Barry Moore meets with Champlain Waterways Council

by John Brusenbauch

The Council for the Champlain Waterways, representing communities on both sides of the Ottawa River between Arnprior and Pembroke on the Ontario side and Quyon and Fort William on the Quebec side recently met with Barry Moore, M.P. for Pontiac-Gatineau-Labelle concerning the proposed opening of the Ottawa River to pleasure craft and to make plans for a summer event on the river.

For some time now, the Council has been exploring the possibility of opening up the river from Ottawa-Hull to Pembroke by putting in place a series of four hydraulic lifts to be placed at four different sites where the river is now impassible, E.B. Eddy's, Pontiac Bay, Portage du Fort, and Allumette Island. Craft would be transported on trailers over secondary roads or existing railroad tracks. The four lifts should cost in the vicinity of $400,000.

After a lengthy discussion, Mr Moore expressed his interest in and support for the proposed project that he foresaw would provide jobs on both sides of the river in the short and the longer term, increase tourism, and provide additional spin-off revenue for local businesses.

The waterway project has been under discussion for some ten years now. With the support of both Mr Moore and Mr Len Hopkins, M.P. for Renfrew County, and mutual interest on the part of both Pontiac and Renfrew, this project is finally close to becoming a reality.

The Council for the Champlain Waterways has chosen this project as a way of opening the river in the most economical way possible. There is no doubt that as traffic on the river increases, a time will come when the municipalities bordering the river will probably want to improve or expand existing facilities in order to capture more tourist trade.

Game banquet at Bryson

The annual Bryson Game Banquet was held at the Bryson Lions' Hall last Saturday, January 12th, with over 300 people in attendance. Ever since the event was started some 16 years ago by Renaud and Rita Rainville, it has gained in popularity. This year over 300 people gathered to enjoy a sumptuous feast that included roast bear, beaver, trout, barbotte, pickeral and a whole salmon, all donated by members of the community. Fish chowder, baked beans, coleslaw, and scalloped potatoes rounded out the menu.

Some of the bear meat was cubed and roasted along with vegetables in the oven; some of it was stir-fried with veget ables in a wok on top of the stove. Either way, it was delicious, resembling very tender beef.

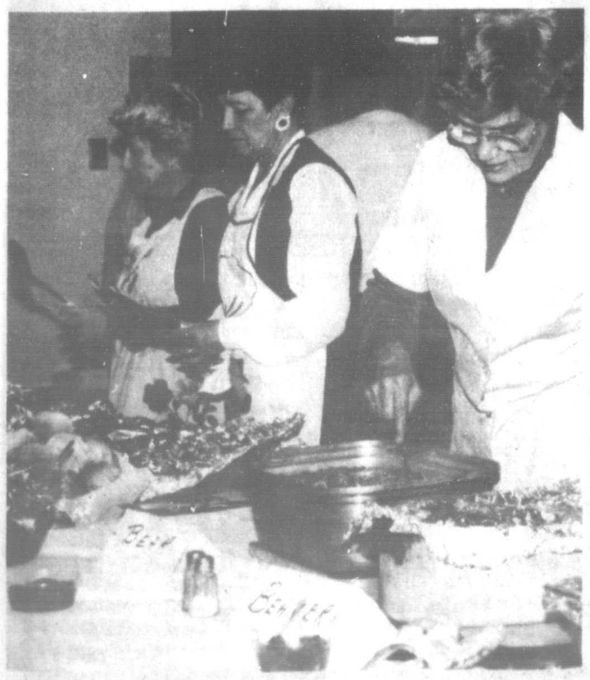

The beaver meat requires a more complicated procedure before it is cooked. First it is marinated in a solution of salt, vinegar, and soda; washed two or three times; boiled with onions and other vegetables (which are then discarded) and then roasted. Unlike bear, beaver has a 'gamey' taste that is difficult to get rid of completely.

The evening finished up with dancing to the music of the Brysonnaires.

If anyone felt any squeamishness about trying bear or beaver, it certainly was not evident in the stampede to the table or the helpings on the plates. After a couple of bites, it's not difficult to understand why the game banquet has become an annual event.

Gordon and Chris Dittburner with Renaud Rainville, founding-father of the Bryson Game Banquet.

Giselle Evans, DeeDee Ostrom and Rita Renaud serving.

Barry Ross, Jack Hart, and Bernice Brusenbauch enjoy the feast.

Municipal Nominations. Wednesday was nomination day in many municipalities throughout Pontiac County. Of the ten municipalities who have council seats now vacant, 6 elected each of their three new councillors by acclamation. The other four placed at least one seat in contention, and Shawville ratepayers nominated 10 men for the three vacancies. The majority of the Shawville nominees agreed that the biggest issue facing their council for 1960 is that of sewerage.

Morehead 25th. About 60 friends and neighbours gathered together on Saturday evening to honour Mr and Mrs Clarence Morehead, Campbell's Bay, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Midget Hockey. A hockey league for boys between the ages of 8 and 13 has recently been organized in Shawville, under the guidance of Leslie Dale, Dr Armitage, Harry Gerber and Morley Hodgins. A total of 37 boys have expressed interest, and so far 4 teams have been set up.

No More Calls. At their regular general meeting, Campbell's Bay Council passed a resolution stating that they will not answer any more calls for fires in Clarendon until their account for fire fighting is paid.

Municipal Elections. Municipal elections throughout the county passed off very quietly this year. In Shawville, Mayor J M Argue returned to the chair without opposition. In Clarendon, Mayor W H Barr defeated Elwin Armstrong to retain his seat. Down in Bristol Nelson J McLellan was re-elected Mayor in a hard-fought contest against Hugh Young. Campbell's Bay, Bryson, South Onslow, Litchfield and several other municipalities returned their mayors and councillors.

Born. At Clarendon on Sunday, January 13, to Mr and Mrs Walter Moffatt, a son.

Married. At the United Church Manse, Campbell's Bay on Wednesday afternoon, January 9, Hanna Annie May Smith, daughter of Mr and Mrs George A Smith of Dunravan, became the bride of William Clarence Morehead, eldest son of Mr and Mrs Wm Morehead of Campbell's Bay.

Anniversary. Mr and Mrs Archie Stewart celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding on Monday evening, January 7, at their home in Bristol, where a number of their friends gathered to congratulate them.

Coulonge. The beautiful home of Mrs Jennie B Bolter, one of the oldest and finest residential properties in the village of Fort Coulonge was destroyed by fire on Monday evening of last week. The house was built about 45 or 50 years ago.

Music Exams. Having duly fulfilled the requirements of the examiners, the following certificates and diplomas have been awarded: Elementary — Ruby Eades, Cyril McDowell, Shawville, Junior — Margaret R Morehead, Campbell's Bay; Intermediate — Myrtle Couglin, Bryson; Diploma of the Dominion College of Music — Miss Huges, Collfield. All pupils of Miss Thomson, Shawville.

Hockey. On Wednesday night in Quyon the opening match of the Pontiac League series was played between the home team and Shawville, who suffered defeat to the tune of 8-2. The weather was very unfavorable for an open-air rink, being snowy and dark, and added to this the lighting was dim, which made play both difficult and dangerous. Shaw, who guarded the nets for the visitors, got pretty badly cut over the eye from a puck lift, and Quirk of the Quyon Wanderers met with a similar misfortune. Although some heavy checking was manifest, play on the whole was fairly clean, and the Shawville boys had no complaints about the treatment accorded them by their opponents.

Municipal Elections. The municipal elections here on Monday passed off quietly, altho' there was a contest for one of the vacancies on the village board. For the township R.W. Ralph was elected to replace Thomas Eades, and Matthew Thompson to replace Reuben Draper. In the village W.J. Eades and W.A. Hodgins were elected by acclamation in the room and stead of Robt G Hodgins and D B Alexander. A poll was held between R J Hamilton and John F Dale, both nominated in the room and stead of Geo W Dale. Result — Dale 31; Hamilton 20. Bristol — Michael Allen Re-elected; Sam Woods in the room and stead of William Clarke, both by acclamation.

PP&J. Nothing definite, we understand, has been arrived at yet in connection with the route of the Pontiac Railway, though it seems very probable that the centre route mentioned will be taken. It seems the Company are anxious that this route should be selected; and the contractors, in view of reducing expenditures, prefer taking the route through the back portion of the county. To build the road in the locality desired by the Company, the contractors ask for a compensation of money, which the former refuse to give, and there the matter rests. Why so much secrecy and underhand proceeding in connection with the road we are at a loss to understand.

Mr Harris, the company's engineer, and Mr Heath, leveller, for the contractor, were prospecting some days since, in that section of country lying between the back and the centre routes, the object of obtaining another line. We are told they were unsuccessful.

The grant made last session by the Dominion Parliament to the PP&J promises to prove a source of much trouble. Sir Charles Tupper assured a deputation from this village (Bryson) that the debts actually due for the construction of the road should be paid out of this grant and only the balance thereof turned over to the company. Some two years ago when Mr Perrault, the subcontractor, left off operations on the road, funds were not at hand to pay the labourers, which necessitated the issuing of due bills. To the disappointment of the present holders, the government has decided to not pay the amount due on the face of these bills, but only the purchase price plus six percent interest.

Born. In Bryson on Tuesday the 2nd inst. the wife of Thos. Moran, Esq., of a daughter.

Municipal Elections. The election for councillors took place in this village (Bryson) last Monday and resulted in the return of Messers Moran and LeRoy to replace Messrs Gaboury and McQuaig, and Mr Porteous, one of the retiring councillors, being re-elected. Messrs Thomson and Rouleau were re-elected councillors for Calumet Island, and Messrs. Hughes and Smith re-elected for Litchfield.

Reduced beef supplies and strong producer prices for 1985

Federal economists predict declining beef production will lead to higher prices during 1985.

North American supplies down. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) forecasts U.S. beef production will be down one percent during the first quarter of 1985 and by eight per cent during the second quarter compared to year-earlier levels.

Lowere calf inventories and reduced cow culling are expected to lead to lower cattle slaughter levels through the second half of 1985 with output down by three to five per cent from 1984 levels.

For 1985, U.S. beef supplies are expected to be down about four per cent from 1984 levels.

The drought in Western Canada in 1984 is expected to affect 1985 beef output.

Federal economists expect relatively more cattle feeding will take place in Eastern Canada because of larger feed supplies and anticipated lower feed grain prices. Fewer cattle and tight feed supplies and forecasted higher average barley prices in Western Canada during 1984-85 are expected to reduce cattle feeding in that region during 1985.

Overall, cattle numbers in Canada are at low levels and the economists expect domestic beef production during the next few years will decline from levels recorded in the previous few years.

Canada's inspected beef output in 1985 is expected to be down about three percent during the first quarter of the year and four percent lower in the second quarter compared to year-earlier levels.

Assuming an end to herd liquidstion, economists forecast beef output during the second half of 1985 be about three percent below 1984 levels or possibly as much as five percent if herd rebuilding begins in 1985.

Beef Prices Strengthen. Beef prices in the U.S. and Canada during 1985 are forecast to increase moderately as beef output falls.

The USDA forecasts Choice steers at Omaha to average $64 to $68 U.S. per hundredweight in the first quarter of the year, $65 to $71 during the second quarter and $65 to $69 for the last half of 1985. For the year, Choice steers at Omaha are forecast to average $64 to $70 per hundredweight, modeately above the $64 to $66 average for 1984.

Prices for A1, A2 steers in Toronto are forecast to follow price movements in the U.S. Prices are expected to average $84 to $88 per hundredweight in the first quarter of 1985, rising to $85 to $90 in the second quarter. They are then expected to ease slightly in the second half of the year.

Herd Rebuilding possible by 1986. Prices for feeder cattle and calves are forecast to be stronger in 1985 in both Canada and the U.S. This, the federal economists believe, may bring about an end to three years of herd liquidation in Canada.

However, the economists warn it is unlikely economic conditions in the beef industry will encourage strong rebuilding of herds in either the United States or Canada during 1985.

With herd rebuilding underway the federal economists expect lower beef supplies and firm prices in 1986.

Shifting through a gear pattern in search of reverse can really slow a job down. A Kubota tractor can get it done faster.

Our L3750 (36 PTO hp) and L4150 (40 PTO hp) tractors come with your choice of an easy-to-operate 8x8 transmission or an even easier hydraulic shuttle-shift.

These tractors also come with a 5-cylinder direct-injection diesel engine, power steering and position and draft control. Both are available with 4-wheel drive.

So next time you've got a load of dirt in the bucket and can't find reverse, think about looking for a new Kubota instead.

New assistant Pastor at Bethel Pentecostal

Pastor Bill Lumsden of the Bethel Pentecostal Church in Shawville has recently engaged an assistant, Kevin Dowling, originally from Napanee Ontario, and more recently of the Eastern Pentecostal Bible College, Peterborough. In addition to assisting Rev Lumsden in counselling, visiting, and other regular church activities, Rev Dowling is looking forward to consolidating and broadening the base of the church's youth activities.

At present, the youth group of about 15 members meets once a week for discussion around a particular theme, and organizes social and sports activities from time to time. It also is part of a larger network of young people from some 16 churches in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec, whose annual youth convention in Kingston this year attracted over 2000 participants.

Rev Dowling would like to encourage more of this sort of community outreach involving young people, and in this he will be assisted by his wife Shari (née Rooney) a native of Shawville and an active church member. Says Rev Lumsden, "One of the things I was looking for in an assistant pastor was that he be married so that husband and wife could operate a team ministry. Kevin and Shari admirably met this criterion".

New Assistant Pastor Kevin Dowling and wife Shari at Bethel Pentecostal Church.

IT'S A FACT!

It may come as a surprise to some, but most people don't know how to brush their teeth properly and even fewer people floss regularly. That's the word from dental experts, who point out that brushing and flossing properly can cut down the buildup of plaque on your teeth.

Many studies now show the benefit of rinsing twice a day with Listerine antiseptic as an adjunct to brushing and flossing. In fact, recent clinical studies show that rinsing with Listerine, as part of a regular oral hygiene program, can reduce plaque buildup by as much as 50 percent more than by brushing alone.

Shouldn't our L.E.A.D.ers be paid?

Editorial

Venture capital is money that is invested in a business that has a good possibility of failing. It is high risk money, usually costing more than money that is borrowed from conventional sources such as banks or trust companies.

Business in Pontiac County is generally a high risk proposition, no matter what its nature, and obtaining financing from the regular lending institutions is often impossible. If the Federal Business Development Bank also finds a particular idea too risky and will not supply start-up money, that is usually the end of the line for the person with the idea or the business in difficulty.

Enter the L.E.A.D. Corporation, a federally funded source of venture capital for Pontiac County. Over the next few years approximately one and a half million dollars will be made available to the Corporation for investment in local businesses which have been refused by all other lenders or investors. The money may be loaned at current interest rates, or used to purchase a portion of the business.

It appears that not everyone in the County supports the formation of the L.E.A.D. Corporation. Although unanimity on the subject is unlikely and not really desirable, it is important that the real problems of the project be dealt with, not imaginary ones. One straw man to be knocked down is the belief that this project simply provides a means of giving government money to private individuals who may or may not have a workable idea for establishing or improving business in Pontiac.

The Corporation is to be run by a Board of Directors selected from skilled and successful business managers in Pontiac. These people will be managing the government's money to the best of their ability, to accomplish the government's goals of improving the business climate here and providing new long-term employment opportunities. These men and women will know most of the people in the area, and will be better able to judge the likelihood of success of their proposals than virtually any one else. In addition, money will not be given; it will be loaned or used to purchase equity in businesses.

One of the real problems facing the L.E.A.D. Corporation, and its sponsor, the Pontiac Business Association, is finding the business people to act as directors. Response to advertisements so far has been low, for several reasons.

First of all, many of the people with the expertise to sit on the Board will object to doing so voluntarily, i.e. without pay. These people will be accountable for the disposition of a lot of money, much more than for example that spent by the County Council, where mayors are paid at least one hundred dollars for every meeting they attend on County business. The directors will be providing their special and hard won skills for nothing. Of course there is the reward of making a contribution to the County, but these people already do that every day, with their local business associations, recreation associations, tourist associations, and municipal councils.

A second problem is the no-win situation the directors will be placed in as they consider each request for financial support. It is possible that an applicant who has been refused could be resentful towards the directors. They may lose a friend or a business customer. If a friend or customer is successful in getting the Corporation's financial support, then the directors would be open to the charge of favoritism.

Another problem is determining to whom the directors are responsible. Normally it would be the shareholders, but there are none. It could be the Pontiac Business Association, its directors or its membership, it could be the taxpayers of Pontiac and their representatives, the mayors, or it could be the federal government and our representative there, Barry Moore. Mr. Moore could be accused of political bias if he were to censure the board, the Pontiac Business Association could be accused of dealing at less than arm's length if its members were to try to affect the Board's decisions, and it is uncertain that the mayors have the mandate to deal with the economic development of Pontiac County.

The resolution of these problems will not be simple, yet it is essential to the success of this project and the development of new businesses in the County that they be solved. One step toward a solution would be to recognize that the directors of the L.E.A.D. Corporation are professionals, and must be treated as such. Paying them would be the first step, and would allow them to rise above the criticisms inherent to the position.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor

Over the years of living in Shawville, we have done a lot of shopping. I dare say, from every single business in town at one time or another.

This year these businesses took the initiative of organizing a promotion whereby one could win a Christmas Stocking. I am pleased to say that I was the lucky winner of the first stocking drawn. It was full of some very good merchandise and something for everybody.

I would like to thank these merchants for their gifts. We had a lot of fund opening the odd thirty parcels and we gave it all the publicity we could in an endeavour to promote local purchasing. We encourage them to make it a yearly practice.

The Navy, The Company, and Richard King: British Exploration in the Canadian Arctic, 1829 - 1860.

by Hugh N. Wallace

This book presents a fresh look at Arctic explorations in the early and mid-nineteenth century, a period that created exciting tales of adventure and heroism in a search for a Northwest Passage to the Orient. Wallace, concerned with the discoveries, the choice of entry routes, and the techniques of travel along them, looks at the various expeditions organized by the British Navy and the Hudson's Bay Co. Seventeen illustrations and fourteen maps are an addition to this very interesting book.

For three centuries England had been searching for a Northwest Passage because such a navigable route to the Orient would increase British power and world commerce. Therefore, when the Royal Navy was looking for new ways to expend its energies after the defeat of Napoleon Bonaparte at the Battle of Trafalgar 1815, the British encouraged the navy to assist in Arctic exploration.

John Barrow, who had been second secretary of the Admirality for forty years, was instrumental in organizing numerous expeditions for the British Navy, the first being under the command of Sir John Ross with Edward Parry, a Scottish explorer, as his second-in-command. When the Ross expedition got into difficulty, a rescue party under Captain George Back was sent to aid them. Back had with him, Richard King, a London surgeon, who for many reasons became a central figure in the British Exploration in the Arctic between 1829 and 1860. King strongly recommended "light, indigenous and inland or coastal means of travel in the Arctic as distinct from the heavily equipped deep-sea approach of which Franklin's ill-fated expedition remains the classic example." That is for survival King emphasized relying upon the means at hand in the region being explored. He stressed the use of small land parties who would adopt the Eskimo or Indian ways of living and travelling. (In this book the term, "Inuit," is often used in referring to the "Eskimo," and the term "half-breed" in referring to people of mixed European and Indian ancestry.)

One of the most noted explorers to follow Ross was Sir John Franklin, a naval officer, who had fought in the 1815 Battle of Trafalgar. Trying to find a Northwest Passage, Franklin made three journeys to the Arctic, the first in 1819-1822, when Thomas Hood died and the expedition barely survived. (See The Equity, January 9); the second in 1826 - 1827 when he was given command of another overland expedition.

Twenty-three years later the navy sent Franklin on a third voyage to complete a Northwest Passage and this time by deep-sea means. At the same time the Hudson's Bay Co. sent Dr. John Rae to do so through coastal travel by boats, with a strong emphasis upon "indigenous and light means of travel." (Maps 6 and 8). Under Franklin were Captain F.R.M. Crozier who had been with Ross and Parry, and Captain James Fitzjames. Taking enough supplies for three years, the Franklin expedition, consisting of two ships, the "Erebus" and the "Terror", and 129 officers and men, sailed from England May 19, 1845. Unfortunately all perished. It was about fourteen years before their fate was known. (Maps 11 and 12).

So many expeditions were organized to search for them that the Arctic was fully explored. Finally the British Navy gave up the quest. However, Lady Franklin organized another attempt (privately financed) under Captain Leopold McClintock and in 1859 the fate of Franklin's expedition was revealed. In addition, to finding skeletons and other remains on King William Island, and listening to reports from the Eskimo at Boothia, a record was found in a cairn at Point Victory. (Full detail pp. 172-173.) (The two frozen bodies that were found in the Arctic in 1984 are believed to be two men from Franklin's expedition.)

Many people honor Franklin as being the first discoverer of a Northwest Passage because his ships reached a point within a few miles of waters that lead directly to the shores of Asia. However, the glory goes to Roald Amundsen, who in 1905 sailed the ship "Gojoa" through the Arctic Ocean into Asiatic waters. And in 1942 the first west-to-east voyage was made by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police schooner, St. Roch.

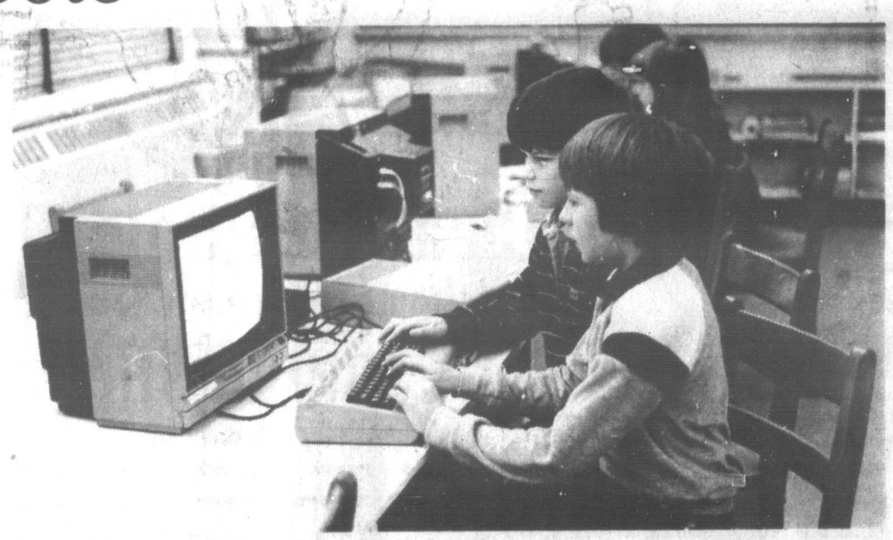

To read about all these men's breath-taking and miraculous experiences in handling their sailing ships and steam ships, as they twisted and turned through the icy waters at the mercy of winds and ice, acknowledges man's courageous and adventurous instincts.

Computers in local schools

Mrs Margaret Hodgins uses a portable computer in her kindergarten class.

Shawn Graham and Michael Hitz get a chance to work on the computer.

At the beginning of the 1984-85 school year, the Pontiac Protestant School Board purchased computers for McDowell, Onslow and Campbell's Bay Elementary Schools.

At McDowell, a computer lab has been built so that whole classes can work simultaneously with only two pupils sharing each machine. The aim of the computer science program is to have all students become comfortable with computers by teaching them a computer language, the fundamentals of programming and the use of computer software, which are programs designed for a specific purpose, such as mathematics instruction or remedial reading.

Beryl Smart teaches computers to one grade four group while Neil McGuire, who designed the computer science program, teaches the remaining grade four classes as well as five and six. Each class has a forty-five minute period of instruction per week where skills are acquired using a 'hands on' approach. This period of formal instruction is reinforced by means of a computer club during noon hour. During this time, the students get a chance to practice what they have been taught and Mr McGuire is on hand to help them if they are having trouble.

During a typical noon hour, some 20 pupils gather in the computer lab to experiment with programing. Some of the kids were divising series of questions and answers. Once the series is properly input, the questions can be run through by the computer and answered by the user; the computer will indicate whether the user has correctly answered them or not.

Another pupil was experimenting with the graphic mode of the computer — something like the upper case on a typewriter but with symbols on the keys instead of letters. The symbols can be combined with each other and with the computer's colour capability to produce pictures. This pupil had made a picture of a castle in an example of what Mr McGuire calls 'screen art'. This activity cannot be properly called programing because the picture's elements were not, in this case, coded to a set of instructions and so could not be recalled. It does, however, help the kids to become familiar with the wide range of symbols available on the computer and how to manipulate them.

Programing forces the pupil to think logically and consistently. In a quite sophisicated exercise, one young man programed a pac-man-like creature to move along the bottom of the screen then up the screen, after turning his back on the viewer to make the right-angle turn. While this maneuver looks simple enough on the screen, it actually involved a whole series of instructions, each one carefully thought out and accurately input in the right order. This exercise is what constitutes a program and can be repeated thanks to the computer's built-in memory.

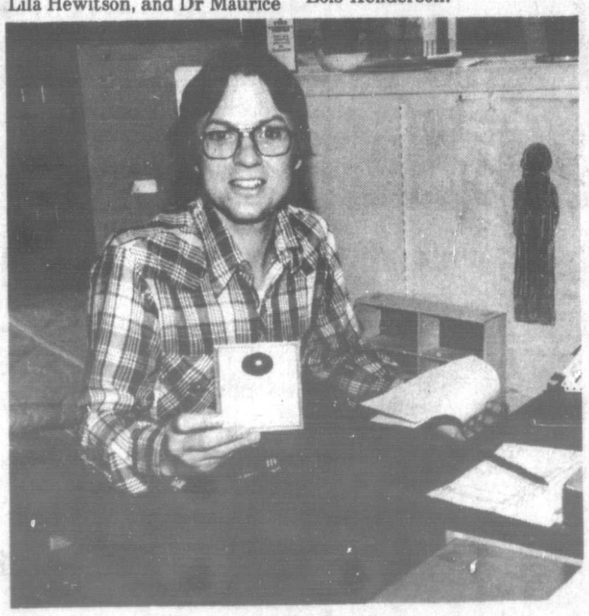

The computers are also available for use by the kindergarten and primary classes. Several of the teachers at McDowell are taking courses from McGill University on the use of computers in education. The school has two computers on trolly, that can be rolled into a classroom and these are most in demand by the teachers in the younger grades.

Mr McGuire says that this is one of the most exciting teaching experiences that he has ever had. The kids are extremely interested and well-motivated and have progressed beyond all expectations.

THOUGHTS ON CHRISTIAN UNITY

My thought on Christian Unity

by Pastor B Wood

Let us first define what the word Christian means: a professing as following the religion of Jesus Christ relating to Christ and his doctrine; manifesting the spirit of Christ, or his teaching; One who believes in or, professes belief in Jesus, as the Christ. A member of a Christian Church. A follower of Jesus. Then we have the word unity. United brethren, unity of brethren, this is good, the Bible tells us it is good for brethren to dwell together in unity.

My thoughts on Christian unity, it is good, it is right, and it is a blessing.

In my study of Church History, I would say no country was better prepared to give hospitality to the heralds of unity than Canada. Canada has a history of cooperation in labours of Love. We have lived together, shared together, worshipped together, this is Christian Unity.

There is divisions in names, yet we do not wish harm to other Churches. According to Dr Douglas Wilson, the earliest Christians of Canada had a simple message, "Good News". Christ died on the Cross, and that he triumphed through the resurection. This joyous faith made common life more abundant and transformed death itself to an incident continuing closeness with God. We need Christian unity to further the message to the world, and to the Nation in which we live. We do have a certain unity.

Every article of the Creed is subject to controversy. There are those who challenge the existence of God; there are those who dispute the Divinity of our Lord; there are those who deny the personality and presence of the Holy Ghost, but these are outside the Christian Church.

We do meet in unity in the ministry of God's word. However, let me go a step farther. Hymn worship; we may be separated by ecclesiastical walls, but not in the use of Hymns. When we want to offer a prayer for guidance we sing "Lead Kindly Light, Amid the encircling gloom, Lead Thou me on." When we want to inspire sweet wonder of the cross we sing "In the Cross of Christ I glory. Towering o'er the wrecks of time". There were places Isaac Watts never preached, yet at great functions we sing: "Oh God our help in Ages Past; our Hope for Years to Come; Our shelter from the Stormy blast, and our Eternal Home.

There is a Holy Catholic Church; behind our divisions there is a great and blessed unity.

Christian Unity

For all Christians our unity is a given. In Christ, we are one, as we share in One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism, Ephesians 4:5.

All too often we stress our differences in the Christian Churches. Our doctrines seem to build walls and barriers with the phrases, 'we don't do that, that way,' or 'we have this and they don't'.

I would suggest that if we look at our similarities and begin there, we would be greatly surprised and overjoyed with our sameness. Our commitment to Jesus as Lord and Saviour, our call to share Christ's love with the world and each other, our focus on worshipping and serving Christ as the Christian way of life, speak to all Christians.

The week of prayer for Christian Unity, prayerfully can be a stepping stone for all Christians, to see their oneness in Christ. Just as Jesus and the Father are one, (John 10:30), we too are one in Him, in Jesus our Lord.

A prayer for us during this week can be, O Lord Jesus Christ, who did say unto his Apostles, Peace I leave with you, my peace, I give to you: Regard not our sins and prejudices, but the Faith of your church, and grant unto it that peace and unity which is agreeable to your will, who lives and reigns with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, world without end. Amen.

Yours in Christian fellowship,
The Rev. Rick Marples

Psalm 55:17

by Kevin Dowling

"Evening and morning and at noon, will I pray and cry aloud: and He shall hear my voice."

So declared the Psalmist David many years ago. King David saw the necessity of making his requests known to God; however hand in hand with that he also realized that the Lord would indeed hear his voice as well.

Many times we as individuals make the mistake of offering up our prayers without considering that they are being heard. It is all too simple as human beings, to slip into the habit of issuing forth a prayer without giving thought to the fact that, at that very moment God is lending an ear to our voice. Subsequently, if many of us were to receive an anwer to prayer, we would either brush it off as mere coincidence or at best stand in awe that God had heard and answered our request at all.

As our community enters into this week of prayer for Christian Unity, we need to rediscover this scriptural truth. As individuals and as a community the need for a true united voice for our Lord is all too evident. We need to take but a short glimpse at the world around us and the extent of man's desperation without the Gospel of Christ is very clear.

Therefore as we, as a community embark upon this time of prayer let us realize from the beginning, that the Lord, He is at hand. Let us also remember that if we will humble ourselves and pray He will bring healing to our land. Most importantly though may we always remember that as we pray we do so not in vain, but rather with the promise that God does hear and answer prayer.

A Gentle Cynic

by Gary W Stokes

Well — here we are again — readying ourselves to celebrate another week of prayer for Christian unity, and I greet the occasion with mixed emotions. I have been taking part in such celebrations for more years than I care to remember, either through the writing of articles such as this, or through the preparation and conduct of services such as those we will celebrate next week. When the New Year rolls around, and when the words "Christian Unity" flash from my desk calendar, I find myself saying rather facetiously, "Here we go again!" I guess I have developed that cynicism about such observances partly because we Christians seem to be continually planning instead of actually "doing", and partly because such celebrations, however sincerely and effectively planned, seem so often to smack of "tokenism", and there is a great temptation to say, with the gentle cynic of Ecclesiastes, "there is nothing new under the sun." I guess the root of my frustration stems from our apparent inability to extend into the other 51 weeks of the year the goodwill, tolerance, understanding, enthusiasm, and all those other "nice" virtues we generate during this special week. There is certainly much "back-slapping" and many a hearty "Hail Fellow Well Met" is exchanged, as we try to forget that there are vast differences that separate us doctrinally and culturally, and we concentrate instead on the unity of our faith in Christ. We talk a lot, we pray a lot, and we sing heartily those well-loved hymns that speak of our oneness in Him; and we marvel, as we visit other churches at just how much like us "they" are, and we promise ourselves to look in to that unusual and interesting liturgy.

But then the week ends and is lost in the flurry of activity of other mid-winter programmes as quickly as it descended upon us, and in truth, for many who take time to reflect upon the experience, "there is nothing new under the sun" and the Church, the spiritual body of the Risen Christ, is as dismembered as it ever was.

But wait— As oft as my cynicism is spawned, it is just as frequently tempered by the reassuring words of one who has too often been dubbed the early Church's great dogmatist — the Apostle Paul.

It is Paul who finally convinces me that all the feeble efforts of modern Christendom to express unity are really worth it in the end. It is Paul who points out to us our human frailties and convinces us to work within the limitations they impose, to do what we are able for the cause of unity despite apparent contradiction or failure. It is Paul who reminds us that God appreciates our efforts even when we cannot do so ourselves, or when they may seem feeble and even hypocritical.

And so, I leave you with those words, written by Paul from prison at a time when he was so obviously concerned with the false teachings in the Church at Philippi:

I do not claim that I have already succeeded, or that I have already become perfect. I keep striving to win the prize for which Jesus Christ has already won me to himself. Of course I do not think that I have already won it; the one thing I do however, is to forget what is behind me and do my best to reach what is ahead.

Keep on striving, Christian brothers and sisters, and perhaps even harsh critics of our Christian unity efforts such as myself will become much gentler cynics!

The Power of United Prayer

by Pastor William Lumsden

S.D. Gordon said, "The greatest thing anyone can do for God or man is pray. It is not the only thing; but it is the chief thing."

Prayer is one of Man's great privileges, and a continual source of eternal strength. In the third chapter of the book of Acts we read a story of the miracle working power of Prayer in and through the lives of Peter and John. A begger is healed in "Jesus Name", causing quite a stir in town. This leads to the apostles' jailing and to a climate of crisis amongst the church.

Upon their release, we read in Acts 4:23 - 30, the apostles "went to their own company. . ." Christians who". . .lifted up their voice to God with one accord. . ." In difficult times it is so good to be around people of like faith, of common vision, people who are united in purpose, and who know how to pray.

Andrew Murray said, "Jesus has opened a school in which He trains His redeemed ones, who desire it, to have power in prayer."

Prayer can be a great unifier as people recognize their common needs and cry out to God together. Often times we don't need the well intentioned human attempts at oneness as much as we need a burden for the unifying bond of prayer.

What was the result of the united prayer of the church in Acts chapter four? In verse 29 we read that they had prayed "and now, Lord behold their threatenings and grant unto Thy servants that with all boldness they may speak thy Word". They didn't pray for the removal of problems or for the destruction of the enemy but rather that in the midst of difficulty that the Word of God might go forth in power. And the Lord answered the united prayer of the Church. Verse 31 says "And when they had prayed the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and they spake the word of God with boldness."

If Christians today could get together and pray "in one accord" they could shake the world for Jesus Christ. Power to bring Good News to the poor. Power to set the Prisoner free. Power to heal a broken heart and hurting spirit. There is power in united Prayer!

God's People United

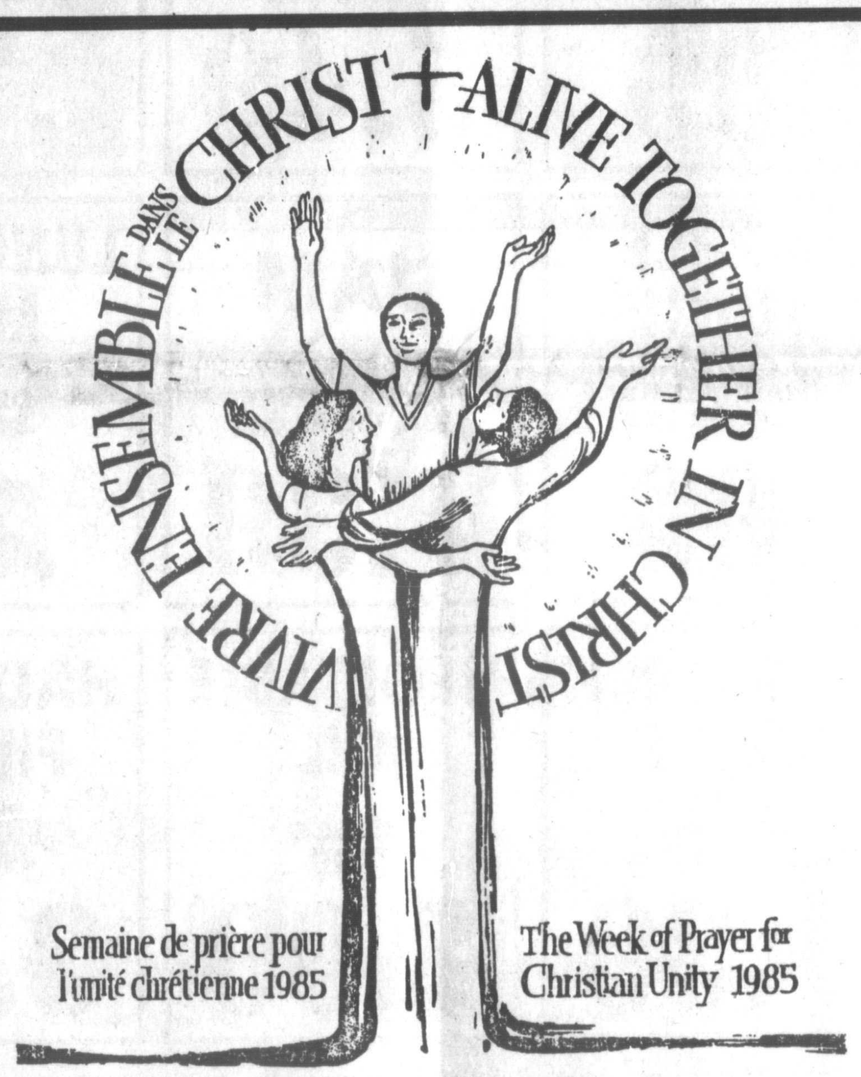

Rev S Marples Wesleyan Church

"'Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's household, built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a holy temple in the Lord." Ephesians 2:19-21.

The Word of God calls for unity, not for uniformity. The difference is small but nevertheless significant as we think of the Church Univeral. Uniformity means to be made into one whereas unity is to act as one. We have different interpretations of the Scripture yet worship the same God, we have different forms of government yet stand for the same Lord, we have different denominations but still belong to the Church Universal. Personally I do not see these differences as a division in the body of Christ and I do not believe that different interpretations, different methods of worship, or distinctive doctrines prevent unity among God's people. Rather these differences to me represent a wholesome and enriching variety in the spiritual atmosphere of this universal Church. Unity is action not uniformity of belief, therefore just as a building is made with materials that vary in size, shape and texture so the holy temple made of God's people that Paul refers to in Ephesians two is joined together with Christians of various denominations.

If unity, as I suggest, does mean to act as one then the churches of Shawville have an angle of ministry that has not yet been fully explored. As God's people we need first to be united in prayer, for each other, but also as Paul suggests to Timothy for our government leaders and those in authority over us. However we also need to stand together in making the voice of God heard on issues that affect our society today, Abortion, Humanism, Pornography, Drug and Alcohol abuse and many more.

This week let us be reminded that Unity is acting as one and let us purpose together to search the scriptures and make God's voice heard in this land.

The meeting of the Bristol, Clarendon, Shawville, Thorne Inter-Municipal Recreation Committee was held in the Shawville Town Hall on Wednesday, January 9, at 8 p.m.

Present were Royce Richardson, chairman, Albert Armstrong, Ronnie Dagg, Bob Findlay, Hawley Wickens, Doug Fulford, Rudy Schroeder, Harold Schock, Peggy Cruickshank Recreation Director.

Moved to approve minutes of December 12 meeting.

Moved that the BCST does not have to have an election of officers, it should just stay the same.

The contract for the Recreation Director will be signed by Peggy Cruickshank and Royce Richardson.

An ad will be put in The Equity to inform the public that the Shawville Outdoor Rink is available for everyone to use.

The Recreation Director sent thirteen letters to various clubs asking for a donation to pay the workers to keep the outdoor rink in good condition.

The Recreation Director has received $200 from the Lions Club and $200 from Recreation Hockey league.

There will be a skate-a-thon organized by the BCST January 26 from 8 am to 6 pm. Pledge sheets are available from the Recreation Director in the Town Hall. All proceeds will go towards the up keep of the Shawville Outdoor Rink. Two ads will be put in The Equity concerning this event.

The meeting that was scheduled concerning Recreation for Teenagers was not successful. No adults showed up for the meeting.

The BCST agreed that the Recreation Director should help the Shawville & District Recreation Association in doing their publicity for them.

If the Shawville & District Recreation Association need of the Recreation Director it will have to be approved by her committee, the BCST.

The Recreation Director called the project officer for the Canada Works Grant but there was not any word on the approval or disapproval of the grants that were applied for through the BCST. Mr Bob Middlemiss, MNA and Mr Barry Moore, MP were also called by the Recreation Director concerning the Canada Works Grants.

The Recreation Director attended the Bristol Council meeting on January 7th.

The BCST agreed that the Recreation Director help the Kinsmen on Saturday to run the children's activities for the Shawville Carnival.

The BCST agreed that the Recreation Director could help Thorne find out information about a specific grant.

The Recreation Director is to let the Shawville and District Snowmobile Club know that if they needed any assistance that the BCST would be willing to help.

The Recreation Director will write a letter to various clubs and organizations stating that if they need any assistance or have any ideas concerning recreation to let the BCST Recreation Director know. This will hopefully increase the amount of recreation that takes place in Bristol, Clarendon, Shawville and Thorne.

The BCST Recreation Committee feels that the more recreation there is in the four municipalities with the help and input of the pblic, the better it could be.

Bills: Municipality of Shawville $1442.30. December travel 50., Pontiac Printshop 43.79, Purolator Courier Ltd 9.01, Telebec 35.64.

Moved that the bills be paid by the Recreation Director for a total of $1580.74.

Moved to adjourn at 9:30 p.m.

Glass was first manufactured in the New World in 1608 in Jamestown, VA. The work was disbanded after seven years for more profitable tobacco growing.

L'Outaouais et la haute technologie: On se concerte en région

C'est la Chambre de commerce régionale qui, la première, eut l'idée de doter la région outaouaise d'un organise voué au développement de la haute technologie. Mais ce n'est qu'après avoir obtenu l'assentiment et surtout l'appui de milieu qu'on devait procéder à la mise sur pied de ce qui est aujourd'hui la Table de concertation sur la haute technologie dans l'Outaouais. Composée d'intervenants des secteurs publics et privés, cette Table que préside actuellement l'ex-président de la Chambre de commerce de l'Outaouais, M. Léo Labrie, se réunit mensuellement depuis bientôt deux (2) ans pour discuter de haute technologie et des moyens à prendre pour que l'Outaouais obtienne sa juste part d'investissements à ce chapitre.

Formée de représentants des gens d'affaires, du monde de haute technologie en cours municipal, du monde de l'éducation, d'organismes et de ministères à vocation économique, la nouvelle Table qui regroupe une quinzaine de membres, se définit essentielle comme un forum de concertation où s'échangent idées et informations relatives au développement de l'industrie de la haute technologie dans l'Outaouais. De sa participation à ces travaux, chaque membre ressort donc mieux informé des projets ou à venir mais surtout plus conscient de ses propres besoins, de ceux qu'il partage avec d'autres et de la nécessité qu'il y a alors de concerter tous les efforts pour s'assurer que chaque dollar investi est véritablement créateur d'emploi. Fait à remarquer, la logistique des activités de la Table a été confiée au Conseil régional de développement de l'Outaouais (C.R.D.O.) et à l'office de planification et de développement du Québec (O.P.D.Q.).

A ce jour, les membres de la Table ont mis beaucoup d'efforts produire, pour leur propre besoin de fonctionnement, un inventaire des activités et projets de haute technologie en région. Après analyse de leur document, ils auront convenu d'un certain nombre de projets à réaliser et identifié un maître d'oeuvre pour chacun, ce maître d'oeuvre assumant bien sûr le leadership du projet, mais pouvant aussi au besoin et, s'il le juge à propos, faire appel à l'expertise des autres intervenants présents à la Table. Ces six (6) projets ou "priorités" sont les suivants:

-le projet CCEPTA Outaouais;
-le projet dun consortium privé de développement de logiciel;
-le projet d'implantation d'activités de télédétection;
-le projet de laboratoire de chimie du bois;
-le programme de recherche en logiciel;
-le projet d'un centre de traitement des données fiscales.

Par ailleurs, la Table compte également, au nombre de ses réalisations, la tournée d'une journée effectuée dans l'Outaouais, en février 1983, par l'actuel ministre québécois de la Science et de la Technologie, M. Gilbert Paquette, de même qu'une rencontre, plus récente celle-là, avec l'ex-ministre libéral fédéral des Communications, M. Francis Fox. Il s'agit là, bien sûr, de rencontres nécessaires qui auront lieu périodiquement pour mieux poursuivre l'oeuvre de sensibilisation déjà amorcée auprès des divers paliers de gouvernement concernant le développement de la haute technologie dans l'Outaouais.

Cela dit, la Table de concertation sur la haute technologie dans l'Outaouais est née, il y a deux ans, d'une volonté ferme du milieu de se concerter pour mieux influencer et provoquer le développement de l'industrie de la haute technologie dans l'Outaouais et, ce faisant, l'assurer de sa pleine et juste part de développement en tant que partie intégrante de la Capitale nationale et de la "Silicone Valley" du Nord-Est.

Beavers in winter

(NC) — Unlike many pond residents, beavers don't become inactive in winter. Their dams are built to deepen ponds so they don't freeze to the bottom, allowing beavers to live active lives and travel back and forth under the ice between their submerged lodge entrances and caches of food. The beaver's specialized respiratory system enables it to swim to an under-ice food cache, gnaw off a twig or branch, and carry it back to the lodge on the same breath of air. In summer, beaver ponds provide habitat for waterfowl, especially in Eastern Canada where black ducks often use them for brood-raising.

Bristol Women's Institute

by Peg Carmichael
Publicity Convenor

The January meeting of the Bristol Women's Institute was held at the home of Flora Russell on Thursday afternoon January 10th with eleven members present.

Lois Henderson presided opening the meeting with the singing of the Ode followed by repeating The Mary Stewart Collect.

A very interesting roll call was enjoyed by all. This consisted of something old from your home and the history of same. We had some very old china, books, hair ornamaments, wood carvings and of special interest were account books dating back to 1842.

These books are owned by Thomas MacFarlane and from a store his great great grandfather owned and operated on the farm in Clarendon Front where Tommy and his wife still reside.

Business of the day dealt mainly with plans for the Fair exhibits.

A donation was sent to Bryson for a Tiny Tots Center and also a donation to a former Pontiacer who had the misfortune to be burned out at Christmas.

As it was growing late and very cold we held our program over for another time.

The meeting closed and a social hour was spent enjoying a delicious lunch served by Flora, assisted by Margaret Young.

XJN16

TREMBLAY - In loving memory of a darling little son, John Keith Lawrence, who passed away January 18, 1984.
God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be.
So He closed His arms around,
And whispered, "Come to me"
You suffered much in silence,
Your spirit did not bend.
You faced your pain with courage,
Until the very end.
You tried so hard to stay with us,
Your fight was all in vain,
God took you to His loving Home,
And freed you from all pain.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone.
For part of us went with you.
The day God called you Home.
A light is from our household gone,
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
But, in memory you are with us.
As you always were before.
You were a flower too sweet for earth,
Sent here but for a while;
God marked you when He gave you birth
And took you with a smile.
Sadly missed, Mom
XJN16

TREMBLAY - In loving memory of a dear little brother, John, who passed away January 18, 1984.
Dear is the grave where our darling brother is laid,
Sweet is the memory that never will fade.
His little soul, so pure and sweet.
Will blossom at our Savior's feet.
He has gone to be an angel,
Secure in our Father's care,
And his dear little feet now patter along,
The beautiful streets up there.
Lovingly remembered always by sisters Cheryl and Shelley.

The Waltham R.A. Association held a special meeting on Monday, January 7th with ten members attending and chaired by G Labelle, Pres. The Secretary Treasurer, Mrs Violet Pelletier read the minutes and financial report. The purpose of the meeting was to decide a place and date for the annual euchre tournament. This year the games will be held at the Waltham Hotel due to the Town Hall being closed for the winter months.

In reviewing the history of the R.A. we find that all programs have been undertaken by people, being willing to give of their time and energy for the good of the youth and senior citizens, on a voluntary basis without any remuneration of any kind. Among these programs are the looking after of the Government Winter Works Grants, the summer students grants, Katimavik; care of the ball field for senior and junior players alike; making this field with lights one of the best in the County; sponsoring ball tournaments. This year 28 trophies were donated to the junior ball team. The installation of lights and care of the skating rink with a shack being built last year under the Katamavik program, Santa Claus party, donations given for a Halloween Party, treats and prizes for same. An annual senior citizens dinner and dance. A New Year's dance, as a get-to-gether for the local people and much more. We, the people, owe a debt of gratitude to the many R.A. members who have been so dedicated over the years in this small community.

The Christmas meeting of Beech Grove W.I. was held at the home of Lois Martineau. Beginning with the Institute Grace, a delicious luncheon was served in a delightful Christmas atmosphere. Exchange gifts were placed under a beautifully decorated tree. On the living room table were many attractive plates of goodies to be distributed to shut ins, the elderly or just persons who live alone.

Cards were signed and sent to former members, friends and hospital patients.

The President reported on a meeting that she had attended at the home of Evelyn Duff, County President. Some pertinent reminders to branches are as follows: Money for relief in Ethopia can be sent through ACWW; new prices on membership pins $16.75; Expo requirements; FWIC conference in London, Ontario, June 16—20; article or articles to the value of $10 for the FWIC gift table are to be sent to the Provincial office before February. Provincial Convention date is May 28, 29, 30. Gifts for the sales table at convention are also requested. Anniversary spoons, lapel pins, plates with decals will also be available.

The program was "Christmas in Other Lands". A skit from Dickens Christmas carol, an all time classic, was a portrayal of once-upon-a-time Christmas conditions in England; a lively report of German customs brought to Canada by grandparents of a member who still remembers the words of some German carols, a cookbook of German foods, a sample of delicious German fruit bread; a report by a member on Hungarian customs who got her information first-hand from a former Hungarian citizen.

A Christmas table cloth, decorated with 'Julemanden" Santa Claus and hearts, Danish expressions "God Jul", Merry Christmas, a report on Christmas festivities which begin at noon on December 24 with bells ringing out everywhere and feasting continues on into the night.

The Christmas tree is placed in the centre of the room. Children dance around it and sing a song which means "Come, Julemanden, Come". Candles on the tree are real candles in special holders or hangers. When all is quiet "Santa" slips in and places the gifts under the tree. Great is the excitement on Christmas morning.

A report on Switzerland showed many beautiful scenes from the Alps. A former Institute member now living in Geneva says she missed seeing the sun rise and set. That's something she never sees now as it is obscured by the high peak of the Alps. A wealth of information was on display, pictures, pamphlets, projects. In all the program presented a brief but compact study of education and cultural affairs activities.
