Says Labor Key To Red Challenge

Winch Wants Gov't Commission To Study Wages, Prices, Profits

OTTAWA (CP) — Only the co-operation of labor can enable Canada to help meet the Soviet economic challenge, says veteran Socialist Harold Winch. The CCF member for Vancouver East said in the Commons Monday that Canada won't get this co-operation from labor while governments damn unions and pass anti-labor legislation and companies make bigger profits while asking labor to hold the line on wages.

He said the federal government and business should pay attention to the suggestion of Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, for a government-sponsored labor-management meeting to iron out difficulties between them.

If industry were not willing to face up to its responsibilities the government would have to impose price controls and higher corporation income taxes.

Identical Bill In Senate

Death Penalty Move Hits Snag At Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Delicate behind-the-scenes negotiations for a free vote in the Commons on abolition of the death penalty for murder have hit a snag.

The difficulty centres on a bill sponsored in the Senate by Senator David Croll (L—Ontario) which is identical to that proposed in the Commons by Frank McGee (PC—York—Scarborough) and seconded by Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East).

In introducing his bill, Senator Croll said he intends to ask that when it comes up for second reading—approval in principle—it be delayed "to await progress of the House of Commons bill."

"If that bill is passed I shall ask permission to withdraw my bill," he added.

IMPLIED THREAT

Some government supporters see in this statement an implied threat that if the Commons doesn't go ahead with its measure Senator Croll will press forward with his in the Liberal-dominated Senate.

Pains were taken to recruit Liberal and CCF support and not rely entirely on the Progressive Conservatives' big Commons majority. The Conservatives hold 207 Commons seats, the Liberals 49 and the CCF eight. There is one vacancy.

The aim of the Commons sponsors is to get all three political groups — Progressive Conservatives, Liberals and CCF—to agree to a free vote, one in which party lines won't be drawn. Liberal Leader Pearson is known to favor this procedure and the CCF also is understood to be ready to act likewise.

HOLDING ACE CARDS?

But some Conservative MPs strongly oppose abolition of the death penalty for murder and they may hold the ace cards in determining the fate of the Commons bill.

Under the Commons rules, only an hour a week is set aside for discussion of private bills such as the abolition bill. It would take unanimous consent of all members to give the abolition bill priority over all other private measures until it is disposed of.

The bill could easily be blocked by only a handful of members refusing unanimous consent and talking the bill out any time it comes up during the one-hour private members time.

A private bill to abolish the death penalty for murder succumbed at the last session to this "talking-out" procedure.

HALIFAX MP AGAINST IT

The only Commons member who spoke against abolition last session was Robert McCleave (PC—Halifax). He says he hasn't changed his opinion but wouldn't stand in the way of the bill coming to a vote this session.

Celibacy Issue

'Raving' Grieves Pontiff

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Pope John today told the synod of the Roman Catholic clergy he has been "grieved" about some "raving" suggestions that priests of his church should give up celibacy.

Addressing the second session of the synod on the "three characteristic elements of the human person and priestly dignity—head, heart and tongue," he declared:

"Do you know what afflicts most our days from time to time? It is the groan, near or far... of priestly souls to whom the company of the heart and the flesh during their lives, and even the little-headed exercise of the sacred ministry, has caused great harm in the face of God, and great dishonor and very great and bitter pain in the face of the church and souls."

"We are grieved, above all, that, to save some part of his lost dignity, someone should rave about the possibility or convenience for the Catholic Church to give up what has been for centuries and centuries, and remains, one of the noblest and purest glories of her priesthood."

The Pontiff added: "The law of ecclesiastical celibacy, and care to maintain it, always remains a call to the battles of heroic times when the Church of Christ had to fight, and won, the success of her glorious threefold name which is always the emblem of victory—the Church of Christ, free, chaste and Catholic."

Restrictions on use of cars and television sets by the clergy were among articles of a draft constitution for the Roman diocese considered by the synod Monday.

Nfld Court Dismisses $10,000 Suit

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The Newfoundland Supreme Court today dismissed a $10,000 suit against an official of the Newfoundland Progressive Conservative party involving election funds.

"The conduct of the case was unsatisfactory and I have not had to use such a heavy hand from the bench in 29 years," said Mr. Justice Sir Brian Dunfield in a 1,500-word judgment.

The suit, taken by Redmond Grant of Montreal against St. John's businessman William S. Perlin, drew national attention when Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other national members of the Conservative hierarchy were subpoenaed to appear in court. The subpoenas served on Mr. Diefenbaker and national PC director Allister Grosart were declared invalid by Mr. Justice Dunfield.

Polls Friends On Yule Cards Finds Lost Book

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Henry R. Davis, a blueprint company executive, has a habit of loaning books to friends.

Inadvertently, he loaned out a copy of a volume which contained a treasured personal postscript from the author.

So, last December, Davis included a note on each of his Christmas cards, asking that anyone who might have borrowed the book to speak up. Davis said he'd have a motorcycle messenger from his firm pick up the book.

Back came a note from Wray Williams, a fellow blueprinter now living in Memphis, Tenn. Williams said he had the book.

Davis didn't hesitate. He dispatched messenger Fred Kloppe by motorcycle to Memphis Monday.

Die-Hard Insurgents Hold Out

PARIS (AP)—Premier Michel Debre warned Frenchmen today that "all can be lost" if order is not established and maintained in Algeria.

Debre issued the warning in an official statement following his return from a middle-of-the-night visit to Algiers, where French insurgents still occupy the heart of the city.

It was a clear warning to Frenchmen that right-wing extremists are threatening the future of France itself unless they abandon their stubborn uprising.

POLICY UNCHANGED
The insurgent die-hards were reported to have been promised that the French army will not shoot them out of their barricades. But Debre declared the policy of self-determination for Algerians stands.

Nothing has happened that will deter pursuit of the aim of President de Gaulle's administration to let Algeria's 9,000,000 North Africans decide their own future, he said.

"There is no other issue in the crisis which is splitting Algeria," Debre declared after a noon meeting with de Gaulle at the presidential palace.

Debre — his moves had been cloaked in secrecy since Monday when President de Gaulle's government dispatched him on the trouble-shooting mission—arrived in the tense North African city Monday night, French army headquarters for Algiers announced.

His plane whisked him back to Paris again before the sleeping populace was aware of his presence.

The communique said Debre had conferred with Gen. Maurice Challe, commander-in-chief in Algeria, and Paul Delouvrier, de Gaulle's representative in the territory. It was reported that he also conferred with 16 Algiers Parliamentary deputies.

There were unconfirmed reports

Steel Pacts Threaten 'Right To Work' Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — A provision which may get around the "right to work" laws now in effect in 19 states has been written into the new steel industry labor contracts. But it may be a subject of legal battles up to the United States Supreme Court.

Right-to-work laws prohibit any requirement in union contracts that a worker must belong to a labor union to get or hold a job.

The steel contracts require all workers outside the right-to-work states to maintain union membership and pay dues as a condition of their employment. This is the union shop arrangement that has been in such contracts for some time.

The new provision says that in the right-to-work states employee will be required to pay regularly each month "a service charge as a contribution toward the administration of this agreement and the representation of such employees." The service charge is to be equal to the regular dues payment.

This latter arrangement, known as the "agency shop," allows the worker to avoid union membership but requires him to pay the equivalent of regular dues. If he doesn't he is to be fired.

The Steelworkers Union figures that anyone required to pay equivalent dues as a service charge most likely will become a full union member anyway.

The 19 states having right-to-work statutes are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Mississippi, Nevada, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia. Nine of these — Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, South Carolina, North Dakota and South Dakota—have no steel operations.

But the agency shop principle, established in so large an industry as steel, is likely to spur similar contracts in other industries in even these states.

Ask Parliament To Vote Funds For Housing

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has moved to ask Parliament to vote more federal funds for housing early in the current session.

A resolution on the Commons order paper calls for increasing to $6,000,000,000 from $4,000,000,000 the amount of loans by private lenders that may be insured under the National Housing Act.

The resolution also calls for increasing to $1,500,000,000 from $1,000,000,000 the federal funds available for direct government loans under the act.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Imagine a strike in which: Some of the strikers earn $100,000 a year. The strikers perform an indispensable function in the industry, yet production has not been interrupted. Though on strike, the workers may still toil at their craft and in the long run earn as much as they might while employed. Sound strange? These are some of the factors that make the current writers' strike against the movie and television studios a unique one in American labor annals. Variety reported that one highly-paid screen writer got a bundle from "the Bel-Air strikers' aid committee" containing vintage champagne, caviar and 40-year-old brandy. SHARE OF PROFITS The Writers Guild of America went on strike 10 days ago. The major issue is a share of the profits from post-1948 films sold to TV; the studios so far have refused to give it. The writers also struck the major TV film producers over more money from reruns and other matters. Is the strike hurting the studios? They claim not. Filming goes on. Projects continue to be announced, with word that some old ones are being pulled off the shelf. But a writers' spokesman adds: "The reason scripts are on the shelf is that they need some writing."

TV producers indicate they have stockpiled enough scripts to finish this season. But if the strike continues, they may be hurt in preparing new series for the 1960-61 season. The viewing public may be subjected to a greater number of re-runs. What are the writers doing during the strike? Why, they're home writing, naturally.

Richmond-Melbourne Trade Board

Problems Of Future Subject Of Address

RICHMOND — Problems of the future, 25 years from now, were discussed by Mayor Marcel Marier, of Drummondville, guest speaker at the monthly-supper meeting of the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade. Over 50 attended the meeting, first in the new year, held at the Brunswick Hotel.

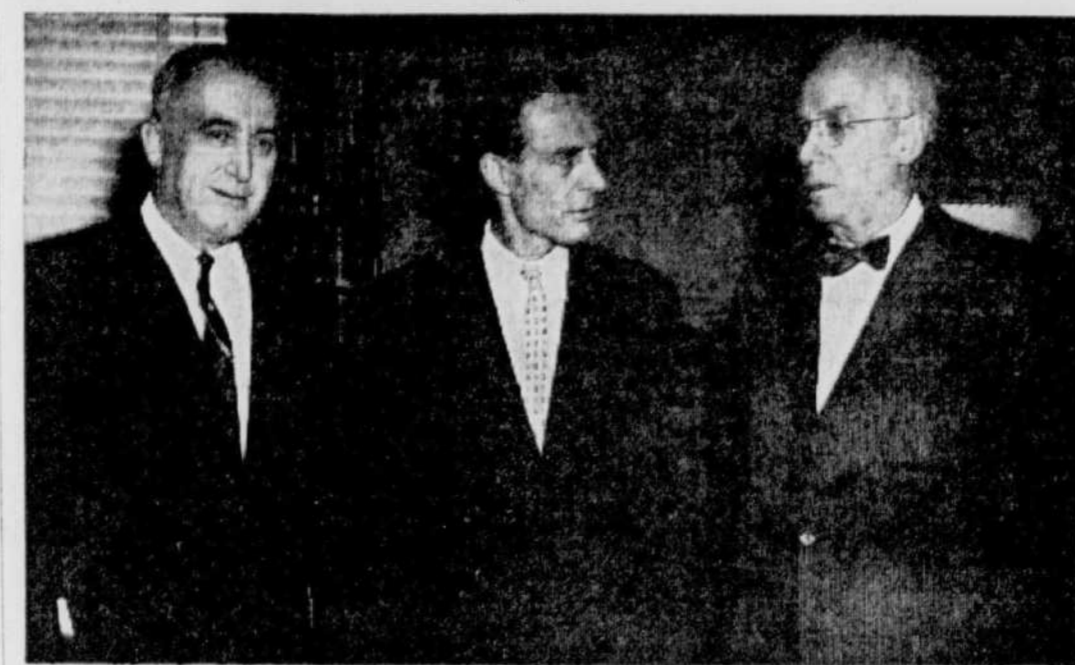

Mayor Marier referred to the population in 1985, how it would increase from the present time and problems to be faced then. On agricultural prospects, the speaker noted that from 50 to 60 acres of land made up the average farm and 25 years from now, they would increase from 500 to 1,000, depending on machinery used by farmers.

This however, was not the chief point of Mr. Marier's talk, his topic being Civic Affairs. He referred to his own city of Drummondville preparing for future plans, noting increase of new industries and buildings. Speaking of Eastern Townships problems, Mr. Marier mentioned the evergrowing need for the solution of pollution.

Here he noted that the Board has studied this problem but has reached no basic conclusions. Referring to Ontario and its solution of this problem, Mayor Marier said that province was much more advanced on the subject than was Quebec. He stated that a board was appointed by the government there to study the solution of pollution and that money was supplied to some 15 municipalities.

More funds with which to work would help greatly. He also pointed out that the only solution would be the treatment of sewer systems.

Stressing the need of money to help these projects, Mayor Marier stated that municipalities must co-operate with the government and ask for a similar board in Quebec to meet this problem. He said that the government should reduce expenses in order to help such projects, which are important to each municipality

Russell Bedard, president of the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade, left, Marcel Marier, mayor of Drummondville, centre, and C. W. Armstrong, mayor of Richmond, are seen above chatting informally at the Board's first supper meeting of the year. Mr. Marier, guest speaker, discussed problems to be faced 25 years from now. and in affairs of the town, he suggested that citizens also should understand what their council tends to do, that it is there to help the town improve its status, to bring its citizens proper facilities and, if the citizens co-operate with the council, these problems can be faced with less tension.

On industries in the towns, the speaker stated that each municipality endeavors to help the city grow more prosperous. He noted that in cities like Montreal and vicinities, industries are being established outside the city and even in Europe because of transportation problems.

Introduced by Paul Delaney, the speaker was thanked by John Gardener of the civic committee of the Board of Trade. Mayor Marier sat in on the discussions at the business meeting which followed and Mayor Armstrong thanked him for taking an interest in the affairs of the local Board.

President of the Board, Russell Bedard, introduced the guests seated at the head table, including Richmond Aldermen John W. Barrington, Alfred Geoffroy and Jean Paul Brouillette; Ald. George Ewing, of Melbourne Mayor Aubrey A. Carson, of the Township of Melbourne; Robert W. Simpson, Mayor of Ulverton; Ed. J. Struthers, Mayor of Stanstead; Mayor C. W. Armstrong, of Richmond; Bruce Moffatt, Board secretary. Other guests were Dr. Ephem Jacques and Rev. H. I. Apps, of St. Ann's Anglican Church.

John Gardener, of the Board's Civic Committee, thanked Mayor Marier for his interesting talk. The regular business meeting followed. Secretary Moffatt read the minutes, also a letter from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce referring to Chamber of Commerce Week to be held in April. The local Board noted that the April meeting was "Conservation Night" and, on further discussion, the members felt they could coincide that night with the special week.

Other reports by committees included one on the swimming-pool project. This was also left for further discussion.

Mr. Armstrong mentioned that the Town was in the process of purchasing an aerial ladder for its Fire Department which would enable firemen to reach high buildings, etc.

The next meeting will be held in February, but no business session's planned as this will be "Ladies Night". Paul Labrosse will act as chairman of the event.

The rector, Rev. A. L. Salt, chaired the meeting and opened the session with prayer. The vestry clerk submitted the minutes of the last annual meeting.

The Parish is showing a steady increase in church attendance and an increase in the number of communicants. Mr. Salt paid there is a great need for family worship. He thanked the wardens, organist, all officers of the organizations, and the general congregation, for faithful support.

Mr. Salt described it as a living spiritual remembrance of the departed. At the time of a death a sum of money is given, the name of the deceased entered in the book, and the money placed into a fund established for assistance to a boy or girl of the parish wishing help for theological study.

The vestry clerk read the report of the organist and choir director, Miss Elsie McFadden, and Mr. Salt reported that twelve young men of the congregation are serving at the altar faithfully. The Brownies have an enrolment of from 13 to 15 under the direction of Brown Owl, Miss Margaret Wood, who is assisted by three teen-age girls.

Edward Hyatt, reported for the Boy Scout committee that the main project had been to move the Scout Hall to another site when the new Sacred Heart School was being erected. Mr. Salt gave the report of the Scout Cubs as prepared by Larry Hill and the Boy Scout report prepared by E. C. Middleton, and he noted that because of lack of leaders there was no Girl Guide or J.A. at the present but he hopes they will be reorganized.

U. E. Cargill was elected people's warden to replace C. B. Hill. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Hill for the line work and devotion he had given during his two-year term of office. Mr. Hill, responding, thanked the rector, rector's warden and congregation. Edward Hyatt is commencing his second year as rector's warden.

W.M.S. Of St. Andrew's United Church Holds Annual Meeting At Scotstown

SCOTSTOWN — The annual meeting of St. Andrew's United Church Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. P. A. Sherman. The president, Mrs. Ross MacDonald presided, and the meeting opened with devotions.

Mrs. William Buchanan was welcomed as a new member, and accepted the office of Christian Citizenship. Mrs. Buchanan was a member of Trinity W.M.S. in Sherbrooke, while living there before moving here this fall.

The secretaries of the different departments gave their annual reports, which summed up to a successful year. The year started with nine life members and five annual paid members, one life member lives out of town, and two annual members moved to Magog during the year. Nine meetings were held with the average attendance of nine.

Three members attended the Presbytery in Richmond in May and several W.M.S. and W.A. members attended the W.A. — W.M.S. meeting in East Angus in September.

One hundred thirty-six pounds of used clothing were sent to overseas Relief Depot, Toronto. Postage on the sales was paid by the W.A. $13.60; extra shipping charges was paid by the W.M.S., $229.55. Two hundred twenty-nine dollars fifty-five cents was sent to the Presbytery treasurer. The allocation was $200. The two thank-offerings amounted to $66.85, and the silent auction held at the home of Mrs. P. A. Sherman in November totalled $69.60.

Bath towels and face cloths were sent to the Archer Memorial Hospital, Lamont, Alta., and $30 to the School for Leaders. Thirteen members subscribed to the Missionary Monthly and the usual amount was given to help to pay for papers and prizes for the Temperance Course in the High School. Visits and calls were made to sick and shut-ins and cards were sent during the year on different occasions.

It was decided to carry on the same as last year but for all to make a special effort to raise more money by donations, increasing envelope givings, holding the silent auction earlier, and having a social evening showing slides and movies.

Two addresses were given to the secretary where used Christmas cards could be sent. Mrs. F. B. Mayhew will look after the matter.

The offering was taken by Mrs. B. MacLeod and dedicated to the president. Mrs. A. A. MacKenzie reviewed the second chapter in the Study Book.

Nominations Completed In Larger Townships Centres

Voting To Take Place In Many Communities

Contests, either for the mayoralty or council posts, will be forthcoming as a result of the nominations held yesterday in many Eastern Townships towns.

In cases where the council vacancies were not filled by acclamation yesterday, voting will take place next Monday.

The election system varies from town to town. In some cases, the mayor and all six councillors are elected en bloc for a two-year term.

Lennoxville provides such an instance. The entire council was elected last year, with the result no voting is taking place in 1960.

Telegrams Sent

C of C Protests 'Estrie'

The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce resolved yesterday morning to send telegrams to Premier Antonio Barrette and Sherbrooke MPP, J. S. Bourque, objecting to the French word "Estrie" introduced 12 years ago to replace the name "Cantons de L'Est."

The telegrams read as follows: "Whereas it is considered that the correlation of the translation is superior between Cantons de L'Est and Eastern Townships than between Estrie and Eastern Townships.

"Whereas the name Cantons de L'Est represents one century of history.

"Whereas all past endeavors to promote tourists and the economic interests of the region have been made on behalf of the term Cantons de L'Est;

"Whereas the provincial department of tourism is seriously considering to change the name Cantons de L'Est to Estrie on all official literature it was unanimously approved by Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce members that the telegrams be sent to Hon. Barrette and Hon. J. S. Bourque protesting the change.

Following a meeting with city officials last week, Chamber of Commerce members announced that pick-up and delivery of parcels on Wellington Street will be tolerated until alternate parking is introduced.

Once alternate parking comes into effect on Wellington Street North, the vacated side will become a loading zone.

Chamber of Commerce officials requested from Federal postal authorities that a regular official postal station be opened on Wellington Street North.

The demand included a request that regular postal employees be employed.

In other cases, the councillors are elected in rotation for two or three-year periods. Some towns elect their mayor by a direct popular vote and in others, such as Scotstown, the councillors elect the mayor from within their own ranks.

Cookshire, another town in which this system has prevailed for many years, changed to direct election this year, with Bruno Turcotte being re-elected for his third term.

Among the towns in which contests are taking place are Asbestos, Bromptonville, East Angus, Farnham and Scotstown.

The results of yesterday's nominations include:

EAST ANGUS

Retiring Mayor Dexter Willard is being opposed for re-election by G. Roland Brousseau. In Seat Four, retiring Councillor Adelard Corveau is meeting with opposition from Hormidas Lepitre.

W. F. Clifford was returned by acclamation in Seat Six.

SCOTSTOWN

Retiring Mayor Donald B. MacLean and George Riglar are contesting Seat Seven on the town council.

A. Winstel and Laurent Poirier were re-elected by acclamation. The councillors will elect a new mayor at the regular session of the council on February 2.

COOKSHIRE

For the first time in its history, Cookshire elected a mayor by the direct choice of the people yesterday, the post going to Bruno Turcotte who is starting his third term.

The entire council also came up for election this year, all being re-elected except in Seat Six where Jean Paul Dionne replaces Ernest Rouleau. Dionne was elected for a three-year term as was Gerard Beaudoin in Seat Five.

Other members elected were: One-year term, Seat One, Lucien Richard, Seat Two, H. C. Barter; Two-year term, Seat Three, Cecil

Unfortunate Publicity

Mayor Nadeau Raps Ingratitude Towards Men In Public Life

Unless more appreciation is shown for men in public positions, it will become harder in the future to find good men to fill the positions, Mayor Armand Nadeau said last night.

Speaking at the regular session of the city council in regard to reports that former city treasurer Pierre Bachand had presented a demand for $25,000 in overtime pay when he left the city's employ, Mr. Nadeau said: "The publicity over this affair is unfortunate. Mr. Bachand was not fired, nor was he destitute when he left. He left the city to accept a job with higher pay, and better working conditions."

"Mr. Bachand was a faithful servant, and very conscientious in performing his duties. He does not merit all this bad publicity. "When one is in public life, one must expect such things. But one wonders at times if the job is really worth it."

"Public functions are becoming more and more positions upon which ungratefulness is heaped. If this situation does not change, it will be hard to find men for these jobs later on," Mr. Nadeau said.

WEBSTER RAMP

After learning that the proposed pedestrian ramp from King Street West to the Webster parking lot would cost an estimated $18,000, council decided to study the plan once more before approving it. The cost of the ramp was established following a meeting one week ago with C.N.R. railway officials.

Railway officials agreed to let the city build the ramp on condition that the city removes the snow between the ramp and the track embankments.

Center Ward Ald. Marcel Savard suggested to council that money collected from the city's parking meters should be used to pay for the ramp, but Ald. Everett Nicol objected.

SKI TRAIL

The ski-trail the City of Sherbrooke built is a municipal affair in name as well as ownership, council decided last night.

Theatre Talk Wins Contest

The "Lure of the Theatre," topic of a five minute address by Miss Alex Palk, student at King's Hall, Compton, school for girls, won first place honors at the McGill Graduates' Society public speaking contest, held last night in conjunction with the regular weekly meeting of the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club at the Sherbrooke Hotel.

Runner-up to Miss Palk was Diana Deacon of the Compton-Waterville High School who spoke on "The Refugee in Canada."

Other entries in the contest were: Judy Banks, Sherbrooke High School, topic, "Procrastination, the Thief of Time;" Pat Clarke, Marymount High, Sherbrooke, "Education;" Doreen Fisher, Sunnyside High, Stanstead, "Television;" and Nancy Knapp, Lennoxville High School, "Peter."

Guests at the meeting included Mr. Philip Lawrence, Lennoxville; Mrs. Noble Smith, Lennoxville; Mrs. A. F. Jenne, Sherbrooke; Miss R. Phillips, Stanstead; Miss McLennan, King's Hall, Compton; Mrs. K. Beattie, Sherbrooke, and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Gale, Sherbrooke. Seated at the head table were: Mrs. D. Stirling, of East Angus; Mr. J. Bisson, Sherbrooke, Past Kiwanis president Herb Plow; Mrs. John York, chairman of the speaking contest; Kiwanis president Bud Howard; Rev. Donald Stirling, East Angus; Mrs. Howard; Mr. York, Dr. M. District Farmers Urged To Register For Government Hog And Egg Payments

Agriculture, like most other industries, is changing rapidly. Each year, brings new problems. This year, hog producers and egg producers find themselves in new situations. Deficiency payments are the order of the day. Every farmer who is raising hogs or keeping hens for egg production, will have to comply with the regulations as established by the agricultural stabilization board, in order to be eligible for deficiency payments.

Failure to provide registration numbers with hog shipments could disqualify Canadian farmers from participating in the Federal government's deficiency payment scheme. Homer J. Maybee, Associate Director of the Livestock Division, Canada Department of Agriculture has warned. He said, a number of producers have marketed hogs without registration numbers, since the price support program went into effect Jan. 11th. Registration of producers has been proceeding since last November, said Mr. Maybee, and over 100,000 registrations have been processed. Farmers who have applied for registration but have not yet received their registration numbers are being provided for through instructions sent to them with the settlements.

All producers who have numbers should be certain that a record of the number is sent with the hogs. This means that the trucker or shipper should record the number along with the farmer's name, address and tattoo identification of the hogs on the manifest which he delivers with the hogs.

Mr. Maybee said the Agriculture Stabilization Board is urging the cooperation of producers, shippers, sales agencies, and processors in making the registration number a regular part of the information that normally accompanies hogs to market.

Applications forms for farmers wishing to register hogs are available at the various agricultural offices in the Province, the Farm Forum Office at Macdonald College or the farmer may apply directly to the Stabilization Board, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Farmers wishing information on deficiency payments for eggs, may obtain full information by writing to the stabilization board, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. In a press release from poultry division Quebec Department of Agriculture, on Jan. 18th, the statement is made that the number of eggs hatched for chickens that will be raised for egg production in 1960, has decreased by 46.3 per cent in Quebec and 36.5 per cent in Canada.

Further, the slaughter of hens in December increased 65.06 per cent as compared to the corresponding period in 1958. What effect will the decrease in hatching for chicks destined for egg production in 1960, and increased slaughtering of hens have on egg prices in the autumn of 1960? The prediction is that it will have a reaction favourable to the Producers.

COW TESTING

It is a well-known fact that cow testing gives very valuable information for the establishment and improvement of a good herd. Records of both milk and fat production for each cow in the herd are the basis of a good selection within the herd. Cow testing makes it easier for the farmer to feed an adequate and economical ration for each cow of the herd.

Cow testing facilitates the selection of high producers and, consequently, the selection of good heifers. It is also a source of information when one looks for a qualified bull. Moreover, it helps to estimate the cost of production of milk and it is used for agricultural bookkeeping.

Therefore, the Department of Agriculture through the Live Stock Branch is offering all farmers of this Province the following policy: To furnish all equipment: scale, ladle, sample containers and stationery; to pay postage of the milk samples and containers; to analyse all milk samples sent to its laboratories and determine the percentage of fat; to prepare and furnish a monthly report of the milk and butter fat production of each cow under test; to prepare and give, at the end of the lactation period, a detailed report of the whole production of each cow under test. The member should: Apply to the Live Stock Branch, Department of Agriculture, Quebec City, and pay an annual fee of $2.00; use a pure bred bull and own a tuberculin tested herd; put all the cows in his herd under test; as soon as the containers are received, select one day each month and weigh both milkings of each cow and enter the result on the barn sheet.

He should also take a sample from each of the two milkings, and return the cans within three days after the reception along with the barn sheet.

SHEEP BREEDERS

The lambing season is an all important time of the year for the sheep breeder. Spring time is lambing time. However, some breeders have at least part of their lambs arriving in mid winter as they cater to the early market, some for the Eastern market and some for the market in early summer. It is advisable to commence graining the ewes at least six weeks before lambing time. In a letter received from Harold Snaden, Danville, he already has three lambs in his

Police Chief Report Shows Local Arrests Down Slightly

By NICK POWELL
 (Record Staff Reporter)

Crime increased in the City of Sherbrooke during 1959 while the number of arrests made dropped slightly, it was revealed yesterday in the annual police report, presented by Chief Edouard Moreau, to the City council and the protection committee.

The number of crimes increased by 82 to 940 last year against 858 crimes listed on the books for 1958.

This represents an increase of about 10 per cent. Value of property stolen also climbed last year, the reports showed, increasing from $47,320 to $58,579. Totals recovered last year amounted to nearly $31,000 against almost $22,500 in 1958.

The number of arrests proved to be the only declining statistic last year, 805 against 813 the year before. Of the 805 arrested, 54 were sentenced to terms in the local jail while 14 were turned over for terms in the penitentiary. In 1958, 111 were sentenced to the Sherbrooke jail and 38 to the penitentiary.

Five thefts with violence were reported last year, three of which have been solved. In 1958 only four were reported, but only one remains still on the books.

A marked increase was noted in thefts and break-ins during the year from 90 in 1958 to 143 in 1959. This figure does not include 5 thefts from strong boxes, three of which have been solved.

The report on stolen vehicles provides a bright picture for 1959. Of the 77 vehicles reported stolen, every one was returned in addition to which, one of the 54 vehicles stolen in 1958 was recovered last year.

TRAFFIC REPORT

Traffic accidents increased slightly in 1959 but the fatality rate was cut by more than one half. Four people died in Sherbrooke traffic last year, three of whom were pedestrians. This figure compares favorably with nine deaths in 1958.

One hundred and two were injured last year, five more than during 1958.

In the field of accident prevention last year, 3,693 cars were checked by the police department and 1,223 were found defective. Of this number, 243 returned for a second check with the police. In 1958, 3,618 vehicles were checked and 837 were found mechanically defective. One hundred and seventy-three returned with repairs made.

Something Of A Quandary

Red China's demand to be included in any disarmament agreement has put the West in something of a quandary.

On one horn of the dilemma is Nationalist China, which has protested strongly against any such move, or United States consideration of it, on the grounds it would be tantamount to diplomatic recognition of Communist China and would increase her international prestige.

The Nationalist Chinese hold that Russia has long tried to "smuggle" Communist China into the community of civilized nations, and the Kremlin is now seizing upon Western eagerness for disarmament as a lever to press this intrigue anew.

This could be true. The Nationalist Chinese are undoubtedly right, too, when they say that if Red China were included in the talks, their world prestige would go up.

But the other horn is equally sharp, if not sharper.

Suppose a disarmament agreement were reached without Red China's participation. Would this not provide the latter country with a wonderful opportunity to build up militarily while the rest of the world disarms?

It is conceivable that in such a situation, Red China could arm herself to the point where she would be the No. 1 global power, and have the rest of the world at her mercy.

The Nationalist Chinese say that Red China has no independent voice because it is "purely the creation of Soviet Russia, and a part of the Russian empire."

If this is so, then all the more reason for including Red China. Omitting her would simply give the Russians an opportunity to continue an arms buildup there while disarming within her own boundaries, proclaiming loudly all the while that she had no control over what Red China does.

It would seem the most practical course, Nationalist China's outraged cries notwithstanding, is to include Red China in the disarmament talks. Tacit recognition of the Peking regime already a "fait accompli" in many spheres — on this particular point is preferable to sharpening a knife held at our own throats.

Poor Postal Facilities

The request of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce that a regular post office be established on Wellington Street North emphasizes the unsatisfactory state of the postal service in the business district.

For an extended period following the opening of the new post office atop King Hill, a more or less satisfactory service was provided the public by a sub-office operated from a commercial establishment.

But recently, the Wellington North sub-office has been closed to the serious dislocation of business in that area. To make any substantial purchase of stamps, register letters or take advantage of many of the other services provided by the postal department, the patron must either climb King Hill or seek out one of the sub-offices located in other parts of the city.

The area served by the former Wellington North office contains the greater portion of the business offices and the leading commercial establishments. In view of its importance to the economy of the city, it should receive an adequate postal service — either by the establishment of a regular office manned by postal department employees or the re-opening of an adequate sub-office.

Editorial Notes

Further evidence that liquor, politics and religion don't mix: An outspoken anti-Semite in a West German tavern was hit over the head with a bar stool.

A lucrative small business requiring a modest capital outlay was revealed in a Toronto court recently.

Everett Spurr, 28, of Hamilton, convicted on a charge of theft, testified he bought a key to Toronto parking meters for $100.

He said the unnamed man who sold him the key even showed him around his 'route' and that this initial tour netted him more than $30.

It's now been revealed that Swamp Fox, the Disneyland television series dealing with the exploits of Gen. Francis Marion during the American Revolutionary War, got the quiet heave-ho from the CBC network last November.

Apparently the first two episodes brought angry public reaction over the portrayal of British forces.

Canadian children, however, watched every step as the Redcoats ran for cover over the ABC Network. And who was chasing them? Canadian-born actor Leslie Nielsen portraying Swamp Fox.

WEST REFUSES TO OVERRUFF

The St. Paul Winter Carnival tournament will be held Feb. 5 through Feb. 7 this year.

In last year's tournament Mrs. George Schochet of St. Paul obtained a top score by an interesting defensive play when South failed to find the best line of play.

Mrs. Schochet opened the four of diamonds and her partner's king lost to South's ace. Instead of going right after the trumps South played ace, king and a small heart an ruffed with the ten.

If Mrs. Schochet had overruffed, South would have wrapped the hand up, but Mrs. Schochet discarded her eight of clubs as if she had no problem at all.

Now South cashed the ace and king of spades and when East showed out, there was no way to avoid the loss of two trump tricks.

This refusal to overruff is an unusual play but there are many instances such as this one where a defender can gain a trick by maintaining his full trump holding and the hand is worthy of considerable study.

Place In History Assured

Gen. Charles de Gaulle: A Profile

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS (CP) — General de Gaulle's North American visit will give Canadians a chance to size up a man of elusive majesty whose place in history is assured.

Though violent arguments rage around him and nobody outside his family can claim to know his deepest thoughts, there is no longer any question of his stature. He is one of the great men of the century. But there is more to it than that.

His "style" of politics, his mystique, his passionate patriotism and his record of usually being proved right combine to impart a suggestion of apertness, of otherworldliness verging on the supernatural. He seems a sort of trousered Joan of Arc, listening abstractly like the maid of Orleans to faraway voices.

He has what the French call presence. When he enters a room, a hush falls over the assembly. People instinctively feel they are watching an extraordinary figure who only by chance is moving among ordinary mortals.

LIVING SYMBOL

Solitary, austere, highly intelligent, a devoted family man without hobbies, the president of France's Fifth Republic: for the second time has become his country's living symbol. Taking account of the virulent passions generated by the war in Algeria, it is fair to say that only de Gaulle now separates France from almost certain catastrophe. What happens when he goes already worries many Frenchmen.

His Canadian journey, starting April 19, will take him to Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa. In the capital, he will renew an old friendship with Governor-General Vanier, a former Canadian ambassador in Paris. A close sympathy existed between the two men.

De Gaulle made a powerful impression on External Affairs Minister Green, who had a half-hour talk with the general in Paris last fall. Talking privately later with British editors, Green took exception to a claim that the French president had tended to put a spoke in the wheels of western attempts to develop a more flexible diplomacy. The Canadian minister is understood to feel that de Gaulle's attitude is occasionally misrepresented.

"He's a great man, make no mistake about that," Green told a reporter.

"Le grand Charles" has changed considerably from the Free French leader who visited Ottawa in August, 1945. At 69, the president is as tall, straight and soldierly as ever, but his waistline is thicker and his hair is thinning. He has moved, so to speak, from the stage of father to that of grandfather.

He wears heavy glasses to aid an eye weakened by cataracts, but he whips them off when welcoming important visitors.

MORE RELAXED

His manner has changed from wartime days. The brusqueness of the prickly patriot has given way to a gentleness, a "douceur," an almost exaggerated courtesy. Introduced to a stranger, he leans forward, listens attentively, responds politely. He obviously feels more relaxed than in the dark days when he represented a defeated France, and his only weapons were sheer breathtaking audacity, persistence and mystic faith in French survival.

"He is a man transformed," said a French diplomat in London. "The change is most striking."

His deep-rooted belief in the historical mission of the French nation offers an important clue to his character. He has always drawn a distinction between France "La nation" and the people of France, who sometimes betray their heritage.

This was his touchstone after France's humiliation in 1940. The unknown junior soldier who proclaimed in the historic broadcast from London that France had lost a battle but not the war clung firmly to his faith, however much it exasperated Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Churchill said the Cross of Lorraine was the hardest he had to bear.

at 20. In the inter-war years, de Gaulle was one of the few French soldiers who foresaw the importance of mechanized warfare, and when war came he commanded one of the few successful French offensives. In his London exile, he never wavered from the conviction that Germany ultimately would be defeated.

At liberation he was his country's natural leader but he resigned in January, 1946, telling a shocked cabinet that he was tired of coddling quarrelsome politicians. He had to wait 12 years, spent largely in reading and meditation, before the settler-army uprising of May, 1958, brought him to power. Now he tries to implement policies exactly opposite to those his sponsors wanted.

Difficulties and dangers confront him. He has strong popular support but there are signs that the gulf between the president and the politicians is widening. The resignation of Finance Minister Pinay, one of the few considerable figures in the cabinet, is a warning signal.

Some question his superman status. Other detractors feel that de Gaulle is a political anachronism, yearning for 18th century forms. They say he is old-fashioned, naive, overly sentimental.

For all that, he touches a deep emotive chord. His habit of calling for "La Marseillaise" at public functions may seem trite, but it is profoundly moving.

As de Gaulle begins his second year, he knows he has many well-wishers than had the almost unknown soldier of 1940. The question is how much time he has left.

Intensely self-confident, he "knows" he is the only one who can steer France safely to her appointed destiny; but his ambition transcends the personal. He wants nothing for himself. Critics may complain that his grandiose displays of French culture and pageantry are mere sham and flimsy, but they admit the concept of grandeur excludes self-aggrandizement. His private life is quiet and unostentatious.

Thus there is a duality about de Gaulle which explains his habit of referring to himself in both the first and third person. He, Charles de Gaulle, is an ordinary man; as the incarnation of France, he is something outside himself.

Simply, he has sunk his personality in the nation.

"There is no more extraordinary example in history of a single man coming to incorporate a national idea," wrote British historian A.J.P. Taylor.

Charles Andrew Joseph Marie de Gaulle was born Nov. 22, 1890, in the industrial city of Lille, one of five children — four sons and one daughter of Henri de Gaulle, a professor of philosophy at a Jesuit college.

From early childhood, the young de Gaulle was "different." Shy and aggressive by turns, he would accept at school only those lessons he deemed appropriate.

One day, preparing for a family holiday, the 10-year-old boy thought for a long time what he should take. Finally he settled for a history of France, the book that "contains all stories." His imagination was fired; he prayed that he would one day do great things.

He was educated at Stanislas College, Paris, and the exacting St. Cyr military academy. He learned to recite minute details of battles and today drafts notes when making speeches. He was wounded three times in the First World War, spent 32 months in prison camps and made five escape attempts.

After the war he married Yvonne Vendroux, a Calais shipbuilder's daughter who to this day fuses and frets over her soldier husband. Their friendship started at a sidewalk cafe on the Champs Elysees when the six-foot-four soldier accidentally upset a drink over the girl's dress.

They spend leisure time on the general's farm at Colombes-les-deux-Eglises in the Marne, some 150 miles southeast of Paris. Their only son, Philippe, is named for Marshal Petain. A daughter, Elisabeth, is married to an army man. A second daughter, Anne, a backward child, died

OTTAWA — The three leaders in the House of Commons have had their say in the Throne Speech debate and made quite a lot of news. But it is unlikely any of them will win public speaking awards for their efforts.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Opposition leader Pearson each spoke about two and a half hours.

They were not talking all the time because of interruptions and sometimes the interrupters were Mr. Pearson and Mr. Diefenbaker.

The third leader, Hazen Argue, of the CCF, spoke 40 minutes and actually made a speech.

If any awards are being made, he should be the winner. For this reason: His speech was almost entirely the sentiments of Hazen Argue addressed to the problems of the moment. The others were not altogether that.

There was a feature of all three speeches that deserves some attention.

It is an ancient gimmick for politicians to dig up and throw into the faces of their opponents words the latter have spoken on other occasions, no matter how far distant those occasions.

It is familiar, and discouraging to listeners, when the speaker of the moment says something like: "May I remind the honorable gentleman of the words he used when he addressed the Mole Hill Burying Society's Clambake on the night of July 1, 1915?"

And when Mr. Pearson had his innings the other day, I was surprised and disappointed to discover that he had relied for about one-third of his talk on quotations from old speeches and comments on the quotations.

Why, I asked myself, should a man of Mr. Pearson's abilities and experience bury the good points of his argument under such a welter of old straw?

Why bother with the old straw at all? The present is so crowded with swiftly-changing threats and problems.

But that is how it was. The Prime Minister probably went Mr. Pearson a bit better. Certainly as much or more of his rambling talk (which was interspersed with some very important announcements of policy and developments thrown out almost casually) was mixed up with old political straw and forgotten speeches.

Then came the leader of the little group crowded down in the northeast corner at the feet of Mr. Speaker Michener. He did not have unlimited time, but only the regular 40 minutes. He is not the official opposition leader.

What he said, right or wrong, clever or misled, was at least his own.

He made only two very brief quotations and both were from publications so recent and timely and non-political that they were quite in keeping with his presentation.

Foresters Attack Tree Diseases

TORONTO (CP) — Forestry scientists are working to control a mysterious disease that has attacked stands of maple in parts of Ontario.

The disease, known as "maple dieback," first observed in 1952, has most seriously affected trees in the northern parts of the Lake Huron district and has also been found in the eastern part of the Lake Erie district and in the Lake Simcoe region north of Toronto.

Dr. L.T. White, officer in charge of the federal forest biology laboratory at nearby Maple, where research on the disease is being carried out, said it was first noted among hard maples in a 100-acre woodlot near Markdale, south of Owen Sound. In some sections as many as one half of the maples were killed in one year.

Leaves of trees affected by the disease turn completely brown and fall prematurely; then young twigs begin to die as it spreads.

Dr. White said there is still no indication that "a virulent pathogen or insect parasite has been responsible" and their absence suggests that the location and needs of the trees may hold the answer.

AMPLE WATER

PINEY, Man. (CP) — Everyone in this southeastern Manitoba community has an artesian well with an overflow, so it was no surprise when a well drilled for a new government forestry building came in the same way. The government well, however threatened to flood basements, and engineers had to cut through a frozen road to pipe off the excess.

Farm Income Decrease Seen In 1960

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Minister Harkness said Monday there may be some decrease in farmers' gross and net income in 1960 as compared with last year. During the first nine months of 1959 — latest period for which farm statistics were available — the rise in farmers' income was considerably greater than the increase in farm costs. He admitted that a cost-price squeeze was operating on the farmers in late 1959, but added this was to a lesser extent than when the Liberals were in office.

Diana Barrymore Dies At 38

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Diana Barrymore, 38, who made her life a tragic struggle to fulfill the mythical promise of her name, died Monday. Her body was found lying face down in bed by a maid, at her fashionable East Side apartment. Her physician said she died of a heart attack, but he refused to sign a death certificate because Miss Barrymore had no history of heart trouble. Police started an investigation. Authorities said there was no indication of suicide. Miss Barrymore, who was trying to make a comeback in the theatre after a life of alcoholism, degradation and broken marriages, had once made a suicide attempt.

FAMOUS PARENTS

She told her story in the best-selling autobiography, Too Much, Too Soon. She was the daughter of the late John Barrymore, whose swashbuckling off stage matched anything he did on stage, and the late Blanche Oelrichs, who wrote plays and poems under the name Michael Strange. Her aunt was Ethel Barrymore, and her uncle was Lionel Barrymore. Her theatrical ancestry went back four generations and her name opened for her every door in show business. But when she made headlines, it was seldom in the critics' columns. Her manager, Viola Rubber, who lives across the street from Miss Barrymore's apartment, said the actress had complained recently of chest pains. She was under a doctor's care at the time of her death.

flock born in 1960. Lamb prices are higher in the spring and early summer. Some pure bred sheep breeders have their lambs arrive in mid winter so as to have well grown lambs at Exhibition time.

FERTILIZER

Now is the time to purchase fertilizer for the coming spring. Fertilizer companies are offering substantial discounts for fertilizer purchased early. A discount of $2.50 per ton if purchased in January. A discount of $1.50 per ton if purchased in February. Furthermore, by purchasing fertilizer early, it will be ready for use when required. There is always a rush for fertilizer at seeding. If the fertilizer is not available when required, it may mean delaying seeding a few days. Such delay in seeding may mean the difference between a good crop at harvesting time and a mediocre crop. Early seeding gives the highest yields. Furthermore, for fertilizing pastures, fertilizers are required very early in the spring. Last year, the Quebec Department of Agriculture offered a special grant for renovating and fertilizing pastures. This scheme was 4-24-20. Some farmers who applied for this grant, did not receive same, owing to the fact that they did not use the grade of fertilizer recommended. No announcement has been made regarding this scheme for 1960. Nevertheless, farmers wishing to improve old pastures, this spring, would be well advised to purchase 4-24-20 fertilizer. The Provincial fertilizer board issue recommendations each year on the grade of fertilizer that is required for each crop according to the type of soil. Such recommendations are available at your nearest agricultural office. It is recommended that farmers have their soil analysed for fertilizer and lime requirements. Farmers may have this done at the Provincial soil Laboratory, free of charge. Several of the fertilizer companies offer to make such analysis free of charge.

Women's Institute Holds Meeting At Denison's Mills

DENISON'S MILLS — The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Alden Boreham. All were glad to welcome Mrs. Boreham at the meeting, her first since her long sojourn in the Johns-Manville Hospital, suffering from burns.

Minutes were read by the secretary, Miss Grace Philbrick, and the treasurer, Mrs. Duncan Rief, reported a satisfactory cash position.

A report was given on the children's Christmas party held again this year in the Farmers' Hall, Danville, with a very good attendance. The turkey, which was raffled, was won by Mrs. Forrest Rief, of R.R.1, Danville. This is the second year for the party to be put on by the W.I.

Seven Sunshine baskets were distributed to shut-ins, and members sent cards.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

SUTTON — A meeting was held at the Sutton Town Hall, under the auspices of the Sutton Industrial Development Reg'd, for the purpose of presenting to local citizens the proposed skiing development in the Sutton Mountain area.

George Dyer, president, introduced the subject to a large and interested assembly and outlined briefly the possibilities which exist in this beautiful section of the Eastern Townships mountain region, the highest point of which is Old Round-Top at approximately 3,200 feet elevation, not only for winter sports but for all year recreation as well.

Harold Boulanger, local industrialist, who with his four sons is keenly interested in the promotion of skiing, explained in more precise detail the project under discussion. Mr. Boulanger compared this area favorably with such similar enterprises as Shi Jay and Stowe in Vermont and Mount Orford in another section of the Eastern Townships. He expressed the firm belief that with cooperation and courage this area could be developed as well as the others mentioned.

The expected cost of this undertaking would run well into $200,000 to provide modern accommodations, housing, ski tow, fine trails, etc., but Mr. Boulanger felt this amount of capital could be attained if given good and efficient publicity.

No profits on investment could be guaranteed for some time, except the finer profits of healthful recreation to participants in skiing, etc., beneficial to this and future generations. However, it is thought that eventually this enterprise could be operated on a dollars profit basis as well.

F. Levesque, of Bedford, spoke of the great potential value to Canadian youth by this fine recreational project and said that various youth organizations would soon flock to this area as development proceeds.

Others present, including Mayor R.S. Millmore, Ex-Mayor Arthur J. Darrab, Councillor Gerard Gingras, Southern Canada Power manager Wells Laraway, joined in acknowledgment of the fine possibilities of this development and expressed their hope of its ultimate success.

It was noted, however, that a very serious point of issue is the essential preservation of the Town water supply, which has a large part of its source in the forest watershed affected by the ski area concerned. It is believed that this could be safeguarded by proper sanitation methods and would certainly come under the direct control of the health department.

The meeting closed with a spirit of optimism, and the belief that this worthwhile project could be successfully accomplished if given wide publicity, and the necessary financial support.

Research Team For 24 Years

New Twist To "Girl Marries Boss" Story

By ELIZABETH MOTHERWELL
OTTAWA (CP) — The "girl marries boss" story has an unusual twist in the life of Dr. Margaret Beznak, 45-year-old Ottawa research worker.

She married her boss in Budapest, Hungary, and continued the working relationship throughout her married life. Then, when her husband of 24 years died she took his place as head of the physiology department at the University of Ottawa.

The death of Dr. Aladar B. L. Beznak last July dissolved a partnership that saw the couple teaching and working on research projects in close association 10 hours daily through their shared desire to investigate the mysteries of the human heart.

Her interest in this aspect of medical research was "of course inspired by my husband," Dr. Beznak said in an interview. As well as being her boss, her husband was her teacher and guide.

"He gave me my outlook, taught me how to control experiments, and I learned my scientific research technique from my husband exclusively."

CONSTANTLY TOGETHER
The couple began their work day at 7:30 a.m., a habit Dr. Beznak continues. Her day ends at 6:30 p.m. with the only interlude a noon-hour staff consultation period over sandwiches, another practice established by her husband.

Dr. Beznak commutes from neighboring Hull, Que., across the Ottawa River.

"In Budapest we lived on a hill overlooking the parliament buildings with a beautiful view. My husband chose a place here looking across the river to the Parliament Buildings because it reminded him of how we lived in Budapest."

The romance blossomed while Dr. Beznak was working as a physiology demonstrator during her third year of medicine at Budapest University. She was late registering for the fall term owing to a trip to Britain. The young professor to whom she reported for duty had by coincidence also spent his summer holiday in Britain.

"That was our first link. We started chatting, became friends, and were married a few months later."

FAMILY OF DOCTORS
The marriage brought one more doctor into a medical family. Dr. Beznak's mother, father and brother graduated in medicine, and she counts seven doctors as near relatives.

Her principal research has been into affections of the heart and the basic principles that lead to changes in its size and working ability. She has published 50 papers, most of which have appeared in international English and German scientific journals. Her husband's work dealt with the chemical transmission of nervous impulses.

The couple worked together at Budapest University until Dr. Beznak was removed from his post by the Communist regime. They escaped from Hungary in 1948, walking some 20 miles to the border.

They went to Birmingham, England, and in 1953 came to Canada. Dr. Beznak becoming a senior lecturer in physiology at Ottawa University under her husband.

At present, with 60 students under her charge, Dr. Beznak has no time to continue her experiments. When the students are on summer holiday Dr. Beznak will turn again to her rats and her research.

RESEARCH WORKER — Dr. Margaret Beznak, who succeeded her late husband as head of the physiology department of the University of Ottawa, experiments with white rats when she is not lecturing. Dr. Beznak, 45, spends her free time doing research into affections of the heart and the basic principles that lead to changes in its size and working ability. Her husband, Dr. Aladar B. L. Beznak, died last year. They met at Budapest University but fled from Hungary when Dr. Beznak was removed from his post. They came to Canada in 1953. (CP Photo)

Couples Form Gourmet Club In Answer To Restaurants

TORONTO (CP)—Fed up with eating in restaurants, five couples have formed a gourmet club.

Each couple takes a turn as host to the other members. A lot of research goes into the dinners. The host and hostess plan the menu, service and wines.

For the past 10 years the couples have kept tabs on the city's restaurants. They decided the food just wasn't good enough.

"It doesn't matter what the restaurants serve," says the president, Lewis Sherman of Hamilton. "It can be a hot dog. But it should be piping hot and succulent meat, a tasty bun and suitable relish and it must be served so, consistently."

Club members say restaurants will serve good meals when good food is demanded by the public.

Recently, Dr. and Mrs. William Goodman were hosts at an eight-course French dinner. The menu, listed on an outline map of France, included hors d'oeuvres assortis, saumon Grubiche, granis Dauphinois, tournedos bearnaise, salade fines herbes, fromages, patisserie maison and cafe.

The accompanying wines and liqueur, chosen by Dr. Goodman, were Pernod, Pouilly - Fuisse, Grand Vin de Bourgogne, Cote de Beaune-Villages and Cointreau.

Previously, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Myers were hosts at a smorgasbord featuring 28 different dishes.

Club members may not criticize the food during the meal, but after dinner, the meal and the service are thoroughly examined.

Sane Sensible Silhouette

PARIS (Reuters) — The Paris fashion collections for spring and summer opened yesterday with a fire-works-free collection by Jacques Griffe, who sees milady 1960 as a calm, cool matron.

He keeps the silhouette sane and sensible, with a natural waistline, short (top of calf) skirt hemlines, and sharply - sloping shoulders under big collars camouflaging the bosom.

Silhouette variations include both the small waisted princess line dress with flaring skirt, and the supple bloused bodice, paired with box pleated skirts.

Griffe seems preoccupied with the navy. He shows big sailor collars of white organdie, middie blouse treatments, French sailors berets—and navy blue as a recurrent color.

BAGGY SLEEVES
Baggy, deep-set sleeves mark the coats and suits.

Printed overblouses complete the street ensemble, paired with matching deep - crowned Greta Garbo cloches.

Neither Child Nor Mom Is Happy in This Home

You aren't making yourself or your child happy when— You never make him wait for anything he wants, but knock yourself out to supply all of his wants as quickly as possible.

The things we prize the most are the things we yearn for before we get them, the things we aren't quite sure we are going to get at all, the things that don't appear as soon as we have expressed a wish for them.

Parents who give their children everything are bound to feel resentment when "everything" soon comes to be taken for granted as it certainly will.

You let him get away with being rude and disrespectful to you. Being disrespectful doesn't make a child any happier than it makes his parents. Children need to know that parents not only deserve but demand respect.

You act as though your child's plans are always more important than the plans of the adult member of the family. That encourages the kind of selfishness and self-centeredness you are going to find difficult to put up with.

You frequently decide that it would be easier to do something yourself than to insist on your child's doing it. This not only encourages the child to be lazy and irresponsible but it makes you responsible for duties your child should be assuming. Before you realize it you will be feeling like a martyr because "nobody ever does anything around this house but me."

You let your child procrastinate instead of insisting that things be done by a certain time. When putting off becomes a habit your child will suffer for it—and so will you.

The January meeting of Municipal Chapter of Sherbrooke, I.O.D.E., was held on Tuesday last at I.O.D.E. House, with the regent, Miss Frances Macdonald presiding.

Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, services secretary reported that 26 Christmas baskets were delivered and gratefully received by the recipients. A tempting array of foods was supplemented by toys for each child of the families provided for, supplied by two Primary Chapters of the Order, and the United Church Sunday School of North Hatley. A large box of white gifts from Sangster Memorial Sunday School was gratefully received.

Funds for this project were received from two sources: private donors, who were approached by letter in November, and many organizations in the city, who gave the names of those they wished to help and their donations to the I.O.D.E., whose long experience and facility of checking to avoid duplication makes the Order well-equipped to carry out this necessary task.

These organizations were: St. Francis Valley Lodge, L.O.B.A., Queen's Valley Chapter, O.E.S., Myrtle Rebekah Lodge No. 28, St. Peter's Church, St. Agnes' Guild and St. Margaret's Guild, the Church of the Advent, St. Mary's Guild of St. Paul's Church and Plymouth Church Ladies' Guild. To all of these, the Chapter extends its heartfelt thanks.

Since the New Year two layettes, two food orders and 14 pieces of clothing had been given out. Mrs. Loughheed requested the members to knit baby clothes as these were urgently needed.

Mrs. R. Havard, Empire and world affairs convener, continued her study of Japan.

Members were reminded of the Founders' Day luncheon being held in the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on Feb. 15 and the fact that this was the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of King George V Chapter of Sherbrooke.

Under Chapter activities the Aldershot Chapter spoke of its forthcoming Spinsters' Spree at the William St. Armoury on Feb. 13, and requested the support of all the members.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem, accompanist being Mrs. P. Dauncey. Refreshments were served by the 53rd Regiment Chapter.

Ken Watson On Curling No. 17 A Mathematical Formula To Curb Strategy

Modern curling strategy as practised by Canada's topnotch competitors has taken a lot of color out of the game.

As compared with the style of play in vogue a quarter of a century ago, today's version of the ancient Scottish pastime has reduced it to an exact science or a simple mathematical formula when it comes to two strong rinks fighting it out for provincial or Dominion laurels.

Gone is the era of in-wicks, out-wicks, raises, guards and draws through a narrow port that were the credentials of a champion a few decades back. Seldom do the armchair skippers behind the glass see a cluster of stones in the rinks and a barrage of guards out from when the name rinks clash, and rarely are the players called upon to do more than hit or draw. Long guards are drilled unceremoniously out of the way; short guards are buffeted to one side; crucial ends are deliberately blanketed to pulverize an opponent's attempt to come from behind and equalize the score. Stones are purposely thrown through the rings to dash the last smouldering fires of hope in the minds of an opposing rink.

Championship curling today, particularly among Western teams, is ruthless, relentless and hard and unyielding as steel. No quarter is asked and none given. But with all these modern maneuvers a lot of glamor has been lost.

The spectator gets this thrill because the stakes are high and the prize is great rather than from the excitement of witnessing a difficult hit-and-roll behind a covey of guards, a breathing draw through a narrow port, or a scintillating raise from the front ring to the button. All these and many more stories of the feats of long-ago greats in the curling world will seldom be repeated. Their modern counterparts play the law of averages and dictate a strategy that rules out the possibility of an opponent making a shot that cannot be followed with comparative ease.

This was the startling revelation that struck me last March when the young Canadian champions from Regina — the Richardson rink — relentlessly pounded Willie Young's Scottish champions into submission in the five-game International Series in their own back yard.

Here were two styles of play 30 to 40 years apart suddenly and dramatically drawn together. There was no transition allowed the Scots who had practiced their own style without interference until the miracle of modern air transportation imposed the dynamic play of the Canadian curling world on them.

With all the invincible qualities that the modern game has produced, curling has lost much of the finesse of the old days when greater versatility was demanded on its shotsmiths. This is the price that curling is paying for its present popularity with its accent on winning. But is it worth it?

NHL's Big Three Staging Battle For Top Spot

MONTREAL (CP) — The Big Three, waging a terrific battle for the National Hockey League scoring leadership, harvested a remarkable total of 19 points in last week's action and the ranking order of the triumvirate underwent a slight shuffle.

Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks lost co-leadership with Bruno Horvath of Boston Bruins and slipped into third place. Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens moved from third to second spot, one point ahead of Hull and only two behind Horvath.

Beliveau came up with a whopping eight points on four goals and four assists, Horvath collected seven points on three goals and four assists and Hull had to settle for four points on a two-two count.

When all the pucks had been shovelled from the nets Horvath was leading the parade with a total of 62 points, Beliveau had 60 and Hull 59. A week ago the standing was: Horvath and Hull 55 each; Beliveau 52.

Howe, Detroit's big siege gun, was held to a single goal and now shares eighth place, at 47 points, with Dickie Moore of Montreal. Moore also scored only one goal but racked up five assists for a six-point count and vacated 10th place.

Moore is trailed by team-mate Bernie Geoffrion, who missed two games because of illness. In the one game he played Geoffrion scored two goals and one assist. He has 45 points.

Jacques Plante of Montreal continues to set the pace for goaltenders. He whittled his goals-against average of 2.36 a week ago to 2.33.

MORE SHUFFLING

Against the Big Three's scoring spurge, the hopefuls further down the list could do comparatively little except to scramble positions among themselves.

Henri Richard of Montreal and Vic Stasiuk of Boston kept a private deadlock going but moved from fifth to fourth place. Richard scored two goals and two assists and Stasiuk matched the four-point effort with one goal and three assists. Each has 51 points.

Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers, with only two assists, dropped to sixth with 50 points.

George Brown Comes Up With New System For Losing Weight, Drops 14 Pounds Chasing "The Big O"

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ever wonder how to lose 14 pounds in a hurry? You might try George Brown's reducing plan and chase the Big O.

The Big O, in case you don't know, is Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, the nation's leading collegiate basketball scorer. Brown plays for Duquesne University.

Brown chased Robertson for 40 minutes in Duquesne University's duel with Cincinnati Saturday and lost 14 pounds. He not only muzzled Robertson but outscored him 19-13. Cincinnati won 61-58.

In the three years that Oscar has been the nation's leading scorer nobody else has outscored the Big O while guarding him. In this case, the Big O also guarded the man who outscored him—Brown.

Robertson came out of it with his scoring average reduced, but Brown came out of it with his weight reduced, both knees bloodied and his leg bruised. He lost 14 pounds in 40 minutes from the pressure of keeping up with Robertson, going from 212 pounds to 198 pounds.

"I think it was partly emotional and partly physical," said Brown. "I wasn't tight but I was emotionally up for the game. I had to be on the go every second. I couldn't let up for a minute. I was afraid to take my eyes off him."

Brown was all over Oscar like measles and had a hand in his face most of the time with the result Robertson missed 10 of his 14 shots from the field.

Duquesne coach Red Manning told Brown last Monday he would be guarding the Big O and Brown began preparing like an architect designing a skyscraper.

"I practiced on the freshmen," said Brown. "I thought about it all week how I'd do it. I planned it. I know he's the best player in the country but he was going to have to prove it."

"I spent all week convincing myself that maybe he might make a fool out of me but he'd have to be great. I figured if I do my best I can walk out of there knowing I played the best game I know how — no matter what anybody else thinks."

Richmond Braves At Home To Windsor Tonight, Cookshire At Rock Island In St. Francis Valley Hockey League

RICHMOND — Richmond Braves and Windsor Mills Paper Makers renew an old rivalry tonight when they meet in a regular fixture of the St. Francis Valley Hockey League.

Cookshire is at Rock Island in the other scheduled tilt in the Dr. Bernier loop. Braves lost a close 4-3 decision to Cookshire Sunday afternoon in the latter town and this was the third loss for Braves at the hands of the Cookshire club. No other club in the circuit has beaten Braves but Windsor Mills came close as the two rival clubs battled to a 5-5 tie recently.

A look at the scoring statistics shows M. Hottel on top by one point. He scored a goal and gathered three assists as Cookshire edged Richmond 4-3 Sunday. Hottel now has 10 goals and 12 assists for his total. Next to him four players tied for second place with 21 points each. Three are Braves and the other from Cookshire.

Topping this quartet is Roger "Pat" Desrosiers with 14 goals and seven assists. Gilbert Gagnon has eight markers and 13 assists. B. Morin of Cookshire has 10 goals and 11 assists. He picked up an assist in Sunday's game. Roger Smith with an assist on Sunday held on to his spot having 6 goals and 15 assists. Ben Lapierre of Windsor Mills nudged by Wayne Crack of Braves as he came up with two goals and an assist in their 7-5 win over Rock Island Sunday. Crack got an assist added to his 17 total for 18 points, same as M. Codere of Windsor who scored two goals and one assist to move up.

Others who moved up a notch or two are G. Reid of Cookshire, now with 17. Claude Major of Windsor with 16. Houde and Bergeron of Braves each with 15 points and R. Winters of Rock Island with 13.

With their win over Braves Sunday Cookshire is only one point back of first place held by Richmond. Braves will have to pull off a win at home tonight over Windsor to hang onto first place in the league standings. Rock Island, on the other hand, will be gunning for their second win in thirteen games. They have a tie which gives them only three points while Windsor is in third place with ten points, Cookshire 18 and Richmond with 19.

Richmond Braves may be without the services of two of their top men as Gagnon and Crack were injured in Sunday's game.

Montreal Alouettes Announce Plans For All-Out Development Program For Canadian Football This Spring

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes Monday announced plans for an all-out development program for Canadian football players from this area, with a turnout this spring as the first step.

The announcement was made by Perry Moss, new head coach and general manager of the Big Four team, at a press conference called to introduce two newly signed and two prospective acquisitions from the United States.

The camp for Canadians—similar to spring training camps held by U.S. colleges—is to open about May 2. About 75 to 80 players, all with minor league or scholastic football experience, are expected to attend.

The camp is to operate four days a week for about five weeks under direction of the Alouettes' full coaching staff. The camp will wind up with an intra-squad game and players then will be graded.

Most likely prospects will be invited to attend the Alouettes' regular pre-season camp, expected to open June 27 or July 4.

The players introduced are John Saunders, halfback from University of South Carolina; Dick Teteak, linebacker, formerly of University of Wisconsin and late cut last season by Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, and centre Bob Nelson and Bob Altmann from Wisconsin.

Saunders is the latest player announced as signing a tryout contract. Teteak's signing was previously announced. Nelson and Altmann were in Montreal to talk terms. No announcement was made as to their plans about signing.

Moscow Selects Wallop Vernon 10-2 Last Night

KELOWNA, B. C. (CP) — Moscow Selects smashed Vernon Canadians 10-2 in an exhibition hockey game Monday night before more than 3,000 stunned fans.

The touring Selects dominated the Okanagan Senior Hockey League leaders in skating, passing, shooting and even bodychecking. Only briefly in the second period and late in the third were the Canadians equal to the Selects.

The Russians now have won three of their six games in Canada. The next encounter in their 10-game tour is at Trail, B.C., Wednesday night against Trail Smoke Eaters of the Western International League.

Alexei Guryshov and Yuri Krilov led the Russians with two goals apiece while Boris Mayorov, Viktor Tsytlakov, Vitali Davidov, Vyacheslav Starshinov, Igor Dekonosky and Yuri Baulin each added one.

Vernon scorers were Walt Trentini and Buddy Evans, picked up from Kamloops Chiefs of the OSHL.

The Moscow team, considered a poorer squad than Russia's Olympic representatives, scored eight unanswered goals against the Canadians, currently considered an almost sure contender for the Allan Cup playoffs this year.

Bert Olmstead May Be Back For Tomorrow

TORONTO (CP) — Bert Olmstead of Toronto Maple Leafs will be back in action in Wednesday night's National Hockey League game here with Chicago Black Hawks after a six-week layoff.

The veteran left winger has been recuperating from torn ligaments in his left knee.

The Leafs, in second place when Olmstead was hurt, have since slid to third and have lost 12 of their last 20 games.

Win For Locals Could Move Them Into Tie For Second Place With Canucks, Close Game Is Expected

A tie for second-place will be at stake this evening when the Sherbrooke Beavers play hosts to the Victoriaville squad. In the other tilt Granby will visit Drummondville to complete the twinbill in the E.T. Intermediate Hockey League.

The Beavers fresh from their win over the league-leading Rockets Sunday afternoon in Drummondville will be at full strength for tonight's important battle. A win for them would move them into a stalemate with the Canadiens or second-place. On the other hand, Victoriaville comes up with a victory they will extend their lead over the Dube clan to four points.

In the four games played between the two teams this season the Canadiens hold the upper hand with three victories to their credit. The Beavers posted a 4-2 win over them on their second trip to Victoriaville while they dropped the first encounter 5-3.

In the tilts at Sherbrooke the fast-stepping Canucks have posted 5-1 and 4-1 victories over the Dube squad. At the time however the Beavers were short several of their players through injuries but now coach Dube has all his players in uniform and a good game should be witnessed by the fans at the local Arena.

It will be Granby's third visit to Drummondville this evening and in the first two games the Vics broke even. They are the only team which has shutout the Rockets this year when they posted a 4-0 verdict. In the other tilt the home club posted a 8-4 victory over Granby.

Coach Lou Poliquin will have his club going all out tonight in an effort to maintain their lead over the rest of the pack which is four points. Both games should be hard-fought battles before the winners are declared.

On the occasion of "Minor Hockey Week" Bob Beaudry, president of the Sherbrooke Beavers, stated last night that all children under 15 years of age would be admitted to tonight's game free of charge. Maurice Parsons, Minor Hockey Convener, who is in charge of special activities for the week wishes to thank the Sherbrooke club for their generous offer.

Bishop's Seconds Post 46-39 Win Over Bury In ETABA; Sherbrooke, Lennoxville Grads Meet Tomorrow

Bishop's Second team posted a 46-39 decision over Bury in a regular E.T.A.B.A. League game last night. This was the second win for Bishop's in three starts while, for Bury, it was their second loss in four games.

Fast, driving action was the by-word of the tilt played at Bishop's Memorial Gymnasium last evening with the hosts showing a spurt in play in the final minutes of the second half to take the fixture.

Bury turned in a commendable game and forced Bishop's to play at full tilt in order to wrap up the win. The interception, picking up of rebounds, and passing displayed by the visitors kept the hosts hopping throughout the battle which had spectators thrilled with superb action.

Bishop's Second squad, however, forced their way through Bury defense numerous times to take the game and were accurate on a majority of their shots.

The hosting club set up scoring plays very well and snapped the ball around in the Bury zone; forcing out the visitors and scoring.

Bob Home was top scorer of the victors and played a fine game; lapping up rebounds and hooking them in for two points time and time again during the struggle. Teammate Ed Delane set up successful Bishop plays many times in the fixture and dropped in numerous baskets with his long, arching shot. He was runner-up on the team's scoring list with 10.

Bob Stevenson and John Raynor also gunned play for the victors with each tallying eight points. Bob's driving style of offensive action proved to be just what Bishop's needed many times as he pressed into Bury's defense to tally. John Raynor racked up most of his tallies under the basket and was a key man in pick-up rebounds.

Vern Smith of the hosts also played a commendable game; setting up many plays and dropping in six points for his squad. All in all, Bishop's displayed some fine action in the battle and beat out Bury in the remaining few minutes for the win.

Wayne Cook led the Bury squad in points; tallying 16 for the honour. Wayne was the backbone of the club; setting up plays, snatching rebounds, and dumping in baskets.

Jimmy Macleod followed up Wayne Cook in Bury's scoring with 11; Jimmy displayed excellent driving offensive in the tilt and played a good defensive game under his own basket; picking up rebounds nicely.

Alan Sutherland and Delmar Harrison played a very fine game for the losers; scoring six and five respectively. Both boys played very well during the tilt and backed up team play commendably.

The next Eastern Townships Amateur Basketball League game is to be played this Wednesday when Lennoxville Grads and Sherbrooke Independents clash in a fixture at Lennoxville High School.

Bishop's Second Team — B. Home (12), E. Delane (10), J. Raynor (8), B. Stevenson (8), V. Smith (6), E. Humphreys (2), L. Austin, W. Denver, S. Weinstein, R. Burt, P. Brigg, E. Chapman. — Total 46.

Bury — W. Cook (16), J. Macleod (10), A. Sutherland (6), D. Harrison (5), R. Bennett (2), D. Fisher, B. Parsons. — Total 39.

The current E.T.A.B.A. standings follow.

New York State Takes Steps To Dissolve TelePromoter And Also Patterson Enterprises, Limited

NEW YORK (AP) — The state of New York Monday moved to dissolve TelePromoter and Floyd Patterson Enterprises, Limited, allegedly attempting to monopolize heavyweight title fights and their movie-TV-radio rights.

State attorney-general Louis J. Lefkowitz obtained a state Supreme Court order permitting him to begin action on the ground the two corporations acted "in flagrant violation of the state anti-trust laws." He called it an "unholy alliance."

A spokesman for the corporation denied there had been any violation of the anti-monopoly or anti-trust laws.

Patterson, former heavyweight champion, and his manager, Gus D'Amato, were not immediately available for comment.

The attorney-general's action grew out of an investigation into the promotion and movie-TV-radio rights of the heavyweight title fight last June 26 in which Patterson lost to Ingemar Johansson.

TelePromoter, described as a multi-million-dollar corporation, is active in numerous fields besides boxing.

It began with visual prompters to help in the delivering of speeches on television or radio. It became active in closed circuit television in 1956 for business conferences and government training programs, including the missile field. Then it went into closed circuit television of sports events.

Affidavits filed by the attorney-general said TelePromoter and Patterson Enterprises undertook last year to control heavyweight title fights for five years.

OUTLINES PROCEDURE

This was to be done, the papers said, through "subversive managers of contenders to the title, nominal promoters, interlocking directorate interests, and exclusive dominion of the lucrative motion picture, television and radio rights."

Minor Hockey Night In Sherbrooke Thursday

In cooperation with "MINOR HOCKEY WEEK IN CANADA," a minor hockey night will be held at the Sherbrooke Arena Thurs. evening starting at 7:00. This hockey night, which is being organized by the vice-president of the Quebec Minor Hockey Association Maurice Parsons, will open with an exhibition game between two clubs from Ecole Pie X in the Mosquito section.

These young future stars are all under 10 years of age and will be picked out from the four team league sponsored in the school under the Quebec Minor Hockey Association. This will be followed by an exhibition Pee-Wee game between two teams from the same school which also has a three-team league affiliated with the Q.M.H.A. These players are all under 12 years of age.

At 8:00 a regular game of the Sherbrooke Pee-Wee league will take place between St. Pat's High School and Sherbrooke High School. At the beginning of the season, St. Pat's defeated Sherbrooke by a 2-1 score, and Sherbrooke will be out to avenge this defeat. The way these youngsters play, this should be a humdinger.

Last year Sherbrooke High Pee-Wees won the Eastern Townships Championship and lost out in the Provincial finals in Verdun.

This game will be followed at 9:00 by a regular Juvenile League fixture between Progress Club and Aramis Club. Both clubs are in the fight for high positions in the new Sherbrooke Juvenile League and should give an interesting game.

This hockey night will show the improvement made by these youngsters and will show the interest taken by the coaches of these clubs. These men give their time benevolently in order to get these youngsters in a good healthy sport and are to be congratulated.

Invitations have been sent out to His Worship Mayor Nadeau, Alderman Tony Pinard, president of the parks committee, and Gaston Lebrun, superintendent of the City playgrounds. It is expected that a large number of parents and hockey fans will turn out to encourage these youngsters and see future stars in the making. There will be no admission so drop around at the Arena on Thursday evening for 7:00.

Six Additions Added To Team For Olympics

MONTREAL (CP) — Ken Farmer, president of the Canadian Olympic Association, announced Monday that six additions have been granted for Canada's team in the summer Olympics, bringing the total to 99.

Two were allowed for the shooting contingent and one each for boxing, wrestling, fencing and gymnastics.

Farmer also announced that $124,000 has been collected in the financial campaign. The total objective, $258,000, is to cover both the winter and summer games and the Pan-American Games of last summer.

Of the $124,000 received, $75,000 has come from the federal and various provincial governments; the remainder from the public.

The winter games are to be held at Squaw Valley, Calif., Feb. 18-28 and the summer games at Rome Aug. 25-Sept. 11.

Breakdown of the latest allotments for teams, showing competitors and officials:

Farmer said the summer games team, except for the basketball squad, is scheduled to leave Montreal by chartered TCA plane for Rome Aug. 17.

St. Pat's Bantams Down BCS Senecas 3-1, David Nutbrown Gets Two Goals; Midgets Meet Lennoxville At 4.30

St. Pat's Bantams posted a 3-1 victory over the B.C.S. Senecas yesterday afternoon at St. Pat's. In five games to date St. Pat's has won three, lost one and tied one.

David Nutbrown scored two of his team's goals as St. Pat's kept the pressure on Bishop's for most of the game. Nutbrown has scored two goals in each of his team's last three encounters. This year's squad looks pretty sharp and should be considered a serious contender for the league title.

Moyle put B.C.S. ahead early in the first period when he clicked on a pass from Cochand. David Nutbrown tied it up a little later, scoring on a nice pass combination with Randy Harte.

Nutbrown connected again in the second period on a pass from Mike Daniels to put the Irish one up. Doran Doucet closed the scoring when he got his first marker of the season, unassisted, late in the second period.

No scoring occurred in the final frame. B.C.S. goalie Abdalla was instrumental in keeping St. Pat's off the score-sheet as he stopped drive after drive. Play was almost continuously in the B.C.S. end of the rink as St. Pat's dominated play most of the time.

Spring Training To Decide Future For Ted Williams

BOSTON (AP)—Will the 1960 chapter of the Ted Williams story be entitled pinchhitter? Spot player? Regular?

Williams and spring training will provide the answers.

If the 41-year-old slugger is mostly a pinchhitter in the year ahead he'll be the highest paid on record in that category after signing a contract Monday at the same figure as 1959.

After a brief, secret early morning session with general manager Bucky Harris, the colorful Williams agreed to play in his 21st Red Sox campaign.

Ted recently testified under oath that his 1959 baseball earnings amounted to $60,000 but it never was clarified whether that figure was gross or net.

A painful neck ailment was the main reason Williams' always-lofty batting average fell from .328 to .254 last season.

Manager Billy Jurges commented: "How much you play at that age is up to the individual. I do know we can expect to get a lot of use out of him as a pinchhitter. I'll have to see how he does in spring training."

Bishop's Gaiters Wallop Laval 51-29 In Regular League Tilt

Bishop's Gaiters dumped Laval University 51-29 in a regular University League tilt played at the Memorial Gymnasium Friday evening. The Gaiters came back from a 10-10 tie at the end of the first half to take the tilt.

The Gaiters started off badly in the first half and played rather poorly. They held the visiting Laval team, however, to a 10-10 tie at the end of the half. Lax shooting and passing by the local squad hampered their scoring considerably and it seemed at the half-way mark that Bishop's would have a tough job of winning the fixture.

However, from the start of the second half, the Gaiters showed much better playing in all departments and generally handled the ball to a higher degree. Passing began to click and the baskets began to mount up as the Gaiters began to roll.

Laval was simply trampled under by the hosts in the second half and could do little to stop them. The Gaiters kept the ball in the visitors' territory during a major portion of the half and beat out Laval defense time and time again.

Squee Gordon starred for Bishop's racking up a total of 21 points; 17 of them in the second half. His driving offensive style and hook shot accounted for his slate. Next on the list of Gaiter scoring was Mike Caswell who dumped in 11 points for the honour.

Also high on Bishop's tally was Bud McMorrin who dropped in 10 points; thanks mainly to his long shot from the corner. Cliff Maclean tallied six and displayed a fine style in picking up rebounds.

Top scorer for Laval University was Bob Giroux with 10 points. Teammates C. Bouchard, C. Beullard, and D. Vanasse were next on the team's list with four each.

Bishop's Gaiters: R. Gordon (21), M. Caswell (11), B. McMorrin (10), C. Maclean (6), T. Runions (3), J. Raynor, R. Kotze, D. MacKay, G. Miller, V. Smith, R. Stevenson, M. Smith. Total - 51.

Laval University: B. Giroux (10), C. Bouchard (4), C. Beullard (4), D. Vanasse (4), S. Tremblay (3), Boucher (2), J. Lavoie (2), R. Begin, A. Bouchard, V. Portelance. Total - 29.

Rudy Migay Is One Point Away From AHL Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Rochester's Rudy Migay was within one point of breaking Floyd Smith's 12-week hold on the American Hockey League's scoring leadership today.

Smith, of league-leading Springfield, has scored only three points in the last two weeks and has a total of 60. Migay, with a five-point spurge last week, has 59.

Two of Smith's team-mates, Bill Sweeney and Art Stratton, are third and fourth, respectively. Sweeney has 57 points and Stratton is a point behind.

Smith has scored 22 goals and has 38 assists, while Migay has scored 15 times and is tied with Stratton as the league-leader in assists, each with 44. Rochester's Stan Smrke has scored the most goals, 28.

Rochester's Ed Chadwick leads the goaltenders with a 2.67 average.

Home And School Association Follows Lengthy Agenda At Meeting In Sutton

SUTTON — The January meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the auditorium with Doug Wighton in the chair. This year the president, Mrs. Cecil Carr, is introducing the plan of asking a different member to take the chair at each meeting.

Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Homer Ruitter. The financial report was given by Mrs. W. Dyer, treasurer. Correspondence was read and included many letters of appreciation for Christmas boxes.

Mrs. Bleser, chairman of the committee for packing the boxes, reported that the response to requests for donations had been very satisfactory and that 19 boxes were packed and sent out two days before Christmas.

R. Phelps and S. Pergau reported that the New Year's Eve party had been successful and that records played on the new public address system rendered satisfactory music for dancing. Both children and parents had an enjoyable time.

S. Pergau, principal, announced that Miss Bulmer, who has been catering for the noon hot lunches since the new school was opened, has found it necessary to give it up on account of illness. A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Bulmer for her faithful services during the past years and arrangements were made to send her a cheer basket.

The hot lunches will be served on a trial basis at the same rate for another month by Mrs. D. Mudgett and Mrs. M. Lewis, after which they will decide whether or not they would be willing to take over the catering on a permanent basis.

A vote of thanks was extended Mr. Bailey for obtaining and installing the new public address system in the school.

A report from the truancy officer stated that children from two families were not able to attend school because they did not have proper clothing. Arrangements were made for donations of used clothing to be sent to the president, Mrs. Cecil Carr, who will make the distribution as needed.

A list of those willing to billet children overnight when they became snowbound after taking part in hockey and basketball games, was made up and given to Mr. Pergau. Those wishing their names added to the list will please contact him.

It was reported that two albums of records had been purchased to be used by the teacher in the music appreciation class. The ways and means committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mudgett announced that they would hold a food sale in the United Church Hall on Jan. 22 and that donations of food for the sale would be gratefully received.

The chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Hollis Dyer, introduced several high school students, each of whom gave an interesting talk on the various duties involved in the activities with which they were connected. The speakers were: Catherine Carr, president of the Students' Council; Murray Newell, treasurer; Howard Robinson, vice-president; Mae Miller, chairman of the program committee; Karen Leibrecht, head monitor; Linda Miltimore, book room; Sheila Hooper, editor of the Spotlight; Teddy Ruitter, president of the Athletic Association; and Helen Mason, representative of the Junior Red Cross.

Michael Murray also a High School student, gave a reading entitled, Albert and the Lion, complete with gestures and cockney accent.

The students were thanked by Rupert Phelps.

A social period was enjoyed with refreshments in charge of Mrs. Robert Cowan.
