Truth is violated by falsehood, and it may be equally outraged by silence.

Hooker Bros. Have Won Fame For Their Pigs and Foxes

Two Brothers Have Gained Great Reputation in a Different Type of Farming

An interesting visit was paid to two farms in Ormstown area owned by two brothers who have staked their claims in a different type of farming than that usually carried on in the Beauharnois District. We refer to Messrs. Preston and Alan Hooker, the first who specializes in Yorkshire Bacon Type Pigs and the latter who deals entirely in fox.

The visit took us first to the Preston Hooker farm, Upper Ormstown Concession and it was found that the farm had been in the Hooker family for the third generation and between eighty and ninety years. Mr. George Hooker, father of the present owner, took it over when he was 22 years of age and he is now 77 years. Mr. Preston Hooker took over the farm in 1923, 26 years ago.

In the first place the farm was operated as a dairy farm with grade Holstein cattle, and pigs as a sideline. About twenty years ago the cows were sold and two pairs of fox were bought on shares between the two brothers. The number of pigs was also increased. The two brothers worked with the fox until Alan was married in 1934, and bought a place of his own. At that time the number of fox had been increased to about 50 or 60 females, so the boys decided to divide them between them and this was done.

Preston increased the number of fox and now has about 70 females on his farm. He went more extensively into the business of breeding pigs for other breeders and is now ranked among the highest breeders of the Yorkshire type in this country. He does not market the pigs for meat to any great extent, except those which will not be good for breeding. It was in 1928 or 1929 that he began showing his animals at Quebec and Sherbrooke exhibitions and began to build a reputation for breeding good pigs. In 1936 he showed at the Royal Winter Fair and has had grand champion sow in the eleven shows held at C.N.E. and Royal since that time. He has raised nine of the champions and seven have been shown by Hooker Bros. Many other prizes have been won at the smaller fairs over the years and fame has reached the Hooker Farm by the fact that their pigs have been shipped to all parts and provinces of Canada for breeding purposes. In addition to this they have been shipped to ten different States in the U.S. and two shipments have been made to New Zealand. One animal was shipped to England. Enquiries were received from Southern Rhodesia, but shipping charges were too high for a deal to be completed and negotiations broke off.

Over the years this pig raising business has developed into a full scale one and sows are now placed with other farmers after they have been bred with the agreement that Hooker Bros. will take the litter when at market weight and will pay market prices for them. The sow still belongs to Hooker Bros. This method has been found to help many young farmers and others desiring to start into pig raising. They have the use of good pedigreed sow and can keep it as long as the agreement lasts, but do not have to purchase it outright, merely costing the feed.

Each year a fresh start is made and pigs are numbered from No. 1 on their ear tags and the year letter is changed to denote the year. Between 50 to 70 animals are kept at the farm, but this amount varies. At one time Tamworths were kept in addition to Yorkshires, but the Yorkshires were considered best.

Mr. Preston Hooker judged the Yrokshires at the C.N.E. this year and it was the biggest class ever exhibited at this show. He is a member of the Swine Breeders' Association and a member of the Swine Committee of the Royal Winter Fair.

At the time of our visit Mr. Hooker was preparing a list of entries for this year's Royal Winter Fair and forty head will be shown. In 1948 he won the Challenge Trophy Cup at the Royal, for the best Wiltshire Side; the same cup was won in 1938 for the same class. This trophy was originally sponsored by J. Sainsburg of England, large retail provision merchants, and was won by the late J. E. Brethour for three successive years and became his property. He again put it into annual competition as the Brethour Trophy and it was won a second time last year by Mr. Hooker. Mr. Hooker is the only Yorkshire breeder from Quebec to show at the Royal each year.

The fox are purely a sideline with Mr. Preston Hooker now, and outside of a few explanations of the types kept, he referred us to his brother Alan for more particulars. They still work as partners in this endeavor and pool their resources in so far as this branch goes. The fox on this farm or ranch are quite good looking specimens to the amateur eye, but the Hooker Bros. will go into many facts about the animals to prove how much superior they are than the ordinary person would think. To our representative they were somewhat of a surprise in the fact that they were not so very tame. It would be thought that being raised in captivity and being handled and fed by humans, that the animals would tend to become very tame and gentle and unafraid. Such was not the case. Immediately we approached the cages there was a scurrying on the part of some, while others stood spat and growled and attempted to snap at us through the wire. The animals are handled by a sort of tongs which grips them around the neck, but even at that they snap at the tongs in a vicious manner and we were told that one dare not try to handle them in any other way or fingers would be lost.

Donald Hooker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hooker, has reverted to the original type of farming carried on in the early days, by starting to raise a herd of Holstein cattle. He has seven pure-bred Holsteins and a half interest in a bull at the present time. The milk at present is being shipped to Fry-Cadbury, at Huntingdon.

REYNARD, THE FOX

It was to the fox ranch of Mr. Alan Hooker that the next visit was paid and here we obtained many facts as to fox ranching. This ranch is situated at Ormstown Station, on the outskirts of Ormstown. The ranch consists of three acres and there are about 275 animals here at the present time. The cages are all enclosed in a high wire fence and each cage usually had two animals.

The feeding requirements for both ranches are supplied from this point and thus there is a room where the meat is cut up and cold storage locker in which to keep the meat. The feed is about 65% horse meat made up of tripe, liver, hearts, etc., plus bone meal. Cod Liver Oil is also fed and 35% cereal made up of rice, oats, wheat, barley, bran and cereal grass. Each fox gets about 16 ounces per day and the food is all ground up into what looks like hamburger. The pups, that is the young fox, are fed twice a day up until September 1st and once thereafter until pelting time. At the present time it takes about one animal (horse or cow) per day to feed the fox at both ranches. Mr. Hooker was asked if he ever had difficulty in getting animals for feeding at that rate, but he said it had not happened yet. There was always someone who had an animal to be destroyed and it seemed that he was able to get them. The meat was necessary to keep the fox in good condition and produce good fur. The food is placed in troughs outside each cage so that the fox can only obtain small portions at a time. If it is just thrown into the cages, one animal would keep it all and a fight would start that might be detrimental to one or other.

The cages are somewhat on the lines of those built for turkeys in that the floor is wire. The reason for this is to keep the animals clean and so that the fur does not become soiled. No ledges are permitted as the animals are quite susceptible to disease and ledges

Huntingdon, Eng., Thanks For Food

The Rotary Club of Huntingdon, England, sent a letter to the Huntingdon, (Quebec) Rotary Club which in part reads: "Very many thanks for your great kindness and thought in sending the consignment of Ogilvie Muffin Mix for distribution to those most in need of it in our Town.

I doubt if you are able to realize how much such gifts are appreciated, especially to old people living either alone or in couples, as it is on these that food rationing falls the hardest."

It will be recalled that the Ogilvie Flour Mills Limited made this donation of "Muffin Mix" through the local Rotary Club. The gift in due turn was sent to Huntingdon, England. Huntingdon, Quebec, was proclaimed by the Ogilvie Company last April, as the "Town of the Week", due largely to its generosity in sending food to Huntingdon, England, in 1948.

Valleyfield Legion Opens Memorial Hall

Annual Rally Combined With Dedication

Branch 62, Canadian Legion, Valleyfield, held the Annual Rally for the 6th Richelieu District on Saturday, Oct. 15. In conjunction with the Rally the Branch celebrated the formal opening of their Memorial building.

Starting in the afternoon with the rally, the Legionnaires held a district meeting. Branches from Beauharnois, Howick, Huntingdon, St. Lambert and Ormstown elected Mr. S. Butt, president of Branch 62, as District Chairman.

Following the meeting, the dedication of the plaque and trees to the deceased of both Wars was held and the parade moved to the Cenotaph where a wreath was laid by Maj.-Gen. Price.

A banquet and dance were held in the evening. Local and out-of-town dignitaries were present, including Mayor Caza, Mr. Hebert, M.L.A., Maj.-Gen. Price, Mr. T. Round, chairman of Provincial Command, Mr. Iranovitch, 1st vice-pres., of Provincial Command, Lieut.-Col. Rayan and Sgt. Tombs, V.C.

After dinner speeches were in order and at this time the Legion Medal of Merit was presented to four of our local Comrades. Mr. J. McAlpine, Mr. J. Marshall, Mr. H. Calvert and Mr. F. Fishwick were the proud owners of this famous Legion Award which is given for years of faithful and untiring service to the Legion.

The banquet was prepared and served by the ladies of the Women's Auxiliary, who did a very wonderful job. These ladies are really supporting the Legion Branch in a big way and they deserve a lot of credit for the fine job they did last week-end.

Next month the Canadian Legion for Valleyfield and all over Canada will hold their Annual Poppy Drive. The proceeds of these Poppies will go to the aid of the sick and disabled veterans in their time of need.

Remember, when you buy a poppy, you are helping those who gave their lives and health for us.

Curlers Meet And Set Dates For Bonspiels

Iron in January, Granite in February

A meeting of the Quebec South West Curling Association was held at the Club Rooms of the Howick Curling Club, on October 11th, with representatives from all of the clubs of the district present. Mr. Clifford Watson was named President and Umpire for the 1949-50 season, with Mr. Rod Morrison, 2nd vice-president, and Mr. Jack Turnbull, Secretary. It was decided to hold the annual iron bonspiel at Beauharnois on January 4th, 5th and 6th, and that the latest date for entries would be December 31st.

Following the above meeting a meeting of the District Granite Association was held at which Mr. Ray Reddick was named President and Umpire, and Mr. W. G. Allen, Secretary. It was decided to hold the annual granite bonspiel on February 7th, 8th and 9th, at Aubrey, with February 4th as the closing date for entries.

THE DOGS COLLECT

NEWTON, Ont. (CP)—Mornington township officials are having trouble with dogs. They totalled up receipts of dog taxes and found them only a little more than claims paid for damage to livestock and poultry by dogs this year.

POLICE SPONSOR BAND

MONTREAL, (CP)—Police are sponsoring a boys' band in Montreal, partly for the purpose of cutting down on juvenile delinquency. But they won't have a shortage of musicians. Band members will be chosen from the 50,000 members of the Police Juvenile Club.

Dutch Immigrants Again Available For Placement

Success of Scheme This Year Makes For Greater Effort in 1950

In the spring of this year a number of Dutch farmers were placed with various applicants in the Chateauguay Valley and proved a very successful undertaking. The immigrants consisted of singles and married groups, the men taking jobs as hired farm help. These people were not from the displaced persons group that have been coming from Europe, in the same sense as we have come to look at it. They are farmers in the Netherlands who through damage by the enemy can no longer reside in their former place of abode. The Dutch government rather than place them in already crowded districts in Holland made arrangements so that these people could migrate to Canada.

All of these persons are carefully selected by a society in Holland and are catalogued and numbered with a full description of everything an applicant for farm help would want to know. In this catalogue it will state just what the person has been doing on the farm in Holland, whether he can milk, look after horses, knows machinery and so forth. Then a portion of the family history is given such as religion, married or single, male or female, if married, how many children and the ages of each as well as the ages of the father and mother. This catalogue is made out in the Dutch language and sent to the Dept. of Immigration, where it is translated into English and then redistributed to the various branches of the service for the resident officers to take applications for placement.

Each district is allotted a quota according to the expected number of migrants coming to this country and according to the number to be placed, the immigrants will be sent to the respective districts. Applicants are the farmers in this country who desire to secure farm help and have no other help available so that a Canadian would be out of a job. That is, a farmer who has Canadian help cannot discharge such help in favor of taking the Dutch immigrant. If he has help and requires additional workers, he may then make application for a Dutch immigrant. In the Chateauguay Valley and in Beauharnois, applications may be made to W. E. Bernhardt, Immigration officer in charge, at Huntingdon.

In making application, the farmer can select a single person or a married couple from the descriptions provided in the catalogue and then fill out an application form for the purpose. The applicant agrees to furnish the immigrant with suitable accommodation and in the case of single persons, board. In the case of married persons separate furnished quarters apart from the employer family, milk, vegetables, fuel, etc. The minimum wage for singles is $45. per month and for married $75. per month and the applicant must agree to employ the immigrant for one year providing they are suitable. If not suitable, he must notify the placement officer and await what ever other arrangements are made. The singles are all males and the wife of the married man is not expected to help in the employer's home unless arrangements are made to that effect. All of those brought out are agriculturists and will not go off into industry as they do not know about such work.

When the application form has been completed and the questions answered, an investigation of the farm will be made and the proposed quarters for the immigrant will be viewed. The officer will then make a report on his findings and this is sent to the Dept. with the application and in due time the immigrant will arrive.

This spring eighty applications were filed and fifty immigrants placed in this area. The reason all applications were not filled was on account of the quota not being sufficient and perhaps in some cases the accommodation was not what it should be. Of the fifty immigrants placed all have proved most satisfactory to their employers and have proved in some cases to be better at animal husbandry than the farmer himself. So much can these people be trusted, that some have been left in entire charge of a farm for several weeks. Most of these people have a little English and they soon understand what is required and learn the language quickly. Each one is an agriculturist, but naturally not accustomed to do all the things the way they are done in Canada. The principle is the same however and once the method is known, the person quickly gets the idea of doing things the Canadian way. At the end of the 12-month period it is entirely up to the immigrant and the employer as to whether the arrangement is continued for a further period of time. The immigrant may choose to take up farming on his own account, or wish to gain more experience by working for another farmer. The employer on the other hand may want to make the immigrant's stay at his place worthwhile and offer him inducement to continue in his employ. While the minimum wage is set it is not expected that this wage stay at the figure, but it is hoped that employers will make increases from time to time as the immigrant proves satisfactory so that the Canadian standard will be reached. It is not intended by this scheme that the immigrants should displace Canadian farm labour and no application will be accepted on such grounds. The idea is to introduce to the farmers of the district the chance to obtain the help they need and for which there has long been a cry.

The scheme having proved such a success in this district the past year, it is expected that even greater efforts will be put forth for the coming year. More applicants were placed here than in any other part of the Province and the Dept. of Immigration is highly satisfied with the results. To further expedite the placement of Dutch immigrants, Mr. R. G. Daniel is going to assist Mr. Bernhardt in this district and surveys will be made well in advance as to the need of such immigrants in the district. To this end farmers are asked to file applications at the Huntingdon office at the earliest opportunity. Boats have already been chartered to bring these immigrants to Canada and it is expected that the first quota will arrive in February, 2nd in March and third in April. The quota lists for the first sailing will probably be available in November and will probably consist of about 130 units for all Quebec. This time it is expected that there will be fewer singles available but that the married will be of the small family type. Farmers contemplating taking these immigrants can make enquiries among their neighbours as to the suitability of the immigrants and will be assured that they are quite satisfactory in all respects. All of them are good workers and anxious to make good in their new country.

Heads S.A. Appeal Campaign

S. J. Currie New Chairman Salvation Army Committee

The Salvation Army appeals are always well received, and rightly so. At the Rotary Meeting on Monday, L. Carswell, Public Relations Secretary of the S.A. was the guest speaker. Mr. A. A. Lunan, for many years the local chairman for the Army, announced that S. J. Currie was appointed his successor.

Mr. Carswell referred to the Salvation Army as "The Army of the Helping Hand". 75 years ago there was no Salvation Army as we know it today. The Army was made up of one man named Booth. When the Army became organized General Booth sent to all its officers in the world the greatest Christmas message ever sent out. In one word it was — OTHERS.

There was then no Salvation Army as we know it today but now we can say there are 37 hospitals in Canada for women. We now have homes for aged men and women. We now have many thousand bandsmen in Salvation Army bands across Canada. These bandsmen provide their own uniforms, give of their time and in many cases provide their own instruments. Homes for children, rescue homes for unmarried mothers, hostels for men, where unfortunates can have a bed and a meal. Emergency homes for women, and today we are also able to do a lot of visiting that we believe is beneficial to inmates of prisons.

The rehabilitation center we now have in Montreal is providing gainful employment to many men. Their work, being largely that of repairing furniture.

Our war work started at the time of the South African War. It was during World War I that the Salvation Army made its name, and during World War II maintained that good name. At the recent Noronic disaster in Toronto, 100 Salvation officers were on hand lending valuable service to those in need.

After 75 years of aggressive work you will find the Salvation Army in every part of the World, doing a work irrespective of color, race or creed.

"An Ounce of Help is Worth a Pound of Pity"

There is something about community spirit that makes for good feeling among us all. Community spirit is nothing more than a feeling of brotherhood and goodwill. An example has come to light in this district that we feel deserves publicity even although those participating may not wish it. We will not be able to mention the names of those attempting to do a good deed, but their efforts will be acknowledged anyway.

Last week we reported a fire which had occurred at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cameron and whereby they suffered considerable loss and had very little insurance for replacement. We are pleased to announce this week that nearby neighbours have come along with tangible help that shows the real community spirit. One man has offered his bulldozer equipment with which to clear away the debris. Another offered the use of a barn to house the animals for the winter. Several have donated several tons of hay to help feed the cattle. A subscription campaign has started which tends to raise a considerable sum of ready cash that will do much to help replace the loss sustained. Good work neighbors, such help is worth many pounds of pity and is tangible evidence of the willingness to give a helping hand.

Goods Stolen From McGerrigle's Electrical Store in Ormstown

Word has just been received of a robbery which took place at the B. L. McGerrigle Electrical Store, in Ormstown, during the Thanksgiving week-end. The matter has been kept quiet in the hope of the party or parties responsible, being found out. Even now a full report is not obtainable, but it is understood that about $200 worth of goods were removed from different parts of the store.

Mr. McGerrigle was away at the time, but a neighbor's dog did a lot of barking during a night at the Thanksgiving week-end and it is believed that this is when the robbery occurred. The dog was aroused by the disturbance that was being made. The matter is in the hands of the police and investigation is being carried on.

Rotary Club Hallowe'en Party

All Children Up To 14 To Be Entertained

The Huntingdon Rotary Club is again this year to sponsor a Hallowe'en Party for the children of the district up to the age of 14 years. The children have thoroughly enjoyed these parties for the past number of years and have always had a good time.

This year will be no exception, and while plans are not quite complete, the party will take a slightly different form. The children as far as is known now, will meet at the Huntingdon Theatre, on October 31st, at 5 p.m. and a special show will be given. Prizes will be awarded in the various age groups for the costumes to be worn and the usual treats will be handed out.

Boys and girls, plan now what you are going to dress in and then be sure to be on hand for the great treat.

It has now been announced by Douglas A. Ness of R. R. Ness and Sons, Burnside Farms, Howick, Que., that along with the Scottish Ayrshire champion, Rottenrow Remarkable, there has also come to Canada another highly-bred Ayrshire bull. The purchase and importation of same having been arranged by R. R. Ness and Sons.

Carnell Pearlstone is sired by the noted Carnell herd-sire Carnell Aristocrat, an "Approved" Scottish sire with a very high rating as such. Aristocrat is also the sire of Carnell Hazel imported by R. R. Ness and Sons and sold at auction in 1946 to Gerald M. Brawley at $3,000.; also the sire of Burnside Carnell Tessa, Imp., sold in the 1949 Burnside sale to Gerald M. Drumfork Peg 7th dam of Peg 9th, has to her credit six Scottish records which average 12,958 lbs. milk, 514 lbs. butterfat, approximately 4% test.

5,800 Mile Car Trip Across Canada and Return

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson and Family Make Trip by Car and Trailer

The following is a most interesting account of a trip to Western Canada made by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Wilson and family, of Huntingdon, which took a little over one month to complete. The greater part of the trip was made by automobile and trailer and the balance by train. The following will describe the highlights and will be found to contain much of value.

I have been asked to write an account of our trip by car and house trailer to the Canadian West in September. This is an enjoyable but rather difficult thing to do as there are so many things of interest about which I could write and time and space are somewhat limited as also one's memory may fail in narrating all details. Mrs. Hutchings of Athelstan, my wife and sons Carl, Ross and Wayne and I left Huntingdon about 3 p.m., on September 1st, with Vancouver as our destination where I planned to attend the annual meeting of the Dominion Chartered Customs House Brokers Association, Sept. 22-24. We planned to make a number of stops or visits on our way west and then come directly home so as to get Carl and Ross back for school as soon as possible.

We crossed through Trout River and Cornwall, stopped to eat in Ottawa and spent our first night in Arnprior. The next morning I enquired in Pembroke for Doug. Moore, formerly of the Bank of Montreal here in Huntingdon, and was told that he had been transferred to Deep River as manager of the Bank there. This proved to be a recently developed model town, beautifully situated on the sloping bank of the Ottawa River. It is the business center of the Chalk River development and I happened to arrive at the Bank in time to line at the rear of queues awaiting cashing of pay checks. It seemed at that time to be a busy place. Further up the river we saw one of the power projects in the Ottawa river and it is rather difficult to describe or even appreciate the immensity of such a development. Our second night was spent in a Provincial camp at Simon Lake just beyond Sudbury and Copper Cliff. Since coming home I noticed a letter in the Montreal Star commending the Ontario Government on establishing so many roadside camping places and picnic tables and appealed to the Quebec Government to do something similar in our own Province. In our travels we considered Ontario and Michigan as outstanding in providing such accommodations for tourists.

About 4.30 p.m., Sept. 3rd, we crossed into U.S. by ferry at Sault St. Marie and proceeded west through Duluth. We had noticed before leaving home that the bears surrounding Duluth had been forced, because of drought and lack of berries, to approach civilization and were rummaging garbage cans in suburbs of Duluth. On going up a hill at western edge of Duluth one of these ambled out of the ditch and across the road just ahead of our car. On Monday, Sept. 5th, we witnessed a Labour Day Parade in Crookston, Minn., depicting 100 years' progress. This was very interesting as the organizers had an excellent collection and assortment of modes of travel and machinery and fire engines, bands, etc., of their own town. Our trailer happens to be a 'Covered Waggon' trailer and as there were two of the old covered waggons, fully equipped, in the parade I was sorry after that I had not enquired of the management if they would like a modern version of the covered waggon in their parade. By evening, we had turned north toward the Canadian border which we crossed at St. John into Manitoba, southeast of Brandon.

We intended calling on Mrs. Estelle Davidson, George Elder's niece, and when we got near Treesbank I enquired about the road and was directed so many miles north and so many miles east. Our instructions amused the two ladies as they were not aware of the road allowances in the west which run every mile or two north and south and east and west. We arrived at Mrs. Davidson's to find she was not at home and enquired of her son the way to Mrs. Bertha Elder's home at Rounthwaite. After telling us to go so many miles west and north he, as all others do in the rural west, told us just to follow the main trail and we could not miss it. Well, we did not follow instructions as minutely as we might have, and found ourselves on a prairie trail where we found it necessary to squeeze through the willows in a slough, but we eventually went six miles west and then six miles north and came to the house where we intended to stop. Once again we were told to follow the main trail and we would get to Brandon, which we did. We then went west to Regina where we spent the night in the city park, and in the morning continued west to Moose Jaw where we had a courtesy extended to us which I am sure all tourists appreciate. At times we had difficulty in obtaining ice for our ice box, but at Moose Jaw were directed to the Western Ice Ltd., where we obtained the ice and on enquiring re price were told that was a courtesy the Western Ice Ltd. extended to all tourists, no charge. We turned north at Moose Jaw and went on to Saskatoon where we arrived Thursday night, Sept. 8th. We saw the lights of Regina about 22 miles or so before we reached the city and those of Saskatoon about 20 miles before we arrived there. This will give one the idea of how flat the country is in places.

We were a day and one half in Saskatoon, which we spent at Clark Blackwood's home and while there renewed acquaintance with Tom Saunders, Oric Elder and Dwight Elder, formerly of Athelstan, Mrs. Lizzie Boyd, (formerly of Huntingdon) and her sister and Rev. A. B. B. Moore, D.D., formerly, of Howick.

Leaving Saskatoon at noon, on Saturday, we went on north and west through North Battleford, and Lloydminster. This town is in the center of a considerable oil development and is rather interesting in that the main street north and south is the Alberta, Saskatchewan border and one finds different sales tax on the different sides of the street. Sunday morning we saw several prevailing oil pumps at work. These are usually located on 20 acre spacings, although sometimes are even on 10 acre spacings. In this particular location the wells are only 2-3,000 feet deep whereas other wells in Alberta are 7-8,000 feet deep. The quality of the oil also varies. I had always supposed that the owner of the land also owned the mineral, or oil rights. I learned that this was not the case except for those who had their deeds prior to 1887 and also some Hudson Bay lands. The oil royalty is paid to the Government and the owner of the land receives what is termed a 'nuisance rental' for use of the land. This amounts to approximately $1200 per ¼ section, and the farmer may utilize the land except for roads and equipment which are necessary for drilling and pumping. Pumping is done by 5 H.P. motors and the oil is pumped into large elevated tanks, and conveyed by trucks to the refinery. On our way home we saw other oil wells in Montana. Here the pumping was done by gas engines and the oil piped direct to central tank or refinery. At the present time each company or well is limited to a certain daily amount of oil which in the Lloydminster district is 45-50 barrels, as the market is not developed to handle greater quantities. All through Northern Alberta our curiosity was aroused by streamers of varied lengths and colors fastened to trees, fence pickets or poles, even on short stakes in the center of the roads. On enquiry we found these were recordings for oil drillers and the combination of lengths and colors revealed what they could expect to find. Our impressings were that the entire northern or northeastern part of Alberta is a potential oil field.

FLYING CIRCUS

MONTREAL, (CP)—Trans-Canada airliners sometimes take the appearance of an air-borne Noah's ark. Agents of Trans-Canada Airlines report they have carried dogs, cats, (both siamese and alley), skunks, cougars, beaver, lobsters, geese and ducks, chickens and poults—and even a vulture.

DISHWASHING IS CHEAPER

MONTREAL, (CP)—Germs can cost a man money, Jean Brassard discovered when he was fined $10 and costs for having dirty beer glasses in his tavern. Sanitary inspectors found on the glasses, 4,500 colonies of bacteria instead of the 100 tolerated by law.

Not Yet Too Late to Offer Thanks

THANKSGIVING Sunday finds several Churches in this community offering thanks for the bounteousness and goodnes accorded through making gifts of kind and money to local hospitals. The Huntingdon County Hospital has received some such gifts, but nothing near the proportions that have been received in past years. It is a known fact that some churches yet intend to hold thank offerings for the benefit of The Huntingdon County Hospital. The Huntingdon United Church is to hold their "Thank Offering" for this hospital on Sunday, Oct. 23.

At the monthly meeting of the Board of Governors executive on Thursday, it was noted that only 45 annual memberships for 1949 had so far been received. Actually this number should be around the 150 mark, as was the case for several years. This annual membership is but $10, and it is to be hoped several such memberships will be received before the end of October.

On the whole, the financial situation of the Huntingdon County Hospital is very encouraging to say the least. Donations of amounts other than the annual memberships of $10 each, have been gratefully received and it is known to the Board of Governors other such donations can be expected, going by the experiences of past years performances. The hospital has spent a great deal of money on redecorating the interior as well as painting the exterior of the buildings this year. To offset the $2,000 that has been so expended this year it is hoped several generous donations will be received before the end of the calendar year.

Home and School Association

THROUGHOUT the Beauharnois District there are a number of Home and School Association Groups which appear to be doing wonderful work in helping along the various schools. Reports from teachers who have known the help that is received from such groups would indicate that the teachers welcome the formation of these groups. Recently at the Huntingdon High School Opening Exercises, reference was made by one speaker that he was surprised there was no such group in Huntingdon.

The matter has been brought up many times at meetings of various kinds, but no action has been taken toward the formation of a group here. The only way that it will ever come about is for interested citizens to call a meeting and discuss the matter. There is no doubt that such a group would be a great help to the School Board as well as the teaching staff and perhaps many a ticklish problem could be given a satisfactory solution if a group of parents could discuss it. Teachers say they obtain much help from meeting the parents of the children they teach. In a Home and School Association the opportunity for the teachers to meet parents is afforded and the teachers claim they get a better understanding of the children by talking with the parents. There are characteristics in the children that emanate from the parents and thus in teaching the child, the teacher can compare these mannerisms and understand better the working of the child's mind. This is only one angle of the good of such an association, there are many more as have been seen from the workings of the various groups in this district.

We could take the Beauharnons group as one instance and which was successful in working toward the end of securing a new school building on most modern lines for a really minority group of citizens and children. We could cite many more such examples as in Valleyfield and Howick, where Home and School Associations have worked to the benefit of the schools in their areas. They have taken much worry from the School Commissioners by going ahead with various projects that have been of great benefit to the scholars and to the school. When school functions call for assistance the Home and School Association group stands ready to give a helping hand in many ways. The school board finds itself hard pinched to provide some certain piece or pieces of equipment, the Home and School Association comes to the rescue and the problem is overcome. Thus such save the general taxpayers the possibility of increase in taxes and in this way help is given to all.

The school is of more than community interest, yet insufficient interest is taken in it. On many occasions open days have been held at the school and have been poorly attended. Here is where the Home and School Association would work toward creating a greater interest and cause parents to show their interest in what is being done for their children. The burden would thus be taken off the staff of the school and a greater mutual feeling would result all around. Many Home and School Associations are responsible for study groups being formed and these result in furtherance of adult education which is a necessary requisite in these days. Good speakers are secured and evening of pleasant entertainment provided which results in goodwill being fostered. The community gradually become greatly interested in all school matters and a better understanding of many things is obtained. People carry grudges against schools and the teaching staffs because their children may not have done as well as they think they ought. Such matters can be discussed by the association members and perhaps the supposed difficulties can be overcome. School Boards can receive great assistance at times when selection of teachers has to be made and this is very important to the general welfare of all concerned. Recommendations on various matters can be passed along to the school board to be discussed and put into effect if thought worthwhile. In other words the formation of a group in this area would be a great help and there are a number who would like to see action taken to form one.

Mr. Duplessis and Lottery Proposal

THERE has been much discussion on the recent proposal of Premier Duplessis to try and legalize lotteries in the Province of Quebec. Many protests have been forthcoming from Protestant groups and churches and there has been some strong talk on the part of other groups of citizens. We believe the announcement by Mr. Duplessis was merely a feeler put out to get the reaction toward the proposal. If the reaction is favorable then more work will go ahead on getting the necessary legislation, if unfavourable, then the matter will probably be dropped.

In the first place, according to the Criminal Code, lotteries are considered to be illegal. There are some exemptions which permit drawings to be made for strictly charitable purposes, but even this is very confined and certain rules must be adherred to. Mr. Duplessis believes in Provincial automony, but we do not believe that this will give him the right to amend the Criminal Code.

Such a proposal if put into effect would have wide repercussions throughout the entire country. Mr. Duplessis' proposal is not to legalize lotteries for the benefit of individual organizations, but for the purpose of raising additional funds for the government of the province. No doubt many thousands of people would speculate on the chance of winning a nice sum of money, as is done in connection with the Irish Sweepstakes. On the other hand it would legalize gambling and the Province of Quebec would become the Monte Carlo of the Sweepstake field. Today we hear of many families who are deprived of the earnings of the head of the family because that head spends his earnings in a tavern, what would happen if this gambling racket was to be government sponsored? One or two persons would get rich while thousands got poorer and poorer until charity had to be given to keep them alive.

The business of the government is not to ruin its citizens, but to improve their standard and to protect them. Laws are made for protection and for a reason toward protection. Surely the Province of Quebec is rich enough that the people can pay sufficient in taxes to keep government services operating. In past few years Mr. Duplessis has shouted about the surpluses in the budget, so why the need for lotteries in order to raise more. Has Mr. Duplessis no thought for the poor people who would no doubt be encouraged to participate in lotteries with an idea of getting rich quick. Does he think that Lady Luck is a charmer that can smooth the way and make him so secure that all people will adore him. Government grants have become associated with patronage and considered to count well in elections to bring in the votes, but is this a good thing for the people as a whole? Would the gains from these lotteries be extended to pad the pockets as vote getters in the time of election? If our children gained the benefit of education from the results of these lotteries, would that be an educational improvement or a detriment? The parents of these children may become so much gamblers that homelife would suffer and there would be lowering of the standard rather than an uplifting.

We have laws in force to prevent the corruption of children's morals, we have padlock laws and so forth, yet Mr. Duplessis would think of running a province-wide lottery campaign which would take in all people. If the government did this, it could be expected that other people would consider they had a perfect right to do the same thing on a smaller scale. If this province was allowed to go ahead with the idea, other provinces would want similar legislation and so on. Recently there was a hue and cry against different kinds of gambling rackets in the Montreal area. The places of resort by the gamblers were raided and padlocked, the operators were run out and so forth. Yet the head of the Government puts forth the idea that it will be O.K. if the government legalizes such practices for itself. Then again, who is the government? We believe that this is still a democracy and as such it is government of the people for the people and by the people, so that makes the people still the government. It also makes those elected just the representatives of the people to do their will and bidding. We have not heard that there has been a wide acclaim to legalize lotteries for the purpose of raising government funds. The people have been clamoring for reduction in taxes, particularly the 2 percent sales tax, the gasoline tax and so forth.

We are afraid that we cannot agree wholeheartedly with Mr. Duplessis' proposal and we believe we speak for a large majority of the citizens in this part of the Province of Quebec when the protests are considered.

A Family Heritage

PRIDE of family usually is associated with those whose ancestors are identifiable a good deal farther back than most of us can go. We think of founders of families as someone else's forebears, old boys who won costumed wars from enemies of the king.

When one gives the matter a little thought, however, there are few of us who haven't some reason for pride in family.

Recently a boy, asked by his teacher to write a composition on his ancestors, complained to his parents about the lack of color in the family's past. You couldn't write about ordinary people who had been printers and storekeepers and farmers.

Then his father told him about his great-aunt who watched her farmer husband and her priest die under Indian hatchets in the Duck Lake massacre in 1885. She spent two months as a captive of an Alberta Indian chief, wrote a book about her adventure and lived to a ripe old age.

The boy listened then to his mother's story about a great-grandfather who set Horace Greeley's almost-undecipherable hand-written editorials in type during Civil War days and dropped his type-stick to pick up a gun when New Yorkers stormed the Tribune office during draft riots.

With such bits and pieces we build family background and family pride. The wise and the thoughtful among us record them for our children. We should do more of this as it would be a great aid when trying to prove claims, especially when dating back some years and all sources of human verification have vanished. Family heritage should be a source of pride whether there is glamour in it or not.

It shows the fine new and straight highway No. 9 going off into the distance and the immediate entrance to the new port. Below shows the new port itself on the U.S. side. McKerrol, her interest in the work never slackened, would that many of our women would follow in her train. Special music was given by Mrs. C. W. Orr, Mrs. H. Reddick and Mrs. W. Allen, the beautiful hymn, "Lead Thou Me On". Mrs. W. Stewart gave the special paper "The Harvest is Past". No matter who sows or reaps, there is a harvest, for God reigns. The treasurer gave a very encouraging report that the allocation was well on the way to be met. The offering was taken, amounting to $2.95. Hymn 692 was sung and the meeting closed by repeating the Auxiliary Prayer. Refreshments were served by the Howick ladies and a social hour spent together.

MONTREAL— Appetites are hearty these brisk autumn days . . . and "something chocolate" on the menu is sure to bring rounds of applause from all the family! Especially popular will chocolate dishes be if they are made with BAKER'S UNSWEETENED CHOCOLATE. Rich-coloured, full-flavoured — Baker's Chocolate is a careful blending of the choicest cacao beans, ground to satin-smoothness—with nothing added, nothing taken away. When I buy Baker's Chocolate I know I'm getting the best!

"My! . . . How Do You Manage To Keep Your Dining Room Table So Beautiful?" . . . That's what friends will ask you when you keep your furniture gleaming with JOHNSON'S CREAM WAX! It's so very easy to apply — almost as quick as dusting . . . and results are downright magical! You see, special cleansing ingredients in "Johnson's Cream Wax" remove dirt and stains when you apply it. And, because it's a genuine wax in quick-buffing form — it puts on a polish quicker. And it's non-oily, so it drys absolutely dry and dust won't stick to it. Yes, with "Johnson's Cream Wax", your furniture, light woodwork, refrigerator — can be both cleaned and polished in a matter of minutes!

"I'm Head Over Heels In Love with my new FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR. It does so many wonderful things — like giving me ice cubes trigger-quick from its Quickube Trays — or keeping a week's supply of frozen foods in its big Super-Freezer. And I never get over how much general food storage space I have because of its 'bigger-but-smaller' cabinet design. Yes, when I think of all the other wonderful advantages: the Meter-Miser mechanism that uses so little current, the full-width Hydrator that keeps fruits and leafy vegetables so garden-fresh, the Big Meat-Tender that keeps fresh meats at their best — is it any wonder I'm head over heels in love with my new Frigidaire Refrigerator? You will be, too. See it at your Frigidaire Dealer's."

Frigidaire

Witches Will Stir come Hallowe'en — and the youngsters will love to have a party! They'll be particularly thrilled if their favourite dessert, JELL-O, comes to the party dressed as these merry Jack-O-Lanterns. Make faces with currants on the rounded side of drained, canned peach halves. Mould each peach "face" in a serving glass of Lemon Jell-O. Serve with hearty wedges of chocolate cake — there'll be lots of cries for second helpings! For Jell-O's fresh-fruit flavour and sparkling colour is always popular. There are seven delicious "locked-in" flavours of Jell-O Jelly Powders.

Watch For The Word "New" on your grocer's tins of HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS! New varieties are being added from time to time to the famous favourites you already know. Cream of Tomato, Vegetable, Chicken Noodle, Cream of Asparagus, Clam Chowder . . . all the "old stand-bys" that you like to see on your pantry shelves—they'll always be "tops" with your family and friends. But it's such fun to try something new! And there's always new excitement in store for you in your grocer's Soup department — when you see that famous Heinz label!

Thanksgiving Season is the time for counting your blessings — for mental stocktaking of the good things in your life! And, I'm sure you'll agree with me that the most important, from a woman's viewpoint, is security! Security such as comes from owning Canada Savings Bonds! Why not take the opportunity now of subscribing to the new series that has just gone on sale? Buy them the most convenient way — through the BANK OF MONTREAL! Your B of M Manager will be glad to explain how you can purchase these valuable securities on the instalment plan. It's the best way I know to give yourself a Thanksgiving present that will continue to be a blessing for many Thanksgivings to come!

Recipe

Measure into large bowl, ⅔ c. lukewarm water, 1 tbs. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 3 envelopes Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. THEN stir well. Scald ⅔ c. milk and stir in ½ c. granulated sugar, 1¼ tsps. salt, 6 tbs. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast mixture and stir in 3 well-beaten eggs. Stir in 3 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat well. Work in 3 c. more sifted bread flour. Knead until smooth and elastic; place in greased bowl and brush top with melted butter or shortening. Cover and set in warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough and divide into 2 equal portions; form into smooth balls. CHATEAUGAY, N.Y.—The Chateaugay Board of Education plans to send three representatives to attend the Annual Meeting of the New York State School Boards' Association in Syracuse, N.Y., on Oct. 23-25. This Convention has been held annually since 1929 and has always been a source of inspiration and enthusiasm to those school board members who have had the opportunity to attend.

The Chateaugay Board will go back to school again together with trustees from 800 other school boards during the three-day session. Dr. John J. Mahoney, Mr. Charles Nolan and Mr. Elmer Thompson will represent Chateaugay High School at Syracuse. Dr. Mahoney, acting President of the Franklin County School Boards Association, will be introduced at the Sunday evening "Get Acquainted" Supper, a traditional "pre-conference" meeting. Chateaugay has been a member of the State Association and participated at its Conventions for six years.

Advance reports indicate that the 1949 Convention will exceed in attendance the Conventions of 1947 and 1948 when nearly 2000 school board members and school officials gathered for instruction and advice provided by top educators, scientists and business leaders.

The principal Banquet speaker was Mr. Roy E. Larsen, President of Time, Inc., and Chairman of the recently organized National Commission for the Public Schools. Mr. Larsen will tell of the plans which the Commission has for improving schools throughout the nation.

Two members of the Board of Regents will speak. Edward R. Eastman of Ithaca, Editor of the American Agriculturist, will tell of the work of the Regents and Welles V. Mott of Buffalo, prominent Niagara frontier attorney, will speak on Subversive Activities in Schools.

State Comptroller Frank C. Moore of Albany is slated to discuss the Fiscal Responsibility of City School Boards - a live and important issue.

Dr. Basil G. Bibby, Director of the Eastman Dental Dispensary in American Dental Association will inform school trustees on the use of sodium fluoride in combatting tooth decay in school children.

Other speakers will discuss topics such as Building Problems Confronting School Boards, the Need for Teaching Conservation of Natural Resources in the Schools, the new Life Adjustment Education program, Public Relations, the School Board and the Community, Spiritual Values in Education.

Commissioner of Education Francis T. Spaulding will appear on the program as will Dr. Charles A. Brind, Jr., Counsel to the State Education Department, who each year conducts his famous Question Box in which he discusses many questions of general interest to school boards.

Central School Boards will have a special program in which school board members from several central schools will tell a good educational practices and Dr. Paul R. Mort, of Teachers College, Columbia University, will describe an ideal program for central schools.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

St. Patrick's Church.

On Sunday, October 23, 1949, Roman Catholic Churches throughout the world will observe Mission Sunday. This is a day of Prayer and Alms, ordered by The Holy Father, Pope Pius XII. On this day the parishioners of all Roman Catholic churches are asked to remember the needs of the missionary areas. Alms-giving is very important as missions, particularly foreign ones, are always poor. Equally important, however, are prayers. Without God's help the missions would fail in their work. Daily prayers are asked from all Catholics that the work may go on, "to preach the gospel to every creature and to feed the lambs of Christ."

Each missionary territory is managed by a vicar or a prefect, these being under the direct supervision of the Pope, to whom reports are sent regularly as to the conditions then existing in the mission area. There are 560 such areas, each of which is at least as large as New York State. This figure includes all territories in which missionary societies are at work whether these territories are being served by priests, sisters or brothers.

The missionaries are persons who forsaking home, parents and friends, have dedicated themselves to a life of sacrifice, often to an early death due to extreme hazards of daily living under difficult circumstances. The work being done includes training and instruction of young persons in preparation for their assuming the missionary duties, religious services for the natives and a full round of service in charity. The last includes: free medical care to over 41,000,000 patients in 936 hospitals and 2,952 dispensaries; 17,671 cared for in 221 leper sanatoria; refuge to 122,152 children in 2,046 orphanages.

On this coming Mission Sunday the Pope appeals in the cause of the needy in China, Japan, India, Africa and the islands of the Pacific where men and women, strong in heart, but faced with almost insurmountable difficulties, can only carry on their work if alms and prayers are freely given.

Presbyterian Church

On Wednesday, Oct. 12th, the Westminister Fellowship of the Chateauguay Presbyterian Church, with advisor Mrs. Roy Vincent and the Rev. Benjamin H. Ashton attended the Champlain Presbyterian-wide Westminister Fellowship Fall Rally, at Malone.

After devotions and the business meeting, the Fellowship was addressed by the Rev. Martin of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, formerly stationed in China. Discussions were conducted by the following ministers: George Morgan of Peru, Douglas Gray of Paul Smiths, Alvin Gurley of Saranac and Mr. Martin.

The Youth Budget film-strip, Oscar the Octopus, was shown by the Presbytery Chairman of Youth Budget, Benjamin H. Ashton.

A Hymn-Sing was enjoyed during the day. Supper was served by the women of the Malone Congregational Church.

The Young Adult Society, Geneva Fellowship, of the Burke Centre Presbyterian Church, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Lobdell, on Friday, Oct., 14th, for its regular monthly meeting. The meeting was presided over by the president Mr. Charles Reid, Jr. After the business session, a discussion period followed, led by the Rev. Benjamin H. Ashton. A light repast of waffles, doughnuts, and coffee was served by the social committee. It was decided that the next meeting, November 11, would be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reid, Jr., Malone.

BOY SCOUTS REORGANIZE

The Boy Scout Troop, Number 2, of Chateaugay, N.Y., had a meeting on Oct. 10, in the high school gymnasium. 29 members were present, of which 16 were applicants for membership. The troop has 4 Patrols called, Panther, Beaver, Fox, Wolf. Of the troop membership two boys are First Class Scouts: John Hyland and Roger Ryan; two are Second Class Scouts; James Lawrence and John Pilling; nine are Tenderfoots: Goldwyn Boyer, James Humiston, John Humiston, Herbert McCoy, Frank Ryan, James Ryan, Warren Starks, James Sweet, Jerry Welsh.

Mr. Wm. H. Cullen is the Scout Master. He succeeds Mr. Wm. Dupree who was Scout Master for four years.

Mr. Cullen plans a busy season for the scouts and is anxious to have parent cooperation in this very worthwhile activity for boys. He has prepared a letter to be sent to the parents of each scout asking them to give their support along four main lines: maintaining attendance at meetings of troop and patrols; regular payment of dues; acquiring a uniform by the initiative of the boys themselves rather than by parental generosity for he reminds them that the Scout Creed states, "A Scout Earns His Own Way"; lastly, the attendance of parents is desired at Honor Courts where Scouts receive recognition for good work done. He says in part, "It's an impressive ceremony that will be remembered by you and your son".

Boy Scout Troop, Number 2, is the oldest troop in Northern New York. It has numbered among its members, many of the town's present citizens. The troop is sponsored by the Chateaugay Rotary Club.

CHATEAUGAY HOME BUREAU

The Chateaugay Home Bureau met on Thursday, Oct. 13th, at the home of Mrs. Judy Hammond. 23 members were present. Mrs. Marjorie McCann presented a brief program dealing with State Government, Old Age Assistance and the Federal Social Security program as related to Old Age Pensions and Unemployment Insurance. Mrs. McCann was assisted by Mrs. June McCoy, County Leader for the Home Bureau Citizenship Program. In presenting her facts, Mrs. McCann first gave each member a questionnaire dealing with New York State government to dramatize the fact that few people were fully acquainted with this subject. After checking the answers to the questions, she proceeded to explain how the government functioned through various departments and how closely related were the duties of the departments to the welfare of the citizens. She called the attention of her hearers to the fact that many sources of information were available to them for the asking, especially the materials now on hand at the Public Library. The Chateaugay Memorial Library was sponsored by the Home Bureau, and is doing much to assist local townspeople. Considerable discussion arose concerning the conditions governing eligibility for Old Age Assistance and Old Age Pensions, and the current movement for extension of the latter benefit to groups not now covered. This discussion drew attention to current news and proposed legislative action with probable advantages and disadvantages to groups and to taypayers.

Following the program, doughnuts and cider were served.

Bridge Being Repaired

Repair work is being done on the Lower Bridge which enters into Highway No. 52 via Henderson St., and this bridge is closed to traffic while the work is being done. It is not before it was time that something was done on this bridge. It had been patched in such a manner as to be very dangerous to anyone and especially horses, using it. Under present day conditions the bridge is inadequate and something should be done to have a wider and stronger bridge built at this point. The same thing applies to the Upper Bridge at Lorne Avenue. Huntingdon is growing fast and the traffic these bridges have to bear, is not what they were originally built for. Therefore, there is danger that one of these days they will give way under the strain. It would be well for the government to send engineers to study the matter and make a report in the interests of public safety.

FASHION WEEK

A good-will event of interest was successfully accomplished when Steve and Violet Blondin (Mademoiselle Dress Shoppe) and twelve attractive models from Huntingdon, staged a Fall Fashion Show for the benefit of Ormstown Study Club in the High School Auditorium.

It combined cultural, social and commercial enterprise in a very happy, extended-community atmosphere. Mrs. D. C. Rivett made the comments in her clear, capable manner and during intermission gave interpretative character sketches that were highly appreciated.

Every requirement for a Fall and Winter wardrobe was exhibited in great variety of color and pattern. Wool jersey, velveteen, taffeta, faille. A Jacquard taupe satin by Kerner worn by Anita Foisy, was quite similar to a costume shown by Holt Renfrew at the Ritz Carlton, Montreal, that afternoon.

In coats there were the short or long station-wagons: fitted and loose full length coats in popular grey, wine, green, or black and velveteen raincoats. Mrs. Keith Craig presented a bouquet of roses to Mme Blondin and Dr. Fisher expressed the thanks of the Study Club to all responsible for the excellent show, hoping there would be more of them in future.

Models taking part were Mrs. Carmen Warden, Mrs. Frances Sparrow, Mrs. Jean Rowat, Mrs. Eileen Warden, Mme Rod. Montpetit, Miss Betty Dullaghan, Miss Marilyn Martin, Miss Suzanne Boyer, Miss Anita Foisy, Miss Yvette Houde, Miss Alice Guernon, Miss Renee Boyer.

Mrs. Rose Rosenshein directed the models, while Mrs. Lucienne Charbonneau was in charge of the wardrobe. Marchand Freres of Huntingdon, supplied the stage furniture. Mr. Steve Blondin, as master of ceremonies, opened the show, and for the final scene introduced the cast. Handbags as door prizes, were presented to Misses Olive Elliott and Jane Gartshore. Delicious refreshments were served to the visitors.

John Fisher, CBC commentator, is to be the guest speaker for Chateauguay Day meeting of the Study Club.

At the Holt Renfrew Fashion Show, Christopher Ellis was the commentator for an audience that filled the luxurious ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in support of the fund-raising campaign by the Ladies' Auxiliary for Royal Edward Sanatarium. Notable features of the showing were the shorter length evening gowns and the three-quarter length fur coats, slightly dipping at the back. Afternoon and semi-formal dresses had low, square neckline, one model with reveres that folded and buttoned up to the neck for daytime.

In his Church she writes they heard Henry J. Kaiser give an address. They will likely stay for some time in New York.

Hooker Bros. ...

would be great breeding places for germs. Sloping wood pieces are made so that the cages can be easily cleaned.

The average life of the fox on these ranches is about eight months and by that time Reynard is ready to lose his pelt and consequently forfeits his life. Some time after this the pelt adorns my lady's neck as a fur piece, or is made into a jacket or coat. A number of the fox were already penned up prior to pelting, which runs from November 25th to December 25th, and thus their days are numbered.

The pelts are sold on government grades and marketed in Montreal either through the Canadian Fur Auction or the Montreal Fur Auction. It takes about four days to prepare the pelts for market and then these are put up in lots for the buyers to bid on at the auction.

Fox ranching appears to be a very interesting business and Mr. Hooker has made many years of study of the business. In 1932 he did inspection work in the Province of Quebec and later turned to field work among the various breeders of the province. In this way he came into contact with many kinds of fox and was fortunate in adding some strains to his own stock. He advised breeders as to what to keep and what to discard and how to generally make the animals more profitable. Incidentally, Quebec has the largest number of fox breeders in any part of Canada. It was while on one of his trips that at Ancienne Lorette, three miles from Quebec City, that he came across what is known as a mutation of Silver Fox and which turned out to be the platinum and gave Quebec the distinction of having the first mutation of this kind in Canada in 1938. There are several types of color in fox and these are known as mutations and are not different breeds, they all come from crosses with the silver fox. The types or mutations are: Standard Silver, Platinum, White Marked Silver, Silver Blue and Glacier Blue.

In the case of the Platinum find, Mr. Hooker was able to purchase two sons of the fox that was tattooed L E G -74S and these were used to breed and bring forth the platinums that are at his ranch. He was an inspector for the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association at the time of his find. The original stock was of the Ruthven Strain but other animals have been purchased from J. J. McCague, Alliston, Ont. The female only has one litter each year which usually consists of about four pups. These will be of a 50% mutation, that is a platinum bred to a standard silver will have 50% platinum and 50% silver pups and this goes on in all series of crosses. Due to the platinum find, Mr. Hooker was able to win grand champion fox in platinum at Quebec City in 1946-47.

1946-47-48 were bad years for the fox market due to restricted overseas markets, labour costs and costs of feed. It was during that time that Mr. Hooker discovered a way of manufacturing his own feed instead of buying the manufactured product which was quite costly. By using his own formula, he was able to cut the feed costs by nearly half. He is still continuing this method today. The failure of the government to remove the luxury tax from furs has made another obstacle to the sale of the product. During the past two years, trade fairs at Basle, Switzerland and Milan, Italy have been held. A great willingness to trade has been evidenced, but government regulations of the countries, the devaluation of various currencies, have been bad for the fox ranchers. The merchants of these countries want to do business on a barter basis and will trade perfumes and other articles for the furs and also a few dollars, but cannot buy the furs outright on account of the shortage of dollars. If the fur traders could find a market for the perfumes, etc., it might be possible to open up trade with these countries at the present time.

During the years, Mr. Hooker has been a consistent winner with his fox at the various exhibitions. At the last four provincial exhibitions 1945-46-47-48, he won thirty championships and reserves and forty-five first prizes for both ranches. They are members of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association and a magazine is published in the interests of breeders called "Canadian Silver Fox and Fur."

Besides the pelts, Mr. Hooker gets many calls for animals for breeding and naturally keeps his animals up to tip top for this purpose. It is a very interesting business, but conditions at the moment are not good. There seem to be a greater demand for the short-haired animals and the fox is in the long-haired class. But that is the way it goes in all types of business — good periods and not so good.

The evening began with a film entitled "Painters of Quebec". Mr. E. King, M.A., Principal of Ormstown High School then addressed the group on "The Community School". An interesting feature of the program was a Fall and Winter Fashion Show, presented by the Mademoiselle Dress Shoppe, Huntingdon. Mr. Steve Blondin, as master of ceremonies, introduced the commentator in the person of Mrs. D. A. Rivett, who not only described in detail the various costumes but contributed two monologues, which were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The models who participated were: Mrs. Carmen Warden, Mrs. Frances Sparrow, Mrs. Jean Rowat, Mrs. Eileen Warden, Mme. Rod Montpetit, Miss Betty Dullaghan, Miss Marilyn Martin, Miss Suzanne Boyer, Miss Anita Foisy, Miss Yvette Houde, Miss Alice Guernon, Miss Renée Boyer. The stage was attractively set for the occasion through the kindness of Marchand Freres. Drawings for two lovely purses were made at intermission, the lucky winners being Mrs. Lorne Elliott and Miss Jane Gartshore. At the close of the Fashion Show, Mrs. Keith Greig presented Mrs. Blondin with a corsage and Dr. George Fisher, Study Club President, expressed sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. S. Blondin, the models and all the Huntingdon friends for their assistance. Special mention was made of the courtesy of Marchand Freres for the loan of stage furniture. Out-of-town guests were entertained by a ladies' committee at the close of the evening.

In Memoriam

MacNAUGHTON — In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away two years ago October 20th, 1947 —

We cannot bring back the old days
His hand we cannot touch,
But we treasure happy memories of a father we love so much.

Sadly missed by his wife Marguerite and children Arnold and Andria.

GREENWAY — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Frank A. Greenway, who passed away Oct. 17th, 1944.

A smile we loved is gone,
The voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled —
And while he lies in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.
Ever remembered by

His loving wife and family.

Missionary Sunday in St. Andrew's

CHATEAUGUAY — The Sunday morning service at St. Andrew's United Church was in charge of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary. Miss R. McFarlane and Mrs. Donald Morrison conducted the service of worship and praise. Mrs. David Lang and Mrs. J. R. Dickenson formed the committee of welcome. Mrs. Douglas Gilmour and Miss Mary Gardner received the offering. The flowers on the communion table were placed by Mrs. W. J. Reid. The choir rendered the anthem, "Be Thou My Vision" with expression, Mrs. H. P. Rowell conducting.

The guest speaker, Mrs. W. M. Booth of the Town of Mount Royal, a vice-president of the Montreal Presbyterial W.M.S. took as her subject, "The Work of the Church in the World to-day." Mrs. Booth gave some of the highlights of the meetings of the last General Council, which she had attended, and also told of the work being done by the Coastal Mission Fleet, the healing of the sick in hospitals, the work of Evangelism and Social Service, the missionary enterprises of the church, not only in Canada, but in China, Japan, Korea, India and Africa, all of these being supported by the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the Church.

While we may not be able to serve as ministers, teachers, doctors, missionaries or other full-time workers, we can at least help to make it possible for others to do so, and when we give regularly and to the extent of our ability, we are really giving a part of ourselves to the work of the Christian Church in the World.

From Mother Nature To Us; Story of Furniture Making

BEAUHARNOIS—After a long, long time our industrial report seems to have come back to life. This time we would like you to hear a little about furniture making. As you probably know, furniture is an important part of the home and office, but is just one of those things we usually take for granted, although we come in contact with it nearly every minute of the day. Perhaps this is because we do not know the real story behind the store window. We got our information from a man who has been in the furniture business a long time, Mr. R. B. Calhoun.

Mr. Calhoun, who is working for the J. W. Kilgour & Brothers Ltd. told us that a piece of furniture begins as per usual with Mother Nature. Somewhere in Canada woodsmen will cut down a sturdy, well chosen birch tree, then the tree will be made into fine pieces of well cut lumber. This lumber, which is loaded into a freight car is soon speeding on its way to the Kilgour freight yards in Beauharnois. On arrival here it is unloaded and hauled by horses to the factory a short distance away. Arriving at the factory the wood is taken to the Dry Kilns where the wood is piled to be dried out. The Dry Kilns is merely a large room, heated enough to dry wood without harming it in any way. Ordinarily if wood were left outside to dry it would most likely shrink or swell, depending on what kind of weather. Lumber which is one inch thick is left in the Dry Kilns five or six days. Lumber which is thicker than one inch is left for a longer length of time.

The dry lumber is then taken from the Dry Kilns to the main building where it receives its first treatment. This first process is to cut wood into sections without knots in them, wood which has a knot in it is cut away and used for fire wood. (Incidentally all wood is cut by power saws.) When the good wood has been sorted out from the bad, the good wood is cut into specified lengths and put through a machine which planes the rough wood down to a soft, smooth surface.

Pieces of wood which need to be glued together to make one large piece are arranged and put through a modern machine called a Dielectric Press. This machine thoroughly dries the glue in a matter of minutes by electrical heat. Before this machine was used by Kilgours all their gluing had to be done by a clamp which took several hours.

After a few minor things have been done, such as boring and making joints, etc., the wood gets its final sanding. This sanding is done on a machine which is seemingly complicated but which is very simple to understand when you know how it works. When the wood is put into the mouth of the machine it first passes over a roller covered with a rough sand paper, then it passes over another roller covered with a smoother sandpaper, then again over a third, covered with a very smooth sandpaper. When it comes out of the machine it is excellently finished.

At Kilgour's the making of furniture is divided into three departments, the one we have just told you about is the breaking out department, the second the assembling department, and the third is called the finishing department.

Now let us have a look at what goes on in the assembling department. As you probably have gathered from the name, this is the department in which the wood is cut out and shaped and going downstairs is made into a piece of furniture. Let us say they are making a dresser. The man receives the cut wood from the breaking out department, he glues, and tapes it into place. Before you know it a piece of fine furniture begins to take shape. When he has finished assembling the wood he puts it in a clamp to let the glue set and dry. While the glue is drying nails are driven in to reinforce the glue. From here the furniture is put on a slat conveyer which moves no more than 22 inches per minute. As the furniture moves along this conveyer the workmen put on the handles and knobs. When the furniture arrives at the end of this conveyer it is checked by an inspector who gives it his O.K. by putting his initials on it.

From this point the furniture is put on another conveyer and is carried through to the finishing department. This conveyer is nearly half a mile long, and I might add, it was the first of its kind used in a Canadian furniture plant.

On the third floor the furniture is put through its final stages. The first thing done here is to spray the walnut base on the wood for the first coat of varnish, the base stains the wood as well as stops the varnish from sinking into the wood. After two coats of varnish have been applied the furniture is carried back and forth in a large room heated up to 135 degrees Fahrenheit; here the varnish is dried.

Well, that's all we have except for one thing, the furniture has to be packed. This is done by securely fastening it into a cardboard case and sealing it with a rim of steel tape so that it cannot be scratched or marred in any way.

Then off it goes by rail once more; this time it is not only a few pieces of birch lumber but a beautifully made piece of furniture that will find its way into someone's home. Wherever it goes it will surely make someone very happy, maybe you will be that someone.

Well, that's all for now, friends. I'll be back in a little while to give you another report on the industries of Beauharnois when I hope to tell you a little about the St. Lawrence Alloys. Goodbye for now.

George Broadbent.

A most interesting address was given by Dr. Hanson of Pal-ampur, India. She is spending her furlough in Canada and Great Britain. Born in India this is her first visit to any country outside. POWERSCOURT COVERED BRIDGE

The covered bridge at Powerscourt takes on distinction of being one of the most talked of bridges of the day. It spans the Chateauguay River and divides two municipalities known as Elgin and Hinchinbrook and was erected in the year 1861 which makes it a real landmark of 88 years. A year ago last summer a delegate was sent to take pictures of this structure. As there was to be a lecture in Chicago he wanted the pictures for this purpose.

This year, in the early summer, another delegate came, Mr. Wilson, to take more pictures. Just recently, Mr. Allen from Round Lake, N.Y., who was making an inspection tour, informed Mrs. C. E. Ewing she was to have a picture of the bridge. Mr. Wilson did not know her address and asked Mr. Allen to call and get it. He also wanted to know if it would be possible to find out the year the bridge was built, as they had all been trying to get this information and just had not succeeded. He asked Mrs. Ewing if she would try and there are few people she has not contacted. Finally the required information came from a resident in Elgin, which is much appreciated. This bridge is built differently from most covered bridges. It has recently been under construction and is now completed and open for traffic.

WEDDING
Hibbard-Heather

Fairmount-St. Giles United Church, Montreal, was the scene of a wedding Saturday afternoon, when Miss Jean Fraser Heather, daughter of Mrs. Heather of Outremont and of the late John W. Heather, was united in marriage to Mr. Ainsley Keith Calcutt Hibbard, son of Lt.-Cmdr. and Mrs. H. J. F. Hibbard, of Port Hope, Ont., and grandson of Rev. G. F. Hibbard, of Quebec City. Rev. Ernest E. Long officiated at the four o'clock choral service at which the choir sang "O Perfect Love" and Miss Marygold Nash was soloist, with Mr. Frederick McLearon at the organ. Baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, togther with autumn leaves and two standards holding white tapers, formed the decorations.

Mr. Charles Barr gave his sister-in-law in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Mrs. Charles Barr as matron of honor. Mr. Gerald Hibbard of Toronto, acted as best man for his brother, the ushers being Mr. Fred Hibbard, also of Toronto, another brother, and Mr. Alan Clarke, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore Chantilly lace over a strapless gown of ivory satin, the skirt with bouffant sides and extending into a slight train, the long sleeves tapering to points. Her long veil of tulle illusion embroidered to a halo of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of Better Times roses.

The matron of honor wore a bouffant frock of American Beauty crepe and a roll-back hat and mitts of matching material, her loose round bouquet being composed of white chrysanthemums.

The reception was held at the Business and Professional Women's Club, where the bride's table was adorned with candles and low bowls of baby 'mums. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. C. Hibbard left by plane for Atlantic City and New York on their honeymoon. The bride wore for travelling a black gabardine suit with pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The couple will later take up their residence in Montreal.

An Original Farm Project

An Educational Plan Geared to the Interest and Habits of Children

CHATEAUGAY, N.Y.—During the past few weeks anyone entering the First Grade room at Chateaugay High School could not but see that something special was afoot. Probably the first thing to catch his eye would be the sand table. Here was set before him a miniature farm, with house, barn, silo, fields and wood lot. At the far side of the field, grain stood ready for the harvest. The farmer was operating a tractor and a loaded wagon with hay ready for the mow was just being drawn into the barn by a sturdy team of horses.

Livestock was to be seen. A wire enclosure held a flock of chickens, cattle grazed in the meadow, ducks floated calmly on the farm pond and the house dog took his rest in the shade.

A winding road led from the farm to the main highway and a delivery truck had just brought some goods from town. Near the house was the mail box and here the national flag was ready to catch the breeze.

This well planned display gave the children a true picture of the modern farm with its equipment, its setting, and best of all, the work being done.

Around the school room were pictures and posters telling the story of farm work, farm fun, farm pets and showing how boys and girls could help their parents. Tots were shown gathering eggs, watering the flowers, feeding the calves, etc. These posters had been colored by the children themselves, thus co-ordinating art and science. This gave them practice in hand work and in choosing colors. Such posters are necessarily large since youthful fingers cannot easily fit their work into a small space.

Many of the pictures bore informative labels and thus they served as a basis for talks and stories about the farm and life on the farm. The pictures could easily be related to the objects on the sand table so that the pigs feeding at the trough, the sunflower whose seeds would serve as food for the fowls, and even Peter Rabbit hiding in the tall grass, became quite real.

As the days passed by, the children were encouraged to carry their study home with them and to bring to class anything that they thought the class would like to see. The result was that soon two other tables were set up, one for vegetables and one for fruits. These foods were, of course, from the farm and so the talks now turned to foods that were best for health and milk was set forth as the most desirable food. These talks brought the home and school together and brought the child into close relation to the school work. Each day found his vocabulary increased.

This entire project was chosen as suitable to the topics in the textbook, "Here We Go." This is a diagnostic reading text. All such primary work must carry out definite objectives. Children must be brought to listen, to play, to work, to express their ideas and to practice newly acquired skills. When interest is aroused and fun is enjoyed, the learning process becomes easier and simpler. The child's natural curiosity and desire "to do something" is utilized. Freedom of movement, with discipline keyed to regard for others and cooperation between teacher and pupil results in a love for school, creation of satisfaction and a feeling of security.

Miss Marie Ledoux was the teacher in charge of this project. The second section of the grade has Mrs. Benjamin Lavery as teacher and here the farm was also studied with the children making a frieze to express what they had learned. Children of both sections visited each room and enjoyed the various exhibits.

WINNIPEG -(CP)- City officials wish householders would look over their garbage more closely. A loaded Mills bomb was recently sorted out of garbage ready to be thrown into the city incinerator. Officials said the bomb could have blown part of the furnace away.

Church Supper Is Splendid Success

HEMMINGFORD — The annual Church Supper of St. Andrew's United Church was held on Thursday last and was a huge success, owing to the untiring efforts of the members of the Woman's Association under the leadership of its president, Mrs. G. S. Walsh.

About 500 dinners were served and with the help given by so many of the ladies of the congregation, it was possible to serve such a large number very smoothly. The appreciation of the president and members is extended to all who helped in this event for their co-operation.

Hemmingford Branch W.I.

A meeting of the Hemmingford Branch of the W.I. was held on the evening of October 5, in the United Church Hall, with a large attendance of members and interested friends, and with Mrs. J. P. Simpson in the chair.

Dr. Sutton, of Ormstown, gave an address on Undulent Fever, telling of the preventative measures that may be taken in order to avoid this disease, the symptoms of the disease, and the means of treating it that are now being tried out. Mrs. R. Hauver expressed the thanks of the members to Dr. Sutton for this address, which had proven so instructive to the group. The film "Let There Be Light" was shown. This is a very beautiful, colourful pageant beginning from the origin of the W.I. and showing the growth and developments of that organization up to the present time, when it encircles the globe. Lastly, a film showing Wear-Ever Aluminum and demonstrating the waterless way of cooking was put on by Mr. C. J. Keddy; in this way of cooking, all the vitamins are retained, which are so essential to health. Mrs. R. L. Hauver, first vice-president, also thanked Mr. Keddy for bringing this film, and showing this new method of cooking. This brought a most instructive and varied meeting to a close.

Mrs. Henry Duff, of Canaan, Vt., also Mrs. George Smith and daughter Doris, of Beecher Falls, Vt., were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Simpson; Miss A. A. Howse, of Ayers Cliff, Que., was also a guest at the same home.

Covey Hill

COVEY HILL — Deep sympathy is felt for Mrs. Wm. Day in the death of her sister, Mrs. Armour Steele, of Montreal, who died on Wednesday, Oct. 12. Mr. and Mrs. Day attended the funeral on Friday. Mrs. Steele was a widow and had lost her only son about four years ago. She is survived by a grandson and by another sister in Ireland. She was esteemed as a woman of very fine Christian character. Mrs. Day had the happiness of a fortnight's visit from her sister this summer.

With only light frosts so far, autumn flowers are still at their best. Dahlias of huge size and great beauty from Mrs. E. W. Sample's garden lent a decorative touch at last Sunday's service, and later went to cheer patients in the Royal Edward Institute.

Mr. Hollis Lowden, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sutton, visited Mrs. H. Lowden in Valleyfield Hospital on Sunday and found her a good deal better.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lowden of Montreal were guests of their relatives here this week.

The list of visitors includes the Misses Johnston at Keithbarn; Mrs. Horsfall and Miss Ethel Wayne of St. Lambert and Mrs. Duckett of Montreal at Kebbaty; Miss Margaret Edwards at her home here; Mr. Rod. Sutton and Lois at Nitro, home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Steele; Miss Margery Belle Steele at Mr. Rod Sutton's; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barr at Mr. W. A. Churchill's; and Mr. John MacFarlane of Montreal at Mr. Aaron Churchill's.

Havelock

HAVELOCK — A very successful dance was held in the Orange Hall, Havelock, Que., under the auspices of St. Matthew's Church, Edwardstown. The success of the evening was aided tremendously by the amiability of the crowd in attendance and a special word of thanks must go to Mr. Forrester for the wonderful manner in which the square dances were called. Mr. Bill Hooker's public address system performed to perfection and was a great help to the caller. The persistant efforts of the musicians kept the crowd in a happy frame of mind and the floor was constantly in use to the old time tunes.

The congregation of the church wishes to extend thanks to all who contributed to the evening's entertainment, especially for the many donations secured. Thanks to Mr. John G. Rennie, M.L.A., Mr. and Mrs. H. Wheatley, Mr. Paul Wheatley, Miss Clara Stacey, Miss Mildred Jay, Miss Janet Burnfield, Mr. Charles Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. P. Stacey, Mr. Dick Stacey; also thanks to those who contributed to a social evening held on April 29th of this year: Mr. Henri Turcot, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McComb, Mrs. Thomas, Miss M. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. B. Wheatley and Mr. Chas. McKay.

Franklin Centre

FRANKLIN CENTRE — Rally Day was observed in the United Church on Sunday morning. The service was conducted according to the leaflet "Order of Worship". The Scripture selections were read by Eileen Patneaude, Molly Pawluk and Walter Hope. Miss June Vaincourt read the story for this occasion, which brought out the fact that there are many hundreds of children, right in this fair Dominion of ours, who do not have the advantage of a Sunday School, and how much they appreciate the Sunday School by mail. Are we thankful enough and do we use this great privilege bestowed upon us? The special collection was taken up by Kenneth Dunn and Graham Vaincourt. Prizes for attendance were awarded the following pupils: Eileen Patneaude, Edith Stevenson, Dorothy Manning and Norma Dunn. Rev. E. Davis gave a short interesting address about his native land, our new province, Newfoundland.

Mrs. Fred Stevenson, Mrs. James Manning, Mrs. Inez Brooks, Miss Jean Manning and Rev. E. and Mrs. Davis attended the W.M.S. Thanksgiving Offering meeting, at Rennie's, on Thursday afternoon and much enjoyed the address given by the recently returned lady missionary from India, now of Schenectady, N.Y.

Miss Mary Eileen Cassidy, R.N., of Montreal, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Harvey spent Sunday afternoon with their uncle and aunt, Mr. Jerry Dunn and Mrs. Dorothy Gamble, at Athelstan.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Miller, of Eaton Corners, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevenson. Last Monday, guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Gervan Stevenson and family, of Ottawa.

Thanksgiving Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy were Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sarrasin and Mr. and Mrs. John Scullion and Miss Doreen Cassidy, of Montreal

Mr. and Mrs. Donahue and children, of Montreal, were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stevenson.

Mrs. John H. Rowe recently spent a few days in Outremont with her sisters, the Misses Alice and Florence Hunter.

Mrs. Inez Brooks spent Sunday afternoon and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Moore, Covey Hill.

An unusual display of "Northern Lights" last week for a few nights were a wonderful sight to those who saw them; they appeared like a huge canopy over the sky with lights from a blood red to a pink and light shades of blue and white. What this portends, in regard to the weather, only time will tell.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Towns spent Sunday in Montreal.

Dr. and Mrs. Butt, of Newfoundland, were guests at the parsonage of Rev. E. and Mrs. Davis, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dunn, Mr. Clarence Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dunn attended the funeral of their aunt, the Late Mrs. Tom Moore, at Huntingdon, on Sunday afternoon.

Women of the Foreign Missionary Society of the Church of the Nazarene have met twice recently preparing and rolling a supply of bandages to be sent to their mission hospital in Basim, Central Provinces, India. A box of other medical supplies is also being packed.

Following the special services at the Church of the Nazarene, where he was music director and soloist, Mr. DeVerne Mullen went to Montreal on Monday for a week's engagement, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. K. E. Sullivan. While in Franklin Mr. Mullen won many friends and admirers.

The VAN PACKER CHIMNEY has come to stay. If you have to build an inside chimney call and inspect this new fireproof chimney in operation. Half a day sees the average Van Packer Chimney erected and ready for use. Passed by the Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation and Fire Insurance Companies.

Have you inspected your house or barn roof? Are all the roofs of your buildings ready for the rigours of Winter? If not now is the time to get it put in order. We have asphalt shingles, roll roofing, roofing cement, and aluminex for metal roofs. Get yours now whilst there is still warm weather.

The all important question of house warmth requires your attention now. Why burn expensive coal to warm the air outside your home, when by insulating with Rockwool or Zonolite under the roof you will receive handsome dividends in a warmer home, and a distinct saving of cash on your coal bill. Easy to apply—expensive blowing is unnecessary to insulate the roof or over the top ceiling.

We are at the service of the public for information and advice on all questions of repairs, insulation, and additions, etc.
