

First Sod Turned For New Roman Catholic School in Pleasing Ceremony

Large Number Attend Ceremony — School Expected Ready By October 1st

An impressive ceremony on Tuesday morning marked the beginning of work on the new Roman Catholic school at Huntingdon, which is expected to be ready for occupancy by this fall. Father A. Pigeon, using a golden spade, had the honor of turning the first piece of sod. Attending the ceremony were the members of the Roman Catholic School Board and their wives; representatives of the Department of Education; members of the organizing committee; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Caza, Mrs. M. O'Connor, Mr. Roger Fortier and Mr. J. H. Demers; many other dignitaries of the town and district and the pupils of St. Joseph's School and Convent.

At 9 a.m. Father Pigeon conducted a special mass after which the gathering moved outdoors to the site of the new school, directly across from the Roman Catholic Church. After a short religious ceremony, the chairman of the board, Mayor Leo Cappiello, presented an address of welcome.

Mr. Cappiello stated that it was a privilege for him to welcome the persons present to the ceremony for the turning of the sod. This should be a happy day for all of us because this new school will represent much better educational facilities for the children of Huntingdon and District.

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who have assisted in any way to make this day possible. Although our Member, Mr. Rennie, was unable to attend this ceremony on behalf of the school board I wish to especially thank him for his efforts in obtaining from the Hon. Mr. Cote, the Provincial Secretary, an additional grant of $73,755, bringing the total received to $173,755."

Mr. Cappiello gave an account of the various expenses involved in constructing the school, concluding, "In my opinion the cost of construction will not exceed $300,000."

"The general contractors come here well recommended and are quite qualified to fulfill all their commitments. We have been assured that, subject to decent weather conditions, the class rooms at least will be ready for occupancy on or before October 1st, 1950."

"I have enjoyed working hand in hand with your school commission since last July; each question was dealt with separately and no hasty decisions were made. Although we have a heavy programme of construction ahead of us, I can assure you that we, your school board, will perform our duties as in the past. When I refer to the school board, I also include our secretary-treasurer, Mr. Bonneville, whose experience has been of great assistance to us."

Dr. J. E. Caza then spoke in French. He expressed the appreciation of the members of the organizing committee and stated that it was a great pleasure to work with the members of the school board in this worthy undertaking. Dr. Caza paid tribute, among others, to Father Pigeon and Mayor Cappiello for their untiring efforts and said that he hoped the children would have their new school by September.

Other addresses were given by Father Pigeon, Mrs. M. O'Connor, Mr. Marien the district school superintendent, and Mr. P. Clouthier, the district school inspector. The turning of the sod was carried out with a glistening, glided shovel. Father Pigeon was the first to handle the instrument followed by Mrs. O'Connor, Dr. J. E. Caza, Mayor Cappiello, Messrs. Leo Duhamel, Alex Bergevin, S. Flynn, Albert Saunier, Father Quenneville and others.

Easter Pageant at St. Andrew's Well Attended

The Sunday School children of St. Andrew's church on Sunday evening presented a pageant entitled "The Easter Trail". The performance, which took the place of the regular evening service, was presented in the church annex and was very well attended.

The pageant was based on an old legend which tells of flowers growing in the path over which Christ passed on the morning of the Resurrection. Two young girls in the play appreciate the beauty of the story but are puzzled by its meaning. They consequently set out to explore the Easter Trail through the centuries and discover it is a path marked by flowers representing the good deeds which have added to the happiness and beauty of life. They also discover however that the trail of flowers will die unless more good deeds are done in the name of Christianity. The pageant tells how the two young girls set out to save the Easter trail.

Both the costumes and the setting of the play were extremely colorful; the children were at their best. Credit for the direction goes to Mrs. Stanley Ruddock and Mrs. R. D. MacLean while Mrs. Gordon McCrimmon and Mrs. Wm. Baird were responsible for the stage and costumes, respectively. During the evening recitations were given by Leslie Abbott, William Gordon and Keith Gordon.

Teachers Hold Meeting at High School

Many Matters Come Under Discussion

A meeting of the C.V.T.A. was held in Huntingdon High School on March 30, Mr. Lionel Upton presiding. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mr. John Gaw. Approved.

A letter from the Audio-Visual Committee of the P.A.P.T. was read and it was moved by Mr. Weiburn that action in this matter be deferred until the fall meeting.

Miss Crook, chairman of the Inter-School Activities Committee requested that the various schools represented express their opinion concerning an inter-school concert. The suggestion received almost unanimous support and each school offered to contribute an item. It was suggested that the concert be put on twice, once in Huntingdon County and once in Chateaugay County. One tentative date was set for April 28.

Miss Phillips read the treasurer's report. The business meeting adjourned.

A delicious supper was served in the attractively decorated Household Science Room. Miss Getty then thanked the Staff of Huntingdon Academy for providing the repast.

When the meeting resumed, Mr. Gordon Heslam was introduced by Mr. MacMillan. He spoke on the subject of Pensions, supplying and clarifying many details of the Pension Law.

A short question period ensued.

Mrs. Robb introduced the artists of the evening, Mrs. Rivett, who presented two selections, "A Good Game of Bridge" and "Bessie's Bells". Mr. MacMillan favoured with a solo, "The Rose of Tralee" accompanied by Mrs. Sparrow and Mr. Moore and Mr. Peasey who presented four numbers, Hungarian Dance No. 5, Nocturne by Versay, Hungarian Dance No. 6 and Grand Fantasia for clarinet and piano.

Mr. Farquharson thanked the participating artists on behalf of the Association after which the meeting adjourned.

Easter — Truly A Religious Festival

With Easter at hand most people in the Chateaugay Valley were looking forward to a week-end of relaxation. The children awaited the Easter bunny with eagerness, more than one housewife hoping for a letter from a new hat in readiness for church on Sunday and, as likely as not, the man of the family was planning on a drive to the country. To many people Easter meant a rededication to Christian principles; at no time in the history of the human race was the need of such principles throughout the world so desperate. Easter to nearly everyone meant a temporary relief from the intense struggle of earning a living, a blessed escape from the hardships of reality, a lull in the cold war.

The Easter week-end came and went. The weather was at its best, churches were filled, Sherbrooke Street in Montreal witnessed a procession of bright new bonnets and in Huntingdon and elsewhere, more than one man greeted his neighbor with a feeling of greater goodwill. Throughout the Christian world, despite the civil war in China and the ever-present threat of communism, Easter stood for prayer, contentment and peace. When it was all over, when John Doe wakened on his birthday working day and Mrs. Housewife went about her daily tasks, they might have been asking themselves why the spirit of Easter-time couldn't be present at all times.

Easter Week-end Quiet Says Police Chief

Chief J. L'Heureux states that, apart from a few minor calls, the Easter week-end was what it should be, one of peace and good behaviour. Meanwhile, the Huntingdon Police and Fire Station is no exception to the general spring-time custom of cleaning and painting. A visitor to this place will find the main part of the fire station glistening under a new coat of paint and, over the past few weeks, the chief's office has been renovated and made larger. On the whole the inside of the building looks trim and neat, a credit to any community. Chief L'Heureux extends a friendly invitation to the public to "drop in for a visit".

Missing Woman's Body Found at Valleyfield

An inquest has been ordered in the case of Marguerite Nichols, 40, a native of Calcutta, India, and a resident of Valleyfield, Que., for several months, whose body was taken from the waters of the Riviere Courriere at Valleyfield on Friday afternoon. She had been missing since Jan. 4.

Police said two boatmen, Edmund O'Neill and Rene Rochford, found the body floating in the river at 2:40 p.m. Friday. It was identified by Gerald Phibbin, of 497 Harve boulevard, Valleyfield.

Chief J. L'Heureux Awarded Another Trophy

Chief J. L'Heureux has added another trophy to the long line of awards he has received over the past few years. Recently Chief L'Heureux was honoured for being the "1950 Athlete of the Year". The cup was presented to him by the International Federation of Body Builders and Mr. B. Wieder, editor and publisher of "Your Physique", "Muscle Power" and "Sante Force". The April issue of "Sante Force" contains a cover story about Chief L'Heureux outlining the highlights of his career and describing his remarkable development from a sickly child to a man with one of the best builds in North America.

Federal House Will Not Ease Divorce Laws

Cost-of-Living Index Reaches Highest Point Yet Reported

OTTAWA (CP) — Yet another attempt to broaden the grounds for divorce in Canada has proved unsuccessful.

Just before the House of Commons adjourned for its Easter recess, David Croll (L-Toronto Spadina) proposed setting up a special committee of the House to consider enlarging grounds for divorce.

The proposal met with even more concentrated resistance than in 1938 when this question was last debated in Parliament. Then a bill to broaden divorce grounds passed the senate and gained some support in the Commons, but finally the Commons shelved it by a vote of 102 to 53.

On this new try by Mr. Croll there wasn't even a vote, and of the six M.P.'s who spoke on the resolution only one backed up the Toronto member.

In consequence Mr. Croll withdrew his resolution. He said he wanted to test the opinion of the House and had found it negative.

Irishman's Canadian Ambassador
Ireland's first ambassador to Canada — Sean Murphy, his wife and four daughters — were officially welcomed to the capital last week by officials of the external affairs department.

The 53-year-old diplomat and former Irish minister to France and Belgium replaced John J. Hearne, who is now Ireland's ambassador to the United States.

Earlier, he pleaded for widening of the grounds of divorce to include desertion of more than three years, gross cruelty, incurable mental disease after five years and legal presumption of death.

He said Canada's present laws no longer adequately reflected the public need or the public mind.

"Our divorce laws are among the most restricted in the western world. It is high time we fumigated the divorce courts of this country and do away with perjury, collusion, connivance and fraud. In my view the present law is unreal."

Mr. Croll emphasized that he was not trying to increase the rate of divorce. He was trying to put divorce on a better basis. Mr. Croll said that divorce was not the cause of failure.

St. Agnes Boys Attend Marksmanship Contest

ST. AGNES — Over the past week and the first indoor target, sporting and service rifle shooting tournament was held at the armory of the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars, Cote des Neiges Road, Montreal. Those who attended one or more of the competitions from the local Dundee Rifle Club were Messrs. George Sutton, Cameron Farquhar and Danny McFarlane, who spent the weekend in the city. Messrs. Lisle Watterson, Vernon Elder, George McFarlane and Billy Tannahill who were present for the Sunday matches.

There was a record entry of nearly 250 marksmen from United States, Ontario and Quebec, who took part in the three-day indoor tournament. It is believed that this is the first time in Canada that sporting rifles, target rifles and pistol and revolver competitions have ever been staged under one roof.

Visitors were welcomed by Major D. McRae, president of the P.Q.R.A. The competitors fired chiefly for the honor of winning a number of gold medals awarded by the association, but challenge cup was on the block for the revolver team championship, and championship shields and arm badges for individual 22 and centre fire events. The facilities which permitted firing simultaneously on the 20 and 50 yard ranges and the hand-gun ranges were organized by the P.Q.R.A. staff under Major W. Dean O'Connor, secretary-treasurer.

Although the local boys do not expect to be awarded gold medals, they enjoyed the event to the fullest. The thousands of targets used were scored the past week, and winners of the events will be announced shortly.

Valleyfield - Beauharnois Chemical Institute of Canada Meeting

VALLEYFIELD — The regular monthly meeting of the Valleyfield-Beauharnois Section of the Chemical Institute of Canada was held in Beauharnois on Monday, April 3rd. The guest speaker was Mr. H. G. Letch, Head Brewer of National Breweries Limited, Montreal.

The meeting was preceded by a tour of the Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Company's plant. The members were shown all the phases and equipment in generating 800,000 horse-power from the 75 foot head of water above the power house. It was explained that the new construction now under way would double the plant's output.

Mr. Letch's topic was "The Art of Brewing." He gave a brief outline of the history of beer-making, remarking that there is some evidence that the art was known before the recorded history of mankind. In early days, when "home-brew" was the principal beverage, it was a woman's job to make the beer.

The speaker was Mr. H. G. Letch, who is a pure natural product of barley, hops, water and yeast.

Mr. Letch described how barley is malted with extreme care, dried, weighed and mixed with water to form the wort. This wort is then boiled with hops, which give the beer its flavour, the hops strained off, and yeast added. The wort is allowed to ferment, and the gas which is formed is saved for later use in the process.

After fermentation, the beer is stored for about three months in order to mature. It is then filtered, the gas added, and the beer is bottled. The bottles are master-coded, packed in cartons and shipped.

Mr. Letch concluded his address by showing a film which described the operations of the National Breweries Limited.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Doug. Cameron and thanked by Mr. S. J. Anderson.

Around the Home...

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

After hitting my nose with a hoe handle when I was mopping the garage door yesterday, I have finally decided to put my tools in order—not before it was needed either! After filing several plans carefully in the wastebasket I came up with one that is quite serviceable. Maybe there are others who could use the same arrangement, so it is illustrated. While I'm at it, all tool handles are going to receive a fresh coat of bright red paint to cut down on the time wasted in looking for "lost" equipment.

Gardening fever

I find this the hardest season to restrain one's impulse to get out in the garden. Just up the street today, I noticed a chap who was trying to beat the sun by planting a few seeds. Whatever they are, the plants will likely be frozen off but that man will go to sleep with a strong feeling of accomplishment! Give expression to your gardening urge by making seed flats, seed flat shades, plant dibbers and the like. Your labour will not be in vain and you will be all set to act quickly when the proper time comes.

One of the smartest ideas I have seen in a long time was picked up on a visit last week. The house when I stayed was being furnished by two newbyweds. They chose an attractive bedroom suite but felt they couldn't afford the price of a vanity seat. An old cheese box was picked up on the market for considerably less than a dollar; the lid was padded and covered with attractive chintz that draped to the floor. I'll wager the seat they would like to have had was no more attractive than the one they made. The cheese box also served as a catch-all for out-of-season footwear.

Knick-Knack Shelves

To be displayed properly, small ornaments require a shelf. Nothing is more attractive or useful for this purpose than a wall bracket or corner shelf. I met a chap the other day who was turning out several types of knick-knack holders on his basement workbench. Three of the types he found most attractive are illustrated.

Warm Clothing In our country, clothing is needed to protect the skin from cold air. It is recommended to wear loose underclothing with open meshes. The warm air trapped in the meshes of the garment will protect the body from the cold. Out-of-doors, thicker outer garments are needed to prevent the wind from driving out this warm air. Clothing dampened with rain or perspiration chills the body quickly because heat is lost in evaporating the moisture from the clothes. It is therefore important to change these clothes promptly.

Cool Clothing In hot weather or hot rooms you should wear only light clothing—taking care, of course, to protect your skin from sudden changes. Wool or wool mixture, next to the skin is best for those who sweat a lot—it doesn't get as sticky as cotton. Buy cotton or rayon underclothes are just as good for those who don't sweat much. In hot weather, light-colored clothing is preferable.

The King's English and Its Yankee Offspring

The welcome influx of British visitors to America and American visitors to Britain, which air travel is now facilitating, has no doubt come just in time. Pleasant contact with British friends who have arrived on this side convinces me that only such rapid exchange and contact can save the people of the two countries from soon speaking two different languages. And what good would it do for words to come from the same root if they meant totally different things?

Once I entertained the deluded notion that I spoke English. Now I know that I speak the American language, many words of which are confusing to my British friends. These essentially English terms are likewise strange to me.

For instance, a permanent to me is a perm to them. What I recognize as a baby carriage is a pram and what I know as a street car or trolley is a tram, but a trolley (the same root as trolley wheels) is a trolley. My elevator is a lift, my eggbeater a whisk, my refrigerator a "frig," and my hardware dealer is an "ironmonger."

The other day one of the English ladies was shopping for suspenders. I looked at her in some surprise—as perhaps the salesgirl did also—and explained that she was probably looking for what we called garters or supporters.

"Oh, no," she replied. "I do not mean garters. Those are round and one rolls one's stockings down over them. I mean suspenders to hold the stockings up."

"Suspenders," I explained in my best American, "are what men wear over their shoulders to hold up their trousers."

"Oh, no," she said. "We call those braces." And so we both laughed and agreed on the term supporters.

Our bobby pins are Kirby grips to the English girls—a formidable sounding name and a free ad. for Mr. Kirby, whoever he may be. Dress snaps are press buttons; and a spool of thread, a reel of cotton to them.

A two-way stretch girdle is a roll-on, and a pancake griddle is a griddle; an undershirt to us is a vest to them and our mixing bowl is a basin. Clothes pins in America are clothes pegs in England; high winter boots are Wellingtons; absorbent cotton is cotton wool; and a table napkin is a serviette. A photograph or record-player in America becomes a gramophone in England.

What to us is a fitted coat is a fitting coat to them. Our wash dresses they know as washing dresses.

An English friend on duty for her government in Washington during the war was told again and again, "Sorry, he's in conference," when she was obliged to call some important official. "Do they have nothing but conferences in America?" she finally demanded of one of her associates. "They mean having an interview, instead of a 'conference,'" it was carefully explained, so she added another American term to her vocabulary.

Chateauguay

Easter services at St. Andrew's United Church included a Good Friday morning service and the regular services on Sunday.

At the Sunday morning service Rev. D. R. Morrison preached to a capacity congregation. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Hartland Rowell rendered three anthems: "Christ is Risen", "The Lord is My Strength" and "Break Forth Into Joy".

In the evening there was a short dedicatory service of the new light shades, the gift of the Woman's Association to the church, sharing in this service with Mr. Morrison, Mr. A. Bignell, president of the W.A. This evening service terminated the duties of Mrs. Hartland Rowell as organist and choir director. The Session and congregation appreciate very much the splendid leadership Mrs. Hartland has given during the years she has presided at the organ and led the Choir in the Service of Praise.

Mrs. Eric Smith has been appointed to succeed Mrs. Rowell.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ormstown Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. Marshall. There were 25 members and guests present. Mr. Sault spoke on all types of fabric from the oldest known fabric (cotton) to the present day glass fabric, of which he brought samples to show his listeners. The process through which wool, cotton, linen, rayon, nylon and other fibers, from the raw material to the finished product, was very ably described by Mr. Sault. The various questions asked, was ample proof of the utmost interest to all present. Mr. Sault was thanked by Mrs. A. K. English in her usual gracious manner.

Plans were completed for a "500" and Bridge to be held in the Oddfellows' Hall, April 19, with Messdames, McNeil, W. Kilgour, K. McCartney, Bryson and McLellan in charge. Tea was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. John McCaffrey.

WHEN YOU SHOULD STOP ADVERTISING

Just a few suggestions to the man who feels his business and his name are so well known that he needs no sales help!

- WHEN man becomes a creature of habit so thoroughly he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year . . .
- WHEN younger, fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and taking "your customers" away through advertising . . .
- WHEN population ceases to increase and no new folk want to live and work in your town . . .
- WHEN you have thoroughly convinced everyone who ever has or ever will be in your store that they will now and forever get better buys from you . . .
- WHEN business principles reverse and the non-advertiser does more business than the successful advertising merchant . . .
- WHEN men stop making tremendous strides in business through well-planned newspaper advertising . . .
- WHEN you can forget the words of wise merchants the world over who attribute their success to wise use of newspaper advertising . . .
- WHEN you would rather have your own way, even if you fail, than follow advice and perhaps win success . . .
- WHEN you want to be rid of the troubles of waiting on customers and tired of making money.

Do Not Destroy Road Signs

ROADS in the spring are not all that they should be and show signs of the punishment that is inflicted upon them by the rigors of winter. As the snow gradually disappears and the flood waters recede, huge cracks and holes are to be seen on the highways. Driving a car over the roads is not always that smooth rhythm that is enjoyed when roads are in good repair—a deep depression here and a series of holes there, keeps the driver's attention continually focused ahead for what may be to come.

Yes, we curse the road maintenance dept., the government, the member, and anyone else in any way connected with the situation. We forget to think of the weather that these roads have gone through, we forget that time between winter and when repairs are made must elapse. The roads must be dry before repairs can be made or the repair materials will not annex to the original surfacing to make a good job.

The road dept. does try to call attention to the dangers of bad roads by erecting signs of various kinds tended to warn motorists and others of the bad portions of road. Red flags are placed at points where a particularly bad hole or break is located and these are intended to warn motorists to drive with caution. Unfortunately there are some people who take a delight in damaging these signs or removing them altogether. It may be the work of mischievous children or it may be that some older persons are responsible, but several of such signs have been removed or damaged in the past week. It is obvious that with such signs not in evidence that motorists are frequently given a severe jolting, or even end up in the ditch and a bad accident. It is then that the road maintenance dept. comes in for a criticism. Why wasn't something done about it, the roads are a disgrace and menace to all who travel upon them, and so forth.

We have not come to the defence of the road dept., in that all roads in bad shape are due to rigors of winter weather, but we do feel that right is right. If the dept. has taken the trouble to have men out on the roads seeking out the danger spots and then marking them as such, then the least that people can do is to leave the signs alone. This much of the road dept's attempt to warn all possible will then be seen. No doubt as quickly as the weather allows, the bad places on the roads will be put into repair and made safe for travel. Judging from the number of bad places on the roads this spring, the men of the maintenance dept. will be kept quite busy for some weeks to come. Meanwhile motorists be patient, winter has not yet disappeared around the corner.

Who Invented Margarine Anyway?

WITH the pros and cons of margarine being argued in almost every newspaper and public forum, it is strange that the man who indirectly gave rise to all this controversy has emerged relatively unscathed by the angry attacks of the dairymen. No mention has been made of the man who invented the product known as oleomargarine; few in Huntingdon county and elsewhere even know his name.

A Frenchman, R. Mege-Mouries first made margarine in an abortive attempt to produce a cheaper form of butter. Stimulated by a prize offered by the French Navy for something cheaper and longer lasting than butter, Mege-Mouries went to work. The French chemist believed that butter was little more than converted cow fat and reasoned that if he could somehow digest that substance artificially, if he could reproduce the reactions taking place within the cow's organisms, he would have a means of making butter. Mege-Mouries heated fat to blood temperature added liberal quantities of sheep's stomach, cow's udder and milk. The result looked to him very much like butter but even though the French Chemist was awarded the prize, (in 1870) further research revealed that the resulting concoction was still far short of the mark.

Scientists in the United States and Holland then took up the struggle, found that it was only necessary to mix fat with slightly-soured, skimmed milk. It was found that the fat when separated and worked, took on a buttery taste which could be made even more convincing with a little coloring and a dash of salt. Today, the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of oleomargarine are oleo stearin, oleo oil, oleo stock, (all from beef fat), peanut oil, coconut oil, cottonseed oil, palm oil, neutral lard, milk butter and salt. The product can hardly be distinguished from butter and more than one authority has stated that it has more nutritive value than the real thing.

Something Good to Hear, Something Good to Do

HUNTINGDONIANS over the past few years have become enjoyably accustomed to gathering at either the United Church or the Presbyterian Church to hear the sacred concerts offered by the United Choirs of the three Protestant churches. Another such occasion is offering for this Sunday evening, April 16th, this time in the Presbyterian Church. The theme of the concert will be based on the Easter religious festival and the combined choirs have been practicing for the past number of weeks in order to bring themselves to perfection.

The three churches forego their regular evening services in order that the choral service may be presented as a special occasion. All ministers take part in the service and prayers and hymns are sung by the combined congregation as a part of the service. Thus no actual religious value is lost and in fact it tends to bring more together than perhaps would otherwise be the case. People do like good music and there is something about music that seems to lull and soothe the nerves into a sense of well being. This is an event that all will want to attend and one from which great enjoyment will be obtained.

The offering received will go to the Huntingdon County Hospital, as is the case when these sacred concerts have been held in the past. In this way you will not only enjoy the music, but you will have the pleasure of helping along a worthy cause at the same time. Plan now to attend this special choral service on Sunday evening.

Safety Precautions Pay Off

ON Thursday, the annual Safety Conference will be held in Huntingdon under the auspices of the Quebec Association for the Prevention of Industrial Accidents and Mr. Georges St. Martin will be in charge of the arrangements.

We feel that these annual get-togethers have had an effect on the lessening of the number of industrial and other accidents in this district and that those in charge of groups of workers are more safety conscious. Accidents can easily happen when a person gets over confident with machinery and the skilled person is more liable than the unskilled. The reason for this no doubt, is that the skilled person forgets the dangers attached to the machine in the confidence gained. Even minor accidents should be checked upon as to cause and constant warnings by foremen and forewomen to the workers about the prevention of accidents should be for ever given. Floors about machinery and belts should be kept clean of oil and litter in order to minimize the danger of a fall against, or into the machinery. Brightly painted interiors of buildings and the outstanding coloring of various objects within the building have been found to be beneficial in the prevention of accidents.

It is said that more accidents occur in the home than anywhere else and this is due to the fact that less precautions are taken there. Even those who practice safety measures at their place of work, ignore the hazards in the home. Articles left on stairs have been the cause of many a bad fall, standing on unsafe ladders and tables, etc., to reach into cupboards and high places have resulted in bad accidents. Highly polished floors with loose rugs are another source of danger to the unsuspecting.

Traffic accidents have been and are the cause of many injuries and sometimes death. The driver of the automobile is particularly called upon to exercise care particularly near schools and where small children may be playing in the streets. People have a habit of darting out from behind parked cars and care should be taken when driving in such areas. The driver should always remain alert when at the wheel, in this way many an accident can be prevented.

The farm can also be included in the safety conscious program and there is plenty of scope to take precautions against possible accidents. It is the little things which count in all accident prevention, if a person becomes conscious of even the smallest possible danger, the big ones will also be taken care of. Keeping machinery in good repair will bring out the possibility of probable accidents as well as avoid the danger of accidents. Tractors are most useful when handled with care, but can be a source of danger when not properly looked after. Guard against all accidents and become safety conscious for safety's sake.

A Red Sunrise, Perhaps?

Weekly Review ARE PROFITS AN EVIL THING?

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

"This generation can be distinguished from its grandfathers because it has come to believe that profits are an evil thing," said Mr. Roland Bird, deputy editor of The Economist (London), in a recent lecture delivered to the Liverpool Economic and Statistical Society. He said there was more misunderstanding and deliberate distortion about profits than about any other economic question. There was a growing school that would end or severely curtail profits, and Mr. Bird thought this was "the mark of a static and declining economy, content with the present stage of development and not even prepared to do enough to maintain it, because it insisted on consuming its capital."

"This is a good and clear diagnosis of the rapid consumption that has set in in British economy in the last five years under Socialist planning. One need not be a trained economist to grasp the plain truth that no business can be carried on without profits, and that the consumption of capital ends in bankruptcy. Yet Socialists would have us believe that profits are not only unnecessary, but are the cause of all economic and social ills. John Strachey, in his book, "Theory and Practice of Socialism," begins by condemning the profit motive. "Capitalism," he says, "uses profitably as the criterion, or test, of whether or not any given thing should be produced, and, if so, how much of it should be produced."

When Mr. Strachey was Minister of Food, he had an opportunity of putting his no-profit theory to a practical test. He promoted a scheme for the production of groundnuts (peanuts) in the Kenya colony. It was financed by the Labor Government and was to be an example of public enterprise. Tens of millions of pounds were expended on the project, but it proved a white elephant which rapidly consumed all the capital invested in it, with little prospect of producing sufficient peanuts to pay for operating expenses. Things got into such a mess that Mr. Strachey went to the colony to see for himself what was the matter. Since then there has been no report on the condition of the project, and now Mr. Strachey has been appointed war minister and is reputed of any further worry about producing peanuts on a profitless basis.

If Mr. Strachey had used profitability as the test of whether or not peanuts should be produced in Kenya he would have saved the British taxpayers a lot of money and himself a lot of grief. His experience as a promoter must have taught him that even a public enterprise must yield a profit on the money invested or sooner or later go bankrupt.

In his lecture Mr. Roland Bird said the key to the economic problem in Britain was the ability of industry, not only to maintain, but to expand its fixed and floating capital. He defined profits as "the sum remaining from trading operations after meeting all current charges and after making full provision for the replacement of capital, at current cost." Out of this sum, he said, industry paid a competitive return on its capital, and set aside new savings for capital extensions. Because of government restrictions on profits he said industry had not been able to maintain its capital intact, much less to put aside savings for extensions.

Mr. Bird said it was almost unbelievable that ideas on profits had become so mixed up in the minds of union workers. "But after a recent basis of claim put forward by the engineers for an extra £1 a week, on the ground that 'profits' were equal to £3 and £4 a week a worker, one is ready to believe almost anything." And he concluded: "Until we get rid of the idea that profits are an expression of private rapacity, and substitute for it the idea of industry renewing itself and paying a fair return on risk capital, prejudice will have a long start over truth."

work on the old St. Andrew's building to adapt it for their place of business. The Moir Hotel has been sold to B. Schwartz and R. M. P. Wald, both of Montreal.

President Taft's proposal that the United States and Britain should take a practical step towards securing world peace by making a treaty that any difference that may arise between them shall be settled by arbitration, has evoked so warm a response that it looks as if it will be carried into effect. At a great meeting held in London on Friday, Premier Asquith declared that the President of the United States had cast a seed on ground prepared to receive it. If, he added, these two democracies renounce war a step will be taken of immeasurable significance towards the progress of humanity.

The Band of Hope meeting on Friday evening took place in the lecture room of St. John's Church. There was good singing, especially in the choruses. Fanny Friend and Marjorie Clouston joined in a duet, as did the Hyde sisters. Recitations were given by Anna Somerville, Greta Cogland, John McFarlane, Everett Cogland and Raymond Hamilton.

A well-attended Easter concert was given by St. John's Church on Monday evening. A bountiful supper was served to over a hundred persons. Afterwards there was a programme of songs, recitations and addresses by the local clergy.

It was only a short while ago that the Titanic, the world's largest ship left the hands of her builders in Belfast. Her tonnage was over 46,000 and she had accommodation for over 3,000 passengers and a crew of 900. Her cabins were fitted in the most luxurious style, affording those who chose to pay the price ($4,200 for two suites) all the indulgences and superfluities of the palatial Hotels of New York. Her cost was 10 million dollars. When the building of the monster was begun, there were surmises as to the dreadful loss of life and property should it be wrecked. The ready answer was that this huge vessel was so strongly built and so scientifically designed as to be practically unsinkable. At all events the first voyage of the Titanic was looked forward to with interest and on April 10th, the great ship sailed. Everything went well until Sunday night. The Titanic was four days out and 300 miles south of Newfoundland, being just off the banks. The night was clear, the sea calm and anticipation among the passengers was for an early arrival in New York, for the vessel had proved herself to be a veritable greyhound. There was no slackening of speed, and though the ice was in sight, the ship remained on course. At 10:20 p.m. she struck an iceberg squarely with her bow.

While the passengers were told that there was no immediate danger, that the ship might yet make port, they were told to get ready to take to the small boats. Meanwhile four steamships within 300 miles of her picked up a wireless message and made their way to the scene. When they arrived, however, they were greeted by a fleet of rowboats; there was no Titanic in sight. The vessel had gone to the bottom only four hours after the mishap, carrying with her over 1300 souls. Latest: Nothing more definite of the tragedy can be learned until the relief ship arrives. A wireless dispatch today says that 2000 persons went down on the Titanic.

The first thunderstorm of the season passed over this district on Sunday night. Rarely has the village been so stirred up as during the last few days. As a result of the great marine catastrophe, C. H. Lamb has been completely sold out of his nightly supply of papers.

Friday evening the members of the Epworth League gave a sugar social in the Methodist lecture room. A programme of entertainment was presented but the feature of the evening was a recitation contest. Prizes were won by Douglas Smith, Douglas Lunan, Charlie Goodfellow and Margaret Shirriff.

At a special meeting of the Curling Club on Tuesday night, A. A. Lunan and J. R. Oney were appointed delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Royal Caledonia Society to be held in Montreal on Saturday.

J. G. Forgette has purchased his home on York Street from Alex. King for $300. Samuel Montgomery has sold his home lot in the Laird Settlement to Alfred Leduc.

Principal Crutchfield has announced a rule which should be well enforced at this time of the year. He wants all scholars of the Academy to be in their homes by 8 p.m.

EXTRA FARM HELP

CHATHAM, Ont., (CP)—One hundred displaced persons will arrive in the Chatham district this spring to work in sugar beet fields. A similar group of workers from overseas was used last year and after sugar beet operations were finished they were established on individual farms.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken From Gleaner Files

April 13, 1911
The situation in Mexico grows more serious. The trouble is spreading and, in the guerrilla fighting that is going on, the government troops are not having the best of it. Every attempt is being made to put down the rebels. The disturbed state of the country is delaying the crops and famine may follow the war.

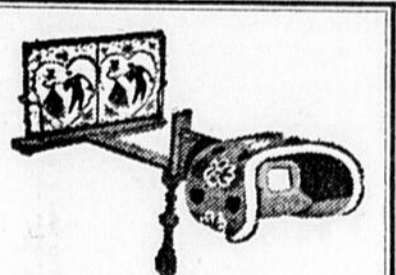

Hemmingford—The streams are very high and for some time it was feared that the bridges at Corbin would go. Fortunately, while the water was high, the ice has not moved. Mr. Burke had a gang of men watching until all danger had passed. The village council have in view the lighting of, at least the thickly settled part of the village. A lamp of 2000 candle power is now on trial, and, if it works satisfactorily for the next three weeks, will probably be installed near Fisher's store.

Howick—Several proprietors are going to build cement walks opposite their properties. A gratifying change has been made in the running of the Grand Trunk. Instead of being habitually late, often an hour or more, its whistle is now heard sharp on time. Good!

London—With the final approval of the order of the Coronation, the rehearsals for the ceremony have begun in Westminster Abbey. The cost of the ceremony, according to a white paper just issued is $925,000, which is just $301,150 more than the cost of King Edward's coronation nine years ago.

Ormsdown—Much praise is due to our village fathers for their thoughtfulness in scraping and carting away the mud of the streets. Eastertide was accompanied by ungenial weather, to the disappointment of all and especially those who availed themselves of the holiday to visit friends. It rained on Good Friday and snowed on Sunday.

Braithwaite Bros. have started work on the old St. Andrew's building to adapt it for their place of business. The Moir Hotel has been sold to B. Schwartz and R. M. P. Wald, both of Montreal.

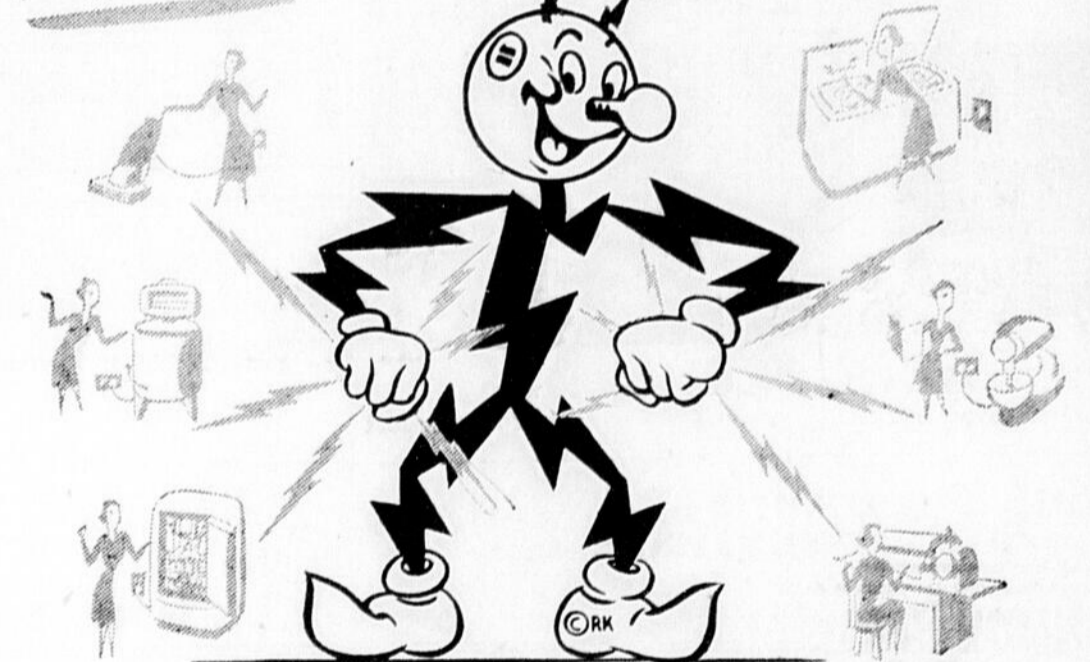

President Taft's proposal that the United States and Britain should take a practical step towards securing world peace by making a treaty that any difference that may arise between them shall be settled by arbitration, has evoked so warm a response that it looks as if it will be carried into effect. At a great meeting held in London on Friday, Premier Asquith declared that the President of the United States had cast a seed on ground prepared to receive it. If, he added, these two democracies renounce war a step will be taken of immeasurable significance towards the progress of humanity.

The Band of Hope meeting on Friday evening took place in the lecture room of St. John's Church. There was good singing, especially in the choruses. Fanny Friend and Marjorie Clouston joined in a duet, as did the Hyde sisters. Recitations were given by Anna Somerville, Greta Cogland, John McFarlane, Everett Cogland and Raymond Hamilton.

A well-attended Easter concert was given by St. John's Church on Monday evening. A bountiful supper was served to over a hundred persons. Afterwards there was a programme of songs, recitations and addresses by the local clergy.

It was only a short while ago that the Titanic, the world's largest ship left the hands of her builders in Belfast. Her tonnage was over 46,000 and she had accommodation for over 3,000 passengers and a crew of 900. Her cabins were fitted in the most luxurious style, affording those who chose to pay the price ($4,200 for two suites) all the indulgences

Huntingdon W.I. Meeting
The regular meeting of the Huntingdon W.I. was held April 4th in the Domestic Science Room of the Huntingdon High School. Mr. Savard, representative of the Singer Sewing Machine, gave the members a very instructive demonstration on how to use the various attachments belonging to their sewing machines. After the demonstration the business part of the meeting was conducted. Several "Thank You" notes were read from sick members for baskets of fruit they had received. Members also liked the thought of sending Easter Greetings to all shut-ins who are members or well-wishers of the W.I. An apron parade was held with members modeling their aprons. Mrs. Bruce won the prize for the best liked apron. Mrs. Bruce also showed a number of aprons she had made during the winter.

AUBREY-RIVERFIELD - The April meeting of the W.I. was held on Thursday afternoon, April 6th, at the home of Mrs. Hiram Reddick and was opened with the usual Ode and Club Woman's Creed. The roll call was responded to by childhood memories, which were varied and caused many a laugh. Plans were made for the County Convention which will be held in Riverfield Church Hall, on May 5th. Current Events included Agriculture—Time to get after the Warble Fly. Citizenship—A picture of an item on Queen Mary's rug. Home Economics—Rub butter around edge of pan to prevent vegetables from boiling over; always use lemon juice to remove stains from hands; an old whisk cut V shape to dust out corners; to slip curtains on a rod easily, put a finger of a glove on end of rod. Welfare and Health—Advice to farmers to wear a girdle to ease joints when riding on tractors or trucks. Publicity—News from Quebec W.I. The guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Andrew McParlane, who gave a most interesting talk on her school-day experiences, in play acting and concert work during her teaching career, and stressing the fact that she had gained much valuable knowledge from her experiences. An Easter poem entitled "The Easter Story in a new way" was read by Mrs. John Gruer. "Happy Birthday" was sung to a member, Elizabeth Rorison, whose birthday fell on that day. A Questionnaire on cooking problems brought out some discussions and helpful information. Three new members were added to the roll. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. Math McKel and Mrs. Ern. Reddick. The next meeting will be held on May 2nd at the home of Mrs. John Bustard and will include a sale of plants, slips and bulbs.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION OF CANADA FOR VALLEYFIELD DISTRICT ELECT MEDARD CHARTRAND AS PRESIDENT FOR CURRENT YEAR

MEDARD CHARTRAND

S. J. ROZON

JOSAPHAT LEGAULT

VALLEYFIELD — The March meeting of the Valleyfield District Life Underwriters' Association was held on the 23rd of the month at the Tourist Club. The object of the meeting was the election of officers for the current year.

Mr. Medard Chartrand of Imperial Life was unanimously elected President, replacing Mr. Vital Seguin, assistant manager of the Metropolitan Life, who retires after a most successful year of advancing the ideals of the Association and its local members.

Mr. S. J. Rozon, District representative of The Canada Life was elected Vice-President to succeed Mr. Medard Chartrand.

Mr. Josephat Legault, representative of Alliance Nationale, was appointed Secretary-Treasurer, replacing Mr. Lucien Prevost of The Metropolitan Life.

The local Organization of the Life Underwriters' Association came to the Valleyfield District a few years ago. Harmony is the predominant note of the organization. The aim of the association is to assist life insurance salesmen. Any life underwriter, who has been in the business for at least six months may join.

The part played by the Association is considerable. The Department of Insurance insists that a Life Insurance agent be licensed, upon the recommendation of a Life Insurance Company, registered in the provinces; this with a view to reveal to the public that he is a man of good moral character, who has a knowledge of what Life Insurance is and does, and who will act conscientiously in all matters pertaining to the business.

The strict adherence, by the agent, to the proper ethics of the business, which the law insists upon, is a guarantee of protection to the public. The enforcement of these regulations is one of the main objectives of The Life Underwriters' Association.

Mr. Norman Fortin has started work on the building of a new bakery shop to replace one which was completely destroyed by fire about a month ago. Oil makes a country strong

Try to imagine life without oil! Oil supplies one-quarter of all the heat and power we use... in home and factory, on farm and highway. It helps us live better.

For years Canadians have had to depend on foreign countries for almost all the oil they used. Now, after a long and costly search, big new fields have been found in Alberta.

The more oil we produce right here in Canada the stronger we will be. Already the new discoveries have made thousands of new jobs. Millions of U.S. dollars once needed for imported oil are now being saved by the new oil fields, and the prairie consumers are saving money too.

In order that Canadians may reap further benefits, Alberta oil must reach new markets. It must be moved to eastern Canada—2,000 miles away—where it must compete with oil from other areas. That means holding transport costs down to a minimum.

To bring Alberta oil east a tube of steel will span one-third of the continent—from Edmonton to Lake Superior. It is taking shape now. To carry the oil on to Ontario refineries, the largest inland tankers ever built are being constructed in Canadian yards.

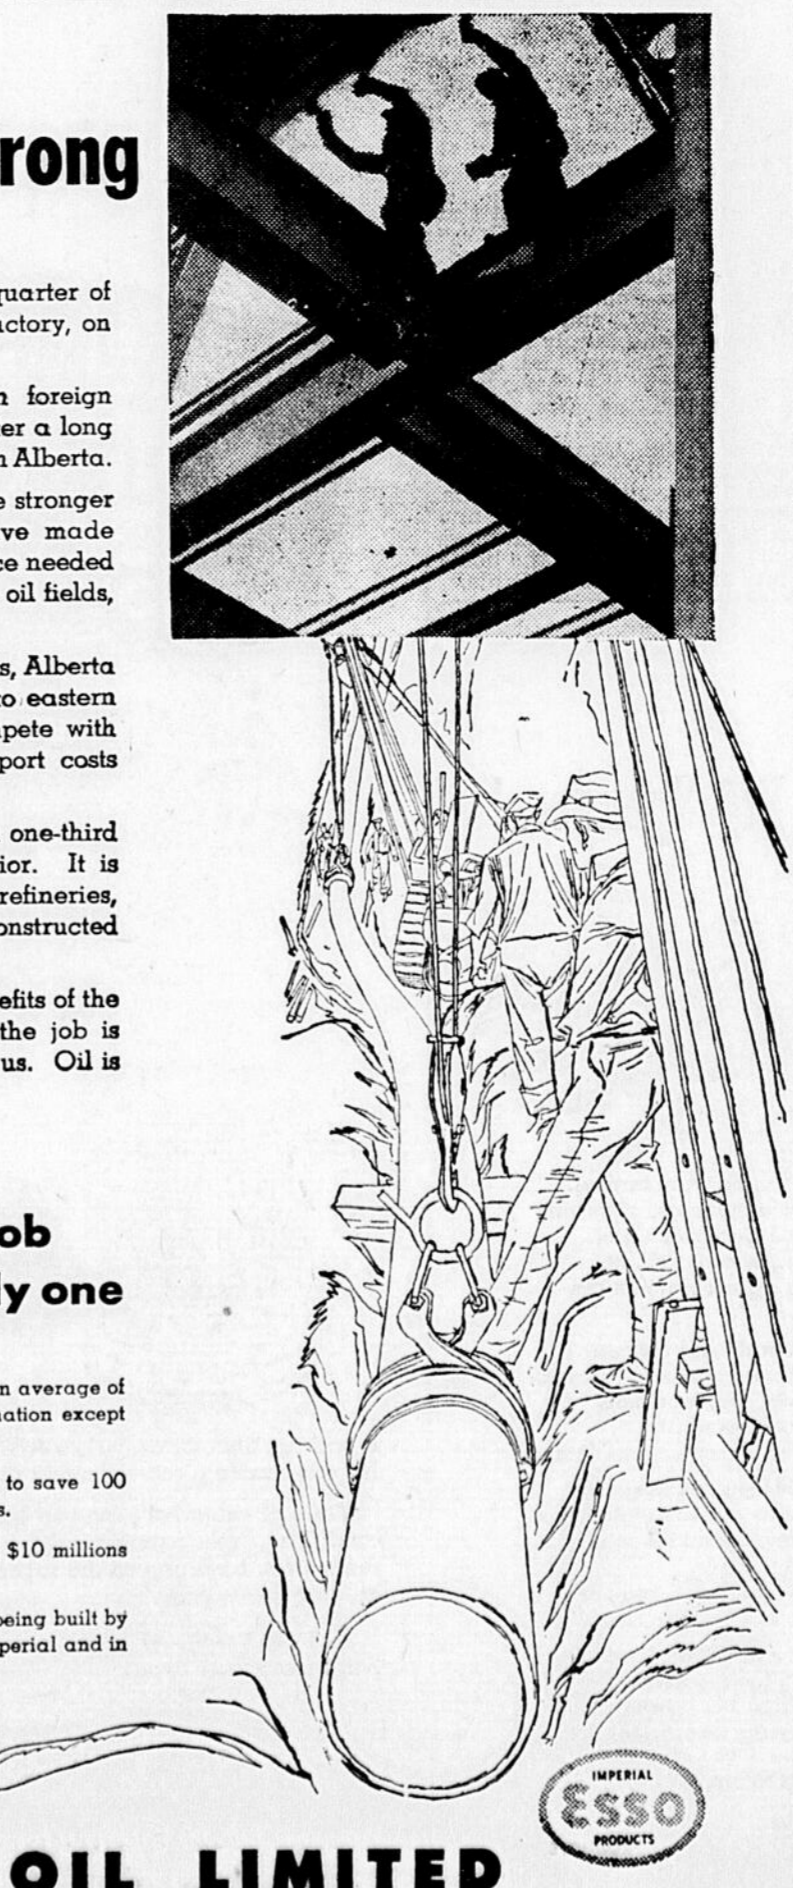

There's a big job still to be done before the full benefits of the new oil discoveries reach all Canadians. But the job is being carried on with increasing benefit to all of us. Oil is strengthening the nation.

Bringing you oil is a big job... and a costly one

About Canada's Oil—Last year Canadians used an average of 300 gallons of oil each. This is more, per capita, than any nation except the United States.

By replacing imports, Canadian oil production is expected to save 100 million scarce U.S. dollars in 1950; next year, $145 millions.

Imperial is building a new refinery at Winnipeg at a cost of $10 millions to process Alberta Oil. The 1,150-mile pipe line from Edmonton to Lake Superior is being built by Interprovincial Pipe Line Co., which was sponsored by Imperial and in which Imperial holds a minority interest.
