

EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR. NO. 8.

MONTREAL, TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 10, 1893.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

PEOPLE'S CHOICE.

Yesterday's Elections in the Country Municipalities.

Many Returns by Acclamation—Lively Contests in St. Henri, St. Louis de Mile End and St. Lambert—Results of the Elections in the Country Municipalities of the Province.

Yesterday was election day in many of the suburban municipalities, and more than usual interest was taken in the proceedings, owing to the differences of opinion on the electric railway question. The results of the proceedings, so far as heard from, are as follows:

COTE ST. ANTOINE.

The Municipal Council of Cote St. Antoine was practically all re-elected, there being only one contest for one of the seats in No. 1 ward, where Messrs. J. H. Redfern and N. W. Tremblay were nominated against each other. Polling in that ward takes place on Monday next. The other councillors were elected by acclamation, as follows: Ward No. 1, F. W. Evans; Ward No. 2, J. H. Hutchison; Ward No. 3, J. C. McCormick and D. W. Ross, who replaces J. Beckham; Ward No. 4, W. Greig.

OUTREMONT.

Here Mr. W. W. Dunlop was re-elected by acclamation, and Messrs. Robert Reid and R. J. Inglis were returned as councillors, without opposition.

COTE DES NEIGES.

At Cote des Neiges Mr. James Small was elected as mayor, and Mr. James McKenna and E. F. Prendergast as councillors, all by acclamation.

MAISONNEUVE.

In this municipality there is a contest for the mayoralty between Messrs. A. Bellaire and Desjardins. The nominations for councillors were: For the East ward, Messrs. J. A. Caron and T. Gudevoir; for the West ward, Messrs. David McNaig and Isidore Renaud.

ST. HENRI.

Quite a warm contest is in progress in this municipality, all the councillors and being mayor opposed. The candidates are, for the mayoralty, Messrs. F. Dagenais, the outgoing mayor, and O. David. The retiring councillors all offer again, and are opposed respectively: St. Henri ward, Mr. T. A. Acquire and Mr. A. Rielly; Mr. E. Guay and Mr. E. Labreche; St. Augustin ward, Mr. A. Taillefer and Mr. C. Lafleur by Mr. F. St. Germain and Mr. F. Daigneau. The polling takes place on Monday next. A mass meeting of citizens will be held to-night.

ST. LOUIS DE MILE END.

Here all the old members of the Council were re-elected without opposition. They are Messrs. A. E. Delisle, H. Morin, Marcel Lymburner and J. H. Dore.

ST. LOUIS DE MILE END.

Here Mayor Villeneuve was re-elected by acclamation, but there were contests for the Council between Messrs. Collette and Daze, who are claimed to represent the Corrivault interest, and the retiring councillors, Messrs. J. B. Brunet and O. Lapierre, representing the street railway interest. Voting lasted until 4 p. m., and will be continued to-day. It is claimed that Messrs. Daze and Collette have 200 majority, but this is merely supposition.

SAULT AU RECOLLET.

In this municipality Mayor Lemay was re-elected by acclamation and M. Lariviere and J. Primeau as councillors.

ST. LAMBERT.

The municipal elections at St. Lambert are exciting unusual interest. A poll was held yesterday and will be continued to-day, closing at 4 p. m., when the result was: H. Williams, 80; P. M. Wickham, 64; J. F. Raphael, 53, and Alex. Boiesse, 51. Messrs. Hugh Andrews and Victor Trudeau are the retiring councillors.

AT PROVINCIAL TOWNS.

Numerous Elections by Acclamation in Richmond County Townships.

Special to The Herald.

Richmond, Q. Jan. 9.—Municipal elections took place here this morning, and the three vacancies were filled by acclamation as follows: Ward No. 1, Joseph Bedard, M.P.P., re-elected; ward No. 2, John Morine, in place of Elias Stewart; ward No. 3, Leopold Jutra in place of retired term of John Murphy resigned. Little interest was manifested.

In the township of Cleveland, Messrs. Robert Boast and Alexis Tremblay were re-elected and George Taylor succeeded George Gray, all by acclamation.

In Melbourn Village an exciting contest is on between Mr. John Ewing, Jr., registrar, and Mr. James Gould. The former is two votes ahead, but there will be a second day's polling.

Henry Cross and Robert Allan were elected by acclamation in Melbourn, and in Brompton, Gore township, the following were re-elected by acclamation: Messrs. Stalker, Cromby and Shony.

KNOWLTON.

The municipal election resulted in the two retiring councillors, Pettis and Prime, being returned.

WATERLOO.

Waterloo, Jan. 9.—Messrs. A. F. Savaria, Patrick McCabe and Samuel S. Porter, retiring councillors, were all re-elected by acclamation. There was a good turn out of electors.

SHEPPARD.

Retiring Councillors J. H. Savage, Olivier Renaud and Curtis W. McLaughlin, were to-day re-elected for another term without opposition.

HUNTINGDON.

Huntingdon, Jan. 9.—Municipal elections are being held all over the country to-day and will be continued to-morrow. In Huntingdon village, F. H. Henderson and Thos. B. Pringle were elected by acclamation, and a poll is being held between Andrew Phillips and R. E. Kelly. The close of to-day's poll gave Phillips a majority of 30. Returns from outside municipalities could not be obtained to-day.

GRANBY.

Granby, Que., Jan. 9.—In Granby village the retiring Councillors, Wallace and Laurier, were elected by acclamation. In the township, W. H. Miller in place of J. C. Duncan, and Mack and Bradford, were all elected by acclamation.

LACHUTE.

Lachute, Jan. 9.—The following were nominated to-day for the offices of Mayor and councillors for the town of Lachute for the present year, to replace those retiring. For Mayor: Mr. Pierre Rodrigue, Dr. Wm. Smith. Councillors: East ward, Wilfred Fortier, acclamation; Centre ward, Joseph Bedard, acclamation; West ward, James Carpenter, acclamation; Henry Tessier, acclamation.

Since the town has been incorporated the Mayor's chair has been filled by a Protestant, and this year the French thought that it would be only just to have a French Mayor, and at a meeting of the French Canadians held last week at Lafleur's hotel, it was unanimously

LOST THEIR SUIT.

Bulmer & Co.'s Big Timber Limit Claim Very Much Reduced.

No More Cash Payments at the House of Commons Accountant's Office—The Fate of Dominic Targano, the Condemned Italian Murderer, Sealed at Yesterday's Cabinet Meeting.

[Special to The Herald.] Ottawa, Jan. 9.—An important judgment was rendered by Justice Burridge in the Exchequer Court to-day, before leaving for Montreal. The particulars of the case of H. Bulmer & Co., Montreal, who sued the Dominion Government in the Exchequer Court for $200,000, have already been given in this correspondence. Bulmer & Co., leased certain timber limits and berths from the Government in the district once known as the disputed territory. They built mills and commenced lumbering operation in connection with these limits. The courts ultimately decided that the territory belonged to the province of Ontario and consequently Bulmer & Co.'s rights to these limits ceased. Obtaining a petition of right from the Crown they took action in the Exchequer Court for $200,000 as already stated. This was for prospective profits, etc. If the court would not concede this they asked for compensation at all events for the mills they built and other expenses incurred. Neither of these claims have been granted by the court. Judge Burridge, however, decided that they had a right to obtain the amount of money they paid out for the crown in the way of grants of timber. The amounts to $5,070, for which sum judgment was given for.

MEETING OF THE CABINET.

There was a meeting of the Cabinet this afternoon. The report of the Minister of Justice recommending that the law take its course in the case of Dominic Targano, charged with murder and now in Nanaimo, B. C., jail under the sentence of death, was adopted. The evidence was circumstantial, but a strong case was made out when the prisoner was tried. Judge J. C. G. Macdonald, who presided at the trial, said that Targano led his wife to Nanaimo and went to Alaska. On his return to Victoria, B. C., he learned that she was living with another Italian. He proceeded to Nanaimo and murdered his wife's paramour. His wife was living in Seattle at the time. It was said that she was looking for a divorce, and that her husband had left her for good. Targano will be executed on the 16th inst.

STOPPED CASH PAYMENTS.

The internal committee of the House of Commons, says The Evening Journal, has decided to stop cash payments to the accountants in future. Mr. White endeavored to carry out this rule before, but the committee did not stay by him. Now all are apparently agreed upon the matter. If so, during the coming session all payments to members will be made by cheques. In the past, cash to the extent of $50 could be paid at one time to members of Parliament at the accountant's office. It was also decided that the accountant and his assistant would have to join the guarantee society. Mr. Chamberlain, the accountant, could give outside bonds, but they would not be accepted by the Government.

SERIOUS DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

A dynamite explosion occurred at Waterville, in Wakefield, on Saturday night, at 10.30, by which a young man named Frank Cleary, a native of the town of Wakefield, received injuries which may prove very serious. It was caused by placing frozen cartridges on the brickwork of a steam-boiler. The force of the explosion drove the unexploded boiler (there were two in the room) back thirty feet. The building, which was 50 by 20 feet in size, was completely wrecked. Mr. Cleary is now at work, and it is expected that work will commence again in about a week's time.

MORE DISCHARGES COMING.

It is stated on what appears to be pretty good authority, says The Evening Journal, that the action of the Minister of Railways and Canals in dismissing the extra clerks in connection with his department will be copied by the other ministers and therefore extend to the other departments. If this should turn out to be correct the consequences may be very serious to the clerical and other employees of the city. The dismissals which took place at the end of last month in the railway department gave good indications on this point. Out of 42 extra clerks who got notices to leave the department at the end of the present month 12 or 13 were afterwards retained. Of these five were of the remainder, who were receiving about $75 per month, have to begin at the minimum salary of $400 per year or about $33 per month. As some of these have been in the Government service since 1878, although kept on the temporary list, they were not looking for their dismissal, and consequently they had obligations, which they otherwise would not have done. Even had they not been so hampered it is impossible for a clerk to support a wife and family in Ottawa on $33 per month.

SHOWS PAST MISMANAGEMENT.

The case of the discharged clerks is even worse, although they did get a small gratuity on leaving the service. There is no doubt that the services of a few of the clerks could easily be dispensed with, but that over 30 could be discharged in one day without any way inconveniencing the work of the department would go to show that some mismanagement must have existed in the past.

The post office department is evidently going to pursue the same course as Mr. Haggart has done. Four mail clerks and some of the extra clerks have received notices of their discharge. The mail clerks are Messrs. Macdonald, Morrison, Kenny and Ferguson. They were told that they did not pass the civil service examination their services could not be retained and that an order-in-council was passed to this effect. Some of the extra clerks were told by Sir John Thompson, the discharged clerks were Professor Pone, who works in the city post-office. Immediately on receiving his notice Mr. Pone seized his hat and made for Sir John Thompson's office. The Premier, so Mr. Pone says, told him to go back to work and he (Sir John) would see Mr. Hawkins, the post-office inspector, in regard to the matter. Mr. Pone returned and began work again.

THE HOUSE RESTAURANT.

Mr. Sam Cassidy, of this city, received notice last week that he had been appointed keeper of the House of Commons restaurant subject to certain regulations. Mr. Cassidy had an interview with Hon. Peter White on Saturday, the upshot of which was that he decided not to accept the position. The reason assigned by the Speaker, Hon. C. E. D. Clarke, in the House to lay his case before the restaurant, but he is to be abolished. No person may enter unless under the escort

DR. BRIGGS' CASE.

Final Meeting of the Presbytery of New York Yesterday.

Dr. McCook Will Appeal to the General Assembly—The Report of the Committee Acquitting Dr. Briggs of the Charge of Heresy Read and Accepted—The Terms of the Resolution.

New York, Jan. 9.—The final meeting of the Presbytery of New York, sitting as a court on the trial of the charges against the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, met at 2 o'clock this afternoon to receive the report of the special committee having in charge the consideration of the vote taken at the last meeting of the judiciary. For more than an hour the report was discussed and a motion to lay that section relating to the explanations of Dr. Briggs on the table was lost by a vote of 58 to 47.

GENERAL CAPITAL NOTES.

An Order-in-Council has been passed extending the franchise privileges to Messrs. Curran, Wood and Wallace, who are the proprietors of the city yesterday Hon. Mr. Ives visited all the clerks in his department, that of the Privy Council, and examined into the different work in which they were engaged. He let them all understand that it was his determination to run the office on purely business principles.

Mr. Bennett Rosamond, M.P. for North Lanark, arrived here on departmental business. Mr. Rosamond has just returned from an extended trip through Europe.

Major R. R. McLennan, M.P. for Glen-garry, is here.

Do Onihyatskha, supreme chief ranger, and John A. McGillivray, J. C., supreme secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, are in the city. They are here on business connected with the finance department, being anxious to get a certificate from the Government for doing business in certain States of the Union which require them.

The Eastern Ontario poultry association have applied to the City Council for the use of By-ward Market Hall from January 25th to February 3rd, for their annual poultry show.

In Aylmer to-day the municipal nominations resulted in the re-election of Mr. Thos. Ritchie as mayor. There was a contest for councillors and the polling will be held next Monday.

A crank attacked Rev. W. T. Herridge in his study, but was ejected.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

THE GERMAN MINERS' STRIKE THOUGHT TO BE PRACTICALLY BROKEN.

A Sympathetic Strike at Gelsenkirchen Brought to a Finish and Bochum Miners Fail to Strike.

Berlin, Jan. 9.—Notwithstanding the resolutions adopted at the miners' meeting held in Bochum, yesterday afternoon, expressing sympathy with the Saar strikers and declaring in favor of a general strike in support of the Saar men which was to begin to-day, all the miners in the Bochum district proceeded to their pits as usual this morning and went to work. To judge from present indications there is no danger of a strike at Bochum, though the socialists who were in full control of yesterday's meeting have not abandoned their intention to foment trouble and are using every means in their power to induce the men to quit work. The miners, however, display no anxiety to follow the advice offered them.

At Gelsenkirchen, where many of the miners went on strike, three of the largest pits resumed work this morning, and this is taken to be the beginning of the end of one of the most ill-advised strikes that has occurred in Germany of recent years. Few, if any, of the men were in a condition to make a protracted struggle and hunger and suffering from the cold worked together in the interests of the mine owners in forcing the men back to work.

A dynamite bomb was exploded in Gelsenkirchen this afternoon. Two small bombs which stand on each side of the alleyway in which the bomb was placed were shaken so that the windows broke and plaster fell from the walls. Nobody was injured. The man who placed the bomb has not been caught. He is supposed to be an Anarchist emissary from the Saar district.

THE NEWS FROM HAMILTON.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier at Hamilton—Inequality in Church Assessments.

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 9.—The Ministerial Association held a meeting this morning, at which Rev. Dr. Clark, pastor of Zion tabernacle, in a carefully prepared paper on assessment of church property, which contained statistics, giving the assessed values of all church property in Hamilton proved to the satisfaction of the association that many inequalities exist in the rating of church properties, in favor of Roman Catholic churches and against Protestant churches. A committee of three ministers was appointed to wait upon the Provincial Government, to urge upon them the necessity of changing the assessment law, so that an equalization of assessments in church properties be secured.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier arrived in Hamilton and was met at the Grand Trunk Railway station by a number of prominent Liberals. Mr. Laurier will deliver an address at the young Liberals banquet to-morrow evening, and during his stay in Hamilton will be the guest of Mr. John Crear.

CLAN GORDON.

Election and Installation of Officers Last Evening.

The regular meeting of Clan Gordon, No. 71, Order of Scottish Clans, was held last evening in the Masonic Hall, Place d'Armes, Chief C. G. Black in the chair. There was a good attendance of members. After routine business the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, and installed by the Royal Deputy Chief McLennan assisted by Clansmen Duncan Stewart and Peter Taylor:

Chief, Charles Robertson; past chief, C. G. Black; tourist, James Bell; chaplain, Thomas re-elected; secretary, Scott Bruce, re-elected; treasurer, Jas. Willis, re-elected; hon. secretary, J. H. McKenzie, re-elected; senior henchman, W. C. McLeish; junior henchman, Wm. Dow; seneschal, Wm. Adams; warden, Johnston Murdoch; sentinel, Peter Smitten; examining physician, Dr. Alex. Munro, L.R.C.P., London, L.R.C.S., Edinburgh; trustees, Messrs. E. Bain, James Moffatt and W. C. McLeish.

After the installation of officers several complimentary addresses were delivered by the retiring and newly elected officers. The trustees examined the books for the past six months and found them correctly kept, showing that Clan Gordon was now in a prosperous position.

The next open concert of Clan Gordon takes place in their hall on Monday evening, Jan. 23.

The new officers of Clan McLennan will be installed on Friday evening next, at the Odellodons Hall, St. James street, when there will be an open meeting for the public, at 8.30, when all friends are invited.

BLAINE'S END APPROACHING.

He Passed a Comfortable Day, but Took Another Bad Turn at Night.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Mr. Blaine's physicians authorize the following: "Mr. Blaine passed a comfortable day until 5 o'clock last evening, when he became not so well, and at this hour (1 a.m.) he is still losing strength."

Robinson's Foundry Destroyed.

Robinson's foundry on King street, near Common, was partly destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock. The damage will amount to several thousands of dollars.

A POSSIBLE POPE.

Cardinal Vannutelli's Appointment Brings Out an Unusual Letter.

Rome, Jan. 9.—A sensation has been caused here by the letter of Pope Leo to the people of Bologna, in which the Pope states that in nominating Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli to be Archbishop of Bologna he had obeyed the divine inspiration. The unusual declaration on the part of the Pope is regarded as tantamount to designating cardinal Vannutelli as his successor in the Pontificate. The Pope is also reported to have remarked "Vannutelli goes to Bologna a Cardinal and will return a Pope."

PHILADELPHIA AND READING.

Annual Meeting of the Stockholders—The Financial Standing.

Philadelphia, Jan. 9.—At the meeting of the directors of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Co. to-day, prior to the stockholders annual meeting, a resolution was adopted authorizing the payment of five per cent. interest on the first, second and third preferred bonds. Interest on these bonds has not been paid in years. The action taken to-day was anticipated, however, through the company securing a loan last week of $500,000.

At a meeting of the stockholders to-day it was resolved that the contracts, agreements and engagements entered into and recommended by the board of managers, including the lease of the Lehigh Valley, the agreement between the Reading and New England, and the execution of the collateral trust mortgage bonds, dated January 1, 1892, be ratified and approved. It was also resolved that the board shall have power to execute a supplemental mortgage by way of further assurances in such form as they deem advisable to secure the indebtedness represented by such collateral trust bonds or mortgage.

George De B. Keim retired from the Board of Directors and John E. Sinnott was elected in his stead. The remainder of the old board was re-elected. The report of President McLeod for the fiscal year, ending Nov. 30, 1892, shows net traffic earnings for the year of $11,109,042. From this is deducted $8,041,895.28 for rentals, interest, equipment, etc., leaving a profit for the year of $3,157,147.12. The net profit in operating the coal and iron company for the year was $24,330.40, leaving a surplus of $3,181,486.52 over first charges of both companies.

THE TEMPERANCE TOPIC.

Education vs. Legislation Discussed by Good Templars.

At the Grand Army rooms, Craig street, J. B. Gough Lodge I. O. G. T., held last evening a very interesting session. In addition to its own members, representatives were present from Cote St. Louis, Star of the East, Perseverance, Gordon, Good Samaritan, Tourmaline, Maple Leaf and Terra Nova Lodges.

Chief Templar J. E. T. Brookes, presided, and after the usual lodge business had been transacted, a debate was opened on "Will Education or Legislation do most towards securing total prohibition?"

The side of education was taken by Mr. D. H. Howard, the grand secretary, who gave an interesting and eloquent address. He said that radical reformation was only accomplished by change of opinion. Opinion could not be changed by legislation. The abolition of slavery, the repeal of the Crown laws, prison reforms and others were referred to as having been brought about by education. Speaking of temperance societies, he said the most successful were those that had been instituted on an educational basis. Leading statesmen, poets, etc., agreed that when education is done its work they would secure prohibition and not before. Scientific instruction in schools was a means to prohibition. Mr. Howard concluded by arguing that legislation would never stop crime, history proved that, but education would.

Mr. A. W. Walsh, district electoral superintendent, speaking in favor of legislation, said that it was generally considered that education was a panacea for all evils, yet with the increase in school boards and means of education drink had increased. He thought the two were inseparable. Education, he argued, ripened legislation, and he admitted that they could not legislate in advance of public opinion. Legislation in all great reforms had been opposed, and yet had been successful. Sir Wilfrid Lawson and others had said they were sick of the common cry "educate, educate." It was legislation they wanted. The emancipation of the Roman Catholics of England was not done by education, it was done through fear. The Permissive Bill Association, which was well known in England, had done good and useful work.

On a vote being taken it was found that education had carried the day by a large majority. The meeting closed with votes of thanks.

To-Day's Amusements.

ACADEMY—"Husband and Wife," 8 p.m.

QUEEN'S THEATRE—"Face in the Moonlight," 8 p.m.

THEATRE ROYAL—"Two Old Crones," 2 and 8 p.m.

SOHMER PARK—Variety entertainment, 3 p.m.

Recorder de Montigny's lecture, 8 p.m.

CYCLORAM—"Custer's Last Fight," 8 p.m.

ART GALLERY—Exhibition of paintings.

MUSEE LA SALLE—Historical exhibition.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH—Dr. Hunter on "Marriage," 8 p.m.

ST. GEORGE'S CLUB—Ladies' night, 8 p.m.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER.

Strong North to West Winds, Clearing and Much Colder.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 9.—The storm centre has moved from Lake Superior to the Ottawa Valley, and has caused a moderate fall of snow over the greater part of Ontario. There is an area of high pressure west of the lake region, accompanied by very cold weather, while further west in Alberta there is a depression and the mild weather continues.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Calgary, 25; 40; Medicine Hat, 25; 36; Prince Albert, 14; below zero; Q. B. 10; below; Winnipeg, 16; below; 16; below; Toronto, 26; Montreal, 16; below; 6; Quebec, 16; below; 6; Halifax, 2; 4.

Lakes—Strong west to north winds, fair and very cold with some snow flurries. The weather is clearing and much colder.

Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf—Snow followed by clearing and very cold weather.

Maritime—Strong winds and gales, cloudy with snow or sleet, turning very cold to-morrow.

MONTREAL TEMPERATURE.

Temperature in the shade by standard thermometer, observed by Hearn & Harrison, optical and mathematical instrument makers, 140 and 142, Notre Dame street: 3 a.m., 11 p.m., 4 p.m., 4; Max., 4; Min., -10; Mean, -3. By standard barometer: 3 a.m., 29.60; 1 p.m., 29.44; 6 p.m., 29.57.

Mr. Harry Abbott, superintendent of the Pacific division of the C.P.R., has arrived in town on official business.

DR. BRIGGS' CASE.

Final Meeting of the Presbytery of New York Yesterday.

Dr. McCook Will Appeal to the General Assembly—The Report of the Committee Acquitting Dr. Briggs of the Charge of Heresy Read and Accepted—The Terms of the Resolution.

New York, Jan. 9.—The final meeting of the Presbytery of New York, sitting as a court on the trial of the charges against the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, met at 2 o'clock this afternoon to receive the report of the special committee having in charge the consideration of the vote taken at the last meeting of the judiciary. For more than an hour the report was discussed and a motion to lay that section relating to the explanations of Dr. Briggs on the table was lost by a vote of 58 to 47.

GENERAL CAPITAL NOTES.

An Order-in-Council has been passed extending the franchise privileges to Messrs. Curran, Wood and Wallace, who are the proprietors of the city yesterday Hon. Mr. Ives visited all the clerks in his department, that of the Privy Council, and examined into the different work in which they were engaged. He let them all understand that it was his determination to run the office on purely business principles.

Mr. Bennett Rosamond, M.P. for North Lanark, arrived here on departmental business. Mr. Rosamond has just returned from an extended trip through Europe.

Major R. R. McLennan, M.P. for Glen-garry, is here.

Do Onihyatskha, supreme chief ranger, and John A. McGillivray, J. C., supreme secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, are in the city. They are here on business connected with the finance department, being anxious to get a certificate from the Government for doing business in certain States of the Union which require them.

The Eastern Ontario poultry association have applied to the City Council for the use of By-ward Market Hall from January 25th to February 3rd, for their annual poultry show.

In Aylmer to-day the municipal nominations resulted in the re-election of Mr. Thos. Ritchie as mayor. There was a contest for councillors and the polling will be held next Monday.

A crank attacked Rev. W. T. Herridge in his study, but was ejected.

BEGINNING OF THE END.

THE GERMAN MINERS' STRIKE THOUGHT TO BE PRACTICALLY BROKEN.

A Sympathetic Strike at Gelsenkirchen Brought to a Finish and Bochum Miners Fail to Strike.

Berlin, Jan. 9.—Notwithstanding the resolutions adopted at the miners' meeting held in Bochum, yesterday afternoon, expressing sympathy with the Saar strikers and declaring in favor of a general strike in support of the Saar men which was to begin to-day, all the miners in the Bochum district proceeded to their pits as usual this morning and went to work. To judge from present indications there is no danger of a strike at Bochum, though the socialists who were in full control of yesterday's meeting have not abandoned their intention to foment trouble and are using every means in their power to induce the men to quit work. The miners, however, display no anxiety to follow the advice offered them.

At Gelsenkirchen, where many of the miners went on strike, three of the largest pits resumed work this morning, and this is taken to be the beginning of the end of one of the most ill-advised strikes that has occurred in Germany of recent years. Few, if any, of the men were in a condition to make a protracted struggle and hunger and suffering from the cold worked together in the interests of the mine owners in forcing the men back to work.

A dynamite bomb was exploded in Gelsenkirchen this afternoon. Two small bombs which stand on each side of the alleyway in which the bomb was placed were shaken so that the windows broke and plaster fell from the walls. Nobody was injured. The man who placed the bomb has not been caught. He is supposed to be an Anarchist emissary from the Saar district.

THE NEWS FROM HAMILTON.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier at Hamilton—Inequality in Church Assessments.

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 9.—The Ministerial Association held a meeting this morning, at which Rev. Dr. Clark, pastor of Zion tabernacle, in a carefully prepared paper on assessment of church property, which contained statistics, giving the assessed values of all church property in Hamilton proved to the satisfaction of the association that many inequalities exist in the rating of church properties, in favor of Roman Catholic churches and against Protestant churches. A committee of three ministers was appointed to wait upon the Provincial Government, to urge upon them the necessity of changing the assessment law, so that an equalization of assessments in church properties be secured.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier arrived in Hamilton and was met at the Grand Trunk Railway station by a number of prominent Liberals

THE FIRE RECORD.

Narrow Escape of Many Employees in a New York Factory.

New York, Jan. 9.—The six-story building Nos. 43 to 47 Elizabeth street, occupied on the first three floors by Frederick Doll & Co., furniture dealers, and by Berliner, Strauss & Daneser, and Altman, Summer & Co., neckwear manufacturers, was burned this morning. Loss $250,000. The fire was discovered by the elevator man in the third floor of the building and he quickly gave the alarm to the 200 employees who had started work for the day. Many of these were girls employed by the neck wear factory, and there was an immediate panic among them. The fire escaped and the stairway, which had not yet caught, afforded means of exit for the scared employees; but there were a number of narrow escapes of some of the frailer women, who were caught in the jam on the stairways. All the people, however, got out in safety.

Summit, N. J., Jan. 9.—Calvary Episcopal Church, a handsome structure of stone in the centre of the town, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The gas jets ignited some evergreens, and the fire got beyond control. Loss $45,000, insurance $37,000.

Lynn Mass., Jan. 9.—The three-story block on Essex street, Cliftondale, owned by Wm. Chatfield, of Boston, was burned last night. Henry Fisk, grocer, was the heaviest loser. Loss $35,000, insured.

Watertown, Jan. 9.—The total loss from the burning of the Vanburen House, at Government, St. Lawrence County, yesterday, will amount to $100,000, with insurance aggregating a little over half that amount. The Vanburen House loss is $45,000; insurance, $24,000. The other losers are Max Tumlosky, $12,000; insurance, $5,000; J. W. Ormiston, $15,000; insurance, $3,000; L. J. Blau, $12,000; insurance, $7,000; Dr. Morgan & Co., $1,000, no insurance; Dewey & Perrin, loss $4,000; the First National Bank, $1,000; the Herald-Tribune, $1,000 and the Northern Tribune, $400; all of which is more than covered by insurance. The boards at the hotel lost all they had there, amounting to about $3,000. Mr. Vanburen kept his supply of matches in his liquor cellar, and it is supposed that rats chewed them and so caused the fire.

THE NEW GOLD CAMP.

Supposed Re-Discovery of the Fabulously Rich Aztec Mines.

Chichua, Mexico, Jan. 9.—According to advices received here there is no abatement in the excitement near Ures, Sonora, over the rich gold finds that have been made. The new camp now has a population of 15,000 persons, mostly Mexicans, with a few American prospectors. Tracings of old workings have been discovered, and this fact gives color to the belief that the Aztec mines of fabulous richness have been rediscovered. There has been no trouble thus far between the prospectors and the Yaqui Indians, although the latter view with sullen silence the encroachment upon their domain.

CLAIMED TO BE RELIABLE.

Melo-Dramatic End of a Chase for a Tennessee Moonshiner.

Chatanooga, Tenn., Jan. 9.—The following tragedy in Buchanan, Va., comes through a reliable source. Charles Carroll, a moonshiner, who was being pursued by Deputy Marshalls, concealed himself in an abandoned cabin, barred the door, and stood peeping through a knot-hole. The posse came along the road, stopped and began talking on the edge of the clearing, too far away to be heard in ordinary conversation. A bet was made and taken that one of the party could not shoot through a knot-hole in the door of the cabin. A Winchester was levelled at the door, and something was heard to fall inside the cabin. The officers rushed to the spot, and found writhing in death the man they had been hunting.

POWDER WORKS BLOWN UP.

Two Explosions of Terrible Force, but No Loss of Life.

Dover, N. J., Jan. 9.—The Forcote Powder Works at Lake Hopatcong blew up again this morning, with a tremendous report, which shook buildings in the surrounding villages and was heard miles away. Less than a year ago these works blew up and killed four or five persons.

There were two explosions. The first one occurred at about 10 a.m., and the other about fifteen minutes later. In all about 850 pounds of giant powder was blown up. The building was badly shattered. Superintendents and workmen escaped without being injured. There was no loss of life. It is said a fire which broke out in a saw-mill on the premises was the cause of the explosions.

Mr. Gladstone Starts for London.

Paris, Jan. 9.—Mr. Gladstone left Biarritz for London to-day. A crowd of visitors and residents accompanied him to the station and cheered him as the train moved off. Mr. Gladstone looked exceptionally well.

Three Months for Manslaughter.

Toronto, Jan. 9.—Pat Fenton, the young man who killed Minnie Davis at Christmas morning at Highland Creek, and who was convicted of manslaughter at the assizes, was this morning sentenced by Judge Rose to three months' imprisonment.

Shot Himself for a Dancer.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—C. N. Gregory, a telegraph operator, went into the apartment of Mrs. Robert Hiller, a skiff dancer, whose stage name is Sadie Barnes, at 9 o'clock last night and shot himself dead. He was in love with the woman, although she claims she never saw him before.

Children and the Pope.

Rome, Jan. 9.—The Pope opened his Episcopal Jubilee yesterday by giving a reception to children in the Consistory palace. There were 500 belonging to noble Catholic families. The choir sang a hymn dedicated to Christopher Columbus. The Pope distributed medals to the children.

The Pilot Boat Was Lost.

New York, Jan. 9.—The pilot boat Edward Cooper, No. 20, of New York, which has been reported as missing, was lost on December 23rd about 410 miles from Sandy Hook. The steamer La Campin, which arrived this morning, brought the crew of the missing pilot boat.

Elections in Sweden.

Stockholm, Jan. 9.—Elections began yesterday for members of the Folkriksdag or popular branch of the Parliament. The leading question at issue was the extension of the franchise. The Liberals and Socialists are polling a large vote and the Socialists have carried Gothenburg, Malmo and probably Stockholm.

Father and Son Dead.

New York, Jan. 9.—Robert Hanson, aged 78 years, was found dead in bed this morning at 2211 First avenue. His son, Benjamin Hanson, aged 45, was found dead in the hallway at the same morning. Investigation shows that Benjamin, who was a heavy drinker, was on his way to summon a doctor to attend his father when he fell down stairs and was killed.

Two Deaths at Belleville.

Belleville, Ont., Jan. 9.—Edward Harrison, the oldest business man in town, died this morning after a week's illness. Deceased, who was a native of Ireland, was aged about 84 years.

George Hillard, aged about 21, a student at Albee College, whose parents live near Mount Forest, Ont., died last night from injuries received in a football match several weeks since.

THE AUER LIGHT.

Ninety-Six Per Cent of the First Instalment Now Paid.

To the Editor of The Herald.
Sir,—Since the anonymously called meeting of the subscribers to the Montreal Auer Incandescent Light Co., Ltd., (local company), held in the hall of the Natural History Society on Friday evening, 6th inst., the following have paid:—

Alexander, Charles Booth, Wm.
Arthy, A. W. Bussell, Thos. W.
Bruce, A. Cochran, C. H.
Bussiere, F. A. Clarkson, A. B.
Burrell, W. B. Coussirat, Prof. D.
Beaudoin, J. P. Clark, E. J.
Beauchamp, J. J. Currie, W.
Baby, Hon. H. Campbell, F. W.
(in trust) Cowie, F. W.

Bryson, R. H. (in trust)
Doyle, Joseph Elliott, Thos. A. W.
Foster, T. Yates Foster, T. Yates (in trust.)

Finzel, A. C. F. (in trust.)
Gould, Chas. H. Gault, A.
Gould, O. M. Harrison, S. W.
Hilton, J. Hepburn, H. C.
Hilton, J. F. Hartwell, L.
Hunter, Miss G. Kaufman, H. N.
Labatt, Miss Fras. Lyman, A. C.
Louson W. S. Lyman W. E.
Loranger H. R. Lyman H. H.
McKillop, Miss A.

M. Mykill Wm. M.
Munn S. M. McKee, J. A.
Murdoch Max. Miller, Miss Maude A.
De Merle M. R. Mount J. W.

Pridham Miss Jessie, Pickett W. W.
Pridham Alex. (in trust.)
Riley Wm. Pollock R.

Von Rappard, E. Rowe, Fred.
Ryley, Wm. Ross, G. T. M. D.

Seybold, G. P. St. Jean, J. A. G.
Scott, J. H. Sandreuter, E.

Scott, W. A. (in trust.)
Shaw, Wm. Scott, A. W.
Taylor, Andrew T. Thurnston, C. E.

Watson, H. M. Whitman, C. E.

Wilson, J. T. Williamson, T. H.

The above list, together with that previously published, makes a total of 213 shareholders.

The amount due on this first call was $12,500, of which $108,015 has been paid, or over 90 per cent.

We have requests from several subscribers asking a few days' time for making payment, and many applications from others wishing to get more stock.

A. O. GRANGER.

Montreal, Jan. 9th, 1893.

IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

THE CHANDLER RESTRICTION BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED.

The Secretary of State Says There is no Treaty Which Can Prevent the Restriction of Immigration.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 9.—Mr. Hare, of Ohio, from the committee on immigration, reported to the House to-day with the recommendation that it pass the bill introduced by Senator Chandler and passed by the Senate in July last to facilitate the enforcement of the immigrant and contract labor laws of the United States. In addition to conforming to the present requirements of law, vessel owners are required to furnish the inspectors of immigration a manifest prepared at the port of departure showing the age, sex, place of residence and previous history and other information that will disclose the character of the intended immigrant. The House Committee amended the measure so as to exclude persons physically imperfect, blind, crippled or unable to perform manual labor or likely to become a public charge, also persons belonging to societies or organizations which sanction or justify the unlawful destruction of life or property.

Mr. Chandler in reporting the bill to the Senate stated it was only preliminary to a further bill which he expected to report, which would reduce to a minimum the number of emigrants departing from foreign shores to the United States, who are not entitled to admission.

The President has under consideration the circular prepared at the Treasury Department to restrict immigration. He is giving the subject much thought, and next week the circular with the President's approval will be issued. It was one of the subjects discussed at the Cabinet meeting yesterday.

In response to the Senate resolution relative to the possible violation of the treaty obligations under the pending Chandler Suspension bill, the president to-day transmitted to the Senate the reply of the Secretary of State. The secretary says that he is not aware of any treaty which specifically purports to restrict the right of this Government to control immigration into the United States.

IT WAS NOT ABDUCTION.

Government Detective McKee Denies the Charges Made Against Him.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 9.—In regard to the press despatch from Belleville, Ont., stating that Government Detective McKee had abducted a young girl named Laura Daw, and taken her to her mother in Detroit, Mr. McKee says that the charge is absolutely false as far as the abduction is concerned. His version of the affair is as follows: Mrs. Daw separated from her husband some time ago, and is now living in Sandwich. When she left Belleville the girl was placed in charge of a family named Brown, with the understanding that when her mother wanted her she was to go. A couple of weeks ago Mrs. Daw saw Detective McKee, and asked him to stop off at Belleville on his next Eastern trip and bring her daughter. Mrs. Daw gave him a letter to the girl, and the necessary expenses. On Wednesday, on his return from Montreal, he stopped off at Belleville, and in company with the chief of police, called at the house where the girl was. He gave her the letter, stated his mission, and told her if she was willing to go to get ready and meet him at the station at 6 p.m. The family where she was stopping got her ready and he brought her to Windsor. Mr. McKee says that Mrs. Daw is an estimable woman, and it was purely to accommodate her that he called for the girl.

Birdie Lights on a Prince.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—It is announced here positively that Miss Virginia Estlin, better known as Birdie, is engaged to be married soon to Prince Poniatowski, a descendant of the last King of Poland. Miss Fair is living with her sister, Mrs. Oelrich. She is not quite 19. She has $2,500 a year income, and in six years she will inherit $1,500,000. From her father, when he dies, she will get not less than $5,000,000. She met the Prince last summer at Newport.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL SQUABBLE.

Archbishop Ireland Says He Has Not Made Complaints to Rome.

New York, Jan. 9.—A special to The Sun from St. Paul says: Archbishop Ireland has not sent charges against Archbishop Corrigan to Rome but that he will eventually be heard from in that direction there is no doubt. The announcement from Chicago that he had already done so, created a great sensation in Catholic circles here, but not a ripple in the household of the Archbishop, for when informed of the facts in this manner was evidence that the report of his alleged action did not surprise him. He listened calmly while the details of the Chicago article were given to him, and then quietly said: "I have sent no charges to Rome." This he would say on the subject, except that he added that there would be no necessity to send charges to the Pope, while his accented delegate Mgr. Sotelli was in this country. The Archbishop distinctly said he had made no charges against Archbishop Corrigan, but his words and manner left the impression that the affair would be properly investigated and brought to the attention of the Papal Alegate.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Mgr. Sotelli remained in Washington yesterday and did not go to New York to take part in the feast of St. Agnes, at which it was stated that both he and Archbishop Corrigan would officiate. Mgr. Sotelli absolutely declined to say anything on the Corrigan-Ireland publication, holding that it would be improper for him to do so.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 9.—Catholics here are strongly disinclined to credit the story that Archbishop Ireland has formulated charges against Archbishop Corrigan and forwarded them to Rome.

NEW YORK SENATORSHIP.

The Tammany Candidate Pledges Not to Embarrass Mr. Cleveland.

New York, Jan. 9.—Richard Croker, according to a report last night, has within the last two days personally assured President-elect Cleveland that should Edward Murphy, Jr., be chosen to the American Senate, he would in no wise embarrass the administration; on the contrary he would cooperate with Mr. Cleveland in every way possible to make his regime harmonious and successful. Mr. Croker was said to have carried Mr. Murphy's pledge to this effect. The reply of the President-elect was that he could not be ascertained.

EARLY CLOSING.

Temperance Advocates Interview the Local Ministers.

In response to a request from Hon. John S. Hall to the Protestant Ministerial Association, the Dominion Alliance and kindred societies, a deputation representing these interests waited on the Premier and Provincial Secretary at the Government offices on St. Gabriel street yesterday. It included Rev. H. W. Dixon, President of the Protestant Ministerial Association, Anglican; Rev. F. M. Dewey, secretary of the same association, and the Rev. W. R. Cruikshank, Presbyterian; Rev. T. G. Williams, D.D., chairman of the special temperance committee of the Ministerial Association, Methodist; Rev. Thomas Hall, president of the Point St. Charles Temperance Crusaders, Congregational, all being also members of the Ministerial Association; and the Rev. Father Marre, representing officially Archbishop Fabre and Cure Sentenne. The Dominion Alliance was represented by Mr. J. R. Donnell, president; Mr. J. H. Carson, secretary, and three members of the executive committee, Messrs. A. M. Featherston, Alex. Peden and C. Pessey. The president of the citizens' league, Major E. L. Bond, being unable, owing to other engagements, to be present to represent the league in person, sent a written statement defining the views of the league regarding the confederation and administration of the Quebec license law.

Mr. J. H. Carson, who was the principal spokesman of the deputation, said that there were four points of the utmost importance that the alliance were desirous that the Government should deal with during the coming session. These related to the sale of liquor by druggists, the amendment of the law relating to grocery licenses, the amendment of the early closing act, and the extension of the right to limit the number of licenses to all cities and towns.

Premier Taitton maintained throughout a most sympathetic attitude, and Hon. John S. Hall said: "On behalf of the Premier, I assure you that I can include in my colleagues, and myself, I can assure you our most hearty sympathy in this great moral movement. Some remedial measures must be adopted. Last session we were, as you know, very much hampered. Something, however, has already been done, in the way of administration. I think that I can assure you of more than our serious consideration, and that something practical will be done."

Rev. V. H. Marre, S.S., proved a most fluent speaker. On behalf of the Church he represented he made a most effective appeal for the closing of saloons on Saturday night.

A Night With Dickens.

Rev. Rabbi Veld, of the Temple Emmanuel, will entertain the members of the Montefiore Club this evening, by a series of readings from Dickens.

The Prohibition Committee.

It has been decided that the Royal Commission of investigation into the workings of the liquor traffic, which has been carrying on its investigations on the Pacific Coast, shall reassemble in this city on the 17th instant. The members of the commission will then decide upon their program for their work in Ontario, as well as upon the conclusion of their investigations in this city.

Mr. Taillefer Married.

Mr. Ephrem Taillefer, formerly of La Patrie, and president of the Club National, was married at Yamaska yesterday morning to Miss Annette Letourneau, eldest daughter of a leading merchant of that town. The best man was Dr. Migneault, M.P., while the bride was given away by her father. A number of friends were present at the ceremony and wished the young couple happiness, a desire in which Mr. Taillefer's many friends in Montreal will join.

C.P.R. Directors Meet.

The usual monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific railway was held in the general offices yesterday afternoon. There were present: President Van Horne, Vice-president Shaughnessy, Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Toronto; Hon. D. MacInnes, Hamilton; Mr. E. B. Osler, Toronto; Mr. G. R. Harris, Boston; General Samuel Thomas, New York; Mr. W. D. Matthews, Toronto, and Secretary Drinkwater. At the conclusion of the meeting The Herald was told that only routine business had been transacted.

Millionaire Astor in Town.

This is all the American visitors who have dropped in our city just to pass the time is Mr. John Jacob Astor, the multimillionaire of New York. He comes here to enjoy a little winter sport, such as skating, tobogganing, etc., and is very anxious to take a spin up the St. Lawrence on steel. Mr. Astor intends going through to the Pacific Coast just for the sake of sight-seeing, as he says, for not being compelled to work for his living, he spends a great deal of time in travelling. Mr. Astor is an annexationist and would be pleased to see this Canada of ours coupled with his great country. He is accompanied by Mrs. Astor and looks forward to a pleasant time in this city.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache, which is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before going to bed, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

STEAMERS LAID UP.

Statistics Showing the Extent of the Depression in the Shipping Trade.

London, Jan. 9.—The extreme depression in the shipping industries of England and the continent is shown by a startling array of statistics just made public. There are numbers of idle steamers in every port in the kingdom. On the Tyne alone there are seventeen vessels are laid up at London. At Liverpool there are 156 steamers idle, with a total tonnage of 159,000 tons. The total number of vessels laid up at English and Scotch ports is 459, and the total tonnage is 936,000 tons. In Continental ports 90 steamers, with a total tonnage of 100,000 tons, are laid up. As a result there are 3,000 men idle, which means a total loss of £50,000 sterling in wages monthly.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. Crankshaw Tells Muldoon's Side of the Lyceum Dispute.

Mr. James Crankshaw, advocate, who has been retained by the Muldoon company, takes exception to some statements in The Herald reference yesterday to the embroglio at the Lyceum. Speaking to a Herald reporter he said: "Yesterday (Sunday) afternoon the Muldoon company called in my services to obtain the release of their effects from attachment."

It transpired that instead of Mr. Bertram having any legal claims against Muldoon and company, Mr. Bertram and his partners, Jesselsohn & Sheridan, were indebted to the company to the extent of over $500. Muldoon and his treasurer having in the course of the week received only $941 on account of the $1,500 guaranteed to them. Under these circumstances the seizure before judgment was withdrawn and Muldoon and his company took possession of their effects and left for the United States by the 5.30 p.m. train, to fulfil engagements which they have there, commencing this afternoon and evening; leaving instructions with me to take proceedings to recover the balance of their contract, some $350."

MASONS CELEBRATE.

St. Charles Lodge Has a Most Enjoyable Reunion.

St. Charles Lodge, A. F. and A. M., celebrated their 22nd anniversary by an At Home the other evening in the Masonic Chambers, 1743 Notre Dame street. Wor. Bro. Wm. H. Davidson, W. M., presided, and on his right were Rt. Wor. Bro. James Fyfe and V. Wor. Bro. J. Dougherty; on his left were Rt. Wor. Bro. H. S. Couper and Wor. Bro. W. A. Dougherty, L.P.M. The first part of the entertainment consisted of a concert, which was opened by a few remarks from the chairman, who extended to all present a most cordial welcome and hoped that all would make themselves thoroughly at home, especially the ladies. The following ladies and gentlemen kindly contributed to the evening's entertainment: Mrs. Corwood, Miss Taggie, Rt. Wor. Bro. H. S. Couper, Bro. Brodie, Prof. John H. S. Dunn (pianist), Mr. McLaughlin, and Mr. Jos. Hardman, who were all assisted by V. Wor. Bro. Jas. Dougherty and Bro. Bryon and Greenwood, of St. Charles. The concert being concluded, the chairman invited the guests down stairs to partake of the lodge's hospitality. Ladies and gentlemen to the number of 110 sat down to supper. The first toast proposed was the time honored one of "Quebec City," which was heartily responded to by all present, after which came the toast of "The Ladies," responded to by Bro. John Greenwood, of St. Charles. Bro. Brodie then proposed the toast of "St. Charles Lodge," coupled with the names of Rt. Wor. Bro. Jas. Fyfe, Past D.D.G.M., and Rt. Wor. Bro. H. S. Couper, Past D.D.G.M., who both eloquently responded. The toast of "Our Guests" followed, which was responded to by Bro. Brodie, of Antiquity Lodge, No. 1; after which came the toast of "The Ladies," responded to by Bro. John Greenwood, of St. Charles. Bro. Brodie then proposed the toast of "St. Charles Lodge," coupled with the names of Rt. Wor. Bro. Wm. H. Davidson, Wor. Bro. Wm. H. Davidson responded, and then called on Wor. Bro. W. A. Dougherty, L.P.M., to respond for St. Charles Lodge, which he did in his usual happy style. The tables were then cleared and dancing indulged in till about 4 a.m. Signor Cavallo, with his orchestra, combined with Blas's Italian orchestra, furnished the music for dancing, and then ended one of the most successful Masonic festivals ever held in Montreal.

K. of L. Officers.

Progress Assembly 3,852, Knights of Labor, has elected the following officers for the ensuing six months: E. Lauer, master workman; L. Breen, worthy foreman; J. P. Clarke, past master workman; B. Peeney, recording and financial secretary; Samuel Dixon, treasurer; J. Storey, almoner; M. Fallon, statistician; J. P. Clarke, judge; J. Murphy, judge advocate; delegates to District Assembly No. 18, B. Feeney, L. Breen and S. Dixon.

Select Knights' At Home.

One of the leading events of the season will be an "At Home" to be given at the Athletic Club House on Jan. 19, under the auspices of Standard Legion, No. 5, Select Knights of Canada. Supper will be spread and lovers of the "light fantastic toe" will be able to spend an enjoyable evening. The best music attainable will be provided. Tickets for couples have been placed at $2.50, and for an extra lady at 75c. These can be had at James Steel's, 1826 Notre Dame street, or from any of the members.

Officers Elected.

At a regular meeting of Clarence Lodge, No. 16, A.O.U.W., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: P. M. W., Bro. R. S. Brehm; M. W., Bro. M. Foran; Foreman, Bro. J. J. Soly; L. P., Bro. J. R. Tangue; R., Bro. E. Toban; Fin. Bro. John Rought; Rec., Bro. W. L. Patterson; Guide, Bro. Stephen Kelly; L. W., Bro. P. E. Emile de Lorimer; O. W., Bro. Wm. McCarthy; Organist, Bro. Leopold Lemay; Auditors, Bros. Neil W. Shannon, Dr. H. Pepin, J. A. Brodes, Trustees, Bros. Wm. Rawley, A. A. Braden, John Huggins. Representative to Grand Lodge, Bro. P. M. W. R. S. Brehm.

English Miners in Session.

London, Jan. 9.—Eighty-four delegates representing the 270,000 miners, who are members of the miners' federation, met in session at Birmingham to-day. They are discussing the question of eight hours and of employers' liability for accident.

Frances Willard in London.

London, Jan. 9.—Miss Frances Willard was received publicly at Exeter Hall this evening. The building was crowded, and Miss Willard's address was cheered and applauded enthusiastically by Lady Henry Somerset presided.

Two Tragic Deaths.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 9.—Claude Minifie, a handsome mulatto 24 years of age, because her lover, a white man, teased her last evening, shot herself through the head, dying instantly.

Charles Ereskine of Lincoln, a gold cure graduate, became suddenly insane on the street, and stabbed himself. A policeman grappled with the young man, and after a desperate fight drove him home. Ereskine had returned to his home from a Keely Institute.

Foreign Notes of Interest.

Panama, Jan. 9.—Colombia has opened the port of Nombre de Dios to foreign commerce. An important mine of emeralds, worked by American capitalists, is located there.

Vienna, Jan. 9.—Another heavy snow has fallen in the Balkans. The snow is 20 inches deep in Bulgaria. The storm has completely stopped railway traffic between Eastern and Western Europe.

London, Jan. 9.—The Earl of Lonsboro is critically ill with typhoid fever. His son and heir, Viscount Ranelagh, has been summoned to his bedside.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL,
as a medicine, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the only medicine of its kind ever promoted. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
It's the only guaranteed remedy for every disease caused by a disordered liver or impure blood. Dyspepsia, Biliousness, the pure blood. Sculp and Scrofulous most stubborn Skin, Sculp and Scrofulous (scrofula) in its earliest stages, all are cured by it.
It purifies and enriches the blood, rouses every organ into healthy action, and restores strength and vigor. In building up both flesh and strength of pale, puny, Scrofulous children, or to invigorate an exhausted system after "Grippe," pneumonia, fever, and other prostrating acute diseases, nothing can equal the "Discovery."
You pay only for the good you get.

BARRISTERS, NOTARIES, ETC.

HON. JOHN S. HALL, Q. C., M. P. P.
SELKIRK CROSS.
W. PRESCOTT SHARP.
HALL, CROSS, BROWN & SHARP, Advocates, Barristers & Solicitors.
—TEMPLE BUILDING—
185 ST. JAMES ST. MONTREAL

F. R. MacLennan, Q. C., J. W. Liddle, H. Cline.

MacLennan, Liddle & Cline

(Late MacLennan & Macdonald)
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Etc.
CORNWALL, Ont.

James Leitch, R. W. Pringle.

Leitch & Pringle,

BARRISTERS,
Attorneys at Law, Solicitors, Chancery,
Notaries Public, Etc.,
CORNWALL, Ontario.

MARCHAND & BAYNES,

NOTARIES & COMMISSIONERS,
MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED,
STANDARD BUILDING,
157 St. James Street - Telephone No. 1717.
Hon. F. G. MARCHAND, D. L. M. P. P.
O'HARA BAYNES, R. C. L.

Geo. C. Gibbons, Q. C., Geo. McNab
P. Mulken, Fred. F. Harper.

Gibbons, McNab & Mulken

Barristers, Attorneys, Etc.,
Office: Corner Richmond & Carling Sts.,
London, Ont.

A. F. McIntyre, Q. C., R. G. Code, J. F. Orde.

McINTYRE, CODE & ORDE,

Barristers, Notaries, Etc. Supreme Court and Departmental Agents,
OTTAWA, Ont.

GEOFFRION, DORION & ALLAN,

ADVOCATES,
107 St. James Street,
IMPERIAL BUILDING,
PLACE D'ARMES.

J. N. Greenshields, Q. C., R. A. E. Greenshields

GREENSHIELDS & GREENSHIELDS,

ADVOCATES,
Barristers, Attorneys, Solicitors, &c.
BRITISH EMPIRE BUILDING,
1724 Notre Dame Street.

A. F. MCINTYRE,

Advocate, Barrister, Solicitor, Etc.
--- QUEBEC AND MONTREAL ---
Chambers: 806 & 807 New York Life Building
MONTREAL.

CHAS. S. BURROUGHS.

BURROUGHS & BURROUGHS,

Barristers and Solicitors,
NO. 613 AND 614 NEW YORK LIFE
Place d'Armes Square,
MONTREAL.

Telephone - - - 1521

JOB PRINTING

ALL DESCRIPTIONS OF PRINTING
--- AS ---

THE MONTREAL HERALD CO.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

LOUISE BOUCAULT.

Georgine Has an Interesting Chat With the Great Dramatist's Widow.

"How nice and kind of you to come and see me," said a tall graceful woman to me yesterday at the Windsor. This lady was Mrs. Dion Boucault, who is playing in "Husband and Wife" this week at the Academy. After the usual talk about friends, and that very nice topic, the weather, I said: "How nice it is to see English friends again, Mrs. Boucault."

"Yes, but you must remember I am not English. I am an American."

"It was in London I met you?"

"Oh, yes, I have been in London. I played at the Prince of Wales Theatre in 'The Jilt,' a piece my husband wrote for me."

"Don't you like London?"

"I like London, but I cannot say I like London itself; but I love Paris, don't you?"

"Indeed I do. What do you think of Montreal, Mrs. Boucault?"

"I like Montreal very much. It is such a quaint, solid-looking city. I was here before with my husband a few years ago. That was in winter, too."

You could scarcely realize it was the same city in summer with the temperature at 70 or 80° when this square (we were sitting near one of the windows) looks so beautiful with almost tropical plants growing. It does not seem strange with so much ice and snow. I do not feel the cold; it is just delightful. I like Montreal better than Toronto."

"Have you been in all the churches, Mrs. Boucault?"

"No, I would like to see them very much. Will you tell me the nicest to go to?"

"Notre Dame you must see. William Black mentions it in one of his books, and Notre Dame des Lourdes is a perfect little gem."

"Isn't there a big institution here—the Gray Nunnery—could I see it?"

"Yes, I believe it is a most interesting place, and as I have never seen it myself, I would be delighted to go with you."

"How nice of you."

"Before I go will you tell me the dresses you wear on the stage, Mrs. Boucault?"

"Willingly, but won't you come and see me in them?"

"Unfortunately I cannot this evening as I am going to hear Paul du Chailu lecture, but I want my readers to know how charming your dresses are, and I know how charming you will look in them."

"Perhaps you will be disappointed. The dress I wear in the first act is made of white crepe de chine. With it I wear a little coat of yellow brocade, and a yellow and white hat, and a box of the same shades made as feathers. My gloves are yellow, and my parasol is white lace."

"In the next act I wear an empire gown, made of pink brocade, and shot with silver, green plush sleeves with old dirty lace. All lace is dirty looking now."

"To show its age and its value. I love good old lace, don't you, Mrs. Boucault?"

"Indeed, I do. To return to my dress. It was the Empire gown, was it not?"

"It has a long train. I think that is all I can say about it. I am so bad at describing dresses."

I took up at this graceful woman and think how charming she must look in this quaint old time gown, which is surely made for women like herself.

"My last dress is made of mousseline de soie (blue I think she said). It is a walking costume and with it I wear a big, light-colored hat. But you will come and see me play, won't you? I and to-morrow will take me to see the churches, but don't come too early."

"I am so glad to see you. Good bye."

GEORGINE.

Dressing on a Small Allowance.

The girl who wishes to dress well on a small sum should cultivate the use of her fingers; she should most certainly be able to retrain her evening gowns and hats, and make her plain serge skirts and petticoats. In winter it is a very good plan for the economical dresser to always wear black gowns. The dress of color is more difficult to keep in good condition, and is more expensive. Shoes and boots are an expensive item of dress and should receive the best care. Bronze shoes are always pretty for evening and can be worn with almost any gown. For general wear patent leather is always smart. Suede gloves are the most expensive, because they soil so quickly and never look well after cleaning. Dog-skin and wash leather are much more economical. If a girl goes out a good deal the most sensible and useful evening gown is of black silk, quite plain and slightly trained. For this three bodies are suggested: One of drawn, spangled black net, cut rather high and square in the neck, with puffed, transparent sleeves to the wrist and a large black moire sash. This would be suitable for a semi-formal theatre or concert; for the second bodice rose pink tulle gathered over pale green silk, with huge puffed short sleeves and jet belt, with deep fringes falling over the skirt. The belt can be easily made at home. For the third bodice a plain black silk, slightly pointed in the basque and laced up in the back, with short sleeves of silk, bertha, and long trains of pale yellow roses. The same black shoes, stockings, and gloves can be worn with all these gowns, and the hair can be differently dressed and a pretty assemblage of flowers, Aklavian bow of velvet, or tiny empire wreath connected to suit each bodice—Once a Week.

A Cuddled Gown.

Some of the newest empire sleeves measure one yard and one-eighth across the top before they are adjusted to the bodice, and but little of its width is taken up in the making up of the sleeve.

Dark blue linen is growing in favor for pillows, spreads and other pieces of needlework for which blue denim has been used. Sometimes both materials are used in a sitting-room, where service and beauty are both considered. The very clear blue of the linen is most effectively worked with white silk or linen flosses.

Winter head-coverings include in a series of unintermitted gradations everything from a tiny baby cap to a wide brimmed Directoire hat. Evening bonnets are of the most diminutive description, usually in cap shape, with a crown of shot velvet in pale, beautiful tints, or of gem-studded passementerie framed in fur, the trimmings of cream colored guipure lace being fastened in place with jeweled pins.

For the smart, many-caped, short circular or the somewhat smaller half-fitting cloaks that the best houses are showing, a handsome and artistic trimming is of great importance. The "eye" portion, which is omitted for the benefit of the superstitious, but the long, graceful, bronze-green filaments curled and massed together. Capotes, long coats, short collarettes and edgings are all made of this curled plumage, which is particularly effective against velvet.

A reader commends to housewives the English fashion of stuffing poultry with a very little force-meat and supplementing it with nicely browned balls of the force-meat baked separately. Her recipe is: A cupful of dry bread crumbs, grated; half a cup of suet, chopped fine; a little grated lemon peel; half a teaspoonful of parsley, fresh or dried, pepper and salt to taste, and an egg beaten with a teaspoonful of milk to bind together. Use less than half if for a small bird, and make the remainder into a little more brown and arrange as a border around the fowl. For a turkey use double the quantity.

This is a woman's description of an ideal husband: "A temperate, moral, intellectual, truthful, energetic, affectionate, thoughtful, forgiving, Christian man, who chooses a wife for her mind and heart rather than for her face, and waits until she has found the right one; who neither scolds nor laughs at his wife and never contradicts her in public; who loves home and children, and has certain measures making an honest, comfortable living; who is economical, but not stingy; and, unless wealthy, and unless wealthy, keeps his life insured; who understands that women have nerves, need money, enjoy pretty things, and are happier for being petted."

A True Wife.

It is a shame to any mother who fails to train her daughters to take a serious view of life, instead of a frivolous, selfish view, to remember that their highest duty, whether they be married or single, is to be home makers. A great writer on this subject has said: "Wherever a true wife comes, the home is always around her. The stars may be over her head, the glow worm in the cold grass at night may be the only fire at her feet. But home is yet wherever she is, and for a noble woman it stretches far around her, better than ceiled with cedar or painted with vermillion, shedding its quiet light far for those who else were homeless."—Philadelphia Times.

Giving Bitter Medicine.

In the case of small children, or any sick person where great nausea is present, or there is a weak delicate stomach, it is both possible and easy to administer bitter or otherwise disagreeable tonics, such as quinine, by absorption; in fact, it is sometimes much better to do so, and it is always safe. In the case of quinine, wet a tripled with alcohol and rub it gently all along the spine over the stomach and under the arms. This method is especially valuable to mothers and nurses in "home doctoring," and a lesson in its practice should be taken from the family physician.

No Sentiment About Her.

He (after being accepted)—"What kind of a rangan I to buy for you, my darling?"

She—"Well, I like one I wore last year ever so much. I will give you, my darling's address. Perhaps you will be able to buy the ticket from him at a bargain."—Texas Sifting.

She Overcame the Difficulty.

Mistress—Bridget, bring me a cut-glass dish for these grapes.

Bridget—Sure, marm, there's not won av them I could cut, but I hit wun a whid wid the hammer; that has fixed it all right fur yez.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The New Year Minuet.

It was danced in the hall by the fire's red glow. For the flames had the lamps at their feet. And each form was outlined in the floor below. While the shadows were spread far and wide.

But the shadows were misty—a softened gray—in accord with the slow melody. The light of the dance the dark lines away. While it lent all a sweet mystery.

Both dancers were courtly and figures of grace. Yet the maid held my fancy alone; And she gave a blush to her beautiful face. To her hand eyes a fairer light shone.

And then she curtisied, so slowly, so slow, With the grace of an age that is past. It seemed like a dream of the long, long ago. Like a dream that I knew could not last.

So stately, so slow, was each step that she made. And so graceful the head that she bent; The old-fashioned fan, that at times cast a shade.

Such an air of true elegance lent. The place of the dance gave a place to my thought. And I dreamed of the days that are dead; The spell of the dance was by sorcery wrought. And the hurrying modern days fled.

It was peace—the sweet rest of the olden day. When all idols were not and as king, Love held sway. Before the dawn to ruler had grown, And all those who watched were bewitched by the dance.

And they dreamed till the measure was o'er. To-day was forgot in the short backward glance. And the charms of the day gone before. FLAVEL SCOTT MINES in the January Ladies' Home Journal.

CHAPTER VIII. (Continued).

But Fair's exhilaration did not last. While he was jerking at himself for dallying with such day-dreams, dismissing them again (all the time going on a great pace through the quarters), he was accosted by Bud Fowler.

"Say, Miss Dilla, they all done it; they swallered the bait hull!" It was Bud Fowler who spoke, his solemn, peaked little face alight with something shrewd and fierce at once. He had just returned from Mrs. Crowder's, and was talking to Adele in the gallery. "Dick's ole man b'n up thar an' got the l'ter," said he. "I seen the letter, Mym! mym! but they all are sch em. The ole 'possum, he writ iz Miss Dilla-bor'd b'n thar an' got a boat plumb full er supplies fur the store, an' he 'oped graybacks wudn't met up with him wh'n he landed down by the big eddy fur t'ist Lum Marzin giv the goods fur his store; but did look r-sky like t' him—an' all sick truck like that. We cudn't prove nary 'gin im by disappointed, sure that Dick must be the sick man, not Parson Collins. As he passed, Colonel Rutherford came down one of the little lanes or streets between the quarters, at right angles to that down which Fair took his way. He didn't see his father.

"Fair," said the Colonel, huskily. "Fair," said the Colonel, huskily.

The Colonel made a motion as if to follow, but instantly resuming his former demeanor he walked rapidly away in another direction. He muttered to himself as he went: "Hates terribly to go; but he had ought to. Yes, sir, and the only chance for the lad to get righted is to do his duty."

IX.

"Say, Miss Dilla, they all done it; they swallered the bait hull!" It was Bud Fowler who spoke, his solemn, peaked little face alight with something shrewd and fierce at once. He had just returned from Mrs. Crowder's, and was talking to Adele in the gallery. "Dick's ole man b'n up thar an' got the l'ter," said he. "I seen the letter, Mym! mym! but they all are sch em. The ole 'possum, he writ iz Miss Dilla-bor'd b'n thar an' got a boat plumb full er supplies fur the store, an' he 'oped graybacks wudn't met up with him wh'n he landed down by the big eddy fur t'ist Lum Marzin giv the goods fur his store; but did look r-sky like t' him—an' all sick truck like that. We cudn't prove nary 'gin im by

of a haze of underbush, where one could see a few negroes driving cattle, which moved slowly, lowing and tinkling their bells, out from the green sea of cane. Winter in the upper South has an anstere yet not ungentele beauty, following the splendor of the other seasons like a meek sister of charity in the train of a queen. It is a loveliness (for it is not enough for that name) which does not appal to the senses, but it touth's the heart.

How peaceful, how safe, the scene looked to the bolder, who had loved it all her life. Yet the scream tearing from that iron throat was at once alarm and rallying-cry; it meant all the savagery of battle, it might mean havoc and despair. For a second her firm hand paid of her falls enough to picture flames leaping from those low roofs, and stiff poor earth-tillers lying stark and still among the cotton-stalks, and little children under the merciless hoods, and all the awful tumult of flight for life. That was no more than they had to expect should the graybacks win. "But they won't win!" said Adele, and directly she lifted a brave smile to her uncle, mounted now at the head of his troop.

Her mother ran out and knee'd him before them all, and then ran swiftly back to the house. Adele's turn for his farewell was next. He patted her on the back, and even in the stress of the moment's emotions she remarked his altered manner—a sparkle in his eye, an overt carriage, and the old look of alert confidence on his face, as he whispered: "Tell Fair to chuck up Collins is alive, and kick him. Give him my love; tell him I know he'll look out for your maw and you. Give him the 'Montaigne' too, will. Will in the little black box. You'r a good girl, Della. God bless you! You look ayter Fair."

Then his glance fell on the little crowd of slaves who had hurried, by this time, to "the big house."

"Boys," said he, "and all of you, I'm going this evening to give every man and woman in Lawrence County the right to sleep nights. And those thieves and murderers that have been bounding us, we'll give 'em a sleep that'll last till the day of judgement."

The men set up a cheer. Adele heard the order to march. They were going; their living hoofs beat a cloud along the road; they reach'd the brow of the hill; the shadow of the cyprases received them; they were gone.

To be continued.

BIRTHS.

COSTEN—At 134 McDowell street, on the 3rd inst., Mrs. A. G. Costen, of a son.

O'REILLY—At 121 1/2 McDowell street, on Jan. 8, 1893, the wife of John O'Reilly, of a son.

WRIGHT—At 483 St. Antoine street, on January 2nd, the wife of Wm. Wright, of a daughter.

MARRIAGES.

HARDIN—HAWKINS—On 5th January, 1893, at St. Thomas' Church, by the Rev. J. Frederick Renaud, Richard S. Hardin, of Annie, eldest daughter of Thomas Hawkins, all specially named in papers please copy.

LEE-HANNA—At St. Patrick's Church, on January 9th, by Rev. Father Rotter, S. J., Thomas C. Lee, of London, Eng., to Annie Hanna, of Chicago.

YON-RYAN—On January 9th, at St. Patrick's Church, by the Rev. Father Quinnivan, Edward Yon, only son of Antoine Yon, contractor, to Lizette Ryan, eldest daughter of William Ryan, of the inland Revenue. (Chicago and Peoria papers please copy.)

DEATHS.

MACKE—In this city, on the 6th inst., Mary MacLaughlin, widow of the late Jas. Mack, and mother-in-law of J. D. Swanson, of Ottawa. (Ottawa papers please copy.)

MEAGHER—At 46 Mackay street, Jan. 4, 1893, Arthur D. Meagher, son of John Meagher, son, Kingston, Ont., aged 24 years.

PERRAULT—In this city, January 3rd, Eloise Perrault, aged 33 years and 6 months, beloved wife of Jos. Perrault.

MURRAY—At Maguy, P.Q., on the 6th Jan., 1893, in the 63rd year of his age, John Murray, second son of the late William Murray, of Montreal. Funeral on Tuesday, the 10th inst., at 2 p.m., from No. 33, Lake street, to Mount Royal cemetery. Kindly omit flowers.

STEPHEN—At Longueuil, on Jan. 7, Helen, widow of the late Francis Stephen, and daughter of the late Captain Alexander Davidson, Funeral private.

SCANLAN—At Cote St. Paul, on Sunday, January 8th, Rosa Dunn, beloved wife of T. J. Scanlan.

Funeral from her father's residence, 61 Frothingham avenue, Cote St. Paul, on Wednesday 10th inst., at 3:30 a.m., to the R.C. Church thence to Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

PIANOS & ORGANS

Nordheimer's

Special Prices

FOR TWO WEEKS ONLY.

It will pay you to visit our Mammoth Warerooms and ascertain the prices we are asking for fine pianos and organs.

This reduction positively for two weeks only.

NORDHEIMER,

213 ST. JAMES ST.

THE CELEBRATED

COOK'S FRIEND

BAKING POWDER.

Is the most reliable and best in the market. Gives universal satisfaction.

Ask your grocer for it and take no substitute. M'LAREN'S COOK'S FRIEND, the only genuine.

The Ladies' Helper—French Pills

For all diseases peculiar to Female Irregularities, removing all obstructions from whatever cause. Sent by mail on receipt of $3 per box. Address J. E. HAZELTON, 427 Yonge Street, Toronto.

USE FONTAINE'S

FACE CREAM

For Sale at all Drug Stores. B. E. McGALE, General Agent.

CARSLEY'S COLUMN.

Thousands Saved.

Thousands of dollars are being saved in Dry Goods by the Montreal public during our Annual Cheap Sale.

Both ladies and gentlemen are realizing the above fact and buying largely now the sale is on.

Sale begins every morning at 9 o'clock.

S. CARSLEY.

Reefer Coats

Boys' Nap Cloth Reefer Coats from $1.53

Boys' Heavy Wool Nap Cloth Reefers from 4.42

Youths' Nap Cloth Reefers from 2.54

Youths' Heavy All-Wool Nap Cloth Reefers from 7.35

Beaver Cloth Reefers all reduced.

Boys' Clothing

Boys' Navy Serge Suits from .81

Boys' Heavy Tweed Suits from 1.30

Boys' Tweed Kilt Suits from 2.18

Boys' Old Knickerbockers from .62

Boys' Cape Overcoats from 2.00

Youths' Clothing

Youths' Navy Serge Suits (long pants) 3.66

Youths' Tweed Suits (long pants) from 4.33

Youths' Black Suits (long pants) from 9.35

Youths' Long Tweed Pants from 1.67

Youths' Cape Overcoats from 5.85

Men's Underwear

Winter Undershirts and Drawers . 23c ea.

Men's Fibreine Vests from . 18c ea.

Men's White Shirts from . 48c

Men's Gray Flannel Shirts from . $1.00

Men's Winter Socks from . 7c pr.

Trimmed Felt Hats

Girls' Trimmed Felt Sailors from . 25c ea.

Misses' Trimmed Felt Hats from . 50c ea.

Children's Trimmed Felt Hats from 50c ea.

Ladies' Felt Walking Hats from . 50c ea.

Ladies' Trimmed Felt Sailors from . 50c ea.

Untrimmed Felt Hats

Hundreds of Felt Hats reduced to 25c ea.

Hundreds of Children's Felt Hats at 25c

Hundreds of Ladies' Felt Hats at 50c

Bonnets of Ladies' Felt Hats at 10c

Hundreds of Velvet Mixed Hats at 10c

Every Felt Hat in Stock reduced in price.

Flowers

Pampas Grass from . 9c each

Pot Plants from . 7c each

Fancy Flower Pots reduced to . 41c each

Flowers for Decorations from . 22c dozen

All Evening Flowers reduced.

Feathers

Hundreds of Fancy Feathers reduced to 25c each

Hundreds of Birds reduced to 25c each

Hundreds of Ostrys reduced in price.

Hundreds of Ostrich Plumes . Reduced

Hundreds of Pompons for evening wear reduced.

Children's Headwear

Children's Velvet Hoods and Caps from 45c

Children's Plush Hoods and Caps from 68c

Children's White Wool Hoods from . 41c

Children's Wool Caps, all colors, from 45c

Girls' Wool Caps and Hoods from . 50c

Model Millinery

$20.00 Trimmed Bonnets and Hats for $10.00

10.00 Trimmed Bonnets and Hats for 5.00

5.00 Trimmed Bonnets and Hats for 2.50

4.00 Trimmed Bonnets and Hats for 2.00

MOURNING MILLINERY all reduced.

Fur Caps

Natural Opossum Caps from . $1.65

Children's Rabbit Hoods from . .97

Gray Persian Lamb Caps from . 2.10

Neutria Caps from . 2.10

Half Lamb Caps from . 2.10

Millinery Trimmings

Millinery Ornaments all reduced.

Millinery Trimmings all reduced.

Millinery Ribbons all reduced.

A Lot of Millinery Gauzes at 10c yd.

Ribbons

All Silk Ribbons, Art Shades, from 34c yd.

Wide All Silk Ribbons from . 8c yd.

Extra Wide All Silk Ribbons . 13c yd.

Colored Sash Ribbons from . 10c yd.

Silk Brocade Sash Ribbons from . 25c yd.

Caps and Aprons

Housemaids' Caps, 2 for . 25c

Housemaids' Caps, 4 for . 25c

Nurses' Aprons, large size from . 23c ea.

Nurses' Washing Caps from . 18c ea.

Holland Cooking Aprons from . 38c ea.

Ladies' Kid Gloves

4-Button Kid Gloves, embroidered backs . 35c pr.

4-Button Kid Gloves, plain backs, from . 50c pr.

4-Button Kid Gloves, plain backs, from . 70c pr.

7-Hook Lacing Kid Gloves from . 85c pr.

4-Button Kid Gloves, plain backs, from . $1 pr.

ABOUT RIGBY

To offer RIGBY MANTLES and RIGBY OVERCOATS at Reduced prices seems a pity, and at regular rates they are by far the cheapest

During 1893 The Herald will be conducted on the broad lines which have made it a popular and influential newspaper. Only in one respect will it differ from The Herald of 1892. It will be better. The Herald is now admitted by all to be one of the best newspapers in Canada; but still further improvements in it are contemplated.

The Herald is first and foremost a newspaper. In its columns the stories of the town are crisply told; the news is carefully sifted, and only the best of it is published.

The Herald's commercial news is the best in the city. Our reports of the Montreal markets are reinforced by special telegrams from Chicago and New York, giving the news of the "street" in those cities.

Careful attention is paid to sporting events, which are fully chronicled.

The Herald receives the full reports, for both day and night, of the Associated Press. These cover the universe. Nothing of importance can transpire in the most distant lands without a record of it being found in The Herald of the following morning. In addition we have special correspondents in all the principal Canadian cities.

The Herald makes a specialty of parliamentary reporting. The Dominion Parliament opens within a month; the Quebec Legislature will begin about the same time. Parliamentary news of necessity appears first in the morning newspapers. The Herald will be represented at Quebec and Ottawa by well-qualified and experienced journalists, whose reports will be entertaining and instructive.

Editorially, The Herald will discuss independently and fearlessly all the questions of the day.

The Herald's illustrations are the finest published in any Canadian newspaper. They are prepared by a special staff of artists.

A feature of The Herald which is widely popular with its readers is our Woman's Department. The third page of each issue is given up to the discussion of matters particularly interesting to women.

PRESS COMMENTS ON THE HERALD.
Within the last eight months universal testimony has been paid to the excellence of The Herald. Here are some of these comments:

Quebec Telegraph: As a commercial paper it is undoubtedly far ahead of all other Montreal dailies. Altogether it may be considered one of the most prominent, enterprising and promising of Canadian newspapers.

Halifax Chronicle: It gives evidence in its editorials, local and telegraphic news of being conducted with ability and discrimination.

St. John's News: All the departments of the paper are vigorously conducted. The Herald is now a wide-awake aggressive Liberal sheet.

Bowmanville Statesman: It is especially valuable for its excellent market reports, and shipping and commercial news.

Canadian Manufacturer: It is a credit to Canadian journalism.

Hamilton Herald: The Montreal Herald must be a surprise to the people of that city. It is so long since Montreal has had a newspaper that is worthy of the name that it should be tickled to death over the bright and well-edited Herald.

Hamilton Times: The Montreal Herald is showing an enterprise that will give it a good lead in Quebec newspaperdom, if its contemporaries do not get up and get, as it is doing.

Charlottetown Patriot: The Herald is now a first-class paper.

Missisquoi Enterprise: The Herald is attaining its old-time popularity.

London Advertiser: Its new management is hustling it to the front rank of morning newspapers.

The Toronto Globe: The paper has a clean, bright and newsy appearance.

Richmond Times: It is a credit to Montreal and to the whole Dominion.

Winnipeg Free Press: Is in every respect well worthy of being a morning paper published in the commercial metropolis of Canada.

Glengarry News: It is now the nearest printed, and most ably edited of the Montreal dailies.

Le Monde: Before ridiculing the French-Canadians, who defend the interests of the race, The Gazette would do better to watch the progress of The Herald, the activity and the growing success of which is already throwing into forgetfulness and insignificance the sheet of the Messrs. White.

Winnipeg Daily Tribune: The Montreal Herald, since its reorganization under new management, is making wonderful strides, and is to-day one of the handsomest made up newspapers in the Dominion. In addition to this it is always enterprising.

ADVANTAGES OF A MORNING NEWSPAPER.

Three-fourths of the important news of the world is first recorded in the morning newspapers. Meetings are held at night. Parliaments, the world over, sit at night. Four-fifths of the cable news is flashed across the Atlantic at night. Every business man should go to his office in the morning fully posted on the occurrences of the previous day.

THE HERALD'S POPULARITY.

The Herald is steadily growing in popularity. Here is the proof:

The bona fide circulation of The Herald has more than doubled during the last eight months.

The circulation of The Weekly Herald, which is as good a newspaper in its line as the daily, has trebled during the last six months.

Every day sees the number of Herald subscribers increase. Why not join the procession?

MONTREAL HERALD CO.,
4 & 6 Beaver Hall Hill.

The Montreal Herald

FOUNDED 1838

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Single Copy - - - - - 2 cents

DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

One Year - - - - - $6.00

Six Months - - - - - 3.00

Three Months - - - - - 1.50

One Month - - - - - .50

Persons desiring THE HERALD served at their homes can secure it by postal card, request or order through Telephone No. 243. Where delivery is irregular, please make immediate complaint to this office.

THE MONTREAL HERALD CO.,
4 and 6 Beaver Hall Hill.

EDWARD HOLTON, ROBERT MACKAY,
President. Vice-President.

E. G. O'CONNOR,
Sec.-Treasurer.

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 10.

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN.

"There are very few issues that arise on which the units of a large political organization think together," says The Gazette in a discussion of Mr. McCarthy's independence. There have arisen, however, fewer issues on which many units of the Conservative party, as represented in the Dominion Parliament, have thought apart. It is impossible to conceive the notion of some of those units thinking at all, either apart or together. The Gazette would not be so rash as to accuse Dr. Sproule, of Grey, for instance, of having ever done any thinking of his own, or of having expressed any opinion or cast any vote to which he had not been inspired by his leaders. Nor is it likely that Bullock Ives, the new president of the council, whatever the duties of that office may be, could ever have been so basely recreant to the obligations of his partisanship. "Party action," The Gazette continues, "is very often the result of compromise. The extremists on either side sink something and acquiesce in the wisdom of the moderate majority. Opposition critics call this bowing before the party lash. The great reforms that have put England in the front of the free nations of the world, from the granting of religious toleration onward, have been the result of just such bowing. There is, therefore, the best of precedents for a course that alone makes stable constitutional government a possibility." An utter inability to observe any sign of individual opinion or independence in the attitude of Government supporters has forced Opposition critics to describe as "bowing before the party lash" the ready acquiescence of the party caucus in the opinions of the ministers. Had the party ever given evidence of any desire to permit the expression of the individual opinions of its members, the aptness of The Gazette's reference to the "course that alone makes stable constitutional Government a possibility," might be admitted; but The Gazette reads Mr. McCarthy out of the party quite as decisively as The Empire has done. Its excommunication is not so brutal in terms. It is couched, indeed, in that delicacy which is not infrequently a characteristic of our contemporary's editorial column. But it is none the less final, as is clearly shown by the remarks on Sir John Thompson's promises to remove certain imperfections of the National Policy. "There is nothing," says The Gazette, "in the situation of Canada, considered either by itself or in comparison with what is known of the condition of other countries, to justify the sacrifice of the protective idea in our tariff. The action of the majority will be found to agree with this principle, whatever line dissidents may take and whoever they may be." There's the rub. Mr. McCarthy has differed from his leaders before. He has stirred up strife against it in matters of race and religion. He has condemned the gerrymander and repudiated John Haggart. All this might have been forgiven, but when he dares to lay hands on the principle of protection, he is striking at the root of the Conservative party's power. That party is inseparably bound to the manufacturers to whose assistance it owes its maintenance in office. It is willing to make in the tariff such reductions as will tend to allay the animosity of its victims. But it will not abandon the principle which makes the manufacturers at once its beneficiaries and its masters. Mr. McCarthy has proposed a reduction of the duties on British goods, a proposition of which the merits need not be discussed. But the reduction and ultimately the removal of such duties would bring Canadian manufacturers into competition with those whom they think they have most reason to dread, and at any rate against whom they have insisted on the highest protection. Any other crime against the party might have been forgiven in Mr. McCarthy. But this is the unpardonable sin.

Protection in England.

The causes of the distress which has prompted British farmers to declare for protection just as their brothers in the United States have discarded it are thus clearly stated by the Brooklyn Daily Eagle:

The American agriculturist, who has had protection for the last thirty years, thinks he has had enough of it. The English agriculturist, who has had free trade for the last fifty years, is dissatisfied and thinks that what he wants is protection. The first has discovered that governmental interference with the laws of trade is ineffectual to benefit the farming class. The second believes that governmental interference with the laws of trade will help the farming class, because he has had no experience to teach him better.

In England the condition of the farmer is affected by laws and customs touching the relations of landlord and tenant which the American farmer is happily exempt from. His industry is on a smaller scale and the opportunities offered in the United States for the accumulation of land and the development of a spirit of enterprise are wholly lacking. He is "cribbled, cabined and confined," and the pressure of his disadvantages keeps him in a chronic state of disadvantage and discontent. In the recent appeals he has made for a redress of his grievances he plainly shows that he is ripe for any change, but destitute of a clear and intelligent idea of what the change should be. The one specific which he urges is the very one of all others which he is least likely to obtain. Great Britain will never witness a repetition of the agitation which followed the condition of the English farmer. The doctrine of free trade, there will be no revival of the same. The demand for protection has already provoked from Lord Selborne the reply that farm laborers have not materially suffered from the existing depression. England would close her eyes to the wrongs of the agriculturist sooner than consent to a tariff on grain and breadstuffs. He must learn to bear the ills he has, rather than fly to others that he knows not of.

In view of the possibility of an American epidemic of cholera next summer, the Atlantic steamship companies are taking extraordinary precautions for the restriction of emigration from Europe. The entire American press is clamoring for a Federal quarantine. The right of quarantine is at present enjoyed by the several States, and as was remarked the other day there is at present before Congress a bill for the establishment of a federal quarantine, which, in rough terms, shall have precedence over such provisions as the several States may have made. In Canada quarantine is already the exclusive function of the Federal Government, but quarantine alone is not a sufficient barrier against epidemic. The Provincial Boards of Health should be reinforced during the coming session of the Dominion Parliament by a Dominion Board of Health which should have jurisdiction in all matters not already controlled by the Provincial Boards.

THE RED PARLOR will have no tariff reform if it can prevent it. Its organ, The Canadian Manufacturer, in its current issue demands of Mr. Cockburn, member of Parliament for Centre Toronto, an explanation of his recent speech at the National Club in that city. It tells him that he was pledged before his election to the support of the National Policy and that the influence of the manufacturers secured his election, and expresses the hope that "under the premiership of Sir John Thompson, less political shuffling will be done and more attention paid to the requirements of the country." The Canadian Manufacturer implies, of course, that the "country" is the guild of manufacturers and that "political shuffling" is any action on the part of Government supporters that will tend to such a readjustment of the burdens of the people as will lay them equally upon all shoulders.

It might pay Sir Adolphe Caron to let well enough alone, withhold a protest in L'Islet, and allow Mr. Tarte to take his seat in the House. That tooth of corruption must be had out in the end. It will hurt Sir Adolphe, of course; but he should be a brave knight and have it over as soon as possible.

JOURNALISTIC display of anxiety as to the nature of the religious opinions of the dying James G. Blaine is one of those indecencies of which the American press is too frequently guilty.

UNEMPLOYED AT HALIFAX.

They Apply to Mayor Keefe for Work to Keep Them From Starving.

Halifax, Jan. 9.—The steamer Weehawken, which put in here several weeks ago with her machinery disabled, sailed for New York to-day, having repaired.

Before Judge Ritchie this morning, counsel applied for an injunction at the suit of ann and others against the International Trust Company of Boston, to prevent the sale under mortgage, which was to have taken place to-day, of the Yarmouth Gas Light property. His Lordship granted the summons for an injunction returnable on the 17th, and an order restraining the sale.

The Nova Scotia Legislature is expected to meet on the 19th inst.

The Halifax Sugar Refinery has declared a half-yearly dividend of 6 per cent.

A petition was presented to Mayor Keefe to-day signed by over 100 unemployed, setting forth: "We, the undersigned, unemployed citizens and residents of this city, beg leave most respectfully to call your immediate attention to the fact of the depressed state of the laboring classes within your precincts who find it impossible to obtain sustenance for ourselves and families. We would earnestly solicit Your Worship's kindly interposition in our behalf and would feel grateful to Your Worship, if you would be pleased to suggest any expedient by which we may be enabled to ameliorate our condition, and we can assure Your Worship that due necessity prompts us to tax Your Worship's Christian spirit in our behalf."

His Worship the Mayor stated he would do all he possibly could toward providing work for the unemployed. He believed in providing work for all people and keeping them at home, so far as could be done.

The Prodigal Son.

The half-frozen man, who was picked up on St. James street by the police last week, and who was remanded for eight days, for identification, and to have the state of his mind ascertained, was located yesterday afternoon, when his father, named Chaput, from St. Hyacinthe, walked into the Central Police station, and said that he read in The Herald of a young man, named Chaput, being taken in charge by the police, who could give no satisfactory account of himself. He was taken down to the goal and at once identified the prisoner as his son, who was a hard drinker, and, when under the influence, "lost his memory." The son, who had somewhat recovered from his experience, also recognized his father, and, under the circumstances, he will be taken home by his parent this morning.

Mr. E. A. Dyer, M.P. for Brome, was in town yesterday.

MUSLINS AND EMBROIDERIES TO THE TRADE.

We have just opened Swiss and Cambrie Embroideries in all widths, Victoria Lawns, Nain-silk Muslins, Checked Apron Muslins, Plain Apron Muslins, Fancy Stripe and Check Muslins.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

FILLING LETTER ORDERS A SPECIALTY.

John Macdonald & Co.

Wellington and Front Streets E.,

TORONTO

ROAD DEPARTMENT.

TENDERS FOR

Bridges on Seigneurs Street

Over the Tall Races at Ogilvie's and Shearer's Mills.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Road Committee of the City of Montreal, and deposited in the office of the City Clerk, will be received up to noon on WEDNESDAY, the 18th January, 1893.

For the excavation, masonry and steel superstructure for two bridges on Seigneurs street, over the tall races, one at Ogilvie's mill and one at Shearer's mill.

Specifications and forms of tender with view of plans can be obtained at the office of the City Surveyor, in the City Hall.

No tender will be entertained unless submitted on the said form.

The city do not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any tender.

NOTE.—No tenders will be considered for the steel superstructure, unless strain sheets giving sizes, accompany the same, and which must comply with the terms of the specifications.

PERCIVAL W. ST. GEORGE,
City Surveyor.

CITY SURVEYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY HALL,
Montreal, 9th Jan. 1893.

ROAD DEPARTMENT.

TENDERS FOR

SUBWAY: BERRI STREET,

UNDER NOTRE DAME STREET.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Road Committee of the City of Montreal, and deposited in the office of the City Clerk, will be received up to noon on WEDNESDAY, the 18th January, 1893.

For the excavation and masonry for a subway under Notre Dame street on Berri street, East Ward.

Specifications and forms of tender with view of plans can be obtained at the office of the City Surveyor, in the City Hall.

No tender will be entertained unless submitted on the said form.

The city do not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

PERCIVAL W. ST. GEORGE,
City Surveyor.

CITY SURVEYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY HALL,
Montreal, Jan. 9th, 1893.

Can You Tell?

A PIANO?

When You See It.

The first impulse is to answer YES. But when you think of the contrivances that have the outward semblance of a Piano, and yet by no stretch of imagination can be classed as musical instruments, you hesitate. For it is a fact that the most worthless boxes are finished in attractive style, and furthermore (as so many find to their cost) many inferior instruments sound quite well when new. In buying a piano, with you run no risks. You are dealing with a house that has furnished pianos to the parents of the present generation, and will probably outlive even the most durable piano sold to-day.

In the matter of selection our salesroom presents unequalled field. Here, second-hand pianos at from $50 to $80. There, handsome new uprights from $80 upwards. We show you our grand pianos in all the great makes, which we sell. We cordially invite visits of inspection.

SOLD ONLY BY US.

The Famous WEBER.

The Original DECKER, the VOSE, and New York HALE.

EASY TERMS MAY BE ARRANGED.

N. Y. PIANO CO., 228 St. James Street.

CALLING IN CREDITORS.

Province of Quebec,
District of Montreal,
In the Superior Court for the Province of Quebec.

No. 3.—In the matter of Francois Xavier Bernier, of the City and district of Montreal, grocer, insolvent.

The creditors of said insolvent are hereby ordered to appear before one of the judges of this Court, in the Insolvency office, in the Court House, at Montreal, on the sixteenth day of January instant, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, in order to give their advice touching the appointment of a curator to the property of the said insolvent, and on such other matters as may lawfully be submitted to them.

H. COLLARD,
Deputy Prothonotary.

Montreal, 9th January, 1893.

CALLING IN CREDITORS.

Province of Quebec,
District of Montreal,
In the Superior Court for the Province of Quebec.

No. 1.—In the matter of Pierre Hamelin, manufacturer, of the City and district of Montreal, insolvent.

The creditors of said insolvent are hereby ordered to appear before one of the judges of this Court, in the Insolvency office, in the Court House, at Montreal, on the sixteenth day of January instant, at ten of the clock in the forenoon, in order to give their advice touching the appointment of a curator to the property of the said insolvent, and on such other matters as may lawfully be submitted to them.

H. COLLARD,
Deputy Prothonotary.

Montreal, 9th January, 1893.

A Coffee House Concert.

The second of the Coffee House Concerts, under the direction of Mr. A. G. Ellis, of the I.O.G.T., was held in the rooms of the Northern W. C. T. U., Craig street, on Saturday. District Chief Templar Henry Robertson occupied the chair and gave a very interesting address. Piano solos were given in good style by Miss Robertson, Mrs. Dunn, Miss Ellis and Master J. Ellis; songs by Mr. Hinds, J. Greenwood and A. G. Ellis, and readings by J. W. Roche, E. W. Walshe, A. G. Ellis and J. McCarthy. Messrs. D. H. Howard and J. Morton also delivered addresses.

Ald. Tansey Will Run.

A deputation waited on Ald. Tansey last night asking him to accept the nomination for re-election for St. Gabriel ward. Mr. Tansey after some hesitation accepted and will again be in the field for election.

Her Comment.

Maud—How do you like my new street dress?
Mabel—Street dress? It looks as if you would do the serpentine dance in a high wind!—Truth.

Mr. John Lewis, the well-known druggist, is confined to his house by an attack of rheumatism.

ANNUAL EXPROPRIATIONS.

West, St. Antoine, St. Lawrence, St. Louis, St. James, St. Mary, St. Jean Baptiste, and St. Gabriel Wards.

IN THE

MATTER OF EXPROPRIATION

FOR THE

Widening of certain streets in the West, St.

Antoine, St. Lawrence, St. Louis, St.

James, St. Mary's, St. Jean Baptiste, and St. Gabriel Wards of the City of Montreal.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned Commissioners appointed to expropriate the properties required for the above improvement, intend to levy the assessments for the whole cost of the same on the following properties, namely:

WEST WARD.

For the widening of St. Nicholas street, opposite lot cadastral No. 55, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Nicholas street.

For the widening of St. Peter street, opposite lot cadastral No. 55, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Peter street; all the above cadastral lots are in the West ward.

ST. ANTOINE WARD.

For the widening of Latour street, opposite lot cadastral No. 1021, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Latour street, from Beaver Hall street to St. Monique street.

For the widening of Aqueduct street, opposite lot cadastral No. 1537, sub-divisions 10 and 11, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Aqueduct street, from Dorchester street to the Grand Trunk railway inclusively, the Grand Trunk not to be assessed on a depth exceeding 150 feet on each side of said Aqueduct street.

For the widening of Stanley street, opposite lot cadastral Nos. 1470 and 1463, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Stanley street.

For the widening of Roy lane, opposite lot cadastral No. 831, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Roy lane.

For the widening of St. Catherine street, opposite lots cadastral Nos. 1655 and 1524, sub-divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Catherine street, from St. Lawrence street to the western city limits.

For the widening of Sherbrooke street, opposite lot cadastral No. 1723, St. Antoine ward, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Sherbrooke street, from St. Mary street to Redoubt street.

For the widening of Guy street, opposite lot cadastral No. 1588, sub-divisions 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Guy street, from Sherbrooke street to St. Antoine street; all the above cadastral lots are in the St. Antoine ward.

ST. LAWRENCE WARD.

For the widening of St. Charles Borromeo street, opposite lots cadastral Nos. 105, 106, 107, and sub-divisions 3, 4, 5, 6, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Charles Borromeo street, from Guilbault street to Allen street.

For the widening of St. Charles Borromeo street, opposite lots cadastral Nos. 353, 356, sub-divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Charles Borromeo street, from Craig street to Ontario street.

For the widening of Durocher street, opposite lot cadastral No. 47, sub-division 1, A1 and A2, sub-divisions 41 and 42, 22 and 23, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Durocher street.

For the widening of Mayor street, opposite lot cadastral No. 221, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Mayor street.

For the widening of Dorchester street, opposite lot cadastral No. 494, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Dorchester street, from St. Lawrence street to Mansfield street; all the above cadastral lots are in the St. Lawrence ward.

ST. LOUIS WARD.

For the widening of Sanguinet street, opposite lot cadastral No. 381, sub-divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Sanguinet street, from Sherbrooke street to Craig street.

For the widening of Sanguinet street, opposite lot cadastral No. 903, sub-divisions 250, 251, 252, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Sanguinet street, from Rachel street to St. Louis square.

For the widening of Fortier street, opposite lot cadastral No. 701, all the lots of land having a frontage on said Fortier street.

For the widening of St. Dominique street, opposite lot cadastral No. 972, sub-division 9, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Dominique street, from Pine avenue to Sherbrooke street.

For the widening of St. Dominique street, opposite lot cadastral No. 240 and 247, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Dominique street, from Sherbrooke street to Craig street.

For the widening of St. Dominique street, opposite lot cadastral No. 797, all the lots of land having a frontage on said St. Dominique street, from Ontario street to Pine avenue. All the above cadastral lots are in the St. Louis ward.

SPORTING EVENTS.

St. George's Will Hold an Informal Ladies' Night To-Night.

Opening of the Junior Hockey Season in Ottawa—The Emeralds' First Ladies' Night—The Change in the Baseball Rules—Louis Cyr, Canada's Strong Man—Heaters and Thistles at Curling.

This evening the St. George Snowshoe Club will have an informal ladies' night at their Club House, and this is the signal for an evening's fun that only the initiated can have a conception of. When Mr. Grossmith, the talented English comedian, who appears in Windsor Hall on Wednesday night, heard that the St. George's would again celebrate, he expressed genuine regret that he would be unable to be present. Mr. Grossmith was out at St. George's on Saturday and he is highly delighted with the reception that he got at his inception to Canadian sport, for where could Mr. Grossmith meet a better crowd of true-hearted fellows than at St. George's? And it speaks volumes for Old St. George's that such a talented guest should go into raptures over his reception. To-night will be an informal ladies' night, and the ladies will know that they will be expected to put up with the delicate flavor of rich "Havanas," etc. St. George's boys are going in for a good time to-night, and they will undoubtedly have it.

The M. A. A. A. Granted the Carnival Surplus.

It will be remembered that a balance of some six hundred dollars remained on the Carnival fund of 1892. The Carnival committee appointed Messrs. James Stephenson, superintendent G. T. Ry, Mr. R. D. McGibbon and Mr. Wm. Cassie, trustees for this fund, the money to be expended by the trustees for future winter carnival purposes, or any analogous purpose, as in their judgment should be best.

The Montreal Amateur Athletic association has applied to the trustees for a transfer of the money to their connection with a proposed week of sport, and the trustees have decided to grant the request.

Emerald's First Ladies' Night.

The Emerald snowshoe club held their first ladies' night of the season last night at the club's rendezvous, Lunkin's. There were thirty members who tramped over, and the rest drove. Altogether there were 82 couples present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Dancing was kept up until a late hour, and every one returned to the city after having enjoyed one of the best "ladies' nights" that the Emeralds ever had.

CURLING.

The Thistle Heather Matches.

The first of the series of friendly matches between the Thistle and Heather Curling Clubs took place last night at the Heather Rink. In the first rinks played the Thistles have come out victorious, as last night Cameron's rink obtained 28 points to Hutchinson's 11. G. Brush's rink scored 15 points to A. C. Hutchinson's 12.

THE KENNEL.

Mr. Mercer's Valuable Dog Orloff Dead.

[Special to The Herald.]

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—The handsomest dog in Ottawa and the one most highly prized, died on Saturday of hemorrhages. This was Orloff, Mr. Mercer's beautiful Russian wolfhound, imported by his owner last year. He had been suffering for some days from inflammation, both of the lungs and bowels, but his master cured him of these serious disorders only to lose him when all danger seemed past. He was worth $1000.

YACHTING.

Dunraven May Not Sail His Yacht.

London, Jan. 9.—According to the latest rumor it is not all certain that Lord Dunraven's yacht will race next summer for the America's cup, though he is challenger to such a contest. A syndicate of City yachtmen have given an order to Mr. Fife, Jr., of Fairlie, to build a yacht of similar tonnage to the one being built for Lord Dunraven, and if the former proves the faster vessel she will be sent to New York to compete for the America's cup. Of course, the new yacht will comply in measurements, etc., with the challenge accepted by the New York Yacht Club.

HOCKEY.

A Practice at the Crystal.

The Crystal Hockey Club will meet Quebec on Friday night, at the Crystal rink, in the regular championship series. That the Crystal men may be in the best condition possible on that night, the McGill team gave them a practice game last night. The Crystal showed by their play that they were in good condition, and likely to give Quebec a hard game.

Opening of Junior Series at Ottawa.

[Special to The Herald.]

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—The Junior series opened here to-night with a match between the Ottawa Juniors and Electric, which resulted in a glorious victory for the electricians, who scored 7 games to their opponents 1. The contest was exciting and fast from the very start, and was remarkable for the phenomenal and brilliant work among the forwards on the winning team. The two Murphys particularly distinguished themselves, and Nolan, at point, was one of the best men on the ice. Kavanagh was the only player who showed to advantage on the second Ottawas.

The game opened with a rush on the Electric's flags, which ended in the first game being scored against them by Kavanagh. Ever upwards, however, their little opponents held them down without any trouble, and closed the first half with 2 goals in their favor.

The second half was disastrous to the Ottawas, inasmuch as the Electric scored five more goals, winning the match with a total of seven. Mr. H. Y. Russell, captain of the Ottawas, was referee and Messrs. Young and Grimes the umpires. The teams were as follows:

Electric. Goal.....Rosenthal
Shea.....Point.....Grant
Nolan.....Cover Point.....Birkett
Dunlop.....Goal.....Kavanagh
O'Neil.....Forwards.....Sittler
J. Murphy.....Bradley
D. Murphy.....Cox

SKATING.

The Normanla Club Issues a Challenge.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 9.—The Normanla Skating Club has issued a challenge on behalf of Norseng to skate any one, three races of one, three and five miles from $250 to $2,000 a side. The club is especially anxious to have Joe Donohue accept, and will pay his expenses to have the match skated in Minneapolis.

THE RING.

Maher and Choyensky May Meet.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—President Harrison, of the Pacific Athletic club, made an offer yesterday of $5000 for a finish contest between Joe Choyensky and Peter Maher, the Irish champion, or Jim Daly, Corbett's late sparring partner. "Parson" Davies, Choyensky's manager, stated that he preferred to hear from Maher, or Daly, before accepting, but was willing to match Choyensky against either of the heavy-weights for the largest purse obtainable, and a substantial side wager. In the event of Choyensky failing to get a match with Daly, Davies says he will make a match for his friend against the winner of the Fitzsimmons fight. He states he will make an effort to have Corbett agree to fight Peter Jackson.

To-Day's Entries at Gloucester.

[Special to The Herald.]

Gloucester, N.J., Jan. 6.—The following are the entries for to-morrow's races at Gloucester:

First race—4 furlongs, Selling.
Little Phil.....112 Banner Bearer.....104
Comrade.....108 Pokino.....104
Palm-Killer.....108 McGregor.....104
Ned.....104 Edna.....104
Kilkenny.....104 Annie E.....104
Arphaboe.....104

Second race—3-year-olds, Selling.
J. S. D.....97 Starter Pettingill.....94
Pleasant.....94 Hattie, filly.....92
Pleasant.....94 Shy Ellen.....90

Sixth race, 6 furlongs, Selling.
Trademan.....107 Bob Arthur.....102
Les S.....104 Golden.....98
Brown Charlie.....104 Golden.....98
Llewellyn.....106 Mary D.....94
Gloverdale.....102 Hettie.....94
Grenadier.....102

Fourth race, 1 mile, Selling.
Rafter.....107 Ralph.....90
Verba.....104 Golden.....98
Pete.....104 Golden.....98
Brevier.....102 Boston Tomming.....94
Judge Mitchell.....102 Debonair.....94

Fifth race—1 1/16 miles, Selling.
Telephone.....108 Vendetta.....108
Preacher.....108 Harzburg.....108
Pelham.....108 Gennell.....108
Pocetello.....108

Sixth race—1 mile, Selling.
Jim Gates.....107 Starde.....102
Parus.....104 Woodburn.....102
Onemsky geld.....104
Phlander.....102 Souvenir.....94
A. B. Tax.....102

To-Day's Entries at Guttenburg.

[Special to The Herald.]

New York, Jan. 9.—The following are the entries for to-morrow's races at Guttenburg:

First race, 4 furlongs, Selling.
Lizzie T.....108 Postnatal.....90
Rocket.....107 Ada B.....93
Happy.....105 Narka colt.....93
Suspense filly.....92 Carousal.....90
Harlequin.....98 Florine.....90

Second race, 6 furlongs.
Vile Maria.....112 Auplants.....110
Sir Richard.....99 Gulliver.....112
Julia L.....94 J. McLaughlin.....114

Third race, 4 furlongs, Selling.
Trump.....107 Lady H. Baw.....96
Susie Fuller geld.....107 Decidful.....93
Doc.....107 Cocco.....90
Olea.....102 Levee filly.....90
Lady Washington.....101

Fourth race—1 mile, Selling.
Tom Flynn.....114 Lucy Clark.....99
Kenwood.....112 Hilsent.....94
Otters.....97 Frank L.....97
Early Dawn.....102 Craft.....97
Atlas.....102 Tammany Hall.....94
Big Man.....94 Lady Ballard.....92
Mollie Davis.....90

Fifth race—1 mile, Selling.
Play or Pay.....106 Kirsch.....100
Persistence.....103 Ken March.....98
Blackburn.....104 Polydora.....98
Wallace.....104 Sweet Bread.....94
Ben Yorgge.....102

Sixth race—7 furlongs.
Bullfinch.....117 Max Vexation, gd.....95
Harry Ireland.....102 Panhandle.....95
G. George II.....102 Culpepper.....95
Daleman.....102

BASEBALL.

John Ward May Manage the Giants.

There is a strong probability that Johnny Ward will be with the Giants the coming season, and that as captain-manager. It is well known that Ward is not satisfied with his present position in Brooklyn. Though no open rupture has taken place between President Byrne and the Brooklyn captain, there is said to be a decided coolness between. This was quite evident during the latter part of the season, and Ward has acted on several occasions that he would not play another season in Brooklyn. He has always been a prime favorite with the Gothamites, and the new management are said to be anxious to get him back. It is also said that an effort is being made to secure the return of another big favorite, Roger Connor. With the return of Ward and Connor, and a general strengthening of the club it is thought the Giants will again assume their power as a great drawing card in the Metropolis.

The old chestnut is again on the rounds about Mike Kelly being released by the Bostonians. The signing of Cather Lake by the Triumvers is said to mean the release of one of Boston's old catchers; but a quite safe to predict that when the season opens "The King" will be found at the old stand.

Will the Pitcher Be Placed Back?

Sam Crane, in an interesting article on baseball, speaks as follows of the idea of placing the pitcher back in Sunday's N. Y. Press:

"If the contemplated change of placing the pitcher back ten feet or more is made, Roger Connor would be the great batter he was a few years ago. He is wanted very much, and would do more to regain the lost prestige of the Giants, both in name and fame, than any other man. The Giants never looked the name with Roger off the first base. Batters would have to be a much more suitable name after his departure. The team of 'sawed off' who finished the season under the name of the Giants last season was a parody on the name.

The discussion of the contemplated changes in the rules is a good thing just at this time and will give the magnates who have the matter in charge a chance to gauge the opinion of the whole country. There seems to be a popular and almost universal demand for an increase in batting, and the demand should be granted. How it shall be done is the question, and many good and original ideas may be gained by the magnates from this general discussion. This should enable them to make such changes as will prove most popular and still be for the best interests of the game.

The game needs no radical changes in the playing rules, only such as would tend to the sole object in view—to increase batting. Some writers have advocated the abolition of the rule of the batter being called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away from the game one of its greatest opportunities for brilliant play. What play is prettier than to see a batter called out on a foul fly catch. They give as a reason that the batter is handicapped in that he is not allowed to take first in case the ball is not caught. The abolition of the rule would cause no end of difficulty and would take away

E. W. WILSON & CO.

Stock Brokers,
66 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
W. WILSON, A. A. WATSON
(Members N. Y. Stock Exchange).
J. TRACY, AGENT,
54 St. Francois Xavier Street.
All Stocks and Bonds dealt in N. Y., bought or sold for cash or margin for PRIVATE WIRE to New York and Chicago.

TRADE AND COMMERCE

Appointments To-Day.
Meeting of Harbor Commissioners at 2 p.m.
Meeting of Board of Trade Council at 3 p.m.
Auction sale of real estate at 208 McGill st. at 12 o'clock, noon.
Auction sale of hats, caps, furs, etc., at 10 o'clock at 121 St. Catherine Street.

Dividends Payable.

Bel Telephone Co. 2 per cent, qtrly, Jan. 16.
To shareholders of record Dec. 31.
Can. Col. Cotton Co. 15 per cent, qtrly, Jan. 16.
Books closed Jan. 7th to 15th.
Montreal Telegraph Co. 2 per cent, qtrly, Jan. 16.
To shareholders of record Dec. 31.
Bank of St. Hyacinthe, 3 per cent, qtrly, Feb. 1.
Books closed Jan. 17th to 31st.
Can. Pacific Ry. 2 per cent, yearly, Feb. 17.
Books closed Jan. 21st to Feb. 19th.

FINANCIAL.

STOCKS DULL AND HEAVY.

Gas and Street Railway Furnished the Bulk of the Trading.

Monday, Jan. 9, 1893.

The local stock market opened this week with a dull uninteresting session, in which there was very little news to affect prices one way or the other. Operators, however, were inclined to hold off, and seeing this there was some attempt on the part of the bears to hammer Gas, which were successful to a certain extent, but the close was firmer.

The weakest spot on the market was Pacific, which followed the London market and sold a fraction lower at 88. In London it opened at Saturday's close, 90 1/2, but there was considerable forced selling for Paris account due to the trouble there, sending prices down to 90 1/2 and closing fraction better at 90 3/4. Other railroad stocks in this market were featureless with no trading done.

Duluth earnings for the fourth week of December again show a small increase, being $30,228 against $27,242 for the corresponding week of 1891. The total earnings for 1892 amount to $2,640,639, against $2,160,118 for 1891, showing an increase of $480,521, or about 4 per cent.

In the general list the buying was fairly well scattered, and prices on the whole were fractionally weaker. Cable was selling around 17 1/2, Telegraph 17 1/2, and Gas changed hands between 23 1/2 and 24 1/2, closing at the latter figure. Street Railway was the strongest feature on the list, selling up to 25 1/2, the highest point ever reached, at which figure 355 shares changed hands.

Bank stocks were quiet, transactions taking place in Toronto at 249, and Merchants gained 1/4, closing 164.

Money grows steadily easier, with call loans made at 5 to 5 1/2 per cent.

Sales were as follows:

MORNING BOARD.

200 Pacific..... 88 3/4 Gas..... 23 1/2
75 Cable..... 17 1/2 10 Toronto..... 249
25 St. Railway..... 23 1/2 17 Merchants..... 164
20 Telegraph..... 17 1/2 33
150 Street Railway..... 25 1/2 25 Merch. Cotton 145

AFTERNOON BOARD.

25 Cable..... 17 1/2 5 Gas..... 23 1/2
25 Telegraph..... 17 1/2 1
25 St. Railway..... 23 1/2 1
14 Commerce..... 145 1/2 150
Messrs. Meredith & O'Brien, St. Sacrament street, report closing prices as follows:

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

stock held heavy all day, probably because the surplus was not larger, or because no announcement was made as to how the money was raised.
Sterling to-day was quoted as little demand and more bills, but compared with last year rates are so much higher still, and between this day and Feb. 12 rose steadily until gold again went out on that date, and one of the shipping houses stated to-day that some might go Saturday unless rates eased still further.
The market to-day rose on the strength of manipulation in some industries and the covering induced thereby, but unless very good news comes from Washington soon we do not think prices will hold their present level very long.

Messrs. Lamontagne, Clarke & Co.,
bankers and brokers, 183 St. James street, have received the following quotations by direct wire from New York:

DESCRIPTION.	High.	Low.	Bid.	Ask.	Sales.
Atchafalpa.....	33	33 1/2	34	34 1/2	2375
Am. Col. Oil.....	44	43 1/2	44	44 1/2	245
Do. pref.....	82 1/2	82	82	82 1/2	1055
Am. Sugar.....	102 1/2	102	102	102 1/2	240
Do. pref.....	117 1/2	117	117	117 1/2	400
Am. Tobacco.....	94	93 1/2	94	94 1/2	1110
Do. pref.....	88	87 1/2	88	88 1/2	11610
Can. Pac.....	112 1/2	112	112	112 1/2	353
C. B. & O.....	122 1/2	122	122	122 1/2	200
C. M. & St. P.....	84	83 1/2	84	84 1/2	11890
C. N. & W.....	48 1/2	48	48	48 1/2	150
C. St. P. & M. O.....	56 1/2	56	56	56 1/2	560
Do. pref.....	23 1/2	23	23	23 1/2	800
Ches. & Ohio.....	37 1/2	37	37	37 1/2	1450
Col. Coal.....	30 1/2	30	30	30 1/2	1280
Do. pref.....	123 1/2	123	123	123 1/2	100
Cl. R. & O. N. J.....	89 1/2	89	89	89 1/2	2144
Con. Gas (N. Y.).....	124 1/2	124	124	124 1/2	100
Chicago Gas.....	89 1/2	89	89	89 1/2	2144
Can. Cable.....	150 1/2	150	150	150 1/2	8701
D. L. & W.....	132 1/2	132	132	132 1/2	700
Do. & R. O.....	63 1/2	63	63	63 1/2	2225
Do. pref.....	53 1/2	53	53	53 1/2	51700
Dist. & C. F. Co.....	63 1/2	63	63	63 1/2	12
D. S. & F. Co.....	11 1/2	11	11	11 1/2	4165
D. S. & A. P. Co.....	11 1/2	11	11	11 1/2	2200
G. M. E. Co.....	123 1/2	123	123	123 1/2	120
Hocking Valley.....	72 1/2	72	72	72 1/2	4300
Louis. & Nash.....	72 1/2	72	72	72 1/2	1110
Do. pref.....	24 1/2	24	24	24 1/2	100
L. N. & A. C.....	50 1/2	50	50	50 1/2	100
Mo. Pac.....	50 1/2	50	50	50 1/2	100
Miss. Cent.....	102 1/2	102	102	102 1/2	1400
M. K. & T. pref.....	150 1/2	150	150	150 1/2	1240
Manhattan.....	17 1/2	17	17	17 1/2	100
Do. pref.....	40 1/2	40	40	40 1/2	12850
N. Y. & N. E.....	106 1/2	106	106	106 1/2	100
Do. pref.....	40 1/2	40	40	40 1/2	5200
N. Y. L. E. & W.....	23 1/2	23	23	23 1/2	710
Do. pref.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
N. Y. Cent.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
N. Y. Su. & W.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
Do. pref.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
North Am.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
N. O. & W.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
Do. pref.....	108 1/2	108	108	108 1/2	630
Nat. Cordage.....	133 1/2	133	133	133 1/2	3700
Do. pref.....	112 1/2	112	112	112 1/2	100
Phil. & Reading.....	21 1/2	21	21	21 1/2	500
Phila. Mail.....	21 1/2	21	21	21 1/2	500
C. M. & St. P.....	130 1/2	130	130	130 1/2	1100
Do. pref.....	34 1/2	34	34	34 1/2	400
S. Pac.....	96 1/2	96	96	96 1/2	100
Texas Pacific.....	96 1/2	96	96	96 1/2	100
Do. pref.....	30 1/2	30	30	30 1/2	1210
U. S. & N. M. P.....	30 1/2	30	30	30 1/2	1210
Do. pref.....	30 1/2	30	30	30 1/2	1210
Union Pac.....	20 1/2	20	20	20 1/2	275
Do. pref.....	24 1/2	24	24	24 1/2	1500
Western Union.....	96 1/2	96	96	96 1/2	4571

*Ex-dividend.

LA MONTAGNE, CLARKE & CO.

Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.

BANKERS.

MONTREAL OFFICE—183 St. James Street.

NEW YORK OFFICE—15 Broadway (Mills Building).

RECEIVE DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK. INTEREST
ALLOWED ON BALANCES. EXECUTE ORDERS FOR THE PURCHASE OF STOCKS AND BONDS OR INVEST-MENT OR MARGIN.

227 Connected by private wire with Chicago.
New York and Toronto.

Exchange.

Messrs. W. L. S. Jackson & Co., foreign exchange brokers, report this market as follows:

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short..... 5 1/2

NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1893.

STERLING 60 days sight..... 4 1/2
do demand..... 4 1/2
do cables..... 4 1/2
do commercial..... 4 1/2
do documentary..... 4 1/2
Francs (Paris) long..... 5 1/2
do short

A MORAL REFORM.

Early Closing of Saloons Again Urged on the Council.

An Interesting and Lively Discussion Over the Failure of the Street Railway Company to Carry Out Its Engagements—The Mayor Protests Strongly Against the Usurpation of Civic Power.

The usual monthly meeting of the City Council was called for three o'clock yesterday afternoon, but it was 3.40 before Alderman James, acting mayor, took the chair. The aldermen present were: Messrs. Hurbtise, James, Cresse, Dagenais, Stearns, Beausoleil, P. Dubuc, Savignac, Brunet, Wilson, Kennedy, Villeneuve, Nolan, Germain, Arthur Dubuc, Griffin, Perreault, Hurteau, Clendinning, Gauthier, Lamarche, Grenier, Boisseau, McBride, Farrell, Dufréne, Tansey, Thompson, Rainville, Cunningham, Stevenson and Jeannotte.

A TEMPERANCE DEPUTATION.

A large number of citizens were in attendance, presumably in expectation of the much vexed scavenging and incinerator question being brought up. A large and influential deputation also attended from the Protestant Ministerial Association in connection with the suggested early closing of saloons by-law. Those who thought the incinerator question would be settled, were doomed to disappointment, as that order was not touched, the afternoon being practically wasted by aldermen squabbling between themselves and with the Mayor.

The members of the temperance deputation present were: The Rev. J. H. Dixon, Chairman of the Protestant Ministerial Association; Rev. Dr. Williams, Rev. E. M. Hill, M.A., Rev. A. C. Conrice, B.A., B.D., Rev. T. Hall, Rev. J. McManus, Rev. A. L. Therrien, Rev. John Nichols, and Mr. F. D. Monk, of the Roman Catholic Board of School Commissioners.

The Mayor, on his arrival, took the chair, and it was, on motion, decided to hear the deputation at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Williams said they appeared as a delegation from the Protestant Ministerial Association. They were representative of the Protestantism of the city. Over a year ago a petition, asking for an early closing by-law, had been submitted. They wished to close saloons at 7 o'clock on Saturday evenings. They had, however, realized; while waiting for some action to be taken by the council, that "hope deferred maketh the heart sick." Some steps had certainly been taken, but they wished to ask for the passing of such a by-law as soon as possible. Reference was made to the great temptation placed in the way of the working men. This, with the drink habit, gave rise to considerable distress and poverty. On behalf of destitute women and children, and helpless humanity, they appealed to the council to take steps to alleviate suffering and have the saloons closed. It was definite action they wanted.

Rev. Thomas Hall said that although they came to the council representing the Protestant churches, they had consulted also with the heads of the Roman Catholic churches, who had given them their sympathy. A year ago it was expected that a law would then be put in force. It was, however, put off, objections having been raised with respect to groceries selling liquor. They anticipated, however, having the two businesses separated by Act of Parliament. If there was any place in Montreal where such a law ought to be passed, it was in Montreal. He referred to several instances in his own district, where evil had been wrought by the men engaged in the dual businesses. He made a comparison between Ontario cities and towns, where the early-closing law was in operation, and Montreal. They had come this time to press this question. He wanted this Council to have the glory of doing it, and not leave it for the new Council, if they were going to have one.

Rev. J. H. Dixon referred to the former deputation which had appeared before the Council and made a speech. They came to impress this, and he wished to point out that the Archbishop and the Catholic clergy were in favor of it. He said that about $3,000,000 were spent in Montreal each year in the liquor business. He asked if it were not their business to prevent this money being spent in this way? The work in Montreal was to be passed. They came to ask them for their support in this way.

Ald. Stevenson read the minutes of the committee, to which this matter had previously been referred. The question was in May, 1892, when the matter was sent to a special committee.

Ald. Thompson said the special committee had met on several occasions, Ald. Prefontaine in the chair. He believed that if the question had been put fairly and squarely before the Council, it would have been passed. Alderman James had promised on several occasions to call a meeting, and the members of the committee were ready to meet him at any time.

Ald. McBride said he had a notice on the order sheet, to submit the matter to a popular vote, at the next municipal election, which notice of motion appeared on the orders of the day as follows: "Order No. 85, McBride—To submit to the popular vote, at the next municipal elections, the question of the early closing of saloons."

The Council would try and put this through in time. This was, he thought, the best answer they could give the deputation, as the Council were, he thought, unanimous in wishing to have this put through before the elections.

The deputation then withdrew. Several petitions were presented and referred to the various committees.

THE STREET RAILWAY AGAIN.

A letter from the Montreal Street Railway Company acknowledged receipt of the By-law, No. 210, recently passed by the Council, and said that at a meeting of the Directors it had been submitted to and accepted by them. The president and the secretary of the company had been authorized to sign it.

This caused quite a tempest. Alderman Jeannotte complained that the company had refused to pass school children with scholars' tickets on Sundays. He thought they had just as much right to be carried on Sunday as on other days. Could not the company be compelled to carry them?

Alderman Stevenson asked if there was anything in the by-law to compel the company to make good any damage they did by breaking up the streets, as they had done on St. Catherine street. He referred to the "cyclone sweeper" and asked if they were permitted to use it by the by-law. Only that morning he had seen two or three inches of sand on the tracks and then the sweeper had come along, sending the mixture of sand and snow, right in people's faces, who were driving or walking fast, and into shop windows.

The Mayor vigorously denounced the City Passenger Railway. They were just about doing what they pleased and he had no power to stop it. The company was bound to keep the streets in good order. They had deviated, however, from almost every one of the specifications in the by-law. He would come when the monopolists would learn that the City of Montreal belonged to her people and not to the company. He hoped that many of those present would rise and say something on this subject.

Ald. Clendinning moved that the questions be referred to the Council. The Mayor moved that the questions be referred to the Council.

Ald. McBride urged that the Mayor compel the company to abide by the provisions of the by-law.

The Mayor excitedly repeated that he had no power, Ald. McBride retorting that he had. He remembered a time when the Mayor of Montreal had some power. He should certainly see that the provisions of the by-law were carried out.

Ald. Jeannotte contended that the Mayor had power to see that the provisions of the by-law were carried out. He read the law on the subject, detailing the Mayor's powers and authority. If the by-law was not carried out it was the Mayor's fault.

The Mayor—"Will the council support me if I insist on the by-law being strictly carried out?"

Ald. Tansey—"Has the by-law been signed?"

The Mayor—"No. They have deviated from the contract stipulations in almost everything. I will never sign it."

For the next half hour the council room resembled the traditional beer garden, a heated discussion taking place on whether or not the City Surveyor or the Chief of Police had any power in the matter.

Ald. Kennedy declared that it was all very well talking about them. It was a well-known fact that the law makers were the law breakers. Let them suspend the law makers. The idea of the Mayor declaring that he would not sign the contract was just what the company liked. The by-law was not legal until it was signed, and the longer it was left unsigned the better it was for the company and the worse for the city, as the money they were compelled to pay over remained in their pockets.

Aldermen Rainville, Brunet and McBride spoke on the question, the Mayor replying that the company had changed everything, and reiterating his intention of not signing the contract. From the time the company had illegally taken possession of the streets, he had stood up for the rights of the people, and would continue to do so.

Aldermen Hurteau, Clendinning and others spoke. Alderman Villeneuve sarcastically complimented "The Honorable Mr. McShane," on the courageous and fiery speech he had made. No one had, however, risen to take the part of that poor miserable company, the Street railway. He believed that the council had made a very good bargain, and they deserved great credit for it. (Oh, oh!) If they gave the City Surveyor orders to see that the company did all that was required of them by the by-law, they would find that everything would be all right.

The Mayor still declared in an excited manner that the people and the city had been cheated. It was not the company that proposed the cheap fares, it was Mr. Williams who had offered them.

After some further warm talk, the matter was allowed to drop.

THE MINING CONVENTION.

A letter from the council of the Mining Association who were arranging for the International Mining convention in February was read. It impressed upon the members, the great importance of the event, and asked for an appropriation of $1,000. The request was referred to the Finance committee.

THE CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

Alderman Hurteau moved that the report of the Board of Chairmen, respecting the proposed amendments to the City Charter, be taken up.

Alderman Cresse objected as it was not on the orders of the day.

Finally, after a lengthy discussion, it was decided that the amendments regarding the municipal elections for 1893 be adopted, and also the part referring to the grant of $10,000 in aid of the sufferers by the St. John's fire. It was then left in the hands of the Finance Committee to choose a delegation to see the amendments carried.

EXPROPRIATION SQUARE.

The report on the expropriation of Cedar avenue was sent to "next meeting." Another storm was raised when the question of the expropriation of Notre Dame street, west, came up.

Ald. Clendinning asked what the Road committee had done. It appeared that no action had been taken, Alderman Rainville saying he had read in the papers that the chairman had said he would not take any action until the new commissioners were appointed. This would not be until March. A heated discussion ensued, it being said that nothing could now be done this year. Finally the Mayor said he would call a special meeting for Friday, when the whole matter would be gone into. This was apparently satisfactory to the aldermen, and the council adjourned.

PERSONAL.

Hon. D. A. Ross, of Quebec, is at the Windsor.

Mr. W. E. Paton, of Sherbrooke, is in the city.

Mr. A. Ferguson, Q.C., of Ottawa, is at the Windsor.

Mr. Joseph Gauthier, M.P., is at the Riendeau.

Mr. and Mrs. Ephrem Taillefer are at the Riendeau.

Hon. Peter Mitchell returned from New Brunswick yesterday.

Messrs. Peter Burns and J. Wall, of Boston, are at the Richelieu.

Rev. P. M. O'Leary, of Quebec, is a guest at the Richelieu.

Mr. J. Kendry, mayor of Peterboro, Ont., was in town yesterday.

Hon. G. W. Ross, of Toronto, and Mrs. Ross, are at the Windsor.

Mr. Paul du Chailu, the African explorer, is at the Windsor.

Mr. J. B. Lambkin, C. P. R. travelling agent at Halifax, is at the Hall.

Mr. G. C. Cunningham, engineer of the Street Railway company, has returned from New York.

General Samuel Thomas, of New York, was in town yesterday to attend the meeting of the C.P.R. board.

Mr. Frank Dupre, advance agent of the "Husband and Wife" Company, leaves for Toronto this morning.

J. Read, Port Hope; R. Yule, Ottawa; F. M. Thompson, New York; R. P. Hayes, Chicago, are at the City Hall.

Messrs. J. N. Beaudry, Bedford; F. Turner, Toronto, and Dr. P. Laberge, Beauharnois, are at the St. James Hotel.

Mr. Thomas R. Perry, business manager of the "Eight Bells" Company, which will appear at the Queen's next week, is in town looking after the interests of his company.

Mr. J. F. Moss, of London, Eng., is in town investigating the condition in which Mr. E. Benjamin, who disappeared some weeks since, left the firm's business.

Mr. Van Horne's eldest son returned to the Military College at West Point, N. Y., last night. He left by the Delaware and Hudson train at 5.40 p.m., from the Bonaventure Station.

Amongst the arrivals at the Riendeau hotel are: Messrs. Fred W. Carberry, Duquesne, Ia.; L. Monon, London, England; Wm. Lavoie, Louisville; H. Vetter and F. Bell, Toronto; Dr. N. A. Boissot, Beauharnois; Dr. Valois and daughter, Valois.

At the Waverly House are: S. E. Salls, wife and child, Toronto; M. J. McDonald, Toronto; J. W. Schack, Toronto; J. Curley, Sutton; J. E. Elliott, Carleton Place; W. J. Fowler, Odgensburg; A. Wood, Granby.

Hon. B. B. Smalley, St. Alban's, World's Fair commissioner for Vermont, and Mr. E. C. Smith, president of the Central Vermont Railway, arrived in the city on the private car of the Montreal and Ottawa Railway this morning. They remained in the city for some hours, on business, leaving again at 4 p.m.

Late arrivals at the Balmoral are: C. W. McLeannan, Brockville; F. J. Carroll, Hamilton; N. O. Morey, Richmond, Va.; J. M. Riddell, Belleville; E. B. Wallace, Toronto; S. Jackson, Toronto; J. W. Burton, New York; R. Irvin, Toronto; H. E. Lawson, London.

The Balmoral Hotel, Montreal, has the finest sample rooms for commercial men in Canada.

OME ONE has said that the study of the marriage question is one of the most interesting problems before the people in these fin de siècle days, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of domestic infelicity are always welcome as stage attractions. The subject is an old one; it has been often treated by dramatists, but to cause much enjoyment, when properly handled, and that is, after all, the average man and woman considerable interest as to the domestic infelicities of other people. The average man is always as ready to pity his "hen-pecked" neighbor, as the average woman is to sympathize with the victim of a brutal husband. Therefore, it comes that revelations of