STRIKE FOLLOWS EXECUTIONS

Dragnet Seeks Two Slayes

STE. AGATHE, Que.—A wide dragnet manned by more than 100 police and civilians operated Wednesday from this Laurentians resort town where two men are sought following the gun-battle slaying Tuesday of police Captain Ernest Chalifoux.

Fifty provincial and municipal police combed the well-wooded area 60 miles northwest of Montreal. Headquarters said more than 50 civilians were helping.

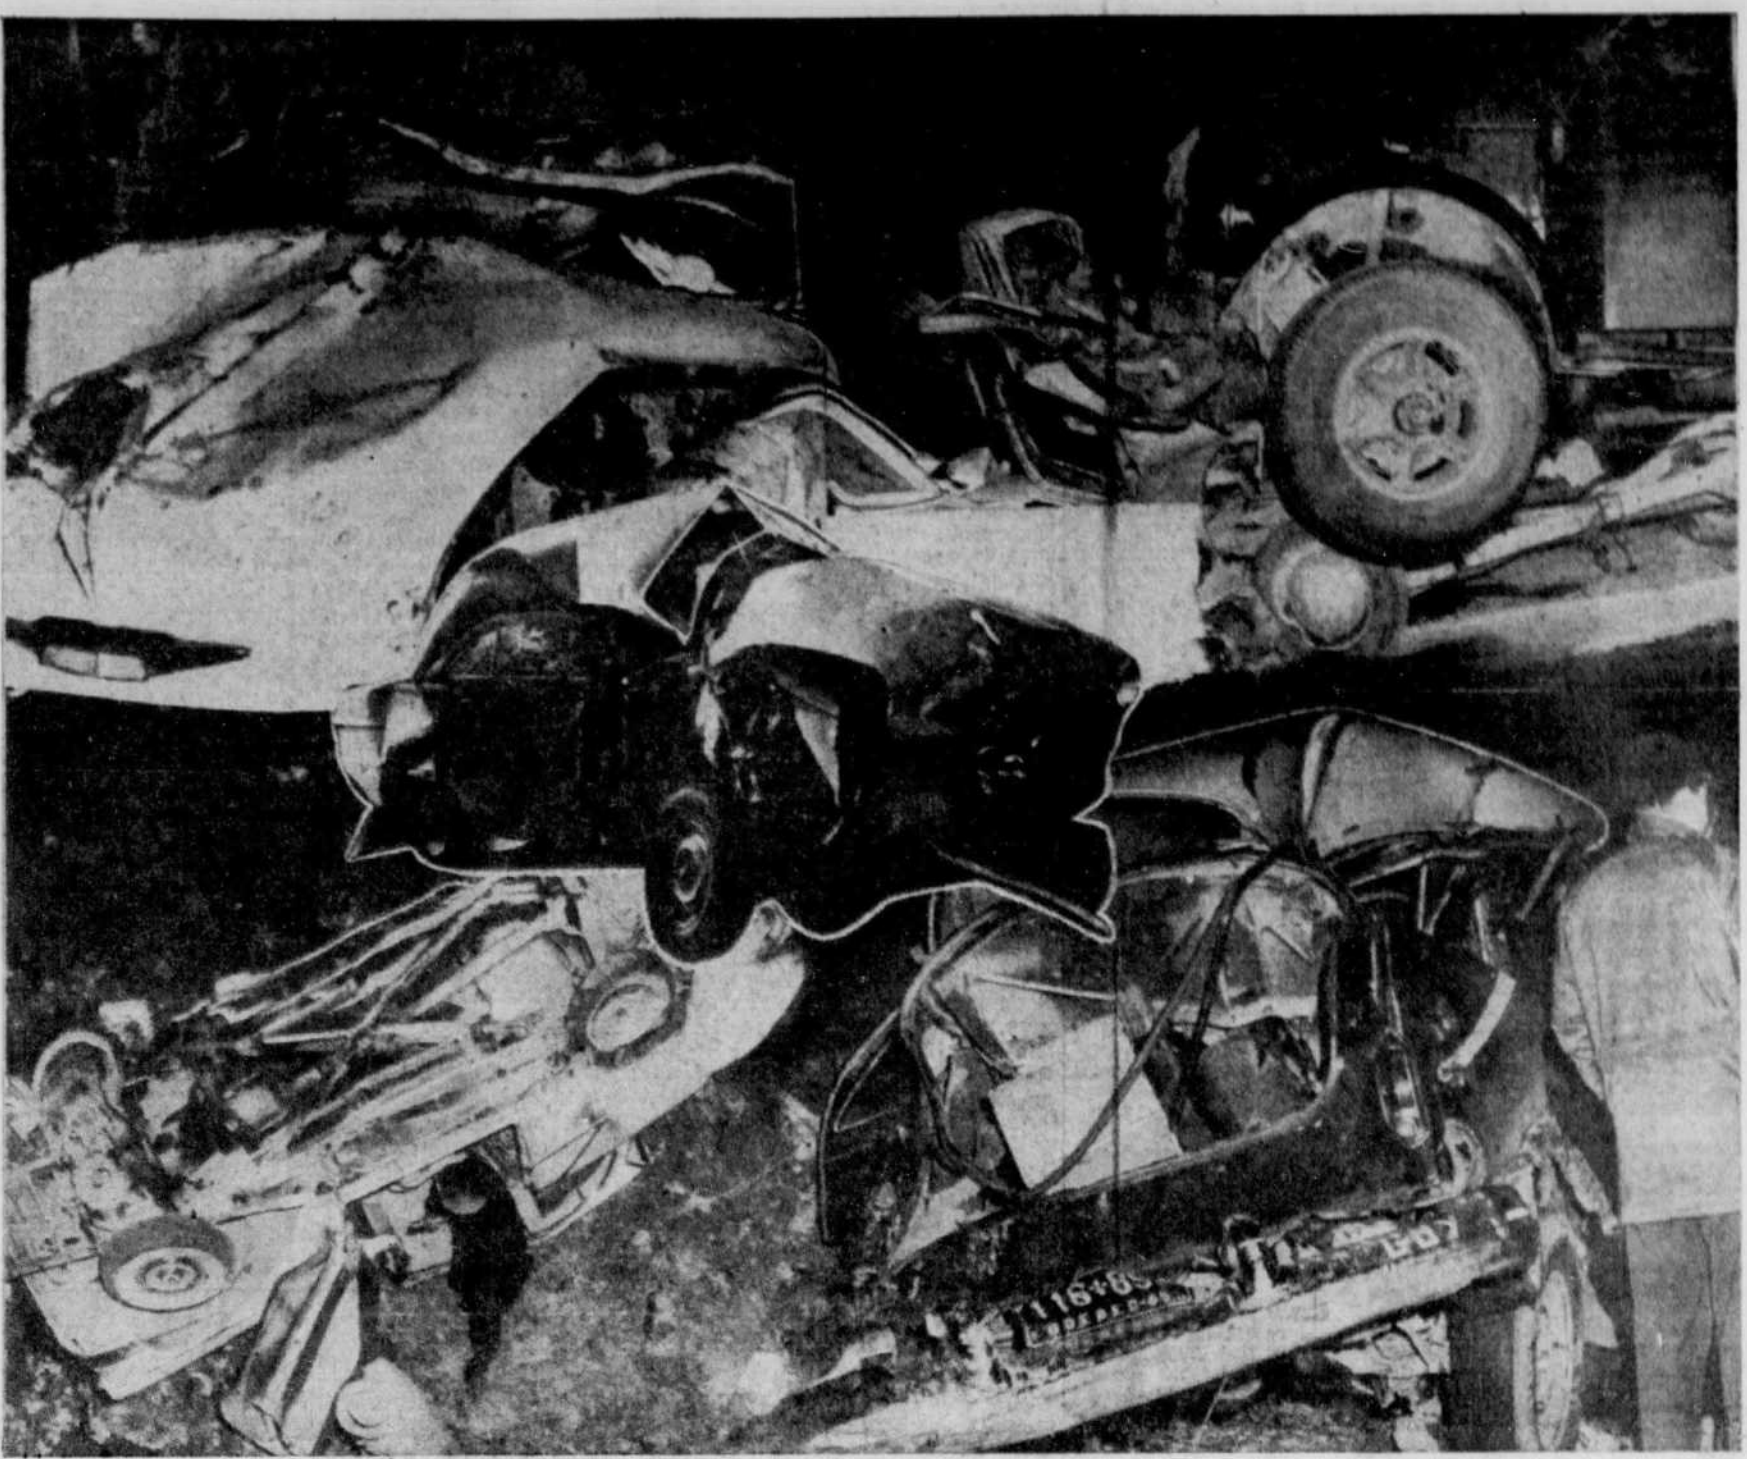

Sought for questioning are two men who escaped from an alcoholic rehabilitation centre in the district. That was a few hours before Capt. Chalifoux received mortal lung wounds from two bullets fired into his back.

He was attempting to arrest two men caught looting a distillery agent's station wagon, laden with rye whisky. They fled in the gloom of a power blackout after at least seven shots were fired, four by the captain.

Capt. Chalifoux, 51, died after managing to drive his cruiser back to headquarters.

Police said three cases of liquor had been stolen from the station wagon, one of a number of vehicles that had been tampered with.

The civilian help in the search followed a wave of public indignation. Roadblocks were set up shortly after the provincial police took over the investigation and police speculated that the two assailants have no vehicle and thus should still be in the immediate area.

Some Good Reasons For The Crackdown — This composite picture of several fatal traffic accidents shows good and grim reason for the recent crackdown on wayward motorists by the Quebec Provincial Police. The number of major accidents on the province's highways have skyrocketed recently, with an accompanying heavy death toll.

Work-Stop, Silence After Hanging Of 3 Cypriot Terrorists

NICOSIA, Cyprus — A general strike gripped this tense Mediterranean island today in protest against the hanging of three Greek Cypriot terrorists.

The heavy tread of British military patrols and the rumble of army trucks echoed in the deserted streets of this capital.

Several hours earlier, however, prisoners in Nicosia's central prison staged a frenzied uproar at the hanging of the three, executed before the eyes of a handful of British officials.

This morning's ominous silence was general throughout the island.

Other centres reported similar pictures of deserted streets. The few stores open for business had their doors half-closed. Only essential services seemed exempt from the general strike call.

Some 2,200 construction workers already had quit work on British military buildings at Larnaca, on the south coast. About 350 political prisoners at a detention camp outside Nicosia staged a 24-hour hunger strike.

Themistocles Dervis, Nicosia's mayor and a leader of the island's 400,000 Greek Cypriots, said he had warned Governor Sir John Harding that "if the executions are carried out, things are likely to get much worse."

The condemned men were Andreas Zakkos, 25, and Charilaos Michael and Iakovos Patatos, both 22. They were members of the EOKA underground group fighting to replace British rule on Cyprus.

They went to their deaths simultaneously on a triple gallows in Nicosia's central prison. As the trap was sprung, inmates of the prison chanted "Hurrah for EOKA . . . death to Harding, down with England."

EOKA, which has said it will kill a Briton for every Greek Cypriot hanged, threatened last week to slay a 78-year-old hostage, John Cremer, unless the three condemned men were freed. Later it released him following an appeal by Zakkos, who said the other two joined him.

A Greek Orthodox priest who administered the final sacraments Wednesday night said the three men awaited their fate calmly. Zakkos listened to Beethoven and Bach records.

Zakkos and Michael were convicted of taking part in the ambush last December of British Maj. Brian Coombe. Four extremists killed Coombe's driver, a British corporal, but the 34-year-old major captured Zakkos and Michael and killed a third attacker.

Patatos was sentenced for the fatal shooting of a Turkish Cypriot policeman in Nicosia last April.

World News In Brief

ST. CONSTANT, Que. — A lone gunman held up a branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale in this community 15 miles south of Montreal Wednesday and made off with $1,000.

Adeladine Dubuc, the manager, was alone in the bank when the holdup occurred.

CARACAS, Venezuela (P) — Ex-dictator Juan D. Peron arrived here Wednesday night from exile in Panama, where he declared his future movements depend "on what happens in Argentina."

NAGASAKI, Japan (P) — Nagasaki's mayor called today for "peace between mankind destroys itself" as the rebuilt city observed the 11th anniversary of the Second World War's second and last atomic bombing.

Some 15,000 gathered before the world peace statue to renew the city's annual prayer that the bomb dropped here Aug. 9, 1945, would be man's last resort to nuclear warfare.

U.K. May Withdraw German Force

Warns Allies That Suez Crisis May Bring Transfer Of Personnel

LONDON — (P) — Britain today was reported to have advised her NATO allies that she may have to withdraw certain individuals and military units from Germany in view of the Suez Canal crisis.

Qualified Allied diplomats gave no indication either of the identity or the number of the individuals, or the nature and number of the formations which may pull out of Germany.

Earlier reports said that Britain might pull out a whole division from Germany, but the diplomatic officials said the Eden government thus far has given no indication of the precise extent of the withdrawals they may have to make.

They expressed doubt, however, that an entire division will be withdrawn at this stage.

The war office declined to confirm or deny the reports.

Britain now maintains four divisions and a tactical air force in Germany.

Under agreements with the Atlantic Pact powers she is entitled to reduce this force in the event of some grave emergency affecting her interests elsewhere, or in the event of extreme financial difficulties.

The informants emphasized, however, that any withdrawal must have the prior permission of the Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

Ecuador Revolt Is Shortlived, Only 3 Deaths

QUITO, Ecuador (P) — Ecuador's government says it has broken the back of a brief revolt and bottled up the rebels remnants on the ranch of one of the leaders.

A government spokesman said only three deaths-all army men-had been reported since army units in western Ecuador's Manabí province rebelled Monday night and seized key cities and towns in the province.

Seal Doom Of Miners, Hope Dies

MARCELLE, Belgium — (P) — Rescue teams today sealed off the upper levels of the burning Casier du Bois coal mine, dooming an estimated 30 of the 260 men trapped below in the hope of saving the others from suffocation.

With oxygen tanks strapped to their backs, workers descended the main shaft of the 3,300-foot-deep mine in relays with big slabs of spun-glass fibre. With these they shut off all passages from the smoke-filled shaft down to about 2,200 feet in the hope that this would enable them to descend to lower levels where the heat they would enable them to be.

The miners were trapped Wednesday when the fire, caused by a short circuit, melted an elevator cable and sent the lift crashing to the bottom of the pit. Other escape routes also were cut off. Twenty-five miners escaped aboard the elevator before it was lost.

Rescue workers by Wednesday night had removed nine dead and six injured miners from upper levels. Another 230 were in levels 2,500 to 3,300 feet down. About 30 more were believed somewhere in the sealed-off passages—and if they were not already dead, the closing of the passages doomed them to suffocation.

One worker who came back from the 2,200-foot level said the "heat and smoke are terrible."

"With my light I could not see six inches in front of me, but if the men in the lower levels have found holes to hide in from the heat they may still be alive. There still is hope."

Before the passages were sealed off, workmen poured tons of water down the main shaft in a risk-filled effort to extinguish the flames. They resorted to an extensive use of water—even though it might drown the trapped men—after trying unsuccessfully for hours to curb the flames with hand extinguishers.

See Early Merger Of CCCL

OTTAWA — (P) — Quebec's 100,000 workers in the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor are a sure bet to be absorbed into the 1,000,000-member Canadian Labor Congress in the next few months, CLC informants said Wednesday.

A give-and-take plan is in the works whereby the CCCL will divest itself of some of its religious aspects but will — at least initially — retain more of its identity than have the central bodies that merged to form the congress originally earlier this year.

The Quebec labor group, which made overtures for amalgamation into the biggest of Canadian labor bodies several months ago, is expected to knock out the word "Catholic" from its name as a condition to getting in with the bigger congress, which it fears could raid its membership heavily if organizing warfare were declared.

In return, it was expected, the Quebec confederation would be accorded a sort of semi-autonomous status within the Canadian Labor Congress at the start as a regional organization. This could be dropped later, but for the time being would appear to keep existing CCCL membership intact.

Edmonton — Alberta Farmers Have Been Hard Hit By Hail This Summer In What Insurance Officials Describe As One Of The Worst Years For Hail Losses On Record.

The Alberta hail insurance board reports it has received about 1,600 claims up to Aug. 1, compared to 421 for the same period last year.

MONTREAL — The city executive committee Wednesday requested that Acting Police Director Pacifique P. Plante explain statements attributed to him recently.

A reporter questioned Plante regarding the alleged arrest and subsequent freeing of a Montreal Superior Court judge on an impaired driving offence.

Plante was quoted as saying that the judge was a well-known public figure and therefore "you cannot treat him this way."

Violent Storm Hits Nova Scotia

HALIFAX — A summer storm swept up the Nova Scotia coast today, battering ships, grounding aircraft and soaking the southern Maritimes.

A disabled fishing boat called for help off Cape Breton. The wind upset an airplane on a Bay of Fundy island and rain caused minor flooding in some areas.

Explosion Suspects Arrested

PANAMA — (P) — Arrivals from the blast-shattered Colombian city of Cali say a number of persons have been arrested in connection with Tuesday's explosion, in which estimates of the total dead range as high as 1,200.

The informants said Colombian authorities have launched an investigation of the dynamite blast which wrecked the heart of Cali, scooping a crater 85 feet deep and about 200 feet wide and causing damage put by some estimates at $40,000,000.

Colombian President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla has labelled the explosion an act of political sabotage.

The travellers said press censorship has been clamped down in Colombia.

Cali residents have been forbidden to leave the city, the informants added, and plane, train and car travel is under rigid control.

Capital Hill Roundup

New Immigration Policy On Chinese

OTTAWA — (P) — Commons Opposition speakers heaped brickbats on the government Wednesday for one new immigration policy on Chinese and showered it with laurels for another.

Harold E. Winch (CCF—Vancouver East) and Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops) bitterly attacked a Commons announcement by Immigration Minister Pickersgill of a drastic limitation on the number of times his department will review the case of a rejected Chinese immigrant.

However, they praised a new decision to ease restrictions on the entry to Canada of the fiancées of Canadian citizens of Chinese origin.

Mr. Pickersgill said effective immediately his department will consider no new requests for review of a Chinese case on which there already has been one review after the original rejection.

The regulation would not affect cases now under review. On new requests the files would be closed after one review unless there was evidence of wrongdoing by departmental officials.

Mr. Pickersgill also said the government plans to allow into Canada more immigrants from India. He added he believes a "good number" of eligible immigrants will be found in European refugee camps now being visited by an immigration mission. The present quota is 150 persons a year.

Indian reserves were described Wednesday as "glorified concentration camps" and "land that wouldn't maintain a gopher."

The first description was applied by Ambrose Holowach (SC—Edmonton East) in a sharp attack in the Commons on the government's handling of Indian affairs.

He called for a new program to restore some of the dignity and respect of Indians. The white man should have a "guilty conscience" about his treatment of the Indians.

Simonds Supports Macklin On Korean Army Charges

OTTAWA — (P) — Late this morning, Prime Minister St. Laurent accused Maj.-Gen. W. H. S. Macklin and Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds of "trying to create alarm among the Canadian public."

He was referring to statements Wednesday by the two retired generals that there were 10,000 deserters, absentees and discharges from the infantry brigade raised to fight in Korea before it sailed for Asia.

Acting Opposition Leader Rowe asked the prime minister at the start of today's Commons sitting whether he did not consider the statements alarming to the Canadian people.

Mr. St. Laurent said: "I think that statements were intended to be alarming but I think they will create the alarm that was intended."

OTTAWA — Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, former chief of the army general staff, said Wednesday, 7,000 of the 20,000 men recruited for the Canadian Infantry Brigade for Korea in 1950 deserted.

He said in an interview that political pressure was exerted to make the brigade entirely one of volunteers and that as a result many misfits were taken in.

Gen. Simonds, stern critic of Canadian defence policy since his retirement from the army a year ago, was commenting on charges by Maj.-Gen. W. H. S. Macklin, retired army adjutant-general, that thousands and thousands of men recruited into the Korean brigade never fought or did a day's work and that many were drawn from prisons.

Gen. Macklin was speaking to the 25th Lake Couchiching conference sponsored by the CBC and the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs.

Gen. Simonds said that besides the 7,000 deserters, another 3,000 men were weeded out before the brigade, which comprised some 10,000 men, sailed for Korea in 1951.

Gen. Simonds said no recruiting was actually done in prisons but he knew of cases where magistrates had given persons convicted of minor offences the choice of joining the army or taking a jail sentence.

Taxes, Inflation And A Fall Election

Torn between demands of his followers for substantial tax reductions in the 1957 and the warnings of his economic brain-trusters that such tax cuts might fan the fire of inflation, Prime Minister St. Laurent might well call a snap election this fall, according to some Ottawa observers.

They argue that the Government could seek to take advantage of the high level of economic prosperity now prevailing in the country as a reason for its return to office, leaving the issue of tax reductions as something for the distant future.

But the Liberal strategists would do well to think twice about a snap election by which Canadians would be deprived of any prospect of tax reductions in the foreseeable future. The average taxpayer finds it difficult to convince himself that tax reductions will increase the danger of inflation. So long as tax revenues remain high, government spending will remain high — and government spending is no less inflationary than spending by any other sector of the economy.

In fact, it is a greater drain on the economy than spending by individuals, as persons employed by private organizations are generally engaged in more-or-less productive enterprises, while civil servants seldom add to the output of real goods and services. And the civil service will grow as long as government revenues are high, in-keeping with Parkinson's law enunciated by The Economist of London some months ago to the effect, that when dealing with the civil service:

"Work expands so as to fill the time available to do it and there is no relationship between the work to be done and the size of the staff which is assigned."

Compelling evidence of the validity of this law is found in the defense department, which employed 8,000 civil servants at the peak of World War II in 1944, and which employs 8,200 today.

No less remarkable is the overall increase in the size of the civil service — an increase which continues at a pace far in excess of the rate of population growth or growth in the size of gross national product, and which is even more rapid than the rate of growth of so-called social and other services provided by government.

The size of the civil service, exclusive of Crown corporations and other special agencies of government, has jumped from 47,231 in 1934 to 145,502 in 1950 and to 181,913 in 1955.

Another Round Of Inflation

The announcement by the United States Steel Corporation that prices will be boosted approximately $8.50 a ton to cover initial cost increases resulting from the new three-year contract signed with the workers was not unexpected. After all, the public realized that it would be called upon to make good any additional outlay for the steel workers. But it is an inevitable start of a new round of inflation at the very time observers had agreed the inflation spiral had been halted.

Canadians cannot expect to avoid the repercussions of this latest move, as the result of higher prices for the great proportion of the steel which it imports and because the Canadian steel workers are seeking — and getting — higher wages themselves.

The higher prices for basic steel will be reflected in almost every article in common use today, from the nickel-plated steel spoon for the summer camp to the de luxe automobile.

The cost-of-living index, after a period of some stability, is on its way up again. This rising index might not mean much to the steel worker, for instance, who is reasonably certain of higher wages and continued employment in today's surging construction field. But it does mean a great deal to the pensioner, for instance, or to anyone for that matter, whose income remains stationary.

It can also mean much to all Canadians, because if our costs go up, then the products we make become more expensive and less in demand in competitive markets. The inevitable result will be reduced employment and lower incomes at the very time that living costs are advancing.

Much Needed Repairs

Many motorists in this area, as well as a considerable number of tourists, will welcome the paving of the highway known as the "back road" to North Hatley.

Why this well-travelled, picturesque route has remained a dirt road is a dusty mystery. But it certainly is good that the Provincial Highways Department has turned attention to it.

This road winds through some of the most beautiful scenery in this country. It is well-travelled both in summer and winter and with the new T-bar lift at Hillcrest Lodge, the winter skiing traffic can be expected to increase sharply.

It is a shame to see the clouds that mushroom from this road in the dryness of summer, turning the gorgeous greens to dirty brown.

This And That...

The fairs are as much a part of life in the Eastern Townships as are the lakes, rivers and rolling hills. Plan to attend at least one fair this year. They're really a lot of fun.

Somewhere along the line, Great Britain has suffered severe damage to her reputation in India. It seems inconceivable that all the blame should be India's. The deterioration of British popularity in her former colony is, sharply evident in Indian demonstrations favoring Egypt in the Suez dispute. Major interference with shipping on the canal could only cause India damage economically.

Whether or not he wins the Democratic nomination and / or whether or not he becomes president, chalk up a big mark of courage to Adlai Stevenson. Mr. Stevenson, who sorely needs the south's support, laid it on the line this week by calling for "unequivocal approval" of the outlawing of racial segregation in public schools.

Watching A Giant Being Tamed

(Ottawa Journal)

Three pages in the New York Times Magazine are given up to words and pictures on the St. Lawrence seaway and power project. The article is by Miss TANIA LONG and the illustrations show striking aspects of the work on both sides of the river in this gigantic international undertaking.

TANIA LONG writes from Cornwall about what she calls "the mighty task of taming a giant... the vast project to harness the mighty waters of the St. Lawrence river for the benefit of industry in New York state and the province of Ontario" and in its second phase "to open the heartland of North America to ocean-going ships."

Canadian readers will observe that in New York Times tradition its report of progress on the seaway-and-power enterprise makes it clear that Canada is at least an equal partner with the United States and paying its full share of the billion dollars it will cost. In sharp contrast was the recent attempt of Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to picture the project on television — its disappointing production ignored Cornwall, over-played Massena, N.Y., and must have left many U.S. viewers with the conviction that this was almost wholly an American job.

The Times, on the other hand, is balanced and accurate in its report — as might have been expected.

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO
From the Record of Monday, August 9th, 1926.

The conditions throughout Mexico are regarded as acute with several gunfights being reported during clashes over the suspension of religious observances.

Socialist-Communist obstructionist tactics in the French government Chamber of Deputies have failed with the Poincaré government financial reform proposals being advanced a stage.

Officers installed for the Oddfellows Lodge at Granby were: E. W. Ellison, Leland Webster, C. R. Robinson, Raymond Wiggins, E. W. Bradford, N. Richardson, F. Stapleton, Howard Salisbury, W. Kennedy, and Harold Hibbard.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Friday, August 9th, 1946.

A Russian move to require a two-thirds vote for adoption of all conference recommendations was voted down today by the full Paris Peace Conference. The rebuff of the Russian proposal was made after a plain-speaking address by United States Secretary of State in which he declared that the U.S. would not be dictated to.

The British Government apparently was busy today arranging land, air and sea forces for imposition of a blockade on authorized Jewish immigration into Palestine. A Foreign Office spokesman said that Britain had requested the Russian and Rumanian Governments to do anything possible to stop the embarkation of immigrants from Constanza and other Rumanian ports.

A prolonged drought has had harmful effects on crops in the Eastern Townships area, the Provincial Bureau of Statistics revealed today. The severe drought in addition to producing the usual mechanical injuries to crops, has provoked the development of harmful insects and some vegetable diseases.

Most Destructive Of Frankensteins

London Free Press

An officer of the United States Air Force has flown a rocket plane at a speed of 1,900 miles an hour, almost three times the speed of sound. The record was made July 25. Lt. Col. Frank K. Everest, Jr., was testing certain metals and alloys for resistance to heat which is one of the great problems of high speed in aircraft.

Many countries are carrying on similar experiments and many aircraft designed for incredible speed are on the drawing boards. Once a metal alloy is discovered which will stand the intense heat the difficulty will be to find pilots to fly these mechanical meteors. It is hard enough now.

In Washington, D. C., General Nathan F. Twining of the U. S. Air Force, recently back from Russia where he saw something of Soviet air power, advocates reducing conventional armed forces and relying more and more on new atomic weapons. He told the Senate air power investigating subcommittee: "The nuclear weapon is here to stay and it is going to be used in war. We know that. So let us build our forces around these new weapons."

In the course of producing new nuclear weapons the great powers are concentrating on inter-continental ballistic weapons with atomic war heads. When these are developed to the point of long-range flight, guided precisely to the target, and moving at incredible speed, we shall have little use for piloted aircraft, and no use for human pilots on such flights. We shall have achieved the push button war in so far as long-range fighting goes.

It is not so many years away. Unless we discover some

RUFF OF LOSER CAN SET BID

It is usually advantageous to ruff a losing card with dummy's worthless trump. Today's hand shows an exception to this rule.

West opened the nine of diamonds, and declarer won in dummy with the king. He next led a low club, losing the king to West's ace. West returned the jack of spades, and South ruffed.

Declarer cautiously led a club to dummy's queen, discovering that the suit was divided 3-2. Only the jack of clubs was still out, and perhaps he could ruff that with dummy's low trump.

First, however, South took the precaution of leading the king of hearts from dummy. East dropped the queen of hearts, and the whole picture changed.

South could now afford to lead two more rounds of trumps, winning with the ace and jack, followed by a low club lead. West took the jack of clubs and led another spade to force out South's next-to-last trump. South then proceeded to lead out his good clubs, allowing West to use his good trump whenever he pleased.

ed. South lost only one trump and two clubs, making his game contract.

South could have ruffed out the jack of clubs, but he would have lost the game by doing so. At this point he had four trumps, and West held three. South would have used up a trump to enter his hand and he would have used up another to get back after ruffing a club in the dummy. This would leave him one trump shorter than West, and he would never recover from this handicap.

You, South, hold:
Spades 6, Hearts K-Q-J-6-3, Diamonds A-K-7-3, Clubs 8-4-2.

What do you do?
A—Bid two diamonds. You can afford this forcing bid in the fourth suit since you have 13 points in high cards opposite an opening bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:
Spades K-6, Hearts Q-10-7-6-3, Diamonds A-K-7-3, Clubs J-4.

PLANNED PLAY

GENERAL BURNS ON HOT SEAT

(W.L. Clark in Windsor Star)
Major-General E.L.M. Burns of Canada has done a good job supervising the truce arrangements between Israel and the Arabs in the Middle East. He is like a baseball umpire. One side hollers about one decision, and the other side hollers about another decision. He can't satisfy them all.

The general won't mind being the target for criticism. He is accustomed to that. When he agreed to accept the responsibility in Israel, he knew what he was stepping into. He realized he might be murdered by one side or the other. Happily, that has not happened—yet.

The chore undertaken by Gen. Burns is a thankless one. That he has done so well reflects credit on his integrity and impartiality.

GRANDMA KNEW FREEDOM

(Hamilton Spectator)

The late Ernest Bevin when Britain's Foreign Minister, expressed the hope that he would live to see the day when the peoples of the world would travel freely from country to country without passports. That dream is a long way from realization. Passports have become a source of revenue, a statistical device and a useful method of recording information. The fact that they are a symbol of humanity's diminished freedoms seems unimportant in this age of docketing and regimentation. Grandma travelled sans passport, sans identity card. Let's applaud her; she knew what freedom was, even if her grandchildren have forgotten.

The Intruder Upsets Egyptian Princess To Win Hambletonian At Goshen

Fans Help Williams Pay $5,000 Fine Levied For Spitting Toward Stands

BOSTON (AP) — Baseball fans the object of Ted Williams' latest spitting tantrum began making contributions Wednesday toward the Boston slugger's $5,000 fine.

The Red Sox bad boy, tapped in the paycheck by clubowner Tom Yawkey after spitting toward the stands in Tuesday's game with New York, continued his temperamental rampage at his hotel hideaway.

"Hit the road," Williams roared at one reporter who asked him if he resented the fine equalled only in major league history by the same levy on Babe Ruth in 1925.

The great Babe was tapped for not showing up several days in St. Louis but later was reimbursed.

The latest incident, which probably broadened Williams' feud with fans from a local to a national scope, brought quick sympathy and aid from staunch Williams supporters.

Mutual responsibility of athletes and fans was brought up at the State legislature where Rep. James Condon, a Boston Democrat, filed a bill to prohibit profane, obscene and impure language or slanderous statements being directed at ball players. The bill would impose a $50 fine on violators.

"I do not condone the actions of Ted Williams," Condon said.

"but some of the insulting language hurled at players at almost any sporting event is disgusting to the majority of the spectators. Most of this abuse an athlete can take, but there always comes a breaking point."

Charles Collatos, a state labor relations commissioner and a member of the American Legion national executive committee, announced he had opened a bank account for contributions to Williams.

Earlier in the day Collatos had started the money flow by mailing a $25 cheque to Williams.

"I believe Williams' action was an emotional outburst, not a spiteful act," Collatos said. "Williams has done a lot to teach youth sportsmanship and play. I believe the fans who booed him were more to blame than he."

In Northampton, Mass., donation containers labeled "Help Ted Williams Pay His Fine" were placed on counters in a cafe and a tobacco shop.

And in Boston five office girls placed an advertisement in papers asking fans to send $1 contributions directly to Ted.

Though he told Cronin he was sorry, Williams later told reporters "I'd still spit at the same people who booed me."

One income tax specialist, basing his calculations on Ted's reported $100,000-a-year salary, said the federal government would absorb about $3,500 of the fine and Williams only $1,500.

Laughren Fails in 9th Attempt To Swim Strait

VICTORIA — Ben Laughren's ninth attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca ended in failure Wednesday when he climbed out of the water after hitting a dead tide.

Laughren, a husky 280-pound former wrestler, was in the water for seven hours and 22 minutes.

He ran into the dead spot about six miles from Victoria and climbed from the water unaided after consultations with his trainer.

The swim was cancelled when it was decided he could not reach the flood tide in time to benefit from its sweep into Port Angeles, Wash., 18.3 miles across the strait from Victoria.

Babe Zaharias Recovering In Galveston, Tex.

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Zaharias, famed woman athlete suffering from cancer, said Wednesday "it's nice to lie here and feel no pain."

She is recovering from another operation of the several she has had since cancer first was discovered in 1953. The last one was performed Monday to relieve an abdominal obstruction. It was the second operation in three weeks.

George Zaharias, her husband, said she rested very well Tuesday night and "things look very encouraging." It was he who quoted her on the lack of pain.

CHINA CLIPPER — Edmonton Eskimos Normie Kwong steps over prostrate B.C. Lions' end Norm Fieldgate, rolling up part of the yardage that gave Esks a 35-21 victory in Saturday night's exhibition game. Mighty Elworthy Wins Both Heats Of Two-Mile Event At Local Race Track; "Buster" Huckins Drives Five Winners

Hauver handled his charge very capably and finished strong in the stretch to win over Del Miller and rugged Lee Volo in each heat. The other six horses entered in this event never threatened.

"Buster" Huckins stole the spotlight by guiding home five winners of the six races he drove. Huckins led the pack with Pay Mac, twice; Truly Colo, twice; and once with Honey Brooke. Huckins is the owner of Pay Mac while the other two are Combs' Garage entries.

Last night's daily double combination of Pay Mac and Nugget's Choice paid to the tune of $173.45.

Alouettes Whip Eskimos 33-0

MONTREAL — Montreal Alouettes struck with aerial and ground-play power in the first and third quarters Wednesday night to submerge Edmonton Eskimos, the A's nemesis in the last two Grey Cup games, under a 33-0 shutout.

A whopping crowd of 22,806 saw quarterback Sam Etcheverry cut loose in old-time form with his passes. Backfielders Pat Abbruzzi and George Brancato, newcomers to the A's, put on the ground-gaining galloping displays.

The Eskies used quarterback Jackie Parker sparingly. The mystifying ball-handler worked in the first quarter, when Als set up a 13-0 lead, and briefly in the second. Halfback Normie Kwong, who has always churned up lots of yardage against the Als in Grey Cup games, was used largely in the first and third quarters.

GOSHEN, N.Y. — (AP) — The Intruder, who was unable to race last year because of illness, scored a surprise victory over 19 over-classy three-year-old trotters Wednesday in the $100,603-99 Hambletonian stakes at Good Time Park.

It required three heats to decide the world-famous sulky derby.

The favored Egyptian Princess, driven by Earl Avery of St. Stephen, N.B., failed in her quest to become queen of the trotters after suffering a hoof injury in the rough first dash of one mile around the triangular one-mile course.

The Intruder is owned by the Allwood Stable of Leonard Buck, New York mining engineer who has a farm at Far Hills, N. J. The handsome brown son of Scotland-Mighty Margaret, by Volomite, finished 11th in the first dash won by Mrs. Dave Johnston's Valiant Rodney, from Charlotte, N. C.

But when the chips were down, the New Jersey colt had the bounce that brought him first money of $59,155—second richest purse since the race was inaugurated in 1926.

Ned Bower, who drove in his first Hambletonian, also helped himself to a birthday present, by whipping The Intruder to victory in the second and third heats.

Bower, a native of Ravenna, Ohio, is 33 today.

Several days ago, The Intruder was a doubtful starter in the race, but after a scorching workout Saturday, Buck decided to invest the $1,000 required to start.

"I am a real dark horse, all right," said Bower, as he entered the horse in the race that draws the cream of the sophomore trotters.

In fact, The Intruder had only raced six times prior to Wednesday and had won two races at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., earning a paltry $1,530.

Egyptian Princess was the even-money favorite in the first heat, but got into a jam and broke stride. In the jumble of horses, she suffered a cut on her right forefoot and was lucky to get back alive in 14th place.

The Clearview Stable's Horse came back to finish second to the Intruder in the second heat and fourth in the last heat.

In the first standing, second money of $24,647 went to Valiant Rodney, third money of $9,859 to Nimble Colby and fourth of $4,929 to Egyptian Princess.

In the first heat, A. D. Knapp's Moray of Jackson, Mich., led in the early part of the dash, with Cecil Goosman's Ego Hanover, from Mountain Lakes, N. J., going ahead with a quarter of a mile remaining.

But Dana Cameron, driving Valiant Rodney, got up in a wild stretch spin to win by three quarters of a length.

Valiant Rodney was timed in 2:03, and his $60.30 for $2 win price was second only to the $68.20 returned by the Ambassador who won the race in 1942.

The second dash of the race, which has now required three heats in 11 different years, also was a thriller.

"I got out behind Saboteur in the second heat, and went along the rail, never leaving it until we hit the head of the stretch," Bower explained.

Then Bower went to the outside with his horse and zipped between Valiant Rodney and Nimble Colby to win by about half a length in 2:01 2-5. The clocking equalled the fourth-fastest time in the race and compared with the record of 2:00 flat set in 1947 by Hoot Mon.

Egyptian Princess took the lead near the final turn and was on the rail, but couldn't stave off the final burst of The Intruder. Valiant Rodney was third.

The fans hadn't given up on the Princess, owned by Norman and Fred Woolworth of Winthrop, Me., and she was the 5-2 favorite for the second heat.

The Intruder, coupled in the mutual field with six other horses for betting purposes, returned $28.60, $10.20 and $3 for winning the second heat. The mutual field had been 5-1 in the initial dash.

The field horses, with The Intruder luring the bettors, went off at 4-1 on the board for the third heat.

Again the customers went for the Princess and made her the 6-5 choice. Valiant Rodney was 4-1.

Saboteur led for the first quarter followed by Ego Hanover, The Intruder, Nimble Colby and Egyptian Princess. Avery had the Princess in front at the half, while The Intruder had dropped back to eighth. Nimble Colby broke stride going to the three-quarter pole and Bower began to move with The Intruder as the Princess gamely held on to the lead.

The Princess, Valiant Rodney, Nimble Hanover and Lullwater Victory all were in a furious dash to the wire for the payoff. Suddenly on the outside in a cloud of dust came Bower with The Intruder, winning by a neck. Ego Hanover was second, Valiant Rodney third, and Egyptian Princess fourth. The winner was timed in 2:02.

The win payoff in the last heat was $10.90, $6 and $3.60.

Francis Godbout, John Bassett Both Entered In National Junior Tourney

OTTAWA — The cream of Canada's young tennis stars tangled today as the eighth annual Canadian junior tennis championships open with a new look.

The 11-day tournament, its operations stimulated with financial assistance from two outside sponsors this year, will start off with a battle between eastern and western players instead of the interprovincial team matches that previously got the championships on their way.

The East-West series will consist of three doubles and two singles matches in the junior men's and women's divisions.

The Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Toronto Globe and Mail is helping the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association which aims at developing junior talent. In other years the CLTA paid the bills alone.

A record number of more than 250 juniors from Canada and the United States, plus a 17-year-old Australian, will compete for 23 championships and about 65 trophies.

The East-West battle will take up only part of the first day's play. Then the Canadians will compete for honors in a closed singles section for championships in juvenile boys and girls.

Milwaukee Starts On Five Fateful Days, Tangle With Cards, Redlegs

Cards Split Twinbill With Braves;
Pirates Dump Bums; Mantle Homers;
Ted Quits Spitting, Starts Hitting

Milwaukee's pennant-hungry Braves, their mound staff shaky with ace Bob Buhl on the sidelines, open five fateful days in the pressure-packed National League race tonight with their second two-night double-header in 24 hours.

The Braves, who haven't finished on top since 1948, have only a two-game cushion as they clash with St. Louis Cardinals at County Stadium tonight, then dive into a four-game series with the pressing third-place Cincinnati Redlegs.

The fourth-place Cardinals split a two-night pair with the Braves last night, winning 3-2 in 10 innings after accepting a 10-1 thumping. A sweep would have eased Milwaukee's situation considerably, since Brooklyn's run-ramp Dodgers were dumped 8-5 by Pittsburgh. The Redlegs belted Chicago Cubs 6-2, climbing to within six percentage points of the Brooks and 2½ games of Milwaukee.

Philadelphia, edging to within five points of the cards made it six in a row with an 8-3 victory over New York Giants.

In the American, Mickey Mantle slugged his 38th home run — his best one-season total in the majors — as New York Yankees hammered Washington 12-2 and regained an eight-game lead. Second place Cleveland was knocked off by Chicago White Sox 7-6 on Sherm Lollar's 14th-inning home run.

Boston moved within six points of the Tribe, belting Baltimore 7-2 as Ted Williams, hitting instead of spitting, walloped his 13th home run to break a two-all tie in the sixth. Detroit defeated Kansas City 8-7.

Milwaukee was stopped in the nightcap by Herm Wehmeier who pitched a four-hitter and singled home the winning run.

Bob Trowbridge held the Cards with a six-hitter for a 2-0 record in the opener. Del Cradell, Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock made it easy with home runs — two by Joe, who added his 27th in the nightcap. Bob Blaylock was the loser.

Trowbridge is the rookie who stopped the International League All-Stars on a one-hitter in Toronto recently. His showing last night proved his Toronto performance was no fluke.

Wehmeier, now 7-8, snapped Hank Aaron's hitting streak at 25 games. Wally Moon, who homered in the opener, smacked a two-run triple in the first inning of the nightcap as the Cards tagged Lew Budette with his seventh defeat in 20 decisions.

Buhl, 14-4, suffered a chipped bone on his pitching hand last week-end at Pittsburgh and probably will be out until early next week.

Frank Thomas, whose error gave the Brooks two runs in the first, set things right with a three-run homer in the Pirate fist off loser Roger Craig. Red Munger, a 37-year-old righthander, won his third with relief help in a three-run ninth.

Ted Kluszewski and Gus Bell homered for the Redlegs, who eased in on six Cub errors and a four-hitter by Johnny Klippstein, who won his 10th. One of Klippstein's pitches hit Gene Baker, opening a severe gash on the left temple that sent the Chicago second baseman to the hospital.

Stan Lopata, Willie Jones and Ted Kazanski homered in support of Robin Roberts' 14th victory and fourth in 10 days as the Phils made it 10 out of 11. Kazanski's blow was an inside-the-park grand-slammer.

Bill Skowron and Elston Howard also homered for the Yankees as Mantle went nine games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace of 1927. Bob Turley won his sixth.

Backing Williams' hitting display Mickey Vernon clubbed a three-run homer in the eighth as Mel (not-hit) Parnell won his sixth.

Lollar drove in three runs for the White Sox, tagging reliever Cal McLish for the Clincher homer. Gerry Staley won it, with three-hit ball in five relief innings.

Al Kaline and Frank House each homered as the Tigers scored two runs to take the lead in the sixth against losing reliever Jack Crimian. Jim Bunning won it in relief.

Millette, who owned both trucks was crushed when the reversing truck, driven by Armand Payette, 23, failed to stop, police said.

Entries in the close include two mother and daughter sets and two sets of sisters. Noreen Laing of Port Credit, Ont., defending junior champion, and her mother are entered while Mrs. J. R. Jamieson of Edmonton, a member of Alberta's four-member interprovincial team, is the tournament.

Gerry and Lynn Evans of Saskatoon form one sister entry and Rita and Dorothy Lohmes of Lunenburg, N.S., the other.

Defending champion for both the open and close titles is Marlene Stewart of Ponthill, Ont. She posted a record 54-hole score of 223, eight under par, for a 15-stroke edge last year at Victoria. Runner-up was Rae Milligan of Jasper, Alta.

In the open, Miss Stewart downed Mary Gay of Kitchener, Ont., 11 and 9 in the 36-hole final.

Of the total entry in the close, 55 are from Manitoba. Saskatchewan with 12 and Ontario and Quebec with 10 each lead the visiting contingent.

Niakwa's fairly long but flat course is not expected to cause much trouble for Miss Stewart. Possessor of a straight, long shot, she probably won't encounter a stumbling block on the first nine. The back nine has four tricky holes, the 10th, 13th, 14th and 15th.
