FOUGHT IN DARK WITH A BURGLAR

Mr. Martin Kelly, of McCord Street, Captured Him After Struggle.

WAS ARMED WITH A KNIFE

Told Mr. Kelly He Was Lucky to Escape the Bnife—Keys of Mr. Kelly's Saloon Found in the Creole's Pocket.

"You are very lucky! I was going to use it on you, but took pity."

"It" was an open pocket knife, and the words were addressed by James Robertson, alias Allan, towards Mr. Kelly, of 139 Garnd Trunk Street, whose house he was ransacking at an early hour yesterday morning.

Mr. Kelly was awakened about two o'clock by one of his daughters screaming, and on rushing from his bedroom he was in time to see a man bounding downstairs. Overtaking the visitor in the hall a severe struggle took place, with no light handling sought or given, and while this was in progress Mrs. Kelly ran for the police station, which is close at hand. Lieut. Handy, was the officer on duty, and without waste of time he went to the assistance of Mr. Kelly, and took over the prisoner, on whom he found various small articles that had been stolen, as well as an open knife, held up his right sleeve in good position for a handy "pull."

Accused, who is a creole giving his address as 154 Broome Street, New York, has been in the locality for a few weeks, and a fortnight ago borrowed a step- ladder from Mr. Kelly's to do some cleaning at a neighboring house. At that time he was sent into the basement to fetch the ladder, and he doubt toook advantage of the opportunity to size up the situation, as it was here he succeeded in forcing an entrance yesterday morning.

While on the premises he well ransacked most of the rooms, but seemed most enamored with the keys of Mr. Kelly's saloon on Montmorency Street, which he removed from the pocket of that gentleman's trousers while he slept.

Robertson was to-day remanded by Judge Lafontaine for enquete.

President of Can. Northern Summoned in Haste to Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 8.—(Special)—President MacKenzie of the Canadian Northern who left Toronto for Winnipeg Saturday, had not intended coming West until the end of next week, but according to the report that formed the topic of lively interest among the Ministers' intimates yesterday, he received a communication from the local Government that caused him to hasten his departure. The exact nature of the communication cannot be ascertained, but it is understood some friction has arisen between one or more Ministers of the Provincial Cabinet and their pet railway company.

It is said Premier Roblin is exceedingly annoyed over some incident that has recently occurred, and he will probably take the opportunity to let the C. N. R. people know he is still Premier and chief minister of the Government and arrangements regarding railways in Manitoba in which Government are concerned cannot be effected or consummated without his knowledge or sanction.

Of course these rumors may be absolutely foundationless as no confirmation of them can be secured from any person connected with the railway or the Government here as everyone spoken to declared ignorance of the matter, but the mysterious manner and reticence of those who are in close touch with the Ministers, when approached on the subject indicate there is "something to it."

CITY HALL OFFICIALS ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF FORGERY AND MISAPPROPRIATION OF FUNDS

Under suspicion of having misappropriated eight blank cheques, used by the civic treasury department for the bi-weekly payment of checks in the employ of the corporation, and of having forged the names of Mr. S. Casavan, Assistant City Comptroller, Mr. Charles Arnoldi, Assistant City Treasurer, and Mr. J. Hewitt, cashier, two civic employees, Messrs. C. Trempe, of the arrears department, and A. R. Brunet, of the comptroller's department, were arrested Saturday night and are to-day confined in the detectives headquarters. It is alleged that an attempt to use one of the checques, on the Hochelaga Bank, in favor of an imaginary City Hall employee, "Mr. Boyer," for the sum of $45 dollars, was made, and that for some five or six weeks past the treasurer's and comptroller's departments have been thrown into confusion by the presence of these spurious orders.

The cheques in use at the City Hall are in the shape of books, for the convenience of handling, and each "page" of the book contains eight of these slips. Every two weeks the cheques are filled out by the paymaster, payable to the several employees, and the supposition exists that the two suspected clerks thought by making out the alleged stolen cheques to fictitious employees, and then presenting them at the bank, to realize the sum on the face of the paper. In fact, a prominent City Hall official stated this morning that one cheque at least, that in favor of Mr. Boyer, had been successfully passed.

Both the gentlemen under suspicion are highly thought of by their friends in the City Hall. They deny any improper dealings whatsoever.

Chief Carpenter, of the detective force, when seen this morning by a Herald reporter, admitted that two clerks had been taken into custody Saturday night, and were at present in the detective headquarters, but refused to vouchsafe any information as to the offence or the reason of their apprehension.

"There is an investigation on foot," said he, "but as to what the character of that research is I am not at liberty to say."

City Treasurer Robb confirmed the facts of the story. He said that eight blank cheques had been missing for over a month and that the two clerks had been apprehended, for an alleged forgery of the names of the above-mentioned civic employes.

"I do not wish to appear in the matter at all," was the city treasurer's remark. "I believe the two young men Brunet and Trempe are down in the detectives' office and that they are under suspicion—but anything more I am not prepared to say."

Mr. Arnoldi, the assistant city treasurer also confirmed the details of the affair but as all the City Hall officials, was extremely reticent.

The City Comptroller in whose office one of the suspects was employed is out of the city, and could not be seen in reference to the alleged forgeries.

The event has occasioned a great deal of excitement in civic circles and the Finance Committee, with Calef Campeau of the Police Force went into secret session over the matter after a regular meeting this morning. More arrests may follow.

Last fall, it will be remembered Mr. D. A. Hamel, then paymaster was arrested and later found guilty on a similar charge.

The matter may come up at the city council meeting this afternoon.

The young couple left the city suddenly by the afternoon C.P.R. train and proceeded direct to New York, where they were married the following day.

GREAT CONGRESS OF RAILWAY MEN

Washington Congress Was Opened by Vice-President of United States.

Washington, D.C., May 8.—(Special) The International Railway Congress was formally opened here on May 4 in the New Willard Hotel. The Vice-President of the United States, Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, took the chair at the opening session to welcome the delegates. On his right was Mr. Ernest Gerard, first delegate of the Belgian Government, and member of the Permanent Commission, and on his left was Mr. Weessenbruch, general secretary of the Permanent Commission. On the platform were the permanent members, also the members of the American section of the Permanent Commission, and the first delegates of the governments adhering to the congress. Before the platform sat ambassadors, ministers and chiefs of the legations at Washington of the Government which have adhered to the congress; members of the Supreme Court, and members of the committee of the United States Senate.

An address of welcome was delivered by Vice-President Fairbanks. In the course of his address the speaker summed up in a few words the far-reaching influence of the railway in the world's civilization, and noted the hopeful signs manifested by such a gathering of the railway kings of the world.

"The assembling of the International Railway Congress is of far reaching moment. These sessions bring together and bring into closer fellowship men of distinguished ability, representatives of many nations interested in promoting a common and wholesome purpose. They bring together those who are engaged in promoting the arts of peace and who are desirous of advancing the welfare of mankind. They enlarge the circle of international acquaintance and promote the principles of international friendship. They emphasize the fact that our common good is to be promoted by a maintenance of a broad, fraternal, international spirit. While deliberating upon measures for promoting the welfare of the great interests committed to your care, let us hope that you may cultivate a spirit and a purpose to promote, through the arbitrament of reason, the adjustment and settlement of those problems and questions which sometimes arise to vex and menace international peace. The nation which seeks an honorable settlement of differences with its neighbors in some other way than by an appeal to the sword is not decadent. It is not wanting in international virility; it is simply manifesting the fact that it is keeping step with the progress of civilization, it is evidencing the fact that the barbaric strain has run out of its blood."

Mr. Frouet Gerard addressed the congress also and later presidents of the sections were appointed. The business congress will be transacted in private sections, and in the French language as a standard. The privacy of the meetings is to admit of perfect freedom of speech by the delegates.

While the Montreal delegates were in New York, en route to Washington, several of the European delegates expressed surprise at the state of New York streets, which, while somewhat ahead of those of Montreal, are not excellent. Mr. Anderson, representing the Indian Government, remarked "Frankly, I was disappointed at the streets of New York. They are those of London fifty years ago."

MR. GEORGE M'LEOD DIED AT ST. JOHN YESTERDAY

He Was a Prominent Figure in Political Life for Many Years.

St. John, N.B., May 8. (Special.) Mr. George McLeod, for years one of the most prominent men in New Brunswick as lumberman, ship-owner and politician, died Sunday. About a fortnight ago he was stricken with apoplexy. A quarter of a century ago he was regarded as one of the most vigorous and effective political campaigners in the Maritime Provinces. He was born in Restigouche in 1835, the son of William McLeod, a leading lumber merchant. He studied law, but never practiced. Instead he became identified with his father in the lumber business and operations on an extensive scale were carried on. He was interested in shipping also, at one time controlling some twelve large vessels.

Mr. McLeod was particularly active in politics. He supported the late Sir S. L. Tilley during the campaign for Confederation. In 1864 he entered Parliament as the representative for Kent. It was during the Alexander Mackenzie administration, of which he was a supporter. In the general election of 1878 he was defeated in Kent, but in 1882 he contested the constituency of St. John city against Sir S. L. Tilley. Three years later he ran for the city and county of St. John and was defeated. Soon after Mr. McLeod withdrew his allegiance from the Liberal party and he was later battling for the Conservative interests. In a subsequent campaign he was chosen by the party caucus as candidate. The meeting for ratification did not accept the choice however.

Mr. McLeod was a convincing and forceful speaker. His second wife and two sons survive.

STILL THEY COME.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, May 8. Three steamers left Glasgow on Saturday for Canadian ports, with 1,550 emigrants, 400 are young men and most of them are all experienced agriculturists bound for Winnipeg and the Northwest. These parties are exclusively Scotch.

SKIN VOLUNTEERS REQUIRED.

St. Thomas, Ont., May 8.—(Special)—All the burns on Brakeman Bruce Little, who was injured in a railway wreck last November, have healed excepting on one leg between knees and ankle, and attending surgeons say skin grafting is the only remedy. Accordingly fifteen persons have given up pieces of their skin, but forty more pieces are required.

LONDON STOCK MARKET AFFECTED BY POSSIBILITY OF TROUBLE OVER NEUTRALITY QUESTION

London, May 8.—Vague fears of possible complications over French neutrality in the Far East affected the tone at the opening of the stock exchange to-day. The markets were inclined to flatness all around. Paris, however, showed an inclination to buy its favorites rather than sell, indicating a belief that the neutrality question will be amicably arranged. The uncertainty concerning the American market and the possibility of financial difficulty here over an American speculative account tended to increase the feeling of nervousness.

French Official Explains.

Paris, May 8.—The critical tone of the British press concerning France's alleged breaches of neutrality in Indo-China brought out an emphatic general statement to-day from the Foreign Office that the accusations are unfounded.

An official said: "It is universally known that the Japanese intelligence department is exceptionally efficient. Therefore if various specific breaches of neutrality really existed the Japanese Government would have been aware of them and would have presented specific charges to the French Government. So far, however, Japan's official action has been confined to requesting France to exercise strict neutrality. She has not made any specific charges nor have any specific acts of violation of neutrality yet been brought to our attention. The Japanese Government asked in an amicable spirit that we observe neutrality, and we answered that we had done and are doing everything possible to that end. The reports to the contrary we believe to be misrepresentations."

Japanese Minister Protests.

Dr. Motono (the Japanese Minister to France) went to the Foreign Office yesterday evening, where he had an extended interview with Foreign Minister Delcasse. The nature of their conversation was not disclosed, but it is understood that Dr. Monoto referred to Japan's increasing impatience regarding the alleged breaches of neutrality.

The feeling prevails here that the situation is gradually assuming much tension. Reports are current that the positive instructions of the French officials here receive perfunctory executive on the part of their subordinates in Indo-China, owing to the individual sympathy existing between the civil and naval French and Russian authorities.

A semi-official note issued this afternoon says: "Contrary to the allegation contained in a despatch from Hong Kong to a foreign agency, not only has the French Government not disregarded the rules of neutrality, but after sending its civil and military agents very precise instructions for the enforcement of those rules, the Government has unremittingly seen to their extension."

Proposes Retaliation on France.

Tokio, May 8.—A member of the Chamber of Commerce of this city has written to that organization suggesting organized commercial retaliation on France on account of the hospitality shown by her to the second Russian Pacific squadron.

The writer proposes that the Chambers of Commerce throughout the Empire act jointly in boycotting the goods of French merchants.

It is possible that the Chamber of Commerce here will decline to consider the question.

Nebogatoff's Division Sighted.

Hong Kong, May 8.—A special despatch from Saigon, Cochin-China, reports that Rear Admiral Nebogatoff's division has passed Saigon.

A Russian cruiser was off Hon Kohe Bay (a short distance north of Kamranh Bay) May 5, when the British steamer Charterhouse which arrived here to-day passed that point. The latter also noticed a collier leaving the bay and steaming east but the main Russian squadron was not seen.

The British steamer Angola from Muroran (Japan), was stopped by a Japanese cruiser in the Straits of Korea. After being question about her cargo and destination she was allowed to proceed.

Main Fleet Off Annam.

Saigon, French Cochin-China, May 8.—The Russian hospital ship Kostroma, arrived here to-day, which indicated the approach of the fourth division of the Russian Pacific squadron, commanded by Vice-Admiral Nebogatoff. Sixteen freight laden steamers are off Cape St. James, near here. The main Russian squadron is said to be off the coast of Annam.

The Situation in Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, May 8.—Interest is once more directed to Manchuria the news from the front indicating that Field-Marshal Oyama is pressing Gen. Linevitch's advance posts east and west of the railroad with considerable force as it about to undertake a general offensive movement. The Russians are offering slight resistance and are falling back upon their first line of defense. The Russian advance post covers a front of about 100 miles extending from Singtmantsu on the Liao River in a southeasterly direction across the railroad above Changtu to the Mandarian road (leading to Kirin) to Kamal pass about seventy miles due east of Tie Pass. The Russian cavalry protect both wings, small bodies being probably beyond the Liao River in Mongolia, to guard against a surprise turning movement in that direction. Experts believe, however that Oyama's purpose is to thrust in from the east, turn Kirin and interpose himself between Harbin and Vladivostok preparatory to the investment of the latter place. Linevitch's dispositions seem especially taken to meet such a plan. He would not give battle along his present line but would gradually retire and draw in his forces as Oyama's strategy developed to the main Russian positions which extend due east and west from Kirin, through Kuanchantsu to Hualfaihsien. A considerable force of troops is also reported to be due east of Kirin as far south as the Tumen river to contest the Japanese advance northeastward toward Vladivostok. It is not regarded as certain that the Japanese advance will really be serious.

Oyama Reinforced.

Oyama is known to have received large reinforcements which have filled up the Japanese ranks and he brought up immense quantities of supplies and ammunition after the battle of Mukden, both by way of Sinmintin and over the reconstructed Manchurian railroad. But at the War Office here there is a difference of opinon as to whether Oyama is yet ready and it is added that if he is in earnest probably almost a fortnight will elapse before the issue is decided the preliminaries of each of the battles of the present area, having always been long and tedious. Up to yesterday the Russian advance posts had generally retired about eighteen miles. If Oyama's offensive is pressed home a climax should be reached at about the time the sea fight between Admirals Rojestvensky and Togo is anticipated. General Linevitch's headquarters are at Gunshu Pass.

Sick List in Russian Army.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, May 8.—In view of the exaggerated reports of sickness in the Russian armies published abroad, the Associated Press is authorized to give the following figures furnished from headquarters, of the number of sick in the entire region from Baikal east to Vladivostok:

In hospitals for convalescents, wounded—216; sick, 332.

CANNOT TOUCH LABOR UNION FUND

Important Judgment Affecting Liability of Unions

Toronto, May 8. The money which a labor union may have on deposit in a savings bank cannot be attached to satisfy a legal judgment. This is the gist of the judgment delivered by the Master in Chambers on the motion made by the Metallic Roofing Company against local Union No. 30, Sheet Metal Workers, to attach money on deposit in the Dominion Bank to the credit of the defendants in satisfaction of costs recovered by the plaintiff company.

In answer to the question, "Is the money attachable?" the Master says, "The point is admitted to be new. The Court of Appeal held that a local union was not a legal entity and consequently cannot hold property. Therefore the money in the Dominion Bank is not the property of the union, but rather a trust fund belonging to those who from time to time are eligible to share in it through sickness or death. The money paid into the fund ceases at once to be the property of the contributors. They have no longer any individual power to deal with it. It has passed out of their control and is therefore non-assignable by them, nor can it be attached to satisfy their debts. The Court of Appeal decided that the two voluntary associations cannot be made parties to the action. They can only be reached in the way of the order made by Justice MacMahon and the appointment of certain members to represent others. Whether such an order will bind other members of the association so as to render them liable for costs is a matter which may have to be considered later on. How it will be decided is by no means clear. At present it is sufficient to say that the funds in question are not shown to be eligible to satisfy the plaintiff's claims. Before an order of his kind can be made it must be beyond any reasonable doubt that the money is properly liable. As the point is new and the plaintiffs enjoyed a measure of success there will be no costs for either party."

TELEPHONE GIRL WEDS CAPITALIST

Mr. Whitney, of Magog, Que., Figures in a Romance.

New York, May 8.—In the chapel of St. Cecilia's Church, Brooklyn, were married Mr. E. R. Whitney, a wealthy promoter of Magog, Que., and Miss Annie Bennett, formerly a telephone operator at the Grand Union Hotel. The bridegroom is seventy years old, the bride gives her age as twenty-three.

The ceremony was witnessed by a few close relatives of both families. The bridesmaid was Miss Bennett's chum, Miss Ida Schmidt, until recently a telephone operator at the Park Avenue Hotel. The best man was Charles Schmidt, an uncle of the latter, who is treasurer of the Buena Vista Ore Company. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McGoldrick, pastor of St. Cecilia's. Both bride and bridesmaid wore gowns of cream colored crepe de chine, trimmed with white lace.

The romance of the Canadian and his bride has been told at length before. Mr. Whitney wanted to be married at once but was obliged to postpone the event on account of the formation of a business combination which required of his time. When the engagement was announced Mr. Whitney gave his fiancee a large amount of money, and last week he added more for her trousseau. The bridesmaid was also remembered with gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney after the honeymoon at Atlantic City, will take a trip to Europe. On their return they will live in New York. Mr. Whitney's best man was to have been his son, but the latter, who is abroad, found it impossible to return in time.

GIFT OF 25,000 FRANCS.

The Union Nationale Francaise at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon passed a resolution thanking the French Government for a gift of 25,000 francs which is to be used in purchasing a house for the Union in this city. Mr. Kleczkowski, the consul-general for France, in Canada, presided and congratulated Mr. J. Helbronner for his work in getting the grant from the Government.

STEAMER SUNK IN 15 MINUTES

Coal Laden Barge Crashed Into Steamer Near Vineyard Haven.

DURING A VERY DENSE FOG

Sixty-five Persons Got Safely Off in Remarkably Quick Time and Only One Passenger Was Drowned.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., May 8.—With the arrival here early to-day of the tug Patience came news of one of the most remarkable marine disasters in the history of Vineyard Sound shipping. The Joy line steamer Aransas, bound from Boston, for New York, was struck by the coal laden barge Glendower, in tow from Philadelphia for Boston, and sunk within fifteen minutes, but out of thirty-seven passengers and a crew of twenty-nine on the steamer most of whom were asleep at the time of the collision, only one life was lost. Miss Mamie Kelley, twenty-seven years of age, residence unknown, was missing when the roll of passengers was called.

The scene of the collision was about a mile and a half southeast of Pollock Rip shoals lightship. Although the accident happened at 1.30 o'clock yesterday morning and at a point only thirty-three miles distant from this port, the survivors did not arrive here until early to-day, the thick fog which prevailed necessitating slow navigation.

The Aransas, Capt. Rood, in command, left Boston Saturday afternoon and was well across the bay before she ran into the fog. It was about midnight on Saturday when the steamer began to thread her way cautiously across the perilous Nantucket shoals, keeping close to her course in spite of the fog.

At 1.30 o'clock Sunday morning, when about a mile and a half from the Pollock Rip Shoals lightship, the tug Patience with a tow of three barges loomed up through the fog. The tug cleared the Aransas, but the barge Glendower struck the steamer amidships, tearing open a great hole through which the sea poured like a cataract. The Glendower was uninjured by the collision.

The engine room and fire room of the Aransas were quickly flooded and torrents of water rushed through the great hole in the steamer's side. It was seen that the steamer was sinking and orders to lower the boats were given.

Most of the passengers and crew were in their berths at the time of the collision, but all were awakened by the crash. They dressed hastily and rushed up on deck. Although there was great excitement there was no panic. Captain Rood and Mate Crocker preserved excellent discipline among the crew, quickly calmed the fears of the passengers and maintained order.

While some of the passengers were being transferred to the boats, the tug drew alongside the rapidly sinking Aransas and took off those who had not already taken to the boats.

Among the passengers were five women and one child. All were saved with the exception of Miss Kelley. Mate Crocker remembers having assisted Miss Kelley to the ladder leading to the life boats. Whether she lost her balance and fell overboard or whether she returned to her stateroom to get some forgotten article and was carried down with the steamer will never be known, but when the roll of passengers and crew was called at this port, Miss Kelley was the only one who failed to respond.

Few of the passengers saved anything except their clothing and small hand baggage.

As soon as the Aransas had disappeared the tug with the survivors on board put about and headed for this port. On account of the dense fog the tug was obliged to go very slowly and it was not until after midnight that she arrived here. Some of the passengers belonged in Providence and others in Boston and New York.

The Aransas lies sunk in ten fathoms of water, with the mastheads sticking out. She rests at one side of the main channel. She had a full cargo of general merchandise, most of which, it is understood, was insured.

The Aransas was a twin screw screw steamer, of 1,156 gross tonnage, and 678 tons net. She was built in 1877 at Wilmington, Del. She was formerly owned by the Southern Pacific Railway Company.

The wreck of the Aransas is reported to be directly in the path of the coastwise steamers.

RECOGNIZE CANADA AS A GOOD FIELD

Mr. B. Hal Brown Speaks of English Insurance Opinion.

Mr. B. Hal Brown, manager of the London and Lancashire Life Assurance, has just returned from a six weeks trip to England. Mr. Brown's visit was purely on the company's business. English underwriters, says Mr. Brown, are satisfied that Canada is the coming country of the world, but believe that conditions are such that the cost of business is more here than it should be. They would have larger demand for it if it could be obtained at what they think reasonable cost. They hold the Canadian field in life insurance to be the best for two reasons—the healthfulness of the people, and their ability to pay the premiums. Investments in Canada are regarded as being of a very high class. The general trend of feeling particularly among the leading people, and freely expressed, was for a closer feeling binding the colonies together in the bonds of Empire. The principal drawback in business relationship between Canada and England was the historical conservatism of the latter country.

INCREASE OF HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

Ottawa, May 8.—(Special)—An increase in the homestead entries during the month of April is an indication of the growth of the west. The entries for this April are 1493 larger than the same month the year previous. In April 1905 they numbered 3791 and the same month the year before they amounted to 2818.

What's In a Name?

No, dear reader, there is no truth in the rumor that the official name is to be altered from the "Horse Show" to the "Millinery Display and Dress Parade."

Should the name be changed? Well, how much do you have to pay for feminine headgear and dainty creations? If you pay more than $20 you are entitled to hold a decided opinion in the matter.

What Did the Poor Girl Do?

Elbert Francis B. Lee, of the Trenton True American, has time, now that the Legislature is over, to devote attention to the pleasant duties of life. He propounds a question that proved go chance down through the ages alongside Is marriage a failure? and "How old is Ann?" Here it is:

A pretty girl,
Fierce gust of wind,
New picture hat,
Black bow behind;
Pink hosiery
Small polka dots,
White skirt bedecked
With bright, red spots
The gale tore with
That skirt and hats
One must be saved—
Let this or that?
Debating clubs
A subject new
What is the poor girl
Now to do?

The late Frank Stockton's famous question is not more absorbing. What did Mr. Lee's heroine do? Before answering we should like to know more about her.

SEVERING PARTY TIES.

SCALDED HIMSELF TO DEATH AT SEA

Extraordinary and Tragic End of an Insane Passenger on the Ottawa.

A tragic incident occurred during the voyage of the Dominion Line steamship Ottawa from Liverpool to Montreal. The steamer arrived in the city last night, but one of those who had boarded her at Liverpool had gone to join the great majority. A passenger named Dutton committed suicide in a fit of lunacy during the voyage and was buried at sea.

Dutton, who was about twenty-three years of age, was travelling alone and nothing peculiar was noticed in his demeanor until the evening of the first day out from Liverpool when he began to act strangely while walking on the deck. He suddenly commenced to shout and run about in a most unaccountable manner, frightening the other passengers by his behavior. The ship's doctor saw at once that he was not in his right mind and had him removed to one of the hospital rooms. He was placed under surveillance and everything possible was done to make him comfortable, but later he became very violent and smashed up everything that was breakable in the room.

Another hospital room was arranged specially for him and he was removed to it. Everything movable was taken out of this room, even the attachment for turning on and off the steam and exhaust in the heating coils being removed. The officers of the ship placed a strict watch upon Dutton and as he appeared to be resting easily, no fears were entertained for his safety. One morning when the attendants opened the door of his room a flood of steam rushed out. Entering the apartment, which was full of steam, they found the unfortunate man lying on the floor with a blanket around his head. It was found that he had succeeded in wrenching one of the steam pipes from its place and breaking it. The escaping steam and water had scalded him to death.

A funeral service was held and Dutton's body was buried at sea. The young man was unknown to the other passengers or any of the ship's crew. The doctor stated that there could be no doubt but that he was violently insane.

CURED AT LAST

A Well-Known McCord St. Lady Testifies to the Exceptional Merits of ST. JAMES WAFERS.

After Seven Years' Suffering She is Restored to Health Within a Few Weeks by the Use Alone of this Wonderful Remedy.

Turn of Life Was the Cause of All Her Troubles.

"An ounce of proof is worth tons of theory," so says the proverb. If this be true, what are we to think of the marvellous cures operated by St. James Waters?

The press oft-times contains testimonials of grateful patients, who, after suffering for years, tried these Wafers, and were cured by the use of this truly wonderful medicinal preparation.

A case of special interest was recently called to our attention; it is that of Mrs. Murphy, residing at No. 123 McCord Street, Montreal.

For over SEVEN YEARS this lady had been a victim of chronic headache and indigestion, which had so reduced her strength that she was in the utter impossibility of attending even to her slight housework.

She had heard of St. James Wafers, but had very little confidence in "patent medicines" in general, as there are so many nostrums of no value which are daily foisted on the unsuspecting public.

However, one evening, after reading in the papers of the cure of a lady who had been similarly afflicted, she resolved to give these wafers a fair test.

She secured a box from a neighboring druggist, and began that very night to follow the treatment indicated on the prospectus.

Half a box sufficed to cause a great improvement in her health, and after taking two or three boxes all vestige of disease had disappeared, new life seemed to flow through her veins, the flush of health was restored to her cheeks, and, once more, life seemed worth living, thanks to the curative properties of the St. James Wafers.

Following the example of many of the patients who had been cured by the use of St. James Wafers, she gratefully addressed the St. James Wafer Company the following testimony, which proves better than any argument of talk or print the veracity of the claims made for this preparation:

"For over seven years I had been troubled with indigestion and headaches, and also I would take such dizzy turns at times, that it was almost impossible for me to do my work, until I started taking St. James' Wafers. I had not taken more than half a box before feeling better, and after the use of three or four boxes, I am completely restored in health, and do not hesitate to recommend the Wafers to others."

—Mrs. Murphy, 123 McCord St.

Many other women who are suffering with similar affections to those which had made Mrs. Murphy a physical wreck can be immediately relieved by the use of St. James Wafers.

Scientific analysis proves that these Wafers contain no alkiloids or other dangerous ingredients.

Its components are absolutely pure vegetable extracts, and have all the medicinal properties required to build body, brain and muscle.

The thousands of cures already operated suffice to prove the vast superiority of St. James Wafers over "similar" products of the "just as good" variety, which not only cannot cure you, but are often harmful to the health.

If you are ill, or feel "out of sorts," remember that the unparalleled St. James Wafers is a remedy of exceptional merit, absolutely free from any deleterious ingredients, that will promptly and efficaciously cure you.

St. James Wafers can be had at the moderate price of 50 cents per box (or $2.50 per six boxes), at all Pharmacists, everywhere.

If your local dealer cannot supply you write us, and we will forward them to you immediately upon receipt of the price.

AUTHOR OF CANADA'S ZOUAVE TROOP DEAD

Lt.-Col. D'Orsonnens Papal Count and Distinguished Canadian Officer.

Lieut.-Col. G. d'Odet d'Orsonnens, a former D.O.C. of the 6th Military District, and one of the best known military men in Canada, passed away yesterday morning at his home at Lake Megantic. The sad news comes as a considerable shock to Col. d'Oronnens' many friends and admirers, as the end came very suddenly. On Thursday last he contracted pneumonia, to which he succumbed yesterday.

Lieut.-Col. d'Orsonnens held a distinguished record in military and other affairs in Canada. He was born at l'Assomption on April 17, 1842, and was the eldest son of the late Dr. T. E. d'Odet d'Orsonnens, dean of the Medical Faculty of Victoria University, Montreal. The d'Orsonnens are descended from an old Swiss patrician family.

He was educated for the army, but afterwards studied law, being called to the Bar in 1863. On November 17, 1859, he was appointed as ensign in the First Battalion Prince of Wales Rifles, commanding subsequently the second troop of cavalry. In 1865 he joined the Canadian Chasseurs, and in 1866 he served on the Niagara frontier.

Col. d'Orsonens was promoted to the captainship in 1867. The following year he became major, and in 1869 lieutenant-colonel. On January 3, 1868, he was appointed brigade-major, and in 1871 he

Lieut.-Col. d'Orsonnens was sent to England in 1883 by the Canadian Government to study the organization of the regular army. On his return in December of that year, he was appointed commandant of the Royal School of Infantry at St. Johns, Que. He was on June 29, 1889, appointed D.A.G. of the 6th Military District, and retired in 1897, after having served in the militia for nearly forty years. After leaving the service, Lieut.-Col. d'Odet d'Orsonnens made his home at Lake Megantic.

It is claimed for this distinguished officer that he was the first to suggest sending military aid to Pope Pius IX., a suggestion which bor fruit in the company of Papal Zouaves leaving Canada to fight for the Holy See in Italy. The title of count was conferred on him by that Pope, although Col. d'Orsonnens was unable to accompany the Zouaves, owing to the exigencies of the Canadian service. He was the author of a brochure entitled: "Considerations sur l'organization militaire de la Confederation Canadienne," and was formerly connected with the Quebec Rigle Association.

The deceased officer is survived by a widow and a family of four sons and one daughter. His wife was formerly Marie Louise Adele, daughter of the late G. E. Desbarats, of this city. The funeral will take place to Cote des Neiges cemetery.

FINDING BODY OF BOY UNRAVELS A MYSTERY

Yesterday afternoon a man named Merrineau, who was fishing on the river bank near the Longue Pointe Locomotive Works, noticed the body of a child floating in the water. After some effort he succeeded in getting it to shore where it proved to be the body of Harry Blessington, the ten-year-old lad who disappeared from his father's boarding house at Longue Pointe a week ago. He had lately come from New York with his father, who is an employe of the Locomotive Works. When last seen he was playing close to the river bank shortly after noon on Monday.

THOUSANDS PAID THE LAST TRIBUTE TO DEAD MINISTER

The Remains of Hon. James Sutherland Laid to Rest on Saturday Afternoon—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Many Members of Parliament Present.

Woodstock, Ont., May 3.—(Special.)—Amid universal evidences of deep and sincere mourning, the body of Hon. James Sutherland was borne to its last resting place in the beautiful Presbyterian cemetery on Saturday. The streets through which, but a comparatively short time since, he had passed in triumph amid the acclaim of his fellow-citizens who welcomed him on his return to the place which had known him since childhood as Minister of the Crown, were lined with silent spectators who patiently stood in a pelting rain in order to perform the last act of reverential homage to one whom it had been their delight to honor in life and whose memory they will long cherish.

Among the grief-stricken thousands who for hours filed past the bier upon which lay in state, the body of the late Minister of Public Works, who attended the impressive religious services at the home and at the grave or who took part in the funeral cortege were hundreds whose memory recalled the kindly word of encouragement and liberal hand which had been outstretched with the necessary assistance which rendered possible the first step upon the road to fortune or enabled the struggling business man to stem the tide which threatened to blast the hope and sweep away the results of years of toil. To them the solemn event meant more than the loss of a fellow-townsman, and honored representative. It meant the passing away of a personal friend.

Coupled with the poignant grief which caused fellow-townsmen to leave their business, and close their factories and stores on the busiest day of the week, and which brought into the city the sturdy yeomen of Oxford County, whose political banner he had for so many successive years carried to victory was the intense satisfaction at the evidences witnessed on every hand that in the larger and broader sphere of public and national service these personal qualities which since the early days of manhood had been recognized and admired by them, had been observed and appreciated. The Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with a half-dozen members of his Cabinet, and scores of members of Parliament and Senators, chosen representatives of the people of every province in the Dominion, joined with the humblest citizen of Oxford County to do honor to the memory of "Jim" Sutherland.

No more fitting tribute, none more in accordance with the natural simplicity of his disposition and character, could have been arranged than the mingling together of all classes of his fellow citizens, not in serried ranks of various organizations and classes, but as men and brethren who sank all personal distinction in a common desire to do him honor.

Rev. Dr. McMullen of Knox Church had charge of the services, and was assisted by Rev. G. C. Patterson of Embro. Dr. McMullen said Mr. Sutherland's was an eminently successful life, judged by all the standards men ordinarily apply. By a series of well-planned and carefully executed ventures he amassed wealth, and at the solicitations of his friends he entered political life and rose in favor with all with whom he was associated. It was with proud satisfaction that Mr. Sutherland regarded the possession of "Altadore," because within its walls forty-five years ago King Edward VII. was entertained at luncheon, and Mr. Sutherland, then a small boy, was one of the multitude who assembled to pay the ovation of enthusiastic loyalty to the future monarch of the empire. The real success of Mr. Sutherland's life, the preacher said, must be found in the helping hand and the ungrudging sympathy he extended to many. After saying the press have been pronouncing eulogisms on his name now that he has gone, Dr. McMullen said none was more sensible than himself of the defects of his life. "Over this let us cast the proud mantle of charity and be it ours to act the part of the good Samaritan, recognizing the Saviour Himself in every one who needs our sympathy and help."

FLORAL TRIBUTES.

Among the floral tributes there were beautiful set pieces from citizens of Woodstock, Liberal members of the House of Commons, officers of the 22nd Regiment, Oxford Lodge A.F. and A.M., I.O.O.F., Woodstock Amateur Athletic Association, officers of Public Works Department and Department of Fisheries, North Oxford Reform Association, Woodstock Young Liberal Club, Woodstock Old Boys of Owen Sound, Woodstock Bank of Commerce employes Wilson Carbide Company of St. Catharines, Sir Charles and Mrs. Ross, of Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. C. Latest Schedule Passed by Harbor Board Approved by Government.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has approved the by-law recently passed by the Harbor Board providing for a reconstruction of the schedules of rates charged on merchandise landed at Montreal harbor. The by-law is a lengthy document, classifying the various articles of merchandise that reach the Montreal wharves by ship, or by rail for export and giving the specific dues collectable on each.

CHILD'S BODY FOUND.

Cowansville, Que., May 8—The mystery of the loss of little Marie Louise Tifney last Tuesday has been cleared up. Her body was discovered about one mile and a quarter from where she was last seen, the little child having wandered that distance through seemingly impassable and impenetrable thickets, over wire fences, swamps and ditches. On Thursday, High Constable Roisvert asked for the assistance of 150 men, and at the request of Mayor John Murphy, of East Farnham, the desired number from Fordyce, Beranger, East Farnham and Cowansville responded. Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Louis Jacob found the dead body of the missing little one, in James Demogne's wood.

BODY OF MR. CHAS. CREE WAS FOUND YESTERDAY

Funeral Will Take Place To-morrow From His Mother's Residence at 195 Drolet Street.

The body of the late Mr. Charles Cree, the young electrician who was drowned at Ste. Anne de Belleveau on Tuesday night, was recovered yesterday morning near the place where the accident happened. Mr. Cree had been acting as electrician and machinist at Senator L. J. Forget's summer residence since last autumn and was boarding at a farm house near by. On Tuesday evening between six and seven o'clock he went out on the river in a canoe, and in some mysterious manner was drowned. When he did not return in a couple of hours a search was made but nothing could be found. In the morning the canoe and paddle were discovered and some distance away the young man's hat. Though diligent search was made no trace of the body could be found till yesterday morning, when it was discovered about thirty feet from the shore. It is supposed that, being unused to the handling of a canoe the young man was thrown out in some way. His death so close to shore is peculiar as he was an excellent swimmer.

Coroner McMahon on being notified of the recovery of the body, gave permission to have it taken to 195 Drolet Street, the residence of the deceased's mother.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday from the late residence of the deceased 195 Drolet Street. It will be attended in a body by the members of the Royal Scots, by the members of the Young Men's League of St. Giles Church, and by the Gordons, of Sherbrooke Street Church.

DIFFER OVER CONTRACT.

Contractor and Sub-Contractor Can't Agree Who is Responsible for Delay.

Argument opened this morning before Mr. Justice Lavergne on the application of Mr. Robert G. Houde, for an injunction against Mr. Randolph McDonald, president of the Sovereign Bank, to prevent the latter interfering with the former in the carrying out of a sub-contract at the Three Rivers Harbor works.

Mr. Houde claims that he secured a sub-contract on the ice-breaker and breakwater work at Three Rivers, from Mr. McDonald, but the latter refused to perform his agreements, and even threatened Mr. Houde with arrest, finally sending him a notarial notice of the annulment of the contract for non-fulfilment. He claims that the non-fulfilment was caused by Mr. McDonald's action, and entered action against him. He now asks for a temporary injunction to restrain Mr. McDonald from interfering with his work on the contract, pending the settlement of the suit.

Mr. T. Chase Casgrain appeared for Mr. McDonald and Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, for Mr. Houde, and argued the case at great length, when it was taken en delibere by Mr. Justice Lavergne.

MR. TARTE DENIES REPORT.

Has No Intention of Contesting Levis.

Ottawa, May 8.—With reference to the report that Mr. Tarte will run for Levis, and enter the Cabinet without portfolio. The ex-Minister of Public Works said there is not a scintilla of truth in the statement. "I am happy and prospering," he said, "in my own legitimate newspaper line. I am free to write and do what my conscience and brain dictate, and the salary of the Governor-General would not tempt me to again shoulder the burden of a Federal portfolio.

DOMINION LINER "OTTAWA" IN PORT

Of the large fleet of steamships which arrived yesterday the handsome double-funnelled "Ottawa," of the Dominion line, attracted most attention. She is well known to ocean travellers as the White Star SS. Germanic, and as she made daily runs of 347, 355, 365 and 379 miles before being stopped for ice, Captain Maddox and Chief Engineer Tudor expect her to come out to Montreal later in the season in very fast time.

The Ottawa only carries one class of cabin passengers, who have the full run of the ship and are berthed amidships, having a handsome promenade deck and a bridge deck, a library and well appointed smoking room for their use. The saloon extends the entire width of the vessel and can seat 164 passengers at once.

Steerage passengers are accommodated both forward and aft of the cabin passengers, and also have a promenade the whole length of the ship. Their accommodation is on up-to-date lines.

The Dominion Liner "OTTAWA," Now in Port—5,008 Tons, 455 ft. long; built at Belfast; formerly the White Star Mail Steamer Germanic.

The officers of the Ottawa, besides Captain Maddox, are: Chief Officer Berry, formerly of the Vancouver; Second Officer Lewis, of the Canada, and Mr. Jones, late of the Tunisian, is third officer. Mr. Tudor, the chief engineer, came from the Vancouver, as did the chief steward. Mr. McMinn, and Dr. Douglas, a McGill man. The Ottawa will sail on her maiden eastward voyage from Montreal next Saturday morning. She is berthed at the foot of St. Francois Xavier Street and has many visitors.

THAT CUT UNIMPORTANT YET IT CAUSED DEATH

Mr. Joseph Frechette Who Was Injured on Friday Died Yesterday Morning.

Mr. Joseph Frechette, thirty-two years of age, an employe in the C.P.R. Angus shops, died at the General Hospital yesterday morning from injuries received at the shops on Friday.

While at work Friday morning he fell from the top of a car and received a small cut in the head. The cut did not seem serious and Frechette rode in a street car to the General Hospital, where he had the wound treated in the outdoor department and then walked home. During the afternoon he lost consciousness and the ambulance took him back to the hospital, where he remained unconscious till his death.

An examination showed that death was due to hemorrhage of the brain, caused by a slight fracture of the skull. The case was purely accidental, and Coroner McMahon disposed of it this morning without a jury.

QUEEN'S HOTEL WAITER TROUBLE MAY BE SETTLED

It is probable that the differences between the Queen's Hotel and the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' Association will adjust themselves gradually without the necessity of a strike. This was the opinion of the union which held a secret meeting on Saturday forenoon to discuss the situation. The association now practically controls the waiters of the city and it was stated this morning by the president that in spite of the fact that several of the Queen's Hotel waiters had signed the contract of the manager, yet the number who refused to sign would be found hard to replace.

It was given out to-day that eight or ten of the waiters at that hotel had already given notice and would leave in a week.

Mr. Donat Raymond, manager of the hotel declares that he is satisfied with the trend affairs are taking. He says that the majority of his waiters are quite satisfied also to remain with him under existing wage conditions, and that many of them are signing a contract for a year on a basis of $25 per month during the winter months and $25 per month and a bonus of $5 during the summer.

The waiters have demanded $30 a month instead of $25 and a bonus basis. The bonus system is advantageous to the proprietor in that the bonus money is paid only at the end of the season. If a man left work in the middle of the summer he would receive no bonus.

Mr. John Mee, president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' Association, said to-day that he was confident that the union would win out.

HIGH CONSTABLE EXONERATED.

Sweetsburg, Que., May 8.—(Special.)—The case of E. M. J. Lamoureux against the High Constable of this district, was dismissed, the prosecution failing completely to substantiate their charge. The case has been adjourned from time to time before R. J. Ladd, justice of the peace. The charge was set up that the High Constable about two years previous had interfered with an officer in the discharge of his duty. After many delays the preliminary hearing was formally set for May 6th. Mr. A. J. Leonard appeared for the prosecution, while the High Constable's interests were looked after by Mr. W. K. McKeown, of the firm of McCorkill & McKeown, and Mr. E. Racicot, K.C.

A man named Marsolais was struck by a street car at the corner of St. John and Notre Dame streets Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital in a dazed condition and has not yet recovered.

NO WORK, NO HOME, NO FOOD; ARRESTED

But Police Officials Had Soft Hearts and Passed Round the Hat.

Notwithstanding that hardening process that is apt to result from years of observation of criminal life in its many phases, there are yet many officials round the city court-houses whose hearts make sympathetic throb when a prisoner is turned in with a real honest story of hard luck and poverty.

This morning there happened a case of the kind, and after dismissal on suspended sentence, a small sum of money subscribed by a few of the officials in the Recorder's Court department helped to make the outlook cheerier for an unfortunate couple and their two children.

Cyrill Taylor, 35, a French-Canadian who can speak no English, along with his wife and two children, were found in the course of yesterday living in an old shed in a quarry in the north end of the city, and as they had neither money nor food Capt. Charbonneau, of the Laurier avenue police district, had the family removed to the City Hall. Taylor told Mr. Recorder Poirier to-day that on Friday he had left his house near Place Viger Station, as it was about to be pulled down, and was on his way to Back River to find employment at the new sewerage works, when the rainstorm sent them for shelter to the quarry in which they were found. There they had remained, the children (nine years and 2 years of age respectively) being unable to face the long walk, and he unable to raise the amount of the car fares. Thanks to the collection this morning, the family have now gone to Back River.

LARGEST REAL ESTATE TRANSFER

St. Catherine Street Property Changes Hands for $375,000.

The largest real estate transaction in a year that has been noted for big deals was closed to-day when the National Trust Company purchased from the Royal Land Company, the Hamilton property on the southeast corner of St. Catherine and Peel Streets, and the adjoining property occupied by te C. W. Lindsay Company, for $375,000.

The Royal Land Company, which was formed by Mr. F. W. Fairman, of the Dominion Wire Company, and other local interests, some few years ago, purchased a large amount of real estate in the western part of St. Catherine St., and this is the largest deal put through by the company since its formation.

It is understood that the National Trust Company in securing the property is acting for Toronto interests.

REV. MR. GILMOUR WILL NOT GO TO M'MASTER

Toronto, May 8.—(Special.)—An effort has been made to secure Rev. J. L. Gilmour, pastor of Olivet Baptist Church, Montreal, for one of the theaological chairs in McMaster University. The reorganization of the curriculum and vacancies on the staff caused by the resignations of Chancellor Wallace and Professor Goodspeed, are being seriously considered by the University authorities. Mr. Gilmour is one of the most scholarly men in the Baptist denomination. At present time there is no assurance he would accept professorial appointment but earnest effort is being made to secure his services.

Mr. Gilmour, at the meeting of the Senate held last Tuesday at Toronto, was offered the chair of Systematic Theology, but declined the same at once in order to avoid any doubt as to his intention of completing, so far as in his power, the work of his ministry in Montreal.

CONVENT IN VALLEYFIELD WAS VISITED BY FIRE

Valleyfield, Que., May 8.—(Special.)—Fire was discovered Saturday evening in the outbuildings attached to the CDonvent buildings, belonging to the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary. The fire brigade was summoned and after an hour's work got the blaze under control. The loss will be light. At the time the fire broke out the Sisters were putting the pupils through a fire escape exercise. It is the intention to place all the educational buildings in the city under the protection of a modern fire extinguisher system.

RAILWAY MACHINISTS' STRIKE IS ALMOST WITHOUT EFFECT IN MONTREAL

An incipient strike of Grand Trunk machinists has been declared and some twenty men threw down their tools and walked out of the Point St. Charles shops this morning.

This is the result of the disagreement which has existed for some time between the G. T. R. and this section of its employes. Dissatisfaction has been expressed very often by the machinists of late. There have been many mutterings and murmurs and finally the trouble, which had been smouldering for a few months, broke out this morning. At 11 o'clock the striking machinists quit work.

Many rumors were current as to the exact number of men who had really gone out. The first report told of the strike of 150 men, then the company stated that only the 19 Amalgamated men employed in the shops had struck. Then the number reported by the men soared to 400 but this was later on changed to 57.

MR. W. D. ROBB'S STATEMENT.

Mr. W. D. Robb, the superintendent of motive power of the Grand Trunk gave the company's version of the trouble as follows:

"We took issue with the organizers of the union who wanted us to agree to a whole schedule of conditions concerning the government of our employes. Naturally enough we dissented, as we have our own rules and, as the machinists represent only a very small portion of our men, we couldn't comply with their request. We told them that we would follow our practices of the past and, as in the past, we would meet our men at different points and there we would discuss the questions at issue. To this the representatives of the union and the Amalgamated Society of Engineers and Blacksmiths would not listen and the result has been that the nineteen men who belong to the Amalgamated Society went out on strike this morning.

"This strike will make no difference whatever to us. Only nineteen out of 1,500 have gone out. At Toronto we have received reports telling us that sixteen men have struck there. None have gone out at London and this also holds good at Hamilton. As far as we can learn not one man has struck east of Toronto, with the exception of Montreal."

At the Point St. Charles shops of the Grand Trunk the officials stated that out of 325 machinists, apprentices and improvers, only about twenty had gone out on strike. Eighteen of these were practically new men, while two were very old employees of the company. As a result of their precipitancy in throwing down their tools they will not in future figure on G.T.R. pay rolls. The officials stated that they had received despatches from Belleville, Brockville, Richmond, Island Pond, and Portland, stating that no men had gone out at any of these points.

The Herald representative went through the Grand Trunk shops, and in every department there appeared to be a rush of business without the slightest indication of disturbance from the strike.

Passengers who came through by rail speak emphatically of the remarkable absence of vibration.

LORD BRASSEY'S YACHT IS IN NEW YORK HARBOR

Members of Crew Believe German Yacht Will Win Race Easily.

New York, May 8.—There were hundreds of curious visitors to see Lord Brassey's Sunbeam, the latest arrival for the ocean yacht race across the Atlantic, as she lay in dock yard, in South Brooklyn yesterday. The arrival of the Veteran English yachtsman with his auxiliary seemed to arouse a new interest in the international event.

The Sunbeam was berthed next to the Hamburg, and the crews of the two yachts fraternized freely. The Englishmen have a high regard for the German schooner, and were free in their opinion that she would win the race. "What chance have we against a racer of that type? I tell you American yachtsmen are figuring wrong if they're ignoring her. She'll outfoot anything in the race with conditions her way, and make new figures, you mark my word. We're only in the race to encourage the sport, and do not expect to win. But we'll make a creditable showing. England's representatives may not finish first, but an English-built boat will. You take my tip."

This was the line that most of the Sunbeam's crew took. They seemed to feel the same sportsmanlike spirit that actuated Lord Brassey in entering, and they exhibited good feeling. They were the centre of an admiring crowd a good part of the day.

The yacht will be placed in dry dock and seek anchorage outside with daily spins.

The Hamburg, which lay beside her, will be docked to-morrow for a trifling overhauling, but it is expected she will leave the yard Wednesday ready for the race.

Stratford, Ont.—M. C. Moderwell, Deputy-Sheriff, passed away at his home here last evening after a lingering illness.

WORLD'S CHAMPION IS IN MONTREAL

Hackenschmidt Talks of His Wrestling Career—Meets Maupas To-Night

Georges Hackenschmidt, the German-Polish-Russian wrestler, who is the indubitable champion of the world, arrived in Montreal this morning, and registered at the St. Lawrence Hall. Georges is not very tall, being five feet eight inches in height, but looks even shorter as he has exceptionally broad shoulders and a back like a barn-door. He isn't seeking notoriety, so his press agent has said, and though he speaks seven different languages, he is disinclined to talk in any one of them—to newspaper men.

However, when Hack was approached by a Herald man, he coyly yielded to blandishment and consented to talk about himself.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I knew that I could throw Jenkins even at his favorite game catch-as-catch-can, but he is very strong, and gave me more trouble than I expected. Parr was easy, as he had neither the weight nor the strength, though he had the science.

"Do I think I'll beat Maupas? Tut, tut, young man, what have you been smoking?"

Hack intimated that he did not think that he had any superior in the world at either Graeco-Roman or catch-as-catch-can wrestling. "I am willing to meet all-comers," commented he, "but as I am in the game for money, and as I am after big money, I will only meet the cream of the wrestlers."

Hackenschmidt has undertaken to throw Maupas three times in an hour at Sohmer Park to-night. His bulky form attracted much attention in the rotunda of the St. Lawrence to-day.

PRESIDENT HARPER WAS HERE ON SUNDAY

Chicago's Great Educationist is Improving but Still Shows Signs of Recent Collapse.

President Harper, of Cicago University, who is travelling about the continent in pursuit of health, spent Sunday in Montreal in company with a number of the heads of McGill University. He left this morning for Quebec, uncertain, however, whether he would make a prolonged stay in that city or go on to Boston.

Those who spent the day with him yesterday included Principal Peterson, Dean Bovey and Dean Moyse, and Sir George Drummond. The McGill principal gave a small dinner party in his honor at the St. James' Club.

Principal Peterson is to-day out of town, and rumors that President Harper discussed with him certain vacancies which have to be filled in the Chicago staff for next term could not be verified. It is, however, certain that the president's visit was quite informal, and was not dictated primarily by business reasons. He still shows traces of the nervous break-down which necessitated his temporary retirement a few months ago, but told his friends in this city that he was progressing much more favorably than he had expected. He was a guest at the Windsor Hotel.

The building, which will be three storeys in height, will be thirty-six feet in frontage and will extend back one hundred and fifteen feet, while the structure will be of a most ornate architecture, marble pillars and Indiana limestone being used to good effect to produce a handsome front. The cost will be about $50,000, while the builder will be Mr. George Roberts, and the architects Messrs. Finley and Spence.

JAPANESE ARMY PUSHING FORWARD

Gadeyadana, Manchuria, May 8.—Since April 29 the Japanese have been advancing slowly and intermittently, pushing forward their columns successively from right to left under cover of a screen of cavalry and Chinese bandits. The advance has resulted in straightening the alignment of the opposing armies. Russian detachments which were far advanced on the flanks being forced to retire. Erdagou, to the eastward was occupied May but under pressure by the Russians the Japanese later evacuated the place. On the left the Russian cavalry retired behind the Liao river, the Japanese occupying Palaotun, Sanlingan and Batzya.

The village of Shadedzi, on the railroad north of Changtufu, has been occupied and burned by the Japanese.

There was a sharp brush with Chinese bandits on the extreme Russian right to-day.

It is reported that the Japanese armies in the centre have recently been reinforced. The force at Field Marshal Oyama's disposal, according to information recently received, is 348 battalions, or 390,000 men.

The Japanese are said to have armed 25,000 or 30,000 Chinese bandits with captured Russian rifles. The Chinese population has been drafted by the Japanese for road-making and entrenching, and roads are being constructed to Sinminpu, Banchsensee and Nanga Pass.

ASSUMES THE OFFENSIVE.

Fenghushsheng, (or Maimaikai) Manchuria, May 8.—Field-Marshal Oyama seems to be ready to assure the offensive on a large scale and activity has already begun against General Linevitch's left. "This may be the prelude to another general battle. The Japanese have concentrated heavy columns on the Liao River and their advance divisions have been in contact with the Russians who are holding the main road from Fakoman to Bashlenchen.

On Thursday the Japanese cavalry suddenly attacked the Cossacks in overwhelming force, forcing the latter to retire. Then, supported by infantry, the Japanese advanced and drove the Russian infantry out of the village of Palitoun.

A Russian reconnoitering party twenty miles further west ran into an ambush and all the party except five were killed.

Fenghushsheng is about half way between Tie Pass and Harbin.

His seven companions managed to save themselves with much difficulty, but Deissing had no chance to escape from the water which rushed in on him. Police boats and tugs were kept busy during the afternoon picking up imperilled persons.

Mrs. Angus Macdonald, disappeared from her home in Lingwich last Saturday, and no trace of her has been found. She was last seen going in the direction of the woods. Forty years ago Mrs. Macdonald's sister disappeared in a similar manner, and it was not until six years later that some lumbermen found a skeleton in the woods, which was believed to be that of the unfortunate woman.

HUGO'S STATUE UNVEILED.

Rome, May 8. — The unveiling of the statue of Victor Hugo, presented by the Franco-Italian League of Paris, to the city of Rome, occurred at the Villa Borgheso in the presence of King Victor Emmanuel, the French delegates, the French ambassadors, the Ministers of foreign affairs and public instruction, and many other distinguished guests. The statue, which is of Carrara marble and eight feet high, is the work of the sculptor Pallez. BIG COLD STORAGE WAREHOUSE.

St. John, N.B., May 8.—Ontario capitalists propose establishing a large eight-storey cold storage building here, so built as to handle meats, etc., in one portion, but principally for the storage of apples for shipment to the Old Country. These shipments are mostly made now through American ports, but an experimental shipment through here last year pleased the shippers, and the present plan followed. The proposition includes the shipment direct from the tree to this port, and re-barelling here.

Special Notice.

THE NEW PASTEURIZING FILTER.

It is hardly necessary to emphasize the fact that the city water is none of the purest. A casual examination of the turbid fluid will afford ample demonstration. Nor need we go to the hospitals for figures regarding the prevalence of typhoid fever and cholera for further proof. Hence the reason why so many families are at present spending comparatively large sums of money to buy, at the prices paid for wine, the mineral waters called "Table Waters." Even the best of these cannot be absolutely pure without sterilization. The most practical process is the one advocated by the famous Pasteur—filtration. The inventors of the New Pasteurising Filter have undoubtedly evolved the most satisfactory and, at the same time, simple filtering agent extant. The sole selling agents are The S. Caraley Co., Limited, from whom full information and prices may be readily obtained.

CANADIAN ORDER OF ODDFELLOWS.

The opening of Loyal Elm Lodge, No. 202, C.O.O.F., in their new lodge rooms, in Victoria Hall, Westmont, last evening, was a grand success. "HERALD SERIALS ARE GOOD SERIALS"

"The Law of the Land"

By Emerson Hough, Author of "The Mississippi Bubble."

SYNOPSIS.

The scene is laid in the Sunny South, toward the head of the vast Yazoo-Mississippi Delta. Mrs. Ellison finds her daughter dancing before a long pier glass. Chapter 2 describes the "Big House," on the plantation, and how Jim Bowles and his wife have a long walk. The new railway causes the death of their cow. A stranger comes to see Col. Blount at the "Big House" and hears the family history from an old servant, who tells him that Mrs. Ellison and her daughter keep house for the Colonel, who is out with Mr. Henry Dechard hunting bear. The hunting party returns home. The stranger who awaits Col. Blount introduces himself as John Edring, a railway man, who settles claims. He quarrels with the Colonel.

Calvin Blount put out his hand, and a softer shade came upon his face. "Oh, it's you, Miss Lady, 'is it?' said he. "Yes, I'm back home again. And you made the biscuits, eh?"

"You are back home," said Miss Lady, "all but your mind. I called to you several times. Who is that gentleman you are staring at? Why doesn't he come in and eat with us?"

Colonel Blount turned slowly as Miss Lady tugged at his arm. "Who is he?" he replied half-musingly. "Who is he? You tell me. He refused to eat in Calvin Blount's house; that's why he didn't come in, Miss Lady. He says he's the cow coroner on the Y. V. road, but I want to tell you, he's the finest fellow, and the nearest to a gentleman, that ever struck this country. That's what he is. I'm mighty troubled over his going away, Miss Lady, mighty troubled." And indeed his face gave warrant to these words, as with slow footsteps and frowning brow, he yielded to the pressure of the light hand on his arm, and turned toward the gallery steps.

CHAPTER V.

After his midday meal, Colonel Calvin Blount, wandering aimlessly and none too well content about the yard, came across one of his servants, who was in the act of unrolling the fresh bear hide and spreading it out to dry. He kicked idly at a fold in the hide.

"Look here, Jim," he said suddenly, "Mr. Decherd killed this b'ah, didn't he?"

"Yassah," said Jim.

"And he shoots a rifle; and here are three holes—buckshot holes—in the hide. And you had a gun loaded with buckshot. Did you lend it to Mr. Dechard?"

"No, sah," said Jim, turning his head away.

"Look here, boy," said Blount. "There is no liar, black or white, can go out with my dogs; because my dogs don't lie and I don't. Now, tell me about this."

"Well, Cunnel" said the boy, half ready to blubber, "the b'ah was fairly a-chawin' ol' Fly up. He wus right at me, an' I ran up close so's not to hurt ol' Fly, and I done shot him."

"That's all right," said Colonel Blount. "How about the rest?"

"Well, sah, I had the b'ah mos' skinned, when up comes Mr. 'Cherd. 'That's my b'ah,' said he. 'Co'se it is,' says I. Then he 'lowed he'd give me two dollahs ef I said he was de man dat killed de b'ah."

Blount glared reflectively at a knothole in the side of the barn.

"Jim," said he, at length, "give me the two dollars. I'll take care of that." So saying, he swung on his heel and turned away.

The day was now far advanced, and the great white house had grown silent. As Blount entered, he met no one at first, but finally at the door of a half-darkened room mid-way of the hall, he heard the rustle of a gown and saw approaching him the not uncomely figure of the quasi-head of the menage, Mrs. Ellison. The latter moved slowly and easily forward, pausing at the doorway, where, so framed, she presented a picture attractive enough to arrest the attention of even a bear-hunting bachelor.

"I am glad to see you back, Colonel," said she. "I am always so uneasy when you are away;" she sighed.

Blount felt himself vaguely uncomfortable, but was not quite able to turn away.

"I was just in my room," said Mrs. Ellison, "as I heard you passing by. I had a little headache."

"That's too bad," said Colonel Blount and turned again to go. The unspoken invitation of the other still restrained him. She leaned against the door, soft-eyed, her white hand waving an effective fan, an attractive seductive picture.

"Why don't you come in and sit down and talk to me for a minute?" said she, at length. "I scarcely see you at all any more."

Blount gathered an uneasy hint of something, he knew not what, yet he followed her back into the half-darkened room, and presently, seated near her, and wrapped in his own enthusiasms, forgot all but the bear chase, whose incidents he began eagerly to relate. His vis-a-vis sat looking at him with eyes which took in fully the careless strength of his tall and strong figure. For some time now her eyes rested on this same figure, this man who had to do with work and the chase, with hardship and adventure, and never anything more gentle—this man who could not see!

"You must be more careful," said Mrs. Ellison. "But still, you are safely back, and I'm glad you had good luck."

"Well, I don't know what you would call good luck," said Blount. "The fact is, I had a little trouble, coming in."

"Trouble? In what way?"

"Well, it happened this way," said he, with a quick glance about him. "I don't like to mention such things, but I suppose you ought to know. This was about a couple of negroes back in the country a way. You know, I am a sort of deputy sheriff, and I was called on to do alittle work with those same negroes. I suppose you know, ma'am, that those negroes used to run this whole state a few years ago, though they ain't studying so much about politics to-day.

"I know something about that," said Mrs. Ellison. "That was soon after the war, they tell me. But they gave that up long ago. They don't bother with politics now."

"No," resumed Blount. "They're not studying so much as they used to. Not long ago I had a number of northern philanthropists down here, who came down to look into the 'conditions in this district.' I said I'd show them everything they wanted; so I sent out for some of my field hands. I said to one of them, 'Bill,' said I, 'these gentlemen want to ask you some questions. I suppose your name is William Henry Arnold, isn't it?' 'Yassah,' said Bill. 'You was county supervisor here some years ago, wasn't you, Bill?' 'Yassah,' said Bill. I said, 'I beg your pardon, Mr. William Henry Arnold, but will you please step up here to my desk and write your name for these gentlemen?' 'Why, sho', boss,' said he, 'you know I kain't write mah name.' 'That's all,' said I.

"'Now, gentlemen,' said I, exhibit number two is Mr. George Washington Sims. 'George,' said I, 'you used to be our county treasurer, didn't you?' He said he did. 'Who paid the taxes, then, George?' said I. 'Why boss, you white folks paid most of 'um.' 'All right, Mr. George Washington Sims,' said I, 'you step up here and write your name for these gentlemen.' He just laughed. 'That'll do,' said I.

CANON ELLEGOOD'S LONG RECORD OF WORK AT ST. JAMES'

With solemn rejoicing and special services the congregation and ministers of the Church of St. James the Apostle, yesterday celebrated the forty-first anniversary of their church Throughout the day the church was crowded at each service, and most generous contributions were made in the collections to reduce the church's current debt. St. James Church is one of the historic landmarks of its district, and naturally the sermons during the day were of a reminiscent and historical character.

In the morning the venerable rector Canon Ellegood, who, by an interesting coincidence yesterday celebrated his fifty-seventh year in the ministry, officiated at the communion service, assisted by Archdeacon Ker, who preached.

Archdeacon Ker's address was largely a eulogium of the long and devoted service rendered by Canon Ellegood to the Church of England in Montreal. His text was chosen from St. Paul's first Epistle to Timothy. Chap 5, verse 17: "Let the Presbyters that rule well be counted worthy of double honor."

He remarked that he considered it a great honor to be chosen preacher on so interesting an occasion, especially in view of his sixteen years friendship with Canon Ellegood, and the fact that his labors in Point St. Charles had been built upon the foundation so well laid by Canon Ellegood, more than half a century ago.

When Mr. Ellegood broke ground for the church at Point St. Charles it was scarcely inhabited. But he saw what others failed to notice, that it was destined to become a great industrial centre—and to this day, more than fifty years later, the Church of England there was reaping the benefit of his foresight.

The same prophetic spirit marked the foundation, forty-one years ago amidst fields and orchards, of the Church of St. James the Apostle. But this and Grace Church, were not the only ones due to Canon Ellegood's energy. The Church of the Redeemer, at Cote St. Paul owed its existence to the same cause, and it had been a continual benediction to that part of the country under the loving labors of Dr. Dickson and Rev. Mr. Montgomery. More than that the Church of the Advent also owed its existence to Canon Ellegood's work.

Again Canon Ellegood showed his strength in 1851 when the Church of St. Ann's was burned in Griffinton, and nothing was left to build a new church after the debts were paid. The situation seemed hopeless, but Canon Ellegood made so vigorous a campaign amongst the wealthy churchmen of the city that a new church, St. Stephen's, was soon built, and sixteen years later he handed over church and parsonage to his successor without a dollar of debt. Few were left who remembered those distant days, but those yet remaining could speak with affectionate veneration of Canon Ellegood's ministry at St. Stephen's. How he stood by his flock through two visitations of cholera, in the terrible days of ship fever, when in the then green fields of Point St. Charles the city erected sheds for the stricken who could not find shelter at Grosse Isle, and, along with six hundred immigrants no less than six clergymen of the Church of England, fell victims to the plague, contracted during their devoted labors. All though that visitation Mr. Ellegood, with Rev. Father Dowd, the devoted parish priest, performed their holy offices without fear, amongst the plague-stricken people.

Fifty-seven years, said the preacher, made up the larger part of a lifetime. What stirring times had Canon Ellegood witnessed during his long ministry! Times of fever, of cholera, of civic disturbance and riots, the building of the first Victoria Bridge, the visit of the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, the excitement in Montreal and the whole country during the American civil war, in comparison with which the smallpox epidemic and great floods of twenty years ago seemed but as yesterday. But Canon Ellegood's ministry was contemporary with each and all. Each period as it came found him in the quiet discharge of his duties, as he was still to-day.

Who could count the thousands that during forty-one years had been strengthened and comforted by Canon Ellegood's ministry at St. James' Church? The church might well take pride in his ministrations. Strangers to her communion had become members, directed first by the sweet reasonableness and large-hearted charity manifested by the rector of St. James And the congregation had done a noble work in standing by him in so raising the level of church work in the city as to beneficially affect the whole church in Canada.

In the beauty of this Church of St. James, with its bright and dignified services, his devotion was reflected. Forty years ago it required no small courage for Canon Ellegood and his congregation to introduce a surpliced choir. It was then an awful innovation, but to-day it was recognized as a proper custom, and events had amply vindicated Canon Ellegood's wisdom.

"My text says, "Let the Presbyters that rule well be counted worthy of double honor,'" concluded Archdeacon Ker. "How shall we honor the Presbyter who has ruled well for over fifty-seven years? Men and brethren, I know of no better way than to profit by his good example. Thank God who has spared him to rule so well and so long, and let us offer fervent prayers that his rule may be yet spared to us for many and many a day."

BISHOP CARMICHAEL PAYS FULL TRIBUTE TO HIS CONTEMPORARY

At the evening service at St. James the Apostle's, Bishop Carmichael was the preacher. He took his text from from Proverbs 3; 1, 2: "My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments; for length of days and long life and peace shall they add to thee." Referring to the occasion which they were commemorating, he spoke of the long and useful life service which their rector, Canon Ellegood, has spent in work for the church. He had been ordained fifty-seven years ago, and after a brief service in the Cathedral, and at St. Stephen's, he had come to St. James, when it had been built forty-one years since. In the year of his ordination great events were happening, and nearly all European countries were in a national ferment. Louis Philippe, King of France, abdicated the throne Pope Pius IX. had fled from Rome; Emperor Ferdinand fled from Vienna in fear of his life from the Hungarians; Louis Napoleon became President of a French Republic, and four years after in 1852 was crowned Emperor as Napoleon the Third. In that year (1848) Thackeray published his "Vanity Fair," and John Mill his "Political Economy."

Of the Church, the Canadian Anglican Church, at that time, Bishop Carmichael said it was practically a disorganized, congregationally governed body. The Canadian Episcopate existed, but the Synodical system was unborn. The clergy of one part did not know the clergy of another part. Since then Canon Ellegood had seen the Diocesan Synod, and the Provincial Synod, established had seen diocese after diocese and Bishop after Bishop, and the whole capped and crowned, from Labrador to Vancouver, from the Arctic Ocean to the United States, by the Synod of the Church.

Canada had grown into a nation, and though Canon Ellegood, as well as he himself, were growing old, they looked forward, not backward, forward to the Land of Promise, the great future of Canada, with as much hope and gladness as Moses looked from the height of Pisgah into the land into which his people would go. Moses, in this death vision, given by God to an old man, saw the history of all the past, pass before him, but he also saw the great future, which he would not know, but which his chosen people would realize.

So could Canon Ellegood look on Canada, filled with a national hope in the future greatness of this country. If Canada were only true to herself, to her national inheritance of wealth, Imperialism and growing natural resources, she would, in a few years, be as great a nation as that to the South.

Bishop Carmichael spoke of the long ministries of priests in the Anglican Church, commending such a system as being beneficial to clergyman and people. He gave instances of many such long pastorates, and said that the processional clergymen were placed parochially at a tremendous disadvantage, for there was a power that only years of service in the same place could obtain.

Bishop Carmichael closed by paying a tribute to Canon Ellegood, a man who had lived through an epoch-making past an ever active clergyman of the church. He had been the friend of all, the enemy of none, and the working hammer was still in his hand. They should thank God for such a minister, beloved and admired by all.

OLIVET CHURCH HEARS CLAIMS OF INDIAN MISSIONARY FIELD

The members of Olivet Baptist Church heard a most interesting address yesterday morning from the Rev. H. E. Stillwell, missionary on furlough from the Yuyyuru district of India. The Hindoo mind was very impressionable and receptive. The natives had ideas amounting almost to convictions as to right and wrong and believed strongly in future punishment. Future punishment came out in their theory of metempsychosis or transmigration of souls into the bodies of animals—with lapses of time between such transmigration spent in various forms of Hell. They had conscience and all they required was to have its God-given nature explained to them. Such being the case there was a strong call on enlightened Christianity to assist them. Many had the conviction of one great spiritual essence against whom the thirty odd millions of demons of trickery and sin were struggling. Mr. Stillman on leaving McMaster University, ten years ago had just the ordinary vague, romantic notion of the lives of the natives. Since then all that seemed so romantic had been proved real and formed a great difficulty in missionary work. My work began in the hot, dusty village amid the bustle and extraordinary noises of a Hindoo town. The first step was to get the people interested, and their love of the picturesque was the clue. The magic lantern would give them pictures of the great White Queen—the late Queen Victoria—and of the Sultan of Turkey, for thousands of them were Mussulmen. Such would be the prelude to a lecture on Christ, his incarnation and death. The missionary in India taught nothing in the abstract form—but all in symbols, pictures of metaphors. Mr. Stillwell spoke feelingly of the Zenana difficulties and of the troubles of the Bible-women. He was no disbeliever in secret discipleship. For a married woman to believe often meant death by poison. It was difficult to secure protection from the law. The English magistrate dwelt so far away and dead bodies burned, as was the custom, afforded no evidence of crime. Another of the missionary's difficulties lay in the fact that for the native there was no greater shame than to desert the native gods—even the outcasts—the Pariahs of society—shunned the person who did such a thing. Hindoo caste with its upper and lower degrees was another serious perplexity. Mr. Stillwell pointed out the singular affection of the people for their missionaries and their zeal for the cause when once enlisted. Village vied with village in wishing a teacher and church. In the mission field great progress was being made. In one village where, eight years ago, there was no evidence of the presence of Christ, there were now a church building and 175 converts. Altogether the mission had eighty-four trained native teachers. But they were not overstocked with such. Each village had from 350 to 500 inhabitants, and they had to look after several hundreds of such villages. A Bible-woman only cost twenty-five dollars per annum and a trained native teacher only thirty dollars.

ST. AGNES PARISH CELEBRATES ITS FIRST ANNIVERSARY

St. Agnes' parish celebrated yesterday the first anniversary of its foundation and the occasion was commemorated by a solemn high mass in the morning and by various ceremonies in the evening.

The Olivier School, corner Roy and Sanguinet street is where divine service is being held pending the completion of the parish church and it was here the celebration took place. Rev. Father Boyd, of Savannah, Ga., officiated at Grand Mass, assisted by Rev. Father De Lamirande, as deacon and Rev. Father Dufourt, as sub-deacon. The musical portion of the service consisted of De Merlier's Third Mass sung by St. Agnes' choir. "Haec Dies" was rendered at the Offertory. The soloists of the mass were Messrs. P. Griffin, H. Maguire, F. McEntee and W. Costigan.

"And I am the Good Shepherd" was the text which the preacher, Rev. Father Conolly, S. J., took for his sermon, showing to the congregation the teachings which were to be taken from the gospel of the day and telling how the relationship between the Good Shepherd and his sheep applied to each and every one of them.

One of the most touching figures which our Lord gave in the Gospels was that of his relationship to the faithful and of that which ought to exist between the faithful and Himself, the relationship of the shepherd towards his sheep and of the sheep towards their shepherd. Was it not He who had left his Heavenly Home and searched for His sheep until He had finally found it and rescuing it from the mouth of the lion and the jaws of the wolf, had lifted it up, bleeding and mangled, and placed it on His shoulders to bring it back to His Heavenly Father?

They were celebrating to-day the anniversary of the foundation of their parish. "They, in themselves, constituted a flock and they would obtain all the blessings and graces by being submissive to the Shepherd who had been appointed to govern them. It was time each should ask of themselves "what kind of a sheep have I made, how did my pastor find me," did he have the homage of my loyalty and was my loyalty of the self-sacrificing kind?" In concluding he strongly enjoined on his hearers to cultivate those virtues of obedience, submission, loyalty and self-sacrifice which went towards the making of the perfect flock.

In the evening the children who, to the number of forty, had made the First Communion the day previous in the Hospice Auclair, received their baptismal vows and were solemnly consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The enrollment in the scapular also took place. Rev. Father Boyd, who officiated at the mass in the morning, preached the sermon and the ceremonies were brought to a close by the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The young ladies of St. Agnes choir sang during the evening service.

HUTCH FOR THE BLOOD

When one eats a lot and crams a lot of food in the stomach the process of digestion is not complete. The food remains in chunks and ferments. This fermentation produces poisonous acid, which, when it enters the blood, causes impurities and produces the humiliating evidences so well known. It is necessary before one attempts to clean the blood to clean those organs of the body, on which the blood depends for its purity and healthiness. Hutch will clean the body, assist the digestion, so that it will be complete and it will purify the blood and skin. Hutch is a doctor for 10 cents.

REVIVAL GOES ON ITS WAY QUIETLY

Another Successful Meeting at American Presbyterian Church.

Another successful revival meeting was held in the American Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon. The meeting was conducted by Rev. Hugh Pedley and prayer was offered by Rev. F. M. Dewey, Rev. Osborne Troop, Rev. Mr. McKilligan, Rev. J. L. Gilmour, Rev. Mr. Dewey and other gentlemen as well as several ladies. An unusual feature of the meeting was an address delivered by a young lady in the congregation.

The young lady who was seated near the front of the church, arose quietly and, facing the congregation, began addressing them in a low voice. She stated that when she came to this country from England several years ago she was a Roman Catholic. Up to that time and for some time afterwards she had been a firm believer in the Catholic Church. Then she began to have doubts and eventually she discontinued going to church altogether. For about a year she had not attended a church service. She had been taught to regard Protestants as heretics and on that account she would not go to a Protestant church. At last, however, she attended a service in the church in which they were then gathered. What she had heard had resulted in her conversion.

She asked permission to sing a few lines of a hymn of which she was very fond and in a clear voice she sang several stanzas of a hymn, the first verse of which was as follows:

"I see the face of Jesus
He smiled in love on me.
He filled my heart with rapture
My soul with ecstacy."

Three Rivers, Que., May 8.—The Sclater case was up again yesterday morning. Mrs. Sclater and Wallace Macrae were once more in court. Neither of the prisoners appear to be much troubled about the outcome of the trial. The opinion seems to be gaining ground that Macrae is not the man who killed Percival Sclater. Little progress was made, and the case was postponed until Saturday next, the 13th, inst., when, it is said, a few new witnesses will be called in.

MONTREAL, MONDAY, MAY 8.

MR. HYMAN AND LONDON.

It is to be supposed that Mr. Hyman will be appointed to succeed Mr. Sutherland as Minister of Public Works, and that an election will be held in London. It so happens that London is about the most difficult seat in Canada to prophesy about with safety. Liberal and Conservative struggle there, year in and year out, for supremacy. The armor is never off. The political leaning of almost every voter is known. London, therefore, has never been acounted a safe seat by either party. Mr. Hyman won it, at first, largely because of his remarkable ability as an organizer; more recently, of course, he has acquired the prestige that goes with proved ability. In the last general election rather too much work in other parts of Ontario devolved upon him, and the canvass at home suffered somewhat, with the result that his majority was only eighteen. It has been foreseen that the seat would probably be opened very soon by his acceptance of some portfolio, the Conservatives have stood to arms awaiting the event, and meanwhile the constituency has returned a Conservative to the Ontario Asembly. It is no great wonder, therefore, that those who have been denouncing Sir Wilfrid Laurier so loudly over the school clauses of the Northwest Autonomy measures should jump at the chance which seems to offer to deliver a blow at the Ministry.

Mr. Hyman is not the sort of man to decline the offer of battle. If London is lost to this Government, as Cardwell was lost to the Bowell Government in 1895, it will not be because the Minister is afraid to fight, as other Ministers were in 1895. Mr. Hyman has stood loyally by his leader in all this difficulty, and he is not the sort of man to shrink from the contest when a blow is aimed both at him and at Sir Wilfrid.

The result of the impending contest will be awaited, very naturally, with the greatest interest. Mr. Hyman will in all likelihood be elected, but he may quite possibly be defeated. In a riding where the parties are so evenly balanced, a very slight shifting of allegiance can alter the result. Ontario people, who have for years expressed their satisfaction over Sir Wilfrid Laurier's ability to rise superior to the prejudices of race and creed, are now to have an excellent opportunity of practising for themselves the virtue they have admired in him. If they do practise it, if Mr. Hyman is safely returned from London, if London rebukes the mischief makers, a good work will have been done for the Dominion. If not, if the people of London find that a guarantee to the minority of such rights as they now have in the West is an exercise of toleration greater than can be permitted in an Ontario public man, it will not be so good, but even that would not, it may be hoped, put a term to the career of Mr. Hyman. It certainly would not affect the passage of the measures, whose fate has already been decided by the vote of last week.

AN ATTACK ON CANADIAN NATIONALITY.

It is a sad but very commonly exhibited fact that nothing tends so rapidly to blind a man's eyes to the real significance of things about him, and to endow what he sees with the prevailing color of his thoughts, as indulgence in religious controversy. The Toronto News, which at one time gave evidence of a certain appreciation of the province of Quebec, of the French-Canadian race, and of the position of these elements in Confederation, was seized some months ago with a violent attack of suspicious hostility against the Roman Catholic religion; and ever since that time it has perceived the hand of clerical domination, of Quebec insolence, and of French-Canadian aggression, in every dollar paid to a French-sounding name by any public body in the entire Dominion. The idea that the province of Quebec, and the great communities descended from that province in the rest of Canada, can have any claim to share in the development and exploitation of the Dominion, seems to have entirely passed from its mind.

For sheer recklessness of statement and violence of conclusion, however, it has never surpassed the attack which it made last week upon the civil service of the Yukon. Such recklessness would have been inexplicable but for the fact that the Yukon is a very long way off, and that any falsehood concerning it secures a large start of its authoritative contradiction. Moreover, the News was at that time exhibiting in various other ways its willingness to sacrifice all permanent considerations of justice and policy for the sake of securing an immediate effect upon the inflammable portion of the Ontario electorate and possibly through them on the members representing them at Ottawa.

The News article was based upon "sources which admit of no serious doubt." That is all we are told about them. Some of the charges made are such as no responsible paper, not even one of the party organs upon whom the News looks down, would make except upon very strong and very carefully cited authority. Such is the statement that Mr. J. E. Girouard was "run to earth" in connection with "keeping the voters' lists out of the hands of the Independent Liberals and Conservatives." Upon an authority no more intimately connected with the matter than that of the editorial writer of the Toronto News, this charge scarcely needed the complete refutation which Mr. Congdon has given it. Even more atrocious in the bad taste of its bigotry is the allusion to Crown Prosecutor Noel. This allusion contains one false and unsupported allegation, namely, that Mr. Noel knows no English law. The rest of its charges are such as fortunately seldom find a place today in the press of Canada outside of the minor organs of avowedly anti-Catholic propaganda. They are that Mr. Noel "is said to be a confidant of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, lives with the priests, and with the assistance of Judge Dugas and Registrar Girouard maintains French-Canadian supremacy." Since when has it been a disqualification for office in the Dominion of Canada that a man possesses the confidence of his Premier and boards at a hospice conducted, it is true, by a religious order, but welcoming and receiving many Protestant guests? A few other "charges" like these make up the balance of the article, except where a mere citation of French-Canadian names is used as proof of French-Canadian domination.

The fact that Quebec has contributed so greatly to the population of the Yukon as to make a large force of French-speaking officials necessary is suggested only once, when it is explained that the appointment of Mr. Noel as a second Crown Prosecutor was necessitated, "as many of the prisoners were French." The News is willing to accord this province its due share of criminality! Judge Dugas, whose appointment the News treats as a sign that "one racial element appears to have taken complete possession of every position of consequence under the Government," has a Scotch fellow-judge and an Irish fellow-judge, each drawing the same salary as himself. For every French name cited by the News a suitable proportion of English names can be given. Does the News realize that for the sake of bolstering up its views on the Northwest school question it is doing its best to split Canadian nationality asunder?

The Millionaire's Office Boy.

A millionaire was standing by
A vacant lot one day.
He gazed upon a lot of boys,
At baseball they did play.
Among the crowd he saw a boy,
A child of tender years,
It was his worthless office boy
With large and flapping ears.

Alas! the millionaire did sigh,
He'd fired that office boy
That very day, an hour before,
He would not have the boy around
Because the boy was dumb,
So dumb he did not know enough
Out of the rain to come.

The little boy played shortstop and
A stinger came his way.
He calmly took it with his left
And made a double play.
He nailed a grounder, sizzling hot
And slammed it swiftly home
In time to stop a runner there
Who on the run did come.

In time it was his turn at bat,
The bases they were full,
He whacked the leather over second
In manner beautiful.
And while the fielder threw it wild
And three fine runs came in,
The office boy flew round to third
And quietly wiped his chin.

The millionaire jumped up and down,
And shouted in his glee.
He never guessed that office boy
So great a man could me.
And when the game was o'er at last
He unto him did say.
"If you'll come back and work for me,
I'll give you double pay."

Unto the Harvest

"Following his plough along the mountain-side."

The farmer has now shaken himself thoroughly clear of his winter's jobbing work around the homestead, and from early morn to gathering dusk, is busy as was ever any bee, toiling on his acres.

Soon as the frost began to show out of the land, he got to putting the plough-shares and kindred agricultural apparatus into working condition, against preparation for the seed time.

'Tis an interesting season this time of the sowing and planting, and a couple of hours' ramble out of town is well repaid. The aroma from the freshly-turned earth is health-bringing to an extent that would make stare the city man or woman who has not had the pleasure of forming one of the crowd round the farmhouse table at noon, or at the close of the ploughman's day. He who follows the plough's tail, or with swinging stride o'er the fresh smelling sod, scatters hopefully the grain, has no need of week-ends by the lake front, or fortnights at the seaside. Every zephyr brings health; increased strength comes from every foot of newly turned land.

To the man who grinds out his days in workshop, or at desk, nothing better could be, then a sharing of this nature's gift, a health-giver that is not hedged round with patent medicine prices, but rises from God's earth free to all.

* * *

Changes come quickly in this Canada, and in nothing is this more observable than in the appearance of the fields. Only a few short days ago, the farmer was partly blocked-in to his farmyard by snowbanks. To tend the stock in the barns, and on occasion fight his way through drift encumbered roadways to town, was all he could hope to accomplish. To-day the land is not only open to the feet of himself and of his herds, but it is already far advanced on the way towards a harvest, which it is to be hoped will be a plenteous one, bringing suitable reward to his labors, and additional honors and prosperity to his country.

Even now, indeed, acres of the recently ploughed land has started to "green" with the sprouting of the early grain, plants and potatoes are going into the earth as quickly as the active young farm lad and lass can get over the ground, and with occasional visits of such good growing weather as favored the farmer yesterday, there will be gladness as well as joy in his heart, and the townsman can begin to dream of the early potato and the sweet tasting corn.

The Original Interviewer.

"Yes, sir," said the oldish man, whom everybody had spotted off long before as a literary character, "I may say that I was the first newspaper man to introduce the interview as you find it now. Of course, it has been greatly enlarged upon since that time."

"Who was your first subject?" was asked.

"A murderer awaiting execution."

"And how long was your interview?"

"Only a few seconds, sir. I simply entered his cell and remarked that it had been a mighty hard winter, and he replied that it had, and there the interview closed. I don't say it was much of a feat, but it opened the way so that the modern interviewer can now walk by aprison and go off and write a five-column article on the condemned and publish his picture and a full confession on top of all else."

Brilliant Scheme.

"Yes, that matrimonial bureau made a great success. It collected a lot of homely men and married them off to the most beautiful women."

"How in the world did it attract the beautiful women?"

"Easy. It just stated that it had special bargain days in husbands."

CROWD WAS CURIOUS

Smallest Adult Human Being in the World Appeared in Montreal This Morning.

Miss Corita Shay is the most talked about lady in Montreal to-day, for the reason that she is the smallest adult human being in the world and also because she made her first appearance in this city at the Monument National Building this morning. There was a big crowd who manifested great eagerness to see what a lady only 30 inches high looked like. It is a coincidence that just at this time when Corita is creating a sensation in Montreal by her smallness, Macknow, the Russian giant (8 feet and a half in height), is astonishing the Londoners by his hugeness.

Corita has consented to appear between 11 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. and 6 and 7.30 p.m. daily during this week at 210 St. Lawrence Street. To further accommodate the public on Saturday next, Corita will be on view from 2 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 10 p.m. Everybody will be admitted to see her free of charge.

James Martineau

We have heard and read much, in recent papers, and magazines, of the centenary of Hans Andersen, the writer of fairy tales. Referring to this fact, yesterday morning, in the course of his sermon, Rev. Mr. Barnes, of the Church of the Messiah, drew the attention of his listeners to the fact that it was also the centenary of James Martineau, the master of Ethical Philosophy, and one of the strongest forces of his age to reconcile religion and reason, belief and fact.

"It was more due to him than to any other man that the age was not swamped in materialism," said Mr. Barnes. ...."He was a religious prophet of the first magnitude."

In the world of literature we know James Martineau as the author of "Types of Ethical Theory," a work that placed him in a high rank among philosophic thinkers. In the world of faiths, we find him a Unitarian. As both Unitarian and thinker, Mr. Barnes spoke of him, and, in truth, one stands for the other. No body of religious worshippers is more a product of thought, reason and philosophy than the Unitarian; of no others can it be said more truly that they know whom they have believed, Upon their reason, do they base their belief, and on the strength of pure and moral living, alone, do they hope for salvation. This church is, primarily, a home for the thinker, the dispassionate student of truth, and the courageous follower of his own convictions.

In such a faith James Martineau might well be found, upholding and expounding his doctrines. Mr. Barnes spoke of the great work of his life, which followed a line of reasoning comprehending all questions and difficulties naturally arising in human thought, that of the idea of a personal God, and the possibility of our coming into personal relationship with Him.

And Mr. Barnes sketched the positive faith of Unitarianism, the faith of this philosopher Martineau, and of Channing, and of Emerson , and his own faith,—a faith for which men had come from the many and taken their place with the few,—that the church's ideal and the people's ideal should be "to create a temple of a life, so pure and sweet that God will come and dwell therein," and with the life of God in the soul of man would result the God-like life. So Martineau had believed and, with the simplicity of Hans Andersen, had interpreted his deepest thought into such clearness of statement that children might understand.

It is a pleasure to listen to Mr. Barnes. The purity and beauty of his diction, his scholarly knowledge of the Scriptures, are not excelled by any preacher of the city. His sermons are distinctive because of their thoughtful reasoning, and are always enhanced by the charm of a character ennobled by many years of thought and experience, enlightened by many years of study, and touching so nearly the true line of action laid down by the Ideal of mankind.

"Cleave to God, against the name of God." True to the light of the soul all men should turn from everything that was antagonistic to a simple, noble life, even though it came in the guise of religion itself. Many things were done in the "name of God," which were not of God. Creeds, sacraments, fortunes, achievements, letters,—all would pass away but the God in the soul of man, never knows death, and is the great and only Saviour.

I thought of this message, as I looked over the congregation, and at the simple church, and the earnest speaker. They were but a small body of worshippers. In Montreal they have but this one place of worship. In all Canada they number but two or three thousand adherents. Yet they stand for generations of thinkers. They are to be found in all centres of thought and culture. Men of power have come from their church at all stages of its history. And yet they have known intolerance. It was only after the year 1813 that Great Britain allowed their faith to be taught. She had forbidden their preaching in 1689. But recently a National Free Church was formed in England, including all Protestant denominations, save the Anglican, but they excluded the Unitarians. The churches have ever looked suspiciously upon them for they are the descendants of the faith that brought about the first great Arian heresy of the early Church.

"Cleave to God, against the name of God." Such is the vital principle of their faith, such the line of belief they have followed through the centuries. To them the evidence of their own reason, and the aspiration of their own heart, are the voices of their God. And they are, after centuries, still small numerically. But, they have given to the world, men great in thought, great in accomplishment, of powerful personality. One of these, was James Martineau, the philosopher, who was himself the living example of his creed to "cleave to God against the name of God." The whole purpose of his life was embodied in his desire to prove the desirability of a true and reasonable faith, that would include all mankind, and further the fulfillment of the great hope of the Unitarians, that

"In time to be
Shall one great temple rise to Thee,
Thy Church our broad humanity."

A VALUABLE PLAYTHING.

A valuable bracelet, lost by a lady whilst staying at Brighton over a year ago, has just been recovered under rather remarkable circumstances. The jewel was nominally valued at £400, but was probably worth much more, as the diamonds with which it was set were of singular equal brilliancy and of peculiar cut. A reward of £25 was offered for its recovery, but nothing further was heard of the bracelet until last week, when a laborer asked a pawnbroker to lend him a few shillings on it. The laborer had found the jewel months ago whilst working in a sewer, and, taking it home, had given it to his children for a toy, until, being hard up, he thought he might try to raise a few shillings on it. The bracelet has now been restored to its owner, whilst the finder and the pawnbroker have been rewarded.

CANADA'S SYSTEM RECEIVES ENCOMIUMS FROM ABROAD

Work of Commercial Agencies Branch of Trade and Commerce Department Endorsed by the Leading Trade Paper in Great Britain.

Ottawa, May 8.—(Special.)—One of the most interesting and the most active branches of Canada's public services is that of Commercial Agencies. It is in the Department of Trade and Commerce over which Sir Richard Cartwright ably presides. The intimate direction of the affairs of the department of Commercial Agencies falls to the lot of Mr. F. C. T. O'Hara, one of the most intelligent, energetic and progressive men of the service. The work of the commercial agencies branch has recently had authoritative endorsation from two sides of the Atlantic. The people of Canada will be interested in knowing that this public service is regarded as of value to the country by no less institutions than the executive of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and by Sells Commercial Intelligence, the largest and most important commercial publication of Great Britain.

The Canadian endorsation is probably the most interesting, for it is but a short time since the Manufacturers' Association said a good many things that were not pleasant about the commercial agencies. Recently the executive met at Toronto and adopted a resoultion which declared that as "the Department of Trade and Commerce has increased, during the past year, the usefulness of its commercial agency service by publishing the reports of the commercial agents and the foreign trade inquiries weekly instead of monthly; by extending the scope of its work and appointing agents to new fields, and by providing for more frequent visits to Canada by its foreign agents in order that they may be kept familiar with Canada's increasing possibilities in the export trade, be it resolved the Canadian Manufacturers' Association expresses its appreciation and tenders its best thanks for the assistance given to increase Canada's export trade by the development of the Commercial Agency service as above."

Sell's Commercial Intelligence editorially advises the British Government to organize a commercial service similar to that possessed by Canada. It says: "The Canadian Government supplies an admirable example of how this service should be organized. The Canadian Government Department of Trade and Commerce has a number of agents—for the most part practical business men—who report once a month to the department, and whose reports, which are of considerable commercial value, are printed and distributed weekly all over the Dominion free of charge. Moreover, when these agents are asked questions by Canadian firms they leave no stone unturned to find the answer, even to the extent of making personal inquiries among the manufacturers in their districts."

In the news columns of the Commercial Intelligence there is a detailed two-column description of the Canadian system of commercial agencies. It notes the fact that the last report of the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce contains a most interesting report by Mr. F. C. T. O'Hara, the superintendent of Commercial Agencies. "We have," it says, "several times remarked on the eneterprise manifested in the conduct of this branch of the public service, which is now rendering valuable assistance to Canadian exporters. During the year ending December last three more commercial agencies were established, viz., in Japan, Bristol and Mexico, which makes fifteen in all. The agents are now required to report every month to the department. They used to report at quarterly intervals. They have also received instructions as to the lines upon which they are to work and the service has thus become more uniform, systematic, uniform and regular. As the agents are almost all practical business men their reports are of considerable value, but until February, 1904, the only vehicle for distributing these was the monthly report of the department, and the information was frequently several months old before it could be published. Since that time a weekly report has been issued containing only the reports of the agents, but in addition trade inquiries from all sources, tariff changes, extracts from commercial papers and departmental notes. Canadian business men receive this report free of charge and the information collected by the department is distributed by this means every seven days throughout Canada. A complete index of the report is also kept up-to-date to facilitate the answering of inquiries, and it is circulated with the report at intervals of six months. Another feature of the Agency's work has been the special inquiries into given subjects of trade interest, each agent giving information with regard to his particular district. Business men are not apt to set great store by Government reports—at least not in Great Britain—but it must be admitted that in the case of Canada the interests of business men are well served by the Government. Not the least useful work of the superintendent of Commercial Agencies has been the distribution abroad of the Industrial Blue Book, the most comprehensive work of the kind published in Canada, and containing the names and addresses of all the manufacturers in the Dominion."

Reference was made in the report to the willingness of the British Consuls to further Canada's trade, the failure of the Canadian producers to avail themselves to the fullest extent of the opportunities for foreign trade and to the failure of Canadian business men to answer inquiries sent to them through the Department.

The Intelligence referring to this says: "Some mistakes are, no doubt, due to the sheer ignorance of the export trade and are the blunders of the beginner. We fear, however, that with regard to the neglect of the correspondence—an intolerable failure in a business man—Canadians are hardened offenders, and we can only hope Mr. O'Hara will succeed in bringing about as notable an improvement in Canadian business methods as he has achieved in the methods of his own department."

MONTREAL MAN ENDS EIGHT MONTHS JAIL

Judge Lavergne Frees Pollick, of Mille Isles, on Recognizances.

William Pollick, a white-haired octogenarian, who has been in prison here for eight months, awaiting trial on a charge of bridge burning at Mille Isles, Terrebonne, was on Saturday, set free by Mr. Justice Lavergne, on a personal recognizance of $500, after he had taken out a writ of habeas corpus to secure his liberty.

It is a rare thing for an accused person in British territory to languish in gaol for eight months awaiting trial; this and other peculiar features of the old man's case aroused considerable sympathetic interest.

He was arrested last August, charged by one Wm. Boyd, jr., with having set fire to a bridge. Magistrate Petit of St. Jerome, committed him for trial before the St. Scholastique Assizes, and on the Magistrate's recommendation, he was sent to the Montreal gaol to await trial in February.

Mr. E. Surveyor, who appeared for Pollick, argued that there had been gave irregularities in the first proceedings and that the magistrate had prejudiced Pollick's interests by undue reference to the old man's somewhat strenuous past, which the magistrate declared precluded him from bail. On these grounds Mr. Surveyor demanded the discharge of his client, or at least his liberation on bail.

Mr. Leon Garneau, who appeared for Wm. Boyd, the complainant, said that Pollick had already been sentenced four times for various misdemeanors and read a letter to this effect from Mayor Strong of Mille Isles, who said that Pollick had been a rather troublesome citizen. Mr. Garneau argued that the Judge of Terrebonne district should also be consulted before bail was granted.

Mr. Justice Lavergne, however, immediately decided that the old man should be released on bail, remarking that he had perhaps already been in gaol long enough to atone for his alleged crime. He therefore released Pollick on his own and another's bonds of $500 each. Rev. J. McKillican, became the second bondsman.

THE JERSEY CHANNEL ISLANDS SOCIETY.

A well attended meeting of the Jersey Channel Islands Society was held in Ligget's Hall Saturday evening for the purpose of electing officers, etc. The following were elected: Dr. de Jersey White, president; Mr. W. Le Brocq, treasurer; Mr. W. Harquoil, secretary; executive committee—Messrs. G. Laffoley, A. P. Weary, J. E. Lalle, K. K. Kerley, W. Helleur and P. Holt. A great deal of interest has been shown in this city regarding the advantages to be derived from such an organization, and it is hoped that all interested in upholding the traditions of the old island home will give a willing hand to the society.

HOSPITAL FOR NORTH SYDNEY.

North Sydney, May 8.—(Special.)—A movement is on foot to build a hospital at Sydney Mines, Mr. Graham Fraser has offered to sell the town the Beech Hill property, a splendid estate of considerable extent, well wooded and well laid out, with a handsome modern brick mansion, at the low price of $25,000 which he is willing to take in town bonds at par. The property would form a splendid public park as well as an excellent site for a hospital. The town council of Sydney Mines are actively taking up the matter and a committee has been appointed to interview the P.W.A. lodges with a view to securing their co-operation.

THE BIRDS LOST THE TWO OPENING GAMES TO BISONS

SPORTING COMMENT

The C. A. A. U. is evidently doing its level best to block the Westmount Association Football Club's efforts to arrange Dominion championship games with the Galts.

* * *

At the meeting of the Montreal District Football League a few weeks ago, it was decided that the laws governing amateurs and professionals in Great Britain should be observed by the local league. Now everyone knows that athletics in Great Britain are properly managed and that the laws that obtain over there can hardly be improved on. When the local league adopted these laws, which permit amateurs to play with professionals without losing their amateur standing, they took a step in the right direction,—a step that was taken long ago by the golfers and cricketers, of Canada, than whom there are no better amateurs in the world. The golfers and cricketers do not bother with the C. A. A. U. nor with any other athletic union. They do not have to consult these unions.

* * *

It is unfortunate that the Westmounts and Galts found it necessary to consult the C. A. A U as the latter has exhibited a desire to knife the former. The Westmounts are all amateurs in that none of them has ever received money for playing football, but some of them have played against professionals and under the laws that the C. A. A. U. has made, are "pros." Quite honestly they admitted their terrible sin to the C. A. . A. U. and the announcement caused the ban to be placed on them. Isn't that a lovely, just, honorable way of looking upon their attitude?

* * *

The Galts must have cold feet for when they were informed of the stand the Westmounts proposed to take with regard to professionalism, they assumed a cold, haughty, don't-touch-me demeanor and brusquely told the Westmounts.

"You must get permission from the C. A. A. U. before we'll play you."

Wouldn't that pain you?

* * *

The western clubs up to the time the Galts mounted to their lofty pedestal ingnored the C. A. A. U. with icy indifference. Couldn't improve on their brand of indifference. Then this opportunity for dodging the Westmounts came within reach and the indifference disappeared, a rare eagerness to dodge replacing it.

"You must get the C. A. A. U.'s permission."

Wow! wow!

* * *

The C. A. A. U. bit hard on the Galt's bait, threw its chest out and announced in stentorian or sterterous tones—take your choice—that this was a serious question, which required a barrel or two of gray matter to decide.

* * *

The Westmounts pressed the issues and the C. A. A. U. came back at them with this marvellous statement:

"We must consult the American Amateur Athletic Union, before we can give a decision."

Well, what d'ye think of that?

* * *

One would infer that the C. A. A. U. considered that British institutions were not good enough for it. Which is queer when it is remembered that the American athletic fairly reek with hidden professionalism.

* * *

It is the C. A. A. U.'s duty to speak right out from the chest and admit that the Westmounts have taken the right course.

* * *

The Bisons may thank Chief Zimmer for yesterday's game. Weidensaul was home by a foot in the eleventh. The Chief was evidently squaring himself with the Buffaloes for giving Dyer the benefit of the doubt at third. Poor way of umpiring, that.

* * *

* * *

Manager Jimmie Bannon is strengthening the Birds. He has three lines out for a new first baseman and expects to close a deal for one to-day. If his expectations are disappointed, he will wire Owner Kreitner, who left for Buffalo last night and Mr. Kreitner will then go to Boston to try to induce Owner John J. Taylor, of the Americans to sell him a player.

* * *

Hanson, an outfielder, reported this morning. Just where he will play is uncertain as Joyce, Meaney and Weidensaul are all making good. Kuhns' whereabouts are as yet unknown but he may drift into Montreal any day now, as he has promised to report.

* * *

It must be remembered that the Bisons have been practising in the mornings for three weeks whereas the Birds have not had a chance to work in any practices. A fortnight's morning practices will gild the edges of the Royals' work.

To-morrow will be ladies' day at Atwater Park and no admission fee will be required of them for either grounds or grand stand. The same rule will hold good every Tuesday throughout the season.

1,000 MILE RECORD.

New York, May 8.—After being continuously in motion from 9.38 a.m. Friday in an automobile, Charles G. Wridgway, of New York, covered 1,000 miles over the Brighton Beach race-track before noon Saturday in 25 hours, 50 minutes, 1 second. This beats the record made by Schmidt near Detroit last year by 4 hours, 3 minutes, 36 secs. During the night the track was partly illuminated with calcium lights and Mr. Wridgway reduced the speed of his machine to avoid possible accidents, but after daylight he went at top racing speed.

STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Birds Dropped Two Games to Bisons, Scores 3 to 1, and 4 to 1

Pitcher's Battle in Opening Contest, Kissinger Winning Out—Sunday Battle Went 12 Innings, Dyer's Errors Beating Royals.

Mudville hitting was responsible for the Birds' defeat Saturday at the opening game by 3 to 1 and dumb playing, with Dyer in the leading role, was responsible for their defeat at Mile End yesterday by 4 to 1.

Except for the excellent pitching of Kissinger and Felix and an occasional bit of sharp fielding the initial contest was featureless. At the best it was a tame exhibition, and the 6,900 spectators had to work their imaginations overtime to conjure up incidents to cheer for. It was a game to see and to forget.

Yesterday's struggle, however, was probably the most exciting that was ever witnessed in Montreal. It was full of incident as a dime novel and would have furnished Conan Doyle with material for another dozen of his $150,000 thrillers.

The fans would like to see Sherlock Holmes working on the Dyer mystery. They would like to know who told Dyer that he could play ball, and who hypnotized Jimmy Bannon into thinking that Dyer was a ball-player. It would take all Sherlock's acumen to solve these intricate problems, for not one of the 2,500 fans who saw the Sunday game could figure it out why Manager Jim hadn't picked up a cheap wooden Indian and propped him up at short.

Dyer had a fielding average that would read something like this—.000. He made five errors that were so juicy that they might be justly considered to be over-ripe. One of his luscious fumbles, that of a throw from Joyce in the eighth resulted in Laporte scoring when he should have been doubled at second. That run for the Bisons robbed Montreal of the victory.

At the bat Dyer wasn't too bad, as he was robbed of hits by Nattrass and Laporte. Nattrass made a one-handed, running pick-up of a grounder and Laporte made a one-handed catch of a high line drive.

But Dyer, unless he shows marked improvement, won't do.

It was a real fanning bee the fans had at Mile End yesterday. The hitting was free and the fielding was snarp, and the fact that the result was in doubt for eleven innings gave the crowd its money's worth of that excitement which makes the game so attractive. For six innings not a man crossed the pan. Then the Birds got busy and Joyce hustled over the plate. The Bisons evened up in the eighth on Dyer's error and Bird's slashing single. That ended the scoring till the first of the twelfth, when Pappalau was bumped for three runs.

Pappalau twirled a fine game all through and pulled himself out of some tight corners. In the course of the battle he retired ten of the Bisons on strikes, and in eleven innings only nine hits were secured off him, three being bunched in the eighth. The Birds made ten hits off Yerkes, but never got more than two in any one innings.

Weidensaul made his first appearance in a Royal uniform and made good, his work at centre-field being gilt-edged.

A FLY-CATCHER.

Weidensaul had a busy time in the centre garden yesterday.

BUFFALO HERE TO-MORROW.

To-morrow is an off day for Montreal and Buffalo, so the teams have arranged to play the game postponed from Friday and so work off the fourth game. It will be ladies' day, and the fair sex will be admitted to all parts of the grounds. Buffalo and Montreal are generally certain to put up a snappy specimen of ball, so that the two remaining games may prove warm ones. The teams will also play to-day.

WHY HE SMILED.

Jimmy Bannon smiled broadly as he hammered out the first double of the local season.

Royals, Weidensaul hit a fly to Gettman, Joyce was sent to the bench by Laporte and Murphy, Gibson singled, but was stranded at second, when Pappalau hit to Laporte.

It was one-all when the tenth commenced and excitement ran high. Bird popped up a fly to Pappalau, Nattrass struck out, Brown was passed and Yerkes fanned. Hill nabbed Miller's fly to left, Bannon struck out, and Meaney was retired, Nattrass to Raub.

In the eelventh, Miller connected with Gettman's weak fly. Hill reached first on Dyer's error, but was put out trying to steal second. Pappalau fielded Delehanty's grounder to Raub snarply. The Birds played dumb ball in their half of the innings. Raub died at first on Brown's pretty throw from third. Dyer waited and got his base on balls. Weidensaul hit to the left field fence for two sacks and Dyer reached third. Only one down and men on third and second. The fans were delirious, for they could see the game coming their way. Joyce made a kindergarten attempt to sacrifice, and Dyer made a half-hesitating attempt to reach the home-plate and was thrown out by inches, where he would have been safe by feet if he had displayed a paid player's ginger. Gibson hit safely to right field, and Weidensaul made a bold bid for a run, being caught at the plate on a hair-trigger decision. Well, that was a sore touch. Two runs nipped at the plate in the nine innings when either run would have beaten the Bisons. It was a steal by Zimmer, which gave the Bisons the game.

And then came the innings it pains us to tell about. Pappalau, who had pitched wonderfully good ball for eleven innings, weakened, and the Buffaloes snapiy slaughtered him. Murphy hit cleanly to centre field, but was held at first by Weidensaul's fast fielding. Laporte sacrificed him to second cleverly, and Bird drove the ball to centre, scoring him. Nattrass hit safely to Dyer, advancing Bird to third. Brown hammered out a double, and Bird went over the pan. Yerkes filed out to Weidensaul, but Gettman bunted successfully, reaching first and scoring Nattrass and sending Brown to third. Hill got a base on balls and the sacks were full. The balloon was pulled down by Delehanty flying out to Weidensaul.

Pappalau earned a victory.

Rain twice delayed the game.

The Bisons are great finishers.

Yerkes struck out three times.

Miller made the Birds' lone hit.

Twenty-eight men were left on bases.

Big Chief Zimmer has a small voice.

Pappalau fielded his position in good style.

Hill struck out twice and got two bases on balls.

Buffalo 6; Montreal, 0. How about it, Mr. Kreitner?

Hill assumes a Jimmy Britt posture while at the bat.

The Birds have made two runs out of 74 times at bat.

Gibson is a great worker and kept Pappalau keyed up.

Meaney is hitting the ball hard, but cannot place it safely.

Kissinger and Yerkes have tied the Birds up in knots so far.

Jake Gettman waited and got two free passes in succession.

Buffalo can beat Montreal even without McManus' home runs.

Bisons and Birds play at Atwater Park to-day and to-morrow.

Birds should have scored the winning run, or runs, in the eleventh.

Except in the twelfth, Pappalau was very reliable in tight corners.

Manager Bannon scored the first run of the season on Montreal grounds.

Bannon made the first run and the first two-base hit of the local season.

Weidensaul is a decided acquisition to the team. He hits hard and fields fast.

SHEVLIN BEAT THE EXPRESS.

Meriden, Conn., May 8.—Thomas L. Shevlin, captain of the Yale football team, who is said to have raced the Boston express from New Haven to Meriden last Thursday and beaten the train to this city, surrendered to the police yesterday for violating the automobile speed law, and paid $40 to settle the case.

BASEBALL AT RICHMOND.

Richmond, May 8.—(Special.) — A large crowd witnessed the game of baseball which was played on the college grounds here Saturday afternoon between the St. Francis team of Richmond and the Academy team of Danville. The score was 32 to 5 in favor of the St. Francis team. The batteries were as follows:—Danville, Thorpe, Cloutier, Brown and Centurion. Richmond, Wyatt, Wilkinson, Jones and Fynan. Umpire, N. L. Lance.

THE YOUNGEST BASEBALL PLAYER.

The Philadelhpai Athletics have the unique distinction of having brought out this year the youngest baseball player in the profession and notwithstanding his swaddling clothes he is delivering the goods.

The young man who is just now creating a furore among those staid and ultra-conservative Quakers is Johnny Knight, a lad of seventeen summers. This youth is play the position of shortstop, and in addition thereto, is leading his club at the bat.

Knight did not come up by regulation stages and has had absolutely no experience in either independent or minor leagues. From a grammar school start he leaped over all the preliminary degrees and landed in major league company—the first dash out of the box.

While playing shortstop for one of the high school clubs in Philadelphia, young Knight's work attracted the attention of several sporting writers in the Quaker City and they forthwith reported their discovery to Connie Mack. The manager of the Athletics decided to give the boy a chance and with several old timers working for the place he beat them all out and if his present pace keeps up he is liable to make several of the old timers look to their laurels.

News for the Baseball Fans

McManus coached at third, his scarlet automobile coat exciting universal admiration.

The opening crowd was a bumper one, and pretty nearly everyone thought well of the team.

Owner Kreitner can judge by the crowds of Saturday and Sunday how a winning team would pay.

It is said that Dyer is discouraged because of the roasts that have been handed out to him.

Nattrass and Laporte are finished fielders, and anything that beats them out has to have frills on it.

Mr. Stallings smiled a sunny smile when "Foxy Grandpa" struck out in the seventh with Miller on third.

Derailed street cars, rain, high winds, chilly atmosphere, and a lost game were the "features of the day."

The general impression after the two games is that the Birds are a fast-fielding and light-hitting aggregation.

It is said that Manager Bannon is negotiating with Ald. Walsh to take a season's engagement in the box.

Few teams would have fattened their batting averages on the kind of pitching Kissinger served up Saturday.

The fans were happy till the fatal twelfth. Then their enthusiasm subsided like a bubble that has been pricked.

Pappalau always was a puzzle to Buffalo, and Sunday was no exception. He deserved to win by a score of 1 to 0.

Dyer played a good game Saturday, but was very much to the bad yesterday. He had hard luck in his hitting.

Buffalo looks as strong in all departments as last year, with the exception of first base. Murphy does not compare with Grimshaw.

Only one of the bases on balls given by Pappalau figured in the run column and that was the gift to Hill in the twelfth.

Zimmer's close decision on Weidensaul's slide to the plate in the eleventh caused some of the more excitable of the fans to threaten injury to him.

Pappalau retired Gettman, Hill and Delehanty on strikes in the third after Yerkes had made a hit. In the tenth he fanned Nattrass and Yerkes.

Manager Stallings and Owner Kreitner had to walk from Mount Royal Avenue to the grounds on account of a St. Denis Street car being derailed. So did about 1,000 other people.

Pappalau made Delehanty do some acrobatic stunts by shooting twisters under his chin. He was a little careless once and the sphere nailed Del between the shoulder-blades, making him grunt in earnest.

That third inning was an expensive ascension. After the agony was ended, a feminine spectator said: "Well, that Montreal catcher is too young to throw straight that distance."

Nattrass and Laporte made the spectacular plays of the day. Dyer pasted a grounder through second Nattrass made a one-handed pick-up while on the dead run, and threw Dyer at first. Later Dyer sent a sizzling liner through first and second. It was tagged for a safety, but Laporte jumped and knocked it down with one hand.

Farnham, May 8.—The Eastern Townships Baseball League have had a slight change in its personnel, the St. Johns Club having dropped, their place being taken by the Cowansville Club. The first league game will take place on May 13 between Magog and Farnham at Magog.

HARRIERS' UNION RUN SATURDAY

Over Fifty Men Took Part in the Race, Nine Clubs Represented.

The first union run of the Montreal District Harriers' Club was held Saturday, and was participated in by over fifty harriers. The men were photographed at the M.A.A.A. Club House, and then set out lead by McCuaig, Y.M.C.A., and Reese, Cote St Paul, while Edwards (Westmount) and Palmer (Crescent) acted as whippers-in. The variegated colors of the uniforms of the nine clubs represented made a pretty picture.

The course followed was along St. Catherine Street, down the Glen, across the fields to the Cote St. Paul bridge, where they were joined by additional members of the St. Paul Club. From this point a direct cross-country course was followed, including on the way a few swamps. After reaching the aqueduct, which was followed for a short distance, a cut across field was made to the Town of St. Paul. The members of the Cote St. Paul acted as hosts here, and after a short rest the pack turned homewards, reaching the M.A.A.A. about five o'clock.

The following were the clubs' representatives:

Y.M.C.A.—McCuaig, Gahan, Stewart, Goodfellow, Patterson, Palmer, Stanley, Smith, Forest, Barker, Henschel, McCullogh, Watson, Leonard, Yuile, McCallum, Platts.

Ramblers—Hall, Bill, Fogarty, Roy, McCrudden, Jessop.

Westmount—Outhet, Weston, Edwards.

Crescents—W. Berry, J. Berry, Mole, Hill, Palmer.

Cote St. Paul—Gamble, Reese, White, Ransom, Weiss.

Gordons — Breckon, Wood, Vibert, Kerr, Lanthier.

M.A.A.A.—Douglas, Speak, Hay, Lukeman, Gomery.

St. Patrick's—Stevenson, Whalen.

IT IS TO LAUGH.

"A great hullabaloo was made last year about my giving away some of our good players. What would you have? If I had kept all the good men away from the other clubs, we would have been so far ahead at the very first part of the season that all the interest would have been taken out of the struggle then." — Manager Stallings, in the Sunday Sun.

WESTMOUNT BOWLING SEASON OPENS MAY 24

At a meeting of the committee of the Westmount Bowling Club, held on Saturday afternoon in the clubhouse, it was decided not to open the season for play before May 24, Victoria Day. The Kensington green was never before in as good condition as it is to-day, and by the opening for play it is expected to be as perfect as it is possible to make it. It is hoped that arrangements will be made for a British team to visit Canada during the coming season, in which event the Westmount players will have the pleasure of trying conclusions with picked Scotch and English bowlers. A team is also expected down from Toronto for a friendly game, and the Valleyfield team will contribute their quota to the series of provincial matches, and altogether the coming season will eclipse anything before experienced in the history of the Westmount Bowling Club. The season in Toronto commenced on Saturday afternoon, but, of course, the green there is in a much more forward state than here.

Mr. Fred Fowler, the president of the Westmount Bowling Club, who has just returned from England, was heartily welcomed home by the members of the committee, over which he presided on Saturday afternoon. During his stay in England he met some of her ledding bowlers, all of whom manifested the greatest interest in Canada from a trade standpoint as well as a sporting one.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

SENIOR LACROSSE PLAYERS PRACTISED

Shamrocks and Montreals Good Workouts—Cornwall's Troubles.

Hoobin, P. Brennan, Kavanagh, Robinson, Kenny and Rielly, of the Shamrock world-beating aggregation, turned out for the first practice Saturday afternoon, along with a bunch of intermediates. Among the latter were Griffin, formerly of Sherbroke, and Alf. Kane, formerly of the Perth Crescents.

As the Shamrocks have the opening game of the season in Montreal with the Capitals, on the 27th, President O'Connell is losing no time to get the men into playing condition. He will be out with the men to-night.

The Montreal team also had a splendid practice, and for nearly two hours Barney Dunphy had charge of the field and made the boys step lively. Among the old players out were Muir, Haynes, Cameron, Davidson, Finlayson, Hamilton, McLaughlin, Dodds and Wells. Over twenty intermediates were out, and the followers of the M.A.A.A. expressed their satisfaction at the favorable look of things. Practices will be continued three times a week.

All three senior teams, including the Nationals, will put in a busy week, practicing for the opening of the season.

Western professionalism is again drawing good men away. A Cornwall despatch says: The annual migration of Cornwall players to C.L.A. towns has set in. The first to move was Donald Cameron, who left yesterday for St. Catharines to play again with the Athletics. Other C.L.A. teams are negotiating with several Cornwall men, and it is probable that John White and Jim Kervin will go West some time this month. The indications are that Cornwall will have a fast young team this season. Two or three of the local veterans are talking of retiring.

NUMEROUS ENTRIES FOR THE DOG SHOW

The hundreds of premiums, lists mailed out last Monday are doing effective work for the coming dog show, and the number of entries already registered, surpasses all expectations. A far more important special have been added to the already large list, and among the givers appears the name of Mayor Laporte, who has signified his intention of offering a gold medal. Mr. Arch A. Allan, also has given an elaborate silver cup for the best kennel of four Irish Terriers, shown by an exhibitor.

A new breed, never seen or shown here before, the Griffon, is this year, going to be represented by half a dozen specimens, lately imported from France, by a newcomer to our country. This gentleman who has a kennel of over a dozen, says that some of the dogs, to be on view have won championships at home, so the lovers of the dog shall have a true type to study the new arrival from. Entries, which close on the 11th inst. can be made at Room 58, Canada Life Building in day time, or the Natural History Rooms in the evening, from 8 to 10.

For Point St. Charles exhibitors, a committee of Messrs. J. Innes, E. S. Ostell and A. H. Hersey, has made arrangements to receive entries Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next, from 8 to 10, at the Engineers' Armory, Wellington Street, near subway.

The fee to all classes is 50c and all specials are open. Dogs do not require a pedigree to be shown under Canadian Kennely Club rules, so now is a chance for fanciers to find out what kind of stock they have.

DARING AUTO DRIVER HAD NARROW ESCAPE

New York, May 8.—While attempting at Brighton Beach race-track Saturday to break the one mile track record of 53 seconds, made by Barney Oldfield, Joe Nelson, in a cigar-shaped automobile, narrowly escaped death. His peculiar machine, called the "Lightning Bug," crashed into the fence at one of the track turns, and was badly damaged. The car was built so close to the ground it passed under the top rail of the fence, Nelson's head barely missing the barrier. The automobile was running at better than a mile a minute rate. The machine was brought to a stop without upsetting, and Nelson was not hurt.

ATHLETICS

NEW CLUB FOR LACHINE.

A number of Lachine residents have determined to organize themselves into a club for the purposes of sport and outdoor recreation, combined with social features. At a meeting held Friday evening the name of the Riverside Club was agreed upon, and a committee composed of Messrs. Duckworth, Cecil Reid, R. M. Hannaford and P. Walsh was appointed with the object of extending the original membership and taking further steps towards permanent organization. Messrs. Lyman and Bastable were directed to draft necessary by-laws and rules. It is understood that the home of the club will be near Stony Point, at the old Baby property.

FOOTBALL.

OUTREMONTS' PRACTICE.

Saturday's practice on the Outremont grounds was very encouraging, and two good teams should be picked from those who were out and several who are yet to be seen. There were twenty-five players on the field and a lively practice was the result. All members who intend to play on the senior or intermediate team should attend practices Tuesday and Thursday evenings. After practice Thursday the team to meet Montreal on Saturday will be picked. Those who have not been out so far will remember that practices are on Fletcher's Field.

HACKENSCHMIDT "EATS 'EM ALIVE"

Threw Six Burly Wrestlers in Thirty-Six Minutes at Brooklyn.

Maupas, who is to meet Hackenschmidt at Sohmer Park to-night, will have his work cut out for to avoid being thrice thrown inside an hour. Hack defeated Jenkins in two straight falls last Thursday night; went over to Brooklyn Friday night and threw six men inside an hour, and Saturday night threw Jim Parr three times in Buffalo.

Of the Brooklyn exhibition the New York Herald has this to say:

"Over in Brooklyn last night they fed six men into the hopper of the Hackenschmidt mill and he ground them to powder in about half-an-hour. The aggressive man-mountain who crushed and smashed all the vitality out of Champion Tom Jenkins the night before devoured the strength of these six burly ones as if they were infants. To one who looked on calmly at the spectacle the soliloquy of Dave Warfield kept repeating itself—eats 'em alive! He eats 'em alive!

"The thing happened in the Columbia Theatre in Brooklyn. The house was packed from pit to dome with lovers of sport, who wanted to see whether the Russian Lion was really such a fierce monster as he was represented. First Hackenschmidt stood on a revolving pedestal and showed off his enormous and frightful muscles, tying them in rugged knots while the spectators gasped and said ah! and the unhappy wrestlers who were going to be fed into the Hackenschmidt mill stood at the sides of the stage and also gasped and said, ah!

"The wrestlers thrown included Bop Appelin, Max Muller, Wm. Mahler and Joe Rogers.

IMMIGRATION THIS YEAR WILL BREAK ALL RECORDS

One Hundred Thousand Immigrants Expected to Arrive at Quebec This Season—Twelve Thousand Will Arrive During Present Week.

Quebec, May 8.—(Special.)—The unprecedented number of 100,000 immigrants are expected to arrive at the port of Quebec during the present season of navigation en route for the Canadian West. They have commenced to arrive with a rush and it is said that no less than twelve thousand will have arrived from Saturday last up to next Thursday.

The C.P.R. steamer, Montreal, brought 1,611 on Saturday, composed of foreigners of all nationalities, Italians, being in the majority.

Yesterday morning the Dominion liner Ottawa, brought one thousand, the greater part English farmers, and last night the Allan line steamer Victorian, landed fifteen hundred, mostly British farmers and tradesmen.

This morning the Dominion steamer Vancouver, is expected to arrive with another thousand brought out under the auspices of the Salvation Army.

The immigration officials at this port are taxed to the utmost by the rush, especially the medical inspectors, who are called upon to examine every immigrant who must hold a certificate of good health before he or she is allowed to proceed.

Mr. W. D. Scott, Dominion superintendent of Immigration, is in the city in the interest of his department. The Government alive to the necessity of up-to-date accommodation to meet the requirements of the increasing immigration, contemplates the enlargement of the immigration buildings of the hospital or House of Detention at Savard Park, recently destroyed by fire.

The new hospital under contemplation will be a modern fire proof brick structure with every accommodation, to cost in the vicinity of $60,000.

HEBREWS FLOCKING TO STATES

New York, May 7.—The statement that 90,000 Russian Hebrews are preparing to emigrate to America "turning their backs on tyranny and persecution, and coming to the land of freedom and liberty" was made by Edward Lauterbach at the annual meeting to-day of the patrons and members of the Home for Aged and Infirm Hebrews in this city. "The time is coming," declared Mr. Lauterbach, "and you engaged in charity work necessarily must face it, when the care of thousands of your Russian brethren will be in your keeping. Nowhere else can they turn to escape this persecution but to this country."

ANGLICAN CLERGY ISSUE MANIFESTO

Aim to Secure Recognition of Higher Criticism and More Tolerance.

London, May 8.—A crisis seems to have arrived in the controversy over matters of dogma, which in recent years has caused so much agitation and division in the Church of England.

A remarkable manifesto has been issued here signed by one hundred Anglican clergymen, among them being many prominent divines whose central object is to secure recognition of the results of Biblical criticism, and greater tolerance for advanced ideas with regard to such cardinal points in modern religious controversy as the Virgin Birth and the Incarnation of Christ.

The signaturse of one hundred clergy were obtained before the manifesto was issued publicly. Thus signed, it has been sent to every clergyman of the Church of England at home and abroad, with an invitation for the signatures of such as agreed with the points advanced. Already over 1,500 affirmatory replies have been received by the committee.

ORIGIN OF THE MOVEMENT.

Two or three members of the committee were formerly in the habit of discussing the efects of the "higher criticism" in private. By-and-by they found numbered among their clerical friends many who were in favor of taking active steps. The private conversations grew into informal gatherings, and later a committee was formed, by common consent, to take the matter in hand, but it was agreed that there should be no president.

This curiously formed committee has now sent out about 30,000 circulars; in fact, it has anonymously memorialized practically every priest and deacon in the Church of England.

TEXT OF THE MANIFESTO.

"We, the undersigned clergymen of the Church of England—observing (a), on the one hand, the present unsettled condition of religious opinion, which, while due in the main to the general trend of modern thought, especially connects itself for the clergy with the critical study of the New Testament, and (b), on the other hand, a counter tendency to treat the full discussion of man quyestions arising from such study as inadmissable for our Church and so to commit us as a body to non-critical views of the New Testament Scriptures—desire to record: —

(1) Our sense of the grave and manifold religious issues involved in the present critical discussions, and of the urgent need for English Churchmen to combine an earnest faith in the Holy Spirit who guides into all truth, with as earnest an effort to contribute to a solution of these problems:

(2) Our desire that, as many of the clergy have already, with advantage to Christian faith, and with a general assent on the part of their rulers, welcomed important results of a patient reverent, and progressive criticism of authoritative encouragement to face the critical problems of the New Testament with entire candor, reverence for God and His truth, and loyalty to the Church of Christ;

(3) Our fear lest the door of ordination should be closed to men who patiently and reverently apply historical methods to the Gospel records, and so an increasing number of men both spiritually and intellectually qualified should be lost to the high office of the ministry;

(4) Our conviction that it is not without grave responsibility and peril that any of us should build the faith of souls primarily upon details of New Testament narrative, the historical validity of which must ultimately be determined in the court of trained research —although many of us, until such final decision take shape, may cling devotedly to the traditional details in question;

(5) Our confidence that the faith of the Church in the years to come, whatever historical revisions may await us, will stand, without risk and without discontinuity, upon the spiritual foundations to which Christian experience and the creed of the church alike bear testimony."

Mr. Paul De Stil Maurice, twenty-eight years of age, who lives at Cote des Neiges, had hos skull fractured yesterday afternoon by being thrown from his horse while riding on the Cote des Neiges road. He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital where the doctors pronounce his case to be a very serious one.

Mr. A. F. Dunlop, who has been visiting at Atlantic City and New York has returned to this city.

THE WHIP-HAND

Apropos of the horse show we would call the attention of the public to the fact that we have the whip hand of the piano trade of Montreal. In other words we are the leaders. We offer better pianos, better prices and better terms. Hence we win in the race. See us and prove it. C. W. Lindsay, Limited, 2356 St. Catherine Street. FOREIGN.

Plymouth, Mass.—The forest fire which started on Friday near Darby Station, on the Middleboro & Plymouth branch of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, and which has twice been considered under control, burst out afresh. Immense tracts of white pine and birch have been destroyed and the loss will be many thousand dollars.

Glenwood Springs, Col.—President Roosevelt and his hunting party arrived on horseback Saturday afternoon. The President said: "We had good luck. We got ten bears." When the party came into Glenwood Springs, the hunters were mud bespattered and their horses wet. At the head of the party, the President, in his hunting clothes of duck, slouch hat and bandanna cravat, was as picturesque as the guides who have spent their lives in similar costumes.

New York.—Because several men who were playing accordeons and singing in front of his home at an early hour yesterday, would not stop when asked to do so, Peter Novelino, of Williamsburg, shot Patrick Ketchwa, leader of the serenaders, through the heart. The murder aroused the Italian colony in the neighborhood, and in the excitement that followed several additional shots were fired. No one else was hurt.

Terrill, I.T.—In a street duel between Joseph Matthews, a farmer, and Bruce Roberts, Matthews was killed. Matthews had objected to the attention of Roberts to his daughter. He learned they were married, and, meeting them on the public road, fired on Roberts, frightening the latter's team, which ran away injuring the bride. The father took the daughter to his home. To-day the father and his son-in-law met at a livery stable. Matthews opened fire at once and Roberts returned the fire, killing Matthews.

WESTMOUNT WILL VOTE ON BORROWING BY-LAW

Poll Granted for Next Saturday on Project for $250,000 Loan.

A vote will be taken in Westmount on Saturday, May 13th, next., on the proposed by-law of the town which authorizes the borrowing of $250,000 for the construction of macadamized roads, concrete drains, etc.

As provided by law, a meeting of ratepayers was held at the Westmount town hall on Saturday morning to consider the by-law.

Mayor Duclos presided and briefly explained the provisions of the by-law. He pointed out that with the exception of the money to be expended on sidewalks, all the funds to be borrowed under the by-law would be re-collected by frontage assessment so that it could not be considered as creating a permanent debt.

A poll was immediately demanded by ex-Ald. Chas. Stevens, Messrs. M. L. J. Clark, John Horsman, H. W. Crofts, James Snowdon and B. Marcuse.

Mayor Duclos at once granted a poll, voting to take place on Saturday May 13th, between eight in the morning and eight in the evening. In order to carry, the by-law must not only win a majority in votes, but in assessed value.

INSPECTED QUEBEC'S CLIFF.

Government Officers Will Recommend Construction of Immense Retaining Wall.

Quebec, May 8.—Colonel Macdonald, quartermaster-general, and Lieut. Col. Weatherbee, director of engineers, were in the city from Ottawa Saturday in connection with military works contemplated in the city and district. They inspected the cliff and the end of the Terrace, which is in a dangerous condition, regarding work to prevent a landslide. While nothing definite was decided upon as to what form the work of strengthening the cliff will take, it is understood that one idea is to construct an immense retaining wall along Champlain Street at the base of the cliff. If something of the above nature is not resorted to it is likely the dangerous part will be removed, and the remainder strengthened, else it may soon crumble off of its own accord. It is hoped, however, that the cliff may be preserved.

NORTH SYDNEY NOTES.

North Sydney, N.S., May 8.—(Special.)—The Bruce arrived yesterday from Port aux Basques. She met the ice, about a mile from Port aux Basques and it extended with brief intervals of open water all the way across. She sighted eight steamers in the ice trying to make their way up the gulf and a Norwegian steamer, name unknown, heading for Port aux Basques in a leaky condition. The ice floes are so heavy that it is thought these steamers can scarcely make their way up.

A. R. Forbes, fishery overseer, seized six herring nets to-day, exposed contrary to regulation. This is the second time this season such a seizure has been made.

The Bras d'Or lakes are now open and the Marion has resumed her regular service between the Sydneys and Baddeck and Whycocomagh.

A platform about sixty feet in length which had been built by the city of Bellerive Park, gave way on Saturday which had been built by the city at about $1,000. The cause of the disaster is traced to the fact that the poor of the neighborhood have used the timbers supporting the platform for fuel during the winter months.

Unnatural Tiredness Always Dangerous

Indicates Faulty Blood and Worn Out Nerves—Correct it Now, or Total Collapse Will Surely Follow.

When you seem tired all day, bothered by trifles, exhausted with nervousness, be sure there is something wrong.

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvellous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic, so simple and scientific as to be the admiration of every practicing physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; it acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life, that is at once distributed to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination, joyous, buoyant spirits, that fill life with abundant pleasure and enjoyment.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post office box No. 80, Beeton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling, and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since."

(Signed) DAVID BROWN.

Special Notice.—To get satisfactory results be sure you get Ferrozone only. Fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn, U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

WOMAN'S REALM IS THE HOME.

And the little things that make H-O-U-S-E spell HOME, we'll sell.

LINENS.

We have been asked if we still intend to sell linens? Why of course we do. What would a Woman's Store be without linens? It's the pots and pans and dishes, the carpets and curtains and such things as men are expected to buy that we are selling out of; not linens, nor cottons, nor woolens, our interest in such things is only intensified.

Linens? Why, we'll sell them from handerchiefs to bed spreads, from doylies to table covers. And just as if we needed something to emphasise that statement we were able to get hold of a complete

A SETTLEMENT OF THE PLACE VIGER AFFAIR

C. P. R. Will Pay Thirty Per Cent. in Addition to City's Valuation.

At a meeting held on Saturday, of the committee in charge of the Place Viger expropriation question, Messrs. C. A. Archer and W. R. Baker, as representatives of the C.P.R., agreed to pay thirty per cent. in addition to the city valuation, for the old building material on the site of the proposed street closings. The former agreement was that the company should pay but twenty-five per cent., and that the proprietors should remove the materials, to which agreement many of the interested parties objected.

The following clause was also satisfactory to the company's representatives:

"After the company has acquired any of the properties fronting on Notre Dame Street, and should the company decide to demolish the buildings thereon, then immediately after such demolition the company shall place an iron railing in accordance with the plan submitted, along the front of the properties upon which the buildings have been demolished. Until the buildings have been demolished the company agrees to keep them in good order and condition and tenantable."

The committee's report on the proposition will be laid before the City Council this afternoon, and will be practically the same as the one originally submitted.

THE STEAMER CASTALIA REGARDED AS LOST

Hamburg-American Liner is 35 Days Overdue at Veri Cruz.

Mexico City, May 8.—It is believed now that the Hamburg-American freight steamer Castalia is lost. She is thirty-five days overdue at Vera Cruz.

The Castalia, a steel steamer of 2,910 tons gross, left Hamburg March 4, bound for Vera Cruz and Galveston. She called at Antwerp, departing from there March 9. Since that date no report of the steamship has been received by her owners. She was in command of Captain Weihr, and carried a crew of about twenty men.

The Castalia was insured for $85,000. In the insurance markets she has been withdrawn from the list, and was declared uninsurable on April 26. Underwriters some weeks ago looked on her as hopelessly overdue.

PAINFUL PERIODS

CANADIAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Ellen Walby Is One of Thousands of Cures Made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that menstruation is the balance wheel of a woman's life, and while no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely?

Ellen Walby

Thousands of Canadian women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors.

Ellen Walby, of Wellington Hotel, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Your Vegetable Compound was recommended to me to take for the intense suffering which I endured every month and with which I had been a sufferer for many years getting no relief from the many prescriptions which were prescribed, until, finally becoming discouraged with doctors and their medicines I determined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am glad that I did, for within a short time I began to mend and in an incredible short space of time the flow was regular, natural and without pain. This seems too good to be true and I am indeed a grateful and happy woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, should take prompt action to ward off serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

EMILIANO RENAUD GIVES PIANO RECITAL

Schumann Largely in Evidence, and Pianist's Great Technique and Fineness of Tone Well Displayed.

Mr. Emiliano Renaud, the most individual and in many respects the most gifted of our Montreal pianists, gave his only recital of this season at Windsor Hall on Saturday afternoon. It was somewhat late in the season, but Mr. Renaud can always count on an audience. He played a programme that seemed an almost defiant announcement of his addition to the Schumann cult, and contained no single example of Beethoven the latter being a proof of courage in programme-making which cannot be too highly commended. Even Schumann however may be overdone in the construction of a programme, and while it is barely conceivable that a virtuoso with a more ingratiating touch might be able to furnish an excuse for the playing of the whole twelve of the Symphonic Studies, it must be admitted that Mr. Renaud did not.

The rest of the programme was a rich compensation. Mr. Renaud's technique has long since reached the quality of virtuosity, and he gave it full display in a selection of numbers which, if some were a trifle showy, had all of them genuine musical substance (exception possibly the Strauss-Schuett waltz); and in at least a couple of items, the exquisite Brahms studies and a most graceful dance by Sgambati, he revealed a new delicacy of tone and touch that has not always been conspicuous. For the rest, the old charge to which Mr. Renaud's playing has long been subjected to of an extraordinary hardness and so-to-speak insulation in his treatment of solo parts was still occasionally in evidence, notably in his Chopin number which it effectually spoiled. In only one case was this characteristic effective, and that was the Mendelssohn Prelude and Fugue, which brought down the house by its force, its clearness, and splendidly constructed climax with which Mr. Renaud worked up to the concluding chorale.

Mr. Blair, one of the few musicians whose position is so well established that he can afford on occasion to take second place assisted Mr. Renaud in the third section of the programme to give a very satisfactory rendering of a Schumann concerto. There was a large and musical audience, and many recalls. Mr. Renaud's fondness by the way for prominent solo parts was exhibited by his one encore number, which was an arrangement of a vocal ballad.

TOOK A SEVERE COLD.

It Settled In The Kidneys.

Pain In The Back The Result.

Catching cold and having it settle in the back is often the cause of Backache—the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected.

Heed the warning: check the Backache, and dispose of any chance of further trouble.

If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise. Mrs. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ont., caught cold, and it settled in her kidneys. She used and is thankful for the immediate relief they gave her. She writes us as follows:

"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The soreness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings.

Doan's Kidney Pills may be procured at all dealers, or will be sent direct by mail on receipt of price—

STOCKS AND MONEY.

Stock Markets Show Irregularity; Dom. Coal Issue Oversubscribed

The local market was lower again to-day and in the first ahour it was evident that most of the commissions had accumulated selling rather than buying orders over Sunday.

The weakness was most marked in the purely local issues such as Power and Montreal Street. Power lost all it had gained in the rally at the end of last week and sold down to 89¼. Montreal Street sold at 215½ for one lot of 50 shares, the lowest in the present movement. It was officially stated that the action of the company in adjourning the special meeting of the shareholders to authorize an issue of $1,000,000 bonds was due to it being necessary to arrange certain legal formalities. Other tractions also showed weakness, Toronto Rails falling off to 104¾, Detroit United at 82, and Twin City at 110.

There were quite a few small investment orders for the stocks of the different banks, Merchants Bank of Canada selling at 171, Bank of Toronto at 245, Molson's Bank at 228, Hochelaga Bank at 135.

C. P. R. was very dull on the local board, there being only one sale of 15 shares at 147. The transactions in the stock on the Wall Street market totalled 6,800 shares, and the lowest point was 146

The most interesting news received to-day was that the issues of bonds and preference stock by the Dominion Coal Company, the subscriptions for which opened to-day at the Bank of Montreal, had been largely over-subscribed. A very interesting feature in connection with the subscriptions was that a number of large holders of the old preferred stock had secured cash for their stock from the company and were reinvesting the entire amount in the new bonds being issued by the company. An interest closely connected with the company made the statement that the entire issue will be secured by old bond and stockholders.

A wire from Boston stated that over $2,000,000 of the new bond issue had been subscribed for in that city.

Sales of Canadian group on Wall Street to noon to-day were 6500 shares C. P. R.; 1200 Twins; 300 Soo common; 100 Duluth com.

No sales of Dom. Iron, Granby or Dom. Coal in Boston to-day.

Tenders were opened on the 1st instant by the city of Regina Public School District for $60,000 long term debentures. The debentures were awarded to Messrs. Wood, Gundy & Co., of Toronto, who were the highest biddrs.

Detroit United was the most active stock on the local market last week its sales totalling 3,020 shares. Dom. Iron common was second with sales of 2,980 shares.

The demand for bonds was very light in the local market during the past week sales totalling only $55,500, of this amount $49,000 were those of the Dom. Iron and Steel Co.

Wall Street Market

The fear of international complications was ascribed as the principal reason for the nervousness displayed by the Wall Street market yesterday. As there seemed very little ground for any such fears it may be seen how little it takes to disturb the Wall Street market just at present. At the opening most of the dominant speculative leaders were down 1 to 1 1-2 points while the decline in Peoples Gas extended 66 1-4 points. Shortly after 11 o'clock it looked as though there might be a rally but after 1 o'clock prices had dropped again., U. S. Steel pfd which was selling ex dividend at 97 1-8, U. S. Steel com 39 1-8, Union Pac. 113, St. Paul 109, C. P. R. 746, Amal. Copper 79 3-4 to 80; Penn. Ry. 135 1-4.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

Sales to noon in Wall Street were 647,000 shares.

E. & C. Randolph:—There was a rally shortly after 11 o'clock which carried the active stocks up about a point but fresh selling started at the higher level and prices were again back about their lowest.

Marler & Hodgson: Quite sharp breaks occurred at the opening, Po gas being the weakest stock on the list owing to passing by the Illinois Legislature of a bill providing for a reduction of the price of gas in Chicago.

Robert Meredith & Co: Commission houses are without orders and doing nothing. The market is in an irregular way not weak, no strong buying noticeable. Urgent liquidation seems to be over and the buying for good accounts seems to be on the low markets or rather the market is weak.

J. S. Bache & Co. Considering the heavy London selling and alarmist reports from London on International situation in regard to French neutrality, the market has held well this a.m. and looks like going higher.

CONSERVATIVES PURSUED DOUBLE-FACED METHODS

Investigation Shows How Conservative Victory Was Secured in Mountain Bye-election.

Baldur, Man., May 8.—(Special.)—Investigation throws some light on the double-faced campaign by which the Roblin Government captured the constituency of Mountain last week. In the northern portion of the constituency the division or non-division of the municipality of Argyle was a potent factor in the result.

The voters in the eastern end voted for the Roblin candidate in the belief that his election would prevent a division, and the voters in the western end supported him on the exactly opposite grounds.

Attorney-General Campbell stumped the Protestant parts of the riding, making speeches of ultra-Orange hue, confining his remarks to Mgr. Sbarretti, who, he claimed, was a direct representative of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and who was responsible for preventing the extension of Manitoba's boundaries, because the province had adopted national schools. The weight of the Ablegate's influence, he asserted, was given to "separate schools" in the Saskatchewan as against "public schoools" in Manitoba.

Premier Roblin, in the opening campaign at Baldur, declared the school question could not be an issue in the contest, yet he and Mr. Rogers went to French and Catholic portions of Mountain, declaring that the only hope of Catholics for concession lay with the Conservatives who had suffered defeat in 1896 because of loyalty to Catholic interests and asserting that Mgr. Sbarretti and the British Government had a friendly understanding as to the release of Catholics from their present disabilities.

C.P.R. MAY CHANGE SYSTEM.

Western Lines May be Maintained by Private Contractors.

Winnipeg, May 8.—(Special.) — A strong rumor is prevalent in well-informed railway circles that the C. P. R. are contemplating most radical changes in the system of operating their western lines. The change is nothing less than the handing over of the work of the maintenance of ways department to private contractors.

A week ago several prominent contractors from the East and from the United States were in the city and it is learned they were in consultation with C. P. R. officials with regard to a contract for taking over the maintenance of way of the central division. At the present time the maintenance of 6,000 miles of Western lines entails an annual expenditure of approximately $4,000,000, and if contractors are able to see their way clear to do the work at a satisfactory figure, it is thought the C. P. R. will accept the best bid.

"Street" Gossip.

Mr. F. W. Ross, of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff, Halifax, was in the city yesterday on his way to Toronto.

Mr. W. H. Beatty has been appointed president of the Bank of Toronto in succession to the late Mr. Geo. Gooderham. Mr. Beatty is also president of the Confederation Life Association.

Mexican Light and Power to Start to Deliver Power

The official announcement was made to The Herald to-day that the Mexican Light & Power Co. will be delivering power from Necaxa to ordinary customers on July 1, but that certain customers who are in urgent need of it will be supplied shortly after June 1. A leading official of the company in conversation with The Herald said that the mining district of Elora would be the first one to get the power.

The transmission line from Necaxa to the City of Mexico was now completed and the line would shortly be tested with the steam plant from Mexico City and when everything was found satisfactory the power would be turned on from the water falls at Necaxa. During the past month the company had closed contracts with a number of large industrial companies in Mexico City, including one of the largest cotton companies, and as a result the Mexican Company had disposed of practically all of the $85,000 horsepower it would secure from the first installation. The outlook, concluded the official, was certainly very satisfactory to the directors.

Output of Locomotives by Canadian Plants

"During the present year Canadian plants will turn out over 60 more locomotives than in any previous year," was the statement made to The Herald to-day by the manager of one of the large locomotive companies.

The output this year will be in the neighborhood of 210, while last year the output was 145. The feature of the year will be that the Locomotive & Machine Company of Montreal will double the output of its plant at Longue Pointe and will turn out between 100 and 120. The Grand Trunk Railway shops, which last year turned out 25 engines, will not build any this year; the Canadian Locomotive Works will turns out close to 50, the C.P.R. shops calculate on turning out 35, the Canada Foundry Co. will build 5 for the James Bay Railway.

The total number of locomotives now in use by Canadian railways is estimated at 1,700 and as it is calculated that at least 10 per cent. of the total number should be built each year to take the place of the ones that are not any longer any good this would mean that there is now a market for 170 locomotives a year, without counting the ones for new lines and extensions.

Stocks Tax in Ontario

Following the announcement that the Quebec Government proposes to place a tax on stock transfers during the present session the statement is made that the Ontario Government has had under consideration for some time a proposal to impose a tax on stock transfers. By this is meant that on every $100 worth of stock that changes hands on the stock market a tax would be payable to the Government.

Premier Whitney, when seen, stated that so far there had not been any correspondence with the Quebec Government regarding such a tax, but he could not say how soon there might.

In local financial circles it is thought the Quebec Government, if it is to impose a tax here, must reach some understanding for the placing of a similar tax in Toronto by the Ontario Government.

SEWER CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Road Committee Lays Out Portion of Summer Work.

The Roads Committee, under Chairman Lariviere, met Saturday morning, and awarded contracts for sewers, to be constructed on Cote des Neiges road, and Dufferin, Amity, Chausse, Joliette and St. Germain streets.

Mr. Matthew Dineen was awarded the contract for Cote des Neiges road and Joliette Street, at $6.37 per yard for the former and $6.74 for the latter. For blasting his price was $2.93, and for the erection of scaffolds ninety-three cents, for road work; and for the street section, seventy-nine cents for the wooden constructions.

On Amity Street and Chausse Street Mr. T. Charpentier was given the work at $6.34 per yard; while the labor on St. Germain Street will cost but $5.99 a yard.

Dufferin Street sewer was awarded to Messrs. A. Bray & Co. at $6.30 a yard, with rock work at $2.80, and scaffolding at $1.00.

Before adjourning the committee met Mr. Osler, one of the engineers of the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Co., when it was decided that in future when the company proposes to open a street to lay paving blocks, notice must be given to the city of such work. The holes must be filled up and the street levelled, or the city be paid for allowing its laborers to perform such duties.

MARKET REPORTS.

Big Offerings of Butter and Cheese; Outlook is for Good Season

There is every prospect that the coming season will be a good one for Canadian dairymen. This was clearly demonstrated on Saturday afternoon when most of the different butter and cheese boards throughout the country opened for the season. At all of these cheese boards the attendance of both buyers and sellers was large and a most satisfactory activity prevailed. This year's opening compares very favorably with former years. Not only was the attendance larger than that of last year, but much better prices prevailed, which has been lacking at previous openings. At Brockville, at London, and at each of the smaller centres in Ontario the offerings were exceptionally large for this season of the year, and in most cases the goods were all sold.

Local butter and cheese exports appear to be well pleased with the prospects for the season as indicated by Saturday's opening. The Herald this morning interviewed several of the leading Montreal dealers on the subject and the concensus of opinion seems to be that this season is likely to prove one of the best in the history of the country. "You cannot put it too strongly," said one dealer, "that this season is going to be a prosperous one in the dairy produce trade. The opening of the cheese boards on Saturday was much more satisfactory than last year's and better than a number of other previous openings."

Reports from the English markets state that stocks there are very light and if such is the case there is no doubt but the demand will be good at satisfactory prices. Canadian dairymen are beginning to realize that Canadian goods must be well packed and put on the market in an attractive manner if they are to hold their own against the products of other countries in the English market and it looks as though the reputation of Canadian butter and cheese will be considerably enhanced during the coming summer.

Cheese, Butter and Eggs

The butter market is firmer as a result of increased demand and the good feeling which prevailed at the country boards on Saturday. There is a fairly good jobbing trade going on, but there is nothing much doing in the export line. A number of orders have been received from the Lower Provinces and from Newfoundland, however, and these have kept the stocks from accumulating. When this demand ceases it is expected that prices will decline, as it would be impossible to put fodder butter in storage at the present ruling prices. Best creamery was sold in job lots to-day at 19c. Some dealers were asking 19¼c to 19 3-4c for finest stock. Business in dairy butter is very quiet.

Hislop & Hunter's weekly report gives the receipts for the week ending Friday, May 5, as 3,594 pkgs, against 2,997 for the previous week and 3,619 pkgs. for the corresponding week last year. There were no exports during the week from Portland, against 132 pkgs. for the same week last year. The shipments via West St. John for the past week were nil against 408 pkgs. for the same week last year and via rail to New York and Boston nil.

The cheese market is steady. There has been a decline in the local stocks of early makes, but not enough to offset the prices. Local dealers quote 10¼c for best Ontario and 9 3-4c for Quebecs.

Eggs are very scarce for this season of the year. The receipts this morning were 965 cases. Montreal traders are asking from 15c to 16c in a jobbing way. Round lots are selling at 14½c to 15c. Dealers are not putting many away in pickle as prices are now above an export basis. Receipts during the past week were 7,110 cases against 8,120 cases for the previous week.

The Provision Market

There was no actual change in the condition of the market for any line. The feeling remains firm, owing to the high prices ruling for hogs. The demand is fair, but chiefly for small lots; consequently, the volume of business passing is not large. The market for dressed hogs is steady at $9.50 to $9.75 per 100 lb. for abattoir fresh-killed.

Prices:—Heavy canada short cut mess pork, in tierces, $31.50 to $32.50; heavy Canada short cut mess, $21 to $22; Canada short cut back pork, $19 to $20; heavy Canada long cut mess pork, none; heavy Canada short cut clear pork, $19 to $20; heavy flank pork, $19 to $20; light Canada short cut clear pork, none.

English Produce Markets

London, May 8.—The cheese market has lately displayed a weaker tendency, and prices are now quoted at 56s to 58s.

Bristol, May 8.—The market for cheese is somewhat easier at 56s 6d to 58s 6d.

Liverpool, May 8.—The cheese market continues quiet. Finest white is quoted at 56s 6d, and finest colored at 54s. Butter nominal.

Country Produce

Beans.—The market for beans was quiet, and prices unchanged at $1.60 to $1.65 per bushel for choice primes.

Honey.—Business in honey was dull and the market is featureless. We quote: Extracted white clover honey, 7c to 7½c per 10-lb. tin, and 6½c to 7c in 60-lb. tins; buckwheat honey, 6c to 6½c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13½c.

Syrup.—The demand for maple product continues fair at steady prices. Syrup, in 60-gal. kegs, 6c to 6½c per lb.; in tins, 65c to 70c per wine measure, and 75c to 80c for Imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8½c to 9c per lb.; Townships, do., 8c to 8½c.

Hops.—The demand for hops was slow and the market is quiet. Choice Canadians, 28c to 29c, and fair to good at 24c to 26c per lb.

Ashes.—There was no change in potash, of which the offerings continues small. First sorts, $5.50; seconds, $5; and first pearls, $7 to $7.25 per 100 lb.

The Sugar Market

A further decline has occurred in the prices for refined sugar. The decline is a general one of 10c for 100 lb. for all grades and is attributed to the renewed weakness in the European markets for raw beet sugar. The selling prices to-day were quoted as follows: Extra granulated, in barrels, $5.45; do. in half-barrels, $5.60; do., in bags of 100 lbs., $5.40; Phoenix, in barrels, $5.40; bright coffee, $5.30; bright yellow, $5.25; No. 3 do., $5.20; No. 2 do., $5.05; No. 1 do., $4.95; do., in bags, $4.95; extra ground, $5.85; do., in boxes of 50 lb., $6.15; do., in boxes of 25 lb., $6.15; powdered, in barrels, $5.65; do., in boxes of 50 lb., $5.85; Paris lumps, in barrels, $6.60; do., in half-barrels, $6.10; do., in 100 lb. boxes, $6; do., in 50-lb. boxes, $6.10.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain.—Bids for Manitoba spring wheat by cable were numerous, but the amount of business that resulted was not large, as the majority of the bids were too low.

Flour.—The flour market continues quiet, the demand being chiefly for small lots to fill actual requirements. Prices: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.40 to $5.50; strong bakers, $5.10 to $5.20; winter wheat patents, $5.50 to $5.60; straight rollers, $5.15 to $5.25, and in bags, $2.45 to $2.55.

Millfeed.—There was no change in millfeed, the undertone to the market being firm, but business is quiet. Prices: Manitoba bran, in bags, $19; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario winter wheat bran, in bulk, $18.50 to $19; shorts, $20 to $21; moullie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Oats.—The demand for rolled oats continues slowt and the market is quiet with prices steady at $2.20 to $2.22½ per bag. There was no change in cornmeal, which is also quiet at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay.—The demand for baled hay is fair, and the market is moderately active. Prices: No. 1, $9 to $9.50; No. 2, $8 to $8.50; clover, mixed, $7 to $7.50; and pure clover, $6.50 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

The Grocery Trade

The grocery trade in Montreal was considerably improved during the past week as a result of the opening of navigation and the favorable weather. A good many country orders are now coming in. The prices given below are wholesale Montreal quotations:

Cable advices from Barbadoes state that the sugar market is practically closed. There is a considerable shortage this year as compared with last year's crops, but the jobbing trade has not bought as heavily as in previous years. Corn syrups maintain their steady sale and seem to be growing in popularity. Barbadoes, in puncheons, 38c; do in barrels, 40½c; do., in half-barrels, 41½c; New Orleans, 22c to 35c; corn syrups, bls., 27c; do., half-barrels, 28½c; do., 25-lb. pails, 90c; cases, 2-lb. tins, 2-doz. per case, $1.90; do., 1-lb. tins, 1 doz. per case, $2.35.

Business is quiet in tea. There is more or less enquiry for all kinds, but no large lots are changing hands. Reports from Japan that the opening market for this season's teas has been retarded ten days by unfavorable weather will probably have a tendency to raise opening figures. Japans, fine, 26c to 28c; common, 12½c to 15c; Ceylon, Pekoes, 17c to 20c; Ceylon greens, Young Hysons, 16c to 18c; Hysons, 14½c to 15c; Gunpowders, 13½c to 14c; China greens, Pingsuey gunpowders, 12c to 13c.

There is a good demand for spices. Peppers are expected to go very high at a short notice. Cloves are firmer. Peppers, black, 16c to 22c; do., white, 25c to 30c; ginger, 12c to 20c; cloves, whole, 17c to 30c; cream of tartar, 25c to 30c; allspice, 12c to 15c; nutmegs, 25c to 50c.

Business is fair in canned goods and no change is reported in prices. Salmon, pink, 90c to $1.00; Fraser River, $1.65; corn, 2-lb. tins, $1.20; tomatoes, 2-lb. tins, $1.30; beans, 60c to 92½c; peas, 82½c to $1.30, per dozen; Canadian sardines, $3.65 to $4 per case.

A reduction of 10c per 100 lb. in rice has been made by the mills. Business is quiet. B rice, in 10 bag lots, $2.95; B rice, less than 10 bags, $2.65; C rice, in 10 bag lots, $2.85; C rice, in less than 10 bag lots, $2.95.

English Wheat Markets

report the market as being very steady all round, and firm. The only changes to note are the follows:—Lead, pig is up 2s 6d per ton, now £13 7s 6d; sheet is up 2s 6d per ton, now £13 17s 6d; pipe is up 7s 6d. per ton, now £14 7s 6d; Tin, ingot (lamb and flag) is up 5s per ton, and is now quoted at £139 5s. 0d.

Cheese Boards

Brockville, Ont., May 8.—The opening meeting of the Brockville cheese board, held Saturday, was marked by a bumper attendance of buyers and sellers. The annual report of the secretary-treasurer showed a deficit of $71.96. To meet this, and also place the association on a better financial basis, the auditors recommended the increase of fees for factory membership to the sum of $5 instead of $1, as at present. The proposal was not favored, and the matter was left to stand as it was. The following officers were then elected: President, Wm. Stafford; first vice-president, M. K. Everitt; second vice-president, E. M. Bracken; secretary-treasurer, C. J. Gilroy; auditors, R. J. Jelly, James Bissell; auctioneer, A. D. McDougall. A resolution was passed providing for the expulsion of members who sell on the curb contrary to the rules of the board. Members so offending will be cut off for the remainder of the season in which the offence is committed. Mr. James Alexander, the Montreal cheese exporter, made a short address, in which he favored local inspection, and expressed his willingness to do business on that plan with the Brockville manufacturers. The sale of cheese was then proceeded with. The offerings reached a total of 2,343 boxes, colored having the preference, with 1,726. The farmers have decided that they want their cheese sold by public auction to the highest bidder, as the number of factories registered showed a marked increase over last season. From the outset the buyers exhibited a keen desire to get the goods and competition was on the jump. The bidding opened at 9c, and was advanced by easy stages until Chas. Earle, a new buyer, representing the McPherson Produce Company, of Montreal, got the first call at 9⅝c. He found no takers. O. E. Earle also tried his hand at the same figure, with no better results. Calls were made at 9 13-16c and 9⅞c by Messrs. Patton, Webster and Laing. The salesmen had their eyes fixed on 10c, and when Mr. Bissell struck it everything went with a rush. The men from the country quickly disposed of their offerings, the only question being a choice of buyers, as nearly all followed the lead set by Mr. Bissell. A remarkable feature, and one seldom witnessed during the history of the board in recent years, was the fact that every factory registered was sold publicly. Bissell and Dickey were the busiest buyers. The board transactions with those on the curb figured a total of 3,060 boxes, divided as follows: Dickey, 800; Bissell, 900; Murphy, 700; Derbyshire, 700; Webster, 100; Everetts, 100; O. E. Earle, 285; C. Earle, 75. Patton, Davis and Laing did not figure in the exchanges.

The board will meet again next Saturday.

Belleville, Ont., May 8.—There were 905 white and 25 colored cheese offered on this board Saturday. The highest bid was 9⅞c. There were no other sales. The cheese offered are this week's make, and too green for shipment.

London, Ont., May 8.—At our first cheese market, held Saturday, five factories offered 287 boxes cheese, 84 white and 203 colored. Seventy-five boxes of colored sold on the board at 9¾c, the balance selling after at the same price. There is heavy rain to-day, and the pastures will improve very fast.

Vankleek Hill, May 8.—The Vankleek Hill cheese board held its first regular meeting Saturday. The officers elected were: Chas. Northcott, president; D. McInnes, vice-president; H. C. Jones, secretary-treasurer and salesman. The board will meet every Saturday at 1.30 p.m. There were 314 boxes of cheese boarded. J. Northcott, for Hodgson Bros., bid 9½c, after several calls. There were no sales. Weegar, for A. A. Ayer & Co., bid 9⅝c, and at this figure he got 108 boxes. J. Northcott bought 40 boxes, Bennett got 30 boxes, and 86 boxes were withdrawn. The remainder sold on the curb. There were four buyers present—J. Northcott, for Hodgson Bros.; Weegar, for A. A. Ayer & Co.; J. Wilson, for A. D. McGillies; C. S. Bennet, for James Dairymple.

Cowansville, Que., May 8.—At the meeting of the butter and cheese board Saturday, 24 creameries offered 890 boxes of butter and five factories 154 boxes of cheese. H. H. Hibbard bought 95 boxes butter at 19½c, 38 at 19c, 133 at 18¾c; Gunn & Langlois bought 65 at 19c, 205 at 18⅞c, 25 at 18¾c; H. Allen bought 95 at 19c, and 25 at 18¾c; Hodgson Bros. bought 28 at 18⅞c; A. W. Grant bought 50 at 19c; D. A. McPherson bought 45 boxes of cheese at 9⅝c; Gunn and Langlois bought 40 boxes of cheese at 9⅝c; and Lovell & Christmas bought 33 boxes of cheese at 9¾c. The balance was unsold. Twelve buyers were present. The board adjourned to the 13th.

Cornwall, May 8.—At the Cornwall cheese board on Saturday, 367 boxes were sold at 9⅞c; 342 were white and 25 colored. J. A. McRae got 210 for Hodgson Bros., J. F. McGregor 61 for Lovell & Christmas, and J. A. Welsh 96 for James Alexander. Most of the factories in the district opened on May 1, and therefore had no cheese to offer this week.

Cattle Markets

Business was brisk at the east end cattle market this morning. The attendance of buyers was large and most of the offerings were taken up. About 550 head of cattle were received and were sold at $6 per 100 lb.; 250 hogs sold at $7.25 and 150 sheep and a large number of lambs were also sold.

At the Point St. Charles market business wa rather slow. A number of hogs sold at from 7¼c to $7.40 per 100 lb.

Wheat Markets

Wheat in Chicago opened at from ¼c to ⅜c in advance of Saturday's closing. May options sold at 92½c shortly after opening and later went down to 92¼c. July options sold at 83½c to 83¾c at opening, and later at 84c. September options were quoted at 78½c to 78 3-4c.

The Winnipeg market was somewhat easier. For May options 88c was bid at opening and later holders were asking 89c. At opening 90c was bid for July options and later 90⅝c. A few sales were made at 90½c.

The Dress Goods Sale Was

A Success From the Start

Well that we take an optimistic view for the future and plan on a liberal scale for the demands of a season, else the sales of to-day would have left irreparable breaches in the assortment. A doubled demand—aye, more than a doubled demand for the favorite fashionable fabrics. More people—many more familiar with the fact now that The Store of Satisfaction's assortment is unequalled in volume and variety. That we've a substantial lead in value-giving.

Sandy—A New Novel

By the author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "Lovey Mary."

Sandy is a good story, not a series of more or less detached incidents, but a rounded tale of the development of character amid scenes wholly alien. To set a Scotch-Irish emigrant waif from the Glasgow docks in the heart of pastoral Kentucky was a happy device for one in search of contrasts, and the romantic impulse that carries the lad thither is universal enough to stir the hearts of most readers and to enlist their interest to the close. Cloth binding. Regular price $1.00. Tuesday's special price 75c
