SULZER ALL READY FOR FIGHT, WITH GREAT SEAL ANCHORED TO PADLOCKS

Has Privy Seal Under Lock and Key, New Locks on Executive Office Doors, Guardians at Each Entrance, and Legal Documents All Ready for Lieutenant-Governor — Secretary of State Has Recognised Glynn as Acting Governor—Administration all in a Muddle Now.

SULZER REFUSES TO HAND OVER OFFICE.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Albany, N. Y., August 15.—Governor William Sulzer to-day refused to quit the office of Governor of New York, in face of a written demand prepared by counsel for Lieutenant-Governor Martin H. Glynn.

The Glynn request for Governor Sulzer to hand over his keys marked the first attempt on the part of Mr. Glynn to take actual possession of the Government of the State.

Included in Governor Sulzer's refusal, according to D. Cady Herrick, chief of his counsel, is a proposal that Mr. Glynn and Mr. Sulzer prepare an agreed statement of the facts in the controversy and submit them to the Courts to determine who is Governor of New York.

Special to The Montreal Star

Albany, August 15.—One day of double-barrelled government has established that the ship of State is away out of her course. Something must be done to give one pilot supreme authority. To-day brings a crisis for the political powers see that if Wm. Sulzer is to be allowed to remain in the Executive chamber, claiming to exercise the power and authority of the office of Governor, the prosecution is in danger of reaching a farcical stage in advance of the trial of Mr. Sulzer for misconduct in office and high crimes and misdemeanors.

Lieut.-Governor Glynn, after looking over the ground yesterday, decided he would have to take steps to assert the power which he claims is vested in him by the Constitution. He maintains that when Wm. Sulzer was impeached, all functions of Government passed out of Mr. Sulzer's hands.

But the seat of Government yesterday was in the Executive chamber and Wm. Sulzer was in control. Mr. Glynn, hidden away in an office back of the Senate Chamber, had nothing to do but look out of the window. Although he has back of him the legislature, the Comptroller who handles the money, the Secretary of State, who has much authority in routine matters of Government, most of the State Department and the National Guard, he did not exert any more [illegible] in the actual management of the business of State yesterday than one of the [illegible] [illegible] that the men who are trying to put him out of office are guilty of treason.

Governor Sulzer kept stenographers busy at [illegible] on the jump. He signed papers and gave orders. As far as outward appearances went he was the whole works.

While Lieut.-Governor Glynn is a man of peace and would like to have things move along smoothly, it became evident along in the afternoon that he will have to do something. Defiance of the Legislature by Governor Sulzer was, he said, intolerable. So Lieut.-Governor Glynn sent for his lawyers.

They fixed up a scheme to oust Mr. Sulzer which is to be sprung to-day. What the scheme is was not revealed.

In the meantime Governor Sulzer is working out his own schemes to get legal approval of his course in holding on to his office in spite of the Legislature's dictum that he has no office because of his impeachment.

Probably two sets of legal proceedings will soon be under way, one inspired by a desire to throw Wm. Sulzer out of the Executive chamber and the other designed to keep him in.

MAKING NEW YORK STATE LAUGHING-STOCK.

The Government of the State is now in the hands of lawyers. There are lawyers all over the place. Everybody is consulting counsel, and there is a growing impression among the statesmen who are directing things that New York is beginning to be the laughing stock of the nation.

Two deputy sheriffs from West Virginia came to Albany yesterday to get extradition papers signed. They did not know that the Government of the State is torn apart, and they went first to the office of William Sulzer, who signed their papers. Then they were told that William Sulzer was not the Governor and they should go to Martin H. Glynn.

Lieut.-Governor Glynn, on being told that Mr. Sulzer had affixed his signature to the extradition documents, refused to have anything to do with them, which may or may not have been a tactical mistake. There was an opportunity for him to exercise his rights as Governor in signing an extradition asked for by the Governor of another Sovereign State, to wit: Governor Hatfield, of West Virginia.

The West Virginia deputy sheriffs went back to New York all twisted up. They do not know whether their extradition papers are any good or not. One of them, E. D. Gardiner, by name, remarked:

"This double barrelled government idea may be all right for those who know which trigger to pull."

The experience of the visiting deputy sheriffs furnishes an example of the confusion that prevails in Albany. The Governor plays a mighty important part in the routine affairs. [illegible] there are to be two governors what a mess they will leave when the matter of the impeachment of William Sulzer is finally settled.

William Sulzer has a lot of friends. Many of his numerous counsel have volunteered their services without expectation of [illegible] reward. Not an hour goes by in which he does not receive assurances of support from men throughout the State whose support amounts to something. He has gathered to himself the adherents of a large portion of the population of the State of New York. That fact cannot be disputed even by his bitterest enemies.

It was said this morning that Mr. Sulzer will refuse Mr. Glynn's demand for the surrender of his office, and will reply that he intends to act as Governor until the Court of Appeal ousts him.

GREAT SEAL SECURED BY HEAVY PADLOCK.

The second day of the dual administration in New York State dawned on a whirlpool of confusion in the capitol. A steel chain with a heavy padlock secured the Great Seal, the Privy Seal lay under lock and key, the way to the Executive chamber, William Sulzer's citadel, was bolted and barred, and from two offices the rival claimants to the Governor's chair continued to exercise their functions.

Control of the National Guard, access to the Great Seal, recognition by the New York Secretary of State and by the Governor of [illegible] neighboring State of New Jersey were prerogatives alleged to have been stripped from Governor Sulzer, impeached, by Lieutenant-Governor Glynn, who claims to be the Acting Chief Executive.

Possession of the Privy Zeal, whose imprint validates all documents coming before the Governor on affairs wholly within the State, and occupancy of the Executive chambers, remained with Sulzer.

A sensational report was current that Governor Sulzer would seek the indictment for treason of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and organization leaders who commanded the anti-Sulzer forces in the battle for impeachment.

"There's nothing to it," asserted D. Cady Herrick, chief of Sulzer's staff of lawyers, when asked if the report were true.

PATRICK MULLIN DIES IN CACOUNA OF BRIEF ILLNESS

Was Veteran in Business World of Montreal — Retired Some Years Ago.

WAS INJURED BY A TRAM CAR LAST YEAR

Was Eighty Years Old—Came to Montreal in 1851—Sketch of His Career.

Patrick Mullin who died yesterday at Cacouna had been a veteran in the business world of Montreal previous to his retirement some years ago, and for half a century had been prominent in this city.

The late Mr. Mullin had been in the habit of spending the summer season in Cacouna for fully 30 years. Following his usual custom he left Montreal for the St. Lawrence resort early last month, accompanied by two of his daughters, Miss Mullin and Mrs. Arthur Kavanagh, and two grandsons, Messrs. Harold and Walter Kavanagh.

Last autumn Mr. Mullin had been the victim of a street accident, being run down by a motor car and a waggon and had suffered from the effects to the extent that he had been unable to have his usual daily walk. However he had shown marked improvement of late, and this improvement was further continued during his stay in Cacouna.

On Friday evening last he was bothered by an attack of indigestion and retired. Feeling no better on Saturday, Dr. Meakins, of Montreal, was called to attend him. Pneumonia developed and from the effects of this Mr. Mullin died yesterday.

The body was conveyed to Montreal, reaching here early to-day, and was removed to the deceased's late residence, 71 Sherbrooke street west.

Brothers in Partnership.

At the time of his death Mr. Mullin was 80 years of age. He was a native of Omagh, County Tyrone, and came to Montreal in 1851. After engaging in various enterprises, Mr. Mullin and his brother, the late Mr. J. E. Mullin, became associated in the wholesale grocery business. They located in College street, as it was then called, but now known as St. Paul. They formed a very successful partnership, and each secured a comfortable competence as the result of their labors. In the early days of the trade, the railroad was not a factor, water transportation had not reached its present important position, and it was necessary to forward much material by means of teams. The Mullin firm at that time was enterprising enough to compete for business as far west as Toronto, sending merchandise from Montreal by teams the journey requiring about two weeks.

Both brothers had great faith in real estate and gradually acquired the greater portion of the large block from the rear of the present Grand Trunk offices to the Haymarket. Mr. Patrick Mullin was also the owner of various other parcels of realty. As a landlord, Mr. Mullin was out of the usual. It being reported to him than a tenant in Wellington street had cut out some of the fire timbers for firewood he not only declined to take any action, remarking "Sure, the poor woman needed it," but saw to it that there was a plentiful supply on hand for future wants.

Pioneer in Cold Storage.

The large block which Messrs. Mullin had acquired in St. Paul and William streets afterwards formed the nucleus of the present Canada Cold Storage Company. Mr. Mullin being a pioneer in that branch in Montreal. Upon the late John Mullin was at one time manager of that concern.

Mr. Mullin was always a man of quiet habits. He found his greatest pleasure in a good walk, rain, wind or snow forming no deterrent to his daily outing. He recently confessed that the greatest trial imposed on him by the accident of last autumn, was that it prevented him from having a good long walk. One other simple pleasure of Mr. Mullin was his love for a game of "Forty-five," a natural trait in all Irishmen, and many a keen battle has been fought by himself and his old friends.

Mr. Mullin was a man of unfailing courtesy, and was at all times gracious to his friends of younger generations, of whom he possessed many. His life was an illustration of such things. He did not ever accept the many privileges which his station entitled him to. He believed that when a man had provided for his family, and had secured a competency that would enable him to dress comfortably and live in peace he had attained a degree of happiness that great wealth and social activity could not offer.

Mr. Mullin was a quiet and devout Catholic. He had been a member of St. Patrick's parish. He devoted much of his time towards the needs of the useful institutions of Bonsecours Home and St. Patrick's Asylum, both of which owe much to his active service.

Mrs. Mullin predeceased her husband by some years. The surviving members of the family are Messrs. J. E. Mullin, manager of the Sherbrooke Steel Co.; Miss Mullin; Mrs. Joseph Curran, Boston; Mrs. Arthur Kavanagh; Mrs. H. J. Tribby, Vancouver; Mrs. Hart.

The funeral of the late Mr. Mullin will be a private one. A requiem service will be chanted to-morrow morning at St. Patrick's Church, beginning at nine o'clock.

BRIDGE GAVE WAY, TRAFFIC TO CITY BADLY IMPEDED

Truck Proved Too Much for Rotten Planks Over Mille Isle River at St. Rose.

Had it not been for the lucky chance that a beam intervened, two men and a five ton truck loaded with four tons of steel would have been precipitated into the Mille Isle River at St. Rose yesterday afternoon.

For a long time the bridge, which is owned by Alphonse Belair, of St. Eustache and for which a toll of 17 cents is charged, has been in wretched condition and it was not at all difficult to kick holes through the flooring. Yesterday the truck proved too much for the rotted boards which gave way. Telesphore Cote, one of the drivers, was thrown out, alighting on his head. His injuries were treated at Robert's Hotel by Dr. Asselin.

Traffic has been closed since the accident and the many farmers on their way to Montreal had to drive on by way of St. Eustache, adding fifteen miles more to their journey.

"It wasn't long ago that my three-year-old child fell through the bridge," O. Coutlee, one of the nearby residents said to The Star to-day. "It was just getting dark and suddenly I missed my boy. I was carrying a pocket flashlight and swinging it around I saw him with his head and shoulders above the boards. Luckily in falling he threw out his arms and so was saved. I hauled him out by the help of his head.

"The bridge is in terrible shape and the parties responsible should be made repair it."

COMMITTED TO TRIAL RE FUGITIVE'S ESCAPE

Mrs. Rosa Di Tomasso, charged with helping a fugitive from the law to escape in connection with the shooting of Antonio Sorza in a grocery store in Lusignan street, on Aug. 4, was committed to stand trial by Judge Leet to-day.

A letter found in the house by the detectives, stating that the accused had been furnished with money to assist him in getting out of the country, was produced. It was claimed by her lawyer that the letter was not written by Mrs. Di Tomasso, and that she had nothing whatever to do with the crime, as the alleged shooting took place in a grocery store some distance from her home. He demanded the dismissal of his client.

Judge Leet said the case required a full investigation. He fixed bail bonds at $500. Mrs. Di Tomasso must appear for trial when wanted.

The police are looking for Di Tomasso in connection with the murder of Robert Rolston also.

Last of Public Movies To-Night

The final entertainment of moving pictures in public open spaces will be given this evening in Lafontaine Park.

These entertainments, at which thousands of children and their parents have been amused and instructed by pictures of an educational, hygenic and moral character, have been given on an average three times a week for the past nine weeks in Fletcher's Field, Hibernian road (Point St. Charles), Dufferin square, Haymarket square (Griffintown) and Lafontaine Park.

Great orderliness was displayed at all times, and those who witnessed the pictures were not only interested, but learned useful lessons. The series concludes this evening because the funds are exhausted.

The scheme has been supported mainly by a grant from the city, with the addition of subscriptions from the Parks and Playgrounds Association, the Baron de Hirsch Institute, the Dental Association, P.Q., and the St. Jean Baptiste Association.

Those who gave their active services in the work of organization were members of the City Improvement League, the University Settlement, the Y.M.C.A., the Montreal Women's Club, and others. Thanks are also accorded, by the secretary, Dr. W. H. Atherton, to the General Film Company and Mr. Conover, of the Imperial Theatre.

EUROPEANS ARE GREATLY INTERESTED IN CANADA.

Discussing the Austria-Canada trade, J. M. Gibbon, the New General Publicity Agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway said to-day that it has been built up to a remarkable extent by the C. P. R.'s Austrian representative, Mr. Altman. Mr. Altman has persuaded the Austrian Government to send Dr. Pistor, secretary of the Vienna Chambre of Commerce to Canada, to ascertain in what manner the service may be further improved. Dr. Pistor is due in Montreal at the end of the present week.

The general interest in Canada in European countries is quite extraordinary, Mr. Gibbon said. At the railway conference in Moscow, attended by Mr. Gibbon, the interest in Canada was so great that the subject occupied a great portion of the time. Mr. Gibbon found that the Russian Government is much struck by the success of the Canadian Government's propaganda for immigration, as Russia is facing the same problem in regard to the prairie provinces. Several influential delegates and members of the Duma will shortly visit Canada to ascertain whether they cannot apply the schemes and methods of the Canadian Governments to their own colonization.

The prospects of emigration from Great Britain to Canada next summer are, Mr. Gibbon believes, very good. This is due to the excellent condition of the labor market and the scarcity of unemployed, which will enable a large number of people to save enough money to come.

TWO MORE KILLED, CHILD BY TRAINS, PAINTER BY FALL

Joseph Forget, Just Past Toddling Age, Wandered on Railway Track.

TWO SUFFER INJURIES, FEARED ONE MAY DIE

Unknown Man, Thought to Be Sailor, Delirious from Fall.

Two more accidental deaths have been recorded in the morgue. One is that of a boy just on the threshold of life and the other that of a man who had nothing more to expect from life but a peaceful retrospect. The boy was killed by a G. T. R. train on a level crossing, the man by a fall in the C. P. R. Angus Shops.

The watchman in the tower above the G. T. R. tracks near Dominion Park at Lachine was the first to see Joseph Forget, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. R. Forget, 109 Tenth avenue, Lachine, crossing the G.T.R. tracks in front of the park. All crossing gates were closed, but Joseph was barely past the toddling stage and must have slipped through unnoticed.

Knowing that the fast express to Toronto and the inbound train from Ottawa were due at any moment, the watchman shouted and danced up and down in an agony of fear. A crowd gathered in answer, but no one could get to the child in time.

Child Blotted Out.

Suddenly both trains appeared, flashing their bright headlights. For a moment the watcher saw the child in the middle of the track of the Toronto train, then he hastened on towards that of the Ottawa train. The trains roared past each other, blotting out the sight of the child. There was a general rush to the spot, many hoping that the boy had reached the space between the tracks. Then he was found. His head was cut open, his backbone dislocated, his arms mangled, and scarcely a bone in his body was left unbroken. He had been thrown to the tracks between the two engines.

Fall Proves Fatal.

Before the ambulance from the General Hospital could reach him at the Angus Shops, at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, Harry Bradley, died from a thirty-foot fall. He was painting the steel roof of a shed and fell to the earth, striking some old rails. He was bleeding from a gash in his head and from the ears when picked up. He was 52 years of age. A widow and several children survive, living at 1331 Measier street.

Two Other Accidents.

Yesterday evening was also marked by two accidents, one being serious. The victim is unable to disclose his identity, but is thought to be a sailor from one of the C. P. R. steamers. At 7.15 he attempted to go aboard the White Star liner Megantic. He stepped on a four-foot platform on the desk of the vessel, lost his balance and pitched forward to the steel deck.

He was unconscious when picked up and is delirious at the General Hospital. His case is critical.

As the result of a fall while attempting to board an engine, A. Thompson, 204a Sanguinet street, was taken to the General Hospital suffering from severe bruises. He was engaged by F. H. Reid on the G. T. P. Roundhouse at Southwalk, and was brought into Montreal by the St. Alban's train.

Kitchener as Snake Hunter

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cairo, Egypt, August 15.—As a relaxation from the cares of his duties as British Agent-General of Egypt, Lord Kitchener has taken up snake-hunting. A few days ago, when it was reported that a twelve-foot cobra had been seen near the Gezira Sporting Club's grandstand, the native police and keepers were ordered to kill it. They made one attempt and fled.

Lord Kitchener heard of it and sent for a snake-charmer. On the promise that the famous soldier would personally attend to the snake when it should appear, the native began his whistling. Soon to the horror of the bystanders not one reptile, but six crawled from under the stand.

The natives promptly bolted, but Lord Kitchener, with four of his aides, waded in with stout cudgels, and after an exciting fight despatched the snakes. His Lordship was so pleased with the afternoon's sport that he has permanently retained the snake-charmer on his staff and has spent many "pleasant" afternoons hunting cobras.

NO DECISION ARRIVED AT RE NEW MEMORIAL SITE.

The plans being prepared by the Tramways Company for the alteration of the route, which will be necessary if the Cartier Memorial is to be placed in its new location, have not been completed yet. It is hoped that this will be done this afternoon, and the decision of the Company communicated to the committee, so that they can give instructions, if the company consent to deviate their route, for the preparation of the site, so as to permit of the foundation stone laying on September 2nd.

WORLD'S BIG OPERA SINGERS SHARE IN VERDI CELEBRATION

Special to the Montreal Star.

Parma, Italy, August 15.—Italy's national celebration of the anniversary of the birth of Verdi was formally opened here to-day, and will continue until October 15. The house in which Verdi was born here was opened to the public this morning with elaborate ceremonies, as was also a national theatrical exhibition, devoted entirely to the history and development of the stage in Italy from the days of the early Greeks and Romans down to the present day. A goodly section of the display is devoted to the works of Verdi.

Beginning to-day, there will be daily concerts of the opera composer's music. Choral Societies from all over Italy have planned pilgrimages here to give concerts and enter in the competitions which have been arranged for the purpose of popularizing Verdi's music.

An opera season will be begun the first week in September in the Royal Opera House, at which all of Verdi's masterpieces will be presented in their chronological order under the direction of Campinini, of the New York Metropolitan Grand Opera House, who was born at Parma. The casts will include practically every great opera singer in the world to-day, all of whom have donated their services for the centenary celebration.

Later in September an immense concert hall, the largest in Italy, to be known as "Sala Verdi," will be opened, and a national monument to Verdi unveiled. The culmination of the ceremonies will some on October 10, the anniversary of Verdi's death, when a world-wide pilgrimage will be made to the tomb of the composer at Milan.

Assurances already have been received that the principal musical societies of practically every country will be represented at this pilgrimage.

WOMAN STRUCK IN COURT; MAN TRIED TO ESCAPE.

After striking Eleanor Burger so violently that she fell to the floor in the Police Court corridor yesterday, Joseph Patroik decided the Court House was no place for him. Leaving her screaming on the floor, he took to his heels and was about to disappear through the main doorway when he was caught by two detectives who had heard cries of fear and pain.

Patroik was taken immediately before Judge Leet who called him a coward, and ordered him to be locked up in a cell, without the option of a bail, until his case could be tried on August 20.

Miss Burger had just appeared before Judge Leet as witness against men charged with having threatened her with a gun and an axe. It was on account of her evidence that Patroik is supposed to have assaulted her.

MURDER MYSTERY DEEPENS

Police More Certain Than Ever That Montreal West Victim Was Killed.

BROTHER IDENTIFIES REMAINS IN MORGUE

Was George Muir, Whose Brother William Lives on 119 Chatham Street

As the investigation progresses into the death of the man who—as was told in yesterday's Star—was found near the tramway station at Senecal, Montreal West, with his throat slashed down and across by some keen instrument, the mystery surrounding the tragedy deepens.

The man was at first thought to be George Thompson, employed as a cleaner at the Reid Building, on St. Alexander street, but his name was George Muir, a brother of William Muir, of 119 Chatham street. The body was positively identified in the morgue by the brother this morning.

Muir lived with Mr. and Mrs. Corbin at 260 Lagauchetiere street until two weeks ago. He had since called there for a letter. After that he disappeared. His brother saw him on SSaturday last, but it was only a fleeting glance, as he turned the corner of a street.

Inspector Cowan, of the detective force, and four of his men, are on the ground to-day making a minute inspection of the spot where the two youngsters happened on the dead body. With him is Detective Lafiamme, an expert on the Bertillon system. Their instructions are to rake the district for half a mile for anything that may serve as a clue.

Thinks It a Murder.

Chief Charpentier, of the Detective force, is persuaded that the tragedy is a murder. There are cuts on the right arm, inflicted apparently with the same weapon with which the throat was cut. The neck is slashed horizontally and vertically in such a way that the wounds could not possibly have been self-inflicted. No trace of any instrument was found near the body.

Bloodstains near the Tramways station lent force to the idea that a struggle had taken place. An invoice found on the body led to the supposition that the victim had been a driver in the employ of the McClary Mfg. Co., but officials of that company on visiting the morgue discovered that this was not so.

Letter in Pocket.

The dead man was wearing a dark blue suit, tan boots and had two rings on his fingers. No hat was found. The lining of his coat where the name of the tailor is usually placed was torn out. A badge was found on which was the inscription: "To identify me telegraph Montreal this number, Canadian Register. they will take care of me." There was also a letter found addressed to "George Thompson, Reid Building, Bleury street," and this led the detectives to think that the man's name was Thompson.

Brother in the Dark.

William Muir seemed to know little about his brother's actions for the past year.

"I know him well enough and I'm positive it's George," he asserted as he came out of the room at the morgue where the body lay for identification purposes.

"I don't know anything about George," he added, "I haven't spoken to him for a couple of years. The last time I saw him was last Saturday when he passed me on the street and that time I didn't speak to him. He was dressed in good clothes when I saw him and was not clothed in the workingman's garments he had on when the body was found."

Had an Assumed Name.

Mr. Muir had heard that his brother was living under an assumed name, but could not say from whom he had heard it. He did not know whether the dead man was married or not and he had not known any of his associates.

He added that the victim had always been easy going and temperate and could imagine no reason for his violent death.

An inquest into the death will be held to-morrow morning. It will probably be adjourned to allow the detectives to gather more evidence.

DOUKHOBORS BURY DEAD WITHOUT PERMISSION.

Vancouver, B.C., August 15.—Advices received from Grand Forks point to a state of affairs unprecedented in the history of the city. For some time the Doukhobors have been in the habit if burying their dead without the usual permission.

The latest burial took place at 4 o'clock this morning, and news of the affair spread quickly.

A posse was formed and with the assistance of the police the body was exhumed and held pending the holding of an inquiry into the circumstances.

Feeling is running high in the district against the Doukhobors and there is a possibility of the wholesale eviction of the tribe.

SIR WILFRID COMING TO-NIGHT.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who will address a meeting at St. Hyacinthe to-morrow, will arrive from Ottawa at Montreal by this evening's express. There will be no official reception, but Sir Wilfrid will be met by two or three friends, and will stay the night in the city with them, proceeding to St. Hyacinthe by the half-past eight train to-morrow morning.

WILSON'S CRITICISM DISOWNED

President of United States Cables Apology to British Foreign Office.

EX-AMBASSADOR GETS A PUBLIC REPRIMAND

General Huerta Silent re Candidature — Will Re-open Chapultepec Castle.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Washington, D.C., August 15—Henry Lane Wilson, late United States Ambassador to Mexico, has been administered a public reprimand, after a slap at the policy of Great Britain, a country which any American would go out of his way to please.

It was a surprise to Washington to find out that the President did not intend to make an immediate acceptance of Mr. Wilson's resignation, and there is always the possibility that the President does not want to stir up the political ire of the Republican Senator with whom Ambassador Wilson is in touch daily.

The apology to Great Britain for the criticisms of that Government made by Henry Lane Wilson was tendered by cable, and the reprimand meted out to Henry Lane Wilson last night was from the brain of the Secretary of State, Mr. W. J. Bryan. Ambassador Page is instructed to express to Sir Edward Grey the deep regret of the American Government that a diplomatic official of the United States "should have been guilty of such an impropriety" as contained in Mr. Wilson's retort to the British Foreign Office.

Under normal conditions the statement of Henry Lane Wilson might have gone by unnoticed, but this is a delicate time and Mr. Bryan does not want to incur the displeasure of the British Foreign Office because of certain desperate steps he has taken to make ex-Governor Lind's mission a success—which steps he has not seen fit to reveal.

MR. WILSON THREATENS FURTHER SENSATIONS.

Another reason which is spoken of in Washington is because Mr. Bryan is very much on tenter-hooks for fear the controversy with Mr. Wilson will bring out certain secrets in connection with Great Britain's recognition of General Huerta. It is understood that Henry Lane Wilson is ready to charge that a well-known Englishman with heavy financial interests in Mexico made false representations to the Foreign Office. This would prove most embarrassing to Washington if a man of Wilson's standing and official relations should make such allegations public.

President Wilson was extremely indignant at Mr. Wilson's statement, and showed it in his talk with Mr. Bryan. He has held himself in check, however, and all attempts to probe into the White House feeling to-day are valueless.

PRESIDENT HUERTA KEEPS SILENT YET.

Mexico City, August 15. — President Huerta is unwilling either to deny or confirm that he will be a candidate for the presidency of the Republic. The Mexican newspaper men, in a written communication, requested General Huerta to make a statement on this point, calling his attention to the declaration made by the Minister of War, General Blanquet, on Wednesday that General Huerta was his choice for the Presidency.

President Huerta instructed the Minister of the Interior, General Urrutia, to reply for him that the time was too early and that he would make no statement regarding his possible candidacy within ten or fifteen days.

John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, had a conference lasting an hour, late last night with Federico Gamboa, the Mexican Foreign Minister, at Senor Gamboa's private residence. Mr. Lind went and returned unaccompanied.

Several thousand Indians in the Huatusco district of the State of Vera Cruz have risen in revolt, according to official reports received here. The Indians are said to have listened to promises made to them that the land is to be divided among them.

The presence of bands of adherents of Emiliano Zapata, the rebel leader in the neighborhood of Milpa Alta, within the Federal district southeast of the Capital, and other groups of rebels in the neighborhood of Texcoco and Otumba, to the northeast of the city, have caused the authorities to despatch detachments of Federal troops against them. Some minor engagements have taken place, as a result of which the rebels have retreated.

WESTERN CROPS PROMISE TO BREAK ALL RECORDS.

"The crop this year in the West, and particularly in Southern Alberta, will be a record one, for wheat, oats, and barley," is the expressed opinion of L. O. Armstrong, of the department of Natural Resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at Montreal.

He has been making extensive inspections of crop conditions in the districts named, and has found that the crops are looking fine everywhere, while all records for the yield of alfalfa in Alberta will be broken. The first crop at the experimental farm at Lethbridge was the largest ever grown in the province, and the second crop will shortly be ready for cutting. He estimates that alfalfa will yield an average of $60 per acre, so that farmers who have sown this product will reap a rich return. The oats which Mr. Armstrong is gathering will form the basis of a series of lectures, which he will deliver in various parts of the United States.

TO KEEP THE LEVEL OF WATERS

Commission Preparing Plan for Consistency in River Below Quebec.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—An elaborate plan for increasing, or at least maintaining, at a consistent level the waters of the St. Lawrence below Quebec will be prepared by the Commission now investigating the question. It is fairly well advanced in its work.

The function of the Commission is not, as stated in some quarters, to determine the possibility of the thirty-foot channel that has been decided upon and is being proceeded with. Rather, the idea is to determine why, in certain seasons during navigation, there is lower water, while in others there is a sufficiency of it.

All the way down from Port Arthur to the sea automatic gauges have been installed to record the flow and depth of water from week to week, while several investigating parties below Montreal are inquiring into the varying depths, volume, and velocity of the river.

The Commission will make a number of practical suggestions for works to overcome the variation in navigation conditions and to ensure a steady flow. It is understood that the suggestion of draining the St. Lawrence in the lower part at several points and allowing ships to lock through is not likely to be favored at all.

What is more probable is that, coincident with the deepening of the channel, a series of compensatory works, will be put in to regulate the flow. The way of doing this is by means of a system of submerged embankments along the channel to ensure a greater depth of water being maintained throughout the season.

MURDER OF TORONTO MERCHANT BAFFLES NEW YORK POLICE

New York, August 15.—The mysterious arrest reported to have been made last night in the murder case of the Toronto milliner, William Grieve Martin, had not materialized at police headquarters this morning.

The report was then amended to the effect that an arrest "in or about the city was expected hourly."

Martin was found dead in a rooming house where he had apparently been lured and robbed.

Deputy-Police Commissioner Dougherty, in charge of the case, denied that any arrest had been made or that one was in immediate prospect.

Circulars giving a description of "Mr. and Mrs. Johnson" the couple who rented the rooms where the body was found, not long before the murder occurred, were sent out broadcast by the police to-day.

CHOSE HIS FRIENDS WITH PARTICULAR CARE.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, Ont., August 15.—Mrs. Fred Paul, an aunt of W. Grieve Martin, stated to-day that she believes the crime was committed by someone who followed him from Toronto and was in close touch with his business affairs. She also said that Martin had few friends in New York and always chose those he had with particular care.

Mrs. Mary Burke and Mr. Frank King, of Malden, Mass. are spending a few days with Mrs. Burk's sister, Mrs. Lilly, 2nd avenue, Viauville.

YOUTHS CHARGED WITH CRIMES OF DREADFUL NATURE

Five of Them in Custody Plead Not Guilty—Recalls Famous Dr. Geoffrion Case.

Charged with unmentionable crimes five young men—mere boys all of them—faced Judge Leet in the Arraignment Court to-day and pleaded not guilty. The youngest is fifteen and the oldest twenty-two. They were Hugh Donnelley, aged 22, his brother, Clement Donnelley, aged 19, of 503 Albert street, Christopher Devison, 112 Chatham street, aged 17, and Tom Haggart, 491 Albert street, aged 15. Under the Juvenile Court Act, the last boy should appear in the Juvenile Court, but Judge Choquet, on his arraignment there, decided the case was too serious to be handled outside of the Police Court.

The case was postponed for enquiry until the August 21. The two younger prisoners were allowed out on bail of $100 each, furnished by their families. Bail for the other two was refused by the court.

In the rear of Albert street, just behind the houses on that street numbered 501 to 513 Albert street there is an old loft which for some time back has been used by the "club." Boys ranging in age from 8 to 13 have been the victims.

One little boy has been in the hospital for two or three weeks.

In the district there has been a wave of distress, misery, sickness and disease. One mother informed the detectives that her two boys had been ruined. In the small hours of the morning, a week ago, one of them had come to her bedside crying with agony, and sobbed out his story.

The arrests were made last night.

SIR JOHN SIMON SEEKS TO CAPTURE MANCHESTER SEAT

Canadian Associated Press.

London, August 15.—Sir John Simon, Solicitor-General, has decided to relinquish his safe seat in Walthamstow at the general election to contest North-west Manchester.

"Manchester at the next election," Sir John writes, "will be a critical campaign for many causes which Liberals hold dear, and amongst the most important is Free Trade."

This intention it is alleged in some quarters, is due to the desire of those Radicals who are devoted to Premier Asquith to lessen Mr. Lloyd George's influence in the Cabinet. Radicals of the Asquith type know that the Premier is much attracted to Sir John Simons' Free Trade advocacy. They consequently feel that if Sir John could win a Free-Trade victory in North-west Manchester at the next election and strengthen the free-trade position generally in Lancashire, he would become one of the great prophets of the Radical party and help to keep the Chancellor of the Exchequer a trifle more in the background.

FRENCH LINE TRIPS TO PORT POSTPONED

The agents of the French Line, whose steamer La Touraine, made two experimental trips to Montreal this year, have decided to make no further arrangements for sailings to this port, owing to many interruptions and the difficulty of securing freight for the steamer at this late time in the season.

"We are entirely satisfied with the results this year," said an official of the White Star Company, local agent for the line to-day. "La Touraine will continue to come to Quebec, and next year the company will institute regular sailings for the whole season to Montreal. The idea that any sailings have been cancelled is preposterous, as none were arranged for after the end of June. There has been no dissatisfaction with the service to Montreal, and the managers of the French Line are entirely satisfied with the results of the Montreal trips."

BABY FIRE SOON PUT OUT ON ROOF OF BANK BUILDING

Busy Apparatus Looked Like Toys Seen from Star Upper Windows.

A little baby fire amused itself on the roof of the City and District Savings Bank on St. James street late this morning, but not for long. The firemen answered the alarm so quickly that they seemed to get there first and to precede the clatter of their own bells.

Seen from the upper windows of The Star building, the scene had all the appearance of a miniature comedy staged for the benefit of occupants of points of vantage on either side of the street for a distance of several blocks. The "little world" variety of entertainment was easily outdone, for this was real although it did not look so.

Everything small.

Tiny red balls rolled around corners, stopped and discharged microscopic men who are chiefs in actuality. Hose like coarse black string were glued to the hydrant before the earliest arrivals were well up the steps of the bank, and ladder waggons slipped into the ordered confusion as certainly as if running on invisible tracks.

The fire must have suffered grevious disappointment. It was not given a chance in life. Its sputterings were of no avail. It was treated with contempt and sank out of sight ignominiously. All the fun went on in the high windows. The people in the street, who sprang up through the sidewalk, were too near to see the picture in proper perspective. The play men were full size to them and the apparatus formidable. Some tiny wound-up figures carrying babcock sticks disappeared into the building and presently, seemingly in response to the pressing of a button the Lilliputian actors melted down the cracks between buildings and the show was over.

TENDERS OPENED FOR CONDUIT WORK ON NEW SECTIONS

By the time the snow flies this winter, the citizens will witness not only the disappearance of overhead wires on St. Catherine street from Guy street to Papineau avenue, but will also see the completion of underground conduit work on Bleury street and Park avenue from Craig street to Pine avenue.

Tenders were opened at noon to-day for underground conduit work on two new sections, namely, on St. Catherine street from Atwater avenue to Guy, and on Bleury street from Craig to Pine avenue.

There were six tenderers for the conduit work to be started next week on St. Catherine street from Atwater avenue to Guy. The competing firms were: L. A. Ott, G. M. Gest, the Federal Engineering Co., C. E. Deakin, the Standard Construction Co., and Dietrich, Limited.

On Bleury street, where the work of laying the conduits will be much more difficult owing to the steep hill leading up to Sherbrooke street, there were only three tenderers: the Standard Construction Co., G. M. Gest, and L. A. Ott.

The detailed prices quoted by the tenderers were very close, and as no totals were given it was impossible for the city engineers to announce the lowest tenderers. The rough engineering estimates for the work, however, places the section of St. Catherine street from Atwater to Guy at $45,000, whereas the cost of the work on Bleury street is estimated at $120,000.

BURNED IN WRECK, FIREMAN IS DEAD.

W. C. Williams, 123 Prudhomme street, the fireman on the Vaudreuil passenger train that "swiped" the ballast train outside West Turcot at ten o'clock Monday night, died at the General Hospital to-day.

Williams was the most seriously injured of the crew of three. He was scalded about the head and body. An inquest will be held to-morrow morning.

The river yielded up another victim this morning when the body of unknown man was found opposite number 10 shed. The body is apparently that of a man about 70 years of age.

FRENCH AND GERMAN MERCHANTS' COMPLAINT.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 15.—Alleged sharp practices in trade competition by American textile mill owners and textile merchants are in part responsible for the reluctance of German and French business industries to take part in the Panama exposition, it is indicated in special despatches to the London Times from its Berlin and Paris correspondents.

WANT GREAT BRITAIN TO PARTICIPATE.

London, August 15. — Leo George Chiozza Money and other publicists have articles and letters in the Daily Chronicle to-day giving their reasons why Great Britain should participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The Chronicle also prints an editorial which expresses the belief that the government will reverse its decision not to take part in the exposition.

Lord Blyth, who has been the chairman of organizing committees for various expositions in which Great Britain has participated, and who has written extensively on the fiscal and commercial policy of the Empire, in a long letter in the Times to-day, warmly urging British participation at San Francisco, asks:

"How can we expect Americans to support the Peace Centenary exhibition in London in 1914, if we decline to be represented at San Francisco?"

AFFIDAVITS CHARGING GRAFT BY POLICE ARE GIVEN TO CONTROLLERS

They in Turn Sent Them on to City Attorney Laurendeau, Who Will Report — Investigation of All Allegations Likely To Be Held at Same Time — Premature Revelations Prevented Officer of Recorder's Court Being Caught in Act of Taking Money from Keeper of Disorderly House.

Affidavits covering charges of graft in the police force have been placed in the hands of the Controllers.

The mayor and controllers stated yesterday that they had not received any information regarding the accusation that certain police officers had been levying toll on keepers of disorderly houses, but to-day Controller Lachapelle admitted that he had received several affidavits accusing members of the force.

"I did not even look at the affidavits," the Controller explained. "There was no letter accompanying them and I simply sent them to the City Attorney for a report on the subject, because I am not an expert on the legal aspect of such questions."

Will Look Into Charges.

"I have had no time to look over these affidavits as yet," declared City Attorney Laurendeau. "If I find that there is ground for an investigation into the charges made, I will recommend that the Board of Control take the proper steps in the matter, and that all the cases be tried together so that one general enquiry may be made."

Mayor Lavallee was very glad when he heard that the charges had come to light.

"I was in the dark yesterday," he said, "but now that Controller Lachapelle has received affidavits on the subject we will know how to act."

Men Charged were Trusted.

Several of the charges already made, or about to be made, will undermine the character of several of the most trusted members of the force. This does not mean that any of the chief officers have so far been attacked, but that several of the trusted plain clothes men will be the first to fall under the accusations.

For instance, one of the policemen connected with the Recorder's Court is mentioned in connection with the charges. A trap was even prepared for him yesterday in one of the disorderly houses of the city, but the publication of the news that an investigation was under foot prevented him from keeping an appointment in which, it is said, he had no ide that marked money would be handed over to him with a couple of private detectives waiting behind the scenes to arrest him on the spot.

The Morality Squad.

Inspector O'Keefe stated this morning that whatever charges were being made or whatever toll had been collected by members of the force, he did not think it had made any difference in the work of the Morality Squad this year, in view of the fact that since the first of the year, his men had raided 190 disorderly houses, and in addition to this had arrested 134 street walkers.

The private investigation into the visits of certain members of the police force to disorderly houses was started as early as last February. The investigation was not completed when the news was made public yesterday, but those in charge of it say it will be finflished, although under more careful circumstances.

Valade says he Resigned.

Ex-Constable Valade, a man who knows more than most people about police methods in connection with laying information against keepers of disorderly houses, admitted this morning that he was the man generally credited with giving out the information leading up to the investigation.

"You can say this much, though," Valade said, "that I was never discharged from the police force. I resigned of my own accord. The Star was correct in stating yesterday that I had no connection with the Citizens Association or with any private detective agency in this matter, but it is useless for me to deny that I have worked in connection with the matter, and that there are still several members of the force that I will get yet. I intend to have a talk with the real men back of this investigation and I can assure you that I will conduct the remainder of this investigation in my own way without bringing in the help of any association or detective agency."

MORMON ELDER GIVEN COMMAND TO ESCHEW PRICES

Party Arrive With Women—Not Allowed to Talk to Newspaper Men.

More British women recruits to the Salt Lake City Mormon settlement passed through Montreal to-day, when the Tunisian docked at the Allan, Liverpool shed. They entrained shortly after at the C.P.R. Windsor station.

There were some twenty women in the party, which was conducted by five men. The women ranged in age from about sixteen to thirty years. Some carried infants in their arms.

Elder Lauritson was in charge, but was too busy attempting to undo a knot holding a piece of rope about his trunk with his teeth, to speak to a Star man, and referred him to a second Elder, who was earnestly trying to avoid inspection of his baggage by a U. S. Customs officer.

"Polygamy?" he queried in response to a question. "Ah, yes, I know what you mean. No, there is none of that in the Mormon Church now—not since 1891 when the Church issued a decree against it. Any person who does it now is excommunicated.

"What do we take all these women over for? Ah! They are seeking true faith, we welcome them to our Church."

Resplendent in a grey suit and heavy beard and moustache, an important looking somebody descended on the conversation and handed out its coup-de-grace in the form of a brusque command to the Elder to be silent.

Elder Lauritson, grappling with the rope about his trunk, had by this time worked several of his fright teeth loose, and rendered the stubborn knot considerably tighter.——As the reporter passed him he said a word that sounded very much as if its initial letter was D and the final letter N, but such things are also forbidden by the Mormon creed.

INDUSTRIAL DAY AT HAMILTON FESTIVAL

Hamilton, Ont., August 15.—This was industrial delay in connection with the Hamilton centennial celebration.

The unions showed strength in the big parade that formed at Victoria Park and marched from there to Britannia Park, where a big list of games and sports was held this afternoon under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council.

A number of the Toronto unions were represented in the procession, which was one of the biggest labor demonstrations ever witnessed in Hamilton.

At 10.30 o'clock this morning there was a parade of citizens' automobiles, in which several hundred cars took part. The bands of the 48th Highlanders, Queen's Own Rifles, 13th, 31st, and the Preston Silver Band furnished the music for the day.

ANOTHER ACTION RE POSSESSION OF DEADMAN'S ISLAND

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—Another battle for the possession of Dead Man's island, a valuable piece of property on the water front at Vancouver, will take place on September 8 in the Exchequer Court, when the King versus the Vancouver Lumber Company is heard.

Former Liberal Cabinet Ministers, including Sir Frederick Borden, will probably be called as witnesses, it being claimed by the Crown that the lease to the island, alleged to have been passed by Order-in-Council, was never regularly signed.

Mr. Eugene Lafleur, K. C., of Montreal, and Mr. R. A. Pringle, K. C., of Ottawa, will appear for the lumber company, which claims a right to a renewed lease from the Government.

Mr. E. L. Newcombe, K. C., deputy Minister of Justice, will conduct the case for the Government.

The island is now worth several million dollars, and is sought by two railway companies for use as terminals. It is part of Stanley Park, and was originally the military reserve.

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS, ONE MAN WAS DROWNED

A body found floating in the river opposite Windmill Point this morning and taken to the morgue was identified by Detectives Thibault and Walsh as that of Napoleon Chantigny. He was 58 years old, and lived at Montreal South.

Napoleon Garceau fell dead on St. Paul street to-day. Death was attributed to heart failure.

CROPS LEVELLED AROUND BRANDON.

Brandon, Man., August 15.—A deluge of rain, accompanied by thunder, lightning and a very heavy wind, passed over this district yesterday afternoon and while no damage was done by the dreaded hail, yet many farmers had their crops levelled by the rain, which fell for a couple of hours in torrents.

TEMPER OF FACTIONS IN 'DERRY IS BAD.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Londonderry, August 15.—So dangerous has become the temper of the Irish Nationalists and Unionists here that the soldiers guard were provided with ball cartridges to-day and ordered to shoot to kill if rioting broke out.

Three hundred troops are on duty. The Cheshire regiment is en route here.

A number of factory girls were hurt in a riot this afternoon.

Grenfell Polo Matches Are Off--Royal Canadian Regt. and Connaught Cup

NO WATER FOR ROYAL MONT. GOLF

The Well on the Property Has Gone Dry and Water Must Come from Dixie.

The members of the Royal Montreal Golf Club were notified yesterday to be very sparing of the water at the clubhouse, for the well from which the supply is obtained has suddenly run dry. The water gave out only yesterday morning just before the start of the open championships of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, and Secretary A. F. MacKechnie considered it a very unpropitious time.

If former dry seasons the supply has been very low, and this year the club decided to pipe the water in from Dixie, and this work is already under way, and will be finished shortly. In the meantime, however, the members of the club are heeding the signs put up throughout the clubhouse and using rain water whenever possible. If a spell of wet weather comes along the well will soon renew its activities, it is expected.

AUSTRALIANS

(By C. F. Lane.)

The Australians will be with us again on Friday and Saturday next when they meet 17 of the best local players. The Montreal Cricket Association decided on asking the Australians to play against odds, as, since their first visit in June, it has become evident that our Canadian eleven could hope to make a game of it. Before their first arrival, no one could tell the relative strength of the visitors and locals so that in the first game the selection committee rightly decided on playing the game on even terms; subsequent happenings entirely justify the same committee in asking for odds. The whole seventeen locals will perform with the bat, but only 13 will be allowed to field when the visitors are at the wicket. It is regrettable that the Canadian players have put up such a poor argument in Ottawa, but that should not effect the attendance of the match on the M. A. A. A. grounds, since Montreal shares with Germantown the distinction of being the only team that has been able to dismiss the Cornsilks twice.

A few words as to the visiting players is not out of place.

A. Diamond.—A better captain could not be found. His players respect and admire him and he has their utmost confidence to which fact must be attributed much of the success of their tour. His great forte is fielding, and batsmen should have a care as to taking any liberties in the skipper's direction. He is also a careful and steady bat.

Warren Bardsley.—The finest left hand bat in the world. How many thousand runs this player has made it would be difficult to say. He and MacCartney would be chosen on any All-World side.

C. G. MacCartney.—One of the most brilliant bats ever seen. He makes good balls appear "tosh" and scores at a terrific rate. Is also a first-class left hand bowler and a perfect field. His friends say that he is a greater cricketer than the famous Victor Trumper, and attributes his slight lapse from form during part of this tour to the god "Cupid." American cricketers owe a deep debt of gratitude to the little deity, if this be the case, since, if he caused more trouble to our bowlers than he has done, it would be awful.

A. Collins.—Another fine bat, but also said to be somewhat troubled with love sickness, hence his not being quite up to concert pitch. He would be picked on any Australian side. Can also take wickets.

I. N. Crawford.—Has played in every kind of important match both in England and Australia. He is one of the best fast bowlers in the world and a most punishing bat. His fielding in the slips is almost uncanny, nothing escapes him that he can get his hand to.

S. H. Emery.—One of the most puzzling bowlers in the game to-day. Has a great variation of pace and we warn our cricketers to beware of his full pitch which curves a foot in the air and "dips" just as it reaches the bat. Like many bowlers thinks he is better with bat, he is distinctly useful in that department and hates to make a duck, (this seldom happens if he keeps his legs clear of the sticks).

E. R. Mayne has, like many of the others, represented Australia in England. Is a fine free hitting bat and exceptionally difficult to dislodge once he "gets going." Can also bowl and never drops anything that reaches his hands. Is fond of cigars but like most of the others, a staunch teetotaler.

A. A. Mailey.—This is his first important tour. He is without doubt one of the best "googley" bowlers in the world. It is quite impossible to tell from his action which way the ball will turn, but it does turn two feet either way as he wishes. Is the most difficult bowler on the side to play. As a bat he is improving every day, and as he plays an orthodox game will be a star in that direction before long.

P. S. Arnott and L. Cody.—The two babies of the team, as neither of them is twenty-two as yet. They have each got a terrific number of runs on the tour, and are never likely to be omitted from any Australian side for many years to come. Cody had the bad luck to get over 95 three times in Philadelphia without reaching the coveted century. Both hit hard, and are fine fields.

G. S. Downs, the wicket-keeper, now that poor Campbell is in the hospital, is quite the equal of the man whose place he takes behind the sticks, as instance the fact that he only allowed 2 extras in both his opponents' innings in Ottawa. Is more than useful as a bat, and would be played for batting even if he could do nothing else. He also is another youngster from whom much will be heard in future.

It may interest our readers to know that, with the exception of Skipper Diamond (36 years), none of the other members of the team has passed the thirty mark as yet. The Australians could fill a whole bill at the Orpheum. Collins has a delightful tenor voice, Emery is a humorist and raconteur not to be beaten, Jack Crawford is a fine baritone, Arnott can conduct an orchestra as entertainingly as the far-famed Sousa, and Mailey is one of the best caricaturists in Australia. Those who met the Australians last time are looking forward to renewing their acquaintance. They stay here till Wednesday next, and play McGill on the Campus on Monday and Tuesday, after the Friday and Saturday match on the M. A. A. A.'s grounds.

JUNIOR BALL

Independent Amateur B. B. League.

Lions Vs. Stanleys.

The Lions and Stanleys lined up on Saturday for the third time this season, and was one of the best games witnessed in the North End of the city this season. The Lions, with four new players, made the Stanleys look very poor for the first four innings of the game and had them 6-0 at the beginning of the 5th, but the Stanleys, now under the management of Maffrey, found the Lions' young pitcher and made it hot for him during the remainder of the game. Solmon was on the mound for Stanleys and was hit hard at times, but after his team mates settled down he was invincible. Read, on the other hand, pitched stellar ball for the Lions, but once his team began to fail the strain was too hard for him. The game ended: Stanleys, 11; Lions, 7. Umpire, A. G. Millard.

Beaudoin Leads the Stars at the Bat.

Pete Beaudoin, the Stars', catcher, is at present leading the team in batting, having the high average of .477 for twelve games. Beaudoin has been hitting the ball with telling force all season, and judging from his present gait he bids well to equal the records made in 1911 by "Art." Ross with an average of .482 for twenty games, and Oddie Cleghorn last season with an average of .443 for twenty games, as the Stars' leading batters.

"Bud" Carver follows with .366 for eight games, and he is also playing a clever game at the first cushion, while Jack Innes comes next with .366 for fifteen games.

Events for To-morrow at the Island Bath.

The eighth in the series of weekly handicaps held at the Montreal Swimming Club will be run off to-morrow afternoon with the following list of events:

Diving championships, open — Senior, plain. Junior, plain. Senior, fancy.
Goose chase, junior.
Goose chase, senior.

The swimming season is now at its height, and the club grounds are looking at their best. Several fine rains lately have done more for lawns and gardens than all the watering pots in existence.

Photographers, amateurs and otherwise, are in evidence these days, mostly for the diving exhibitions, and, as before announced, those who wish to snap swimmers and divers are always welcome to enter the grounds.

The juniors as well as the seniors will take part in a goose chase this week, but as these geese are peckers, those who get close enough will have to take chances of getting nipped by them, and, like the man who said that the next song would be a dance, the prize for capturing the goose will be a duck, a goose being much too heavy and boisterous a bird for a small boy to carry home to his mother. Races at 3.30 p.m.

PRO. SOCCER

Royal Rovers and Canadians on Mascotte Grounds.

Teams of the semi-professional soccer league will meet in a double header to-morrow at Mascotte Park, corner of Ontario and Delorimier, to decide the second round in the new league series.

Royal Rovers will play Canadians at 2.30 p.m., and Rangers and City meet at 4 o'clock. Preparations are complete and everything points to a first-class display. Mr. Bob Walker will take charge of the first game.

The Star base ball club will leave on the morning of August 17, at 8.50 o'clock sharp for Plattsburg, N.Y., by the Grand Trunk Railway, Bonaventure Station, for their game in the afternoon with the strong Plattsburg Barracks nine.

From word received from the American town they expect one of the closest games of the season, and the team have been practicing all week in preparation of the Stars' visit.

The independent champions put in their last workout of the week last evening, and are in good shape.

NO POLO AS PONIES ARE BURNED

The polo matches for the Grenfell Cup, which were to have been a feature of the fashionable sporting season, have to be postponed indefinitely.

This is due to the fact that the consignment of polo ponies, to be used by the Toronto Club, is in such bad shape that they cannot be used at all.

Mr. Bartlett McLennan, made the announcement to The Montreal Star, and said that although the matter was greatly regretted, nothing could be done.

A local match will be played at Carterville to-morrow.

BLUE BONNETS

Seventy Horses Being Trained There at Present.

There are now over seventy horses being trained at Blue Bonnets for the autumn meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club, which will be held from Saturday, September 6th, to 13th, inclusive. The majority of these are Canadian breds, some of which are being fitted for the renewal of the King's Plate, and others for the Provincial Nursery stakes. The entries in both these events will show a marked improvement in quality this autumn, and it is almost safe to predict that a new mark will be established for the distance in both should the going remain fast. The two year olds named in the Nursery are all well bred and should improve the class of the field in the King's Plate of 1914.

Of the American owned horses now at the track the largest strings are owned by N. B. Davis and J. S. Tyree. The former has twelve horses in training, while trainer McCafferty has ten of the Tyree horses under his care. Included in the Davis stable are Sylvestris, which won nine starts during last winter, and has run some good races this summer, Tom Holland is another, while R. H. Gray is a likely one. Included in the Tyree string is Robert Bradley, which established a world's record for six and a half furlongs over a half mile course this summer. Yorkshire Boy, which has run most consistently all year, looks well after his rest up and will be a useful horse for the local meeting.

McCafferty has the rider, Harry Snyder, under contract, and has him at the course working the horses for him. The lad will remain here until the horses ship over to Connaught Park for the meeting there previous to the opening at Blue Bonnets.

The Love stable has several likely ones in training, including one or two purchased this summer. Velsini, which was schooled last spring over the jumps, is going along nicely and may make a useful jumper for this fall. Velsini has plenty of speed on the flat and is the type to carry weight.

WESTERN PROFESSIONAL GOLFER FURNISHED SURPRISE IN THE FIRST ROUND OF OPEN TOURNAMENT

J. Burk, of Fort William, Turned in Best Card of the Day — Murray Brothers Shared Second Honors.

Thirty golfers, of which number, twenty-five are professionals, played in the first round of the open championship of the Royal Canadian Golf Association yesterday on the course of the Royal Montral Golf Club at Dixie. The second thirty-six holes are being played to-day, concluding the tournament.

Most of the competitors played according to their usual form yesterday, and the only card in a nature of a surprise was that turned in by J. Burk of Fort William. He was an unknown quantity in the forecasting of the winner but his play yesterday put him at the top of the list for the first day. His 74 for the 18 holes in the morning excited little comment but the few who followed his play in the afternoon perceived that he was benefitting by his greater familiarity with the course and his splendid approaching and putting gave him the low score of the afternoon, 73, which was equal to the morning cards of Charlie Murray and Arthur Desjardins. Burk is competing in a Canadian golf tourney for the first time.

Charlie Murray, playing over his own links, missed hardly a drive yesterday, but he was off in his approaching and putting. Davie Black, of the Rivermeade Club, Ottawa, and winner of the professional tourniament on Tuesday, was drawn with him, and came nearer the hole every time, saving strokes on the green, though on several occasions his erratic driving landed him in positions that proved costly. The gallery followed this pair both morning and afternoon, though Albert Murray's play also attracted considerable attention. His card showed nothing spectacular but his 74 and 75 secured him a share in the second honors of the day, with his brother Charlie.

When the card of Arthur Desjardins, Charlie Murray's assistant at the Royal Montreal Club, was in, he was found to have equalled his chief's score in the morning with a 73. The record for the 18 holes on these links is 68, made by Charlie Murray.

Sensational plays were lacking yesterday though Kam lifted one to the tracks which, landing squarely on the top of one of the iron rails, jumped nearly to the green. His good luck on this saved him several strokes. Five amateurs are in the competition: Messrs. Charles B. Grier, E. A. Macnutt, F. Chattan Stephens, and Kenneth Archibald, of the Royal Montreal Club, and A. W. G. McAllister, of the new Kenawaki Club. Mr. Grier's card was the best of these gentlemen and he has considerably the best chance of being awarded the special gold medal for amateurs.

All competitors yesterday found the playing conditions much to their liking. Four of the best cards turned in are as follows:—

NOVA SCOTIA CANNOT PLAY FOR BIG CUP

Anxious to Do So, But Not Affiliated With Dominion Soccer Body.

President Fred. Barter of the Dominion Football Association, has received word from the Royal Canadian Regiment, of Halifax, to the effect that they would like to play for the Connaught Cup.

This challenge was sent in by the Regiment, who are champions of Nova Scotia, under the impression that the Nova Scotia Soccer body was affiliated with the D. F. A. Unfortunately, although the Nova Scotia people asked about affiliation, they never went any further with it, and therefore, they cannot play for the Connaught Cup this year, although Mr. Barter, and everyone else interested in amateur Football, would be delighted if they could have the opportunity.

BILLIARDS

English Champion in Montreal To-day.

Melbourne Inman, champion English billiard player, is in Montreal to-day arranging for matches when he returns to the city at the end of his Canadian tour. He arrived this morning on the Allan liner Tunisian. To-morrow Mr. Inman will proceed to Toronto, where he will give several exhibitions, and then will visit all the larger western cities, stopping in each for several days.

Since his trip to Canadt last year Mr. Inman has established several new records, including that for the Ivory Ball break, his total being 894, made on February 24. During 19 games played in England in the past season Mr. Inman won 14, and scored a total of 255,693, out of a possible 266,000 points.

NEW AVIATION RECORD.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 15.—W. Beattie, an American aviator, made a record at Hendon yesterday, by carrying three passengers at one time on his new Wright biplane. He made several circuits of the aerodrome, at an altitude of five hundred feet.

QUERRIE IS ALSO TALKING OF COAST TRIP.

Toronto, August 14.—An All-Star team from the "Big Four" will likely invade the west this fall playing games at Westminster and Vancouver the last of September.

Charlie Querrie, manager of the Tecumsehs, has been requested to take charge of the project along with "Billy" Fitzgerald, the star home player of the Torontos, who is very popular on the coast.

Fitzgerald and Querrie are to select the team and good guarantees are held out to them to take a team west.

When asked this morning whether he would take a team out this fall, Manager Querrie stated that he expected to win the championship of the Big Four with his Tecumseh team and if they did, it is likely that they will go out west after the Minto Cup and never mind the All-Star project.

If "Billy" Fitzgerald and "Newsy" Lalonde could be persuaded to make the trip they would prove immense drawing cards at the coast.

SUN SETS MAN'S WHISKERS ON FIRE.

DARLING'S MONTREAL RINK WAS DEFEATED IN THE LAWNBOWLING FINALS AT TORONTO YESTERDAY

They Tried Hard, But the Berlin Aggregation Beat Them Out.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 15. — The final for the Walker Trophy, which carries with it the Championship of the bowling world, was played at the Victoria Lawn, the contestants being W. D. Euler, of Berlin, and R. G. Darling, of Montreal. Quite a large gallery were on hand to witness the final, and although Euler was fully expected to win, the Montreal bowlers were especially cheered for the excellent game they put up. On the first end Murdoch, of Montreal, got his first bowl right on the path, while his second he drew behind. Cleghorn was a little short with his first, and through with his second. When Euler went to play he tried a run and missed. Darling drew a perfect guard, and Euler ran again, struck the guard, and when the smoke cleared away Montreal were 3. This was a most auspicious opening for the boys from the East, but the wise men from the West knew what was doing. On the second the Berliners turned the tables, and came back with 3, tieing the score. Worden tried an overdraw with two shots against him and missed, and Euler drew a third. Darling was badly off with his draws, and Berlin counted 3. Place, of Montreal, drew forth the applause from the gallery on the fourth, when he drew to the kitty with the shot against him.

Pretty play by Warden gave the shot to Montreal, but Euler drew one close to the jack, and Darling had hard luck with both his bowls, but Berlin counted 1. Berlin, 4; Montreal, 3.

The next end also went to Berlin, due to good work by Euler and Sims, and Montreal was one-two down. Right on the next end, however, they came back with a single. The shot was against the Montreal Skip, and it was all blocked up in the front. All he could do was a draw through a part, a foot wide on the back hand. He tried it with his first, but cut over; but with his next, he played it perfectly and drew the shot. A great piece of work. The next end was disastrous for the men from the East. It was a short short end, and the front part of the rinks got their bowls in a cluster round the jack. Sims opened it up a little, but Montreal lay shot, and it was still thus when Euler went to play his last bowl. He could just see a piece of the bowl, but he got it clean and lay 3. Berlin, 8; Montreal, 3.

The next two ends went to Berlin for two fours. The first was lost through Darling trying an overdraw with three shots against him when he should have drawn to save. In the next, Worden drew one right on the kitty, but it lay open, and Euler picked it with his first bowl and carried the kitty, but it lay open, and Euler picked it with his first bowl and carried the kitty over the line for a dead end, and saved an end that was very much in favor of Montreal. Playing off, Boehmer got two on the kitty, but Worden picked them both. Sims drew through a narrow port for shot. Worden wanted Darling to draw to save the end, but the Montreal skip insisted on a run.

This was extremely foolish as he had only one bowl in the count. Darling got his own way and ran, and as a result picked out his own bowl and Berlin got 4! Berlin, 16; Montreal, 4. Cleghorn, for Berlin, was playing a marvellous game and on the 9th end drew both his bowls to within a foot of the jack. Boehmer drew another right behind the jack but Worden, playing a perfect bowl and was loudly cheered as it drew in for shot. Euler, with another spectacular draw, rested on Worden's bowl and got the shot. Berlin, 18; Montreal, 4. A perfect trail by Worden gave Montreal a pair when the shot was against them on the next end. Euler first dislodged Worden's bowl but Darling drew in again and Montreal counted 2. Berlin, 18; Montreal, 6. The 12th end was a long one, a jack from the ditch. Platt trailed it 2 feet closer, but Boehmer drew eight on top. Sims tried and overdrew when Worden got the shot, but he carried out his own bowl and Darling, drawing in Euler, failed to draw and Montreal again counted a brace. Berlin, 18; Montreal, 6. The next went to Berlin for 3. Cleghorn and Boehmer both got touches but Worden cleaned one of them out. Sims drew a beauty and Euler drew a third. It was not an easy run by any means and Darling came very close both times, his second bowl just touching the kitty over to Berlin's bowls. Berlin got three and the score was: Berlin, 22; Montreal, 8. On the 14th end Berlin got one and the game was over, Berlin being 22 to Montreal's 8, with one end to go.

It was scarcely a game one would enthuse over, but it must be said that the Montreal bowlers showed that they can play the game. They play a strong forcing game right from the start, but Euler had the best of the breaks and his rink played far the most consistent game of the two rinks. Euler got everything he played for, while Darling was badly off with his.

NATIONALS HOPE TO BEAT TORONTO HERE TO-MORROW

Newsy Lalonde Will Again Appear on the Local Line-up.

In the Dominion Lacrosse Association and one in the National Union for to-morrow afternoon. The local fixture will be the meeting of the Nationals and the Torontos on the grounds in Maisonneuve. A victory for the "Flying Frenchmen" and a defeat for the Irish Canadians would make the race a more even one for the remainder of the season. It would give the French team a chance for the honors of the association. The "Flying Frenchmen" have put in several workouts this week in preparation for the match and should with the assistance of Newsy Lalonde, be returned the winners.

QUEBEC CUP SEMI-FINALS TO-MORROW; SONS OF SCOTLAND VS. LACHINE; JENKINS VS. SONS OF ENGLAND

M.A.A.A. Away to Valleyfield—Highlanders Meet Overseas — Dry Goods League Close Schedule.

The Quebec Cup still holds the board as the semi-finals are down for to-morrow afternoon. Lachine and Jenkins have waited patiently for two weeks to find their opponents and these will be Sons of Scotland and Sons of England. In point of attraction there is not a pin to choose between the meets, which will be pulled off in different parts of the city. Of this quartette Sons of Scotland are interested in the Quebec Cup only, the other three being Connaught Cup entrants as well.

Grand Trunks new ground will see the clash between Sons of Scotland and Lachine. The Scots have had three gruelling contests to earn this privilege, and will rest up from Wednesday's game, without any further practice. They are confident of success, feeling that now the team is a settled article. Lachine on their side are equally confident, and training of the strictest has been their orders. It should be a clinker, with excitement to the brim.

Sons of Scotland and Jenkins try their little saw off on C. P. R.'s ground, Angus Shops. As in the case of the Scots, Sons of England have had a rough passage, but on Wednesday were in vastly different form to the other games. Bazell is down for play, but his knee is bad through an old cut reopening, yet his appearance is looked for with confidence. With this man on the line up, Jenkins can be prepared for the "hot stuff," as no better or more dangerous forward pursues the gentle art of soccer than this same Bazell. Robinson, who was rested on Wednesday will turn out fit, and Garret replaces Holmes at outside right. The others are as before. Jenkins are a Second Division Club, and by the order of reckoning should be of inferior quality, but no one would dare to suggest a difference, seeing that Jenkins have a proud record this season. Yet, save for against a weakened Royal Rovers, this is their first true clash against a senior in the 1913 competition. Their methods make for goals every time, so doubtless Stacey and Robinson, to say nothing of Hughie Wright, will have a big tale of overwork to tell about on Saturday night. This is not to say that Jenkins are going to win, though the chance is as good as could be wished for, but they they are hustlers from the word go. No one would be surprised to see them win, only against Sons of England, every ounce of ability they possess must be served up. Or else they join the fallen. This will be a hummer without a let up, and the final blow of the whistle will declare the winner and not one second before.

There will be only one First Division game, M. A. A. A. going to Valleyfield. This should provide entertaining sport for the cotton town supporters. Valleyfield have this season made their best show for years, and have ample time to get amongst the leaders, with seven games to play. This state of fortune is a great credit to their committee, and the townspeople should turn out and show their appreciation in to-morrow's game, as in M. A. A. A. they will see the most improved bunch in Montreal.

The Second Division will go on merrily knocking off the notches of their schedule. Owing to the semi-finals and Jenkins being engaged therein, Highlanders were left without a match. But Overseas being in a similar plight, fixed up, and switched their September 22nd fixture. These teams meet on Dalmeny Park. Overseas having rented it from the Sons of Scotland for the balance of the season. The result means much to the Highlanders, as they cannot possibly afford to lose.

The other league games are equally interesting and important to those concerned.

The Dry Goods League bring their schedule to a close to-morrow, when Morgans, the prospective champions meet Murphys, and Goodwins, Ogilvy. This will close a most successful tournament, the first of its kind locally, the only pity that it is so short.

AN EVEN BREAK AGAIN YESTERDAY IN BALTIMORE

Manager Bransfield Says Gilhooley Will be Sold Shortly.

Baltimore, Md., August 15.—Getting an even break in yesterday's double header was all that either the Birds or the Royals could do yesterday, and considering that the Royals lost the opening clash of the series, two out of five should not be considered bad by that aggregation. Manager Bransfield admitted that Frank Gilhooley will probably be sold before August 26, after which date players in the International league are subject to the Big League draft net. Baseball folks hereabouts generally agree that Gilhooley is one of the best young outgardners seen in the Barrow circle for a number of years.

Frank Smith showed his old time form in the opener yesterday, and that means the Birds were at his mercy throughout, he winning rather easily to the tune of 2 to 0. But four hits were made off the Pianomover, two of them coming in the second and two in the ninth. With men on third and second in the second round Smith fanned Egan. After that the Birds did not even threaten to score until the ninth, when the Royal heaver was in the biggest hole of the afternoon as far as he was concerned.

After Daniels had lifted to Demmitt, Midkiff singled to Right. Ball then doubled to centre sending Midkiff to the hot corner. With Derrick up, the home folk were pulling for a tie score, but Derrick hit to Almeida and Midkiff perished at the plate. Houser hit to Esmond and his toss to Lennox ended the affair.

Cottrell did not pitch bad ball by any means, five of the seven hits against him coming in the last two rounds.

Almeida was the boy who saved the bacon for the Royals. In the second with two down and Gilhooley on first, the Royal center gardner stole and romped to third on Egan's bad peg. Almeida then came through with a bingle that sent Frank home.

In the next four innings, Montreal went out in order. With one down in the eighth, Gilhooley beat out a bunt, went to second on Allen's sacrifice and again scored when Almeida came through with another hit that sent Gilhooley over the pan with the second run of the game. The second was anything but a pretty game. Errors figured materially in the runs on both sides. Mattern and Taff started out but neither went the limit. Taff pitched nearly eight rounds while Matterns was Derricked in the sixth to let Yeager bat. Carlo pitched the sixth and seventh while Mason twirled the eighth, Carlo stepping aside to let Burns bat for him in the eighth session. Montreal had chances galore to add to their score, but the punch was not present. Eleven Royals stranded on the hassocks, tell the tale.

GOLF

Value of Playing at the Pin.

One of the most valuable points suggested in his book on golf by Jerome D. Travers, the present amateur champion of the United States, is the emphasis he puts on the value of playing at the pin as differing from playing merely to reach any old spot on the putting green. "Jerry" says that following a professional match one day he noticed that they always gauged their shots so as to leave the possibility of holding out in one putt.

In all my experience in following important golf matches for over twelve years I know of no two players who get so near the pin on the approach (regardless of distance) as Jerome Travers and Alec Smith, his teacher. It is simply weird to see how many times they get the chance for a three on a four-hole and a four on a five hole.

For "Jerry" or "Alec" to play a shot of from 130 to 200 rifle ball straight at the pin perhaps a few yards short or long is more logical than to expect the average player to get anywhere on the green. When either or both of these two great players are in the vein of holing longish putts there is no one I have ever seen who can stand up against them.

The average player can just as well start building up a game with the pin as the object of all approaches as to go floundering on assuming that anywhere on the green will do, and that all shots getting within a yard or two of the cup are "luck."

To begin with, let the player consider that all shots from ten to fifteen feet off the edge of the green are nothing but elongated putts. Go at them with mid-iron, putting cleek or putter, as he will, but always try by making allowances for slopes and distance with the thought of holing them from off the green.

By a gradual process this line of thought and practice can be extended so as to include all sorts and conditions of going, even to and including the pitched mashie approach to the green over a trap. It is just as easy to have the pin as a definite object in mind as to go along satisfied to think of nothing else but the whole green as brain food.

In practice "Jerry," at his best, just holes out enough shots from off the green and lays enough of them stone dead to break the heart of anything with an ounce of blood in its veins.

STRAIGHT DRIVE.

Green Leaf easily defeated Stanley by a score of 15—4. Miron, of Stanley, was not in his usual form and was hit hard, while McNamee who relieved Simms allowed but 2 runs and 4 hits in 8 innings. McLeod and Charron did some classy fielding. Charron also featured by his timely hitting.

HERE AND THERE

St. Kilda's Wireless.

St. Kilda, the lonely island off the north-west coast of Scotland, was last week connected with the mainland by wireless telegraphy. The first message sent was this, from the islanders to the King:—

"Your Majesty's loyal subjects in the lonely island of St. Kilda respectfully beg to offer to your Majesty on the occasion of the opening of the wireless station installed here, their most heartfelt thanks for the valuable assistance rendered by the officers and men of the cruiser Active to St. Kildans, when they were all stricken with illness.

"The inhabitants deeply appreciate the kindness extended to them in their hours of peril. They hope that peace and prosperity will continue to bless your Majesty's reign."

His Majesty sent the following reply from Goodwood, addressed to Mr. Macarthur, The Manse, St. Kilda:—

"The King desires you to convey to the inhabitants of St. Kilda his sincere thanks for the loyal message which you have addressed to his Majesty on their behalf. His majesty trusts that your improved communication may be the means of improving the welfare and happiness of his subjects in St. Kilda."

Mr. Macarthur, the missionary and schoolmaster of St. Kilda, has been instructed in the use of the wireless apparatus.

Captain's Swim for Help.

Thick fog in the Irish Sea last week was responsible for the steam trawler Lorwoone, of Grimsby, going ashore at Carmel Head about two p.m. She left Holyhead at one, and an hour afterwords went on the rocks, suffering some damage.

The master, unable to hail anyone on the shore, stripped off his clothing, plunged into the sea, and managed to get ashore safely in the darkness, dragging his clothes by a line, and then proceeded for help over a rough country for a distance of three miles.

When he arrived at Amlwich he sent a telegram to Holyhead for assistance, and at 7-30 a.m. the steam lifeboat Duke of Northumberland towed the trawler, which had previously floated, to Holyhead.

Depopulation Alarms France.

Figures showing depopulation in France, just published, are regarded as the most startling in years. In the department of Gers, the figures showed that for every 100 babies born, 142 people died; in Lot-et-Garonne the proportion is 100 to 131. In thirty departments the deaths outnumbered the births while in only nine departments did the births come up to the average for the German Empire.

A "Superstitious Ceremony."

At the Queen's Hall, Edinburgh, Pastor Jacob Primmer presiding, a resolution was passed regarding with sorrow and alarm that King George at the instance of his advisers, revived the ancient mediaeval superstitious ceremony of the installation of the Knights of the Bath.

"Kidnapped" Him to Prayer.

The Rev. C. Albert Thomas, a young Episcopal clergyman from Canonsburg, Pa., was busy in the rectory of St. Mark's Church in Washington, at which he is a summer supply, when a strange man, stammering attempted explanations, bundled him into a taxicab almost by force and rushed him away.

When the Rev. Mr. Thomas recounted his adventures, he realized that he had been kidnapped to the Capitol of the United States, introduced to the Vice-President and had opened a session of the Senate with prayer.

Chaplain Prettyman forgot the Senate was to meet at 11 o'clock beginning to-day, instead of noon. Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms McGrain had just twelve minutes to find a preacher and got busy.

Fatal Revolver Trick.

Once more the danger of performing tricks with loaded firearms was exampled at an inquest on William Thomas Harrod, aged twenty-seven, a cycle maker, of New City-road, Plaistow.

While showing his collection of old firearms to some friends, Harrod said he would show them a trick. He put a cartridge into a revolver, pointed it at his head, and fired. The bullet went through his temple, and he fell dead.

A friend said he had seen Harrod perform the trick a number of times. He placed the cartridge in the revolver, and the pulling of the trigger caused the chamber to turn so that the cartridge was not struck.

Made His Wife a Thief.

Frank O'Brien told a story of conscience and cupidity in the Court at Kansas city.

He had been working for $40 a month and stole for his wife, that she might have little luxuries. Then he could go neither to church nor to confession. His wife grieved, and under the influence of morphine, stole some worthless trifles that she might be a thief with him.

"When can you go to confession?" asked the Court.

"On Saturday," said the repentant thief.

"And on the next Sunday go to church with your wife—look people in the face again—and on Tuesday come back into this court," Judge Clark told him, noting a week's continuance on the court docket.

POLES TO VANISH ON ST. CATHERINE ST. BY NOVEMBER 1

Work of Laying Conduits on North Side Practically Finished.

General satisfaction was expressed at the City Hall to-day when it was announced that G. M. Gest, the contractor who has charge of the laying of underground conduits on St. Catherine street, had practically completed the work on the north side of St. Catherine street, and is ready to start work on the south side of the street.

He is already ahead of schedule time on the work, and it looks as if overhead wires and unsightly poles will be unknown on St. Catherine street after November 1 of this year. The contractor was delayed by the workmen of the Tramways Company, who have been engaged most of the summer in tearing up and replacing car tracks, but the underground work has gone ahead without more annoyance than was possible.

Connections Made.

What will probably astonish the public more than anything else is the fact that connections with the underground conduit have been made with all houses and stores on the north side of St. Catherine street. People feared it would be necessary to cut across the sidewalk in order to make the connections with the buildings; but the operations were all conducted by tunnelling underground, even before the tenants of the stores knew what was going on.

The most difficult work of all was that at street intersections, but this is all completed; and the workmen are only waiting until the work on the south side is finished to connect the ducs. All connections are also ready for the ornamental lamp poles, which are to replace the present electric light poles.

Labor troubles, particularly the moulders' strike, delayed the work somewhat, and for this reason, the castings for the manholes are not ready.

According to the announcement made by the Electric Service Commission to-day, the entire work should be finished sometime in November. Thus the first long stride towards the complete burial of overhead wires will be taken.

SEYKER TO TRIAL.

Carl Seyker who is charged by Mrs. Bradley, of 324 Lagauchetiere street east, and 28 Union avenue, with obtaining the furniture of one of her houses and the lease by false pretences, appeared before Judge Leet in the Arraignment Court yesterday, and was committed to stand trial before Judge Bazin in the Court of Special Sessions.

IMPOSING NEW STATION FOR C.P.R. AT TRENTON, ONT.

The divisional point of the new Lake Shore line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which will give a double track between Montreal and Toronto, will be at Trenton. An imposing station is to be erected there.

There will also be a freight shed about one hundred and fifty feet in length, a tank, with a holding capacity of 40,000 gallons, turn table, tool house, a twelve-stall locomotive house, machine and boiler house, coaling plant and other buildings.

The contract for the erection of these buildings, as well as for that of all the others on the new line, has been secured by John Metcalfe and Company of Montreal. It is intended to complete all the structures this year.

DIES WITHOUT GIVING CLUE TO MURDERER.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, August 15.—Brutally beaten by an unknown man while sleeping in a lonely bush on the banks of the Humber River about a week ago, Hugh Hassan, aged sixty-five years, of 141 Edwin Avenue West, Toronto, died in the Western Hospital yesterday, without having said anything shedding light on the identity of his murderer. The County detectives so far have failed to unearth any clue, and the Provincial police will likely be asked to take up the case.

HUDSON'S BAY CO.'S BANQUET WILL BE UNIQUE GATHERING

Special to The Montreal Star.

Calgary, Alta., August 15.—One of the most unique gatherings ever held in Western Canada will take place at Calgary next Monday night, when the managers of all of the Hudson's Bay Company's stores will attend a banquet to be given in the new Calgary store in honor of the opening, which takes place on that day.

The Hudson's Bay Company has some sixteen stores scattered throughout the great west, by far the largest system in Canada, and with possibly one or two exceptions the heads of all these various units will assemble at Calgary to attend the opening ceremonies of the new store which has been erected and equipped at a cost of two million dollars.

Another interesting feature of the banquet will be the presence of a number of the company's fur traders. It will be a meeting of the new and the old, the mingling of the men engaged in the company's old and exclusive business of buying furs and those who represent its new and great mercantile policy which is due eventually to grow to proportions far beyond the imagination of the old Company of Gentlemen and Adventurers of England Trading Into Hudson Bay.

U. S. SENATORS DISCUSS LLOYD GEORGE'S SPEECH

Washington, August 15.—Chancellor Lloyd George's speech in the British Parliament predicting a revolutionary protest from the people against increasing armaments was the subject of an interesting discussion here yesterday.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, and Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the committee on military affairs, agreed that the Chancellor of the Exchequer had touched on a very grave tendency of modern government.

Mr. Tillman expressed the view that while the Secretary of State's peace treaties pointed out a course it would be well for humanity to follow, the policy embodied in those treaties was chimerical. Mr. Chamberlain thought that where individual treaties of arbitration between two countries full of their purpose a general international agreement might prove effective.

U. S. HAS SLIGHT FORM OF DISEASE.

"Mr. Lloyd George has certainly touched on a very important subject—one of vital interest to all European nations," said Mr. Tillman. "The question over there seems to be which one of them will break down financially first. We have a slight form of the disease over here, for some men are always conjuring up a war with Japan, especially those who are interested in a big navy. I have suspected that the shipbuilding and the armor-making people have employed some men to get up these periodical scares, for they always come when the Naval Appropriation Bill is being prepared.

"The way nations now follow each other's lead in increasing armaments," said Mr. Chamberlain, "results in a piling of Pelion on Ossa, and there is no end to it unless the people make violent protest, or the great powers of the world find some common ground for an agreement limiting military expenditures. As things stand, the United States cannot permit herself to drop behind Japan, Great Britain and the other Powers in the race for preparedness. But it seems to me that all the countries might relax their present standard if they could arrange to do it at the same time."

MUST ADHERE TO LAKE AND RIVER BOAT RULES.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—There were a good many accidents on lake and river boat lines last season, and this year the regulations were stiffened. Inspectors were instructed to carry out their inspections vigorously, and they have been doing so.

The altered conditions caused surprise in several sources and protests from boat-owners and managers have been coming to Ottawa. It is, of course, not intended to vary the regulations in the slightest degree as regards leniency.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

FASHION HINTS

By Lillian Young.

Novelty in evening gowns is recognized in unique touches rather than in decided innovations. Many a design that appears at first glance to be something entirely new will upon closer observation be found to be made up upon familiar lines differently arranged, or else, quite as likely, it is an odd material that turns the trick.

While brocades are hardly typical of summer, yet many of the newer gowns are fashioned from it, getting on toward the close of the season, with the view toward appropriateness for the fall, and for the coming fall and winter we are promised even more wonderful things of brocades, both in richness of material, color, and design, than we have yet seen.

For the lovely and simply-made evening gown shown in to-day's sketch brocade in a delicate thistle tone is used with chiffon and latticed pearl bead banding in a charming design.

Just as often as not it is the skirt that is draped instead of the tunic, and so it is in this case, where the draping from in front is curved below the hips and brought up to the waist line again in back, leaving plain set-in sections over the hips. The lower edge of the skirt has quite a generous slash cut out above the feet, but this is filled in with a soft fall of cream-colored shadow lace.

There is a girdle and novel sash end dependent therefrom of a lighter shade of chiffon. The sash end is finished at the end with a section of the latticed pearl banding and a cabochon and tassel of pearl beads.

The chiffon corsage is surpliced over an under-bodice of white mousseline, which shows between the two fronts and forms a foundation for the latticed beads. More of the pearl bead trimming is set on the sleeve ends, making the length not quite elbow.

From the above girdle in front and in back a double pointed bib of brocade is caught over the lower part of the blouse.

Fanciful side drapings are much in order. They are very graceful and they permit the use of all sorts of odd ornaments for catching up and holding the folds. Much art lies in successful draping. It is not enough that the little folds fall into graceful lines under the manipulator's fingers, but they must be made to retain the lines with an appearance of carelessness, though fixed securely.

On Street Manners.

No one can deny the fact that the street manners of our generation leave a great deal to be desired.

We deem it necessary to teach our children such maxims as "Don't point," and "Don't push," but we seem to think that we are free from these "dont's" as soon as we reach maturity.

A walk from one end of a crowded public thoroughfare to the other is an absoluate martyrdom. One is pushed and shoved, and has one's toes stamped on with impunity. A stranger in the city made the remark that the first day he walked down a certain local street he thought that there was some accident or fire near, everyone was hurrying along without any thought for anyone else, and people brushed him aside and knocked into him as if he had no right in the place at all.

After the few first days in the city he gave up apologising to passers-by when he bumped into them as a stare of surprise was all that greeted him.

Now this may be a new civilization, and everyone is no doubt in a great hurry to "make good" in some way, but what is a monied society without the touches that make it charming and interesting, the little leaven of thoughtful politeness that leavens the otherwise heavy and uninteresting lump. If everyone attempted to observe some sort of "rule of the road" with the accompanying courtesies it would alleviate the discomfort of narrow streets greatly, half a minute's thought before rushing past someone who is not going at quite the same speed as ourselves, a well-expressed apology when accidently upsetting him, all these sort of things would help tremendously and although the spiritual side of Christianity is often insisted upon it would be well to sometimes remember the social side, which is well expressed in the advice "Be courteous."

MARY HOWE.

How to Keep Young and Attractive.

THE GOOD AND EVIL OF VEILS.

By Abigail Moore.

"Nervousness, eyestrain, near-sightedness, squinting, headache, and fatigue," declares Dr. Norman Barnesby, "are inevitable effects of wearing splotched or dotted veils." He is undoubtedly right in so far as some of the veils are concerned, at any rate, and when he adds that the veil is a mark of vanity, "frankly donned as one more mark of attraction," he is partially right again.

It is a mark of vanity, but the veil also serves a practical purpose. There are many women who can no more afford to go veilless than some others can wear with impunity collarless blouses. On the other hand, there are many women to whom the veil is unbecoming—and there you are. But when the doctor goes so far as to say that there is no virtue in a veil he is carrying his antagonism against the bit of net too far.

It does protect the face and prevent particles of dust from entering the eyes, and it is well known that a veil is an efficacious preventive of neuralgia of the face. True it is that the veil is a dust collector, and if, as the doctor says, "the mesh catches and holds tight to all dust and bacteria, to be rubbed into the skin," it only needs an experiment to ascertain whether the unveiled face or the veil catches the dust more readily. There is nothing to be said in favor of the odd, conspicuous, figured veils fashion has permitted of late. They are ridiculous, of a delusion in that the washing thickens their mesh and impairs their wearing qualities.

As for colors, a flesh color is recommended for those who adopt the veil merely to keep hair and hat in place, and white and cream tints are more becoming than black, although black often lends dignity to a costume. Brown is exceedingly good looking, tending to soften the features and to cast over them a pretty flush. But quite the most important point in connection with the veil having conceded Dr. Barnesby's claim that nerve wrecking, sight destroying patterns are out of the question, is its proper adjustment.

Soft Tulle Veils Are Becoming and Harmless, Says Irene Markey.

LISTEN, GIRLS!

LOOKING FOR HOME NOT AN EASY TASK.

By JESSIE ROBERTS.

I was called up on the phone last week by a girl who acts as special librarian for a large banking house. She wanted to know if I could find her a couple of rooms at a reasonable rental where she could be more independent, and live more according to her taste, than in a boarding house.

A boarding house is not a home, and even when a girl works for her living she does not lose the instinct for making a home. She does not want anything expensive or elaborate. One nice room with bath facilities and a kitchenette will meet her needs admirably. But where to find such a place?

It seems strange that landlords do not recognize this demand more numerously than they have so far shown signs of doing. Bachelor girls' apartments would prove easy to fill if they were properly adjusted to what the girls want.

I know of one case where a group of six girls settled this question for themselves. One of the number hunted round till she found a suitable floor in an old house. Between them they paid for the necessary alterations. Each girl had a separate room and entrance. Also arrangements for cooking simply. The bath was shared between them, but they had added a shower to facilitate matters. The cost to each girl was much less than she would have had to pay for less desirable quarters taken singly, and the living expenses were a great deal lower. The rule of privacy was strictly maintained, and there was no running in and out of each other's rooms.

This same plan could probably be followed easily enough if girls would get together on the subject. Nothing would induce any of the girls who have made the experiment to return to boarding house life. The girl whose idea it was originally is now planning to take a whole house and to devote her time to running it. She charges a little more for each room than she has to pay, and so makes her own living expenses, while still being able to let the little apartments for far less than the usual rentals in the neighborhood.

7977 Draped Two-Piece Skirt, 22 to 32 waist.

With High or Natural Waist Line.

Here is one of the newest and prettiest developments of the two-piece skirt. The front is narrow, forming almost a panel, and sides and back are cut in one, but draped gracefully. There is a plait at each side of the panel below the drapery, which provides freedom for walking. A smart touch is given by the strap arranged over the back where the skirt is cut with the high waist line. The model is a good one both for the street and the house, for it is equally well adapted to the suit and to the gown.

For the medium size will be needed 5¾ yards of material 27 inches wide, 4 yards 36, or 3½ yards 44. The width at the lower edge is 1 yard and 24 inches.

The pattern 1977 is cut in sizes from 22 to 32 waist measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

POET'S CORNER

Now sleeps the crimson petal, now the white;
Nor waves the cypress in the palace walk;
Nor winks the gold fin in the porphiry font:
The fire-fly wakens, waken thou with me.

Now droops the milk-white peacock like a ghost
And like a ghost she glimmers on to me.

Now lies the Earth all Danae to the stars,
And all thy heart lies open unto me.

Now slides the silent meteor on, and leaves
A shining furrow, as thy thoughts in me.

Now folds the lily all her sweetness up,
And slips into the bosom of the lake:
So fold thyself, my dearest, thou, and slip
Into my bosom and be lost in me.

From Kitchens Of the Orient

Spice Cured Beef—"The Pride of the Orient."

"The Pride of the Orient."

Ingredients:

Ten pounds fillet of beef.
Two ounces of red pepper.
One pound of garlic cloves, peeled and pressed.
One ounce cinnamon.
Four ounces cummin.
Salt and pepper.

Method—Cut good sirloin, rump or buttock of beef into lengths of about twelve inches and about an inch in thickness, making two incisions in one side of each piece. These sides should then be heavily salted and the pieces all arranged in a wooden box and left there twenty-four hours. Then resalt all the pieces on the other side and put back in the box another twenty-four hours. Now take out the pieces and wash them in clear water three times. String them at one end and hang in the open air for ten or twelve hours during the daytime. Now wrap each piece tightly in cheesecloth and place all under pressure over night. Repeat this process three days and three nights until the meat is well dried, the drying being done in the shade, not in the sun.

Now make the following: Peel the garlic, chop and press, and mix it with the red pepper, the cinnamon, the cloves, the cummin, and the curry, and season also with considerable salt and pepper, according to the amount of meat used. The mixture should be made into a paste with the aid of plain water and with this paste all the meat slices should be well covered. After dressing the meat with the above place the strips in a wooden box, one on top of the other and leave to rest for fifteen days, after which time they should again be taken out and hung in an airy place for drying. Now the meat should be kept in wooden boxes and at intervals taken out and aired. When serving, slice the meat very thinly with a sharp knife or cut into finger-thick pieces and heat on a fire before serving. Cut into fine pieces it may also be added to an omelet.

Note—American dried beef may be dressed very satisfactory with the mixture given above and so served.

BASKET SHOWER.

Did you ever happen to think how many varieties of baskets there are? I never did until my attention was called to the fact by a novel basket shower given for a bride-to-be.

The hostess asked each guest to bring a basket of some description. As the twenty-four guests were all intimate friends they consulted among themselves, so the selections made did not include duplicates. There was a stunning brown wistaria waste basket; one of the same weave to hold fruit; a market basket made by a Dutch peasant; a clothes basket; tiny covered basket to hold a thimble. This was a round work basket, that also had a scissors shield woven to match. There was a clothes hamper, and a cunning covered basket with a handle, just large enough to hold a lunch for two.

To go with these baskets there was a tea or coffee rest, woven of sweet grass, to use when serving on the porch, and quaint wall holders in which a tumbler could be inserted to hold wild flowers. The honored guest was perfectly delighted with this shower, for it turned out that baskets was one of her hobbies.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME.

MISTAH MOCKER GROWS WISER BUT SADDER.

(Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.)

When Mistah Mocker the Mockingbird, agreed to lend his wonderful voice to the plan of Chatterer the Red Squirrel for playing a joke on all the little feathered people of the old orchard he didn't dream that it could be anything but a joke. Of course, he knew that Sammy Jay is a thief and that none of the other birds like him, and always try to drive him away. It seemed to him that it would be the greatest kind of a joke to hide and then scream like Sammy Jay until the other birds came hurrying to drive him away, and that when they found that it wasn't Sammy Jay at all, but their friend Mr. Mocker, they would all have a great laugh at the way they had been fooled. You see it never entered his head that there could be any harm in it—that Chatterer the Red Squirrel was all the time planning to take that chance to steal from Drummer the Woodpecker.

But that is just what Chatterer was planning and just what he did do. And all the time he chuckled to himself to think how easily he had gotten Mistah Mocker to help him. But Mistah Mocker didn't know this. So when at last he showed himself he didn't know what to make of it when no one laughed. No, sir, he didn't know what to make of it. He stopped laughing himself and stared first at Drummer the Woodpecker, then at Mrs. Drummer, and after that at each of the others in turn. There wasn't even a smile anywhere. Instead there were angry looks. Then Drummer the Woodpecker darted at him fiercely and tweaked a feather from Mistah Mocker's coat.

"It Was All a Joke," He Kept Saying Over and Over to Himself.

"So you're a friend of Sammy Jay, are you?" he snapped. "You will try to fool us while he sneaks around and robs our nests, will you? Take that and that!" and with each "that" his sharp bill struck poor Mistah Mocker. Then without waiting for Mistah Mocker to explain Drummer and Mrs. Drummer hurried back to their home, for they suspected that Sammy Jay had taken this chance while they were away to rob them of the beautiful white egg they had left in the bottom of their nest. They were sure of it when they reached home and found the egg gone, and straightway they told their neighbors.

When the other birds saw Drummer the Woodpecker dart at poor Mistah Mocker they all did the same thing, and they screamed so loudly that Mistah Mocker couldn't make himself heard at all. Now he isn't a coward. Oh, my, no! Mistah Mocker isn't a coward! But what could he do against so many? Nothing, just nothing at all, but turn tail and fly away. And this wasn't so easy, either. At last he reached the Green Forest, and one by one the other birds returned to their homes in the old orchard until he was quite alone.

Dear me, dear me, what a looking sight Mistah Mocker was! His coat was all rumpled up and torn, and he was hurt, too, for some of those bills were very sharp. But his feelings were hurt even more. He couldn't understand it at all.

"It was all a joke," he kept saying over and over to himself. "It was all a joke." Then, as he thought it all over he remembered a saying he had once heard, a long, long time before:

The thing that seems a joke to you
To others may not seem so.
A prank you harmless mean to be
Your friends may fail to deem so.

And at the time, safe in his hollow tree, Chatterer the Red Squirrel was smacking his lips over the fresh egg he had stolen from Drummer the Woodpecker and chuckling wickedly over the trouble that he had gotten Sammy Jay and Mistah Mocker into.

IN FAIRYLAND AGAIN

TALE OF JANNI AND THE DRAKEN

Retold by Anne Bunner.

Once there was a man who shunned the world, and lived in the wilderness. He had a wife and one little girl, and after a long time his wife had another child, and the child was given the name of Janni.

In the course of time Janni's parents died, and he and his sister were left alone in the world, so they determined to wander away and seek their fortune.

So they went on their way, taking with them the three sheep which were all that remained of their flock. After wandering for three days they met a man with three dogs who proposed that they should exchange animals, he taking the sheep, and they the dogs. The brother and sister were quite pleased at this arrangement, and after the exchange was made they stparated.

Janni and his sister in course of time came to a great castle, in which dwelt forty Draken, who, when they heard that Janni had come, fled forty fathoms underground.

So Janni found the castle deserted, and abode there.

One day, when he was away hunting, one of the Draken came up to get provisions. When he saw Janni's sister he was terrified, but she told him not to be afraid, and by and by they fell in love with each other, for every time that Janni went to hunt the sister called the Drakos up. Thus they went on making love to each other till at length, unknown to Janni they got married.

One day the Drakos came to her and said: "You must pretend to be ill, and when Janni asks what ails you, and what you want, you must answer 'Cherries. There are some in a garden a day's journey from here.' Then your brother will go there, and will never come back, for there dwell three of my brothers."

Then the sister did as the Drakos advised, and next day Janni set out to fetch the cherries, taking his three dogs with him. When he came to the garden where the cherries grew he jumped off his horse, drank some water from the spring which rose there, and fell directly into a deep sleep. The Draken came round about to eat him, but the dogs flung themselves on them and tore them in pieces, and scratched a grave in the ground with their paws, and buried the Draken so that Janni might not see their dead bodies. When Janni awoke he plucked the cherries, and took them back to his sister.

The next day, when Janni was gone to hunt, the Drakos came out, and advised the sister that she should pretend to be ill again, and when her brother asked her what she would like, she should answer "Quinces," and should say: "They grow in a garden distant about two days' journey." Then would Janni certainly be destroyed, for there dwelt six brothers of the Drakos, each of whom had two heads.

The sister did as she was advised and next day Janni again set off, taking his three dogs with him. When he came to the garden he dismounted, sat down to rest a little, and fell fast asleep. First there came the Draken round about to eat him, and when these three had been worried by the dogs there came three others who were worried in like manner. Then the dogs again dug a grave and buried the dead Draken, that their master might not see them.

When Janni woke and took the quinces and brought them back to his sister, who, when she had eaten them, declared herself better.

Next day, when Janni was hunting, the Drakos went to the sister and advised that she should again pretend to be ill, and should beg for some pears, which grew in a garden three days' journey from the castle. From this quest Janni would certainly never return, for there dwelt nine brothers of the Drakos, each of whom had three heads.

The sister did as she was told, and next day Janni, taking his three dogs with him, went to get the pears. When he came to the garden he laid himself down to rest and soon fell asleep.

Then came nine Draken to eat him, and the noise of this combat awoke Janni, and he slew the Draken.

After that he freed all whom the Draken held prisoners, among others, a king's daughter. Out of gratitude she would have taken him for her husband; but he put her off, saying: "For the kindness that I have been able to do to you, you shall receive in this castle all the blind and lame who pass this wy." The princess promised him to do so, and on his departure gave him a ring.

So Janni plucked the pears and took them to his sister, who, when she had eaten them, declared she felt better. When, however, the Drakos heard that Janni had come back he crept out and said to the sister: "Now are we indeed both lost, unless you find out from him wherein his strength lies."

When, therefore, Janni had come back from the hunting and sat at evening with his sister by the fire, she begged him to tell her wherein lay his strength, and he answered! "It lies in my two fingers; if these are bound together then all my strength disappears."

"That I will not believe," said the sister, "unless I see it for myself."

Then he let her tie his fingers together with a thread, and immediately he became powerless. Then the sister called up the Drakos, who, when he had come forth, tore out Janni's eyes, gave them to his dogs to eat, and threw him into a dry well.

Now it happened that some travellers, going to draw water from this well, heard Janni groaning at the bottom.

The travellers let a rope down and drew him up to daylight. It was not till then that he first became aware that he was blind, and he begged the travellers to lead him to the country of the king whose daughter he had freed.

When they had brought him there he sent the princess the ring she had given him.

Then she remembered him, and took him with her into the castle.

When she learned what had befallen him she called together all the sorceresses in the country in order that they should tell her where the eyes were. At last she found one who declared that she knew where they were, and that she could restore them. This sorceress then went straight to the castle where dwell the sister and the Drakos, and gave something to the dogs to eat which caused the eyes to reappear. She took them with her and put them back in Janni's head, so that he saw as well as before.

Then he returned to the castle of the Drakos, whom he slew as well as his sister; and, taking his dogs with him, went back to the princess and they were immediately married.

A BATCH OF SMILES

The only unoccupied room in the hotel—one with a private bath in connection with it—was given to the stranger from Kansas. The next morning the clerk was approached by the guest when the latter was ready to check out.

"Well, did you have a good night's rest?" the clerk asked.

"No, I didn't," replied the Kansan. "The room was all right, and the bed was pretty good, but I couldn't sleep very much, for I was afraid some one would want to take a bath, and the only door to it was through my room."

"The horse and the cow is in the field," read the teacher. "Mary, what is wrong with that sentence?"

Mary was evidently more versed in rules of politeness than in the rules of grammar, for she answered promptly:

"The lady should be mentioned first."—Youth's Companion.

"The bill met with an ominous reception," said former Mayor Baehr of Cleveland, discussing a measure that had failed. "Its reception was, in fact, as ominous as that accorded to the Christmas melodrama in the two-night stand.

"A melodrama, 'Murdened at Christmastide,' for two nights in a small town. The first night there was a fair audience, but when in act 3 the senior villain said to the junior, 'Hist! Are we alone?' a voice from the gallery growled:

"'No, Hamfat, not to-night; but you can bet you'll be to-morrow night.'"

The other day in a cleveland school this composition was handed in by a little German boy:

"The sheep are weak and foolish animals. They are very useful. We can use everything on them except their bleat. The sheep learn their shepherd very easy, but other ways they are dumb animals.

"They eat hay, grass, and carrot soup. And the captain of the sheep is called the belle-buck." — Woman's Home Companion.

Actors frequently receive unexpected proof of the realism of their art. Not long ago, on the occasion of the performance of "Hamlet" by a distinguished English player, there were no more interested and absorbed spectators than two newsies in the gallery.

The boys had been watching the performance with breathless interest. The last act was drawing to a close. The duel almost dragged the lads from their seats.

Before their eyes the queen was poisoned, Laertes killed, the king killed, Hamlet killed. On the final tragedy the curtain started down. The audience was spellbound.

In the gallery there was a clatter and a crash as one of the boys mentioned started for the door.

"Come on, Tommy!" he shouted back to his companion. "Hustle! Dere'll be extras out on dis!"—Harper's Monthly.

PET DOG AS FOOD IN HARD JOURNEY OVER GREENLAND

Danish Explorer Meets Series of Disasters in His Perilous Tramp.

PONIES WERE TRAINED TO CANNIBALISM.

Violent Blizzards Rage Without Cessation for First Forty Days of Trip.

Copenhagen, Denmark, August 15.—The story told by Captain Koch, the Danish explorer, of the crossing of Greenland in company with three hardy companions shows that the dangers and hardships to be encountered on the great inland icefield have not decreased since Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary and Dr. Fridtjof Nansen made their journeys over a portion of the same deserted waters.

The Danish leader and his three companions—Dr. Wagener, a German; Larsen, a sailor, and Sigurdson, a native of Iceland—were reduced during their journey to eating a pet dog, the only animal left.

After landing from their ship on July 24, 1912, the first mishap encountered by the expedition was the loss of a number of ponies. Shortly afterward their motorboat disappeared through the thin ice and the explorers were obliged to wait until nearly the end of September before the ice was sufficiently thick to carry their sledges and horses. When they were ready to start Dr. Wagener fell, with the result that one of his ribs was broken.

The expedition arrived at about ten miles to the east of Queen Louise Land on October 13 and went into winter quarters there.

SLAUGHTER ALL THE PONIES FOR FOOD.

The shortness of fodder necessitated the slaughtering of all the ponies with the exception of five, which were gradually trained to cannibalism by being fed on the flesh of their brothers.

During a sledging trip, Captain Koch fell forty feet into a crevasse, breaking his right leg. This accident kept him helpless in the hut throughout the winter in a temperature generally fifty degrees below zero.

On April 20, this year, the four men broke camp, and with five sleighs, each drawn by a pony, started on their 750 mile march to the West Coast.

A Six-Week Blizzard.

During the first forty days violent blizzards raged practically without cessation. The ponies became snow-blind and so exhausted that the men were obliged to kill three of them. Later the sun's rays tormented the travellers and burned the skin from their faces, which soon had the appearance of raw beef, while the temperature at night was thirty below zero.

Snowshoes were fitted to the feet of the two remaining ponies and proved of wonderful assistance to them in the loose snow. But for the ponies the expedition would have been in a worse plight.

Unfortunately for the explorers, it was found necessary to kill another pony on July 11 this year, because the fodder had given out. Next day the last pony was killed, much to the distress of the members of the expedition, as a few miles further on splendid pasturage was found.

SIGHT SAILING VESSEL WHEN FOOD GIVES OUT.

The rations of Captain Koch and his companions had been meanwhile gradually reduced and on July 13 their provisions were finished.

A howling blizzard came on top of this misfortune and for thirty-five hours the four men were compelled to take shelter under a projecting rock, where they remained without a morsel of food.

On July 15 they tried to push on to the coast, which was now visible, but they were so exhausted with hunger, cold and wet that they were scarcely able to move. Their only chance for life as to kill the pet dog, which had tramped with them for about 800 miles. This was done, and its flesh was cooked and eaten. The meat was hardly finished when the explorers sighted a sailing boat in a ford to the east of Proeven, and on the west coast of Greenland.

By means of shots and signals, the explorers succeeded in attracting the attention of those on board the vessel, and Pastor Chemnitz, who was on the ship soon, with the assistance of the crew, had the famished and worn-out explorers in safety.

The above shows how Wilson's Fly Pads will kill all the flies in your dining-room or store at night.

THOSE NINETEEN THOUSAND NEW NAMES.

A SECTION of the City Council is endeavoring to take comfort out of the argument that fully two-thirds of the nineteen thousand new electors, who will be added to the civic electoral lists next spring, will cast their votes against the principle of administration by a Board of Control. There is no particular need of worry over this hope which has sprung up among the Council's reactionists. It will be remembered that when, three years ago, the electors were asked to decide whether there should be one alderman a ward or two, the prophesy was insistently made at the City Hall that the electorate would vote in the negative; yet a very large affirmative vote was polled. It was also loudly claimed by the disgruntled members of Council that the electors would snow under the proposal submitted to them concerning a Board of Control. The principle of having such a governing body was adopted, however, by an overwhelming majority. Finally, when the Citizens' Committee gave out its list of candidates for Controllers the cry went forth that every man of them would be routed, bag and baggage. Again the prophets were brought to confusion, for not a single member of the Association's ticket was defeated. The candidates of the aldermen, though, were buried under an avalanche of votes. No doubt history will repeat itself when the big body of new electors cast their ballots in April next. The addition of so many new names to the lists is due to the decision of the Legislature that the cruel custom of the city disfranchising citizens who could not pay their water rate must be done away with.

SPURNING BLOOD-MONEY.

EVEN a hide-bound Anglo-Saxon conviction of the ineffable nature of law and order does not prevent our having a sneaking sympathy with those Indians who have just snubbed the Attorney-General of British Columbia. It appears that one of their tribe committed a murder last year, and the local police failed to capture the murderer. That strenuous man might still be at large if members of his tribe had not complied with the law's request and surrendered him to justice. He was tried and in due time hanged.

The Attorney-General, who is not usually so pachydermatous, purchased gold medals and arranged for an imposing ceremonial when he would pin them on the loyal breasts that had vindicated law and order. But when he had travelled three hundred miles on his elaborate mission he found that his medals were rejected with contumely. A brave had called aloud to his fellows that never more would their people respect them if they accepted this "blood-money." He had the profoundest contempt for the race that would put a man to death after he had been voluntarily surrendered by his tribe. It was not his notion of playing the game. In his simple mind the natural law was far superior to that which an unwelcome civilization had invented to protect itself. Wherein there is revealed a niceness of feeling almost worthy of those civilized beings who make affidavits against quondam friends and fearfully withdraw them.

CRIMINAL CHARACTERISTICS.

THE spectacular criminology of Lombroso has received a rude shock from the researches made by Dr. Goring at Parkhurst prison, extending over a number of years. Dr. Goring finds that there is no justification for the Lombrosian assertion that criminal types were definitely recognizable by certain physical characteristics. He declares it is not true to say that short and thick noses are the peculiar endowment of thieves, or that the eye of the born homicide has a glassy cold and fixed stare. Many estimable citizens will now breathe more freely.

Most people with commonsense and a moderate faculty of observation had always suspected the truth. They distrusted the cocksure card indexing of humanity by a man whose iron mind had absorbed much of the morbidness upon which it had dwelt. And not a few of them will also agree with Dr. Goring in his confirmation of Flaubert's saying that "what is wrong with the world" is not its wickedness but its natural stupidity.

It is stupidity which allows humanity to tolerate social conditions that drive men to crime. It is the stupidity of nations that makes war necessary, and it is the stupidity of pacifists that make it unsuccessful. It was the stupidity of the Antonines which put Christianity on a firm footing and the stupidity of the Bourbons which caused the horrors of the French Revolution. It would appear more difficult to make men see truth than to make them follow it when once seen.

A NEW GASTRONOMIC DANGER.

POOR man is threatened from all points by the busy germ and the sly, insinuating microbe. If he turns from the biologist, seeking relief, he finds the chemist waving the red flag of a new danger. The busy Department of Agriculture of the United States, acting on the complaint of many health officers, has completed an investigation of table celery. The ordinary man who finds that this toothsome vegetable is a pleasant addition to his table, will, at first, be inclined to believe that such investigation is unwarranted, a mere subterfuge for an idle busybody. But, alas, the facts prove the contrary. The Departmental Chemists found that last season the thrifty market gardener, faced by loss due to a threatened blight, engaged in battle against that disease by spraying the plants with Bordeaux mixture, a component of which is salts of copper. Salts of copper has been used in the preparation of canned fruits and vegetables, but such use is considered deleterious to health. As very large quantities of the celery sold in the Montreal market come from various sections of the United States, the investigations of the Department are of interest here, and the suggestion offered should be followed in all instances. To remove the copper, celery should be broken and washed by hand, or scrubbed with a brush; this process is sufficient to remove all traces of it, and those who are fastidious as regards copper would do well to bear it in mind.

MALINGERING AND INSURANCE.

THE proceedings of the International Medical Congress in England show that Lloyd George's insurance scheme is not having a smooth road to travel. The Government succeeded in getting the services of enough doctors to put the act into operation, but now the doctors in the Government service are finding their hands very full in solving the problems which the act presents to them. These later problems are not by any means unexpected. Malingering has been one of the great obstacles to the smooth working of the German insurance schemes. If one can get pay for being sick, there always seem to be some people who prefer idleness with little pay to labor with more pay.

The British plan was constructed with this fact in mind, and it was thought that a remedy had been found for it. This was by the adoption of the friendly society principle. In Germany the entire insurance scheme is managed by the Government, which deals directly with the individual workman. In Great Britain, while it is open to the workman to deal directly with the Government under certain circumstances, as a general rule the friendly society stands between them. The friendly society was already doing a big work in the insurance field before the Government entered it; and therefore machinery existed which was non-existent in Germany. By means of this machinery the British workmen are insured in groups, which have a carefully prescribed responsibility of their own. The funds of each society are kept separate and the charges are made separately. Consequently, if there is a greater than normal amount of sickness in any society, the funds of that society will be abnormally depleted. In other words, there will be less for the additional benefits which may be earned under the act. Thus, it is to the interest of the whole society to see that there is no malingering; for if a few malinger, the whole group suffer.

It was hoped that this device would do much to keep malingerers in check. Apparently it has allowed a good deal of that undesirable class to escape, but as Sir John Collie (one of the Government doctors) remarks, it is rather early to form a final judgment. It is hardly to be wondered at that there would be some malingering among 13,000,000 people suddenly brought under such a temptation. It is probably quite true, as Sir John says, that a good deal of what is called by this unpleasant name is really due to physical rather than moral causes. Persons with low vitality at all times find it hard to stand up against disease, though hard necessity sometimes drives them to work, when by that work they are in reality committing slow suicide. A very serious element in the situation, from the point of view of national health, is Dr. Collie's statement that thousands of insured women are wholly unfit and will be permanent beneficiaries on the fund. The fate of these women in the absence of the fund is not pleasant to contemplate.

CHANGE THE LAW.

THE punishment inflicted on James Altimus for selling filthy milk is ridiculously inadequate, but it is the maximum allowed by law. For a crime which Recorder Semple scarcely hesitated to call murder, he was fined forty dollars and costs. If he cannot pay the fine, he must go to jail for two months. More than probably Altimus has made enough out of his practices to pay the fine without difficulty. But the law should not allow the option of a fine in such cases. Altimus and his kind are a constant menace to public health. They are responsible for more deaths than are caused by violent criminals. They will not be deterred by light penalties. They should not only be given a long period of jail, but jail with hard labor.

Almost the only evidence that Governer Sulzer is not as bad as Tammany says he is, is that Tammany says it.

A great deal of unfair criticism has been levelled at those responsible for the excavations on St. Catherine Street. Ballade of Immortals.

Friends of my youth, like leaves they fell
As the 'gusty autumn of life draws near;
Already the valiant group grows small.
The summons I neither seek nor fear;
When my name is called I shall answer "Here!"
But this confounds me and makes me sigh—
To me it never has been quite clear—
It seems my creditors never die!

The world's celebrities perish all;
Athletes sink suddenly to the bier;
Youth and beauty beneath the pall
Make their exit and disappear.
Well, for each one I will drop a tear.
But for all of that (and I wonder why.
As the interest gnaws on my mortgaged gear)
It seems my creditors never die!

The best and bravest grim death can't stall.
Each one readily leaves this sphere;
Poets and sages must heed the call;
For the ports of mystery they clear.
On the ship of dreams through the void they steer—
However, as I was saying, I
Will have to start it myself, I fear—
It seems my creditors never die!

From the STAR Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

The Late Sir Wilfrid Lawson.

"London—The United Kingdom Alliance gave a luncheon yesterday to Sir Leonard Tilley, the Canadian Minister of Finance, Sir Wilfrid Lawson, president, and Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner, were also present. Sir Wilfrid said the colonies were far ahead of the Mother Country in regard to temperance reform. Sir Leonard said he thought local option, which prevailed in Canada, should be adopted in England."—From The Montreal Star, Aug. 15th, 1883.

SIR Wilfrid Lawson, who was member for Camborne, was born at Brayton, on September 4, 1829, the eldest son of the late Sir Wilfrid Lawson, first Baronet, and Caroline, daughter of Sir James Graham, of Netherby, and succeeded to the title and estates in 1867. He represented Carlisle from 1859 to 1865 and from 1868 to 1885, and in the latter year unsuccessfully contested the Cockermouth division of Cumberland. In the following year he re-contested the division, which he represented until 1900. Sir Wilfrid owned some 8,300 acres and is a magistrate for his county. Best known to the general public as an ardent advocate of temperance, he was also recognized by the members of the House of Commons as a wit with the gift of rhyme, and there is little doubt that his election frequently resulted in the enlivenment of what might otherwise have been dull sittings. Sir Wilfrid married the third daughter of Mr. J. Pocklington Senhouse, in 1860. He died in 1906.

"The funeral of the late Hon. A. M. Cochran was held at Maitland, N.S., on the 13th. It was largely attended, a number of members of the local government and Legislature being present."—From The Montreal Star, Aug. 15th, 1883.

"New York.—The sales at the Stock Exchange yesterday reached 576,000 shares. There was not so much dread displayed as a few days previously, and alarming rumors were not as freely circulated. The suspension of Cecil Ward & Co., it was claimed, was due to the failure of customers."—From The Montreal Star, Aug. 15th, 1883.

"London, Aug. 14.—There was almost a panic at the Stock Exchange this morning in American railway securities, which are greatly depressed and difficult to sell."—From The Montreal Star, Aug. 15th, 1883.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

"By cable from the Star's special correspondent in London, Aug. 15.—The anxiously awaited award of the Behring Sea Arbitration was made public to-day. The award, as announced from Paris, was foreshadowed in my cable of August 2nd. The award was handed down at 11.07 this morning. The first five points favor Great Britain. A series of regulations is proposed which also on the whole favors Great Britain. On the question of fact regarding the seizure of sealing vessels, Great Britain is favored by the decision of the arbitrators. A closed season is established to begin May 1st and to continue until July 31st. This closed season will be observed both in the north Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea. A protected zone is established extending sixty miles around the Islands. Pelagic sealing is allowed outside the zone in Behring Sea from August 1st. The use of fire arms in sealing is prohibited. The American arbitrators express their satisfaction with the text of the decision. I saw Sir Charles Tupper and asked him his opinion regarding the decision. He said the award was about as expected. It was natural that the arbitrators should seek something in the nature of a compromise. The facts made the position of Canada on the question of rights impregnable. Outside of this the general desire to preserve the seals from extinction enabled the Court to meet the protests of the United States on this point. The United States were now liable to pay damages to the Canadian sealers which they have seized. The opinion here is that Great Britain and Canada have every reason to feel pleased at the result of the arbitration and the award and general satisfaction is expressed that the matter is finally settled."—From The Montreal Star, Aug. 16th, 1893.

SUCCESSFUL TEST OF SELF-RIGHTING FLYING APPARATUS

Villacoublay, France, August 15. — The new self-righting flying apparatus invented by Lieut. J. W. Dunne, a retired British army officer, underwent most successful trials on the aerodrome here yesterday in the presence of Brigadier-General Auguste Hirschauer, commander of the aerial corps of the French army.

Major Julien Felix, a French army aviator, was the pilot. He ascended in a high gusty wind considered too strong to face by the other aviators present.

The apparatus displayed a degree of stability which drew expressions of amazement from all the expert witnesses.

From time to time Major Felix removed his hands from the levers and held them above his head to show the automatic equilibrium of the machine, which retained a perfect level even when it encountered eddies, air-pockets or squalls.

AMUNDSEN AND PEARY TO BE FIRST THROUGH BIG DITCH

Buenos Ayres, August 15. — The Whaler Fram, commanded by Captain Roxrud, left here yesterday for Colon, with the intention of taking on board there Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary and Captain Roald Amundsen, the explorers, who will be the first to pass through the Panama Canal on board ship.

Captain Amundsen will afterward proceed in the Fram toward the North Pole, and taking advantage of the Arctic currents will return on board of her to Christiania, Norway, traversing on the way the Spitzenbergen Archipelago.

Captain Roxrud purposes taking lessons in order to perfect himself in aviation at San Francisco, so that he may be able to make flights in the Polar regions.

The expedition is expected to take six years for its completion.

MEMORIAL MARKS TERCENTENARY OF PILGRIMS' SAILING

United States Ambassador to Great Britain Unveils Tablet at Southampton.

Southampton, August 15.—A memorial in celebration of the tercentenary of the departure of the Pilgrims from Southampton for America was unveiled here to-day by Mr. Walter Sims Page, the United States Ambassador. It is in the form of a column erected on the site of the pier from which they embarked.

Ambassador Page dedicated the monument with an oration in which he quoted James Russell Lowell's saying that the Pilgrims were only colonists who went in search of God instead of gold.

After the memorial proper had been unveiled by the Ambassador, the representatives of the donors unveiled the panels which surround the base of the monument.

DEPICT HEROIC SCENES IN PILGRIMS' LIVES.

The monument designed by Mr. R. M. Lucas is a column of stone with bronze panels representing heroic scenes in connection with the Pilgrims. The cost of the monument was defrayed by public subscription taken in the United States and in England, while the bronze panels were donated by various Pilgrim Societies and the descendants of Pilgrim families. It is located on the pier beyond the west gate, through which the Pilgrims passed on their way to the Mayflower.

This spot was famous long before the time of the Pilgrim Fathers, for tradition asserts that King Canute sat there when he ordered the sea to retreat, and from this pier Shakespeare, who knew Southampton well, through his visits to the Earl of Southampton, made the armies of Henry V. embark for their triumphant invasion of France.

Better Control Of London Streets

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 15.—The gigantic and growing traffic problem here has been grappled by a Parliamentary committee which has issued a report making drastic proposals for better control.

Since the introduction of motor omnibuses, the number of street accidents annually has been trebled. Last year the average was more than one death daily and fifty injuries.

About one-third of the total is due to the motor bus, which has been called the London Juggernaut. The committee proposes to create a special "Board of Trade" for London traffic; stricter control of public motor vehicles, their speed, routes, etc., a more efficient system of general traffic control on streets, and more safeguards for pedestrians.

GOVERNMENT LOOKING TO PURCHASE RAILWAYS.

Quebec, August 15.—It is rumored here that the Dominion Government is likely to purchase the Gulf Port Terminal Railway, thirty-six miles in length, the property of Mr. M. J. O'Brien, the well-known railway contractor, which runs from St. Flavie to Matane.

This railway was promoted to run as far as Gaspe, 185 miles east of Matane, to open up that section of the country.

It is also said that the Government is after the International New Brunswick Railway, 136 miles in length, running from Campbellton to Moncton, and said to be a paying proposition.

TO-DAY IN CANADA'S HISTORY.

AUGUST FIFTEENTH.

Considerably over a century ago old Niagara had both a Public Library and an Agricultural Society. Each of these made an effort to supply its members with good reading, and in course of time the first-named association absorbed the latter, obtaining by this process a large accession of strength to its membership and of books to its shelves. The union of the two associations occurred in 1805, and in the following year at the annual meeting, which was always held on or about this date—August 15th—it was "Resolved, that Jacob A. Ball and Lewis Clement be admitted to a share in right of their fathers as members of the Agricultural Society, those gentlemen already having purchased shares, and that Jane Crooks, eldest daughter of the late Francis Crooks, be admitted to a share in right of her father as a member of the Agricultural Society." The names of one or two other women—not many in all—appear in the record book of the library, and for their benefit no doubt were obtained the volumes with the not very attractive titles of "Female Education," and "The Duty of the Female Sex," sweetened occasionally by a "Lady's Magazine" or "Lady's Library."

NO RESIGNATION YET, SAYS PREMIER

London, August 15. — The much discussed question of Lord Chief Justice Alverstone's resignation was raised in the House of Commons yesterday by A. Bonar Law, the leader of the Opposition.

Premier Asquith, in reply, said Lord Alverstone had not resigned.

The Daily Chronicle, which yesterday said that Lord Alverstone's resignation was in Mr. Asquith's hands, states that the Premier's statement was technically correct, but that there is no doubt whatever that a successor to Lord Alverstone will be appointed after the long vacation.

BITTER FEELING BETWEEN RACES; POLES ATTACKED

Four Stabbed by Italian in Row on Clarke Street.

THEORY AFFRAY IS CONNECTED WITH ANOTHER

Apparent Lack of Provocation Similar to Shooting of Other Men.

Bitter race feeling and hatred which have been gradually brewing between the Slavonic and Latin colonies, near the corner of Clarke and Craig streets, culminated last evening in a stabbing affray, in which Jimmie Villiarara, armed with a wicked-looking stiletto, attacked four Poles single-handed, and then made a dash for liberty, only to fall into the arms of Constable LeBreton.

Earlier this week two Poles were shot near the circus grounds, the wounded men declaring that their unknown assailant was an Italian. Since then wild rumors have been circulating in the Polish colonies to the effect that one or two Italians have vowed vengeance on the entire Slavonic race in Montreal, and are going around the city prepared to stab all Poles at sight.

Hatred is Intense.

Although this theory sounds a trifle wild to the police, it is certain that intense hatred exists between these two foreign colonies here and that, according to the story of witnesses, there was no provocation whatever for the stabbing on Clarke street last night.

All was quiet in the foreign quarter of Clarke street at 7.10 o'clock, according to Constable LeBreton, who was standing at the corner of Craig street, at the time. Suddenly he heard angry voices and saw Poles and Russians pouring out of their boarding houses by the dozen. Then he saw a man dart from the midst of the crowd, pursued by a dozen angry Poles. Constable LeBreton joined in the chase, and soon outstripped the other fugitives. As soon as he caught up to him, the policeman struck the Italian a sharp blow on the arm with his baton, causing the latter to drop a stiletto that was dripping with blood. Confused Poles informed the policeman that the man had just murdered five of their compatriots. By this time Constable Chagnon had arrived, and the two policemen marched the prisoner back to the scene of the street battle, to find that four Poles were bleeding profusely, one having been stabbed in the back, and another just above the heart. The two others had minor wounds.

Struggled in Prison.

In the police station the prisoner, who gave his name as Jimmie Villiarara, made a desperate struggle when the police started to search him; but he was soon overpowered and locked in a cell on a charge of attempted murder.

The two most seriously wounded men are Paul Ouvrinovitch and Niktodi Tiddioutsi, but it was said at the hospital this morning that they were both recovering.

According to the story told by A. Golden, of 9 Clark street, who appears to be the most clear-minded witness, the accused man was walking down the opposite side of the street with two compatriots, when he suddenly rushed across the street and slashed the four Poles without any provocation.

Owing to the fact that there was a similar lack of provocation in regard to the shooting of the two Poles near the circus grounds on Tuesday night, there is a theory to the effect that the two crimes may have been committed by the same man, who has some insane idea of exterminating the Polish race. The general race feeling between the Poles and Italians, however, fostered by competition in the labor market is a more reasonable explanation of the epidemic of outbreaks in the foreign quarter.

BIG HAUL OF DRY GOODS MADE FROM BOX CAR.

Charged with breaking into a box car belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railway and stealing clothing and mens' furnishings valued at $1,000, "Peter" Gellensky pleaded guilty when brought before Judge Lee yesterday. Constable Mahody said about $300 worth of the stolen articles had been found in the cellar of Gellensky's home. Gellensky was remanded until August 20 for sentence.

SYLVIA OUT AGAIN.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, August 15.— Sylvia Pankhurst, youngest daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, was yesterday afternoon again released from Holloway jail under the "Cat and Mouse Act." She has been in prison four days, and was very weak from a hunger and thirst strike, having refused food and water.

MONEY IS VOTED FOR THE PAYMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

The Board of Control voted several large sums of money yesterday on account of public work done. The account of John A. Sullivan, former legal adviser to the municipality of Notre Dame de Grace, for $6,000, for professional services rendered to the municipality, now annexed to Montreal, was passed. Chief Tremblay was granted $100 expenses to attend the annual meeting of the fire chiefs in New York at the beginning of September, while Albert Chevalier, head of the City Charities Department, was granted $150 to attend the Canadian Conference of Charities to be held at Winnipeg next month.

The sum of $4,896 was voted for the new police station, which has been completed in Villeray, at the corner of St. Hubert and Jarry streets. It was stated that the fifteen men and three officers, who will compose the staff, will be selected later on.

The balance of about $3,000 due to the contractor for the erection of the completed municipal lavatory in Jacques Cartier Square was paid, on the advice of the Chief Engineer, while $675 was voted in order that changes can be made in the lighting arrangements of the Champ de Mars rendered necessary by the construction of a row of stone steps on the south side, for which tenders were opened. The award of these will be made by the Chief Engineer.

An open building over a natural spring was the subject of a complaint by Dr. Laberge, city health officer, it being reported that the structure had become the resort of loafers. The matter was deferred, pending a report from the Chief Engineer.

The street improvements at Rosemount were inspected by the Board after their meeting, and the work was reported as proceeding in a satisfactory manner.

PLACE WHERE YOUTH WAS DROWNED IS VERY DANGEROUS.

The drowning of Melvin Ferguson, the boy scout who met death at Camp Tamaracouta a week ago, was disposed of as accidental by a jury empannelled by Coroner Dr. Wales, of Terrebonne county. In rendering its verdict, the jury strongly recommended that the spot at which the boy was drowned be discontinued as a place for bathers learning to swim, as on investigation it was found that about 30 yards from the shore the depth of the lake is 35 feet. Definite signs marking the limits where the campers who cannot swim may bathe, were recommended by the jury.

Prominent People Proud to Testify For "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. TIMOTHY McGRATH,
130 Athlantic Ave., Montreal,

March 1st, 1912.

"For years, I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time and spent hundreds of dollars on doctor's medicines, besides receiving treatment at a Montreal Hospital where I was informed that I was incurable. I was discouraged when a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives." After using three packages, I felt relieved and continued until I had used five packages when a complete cure was the result after years of failure. I consider "Fruit-a-tives" a wonderful remedy. You are at liberty to use this testimonial to prove to others the good that "Fruit-a-tives" has done me."

MAN KILLED IN POLITICAL RIOTS AT LONDONDERRY

Londonderry, Ireland, August 15.—The police were again constantly employed in suppressing street fighting between Nationalists and Orangemen yesterday. Numerous charges were made by the police, who used their clubs freely. An elderly man named Armstrong was shot dead during the fighting, which began at a political celebration Tuesday.

Mr. Armstrong was looking out of an upper window of his home when he was shot. His brother says he saw four constables pursued by a mob, load their carbines and fire, but the police strenuously deny having done so. The mob was so dense and the confusion so great that it is difficult to tell what happened.

According to many persons, however, the police fired over the heads of the mob, the members of which replied with revolvers. Several persons were removed to hospitals suffering from wounds. Among them was a constable.

The magistrates held a meeting yesterday and decided among other precautionary measures to have all taverns in the disturbed district closed at 7 o'clock this evening. Late last night it was decided to requisition troops. Quiet had been restored at midnight.

SHARPSHOOTERS OF THE WORLD BATTLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Special to The Montreal Star.

Camp Perry, Ohio, August 15.—The most cosmopolitan shooting tournament ever held on either hemisphere opened here to-day on the greatest range in America. Sharp shooters from all parts of the world are here to battle for the world's championship with rifle and revolver.

The matches will continue until September 9.

The tournament is being held under the auspices of five organizations—the National Rifle Association of America, the Ohio State Rifle Association, the Pan-American Shooting Union, the National Board for the Practice of Rifle Shooting, and the International Union of Rifle Associations, the latter composed of members of eighteen countries.

The United States has appropriated $25,000 for the shoot and will have control over the meet. President Wilson, members of the Cabinet and Army, Navy and diplomatic officials are on the committee in charge. Forty-four of the States have entered teams. The prizes are unprecedented in value.

The National Rifle Association's twenty-four matches opened the tournament to-day. The national matches and the six Pan-American Shooting Union contests follow. Then come the big events—the international matches, the most important of which is the Palma for the long range team championship of the world. Prizes amounting in value to $50,000 will be awarded. Of these $31,000 is in cash prizes.

WATERLOO PICTURES.

A new picture, "The Battle of Waterloo," will be seen at the Tivoli Theatre to-morrow and following days. The 5th Royal Highlanders' Band will play music especially written for this film during the engagement.

SHIPPING WAR OVER AUSTRIAN AND RUSSIAN EMIGRANTS

Special to The Montreal Star.

Berlin, August 15.—A shipping war for the Austrian and Russian emigration traffic is beginning between the Canadian Pacific and Austro-American companies. Both are running steamships from Trieste to Trans-Atlantic ports.

The Austro-American is backed by the Trans-Atlantic pool. The result of the fight may be a United States Government inquiry into the methods of steamship companies in drumming up trade, and also the possibility of the opening of a new line, linking Mediterranean ports directly with New York.

WINNER OF KING'S PRIZE IS GIVEN WARM RECEPTION

MINISTER OF MILITIA SENDS CHEQUE FOR $50.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes has forwarded to Mrs. Hawkins, wife of Private Hawkins, winner of the King's Prize, his cheque for $50 in recognition of the honor won by her husband.

In spite of the uncertainty of his movements, a good crowd was present at the Place Viger Station last night to welcome Private Hawkins, the winner of the King's Prize at Bisley, who arrived at 6.40 from Quebec.

Col. Ross was not certain how the marksman would arrive until about 3.30, so that it was almost impossible to do anything in the way of an official welcome, but what the greeting lacked in numbers it more than made up in enthusiasm, and it was a happy young soldier who was whisked away in an automobile and received at an informal banquet at Freeman's Hotel, given by the leading officers of the city regiments and the Provincial Rifle Association.

When the train drew in, there were a number of officers and soldiers on the platform to meet Hawkins, who emerged in a plain khaki uniform, accompanied by his friend and mentor, Staff-Sergeant Freeborn.

Pipe-Major Sergeant Johnson and Piper Burns marched up to meet him, their pipes in full swing on a Scottish air, and escorted him to the waiting automobile. The crowd outside cheered loudly, and Hawkins had to stop and shake hands with those who wished to congratulate him, until he laughingly pleaded for mercy and asked for time for a smoke.

Rushed to Viger.

A good many soldiers were in mufti and one or two in uniform, together with many civilians who had rushed to the station when they heard that the Bisley hero was coming to the Viger and not to Windsor station, as was first expected. Before Hawkins went off, three cheers and a "tiger" were called for and given with a heartiness that spoke well for the feelings of the crowd.

At Freeman's, enough guests were present to fill tables extended in line the length of the room, while at the head was a cross table where the guest of the evening was seated at the right hand of Col. Ross. The most pleasant feature of the evening was the lack of formality; and Hawkins, who is most unassuming, seemed to enjoy himself far more than if the banquet had been more full of ceremony, as he chatted away with those seated near him.

Colonel Ross proposed the toast, "The King." The speeches of the evening were of a very inelaborate nature. Colonel Ross, in tendering a welcome to Private Hawkins, said that he was voicing the feelings not only of those present, but of Montreal in most heartily congratulating the winner of the King's Prize. There were very few men who could have enough control of themselves to score a "bull" at the last shot when they knew that the whole result of the match depended on that shot. He regretted that a more elaborate welcome could not be given, but he felt sure that Hawkins knew the committee had done the best they could under the circumstances.

Proud of Winner.

Montrealers were as proud to greet the winner of the trophy as if he came from their own town; and he himself was delighted that a stop-over was possible.

"At Bisley," concluded the Colonel, "a man comes in contact with the finest shots of the Anglo-Saxon race, and a man who, in the face of such odds, amidst so much confusion, and with so many competitions going on at once, can win a match on the last shot deserves the greatest credit that can be given to a marksman."

The Colonel, in passing, stated he felt sure Montreal would be represented in the team—and fully represented—if better range facilities were afforded her soldiers. At present things were in a very unfavorable condition to allow of good marksmanship.

Colonel W. Burland, who was adjutant in charge of the Canadian team at Bisley in 1911, endorsed the former speaker's remarks anent the shooting at Bisley.

"It was a Torontonian who won the trophy then, and we surely don't grudge her the marksmen she sends. Hawkins won by fighting up to the last shot, and a man who can hold his nerve that way when he knows that behind him are two hundred men at a similar tension is a wonder."

Hawkin's Speech.

Staff-Sergeant Freeborn, whose modesty did not allow him to remain standing very long, paid a warm tribute to his hosts, and told them he was proud to have come back with the prize-winner; and that his pride was increased when he heard the latter dub him "private secretary."

Hawkins himself was called upon to make a speech, and, reluctantly, rose to his feet amidst loud cheers.

"I'm not much good at speeches," was his first remark, but he showed a decided turn for oratory by his beginning. "Citizen soldiers and those that should be of Montreal," an epigram that evoked considerable approval among the sons of Mars present, and made the civilians glad that the banquet was not a uniform affair.

Hawkins said he left Toronto not expecting to win the prize, but always with the ambition in his mind; and he was the happiest man now his ambition was fulfilled. He hoped to go to Bisley next year, and he hoped that some Montrealers would be with him. He closed with an expression of gratitude to his hosts for the very warm welcome accorded him—it almost made him wish that this was his home town.

Two pipers marched around the table and played a Highland air, and everybody stood up on their chairs and sang, "For he's a jolly good fellow" with a gusto heard all over the lower part of the town, while they pledged the health of "The Winner of 1913."

Proud of Welcome.

Later on at the Windsor Hotel the King's prize winner, who had retired early, arose and gave an interview to a representative of The Montreal Star.

"I wish to thank The Montreal Star for their congratulatory message, in which they notified me on board ship that Montreal soldiers were offering a welcome," he said. "I should like to say how much I appreciated this and the great kindness shown me everywhere here to-night.

Giving details as to the shooting, Pte. Hawkins said the King's prize was shot for in stages.

"Out of a possible 105 Sergt. Ormundsen made 104, and I made 100 in the first stage," he said. "In the second stage I shot with Ormundsen, shoulder to shoulder, and beat him by two points, 94 to 92. Ormundsen then led by two points, and gained two more at 900 yards, so that when we started at 1000 yards he led by four points. At the seventh shot Ormundsen had a win, and the crowd went from Ormundsen to Sergt. Fenby, who finished with 329, while I had 322 and two shots in hand. With the next shot I made a magpie, gaining three, and my final shot required a bull to win and an inner to tie. I scored a very good bull's eye, which put me at the top, leading by one."

This is the first time Private Hawkins has travelled on an ocean liner, and therefore his first trip to England.

"No, I should not like to live in Britain," he said. "Everybody treated me Al, and I had nothing but kindness, but the people seem to be too crowded. I went to London, Bristol, and Blackpool, and although I enjoyed the sights I couldn't get into an hotel at Blackpool. There simply wasn't a room to be had. I like the country, there are some fine people over there, the rifle shots I met were gentlemen, and the range officers treated me Al. I never had the least bit of trouble. But—I do like a little more room to move around in. Everywhere you went there were people, not in tens or twenties, but whole battalions."

Hawkins had arrived in Blackpool at a time when all industrial Lancashire was taking its "rest" in Blackpool and the Isle of Man.

"I was very proud to see that the Canadians had the best building at Bisley. We were treated exceedingly well by Col. Stuart and Major Simmons, and we got along finely with the British men.

"It seemed a popular win. No end of congratulatory telegrams came along including one from the King, others from Lord Strathcona, the Hon. Sam Hughes, Col. Currie, Capt. McVittie, Capt. Chisholm, and Private Clifford, the winner of 1911—in all about fifty cablegrams. Yes, I should very much like to go again, though I don't know what my wife will say. She declares she has been "riddled to death" by newspaper men.

"I went to Aldershot, but it was on a Sunday and things were very quiet. If you want to listen to the bugle you want to hear it at Aldershot. We could lie in bed at Bisley, several miles away, and hear every note as clear as a bell. We spent just a month in England."

What Medal Looks Like.

The Bisley medal, which is of gold, bears on one side the inscription "National Rifle Association, 1860," a wreath of oak leaves encircling the lettering. On the other side are the figures of a bowman and a rifleman, with the dates 1300-1560 and 1860 respectively beside them, and below the motto "Sit perpetuum." "May it be for ever."

Officers present at the station and the subsequent banquet were: Col Ross, in the chair, Col. W. Burland, of the "Vics" and Col. C. Stark, retired; Captain Cooper, representing Col. Carson, of the 1st Grenadiers; Capt. Hanson, of the same regiment; with Lieut. Richardson, Major Gunn, of the "Vics;" Sergeant-Majors Gardner Bethune, Drysdale, McEdowie and Quarter-Master-Sergt. Manson.

Pte. Hawkins Drives Over City

Private Hawkins is spending the day quietly with his wife and friends seeing the sights of Montreal.

A large crowd was at the Windsor Hotel, where he spent the night, but most of those who wished to congratulate him personally were disappointed, as he slipped out early for his trip round the city. To-night he will be entertained in the armoury of the 65th Highlanders by the Sergeants' Mess, and to-morrow he leaves with his wife on the 9.05 morning train from the Windsor Station for Toronto, where a still greater ovation waits him.

Women Pay Fines.

Eva Seguin, charged with keeping a disorderly house at 11 Anderson street, was found guilty this morning in the Recorder's Court, and sentenced to a fine of $25 or one month. Louisa Seguin, an inmate of the same place, who pleaded she was there on a visit was ordered to pay a fine of $5 or go to jail for 15 days.

Local Brokers in So. Pacific---Strong Market After Rally---Navigation Deal

TONE STRONG, NO ATTEMPT AT FIREWORKS

Despite the fact that the general tendency was reactionary to-day in the large markets elsewhere the prices here held remarkably well after yesterday's display of fireworks in the late market.

Power, Laurentide and Richelieu held their rallies well, and gave the market a demonstration of what a little buying will do for prices, and incidentally told the story of improved sentiment and confidence in further improvement.

It was hardly to be expected that yesterday's buoyancy would be followed up by a further display, as conditions do not warrant it, but the market took considerable cheer out of the incident.

Power, Laurentide and Richelieu were the chief actors in yesterday's late market, and after opening at even prices in the case of Richelieu advanced fractionally, and in the others only went fractions under the best.

Power opened at 209 and closed at 208½. Laurentide opened at 157 and closed at 156⅝, while Richelieu opened at 111 to 111¼ and closed at 111.

C. P. R. went off with London and Wall Street's decline to 219⅛, the lowest in New York being 218⅝, with a rally to 219½ to 219¾ around noon.

Brazilian opened over a point down at 92½, but rallied to 93¼.

Ottawa Power had a sharp rise from 158 yesterday to 162 and Winnipeg Ry. at 205 touched a new high on the rally.

Shawinigan was also very strong at 132¼ from 130⅞ yesterday.

Other strong features were Rails 140½, Scotia 75, Bridge 117½, Iron 48, Cottons 36 and Canners 70.

Detroit was off one to 70 and Packers to 136.

AMERICANS WEAK ON BERLIN BOURSE

Berlin, August 15.—The Bourse was sluggish and flat to-day on unfavorable Home and American iron market reports. American shares were weak in sympathy with New York. Shipping shares improved on a rumor of better prospects for the settlement of the Atlantic steamship pool differences.

SAY SETBACK IS ONLY TEMPORARY

London, August 15.—Money was easily obtainable, and discount rates were quiet to-day.

With the Paris Bourse closed and the week-end near, the stock market was quiet and reactionary under profit-taking.

Copper shares, Home Rails and Brazilian stocks were the most affected, and Consols lost a sixteenth.

The undertone, however, continues sound, and the setback is considered only temporary.

American securities were quiet and featureless during the forenoon.

Prices ranged within a small fraction of parity until the early afternoon, when the list eased off under Wall Street selling.

The market hardened on light buying in the last hour, and the closing was quiet and steady.

How Crown Reserve Director Was "Stung"

Mr. Ziba Gallagher, one of the Toronto directors of Crown Reserve, tells about one director who had given an order for 3,000 shares the morning of the meeting. The dividend announcement, therefore, came somewhat as a jolt to him. Immediately he tried to cancel the order, but was too late. It had been filled.

Mr. Gallagher said: "I received a telegram from President Carson to attend the Montreal meeting on Saturday. He and two or three directors were there when I arrived, and we were shown the report. I knew from the expression on the faces of the directors that it was a complete surprise. I am absolutely sure that the members of the board had no knowledge of what was to take place before that time."

LISTED LOCALLY.

The following securities have been listed locally:—Scotia, $3,500,000 currency and £513,680 sterling interchangeable bonds, and Price Bros. & Co. £141,780 bonds.

Clearings Lower Elsewhere in Canada

Toronto and Winnipeg clearings, like those of Montreal, dropped off to lower levels this week, although the losses registered were not of the magnitude of the local institution.

Winnipeg, with only five days' clearings, owing to the civic holiday there on Monday, fell off $1,131,908, while Toronto lost $1,459,640, as against Montreal's decline of nearly ten millions.

The figures of six Canadian centres follow.

	1913.	1912.
Montreal	50,887,403	60,819,170
Toronto	35,792,615	37,252,255

Opinions from Wall Street

Laidlaw & Co.—Liquidation has been pretty thorough and prices rule at a level that would stimulate investment demand if some of the present uncertainties were eliminated.

J. S. Bache & Co.—Reaction in the market looks to have run its course and a hardening is now in order.

Barnett & Co.—Indication of a strong investment demand was the strongest bull argument, and those who favored the constructive side maintained a reaction would not go far in the face of such investment buying.

E. & C. Randolph.—The market has now had a fair sized reaction, and it does not seem as if under present circumstances this reaction will go much further, as strong people are interested in keeping a good market pending the termination of the Southern Pacific syndicate.

BROKERS HERE SUBSCRIBED FOR SO. PAC.

Several Montreal brokerage houses sent in subscriptions to New York for the sale of Southern Pacific stock on behalf of clients and were cut down in their orders to the extent of securing $40,000 on subscriptions of $100,000.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co., managers of the International syndicate, announced that subscriptions received up to time for closing the books, amounted to $220,000,000 or two and one-half times the amount of stock to be apportioned.

As a result, the participants will get but 40 per cent. of the amount of underwriting asked for.

New York bankers were highly pleased at the success of the syndicate as indicating a sudden upturn in sentiment, especially as a large share of the subscriptions came from foreign banks. The syndicate members are to get a commission of 2½ per cent. under the offering price of 92 for Union Pacific shareholders.

At times the stock and certificates sold only about a point apart, or 95 for the certificates when the stock was 94. Inasmuch as the certificates represent, in addition to the stock, two quarterly dividends of $1.50 each, it is obvious that a normal relation between the two would be a price for the certificates three points higher than the stock.

Undoubtedly it was covering of 'shorts' in Southern Pacific which threw out of line the position of the stock with reference to the certificates. This resulted in an artificially high market for the stock, and enabled alert traders to make an easy profit by selling the stock and buying the certificates of interest, which, after September 2, will be exchanged for stock in order to make delivery. Either that, or the seller of the stock might have purchased "rights" with the idea in mind of subscribing to the certificates of interest and obtaining Southern Pacific stock for delivery in that way.

Such a transaction is explained as follows:

Sell 100 So. Pac. at 94—$9,400.00
Com and tax, $14.50.	$9,385.50
Buy 370 rights at 80c		$296.00
Commission		11.10
Sub. to 100 ctfs. at 92, less $3 divs.		8,900.00
Total		9,207.10
Profit		178.40

The foregoing illustration, showing a profit of roughly 1¾ points, is predicted on sale of stock at 94 and purchase of rights at 80 cents. Of course, as an alternative method, the subscription receipts themselves might have been purchased, say, at 95, with practically the same gain.

At certain moments during the day the arbitrage profit was even more than 1¾ points, but the gap has since narrowed.

The calculations as above take no account of the interest which the holder of long stock would receive on the proceeds of sale. This money bearing interest up to September 2, minus cost of rights, if rights were purchased, would add a small fraction to the profit mentioned. If a short sale, no such extra gain would accrue, because Southern Pacific stock is loaning flat.

UNLISTEDS BRISK.

Trading was fairly brisk in the unlisted market this morning. Ames-Holden pfd. was strong at 70 to 70⅝, National Brick at 48, Wayamagack at 26, Western Canada Power 50¼, B. C. Canners 34, and Porcupine Crown at $1.03.

APATHY SUDDEN IN WALL STREET

Wall Street (noon).—The apathy of today's stock market afforded a striking contrast to recent days, when dealings were large and broad, on a rising tendency.

Trading in the first hour was perfunctory, the ticker coming to a halt, and before noon conditions were utterly stagnant.

Issues usually accepted as market leaders were slightly under previous day's final quotations, but there was no pressure, although Canadian Pacific, New Haven and Rock Island issues were down 1 to almost 2 points.

Advances were restricted to minor railways, and specialties, including Twin City Transit, Harvester pfd., Virginia Iron and Lorillard Tobacco, the latter rising 7 points.

The Past Week Has Shown Improvement

The state of trade in Montreal during the past week, as reported by Bradstreets, has shown considerable improvement, owing to the fact that everyone is more confident of the future. Good crops are assured and money is more easy to obtain for business purposes. Sorting orders for the week have been better, and even in real estate, which has been so quiet for some time past, there are signs of improvement. The butter and cheese markets have not been quite so active, and prices of both are fractionally lower. There has been a further advance in the price of rolled oats, which advanced fifteen cents per barrel during the week, and which makes an advance in prices of thirty cents per barrel during the past two weeks. In some lines of manufactured hog products there has been quite an advance in prices, owing to a firmer tone in the raw material. The retail trade reports a fair amount of business doing. Remittances and city collections are somewhat improved.

Mining Activity Near Kirkland Lake

Cobalt, Ont., August 15.—Good specimens are being shown in Cobalt from the Walsh claim which adjoins the Detroit Syndicate holdings in Munro Township. The free gold in the blue quartz is plentiful. The dyke in which the gold has been found has been stripped for 50 feet.

In common with all the district within fifty miles of Kirkland Lake, there has been quite a revival in Beattie and Munro Townships. A five stamp mill is working on the Malouf claims, a syndicate has taken a working option on the McLaughlin claims, and the Hudson's Bay Company is stripping a vein on a forty acre plot near Painkiller Lake.

Short Notes of Interest.

Consols were off a sixteenth in London at 73 13-16 and 73 15-16.

London bar silver closed steady at 27 5-16.

Receipts at Trail Smelter for the week ended Aug. 7 were 7,435 tons.

Northern Pacific total operating revenue for June increased $509,784.

New York Bar Silver was quoted at 59⅜.

Topics of the Street

Able to Sit Up and Take Nourishment

"Well, well," remarked the Man in the Street "I see our old friend, Mr. Bull, is able to sit up and take a little nourishment at last."

Yesterday's bullish demonstration in some of the leaders took a good number by surprise.

Although many were pessimistic over the scarcity of funds for market operations, others held that comparatively little buying ought to lift prices several points without encountering a great deal of stock.

Yesterday's market, particularly the afternoon session, was a striking indication of what could be done with a reasonable display of buying orders.

Farmers' Loans and Rates of Interest

The outcome of the efforts of Western farmers to improve their position with respect to bank loans and lower rates of interest will be watched with a great deal of interest.

The complaint is not a new one, but the movement to rectify matters appears to be well organized and no doubt the chances for obtaining redress will improve in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking.

There are many fine points pro and con in such a controversy, but all will agree that the success of the agricultural community is of such vast importance that anything which will help to make it grow and prosper ought to be a prime consideration of legislators and financiers.

Didn't Pay to Close Exchange Saturdays

Toronto brokers have decided that it is a losing proposition to keep the Stock Exchange closed all day Saturday, and in consequence the mid-summer holiday will be discontinued, beginning this week.

The active speculation of the last few days has brought good cheer to the whole financial district there, commissions being larger than in some months, which means that the majority of the traders will be able to earn enough to pay their rent at least, if the present vivacity keeps up.

The majority of Montreal brokers took the view that even if business was poor it was good policy to be ready to look after whatever was doing on general principles.

Gt. Northern Earned 12 P. C. on Capital

The Great Northern Railway Co. closed its fiscal period on June 30 last with approximately 12 per cent. earned on its $209,990,750 capital stock, or a little over 10⅜ per cent. on the $231,000,000 that will be outstanding when all the instalments have been paid by stockholders on the $21,000,000 of additional stock that was offered for subscription last January. The Great Northern is among the more successful railroads of the United States, and it has enjoyed an enviable record of operations for a number of years.

Hamilton.—Sawyer-Massey Co., Limited, quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent., being at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable on September 1.

RICHELIEU-INTER-LAKE DEAL TO-DAY

Richelieu was again one of the active issues of the local market to-day and sustained yesterday's rally to 111, in spite of the tendency both here and elsewhere toward an easier feeling generally.

The stock opened at yesterday's closing price of 111 and worked up to 111⅞, some broken lots being reported at 112. Towards the close of the morning session, however, it eased off fractionally and ended the forenoon board at 111.

The strength displayed by the navigation issue was generally regarded by the local Street as indicative that the interests behind Canadian Transportation Lines, Limited, the successor of Richelieu and its subsidiary companies, had been successful in their efforts in London to finance the Canada Interlake Line payment due to-day, thus completing the first step in the scheme to finance the big steamboat merger.

The sum of $1,200,000 is the amount necessary to meet the syndicate's obligations towards the Interlake absorption, and it was stated on good authority this morning that the funds to make these payments had been in hand for several days past.

Members of the so-called "Richelieu Pool," who comprise largely the Canadian Transportation Lines interest were in session this morning completing the details of the Interlake final deal, but no statement was forthcoming on the conclusion of the meeting as to what had transpired.

It is believed, however, that the representatives of the syndicate who are arranging in London for the financing of the navigation deal have, so far, been successful in their efforts to raise the necessary funds and that a definite pronouncement of this will be made officially within a short time.

U. S. TOOK TORONTO BONDS.

Toronto, August 15. — The block of Harbor Commission bonds just sold were taken by a United States Insurance company and not a banking house in London, as at first reported. They were purchased for investment at 90, which price is considered especially good under existing conditions in the loaning market.

ALBERTA ALL RIGHT.

Hon. A. L. Sifton, Premier of Alberta, stated in Ottawa yesterday that conditions in the western province were satisfactory and that the crops there would be the best in Alberta's history. He did not believe, he stated, that there would be much trouble owing to the present state of the money markets.

Weather for Wheat Could Not be Better

From the Special Correspondent of The Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Modern Miller will say to-morrow

"It has been many years since weather has been so favorable for a winter wheat harvest as the present season. The hot and dry weather which has damaged corn and other growing crops, is ideal for a gathering of the winter wheat crop, and the condition is reflected in the quality of the grain, which is uniformly good. While the hot weather is delaying the preparation of the soil for fall seeding of wheat, the lack of moisture is rather a benefit to wheat grown on soil plowed early, and when the ground is dry, usually makes the best grain and gives the best yields. Since the advance in the price of corn and all feeding stuffs, there are more reports that wheat is being fed to stock, and farmers who are prepared to grind the grain have begun to use wheat for such purposes."

George M. Lecount, crop expert for Finley Barrell & Co., wires from Melville, Sask. "Heavy rain again last night. Have had too much rain and must have let up or wheat will be damaged. Oats are badly lodged. Weather cool. Think danger of frost."

Predict Alarming Rise in Beef Price

Chicago, August 15.—Chicago experts predict the country will experience next winter the greatest shortage of beef in its history. That there will be an alarming increase in the price of beef, pork, mutton and lamb as a result of the continued drought in the middle west is apparent to all persons who study conditions at the Union Stock Yards.

Thus far the dry weather has made no appreciable increase in the local offerings of cattle which continue to be remarkably small. To-day only five thousand cattle were received, as compared with more than 21,000 yesterday.

The price of pork should diminish unless the packers decide to place unprecedented quantities in cold storage. Nearly 40,000 hogs were offered in the local market and prices took another sharp drop. Since the decline began a depreciation of more than $1 per cwt. has been affected and common cost is now the lowest since last February. To-day's decline was 10c to 15 cents.

COMPLAIN ABOUT HEAVY CHARGES

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 15.—Declaring that it is impossible to get one dollar from the banks on personal loans and that money on mortgages could only be obtained at from 8 to 10 per cent., a large number of representative farmers from the Saskatoon district attended the Royal Commission on agricultural credits and grain here yesterday afternoon.

Farmers declared that from 50 to 98 per cent. of the farmers in the district were mortgaged and complained of heavy charges for negotiating the loans.

PARIS EXPECTS REVIVAL.

Paris, August 15.—There is now a general expectation that a business revival both here and elsewhere on the Continent will take place at the end of the month.

$10,000,000 STEEL CO.

A new company, to be known as the Simpson and Ovlatt British Iron and Steel Corporation has been registered in London, England, with a capital of £2,-000,000 ($10,000,000). The company will manufacture iron and steel products and also engage in shipbuilding.

MEANS FIGHT FOR STANDARD OIL

London, August 15. — The announcement of the proposed purchase by the Shell Transport group of the property of the California Oil Fields Company, caused a further big rise in the shares of the latter."

The latter is an important English concern, whose production amounting to more than 4,000,000 barrels per year has hitherto been sold to the Standard Oil Company of America, under contract.

That contract is now expiring, and the purchase by the Shell people is regarded here as a particularly important advantage in the fight against the American Oil Trust.

Eight Point Drop in Spanish River Pfd.

The decline in Spanish River preferred to-day to 76 constituted the weakest feature of the market. A sale at that price took place in Toronto and the common sold at 25. There were no dealings here of any account.

Accompanying the weakness the Street hears a lot of vague adverse reports concerning the company's financial position and its earning capacity despite the recent Lake Superior deal which was declared at the time to be a favorable factor.

An order for Spanish River pfd. for London was filled in yesterday's early market at 84.

DAIRY PRODUCE.

The butter market was quiet to-day, showing prices to have a slightly easier trend. The quotations are: Finest creamery, 24c to 24¼c; fine creamery, 23c to 23½c; fair to good, 22¼c to 22⅝c; dairy butter, 21c to 21½c.

The cheese market has a quiet tone, as English buyers are by no means active operators. The quotations are: Finest Western white and colored, 13⅛ to 13¼c; finest Eastern do., 12⅞ to 12⅞c; seconds, 12½ to 12⅝c.

BULLS ARE AT WORK IN CHICAGO

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, August 15—Mad speculation continues to control the corn market at Chicago as well as at the smaller points throughout the country. There was heavy buying again by the big longs here and the September future reached 74 cents against a resting spot of 73 last night.

The more deferred futures were held within rather narrow channel, as December sold at 68 1-4 to 68 1-2 cents, and the May at 69 1-2 to 69 3-4. The later prices were 1-2 to 5-8 cent above resting spots of last night.

Offerings of corn in the pit were heavy and were mainly in the way of profit taking.

The buying was urgent and there was a large scattering of eleventh hour bulls who are taking on corn feeling that profits would be within easy reach soon. The weather forecast is for continued high temperatures and drought in Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska where the hot winds and losses are now to be seen.

The Patten crowd of bulls, along with the Lewis Minneapolis bulls, are likely to force September corn to a much higher level, unless heavy rains should visit the drought stricken section and better reports should come out of those States. In many sections of the Southwest farmers are hauling water, and at Lawrence, Kansas, which is about sixty miles of Kansas City, they are flooding the water mains with water from the river in order to supply the citizens as well as to prevent heavy loss in case of fire.

Argentine shipments of corn this week were 7,642,000 bushels was 1,400,000 bushels larger than the corresponding week a year ago. The invisible supply is only 4,000,000 bushels, against 10,200,000 bushels a year ago. Liverpool futures were unchanged 1-4d higher. Word was received from St. Louis that corn was under some pressure in the selling by longs, but Kansas City reported 75,000 bushels of cash as sold to go to Texas.

The wheat market averaged fractionally higher this morning, mainly in sympathy with the strength shown by corn. Local speculators were the principal sellers, while commission houses lead in the buying.

Paris was fractionally better, while Berlin was lower, and the liberal world's shipments slated for Monday were overbalanced by shorts covering in the English market. Argentine shipments were 1,088,000 bushels, and the visible supply was 720,000 bushels. Shipments from India, Argentina, and Australia this week were 3,520,000 bushels compared with 4,224,000 bushels a year ago. North-western receipts were larger than comparative periods.

September sold at 87 1-8 to 87 1-2; December at 89 3-4 to 90 5-8, and May at 95 1-4 to 95 1-2.

HEAVY CYCLONE IN WESTERN PROVINCES

Special to The Montreal Star From the Winnipeg Office of James Carruthers & Co.

Winnipeg, August 15. — According to telegraphic reports, there has been a heavy cyclonic storm over Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan, but as to the actual amount of damage done it is hard to estimate, but as a rule the loss is mostly local, and does not extend over the whole territory. There is no doubt but what there will be some damage, and it will be some days before the result will be known. The Winnipeg market to-day is about ¼ cent higher. Cables are dull, with very little enquiry.

"JACK THE CLIMBER" ARRESTED ON HIGH ROOF.

"Jack" Moore, alias "Jack the Climber," was arrested yesterday by Special Constable Breckneck on the roof of the new Royal Trust Building on St. James street. He is charged with the theft of copper, which he is alleged to have stolen from the roof of the building at different times. It is said that Moore, who was working near, climbed up from the pavement in Fortification lane.

OBJECT TO CONVEYING MILITIA

Portion of Men Give Way and Military Go to Strike Scene at Nanaimo.

SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTE SAID TO BE IN SIGHT.

Extension is in Delapidated State—Fear for Safety of Men in Tunnel.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Vancouver, B.C., August 15.—Four hundred Victoria militiamen paraded into Nanaimo, the centre of the Vancouver Island coal mines strike riot scene, yesterday morning. Having breakfasted and lunched in peace, they moved on Extension, a mining village, which had been partly burned.

Dragging along a maxim gun, the men marched the five miles in an hour and a half and were not ambushed, though the road was lined with heavy bushes. They occupied Extension without firing a single shot.

The soldiers marched past the remains of sixteen houses totally destroyed, and saw two mangled skeletons of automobiles formerly owned by mine managers. The entire town, now almost deserted, looked as if a tornado had struck it. Shells of more than a hundred cottages are still standing.

Outlined against the sky on the little hills which surround the town were to be seen groups of men, more than a hundred in all, but they kept well in the offing. The mine buildings were smoking ruins. As the khaki clad men approached, strike breakers, of whom two hundred had been employed at the mine, appeared from behind rocks or crawled out of stumps, where they had been cornered by the rioters the previous night. They were hungry and wet.

The tunnel in which twenty strikebreakers had been marooned last night did not disclose an occupant, but may still conceal a tragedy. All had got out of it but six men, who are still unaccounted for and are believed to have been suffocated somewhere away back in the old workings.

The mob last night built a bush fire in the tunnel mouth and clouds of smoke were blown inside.

MADE LAST ARGUMENT AGAINST THE MILITIA.

The investigation was given up at nightfall, while the soldiers and their maxim occupied Extension with a few strikers looking on from the hill tops. The main mob was in peaceful possession of Ladysmith, twelve miles away. There at five o'clock they made their last argument against the coming of the Militia. They threatened that five hundred of their number would post themselves in spots specially designed for sharpshooters and that they would certainly shoot if the soldiers came.

The three towns lie on the points of a triangle, which is heavily wooded, and affords lots of shelter for men temporarily in hiding.

TROOPS REMAIN TO GUARD VANCOUVER.

It is significant that a couple of military companies under arms were ordered to be left behind in Vancouver in case of an I. W. W. demonstration on the down town streets of this city. It is also learned that the gunboat Shearwater has been sent north, from Esquimalt to protect the mines at Cumberland owned by Sir William McKenzie.

A late despatch last night from Nanaimo says that amongst the strikebreakers found at Extension were two men who were charged with shooting A. David Baxter. The latter was a blase spectator, who sat rubber-necking down the tunnel and interrupted the flight of a bullet.

NO CONSENT TO OMITTING CALL AT QUEENSTOWN

London, August 15.—After listening to vigorous speeches by Irish members in the House of Commons yesterday concerning the abandonment of Queenstown as a calling port for the big Cunard line mail steamers, in which he was told that without first getting the sanction of Parliament, which ratified the Cunard contract, he had no right to assent to the company breaking its terms, the Postmaster-General, the Rt. Hon. H. H. Samuel said he had given "no formal assent" to the Cunard line's proposal to omit calling at Queenstown. Mr. Samuel answered that as presently advised he did not intend to grant the steamship company's request.

Mr. Michael Joyce, member for Limerick, who is an old pilot, denied that Queenstown harbor was unsafe for large vessels. He said he would stake his reputation as a sailor on the statement that Queenstown harbor was safer and easier to approach than Liverpool.

Before the meeting of Parliament to-day a delegation representative of all the business interests in Cork and Queenstown protested to Mr. Samuel against permitting the steamship company to abandon touching at Queenstown. The company, in its plea to be permitted to abandon Queenstown, says it is dangerous for such vessels as the Mauretania and Lusitania to enter that harbor.

SHIPMENTS OF CURRANTS.

Shipments of currants from Greece for the crop season 1912-1913, to June 30th, were 131,834 tons, against 123,077 tons for the same period in the preceding crop year. Of the current season's shipment 74,032 tons went to the United Kingdom, 13,495 tons to New York, and 24,909 tons to Germany, the balance being distributed among other countries.

AUSTRALIANS PLAYED LOCAL TEAM TO-DAY

Captain Baber Won the Toss and All-Montreal Made 114 for Ten Wickets.

Fresh from their handsome victory over Eastern Canada at Ottawa, the Australians made their second appearance this season against a team of All-Montreal on the M. A. A. A. grounds to-day in a two-days' match.

When they were here in July last the men from the antipodes gave Montreal a severe dressing down, and it was to try and wipe out this defeat that Montreal took to the field at noon today, after Captain Baber had won the toss for the home side.

The selected All-Montreal sixteen was as follows:—

A. D. Ince, G. Clarke, O. Wallace, E. E. Kenyon, F. C. I. Goodman, D. Buckley, A. J. Burgess, W. C. Baber, R. Crowther, W. S. Siddle, W. I. Brebner, A. Anthony, G. F. Lane, C. F. Hawkins, E. H. Thompson, R. S. Hart.

Umpires: Messrs. Gregory and Cameron.

A. Anthony and E. Kenyon opened the innings for Montreal on green matting, opposed to the bowling of Collins and Crawford. Anthony snicked a run off Collins' second ball. Collins no-balled with his fifth-ball and repeated the performance with his next delivery.

Kenyon hit a good four from Crawford's first ball at the opposite end right into the stand, but at Crawford's fifth ball he was bowled, after making 5 runs.

First wicket fell for 10 runs.

Wallace was next man in and got a nice leg hit off Crawford for 2 runs, and Anthony secured 2 more runs off Collins. Crawford, bowled at great speed, forced Anthony to play on the ball, and it scattered the wickets in all directions.

Buckley was well bowled with the score unaltered.

Fourth wicket fell for 13 runs.

Thompson and Goodwin became partners and the score began to slowly rise and 40 was posted up. Thompson got the measure of both bowlers, hitting a "red-hot 'un" from Crawford for four. Goodman hit Crawford to the on boundary for 4, and the score became elevated to 50. Thompson hit into the stand for 6, and this achievement was loudly applauded. Mayne was now placed on bowling in place of Crawford. His first ball accounted for one run, and from the next delivery Goodman hit for four, and from the succeeding ball, Goodman was caught by Crawford, when his score stood at 28 runs.

Fifth wicket fell for 60 runs.

C. F. Hawkins went in and was bowled by Mayne, first ball, for a duck. Thompson was shortly afterwards caught very neatly by Diamond, after the first ball he received from Arnot, with a good score of 14.

Seventh wicket fell for 60.

Ince snicked Arnot for a run and two balls later was caught in smart fashion by Crawford.

Eighth wicket fell for 62.

Baber drove a three off Mayne's bowling, and in the next over from that bowler, hit for a fine four, following up with a two hit. Captain Baber looked like being in for good business. Brebner was hereabouts smartly caught by Crawford, when he had accounted for 2 runs.

Ninth wicket fell for 80 runs.

Baber made a big effort at a teaser from Arnott, but he missed, and a two bye was recorded as the result. Liddle secured three off Mayne's bowling and slipped the next ball for a single. The score had now mounted up to 90, and Baber and Siddle were continuing to hold their own, scoring intermittently until the century was reached. Baber hit two fours and was then caught by Emery, after having placed 38 runs to his credit.

Tenth wicket fell for 114.

Adjournment was made for luncheon at 1.30 p.m., when the scores stood as follows:—

All-Montreal.

First Innings.

A. Anthony, b Crawford	3
E. A. Kenyon, b Crawford	5
G. Wallace, c Down, b Collins	3
P. Buckley, b Crawford	0
E. R. Thompson, c Down, b Arnot	14
F. C. Hawkins, b Mayne	0
F. G. Goodman, c Crawford, b Mayne	28
W. C. Baber, c Henry, b Arnot	38
I. Ince, c Crawford, b Arnott	2
S. Siddle, not out	5
Total for 10 wickets	114

Montreal are considered to be making a splendid stand against the all-conquering Australians, and have given them the best game in the first innings of the tour so far.

Play was resumed at 2.30 p.m. in glorious cricket weather.

Montreal all out for 154.

RECEIVE MORE TABLETS FOR HALIFAX TOWER.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., August 15.—When the Memorial Tower at Halifax was dedicated a year ago there was in or on the walls thirty-three tablets out of thirty-eight that the committee desired o have when their work was finally completed.

Since that time a beautiful dedication tablet in bronze has been provided by the Canadian Club, which it is hoped will be put in place in the main chamber without further delay.

The Universities of St. Francis Xavier and British Columbia are to provide their tablets in a few weeks, and one from the Government of India is on the way out.

The remaining tablet to complete the thirty-eight, the one from the Principality of Wales, is also on the way.

MOTOR DEATH AN ACCIDENT: CAR WAS GOING SLOWLY.

Justifiable homicide was the verdict of the Coroner's jury this morning in the case of Rheaume Magloire, 321 St. Denis street who had his skull fractured by an automobile driven by Jos. Aubry opposite his home Wednesday afternoon.

The evidence showed that the automobile had been going at a rate not exceeding ten miles an hour. Magloire started to cross the street, but stepped back in front of the automobile in avoiding a street car.

It was erroneously stated in yesterday's Star that L. O. Grothe was driving the car. In it at the time were Mrs. Grothe and her niece.

BUILDING FOR WIRE CO. TO COST MILLION AND A HALF.

Building operations in Montreal, which have so far been on the increase over last year, despite the serious fall-off in Toronto and other Canadian cities, received another impetus this morning when the Imperial Wire and Cable Co. fyled cables for a new eight storey office building and factory. The new building will be bounded by St. Patrick, Shearer and Richardson streets, and will cost $1,500,000. In order to secure their permit this morning, the Company had to pay the city $1700.

ALBERT MURRAY IS NOW IN LEAD IN GOLF CONTEST

Special Staff Correspondence.

Dixie, August 15.—Albert Murray, the Kenawaki professional, came from behind to-day, and is now leading the struggle for the open championship of the Royal Canadian Golf Association being played for over the course of the Royal Montreal Golf Club.

At the end of the second round Jack Burk, of Fort William, had the advantage, but the western man fell off in the third round this morning, a card of 80 shoving him back to third place.

Davie Black shared honors with Murray to-day, each covering the eighteen holes in 74. This brought the Rivermead man from fourth to second place, and leaves him strongly entrenched just two strokes behind the local man.

Charlie Murray's contribution was a card of 79 and as a result he dropped from second to fourth place. Desjardins, Charlie Murray's assistant, was a stroke better than his master with a card of 78.

Charlie Murray's trouble this morning was largely due to the presence of two sevens gathered at the seventh and seventeenth holes.

Below are the scores for the three rounds:—

SUGGESTS NEW SITE FOR CIVIC LIBRARY.

The library committee at the City Hall has received a letter from D. Montplaiser, stating he was in a position to offer the property extending from 342 to 350 Sherbrooke street east, as a site for the civic library, for $350,000. Including in this price is his own property, as well as the adjoining property of J. Paquette, and that or U. H. Dandurand.

Mr. Montplaisir recommends that the City's representatives negotiate with Messrs. Paquette and Dandurand on the subject, as, although he was authorized to offer the three properties for $350,000, there are details to be taken into consideration by all three proprietors.

MEET NO OBSTACLES IN CONSTRUCTION OF HUDSON BAY LINE

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—The Hudson Bay Railway will not be completed till 1915, according to Mr. J. D. McArthur, the contractor for the work, who is now in the city. He had an interview to-day with the Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways.

"By the autumn," said Mr. McArthur, "two hundred miles of the line will be graded. The progress is very satisfactory. We are having no trouble in getting labor and so far, no particular obstacles to construction have been encountered. I do not anticipate the completion of the line before the latter part of 1915."

SULZER WORRIES NOW ONLY OVER WIFE'S CONDITION

He Feels Like Punching the Men Who Have Brought Affair About.

CAN EASILY FIGHT HIS OWN BATTLES

Specialists, Satisfied Over Mrs. Sulzer's Progress, Return to New York.

Albany, N. Y., August 15. — "The only thing that's worrying me about the whole business is Mrs. Sulzer's condition," Governor Sulzer said to Colonel T. W. Simons, of Washington, a long-time friend. "She is very ill and the d—— scalawags have brought her name into this affair."

"It is too bad," agreed Colonel Simons after the Governor had referred to his opponents as "—— scalawags."

"Yes," replied the Governor, "I feel like punching the noses of the —— scalawags who brought her into it."

This was Governor Sulzer's first public reference to the statement that Mrs. Sulzer had used some of his campaign contributions, without his knowledge, to invest in stocks.

To another friend the Governor is quoted as having said:

"The thing that hurts me most is the fact that my wife's name has been dragged into the matter. I can fight my own battles myself. It was wrong to bring a woman into the case. I wish there was some way we could keep her name out from now on. She is now very ill. I was up with her nearly all night."

"Is she any better?" inquired the friend.

"Well, I hope so," replied the Governor.

It was announced that the two specialists whom Dr. Abraham left with Mrs. Sulzer had deemed her condition so much improved that they had gone back to New York, and at present she is under the care of a trained nurse and Dr. Abraham is in frequent touch with the sick room by long distance telephone.

SULZER LOOKS GAUNT AND HOLLOW-EYED.

Mr. Sulzer looked gaunt and hollow-eyed when he walked into the capital grounds this forenoon. The strain of a night of waiting upon his wife seemed to have told heavily upon him.

The Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Glynn, arrived at the Capital shortly before noon, and immediately went into consultation in his private office with his counsel.

U. S. RECOGNIZES RIGHT OF JAPAN TO RETALIATION

Tokio, Japan, August 15.—It is announced that the United States has intimated her readiness to favor in principle the payment of an indemnity to Japanese subjects who have been affected by the Californian alien land ownership legislation, and has also recognized the right of Japan to adopt a measure similar to the Californian Bill.

From intimations given in official circles, it appears unlikely that Japan will adopt either idea. It is said that she desires permanent friendly relations with the United States, and therefore she seeks a fundamental solution of the difficulty.

If the United States has no solution to offer, it is stated, Japan will probably allow the matter to remain as a grievance.

The public feeling of humiliation in this connection continues to be fanned by inflammatory comments in the newspapers. The Hochi Shimbun urges as an object-lesson to the United States the expulsion of American missionaries from Korea on the ground that they are undesirable aliens.

Sir G. Parker For Murray Bay

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, August 15. — Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., left for Murray Bay this morning. He will spend a week there and will resume his journey to the Pacific Coast, stopping in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal only on his way back. His entire trip through Canada will last about ten weeks.

GOVERNMENT HAS BIG CONTRACTS TO AWARD.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—Some very large contracts are about to be awarded by the Government. Tenders for the Toronto harbor works, to cost half a million dollars, and each requiring a deposit of $300,000, will be in on the 23rd.

Proposals for the second contract on the Welland Canal, estimated at $4,000,000, will be received on the 27th instant, and for the first section of the Severn River end of the Trent Canal on the 25th.

Owing to the magnitude of the works, and the large deposits required, only large firms will be in a position to tender on the original contracts.

MONTREAL GYMNASTS LEAVE ON TRIP TO EUROPEAN CITIES

The nine young men who have been chosen to compete in the international gymnastic tournaments which will be held in Rome early in September, will leave for New York at 8.30 from the Grand Trunk station to-night.

At four o'clock this afternoon, the officers of the 85th Regiment will give the boys and their instructors a send-off.

Professor Scott is taking the nine boys and a chaplain to Rome and to Ghent (Belgium) to the International Exhibition, where the gymnasts will give one or two exhibitions.

ELECTRICAL STORM DOES DAMAGE IN WESTERN CANADA

Yorkton, Sask., August 15.—A severe electrical storm, accompanied by torrents of rain swept this section yesterday. No damage is reported from the storm, but the heavy wind which followed laid some of the crops.

TELEGRAPH AND 'PHONE POSTS BLOWN DOWN.

Winnipeg, August 15.—Violent thunderstorms, accompanied by wind disturbances of cyclonic intensity, swept over Manitoba and Southern and Central Saskatchewan last night, smashing down telegraph and telephone posts across the countryside, and in the cities beating in plate glass windows and prostrating heavy bill boardings.

In Winnipeg and Brandon the storm is declared to be the worst in years, while at Rivers, a few miles north of Brandon, the elements are reported to have reached the strength of a tornado and created havoc with buildings and standing crops.

The storm reached as far west as Regina and Moose Jaw, south to the International boundary, east to the Lake of the Woods, and north towards Saskatoon.

The downpour of rain has been almost continuous, while the heavy electrical disturbances give rise to the fear that many outlying suburbs and farmsteads have suffered by lightning-ignited fires.

WOULD HAVE GOT 2 MONTHS HAD STOLEN SHOES COST $6

"The shoes were not worth half that amount," declared Emile Terroux, condemned to one month in jail by Judge Leet, in the Police Court to-day, after he had pleaded guilty to the theft of two pairs of shoes from an East end St. Catherine street store.

The proprietor said the shoes were worth $6. "That is an exaggeration," said Terroux. "They are not worth half that." Judge Leet condemned Terroux to one month. "I would have made it two if the shoes had been worth the full amount," he said.

WIPES OUT CROPS FOR FOUR MILES.

Brookdale, Man., August 15.—A severe hailstorm passed over this district last night and practically wiped out the crops for four miles north and south.

The geographical extent of the storm is as yet unknown. The storm broke the glass in the windows on the north side of all buildings in its path.

Justice, Man., August 15. — Heavy rain and thunderstorms, accompanied by some hail, struck here last night.

There was no damage in this vicinity from hail but some fields of heavy grain were flattened by wind and rain.

Cyclone Wrecks Dakota Town

Special to The Montreal Star.

Bismarck, N.D., August 15.—A cyclone struck the village of Douglas on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, north of here, late yesterday.

The town was practically demolished, and the railway tracks are covered many feet deep with debris.

Several people are reported injured, but it is not known that any one was killed.

BOYS' CLUB OUTING.

The Griffintown Boys' Club is having an entertainment to-night, when a special car will take them to the Arcade Theatre, the new movie house on St. Catherine street, east. The manager, John Mullins, has reserved 100 seats for them. After the pictures the car will take the youngsters on a trip around Westmount.

The club will be closed for about three weeks for painting and repairs.

CAPTAIN DECLINES TO CO-OPERATE IN ARREST OF PRINCE

Seattle, Wash., August 15.—A plan to halt the big Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia at sea, and take off Prince Stanislaus Sulkowski, on a charge of white slavery, carefully worked out by the United States marshal's office, and the revenue cutter sehvice, failed because the commander of the steamship declined to co-operate.

United States District Attorney Choonover at Los Angeles telegraphed to United States District Attorney Riddell at Seattle, asking him to effect the arrest of the Prince if it were possible.

It was found that the Empress of Russia, on her way from Vancouver to Victoria, would pass close to the San Juan island and that on a previous voyage she had been carried by the tide into American waters. It was planned for the revenue cutter auxiliary Scout, lying in wait off the islands ready to intercept the big liner in American waters and arrest the Prince.

When all other arrangements had been made, Captain Beetham, of the Empress, was asked to veer across the line. He refused point blank.

Mrs. Preese, mother of Princess Sulkowski, and her young daughter, passed through Seattle yesterday on their way to their home in Los Angeles.

New Rules For U.S. Parcel Post

Special to the Montreal Star.

Washington, D.C., August 15.—Postmaster-General Burleson's much discussed changes in the parcel post regulations became effective to-day. Hereafter the limit of weight of parcels for delivery in the first and second postal zones will be twenty pounds, instead of eleven, as has been the case since the inauguration of the system. Moreover, from now on, the postage rate on parcels exceeding four ounces is to be five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction.

One other change which cannot be made use of until cooler weather is that fresh meats and other perishable articles, when enclosed and wrapped as prescribed, may be mailed to offices in both first and second zones. Heretofore they were mailable only in one zone.

If the changes result in the profits expected, Mr. Burleston intends to reduce rates and increase the weight limit next year.

Welcome to The Lord Chancellor

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, August 15.—An official welcome by the Government to Lord Haldane when he comes to the American Bar Association meeting in Montreal next month is being arranged. The Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, will go to West Point, New York, on August 30, and accompany Lord Haldane to Montreal. Sunday will be spent quietly, and on Monday the Lord Chancellor will address the Association.

At a banquet to be given at the Ritz Carlton speeches will be made by the Prime Minister, the Lord Chancellor, and Ex-President Taft.

Eagles Will Fight Airmen

Special to the Montreal Star.

Berlin August 15.—Pastor Schuster, the well-known ornithologist, declares in a magazine article that French War Office will use eagles to harass possible enemies in aeroplanes.

The birds, which are kept in the army aeroplanes, are being trained to attack models of aeroplanes, destroying them with their beaks and claws. In case of war eagles are expected to attack the pilots themselves.

A press weighing twelve thousand tons has been manufactured in England for bending armor plate.

SEIZE STEAMER FOR DAMAGES CLAIMED

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Catharines, Ont., August 15.—The steamer G. Howe, bound from Chicago to Montreal, and laden with a heavy cargo of wheat, was tied up in the canal all yesterday, near the Niagara Street bridge, at the instance of the owners of the steamer Mapleton, who claim $3,500 damages, alleged to have been caused to the latter's boat by the Howe, in a collision in the canal a month ago.

The vessel was seized by officers acting for the local deputy-marshal of the Exchequer Court. The captain of the Howe claims that this is the first he heard of any damage being caused to the Mapleton. He claims that the boats just barely scraped their sides.

The Howe was uninjured, and the captain is at a loss to figure out how the other vessel could have received any serious injuries.

The steamer was released last night, after the money had been paid into court by the owners in Chicago, who will fight the case.

MILLIONAIRE SARDINES OVER ONE HUNDRED FISHERMEN MEET STARVATION DEATH

Paris, August 15.—Death by starvation of more than 100 fishermen and their families in Nova Zembla is told in a telegram from St. Petersburg to Le Petit Parisien.

Last winter was very severe, and the fishermen were unable to secure fresh supplies of food at the usual period, and the sea being frozen, it was impossible to obtain fish.

A scientific exhibition visiting the islands found skeletons of the fishermen and their wives and children lying in the open. Their huts were wrecked by wind. Their dead women still carrying infants in their arms were found. In one of the huts was found a diary written by one of the fishermen.

One of the last entries read:

"We have no more provisions, and we cannot secure any fish. Vessels were seen approaching to-day, but it was only an illusion. It is terrible to see our children dying of hunger. They come to us and cry for food. We are reduced to eating our woollen garments.

"We are still keeping on hoping for help. All the children are dead. We are now a party of four fishermen and two women. Our sufferings are indescribable. Two men just died. We tried to stave off hunger by eating the flesh of their dead comrades."

The diary ends:—"I am the last survivor. I am very feeble, and am trembling and my eyes are failing."

BULGARIAN SPIES HAVE BEEN SEIZED IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Special to The Montreal Star.

Constantinople, August 15.—Three Bulgarian army officers were arrested by the Turks in Adrianople today, charged with being spies. Word was received by the War Office today that a document had been found on the prisoners, showing that they were trying to create a mutiny in the Turkish army. They will be court-martialled.

These arrests and the information which they disclosed showed that Bulgarian will not remain passive so long as Turkey is in possession of Adrianople.

Apparently in earnest in her warning to the Great Powers that the Ottomans would continue to fight against the Bulgarians unless the alleged atrocities in Thrace are stopped, Turkey is keeping up operations against Bulgaria.

To-day, according to a report received here, the Turks surrounded and took prisoners a detachment of 85 Bulgarians at Kousikavah.

VOLUME OF CHEESE MAKING FALLS OFF.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., 15.—Professor G. G Publow, Chief Dairy Instructor for Eastern Ontario, was in town to-day for a short time, on his return to Kingston from Vara, where he spent a day at a cheese factory, with five of his instructors, giving a practical demonstration in the art of cheese-making, with a view to improving the quality of the last summer and autumn output.

Several makers of the vicinity were also present, and the interchange of ideas and suggestions was found most helpful.

The Professor states that he finds a great falling off in the volume of the make just now, as compared with year ago, due largely to the continued dry weather. There are between 300 and 900 factories in Eastern Ontario and he estimates that the output is fully one cheese per day per factory less.

FAMOUS CANADIAN NOVELIST TALKS ON NAVAL ISSUE

Sir Gilbert Parker Confident Both Sides Will Take Same View Some Day.

HAS TWO NEW NOVELS ABOUT CANADA READY

Thinks Entente Cordiale Prevented European Conflagration Over Balkans.

Quebec, August 15.—Sir Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist and M.P. for Gravesend in the British House of Commons, arrived here on the Empress of Ireland shortly before six o'clock yesterday. He leaves for Murray Bay to-day to spend a week there. After that he will return here and almost immediately make his way to Banff, where he will spend a few days before going on to British Columbia, there to pass several weeks. He will visit Toronto, Montreal, and other eastern cities on his way back and his whole trip will last about two months.

It is five years since the author of "Seats of the Mighty" was here last, and his visit before then was in 1905, when, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he attended the ceremonies connected with the inauguration of the two prairie provinces, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Questioned as to the naval issue Sir Gilbert was not inclined to say much, but made the following statement:

"We are sure that Canada means to play her honorable part in the naval defence of the Empire of which she is so powerful and integral a part. However, when she decides to share in that defence, whether it be direct contribution or by the formation of local navies, England will be satisfied.

"I am personally certain that both parties in this country will take the one point of view in the end. That may not be this year or next, but it will surely come."

"I believe that the entente cordiale, the friendship between England and France, has prevented a European conflagration overwhelming disaster to the world, Sir Gilbert continued.

"The union of these two nations, after years of discord, in a common European policy, has prevented combinations which would have overturned the balance of power in Europe and opened the way to dangerous ambitions. The significance of it to Canada is immense, for the friendship of the two nations on either side of the British Channel means in the end a better understanding between the two races here."

CONFIDENT FINANCIAL SITUATION RECOVERING.

Regarding the question of the British investor and Canadian debentures and flotations, Sir Gilbert said:

"As for the recent diminution of interest in Canadian issues, I am absolutely certain that it will be shortlived, and that within a few months there will be just as much enthusiasm for them as there has been in the past years. A few inferior issues will help to spoil the market for the best, but the British public generally, believe in Canada. The recent hesitation has been stock exchange hesitation, underwriter's hesitation, and not that of the individual investor throughout the country. Higher rates of interest will exist for all issues throughout the world for some time to come."

"Will the financial situation improve generally?" Sir Gilbert was asked.

"Yes. It will in part be due to the close of the Balkan war. But the American financial situation, the uncertainty as to what lengths Government interference or regulation of finance will be carried, will have, and has had, powerful effect in disturbing the finances of the world. The scarcity of gold has also contributed to the general unrest, but there is a pretty common opinion that this autumn will see a real and legitimate revival of public confidence, and the year 1914 gives every promise of a return to the healthy conditions which existed prior to 1907."

Sir Gilbert remarked that there seemed to be a remarkable change in the appearance of Quebec since he had been here last and this was particularly noticeable in the activity around the waterfront.

While not actually going out of his way in search of copy, Sir Gilbert hopes that his visit will supply him with fresh inspiration and that he will gather new material for other novels. At present he has two more Canadian novels almost completed. One has a French-Canadian settling. The other treats of life in the Far West.

"So you see," said the author, "that I, too, am trying to play my little part in keeping our country beneath the eyes of the Empire. I am more proud than I can say of the way in which Canada bulks in the eyes of the world to-day. In the twenty-eight years that have passed since I first left the country she has risen from a slow provincialism to the sure and enterprising progressiveness of a second rate power in the world. The young men used to leave Canada as if the plague were after them. They stay now to scoop the fruits of progress."

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS OBJECT TO WOMEN IN POLITICAL LIFE

Prepared to Prove American Agitation Kept Up by Comparatively Few.

ADDRESS MEMBERS OF HOUSE COMMITTEE

Suffragists Consider Policies and Reforms to Be Presented Next Year.

Washington, August D.C., August 15.—While their unconverted sisters were insisting before the House Rules Committee that a majority of their sex did not want the ballot, delegates to the National Council of Women voters today met to discuss ways and means for winning universal suffrage throughout the country.

This was the closing day of the council's three days' conference. The sessions were devoted to consideration of policies and reforms to be presented in 1914.

At the morning session the principal subject considered was the legislative proposals to be advanced by women next year in those suffrage States in which the Legislatures meet.

REPORT ON ALASKA SUFRAGE CONDITIONS.

Miss Helen Todd, of California, led the discussion.

Reports on suffrage conditions in Alaska were made by Mrs. James Wickersham, wife of the delegate from the territory, in Illinois by Mr. Clandius U. Stone, and in Kansas by Mrs. Victor Murdock, wife of the Representative from that State.

Dr. C. Smith King was down to lead a critical analysis of the attitude of the national political parties toward suffrage.

The conference ends to-night with a public mass meeting.

The anti-suffragists had their innings to-day when, led by Mrs. F. W. Scott, of New York, president of the National Association opposed to woman suffrage, they appeared for an informal hearing before Chairman Henry and members of the House rules committee.

They were prepared to prove, they told the committee, that the agitation was kept up by a comparatively small number and that the great majority of American women looked with disfavor upon their sex entering upon political strife.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN ON ROOFS OF HOUSES.

Preaching the cause of "Votes for women" from the housetops, speakers for the National American Woman's Suffrage Association have gone back to Bible times for an inspiration for publicity.

The suffragists have launched a campaign on the roofs of the scores of apartment houses with which the national capital is dotted, and women orators of national repute have been drafted into the aerial squad.

In one fashionable quarter of the north-west section the apartment buildings are so closely packed together that speakers for the "cause" have been enabled to address audiences on two and sometimes three roofs at one and the same time.

The roof garden rallies are said by the crusaders to be highly successful, as they are enabling them to reach unbelievers who will not attend their street meetings.

WHEAT IS PLACED UPON FREE LIST BY U. S. SENATE

Washington, August 15.—The Democratic amendment putting wheat on the free list and striking out the ten cent per bushel tariff rate, fixed by the House Democrats, was adopted by the Senate yesterday by a vote of 37 to 32. A subsequent motion by Senator Gronna to fix a duty of six cents per bushel on wheat and one eighth of a cent per pound on wheat flour was defeated 37 to 31. Senators Ransdell and Thorton, of Louisiana, voted with the Republicans.

The Democrats also defeated an amendment proposed by Senator Gronna to restore the three cents duty on eggs contained in the House Bill. The vote was 35 to 28 in favor of the Senate committee's proposal for free eggs.

The first definite effort of the Democrats to secure an agreement for an early vote on the Tariff Bill failed in the Senate to-day, when Republicans served notice that consideration of the measure would be continued indefinitely.

Leading Senators of both parties, as a result of the day's developments last night, predicted a session of Congress that would run until late October or November.

MUST DISPOSE OF CURRENCY BILL.

Early in the day President Wilson had made it known that he would not approve of any Congressional recess until the Currency reform Bill had been disposed of. This attitude was endorsed by Democratic leaders, and those who had favored a recess after the passage of the Tariff Bill apparently have resigned themselves to a continuous session of Congress.

Senator Simmons, as manager of the Tariff debate, made a formal request when the Senate took up the measure, for an agreement to vote August 25. Republicans of both the "regular" and "progressive" element objected.

Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader, tried to draw the Democrats into an announcement of whether they proposed to take up and pass the Currency Bill, but the Democrats declined to commit themselves on the subject.

PLANING MILLS OF TREMBLAY CO. GUTTED BY FLAMES

The Montreal Carriage Works Threatened by Midnight Fire.

The planing mills owned by the F. Tremblay Lumber Company, between William and Ottawa streets at the corner of Guy, were gutted by fire shortly after midnight. The mills are situated in the middle of one of the largest lumber areas in the city. The lower end of the Northern Electric Company's factory is on the opposite side of Guy street. The mill is a long narrow building running between the two streets, occupied by the lumber company and the Montreal Carriage Works, whose paint shop gave the firemen a very fierce blaze to fight.

The cause of the conflagration is not known, but it is thought a tramp may have wandered through one of the many entrances and started smoking before turning in. At about 6.30 a call was made for a small blaze in a pile of lumber on the opposite side of the street, but apparently the two outbreaks are not connected.

Hampered By Lumber.

The firemen were considerably hampered by piles of lumber which had been placed in front of the building on William street, and had to climb to the top of these to give their hose full play, a performance that caused a little delay in getting into action.

Two alarms were turned in. Men from the Central station came along with Chief Tremblay, and it was not till after three o'clock that all the firemen were able to leave. Had the flames jumped the street there would have been far more serious battle, as piles of lumber extend for a long distance on William and Ottawa streets, while the power house of the Tramways Company is not far away. The fire, however, was well in hand from the start and the men confined themselves to the task of saving what they could of the building, and succeeded in keeping the larger part of the carriage works intact. The work was all the easier on account of the fact that there was no breeze.

The damage is not definitely estimated, but is roughly assessed at about fifty thousand dollars. The building in itself was old and valueless, being a long rambling structure mostly of timber, faced in parts with brick; but a large machinery plant has been damaged.

The Firm.

The partners of the firm are Ferdinand Tremblay and Oscar Mathieu, the former being a relation of the fire chief's. They were both out of town last night, but several employes came with an idea of looking after the books and the office, which, however, was unharmed. It is stated that there is insurance to cover the loss, in part, but it is not known to what extent. About two hundred men are employed in the mill, and a number of these will be out of work for a time. The carriage works came off lightly, with the loss of a number of rigs finished and unfinished, and the destruction of the paint store with the large stock it contained.

Again, Hour Sales Saturday Morning

For the benefit of Visitors not familiar with our Saturday Morning Hour Sales, let us explain again that while there is a reasonable amount of Merchandise in each offer, there is no promise on our part that every single advertised lot will last the whole advertised period. Some of the prices are so low that twice the amount of Merchandise should not meet the demand. However, we can't tell.

We would suggest that you take special note of the goods you want and the hour they are on sale, and be here in time to get the first of the goods in the first part of the hour. That's merely a well meant friendly advice.

Strength and Appetite Restored

MRS. MARY CARMODY

This Brooklyn woman is now the picture of health, thanks to the wonderful restorative powers of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and she cannot praise it too highly. Here's what she says:—

"About a year ago I was down with a very heavy cold and I had a bad pain under my shoulder blades. I was under the care of different doctors, but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand, and I could not keep anything on my stomach. A druggist near where I lived advised taking a tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with an egg in milk before meals, and after following his advice I found that I could eat; I overcame my weakness, and gradually gained in weight. I believe that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a tonic for run down people is a great thing, and I recommend it to my many friends in Brooklyn and New York. I cannot praise Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey too much."—Mrs. Mary Carmody, 116 N. Elliott Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutriment necessary to their sustenance and indirectly to the whole system strength and vigor. It is prescribed by doctors and is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

If in need of advice, write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N.Y., stating your case fully. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable illustrated medical booklet, containing rare common sense rules for health, which you cannot afford to be without, and some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of this great medicine and who continue to enjoy good health. Sold by druggists, dealers and hotels, $1.25 a large bottle.
