BRITAIN SERVES WARNING ON REICH

Move To Seize Danzig Cause Of World War

Chamberlain Declares that Any Attempt to Change Status of Danzig by Force in Such a Way as to Threaten Polish Independence Inevitably Would Start a General War in Which Great Britain Would Be Involved.

London, May 11.—(C.P. Cable)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today warned that any attempt to change the status of the Free City of Danzig by force in such a way as to "threaten Polish independence" inevitably would start a general war in which Britain would be involved.

At the same time the Prime Minister, addressing a mass meeting of women Conservatives in Albert Hall, reiterated an assurance that the Government had no desire to encircle Germany.

Mr. Chamberlain said "it never has been a part of our policy to be meddlesome busybodies interfering in other peoples' concerns."

Regarding Danzig, the Prime Minister said:

"In many minds the danger spot in Europe today is Danzig where our assurances to Poland are clear and concise. Although we would be glad to see the differences between Poland and Germany amicably settled by discussion, although we think that they could and should be settled, if any attempt were made to change the situation by force in such a way as to threaten Polish independence, why then that would inevitably start a general conflagration in which this country would be involved."

The Prime Minister, dealing with Anglo-German relations, said he still believed the 1935 naval treaty between the two powers could be "regarded as symbolic of a desire by our two peoples never to go to war with one another again." (The treaty recently was renounced by the Reich.)

Britain did not wish unbridled competition with Germany either in armaments or economics. But, Mr. Chamberlain continued, "I want to make it equally plain we are not prepared to stand by and see the independence of one country after another destroyed."

The Prime Minister's reference to 'meddlesome busybodies" presumably was made in answer to oft-voiced charges in the German press and news broadcasts that Britain constituted herself as the governess of Europe.

He assured his audience that "it never entered our thoughts to isolate Germany or stand in the way of natural and legitimate expansion of her trade in central and southern Europe, still less to plan some com-

GREAT BRITAIN AND RUMANIA CONCLUDE NEW TRADE TREATY

London, May 11.—(C)-Cable)—Great Britain and Rumania have signed a trade agreement, Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, announced in the House of Commons today. Britain will advance credits of £5,000,000 (about $23,000,000) to Rumania under terms of the agreement.

Montreal, May 11.—(C)—Mrs. E. Gentillati, forty-five, will make certain the handles are securely fastened next time she goes to open a door. When a handle came loose yesterday she fell down a flight of stairs and suffered a fractured leg and other injuries.

BRITISH LABOR ASKS ALLIANCE WITH SOVIETS

Civil Service Clerical Association Demands Action as Prelude to Conscription of Manpower and Wealth.

Clacton-on-Sea, England, May 11.—(C.P.-Reuters)—A resolution calling for a British alliance with Russia as a prerequisite to conscription and for the conscription of wealth was voted today at the annual conference in the Civil Service Clerical Association.

After stating that the conference is strongly in favor of building a peace front of powers opposed to Fascism the resolution approved conscription of manpower as necessary to "make the policy of collective security effective."

It added:

"At the same time it expressed the conviction that a population which is subject to conscription has a right to demand that there is to be no doubt the policy of the Government is the building up of an effective system of collective security.

"Accordingly the conference calls, as a precedent condition for conscription, for the immediate conclusion of an alliance with Soviet Russia and other countries to complete the formation of a peace front, for guarantees against the use of conscription to worsen industrial conditions, and for immediate passage of legislation providing for the conscription of wealth."

Dense Fog Forces Royal Liner And Convoy To Delay Voyage

Aboard R.M.S. Empress of Australia, May 11.—(C)—Dense fog settled over the Empress of Australia and her convoying cruisers today, forcing the vessels to heave-to 350 miles off Cape Race, most easterly point in Newfoundland.

The Empress, carrying the King and Queen to Canada for a month's tour of the Dominion and the United States, ran into the fog bank at 10 a.m. G.M.T. (6 a.m., E.D.T.) For a time the big liner and its convoy, the cruisers Southampton and Glasgow, proceeded at slow speed but as the fog became denser were forced to stop altogether.

So thick was the mist those aboard the Empress could not see the cruisers a short distance away. The warships' sirens could be heard punctuated by the piercing scream of the Empress' whistle which was blown at frequent intervals.

No fear was held that the arrival of Their Majesties at Quebec would be delayed. The liner's schedule was drawn up to permit two days' leeway in the event of a delay. It is due at Quebec Monday morning.

VETERAN PILOTS AVAILABLE FOR WARSHIPS

Quebec, May 11—(C)—Veteran St. Lawrence rivermen were selected by the pilotage office last night to be available should commanders of the cruisers Southampton and Glasgow, escorting the Royal party to Canada on the Empress of Australia, ask for pilots to guide them up the St. Lawrence from Father Point to Quebec.

British naval men are not supposed to need pilots but are required to have a knowledge of all waters. However, if they require guides, the pilotage office has assigned Albert Lachance and Wilhelm Langlois.

Pilot Auguste Santerre, a St. Lawrence veteran of thirty-five years, has been selected to pilot the Empress of Australia from the Father Point pilot station to Quebec harbor. The liner is scheduled to enter this port Monday morning.

STRICT AIR RULES FOR ROYAL VISIT

Montreal, May 11.—(C) — Strict rules must be followed by airmen during the visit of the King and Queen, according to an official Department of Transport notice appearing on the bulletin board of nearby St. Hubert airport.

Instructions, issued by J. A. Wilson, Controller of Civil Aviation for the Dominion Department of Transport, specify that no airplane may come within three miles of any ship, train, motor car, residence, hotel or other stopping or resting place of the King and Queen while they are in Canada.

The rules provide, however, if flying service is absolutely imperative within three miles of any city in which the Royal visitors may be stopping, planes must fly at a height of 8,000 feet.

NEW EVIDENCE ON SETTLEMENT OF CONTINENT

Discovery of Finely Finished Dart in New Mexico Cave Indicates First Man May Have Arrived 25,000 Years Ago.

Albuquerque, N.M., May 11.—(AP)—Anthropologists found evidence today that a prehistoric "old timer"—predating even the 10,000-year-old Folsom man—may have roamed the Rio Grande Valley of New Mexico when camels and elephans romped the western plains.

Frank Hibben, University of New Mexico anthropologist, gave official credence to such probability today as a result of discovery of a finely finished dart point in a Sandia Mountains cave just east of Albuquerque.

"There can be no doubt of the importance of this find," Dr. Hibben said. "nor of the possibility that we may have to move the date of man's entry into America back once more."

The dart was found some weeks ago by archeological students in a cave sealed by stalagmitic material, which Dr. Hibben said precluded any possibility of deposit since the pleistocene age. Unofficial it was estimated to have been made somewhere between 10,000 and 25,000 years ago.

Russian Co-Operation In Anti-Aggression Treaty Essential, France Claims

French President, in Opening Chamber of Deputies, Declares Three Nations Admit Need of Common Action to Safeguard Interests of Peace—British Compulsory Military Service Legislation Praised.

Paris, May 11.—(C. P. Havas)—France considers it "essentially desirable" that Russia participate in the anti-aggression bloc, Premier Edouard Daladier declared today.

At the outset of the talks now underway among London, Paris and Moscow all three nations admitted the necessity "to safeguard by common action the superior interests of peace," he told Parliament.

Addressing the Senate and Chamber of Deputies in joint session at the first meeting in the new term of President Albert Lebrun, the Premier said French policy is devoted solely to the maintenance of peace.

He added that Anglo-French solidarity was closer than ever and paid tribute to the British Government for its recent decision to enforce obligatory military service.

Earlier President Lebrun declared in an address to the joint session that "none must doubt France's unshakable resolve to back her rights with strength worthy of herself."

Lebrun reiterated France's "ardent and sincere wish for peace," but warned the Parliament that "the future still is uncertain."

Both his message and one to be delivered also by Premier Edouard Daladier were approved unanimously by the Cabinet.

Lebrun emphasized the Government's programme to increase production and work for national defence.

"There is no sacrifice to which she (France) is not ready to consent. She is also working with tenacity forged from confidence in her destiny," he declared.

The Premier said that France could not be intimidated by "either force or ruse" and is determined "in close co-operation with other pacific powers" to oppose all attempts to dominate Europe by force.

He recalled recent pledges by France and Great Britain that they would aid Greece, Poland and Rumania if those nations went to war in defence of their vital interests. He said negotiations with Turkey to bring it into the anti-aggression bloc were continuing.

"We consider it essentially desirable that the Soviet Union participate in this work of common mutual assistance," the Premier declared.

President Albert Lebrun told Parliament that France, strong and united, stands ready to defend its rights and dignity during the difficult period through which the world is passing.

In his inaugural address before the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, the President stressed that the

YUGOSLAVIA REPORTED READY TO SIGN NON-AGGRESSION PACTS

Rome, May 11.—(AP)—Yugoslavia was believed today to be ready to sign a treaty of friendship and non-aggression with Hungary, under Italian auspices.

This was the interpretation informed circles placed on toasts endorsing fuller relations with neighboring friendly states exchanged at a state banquet last night by Prince Paul, Yugoslav Regent, and King Victor Emmanuel.

Russia Finds British Mutual Defence Scheme Unacceptable

Official Moscow Organ Declares that if Great Britain and France Want Russian Collaboration in Any Scheme of Security in Eastern Europe Agreement Must Be Made Reciprocal.

SEEKING TO DELAY DEBATE ON U. S. NEUTRALITY MEASURE

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—Administration leaders manoeuvred today to delay Congressional debate on United States Neutrality legislation until King George and Queen Elizabeth have visited the United States in June.

One Senator expressed the opinion that the discussion would be likely to include criticism by some members of Great Britain's part in recent European developments.

BRITISH RECRUITING SPEEDED

London, May 11.—(AP)—Since the drive for recruits for the Territorial Army started April 1, field forces have increased their strength by 119,507, the War Office announced today. The "Terriers," similar to the Canadian militia, now have a total potential strength of 249,637.

Liverpool May 11.— (C) —Master and members of the crew of the steamship Newfoundland who rescued part of the sealer Ranger's crew March 2, have received Royal Humane Society awards.

Moscow, May 11.—(AP)—The Government newspaper Izvestia declared today that British security proposals were utterly unacceptable in their present form and said Russia insisted on formation of "a united front of mutual assistance" by Great Britain, France, Russia and Poland—or at least by the first three.

The editorial was taken as an indication of the Kremlin's attitude.

Izvestia said that if Britain and France wanted Russian collaboration in any scheme for security in eastern Europe they must declare themselves willing to fight for the Soviet Union and not merely invite the Soviet to help them fight for other countries separating Russia from Germany.

Izvestia continued:

"We are told that by defending Poland and Rumania, Great Britain and France would be defending the western frontier of the U.S.S.R. That is not true. The western frontier of the U.S.S.R. is not confined to Poland and Rumania.

"Not having a pact of mutual assistance with Great Britain and France, nor with Poland, the U.S.S.R. is asked to undertake to assist all these three states without receiving any assistance from them, and moreover in the event of aggression aimed at the U.S.S.R. the latter would have to rely solely upon its own forces.

"In his statement in the House of Commons on May 10 Mr. Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister, spoke of collaboration, of an alliance with the U.S.S.R. But collaboration implies reciprocity as its natural basis. Where there is no reciprocity real collaboration can not be brought about."

Aside from its rejection of the British counter-proposals, Izvestia's editorial struck Moscow diplomatic quarters as remarkable for its relatively moderate tone toward Germany and Italy.

The official newspaper said "it is a lie" to belittle Chancellor Hitler's denunciation of the 1935 British-German Naval Treaty and the Polish-German non-aggression pact. Both were denounced in Hitler's Reichstag speech April 28.

The paper said the same was true of trying to argue that repudiation of these treaties and the announcement of an Italian-German military alliance "have caused no change in the European situation" when they have "substantially altered the situation in Europe.

"Europe now is faced with a single general and military policy, a German-Italian policy whose edge is directed against Great Britain and France.

Izvestia, however, did not say that the door was closed to further British-Russian negotiations. It stated the Russian position thus:

"The U.S.S.R. held and continues to hold that if France and Great Britain really want to create a barrier against aggression in Europe,

BRITAIN SEEKS POSTPONEMENT OF GATHERING

Hopes that Presence of Russian Commissar at Postponed Session of League Council Would Give Chance for Agreement.

London, May 11—(C:P.-Havas)—Negotiations were reported underway today to postpone the League of Nations Council session scheduled to open next Monday in order to give the Russian Foreign Vice-Commissar, Vladimir Potemkin, time to arrange to go to Geneva and preside.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky called at the Foreign Office today and was understood to have discussed this question.

The Government hopes the forthcoming Council session will furnish an opportunity for conclusion of a final agreement for Russia's entry into the Anglo-French anti-aggression front.

London had instructed the British ambassador in Moscow, Sir William Seeds, to ask that either Potemkin or his superior, Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff, attend the League meeting, diplomatic sources said. The Soviet, according to these sources, replied there was not enough time between now and Monday for either to make the necessary preparations. It suggested sending its ambassador at Paris instead.

The British Government then opened a series of telephone communications, the same sources said, with a view to postponing the Council session for a week so that Potemkin could attend and preside.

It was generally believed here that Potemkin would be named Foreign Commissar during the interim, succeeding Maxim Litvinoff and relieving Premier Molotoff of the burden of holding two offices.

If the Geneva meeting is postponed, it was understood, the intervening week will be used to promote diplomatic exchanges of views in the hope that by the time the session takes place conclusion of an agreement with Russia will be a mere formality.

To a Labor suggestion yesterday in the House of Commons that the Foreign Secretary be sent to Moscow, Prime Minister Chamberlain replied he considered it better to wait for the official Soviet reply to

MASS MEETING OF PRINCIPALS IN DEATH RING

Philadelphia Police Adopt Dramatic Means to Determine Master Mind of Insurance Murder Ring.

Philadelphia, May 11.— (AP) —A dramatic "mass meeting" that brought face to face for the first time practically all of twenty-four persons held as members and customers of an insurance-murder ring provided detectives today with information they hope will lead them to the real "master mind."

Acting on the belief that many of the prisoners were ready to accuse each other in a desperate attempt to escape the electric chair, investigators staged the unexpected confrontation for the announced purpose of giving "squealers" a chance to talk.

Police patrol cars which spun on a merry-go-round of outlying police stations brought the prisoners first to two district stations, then to detective headquarters where they were questioned for hours behind closed doors last night. Stenographers were on hand to jot down statements.

The questioning was preceded by the swearing out of warrants for the arrest of nine more persons on murder charges.

FRESH RESPIRATORY DISEASE REVEALED

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—A newly-discovered disease of the respiratory tract was reported today by four New York doctors in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The researchers applied the name "acute intersitial pneumonitis" to the disease and said it produced symptoms of typical pneumonia or encephalitis (inflamation of the brain).

Their report was based on a study of eighty-six cases among the 6,659 students of Cornell University. The infection, they said, did not belong to the conditions of cold and fever, influenza or pneumonia and does not attack large numbers.

Making the reports were Drs. D. F. Smiley, E. C. Showacre and W. F. Lee, of Ithaca, and H. W. Ferris, of New York City.

Individual Contracts Sought In Drive To End Coal Strike

Federal Mediator Believes Enough Operators Outside of Appalachian Area Are in Agreement with Union to Assure Sufficient Production to Avert Crisis—Deadline for National Pact Expires.

New York, May 11.—(AP)—In a last attempt to avert a national coal shortage, United States Government representatives proposed today that individual contracts be signed by soft coal producers who agree with the terms laid down by the United Mine Workers, an affiliate of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

John Steelman, Federal mediator, said he had evidence that enough operators outside the Appalachian area were in agreement with the union to assure sufficient production to avert a crisis.

A deadlock in negotiations for a new contract for the eight-state Appalachian area, basic for the entire industry, has thrown 460,000 miners into idleness since the old contract expired March 31.

A final effort for a blanket Appalachian agreement will be made in a meeting at 4 p.m., E.D.T., today. Unless an agreement is reached, individual contracts also will be sought with Appalachian operators.

The Government's proposal of individual contrasts was presented by Dr. Steelman after expiration of the twenty-four-hour deadline for settlement set Tuesday by President Roosevelt.

The mediator advanced the plan when the deadlocked committee seeking to reach a new agreement for the Appalachian area adjourned at 2:30 a.m., E.D.T., after the U. M. W. had rejected a last-minute compromise offer by the operators. The operators' offer did not provide the "union" shop demanded by the miners.

Dr. Steelman, who said President Roosevelt had kept in touch with the conference by telephone throughout the night, issued a statement declaring:

"After many conferences with both sides, jointly and separately, we are convinced that a formula (for a blanket contract) cannot be found at this time.

"Under the circumstances, it becomes our duty at this hour to make a recommendation for the purpose of opening as many mines as possible so that the consuming public will not be inconvenienced nor industry hampered.

"Therefore, speaking as Government representatives, we are asking that such companies and associations as are in agreement with the United Mine Workers of America sign contracts and begin operations immediately, in order to relieve the grave crisis facing the nation."

He said the Government had evidence "that leads us to believe that there is a large enough proportion of the operators in agreement to relieve the crisis."

John L. Lewis, head of both the C.I.O. and the U.M.W. who earlier had estimated eighty per cent of the individual operators were willing to agree to the union's terms, immediately accepted the Government's proposal, which he said the miners regarded as "a command made in the public interest."

"Today all districts outlying the Appalachian area will be notified

GERMAN WARPLANE CRASHES WITHIN FRENCH BORDERS

Besancon, France, May 11.—(AP)—The French Air Ministry today requested full reports from local authorities on the crash of a German warplane last night forty miles southwest of Besancon and nearly one hundred miles within the French border.

Two fliers, identified as Bavarians from papers they carried, were killed. Two smashed machine-guns were removed from the wreck for examination.

St. Raymond, Que., May 11.—(C)—A section of highway linking this Portneuf County village with nearby Riviere a Pierre was under water today from the swollen Bras du Nord River. Slight damage was reported in the district after the river, swollen by melting snow and rain, overflowed its banks.

Quebec, May 11.—(C)—Mrs. J. E. Dube, seventy-nine-year-old wife of a Quebec City druggist, died yesterday. Besides her husband, she is survived by four sons and two daughters.

Five Lives Snuffed Out In Widely Separated New Brunswick Drownings

Saint John, N.B., May 11.—(C)—Four men and a youth lost their lives yesterday as New Brunswick rivers took their heaviest toll of the season. One of the victims was drowned only a few hours before he was to have been married.

Willard Price, sixteen, and two of the men were drowned when a bridge across a branch of the Miramichi river was swept away, while the other accidents were at Campbellton, in the Wapse river, twenty miles from Plaster Rock in Central New Brunswick.

James Stewart, seventy-one, Tennyson Price, twenty-five, and Willard Price were carried into the swollen Miramichi branch when a tree crashed into the flimsy suspension bridge they were crossing.

Victim of the Wapse river accident was Peter Bouchard, thirty-eight, father of twelve children, who slipped under a log jam. Leo Leblanc, Campbellton taxi driver, plunged over the end of a wharf into the Restigouche river in his automobile.

Stewart and the Prices were drowned while their families watched helplessly from the shore. On their way to make final arrangements for Tennyson Price's wedding, which would have taken place last night, the men disappeared quickly under the fast-moving water. Search for the bodies will start today.

AUSTRALIA SEEKING TO STABILIZE WHEAT

Canberra, Australia, May 11.—(C)—The Federal Government is considering a wheat stabilization scheme that will give Australia growers a guaranteed price of 3s 10d (about 65 cents) a bushel at ports for all wheat.

The scheme, advanced by the Australian Wheatgrowers' Federation, embodies a home consumption price. The Commonwealth Government it is suggested, would finance the scheme through the Commonwealth Bank of Australia, and through growers' contributions. The Government is being asked to legislate for a contribution by growers of fifty per cent of every penny per bushel rise in the price of wheat above 3s 10d.

St. Ephrem, Que., May 11.—(C)—A wild duck bearing a leg-band marked "34-612245, Biological Research, Washington D.C." was captured by J. E. Lemieux, assistant branch bank manager in this Beauce County town. The duck was taken in a pond while resting from its northward flight, and died twelve hours later.

Montreal, May 11.—(C)—Commissioned to paint a series of murals, dealing with the life of Sir William Osler, at the American College of Surgeons building in Chicago, Dean Cornwall, American mural painter, left Montreal yesterday after obtaining material for the work at McGill University where Sir William served for many years.

Cornwall said he expected the murals would be unveiled in 1943 in the presence of leading Canadian and United States medical authorities and descendants of the noted Canadian physician. They will consist of twelve related but separate portrayals, one section dealing with Sir William's clinical lectures.

MILLION RECEIVE WAGE INCREASES

London, May 11.— (AP) —Great Britain's new pace in armaments manufacture brought wage increases today to more than 1,000,000 workers. Engineering trade unions and employer federations agreed to increases equal to fifty cents a week although the unions had sought more.

Ottawa, May 11.—(C)—The Government was considering today the advice of a Western Liberal member not to pay too much attention to Prairie petitions urging a minimum wheat price higher than the seventy cents a bushel which the Government proposes.

"If the Government is going to be forced to direct its policy upon the basis of such petitions as it may received, then I do not know why it should continue trying to carry on," W. G. Weir, Liberal, Macdonad, said last night during debate on the Wheat Board Bill. "After all, other sections of Canada can make representations by way of petitions."

"And they do," added Justice Minister Lapointe.

Mr. Weir endorsed the seventy-cent clause in the widely and hotly-debated bill as a "fair compromise between what was paid last year and what would be a proper price for this year." He did not think any party in power could obtain a higher price from Parliament.

At the same time, he warned "if it is not adequate there are many things in Western Canada which will have to be dealt with in the light of the present provision for the prices of Western Canada wheat."

The Wheat Board Bill came up for second reading after third reading was given without dissent to

E.T. TROUT TO BE SERVED AT ROYAL BANQUET

Sherbrooke Fish and Game Club Will Supply One Hundred Speckled Trout for Royal Banquet in Quebec Monday.

Speckled trout supplied by the Sherbrooke Fish and Game Club and taken from Eastern Townships' waters will be served in Quebec City next Monday night at a banquet to be tendered Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth, it was learned today. Now on the high seas bound for Canadian shores, the ruling couple will arrive at the Ancient Capital on Monday.

B. W. Taylor, provincial biologist and director of fish culture, requested the Fish and Game Club to supply the trout. George Belknap, manager of the fish hatchery at Magog, will take fish from the private pond of R. C. Morse at East Hatley. Others will be caught in the Fish and Game Club's pond at Weedon; H. W. Fuller, president of the club, and A. P. Blue, chairman of the committee in charge of procuring the trout, left for Weedon today to catch the fish. A total of one hundred trout will be sent by the club.

The trout will be shipped in special cars and must be in Quebec by Saturday morning. A total of seven hundred Quebec trout will be served at the Royal banquet.

Milk taken from cows owned by farmers in the Danville district has also been selected for the use of Their Majesties while in Quebec City. The milk is shipped in sealed cans to a Quebec dairy.

Members of the Sherbrooke Fish and Game Club, as well as residents of the Townships in general, are taking much pride in the fact that products of the district have been selected for the King and Queen.

LOCAL TEXTILE WORKERS FLAY LABOR LEADERS

Statement Signed by Over One Hundred Employees of Dominion Textile Plant Demands Frank Co-operation with Authorities.

Taking strong exception to recent declarations made by Albert Cote, president of the Textile Federation, and Alfred Charpentier, president of the Federation of Catholic Workers of Canada, a statement issued by over one hundred employees of the local Dominion Textile Company plant emphasizes the fact that employees would welcome fifty hours of work weekly on the basis of Ordinance No. 8.

Charpentier and Cote had been in favor of taking legal proceedings against the Dominion Textile Company for alleged minor infractions of the Fair Wage Act, Charpentier expressing the opinion that the law should be harnessed in order to give justice to employees and Cote averring that employees should make all necessary sacrifices in spite of the fact they would be subjected to reprisals.

The statement of the local textile workers, however, states that most employees have already suffered sufficiently without having the situation aggravated by the two labor associations, and questions the efficacy of legal proceedings. Referring to the famous syndicate strike, the statement points out that it made the situation worse than ever instead of better.

"Let the confederation stop playing politics at our expense," the statement continues. "It would fulfill its role better by co-operating frankly with the authorities in an effort to improve our condition."

It is pointed out in the statement, also, that the labor heads, Charpentier and Cote, are well aware that the discontent prevalent among textile workers is the result of lack of employment. Ordinance No. 8 has granted a substantial increase in wages with which employees would be satisfied provided they could secure fifty hours work each week. The statement challenged labor leaders to fulfill their responsibilities more faithfully and to cease advancing their own interests at the expense of employees.

Thanks are extended in the statement to Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, Provincial Minister of Public Works and Lands and Forests, for the interest he has shown in the welfare of textile employees and for arrangements he made to provide work on Government projects for textile workers most seriously affected by unemployment.

the Government acreage bonus bill. Debate on the Wheat Board Bill continues today. Earlier the House debated for an hour a Government motion to lengthen the daily sittings in order to hasten completion of the sessional business.

Accordingly, the House of Commons begins morning sittings at 11 a.m., E.DT. today, in addition to its regular afternoon and evening sessions. It will also sit all day Saturday, but not in the evening, and will continue Monday and Tuesday. On Tuesday it likely will adjourn to Friday, May 19th, when the King will give Royal assent in person to legislation completed. The House will then adjourn again until Monday, May 22nd, when sittings will continue until the legislation pending is dealt with.

If the business is finished by next Tuesday the King will prorogue Parliament the following Friday but this is only a remote possibility and there is much work still to be done.

O. E. Ferland, (Liberal, Joliette-L'Assomption-Montcalm), said during the wheat debate there was $80,000,000 for relief of Western farmers and only $11,000,000 for Quebec farmers.

He commended the Government for its policy of aiding agriculture, but wished to point out that Eastern farmers had their problems as well as those in Western Canada. As a member of the House he had received many suggestions from constituents that many problems might be solved by selling Western wheat in Eastern Canada at the prices prevailing in the West.

MAYORS NAMED YESTERDAY FOR TWO DISTRICTS

K. I. Curtis Re-elected at Municipality of Stanstead East—Edward J. McKelvey Replaces Auguste Dubuc at Orford.

K. I. Curtis was yesterday re-elected mayor of the Municipality of Stanstead East and Edward J. McKelvey head of the Council of Orford Township, both being named to office by acclamation.

MARKET QUOTAS NOT NEEDED TO CONTROL WHEAT

Experts Believe that United States Supplies Are Not Heavy Enough to Require Quotas to Keep Surpluses Off Market.

Washington, May 11.—(AP)—United States farm officials expressed the belief today that prospective wheat supplies are not large enough to require imposition of marketing quotas to keep surpluses off the market.

Federal Crop Reporting Board forecast yesterday of a winter wheat crop of 543,928,000 bushels indicated a possible supply of about 1,018,000,000 bushels for the coming marketing season.

The crop control laws requires the Agriculture Department to invoke quotas and submit them to growers for their approval at a referendum when total prospective supplies exceed a normal year's domestic and export needs of thirty-five per cent or more. Such a supply, officials said, would be about 1,025,000,000 bushels.

Russia Finds British Mutual Defence Scheme Unacceptable

a united front of mutual assistance should be created, primarily of the four principal powers in Europe—Great Britain, France, the U.S.S.R., and Poland—or, at least, of three powers—Great Britain, France and the U.S.S.R.—and that these three powers, bound by a pact of mutual assistance on the principles of reciprocity, should guarantee the other states of eastern and central Europe which are threatened by aggression."

Izvestia said the British proposals, concurred in by France, "avoid the subject of a pact of mutual assistance among France, Great Britain and the U.S.S.R. and consider that the Soviet Government should come to the immediate aid of Great Britain and France should they be involved in hostilities consequent to the responsibilities they have assumed in guaranteeing Poland and Rumania.

"Great Britain says nothing about the aid which the U.S.S.R. should naturally receive on the principles of reciprocity. It thus follows that under this arrangement the U.S.S.R. must find itself in a position of inequality although it would assume exactly the same obligations as France and Great Britain."

Individual Contracts Sought In Drive To End Coal Strike

that the United Mine Workers are prepared forthwith to execute contracts and immediately reinstate production," he said.

Thirty per cent of the country's bituminous coal is produced in the sixteen states outlying the eight-state Appalachian region. The C.I.O. chieftain said no individual contracts would be sought with Appalachian operators pending the outcome of the meeting this afternoon.

Lewis appeared more hopeful of such a settlement than at any time since the daily conferences began last March 14. Spokesmen for the operators declined comment.

SEEKS RETURN OF PROPERTY FROM DAUGHTER

Conservatory Attachment for $24,525 Instituted in Local Court by Mrs. David E. Taylor, of Cleveland.

Claiming her property was taken away from her by misrepresentation and fraud, Mrs. David E. Taylor, Cleveland widow, yesterday instituted a conservatory attachment for $24,525 and named her daughter, Mrs. Theophile Lambert, also of Cleveland, as defendant.

In an affidavit fyled yesterday afternoon in the local Superior Court Mrs. Taylor claims that in 1932 she was left by her husband's death with a farm, two horses, four cows, farm implements and furniture and several bonds.

Plaintiff adds that at the time she was in poor health and unable to administer her property and that her daughter, the former Mary Alice Taylor, induced her to enter a deed before a notary which transferred the goods to which she had become heiress to her daughter's care.

Mrs. Taylor also claims that Mrs. Lambert promised to re-transfer the property whenever requested but that later when the plaintiff wished this to be done she made no move in that direction. Furthermore, plaintiff alleges, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert forced her out of her home by maltreatment and made her sign documents authorizing sale of the farm and some of the goods.

The Richmond branches of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and Royal Bank of Canada and the husband of the defendant, Theophile Lambert, are sited as garnishees in the action, while J. H. Cote, Richmond registrar, is named mis-en-cause.

Russian Co-Operation In Anti-Aggression Treaty Essential, France Claims

close ties linking France and Great Britain were important as a factor in France's confidence in the future.

Lebrun emphasized that France desired only to live in peace and carry out its programme of social progress.

"But no one should doubt its unshakable resolution to support its right with all its strength and dignity," he warned. "There is no sacrifice it will not be willing to make and at the same time it will labor with a tenacity born of this confidence in its destiny.

"Each of you know the profound reasons for this confidence. They were recently explained in a speech (by Premier Edouard Daladier) which found a living echo in our country and in the nations which turn their eyes and their attentive thoughts in our direction.

"They reside above all in the feeling of a France strong in its armies of the land, sea and air; strong in its colonial empire which extends to all continents and whose people are attached by their hearts rather than by constraint; strong also by the friendships it has concluded in all parts of the world and of which we found proof only a few weeks ago during the marvelous voyage I made to a friendly country (Great Britain) where I heard enthusiastic acclamations from the heart of a people so close to the heart of France; and finally strong, above all, by the union, more indispensible than ever, of all its children grouped around it and ready for the most severe tasks if tomorrow its defence should require it."

Lebrun paid tribute to the peace appeal which President Roosevelt recently addressed to Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini and which was rejected by them.

The joint session of Parliament was preceded by a two-hour ministerial council at which the President presided. The Council approved the text of the President's declaration and also the one that Premier Edouard Daladier was to read to Parliament later today.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet submitted to the Council a decree raising Gabriel Puaux, High Commissioner for Syria, to the rank of Ambassador. The Foreign Minister also gave his Cabinet colleagues a brief outline of recent developments in the international situation.

Marking the end of the Easter recess, Parliament was summoned to meet at 3 p.m. (10 a.m. E.D.T.) and a foreign policy debate scheduled to follow the speeches of the President and Premier.

The debate on foreign policy was to follow messages from the Premier and President Albert Lebrun.

The chasm dividing European countries into two political and military camps was even wider than when the Parliament last met, but Deputies and Senators knew in advance the general line of the Premier's declaration — "unbreakable firmness and vigilance."

Premier Daladier said that a week ago to quiet those persons in other countries "who believed France had yielded in her decision to fight at Poland's side" if Germany attempted to seize Danzig. On that occasion Daladier declared the sole issue before Europe was "domination or collaboration."

Meanwhile diplomatic sources reported that, despite the spectacular reception accorded Prince Paul of Yugoslavia during his current visit to Italy, little progress was being realized in bringing Belgrade to formal adherence to the Rome-Berlin axis.

ASK $400 FOR DAMAGES FROM STREET MISHAP

William Robillard, Coaticook, Instituted Suit as Aftermath to Accident in Which His Child Was Run Over.

An accident in which a six-year-old girl was run over by a horse-drawn wagon had its aftermath in Superior Court this morning when a four-hundred dollar action instituted by William Robillard against Olivier Hebert was inaugurated before Mr. Justice Hector Verret. Both plaintiff and defendant are from Coaticook.

Robillard alleges that his daughter, Laurette, was crossing a Coaticook street when the vehicle belonging to the defendant and in which were riding two of his daughters struck the child. Plaintiff adds that before the wagon could be brought to a stop one wheel passed over the victim, causing severe injuries.

Placing the blame on the negligence of the two occupants of the wagon, Robillard alleges they failed to look where they were going and could have avoided striking the child had they used ordinary precaution.

Hebert states that responsibility for the mishap could not be laid to his daughters in that the Robillard child was playing in the middle of the street when she had no right to be.

THREE LEADING U.S. CHURCHES WILL REUNITE

Nine Hundred Delegates Representing Three Branches of Methodism Approve Plan for Union Between Three Bodies.

Kansas City, May 11.—(AP)—Nine hundred delegates representing three previously separate branches of Methodism in the United States carried back to their churches today the message: "The Methodist Church is, Long live the Methodist Church."

The words were spoken by Bishop John Moore of Dallas, Texas, as the delegates voted approval formally and without dissent last night of the plan of union already recommended by the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Church. The combined church has nearly 8,000,000 members.

Two weeks' work of perfecting a plan of Government for the new church was completed without meeting legal action threatened at the outset of the uniting conference by a group of South Church laymen, who asserted as the conference ended that "Its acts were illegal and the plan impossible of being carried out." Spokesmen for the laymen's organization said court action would be instituted in South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee.

FEARED EIGHT MET DEATH IN CHICAGO FIRE

Believed Eight Men Were Trapped within Grain Elevator by Suddenness of Explosion — Two Firemen Near Death.

Chicago, May 11.—(AP)—An explosion and fire tore a rambling grain elevator asunder with such suddenness today that firemen feared at least eight workmen were killed.

Because of the size of the structure and intensity of the flames, firemen said it was impossible immediately to determine the casualties.

Four men, two reported near death, were in the South Chicago Hospital.

The elevator covering a square block and 150 feet high, was at 102nd street and the Calumet River, on the far south side. It was owned by the Roesnbaum Brothers Grain Company, a spokesman for which estimates that 800,000 bushels of grain, valued at $200,000 were stowed there. He estimated the elevator itself as worth $200,000.

TELEGRAPH RATES WILL BE REDUCED

Canadian National Telegraphs and Canadian Pacific Telegraphs yesterday announced the inauguration on June 1st of an evening and Sunday service between offices in Canada. The evening and Sunday rates which become operative between the hours of 7 p.m. and 4 a.m. daily, these times being applicable at either point of origin or destination, and all day Sunday, will provide a fast service and are designed to encourage the greater use of the telegraph service in evening hours.

On and after June 1st, the public in Canada may file at any time a 40-word fast message to any point within the Dominion, deliverable between the hours mentioned above at the rate previously charged for a 10-word fast message. In addition to this substantial reduction in rate on messages originating in Canada destined to points elsewhere within the Dominion and strictly in connection therewith, the Canadian communication companies have established a unique service which they refer to as immediate prepaid reply which permits the sender to prepay for an immediate reply to his evening or Sunday telegram at fifty per cent reduction in the regular tolls on such a reply provided at the time of filing his original message the sender indicates the reply service is desired.

LOCAL POLICE PREPARING FOR MONTREAL TRIP

Lieutenants Boisvert and Daudelin to Head Detachment of Picked Officers Who Will Aid Metropolis Police with Traffic on Royal Visit.

Busily polishing buttons and putting uniforms in spick and span condition, sixteen officers of the Sherbrooke Police Department are today preparing for their trip to Montreal next Tuesday, when they will assist police of Canada's chief metropolis in handling the enormous throng expected there on that date to celebrate the visit of the King and Queen.

Lieutenants Henri Boisvert and Omer Daudelin will be in charge of the Sherbrooke detachment of fourteen picked constables. The local policemen were asked to go to Montreal by officials of that city and, in return, Montreal will send a squad here June 12th when the blue and silver Royal train carrying Their Majesties stops briefly.

Montreal has promised to assist the Sherbrooke police June 12th with double the number this city sends to Montreal.

For several days the detachment has been drilling and reviewing instructions given in the ordinary course of police training. The visit of the squad to Montreal will mark the second time in the history of the department that a detachment has been sent to an outside city. The first was about five years ago, when Deputy Chief Joseph Prunier and Lieutenant Boisvert took four men to Three Rivers for the funeral of the Chief of Police of that centre, who was killed in an automobile accident.

Trees Planted By Students Commemorating Royal Visit

One Hundred and Forty Memorials of Their Majesties' Visit Placed on Grounds of St. Patrick's Academy as School Takes Lead Among Eastern Townships Institutions in Marking Visit of Sovereigns—Principal Advocates Promoting Satisfactory Students Without Final Exams.

Lasting memorials of the visit to Canada and more particularly to Sherbrooke of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, and tangible evidence of loyalty to the British Throne, 140 newly-planted trees—one for each boy in the school—are today growing on the grounds of St. Patrick's Academy.

Including oak, maple, cedar and spruce, the trees were planted by the students at colorful ceremonies yesterday afternoon as the Academy took the lead among Eastern Townships schools in commemorating the history-making Royal visit.

The tree-planting ceremonies, appropriately held on Arbor Day beneath a blazing sun, were attended by the Roman Catholic clergy, Mayor Marcus Armitage, members of the Academy's Board of Trustees and a number of former students of the Institution.

Each tree will bear an aluminum plaque on which will be inscribed the names of Their Majesties and the name of the boy planter. Every pupil of the school, from the youngest in the first class to the oldest among those who will graduate this year, took part in the ceremonies and now owns one of the trees.

Following the assembling of the visitors, teachers and pupils on the school lawn and the singing of "O Canada," the gathering was addressed by Brother Nicholas, principal of St. Patrick's Academy.

Referring to the lone oak tree chosen, and planted by John Southern in recognition of his prowess as a St. Pat's athlete, Brother Nicholas expressed a wish that the boys now in his charge would endeavor to incorporate into their characters the qualities of the oak—its uprightness and durability—in order that they might be able to weather the storms of life without falling.

Young Thomas B. Walsh, a son of T. G. Walsh and a grandson of the late John Henry Walsh, one of the founders of St. Patrick's Academy, was given the honor of planting the maple tree.

Expect All Roads In Townships To Be Opened To Trucks Within A Week

Steadily improving under the influence of favorable weather, roads between all key centres in the Eastern Townships are rapidly approaching normal condition for this time of year and within a week all routes in the district will be open to heavy traffic, it was learned this morning.

At midnight today trucks and transports of any weight may roll on the highway between Sherbrooke and Stanstead, it was announced by authorities. Other roads opening at the same time are those from Actonvale to Granby, Sutton to Granby, Sutton to Abercorn, and Knowlton to Cowansville.

All other roads in the Townships will be open to heavy traffic within a week, it is expected.

Frost in the roads has been leaving rapidly under the rays of a warm sun during the past few days and main highways are now in a generally dry condition. Some secondary roads are still not so good, however, and several are pitted with frost holes troubling to motorists.

The route between Sherbrooke and Quebec, No. 5 highway, has a detour around St. Agapit. The detour is reported in good condition and travellers may journey by motor to the capital with little difficulty.

Information concerning the condition of Eastern Townships' highways is obtainable from the Tourist Information Bureau at the corner of King and Depot streets. The data is supplied by Leon Darche, director of the Bureau, by authorities in charge of the various Road Department divisions in the district, chief branch of which is located at Lennoxville. Condition of the highways has been reported to Mr. Darche daily since the beginning of the past winter.

LAD'S BODY NOT YET RECOVERED

Surging waters of the St. Francis river still conceal the body of nine-year-old Valmore Cloutier, East Sherbrooke lad who drowned in the river last Saturday afternoon, and although constant efforts have been made by Sherbrooke police to recover the body it had not been found this morning.

The river has been thoroughly dragged as far down as Bromptonville and today efforts were centred in the vicinity of that community, where it is believed that the body has been carried by the high waters.

PROSPECTS FOR T.B. HOSPITAL ARE BRIGHTENED

Provincial Anti-Tubercular Commission Recommends Establishment of Sanatorium Under Charity Act.

Prospects for Government assistance in the establishment of a tuberculosis sanatorium in Sherbrooke were materially brightened today when the Provincial Anti-tubercular Commission announced its decision to recommend to the authorities that the proposed St. Francis Hospital be placed under the Public Charities Act.

The Commission is a Government-appointed body which studies questions regarding the fight against the white plague in the Province and submits proposals for discussion by the members of Parliament. Several weeks ago sponsors of the local sanatorium plan submitted their request for Government support by asking that the hospital, if erected, be considered as a public institution.

Approval of the Commission will permit plans for financing the sanatorium to be proceeded with, for ratification by the Government is now considered as only a formality. It is expected a structure capable of taking care of approximately two hundred patients will be erected to serve the whole Eastern Townships. Proposed location is near the Hotel Dieu Hospital on Bowen avenue south.

In their report members of the Commission recognized the need of a sanatorium in the Eastern Townships and remarked on the comparatively high mortality for this section of the Province.

GLEE CLUB ENDS ACTIVE SEASON AT UNIVERSITY

Successful Season Climaxed by Bishop's University Group by Recital at King's Hall, Compton.

Bishop's University Glee Club, under the direction of Sidney Meade, brought its active season to a successful conclusion with a recital at King's Hall, Compton. The Club was augmented by the presence of Cecil Meade, who in addition to singing bass contributed piano selections to the programme.

The Glee Club, re-organized last year by Cecil Meade after many years of inaction, consisted this season of twenty-five singers, led by their director, Sidney Meade.

The programme at Compton was as follows: The Club sang three numbers, "All Through the Night," "Glendower," and "Robin Adair," following which Sidney Meade sang a solo, "Still wie die Nacht" (Bohn), and "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride" (O'Hara).

As the third item, the Club sang, "Integer Vitae," "Spanish Levi," and "High Barbary," then Cecil Meade played three of his own compositions on the piano, "Waltz in B Flat," "March in D Flat" and "Prelude in D Minor," the last largely an improvisation.

The Club's next selections were "Drink to Me Only" and "John Peel", and Sidney Meade's second solo numbers were "None But the Lonely Heart" (Tschaikowsky) and "The Two Grenadiers" (Schumann).

As their concluding number the entire Glee Club sang, "The Flowing Bowl," "Down the Field," "Ich Bin ein Musiker," featuring Peter Edgell, and closed with "Alma Mater."

MUSIC STUDIED AT MEETING IN LENNOXVILLE

Adult Education Clinic Favors Music Festival for Eastern Townships — Will Urge Stressing of Musical Education in Schools.

"The Problems of Music in the Community" was the subject considered by a representative group of citizens of this district, including several well known persons in musical circles, in the third Community Clinic at the Adult Education Centre, Lennoxville, last evening, under the chairmanship of Wright W. Gibson, principal of the Sherbrooke High School.

The purpose of the meeting was to discover the problems of producing a high class of music in the community, and how the type of music could be improved.

The discussions fell into three main topics—the problems of choirs and choral societies; teaching of music in the schools; and the organization of a music festival.

It was agreed that a festival for the Eastern Townships is desirable, since the time and expense involved in sending competitors to the Provincial Festival at Montreal is prohibitive. Rev. Albert Johnston, of Coaticook, pointed out that the Provincial Musical Festival at Montreal is provincial in name only, since few competitors come from outside Montreal Island.

Prof. R. Havard, of Sherbrooke, stated that merely to put on a fes-

Publicizing Of District's Tourist Attractions Urged

Establishment of Hotel School Also Recommended at Third Annual Reunion of Eastern Townships Hotelkeepers' Association—Hotels in Favorable Position to Stimulate Tourist Trade—Advertising Campaign Needed.

Publicizing of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships as a tourist centre and establishment of a Hotel School were urged last night at the third annual assembly of the Eastern Townships Hotelkeepers' Association at which John R. MacKay, of North Hatley, was elected president. Mr. MacKay, proprietor of the Connaught Inn and Pleasant View House, succeeds Fred Desorcy, of the local King George Hotel.

Importance of founding an institution for the training of future owners and employees of hotels in the Province of Quebec was stressed by J. Leo Gagnon, chairman of the Rural Hotelkeepers' Association of the Province of Quebec, as he outlined the progress made by the hotel industry within the past few years.

"Not so very long ago our inns were not looked upon in a very favorable light," Mr. Gagnon remarked, "but our policy has changed the opinion of the general public to a marked degree."

Referring to recent legislation enacted by the Provincial Government, the speaker said that it was becoming increasingly difficult to carry on competitive business with any margin of profit but expressed hope that in the near future consideration would be given the rights of hotel proprietors.

"The hotels, by encouraging tourist trade and accommodating an ever-increasing number of visitors to the Province, are the means of bringing to the people the greatest amount of revenue," Mr. Gagnon stated, "and as such our industry should be recognized."

That the hotelkeepers of the Province have a great responsibility in the proper administration of their establishments was stressed by Rev. Canon Napoleon Codere, who congratulated the members of the Eastern Townships group on the fine reputation for honesty and integrity they had built up. He also urged that the proprietors make known their communities' special features that might interest tourists, and cited the museum of St. Charles Seminary as an outstanding example.

Organization of an advertising campaign through which residents of the United States and of other parts of Canada would become familiar with the Eastern Townships and all they have to offer was suggested by Leon Darche, director

CO-OPERATION AND THE ROYAL VISIT

One of the pleasing sidelight features of the visit of Their Majesties to Canada for the next month is the spirit of helpfulness and co-operation being shown by all elements of the Dominion in the task of making the Royal Couple welcome to the country. Seldom, if ever, has the entire Dominion joined together in such a manner, forgetting petty differences and personal jealousies.

Cities and towns which have been deprived of the privilege of entertaining Their Majesties due to the limits of time, are joining with those nearby centres who are to receive a Royal Visit in a common welcome. In a similar way, one community is assiting its neighbor in carrying out the tremendous task of providing for the proper care of the honored guests and of caring for the crowds which are expected. While private citizens and organized groups from one district are offering their services in the maintenance of order in other sections, those cities and towns who are only to receive Their Majesties at a later date are lending every available police officer to centres having the honor at an early date. In return, the favor will be reciprocated with the passage of time.

If for no other reason than for the good-will it will promote among the various sections and classes of the Dominion, the Royal Visit is important. But the effects will be even further-reaching, spreading into the international field and linking closer together the people of the two greatest countries on the North American continent.

AUSTRALIA AND ITS CONSTITUTION

Canada is not alone among the nations of the British Commonwealth in finding that its constitution has failed to meet the problems of the modern world in many respects. For some time Australia has been troubled by constitutional difficulties in its efforts to effect certain legislative changes, and a full-dress parliamentary discussion on the reform of the thirty-nine-year-old constitution was proposed. The sudden death of Prime Minister Joseph Lyons and the consequent uncertainty in federal politics is expected to postpone the discussion for the time being, however.

The Government, it is pointed out, has both externally and internally, much more important problems to solve than those of constitutional reform. Internally, it has lost both leadership and direction by the death of Mr. Lyons. Externally, it is much concerned over the European situation.

Its critics are many and it may well be that hints of an impending general election are not ill-founded. If this does prove the case then undoubtedly concrete moves towards reform of the constitution will be well pigeon-holed. If not, then the international situation might have a similar effect.

The suggestion for reform of the constitution was first publicly voiced late last year by the former Labor Prime Minister, James H. Scullin, and was enthusiastically welcomed by Mr. Lyons. He announced parliamentary discussion on the suggestion at the session which has just begun, but no indication has yet been given that the promise will be fulfilled.

THE S.P.C.A. REORGANIZED

The reorganization of the St. Francis Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is a move which has long been needed in this district where facilities have been lacking for the adequate prosecution of those guilty of mistreating animals. The mere reorganization of such an organization is not enough in itself, however, requiring the support and co-operation of all classes in the community. All cases should be promptly reported so that the Society may carry on the needed investigation which must precede any prosecution. An immediate report is necessary because any delay means the weakening of any evidence obtainable with a consequent reduction in the possibility of effecting a successful prosecution.

The scope of this organization should not be limited to St. Francis district alone, but should extend throughout the Eastern Townships, both for the purpose of increasing the funds available and for improving efficiency.

Although this organization has not been over successful in the past, it is reasonable to hope that with the present strong board of directors is should enjoy an aggressive future.

BRITAIN SPEEDS CONSCRIPTION

Indicating the determination of the Government that the Conscription Enabling Bill be enacted without delay so that the training of conscripts can begin in July at the latest, the passage of the "guillotine" measure limiting debate is a rather unusual step in the British House of Commons. Under the terms of the bill, passed despite Labor opposition, a certain time is set for the vote on each stage of the Conscription Bill, and if the debate is not concluded and a vote taken at that time, the clause is considered to have passed automatically.

Furthermore, the customary private members' period on Friday is being annexed by the Government to speed up the measure. Prime Minister Chamberlain was unusually frank on the gravity of the situation and on the importance to be attached to the vote. "The reasons for urgency are self-apparent," he said. "It is common knowledge that our proceedings in these matters are being watched with very close attention in other quarters, and anything which appeared to be in the nature of dilatory proceedings would certainly have a very discouraging effect on our friends in Europe."

On the other hand, the speedy passage of the bill, as sought by the Government, will offer a stern rebuke to those who are prone to vaunt the superiority of the dictatorship form of Government.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING AND COMMENT

Ruling that newspaper advertising and editorials are two separate issues, Division Court Judge Edmond Proulx found in favor of the Sudbury Star in an action brought by the newspaper against a municipal candidate who had refused to pay for an election advertisement on the grounds it had been nullified by the editorial comment in the same issue. The paper's claim for $49 with costs was allowed.

Defendants argued the advertisement was privileged to the extent that the newspaper had no right to comment unfavorably upon it in the same edition as it appeared. The Star stated its policy was to accept all shades of political opinion in its advertising columns, with the exception of Communistic propaganda which it barred. At the same time the paper reserved the right to disagree with any opinion so expressed.

Judge Proulx held the newspaper had fulfilled its contract to publish the advertisement in question and beyond that the dispute was a matter of newspaper policy or ethics and not a question of law.

MOTHER TO DAUGHTER

It is not just because you might be fair
As that magnolia blossom opening wide
Its curved white petals to the sunny air—
That watching you, I glow with artists' pride;
It is because—as from the blossom's rim
Fresh waves of sweetness ripple into space—
Your eyes, your lips, your very gestures brim
With springs of joy so rich they might embrace
All arid wastes, all frozen poles of grief,
And make them flower . . . It is because such joy
Lingers like incense for the world's belief;
Because like gold, untarnished by alloy,
It shines in doubt's gray palm—therefore I lift
My head as one who shaped a priceless gift.

ANY DRESS WILL DO

(Ottawa Journal)

A well-known Government official, identified in the news columns as "spokesman for the committee in charge of arrangements for the Royal visit," made this statement the other day: "There's no sense in telling people they'll have to buy a complete new outfit of clothing because they will be presented for ten seconds to the King and Queen. We are issuing no instructions whatever on the matter of dress. People can wear whatever they like on any occasion." That is a sensible decision, we think, and one which will commend itself to the great majority of Canadians. The warmth of the reception for Their Majesties in Canada will not be measured by the clothes we wear on their public appearances or even on more formal occasions. It is the spirit that counts, and a loyal heart is as likely to beat beneath a worn jacket as beneath the most correct of morning coats. The King and Queen will want to see us as we are, not stiff and starched into an unfamiliar picture. We do not need to put on airs for the head of the British Family. If we are natural and dignified, if we let Their Majesties see the fervor of our welcome and the pleasure we feel in their visit, we may be quite sure they will not be concerned in the least about our satorial standards.

HELP THE FELLOW WITH A JOB

(Windsor Star)

It may seem contradictory to state that one way to cure unemployment is to help the fellow with a job.

So much is always being said about helping the fellow without a job. Everyone in Canada wants to help the unemployed. But, if the aid to them results in taxation that throws others out of work, then instead of a cure for unemployment, we have more unemployment.

If assistance is given to the chap with a job, and to the men who give employment to many, they can spend and develop enterprises and so expand their payrolls and take on more help. In that way unemployment would be reduced and work provided for men who want jobs.

And, the way to assist the chaps at work is to reduce taxes so that money that must be set aside for the tax-gatherer will be available for spending in other channels.

NOT TOO COSTLY

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Are public works really such a costly form of relief when all factors are considered? Suppose that the head of a family receiving $80.00 a month in direct relief is put to work on a relief project. He receives fifty per cent more, or $45.000. because he needs better food and clothing and sometimes transportation to and from work. With the average relief project, the cost of materials is about equal to the cost of labor. It takes $90.00, therefore, to keep the man employed for a month. But it is stated by outstanding authorities that eighty-five to ninety per cent of the cost of materials really goes for labor also. That means that $83.25 of the $90.00 is spent on wages. The money paid for materials takes men off relief or helps to keep them off. Relief works are, therefore, not so costly a form of relief as they may seem.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH

(Toronto Telegram)

This official approval of a newspaper article, given in the course of an interview, constitutes by far the most important pronouncement any American statesman has made since 1919. It commits the President, with whatever influence he has, definitely to the side of the European democracies. It means that he has tried the aggressors and found them guilty, that he sees what will be the inevitably consequences if they conquer, and that he is determined to prevent their conquest by every means in his power. It means that if he can carry Congress with him the inexhaustible resources of the United States will be at the disposal of the Anglo-French combination, and that, if necessary, America will enter the war. No such frank statement of opinions and intentions has ever come from the White House in time of peace. It took President Wilson two years and eight months of war to reach the point which President Roosevelt has reached today.

CHECKED

(Halifax Herald)

And in "diplomacy" as in war—or preparations for war—the initiative has immense importance. As a London paper says, the Roosevelt message to the Dictators has had the effect of "wresting the initiative from the aggressor." They have been "making the going" for many months. They are not making it now. They have now to meet what amounts virtually to an ultimatum —a "moral ultimatum" their reply to which is demanded before the Bar of World Opinion.

"OBSTRUCTING TRAFFIC" THEIR CRIME

(Toronto Saturday Night)

We have to congratulate the Minister of Labor for the Dominion, the Hon. Norman McLeod Rogers, on discovering the solution of the single transient unemployed men problem. It is even simpler than we had supposed. The trouble with the single transient unemployed men is that they obstruct traffic. If they would only stop obstructing traffic they would be no trouble at all.

On Tuesday of last week somebody, nobody knows who, closed the special hostels which had been opened in Toronto and Ottawa for looking after single transient unemployed men. There was discussion about this closing in the city councils, the provincial Legislature, and the Dominion Parliament. Nobody would admit having anything to do with closing them. The mayor of Toronto said that the city did not do it, and that the closing was an outrage. The Premier of the province said that the province did not do it, and that the closing was a shocking piece of inhumanity. The Minister of Labor for the Dominion did not say that the Dominion did not do the closing, but it was not necessary that he should; everybody knows that the Dominion neither opens nor closes anything in connection with the relief of unemployment, except Royal Commissions.

But the Minister of Labor did put his finger on the vital point in the situation. Being informed by Angus MacInnis that "about a hundred men are sitting on the curb in front of the Ottawa city hall," he replied that "if any men are obstructing traffic I consider that entirely a matter for those vested with police authority in the city of Ottawa."

And here is the whole thing in a nutshell. If the single transient unemployed men obstruct traffic they are "a matter for those vested with police authority." If they don't obstruct traffic they are not a matter for those vested with any kind of authority anywhere. All that they have to do is to stop obstructing traffic, and nobody would bother with them at all. Obviously men who have no home, no work, no money and no food ought to go somewhere where they can die quietly without obstructing traffic; after all, cats and dogs do just about the same thing in the same circumstances.

Perhaps if it were put to them in a proper manner they would do so. The argument is very simple. We Canadians are free, and we have a good many thousand single transient unemployed men. The Germans are slaves, and they have no single transient unemployed men. Clearly the single transient unemployed men are the price we pay for being free. Why should we not suggest that if they will only go somewhere and die quietly without obstructing traffic, we will some day erect a monument to them, as we have to those who paid the price of our freedom in 1914-18?

LIFE IN GERMANY

(Hamilton Spectator)

When one remembers that taxation in Germany has reached forty per cent of the nation's income; that hours of labor have been arbitrarily raised to a possible maximum of fourteen hours a day; that the demands of industry, and especially the rearmament programme, are bringing about a condition of considerable, if repressed, discontent; and that the restrictions on personal liberty are not taken with anything like the indifference which propaganda would suggest, it can easily be realized that, in spite of the strict regimentation from above and the native endurance and discipline of the German people, the process cannot be continued indefinitely without a crisis being reached capable of wrecking the whole system.

WELL-SELECTED OPENER AND CLEVER DEFENSE CAN DEFEAT THIS CONTRACT

This is the twenty-second of a series of 25 bridge quizzes. Par is 100. Deduct 5 points if you answer incorrectly question No. 1; 20 for No. 2; 15 for No. 3, and 10 for No. 4. Keep your daily score and see how high an average you can maintain.

1. South has bid clubs and spades in order. North has responded with diamonds, then raised South to three no trump. What should West's opening lead be?

2. If the heart five is played on the first trick from dummy, what card should East play?

3. If East holds the first trick, what card should he return?

4. If at any time South leads the diamond suit from his own hand, what card should West play?

Solution to Bridge Quiz

1. West should lead his fourth best heart. While he has two four-card suits, it is better to lead fourth best from the suit with the higher honor.

2. East should play the ten, not the king. This play cannot lose and may gain. Presumably the opening lead is from an honor, as modern practice frowns on leading a low card from a worthless suit; but even if South holds the queen, nothing would be lost by the play of the ten.

3. East should return the heart king. If the ten holds the first trick, then West must hold the queen, and every effort should be made to establish two more tricks in the suit for him—the queen and one low card.

4. West should play the king. By this play, with the heart ace removed from the dummy previously, South can obtain only one diamond trick, regardless of the manner in which he attempts to develop the suit.

If you, are, you'll be glad to know there's a new little receiver that you can park safely on the arm of your chair, or even your knee, and not give it another thought. News Of Women's Clubs

Five hundred Girl Guides, representing the Eastern Townships Division, of which Mrs. George Hume is Divisional Commmissioner, will see the Royal procession on June 12th, from one of the best vantage points in the city, namely, "Seaton Place," Mrs. Gordon Hume's residence on the corner of Melbourne and Cresse streets.

From the massive stone wall, which surrounds the property, and the sloping terraces leading to Mrs. Hume's home, the Guides will have an unexcelled position from which to view the approach of Their Majesties and their retinue as they turn the corner from Dufferin avenue to Cresse and then go up Melbourne street.

The offer made by Mrs. Gordon Hume, was gratefully accepted at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of the Divisional Commissioner on Court street, during which arrangements were made for the assembling of the Girl Guides from Sherbroke and other centres in the Eastern Townships.

Mrs. E. J. Warcup, of East Angus, District Commissoner, who was appointed O.C. for June 12th, will be assisted by Mrs. A. V. Richardson, District Commissioner of Lennoxville, these two ladies taking charge of practically all arrangements in connection with placing the five hundred Girl Guides.

The members of the Baptist Mission Circle were guests yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Ernest Wheeler at her home on Elgin avenue.

Mrs. A. J. Milligan was in the chair and after the opening devotional period, arrangements were made for collecting for the White Cross bale for India.

Mrs. D. K. Miller was the speaker and her topic was "Mrs. Rowntree Clifford," who with Mr. Clifford founded the West Ham Central Mission in London, England, where they laboured devotedly for forty-seven years.

Mrs. Clifford will be one of the chief speakers at the Jubilee Baptist Convention to be held in Toronto in June.

Miss Mary Milford conducted the devotional exercises, which included a special prayer for the King and Queen.

Later the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Byrd, while Mrs. Edward Holgate presided at the tea table which as centered with daffodils and narcissi.

The many additional tea guests were cordially received by Mrs. G. S. Thomson, while Mrs. Lothrop did the honors at the lace-covered table which was attractively done with a lovely gloxinia plant in a china jardiniere and green candles in matching china candlesticks.

V.O.N.'S DRIVE FOR FUNDS WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

Order Has for Many Years Rendered Excellent Service to Citizens of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

The annual campaign for the Victorian Order of Nurses, with an objective of $3,000, starts Monday, May 15th, and lasts for a week under the direction of W. E. Paton and Gedeon Nadeau, joint-chairmen.

The Victorian Order of Nurses has for many years been rendering excellent service to the citizens of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, and during the past year alone made 3,542 visits to homes of sick people, more than seventy-three per cent of which were free.

Statistics reviewing V. O. N. activity last year show that of the 3,542 visits, 2,594 were made free of charge, that 677 were partly paid for and that only 271 were fully-paying cases.

In view of these facts, a public appeal is felt a necessity, and officials of the Order and the campaign chairmen feel that a generous response should be made to ensure the continuation of these free services.

Cost of operation last year—nurses' salaries, car expenses, supplies, rent and other incidentals—amounted to more than $4,600, and total collection were only $736.60.

It is only through the response of the public that these expenses may be defrayed, and since seventy-three per cent of the cases needing attention are unable to pay, the responsibility for the maintenance of the invaluable work of the V.O.N. rests with those who can afford to support the organization.

Contributions should be sent to the V.O.N. office, room seven of the Whiting Block, Wellington street north. Information may be secured by telephoning 113, or by communicating with Mr. Paton or Mr. Nadeau.

of the Tourist Bureau.

J. K. Flaherty, referring to Rev. Canon Codere's suggestion regarding little known spots of interest, pointed out that in Sherbrooke and vicinity there were many attractions for students of history and visitors to the city. Mr. Flaherty also congratulated the hotelkeepers on the work of their organization and paid tribute to the efforts of Mr. Darche on behalf of tourism.

Praise for the efficient direction of hotels under the Eastern Townships Association as compared with that of other years was voiced by Mayor Marcus Armitage and Charles deL. Mignault, who felicitated the proprietors on their co-operation with the provincial and municipal authorities.

Association President John R. MacKay and W. J. Woodyatt, manager of the Manoir Drummond, Drummondville, spoke on the possibilities for the expansion of tourist trade in the Eastern Townships during the winter months. Also heard were A. W. Reid, J. O. Gagne and Roilie Badger, all of Sherbrooke.

Mr. Douglas Wootton acted as master of ceremonies and took charge of the games and stunts. Trees Planted By Students Commemorating Royal Visit boys we have here and we felt it was fitting he should plant the maple, representing as it does the young country of Canada," Brother Nicholas explained. "We further felt that the boy should plant the maple because his grandfather was a typical Canadian whose many virtues became known throughout the Eastern Townships."

Brother Nicholas also impressed upon the students the dangers of becoming corroded by "vicious isms" such as atheism and Communism. Referring to the spruce trees planted, he pointed out that from this wood most newsprint is derived and stated that "truth and virtue should be the object of every public press."

Following the principal's remarks a number of trees were planted by the class leaders, after which the remainder were placed in the soil by the other students.

Addressing the students and visitors briefly, Rev. Canon J. C. McGee, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, said all those participating in the ceremonies were glad of the opportunity to show their loyalty to the British Empire. He congratulated the Academy Brothers for conceiving the tree-planting idea and said the youths who planted the memorials would derive much joy out of them in later years.

"I wish all the citizens of Sherbrooke could see these ceremonies," declared Mayor Marcus Armitage. "In planting these trees St. Patrick's Academy has done something big and something wonderful which residents of this city will not soon forget. I have attended many events, but this today is one of the most beautiful and inspiring I have been privileged to witness. St. Pat's has always represented good will and brotherly love, and what has been done here this afternoon carries out these traditions."

"Take good care of the trees you have planted here today," Mayor Armitage urged the boys. "You will find much satisfaction in them in later years. And learn to cultivate a deep patriotism and be thankful you belong to the beloved British Empire."

In a brief address, D. J. McManamy, chairman of the Academy Board of Trustees, moved a vote of thanked to Brother Nicholas for his efforts towards getting the trees planted and expressed a belief that the trees would serve to bind each student more closely to the school.

In concluding the ceremonies, Brother Nicholas believed an appeal should be forwarded to each Provincial Government asking that students whose work through the scholastic year had been satisfactory to the teachers should be promoted without the ordeal of final examinations, which will necessitate "cramming" during the period the King and Queen will be touring Canada. If this were done, he explained, the pupils would have time to follow the course of the trip from coast to coast through the newspapers and radio broadcasts.

During the ceremonies moving pictures were taken by Carl Skinner. The films will be kept in the Academy as a permanent record of the event. Singing of the National Anthem concluded the celebrations.

Included among the guests were Mayor Marcus Armitage, D. J. McManamy, Board of Trustees' chairman, T. G. Walsh, representing the School Commissioners, Joseph Mooney, John Wolfe, John Sims and W. F. Steele, all members of the Academy Board of Trustees, Austin Workman; secretary-treasurer of the board, Rev. Father Alfred Linahen and J. K. Flaherty and Michael Stenson, Academy Old Boys.

HANDBAG GROOMING

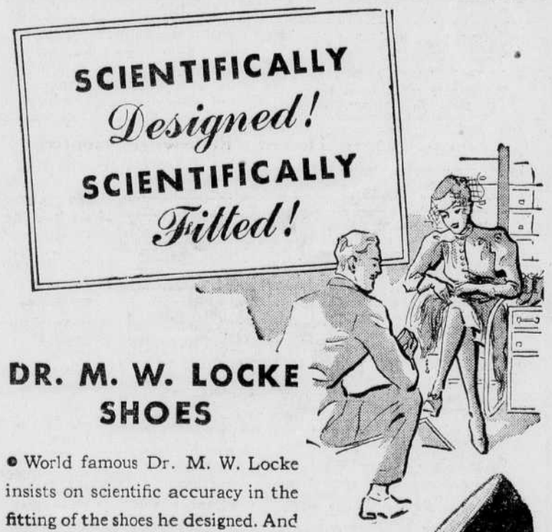

To keep a leather handbag in good condition, wipe off with a soft cloth each time it is used. Ordinary soil will usually yield to a slightly damp cloth and quick dry polishing afterward. If the soil is stubborn, use a commercial leather cleaner or a little shoe dressing. Overcrowding surely spoils its lines and a jumble of cosmetics, papers and what-not certainly appears untidy. Keep the inside of the bag brushed out and neat.

TRICKS WITH BUTTER

When melting chocolate in a sauce pan, butter the inside of the pan first. The melted chocolate will then pour out cleanly and smoothly. Butter the lip of the cream pitcher to prevent cream dripping onto the clean cloth.

LONG-WEARING BUTTONHOLES

To make buttonholes that will not pull nor ravel, first mark the buttonhole with chalk, then sew around the mark with sewing machine. Cut, overhand once around the slit and then go once around again with a regular buttonhole stitch.

Country And Dairy Products Prices

Montreal, May 11.—Butter trading at the Commodity Exchange was more active, with prices exhibiting a steady tone. Cheese was slightly easier, owing to a sagging tendency in the United Kingdom market. Both butter and cheese export business was reported quiet. Note was taken of the changed trend in Canadian production during the month of April, cheese output gaining while butter production was under the 1938 level. This change was considered as favorable for the dairy industry. The egg market held steady, with receipts continuing fair and top grades in best demand. The potato market was inclined easier on both new and old stock. There were no more California potatoes offering for the moment. New maple syrup was $1.40 to $1.65 per gallon, with new sugar at 14c to 18c per pound.

Sales of spot butter at the Commodity Exchange were 850 boxes of 92 score fresh at 20⅝c, and 200 boxes of 38 score fresh at 19⅝c. Closing quotation were 20½c to 20¾c for the former and 19⅝c to 19¾c for the latter. There were sales of 150 boxes of 38 score butter to arrive at 19⅝c. Butter futures closed at 21¼c to 21½c for June and 22⅝c to 22¾c for November. The open spot market was 20¾c for 92 score fresh, and small lots to the retail trade were selling by jobbers at 21c to 21½c for solids and 21½c to 22c for prints.

The open cheese market was 10¾c for No. 1 Ontario colored, while at the Commodity Exchange there were offerings at 10½c.

On the egg market graded shipments just arriving in large lots were selling on spot at 21½c for A-large, 19-19½c for A-medium, 19c for B and 17-17½c for C. No pullets were quoted. Offerings at the Commodity Exchange were at 21½c, 20c, 19c and 17c respectively. Small lots to the retail trade were selling by jobbers in cartons and two cents per dozen less for loose, as follows: A-1 large, 29-30c; A-1 medium, 29c; A-1 pullets, 27c; A-large, 25c; A-medium, 24c; A-pullets, 23c, B, 23-24c; C, 22c.

The potato market was quoted as follows: Old stock: P.E.I. Mountains, 90 lbs., $1.60 to $1.70; Whites, $1.55 to $1.65; N.B. Mountains, 80 lbs., $1.35 to $1.45; Alberta Whites, 90 lbs., $1.35 to $1.45; No. 2, $1.25; Idaho, 100 lbs., $2 to $2.25. New stock: Bermudas No. 1, $1.75; Floridas, B, $1.40, per 50-lb. crates.

On the poultry market wholesale houses were quoting the retail trade the following prices for dressed stock, A-grade, and two cents less for B-grade: Turkeys, 27-28c: milk-fed chickens, 27c to 29c; selected chickens, 26c to 27½c; selected fowl, 22c to 25c; Brome Lake ducklings, 27c; geese, 22c to 23c.

tival would not solve the problem of bad music. "We should go to the root of the problem, by training children in the schools," he said.

It was decided that a resolution should be sent to various educational bodies in the Province, urging them to make effective a system of teaching music comparable with that of other provinces. It was also decided that if a festival was to be undertaken it should begin with competition for various grades of school children, and that copies of a questionnaire should be circulated by the Rural Adult Education Centre to discover if such an event is practical.

Among those present at last evening's meeting were Rev. Albert Johnston, of Coaticook; Mrs. Mildred Largie Sampson, Mrs. J. R. Codere, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. James Ransehousan, Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Prof. R. Havard, Wright W. Gibson and the Misses Leonard, all of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Lee M. Watson and R. Alex Sim, of Lennoxville.

General Notes.

St. George's Guild annual June sale, Wednesday, June 7th.

Week-end guests of Mrs. Charles MacDonald at her residence on Church street included Miss Katie MacLeod and Messrs. Roderick and Alexander MacLeod, of Springfield, Mass. They were accompanied on their return journey by their sister, Miss Barbara MacLeod, of Lake Megantic.

Miss Helen McMaster, of Montreal, formerly of Knowlton, is spending some time in Lennoxville and the Eastern Townships in connection with Rural Adult Education work.

Tentative plans for a tea and sale to be held about the first week in June were made by members of the Parish Guild of St. George's Church yesterday afternoon at their regular semi-monthly meeting in the Lower Parish Hall. Mrs. Thomas D. Bozer, the president, presided, and it was suggested that instead of having the usual lilac tea and sale held annually at this time, a patriotic tea might be arranged, when decorations depicting the Royal visit would be used. However, nothing definite was decided and the matter will be discussed further at the next meeting. A report was given of the card party held at the conclusion of the last meeting, when receipts were most gratifying. Following adjournment, Mrs. James Arnold and Mrs. Frank Spry were hostesses at a delicious afternoon tea.

Miss Ruby Pegg entertained members of the Past Noble Grand's Bridge Club at their regular meeting last evening in the Woman's Institute Room of the Town Hall, after which contract bridge was played at three tables, the first prize being won by Mrs. Clifford Waite and the second by Mrs. E. J. Astell. During the meeting, the coming rummage sale which is to be held next week in conjunction with Myrtle Rebekah Lodge No. 28 was discussed, as was also the invitation extended to the local club by members of the Sherbrooke Past Noble Grands' Club to be their guests next week. At the conclusion of sixteen hands, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess, who was assistetd in her duties by Mrs. M. Mills, and the Misses Mildred Mills, of Hoboken, N.Y., and Betty Cole.

Mrs. Roy Aldrich and her two daughters, Doreen and Ardys, have returned to their home in South Barnston, after visiting Mrs. Aldrich's father, Mr. Robert Littlejohn, at the residence of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bown, College street.

Miss Grace Bartlett has returned to her home at Saxton's River, Vt., after spending three months as the guest of her cousin, Miss Beatrice Everett, at her residence on Warren street.

DEATHS REPORTED

MR. FRANK KENISON, OF SHERBROOKE.

Funeral services for Frank Kenison, of this city, who died Saturday, May 6, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, were held at Blake and Taylor's Funeral Home on Monday afternoon, May 8, with burial in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mr. Kenison, whose wife predeceased him in February of this year, contracted bronchial pneumonia which necessitated his removal to hospital on Wednesday night, May 3, and his death occurred three days later.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Milligan, of the Baptist Church, while two favorite hymns of the deceased, "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder," and "God Be with You 'Till We Meet Again," were sung by Miss Ruby Mersereau, who was accompanied by Mrs. M. Mackay.

Numerous and beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by all with whom he came in contact.

Born in Barford, Mr. Kenison, who was in his eighty-sixth year, was married in 1880 to Alice May Norris, of Barford, and came to Sherbrooke with his family in 1906.

He is survived by four children, Grace, Mrs. W. H. Hastings, Mrs. Bella Brown, of Montreal, Rufus, of Sherbrooke, and Alvah, of Newport; two sisters, Mrs. Vernon Griffith, of Waitsfield, Vt., and Mrs. George Poor, of Marshfield, Vt., and several other relatives.

Craighead, read the minutes of the preceding meeting held at the home of Miss Blackwood. The minutes were accepted as read. The treasurer, Mrs. A. S. McCaw, presented her report showing receipts of $81.80 for the month of April, with total disbursements of $82.14 and returns from the Violet Tag Day as $46.86.

Letters were read by the secretary in reference to the Endowment Fund of the Order, Missisquoi Chapter having subscribed the sum of fifty-nine dollars to date. A motion was made that all outstanding bills be ordered paid.

The Educational Secretary, Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh, asked permission to rent radios to be placed in the schools during the month of the Royal visit in order that the pupils might be able to hear the different speeches delivered by King George during his tour of Canada. This request was granted and Mrs. McIntosh was instructed to look after arrangements for obtaining the radios.

Mrs. Joseph Laing, social service, reported that she had given out four layettes and that further supplies would have to be purchased for this department which she was instructed to buy. A motion was also made that the Chapter continue to suppy a deserving family with two quarts of milk daily.

The Regent announced that she had ordered twenty-five dollars in silver dollars commemorating the Royal visit to Canada, and that the winners of the Chapter's history prize in the various schools in the June examinations would receive these as prizes. The treasurer was instructed to look after the purchasing of six copies of the Constitution of the Order for use by the members and a letter was read by the Regent, notifying her of her election as a Provincial Councillor at the annual meeting held recently in Montreal.

Mrs. Everette Denison, Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh and Miss Marion Burt were appointed as a committee to make a report on an educational matter. The Regent then welcomed Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, a former member of the Lachine Soldiers Memorial Chapter, who has recently come to Bedford to reside. The Regent also welcomed a new member to the Chapter in the person of Mrs. Alfred Nicholson.

Mrs. McCaw expressed the appreciation of the meeting to the Regent for opening her house for the occasion. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem after which the members received a most concise and interesting report of the annual meeting held recently in Montreal and at which Mrs. Chadsey attended as the official delegate from this Chapter. In addition to bringing back many helpful suggestions from the meeting, the members had the pleasure of listening to the address of Mrs. William Hodgson, delivered on her retirement from the office of Regent of the Municipal Chapter, a position which Mrs. Hodgson has filled in a most capable manner during the past fifteen years. Mrs. Hodgson has always taken a deep interest in the Missisquoi Chapter as she came to Bedford on the occasion of the presentation of the charter to the Chapter. Following the report, refreshments were served by the hostesses, tea being poured by Mrs. R. L. Craighead.

FELLER WINS FIFTH FOR CLEVELAND TRIBE

Indians Place Hopes In Iowa Fire-Baller

Feller Is First Major Baseball League Pitcher to Chalk Up Fifth Victory—Bridges Tames Washington and Lifts Detroit from A.L. Cellar—Yanks Coast to 7-1 Triumph Over Browns—Pirates Blank Giants 5-0.

Robert William Andrew Feller is a seasoned young man now and the first pitcher in either major baseball league to win five games.

These two facts belong together because the Van Meter, Ia., speedster is working wonders for Cleveland Indians on the kind of twirling which for two years kept everybody going in circles—mostly on passes around the bases.

In beating Philadelphia Athletics yesterday seven to four in a contest which boosted the Indians into the first division for the first time since the early days of the season, Feller gave up a dozen hits, four bases on balls and made a couple of wild pitches.

Such looseness would have licked a lot of hurlers, but it didn't bother Bob because the Indians galloped in front with six runs in the first two innings.

His five victories represent all but three of the games the Indians have won this season—which shows the extent of Cleveland's dependence on him.

The programme yesterday was packed with well-pitched games. Tommy Bridges held Washington Senators to five hits in lifting Detroit Tigers out of the American League cellar. The only Washington run was unearned as he scored his fourth victory against no defeats by a five to one score.

With Bill Dickey and George Selkirk accounting for four runs on homers in the first inning, the Yankees and Bump Hadley coasted to a seven to one triumph over St. Louis.

Lou Fette pitched Boston Bees to a six to two margin over Chicago Cubs, on three hits. Warneke held the Phillies to seven safeties as St. Louis Cardinals won four to three and moved into a tie for first place in the National League, and the pace-setting Cincinnati Reds were held to seven by Whitlow Wyatt and Ira Hutchinson of the Dodgers as Brooklyn won ten to five.

The day's only shutout, however, was fashioned by Truett Sewell of Pittsburgh Pirates, by five to nothing over New York Giants.

HELEN WILLS MOODY SHINES IN NET DUEL

Walter Senior, Professional Star, Hard-Pressed to Beat "Little Poker Face" 6-4, 7-5—La Moody Slated for Wimbledon.

New York, May 11.—(AP) — Mrs. Helen Wills Moody played two sets of smashing, no-quarter tennis against one of the country's top professionals, Walter Senior, and to the amazement of onlookers she seemed a greater player right now than she ever was.

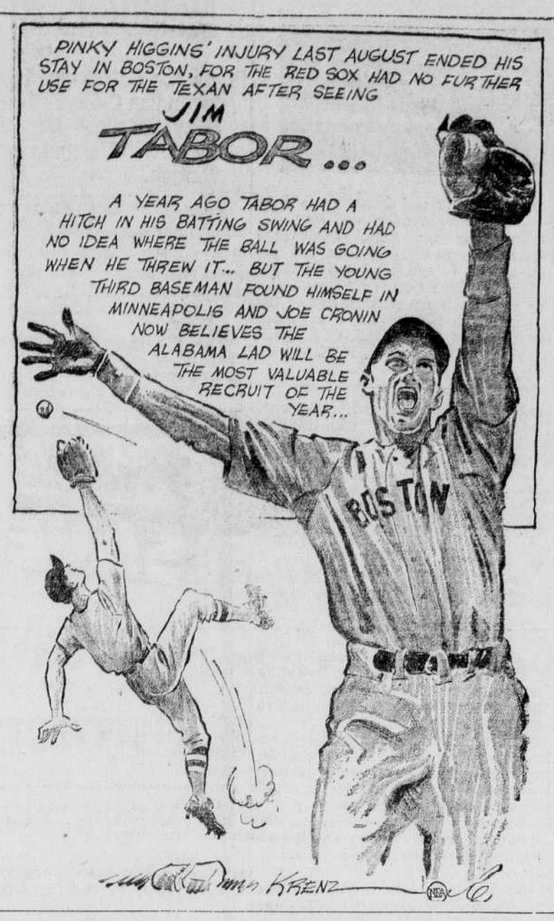

Helen has dominated women's tennis for the better part of two decades. But now she is crowding thirty-four. Yet Senior had to pull out all the stops to lick her 6-4, 7-5 yesterday and at the finish he was blowing like Tony Galento while Helen took one deep breath and was perfectly composed.

She is playing a hard match every day now, whipping herself into shape, no doubt, to defend her Wimbledon title. Helen isn't yet ready to announce she will play at Wimbledon, but you can count on it. She has just ordered a dozen new rackets, and the sort of practising she's doing now isn't for sheer pleasure.

The girl who was "Little Poker Face" when she won her first United States championship back in 1923 has grown into a maturely beautiful woman who smacks the ball a little harder each year, yet retains all her amazing accuracy.

Possibly she has slowed a trifle in her footwork. She spoke of "waddling about out there." But her opponents had better not take this too seriously. Helen managed to cover all the court there was against Senior, who hits them hard and to the point. She still has that marvellous sense of anticipation that has been the despair of a thousand opponents.

"I've been watching her play since we were both a lot younger out on the coast and I never saw her hit that ball better than now," Senior said.

In Sporting Vein

By Allan Bryce.

First of the local baseball players to feel the pruning hook is Ted Thurrier, Granby lad who played for the Red Sox in the Provincial League for the last two seasons. After the house-cleaning at Granby last season, Thurrier was on the loose and came here this spring to bid for a berth with Sherbrooke.

It is believed Thurrier will look for a job with Drummondville Tigers, so if he makes good may be seen here Sunday with Henry DeMeo's outfit.

Sherbrooke still has Johnny Crowley, Raymond Cote, Edward Tibbets, Al Kasso and Ray Croteau to patrol the outfield. Coach Reder planned however to use Croteau on first base tonight on the team slated to start against the Mohawk Colored Giants, and it is understood that a search is on for a new first-sacker.

The Industrial Softball League will hold an organization meeting at the Superheater plant tonight, and plans for the fast-approaching season will be discussed. It is believed Mitchell's, Armstrong's and perhaps several other squads are desirous of entering the circuit. Last year the loop was a four-team affair comprising Superheater, Brakeshoe, Rand and Fairbanks.

Percy Francis is lining up what should be a strong team to wear the Paton colors in the City Softball League. Players who will probably be in uniform for the first game are Dunc MacLeod, Henry and Harry Kouri, Willis and Fred Kirby, Brault, Emile Yergeau and Charlie Jowett, and there are quite a few other performers of proven calibre ready to carry the mail.

Windsor Mills, after fielding a ball team that walked off with the intermediate championship of the Province last year and carried Chambly to five games in a series for the senior title, will not, according to present indications, be represented by an intermediate club this season.

Efforts to re-organize the club with a view to entering a stronger league this year have met with little success, and it is felt that the season is now too far advanced to assemble a reasonably strong outfit. At a recent meeting last year's deficit and the difficulty of finding pitchers this season swayed general opinion in favor of disbanding the team.

Reder Names Starting Line-Up For Joust With Mohawk Giants Tonight

Sherbrooke's revamped Provincial Baseball League team steps out tonight for its first taste of competitive action in a twilight tilt against the Mohawk Colored Giants, and the game will get underway at six o'clock, weather permitting.

Johnny Crowley, centre-fielder, a little heavier and stockier than last season, will be lead-off man, a job he has handled for three years in Sherbrooke, while Ray Croteau has been selected to play first-base on the starting nine.

Third man to step up to the platter will be John Zulberti, last year the Canadian-American League all-star second baseman. Zulberti hit .320 last year and in practice has shown aptitude both in the field and at bat.

Raymond Cote, well-built contribution of Danville in the Bi-State League, will hold down the clean-up spot. Cote hit .308 last season, and has been poling out some long clouts in the daily drills at the ball park.

Louis Varanese, diminutive third-sacker, will follow Cote to the plate, with catcher Walter Goebel batting sixth. Right-fielder Edward Tibbets, who will be known as Thibault by many local fans, will hit seventh and shortstop Frank Gula eighth.

Acting manager Johnny Reder has not named a starting pitcher, but intends to divide the job up. He plans to get as many of his men as possible into the line-up against the Giants.

The locals will be decked out in flashy blue and white uniforms for their home games, while on the road they will sport a new set of their grey and red outfits.

The batting order for tonight's game:

Crowley, cf.
Croteau, 1b.
Zulberti, 2b.
Cote, lf.
Varaness, 3b.
Goebel, c.
Tibbets, rf.
Gula, ss.

MIKE CHARTAK POWDERS PILL AT .397 CLIP

Mike Chartak, slugging right-fielder for Newark Bears, has come into his own as an International League star.

Last season, when the champions had good outfielders by the carload lot, Chartak was strictly an in-and-outer—in and out of the line-up. In twenty-two games he turned up at first base, and some of the time he was out in the garden, chiefly after Bob Seeds had moved up to the National League.

Despite the handicap of such an irregular existence, Mike compiled a batting average of .317—pretty good hitting in any league, yet overshadowed by the feats of Charley Keller and Jimmy Gleeson. Now, with Keller and Gleeson gone up to the big show to join Seeds, Chartak is taking good advantage of the chance to prove his worth.

Today, after eighteen games, he boasts an average of .397 and is the hardest-hitting Newark regular. The twenty-two-year-old southpaw swinger boosted that figure considerably yesterday when he clipped Montreal pitching for four for four and led the Bears to their sixth straight triumph, by eight to seven over the Royals.

But in spite of the Bears' winning streak and Chatak's slugging, the 1938 winners remain a game and a half in back of the leading Jersey City Giants. The Jerseys, although outhit twelve to seven, nosed out Toronto Maple Leafs six to five.

Baltimore, Buffalo and Rochester wound up the day in a three-way tie for fifth place. The Orioles lost to the Red Wings, five to four, and the Bisons split a double-header with the third-place Syracuse Chiefs, who took the opener six to two and dropped the nightcap five to four.

PREAKNESS IS DRAWING FANS TO BALTIMORE

Baltimore, May 11.—(AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, young president of the Maryland Jockey Club, sat in the clubhouse dining room at Pimlico, scooped up a last forkful of scrambled eggs and said:

"This probably will be about the greatest Preakness ever run—and I'd rather get the cup than give it"

He was referring, of course, to the forty-ninth running of the $50,000-Added Preakness stakes here Saturday—a horse race that annually captures the fancy of the thousands who follow the thoroughbreds.

And what he meant by his remark was that he hoped his colt, Impound, would win the race and its historic trophy, the Woodlawn Vase. It is the club president's role to present this trophy to the victor's owner. To receive it himself would be quite a novelty.

Not in the sixty-six years of the Preakness has a jockey club president won the event. Facing these odds and taking his horse-racing seriously, Vanderbilt kept Impound out of the Kentucky Derby and pointed him for the Preakness.

Vanderbilt, speaking of Impound, said: "He has been working well here and looks as good as ever. There was no break in his conditioning when trainer Bud Stotler was hurt in an automobile accident while we were at Harve de Grace. Lee McCoy took over the training without a pause in Impound's routine"

But what about Impound's chances in the Preakness? Is the stout-hearted stretch-runner good enough to beat William Woodward's Kentucky Derby winner, Johnstown, in the 1 3-16 mile test?

"I hope so," Vanderbilt said.

New York, May 11.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong has come up with sore hands while training for Ernie Roderick in London.

The vets say El Chico, the Derby floperoo must stay in drydock until the Saratoga meeting in August.

Yep, that's the Giants and the Pirates out there battling away for the cellar.

Wailing wall: The hoss owners are moaning too. They're hollering "Break up the Belair Stud" and "Stop Fitzsimmons." Fat chance, gents.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Lou Fette, Bees: Held Cubs to thre hits to snap five-game Boston losing streak.

Truett Sewell, Pirates: Shut out Giants on six hits and batted home run himself.

Babe Phelps, Dodgers: Hit home run with one on and singled with bases loaded to account for four runs n victory over Reds.

Tommy Bridges Tigers: Lifted Detroit out of American League cellar with five-hit pitching job against Senators.

Bob Feller, Indians: Won fifth victory of year against Athletics, striking out eight and working effectively in pinches.

Joe Medwick, Cardinals: Hit three singles in four times at bat to score one run and bat in two others against Phils.

Bill Dickey, Yankees: Hit home run with two on in first inning to start New York toward easy triumph over Browns.

CY WILLIAMS TO FACE JACK LEAGUE HERE

Florida Badman Will Defend Wrestling Title at Arena May 18 — Red Shadow Scheduled to Oppose Jim Coffield.

A title bout between Cy Williams, the alligator man from Florida, who holds the world's championship, and Jack League, of Houston, Texas, will headline a professional wrestling programme to be staged at the Exhibition Arena on Thursday night, May 18, at eight-thirty o'clock.

Promoter Albert Kouri has lined up an attractive supporting cast, and in the semi-final will toss the famous Red Shadow, scourge of the Montreal Forum mat, against Jim Coffield, of Kansas City. Fair-haired Hal Rumberg, of Spokane, Wash., will risk possible assassination at the hands of Bob "Strangler" Wagner, of Portland, Oregan, in a third tilt, while the curtan-raiser will bring together Walter Podolok, Polish grappler from Syracuse, New York, and Al Mercier, of Springfield, Mass.

Cy Williams, notorious for his wild tactics inside the ring, caused near riots on his previous appearances in Sherbrooke, and now that he has his hands on the championship is holding it with all the trickery at his command. He will weigh in near the 225 mark. His opponent, League, a tough Texan, is noted for his ability to take as well as hand out punishment, and will be out to give Williams a dose of his own medicine.

One of the most colorful performers to hit the Montreal circuit, the Red Shadow works under orders from his hooded second. Both the Shadow and his manager wear red hoods, and the Shadow, a 227-pound husky, wears a flaming red dressing gown. Powerful, and well-versed in the tricks of the trade, the Shadow is considered a strong contender for Williams' crown. Coffield has attracted attention since coming to this section, and is a fast worker who never knows when he is beaten.

Fiery and treacherous, Bob "Strangler" Wagner goes berserk on the mat, and is out there to floor his man any way he can. With Williams, he is feared all over the continent, and has been the bane of policemen in every city where he has appeared. His opponent, Hal Rumberg, is just the opposite type, a clean and scientific wrestler, who is popular with Sherbrooke fans. Rumberg can, however, when aroused, retaliate for shady work, and will not take punishment without giving it back with interest.

Montreal fight followers predict a bright future in the mat game for Walter Podolok, who will meet Al Mercier in the opener. Podolok has a beautiful body, and has posed for physical culture magazines. His muscular co-ordination makes him a hard man to pin, while his quickness often throws his opponent off balance. Mercier is a newcomer to wrestling, and will be watched with close interest.

Attention ball scouts: Wally Frank, eighteen-year-old yearling tosser at University of Louisville, is burning up the blue grass. In four games he's fanned seventy-seven batters, passed only six and yielded but thirteen blows.

The San Diego Union (his home town paper) carries a daily box on the doings of Ted Williams labeled "With T. Samuel Williams."

Jim Stout, who rode Johnstown, hasn't split wth his wife, as some of the Broadway gossips reported. Because (a) Jimmy isn't married; (b) he never was married and (c) he ain't about to be.

Jimmy Cooney of the Bees doesn't give out interviews about it, but it's the gossipel that he hasn't hit a homer in fifteen years.

The Yanks pay Lou Gehrig $227 per day for carrying the batting order to the umpires from the dugout, says the Chicago Times, a matter of thirty-eight steps each way. And the ads tellyou a lot of guys walk a mile for a cigarette.

Likes Canada's Chances For Points At Finland Olympics

Hec Phillips, Veteran Track Coach at University of Toronto, Concludes "We'll Do All Right" in Olympic Games—Larry O'Connor and Bill Fritz Main Reasons for His Optimism—Wallace and Harold Brown and Johnny Loaring Should Make Impression.

Toronto, May 11.—(CP)—Approaching the opening of another Canadian track and field season, Hec Phillips found time today to survey the Dominion's possibilities for next year's Olympics and came up with the conclusion "We'll do all right." Larry O'Connor and Bill Fritz were the main reasons for the conclusion.

Phillips, veteran track coach at University of Toronto, was probably the least surprised man in the country when his two star pupils spread-eagled classy opposition during the United States winter indoor meets. Phillips always had unbounded faith in O'Connor, the hurdler, and Fritz, the runner.

"O'Connor is an Irishman and the Irish always have been the best hurdlers," said Phillips, a first-class half-miler during his running days in Scotland and Canada. "I thought Fritz would be Canada's greatest quarter-miler when I saw him running for the first time in Windsor about ten years ago. I think he's that now.

"Both are young, in their early twenties, and the way they're going and with the improvement I'm sure they'll show, I've no hesitation in thinking their chances high for Olympic victories. Both got points for Canada at Berlin and I wouldn't be at all surprised if both won in Finland."

Fritz has been campaigning at 600 yards during the winter for a two-fold purpose. He's not sure yet whether he's going to stick to the quarter mile, at which he's broken forty-eight seconds, or try for the half. Running the 600, Phillips figures he'll strengthen a stretch kick for the quarter and add stamina for the half.

As for other Olympic prospects, Phillips likes the looks of the broad-jumping Brown twins, Wallace and Harold, from Meaford, Ont., and he thinks there's every reason to believe Johnny Loaring, a quarter-mile star from Windsor and London, can come back as fast as ever if he resumes training soon.

Crippling Rheumatism

Rheumatism leaves in its train distorted joints, crooked limbs, crippled hands, and the intense pain is almost unendurable.

In the beginning rheumatism is often due to dyspepsia or indigestion, for if the digestive organs did their duty there would not be any poisonous uric acid in the blood to sow the seeds of rheumatism.

Burdock Blood Bitters invigorates the system, and helps to eradicate the uric acid from the blood which is the cause of the inflammation and pain.
