Education reforms

Might have sunk party

QUEBEC (CP) — Dr. Gaston Tremblay, who defected from the Union Nationale party Sunday, told the legislature Wednesday that if the electorate had known before the last election the reforms the party planned in education, the Union Nationale would never have been elected.

Dr. Tremblay was making his first speech in the legislature since he left the government party. He now sits as an independent but has said he has aligned himself with the Christian Nationalist party, a new political formation.

Dr. Tremblay, 44, said that "if those men who now form the government had told the public before the election they would vote for bills 21 and 97 (dealing with the creation of Quebec's junior colleges and the granting of a charter to the University of Montreal), they would never have been elected."

He said he now will devote himself to bringing "peace, order, security and prosperity to the provincial administration."

In other business Wednesday, the legislature was told that despite an increase in milk prices to become effective Friday, Quebecers will be paying less for milk than consumers in most Canadian provinces.

Clement Vincent, minister of agriculture, told the legislature the decision of the Quebec Agricultural Marketing Board to increase the price of milk in the province was fair and "will allow the producers of milk to receive more for their product."

The Liberal Opposition argued in vain for an emergency debate on the price increase announced two weeks ago.

Mr. Vincent said consumers in most Ontario towns—even after Quebec's price increase—will be paying one cent more than Quebecers for a quart of milk, in Newfoundland three cents more and in New Brunswick six cents more.

Newspapers face little-known rate

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian newspapers face a little-publicized two-cent minimum postage rate on each item as soon as new postal rates go into effect, Postmaster-General Eric Kierans said Wednesday night.

He told the Senate communications committee that newspapers now pay about one-third of a cent. The two-cent minimum would also apply to periodicals.

The two-cent rate is scheduled to go into effect Friday while general increases for newspapers and magazines will be implemented in six-monthly stages beginning April 1, 1969.

The staged rates for daily newspapers are five cents a pound for the non-advertising portion and 15 cents a pound for the advertising part. Equivalent rates now are 2½ cents and four cents for dailies with circulation of 10,000 or more, and a straight 2½ cents a pound for dailies with less circulation.

The new rate for weekly newspapers and all other periodicals will be five cents a pound against variable present rates that range between 1½ cents and three cents a pound depending on the type and circulation of the publication.

But where a weekly newspaper is published and mailed in Canada in a centre with a population of not more than 10,000 persons, a total of 2,500 copies of each issue may be mailed postage-free to post offices with no letter-carrier services.

These post offices must be within a distance of 40 miles from the place of publication.

The postmaster-general elaborated on the two-cent minimum following a question by Senator Grattan O'Leary (PC-Ontario) on just what the reference in the bill to two-cent charges meant.

Senator O'Leary, a long-time newspaperman, is editor emeritus of the Ottawa Journal.

"I know what publishers think it means," he said of the minimum rate. "They think it means a double cross."

When the amendments were moved in the Commons, had it been explained that the two-cent rate would go into effect immediately?

"Nobody in the opposition asked me the kind of questions you have asked me," Mr. Kierans replied.

Despite scorching debate, mail bill remains almost unscathed

OTTAWA (CP) — The bill raising Canada's postal rates comes up for third and final reading in the Senate today, virtually unscathed despite scorching debate in both the Commons and the upper House.

The measure is expected to gain both third reading and royal assent today, to get in under the Nov. 1 deadline for application of new postal rates that raise the cost of first-class mail to six cents from five and abolish the four-cent rate for local letters.

The only change that parliamentary perusal has brought in the bill that was originally introduced is in staggering application of new rates on newspapers and magazines. These now will be implemented in six-monthly stages starting next April 1.

Wednesday's Senate debate centered on the proposed increases in rates that apply to newspapers and periodicals.

Wallace appeal draws only 6,000 in Philly

PHILADELPHIA (CP) — George Wallace's southern-based appeal to the U.S. politically-disenchanted drew 6,000 avid supporters here Wednesday night, filling one-third of the 17,000 seats.

It was a tame show, and perhaps a disappointing one to the little former governor of Alabama whose American Independent party is the third force in the presidential election next Tuesday. The response was long and loud, but no portent of success.

There were some of the hecklers who have marked his campaign trail and whose presence in Detroit the previous night had produced the most violent outbreak since the Democratic party's nominating convention in Chicago in late August.

But there was just enough heckling, from no more than 100 persons at the far end of the hall, waving amid a racially-mixed group the black flag of the Afro-American Black Power, to prompt the one-line gibes against "anarchists" and "point-headed intellectuals" that fuel the Wallace speech formula.

ENTER AS BLOC

Since all the audience had been admitted by special ticket, it remained unclear how a dissenting group that arrived en bloc could enter the new Philadelphia Spectrum arena, home of the Philadelphia Flyers of the National Hockey League. But arrive they did, and without their presence, conveyed by periodic chants of dissent, Wallace would have lacked the foil he needs to make his greatest impact.

Wallace's performance has been pat from the start, addressed to audiences with push-button reactions to his assaults on lack of law and order, on federal interference with education that aid Negroes, on softness toward academic and youth dissenters and Communists. Wallace came here for the first time. He had obeyed a police suggestion last February to cancel a visit that might have touched off fresh disturbances among Philadelphia's Negro population.

TROUBLE IS MINOR

There was one minor scuffle inside the hall Wednesday night and some outside. Wallace also was picketed at a later fundraising dinner downtown where one arrest was made. Otherwise, he was ignored.

There is a curious old-fashioned and do-it-yourself quality to the Wallace campaign, from the arrival of the crowds bearing scrawled signs to the band warming up the audience and the flower girl Wallace pecks dutifully on a cheek.

The all-white audience in the cardinal-red seats wore its devotion to Wallace openly on its sleeve, cheering before Wallace made a delayed arrival—so that more people could show up—and reacting in stormy ovations to such band offerings as God Bless America. There was special enthusiasm whenever television cameras turned their way.

There was an opening prayer that Wallace be granted the presidency to restore law and order and overturn the Supreme Court decision banning prayer in schools. There was a collection for the nickel-and-dime support behind the Wallace campaign.

CONFEDERATE, TOO

There was also the usual shouting, stamping, flag-waving—Confederate and American flags—ovation, lasting 14 minutes this time. Through it, Wallace in a dark blue suit snapped off salutes, clapped in time to Dixie and Yankee Doodle Dandy, blew the occasional kiss, spoke to newspaper men and watched the crowd with a smile that never touched his big, black, observant eyes.

"Have your day now," he told the first fairly-faint chant of heckling from the back of the arena. "After Nov. 5, you're through."

He read a list of union leadership support, most from the South and much from Alabama, as evidence that residents of heavily-industrialized Pennsylvania could have faith in him.

"I'll tell you, honey—O h, you're not a shee, you're a he," he said at another eruption of dissent. This is a standard Wallace thrust at long-haired youth. But his opponents were too far away for him to detect who was female or otherwise.

News in brief

Will enter

MONTREAL (CP) — The Young Socialist League, which claims a cross-Canada membership of 200, is to enter a candidate for the Dec. 4 provincial byelection in Bagot riding primarily to fight the Union Nationale party's nominee, Education Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal.

A spokesman for the league said it plans to run Michel Mill, 24-year-old University of Montreal mathematics student, as its candidate in the riding left vacant on the death in September of former Quebec Premier Daniel Johnson.

Student unrest

MONTREAL (CP) — T. Stewart Webster, dean of student affairs at Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., says student unrest on Canadian campuses is the result of an "avalanche" of liberally-educated youth entering university from permissive homes.

Dean Webster told students at Loyola College here Wednesday night students today are involved in increasingly impersonal institutions and are left with little time for reflection.

Men missing

FORT VERMILION, Alta. (CP) — Three men missing since Sunday in a light plane were found safe Wednesday by an RCMP aircraft at an airstrip on isolated Margaret Lake, 45 miles north of here.

"The plane was spotted and the people were doing fine," said RCMP Cpl. Joe Collinson of Fort Vermilion.

Barefoot girls

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP) — "Should women be kept barefoot, pregnant and in the kitchen?"

That was the question debated Wednesday night by two students at all-male Hamilton College and two co-eds from Hamilton's new sister school, Kirkland College.

The middle aisle of Hamilton's science auditorium served as the dividing line for about 250 students serving as judges, with Hamilton's men outnumbering Kirkland's women by about 7 to 5.

Robert Linder, arguing the affirmative, said women were created second and should stay second.

Farm Credit Act bill is delayed by Opposition criticism

OTTAWA (CP) — Proposed amendments to the Farm Credit Act ran into a barrage of opposition criticism and suggestions in the Commons again Wednesday, delaying passage of the bill.

The measure would increase capitalization of the Farm Credit Corp. and broaden the conditions under which loans are made.

The government ran into criticism for its proposal to wipe out a reference in the act to "family farms" and for the wording of provisions which would extend credit to Indians on reservations and to Indian bands.

Debate on the bill continues today when it is expected to get third reading and be sent to the Senate for final approval.

Earlier criticism focussed on the removal of the fixed five-per-cent interest rate.

Wednesday the House gave unanimous approval to a government amendment making it clear that the act would provide loans for farming corporations or co-operatives by individual groups of Indians, as well as to Indian bands as a whole.

But they criticized the $100,000 limit on the loans.

Jack Horner (PC-Crowfoot) proposed an amendment to remove the limit and John Burton (NDP—Regina East) moved another which would require consultation with the Indian affairs department to set the limit for each loan. Both amendments were defeated 67 to 43, with Conservatives, New Democrats and Creditists voting against the government.

Lincoln Alexander (PC—Hamilton West) said the $100,000 limit "smacked of discrimination." It did not take into account the different size of the bands or the various capital requirements.

Agriculture Minister Olson replied that the $100,000 limit applied to all loans to corporations and co-operatives regardless of the number of people involved.

Cabbies, cops clash

MONTREAL (CP) — A demonstration by taxi drivers which led to a clash with riot-equipped police and a series of skirmishes along Montreal streets Wednesday night, left two policemen injured, at least eight persons arrested and six vehicles either burned out or badly damaged.

He said the legislation is designed to treat Indians exactly the same as other Canadians. The Indians would be able to use all the money for capital improvements as none of it would have to be spent on land.

The present act had excluded Indians as reservation land cannot be used as security for a mortgage. Donald MacInnis (PC—Cape Breton-East Richmond) said Indians are not being treated as other Canadians if they are to be held responsible for the loan to the band as well as for the loan they may receive as individual farmers or part of a farm corporation.

CITES AGREEMENT

Mr. Olson said everyone is responsible to the degree that they have an equity in the entity. The controlling factor in loans to Indians was the agreement of the Indian affairs minister.

Protesting a limousine service's monopoly on passenger traffic from Montreal International Airport, the cab drivers converged on the airport shortly after 7 p.m. and began hurling bottles filled with gasoline at buses and limousines loading passengers from incoming flights.

Two of the service's cars were overturned and one of them was set afire, injuring a provincial police officer who was standing nearby.

Police said the injured officer was burned on the leg.

At the start of the demonstration, police had massed 30 local officers from suburban Dorval, 60 provincial officers and 25 RCMP. But within 30 minutes, about 450 police were at the airport. They included 50 Dorval police officers, 200 provincial police and 200 RCMP.

Members of the QPP were equipped with helmets, truncheons and protective shields.

The demonstrators, who police said included about 400 cab drivers and about 100 student sympathizers, were quickly routed. They returned to their cars and began driving around a traffic circle adjacent to the airport, shouting taunts at police.

While a squad of about 100 provincial police were busy manning roadblocks at the traffic circle, a group of cab drivers less than 500 feet away prepared to ambush vehicles from the limousine service which still were ferrying passengers to and from Montreal.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — I know a gal whose face wouldn't stop a clock, but it sure keeps the phone from ringing.

Residents are tired of screeching brakes and squealing tires

The same corner at Belvedere Heights where two other fatalities have occurred, was the scene of another weekend accident, resulting in the death of a 20-year-old Sherbrooke youth. Many others have been hospitalized or have escaped with less serious injuries incurred at the same spot — the last only two months ago.

A changing array of signals and signs have failed to halt a series of accidents that have become predictable.

Local residents have tired of being aroused at all hours, converting their homes into first aid stations and even in one case having to testify as witnesses. They have become accustomed to the screeching of brakes and squealing of tires accompanying the many vehicles that barely negotiate the 90 degree turn. One sports car that overturned, seriously injuring all of its occupants, landed on a huge rock in a nearby brook. The rock was promptly removed.

The Belvedere road, categorized by the roads department as "third class" ends abruptly at the gravel surfaced Haskell Hill road, some three miles from the city limits, thereby creating only one of its hazards.

The only exit from the Belvedere Development is at the top of a hill, while a pile up of cars at the "four corners" during the winter season is a common sight. Though the installation of lights at this intersection has greatly reduced the accident risk, motorists from Lennoxville must come to a full stop, and are then frequently unable to gain enough momentum to ascend a short, steep hill leading to Sherbrooke.

By IVY PANKOVITCH
(Special to The Record)

Designed to serve a primarily rural population, the same road with an asphalt surface now serves an additional eighty families scattered among three housing developments. The Bellevue Club, the Belvedere Club with a membership of 225 and a new church all contribute to an ever increasing flow of traffic.

R. S. Broadhurst, secretary treasurer of the Municipality of Ascot, said that many improvements on the existing road have already been implemented, including lights, signs, culverts etc. He added that there will continue to be accidents as long as there are reckless drivers who ignore the traffic signals.

One car that missed the turn at the Heights belonged to the Provincial Police. An officer, who claimed that it would take a week to produce exact statistics on any one particular area, maintained that it is only one of many inadequate roads within their territory. He stated that there were innumerable accidents and three fatalities at the Woolco exit on the Bourque boulevard before authorization was received from Quebec to install lights.

All roads in the province are under the jurisdiction of the Minister of Roads, Fernand Lafontaine. A local representative, Mr. Lambert, said plans are underway for complete reconstruction of the road from the Haskell Hill turn off to the Golf club, but no similar plans exist to rebuild the section between the city limits and Belvedere Heights.

Asbestos politicians will contest seats in upcoming November fight

ASBESTOS — (Special) — Elections for a town mayor and two aldermen will be held in this mining town on November 4th when six candidates are eligible in the running.

Nominations were held, last week, when Armand Larivee was elected by acclamation to seat Number 1, formerly held by Leo Paul Thibault, who resigned, to take up the fight for the mayoralty office.

Mr. Thibault has as opposition, Dr. Lucien Bachand, who isn't for the first time, taking a stand in the running for a political position. Mayor J. Maurice Beauchemin is retiring from the office.

The other seats contested are Number 3 and 4, where Roger Lambert and Leo Dussault are seeking re-election in opposition to newcomers Raoul Croteau and Paul Pelletier.

The elections will be held in the Town Hall building, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m., November 4. Some 2,377 rate payers are eligible to vote.

The owners of the Confection Moderne, a local ladies' wear manufacturer have been advised to vacate the premises by January 15, 1969. The property has been bought by the Canadian Johns-Manville Company, the land being required for the Jeffrey Mine pit expansion.

Mrs. Rene Raiche, manager of the small industry feels that they may make a move to Danville as a suitable location in Asbestos is hard to find.

Council approved an increase in salary of $25 per week to the following personnel: Rosaire Martel, Alberic Beaulieu and Herve Giguere, retroactive to January 1, 1968; Armand Proulx, treasurer, and Chief of Police Adrien Larivee, retroactive to March 1; Fernand Rainville, engineer, retroactive to July 1; Yvon Hamel, secretary and clerk of the court will receive $25 and $14 for each position, respectively, retroactive to September 1, 1968.

In sympathy with the Domtar strikes in Windsor the Asbestos Fibre Syndicate presented the group with a cheque to the amount of $3,090 and another amount of $1,190 to the off-the-job workers at East Angus.

James F. Fletcher of the Canadian Johns - Manville Fibre Division of Asbestos has been appointed manager of the Advocate Mine in Newfoundland.

The Senior Members Championship tournament played at the Asbestos Golf Club recently, was won by Les Gartshore. Reynald Proulx was second place with Stan Dufresne in third position.

Council approved a grant of $150 to aid the Asbestos Hospital committee in their work.

Mine fights air pollution

THETFORD MINES — In a move aimed at eliminating dust emanation from its King Mine plant, Asbestos Corporation Limited announced it is spending $228,000 to install an electrostatic precipitator in the dryers at this ore preparation and storage facility close to the centre of the city.

Like all Quebec's asbestos mining companies, Asbestos Corporation has invested many hundreds of thousands of dollars in past years to improve dust conditions inside its plants.

To collect dust, the electrostatic precipitator in the King Mine dryers will work on a principle similar to that of the ordinary plastic comb, which, when passed through the hair, builds up a charge of static electricity that attracts materials to the comb.

Installation will be completed next spring.

Similar equipment will also be installed to eliminate dust emanation from the two-million dollar ore preparation and storage plant that is to be constructed near the King-Beaver Mine office.

A local contracting firm, Thomas Fecteau et Fils, is currently clearing the site for the new plant.

With more capacity than the installation it is replacing, the new plant is expected to be completed in August 1969. It will treat all ore mined in the King-Beaver open pit. Ore from the two Asbestos Corporation underground shafts in Thetford Mines will continue to be treated at the King Mine plant.

Milk price up a cent Friday

The price of a quart of milk will be increased by one cent, from 29 to 30 cents a quart, instead of the two cents, Roger Couture, president of the Eastern Townships Branch of the Association of Industrial Dairy-men said this morning.

The new price will be in effect this Friday, November 1.

The price increase will affect Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Magog, Coaticook, Windsor and East Angus milk drinkers.

Mr. Couture said yesterday that even though the price of a quart of milk in other parts of the province, but for rare exceptions, is 32 cents, the ET branch of the association opted for a one cent increase because of this region's economic condition.

Large families will still be able to buy milk at 28 cents per quart.

Even though a single quart of milk will cost 30 cents, two quarts bought together will cost just 58 cents and three quarts will cost 84 cents, equalling 28 cents per quart.

Mr. Couture explained that the increase was necessitated by an increase in the cost of milk to the industrial dairymen.

who have to pay 50 cents per 100 pounds of milk to the farmers.

This cost-increase goes into effect tomorrow.

He said the 100 pounds equal 38 quarts of milk and it costs industrial dairymen over a cent more per quart with the increase in farmers' prices.

Massawippi C of C seeks cut in tolls

NORTH HATLEY — (Staff) — The Lake Massawippi Chamber of Commerce has agreed to send a resolution asking for lower toll rates on the ET Autoroute to MLA Glen Brown and MLA Claude Gosselin.

The resolution, which states "That Autoroute tolls be reduced by selling tokens at 50 per cent of present costs, in amounts of $5" will also be sent to all Eastern Townships municipalities, to the Sherbrooke and Stanstead Chambers of Commerce and to the Autoroute Association of Montreal.

The resolution was passed at the regular meeting of the Lake Massawippi Chamber at Hovey Manor.

Mr. Brown is MLA in Bromfield County and Mr. Gosselin represents Compton County.

The Chamber is also asking provincial authorities to consider placing bilingual road signs on the Stanstead Highway route and also to allot a route number for the road leading from Compton through Waterville to Magog.

The Chamber officers proposed to hold the annual social dinner at Hovey Manor, Wednesday, December 4 at 6:30 p.m. Glen Brown will be the guest speaker.

Rev. J. C. Arnold took his scripture reading from John 1 and his sermon was on Peter the Rock, his life with Christ and how he began the Christian Church in Rome, for which he gave his life.

The Sawyerville choir, joined by the East Clifton junior choir, led in the hymns. The Junior choir sang as an anthem, This is My Father's World.

Cancer Society's year a success

CANCER SOCIETY MEET — Dr. Yvan Blouin was elected president of the Sherbrooke Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society at its annual

chairman of the society's annual Daffodil Day, who was decorated for the work she has contributed to this project;

and Jean Pednault, provincial representative of the Canadian Cancer Society. (Record photo: Gerry Lemay)

The Sherbrooke Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society received a new president last night and the committee reports for the past year were submitted by committee chairmen at the society's annual meeting held at the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

A significant highlight of last night's meeting was the financial report which revealed the society attained its objective of $10,500 revenue this year.

This report showed that the society's Daffodil Day, April 5, netted $3,155.63.

Daffodil Day will be held March 29 in 1969.

Total revenue for the past fiscal year amounted to $15,548.39.

This amount includes the In Memoriam contributions which total $492.50.

This is money donated to the society by people who are ased by a recently deceased person's relatives to send funds to the society, i.e., in lieu of flowers.

The surrounding municipalities which do not conduct a campaign donated $525 to the society and door-to-door canvassers amassed $1,378.50.

Private benefactors contributed $4,710.10 to the Society's fight against cancer and a total of $1,811.40 was received from industry.

The International Order of Oddfellows donated $2,200 to the society, it was announced last night.

The campaign in Bury, East Hatley and Stanstead contributed $912.50 to the society's funds.

The Welfare Committee report showed that 116 society volunteers prepared dressings for cancer patients.

Christmas gifts were also given to patients.

The society also paid $341 for the transportation of cancer patients to hospitals where they received treatment.

Michel Cote said, has an impressive criminal record for a man so young.

Yesterday, Carrier pleaded guilty to breaking into the Waterville Golf Club and stealing $80.

He also pleaded guilty to stealing a 1963 model car worth $500 from Gabriel Blouin in Coaticook.

On October 29, he stole a 1968 model car worth $4,700 from Dominique Bolduc, of Coaticook.

In Lennoxville, the accused caused $70.97 damage to Mr. Bolduc's car.

Judge Turmel agreed that for a man who is just 21 years old, Carrier has an imposing criminal record.

Two other young men, Rene Dube, 20, and Jean-Guy Mathieu, 21, both of Coaticook, were also involved in the theft of Mr. Bolduc's car.

They both pleaded guilty to stealing the 1968 model car worth $4,700 and they will also be sentenced November 4.

Two men, Armand Desmarais, of St. Isidore d'Auckland, and Napoleon Desmarais, of Sherbrooke, pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of advertising in newspapers and on printed cards that they were practicing, licenced doctors.

Neither of the two men is a legal doctor.

Judge Turmel fined each of the men $200 and costs, in default 30 days in jail.

They were both given a month's delay to pay the fines.

Mrs. Rosaire Roy, of St. Gerard, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegally practicing medicine, without a physician's licence.

She was fined $100 and court costs or 30 days in jail.

She was given a month's delay to pay the fine and costs.

Car thief's sentence is remitted to Monday

Robert Carrier, 21, address unknown, pleaded guilty yesterday in Court of Sessions to two charges of car theft, one charge of breaking and entering with theft and one charge of causing damages to one of the stolen cars.

Judge Benoit Turmel remitted the accused to Monday, November 4.

Zoned postal charges deserve close study

Suggestions made by Senator Paul Desruisseaux during the Senate debate of legislation to increase postal charges on Canadian newspapers by as much as 400 per cent that the zone system now effective in the United States be studied by the Canadian postal administration deserves something more than cavalier treatment by Postmaster General Eric Kierans.

Under the system now applicable in the United States, newspapers pay lower postal charges on that portion of their circulation delivered within a certain radius of their place of publication than on mail deliveries made to distant points.

Such a system enables small dailies, such as the Sherbrooke Record, to serve their own markets but pay higher rates when they mail to distant areas.

In addition to aiding the community dailies, the zone system also admits the fact — which Canadian authorities seem to deny — that it costs more to transport mail long distances than it does to deliver it locally.

Senator Desruisseaux has had extensive experience in the publishing field and his proposals are based on studies made of the postal systems of this country and the United States.

The least Mr. Kierans can do is to make the study of comparative rates in the two countries, as suggested by the Senator, rather than press through drastic increases in charges that might deprive many Canadians of their local daily papers.

Viewing the merchandise in the stores, we can only conclude that Santa has junked his sleigh in favor of arrival by Halloween pumpkin.

Postal trick or treat

Tonight is the time for "trick or treat," when people under the guise of Halloween are permitted to do things they would not normally condescend to do.

For adults who deem any trick on the government is in itself a wonderful treat, we might suggest a little hocus pocus for the benefit of Postmaster General Kierans.

After the ghosts and gamins have completed their rounds, householders could engage in one of the greatest letter-writing bashes of all times.

They could undertake a real Mail Early for Christmas spree, sending out their cards and letters to everyone they have neglected during the year but whom they must remember before 1968 comes to a close.

But to make the trick effective, all communications must be at the post office before midnight.

Mail deposited before this hour can be sent at the current rates of five cents for a letter destined to anywhere in Canada and four cents for local delivery, while the greeting cards can go for four cents.

This deadline must be observed scrupulously, not only because all ghosts must retire at midnight but because after this time the treat will be for Mr. Kierans and not the trick — the recipient of the communications will be required to pay double the deficiency between the old rates and the new — six cents for all letters and five cents for post cards.

Surest way to bring an unexpected visit from the Old Man is to do a little paper-plane flying in the office some afternoon.

TODAY in history

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Oct. 31, 1968 . . .

Martin Luther, reformer and Bible translator, nailed his 95 theses on the church door in Wittenburg 451 years ago today—in 1517. His original theses, directed against the sale of indulgences by the Dominican monk Johann Tetzel, were burnt as heretical, but translations spread through Germany. Luther, known as the founder of Protestant civilization, died in 1546.

1873 — An international railway bridge was completed across the Niagara River at Buffalo.

1902 — The first telegraph from Brisbane, Australia, to Vancouver was completed.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1918—Austria and Hungary were proclaimed republics, marking the end of the dual monarchy; the Bosnian national council at Sarajevo proclaimed the amalgamation of Bosnia and Herzegovina with Serbia.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1943—Russian Army units advanced to within eight miles of the German force's last escape route from the Crimea by capturing ing Chaplinka; the RCAF announced the award of the DFC to PO Borden Dennison of Cardale, Man.; the Canadian right wing of the British 8th Army captured the Italian villages of Cantalupo, Macchiagodena and Frosolone.

The funny thing is, he doesn't seem to have a witch in class

TORONTO (CP) — Frank Thayer has never seen a witch or a werewolf in his life.

But that doesn't prevent him teaching Canada's only college-level course in witchcraft and black magic.

"The funny thing is I don't seem to have a single witch in the class," says the 29-year-old graduate of New Mexico State University.

This soberly dressed, serious-minded young academic doesn't look much like a witch—or a warlock—himself. He's the kind of cool young academic you find on any campus, not the kind you associate with the world of Dracula, werewolves and Halloween sorcery.

He tells you in his dispassionate way about the course in Occult Science he has introduced at Centennial College, Scarborough—possibly the first college in the world to offer it.

He talks easily about Halloween, the eve of All Saints Day, which in Druid times was an evening when bonfires were lit on hilltops to ward off witches and guide the spirits of the departed to their kinsmen's homes.

TEACHES AT NIGHT

More than half the students in the course are women—some of them suburban housewives—but "none of them, so far, has come dressed all in black."

Appropriately enough, the course is taught only at night.

It is attracting considerable interest and Mr. Thayer, head of Centennial's communications department and a native of Hurley, N.M., says people "are becoming increasingly interested in the mind and some of the super-normal phenomena associated with it."

He cites the rapid expansion of studies in parapsychology, psychiatry and other fringe areas of medicine.

"This is the century of the mind," he says. "We're trying to understand how the power of the mind may be controlled and channelled. That's why it's so interesting to look at witchcraft, voodoo, magic and the other arts of the occult."

He goes on to give a quick tour of the occult, drawing on a wide reading of such literature as Bram Stoker's Dracula and Sir James Frazer's The Golden Bough.

He admits he has "no direct pipeline" to the supernatural. And he discounts the bogus practitioners of magic who have done much to bring the occult into disrepute.

ATTACKS SKEPTICS
But he also attacks the skeptics who adopt a cynical "show me" attitude whenever the occult is mentioned.

"In an age of science we tend to overlook many things," he says.

"We don't know much about mental force. If thought is energy and energy is indestructible, a person may be able to project thought—give it form, even knock over bottles."

This may, he suggests, help account for the frequently reported activities of ghosts and poltergeists and "things that go bump in the night—or during the day."

He says the power of the mind is most likely to be concentrated at times of extreme emotional stress.

"There are times when the mind seems to open and we become capable of extraordinary things."

He talks, for example, of the African witch-doctor and the Haitian obeah man (voodoo doctor) who can kill with a look.

"They kill by magic, without touching the victim—using a power like auto-suggestion—and they seem to be able to heal by the same power of the mind."

Medical men, he says, have suddenly become interested in the power of the mind to cause and cure illness.

COULD LOSE POWER

It's become respectable, he says, to talk of psychosomatic illness—caused or made worse by one's own thought.

"The cure for disease—especially mental illness—may lie within the control of the deepest levels of thought."

But Mr. Thayer says he himself doesn't much care if the occult becomes respectable or not.

"It's an art or ritual that tends to lose its power and mystery once you try to pin it down with controls and experiments and the labels of science."

He says magic and witchcraft have been taken seriously for centuries—"look at the pervasiveness of legends of werewolves and witches."

He has helped contribute to the legends himself by writing a series of horror-fiction short stories. Some of them were published recently in Britain and the United States in the anthology Travellers by Night.

The werewolf legend—that people can change into other shapes, especially animal—may have a basis in fact, he says.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room

"Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God." (John 3:3, RSV)

PRAYER: O Father God, who by Thy Son Jesus Christ hast redeemed me, fill my heart with true love for Thee, Thy people, and Thy church. Enable me to desire, to discern and to do Thy will at all times, in all places, and under all circumstances. In Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

Bygone days

TEN YEARS AGO

EAST FARNHAM — The Quebec Sherbrooke Presbytery Women's Association Regional Fall rally was held at East Farnham United Church with the regional key woman, Mrs. Carl Thomas, presiding.

The meeting opened with a hymn followed by a Scripture reading.

A quotation on consecrated effort was read by Mrs. K. R. Rose.

Mrs. Stewart Harrowing sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Clark Powers, of Brigham, as organist.

Mrs. C. Wilson, of Sherbrooke, spoke of the necessity for filling in all blanks on the yearly report to enable the recording secretary to make a complete report for the annual meeting in June.

Mrs. Bauman made and supplied several explanatory posters to assist the groups in understanding the various divisions on the report.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Persons attending the Sherbrooke Rotary Fair next Thursday Friday and Saturday will be contributing to an important social service for Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships.

By patronizing the fair and being entertained in the bazaar, our citizens will be assisting young people like the following, whose story appears in the casebook of the Rotary Club.

The father of Pat, John and David, aged seven, 10 and 11 years, died of tuberculosis.

The Sherbrooke Rotary Club was instrumental in finding the mother a job and paid for the board of the three youngsters for a six weeks period until arrangements were made to place them in a home in Quebec City.

Whether they are called upon to render financial assistance to persons such as the above or to pay for surgical operations such as the correction of club foot or more serious surgery, the Rotary Club members never shirk.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

ROCK ISLAND — The "35" Club met at the Social Rooms on Wednesday evening, and sponsored a brush demonstration, presented by Mrs. Dixon, of Sherbrooke.

There was an attendance of 10 members and 13 visitors from the Ladies' Aid and Helping Circle.

The demonstration began at 8 o'clock and proved very interesting as the various brushes were demonstrated and passed around.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Demick, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Carson.

The Club received 15 per cent of the sales, and the treasurer reported that the amount received was $9.50.

In place of the next meeting, a banquet for the American Red Cross delegation will be served at the Social Rooms.

A silver collection was taken up, and this was placed in the building fund.

Bathing Band

When King George III of England bathed in the sea at Weymouth, he was followed into the water by the town band. The fully clothed musicians loyally waded up to their knees without missing a note of "God Save the King."

COMMENT

by Lubor J. Zink

OTTAWA — (TNS) — When the United Nations came officially into being on Oct. 24, 1945, its paramount purpose was "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

Twenty-three years later two savage wars are being fought in Asia and Africa but neither of the conflicts appears on the agenda of the world organization. At the same time another major international crisis created by the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia, has been shelved with all its fearsome implications. And while the flammable aftermath of last year's Arab-Israeli war is the subject of some UN deliberations, the organization is powerless to prevent another explosion in the Middle East.

Nor can the UN do anything to stop, or at least alleviate, the suffering of occupied Tibet which, like the systematic slaughter of a whole ethnic group in Southern Sudan, goes on unnoticed by the international community.

In a word, where it really matters, the United Nations is just as powerless as was its predecessor, the League of Nations, whose impotence encouraged the aggressive totalitarianism of a generation ago to embark on military conquests.

There was a brief period after World War II when most of us believed — as did our fathers after World War I — that henceforth relations between nations would take the form of civilized intercourse among representative governments adhering to a hoped-for code of international law.

The establishment of the United Nations on the basis of the noble principles of its charter was seen as the beginning of a new era of rational co-operation between peoples of all races, creeds and social structures.

Old animosities of whatever origin were to be erased from the bloodstained record of mankind and possible new frictions were to be nipped in the bud around the conference table.

This beautiful dream did not last long. Within three years of the defeat of one predatory totalitarian system which aspired to conquer the world, it became apparent that another ruthless and ambitious dictatorial structure was bent on forcing its will on the rest of the family of man.

One by one the countries of eastern and central Europe fall victim to Soviet Communist imperialism which, while paying lip service to the UN charter, flouted it in its expansionist practice with the age-old cynicism of conquering might.

The western democracies which sought to continue their wartime alliance with Soviet Russia within the framework of the United Nations, watched the process in stunned disbelief until the brutal reality of the new menace forced them to band together outside the UN for common defence.

It was this Soviet aggressiveness and flouting of solemn treaties which dealt a crippling blow to the concept of the United Nations as the keeper of peace and guarantor of the small countries' right to self-determination. The UN has never recovered from that blow and when it failed to respond to Hungary's desperate plea for help at the end of October, 1956, the pattern of the organization's steady decline was firmly established.

By now the UN can not only not assert its intended peace-keeping role, but it does not even dare to discuss the host blatant breaches of its charter. This impotence stems directly from the organization's initial failure to prevent the revival of the jungle law principle that might is right.

International gangsterism by predatory totalitarianism thus once again engulfed the world scene and created an atmosphere of fear which chokes the remaining whispers of conscience in the United Nations. Fear of the Soviet nuclear arsenal and fear of the racial sensibilities of the Afro-Asian bloc guarantees silence on practically all these explosive issues.

It is within the context of this brutal reality that assessments of international crisis (including such seemingly local conflicts as the civil war in Nigeria) have to be sought if we are to understand the multitude of dangerous moves on the global chessboard and the effect of these moves on our own security.

Unfortunately, the rock-bottom facts of the world situation as they exist today remain largely hidden from the public view under layers of make-believe oratory which, in our case, maintains the fiction that the UN, despite its manifest impotence, continues to be both the cornerstone and the chief instrument of our foreign policy.

Lesage will give a major policy speech

BOLTON GLEN — (Staff) — Glen Brown, MLA, Brome, said that Opposition Leader Jean Lesage will deliver a major policy speech, at the Knowlton High School, November 10, at 3 p.m.

Mr. Brown said the text will be entitled "The Problems in Quebec and Their Solution with Jean Lesage and his party."

Mr. Brown said that he felt that the major part of the speech will be aimed at the language problem.

The meeting, according to Mr. Brown, is being held in Brome, as Mr. Lesage felt that it would be unwise to deliver a policy speech in the NDG riding before the by-election, and that Brome is a major provincial English riding.

Economic breakdown then divorce

VANCOUVER (CP) — A female judge in Ontario debtors' court says it's a short road from her courtroom to divorce court.

Judge Edna Sanders Ferguson, here on a visit from Toronto, said in an interview the first step in the evolution to divorce is marital breakdown.

"And the chief reason for marriage breakdown is, in my opinion, economic immaturity."

Judge Ferguson is an Ontario division court judge and is also affiliated with juvenile and family courts in that province. Most of her work consists of dealing with problems created by debts.

"The pattern of a couple not being able to live within their means and living on the crest of credit not only wrecks a marriage but also stamps the children with a scar that is hard to overcome," she said.

Judge Ferguson said persons whose marriages are foundering in an economic swamp seek escape in many channels.

"Some become strong, some slap-happy, others are convinced that the fault is not theirs and some feel that the solution lies in divorce."

"The adjustment for an adult to another spouse is great, but it is even more overwhelming to the children of the first marriage."

Judge Ferguson said chronic failure to cope successfully with money problems cannot be solved by remarriage, and often the same failure can destroy the basis for second or third marriages.

The solution, she said, lies in education and the proposition that everyone should be self-supporting before marriage.

CUTTING THE CAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Graeme Bassett are shown at the Toronto Hunt Club following their recent wedding at Grace Church On The Hill, Toronto.

Beautiful autumn afternoon for Bassett-Temple wedding

TORONTO — The beautiful autumn afternoon wedding of the former Miss Susan Joan Temple to Douglas Graeme Bassett took place Oct. 19 at Grace Church On The Hill with the reception following at the Toronto Hunt Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Riordon Douglas of Forest Hill. She wore a beautiful gown of candlelight silk peau de soie. It had a high neck deep fronted with streams of glittering crystals and pearls, long sleeves jewelled at the cuffs and a tubular train which swept grandly from the back of her waist.

Her headpiece, a narrow band embroidered in matching satin and beads, held in place a 10-foot veil of candlelight tulle illusion. She carried a simple bouquet of white orchids and tuber roses.

Her five bridesmaids, and one flower girl, wore pale pink gowns of silk ottoman, with a wide aisle green sash at the waist, and huge hair bows in the same material with streamers which flowed down the back to the ground. The dresses had large wrist-length puffed sleeves, stand-up collars and full skirts with a deep inverted pleat in front.

The maid of honor was Miss Jane Dunlop. The bridesmaids were Mrs. James B. Clubb of Montreal, Mrs. William P. Cooper, Mrs. Hugh F. McLellan and Miss Elizabeth Munro. The little flower girl was Miss Victoria Bassett, a niece of the groom's.

Douglas Bassett is the son of Mrs. Moira Bassett and John Bassett, former publisher of The Sherbrooke Daily Record. The groom's best man was his brother John F. Bassett. The ushers were his other brother David Bassett, Robert A. Donaldson, Fredrick S. Eaton, David Gestetner of London, Douglas McKimley, Hugh F. McLellan, John O'Connor of Montreal, and the bride's two brothers, David G. Temple and Donald P. Temple.

Canon James Craig performed the ceremony. Standards of white flowers and candelabra banked the altar. Up the centre aisle attached to the end of each pew were more bouquets of white mums and daisies and at the back of the church at the main entrance were two more basket standards of flowers.

The reception took place on the front lawn of the Toronto Hunt Club under a huge, high marquee.

The bride's uncle, Lt. Col. Ian Douglas, proposed the toast to the bride, graduate of Bishop Strachan School and Miss Inghild's School of Design, London.

The groom, who is circulation manager of the Toronto Telegram, attended Upper Canada College, Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, and graduated from the University of New Brunswick.

On leaving for their Nassau honeymoon, the bride wore a white wool dress underneath a bright pink coat with black patent leather accessories.

Keep your hair fresh smelling by regular shampoos. A drop of your favorite perfume or toilet water in the rinse water will do wonders for feminine sweetness.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS Barbara Brent

MONTREAL, October 31st — Just the other day I had reason to be thankful that my BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA Cheque Guarantee Card was in my handbag. While strolling past a sidewalk art gallery, I suddenly spotted a little jewel of a painting. While it was not too expensive, still it was more than the ready cash I had with me. Without question or delay, the art dealer readily cashed my cheque — thanks to my Scotiabank Cheque Guarantee Card (turned out he had just acquired one!) No wonder I make sure wherever I go my Cheque Guarantee Card goes too. Why not drop in to any Scotiabank branch soon and get yourself one. Just think how handy it'll be during the coming Holiday Season!

REMEMBER THAT HEAVENLY AROMA in the kitchen when Mother used to do the baking? Well just the other day I recaptured that childhood memory. Where? In one of the many DOMINION STORES that now has its own bakery! At these In-Store bakeries over 40 kinds of bread are baked fresh every day — not to mention flaky-crust pies and tarts, feather-light cakes, crunchy cookies and so many other delectable confections. For those of us who are in a hurry — they even provide a 5 minute decorating service on birthday and special occasion cakes! And all this fine old-fashioned goodness is served up with the same old-fashioned Dominion courtesy.

A WORD TO THE WISE... two of the most pleasant and popular Canadian wines ever made are Brights 74 SHERRY and 74 PORT. 74 Sherry welcomes guests warmly — and its intriguingly nutty flavour has made it Canada's largest-selling premium sherry. Brights 74 Port is a rich wine, a perfect flavour-mate for desserts, for cheese and crackers. Both are pleasantly smooth wines — without a doubt wines that appeal to almost any taste. In my home, I'm always prepared with Brights 74 Sherry and 74 Port to welcome friends and unexpected guests. Their modest price makes this easy to do. You'll thank me for the suggestion, I know!

walk off jobs

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's 3,000 longshoremen, concerned about waterfront working conditions, took an unscheduled half-day off Wednesday and returned to work after lunch.

The work stoppage was interpreted as a show of force to coincide with the start of negotiations on a 1969 contract. The present contract between the International Longshoremen's Association and the Shipping Federation of Canada expires Dec. 31.

About 300 of the longshoremen answered a call to a four-hour "study session" at an east-end arena and the rest simply stayed away from work, temporarily tying up the loading and unloading of about 60 ships in port.

There was no comment from either the ILA or the shipping federation, which represents 40 companies.

In a terse statement Tuesday announcing the "study session," the ILA said only that there were grievances pertaining to work gangs and the dispatching of men.

PLAGUED BY STOPPAGES

The work stoppage was the latest in a number that have plagued the 13.5-mile waterfront since 1966 over a number of long-standing issues such as the size and number of work gangs, the weight of slings and the guaranteed hours of work.

The unrest appeared to have been settled last March when the ILA and the federation agreed to binding arbitration of contentious issues and a moratorium on strikes and lockouts until March 31, 1969.

The issues are being sifted by a three-man federal conciliation board under Judge Alan B. Gold of Quebec provincial court.

The board, scheduled to report to the labor minister March 31, has held between 50 and 60 meetings since last March to deal with grievances arising from interpretation of the present contract.

The current contract settled a 39-day strike of 4,500 longshoremen in the St. Lawrence River ports of Montreal, Quebec and Trois-Rivières in 1966.

It provided for a 30-per-cent pay increase and for "increased productivity," which included a reduction of the size of work gangs and removal of the former 2,100-pound limit on slings. The ILA subsequently asked to have the former conditions restored.

Finding a body

MONTREAL (CP) — Finding a body is about as close as the average citizen ever gets to the murky sub-culture of Montreal's underworld.

Montreal is one of the safest cities in North America to walk alone through at night, police say, but it nevertheless has an entrenched underworld—with its own code of ethics, judgments and solutions.

And finding a body is no longer a rarity.

A hunter, walking through bushland earlier this week outside Montreal stumbled on the latest victim of what police say is gangland warfare.

New service

QUEBEC (CP) — Creation of a new service to help immigrants adjust to life in Quebec was announced Wednesday by the department of education.

In a statement, the department said it will be called the Service d'orientation et de formation des immigrants (Immigrant orientation service), and will be under the direction of Mario Buzzanga of Quebec City.

Scandal-shaken

MONTREAL (CP) — Legal action has been instituted to have the scandal-shaken suburb of Pointe-aux-Trembles placed under the trusteeship of the Quebec Municipal Commission.

Pointe-aux-Trembles, a city of 30,000 occupying the eastern tip of Montreal Island, has been in a turmoil since last June when a provincial court judge found there had been "an extraordinary electoral fraud" in the election last year of Mayor Louis-Philippe St. Pierre and his four-man slate of aldermen.

The court ruling suspended the mayor and four of the suburb's six aldermen from their posts, but they remain in office while awaiting the results of an appeal.

Income down

MONTREAL (CP) — Robert Morse Corp. Ltd. reports net income of $1,378,000 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, down two per cent from the $1,399,000 reported for the corresponding 1967 period.

Net income was equivalent to $1.31 per class A and $1.23 per class B share, down from $1.52 and $1.44, respectively.

While nine-month income was below that of 1967, third-quarter results were better than last year's and the volume of orders on hand reached a record level.

Net earnings

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrial Acceptance Corp. Ltd. reports net earnings of $10,036,000 for the nine-month period ended Sept. 30, compared with $9,585,000 in the corresponding period of 1967.

After preferred dividends, net earnings were equal to $1.67 a share on the common stock, compared with $1.60 the previous year.

Third-quarter net earnings were $3,496,000 or 58 cents a share, compared with $3,251,000 or 54 cents in 1967.

Hercules

OTTAWA (CP) — A Canadian forces Hercules transport is reported finally on its way to deliver relief supplies to wartorn Biafra.

Prime Minister Trudeau broke the news in the Commons Wednesday. He said the plane — one of three Canadian Hercules that have been on standby for relief work since earlier this month — is carrying 20 tons of food.

Return home

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP) — Eight men returned to their homes in Saint John, N.B., today, with their sleek, 85-foot yacht presumed sunk somewhere in the stormy Atlantic 350 miles southeast of here.

The men, crew members aboard the yacht Atlanta II bound from New Brunswick's Deer Island to Bermuda, arrived in port here Wednesday aboard the Canadian Coast Guard cutter Rapid. They were to stay in Halifax overnight, returning to Saint John by plane today.

Rid apathy

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Martin Loney said Wednesday the biggest task facing the Canadian Union of Students, which he takes over as president next September, is to eliminate student apathy.

"The major problem at universities is not the faculty. It's not the administration. It's the student who accepts the high school view of education," he said in an interview.

Elections near

NEW YORK (CP) — "Five days to go" was the big sign in the body-crowded main room of an office suite on the 10th floor at 50 Rockefeller Plaza.

The suite is headquarters for the campaign to put New York state's 43 electoral college votes into Republican Richard Nixon's column in next Tuesday's United States presidential election.

Cure of Stuttering Takes Self-Confidence

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My husband, 27, has been stuttering since he was 5. When he is singing, he never stutters. A school nurse told him it was caused by cracked tonsils following a bout of whooping cough. Could this be the reason? Is there any help for him?

A—Because it is characteristic of stutterers that they can sing without stuttering, they should be encouraged to sing. Your husband's stuttering was certainly not caused by whooping cough, bad tonsils or any other organic disease but by a self-consciousness about his speech that was aggravated by having normal slips of the tongue called to his attention by over-solicitous parents or teachers.

Although there is no drug or magic cure for stuttering, much can be done to help your husband. When he is alone and relaxed, he should practice talking aloud to himself. This will help him to see that he can talk without stuttering. When he can feel just as relaxed talking to others, his stuttering will become negligible.

He must also practice "shadowing"—switching on the television and repeating aloud every word as he hears it. He must strive to repeat the words, not mechanically but with feeling. If he stumbles over an occasional word he must ignore it and concentrate on how well he is speaking. He must realize that no one's speech is perfect and that the only difference between himself and the rest of us is that we don't worry about our little slips.

The important point of all is for him to recognize that stuttering is not something that is happening to him but something that he himself is doing because he is trying too hard not to stutter. The more self-confidence he can gain about his speech, the faster he will overcome his difficulty.

Q—My son, 17, is taking Ritalin. What is it given for? Could it cause an acne-like rash on his face?

A—This drug, methylphenidate, is an antidepressant. It may cause a skin rash but, on the other hand, acne is very prevalent among teenagers. The drug should be taken only under medical supervision.

Q—My doctor is giving me Percodan pills for pains in my back. Are they habit-forming?

A—If taken daily, this pain killer may be habit-forming. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Young Debut
SEATTLE, Wash. — (NEA) — Joe Schultz, manager of the new Seattle Pilots of the American League, played in his first organized baseball game at the age of 13.

He was used as a pinch-hitter for the Houston team of the Texas League in 1931. He was batboy for the club and his father was the manager.

Times Change
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Bob Feerick, San Francisco Warriors general manager, led the NBA in scoring in the league's first season ever. He averaged 16.3 points a game. Last season, that average would not have made the top 20.

Four goals within six minutes of the last period allowed Sherwood to tie the Sherbrooke Indians 4-4 in a regular Dow Independent Hockey League game Tuesday evening at the Sports Palace.

Roger "Gee" Roy's Sherwood crew literally bombarded the Indians netminder Claude Messier. Messier turned aside 57 shots, 5 in the first, 21 in the second and the same number in the third.

Sherwood held the advantage of play throughout the game but in the first two periods could not find the range on several good opportunities.

The first period ended in a scoreless tie. In the second, the Indians scored three times to lead 3-0. In the third, the Sherbrooke Indians moved to a 4-0 margin before Sherwood found the range, tallying four times in six minutes. For the Indians, Guy Desruisseaux and Yvon Roy each scored once and assisted on another goal, with single goals tallied by Guy Gadois and Marc-Andre Roy.

Claude Pelchat, Gerard Guillemette, Gerald Caron, Rejean Leblanc, Marcel Caron and Donald Gilbert each picked up an assist.

For Sherwood, Richard Phaneuf led the way with a pair of goals and an assist. Single goals were scored by Gerald St. Laurent and Jacques Dostie.

Yvon Robert and Jacques Lacroix, former Eastern Townships Junior "B" League products, each picked up a pair of assists. Reynold Beaudoin, Jacques Beaudet and Andre Gagnon assisted on the other goals.

John Muckler named head coach of North Stars

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A trend toward younger coaches in the National Hockey League continued Wednesday when Minnesota North Stars named 34-year-old John Muckler to succeed Wren Blair.

The trend started following the 1967-68 season when Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens named Claude Ruel, then 29, to replace Toe Blake. It continued when Bernie Geoffrion, 37, succeeded Emile Francis as coach of New York Rangers.

Muckler, a Paris, Ont., native, has been general manager-coach of the North Stars' Memphis farm club of the Central League since Minnesota came into existence in June, 1967.

Blair's first appointment when he became general manager-coach of the Minnesota expansion franchise was the naming of Muckler as his top aide.

Wednesday, Blair decided that he could no longer do justice to both jobs, and tabbed Muckler as his new coach.

FEELS HAPPY
Muckler expressed his satisfaction at the news conference where the North Stars officially named him coach.

"I guess this means that I won't renew the lease on my house in Memphis," he said. "Seriously, I figure the North Stars will do well this season, but don't feel that any of the expansion West Division teams has the edge on any other."

"A team has to be up for every game, and the team that is up for most of the games will win our division."

Blair, flanked by Muckler and North Stars' president Walter Bush, made the announcement an hour before the North Stars lost to Boston Bruins 4-2.

Blair, a 43-year-old from Lindsay, Ont., said he would coach the team for three more games and Muckler would make his debut next Wednesday against Toronto Maple Leafs.

Ted O'Connor, the team's chief scout, was named as interim coach and general manager at Memphis.

"Obviously the dual job of general manager and coach is far too demanding in today's market and expanded league for one man to do too long and to do both jobs effectively," Blair said.

Beavers play hosts to Gauls tonight

Sherbrooke Beavers play hosts to the St. Hyacinthe Gauls for the first time this season tonight when the two teams meet at 8:30 p.m. at the Sports Palace.

In other Quebec Senior Hockey League action this evening the Victoriaville Tigers meet the red hot Granby Vics in Granby. The Vics have won their last three games since Jean-Paul Gladu took over as coach.

Tonight's game at the Sports Palace marks the third meeting this season of the Gauls and the Beavers. In the two previous outings St. Hyacinthe, on home ice, were victorious.

At present St. Hyacinthe is tied with Phil Watson's Chicoutimi Sagueniens for first place in the Quebec Senior Hockey League standings with 10 points. Both teams have won five and lost three games.

Sherbrooke, with a record of six losses, one tie and a lone win, is in last place. In two previous encounters with the Gauls the Beavers lost 7-1 and 5-2.

Beavers' coach Bruce Cline is confident that his Beavers will win. Even before the Sports Palace was built, St. Hyacinthe always seemed hoaxed on Sherbrooke ice.

Jacques Monette will be in nets this evening for the Bea-

Tigers again peppered the Sherbrooke netminder this time scoring three times, good enough for a 3-2 victory.

Captain Rene Pepin, always a scoring threat, will not be in uniform for Sherbrooke tonight due to the death of his father. As a result Jim Beckman, given a two-week rest, will probably return for tonight's encounter.

Yvon Lacoste, suffering from a painful leg injury, will be in action tonight along with Bob Foster who suffered a fractured nose Tuesday night in Victoriaville.

Gilles Cartier, who spent several seasons with the Beavers will return to Sherbrooke tonight in a Gauls' uniform. The Gauls are a well-balanced team and a victory for the Beavers will have to be earned.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

break their current slump. The Beavers have lost four games so far this season by one-goal margins.

In past years the Gauls found Sherbrooke a tough rink to play vers. In his last two outings Monette has played superbly, stopping 58 shots fired by the Tigers at him last Thursday, good enough to earn the locals a 2-2 tie. Tuesday evening the

Habs dump Leafs 5-0, Hawks edge Blues 4-2, Bruins nip North Stars

That old saying about life beginning at 40 usually isn't applied to athletes, but don't tell Doug Harvey.

Harvey apparently believes that a man of 43 can still play in the National Hockey League and so do his employers, St. Louis Blues.

The Blues, who have provided a home for several elderly hockey citizens, lead the Western Division of the NHL today. And Harvey deserves much of the credit.

The aging defenceman, who broke into the NHL 21 years ago, scored a goal and assisted on another Wednesday night to guide the Blues to a 4-1 victory against Philadelphia Flyers.

The victory moved St. Louis two points ahead of the second-place Oakland Seals who were not scheduled.

BEAT THE LEAFS
Elsewhere, Montreal Canadiens maintained their grip on first place in the Eastern Division by blanking Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0.

In other games, Chicago Black Hawks downed Los Angeles Kings 4-2, New York Rangers bombed Pittsburgh Penguins 7-3 and Boston Bruins took Minnesota North Stars 4-2.

Harvey, who joined the Blues during last spring's Stanley Cup playoffs after playing the season in the minors, got St. Louis off to a quick start Wednesday.

He scored his first goal of the season on a power play at 2:56 of the opening period. Then he picked up an assist late in the third period on Red Berenson's goal.

Two younger defencemen, Noel Picard and Barclay Plager, also scored their first goals of the season for the Blues. Gary Dornhoefer replied for the Flyers.

A crowd of 10,754 at St. Louis watched the Blues bring their record to four wins and four losses. Every other team in the Western Division has a losing record.

COUNTS TWICE
Jacques Lemaire paced the Canadiens to their victory against the Maple Leafs with two goals. Single goals came from Yvan Cournoyer, Gilles Tremblay and John Ferguson.

Rogatien Vachon stopped 25 shots to record his first shutout of the season and lower his goals-against average to 1.66 for six games.

The victory left the defending Stanley Cup champions one point ahead of Boston and Chicago.

The 16,485 fans at Maple Leaf Gardens, disturbed at Toronto's mediocre performance, cheered when it was announced there was one minute left in the game.

Bobby Hull scored one goal and assisted on two others to help the high-scoring Black Hawks to their victory. The three points moved Hull into a tie with team-mate Jim Pappin for third place in NHL scoring with 13 points.

Stan Mikita of Chicago, held scoreless by the Kings, still leads the scoring with 16 points.

Other Chicago snipers were Pappin, Pit Martin and Chico Maki. Scoring for the Kings in front of 9,407 Los Angeles fans were Howie Hughes and Jim Peters.

FROM BEHIND
Jean Ratelle and Bob Nevin scored two goals each to help the Rangers overcome an early three-goal deficit against Pittsburgh.

Nevin also picked up an assist to move into second place in the scoring race, one point back of Mikita.

Other New York scorers were Don Marshall, Vic Hadfield and Ron Stewart. The Penguins led 2-0 at the end of the first period on goals by Charlie Burns and Noel Price, and Jean Pronovost made it 3-0 early in the second period.

But a New York gathering of 13,111 saw the Rangers rally to win their fifth consecutive game against Western Division opposition.

The Bruins won on last-period goals by Eddie Shack and Johnny Bucyk. Derek Sanderson and Fred Stanfield scored the other Boston goals.

Shack, put into the clear on a pass from Ed Westfall, scored at 4:45. Bucyk's insurance tally came with only 35 seconds left to play.

A crowd of 10,982 had seen the hometown North Stars tie the game at 2-2 late in the second period on goals by Bill Goldsworthy and Andre Boudrias.

Games tonight have New York at Philadelphia and Boston meeting the Red Wings at Detroit.

Tickets to see Rangers are like snowballs in the desert

NEW YORK (CP) — "Getting a ticket to see the Rangers play in New York is like finding a hockey puck in Miami," said the bold type.

The square two-column-wide advertisement in a New York newspaper invited Rangers fans to travel to Philadelphia's Spectrum — "only 90 minutes away" — to see the Rangers play the Flyers in a National Hockey League game Thursday, Oct. 31; Wednesday, Dec. 25, and Thursday, Jan. 9.

Officials of the Rangers were shocked.

"It isn't so," they said of the claim tickets are hard to get here. The Rangers have not been filling their new Madison Square Garden this fall. Games against Western which include the Flyers — have been far from sellouts.

However, Toronto Maple Leafs filled the 17,240 seats here last Sunday, showing that the fans are still around — but choosy.

"I didn't think it was a very nice ad," one Ranger official said.

NOTE IRKSOME
His remark may have been provoked more by the little note at the end of the ad than what went before.

"And you can see from your seat, too," read the fine print.

One of the Rangers problems has been the sight lines of the new Garden. In conforming to New York City construction rules, the builders weren't able to make the elevation of the seats as steep as in some other arenas. But they had by removing handrails which had helped obstruct the view when the rink first was put into use last Feb. 18. The Rangers said Wednesday that Bill Putnam, Flyers' president, has apologized to them for the ad. He said he had had no prior knowledge of the text.

Gauls dominate QSPHL scoring race, R. Viens holds lead in battle

St. Hyacinthe Gauls dominate the scoring in the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League according to the report released yesterday by Bernard Brodeur, league statistician.

Real Viens holds a slim one-point lead over Gilles Gosselin and Guy Rousseau while another St. Hyacinthe player, G. Gratton is tied for fourth with M. Morrisette of Chicoutimi. This puts four St. Hyacinthe players in the top five of the league.

Viens has a total of 11 points while his mates have ten each. He has the edge in the assist department with six compared to five by his two mates, Rousseau and Gosselin. All three players have the same number of goals, five, which is tops in the league.

Morrisette has three goals to go with his six assists while Gratton has one marker and eight assists, which is the top in the league. Mike Labrosse of Victoriaville and Bob Bedard of Granby are deadlocked with eight in the standing. Each have four goals and the same number of assists.

The games of Tuesday are not included as well as the Sherbrooke-Chicoutimi of last Friday. Five players are tied in the next spot while the first Sherbrooke player, Bill Dupre, who won the scoring title last year has registered only two goals to go with his four assists.

The combination of Michel Mongeau and Jean-Guy Morrisette of Victoriaville are leading the goalies with their healthy average of 3.17 for their seven games played. Steve Rexe has allowed only five goals but he has played in only three games for 1.67 average. He has the only shut-out of the game.

The Chicoutimi duo of Cyr and Morasse are next in line with 3.67 while Andy Payette of St. Hyacinthe follows with 3.86 and the Granby duo of Pierre Chagnon and Y. Letarte have amassed an average of 4.00 which is the same as the two Sherbrooke goalies, Jacques Monette and Andre Gagnon.

Jean Levesque and J. C. Marcotte, Vict'ville, are setting the race for the most-penalized players in the circuit with 27 minutes each. Victoriaville is the most penalized team in the league with 154 while Sherbrooke follows with 132 minutes in the cooler.

Roughriders clinch WFL title, drop Esks 34-20

REGINA (CP) — George Reed continued a scoring spree Wednesday with four touchdowns as Saskatchewan Roughriders clinched first place in the Western Football Conference with a 34-20 win over Edmonton Eskimos.

Reed, who scored three touchdowns Oct. 23 against Winnipeg Blue Bombers, boosted his season total to 16 for 96 points and second place in the WFL scoring race.

He made 140 yards rushing on 27 carries to move within 24 yards of the rushing leadership. Rookie Jim Evenson of British Columbia Lions tops the WFL in rushing with 1,169 yards on 229 carries. Reed has 1,145 yards on 245 attempts.

It was the fourth successive win for the Roughriders, who wound up their league schedule at home with an undefeated record of eight victories.

The Roughriders, with 11 wins and a tie in 15 games, increased their margin to three points over Calgary Stampeders. Saskatchewan and Calgary each have one game remaining.

MEET THE STAMPS
The Eskimos remained in third place with 17 points and will meet the Stampeders in Calgary Nov. 10 in the sudden-death Western semi-final.

Jack Abendschan kicked two field goals for Saskatchewan while Bill Goods had a convert in each quarter.

Jim Thomas and Thernus Butler accounted for the Edmonton touchdowns. Both were converted by Peter Kempf, who also kicked two field goals — both from 40 yards.

Reed is still four

Grit attacks Union Nationale for inactivity and patronage

RICHMOND — (Special) — The Liberal Association of the Richmond County held its election of officers, Sunday in the Town Hall, Richmond, where Emilien Lafrance, Deputy for the county gave the audience an outline of his program.

Mr. Lafrance denounced the Union Nationale administration by its inactivity and for the patronage which was exercised especially in the County of Richmond.

The Deputy said, "he was always ready to meet the electoral and discuss their problems. That, he held offices in the various towns in the county and he was willing to make home visits when feasible, to help meet the demands of the people."

Jean Claude Boutin of Asbestos was elected president, replacing Fernand Caron.

Robert Huard of Asbestos was elected vice-president; with Ronald S. Gibbs of Danville, M. Lacroix of Richmond, Bertrand Normand of Windsor, M. Moise Giroux of Bromptonville.

Yves Bourassa of Windsor was elected vice-president of the under 31-year-old members; Andre Desrosiers of Windsor, treasurer; Henry Tremblay of Windsor, secretary.

Others elected to office were: Mrs. Leo St. Louis of Richmond; councillor of the Women's Section; Mrs. Pierre Huard of Asbestos, councillor of the under 31-year-old group; Ashton Tobin of Bromptonville, exterior relations.

Publicity and programming was confined to the ex-secretary, Jean Yves Poisson.

You can soak up sun and news

MONTREAL — Canadians holidaying in the Caribbean this winter will have ready access to Canadian news.

A weekly, bilingual news digest — sponsored by the Bank of Montreal and the Montreal French-language newspaper, La Presse — will be distributed free each week in hotel and motel rooms throughout the Caribbean islands.

The bulletin, "Meanwhile — back in Canada — Entre-temps — ici au Canada," is a summary of the week's Canadian news, sports and weather.

This will end the almost total lack of Canadian news that has faced tourists from this country when they headed south for their vacations.

"Meanwhile — back in Canada" will be distributed on the islands of Bermuda, Barbados, Jamaica, Antigua, Trinidad and the Bahamas.

The project was originally intended to reach only the Caribbean islands but such a demand for the bulletin came from hotel and motel owners in Miami that there will be a trial distribution there.

Text of the news digest will be assembled and edited in Montreal by B. J. Cossman. The bulletin will be printed there and flown south for fast distribution to hotel and motel rooms, once a week.

The service is being provided for the full 26-week winter season, starting October 23rd and ending after Easter holidays in 1969.

Introduction of the publication comes at a time when increasing thousands of Canadians are heading south to spend their vacations in the tropical islands. Now, as they bask in the sun and swim in the 70-degree water, they'll be able to catch up on Canadian news — and chuckle as they read about below-zero temperatures and blizzards back home.

Harvest service dedication held at Iron Hill

IRON HILL — The annual harvest service was held in Holy Trinity Church on Oct. 13 with Rev. Wilbur Davidson officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with colorful autumn leaves, corn stocks and baskets of flowers. A pyramid of vegetables was built at the steps leading to the Altar. The flowers on the Altar were from Mrs. Sidney Chapman, Mrs. E. Swift and John Andrews.

Two brass collection plates were dedicated to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mason, Sr., who for many years attended this church.

Four huge boxes of vegetables were taken to the Nesbitt Anglican Home in Cowansville by Wm. Mason.

TURKEY SUPPER

The annual turkey supper held on Oct. 12 in Holy Trinity Church Hall, was a success. Dinner was served to some 450 people and the proceeds were $705.25. Members wish to thank all who helped in any way to make it a successful venture.

CONTEMPLATING a new design, perhaps, California sculptor Joel Brodsky leans on one of the sheet metal forms he uses to create his artistic structures. # you can't treat school children like cattle!

Farmers and businessmen are quite rightly motivated by considerations of profit.

When they herd and ship cattle they squeeze as many as possible into pens and box cars.

We teachers don't believe the same standards should be applied to schools.

Children are not cattle.

The Government and the School Boards recently announced intentions that will result in an increased number of children per classroom.

Maybe it makes sense financially, but it doesn't make too much sense any other way.

Come to think of it — it doesn't even make sense financially. Because what we save today in reducing the quality of education we lose ten times over tomorrow because our kids are badly educated!

That's only one of the retrograde steps the Government and the School Boards are trying to impose on your children.

They're also trying to force teachers to accept non professional duties, such as secretarial and police work (teachers are overburdened as it is).

They're refusing to recognize and reward honest efforts by teachers to improve their professional abilities.

They're committing the unpardonable sin of mixing politics with education (your children deserve better!).

They're refusing to allow teachers an equal say in the making of educational decisions (don't teachers know at least as much about education as bureaucrats?).

They're doing their best to make teaching an unattractive profession.

And they'll get away with it — if we let them.

We teachers are fighting them.

Where do you parents stand?

'Ice Capades' has many new acts to see

MONTREAL — Once again, "Ice Capades" which will unveil its 29th "today's show with a tomorrow look" edition at the beautiful new Forum November 25 through December 2 has six big production numbers with also champion solo acts and plenty of top flight comedy.

It also introduces three new acts plus many all-time favorites such as Phil Romayne and Cathy Steele, the incredible adagio duo; Sweden's Ann Margaret Frei who again joins talented Billy Chapel; Tommy Litz, world free-style champion; young Montrealer Cliff McArdle now a full-fledged featured soloist and lovely Mitsuko Funakoshi after an absence of three years.

The three new acts are: Margot and Danne, 1968 Olympic Medal winners; beautiful soloist Charlene McLaren and the family specialty act, The Fabulous Romanos. All of them are sure to please.

Spanky Jr., with trainer Dave Pitts, returns and still specializes as the chimp who upstages the super stars. Also returning with brand new and funny numbers are Freddie Trenkler "The Bouncing Ball of the Ice" and French Canadian comic Johnny Labrecque who is full of surprises including a new partner, beautiful Montrealer Denyse Lalonde.

Choreography is by Robert Turk and Rita Dallas Palmer; costumes by Bill Campbell and original music by James Harbert. It's a truly modern 29th Edition with the new "Capades" fresher and more different than anything seen until now, on ice.

OES chapter elects officers

COWANSVILLE — The meeting of the Cowansville Chapter No. 17 O.E.S. was held in the Masonic Hall on Oct. 17. Mrs. Marion Hamilton, Past Grand Matron, was welcomed and escorted to the East. A number of visitors attended and were welcomed by the Worthy Matron, Miss Isabelle Beattie.

Mrs. Annie Dryden, Associate Matron, official delegate to the Grand Chapter of Quebec, O.E.S., held recently in Montreal, brought the Chapter a report of its proceedings.

Nomination and election of officers for the term of 1969 was as follows: Worthy Matron, Miss Norma Cummings; Worthy Patron, Llewellyn Beattie; Associate Matron, Mrs. Annie Dryden; Associate Patron John Syberg; secretary, Mrs. Franklyn Shaw; treasurer, Mrs. Bernice Jenne; conductress, Mrs. Muriel Tibbitts; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Elizabeth Christopher and Trustee, Mrs. Cellius Watt.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses. The head table was decorated with a cake, extending best wishes of the members to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fulford, on their recent marriage and Miss Beattie presented them with a gift.

A supper for the chapter members and friends was held at Pinnacle Lodge, Selby Lake, on Oct. 27.

Service held

SCOTSTOWN — Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald, president of the Presbyterian Afternoon Auxiliary of the W.M.S., was hostess at her home on Oct. 9 for the Autumn Thankoffering meeting. Mrs. MacDonald welcomed the many visitors and the good number of members present.

The Thankoffering service was used from the Glad Tidings and Mrs. Rowat's theme for the worship was, Task in Mission, the same worship she had given at the Synodical Executive meeting held recently in Sherbrooke. The study book, Faith of Men, was also reviewed.

Dunham

Mr. and Mrs. Morley Watson and son, Benny, and Miss Erlene Whetherby, Grimsby, Ont., were Thanksgiving weekend guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Perkins.

Mrs. H. E. McCrudden, Montreal, Miss M. E. Batchelder, Mrs. William McCrudden and two boys, Andrew and Geoffrey, Como, were Thanksgiving Day guests of Miss Violet Armstrong.
