was caught between the hoist and the floor, and was badly crushed. He was taken to the General Hospital, where his foot may have to be amputated. McIntyre was employed as a carter by the Montreal Furniture Exchange.

$25,000 FOR LOSS OF EYE

18 Baseball Players Figure as Defendants in Lady's Action

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Trial of a suit for damages of $25,000 for the loss of an eye with eighteen baseball players of the Alhambra and Pacific Electric semi-professional clubs as defendants, was begun yesterday in the Superior Court.

Mrs. Emily Russell, of Alhambra, is the plaintiff. She alleges that while walking on the street on Aug. 10, 1911, a baseball struck her in the eye, destroying the sight. She learned the names of the clubs playing a game of baseball nearby. She could not ascertain which man threw the ball that hit her, so she named all 18 players as defendants.

LEMMON, S.D., IS HONORED

Governor Marshall, Owing to Train Wreck, Changes Speech Schedule.

Lemmon, S.D., Oct. 30.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, Democratic candidate for Vice-President yesterday sent several train loads of politics out into the State of South Dakota, when he delivered an unscheduled speech at Lemmon, where his train had been help up for nine hours by a freight wreck.

In opening his speech, Governor Marshall attacked the Progressive party in South Dakota.

'I would like Governor Wilson to carry South Dakota, said Governor Marshall. 'But I want him to carry it because the people of South Dakota want him, and not because certain men here who may not believe in his policies will be forced to vote for him or stay away from the polls because they have been disfranchised by the jurists of South Dakota who have refused the Taft electors the official ballot. But if you vote for Wilson I urge you most earnestly to elect Democratic congressmen from South Dakota to back him up in carrying out the pledges in the Democratic platform. We don't want a half-way victory in November.'

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE INJURED

Danzig, ct. 30.—The German Crown Prince Frederick William was injured in a hunting accident yesterday near here, and is confined to his residence suffering from the effects.

He was participating in a drag-hunt in company with Crown Princess Cecilie when his horse fell and threw him.

When he was picked up he was found to be suffering from injuries to the head and face, and an extravasation of blood from the right arm.

The Prince was carried at once to his residence, where he has been ordered by his doctors to remain for the present, although his wounds are not considered as serious.

The Crown Prince, however, will not be able to represent his father, the Emperor William, to-morrow at the funeral of Princess Rupprecht, wife of the Bavarian heir-presumptive, as had been arranged. His brother, Prince Eitel Friedrich, will take his place at the ceremony.

ON PAPER MAKING.

Publicity Men Heard an Address on this Subject at Cooper's.

The regular monthly dinner of the Montreal Publicity Association took place at Cooper's restaurant last evening. A large number of members were present. Several committees from the association, ready to report on different matters in relation to the society's welfare, postponed action until the next meeting, the members being anxious to listen to Mr. C. de Wolfe Reid speak on 'The history of paper-making, ancient and modern.'

For over an hour he sketched the art of inscribing, which he said was characteristic of the human race, long before paper was made. Our ancestors, he said, used stone, a laborious method, thousands of years ago. The Chinese made a kind of paper from joining narrow strips of plant together, in this way making a length of about two feet at a time. Later the same people used silk for transcribing. Then came paper 200 years before the Christian era.

The speaker described the necessarily slow methods of production which made paper a luxury, finally bringing his hearers down to the present day.

Mr. Reid supplemented his remarks with illustrations taken from a valuable book showing the crude machinery, mostly of wood, in the beginning of the art. He also had samples of hand-made paper of the present day manufacture from England, which is made in the same manner as paper of over a hundred years ago.

At the close of his address a rising vote of thanks was tendered the lecturer.

Owing to a mix-up in dates, Prof. Cherrington, of Harvard University, was unable to present his first lantern lecture last night, the committee stating that it was quite possible he would be heard at the next meeting.

MRS. A. A. SANDEMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Thrown From Her Horse While Riding on Mount Royal Avenue.

While Mrs. A. A. Sandeman, of 107 Crescent street, was out riding late yesterday afternoon, on Mount Royal avenue, near the entrance to the Mount Royal Cemetery, her horse shied at a leaf blown across the road. Mrs. Sandeman was thrown from her seat, her head striking the ground.

Miss Joseph, 732 Sherbrooke street west, a niece of Mrs. Sandeman's, who was out riding with her, immediately went to the premises of Mr. P. Benoit Asselman, 1135 Mount Royal avenue, and Mrs. Sandeman was carried into the house and all possible done to revive her pending the arrival of the Royal Victoria ambulance.

Mrs. Sandeman, when examined by the surgeons at the hospital last night, was found to be in a very serious condition, and doubts were entertained as to her recovery.

Inquiry at the hospital to-day showed that she was feeling much better, and hopes for her recovery are a little strengthened.

Mrs. Sandeman is a sister of Mr. Horace Joseph, and is well known through her social and charitable activities, especially in connection with the S. P. C. A. and the Montreal Maternity Hospital.

CENTENARIAN PRINTER DEAD

At the ripe old age of one hundred years and three months, Mr. James Thompson, for many years a resident of this city, passed away at his home in Perth, on Monday. Mr. Thompson was of Irish stock, coming to this country in the year 1827. He was well known as a master printer in this city, and a few years ago purchased the Canadian 'Courier,' published at Perth. He was also connected with the militia, and started for the front in 1837.

SAILOR'S INSTITUTE CONCERT.

For the Montreal Sailor's Institute concert last night, the officers of the society were lucky to secure the services of such a splendid baritone as Mr. Edward Aitken, who has but lately come from London. His three solos, 'The Bandolere,' 'The Veteran's Song,' and 'My Old Shako' were vociferously applauded. Miss Sangster also sang and was encored. Among others who took part were Messrs. J. Ritchie Bell, John Graham, Robert Pringle, Matt. Hewson and Edward Champness. Those from the ships included Messrs. Dillon, of 'Teutonic,' who sang: Foulkes, of the same ship, who danced; Fairburn, of the 'Letitia,' and O'Neill, of the 'Corsican,' who sang. Miss Grace Grant played the accompaniments.

Next Tuesday night the annual concert will take place with Mr. R. W. Reford, president of the Board of Trade, in the chair.

BREAKING CITL ARC LAMPS.

Charged with breaking city arc lamps in Point St. Charles, by throwing stones, three boys were recently arrested. Not only does the breaking of these lamps throw the district into darkness, but endangers the traffic of both vehicles and pedestrians. The city constables have to use every effort to arrest and bring before the courts any person found tampering or interfering in any way with these lights.

CLAIMS HE WAS SANDBAGGED.

Alfred Kidd, of 247 St. Antoine street, lies at the Western Hospital with a badly battered head. He stated at the hospital that while walking along St. Patrick street, Cote St. Paul, last evening, with a young woman, he was either clubbed or sandbagged into unconsciousness. Two constables sent from the Cote St. Paul station to investigate were unable to secure any clue as to his assailants.

LEGS CRUSHED IN A GARAGE.

Percy Tompkins, 14 years of age, residing at 26 St. Antoine street, had both legs crushed yesterday by an automobile in the garage of the Pope-Hartford Motor Car Company, 317 University street. He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital.

FATAL PRANK OF STUDENTS

Loyola College Boys Broke a Street Car Trolley and a Skull

As the result of a mischievous act on the part of one of his team mates, Harold Kavanagh, a student at Loyola College, now lies at the Western Hospital, in a serious condition.

The Loyola football team were on their way home from Notre Dame de Grace after a game with the Montreal High School on Windsor Park. As it was the rush hour, two passing cars failed to stop at the siding where they were waiting, and when the third car did stop, they revenged themselves by pulling down the trolley. As the conductor was adjusting the pole, some of the boys boarded the car, pulled down the trolley again, but this time the pull was so forceful, that the pole was pulled from its place and fell on the head of young Kavanagh, crushing his skull. He was removed to the hospital, where an operation was performed.

Harold Kavanagh was in his third year philosophy, at Loyola College. He is a son of Mrs. Arthur Kavanagh, of the Pine Avenue Apartments, and a nephew of Mr. H. J. Kavanagh, K.C., and Father Kavanagh, S.J.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S STORY

Outlines the Accomplishments of Administration and Policies

Washington, Oct. 30.—President Taft in an authorized interview given to a local newspaper for publication this morning outlined the accomplishments of his administration and the policies on which his heart was set.

'Some of the greatest policies on which, I have set my heart are just now coming to a focus,' declared the President. 'The period of reconstruction began when I took office, but we have yet to finish the work. The steel frame work has been erected, but we must now put in the floors and ceilings, I say that it would be dangerous to change the whole force of workmen at this crucial period.'

The President declares the tariff was the real issue of the campaign. 'Had I signed the tariff-for-revenue-only bills submitted to me by the Democratic Congress' he declared 'the present era of prosperity would not be here today. The business world would not have been able to adjust itself to these bills for many years. And even the present prosperity is not great enough to act as a shock-absorber to a Democratic administration.'

Throughout 1913, the President declared, prosperity would continue, no matter which political party triumphed and it would receive another impetus when the Panama Canal was opened.

'But,' he continued, 'if there should be a disturbance of the tariff now—the shaking up that only the Democrats can give it—there will be another atrophy of business effort that will affect the whole country.'

Naming the accomplishments of his administration the President pointed to the Economy and Efficiency Commission, which he claimed had saved millions of dollars, and had made recommendations for further savings. He contended the public should know about public expenditures, and to this end said he would send to Congress this fall a budget so citizens could see how the money was to be spent.

An industrial commission to study conditions between capital and labor would soon be appointed, he said, while parcels post, postal savings banks, a bureau of mines, and a children's bureau were all accomplishments of his administration.

Another term as President, he concluded, would enable him to accomplish a large number of reforms already outlined by him in his various messages to Congress, and in his statements to the people.

TYPHOON OFF CHINA COAST

Hundreds of Lives Lost and Millions of Damage Done

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The Pacific Mail liner 'Manchuria,' which arrived yesterday from the Orient, brought the first details of a typhoon off the China coast late in September, which is believed to have cost hundreds of lives and to have destroyed millions of dollars' worth of property.

The names of 700 persons, it is said, were posted as missing at Keelung, Formosa, where the Manchuria found the harbor fringed with wreckage. Hundreds of houses had been levelled by the gale which blew at the rate of ninety-seven miles an hour, and scores of vessels were strewn along the beach. Two Japanese torpedo boats anchored in the harbor, were swept to the rocky shore, and all the members of the crews except two were drowned.

The loss of merchandise includes the cargo of the British steamer 'Dacre Castle.' The 16,000 ton vessel was impaled so firmly on the pinnacle of a rock that it withstood the assault of the gale, and none of the officers or crew were drowned. When the typhoon had passed, it was found that the ship had split in two. Half of the ship's cargo was saved.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF ANDREW AND PHILIP.

Montreal Delegates Elected to Office at the Annual Convention, Held in Toronto.

The ninth annual convention of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip was held on Monday at the Kew Beach Presbyterian Church, Toronto, of which the Rev. J. A. Stewart, president of the Canadian Council of the brotherhood and recently of Hespeler, Ont., is the Pastor. Delegates attended the sessions from different parts of the Dominion and some important topics were discussed, amongst which was 'The Standard of Efficiency.' Reports of the delegates from all sections, showed that the brotherhood of Andrew and Philip is one of the strongest factors in the development of the idea among men of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Chapter 56, connected with Fairmount Avenue Methodist Church, was honored at the convention, Mr. F. R. Yule, president of Fairmount branch, being elected second vice-president of the Canadian Council, Mr. J. Gordon Edwards, assistant general secretary, and the Rev. G. I. Campbell, B.D., former Pastor of Fairmount Avenue Church, chaplain of the Canadian Council at Toronto.

After the business of the convention had been transacted a banquet was tendered the delegates on Thanksgiving night by the ladies of the convention church. About two hundred gathered about the festive board. The celebration was featured by the inauguration of a Brotherhood Chapter in the convention church with a charter membership of forty men. Inspiring addresses were delivered by the Rev. Robt. White, who is a powerful advocate of the brotherhood movement, and by Mr. E. A. Breckenridge, editor of the brotherhood organ, 'The Canadian Star.'

The Montreal delegates returned home yesterday, filled with enthusiasm for the work of the coming year. The Fairmount brotherhood meets every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the lecture hall of Fairmount Avenue Methodist Church and the plans developed at the Toronto convention will be put to an immediate test in this progressing chapter.

SCOTCH GIRL'S DEATH MYSTERY

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 30.—Coroner Dr. Andrew MacKay, of this city, opened an inquest at Lakeside Village yesterday afternoon into the death of Agnes McKissick, the young Scotch domestic who died some ten days ago, presumably from a dose of self-administered strychnine, after telling a strange story of escape from White Slavers in Toronto. The inquest was adjourned until Friday after the evidence of ten witnesses had been taken.

The evidence submitted leaves the girl's death still a mystery. Dr. Murray, of Lakeside, and Dr. Stanley, of St. Mary's, who performed the post mortem, found nothing that would cause death. The coroner dwelt upon facts that ptomaine poisoning, to which the girl's death was first attributed, would not have brought about death so quickly, the girl having died but twelve hours after being in the best of health. Frank McLean, a St. Mary's druggist, produced a poison book showing that the McKissick girl had not obtained poison from him.

Evidence of John Quirk later showed that in 1907 he had got two bottles of strychnine from McLean for killing rats. One of these he found in his room after the girl's death. He did not know the whereabouts of the other bottle, nor could he identify it as the one found beside the body after death. Two Scotch girl friends of the deceased were unable to throw any light on the matter.

The village hall, where the inquest was held, was crowded, many ladies being present.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS

At the inquest held yesterday on the body of a man found in the woods, back of St. Jauvier, the coroner's jury gave a verdict of death from natural causes, evidently due to exposure.

There were no marks of violence on the body, and no other means by which death could be said to have resulted. The body was badly decomposed, and it is thought, must have lain in the woods for some months before being discovered by four residents of the city on Sunday while on a hunting trip. The deceased was but scantily clad.

CENTENARIAN CHARGED.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary Hart, 100 years old, was arraigned in the Police Court here, charged with assault and battery. The centenarian prisoner, a negress, who was employed as caretaker of a negro church, was charged by the Rev. D. J. Clemons, pastor of the church, with assault on him when he endeavored to discharge her. Mrs. Hart is the oldest prisoner ever to appear in a Chicago court. She conducted her own case.

'I refused to allow that man to remove me from those premises without two weeks' notice,' she declared. 'I am an old woman, and I should be treated with respect. If not, there will be trouble.'

Mrs. Hart made a gesture toward the preacher, who stepped aside.

Mr. Clemons exhibited a bruise on his forehead and testified that when he asked the aged woman to leave the church she pushed him violently against a door and that he was compelled to leave her in possession.

Seeing that the evidence was going against her, Mrs. Hart demanded a continuance to obtain counsel.

OFFENCE AGAINST GIRL.

Toronto, Oct. 30. — Harry Rollings, colored, who pleaded guilty to a serious offence against a girl under sixteen years of age, was this morning sent to the central prison for eight months by Judge Denton.

'You wanted to marry the girl,' said His Honor, 'but I am not going to let you, as far as I am concerned. The law is framed to protect girls under sixteen years of age, and I am going to give you a substantial term in prison.'

The prisoner, the girl and the latter's mother, were all anxious for the marriage to take place.

RIGID INQUIRY INTO WRECK

Two Victims Will be Given a Military Funeral

Toronto, Oct. 30.— The Hon. J. J. Foy, attorney-general of Ontario, has instructed Chief Coroner Johnson, of Toronto, to hold a rigid investigation into the fatal train wreck at Streetsville. An inquest is also being held by Coroner Sutton of Streetsville.

Independent of the two inquests on the dead and the official investigation of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company into the causes of the wreck, it is probable that the Dominion Railway Commission will be asked to take the matter in hand and conduct a searching public inquiry.

Pending the investigation being made by the company, every railway man connected with the accident, which will include the entire train crew of the military train and the despatcher at London, will be suspended until the responsibility has been placed on the proper shoulders.

It was definitely ascertained yesterday that the two men killed were Mack Murdock, private, aged 24, 'A' Company, 48th Highlanders, who lived at 374 Wellington Place, and John Bannatyne, single, aged 20, 'A' Company, 48th Highlanders, who lived at 110 Alcine Avenue.

All the injured soldiers are reported to be progressing favorably at Grace Hospital, and the Western Hospital. Private Sheard, whose condition is the most serious, shows a slight improvement.

WINNIPEG PROTESTS PRIVY COUNCIL

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The city of Winnipeg will make a strenuous protest to Parliament against the decision of the Privy Council, permitting private corporations to place poles on streets in Toronto irrespective of whether the city is willing to grant permission or not. The Board of Control authorized Mr. Hunt, city solicitor, to prepare a protest to the limiting of municipal control of streets, which will be sent to the Hon. Robert Rogers for presentation at the Cabinet meeting which has been called for the consideration of the matter.

That the decision of the Privy Council menaces the control of the Winnipeg streets is the opinion of the controllers.

NATIONAL STEEL WORKS MOOTED

Sydney, N.S.W., Oct. 30.—A national steel works, to supply rails for the government railways, is being seriously considered by the Cabinet, as the result of difficulty which the Government has encountered in buying rails at which it considers a fair price.

The charge is made that an international pool is trying to force the market, threatening delay in building the great transcontinental railway now under construction from Perth to Adelaide.

KEPT OUT OF PARLIAMENT

Dissension in Hungarian House Leads to Military Barricade.

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 30.—The members of the Opposition in the Hungarian Parliament, when they tried to enter the House to-day, were met by a strong military cordon which completely surrounded the Parliament buildings and prevented their approach.

The Opposition deputies, led by Count Albert Apponyi, Count Michael Karolyi and Francis Kossuth, made an attempt to get through, but were forced to retire. Before doing so they made a violent protest.

The dissension in the Hungarian Parliament has been continuous since May 22, when Count Tisza was elected Speaker of the Lower House. Count Tisza's opposition to universal suffrage, which is demanded by the Opposition, has caused great bitterness and has led to frequent violent scenes in Parliament and rioting in the strets of Budapest. On June 7 Count Tisza narrowly escaped assassination in the House, where Deputy Julius Kovacs fired at him three times.

The Opposition members were then ejected, and the proceedings have been carried on since solely by members of the government party.

HINTS FOR HALLOWE'EN FROLICS

If you are giving a Hallowe'en party here are a few hints that may help out the fun. The silhouettes shown may be used in various ways in the decorations, tracing and cutting them out of black silhouette paper, or copying them on a larger scale.

The decorations for house and table, the menus, and the games can all be made and planned at home. The only purchases needed are black silhouette paper, some crepe paper rolls in orange color and white, some paste, and candles. Scissors, a little time and ingenuity should do the rest.

The menu cards can be in pumpkin shape, cut out of orange-yellow paper, the mouth, eyes and nose put in, in black, or merely cut out. The clear spaces on the face may be used to write in the menu. These cards may also serve as place cards by writing the name of a guest on the back of each one of them.

A unique use of the silhouettes of cats and goblins would be to paste them on drinking glasses, the latter to be filled with milik. The black and white effect of these when placed on the table will prove novel and pleasing.

An original costume for Hallowe'en can be contrived by pasting similar silhouettes in scattered effect, or in decorative borders, on a 'sheet and pillow case' costume, or one of cheesecloth.

The best pastimes for this party are the old-fashioned ones: bobbing for apples, hide and seek, fortune-telling and a ghost story hour. There should be nothing of a nature which will frighten the guests, usually quite young people, at any party given on Hallowe'en. Remember the occasion is one intended for real fun and merriment, which should all be good-natured.

FORTUNES IN THE CALDRON.

The 'fortune-telling' feature of a Hallowe'en party can be carried out in a way to add considerably to the merriment, if the 'fortunes' are written by some one who knows the young guests and is familiar with their aspirations. One of the girls who is helping with the party will be the fortune-teller, dressed as a witch with tall peaked hat and broomstick. An iron pot from the kitchen will serve for the 'witch's caldron.' Set up three gnarled sticks and hang the caldron from them. A simulated fire can be effected by the use of twigs, red paper, and a candle which burns inside a pumpkin.

When the fortunes are to be told each guest may be led into the witch's haunt, a room devoid of furniture or decoration, and where the light is very dim. The caldron should be filled with little slips of paper on which the fortunes have been previously written. Keep one side of the caldron for the fortunes for the girls and the other for those for the boys. Separate the caldron into two parts with a piece of shaped cardbard.

Instead of writing the fortunes with ink someone suggests to write them with milk. Then let each slip of paper dry and fold it. When the milk is dry the writing will not show. As a guest is presented with his fortune he opens the paper and sees a blank. His expression will be blank, too, until you tell him to go back to the others, get a candle, hold it beneath the slip of paper and watch the witch's prophecy come to light. The secret of this is that as the milk on the paper heats it turns brown and can be easily read. Try the scheme before you give your party to be sure it works.

PLACE-CARDS.

Unique place-cards for a Hallowe'en supper party may be fashioned by cutting silhouettes of black paper traced like the picture, and pasting them on orange paper or card. Across each a quotation suited to the occasion may be written. For instance:

'Fame is revenue payable only to our ghosts.'

'He knew by the streamers that shot so bright
That spirits were riding the northern light.'

'Many ghosts and forms of fright
Have started from their grave to-night;
They have driven sleep from mine eyes away.'

'Night's swift dragons cut the clouds full fast
And yonder shines Aurora's harbinger;
At whose approach ghosts, wand'ring here and there,
Troop home to church yards.'

'What beckoning ghost along the moonlight shade
Invites my steps?'

'There needs no ghost, my lord, come from the grave
To tell me this.'

'Newsy' Lalonde May Go to Coast---McGill Ready for Match

MONTREAL TEAM IS UNDISMAYED

Montreal and Hamilton fight it out for supremacy in the cellar department here on Saturday next, but the real interest in the Interprovincial is tacked on to a little city in Ontario by the name of Ottawa. Every bug who watched the games on Saturday or Monday would rather go without a meal for a week than see Rough Riders in at the finish. They had to nail everything down to the floor at the M. A. A. A. clubhouse, and one football they forgot to hide is missing.

It is suggested that a certain well-known member of the R. R.'s would make his fortune down on Lower Thirteenth stree tin New York—for he is a past master at beating a fellow up so exquisitely that his victims wish they were read.

Holden, it is understood, gets a commission for all work turned into the emergency department of the Hamilton hospital.

Gentleman, we have the honor to suggest that a neat little boxing exhibition—50 rounds and then some—between Alex Cameron and Jack Ryan could be arranged. This would draw a monster crowd at the Arena here, but local fight promoters when asked for their backing hold up their hands and jeer, 'Well not much! The scrap wouldn't go more than three rounds. Cameron might forget himself, and we don't want to get into any Becker murder trial. An additional zest could be given the entertainment by putting Kelly and Robertson in the ring to finish the prologue of their encounter which started on Saturday.

The Argos on the other hand are a good bunch of sports. Not a single player on the team would ever seek to 'dip' a player. Montreal roots for the Argos, and so does Hamilton leaving the Rough Riders to run their alone.

P.Q.F.A. HELD WEEKLY MEETING

Some Surprising Propositions Were Laid Before Those in Attendance.

The regular meeting of the governing body was held last night, Mr. Fred Davies presiding; the absentees being Mr. A. Lee and Mr. D. Kennedy.

COMPULSORY RESIGNATIONS.

Two members having gone over to the professional party, were, according to the rules of the P. Q. F. A., ineligible to sit on the board, and the verbal resignation of Mr. Albert Payne which was made at the last meeting, was held as accepted, but the case of the referees' representative is somewhat different, yet, it is as plain as A. B. C. The Referees' Association is a recognized professional body, and Mr. Hay has been their representative all season, and the mere fact of him having officiated at the professional game last Monday does not alter his position one iota; every individual member of the Referees' Association is a pro., and the fault lies with the P. Q. F. A. as an amateur body, for admitting a pro. to their membership, but it's never too late to mend, and henceforth Mr. Hay will watch the proceedings from the upper benches.

THE ROSEMOUNT SHIELD.

Some weks ago the Association agreed that the Sons of Scotland play the C. P. R., who challenged the holders, for this trophy, but the game was abandoned owing to weather conditions, and last night the question cropped up again, when Mr. Jack Kyle emphatically refused to play the C. P. R., maintaining that they were not and never had been champions of any competition, and, according to rule, it was only champions that could compete. After a lengthened discussion the committee did a wise thing in turning down the game for this season, and the finding was that the Sons play any of the League champions of 1912 at the beginning of next season.

THUNDERBOLT FROM THE CHAIR.

Mr. Davies, who is always alive to any 'Tit Bits' that may be flying around, and anxious at all times to further the financial position of the P. Q. F. A., stated that he would like to have a Grand Finale to close the season, and he was convinced that the Montreal public knew, and liked, a good thing, and his idea, as a fitting termination to an exceptional soccer season would be to ask the Professional Association to play a picked team of amateurs. He was certain it would be the greatest 'draw' of the year. The proposition met with no support, and the subject dropped.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL.

It was agreed to play the Sons of England, winners of the Quebec Cup, and League champions, against a select eleven, and just by way of spreading the interest in soccer, which has suddenly taken a leap upwards, the result of the fine games last Monday, to try and secure the M. A. A. A. grounds for this match, which will be played on Saturday, Nov. 9.

Mr. Davies thanked the members for the attendance at Monday's games, and expressed the pleasure at the success of their engagement. The members will meet in committee on Thursday evening ,and try to fix up the final game of the season.

SOCCERITE.

NOTE.—The views expressed by 'Soccerite' do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the Sporting Editor.

Jim Thorpe, the great Indian half-back of Carlisle team, which played in Toronto on Thanksgiving Day against the 'Varsity Old Boys. He is the redskin who covered himself with glory and won the world's all-round championship at the Swedish Olympic.

'SHAG,' SHAUGHNESSY'S MEN, HAD A WORKOUT YESTERDAY

Frank Shaughnessy had his men out for another work-out yesterday afternoon. At first trick plays and signal practice were gone through. This is where the McGill boys shine. They have their signals down cold.

After half an hour or so the team lined up against the Intermediates for a friendly scrap. Every man of both teams was in uniform and got down to work in quick time.

Last week there was some talk of the team's being self-confident after trimming 'Varsity. 'Shag' doesn't intend to let them become anything like that. To hear his stentorian tones and see the way he called down every man was a sight. He intends to be ready for the game at Queen's on Saturday.

The second Rugby and the soccer teams will accompany the Seniors on that trip, as will also the Harriers.

'NEWSY' LALONDE WILL GO BACK TO COAST.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 29.—It is stated here to-night on good authority that 'Newsy' Lalonde and Donald Smith will both go back to the Coast to play hockey this winter. The former to Vancouver and the latter to Victoria. This explodes the idea that 'Newsy' was to play for and manage the Canadiens this winter. He and Smith are known to have been satisfied with their circumstances in the West last winter, and have apparently made up their minds to return.

GEORGE HODGSON, WILL GIVE EXHIBITION AT WATER POLO MATCH BETWEEN M'GILL VS. M.S.C

Mr. Hirshorn appealed to the Arts Freshmen and Sophomores at their smoker last night on behalf of the Swimming and Water Polo teams, of which he is president. He said that the teams had been in correspondence with Princeton, Harvard and Yale, arranging for a tour abroad later in the season.

To-morrow night the College Polo team meets the Montreal Swimming Club for the first home game. McGill were champions last year, and Mr. Hirshorn hopes to see them so again this.

At the meet to-morrow night Geo. Hodgson, the world's champion, will give an exhibition, and it in itself will be well worth seeing.

'As a further inducement,' continued Mr. Hirshorn, 'we're going to let the ladies in free. So all up, fellows, and bring your girls!'

WILL MAKE CHANGE IN TIMING SYSTEM

Grand Island, N.Y., Oct. 29. — Herman T. Koerner, of this place, president of the American Power Boat Association, in his annual report to that organization, maps out a plan of campaign for the suppression of many features which tend to menace the sport of motor boat racing He plans henceforth to control the sport, not only by authority, but by penalty

Among the proposed reforms are a change in the timing system, and the exact measurement of courses, so that correct time may be had for all races; the discouragement of cash purses; the authorization by the association of all races of nation-wide interest and the general prevention of dishonest methods such as have marred the sport in the past The association will have representatives on hand at all races, and where regulations are not observed the offenders will be disqualified

ADMITS FIRING SHOT WHICH HIT BOY.

St. Catharines, Oct. 30.—Stafford Juen, a seventeen-year-old youth, yesterday admitted to the police having fired the shot at Charles Romancy, the delivery boy who is in the hospital with a bullet in his thigh, and who declined to give any information.

Juen says the shot which hit Romancy was fired at a crow. He ran from the injured boy after the shooting and was only traced from a description furnished by a lad who saw him in the vehicle with Romancy a short time before.

Juen says he fired the first shot through the box of the waggon to see if it would break.

THREE WERE SHOT.

Terre Haute, Oct. 30.—William Lockhart, a bartender, is dying from a bullet wound inflicted while he was trying to save Bert Hill and Mamie Shadrick from death at the hand of George Greene, a wealthy horseman. Greene was arrested. The first shot struck Hill and the second bullet struck the woman, both persons being injured seriously. Lockhart was shot down as he attempted to interfere. The police say the trouble was about a woman to whom Greene is said to have been attentive.

SHEEP STEALERS.

St. Thomas, Oct. 30.—Curly Beach and Roy Lucas, two young men from Middlemiss, are in local lock-up at Dutton, charged with attempting to steal sheep from the farm of Mrs. John Marsham, North Dunwich. The men were caught redhanded while loading the sheep into a waggon in the rear of the barn. The noise made by the sheep awakened Mrs. Marsham, who sent her hired men out to see what was wrong.

LABOR NOTES

At a meeting of Local No. 1, Quebec, of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterer Union, a resolution of condolence was passed to the widow and children of Mr. Joseph Corbeil, whose death took place at the end of last week. Mr. Corbeil, who resided at 45 Demontigny street, was one of the last old organizers of the Bricklayers' Union and took a very active part in the labor movement, having been in good standing on the books of his society since 1879. He was in the employment of the City Council for thirty-six years.

FAREWELL SERVICE FOR MISSIONARIES

Worker Among Lepers Will Tell Story of Long Years' Service.

A big farewell for the Baptist missionaries, who are returning to India, will be held in Olivet Baptist Church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Most of the outgoing party have served at least one term of seven years among the Telega people, although there are a couple of recruits in the contingent, which includes Miss Hatch, Miss Jessie Allyn, M.D., Miss Murray and others.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Miss Hatch, who has been in India for many years. Her service with the Ramachandrapuram leper mission and the Dr. Kellock Home for Lepers, and the Albert Boulter Home for leper women, and the Dr. Phillip's Memorial Home for untainted children—were so heroic that the late King Edward VII, conferred a medal upon her 'for public service in India,' while the people of India gave her one also, in recognition of her heroic endeavors to relieve the suffering of that country.

CHEAPER BEEF THINKS THIS MAN

Toronto, Oct. 30. — That cheaper cattle and a reduction in the cost of meats will result from the enormous crop of corn in the United States this year is the opinion of Mr. George B. Campbell, of Morris and Company, the Chicago packer, who was in Toronto yesterday. Mr. Campbell looks for a gradual decline in the prices of beef on the hoof in the markets of the United States and possibly in Canada during the next few months.

CAZEAU WILL MEET LE MARIN AGAIN TO-NIGHT.

Cazeau, who met defeat at the hands of Le Marin, will meet his former antagonist again to-night at Sohmer Park. The last match, which Le Marin won in straight falls, was at the Graeco-Roman style, but this evening's encounter is to be at catch-as-catch-can, which Cazeaux is better versed in than his slightly heavier opponent, and although Le Marin has a victory to his credit, it is by no means certain that he can repeat.

MANAGER OF GIANTS MAKES HIS FIRST BOW ON VAUDEVILLE STAGE.

New York, Oct. 29.—Two thousand fans and fanettes held their breath, gasped, and then broke into wild applause on Monday afternoon as John J. Muggsy McGraw appeared on the stage of the Colonial Theatre to start his winter work in vaudeville. They gasped because he wore—no, not his uniform of the Giants, but a dinner jacket. The applause was just to show they liked him.

McGraw was a bit nervous as he came out and looked into the spotlight. He admitted it afterward. It may have been some of the people in the audience who made him shaky. Marshall P. Wilder was watching him closly and so were Eva Tanguay and John Drey, while Frank North stood in the wings.

McGraw had the audience with him from the start of his twelve minute act to the end. After telling one yarn he discussed the world's series. He received one of the biggest hands of the afternoon when he said:

'I do not blame Fred Snodgrass one bit for dropping that fly. He is a good player and will be on the New York team next year. Neither I nor any of the players blame him.' A voice shouted from the audience:

'Now you're talking like a fan.'

Then he gave 'Big Six' Mathewson a little puff, saying: 'He is the greatest pitcher in the world; there will never be another like him. He certainly played in hard luck in the series.'

When the twelve minutes were up, the Giants' manager had to answer several curtain calls.

In his dressing room an enthusiastic group awaited him. Marshall Wilder came in and cried: 'Capital! capital!' Hugh Jennings, of the Detroit Tigers, was another in the room. He starts rehearsing on Thursday for his 'tween seasons job.

McGraw took his congratulations calmly and continued to change into his street clothes. When asked how he liked facing a theatre audience he said:

'Well, it's not as bad as it might be and after fifteen weeks of it I guess I won't mind it a bit.'

At the Colonial box office it is said that all records have been broken in the advance sale of seats for this week.

COLUMBIAN CLUB MUSICALE.

The annual musicale of the Columbian Club will take place in Stanley Hall on November 13th. A first class programme is being arranged.

'DOC' GALVIN SAYS ROUGH RIDERS WILL BEAT OARSMEN

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Though the Ottawas are now within sight of the Interprovincial Football Union championship, only the Argonaut game of Saturday next intervening, President Cameron and Coach Galvin have warned the men against over-confidence and will have all the regulars out to practice to-morrow and Thursday, with signal drills Friday afternoon. Dr. Galvin is confident of beating the Oarsmen; in fact, he believes that his team will give the Red, White and Black players the hardest battle that they have had all season. The Capital is football mad, with the deciding game only a few days away, and it is predicted that eight or ten thousand people will see Saturday's match, weather permitting.

Dr. Galvin says his backers are taking a big chance and evidently fears that with Ken Williams to do the kicking the Oarsmen will be very dangerous. Smirly Lawson and Binkley won for the Argonauts for the first time in Interprovincial history when they played at Lansdowne Park last season, and the Ottawas are determined that they will stop the powerful Lawson this time.

It is likely that Ottawas will be at full strength for the big match. Eddie Gerard hurt his head in a collision with George Kelly in yesterday's game, and Gordon Simpson has an injured shoulder, but both will be able to play. Simpson, Gerard and Robertson will start behind the line. Williams will play centre half in the second part of the game, Gerard moving to the side. This will give the Ottawas a great pair of punters, and it is calculated with Gerard doing the kicking in the first half and Williams in the second, the team will be very strong. There will be no changes in the wings or scrimmages. The Ottawas have suggested Phil McKenzie, Billy McMaster and several other Montrealers as referees. The appointment may go to President Wally Hagar.

INSTEAD OF THE RUSH.

The Arts Freshmen last evening entertained the Sophomores at a smoker at the Union. A splendid programme had been prepared.

Dr. H. T. Barnes gave an illustrated address on icebergs and his means of detecting them.

MANY REFORMS ARE PROPOSED AT NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION.

New York, Oct. 30. — If certain baseball magnates have their way the rules governing the division of world's series receipts will be radically amended this winter. It will be suggested by at least one influential governor of the sport that the money set aside for the players of the two contending teams in the world's series be limited to a guarantee for each man instead of a percentage. No less a person than August Herrman, chairman of the National Baseball Commission, favors a plan by which each member of the winning team in the world's series will receive $1,000, while each member of the losing team will get $750. This money, according to the Herrmann idea, will be deducted from 60 percent of the first four games, the balance to be distributed equally among the players of the other fourteen major league teams.

If such an amendment should be adopted, the world's series would develop into a big benefit for all the major league players, even tail enders and possible scandal. There is ground for the belief, too, that the big leagues will favor another amendment by which it will be clearly set forth that in addition to the owners of the contending teams each club will receive a fixed amount to be deducted from the big bundle.

It is also hinted that the commission may find its 10 percent rakeoff reduced one-half. The commission's share of the spoils has steadily increased each year until $50,000 was set aside after the recent struggle between the Giants and Red Sox. Several club owners insist that the commission's bit shouldn't exceed $25,000, in which event the balance could be split up among the men who pay the salaries of all major league players.

The world's series has grown to such enormous proportions that the impression prevails among baseball men that the players are getting too much money. The National League is involved in a controversy with one of its members because of the statement that certain umpires favored a team in order to be appointed to serve in the big games. The fact that the Giants and Red Sox were forced to play eight games before the championship was decided has provided material for many sceptics who would create the impression that a desire for gate receipts overshadowed the general result. The demands of the New York and Boston players for a share of the first five games, including the tie, in spite of the rule limiting their percentage to four consecutive contests, have not been forgotten by the magnates, who seem to think that the time has arrived to put on the check rein.

The New York National League Club's protest against splitting up 25 percent of its share of the recent series with the other clubs in the circuit has added fuel to the fire. It is evident that club owners who find it difficult to make ends meet during the regular championship season are ready to advocate any resolutions that will help them financially.

If the plan to curtail the shares of the teams taking part in the world's series is adopted it will be interesting to learn the attitude of the recently organized Baseball Players Fraternity. The membership list includes nearly three hundred major league players, all of whom, no doubt, would be glad to receive a piece of the world's series coin.

It was decided to hold a smoker on Nov. 8th, in St. Lawrence Hall, when the winners of the various competitions will receive their prizes. Arrangements were left in the hands of the chairman and secretary.

THE TERRORS OF THE TINY TADS

1—This Tiny Tad has asked this Marmalady if she'll go
To have a boat ride with him, and at first she answers "No."

2—"But if you find a chaperon," says she, "why, then I will."
And so we see him go to look for one upon the hill.

3—This is the Chaperonion that the Tiny Tad discovers,
A most convenient person for young couples or for lovers.

4—They call a Canoefoundland, and he barks and wags his tail,
And takes the little party for a very pleasant sail.

5—A kind Lilacrobat then takes the Tad back to his mates,
Who sit around and listen while his story he relates.

6—"You cannot go canoeing with a girl unless there's three,
It is the chaperonly way to do such things," says he.

GOV. WILSON IS SATIRICAL

Rips His Opponents in Three Speeches Yesterday

Newark, N.J., Oct. 30.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, in three speeches filled with satirical attack on his opponents, emphasized in North Jersey last night that he was not a believer in free trade and that the Democratic party did not intend to disturb the legitimate business or the prosperity of the country if put into power.

The Democratic nominee declared that those of his opponents who constantly asked him to define his position on the tariff 'could not read the English Language.' No thoughtful Democrat has advocated free trade, he said.

To President Taft's statements published yesterday with regard to the panic of the early 90's Governor Wilson made an extended reply, first at Montclair where he addressed a big audience, and again at Newark, where several thousands crowded the First Regiment Armory.

'I find I am invited to return to my old occupation,' said the Governor at Newark. 'I used to be a teacher of history, and I find it necessary to teach it some more. I find myself abashed in facing the necessity of teaching it to the President of the United States.

'And when the President of the United States makes himself responsible for the statement that the panic of 1893 was due to a tariff bill that came a year afterward and came because of Mr. Cleveland's administration, I can only express my deep regret that the President of the United States has not read the history of the United States.

'Any statement that Mr. Taft makes I believe to be made in honesty, but this statement, if he has made it, he has made in ignorance, because the panic of 1893 can be shown to have arisen out of currency legislation of a government absolutely controlled by the Republican party. The panic of 1893 was on its way before Mr. Cleveland became president, and it matured merely in the first part of his administration and would have been stopped if the Senate of the United States had yielded more promptly to the advice of the administration.

'It is unworthy of men in public life to mislead the public thought after such a fashion, but I don't doubt the verdict on the fifth of November.'

The Governor declared that the programmes of the other two parties were 'programmes of postponement.'

McGILL NEWS

McGill hockey team will visit the States between Christmas and New Year, and play teams of Cleveland, Boston and New York, and Laurie Roberts will again coach the McGill team this year, in spite of the rumors to the contrary, was learned from a reliable source. Yesterday a letter was received at McGill Union from Harvard University, offering Wednesday, Jan. 29th, or Wednesday, Feb. 5th, as dates on which Harvard would be willing to meet McGill, and stating that on the Thursday following it was believed the Boston Athletic Club, and some others would be willing to meet McGill if they would make the trip. Expenses would be guaranteed, so the matter will be duly considered by McGill.

At a meeting of the hockey executive the offer from Cleveland and from several other American clubs was considered and it was decided to make arrangements to accept the invitations and pay the visit between Christmas and the New Year.

The disbursements were: For new books, $633.02; printing, stationery, etc., $65.80; rental, $40.00; balance on hand, $74.85; total, $813.67.

LOAN SHARKS DO $20,000,000 BUSINESS

New York, Oct. 30.—'Loan sharks' in this city do an annual business of $20,000,000; more than 100,000 persons, including 30,000 municipal employees, are in the clutches of money lenders, and state courts are the unwitting instruments through which usury is collected, according to a report made public to-night by investigators for District-Attorney Whitman.

Other facts set forth in the report are that 'loan sharks' have been responsible for a great many suicides, defalcations and petty thieveries; that thousands of employees, private and city, have been made inefficient through mental distress, and that scores of big business interests have discharged workers upon complaints of lenders—unfairly, the investigators think, instead of co-operating with their employees to eradicate the evil.

It is recommended that the city establish a civil bureau to defend victims against whom lenders bring a civil action, and that the corporation counsel give an official opinion whether garnishee orders based upon confessions of judgment fraudulently obtained are valid. In this connection, the report states, many borrowers are led to sign confessions of judgments obtained in upstate courts when they believe they are signing applications for loans.

LIBERALS HAD GALA NIGHT

Leading Politicians at Sherbrooke Banquet to Mr. F N. McCrea, M.P.

Sherbrooke, Oct. 30.—Last night was a gala night for the Liberals of Sherbrooke country, the occasion being the complimentary banquet tendered to Mr. F. N. McCrea, M.P., who in the last Federal election won Sherbrooke for the Liberals, after it had been considered a Conservative fortress for over thirty years.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was present, as also were the Hon. Mackenzie King, the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Hon. S. A. Fisher, the Hon. Dr. Beland, and the Hon. P. S. G. Mackenzie, Provincial Treasurer.

The banquet was held in the Art Building, and was attended by over three hundred people, every available seat being occupied. Mr. J. W. McKee, president of the Sherbrooke County Liberal Association, under whose auspices the banquet was held, presided.

The speech of the evening was made by the Hon. Mackenzie King, who was heard in Sherbrooke for the first time. Replying to the toast to the Liberal party, the ex-Minister of Labor delivered one of the best addresses ever heard in Sherbrooke. Instead of fighting and killing men, and spending millions of dollars for military defence, he said, let the people strive for peace and fight against the common enemies of man, such as disease.

Referring to the histories of once powerful empires that are now defunct, the speaker warned Canadians that unless they embraced Liberal ideas, and let the people rule, the same fate would befall them as befell ancient empires. Liberalism was responsible for the wonderful development of the British Empire, and was the only salvation of Canada.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in great fighting fettle, and stated that the elections could not come too quickly to suit him.

Others who spoke were the Hon. Mr. Lemieux, the Hon. Mr. Fisher, and the Hon. Dr. Beland.

PRESIDENT HELD CAMPAIGN CONFAB

New York, Oct. 30.—President Taft held one of the largest political conferences of the campaign last night at the Manhattan Hotel. Charles P. Taft and Henry W. Taft, his brothers, Chairman Hilles, of the Republican National Committee, and Senator Crane, of Massachusetts, discussed the general political situation with the President at dinner.

Afterward many of the Republican leaders in New York and nearby states met the President and talked over conditions. It was said that the discussion was confined to the general situation; that no change in the plan of campaign was contemplated.

The President come to New York to witness to-day the launching of the United States biggest battleship, the dreadnought 'New York.' Secretary of the Navy Meyer came over from Washington with him. President Taft will return to Washington on Thursday morning.

THE

Gentleman From Indiana

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON

Author of 'Monsieur Beaucaire' and 'The Two Vanrevels'

(Copyright by McClure, Phillips & Co., New York.)

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

The County of Carlow is the central area of a fertile stretch of interminably level and monotonous lands in the State of Indiana. To Plattsville, its county seat, where some five or six thousand souls live in a little world of their own happy and content, and with a supreme pity for their fellow-beings who are not residents of our city, comes John Harkness, a university graduate. Disheartened by previous failures he has purchased, through an agency, the Carlow County 'Herald,' a journal admitted by its most loyal supporters to be breathing its last.

One day the new editor left a note on his door: 'Will return in fifteen minutes.' Mr. Rodney McCune, a politician, and the undoubted dictator of the district, from the neighboring County of Gaines, found the note, and wrote beneath the message the scathing inquiry: 'Why?' Under the heading, 'Why has the Herald' come to life?' an editorial dealing with political honesty appears in the next issue, and is followed by others equally pointed, showing the editor to be in favor of clean politics, and that he believed Rodney McCune utterly unworthy to receive the nomination of his party for Congress. Harkness receives an anonymous communication, which contains information regarding Mr. McCune's political dealings, which he threatens to publish unless Mr. McCune withdraws from politics. This McCune is forced to do. The encounter with McCune brings Harkness and the 'Herald' into prominence and popularity, and the people of Plattsville begin to be proud of the 'Herald' and its editor. The 'Herald' begins a fearless war against the White Caps of the district, and the editor receives several threatening letters, and his friends, while admiring his courage, are fearful for his safety. The young men of Plattsville form themselves into a body-guard, and unknown to him they take turns at keeping guard over him. Harkness befriends an old man, Fisbee, of patriarchal appearance, scholarly attainments and intemperate habits. Harkness engages him as reporter and contributor to the 'Herald.' At this juncture Miss Sherwood, an attractive youn glady of Ronen, a nearby town, comes to visit at the home of Judge Briscoe, and to the amazement and perplexity of the citizens of Plattsville, Mr. Fisbee is in the carriage which meets her at the depot, and is a constant guest at the judge's house during her stay.

The White Cans, beat, almost to death, an inoffensive, itinerant tinker, and attacked a farmer's home, where Harkless was keeping watch for them; the State listened to the voice of the 'Herald,' and arrests followed. Eight men being sent to the penitentiary on the editor's evidence. Harkless, in one of his evening walks, is attacked by the White Cans near the Briscoe home—and their visitor, Miss Sherwood, rushes out to the rescue. Harkless carries her to the house out of danger, and discovers that she is the lady of his dreams. The circus comes to Plattville, and Harkless, feeling a new interest in life, resurrects his tennis flannels, and joins the crowds that are thronging the street. He calls at the Briscoe home, and escorts Miss Sherwood to the main street to watch the procession.

'Bravo!' she said, tossing the captive craft above their heads and waching the small sails catch the breeze; 'And so you can make little flatteries in the morning, too. It is another courtesy you should be having from me, if it weren't for the dustiness of it. Wait till we come to the board walk.'

She had some big, pink roses at her waist. 'In the meantime,' he answered, indicating these, 'I know very well a lad that would be bithe to accept a pretty token of any lady's high esteem.'

'But you have one, already, a very beautiful one.' She gave him a genial up-and-down glance from head to foot, half quizzical, but so quick he almost missed it. And then he was glad he had found the straw hat with the youthful ribbon, and all his other festal vestures. 'And a very becoming flower a white rose is,' she continued, 'though I am a bold girl to be blarneying with a young gentleman I met no longer ago than last night.'

'But why shouldn't you blarney with a gentleman, when you began by saving his life?'

'Or, rather, when the gentleman had the politeness to gallop about the county with me tucked under his arm?' She stood still an. laughed softly, but consummately, and her eyes closed tight with the mirth of it. S' had taken one of the roses from her waist, and, as she stood, holding it by the long stem, its petals lightly pressed her lips.

'You may have it — in exchange,' she said. He bent down to her, and she began to fasten the pink rose in place of the white one on his coat. She did not ask him, directly or indirectly, who had put the white one there for him, because she knew by the way it was pinned that he had done it himself. 'Who is it that ev-ry morning brings me these lovely flow'rs?' she burlesqued, as he bent over her.

'Mr. Wimby,' he returned. 'I will point him out to you. You must see him, and, also, Mr. Bodeffer, the oldest inhabitant, — and crossest.'

'Will you present them to me?'

'No; they might talk to you and take some of my time with you away from me.' Her eyes sparkled into his for the merest fraction of a second, and she laughed half mockingly. Then she dropped his lapel, and they proceeded. She did not put the white rose in her belt, but carried it.

The Square was heaving with a jostling, good-natured, happy and constantly increasing crowd that overflowed on Main street in both directions; and the good nature of this crowd was augmented in the ratio that its size increased. The streets were a confusion of many colors, and eager faces filled every window opening on Main street or the Square. Since nine o'clock all those of the courthouse had been occupied, and here most of the damsels congregated to enjoy the spectacle of the parade, and their swains attended, gallantly, posting themselves at coignes of less vantage behind the ladies. Some of the faces that peeped from the dark, old court-house windows were pretty, and some of them were not pretty; but nearly all of them were rosy-cheeked, and all were pleasant to see because of the good cheer they showed. Some of the gallants affected the airy and easy, entertaining the company with badinage and repartee; some were openly bashful. Now and then one of the latter, after long deliberation, constructed a laborious compliment for his inamorata, and, after advancing and propounding half of it, again retired into himself, smit with a beautiful palsy. Nearly all of them conversed in tones that might have indicated that they were separated from each other by an acre lot or two.

Here and there, along the sidewalk below, a father worked his way through the throng, a licorice-dedaubed cherub on one arm, his coat (borne with long enough) on the other; followed by a mother with the other children hanging to her skirts and tagging exasperatingly behind, holding red and blue toy balloons and delectable batons of spiral-striped peppermint in tightly closed, sadly sticky fingers.

A thousand cries rent the air; the strolling mountebanks and gypsying booth-merchants; the peanut vendors; the boys with palm-leaf fans for sale; the candy sellers; the popcorn peddlars; the Italian with the toy balloons that float like a cluster of colored bubbles above the heads of the crowd, and the balloons that wail like a baby; the red-lemonade man, shouting in the shrill voice that reaches everywhere and endures forever: 'Lemo! Lemo! Ice-cole lemo! Five cents, a nickel, a half-a-dime, the twentieth-potofadollah! Lemo! Ice-cole lemo!' —all the vociferating harbingers of the circus crying their wares. Timid youths, in shoes covered with dust through which the morning polish but dimly shone, and unalterably hooked by the arm to blushing maidens, bought recklessly of peanuts, of candy, of popcorn, of all known sweetmeats, perchance; and forced their way to the lemonade stands; and there, all shyly, silently sipped the crimson-stained ambrosia. Everywhere the hawkers dinned, and everywhere was heard the plaintive squawk of the toy balloon.

But over all rose the nasal cadence of the Cheap John, reeking oratory from his big waggon on the corner: 'Walk up, walk up, walk up, ladies and gents! Here we are! Here we are! Make hay while we gather the moss. Walk up, one and all. Here I put this solid gold ring, sumptuous and golden, eighteen carats, eighteen golden carats of the priceless mother of metals, toiled fer on the wild Pacific slope, eighteen garnteed, I put this golden ring, rich and golden, in the package with the hangkacheef, the elegant and blue-ruled note-paper, self-writing pens, pencil and penholder. Who takes the lot? Who takes it, ladies and gents?'

His tongue curled about his words; he seemed to love them. 'Fer a quat-of-a-dollah! Don't turn away, young man—you feller in the green necktie, there. We all see the young lady on your arm in a-lanrishing fer the golden ring and the package. Faint heart never won fair wummin'. There you are, sir, and you'll never regret it. Go—and be happy! Now, who's the next man to git solid with his girl fer a quat-of-a-dollah? Life is a mysterus and unviolable shadder, my friends; who kin read its orgeries? To-day we are here—but to-morrow we may be in jail. Only a quat-of-a-dollah! We are Seventh-Day Adventists, ladies and gents, a-givin' away our belongings in the awful face of Michael, fer a quat-of-a-dollah. The same price fer each-an-devery individual lady and gent, mam, wummin, wife and child, and happiness to one and all fer a quat-of-a-dollah!'

Down the middle of the street, kept open between the waiting crowds, ran barefoot boys, many of whom had not slept at home, but had kept vigil in the night mists for the coming of the show, and, having seen the muffled pageant arrive, swathed, and with no pomp and panoply, had returned to town, rioting through jewelled cobwebs in the morning fields, happy in the pride of knowledge of what went on behind the scenes. To-night, or to-morrow, the runaways would face a woodshed reckoning with outraged ancestry; but now they caracoled in the dust with no thought of the grim deeds to be done upon them.

In the court-house yard, and so shining in the very eye of the law, two swarthy, shifty-looking gentlemen were operating (with some greasy walnut shells and a pea) what the fanciful or unsophisticated might have been pleased to call a game of chance; and the most intent spectator of the group around them was Mr. James Bardlock, the Town Marshal. He was simply and unofficially and earnestly interested. Thus the eye of Justice may not be said to have winked upon the nefariousness now under its vision; it gazed with strong curiosity, an itch to dabble, and (it must be admitted) a growing hope of profit. The game was so direct and the player so sure. Several countrymen had won small sums, and one, a charmingly rustic stranger, with a peculiar accent (he said that him and his goil should now have a smoot' old time off his winninks—though the lady was not manifested), had won twenty-five dollars with no trouble at all. The two operators seemed depressed, declaring the luck against them and the Plattville people too brilliant at the game.

"BED-TIME STORIES"

THE AWKWARDNESS OF GERARD.

(By Annie E. Harris.)
(Concluded)

'No, dearie, I wouldn't mention it at all; it would only make matters worse. Let it pass. There are ways of letting Gerard know you are sorry. By and by he will probably come around and want to help in some way. Then the kindest thing you can do is to let him, and take pains to thank him for his help, whatever it is.'

Gertrude smiled a minute on this advice, then she drew a long sigh and clasped her hands around Papa's neck. 'I will do it, Papa; only I hope he will want to help on the play, for I can't do without him.'

Gerard apparently had no intention of helping on the play, however; and up to Saturday noon Gertrude had not decided what she was going to do without him. Then a bright idea struck her, and she was actually glad instead of sorry to see the barn filling up with children just before four o'clock.

A hush of expectancy fell over the little audience as the curtains parted on the first scene of the play, then a murmur of delight and loud applause as the stage was fully revealed. A basket cradle (Norah's clothes basket), occupied the centre of the stage, and over its edge hung the long skirt of a baby dress. Those who stood up could see Rosemary Edith within the cradle. All about the stage sat the dolls in festive attire.

Presently, from the side entrance, came the witch—Gertrude in pointed hat and old red shawl—leaning upon a broom. She spoke her lines with great seriousness, prophesying the spell which was to come over the princess at the age of fifteen, and, when she had finished, hobbled away to draw the curtains on Scene 1.

She had a very busy ten minutes then, removing the cradle and the dolls and replacing them with the properties for the second scene. The curtains parted and showed a bare room with the old spinning-wheel and one chair, on which was seated an excellent representation of an old woman in cap and shawl. Gertrude had spent all the early part of the afternoon constructing this dummy out of hay which she stuffed into one of Mamma's old morning dresses, above which she had placed Gerard's smallest football with a cap atop.

No one could question what it stodd for, and again there was a burst of applause, loudest perhaps from the remote corner where Gerard stood wondering what his twin was going to do without his help.

Then came Geertrude as the fifteen-year-old princess, drawn by fate to find the only spindle in the kingdom by which the witch's curse could be fulfilled. She spoke brightly to the old woman and, turning her back and using a changed voice, made such replies as were proper. In this way she carried through the whole scene till she pricked her finger and ran off screaming with pain. This wasn't the way she wanted to do it, but who would draw the curtain if she didn't?

It required quite as much time as before to rearrange the stage this time, for she had to tug in from its corner the canopied bed, place Rosemary Edith on it, station the doll courtiers and dress herself in the costume of the prince. When she went to the old sleigh to get the costume, there stood Gerard.

'You're doing this great, Gertrude,' he said, 'and I want to help you. Shall I be the prince or draw the curtain?'

'Oh, thank you, 'Rard; please be the prince and I'll be the pricess, as we planned.'

So, after a little delay, Scene 3 was ready and the audience saw Gertrude sleeping on the canopied bed and Gerard approaching to wake her from her sleep of a hundred years. It was a very short scene, for Gerard had nothing to say. He simply came tiptoeing and one hand on his hip; and not even his worst enemy could have said he was awkward. Having reached the couch, he knelt on one knee and kissed the Sleeping Beauty. She opened her eys, put out her hands, and with his help, rose to her feet.

Just how this scene would have ended perhaps nobody knows, for there was no one to draw the curtain unless the twins went off the stage to do it. Probably Gertrude's quick wit saved that trouble by the sound of Norah's voice in the doorway.

'Yes, Ma'am,' she was saying to Mrs. Heath, outside, and the whole audience turned their backs upon the stage stors, and gave attention to this new arrival, even Gertrude and Gerard gazing in bewilderment, delivered her message at once.

'Please, miss, your mother says have the children come out and have some refreshment?'

They needed no second invitation, but boured into the yard, thirty strong, and swarmed about the table. While they were busy with the lunch, Papa drove into the yard. He left his horse with Hector and came to eat gingersnaps with the children.

'How did you get on, my dear?' he asked Gertrude.

'Pretty well, I guess. And Gerard did beautifully. I opened one eye to see him come. He was lovely.'

'Did Gerard?'—but the boy himself was coming near, and Papa could tell by his happy face that he had no need to ask. Instead, he put his arm across Gerard's shoulders and drew him close.

'I see you have had a victory over your pride,' he said. 'You are indeed a prince, my boy.'—The 'Congregationalist.'

WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURE?

October 30.

I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.—Isa. xli., 10.

Jesus, how glorious is thy grace,
When in thy name we trust.
Our faith receives a righteousness
That makes the sinner just.

Whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.—1 John iii., 10.

HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Chicago, Oct. 30. — Cold Storage plants are not factors of the high cost of living; rather they are contributions to lesser cost prices of many necessities of life, if the declaration of Frank A. Horne, of New York, before the National Poultry, Butter and Egg Association is to be taken as a correct view of the economics of the food situation.

'Cries of cornering the market in various necessities and raising prices of commodities beyond the reach of the people is utterly without foundation,' he said. 'Instead, we keep prices down at times when, formerly, certain edibles were unobtainable by the poorer classes.

'High prices at one period of the year because of storage plants simply means much lower prices than otherwise at other times of the year.'

ALBERT GINGRAS BEING TRIED

Charged With Making Improper Returns at the Dominion Election

Albert Gingras, returning officer for the Maisonneuve division, who is charged with obtaining about $200 from the Dominion Government by making improper returns of election accounts, came before Judge Bazin in the Court of Special Sessions late yesterday afternoon, and adjourned till to-day, after hearing two witnesses.

Gingras was apprehended on the occasion over a year ago, the case being put back for one reason or another, the accused being under $5,000 bail for his appearance in court.

Among the documents seized on the premises of the accused were a number of purported receipts, which were signed by persons, whose signatures were to designate correctness in the amount of money paid out to election assistants.

Mr. John Fraser, auditor-general of Canada, stated that his office supplied the money for expenses incurred during the election, and returning officers were responsible to him, as the legitime running of an election called for the pay of constables and rent of polls.

He stated that in some of the returns made, charges for police were entered where no policemen were employed, and his testimony went so far as to accuse the returning officer of placing a bill for $10, where $7 was paid. The amount asked for being considered excessive, his department allowed the smaller one to stand. Mr. N. K. Laflamme, K.C., appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. L. A. Rivet, K.C., for the defence.

The hearing was continued till this afternoon.

DYNAMITE FROM RAILWAY TRAIN

Burning Packages Thrown at Works is Story From Trial

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—Testimony that two packages of dynamite were carried on a fast passenger train from Chicago and that after a fuse on each package was lit both bundles were thrown out of the window into some steel construction work at Indiana Harbor, Ind., was given at the 'dynamite conspiracy' trial yesterday.

John F. Byrne, a night watchman, testified that at 1 a.m. on May 24, 1909, he noticed the sputter of a fuse burning in the darkness. Investigating, he said, he found the fire was fast reaching fourteen sticks of dynamite wrapped together in a Chicago newspaper. Unable to extinguish the fuse, he threw the dynamite into an inlet of the lake, said Byrne. Near a patrol box where he was going to send in a call, he said, he found another package of fourteen sticks of dynamite, the fuse to which had been lighted, but had gone out. The witness said no one could have put the explosives at that point except by throwing them off a train. The government contends that someone other than Ortie E. McManigal and James B. McNamara arranged for the explosion.

Gerald Mays, a night watchman in the office building in Indianapolis where the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers had its headquarters, testified that ten days before his arrival J. J. McNamara had many boxes moved out of the office to a vault in the basement. Mays said after the Los Angeles 'Times' explosion he saw P. A. Cooley, of New Orleans, a member of the executive board, now on trial, go into the office and talk to McNamara.

Colonel Roosevelt, it is given out, will be present on Friday night, as well as at to-day's rally in the Garden.

STRANGE STORIES GREAT INTEREST

Hold the Attention of Readers in Much the Same Manner as Would a Thrilling Novel.

It was the hottest day of the harvest. The sun of that eastern land was burning the fields, when the boy of the household sought his father and the reapers in the field.

He no sooner reaches them than he throws his hands to his head and cries aloud:

'My head; my head.'

We can imagine the alarm of the father, but he did what many a father has done since his day—relieved himself of responsibility by saying to his servant:

'Carry him to his mother.'

It was a sad procession, a white-faced little boy, struck with death, in the arms of the reapers, a sad-faced father following after.

The foregoing is not part of a story 'to be continued in our next.' It is simply an excerpt from the interesting 'helps' in the new Illustrated Bible which is being distributed by The 'Witness.' There are original articles prepared by eminent scholars of world fame, and should be known as educational helps, for they not only take up the history and geography of Bible lands, but also deal with the problem of properly teaching the strange and interesting stories of this great Book of Books.

One need not belong to a religious organization to appreciate the educational merits of the Bible. As an example of good literature it stands alone. It is more widely read and quoted than any other work ever published, and one cannot be said to have completed one's education without having read it.

The New Illustrated Bible is now being distributed by The 'Witness' for six certificates as explained elsewhere in this issue. Look it up now.

CAT AND DOG HOUSE.

The plans recently announced in the 'Witness' by which the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals proposes to institute a cat and dog home, are maturing rapidly. On Thursday last a deputation from the Society waited on the Bard of Control, and suggested that the case of stray animals should be given entirely to the society, and the police relieved of the duty of destroying them. Should the Chief of Police report favorably on the proposal, it is probable that the home will be established immediately, along with a lethal chamber, where the less valuable dogs will be destroyed.

WELCOMED NEW PASTOR

Rev. E. M. Fuller Impressed by Canadian Reverence for Authority.

A large meeting gathered last evening at the Point St. Charles Baptist Church, for the purpose of according a welcome to the new pastor, the Rev. E. M. Fuller and Mrs. Fuller.

All the other Baptist churches in the city were represented, for the most part, by their ministers, and the clergymen of all the other Protestant denominations in Point St. Charles, took advantage of the occasion, to welcome their colleague and his wife to his new sphere of labor.

Mrs. Fuller was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of flowers, which was presented to her on behalf of the congregation by Mr. Griffiths.

Along, attractive programme of songs and addresses was carried through, with an interest and success which reflects much credit on those who were in charge of the arrangements.

Amongst those who spoke were the Rev. Dr. Gordon, the Rev. G. H. Baker, the Rev. T. T. Kitkwood, the Rev. Dr. Therrien, the Rev. A. St. James, Archdeacon Ker, the Rev. Mr. Ellis, the Rev. Dr. Gibson, and Mr. H. A. Hodgson.

Mr. Fuller, in offering the congregation his thanks on behalf of himself and his wife, expressed great pleasure in becoming associated with the Canadian people in his church. He welcomed the spirit of loyalty to crown and country, which was so evident everywhere in Canada. No newcomer could fail to notice that reverence for authority was indeed prominent in Canada. In the United States the sentiment that blood was thicker than water was commonly expressed, and in realizing that it would be easy for his hearers to understand how a mere territorial line did not prevent him feeling at home in Canada, and fully appreciating the welcome which they had accorded to him and his wife.

He rejoiced to see that the notable reverence for authority was reflected in the spirit of the churches, and said that his aim would be, while he was amongst them, to preach the Gospel willingly and effectively.

The West Hill Land Company Limited is declaring a 20 percent dividend for the first six months of its operation. This should be convincing proof that the suburban land sale is still active. This company own a property in Notre Dame de Graces, near Madison avenue, which they purchased from Mr. Thos. Trenholme in the month of April this year. The price then paid to Mr. Trenholme set a new mark for subdivision in that district, but the results obtained by the purchasers are a conclusive proof of the far-sighted judgments with which the purchase was made.

Messrs. F. C. Laberge, E. R. Decary, R. Monette, J. M. Fortier, Gaspard DeSerres, Duncan McDonald and R. O. Grothé, are the directors of the company, and Messrs. J. A. Davis & Co., Limited, are the selling agents.

'PHONES FOR MR. ROCKEFELLER

Tarrytown, N.Y., Oct. 30.—John D. Rockefeller is having a new telephone system installed in his million dollar mansion at Pocantico Hills, and when it is ready for operation he will be his own "hello" boy. The system is inter-communicating, and will have thirty-three stations. By pressing a button Mr. Rockefeller can get any room from any other room in the house, and his conversation cannot be overheard by the central office, because when he talks he automatically cuts off the outside world.

The specially constructed instruments fit flush with the wall. Beside each is a set of 33 buttons, and Mr. Rockefeller has simply to push a button to get any room he desires.

HOCHELAGA BY-ELECTION NOVEMBER 19

Mr. Coderre's Promotion to Cabinet Rank May Produce a Contest

NEW MINISTER IN TOWN.

Says He Is Ready for By-Election No Matterr Who Opposes Him.

November 19 is the date fixed for the bye-election in Hochelaga County, necessitated by the elevation of Mr. Louis Coderre, M.P., to the Cabinet with the portfolio of Secretary of State and Minister of Mines. The writ for the bye-election was issued at Ottawa yesterday. The election will be just two days before the opening of Parliament. The nominations will be on Friday, Nov. 12. Mr. G. D. Sevigny, 11 Place Guay, Montreal, is the returning officer appointed.

Mr. Borden will speak in Hochelaga at an early date, and will indicate the lines on which the government party will fight the bye-election. The Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, who arrived in the city yesterday, said that he would remain for the election and would speak at a number of meetings.

After being sworn in at Ottawa yesterday by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and being presented with the great seal of Canada, the Hon. Louis Coderre was entertained at luncheon by Mr. Borden and his colleagues in the Cabinet.

The position of Secretary of State is not a particularly onerous one,; but, with the Department of Mines now added, the minister will have considerably more work and responsibility.

The Hon. Robert Rogers was to-day sworn in as Minister of Public Works, a position, it is said, which he was not at all averse to accepting.

It is a great spending department, with an enormous amount of patronage. He occupied the same position in the Manitoba Cabinet.

The Hon. Dr. Roche was also sworn in to-day as Minister of the Interior, the position vacated by the Hon. Mr. Rogers. It is a much heavier position than that of Secretary of State was, and he is said to have been more reluctant about the change than the Hon. Robert Rogers. He is familiar with the West, and has been in Parliament since 1896, the same as the Hon. Mr. Borden.

The Hon. Louis Coderre, the new Secretary of State and Minister of Mines, arrived in Montreal last night and was warmly welcomed by a large number of friends at Bonaventure station. He declared that he was ready for the bye-election in Hochelaga County, no matter who opposed him.

Among those who met the new minister on his arrival here last night and offered their congratulations were Sir Rodolphe Forget, M.P. for Charlevoix and Montmorency; Dr. Paquette, M.P. for L'Islet; D. O. Lesperance, M.P. for Montmagny; S. Lavallee, M.P. for Bellechasse; L. T. Marechal, president of the Liberal-Conservative Club; John Boyd, president of the Sir John A. Macdonald Club; Alfred Labelle; J. A. Barette, M.P. for Berthier; Papineau Mathieu, Paul Lacoste, J. E. Brodeur, J. A. Major.

MR. J. H. ROBERTS THREATENED

Received Anonymous Letter in His Mail This Morning.

A threatening letter was received in this morning's mail by Mr. John H. Roberts, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance. It read:—

Montreal,
Oct. 29th, 1912.

J. H. Roberts, Esq.,
Secretary Dominion Alliance,
City.

Dear Sir,—It is a source of great pleasure that the writer sees how you were handled in St. Hyacinthe. You are about to get what has been coming to you for a long time.

You seeker of cheap notoriety, particularly in the 'Daily Witness.' You presume you have the right to do away with my personal rights as a citizen of this city. Well, I will watch my chance to give to you what is yet coming to you.

Yours truly,
A CITIZEN OF MONTREAL.

THANKSGIVING SOCIAL.

A pleasant time was spent Monday evening, when the Epworth League of the Shaw Memorial Methodist Church gave a Thanksgiving social to the members and friends of the league. The opening address was delivered by Mr. C. G. Ricardson, vie-president in charge of the social department,and Mr. Hodgson took the chair. A very enjoyable programme was rendered, after which refreshments were served by the ladies.

STRIKERS SHOT POLICEMAN

Detective Also Stabbed in Fight at Mill Gates in Little Falls, N.Y.

Little Falls, N.Y., Oct. 30.—Michael Haley, of this city, a special policeman, was shot and Detective John Kennedy, of Albany, was stabbed this morning during a riot in front of the Phoenix Mill. Trouble started when Chief Long attempted to break up the massed picketing at the mill entrance. He had an altercation with one of the strikers. A crowd soon gathered, and special policemen surrounded him, and clubs were soon flying in all directions. The women strikers were in the front of the massed picketing.

Kennedy was stabbed from behind as he was going through the crowd to help Chief Long. He says a woman pulled the knife on him. He is slashed in the ear and neck. Michael Haley was shot as he went through the crowd. The strike leaders are being arrested. Neither of the injured men is believed to be fatally hurt. Strikers place the blame on the police, and the police blame the massed picketing for the trouble.

Sheriff Moon arrived at 8 o'clock to take charge of the situation as great excitement prevails in the foreign section during the arrest of strike leaders.

TO EXECUTE GENERAL DIAZ

Decree of Court Martial at Vera Cruz May be Carried Out.

Mexica City, Oct. 30.—That General Felix Diaz and his associates will be executed at Vera Cruz in accordance with the decree of the court-martial, in spite of the order of the Supreme Court, is the disquieting rumor which reached the capital to-day.

Colonel Diaz Ordaz, chief lieutenant in the Diaz revolt, who escaped in the confusion on the day of the fighting, was captured last night ten miles from Vera Cruz. The small force of rebels who followed him to the hills are still at large.

With the capture of Ordaz, the government expresses the belief that the Diaz revolt is entirely ended, but reports from various parts of the republic indicate that much time must elapse before the complete restoration of peace in Mexico.

Tuxpam and Ozutuama are the centres of the revolt in the coast region between Vera Cruz and Tampico, where a rising is headed by minor officers of the regular army. A gunboat will proceed from Vera Cruz to Tuxpam and co-operate with a land expedition at that point. Local and foreign companies at Tuxpam and in the adjacent territory are the victims of forced loans.

The state of Jalisco is showing greatly increased rebel activity, according to the official report of the governor, who recounts in a detailed manner the operations of numerous bands in at least a score of towns.

The state of Michoacan continues to be a favored field for rebel movements. One band is operating a few miles from Morelli, the capital. The southern part of the state of Mexico is practically dominated by the Zapatistas.

General Orozco, with a small force, is now on the Santo Domingo ranch in the northern part of the state of Coahuala. Cheche Campos is operating in the neighborhood of Torreon, to the south of which another station on the line of the Mexican Central, has been burned and the railway cut, necessitating another suspension of traffic north of Zacatecas. Two stations on the line to Guadalajara have been sacked.

In the state of Morelos, the Zapatista activities are complicated slightly by the rising of a small garrison of government troops at Yautepec, and the state of Tlaxcala offers a new phase by a conflict between the rurals and regulars over the question of the validity of the election of the governor. The rising in Yucatan will require an energetic campaign.

CONVICTS HERE WILL CHANGE THEIR ADDRESS

Within the next few days, a batch of prisoners will be taken from the old jail to the new one at Bordeaux, which is rapidly nearing completion. The new building embodies the very latest improvements in jail construction, both for security and for the health of the prisoners. It is said to be the finest jail on this continent.

It is built in the form of a six-pointed star, each of the points being a wing, and the whole surrounded by a wall. The only opening to the interior of the jail is through the guard house building, a handsome two-story erection, 180 feet by 30, built of Laurentian granite and stone. Here will be provided the living quarters of the guards, and through this the various prisoners will be conducted. A large court yard meets the visitor on emerging from the guards building, at the far end of which is the administration apartments containing the executive offices armory, etc., of the jail. This building is of brick and granite, two stories high and 120 by 36 feet. The second story is occupied by the Protestant chapel, where the prisoners adhering to the Protestant faith will attend service each Sunday.

CARE FOR SICK PRISONERS.

Passing through the administration building the visitor enters the main building by means of the wing, which is used as an hospital or infirmary. Here everything possible will be provided for the proper care and attention of such prisoners as are taken sick while undergoing their sentences. The infirmary wing is a three-story building, 135 by 82 feet and 75 feet high. The centre of the main building, from which the various wings radiate out, is of two stories, 120 feet wide and 135 feet high. The second story is to be used as a Catholic chapel, and an altar will be erected on an elevation in the centre, while places will be provided at the sides for the worshippers to sit. The five wings, which will be used for the lodgment of the prisoners, 1,200 of whom can be taken care of when the building is completed, are each 240 by 50 feet, and will have three tiers of cells running down each side. Each cell is six feet by 11, and will contain a folding iron bed, a folding iron table, a wash basin and all tiolet and lavatory accommodation. These cells are far in advance of anything that has yet been erected on this continent for the accommodation of prisoners, and are wonders of completeness, and it might almost be said comfort. An elaborate system of Adam's locks, worked by levers from the centre of the star, has been installed, and when the construction is fully completed, this centre will be the key to the entire jail. Here will be erected a keyway, through which each prisoner will pass at meal time, take his meal from a dumb waiter, rising from the kitchen in the basement below, and pass on to his cell after his number has been checked.

To the right and left of the guards' building are the power house and stable building respectively. The former, which is an imposing pile, 192 by 88 feet, with an annex 100 by 62 feet, will contain the boiler and engine house, blacksmith shop, tailor shop and the various other shops, where the work necessary to the carrying on of the buildings will be done by the prisoners themselves. The stable building will contain the inquest quarters, the barns for the horses, and accommodation for the special electric cars, in which the prisoners will be conveyed to Montreal as is necessary for trial or other purposes. The wall surrounding the entire prison is built in sections of concrete, set between stone pillars, and is 26 feet high, with a total length around of 2,500 feet. It is three feet thick at the bottom, tapering to a thickness of two feet at the top. The entire prison is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

REGENERATION OF PRISONERS.

In a conversation recently with a 'Witness' reporter, Mr. Charles Lanctot, assistant attorney-general for the Province of Quebec, under the jurisdiction of whose department the care of the prison will fall when it is once completed, was very enthusiastic as to the great good which would ultimately accrue from the improvements being put into effect in the new buildings. 'This building,' he said, 'which is being built by the Provincial Government at great cost, and yet without an additional cent being levied on the taxes, will enable us to undertake a work of regeneration among young prisoners and first offenders, which it has been impossible to undertake up to this time, when prisoners of all classes, nationalities, ages and inclinations have had to be herded together. Now, although this jail is chiefly to be used for Montreal and district, we will endeavor to select the prisoners that are suitable from the 23 districts of the province, and have them sent here, where they can be classified and kept without danger of contamination from more hardened criminals. It will present an opportunity not only, to punish the offenders against society, but to take these young offenders and turn them into good citizens once more.'

Mr. J. C. Marchand, who in connection with Mr. R. A. Brassard, was the architect for the buildings, and his assistant, Mr. Rye, conducted the party over the various buildings yesterday and explained the plan and method of construction as they went along.

PASSING O' HALLOWE'EN

Quaint Customs of Other Days Fast Disappearing

To-morrow night is Hallowe'en.

While the virgil of All Hallows, or the festival of All Saints, still retains its religious significance and observance, particularly in this province, the superstitions, quaint customs and youthful frolics associated with the occasion, have almost slipped into the limbo of forgotten things.

Even in Scotland, where the picturesque dies hard, and where Hallowe'en was converted almost into a birthright, the evening now passes with flagging efforts to fan an old flame. No more the excited 'dookin' for apples, with a fork in the teeth and the apples to be speared floating in a tub of water; no more the burning of nuts on the fire-bars in order to divine one's sweetheart, and if he or she loved true; no more the maiden's walk in the dew, by the light of harvest moon, to meet her lover-to-be; no more the dressing-up of the children in fantastic garb to visit the neighbors, sing a song and take a bribe.

All gone, for they harmonize not with the trolley and the taxi. Yet memories are sweet to those who have lived long enough to know the Hallowe'en of old.

Beyond a collection in the little by-street stores of paper-mache 'false faces' for the youngsters—who, as the years pass, spend less freely on their purchase—there is little public sign of Hallowe'en in Montreal. The Hallowe'en lantern has disappeared entirely from the city.

True, the Caledonian Society will give a Hallowe'en concert to-morrow night, but it will be a reunion of exiles to hear the old folk songs rather than a perpetuation of the Hallowe'en of our forefathers.

Poor old Hallowe'en! The six o'clock car rush has smothered it almost out of existence, and it is for the philosophers to say whether it is for better or for worse.

But—ah, me!—just a thocht for the days gone by.

GUILTY OF STARTING FIRES

Nelson, Oct. 30.— John Bradshaw, accused of setting fire to the bush at Hock Ranch, on Granite Road, was found guilty by the jury. Sentence was reserved by Mr. Justice Gregory. The jury brought in a recommendation to mercy on the ground that Bradshaw has a mania for setting fires, but the judge remarked that the jury could only have formed this conclusion by reviewing the record of former trials, in which Bradshaw figured. This is the fourth time Bradshaw has been tried in connection with incendiary fires in Nelson, which collectively resulted in the destruction of the Hall Miles smelter ,the Yale Columbia saw mills, great damage to the Nelson brewery, two city blocks, and various other buildings.

HEAVY SENTENCES HANDED OUT

Picton, Ont., Oct. 30. — Wesley Palmer and Herbert Henderson were sentenced to fourteen and seven years respectively, in the penitentiary by Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge at the Assizes here yesterday for a crime committed against Miss Julia Allison, aged seventy-three years, in the end of July, in the township of Sophiasburg.
