Vol. XXXIII, No. 35 MONTREAL, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1965 16 PAGES 5 CENTS

THEY'RE OFF: To college that is, with the help of the Westmount Rotary. The Rotary Scholarship Committee picked these four students to receive donations toward their college training. The four were picked on their merit. The presentation was made at this week's meeting of the Rotary on Wednesday in Victoria Hall. Les Stuart, far left, president of the club is seen handing cheques to Donna Segar, St. Paul's, David Hanson, Westmount High, Carolyn Sawyer, Westmount High and Robert Vaux, St. Leo's.

Hey, let's go-go ... back to school

During the summer months the students of Westmount, in most cases, have been associated with such expressions as:

"Who's got the action?"

"Hey, let's go-go."

"Where's the action?" and

"You belong where there's action."

Well, it is our sad duty to inform you that you do belong where there's action and we know where the action is... its at your school and it starts in a few days.

Yes, its that time again. School gets underway Sept. 7, at Catholic schools, (St. Leo's and St. Paul's) and Protestant schools open on Sept. 8.

All former students attending either St. Leo's or St. Paul's are asked to be in their classes at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday and new students are required to arrive at 1 p.m.

For the Protestant schools, Westmount High, Westmount Park and Roslyn, school begins on Wednesday.

Students who have previously attended Westmount High and are in grade 8-11 are requested to arrive at 9:00 a.m.

Pupils who attended Roslyn or Westmount Park schools last year and are entering grade 7 in Westmount High are requested to arrive at 1:30 p.m. Those students who wish to go to Westmount High and have not yet an interview are asked to present themselves at 2 p.m.

Westmount Park School and Roslyn School will throw open their doors at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday. Students attending for the first time are asked to show up at 1:00 p.m.

In other schools in Westmount, Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School will open Thursday Sept. 9 at 9:00 a.m. for all students.

St. George's School will commence classes on Sept. 9 at 9:00 a.m.

Weston School classes at the N.D.G. "Y" get underway next Thursday at 9:00 a.m. while the Severn Ave., classes don't open until Sept. 14 at 9:00 a.m.

The Study will be open Wednesday at 8:50 a.m.

Noted time changes

Commencing Tuesday, Sept. 7, there will be several time changes in Westmount.

The Westmount Public Library will be closed all day Sept. 6 and will start its winter schedule on Sept. 7. The winter hours are as follows: For adults, the library will open Monday to Friday from 10:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. On Saturdays it will close at 6:00 p.m.

The Children's Library will open Monday to Friday from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. to noon and from 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

The Atwater Library, 1200 Atwater Avenue, will be closed all day Sept. 6 and will open on Sept. 7 following regular hours, which are: Monday to Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

There will be new hours at the Westmount Swimming Pool, too. Starting Sept. 7, the pool hours will be from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. daily.

Police make safety plea

Westmount Police have warned motorists to be on the lookout for youngsters back from vacation and returning to school next week.

A Westmount Public Safety official said, "due to the sudden weather changes, many children have returned to the city this week, therefore special caution must be exercised immediately.

The highest number of accidents involving children occur when they dart out from between parked cars. Police officials have asked drivers to be on the watch for this deadly habit.

School crossing guards will be posted at dozens of intersections near the schools starting Wednesday. It was noted that parents should take the time to learn where these guards are stationed and instruct their children to follow his commands.

A board to hear appeals

A Westmount City official announced this week that appeals from local property owners regarding changes in the 1965-66 assessment roll will not be heard by council this year. Instead a Board of Revision will be set up and appeals are expected to be heard in mid-September.

"I can not set a date for the appeals," said the official, "but (Continued on page 2)

Campbell, McEwen named vice-principals here

Westmount High School will have two new Vice-Principals in 1964-65. Mr. K. F. Campbell replaces Mr. D. N. McRae who was appointed Principal of Westmount Park School, and Mr. R. McEwen replaces Mr. C. N. Mackie, appointed principal of Dunton High School. Mr. Campbell will take as his special concern the work of Grades 9 and 10, while Mr. McEwen will follow the progress of pupils in Grades 7 and 8.

Mr. Keith Campbell comes to Westmount High with a wide background of experience in business and education. Born in Montreal, he was educated at the High School of Montreal, Sir George Williams University and McGill University.

After several years in the Traffic, Operating and Purchasing Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Campbell turned to teaching and taught at St. Laurent High School and at Sir George Williams Evening

For the past ten months he has been on loan to the Curriculum Department of the Greater Montreal Board, and has played a major part in organizing the introduction of Subject Promotion into seventeen of the Board's high schools this September. Married, with two teenage children, Mr. Campbell has also found time to participate in community and professional activities. He is a Squadron Leader with the R.C.A.F. Auxiliary (Reserve) is a past president of the Commercial Teachers' Association and an active member of Cartierville Anglican Church.

Mr. Robert W. McEwen has had extensive experience in teaching at all grade levels, having taught for several years at Woodland Elementary School, Monklands High School and John Grant High School. At John Grant High he served as Head of the Mathematics Department since 1963. Mr. McEwen was born in Montreal,

School census to begin soon

Officials of the Protestant and Roman Catholic School Boards in Westmount have started preparations for a house-to-house school census. It is expected to begin sometime in September and end in mid-October.

Each year officials are faced with the task of surveying the total school population, of all faiths and creeds. They point out that the census is required by law and that all householders must answer all questions on the form whether there are any children in the house or not.

The door-to-door method of gathering information is now being used because in recent years five to seven percent of Westmount householders failed to return forms mailed out to them. Complete coverage of the city is expected to take about three weeks.

Last year there were complaints of imposters during the census. The school boards this year advised that all their census takers will have identification cards and if anyone else tries to ask questions or gain entrance to your house, call the police department.

Questions to be asked of householders include the names of children, religion, details of school attendance, including night courses. Census takers have instructions to obtain the necessary information from neighbors if, after three visits, they still find no one at home in any particular house.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

SEPTEMBER 4 TO 11

Stormy to start the week, then mainly sunny everywhere. This is Harvest Full Moon week.

Storms along the Atlantic coast could spread into the townships, and the Laurentians will have cold winds and some showers. Morning fog or valley mists may be expected, but afternoons should be sunny with sultry heat.

Bright and warm to finish the week. Clear, moonlit nights, but rather cool. First frosts in northern counties.

Temperature range during the week: some days up to 75°F, nights 35°F.

Local producer boosts avant-garde theatre

Playwrights like Ionesco, Beckett and Albee are far from being household names in Canada. But, says Peter Symcox, there may come a day when they will be.

"Some people think the Theatre of the Absurd won't last — that it will soon fade away without having reached the majority of the populace," he said. "Well, I don't see that. Interest is growing in every part of Canada. It's only a matter of time before it really catches fire."

Symcox who lives at 127 Clandeboye Avenue, a former director and stage designer, will be starting his second season in October as a producer for CBMT's half-hour drama series, Shoestring Theatre. And at least one of the works he'll be producing this fall, Krapp's Last Tape by Samuel Beckett, falls in line with his feeling about avant-garde theatre.

"It's a good play. It has the ability to shake people up — to make them think. That's where the real importance of where the real importance of the 'Absurd' playwrights lies. They can excite the mind. They aren't just writing mild philosophy or entertainment but works that can jolt people into taking stock of their values," he said.

Last season Symcox produced two 'Absurd' works on Shoestring Theatre, Ionesco's The Motor Show and Beckett's Act Without Words.

"The response was so overwhelmingly favorable that I became convinced that the public was not only ready for this type of drama but was actually anxious to see it," Sycox said.

I there's any reason for misgivings about the rise of avant-garde theatre in Canada, he said, it's because Canadian playwrights aren't in the forefront of the movement.

ONLY THEMSELVES

"Most of the playwrights have themselves to blame for their failure," he said. "They haven't gained enough personal experience. Look at it this way. How can a man who spends his life in Duck Lake, Saskatchewan, expect to write about misery and Joy with the same depth as someone whose lived these emotions in the harsh realities of London, Paris or New York? If Canadian playwrights want to write intriguing works, then they've got to get out and travel, both physically and spiritually." The roots of Symcox's interest in theatre can be traced back to his university days in his native England. While at Oxford, where he gained an MA in English literature, Symcox joined the drama society and won several trophies for acting and directing.

Later he was awarded a scholarship to the Old Vic Theatre School. He took courses in direction and stage design under Michel St. Denis, leaving to work as an assistant stage designer at Convent Garden. He has also worked as assistant stage designer at Glynedebourne and Edinburgh opera houses and has directed and acted in provincial repertory theatres and at the Watergate Theatre in London.

In 1953, Symcox came to Canada. "I was going in a rut in England," he said. "I knew I'd have to leave if I was to make a future for myself."

He became a set designer at CBMT and turned out over 1,000 sets before he left in 1957 to produce plays and operas in New York and Florida. Three years ago Symcox returned to Montreal and was appointed producer of Chez Hélène, a daily children's television program. On Oct. 18 when Chez Hélène returns to CBMT and the CBC network Sycox will be starting his third term with it.

"Chez Hélène is a delightful show," he said. "The stories all have a moral and educate children without preaching. They also encourage the growth of a child's imagination."

However, despite his enthusi-

asm for Chez Hélène, there's little doubt that Sycox's primary concern is for drama.

"Television has been performing a vital role in its development in Canada, particularly in Montreal where the English-speaking theatre is at a minimum. If I have any complaints, I suppose it's against sports. I'd rather see the time given to sports turned over to drama. There's far too much emphasis in this country on the cult of the physical."

Ex-photographer Kyle runner-up to old paper

The long arm of coincidence — or of good example and influence — has reached across the continent from Westmount to Vancouver island.

As we trumpeted on these pages a fortnight ago, The Examiner won this year's top spot picture award in the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association better-newspapers competition for 1964.

Our runner-up was the Campbell River, B.C., Courier, a paper of almost identical circulation to ours, though printed in full-page format and by the offset method.

Courier's Kyle

The Courier was not represented at the recent CWNA convention in Edmonton, so we had learned none of the details.

This week we had a call and then on our invitation a visit from Mrs. George A. Kyle, 467 Cote St. Antoine road, bearing copies of The Courier. She and the paper filled us in.

Her son, Brian Kyle, worked for us in 1957-58, just after leaving Westmount High School, doing advertising layout at the old Monitor Publishing Company Limited plant on Hampton avenue, as well as photography for The Examiner and its sister publications. He was well liked and is well remembered. (Continued on page 15)

THEY'RE POPULAR: Here are most popular girls and boys in all three Westmount parks. They were picked by their friends last week and at the closing of the playgrounds last Thursday night, they were all honored. Each received a brand new $5 bill. Pictured from left are: Allan Ansell and Lorraine Grimes, most popular girl and boy from Staynor Park, Nancy Wilson-Smith and in front of her is Mark Stapleton, most popular girl and boy from Prince Albert Park, Michelle Portelance - Garry MacGregor, most popular girl and boy from Westmount Park.

Cubs and Scouts

Twelve boys from the St. Leo's Wolf Cub Pack spent a week at Camp Jackson Dodds, Lac Cloutier, from August 14th to 21st and had a grand time.

Under the able leadership of Akela Audrey Coulter and Rackshaw Carol Halligan, the boys took active part in a pirate dinner, snipe hunt, miniature World's Fair, parade of decorated boats, regattas, hikes, skits, space afternoon, etc. It is a wonder they had enough time to obtain the following badges:

BOATING: Peter Hamilton.
OBSERVER: Gordon Thain.

HANDICRAFTS: Robert Beaulieu, Peter Hamilton, Robert Hamilton, Victor Paré, Michael Robertson, Derek Smith.

DOUBLE BEAD SAILING: Robert Beaulieu, Ray Hanley, Michael Robertson.

Youth rally

The Montreal Youth Fir Christ movement will open its fall season at 7.30 p.m. Sept. 11 with a rally in the Westmount High School Auditorium. A feature of the rally will be the Montreal premiere of "White As Snow" a color film combining romance and scenery. There will be refreshments. Admission is free.

Of 1,072 drawings in 1964, 375 or 35.0 per cent were children under 15 and 235 or 21.9 per cent were youths in the 15-24 age group. Males outnumbered females about 7 to 1. Nearly 29.4 per cent of the drawings involved watercraft, almost exclusively a male hazard.

WE SAY

Tip to a resident of Edgemoor road

MR. D. Gordon,
 172 Edgemoor road,
 Westmount 6, Que.
 Dear Mr. Gordon:

You have a great opportunity to become the travellers' hero.

Your hotels have accepted the dictum of a $1.25 minimum wage.

Anything less, these days, is scandalously low — if one overlooks the bonanza in tips.

Perhaps you will have to raise room, meal and other rates to meet the increased labor cost.

Why not do a good job of it. Put pay scales on decent living levels, so that employees' palms need no longer be upturned on every hand to guests in your otherwise excellent hostelry.

Absence of that archaic sign of servility has been the joy of and a boon to the airlines. Ask your subsidiary, booming Air Canada.

Westmount is proud of its CN president.

Go down in history as the man who abolished tips in your hotels — and while you're about it, on your trains, too, and throughout your great CN system.

No problem here if election comes

WESTMOUNT voters won't have to do much head-scratching over their ballots if, as suspected, we have a Federal election this autumn.

Without the proposed new electoral boundaries, there would be the uncertainties of neither a segment of N.D.G. electorate added to us nor of new personalities among the candidates.

Little excitement

would be in prospect.

Now cabinet-proved, competent and popular, Hon. C. M. Drury would be Westmount's obvious choice to return as M.P., whatever the fortunes of the various parties elsewhere and in the country.

You say

Going too far?

Dear Sir:

The following happened at the pool a couple of weeks ago: I was told by a lady pool attendant that bikinis were not allowed. I asked to be shown the respective by-law, and that it should be read to me. I was informed there was no such thing. Who then gave the order? Mr. Rothwell (Recreation Dept.)? I checked with Mr. Rothwell who said the same thing and asked me to see him if this happened again.

This did happen again exactly the same day. When I refused to move the lady attendant came around with paper and pencil and wanted personal details (not measurements) — name, phone, address, etc. When I declined to do so she asked for my pass, which I also refused to give as I had already shown it coming in.

In both instances a couple of feet away men were lying in their briefs. Briefer than our bikinis. When I pointed this out I was told that orders had not been given against "them". This I think is a double standard. Also there are various kinds of bikinis: brief, medium and high. Which are allowed and which are not allowed, this is the $64 question.

However, I was rather horrified to see the personal interference, and how easily the attendants seemed to have accepted the paper and pencil role. Surely their job is to keep their eyes glued to the pool.

I think the Recreation Dept. should be more concerned with the breaking of the anti-noise law by children and teen-agers and over screaming at the top of their voices for no reason at all "and thus disturbing the peace". This anti-noise by law is No. 498 of the City of Westmount. Surely this kind of noise must disturb the tenants residing in the apartments nearby.

V. SKERL.

How about the trees?

Dear Sir:

It is deplored and common knowledge that our famed tree

Canada will benefit from world-wide use of Nuclear Power

The growing world-wide use of nuclear power to generate electricity is expected to bring benefits to Canada in two-ways — be reviving sales of uranium and by creating a new export market for Canadian-made nuclear power plants and equipment.

About 50 countries are likely to be generating electricity from the heat of nuclear reactors by the 1980's, reports the current Commercial Letter of Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. Several countries are doing so now, including Canada, the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

The Commercial Letter says the generation of electricity is "the most widely anticipated use of nuclear reactors", and plans are being accelerated for the building of nuclear power stations throughout the world.

According to a recent survey, there will be between 20 million and 22 million kilowatts of installed nuclear generating capacity in the world by 1970, excluding the Communist countries. It is estimated that this capacity will increase to 200 million kilowatts by 1980.

Bright Prospects

"While Canadian uranium production continued to decline in 1964, prospects for the future have been brightened considerably by recent developments," the Commercial Letter says. "Some experts have begun to talk of a supply and demand balance by as early as 1967."

Canadian uranium ore reserves amount to about 35 per cent of all known reserves in the western world, and "the future outlook for the sale of uranium is favorable."

The engineering and construction of nuclear electrical generating stations will become an export opportunity of growing importance, the Commercial Letter notes.

"There is every prospect that the heavy-water reactors designed in Canada will lead to the adoption of this type in many other countries. This will create an export market potential for nuclear generating stations, a large range of components, heavy water, and uranium fuel that should substantially increase in the coming years."

"Canada's potential share of the world market for nuclear power plants in the next ten years is estimated at about $1.5 billion. Of this, $1 billion would be for nuclear apparatus and over $500 million in associated conventional engineering equipment."

Qualified scientists and engineers are essential to the development of nuclear technology. A permanent centre is being built at Rolphton, Ontario, site of the Nuclear Power Demonstration Station, for training personnel from countries buying Canadian population in Westmount is declining with swiftness. Disease, salt on the streets, and high-rise apartments are all taking their toll. Why then, did City Hall condone the wanton destruction of the magnificently healthy maple trees between Greene and Oliver Avenues? Bordering a frost fence behind Steinberg's parking lot, these trees were not in the way of construction.

Since the Public Works and Parks Departments have been combined, the trees are fast disappearing. Why doesn't the tree department sound its voice? In future construction more stringent zoning laws preserving the trees must be applied — and soon.

Runaway Horse: The front window of a street car and the shaft on a baker's wagon were damaged when a runaway horse heading west on St. Catherine street, suddenly altered its course and collided with the street car.

Harold Chadwick, a salesman for James Strachan, bakers, told police he left the horse and wagon opposite 4336 St. Catherine street, while he delivered bread. The animal apparently became frightened and bolted.

Downs German Plane: Winner of the Distinguished Flying Cross last month, Flying Officer George Patterson Christie, whose parents reside at 87 Holton avenue, was among the many Canadian pilots to shoot down a German plane in the fierce aerial battle over Britain on Friday, Aug. 30.

F/O Christie, who learned to fly here before joining the RAF some years ago, is the son of Prof. C. V. Christie, of McGill University, and Mrs. Christie. He is now a member of the ALL-Canadian RAF Squadron.

Some 20 German planes were bagged during this encounter.

Huron. This is scheduled for completion next year.

A power station near Toronto

A major nuclear power station is planned at Pickering near Toronto with ultimate capacity of three million kilowatts, and the first two of the six reactors are expected to be in operation in 1970-1971. Plans have been announced for a 250,000 kilowatt nuclear power station in the province of Quebec, with first delivery of power in the early 1970's. An advanced research reactor is under construction at the Whiteshell Research Establishment near Winnipeg and it is expected to come into operation later this year with initial design output of 40,000 kilowatts.

Britain so far has generated twice as much nuclear electricity as the rest of the world combined. This year there will be 19 nuclear power reactors in operation in Britain, and by the late 1970's the nuclear power program will have capacity of 10 million kilowatts, or 25 per cent of Britain's total electricity generating capacity.

reactors as well as those required to operate Canadian stations.

Atoms instead of fuel

In the generation of electricity, the nuclear reactor is simply the source of heat. The controlled chain reaction of atoms in uranium dioxide is used instead of the burning of a conventional fuel in a fire-box.

While the Commercial Letter warns against extreme expectations, it anticipates that nuclear power will cause important changes in the economy.

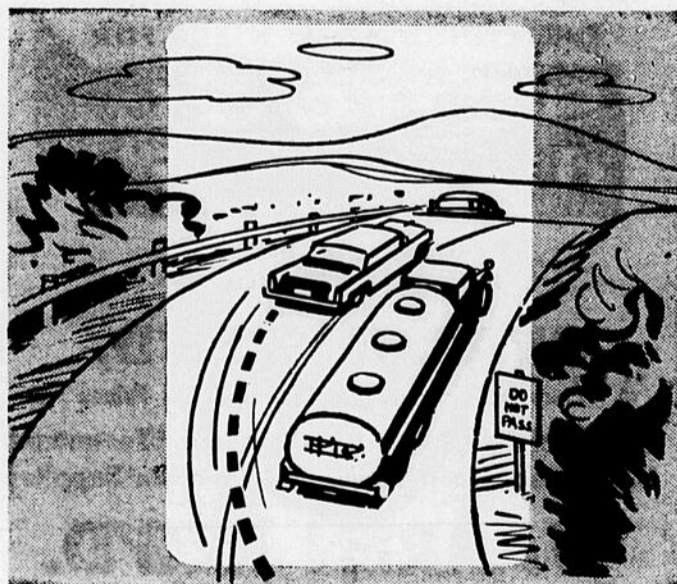

"Many new materials, some of them known only in laboratories a few years ago, are coming into use in nuclear reactors. These developments should not only create new industry but also have a profound effect on many existing industries."

"The trend of nuclear developments is toward the equalization of power costs at lower levels in all areas. This is of great importance for balanced development of all regions of the country (and of the world), for rural electrification and for many municipal and industrial electric systems."

Here are highlights of the Commercial Letter's summary of specific progress and plans to date, in Canada and in other countries:

Canada now has a nuclear power capacity of 20,000 kilowatts, and by 1985 this capacity will have increased to 14.5 million kilowatts. Present capacity is at the single plant now operating, the pilot plant at Rolphton, Ontario.

The first full-scale nuclear power station in Canada will be the 200,000 kilowatt station at Douglas Point, Ontario, on Lake

Students graduate training

Three graduating ceremonies were held on Friday, August 27th, to mark the end of six weeks of rigorous army training for 240 high school students of the Montreal area. The Student Militia training is aimed at channelling selected students into the Militia without interference with their schooling, with a view to develop potential officers and non-commissioned officers.

The first ceremony was held at 10.00 a.m. at the Royal Canadian Hussars Armoury, 4185 Cote des Neiges Road, where Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. C. Woodcock, General Staff Officer at Headquarters Quebec Command will review the 86 Student/Militiamen and take their salute. Lieutenant-Colonel Woodcock will be accompanied by Captain G. W. P. Gaudet, 4th bataillon, Royal 22nd Regiment.

At 11:00 a.m. at the Westmount Hillside Armoury, 70 student militiamen under the command of Captain H. C. Needham of 7th Field Battery, RCA, were reviewed by Lieutenant-Colonel J. P. L. Taschereau, Staff Officer at Headquarters Quebec Command.

The third ceremony was held at 2:00 p.m. at the Artillery Barracks, 4600 Lacombe avenue, where Colonel Pierre Charbonneau, CD, ADC., Militia Adviser at headquarters Quebec Command, will inspect 85 students under the command of Captain G. A. Moisan of the 50th Field Battery, RCA.

STUDENT MILITIA PROGRAM

This special three-phase program was initiated four years ago and provides a very profitable training for students of high school age. It is not just a way of summer employment, but it trains the students for non-commissioned officer rank, as well as for future officer's rank, if they wish to join the Militia after their summer training period.

Besides being subjected to a healthy discipline, the recruits receive instruction in drill, map-reading, small arms training, first-aid, national survival operations, signal communications, traffic and crowd control, hygiene as well as rigorous physical training, and other military subjects.

The candidates of the second phase receive more detailed instruction in these subjects, in addition to being trained as junior non-commissioned officers and assistant instructors.

Phase three candidates, already in the junior non-commissioned officers category, receive detailed training in the technique of instruction and act as assistant-instructors for the recruits of phase one.

Student Militia Program candidates are selected from high school students, for their scholastic standing and their character. Those selected join the Army for the duration of the five-week course.

They receive the normal Army rate of pay $117.00 per month for recruits; $124.00 per month for trained recruits in phase two and $215.00 per month for junior non-commissioned officers. To this, will be added a subsistence allowance (Continued on page 6)

Children's theatre starts 33rd year

There is an air of excitement about the planning of the Children's Theatre this season, as directors Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters celebrate their 33rd year, 100th major production, and 300th performance.

For two generations the Children's Theatre has presented plays which have been a source of enchantment to the children of Montreal, and the Children's Theatre School is today acknowledged as Canada's foremost and oldest school of speech and drama for young people.

Since the inception of the Children's Theatre, thirty-three years ago, thousands of children have been given instruction in speech, mime, and deportment. Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, with their extensive knowledge of Children's Theatre work, and their experienced staff of teachers, are able to give a full and comprehensive training in the art of acting, stage, radio and television. They point with pride to many former students who are now appearing in London, New York and Hollywood, and to the many students now attending the school, who have done a great deal of work locally for television and radio and with the National Film Board, also for modelling and commercial work.

ELABORATE OPENING

The directors have planned an elaborate opening of the season to celebrate their 300th performance, and have secured the Canadian rights to a charming play entitled "The Clown Prince" which has played before thousands of children in Budapest and has been specially translated for the Children's Theatre by Agny Poly, and it will have its premiere in this country during the Christmas holiday week. It was written by Elizabeth Erdos and the musical arrangements are in the competent hands of Alan Mever. All choreography by Agny Poly who will be remembered for her excellent work in Red Shoes, Hansel and Gretel and Pinocchio.

Auditions for Children's Theatre students are being held immediately for "The Clown Prince", which requires many singers, dancers and actors.

The other two performances which will be given during this season have been selected by the young people of Montreal who write in to Children's Theatre, saying what they would like to see presented, and topping the list were "The Sleeping Beauty" and "Beauty and The Beast".

Two services for Sunday

Communion service will be held at Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday morning September 5. The Minister, the Rev. Harold J. Balsdon will preach and the topic of his sermon will be "When Clouds Overshadow."

The subject of his evening sermon will be "God's Cure For The Blues." After the evening service there will be a fellowship hour in the lower hall, at which coffee will be served. All are cordially invited.

The Sunday School is closed until September 12 but Junior Congregation and nursery facilities are available.

The mid-week meeting of the Church for Prayer, Praise and Bible Study will be held on Wednesday at 8:00 p.m.

Image of God Sunday sermon

How human experience is improved in practical ways as people recognize that man is made "in the image of God" will be presented at the services in all Christian Science churches this Sunday morning, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Man." The Bible selections will be keyed by this verse from Daniel: "O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong." Pertinent passages from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures).

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital is being held September 15th in the auditorium of the nurse's residence at 2 p.m. An executive meeting will be held at 1 p.m.

President Mrs. Philip Pugley will preside. Tea hostess is Mrs. Emile Coté. Presiding at the tea table will be Miss Helen Laing and Mrs. S. N. McNiven.

St. Andrew's files are all complete; office is opened There's good news from St. Andrew's United Church this week!

It has now been established definitely that all essential records on the premises at the time of the fire have been recovered, and in a condition that allows them to be considered valid.

As a result the church will be able to completely re-establish its archives.

These documents include: Session minutes and papers, all church registers from 1900 to the present date, bound copies of the church year-books from 1900 to date, and all working files in the structure at the time it fell prey to flames.

September 7, next Tuesday, the church office will be opened at 4141 Sherbrooke west, suite 506.

At this point church officers wish to take the opportunity to thank many of the firms on their regular purchase list, who have come forward with offers of assistance and loans of mailing and other equipment, while the church equipment proper is being renovated or replaced.

A meeting of the church managers will be held September 8, it is understood, at which time plans will be laid for a meeting of the congregation to affirm the moves of the church for the future.

TWO MINUTES

WITH THE BIBLE
 BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
 BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
 CHICAGO 35, ILLINOIS

St. Peter declares that to obtain eternal life we must be born again, since by nature we were born but to die.

"Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away. But the Word of the Lord endureth for ever, and this is the Word which by the gospel is preached to you" (1 Pet. 1:23-25).

Our Lord emphasized this same fact to the Pharisee Nicodemus. "That which is born of the flesh," He said, "is flesh... Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again" (John 3:6, 7).

Nicodemus was devoutly religious and he even recognized

Christ as "a teacher come from God" (John 3:2). But he was not saved. He had not been "born of the Spirit," and "that which is born of the flesh is flesh" even though it is "religious flesh," and must die. Nicodemus, like many sincerely religious people today, needed to be born again — of the Spirit, by faith in the Word, of which the Spirit is the Author.

Some suppose that Paul did not teach the new birth, but they are wrong. He taught it consistently, and nowhere more clearly than in Titus 3:5, where he wrote by divine inspiration:

Mary Balfour Darling weds David Chalmers

The marriage of Mary Balfour, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Balfour Darling, and of the late Arthur Balfour Darling, to Mr. David Robinson Chalmers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chalmers, of Hudson Heights, Que., took place recently in St. Matthias Church, Westmount, the Rev. J. N. Doidge officiating. Mr. Norman Hurtle played the wedding music. Summer flowers were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, Br. Brian Darling, was in a gown of white faille, fashioned on princess lines, the fitted bodice having a scalloped neckline, appliqued with lace, and the skirt falling into a chapel train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a circlet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of Eucharist lilies, and stephanotis.

Mrs. J. D. Evans, as matron

Shoes are emphasized in fall fashion

Thanks to the great variety in shoe silhouettes, plus styling that's light, soft, and wholly feminine, women's footwear this fall, carries a large share of the fashion news.

With the short skirt showing no signs of dropping its hem, and textured or patterned stockings being promoted like mad, interest continues to be focused on the feet, and on lower heel styling.

The Shoe Information Bureau of Canada maintains that in terms of fashion, shoes are the foundation of every costume a woman wears, and suggests that of honor for her sister, Miss Susan Chalmers, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Joan Riddell, and Mrs. Dale Leggett as attendants, were in frocks of sky blue silk, fashioned on empire lines. They wore circlets of blue cornflowers and Sweetheart roses, in their hair, and carried oval bouquets of larkspur, Sweetheart roses, and blue cornflowers.

Mr. Richard Franklin, acted as best man for Mr. Chalmers and the ushers were Mr. Frank White, Mr. John Puddicombe, Mr. Michael Darling, Mr. Stephen Johnston, and Mr. Remi Lefebvre.

Mrs. Darling, the bride's mother, was in an ensemble of pale blue silk twill. She wore a hat of veiling, and a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Chalmers mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in gold lace, with a hat of bronze and gold feathers, and a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in La Loire of the Windsor Hotel. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers left for Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the bride travelling in an ensemble of off-white knit, and wearing navy blue accessories.

proper co-ordination of shoe and costume has never been more important than now.

Pumps, open or closed, look excitingly new, with fore-shortened vamps, lowered backs and throatlines, dipped or lowered sides, cutouts at insteps and sides, fresh looking up-front effect achieved through use of buckles, bows and decorative tongues or high-riding strap ties. Slings are everywhere. So are straps, low or high on the foot, thick or thin — single, double and triple instep or T's with the ankle strap newest.

Sandals have returned to the fashion scene and more will be seen as the social season progresses.

Delightfully feminine ties in light, opened-up styling are seen in two and three eyelet patterns, as well as ghillie types on graceful little heels and gently rounded toes, in suede and calf or reptile combinations. Heels run the gamut in heights and shapes — little and curvy, squared and straight, set back or stacked, slim and high, chunky or full. In Lasts the trend continues toward more rounded looks, depending on heel height.

All shoe leathers are soft and supple, with suede getting a bigger play than for some years past.

Boots are now both fashion and functional, and well established as an important part of a woman's wardrobe. Most popular heights for the new fall-winter season appear to be at mid or below calf levels, though taller boots will certainly remain in the fashion picture. The latter will frequently boast elasticized toplines for snugger fit, and variety of zippered closures.

Shearling lined cold-weather boots will be seen at all levels — ankle, mid-calf and knee. Some of the new boots show spat effects, the quilted look, seaming, stitching and lacing trims, two-texture combinations. Smooth or grained, suede and brush leathers, soft and waxy types for more rugged wear, novelty prints and fake furs, all combine to make the boot season an exciting one.

Try these lemon 'butter cookies'

Kellogg's Stars are bigger and crunchier and more flavorful than ever before. Now Stars are drenched in a caramel-flavor sugary coating that whets the breakfast appetite of one and all. They stay crisper in milk because there's no hole in the center any more. Stars are great for snacking, too, and for sprinkling on ice cream and puddings. Try them, for a change, in these Lemon Butter Cookies. Soft little lemon drop cookies rolled in Kellogg's new Stars. Dainty little cookies, to serve with tea and ice cream. Tiny little cookies, so you can have one or two more. Easy little cookies, so you can always have a full cookie-jar — or partly full, at least.

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- 3 cups Kellogg's Stars

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Blend butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg; beat well. Stir in lemon juice and peel. Add sifted dry ingredients; mix thoroughly. Roll teaspoonfuls of dough in Stars, pressing in gently. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 12 minutes or until slightly brown.

Yield: 4 dozen cookies, 1½ inches in diameter.

Eventide WA meets next week

An opening meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Eventide Home of the Salvation Army will be held in the Auditorium, 7486 Upper Lachine road, on Thursday, September 9th, at 2 p.m.

A duet will be sung by Mrs. Ethel Gardner and Mr. Jack Wellens.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Wm. Goring and her committee.

and socially for his future growth and development. This can only be obtained by the sympathetic cooperation of the home and the school.

Kindergarten, prekindergarten and nursery school is held, either mornings or afternoons and transportation is available. The children are graded according to age and ability and as all children nature at a different rate of speed attention is paid to their individual progress.

Ballet, tap, acrobatic, modern jazz and majorette classes are also graded according to age and ability and are geared to help the pupil develop a graceful, well-poised body through the medium of movement and music, whether they are taking dancing for recreation or wish to make it a career. Scholarships are awarded to pupils showing exceptional ability.

Pre-school children from three years of age are taught to co-ordinate mind and body through rhythmic exercises and to stimulate their imagination and creativity.

Special rhythmic, ballet and jazz classes of house-wives, career girls and students are arranged in body-conditioning, slenderizing, limbering, stretching and learning the art of relaxation.

Early registration is advised, as classes are limited.

Maureen Farrell weds William T. Dubuc

The marriage of Maureen Teresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Roderick Farrell, of Westmount, to Mr. William Thomas Dubuc, son of Mrs. Thomas Edward Dubuc and of the late Mr. Dubuc, of Notre Dame de Grace, took place recently in the Ascension of Our Lord Church, Westmount, the Rev. Emmett Johns, Chaplain of the Verdun Protestant Hospital, officiating. Mr. Joseph Savaria played the wedding music and Mr. L. P. Lecours sang during the service. Standards of white and yellow gladioli were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white silk with an empire bodice of Guipure lace having a sabrina neckline and bell-shaped sleeves, and a skirt with a back panel falling into a cathedral train. Her long veil of tulle illusion was held by an open coronet of the same lace and she carried a prayer book which was carried by her mother at her wedding, covered with lace and a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia McMahon, as maid of honor, and Miss Mavourneen Dwyer and Miss Bernadette Hamel, as bridesmaids, were in frocks of canary yellow poul de soie, with empire bodices. They wore matching bow headdresses and carried cascade bouquets of bronze baby chrysanthemums.

Mr. Louis Cerulli acted as best man for Mr. Dubuc and the ushers were Mr. Michael Farrell, brother of the bride, and Mr. Fred Broomhall, of Ottawa.

Mrs. Farrell, the bride's mother, wore a gown of oyster beige crepe with a jacket of lace re-embroidered with sequins and seed pearls, a hat of oyster-beige silk organza and had a cymbidium orchid pinned to her handbag.

Mrs. Dubuc, the mother of the bridegroom was in an ensemble of beige and cinnamon

CAROL DEANE FROCKS

5238 QUEEN MARY RD. HU. 4-9870

MR. and MRS. CARSON J. PHOENIX, whose marriage took place recently in Westminster Central United Church. Mrs. Phoenix was formerly Miss Margot Beasant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Beasant, of Montreal, and Mr. Phoenix is the son of Mrs. Clarence Phoenix and the late Mr. Phoenix, of Montreal.

Margot Beasant — Carson Phoenix

The marriage of Margot Anne, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence R. Beasant of Montreal, to Mr. Carson John I. Phoenix, son of Mrs. Clarence Phoenix and of the late Mr. Phoenix of Montreal, took place recently, in Westminster Central United Church, Westmount, the Rev. Frank Gilmore officiating. Miss Vera Jamieson played the wedding music, and Mr. Douglas Black, uncle of the groom, sang during the signing of the register. The bridal party were piped from the church by Piper H. Brown and Piper G. Gillies.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white silk organza over taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice having a scooped neckline, the sheath skirt with back panel extending into a chapel train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a headdress of pearls and leaf petals, and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Alice Beasant, as maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Dawn Lariviere, cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid were in frocks of ice aqua chiffon over taffeta fashioned on Empire lines with bodices of white eyelet and sheath skirts. They wore matching headdresses trimmed in eyelet and carried cascade bouquets of white and aqua carnations.

Mr. Gordon Phoenix, cousin of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. John Beasant, brother of the bride, and Mr. Walter Adams.

Mrs. Beasant mother of the bride was in a gown of ice blue chiffon over silk taffeta. She wore a hat of blue chiffon petals and matching accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses pinned to her handbag.

Mrs. Phoenix, mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of pale pink chiffon over taffeta with a bodice of alencon lace. She wore a hat of white and blue accessories. She had a corsage of white roses pinned to her handbag.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Montreal West Town Hall. Later Mr. and Mrs. Phoenix left for Cape Cod, Maine. The bride travelling in an ensemble of yellow and white linen. The coat styled on A lines with the sheath style dress. She wore a white petal hat, wheat colored accessories and a corsage of daisies.

Fashions

This pure silk crepe two-piece dress is a wonderful solution to the later afternoon date dress, as shown with the top, and can be worn with a sweater top for less festive occasions.

The square, navy-edged neckline is caught with white bows. The skirt of the navy outfit, which is also available in white, is pleated all around.

Medical authorities debunk 'diet fads'

The Low Carbohydrate Diet, which is the newest fad among reducers, has been coming in for some vigorous debunking by many leading nutrition and medical authorities.

Their statements about the potential danger of this diet, which is also known as the Drinking Man's Diet, are accompanied by the warning to "beware of any diet that is nutritionally imbalanced."

Many nutrition experts deplore this diet as a serious health hazard. Dr. Philip L. White of the American Medical Association issued a statement that possible effects of the diet on the kidneys and liver can be "alarming." Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard University said the diet may lead to the possibility of a sharp rise in heart disease.

The initial weight reduction which often takes place when the diet is followed is the result, nutritionists theorize, of the switch to high protein high fat foods which changes the water balance of the body, causing tissues to lose weight.

They urge reducers to follow a varied diet with all the basic groups of foods — meat, fish, dairy products, cereals including bread, fruit and vegetables, even some fat and sugar, but with moderate portions and no seconds.

F. E. Hale, manager of Weston Bakeries, agrees with the views of the nutrition authorities who deplore the imbalance of the fad diets. He said the baking industry, concerned about sound nutritional practices, established a bread enrichment program in the 1950's as an effort to increase Canadians' consumption of essential food elements needed for good health.

Swiss embroidered lace. She wore a hat of the same color and had a cymbidium orchid attached to her purse.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the La Loire Room of the Windsor Hotel, where standards of yellow and white gladioli were used as decorations. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Dubuc left for Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the bride travelling in a frock of blue and tan tweed under a matching three-quarter length coat and wearing a tan velvet hat and accessories to match.

"I'm convinced now that my five-year-old son has talent. He paints just like that."
