

THOUSANDS OF ITALIANS TAKEN BY GREEK ARMY

Italian Legions In Full Retreat On Centre Front

Surrender of 5,000 Italians Reported Signal for General Retreat in Which Freshly Arrived Troops Took Part—Greek High Command Confirms Capture of Strategic City of Pogradetz—Position Is Consolidated.

Athens, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Capture of 5,000 Italians, the largest mass of prisoners yet taken by the Greek army, was announced today from the Northern front.

Their surrender, dispatches said, was the signal for a general retreat of other Italian forces in the area, leaving a huge gap in the Fascist centre.

Fresh Italian troops sent up to bolster sagging defence lines earlier had been reported being smashed back with the remnants they came to reinforce and the Greeks claimed "important" new advances all along the Albanian battlefield.

Mention of the exact place where the front was reported smashed was forbidden by military authorities. They permitted mention merely that it was in the North.

One frontline report said "The victory, without exaggeration, is of exceptional importance, for the enemy line in this sector has been destroyed and all danger eliminated for us."

Dispatches from the front and statements by a Greek spokesman pictured the fighting line at the start of the sixth week of war as swinging like a horn door toward the Adriatic from a hinge on the Albanian coast, just North of the Greek frontier, to Lake Ochrida, on the Yugoslav frontier.

Stiffest Italian resistance was reported near that hinge, around Argirocastro.

In the Central sector the Greek high command announced the capture of "points of special importance for the development of operations" around Premet, eighteen miles North of the Greek frontier.

Near Lake Ochrida Italians were said to be retreating through ice and snow toward Elbasani, forty miles Northwest of fallen Pogradetz on the road to the Albanian capital Tirana. The high command said last night the Greeks made "important advances on the entire front" and captured 150 more prisoners.

A spokesman added that the Italian retreat was general from Lake Ochrida to the sea, and that Greek bayonet charges had won new fortified heights.

"The booty we have captured (around Pogradetz) is very important and exceeds figures given in the official communiqué," he said. "More to the South, the fresh, select Italian troops which had been rushed to reinforce the enemy have contributed nothing. On the contrary, they suffered the effect of the contagion."

The Greek newspaper Proterf answered what it said was an Italian radio assertion that Greek bayonet fighting was "a barbarous form of warfare" by commenting: "Bayonet fighting certainly is less barbarous than using Italian bombing planes against non-combatants."

FIVE VESSELS SEEKING HELP AFTER ATTACK

Reported in Distress as Result of Submarine Attacks Three to Five Hundred Miles Off Ireland.

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Mackay Radio reported today the interception of distress calls from five vessels indicating they had been torpedoed 400 to 600 miles off the West coast of Ireland.

At least three of the vessels in distress were British.

The first call came at 11:15 (E.D.T.) last night, when the Portishead radio station said the 5,497-ton British steamship Lady Glanely had been torpedoed at 55 North and 20 West.

At 12:53 a.m. today the Valencia radio station said a British ship giving the call letters G-K-I-F was being attacked at 55:03 North and 18:40 West. The ship could not be identified otherwise.

At 1:45 a.m. the 5,448-ton British freighter Goodleigh radised she had been torpedoed at 55:02 North and 18:45 West.

The air lines were quiet until 3:55 a.m. when Mackay intercepted another call from a vessel apparently giving her name as "S.S. Victoria" and reporting she had been torpedoed at 55:04 North, 16:30 West. Mackay said it was not certain that the name given was "S.S. Victoria."

Lloyd's register lists eight Victorias with the following registry: British, Italian, Greek (two ships), United States (two ships), and German (two ships).

At 4:20 a.m., there came another call from a unknown ship which reported she had been torpedoed at 54:28 North and 19:25 West, and "requires immediate assistance."

British Planes Continue To Blast Submarine Factories

Extensive Damage Believed to Have Resulted from Royal Air Force Attacks on Wilhelmshaven Naval Base—Coastal Bases from Southern France to Norway Subjected to Heavy Pounding.

London, Dec. 2.—(AP)—British bombers raided the German Navy's shipbuilding yards at the naval base of Wilhelmshaven last night, the Ministry announced today.

Germany's shipyards, especially those in which submarines are believed to be under construction, have been the targets for several British raids recently. The Ministry's announcement said:

"Last night our bombers made attacks on the naval shipbuilding yards at Wilhelmshaven, all our aircraft returned safely."

The submarine base and naval docks at Lorient and the power station, jetty and drydocks at Brest were attacked, as well as a military camp at Kristiansand, Norway, where bombs fell among the barracks buildings and warehouses on the quayside.

Great Britain Acts To Increase Economic Blockade Against Axis

By GUY RHOADES (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Two signs today emphasized Britain's determination to tighten the blockade stranglehold about the Axis' throat and bring the war to the speediest possible end.

The first came last night from Hugh Dalton, Britain's Minister of Economic Warfare, who broadcast an appeal to the United States to tighten its export control "so as to ensure that no vital materials get through to the enemy."

Mr. Dalton expressed appreciation of the things the United States has done already, but suggested: "You could refuse financial facilities to our enemies (German and Italian bank and security assets in the United States) already have been 'frozen'."

The second bit of evidence came today from Buenos Aires where it was said British authorities were watching closely purchases of Argentine produce for shipment to Spain, Russia, Sweden, Finland and France, all countries through which they could be trans-shipped by land to Germany.

SOUTH AMERICA FINDS EXPORT TRADE LIMITED

Britain Quietly Tightening Restrictions on Exports to Prevent Goods Reaching Germany.

Buenos Aires, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A survey of Argentine commercial and agricultural sources indicated today that Britain quietly is tightening her restrictions on ocean trade in an effort to keep vital supplies from reaching her Axis foes through nations not in the war.

Well-informed sources said British economic experts were watching closely shipments of cotton, meats, fats and hides, and were checking on purchases in Argentina for Spain, Russia, Sweden, Finland and conquered France.

These sources said Britain already had killed a plan to sell 100,000 tons of Argentine cotton to Spain by declaring that navicerts for such a shipment would not be available.

The navicerts are certificates of British advance approval of cargo in ships heading through the British naval blockade.

Three months ago navicerts were granted for shipments of 50,000 tons of cotton to Spain and sources close to the cotton trade said they understood Britain approved the first shipments as normal Spanish imports but turned thumbs down on the later 100,000 tons as beyond Spain's present needs.

Negotiations were started recently.

GERMANY SENDS EXTRA TROOPS INTO RUMANIA

Four Fresh German Divisions Moving Through Hungary as Rumanian Internal Situation Is Aggravated.

On the Hungarian-Rumanian Frontier, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Four fresh German divisions were moving through Hungary en route to Rumania today as reports trickling across the border told of increasing anarchy throughout that country.

Unconfirmed reports from Bucharest said these additional German troops would attempt to restore order there and in other large Rumanian cities where Iron Guard extremists have taken revenge on officials of the ousted regime of former King Carol.

The German divisions, moving by rail through Slovakia and Hungary, will bolster Nazi detachments already controlling Rumania's oil fields and pipelines.

Four divisions mean approximately 60,000 men. German strength in Rumania previously has been estimated as high as 500,000.

YUGOSLAVIA MAY JOIN PACT

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Diplomatic sources here reported today that a week-end conference between Hitler and the Yugoslav Foreign Minister, Aleksander Cincar-Markovic in Berlin had prepared the way for Yugoslavia to join the Axis military treaty.

The meeting was said to have ironed out details for Yugoslavia to follow Hungary, Rumania and Slovakia in, who already have been added to the German-Italian-Japanese ten-year military and economic accord.

(There was no confirmation of the report from other sources. Previous indications were that Yugoslavia has been resisting German pressure to join the pact.)

Air War Heightens Tension On Thai-Indo-China Border

French Colonial Officials Announce Readiness to Retaliate Against Any Major Attacks on Frontier—Twenty-Minute Battle Follows Bombing of Frontier Towns by Thai Planes.

Hanoi, French Indo-China, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A twenty-minute air battle between French and Thai (Siamese) warplanes above the border town of Thakhek was reported here today as French colonial officials said their forces were ready to retaliate against any major attacks along the frontier.

Results of the air fight, which occurred yesterday, were not disclosed. It followed the reported bombing by Thai planes of Thakhek and Savannakhet, another border town, last Thursday and Saturday.

Reports reaching Hanoi told of continued outbreaks of fighting between patrols along the frontier where Thailand had demanded territorial concessions.

Reports were received that Monsigneur Gouin, widely-known French bishop, and an Ursuline nun, who reached Thakhek from Thailand, reported they had been held and tortured.

Opposition Appears To Proposed Financial Aid To Chinese Government

Colorado Senator Declares that Stabilization Fund Is Not Proper Source to Provide Additional $50,000,000 Credit to China—Initial $50,000,000 Already Advanced by Export-Import Bank.

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The first evidence appeared today of Congressional hostility to the proposal for granting the Chungking Chinese Government a $50,000,000 loan from the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund to aid that nation in its stand against Japan.

Senator Alva Adams (Democrat, Colorado), told reporters that if the proposal was as represented, he would oppose it on the ground that the stabilization fund was not the proper source to supply the money.

This loan would be in addition to $50,000,000 in credits to be advanced by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's Export-Import Bank. Plans for the $100,000,000 "helping hand" to Chungking were announced during the week-end, giving pointed new emphasis to the administration's policy regarding Japanese activities in China.

Informed legislators said that Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau probably would outline the China loan proposal when he appeared today before a closed session of the Senate Banking Committee to discuss operation of the stabilization fund.

"I don't doubt that China needs money, but there must be other government agencies from which it can obtain funds," said Senator Adams.

The stabilization fund, created out of dollar devaluation "profits," has been used in the past to bolster international exchange, largely through purchases of British and French currency. It has been used little since the war started.

Chinese requests for loans were said to have been based on the contention that Chiang Kai-Shek's Government could not keep its army of 2,500,000 in the field against the Japanese much longer unless it had financial aid. The understanding of some legislators was that if the loan should be granted, it would be used not only to bolster sagging Chinese currency, but to meet current Government expenses.

JAPANESE SILENT ON UNITED STATES MOVE

Tokyo, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Yakihiro Suna, spokesman for the Japanese Foreign Office, said today that Japan "had no reaction" to the United States non-recognition of the Nanking regime of China and to the United States extension of $100,000,000 credit to the Nationalist Government of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, since both had been expected.

He acknowledged that the Japanese might benefit from stabilization of financial emergency but added that "psychological factors of the loan are much more important. The effects of non-recognition will be felt mainly in Nanking where some steps may be taken as a result of the Washington declaration." He declined to elaborate.

Craftsmen Released From Armed Forces To Speed Up Production

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—The Department of National Defence has cleared the way for temporary return to certain designated industries of some skilled craftsmen now serving with the Canadian Active Service Force in Canada and Newfoundland.

The Defence Department issued a statement last night saying the move was aimed at increasing war production during the winter.

A memorandum has been sent to all District Officers Commanding, to the General Officers Commanding the Atlantic and Pacific Commands and to other officers concerned, the statement said.

It is now reliably reported that these views were altered by the recent change in the Mediterranean picture wrought by the Royal Navy's pummeling of the Italian fleet and the surprising successes of the Greeks against Mussolini's army.

Resignation Of Kennedy Further Depletes U.S. Ministerial Ranks

Washington, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The resignation of Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, made a fresh gap today in the war-depleted ranks of United States ambassadors to European nations.

Kennedy announced that he was relinquishing the London post after a White House conference with President Roosevelt yesterday. Pending appointment of a successor, a choice likely to be delayed, Kennedy said Mr. Roosevelt desired him to keep his designation as ambassador, but the envoy made plain he would not return to Britain in that capacity.

Kennedy's resignation, which had been in the President's hands since November 6, predated by a single day that of William C. Bullitt as ambassador to France, John Cudahy resigned last Thursday as ambassador to Belgium.

At present the United States has only two ambassadors at their posts abroad, Laurence A. Steinhardt in Russia and Alexander Weddell in Spain.

Kennedy's resignation from the London post he held since 1938 started speculation both as to his successor and as to whether he may be given some other Government office. The resignation did not come as a surprise for it was preceded by a number of such reports which the State Department refused to confirm.

That choice of a successor might be delayed for some time was indicated by Kennedy's statement that Mr. Roosevelt was not yet prepared to make a decision and by Mr. Roosevelt's plans for an extended trip away from the Capital.

From time to time, several names have been mentioned for the post in the event that Kennedy stepped out. Among those spoken of were Marshall Field, Chicago merchant; who has

SURVIVORS OF SUNKEN SHIP REACH HARBOR

Seventeen Men Rescued from Steamer Lisieux Declare that Ten Companions Have Perished.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 2.—(C.P. Cable)—Their vessel and ten shipmates feared lost, seventeen seamen from the Canadian freighter Lisieux recovered here today from the effects of a lifeboat ordeal that two others of the ship's company failed to survive.

The seamen, brought here over the week-end after riding through a storm in two lifeboats, revealed how one of the boats had been snatched away by the gale while the ten men still on the Lisieux waited to board it Tuesday. The marooned men, without another boat, were believed to have perished with the sinking ship.

The stranded group aboard the storm-battered Lisieux included four Canadians. At least ten other Canadians were among those picked up Wednesday by two freighters and landed here Saturday and Sunday.

Able Seaman Allen Lyons of Vancouver had the weirdest story—cast adrift alone in a life boat and rescued twenty-four hours later as he neared collapse. He and the others had suffered intensely from the biting wind, the snow and the flying seas.

None of the men hold out any hope the 2,500-ton Lisieux, a former French craft taken over by the Can-

HATLEY V.P.S. WERE HOSTS TO FIVE SOLDIERS

Ptes. Jack Clark, Dave Young, Sid Oaker, Lloyd Ride and John Ladd Were Entertained in St. James' Parish Hall—A.Y.P.A. Session.

Hatley, Dec. 2.—Ptes. Jack Clark, Dave Young, Lloyd Ride, Sid Oaker and John Ladd, local members of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment, were entertained by the members of the St. James Anglican Young People's Association in the Parish Hall...

An informal programme was arranged which included dancing and games, interspersed with songs. Mrs. H. E. Bowen presided at the piano for both the dancing and singing.

A lunch was served at eleven o'clock, the guests of honor being seated at the head table together with the officers of the Association and members of the Guild who assisted, Mrs. Parry, Mrs. Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. Paddock.

The catering was under the able direction of members of the social committee with James Piddock and Donald Bowen in charge.

A pleasant feature of the evening was a speech by the President, Eugene Bowen, in which he said that it was a disappointment to all that the rector, Rev. H. W. Parry, was unable to be present...

The gathering broke up shortly before midnight with the singing of the National Anthem.

A.Y.P.A. HELD BUSY SESSION

The regular fortnightly meeting of the St. James Anglican Young People's Association was held in the Parish Hall, with Eugene Bowen, President, in the chair...

The Secretary, Hilda Bowen, read the minutes, and fourteen members answered the roll call. A notice of the meeting at Quebec of the Diocesan Council of the A.Y.P.A. was read...

The meeting then adjourned and the hymn "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" was sung. The young people then decorated the hall, after which the evening was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE LADIES' GUILD

The Ladies' Guild of St. James Church met in the Guild Hall for the regular fortnightly meeting with an attendance of thirteen, including three visitors. Dinner was served to fifteen school boys and girls.

The afternoon meeting was under the presidency of Mrs. G. Pocock, who opened with the Guild Members' Prayer, the Call to Prayer, and the Lord's Prayer, said in unison.

The Secretary, Mrs. H. W. Parry, read the minutes. Some finished work was brought in for the sale to be held in the near future. Discussion then arose with regard to the refreshments during the sale and it was decided to have a "Hot Luck" supper, also a hot dog stand, and a fish pond. The committee for the supper included the food committee for the month, Mrs. Pocock and Mrs. Parry, together with...

CAR DESTROYED BY FLAMES

West Brome, Dec. 2.—An automobile driven by Ivan Foster, of West Brome, caught fire and was destroyed on the weekend.

Foster was driving home from work, and was descending the hill leading into West Brome when he discovered that the floor boards of the car were on fire. Stopping the car immediately, Foster attempted to extinguish the flames, but was forced to summon assistance. When the fire was finally quelled, only the chassis and the four wheels of the machine were left.

Craftsmen Released

Some restrictions would be imposed on applications, in order to prevent the loss of experienced men. No applications for release of men from the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps will be considered, due to a present shortage.

The Defence Department's announcement followed by only three days Labor Minister McLarty's speech in the House of Commons in which he said an interdepartmental committee was endeavoring to ensure that soldiers skilled in certain types of work would be "returned to the industry as needed."

Survivors Of

Continued from Page 1 adian Government, survived the storm that struck her Tuesday morning 400 miles Northeast of here. She was sinking by the bows when the survivors saw her last.

One of the rescue vessels that reached the vicinity hours after the storm was abandoned found nothing but flotsam. It was this vessel that brought in sixteen survivors from one of the boats.

Capt. Andre Perrin, a Frenchman, and five French members of the crew including all the deck officers were left aboard the Lisieux when the lifeboat with Lyons in it was carried away. Neither Lyons nor the men in the other already-launched lifeboat could get back to their aid.

Lyons had gone into the lifeboat to tend it away from the freighter's side as the other men entered. But before they started to get it, a great wave swept the boat up to the level of the freighter's deck and then carried it away, snapping its mooring rope.

The thirty-eight-year-old Lyons fashioned himself a sea anchor to keep the boat riding properly to the wind and sat back to await rescue. He never gave up hope of being saved, he said yesterday. Finally, a second freighter found him the morning after he left the Lisieux.

The other lifeboat was under Second Engineer Herbert Thibodeau and Chateau M.B. who said last night his men had tried vainly to row back against the wind to the Lisieux when they noticed their companions' plight.

The boat carried the ship's cat, which had an uncomfortable time of it when the boat was severely tossed. The crew called for constant balling. An English fireman and a Scotch oiler died of exposure. Five others had to be taken to hospital here, but their condition was not serious.

Battlefront dispatches yesterday indicated delay in the high command's announcement of the fact of Pogorzelski's last week to a policy of completely mopping up around captured positions—to forestall center attacks—before reporting their fall.

The Greeks were said to have driven most of the Italians from Pogorzelski by last Tuesday and to have taken the town after a fierce assault Thursday, although the fall of the town was not claimed until Saturday when Italian forces had been pushed out of the area nearby.

Mr. Bernier was born in Lambton on June 5, 1859. He abandoned his duties at the Court House several years ago because of ill health. For many years he lived with his family in the Court House, changing residence when the Duplessis administration established certain offices in the Court building.

He is survived by his widow, nee Celina Vachon, a son, Adolphe Bernier, two daughters, the Misses Rose and Alma Bernier, and two grand-children, Jacques and Lise Bernier, all of Sherbrooke, two brothers, Ferdinand, of Detroit, Mich., and Edouard, of Stoke, and three sisters, Alice, Mrs. Joseph Roberge, of Hull, Ida, Mrs. Leon Houde, of Sherbrooke, and Angelina, Mrs. Didace Demers, of Sherbrooke.

British Planes

Continued from Page 1 explosive bombs. In one area a raid was said to have come down to spray tracer machine-gun bullets into the darkness.

London had a "two-alert" night, first alert clear, second alert early and the second soon after midnight. The alert periods were marked by heavy anti-aircraft barrages.

In the South coast town, a communique said: "Buildings were damaged by high explosive bombs and by fire. Some persons were killed and others injured. Full reports are not yet available, but it is believed the number of casualties is not large."

The capital had three daylight alarms Sunday and numerous air battles were reported over the Channel and the Southwest coast. Eight German planes and five British were shot down during the day. All Royal Air Force pilots were reported safe.

At nightfall the raiders spread out over the island, striking mainly at the South coast, but a Midland town, a Southwest town and the important port of Liverpool on the West Coast also reported activity overhead.

The rumble of explosions from the French coast across the Channel indicated the R.A.F. was retaliating with new attacks on "invasion ports."

An air raid official in Southampton, discussing the heavy Saturday night raid on that town of about 175,000 population, declared that "if ever there was an indiscriminate bombing, we have had it here."

Many buildings in the centre of the city were destroyed. Several churches were destroyed, as well as a theatre, a newspaper office, a lending library, many shops and homes. The Government said all fires were under control and that the houses were being cared for.

The Admiralty reported the 1,000-ton submarine Triad overboard and presumed lost. She was a sister-ship of the Thetis, which foundered on a trial dive June 1, 1939. The Triad, whose normal complement was fifty-three, torpedoed a 4,000-ton supply ship in Oslo Fjord April 2 and nine days later attacked a convoy of supply ships. Two of her torpedoes were reported to have found their mark.

Official sources said the Royal Air Force had downed 201 German and twenty Italian planes over Britain and British waters in November. This was exclusive of planes brought down by anti-aircraft fire from ships or by the fleet air arm. Eight German planes were said to have been destroyed over Axis or Axis-occupied territory or waters in the same period. British losses over Britain and British waters were placed at fifty-three planes, with twenty-eight of the pilots saved.

BUILD BRITAIN TO VICTORY IS JOB FOR PEER

Lord Reith Has Wide Powers to Regulate and Speed Up Building Projects for Triumph in War and Reconstruction in Peace.

By HAROLD FAIR, (Canadian Press Staff Writer) London, Dec. 2.—Lanky, bushy-browed Lord Reith (Sir John), once plain John Reith the successful Scottish engineer, has been charged with the mighty task of fashioning the Greater Britain in the brave new world to follow the war.

In the meantime his job, as Minister of Works and Buildings, is literally to "build for victory." He is Britain's wartime building dictator.

With his raise to the peerage comes a wider interpretation of his new duties. While he acts as a construction arbiter, he is to be the "planner in chief" of the new Britain. He will consult with Government departments and any other necessary authorities, report to the cabinet on plans to abolish slums and provide for rehousing on a tremendous scale in London and other thickly-populated centres.

Meantime, except for certain highly-specialized service jobs—such as airports and fortifications—his Ministry will be responsible for erection of all new civil works and buildings required by another Government department. It will license private building and determine what structures destroyed by air raids shall be rebuilt first.

The Ministry may arrange, by agreement with service departments or the Minister of Aircraft Production, to erect on their behalf new works and buildings not of a highly-specialized character, such as stores depots, for erection of new private factories under the Minister of Production.

The Government's Production Council will lay down the general order of priority of building. Lord Reith will be a member of that Council and responsible for the committee which says which buildings must come first. He will determine how the Council's directions in this respect would be applied, but if his decision is opposed an appeal may be taken to the Council.

Another of his jobs will be to investigate such questions as adoption of substitutes for scarce building materials or modify designs and specifications to speed up building. He is to make use of all research facilities and can call on departments retaining responsibility for buildings to prove that they are taking full advantage of the latest research developments.

As Sir John Reith. His Lordship was at one time general manager of the British Broadcasting Corporation and later Minister of Information. His newly-created post absorbs the office of Works, long-time famous for being the Government's builder—comparable to Canada's Department of Public Works.

AYER'S CLIFF SALE AND TEA FINE SUCCESS

Held in Aid of Junior Ladies' Association in Beulah United Church Hall.

Ayer's Cliff, Dec. 2.—Beulah United Church Hall was the scene of a very successful Christmas sale and tea, held in aid of the Junior Ladies' Aid Association.

The hall presented a festive appearance, decorated with spruce trees, poinsettias and swamp berries. The gift booth was in charge of Mrs. Sam Astbury, who was assisted by Mrs. Sidney Baldwin and Mrs. Glen Little. This part of the afternoon's success was due to the efforts of Mrs. Astbury who had put a considerable amount of time into making it a success by asking many of her friends out of town for contributions. The response was very generous and the members and officers are especially grateful to all who contributed towards this.

An "orange tree," in charge of Mrs. Gordon Hartley and Mrs. Howard Keeler, was popular with the young folks who attended.

The guests were received at the door by Mrs. C. M. Moore and Miss Gladys Dustin.

The tea table was presided over by the President, Mrs. W. H. Rexford, and was centered with a nativity scene and red candles in silver holders. The tea was in charge of Mrs. J. A. Lundberg, Mrs. Stanley Gotherp and Mrs. Fred Bell, while the guests were served by Mrs. Everett Martin, Mrs. S. R. True and Miss Irene Orcutt.

The proceeds of the afternoon were most satisfactory.

RED CROSS HELD BUSY SESSION

The regular meeting of the Red Cross Society was held at the home of Mrs. S. A. Jacobs on School Street.

Mrs. Lobb reported that she and some of the ladies had attended a meeting at Hatley, when ladies from Red Cross headquarters were present, and gave an outline of some of the main things mentioned.

It was reported that Mrs. A. H. Slack had plenty of wool on hand for the knitting, and Mrs. Stone asked that the ladies making pyjamas should endeavor to finish them in as soon as possible and give them in. This was the last meeting of the year unless something urgent arose in the meantime. Everyone was urged to continue their knitting and sewing and accomplish as much as possible between now and the second Tuesday in January, when the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. E. Crook.

General Notes. Mrs. Stanley Gotherp recently entertained at a family party in honor of her father, Mr. D. E. Doran, and her mother, Mrs. Ida Baldwin, of Tomfobia, who were celebrating their birthdays. The lace-covered table was centered with a birthday cake. Mrs. Churchill Moore entertained Mrs. R. L. Gale, Mrs. Stanley Blatter, and Mrs. Clifford Burton, of Waterville, at bridge and dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eastman, Mr. Lorne Eastman, and Miss Evelyn Eastman, of Sherbrooke, were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Astbury.

Mrs. E. H. Rider spent a week-end in Newbury, Vt., where she was joined by her sister, Mrs. Frank Steele, of Keene, N.H., when they visited their brother, Mrs. Charles White, and Mrs. White.

Mrs. Ida Baldwin, of Tomfobia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. E. Doran.

NEW ENGLAND'S HIGHWAYS FINE AS DEFENSIVE

Offer Splendid Chance for Mechanized Army to Strike Back at Any Threatened Invasion.

Boston, Dec. 2.—Col. Benjamin F. Miller, newly-appointed Chief of Staff of the First Corps Area, said in an interview that New England's highways would be ideal for a mechanized army to strike swiftly against an invasion of an enemy by way of the coast or the Canadian border.

Col. Miller has argued since 1912 about the efficiency of motor trucks instead of mules for army transport and today he thinks principally in terms of fast-moving mechanized units.

"The occupation of New England or the destruction of its shops, factories and munition depots would be a prime objective of a hostile military power," he said. "The defence of this area, therefore, is a most important military problem."

"I am of the opinion that attacks by air would probably follow the St. Lawrence-Champlain Valley route but the bombing plane would render impossible the transport of troops and supplies via the narrow, tortuous channel of the St. Lawrence from Quebec to Montreal.

"Land operations by motorized troops might operate from Quebec by way of the Connecticut Valley or by way of the Jackman, Me., route or both, in combination with forces landing via the harbors and beaches of the Canadian Maritime Provinces or our New England coast."

Air War Heightens Continued from page 1 tured for several hours in an iron cage before being permitted by Thai authorities to cross the border into Indo-China.

NEGOTIATIONS CONTINUING London, Dec. 2.—An authoritative source said today that negotiations for a settlement of the dispute between Thailand (Siam) and French Indo-China were continuing and there was no reason why a peaceful solution should not be reached.

(Thailand has demanded the return of territories in Western Indo-China which were hers before their occupation by the French late in the 19th century. There have been several border clashes in recent weeks).

Government's Offer Of $35 Per Mile Towards Stanstead Road's Maintenance Is Unsatisfactory

Plans to Keep Road Open Will Likely Remain at Standstill Until Further Negotiations—Maintenance of Sherbrooke-Waterloo Stretch of Montreal Highway Unlikely Unless Government Agrees to Share Costs on 50-50 Basis.

A new development in negotiations between the Southern Counties Winter Roads Association and the Provincial Department of Roads regarding the maintenance of the Stanstead-Sherbrooke highway was announced this morning by W. R. Baker, Secretary of the Association, who revealed that an offer had been received whereby partial cost of operations would be borne by the Government at the rate of $35 a mile.

While this offer will be discussed at a meeting to be held shortly by the Association, dissatisfaction with the figures quoted and the belief that the proposal would not be accepted was expressed by Alderman R. C. Ross, President of the Southern Counties Winter Roads Association. Pointing out that the cost of keeping the road open last year totalled more than three thousand dollars and that fifty per cent of the outlay was met by the Department of Roads, Mr. Ross stated emphatically that this latest proposal involved a greater cost than the City of Sherbrooke and other municipalities could assume.

In view of this situation, therefore, it is probable that plans will remain at a standstill pending further negotiations. The contractor employed last year, Georges Turcotte, of Sherbrooke, has announced that he is not interested in bidding for the work again this season and thus far the highway has been left practically untouched. This reporter made the journey from the border villages to Sherbrooke last night under conditions that were anything but favorable, with this important route reduced to a single lane in the centre and cars being forced to turn out into deep snow in attempting to pass. In some places drifting snow made progress almost impossible.

Plans relative to the maintenance of the Sherbrooke-Waterloo stretch of the Montreal road remain equally vague. Here, too, what is considered an acceptable offer has not been forthcoming on the part of the Provincial Government. The cost of maintaining the highway last year was $428 per mile and unless the Department of Roads agrees to cooperate with the Eastern Townships Winter Roads Association on a 50-50 basis this season, it is doubtful that an attempt will be made to keep this artery open. A further barrier to operations this winter lies in the condition of the road between Sherbrooke and Magog where it is feared ploughs and other equipment would suffer damage in the process of removing the snow.

Further developments are awaited and in the meantime residents of the Eastern Townships will have to make the best of conditions as they are at present. On Saturday Mayor Joseph Labrecque, Antonio Begin, immediate Past President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, H. W. S. Downs, Mayor of Lennoxville and President of the Winter Roads Association, and Yvan Sirois, representing trucking interests, met Maurice Gingras, M.P., to discuss the question of the Sherbrooke-Waterloo road maintenance. It is understood that the Government had offered to bear fifty per cent of costs exceeding $50 per mile, and Mr. Gingras was asked to make representations towards the Department of Roads in an effort to have this allotment increased.

SCIENTIST HONORED London, Dec. 2.—(P)—Sir Henry Dale, director of the National Institute for Medical Research, was elected today President of the Royal Society, Britain's oldest scientific society.

How To Contribute To Record's Turkey Fund For C.A.S.F. Men

With Christmas three weeks away the turkey drive sponsored by the Record on behalf of members of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment, C.A.S.F., has exceeded the half-way mark in its objective. The Record wishes to stress again the fact that in order to contribute to the fund subscribers need not effect delivery of the fowl to the Business Office, for two alternatives are equally acceptable. Donors may either leave or send money here for the purchase of a turkey or they may place an order with their butcher and notify the Business Office that they have done so. For those living outside the city the simple procedure of mailing a subscription to the Record will insure the adding of their names to the list of donors. Turkeys received at the Record will be placed in Ames' cold storage.

LOCAL CITIZEN SUCCUMBED TO HEAD INJURIES

Mrs. Jules Bruneau, 71 Years Old, Died in Hospital—Was Struck by Car While Crossing Street.

Mrs. Jules Bruneau, seventy-one years of age, residing at 289 Ontario Street, succumbed in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital to injuries received when she was struck by a car driven by Armand Yargeau, of Windsor Mills, as she crossed Melbourne Street. The victim apparently hesitated in the middle of the Street and then suddenly stepped into the path of the oncoming vehicle, giving the driver no chance to avoid striking her.

She was rushed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital by Brien's ambulance, suffering a cerebral concussion and a broken leg. An inquest into the mishap will be held at No. 1 Police Station at 7 o'clock this evening.

ALLAIRE TRIAL ON CONSPIRACY CHARGE OPENED

Cyrille 'Red' Allaire, of Beebe, in Court of King's Bench—Objection to Indictment Thrown Out.

Cyrille "Red" Allaire, of Beebe, appeared in Court of King's Bench today to stand trial before Mr. Justice Hector Verret on a charge of conspiracy to manufacture and sell illegal spirits and to defraud the federal and Provincial Governments and the public in general of $50,000. Hearing of evidence started this afternoon, the morning's proceedings being taken up with an argument between counsel regarding the indictment and with the selection of the jury.

Allaire is claimed by the Crown to have conspired with Thomas Pelchat, of Berlin, N.H., Robert Vaillancourt, of Lennoxville, Leo Girard, of Sherbrooke, John Doyle, of Danville, Joseph Rosario Mathieu, of Marlboro, and different other unknown persons, during June, July, August and September, 1939. He is accused of breaking the law in various ways, by the construction, operation and concealment of a still, by the selling of illicit liquor and by the rectification of alcohol. Antonio Droulet, K.C., attorney for the defence, objected to the in-

FIVE PERSONS WERE HURT IN CAR ACCIDENTS

Four Taken to Hospital Following Head-on Collision Near Ayer's Cliff—Bishoppton Youth Also Injured.

Five persons were sent to the Sherbrooke Hospital as the result of two automobile accidents in this district over the week-end, while three minor car mishaps in the city caused little damage to the vehicles involved and injured no one.

A head-on collision occurred Saturday on a steep curved hill along the Ayer's Cliff road just this side of East Hatley between a car operated by Max Stone, of Toronto, and containing Bonnie Kaufman, of Montreal, and a vehicle owned and operated by Malcolm Gilbert and containing his wife and two children, all of Montreal.

The occupants of both vehicles, excepting the Gilbert children, were taken to the Sherbrooke Hospital by Blake and Taylor's ambulance. Stone is suffering from a leg injury, while the others have lacerations to the head and face and body bruises. Hospital attendants this morning reported the condition of all four as satisfactory. William Evans, nineteen-year-old Bishoppton resident, is suffering from

MISSION WORK IN KOREA AREA UNDER REVIEW

Miss Ada Sandell, Now on Furlough in Canada, Guest Speaker at Meeting of Lennoxville Y.P.U.

Miss Ada Sandell, Superintendent of nurses in the W.M.S. Hospital in Ham-heung, Korea, who is now on furlough in Canada, was the special speaker at the monthly Young People's Union Service held in the Lennoxville United Church on Sunday evening. The choir loft was occupied by members of the Y.P.U., who were assisted by a few members of the regular church choir. Miss Thelma Crawford, President of the Y.P.U., presided over the service, and was assisted by Rev. F. R. Matthews, and Weston Orr. The musical part of the service included a quartette, "Still Will We Trust" (Fleming) by Mrs. D. Hadlock, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fox, and Stuart Marlin.

Before speaking of her work, Miss Sandell mentioned that it was twenty-one years on December 2 since she started on her missionary adventures, and after training was sent to Korea—a land which has a population of 23,000,000 people in a country not as large as England. After telling a little of the government and customs of the country, she spoke of the need for schools, and of the yearning of the younger people for education, and told how this need was being partially met through the organization of night schools under the Christian Korean churches. Here many young people for whom there was no room in the regular day-schools were taught by other Korean young people who had been able to receive regular school education. In closing Miss Sandell told the stories of three Korean young people—two girls who are graduates of the nursing school of Ham-heung Hospital, and a young doctor—all of whom on the completion of training started at once to help less fortunate of their own race. Big Crowds Swelled Closing Night Rotary Fair Receipts

Proceeds Saturday Evening Only $400 Less Than on Closing Night of 1938 Fair—Miss Germaine Gagne Won Fifty Silver Dollars—Several Thousand Kiddies Enjoyed Saturday Afternoon Activities.

Proceeds at the Rotary Fair on Saturday night were only four hundred dollars less than on the same night in 1938, it was announced today by Willard G. Cross, General Chairman, who voiced appreciation on behalf of the local Rotary Club for the encouraging manner in which the general public supported the event this year in spite of heavy rains upon budgets and severe weather.

From early in the evening until the drawing of the ticket for the $50 prize at the Superfine Booth shortly before midnight Saturday the Beldere Street Armory was packed with thousands of people, and the games and booths were in full swing. It was by far the biggest turnout of the three-night stand, and it repaid the Rotarians one hundred-fold for the time and effort they put into organizing and operating the feature.

With the money realized at the Fair, the Rotarians will lend support to many organizations who minister to the under-privileged residents of the city and will also carry out several projects of their own. This year, too, part of the proceeds will go to the benefit of the lads in the Canadian Air Force, Army and Navy.

Saturday was a busy day for the Rotarians, since from early in the afternoon until closing time the crowds swarmed into the smartly-decorated building. Under the supervision of Rotarians Philip Mathias and Stuart Ball, the members of the children's afternoon committee worked like Trojans to provide fun for several thousand kiddies. Apples, candy and gum were handed out, and prizes at a number of booths were cut in half. The antics of the two clowns kept the youngsters amused and added the proper touch to the festivities.

Miss Germaine Gagne was the lucky winner of fifty silver dollars at the Superfine Booth, and thirty-one other prizes went to the following: N. Walker, W. Garand, B. Thompson, L. W. Dixon, C. Mutchler, D. W. Knapp, D. R. Pearce, Roger Genest, G. W. Wiggitt, J. Lemieux, E. Brochu, P. Couture, S. Sylvestre, J. L. Foley, E. A. Lunderville, S. R. Genest, G. Bourque, Francis Hoyer, J. K. Edwards, H. Boulay, two, J. Gagnon, E. Menard, Mayor Joseph Labrecque, F. Carrier, R. Gelinus, J. Richer, G. L. Favreau, O. Veilleux, R. Pettigrew and John W. Mallison, M.P.C. No. 48. General Chairman Cross thanked the many non-Rotarians who co-operated with the members to assure the success of the Fair and those who assisted in the booths, and also expressed his personal appreciation for the manner in which the Rotarians gave their services.

A NEEDED MOVE

The announcement of the Department of National Defence that skilled craftsmen now in the Canadian Active Service Forces will be given temporary leave of absence for the purpose of increasing production in industries held essential to the national war effort is one that has long been needed in this country, which is already facing an acute shortage of skilled labor in many lines.

At the present stage of hostilities, the British cause has greater need of the armament and equipment that skilled men can turn out than it has of any greater number of men in uniform. With the war in Europe virtually static, the men which Great Britain has under arms, together with those troops already arrived from the Dominions and the Colonies, should prove ample to protect the shores of the British Isles. The intensity of the air raids on the Island make the importation of armaments and supplies vital however, and Canada is expected to produce a substantial share of this demand.

This can only be accomplished by using every skilled man to the utmost of his ability, and the release of a substantial number of trained workers from the armed forces is a step in this direction.

The action somewhat belies the declaration made a week ago by the Minister of National War Services that industry could and must get along without those men called up for training. It indicates either that the Minister was talking with his tongue in his cheek or that the Government has changed its mind again on the needs of the Empire and the Country. The move would pre-suppose a change in the training plan whereby men in essential industries would be placed on the deferred list to speed up the output of industry.

Certainly if men can be spared from the Canadian Active Service Force they can be spared from the training plan.

INCREASED NEAR EAST OPERATIONS

Increased British operations in the Grecian war sector are predicted by observers in Egypt and other Near Eastern points, who now express the opinion that British armies will carry the fight to the Axis in Southeastern Europe.

These observers said they believed Hitler would have to go to Mussolini's aid within the next week or two if Italian reinforcements pouring into Albania failed to turn the tide of battle with the Greeks and regain prestige the Italians lost when their attempted invasion of Greece backfired.

(The Rome radio said in a broadcast last Friday that reinforcements sent to Albania had been given the job of beating back the Greeks "without German aid.")

While whatever plans Britain may have for moving more forces into Greece are kept secret, it was regarded as certain that any move by the Axis would bring a counter move by the British and that certain advance moves in anticipation of Axis action also were likely.

Opinion seemed to be that—even in case Germany joins the Italian battle with Greece—the British command believed it would be better to meet German troops on the mainland than to permit them to break through to Mediterranean bases.

The feeling in the British Middle East was that since the Axis has not brought the fight to dislodge British troops from the Suez Canal, Britain must carry the fight to the Axis.

When the Italians first struck at Greece there was considerable caution on the part of the British authorities lest the Axis might be trying to ensnare British Near East forces while preparing a major drive elsewhere. Too, even many Greek officers expressed doubts that the Greeks would hold the mainland long.

Since then developments have dissipated both these views. Little likelihood is seen of a quick collapse in Greece, which would leave British forces stranded there, and the Italians in the Western Egyptian desert have shown no signs of being ready to try a main offensive against the British lines.

Gen. Georges Catroux, who has assumed leadership of the Free French forces in the Near East has declared that Italian reverses in the Greek campaign produced a deep effect among French troops in Africa and Syria.

He expressed the belief that any German or Italian attempt to occupy the regions these troops are holding would meet with their resistance.

CANADA WINS AGAIN

Once again the Canadian farmer has shown his supremacy in the field of grain growing, sweeping the boards in the classes so far judged at the International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago. The championship and reserve championship for oats and the championship in rye, field beans and field peas were all awarded to Canadians in face of keen competition, indicating that the Canadian farmer has not let his agricultural quality sag as the result of the war.

Sooner or later, Canada will need the unlimited exertions of its farmers and it is pleasing that all signs point that this will be forthcoming.

EDITOR'S NOTE-BOOK

This is the beginning of the end—of the year.

Representative Martin Dies urges deportation for all who do not like American ways and are disloyal. All aboard that's bored.

The more we think of people who can but refuse to support relief funds, the less we think of them.

Any proposal for a Christmas armistice will be rejected, says Winston Churchill. There'll be no "Stille Nacht" in Germany.

After inspecting the latest publicity photograph of Herr Hitler we must in fairness admit that he is the only man who can strut sitting down.

War is a gamble and a lot of countries are going to find out that gambling debts are hard to pay.

Do you aspire to become a master salesman? Then you must spur your latent powers into action and make every day contribute to your personal progress.

How is it done?

The method is simple, but imperative. Most vital of all you must have the right mental attitude towards your business. Your mental intention should be kept always straightforward, so that it will be reflected in everything you say and do.

Your manifest sincerity will raise you immeasurably in the esteem and confidence of other people, and will tend steadily to increase your sense of self-confidence.

If you inadvertently make a misstatement, be quick to correct it. Under no circumstances try to bolster up a mistake by specious explanation or excuse.

Exaggeration is dishonesty in effect, if not in intention, and the purchaser is sure to feel afterward that he has been over-persuaded, deceived, or cheated, and his patronage may be lost.

Study human nature by mingling with people and by putting yourself so thoroughly in sympathy with them that you are enabled to think from their standpoint.

Emulate the example of the great merchant who became great because he would not allow petty likes or dislikes to interfere with his business transactions. Meet your customer with quiet courtesy, careful attentiveness, and absolute sincerity.

Find out from others all you possibly can about the particular goods you have to sell. Work out your own ideas and endeavor to put the stamp of individuality upon your salesmanship.

Set for yourself a high standard of feeling and conduct. Hold yourself strictly to it, with the assurance that it will produce striking results in all your dealings with customers, associates, and employees.

The salesman who is always well-poised, and whose judgment remains calm and accurate, is the one to whom promotion surely comes. Conserve your time, thought, and energy so as to add to your efficiency and expedite your personal progress.

Be assured that your progress depends chiefly upon your use of originality, initiative, keen judgment, and constructive thought. The more you develop your personal qualities and utilize them in practical ways during each working day, the more valuable will you become to your employer and yourself.

REMEMBER

Although life may be just a bore,
Remember, we are not to blame,
'Tis worse in Germany, I assure,
'Tis Hitler who shall come to shame.

God, so far, has ruled this earth,
Without the help of Hitler's Clans,
And soon we'll find that Christian worth
Shall prove itself against such brigands.

HAVE A SMILE

While waiting for the "all clear," the men at the Government munition training centre were down in the shelter discussing lodgings.

"I've got digs fit for a blinking king," said one in enthusiastic tones. "Well, my bed reminds me of the Prince of Wales' motto," cynically retorted another.

"How's that?"

"Because it's got three feathers."

A young girl at the University of Missouri recently wrote her mother, six mail special delivery, as follows: "Dear Mother: Please send me money for a new dress immediately. Have had several dates with Jimmy and have worn each of my dresses once. We have a date tomorrow night and I must have another dress tight away. If you don't send the money, send a new dress. Thanks.—Ruth. Her mother answered: "Dear Ruth: Get yourself a new boy friend."

"How is it, sir?" he asked. "That musicians are always so ugly?"

"Of course, sir," he said tactfully, "I only mean good musicians."

CROP CONTROL JOB ALONG THE RIO GRANDE

loss of time from employment. Any such plan contemplates at the outset willingness of both employers and employees to submit differences to negotiation or arbitration. Once this is done it can fairly readily be stipulated that the margin between the wage granted and the wage asked shall go into a fund to be impounded until there is a settlement and then accordingly distributed. This method has worked in numbers of arbitrations in America and is rather widespread in Great Britain.

The demand for arbitration necessarily presupposes the existence of arbitrators sufficiently fair that they will not authorize the exploitation of labor for disproportionately high profits on one hand nor on the other the exaction of such high wages as will remove any return on investment and ultimately destroy the jobs of the men concerned. Certainly there are men available — either negotiators or arbitrators — who can draw a fair line between these extremes.

This leaves to one side a type of strike once most common in the American labor field, the strike for union recognition. The occasion for this type of strike has been largely if not entirely removed by the existence of the National Labor Relations Board, and now the appointment of Dr. Harry A. Mills, of Chicago, to this board succeeding Chairman J. Warren Madden seems to assure more satisfactory functioning of that authority. The object of this agency, as the Supreme Court said in a recent opinion, is remedial rather than punitive in its dealing with employer-employee relations.

The men of the Crucible Steel Company at Midland, Pennsylvania, who under the urging of national union officials voted by a narrow margin to return to work after the calling of a strike undoubtedly took into consideration the importance of the armament contracts on which they were working. In these times patience on the part of workers and employers alike is a virtue and employers should not be victimized by baseless agitation. Utmost production is in the interest of the safety of all.

QUEBEC'S PLACE

L'Action Catholique, Quebec Those who have watched politics for ten years have witnessed a multitude of unifying episodes, all inspired far more by electoral antagonism than by anxiety for the public good. In the first place, they saw a provincial Liberal Government grappling with a Conservative federal Government, then a National provincial Government with a Conservative base wrestling with a Liberal federal Government. In both cases it was easy to see, raging on the federal-provincial frontier, the same "animus" which sterilizes our "intramural" struggles. The present situation spares us these infantile conflicts in a field where we would fain see only men and virility. But the same professional deformity of our politicians, if it is not corrected, may easily, under an altered situation, play us an equally bad trick, even more disastrous in its consequences, that of making too easy, within the party, an impossible agreement between governments of different colors. Lack of collaboration was a sore spot; subjugation would be another; a middle path is the only safe one. We feel sure we are interpreting the sentiment of this province when we affirm that the political heads of this province should, at the interprovincial conference, forget their political relationship to the federal leaders, carry on as Canadians sincerely desirous of collaborating in the building up of Canadian power.

A mounting tendency of the mind to shut out disagreeable reality; or mental shock resulting from physical injuries are the main causes of amnesia, or loss of memory.

ST. LOUIS EXTENDS EARLY INVITATION FOR 1941 TOURNEY

The Western States Championships, recently held in St. Louis, looks as if it may be the forerunner of a future national championship tournament there. The tournament attracted players from more than fifteen states and I was pleasantly surprised at the exceptionally fine caliber of bridge they displayed. Before I left St. Louis, the President of the Chamber of Commerce informed me the American Contract Bridge League will be invited to hold its 1941 convention there.

The Western States women's pair championship was won by Mrs. W. L. Dickens and Mrs. W. L. Terry, both of Memphis, Tenn. The runners-up were Mrs. Denmark Donnelly and Mrs. R. F. Meier, both of St. Louis.

GRANBY BRIDES ARE FETED BY MANY FRIENDS

Miss Ellen McKenna and Miss Frances Smith Were Tended Several Showers in Honor of Their Approaching Marriages.

Granby, Dec. 2.—Miss Ellen McKenna and Miss Frances Smith were both given many showers on the occasion of their approaching marriages.

Mrs. C. Savage was hostess at a delightful bridge in honor of the two young ladies. Bridge was played at three tables and the prizes won by Miss Helen Legge and Miss McKenna. Tea was served at an attractively arranged table with a centre of pink and white carnations, surrounded by pink and white candles in silver candelabra. Tea was poured by Mrs. A. D. McKenna while Mrs. A. D. Smith cut the ices. Each of the guests-of-honor was presented with a bunny fur bathrobe from Mr. and Mrs. Savage, for which each of the young ladies expressed thanks.

Miss McKenna was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. R. Legge and Miss Helen Legge at a buffet tea. Refreshments were served in the dining room by candlelight. The table was covered with a lace cloth of Chinese linen and was centered with pale yellow candles in silver candelsticks and small vases filled with baby 'mums. Later in the drawing room, Miss McKenna was presented with a bathrobe of turquoise blue wool trimmed with white. Miss Frances Smith, who was also present, was given a small memento of the occasion. Among those from out-of-town present were Miss Marjorie Williamson and Mrs. B. B. Fletcher.

At a shower given by Miss Carol Giddings and Miss Shirley Bradford at the former's home, Miss Smith was presented with a tea set of "Susie Cooper" ware. The tea table, presided over by Mrs. A. C. Smith, was centered with yellow 'mums, and green candles were used for the attractive setting. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Miss Helen Bradford and little Miss Sheila Giddings.

A luncheon was given Miss McKenna by Miss Eileen Payne. The table was most attractively decorated with yellow 'mums and lighted green tapers. After the lunch, the bride-to-be was presented with a beautiful piece of lingerie. Miss McKenna was also a guest-of-honor at a small dinner and theatre party given by Miss Helen Legge.

Miss Bazy Buck was hostess at another event for Miss McKenna when she entertained at a salad tea. Mrs. McKenna poured tea at the tastefully arranged table which was centered with white 'mums and lighted with white candles. The bride-to-be was presented with a set of sea-rose lingerie and was later asked to cut a beautiful wedding cake. Miss Frances Smith was presented with a pretty remembrance of the occasion. Both guests sincerely thanked their friends.

Miss Frances Dunn also entertained Miss McKenna at bridge, when cards were played at two tables, and prizes won by Mrs. W. H. Solomon and Mrs. G. S. Henderson. The guest-of-honor was then given a card with directions in verse leading her to eight parcels which each contained a pair of silk stockings. The dining room in which the

At the close of the service, the congregation were invited to Scott Hall, where Miss Sandwell showed slides which clearly pictured life and customs of Korea, and depicted the work which is being done by the United Church workers and the native Christians. As the pictures were thrown on the screen, Miss Sandwell gave a clear explanation of each one.

A social hour was enjoyed when all were given an opportunity of meeting the guest of honor, and tea was served by members of the Y.P.U.

General Notes
At the morning service, speaking on the theme, "If God Be For Us," Rev. F. R. Matthews took as his text Romans 8:31, "What shall we then say to these things; if God be for us who can be against us?" He reminded his listeners that when we are in trouble it generally means a great deal more than is on our minds; the Apostle found his surety in Jesus Christ, and had a good conscience before God. The music for the day was under the direction of the organist and choir leader, Mrs. M. Johnston, and in the morning the choir sang the anthem "If God Be For Us" (Stainer), with soprano solos by Mrs. Herbert Wark and Miss Maude Cole.

Mr. Ronald Lane, of the R.C.A.F., Toronto, was a week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lane.

Mr. Ashley McMullen, of the R.C.A.F., Toronto, spent a week-end leave as a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. McMullen, Church Street.

Mrs. A. D. McKenna poured coffee and Mrs. C. E. Savage cut the ices. The hostess and her mother, Mrs. M. T. Dunn, were assisted in serving by Miss Legge and Miss Buck.

Miss McKenna left for San Antonio, Texas, for her marriage to Lieut. Richard (Dick) Hales Whitaker, A.C.F., who took place at the Post Chapel, Randolph Field, San Antonio, on Sunday, December 1st. Lieut. Whitaker is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Whitaker, Jr., of Montreal, while Miss McKenna is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McKenna, of Granby. She was accompanied to Montreal by her father, A. D. McKenna. Miss McKenna is a graduate of Mount Allison University, N.B., and was the winner of the John Bradford Scholarship at the Granby High School.

General Notes
Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Solomon of the death of Mrs. H. E. Frye, formerly Catherine Howard, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Frye were former residents of Sherbrooke but for some time have resided in Moncton, N.B., where her death occurred. She leaves besides her husband, a son, Rev. H. N. Frye, who is Rector in English at Toronto University; one daughter, Miss Vera Frye, of Chicago. Another son, Mr. Howard Frye, was killed in France in the last World War. A nephew, Mr. W. H. Colorful Glass Pictures Painted From Patterns

Give for Christmas Presents
A lovely picture—graceful snow-white swans on a shimmering lake of blue-green. You can easily paint it yourself on glass—in its real size, 9 by 12 inches—as a gift or to keep.

For you have a pattern for the picture, and after you place this pattern under your glass, you just follow its lines with your brush. Your colors you get from three inexpensive tubes of oil paints—red, blue and yellow—and you mix them according to a chart. Green, for instance, is a mixture of blue and yellow. To darken or lighten a color, just add black or white household enamel.

In painting "Swans on a Lake" you mostly use varying shades of three colors, blue for the sky, blue-green for the water, green for the foliage. Swans have black eyes, orange beaks. Then, when the picture is dry, frame painted side and back with silver paper to add sparkle to the water.

Besides "Swans on a Lake" our FOUR DESIGNS TO PAINT ON GLASS (Second Series) includes "Cabin in the Pines," "Rose Bouquet," "Dog and Fawn"—all 9 by 12 inches. Has color chart; tells colors to use.

Send 15 cents in coins for our set of Four Designs to Paint on Glass (Second Series) to Sherbrooke Daily Record, Home Service Dept., Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write your Name, Address, and the Name of picture set.

WAR SAVINGS

COMMITTEE

An Urgent Message To Every Employer To Every Employee

It is imperative that $10,000,000 every month be saved from the pay envelopes of wage and salary earners — and invested in War Savings Certificates.

At present, the splendid co-operation of many firms and individuals is resulting in an investment of about $2,500,000 a month in War Savings Certificates. But with the present course of the war this is not enough — heavier demands for more production require the increased objective of $10,000,000 a month.

To secure this amount, EVERY employee in Canada must save, and EVERY employer in Canada must encourage his employees to save. This not only applies to those who are sharing in the $35,000,000 monthly addition to payroll earnings which has resulted from increased business activity during the first year of the war, but to every wage and salary earner in Canada there comes the "Call to Sacrifice".

Some employers are alive to this fact. Many of them are not. Or, if they have the War Savings Plan in operation in their plant or office, their employees are not in it 100%, or are saving in such small amounts as to make it impossible to reach the increased objective of $10,000,000 each month. This condition must be changed immediately, as only an all-out 100% effort from both employers and employees will do the job required.

This 100% participation must be Canada's answer to Germany, where coercion is used to secure money. We must show the enemy, and show him NOW, that we can do voluntarily what he is doing by coercion.

Why The Help of Every Employer Is Needed

FIRST — Because Canada is at war — a war for survival as a nation.

To carry on this war requires a tremendous production of the sinews of war.

SECOND — Because we must not allow our productive capacity to be diverted from our war effort by unnecessary spending.

THIRD — Because to the greatest possible extent, employees must be protected against upsetting post-war readjustments.

Remember, War Savings NOW, will provide a vast backlog of purchasing power for ordinary commodities when the inevitable period of post-war readjustment arrives.

To the extent that savings from pay envelopes are mobilized, there will be a curb upon inflation. If employees spend all of their earnings as fast as they get them, there will be rising prices, inflation and the evils that follow.

How Employers Can Help

Experience shows that the easiest and most convenient way for your employees to save is by a War Savings Payroll Plan. We ask you as an employer — whether you have 5 employees or 25,000 — to instal such a Payroll Plan; and to see that it is carried out effectively for the duration of the war.

So that employees will understand the need for saving we shall send you at intervals small bulletins to put in pay envelopes, and shall publish advertisements frequently in the press giving reasons for savings, telling where the money goes, and how savings vitally affect our war effort. Factory posters will be supplied at intervals. Honour Roll Certificates will be awarded for achieving 75% to 100% of participation by permanent employees. The necessity for regular saving will be constantly impressed upon every man, woman and child in the country.

You as an employer have a grave responsibility. The leadership in your organization must come from you. We count upon you to give this leadership. To get the plan working efficiently will, we know, involve more clerical work, but we must ask you to consider that as part of your contribution to the nation's war effort.

Nothing is more vital to the successful prosecution of Canada's war effort than the mobilization of the nation's savings. It is a gigantic task, but it must be done. We must not fail. And in the fulfillment of this task Canada is relying upon you to do your part.

W. H. SOMERVILLE and de GASPÉ BEAUBIEN, Joint National Chairmen, War Savings Committee, Ottawa.

War Savings Stamps provide a convenient method for the purchase of War Savings Certificates by instalments

If we could sit down as man to man and talk about War Savings, we know that you as loyal men and women would strain every nerve to help us do what it is imperative to do to win this war.

Because, in these days you men and women who are the wage and salary earners are really in the "front line". And you are a mighty important part of that "front line" — as producers and savers.

You are striking Hitler as you carry on with your day-by-day work — keeping up vital production for both war and domestic requirements.

In addition, you fire a shot every time you put a dollar into War Savings Certificates. Because some of you don't quite understand the tremendous importance of this, we are talking it over with you — frankly.

Because to defeat our foes — and make no mistake about this—we simply must count upon the pay envelopes of Canada to produce an investment of $10,000,000 a month in War Savings Certificates. At present, loyal employees in many firms are saving about $2,500,000 a month in this manner. But this is not enough, as the course of the war is making heavier and heavier demands for the production of military, naval and air supplies and equipment.

The enemy is coercing his people to raise money. We must show the enemy that we can, and that we will, do more by a united voluntary effort than any people can do by coercion.

We can and we shall get $10,000,000 a month if EVERYONE saves his or her share. There must be no shirking, no putting-off, no "letting George do it". If necessary, you must sacrifice in order to save, for therein lies the path of duty and honour.

Why You Should Save and Lend To Your Country

FIRST, because you are helping to build planes and ships — to furnish guns and ammunition.

SECOND, because you are building a cash reserve for yourself — for your family — for the "after the war" period.

THIRD, because every dollar you spend unnecessarily may take people and machines away from war production and thus help the enemy.

You may ask: "What about the big fellows, what are they doing? What are you getting from them?" Be assured that the government is going after the big money, and getting it. Employers, executives, and wealthy people will tell you that. But, in addition to the big money, you wage and salary earners must lend Canada $10,000,000 every month.

To buy 25c War Savings Stamps is good; they have their place. Sixteen of these buy a War Savings Certificate. But employees must save in dollars. Stamps alone will not bring $10,000,000 a month.

No one need go without actual necessities to save, but we urge you not to buy things which compete for labour and materials with war production.

Save Every Dollar You Can—Lend It To Canada

There's that other vital reason for saving. When this war ends, there will be a period of readjustment. Men who now have good jobs may suddenly find themselves out of work or on short time. Let us hope not. But if you have a substantial sum in War Savings Certificates (accumulated while the war is on), you will be able to "stand the gaff" when industry is changing from a war to a peace time basis. You will be eternally glad THEN that you have saved money NOW.

We have sent to every employer the message you see alongside. When your employer asks you to start saving, or to increase your present savings, co-operate with him.

The following table represents an average basis of saving for a group of employees. These figures are only illustrative, of course, as the amount of saving which is possible will vary according to each individual's family and other economic circumstances.

EARNINGS PER WEEK	SAVINGS PER WEEK	WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES PURCHASED PER YEAR
up to $20	up to $1.00	$15. to $65
over $20 to $30	$1.25 to $2.00	$80 to $130
over $30 to $40	$2.25 to $3.50	$145 to $225
over $40	$3.75 to $9.25	$245 to $600*

*Limit for 1941

Men and women, you have a grave responsibility. These are indeed critical times, but Canada has confidence in you. We believe that you, as loyal and courageous citizens, will face the facts. We urge you to save your money and buy War Savings Certificates to see our country through to victory.

MORALE STILL HIGH IN SPITE OF THREE YEARS PITILESS WAR

This is the first of three stories by an American Y. M. C. A. director who has been in the thick of the entire Sino-Japanese war.

BY GEORGE A. FITCH

All over China today they are singing a song: "We have no shoes, we have no bread, we have no guns; "But wait—the enemy will give them to us."

The heavy Chinese broadsword I brought home with me from Chungking is such a "gift." It is hand-forged from a length of steel rail stolen at night by Chinese guerrillas who risked their lives to get it. They had to tear up the tracks and carry the rail away under the very noses of Japanese troops patrolling the North-South railway in "occupied territory" from Hankow to Peking.

Almost all the steel used by the famous Eighth Route Army and that of Marshal Yen Shi-san, the "model governor" of Shansi, is obtained from the Japanese in just this way. I have seen three different types of revolvers made from such stolen steel rails, some crude and awkward, some beautiful pieces of mechanism. All were made to use Japanese ammunition, for they count on the enemy to "give" them the bullets, too.

When I was in the Northwest of China, they offered to stage a raid for me, to show how this was done. Unfortunately I could not wait the week they said was necessary to journey to the railroad and back. Today the steel rails are still being forged into weapons, but the guerrillas now complain that Japanese shoes and uniforms are so worn and ragged and their food so poor that it hardly pays to risk life and limb to obtain them. That is a striking contrast with what I saw in Nanking two and a half years ago. Then the Japanese army was well clothed and shod, and fed with rice and fish and other foodstuffs, imported from Japan.

A great part of China's armed forces is still pitifully equipped and fed and clothed. Hoping are like those of the Crimean War. Millions of civilians wander homeless over their Good Earth. Yet I have never heard a complaint.

From the wife of the official in Chungking whose American piano and all her household possessions were shattered by a bomb through her roof—no complaint. From the grain merchant whose stores for the year disappeared in a single blaze—no complaint. From the river boatman whose entire family was wiped out in an air raid—no complaint.

From the whole Chinese people in the fourth year of war—no murmur of discouragement, no whisper of anything but complete faith in the justice of their cause and the integrity of their leaders. The surge of national morale is like a tidal wave. It is the strongest single factor in China's chance of victory. There is some conscious organization behind it, of course. Morale is built by streamlined agencies, chiefly the Kuomintang (Nationalist party), the Three-Peoples-Principles Youth Corps, and the Resist Japan University of the Eighth Route Army.

LEAFS REGAIN DASH OF "KID LINE" DAYS

Toronto Runs Wins To Nine By Routing Red Wings And Americans

Hank Goldup Scores Four Times in 6-1 Victory Over New York—Leafs Turn Back Challenge of Onrushing Red Wings with 3-1 Sunday Night Triumph—Bruins Run Up Highest Score of Season in Whipping Americans 10-3.

To ex-pilot Dick Irvin must go on, assist for the groundwork, but credit Coach Clarence (Happy) Day with the actual score for polishing off the play that already has Toronto Maple Leafs gaining plaudits as at least the equal of the "wonder teams" of the Irvin-coached "Kid Line" days.

The Maple Leafs, always a potent factor in the National Hockey League, never in recent years has been quite the club that swept to a Stanley Cup in 1937. That was when Irvin had the Conacher-Primont-Jackson trio in its hey-day with men like Red Horner, King Clancy and Day himself roaming the defence.

Constant infusion of new blood by Irvin has kept the Leafs near the top since, but Dick switched to Montreal Canadiens before the start of the season with a revamped Toronto line-up still in its "potential" stage. The way that line-up is travelling is a tribute to the Irvin construction ability as well as to his successor and former pupil, Happy Day, for knowing what to do with it.

Specialist in "two-way" hockey—which is also an Irvin trait—Day has the Maple Leafs fairly flying at the top of the league standing. They've lost only two games and tied none in beating every other club in the loop at least once, and made it read "nine" in the win column with successive triumphs over New York Americans and Detroit Red Wings during the week-end.

It was the outstanding feat of a five-game week-end in which there were other surprises. Boston Bruins turned in the next biggest by running up ten goals to defeat the Americans 10-3 while New York Rangers lost 4-1 to Chicago Black Hawks after showing a flicker of the form that made them Stanley Cup holders in whipping Montreal Canadiens 6-1.

There were new stars to herald in the Leafs' victory—perhaps a new line to revive the popularity of the famous "Kid Line." That was the Hank Goldup-Gus Marker-Pete Langelle trio, which Goldup sparked by scoring four goals in the Leafs' 6-1 triumph over Americans in Toronto Saturday night.

Goldup scored Leafs' first four goals to come one short of a league record while Danellie helped in three of them and Marker in two. Norm Larson had sent the Americans into a 1-0 lead before Goldup counted three times in the initial, second and once more in the second. Dave

GIANTS SNARE GOOD MAN FOR INNER DEFENCE

Home Run Hitter and Brilliant Infielder in Pacific Coast League Two Years Ago, Joe Orenego Should Help Polo Grounders.

New York, Dec. 2.—(P)—The Giants landing Joe Orenego from the Cardinals leaves New York cold. That is quite natural on the heels of Brooklyn giving the Phillies $100,000 for a fast-ball pitcher like Kirby Higbe.

But Orenego may be of more use to the Polo Grounders than some of the folks suspect.

For one thing, the San Francisco Italian will get to play one position—third base—long enough to get acquainted with it.

Orenego demonstrated his versatility last season by handling every infield job except first base for the Red Birds.

A home run hitter and a brilliant performer in the Pacific Coast League in 1938, Orenego, who has just turned twenty-four, although he has been in the Cardinal chain since '34, easily may have been the victim of the hit-and-miss St. Louis management of more recent campaigns.

Orenego, tall and weighing 185 pounds, was best-looking shortstop in the Cardinal camp in '39. He went to shortstop early and remained there until he went to bat exactly twice in the National League season.

Then it was announced that Orenego had been returned to Sacramento to get a hitch out of his batting swing.

Bill Killefer, who manager him on the coast, brought back word that Orenego, shooting for the fences in the midst of a home run streak, had developed a tendency to uppercut the ball.

Because he was superior to competitors and because other clubs would have claimed him at the waiver price, the Cardinals retained Orenego throughout last season.

But they had Martin Marion, a remarkable fielder, for shortstop, so Orenego had to make his bid for big league spots at strange positions. In winning them the hard way, Orenego again showed he was an eager player with a fine team man of great spirit.

There is a vast difference between second basing and shortstoping. Eric McNair and other shortstops could not play second base satisfactorily.

The throw, pivot and footwork all are different.

But Orenego took a tip here and there applied himself so well that when he was playing second and Marion was at short, the combination looked like the slickest in Cardinal livery since Leo Durocher fell out with Frank Frisch.

Orenego was out for a time and injuries switched him around.

He filled in for Marion at short for a spell, and finally wound up at third base.

And batting .287 in 129 games wasn't so bad in his first major league season for a young fellow who swats a long ball and who is inclined to uppercut the sphere.

Orenego has a fine arm, perfect hands, and goes to either side after grounders.

The Cardinal operatives are such keen judges that baseball men suspect a fault when they give up on an athlete.

But a lot of observers who are equally sharp have an idea Breacon, Rickey & Co. is wrong this trip.

They will not be surprised if Joe Orenego turns out to be an outstanding star with the New York Giants.

Trade Winds Blowing As Baseball Men Gather For Minor Loop Talks

Atlanta, Dec. 2.—(P)—Major league trade talk was heard freely today as baseball's moguls began their annual bargaining season as a side attraction to Wednesday's convention of the minor loops.

No one would admit that any deals were near completion, but it was considered certain that some purchases of trades would come out of the hotel pow-wows before the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues closes its parley Friday.

Catchers Mickey Owen and Gus Mancuso, other players and cash were mentioned in a deal brewing between Brooklyn and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Cincinnati and the Boston Bees reportedly were considering a deal involving infielders Eddie Miller and Billy Myers, along with about $60,000.

The St. Louis Browns are known to be ready to dish out cash for two pitchers and a seasoned catcher. Washington wants two infielders and an outfielder. Boston's Red Sox have an eye out for catcher Frank Hayes of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The New York Yankees planned to pass up this convention of some 40 minor loops in favor of the major league sessions in Chicago next week, but now Manager Joe McCarthy is expected here.

Some hints were dropped that the minors are seeking a voice in the selection of baseball's commissioner. The minors are tackling a revision of the major-league agreement covering all organized baseball, which expires in 1942 simultaneously with Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis' term.

BROOKLYN IS BIDDING FOR MICKEY OWEN

Larry MacPhail Wants Backstop Capable of Getting Most Out of Flatbush Mound Luminaries.

New York, Dec. 2.—Trade winds will blow harder than they have in some years at the winter meetings, Brooklyn is already treating Mickey Owen, the aggressive Cardinal catcher, as its own.

All agree Walker Cooper is ready. He batted .392 in 130 games for Columbus in 1940, and had almost twice as many assists as the second nearest catcher.

The hope is that the Red Birds will either return Don Padgett to the outfield or trade him as a fly-chaser. Cleveland is on the lookout for a hard-hitting outfielder. There are indications that Ben Chapman has worn out his welcome there after two campaigns. It is the same trouble that caused the Yankees, Senators and Red Sox to ship Chapman, the latter outfit after he batted .340.

The Dixie Flyer persists in playing for himself.

Having seen service with half of the clubs in the junior wheel, Chapman may join the long line of American League players who prolonged their playing lives in the National.

When Burleigh Grimes splattered an umpire with tobacco juice in Grand Rapids last summer, he cost himself a return ticket to the majors . . . as coach of the Cubs, Judge Brannan, head of the minor leagues, set Grimes down for a year, and the ban won't be lifted until next summer.

Had Grimes been able to sign Jimmy Wilson undoubtedly would have brought him up as coach of the Chicago pitchers.

The new manager of the Cubs has the utmost respect for the pitching knowledge and vim and vigor of Grimes, whom he caught in the sere and yellow of the great right-handers' career.

Informed baseball men keep telling you that the reason Rogers Hornsby didn't land with a major club in some capacity is that Judge Landis has thumbs down on the famous slugger as a big leaguer. It's o.k. for the Rajah to work in the minors, however, and Milwaukee may be the spot next trip.

Toronto signing Lena Blackbarn as manager may mean the end of Tony Lazzeri's illustrious playing career.

Highly recommended as a manager when he stepped out of the Yankee picture, Lazzeri failed miserably in Toronto.

It may have been lack of material, of course, but the club lost money . . . and Tony Lazzeri.

SENATORS TOP CANADIENS IN TWO FIXTURES

High-Flying Ottawa Team Wins 5 to 0 and 4 to 3 to Stretch Lead in Quebec Senior Hockey League—Royals Spill Flyers.

Montreal, Dec. 2.—(P)—Ottawa Senators, displaying the same brand of hockey that gave them undisputed possession of first place in the Quebec Senior Hockey League standing, edged out Montreal Canadiens 4-3 in the first game of a double programme here yesterday. In the second contest, Montreal Royals set back Cornwall Flyers 4-1.

The Senators, undefeated in almost a month's campaigning, swept their two-game series with Canadiens as they took Saturday night's fixture at the Capital 5-0. Ottawa, who have won seven of their 10 games and tied three, now show a six-point advantage over Montreal Royals and Quebec Royal Rifles who occupy second place while the Flyers hold fourth position.

Montreal's lowly Concordias, with another display of their new-found form, earned a 1-1 draw in Quebec yesterday with Royal Rifles in a wide-open game.

The Concordias, winless until their 2-1 victory Friday night over Verdun, came from behind to knot the count after Quebec's Bobby Lee put the second-place Rifles ahead midway through the first period. Roger Gaudette, aided by Belhumeur and Mandey, tallied for Concordia at 8:27 of the third frame.

The former leader, Syd Howe, of Detroit, bagged only one assist to fall into a third-place tie with Phil Watson, of Rangers, who counted a goal and three assists.

Eddie Shore's New Attitude Toward Hockey Bears Fruit

"Mr. Hockey" Attends Strictly to Business as Player-Coach of Springfield Indians—With Nine Victories and Four Draws in Fifteen Starts, Springfield Holds Healthy Lead in Eastern Section of American League—New Haven and Buffalo Stopped.

The name of Eddie Shore rarely appears in the scoring summaries for Springfield Indians these days—the "Mr. Hockey" of fourteen National Hockey League seasons has too many other duties with the top team in the American Hockey League.

There are few of the end-to-end rushes that were characteristic of Shore in his thirteen seasons with Boston Bruins and one with New York Americans. He is attending strictly to business—the business being to coach his Indians while holding down a regular defence post on the team.

That the business is successful can be seen with a glance at the league standings. With nine victories and four draws in fifteen starts, Springfield is well in front of the Eastern section and also has compiled three more points than Cleveland Barons, top team in the Western division.

Shore still can carry the mail on occasion, however, as he proved while the Indians were turning in two more victories during the week-end with a 5-3 triumph over New Haven Eagles and a 6-5 win over Buffalo Bisons.

Springfield was trailing 5-4 in Buffalo last night when Eddie started the play that resulted in Chuck Corrigan slapping home the tying counter. The example inspired Fred Thurier, league-leading scorer, to bag his fourth point of the game and give Springfield the victory with an unassisted goal in the last minute.

The Indians had been forced into overtime for their Saturday victory against New Haven in Springfield. Goals by Charlie Mason and Glenn Brydson in the extra session gave Springfield the triumph after Chuck Corrigan had scored two and Gus Wyche one in the regular time. The New Haven scorers were Marshall Tremblay, Earl Roche and Don Wilson.

Cleveland, top Western section team, failed to keep pace with their co-leader when they lost 3-2 to Hershey Bears Saturday, although beating Providence Red 4-2 Sunday. In other Sunday games, New Haven defeated Philadelphia Ramblers 6-1 and Pittsburgh Hornets downed Indianapolis Capitals 4-1, while Saturday's games were rounded out when Philadelphia beat Buffalo 3-1 and Pittsburgh defeated Providence, 6-2.

All Cleveland's points were registered by the forward line of Norm Locking, Joffre Desllets and Cunningham in the victory at Providence, with Cunningham getting two goals and the others one each. For Providence, Art Giroux and Wilson scored.

George Patterson counted four times to lead New Haven to a home win over Philadelphia. Polly Dougan and Marcel Tremblay bagged the other counters while Mitchel Pechet scored for the Ramblers.

Pittsburgh ran up a two-goal lead against the Capitals in Indianapolis on first-period goals by Pete Kelly and Art Lesieur, making it 4-0 when Buddy Hellyer and Blake counted in the second frame. Bill Thomson counted the Capitals' only tally in the final frame.

At Hershey Saturday night, the Bears staged a spectacular rally after Cleveland had taken a 2-0 lead on goals by Joffre Desllets and Bill Summerhill. Gordie Bruce got one of them back in the second frame and then a goal by Joe Krol and another by Bruce in the final frame brought Hershey the victory.

Philadelphia got a goal in each period from Mitchel Pechet, Norm Callidine and Johnny Pelich for a home victory over Buffalo, who were held to a single counter by Bill Cunningham. At Pittsburgh meanwhile, the Hornets defeated Providence Reds on counters by Blake, Convey, Robertell, Drouillard, Sheriff and Gustafson, while Shift and Mosenko scored for the Reds.

TEXAS AGGIES SUFFER FIRST GRID SETBACK

Texas A. and M. Sees Rose Bowl Hopes Dimmed by First Loss in Twenty Games by Score of 7-0.

New York, Dec. 2.—(P)—There aren't enough games left on the 1940 United States football schedule to have any great effect on the season as a whole, so it appears to be about time to summarize the results.

The final big week of the campaign produced only one major change in the status of the leaders. That was when the mighty Texas Aggies were beaten, 7-0, by Texas for their first defeat this season.

That not only broke a string of 19 consecutive victories but kept the Aggies from winning their second Southwest Conference title outright and put the mount of the running for the mythical national championship.

Next Saturday's game between Southern Methodist and Rice will, unless they tie, decide which team will tie the Aggies for the Conference.

Despite that defeat Texas A. and M. still is very much in the running for a place in the Orange Bowl or Cotton Bowl games New Year's Day.

The "major" teams that came through the season unbeaten and untied were Minnesota, which finished its Western Conference conquest a week ago; Stanford's Pacific Coast champions; Tennessee, title winner in the Southeastern Conference, the Boston College, unofficial ruler of Eastern football. Lafayette while not regarded as equal to Boston College in the East, had a perfect season and Mississippi State, runner up to Tennessee, had one tie to mar its record.

WILL DISCUSS PAN-AMERICAN SPORT EVENTS

Amateur Athletic Union President Predicts Strong Movement in Favor of Periodic Games to Replace Olympics.

New Orleans, Dec. 2.—(P)—President Lorenzo Di Benedetto of the National Amateur Athletic Union left last night for the organization's annual meeting in Denver, predicting a strong movement to do something definite about setting up permanent machinery to conduct periodic Pan-American Games.

Plans for an association to handle the games among Western Hemisphere nations, which have been widely discussed since European warfare caused cancellation of this year's Olympics, are among the principle matters to come before the meeting which is set for Friday through Sunday.

Di Benedetto said that "in line with President Roosevelt's good-neighbor policy I believe athletic and sports governing bodies should take the lead in formulating plans that would bring these games into being. We have sent many athletes of various kinds to Latin American countries and interest in such games is keen all over the hemisphere."
