Defence Production Act Headed For Extended Opposition

Ottawa — (CP) — The government has been given an indication it can expect strong and extended opposition from the Progressive Conservatives to its proposal to extend indefinitely the Defence Production Act beyond next year.

Donald Fleming (PC — Toronto Eglinton) set the pattern last night in a Commons speech lasting an hour and 40 minutes, attacking the act's powers as "the model decree of a Caesar's" and demanding a curb on the authority of Defence Production Minister Howe.

Mr. Fleming said that although it is late in the session, "on this issue we are prepared to fight."

He spoke after Mr. Howe said the government will not agree to any limitation of the act's powers.

The debate, which continues today, was a renewal of a long debate last March on introduction of a bill to eliminate the provision—written into the Defence Production Act in 1951—that the act should expire July 31, 1956.

Progressive Conservatives criticize the act's powers of expropriation and of forced contracts.

Mr. Howe said Canadians are entitled to assurance that large sums spent on defence production are carefully handled. He would not recommend limitation of the powers needed to do that.

He said he was responsible to Parliament for his actions and the Commons could order a review of the act at any time.

Powers of expropriation, entry and seizure were no greater than under the Expropriation Act or the Income Tax Act—statutes which were not so important to the country's security as the Defence Production Act.

Referring to the government's promise last March to consider putting another time limit on the act, he said it has been decided that is not necessary because of Parliament's powers of review.

Mr. Fleming said the decision against providing a new expiry date means Prime Minister St. Laurent has "wobbled" in the face of Mr. Howe's demand for continuation of sweeping powers.

"Everyone knows the cabinet has been divided on this," he said.

Mr. Howe replied that Mr. Fleming's statement was "wholly without foundation in fact."

Directorships
Ottawa. — (CP) — A CCF member's proposal that cabinet ministers be prevented by statute from holding directorships in private corporations has been rejected by Finance Minister Harris and Opposition leader Drew.

Mr. Harris told the Commons yesterday that a bill sponsored by Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre), either should be withdrawn or referred to a Commons committee for study.

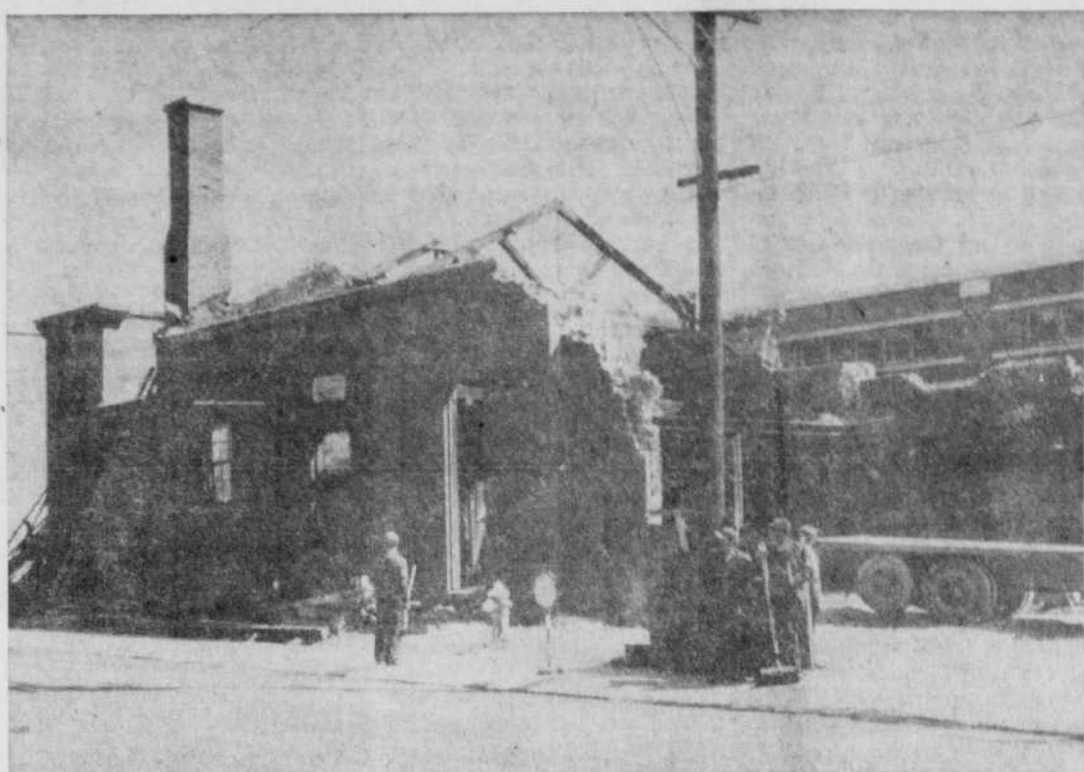

Mr. Drew said the question of whether cabinet ministers should be directors of private companies is, in the last resort, up to the prime minister.

Prime Minister St. Laurent previously had said the question "is a matter for the conscience of ministers." However, Mr. Drew said, it actually is a matter for the conscience of the prime minister.

"It cannot be expected, it would seem, that a minister remove himself entirely from trade and commerce so he could not resume earning a livelihood if he ceased to be a minister," Mr. Harris said.

A tabular return showed three members of the cabinet are directors of private companies—Transport Minister Marler, Revenue Minister McCann, and Mines Minister Prudham.

The End Of A Landmark

The old gas house is going the way of all old institutions. Built way back in 1880, this old brick building on Wellington St. South, near the corner of Aberdeen, is being torn down to make room for Marquis Tire's modern new showhouse. One of the last survivors of the flickering gaslight era in Sherbrooke, the building was occupied for the past few years by a scrap metal and welding firm. The new building has already been constructed behind it, so it will be replaced by nothing more than a cement sidewalk and a good view of the fire shop. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Eden Urged To Accept Plan To End Britain's Rail Strike

London. — (CP) — A national rail strike which has crippled Britain for 11 days appeared rapidly approaching settlement today.

Well-informed sources told Reuters news agency that the government has decided to sanction talks with the strike leaders on ending the stoppage. Until now the government has held out on a policy of back to work first and talk afterwards.

The decision coincided with an announcement by the Trades Union Congress, Britain's overall union federation, that the time was "now opportune" for such talks. Conservative papers joined with the TUC in urging Prime Minister Eden to accept the congress plan.

The plan, approved yesterday by the striking Associated Society of Engineers and Firemen, calls for immediate negotiations without a return to work. Eden said Sunday the government, which operates nationalized railways, would not meet with the men until they went back to their jobs.

There were peace moves, too, in one of the other two big walkouts now plaguing Britain—a strike of 20,000 dock workers tying up some 200 freighters in seven seaports. Leaders of the striking stevedores' union agreed to submit their jurisdictional dispute to a TUC committee.

But no settlement has been sighted in the third dispute, a wildcat walkout of about 800 stewards on transatlantic liners. It has stranded some 3,300 would-be passengers for Canada and the United States in Liverpool and Southampton.

The strikers hoped to spread the stoppage to the 83,000-ton liner Queen Elizabeth today. The stewards are demanding shorter working hours and better working conditions.

The prime minister is urged to approve the TUC rail proposal by both The Daily Mail and The Daily Telegraph, two of his Conservative government's strongest newspaper backers.

Under the plan, preliminary talks on a small temporary wage increase would be started immediately between the union and the commission. If agreement is reached, the strike would be called off and negotiations would begin on a new wage scale for the entire industry.

The 67,000-member ASLEF is demanding a raise to restore its members' traditional wage differentials over less-skilled workers. The differentials were narrowed in an industry-wide pay boost last January.

The peace proposal calls for the National Union of Railwaymen, which represents 400,000 other rail employees, to be consulted only in the second stage of the negotiations.

Spokesmen for the NUR said last night they had neither accepted nor rejected the TUC proposal.

Not Enough Vaccine For U. S. Children

Washington. — (AP) — Surgeon-General Leonard A. Scheele said last night the manufacturers of Salk polio vaccine will not be able to produce enough "to immunize all U. S. children this summer."

Scheele said in a prepared report for television and radio that the policy of the public health service is "safety, not speed, except as the latter is compatible with safety."

A health service spokesman said that when Scheele referred to "all children," he meant all below the age of 19. He said the estimate there wouldn't be enough vaccine for all children did not change the May 31 statement by President Eisenhower that the double inoculation of first and second-graders "certainly" will be completed before the polio season reaches its peak in August.

Planes Aid Hunt For Missing Man

Amos, Que. — (CP) — Two planes have entered the search for a 45-year-old merchant, who failed to return home from a fishing trip Sunday.

Jean-Baptiste Desrosiers is believed lost in dense woods near this northwestern Quebec centre. His panel truck was found near a stream Monday as well as his lunch and some fishing equipment.

The men, one of them wearing a mask, walked into the branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale here shortly after noon yesterday and forced Elise Roy, a cashier to hand over $3,000 from the till. No effort was made to open a nearby safe.

Before speeding away in a late-model car, the bandits ripped telephones from the wall and herded Miss Roy and a customer into the back of the bank.

Miss Roy said the men were in their early 20s and appeared nervous. One brandished a revolver while the others indicated they carried guns in their pockets.

The car, stolen in Quebec last week, was found a few hours later in a ditch several miles north of here. Police said they believe the driver lost control of the automobile.

Police followed a trail from the abandoned car to a stream, where the men rented a rowboat and paddled to a thickly wooded area on the other side.

Provincial police from Quebec were called in to aid in the search while all available highway patrol cars were sent to the scene.

Officers said the men probably had no food and would soon be forced into the open.

Plane Crash Kills 5

Edmonton. — (CP) — Five airline employees—three of them aboard "just for the ride"—were killed Tuesday when a twin engine plane crashed and burned on a rushchoked section of an Indian reservation.

The Associated Airways Ltd. Lockheed 14 unleashed a fuel-fed trail of fire as it tore itself to pieces only half an hour after taking off from Edmonton airport on a close-to-home practice flight.

The crash scene, scorched to blackness over a wide area and with the wreckage scattered in a wild pattern, is 10 miles west of Edmonton on the Wintertown Indian reserve.

The pilot was Phillip Shallo, 33, of San Mateo, Calif., and the co-pilot Elgin Barron, 29, of Edmonton.

The other men were John Paul De Long, 30, Edmonton, an aircraft engineer; Reagh Horne, Charlottetown, a pilot; and R. W. Schneider, 24, Edmonton, a mechanic's helper.

Associated Airways officials said De Long and Schneider had been working on the plane but that they and Horne had "just gone along for the ride" on the practice trip.

It was the fourth crash involving Associated Airways planes in recent weeks and the second in the Edmonton area. The other two crashes were in the Arctic.

Will Consult West For Final Approval Of Visit To Moscow

Bonn. — (CP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany today conditionally accepted Russia's invitation to visit Moscow for talks, an authoritative source said.

Adenauer will tell the Russians that he must first consult the Western allies before finally accepting, this source added.

It was understood that the government announcement would express the hope that the visit could be arranged.

Heinz Krehler, the West German ambassador in the United States, has already sounded out U.S. State Secretary Dulles on the Soviet invitation following Adenauer's instructions, the source said.

Dulles was said to have agreed to the suggestion that the invitation should be accepted in due course.

If British and French agreement to Adenauer's proposal of acceptance is received, the next step will be for the chancellor and the Soviet government to fix a date.

Adenauer's Christian Democratic supporters in the Bundestag lower house of Parliament generally favored acceptance but were divided as to whether the visit should take place before or after the projected four-power "summit" conference. The Western powers are proposing July 18 as the opening date for this meeting.

Some influential supporters recommended a meeting before the four-power conference. This would follow naturally upon Adenauer's coming visits to Washington and London.

Russia issued the invitation Tuesday night just five days before Adenauer leaves Saturday for talks in Washington.

Most observers agreed that it would have been extremely difficult for Adenauer to decline the bid for talks.

The chancellor, staunch exponent of his country's rearmament as an ally of the West, declined last night to comment on the Soviet bid. He was known to be personally reluctant to make such a trip because of his past policy of uncompromising anti-communism.

But pressure from political allies and foes alike at home amounted for the 79-year-old government chief to accept. Political circles here generally acknowledge that it would be difficult for him to refuse.

Eugen Gerstenmaier, president speaker of the parliament's lower house and a member of Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party, came out flatly "in favor of accepting the offer of the Russian government to resume diplomatic relations."

The leader of the opposition Socialist party, Erich Ollenhauer, said Adenauer's reaction to the Soviet invitation would clarify whether "the federal government is really prepared to negotiate with the Soviet government over German unity." The Socialists for a long time have demanded negotiations with the Russians.

Vice-Chancellor Franz Blucher, who leads the minority Free Democratic party in the government coalition, said, "We must most conscientiously study whatever can serve possibly to reduce world tension." But he said the government must act "only in full agreement with the powers of the free world who have made possible the present situation."

It is believed that Adenauer

will take no firm action on the invitation until after his visit next week to the United States, where he will see President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles. He will lunch with Prime Minister Eden in London June 19, on his way home.

The Soviet note was delivered to the West German embassy in Paris and announced first in Moscow.

Bonn officials gave particular study to the note's mention of prospects for German reunification. The note declared:

"The establishment and development of normal relations between the Soviet Union and the German federal republic will facilitate the solution of unsolved questions regarding all of Germany and should thus help in deciding the main general national problem of the German people—the establishment of the unification of a German democratic state."

Informed sources said West German officials found this disappointingly vague.

Today's Chuckle

A man went home from a "Spring Clearance Sale" at a men's store wearing a new hat that made him look like an idiot. When his wife howled about it, in horror, he explained, "The salesman put it on me and when I saw myself in the mirror, I looked too stupid to argue with him."

Britain Looks To Canada For Newsprint Supply

London. — (CP) — Cecil H. King, chairman and managing director of the Daily Mirror Newspaper group, says that if British papers are to return to pre-war rates of newsprint consumption, Canada will have to be the major source of supply.

In his report at the company's 35th annual general meeting May 27, King said Scandinavia at one time supplied the bulk of British-consumed newsprint. Now production in Norway and Sweden was limited by reforestation needs and Finland might not want to become too dependent on the British market.

"If we could ever get back to our pre-war consumption, the additional paper or pulp would have to come mainly from Canada."

Relations with Canadian newsprint manufacturers were of the happiest but as long as Britain's dollar difficulties remained "so long will uncertainty hang over the supply of our vital raw material."

The report said the average daily sale of The Daily Mirror, a morning newspaper climbed to 4,753,415 in the second half of 1954. The increase over the year was 145,000, for the third year running, a larger increase than that of any other British national paper.

King reported favorably on the company's Canadian interests, the Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills in Quebec and the Dryden Paper Company in Ontario, an Anglo-Canadian subsidiary.

In the year to December, 1954, Anglo-Canadian had a consolidated net profit after tax of $4,668,000, marking the second consecutive year in which net profit had increased by more than $1,000,000.

Anglican Synod — When The Most Rev. Philip Carrington, Lord Bishop of Quebec, celebrates his 20th anniversary as Bishop on St. James Day, July 25, he will have with him a remembrance of the 50th Diocesan Biennial Synod of the Anglican Diocese of Quebec being held this week in St. Peter's Church. At the Synod banquet last night, Rev. Canon A. E. E. Legge, of Three Rivers, on behalf of the delegates, presented him with a cheque and travelling case, which the Archbishop is seen accepting. FIRE DEPARTMENT PLANS CHILDREN'S FIELD DAY

A meeting of the Rock Island Fire Department was attended by delegates from Derby Line, Beebe and Stanstead fire departments for the purpose of discussing and making arrangements for the children's annual field day. The event will be held at Baxter Park, Derby Line, September 3, weather permitting.

The four departments will plan a full afternoon program for children from five to 14 years and also a form of entertainment for the little tots.

Another meeting to arrange the program will be held June 21 at 7 p.m. in the Beebe town hall, at which firemen from the four departments will be present.

A suggestion was made by the Derby Line fire chief, Lawrence Moore, that an association be formed on the four departments, to be known as the Border Fire Fighters Association. The idea appealed to everyone and further plans will be discussed by the four groups.

A Pleasant Breeze

To the slightly-interested onlookers, the long-standing feud between Toronto and Montreal over the respective qualities and advantages of the two municipalities has often taken on all the earmarks of an old-time battle between Texas towns for possessions of the county seat, in which no holds were barred when it came to expressing uncomplimentary remarks about the opposition forces.

So the proposal of Mayor Paul Drapeau that the two cities end their traditional rivalry and become lasting friends comes as something resembling a Texas zephyr. In his address before a Toronto civic group, Mayor Drapeau was full of kind words about his further-inland rival and breathed many honeyed phrases of the wonders of these two great cities, even if they had been based on very picayune considerations of envy.

As Mayor Nathan Phillips probably voiced correspondingly kind words in return, we might expect these two zephyrs to blow up into something of importance in the way of co-operation for the advancement of the country and the sinking of mutual difference. That is, unless we remember that a Texas zephyr is a lot of hot air.

C.C.F. Figurines

For some time amazement has been expressed at the manner in which C.C.F. spokesmen have been able to prove almost anything from a single set of figures. But now the explanation appears simple. They are using a new system of arithmetic, which, of course, is not to be understood by the ordinary laymen whose education is limited to the traditional thesis that two and two make four and that one-half of anything is fifty per cent of the total.

But life is not so simple, if we are to take the word of the Saskatchewan News, an official publication of the C.C.F. Government. In its latest issue, this organ blithely declares:

"Only 33 Saskatchewan drivers lost licenses for driving after drinking during March of this year, a decline of over 100 per cent from the 70 recorded for March, 1954, according to highway traffic board statistics."

While giving Saskatchewan drivers credit for the marked improvement in their driving habits, it is difficult to see how drunken driving can decline over 100 per cent, unless, of course, the government somehow or other managed to carry over a few drinking drivers from previous periods.

According to the traditional teaching of arithmetic, a drop of 70 to 33 represented something over 50 per cent. A drop of 100 per cent would mean from 70 to 0. Maybe arithmetic changes with economic theories.

Another Red Rabbit

The facility with which the Reds can pull propaganda rabbits out of the diplomatic hat should put even the most accomplished magicians to shame. But, like the stage magician's tricks, most of the Russian "miracles" of diplomacy can be explained easily.

For instance, the surprise move of Moscow in inviting Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany to a conference in Moscow in the near future is a logical development of the persistent Soviet campaign to keep the Bonn state out of the Western military orbit. The Russians used every means within their power to prevent the formation of NATO, but once this was created, they turned their activities to halting West German acceptance of the military pact. With German rearmament virtually an accomplished fact it is in line with Moscow policy to attempt to break up the alliance if at all possible.

The Russians have one important feature in their favor from a propaganda viewpoint. They are never worried by consistency. The simple fact that they have been breathing dragon fire down the necks of the West Germans for several years does not prevent them from suddenly wanting to become blood brothers with Chancellor Adenauer and his associates. The Soviets have long been adepts at the art of quick coat-changing.

Whether the Russians hope for any direct, immediate results from the proposed talks is debatable. Probably they are just seeking some propaganda advantage. The fact they issued the invitation can always be hailed as an indication the Reds are honestly seeking to improve international relations, which, coupled with the concessions wrung out of them by Marshal Tito, will permit them to paint themselves as the true peace-lovers with the West being composed of war-mongers.

But, whether the invitation was issued for practical or propaganda purposes, it does stress the need for eternal vigilance on the part of the West and accentuates the need for strengthening the common front in face of the continued peace offensive now coming out of Moscow.

Ex-newspaperman

Ontario CCF Chief Sought P. Q. Weekly

TORONTO (CP) — As a boy Donald C. MacDonald's main ambition was to combine newspaper work with politics.

While still in high school he set his sights on a weekly newspaper in Quebec, intending one day to buy it. The deal fell through after the Second World War when prices soared and he "couldn't afford to think of it."

Now he's winding up a campaign to restore the party's Ontario fortunes in the June 9 Ontario election. In the last election, 1951, only two CCF members were returned. This compares with 34 in 1943, eight in 1945 and 21 in 1948.

He became Ontario leader of the party after a succession of jobs — including a five-year hitch in the RCN during the Second World War.

Mr. MacDonald was born in Cranbrook, B.C., in 1913. The family (he is the eldest of eight children) moved to Quebec in 1920 to live on a farm near Ormatown, 35 miles south of Montreal and near the United States border.

At 17, Mr. MacDonald took a one-year teacher-training course at MacDonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue. He taught school five years and on the side obtained a BA degree from Queen's University at Kingston, Ont. In 1936, at 23, he entered residence at Queen's and obtained his MA degree in history and politics. He then went on a lecture tour in England and Scotland and took time out — "on a shoe-string budget" — to visit Europe. He left Germany three weeks before war broke out in 1939. Back in Canada, he worked for a time for the Montreal Gazette and in 1940 enlisted in the RCN. He was commissioned in 1941 and became editor of the Canadian Digest, a magazine for Canadian forces overseas.

Towards the end of the war he was appointed chairman of Servicemen's Forum, an organization that recorded panel discussions by troops in Europe for broadcast in Canada.

After the war Mr. MacDonald was appointed information secretary of the national CCF party. In June 9 election he is seeking election personally in York South, a riding which twice returned E. B. Joliffe, his predecessor as Ontario CCF leader.

The six-foot 205-pounder married the former Simone Bourche of Montreal at Ottawa in 1941. They have three children, two girls and a boy.

awa's departments. Both play important roles in forming public opinion about our business system.

Some weeks ago H. H. Rogge, president of Canadian Westinghouse rapped the knuckles of the public relations profession for falling down on their job of telling the public the real facts surrounding business. Here is a case in point.

Surely any member of the press should know that shares of Imperial Tobacco can be purchased on the open market. Alternatively, and this comes hard to newspaper folk, one should have the good sense to keep his ignorance a secret.

What Other Papers Say

BUSINESS IS NOT YET TELLING ITS STORY
(The Financial Times)

A press table conversation at the C. M. A. convention held last week in Montreal went something like this: "I understand the retiring president is vice-president of Imperial Tobacco. Who owns Imperial Tobacco?" "Well, the company's shareholders own it."

"I see. Can its shares be purchased?" "Oh, no."

The participants in this enlightening conversation were respectively a senior reporter for a metropolitan daily and a press officer for one of Ott-

'Hothouse' Education and A Prince

(Second of Four)
By TOM A. CULLEN

London — (NEA) — The school which His Royal Highness Prince Charles, aged six, attends is one of the world's most exclusive. He is its only pupil.

Five mornings a week the bonnie prince sits at a small, highly-polished desk in Buckingham Palace and wishes he were elsewhere.

His tutor, Miss Katherine Peebles ("Missy," he calls her), no doubt has read him the story of "The Prince and The Pauper." Charles would gladly change places with any of the little boys he sees in St. James Park playing rugby or shinny with an old tin can.

Not paupers, but future citizens of the empire state of which Charles will one day be head are these ruddy-faced little boys.

Is a "hothouse" education the best training for kingship in a welfare state? Should Prince Charles continue his studies with private tutors? Or should he go to school like other boys, learn to "mix it" in the rough-and-tumble of the school playground?

There's no doubt where his father, the Duke of Edinburgh, stands on the question. The duke had all the rough edges knocked off him in a succession of schools in Germany, France and Scotland.

He recalls with a chuckle his first day at The Elms, an American prep school in Paris. When it came his turn to introduce himself to the class, the boy who was sixth from the throne of Greece murmured shyly that he was "Philip."

"Philip what?" the teacher insisted.

"Just Philip," was the reply. Finally, after considerable prodding, he blurted out, "Philip of Greece."

Thereafter, the boy who one day was to be consort to Britain's queen was teased unmercifully by his school-mates. When they weren't calling him "Just Philip," they were mocking him with "Your Magnificent Majesty" or "Serene Royal Highness."

Looking back on it now, the Duke feels that the ragging did him good, took some of the Mickey out of him. He would like to see the same thing happen to his young son, Prince Charles.

If his father has his way, Prince Charles will go to Gordonstoun, a progressive school on the rock-ribbed Moray coast of Scotland. It was here that Philip grew to be a man.

At Gordonstoun, run by an anti-Nazi refugee, Dr. Kurt Hahn, titles don't count. Philip went to sea with humble fishermen, worked with local blacksmiths and farmers, shared bad weather watches with coast guards. He even shovelled manure and built a pigsty.

"Not afraid of dirty, arduous work," was the verdict of Commander Lewty, head of the seamanship training classes.

When Prince Charles reaches the age of 18, his father would like to see him enter the naval college at Dartmouth. There is a strong navy tradition in the British royal family. The late King George VI went to Dartmouth, as did the Duke of Windsor before him.

The Duke of Edinburgh, entered Dartmouth the hard way, through competitive exams, though it would have been easy for him to have pulled strings with his uncle, Admiral Earl Mountbatten.

The education of a future British monarch is not a matter taken lightly. It's a far cry from the day when George III (circa 1760) could give this piece of advice on the raising of his sons: "Bring 'em up English gentlemen and flog 'em if necessary."

Today, the prince's education is a matter in which the British cabinet will have a say.

Meanwhile, from his lonely classroom in Buckingham Palace, Prince Charles looks out onto St. James Park, where the boys are playing rugby. How he wishes he could have a bash at the ball.

Next: He's on the best-dressed list.

POINT COUNT ISN'T THE WHOLE ANSWER

It would be hard to find the correct bid in today's hand by point count alone. South has only 14 points in high cards, yet he must jump to game when North responds with one no-trump.

You might find the right bid if you added 2 points for a singleton, point for a doubleton, and point extra for each trump over four in a solid suit. This would bring the count up to 20 points. An easier method is just to count the tricks. South should expect to win about eight actual tricks, and it is not unreasonable to play dummy for one or two tricks for the response of one no-trump. The total ought to produce a play for game.

There is nothing difficult about the play for the game contract. South must know how to take a simple finesse, and he must not be a miser.

West opens the jack of clubs, dummy plays the queen, and East wins with the ace. East returns the queen of spades, South puts up the king, and West wins with the ace. Bad luck, so far, with both black aces in unfavorable position.

West continues with the ten of spades and then with a third spade. South ruffs the third spade, and it is here that he must avoid playing like a miser. South must ruff with the eight or nine (or any card from the eight up to the queen), but he must not ruff with the lowly five of trumps.

The reason becomes apparent as the play continues. South leads a low diamond to dummy's king, discards a diamond on the king of clubs, and leads the sev-

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East
1 Heart Pass 2 Clubs Pass
2 Hearts Pass 2 Spades Pass

You, South, hold:
Spades K-8-5, Hearts K-Q-J-9-7, Diamonds 7-3, Clubs A-6-2.

What do you do?
A—Bid three clubs. With no stopper in the unbid suit you cannot bid no-trump. You must choose between partner's suits.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:
Spades 7-3, Hearts A-K-J-9-7, Diamonds K-8-5, Clubs A-6-2.

What do you do?

SCAMPING IN THE GRASS with his sister, Princess Anne, looks like fun for Prince Charlie at Windsor Great Park in May, 1955. But a future British monarch doesn't have much time for fun.

Rubber Production Explained To W.I. At North Hatley

NORTH HATLEY — An interesting meeting of the North Hatley branch of the Women's Institutes was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Daintrey, with Mrs. Robert Vaughan presiding. The treasurer, Mrs. McKay, reported that the Rummage Sale had been most successful, and Mrs. Vaughan tendered, thanks to Mrs. Spice, and the members who had worked so hard on the day of the sale. Special mention was made of the original posters painted by Mrs. John McKay. Arrangements were made to send two articles, a painting and a smoked garment, to Macdonald College, for the Handicraft Exhibit, held in connection with the annual Convention, a delegate was appointed to attend the annual County meeting at Beebe. Several conveners were heard from, and their contributions included an article dealing with the products of the monastery at St. Benoit du Lac, reference to an award won by the Federated Institutes of Canada, mention of new ideas advanced by women for improvement in household equipment, and reference to an address recently delivered by Dr. W. P. Percival. There was also a helpful discussion regarding the Salk vaccine inoculations.

Mrs. John McKay gave an interesting and informative talk on a visit to the Acton Rubber Company. She described the different stages through which the crude rubber passes, to become finally a finished rubber, or overshoe. She showed samples of the rubber as its looks when it comes into the factory and also miniature samples of the finished footwear. Everyone enjoyed Mrs. McKay's talk.

Following adjournment, Mrs. Daintrey served tea to the members as well as several visitors.

Small Industry Chief Hope For Local Expansion

In a verbal report on his recent trip to Toronto, Mayor Nadeau said last night he had met several prospects who were eyeing the city of Sherbrooke as a future sight of their industries.

The mayor said he was convinced that Sherbrooke should concentrate on obtaining smaller industry because the chance of a large company establishing itself in Sherbrooke were very small. The attribution of this to the better organization of other cities who had large budgets and specially trained men for the luring industry.

Also in Toronto at the International Trade Fair were G. M. Young, Alderman Leo Cadorette, chairman of the Industrial Commission and Don MacLennan. Mayor Nadeau thanked these men for the time they gave to the city representatives while they were in Toronto.

Earlier yesterday the Mayor said he would call a three-party meeting between the Roman Catholic School Commission, industry and municipal authorities within the next month. The purpose of the meeting will be to talk over the present tax situation whose next chapter will be written in the Quebec Court of Appeals.

Yesterday morning the Mayor announced that the city had acquired another seven passenger Chrysler car which will be used to replace the 1952 model.

SPCA Seeking Assistants For Tag Day

Friday and Saturday of this week have been set aside for S.P.C.A. tag days. Apart from the public donations, this is the sole means of support for the S.P.C.A. and the executive is trying hard to make it a success.

The tags, as usual will consist of small plastic animals. The SPCA has sent out an appeal that anyone interested in tagging should contact Mrs. J. W. Neilson, secretary, 557 Argyle Ave., telephone 9-3228. The tags and boxes will be delivered to the taggers Thursday.

Tag days will also be held in Rock Island and Magog. Mrs. Byron Jenkins is in charge of Rock Island and Ernest Kirby of Magog.

MAGOG—

St. Faith's Guild of St. Luke's Anglican Church met at the home of Mrs. Ronnie Sampson to close another season, the group recessed until fall. The ladies made plans for a baked bean and ham supper to be held in the hall on Saturday from 5 to 7 p. m.

Miss Margorie Whitehead, of South Stukley, was visiting Miss Elsie Whitehead of Magog for a few days.

Paul V. Delaney Heads Richmond Junior Chamber

Richmond. — Paul V. Delaney was elected to replace Georges Henri Poulin as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce with Georges Savoie as first vice-president at the last meeting.

Mr. Delaney will take office for the 1953-1956 term in September. Claude Brouillette was elected second vice-president, Andre Payette, treasurer, Pierre Rochette, secretary, with Gerard Duval, Raymond Lafrance, Gerald Lapre and Ronald Rheume, directors.

Mr. Poulin expressed his thanks to those members who helped him during his term of office and complimented the newly-elected president.

Over 25 members were present. Among items discussed were the paint marathon when the K. of C. members and a few members of the Jaycees painted the K. of C. building in record time. The painting was scheduled for June 1 but was rained out and put on the next night. Over 30 men worked on the building and the job was done in less than three hours. It was originally planned to have 60 men do the job in one hour.

This marathon was held in conjunction with Clean-Up Week and the paint used for the operation was supplied by S. E. Desmarais and Co. The organizers were the Junior Board of Trade and Dr. Jean Smith, K. of C. Grand Knight. About 100 persons watched the painting.

Claude Thornhill Is Proponent Of One-night Stand

Claude Thornhill, who is appearing with his famous dance band at the Sherbrooke Arena Saturday evening, is one band leader who specializes in one-night stands and travelling engagements.

When he finished his stint in the United States Navy, he got married, wangled a 1941 Buick from kind friends, and travelled with his new bride some 13,000 miles through the southern United States, California and Mexico. Some nights they slept out in the desert, but they enjoyed every minute of it.

Perhaps it is this "wanderlust" which partially explains Thornhill's fame as a bandleader and pianist. Although he has been offered many jobs as a house leader by American broadcasting companies, he has turned them down in preference to his cross-country jaunts.

So Sherbrooke fans will be sure of hearing Thornhill at his best when he comes to the Sherbrooke Arena on Saturday. Besides his piano and his unique, classicalized band, Thornhill will bring his own arrangements of popular tunes, and vocalist Patti Ryan.

Boundary Swim Project Arousing Little Interest

ROCK ISLAND — Will the Frontier Red Cross swim project continue to teach children the art of swimming and water safety or because of lack of adult interest and funds will it be allowed to fall through? This was the question brought up at a meeting of the committee executive held at the Del Monty hotel at which only four persons were present.

It is very necessary to have a qualified and interested instructor at the beach at Salem Lake and it is difficult to obtain one, as available funds do not cover the cost. Transportation is provided by Quebec Central bus, each commuter pays 10 cents a round trip, but if the children do not have the money they go just the same. The 10 cents helps defray expenses but does not nearly cover the costs.

Last year $900.10 was paid out for instructor and workers, transportation was approximately $500 and the total costs of operation were $1,617.58 for the eight weeks' course. Each year letters are sent out to parents and friends and last year $1,100 was contributed.

Mrs. Alfred Aldrich is making every effort to obtain an instructor, and two possibilities are being contacted. If successful the project will carry on for this year, and will begin the 27th of June. Other workers will include Jean Irons, Alice Middleton, Charles Keyser and Lee Rollins, with possibly Betty Laberee for the Life Saving tests. Volunteers who are not paid will also give assistance with the younger children.

Stan Holland stated that the project needs more people who are willing to assist with the responsibilities of the work involved.

If the project continues this year it is hoped the public will show more interest than of late. The project started about ten years ago with only a few children attending; each year this has grown, until last year nearly 3,000 lessons were given.

There are hundreds of youngsters at the Border towns who are taught to swim, and have received the American and Canadian Red Cross certificates for their skills. During this time there have been no casualties at the beach, due to the fact that an expert instructor has been present.

The committee feels it must, for the protection of the children, have a person in charge as capable as in the past. This takes money, and adult interest is needed at the meetings and to assist in getting the beach and equipment ready for the course.

This season will tell the story of the continued success of the project. It is up to the public.

A'S SPOIL LADIES NIGHT BY DUMPING INDIANS 6-3

Bob Aylmer Posts Win As Hartness Squad Comes Up With Listless Job; St. Johns Here Saturday Evening

Bob Aylmer of Burlington spoiled "Ladies Night" for the local female supporters last night when he tossed the Sherbrooke Indians 6-3 on a six-hit hurling job. The loss allowed the A's to gain half a game on the locals in the race for fourth spot in the standing.

Manager Hartness sent three hurlers to the mound commencing with Gary Bell, who lasted three and two-third innings. Larry McCaskey took over but he only survived until the seventh when he ran into trouble and the local pivot called upon his latest addition to mound staff, Dick Raymond, who finished the tilt.

Aylmer, who on his last trip to Sherbrooke, held the Indians to five singles, included only six last night which allowed a triple by Al Meyer and a double by Jim Mulby. Aylmer required help from the veteran Mike Munsinger in the eighth when the locals staged a rally for their only runs of the game.

Meyer clouted his triple in the opening frame while Mulby got his two-bagger in the second with Rocky Chambers notching a single in the third. It was all the hits the Indians collected until they came to life in the eighth. Tommy West got hit on the arm and was the only player to reach third in the next three frames.

In the eighth Aylmer ran in to a little wildness and issued three walks and this coupled with three singles shoved home three runs for the Indians. When he walked his third man Manager Pulmo called on his veteran Mike Munsinger who forced pinch-hitter Wendy Hall to hit into a fielder's choice with the bases loaded. It was the only time the locals had a threat going.

Aylmer, until the eighth, had retired four at the plate and gave up only one walk. His mates went to town of the trio of Bell-McCaskey-Raymond and banged out twelve safeties. Bell gave up all four runs for the A's and issued four free passes while retiring two at the plate. McCaskey walked two and whiffed one during his short sojourn.

The third inning was the downfall of the locals as the A's bunched four of their hits coupled with three walks and a circuit blow by Mike Walsh. They posted their other run in the seventh on a walk, one error and a single.

Raymond who just joined the club this week, seemed nervous at the start but he should help the locals once he gets acquainted with the local style of things. The team has a layoff this evening but tomorrow they journey to Quebec to take on the Braves in a two game series before returning home to receive the Canadians of St. Johns Saturday evening.

Senators Trade Busby To Chicago
Washington — (P) — Washington Senators traded outfielder Jim Busby to Chicago White Sox Tuesday for outfielder Johnny Groth, catcher Clint Courtney and pitcher Bob Chakales.

Busby, one of the best fielders in baseball, has been having a poor season at the plate, hitting only .230 so far this year in 191 at bats.

The 28-year-old Busby batted .298 last season and .312 the year before.

Both Groth and Courtney have been having spectacular years. Groth, a veteran outfielder who also is .28, is a .349 hitter. Courtney, 28, is clouting the ball at a .370 clip. With Baltimore last year, the lefthander batted .270.

Chakales, a 27-year-old right-hander, has been used sparingly by the White Sox. Last year, appearing with Cleveland and Baltimore, he had a 5-7 mark and an earned run average of 3.42.

The trade was announced by Calvin Griffith, executive vice-president of the Senators, who said the three new players acquired by Washington will report in time for its game at Kansas City tonight.

TUESDAY'S STARS
PITCHING
George Susce, Red Sox, gave up three hits in 8½ relief innings to beat the Cleveland Indians 9-5.

HITTING
Stan Musial, Cardinals, got 3-for-5, including a two-run double and run-scoring triple to beat Philadelphia 5-4.

BUFFALO WINS DOUBLEHEADER

Syracuse, N. Y. — (P) — Buddy Hicks' bases-loaded single with two out in the 11th inning gave the Buffalo Bisons a 3-1 second-game victory and a sweep in their double header with the Syracuse Chiefs Tuesday night. Bob Schutlz pitched two-hit ball for a 2-0 triumph in the seven-inning twilight game.

Jim Bunning, although he gave up seven hits, struck out 13 in going the route in the nightcap. The loser was Seth Morehead, who had allowed only four hits, and struck out nine until the Bisons bunched three singles and hit batsman for their decisive runs in the 11th.

By the sweep, which ran Syracuse's losing streak to five, the Bisons supplanted the Chiefs in seventh place.

Braves Smear Giants 13-4

New York. — (P) — Milwaukee's suddenly come to live Braves barged into third place in the National League Tuesday night, scoring six runs in the second inning and five in the ninth to wallop the New York Giants 13-4. It was the fifth victory in the last six games for Milwaukee.

The defeat dumped the world champions into fourth, a half game behind the Braves.

Johnny Antonelli, ex-Milwaukee southpaw, didn't make it through the second inning as he picked up his seventh defeat in 12 decisions.

The six-run second wrapped it up for the Braves, who peppered four Giant pitchers for 17 hits.

Five of the hits came in the big second, including a two-run double by Ed Mathews and a two-run homer by Hank Aaron that chased Antonelli.

Summer Fun Club To Operate Again

The Summer Fun Club, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and under the leadership of Rein Broersma, Physical Director, will operate again this year between June 26 and July 23.

The club is only for members of the Y between the ages of nine and fourteen and the actual details of the program will be made known only to those who register. Further details regarding the club will appear in the Record this week and next.

The club is commencing once again and Director Broersma would like to know just how many intend to join. This is in order to draft a schedule for the various events during the period.

Last year the members enjoyed themselves with day-hikes, fishing, camping, softball games and movies held at places like Keybrook, Widgebrook and Firensfarm.

Cards May Be Only Fifth But Musial Is Hitting Again And Things Are Looking Up; Dodgers Win Again

Those St. Louis Cardinals may be only in fifth place, but with Stan Musial starting to hit again, things may be getting better any day now.

Musial's the great who owns assorted National League batting titles and St. Louis restaurants. And when the Man is dishin' out base hits, the Cards eat high off the hog.

Stan has had his usual slow start, but he has perked up when the Cards needed him most. Musial's up to .317 as of today, after a 13-game revival in which he has hit .375.

Tuesday night, the Red Birds were on the verge of slipping into seventh place. And voila: Musial smacked 3-for-5, drove in three runs and scored once in a 5-4 triumph over the Phils.

That eased the Cardinals into a fifth-place tie with Cincinnati after the Redlegs had been blanked by the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers 4-0.

In the American, the New York Yankees remained 4½ games in front while losing to Detroit 4-3 in 12 innings. Chicago White Sox, rained out in their game with Baltimore, slipped into second place .005 percentage points ahead of Cleveland as the Indians lost to Boston 9-5.

The Senators swept a two-night twinbill at Kansas City 3-2 and 7-3 in the only other action.

At Philadelphia, Musial's two-run double in the first chased starter Curt Simmons and his triple in the eighth drove home the winning run off loser Murry Dickson. Harvey Haddix won his third with relief help from Frank Smith after giving up two-run homers to Del Ennis and Jim Greengrass.

Three runs in the ninth—with Bill Wilson's three-base error letting the lead run score—broke up Alex Kellner's shutout and won for the Senators in the opener at Kansas City. Mickey McDermott gave 13 hits and walked six in the nightcap, but hung on for his fifth victory.

Pennsylvania Boxing Probe Is Over And The Big Question Is—Now What?

Philadelphia. — (P) — The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission has wound up its investigation into the Harold Johnson-Julio Mederos fight. And the big question—now what?

The end came late Tuesday after a seven-hour session on the ninth day of an investigation that extended over four weeks.

The strange fight with its quick ending May 6 had serious repercussions. Among other results, Governor George M. Leader suspended all state boxing for 90 days.

Mederos was awarded a technical knockout when Johnson collapsed after the second round. Doctors later said Johnson was "drugged" by a barbiturate. The investigation never did develop who drugged Johnson, or how the drug was administered.

Johnson, the top-ranking lightweight contender, said he didn't know how, or whether, he had been drugged. He stuck to his story that an orange given him by a stranger tasted bitter and probably was the cause of his illness.

Johnson also testified that Louis Saccharoma of Miami, one of Mederos' three managers, was in his dressing room shortly before the fight. Saccharoma, identified by Pennsylvania police as a former narcotics convict, denied Johnson's statement, saying he was at his home the night of the bout.

The Commission charged Johnson, matchmaker Pete Moran and four other persons with participating in a "sham and collusive" contest for failing to report that Johnson was ill before the fight.

Attorneys for the respondents were given until June 21 to file briefs and June 24 was set as the date for oral arguments before the Commission here. This came after counsel asked for dismissal on grounds the charges were not substantiated.

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS

Miami Beach, Fla. — Chuck Speiser, 168, Detroit, knocked out Andy Mayfield, 165, Miami, 8.

Ocean Park, Calif. — Jorge Macias, 140½, Mexico City, outpointed Gilberto Muniz, 139½, San Jose, 10.
