152 PERSONS DIE IN TEXAS-OKLAHOMA TORNADO

World News In Brief

Dublin, Eire, April 10.—(Reuters) Desmond Fitzgerald, former Defence Minister of External Affairs in the administration of William T. Cosgrave, died yesterday after a brief illness.

One of the most versatile of Irish politicians, he was a journalist in London and Paris before 1914. He directed the Propaganda Department of the Sinn Fein movement and later became a critic of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's Government.

Detroit, April 10.—(P)—The C.I.O. United Automobile Workers will open negotiations Thursday with General Motors Corp. on their demand for hourly wage raises of 23 1/2 cents.

Union negotiators will be headed by U.A.W.-C.I.O. President Walter P. Reuther, head of the Union's G.M. department, and John Livingston, U.A.W. regional director from Kansas City.

Harry W. Anderson, vice-president in charge of personnel and Louis C. Seaton, director of labor relations, will represent the company.

Lachute, Que., April 10.—(P)—Workers at the Ayers Limited textile mill here at a general meeting last night voted to go on strike today after they were informed by United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.) officials that negotiations for a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase had been turned down by the company. About 550 employees are involved.

Last night's vote followed an earlier one two weeks ago which was in favor of strike action following unsuccessful negotiations for a contract. At this time U.T.W.A. officials persuaded the employees to remain at work while the Provincial Labor Department was asked to conciliate the dispute.

Efforts of Chief Conciliator Cyprien Miron to have union and company officials reach an agreement failed and another strike vote was taken.

Other union demands are two weeks' vacation with pay after two years' service, six legal holidays a year and a union shop.

Val d'Or, Que., April 10.—(P)—Toussaint Cere, 29, and Conrad Morissette, 30, both of Val d'Or, who appeared in court yesterday on a charge of stealing gold worth $41,000 from an express wagon on the platform of the Canadian National Railway station here last week had their trial adjourned until the September assizes at nearby Amqui.

Bail for each was set at $1,500 cash or $3,000 property.

The pair are alleged to have stolen two gold bricks which were destined for the Royal Canadian Mint at Ottawa and had just been delivered to the express office from Sigma Mines.

Thousand Hurt As Disastrous Storm Rips Five Counties

Toll of Dead Expected to Increase as Rescue Workers Search Rubble of Wrecked Houses—100 Killed in One Community Alone.

Canadian, Tex., April 10.—(P)—At least 152 persons were counted dead today in the Texas-Oklahoma Pandhandle country in the wake of a tornado that ripped through five counties last night. At least another thousand persons were believed injured.

Rescue workers searching the rubble of wrecked houses said they believed the toll would be much higher.

Hardest hit was Woodward, Okla., where 100 persons were known dead. Jewell L. Wilson, night supervisor at the Woodward Memorial Hospital, said the number of injured might run as high as 800 there.

Approximately a third of Woodward, a city of 5,500 population in the heart of the Oklahoma cattle country, was flattened by the tornado. Fire broke out after the tornado passed.

Fire departments from neighboring towns fought the blaze for approximately an hour before bringing it under control. They were helped by a torrential rain that began falling after the tornado.

Medical corpsmen from Tinker Field near Oklahoma City assisted in treating the injured. Other military units from Tinker Field aided in the relief work.

Twenty persons were estimated to have died at Glazier, a village of 200. Forty persons injured there were treated at Canadian. Only one building was left standing at Glazier.

Another 20 persons died at Higgins. At least 150 were injured.

Higgins was levelled except for the telephone exchange bank and school building, all brick. Two blocks of the business district were destroyed by fire, brought under control early today.

Rubble blocked virtually all traffic. Only ambulances were permitted to travel. The State sent a bulldozer to clear the streets and wrecker trucks to haul out wrecked automobiles. A five-room house was set down in the middle of a highway leading to Shattuck, Okla., and traffic detoured through a wheat field. The highway was strewn with barbed wire from fences, further impeding travel.

As reports still came in from the stricken area the American Red Cross rushed in doctors, nurses, blood plasma, bedding and food.

The Department of Public Safety used its two-way short wave radio to replace disrupted communications.

The tornado first hit White Deer, Texas, about 5:45 p.m. It injured three persons, blew a house from its foundations, wrecked a garage and derailed 21 cars of a moving Santa Fe freight train.

The tornado was sighted at Pampa and Miami as it moved north-eastward along the line of the Santa Fe railroad. It skirted Canadian and then struck Glazier with its full fury.

Coburn, a railroad switching station, was destroyed.

Phone Pickets Tree A Lineman

This telephone lineman got himself up a tree, so to speak, in Newark, N.J. Striking telephone operators got the word that he had climbed a pole for repair work. When the operators threw a picket line around the pole, he came down in a hurry.

Sharp 'Quake In Los Angeles Area

Los Angeles, April 10.—(AP)—A sharp earthquake, subsiding into a rolling tremor lasting almost a minute, rocked most of Southern California at 7:59 a.m. PST today, but there were no immediate reports of loss of life or serious damage.

Seismologists at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, said the quake's length indicated that it was deep-seated and probably severe in some locality.

But a quick check of key points from Santa Barbara to the Imperial Valley city of El Centro disclosed no severe loss.

A bank window was broken in Glendale and there were reports of minor damage in the artists' colony at Laguna Beach.

It was felt only slightly in Santa Barbara, to the north, and San Bernardino, to the east. El Centro said it was not recorded there. A Caltech source earlier had said that it might have been centered in that section, hit periodically by moderately severe quakes.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Canadian Anglican Primate

Toronto, April 10.—(P)—The sudden death of Archbishop Derwyn Trevor Owen, Anglican Primate of All Canada, today was mourned by heads of church and state, leaders in business and the professions—a host of prominent persons who saw in his passing the loss of a great Canadian.

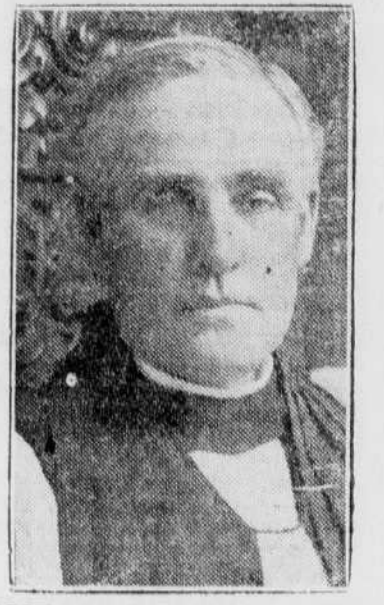

Archbishop Owen, a tall handsome figure at 70 years of age, died in hospital yesterday afternoon a few hours after suffering a heart attack while working at his desk in the downtown synod offices.

At the bedside when he died at 3 p.m. was Mrs. Owen, the former Nora Grier Jellett of Pieter, Ont. He also survived by two sons, Robert D. Owen of the Kingston Whig-Standard and Rev. Derwyn Owen of Toronto, and a daughter, Gwendolyn, of New York. Another son, Captain David Owen, was killed in the Normandy invasion in 1944.

He graduated from Trinity College in 1900, was curate at St. John's Church in Toronto and curate at All Hallows' Church in Barking, near London, England, before returning to Toronto in 1902 to start six years as an assistant at St. James' Cathedral.

In 1925 he became dean of Niagara, later Bishop of Niagara, Archbishop of Toronto and Primate.

The then Bishop Owen was 58 when elected to the primacy at Montreal in 1934. His success in church administration was largely due to his skill in handling men. To an unequalled knowledge of churchmen and church affairs he added calm and diplomacy. When the occasion required it he was firm, patient and resourceful.

As an ecumenist he was described as a "broad" churchman, whose beliefs lay somewhere between the High Church and the Low Church. The body will lie in state at St. James Cathedral from noon Friday and service will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday. But funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

The Legislature Today

By The Canadian Press

Debate is expected to resume on the budget speech in the Quebec Legislature today after other bills are disposed of and the Legislative Council will continue work on various legislation.

Yesterday

Rene Chalouit (Ind.—Quebec), speaking on what he called "inroads" from France in the domain of education in Quebec, said "We love and cherish France, the real France, but not the legal, Communistic and anti-Christian France." A distinctive flag for Quebec Province was approved in principle by a committee that agreed, however, to move carefully pending possible action by a Federal Parliamentary Flag Committee in selection of a national flag. The Council by a vote of 9-7 gave second and third reading to bills authorizing the reorganization of the Montreal and Quebec School Commissions.

Canadian Trio In Streamliner Wreck

Raton, N.M., April 10.—(P)—Three Canadians were among 16 passengers who suffered injuries necessitating hospital treatment when the Santa Fe Railway's east-bound Super Chief was derailed last night at a blind siding, a hospital list showed today.

The Canadians were identified as Mrs. Jeanette Johnson and Mrs. J. S. Brown, both of Toronto, and Mrs. Margaret J. Robertson, Montreal.

The train was derailed at Otero, 240 miles northeast of Albuquerque. There were no fatalities.

Renewal Of Give-And-Take Phone Strike Negotiations

Washington, April 10.—(P)—Contract negotiations across the United States, largely dormant or deadlocked since the start of the telephone strike Monday, showed new signs of life in some areas today.

Renewal of give-and-take negotiations coincided with the reaching of a settlement basis in Washington between long-distance lines workers and the American Telephone Co.

To become effective, the settlement terms must be approved by the general executive board of the Long Lines Workers' Union, the American Union of Telephone Workers, and by the policy board of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, which called the strike of nearly 300,000 employees of A.T. and T. and its affiliated Bell System companies.

In Atlanta, Ga., negotiators for the Southern Bell Telephone Company and the union announced "some progress" was made last night and scheduled another meeting for today.

Chicago employees of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company accepted a federal conciliator's proposal of an $8 weekly pay increase—the N.P.T.W. affiliate originally demanded $12—but the company rejected the proposal as "unrealistic."

Backs Stand Of Macdonald On Tax Plans

Nova Scotia Liberal House Member Declares Attitude Will Lead to Permanent Solution of Problems.

By The Canadian Press

In the Nova Scotia Legislature the Throne Speech debate continued yesterday and members heard a member endorse the Liberal Government's stand for refusing to sign the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement.

W. T. Dauphinee (L.—Shelburne) said the Government's position "was one that could ultimately lead to a satisfactory and permanent solution to the problem."

C.C.F. leader Russell Cunningham urged that the Government reach an agreement with the Dominion Government or they "would be left out on a long limb." He said it was a matter of money, the province needed the money the Federal Government offered.

At Fredericton, Hugh J. Flemming (P.C.—Carleton) spoke in the budget debate and urged a united front for the three Maritime Provinces with which to face the Federal Government. Earlier he had mentioned a united front and his remarks were interpreted to mean he advocated a single government for the province. This he denied, but said the interest of the provinces were closely linked and by standing shoulder to shoulder could advance together to a great future.

At Quebec, a number of private bills were presented, the most important of which was one to change the organization of the Montreal and Quebec School Commissions. The bill was given a second and third reading, by a vote of nine to seven.

The bill reduces the number of members of the School Commission from nine to seven and leaves municipalities without representation. The Government names four of the members and religious authorities three. Previously, Government, religious and municipal authorities named three each.

At the night sitting of the Legislature, Rene Chalouit criticized the teaching in some French schools, sponsored by teachers from France. "We will always love and admire the real France, the idealist and apostolic France, but not the France, which forgetting to rally together those of the Latin race to hold in check the Slavic and Saxon bloc seeks to humiliate her unfortunate sister country, Italy, and her noble neighbor Spain, to better please her bloody master, Stalin."

He said careful scrutiny should be given to teachings from "Communist" France.

At Winnipeg, in the only other sitting legislature in Canada, Premier Stuart G. Garson steered through the first reading of the bill to ratify the new Dominion-Provincial tax agreement.

No Solution Imminent In Coal Dispute

Government Against Proposal Wage Increase of $1.40 Per Day Be Financed Through Federal Subsidies.

Ottawa, April 10.—(P)—Further government-union conference was scheduled for this capital today as officials explored avenues of solution to the seven-weeks strike of 13,000 coal miners in the Maritimes.

On the heels of several hours of discussion yesterday, officers of the Federal Labor Department and the international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America (C.I.O.-A.F.L.) were to resume their talks at department headquarters.

No settlement of the Dominion's biggest coal tieup in 20 years was in immediate prospect. Union officials agreed yesterday's meeting had not made any progress toward that goal, and a statement from the department did not suggest that any headway

Lilienthal Is Confirmed In Atomic Post

Atomic Energy Commission Plunges Into Long-Range Planning for Peaceful and Military Developments.

Washington, April 10.—(P)—The United States Atomic Energy Commission came out of its storm cellar today and plunged into long-range planning for peaceful and military development of nuclear power.

The tornado which reared about the commission during 12 weeks of argument subsided last night when the Senate voted 50 to 31 to confirm David E. Lilienthal in the chairman's job he has held since last January 1st. Four fellow commissioners and General Manager Carroll Wilson also were confirmed without the formality of roll calls.

Lilienthal's aides said commission operations had been "seriously" handicapped by uncertainty over the legal status of the commission's membership.

Foreign Ministers Parley Facing Absolute Deadlock

Moscow, April 10.—(P)—Absolute deadlock gripped the Council of Foreign Ministers today on Anglo-American proposals to revise Poland's Western frontier in favor of Germany. Indications were that the stalemate would extend to the whole German boundary issue.

Although questions concerning the future of the industrial Ruhr, the Rhineland and the Saar remained to be discussed by the Big Four—probably at today's session—the general view among the Western Powers was that failure to agree on Germany's eastern border would serve to stymie settlement of any boundary line.

The Western diplomats expressed belief that the Council of Foreign Ministers should take no action on the problem now, except to give the Deputy Foreign Ministers some directives for post-Moscow studies of the whole complex border matter.

As it stands, the situation merely adds up to one more basic split widening the chasm of disagreement between the Russians and the Western powers.

Western diplomats, studying the new dispute in conjunction with the earlier differences on German political and economic issues, were finding it harder than ever to foresee what the Moscow meeting would be able to show for its long hours of work—except, perhaps, an understanding of the disagreements, a date for a future Big Four Conference and the beginning

Bus Plunges Nine To Death In River

Nine passengers drowned in this bus after it struck an oil truck and plunged into the Duwamish River on the outskirts of Seattle, Wash. Here police officers search the bus for bodies after it had been pulled part way out of the river.

GOLD BAR RECOVERED

Rotterdam, April 10.—(Reuters)—A Dutch dredge brought up a bar of gold weighing 27 1-2 pounds from the harbor yesterday.

The bar was identified as a part of bullion loaded on board a pilot boat bound for Britain in the first days of the German invasion. One of 30 gold bars lost when the boat was sunk, the 24th to be recovered, it will be handed over to the Netherlands Bank.

Peacetime Cash Needs Are Above Those Of War Years

(Special To The Record)

Ottawa, April 10.—The total cash requirements of $3,628,500,000 in the budget estimates for the 1946-47 period are higher than those recorded during the three early war years, it was revealed here today.

In 1939 when Canada had a part-year of war, the figure was only $511,800,000; in 1940, Canada fought her first full year of war but total cash requirements even then were only $763,400,000, or a little more than one-fifth of the 1946-47 peacetime year, and in 1941 cash requirements in revenue and borrowing mounted again to $1,849,500,000 but remained only about half of the total for the last fiscal year.

The Federal Government will realize a total of $915,000,000 from income tax on individuals for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1947, compared to an amount of $330,200,000 obtained from all tax sources during 1936. Budget estimates put the total revenue from all taxes, duties and excise at more than $2,100,000,000.

Although the interest of nine out of ten Canadians is centred on the personal income tax field, this means of raising money for the federal treasury constitutes only one of the many employed by Ottawa to extract hard cash from the pockets and bank accounts of citizens across the Dominion. Actually, revenue from personal income tax provides less than one-third of the total collected.

Another large slice of the administration's taxation income is derived from corporation income taxes and excess profits taxes. Collections in these two brackets for the year ending last March 31 were estimated at $540,000,000. In 1936 there was no such animal as an excess profits tax, and total corporation income taxes gathered in only $42,500,000.

Succession duties, which were not levied by the Dominion in 1936, were expected to bring in the tidy sum of $24,000,000 by March, and the withholding tax on dividends and interest, a source of only $7,200,000 in 1936, is currently good for $30,000,000.

Don't overlook the excise on liquor and tobacco, or the "sundry excise and other taxes" as sources of income. True enough, they were good for no more than about $70,000,000 in 1936, but these days seem gone forever. Budget estimates for the fiscal year just ended placed receipts from this source at $463,000,000.

Customs import duties now bring in $182,000,000 where, in 1936, they could account for only $74,000,000.

There is some consolation for the taxpayer—or is there?—in the fact that a special excise tax on imports, which brought in $12,900,000 in 1936, has disappeared, for the time being at least.

Mrs. Ducharme Collapses At Trial On Charge Of Murdering Husband With Arsenic Poison

Mrs. Cyprien Ducharme, the widow from Wotton whose composure has been marked during the initial stages of her preliminary hearing on a charge of murder, broke down in court here yesterday afternoon and was led away weeping. "I'm going to die! I'm going to die!"

The eruption came shortly after two o'clock as the tenth witness in the arsenic poisoning case, Mrs. Joseph Nadreau, a daughter of the accused, was testifying.

Corroborating evidence given earlier in the day by her husband, she was interrupted when defence counsel Cesaire Gervais, K.C., asked for a recess because Mrs. Ducharme had told him she was not well.

Judge Joseph Marier of the Court of Sessions, who is hearing the case in the spacious Superior courtroom because of the large audience, granted a 15-minute recess.

He returned to the bench later to announce that considering the condition of accused, court was adjourned to this morning at ten o'clock.

Accused was very pale this morning. She looked tired but was composed as she had been in her earlier appearance.

PROPANE GAS DEMONSTRATED AT CITY HALL

More than two hundred persons, including several members of the City Council, last night witnessed a demonstration in the use of propane gas which was given at a meeting of the Sherbrooke Proprietors' League held in the City Hall under the presidency of Paul Leclerc.

Organizers of the demonstration, Alderman Paul Hamel and Gaston Masse, superintendent of the Gas and Electricity Department, told the audience that heat developed by propane gas is twice that produced by the gas now being used by the City of Sherbrooke. Accordingly, it was pointed out, consumers would benefit from the new propane type of gas to the extent of a fifty per cent saving in the amount required in private homes.

A further advantage accruing from propane gas was said to be a substantial reduction in maintenance costs, for a plant developing this type of gas could be supervised by only one man, the balance of the present staff being released for employment elsewhere. Also on the credit side of the picture were the facts that the new gas, according to Mr. Masse, does not tend to clog or obstruct pipes and possesses an odor which lends to its immediate detection in a home in the event of a leakage from one of the jets.

Partially offsetting these advantages, however, is the fact that propane gas retails at a higher rate to consumers, this considerably cutting down any saving resulting from the smaller amount required per home.

Among those witnessing last night's demonstration were Aldermen V. A. Fiset, Alphonse Trudeau and Henri Labonne.

JEWISH GROUP MARK HOLIDAY

Rabbi Isidore Pickholtz, of the Congregation Agudath Achim Synagogue, announces that the closing days of the Pesach (Passover) festival commence this evening at sundown. Tomorrow, Shevial Shel Pesach (the Seventh day of the Passover) commemorates the miracle of the Jewish crossing of the Red Sea. On the Sabbath, April 12, Achron Shel Pesach (The First Day of the Passover), "Yiskor," a special memorial service for the deceased will be recited. The Passover draws to a close Saturday, April 12, after sundown.

direct his defence. He said that it was in the interest of herself and her mother to speak up.

During the course of the interrogation the judge repeated his request that she speak louder.

Mr. Dugre questioned Mrs. Nadeau on the subject of her father's indignation and asked her if it was on account of the tomatoes which presumably caused the indignation that he suffered from diarrhoea.

The witness, who for some time had been speaking with difficulty, broke down in tears and the proceedings were halted for a few minutes while she collected herself.

Questioning then turned to the subject of her father's funeral and Mr. Dugre asked her if she knew Emilian Guay.

She said that she did and that he was present at the time the funeral arrangements were made.

Regarding his residence today, she said that he lived at the home of her mother, in Danville, where she had moved in April after the death of her husband.

Mr. Dugre: "Did your mother ever speak to you of your father and Mr. Guay?"

Mrs. Nadeau: "She said that we were poor and that perhaps she would marry Guay one day."

Mrs. Ducharme's visit to the Nadeau home at St. Remi de Tingwick in the summer after the exhumation was then taken as a subject of questioning. Witness said that her mother said that they were looking for poison in the body but that they wouldn't find any because she had never bought any.

Mrs. Nadeau answered questions regarding the visit of a priest during Ducharme's sickness, then began to weep profusely. She said she couldn't carry on and was led from the courtroom by her husband and Dr. Armand Roy, who had looked after her mother yesterday afternoon.

Conrad Ducharme was called and the hearing continued.

Major Banfill Testifies To Japanese Atrocities During Hong Kong War Crimes Trial

Major Martin Banfill, M.B.E., formerly of East Angus and Cookshire, who was medical officer for the Royal Rifles of Canada as they were taken prisoners of war by the Japanese at Hong Kong in 1941, testified before a military court in Hong Kong that a Japanese officer had told him in December, 1941, that all captives taken by the Japanese at Hong Kong had been ordered executed.

A Reuters news despatch stated today that Major Banfill was testifying at the opening of the war crimes trial of Maj.-Gen. Tanaka Ryosaburo. The prosecution said it would submit evidence that Ryosaburo either was directly concerned in atrocities against the joint Canadian-British garrison of Hong Kong or connived in or ordered the atrocities.

Maj. Banfill testified that he had been shown a bayoneted British officer by the Japanese. "We came across him crawling," the officer said. "The Japanese bayoneted him and brought him to me so that I could tell them his rank. They lifted him onto his bayonets and threw him into a gully and shot him to make sure he was dead. Twice more before evening they bayoneted people."

A graduate of the University of Bishop's College and McGill University, Major Banfill is the brother of Mrs. Lennox Wilson, of Sherbrooke. He practised medicine in Cookshire before the war and today is a member of the staff of the medical faculty at McGill. Last June he was married to the former Lieut. Commander, Edith Scott, W.R.C.N.S., of Toronto.

Declares Canada Must Support UK In Peace As She Did In War

Canada must support Britain in peace as she did in war, John Bassett, Jr., editor of the Sherbrooke Daily Record, said last night at the annual "Past President's Night" banquet of the Lennoxville Men's Own Club, held at the Gertrude Scott Hall.

"The efforts of this country of two million in two world wars has earned her the right to nationhood, but alone Canada cannot fulfill her real destiny in world affairs," said Mr. Bassett. "There is no doubt that war has weakened the component parts of the Commonwealth, but united this organization of free nations is still the most powerful force for good in the world."

Canada, through her membership in the Commonwealth and her close ties with the United States, was in an ideal position to interpose her two great nations one to the other, and thereby render service to the whole world. "But if we are to do this," he said, "we must be sure to understand something of both the United States and England."

"We must understand the difficulty of the U.S. Government to hurry through legislation that we think necessary for world peace, such as aid to Greece and Turkey. There are 130 million people in the United States, and no measures would be effective until the citizens have had a chance to form a strong opinion backing the proposal."

Referring to the growth of Communism in Canada, Mr. Bassett said that it could only be overcome successfully by a more dynamic ideal, that of Christian democracy. "Let us be ready," he added, "to accept the same sacrifices now for the good of Canada that we did during the war."

The speaker was introduced by Mayor Robert M. Boright of Lennoxville, and thanked by Edward Perry, principal of Lennoxville High School. Guests of honor at the dinner were the speaker, Mayor Boright, N. A. Hunting of the Lennoxville Town Council, and W. R. Baker, Lennoxville secretary-treasurer.

A violin solo was played by G. Moffett. Ash Haining, accompanied by Rod Stirling, played the trumpet and two songs were sung by a quartet of Mrs. H. Wark, Mrs. G. Povey, Miss Thelma Crawford and A. Mowat, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Watson.

PAINTINGS ARE EXHIBITED IN LOCAL SCHOOL

Sherbrooke art lovers will be given the opportunity, during the next few days, of viewing a fine collection of paintings by Sir Wyly Grier, R.C.A., C.S.A., N.A., D.C.L. Displayed at the Mitchell School, these include lifelike portraits and landscapes which have been painted over a period of 68 years.

Wyly Grier was born in Melbourne, Australia, in 1882 and came over to Canada with his parents at the age of fourteen. After spending approximately three years in Kingston, Ont., the family returned to Europe, where the young boy studied art in London, Paris and Rome during the next seven years. He then found his way back to Canada, spent some time in Murray Bay and eventually settled in Toronto, where he now has his home.

Head of the Ontario Society of Artists from 1905 to 1910, he was knighted on June 3, 1935, when he was president of the Royal Canadian Academy.

Among the thirty-eight paintings exhibited, perhaps one of the most striking is a portrait of the late Brampton Forsythe, of the Hart House Theatre, in the character of "Prospero." A study of the artist's father seems a very popular painting and is often in demand for art exhibitions. It is interesting to note that this portrait was in the Tate Gallery, London, England, at the outbreak of the war and was stored in Scotland until it could be safely shipped across the Atlantic. The unfinished study of Sir Wyly's wife is a beautiful example of the delicate coloring used in most of his portraits. "The Game" is a study of a young girl which should attract considerable attention.

For the lovers of landscape paintings there is "The Blue Spruce," painted in 1924, a sketch of a bridge near Toronto, "Main Street in Lennoxville" and many others.

All but five of Sir Wyly's paintings are for sale and may be viewed at the Mitchell School, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 10th, 11th and 12th, from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m.

SOCIETY HELD MEETING AT LENNOXVILLE

The Philathea Society met at the home of Mrs. P. Sarrasin, College Street, where they held their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. N. D. McLeod, the president, presided and opened the meeting with prayer and read several short clippings which were appropriate for the Easter season. Much regret was expressed in the death of Mrs. James Dunn, a member of this group, and an expression of sympathy was extended to the bereaved family.

During the business period plans were made to cater for a dinner for members of the Farm Forum short course to be held in Lennoxville next week. Money was voted to purchase hymn books for the church and plans and suggestions were discussed for the spring sale. Materials were given out to be made up for same.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Saunders, Warren Street. At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Sarrasin, Mrs. C. E. Sterling and Mrs. J. A. Crawford.

NEW CAPTAIN TO BE NAMED BY FIRE DEPT.

Announcement was made this morning by Fire Director Percy Donahue that a replacement would be sought to fill the post of Captain at No. 1 Station, left vacant by Capt. Ernest Renaud's resignation.

The post of No. 1 station captain, who "in an unofficial capacity" replaces the Director when necessary, is second in importance only to that of Director, added Chief Donahue. He stated that recommendation had been previously made to the City Council that a permanent post bearing the title of Deputy-Director be created in the fire brigade, but that no decision had been reached and that the matter was still under discussion. The title would automatically fall on the No. 1 station captain.

The new captain is to be nominated by the Director and subject to the approval of the City Council. Eligible for this post at the present time, are three captains and eight lieutenants on the fire staff of the fire brigade. While no definite choice has been made yet by Director Donahue possibilities are that either a lieutenant will be promoted to the post which carries the rank of captain, or that a captain in charge of a station other than No. 1 be transferred to fill the vacancy.

All candidates will have to take the required examinations stated by the Director.

Powdered Milk Industry Is Reviewed At Y's Men's Club

Stressing the boon not only to the European continent and Britain, but also to domestic trade in Canada, Bruce Bishop, of the Eastern Townships Produce Ltd., last evening told the graphic story of the powdered milk industry, and its importance to Canada, at the regular weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club, held in the Rose Room of the Chateau Frontenac.

Powdered milk has been manufactured for 25 years, the speaker told his audience, yet it really came into its own at the start of the last war, due to the great demand for the armed forces and the necessity of building up supplies for war-ravaged Europe, a case which was repeated, in still greater measure, during the Second World War.

Powdered milk is generally mixed in large quantities, and it is found that when mixed by hand, the result is not so good. Mr. Bishop said when describing how to bring the powder back into liquid form. When properly mixed, it is hard to tell the difference from fresh milk, he added.

The roller process is the chief method used in Canada, for preparing the powder from skim milk. The skim milk is stored in 2,000 gallon tanks, at 170 degrees Fahrenheit, then heated and piped through 1 1/2" pipe. The liquid milk is then sprayed up and allowed to fall onto very hot rollers that are revolving constantly. These rollers are 30" in diameter, hollow, with 6" walls, and are steam heated. Milk dries on them at 200 degrees Fahrenheit, on an inwardly revolving rollers, and then a steel knife cuts off the "sheet" of milk when dry, the whole operation taking one complete revolution of the roller. The "sheet" of milk comes off double on a conveyor, goes to the pulverizer where it is ground up into the finished product and packed into moisture-proof barrels for shipment.

Telling of the grading of the finished powder, Mr. Bishop said that there were two classifications, "A" edible, fit for human consumption, and "B" for feeding purposes for animals. The grading is done to give 1st, 2nd and ungraded powders, but for export only the 1st and 2nd grades are shipped. A government inspector picks up the powder and sends it to Ottawa for testing and grading before it is sold or exported.

Powdered milk has been a great boon to Great Britain and Europe, Mr. Bishop concluded, and also has been invaluable to bakers and ice cream manufacturers in Canada. The development of the industry has been a great help to dairymen as skim milk formerly used to be dumped or fed to cattle and hogs. It now yields a good price for the producer. The initial cost of installing powdered milk equipment is very high, he said, the roller machine costing at least $20,000 to set up. Contract for export for powdered milk for 1947 is set at 8,000,000 pounds, he pointed out.

President Frank Simms being absent, Vice-President Jack McKnight was in the chair. Gordon Buchanan introduced C. McIvor as a guest of the club.

During the brief business session which preceded the address, the Red Cross cards were turned in, and plans for summer activities again discussed. It was announced that the Y's Men would hold a rummage sale on April 13th at Lonsdale Market, while the annual Tax Day for the Boys' Camp would take place on May 16th and 17th. Jeff Wilson, general chairman for the Y's Men-sponsored Eastern Townships Interscholastic Track Meet, set for May 24th on the Parade Grounds, reported everything under control and advised plans for a banquet to be held at the Y.M.C.A. and to take place either their son or a young guest. Attendance at the banquet would count as their attendance at the weekly dinner meeting of the club. President Frank Simms would preside at this year's Father and Son banquet, the Y's Men were informed.

CONFUSED THINKING

The letter from "Discouraged Tenant" on this page provides an example of the confused thinking which exists in many quarters in relation to controls, and the attitude of those who advocate their removal. It also expresses a very unfortunate tendency on the part of many individuals to regard the government as some entity, all-powerful and entirely separate from the people. John T. Hackett, M.P., makes his stand clear when he advocates the removal of government controls, expressing the belief that the net result of their elimination would be an increase in the production of all manner of goods, including building materials, with a consequent reduction in prices for the consumer.

The writer does not appear to realize that federal employees are subject to the same laws as the average citizen and that civil servants and Members of Parliament, who are occupants of rented premises, must pay the same higher rentals as other tenants. Furthermore they are subject to the same oppressive taxes on their entire income, with the exception of the two thousand dollar expense allowance paid to Members of Parliament.

"Discouraged Tenant," in asking for legislation to force the landlord to redecorate his property every five years, is, of course, requesting a degree of government interference in the normal life of the individual that the average Canadian would find intolerable. The statement that "No landlord is a poor man, for if he was he would not own property, but tenants are, for otherwise they would not be tenants," is too sweeping a generalization and is based on so little fact that it requires no answer.

The whole letter is an example of how many people, all unknowingly, have come to depend entirely on government regulation of their daily lives. This country, and the United States, have been developed largely because their citizens were independent, willing to take a chance, and were ready to work hard.

The return to this spirit is vitally necessary unless Canadians are willing to live under a system of state control which may start out as a form of benevolent paternalism but which will end as repressive socialist dictatorship.

BRITISH BUREAUCRACY HAMPERS TRADE

The greatest economic task facing Great Britain today is to increase her foreign trade by seventy-five per cent in physical volume over her pre-war figures, but judging from a recent court case in London this must not be achieved if it means deviating from the bureaucratic edicts of the various governmental control bodies. At this time, David Clore, general manager of a textile piece goods firm, was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $12,000 because he had spent $5,000 more than he should while in New York soliciting orders for his own and two other firms. Incidentally, during his trip he secured orders totalling $500,000 for British industry. Some governmental agency said he could spend $40 a day for three months, whereas actually he spent $156 a day for seven weeks.

At a very time when the British Government is bending every effort to secure badly needed United States dollars, it seems the height of absurdity to jail a man for obtaining 500,000 of these treasured dollars through the expenditure of an additional $5,000 over the arbitrary sum allotted him for expenses. Certainly this sort of treatment should discourage British salesmen from using any initiative in the future.

One of the most infuriating things about bureaucracy is its tendency to regard itself as all-knowing. A man who has risen to be general manager of one large concern and trusted sales representative of two others can be credited with sense enough not to spend more on a sales trip than circumstances compel—otherwise his margin of profit will be cut. But the bureaucrat cannot appreciate this and placed him in the unenviable position of having his expenditures restricted below the point where he could sell efficiently.

Undoubtedly he erred in a technical sense by breach of the regulations, but from a viewpoint of common sense he did the only thing an aggressive salesman could do. For this he must go to jail.

Opinion is by no means unanimous on this side of the ocean that Great Britain is finished as an industrial and financial power, but any widespread repetition of these industry-bating tactics will slow up or perhaps kill the long, hard effort that is needed to restore Britain to her former greatness.

AIDING NATURAL BEAUTY

An ample growth of shade and decorative trees on private and public properties adds inestimably to the natural beauty of any city. Thus the Sherbrooke Junior Chamber of Commerce is performing a valuable public service in the campaign it is conducting this year for the second time to promote the planting of trees by individual property owners.

The planting of trees is not enough in itself to enhance the appearance of any community. The trees must bear some relationship to their surroundings. Trees which would be impressive on a public square might well spoil the appearance of a private dwelling erected on a comparatively restricted lot. Appreciating this fact, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has arranged with the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests for technical advice so that each property owner will be able to obtain the trees most adapted to his property.

Certainly any householder who desires to beautify his premises can offer no objection to the sole duty placed upon him—to have the holes prepared for the trees that will be given him.

Washington Column

BY PETER EDSON

CAPITAL NEWS NOTEBOOK

Townsend planners, who haven't had a national convention since 1940, will meet in Washington the last week of June. Eighty-year-old Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the movement, hopes to be there.

One day of the convention will be devoted to lobbying Congress. Fifty congressmen have already come out in support of the new Townsend Plan Bill, introduced by Republican Homer Angel of Oregon and Democrat J. Hardin Peterson of Florida. Townsdenites have now dropped the flat $200-a-month pension idea. Instead they want a 3 per cent tax on all but the lowest incomes, the proceeds to be divided among all people who voluntarily retire at 60. They say a new requirement that beneficiaries spend all of their pension money every 30 days, with no saving or hoarding, would "promote mass purchasing power and make a depression impossible."

Republican majority in Congress is finding plenty of Democratic support for the idea of getting government out of the hair of business. So far the House has cut nearly a billion dollars from next year's Labor, Treasury, Post Office, and Federal Security Administration appropriations. Heaviest sufferers have been National Labor Relations Board, Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Consular Service, and the Customs Service.

These actions are not final and cuts may be restored by Senate. But the general trend of House cuts is to whittle down the business regulatory and reporting services. If this inclination is followed in other appropriation bills, watch for the axe to be applied on outfits like Federal Trade Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Federal Power Commission.

REASON BEHIND IMPORT CONTROLS

In view of American shortages on imported raw materials, many people have not been able to understand why President Truman asked for a year's extension beyond March 31 on import controls. Reason is best explained in case of fats and oils.

If there were no U.S. import controls, American soap, paint, and other users would bid up the world price. That would make it difficult for countries with far worse shortages of edible fats and oils to buy. Keeping import allocation controls on U.S. market permits world supplies to be more evenly divided and gives everyone enough to get by on.

When U.S. Aircraft Carrier Leyte goes on its Mediterranean training cruise, present plans are to allow no U.S. newsmen to go along. One reason given is that Navy doesn't want another Dairen incident. Reference is to the story by Scripps-Howard reporter William H. Newton, who was permitted to accompany a Navy courier vessel into Dairen, Manchuria, as representative of combined American press.

When Russian post authorities made the U.S. ship leave port after expiration of its permit, Newton reported the incident in a story that was used by nearly every U.S. newspaper. It caused a protest from Moscow and a diplomatic exchange from Washington. And it put the Navy in the State Department doghouse.

POSTMAN DOESN'T RING IN TIMOR

Post Office Department will now accept parcel post shipments to any country in the world except Portuguese Timor. That's the eastern half of a little island between Australia and Java, in the Dutch East Indies. The Dutch hold Timor's western half. Most of the natives live in grass huts and eat what grows wild. They could use but probably don't need anything that could be got out of a mail-order catalog and delivered by international parcel post.

End of Selective Service April 1 put Army recruiting officers on the spot to get 30,000 new recruits a month—1,000 a day. Unless they succeed, the United States can't maintain a million-man Army—largest peacetime military establishment this country has ever had. The answer won't really be known till October, after a six months' test.

A business recession with some reduction of employment might stimulate enlistments, but no one wants to pay that price just to maintain an army. War Department figures it will really save money if it gets enough three-year enlistments. The 18-month service of drafted men really gave only 10 months of active duty after training and before terminal leave. That made the peacetime draft the most expensive soldier in the world.

DEPLORES RENT INCREASE

Dear Sir:—In regard to the present rental increases, I have heard that some of the landlords are not satisfied with the increase of ten per cent. This should indicate to the Government what would happen if all control was abolished. Rents would go up sky high, as the landlords will never be satisfied.

If we had men like John Hackett the tenants would have to live out in the open fields, although perhaps it was these same poor tenants who helped him to get elected to Parliament. I hope next election the tenants will remember how he has tried to use them.

I think the landlords have been well protected as well as tenants, for they did get the rent each month and before I remember many landlords who would lose rents amounting to $200 and $300. But they did not think of the protection the Government is also giving to them.

I think rents should have stayed as they were, for it is going to be hard for tenants to pay more. Just now many tenants are wondering where they are going to get the money to pay the large income tax, and gives the landlords permission to increase rents. I only wish some of the Government men could be in this situation. Then there are war veterans of the first war who are getting a small pension of $50 or $60 a month, who are paying $18 and $20 a month rent for three rooms, no bathroom, and still they will have to pay more rent and still their little pension stays the same.

How are they going to feed and clothe themselves on this? The Government should have left things as they were and kept the rental controls on for another five years, as housing conditions are not improving very much. Everything is going up in price, controls have been abolished far too quickly, although wages are still at the same level. How are people going to live?

The landlords will be getting larger rents, and still the houses will be left in the same filthy condition, with nothing put into paper or paint. I was recently speaking to a landlord and he told me that he re-decorated his property every five years and it kept his property in good condition. But how many landlords do we find like him? There should be a law to force re-decoration every five years. Well this increase is another slice taken off the poor workers man's pay. It is he who suffers, certainly not the landlords. No landlord is a poor man, for if he were he would not own property, but the tenants are, for otherwise they would not be tenants. Now higher wages should be demanded by all.

FARMERS NEED CLOSE COST CHECKS

Sir: In a letter to you some few days ago I stated that farming is a business. Farming is not a speculative business. Farming comes more specially under the heading of labor and manufacturing. All manufacturing concerns so far as I know, while their systems of management may differ, contain certain features; however, that are common and practiced by all, particularly bookkeeping, cost-accounting, regulation of expenses, systematic hours of labor, office routine.

I was gratified to read in the Montreal Gazette of April 8 issue in the Eastern Township news column that the Farm Forums of the Eastern Townships have under discussion as a main feature the introduction of bookkeeping under the able leadership of Dr. Patterson.

I sincerely hope that the bookkeeping that will be introduced will not be the self-balancing statements and sheets by filling-in blank forms that have been advertised and offered from time to time in the past. These to my mind are worse than useless. What is required is a scientific knowledge of costs and how and where they may originate in order that they may be discovered and eliminated. Farming has more chances for losses than any other business to my knowledge.

There is another suggestion I would like to make for adoption, namely, that any article of raw-material should be processed or manufactured at the place of origin. And any article of consumption on the farm should be processed where it is to be used.

K. B. Jenckes, in his letter to you of March 4, has included in his estimated expense figures six tons of meal at $50 a ton. Am I right if I conclude in concluding he means corn-meal. On my father's farm was planted, garnered and ground our own corn-meal not only for our stock but for home-use in the kitchen where delicious maple-sugar sweetened Johnny-cake was made. This practice was carrying out the policy I stated above, of processing or manufacturing the raw-materials where they originated and where they were to be used, thereby saving the cost of processing which was a clear profit and a big one.

We also processed our own cream into butter and saved the buttermilk which has a threefold value—a household food, a stock food and a medicinal food. Doctors and scientists claim it is better than tomato juice, orange juice or grapefruit juice for what these acids are used for, sweetened or unsweetened.

May I add in concluding this letter that in my opinion the reason young men, generally, will not work on a farm is not because of a distaste for farming, nor is it a moral question, but a psychological question. When that psychological stigma, so to speak, is removed farmers will be able to get all the help they require and more, and bookkeeping and orderly and profit-saving rules may do it.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND
Chief of the Washington Bureau of The Christian Science Monitor

A significant world anniversary has passed relatively unnoticed—unnoticed by most persons and most statesmen in most countries. This is an anniversary which is yet to reach its true greatness. It will reach its true greatness when mankind catches up in practice to its aspirations.

It was 20 years ago yesterday that Aristide Briand—one of the earliest and foremost advocates of a United States of Europe—first enunciated the proposal which led to the Pact of Paris.

There are those who will say that the Pact of Paris has been made famous in the breach. There are those who will say that the Pact of Paris is merely a pious pledge rendered meaningless by new wars since its signature and by power politics since World Peace II. There are those who will say that the Pact of Paris, being an aspiration beyond mankind's recent practice, has failed.

Though its anniversary date again has slipped by without world acclaim, the Pact of Paris has not failed, because it has partly succeeded and because it contains within itself the seeds of enduring rightness.

The Pact of Paris is an ideal of world peace which in 1929—two years after it first was broached—won adherence of the peoples and the governments of the world. It did not spring into being full-blown. M. Briand's first proposal was for a Franco-American treaty outlawing war between the two countries. Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg enlarged the concept, proposed a treaty open to all through which all countries would outlaw war. They did, and it was signed at Versailles on August 27, 1928, ratified by the United States Senate five months later, and proclaimed on July 24, 1929.

The Pact of Paris has not succeeded because, of itself, it has not failed; because every time men have failed it, they have had to go back to its principles as the basis on which to begin again.

Several years before World War II, when the ingredients of world aggression were then coming to the surface, a dispatch from the Washington Bureau of The Christian Science Monitor raised these questions: "Did the Pact of Paris perish on the long-swept plain of Manchuria in September, 1931?" "If not, will it perish in another September morn upon the blazing lowlands which surround the Abyssinian plateau?" He has a good chance to make the hand if he is void in diamonds, and if he has

A 6-OVER-1 JUMP SEEMS JUSTIFIED

This year the Vanderbilt Cup Tournament for the national knockout team-of-four championship broke all records when 44 teams turned out for the event. This tournament has always had a lot of color and the finest players participate in it.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, secretary of the Vanderbilt Cup Committee, was on hand for the first time since the war. During the war, Albert H. Morehead acted as secretary. With the General's return, Mr. Morehead resigned, so did the General, and Charles Lochridge was elected secretary.

Lochridge is one of the country's most colorful players. He always can be counted upon for a spectacular bid or play, and he did not disappoint the crowd when today's hand came up in the Vanderbilt.

How would you like to have been sitting opposite Lochridge when, over a simple bid of one spade, he bid six? Discussing the hand afterwards, Lochridge said, "My partner's bid showed that he had five or six spades. There is no law against his having five or six spades. He has a good chance to make the hand if he is void in diamonds, and if he has any diamonds, one of them can be the king—in which case there is nothing to it." Lochridge's explanations make the game sound pretty simple, and as a matter of fact, when the dummy went down, there was nothing to it. The opening heart lead was won with the ace, a small diamond was ruffed by declarer and a trump led, West winning. Regardless of what West returned, the declarer could win it, if another diamond, pick up East's trumps, and the diamond suit was good.

Progress In Conversion Of Industry

Government Spokesman Declares That Seven Out of Every Eight Plants Have Completed Reconversion Program.

Ottawa, April 10.—George J. McFraith, Parliamentary Assistant to Reconstruction Minister Howe, said last night that Canada's reconversion from a wartime footing had been completed in seven out of every eight plants requiring it and is expected to be practically complete by July of this year.

In an address prepared for delivery over the Trans-Canada network of the CBC, the Liberal Member of the Commons for Ottawa West reviewed Government steps taken in prevention of war profiteering, disposal of the Government's war-acquired property and material and aid in establishment of new industries in the Dominion.

"A good indication of the success of our program is to be found in the fact that the Canadian economy has been able to give employment to almost 2,000,000 persons who have come out of war production and the armed forces and to absorb these in productive private enterprise," he said.

"We have 1,000,000 more persons working in Canada than were working in 1939. Thus the government is fulfilling its policy of providing high employment and a high income, or stating it more simply, productive post-war jobs for our Canadian people."

Almost all of the 170 vessels of the government's wartime merchant fleet had been sold to Canadian buyers for Canadian registry. Average recovery from the sales price and the operating revenue of each ship was 70 per cent of its cost price and at the same time Canada had given the nucleus of a merchant service for the first time in her history.

Speculating On Amount Of Ford Estate

Answers to Many Questions Expected When Will of Motor Magnate Is Filed for Probate, Possibly Next Week.

Detroit, April 10.—(AP)—Speculation continued today concerning the extent of the vast wealth of Henry Ford and what federal and state taxes might do to it. Some inkling may be had when the will is filed for probate, probably within a week or two.

Estimates of the wholly unofficial placed Ford's fortune at anywhere from $200,000,000 up to $500,000,000.

That with Mrs. Ford he had retained control of the big industrial enterprise was generally agreed. It was said in some quarters, however, that fully 85 per cent of the Ford Motor Co. stock had been transferred, in the form of non-voting shares, to the Ford Foundation.

The Foundation was organized 11 years ago as an educational and scientific project. As such it would be exempt from taxation.

The remaining five per cent of stockholders is understood to have been divided 58 and 42 per cent between Ford and his wife on the one hand and the heirs of the late Edsel B. Ford, their son, on the other.

Figures compiled by some tax authorities showed that if the older Ford's estate amounted to as much as $500,000,000 and all were subject to taxation, the federal and various state governments would take $383,988,200.

When Edsel Ford died in 1943 his estate was estimated to be worth $200,000,000. The same questions arose then as to what inheritance taxes on that estate might do to the great Ford industrial empire. But the Edsel Ford estate still remains in probate and the Ford Motor Co. has assets reported to be in excess of $215,000,000 with more than $600,000,000 in surplus.

MEXICAN STATE GOVERNOR OUSTED

Mexico City, April 10.—(AP)—Congress, through its Permanent Commission, yesterday ousted the Governor of Tamaulipas State, Hugo Pedro Gonzalez, editor and publisher of El Mundo, Tampico, whose paper had criticized the state government. Gen. Raul Garcia was named provisional governor.

Flood Fears Diminishing In Ontario

Reports from London and Chatham Areas Indicate That Flood-Swollen Rivers Are Subsiding Rapidly.

Chatham, Ont., April 10.—The tension that had this city of 18,000 persons holding its breath was off today as flood waters that topped all previous records subsided and left a layer of silt on walls, streets and houses.

It had been a tense few days since the Thames River that winds north-east of London, through the rich southwest Ontario farmlands to Lake St. Clair, had gone berserk, egged on by a thaw that melted the greatest snowfall in many years.

All along the banks of the Thames, a line of devastation was marked as the river slowly spread itself across thousands of acres of farm lands. It was the farms that suffered the most damage. Rich top-soil that would have given root to millions of dollars worth of crops was washed away and planting would be delayed for at least two weeks.

The damage here and in other riverside cities and towns, London, Thamesville and Jeannettes Creek, was described by City Manager T. M.S. King as of a "nuisance variety." It would require many weeks to remove all traces of the flood from basements and ground floor walls.

At Jeannettes Creek, a few miles west of here two feet of water remained at the village crossroads. Throughout Western Ontario, evacuated residents were returning to their sodden homes, the river was dropping much faster than it rose and the threat of unknown disaster had passed for another year.

Here and in London, discussions in civic halls were being heard about methods to prevent the recurrence of floods. A long term plan to shackle the river was under discussion.

Hugo Pedro Gonzalez, editor and publisher of El Mundo, Tampico, whose paper had criticized the state government. Gen. Raul Garcia was named provisional governor.

Prominent Churchmen Join In Tribute To Anglican Primate

Prominent members of the clergy today expressed tribute to the Most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen, primate of the Church of England in Canada, these including Rev. Canon A. R. Kelley, Rector of St. James' Church, Compton, one of his fellow students, Lennoxville, and Rev. Russell Brown, rector of St. Peter's Church, Lennoxville.

Canon Kelley: "The Most Reverend Derwyn Trevor Owen was a great-hearted Canadian, a friend of all, a man who was the soul of integrity and honor and of the very core of his heart a gentleman. He will be remembered as a sincere and devout follower of our Lord, a man of faith and deep spiritual character. He was a beloved presiding officer in the councils of the Church and one whose personal magnetism drew others to him and drew forth from them the best that was in them."

"A man of broad sympathies and a human priest, he consistently advocated the cause of the reunion of Christendom. A happy warrior in all good endeavors, and the first bishop to be elected Primate of the Church of England in this country by democratic vote, he gave over twelve years of unforgettable leadership to General Synod. His presence in its assemblies created an atmosphere which served to maintain discussion at a high level. When debates grew heated, it was his custom to interpose in order to invoke the guidance of the Holy Spirit and by this means to direct Synod's deliberations to a right conclusion."

"Conciliatory in spirit and faithful to Divine Truth, in his great joy he presided over the session of General Synod which unanimously commended the proposals for reuniting the Church of England and the United Church of Canada to the study of the whole church. In the providence of God history may record that this action of Synod was the outstanding achievement of his term of office as Primate of the Church of England in Canada."

Rev. Archdeacon Jones: "The Church of England in Canada mourns the passing of the most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen, primate of all Canada, whose saintliness of character and wise administration deeply enriched the inner life of the whole Anglican Communion."

Rev. Russell Brown: "The death of Archbishop Owen will come as a personal bereavement to many clergy and lay people far beyond the circle of his own communion. Our primate had about him a charming simplicity and deep personal piety that made him what he was—a great spiritual leader. He was equally at home in great cathedral or simple mission outpost and the power of the Spirit in his life was always a strong reality to his companions in worship."

Rt. Rev. W. Gordon Maclean, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada of human kind was a wise, prudent leader. His death will be a great loss not only to his own church but to the whole Christian Church in Canada because he was always willing to seek the welfare of all Canadians regardless of their denomination."

James Cardinal McGuigan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto: "I deeply regret the passing of His Grace, Archbishop Owen, and express my sincerest sympathy to all who have been so sorely bereaved by his death. He was ever a true Christian gentleman and an exemplary Canadian citizen, sharing all endeavors for the common good."

"He was a gracious personality, filled with the milk of human kindness and ever anxious to use his labors and his influence for the progress and development of Canada and advancement of Christian ideals."

"I will ever remember with gratitude the many courtesies and marks of kindness I received from him"

Rt. Rev. John Dixon: "The unexpected death of Archbishop Owen comes as a great shock to the whole membership of the Church of England in Canada. As Primate, he was the living symbol of our unity and no leader in our history had done more to make that unity a reality. He had an extensive personal knowledge of every section of the church. His kindly, humble simplicity endeared him to all who knew him. His generous appreciation of every point of view, his fairness of mind and quiet sense of humor made him an outstanding presiding officer in the councils of the church and a powerful leader in every enterprise."

"The same qualities won the respect and affection of all Christians in Canada and enabled him to lead the way to ever closer and happier co-operation."

"A simple Christian gentleman, a wise leader, a great church statesman, whom we have loved long since, is lost to us awhile."

Archbishop Owen had been the spiritual head of Canada's 1,800,000 Anglicans since 1934. He submitted his resignation to the general synod of the Church of England in Canada when it met at Winnipeg last September, but was prevailed upon to remain as Primate. He withdrew his resignation—but said he would certainly resign after the Lambeth Conference in London, England, in June, 1948.

Altogether, Dr. Owen served his church for 47 years as curate, assistant rector, dean, bishop and archbishop. Born in Twickenham, England, in 1876, son of a retired cavalry officer, he was brought by his parents to Canada while a boy, the family settling on a farm near Brandon, Man. A few years later the Owens moved to Goru's Landing near Peterborough, and Dr. Owen attended public school there and later went to Cobourg Collegiate.

He was one of three commissioners who surveyed church conditions from the Maritimes to the Yukon in 1927, and at that time laid the foundation of his wide acquaintance with hundreds of individual clergymen and lay leaders.

In the absence of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, the federal government's tribute was expressed in the words of External Affairs Minister St. Laurent—Canada had lost a "great religious leader." Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lauson of Ontario said "He will be remembered as a great Canadian who was willing to take his full share in every public activity of benefit to our people."

Among religious leaders expressing sorrow and praising the talents of the Archbishop were James Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto, Rt. Rev. Gordon McLean of Winnipeg, the Presbyterian Moderator; Chancellor G. P. Gilmour of McMaster University, Hamilton; Rev. W. J. Gallagher of the Canadian Council of Churches and Rabbi Feinberg of Toronto.

They joined yesterday with Freeman, Jenkins, Maritime president of the union, in conferences with Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor, and M. M. MacLean, director of the Labor Department's industrial relations branch. Labor Minister Mitchell, who was in Welland, Ont., was kept advised of the talks by telephone.

After yesterday's sessions, President Jenkins flew back to Glace Bay, N.S., Maritime district headquarters of the union. The two Washington officers remained here for another day of meetings with the labor department officials, and they were to leave by plane for the United States capital late today.

Meetings will take place monthly, but the location of each meeting is not officially decided upon.

that he will demand searching scrutiny of the commission's funds. The President's budget message to Congress earlier this year recommended an outlay of $500,000 for the commission, of which half would be an actual appropriation and the remainder an authorization for the commission to commit itself to $250,000 in additional contracts.

On the other hand there is the little matter of the sales tax—non-existent in 1936. It is now one of the Government's biggest revenue producers, tipping the scales at an estimated $260,000,000 currently. Even Post Office department revenues have skyrocketed since 1936. In that year, they were responsible for receipts by the Government of $1,100,000. Now, if the total doesn't reach $8,100,000, something's wrong.

DEPLORES U.S. INTERVENTION

London, April 10.—(AP)—Lord Strabolgi, chairman of the League for Democracy in Greece, said at a league meeting last night that the general Greek situation is "perilous," but predicted that despite American interest the United States will never send troops to the Mediterranean trouble spot. Lord Strabolgi deplored American intervention in Greek affairs.

DENTAL NEGLECT OF CHILDREN IS EASY

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

If cavities in children's teeth are filled before extensive damage occurs, few of these teeth will be lost in later life.
Dr. F. Denton White, director of oral hygiene, Minneapolis Public Schools, in a four-year survey of high school students found that taking care of their teeth in grade school had resulted in only eight per cent loss of first permanent molars.
By comparison, examination of a group of high school students in another city revealed that 88 per cent had lost at least one of their permanent molars.

As a result of examinations for military service, 20 per cent of the first two million men called were rejected because of poor teeth. Doctor White learned that only two per cent of 7,800 senior high school boys whose teeth had been cared for in grade school had poor teeth and that only one student would have been rejected for military service.
Requiring children to brush their teeth twice a day may not prevent the development of decay, but a trip to the dentist's office twice a year is more likely to be made by children whose parents require them to practice oral hygiene.

X-ray Examination
Special examination of the teeth can be made after they have been scaled and cleaned by a dentist. In addition to inspection for obvious breaks in the enamel, X-ray examination may reveal flaws which are not visible to the naked eye.
Teeth which have been cared for during the formative years remain strong and healthy in later life, while those which have been neglected suffer extensive damage. Dental care for children is not expensive, but dental neglect is.

Question: Is there a cure for psoriasis? I have had it for ten years, but nothing seems to clear it up.
Answer: Psoriasis tends to get better and worse. It usually improves in the summer time, and treatment is often discontinued at this time of year. Although psoriasis can be helped, it has a bad habit of coming back.

Mrs. Nelson A. Beaton and Mrs. T. Grady Beaton entertained a few friends very pleasantly at their home on Main Street on Tuesday evening, April 1. The gathering was in honor of Mrs. Nelson Beaton's father, Mr. T. J. Grady, who celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday on that date. After an evening spent socially, the hostesses served refreshments and were assisted by Mrs. Murray Grady, of Coaticook, Mrs. Leslie Wright and Mrs. Kenneth Norris. Among the guests was Mr. Grady's brother, Mr. Joseph Grady, of Coaticook, the only other surviving member of the family, who is now eighty-three years of age. Master Raymond Jodoin, of St. Charles Seminary, Sherbrooke, is a holiday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Jodoin, and family. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Call, of the "Pen-Insular Dairy Farm," will regret to learn that Mrs. Call is seriously ill having suffered a partial stroke of paralysis. Mrs. O. T. Picford, of Waterloo is the guest for a few days of her mother, Mrs. H. McClintock, her sister, Mrs. Guelph E. Parker and Mr. Parker, at the Parker home. Rev. Denis Benoit, of Ste. It's hard work to love a grouch...

Have you ever noticed how often the men with sunny dispositions seem to have "all the luck" ... in love or in business? It would be odd if they didn't! It is hard work to love a grouch. TRY BUILDING UP YOUR CHILD THIS WAY

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight. Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B, C, D, Riboflavin (B2), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron. In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth. So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

DOROTHY DIX

PERFECT HUSBAND

Wife Admits Mate's Philosophy Makes Him "Fun To Live With"

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a bride with the perfect husband and after three years of marriage we are still on our honeymoon. We aren't and have never been madly in love, but the love we have for each other is based on faith and when we have an occasional disagreement we talk it out and compromise.

When we got married, my cooking was terrible, but my husband never groused over it. He would say: "She is doing fine. She will be an A-1 cook in no time at all." And he ate my cooking just to show that it was edible. That put me on my mettle and I can hold my own with any cook now.

Here is my definition of a perfect husband: One who has a sense of humor; who has patience; who is gentle and kind and straightforward; who has the ability to provide the necessities, even if sometimes we must scruple on the luxuries; one who does not sulk and hold a grudge after an argument; ONE WHO IS FUN TO LIVE WITH.

GLAD SHE IS MARRIED. Answer: Congratulations! Certainly any girl who has gotten a husband with all the virtues that yours possesses has won the jack pot, and you should be down on your knees returning thanks to whatever angel makes matches in Heaven.

Among the qualities that I particularly admire in your husband, and which all other amateur husbands should copy, is the tact with which he is breaking you into double harness. The trouble with most young husbands is that when they undertake to change their wives nearer to their hearts' desire, they do it with a sledge hammer instead of a sally-spreader. They knew that the girl had no domestic training, but they expected her to be as good a cook and manager as their mothers.

And that makes the girl fretful, nagging and dissatisfied and sorry she gave up her job for a fault-finding husband. But yours was smart enough to jolly you into learning how to cook. Your recipe for the making of a perfect husband is a model that all bridegrooms should copy. Especially that line about "his being fun to live with." Any woman would give her eye teeth for that kind of a husband.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a man 30 years old, a bachelor. Recently, I have met a woman with whom I have fallen in love and she professes to care for me, but she has been married twice and divorced both times. She has a girl 7 years old. Her second marriage split up because she was supporting her whole family on her husband's money. I found this out and asked her about it. She said she didn't love him, but it would be different with me.

If I marry her, I don't want to support her whole family, as she has three brothers, one sister and her mother. I am willing to help her mother all I can, but not the balance. Do you think I should go into this marriage? I am happy now, but I'm unsure.

Answer Well, Don, if you marry the lady with the parasitic family, you won't be lonesome, but you will certainly not be happy. You will have plenty of company who will always be underfoot. They will drink your liquor, smoke your cigarettes, eat your food, use your car, wear your clothes, run your house and tell you where you get on and get off.

Any woman who will marry a man she doesn't love just to get him to support her lazy ancestors on of brothers and sisters has a family complex that dominates her. They will always be the ones who come first in her affections and she will have no compunction about enslaving a mere husband to them. So think a long time before you sell yourself into slavery to a lot of deadbeats.

Dear Miss Dix: What is a poor wife and mother to do when she has been home all day long, except for the children, and who feels the need of some companionship, yet whose husband retires behind his newspaper for the evening and passes into silence?

Answer: Just as you can't get blood out of a turnip, so you can't get scintillating conversation out of a dummy. So all that a wife who has gotten a nontalker for a husband can do is to adjust herself to circumstances. She can provide herself with plenty of company if she will ask her friends in for a game of cards and serve them a tasty snack. Or she can put on her good clothes and step out with Sally or Mamie and tell husband that she is leaving him to take care of the baby, as he is going to be a fireside-sitter, anyway.

Any woman who has any management about her can find some time during the day to get out of her home for a little while and get a change of scene and something new to think about. The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

Helpful Tips Encourage Amateur To Tone Up Drab Room With Paint

For even color distribution, brush paint from unpainted surface toward painted surface.

Quick spring tonic for a tired-looking room is the fresh coat of paint which brightens up drab walls. You can administer this pick-me-up yourself with fast-drying, inexpensive water-thin paint and point with pride to the professional-looking results if you'll follow these tips from master craftsmen:

- 1. To avoid the slapdash uneven coating that advertises the work of an amateur, start painting at the upper left-hand corner of the wall and work to the right. Make sure paint is mixed to uniform consistency.
2. Insure even color coverage by applying paint on unpainted surface to the right and brushing back to work into section you've already painted.
3. Decorative stripes that cleave the wall with plumb-line accuracy are no trick at all when paint is applied between two strips of masking tape. After the stripe is dry, the tape can be peeled off.
4. Strike a match on freshly plastered cracks. If match lights, plaster is dry enough to paint.
5. A cardboard shield held in one hand and a small brush used to paint the last half inch around moldings or door jams will avert messy smears in this unprotected area.

6. Spatters on woodwork or floor should be wiped up at once with a damp soapy cloth. Never let spilled paint dry or it will be almost impossible to remove it.

7. Don't try to follow any particular stroking pattern. Water-thin paint dries to a flat finish and brush marks aren't visible.

8. Unscrew light switch shields and paint the wall underneath for the neatly tailored finish that marks the expert's work.

9. Curb any tendency to overload brush by keeping paint away from heel and handle.

10. To clean brushes, allow hot running water to flush paint off and then rinse in hot soapsuds. Hang brushes up to dry. Wrap in clean paper for storage. If you take these paint-wise hints to heart, you will have a clean, neat job. The bright, sparkling room that results will speak well for the time, effort and thought you put into making your home as attractive as possible.

2 Major Army Branches To Become One

Ottawa, April 10. — The army announced today that its efforts at co-ordination have resulted in a reorganization which eventually will merge two of its major branches into a single section that will be considerably larger than any other in the land force.

Affected are the supply, transport, works and construction, development and repair sections and the reorganization is aimed at the eventual fusion of the quartermaster-general and master-general of the ordnance branches with Maj.-Gen. N. E. Rodger, C.B.E., of Amherst, N.S., the present quartermaster-general, as chief.

His chief aides, Brig. George Kitching, O.B.E., D.S.O., and Brig. A. A. W. Bennett, C.B.E., will assist in the immediate control of the present Q.M.G. and M.G.O. functions respectively.

The army said the change had been brought about by three factors "which make it desirable for one man to co-ordinate the responsibility of the two branches." They are:

1. The former M.G.O., Maj.-Gen. J. H. MacQueen, C.B.E., has been appointed president of Canadian Arsenal Limited, a crown corporation which works closely with the forces.
2. Great quantities of wartime buildings and equipment have been disposed of, with a resultant lightening of the load on the two branches.
3. The job of returning soldiers, dependents and equipment from overseas has largely disappeared.

The scope of the consolidation is indicated by the responsibilities of the newly co-ordinated corps and directorates. At present Gen. Rodger, as Q.M.C., is responsible for the Army Service Corps, which handles food supply and catering and all military transportation by land, sea and air, and for the directorate of works and accommodation, responsible for properties, accommodation, construction, engineers stores and fortifications.

DUNHAM

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. W. S. McElroy. The new president, Mrs. O. C. Selby, presided. There was a good attendance and two new members were added to the group. The meeting opened by the members repeating the Collect for club women in union. It was decided to hold the meetings on the first Wednesday afternoon of each month in the future, instead of the first Tuesday. A letter was read from overseas thanking this branch for a personal parcel sent. The members are asked by the president for contributions for another parcel to be sent to England. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Annie Buchanan. A letter from Mrs. Smallman, the provincial president, was read. At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

Mayor and Mrs. L. G. Rowe were in Montreal on business for a few days. Friends of Mrs. H. O. Martin are sorry to hear of her serious illness in Bedford and hope to learn soon of improvement in her condition. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buchanan, their daughter, Laura, and Mr. Alton Buchanan, all of Cowansville, were guests at the Gear home.

He will take over, in addition, the responsibility for the ordnance service, which includes all other procurement such as ordnance stores, vehicles and equipment. For the army, as well as the electrical and mechanical engineers, responsible for modification, maintenance and repair of army equipment. A further function will be design and development of all army stores and equipment.

In due course, headquarters stated, there will likely be a complete integration of the engineers services, the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers and the design and development directorates into one large branch of army headquarters.

A similar reorganization was effected in the navy in February, 1946, when equipment, supply ordnance, ship building, works and buildings, engineering, victualling and related functions were brought under the chief of naval administration and supply.

In the air force, these functions are the responsibility of the air member for technical services. The army said the consolidation, its largest yet, fits into the "broad plan to achieve maximum co-ordination of the navy, army and air force, as well as economy and operating efficiency."

Flood Loss Will Exceed Million Mark

Ontario Farmers Work Frantically to Build Up Dykes Along Course of Turbulent River Thames.

By GEORGE RONALD Canadian Press Staff Writer Chatham, Ont., April 10.—This city near the southwestern tip of Ontario today breathed relief that the flood threat had passed its maximum with comparatively little damage. But farmers and residents here and Lake St. Clair—18 miles to the west—frantically worked to build up dykes along the course of the turbulent river Thames. Thousands of acres of rich farmlands had been inundated for stretches far north and south of the tortuous course of the river, from northeast of London, 70 miles east, to its mouth in the Lake St. Clair. And these crop and property losses from the Thames waters were only part of the damage inflicted by other streams, swollen by melting snows and recent heavy rains, which broke their banks in wide areas of the province.

No one could accurately assay the over-all loss but it would top $1,000,000, figure well below the damage caused by the great floods of 1937.

The City Council of London where the flood crest of the Thames had come within inches of the tops of breakwaters before subsiding, decided on several measures to guard against repetition of the threat.

Damage did not appear to be extensive. City Manager T. M. Kingston stood by his earlier assertion that the damage would prove mainly of the "nuisance type" so far as the city is concerned. He declined an estimate, but said it probably would not be excessive.

As the flood established a new river peak only about 24 families were forced from their dwellings. Many others clung stubbornly to homes in low lying, badly flooded areas. Only two of the evacuated families required official emergency shelter, and were accommodated in headquarters of the Chatham Red Cross in the market building.

Others of the temporarily homeless remained at the homes of friends or relatives. None had been able to return to their houses early today.

With water flooding many basements of business establishments and homes, electric fuses were put out of business at many places, leaving hundreds of buildings in darkness, many telephones out of order, heating systems cold.

Electric pumps and hose lines were everywhere, with water in the streets and a gloomy weather forecast of more rain. Business and industry was virtually at a standstill during the evening as Chatham residents were out in force to watch the swirling waters in their lazy journey to Lake St. Clair. Officials were confident that the supply of drinking water would not be contaminated.

The anxiety accompanying the irresistible surge of the flood crest was moving westwards with Jeanette's Creek apparently the most vulnerable spot between here and Lake St. Clair. All the way the river traverses low flat farmland, much of which is already under water. But it was predicted the river would return to normal in about two days.

Dana Porter, Ontario Minister of Planning and Development with engineering experts took a plane from London late yesterday for a swing over the whole flooded territory of Western Ontario and on return said he was "shocked" by the flood picture.

He expressed hope that the developments might spur all municipalities to take vigorous action on conservation, reforestation and proper land-use measures at an early date.

London's City Council, whose proceedings were broadcast for three hours, appointed a special committee to receive a report from City Engineer W. M. Vittek. The Thames Valley Authority will be asked to call an immediate meeting of municipalities to press for implementation of the Ontario conservation authority act of 1946 as far as it concerns the Thames Valley.

Thamesville, upstream from here, saw the river begin slowly receding but was under four feet of water still. Sixty families there had been moved to emergency homes and drinking water was being brought in from farm mios distants. Milk was reaching Thamesville from as far away as London.

BE ASSURED OF DELICIOUS DESSERTS!

At the end of a perfect meal, you'll want something very special in the way of good taste for dessert—something to rate a delighted "laurel" from your public. If you crave the compliment of having plates passed back for more—serve desserts made with BENSON'S CORN STARCH—tasty puddings—cream-smooth custards and meringues to melt in your mouth! And speaking of meringue—1 tsp. of BENSON'S CORN STARCH added to 1 tsp. of sugar for each stiffly whipped egg white . . . will make a fluffier, smoother, more delicious meringue. In fact, you'll find so many ways to improve your menus with fine-textured BENSON'S—it makes smoother gravies and pie-fillings—that you'll call it a menu "must"! Like all good things, you'll want to buy it by the case, for BENSON'S is a buy-word familiar to generations of satisfied Canadian homemakers. Yes, I know it's hard to find at present, but the supply is gradually increasing and soon there'll be enough for everyone!

BEAUTY TREATMENT FOR YOUR HOME!

Spring is here! In the bright sunshine your home would look well with a fresh coat of paint—and there's that annoying leak in the roof that must be fixed! But—money, money—who has the money! If this is the way you feel—if you and your husband require money for home repairs and are in a position to repay without undue strain on your family budget . . . pay a visit to the manager or accountant of your nearest branch of the BANK OF MONTREAL. He'll tell you that homemakers are constantly receiving ready help through the bank's Personal Loan plan. And the low cost will surprise you—only 27 cents a month for each $100 borrowed, when repaid in 12 monthly instalments. Truly a bank service for your convenience—think of it when you need money for home repairs.

NO MEAT BUT LOTS OF GRAVY!

Every woman knows, so this is just a reminder and not news to you, that there's nothing like rich, brown gravy to add appetite appeal to a meal. "True!" you may say, "but what of my meatless meals?" The answer to that is OXO. Any day you haven't meat, you can have a big dish of the brownest, most delicious gravy by making OXO Gravy . . . Melt 4 level tbsps. of dripping, add 6 tbsps. flour and brown, stirring constantly. Mix 2 OXO cubes or 2 tbsps. fluid OXO in 2 cups of boiling water. Add this to your browned mixture, stir until smoothly blended; add salt and pepper and bring to a boil. . . Remember OXO is the goodness and flavour of prime, lean beef concentrated in cube or fluid form. Get some at your grocers and see how many delicious and economical ways it will serve you. Keep it on your handiest kitchen shelf and be reminded that beefy OXO will cut your meat bills.

GIVE SPRING CLEANING THE BRUSH-OFF

Think for just a minute of all the brushes you use when you clean house . . . scrub, venetian blind, paint, banister or bench dusters, floor push brooms, radiator—well, a lot of brushes and wonder of wonder, aren't they come now with NYLON bristles! For you know that it's the bristles in your brushes that do the work—and that's why it is so important that your brushes have NYLON bristles . . . they're the best and most enduring for every job and easy to clean so that they look like new at the finish. Well, now, thanks to Canadian Industries Limited, makers of NYLON bristles in Canada, these wonderful new household utility brushes made with NYLON bristles by a number of experienced brush manufacturers are among the best of the brand new buy-words for homemakers. Do look for the words "NYLON BRISTLED" when you're buying brushes for long wear, usefulness, cleanliness, and yes—beauty!

SIX SAVED FROM BURNING HOME

Imagine the shock of seeing your home burst into flames . . . the horror of knowing your family to be trapped inside by the deadly fire. This is what happened to 17-year-old Michael Scherba one evening last February. Gasoline from a small motor on the porch of his home had been leaking for some time unnoticed. It was just as Michael reached the porch that a spark from the motor set it off. Almost in an instant the only entrance to the four-room house was a mass of flames . . . the fire was out of control and Michael's family—trapped inside the burning house! Michael's father was at work—his mother an invalid—so 17-year-old Michael could expect no help—alone and unaided he must rescue five children and his invalid mother! This is just what Michael did . . . bravely, and in spite of severe burns on his face and hands, he made six individual rescues—lowering his young brothers and sisters and his mother through a window—the only possible means of escape. For his selfless gallantry Michael Scherba, aged 17, has been chosen, by a group of leading Canadian newspapermen, the most recent DOW AWARD winner. For it is for just such deeds of courage that the DOW AWARD, sponsored by the DOW BREWERY, is given to civilian heroes and heroines in all parts of Canada—together with a $100 Canada Savings Bond as a tangible expression of appreciation.

AUXILIARY AT FOSTER HELD BUSY MEETING

Foster, April 10.—The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. J. N. Code. The Rev. H. P. Mount, gave a Scripture reading from the Epistle to the Colossians. The president, Mrs. Mount, was in charge of the business session, after welcoming the visitors and members and paying special tribute to the presence of the former Dorcas secretary, Mrs. A. B. Young, of Waterloo.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as given by the secretary, Mrs. N. N. Crowhurst. Eleven members responded to the roll call. A card of thanks was read from Miss Emma Hunter. A letter was read asking that the branch try to secure new members, especially among the young women, who will be the seniors of tomorrow.

The treasurer, Mrs. Code, stated that there were upwards of sixty-five dollars on hand. She was authorized to send twenty-five dollars toward the Plaque Fund. Mrs. Mount read a letter received from Rev. Ramsay Armitage, president of the Anglican Women's Training College, in Toronto, Ont., asking for branch assistance. After discussion it was moved by Mrs. A. M. Hunter and seconded by Mrs. A. L. Young that five dollars be sent to this worthy cause. Mrs. Mount also read a request for hospital supplies for the hospital at Pangnirtung, which particularly stressed the need for mother's bags and hot water bottle covers. Mrs. Mount suggested that each member try to do what she could towards supplying these articles.

Members were reminded that the Thankoffering Boxes should be in by April 30. During the afternoon the annual bale was packed. Mrs. W. Knowlton thanked all those who had aided in its completion. Mrs. A. L. Young read an account from the "Living Message" of the disastrous fire that had destroyed the school at Lac La Ronge, but fortunately no lives were lost among the one hundred and twenty children inmates.

Following the benediction by the Rev. H. P. Mount, Mrs. Code served delicious refreshments assisted by Mrs. William Dixon, for which Mrs. Mount expressed her sincere thanks.

C.A.H.A. GRANTS SHERBROOKE HOCKEY CLUB REPLACEMENT

Phil Simard To Replace Bill Heindl In Tonight's Encounter With Royals

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has granted the Sherbrooke Hockey Club a replacement for Bill Heindl, Sherbrooke's injured defenseman, according to Forest Keene, business manager of the local club.

Information was received from Montreal late yesterday afternoon from Norman Dawe, president of the C.A.H.A. and vice-president of the C.A.H.A., to the effect that the senior body had concurred in Sherbrooke's request for a replacement and that authority was given.

The local club executive decided that owing to the possible inability of Heindl playing in the present series they decided in favor of using the replacement and Coach Dugre immediately proceeded to contact certain players in view of obtaining them for tonight's opening tilt. After careful deliberation Coach Dugre, decided in favor of Phil Simard, of Quebec City.

Simard, who has been playing with St. Gregoire, Intermediate champions of the Quebec City and District, and finalists this year for the Provincial Intermediate title, had tried out at the beginning of the present season with the local club, but did not remain with the club owing to the fact that it was impossible for him to obtain his release from his previous club. His team has just finished playing last week, when they were eliminated in the finals by St. Phillippe of Three Rivers. Simard will arrive in town this afternoon.

Coach Dugre announces a few changes in his lineup, Maurice Bastien is a doubtful starter and will be replaced by Adj Cote, at the pivot position, with Tony Demers, the boy with the bullet shot, and Bernie Lauzon, who will patrol the left boards. The colored boys, who are expected to carry the brunt of the attack will be intact, with Herbie in the middle lane, and brother Ossie and Manny McIntyre on the flanks. The third line will see Lynn McDougall, who has been flying around lately, in the centre spot with Mueh Morehouse, Sherbrooke's flyweight backchecker and Hank Hayes holding down the other wing position. On the defence big Red Goupille and Rolie Denault will share the blue-line honors with Phil Simard, the new acquisition, with Harry "The Booter" Barefoot defending the citadel at the end of the line.

In the Royals the local hockey fans will see a well balanced team, picked from all over the country, with some of the game's outstanding stars. On the line-up will be seen an old Sherbrooke boy in the person of Gerry Plamondon, who did a good job for the Royals in helping them win the Senior Group crown from the Ottawa Senators. In Jerry McNeil the visitors have a goalie of outstanding ability, and who has pulled his club out of more than one tough hole during the past season.

Sherbrooke Junior Chamber Of Commerce Entertains Local Club

Dupuis, president of the local club, Richard Crepeau, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Coach Ivan Dugre, Forest Keene, business manager of the Sherbrooke Club. The middle row, in the same order, Bernie Lauzon, Jean-Paul Laine, Rolie Bergeron, Roger Dion, Gaston Gagnon, Cliff Goupille, Claude Boreau, Manny McIntyre, Martial Berard, John Prefontaine, Ossie Carneau, Lynn McDougall, Henry Hayes, Jean Paul Lariviere. Back row, left to right, Maurice Bastien, Constant Vannasse, Frank Morehouse, Guy Donahue, Herbie Carnegie, Henry Paul Lemieux, Tony Demers, Roger Larose, Len O'Donnell, Jean-Paul Audet, Adjutor Cote and Harry Barefoot.

TIGERS DOWN HAWKS 6-3 IN INITIAL TILT

Hamilton, April 10. — Moncton Hawks, senior hockey champs of the Maritime and conquerors of Cornwall Falcons in first-round Allan Cup playoffs, proved easy pickings for Hamilton Tigers last night as Tigers won 6-3 in the first game of their best-of-five Eastern semi-final.

The veteran Tigers, defending Eastern Senior Tiltists, had the edge throughout the game and it was a sensational chore of goaltending by diminutive Hughie McDonald in the Moncton nets that kept the score down.

All through the first period Tigers bombarded the Moncton nets with McDonald performing sensational saves to keep the period scoreless. At the other end of the rink Art Childs had a soft time in the Hamilton goal.

In the second period Tigers went to work, running up four goals within 10 minutes. Mark Runions getting two and Swat Mason two. Hamilton then fell back on the defensive, and it was a mistake. Moncton went rampaging in the Tigers defence and before the period ended Buck Whitlock and George Bell had scored to bring it down to 4-2.

Clarence Shillington made it 5-2 after eight minutes of the third period and the game was in its last five minutes when Mike Demchuk got Moncton's third goal. Then Mason—who had been scoreless in Tigers' last eight games—got his third goal of the night at 17:20.

Tigers repeatedly worked in close through what seemed a weak Moncton defence and would have scored several more had it not been for the great work of McDonald in the Moncton goal.

A crowd of close to 5,000 saw the game and several times cheered the efforts of the Moncton attackers, while giving uproarious acclaim to the fine goaltending of McDonald.

The second game will be at Toronto Saturday afternoon, with the third at Toronto Monday and the fourth at Toronto Wednesday.

Leo Durocher's Suspension Gives President Rickey 3 Big Headaches

New York, April 10.—(AP)—Now that some of the shock of Leo Durocher's banishment from baseball for the 1947 season by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler has worn off, president Branch Rickey of Brooklyn Dodgers today faced the task of solving swiftly three problems.

1. Rickey must name a manager to succeed the exiled Durocher for the season which starts in five days.

2. He must make up his mind whether to retain or discharge Leo when the suspension is lifted at the end of the playing season, Sept. 28.

3. Rickey has only five more days to make good on his winter statement that "a decision on Jackie Robinson will be made on or before the opening day of the National League season."

The first is probably least difficult. It was generally believed the managerial assignment would go to either Coach Ray Blades or scout John (Pepper) Martin, the one-time wild horse of the osage who starred for St. Louis Cardinals a dozen years ago. Both previously worked under Rickey as managers, Blades at St. Louis and Martin at Sacramento, a Cardinal farm.

Dixie Walker, mentioned in some quarters, was ruled out by Rickey. "Walker never has been considered in a managerial capacity," he said.

He named Clyde Sukeforth, another Dodger coach, to manage the club in today's exhibition game with Montreal Royals at Ebbets Field.

The crestfallen Durocher was still stumped over the startling outcome of the charges filed by President Larry MacPhail of New York Yankees against Durocher and Rickey for defamation of character.

To all questions put to him, Leo answered dispiritedly, "I have nothing to say. I don't know what I'll do. His only words when questioned with the news of his suspension were: 'For what? For what?'"

The official reason given by Chandler for Durocher's suspension was "because he has not measured up to the standards expected or required of manager of our baseball teams." The suspension, Chandler said, was the result of "an accumulation of unpleasant incidents in which he has been involved which the Commissioner considers detrimental to baseball."

St. Mike's Lace Montreal Canadiens 21-0 To Cop Eastern Junior Title

Toronto, April 10.—(AP)—With the Eastern Canada Championship safely tucked under their belt, Toronto St. Michael's College Majors are saddling for the Western trail to seek the Canadian Junior Championship and the Memorial Cup.

Majors, who lost the cup last year to Winnipeg Monarchs, will meet either Brandon Elks or Moose Jaw Canucks in a best-of-seven series. And they aren't fooling, either, as witness the 21-0 score they hung on Montreal Canadiens Wednesday night to take the Eastern final series in three straight games, having taken the first two tilts 11-3 and 5-1.

The injury-riddled Canadiens dressed only 10 men and were no match for the surging saints. Their defence crumbled in front of netminder Roy Scourrah, who performed hitherto unknown acrobatics to stop the rubber thrown his way.

Strangely enough, it was this same Scourrah who in a game proscribed the high score. When asked before the game how he spelled his name, he answered deliberately, "S-E-I-V-E." And the Irish certainly fulfilled his prophecy as they sifted through the Montrealers with ludicrous ease to chalk up a record scoring total in junior hockey.

Flem Mackell turned in a six-goal performance and two assists. Bob Paul and Ed Harrison each collected four goals, Les Costello and Rudy Migay three, Warren Winslow a single to round out the scoring. Harrison performed the original hat trick in the second frame, scoring three goals in succession in a minute and seven seconds.

N.B.A. REPORT GIVES GRECO WEBB MENTION

Paterason, N.J., April 10.—(AP)—The National Boxing Association today released its regular quarterly ratings in which Abe J. Greene, N.B.A. president, disavowed in his usual philosophical vein on the decided absence of logical contenders for Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

Greene made it clear that the category of "logical contenders" for Louis' crown was still vacant and then listed Jersey Joe Walcott as still on top of the heap of outstanding boxers.

The N.B.A. rated Ezzard Charles as the only logical contender for the light-heavyweight title in the light of his knockout of Jimmy Bevins.

Five middleweight contenders were accorded a chance at champion Tony Zale's honors. Jake Lamotta topped the list followed by Marcel Cerdan of Algiers, Rocky Graziano of New York, Bert Lyell of California and George Abrams of Washington.

Charley Fusari climbed to the top of the pack of contenders for the welterweight bauble by his long string of knockouts. Two Canadian fighters, both from Montreal, were accorded honorable mention in their respective divisions. Johnny Gresco was listed in that category among the welters and Danny Webb among the lightweights.

MEMORIAL CUP SURVIVORS

Victory of Toronto St. Michael's over Montreal Canadiens in the Eastern final last night reduced to three the number of teams contending for the Memorial Cup and the Canadian Junior Hockey Championship.

The survivors: East—Toronto St. Michael's. West—Brandon Elks, Moose Jaw Canucks.

Boston, April 10.—(AP)—Boston Bruins announced today that a proposed 18-game West Coast exhibition hockey series with Montreal Canadiens had been cancelled. The management said the majority of players did not wish to extend the season.

Leafs Hope To Make Amends Tonight In Second Tilt Of Stanley Cup Finals

Montreal, April 10.—(AP)—The eager youngsters from Toronto—made even younger by the loss of veteran Nick Metz, their leading playoff scorer to date—get their second chance against the "three old men" from Montreal tonight when Maple Leafs and Canadiens meet in the second game of the Stanley Cup final.

When the Stanley Cup-defending Canadiens pulled a reverse St. Mike's act and blanked Leafs 6-0 here Tuesday in the opener of the best-of-seven trophy series, it put Hap Day's young crew on something of a spot. They need a win tonight in the worst way to give them a toehold for the next two contests back in Toronto Saturday and next Tuesday—but by the same token Canadiens are out to make it two in a row and keep their rivals out of the win column on Montreal ice.

Leafs haven't been able to take Canadiens' measure here all season—although they collected three ties—while on home ice they were good for three wins and a tie, which is why they'd like to return with the series all even.

The 33-year-old Metz was sidelined, probably for the season, in the first game when a painful rib separation. Metz, not as young as he might be, will take longer to get back into shape than a youngster and unless the series goes seven games he won't be used.

In his place Day will use 26-year-old Bud Poole, who played most of the season in the centre spot, but wasn't used in the last two games of the semi-final against Detroit or in the first game here.

Day hopes that his youngsters—they range from 19 years up—will have bounce enough to come back from that first plastering, as they did against Detroit in the elimination playoff. Though he admits they weren't any ball of fire in the opener—in fact they "played the worst game of the season against Canadiens" and didn't seem to have much will to win—he knows they can't be any worse and should be better. But he knows it will be tough.

"Canadiens are the champions," says Hap, "and they're going to fight to the last ditch to stay that way. They wouldn't be champions if they didn't."

The Habitsans, out to win for the injured Elmer Lach at all costs, will be at full strength except for Lach and Ken Moslell—both out for the season—and that happy-go-lucky Irish defenceman, Kenny Reardon.

Reardon, who came out of the Boston series with a badly mangled toe, wasn't expected to see action again this year. But he's hobbling around on crutches now, growing because he can't play. As Dick Irvin says, "That Reardon would have to be in a wooden box before you could count him out."

And Irvin likewise would have you know he also has some rookies on the fire.

"Why," he says, "we have youngsters like Quilty, McKay, Leger, and Macey, haven't we?"

Johnny Quilty, 26, was the league's star rookie back in 1941 before he went into war service, but this is his first cup playoffs. Hap Macey is 26, Leger 28 and McKay 30. But they're rookies, Irvin contends, "so what's Toronto so steamed up about?"

Probable starting lineups:
Toronto Broda ..... goal ..... Montreal Durnan
Thomson ..... defence Bouchard
Mortonson ..... def. .... Lamoureux
Apps ..... centre ..... Quilty
Ezirikki ..... wing ..... Richard
Watson ..... wing ..... Blake

MULLAN TO COACH HAMILTON TIGERS
Hamilton, April 10.—(AP)—Andy (Moon) Mullan will coach the Hamilton Tigers in the Interprovincial Rugby Union for the 1947 season it was announced. Mullan was familiar to football fans in the early '30's when he played quarterback for Toronto Argonauts. Since retirement from the Canadian football scene he has coached in the United States and served in the American armed forces during the war.

Zanesville, Ohio—Sammy Angott, 145, Washington, Pa., knocked out Cal Elephant, 145, Brooklyn, (3).

Providence, R.I.—Ernie Giusti, 139½, West Warwick, outpointed Floriente Desmarais, 135, Manchester, N.H., (8). of strategy called to decide the fate of Robinson, the star negro infielder with Montreal. Besides Rickey and Durocher, Branch Rickey, Jr., manager Clay Hopper of Montreal and Brooklyn coaches Jake Pither, Blades, and Sukeforth attended.
