Red Bloc Split Not Possible — Khrushchev

PRAGUE — (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev promised Czechoslovakia today that the split in the Communist bloc which "imperialist reaction attempted in Hungary will never happen."

The Soviet Communist party chief spoke to a huge crowd at the Prague railroad station after he and Premier Bulganin stepped from the special train which brought them on a 24-hour whistlestop tour across Czechoslovakia.

"The Hungarian events clearly showed the real character of imperialist designs," Khrushchev said.

"Never will it be possible for anybody to shake and violate our great commonwealth."

Welcoming the visitors, Czech President Antonin Zapotocky predicted their talks in Prague would "serve to tighten the unity and solidarity" of the entire Communist bloc.

Zapotocky openly endorsed Khrushchev's purge of his rivals in the Kremlin leadership, saying the Soviet party's central committee meeting which took the action last month "showed the world how crazy and hopeless are all attempts to weaken our unity or to change our Leninist policies."

Prague radio said the Soviet leaders had come to the Czech capital for "discussions of great political significance," especially since these followed so closely upon the removal of Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov.

Murder Charge Is Laid

MONTREAL — (AP) — John Montour, 28, who lives on nearby Caughnawaga Indian reserve, will appear in court here next Wednesday at a preliminary hearing, charged with murder in the drowning death of a student nurse.

Marielle Levesque, 28, of Val d'Or vanished into the St. Lawrence River June 21 after she and two girl companions had hitchhiked back to Montreal from Pittsburgh, N. Y. Elaine Bellavance, 21, told an inquest Tuesday her friend threw herself into the water to get help after Montour allegedly started to molest them.

Montour also faces three charges of attempted rape in connection with Miss Levesque's death.

Miss Bellavance testified that Montour drove herself, Miss Levesque and Mrs. Jean Gates, 28, from Pittsburgh to Caughnawaga near Montreal. She said he stopped the car near the river, demanding to be paid.

"I asked Mrs. Gates to offer him money but he refused, saying he wanted to be paid another way."

Flu Hits 1,700 In Queensland

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — About 1,700 persons in the North Queensland town of Innisfail have been stricken with an illness believed to be Asian flu.

The epidemic is reported to have spread to seven other North Queensland towns.

Queensland's director-general of health, Dr. A. Fryberg, said today 1,000 doses of vaccine will be flown to the northern towns.

The epidemic hit the town about 10 days ago. Since then more than one quarter of the town's population of 6,600 many of whom are Italian migrants or of Italian descent—have been infected.

Flying Safer But ...

MONTREAL — (AP) — A worker at nearby St. Hubert who bought a plane because he felt driving was too dangerous made a crash landing in a field near his home Tuesday. He suffered only a head cut.

Marcel Boisvert told an astonished police constable he bought the plane for $1,500 and "figured it made more sense than paying $2,000 for a car and getting slaughtered on the highway."

Leg Irons Used

LONDON — (Reuters) — Many British colonies still use leg irons on prisoners but never for punishment. Colonial Undersecretary John Profumo told a Labor questioner.

Guilty Party Was Innocent

CHICAGO (AP) — Guilty was innocent Tuesday in traffic court.

Judge John J. Sullivan dismissed nine traffic violations against Grady Guilty, 23, for lack of evidence.

Guilty had been accused of driving a car which injured Herman Shaw March 24.

Historical Event Is Planned For October

OTTAWA — (AP) — For the first time in history, a reigning monarch is to open Canada's Parliament.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's office announced Tuesday that the first session of Canada's new Parliament will be opened by the Queen on Monday, Oct. 14, during a five-day visit to Ottawa.

The only previous visit to Canada by a reigning monarch was in 1939 when King George VI and Queen Elizabeth — now the Queen Mother — crossed the country in a month-long tour.

abandonment of a promise, made during his successful election campaign, that he would call Parliament to meet in September to carry out his legislative proposals.

'Baffin' Is Freed From Rock

HALIFAX — (AP) — A listing Baffin slowly churned into the sheltered mouth of the LaHave River Tuesday night after being freed from Black Rock, about 70 miles southwest of here.

A close inspection of the $4,000,000 hydrographic vessel will be made today to determine whether she can make the 60-mile voyage to drydock here. Capt. R. Featherstone, salvage expert and marine superintendent with Foundation Maritime Ltd., will supervise the operation.

The Baffin hit Black Rock in heavy fog last Thursday while charting marine hazards in the south coast area. The barnacled menace ripped her hull, split her holds and sent tons of water through her ballast tanks.

After repeated attempts, two heavy tugboats and a ground tackle, held down by five-ton anchors and manipulated by the Baffin's winches, pulled her free.

Capt. D. M. Snelgrove of Lake side, N.S., her skipper, and the 50 crew members who stayed aboard to help dislodge the ocean charting vessel smiled with tired eyes and bearded faces Tuesday when the Baffin lurched free. They had worked at pumps and winches for five foggy but calm days.

Hugh Milroy, second superintendent of Foundation Maritime, said the 3,460-ton Baffin will be fully inspected before making the Halifax trip.

QUEEN ELIZABETH II

The Queen and Prince Philip, travelling by air, are to arrive in Ottawa Saturday Oct. 12 and leave by air on Wednesday Oct. 16 for a six-day visit to the United States.

In Ottawa, the Queen will read the Speech from the Throne, written by the government, to open the session. She and Prince Philip are expected to stay at Government House, residence of Governor-General Massey.

The Queen is to fly to Jamestown, Va., Oct. 16 for ceremonies marking the founding in 1604 of the first permanent English settlement in the U.S. She arrives in Washington later that day for a three-day formal visit, a day of rest on Sunday Oct. 20 and a visit to New York on Monday before returning to London.

UN Truce Officers Probe 10-Hour Israeli-Syrian Clash

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Truce officials pressed an investigation today into a 10-hour border clash between Israeli and Syrian forces which finally halted after the United Nations had put out four cease-fire calls.

Israeli sources said a shepherd was killed and seven Israeli police were wounded in the exchange of rifle, machine-gun and mortar fire. A Syrian Army spokesman in Damascus said two Arab women and two children were wounded.

U.S. marine Col. Byron W. Leary, acting UN truce chief, hastened to Damascus for talks with Syrian officials.

Leary, who put out the repeated cease-fire orders, conferred with the Israeli foreign ministry director-general, Walter Eytan, shortly after the shooting stopped at 10:45 p.m.

EXCHANGE CHARGES

The foreign office said Eytan "expressed the Israel government's serious concern regarding the recent chain of Syrian attacks which were climaxed today."

Israel accused Syrian forces of opening fire on the Godot settlement and on Israeli vehicles travelling north to the Sea of Galilee. A spokesman said the first three cease-fire orders could have been obeyed at any time but "the Syrians continued their attack."

A Syrian spokesman in Damascus charged that an Israeli force "supported by armored vehicles attacked a Syrian outpost." He claimed the Syrian troops heeded the UN request by the Israelis "continued mortar shelling."

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, attending the UN Economic and Social Council session in Geneva, sent appeals to Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and President Shukri Kuwaly of Syria "to forestall the repetition of such incidents."

WORKER SHOT

An Israeli army spokesman said a farm hand working in the fields of the Dan settlement close to the Syrian border was wounded today by a shot from across the frontier.

A Cairo broadcast in Hebrew said: "The Arab high command was transferred last night to the Israeli-Syrian frontier. Egypt took the necessary steps to participate in the struggle in case it should extend."

EDMONTON — (CP) — A United States Air Force F-89 Scorpion jet fighter crashed and burned in a field seven miles north of Edmonton Tuesday night. Its two occupants were reported killed.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — (AP) — Captured Communist documents released today revealed the jungle execution of one of the highest ranking Red leaders in Malaya. Fung Meng, 50, a regional committee member of the Malayan Communist party, was executed by a Red firing squad in Johore State last November.

Suggestion May Form Part Of Ministers' Conference

OTTAWA — (AP) — Canada may propose at the Commonwealth finance ministers' conference here next September that tariffs and capital be used to increase trade within the Commonwealth.

Well-informed federal officials said Tuesday that the Canadian suggestion will form part of a draft agenda to be placed before the conference.

Ministers at the conference will decide, mainly on the basis of the agenda, whether a full-scale Commonwealth trade and economic conference should be held next year.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker proposed the conference at the Commonwealth meeting of prime ministers in London earlier this month. Federal officials said he also undertook to prepare the agenda.

THREE-LINE AGENDA

Trade experts in the capital working on the agenda are thinking along three main lines:

1. Increased tariff protection will undoubtedly have to be used to weld the Commonwealth into a more powerful trading body, ringed by higher tariff walls.

2. A lot of foreign investment in such dollar countries as the United States will have to be redirected into the soft currency or sterling area markets of the Commonwealth.

3. Canadian plans to negotiate new trade agreements with Australia and New Zealand may be shelved if it becomes evident a new over-all Commonwealth trade pact might be signed.

Ginger Divorced

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — (AP) — Actress Ginger Rogers got a divorce Tuesday from her fourth husband, French actor Jacques Bergerac, after testifying he subjected her to long periods of silence and unexplained absences and that he drove the family car too fast.

IRA Suspects Under Guard

DUBLIN (Reuters) — Troops with fixed bayonets Tuesday guarded a camp containing 60 suspected members of the outlawed Irish Republic Army, rounded up in a surprise government sweep.

More suspects were expected soon at the camp, at nearby Curragh. Tuesday floodlights were installed to foil attempted night breaks.

Prime Minister Eamon de Valera Monday night took power to arrest and hold persons without trial under provisions of the Offences Against the State Act.

The roundup of the IRA suspects — the biggest since the Second World War — followed a meeting of de Valera's cabinet.

Europe Heat Wave Cooler

ROME (AP) — Cool winds, clouds and showers took the sting today out of a fierce nine-day European July heat wave that killed at least 378 persons, most of them in sunny Italy.

The counted Italian deaths — many of them old persons who died in sweltering homes in Venice, Milan and Padua — stood at 181. This was generally believed to be only a part of the actual toll. Many cities and towns do not report heat deaths. Hundreds suffered sunstroke.

In Rome, blistering heat of the last week today caused the collapse of a huge bus and street car barn that trapped more than 80 workmen. One of them died and at least a dozen were in serious condition. The barn gave way when the heat expanded sustaining girders.

Elsewhere in Europe milder temperatures, cool winds and showers generally prevailed.

Shock Of Win Was Too Much

MELBOURNE — (AP) — John Archer, a Salvation Army color sergeant, won the first prize, worth some $30,000, in a lottery in May.

Within a week the Salvation Army suspended him for three months for gambling.

He suffered a stroke. Archer, aged 73 and a pensioner, entered a Salvation Army hospital a week ago. Monday he died.

Salvation Army officer Maj. B. Harewood said the shock and excitement of the win proved too much for Archer.

The Hustler

U.S. Unveils First Supersonic Atomic Bomber

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (AP) — The U. S. Air Force unveiled its first supersonic atomic bomber, the Convair (B-58) Hustler, today. The plane's top speed remained a secret.

Heretofore seen only in rapid flight, the Hustler, closeup and on the ground, turned out to be a surprisingly small needle-nose delta-wing craft with four powerful jet engines.

"As of right now the B-58 is the fastest jet bomber in the world," said Lt.-Gen. C. S. Irvine, USAF deputy chief of staff for materiel.

Frank W. Davis, chief engineer at Fort Worth for Convair division of General Dynamics Corporation, put it this way:

"The magnitude of advance in the B-58 is best emphasized by the fact that it provides a greater increment in top speed advantage over the latest operational bomber than that bomber provided over the Wright brothers airplane."

1,200 M.P.H.?

Since the newest operational jet bomber, the eight-engine Boeing B-52, flies a good 600 miles an hour faster than the Wright airplane of 50 years ago, Davis' remark would indicate that the B-58 hurtles along at more than 1,200 miles an hour or close to twice the speed of sound.

Perhaps the most unusual feature of the B-58, in outward appearance, is the long, slim, disposable "pod" — a tank streamlined to a point at each end suspended underneath the plane.

The B-58 carries a crew of three — pilot, navigator-bombardier and defensive systems operator.

It is only 95 feet long, has a 55-foot span on its triangular wing, and its sharply-swept tail fin stands some 31 feet off the ground.

MINTON — The float entered by the Minton W.I. was second prize at the Dominion Day parade at Hatley. Representing the various conventions on the float were Susan Dean, Gary Card, Derwin McKinnon, Sandra Card, Lana Card, Linda McKie and Mrs. Garnet Card.

Cowansville Art Centre Has Fine Painting Exhibit

COWANSVILLE — The ninth exhibition of paintings held at the Cowansville Art Centre was officially opened on Saturday by Mrs. L. S. Lee, president of the Centre. The artists exhibiting a well known Canadian group were Kathleen Morris, A.R.C.A. Anne Savage, Mable Lockerby, Ethel Seath and Nora Collier. These talented ladies once again charmed those who attended by their distinct styling and modern rendering of such fascinating subjects as sea shells, mountains, animals and a most original one — a scarecrow.

Mrs. Lee briefly previewed these works and then the guests adjourned to the dining room where sherry was served. During this interval and for some time after the guests viewed the pictures at leisure.

Kathleen Morris displayed seven delightful creations, among which were "Old Montreal," "The Hay Market, Ottawa," and "Snow Carts, Quebec." "Sketch, Mago," "East Bolton," and "Wild Apples" were three of the six pictures exhibited by Anne Savage. "Wild Apples" was a subject which created much interest through the delicate shape of the apples and the exquisite colors used.

The six pictures shown by Mable Lockerby were "Waterfall," "Flowers and Shells," "Blue Pool," "Cat and Flowers," "First Snow" and "Old Towers," the last showing a well known site on Sherbrooke Street in Montreal. Among the five entries made by Ethel Seath were two very interesting paintings entitled "Scare Crow" and "Leaves and Birds."

Nora Collier, who had seven pictures in the exhibition, showed "Brome Lake from Upper Road," a picture which was of local interest, and "Shells, Nova Scotia," which was of general interest. These five artists together contributed 30 oil paintings.

The Art Centre will continue to hold exhibitions, two of which will open in the very near future. The independent art club of Montreal, headed by Thurston Topham, will have an exhibition of paintings on July 20. Following this on August 10 an exhibition of oil and watercolor paintings and sculpture by the well known Montreal artist and teacher, Andrey Zadorozny, will open.

Attendance prizes of $1,000 will be offered on each of the five nights of the Sherbrooke Fair — August 25 through 29 — President Colin L. Campbell announced at a press conference held at the Exhibition offices yesterday afternoon.

The drawing, made possible through the co-operation of the Conklin Midway and Geo. Hamid and Co., will take place each evening between 9:45 and 10. The person holding the winning tickets must be on the grounds to claim the prize. If no claimant appears within a reasonable time of the first drawing, another ticket will be selected.

In connection with the advance sale of tickets, Mr. Campbell stated that a small commission will be offered organizations wishing to sell such tickets and that groups interested should get in touch with the exhibition authorities. These advance tickets will be included in the drawings.

Weather Reduces Attendance At E. T. Club Picnic

ST. CATHARINES — (Special) — Some 150 people braved inclement weather at Burgoyne Woods here on June 29 to attend the annual picnic of the E.T. Get-Together Club.

Despite these drawbacks visitors began to arrive in cars around 10 o'clock in the morning and by noon the number of picnickers rose to about 40. The people took refuge under the trees while the wind roared and the clouds scudded wildly across the gray sky. Later in the day the grounds filled with some 150 visitors.

The program of races and contests was supervised by Stuart Dunbar, assisted by Bill Warren, Peter Sarrasin and Bill Peak. The prize list included articles of special interest to the winners — bottles of Bull's Head Ginger Ale, donated by J. H. Bryant Ltd., flashlights from G. T. Armstrong and Sons Ltd., nylons from the Lincoln Hosiery Co. Ltd.

In the races for girls and boys the winners were (under 6) Sherrin Corey, Jerry Hill and Reggie Soper; (7 to 8) Melanie Hill and Deborah Bowen; (9 to 12) Linda Bowen and Gail Soper, Douglas Dunbar and Larry Sampson. The bubble gum contest for girls and boys, 12 to 15, was won by Gail Soper, Douglas Dunbar and Betty Sampson. In the mixed wheelbarrow race Judy Butcher and Douglas Dunbar came in first.

Contests for the older ones included Ladies' Shoe Kick, Judy Butcher and Mrs. J. Butcher; Ladies' and Men's Softball Throws, Judy Butcher and Sheila Patton, Ed. Bowen and Eric Thomas. Youngest babies present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Corey's little son, Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Deadman's baby girl, Cathy, while Mrs. A. Donohue won the prize for the oldest lady present. Prize for the oldest car went to Mr. and Mrs. R. West, while the family driving the longest distance to the picnic came from Sherbrooke — Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Patton with their son and daughter. The 'newest newly weds' were Mr. and Mrs. E. Thomas, and the oldest married couple Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Fleck. In the Minute-guessing contest, for grandmothers and grandfathers the best guessers were Mrs. R. West and Mr. William Peak.

In the register there were many names familiar to folks back home in the E.T., such as Green, Hanna, Reynolds, Humphrey, Glass, Jameson, Lawrence, Boulter, Campbell, Pratt, Byrne, Cartwright, McKee, Evans, Rothney, Williams, Nutbrown, Briggs, Muir, Ball, McCullough, Roarke, Whitten, Bedwell, Johnson, MacDonald, Stone and Sylvester. Their original homes in the E.T. included Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Inverness, North and East Hatley, Windsor Mills, Beebe, Coaticook, Wolfetown, Milan, Waterville, Way's Mills, Compton, also Montclair. Their Ontario homes are in Hamilton, Hannon, Oakland, Brantford, Galt, Glenora, Toronto, Barrie, Waterdown, Guelph, Welland, St. Thomas, Courtland, St. Catharines, Merritt, Dundas, St. George, Stoney Creek, Port Colbourne, Port Credit and Mount Pleasant.

Other visitors to the picnic included the Patton family from Sherbrooke and Mr. John Nutbrown of North Hatley; and from the U.S. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fleck of Niagara Falls, N.Y. President of the Club, Mr. Ralph Libby, greeted the guests and assisted many in locating old friends, the main interest for the older ones. The strong cold winds discouraged the youngsters from using the fine swimming pool, but there was much romping and playing beneath the huge trees, with many wet feet afterward and splashed clothing. However the day proved a happy one, well worth the hardships of stormy weather. Many lingered on for the second meal, still chatting with old friends.

A short business meeting was held before committee members left, and it was planned to call a meeting for September 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warren, Toronto, to close the books for this year and to make tentative plans for the picnic of 1958.

be horse racing Saturday evening and every afternoon except Monday, when a special performance will be put on for the children.

Arrangements are also underway, Mr. Campbell continued, for a name band to play at a dance at the arena on the opening night of the fair, Saturday, August 24. The midway attraction will be provided again this year by Conklin Brothers.

Big Top Comes To Knowlton

KNOWLTON — Under the auspices of the Knowlton Lions Club, hundreds of children from Knowlton and surrounding towns were treated to the thrill of a lifetime when the Garden Brothers Circus came to town.

There was much excitement among the young fry during the day watching the whole thing being assembled and getting a preview of the features in the show. The clowns provided a great deal of merriment and the youngsters thrilled to the cowboys and cowgirls, with their fine ponies.

The event was sponsored by the Knowlton Lions Club to raise funds to assist in its many worthwhile charitable acts, but apart from the wonderful work they will be able to do with the funds, members must feel a great deal of satisfaction in making so many children happy.

Position Of Radiology In Medicine Told Rotarians

Guest speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club was Dr. John Silny, head of the radiology department at the Sherbrooke Hospital. Tracing the history of radiology, from its discovery in 1895 to the present, Dr. Silny outlined the place of this "very young science" in the modern hospital.

Throughout his talk, Dr. Silny emphasized the fact that by itself radiology is a thing of minor importance, but used in conjunction with the other branches of medicine it becomes a thing of great value.

In 1902, a British doctor said that X-rays could be of very little use in viewing the natural functions of the body. It was supposed for some time that radiology, for diagnostic purposes, could be used only for locating foreign bodies in the human system. Since then, work in radiology has been bent on perfecting equipment and techniques to make possible the examination of organs and cells. By the end of World War I, X-ray tubes had been greatly improved for both diagnostic and therapeutic work.

In both branches of radiology, the aim of scientists is for fast, intensive X-rays, releasing a minimum of dangerous radiation. Modern equipment approaching these standards makes it possible to single out and examine particular areas of tissue.

The identification of individual tissues is made possible by the recent development of tracing materials which are introduced into the body and used to contrast the various chemicals of the body.

Several interesting innovations in modern radiology are applications of movie and television techniques. When perfected, a series of rapid X-ray exposures will give the radiologist almost a moving picture of the body's functions. A second development, based on the operation of the television tube, will permit the doctor to observe X-ray pictures in a room only semi-darkened.

Speaking of the place of radiology in the modern hospital, Dr.

Silny said that cost was the major problem. A complete set of radiological equipment requires an outlay of $100,000. Maintenance costs are high and no machine lasts more than 10 years.

Dr. Silny compared the relation between the radiologist and the surgeon to the relation between a junior officer and a general in the army. While the radiologist is investigating one aspect of an illness, the physician in charge of the patient is aware of the full scope of the problem. Thus radiology, while of immense value, is only one aspect of the great improvements in modern medicine.

Summing up, Dr. Silny expressed the opinion that radiology by itself "is practically nothing." In co-operation with the other branches of the hospital, it is invaluable.

Dr. Silny was thanked by Don MacLennan.

Changes Made In Boundary Swim Project Schedule

ROCK ISLAND — The Boundary Frontier Swim Project is well away in its second week and a large number of young people and children attend daily.

On Monday, there were 70 swimmers in the morning class and over 200 non-swimmers in the afternoon. Because of the large attendance, the instructors and Quebec Central bus officials have been forced to make a change in plans for those who travel by bus.

This week, July 8 through July 12, non-swimmers whose last names start with A to and including L, go on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and those from M to Z on Tuesday and Thursday. Next week, July 14 through 18, they will alternate. The M to Z will have classes three days and A to L, two days. Swimmers will go every day.

Letters have been mailed out asking the public to support this very worthwhile endeavor. Costs of the project for eight weeks amounts to over $2,000.

On Thursday evening at 6:45 another bee will take place at Salem Lake Beach to repair the large raft. Charles Nadeau of Newport will be there with his wrecker car to assist with the raft lifting. The remaining docks must be placed in the water and a few smaller jobs to be done.

The committee would be most grateful if men with hammers, saws, sledge hammers and other necessary tools will respond to this appeal.

Bus Contract Revision Needed

Charges made six years ago that the contract between the City and the Laramie Service Inc. governing the operation of the urban autobus service was loosely drawn and offered too many loopholes to the operating company to evade its responsibilities appear more than justified by recent events.

The aldermen acted with reasonable promptitude in demanding that the company restore its service to the standards prevailing prior to last weekend, but the very wording of the resolution indicates Council feels that it is on uncertain ground. Obviously there is no penalty for the failure of the company to carry out the terms of its agreement and the "demand" of the Council is little more than an urgent request, accompanied by a threat to take the matter to higher authorities — in this case the Quebec Transport Commission — unless the bus operators mend their ways.

At the time the original contract came before the Quebec Transportation Board for approval, one important clause — that covering the maintenance of fares at the existing level — was struck out by the Board which ruled that it was opposed to common sense. At the same time, the Board pointed out certain weaknesses of the contract over which it had no direct control.

A number of incidents during the past few years have made it apparent that the time has come to renegotiate the agreement — probably with the assistance and advice of the provincial authorities — so that the company can be compelled to accept certain responsibilities in return for the monopoly privileges granted it.

Iron Curtain Comeback

A political comeback that has been partially obscured because it took place behind the Iron Curtain is absorbing the interest of political observers. The comeback was staged in the Soviet Union — which in itself is a considerable feat — by Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov.

Marshal Zhukov is credited with playing a decisive role in crushing the challenge to Communist party strongman Nikita Khrushchev by the Stalinist old guard. Because he represents the army, his vote in party discussions carries more weight than most. Now that he is a full member of the party Praesidium — the inner council of Soviet Communism — his role will be even greater.

Marshal Zhukov was a war hero who won popular acclaim during and after World War II. It was his popularity that led to his temporary eclipse after the war. Stalin, never one to tolerate more than one hero per country, exiled the marshal to an obscure army command in the Crimea. Zhukov's popularity among the people was probably the only reason he escaped a more permanent form of exile.

Zhukov was also personally acquainted with President Eisenhower, with whom he developed a comradely soldier-to-soldier relationship. He came back to Moscow after Stalin's death and since then the army has been a factor that party men have had to reckon with. He is a man to watch.

Rockets And Sunspots

The firing of rockets nearly 200 miles into the air at Fort Churchill, Man., and the effect of sunspots on television reception may not appear to be closely related. But this is the International Geophysical year and scientists around the world have combined their talent and resources to make an all-out assault on the mysteries of the physical environment in which we live. Such events will be in the news for the next 18 months.

Rockets provide a spectacular, but not the most spectacular, example of what the scientists will be doing. Sunspots will be under observation too, and it must have given the scientists a mild thrill to have the official start of IGY last week coincide with a tremendous explosion on the sun which created havoc in radio communications throughout the world.

Geophysics is one of the oldest of the physical sciences. But such apparently fundamental questions as the composition of the center of the earth remain unanswered. One of the problems facing the scientist is that he has to wait until some natural phenomenon such as solar flares occurs before he can observe and draw information from it. It is much more valuable if such events can be observed simultaneously at different places throughout the world. This is the main justification for IGY. For the first time, comprehensive study of natural phenomena will be made on a scale which will give an opportunity for conclusive interpretation.

The studies which will be made during the next 18 months will have great practical as well as academic value. The problems of radio transmission and long-range intercontinental missiles will be among those tackled.

But already IGY has scored a substantial success. Scientists from Russia, the United States, Britain, Canada and other countries will be working together, something which would have seemed impossible a few years ago. The pooling of information and equipment has been a boon to countries which have not had sufficient resources themselves to keep abreast of modern developments.

The earth satellites which the Americans, and apparently the Russians as well, hope to launch this year smack of science fiction to the layman. IGY will bring home the fact that we may not be as far away from the Buck Rogers era as we think.

State Of Tension

Algiers Waits For The Next Bomb

ALGIERS — (Reuters) — Citizens of Algiers live in a perpetual state of tension, wondering all the time what will happen next.

The main preoccupation in this North African city of 192,000 Europeans and 162,000 Moslems is when and where the next terrorist bomb will go off, and what kind of trouble will follow in its wake.

On June 11, at the funerals of some of the 10 people killed by a bomb explosion on a cliff-top dancehall two days earlier, angry Europeans stormed through the streets of Algiers, beating at least five Moslems to death and wrecking hundreds of Moslem-owned stores.

The terrorism is the work of insurgents, fighting a Moslem nationalist uprising against French rule in Algeria that began 2½ years ago.

Europeans here do not seem to be afraid. But they are tense and watchful. They say that you cannot be afraid all the time. One gets used to the uncertainty, and carries on normally.

The streets of Algiers, with its big modern buildings dotting the Mediterranean hillside, look like those of any other busy city, except for the presence everywhere of armed men in various uniforms.

Moslem and European women jostle one another in the markets under the eyes of police carrying submachineguns. Troops and police are on patrol or on guard everywhere.

On buses, uniformed home guardsmen search parcels and women's handbags for concealed bombs. An armed guard is aboard buses travelling out of town.

Men sit on stools at the entrance to hotels, bars and stores, examining parcels, briefcases and bags, and sometimes searching customers for arms. A car backfiring in Algiers is liable to make people scatter for cover.

At any moment, jeeploads of troops are liable to speed through the streets on their way to the scene of an incident, to carry out a search following a report that a bomb has been planted or to comb a district for suspects.

An incidental result of this has been a step towards solving the city's traffic problem. Military authorities banned parking on both sides of the streets.

All but a few of the alleys leading into the hillside Casbah (the old Arab quarter) of Algiers have been sealed off with barbed wire entanglements to prevent terrorists from escaping into the crowded alleys after throwing a bomb or shooting down a European.

The barbed wire ring around the Casbah also helped to protect Moslems inside from European rioters who considered storming the place on June 11.

A sure sign of a terrorist incident apart from troops cordoning off the scene, is the disappearance of Moslems from the streets. They know that they are likely to be beaten up by indignant Europeans.

WEST'S ERROR SEWS UP GAME

South's three-diamond bid showed first-round control of the suit and was in the nature of a slam try. West stuck in a silly double that gave North a chance to pass.

This pass told South that North had no interest in a slam at all and South contented himself with a bid of four spades.

South won the opening club lead with the ace and saw that even his game contract was doubtful. The way the cards lie

HEART, THE KILLER

(Fort William Times-Journal)

The average person gains a sense of the number of people who are stricken with heart disease through cases which involve his friends and acquaintances. But it takes the National Heart Foundation to show just how serious the situation is. In a recent report, the Foundation declares that more than 1,200,000 Canadians are suffering from some form of heart disease. Although about 900,000 of these people are able to lead useful lives, the remainder are seriously disabled.

Soil Bank Failure

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)
Various methods of holding down the size of crops in the United States have been tried, but none of them have proved particularly successful. Object is, of course, to maintain prices by avoiding over-production. The most recent scheme of the Department of Agriculture has been what is known as "the soil bank," which simply consists of prohibiting sowing of crops on a certain percentage of the farm land.

But a report issued this month says that despite the fact that more than one fifth of the national allotment of the 55,000,000 acres for this year's wheat crop was withdrawn from cultivation by the soil bank, the prospective yield was put at 971,000,000 bushels, or only 2.7 per cent less than the 997,207,000 bushels harvested in 1956.

Reflecting largely the plentiful moisture in the last two months, the yield from the winter wheat crop may be even greater than last year's, despite the much smaller acreage. The total yield was forecast on June 1 at 735,720,000 bushels, and the average yield at 23.6 bushels an acre. Last year, winter wheat production amounted to 734,995,000 bushels and the acre-yield was 20.6 bushels.

Another factor in the high acre-yield is that generally farmers reserved their most fertile land for growing wheat and placed their less productive acres in the soil bank.

In an effort to prevent the further accumulation of surpluses, the Department of Agriculture has contracted to pay farmers some $231,000,000 for withdrawing about 12,000,000 acres allotted to them for growing wheat. With the crop now forecast at only 26,000,000 bushels below last year's, the cost to the Government may be figured at nearly $9 for every bushel of wheat held off the market through the soil bank.

It may be sound economics, but things look queer when farmers are paid not to produce food.

THEY'RE DANGEROUS. (Calgary Albertan.)

Air rifles and BB guns are not innocent toys to be given to youngsters for indiscriminate, unsupervised play. Another Calgary child is in danger of losing the sight of an eye through being struck by an air rifle pellet.

No gold coins have been issued by the Royal Canadian Mint at Ottawa since 1919.

position. He went up with the queen, whereupon South won with the king and entered dummy with the jack.

The queen of diamonds allowed him to get rid of his remaining club loser and his two hearts were high.

The double dummy play to make the hand against perfect defense involves the lead of the jack of hearts from dummy. There are quite a few variations and undoubtedly many readers will be interested in working them out.

Bygone Days

TWENTY YEARS AGO
From the Record of Saturday, July 10, 1937.

Rev. Albert Jones, rector of St. George's Church, Lennoxville, had been named Archdeacon of St. Francis district.

An agreement has been reached between Canada and New Zealand, providing for increased trade between the two dominions.

The death toll in the current United States heat wave has reached 335. The damage to crops from lack of rain is tremendous and no relief is in sight.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Thursday, July 10, 1947.

Earl Turner, Scoutmaster of the Fifth Sherbrooke, St. Peter's Troop, was the recipient of a long service medal at the Scout Camp on visitor's day.

John Nickell, Secretary of the Dow Award Committee, announced today that Roch Dandaneault, Chief of Police at Coaticook, will receive the Dow Award at the end of the month for his act of heroism in rescuing a man from drowning in the Coaticook River last May.

WORK OF 3,000 ENGINEERS
(Avro News)

To accommodate its accelerated research and development programs in supersonic aircraft and allied fields, Avro Aircraft Limited has installed a powerful new electronic computer at its Malton plant. It is an electronic data processing machine—the latest and most powerful computer designed for scientific applications, now available to industry.

The giant computer is problem solving power to equivalent in calculating and tireless, perfectly organized and trained engineers.

Avro Aircraft's engineering division is using the machine to solve mathematical problems on the supersonic Avro Arrow resulting from analytical work in aerodynamics, structural analysis, structural weight, vibration and flutter, weight control, flight control and aircraft guidance, fire control, thermodynamics and weapons evaluation.

The big computer is also used for data reduction from wind tunnel testing and will serve the same purpose for flight test.

'A MR. MARX'

(London Observer)

Under the vast, silent dome of the British Museum reading room there were no scenes of festivity for the recent centenary of the room.

The bearded old men shuffled as usual along the great distance from A to D in the catalogue. The books packed in baskets whizzed as usual down the spiral chutes to the waiting scholars.

The room is not much concerned with celebrities. The story is told of a prospective biographer of Karl Marx, who, some years ago, went up to the oldest attendant in the reading room and asked him whether he remembered a funny bearded little man, who used to sit every day at G7.

After a bit of thought, the attendant said: "Ah, yes sir, I remember. A Mr. Marx it was, wasn't it? He came in every day like clockwork for years, and then one day he didn't come in, and no one's ever heard of him since."

PROTECTION FOR CHICKENS.

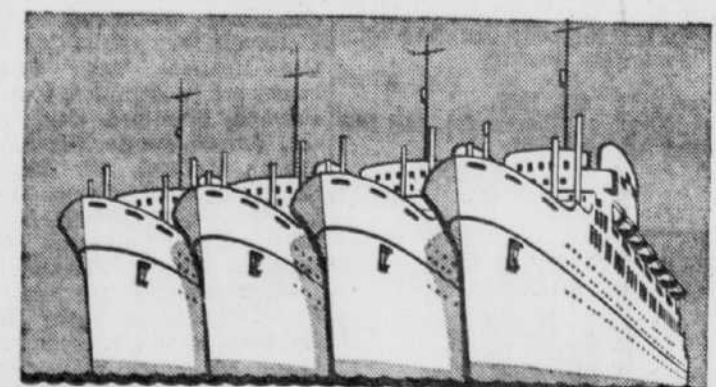

(France Actuelle)

There are to be no further claims and arguments in France about where the world's best chicken comes from. With all its majestic might the National Assembly has passed a law saying the choicest chickens are raised in the Bresse region of East-central France.

From now on, furthermore, no chicken on any menu or market in France may rightfully be called "Poulet de Bresse" except those raised within the 1,200-square-mile area once ruled by the Duke of Burgundy.

This is the first time France has given its authoritative nod, label and protection to a fowl. Previously, the French have given an official appellation (trademark name) to various wines, to champagne, to cognac, to roquefort and camembert cheeses.

These legalities, however, apparently only carry weight in France. In the case of burgundies, champagnes, roqueforts and camemberts, the French fret over U.S. and other foreign "pretenders" to these titles.

Farewell Gifts Presented To Bury Couple

BURY — Following the service in the United Church, Rev. E. Breen, on behalf of the congregation, presented Mr. and Mrs. A. Sutherland with a purse of money, expressing deep regret at their leaving and paying tribute to the work done by both in all phases of church activity.

The theme of Mr. Breen's sermon was, "Life's Greatest Heritage", and the choir rendered the anthem, "My Own Dear Land", with violin accompaniment by Mr. G. Boynton. Flowers on the memorial table were in memory of Raynard Atkins, placed there by his family.

After the mid-week choir practice, the members gathered at the home of Mrs. E. MacRae, where a social hour was held in

Girls Trek To Land Of Midnight Sun

CALGARY.—Regine Coudeville, of Paris, and Claire Rousseau, of Lyons, France, are trekking the modern way into the land of the midnight sun. The two young graduate nurses reached here en route to Anchorage, Alaska.

In Windsor, Ont., where they had worked for several months, they read an advertisement that began their new adventure—a motorcar firm in Detroit was asking for a driver to take a new model to Anchorage. The girls applied and were accepted.

"Everything is so very big," said Claire, spreading her arms to illustrate the vast areas they are covering on the trip. "And the people," she exclaimed. "In Windsor before we left they gave us a big farewell party. They were all so nice."

SLEEP IN CAR
To cut costs, the girls sleep in the car in sleeping bags, and they carry a camp stove on which they cook their meals. "Last night we went to bed at midnight," Regine said, "but it was so cold by three o'clock we got up and started driving."

The girls plan to cross Canada later in the year after they deliver the car at Anchorage, then take off for Mexico and South America. Next summer they will return home to France.

"Our parents will be glad," Regine said. "They do not like us globe-trotting."

DOON, Ont. — Mr. and Mrs. Morley Preston had a busy week as hosts to 32 members of their families, celebrating the 50th wedding anniversaries of their respective parents — Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Preston of Galt and Mr. and Mrs. James Lutton of London, Ont.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Reynolds, of Lennoxville, formerly of Foster, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Shirley Marion, to Mr. Gordon Karl Wescott, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wescott, of Stanbridge East. The marriage has been arranged to take place quietly in August.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

There's no use of making a widow feel that because she has lost her husband she is no longer entitled to use his name. That is what you do when you address a letter to a widow, "Mrs. Mary Smith." She is still "Mrs. James Smith."

She won't appreciate your robbing her of her rightful title.

Canadian Housewife's Treasures

NANAIMO, B.C. — Mrs. James Bonar, the Nanaimo housewife, who once served briefly as secretary to Sir Winston Churchill, prizes the treasures of her experience.

These are two fat Havana cigars, the original copy of a speech written and delivered by that master of the English language, two signed photographs, and a "thank you" letter.

Mrs. Bonar was secretary to the former British prime minister in 1946, while he was on a postwar holiday in Miami, Fla. During this period she did the stenographic work on a speech he delivered in accepting an honorary degree from the University of Miami.

The cigars are 6½ inches and 7½ inches long. They were especially made for Sir Winston and carry his name on the cigar band.

Mrs. Bonar also has signed pictures of Sir Winston and his wife.

In 1945, Mrs. Bonar, then Lorraine Wilkinson, went to Quebec City as secretary to Col. Frank W. Clarke, assistant to the adjutant-general of Canada.

Col. Clarke, longtime friend of Sir Winston, invited the prime minister to his summer home in Florida. Mrs. Bonar became Churchill's secretary.

Legion Auxiliary Honors Member At Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Stansfield Branch, No. 5 of the Canadian Legion was held in the Rock Island armory.

Reports of the secretary, treasurer and committee chairladies were given. The roll call was responded to by twenty-eight members, and two guests Mrs. Gordon Laberee and Mrs. Doris Belanger were in attendance.

A suggestion box for places to take a trip during the month of September will be placed at the August meeting, and a decision made. It voted to give a gift of $10 to a wife and mother of veteran who is ill and to remember a daughter of a veteran with suitable gift.

Letters of thanks were read by the secretary, Mrs. Aileen Arbery, who also voiced the appreciation of herself and her mother, Mrs. Ida Garneau for acts of sympathy when their brother and son died recently.

Tentative plans were made for the August 10 afternoon tea and sale at Sunnyside school, final plans pending the date of the Stansfield Centennial.

The raffle tickets will be available within a few days and members wanting them to sell may contract Mrs. Margaret Bronson.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem, Mrs. Pearl Crawford presiding at the piano.

A member of the organization, Miss Ruby Laberee, a popular bride of the month, was then taken by surprise when the group sang "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow" and upwards of 30 relatives, friends and co-workers of the J. B. Goodhue Company came into the hall.

Escorted to the president's chair by Mrs. M. Bronson, a corsage of yellow snapdragons was presented to the honored member by the president, Mrs. Ivy Hatch.

A humorous mock wedding, arranged by Mrs. Nellie Kezar, was enacted. The minister was enacted by Mrs. Margaret Bronson, the bride, Mrs. Cora Walsh, groom, Mrs. Ada Curtis, best man, Mrs. Mabel Crawford, and the bride's father, Mrs. Helena Rollins. Mrs. Dorothy Cooper was maid of honor, and the flower girls were Misses Joyce Laberee and Diane Farley. Mrs. Pearl Crawford played the wedding music.

The two flower girls presented the bride-to-be with a basket, decorated in blue and yellow and filled with dainty wrapped gifts. She was assisted in opening these by her mother, Mrs. Adelaide Laberee and aunt, Mrs. Byron Ellis, and by her future sister-in-law, Mrs. Fayne Hovey, Mrs. Leo Perreault and Miss Gail Hovey. Miss Laberee thanked the group for the gifts and for the pleasant surprise.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Nellie Kezar, Mrs. Geneva Lyons and Mrs. Ivy Hatch, assisted by other members and friends. A three tier bride's decorated in the predominating colors and topped with a small vase of yellow flowers, was presented to Miss Laberee.

Guests attended from Rock Island, Stanstead, Beebe, Derby Line.

Also that the Noble Grand, Mrs. Chamberlain to be convalescing nicely at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bernard Dewey and family in Stanstead.

Sister Waneta Miller reminded the members of the District Deputy meeting to be held in Ayer's Cliff on August 7 and urged as many as possible to attend.

They were also reminded to prepare gifts for the exchange table for the district meetings to be held in October.

The round robin was won by Sister Florence Sevright. The session closed in form and meetings will be resumed in September.

Bisons Increase Lead To 2½ Games By Walloping Leafs 14-2 On Home Runs; Richmond Bumps Columbus 6-2

Buffalo Bisons extended their International Baseball League lead to 2½ games Tuesday night by blasting the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs 14-2 with help from a new source—left-handed pitcher Gene Host. The crucial contest was witnessed by 12,537, the largest weekday crowd in Buffalo in a decade.

Host, acquired from Kansas City Athletics June 28 in the transaction that cost the Bisons their top hurler, Glenn Cox, throttled the Leafs to post his first decision as a Bison. He also contributed a two-run single in the winner's big 10-run sixth inning.

In the only other league game played, the third-place Richmond Virginians remained 3½ games behind the league leaders by dumping Columbus Jets 6-2 behind the steady pitching of righthanded Bill Bethel. A scheduled game between Rochester Red Wings and Montreal Royals at Quebec was postponed because of rain. Miami and Havana had an open date.

Host fanned 10 Leafs, walked only four and scattered eight hits.

Home runs accounted for most of the Bisons' runs. Lumbering Luke Easter smacked his 27th of the season in the first inning to provide host with a comfortable working margin. Bill Serena slammed a bases-loaded homer in the big sixth inning and Mike Baxes connected for a solo shot in the seventh frame.

Richmond managed only nine hits to Columbus' 10 but bunched them well enough off starting pitcher Cholly Naranjo and relievers Bob Kuzava and Ed Burt-sch to give Bethel his ninth victory against three setbacks and his third win in a row. The only damaging blows of Bethel were bases-empty homers by Howie Goss in the seventh and ninth innings.

Tommy Carroll was the big gun for the Vees with a single, double and three runs batted in. The Vees attacked loser Naranjo in the second inning when they scored on a double by catcher

Harry Chitti and a single by Milt Graff. Carroll's two-run double climaxed a three-run third for the Virginians. They scored singles markers in the fourth and seventh.

Indians Win On Senators' Errors In Little League

Indians crept within two points of the league Athletics last night when they took a 10-4 decision over the Senators in a Little League game played at the Parade Grounds, Red Sox travels to Lennoxville to take on the Yankees tonight.

Last night's game was a close affair for three innings. At this point of the game the Senators were ahead by a 4-2. The bottom of the fourth inning saw the Senator infield make four misplays these along with five hits gave the Indians eight runs.

Indians got two more runs in the remaining innings while the Senators went scoreless. Labbe, Labrecque and Dussault stood out for the winners while Cooper, Theriault starred for the losers.

Morrison, Baird, and O'Connor umpired the game.

Senators 202 000—4 9 4
Indians 110 800—10 9 1
Payette, Dion (5) and Cooper; Labbe and Dussault.

A. L. Dressing Room

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
ST. LOUIS — (P) — A jubilant Minnie Minoso, who thought he would have "a vacation" Tuesday but produced the winning run and a game-saving throw for the American League, may be the good luck charm Casey Stengel needs for all-star games.

It was the first all-star game for the 34-year-old Chicago White Sox outfielder since 1954 — the last time the American League had won before Tuesday's 6-5 triumph.

When the seventh inning came and the Americans were leading 3-0, Minoso said, "I thought I was going to have a vacation."

But in the ninth Minoso had to get back to work, doubling home what proved to be the winning run. Then, with the National staging a ninth-inning rally, his perfect throw nipped Cincinnati's Gus Bell at third for the second out.

Except for Minoso though, the American Leaguers weren't in a celebrating mood — they were still feeling the effects of that ninth inning scare.

Stengel used the sudden collapse of White Sox ace Billy Pierce in the ninth as a signal to resume his campaign for a rule barring the use of all-star pitchers as starters immediately before the mid-season classic.

"Billy just got tired," Casey said "and it's no wonder — he just pitched Saturday."

Does the American League victory, it's second in the last eight all-star games, mean a swing in the balance of power?

"Now, this was just a nine inning game," the Yankee manager answered. "We have a lot of good young pitchers coming up though."

The mention of Jim Bunning, the winning pitcher, brought a wink from Stengel.

"I'd say he pitched real good," Bunning pitched a perfect three innings as the starting pitcher, retiring all nine men he faced. The 25-year-old Detroit righthander was dandy with a fast ball and sweeping curve.

Bunning, a six-foot-three player from Southgate, Ky., said he wasn't as nervous Tuesday as he

Top National 6-5 Before 30,693; Ninth-Inning Rally Falls Short; Manager Alston Is Second-Guessed

By JOE REICHLER
ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Chicago's Minnie Minoso and Detroit's Jim Bunning and Al Kaline were singled out today as the 1957 all-star game heroes, but some critics attributed the American League's 6-5 victory Tuesday to good breaks, poor National League base running and Casey Stengel's luck.

It was not the best played of the 24 all-star games but it was one of the most interesting, especially in the ninth inning when each side scored three times. A fine throw and catch by Minoso preserved the American's second triumph in the last eight years and Stengel's second success in seven all-star games.

Most of the 30,693 customers who shelled out $122,027 and the millions more who viewed the game on television enjoyed it even though not a home run was hit.

They witnessed splendid pitching by young Bunning, Baltimore's Billy Loes and Milwaukee's Lew Burdette, and fine fielding and timely hitting by Kaline and Minoso. They also saw several plays that will be second-gussed for many weeks.

Why did National League manager Walter Alston decide to let Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews swing away in the ninth inning? The potential tying runs were on second and first and, with no body out, strategy cried for a bunt.

Why didn't Cincinnati's Gus Bell stop at second on Chicago Cub Ernie Banks' one-out run-scoring single in the ninth which cut the American's lead to 6-5? Bell tried to advance to third and was an easy out on Minoso's throw to Boston's Frank Malzone.

Alston, who used all but four of his 25 players, defended his own action and that of his players in a forthright manner.

"I thought about having Mathews bunt," Alston said. "But Eddie has good power and is a left-handed pull hitter. With that short right field porch an inviting target, I wanted to give him a chance to hit that long one for us."

Left-hander Don Mossie of Cleveland, summoned out of the bullpen to relieve Chicago southpaw Billy Pierce, got Mathews on a called third strike. Banks followed with a single which would have tied the score had Eddie advanced the two runners.

"As for Bell," I think he did the right thing. In fact, I was glad to see him trying for third. He wanted that tying run on third with only one out. Gus is a good base runner. He thought he had a chance and he gambled. You can't sit and wait in this game. It took a perfect throw to get him and Minoso made it."

Minoso, whose double in the top of the ninth scored Kaline with what proved to be the winning run, replaced Ted Williams in left field in the eighth for defensive purposes.

Ironically, the best pitcher of the day was Bunning, whom Casey nominated to start only because Cleveland's Early Wynn, his original choice, had been used Sunday. This prompted Stengel to announce he would propose a rule prohibiting managers from starting pitchers named to the all-star team any later than Saturday prior to the contest.

Bunning hurled three perfect innings, retiring nine batters in succession as Stengel's crew built up a 2-0 lead against Philadelphia's Curt Simmons.

Loes also kept the National League sluggers from scoring during the next three innings while the American Leaguers increased their lead to 3-0 in the sixth — after Burdette had stopped them in the third, fourth, and fifth.

It was while Wynn was on the mound that the National Leaguers first scored. Singles by New York's Willie Mays and Cinis before a regular season game. "This was great, sure, but it just doesn't mean as much to me as a regular season game."

Teammate Al Kaline made a neat stop of Eddie Mathews' fifth-inning liner and threw to second to force Frank Robinson. The Cincinnati star had held up, thinking Kaline would catch the drive.

"It was a real tough play," Kaline said. The young right-fielder said he didn't fake a catch, just charged the drive as hard as he could. He stabbed it just after it hit the ground.

Bob Grim of the Yankees, who retired pinch-hitter Gil Hodges on a drive to Minoso with the tying run at second in the ninth, said he was "just lucky."

N. L. Dressing Room

By AL DOPKING
ST. LOUIS (P) — "The outstanding thing about the American League all-star Tuesday was their pitching."

It was manager Walter Alston talking in the dressing room of the National League all-star stars just after they had been beaten 6-5 by the Casey Stengel-managed American Leaguers.

The players also praised the American League pitching, particularly the job of starter Jim Bunning of Detroit.

Alston praised Billy Loes, the Baltimore hurler who relieved Bunning in the fourth, Loes once played for Alston's Dodgers.

The National Leaguers took the defeat without any outward signs of emotion. They poured into their dressing room quietly, most of them with little time to catch trains or planes back to their own teams to resume the hot pennant race.

Alston defended his strategy in the ninth inning when he had the tying run on second when Dodger Gil Hodges pinch-hitting for teammate Clem Labine, lined out to Minnie Minoso in left field.

Minoso, who replaced Ted Williams of Boston in the bottom of the eighth, earlier had thrown out Gus Bell, who tried to go all the way to third from first on a single by Ernie Banks of Chicago Cubs.

"I think Bell did the right thing," the quiet, spoken Alston said. "It would have been pretty nice to have had that tying run on third base with only one out. I had wanted him to go for third if it looked like he had a chance. It took a perfect throw to get him and Minoso made it."

Bel himself said in the dressing room that he thought he was safe but "I guess I wasn't."

Bel, who hammered in two runs in the seventh inning with a pinch double, consoled Hodges on his line out which ended the game by saying:

"It was just hit too hard. It just stayed up too long."

Frank Robinson, Cincinnati outfielder, figured in one of the oddest plays of the afternoon. When Ed Mathews of Milwaukee hit hard to right field in the fifth inning, Robinson started for second and then retreated. He was thrown out by Al Kaline, who stabbed the ball on a sharp bounce.

"There were no outs and I didn't want to be running," Robinson said. "Kaline charged that ball real well. He didn't miss catching it by much and then I would have been doubled up."

Robinson's decision possibly nipped a run in the fifth. He had singled and Mathews had stroked a liner which would have easily gone for a solid single had Robinson been on the move.

Clem Labine, the relief ace who has fallen into some bad days recently with the Dodgers, was as unhappy as any of the National Leaguers. He was hit for three runs in the ninth.

Alston passed it off by saying simply, "Lately, Clem hasn't pitched as good as he has done in the past."

In the ninth inning two runs were in. Hank Foiles of Pittsburgh was on second and Bell on first after a single and a walk. Alston decided to let Mathews swing away even though the situation could have called for a bunt.

"I thought about bunting," Alston said, "but Mathews is a good left-handed hitter and left-handers don't bother him."

It turned out left-hander Don Mossie of Cleveland got Mathews out on a called strike.

Willie Mays, the New York Giant speed merchant in center-field, sized up the defeat quickly for all hands.

They just got away from us early and we just couldn't catch up — but we tried."

And while the Cards hope to resume their surge after the all-star break, New York Yankees head into the west for a 12-game gambol with the idea of locking up the American League race for good. The Yanks, also 2½ games ahead, open at Kansas City Thursday night with an 11-0 record against the A's this season.

Elsewhere in the National, second-place Milwaukee opens its eastern tour at Pittsburgh in the only game scheduled tonight. Thursday night, third-place Philadelphia, 3½ games behind, is home to Chicago's last-place Cubs, with fourth-place Cincinnati, three percentage points back of the Phillies, at Brooklyn. The Brooks are five games behind in fifth—their first "second division" role at the half-way point since 1948.

In the American loop, Chicago's second-place White Sox are home to Washington Thursday night, with Baltimore at Cleveland in a two-night twin bill and Boston at Detroit for a day game.

Only the Cardinals and Milwaukee have won more than they've lost in the last month among the National League contenders. St. Louis was 20-10, the Braves 16-13.

While only 20-20 at home after sweeping four from Cincinnati last weekend to grab first place from the Redlegs, the Cardinals are 26-11 on the road, with a 17-6 record in the east. Milwaukee and Cincinnati are only 13-10 in eastern parks.

Pat's Rest Tops Labatt 5-2 In Softball Tilt

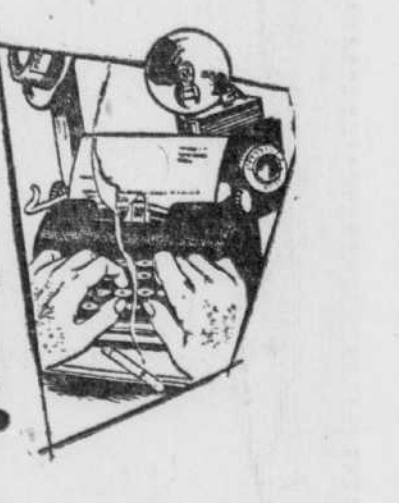

Pat's Restaurant registered their first win of the current season in the City Softball League last night when they eked out a 5-2 decision over Labatt's at Dufrane Park. The same two teams clash again this evening.

In the second tilt Dow and Hotel Albert will meet with first place at stake. Hurler Albert Thomas came up with an outstanding job on the mound for the winners when he gave up only two hits.

Thomas was the big gun for his team and gave up only two safeties and at the same time he retired five at the plate while he gave up four free passes. Ronald Carmichael was charged with the defeat.

Fern Boulanger set the way for the winners with his three hits while Thomas, Bergeron and Guy Roby picked a single each. Coach Jean Marchoal and pitcher Ronald Carmichael were the only players to hit Thomas' offerings.

Phoenix, Ariz.—Zora Folley, 196, Chandler, Ariz., outpointed Jeff Dyer, 207, Springfield, Mass., 10.

Duffers Warned That Scores Of 85 And Over Shunt Them Out After First Round In Canadian Open Tournament

KITCHENER, Ont. (P) — Spanking breezes shipping along the tree-lined fairways of the Westmount Golf and Country Club Tuesday caused plenty of trouble for the scores of golfers warming up for the Canadian Open and the total prize money of $25,000.

Most of the players were trying shots over and over, and practice round scores meant little or nothing. Big Al Bessellink of Grossinger's, N. Y., came in off the course moaning, "I must have shot 100-it was both the wind and my bad play."

The draw for today's first round showed 164 names. Several scratches appeared likely.

With such a large field, the Royal Canadian Golf Association decided to do some cutting after the first round. Those with scores of 85 or higher will be sidelined for Thursday's second round. There will be the usual cut to 100 lows and ties for Friday's play and to 60 lows and ties for the final round Saturday.

Estimates of the winning total score varied. Norm Himes, Westmount pro, forecast 272. Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., leading money winner on the pro tour, guessed 274. So did Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, whose forecast of 278 for the $29,000 Open at Montreal Islesmere last week was right on the nose.

The Westmount layout of 6,444 yards has a par of 71. The front nine, with par 35, is more wide open than the par 36 back nine.

"It's a pretty tight course, especially the last nine," said Arnold Palmer of Pa., winner of the Canadian Open at Toronto two years ago.

The last three winners of the Open are on hand for another crack at the title and the $3,500 top money. They are Pat Fletcher of Royal Montreal, who ended a 40-year famine for Canadian pros by winning in 1964 at Vancouver Point Grey; Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders, the young Miami golfer who won last year at Montreal Beaconsfield.

Sanders was an amateur then and beat Dow Finsterwald in a playoff. He has since turned pro and joined the tour.

The course record at Westmount for competitive play is 65, six under par, held by several players including Gerry Kesselring, local boy now playing out of Toronto Downsview on the money circuit.

Local golf fans will be pulling for Gerry on his former home course. There will also be much interest in Moe Norman, the irrepressible Kitchener youngster who got into the bad graces of the Royal Canadian Golf Association. Norman, winner of the last two Canadian amateur championships, turned pro when there was talk that his amateur standing would be revoked.

Most of the pros in last week's tournament at Islesmere are entered in the current Canadian Open. A new arrival was Frank Stranahan, former amateur star from Toledo, Ohio. Stranahan has just returned to rejoin the pro tour after competing in the British Open.

Burke Emery, (right), is shown sparring with Helmut Ball of Germany, in Stillman's Gym in New York under the watchful eye of trainer Charley Goldman. Emery and Ball will appear on the boxing card to be held at the Sherbrooke Arena Thursday, July 18. Emery, the No. 2 ranking Canadian light-heavyweight, meets Mickey McGrath of Greenwich, Conn., and Ball faces Johnny McLaine of New York.

Defending Champions Of National Are Currently In Second Division Injuries And Sore Arms Hurt Dodgers

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — The defending champions currently are in the second division in the National League race, and if this situation continues Los Angeles and Brooklyn will be flipping a coin to see which gets the Dodgers. The loser will get them.

The team just isn't the team which won the pennant in a squeaker last year.

Some of the players have been suddenly caught old.

If you picked the Dodgers to win the pennant this year on the basis of their lineup which played the final game of the world series last fall, you have been very surprised.

Here is the world series lineup: Gilliam 2b; Reese ss; Snider cf; Robinson 3b; Hodges 1b; Amoros lf; Furillo rf; Campanella c.

Here is the lineup which started the second half on last Sunday's doubleheader with the Phillies: Gilliam 2b; Amoros lf; Snider cf; Valo rf; Neal ss; Hodges 1b; Walker c; Kennedy 3b.

The holdovers are Gilliam, Amoros, Snider and Hodges. Jackie Robinson is gone. Peeewe Reese and Carl Furillo are suffering the aches and pains of the years, and must be rested. Roy Campanella is finding double-headers almost more than he can bear.

But even with these changes the Dodgers wouldn't be five games back if the pitching staff had held up.

Johnny Podres, winning from an aching shoulder, didn't pitch from June 16 to July 5, and last Sunday made his first start in a month.

Carl Erskine and Sandy Koufax both came up with sore arms, and Erskine didn't pitch in a game until June 15. Koufax was out of action from June 4 to June 27. Sal Maglie was out of action May 30 until July 2.

Clem Labine, the ace reliever, has been worked to death. With the season only half over he's pitched in 34 games.

One bright spot is young Danny McDevitt, brought up from St. Paul in mid-June. He's won three while losing one. Don Drysdale also has been pitching well.

So this is the pitching staff which Birdie Tebbetts earlier in the season rated strong enough to give the Bums an edge in the pennant race.

They still may do it, but the tougher days are ahead of them.

Howard Payne's Nina Crosses Line First In Marblehead-Halifax Sail

HALIFAX (P) — Six yachts had finished the 365-mile Marblehead, Mass. to Halifax ocean race to 9:30 p. m. ADT Tuesday night.

Although the 58-foot schooner Nina was first to emerge from fog to cross the finish line at the Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron's anchorage here, she was not necessarily the winner due to a handicap system under which yachts are given time allowances according to their length and sail area.

Second to cross, close behind the Nina, was the 66-foot scratch boat Sea Lion, owned by G. Berney of Nantucket, Mass. Third was the Royal Canadian Navy Sailing Association's yawl Pickle, piloted by Lt.-Cmdr. J. Baldwin of Halifax. They were both eliminated by the time allowance of the yawl Salmagali II, owned by A. B. Homer of Mount Desert, Me., which crossed fourth.

Fifth to cross was the ketch Western Star, owned by J. J. Wilson of Marblehead, and sixth, the ketch Wind Song owned by W. G. Anderson of New England.

The elapsed time and handicaps of the first yachts: Nina, 51:10.51, 0:26.20; Sea Lion, 51:16.34, 0:00.00; Pickle, 52:20.29, 0:05.31; Salmagali II, 52:24.06, 3:37.48; Western Star, 52:24.33, 1:35.31; Wind Song, 52:59.55, 5:29.31.

Owned and skippered by De-courcy Fales of New York, she arrived at 5:10 p. m. ADT.

"The biggest thrill of our race was beating the Sea Lion," said Nina crew member Howard Payne of New York. "We could see her coming through the fog behind us when we came into the sun at the harbor mouth."

Home Runs Pay Off For Royals In P. O. N. Y. Loop

Home runs had a big say in the Royals 11-2 win over the Leafs in a P.O.N.Y. League game played at Sangster Park last night. Pilette, Thomas and White all of the Royals hit round-trippers.

At the end of four complete innings the score stood at 9-0 in Royals favor. Leafs came up with their only two tallies in the bottom of the fifth. Royals added two more in the sixth and won looking away with a 11-2 win.

White, on the mound for Royals, had 11 strike-outs along with his home run. Pilette and Thomas with their home runs had a big say in White's victory. Cadieux, the losing pitcher, had 7 strike-outs. He also hit a triple and single in the game.

Ford Frick To Meet Minor Ball Officials

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick will meet with presidents of the higher classification minor leagues today for "exploratory" discussions of realignment.

Frick, who has said he thought a third major league would be the eventual outcome of the majors' expansion problem, told Congress he would discuss realignment with the minor leagues. He warned that the discussions might cover a period of several months.

Several minor league presidents have said they carry no authority to commit their leagues to realignment at this time. However, all said they were anxious to hear Frick explain the situation.

Among the presidents who will meet with Frick and George Trautman, president of the National Association of Minors, are Frank Shaughnessy of the International League, and Leslie O'Connor of the Pacific Coast League.

Archie Moore Finally Agrees To Meet Tony Anthony In Los Angeles; Boxing Clubs Protest New Promoter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Athletic Commission Tuesday moved swiftly to decide whether or not Archie Moore will defend his world light heavyweight championship against Tony Anthony of New York here Sept. 11.

The commission called a hearing to be held at Sacramento, Calif., today. The hearing could provide more fireworks than the proposed fight.

At least three established promoters in the state are expected to fight any application for a promoter's licence by singer Frank Sinatra and his business advisor, Henry Nak Sanicola.

Clayton Frye, secretary of the commission, said that formal protests against a Sinatra-Sanicola licence have been filed by the Hollywood Legion Stadium Club and San Francisco promoter Ben-nie Ford.

The Olympic Boxing Club of Los Angeles has already verbally opposed the promotion and will join in the formal protests.

The commission called the hearing Tuesday after these developments.

Moore and his manager, Charlie Johnston, and Anthony and his pilot, Ernie Braca, agreed to terms for the 15-round match: Moore would receive 40 per cent of the gate receipts plus an undivulged guarantee, and challenger Anthony, 20 per cent.

In New York, Julius Helfand, president of the World Championship Boxing Committee, gave Moore a stay of execution insofar as declaring his title vacated for lack of defending it in 13 months.

Helfand said he was assured Moore at least was sincere in agreeing to a title scrap.

Willie Toweel Retains Title

LONDON (AP) — South African Willie Toweel retained his British Empire lightweight title Tuesday night by outpointing Britain's Dave Charnley in a 15-rounder.

The 23-year-old Toweel let loose in the last two rounds with a vicious attack to snatch the verdict at London's Empress Hall stadium.

Toweel weighed 133½ pounds and Charnley, a 21-year-old former boilmaker, 133½.

Quebec Hockey League Will Operate Next Year, Says President Higginson

MONTREAL (P) — Byron Higginson, president of the Quebec Hockey League, said Tuesday night the league will "definitely operate" next season despite uncertainty over the status of Quebec Aces, the Edinburgh Trophy champions.

League owners held a special meeting here Tuesday night but adjourned without any indication of how many teams would be in action next fall. Another meeting was scheduled for sometime within the next two weeks.

The Aces announced suspension of operations June 14. J. R. Latter and C. H. Smith, the principal shareholders, said the club has been losing money for three years and announced it is for sale.

Latter said Tuesday night two groups are interested in buying the franchise but negotiations are still in the preliminary stage.

The league had five regular members last year — Montreal Royals, Chicoutimi Saguenéens, Shawinigan Falls Cataracts, Trois-Rivières Lions and Quebec Ottawa Canadiens, a junior team, also played several games against the full-fledged professional squads.
