LORD ABERDEEN'S FAREWELL.

The Departing Viceroy Tendered an Ovation on Leaving Dublin—Unprecedented Demonstration.

DUBLIN, August 3.—The farewell levee given by the Earl of Aberdeen and his wife at Dublin castle to-day was attended by a large number of members of the Irish National league. The streets are profusely decorated in honor of the departing Viceroy and an enormous crowd of people assembled from all parts of the country to tender the Aberdeens a rousing ovation on taking their final leave. The farewell to Lord and Lady Aberdeen was phenomenal. All Dublin was abroad and the enthusiasm was unbounded. The procession was a gorgeous affair, the trade guilds vieing with each other in display. There were numerous bands in the procession and all played national airs, there being a marked absence of British tunes. Lord Aberdeen and the Countess were much affected by the demonstration. Lord Mayor Sullivan asked Lord Aberdeen to describe the scene to the Queen, and to tell her that "this was a pale forecast of the reception she will receive when she comes in person to restore to Ireland her ancient right of self-government." The address of the Corporation to the retiring viceroy declared that nothing short of Mr. Gladstone's measure would satisfy the Irish people. In his speech at Kingstown, Lord Aberdeen promised that he and the countess would fervently pray for the peace and prosperity of Ireland. The farewell levee in the afternoon was less brilliant than that of Earl Spencer, and the attendance was smaller. The procession was two hours in passing the castle. Two thousand horsemen were in line. The crowd broke through the ranks of the police in their endeavor to shake hands with Lord Aberdeen and his wife. The viceroy and the countess were inundated with bouquets.

TRADE DEPRESSION.

Report of the Royal Commission on the State of British Trade.

LONDON, August 3.—The final report of the commission appointed by the Conservative Government in 1885 to enquire into the causes of the depression in trade, will announce that the commission has not found any evidence of depression as regards restriction of trading operations. The volume of British trade has increased more than commensurately with the growth of the population. Low prices and the consequent diminished profits constitute the only evidence of depression. There has been a greatly prolonged period of over-production, owing to a vast increase of wealth in the country. The commission does not believe the legislation regarding labor has injured trade, and deprecates an increase in the number of hours of labor and a diminution of wages. The report distinctly favors trades unions. The commission considers the recent failure of agricultural products the main if not the sole cause of the diminution of the home trade, which otherwise, the commission believes, would be in a satisfactory condition. The condition of the working classes, the report says, has greatly improved in the past twenty years. Competition both in the home and the foreign trade is greatly increased, especially as regards Germany, whose trade is improving, and pressing England closely at home and abroad. No fiscal alteration is suggested, and no reference is made to protection or reciprocity. The commission urges that British factors adapt their manufactures to the necessities of foreign markets, in which respect, the commission says, Germany excels.

SHOCKING AFFRAY.

Two Men Butchered at a Picnic Near Brockfield, Mo.

BROCKFIELD, Mo., August 3.—At a picnic given at the Meyer school house, on Saturday, nine miles north of this city, a terrible affray occurred, in which two men lost their lives. The farmers for miles around had gathered to spend the day in harmless amusement, and one, John Garner, took advantage of the gathering to make money, establishing a booth for the sale of beer without procuring a license. Several heads of families present called on Chauncy Hague, Constable of Grantville, to suppress the nuisance. Mr. Hague placed Garner under arrest, and putting a deputy in charge of the booth, started off the grounds with his prisoner, when Edward, a brother of John Garner, ran up with an axe and struck the constable a blow on the neck, severing the windpipe and cutting through the collar bone into the lung. Teet Fogarty, who ran to Hague's assistance, received a blow from the axe in his left side, cutting through the ribs and almost severing the body in twain. Before the horrified bystanders could regain their presence of mind, Garner darted into the woods, brandishing an axe, and, as yet, has not been captured. Should the murderer be caught he will be lynched.

GENERAL BOULANGER.

An Admission and a Denial From the French Minister of War.

PARIS, August 3.—Gen. Boulanger, while admitting that he is the author of the letters to the Duc D'Aumale, writes as follows: "When the conspiracy among the Princes compelled me to choose between my former chief and the Republic, I was faithful to the latter. If the friends of the Duc D'Aumale ever attempt to proceed from words to deeds, I shall simply but energetically do my duty against them." The Royalist papers publish fac similes of the letters of Gen. Boulanger to the Duc D'Aumale. The General explains that he repudiated them without having read them supposing that the papers referred to a spurious letter published in Brussels. He admits that he has fallen into a skillfully prepared trap, but maintains that his relations in private life ought not to prevent him as a minister from fulfilling his political duty. The Paris National and other Republican papers implore Gen. Boulanger to refrain from "further mutabling displays and deliberate untruths." It is the general opinion that Boulanger has lost prestige in the army.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

More Rumors Regarding His Approaching Visit to Canada.

OTTAWA, August 3.—The Evening Journal to-day says: "Sir Charles Tupper, who is now on his way to this country, will remain in Nova Scotia several weeks prior to visiting the capital. He will likely spend six months in Canada, and will take a leading part in organizing the Conservative party for the next general elections. It is regarded as probable that Sir Charles will re-enter the cabinet, but from a well informed source, the information is given that he has no desire of re-entering politics here just now beyond exerting his powerful hand in favor of his party in the approaching contest. Sir Charles' visit to this country fulfils his prophetic remark made on the occasion of his departure for England to assume the duties of Lord High Commissioner. His last assurances publicly made were that he would come back to Canada, if wanted, to assist his former colleagues. The report that Sir Charles has been induced to leave England on the ground that he will succeed Sir John is positively denied."

THOSE STARVATION STORIES.

An Admission From the Ottawa "Free Press"—The Paternity of the Stories.

OTTAWA, August 3.—The Free Press this afternoon has the following concerning the authority given in the newspapers which published the false reports of the wholesale deaths from starvation and ravages of bears and wolves said to have occurred at Newfoundland: "It should be stated that Mr. Andrew F. Widdel was interviewed by a Free Press reporter, which interview was published in this paper on the 24th ult. He represented himself as being an agent of a large fish house in Boston, and who, having been in St. John's, Nfld., on business, heard reports of sufferings from along the Labrador coast which he narrated. In the report of that interview this gentleman was wrongly credited with being a resident of St. John's. It now appears that the information which he furnished as being fact has more the appearance of fiction."

FISHERMEN RESCUED.

Eight Gloucestermen who Lost Their Vessels in a Fog Landed at Halifax.

HALIFAX, N. S., August 3.—Eight Gloucester fishermen who lost their vessels on the Grand Bank in a fog last month and experienced terrible sufferings from hunger, thirst and exhaustion before being picked up or reaching land, arrived here to-day from St. Pierre. Four are Nova Scotians, the other four are Norwegians. Michael Tobin and Levi Jewett, lost from the schooner "Lizzie J. Greenleaf," on July 9th, were four days and nights in an open dory without food or water, when they were taken on board by a French barque in a very exhausted condition, supplied with the necessaries of life, and again started for land, being finally taken into St. Pierre on a French Barque. Jeremiah Smith and Harvey Daley, lost from the schooner "Frederick Gearings," on the Grand Bank, on July 16th, after four days and a half intense sufferings and exposure, were taken on board a French fisherman, cared for, supplied with provisions and again started, reaching Lamaline after five days' exposure. Oliver Hausen and Lari Olsen, of the schooner "David A. Stor," lost their vessel on the 17th July, and after three days' starvation reached St. Lawrence, Newfoundland. Charles Crogan and Chris Chlansem, of the schooner "William H. Oakes" left their vessel on July 20th and three days later were taken on board the barque "Riberia," from St. John, N. B., for Ireland, whence they were on the 27th ult. transferred to the British fishing schooner "Eliza" and landed at St. Pierre. Smallpox is still prevalent at St. Pierre. They report that French vessels are loading enormous quantities of splendid quality fish at St. Pierre, which already rivals Gloucester as a great codfishing centre.

VIEWING THE LAND.

Hon. Mr. White's Tour of Inspection in the North-West.

WINNIPEG, Man., August 3.—On his return trip from British Columbia, Hon. Mr. White stopped over at Donald and examined the lands there in order to make himself thoroughly acquainted with the locality, in view of the request of the Canadian Pacific railway for additional land for a town site. He also stopped at Banff Springs in connection with the establishment of a national park there. The grounds, about 20,000 acres in extent, are being laid out by Mr. Geo. H. Stewart, C. E., who has about forty men under him. They are surveying roads and planning bridges. The land is generally picturesque, being wild and mountainous, and affording grand climbing for those who enjoy exercise. The Cascade mountains tower about 5200 feet above the valley, and the Split mountains are nearly as high. There are a great many islands in Bow river, and the whole country is one where great enjoyment may be had. Hon. Thomas White will remain in the city on business connected with the land department until Friday next.

SEEN AGAIN.

The Sea Serpent Once More Shows up, This time off Portland.

BOSTON, August 3.—A special from Portland says great excitement has been occasioned there over the appearance of a sea monster, supposed to be the same serpent that was reported off the Massachusetts coast. It was run across by a party of men who were out sailing. When first sighted the serpent was asleep, but being awakened by the appearance of the boat took fright and made off. It was about 150 feet long, three feet thick, tapering to eight inches at the neck, which was smooth and of reddish color. The head was three feet long with large black eyes. Captain Sullivan, of a coasting schooner, says he ran it down the other night while asleep, and the creature awakening made such frantic efforts to escape that the sea was lashed into a mass of foam, causing the vessel to rock violently.

DISTURBED BELFAST.

Appeal to Prevent Disorder—Another Slight Riot Quelled by the Police.

BELFAST, August 2.—The mayor of Belfast has sent a circular letter to the different magistrates of the city asking them to actively exert their influence to promote a better feeling among the people towards the police, so that there may be co-operation between the latter and the populace for the prevention of disorder and suppression of lawlessness. Crowds of men are assembled in different parts of the city, evidently bent on fighting the police. Rioting was renewed here to-day but the disturbance was slight as compared with the outbreaks of Saturday and Sunday. The police succeeded in dispersing the mob. The jury in the case of the boy who was killed in the riots has given a verdict that the boy was killed by the police, who were justified in firing on the mob.

THE SEALS OF OFFICE.

Surrendered by the Old and Accepted by the New Ministry—More Appointments.

LONDON, August 3.—The members of the Gladstone ministry surrendered their seals of office to-day to the new ministers. The members of the two ministries lunched with the Queen. Lord Salisbury will remain a guest of the Queen until to-morrow.

A Grocery on Fire.

At twenty minutes to four this morning a fire broke out in Donnelly's grocery store at the corner of Columbia and Wellington streets. The alarm was sounded from box 126, and No. 9 from Point St. Charles was soon on the spot, one stream from it being sufficient to extinguish the fire, but not before the stock and store was badly burned. The loss is covered by insurance. The Salvage waggon and Nos. 3, 10 and 12 also went to the scene, but their services were not required.

Errors of Youth.

SUFFERERS FROM
Nervous Debility, Youthful Indiscretions.
BE YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN!

Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right one. Notwithstanding the many valuable remedies that medical science has produced for the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effect a cure. During our extensive college and hospital practice we have experimented with and discovered new and concentrated remedies. The accompanying prescription is offered as a certain and speedy cure, as hundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure ingredients must be used in the preparation of this prescription.

℞—Cocain (from Erythroxylon coca) ½ drachm.
Jerubebin, ½ drachm.
Helonias Dioica, ½ drachm.
Gelsemin, 8 grains.
Ext. ignatiæ amaræ (alcoholic), 2 grains.
Ext. leptandra, 2 scruples.
Glycerine, q. s. Mix.

Make 60 pills. Take 1 pill at 3 p. m., and another on going to bed. In some cases it will be necessary for the patient to take two pills at bedtime, making the number three a day. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, and especially in those cases resulting from imprudence. The recuperative powers of this restorative are truly astonishing, and its use continued for a short time changes the languid, debilitated, nerveless condition to one of renewed life and vigor.

As we are constantly in receipt of letters of inquiry relative to this remedy, we would say to those who would prefer to obtain it of us, by remitting $1, a securely sealed package containing 60 pills, carefully compounded, will be sent by return mail from our private laboratory, or we will furnish 6 packages, which will cure most cases, for $5.

OUT OF TOWN.

Orders may be left at THE STAR office, 158 St. James street, for THE STAR to be sent to the seaside or other out-of-town addresses.

IT appears that the Labrador yarns were first published in Ottawa, and not in Ottawa despatches to New York, as we stated yesterday. We make the amende to the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company upon which we called to reveal the author of the hoax.

WITH much regret Montreal journalists will learn that a Quebec confrere has been fighting with an official of the Quebec Corporation. There is, however, a sad satisfaction in knowing that the newspaper man "licked" the official; in the chaste language of the telegraphic despatch "doing him up in short time."

THE Mount Royal Park improvements, like may other civic works, have been stopped through the refusal of the Provincial Legislature to pass the Bill to Amend the Montreal Charter. This is a piece of mischief for which the city has to thank Mr. Mercier, one of Montreal's most mischievous enemies. Should that gentleman and his friends get into office, it will be a misfortune for the province generally, but a calamity for Montreal. The Provincial milch cow drained dry by Conservative administrations will be killed for the sake of its hide by the leaders of the National Party.

MR. COLLINS, of Massachusetts, is entitled to the distinction of having made the most idiotic proposition so far with reference to the fishery question. He proposes that the United States should boycott Canadian railways and British shipping. His bill amounts to nothing less because the American Government does not recognize the Canadian Government in its treaty negotiations. The acts of which it complains are the acts of British subjects. The foreign country which, it pretends, has denied commercial privileges to American citizens, is the United Kingdom. If the vessels of that foreign country are excluded from United States ports, the bottom will be knocked out of American commerce as completely as it has been knocked out of American fish stealing in Canadian waters. Mr. Collins should call his measure "A bill to transfer trade from American to Canadian and other ports." There is a big Cleveland vote in Canada, but not even to please his Canadian admirers would the President do anything so unpatriotic as to declare that bill in force.

THE LABRADOR YARNS.

Our innocent contemporary (at least we hope it is innocent) the Ottawa Free Press confesses or professes to have been gulled by "an agent of a large fish house in Boston" about the wholesale starvation on the Labrador coast. Such fishy looking stories ought to be received with caution from unknown travellers representing large fish houses. It is astonishing how naturally the liars of this wide Dominion seem to gravitate towards Ottawa. Whether it be of Indian risings in the North-West or famine on the coast of Labrador, a sensational yarn that can be traced to Ottawa need not as a rule be traced any further. There is something demoralizing in the atmosphere of the place. A little while ago in England to brand a story as of Yankee origin was to offer to the teller an insult, that in theory, at any rate, can only be washed out in blood. Now, however, Ottawa's claim to the championship is indisputable. We believe there are some veracious people in Ottawa, but not many. For the sake of their moral health they should studiously avoid reading too many Ottawa newspapers or Ottawa telegrams to any other newspapers. And for the sake of their reputations they might date their letters from Bytown.

THE STATE OF BRITISH TRADE.

The Royal Commission appointed by the Imperial Government (Conservative) in 1885, to enquire into the causes of the depression of trade, has made its report. It will be remembered that leading Liberals refused to sit on this Commission, frankly declaring their opinion that it was a mere attempt to boom "Fair Trade" doctrines for electioneering purposes. The report, however, makes no reference to Protection or Reciprocity and suggests no alterations in the tariff. This Commission supposed to be composed of hardened "Fair Traders" reports that the volume of British trade under the existing fiscal system has increased more than commensurately with the growth of the population. Prices, and consequently profits, are low, and there has been a greatly prolonged period of over-production owing to a vast increase of wealth in the country. The Commission considers the recent failure of agricultural production the main, if not the sole cause of the diminution of the home trade. In other words, the home trade is suffering from natural, not artificial causes. The British farmers have not yet accommodated themselves to the new conditions of agriculture consequent upon American and colonial competition. At the same time that everybody is crying out that agriculture is ruined in England, dairy produce and fruit are being imported in enormous quantities; and in these things English farmers ought certainly to be able to compete on favorable terms with foreigners in the English market. Legislation may be necessary to abolish the discriminating tariffs on the English railways which make the majority of English farms practically more remote from English markets than is Manitoba. To such questions as these the Imperial Parliament may be able to devote some attention—when the Irish question is settled.

DISHONESTY AIMING AT POWER.

In supporting Mr. Stephens' attacks on the government of the province, a young Liberal asks us: "Does the alteration of name change also the character of the ministry?" referring thereby to the fact that THE STAR, which opposed and condemned previous Conservative Cabinets, is inconsistent in refusing to attack the present one in Mr. Mercier's behalf.

The alteration of one name does often greatly change the character of an organization. Of this we will give Mr. Stephens and his political friends an illustration which may appeal forcibly to them. The alteration of the name of the leader of the Liberal party in this province from Joly to Mercier, with its attendant circumstances, is the illustration to which we refer.

Perhaps we can take no better text than this as a standpoint from which to deal with the views of our Liberal critics. Let us recall the facts of Mr. Joly's resignation not only from the leadership of the Liberal party in this Province, but from the legislature itself. He was the trusted and esteemed head of a compact and energetic party. He had been in power once, and his honest and capable administration proved that he represented principle as well as party, and no man, whatever his nationality or creed, but could point with pride to Joly as a representative Canadian, or could not honorably follow where Joly chose to lead. We lay stress upon these facts, which are admitted by all, because the character of the man had everything to do with the course he took when the Riel agitation gathered strength in this province. Had he been a selfish man or a corrupt man, or insecure in the leadership of the Liberal party, or an indolent man, or even an Englishman, the course he took to protest against the utilization by the Liberal party for party ends of the death of Louis Riel would have meant little or nothing. But with the Joly which this province knew, the course which Joly took was the gravest condemnation of the Riel agitation which has yet been uttered. It meant that the foremost French Canadian Liberal in this province was forced to see in the Riel agitation a tremendous danger to the concord of the two peoples who inhabit this country.

Now, how came it about that Mr. Joly was powerless to stem the Riel tide, so that his only resource was to wash his hands of the Liberal party? How, indeed! Consult the records of the meeting on the Champ de Mars of Nov. 18, two days after Riel was hanged. Who were the leading figures there? Mr. Mercier and his lieutenants among the Provincial Liberals. They saw their opportunity to inflame popular feeling, and they jumped at it; and before Mr. Joly or the cooler men of the Liberal party in the Province had anything to say about it, Mr. Mercier had committed the party to the platform of race and revenge. What reason was there for this? Had the Government of this Province hanged Riel, or could they have prevented the hanging, or had they anything to do with it in any shape or form? Whatever the crime, if any, of the Ottawa Government, it did not implicate the Quebec Government; whatever Sir John Macdonald's blood-guiltiness, it did not affect Dr. Ross; whatever handle the Liberals might have made of Riel's death at Ottawa, they had no claim to use it here; and the use they did make of it was not only hypocritical and dishonest, but a blow at the harmony of the two races in this province; for when Mr. Mercier appealed to French Canadians to vindicate their nationality in the politics of this province, what did it mean to them — what could it mean to them — but that their nationally was in danger in the politics of this province, or in short that the English speaking people of this province were directly at enmity with them? Such is, neither more nor less, the meaning of the Riel cry as taken up and pushed by Mr. Mercier in provincial politics. And Mr. Mercier has used it for all it is worth and more too. It was not an accidental or temporary move of his, that appearance on the Champ de Mars. It was not merely to show his sympathy with his countrymen in the indignation they believed they had reason to feel against the Dominion Government. He deliberately seized the Riel cry as a lever with which to wrench this province into his own hands, at whatever cost of peace and neighborliness among us; and he has worked most earnestly and dishonestly with that lever ever since.

With all this in view, one of our critics arraigns THE STAR for "playing into the hands of the Parti National by confining the issue in the coming provincial election to the question whether Riel should or should not have been hanged." This is a disingenuous implication, and as we give our critics perfect freedom in our own columns, we deserve fairer treatment. The issue which influences us in the present politics of this province has nothing to do with Riel's hanging, and our utterances have always made this clear. The issue which influences us is whether a Dominion question with which this Province has nothing to do is to be used and infamously used to inflame race feelings here with the view of putting a particular lot of politicians into power at Quebec no matter whether they be Liberals or Conservatives. This gigantic and dangerous piece of dishonesty would be a nice prelude to a new regime! We are expected to swallow what Mr. Joly could not, and when we protest we are told that we are helping "erratic enthusiasts who are seeking to kindle the flames of race hatred in this province"

The Conservative Government of this province has for the past two years been comparatively a good one, and while it has made mistakes, its critics are obliged to go back to its predecessors to formulate any really formidable indictment against it. But we are not careful to answer the contention that the present Conservative Government should be dismissed for the dishonesty or incapacity of its predecessors when we weigh the gigantic dishonesty of the campaign which Mr. Mercier is conducting with a view to obtaining power for himself. A man or a party who will use such means to obtain power as Mr. Mercier and the Liberals are using will stick at nothing when they get it. We may have been defrauded and misgoverned in the past; Mr. Mercier's course promises much worse in the future should he now succeed. There are more kinds of bribes than money ones, and worse ways of influencing men than by treating them. Mr. Mercier is attempting to intoxicate a whole province, and in such a way that the minority in it is sure to sooner or later feel the effects.

AN AGENT'S BLUNDER.

The city of Hamilton, Ont., has about forty thousand inhabitants, and a larger number of factories in proportion to population than any Canadian city west of Montreal. It is situated in the centre of one of the finest agricultural regions in America, where peaches, grapes and other fruits requiring a warm climate grow to perfection. It is surrounded by beautiful hills and has at its feet a lovely bay, and the people of the place thought its commercial position so good some years ago and indulged in such high hopes of its future that it was dubbed "the ambitious city."

In spite of its great expectations, and although its growth has been by no means slow, Toronto, forty miles away, long ago outstripped it in population, and the people of Ontario's capital are wont to say that Hamilton is ambitious only in name. To show that the epithet was aptly applied when the Colonial Exhibition was projected the Hamilton people determined to advertise their city in England, and a descriptive pamphlet of the city and surrounding country was published at the joint expense of the city and the county of Wentworth for free distribution at the Colonial Exhibition. They refused all advertisements, and fearing that copies might be bought up for advertising purposes, copyrighted the book. The pamphlet was in every way a credit to the ambitious city, and great results were expected from it. R. M. Wanzer & Co., the sewing machine manufacturers, volunteered to have the pamphlets distributed free of cost by their London agent, and the offer was accepted with thanks. It has just been discovered that Mr. Fricar, the Wanzer agent in London, before distributing the pamphlets stamped on the covers of 25,000 copies the following:

> "With the Wanzer Sewing Machine Company's compliments, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. (Page 11.) Chief office in Europe, 4 Great Portland street, Oxford Circus, London."

At page eleven he inserted several Wanzer sewing machine advertising dodgers.

The citizens of Hamilton are justly indignant, and although Mr. Wanzer says it was purely a blunder of his London agent, which was not in any way suggested, implied or ordered by the firm, who had simply given instructions to have the pamphlets distributed regardless of expense, some of the committee think that R. M. Wanzer & Co. should be obliged to pay the whole cost of the pamphlet. No doubt the firm were guiltless of evil intention, but they have had the benefit of the advertisement through their agent's action, and even if it costs more than it is worth they should not hesitate to pay for the pamphlets. No doubt the city would have good ground for a legal action against the firm, and even if the City Council is disposed to let the matter drop it will cause much ill feeling which will be most injurious to them unless they act honorably in the matter and pay for their agent's blunder.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Chinese Diplomacy.

(From the Nineteenth Century.)

Prince Bismarck complained not long ago of the way our Foreign Office inundated him with despatches, but even the writing powers of Downing street would not be a patch upon those of Chinese statesmen. A masterly policy of inaction is there studied to perfection, and it is rare that any case is settled until reams of paper have been covered in thrashing out every detail. A Chinese despatch must be written in a certain stereotyped form, and in acknowledging a despatch you must first begin by quoting in extenso all the documents to which you are replying. This system of reproducing all the previous correspondence proves very cumbersome as the case gradually develops. Like a lady's letter, however, the pith of a Chinese communication generally lies in the postscript, and a practiced hand will grasp the meaning at a glance. The Viceroy of a Chinese province peruses some hundreds of these documents every day, and attaches a minute to each in a business-like style, which is not excelled by our best organized departments at home.

Dilke and Beecher.

(From the Chicago Herald.)

Dilke was more than an ordinary politician. He was an extensive traveller, a great student, a leader of wonderful popularity. He was a man of wealth, the son and grandson of celebrated men, the proprietor of several prosperous periodicals, and a foe of royalty and aristocracy. He had been a member of several Parliaments; he was the youngest man who ever represented a metropolitan constituency, and he had sat in two Cabinets. Had he kept his personal record clean and avoided the complications which have now brought disgrace and ruin upon him he might easily have aspired to and gained some of the most conspicuous honors. His exposure and punishment are creditable alike to the English courts and the electors of Chelsea. Similarly tempted by party zeal, it may be doubted if an American constituency would have crushed a popular idol with such promptness.

The case of Mr. Beecher will forever estop the people of this country from criticizing the leniency of their neighbors. Dilke has been condemned on the testimony of others, damning in its character, it is true, but unsupported by any admission of his own. Beecher was convicted not only by the evidence of others, but by his own confessions, and went free. He became more popular than before, remained in the pulpit at increased salary, drew larger congregations, and was more than ever held up as a pattern for mankind. In the words of his friends, "he lived down the scandal," while the men and women who were his victims found that the scandal lived them down.

August.

The corn is standing in golden rows,
The gardens are rich in things to eat;
Melons are ripe, and each man knows
Abundance is spreading at his feet,
Luscious and mellow and passing sweet.
The sky above us is still most blue,
And the sun glares down the livelong day;
But work all done and labor through,
We well can sleep the night away;
For breezes rise at set of sun,
To cool the earth and revive the flowers;
As the evening veil above is hung,
We watch the stars from this world of ours,
And smile at the pleasant August hours.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

ONTARIO.

The Mayor of Toronto has issued a proclamation appointing August 16 as the annual civic holiday.

Mr. J. W. Johnson, F. C. A., Principal of Ontario Business College, Belleville, has just returned from a visit to Bermuda in the interest of the college, which is largely patronized by Bermudians. Several students accompanied him to Belleville.

The Lower Town representatives, who unsuccessfully opposed the motion passed by the Ottawa City Council authorizing the Mayor to memorialize the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for the annexation of New Edinburgh, now propose, it is said, sending a deputation to Toronto to endeavor to persuade the local Government to refuse the petition of the memorial.

Citizens of Toronto are very backward in subscribing towards the Knights of Pythias deficit in connection with the recent demonstration. The total subscriptions received up to date only amount to $737. There is a deficit of about $4000, and Dr. King, supreme prelate, has made a public appeal for aid, looking to the general benefit derived from the visit of so many thousands of strangers.

Frank Brierton, butcher on Queen street West, Toronto, and a friend, on Monday night ate a portion of a dish of blackberries. They were immediately seized with violent pains in the stomach. Medical aid was summoned and emetics promptly administered. For some hours it was doubtful if they could recover, but Tuesday morning, though very weak, they were pronounced out of danger. The medical attendant states that the symptoms were those of Paris green poisoning, and it is supposed that a solution of this powder had been poured on the berries when on the bushes to act as insect destroyer, and had not been washed off before presentation at table.

QUEBEC.

The grocers of Quebec are agitating the early hour closing question.

An inquest will be held on the body of a young lad, a passenger on the schooner "Fleetwing," who was accidentally drowned at Quebec on Tuesday.

The Bar of Quebec has passed resolutions of sympathy with the bereaved family of the late Mr. G. H. Larue. The funeral took place at Quebec Tuesday morning and was largely attended.

A fight of a very scientific nature was indulged in at Quebec Monday evening by a certain newspaper man and an official of the corporation. The newspaper man got the best of the official, doing him up in a short time.

The body of Mr. L. H. Tibbitts, drowned in the river a mile below Lawrenceville on Tuesday last, was recovered on Thursday and taken to Brome Corner to be buried in the family burying ground. Mr. Tibbitts was a middle aged man of generous disposition, and was well liked by the entire community. The state of his crops testifies to his ability as a farmer, being the best in the vicinity. This is the saddest accident ever chronicled from Lawrenceville.

Stanstead Plain.

The funeral of Thomas W. Wyman, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Stanstead, took place on Sunday last, and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Chambers, at the Methodist Church, which was very tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. The music was ably rendered by a selected quartette consisting of Mr. H. E. Foster, Miss Mary Fuller, Mr. H. A. Channell and Dr. R. M. Canfield, Miss Jessie Colby officiating at the organ. The Mayor and Council attended in a body, to testify the respect due, not only to one of their oldest townsmen, but also to a councillor who had so efficiently and for many years assisted them in their deliberations. Mr. Wyman came here in 1840 a comparatively poor man, but by dint of energy and perseverance in his business as a jeweller he accumulated sufficient wealth to rank him with the richest inhabitants. His death took place on Thursday, the 29th July, at Newport, Vt., where he stopped on his way home from St. Leon Springs.

Sherbrooke.

The foundation of the Paton Manufacturing Company's new store house has been laid and the brick work well under way.

Visitors to Forepaugh's Circus and Menagerie, which will exhibit here on the 5th inst., are cautioned against pickpockets and confidence men.

Tenders are asked for to construct the new Methodist church at the corner of Court and Bank streets. Plans and specifications are in the hands of Dr. Dowlin.

Messrs. Gordon & Loomis have nearly completed the brick work of the new hospital on Belvidere street, and are about commencing the new building in connection with the Smith Elkins Manufacturing Company's works.

Messrs. Bowen and Coté have returned from their fishing trip to the boundary line ponds and Moose River on the International Railway extension. They had excellent sport, and report large game as being very plentiful, particularly cariboo and deer. The work of laying the rails as far as "the gulf," on Moose River, will be commenced and completed immediately. This will complete 27 miles of railway east of Lake Megantic.

The heavy rain of Thursday evening lodged a quantity of grain, but a few days fine weather will bring a good deal of it back to a nearly upright position. Heavily laden apple trees suffered some damage. The lightning was very bright and almost continuous, but being principally sheet lightning did not produce the usual thundering after clap accompaniment. The rain of the Tuesday before effected a rise of over two feet in the St. Francis River the same day.

The new exhibition building is boarded in and looks very well from the opposite of the river. From its elevated position it can be seen from nearly every part of the city. The streets between the exhibition grounds and the St. Francis are being put in thorough repair, and new sidewalks have been laid on Bridge street. The want of a sidewalk on the outside of the Aylmer bridge to balance the one on the south side will lead to a Broadway block between pedestrians going in opposite directions during exhibition week. Perhaps, however, the majority will manage to make their trips to and from the grounds about the same time.

THE CHAMBLY ELECTION.

Declaration of the Result Postponed Until Monday—The St. Lambert Box Opened—What it Contained.

In his proclamation for the Chambly election, Mr. Hurteau, the returning officer, appointed yesterday afternoon at three o'clock the time at which he would open the ballot boxes, sum up the vote cast for the two candidates and declare the result. Owing to the St. Lambert incident a good deal of interest was taken in the proceedings which took place at the hour mentioned at the registry office of the county of Chambly at Longueuil, the returning officer's headquarters. Many politicians who had gone over from the city to be present at the official count were disappointed in not being admitted to the room, as Mr. Hurteau declared that only the candidates or their representatives could be present. Mr. Jodoin attended in person, but Mr. Prefontaine, who was present at the registry office, chose to be represented by Mr. C. A. Geoffrion, Q. C. These gentlemen were closeted with Mr. Hurteau for over two hours, and a warm discussion is said to have ensued as to whether the ballots cast at St. Lambert could be admitted or not. Finally the meeting broke up, the returning officer having made up his mind to adjourn until Monday at three o'clock. To a STAR reporter Mr. Hurteau stated that he was bound to strictly follow the law, and consequently he would require a sworn statement from Mr. Renaud, the deputy returning officer at St. Lambert, before accepting the ballots cast there. He had adjourned for this purpose. At the suggestion of Mr. Geoffrion, the box (which was not sealed) had been opened to take an inventory of the number of ballots. He said 68 of these had been found pell-mell in the box, but he would not say how many of these had been cast for Mr. Jodoin or Mr. Prefontaine. He referred the reporter for information on this point to Mr. Viger, Mr. Prefontaine's agent, who had counted the votes. Mr. Hurteau concluded by stating that if Mr. Renaud stated on oath that the ballots in the box were exact they would be accepted and counted together with the rest. From Mr. Prefontaine and Mr. Geoffrion it was learned that the St. Lambert box contained 68 ballots, 40 of which had been cast for Mr. Jodoin and 28 for Mr. Prefontaine, giving the former a majority of 12.

It is claimed, however, that two of these ballots are illegal, and that each candidate will lose one. One ballot which had been marked for Mr. Jodoin had the following inscription on it in French: "I vote for Mr. Jodoin, Noel Marcille," and on the other ballot Mr. Prefontaine's name was struck out altogether and a cross placed at the end.

It seems decided that Mr. Prefontaine will not ask for a recount before the courts until after the result is declared, and then it is possible that he will declare himself satisfied without any recount at all.

By present appearances Mr. Prefontaine has an apparent majority of 86 in the whole county.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Cricket.

THE CANADIAN INTERNATIONAL TEAM.

The annual international cricket match between Canada and the United States, to be played in New York next week, is likely to prove of more than usual interest. The United States cricketers are anxious to reverse the results of the matches of 1884 and 1885, both of which were easily won by the Canadian teams. On the other hand, the Canadian team, which has usually consisted entirely of Ontario and Quebec men, will this year include a couple of Halifax players, nominated by the Halifax Club at the special request of the Canadian Cricket Association. The full Canadian team has been selected and is as follows: W. W. Vickers, W. W. Jones, M. Boyd and D. W. Saunders, all of Toronto; A. Gillespie and R. B. Ferrie, of Hamilton; F. Harley, of Guelph; B. T. A. Bell, of Montreal; W. C. Little, of Ottawa, and L. J. Fuller and W. A. Henry, of Halifax.

Notes.

"Ben Ali" won the second race at Saratoga, in a canter.

"Lady Gibney," the celebrated trotting mare, died at Hartford, Conn., last week.

A match is being arranged between Hanlan and Courtney, to be rowed at Rockaway Beach, for $500 to $1000 a side.

H. W. Staples, of Newark, N. J., has challenged Mr. Graham, the champion wing shot of England, to a match for $500 or $1000 a side.

Gaudaur and Hamm sail for England on Thursday. A match has been arranged between Gaudaur and Beach for $5000, to be rowed on September 18.

THE IRISH VICEROY.

The "Times" on Lord Aberdeen's Departure—Preparations for the Reception of Lord Londonderry — Mr. Balfour on Irish Affairs.

LONDON, August 4.—The Times, alluding to the demonstration in Dublin yesterday upon the departure of the Earl of Aberdeen, says: "It would be absurd to attempt to draw any conclusions for a spectacle which, though not without its pleasing features, chiefly illustrates the instability and sincerity of the Celtic character. All the scenic apparatus is ready to show Ireland's heart-hatred of England, when it suits the stage managers to change the performance."

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach and the Marquis of Londonderry will start for Dublin to-morrow.

The Standard says: "The state entry of the new Lord-Lieutenant will doubtless be a brilliant affair, but after the wild enthusiasm of yesterday any ordinary pageant will appear tame. It was a demonstration in favor of Home Rule, which Mr. Gladstone, at the proper time, will doubtless make the most of. Lord Londonderry and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach must be content to forego the approbation which is to be obtained at so perilous a price."

Much importance is attached to Mr. Balfour's address to his constituents, as reflecting the views of Lord Salisbury. Mr. Balfour says: "The decisive verdict of the country on the Irish policy of Mr. Gladstone makes it clear that a majority of the people are decidedly opposed to any loosening of the bonds knitting the United Kingdom. In spite of the additional difficulties with which Mr. Gladstone's recent action has loaded an already difficult problem, the Government will pursue a policy just to every interest of Ireland and generous to every legitimate Irish aspiration. The Government will be firm in the execution of the law, while striving to remove the chief evils under which Ireland suffers."

DRIVEN FROM CHURCH.

Bees Drive Pastor and People Out of Church—Immense Find of Honey.

OAKLAND, Ill., August 2.—The Christian Church at Harmony, near this place, has been inhabited by bees for a number of years. The bees took up their abode in the wall behind the pulpit. The pastor of the church has been annoyed by them, and they finally got so bad that they drove the pastor, people, and all out of the church and had undisputed possession. To-day a crowd collected and ripped the siding off from the foundation to the roof, where they thought the bees were located. After getting the siding off the men found that the bees had deposited their honey in the wall between the studding, which were two inches wide and six inches apart, that space being completely filled with honey to a height of sixteen feet. The honey was carried away in washtubs and pails, and divided among the neighbors.

A SPLIT IN THE RANKS.

Divided Opinions Regarding the Coming Irish Convention in Chicago.

NEW YORK, August 4.—At a meeting of the municipal Council of the Irish National League, last night, President Egan's letter warning the Council against interfering in the reception of the Irish delegates was hissed. A resolution was adopted to the effect that all societies that had furnished financial aid to the Irish cause should be recognized at the National Convention in Chicago, making the Convention one of Irish societies and not one of the National League.

SNOW IN AUGUST.

OTTAWA, August 3.—The weather here since last evening has been remarkably cool. Flakes of snow are reported to have fallen in several parts of the city.

ROME, N. Y., August 3.—Snow fell here early this morning for about five minutes. The weather is extremely cold.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN DEAD.

(SPECIAL TO THE STAR.)

TORONTO, August 4.—A telegram from New York says: "Samuel J. Tilden died at 8.45 this morning.

POOR ZAIRA GATTINI.

The Sad Experience and Cruel Fate of a Favorite Italian Prima Donna.

LONDON, August 2.—A tragic story is told by the Cologne Gazette of the sad experience and cruel fate of the favorite Italian prima donna, Zaira Gattini. A short time ago, Zaira, her mother and two brothers went to Barcelona, where the prima donna was to fulfil an engagement. While there the mother became ill. Physicians were called, but the patient steadily grew worse. Zaira attended at the bedside of her mother during the day and regularly appeared at the theatre each night, leaving her brothers to watch over the sick woman.

One night while Zaira was absent at the theatre the physicians informed her brothers that their mother was in a hopeless condition and could live but a few hours at the most. The elder of the brothers, crazed by grief at this announcement, seized a pistol and shot himself dead in the presence of his mother, who expired almost immediately afterward. The younger brother hastened to the theatre to inform his sister. He was admitted, and met her just as she was leaving the stage, burdened with flowers, and her ears ringing with the applause of the audience. In a few words he told her what had happened, when, with a scream that was heard all over the house, she ran to a window and attempted to throw herself to the ground. She was restrained by friends, who, attracted by her cries, rushed toward her, and was immediately conveyed to her apartments. When her paroxysm of grief had subsided it was found that the shock had deprived her of her reason, permanently, the physicians feared, and she is now confined in an asylum.

MURDER OF A CLERGYMAN.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, August 4.—Rev. G. Chadock, pastor of the Methodist Church here, and who has been the leader in the prosecution of the saloon cases, was shot and instantly killed last evening on the street. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the dastardly crime, but there seems to be no doubt that it grew out of the war lately inaugurated on the saloons. Great excitement prevails.

SOUTH LONDONDERRY ELECTION.

LONDON, August 4.—Judge Monroe has granted Mr. Healy's petition for a scrutiny of the ballot papers cast in the South Londonderry election, which resulted in Mr. Healy's defeat.

G. M. D.

Walking down Broadway is very pleasant when you feel well, and T—— K—— never felt better than when his friend asked him how he got over that severe cough of his so speedily. "Ah, my boy," said T——, "G. M. D. did it:" and his friend wondered what G.M.D. meant. He knew it did not mean a Good Many Doctors, for T——K——had tried a dozen in vain. "I have it," said he, just hitting the nail on the head, "you mean Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery,' or Gold Medal Deserved, as my friend J——S——always dubs it." Sold by druggists.

The stud of the Empress of Austria is to be brought to the hammer to Her Majesty's great regret. She obeys the doctor's orders by riding no more.

Nose Eaten Off.

Mr. G. H., of Ottawa, a shoemaker by trade, had catarrh so bad, and neglected it so long, that his nose was entirely eaten away. He had been aware of an offensive ulceration for more than a year, but had no idea it would result so seriously till the delicate bones became involved in the destructive process, and after that the progress of the disease was so rapid that the whole nose was destroyed in less than three months. His home doctor told him that nothing could be done to stop the ravages of the dreadful disease, but he came to us, and, after a long and careful course of treatment, was cured. If he had applied in time his nose would have been saved. This disease caused him a great deal of annoyance, and he had spent several hundred dollars for treatment and various patent remedies, but constantly grew worse rather than better. He came to us in July, 1885, and after taking our remedies one month declared they had done him more good than all the medicine he had taken before. After continuing the treatment three months longer he was entirely cured.

Vieuxtemps, born in 1820, when 2 years of age, passed whole hours striking the strings of a bow of the cords of a little instrument. At the age of 4½ years he began to decipher music.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25 cents a bottle.

Mendelssohn Bartholdy, born in 1809, at 8 years of age was able to read every kind of music at sight, and to write the harmony upon a bass correctly.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

Sax, born in 1814, when only 12 years old, would make very fine clarionets and flutes.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Liszt, born in 1811, at 9 years of age improvised in public in such a manner as to excite the greatest astonishment.

Pope & Bitleau, druggists, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, writes: We have never sold any medicine that gives such satisfaction to the consumer and pleasure to the seller as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. We can refer you to numbers that have used it for diphtheria with entire satisfaction and success.

Thalberg, born in 1812, was only 15 years old when he began to attract attention in the world of music.

There are cheap panaceas for various human ailments continually cropping up. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure has no affinity with any of these. Unlike them, the article is derived from the purest sources, is prepared with the utmost chemical skill, and is a genuine remedy and not a palliative for Billiousness, Constipation, Kidney troubles, impurity of the blood, and female complaints.

Special Notice.

Too Much of a Good Thing Don't Suit the French.

The recent manifesto of Prince Napoleon recalls a mot by the late Emile de Girardin.

"What would you do if I should become emperor?" asked the Prince of Emile, who was a violent Orleanist.

"Monsignor, I should retire to Belgium and remain there during your entire reign."

"During my entire reign? You can't mean it."

"Oh, don't give yourself any uneasiness, monsignor, I shouldn't have to stay there long!"

An Artless Remark.

Little boy (to very stout lady visitor) Wasn't you single before you married Mr. Slimley?

Stout lady—Yes, my dear.

Little boy (perplexed)—Oh, then when you married Mr. Slimley you became double, didn't you?

Stout lady—Oh, no, my dear; we became one, as they say.

Little boy (conclusively)—Oh, then you're the one, ain't you?—Harper's Bazar.

POIRIER'S ADVERTISEMENT.

CAUTION—BALDWIN FINGERINGS.

Ladies, be aware of certain merchants selling inferior quality Fingerings for Baldwin's, pretending to sell them cheaper than others, when in fact they are only a cheap Fingering which is dear at the price asked for, comparing with the real Baldwin. The Baldwin & Walker Fingering is another substitute for Baldwin and is a cheaper quality of wool. The real Baldwin Fingering has a ticket attached to every quarter of a pound, with A BEE HIVE ON IT AND THE LETTERS B.B. on one side and J. AND J. BALDWIN BEE HIVE FINGERING on the other, and ladies ought to refuse any Fingerings without that ticket on, as all others are imitations. It would also be good to remember that every quarter of a pound should contain four Skeins as they are sometimes sold three skeins to the quarter. This certainly does not speak in favor of Dry Goods merchants, but there are such unscrupulous ones in the trade, and for the sake of honest dealers, ought to be pointed out to the Public.

I keep the real Baldwin Fingering in stock and sell it at a price consistent with quality and weight.

ROCHEFORT SUPPORTS BOULANGER.

Almost Alone in Finding Excuses for the French Minister of War.

PARIS, August 4.—M. Rochefort is almost alone in finding excuses for General Boulanger, who is being told on all sides that he is not worthy to hold the portfolio of War Minister.

[The history of the dispute can be told in a few words. It will be remembered that during the discussion in the Chamber of Deputies on the expulsion of the Princes, Gen. Boulanger, Minister of War, was taken to task by the Duc de la Rochefoucauld-Bisaccia, who exclaimed: "It was the Duc d'Aumale who made you a General," to which M. Boulanger replied: "I was named a General when Gen. Wolff commanded the corps d'armee, and when Gen. Farre was Minister of War. I do not suppose that the Duc d'Aumale had anything to do with my nomination." Now comes M. Limbourg, the Duc d'Aumale's confidential man, and gives to the public a letter dated 1880 having the signature of Col. Boulanger and addressed "to Monseigneur the Duc d'Aumale." In that letter Col Boulanger expresses himself thus: "Monseigneur, it is to you that I owe my nomination to the grade of General. Blessed shall be that day which shall recall me under your orders." Gen. Boulanger immediately caused a denial to be made in the Republican journals, particularly in Le Temps and La France, of M. Limbourg's assertion. He reiterated this denial in an interview with an editor of the Voltaire. M. Limbourg has persistently affirmed the authenticity of the letter in dispute, and he has caused to be published two letters, similar in tone, addressed by Gen. Boulanger, to the Duc d'Aumale. To back up his story M. Limbourg has produced the originals, which have been reproduced and published in fac simile by the Royalist journals. This publication has created a great sensation, not only in the press, but among the public. This evening the Havas agency publishes a note of official origin bearing on this singular affair. In this note an old letter, attributed to Col. Boulanger by the Journal de Bruxelles, is called "a ridiculous invention." The authenticity of the letters published by M. Limbourg is admitted, but the note declares that these letters contain only the commonplace formulas of courtesy.]

THEATRICAL MANAGER DEAD.

NEW YORK, August 4.—Henry C. Jarratt, the well known theatrical manager, died at Buenos Ayres on Monday of consumption.

ROYAL YACHT CLUB REGATTA.

The Race for the Queen's Cup — The "Genesta" Comes in First, but is Beaten on Time Allowance.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

SOUTHAMPTON, August 4.—Yesterday was the first day of the Royal Yacht Squadron Regatta. The Prince of Wales, the Princess of Wales and their daughters, visited the squadron. The race was for Her Majesty's Cup, valued at $500. The Duke of Rutland's yacht, "Lufra," the Prince of Wales' "Aline," Lord Revelstoke's "Water Witch," Mr. Mulholland's "Egeria," Lord F. Cecil's "Sleuthhound," and Sir Richard Sutton's "Genesta" were among the entries. The course was from Cowes to the Yarmouth flag boat and return. The race ended in almost a drift. The "Genesta" and "Sleuthhound" just saved their time. All the others were disgusted, some hauling down their racing colors. The "Genesta" finished first, but on time allowance was beaten by the "Sleuthhound" by five minutes fifteen seconds.

THE FISHING QUESTION.

An Ingenious and Novel Mode of Settling the Problem.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

HALIFAX, N.S., August 4. — The Herald publishes a long letter, signed "Piscator," outlining an ingenious and novel solution of the fishery problem. Its chief points are that both Canada and the United States should be equally interested in protecting both the deep sea and inshore fisheries and handing them down to future generations for the food supply of centuries. The Americans must cease their fish-destroying practices, and unite with the Canadians infostering the fisheries, every fishing vessel being a portion of the marine police. The whole of the fishing grounds should be thrown open to both nations, and the fish markets of each nation should be free to both, with some additional advantages to Canada. All minor questions should be decided by a permanent international fishery commission.

THE DECLINE IN SILVER

Likely to Have a Serious Effect in the Mining Districts of Montana.

BUTTE, Mont., August 4.—Grave alarm exists throughout the mining districts of Montana over the rapid decline of silver. It is estimated that 50,000 people in the territory are dependent on the mining industry and cognate enterprises. The recent depreciation of ten cents per ounce in silver represents the profits of the mining companies, which will have to close down unless a reaction occurs. The lead and copper mines, in which silver is an important bi-product, are also seriously affected. The Glendale works, employing 1000 men, will shut down on the 15th inst. The Alice Moulton, Lexington and Wickes works and many other great enterprises, which for years have paid heavy dividends and employ thousands of men, cannot run if the present depression in the silver market continues. A general paralysis of business will follow.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., August 4.—The Tombstone Mill Mining Company yesterday discharged fifty men, and will close down entirely on the 15th, owing to the low price of silver.

THE HEIDELBERG FESTIVITIES.

Notable Address by the Crown Prince Frederick William.

HEIDELBERG, August 3.—The Crown Prince Frederick William opened the celebration last night. In his address to the assemblage of present and former members of the great institution, the Prince congratulated them upon their possession of a share in the glorious record of Heidelberg. The University had, he said, maintained through many vicissitudes the foremost position in securing religious liberty and the right of scientific enquiry, which Heidelberg possessed to-night together with every quarter of the world. The University had also led in the work of fostering faith in the principles of national unity, which was at present Germany's safeguard and strength. "Now that this unity has been regained," continued the Prince, "the maintenance of the ancient virtues of our race calls for the exercise of greater prudence, self-denial, and spiritual discipline, in order to promote the happy development of the liberal spirit of the national life of the German people." The address of the Crown Prince was received with great enthusiasm.

THE YACHT "CYGNET.

Alarming Statement Concerning the Safety of the Vessel.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

KINGSTON, Ont., August 4.—The alarming statement was made yesterday that the yacht "Cygnet," having on board many prominent Torontonians, had been dismasted en route to Oswego and was tossing about in the trough of the sea. A tug was immediately sent out, but could find no trace of the boat. Later, however, the captain of the schooner "Eccles" reported here that in coming across he met a dismasted fishing boat rolling about, and made endeavors to pick the craft up, but the man on the boat, contentedly smoking, remarked: "You needn't trouble yourself, I'll fetch up somewhere." The yacht "Cygnet" is supposed to be in Oswego or at McDonald's cove.

TWO ROGUES IN HIDING.

The Offer of the Defaulting Treasurer of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Co.

PHILADELPHIA, August 4.—The Times says: Jas. A. Wilson, the defaulting secretary and treasurer of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company, who helped to steal over $600,000 from the company by the fraudulent issue of bonds, is in hiding in New York city. So is his cousin and predecessor in the office, Henry V. Lesly, who also robbed the company in the same manner. The directors of the company yesterday received a communication from Wilson, offering to surrender himself and Lesly provided all prosecution against him is withdrawn. The offer did not ask immunity for Lesly, and the inference is that Wilson means to turn State's evidence against Lesly.

CROWDING OUT THE KNIGHTS.

A Massachusetts Town Thrown into a Ferment by the Action of a Large Firm.

WORCESTER, Mass., August 3.—The town of Athol, Mass., was thrown into a ferment yesterday morning by the following notice, which was posted in the shops of the shoe manufacturing firm of the Lees, employing 500 hands:—

Notice is hereby given to our workmen that our shops will continue to run until August 14. At the close of business on that day our shops will close until Monday, August 30. All workmen in our employ will then be required to sign a certificate to the effect that they do not belong to and will not join any labor organization during the time they are in our employ. The rule requiring two weeks' notice to discontinue work for us is waived until August 30, and any who wish to leave previous to that date will be paid in full on demand.

HENRY DIXEY INCENSED.

The American Actor Threatens Heavy Libel Suits Against New York Papers.

NEW YORK, August 4.—A London despatch says: "Henry Dixey is much incensed at the treatment he has received at the hands of some American newspapers, and asserts that he will bring two or three libel suits. In fact he cabled yesterday to ex-Judge Dittenhofer to bring a suit for $25,000 damages against a New York paper for publishing a paragraph to the effect that his business here was so bad that the members of his company were finding their way back to New York as best they could with their salaries long unpaid. Dixey says he is doing a better business at the Gaiety than he was at the Bijou last year, and he thinks of asking for an extension of his engagement."

THE CHOLERA.

ROME, August 4.—The Cholera reports for yesterday are: Bologna, 13 new cases, and 7 deaths; Cucia, 22 new cases and 8 deaths; Citalella, 10 new cases and 8 deaths; Castelfranco; 28 new cases and 1 death; Ravenna, 23 new cases and 9 deaths; other places, 62 new cases, and 15 deaths.

THE NEW ALLIANCE.

Ald. Prefontaine Explains His Triumph in Chambly—The Riel Question and General Discontent With Sir John Did it—The New Member Defines the Position He Will Take in The House.

Ald. Raymond Prefontaine, who carried Chambly county against the Ministerial candidate, Mr. Jodoin, continues to be the recipient of congratulations from the united oppositionists. To ascertain exactly to what Mr. Prefontaine attributed his victory a STAR reporter called upon him at his office this morning, when the following statement was obtained:

"I attribute my victory in Chambly," said Mr. Prefontaine, "to the fact that the Liberals and Independent and Nationalist Conservatives were united in a general feeling of discontent against Sir John, not only because of the Riel affair, but also because he has sought to deprive the provinces of their rights in the License question, the Franchise Bill and other matters."

"Did any of the clergy interfere in your election?"

"None of the clergy interfered in such a way as to induce men to vote one way or the other. Some of the clergy, however, expressed their opinions on the facts of the case. Among those who are known to have been opposed to the Ministerial candidate were the Rev. Mr. Tassé, curé of Longueuil, the vicaire of Boucherville and the Rev. Mr. Pyette, a retired priest, residing at Boucherville. Senator De Boucherville, although he was not a personal friend of mine, did not use his influence against us."

BECAUSE OF THE RIEL QUESTION

"What do you think of the English vote in the late contest?"

"With very few exceptions every English Liberal who voted cast his ballot in my favor. When I was the Liberal candidate in the former contests in the county either as a supporter of Mr. Joly or as an Oppositionist at Quebec, I received the English Conservative and Liberal vote. In a Dominion contest, of course, I could not very well expect to receive the English Conservatives who naturally stood by the Ministerial candidate."

"What do you think of St. Lambert?"

"I am not at all dissatisfied with the voting in St. Lambert. Though everything was used to excite prejudice against me I came out very well. I had to undergo 'une lutte de corsaires.'"

"How will matters go in the contest for the Legislature?"

"Dr. Martel is defeated before hand. In fact, it was reported to me yesterday, that he

DID NOT INTEND RUNNING

at all. Our candidate, who will be a Nationalist, will be selected shortly at a convention held for that purpose."

"What position do you intend taking in the House?"

"That of a staunch Nationalist. I will oppose Sir John all along the line. When he has been overthrown, of course, we will decide as to who will compose the new Cabinet. But you can rest assured that the Hon. Edward Blake will be the chief. The Nationalists and Independent Conservatives are willing to accept him as such."

"Do you believe the new alliance will be lasting?"

"I believe so, as long as the principles of the different fractions composing it are respected by the allies. Of course that greatly depends upon the events."

"Will you have the

SAME COMBINATION

to fight the Quebec Government as you had in the Federal contest?"

"Yes, I believe so."

"Had the Laval matter any effect in the election?"

"Not at all; that is all bosh, it was not a factor at all. The fact of the matter is that Chapleau has lost all his prestige and has made blunders unworthy of a statement. Take his St. Lambert speech for example. There he appealed to the English electors, Liberals and Conservatives, while at Boucherville and elsewhere in the county his supporters sought to make capital against me because I had supported the course adopted by Mayor Beaugrand during the epidemic. Corruption on the most extensive scale was carried on by our opponents. Some men were given as much as $25 to vote, and we know of a $5 horse having been purchased for $100 for the purpose of influencing the seller. Chapleau's influence at Ottawa has greatly decreased, and in the late contest he conducted himself in a most unworthy manner. He spent the night preceding the election in a saloon in Chambly in his shirt sleeves canvassing the electors. He spent election day riding up and down the Lachine Canal in a charette bringing up he could find to the poll."

EVERY WORKING MAN

"How do you explain that the election was brought on at the time it was?"

"Because, if they had waited until the new lists had been prepared I would have been stronger by at least 250. At Chambly fifty men were employed to work on the dredges and paid their salary a week in advance. It is a remarkable fact that in every parish in the county where the people are well-to-do farmers, above purchase, I gained ground."

"How do you like the Government's general policy?"

"Well, I do not agree with Sir Richard Cartwright in every particular. I am a protectionist, and would uphold the present fiscal policy with some alterations. For example, like the Hon. Peter Mitchell, I believe in removing the duties on the necessaries of life."

"How will the Chambly result affect the other provinces?"

"Favorably, I believe. It will show that Sir John's power is broken in Quebec, and that the province is decided to have a change in the administration. Ontario will not stand by Sir John because Quebec is against him."

THE LAST SAD RITES.

The Obsequies of the Late Rev. Abbe Picard.

Notre Dame was filled with the faithful this morning, the occasion being the obsequies of the late Rev. Abbé Picard, who for his good works had been surnamed "The St. Vincent de Paul of Montreal." The congregation comprised representatives of all the Roman Catholic religious orders in the city. The remains of the deceased were placed on a catafalque erected in the centre of the main aisle, and could be seen from all parts of the sacred edifice. The body was vested in priestly vestments with the biretta on the head and in the hands was a golden crucifix. Around the remains were a number of lighted tapers. The altar was draped in mourning. The sanctuary was filled with the clergy, several of whom were from the dioceses of Three Rivers and St. Hyacinthe. The levee du corps was made by the Superior of the Sulpicians, the Rev. Abbé Colin, assisted by Rev. Abbé Sentenne, curé of Notre Dame, and Rev. Abbé Brissette curé of St. Timothee. The pall bearers who removed the body from the Seminary when it was exposed, to the church were the Rev. Abbés Toupin, Daniel, Campeau, Desmazures, Chevrier and Deguire. The absonte was chanted by His Grace Archbishop Fabre, who was assisted by Rev. Mr. Marechal, V. G., and Rev. F. Aubry, curé of St. Johns. Rev. J. B. Larue officiated at the solemn Requiem Mass which was chanted, attended by Rev. Abbés Gibaud and Larue as deacon and sub-deacon. After the libera the remains were removed to the Grand Seminary on Sherbrooke street and interred.

A Brute Still at Large.

The authorities are still searching for Brunet, who, it is alleged, outraged the little daughter of Mrs. St. Amour, near the eastern abattoir, upwards of six weeks ago. Last Saturday Detective Gladu received a letter from a gentleman living near Ste. Marguerite, giving information about a man supposed to be the notorious character, who has, so far, avoided the police. Accompanied by sub-Constable Lessard, the detective went thither on Monday. A person was found answering Brunet's description in build and in dress, yet he was not the right party.

The Assault on Policemen.

When the case of Mason, charged with having committed an assault on policemen Millord and Dobie came up before the Recorder to-day, Mr. G. F. Cooke appeared for the prisoner. It was adjourned until Friday.

Yesterday evening, Denis Tracey, charged with being an accomplice in the assault, was arrested. At two a. m. to-day Mr. Jas. McShane, M. P. P., was called upon to bail Mr. Tracey out and readily did so.

PROVINCIAL POLITICS.

An Independent Liberal's View—Answer to Mr. Turner's Letter of Yesterday.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—The readers of THE STAR who have followed its course lately on the Riel matter must have been considerably surprised, not to say amused, at the effort made by a gentleman in your edition of last evening to turn the edge of your spirited action. Mr. Turner's pretensions might be all very well if the administration of recent Conservative ministries in this Province was the real live issue before the electors. But unfortunately it is not so. It is Riel or no Riel, and endeavor to palliate it as he may, Mr. Turner cannot venture to dispute such a self-evident fact. The issue is a clear one and one on which the electors should have no hesitation in deciding. The Dominion Government hanged Louis Riel, justly or unjustly as it may have been and the so-called National party sprang into existence with the avowed intention of revenging this act on the Dominion Government. Had it confined itself to the arena of Dominion politics the issue might have been a matter for discussion. But no! the Mercier-McShane-Prefontaine combination, believing that it would be a favorable cry with which to catch the ignorant and unwary, introduced into provincial politics, an entirely foreign subject, and are now seeking to punish the Provincial Government for an act for which the Dominion Government is alone responsible. Does this show manly principle? Does it not rather clearly show to what length the Mercier clique are prepared to go if only they can get into office? Would Mr. Joly have adopted or countenanced such tactics? Every honest Liberal knows that he would not. The best evidence of it is the fact that he withdrew from the party and would have nothing to do with it. Mr. Turner may belittle what he is pleased to call the "vaporings" of these men, but this is no argument. It has been too long the fashion to belittle such evil tendencies, and to allow them to grow until they become dangerous. The so-called National party with such mottoes as "en bas l'anglais" is a menace to the country, its peace and prosperity. What raison d'etre is there for the existence of a district French Canadian National party in this province? Have not the French Canadians, generous, noble and sensible as the mass of them are, always lived peaceably and prosperously with their brethren, the English, and would not this always continue if it was not for the "vaporings" of demagogue schemers and wire pullers whose highest ambition seems to be to get their party into power regardless of principle?

What we want in this country is neither an English, French, Irish nor Dutch party; all such sectional combinations must be a standing menace to the welfare of the whole and should be promptly frowned down. By all means let us have a National party but let it be one with "Canada" as its watchward, and its aim not the stirring up of race prejudice and hatred but the union and solidification of all classes in the Dominion. By this means only can Canada ever hope to become great. Does it not, therefore, behove every one, young or old, who loves his country, without distinction of party, race or creed, to unite at this critical moment, and by their voice and work help to bring about a result that will show this so-called National party in no uncertain way that its existence is not necessary, and that the sooner we are rid of it the better it will be for the whole country? THE STAR, in its article of Saturday, struck the true note, and has acted in this matter in a manner which deserves the praise of all patriotic and thinking men, who consider principle of more account than getting into office. With what Mr. Turner says regarding Mr. Stephens, the writer certainly concurs. That Mr. Stephens has been a faithful public servant, and deserves well of his fellow-citizens, few will dispute. Mr. Stephens, in criticising the acts of the Government, has raised what should be the real issue in the approaching Provincial election, and if Mercier and the wire-pullers would take the same course they might stand a better chance of success. True, Mr. Stephens, it is claimed, shirked the Riel vote at Quebec, but he may have had reasons for so doing; and until he has had ample time for explanation, it would certainly not be just to forget his whole valuable record for this one act.

Yours, etc.,
J. A. BOYD.

Mount Royal Park.

To the Editor of THE STAR:

SIR,—I have read with astonishment in THE STAR of August 3rd, referring to the Mount Royal Park management, in which it is stated that after an interview with Alderman Holland, it was found that valuable plants and shrubs, purchased at great expense, had been destroyed by frequenters of the park. I have ample evidence to show that not the frequenters of the park, but the numerous sheep and cattle, allowed to roam over the park, are the cause of the mischief complained of; and it is high time that a thorough investigation into the matter should be made.

As to the insinuations of "spite" on the part of anyone holding privileges besides those of the Park Ranger himself, I believe them to be perfectly groundless, and hope that immediate action will be taken by the Park Commissioners to let the taxed public know how their money is spent in its application to the improvement and embellishment of the park in question.

The Dome of St. Peter's.

The framework of the dome of the new Roman Catholic Cathedral has just been completed and the wooden covering is being put on. This will be covered with galvanized iron of the usual stone gray color. About 250,000 feet of timber have been used in its construction and 30 men have been employed on the work. The cross which will surmount the dome has arrived and is being gilded; it will be put up at the end of the week. The height of the centre piece is 18 feet with a cross bar of 12 feet. The cut stone for one of the smaller domes arrived yesterday from Joliette, but it will not be placed in position till next Spring.

Canadian Pianos in England.

The success of the Heintzman & Co. pianos at the Colonial exhibition, though not unexpected, has been received with considerable satisfaction by our musical public, as it demonstrates the fact, that Canadian makers can compete successfully with English as well as American manufacturers. The firm's able representative here, Mr. C.W. Lindsay, of 1352 St. Catherine st., states that his trade has already felt the benefit of the exhibition, and expects that the already large sales of the Heintzman pianos in Montreal will be materially increased during the coming year 181 3

LIVING OR DEAD.

By Hugh Conway (F. J. Fargus.)

CHAPTER XV.—Continued.

More and more they pointed to some revengeful machination of Chesham's, and firmer and firmer grew my resolve to find out the truth. Had Chesham been in London I think I should have returned there the next day to resume operations. As it was I must await his return. I went to bed and dreamed I was a knight of old, and champion of Lady Estmere, just about to engage with Chesham in a deadly fray. As I was in full armor and my antagonist in plain evening dress, the result of the encounter would probably have been highly satisfactory to me if the breakfast bell had not rung so loudly and put an end to it.

I returned the letter to Rothwell, and told him that after reading it I felt no one could have a doubt upon the subject. Had I not heard what Mrs. Payne knew of the matter I should have thought Sir Laurence was a victim to monomania.

We said little more about the matter during our stay at Mirfield, which lasted until the middle of October. It was a visit I have always remembered with pleasure. The weather was fine, the sport good, and companions entertaining. After a few days Valentine's shooting grew languid, and his color-box and canvas took the place of gun and cartridge. He made a number of outdoor sketches, and I began to prophesy fame and success more than I had ever done yet. Rothwell praised and encouraged his efforts. Vigor picked them to pieces as became an authority, and Stanton abused him for doing so. Valentine took praise or blame with his usual airy good temper. Save that one sorrow, there was little in life that troubled him. He laughed the loudest and oftenest of all, and he kept us up to unearthly hours with his songs and merriment; his gems and general splendor were an untiring topic of conversation and banter, and his good humor was unassailable.

Yet, in spite of all the pleasant and congenial society, no man turned his face toward London with greater delight than I did, for Claudine had written that she hoped to be in London for a few days, when we might meet and renew those everlasting vows of affection. Valentine was talking about his big picture; so we packed our portmanteaus and gun-cases and returned to the great city, braced up by the fresh air, browned by the sun, our muscles hard as iron from the six weeks' good exercise, and altogether feeling fit to meet whatever fate might have in store for us.

CHAPTER XVI.

"HERE HE COMES!"

I may pass rapidly over some eighteen months of my life, during which little has occurred to sway the destiny of myself and others of whom I write. In spite of truculent generals, Claudine has been true to her word. She is, in my eyes, more beautiful than ever; my love for her grows and grows. Yet we have not fixed the wedding-day, although some months ago she came of age, and her guardian with military exactness and promptitude, rendered up his account, and left her absolute mistress of something over a thousand a year. He supplemented his financial statement with an exhortation as to adventurers in general and fortune-hunters in particular, entreating her, by the memory of her father, to bring her ill-advised engagement with that young man named Norris to an end.

Claudine listened respectfully, and after thanking him for his care and kindness during many years, assured him that his suspicions were groundless, and that she purposed to bestow herself upon me whenever I was ready to receive her. Then with many evil prophecies, the old gentleman washed his hands of his ward and her affairs.

She is now staying at Lady Estmere's for an indefinite time, and is half-offended that I do not wish to marry her at once. Has she not money enough for both? But I am proud, and cannot bring myself to live entirely upon my wife, however sweet and generous she may be. So far as I know, I am but a pensioner on my father's bounty and, although I feel it a piece of the greatest self-denial, am resolute as to postponing my marriage until his return. Every one who has a right to advise me applauds my determination. Each speaks glibly enough about its being only a matter of waiting some six, nine, or twelve months. Each forgets it is Claudine Neville I am waiting for; so I do not get the credit my self-abnegation deserves. However, as I have the right to see her whenever I choose, I may manage to wait patiently until the return of the wanderer, my father.

Where is he? It is nearly two years since he started on his travels, yet only two short letters have reached me. They are dated from some outlandish place in the Antipodes, and tell me little about his doings. He says he is improved, both in mind and body, but can as yet fix no definite time for his return. Some day, he trusts, he shall grow tired of foreign lands, and sigh for England; then he will return at once. He does not mention having received any letters from me. Perhaps he has shunned the beaten tracks. Certainly my father is a strange man, and my dearest hope is that this prolonged round of voyaging will cure him of some of his eccentricities. I shall not write again; it will be but waste of time. The probabilities are that, when least expecting it, I shall get a letter or a telegram announcing his safe return. May it be soon, for Claudine is as anxious to see him as I am.

Lady Estmere too, for Claudine's and, I know, my sake, looks forward to the news of his arrival in England. I am longing to bring about a meeting between the two, feeling sure that their refined natures will find much in common. My father, I know, is of too noble a disposition to heed the world's slander. Like myself, he will read in Lady Estmere's face the absolute impossibility of there being any truth in the tale.

She is the same as ever—sweet, calm, kind, yet sad withal. My friendship for her has grown into affection, an affection, I am proud to say, she returns. The day I can find Sir Laurence Estmere and hand him clear proof of his wife's innocence will be one of the brightest in my life.

Alas! In face of the promise I made to Lord Rothwell, and the wild plan I formed, how little I have been able to do toward this end! My hope of worming something out of Chesham has not been realized.

True, I have not yet had a fair chance, as the rogue has been in England only a few days since that excursion of mine to the North. I found time enough during his short stay to make a few preliminary advances. I lost a little, not much, money to him; then he went back to the Continent. I had half a mind to follow him, but, reconsidering the matter, decided to await his return to town. As yet this had not taken place, although I was informed he might be back before the Autumn.

Lord Rothwell is also abroad. After seeing his book into a second edition he was seized by the old roaming, exploring passion, and away he went to conquer fresh lands and endure fresh hardships.

MORE GAS.

The Consumption of Gas so Much Increased Since the Reduction in Price as to Require Another Gasometer.

Mr. Jesse Joseph, president of the Montreal Gas Company, leaves for England tonight for the purpose of purchasing a new gasometer for the Elm station, Hochelaga. This has been rendered necessary by the increased consumption since the reduction in the price last year.

"The daily capacity of the new holder," said Mr. Scriver, the secretary of the company, "will be one million cubic feet and will have a circumference of 375 feet. The entire daily capacity of the works is 3,000,000 cubic feet. The whole outlay, including mason work, will be in the neighborhood of $90,000. The mason work will be put in during the Autumn, and the tank and holder will be in working order by the Autumn of 1887. The holder will be the same size and in fact will be a duplicate of the existing one, which is amongst the largest on the continent, only being surpassed by one in Boston, which is 150 feet larger."

Mr. Scriver stated that he was not in a position to give the increased consumption since the reduction in price, but he acknowledged it had been large. The average annual increase of a healthy company, he said, was ten per cent. This figure had been passed by the Montreal Gas Company.

When the news leaked out over the street this morning it had the effect of stiffening gas stock, one broker volunteering the statement that the consumption since the reduction from $1.50 to $1.25 had been twenty-five per cent.

Charged With Stealing a Coat.

On the 13th of July two waiters, named Sherrard and Monaghan, employed in the Windsor Hotel, went to Mr. Brault's tailoring store, on Notre Dame street west, where Sherrard ordered a suit of clothes. He and Mr. Brault then went to the back part of the store to have the measure taken. Monaghan meanwhile remained standing near the door. When, however, Mr. Brault returned, he found that the man had decamped after stealing, it is alleged, a coat worth about $20. The case was entrusted to Sergeant Charbonneau, who made search for the article for several days without avail. Last week, however, he heard that a man answering the description of the alleged thief had been boarding under the assumed name of Brady along with a woman whom he represented as his wife, at the house of a Mrs. Foy, 48 St. David Lane. On going thither, he learned that the man had left. On Monday, the officer gave a sample of the material in the coat, to Mrs. Foy. She, afterwards, when making up the bed in which Monaghan had slept, found the coat under the mattress. Subsequently Monaghan, alias Brady, and the same woman, who he then said, was his sister, were arrested at Ste. Cunegonde for loitering, and for that offence both were sent to gaol, he for eight days, and she for a month. The man having served his term in prison, was taken charge of by Sergeant Charbonneau. The prisoner will appear for trial before the Recorder to-morrow.

A Poison Story Explained.

Rumors have been current in the East End to the effect that a whole family, consisting of eight persons, living on Wolfe street, had been poisoned through the mistake of a druggist in giving bug poison in place of Gregory's mixture. On making enquiries the first report was that the story was true and that a certain druggist was responsible for the error. The druggists' name was given to the STAR reporter. On proceeding to Wolfe street and making several fruitless enquiries, all saying they had heard nothing, it was found that the whole story originated as follows: An elderly person by the name of Irwin, living at 54 Wolfe street, was taken sick during the night and got up to get some Dwight's mixture, as he thought, instead of which, the bottles not being labelled, he took a dose of liniment. No evil effects followed this. The next day his wife, who felt out of sorts, took some of the same liniment and was taken violently ill, but has since recovered. The son, some days afterwards, took some of the same liniment and was also violently affected. On examination, the liniment was found to contain belladonna and other ingredients. The fault, of course, lay in neglecting to have labels on the bottles.

Sale of Trotting Horses.

A lot of trotting horses belonging to the estate of Mr. J. G. Guimond were sold at W. E. Shaw's yard yesterday. The trotting stallion "Star Mills" after keen competition was knocked down to Mr. T. Love for $290 and the bay mare "Jesse" was finally adjudged to Mr. John Ogilvie. About a dozen other horses were sold at prices ranging from $50 to $162.50, the sale being ably conducted by Mr. D. R. Fraser, in the presence of Mr. W. E. Shaw.

The Alleged Bribery at Longueuil.

The enquête in the case of Mr. Pierre Racine, postmaster of Longueuil, who was arrested on the 29th ult., on a charge of bribery was opened before the Police Magistrate to-day. Moise Delagé dit Lavigeur, an elector, who, it is alleged, was bribed, made a desposition to the effect that Mr. Racine gave him $10 to cast his vote in favor of Mr. Jodoin, in the election then at hand, after which, the court adjourned.

Will the Province Pay?

A statement was circulated yesterday to the effect that a movement is on foot to induce the Quebec Government to shoulder the expenses arising out of the elevation of the Archbishop of Quebec to the Cardinalate. These, it is surmised, will aggregate some $25,000. In some quarters it was believed the rumor was correct, while in semi-official circles no corroborative statement could be elicited.

The People's Jimmy.

Five citizens of Point St. Charles awoke Ald. McShane at two o'clock this morning to obtain the release of Daniel Tracey, who had been arrested and lodged in the St. Gabriel Market police station. In their company he proceeded to Judge Dugas and obtained Tracey's release on bail. "I am always willing to stand by the people," said Ald. McShane after relating the above.

The "Passport."

The R. & O. Navigation Company's steamer "Passport," sunk at the entrance of the Cornwall Canal, has not yet been raised although work is energetically being carried on upon her. She is not seriously damaged and the work will consist in making the hold water tight and pumping it dry. The passengers' baggage has all been taken off, but a little of it was damaged.

Run Over.

A little boy named Ernest Castonguay was run over on St. Paul street last evening by a carter. He was taken into Dr. Picard's, who dressed an ugly scalp wound, and he was then taken to Notre Dame Hospital, where it was found his collar bone was fractured and that he had sustained internal injuries.

A Detective's Catch.

A detective has caught something at last. On Tuesday while Detective Gladu and Constable Lessard were out fishing on Lake Masson, near Ste. Marguerite, they hooked a trout that measured two feet four inches, and weighed 12½ pounds.

MORE TROUBLE ON THE WHARF.

Longshore Men Engaged in Unloading a Steamer Intimidated Into Ceasing Work By a Crowd of Loafers—The Harbor Police Restore Order.

As there have been ever since the late demand for an increase of higher wages by the coal longshore men vague rumors in circulation of a probability of further trouble with the wharf laborers, quite a sensation was caused in the harbor this morning by reports circulating that the canal longshore men had made a demand for a uniform scale of prices at the rate of forty cents per hour. The report, however, turned out to be greatly exaggerated and had its origin in some trouble among the men engaged in discharging the lumber cargo of the propeller "Niagara" in the Wellington Basin. This morning Mr. Wm. H. Machon, the stevedore having the contract to unload this steamer, noticed that his men appeared restless and after some time they refused to work. Enquiries elicited the fact that the trouble was due entirely to the influence of some men who had gone on board of the steamer and threatened to beat the men engaged by Mr. Machon if they did not refuse the lower wages offered them by their employer and strike for forty cents an hour. The men at work being satisfied refused to do as ordered, and one of the other men who was attempting to influence them becoming annoyed at their persistent determination to continue working, struck one of them on the face. A row was only then averted by the speedy ejectment from the vessel of the unwelcome visitors. They had a few friends ashore then, but in a few minutes quite a crowd had collected who lounged about the wharves threatening the men at work. The latter eventually gave in to the threats and left off work. Mr. Machon then notified the agents, Messrs. Anderson, Mackenzie & Co., and they in turn applied to the Government Harbor Police for protection. A squad was immediately despatched to the "Niagara" and as soon as the crowd lounging about the wharf saw the approach of the protectors of the law they made off. The four ringleaders of the trouble, including the man who assaulted one of the workmen, crossed to the other side of the basin in a boat.

These men are well known and their arrest could be easily accomplished. No steps have, however, been taken up to the hour of going to press, to bring them to justice. It is claimed that these men are nothing but loafers and not wharf laborers and the responsibility for the unquiet feeling which has prevailed is laid upon their shoulders.

As soon as the crowd of intimidators left the wharf, Mr. Machon's men resumed work and are continuing the unloading of the steamer under the protection of the police.

A STAR reporter was informed by several stevedores, this morning, that there is not the slightest fear of a strike, as the men are satisfied with their wages.

Some ship laborers were spoken to, and laughed at the idea of a strike. They say that the uneasiness is due to the efforts of a crowd of loafers to make a row.

THE SAULT ST. MARIE CONNECTION.

The Canadian Pacific Arranging to Cooperate with American Lines for a Direct Route From Minneapolis to the Canadian Seaboard.

Two important American railway companies, the Minneapolis, Sault St. Marie and Atlantic and the Detroit, Mackinac and Marquette have arranged to extend their lines to Sault St. Marie, in order to secure a through service to the Atlantic. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has met their advances in a most cordial manner, and on Monday Mr. Ramsay, with a staff of surveyors went to Algoma with a view of surveying and arranging the road which had previously only been preliminarily examined. The distance from Algoma to the Sault is about 90 miles and the C. P. R. purpose pushing the work as rapidly as possible in order to cooperate with the two American companies. The directors of the American lines are sound financial men, and it is intended to have the connections completed in about a year. The new route proposed would be about 400 miles shorter to the Atlantic coast than any present one and would materially affect the traffic of the Upper Peninsula and especially from Duluth. A great deal of grain raised in the northern States which pours into Duluth and is shipped by boat to the Atlantic for want of an approximately direct route will probably go by rail.

The Policeman May Die.

The encounter between the two policemen Millord and Dobie and Messrs. Mason and Daniel Collins, turns out to be a much more serious affair than at first appeared. Mr. Collins was dangerously injured and is not expected to recover. In yesterday's STAR, the version of the affair as published was given from the policemen's standpoint. Their story has been contradicted by Mr. C. O. Morrin, in front of whose store the affair took place. He says that Messrs. Mason and Collins are respectable citizens of Point St. Charles, and that he had made no complaint to the police regarding them. They had, he said, visited his store during the evening and purchased goods for which they paid, and before leaving got permission from him to stand outside at his show window. The neighbors sympathize with Messrs. Mason and Collins and blame the police for their action in the matter.

This is to be finished by the first of October and will increase the manufacturing facilities one half. It is to be used as a shoe shop and the machinery will be put in immediately after the building is finished.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

YONKERS, N.Y., August 4.—Samuel J. Tilden died peacefully at Greystone this morning at 8.45 a.m. There were present with him Doctors Simonds and Swift and his niece, Miss Gould. His death was entirely unexpected. The cause was failure of the heart, following an acute attack of diarrhœa and nausea.

Samuel J. Tilden, whose death is announced above, was born at New Lebanon, in the State of New York, in 1814. He was descended from an old and highly honorable family, the remotest member of whom he had any positive knowledge being one Nathaniel Tilden, who was Mayor of Tenterden, Kent, England, in 1623. This gentleman removed with his family to America in 1634, and settled at Scituate, Mass. Mr. Tilden's father was a thrifty merchant of New Lebanon, who, on account of his integrity and good sense, especially on political matters, was admitted to terms of intimacy with Martin Van Buren. His mother was descended from William Jones, Lieutenant-Governor of the colony of New Haven, and reputed to be a son of Col. John Jones, one of the regicide judges of Charles I, whose wife was a sister of Oliver Cromwell. In his eighteenth year Mr. Tilden entered Yale College, where he pursued his studies with such indefatigable zeal that his health gave way and he was compelled to drop out of the course. As soon as he had sufficiently recovered he resumed his studies at the University of New York, where he was graduated in 1834. He was then a young man of only 20 years. He subsequently read law, and while a student in the office of John W. Edmunds in New York, wrote several articles on the political situation, One of these was in defence of President Van Buren's policy. It caused considerable discussion in the newspaper world, especially so as the President was conjectured to have written it. As soon as he had been admitted to the Bar, Mr. Tilden opened an office of his own in Pine street in New York city. Although embarking in professional life of a kind which called for the most arduous application he did not lose his interest in politics. He continued to express his opinions through the press, and occasionally spoke at political meetings. As soon as the Presidential campaign of 1844, in which James K. Polk was a candidate, had fairly opened, Mr. Tilden founded the New York Daily News, in connection with John O'Sullivan. The following year he was sent to the Assembly from the city of New York, and elected as a delegate to the convention which was to revise the Constitution of the State. The estrangement between the friends of Mr. Polk and Mr. Van Buren in consequence of the elections of 1846 caused Mr. Tilden to retire from politics and continue his attention to the law. This was a fortunate move, without which his subsequent success and fame as a lawyer could never have been achieved. He immediately began a series of triumphs at the bar which gave him great reputation. Among the more notable cases in which he was successful may be mentioned that of Flagg vs. Giles; Burdell vs. Cunningham, a famous will case, and that of the Pennsylvania Coal Company vs. the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company. It is no exaggeration to say that from 1855 up to the time he retired from professional life, one-half the great railway corporations north of the Ohio and between the Hudson and Mississippi had been his clients. For some time preceding the war he was the confidential adviser of Dean Richmond, the leader of the Democratic party in the State of New York. He was elected Governor of New York in 1874 and was nominated to the Presidency in 1876. The result of the election being disputed led to the appointment of the Electoral Commission, under whose decision the Republican candidate was peacefully inaugurated. Since that time Mr. Tilden had lived in retirement, with the exception of an occasional appearance in public. At the time of the last Presidential campaign, leading Democrats sought to induce him to consent to become a candidate, but he positively declined.

THE POLITICAL WORLD.

Mass Meeting at Napierville County Yesterday.

A mass meeting of the electors of Napierville was held at St. Edouard, yesterday, both political parties being represented. About 1500 people were in attendance. The Parti National was represented by Hon. Mr. Marchand, Messrs. Bergeron, M. P., A. E. Poirier, Ed. Guerin and Lafontaine, and the Conservatives by Hon. Mr. Taillon, Messrs. Leblanc, M. P. P., F. X. Paradis, M. P. P., and P. L. Pelletier. Speech making was indulged in for several hours. In the course of his address Mr. Taillon stated that the Quebec Government were quite prepared to stand by their own acts and he did not believe that any of the electors would seek to hold them responsible for the acts of the Ottawa Government. During the last session he had prepared a motion asking for amnesty to the imprisoned Metis; but before it had been presented he had received assurance from Ottawa that the amnesty would be granted. This was satisfactory to Mr. Mercier at the time but that gentleman had subsequently changed his mind in favoring the adoption of the Garneau motion. The Conservative speakers urged the re-election of Mr. Paradis and the Liberals stood by Mr. Lafontaine. Mr. Coupal, the other Liberal candidate, spoke on his own behalf. There is an indication that the contest will be a triangular one.

There is to be an opposition meeting at Vercheres on Tuesday next, the 10th inst. Hon. Mr. Mercier and leading lights of the Parti National will be present. After the meeting a candidate will be selected. According to accounts now in circulation, Mr. Bernard, M. P. P., is not at all sure of uniting a combined Liberal support in his favor.

Mr. Geo. Duhamel has a letter in this morning's issue of L'Etendard, taking exception to the manner in which that paper approved of the idea of allowing Hon. Mr. Beaubien to be returned unopposed in Hochelaga. He states that Mr. Beaubien did the Parti National good service when there was no danger ahead! but he would like to know where Mr. Beaubien was in the Vercheres and Chambly elections. Mr. Duhamel states that Hon. Mr. Taillon declared publicly in his presence at St. Constant that Mr. Beaubien was the Ministerial candidate in Hochelaga. He calls upon Mr. Beaubien to explain.

A movement is on foot to organize a public meeting at St. Jean Baptiste during next week to enable the Hon. Mr. Beaubien, to explain the position he intends taking in the coming electoral contest.

GENERAL STRANGE'S COMPLAINT.

The Deputy Minister of Militia Knows Nothing About the Charge of Garbled Reports.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, August 4.—Colonel Panet, Deputy Minister of Militia, was seen this morning in reference to General Strange's letter to the press, in which he complains that injustice has been done his command in the omission of all mention of the engagement at Frenchman's Butte. The Deputy Minister said that all the reports which came to the department were published, and there was no intentional omission so far as he knew. The casualties were all taken from the reports submitted, and were included in the Minister's report. "I will show Major-General Strange's letter to General Middleton when he returns," said Colonel Panet, "and will ask him for an explanation. There was no intention to slight General Strange or the men under his command. I am very sorry the affair has occurred, but I do not see how it can be explained away. As to General Strange's insinuation of garbled reports, I know nothing of it. We published all the information we received. I know General Strange to be a worthy man and a good officer, one of the best in the English army. General Middleton could have done anything he liked with the reports while they were in his possession, but I do not believe he would garble them."

TWO FATALITIES IN OTTAWA.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, August 4.—John Murphy, laborer, aged 23, was buried by the cave-in of a drain on Daly street to-day. He was dead when extricated. He leaves a wife and two children.

The first fatality in connection with the erection of the new parliamentary building occurred this morning, when Robert Parry fell a distance of twenty feet, from the top of the wall, and fractured his skull and both arms. He died while being removed to the hospital. He was aged 42 and leaves a wife and family in England.

RAILWAY EXPROPRIATION.

Judge Torrance Gives a Decision Adverse to the Atlantic & North Western Railway.

Hon. Mr. Justice Torrance gave judgment this morning in the case of Mrs. Conway vs. the Atlantic & North Western Railway Company. The decision was given on an injunction taken by Mrs. Conway, who owns some property at Lachine at the new bridge, and on the petition of the company for a warrant of possession of this land on depositing double its value before an expropriation was made. The injunction was maintained with costs and the petition dismissed with costs. The company was condemned to pay $460 damages to Mrs. Conway and $50 penalty for having disobeyed the injunction. The Court held that the company had no right to take possession of the land marked on its plan without an order from the Court. The company was enjoined to desist from the possession thereof, and to destroy all work done on the property and to pay damages caused in removing the fence and root house and in beginning to make a highway on the property. The Court also held that the company had no right to expropriate Mrs. Conway's land, which borders on the edge of the river as it was not necessary to the construction of the railway itself. It appears that the company only require this land to build a new municipal road as they have blockaded the highway in constructing one of the piers of the bridge. The Court held they had no right to build a pier on the highway as they have done or to expropriate lands for municipal roads. Messrs. Pagnuelo, Taillon and Gouin for the plaintiff and Messrs. Abbott, Tait & Co., for the defendants.

LORD ABERDEEN.

The Late Viceroy Interviewed on Yesterday's Demonstration—Comments of the Press.

DUBLIN, August 4.—Lord Aberdeen was interviewed at Kingston last evening by a reporter, who questioned him concerning the ovation tendered to him yesterday at Dublin on his departure from that city. Lord Aberdeen said he had been impressed by the good temper and courtesy shown by the people who took part in the demonstration. The processionists were orderly, and there was nothing in the actions of the great crowd which could have been considered aggressive or annoying to their political opponents. "It was a demonstration for Mr. Gladstone," said Lord Aberdeen; "it was none the less of kindly feeling, while at the same time there were exhibited signs of the extreme spontaneity of public opinion."

The Freeman's Journal says: "Lord Aberdeen came to Ireland as the herald of of peace. The Irish democracy, finding the message withdrawn, resolved that he should convey an assurance that they are ready to clasp hands in friendship with the British democracy, while they are resolved to maintain Ireland's rights at all odds."

LONDON, August 4.—The Dublin Express (Loyalist) says: "Even a stranger might have noticed that respectable citizens were absent from the gathering of yesterday."

The Dublin Irish Times (Loyalist) says the affair was one-sided, and was purely a Gladstone display.

Conservative newspapers in England adopt this view of the demonstration, but the Dublin correspondent of the London Times, who is reported to be a Tory and an Orangeman, telegraphs to his paper that the ovation has not been equalled since the days of O'Connell. For the first time in the history of Ireland, he says, a viceroy has demolished the barriers separating the Imperial dignity from the sentiment of the masses, thereby merging the rule of the Queen in that of the sovereign people.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

LONDON, August 4.—Advices from Constantinople report an attempt to assassinate the Grand Vizier. That official was out driving on Sunday afternoon in Halliaghia and two shots were fired at him by a Tartar. Neither of the shots struck its mark. The assassin then pursued the carriage with a drawn sword, with which he endeavored to strike the Grand Vizier. He was arrested and taken before the Sultan at the Yildiz-kiosk. To His Majesty the Tartar declared that the Grand Vizier had prevented him from securing justice, and implored him to hang the Vizier.

SNOW ON MOUNT WASHINGTON.

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H., August 3.—A northwest wind, blowing at the rate of sixty miles an hour, set in at nightfall yesterday. Snow began to fall at 2.30 this morning and at 5.30 the ground was covered to a depth of one and one-half inch. The wind is blowing eighty miles an hour and windows are thickly covered with frost. The thermometer yesterday registered 85° in the valley, but now marks 28° here.

PARTICULARLY GOVERNED.

The Official Conservative Cabinet and the Unofficial Whig Cabinet.

Councils of Both Parties To-Day—Preparing for the Session—The Aberdeen Demonstration—The Extradition Treaty.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, August 4.—England is particularly governed just now, having two Governments. The first of these is the official Conservative Cabinet, which meets to-day to discuss what action shall be taken if the Liberal leaders press for precise information on the Irish policy, assuming that the reference in the speech from the throne is unsatisfactory. This is the nut which will puzzle them to crack. The second of the Governments, the unofficial Whig Cabinet, meets curiously enough at the same hour at Lord Hartington's residence, the momentous question for consideration being whether Lord Hartington shall sit on the front opposition bench with the Gladstonian leaders. His followers naturally wish him to do so, as indicating that they have in no way departed from the lines of Liberal conviction and tradition. Lord Hartington, however, is a man of very great natural courtesy, and it is unlikely they will persuade him into what would be rudeness in practice, however proper in theory.

NO CONFIRMATION.

Hints are circulating that the Queen may open Parliament in person on the 19th. There is no confirmation of this yet.

Lord Londonderry and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach leave for Dublin to-morrow to take formal possession of their new offices.

THE ABERDEEN OVATION.

"Nothing like it since O'Connell," is the universal verdict on the triumphal departure of Lord and Lady Aberdeen from Dublin. Lord Aberdeen said yesterday that no language of his could convey anything like a just appreciation of the extraordinary scenes through which they had just passed. Lord Mayor Sullivan said it is unparalleled in Anglo-Irish history. Of course the Tory papers profess to regard it as got up artificially to strengthen Mr. Gladstone's hands.

THE EXTRADITION TREATY.

The postponement of the extradition treaty is not surprising. The Standard, which expresses the general opinion, says: "The thing concerns the people of the United States as nearly as ourselves. With us it is a question of safety; with them, one not only of safety but of honorable obligation. The country is bound to render municipal law effective for the fulfilment of international duties, but no honest American pretends that his Government has done in relation to the case what a civilized Government is bound to do. Of late, however, the people of the United States have had some domestic experience of the pest. It is probable that fellowship in suffering will quicken conscience." The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Like the International Copyright law, the extradition treaty is absolutely certain sooner or later," but it infers that we shall have to wait for it for important reasons.

NORMAN.

THE AFGHAN BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OPPOSITION TO MR. MATTHEWS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, August 4.—The Radicals of Birmingham will oppose the re-election of Mr. Matthews.

WAR ON BANDITS.

CITY OF MEXICO, August 3.—The new law against bandits is being actively applied in various parts of the republic. At Leon two bandits named Zaragoza were recently shot; at Coal-Coman four, and, since the passage of the law, near Tulancingo fifteen have been put out of the way. Six more of Bernal's bandits have surrendered and been pardoned by the authorities, in accordance with the new law.

POLICE FEAR THE MOB.

AMSTERDAM, August 4.—Large numbers of police have resigned. They say their duties have become arduous and distasteful. Fear of the mob is supposed to have been the chief cause of the resignation. The Tagblad asks the government to invite the powers to adopt general measures against the socialists.

MR. EGAN TO LEAVE THE C. P. R.

WINNIPEG, August 3.—A report has gained currency that Mr. J. M. Egan, the general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is about to transfer his services to a western road, and that Mr. Earling, of the Chicago & Milwaukee Road, now in the West with Mr. Van Horne, will succeed him.

RED RINER RISING.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., August 4.—The Red River has risen twenty feet since yesterday. It is higher than ever before known. All work done on the Santa Fe Railway bridge has been swept away, and the immense trestle work destroyed.

PARNELL IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, August 4.—Parnell has arrived in Dublin to attend a meeting of his party to-day.

NEW YORK STOCKS BY MEREDITH & MONK—The market opened a little off on the report of cutting of east bound rates by Lake Shore, but soon recovered and the bull feeling is again in full swing. The fancy stocks seem to absorb the most interest now and even traders who have been confining their attention to bonds are now buying the cheap fancies. Such stocks as Central Iowa, Cedar Falls and Minnesota, Colorado coal, Cameron coal, East Tennessee and Chicago, Washington and Baltimore are slowly being absorbed.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy earnings for June show an increase of $170,000, and St. Paul, for the fourth week of July, $39,000, and for the month $142,000.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL.

Business on 'Change was very quiet to-day, no sales of flour were reported. The Western States market reports show a decline of ⅜ of a cent in wheat, and ¼ to 1 cent on corn. Our market is quiet, peas and oats are held firm with a good export demand. The local trade in flour is fairly active and a considerable quantity in broken lots have changed hands outside, especially in fresh grounds which bring outside prices.

GRAIN—Wheat, Spring, 83 to 84c; do. red Winter, 83 to 84c; do. white Winter, 82 to 83c; corn, 55 to 57c; oats, 30 to 31c; rye, 58 to 60c; peas, 72 to 73c; barley, 55 to 58c.

FLOUR—Patents, $4 15 to 4 60; choice superior extra, $4 05 to 4 15; superior extra, $3 80 to 3 90; extra superfine, $3 70; fancy, $3 40; Spring extra, $3 30; superfine, $3 to 3 10; Canada Strong Bakers', $4 10 to 4 20; Manitoba do. $4 50 to 4 60; American do. $4 70 to 4 80; fine, $2 85; middlings, $2 75; pollards, $2 60; Ontario bags, medium, $1 70 to 1 75; do. Cudahy says: I think corn good property and is quite certain to sell at very much better prices. I think damage to crop is 25 per cent, and it will tell after a while, wheat is good thing to let alone.

CHICAGO MARKETS (By Doran & Wright Co.), August 4.—Wheat opened firm, said Hutchison; bad puts on fully one million September wheat at 76c to-day, none of which was put. The failure of W. R. Harvey on 'Change, who was long on wheat, unsettled the market. Market closed firm at 76⅝c for September. Reports from California to-day reduce the crop of that State to 60 per cent. of average crop. Corn weak on sales of long. Corn closing quiet.

Wholesale Produce, Provisions, etc.

CHEESE.—The cheese market is nominally unchanged. The country seems for the time being to be leading this market, as 7¾c is said to have been paid in the country markets, while it is difficult to do better here, and holders ask higher figures, but shippers do not feel disposed to meet their views. It is generally believed that there is a considerable accumulation in the country which must find an outlet, and a good quantity of June make is said to be held in cold storage in northern New York, some of which is understood to be on Montreal account. Altogether the market does not warrant the belief in high prices. Shipments from here this week will not be very heavy, and local trade is quiet. We quote: 7⅜ to 7¾c for fine to choice; 6¾ to 7¼c for medium to fair, and 5 to 6¾c for other grades according to quality.

BUTTER.—The butter market is nominally unchanged, there is not so brisk a demand for creamery for export, but prices remain about the same. In dairy makes the trade is confined to local wants. We quote: Creamery: 19⅛ to 20¾c; Townships, 14 to 15c; Morrisburg and Brockville, 13 to 15c; Western, 12 to 14c.

EGGS.—The market is very little changed in value. A good local demand exists for fresh stock, which is firm at quotations. Newly candled eggs, in case lots, bring from 14¾ to 15c, and ordinary, 13 to 14c per doz.

SALT FISH.—We quote: Labrador salmon, No. 1, $13; do, No. 2, $12; do. No. 3, $11; do. British Columbia, $11; dry cod, $3 to $3 50; Labrador herrings, per brl, $3 25 to 3 50; lake trout, half-brl, $3 75.

ASHES.—Pots, No. 1, $3 60 to 3 70; No. 2, $3 30; pearls, No. 1, $5 25.

PORK.—In hog products generally there is a fair jobbing trade in small lots reported at quoted prices, Western States markets show some signs of weakness and slightly lower prices to-day, but the local market is nominally unchanged. We quote: Chicago mess pork, new, $13 50 to $14; clear short cut, new, $14 to 14 50; smoked hams, 12 to 13c; do canvassed, 12⅛ to 14c; breakfast bacon, 10⅜ to 11c.

TALLOW.—4¾ to 5c.

LARD is firm at quotations, a fairly brisk local trade is reported in Fairbanks at 9⅜ to 9¾c, and Canadian, 8⅜ to 9c in pails.

FRUITS.—The market is nominally unchanged, a fair jobbing trade is reported in the seasonable lines, and the supply is quite equal to the demand. We quote:. Apples, new, $3 to 3 25; Valencia oranges, $12 to 13 per case; Rhodi do, $6 50 per box; Messina and Palermo lemons, $8 to 8 50 per box; yellow bananas, Aspinwalls, $4 00 to 5 50 per bunch; do Jamaica, $2 to $3; red do, $1 50 to 2 50; dried apples, 5c per lb; Spanish onions, $5 per case; tomatoes, $1 10 per box; do large crate, $3 50; cherries, $1 to 1 25 per basket; California grapes, $3 50 per case; California peaches, $3 50 per box; do plums, $2 50 to 3 50 per box; southern grapes, 10 to 12c per lb; Bartlett pears, $4 to 4 50 per box; cocoanuts, $6 per 100; water melons, 40c each.

Hay Market.

The market is fairly supplied with hay and straw, for which there is a good consumptive demand. Old hay sells from $10 to $11 50 for medium to fair, and $11 50 to 12 50 for choice timothy, per 100 bdls. of 15 lbs. each. Straw brings from $4 to $6 per 100 lbs. of 12 lbs each; pressed hay is in good demand at from $11 to $13 per ton according to quality and condition.

A Big Price for Hops.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., August 3.—The ruin of the hop crop throughout New York State by lice has created a sudden advance. Growers in this vicinity have repeatedly refused 35 cents for hops picked in 1885, and yesterday a grower of Minden sold last year's crop at 40 cents, which is the highest price paid in three years.—New York Post.

To the Electors of the Central and Eastern Divisions of Montreal:

GENTLEMEN:

Having been honored by the request of the Labor Associations of Montreal that we should come forward as Candidates, at the approaching Elections of Members of the Legislative Assembly of Quebec, and having consented, it is proper we should publicly make known the nature of the Legislative Reforms we seek to obtain.

While our chief aim, is undoubtedly to advance the interests of the Laboring Class, to which we are proud to belong, we feel that this object can be best attained by advocating measures, which, far from being inconsistent with the general interests, are in reality, calculated to promote and secure them most effectively.

The particular measures we advocate are:—

1.—The improvement of the law relating to contracts between masters and apprentices, so that the criminal consequences attaching to a breach on the part of the latter only may be removed, and a condition of equality secured.

2.—The protection of children working in factories, and of operatives in the service of Railway and Steamboat Companies, and employers of labor generally.

3.—The improvement of the administration of justice, so that the settlement by way of arbitration of disputes arising between masters and workmen, may be encouraged, and litigation generally simplified, and made both more effectual, summary and economical.

4.—To secure greater humanity in the execution of judgements, and in particular to enlarge the exemptions from seizure, both of household effects and of such a portion of the laborer's earnings as are necessary to keep the family together.

5.—To obtain the appointment of a public prosecutor so that crimes may be discovered and punished in all cases, whether the victims be rich or poor.

6.—To amend the municipal system so that the public burdens may be more fairly distributed on the one hand and on the other a portion of the revenue may be applied to the foundation and support of public libraries and special day and night schools for workmen and persons generally employed in connection with the arts and manufactories of the city.

7.—To prevent prison labor from unjustly competing with honest labor.

8.—To stop the assistance given by government for the promotion of the immigration of laborers into the Province other than farm laborers.

9.—To support all legislation that may deal with the suppression of the liquor traffic.

That the above and kindred subjects have been sadly neglected in the past while our public men were engaged in bitter struggles over political and too often personal questions, no one can deny the urgent necessity of the moment is to bring the legislation of the Province of Quebec on such questions in a line with that of England, France and the United States, if we are ever to stem the tide which has already driven away millions of our people and made them citizens of the United States and which is steadily pushing our laboring population in the same direction, to the irreparable injury of our own country and institution.

To show how far behind the age we are in the matters in question, it is sufficient to cite the factory act of 1885 as an instance. Under its provisions a child 12 years of age may under certain circumstances be forced to work 12 hours a day. The whole measure in fact is full of equally faulty and unreasonable enactments. Our legislation respecting the other subjects above mentioned is equally defective. Our law of exemptions from seizure, compared to that in force in most of the American States, is a reproach to our civilization. In France they have tribunals of conciliation and Conseils de prud'hommes, which should have been introduced in this Province ere this—as should also many provisions of the law in force in England and Ontario, which secure greater despatch and economy in the administration of justice and constitute valuable safeguards, among others those relating to contracts between masters and laborers. It is difficult to understand how the equitable right of the laboring class to a vote in municipal matters could be called in question. But the laboring class has reason to be grateful for the treatment which on this question it has received at the hands of the Courts and of the honest and intelligent men in our midst, and we are sure that the same support will be extended to it in connection with those other reforms which it is equally important should be received.

With regard to municipal matters in particular, all admit the radical defects in our present city charter, and we shall earnestly endeavor to secure a better system. But we consider that it would be a great advantage gained if but one law in form and in principle were made to apply to all the cities in the Province, just as a municipal code applies to all municipalities alike.

In matters of general legislation we shall always act independent of parties, and support good measures from whatever quarter they may be presented. But we will more particularly labor to secure a better civil service, greater economy and efficiency in our Government, equal privileges to all, and no special favors or monopoly to any, and above all the punishment by imprisonment not only of acts of fraud committed by traders and others, but all such acts of fraud in connection with contracts and otherwise, as the old French law used to punish, to the great advantage and consolation of honest people in general, and to the protection particularly of the working class.

We are, gentlemen, your obedient servants,

ADELARD GRAVEL,
Labor Candidate,
Montreal East.
WM. KEYS,
Labor Candidate,
Montreal Centre.
