INCREASED MILITARY ACTIVITY IN CANTON Typhoon Causes Great Damage-Famous U.S. Case Opens

Soviet Aviators Were To Assist In Chinese Plot

Had Planned Attempt to Capture Both Shameen, the Foreign Settlement of Canton, and Kowloon, Opposite Hong Kong—Increased Military Activity in Canton Is Adding to Tension Already Felt by Foreign Residents—Airplanes Daily Encircle Shameen With Apparent Purpose of Spotting Its Fortifications—Chinese General Made Bold Boast.

(Associated Press Despatch)

HONG KONG, July 10.—Reuter's Canton correspondent announces discovery of an alleged Chinese plot to attempt to capture both Shameen, the foreign settlement of Canton, and Kowloon, opposite Hong Kong, with the assistance of Russian aviators.

GENERAL CLAIMS HE COULD CAPTURE SHAMEEN

CANTON, July 10.—Increased military activity in Canton is adding to the tension already felt by foreign residents in their concession, Shameen. One Chinese general was reported yesterday to have boasted that he is able to capture Shameen in spite of the fortifications which have made the low lying sand islet, separated from Canton proper by a narrow strip of water, a military camp.

The general was said to have been ready to lose one thousand soldiers in three minutes under his plan to capture Shameen. He was quoted as taking into consideration the aid the Shameen defenders would receive from foreign gunboats in port.

Airplanes daily encircle the concession with the apparent purpose of spotting its fortifications.

Up to the present an intermittent steamer service between Shameen and Hong Kong has been maintained, despite the strike of Chinese workers. Strike leaders announced yesterday, however, that after July fifteenth they would stop all river steamers arriving. The date was set for the fifteenth because by that date all Chinese strikers will have been evacuated from Hong Kong.

FRENCH MINISTER TO CHINA RESIGNS FROM DELEGATION

(Associated Press Despatch)

PEKING, June 10.—Count De Martel, French Minister to China, has withdrawn from the delegation tentatively appointed by the foreign diplomatic corps at Peking to negotiate a settlement of the strike and subsequent troubles at Shanghai. Count De Martel explained his action by saying that Peking diplomatic corps and the Shanghai municipal council differ regarding the jurisdiction and power of the council. Negotiations will be useless until this question is settled, he maintained.

The legations at Peking consider the Shanghai municipal council purely an administrative body, Count Martel explained. The legations think the council has no power to represent the foreign governments in a Shanghai settlement. The council, however, believes its powers are broader than the legations concede.

CLAIM REPORT MISREPRESENTED FACTS

QUEBEC LIQUOR SURPLUS WILL BE $4,300,000

Cabinet Studies Liquor Commission Report for Year 1924-25, Ending April 30 Last.

QUEBEC, July 10.—Study of the report of the Quebec Liquor Commission for the year 1924-25, ending on April 30st last, was begun by the cabinet yesterday, the financial statement being submitted to his colleagues by Hon. Jacob Nicol, Provincial Treasurer. The latter states that the report will not be made public for several days. However, it is learned that there is very little change in the statement as compared to last year's, with a surplus reaching about $4,300,000.

The report will no doubt create interest throughout Quebec, both in the Ancient Capital and in the whole province, but the newspaper believes that there is no possibility of the war premier staging a comeback and that Hon. Mr. Meighen will be found leading the Conservative forces in the Federal election battles during the fall.

EVOLUTION CASE OPENS AT DAYTON, TENN.; DAY LIKELY TO BRING ONLY A GESTURE OF BATTLE TO FOLLOW

Lawyers of Both Sides Agreed that if a Motion Was Made to Quash Indictment, as Expected, Legal Arguments Would Take Most, if Not All, of Court Day—Thirteen Prominent Lawyers, Eight for Prosecution and Five for Defence, in Dayton for Trial.

(Associated Press Despatch)

DAYTON, Tenn., July 10.—As Dayton began today to move to the court house today to see John Thomas Scopes, formally charged with violating the law of Tennessee which prohibits teaching evolution in the public schools, there was apparently an even chance that the day would bring only a gesture of the battle to follow.

Lawyers on both sides agreed that if a motion was made to quash the indictment, as expected, legal arguments would take most, if not all, of the court day. Should this programme develop, the selection of the jurors to try the case would not begin until tomorrow, with a possibility that the case could not be actually started until Monday.

Thirteen lawyers, eight for the prosecution and five for the defence, were in Dayton ready for the trial. The court room was crowded to a degree never known before and a press table at which seats had been assigned 160 newspaper reporters extended entirely around the rail of the bar. Microphone and loud speakers had been installed.

Law Of Tennessee.

The law Scopes is charged with violating prohibits the teaching of evolution theory in all universities, normal schools and all other public schools of Tennessee which are supported in whole or in part by the public school funds of the state.

Section One declares that it shall be unlawful "for any teacher in any of the universities, normals and all other public schools of the state which are supported in whole or in part by the public school funds of the State, to teach any theory that denies the story of the Divine creation of man as taught in the Bible, and to teach instead that man has descended from a lower order of animal."

In Section Two it is decreed that "any teacher found guilty of the violation of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense."

The bill was passed on March 13th, and became a law when Governor Austin Peay signed it on March 15th.

Prominent Lawyers Take Part.

Scopes, a native of Paducah, Ky., and graduate of the State University, was teaching general science in the Rhea County High School at Dayton, when the law was passed. In the course of his duties he held a review in biology some thirty days after the approval of the act and discussion of the text book on biology and the so called "anti-evolution" law in a drug store debate led to a warrant for Scopes' arrest, being sworn to by his friend, George W. Rappleyea. A preliminary hearing followed and at a special session of a Rhea county grand jury, Scopes was indicted, charged with a violation of the law. Judge John T. Raulston ordered a special term of court to convene at Dayton, July 10th, to try the case. Rappleyea withdrew as prosecutor and Walter White, superintendent of schools, was installed in his place. William Jennings Bryan and his son, William Jennings Bryan Jr., became associated with counsel for the prosecution, and Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Garfield Hayes, who are among the most eminent lawyers in the United States, joined the defence with Randolph Neal and John L. Godsey.

The prosecution array of counsel consists of five Tennesseans and the two Bryans.

QUEBEC, July 10.—Thirty-four new lawyers have passed their final examinations and were sworn in yesterday as eligible to practise law in the Province of Quebec. Of these twenty-three are from Montreal, nine from Quebec, one from Trois Rivières and one from St. Francis.

CLAIMED PEON SYSTEM WORSE THAN SLAVERY

Report States Portuguese Colonial Government Has Been Requisitioning Native Labor in Portuguese Africa Without Pay.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, July 10.—Charges that the Portuguese-Colonial government requisitioned native labor in Portuguese Africa on a wholesale scale and used it without pay, were made in a report on compulsory labor in Portuguese Africa made public yesterday by Dr. Edward A. Ross, professor of sociology of the University of Wisconsin. The report, which has been submitted to the secretary-general of the League of Nations with the request that the slavery commission investigate, alleged that under the peons system the natives were worked on government projects or leased to private planters.

The system was described as worse than slavery, because the peon was often not even fed. Women with babies on their backs are requisitioned, like other laborers, the report asserted. The period of compulsory labor without pay may run from a few months to 12 months of each year and some of the gangs are flogged and tortured, it was alleged. Much of the brutality is inflicted by the native police who are unrestricted by their Portuguese superiors, according to the report.

Dr. Ross, together with Dr. R. Melville Cramer, a New York physician, visited nineteen villages in widely separated parts of Angola in their investigation interviewing through interpreters six thousand of the natives.

FRENCH SENATE MADE CHANGES IN THE BUDGET

Sent It Back to the Chamber of Deputies for Reconsideration.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, July 10.—The French Senate, contrary to habit, sat until dawn today, wading through the budget, which it voted and sent back to the Chamber of Deputies for reconsideration.

The Senate made a number of changes in the document, but declined to include one drawing a distinction between unmarried women and bachelors in favor of the former, relieving them of the ten per cent added income tax imposed on unmarried persons.

This in spite of eloquent pleas by Senators Debiere, (Nord) and Goutju (Rhône), who remarked that in consequence of the war, France had a surplus of two million females of marriageable age and that it was unjust to expect an additional tax from women who "already had the misfortune of not being asked in marriage."

It is hoped the Senate and Chamber will reach an agreement on the budget before Sunday night. Between now and then the document is likely to travel back and forth several times between the two houses.

BOX COVER

On top of each end wall is secured a square metal bar with three slots in which are inserted the ends of the bars which form the cover. These are of thin flat steel and may be sprung into or out of place.

ATTACHMENT TO THRESHING MACHINES

This simple device is attached to the discharge end of the grain pan. It consists of a plate with a baffle plate hinged beneath it so that the latter is in the path of the chaff and deflects downwardly to the tailings auger any grain which gets in to the chaff.

POTATO DIGGER

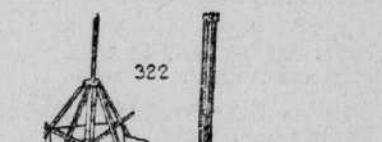

In this implement a grid is suspended from the axle. Vertical motion is imparted to the individual members of the grid by a crank shaft which is in geared connection with the ground wheel. This motion shakes dirt through the grid and passes the potatoes back.

PORTABLE HAY RACK

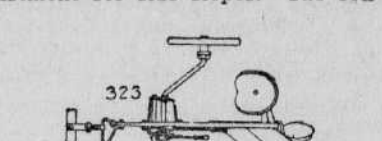

In this device the legs are connected to a ring which slides over the reduced part of the mast. In folding the rack the ring is slid up the mast, when the legs will lie against it. The brace members are hinged to the mast and fold upwardly.

WHEELED PLOW

The furrow wheel of this plow is on a crank axle which permits adjustment for side slopes. The control lever locks the furrow wheel so that it must travel in a straight line. The lever is disengaged to allow the wheel to caster in turing.

This gate is suspended on and overhauled runs on rollers pivoted between its double upright end bars. The oscillating levers are linked together and, from the link, a cable is attached to the top bar passing through rollers in the double central post. A pull on the lever first lifts the latch and then slides the gate to the opposite end of the track.

Queen Street is meeting with very satisfactory progress. Already the frame for the sidewalk has been placed the length of the street and a large amount of digging has been done in levelling the road and getting it ready for paving. The paving of the upper end of the sidewalk has been completed.

It was found necessary to break up a considerable amount of the cement sidewalk on King Street at the foot of Queen. It is not known why this was necessary, but the matter was objected to by Alderman Newton at the last meeting of the City Council and he asked that an explanation of this be given by the Road department.

IMMIGRATION DISCUSSED BY E. T. BOARDS

More Immigrants Will Come to This District Next Year—Views Expressed.

(Article III, Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade)

The topic of immigration was brought up for discussion at the recent summer meeting of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade held at Coaticook.

Mr. W. M. Hillhouse, Secretary Treasurer of the Eastern Townships Immigration Society, outlined his recent visit to Ottawa when several Government officials specially connected with immigration had been interviewed. Mr. Hillhouse remarked that he had been informed by the Deputy Minister of Immigration that three thousand families were being sent out to Canada from the United Kingdom, but that none of these was destined for the Eastern Townships, but would be settled on farms in other parts of the Dominion.

Immigrants Coming to Townships Next Year.

Although the Eastern Townships was not destined to have any or many of these settlers, nevertheless the deputy minister informed Mr. Hillhouse that next year more immigrants would be sent out here, and with larger grants they would be able to secure better farms, and in this way the Eastern Townships would no doubt prove to be very popular with the new settlers, and many of them were expected to settle in this vicinity.

Prosperous Farmers Means Prosperous Business Men.

The president of the Eastern Townships Immigration Society, Mr. B. N. Robinson, remarked that if the government carried out its present plans regarding immigration, that the Eastern Townships would be greatly benefited. The president took occasion to refer to the large number of vacant farms which were to be seen throughout the Townships. "In Stanstead County," Mr. Robinson stated, "there are over one hundred vacant farms. When the farmers are prosperous, we business men are also prosperous, but when there is a depression among the farmers we also feel it." Mr. Robinson availed himself of the opportunity to refer to the splendid work which had been done during the present year by the Eastern Townships Immigration Society, which had placed three hundred and ninety-six settlers since the first of January. He remarked, however, that he felt the Federal Government was not giving the matter sufficient attention and consideration.

Need of Work Stressed By Col. Payne.

Col. J. Bruce Payne said that in his opinion many of the settlers who came to this country were unsuccessful because they failed to work. Col. Payne gave an instance of two farms one a farm thought to be of poor quality had resulted in a fine farm, while another farm which was considered to be a first class farm had degenerated and fallen into a very poor state. The reason for the improvement and the failure was because in one case the owner had worked very hard, whereas in the other instance the owner did not give his farm sufficient attention. This failure among farms was also quite frequent in the case of returned men who had been placed on farms, they did not work and the farm gradually had to be taken back by the Government.

Equalization Of Conditions.

Mayor Eugene O. Baldwin, of Coaticook, strongly advocated equalization of rights. "I believe," Mayor Baldwin said, "that getting back to former conditions and prices and equalization of conditions is the thing for all of us to work for at the present time. How we are going to do this is an important matter."

Continuing Mayor Baldwin said, "At the present time there are many going on farms, well now, is it fair to ask the farmer's wife and children to work from morning until night with little or no pay, while in the cities other people are only working a few hours, and are receiving high wages."

"It is alright for the Boards of Trade to advocate buying made in Canada goods, I am a firm believer in this practice, but if they would set the example by buying 'odd-stuffs' which are made in Canada, instead of making a treaty with Australia to make entry for pulp and autos and in return get cheese, butter and other such products it would then be alright for farmers to work for small wages."

Wages For Farmer's Sons.

"We must bring down the price of manufactured articles if we want the farmers to act. We now think of tariff, where we don't get anywhere. These things should be left over, whatever tariff or protection is giving the manufacturer or government, the same percentage should be made to the farmer then Canada will be alright," Mayor Baldwin said. "Things will go from bad to worse until they reach a stage where the farmers will have to unite and work together, so let us get down to brass tacks, and realize that the farmer must have the same chance as other men."

Mayor Baldwin further remarked that manufacturers urged buyine made in Canada goods and yet they themselves did not hesitate to buy goods from other countries. Special reference was made to cold storage goods which were bought by large concerns, kept in cold storage until similar Canadian goods were scarce and then the manufacturers produced their cold storage goods and sold them at a very high price.

Keep Settlers in Communities. Mr. T. J. Parkes, of Sherbrooke, brought out several important points in connection with immigration. He strongly advocated placing the settlers in communities. He remarked that ten years ago the Boards of Trade was the first society to urge upon the Government that when the farmers came back from the war they should be supplied with farms. "The idea was to unite them in communities, not to have them scattered around," Mr. Parkes said.

Continuing to speak on the idea of placing the farmers and settlers in communities Mr. Parkes remarked that these communities should be situated near a good market where the farmers would have a good chance to sell their products. Supplying these farmers with an instructor from a Government Experimental Farm was also strongly advocated by Mr. Parkes. This idea was only partly covered by the Soldier Settlement Board, he said.

"However, only about fifteen per cent of the soldier-farmers failed to make good," Mr. Parkes remarked, "but if they had been placed in communities instead of scattered about not five per cent would have failed."

In answer to a question of Mayor Baldwin, Mr. Parkes stated that he only way to secure land for such settlements would be to send out government agents to secure estimates and to ask farmers to sell.

Three Reasons For Failure.

Major A. L. Pomroy, of Compton, stated that he was very pleased to know that the business men of the Eastern Townships were interesting themselves in the farmer's need. "There are three reasons," Mr. Pomroy stated, "why farmers have failed and farms have been abandoned. These are taxes, secondly farmers paid too high a price for their farms and are now not able to meet their payments and thirdly labor. It is very difficult for the farmer to get labor at the right price." Mr. Pomroy also suggested that in his estimation it was not a very good idea to place new arrivals in this country on farms where Canadian farmers had failed. Mr. Pomroy was informed that this difficulty was overcome to some extent by the fact that many of the farmers who were coming to this country were bringing their own help and large families, and therefore, it was not likely that this point brought out by Mr. Pomroy should have any great detrimental effect.

Considerable further discussion and opinion was expressed on the matter of immigration by the Boards members, following which the matter was left over until a later meeting with the giving of a notice of motion by Mr. T. J. Parkes. This motion provided that the E. T. Associated Boards of Trade suggest that any foreigners who are brought out to Canada shall be settled in communities, and that also if possible these new settlers will be furnished with a Government instructor for at least their first two years in Canada.

CANADIAN-WEST INDIES AGREEMENT.

The Canadian-West Indies trade treaty, which is expected to strengthen the commercial ties between these two countries by means of preferential tariffs and better steamship service, adds another link to the lengthening chain of Imperial preference trade. This pact follows the Australian trade agreement, which is based on mutual preferences that should enable Canadian industry to extend a market already valuable.

The Canadian-West Indies agreement is of major importance. Last year Canada sent the West Indies $15,432,000 worth of our products, and the treaty should assist Canada in sending more in the future as the West Indies buy twice as much from the United States as from this country. Canada purchased $22,000,000 worth of West Indies products last year, and should in the future buy much more as we purchase from the United States many things that would be secured directly from the British colonies if we had better steamship facilities.

Speaking of some of the reasons why the Australian trade agreement should be adopted at a time when its fate was in doubt, Mr. Edward Beck, secretary of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, stated that because of tariff discrimination, exports of Canadian newsprint to Australia fell from $4,250,000 in 1921 to $156,000 in 1924, and exports of other grades of paper fell by 25 per cent. Mr. Beck stated that important new papermaking projects in Canada, alike in the older provinces and on the Pacific Coast, have been conditional upon ratification of the agreement at Ottawa. Large hydro-electric developments are looking to these new enterprises for markets for their product. Thus a great deal of capital would be invested if the agreement went through, to say nothing of the heavy return to Canadian industries, which would recover the position they lost in Australia. "It must also be remembered," he added, "that ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and other vessels which are liberal purchasers of supplies in Canada and carry out Canadian cargoes will be benefited by the increased trade between Australia and Canada which must follow ratification. Every new industry established in the Dominion and all expansions of old industries provide traffic to reduce railway and Merchant Marine deficits and contribute to the revenue so urgently needed to balance the national budget. The practical advantages of the agreement to Canada far outweigh any minor disadvantages, and, while it may be true that Canadian agriculture will not be benefited directly, there will be indirect benefits, since by stimulating the demand for Canadian manufactures there will be increased demand and better prices for Canadian farm products."

Another link has been supplied by the British Parliament in re-enacting the McLenahan duties, which are of benefit particularly to the Canadian motor car industry, and by granting preferential tariffs on Empire grown dried fruits. "So far as Great Britain is concerned the preferential scheme is not wide; it is less important for what it is than what it portends," states the Toronto Globe. "It is a wedge that has already had a startling political effect—it has split the Labor party from top to bottom. But for election pledges the present British Parliament would carry through a general tariff policy with a broad system of preferences. The division in the Labor ranks will encourage the Government to go further, and it will not be surprising if in the next election the Conservatives revive the Chamberlain project of tariffs on foodstuffs so as to give the Dominions and colonies the concessions they most prize. It must always be remembered, however, that in Great Britain any substantial preferential plan involves new or increased taxation, whereas in the Dominions preferences have taken the form of an abatement of tariffs already in existence, as it touches their own pockets, but if the present industrial depression does not lift soon they may be in the mood for experiments and for a radical break with their historical policies. The issue of Imperial preferential trade has again come to the forefront somewhat suddenly, and it may become a dominating one."

PART-PAYMENT PLAN

Arguments for and against the part-payment plan in commercial business are quite frequently heard. However, the fact remains that installment selling has during the past few years steadily increased its scope, and whether or not a manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer is marketing goods or commodities which are adapted to this form of selling, he has considerable interest in this credit movement.

"The extent to which credit can be successfully employed has in the past been bounded generally by the cost of such credit in a word, the extent to which security in collateral or in prospective income can be employed to obtain cash advances at a rate of interest which will enable the funds to be employed advantageously," states the Toronto Financial Post. "It has been so in mortgage financing. And there is little reason to believe that this fundamental basis of credit is being changed. What is being done is to extend the system to goods and articles on the basis of the ability of the buyer to pay out of future income."

"Two main points are worthy of consideration; from the standpoint of the seller whether the articles or goods sold provide the basis for reasonable security for the deferred payments. And from the standpoint of the buyer whether the increase in final cost is offset by advantages of the immediate use of the articles or goods."

"In the present popularity of the credit idea such selling will perhaps be carried to unsound proportions and adjustments will be necessary, but so long as the selling is conducted with an eye to the actual security in goods or future income and the costs do not add unduly to the price which the public must pay, there is no reason why the plan should not become a permanent feature of merchandising. The extent of that success will, we believe, be the real but indefinite line between the use and abuse of credit."

Women's Institute Met

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute, held yesterday afternoon, a report of the annual provincial convention held recently at Macdonald College was given by the delegate, Mrs. Bert Dundin, an interesting feature of which was the fact that the Women's Institute has now representation on the League of Nations. The fact that the organization is growing annually, both numerically and also in influence and importance, was also patent, necessitating changes in its constitution and new outlets for its activities.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

BOYS' CAMP AT HOWARD ISLAND

A number of visitors landed at Howard's Island on Thursday and found everything in the best of shape. On all sides one heard it, "The best camp ever," lots of fun, lots of swimming, lots of games and lots to eat, on the best site yet.

Every moment is as full of fun as it possibly can be, the morning dip, breakfast, cleaning up the camp, the bible study, the games, the swimming, dinner, rest, games and hikes, then supper, games, camp fire with stories and songs, makes the next nine hours about the best the fellows have ever had.

Into all these activities, with the fishing and the boating, all of the nearly thirty boys have entered most heartily and the time is all too short, though the boys will have an extra day in camp, as it has been decided that the junior camp will not break till Tuesday.

The camp itself matches the surroundings, with the new tents bought this year, even with all the rain that has fallen, every one has been as snug as could be. The success of the camp has been greatly accentuated by the kindness of Mrs. B. C. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Howard, who have done everything to make the boys happy.

The boys were also much elated by the offer of Capt. Clark, who is giving the boys a cruise without expense, and all are looking forward to the sports day to be held on Monday, July 13th.

The senior camp opens on Saturday and a fairly good registration is promised. Those going will meet at the Y.M.C.A. at 2 pm and will leave to catch the boat at Magog.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE AT FAIR GROUNDS

New Roofing and Flooring to Several Buildings—Lieut.-Governor Perodeau Is Coming—Agriculture Feature Is a Novelty.

Repairs to the extent of eight thousand dollars are progressing at the exhibition grounds preparatory to Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition in the week of August 31st to September 5th. Each year certain repairs are necessitated and in promptly carrying them out, the buildings and grounds are being made to look better all the time, until now they may be considered in first class shape. The grounds themselves are recognized as equal to any fair grounds in the Dominion from the point of view of beauty.

Roofing and flooring are the chief parts which need renovating. The roofs of the main building, the arts building, the grand stand and a number of the barns and cattle sheds are being replaced. The roof of the main building has been in bad condition for some years and the need of a new one has been often expressed. Besides the covering, the grand stand is having a new cement foundation, including a cement floor entrance in place of the old wooden entrance. The lunch booths under the grand stand are being repaired with new metal sheeting in the walls. The above repairs are under the charge of Norrey Price. The roofs are to be of tar and gravel, and the considerable painting being done will be of the usual green and white.

In the past few years numerous beautiful flower beds have been created about the grounds and this year these are to be increased in number, with new perennials, which will doubtless make the grounds better than ever. In about ten years past there have been over a thousand trees and shrubs planted on the grounds and now sixty more are to be added.

Lieutenant-Governor Coming.

His Honor the Honorable Narcisse Perodeau, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, has signified his intention of being present at the exhibition on Wednesday, September 2nd, which is Provincial Government Day. Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province, states that he will not be able to be present, but his Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Mr. Caron, will as usual be present. It is expected that Hon. W. R. Motherwell, M.P., Federal Minister of Agriculture, will be here some time in the week, while of course Provincial Treasurer Nicol and numerous other important personages will be in attendance.

The grand stand features and special novelties at the fair have not yet been announced.

Special Agriculture Feature

The Federal and Provincial Governments are donating prizes for the special agriculture feature which is being staged this year. This new departure is the attendance of probably seventy-five boys in charge of cattle which they will care for and exhibit themselves. This is the first time in Canada that such an innovation has been introduced. These boys who are coming from various country sections will be dressed all in white and will form a special parade. They will be cared for and housed on the grounds and will probably be camped by the Sherbrooke and district Boy Scouts.

Rum Fleet at Port Colborne Has Grown in Past Few Weeks from a Few Vessels to More Than Twenty.

(Associated Press Despatch) PORT COLBORNE, Ont., July 10.—Newspapermen from Buffalo endeavoring to get news and pictures of the shipments of liquor from this port have been threatened by the rum runners and two were arrested yesterday on the complaint that while they had entered Canada on tourists' licenses, they were technically here for commercial purposes. They were eventually let go after their pictures had been taken from them. Yesterday another reporter from a Buffalo newspaper was threatened by the rum runners.

"Get out of here and stay out. It isn't healthy here," he claims he was told.

The rum fleet here has grown in the last few weeks from a few ships to more than twenty. Most of them are operated by Americans. Only three boats are available to the officials of New York State to stop the rum runners and there is more than one hundred miles of coastline. Two runners were chased into Port Erie last night, but the others have apparently landed their cargoes safely in the United States.

LATEST NEWS MINERS AND OWNERS OPEN NEGOTIATIONS

Conference Today Entered What Spokesman Called the "Cost Sheet Stage."

(Associated Press Despatch) ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., July 10.—Negotiations between anthracite mine owners and mine workers to renew the contract which expires August 31 today entered what a spokesman called the "cost sheet stage."

The scale sub-committee of twelve appointed at the opening joint conference yesterday to take up the annual dickering on the men's demand holds its first session this afternoon.

Statistical experts of both sides are being groomed to offer either proof or contradiction that 158,000 diggers in the hard coal fields are entitled to what they call "more than requests, but something less than demands" for a ten per cent wage increase, a two-year contract, the union check-off, by which mine auditors collect union dues from the men's pay, and for various improvements in working conditions.

The operators' representation contains principally new faces. The places of the scale fighters of other years have been taken in the main by recruits, who are led, however, by a veteran, W. W. Inglis, president of the Glen Alden Coal Company, of Scranton. The miners' sextette is led by International President John L. Lewis.

PIRATES AND GIANTS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

Senators Increased Their Lead Over Mackmen in American League Pennant Struggle.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, July 10.—The battle for National League leadership ends today with the Pirates still on top of the heap. Defeated in two out of three games in the present series with the Giants, Pittsburgh can lose again today and still retain the lead by a shade.

The Pirates took the first game of a double header with the champions yesterday by walloping four pitchers to the tune of 12 to 3. The Giants won the second game by 7 to 5. With the score 4 to 3 against the Giants, Frisch singled, Meusel doubled and Kelly put one in the left field stands for a home.

Dazy Vance, Brooklyn pitcher, proved yesterday that he could also hit. With two men on base he clouted a homer and the Robins nosed out the Cubs by 4 to 2. Eight scattered hits off Haines yielded the Braves but one run and the Cards scored easily at Boston, 5 to 1.

The Reds split a twin bill with the Phillies in the other two games of the National League, Cincinnati taking the first by 6 to 3, as Carlson weakened in the eighth and ninth after hurling brilliant ball.

Thirty-three hits were crowded into the second game, with the Phillies improving on a five run start in the first inning to win by 11 to 8.

The Senators edged a little further away from the Athletics by riding to an 8 to 5 victory on the wings of a wild pitch by Lyons. White Sox pitcher, The teams played eleven innings before Chicago cracked.

After pulling up to within two runs of Cleveland in the seventh, the Mackmen were beaten by rain and had to resign an uphill battle to the Indians, 13 to 11.

The Yankees and St. Louis were stalled up to within a game and a half of Chicago, who is in third place, by taking its third straight victory over Boston by 5 to 2. Leonard allowed but five hits. It was his tenth triumph of the year.

MADDEN SIGNS AGREEMENT TO MEET DEMPSEY

Floyd Fitzsimmons Plans to Stage Bout at Michigan City on Labor Day.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, July 10.—Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan City promoter, has announced that Bartley Madden, of New York, has signed articles to meet Jack Dempsey in a round no decision fight for the world's heavyweight championship on Labor Day.

Fitzsimmons said he would be unable to complete negotiations with Jack Keane, manager of Dempsey, until the champion and his bride return from Europe on July 14th. He declared he had received a cable from Dempsey, however, stating that he would accept the condition that he could get into condition on such short notice. Fitzsimmons proposes to stage the bout in his own arena at Michigan City.

Boxing followers look upon a match between Madden and Dempsey as the first of a series of preliminary fights which the champion has declared would be necessary to prepare him for possible battles next summer with Harry Wills and Gene Tunney. Madden is one of the rugged, aggressive, battle-scarred veterans of the ring. He has fought most of the outstanding men of his class and has never been knocked out. Madden has frequently lost bouts on decisions in the past two years. Wills, Greb, Tom Gibbons and Weinert holding verdicts over him. His only chance to win the title would be by a knockout or on a foul.

BERLIN WILL PLAY HERE SUNDAY

The Sherbrooke professional baseball team will be maintained on trial for another week to ascertain whether or not local sportsmen are willing to give the support necessary, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the fans last night at the American House. The directors of the club expressed the opinion that if an extensive publicity programme was carried out there would be an improvement in the attendance at the ball games, and such a plan is to be carried out. The club at present is not in need of direct financial aid but requires the encouragement of the sportsmen if the team is to be maintained. A game with Berlin has been arranged for Sunday and, since the last meeting here of these two teams provided a thriller, the management hopes to see a turnout of fifteen hundred enthusiasts. It is officially stated that if the crowd is not sufficient to warrant the expense the Sherbrooke Club has gone into there will be no more professional baseball in Sherbrooke.

USUAL MEETING HELD BY W. I. AT COWANSVILLE

Several Matters of Importance Placed Before Members—Reports Were Presented—Other News.

COWANSVILLE, Que., July 10.—The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. James Buck on Saturday evening, July 4th. After routine business a letter was read from the provincial publicity convenor asking that reports of meetings be sent to the county convenor early in the month, also that papers prepared by the members be placed at the disposal of others. A communication was received from Miss F. M. James referring to the exhibit of maple products to be shown at the National Exhibition in Toronto.

Ways suggested in which many can help are (1) Total list of the ways maple products are used in the home; (2) selection of best recipe; (3) samples suitable for exhibition. The Quebec Women's Institutes feel that the putting on of this exhibit is a large undertaking and they are relying on a great deal of help from the different branches, materially and financially. The Maple Tree Producers' Association have offered to loan a quantity of sugar and syrup in attractive containers, a miniature sugar bush and a statue of the Prince of Wales as a centrepiece. The Institutes appreciate this kind offer, and hope all members will do their utmost to make the exhibit a great attraction.

A letter was read from Rev. T. W. Jones, pastor of Calvary Church, Montreal, recommending the "Friendly Home" for unmarried mothers as object of fine Christian work. It is desired to have a group of ladies throughout the Townships banded together in prayer for the work, which is supported entirely by Christian gifts, and is entirely undenominational. The secretary of the "Home" would be glad to come out here and explain the work undertaken.

Mrs. Geo. Ingalls gave a very interesting report of the twelfth annual convention of the Women's Institutes held at Macdonald College, June 9-11. Mrs. Ingalls was a delegate ten years ago, so that the growth and interest was very striking to her. Dr. Harrison in his address of welcome to the delegates stressed the importance of work among the young people, interesting them in all things worth while, as a character building agency. Mrs. G. W. Beach, retiring president of Cowansville, was presented with a life anvil, was presented with a life anvil, was presented with a life anvil.

Much community work had been done in the way of building halls, planting maple trees, hot lunches provided for schools, prizes and scholarships given. Mrs. Philip, head of the School of Household Science, led the discussion that followed, and said there were many ways in which labor could be lessened in the home by better planning, thus making farm life more attractive to the young people. She also recommended that more interest be taken in beautifying the home and school grounds with flowers and shrubs.

A very interesting report on Child Welfare was given by Mrs. Warcup, of East Angus, who recommended that the Institutes keep in touch with the work of the Provincial Department of Health. Anyone desiring to give a poor city child a couple of months in the country may write to 45 Belmont St., Montreal, for information. Many other interesting matters were reported by Mrs. Ingalls. Refreshments were served by the hostess.
