GERMANS CLAIM TO HAVE PENETRATED CARROCETO

Unconfirmed Reports Say 4,000 Prisoners And 89 Tanks Seized

5th Army Forces Make Progress Toward Clearing Nazis from Cassino—Big Bombers Thrown into Battle in Direct Support of Be-sieged Beachhead Forces.

London, Feb. 11.—(P)—The German High Command, in a broadcast communique, claimed today that German troops had penetrated into Carroceto (Aprilia) in the Anzio-Nettuno bridgehead, ten miles North of Anzio, capturing the village railway station.

"Mopping up of the Aprilia area was continued," the enemy asserted.

The communique also said the Allies penetrated for the third time into the Northern part of Cassino, sixty miles East of Anzio, but claimed they were again thrown out. It claimed British and United States forces had lost more than 4,000 prisoners and 89 tanks in the Nettuno area.

Algiers, Feb. 11.—(P)—Massed German forces, striving to wipe out the Allied beachhead South of Rome, jabbed at Anglo-American defence lines at a number of points yesterday, while 5th Army forces made progress toward clearing the Nazis from Cassino, it was announced by Allied Headquarters here today.

The Allies threw heavy bombers into the battle in direct support of the besieged beachhead forces. The four-engined craft placed their bombs among enemy troop concentrations at points directly behind the front line.

Fierce enemy fighting was reported in the ruins of Cassino on the Southern 5th Army front, but the communique reported attacking American troops "made further progress."

What the bulletin described as "a very strong counter-attack" was repulsed on another section of the Cassino front.

Information on ground fighting in the Anzio beachhead area was limited in the communique to the brief statement "The enemy continued to probe our lines."

Heavy bombers dashed their explosives against the enemy in and around Albano, Cisterna, Velletri and Campoleone—all towns ringing the beachhead—while fighter-bombers carried out bombing sweeps in the area around Rome.

Light bombers also attacked road transport in the Albano-Genzano area beyond the Northernmost tip of the beachhead Wednesday night.

The air communique said the Mediterranean air force flew approximately 850 sorties during the day, losing six planes and destroying three enemy craft. Enemy air activity over the beachhead was slight during the day, although the Germans are said to have rushed a large group of planes into the vicinity.

ALLIES RESTORE PART OF ITALY TO CIVIL RULE

Grant Badoglio Conditional Administrative Control Over Southern Italy, Sicily and Sardinia.

Naples, Feb. 11.—(P)—Allied military authorities have relinquished their administrative control over Southern Italy, Sicily and Sardinia and vested the Badoglio Government with conditional civil authority.

Announcing the transfer, one of the first major moves toward restoring liberated Italian territory to a peace-time footing, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, Allied Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean, said last night two restrictions had been imposed:

1. That Italian administration should be carried on by officials of proven good faith and Allied sympathies.

2. The transfer involves no Allied commitments to the government of Premier Pietro Badoglio and King Victor Emmanuel after the fall of Rome.

The transfer gave the Italian Government administrative power over mainland territory South from the Northern borders of Salerno, Potenza and Bari provinces, and over the islands of Sicily and Sardinia—an area of approximately 30,000 square miles with a population estimated up to 10,500,000. Badoglio previously had exercised control only over Sardinia and four provinces in the "heel" of the Italian Peninsula.

The statement specifically excepted the strategic Mediterranean islands of Pantelleria, Lampedusa and Linosa and said military necessity required the Allied Military Government to retain control of the area adjacent to the battlefronts.

In the territory turned over to the Italians, Allied military Government representatives will remain on duty to provide advice and guidance.

Gen. Frank M. Mason-MacFarlane, Deputy President of the Allied Control Commission, said this was "the first major step toward handing back to the Italians the government of their own territory and on its success depends the speed and extent to which we will be able to make successive transfers."

Simultaneously with the statement giving the new territory into the hands of the Badoglio Government, Gen. Mason-MacFarlane announced his group had taken over direction of the Allied Military Government. Fusion of the A.C.C. and A.M.G., he said, had a three-fold object:

1. To insure the smooth running of everything connected with the Italian armistice terms.

2. To help the Italians give the maximum possible assistance to the Allied war effort.

3. To take off the shoulders of the Allied military leaders the problems of controlling liberated territory so they could concentrate on military operations.

on the North shore of the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Gagnon said that according to a report of the Matane Chamber of Commerce, the Canada and Gulf Terminal Railway Company, operating between Mont Joli and Matane, has never given the service it was required to do. He added that because of poor transportation means, the region "never saw the construction of a single war industry" and that the development of the Port of Gaspé "one of the finest harbors of the world," was hampered because of the situation.

Hon. Perreault Casgrain, Minister Without Portfolio and member for Gaspé-North, supported Mr. Gagnon's "constructive remarks" and suggested that the railroad between Mont Joli and Matane be bought by the Canadian National Railways.

He said that the 36-mile C. and G. T. was "grafted onto the C.N.R. and uses this pretext to double freight rates." He added that prohibitive rates were responsible for scarcity of industries in the Lower St. Lawrence region.

Mr. Casgrain suggested, however, that the railroad be extended to pass through Gaspé-North County and

CONGRESS ASKS FOR SURVEY OF ALL INDUSTRY

An Examination of Canadian Agriculture, Industry and Potential Markets Seen as Basis for Full-Employment Policy.

By JACK WILLIAMS,

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—(P)—The Canadian Congress of Labor today called upon the Government to undertake immediately a complete survey of Canadian industry, agriculture and potential markets as the basis for a full-employment policy.

In a 7,000-word brief prepared for presentation to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and members of the Cabinet, the Congress reviewed labor's position under present and expected post-war conditions and urged immediate withdrawal or revision of the new wage-control order.

Other recommendations in the brief:

1.—Formulation of national policies on food, housing, coal mining and the steel industry;

2.—Maintenance of controls on raw-material prices and import and export trade in the post-war period;

3.—Additional unemployment insurance benefits for workers affected by lay-offs in war plants;

4.—Establishment of an adequate wage standard rather than family allowances;

5.—Introduction of compulsory collective bargaining through a bill in Parliament, instead of by Order-in-Council;

6.—Amendment of the British North America Act, enabling the Dominion to establish minimum national standards on labor and social legislation;

7.—Increased labor representation on Government boards;

8.—Continuance of full pay and allowances to members of the Armed Forces until employed; free postal service and free transportation on furlough for members of the forces;

9.—Introduction of health insurance on a nation-wide basis, with emphasis on prevention;

10.—Establishment of a representative committee to study immigration policy.

The brief said the Congress regretted it had been found necessary to express strong criticism of a number of actions and proposals of the Government and added:

"National unity demands the co-operation of all the people of Canada; there can obviously be no national unity if organized labor is refused proper and adequate consideration of its reasonable requests and its offers of co-operation are rejected or ignored."

The Congress said it recognized the war was not over but there was a tapering off of wartime employment and the Government should give primary attention to providing work for the 2,000,000 men and women now in the forces and war industries—the most serious problem Canada had ever had to face.

Red Army Troops Cut Off Several German Groups from Main Remnants of Ten Crack Divisions Trapped in Dnieper Bend—Exhausted Germans Being Captured at Increasingly High Rate.

London, Feb. 11.—(P)—The biggest Nazi disaster since the loss of 330,000 men killed or captured at Stalingrad last year appeared drawing near today as the Russians announced that Red Army troops cut off several German groups from the main remnants of ten crack Nazi divisions trapped around Korsun in the Dnieper Bend.

The Russians were "wiping them out," Moscow reported. Dispatches said the exhausted Germans, once estimated at more than 100,000 men, were being captured at an increasingly high rate. They also were dying under the cross-fire of Russian artillery firing into the trap.

Korsun, pivot of the survivors' lines in the Cherkassy area, was reported under Soviet artillery fire and the Russians were within seven miles of the stronghold at two points.

A Tass broadcast from Moscow said the German Commander, Lt. Gen. Schermerman, had sent all available men—even stretcherbearers and bakers—of the German 8th Army into the firing line.

But the German situation was near hopeless. Their air strips were gone and food supplies were ebbing to the vanishing point. The Russian communique said the Germans lost ten more Junkers tri-engine transport planes and four fighters in trying to supply the doomed men.

Seven Russian columns were hitting Korsun on the Ross river 25 miles South of the Middle Dnieper while 150 miles to the Southeast the Russians said one Soviet formation had killed 1,300 more Germans and captured a considerable number in a push West of Apostolovo to outflank the iron city of Krivoi Rog.

In the far North troops of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army captured Zhetysay, seven miles North-east of Luga, rail junction on the Leningrad-Pskov Railway, and Tolmachovo, a railroad station thirteen miles North of Luga.

Gen. K. A. Meretskov's Volkhov army, forming the Southern arm of the pincer drive on Luga, was moving from the South and was last reported within 14 miles of the German-held base. Luga is seventy miles East of the iron city of Krivoi Rog.

Many inhabitants of Korsun and other towns within the circle have made their way to the Soviet lines by night, but the civilian population within the ring of Soviet guns was still a problem. Bent on wiping out every German, the Russians were forced to use tanks and tommyguns in running down their foe and refrain from using their heavy artillery in a blazing barrage.

WAR BULLETINS

Santiago, Chile.—The newspaper La Hora said today it had received a private but unconfirmed report that the recently established Nationalist Government of Gualberto Villarroel in Bolivia had been ousted in a counter-revolution and the leaders jailed. The newspaper's information was similar to a broadcast by the Santiago station, Radio Agrícola, last night.

London.—A German broadcast of a Finnish communique said today that 150 planes, presumably Russian, attacked Kotka, 70 miles East of Helsinki on the coast of the Gulf of Finland, for two hours last night.

London.—The German-controlled Paris Radio said last night Joseph Darnand, new Secretary-General for the maintenance of order in the Vichy regime, who is back in Paris from Hitler's headquarters, had launched a campaign to crush the French Underground before the Allied invasion by ordering the country's 115,000 policemen to shoot anyone caught with firearms.

Tons Of High Explosives Cascade On Frankfurt, Pas-de-Calais Area And Northern France Targets Hit

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR,

Associated Press Staff Writer

London, Feb. 11.—(P)—American heavy bombers blasted Frankfurt today, striking the already hard-hit Southwest German industrial and transport centre in daylight for the second time in four days and the fourth time since January 29.

While this devastating assault to flatten Frankfurt was in progress, other Unit 8 States heavy bombers attacked military installations in the Pas-de-Calais area and American medium bombers in their ninth operation in eleven days struck other targets in the "rocket gun" sector of Northern France.

Today's operations kept the unprecedented Allied aerial assault going through another 24-hour cycle and followed yesterday's mighty attacks on the German manufacturing City of Brunswick and the Gilze-Rijen air base in Holland which precipitated furious air fights in which American heavy bombers and fighters were credited officially with downing 84 enemy planes.

Fighters escorted the bombers to Frankfurt and France.

The daylight forays came in the wake of R.A.F. Mosquito attacks on Berlin and targets in Western Germany last night and mine laying in German waters from which all R.A.F. planes carried out mine-laying operations without loss it was announced.

There was no early report of losses today but a U.S. communique said 29 American bombers and eight

Situation Tense, Says Roosevelt

Tells Press Conference Allies Are Praying for Good Weather to Aid Sea and Air Operations—Heavy Fighting Under Way at Anglo-American Beachhead.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today a very tense situation and very heavy fighting existed at the Anglo-American beachhead South of Rome but that the Allies on the whole control the seas and air.

The President told a press conference that we are praying for good weather, to aid sea and air operations.

He opened the conference by saying the most important news in the papers is the capture of the Huon peninsula in New Guinea, with the Australians having moved up from the Southeast to join Americans coming in from the Northwest. He said it was tough country and the conquest means the strip of coast along North-eastern New Guinea is clear.

Little Hope For Solution

London, Feb. 11.—(P)—It was reported today that Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin in a personal letter to Prime Minister Churchill has voiced the Russian objections to some members of the Polish Government in London and this latest communication is believed to offer little hope of an early solution of the knotty Polish problem.

In reply to a letter from Mr. Churchill, Premier Stalin was believed to have declared his reluctance to deal with certain members of the Polish Government whom he alleged to be anti-Russian.

It is known that Moscow is displeased with Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, Polish commander-in-chief, Wladyslaw Rakickiewicz, Polish President, Marian Kukiel, Minister of Defence, and Tadeusz Komor, Foreign Minister.

The Poles have contended they could not shake up their government just to please the Russians. They also have been firm, publicly at least, in refusing to accept outright the Curzon line, suggested by Russia as a border.

The Poles' refusal to give ground in the Russian dispute may have figured in the Ministry of Information's action today in cutting off the paper supply of the unofficial weekly Polish newspaper, "Wladomosty Polskie." The newspaper had carried much criticism of Russia.

FEAR 24 LOST IN CRASH OF U.S. AIRLINER

Plane Reported to Have Crashed into Mississippi River Near Memphis and Disappeared After Explosion and Fire.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 11.—(P)—The coast guard reported today that drag lines had located part of an American Airlines Transcontinental plane that crashed into the Mississippi River with 24 persons aboard.

A cryptic radio message from patrol boats to headquarters here said merely "piece of plane found." Later contact with the boat said it "definitely" was part of the plane.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 11.—(P)—An American airliner plane with 24 persons, including three crew members, aboard was reported to have crashed into the Mississippi River early today and disappeared immediately after an explosion and fire.

Charles Williams, watchman for a U.S. Engineers crew about fifteen miles South of Memphis, said he saw the plane go down.

"There was a terrific explosion and fire," Williams said. "It seemed to sink immediately."

He went to the crash scene in a boat but found no trace of the plane nor oil spots on the water.

"I heard the plane coming," Williams said. "It was quite low and appeared to be tipped a little to the right but the engines seemed to be all right and there were no flames."

"It angled into the river about halfway across."

The Memphis airlines office said the plane, en route from Los Angeles to New York, was last reported in the Memphis area.

Policy Of Long-Range Planning By Industry For Post-War Era Urged

Quebec, Feb. 11.—(P)—Adoption of a policy of long-range planning by industry to provide continued full employment was urged today at the 58th annual meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

The proposal was advanced in a paper on post-war planning prepared jointly by six engineers and businessmen. The paper also placed emphasis on the necessity of changes in the taxation policy to enable industry to increase capital expenditures.

Joint authors of the paper were J. E. Armstrong, Chief Engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway; R. M. Brophy, General Manager, Canadian Marconi Co.; G. A. Gaherty, President Calgary Power Co., and Montreal Engineering Co.; Arthur Survever, Montreal consulting engineer; R. I. Weldon, President Bathurst Power and Paper Co. Ltd., and H. G. Welsford, Vice-President and General Manager, Dominion Engineering Co. Ltd.

In a statistical review of employment figures the group said they believed that in January, 1945, as compared with January, 1943, there would be increases in employment in agriculture and in services now listed as unessential.

Looking ahead to January, 1947, these conclusions were drawn:

1. The total working population will be 250,000 less than in January, 1943, but 710,000 more than in August, 1939.

2. Agriculture will employ 480,000 more than in January, 1943, but only 10,000 more than in August, 1939.

3. Employment in peacetime industry and service will be 810,000 more than in Jan., 1943, but only 550,000 more than in August, 1939.

The estimated working population of 4,800,000 estimated for 1947, compared with 4,820,000 in 1943, would probably be divided: agriculture, 1,500,000; industry and service, 3,210,000; war industry, 5,000, and armed forces 100,000.

Capital investments equal to 20 per cent of the national income were necessary to support full employment.

Co-operation between employers and employees, based on an understanding of their mutual dependence on the economic factors governing the operation of their industry was essential to full employment and maximum production.

SPECIAL CORPS NOW FIGHTING AT BRIDGEHEAD

"Men with Funny Pants and Dirty Faces" Join British and U.S. Forces at Nettuno.

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent.
London, Feb. 11.—(CP Cable)—Canadian special forces are fighting alongside British and United States forces on the Nettuno bridgehead south of Rome, it was learned here today.

These troops are part of a Canadian-American special service force which was previously in action on the main Allied 5th Army front. On that front the Germans dubbed them "men with funny pants and dirty faces," a field dispatch from Foster Barclay, Canadian Press war correspondent related last month.

They were trained in Montana as commandos, infantrymen, paratroopers and guerrillas before going to Italy, and wear composite Canadian-American uniforms of special design with flashes reading "U.S.A. Canada" on the shoulders. It is understood the Canadians landed early in the Nettuno operation, probably with American units, and shared in the advance towards the Apennine Way.

During recent German counter-attacks on the bridgehead force, they have seen heavy fighting. German shelling has been reported severe, and there have been heavy attacks by infantry and tanks. This is probably the fiercest action they have seen, although in the mountains on the Southern 5th Army Front they carried out a number of hazardous operations against strong enemy opposition.

is likely to be a social disturbance with far-reaching consequences. "It is essential that the Government undertake immediately a complete survey of Canadian industry and agriculture with a view to ascertaining the number of workers which can be provided for these fields of activity."

The Congress also proposed a survey of potential demand for both industrial and agricultural products and preparations to manufacture civilian goods in plants now making war materials.

Of the post-war period the Congress said: "It is not a matter of reconstruction and re-establishment; it involves the extension of the methods of public ownership, operation and control into new fields of activity and the conscious direction of the whole Canadian economy towards the achievement of a common purpose—that of establishing and maintaining the highest possible standard of living for the people of Canada."

The Congress said the new wage control order was "deliberately designed to prevent wage increases" and was imposed without any consultation of labor. Opposition was also expressed to freezing cost-of-living bonuses at varying amounts, the anti-strike clause of the order, and the provision for only one labor representative on the new six-man board.

"No wage measure has stirred up such universal condemnation among the workers all over Canada and if it is not rescinded or properly amended there will be serious unrest throughout the Dominion," the brief said.

The Congress said it had no opposition to family allowances as part of a general social security scheme but that primary consideration should be given to raising wages to a minimum at which an average family of five persons could be supported. Such wages could be supplemented by allowances in families where there was more than the average number of children.

Trapped Nazis

The indications are that no German officer had been able to escape the encirclement in the last 48 hours, and it was believed a number of high ranking Nazis were still caught within the Soviet ring.

To the South another body of Germans was threatened with encirclement in the Krivoi Rog area by Red Army thrusts to the North, South and East of that mineral centre, but the Germans showed no sign of attempting to pull out.

Even if they pulled out it would be a race for them to get to Kharkov at the Dnieper's mouth or to Nikolayev before the Russians cut their escape route in their advance westward from Apostolovo.

sula in order that those who live on the Gaspe-North shore "be entitled to the same means of transportation as those of the other parts of the Province."

Rene Chalouit, member for Lotbiniere, supporting the motion and Hormidas Langlois (U.N., Magdalen Islands) asked for better water communications between the islands and the mainland, the construction of a landing field on the islands and improvement of the roads.

Mr. Gagnon also moved that copies of all the Orders-in-Council dealing with "an Act to provide for the establishing at Quebec of the mining, geological and metallurgical school" be tabled. The motion was adopted without debate.

At the beginning of the sitting, the Assembly adopted a motion of private bills in second reading and sent them to the Private Bills Committee for further study.

Roads Minister T. D. Bouchard and Mr. Gagnon headed their respective parties in the absence of Premier Godbout and Opposition Leader H. H. Hall, who left Quebec for St. Eustache to attend the funeral of Senator Arthur Sauve yesterday.

Mr. Sauve was leader of the Conservative Party in the Legislative Assembly from 1916 until 1929.

Quebec, Feb. 11.—(P)—The Private Bills Committee yesterday studied a measure amending the charter of the Town of Dolbeau, Roberval County, in order to limit the powers of its manager and to tax the machinery of the Lake St. John Paper Company Limited, mills.

Mayor Joseph Begin told the committee that the company in 1941 gave a one-dollar-a-year manager to the municipality with certain powers which enabled him to rule without the consent of the Municipal Council.

Alfred Dion, Roberval lawyer, added that at the beginning it was "necessary" to give those powers to the manager, but that it was time now to return to the law of towns and cities.

The study of the clause was suspended temporarily after Jean Paul Galpault, representing the company, said that the company had offered one of its engineers to the municipality which benefited his long experience.

However, he said the company does not want to impose any manager on the municipality which is free to hire one of its own choice.

Mayor Begin then explained that the town of Dolbeau needed urgent road and water works and that it would be necessary to tax the machinery of the company, contrary to the law in the town charter which said that no taxes would be imposed on the machinery.

Provincial Secretary Hector Perrier said that "in principle" machinery should be taxed everywhere in the province and finally both parties agreed to discuss a proposition of Georges Potvin (Lib., Roberval) who suggested that the company's machinery be taxed on a $200,000 basis in 1945 with an annual increase of $100,000 up to a maximum of $800,000.

The bill will come back before the committee February 23.

CHAPLIN FACES COURT ON MANN ACT VIOLATION

Accused of Additional Felony of Conspiracy in Connection with Relationship with Former Protegee.

By JAMES LINDLEY,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Los Angeles, Feb. 11.—(P)—Slightly white-haired, dapper Charlie Chaplin, who as the lovable little tramp comedian used to play with deft fingers on the world's heart-strings, today faced a federal indictment charging him with Mann Act violation.

The 34-year-old, four times-married comedian was accused of the additional felony of conspiracy as a Federal Grand Jury last yesterday concluded a long inquiry into his relationship with red-haired Joan Berry, 23, Chaplin's former protegee who claims Chaplin is the father of her four-month-old daughter.

Six others were indicted with Chaplin for an alleged conspiracy to deprive Miss Berry of her constitutional rights following her arrest on a vagrancy charge, Jan. 2, 1943, in Beverly Hills, Calif.

The Mann Act charges against Chaplin are not connected with the alleged conspiracy. He could also be charged with conspiracy to deprive Miss Berry of her constitutional rights following her arrest on a vagrancy charge, Jan. 2, 1943, in Beverly Hills, Calif.

The second count is based on Miss Berry's return from New York City to Los Angeles. Chaplin was in seclusion but his attorney, Jerry Giesler, said the comedian would surrender to the United States Marshal Monday, adding an appeal that the public withhold judgment against the film star "until he has had his day in court."

The conspiracy allegations are that Miss Berry's arrest was plotted, that she was refused access to legal counsel and finally intimidated into leaving California. One indictment lists 22 alleged over acts.

The six named with Chaplin are Beverly Hills City Judge Charles Griffin who, after Miss Berry pleaded guilty to vagrancy, sentenced her to 30 days in jail, suspended on condition she leave town; Capt. W. White, Lieut. Claude Marple and Matron Jessie Billie Reno, of the Beverly Hills Police Department; Robert Arden, radio commentator whose real name is Rudolph Kligler, and Thomas Wells (Tim) Durant, former film studio official and friend of Chaplin.

They all are charged with participation in an alleged conspiracy to deprive Miss Berry of her legal rights by forcing her to leave the state after a quarrel with Chaplin at his Beverly Hills home.

Chaplin, one of the wealthiest and most-publicized men in the film industry, is a British subject.

Of his four wives, three were beautiful actresses, Mildred Harris, Lita Grey, mother of his twin children, Charles, a private in the U. S. Army, and Sydney; and Paulette Goddard. All three marriages ended in divorce.

His present wife is Oona O'Neill, 18-year-old daughter of playwright Eugene O'Neill, whom Chaplin married two weeks after Miss Berry had sued on charges he was the father of her then unborn child.

A U. S. attorney office attache said Chaplin, if convicted on all four indictments on which he is charged, would be liable to a maximum of 23 years in prison and fines totalling $28,000.

ported at 12:31 a.m. E.D.T. (1:31 a.m. A.D.T.) as it neared the river. Its gas supply was sufficient to keep it aloft for another five hours.

The plane left Little Rock, Ark., at 11:50 p.m. and was last reported seven minutes before it was due here.

"No trouble was reported then," Station Manager J. O. Conner said. Weather conditions at the time the plane was reported to have crashed were recorded as "scattered, broken clouds." The scene of the report from the engineers was directly on the line of the flight from Little Rock to the Memphis airport.

The river channel is 22 feet deep at the scene of the reported crash. Coast Guard boats patrolled the waters but dragging of the bottom was delayed until daylight.

Policy Of

The paper also recommended the immediate establishment by principal organizations of all classes of business of a bureau of economic research and development to study and make available data for long-range planning.

A natural growth of 60,000 a year in industrial workers called for a capital expenditure of more than $150,000,000 annually.

"The objective of the Government fiscal policy should be to encourage industry to expand production by encouraging capital expenditures," the paper continued. "Certain features of our present taxation structure are particularly discouraging to the making of such expenditures. The Government can help industry to create full employment by modifying our tax structure."

The group urged immediate modification of the excess profits tax and its removal as soon after the war as possible, elimination of a double taxation on business profits through taxing the corporation and the shareholder amendments of the Income Tax Act to encourage capital expenditure and elimination of the sales tax.

OCCUPATION OF HUON CLIMAXES LONG CAMPAIGN

Australian Troops and American Soldiers Join Forces to Chop Off Another Piece of Japan's Captured Territory.

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Feb. 11.—(P)—Complete occupation of Huon Peninsula, New Guinea, and the end of a five-month campaign which cost the Japanese a division of 14,000 men was announced here today.

Australian troops, including veterans of the North African campaign, and American soldiers, many of whom had triumphed over the Japanese at Buna on the Papuan Peninsula of New Guinea last year, joined forces on a hot, coastal plain yesterday, chopping off another piece of Japan's captured territory.

The Aussies had fought and cut their way through the jungle for 150 miles along the coast, since launching the campaign with a landing effort North of Finschhafen September 22nd.

The Americans invaded Saidor from the sea January 2nd and followed the coast fourteen miles to old Yagomi, where the Australians met them yesterday.

Today's communique said the great bulk of the augmented Japanese division, which consisted of three infantry regiments, a field artillery regiment, two engineer regiments and auxiliary services, had been destroyed in the pincer action which preceded the joining of the two Allied forces.

The combined Allied force may now move on Madang. Japanese base about sixty miles from Saidor. American bomber crews recently reported evidence that the enemy already has abandoned Madang.

Unconfirmed

Activities on the British 8th Army front near the Adriatic still were limited by adverse weather conditions.

Field dispatches said the first powerful enemy attacks against the beachhead had almost spent themselves, although a massing of forces indicated further heavy thrusts.

Yesterday front dispatches said the Germans were throwing everything into the battle—their best armoured and veteran troops—to pluck out a victory regardless of cost.

For the Allies, there was no immediate hope of reinforcement coming because of a break-through in the Cassino front fifty miles to the Southeast. Bitter house-to-house fighting continued in Cassino, bastion of that front, Mount Cassino, Northwest of the town and key to its defense, remained in enemy possession.

The beachhead itself was under increasingly heavy enemy artillery fire and dispatches said advanced Allied formations were being supplied at great risk. Allied airmen blasted the Germans' immediate communications but the enemy still appeared to be massing reinforcements.

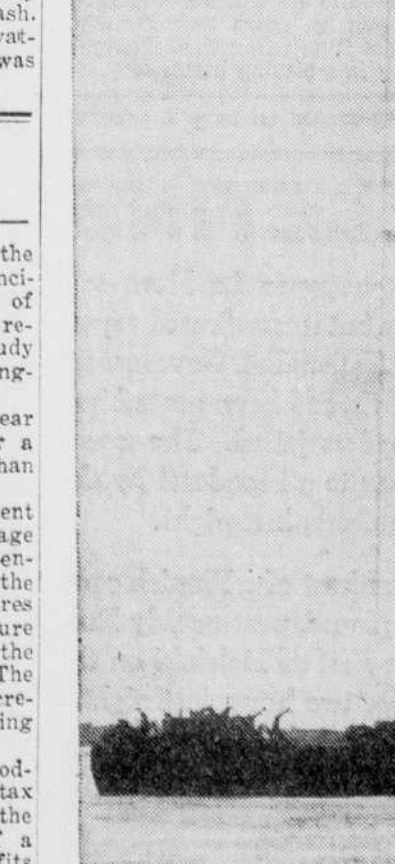

"In order to try to give the blitzed and war-wearing German people their first big victory since Marshal Rommel's last desert drive, Hitler is throwing the book at the beachhead," Kenneth Dixon, Associated Press War Correspondent, reported.

Dixon said Allied pilots termed German airmen the toughest they have met in the entire Mediterranean campaign and the calibre of the pilots was probably the most pertinent indication of the importance placed on the beachhead by the German High Command.

He said it seemed probable that the full Nazi counter-offensive would be launched from the North in an attempt to cut through the British positions. If successful, a breakthrough to Anzio and Nettuno would entrap the remainder of the Allied forces.

Nazi Dive Bomber Downed

The ack-ack of Allied ships lying at anchor in Anzio Harbor, Italy, finished off this Nazi dive bomber before it could score a hit. As it plummeted seaward, leaving a long, ugly trail of smoke, the plane again missed its mark and fell within its targets.

The defeated amendments to the Throne Speech were supported last night by Mr. Lacroix and Emmanuel D'Amour (L., Rimouski).

Answering Mr. Picard, Mr. La-Croix quoted Dr. Israel who once said in the British House of Commons that the Government, not himself, had changed policy. Only his electors could remove him from his seat, the Quebec member said.

J. MINER DISCOUNTS EARLY SPRING SIGNS

Kingsville, Ont., Feb. 11.—(P)—Predictions of an early spring based on reports of a flock of geese flying North over Huntsville were received with skepticism by Jack Miner, operator of the famed bird sanctuary here. Mr. Miner explained that 10,000 or 20,000 heading North in March would indicate warm weather within three days, because the birds fly just ahead of the weather. He ventured that what Huntsville residents saw was a group of sawbill ducks, which fly in formation like Canada geese and have a similar long-range appearance.

The fiercest opposition was encountered by heavy bomber formations which struck at Brunswick in an attempt to knock out vital air-plane assembly plants there.

It was the third heavy American attack upon Brunswick, and returning fliers estimated the Germans sent aloft 200 to 300 fighters.

Fierce fighting exhausted the fuel supply carried by some of the fighters before they reached the target and forced them to turn back.

The raid on the Gilze-Rijen air-base was carried out by other fighter-escorted heavy bombers. They encountered some anti-aircraft fire but comparatively little fighter opposition.

One U. S. bomber and two British fighters were listed as missing.

In play for the Canadian National Railways Curling Trophy, three teams from Lennoxville came to Sherbrooke and two teams from Sherbrooke went to Lennoxville for games with the home teams.

In the games at the Sherbrooke Curling Club, two Sherbrooke rinks won games, while the other went to Lennoxville. M. J. Bennett's rink, of Lennoxville, topped P. A. Hammond 15-12, and J. R. Sangster, of Sherbrooke, beat W. R. Baker 18-4.

H. S. Armstrong, also of Sherbrooke, defeated R. Atto 15-8. In the games at Lennoxville, R. H. Neville, of Sherbrooke, beat W. J. Lane by a score of 14-8, while J. S. Hamilton defeated W. L. McGannon, of Sherbrooke, 10-5.

The Sherbrooke rinks won last night's competition, their total being 64 to Lennoxville's 43. In previous games, the Sherbrooke total amounted to 42 to Lennoxville's 52, which brings the present grand total to Sherbrooke—106, Lennoxville—95, with more games yet to be played.

Many Activities Reported Upon At Regular Monthly Y.M.C.A. Session

The regular monthly meeting of the local Young Men's Christian Association was held last evening in the Association Building on Dufferin Avenue with the President, Walter S. Sutherland, in the chair.

The report of the General Secretary, W. H. Wolter, showed a healthy condition of all the Association's activities.

The H.Y. Club under the presidency of Charles Buding have been holding interesting and educational weekly meetings and are proud of their contributions to the Association for the Blind and the Salvation Army, and are planning a gift to the local Blood Clinic.

The Y's Men's Club have a roster of 29 members despite losses through enlistments. Their main project is the Saturday Afternoon Shows for younger boys and girls.

The Sat. Aft. Club meet regularly every Saturday afternoon and along with other activity are planning a sleigh ride party.

Physical Department activity is very keen and attendance is good in all classes. Mr. Wolter's report reveals that there were 62 sessions held during the month with an aggregate attendance of 811. This was an increase of 153 over a year ago.

The Business Men's Class are keen about their volley ball and the "Nat" League continues to hold interest. The Chestnuts, captained by George Deslongchamps, are leading the league with 12 wins and only two losses.

The Junior Leaders' Corps is re-organized and are now practising for the coming Congress. Practices for this important event will commence in the other classes next week.

Mr. Wolter also announced that interest was being shown by the Lennoxville High School boys in the physical class under his direction. At present they are taking part in an Indoor Hockey League as well as corrective calisthenics and several other types of games and activity.

President Sutherland reported on his recent trip to the National Council meeting in Toronto. He stated that the meeting was pleased to welcome a delegate from Sherbrooke, and he felt it was a fine thing for the Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A. to be represented at the session. "It gives one a much broader view of the scope of the work the Association is doing not only in Canada but all over the world," said Mr. Sutherland.

The Centennial Programme was discussed and Mr. Sutherland stated that a very elaborate programme was being planned by the Montreal Association. The local Centennial Programme will be held the latter part of May and Mr. Sutherland said that as many of the local directors as could should attend the Montreal Programme on June 2nd, 4th and 5th.

He discussed the World Service Programme and was pleased to be able to announce that on a per capita basis Sherbrooke was probably the largest contributor among the Canadian Y.M.C.A.'s.

A local Centennial Committee was appointed consisting of Walter Mutchler, Chairman; J. H. Wark, L. Pergau, W. Bradley, J. Wilson and W. H. Wolter.

Mr. Wolter announced he had received word that the Rev. Richmond Craig was quite ill and forced to cancel his appointment as speaker of the coming Y.M.C.A. Father and Son Banquet. This was regretted by the members, as those who heard him speak when in Sherbrooke some time ago were greatly impressed.

Immediate steps will be taken to secure another suitable speaker.

Mr. Sutherland said he had received a gift of $100 from a friend of the Association. It was decided that, upon approval of the directors, this sum be put in a special fund to purchase new apparatus and other equipment so that when our young men returned from overseas the local Y.M.C.A. would be in a position to conduct a more interesting and beneficial programme for them.

Mr. Wolter announced that a group of officers from No. 43 Camp were using the building for a special P. T. Course, and that a Company of Medical Corps Men were using the gym and swimming pool for a special recreation period.

"The Wednesday Night Service Men's Dances are more popular than ever," said Mr. Wolter, and nearly 200 men and young women enjoy these parties each week.

LENNOXVILLE

The members of the Philathea Society held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Raycraft on Academy Street with a good attendance of members and several visitors. Mrs. A. Scott presided and the meeting was opened with prayer. During the business period plans were discussed to hold the usual annual St. Patrick's supper and committees were named. Several letters of thanks were read by the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Raycraft. At the close, crokinole was enjoyed and social interludes after which the hostesses, Mrs. Raycraft and Mrs. J. Dunn served a most delicious lunch assisted by Mrs. J. Crawford and Mrs. W. J. Martin. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss E. Wellman Prospect St.

SHERBROOKE COUNTY W. I.

Members of the Sherbrooke County Women's Institutes held their quarterly meeting in the Lennoxville Club room with representatives from five of the seven branches.

Miss Doris Cillis, County President, presided and gave a most interesting report of the semi-annual meeting held in Montreal which she attended as representative from this county.

Items of interest in this report were that $521 had been sent in by the Province to the Self-Denial Fund, $80 of this sent by Sherbrooke County, which was all donated to the Prisoner of War Parcel Fund of the Red Cross Branch; 525 ditty bags for the Navy were filled by Institutes in the Province, and several letters of thanks from boys and girls who received the ones from Sherbrooke County were read showing great appreciation.

The matter of sending seeds to England and Scotland was discussed and it was found the need was greater in Australia at present. An appeal for clothing for Russia was read and all branches urged to help in this work.

Miss Cillis also told the members that there would be an annual convention in June this year at Macdonald College. This had been discontinued for the past few years, but all were pleased to hear that it was considered possible to carry on again.

A Nomination Committee was named to bring in a slate of officers for the annual meeting in May, as follows: Miss Thompson, Orford; Mrs. Beattie, Milby; Mrs. Atto, Lennoxville; Mrs. Smiley, Ascot; and Miss Hatch, Brompton, and Mrs. Tarte, Belvidere.

At the conclusion of this meeting members of the Milby branch served a delicious lunch.

TWO YOUNG MEN
ARE DETAINED IN THEFT CASE

Sergeant-Detective Pierre Armand of the Municipal Police Department said this morning that two local boys, both twenty years of age, are being detained for questioning in connection with a break-in and theft committed at a local club. Police would not release any additional information regarding the case, pending further investigation.

A sum of $120 in cash was taken from the club premises as well as a quantity of cigarettes and six bottles of liquor, according to authorities. Following a tip run down by Constable Coriveau, the men were picked up by Constables Albert Tangway

CONCERT FOR ARMEN HELD AT BISHOP'S

As their contribution towards the entertainment of the members of the second class of British airmen who are at present spending a week at Bishop's University, the members of the Schubert Music Club, a group of local musicians who meet at regular intervals to hold concerts in Sherbrooke, gave a variety programme in Convocation Hall at Bishop's University last night. A large number of guests were present at this concert which was greatly appreciated by the airmen.

Rev. Dr. A. H. McGreer, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the University, acted as master of ceremonies and announced each selection. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of a song written specially for the airmen by Mrs. L. E. Codere who entitled her selection "Canada Has Company."

The words of Mrs. Codere's song are as follows:

The R. A. F. is with us
They're here from "Over There"
They're zooming through our Western skies
Our heroes of the air;
We'll keep the good flag flying
And keep the airways clear
And send along on wings of song
A grand Canadian cheer.

Our broad land smiles a welcome
Its great heart breathes a prayer
That He who still'd the tempest
May be with them everywhere;
May ether's tide befriend them
In all they dare and do,
The Army and the Navy
Are winning everywhere;
While over them fly thro' flaming skies

Our squadrons of the air;
When called to join in battle
They're comrades tried and true
Good luck and happy landing!
When they keep that rendez-vous.

For mighty cause united
They're flying over there,
R.C.A.F. and R.A.F.
Our heroes of the air —
True comrades of our gallant lads
Who fight on land and sea,
O may they all come back again
On wings of Victory.

The programme which was composed chiefly of French-Canadian folk songs was as follows: God Save the King — O Canada; Overture, Piano Duet, Mrs. Irene Olivier Leveque, Miss St. Pierre; Chorus, "Has Company"; A Welcome to the R.A.F., soloist, Miss Margaret Doherty; selections from French-Canadian Folklore, "Maribouche s'en va t'en guerre," "Felix, Felix mon bon Navire," "Cadet Rousselle," "Un Canadien errant," "En roulant ma boule roulant," "C'est la belle Françoise," "Marianne s'en va t'en rouler," "A la clair de lune," "Vive la Canadienne or Alouette," Piano solo, "Homage to a Couperin," b. Danse, Espagnole, Georges Emile Tanquary; Baritone Solo, "Le Prince au Muguet," Augusta Holmes, J. Bachand; Two Selections, male voices: a. "Envoyons d'avant," b. "Youpe youpe sur la rivière"; Finale, Ode to Canada, soloists, Mrs. J. K. Edwards, Mr. Dean Bishop with Chorus.

Store managers said that during this month and in March they will be allowed to sell twenty per cent of their total quotas of tomato juice in each of these months. Originally it was intended that in February and March sales would be held to fifteen per cent for each month.

Chain store managers pointed out that this increase must result in a proportionately reduced quantity available for distribution after April 1st. The current increase, however, will provide consumers a period when other foods containing additional tomato juice during which similar vitamin values are not as plentiful as in the early summer months.

FIVE SUMMONED
FOR VIOLATING
TRAFFIC LAWS

Continuing the drive against motorists who still are violating the city traffic regulations, police yesterday summoned five more car drivers on a series of charges ranging from failing to stop at an intersection to passing through a red light.

The five men appeared before Recorder Raoul Gagne in Police Court this morning and were ordered to pay only the costs, after being severely lectured in regard to not obeying traffic by-laws.

Director of Police Percy Donahue earlier this week instructed all members of the department to summon negligent drivers into court. The campaign against these motorists was ordered as a result of the increase in the number of accidents on city streets since the first of the present year.

Should drivers continue to contravene city traffic rules, they will be severely punished in court, Director Donahue warned again this morning. He pointed out that this is the only method to reduce negligent driving on local thoroughfares and at the same time cut down mishaps.

REPORTED MISSING

Sgt. Robert A. Parker, a Flying Fortress gunner, who has been reported missing following the great aerial battle over Germany, January 11, 1944, is a grand-nephew of Mrs. M. A. Robinson, of Sweetsburg, and the younger son of the late Lauris Parker, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., whose mother was Cynthia Scott Parker. Sgt. Parker's mother, now Mrs. Burton Gray, resides at Topsham, Maine.

and Roland Geborriault of the Investigation Department late yesterday. The suspects are still locked up in the Marquette Street police station.

Reports On Surveys Carried On By Post-War Group Now Being Studied

Many important reports of surveys conducted by members of the executive committees and their sub-committees were turned in at a meeting of the Sherbrooke Post-War Reconstruction Committee of the Chamber of Commerce held last evening. The meeting was under the chairmanship of President George H. Carr.

Details of the findings contained in the reports will be released shortly for publication. G. M. Young presented a report on the industrial survey on employment and probable unemployment after the war, while J. A. Ste. Marie handed in a report of his sub-committee on agricultural regions of Sherbrooke, Granby and Victoriaville.

Additional reports on construction and Veterans' organizations on post war planning were presented by Alderman Alphonse Trudeau and Lieut.-Col. Bert Lyon, respectively. President Carr said that reports of the remaining members of the committee will be submitted within the course of the next several days.

Those attending the meeting were Mayor A. C. Ross, D. J. Salls, Armand Nadeau, Alderman Alphonse Trudeau, Canon Ira Bourassa, J. A. Archambault, J. A. Ste. Marie, S. Bergeron, E. A. Bernard, Henry Downs, Jr., and G. M. Young.

Two Automobiles Destroyed
When Flames Damage Garage

Two automobiles were completely destroyed in a fire that broke out in a garage owned by Allan's Dairy on Bowen Avenue South at about 9:05 this morning and the garage was badly damaged. Firemen who answered the call said that on arriving at the dairy the garage was enveloped with flames. The fire had had too much of a start, however, and by the time the entrance was gained to the garage the cars were too badly damaged to be removed.

Another call at 9:02 sent firemen to 68 Brooks Street where a defective chimney had caused a blaze to break out in the attic of a house owned by L. Beaudoin and occupied by O. Biron. Firemen said it was necessary to use the booster pump and one length of the hose before the fire was extinguished. Very light damage was caused and the flames were prevented from spreading further than the attic.

The Municipal Fire Department was summoned twice yesterday to the same address. After putting out a chimney blaze at the residence of Adolphe Leppre, 149 Bowen Avenue South, at 5:25 p.m. before any damage resulted, firemen were recalled at 6:45 o'clock and this time extinguished a blazing wallpaper in one of the bedrooms in the home. Light damage was caused.

A chimney fire and two stovepipe blazes also were put out by the department. These occurred at the homes of Mrs. E. E. Biron, 100B Bowen Avenue South, J. E. Rancourt, 11 King George Street, and Wilfrid Routhier, 12 Mercier Street.

SAND HILL

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hemming one evening, where upwards of twenty-five friends and relatives gathered to honor Mr. Wyatt Labonte, who is leaving shortly for Toronto, Ont., where he has joined the R.C.A.F. A social evening was spent and cards and bingo were played. Refreshments were served. In a few words, Mr. Hemming presented Mr. Labonte with a money belt, for which he expressed his thanks. All joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

When Mildred E. Labonte, W.R. C.N.S., of Halifax, N.S., was an overnight guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hemming. Miss Dorothy Boyd, R.N., of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Laboree.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hodgman, of Sherbrooke, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lochouse.

Mrs. Stanley Laboree, R.N., of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end at her home here.

Mr. Douglas Lofthouse spent a week-end in Sherbrooke.

LIBBYTOWN

Mr. Gordon Cass and family were at Brown's Hill as guests at the Parkhill home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Palmer, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. George Johnson were guests at the home of Mr. Nelson Vancouver.

Guests of Mr. Albert Davidson were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Demick, of Rock Island, Mrs. P. Maurice, of Coteau, and the Misses Irene and Elsie Rider, of Way's Mills.

The Farm Forum group was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lobb, at Burroughs' Falls.

Everett Sisters

Pictured above are Phyllis and Audrey Everett who are Canada's contribution to the great ice revue "Holiday on Ice" which will be coming direct from New York to Sherbrooke on February 19. The show will remain here over the week-end before beginning a Canadian tour which next takes it to Quebec. The Everett Sisters are two of the main attractions in the revue and their skating ability has been proclaimed throughout Canada.

CHARLEY'S AUNT
PLAYED BEFORE
PACKED HOUSE

Brandon Thomas' well-known "Charley's Aunt" was presented by the Bishop's College School Player's Club to a capacity audience last evening in the School Theatre. The entire proceeds from the play are to be donated to the Merchant Navy, through the Navy League of Canada, Montreal Division.

The difficult part of Charley's Aunt was most successfully taken by Brigham Day, and the two other leading parts, the Oxford undergraduates, Jack Chesney and Charles Wykeham, were well played by Tony Debell and Michael Wallace respectively. The action was fast; the plot involved, but completely entertaining.

The two undergraduates wish to entertain their girl friends, Kitty Verdon and Amy Spettigue, played by Peter Moffat and Philippe Stern, at tea, and they invite them when they learn that Charley's aunt is going to visit him, and could act as chaperone. Unfortunately, however, the girls arrive before the aunt, so the boys in desperation have a friend, an amateur actor, play the part of the aunt. Difficulties arise, though, when Jack's father and the girls' uncle, Stephen Spettigue, ex-colligently portrayed by Christopher Filioff, appear and perceive the supposed aunt when they realize that she is the wealthy Don Lucia Dalvadore from Brazil. Further difficulties arise when the real aunt arrives to visit her nephew.

The resulting complications and final denouement were satisfactorily and well handled by the entire cast.

The supporting cast included Don Sutherland, Robin White, Franklin Boright, Peter Winkworth and Ian Calder—the disadvised butler, and the technical crew, under Mr. Gordon Buchanan, was comprised of D. Stoker, R. Smith, D. Sturthers, L. Walls, R. Eyles, and others. The play was under the direction of Mr. Lewis Evans and Miss Catherine Speid, and it was produced by special arrangement with Samuel French (Canada) Company.

In closing his address, Rev. W. McLeod thanked the Official Board and all others who helped in the work of the church.

The report from the various organizations were brief but uniform in their story showing a busy and successful year. The report from the Sunday School was given by Miss Thelma Crawford, Secretary, showing a total enrollment of 156 with an average attendance of seventy for the senior school and thirty-five for the primary school. Special credit and thanks were extended to Mr. M. E. Merrill, Superintendent, and Mrs. E. Knutson, Primary Superintendent, as well as other leaders and teachers of these young girls and boys in thought and action.

The other reports followed: Young People's Union by Mrs. Melville Mellang, Women's Missionary Society by Mrs. N. D. McLeod, who raised $30.29; Women's Lay Association by Mrs. W. J. Lane, who raised $524.38; Philathea, by Mrs. Austin Scott, who raised $465.31; Young Women's Association, by Mrs. H. J. Wark, who raised $204.26; choir, by Mrs. G. C. McCurdy; Men's Own, by Mr. Lawrence Parkinson, Lay Representative, by Mr. W. H. Abbott; Treasurer's report, by Mr. Allan McKenzie; Session, by Mr. W. G. MacDougall.

The report from the session showed a membership of two hundred and sixty-two active members and twelve non-resident members. It was recommended in this report that an honor roll should be prepared to show the names of all members on active service, and later in the meeting this suggestion was unanimously approved and a committee appointed for this purpose.

MINTON

The Minton Branch of the Women's Institute, which has been inactive for a few months, held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Dean and decided to organize under the presidency of Mrs. Fred Conner. Mrs. Grant LeBaron, of North Hatley, was present and reported on the most important features of the Provincial Board meeting in Montreal, which she had attended. Some plans for future activities were made and a new member was welcomed. A pleasant afternoon was spent at the close of which Mrs. Dean served dainty refreshments.

Miss Elsie Kezar, of Bressett's Corner, was a week-end guest of Miss Catherine Daintrey.

Mr. Hubert Conner is now confined to the house with the chicken-pox.

Mr. Percy Kezar, of Sherbrooke, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson.

Mr. Howard Kerr, of Lennoxville, spent a week-end at the home of Mr. H. L. Johnson. Other guests at the same home were Mrs. Lawrence Wells and her daughter, Miss Helen Wells, Mr. Clayton Wells and Miss Lucille Gagnon, all of Sherbrooke.

Donald Johnson spent a week-end with relatives in Sherbrooke.

Interesting Reports Presented At Lennoxville United Church Session

The annual meeting of the United Church, Lennoxville, was held in the Gertrude Scott Hall with the minister, Rev. N. D. McLeod, presiding. The meeting was opened by the singing of the hymn "The Church's One Foundation," followed by a prayer by the Minister, giving special remembrance to those members of this church serving their country in the armed forces.

In the Minister's report covering the year's work, it was pointed out that war makes the work of the church more difficult but also more urgent and all members of the church must work together to ensure the peace that follows the war is arranged and maintained in a spirit of Christian ideals.

Thanks and appreciation were extended to all teachers and workers in the Church Sunday School, also to the church choir for their assistance in making the regular church service more meaningful and more pleasant.

In enumerating the many events that occurred during the year, special attention was drawn to the successful Father and Son banquet and chaperone. Unfortunately, however, the girls arrive before the aunt, so the boys in desperation have a friend, an amateur actor, play the part of the aunt. Difficulties arise, though, when Jack's father and the girls' uncle, Stephen Spettigue, ex-colligently portrayed by Christopher Filioff, appear and perceive the supposed aunt when they realize that she is the wealthy Don Lucia Dalvadore from Brazil. Further difficulties arise when the real aunt arrives to visit her nephew.

The resulting complications and final denouement were satisfactorily and well handled by the entire cast.

The supporting cast included Don Sutherland, Robin White, Franklin Boright, Peter Winkworth and Ian Calder—the disadvised butler, and the technical crew, under Mr. Gordon Buchanan, was comprised of D. Stoker, R. Smith, D. Sturthers, L. Walls, R. Eyles, and others. The play was under the direction of Mr. Lewis Evans and Miss Catherine Speid, and it was produced by special arrangement with Samuel French (Canada) Company.

In closing his address, Rev. W. McLeod thanked the Official Board and all others who helped in the work of the church.

The report from the various organizations were brief but uniform in their story showing a busy and successful year. The report from the Sunday School was given by Miss Thelma Crawford, Secretary, showing a total enrollment of 156 with an average attendance of seventy for the senior school and thirty-five for the primary school. Special credit and thanks were extended to Mr. M. E. Merrill, Superintendent, and Mrs. E. Knutson, Primary Superintendent, as well as other leaders and teachers of these young girls and boys in thought and action.

The other reports followed: Young People's Union by Mrs. Melville Mellang, Women's Missionary Society by Mrs. N. D. McLeod, who raised $30.29; Women's Lay Association by Mrs. W. J. Lane, who raised $524.38; Philathea, by Mrs. Austin Scott, who raised $465.31; Young Women's Association, by Mrs. H. J. Wark, who raised $204.26; choir, by Mrs. G. C. McCurdy; Men's Own, by Mr. Lawrence Parkinson, Lay Representative, by Mr. W. H. Abbott; Treasurer's report, by Mr. Allan McKenzie; Session, by Mr. W. G. MacDougall.

The report from the session showed a membership of two hundred and sixty-two active members and twelve non-resident members. It was recommended in this report that an honor roll should be prepared to show the names of all members on active service, and later in the meeting this suggestion was unanimously approved and a committee appointed for this purpose.

THE BOMBINGS TO GO ON

Those British prelates who have protested the continued bombing of objectives on the European continent by British and United States air forces seem to have lost sight of the basic fact that long before the present struggle broke out, the German High Command announced the policy of total war in which every objective which in any way might aid military activity was a prospect for destruction. This was emphasized by Viscount Cranborne, Dominions Secretary, when he told the clerical peers in the British House of Lords that the bombing would continue unabated.

He declared that the Government early in the war had announced a policy of limiting attacks to definite military targets and their immediate neighborhood and not directly and purposelessly to involve the destruction of lives and homes of people. He continued that it was not the intention of the Government to bomb the precincts of Vatican City nor, if it could be avoided, of the City of Rome. But the Government felt compelled to carry the warfare against all industrial and transportation centres in order that the military might of the Axis nations might be reduced to a minimum when the hour came for the opening of the second front.

After reviewing the military advantages of the bombardment to date, Viscount Cranborne struck a note which will be re-echoed by the bulk of the people in the United Nations when he stated:

"We ask the Bishop of Chichester (one of the complainants) not only to consider the Germans who are suffering in these raids, but also the Russians, Poles, Czechs, Belgians, Norwegians, Yugoslavs, Greeks, French and Danes who are enduring intolerable anguish at the hands of the armies of the enemy."

Soldiers and airmen engaged in combat in Italy "and those others who are soon to engage in other attacks in other parts of the world" must also be remembered as well as "our men languishing under unbearable conditions in Japanese hands."

Lord Cranborne concluded: "It would be wrong for us to gloat over the destruction of German towns, which has been forced on us by the necessities of the military situation, but I cannot give the Bishop any hope that we shall abate our bombing policy."

HASTENING THE PACIFIC WAR

One thing has been determined by the quick victory of United States forces over the Japanese in the Marshall Islands. That is that while the Mikado's warriors are tough, crafty and ruthless, they can be handled—not easily but well. The Kwajalein Atoll job may be described as having put the Allies over the top both militarily and psychologically in the preliminary offensive leading to the final assault on the main enemy citadel—the Japanese mainland. In the words of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific fleet, this triumph will "serve to speed up the tempo" of operations.

That Tokyo also gets this feeling is indicated by the declaration of Premier Tojo before the legislature that the war is "increasing in ferocity day by day and we are now being confronted with the situation where the fate of the Greater East Asia sphere and the rise and fall of Imperial Japan will be decided. The present situation does not indicate that the road is to be easy." Nipponese military and political leaders believe the outcome of the war will be decided this year.

It is significant that in this changing situation the Japanese, like their German allies, are concentrating on the manufacture of defensive types of aircraft rather than the offensive heavy bombers. That is the thermometer with which we get the enemy temperature. The men of the Rising Sun have taken a page from the Nazi book of strategy and are going to fight a defensive, delaying action in the hope of tiring the Allies out so that they will be left in possession of some of their ill-got gains.

One of the main difficulties facing Japan is lack of sea transportation. The Domei News Agency has informed the controlled Asiatic press that transportation problems are limiting the country's use of the resources of the occupied areas. This makes good reading for the United Nations, as untold wealth lies in China and Indonesia. But the Mikado has not the ships to bring home the riches upon which he is dependent to win the war and Admiral Nimitz has added that the enemy lacks destroyers to escort their convoys or make up an adequate battle fleet." Despite Allied superiority on the sea, Nimitz holds that "the Japs can only be defeated from bases in China as early as possible." That fits perfectly the strategy which the Allied High Command apparently has been working on. That is to make bombing the chief weapon for the reduction of Japan proper.

In order to bring the full weight of the vast Anglo-American air fleets to bear on Tokyo and other Jap cities, we must have bases in China, which involves the hard and complicated task of invasion. Nimitz indicates that his navy, marines and air forces will have a big part in the China drive. However, that will be part of the all-out offensive, which presumably cannot be carried out until Hitler has been finished off. It is going to be a titanic operation to open up China, dig the Japanese out of their defences and drive them back so that we can establish airfields and supply bases within easy striking distance of the heart of the Japanese octopus—Tokyo. Pending release of equipment from Europe, the Allies do not lack preliminaries to occupy their time, one of which is piercing Japan's Eastern shield, of which the Marshalls drive is an initial move.

RECOGNIZING THE ALGIERS ADMINISTRATION

The reported readiness of the British and United States Governments to extend recognition of the French Committee of National Liberation as the provisional government of metropolitan France, until such time as a provisional government can be elected within the country itself, should remove one of the problems which has been facing the United Nations leaders since preparations have been under way for the opening of the second front—that of bringing about a satisfactory government of the areas liberated by any second front movement.

In view of the important place which the Fighting French armies are expected to play in any liberation of the Continent, it has long been felt that the establishment of a military government would be unsuitable, especially as a considerable period of time may elapse between the time the first areas are freed from German occupation until the enemy is at last driven from the entire country. With the recognition of the National Liberation Committee, the task of administering the country could be left with the French officials. At the same time the liberated areas could select their representatives on the Committee and thus when the entire country was free, a central group would be in operation that could direct the establishment of a system of responsible government.

The Algiers Committee can also administer the relief and food distribution problems which will arise inevitably as the United Nations forces advance.

A WRITER WHO IS ASHAMED OF HIS NAME

Like all other editors, the Editor of the Record is subject to criticism, and recently he received a returned copy of the Record with a note on the right hand corner of the front page complaining about the paper. This in itself is satisfying proof that the paper is being read.

The writer was generous in his criticism, which was his right. But he, or perhaps it was she, was not sufficiently brave to sign a name.

We have no idea who wrote the note, but we can imagine the type of person from whom it came. We can only say that such notes bear no weight with us. We deem not to stoop to the cowardice of anonymity. Nor do we want to have anything to do with any such person.

THE CITY'S WATER SITUATION

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir.—The Sherbrooke aqueduct has been responsible for such a flow of ink and saliva as might well fill a good-sized tank, of a quality that I do not care to qualify.

For nearly twenty-five years I have had my home here and was always, as well as many others, quite satisfied with the quality of the domestic water supplied, except in a few instances of spring thaw and very high precipitation. All was then well in the best City.

Certain acts were then proceeded with, and our faucet water took color, density, etc., as is well known. Was it sabotage and why continued? Who are the artless or criminal authors of the deeds, to what end and whose profits?

If the follow-up of the above is of interest to anyone, they will know where to get information as there is still time to re-establish things as they were and also to correct certain existing defects.

Yours truly,
CHAS. P. DUBUC, B. App.Sc., C.E.

PRESS COMMENTS

ELECTION CONTINGENCY

St. Catharines Standard.
In the Speech from the Throne, it was stated that provision would have to be made for the taking of the Canadian soldier vote. That, in itself, did not mean an election this year. It is just as well to have such provision made to avoid the farce of taking the soldier vote, as in the last Ontario election. But the Prime Minister, in his first speech last Monday, left the gate wide open, with four alternatives. There is no need for an election. Mr. King did not think there should be one and he did not want one. Then the reservations. There may have to be an election and he would not give an undertaking that there would be one. In the letter respect, the Canadian Press quoted him: "He did not wish the impression to go abroad that he had given an undertaking that there would be no election before June, 1945."

It is hardly possible that the Prime Minister has lulled his opponents to sleep, or even that it was his intention to do so. The fact is, it is the old caniness and caution, some would call it hesitation, coming out, a characteristic of the Prime Minister. That he hedged on the issue can be no doubt and that brings forth some interesting comment from the Ottawa Journal, comment not entirely without sympathy:

Somebody once said of somebody else that he used ambiguity of language to produce confusion. We're not going to say that about Mr. King; and, to tell the truth, we have a sneaking admiration for the way he can plant his feet firmly on half a dozen positions at the same time.

And always, too, with gain for him. No election. But then—when never can tell these days—John Bracken might start winning too many curling matches, or The Toronto Telegram write a Tory editorial (The "Tory" could do it), or poor Lord Halifax come back and make another speech, or the Bloc Populaire get too "populaire" or somebody start a revolution in the Senate. A Prime Minister must be on his guard, no using anything down to things. And Mr. King hasn't.

And we've some sympathy for him, too. There are people wanting an election (a lot of Senators are appointed before election) and a lot of others not wanting an election (M.P.'s sometimes get hiked in elections) and so with Mr. King it's a case of:

"I can and I can't,
I will and I won't,
I'll be damned if I do,
I'll be damned if I don't."

Yet—something tells us—we think he will.

In spite of all that, those who read the headlines of the Prime Minister's speech last week—and this country contains a lot of headline readers—got the impression, and still have it, that there will be no general election in Canada this year.

The only safe conclusion is that, election or no election, will be determined by political exigencies, and nothing else.

Some scheme should be organized whereby women would visit hospitals and acclimate themselves to the sight of mutilated men.—Army Nurse Lieut. Gladys K. McMaster.

CLEVER DISCARDING DEFEATS CONTRACT

What makes Mrs. A. M. Sobel, of New York, a great bridge player? If you sit and watch her, the plays she makes seem perfectly natural, and therefore kibitzing her may even seem rather monotonous. But the keen student of the game appreciates how fast she thinks.

Let me give you an example of her fast thinking and the co-operation she gives her partner.

The whole key to this hand is that West must hold the four hearts to the jack, but in order to do so, she cannot protect clubs and spades. East must be made to realize that he must protect those suits. On the third diamond, when East showed out, Mrs. Sobel (West) realized that she was going to be squeezed. Her first discard, therefore, was the queen of clubs, and on the fourth and fifth diamond, she discarded her other club and then the queen of spades. Now East was informed that

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

Mrs. Charlotte Ross, Formerly Of Leeds, Observes Her 90th Birthday

A tea in honor of Mrs. Charlotte Ross, who was celebrating the ninety-ninth anniversary of her birthday, was served at her residence, 4657 Victoria Avenue, Montreal, by a number of her friends.

Relatives, old friends and new gathered together to honor this gracious lady.

Mrs. Ross was born at Leeds Village, County of Megantic, on January 25th, 1854. She was assistant postmistress for a period of twenty-five years from 1871 to 1896, to her father, the late Hugh McCutcheon, postmaster at Leeds Village. When he retired in 1896 she was appointed postmistress, an office she held for thirty-one years, from 1896 to 1927, when she resigned to take up her residence in Montreal.

She is still quite active, walking with light firm footsteps that belie her years, and capable of attending to some of the domestic duties.

She has knitted and donated forty scarves, thirty-six of which were given to the Red Cross, and is still engaged in this good work. She attends church, St. Andrew's United, Westmount, regularly except during the winter months.

She was blessed with an excellent memory which she still retains to a very remarkable degree, was always fond of reading good literature and since going to Montreal made good use of the Westmount Public Library as long as her eyesight permitted her to do so. She continues to take a keen interest in world affairs, information concerning which she gets by means of the radio and, by what is read aloud to her daily from the newspapers.

She was the recipient of many congratulatory messages, flowers, cards and gifts, expression of the high esteem her affectionate disposition and kind services to others had won for her.

Mrs. Charlotte Ross

The Rev. Dr. A. D. Reid, when presenting Mrs. Ross with a large bouquet of beautiful roses on behalf of her friends, remarked that she was a perfect example of growing old gracefully.

Tribute was also paid to Mrs. Ross in addresses by the Rev. P. D. Muir, a former pastor at Leeds Village, for seven years, and the Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, of which she is a member, and in a letter addressed to her by the Rev. Dr. W. D. Reid, Pastor Emeritus of Stanley Presbyterian Church, Westmount.

Refreshments were served by the ladies to the twenty-five guests assembled. The tea table was centered with a birthday cake having ninety candles.

A very pleasant social hour was brought to a close by the rendition of two vocal solos especially for Mrs. Ross, by Miss Harriet McCammon, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. T. I. Pollock.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. When you meet a war hero who has returned to this country should you say, "Well, what does it feel like to be a hero?"
2. When you read that the son of a friend of yours has received a medal for bravery, should you write the friend saying how wonderful you think it is?
3. Should you learn what the medals are that are given in this war so that you won't have to ask a serviceman who has been awarded one to tell you?
4. If you hear that a friend's husband who is in service has received a promotion should you tell her how pleased you are?
5. If a woman tells you her husband has been in the army a year should you ask if he has received any promotions?

What would you do if—
You learn that a friend of yours who has gone into the C.W.A.C. or the R.C.A.P. has received a promotion—
(a) Write and congratulate her?
(b) Say nothing about the promotion?

MARRIAGES

FOXWORTH-BENNETT

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 11.—The marriage of Miss Anne Joy Bennett, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Bennett, of Bury, and Lieut. Robert F. Foxworth, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foxworth, of 856 Oak Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., was celebrated at Grace Episcopal Church, Chattanooga, Tenn., on January 24, at ten o'clock a.m., with the Vicar, the Rev. Battle McLester, officiating.

The bride wore a moss green wool suit with brown accessories and a corsage of cypripedium. She carried a brown leather prayer book that belonged to the bridegroom's great-grandfather when he was at St. Helena Island. Her only ornament was a gold cross with pearl setting that was worn by her mother and grandmother at their weddings.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in black crepe with black accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a sister of Ralph Bennett, of Montreal, U. G. Bennett, of Bury, Mrs. A. E. W. Godwin, of Sawyerville, and Mrs. Eric Purdie, of Trinidad. She is a graduate of Macdonald College.

The bridegroom is the brother of Ensign James Foxworth, U.S.N.R., of Corpus Christi, Texas, and B. Foxworth, a paratrooper now in North Africa. He graduated from Central High School and attended the University of Chattanooga. He is now at home on leave after ten months as a U.S. Marine fighter pilot in the South Pacific, where he won the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster and was recommended for a citation.

Lieut. Foxworth and his bride will visit in Corpus Christi en route to San Diego, Calif., where he will report for duty.

BRIGHT BAUBLES MUST BE WORN, SELECTED WISELY

BY ALICIA HART

Geegaws from Santa? Whether gay baubles or precious gems, here are ways to make your jewelry serve to route admiring glances to face and hands.

If the gift is a pair of jewelled pins and your face is fullish, wear these at the center of a V or oval neckline. Pin one below the other. Use this shining pair to flank each side of a necklace or collar, if your face is slender and needs foreshortening.

A chunky choker is for the slender-faced girl who usually has a neck to match. If that's not you—you with the cherub-like face—let out your choker by attaching narrow strips of velvet ribbon which tie in the back. For any given wear, limit yourself to three pieces of jewelry, say, bracelet, earrings and finger ring. If the baubles elicit for attention—such as a bracelet that clanks and a lapel clip that's a conversation piece—settle for two.

DUBOYCE'S CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thompson, of Waterloo, spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Stone and Mr. A. McGee.

Mrs. B. R. Mizner spent a day with Mrs. Sydney Taylor at Argyle Farm.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duboyce were Mrs. Carmi Marsh, of West Bolton, and Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Johnston, of Bromo.

Miss Barbara Duboyce spent a week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmi Marsh.

Guests of Mrs. D. R. Brown were Mrs. C. H. Brown and Miss Ellen Brown, of Bolton Glen, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey, of Bolton Pass.

Mrs. H. Lenz entertained the Red Cross Group one afternoon. Owing to the weather, the attendance was small.

SOUTH STUKELY

Mrs. Cecil W. McLellan and Mr. Stewart McLellan called on Mr. Donald McLellan, of Waterloo, who has been a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. A. S. Parker entertained a number of her relatives and friends. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games, cards and dancing, after which lunch was served.

Miss Amona Hollenbeck, of Sherbrooke, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hollenbeck, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Tibbitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Comeau attended the funeral of their niece, little Elaine Wing, in St. Paul's Church, Magog, on February 6. They also visited Mrs. Mary Comeau.

Miss Sylvia Bell attended the Morine-Chilton wedding on Saturday, February 6, in Kingsbury. She also visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Fessenden in Fulford.

Mrs. A. Bell spent several days with Mrs. F. W. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bockus and Master Bruce.

Friends learned with regret of the death of Mrs. Henri Paul Garceau, nee Miss Gaby Goyette, on Sunday, February 6, in a Montreal hospital, where she had been a patient for several weeks. The body was brought to her former home here and the funeral took place on Wednesday, February 9, in Eastman. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband, Mr. Henri Paul Garceau, and infant son and other relatives.

Miss Claire Goyette and Mr. Romeo Goyette have been in Montreal with their sister, Mrs. Henri Paul Garceau.

Mrs. Harry Oxford, Jr., nee Miss Yvette Goyette, of New York City, has been spending a few days with Mrs. Goyette, Miss Claire Goyette and Mr. Romeo Goyette, and attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Henri Paul Garceau.

Several from here attended a party one Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. McLellan in West Bolton.

News has been received of the death of Mrs. R. H. Dimick, of Granby, which occurred at the home of her sister, Miss Reynolds, on Monday, February 7. Mrs. Dimick resided here for many years on the farm now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chartier. Sympathy is extended to those bereaved.

Not long ago she was always left out of things. Unknown to her, the invisible barrier of "B.O." cut her off from the friends and good times she longed for.

Today, she is popular, sought after. The answer is simple. She discovered the pleasant safeguard of sensible people everywhere. She bathes daily with the special purifying lather of Lifebuoy soap. Because Lifebuoy is especially made to stop "B.O.", it gives lasting all-over protection. And its clean, invigorating scent vanishes before you're even dressed.

You'll like Lifebuoy's mildness, too. Tests prove that Lifebuoy is actually milder than many so-called beauty soaps.

LANDING CRAFT BIG FACTOR IN INVASION PLAN

Not Only Must Allies Have a Vast Initial Force, But Thousands More Must Be in Reserve to Insure Steady Flow of Supplies.

By WES GALLAGHER, Associated Press Staff Writer. London, Feb. 11.—If the invasion of Europe from the West is going to open with the margin of safety that is the fetish of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, British and United States engineering genius and willing labor must quickly solve another war shortage—landing craft—because the Allies' amphibious warriors and landing craft, like men, are highly expendable.

Everything else—guns, men, tanks and planes—the Allies have in plenty, and even ships to carry them across the seas. But the ungainly ships with queer shapes, the landing craft, now are of No. 1 priority to unlock Hitler's fortress. It took more than 2,000 to invade Sicily. They ranged in size from 5,000 tons down to less than 100. It will take many times this number to attack Europe. Not only must a vast initial force be on hand, but thousands more must be in reserve to insure a steady flow of supplies to the beachhead no matter what the losses.

The difference between the swift, smooth landings in Sicily, which was attacked at many points, and the desperate fighting at Salerno is largely one of having sufficient numbers of landing craft of innumerable types, many of which must be built not only for specific operations but for certain beaches. For example, one of the difficulties of the recent landing South of Rome was that there was a reef along the coast which made it impossible to use large LST's (landing ships, tanks). Special ships with a shallow enough draft but big enough to carry a large number of tanks had to be brought in for the operation.

Such problems will be a hundred times complicated along the thousands of miles of rock-strewn and tide-swept European coast. The percentage of expendability will be immeasurably greater than on any previous expedition, and the huge attack must be to smash head-on into prepared German defences. It is certain that Allied landing craft will be a No. 1 target for German big guns and glider bombs.

ESTABLISHMENT OF TECHNICAL CENTRES URGED

Engineering Institute Stresses Need of Training Men with Technical Aptitudes Unable to Qualify for Admission to University.

Quebec, Feb. 11.—At a pre-convention meeting here last night, the Council of the Engineering Institute of Canada unanimously agreed that "steps must be taken by the Provincial Department of Education throughout the country to provide essential training to men with technical aptitudes who cannot qualify for admission to a university" and urged the establishment of a number of technical institutes in Canada. The convention begins today.

The Council, under the chairmanship of K. M. Cameron of Montreal, President of the Engineering Institute of Canada, asked the different provinces of the Dominion to set up intermediate educational technical institutes, which would be equivalent to the first two years of an engineering course and would lighten the load being carried by the universities.

Speaking before the Council, C. R. Young, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto, said: "Consideration of technical education in Canada clearly indicates a serious gap above the secondary school level and below that of the degree-granting engineering faculties and colleges. The universities, as the sole type of institution above the secondary or vocational high school, cannot possibly serve adequately the needs of the country in the matter of advanced training of technical personnel and any attempt at doing so is bound to be unsatisfactory both to those seeking training and to the universities themselves."

"Experience in the United States, in Great Britain and on the continent, has shown that the whole fabric of technical education is strengthened, and marked progress has been realized from the establishment of an intermediate type of institution, commonly designated as the technical institute. "It is my belief that both education and industry would be notably served if with the sponsorship of the Provinces a number of technical institutes were immediately established so as to be available for qualified demobilized men and displaced war workers as soon as they are in substantial numbers."

At last night's meeting, the Council also decided to grant honorary membership in the Institute to Dr. R. E. Doherty, of Pittsburgh, President of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, and to Dr. D. W. Mead, of Madison, Wis., one of the outstanding consulting engineers in the United States. They both will be presented with certificates at the annual banquet of the Engineering Institute Friday night.

Japanese Expect Burmese Invasion

London, Feb. 11.—Japanese military experts believe a large-scale offensive by Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's forces in the Pacific is imminent. The Berlin Radio quoted a Tokyo dispatch as saying today.

"The offensive probably will be amphibious and synchronized with a land attack," said the dispatch. "The Japanese high command is preparing against landings at a number of points in Burma, Malaya, the Andamans and even in the former Dutch East Indies."

"In view of the great length of coastline it is thought the enemy might well succeed in establishing one or more bridgeheads."

FATHER BOUVIER GUEST SPEAKER AT RICHMOND

Addresses Junior Board of Trade on Relationship Between Labor and Capital—Three Hundred Members Hear Address.

Richmond, Feb. 11.—Father Emile Bouvier, S.J., was the guest-speaker at a public lecture given under the auspices of the Richmond Junior Board of Trade. The lecture was held in the dining-room of the Brunswick Hotel, where 300 persons gathered to hear Father Bouvier speak on "Relationship Between Labor and Capital."

L. Roland Morin, President of the Junior Board, introduced the guest-speaker. Father Bouvier is a professor at the School of Social Service of the University of Montreal, Assistant-Director of "L'Ecole Sociale Populaire" of Montreal, Technical Advisor of the "Association professionnelle des industriels et Collaborateur to the revue 'Relations.'" Father Bouvier studied at Weston, near Boston, Mass., at Georgetown University of Washington; and at Harvard. He is noted for his commentaries on the Beveridge and Marsh reports and has made numerous lectures throughout Canada.

The speaker enumerated the new conditions in which the wage-earner has to live and the new difficulties industry has to face. The migration of labor to new centres, where hands are required for war purposes has created miseries for a great number of the population. The speaker said, "The great mistake made by those who established the Selective Service was the belief that they could repatriate everyone to their hometown, when their services would not be required."

"It is foolish to believe that profits will ever be abolished in the industries for the benefit of the working class. The industry needs profit to improve and enlarge the plants and like everybody else it has to live. On the other hand it is foolish to believe that production is only a question of products. It also has its human side. The wage earner must have a decent salary; work under sanitary conditions, and obtain the benefit of every possible social service."

"The wage earner must never forget that he is bound by a contract with his employer and that he must give the full measure of his ability and a full-time attention to his job. The mistake of some of the labor unions is to forget the duties of the laborer and to think only of his rights."

"Unreasonable demands by the wage-earner may sometime cause serious difficulties to the employer. Increase in wages is possible only when financial structure and possibilities of the enterprise will permit. Strikes may cause the employer to pay more wages but he may have to dispense with a number of employees in the lower class. If the enterprise is not profitable after giving higher wage-rate he may have to close down. In either case the wage-earner is the loser."

Georges Tremblay, executive member of the Junior Board, thanked the speaker for his guidance and good advice. If all the rules of good management and of good discipline by the labor class given to-night, were followed by everyone, we would live in a much better world of peace and contentment.

There were present: Mgr. J. E. M. Vincent, Father J. H. Coteux, Father Joseph Vauquelin, C.S.C., Father Leon Loiselle, Messrs. Alfred Geoffroy, Mayor of Richmond, Gerard Desmarais, J. E. Martel and J. A. Ouellet, Councillors; M. J. I. Beau-bien, President of LaDuchesserie Shoe Limited, Gaston Desmarais, President of Richmond and Melbourn Board of Trade, K. G. Nourse, Honorary President of the Junior Board, M. A. H. Marcotte, President of the Catholic Board of School Commissioners and A. Laliberte, of the Junior Board of Trade, of Asbestos.

CLARENCEVILLE

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary and of the Ladies' Guild of St. George's Church was held at the Rectory and was conducted by Rev. J. J. Seaman, Rector of the church. The meeting was opened with prayer and Scripture reading, after which several reports and business matters were attended to. Then followed the election of officers for each society, which resulted as follows: For the Auxiliary: Honorary President, Mrs. J. J. Seaman; President, Mrs. Albert Rowe; Vice-President, Mrs. George McKee; Secretary, Mrs. George Taylor, and Treasurer, Mrs. Alex Derick. For the Guild: Honorary President, Mrs. J. J. Seaman; President, Mrs. A. L. Hunter; Secretary, Mrs. George Taylor, and Treasurer, Mrs. Albert Rowe. Delicious refreshments were served by the Ladies' Guild.

The residence on South Street, formerly owned by Mr. Harold Derick has been sold to Albert Rowe, who will take possession as soon as possible.

LAC. Keith Miller spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Robins, of Montreal, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roy.

The last meeting of the Clarenceville Grange was attended by more than thirty members. The officers previously elected were installed by the District Deputy, Stanley R. Blanford. At the close of the session a banquet was enjoyed by all present.

The "600 Club" consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Arley Hauver, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Derick, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Macfie, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bullock and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hunter were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hunter at their own home, where a very pleasant time was spent. In the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Derick and Mr. A. C. Collins their places were taken, respectively, by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mosher and Mr. Ernest Hauver.

Mrs. Arley Hauver and Mrs. A. C. Collins spent a few days in Montreal, where Mr. Hauver's father is seriously ill in the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perreault and little son, of Belisle, and Mr. Phil Perreault, of Cowansville, were guests at a day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Perreault.

Mrs. Robert McCormick, of St. Johns, spent a week at her home in Clarenceville East.

Pte. John Donald McCormick, who is serving with the Canadian Army in Italy, was wounded while in action in December 1943. He is present being treated in the General Canadian Hospital in that country and is gradually recovering from the wounds inflicted in the fight. A telegram to this effect was received by his mother, Mrs. Robert McCormick, a few days ago from Ottawa.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held one Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chilton and was presided over by the President, Mrs. Chilton Adams. After the opening exercises the reading of the minutes and the presentation and acceptance of the usual reports it was voted to raise the necessary funds of the church by means of social gatherings consisting of games and sports rather than by so many Ladies' Aid suppers. The matter, however, has to be considered by the "Session" and by the Board of Stewards before it can be carried out. At the close of the meeting delightful refreshments were served by both Mr. and Mrs. Chilton.

The farmers are now busy hauling ice, logs and wood. Where sleighs have to be used for this purpose teaming is rather difficult on account of the snow being ploughed almost completely out off the roads.

POTATOES GET AROUND

Potatoes were introduced to the United States from England, although they were native to South America. Four trips across the Atlantic and 200 years were required for the potato to travel from Peru to Spain, Spain to Florida, Florida to England, and England to New England.

INVERNESS

The annual meeting of the Inverness Auxiliary of W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Robert McEneaney, on Main Street, one afternoon. The following officers were re-elected: President, Mrs. A. J. Smyth; Vice-President, Mrs. D. D. MacMillan; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. A. D. McCammon. There was a large attendance and Mrs. Malcolm McMillan became a member of the Society. An interesting address on "Prayer" was given by Mrs. Smyth. The yearly report of the Auxiliary was read by Mrs. McCammon and was approved. The allocation of $100 was oversubscribed and all other duties of the Society faithfully performed. Mrs. McCammon gave an interesting talk on a Missionary meeting she had attended in Montreal, with Miss Bruce.

At the meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church arrangement was made about the "World's Day of Prayer" under the Inter-Board Committee of the W.M.S. Societies of Canada. The leaders are Mrs. Adey and Miss Piuman, Scripture reading: Isaiah LIX, 1-4, 7-10, 12, 14 and 16; Mrs. A. J. Smyth, Myrrh for sorrow; Mrs. Harry Hodge, frankincense, for intercession; prayers by Mrs. James Robinson and Mrs. D. D. MacMillan; a devotional address by Miss Edith Kinnear; a litany of praise and thanks by Mrs. A. D. McCammon; Special prayer for the government of the nation; the hymns, "Faith of Our Fathers," "In Christ is no East or West," "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun," "Zion's King Shall Reign Victorious" and "The Day Thou Gavest Lord is Ended" will be sung.

LAC. Malcolm Mooney, R.C.A.F., Edmonton, Alta., spent his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mooney, William Mooney, H.M.C.S. Lachine, was also a guest at the same home for a few days.

This community extends its deepest sympathy to all the bereaved in the sudden death of Mr. Alex. M. McCammon, of Thetford Mines. Mr. McCammon spent the first part of his life in Inverness Village. He was a general favorite with all who were acquainted with him. His career was followed with interest by his boyhood friends. A life in which he achieved success and left memories like a benediction.

Mayor McCammon and Mrs. McCammon were immediately to Thetford Mines on receiving news of the passing of Mr. A. M. McCammon.

Those from here who attended the funeral service of Alex. McCammon were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Battie, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smyth, Messrs. George R. Mooney, John Cruikshank and the Rev. Charles Adey.

Miss Frances Walker was a weekend guest of Miss Mildred Wright. Miss L. E. McKinnon, R.N., of Montreal, is the guest of Mrs. James McKinnon and Mr. and Mrs. Russell McKinnon.

Mrs. Malcolm McMillan and Mrs. E. Johnson were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Learmouth.

D. J. McNeely was a visitor of Mrs. D. J. MacMillan.

B. Wotton spent some time with Howard Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lunnie were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson.

Mrs. T. Learmouth was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie.

Mrs. John McKenzie was an afternoon visitor of Mrs. Peter Johnston. Mrs. David McCullough was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McCrae, Miss Jean McCrae and Mrs. T. Learmouth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Learmouth.

COWANSVILLE

The annual Vestry meeting of Trinity Church was held in the Church Hall, at which there was a large attendance of parishioners. The priest in charge was Rev. J. O. Peacock, who presided. The Rector's report, embodying the activities of the different organizations of the Church was given by Rev. Mr. Peacock. The finances of the church were in a fairly good condition and all of the church societies reported active and successful work for the year. Mention was made of parishioners, who had died during the year, special mention being made of the loss sustained by the death of H. A. Wilson, who for so many years faithfully fulfilled the duties of Treasurer. The following officers were unanimously elected for the year: People's Warden and Treasurer, J. E. Stocks; Rector's Warden, H. L. Hastings; Assistant Treasurer, George Barker; Envoy, Vespely Clerk, Sylvanus Fuller; Vestry Clerk, F. J. Knight; delegates to the Synod, Messrs. G. K. Lechasseur and C. A. Adams. Six members of the congregation were elected members of the Select Vestry, replacing or filling vacancies of those whose term had expired. It was also resolved to appoint as Honorary members of the Vestry, members of the congregation, who were at present serving with the armed forces so that they would feel that they still were actively connected with the Church.

The National Campaign for the Canadian Red Cross Societies will start on February 28. Messrs. F. J. Knight and E. C. Cadieux have again consented to act as Co-Chairmen for the Cowansville-Sherbrooke District and W. D. Smith will again be Treasurer. In obligating themselves for the work of the campaign they are counting on the same excellent support which they received in the last drive, from collectors in the town and outlying districts. While relying on these same collectors to assist, they would also appreciate hearing from any other ladies or gentlemen who would be willing to help in this worthy cause. United efforts in the last campaign resulted in exceeding the objective required for the district. The need is increasing, not decreasing.

Miss Mary Dover, who is being much feted prior to her marriage, was pleasantly surprised one evening on being invited to spend the evening at Mrs. K. Johnson's home to find on her arrival about twenty of her friends there who had come to shower her with gifts and extend their best wishes. The evening was spent in games. Mrs. Johnson served a delectable lunch and before leaving, Miss Dover thanked everyone in a pleasing manner for the lovely gifts.

Mrs. L. Willard has recovered from her serious illness and has returned to her home, in Drummondville.

Mrs. Leonard Buzzell is spending some time in Drummondville with her mother, Mrs. L. Willard, and sister, Miss Alice Willard.

Red Cross workers are urgently needed. There are large quantities of sewing and knitting to be done. Workers may get material any Tuesday or Friday afternoon. Workers are also needed to make surgical dressings on Monday and Thursday afternoons and Wednesday evenings.

Mr. Oscar Johnson, who has been moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leland Sanford, is confined to his room and under the care of Dr. Noisieux.

Miss Shirley Kilgallen, of Montreal, spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith and visited her mother, Mrs. Charles Kilgallen, who was a patient in the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital. The many friends of Mrs. Miner, who is ill, wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. George Dover spent a day in St. Johns.

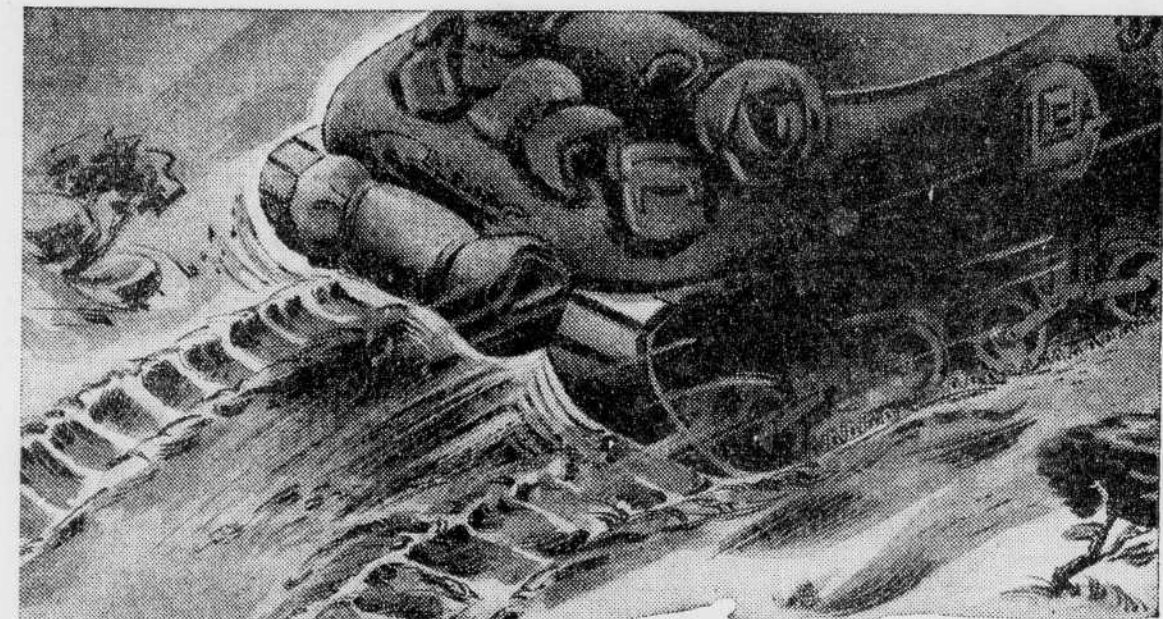

Miss Barbara Seale, of St. Johns, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Seale and her sister, Mrs. Eric Pickle.

Mrs. Townsend, of Sutton, spent a day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenne.

Mrs. B. Vergeylen visited her sister, Mrs. Arnold Oliver and family.

ON ITS WAY BECAUSE OF A BATTERY

STARTING POWER—without which many of our mightiest war machines would be useless begins, under most conditions, with a dependable storage battery.

Starting war machines "on their way" by supplying storage batteries, is our most important job these days.

You can help in getting more storage batteries to the armed forces by making your existing battery last longer.

You can do this by having an Exide Dealer check your battery every 14 days. By means of his dependable Exide Sure-Start equipment, he can help you prolong your battery's useful life.

When you must buy a new battery, make sure it's an Exide. Where battery power dare not fail, there you will find an Exide—the dependable battery.

Weekly Letter to Farmers

HENRI-LOUIS LESSARD, Assistant,
Dominion Experimental Station, Lennoxville, Que.

The use of oats in poultry feeding has given, according to some recent experiments, very good results either for young growing chicks or for mature birds. For the chicks addition of oats to the ration promotes better growth and more rapid feathering. Whole oats added to the grain mixture would help to prevent cannibalism and feather picking among every bird of the poultry-yard. When oats forms a part of the ration mortality is reduced and fewer cases of slipped tendon have been remarked. The proportion of oats to incorporate is 20 to 25 per cent for both grain and meal mixture.

The utilization of oats in turkey feeding offers the same advantages as in poultry feeding.

Sprouted oats fed daily to the laying hens is also a practice to follow specially when little or no green feed is available. Its use, besides helping to prevent cannibalism and feather picking as in the case of whole oats, supplies certain digestive ferments beneficial to the digestion and probably some vitamins of the B complex. Sprouted oats can also be fed in small quantity to the growing chicks at the age of three weeks.

There is an easy method followed by the Lennoxville Experimental Farm for the germination of oats. The oats used should be of good quality, that means having a high germinal capacity. A warm place for the winter is also necessary, because the degree required to germinate is from 60 F. to 65 F. The germination requires from 6 to 7 days and it is done in cotton or jute bag. Two or three pounds of oats will give enough sprouted grain for 100 hens. The first day the oats is soaked in water for 12 to 15 hours or overnight. On the second day it is taken out of the water and hung up on a hook. The third day the oats is soaked again for 12 to 15 minutes. The water before each soaking should be changed. On the following days the same operations are repeated until the oats is ready to be used, that is to say when the sprouts are an inch to an inch and a half long. After the third day before each soaking the oats should be loosened up in order to avoid too much intermixing.

In order to have a daily supply of sprouted oats, one should put some to germinate every day or every two days according to the number of hens kept. The work will be much simplified if a special rack were built where there will be room enough to hang 5 to 6 bags. Not more than 10 pounds of whole oats should be used per bag because the grain when sprouting increases in weight and in volume.

Three pounds of good oats produce around 10 pounds of sprouted oats and one can feed from 5 to 10 lbs. daily per 100 hens.

YOUR FEEDING ADVISOR

By LARRY MERRIGAN
Last week I said that I would show records of the profits in the turkey industry. I have two acts to work on this week and they are true records. One record is from feeding one feed, and the other record is from feeding two feeds. Both are very good feeds, and it is not the policy of this column to mention any feed no matter how good or bad it may be. For the purpose of this column, we will call them feed A and feed B. Following are the figures as given me by a feeder in Kingsbury, N.Y.

"A" record: 800 pounds turkey starting feed; 9,000 pounds turkey growing feed; 3,000 pounds turkey fattening feed; 3,000 pounds whole corn; other grains, 2,900 pounds. Total pounds fed, 18,700 pounds. Pounds of feed used per lb. of live turkey, 5 lbs. Following is the cost of same operation: Poults, $22.96; sanitation products, $4.30; feed and trucking, $550.75; miscellaneous, $9.65. Total feed and operation cost, $567.66. Following is the receipts taken in for this operation. The birds were sold at 32 cents alive. A few were sold dressed at slightly higher prices, but in no case was the selling price violated. Total receipts, $1,252.50; less the cost of the operation, $567.66. The net labor profit was $684.84. This was a return of the money invested of 90.4 per cent. There are no companies today or any business for that matter that can hope to give you 90.4 interest on your money and in the short space of time. Remember that this operation started June 9 and was completed Dec. 15. If anyone can show me a cow or group of cows that will come near this in only six months, I'll eat my words. You will have to take into consideration that the lady who completed this operation was using the highest priced feed there is today. She only would use the best, but the results showed that she knew what she was doing. It has never been done, and I miracle it will never be done. Here are the figures on the other operation called X. For reasons best known to this gentleman, the name and place of the operation are withheld. Following are the figures supplied me by this man: Number poults started, 215; date started, May 11, 1943; number birds raised, 182; date sold, Dec. 20, 1943; livability, 84.65 per cent; age when sold, 7 months; number of breeders kept, none; total live weight birds sold, 2,865.50 lbs.; average weight per bird alive, 15.75 lbs. Following are the amounts of feed used: Turkey starting feed, 920 lbs.; turkey growing feed, 11,560 lbs.; turkey fattening feed, 2,750 lbs.; whole corn, 5,220 lbs.; other grains, 4,000 lbs.; total pounds fed, 24,280 lbs. of feed used per lb. of turkey live weight, 8.5 lbs. Following are the cost figures for this operation: Poults, $90; sanitation products, none; feed, no trucking, $632.18; miscellaneous, $6.87. Total cost of operation, $729.05. Birds were sold alive, but did not come up to good grading. Price given for these were 32 cents. Had this been a normal year the price would have been about 35 cents per pound. Total receipts, $917.28. Less the cost of operation, $729.05, gives a labor profit of $188.23. He received from the money he invested 25.8 per cent. This, too, is a very nice profit, and in only seven months, but look at the amount he paid for feed; that is the money invested. He took a chance and came out all right, but it could have worked out the other way, too.

The records that you have just read are very fine things to look at, but what good will they do you or I if we don't pick them apart? You do not know what the prices were that were paid by these two parties for feed. I think when you see the prices you will wonder what happened to X. Feeder A fed as I said the highest priced feed on the market. Here is the cost: Turkey starting mash cost around $4, the growing mash around $3.20, and the fattening mash around $3. Both would pay the same for corn and grain, but feeder A would have the cost of trucking in there where feeder X did not. Feeder X paid $3.60 for the starting mash, $2.90 for the growing mash and he paid $2.50 for the fattening feed. He paid only $90 for the poults against the cost of feeder A of $92.96. Feeder X did not have any sanitation expense while feeder A had $4.30. The whole reason why feeder X did not make enough money was because his birds had eaten their heads off. You can see this very clearly. Yet feeder A gave the birds all they wanted to eat and it is little more. Why then the difference? First and most important, feeder A was feeding a reliable feed but the records show that the feed was not built enough to give the birds what they wanted. While feeder A had just the feed the birds were looking for. It all boils down to one thing, and that is, you don't get anything today for nothing. You get just exactly what you pay for. Had feeder X bought some sanitation products to keep the place clean and control the drinking water as feeder A had done, he would have had more birds to market. So, friends, it all comes back to what I have always said, it is not the price that counts, but what you get for it that does. My latest information from Lennoxville says that up to today we have only seven names in for the English class in poultry. If they do not receive another 15 or so they will have to drop the English class at the coming poultry meeting to be held this month in Sherbrooke. Monday is the deadline. Get those names off today.

WINDSOR FAILS IN BID TO VACATE CELLAR

Letarte Scores Two As Rand Hands Grantmen 5-3 Trimming

Pop Leroux's league-leading Rand squad last night hammered out a 5-3 victory over the Windsor Mills Paper Makers in a game played at the Sherbrooke Arena before a crowd of some 500 persons.

The Grantmen failed in their bid for third place as they absorbed the 5-3 trimming, and remain in the league cellar, with the Army squad only one point ahead of them.

Starting for their Rand was Emil Letarte, big winger, who rapped in two goals and set the stage for two others as he turned in one of his best games of the season.

Harry Allen also sparked as he pounded in two goals for his team, while the Rand's other marker came off the stick of young Normand Dussault, the Rand's speedster.

For the Windsor crew, Vitkuske played an outstanding game on the defence, continually breaking up attacks and setting powerful Windsor attacks going.

Marksmen for the Paper Makers were McLennan, Pee Wee Leblanc and Georges Guilbeault. Assists were drawn by Lacroix, Emond, Dionne and Morey.

The game, which was hard-hitting all the way through, was handled by Referee Gerry Mathieu and Paul Gagnon, who were forced to call eight penalties on the players. Of the eight, the Rand drew five and the Paper Makers three.

Starting out the game at a rather slow pace, both teams felt each other out before McLennan broke the ice by putting Windsor into the lead at 5:35. Taking a pass from Lacroix at the Rand blue line, McLennan let go with an easy shot which hit Frechette's stick and bounced through his legs into the net. Play started to speed up and at 11:06 of the period, Letarte took a pass from Theroux to bang it past Longpre for the tying goal. The Windsor team then started to carry the play and, led by Vitkuske, tested Frechette severely on several occasions. However, the period ended with the score 1-1.

Starting off the first period with a bang, the Rand jumped into the lead when Allen outplayed Longpre after taking passes from Letarte and Theroux. A few minutes later, Pee Wee Leblanc tied it up again when he scored on a soft shot which Frechette had to stop. His view being wholly blocked by his defencemen. At 7:33 Windsor forged into the lead when Guilbeault scored. Frechette was pushed into the net in the melee, and although the light did not go on, Gerry Mathieu awarded the goal to the Grantmen when he found the puck lying over the goal line. A minute later, Dussault evened things up again when he took Letarte's rebound and wheeled to rifle it into the net. Eight minutes later the Rand forged into

TRACK STARS RUN BECAUSE THEY LIKE TO

By WHITNEY MARTIN, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Feb. 11.—(P)—A sad fellow who flags a taxi for a trip across the street we've always been intrigued by the track athletes who run anywhere from 50 yards to miles and miles without anyone urging them on with a shoutgun.

Jim Rafferty gives us the obvious answer. They run because they like to run and, except in occasional instances where an athlete in a "loner," for the associations and friendships the sport develops. They're a pretty swell bunch as a rule, these track men.

Jim Rafferty's history probably is more or less typical. He now is 27 years old, and weighs 135 pounds, just about at his peak as a runner. He'll tackle anything from 1,000 yards to 10 miles, and although he is National A. A. U. 1,000-yard champion, the mile is his pet distance. He has run it in 4:10.3 twice, and thinks he can do better this year.

He went to Fordham University and since his graduation has been doing his running for the New York A. C. When not running he is an accountant, and when not accounting he's trying to figure out what causes runners to get a "stitch" in the side. He's about given up on that, though.

"You get it, that's all," he explains. "I never get it until after I've run two miles. The doctor says it's just nerves and maybe he's right. I get expecting to get the stitch after two miles, and I get it."

In races of more than two miles he tapes up his right side tightly, operating under the same principle as Willie Ritola, who used to wear a broad belt which he kept tightening still more as a race progressed, getting something of a zipper effect. Rafferty, who right now is 4-1 in the army draft because of a hernia, admits he is a poor judge of pace, and for that reason he tries not to take the lead in a race. He likes to lag along within striking distance and then turn on the gas near the finish. He has a good sprint, differing in that way from Bill Hulse and Gil Dodds, who bear down all the way but haven't much left at the finish.

He won the two-mile run in an upset victory over Ensign Ollie Hunter in the Millrose meet last Saturday, Feb. 10 when the latter shot at Dodds and Hulse in the New York A. C. games.

Dugremmen Return To Richmond For Game With Flyers Tonight

Tonight, Yvan Dugre's Army team travels to Richmond for the second game in three days with the second-place Flyers. This contest is of great importance to both teams.

The Flyers are now in second place in the league standing with fourteen points, while the Dugremmen are in third place with twelve. Should the Army men capture tonight's match, a tie for second place will be created.

The game tonight will be last between these two teams and each squad will be determined to end the season-long series with a victory.

In the game Wednesday night at the Richmond Coliseum, the Army scored an upset, 5-2 triumph over the Flyers and will be out to repeat their performance tonight. In this game, the Army showed plenty of fight in the last period and rallied to regain the win.

If Coach Yvan Dugre can infuse his players with the same spirit and fight they had Wednesday night, the Army boys stand a good chance of topping the Flyers and edging into second place.

However, the Flyers are pretty annoyed at their loss against the Army and will be going full blast tonight to take revenge. The Flyers didn't seem to be clicking as they have in former games, but they are

Y.W.C.A. WINS OVER SCHOOL AT BADMINTON

The Y.W.C.A. badminton team last night took a 3-2 victory over the Sherbrooke High School in a regular league game played at the High School. The badminton league in Sherbrooke has been quite active this year and the teams competing have been fairly evenly matched and competition has been keen. In another series being played last night the High School Association met the teachers of the Sherbrooke High School but no report on the game has come in.

In the High School-Y.W.C.A. game the "Y" took the men's singles when Jack Davidson defeated Royal Stewart 15-3 and 15-5, but in the women's singles the school retaliated with a 11-1 and 11-8 win when Pat McKee defeated Kay Guidin. In the men's doubles Jack Davidson and W. McGinty beat J. Mathias and Jerry Curphy 15-5 and 15-7. The women's

LENNOXVILLE CAGERS BLOCK BISHOP'S 40-15

Evelyn Shufelt and Marion McKiven of Lennoxville High School went on a scoring spree yesterday afternoon when the L. H. S. girls basketball team trounced the University of Bishop's College girls 40-15 in a regular league tilt at Lennoxville High. These two girls each earned 16 points to account for most of their team's total and gave Lennoxville High their first triumph in two starts, in the Sherbrooke City Girls Basketball League.

The Bishop's team was weakened by the loss of Lila Pharo who will not be able to play for the remainder of this season. They were outclassed by the L. H. S. girls who had two full teams and were able to keep fresh players on the floor all the time. The Bishop's players, having only two replacements, tired quickly and fell far behind in the last half.

Captain Evelyn Shufelt and Marion McKiven spearheaded the Lennoxville High attack and were a constant threat around the U.B.C. basket. Barbara Stevenson played a commendable game as did Margaret Hamilton, for the winners. Each of these girls got two baskets. Mary Harrington was top scorer for Bishop's with eight points while Elizabeth Bryant followed closely with five. Muriel Getty, who earned one field goal and Elizabeth MacDonald worked hard for the losers.

Guarding was poor on both sides, but the college girls especially failed to cover the opposing players effectively. The game was loosely played as is indicated by the score. Charles Budning did a good job of refereeing the match.

Both teams were slow in starting but improved with each quarter. Lennoxville took the offensive early in the game and held their rivals to only four points by half time. The second half started with L.H.S. leading 14-4. The High School girls hit their stride in the third quarter to sink eight baskets for a total of sixteen points as to Bishop's eight.

Still fresh in the last frame the Lennoxville High team outpointed the tired U.B.C. squad 12 to 3 to bring their total to an even forty at the end of the game.

Teams: L.H.S.—Evelyn Shufelt, 16; Marion McKiven, 16; Barbara Stevenson, 4; Margaret Hamilton, 4; Margaret Dawson, 2; Merle Hunting; Betty Richardson; Dorothy Wright; Margaret Macdonald; Audrey Burt. Total—40.

U.B.C.—Mary Harrington, 8; Elizabeth Bryant, 5; Muriel Getty, 2; Marie Tuck; Francis Ladd; Elizabeth Macdonald; Jean Boast. Total—15.

Officials: Referee, C. Budning. Timekeeper, J. Campbell.

DODGERS' SCOUT SAYS CHILDREN LIKE BASEBALL

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—(P)—Speaking as one of the best informed men in America on the attitude of youngsters toward baseball, George Sisler, member of the game's Hall of Fame, scout for the Brooklyn Dodgers and Commissioner of the National Semi-Pro Congress, is convinced the future of the national game is safe in the hands of "the kids."

The former great first baseman of the St. Louis Browns said the spirit and eagerness to play, especially among the younger fellows at Dodger's tryout camps, had shown him there was just as much enthusiasm for baseball as in his own boyhood days.

However, he admitted he had not seen any 16 or 17-year-olds who could fill the shoes of men in military service and overcome the major league's wartime player shortage.

Sisler was 22 years old when he made the jump from the University of Michigan in 1915. He came to the Browns as a pitcher but shifted to first base and compiled an all-time major league batting average of .341 with a high of .420 in 1922. He retired in 1932.

The great first sacker was voted into the game's Hall of Fame in 1938 but he is far from the doddering greybeard that such an honor might indicate. Fifty-one years old next month, he looks no more than a slightly older brother of the Sisler whose fielding grace and batting prowess made him one of the sport's immortals.

Looking back over the years, Sisler said he believed baseball had become "more commercialized" than in his day and lacked some of its spirit.

To illustrate the old-time game, Sisler recalled the case of Fielder Jones, Manager of the Browns from 1904-08 and from 1916 to 1918 was "hated to lose more than any man I ever knew."

In a game with Washington, Sisler recalls, the Browns were ahead 5-1, but the Senators rallied in the ninth inning to win 6-5. Jones was so angry that he resigned and quit baseball for good.

Bruins Defeat Hawks 5-4 To Secure Last Play-Off Berth

By The Canadian Press.

If there's any communique from Boston Bruins headquarters today it will say—"everything is going according to plan." The Bruins are on the march again.

By beating the Black Hawks 5-4 in a rousing finish before a crowd of 10,032 at Chicago last night, the Bruins climbed back into fourth position in the National Hockey League. The only other game saw the Detroit Red Wings chalk up an 8-3 victory over the luckless Rangers before a crowd of 12,932 at New York.

The Bruins climbed over the Hawks into the last play-off spot by dint of two resounding victories in this week, their 3-0 shutout triumph over Canadiens Tuesday and their success last night. Right now the Bruins are only one point back of the third-place Toronto Leafs, and five points behind Detroit. And Bill Cowley is almost due back on the Boston line-up.

At Chicago last night the Bruins won the hard way, leading 4-1 at the start of the third period and then watching Chicago ram in three straight goals. With the score tied 4-4 the fireworks started when a brief battle flared and Pat Egan of Boston was waved to the box. He swung at a spectator and the entire line-up of both teams joined in the turmoil.

The clincher was fired by Bep Guidolin, assisted by Calladine and Cain, just six seconds before the final bell. Brennan, Boll, Kopek and Egan got the other Boston goals, while Smith, Purpur, Bentley and Gottselig scored for Chicago.

The Red Wings played like a machine in beating Rangers. About the only incident occurred in the second period when a flare-up resulted in Harold Jackson drawing a major and a minor for high-sticking. Carveth had three goals to lead the Detroit parade and Liscombe and Brown got the other Boston goals, while Smith, Purpur, Bentley and Gottselig scored for Chicago.

CAPITALS AND BISONS BATTLE TO 4-4 DRAW

By The Canadian Press
Indianapolis Capitals and Buffalo Bisons battled to a 4-4 draw last night in the American Hockey League's only scheduled encounter.

Overcoming a two-goal deficit in the third period, Caps have not been defeated by Buffalo this season. Fred Thurier scored two counters for Bisons in the first period. His wings, Fred Hunt and Larry Thibault, set-up the puck both times. He added their third counter in the second period and bagged the 4th tally early in the final period.

The Thurier-Hunt-Thibault combination were at their best. Accounting for the four Buffalo goals, they looked the best forward line on the ice.

However, Cap players were not idle either. Winky Smith scored their first goal just 45 seconds after the start of the second period. At almost the half-way mark Bernie Ruelle added their second.

In the final period Nakina Smith scored at 10:47 and seven minutes later Alex Ritson deadlocked the contest.

On Saturday night the two top teams in the league, Cleveland Barons and Hamilton Tigers, meet for a return engagement. Last Tuesday night Barons defeated Bears 5-4 at Cleveland. Providence Reds and Pittsburgh Hornets, the circuit's cellar-dwellers, also are scheduled to meet.

Bears play Bisons at Buffalo Sunday night while Hornets tangle with Caps and Barons with Reds.
