MAIN 5TH ARMY FORCES CONTACT BEACHHEAD TROOPS; HUNS WITHDRAW TO HILLS NORTHEAST OF APPIAN WAY

New Phase In 14-Day-Old Battle Of Rome Opened As Armies Joined

More Than 200 Square Miles, Including Famous Pontine Marshes, Fall Into Allied Hands Trapping Germans Still Inside.

By RICHARD McMURRAY, Associated Press Staff Writer. Allied troops linked together the Anzio Beachhead and Central Italian front today after a spectacular 5th Army advance of sixty miles and the Germans, in a supreme effort to save their seventeen divisions from utter destruction, said they had retreated into the hills Northeast of the Appian Way.

A special Allied communique announced the juncture in the area between Anzio and Terracina on a secondary road. More than 200 square miles, including the famous Pontine Marshes, thus fell into Allied hands, and Germans still inside were trapped. The victory came fourteen days after the offensive opened and four months and three days after the Allies established the beachhead 20-odd miles South of Rome.

The Germans made the unexpected move when Allied troops had landed behind their lines around the beachhead, possibly near the mouth of the Tiber, and had been annihilated.

Canadian Corps troops topped Pontecorvo in the Liri Valley after breaching the strong Hitler Line defenses in this area, and thrust to the Melfa River, five miles Northwest of Pontecorvo.

More than 10,000 prisoners have been taken since the Allied drive began May 11.

Naples, May 25.—(P)—The Allied forces on the Anzio Beachhead joined up today with American troops of the 5th Army from the main front to open a new phase in the 14-day-old battle of Rome.

A special communique from Allied Headquarters said the meeting climaxed a rough advance by troops of the Canadian Corps who captured the stubbornly-defended Liri Valley town of Pontecorvo and that Canadian tanks smashed ahead to the Melfa River, five miles Northwest of Pontecorvo.

Other points which have fallen include Sonnino, in the mountains 10 miles North of Terracina, the coastal town whose capture by American troops was announced yesterday.

The special headquarters communique announced that patrols from the beachhead met patrols from the main Allied front a few miles Southeast of the bridgehead.

Map shows where an Allied spearhead which succeeded in penetrating enemy defence positions at Terracina and seized that coastal end of the Nazis' third Southern defense wall yesterday. Pontecorvo, which fell to Canadian troops today, is also seen.

Canadian Troops Seize Pontecorvo; Huns Confirm Allied Front Joined

One of Most Stubbornly-Defended Points in Broken Hitler Line Taken by Canadian Troops—Push Forward to Melfa River.

With the Canadian Corps in Italy, May 25.—(C.P. Cable)—Canadian troops have occupied the town of Pontecorvo in the Liri Valley, one of the most stubbornly-defended points in the broken Hitler line.

Pontecorvo was occupied yesterday morning and Canadian infantry and tanks since have pushed forward to reach the Melfa River, five miles Northwest.

The Canadian Corps, leaving the shattered Hitler Line in the rear, drove Northwest through the Liri Valley yesterday. By mid-afternoon the day's objectives were reached and the first tanks were reported to have forded the wide but shallow Melfa, which flows into the Liri River from the North.

The infantrymen moved up in lorries, following closely behind the tanks.

Mines and a small amount of shelling and mortaring provided the chief obstacles to the Canadian thrust, which began yesterday morning from the Aquino-Pontecorvo road. Aquino is three miles North of Pontecorvo and slightly South of the Via Cassina, the main Cassino-Rome highway.

The Germans still are clinging stubbornly to the Northern end of the Hitler Line where British troops of the 8th Army, with Canadian tank support, are fighting West of the Aquino airfield, and Polish formations are locked in a grim street duel with enemy paratroopers at Piedimonte, Northern anchor of the line six miles Northeast of Pontecorvo.

But South of this anchor position, the front definitely is broken wide.

Germans Say Allies Landed Behind German Lines in Anzio Beach and Were "Annihilated"—Nazi Lines Withdrawn to Melfa.

London, May 25.—(P)—Allied troops have landed behind the German lines in the Anzio beachhead, the German communique broadcast from Berlin asserted today. The Germans claimed the forces were "annihilated."

The communique said the Germans had withdrawn into mountainous areas "in order to unite with formations in the Terracina sector," in effect confirming that the Allied fronts had been joined.

The Germans said Allied penetrations on both sides of Cisterna were "absorbed and sealed off" and declared the whole Italian battle was increasing in ferocity with the Allies employing "enormous tank formations."

The agency DNB previously had announced the evacuation of the coastal strip between the beachhead and the main front.

The move apparently was made to escape entrapment between the Allied forces.

The broadcast dispatch said: "German troops withdrew to new lines skirting the mountains Northeast of the Appian Way."

Thus nothing was left but the natural obstacles of the Union Marshes and possibly mines and demolitions to prevent the swift union of the 5th Army forces in the beachhead and Terracina sector.

This withdrawal of roughly 10 miles inward from the coast was the strongest possible evidence of the power behind the Allied thrust on the main front as well as of the victor of the newly-launched drive out of the beachhead in the Velletri-Cisterna area.

Berlin also acknowledged that "German lines were withdrawn to the Melfa sector" of the Liri Valley last evening after declaring that "particularly heavy fighting occurred near Pontecorvo and Piedimonte, two strongholds on the inland end of the original Hitler line."

DNB said the Allies attacked throughout yesterday in the Pontecorvo-Piedimonte area "with massed formations of tanks and powerful aircraft support," adding: "Out of some 300 tanks more than 50 were destroyed by anti-tank and closer-range weapons."

DUPLESSIS CHARGES MISUSE OF MAILED Quebec, May 25.—(P)—Maurice Duplessis, leader of the Union Nationale Opposition, charged in the Legislative Assembly today that the outgoing mail at the Legislature Buildings was being delayed by the sending of "political propaganda."

Mr. Duplessis said he had received "a lot of it" and said the Government "has no right to delay the outgoing mail of members for its own benefit."

Premier Godbout said the Government does not use the Legislature post office "to distribute electoral literature." He said he would "talk the matter over" with Hon. Georges Dansereau, Minister of Public Works and Roads, whose department has the jurisdiction over the Legislature post office.

CERTAIN TRUTHS REVEALED ABOUT DIONNE QUINTS

Reporter Explodes Several False Rumors About the Quintuplets as Children Approach Tenth Birthdays.

By A. E. FULFORD, Canadian Press Staff Writer. Callander, Ont., May 25.—(P)—Their 10th birthday—coming about 4:30 a.m. May 28—seems as good a time as any to bring a few popular fantasies about those happy millionaires, the Dionne Quintuplets, out into the open for a little truth treatment.

A three-hour visit with the Quints, their father and their teachers provided a Canadian press reporter with ample material to correct some of the public's misconceptions about the girls.

The first and most important of these widely-believed untruths is that the Quints are not bright. Or that one of them—Marie—is backward.

Not so. No infant prodigies, they are as intelligent as normal children of their age, perhaps a little more so, and as far advanced in school as other 10-year-olds. None is brighter in everything than the others. Yvonne may be a wizard at arithmetic, one month but Cecile or Emilie will beat her later. Marie may be tops in social studies in one test but Annette or one of the others is sure to overhaul her eventually.

As they were preparing for a quiet and strictly family celebration next Sunday of their first decade of life, the girls provided a convincing demonstration of another hardy untruth—that they can't speak English, and are forbidden to learn.

They do speak English, and do very well, too, for little French-Canadian girls—a great deal more English than most English-Canadian girls. And they sing in English with scarcely a trace of accent. They have daily English lessons although most of their school work is done in their native French.

Another popular idea is that they are not pretty. They are attractive girls who have a splendid chance of growing into beautiful women.

Despite reports that their earnings power has declined, the Quints are doing quite nicely in a financial way, too. They still have lucrative contracts which bring them between $25,000 and $30,000 a year and they have $1,000,000 in Government bonds which won't be touched until they are grown up.

An afternoon spent with the Quints in their new $50,000 home demonstrated that they are entirely natural, well-mannered children, not in the least affected, not forward and not too shy.

It was climaxed when they sang two songs for their visitors—one a rehearsal of a number written by their music teacher—Sister Louise de Gonzague—as a surprise for their mother on her return from a ship-christening trip to Superior, Wis., and the other, in English, a song in which they thank those who visit them.

They stood in a semi-circle with their blond, 11-year-old sister Pauline, in the recreation room of their home and, while the nun beat lively time, demonstrated they have real ability to put over a song—with gestures.

FURTHER CUTS IN ELECTRICITY RATES FORECAST

Reduction in Gas Rates Contemplated, Premier Adelard Godbout Tells Legislative Assembly.

Quebec, May 25.—(P)—Premier Godbout told the Legislative Assembly yesterday that a reduction in electricity rates in the Montreal area announced by the Quebec Hydro last week "is only the beginning of a general reduction" and announced that reductions in gas rates also were contemplated.

The Premier did not elaborate on his statement concerning gas rates, the first mention the Government has made that such rates would be lowered. Mr. Godbout had previously indicated that private companies serving other parts of the Province soon would lower their rates in line with reductions by the newly-created Hydro in the Montreal area.

The debate swung around to electricity rates as the House adopted a motion of Provincial Treasurer Mathewson that one-sixth of the Provincial budget be voted at once. The sum involved was $9,834,195.

Opposition Leader Maurice Duplessis said the reduction in Montreal rates, totalling about $2,000,000 a year, was "an election bluff" and "is not a reduction really for it is only a sum of $2,000,000 while Quebec Hydro does not pay any more than $10,000,000 paid by the expropriated Montreal Light, Heat and Power in Federal taxes."

Mr. Godbout said that the first reduction was "only a beginning" and that other reductions would follow later, after Quebec Hydro reaches an agreement with shareholders of the expropriated company.

Mr. Duplessis said that salary increases of $300,000 a year granted outside employees by Quebec Hydro were not enough when one knows that President Bouchard (Senator T. D. Bouchard) gets $18,000 a year. Mr. Godbout replied that the newly-formed Hydro "cannot do everything at once" and added that other salary increases were expected once the expropriation price is settled.

Units of the Army of Liberation surged forward in Hercegovina, and one brigade defeated enemy forces at Cernovo and threw them back to Gacko with heavy losses, the broadcast bulletin said.

Chungking.—Allied forces besieging Myitkyina in Northern Burma continued to make slow but steady progress yesterday in their street-by-street fight to drive the Japanese from the city, while to the Northwest the Chinese 22nd Division forged ahead five miles along the Mogaung River, Lt.-Gen. German Air Bases And Rail Yards In West Wall Fortifications Are Latest Targets In Aerial Assault

London, May 25.—(P)—Masses of planes estimated to total 5,500 bombed the Germans in North and South France, Belgium, Northern Italy and the Reich itself today in great, co-ordinated assaults from Britain and Italy.

Around 4,000 assaulted the West Wall of Europe, with 1,000 U.S. heavy bombers plunging their explosives into railways and airfields of Northern France and Belgium while Berlin and the West German transport centre of Aachen still smouldered from pre-dawn attacks of 500 to 750 R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavy bombers.

Miles-long processions of Allied bombers filled the Channel skies this morning on this seventh consecutive day of renewed, pre-invasion assault and it appeared possible that the record of yesterday, when 7,000 planes dumped 5,500 tons of bombs on the Germans, might be approached.

The R.A.F. and Canadian night bombers hit targets in occupied territory as well as the major rail yards at Aachen, funneling traffic to the invasion coast, and Mosquitoes struck Berlin last night. They lost 28 bombers.

GERMANS, JAPS ARE WARNED OF POST-WAR FATE

Churchill Tells Commons Nazis and Nipponese Have Been Served Warnings That They Must Expect Stern Treatment.

London, May 25.—(P)—Both Germany and Japan have been served with a warning by Prime Minister Churchill that they must expect stern treatment at the hands of the United Nations when the war is won.

In his review of foreign affairs in the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Churchill said there was no guarantee against Germany suffering territorial changes after the war if that seemed necessary for future peace. He placed Japan also beyond all hope of negotiation short of utter capitulation.

"The principle of unconditional surrender will be adhered to as far as Nazi Germany and Japan are concerned," the Prime Minister said in his speech.

Some observers here believed, however, that Mr. Churchill's remarks suggested the Axis satellite powers might be confronted with less sweeping conditions.

The review also advocated a post-war world organization armed with "overwhelming military power" to maintain peace and advised Turkey and Spain, politely but firmly, that an Allied victory was coming with or without support of new recruits.

Mr. Churchill defended Britain's attitude towards Spain and the government of Gen. Franco, recalling that Spain had not lined up with the Axis powers by declaring war of Britain when Britain and the Empire stood alone against Germany.

Referring to the conference of British Commonwealth Prime Ministers in London, Mr. Churchill said the Commonwealth and Empire had discussed and solved all their major immediate problems and were bent on unity with the Allies "to beat the enemy as soon as possible."

Editorial comment on the speech was mixed. Some papers commended it as a brilliant survey. But the London Daily Herald, a Labor paper, criticized Mr. Churchill's remarks on Spain, and the influential Manchester Guardian expressed disappointment at what it called Mr. Churchill's attempt "to justify our refusal to recognize the French National Committee as a provisional government (of France)."

The Times praised the survey as "frank in its treatment of the past and broad and constructive in its approach to the future."

The Daily Telegraph said, "Mr. Churchill's account will be read with two things: namely, show what is the touchstone of our relations with other countries and show our soldiers what they are fighting for."

DEATH TOLL IN HAMILTON FIRE HAS REACHED 7

Board of Control to Study Fire Hazards Following Disaster in Which Six Died and 36 Were Injured.

Hamilton, Ont., May 25.—(P)—A Board of Control study of fire hazards and building requirements opens today—a move to guard against any future disaster like the flash fire which raged through the Moose Hall early Wednesday, killing six persons and injuring 36 others, eight of them critically.

Mrs. Isobel Numbers, 38, widow of one of the first victims, died in Hamilton General Hospital early today. She suffered from burns over most of her body. Aside from Miss Marie Clark, 21, the others most seriously injured held their own or gained ground slightly, attendants said.

It was feared the death toll finally would be at least eight, as a result of the fire which broke out as some 70 merry makers began the dance at a staff party of Royal Oak Dairy.

Almost immediately after the first cry of "Fire" comes out off the only stairway to the street. One man got out that way; the other dancers jumped or were pushed through windows 30 feet above the street. Almost all were burned by flames sucked up the stairs into the second floor dance hall.

All the dead and injured were Hamilton residents. Only one woman died in the Moose Hall itself. She was Mrs. Roy Martin, 35, whose body was found by firemen in a chair where she apparently collapsed after being separated from her husband in the panic.

The other dead: James Numbers, 39, William Cleland, 40, and Mrs. Sarah Cleland, his wife, the parents of five children.

William Whitley, 41, and Mrs. Anne Whitley, 41, his wife, also the parents of five children.

Bessie Mrs. Numbers and Miss Clark (those reported early today by hospital authorities to be in grave conditions were:

Mrs. Flora Wells, 47, second and third degree burns on both legs, arms and shoulders and face; condition slightly improved.

Geordie Mrs. Numbers, 45, a Director of the Royal Oak Dairy, who suffered fractures of both wrists, fractured ribs and burns; conditions unchanged.

Mrs. Annie Shaw, 38, fractured pelvis and shoulder, laceration of left leg; condition: fairly good and a little better.

Mrs. Hazel Lindsay, 42, burns on right arm, shoulder and face and fracture of left radius, right hip; condition "about the same."

Mrs. Gwen Gallagher, 25, fracture of left arm and femur, burns on left hand and leg; condition "a little better."

Mrs. Margaret Muir, 42, fractured right shoulder and ribs, punctured lung; condition unchanged.

Miss Clark, who suffered multiple burns to her entire body, was reported "a little worse."

Cause of the fire, which broke out just at midnight, was unknown. Two investigators from the Ontario Fire Marshal's office were surveying the scene.

Three-Way Attack Now Launched On Canada's Acute Manpower Shortage

Ottawa, May 25.—(P)—National Selective Service has launched a three-way attack on the most acute manpower shortage Canada has yet faced, Arthur MacNamara, Director of the National Selective Service said today in an interview with The Canadian Press.

The programme designed to find men to fill essential jobs includes: 1.—Personal interviews with men rejected as medically unfit for military service.

2.—An on-the-spot survey of plants to combat hoarding.

3.—Extension of compulsory transfer to industries now not affected.

"We estimate that of the 8,820,000 persons in Canada 14 years and over 5,500,000 now are in the armed forces or gainfully employed," said Mr. MacNamara. "That is about 62 per cent and it is just about as high as we can expect to go."

"The answer now is to make the best possible use of the people who are working. At the moment we need 175,000 workers to fill jobs in war plants and essential industries—entirely apart from farm workers."

(Labor Minister Mitchell reported to the Commons recently that at December 1, 1943, some 57 per cent

Russia Is Expected To Break With Bulgaria Within The Next Few Days

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER, Associated Press Staff Writer. Washington, May 25.—(P)—Diplomatic officials here consider it entirely possible that Russia may break with Bulgaria in the next few days. This would almost certainly force a new decision on the question of an American break with Finland.

The two situations are by no means similar in all respects, authorities said today, but they are described as similar enough so that a major development in one would immediately involve the other.

Moreover, there is a general tightening up and adoption of stern measures all along the satellite front of Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary and Romania. This dates from the issuance of a British-Russian-American warning to the satellites two weeks ago that if they expect relatively lenient armistice terms they had better try to get out of the war while such action will be of help to the Allies.

In general the behind-the-scenes diplomatic moves to enforce this warning are designed to break Hitler's Balkan front and strip Germany of all international support in the same way that the campaign against the neutrals is designed to deprive the German war machine of outside assistance.

Among the satellites Bulgaria is considered to be in a particularly vulnerable position for both military and political reasons. The aid the Bulgarians have been giving Axis armies in airfields and port and transportation facilities now becomes a major factor in Russia's advance into Romania. That is one of the things that impelled the Russians to adopt a tough attitude.

MEDALLION TO BE AWARDED TO J. A. LANGEVIN

A heroic rescue performed by J. A. Langevin last summer in Coaticook when he saved a family of nine people from drowning in the flooded waters of the Coaticook River on the morning of June 16, has been officially recognized by the Province of Quebec Safety League and its official medallion will be awarded the rescuer in the very near future.

Adjutor Otis, whose horse was carried away a few hundred feet by the most disastrous flood ever seen in this district, took refuge with his wife and seven children on the attic floor after the ground and first floors had been swept away in another direction.

At the risk of his own life, Mr. Langevin paddled a small canvas canoe over the deep and turbulent waters towards the spot where the endangered persons were desperately clinging to the remaining portion of the wrecked house and succeeded in bringing them in two by two safely to the opposite shore, where a gathering of over 200 persons anxiously waited in the middle of the night.

ruins with Hamilton's Fire Chief, William Murdoch, but they said they would have nothing to say until they reported back to Toronto.

Mayor Samuel Lawrence and Controller Walter Chadwick, who is Board of Control's member on the Civic Fire and Jail Committee, said the whole question of the fire hazards and building requirements would be studied by the Board today, as a result of the fire.

"If there is no provision in the building bylaws for escape exits from two-story buildings, there should be," said the Mayor, himself a member of the Moose Order which owned the gutted building.

All that was left today of the structure was the brick shell. The wooden interior went up like tinder when the fire started. Literally in seconds the place was a mass of foraging flames.

RECOVER BODY OF YOUNGSTER NEAR BROMPTON

The body of Jacques Demers, 11-year-old Sherbrooke boy who lost his life in a noble effort to save his younger brother from the St. Francis River on May 7, was recovered near Brompton yesterday afternoon.

Police made the recovery after being informed that the body had been seen from the river bank by a fisherman. The swift current of the river had carried the body a distance of about four miles downstream, from the place of drowning just on the outskirts of Sherbrooke, to where it was recovered near Bromptonville.

The inquest will be conducted this afternoon in local police headquarters by Leonidas Bachand, Coroner for the District of St. Francis.

room with Olivia Dionne, their 41-year-old father, they stopped singing and shyly waited for a lead as to what they were to do.

Mr. Dionne suggested that I, who first saw them when they were three months old, might be able to tell them apart but this was recognized by the Quints as an old joke and they agreed to lift their hands as I called out their names.

Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie smilingly acknowledged their identity in order. There was only one name left to call—and I forgot it. The remaining Quint looked at me reproachfully for a minute until I hastily mumbled "Yvonne," and there was a sigh of relief from all five sisters.

Their complete naturalness and undisguised love of fun and laughter were evident. Watching them at play, it was easy to see they all consider Marie, the smallest at birth, the baby of their group. Each seems to give her a little more attention than she gives the others. They are all happy children but Cecile seems to be the chief mischief-maker and Emilie the most care-free of them all. Yvonne and Annette are the leaders and seem more mature.

During the Spanish-American War, American troops landed at Puerto Rico on July 25, 1898.

CLAIMS NO THREAT AGAINST HONOR ROLL RECEIVED

An official of the Honor Roll Committee denied in a statement to the Record today that any threat against the Honor Roll had been received by police authorities as reported in these columns yesterday.

"There was no such threat received by the authorities," he said, "and the sentry who was posted on duty was placed there at our own request to safeguard the memorial curtains against damage by the wind."

HEAR NEW TESTIMONY IN MILLER HEARING

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—Jury heard testimony yesterday that five months before he was slain, Dr. John E. Lind, noted psychiatrist, brandished a pistol and said he would come off the winner in any shooting affray with attorney Robert I. Miller.

"I expect to see and shoot him first," he was quoted as saying.

Instead Miller, 67-year-old police court lawyer, shot Lind as he sat in an automobile with Miller's 42-year-old blonde wife. The defence plea for Miller is a dual claim of self defence and temporary insanity induced by the "torture" of his wife's infidelity.

The story of the pistol and the "shoot first" threat came from Mrs. Marguerite Fien, niece of Mrs. Miller, who told the jury she believed Dr. Lind "had the full intention of doing away with Mr. Miller."

The pistol testimony was emphasized by the defence in support of its claim that Dr. Lind habitually went armed and reached for the weapon before Miller shot him. The government contends that the pistol found beside Dr. Lind's body was planted there by Miller.

DISCUSS QUEBEC CITY EMBELLISHMENT PLAN

Quebec, May 25.—(AP)—Hon. Georges Dansereau, Minister of Roads and Public Works, told newsmen at the Legislature yesterday that "the construction of Provincial Government buildings in Quebec City will be regulated by a plan conforming to the general embellishment programme of the city."

Mr. Dansereau said a consultative committee was formed recently to co-operate with the Quebec Embellishment Commission and the Committee of Urban Planning.

on the coastal highway between Ter- rancia and Anzio.

"Troops of the bridgehead have broken through the powerful defences built by the enemy to prevent the bridgehead force participating in our advance from the main front," Headquarters said.

"The battle proceeds and it should not be long before the two fronts are firmly established as one," an official spokesman said.

Already the Beachhead 20 miles South of Rome was breaking out to the East with Cisterna flanked deeply on both sides and attacked at the outskirts in a frontal assault.

The Allied beachhead was established by a landing last Jan. 22 in which British and American units of the 5th Army got ashore with little opposition. Subsequently, the Germans launched bitter counter-attacks but the beachhead was held.

A special force of Commonwealth Canadian and American soldiers also has been operating on the beachhead.

Allied Headquarters announced yesterday an offensive had been launched from the Beachhead, synchronized with a powerful push by the Canadian Corps against the remaining Hitler Line defences in the Liri Valley.

In the first phase of the Beachhead thrust, British infantry and tanks crossed the Moletta River North and slightly West of Anzio, while American troops cut the Apian Way and a railway line near Cisterna.

V.D. REDUCED IN R.C.A.F.
Toronto, May 25.—(AP)—Since 1940 venereal disease incidence in the R.C.A.F. has been reduced from thirty per 1,000 a year to sixteen for gonorrhoea and 1.6 for syphilis. Air Commodore J. W. Tice, Director of R.C.A.F. Medical Services, told a meeting of the Canadian Medical Association here yesterday.

"Venereal disease in our Women's Division has never been a problem," he added. "However, we have in the past year reduced the incidence by half."

SOVIET TROOPS ARE MASSED FOR BIG OFFENSIVE

Four Nazi Attacks North- west of Tiraspol Repelled with Assaults Costing Enemy 400 Dead.

London, May 25.—(AP)—Red Army troops, massing on the Eastern front for the signal to start a new offensive, the Nazis declare is imminent, were told by the Moscow radio today. "Soon you will be called upon to accomplish the liberation of Soviet territory and also to liberate other European nations from the German Fascist oppressor."

The daily Russian communique spoke only of sporadic thrusts by the Nazis and Red reconnaissance action. Four German attacks North-west of Tiraspol on the lower Dniester were repelled, with the assaults costing the Germans 400 dead, the broadcast communique said.

Russian patrols and a reconnaissance action resulted in the destruction of 27 German tanks and self-propelled guns, the communique added.

In that survey officials were concerned with men who were medically fit. Now officers are being sent back to comb the plants again and make sure workers are not being hoarded.

So far seven compulsory transfer orders have been issued affecting men between the ages of 16 and 40, regardless of their marital status, in a wide range of occupations varying from automobile service stations to manufacturing plants which turn out products not regarded as essential.

So far seven compulsory transfer orders have been issued affecting men between the ages of 16 and 40, regardless of their marital status, in a wide range of occupations varying from automobile service stations to manufacturing plants which turn out products not regarded as essential.

Preliminary consideration has been given, it is understood, to other occupations and industries which might be brought under the plan and action in this direction is expected shortly.

The record demand for workers that is behind the Department's triple action programme is a combination of a number of circumstances and is not attributable to any factor, Mr. MacNamara said.

With railway freight and passenger movements at an all-time high Canadian railways need 7,000 track workers. Large numbers of men are required at the lakehead for unloading wheat. Packing plants, with 25 per cent more workers than they had in 1941 and 50 per cent more than in pre-war days, also need more workers.

Lacking any concentrated group of workers to fill these vacancies Selective Service is exploring various channels and, as an example, plans to make increased use of prisoners of war. Some 5,500 now are engaged in farming or lumbering. It is expected this number will be stepped up to about 8,000 during this summer.

ERNEST HEMINGWAY HURT IN CAR CRASH

London, May 25.—(AP)—Ernest Hemingway, widely-known American author, suffered head injuries in an automobile accident here last night but after a minor operation hospital authorities said today he was in no apparent danger.

A surgeon at St. George's Hospital found upon stitching a head wound that there was no fracture and that outside of the head injuries Hemingway was unhurt.

Hemingway is the author of numerous best sellers, including "The Sun Also Rises," "Farewell to Arms," "Death in the Afternoon," "The Green Hills of Africa" and "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Hemingway served as a Red Cross ambulance driver during the First Great War and covered the Spanish Civil War as a war correspondent. He is known as a sportsman and big game hunter as well as a writer.

open and the speed with which the Canadians are advancing threatens the Germans with the alternative of withdrawing or being cut off from their retreat route along the Via Casilina—highway No. 6.

At the Southern end of the Canadian sector, a combat team fanned out with tank support along roads Northwest of Pontecorvo. The going here was tougher than in the central part of the Liri Valley, because of bomb craters and many mines left by the Germans.

The spirit of the Canadians was never higher and friendly rivalry between the men has developed to the point where bets already are being placed as to who will reach Rome first, if it so happens that Rome lies within the orbit of the Canadian advance.

Canadian troops encountered a minimum of enemy armor during Wednesday's action but incomplete reports showed three tanks and two self-propelled guns were knocked out. Two of the destroyed tanks were powerful Tigers.

The air force had a field day at the expense of German transport withdrawing along highway No. 6.

Further Cuts

At the start of the sitting, members paid tribute to Queen Victoria on Empire day, and to Dollard des Ormeaux, leader of the band of French-Canadians who saved Montreal by breaking up an Indian attack in the battle of the Long Sault in 1660.

SHERBROOKE'S HONOR ROLL IS UNVEILED

20,000 Lined Streets To Witness
Largest Parade Ever Staged Here

An estimated crowd of 20,000 persons crowded Sherbrooke streets yesterday afternoon to watch a four-mile Empire Day parade which was held in connection with the unveiling of the Sherbrooke War Tablet.

Central figure of the parade, held in perfect weather, was Major Paul Triquet, V.C., hero of the Italian campaign, who received an ovation all along the route as he stood in an open car in the front of the long line of marching men and women from all the services. With Major Triquet in the open sedan was Col. F. H. Bradley, President of the Sherbrooke Citizens' Honor Roll Committee.

Taking the salute at the Sherbrooke Post Office was Major-General E. J. Renaud, O.C. M.D. No. 4, Montreal, accompanied by a large group of other officers of the different services. There were thirty-five soldiers from the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre in front of the Post Office holding the flags of the United Nations.

Before the parade, General Renaud and other officers inspected units of the armed services at the parade grounds.

Major Triquet attended the inspection, as well as Brigadier E. A. Blais, O.C. M.D. No. 8, Quebec; Lieut.-Col. G. Montpetit, O.S.O., and Col. Sam Echenberg, of M.D. No. 4; Vice Air-Marshal Adair Raymond, R.C.A.F., Captain J. E. W. Oland, R.C.N., and Lt.-Col. Louis Chicoine.

Highlights of the parade were the two C.W.A.C. bands, brass and pipe, the flags of thirty-five United Nations carried by the Vimy Patrol Team, Vimy Branch No. 47, Canadian Legion, Montreal; ambulances of the three services, A-A guns and other equipment of the 35th Anti-Aircraft Battery and six Universal carriers.

It was the largest military spectacle to be staged in Sherbrooke. The large turnout was attributed to the civic holiday in the afternoon, proclaimed by Mayor Genest. Homes and buildings all along the route of the parade were decorated for the occasion.

Bands in the parade were the Royal 22nd Regiment Band, Quebec; R.C.N. Band, St. Hyacinthe; Military District No. 4 Band, Montreal; C.W.A.C. Pipe Band and C.W.A.C. Brass Band, Sherbrooke Regiment Band and R.C.A.F. Band, Lachine.

The parade was led by the Royal 22nd Band which preceded the Vimy Patrol of the Canadian Legion carrying the flags of the thirty-seven United Nations, followed by the Veterans of Branch No. 10, Veterans' Guard, and all other ex-servicemen. Then came the R.C.N. detachment and Wrens, Sherbrooke Regiment, Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, Bishop's College School Cadets, Sherbrooke High School Cadets, Superior School Cadets, St. Charles Seminary Cadets, St. Patrick's Cadets, R.C.A.F. detachments, U.A.T.C. No. 21, No. 67 Air Cadet (Rotary) Squadron, No. 198 Air Cadet Squadron, 35th Anti-Aircraft Battery, Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre.

All city police officers were on duty, being under the supervision of Director Percy Donahue and Captains Edouard Moreau and Omer Daudelin. Local police were assisted by Provincial Police and the Sherbrooke Mobile Force in charge of Acting Commandant Major William Foote.

Thousands At Memorial Unveiling

Above is a view of the thousands of people who yesterday afternoon witnessed the unveiling and dedication of Sherbrooke's Honor Roll, with the tablet itself clearly seen. At right, Pro-Mayor Guy Bryant, Senator C. B. Howard, Mayor Genest and Trade Minister MacKinnon, who represented Hon. J. L. Ralston, Defence Minister.

Making an impromptu address at the dedication ceremony of the Sherbrooke Roll of Honor, the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said that there was no doubt of ultimate victory, "but the struggle ahead may be a severe and bitter one."

Mr. MacKinnon told the Empire Day gathering of almost 10,000 at the intersection of King and Wellington Streets that he was making this statement following a report of Premier King, who several days ago returned after attending the Commonwealth conference in London.

He said that Mr. King had given an account of his mission and quoted the Prime Minister as saying, "The struggle is going to be much greater and more difficult than any one of us can comprehend."

"Mr. King assured us absolutely of the confidence in the success of the war," Mr. MacKinnon said, "but he added that the forces of evil will continue to do their part in helping to destroy all that is best for mankind for possibly years to come after the main struggle is over."

Mr. MacKinnon warned that there will be great sacrifices which must still be made and declared that the peace and security of Canada depend upon the outcome of the war. "Canada would be a rich prize for the aggressor nations with her natural resources and her great spaces open for settlement," he said.

The large military parade held in connection with the unveiling of the war tablet was praised by Mr. MacKinnon. He stated that it was excellent to honor the brave men who are fighting for Canada and the security of every Canadian in all the theatres of war.

He added that those on the home front who are not privileged to participate with the armed forces have their own work to do, supporting in every way the gallant young Canadians who are carrying on so magnificently for Canada and the security and happiness of each individual Canadian.

Mr. MacKinnon met Major Paul Triquet, V.C. winner, for the first time. The two men had a brief chat.

Mr. MacKinnon represented the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, who was unable to come here because of another engagement. "I telephoned Mr. Ralston and he said that he was sincerely sorry that he could not be present," the Minister stated.

However, during the telephone conversation, Mr. Ralston recalled his first official ceremony when he unveiled the cenotaph here in 1926, which is directly behind the Roll of Honor.

Unidentified Man Feared Drowned In
Magog River After Leap Off BridgeA. R. McMURRICH
OF WATERVILLE
MADE CAPTAIN

Word has been received from Overseas by Mrs. A. R. McMurrich of Waterville, of the promotion of her husband, Captain A. R. McMurrich, from the rank of Lieutenant.

Captain McMurrich enlisted in the C.O.T.C. at McGill University in 1933, and following his graduation, he enlisted in the Black Watch (G.H.R.) in June, 1940. He was one of several officers who transferred from the Black Watch in January, 1942, to the reconstituted Battery of the Royal Rifles of Canada. He later spent four weeks on course at the Royal Military College, in Kingston, and proceeded Overseas in the spring of 1943.

On arrival Overseas, Captain McMurrich was attached to the Canadian Intelligence Corps, and was later transferred to his present position as Divisional Intelligence Officer of the 4th Canadian Armored Division.

Police reported this morning that an unidentified man jumped off the Paton Mill bridge into the Magog River, after removing his coat. He is believed to have drowned.

The man was described as being about fifty years of age by three persons who saw him leap into the water and disappear. The Misses Bernadette and Gabrielle Laseone and Lieut. Paul Guillemette of the 35th Battery gave police an eyewitness account of what they had seen.

Dragging operations were immediately started by twelve officers of the Municipal Police Force under the direction of Captain Edouard Moreau. Captain Moreau said that there were eight employees of the Paton Manufacturing Company also assisting police in the grappling work.

Police were unable to find an identification tag on the man's coat, and there were no papers of any kind in the pockets. Mrs. Simon Lachond, who saw the man drown while she was working near a window at the Paton plant, fainted and had to be revived, according to police.

Impressive Ceremonies Marked
Dedication Of Local Memorial

The Sherbrooke Roll of Honor on which is inscribed the names of local men and women who have volunteered to fight for their country was unveiled yesterday afternoon by Mayor J. W. Genest. The dedication ceremony was in charge of Major-General E. J. Renaud, O.C. M.D. No. 4, who was principal speaker.

"It affords me great pleasure to do honor to your citizens, those volunteers who have joined the Navy, Army, Air Force, Merchant Navy and the different women's services," General Renaud said. "They have responded to the call of their country in a most loyal manner."

"and in whatever theatre of war they are serving they are fighting for our rights, our liberties and our traditions."

He congratulated the organizers who had the war tablet erected carrying the names of all volunteers. It was a magnificent example which, he hoped, would be followed by all leading centres in Quebec Province and Canada.

These names will blaze out in the deep of the night and it is quite befitting that the populace of Sherbrooke and vicinity should know who is fighting for their security and that of the country," he said.

"If these are your husbands, sons, daughters or sisters, you should be proud of the great task they are accomplishing," General Renaud continued. "All of them deserve our sincere admiration and gratefulness."

He sincerely hoped that their example will be followed by all those who so far have hesitated to follow them and trusted that many other names will be added to the memorial.

Brief speeches of welcome were made by Mayor Genest and Pro-Mayor Bryant in French and English, respectively.

"We shall remember with humble gratitude the men and women whose names are inscribed on the Honor Roll, which will ever be to us a reminder of our debt to those who gave greatly that we might live richly, and in the hearts of all will be a quiet prayer that ere long they may come back to us, with a task well done, and to a City that will never forget," said Pro-Mayor Guy Bryant.

Ald. Bryant thanked the Sherbrooke Honor Roll Committee which had worked steadily, not counting time or labor, to make the Memorial worthy of the cause. He expressed thanks to members of the Sherbrooke Recruiting Office who also worked zealously on the project, and all those who took part in the parade in order to lift the occasion to a high level of wider importance.

After the unveiling of the War Tablet, a silence of one minute was observed. The flags of the thirty-five United Nations flanked the Roll of Honor during the ceremony.

Standing in front of the Roll of Honor were the following: Brigadier E. A. Blais, D.O.C. M.D. No. 5, Quebec; Captain A. T. Musgrave, O.C. H.M.C.S. St. Hyacinthe; Captain J.E.W. Oland, D.S.O. Naval Officer, Montreal; Captain J. D. Whyte, Regional Director of Merchant Seamen's Manning Pool, Montreal; Col. S. H. Kippen, A. A. and Q.M.G.; Lieut.-Col. W. H. Scott, District Recruiting Officer; Lieut. Col. Guy Montpetit, G.S.O. 1, all of Military District No. 4; Major Cecil Bouchard, C.W.A.C. Staff Officer; Lieut.-Col. Louis Chicoine, District Cadet Officer; and Lt. Douglas Howard, A.D.C., R.C.N. Among local military men in attendance were Col. Eugene Nance, O. C. Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre; Col. Leopold Chevalier, Col. Alphonse Genest, Col. Bert Lyon, Major L. W. Greenland, Col. A. A. Munster, Col. Charles Codere, and John Fitzsimons, President of the Sherbrooke Canadian Legion.

Others present were Senator C. B. Howard, Mr. Justice J. Dalma Landry, Rev. Canon Michael Couture, of St. Charles Seminary, George Carr, President of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce; Rene Paquette, President of the Junior Board of Trade; Willard Cross, President of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club; Cecil Dunn, President of the Sherbrooke Lions Club; Stanley Pearson, President of the Y's Men's Club, and Col. Bradley and members of the Citizens' Committee.

A reception was held for official visitors in the City Hall following the dedication.

SENTIMENTALISM LOOSE AGAIN

With the United Nations invasion of Continental Europe apparently but a matter of days and the military collapse of Germany expected to follow within a few months, there are other factors entering the picture which bear a marked resemblance to certain events which accompanied the Allied victory in the First Great War. In 1918 the Germans stood forth as the unhappy victims of militarism. They pleaded that if the Hohenzollern yoke were lifted they would be seen as a sweet, gentle, peace-loving people. On this occasion the Allies fell for it, and immediately hypocrisy stood self-confessed. Two and a half billion dollars to the good on reparations, "Poor Germany" overthrew the pitiful Weimar republic and plunged into another ferocious gamble for world supremacy.

Now the same plaint is being raised again, backed as before by sloppy sentimentalism and camouflaged pan-Germans. But this time Hitler has replaced the Kaiser as having imposed his will on sixty million people. Now it is said that if Hitler is crushed, Germans will return joyfully to their pipes, steins, music and poetry. If it was a lie in 1918, it is even more of a lie today. Just as a whole people followed the Kaiser from 1914 to 1918, heiling every barbarity of the German arms, so has a whole people followed the Fuehrer, heiling the savageries that have turned every occupied country into a slaughter pen. The evil teaching of centuries has done a thorough job.

Talk of mass extermination is nonsense, but so is the babble about "mercy" and re-education." Of course, the German people must be re-educated, but the one way in which any lesson may be impressed upon them is to face them with inescapable facts. The fact that they must face at the conclusion of this war is the fact of military and national defeat. They must learn that their leaders lied when they preached the gospel of Master Race and Weltmacht, that war is not holy and that crime merits punishment. And how else can this be done except by unconditional surrender and effective military occupation? After that there must be disarmament and demilitarization, the arrest and trial of all war criminals, the return of loot and the payment for wanton destruction, and above all the segregation of Prussia with its Junkers military aristocracy which is already girding for another war.

The courage of civilized people has been tried and tested. What lies ahead is an intelligence test.

THE BOYS FALL OUT

Up in Toronto, the Labor-Progressives, the new title carried by the old Communist party members, and their super-Socialist brothers, the Canadian Co-operative Federation, are staging a private political war of their own. And it all originates because Leslie Morris, leader of the Labor-Progressive party in Ontario, has been nominated for the Federal seat of Greenwood, Toronto, where the C.C.F. have already named a candidate, Harvey Hotrum.

The exchanges are decidedly direct and are delivered with a gusto which one believed had almost disappeared from Canadian political campaigns. The C. C. F., which is very vexed, calls the nomination "an unnecessary and harmful action, disruptive of labor unity and playing into the hands of reaction." Candidate Morris could not take this lying down and promptly retorted to the effect that the C.C.F. has no monopoly of Toronto politics, that it practices "political snobbery" and has a policy of "socialism or bust" which threatens Canadian unity. The challenge by the Labor-Progressives that the C. C. F. has no monopoly of Toronto politics is a model for under-statement to say the least, for the latter party failed to elect one candidate in the New Year's Day municipal elections, whereas the Labor-Progressives elected two candidates, one of whom secured five thousand votes for Board of Control in Greenwood riding.

It is obvious that oil and water will not mix, although it would take a brave man to say which is oil and which is water then referring to these two groups of gentlemen, but the episode does show what the Canadian electors may expect to face when the general election rolls around, possibly this fall. There will be a multiplicity of candidates, with five or more parties obtaining substantial representation in the new House of Commons, gloriously divided by sectional, racial, religious, class and occupational differences. Thus the new Parliament may resemble that which caused France so much trouble before the outbreak of the war. It is a picture which is unpleasant but appears highly probable in the view of current events.

SPEAKING TOO SOON

The Dominion Minister of Agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, will have a difficult time explaining away to the Canadian public the reason for his amazing misstatement in the House of Commons earlier this week in connection with the bacon agreement with Great Britain. Certainly the actual agreement which involves only a period of two years — the present season and 1945 is a far cry from the four-year contract which the Agriculture Minister so gloriously announced to the House of Commons, only to be forced to admit at a later date that the contract had not been signed. It was only a prospective deal in which neither the quantities to be taken by the Old Country or the price to be paid had been determined. Thus the Canadian farmer is given little actual assurance that his market will be continued in Great Britain should the war come to a sudden termination.

This is not the first occasion on which the Agriculture Minister has rather overstepped himself in some of his public statements. In fact in the early days of the war, the Government at several times found itself embarrassed by the remarks and declarations of the former Saskatchewan Premier, especially on selective service and the relative needs of the armed forces and industry.

The Agriculture Minister would be well advised to rather curb his enthusiasm for any particular move or event and delay any optimistic statement until such time as he had made a complete check of the facts of the case.

THE FRENCH ARMY FIGHTS AGAIN

One of the most gratifying features of the Italian campaign from the United Nations point of view is the re-emergence of the French army, once considered the best in Europe, as an active fighting machine alongside the other Allied forces. Story follows story of the spectacular and heroic gains made by these men who but a short time ago were scattered individuals or members of a dispirited and hopeless force. These men have scaled hills and captured towns and it was through their endeavors that the hitherto impassable rubble-fortress of Cassino was placed in a position where it now has been captured.

When France surrendered in 1940 there were large French armies in North Africa and Syria. Experience has shown, however, that their arms were much inferior to those of the Germans. Cut off from their homeland they had no opportunity of obtaining new ones, even if their over-all commander, General Weygand, had the will to continue the war from the South shore and the East end of the Mediterranean. As is too common with inactive forces, their arms and equipment rusted and deteriorated. It was not until after the Allies landed in North Africa that the chance came to re-establish the French. Whether this transformation came under General Giraud or General de Gaulle is immaterial. The United States and Great Britain gladly furnished the French troops with their best arms and equipment, and they began their training anew.

Thus with fresh hopes and undiminished courage the French took part in the Sicily and Salerno landings, and now they are playing an important part in the Battle of Italy, conscious that it is the first definite step that will lead to the liberation of their own country from the hated Huns and restore them to their homes and families.

WAR: A HOBBY FOR HITLER

Perhaps one of the best explanations offered for some of the almost ununderstandable blunders committed by Adolf Hitler in his conduct of the war to date is offered by Max Werner, an exiled German commentator who declares that to Der Fuehrer war is a game rather than the serious business involving the lives of millions of people and dozens of countries. Commenting on Hitler's war views, Werner says: "It was his personal war, his hobby. He had to taste it to the full. For Hitler the war was not a gamble, but also a game, a huge game with tin soldiers. Nothing is more characteristic of Hitler than his remark to Sir Neville Henderson, the British Ambassador in Berlin, shortly before the attack on Poland: 'I prefer war when I am fifty to when I am fifty-five or sixty.' It is a psychology, not of a great general, but of a playboy for whom the war game is a personal pleasure."

This feeling was undoubtedly a very satisfactory viewpoint to hold when the fates were kind, for it permitted him to look at the loss of millions of his own people as "all in the game." But it would be interesting to know just what the little man thinks of his game at the present moment when the whole accumulated weight of retribution is likely to sweep over him in the near future.

Will he then be the good gambler who takes the good with the bad? Or will he be like so many other tin-horn sports who are willing to gloat loudly when the wheel of fate proves kindly but whimper to high heaven for mercy when their luck is running out? It will be interesting to see how war appears to Der Fuehrer as a sport a few weeks hence.

Neutrals like Mr. de Valera can have no understanding of the vast changes that the past few years have brought in the thinking and attitudes of men. They have had no real part in the world since 1939. In their stale appraisal of the world it must be incomprehensible to them that the American House of Representatives could last week, pass such important legislation as the extension of lend-lease with only twenty-one dissenting votes out of 435. That is the kind of national unity in action that the past few years have brought. In the 1939-world of the neutrals such swift and vital decision in a democracy would have seemed, and been, impossible. We weren't as clear about things then. We weren't as unified then. We have grown, clearer, stronger.

WILL THEY STAY?

(Three Rivers Le Nouvelliste)
When girls enrolled in the army or working in war factories return to the land, how are we going to keep them there? This return to home life of soldiers and women workers appears to be of the first importance to Georges Bouchard, federal associate deputy minister of Agriculture, well-known writer and speaker on rural life. Compared to the time which they fill now, says Mr. Bouchard, the domestic positions which women should resume after the war appear at first to be drab, monotonous and poorly paid. In reality they are infinitely preferable because they are much more healthy and are productive of more real enjoyment and true happiness. By resuming their place in the ranks of women on the farm, where their solid domestic virtues are so essential to our world in transition, these young women have everything to gain. Returning home after a long absence and an agitated life they will find a precious source of inspiration among their sisters who have stayed there.

TRAINING THE CLERGY

(London Times)
The final report of the Archbishop's Commission on Training for the Ministry extends to over 80 pages. The scheme outlined aims at developing greater powers of spiritual leadership and producing a clergy who from their training are more in touch with social, industrial and rural life, more familiar with modern scientific and secular thought, and able to bridge the gulf that exists today between the presuppositions of the ecclesiastical world and those of ordinary men. An early chapter is given to the problem of "recruitment." The report suggests that specialists in religious teaching should be available in schools of all types, and courses in Biblical study for teachers should be multiplied and encouraged. A special Church of England minister should be appointed as a liaison officer for every modern university; there should be post-graduate scholarships available to help those who find their vocation for the ministry late in their university career. It is said that some 3,000 young men now serving in the forces propose to offer themselves for ordination after the war.

FARM LIVESTOCK NEGLECT

IS DEPLORABLE

London Free Press

At Kitchener, during a session of the convention of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, it was charged that farmers had seriously neglected their livestock this past winter. The farmer was not blamed. He was either engaged on war work or he was so hopelessly undermanned that he simply could not get around to the work. It was a physical impossibility for thousands of Ontario farmers to take proper care of their livestock. They did what they could. They labored long hours at chores which at times overwhelmed them. Their appeals for manpower went unheeded; the cattle suffered. That this situation was generally true, anyone who has been in close

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

FINESSES FAIL AND BIDDER GOES DOWN

Slam bidding is still the big problem in bridge. On one of the boards of the second session of the Masters individual tournament, only two pairs out of nine reached a slam, although only one finesse was necessary to make the contract. Today's hand, which is board four of the second session, found only one pair playing the hand at six clubs. Six clubs seems to be a pretty good contract, as there are 12 tricks if either the heart or spade finesses work. It happens that they are both wrong, so the pair who bid six clubs went down. One pair tried to play the hand at six no trump, and interestingly enough, that contract cannot be made even if both finesses work; clubs, two diamonds, two hearts and there are still only 11 tricks—five two spades.

After the ceremony Mrs. Gerald Spafford presented a lovely frilled parasol fashioned of white crepe paper, and decorated with tiny clusters of forget-me-nots, with a large bunch on top. Speaking from the text, "Many women were there, who followed him afar off," Rev. Graham Barr, B.A., B.D., in the Mother's Day service in St. Andrew's United Church, paid tribute to the important role which mothers play in the life of the home, church and community. Three aspects of the special mission of women were stressed, "Physical," which included the sympathetic understanding of women who ministered to the physical needs of Jesus, and is shown in the ministry at the altar of the home; "Social," women wielding a wonderful power for good, have tremendous responsibilities in the welfare of mankind; "Spiritual," women have a place in the inspirations of the teachings of Jesus in the field of missions, their giving, serving, and prayer being of infinite value. With Mrs. A. A. Mackenzie as organist, hymns appropriate to the subject were sung. The beautiful flowers on the Communion table were given by the family in loving memory of their mother, Mrs. W. F. Bowman.

Prior to the morning service, St. Andrew's Sunday School held a special Mother's Day programme, centering around the theme, "Homes Make a Nation." The organist, Miss Lois Mackenzie, rendered a musical prelude and the call to worship and the prayer of Invocation were given

NEWSPAPER MEN BLAST PHILIP CAREY 10-1

La Tribune Makes Good Use Of Four Miscues By Lennoxville

La Tribune last night smashed out a paralyzing 10-1 victory over the Philip Carey team at the Lennoxville grounds in a regular game of the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League.

The newsmen, playing their second game of the current season, showed a remarkable reversal of form from their performance against the Canadian Silk on Monday when they were beaten 5-1. They bunched eight hits and took advantage of four Philip Carey errors to completely overwhelm the Lennoxville squad.

The Carey men, fresh from their 11-3 victory over Pariseau on Monday, were handicuffed by the offerings of Ray Dory, La Tribune pitcher, who held the home team to six scattered hits. The lone Philip Carey run came in the sixth inning.

The newsmen were kept pretty well in check until the fourth inning. In the first three frames, neither side was able to score, but in the fourth, La Tribune blasted five runs across the plate.

In the sixth, the newspapermen again opened up with a withering attack and shoved five more runs across the plate.

Star hitter for the Philip Carey team was Lacasse, who smashed a triple and scored, the only Lennoxville run.

For La Tribune, Gosselin, Castonguay and Dory each hit two batters with Dory picking up a single also. Gaston, Fontaine and Guilmette also added in the newsmen's onslaught by contributing a three-bagger apiece. Caret, La Tribune first sacker, connected for two safeties to advance runners along the bases.

The next games for these two teams will be on Monday night when La Tribune receives Kayser at Dufresne and Philip Carey visits Canadian Silk at the Dufresne Park also.

ROUND-TRIPPER BY HAYES GIVES ATHLETICS WIN

By JACK HAND.

Associated Press Staff Writer.
Connie Mack still rates as the diamond's No. 1 "David Harum" today on the performance of Frankie Hayes who was tabbed "all washed up" when he hit only .188 for St. Louis Browns in 1943.

Hayes' second bases-loaded homer of the season was the telling wallop as the Philadelphia A's took over fourth place in the American League yesterday with an 8-4 decision over Detroit. It was the sixth circuit clout for the veteran catcher who is tied for the league lead with Cleveland's Pat Seery.

Only three men have hit "grand slam" homers in 1944 but Hayes has done it twice. His clout off Rufe Gentry won another game from the Tigers 10 days ago. Johnny Lindell of the Yanks and Howie Schultz of Brooklyn also hit one into the stands with the sacks packed. The record for a season is four, held jointly by Frank Schulte, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Rudy York.

Don Black was coasting to his third victory on the strength of Hayes' clout yesterday but the Tigers knocked him out and scored four runs in the ninth to ruin his shutout. He had allowed only two hits until the ninth but Joe Berry had to finish.

Jack Kramer climbed into the six-victory class as the Browns trimmed Boston, 7-3, and moved into the following year, but an affable, gentlemanly, quiet, extremely modest and likable country boy.

Honey Boy Knowlton was somewhat of a sensation with Detroit against the Providence Grays, National League champions, in September, 1884. He had the mighty Providence club shut out in the eighth, when his infield blew up and the Grays shaded him, 3-2, without hitting the ball out of the infield.

Sluggers for Lennoxville were "Perk" Johnson, and Doug MacDonald, each with a double and two singles. K. Johnson also blasted out a double that brought in two runs.

For the Sherbrooke High School, Lewis Greenberg had a perfect day at bat, getting four singles in as many times up. Holtham's two doubles were responsible for three runs, while a double by Earl Caunter brought in two more runs.

"They Played The Game" Recalls Old Thrill And Two More Of Baseball's Tragic Figures; Sad Stories Of Knowlton And Slugger Murphy

H. W. Linnehan reads the baseball book, "They Played The Game," and recalls a boyhood thrill and two more of the sport's tragic figures.

Linnehan's father performed in the minors with Jack Chesbro, and he will never forget the day the first of the spitball pitchers came home with his dad, and the two played with the North Wilbraham, Mass., town team. Linnehan, with the New Britain Machine Company, who was a bat boy at the time, pictures vividly Happy Jack Chesbro playing an inning at every position except catching. No catching for the handsome right-hander who led both major leagues in percentage of victories, but is best remembered as the man who wild-pitched the Highlanders, who were to become the Yankees, out of the pennant in the final play of the final game of the season.

The sad story of Louis Sockalexis, the fabulous Indian, brings to Linnehan's mind two similar cases. There was a left-handed kid who developed control by chalking out a square on the side of a barn on a Wilbraham farm, throwing at the target, retrieving the ball and repeating.

Young George Knowlton pitched for the Athol, Mass., town team against the Providence Grays, National League champions, in September, 1884. He had the mighty Providence club shut out in the eighth, when his infield blew up and the Grays shaded him, 3-2, without hitting the ball out of the infield.

ROCHESTER AND MONTREAL SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER

The Montreal Royals came out of yesterday's doubleheader at the Stadium with Rochester Red Wings with a win and a loss. The Montrealers turned on the Wings to win 9-2 after absorbing an 8-6 trimming in the opening game.

In the opening game, the Royals were on the short end of a 5-0 score in the third inning. Rochester increased its lead to 7-0 in the seventh before the Royals let loose in their half of the seventh to score five runs to put them back into the winning. However, the Red Wings added another in the eighth to bring the score to 8-5. In the last of the eighth, the Royals were able to come up with only one run, with neither team scoring in the ninth, giving the Red Wings an 8-6 victory.

In the seven-inning nightcap, the Royals scored two runs in each of the first and second innings, with the Red Wings pushing one run across the plate in each of these frames. For the rest of the game, the Wings were held scoreless while the Royals shoved four runs across in the fourth and added another in the sixth to take the game by a 9-2 score.

Toronto yesterday took a double victory over the Buffalo Bisons at Toronto by scores of 9-1 and 4-1. In the first game, the Leafs pushed across two runs in the second, three in each of the fourth and fifth innings and another in the seventh to swamp the Bisons. The lone Buffalo run came in the ninth inning.

In the nightcap, the Leafs took a first-inning three-run lead and added another in the fifth for good measure. The Buffalo run came in the sixth.

BIRDS TOP GIANTS 8-1

In a single game at Baltimore last night, the Orioles blasted out an 8-1 triumph over the Jersey City Little Giants behind the neat six-hit pitching of Bobo Palica.

Lackman scored the lone Jersey City run in the first inning when he smashed the pill over the fence for a homer.

Bob Barthelson and Mike Mellis were hit for nine safeties by the Orioles. The Baltimore squad collected three runs in the third when three hits, a walk and a hit batsman by Barthelson proved sufficient to give the Orioles a good lead.

A three-run homer in the fourth by Howie Moss put the game in the bag for Baltimore. The other two Baltimore runs came in the eighth inning.

Lefty Dube Smashes Homer As Belvidere Beats Toolmen 4-0

The Belvidere team ruined the Sherbrooke Pneumatic Tool softball team's initial appearance last night when they took a 4-0 victory over the newcomers in a regular game of the Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League at Dufresne Park played under arc lights.

Belvidere slammed pitcher Yergeau for eight hits to send the Toolmen down to their first defeat. The Toolmen themselves were limited to three hits off the offerings of Collins, the Belvidere pitcher.

The game, nevertheless, was interesting to watch as both teams seemed evenly matched in the first four innings. In these frames, neither side was able to score.

However, in the last of the fifth frame, Belvidere got rolling and produced two runs, one being a home run into centre field by Lefty Dube, manager of the Belvidere team.

In the last of the sixth, Belvidere again added to its total when they brought two more men romping across the plate. Try as they did, the Toolmen were unable to break their goose-egg and the game ended in a 4-0 victory for the Belvidere squad, their second of the year, having won over the Kayser on Monday 6-2.

Of the three hits connected for by the Toolmen, Raymond, their third baseman, collected two, both singles. The other safety was made by Blais, their right fielder.

For the Belvidere squad, Lefty Dube played a starring role as he blasted out a home run and a single besides. Chartier, the Belvidere centre fielder, also hit twice, both singles. Metivier, the second sacker, hit once and scored a run, as did Bi Couture, Belvidere catcher.

The next game for the Belvidere squad will be on Wednesday, May 31, when they will receive the Canadian Silk at Dufresne Park. The Sherbrooke Pneumatic Tool's next game will be Monday night when they visit Pariseau at the Seventh Avenue ball park.

Score by innings:

S. P. Tool 000 000 0-0 3 5

Belvidere 000 022 x-4 8 2

Batteries: Toolmen-Yergeau and Grenier; Belvidere: Collins and Couture.

ROBERT BEATS NUMA

Yvon Robert was a reluctant winner in last night's bout against Leo Numa, when referee Danny Murray awarded him the match at the fifteen-minute mark. Numa was unable to continue because of a twisted knee. Numa became the aggressor after the first few minutes of grappling and had Robert at his mercy on several occasions, until he suffered a twisted knee as a result of Robert's flying tackle. Robert declined to accept the victory, saying that he had not won fairly.

WATERLOO

Ascension Day was observed in the usual way at St. Luke's Church, the choral celebration of Holy Communion being attended by a large congregation, which included the members of the church school. The rector, in a short address, referred to the festival as that of the Kingdom of Christ and emphasized the need of extending His rule over all departments of life if the world is to become a place where the fullness of life can be enjoyed by all. Ascension hymns were sung, Mrs. M. MacIntosh being in her accustomed place at the organ.

The amusing comedy, "Toby Helps Out," was presented to a crowded house in Waterloo Town Hall by the members of St. Luke's Young People's Club. The cast consisted of: Johnny, who directs the play, Tenny Hall; Jane, who plays the heroine, Barbara Thomas; Molly, her friend, Charlene Perkins; Dave, who plays the hero, Gordon Dunsmore; Mortimer, who studies Latin, Laurence Hughes; Betty Lou, who lip-synchs, Judith Smith; Toby, who cuts up, Eddie Connor; Mrs. Harvey, who makes a promise, Joan Davidson; Mr. Phelps, who makes a decision, Murdoch MacIntosh. The action is set in an old lodge house and concerns the doing of a group of young people who enter a dramatic contest. The presentation was uniformly good, each member of the cast playing his or her role in an efficient and convincing manner. Special mention must be made of Eddie Connor, who in the principal part, frequently brought down the house by his strange antics. The production was under the direction of Miss Marjorie McKenna, who is to be congratulated upon the results of her painstaking work. During the intermission, entertainment was provided by Miss Pauline Jones, who sang, "Smiling Thru" and "Little Old Lady," and the Darling Brothers, who contributed a number of musical selections.
