Capital under martial law

Guatemala revolt brews

GUATEMALA CITY (AP)—The army held this riot-torn Guatemalan capital under virtual martial law today as opposition mounted to President Miguel Ydigoras' Conservative regime. Army troops chased two guerrilla bands in the hills.

The army seized control of the city on Ydigoras' orders following four days of street fighting and other violence that left 200 persons dead and more than 200 injured. More than 250 persons were reported arrested.

The army declared that it is ready to take extreme measures to put down students protesting what they called fraud in last December's elections that returned Ydigoras' Conservative party in control of Congress.

Heavily armed troops took over key communication and transportation points and patrolled the streets. At 8 p.m. 5 a.m. curfew was clamped on the city. Anti-government strikes spread and businesses closed. Commercial life was nearly still.

The army was elsewhere occupied in search of two small rebel bands in the mountains in northern and northeastern Guatemala.

ISSUES MANIFESTO

One group is led by Carlos Paz Tejada, who was defence minister under former pro-Communist president Jacobo Arbenz, ousted in a 1954 coup. Paz Tejada issued a manifesto early this week urging the people to overthrow Ydigoras. Arbenz was last reported in Havana as a guest of Ydigoras' arch foe, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Duke has trouble

BRASILIA (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh had to fly his plane back here Friday when it developed engine trouble five minutes after taking off for Sao Paulo. More than five hours later the Duke took off again in a Brazilian plane for Sao Paulo, where he expected to spend the weekend.

Bit of Irish in legislature

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood, part Irish and all smiles, wished a "top of the mornin'" to the Newfoundland legislature today as it pressed into the early hours of the morning in an effort to reach prorogation.

Government members broke into song to wish happy birthday to Pat Canine (L—Placentia West), 47 and all Irishman on St. Patrick's Day.

Commented Speaker Jack Courage: "That's the worst singing I ever heard." Mr. Courage was 47 Friday.

The members wound up business just before 1 a.m. ready for prorogation Tuesday.

Coldwell speaks in Sherbrooke

Former CCF party leader claims separatist movement will fail

The separatist movement in Quebec will fall apart shortly, just as similar movements in the early years of the present century, M. J. Coldwell, former leader of the CCF party, declared during the course of a press conference here Friday night.

Mr. Coldwell was in Sherbrooke to address a dinner meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships. His subject was reminiscences of 25 years in the Canadian House of Commons.

He believed, however, that the present separatist agitation served a useful purpose in that it impressed upon the rest of Canada the importance of considering the peculiar needs of Quebec.

Asked as to the probable outcome of the next federal elections, Mr. Coldwell said the result might be closer than most people think. Reviewing the prospects of the various parties, he said:

"Naturally I hope the New Democrats will win, but I am certain of one thing—the Social Credit forces will get nowhere."

Its support was confined to Alberta and British Columbia and it was losing in the latter province, he believed.

Entry into the European Common Market was not an active question for Canada, he explained, because the European Community was strictly a western European affair.

"There is no provision for North American countries," he said.

Canada might suffer some temporary dislocations if Britain joined the ECM, Mr. Coldwell continued, but he believed the improved general prosperity of the West would counteract these losses before long.

He described Hazen Argue, who left the NDP for the Liberals, as a disappointed politician, who would do the Liberals no good and the NDP no harm.

TEL AVIV — Israeli and Syrian forces fought a seven-hour ground, artillery and air battle near the Sea of Galilee early today that ended with a United Nations-arranged ceasefire on the tense frontier.

It was one of the biggest flare-ups in the area for several years. Israel sent bombers to attack Syrian artillery which opened fire on an Israeli village after an Israeli ground raid on Syrian outposts near the frontier.

An Israeli staff officer said five Israelis were killed, six severely wounded and others slightly hurt. He said the Israeli raiders counted the bodies of at least 30 Syrians killed in action, though the Syrians claimed only one of their soldiers was killed and five wounded.

The Israelis said they captured one Syrian.

Two civilians were reported wounded in the village of Porth on the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee, which was shelled by the Syrians. There was also serious damage to both Porth and Ein Gev.

The battle climaxed 10 days of Syrian-Israeli hostilities on the sea, where the Syrians have charged that Israeli armored boats have been "violating the demilitarized water zone" to open fire on Syrian positions.

Fighting started when the Israeli ground force made a midnight raid on Syrian outposts which had shelled Israeli fishing boats on the Sea of Galilee Friday.

According to an Israeli announcement, the Israeli troops occupied the Syrian posts and demolished their fortifications. But a Syrian broadcast said the Israelis were repulsed.

Following the deaths last weekend, Toxemia is a form of blood poisoning.

Fourteen babies received a salt-saturated formula, Hilleboe said. Eleven showed symptoms of poisoning and six died.

The hospital suspended a practical nurse who said she filled a sugar can for the formula preparation room with what she thought was sugar from a larger container in the hospital's main kitchen.

No trace found of big airliner

MANILA (AP)—An expanded search today failed to turn up a trace of a chartered airliner that vanished over the western Pacific. A U.S. Air Force spokesman said "chances are getting slimmer every minute" that any of the 107 persons aboard would be found alive.

But officials said they have not given up hope for those aboard the four-engine Super Constellation of the Flying Tiger Line that presumably crashed or ditched Friday after leaving Guam Thursday night for a 1,600-mile hop to Clark Air Force Base in northern California Tuesday carrying 93 U.S. Army men and three South Vietnamese bound for South Vietnam.

Canada might suffer some temporary dislocations if Britain joined the ECM, Mr. Coldwell continued, but he believed the improved general prosperity of the West would counteract these losses before long.

He described Hazen Argue, who left the NDP for the Liberals, as a disappointed politician, who would do the Liberals no good and the NDP no harm.

Dies at 110

STE. AGATHE, Que. (CP)—A civic funeral for Joseph Saint-Amour, who died Thursday night at the age of 110, is to be held Monday in this community 50 miles northwest of Montreal.

Mr. Saint-Amour, born Feb. 26, 1852, died at his home where he had lived for 100 years. He is survived by three of his 11 children, 51 grandchildren, 124 great-grandchildren and 23 great-great-grandchildren.

MAPLE SAP RUNNING AGAIN

The maple sap is running in the Eastern Township again!

And many district sugar bush owners have their sugar-operations in full swing.

The first maple products of the year made their appearance yesterday in Sherbrooke market and the annual door to door maple sugar and syrup pedlars are expected to begin their runs soon.

The Lennoxville Experimental Farm reports that for the last 10 days, temperatures have been above normal in the area, causing the sap to rise. The warm days and cool nights were considered ideal for maple sugar operations.

The Experimental Farm has recorded temperatures in the last week as high as 51 degrees above zero. The lowest was ten days ago when an 8 below zero temperature was reported.

Clifford Curtis, Hatley, one of the district's largest maple sugar producers reports that for the past week sap has been running smoothly.

He said he expects that if the present weather keeps up he will soon even be able to work the trees on the higher slopes.

Salt said responsible for deaths

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Salt poisoning was responsible for the death of six babies in the Binghamton, N.Y., General Hospital, where salt was mistakenly substituted for sugar in feeding formula, the state health commissioner reported Friday.

Commissioner Herman Hilleboe recommended that the State Public Health Council, of which he is a member, stiffen the state sanitary code to keep salt and other hazardous substances out of hospital areas where babies' food is prepared.

Hilleboe told a press conference that the finding of "toxemia due to high salt intake" came from a health department team that visited the hospital following the deaths last weekend. Toxemia is a form of blood poisoning.

Fourteen babies received a salt-saturated formula, Hilleboe said. Eleven showed symptoms of poisoning and six died.

The hospital suspended a practical nurse who said she filled a sugar can for the formula preparation room with what she thought was sugar from a larger container in the hospital's main kitchen.

Two plans proposed

Working sessions of the 17-nation Geneva conference began Thursday with State Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union presenting rival plans for total world disarmament.

The proposals—as had been expected—followed closely the outline of plans presented to the United Nations by President Kennedy last September and by Premier Khrushchev in 1959.

External Affairs Minister Howard Green of Canada, chairman of the first meeting under a Canadian-sponsored rotating system, said it had gone as well as could be expected. Green, scheduled to speak early next week, is expected to emphasize areas of disarmament where "we can start to agree."

In one modification of the U.S. plan—which is supported by Britain, Canada and Italy Rusk suggested a 30-per-cent reduction in the number of vehicles capable of delivering nuclear weapons as well as of major conventional armaments in the first three years.

TIGHT SQUEEZE — A transport van loaded with goods en route to Montreal is guided through the South Stukely tunnel on Route No. 1. Camille Archambault president of the Quebec Trucking Association said at a press conference Thursday the Quebec Minister of Roads told the association in a letter everything would be done to have a viaduct built during the summer of 1962 to bypass the tunnel. The tunnel, known as a death trap for many years is between two curves and large transport trucks have to be guided through it causing other traffic to pile up. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Railway strike threatened

Federal action seen

MONTREAL (CP)—The question of possible action by the federal government was in the forefront today in the face of a threatened strike on Canada's two biggest railways in little more than two weeks.

The sudden crisis came into the open Friday when the 4,500-man Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (Ind.) said they will go on strike against the CNR April 2, and against the CPR 24 hours later unless their contract demands are met.

There was no immediate indication of how the government could act to head off a rail strike beyond putting pressure on all parties to try to work out a settlement before the deadline.

During the last railway crisis—involving 110,000 non-operating employees—the government rammed through Parliament an emergency bill 15 months ago that delayed a scheduled strike for six months.

DISPUTE SETTLED

That dispute was settled before the government-imposed cease-fire was over.

The engineers previously had voted in favor of strike action if necessary against both the CNR and the CPR. The result of the strike vote was announced Feb. 15.

O. J. Travers, assistant chief of the union in Canada, said in announcing the strike dates that both railways had "remained adamant" in their refusal to grant the union demands during talks since Feb. 15.

On the other hand, CNR the union action was "most regrettable" and he called on the engineers to show mature judgment.

Seaway thrives

MONTREAL (CP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway will probably handle about 25,000,000 tons of cargo in the 1962 shipping season, Dr. Pierre Camu, vice-president of Canada's Seaway Authority, said Friday night.

Dr. Camu made the forecast in a speech at a convention of the Federation des Pilotes du Saint-Laurent.

tem—each of the nuclear powers policing its own pledge.

INFORMAL TALKS ASKED

The question of inspection and control—and varying interpretations between East and West—is one that haunts disarmament across the board.

India proposed Friday that the U.S. and Russia start prompt informal negotiation on their disarmament plans. Green said later the idea is "very much in line with Canadian thinking."

Offstage from Geneva . . . The U.S. announced Thursday it set off its 22nd low-yield nuclear test in its current underground series . . . Khrushchev said in Moscow Friday Russia has launched a new satellite.

Before the Geneva conference began, the Big Three foreign ministers failed in informal talks to make headway on the German question. West Berlin came under continued pestering during the week.

East Berlin police fired on a British military auto, wounding the driver . . . Russian military planes flew through corridors linking west Berlin with West Germany at the same time they were being used by civilian planes . . . A customs official was abducted briefly.

ALGERIA WRACKED

Hopes were maintained that a cease-fire might be reached this week in the 7½-year-old Algerian war but terrorism

CNR and the CPR have implemented as of Jan. 1 the recommendations of the majority reports of separate federal conciliation boards that studied the disputes.

These recommendations—rejected in both cases by the union—included a 6½-per-cent wage increase spread over a three-year contract instead of the 15-per-cent wage boost originally sought by the union in a two-year contract.

The main work-rule dispute at the CNR is so-called "arbitrariness"—special allowances given engineers preparing for or ending a run and paid according to a set formula instead of for the time actually involved.

Answers Opposition

Defends vocational training assistance

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Starr defended the government's vocational training assistance program Friday in replying to opposition charges that the plan is poorly planned and badly misdirected.

"We know where we are going," he said as the Commons ended its three-day debate on a $28,400,000 supplementary appropriation for the federal-provincial plan, under which Ottawa pays for 75 per cent of new vocational training facilities built by the provinces.

The amount later was approved and the labor debate moved onto an item to lend $25,000,000 to the declining unemployment insurance fund. It is part of the $115,647,429 in supplementary spending currently up for item-by-item study.

Opposition MPs have said that the vocational training plan puts too much stress on high school-level training, does not provide for teachers to man the new classrooms being built and expands courses which are rapidly becoming obsolete.

Mr. Starr said representatives of labor and industry, along with federal and provincial government groups, helped to set the policy for the plan. The aim was to reduce future unemployment by training more workers in the skills needed by the expansion and modernization of industry.

SHORT OF NEED

Chesley W. Carter (L—Burlington) said the proposal for training teachers falls far short of need. The classrooms being provided in Ontario within the next year would require 3,500 teachers. But at the rate of teacher training it would take 10 years to provide that number.

Turning to the unemployment insurance item, Mr. Starr said it will not be used unless the fund runs out of money before June.

At the end of January the balance in the fund was $135,877,305. The flow of payments in January had been 17 per cent less than a year earlier.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—It is likely that a brash and offbeat cartoon program, The Bullwinkle Show, will be leaving NBC next season. And that will be good news to the network's department of continuity and acceptance (that's televisionese for "censorship").

It has had nothing but trouble with the irreverent creators of the show, Hay Wadd and Bill Scott, who take delight in treading on sensitive toes.

The program, which naturally appeals to children, is a delight to those adult viewers who like "inside" humor—particularly inside show business.

The Bullwinkle boys started poking fun at Disneyland, calling it Dizzy Walter's Land. Early in the season, lawyers for Durward Kirby of the Garry Moore Show, formally notified them to "cease and desist" using the name "Kurwood Derby" for a magic hat. They invented a pyromaniac bear, Stokely, which got quick angry reaction from the U.S. Forest Service, pointing out that Smokey Bear was a treasured, copyrighted property of the service and not to be kidded.

NO CADIDDLEHOPPING

Red Skelton registered annoyance with Bullwinkle's voice (a moose) claiming it sounded like Red's Clem Cadiddlehopper character (and it does).

But worst was a sequence that slipped by the censors in which they cooked, for Thanksgiving dinner, a peacock. And a peacock is NBC's proud, unfunny symbol of color shows.

The show may be a headache to NBC, but its sponsor loves it. And because the sponsor has a lot of money to spend for other shows, it won't have any trouble finding a new home for Bullwinkle next season.

Teenager wins hairdresser award

MONTREAL (CP)—Sal Quarone, an 18-year-old Toronto hairdresser, won the title of Canada's Leading Stylist at the 1962 Cavalcade of Beauty in Montreal.

Quarone, whose shoemaker father encouraged him to enter the beauty business two years ago, used a variation of the high-fashion "hair in motion" setting.

His model was Diane Caruso, wife of the owner of the salon he works in.

The competition for the leading hair stylist title was the highlight of the four-day trade show sponsored by the Allied Beauty Association.

A standing-room-only audience of more than 1,000, most of them hairdressers, watched the 11 competitors comb out their creations. Most were on the "hair in motion" theme and the panel of three judges made their choice on originality of treatment.

FINESSES GO AS SOUTH GOES

"Everything happens to me," moaned South. "Two out of two finesses went wrong."

South had won the first trick with the ace of diamonds, led a spade to his ace and a club toward dummy. East had taken the ace and led a second trump. South finessed. West took his queen and cleared up the trump suit. Eventually South lost the heart finesse and his contract.

Actually, there were three separate and distinct ways for South to have made the hand.

Was born a slave 108 years ago

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—What would you think about if you were 108 years old?

Mrs. Margaret Lewis, born into slavery 108 years ago Thursday, says she thinks "about what a good time I've had. And the children. They're so good to me. I couldn't make it if they weren't so good to me."

Mrs. Lewis needs a little help getting around the house, but she still manages to sew and knit and uses a washing machine that was a birthday present last year.

She has outlived all five of her children and both of her grandchildren. She now has 15 living descendants — two great-grandchildren and 13 great-great-grandchildren.

Born in Barren County in southern Kentucky, Mrs. Lewis speaks fondly of her days in bondage and of "Marse Jack" and his family. "They never gave me a cross word," she said.

Missile crumbles

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fire in a motor indirectly caused an Atlas missile to crumble on its launching site near Topeka, Kan., the air force said Thursday.

The electric motor is used to maintain internal pressure on the thin skin of the Atlas, thus keeping the rocket's fuselage in shape while the missile stands ready on its launching base.

Wins confidence

ROME (Reuters) — Premier Amintore Fanfani's new centrist coalition government won a vote of confidence 122 to 68 in the Italian Senate Thursday night. It won a similar vote in the Chamber of Deputies last Saturday by a comfortable majority.

LONDON (Reuters) — Two Canadians Thursday were elected fellows of the Royal Society, Britain's major scientific body. They were Dr. William Schneider, chief research officer in the division of pure chemistry for the National Research Council of Canada, and Prof. Harry Lambert Walsh, physics professor at the University of Toronto.

Bans travel

ORAN, Algeria (Reuters) — Air and shipping companies said Thursday the right-wing extremist Army Organization has issued an "order" banning Europeans from leaving Algeria without its permission. The companies said they have been forced to stop advance bookings. Passengers now present themselves at travel terminals at departure time and embark only if there is space.

Retains post

BEIRUT, Lebanon (Reuters) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia has retained the post of premier in a reshuffle of his government. Mecca radio reported Thursday night. His brother, Prince Faisal, who deputized for the king while he was having medical treatment in the United States recently, becomes vice-premier. However, he will continue to preside over the cabinet.

Answer Monday

Every Canadian home should have an ADAMS-TRAINER, as nothing replaces daily exercise at home.

MANY ILLNESSES WOULD BE AVERTED, IF EVERYONE REALIZED THE NECESSITY OF DAILY EXERCISE.

Here is what Professor Dudley White, American Cardiologist, has to say (translated from the French): "Regular exercise is essential in safeguarding health and vitality, and is as important as good nourishment and sleep, and more important than most remedies. Any normal person of an age can undertake physical re-education, providing he does it slowly and progressively."

The ADAMS-TRAINER is the latest and most remarkable invention only recently presented to the world, as a result of long scientific French research and investigation. It was designed in accordance with the standards set by eminent doctors and well known authorities in physical culture.

APPLICATIONS OF THE APPARATUS IN MECHANOTHERAPY.

The ADAMS-TRAINER has proved to be of enormous help in numerous applications of mechanotherapy. For instance, in the arthromuscular functional recuperation after traumas and in the resulting effects of polio, polio-neuritis, etc. Also in the treatment of hip joint disease arthritis of the hips, of the knees, ankles, etc., and in other cases where pedalling is obviously recommended, specially for persons whose age or physical system does not allow them to use a bicycle. Re-education of the arms and shoulders.

Adaptable to all heights and physiques. Instantly pliable. No bothersome attachments. Two machines in one.

High Times

By SANDRA PICKFORD

I received a letter for the very first time from the Lake Megantic Intermediate School this week. Written by Bruce Morrison, who will be correspondent for High Times, the letter is filled with news on Education Week.

Education week at the Lake Megantic school started last Tuesday, thanks to the Central School Board for not having school on Monday. Last Tuesday parents visited the school and in the evening there was a film shown for the public. A silver collection was taken up to aid the Home and School Association and Students' Council, says Bruce. Wednesday saw Wilfred Fortin speak to students on education and on the insurance business.

VISIT PULP COMPANY — The students of Lake Megantic visited the Lake Megantic Pulp Company March 8 as part of Education Week activities at the school. The following day the senior grades visited the local radio and TV stations as well as a local newspaper.

CAMPAIGNS TO RAISE FUNDS — Eleanor Duffy, St. Francis High School correspondent to High Times from Richmond, says candy sales, auction and penny races have filled this past week's noon hours at this busy school in order to raise money for their adoption plan. The students have gone all out to earn money to adopt a child from India, Pakistan or Ceylon. A worthy project, don't you think?

RED CROSS DANCE — The Junior Red Cross committee at St. Francis High School in Richmond will sponsor a dance March 24, in the school gymnasium. Pupils from other R.D.A. schools have been invited to join the Richmond students. Dick Gale will be the master of ceremonies.

MINSTREL SHOW — The Glee Club of the St. Francis High School will hold a Minstrel Show at the high school in Richmond April 13, says Eleanor Duffy.

ST. PATRICK DANCE TONIGHT — The Tri-Y and Y-Teens, clubs associated with the Sherbrooke High School are holding a St. Patrick Day dance tonight at the Y.W.C.A. on Montreal Street. Membership cards are required. There are still some membership cards still available and they may be purchased at the door.

PUBLIC SPEAKING WINNER — Sandra Schacter, a grade eleven student at Sherbrooke High School, won the annual public-speaking contest sponsored by the Sherbrooke branch of the Business and Professional Women's Club. Sandra won a cash prize and the public-speaking shield with her name engraved on it. The shield will stay at the school until next year's competition.

HOCKEY DANCE — The hockey dance held March 10 at St. Francis high school was highly successful says Eleanor Duffy. The dance was in honor of the senior hockey team. The hall, decorated with streamers and balloons had a large banner across the stage to announce the hockey teams provincial victory. Eleanor says many thanks go to those who helped surprise the team by doing so much in the decorating of the hall.

SECOND TERM EXAMS — Now that Education Week activities are nearly over school extra curricular activities have slowed down considerably. But at Sherbrooke High School things are just as hectic as ever. Maureen Westgate, S.H.S. correspondent to High Times says the students are in the middle of second term exams. That means second term report cards are just around the corner too! Students from grades one to nine at St. Francis received their report cards yesterday.

BURY STUDENTS VISIT OTTAWA — A group of grade 10 and 11 students at Pope Memorial High School in Bury spent several days last week in Ottawa. It was the annual trip to the capital. After watching the House of Commons in session they listened to an address by the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Lester Pearson.

They also visited the city hall, the Art Gallery, the R.C.M.P. Barracks, the War Museum, Rideau Hall, Chateau Laurier, Laurier House and the airport. While at Ottawa they stayed at the Lord Elgin Hotel.

NO BRIDGE APPROACH PLANNED — When town planner J. C. LaHaye drew up his master plan for the city of Sherbrooke in February 1959, he made no provision for a bridge at the end of Montreal Street, as this panel, taken from the master plan, shows. Elsewhere in the plan, a bridge is shown across the St. Francis river between Montreal and Terrill Streets, but no approaches are planned for either side. This design for the Dufferin-Montreal-Moore-Prospect-Cresse area is essentially the way things are today, with the exception of a number of traffic islands shown on the plan, and the separation of Moore Street from the Prospect-Moore-Dufferin intersection. This plan is at complete variance with the city's plan for a traffic circle around Mitchell Park and another traffic circle complex between Dufferin Street and the river.

Sentence deferred in vandalism case

Passing of sentence was deferred to April 16 against Lester Roy, of North Hatley, after he pleaded guilty in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Friday morning.

Roy admitted causing more than $200 in damages to a car during the night of February 24 to 25, at North Hatley. Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel asked the court to remand passing of sentence for one month, since the accused was willing to furnish the names of five other individuals who participated in the vandalism. Other charges will be laid. Judge Redmond Hayes said he had no objection to remanding passing of sentence for one month.

Jean-Paul Tanguay, of Green lay, was fined a total of $10 and costs in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Friday morning by Judge Redmond Hayes after he pleaded guilty to driving his car without a driving permit and driving a non-registered car. The offences were committed last January in Green lay.

Record's annual maple syrup season photo contest

Here are the do's and don'ts for prize photos

It's contest time again. As before, the subject is Quebec's maple sugar industry. And if the interest shown last year is any indication, this year's enthusiasm should be equal or better. We realize that most people are limited to days off or weekends to work on the project and the weather can be a problem. However, during the maple season, one or more pictures can be taken and may just be the winning entry!

For good sugar bush pictures the sun is not absolutely necessary, but it would certainly help you to improve the look of the scene. As for the human interest side, I find that if the sun is not too strong, or not at all, you have less contrast and no squinting.

This is proof enough that the Quebec maple is an unusual tree and it gives a good indication why the industry, although lasting a short time every year, is extremely important as a booster to the economy of the farmer who wishes to exploit it.

The type of picture the judges will favour are the lines that show the sugar bush or allied operations in the most original manner.

Secondly, pictures with people or children, if handled right, will definitely catch the judges' eye. I might mention that the names of those clearly visible in the picture should be included with your entry. It will be courtesy to the person or child if their name is mentioned under the picture.

This year's entries can be black and white prints or colored slides as well as Kodachrome prints. But please note in the case of Kodachrome, the color negative should be included with your entry since it will make a much better reproduction than copying the picture.

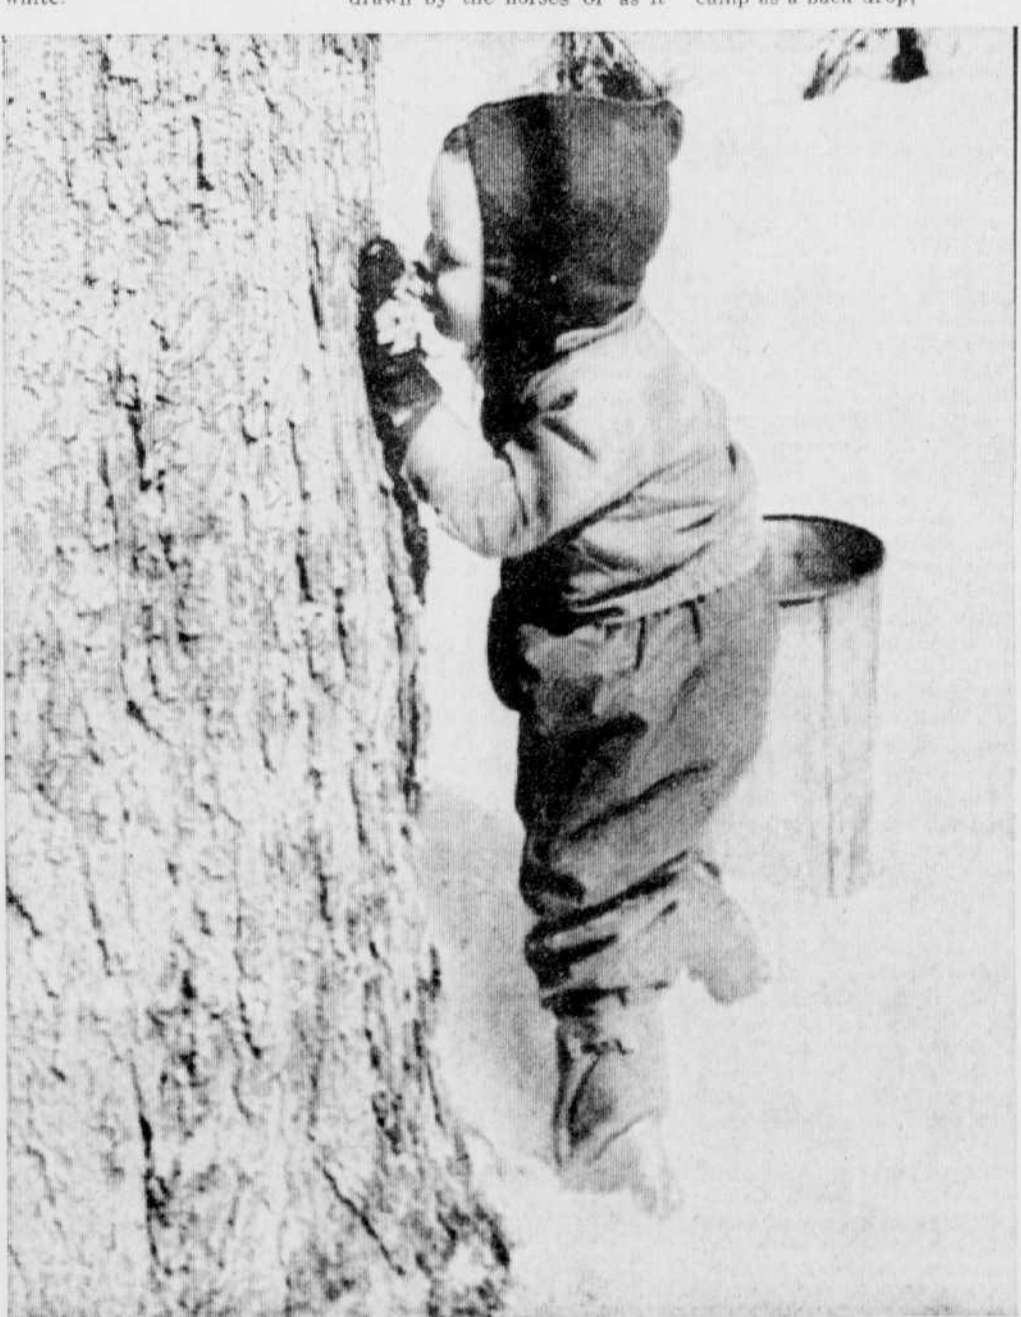

In the case of transparencies, we have no difficulty in reproducing in black and white.

Here are a few do's and don'ts for you to check:

- do take scenes of sugar camps, maple trees and pay attention to good composition;
- do take pictures of children doing something pertaining to the maple industry, such as sugar on snow or collecting the sap, etc.;
- do show bulk sap being drawn by the horses or as it is unloaded at the camp;
- do try to use sugar bushes that have the old system, not the plastic pipe;
- don't have people staring at the camera unless it is for a very good reason;
- don't have more than three people in the picture;
- don't take pictures of people standing in line like a firing squad, with the sugar camp as a back drop;

With these few suggestions, I hope will give some thought to our contest. The entries will be judged on their originality and not necessarily on print quality.

Deadline for entries is April 7. The winning entry will be announced in this column the following week. When the time presents itself go after those pictures and I am sure you enjoy yourself. Besides you might earn $10 for your efforts.

In private bill

Council to seek ETAA tax clause

Mayor Armand Nadeau said the city plans to insert a clause in the private bill to legislature asking for a tax exemption on property of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association. The ETAA was exempted from paying municipal taxes for a five year period which ended January 1, 1962. The mayor gave no details about the period during which the new exemption would be in force.

"We plan to insert an exemption request in the bill because we do not want to be hard on the ETAA and we would like to do everything we can so they may continue on their own," Mayor Nadeau said. The mayor said "a large majority of shareholders of the ETAA are in favor of the city buying the ETAA and most of those who are against it have bought big shares only to make a profit."

"These shareholders bought the shares for more than agricultural and industrial purposes you can be sure," Mayor Nadeau said. "The mayor said there would be no indoor place for sports events."

During his press conference, the mayor stated the city has not received word from Trans-Canada Airlines regarding a survey of air service for the City officials met with TCA authorities three weeks ago. "We were promised that the survey would be completed within forty days" Mayor Nadeau said.

The mayor said there would be someone to represent the city when the city's application comes before the Board of Transport.

"We don't know when it will come before the board but we were advised that we'd be told in time so we could have someone there," the Mayor said.

Licenses are issued for skidoos

The Sherbrooke detachment of the Quebec Provincial Police received word from Quebec that both snowmobiles and skidoos must be licensed and the operator must show his driver's licence upon demand.

Sgt. Ralph Allen, head of the detachment said that the licence is a special one. It must carry the letters SN, (snowmobile) and that the cost is $4 per year.

The order also showed that police departments are not to allow snowmobiles or skidoos on highways that are open to regular traffic.

"This would limit them to fields and to highways that are closed during the wintertime," the sergeant said.

City should move new bridge location

It is clear from the strong opposition emerging in the lower North Ward area to the proposed Montreal-Terrill Street bridge across the St. Francis River that few in the area concerned agree with the city's contention that the bridge would take traffic away from the centre of the city.

Some of those opposed to the project argue — and quite logically — that the site under consideration is really a portion of the centre of the city now, and a new bridge would only draw more and probably heavier traffic to the area, thus worsening an already serious traffic problem.

City council should heed some of the other arguments advanced, too.

The area that the city would enclose in a complex of outmoded traffic circles is, in many ways, of historic significance.

St. Peter's Church and Plymouth Church are two of the most cherished landmarks in the city. The increased traffic that would result if a bridge were constructed at the foot of Montreal Street would not only disrupt the work of the churches; it could also cause serious deterioration of the two buildings to set in. And, as the rector of St. Peter's Church pointed out, it cannot be supposed that the city council in a few years' time will make good the damage to sagging foundations and cracked walls that heavy traffic is sure to cause.

It has been suggested in some city hall quarters that a bridge should be built from Montreal to Terrill Streets because it is provided for in a master plan drawn up for the city by professional town planner J. C. LaHaye in 1959.

But there is room for doubt as to whether Mr. LaHaye really believed a bridge should be built at that site.

In a detailed plan, showing a design for traffic circulation in the Mitchell Park area, Montreal Street ends at Dufferin Street. There is no provision made in this section of the master plan for any kind of a bridge approach, not even a small road.

In some other general plans for city development — but not all of them — a bridge is shown at the point in question, but nowhere in the master plan are approaches shown for either side of the bridge.

Other new bridges planned, however, are complete with approaches. Could it be that the Montreal-Terrill Street bridge was put in purely as an afterthought?

Nearly all those opposed to the project agree that a bridge from the North Ward to the East Ward is needed, but not at Montreal Street. Why, they ask, should not a bridge be built further north, perhaps in the Prospect-Queen area.

Why not indeed? The LaHaye plan provides for such a bridge, complete with approaches on both sides of the river. The river is narrow at that point; no complicated and expensive traffic circles would be needed; there would be no disruption of existing institutions, and by the bridge's very location, it would admirably fill the purpose of routing traffic away from the centre of the city.

The handwriting on the wall may be an indication that the house is rented.

The decision of the provincial government, as announced by Highways Minister Bernard Pinard, to remove the South Stukely underpass bottleneck on Highway No. 1 is welcome news for motorists from the Eastern Townships who travel to Montreal.

They will hope sincerely that Mr. Pinard can make good on his promise to have the obstruction removed during the coming summer.

Not only does the narrow, low underpass delay the progress of pleasure and commercial vehicles at the time of heavy traffic but it has been the cause of several serious accidents, some of which had fatal results.

Apparently the highways department plans to go further than eliminate the death trap itself and relocate the entire road in this section, removing the two sharp curves that form the approaches to the underpass, a move that will be welcomed by all motorists.

This particular section of Highway No. 1 for years has been a source of much criticism on the part of the public, who have often wondered why no attention has been paid to their complaints before this.

Union's request for another debate on the Congo.

These instances of moderation do not mean that the opposers and abstainers felt less strongly than the Soviet Government about Angola, the Congo, or Ruanda-Urundi. They do suggest, however, that more of the "newer members" than Lord Home supposed are on the watch for any attempt to use their votes as weapons in the cold war.

to overlook their rebuffs to the Soviet Union and remember only, for instance, their demand for an inquiry in Southern Rhodesia is to judge by that wearisome double standard for which they themselves are often blamed.

off heard assertion. "Today's youngsters don't know what they're missing."

We heard of a group a few days ago which endeavored to have an old fashioned sleigh ride. It was able to procure the sleds, but for motive power it was necessary to rely on a tractor. That is a telling commentary on changes in our rural scene, and, try as we will, we cannot picture the substitution as a suitable one.

Adventures with God

Food for the hungry of the world can be provided by self-denial

By JANE SCOTT

Preoccupation with outer space has become a passion with the scientists, a burden on the taxpayers and a propaganda weapon for agitators who capitalize on the sufferings of starving millions whose inner spaces could be nourished and satisfied if the money spent on Sputniks were used to produce and distribute food.

But many of the agitators are careful not to condemn Russia for her part in the dilemma. Only the free nations are censured for their extravagance and lack of consideration for the underprivileged of the world.

Russia is lauded for her technical advances but never condemned for wasting her resources on space ships while farm production lags.

But if preoccupation with outer space is a passion with the scientist and Soviets and a burden to the taxpayers and a propaganda weapon for the agitators, what may be said of the preoccupation of millions in this country with inner space?

The billions spent on unnecessary eating and drinking have reached astronomical figures. Ontario's liquor revenue for 1960-61 reached the $80 million mark. Luxury items of food have become big business for the gourmets.

NUMBER ONE ENEMY
Inner space bids fair to out-popularize the outer space program and to undermine not only the economy of the country but the morals of a people who grew strong and prosperous while they practised self-control, prudence and Christian charity.

Eating and drinking have become the No. 1 enemy of modern society as it was in the days of Noah before the flood. They were eating and drinking not to appease hunger but because they were self-indulgent, disobedient men and women who had become gluttonous winebibbers as they drifted away from the moral standards of their day.

It is not surprising that some who never have known a better way have succumbed to the temptation of over-eating and overdrinking while millions of their fellow creatures starve.

But we are concerned that many Christian people who have known a better way should become slaves to intemperance and gluttony.

Unfortunately the saints of the Lord have become too food conscious and extravagant in their fellowship dinners to the detriment of their witness impact and influence upon a critical world.

Peace, temperance and the starving millions are the three basic problems of this century. They pose a challenge.

Neither is it without hope, for the Spirit of God is striving with many people today, urging them to rededicate themselves to their Master and Lord, to be made living sacrifices, holy and acceptable unto God, which is our reasonable service.

long particularly to the Christian community, a challenge which must be met by accepting personal responsibility and practising self-discipline and self-sacrifice.

It may be comforting for the people in the pews to know that there will be no pain or hunger in the next life but it does not relieve us of the responsibility to do something constructive regarding hunger in this life.

One of the things we can do, and ought to, do, is to cut down on unnecessary eating and drinking and channel the excess food to those who need it to keep soul and body alive.

The annual observance of Lent presents an opportunity to discuss with readers some of the observations and convictions which have developed through the years as we have associated with Christians of every persuasion.

SOME OF OUR ACQUAINTANCES ask: What are you going to give up for Lent? To which we reply, the same things we give up all the year around for Christ's sake and the good of our brothers.

We were reared in a Communion where Lent was not observed but where Christian discipline, self-denial and personal responsibility were taught and practised.

There was a clear line drawn between right and wrong, between God and mammon. Creed and conduct, belief and behavior were stressed, if not always practised. We regret the disparity between creeds and conduct so evident in this age. This Christian community is not without fault and certainly not without blame for existing conditions.

Neither is it without hope, for the Spirit of God is striving with many people today, urging them to rededicate themselves to their Master and Lord, to be made living sacrifices, holy and acceptable unto God, which is our reasonable service.

Quebec, Ontario producers face problem

Cheese producers behind demand

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Arnold said, "and we are proud of that because cheese is, after all, a perishable item."

Cheddar cheese sells in Ontario at between 49 cents and 90 cents, depending on the packaging of the product.

In England, where packaging appeal for the benefit of the consumer is coming into its own, cheddar ranges from about 60 to 90 cents, or 15 to 20 cents higher than other cheese brands.

"The Englishman likes cheddar cheese made from raw milk because it has a distinctive flavor," said Mr. Arnold. "He knows his cheese and he is willing to pay a little more for raw milk cheddar."

A number of countries, including New Zealand and Australia, are also making cheddar—but with pasteurized milk, which makes the difference in distinctive taste and maturing. Cheeses made from pasteurized milk remain at one stage of maturity.

Cheese buyers in New York State last year offered a cheese-making company an additional 16 cents a pound for cheese made from raw milk, rather than pasteurized milk, said Mr. Arnold.

"That just points out the demand for the raw milk cheese. It is very difficult to make raw milk cheese in some of the warm climates, and Canada can corner the world market in cheddar cheese if dairymen keep on turning it out."

Use of raw milk for cheddar will continue, he said. "It is easier and a little cheaper to make with pasteurized milk, but the difference in selling price between the two kinds will convince many dairy farmers to stay with their present method of using raw milk—which gives cheddar that unique and distinctive flavor."

Arnold said, "and we are proud of that because cheese is, after all, a perishable item."

reached heights of fury in Algeria itself.

On Thursday, the North African territory was chilled by the cold-blooded execution of six welfare workers and the machine-gunning of Moslems in a bus lineup.

A total of 41 persons were killed and 45 wounded in what was thought to be Algeria's worst day of terrorism.

But French sources said a number of knotty problems had been settled at the ceasefire talks at Evian, France, which hit heavy going this week.

CANADIANS ACCUSED

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced in the House of Commons Monday that nine Canadians, including seven military men and two civilians, have been caught smuggling opium and gold in Indochina, where they were serving with international truce commissions.

The prime minister didn't name them and said investigation into the affair is continuing. He added there had been "similar difficulties" in 1956 when a Liberal government was in office.

PLANE VANISHES

A four-engine Super-Constellation of California-based Flying Tiger Airlines, carrying 107 persons, mostly U.S. military personnel, vanished Thursday between Guam and the Philippines. An air and sea armada sought the charter plane.

LIBERALS GAIN

Prime Minister Macmillan said his Conservatives were shocked when Britain's tiny Liberal party won a byelection in Orpington, near London, Wednesday, after signs of new strength in other byelections. But Macmillan said it was merely the loss of a battle, "not the campaign," and advised his followers to keep cool.

Briefs... Astronaut Donald Slayton, scheduled to attempt the second U.S. manned orbital flight, was disqualified because of a heart condition.

Seven infants died in a Binghamton, N.Y., hospital and authorities said preliminary study showed the cause apparently was salt in their formula... A capsule revolt in Vancouver failed aboard the British freighter Bannerville when 18 crew members — mostly Spaniards — staged a hunger strike against the food offerings of British chef Guthbert Griffiths. The captain and officers of the Bannerville threatened to quit the ship unless the men were fired. And so they were, on Thursday.

The Week in Quebec
The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (Ind) was reported Friday to have called a strike for April 2 against the CNR.

The union's 4,500 members had authorized a strike against both the CNR and CPR, if necessary to back contract demands, but the union and CPR were reported to be close to agreement on a new contract.

The union and the CNR are in dispute about the so-called arbitrary allowances, payments instituted in the days of steam locomotives for time spent in preparing or terminating a run. The CNR wants to reduce the allowances in line with the majority report of a recent federal conciliation board, the union wants them retained in full.

The Montreal Catholic School Commission was criticized Thursday for giving slow and inadequate attention to the needs of English-speaking pupils.

The criticisms were made before the Quebec royal commission on education in briefs from the Parent-Teacher Association of Marymount high school and the Montreal Regional Council of Parent-Teachers Associations. The Marymount brief asked that in an autonomous English-speaking division be set up within the school commission.

The Danish freighter Helga Dan docked in Montreal Monday, the earliest arrival on record by a ship from overseas. There were no other deep-sea arrivals in the port during the week, however.

HATLEY —

The Guild of St. James Church held a business meeting in the rectory following the Lenten service. Plans were made to have a dinner in the Guild Hall and work was given out to be made up for the sales table. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Ward.

More new activity is found these days in the recent formation of a student Radio Club at the University.

President Bill Guest outlined the club's main objectives for next year: To establish a studio and recording facilities on campus, and to expand broadcasting time on Sherbrooke's CKTS from the present half hour to one hour.

Radio Club founders hope that Bishop's will eventually be able to operate its own radio station, following the example of McGill.

Dr. D. C. Masters, Canadian historian and head of Bishop's department of history, spoke on Liberal policies Thursday at a meeting of the newly-formed Liberal Club on campus.

The club is the first political organization at Bishop's in years. Progressive Conservative sympathizers also plan to form a club in the near future.

With any luck, Bishop's might be able next year to hold a model Parliament, as do many other Canadian universities.

Around the campus

at Bishop's

By NORMAN WEBSTER

A brief flutter of activity marked the visit a week ago Thursday of Perry Moss, coach of the Montreal Alouettes. Mr. Moss and Leo Cahill of the Alouettes toured the University grounds and facilities with a view to possible selection of Bishop's as the site for their summer football training camp.

Last year the Als held their pre-season camp at Plattsburgh, south of the border.

While Coach Moss commented favorably on what the University had to offer, he was reportedly not so pleased with the price. No official announcement has yet been made, but Montreal scouts have it that the Alouettes will return to Plattsburgh again this summer.

If the Montreal club was to come to Bishop's, the players would use the football field and the excellent locker room facilities in the new W. B. Scott Rink.

The athletes would be housed in Mackinnon Hall, the University women's residence. Quote of the week, from Mrs. Kay Baker, Dean of Women: "Will they arrive before the girls leave?"

Plans for an out-of-residence committee were announced recently by Students' Executive Council (SEC) President Dave Williams.

An eight-member committee, elected annually, is proposed to give non-residents a greater voice in student government. The committee will comprise a male and female member for each year.

More than one-third of Bishop's total enrolment of 474 presently lives off the campus. Up until now they have had no representatives.

Spring is in the air again, and the annual big changeover is well underway. Each of the multitude of clubs and societies on campus is throwing out the old executive and bringing in a hopeful new one.

Among the more important new faces are those of the Chairman of the National Federation of Canadian University Students (NFCUS) committee and the new Editor-in-Chief of THE CAMPUS, Bishop's weekly student newspaper.

New NFCUS Chairman is Dave Smith, a second year Arts student. He sat on the SEC last year as representative for second year, but failed to be re-elected recently in a bid for the vice-presidency.

Mr. Smith's appointment was making this Thursday after Jean Lafferty, chosen NFCUS Chairman last week, declined the post. She has decided to attend McGill next year.

Jeff Garlick, in third year Arts, will handle the University newspaper next year. He will take over in two weeks' time. Mr. Garlick is presently CAMPUS Managing Editor and has covered Bishop's athletic events for the Sherbrooke Record since last fall.

Mr. Garlick was also chosen one of two Bishop's delegates to the NFCUS national seminar, scheduled for Carleton University in Ottawa next September. Gordon Mason, SEC vice-president, will be the other delegate.

The week-long seminar, an annual affair, brings together students from universities across Canada to discuss and hear speakers on a given subject. Theme this year: "The university in Canadian life."

Taking a leaf from the Saturday Evening Post's book, THE CAMPUS this week came out new, new, new. Gone is the old, small, four-column rag; replacing it is a slick five-column job that is both wider and longer.

Reason for the change was to bring THE CAMPUS into the class of other university newspapers across the country, all of whom were formerly larger in page size than the Bishop's paper.

The larger-size sheet will facilitate more imaginative layouts and use of pictures, particularly on advertisement-filled inside pages.

The Divinity faculty marked the opening week of Lent with a three-day retreat, held on campus.

All Divines spent the period in contemplation and prayer, and attended services and addresses in the chapel. A rule of silence was observed throughout the retreat by those participating.

Other news is the welcome decision this week by the powers-that-be to allow dances at Bishop's during Lent. The decision was made at the request of the SEC, which now plans to follow the annual Awards Banquet, tentatively scheduled for April 14, with a dance.

In former years, plays, movies, sports events and other amusements were considered allowable — but dances were inexplicably declared off limits. No longer. "A refreshing step forward," noted a CAMPUS editorial.

More new activity is found these days in the recent formation of a student Radio Club at the University.

President Bill Guest outlined the club's main objectives for next year: To establish a studio and recording facilities on campus, and to expand broadcasting time on Sherbrooke's CKTS from the present half hour to one hour.

G. McClintock

Funeral held on March 14

George McClintock, one of Lennoxville's most prominent citizens, died suddenly on March 12th. He was in his 73rd year.

Mr. McClintock was born in Cookshire on January 27, 1890. He attended both elementary and high school at the Cookshire High School.

Upon leaving school he went to work for McMurray and Hall grocers in Lennoxville and moved there permanently shortly after. After working for the C. C. Chaddock grocery store and the MacKinnon Steel Company, Mr. McClintock opened his own grocery store in the town which he operated for two years.

One of fourteen children he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McClintock of Sherbrooke.

On June 28, 1916 he was married to the former Hazel Louise Burnett of Sherbrooke who predeceased him several years ago.

He was a member of the Lennoxville Curling Club and also a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

In his later years, he worked for the National Breweries (Sherbrooke) and during the summer worked at the Dufferin Heights Country Club.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Paul Royer (Doreen), of Sherbrooke; two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Robillard (Lottie) of St. Jerome, and Mrs. William Viven (Lena) of Barrie, Ont. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Bobby and Suzanne.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the St. John's Anglican Church, Lennoxville. Burial will be in the St. John's Anglican Cemetery.

Several Scouts of the Seventh Sherbrooke Troop were presented with proficiency badges at their last meeting. Troop Leader, Dave Hutchison was presented with his Artist and Pathfinder's badges; David Edmond was awarded his Pathfinder's badge; and Warren Sanderson was presented with his Debater's, Swimmer's and Chemist's badges.

When the Seventh Sherbrooke Troop is not on a hike or ramble, the Hall is open every Saturday afternoon for the Scouts of their group who are interested in receiving additional instruction or to pass tests. This provides an excellent opportunity for the Scouts to advance more rapidly, as the hour a week at a regular meeting rigidly limits the progress that can be made. The leaders of this Troop deserve credit for the time they give up for this purpose.

A number of tests were passed last week in the 5th Sherbrooke Pack. Tony Davidson, Ward Westgate and David Rivard passed Highway Safety, one of the requirements for their First Star. Marc Allanson and David Rivard also passed the First Star test on the Union Jack and its components.

Scouting and Cubbing

Fifth Sherbrooke Pack appointed two new sixers last week to fill vacant positions. Guy Leclair and Stu Schofield promised Akela that they would help the Old Wolves of the Pack as much as possible, and give their best lead they can. They were then presented with their second stripe, identifying them as sixers.

First Sherbrooke Troop saw the presentation of several badges at their last meeting. Scouts Atto and David Turgeon were presented with their Pathfinder's badge, which puts them one step closer to their Queen Scout Badges. Possession of the Pathfinder's badge is one of the requirements of a Queen Scout. David Turgeon was also awarded his Chemist and Winter Sportsman badges.

First Sherbrooke took advantage of the fine weather of March 10 to spend the day at their campsite building a number of projects on the site.

Several Scouts of the Seventh Sherbrooke Troop were presented with proficiency badges at their last meeting. Troop Leader, Dave Hutchison was presented with his Artist and Pathfinder's badges; David Edmond was awarded his Pathfinder's badge; and Warren Sanderson was presented with his Debater's, Swimmer's and Chemist's badges.

When the Seventh Sherbrooke Troop is not on a hike or ramble, the Hall is open every Saturday afternoon for the Scouts of their group who are interested in receiving additional instruction or to pass tests. This provides an excellent opportunity for the Scouts to advance more rapidly, as the hour a week at a regular meeting rigidly limits the progress that can be made. The leaders of this Troop deserve credit for the time they give up for this purpose.

A number of tests were passed last week in the 5th Sherbrooke Pack. Tony Davidson, Ward Westgate and David Rivard passed Highway Safety, one of the requirements for their First Star. Marc Allanson and David Rivard also passed the First Star test on the Union Jack and its components.

The cast, all members of the College Dramatic Club included aside from those who played Hamlet and Horatio were Blair Atkinson, as the Ghost; Michael Malabar, King Claudius; H. How to gain dominion over lack and limitation will be indicated in the Lesson Sermon on the subject "Substance" which is to be read this Sunday at the services in the Christian Science churches. Biblical assurances of unlimited abundance will include this verse from Psalms: "For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly." Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter."

Shamrock Luncheon

Annual event held amid Irish setting

SHAMROCK LUNCHEON — Shown from left to right are: Mrs. M. W. Williams, wife of the minister of Plymouth church, Mrs. G. Spafford, Speaker and Entertainment Committee, Mrs. E. Westerman, Membership Committee, and Mrs. Hawley Griffith, president of the United Church Women, photographed at the noon hour when the members of the United Church Women sponsored their annual Shamrock Luncheon, in the Plymouth church hall on Thursday, March 15. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

"Top o' the morning to you".

So said the traffic cop as he greeted the hungry noon hour guests as they approached the entrance to the Plymouth church hall, Thursday.

Of course the cop was merely a metal school stop sign, attractively decorated in the St. Patrick Day theme.

The event was the Shamrock Luncheon, sponsored by the United Church Women of Plymouth church, convened by Mrs. G. LeBaron, assisted by Mrs. P. Rawlings and Mrs. E. Kimmis.

Upon entering the hall which was a mass of shamrocks, black top-hats, clay pipes, and the traditional harp, the guests were amazed to find the hall filled to capacity and at times waiting in turn for a seat, which proved that the event was a success.

The ticket convener was Mrs. R. Collinson and the cashier was Mrs. G. Dougal, assisted by Mrs. E. Kennet.

The stage was appropriately decorated in an Irish theme, with the background displaying a large black top-hat and green shamrocks, in front of which was the tea table, which was arranged with a white linen cloth, embroidered with shamrocks.

The centre-piece was a very attractive green crystal vase of white chrysanthemums, flanked by green candles in silver holders, and two harps and an Irish doll. Pouring tea were: Mrs. M. W. Williams, Mrs. H. Griffith, Mrs. J. E. Smith and Mrs. H. Clark. The tea replenishers were: Mrs. C. Skinner and Mrs. S. Lethrop.

The long luncheon tables were decorated with small centrepieces depicting the St. Patrick Day theme, and here the guests enjoyed a delectable luncheon consisting of pea soup, cold ham and tongue, baked potatoes, individual jellied salads, cole slaw, pickles and rolls, with apple pie and cheese for dessert.

The waitresses under the supervision of Mrs. R. K. Beers, looked very charming in befitting Irish aprons and headband to match. . . Really something different and becoming. They were: Mrs. P. Rawlings, Mrs. H. Rawlings, Mrs. H. Theriault, Mrs. W. Hammond, Mrs. G. Armstrong, Mrs. D. Whitley, Mrs. E. Kimmis, Mrs. P. Gray, Mrs. S. Carter, Mrs. D. Arnott, Mrs. E. Westerman, Mrs. G. Lindsay, Mrs. L. Gillam, Mrs. P. Dunbar, Mrs. N. Hunter, Mrs. D. Johnston, Mrs. G. Spafford and Mrs. D. Martin.

The arduous task of kitchen duties was under the direction of Mrs. S. Cross, assisted by Mrs. N. Dinning, Mrs. H. Johnston, Mrs. R. Gosselin and Mrs. A. Swan.

Preparing the salads were Mrs. B. Allatt, Mrs. D. McPherson and Mrs. M. W. Williams.

The pickles and rolls were prepared by Miss L. V. Seymour and Miss K. Fales and the pies by Mrs. E. Lavalley and Miss E. Hall.

The meat platters were arranged by Mrs. F. S. Rugg and serving the soup was Mrs. D. Cullen and Mrs. D. McLean.

The decorating committee consisted of Miss R. Whiting, Mrs. P. Gray, Miss E. McIntyre, Mrs. H. Rawlings and Miss Joan Beers, under the careful supervision of Miss V. Brownlow.

In charge of publicity was Mrs. G. M. Armstrong.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL COUNCIL

The March meeting of Our Lady of Good Counsel Council of the Catholic Women's League was held in the Canon Fissette Memorial Library on Wednesday, March 7.

The president, Mrs. P. McKenna opened the meeting with prayer, followed by prayer for the Holy Father and prayers for ill and deceased members.

Following the minutes of the February meeting the president welcomed Rev. Father J. Clark who had an important message, the need for aid to the Brazilian Missions, Brazil.

He asked that every organization in the Diocese of Sherbrooke give what ever aid they possibly can to this worthy appeal. This mission covers a very great area and the workers are few and many more are needed.

Hospital visits for the month of February numbered 103.

Mrs. P. McKenna stressed the point that all conveners have their reports completed by the Annual meeting on Wednesday, April 4.

Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, 1st. Provincial vice-president explained that due to the advanced dates of the Diocesan, Provincial and National conventions this year it had been decided and with the approval of the Director, Rev. R. Moisan that elections on this level would be waived and that the present slate would serve for 1962-63.

The following events were brought to the attention of the meeting. St. Patrick's Variety Show, and St. Patrick's Supper in St. Anthony's Church Hall, Lennoxville.

B & P.W. CLUB

Prior to the Public Speaking Contest which was held at the Y.W.C.A. on Monday evening the B. & P.W. club held their regular meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Neil Tracy and was opened with the Club Woman's Creed.

The name of Miss Nazla Dane of Toronto was proposed as Canadian Federation president for the forthcoming term. Notice was given of the Provincial Convention to be held in Quebec on April 27, 28 and 29, when it is expected our Club will be represented.

Miss Bessie Bryce, Mrs. Janet Mathias and Mrs. Hilda Morrison were appointed Nominations Committee and distributed balloting forms which are to be filled in and returned not later than April 30. The annual meeting is to be held at the Baptist Church in May.

Refreshments were served during the social hour under the convenship of Miss Luvia Farnsworth.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES GUILD
Mrs. G. Carleton president was in the Chair for the regular meeting of the St. Paul's Ladies' Guild which was held in the church hall recently. The meeting opened with prayer.

A visitor was welcomed, followed by the treasurer's report and a report of the card party held in February showing that this had been very successful. The president thanked the conveners and all who helped.

Mrs. M. Mandigo and Mrs. N. Wort reported that 48 Lenten boxes had been given out to date.

The kitchen conveners were chosen for the Spring tea. They are: Mrs. M. Morin, Mrs. A. Fearson, Mrs. D. Sangster and Mrs. H. Buckland.

Following the meeting the members attended the W. A. Pancake tea held in the church hall on the same afternoon.

The next meeting will be held in the church hall on Tuesday, March 20.

PHILATHEA UNIT

L.VILLE U.C.W.

Philathea Unit of the Lennoxville United Church Women heard an interesting article on the Community Supper read by Mrs. Lyman Rothney, convener of programs, in which she outlined, how to prepare a tasty supper. Mrs. Rothney was thanked by the president Mrs. Hugh L. Wallace.

The roll call was responded to by 16 members, due to the prevailing illnesses a great number were absent.

Donations were brought to this meeting for the children's section for the June bazaar and next month aprons, material or trimmings were solicited.

The report on the sugar social showed a decided success.

Next month's meeting will be Secret Pal Night and a good attendance is hoped for.

A sale of cards was held and the sum of $75 was voted to the United Church Women for the first quarter and a basket lunch and social time was enjoyed.

Social and personal notes

The Sherbrooke Hospital Alumni will be holding their regular meeting on Tuesday March 20, at the Norton Residence and the guest speaker will be Mr. H. Simons, of Sherbrooke.

Among the special invited guests for the "Hair Styles through the ages", a salad tea and fashion show to be held at the New Sherbrooke Hotel today, sponsored by Le Cercle Artistique de La Coiffure Canadienne, are: His Worship Mayor Armand Nadeau and Mrs. Nadeau, Maurice Allard, MP and Mrs. Allard, L. P. Brousseau, MPP and Mrs. Brousseau, Brig. J. Gautier and Mrs. Gautier, Lt.-Col. J. Savard and Mrs. Savard, Alderman C. Fortin and Mrs. Fortin and Miss Jacqueline Lussier, 125th Anniversary Queen.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. A. Tope of Waterville, Quebec, enjoyed a visit to Sarasota Jungle Gardens during their recent vacation on Florida's Lower West Coast. The visitors mingled with flamingos and other rare wildfowl from every continent roaming freely in these world-famous Gardens. Other points of interest in Jungle Gardens were hundreds of unusually colorful tropical plantings, huge Royal Palms bordering jungle trails, and brilliant macaws and cotoacots which pose with visitors for pictures.

The many friends of Mr. Russell Decoteau will be sorry to learn he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Today's recipe

CHOCOLATE CHIP QUEEN PUDDING

3 cups 1/2-inch cubes stale cake, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks and 2 eggs, 3 cups scalded milk, 1/2 teaspoon rum extract or 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup chocolate chips, 2 egg whites, Dash of salt, 4 tablespoons sugar.

Place cake cubes in greased 8-1/2-inch casserole. Add 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt to eggs and beat slightly; then add milk and flavoring. Pour over cake and mix well. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350°F) about 50 minutes.

Sprinkle chips over top, and garnish with puffs of meringue. To make meringue, beat egg whites with salt until foamy throughout. Then add 4 tablespoons sugar gradually, beating after each addition until sugar is blended; continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Return pudding to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Serve warm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

By GLADYS TAYLOR

Last week I attended the Canadian Centenary Council's second annual meeting, a two-day session held in Ottawa. I was there to represent the Canadian Authors Association. But as I looked around at the delegates from 172 corporations, service and government agencies, ethnic groups and representatives of agriculture, labour, industry, education, the arts, clergy and press (including people from all parts of Canada)—and realized that to the best of my knowledge I was the only person there from the Eastern Townships, I began to wonder if I should have been representing this community too.

Certainly I think an area as historically rich, as scenic (in terms of tourist-attraction) and as economically rich as the E.T. should have had at least one official representative at this planning session for Canada's 100th birthday.

Although 1967 is five years away—there is more urgency to this matter than many people realize. The urgency lies, if in nothing else, in financing. The federal government now has funds earmarked for centennial observances. Many national and international companies are also coming forward with grants of money to be used in centennial celebrations. But attached to most of these available monies is the proviso that they must be used for a lasting memorial of Canada's 100th anniversary—in other words they must take some permanent or concrete form. But since everyone realizes that erecting a building or preserving a site is not the work of weeks or months, it can be seen that 1962 is not too soon to start planning such endeavours.

During the two days of meetings, at which representatives were divided into nine different workshops and during which people from Vancouver, Winnipeg, New Brunswick and many other places mentioned projects, already afoot in their locale, it soon became evident that Canada's birthday will be celebrated in many different ways. There were some of the proposed projects: libraries, theatres, community art centres, "Pioneer Villages" (as a place in which to preserve historical exhibits and with facilities to attract tourists) Art Festi-

The Long Summer Of George Adams

No message, but light reading

THE LONG SUMMER OF GEORGE ADAMS by Weldon Hill. . . Mussons Canada $5.95. This is good light reading.

The author does not try to provide us with a "message", or to delve into psychology. All he offers is a story as entertainment. It is a story that is very timely, involving a forty-year old man who finds himself and the only job he knows becoming obsolete as the result of technical progress.

George is the engine watchman for the railroad which passes through a small Oklahoman village, a village which even the nearby highway has by-passed and which is rapidly losing any reason for existence.

His job is to service the two remaining steam locomotives on the line.

Perhaps the most significant monument to this life and occupation is a lofty concrete coal hopper in the railway yard. Built several years ago, it never has been and never will be used. All the virtues and vices of small town life are here. During the long summer that George supposes will be his last of gainful employment, he sees the worry and uncertainty leading his wife away from him, and his younger, happy-go-lucky son is affected mentally by a brutal accident.

He himself is touched by temptation and heroism and he finds out there is more than one way to skin a cat.

Not For Every Eye is not for every reader

NOT FOR EVERY EYE—translated from the French by Glen Shortliffe—Macmillan Co. of Canada Ltd., 98 pp.—$3.00—This short novel is reputed to have created quite a stir in literary circles in French-speaking Canada when first published in 1960. A satirical and essentially anti-clerical work, its popularity in present day, intellectually disturbed Quebec is understandable but its translation for English consumption is not.

It relates the story of lazy, cynical but intelligent Herve Jodoin and his unintentional embroilment in the affairs of a typical isolated small Canadian town. In what would appear to be a flavorless translation, the author completely captures the mood of such a community without the exaggeration present in the somewhat similarly directed work of his compatriot Robert Goulet, the incredible VIOLENT SEASON. This book is so brief that the curious reader will find it well worth the short time required to read it; but its appeal will not be general, and it must be admitted that NOT FOR EVERY EYE is not for every reader.

I. C. CAMPBELL

An unexpected yet welcome new work

The Bull From the Sea—Mary Renault—Longmans, Green & Co.—279 pages.—$4.00—For those who have read Mary Renault's "The King Must Die," this sequel under the title of "The Bull From the Sea" will come perhaps as an expected yet welcome new work. For such readers, this review is unnecessary judging from the critical acclaim of the former work. For those who did not read "The King Must Die," I cannot recommend too highly both it and the newly published, "The Bull From the Sea."

In this story, which should prove to be one of the best-sellers of the year, Miss Renault tells of Theseus, King of Athens, his return as a youth from the dangerous bullcourts in Crete, his ascension to the throne left vacant by the death of his father, and the heroic exploits of his life as King.

Throughout his reign, Theseus was bitterly torn between his veritable genius as leader and king and his shirking hunger for adventure. This inner conflict drove him to great lengths of conquest, love, triumph and defeat but due to his sincere understanding of his people's needs, he was beloved by most of his subjects. Although, through necessity, he found himself bethrothed to the legendary Phaedra of Crete, he encountered and captured, during one of his reckless escapades, Hippolyta, a young warrior priestess. He became entranced by her magical charms which led to a series of events that nearly destroyed two dynasties and finally quenched itself in death.

Miss Renault has chosen as her raw material many of the numerous Greek myths that have lived with and had their effect upon mankind throughout the ages. With a hand of exceptional skill, she has carefully arranged this wealth of material to suit her needs and has succeeded in molding a work of considerable account.

It is difficult to fix upon the reason for the greatness of this book. The author has managed, perhaps unconsciously, to weave into her work a strong thread of enchantment that comes close to drawing the reader into its spell. This is seemingly a result of her ability to convince the reader that her world is entirely as realistic as our own world about us.

To the expert it may seem that she has taken too many liberties in reconstructing this history but to any intelligent reader it is clear that Mary Renault is truly a great writer with a host of great works already to her credit and the promise of more to come.

DAVID LOBBELL

Reader, beware!

DAUGHTERS IN LAW, by Henry Cecil—206 pgs., Michael Joseph, London—$3.25—There is a chuckle, or at least a chuckle which is half a chuckle, on every page of DAUGHTERS IN LAW.

Anyone who has had dealings with the law and the red tape with which he can become almost inexorably entangled will have a hearty, laughing sympathy for poor Major Claude Buttonstrop who hates lawyers, judges, and lawcourts from generations back. He hates the legal profession in retrospect for his progenitors' sakes and in anticipation for his own and his sons' sakes.

And what do Digby and John, loving and dutiful sons though they be, do but fall in love with twin lawyer sisters, whose father is a judge and whose mother a former court reporter?

The result is immediately catastrophic for every one concerned, but neither the author nor his two heroes are nonplussed by a situation where Mohamet won't even let the mountain come to him—one way or another John and Digby intend to marry Jane and Prunella.

Let the reader beware: there is a denouement that may surprise him unless he is a particularly astute reader.

An entertaining, highly delightful novel.

Space given words peculiar to French

CASSELL'S NEW FRENCH DICTIONARY, (Canadian Edition), 655 pp.—CASSELL & CO., $6.75—With the new emphasis on bilingualism in Canada, CASSELL & COMPANY couldn't have chosen a better time to present their new dictionary. Fittingly, it is the desire of many Canadians to become proficient in their second language; in this dictionary, for the first time, space is given to the many words and expressions that are peculiar to the language of French Canada.

The Canadian words for this new dictionary have been compiled by Professor Gaston Dulong, Professor of French Philology at Laval University. Of course in addition to the specifically Canadian French words and phrases, the dictionary also contains all known variants of French words and usage outside Metropolitan France, wherever French is spoken. This is a handsome book and one which will be most useful to many people.

Coin Corner

An 1895 U.S. silver dollar with a nominal value today of $1.40 is pointed out by Winifred Mather, president of the Metropolitan Numismatic Club.

By MRS. W. MATHER, FRNS Several private coin collections, including a tray of U.S. silver dollars, owned by J. Lloyd Carney, of Toronto, were displayed at the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Numismatic Association.

Feature of Mr. Carney's collection was an 1895 U.S. silver dollar, issued by the Philadelphia mint in proof only, which has attracted offers of up to $1,000 from across the continent.

A dealers' bourse at the meeting was well attended.

MUSIC ON RECORDS

By HUGH DOHERTY

HISTORICAL RECORDINGS are usually put out by the major record companies as plush, premium packages, handsomely bound and accompanied by especially-written literature. But TELEFUNKEN records has a collector's series of historic reissues that is put out at the other end of the recording scale—the low price end. They are adequately packaged, carry sufficient background information on the record jacket to suit most tastes and are every bit as excellent an addition to a record collection as the higher priced lines. Among several new additions to this series are "The Voice of Joseph Schmidt" golden voiced Romanian tenor of the 1930's, (mono TH 97007); and a performance of Brahms's Symphony No. 2 by the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam conducted by the late Willem Mengelberg recorded in 1940 (mono 97005).

The Schmidt recording is a real prize. In it, the tenor sings arias from La Traviata, Rigoletto, Tosca, Masked Ball, Il Trovatore, La Juive, L'Elisir d'Amore, Die Zauberflöte. Schmidt possesses a glorious, soaring voice which shows to advantage in this recording, but he never became an opera star. He was only five feet tall, and so could not be put on the stage.

The Mengelberg recording, while it captures the incomparable magic of the conductor who is generally credited with establishing the Concertgebouw's fine reputation, is less of a success as far as fidelity goes than the Schmidt recording. But it is no worse than some other historical reissues.

RICHARD STRAUSS: THE Eugenspiegel; Don Juan; The Berlin Philharmonic cond. by Joseph Keilberth (Telefunken stereo TCS 18050)—These two symphonic poems, like most of works by Strauss, must be listened to repeatedly if one is to appreciate their structural beauty. THE Eugenspiegel can hardly be called a delightful piece although there is humor in it. It's the story of the legendary Flemish prankster who is eventually hanged for his tricks. The humor lies in the unexpected arrangement of musical phrases. For example, the braying trumpets are juxtaposed against sibilant violins. Mr. Keilberth's interpretation could be described as emphatic. He capitalizes on the sharp differences between the notes. In Don Juan, the conductor shows that he can lead the orchestra in a romantic composition as well. The lyricism of the work is ably translated.

MELBOURNE HIGHLAND PIPE BAND plays airs, marches and other selections; John MacKenzie, pipe major (DECCA stereo DL 74182)—It may seem strange to travel down to Australia to record Scottish bagpipe music, but not even the Scottish could find fault with this pipe band. With the true traditional skill and a handsome flourish of drums, the Aussie group negotiates a wide variety of pieces. And in stereo, the whole performance is a real adventure in listening.

AND THE RAIN MY DRINK, by Han Suyin—256 pgs., Penguin Books—85 cents.—Han Suyin, author of AND THE RAIN MY DRINK was born in Peking of a Dutch-Flemish mother and a Chinese father. Educated in China, Europe and England, she completed her medical studies at London University and now works as a doctor in Malaya. Among her splendid, epic works are A Many Splendoured Thing, set in Hong-Kong, Destination Chungking, about the war in China, and her latest book, The Mountain is Young, set in Nepal. The Malayan conflict is the theme of AND THE RAIN MY DRINK.

Mrs. Suyin writes in a truly classic style, with a broad, poetic sweep of the pen, yet with a meticulous attention to detail that adds to the authenticity of her novel.

Her characters—all fictitious save for the author "who insists on occasionally appearing in the chapters"—include British police officers, communists, a millionaire Chinese banker and his family and a Euro-Indian doctor as well as a host of others.

Perhaps more than any other's, AND THE RAIN MY DRINK is the story of Ah Mei, a captured terrorist turned informer. Coming into the chapter, the author says of Ah Mei: "... she had done what I would do, what any woman would do to save CANADIAN PLAYWRIGHT—Donald Lamont Jack, 37, has become the second author, than Shakespeare, to have his play performed at the Stratford (Ont.) Festival. His musical comedy, The Canvas Barricade, opened this week at the Festival theatre. A native of Manchester, Mr. Jack came to Canada in 1951 and wrote the play in 1959. Married, with one daughter, he lives at Oakville, Ont.

Collecting

Townships

British Honduras lies on the east coast of Central America and is bounded on the north by Mexico and on the west and south-west by Guatemala. The total area including its several islands and bays is 8,866 square miles. The main topographical features are a flat northern plain with rising ground and escarpments to the west, and a mountainous mass in the southern half of the country. For many centuries what is now British Honduras was populated by the ancient Maya Indians as is clearly shown by the many ruins of their towns and cities. Their civilization appears to have reached its zenith somewhere around the eighth century. Thereafter it declined and the people for some unknown reason migrated to Northern Yucatan. In 1502, during his fourth voyage, Columbus discovered the Bay of Honduras. The first people to use the country for any purpose were the pirates and buccaneers who frequented this part of the Caribbean. The Spaniards finally discovered that the logwood forests consisting of Campeche Wood were valuable for dye and Spain soon had complete control of this commodity in the European market where it sold for £100. It is thought that Peter Wallace Raleigh's right-hand man, founded a settlement here in 1603, but the real foundation of a colony came about in 1688 when a party of shipwrecked English sailors landed and settled. It is commonly thought that the name Belize is a corruption of Wallace, this being the Spanish pronunciation. The early history was stormy and Spain made aggressive attempts to retain her monopoly over the logwood trade. The treaties of Madrid in 1667 and 1670 recognized and accepted English control but Spain continued her efforts to keep the area. The colony prospered through the years and in 1862 it was declared a Colony under the Governor of Jamaica and in 1884 a separate Colony was established.

The new set of definitive stamps will be most picturesque, featuring as they do, tropical birds in full colour. For the information of those who will get stamps the following is a list of the birds to be shown on the new set from British Honduras: 1-cent, Great Curassow, 2-cents, Red Legged Honeycreeper, 3-cents, American Jacana, 4-cents, Great Kiskadee, 5-cents, Scarlet Rumped Tanager, 10-cents, Scarlet Macaw, 15-cents, Massena Trogon, 25-cents, and 50-cents, Keel Billed Toucan, $1, Magnificent Frigate Bird, $2, Rufous Tailed Jacamer and the $5, Montezuma Oropendola.

There will be a set of two stamps issued by the Republic of Ireland on March 26 to commemorate the centenary of the deaths of the Irish scholars, John O'Donovan and Eugene O'Curry. John O'Donovan and Eugene O'Curry are acknowledged as the greatest of Irish scholars who began in the last century the work of editing, translating and annotating the source manuscripts and mediaeval and ancient works of Irish of editing, translating and annotating the source manuscripts, history and law. Their work in these fields were vast and authoritative and their reputation as scholars was international.

IRELAND AND IRISH STAMPS

We, at Philmar, would like to wish all our Irish friends the best of St. Patrick Days, and trusting we will continue to be among your favourite suppliers. We handle all the new issues from the Republic of Ireland and always at competitive prices. A collection of Irish stamps on the beautiful White Ace pages for Ireland is a show-stopper. Of course we sell stamps from the world-over and your business is appreciated at all times.

The Doctor Says

HELP 'HOME GUARDS' WIN WHEN IT COMES TO BOILS

A boil has a yellow or white center because it contains what the old surgeons called "laudable pus." They called it laudable because to them it meant that a landing party of bugs had failed in their attempt to make a landing. The enemy landing party had been met by a detachment of the Home Guard, and invaders had been "mowed down" by defenders.

"laudable pus." And the old surgeons, in their wisdom, celebrated the victory.

If I have made clear the meaning of a boil, perhaps you will understand more clearly just how to deal with attempts of bacterial invasion. Here are some suggestions:

Before the boil has headed, that is to say when the invasion site is merely sore, painful and red, try to help the Home Guard by applying heat, preferably moist heat such as a soak or bulky compresses.

Handle the area gently. Don't squeeze. For if you do, you may force a few of the invaders into surrounding tissues where they couldn't get if they had to depend on their own resources.

Don't try to kill invaders by painting the overlying skin with a strong antiseptic. Even the most powerful germ killer won't be able to penetrate the various layers of the skin in sufficient strength to destroy more than a handful of bacteria, if that many. A strong antiseptic may burn the skin

Farm Forum Activities

BRILL

The Brill Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rhicard with 12 members present.

The topic for the evening "Taxation for Education" was found very good and a great deal of discussion followed.

It was generally agreed that the present system of property tax was hardly fair but necessary until something else was done.

This Forum feels a tax on general net income would be a better way of getting the money then everyone would have to share in the cost of education.

Secondly it was felt that Federal government grants should be allowed in Quebec province. It was decided to send $20 for now to the "Radio for India" project.

After the meeting Mrs. Rhicard served sugar on snow which was much enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Marsh on March 19.

SAWYERVILLE

The Sawyerville Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morrison with 12 present. The subject for discussion was Taxation for Education. The broadcast was listened to and guide questions were discussed and resulted in the following answers.

This forum feels the present tax system is not fair in assessing the costs of education. The present system is obsolete because at the time when taxes were first levied most of the property belonged to the wealthy and now it has changed so that the urban and industrial worker are now receiving the largest incomes.

This forum objects to the high handed way that educational needs are carried out without consulting the taxpayers. This is against English Common Law. People should not be taxed without their consent.

This Forum thinks sales and income taxes would be a more fair way of meeting education costs in our community.

We feel there should be no further taxation until the present system is revised.

Lunch was served at the meeting. The next meeting to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey.

Church group honors member

LAKE MEGANTIC — At the regular meeting of the Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held at the home of Mrs. G. Beaudoin, the president, Mrs. Neil Stewart, on behalf of the group presented Mrs. J. Blondin with a farewell gift. Mrs. Blondin is moving to Lennoxville in April.

A visiting committee, Miss Margaret MacIver and Mrs. Beaudoin, was appointed.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Morrison.

Three Villages Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and family have returned to their home in Derby Line after a holiday spent in Florida.

The Young People's Society of Stanstead South Church held a most successful hot dish supper in the Church Hall. In keeping with St. Patrick's Day, the tables were attractive with a shamrock plant flanked by green candles, while at each place was a St. Patrick's Day novelty, made by the group, and a matching green serviette. The boys and girls served. Proceeds were satisfactory and will be used towards purchasing something in the way of furnishing for the paragon before the arrival of Rev. and Mrs. C. Gustafson in May.

The South of the Border Home Demonstration Club held a food sale at Caswell's store, in charge of Mrs. Hazel Smith, Mrs. Lorraine Young and Mrs. Dolly Howe, proceeds amounting to over $20.

Mr. Howard Walsh, W.G.P.O.E.S. Grand Chapter of Quebec, and Mrs. Walsh, Derby Line, accompanied by Mr. Walsh's mother, Mrs. Cora Walsh, and sister, Mrs. Violet Badger, Rock Island, and Mrs. Frank Jenne, Newport, were in which occurred on March 8 and

OLYMPICS COMMENCE ALLAN CUP MARCH SUNDAY
Montreal Olympics, newly crowned champions of the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League, square off against Amherst Ramblers in the first tilt of a best-of-five quarter finals of the Allan Cup playoffs Sunday at the Maurice Richard Arena in Montreal.

All the games in the series will be played in Montreal which is a change from last year when Granby played the series down East. Another good thing is that the referee will be a neutral man from Ontario. Last year the Vics had two men from the Maritimes and they left a lot to be desired.

The Olympics possess a well balanced squad and with the addition of six players from the loop will form a good club. They added Johnny Mentis, Jean-Guy Charbonneau and Roland Rousseau from Granby with Rollie Leclerc of the Rockets and Bert Bourassa of Sherbrooke.

This is the first season for the Olympics in the league and although they took a while to get rolling they finally got around to making a good showing. They had trouble securing ice time in Montreal, since they were a new team, but then they moved to the new Maurice Richard Arena and this settled matters.

They knocked over the highly-favored Vics of Granby and then in turn stopped the Rockets to win the crown. We know the Rockets had injury troubles but we believe the Olympics had the better club for the playoffs. The loss of Lester Laflamme left a hole on the blueline which Coach Lou Poliquin just couldn't plug. It made a big difference in the outcome.

The Olympics deserve plenty of credit for their fine showing in the league. Manager Gilles Pichette and Coach Maurice Pilon put in long hours in building a club and with help from the rest of the teams and the league they finally came through with a good club.

Jimmy Plante is the new president of the Sherbrooke Country Club replacing Alex Allard. Tony Turmel was named vice-president and chairman of the house committee, while J. Alphonse Turgeon is captain and head of the match committee. Andre Hamel is vice-captain.

Ed Martin is vice chairman of the match committee while George Beaulieu is in charge of the greens and Tom Hansen membership. Gaston Savard and Laurier St. Onge will attend to the entertainment part of the club. These appointments were made official at a meeting of the board of directors recently.

It is very interesting to read the panning of the Galt Terriers, in the World Hockey Tournament, by various writers across Canada. This is nothing new as it happens each year.

It is easy to sit back and criticize the Terriers, and the CAHA, but on the other hand when it comes time to pick the team what is done. Everyone sits back and refuses to raise a finger to help and when the team loses they holler blue heaven.

We all know the Terriers are not the best in Canada but under the circumstances they are the best who can be sent to the tournament. We have always maintained if we can't send our best then let's stay at home. We certainly would not lose our prestige as the World's best hockey nation.

The difference between Canada and the other competing nations is that here it is left to the CAHA, without any government help, but in Europe it is a government project the whole way and until we can put it on the same basis we should stay out of it.

The City of Sherbrooke's 125th Anniversary Bonspiel is being held this coming week and President Ernie Taylor of the Sherbrooke Club has lined up a good 'spiel. It is divided into two sections, an industrial and the other is comprised of rinks from the local club.

It opens Monday when the Anniversary Queen, Miss Jacqueline Lussier, accompanied by Mayor Armand Nadeau will be on hand to get the event underway. It is sponsored by Molson's and next Saturday all contestants will be guests at a dinner at the club.

A real battle of hockey is on the program tomorrow afternoon at the Arena when Richmond Pee Wee Aces tangle with Pie-X School. These two teams have met twice but failed to reach a decision. Both games finished in ties.

The Aces took part in the International Pee Wee Tournament in Quebec City where they put on a good showing but seem to have run into a little trouble disposing of the local school squad.

Jacques Plante is "very happy" over his invitation to instruct Swedish netminders this summer

MONTREAL (CP) — Jacques Plante, the man who has revolutionized the art of goaltending, in the National Hockey League, said Friday he is "very happy" about an invitation to instruct Swedish netminders this summer.

Plans for a trip to Sweden are not completed, said the 33-year-old Montreal Canadiens goalie, "but if they want me, I'll go."

The invitation was made earlier this week by Arne Stromberg, coach of the Swedish National team at the World Hockey championships currently being held at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Stromberg described the calibre of Swedish goalies as poor despite the sensational performances of Lennart Hagroth in Sweden's upset victories over Canada and the United States during the tournament.

Plante said he doesn't know what classification of players he would be instructing, but he figures the job would require about two weeks.

"I've already got a list of about 50 different things that I could show them," he said. "But I won't know exactly what type of instruction they need until I get there."

"I've been told, though, that in Europe goalkeepers frequently use their bodies to make saves. They seldom use their hands and I think this is a mistake."

"If the puck is shot from close in, you have to reach and very often it is not possible to make a stop with your body."

What about the wandering style and the protective face mask he introduced in the NHL?

"If Swedish players dump the puck forward as much as they do in the NHL nowadays, then a goalie has to go out of his net," said Plante.

Skiers to get green snow on St. Pat's Day

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — It will be a great St. Patrick's day for skiers at Whiteface Mountain.

A ski slope has been sprayed with green dye and renamed, for the day, Shamrock Run.

Jets and Braves clash in league finals

Meet in Rock Island on Sunday both teams confident, Sawyer and Beaudoin lead playoff scorers

Rock Island Jets and Richmond Braves clash at the Border Arena tomorrow in the first game of the best-of-seven final for the St-Francis Valley Intermediate Hockey championship.

Rock Island won their way into the finals by defeating the Asbestos Miners in semi-final series "A" and Richmond Braves eliminated the Windsor Paper Makers in semi-final series "B".

The Jets took their best-of-seven series four games to one. They walked away with victories of 6-4, 5-0, 5-1, and 3-1 while their lone defeat came on a 4-0 score. They found the range 19 times in the five games which represents an average of almost five goals per game. They allowed ten goals.

Reynold Beaudoin, R. Gilbert and Gerry Menard were the top three for the Jets in the series. Beaudoin scored seven goals in the five games and picked up two assists to lead his team with 9 points.

The two teams go into the final at about the same odds. Rock Island disposed of the heavily favored Miners in their series and Richmond were the underdogs going into the Windsor series.

Penalties will no doubt play a big part and if previous games are any indication there will be little advantage in this department because both teams are heavy penalty drawers.

One thing is certain, the final will certainly be a crowd-pleaser. Both teams play a wide open brand of hockey and both have superb goaltenders, which makes for action.

Canadiens to allow Jacques Plante to go to Sweden to show netminders how to play, Bert Olmstead to quit

Montreal Canadiens are allowing their star goalie, Jacques Plante, to slip over to Sweden this summer to teach their netminders the fine points of stopping pucks.

And it's a situation that could boomerang on the Habs.

It was a young, rubber-legged lad named Lennart Hagroth who held back Canada's world amateur hockey championship hopes and helped knock them out of title contention at Colorado Springs, Colo., recently.

Boston Bruins immediately placed the Swedish goalie on their negotiation list.

If Plante does his teaching chores with the ability he tends goal for Canadiens, the National Hockey League may be in for an influx of masked, roving goalies with Swedish accents.

Not that the league couldn't use them—Boston has had 296 goals scored against them this season and bid fair to hit the 300 mark. Detroit Red Wings have watched their red light wink 208 times.

New York Rangers have been scored on 199 times.

And the Toronto and Chicago goalies aren't getting any younger.

Neither, of course is Plante—it just seems that way.

In a more serious vein, said words are being spoken of Bert Olmstead of the Toronto Maple Leafs who is facing the end of his NHL career.

The lanky left-winger from Scepter, Sask., came out of junior ranks, where he played with Moose Jaw Canucks, 15 years ago at the age of 20. After two seasons with Kansas City in the United States Hockey League, he moved up to Chicago Black Hawks.

Bert bounced back down to Kansas City, made it back to Chicago, slipped to the Milwaukee Braves.

There are only two weekends left in the NHL schedule this season.

Canadiens are at home to New York Rangers while Chicago visits Toronto Saturday.

The next day Canadiens travel to Boston, Toronto to New York and Chicago to Detroit.

What would happen to the two-year, no-out contract Leafs gave him this year if he decided to call it a day?

"I wouldn't take a nickel if I couldn't earn it. I'd tell 'em to tear it up."

He likens his situation to that of Maurice Richard:

"I thought the Rocket was wrong when he quit. Now I know why he did. You can take injuries for just so long."

"And it took a hard shot on the head to convince me."

There are only two weekends left in the NHL schedule this season.

Pee Wee finals slated here on Sunday afternoon

Richmond Pee-Wee Aces will meet the Pie X School Pee-Wees of Sherbrooke at the Sherbrooke Arena Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the third game of a two-game total goal series.

The first game in Richmond finished a 3-3 tie and the second game in Sherbrooke, Tuesday, also finished tied at 2-2 after one overtime period. As the ice was rented after the Pee-Wee time the game could not be played to finish.

Sunday afternoon it is expected a winner will be declared. Both clubs are very well balanced. Richmond might be a better finished club with more experience but Pie X always fights to the end and anything can happen.

The Richmond club is the same club that went to the semi-finals in the International Tournament in Quebec City last month so the results of the first two games show that the Sherbrooke club is very strong.

No admission will be charged, so a good crowd is expected at the Sherbrooke Arena.
