The Quebec Chronicle

CHRONICLE TELEPHONE No. 45.
QUEBEC, JULY 4, 1902.

THE MERCURY OF THE CHRONICLE

"Wishy washy," eh? That's dreadful! In the Mercury's opinion "Man wants but little here below, But wants that little strong;" and we have no doubt that the sentiment is a popular one about certain portions of St. Peter street but it is apt to confuse the judgment, and lead to rash and tall talk. The quarrel between the Leyland and Great Northern Companies and the Ship Laborers is best left to the parties interested to settle for themselves, and certainly will not be settled by abusing either side. There is no necessity for its affecting the port. What we said was that the companies should be protected if they sought to get labor elsewhere, and this is all that is needed, unless they insist on having their work done for them on their own terms by the Ship Laborers' Association, and no one else.

THE DUMB SPEAK.

The condition of those born deaf and dumb, for the deprivation of the one sense generally entails that of the other is a very distressing one, cut off as these unfortunate beings are from communication with their fellow-men save through the laborious, and often uncertain medium of signs. Many have been the efforts to remove this disability, notably by the finger alphabet, which in modern days has been supplemented by educating the dumb to observe the motions of the teacher's lips, but the possibility of teaching the dumb to speak appeared to verge too closely on the miraculous to admit of serious consideration. Yet love and patience have triumphed over all obstacles, and have accomplished that seeming miracle, and though the sense of hearing has not been restored at the same time, the power of utterance has been gained for the dumb, and though the utterance is weird and ghostly, still there is voice among the voiceless.

This interesting and wonderful feat has been accomplished at Longwood, in the State of Maryland, formerly the homestead of General Hancock, a pretty domain near the city of Baltimore, with a "garden of roses," stately cedars and cornfields occupying an extent of fifty acres of ground, which presents much the same appearance as it did in the olden times when it was the centre of life for gay speaking people, though it is now used as a deaf-mute asylum under the charge of the nuns. Not long ago a party of visitors passed up the winding tree-shaded drive which traverses the grounds, to a beautiful grotto patterned after that of our Lady of Lourdes, and thence to the veranda'd building which contains nearly twenty boys. The Baltimore Sun gave an account of what they saw there which is so very interesting that we gladly extract the following for the information of our readers:

"But the sisters are determined since it is the fashion of the world to talk and not always to be silent, that their little boys shall not be handicapped by being speechless. The miracle of making the dumb speak has been accomplished. The children say 'Our Father' vocally, many times a day; they answer the sisters mostly in articulate language, and sometimes speak to one another that way. Strange, weird voices they are, some of them, like the sighing of the wind through the trees, but more than half of the boys talked yesterday so that the visitors could understand them, although each boy is entirely deaf. They learned long ago to read the teacher's lips, so that she need not use the finger signs very much, and the sisters wisely insist on being answered in complete sentences. 'How many ladies came to see us to-day?' the sister inquires. 'Ten ladies came to see us to-day,' one of the boys answers. The words come painfully, slowly, but they are intelligible. The child finds it easier to write the words and it is easier, too, for him to form a complete sentence in writing than it is orally. 'How many children came to see us to-day?' the sister inquires of a boy named Max. But Max doesn't know 'children' when the word is spoken. Neither does Joseph, nor Charles nor Dan. 'Children' are read about in books, but all are 'boys' in actual life at Longwood.

Finally Archie remembers. His fingers flutter with the signs. These will not do, the sister says, so, with an effort, Archie loudly ejaculates. 'Two children came to see us to-day.' Then he writes it, all the others looking curiously, and there is a period of wild excitement when the word comes forth in plain, round script. Of course, they knew what it was, and Joseph can now say in his treble notes, 'One of the children is a boy, one is a girl.' One of the speaking children wishes to know what Archie's name is, and he smilingly shows her. Just a stroke of his chin, just a little motion, is all of his name. And the name of the little, red-headed boy, he adds, is this—just a rub across the forehead. The deaf-mute enjoys the child's amazement and all quickly touch the bridge of their noses, the deaf-mute sign for 'joke.'

When recreation time came the speaking children were eager to test their own powers of talking with these children who could not hear. They brought forward a box of candy. 'Thank you' plainly spoke one of the biggest of the deaf-mutes. The speaking little boy wished to wash his hands, and with some misgiving lest his penmanship should not be as fair as that of the deaf-mutes, wrote the sentence, 'Where can I wash my hands?' Each of his fourteen friends was ecstatic as the drawing was presented. They read it instantaneously, and everyone went frantically through the motions, to show just how the hands should be washed. Writing was soon not necessary, and when the speaking boy said: 'I want a drink of water,' each deaf-mute went at flying speed for the tin cup on the pump. Thus it was shown that the deaf-mutes, although mostly under 12 years of age, are learning to be independent and to take care of themselves when the time comes that they must make a living among speaking people. This is in nearly every case a charity which can scarcely be computed, as the majority of the children are members of families that are very poor.

"GREAT LITTLE CANADA"

A slowly-growing but prosperous and energetic community is revealed in the Statistical Year-Book of Canada for 1901, just issued by the Ottawa Department of Agriculture.

Canada's revenues are $10 per inhabitant, against $7.70 in this country. She last year spent $12,000,000 on railways, canals, and public works without scandalous proportioning of "pork." Grumblers say her debt grows too fast; at $66 per capita it looks large beside our $14.52, but it is small compared with the $150 burden on each person in France or Australasia's $263 per capita.

Canada's bank assets are little more than half as great as the billion-dollar deposits in the New York State savings banks alone, but her foreign commerce is $72 per capita, as against $33 in this country. The total of $387,000,000 exports and imports is more than ten times those of Greece, more than double Turkey's, and from 40 to 90 per cent. greater than those of Mexico, Belgium, Japan or Sweden. Most amazing of all, the foreign trade of this colony of 5,000,000 souls almost equals that of Russia and surpasses that of the world's most populous nation, China—New York World.

POSTAL INJUSTICES.

Postmaster-General Mulock has made the rates on certain classes of matter to the Atlin and Yukon districts double those charged on the same classes of matter passing into any other part of the Dominion. But this is not the only injustice to the credit, or more properly the discredit, of the Postmaster-General. For the purpose of getting money to be used for hoodling by the heads of the great spending departments he issued his famous jubilee stamps and then when he found they were a drug on the market and instead of being kept as curios were being turned in as postage he issued an infamous order refusing to accept his own currency. Previously he had imposed postage stamps on newspapers, making it a direct tax on the publishers, equal in many cases to five per cent. on their entire receipts from subscriptions going through the mails. His latest is a blow at many of the country newspapers which, in order to compete with the weekly or semi-weekly issues of those publications that have daily issues, resort to agencies that furnish a part of their paper ready printed. The Pietou Standard thought it would improve on this system and give its subscribers more agricultural and other general reading by having a whole sheet ready printed, supplying another sheet at home for the local news, etc. This enterprise gave rise to some local jealousy and the Postmaster-General was appealed to with the result that he issued an order refusing to accept the paper at the regular rates and imposing a rate that made the postage about equal to the subscription price of the paper. The fact that the Standard is a Conservative journal and that it was supplied with its revenue and that it was supplied with its revenue may or may not have influenced Mr.

Mulock. From a selfish point of view The Times might like to see all the small weeklies stamped out, but those who believe in the policy of live and let live will regard the action referred to as pretty small business for a member of a Government that boasts of the largest revenue that ever has been.—Moncton Times.

THE QUEBEC BOARD OF TRADE

INTERESTING REPORT OF THE DELEGATES TO THE CONFERENCE AT TORONTO.

The last regular weekly meeting of the members of the Council of the Quebec Board of Trade was an important one. Those present were Mr. George Tanguay, in the chair, and Messrs. P. J. Bazin, M. Joseph, D. J. Rattray, Geo. E. Amyot, F. Gunn, P. B. Dumoulin, Oct. Poitras, Victor Lemieux, C. J. Lockwell, Nap. Drouin, J. S. Langlois and Nap. Lavoie.

Mr. Geo. E. Amyot, one of the delegates of the Board of Trade to the conference of the Boards of Trade of the Dominion held at Toronto on the 4th, 5th and 6th June, submitted to the members of the Council a very interesting report of the debates and resolutions adopted at the convention. This is a resume of the report:—

The first resolution, which was unanimously adopted, had reference to a reduction of postage on newspapers and periodicals, resolutions favoring said reduction having been previously adopted by the Board of Trade of Kingston, Montreal and Ottawa.

The second resolution was on the important subject of trade relations within the Empire, and elicited a lengthy discussion. Resolutions in favor of a preference by the Government of Great Britain for the products of her colonies had been adopted by the Boards of Trade of Toronto, Montreal, Barrie, Berlin, Kingston, Vancouver, B.C., Galt, St. Hyacinthe, Orillia, Valleyfield. After some discussion a resolution favoring a preference toward colonial products by the Imperial Government was passed. In the course of the debates on this important question, Mr. P. B. Dumoulin, on behalf of the Quebec delegation, expressed the opinion that we should not overlook or forget our trade relations with the United States, so that our acts would not justify retaliation from our powerful neighbors.

The third proposition on the programme had reference to the importation of Canadian cattle to Great Britain, and the resolution of the Bradford Board of Trade, recommending to the Imperial conference the removal of the embargo that exists against the importation of Canadian live cattle into Great Britain, was unanimously passed. Resolutions favoring a State cable between England, Canada and Australia were adopted, as also a proposition in favor of the establishment of a commercial agency and depot in London, England, according to resolutions passed by various Canadian Boards of Trade.

A resolution was also passed favoring a fast steamship service between Canada and Great Britain. The question of Imperial defence was then taken up, and proved the most important subject under discussion. The Boards of Trade of Kingston and Toronto had passed resolutions favoring the adoption of an annual subsidy by the Government of the Dominion for the British navy. The Montreal and Barrie Boards of Trade had passed resolutions in favor of a contribution for the defence of the Empire generally, and the Vancouver and British Columbia Inland Boards of Trade, while favoring Imperialism had left the question to the discretion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Quebec St. Hyacinthe, Gaspé, Winnipeg, Three Rivers, Stratford, Drummondville and Peterborough Boards of Trade, and the District of Montreal Chamber of Commerce, which had previously passed adverse resolutions declaring that the Dominion of Canada had done her share, and that she could not, under the present circumstances further burden her Budget, reiterated their previous conclusions in regard to this question. The resolution favoring Imperial defence was, however, finally adopted by the small majority of eight votes.

The last resolutions on the programme, which concerned the adoption of the metric system and an insolvency law for the Dominion, were reached only at 6 o'clock p.m. on the fourth and last day of the convention. The Quebec delegation and the delegates of the Winnipeg Boards of Trade had very important motions to make on the important subject of an insolvency law for the Dominion, but they had to withdraw their resolutions, because it was too late, and the following resolution of the Goderich Board of Trade was then adopted without any discussion and amendment:—

Whereas Canadian trade is seriously handicapped by the differences of the provisions of the law in the several Provinces applying to assignments for the benefit of creditors by insolvent debtors, and the uncertainty as to the security offered in business transactions by the absence of an insolvency law in the Dominion; it is important that the Dominion Parliament should enact an insolvency law at the earliest possible date, whereby that confidence which is necessary for the promotion of commerce between the different Provinces and with the outside world would be established.

These are the views of the Quebec Board of Trade, which were to be expressed by Mr. P. B. Dumoulin, one of the Quebec delegates, as also the important amendment which was to be proposed by our Board.

CANADIAN INSOLVENCY LAW. "It would doubtless be important that the Dominion Parliament should enact an Insolvency Law at the earliest possible date, whereby, as stated in the resolution of the Goderich Board of Trade, that confidence which is necessary for the promotion of commerce between the different provinces and with the outside world would be established.

"However, there appear to be serious difficulties in the way as several insolvency bills have already been submitted to the Dominion Parliament, but have failed to be adopted. "In the Province of Quebec, the provisions of our Code of Civil Procedure relating to the abandonment of property by traders work fairly well, and the winding up of an insolvent estate with reasonable speed and economy. "Failing the adoption of an insolvency law by Parliament of Canada, there still remains a question which, in our opinion, is an important one, and which could be settled by an amendment to the Criminal Code. Article 369 of the Criminal Code now provides that "everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to ten years' imprisonment who, with intent to defraud his creditors, or any of them, destroys, alters, mutilates or falsifies any of his books, papers, writings or securities, or makes, or is privy to the making of any false or fraudulent entry in any book of account or other document."

If the fact of destroying books of accounts is an indictable offence, why should not also the utter failure to keep books or satisfactory books be likewise an indictable offence.

In our opinion the keeping of satisfactory books ought to be made compulsory on all traders. The sanctioning of this compulsory keeping of books by traders, by a provision of the Criminal Code, would, we think, remedy to a very large extent the existing evil.

At all events, even with a Dominion Insolvency Law in force, the amendment to the Criminal Code which we suggest would be greatly beneficial.

We will therefore propose the following amendment as a rider to the proposed resolutions of the Goderich Board of Trade:

"Whereas, experience has shown that a great number of frauds are perpetrated by persons engaged in commercial pursuits;

Whereas, such frauds are greatly facilitated by the fact that certain traders do not keep books of account;

Whereas, the existing laws of Canada do not make it obligatory upon traders to keep books of account;

Be it resolved, That this conference is of opinion that Art. 369 of the Criminal Code of Canada, 1892, should be amended by adding thereto, after the words "or any of them," in the third line, the following words, "fails or neglects to keep satisfactory books of account," making Art. 369 read as follows:

"Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to ten years' imprisonment, who, with intent to defraud his creditors, or any of them, fails or neglects to keep satisfactory books of account, destroys, alters, mutilates or falsifies any of his books, papers, writings or securities, or makes, or is privy to the making of any false or fraudulent entry in any book of account, or other document.

The Quebec delegates were right royally received by the Toronto Board of Trade and entertained most agreeably during their sojourn in the Queen City, and in recognition thereof a resolution conveying the thanks of the Quebec Board of Trade was unanimously adopted.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

AN EXAMPLE FOR QUEBEC.

Dominion Day was fittingly observed at Billing's Bridge by the unveiling of a memorial to Wesley Hall, a member of the First Canadian Contingent who fell in hospital in South Africa June 7, 1900.

The deed here was Deputy Master of Billing's Bridge Orange Young Britons Lodge, No. 45, and his brethren of the lodge, assisted by the Orange Lodge of Billing's Bridge, erected the monument. It is a handsome piece of workmanship, standing about 20 feet high, is placed on a plot just south of the Orange Hall.

The unveiling was performed by Mrs. Alex. M. Hall, of Toronto, wife of the grand Master of the Orange Young Britons of America. Mr. Hall and Mr. Duncan Munro, of Cornwall, Grand Master of Ontario East, L.O.L., were the principal speakers.

POLICE COURT INVESTIGATION.

Yesterday morning Napoleon Guerin, the joiner who came from Montreal to run an acoustic pipe through the ceiling in the Quebec Court House ending from the Bar Council Room to the attic, for the Montreal law students who hired him to do the job, was brought before Hon. Judge Chauveau, charged with damaging Government property. He pleaded guilty, when sentence was suspended, but he was obliged to furnish $100 personal bail to appear before the Court on the 14th instant, when an investigation will be held to discover the identity of the students who entered into the contract, in order that they might be unrepentantly given information that could aid them to cheat the Board of Legal Examiners appointed to judge whether they were qualified to be admitted to practice. It is said that the guilty parties, seven in number, are all from the district of Montreal, who took their degrees from the universities of the sister city. The authorities seem determined to probe the conspiracy to the bottom with a view of punishing the young men who took part in it. The charge of complicity alleged against the Court official will also be investigated. The Board of Examiners appointed by the Bar of the Province have similar powers to the Superior Court in matters of investigation, and have full authority to swear and examine witnesses, and it is stated that the official stenographer who has figured prominently in this matter will be summoned to appear before the Board and explain his conduct.

MISSED BY THE FOOL KILLER

Indianapolis, July 3.—Mrs. S. C. Dark, a society woman of this city, entertained a party of twenty friends in honor of the eighteenth birthday of her favorite dog, Uno. When the dog was ten years of age a reception was given, and the children of Mrs. Dark's friends were invited to romp and frolic with him. He was the pet of her father, and Mrs. Dark took the dog when her father died. Uno is a Spitz.

BOY DIES FROM CAT BITE

Baltimore, July 3.—Joseph Ray Irons, eleven years old, of Morganland town, W. Va., died near Cumberland on Monday from a cat bite on the upper lip. A dog had previously bitten the boy. The boy first became ill on Saturday at midnight, and a physician advised that he be sent to Baltimore for Pasteur treatment. The mother started with him for Baltimore and the boy made no display of violence except once, when he pressed his mother's arm between his teeth.

HIS FRIENDS WERE NERVOUS

HYPNOTIST'S FRIENDS TAKE HIM FROM HIS GRAVE LEST HE SHOULD DROWN.

Reading, Pa., July 3.—For fear the driving rain would drown W. W. Kretz in his grave, his friends dug him out at 8 o'clock this morning. The coffin was already half full of water, but Kretz lay in it in a comatose or hypnotic state, unmindful of his nearness to death.

Kretz is president of the local association for the study of occult sciences. Last evening at 6.30 his associate members dug a grave five feet deep and provided a coffin. Kretz got into it, and put himself in a hypnotic condition. The lid was screwed down the coffin lowered and the grave filled up. A tube from the surface led down into the coffin to give Kretz air. The grave was to be opened this evening. Kretz's friends got him out none too soon. It required a good deal of effort to arouse him. During the forenoon he fell asleep twice at a hotel to which he was taken. He went home in the afternoon feeling all right.

THEY CONDEMN ROSS

London, Ont., July 3.—The prohibition convention here, concluded its meetings yesterday afternoon, after effecting organization of the Temperance Legislative League. A resolution was carried unanimously protesting against Premier Ross' proposal to compensate the liquor interests in case the prohibition law passed. The Liberator was made the official organ of the league.

She Gained Eleven Pounds

AND WAS BROUGHT BACK FROM NERVOUS PROSTRATION TO HEALTH AND STRENGTH BY USING

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

There is no faith cure about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You do not need to imagine it is doing you good. You can prove it by keeping a record of your weight. This food cure acts in a perfect natural way. In fact, it is nature's own cure, and is composed of the most powerful restoratives and invigorators that science has yet discovered.

Take the case of Mrs. West, as described in her letter quoted below. She was pale, weary and run down in health. Her blood was thin and watery, and her nerves so starved and exhausted that she was prostrated. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured her, and added new firm flesh to her body to the extent of eleven pounds. You will find her letter interesting.

Mrs. S. W. West, Drayton, Wellington County, Ont., writes: "About two years ago I got terribly run down, and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition, and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of good results from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I used three boxes with great benefit. In a short time I gained eleven pounds, and as I was very thin when I began to use the remedy I was very proud of the increase in weight."

"Then the following spring I became rather poorly, and they again built me up, and gave me such a good appetite that I wanted to eat nearly half the time. I was so pleased with the cure the Nerve food brought about that I recommended it to others, and they have told me of the benefits they had obtained from this preparation. You may use this testimonial in order that others may learn of the good there is in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

If you have been affected as Mrs. West has, if you are not feeling real strong and well, you will be surprised at the good that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will do you. It puts color in the cheeks, rounds out angular and wasted forms, and brings new hopes, new confidence and new life to take the place of despondency, weakness and disease. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A LITTLE DIFFICULTY. On the Leyland liner Anatolia, now completing cargo in the Louise Basin, there was a warm discussion early yesterday morning which was fortunately settled amicably. Capt. Hawlett, interviewed, explained that he was anxious to put double falls on the winches and employ more men in order to put cargo in more rapidly. The men objected owing to the danger, but after a discussion agreed to the innovation and the cargo was handled very rapidly all day yesterday. The men were all back at work again at 9 a.m.

MORE PLENDER TO THE SURFACE. Special Officer Trudel, of H. H. Customs, yesterday located a large quantity of paint in tins and four tarpaulins, which is a portion of the property stolen from the different ships during the past two years, belonging to the Leyland Line. It is evident that if the management of the Company were to order a search for the stolen property belonging to the steamship company, not only a considerable portion could be recovered, but also a gigantic steel uncharted, which would implicate other parties than those at present under arrest, besides exposing a number of dealers who have been receiving stolen goods.

SEARCH FOR THE OKA INDIAN CHIEFTAIN.

Yesterday forenoon the police authorities of this city received a telegram from the Montreal police, communicating the fact that the Oka Indian chief Joseph Gabriel Kennalosse, who was the cause of the trouble on the Indian reserve at Oka, besides being wanted for larceny, had taken possession of the ss Lake Ontario, and to arrest him. The Lake Ontario arrived down from Montreal at 3 o'clock, and anchored in the stream to take on passengers booked from Quebec, who were conveyed to the steamer by one of the Hackett tugs. High Constable Gale and Detective Walsh, of the city police, also proceeded on board the vessel as she lay at anchor and made a thorough search for the chief without success. He was not among the passengers or crew, and if he did go on board it was as a stowaway. However, the Quebec police could not find him.

CAPT. BERNIER'S EXPEDITION. The following resolution was passed at a meeting of the Quebec Geographical Society, held on the 26th ult., presided over by Major Levesque: "The Geographical Society of Quebec, after having heard the report of Captain Bernier, again expresses to him its confidence and admiration. In view of the sympathetic support which he has received from the Governments of Nova Scotia, of New Brunswick, and particularly of Ontario and of the first learned societies of Canada, we take the liberty of pressing one more upon the Federal Government, and upon the Government of the Province of Quebec to subscribe in their respective budgets a sum of money to aid the Arctic expedition of Capt. J. E. Bernier, which is destined to reaffirm Canada's importance scientifically and politically."

A MYSTERIOUS FIRE. It was fortunate that a certain lady passing along Anne street last evening had a keen sense of smell, for had it not been for her olfactory organ a most disastrous fire would likely have occurred. Dr. Edwin Turcot, who resides at 111 St. Anne street, has in rear of his premises a stable and hay loft. A lady passing smelt something burning and on closer investigation saw thick black smoke issuing from the hay loft. She therefore notified the Doctor, who turned in an alarm. In the meantime a number of neighbors had gathered and the Doctor's horse was taken safely out of the stable. On the arrival of the firemen it was found that the hay was ablaze and a couple of streams of water were immediately directed upon it. The fire was soon extinguished, but not before half the hay was lying in the yard and the rest so badly soaked that it will be useless. Dr. Turcot is at a loss to know how the blaze originated. No one had been in the stable since seven o'clock last night when the ostler went home, and there is no stove or chimney there. The damage is about $400, fully covered by insurance.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT LEVIS. Mr. Xavier Chabot Struck and Killed by Q. C. R. Morning Express.

Xavier Chabot, aged 65 years, brother of Mr. Jules Chabot, of Levis, was accidentally killed yesterday morning at Levis, by being struck by the Quebec Central Railway Express for Sherbrooke, that pulled out of the Levis station at 8 o'clock. Mr. Chabot was proceeding along the track in the vicinity of Messrs. Carrier and Laine's machine shops, when the train approached behind him running at a fair rate of speed. The engineer, Mr. Cowan, saw the deceased ahead of the train, and pulled the whistle to warn him of his danger, but he kept on walking, and before the train could be stopped the locomotive struck him and knocked him a distance. When picked up he was found to be unconscious and was carried back to the L. C.R. baggage room, where the unfortunate man died a short time afterwards. In the meantime Dr. Lachiere and cure Gosselin arrived on the scene, and the latter had time to administer the last rites of the church before he breathed his last. Those who witnessed the accident state that no flames can be attached to the engineer of the train, who not only pulled the whistle cord, but endeavored to stop the train as soon as he realized the deceased's danger.

A FATAL TERMINATION

MR. J. A. CUNNINGHAM, ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN THE SPINE ON THE 16th OF APRIL LAST, DIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AT THE JEFFERY HALE HOSPITAL.

At 5.40 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. J. A. Cunningham died at Jeffery Hale Hospital after eleven weeks of suffering.

On the 14th of April last Mr. Cunningham, it will be remembered, had gone to the Cove Fields with a friend, Mr. Fred Jacques, with the idea of indulging in some rifle practice. Mr. Cunningham went to fix the target when Mr. Jacques reached over and drew the rifle towards him. In some unexplained manner the rifle was discharged and Mr. Cunningham received the bullet in the lower part of the spine. He was removed to Jeffery Hale Hospital and at first it was thought that he had some chance for recovery, but this hope was abandoned when it was learned by the surgeons that the spinal cord was pierced.

Mr. W. A. Cunningham, brother of the victim, was notified and he came out from England a few weeks ago. Mrs. Cunningham who, ever since the accident, has displayed the utmost bravery, is prostrated, and the sympathy of Quebec goes out to her now in her sad affliction.

The late Mr. Cunningham was only 28 years of age and came to Quebec from Liverpool some 16 months ago in order to act as wharf superintendent for the Leyland Line. Owing to his cheery nature he made hosts of friends and he and his wife were very popular. Both were pleasing singers and were members of the Methodist Church choir. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock to the Methodist Church and thence to Mount Hermon Cemetery.

PAUL CAZENEUVE.

Theatre Nationale Francaise. The sale of seats for the opening engagement of Paul Cazenueve opened yesterday morning, and seats are being sold very rapidly. The new curtain and electric switch board are up. Everything will be ready for the opening performance of "Faust," Monday evening, July 7th. Taking advantage of this occasion, we publish for our readers a likeness of the comedian of the company. A single look on his smiling face is enough to stamp him a man of great humor, a quality absolutely necessary for his line of work. Mr. Filion has many friends and admirers in Quebec, who will gladly welcome him back to our old capital city. In the role of Wagner in Faust, M. Filion gives a character study worthy of a Stockard or a Hare. He will be seen the following week as Norbert in "Monte Christo." Mr. James O'Neil, of Monte Christo fame, after seeing this actor's performance of this difficult role, two seasons ago, made him a very tempting offer to join his company, which was gracefully declined by Mr. Filion, who did not find himself a sufficient master of the English language to accept.

There will be matinee Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at popular prices. Seats now on sale.

THE SS KINGSTONIAN ROBBERY INVESTIGATION.

The investigation into the recent robbery that occurred on board the ss Kingstonian, when a hawser was stolen from the vessel at midnight last Saturday, was commenced at the Police Court before Hon. Judge Chauveau yesterday morning. The inquiry was held behind closed doors and the only evidence taken was adduced by Charles Petersen, the shed foreman of the Leyland Line, who pleaded guilty to complicity in the crime on Wednesday last. The three members of the Kingstonian's crew also arrested pleaded not guilty and asked a postponement of the investigation on the ground that they had a number of witnesses to be examined. The inquiry was accordingly postponed until the return of the Kingstonian to port. It is not known whether the management of the Leyland Line will investigate the previous robberies, alleged to cover a period of nearly two years, or not. Mr. Harting is in consultation with Hon. Judge Chauveau yesterday morning, but nothing was given out. Detective Walsh, in conversation with a Chronicle reporter, stated that he had not been approached by Mr. Harting or any other member of the Leyland Line in authority on the subject of investigating the robberies of the past, though he is in possession of valuable information and is in a position to trace considerable of the property stolen from time to time from different steamers.
