VOL. IX., No. 48 WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1938 PRICE:—TWO CENTS

ASSOCIATION TO HOLD "CITIZENS' NIGHT" MONDAY

MOST TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS ARE AVOIDABLE, OFFICER SAYS AT ROTARY MEETING

Ninety-five Per Cent of Mishaps Could Have Been Prevented, Sergant Baker, of Montreal Police Force, Believes — Approximately 1,800 Persons Will Meet Death on Streets and Highways This Year

Ninety-five per cent of traffic accidents could have been avoided and were caused by negligence or lack of judgment on the part of those responsible, Sergeant Howard M. Baker, of the Montreal Police Force, stated when addressing the weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall on Wednesday. Sergeant Baker's topic was, "Controlling Traffic for Safety."

Traffic accidents have been on the increase since 1920 and this year approximately 1,800 persons in Canada will be killed and 60,000 will be injured. Property damage will total almost $70,000,000, the speaker declared.

In 1936, 1,326 persons were fatally wounded and 56,000 injured.

There is no question, Sgt. Baker believed, that accidents could be greatly reduced if safety programs were carried out. Some industrial firms have succeded in reducing the number of employee accidents as much as 70 per cent, he said.

Adoption of the three "E"s in traffic prevention was recommended by the speaker. They represent engineering improvements, education, and enforcement of existing laws.

The majority of traffic accidents are a result of the following violations on the part of motorists: speeding, passing a stop sign, passing a traffic light, failure to give proper signals, reckless driving, driving while under the influence of liquor, failure to keep to the right, failure to give the right of way, defective brakes, and not using proper care in making turns.

If law enforcement agencies are to reduce street mishaps, all vehicular accidents must be reported to the police. Only in this way is it possible for the authorities to correct "dangerous spots."

The most serious obstacle that traffic control agencies must overcome, is the "fixing" of tickets. Mr. Baker said. Officers become discouraged when they know that traffic offenders can avoid fines through favouritism and in many cases stop apprehending them entirely.

There is great need for more uniformity of traffic regulations in Canadian cities. Motorists could hardly be expected, when in strange centre., to abide by laws of which they knew nothing about.

Prior to the address of the principal peaker, Victor D. Sprott, a new member, was welcomed into the club.

The president, John Colton, was in the chair.

SPEAKER NOTES RAPID GROWTH OF TELEPHONE

F. St. C. Manson, Bell Division Engineer, Addressed Mechanic's Institute

The rapid growth of telephony during the 64 years that have elapsed since this means of communication was invented by Alexander Graham Bell was graphically depicted in picture and story by F. St. C. Manson at a public lecture in the Mechanics' Institute last evening. Aided by several sound films, Mr. Manson, division commercial engineer for the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, contrasted the primitive apparatus in use in 1875 and the years which immediately followed with the modern equipment which is accepted as commonplace today.

In Bell's original telephone apparatus, the receiver and transmitter were one and the same thing, he explained. Therefore, the user of the telephone in those days "had to be a person of some agility since it was necessary for him to clap the instrument quickly to his good ear the moment he had finished speaking into it."

In vivid contrast with this statement was "An Empire Link," one of the five films shown to the large audience. This informative motion picture dealing with inter-Empire communications described the route taken by overseas telephone conversations between Canada and the Motherland and showed how easily, conveniently, and quickly one may talk half way around the world. Tracing a specific call placed by a Vancouver lumber merchant to a business man in Plymouth, the sound film—with narration by Jack Ralph, well known in Montreal dramatic circles—followed the call over the Rockies, through

WESTMOUNT LIBRARY WILL HOLD AUCTION

The Westmount Public Library's annual auction of magazines is taking place this year on December 10, it was announced this week by Miss Kathleen M. Jenkins, head librarian.

Residents will be given the opportunity of bidding for about sixty 1939 publications and the auction is expected to arouse considerable interest as it offers an opportunity to secure magazines of high calibre at considerable savings.

Persons securing the periodicals receive them one issue behind regular publication date throughout the year and are required to call for their copies at the library.

Jewish Studies

At the School for Adult Jewish Studies, Monday evening, Mr. Lawrence Marks, B.A., B.C.L., will review the provocative book by Miss Beatrix Bisno entitled "Tomorrow's Bread." This lecture will take place at 9.15 o'clock.

"Y" Branch Raises Fund For International Work

Donations totalling over $800 towards its objective of $1,125 for international work has been collected by the Westmount branch of the Y.M.C.A., it was announced yesterday by Wilf. Spearman, executive secretary.

The drive for collection of the fund extends throughout the year and when completed, the money is turned over for extension of Y.M.C.A. activity in foreign countries.

A brief outline of the work undertaken by the international "Y" is revealed in the following bulletin recently received at the local branch:

Jerusalem

The Association in Jerusalem kept every door open to all communities during the recent siege of the Holy City, reports Lee Terrill, Acting General Secretary. "Conditions were the worst since the World War; war pervaded the city, aeroplanes droned over the city walls, rifle fire was continuous, now and then interupted by the stuttering of machine guns. Food and water shortage was acute. It was not easy to continue our regular work. A speaker scheduled to give a health talk was taken 'to the hills,' the kind of trip from which few return. Though he got back safely, he was so shaken he had to cancel his discussion. During the occupation, we had a concert of sacred music attended by 350. Tension was such that any noise would cause all heads to turn instantly. Military forces took over our Jesus Tower for an observation post. It was amazing that through all this welter of emotion and struggle, the Y.M.C.A. was able to keep every door open to all."

Minister To Speak On Jewish Problem

On Sunday evening in St. Andrew's church, Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr will speak on the topic, "What is the World to do with the Jews?" Seldom in history have there been such violent anti-semitic programs as at the present time. Christian sympathy must take some constructive form, and the speaker will deal with the issue as to whether Canada ought to throw open her immigration doors and welcome these refugees. At the morning service Dr. Kerr will preach on "Clouds and Rainbows."

Preparations are being made in St. Andrew's for the final Communion service of the year, which will be held on Dec. 11th.

RETURN FROM ONTARIO

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Chipman have returned from London and Brampton, Ont., where Mrs. Chipman spent ten days.

Bruce Campbell To Address Club

The weekly meeting of the Calvary Young People's Union of Calvary United Church, will be held on Monday night at 8.15 p.m. in the Macauly Hall.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Bruce Campbell, of Lakeside, Que., who has just completed four years up North, with the Hudson Bay Co.

In his business Mr. Campbell has had personal contact with the eskimos in their business and their private life.

VISITING CHICAGO

Mrs. J. G. Robinson is spending two weeks in Chicago.

Driver Falls Asleep At Wheel, Wagon Struck

Falling asleep at the wheel of his car on Upper Lachine road, had disastrous results for John L. Rankin, 28, of 5 Murray avenue, Westmount, early on Sunday morning.

Rankin told police that he was driving west on Upper Lachine road, when he apparently dozed off while driving the car. He awoke just in time to see a milk-wagon a few feet ahead, but too late to avoid a collision.

The driver of the milk wagon, R. Paquette, of 555 Valois street, an employee of J. J. Joubert Company, was thrown from the wagon to the pavement. He was not, however, seriously injured. The horse suffered injuries and the wagon was badly damaged.

Considerable damage was also done to the Rankin car by the impact of the collision. The accident happened in front of 7050 Upper Lachine road. It was investigated by Constable Barbeau of Radio Car No. 26.

FRED TIPPET, LUMBERMAN, IS LAID TO REST

Many Friends and Relatives Paid Last Tribute to Cote St. Antoine Road Resident

The late Frederick Harvey Tippet, of 188 Cote St. Antoine road, was paid last tribute by a large gathering of friends and relatives at the funeral service held on Saturday at St. Matthias Church conducted by the Rev. Gilbert Oliver, rector. Mr. Tippet died at his residence on Thursday of last week in his 79th year.

The deceased was formerly head of the Tippet Manufacturing Company and was prominent in commercial and insurance circles.

Chief mourners were his widow, Alexandra Little; two sons, Frederick H. B. and A. R. G. Tippet, and two nieces, Mrs. Nora Tippet and Mrs. W. U. Dixon.

Among those present were: W. A. Merrill, K.C., A. F. Shaw, J. E. McKenna, W. C. Shaw, M. B. Magee, R. S. White, W. K. White, B. L. Cassidy, George Mathewson, F. Gulline, J. L. Poirier, Major and Mrs. Bush, Major and Mrs. Richard Jack, C. Gordon Lewis, D. A. Hanson, A. T. Stikeman, Victor Birks, J. R. Bannerman and P. H. Brunneau.

VISITED LAURENTIANS

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bertrand spent last week-end at St. Marguerite.

STUDENTS GAIN EXPERIENCE IN CLASS TEACHING

Practice Sessions Held on Monday at Argyle Junior High School

Student teachers of McGill University under the supervision of Prof. Hughes and Dr. Southam, of the Faculty of Education, visited Argyle Junior High School on Monday and held practice-teaching sessions.

Following the practice lessons, short talks were given by S. F. Kneeland, superintendent of Westmount Schools, on the Junior High School, and by J. W. Brunt, Principal of Argyle, on the local applications of the principles of the Junior High movement.

Today Mr. Cross is to address eighth and ninth year boys on "Opportunities for Boys." Mr. Cross is the Metropolitan Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and his duties have brought him into close touch with the difficulties of High School graduates in finding employment in Montreal. This afternoon health films will be shown to the whole school. It is reported that there will be some good skiing "shots."

Plans are being made for a Christmas concert on Dec. 22nd. Mr. Mitchell, who is in charge of the boys' and girls' choir, is already rehearsing several carols.

The organizing of intermediate hockey is under the guidance of Mr. J. Johnston. A team will be entered into the Inter-Scholastic Intermediate League.

The Students' Council is planning a dance the funds of which will go towards hockey equipment.

ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED BY WOLF CUB PACK

St. Luke's United Church Unit Marks its Fifteenth Year of Operation

The fifteenth anniversary of the Wolf Cub Pack of St. Luke's United Church was celebrated at a supper meeting in the church hall on Saturday attended by a large gathering of Cubs and their relatives and friends. The St. Luke's unit occupies an enviable position as a link in the chain of organizations sponsoring boys' training in this district.

D. R. Kennedy, Cubmaster, spoke briefly on the pack's history and achievements, after which H. F. King, District Commissioner was introduced. In his remarks, Mr. King congratulated the pack and his officers past and present on the success which has been achieved. He spoke shortly on the training given the boys and suggested that the mild form of discipline to which they were subjected in the pack was of definite value.

A. E. W. Kimmerly, the pack's original Cubmaster, recounted a few of his early experiences, stressing particularly the improved facilities now enjoyed compared with the early days.

The pack's second Cubmaster, G. Warren Foote, who is now Wolf Cub Field Secretary, extended his congratulations and asked the boys to show their appreciation of the work being done by the present leaders, which they did by a prolonged burst of applause.

Reverend R. Dewitt Scott, Chaplain of the pack, in his remarks said that fifteen years of activity was something of which to be proud, but that numbers of years without quality counted for little and he was happy to know that St. Luke's has a reputation for both.

Frank Anderson, Provincial Secretary of the Boy Scouts Association, also offered his congratulations and laid emphasis on the fact that it is necessary to build for the future.

At the head table were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Dewitt Scott, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. W. Kimmerly, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Kennedy, G. Warren Foote, H. F. King, Jas. Roch and Jake Kachegensky, Cubmaster of the Waterloo Pack.

After the supper the pack demonstrated a typical meeting, con-

Snowfall Is Responsible For Number Of Accidents

The winter's first real fall of snow, with resultant slippery street conditions on Monday and Tuesday of this week, was responsible for an unusually large number of minor traffic accidents, police reports reveal.

The rear door of a street car was smashed and two automobiles were slightly damaged when a car driven by Norman Thomson, 4002 Mariette avenue, skidded into the tramway vehicle and then struck an automobile parked opposite 3193 The Boulevard at 1.20 p.m. on Monday. The stationary machine was owned by J. A. Faulconbridge, of 5435 Seventh avenue, Rosemount.

An automobile driven by Miss Rita S. Murphy, 4644 Oxford avenue, struck the rear of a car owned by Henri Vezina, 106 St. Marguerite avenue, while it was stopped for a red light on Western avenue at the corner of Victoria, Monday afternoon. Both cars were headed east on Western.

Steven Schoefield, 3311 Cedar avenue, escaped with but slight body bruises when he was struck by an automobile as he was alighting from a street car at the intersection of The Boulevard and Clarke avenue shortly after noon on Monday. The automobile was operated by Leroy Frederick, 4885 Melrose avenue.

When he was attempting to back into a driveway of 707 Victoria avenue, a car driven by Loy Chan, of 22 Dorchester street, east, collided with one operated by James Greene, 5236 Decelles avenue. Greene was proceeding south on Victoria.

MEETING OPEN TO PUBLIC IS UNDER SPONSORSHIP OF LOCAL BUSINESSMEN

True or False Contest and Showing of Films Will Feature Event — Many Valuable Door Prizes Have Been Secured — Is Second Open Meeting to be Held by Organization This Season

A "Citizens' Night," meeting, open to all residents of the municipality, is being held by the Business Association of Westmount in Victoria Hall on Monday evening commencing at 8.30 o'clock, the event marked by a program of exceptional interest and the distribution of over forty door prizes donated by local merchants.

The most pretentious undertaking yet sponsored by the business body is expected to attract a large turnout and the Executive Committee is sparing no effort to make its success a certainty.

Heading the attractive program will be a "true or false" contest composed of teams of merchants operating in the west and east sections of the city, and the showing of a film, "Link of the Empire," arranged through the co-operation of the Bell Telephone Company.

Special invitations to attend have been extended to His Worship Mayor John Jenkins, and representatives from the City Council. The Westmount Municipal Association, and the Westmount Women's Club.

Special displays are to be exhibited by Dent Harrison and Sons and the Charles Gurd Company.

The currently popular true or false contest is expected to create unusual interest and a team composed of seven residents of the western district of Westmount will vie for honors with a team consisting of an equal number of businessmen from the general vicinity of Greene avenue. A prize will be awarded to the winner.

Final plans regarding the program were decided at a special meeting of the executive board of the association held in the offices of the Westmount Transfer and Storage Co., Tuesday night presided over by the president, W. Boyd Robson.

Minutes of the previous executive session were read by Eric Ohman and were unanimously adopted on recommendation of Gordon Kenwood and C. A. James. Announcement was made that the Association has adopted as its new slogan for the Christmas season, "Buy in Westmount — Let's all Have a Merry Christmas."

Window streamers bearing the new wording are to be distributed to merchants this week.

Among the merchants donating door prizes are: Charles Gurd, Dent Harrison and Sons, Claremont Provision, Clement's Market, Acme Radio Store, Herman Brothers Store, Westmount Stationery, Western Market, Pascal's Hardware, Westmount Fish and Bird Supplies, Madame St. Onge, Godfrey's Provision Market, Hart's Pharmacy, Gagnon's Barber Shop, Norewell Jewellery Store, Warren's Reg'd., haberdasher, Claremont Millinery, Grosvenor Service Store, Cohen's Stationery, Gordon and Sons Provisions, Eddy's Florist, J. McIntyre, Brook's Drug Store, Dionne and Dionne, Claremont Pharmacy, Imperial Oil Station, Ohman, jewellers, Westmount Windsor Market, Sammett and Blair, May's Ladies' Ready to Wear, Miss Byrne, millinery.

CITY PLANS TO INCREASE AREA OF SELBY PARK

Municipal Council Approves Purchase of Four Lots to Enlarge Playground

The City of Westmount will buy two lots of land on Selby St. and two on St. Antoine street for the enlargement of Selby Park on the east side, it was decided at a regular meeting of the municipal council in the City Hall on Monday night.

The name of the police and firemen's pension fund will be changed from Pensions Fund Commission of the City of Westmount to the Police and Firemen's Pension Fund Commission of the City of Westmount, it was further resolved. The commission is empowered to allow a trust company to handle the securities in which the funds of the commission are invested.

The "Stop" sign on Clarke avenue at the corner of Montrose will be changed to a "warning" it was decided.

Mayor John Jenkins, who has been absent from recent meetings due to illness, presided.

GEORGE G. HYDE JOINS DISTRICT R.C.A.F. UNIT

New Member of Squadron Given Rank of Wing Commander—Corp. McDonald Transferred

Anouncement was made this week that George G. Hyde has been added to the flying personnel of the Westmount No. 115 Fighter Squadron, R.C.A.F., holding the rank of Pilot Officer.

The transference of Corp. W. V. McDonald, permanent, to the No. 1, Aircraft Depot at Ottawa was also reported. Corp. McDonald was assigned to the permanent staff of the local unit last April.

The second dance to be held by the non-flying members of the squadron is taking place tomorrow evening at the unit headquarters on Sherbrooke street at the corner of Metcalfe avenue.

Further announcements from the R.C.A.F. centre reveal that the general inspection scheduled to be made on Dec. 7 have been postponed until the following week due to the fact that Col. E. M. Burnes, the inspecting officer, is attending a function at the Grenadier Guards Armoury on the date originally set.

ENTERTAINED

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1938

SHOP EARLY—MAIL EARLY

Christmas is only three weeks away. If you haven't yet attended to your shopping, its time to get going. Stores and Post Office anticipate a big Christmas rush and are advising early purchasing and early mailing. By doing your Christmas shopping early, you will not only suffer the least amount of inconvenience, but will have a much greater and better selection of gifts from which to choose. A week before Christmas, when everyone else is beginning to rush madly about with a hundred details to attend to, it is worth something to be able to sit back and reflect that as far as you are concerned, the job is finished. Then, with a big Post Office rush expected, it is wise to mail early, in order to ensure that your friends and relatives will get their presents before and not after Christmas day.

DIPHTHERIA IN QUEBEC

For some weeks now, the press has carried accounts of outbreaks of diphtheria in various parts of the Province. The latest village to be affected is St. Eustache, where there have been several deaths among children.

This state of affairs is shocking to progressively-minded people, for the outbreaks, and the deaths of the children, are entirely unnecessary. Many modern communities have laws which make it compulsory for children to be innoculated against diphtheria — the one contagious disease against which innoculation is positive—and for at least thirteen years Quebec has no such law.

This province badly needs a drastic revision of its laws as they affect children. Three particularly glaring deficiencies should be corrected immediately: lack of compulsory education; lack of adequate child health laws; and the discrimination against women, who are most interested in the welfare of children. Give women the vote, and it won't be long before the other two conditions are righted.

NO CANADIAN FOOTBALL BROADCAST

Despite the fact that there were two championship Canadian football games played on Saturday—the Nationals-Sarnia game and the battle at Ottawa between Argos and the Rough Riders—local fans had no opportunity to listen in because neither game was broadcast over any of the local stations, although an American game—the Army-Navy contest at Philadelphia—was broadcast locally. The U.S. game, while it might have been of tremendous significance to U.S. football fans, carried comparatively little interest to Canadians. We would rather have heard either of the Canadian games, not only because we are more interested in our own big games—natural enough—but because we think our own game, with its premium on kicking and its spectacular points gained by deadline kicks and rouges, is a better game to listen to than the U.S. game. It is difficult to understand the logic that says mid-season Canadian games are interesting enough to broadcast, but championship play-offs are not.

XMAS TREE CONSERVATION

Effort to stabilize the Christmas tree market and avoid, or mitigate, the great annual wastage is being made in Wisconsin through the formation of Christmas tree growers into the Northland Yuletide Greens Cooperative. Members of this group would harvest their tree crops on a sustained yield basis and market them as an organization. State departments are cooperating in furthering this move.—Nature Magazine.

A FIELD FOR WOMEN

There is a great and wonderful field for the influence of Australian women; it is the field epitomised in the struggle against social disorder, in the upraising of moral and spiritual valuations, in the combat of disease, the organization of hospitals and child clinics and the fight against slum life. In all these directions, women may find the fullest scoial satisfaction.—Australian National Review.

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:—

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age.

Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible.

All answers must be in the office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Friday's issue.

The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to everyone submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in today's mail:

Mrs. T. L. Cameron, 96 Somerville Ave.; Pola Roy, 1354 Greene Ave.; Harry Carmichael, 438 Claremont Ave.; Mrs. Strathy, 513 Claremont Ave.; Miss M. Logan, 24 Winchester Ave.; Mrs. H. Pearce, 98 Somerville Ave.

THE FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C.

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

An amendment of the criminal code of Russia became law in December 1, 1934. It dealt with, "Terroristic organizations and terroristic acts against workers of Soviet Government" and reads: Investigations of these cases must be completed within ten days." Indictments must be handed to the accused one day before the deliberations on the case by the court. The trials must be heard without partition of defence. No petition to a Court of Appeals nor an appeal for pardon is allowed. Sentence to the highest measure of punishment must be executed immediately after its pronouncement. On September 27, 1937, it was extended to include, "cases of counter revolutionary wrecking and diversion."

Production for use is based on the sound principles of political economy and social justice, which can be found in almost any of the textbooks now in use by our universities. To quote just one, "Elements of Political Economy," by Wayland: "The practical end implied in political economy is the production of wealth, in the largest measure and of the highest value, and its application to the fullest and most general satisfaction of men's desires." Production for Use means that the purchasing power of the people should equal their productive capacity. When we succeed in achieving that reciprocal relation that economic equilibrium, we will be done with booms and panics, and have permanent, universal prosperity. We maintain that the prosperity and happiness of the whole people should be the paramount consideration of our economic system, rather than concentration of great wealth and power in the hands of the few. We further maintain that the sovereignty of the people was established as a means toward that end, and until it is a fact accomplished, Democracy has not fulfilled its mission. Labour troubles, strikes, strife and dissension are the surface indications of an economic civil war that will continue as long as the world of production is disputed by antagonistic forces. Making sure first that we are right, we can brush aside the derision and mockeries of the hour and labor on, confident that events will vindicate our position.—Assemblyman Voigt of California in Epic News.

Supreme Court Justice Francis Bergan said in Albany, N.Y., the time has come for a mandatory woman juror law, but suggested exempting women whose housekeeping and child-rearing duties make it impossible for them to devote the necessary time to jury service. He wishes women jurors would not knit in his court, for he believes that it would distracting to other jurors,, the witness and to himself.

"And the intemperately heavy smoker and heavy drinker is always living under the shadow of amblyopia which kills part of the optic nerve which is another avenue for approaching blindness.—J. C. Furnas, M.D.

In the long run profits are impossible, and a society can not make money by selling itself anymore than an individual can. — Dean Case: Theological Seminary University of Chicago.

In Colorado persons over sixty who need it, are paid an old age pension of $45 per month.

Bruce Catton does not think much of Sinclair Lewis' new novel, "The Prodigal Parents." Mr. Catton wrote of it, "It would be receiving very little attention indeed—if it hadn't been written by Sinclair Lewis and must surely rank as one of this season's least distinguished novels. Mr. Lewis famous ear for the exact nuances of American speech seems to have gone deaf. The people in this book don't talk like people you rub elbows with every day, as did the people in "Main Street" and "Babbitt"; they talk like people who are trying to talk like people in a Sinclair Lewis novel (if you follow me). All in all, "The Prodigal Parents" must be set down as a big league disappointment."

We believe that voters can be bought — are being bought — with our money, and that there are enough of these voters to do as they will with us. We have no faith in our leaders, nor in Congress, nor in most of our courts. We believe that any organized group can grab as much as it wishes out of the treasury. We would not take our nation's word or its bond, or its word on its bond, nor will any nation take any other nation's word. Repudiation of debts and contracts is commonplace. Everybody suspects and hates almost everybody else. Class is arrayed against class, section, and labor against capital. Everywhere is confusion, alarm and uncertainty. We grow slack because there seems no virtue in, or reward for, our best efforts. We spend profligately lest it be taken from us. — Channing Pollock, in The American Mercury.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Please give name, address and phone number with your letters. We will withhold all on request

The Editor,
Westmount Examiner,
Dear sir:

In order to apply a safety measure to a particularly dangerous intersection in Westmount the City recently placed "stop signs" at the corner of Somerville and Prince Albertt avenues.

This was a step in the right direction, but unforunately it has not proved fully effective as a great many motorists fail to heed the signs and a number of accidents are but narrowly averted every day.

For this reason may I suggest that the Westmount Police Department place a traffic officer at this point for a few days at least, in order that drivers who fail to come to a stop can be warned of the existence of the signs.

In the majority of the cases I think those who cross Sommerville without stopping are not aware of the signs. A few warnings from a traffic constable would probably rectify the situation.

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

On Sunday morning in Calvary Church, the Rev. T. W. Jones, will will continue the series of Bible Study services that are proving so helpful and informing by preaching on the theme: A Cradle among the bulrushes in Egypt — and a burning bush on the mountain side of Horeb. Landmarks in the story of God's dealings with mankind.

Men and women hard-beset in the struggle of life are finding inspiration, courage and clearer vision as a result of these Bible Study Services. They are discovering that the Light from God's word illumines the path of life today. Why not attend this service on Sunday morning and share in happy Christian fellowship in quest of Truth?

The evening service will be held at 7.30 p.m. Dr. Jones will preach the sermon on the subject "We Need Jesus. Many "Isms are being propagated today and their champions are claiming their particular cult as the cure-all for the ills of life. Do we believe that the Jesus Way is the way of hope for humanity? What word has the Christian Faith for these stressful times?

Regular sessions of the Church School will be held at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Teachers for boys classes are urgently needed. Volunteers are requested to communicate with the Superintendent, Mr. F. N. Stephen or with the Pastor.

On Monday, at 8.15 p.m. the Young People's Union will meet in regular session, an address on "The Thomas Crosby"—Mission Boat of the United Church on the Pacific Coast, will be given, illustrated with lantern slides. All young people are invited to attend.

This Thursday and Friday, Dec. 1st and 2nd, the Christmas Gift Bazaar under the auspices of the Women's Association will be held in the Church Hall, open from 3 to 10 p.m. each day. Supper each day at 6.30 p.m. Official opening on Thursday evening at 8 p.m. by Mr. W. R. Bulloch, M.L.A.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God the only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is: "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King." (Isaiah 43: 15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are His judgments, and His ways past finding out! . . . For of Him and through Him, and to Him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen." (Romans 11: 33,36.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-All, and that there is no other might nor Mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle. To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is." (p. 275).

BIG CROP

India expects to produce 6,700,000 bales of jute this year.

Col. Drew's Way To Top Unusual

It seems to be pretty well conceded that unless unexpected opposition crops up, Colonel George Drew may become the leader of the Ontaro Tory party.

Strange Political Career

If so, it will climax a strange political career and one which certainly has no political precedent to go on.

Without having any parliamentary experience, though that element can be easily over-emphasized, but with a background of municipal office behind him, Colonel Drew contested the leadership with Hon. Earl Rowe and lost out. At that time, he could have been presented as a recently displaced civil servant who was in the midst of a suit in which Mr. Walkinshaw, the brother-in-law of A. W. Roebuck, former attorney-general was involved.

He becomes party organizer under the Hon. Earl Rowe, which seemed to be an inauspicious start for the party organization and when the C.I.O. issue came up, promptly repudiated the party and ran as an independent, thereby giving possibly more moral support to the Hepburn campaign than has been realized though he personally failed of election in his own riding.

Independent Spirit

There are times when an independent attitude should be taken in politics and we have all too much of blind allegiance to party rule in our politics and yet, in view of the circumstances, Colonel Drew's actions could have been easily construed as the act of hamstringing Rowe who had defeated him on the convention floor.

Thus we have a man whose service to the Tories for a great part of his career was in a highly-paid post, a man who, having lost a bid for the leadership later deserts the party, now admitted to be almost certainly returned as leader.

It would seem to indicate that Colonel Drew is Drew's man and nobody else's and this observation is made in full appreciation of the candidate's many claims to political pre-eminence. If he attains this pre-eminence he will have pursued a trail that has no counter-part, as far as we know, in Canadian politics.

WESTMOUNT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. J. A. Johnston will preach morning and evening in Westmount Baptist Church. At the morning service the sermon theme will be: "Those Other Sheep." Canadian Baptists are ministering to many nationalities in Canada and overseas.

If the converts from these nations were brought together there would be a Babel of Tongues but all would sing "Jesus Shall Reign" each in his own tongue, yet in grand harmony. The people will meet around the Lord's Table as the guests of God at the close of the morning service.

At the evening service Mr. Johnston will speak on "The Rainbow Through the Rain." Reference will be made to a new volume by Rev. W. A. Cameron of Yorkminster Church, Toronto. There is a Gospel in the Rainbow. It is a Gospel of hope, of comfort, of promise and of challenge. The promise is not vain that Morn shall fairer be."

A Father and Son Supper will take place on Friday evening, December 9th. The speaker will be Dr. Frantisek Pavlasek, Consul-General for Czecho-Slovakia in Canada. Dr. Pavlasek will speak on, "The Moral Problem of Czecho-Slovakia." The men of Westmount are eagerly anticipating this gathering.

A Father and Son service will be held on Sunday morning, December 11th at 11 a.m. The centre section of the church will be reserved for men.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID TUESDAY TO E. C. PLANT

Service Conducted in St. Matthias Church for Well-Known Businessman

Friends and relatives paid final tribute to Edward Crossley Plant, well known in lumber circles, at St. Matthias Church on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Plant died on Saturday at the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital.

A native of Ottawa, the deceased was the son of the late Edwin Plant and Mary Crossley. He received his education in the capitol city and in Montreal.

When still in his youth Mr. Plant entered into the lumber industry and was at one time a partner in the firm of Thomas Mackerall and Company, Ottawa. A war veteran, he enlisted as captain with the 207th Battalion in 1916 and went overseas a year later.

On reaching England the 207th was broken up and he reverted to a lieutenancy in order to go to the front with a draft to the Princess Pats. In 1918 he was severely wounded.

Returning to Ottawa at the close of the year he joined the Mayno Davis lumber company and later came to Montreal in connection with that firm. Latterly Mr. Plant was connected with the James Shearer Lumber Company.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Isabel Stewart, youngest daughter of the late Major John Stewart of Ottawa and granddaughter of the late Senator James Skead, one daughter Patricia, and two sisters.

NEW SPORTS STORE OPENS IN WESTMOUNT

Of particular interest to local sports enthusiasts is the announcement of the opening of the Westmount Sports Shop, 4588 St. Catherine street, at the corner of Metcalfe avenue.

Centrally located in Westmount, the store carries a complete line of hockey sticks and is equipped with modern apparatus for the sharpening of skates.

A specialty is being made of bicycle repairs and a full stock of tires, tubes, parts and accessories will be available the year round.

Skiis and ski equipment will be procurable there once the season gets underway and the waxing of skiis is a feature of the store's service department.

Y.M.C.A. Work . . .

are now able to open their doors to the Hi-Y. The Y.M.C.A. has always been outstandingly successful in its work with Philppine youth through its Pioneers, Bootblack Associations and Newsboys' Clubs. Already 25 Hi-Y Clubs have been organized."

China

"China's government is as Christian in spirit and vision for its people as can be found in the world today," declares Gene Turner, one of the North American "Y" secretaries in China. He says that "while Christianity has touched only ten per cent of China's college students, ten per cent of her schools and only one out of every thousand of her citizens, there is a far more significant clue to her Christianity. Today's most influential and potential leaders are definitely and openly Christian. Throughout the nation, behind the war lines, these leaders are promoting the ideals of Christianity."

Argentina

Many national leaders of Argentina, including the President, recently participated in the dedication of the new Y.M.C.A. in Buenos Aires. Outstanding among Latin American Associations, this new building not only represents the efforts of citizens of the Argentine capital but of the whole country, whose Government voted 350,000 pesos towards its construction. Rising like a skyscraper on the skyline of Buenos Aires, this magnificent structure has an assembly, theatre, educational rooms, library, terrace, three gymnasia, (one an outdoor gym), two swimming pools, separate club rooms for boys and a lounge with murals depicting the Latin phrase "That they all may be one." The new Association represents a marked advance from the days when North American secretaries first introduced the "Y" idea in 1902.

Delinquency

"Everyone of our cities has a large number of roaming bootblacks and newsboys," writes Howard Haag, on the National Committee staff on the Philippine Y.M.C.A. "These boys are exceedingly poor and never attend school. They have been the source of trouble for many a city Chief-of-Police. We have been forming clubs for these boys in five different cities. Through them the lads are developing a new code of honor which outlaws stealing, gambling and fighting. I visited one of these clubs recently. The Chief-of-Police is the advisor. Club officers are elected by democratic vote of the members. They meet every Sunday morning at 8.00 in a room reserved for them in the Municipal Building. Over 106 members attended this meeting, each using his own shoeshining box for a chair."

Chile

The Government of Chile has bestowed the Order of Merit upon A. E. Turner, veteran North American secretary who developed the Valparaison Association. This is the highest honor the Chilian Government confers and is usually reserved for foreign diplomats and government officials. The medal is a handsome enameled star, with medallion center, mounted on a gold laurel wreath and attached to a wide blue ribbon. While Mr. Turner has retired, he has continued to lend his energies to the Y.M.C.A., Rotary and welfare organizations in Valparaiso.

NO VALET WORK

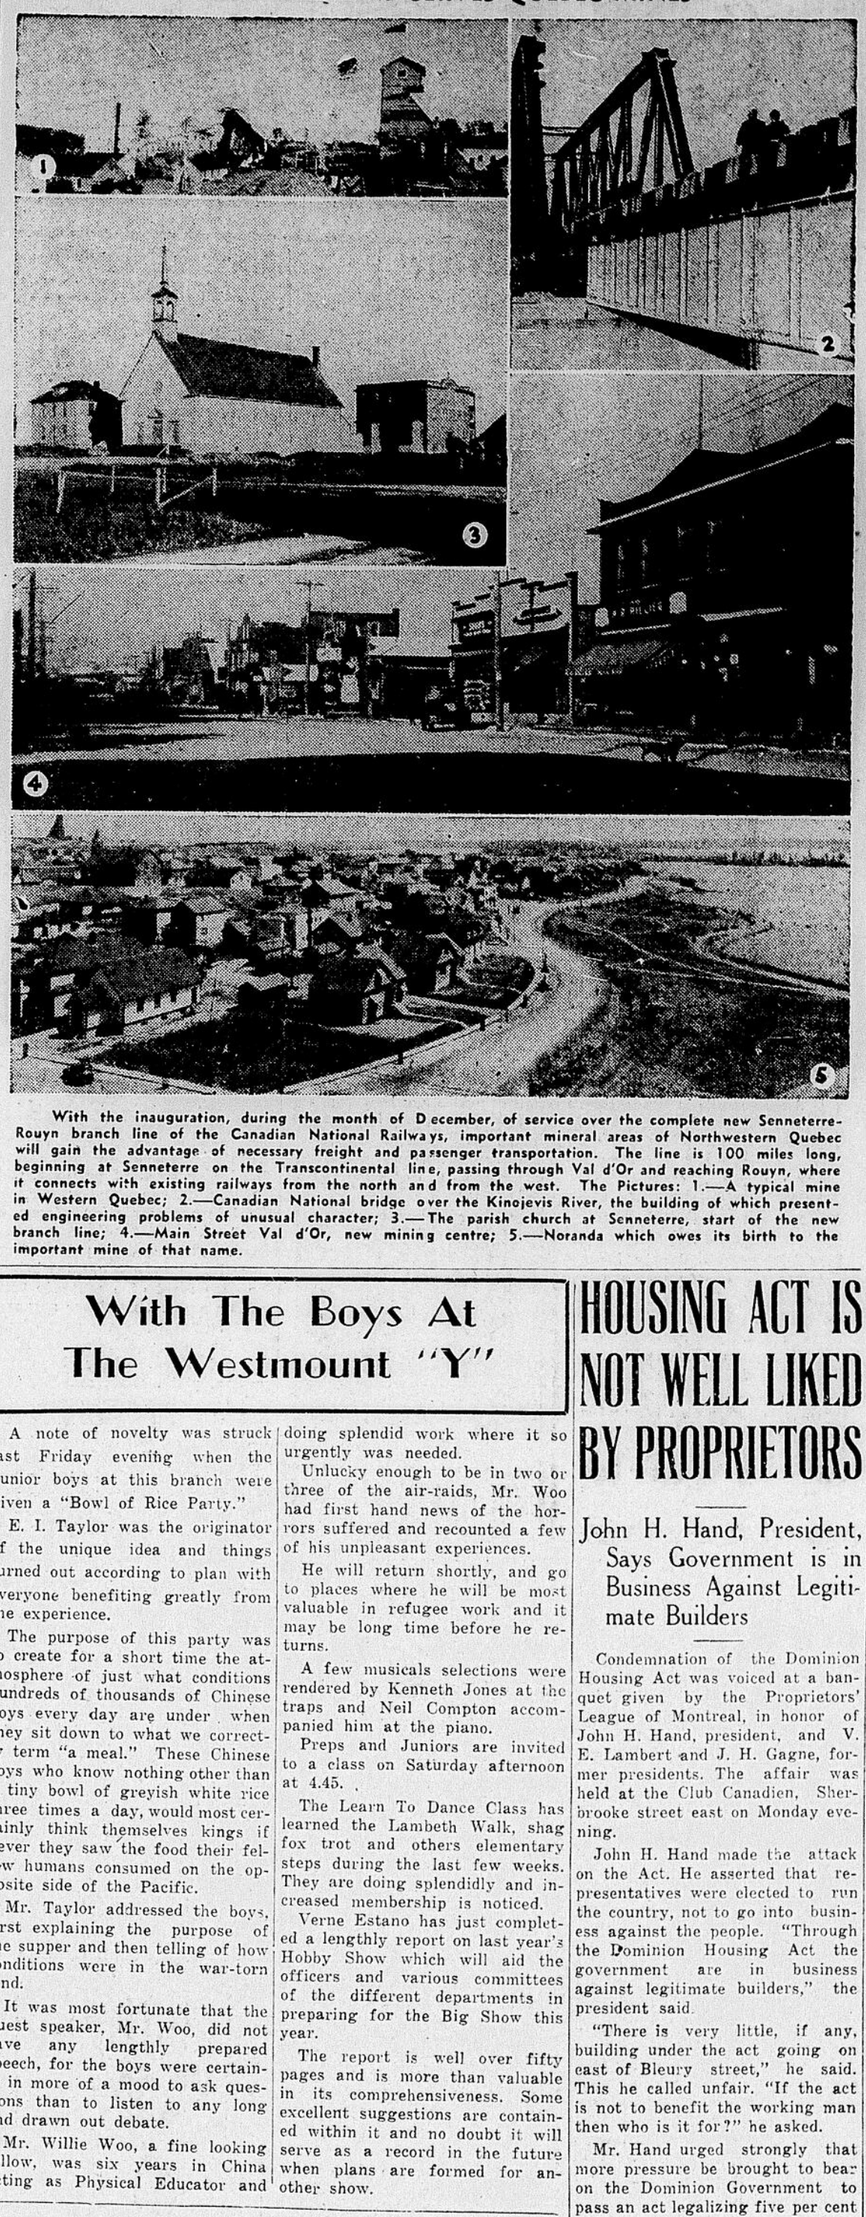

A Scottish barber was engaging a prospective new assistant.

"Well, I pay lower wages in the summer because the work's easier," said the barber.

"But surely people get their hair cut just the same?" exclaimed the assistant.

NEW RAIL LINE SERVES QUEBEC MINES

With the inauguration, during the month of December, of service over the complete new Senneterre-Rouyn branch line of the Canadian National Railways, important mineral areas of Northwestern Quebec will gain the advantage of necessary freight and passenger transportation. The line is 100 miles long, beginning at Senneterre on the Transcontinental line, passing through Val d'Or and reaching Rouyn, where it connects with existing railways from the north and from the west. The Pictures: 1.—A typical mine in Western Quebec; 2.—Canadian National bridge over the Kinojevis River, the building of which presented engineering problems of unusual character; 3.—The parish church at Senneterre, start of the new branch line; 4.—Main Street Val d'Or, new mining centre; 5.—Noranda which owes its birth to the important mine of that name.

With The Boys At The Westmount "Y"

A note of novelty was struck last Friday evening when the Junior boys at this branch were given a "Bowl of Rice Party."

E. I. Taylor was the originator of the unique idea and things turned out according to plan with everyone benefiting greatly from the experience.

The purpose of this party was to create for a short time the atmosphere of just what conditions hundreds of thousands of Chinese boys every day are under when they sit down to what we correctly term "a meal." These Chinese boys who know nothing other than a tiny bowl of greyish white rice three times a day, would most certainly think themselves kings if never they saw the food their fellow humans consumed on the opposite side of the Pacific.

Mr. Taylor addressed the boys, first explaining the purpose of the supper and then telling of how conditions were in the war-torn land.

It was most fortunate that the guest speaker, Mr. Woo, did not have any lengthly prepared speech, for the boys were certainly in more of a mood to ask questions than to listen to any long and drawn out debate.

Mr. Willie Woo, a fine looking fellow, was six years in China acting as Physical Educator and doing splendid work where it so urgently was needed.

Unlucky enough to be in two or three of the air-raids, Mr. Woo had first hand news of the horrors suffered and recounted a few of his unpleasant experiences.

He will return shortly, and go to places where he will be most valuable in refugee work and it may be long time before he returns.

A few musicals selections were rendered by Kenneth Jones at the traps and Neil Compton accompanied him at the piano.

Verne Estano has just completed a lengthly report on last year's Hobby Show which will aid the officers and various committees of the different departments in preparing for the Big Show this year.

The report is well over fifty pages and is more than valuable in its comprehensiveness. Some excellent suggestions are contained within it and no doubt it will serve as a record in the future when plans are formed for another show.

Scout Toy Repair Shop Again Goes Into Action

The Boy Scout Christmas Toy Repair Workshop is now being operated for the thirteenth consecutive season. As in past years, the Workshop is situated at the Boy Scout Headquarters, 1523 Bishop Street, and will be operated until December 21st.

The headquarters building has been transformed from an assembly hall and a series of badge and committee rooms in to a Santa Claus Branch Factory, where all the usual departments will again be operated. The sorting of toys sent in will be done in the assembly hall which will also be the paint shop. Carpentry work and metal work will be done in special rooms outfitted in the basement. Specialty departments which include the sorting and checking of games, and the doll department, operated by ladies interested in the work, are located in the upper floors.

Old toys will be collected by the Scouts from the homes of the city, repaired and painted before being given to needy families. C. A. Wylie, executive director of the Montreal Boys' Association, will be in charge of the distribution of the finished articles.

If the Boy Scout toy Ambulance is calling at the home of one of your neigbours and you have not telephoned to Scout Headquarters the driver will gladly accept any contribution of old or discarded toys you may wish to give.

HOUSING ACT IS NOT WELL LIKED BY PROPRIETORS

John H. Hand, President, Says Government is in Business Against Legitimate Builders

Condemnation of the Dominion Housing Act was voiced at a banquet given by the Proprietors' League of Montreal, in honor of John H. Hand, president, and V. E. Lambert and J. H. Gagne, former presidents. The affair was held at the Club Canadien, Sherbrooke street east on Monday evening.

John H. Hand made the attack on the Act. He asserted that representatives were elected to run the country, not to go into business against the people. "Through the Dominion Housing Act the government are in business against legitimate builders," the president said.

"There is very little, if any, building under the act going on east of Bleury street," he said. This he called unfair. "If the act is not to benefit the working man then who is it for?" he asked.

Mr. Hand urged strongly that more pressure be brought to bear on the Dominion Government to pass an act legalizing five per cent as the regular mortgage rate. Hon. Joseph Bilodeau had told the property owners that if it was at all legal the Province of Quebec would legalize five per cent mortgage interest payments at once, but that the problem was one for Ottawa.

H. G. Gagne, first president of the association, read the brief recently presented to the Montpetit Commission by the Montreal Proprietors League. In advocating a provincial income tax, he said, the proprietors were not seeking too much, as many were inclined to believe.

V. E. Lambert, second president of the association, spoke briefly of the evils affecting municipal Government, stressing particularly the poor distribution of population by wards and suggesting that Notre Dame de Grace ward should be divided up into at least four wards, each with a representative at the City Hall.

Ald. W. H. Biggar addressed the gathering briefly, reviewing his efforts on behalf of the district and thanking the association for its cooperation at all times.

James A. Donnelly, aldermanic candidate in Notre Dame de Grace spoke, suggesting that Mr. Hand's 5 per cent on mortgages was a little high. Four per cent was the figure that Mr. Donnelly believed should be aimed at.

Ald. Leo McKenna, of Mount Royal ward, also spoke in favor of lowering property taxes.

The chairman, A. D. Cantin, spoke briefly of the careers of the three guests of honor as president of the association and introduced the speakers.

MRS. H. BUTLER, CHURCH WORKER LAID TO REST

Funeral Service Was Held At Her Late Residence On Murray Hill Avenue

The funeral service for Jessie Belle Mackay of 658 Murray Hill avenue, widow of the late Harry C. Butler, was held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her residence. Mrs. Butler died at her home last Saturday at the age of 53.

Coming to Montreal at an early age from her native city of Providence, Rhode Island, she spent the greater part of her life here. An active worker at St. Andrew's Church, she was well known for her interest in welfare and social activities.

Mr. Butler, who pre-deceased his widow in 1934, was at that time vice-president of the Montreal Locomotive Works.

Speaker Notes . . .

Winnipeg and Montreal to Drummondville whence it was hurled by beam wireless to Baldock in England and then routed, via the land lines of the British Post Office, through London to Plymouth. Surprisingly enough, the film revealed that the answering voice takes an entirely different path, travelling through Rugby, England, to Yamachiche, Que., and thence to Montreal and the lines of the Trans-Canada Telephone System for its journey across the Dominion.

One of the novel features of the film—which, it was explained, has never been demonstrated before in movie form—was the part dealing with the speech inverter. The sound track recorded the voice of the overseas operator in the Montreal long distance centre of The Bell Telephone Company on Belmont street as she passed the call to London, and then recorded it again after it had been "scrambled," or rendered unintelligible, thus showing what is done to insure the secrecy of trans-oceanic telephone conversations.

Another interesting point brought out during the course of Mr. Manson's illustrated address was the fact that the first telephone exchange in the British Empire, and the second in the world, was opened just sixty years ago in Hamilton, Ont. Montreal, he added, will celebrate the diamond jubilee of its first telephone exchange next year. The building in which it was located in 1879 stood on the present site of the Montreal Stock Exchange on St. Francois Xavier Street.

Businessmen IN THE Public Eye

G. H. GODFREY

G. H. Godfrey, proprietor of the G. H. Godfrey and Son meat and provision market on Victoria avenue, is typical of Westmount's many successful independent businessmen.

Coming to Canada from England in 1912 he has operated a butcher shop in this city since that year. Prior to entering business for himself he served for three months in the employ of the Davies Co., food merchants.

Mr. Godfrey opened his first store on Abbott avenue twenty-six years ago and until 1927 he enjoyed a prosperous business at that address. However in 1927 fire destroyed his store forcing him to move to another centre.

There being few other business buildings in the immediate vicinity of Abbott, Mr. Godfrey established his second shop on Greene avenue near the corner of St. Catherine street where he was successful in retaining the majority of his old customers while greatly increasing his trade in the Greene avenue district.

Largely due to the fact that Victoria avenue was rapidly becoming one of Westmount's most important shopping centres, Mr. Godfrey moved his business to that street three years ago.

As a result of following a policy of serving only quality merchandise at reasonable prices Godfrey's has developed an enviable reputation in the retail food trade in Westmount. Many of the store's customers have been dealing there since Mr. Godfrey first opened on Abbott avenue 26 years ago.

Married and the father of six children, he is a member of the Army and Navy Veterans' Society and the Business Association of Westmount.

sisting of various games, stunts, dances and songs. James Roch, Honorary District Cubmaster, told the boys one of his entertaining stories as a special feature.

On Sunday morning, a special service was conducted in St. Luke's United Church at which were present, in addition to St. Luke's United Pack, the 1st N. D. G. Troop, and the Lions Club Troop and Pack. Reverend R. Dewitt Scott preached an interesting sermon entitled "Choosing" and Cubmaster Kennedy read the scripture lesson.

TONY SENDER WILL BE HEARD AT SYNAGOGUE

"I Was Caught in the Maelstrom," is Subject of Noted German Woman

Tony Sender, for fourteen years a member of the German Reichstag, will speak this Wednesday evening, at 8.30, in the Shaar Hashomayim Community Hall, 450 Kensington Avenue, Westmount. Her subject is: "I Was Caught in the Maelstrom."

Miss Sender first gained wide public notice when she protested against her country's invasion of Belgium in 1914. In 1915, she was one of the outstanding participants in the first international anti-war Congress in Switzerland. She remained active in the German Labour and industrial movement until the Nazis came into power. Her citizenship was then revoked and her property confiscated.

Miss Sender's lecture here next Wednesday evening, is under the auspices of the Jewish Adult Education Society of Shaar Hashomayim.

ABOUT DATES
Dates are grown in Morocco and Tunisia. The tree, of the palm family, may reach a height of sixty feet. A cluster of dates weighs 24 to 30 pounds and a tree may bear 10 to 12 clusters. Dates are gathered with the utmost care. A man climbs up the tree and cuts the clusters, puts them in baskets which are lowered to the ground by a rope. They are put on mats, where they remain exposed to the sun for several days. They are strung up to dry and are then ready to be shipped.

New Headlines Shown For Fall Hat Styles

In his advanced spring collection Eric is launching novel headlines for both hair and hats. The airplane influence is evident. Even the hair is parted down the centre back and brushed out like wings over the ears; a flat fringe balances this arrangement. The broad spread of airplane wings is suggested, in a new hat silhouette. The brim is extremely wide at the sides and narrow at back and front; over the forehead it is cut away, affording complete "visibility" in spite of the nosedive tilt.

Good physical condition means unlimited vitality, a capacity for endless work without feeling tired. It means a clear head, an active mind, the ability to sleep soundly. Many forms of ailments are benefitted by massage.

Girls, Pay Attention To Your Waistlines

There's been no end of prattling about heads and hair, feathers and furs this season. But we can't think about such frivolous things all the time. Let's get down to a fundamental—the waist. It's important too. And very much in the limelight, for with all the doodads that have gone to the head it means that the waist must be kept down — by that we mean sleek. This calls for all the more attention on the part of the well-dressed.

What's happened to the waist? It's normal (not to be understood as meaning that it can be permitted to spread — on the contrary)... It hasn't one anywhere this season, it attracts attention to itself, it does so by being excessively smooth and well curved — in, not out. Princess lines mold it, corselets tell the story of its contour. Empire cuts call attention to its slimness. A spool inset in a vivid crushed girdle that tightly cinches it.

The importance of the waist—that is, actually, it's unimportance as a focal point — is stressed in every type of dress and even in wraps evening and daytime. The girl who trots off to business early in the morning will do so in a frock that spells trimness in every line with a narrow belt holding her firmly at the middle. When at night she gets ready for a party she'll slip into a dress that molds her through the midriff, whether it flares into a crinolined hemline or falls in match-like folds.

These two are worn over the shoulder with the straps crossed in a double Sam Brown effect.

Parisian Hairdresser Looks to Napoleon's Reign for Coiffure

A Parisian hairdresser who last year was one of the harbingers of the up-swept hairdo arrived in this city again during the week with news of a new coiffure for women who are already tired of of the up-swept. The excitable little Frenchman, who has so much to say about the Canadian women wear their hair, got his inspiration for the new coiffure from pictures of Napoleon's unhappy son, L'Aiglon. The new idea is to wear your hair much shorter than is necessary for the up-swept, in loose, brushed-up curls. The hair over the forhead is still brushed high and ends in curls, but at the sides over the temples it tends to fall forward a bit in curls. The back is still brushed up, but not held as tightly as in the current version of the brushed-up coiffure. This new coiffure is offered as a prophecy, something not to be considered seriously except by those who always like to be ahead of the game until next Spring.

In the meantime, this hairdresser offers two new versions of the up-swept. One, for the young beauties, has the hair pulled up tight all around and ending in a wavy 1900 pompadour high in front. The other, for older women, is softer, less severe. The height of the head, allowing for slight waves around the face and for curls toward the nape of the nock.

Rev. G. Kilpatrick Addressed W.C.T.U.

Rev. Dr. Geo. G. D. Kilpatrick addressed the monthly meeting of the Frances Willard W.C.T.U., held last Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. J. McLelland.

Choosing "Looking Forward" as the topic of his address, the speaker reviewed the present day chaotic conditions of the world, when ideals were being shattered, and in some quarters there was a tendency to resort to devices of the jungles. Dr. Kilpatrick said that a great responsibility rested upon the women of the world, whose influence in the home and in the community is so strongly felt, and that they should strive to uphold the sacred traditions of the race.

References was made to the anti alcoholic crusade which is being carried on the heads of the Roman Catholic Church in this province, a letter was sent from the union, expressing the best wishes of all the members of the Frances Willard W.C.T.U. in the success of their campaign, bringing the attention of their people to the evil and destructive effects of alcohol, which no doubt bring results.

Mrs. A. R. Durrell, group leader, introduced the speaker. Miss Isobel Robertson was the guest soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Maurice Charbonneau.

Novel Evening Bags Contain Everything

Very luxurious evening bags, fitted with phial of perfume, vanity, lipstick, comb and mirror, are the latest presentation of one of the town's outstanding cosmeticians. In the softer pouch bags these fittings are concealed behind the drop front of a separate little outside purse. This clever arrangement leaves the main part of the bag for other things, affording lots of room. Other bags are smooth, plain, stiff affairs that look like books. Some are covered with rich old brocades, others with brilliant satins. The pouch bags, almost all brocades in soft colors, have strikingly lovely frames. One, in tortoise shell, is particularly effective with the subdued tones of the brocade. Others are in simulated jewels.

Alix Stresses Taffeta For Slim Evening Gowns

Alix shows a group of extremely jeune fille dresses with enormously full umpressed pleated skirts, blouses tops and jackets, these are reminiscent of the 1915 epoch. They contrast with her sophisticated models featuring an accentuated Venus curve. The collection includes many smart separate wool collarless day frocks with drapery that frames a self-buttoned gilet.

Alix stresses taffeta for slim molded evening gowns, many being high-necked and long-sleeved. Novel are floppy parasol-sized, pleated tulle or organdie lampshade hats in multicolored effects. These are turned high off the face. A halo hat of the same size is encrusted in colored tulle recalling a staned glass rose window.

Romance Of Steel Shown In Mural For World Fair

A la mural decoration for the New York World's Fair, depicting "The World of Steel" and designed for the United States Steel Corporation's pavilion at the great exposition, is now being shown at La Maison Francaise, Rockefeller Center. The work is by Clara Fargo Thomas, who recently completed the Coronation mural for Selfridge's in London. The exhibition will continue through Nov. 19.

"The World of Steel" has been painted on macassar ebony panels measuring 86 feet in length by 11 feet in height. On distinctively grained wood and in colors predominating in browns orange, and yellow, with lighter touches to suggest the flash of molton metal, Mrs. Thomas has covered two main aspects of steel—the processes of manufacture and the products.

In the foreground are various details of the mill scene, including the blast furnace, heated ingots, the soaking pit, with a striking symbolic motif in the center emblazoning the day when welding will supplant riveting in steel construction. The men who are figured at various tasks throughout the industrial spectacle are painted from life, being actual steel workers. Scattered throughout the upper portion are glimpses of the last word in steel as seen in the newer skyscrapers, bridges, boats and buildings rearing on the World's Fair grounds.

Some of the murals for which Mrs. Thomas is best known are those for the Chicago and New York offices for the Chicago Tribune known as "Freedom of the Press," and "Trees to Tribunes," respectively. She is now painting a large decoration for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's exhibition at the New York World's Fair and is serving as art director of the Children's World at the Fair.

Painting Recalls Secret Of Brig "Mary Celeste"

A painting of the brigantine "Mary Celeste," one of the mystery ships of the Atlantic, was recently loaned to the Fort Beausejour Museum by R. L. Dewis, of West Advocate, Nova Scotia. The painting is the work of a French artist and shows the "Mary Celeste" entering the harbor of Marseille, France, on November 6, 1861.

The story of the "Mary Celeste" has been written, dramatized and made into a motion picture short but to this day no one has solved the mystery surrounding her, writes C. W. Moffatt in the Sydney Post Record.

She was built by Joshua Dewis, grandfather of R. L. Dewis, at Spencer's Island, Cumberland County, Nova Scotia and launched in 1860 as the "Amazon." Seven years later she went ashore on the rugged coast of Cape Breton Island near Fort Morien. Re-fleated, and repaired she sailed again only to meet a similar fate on the coast of Maine.

An American syndicate purchased the grounded ship, and made her sea worthy and changed her name to the "Mary Celeste." Taken to New York she was loaded with alcohol and set sail for Genoa on November 7, 1872.

Her departure was well remembered by the people on the dock at New York that November morning for there stood with them a 17-year-old girl who had recently married First Mate Albert G. Richardson, a native of Maine. With tears in her eyes she stood there waving a fond bood-bye to her husband of less than a month.

Into Oblivion

On board the "Mary Celeste" Captain Benjamin Briggs stood on the bridge looking out to sea while his wife and young daughter joined the first mate in waving farewell to the lonely girl on the dock.

As the brigantine spread her sails and disappeared from sight the spectators and the young bride on the dock turned away little knowing that they had seen the crew of eight and the captains wife and daughter for the last time.

On December 4, 28 days later, the captain of the "Dei Gratia" sighted the "Mary Celeste" off the Canary Islands. She was drifting in a light breeze with sails set and apparently no one at the wheel. The "Del Gratia' sent out a boat and the captain and members of the crew boarded the brigantine.

They found everything shipshape with the exception of a loose hatch-cover which was stained with blood. Near by lay a sword smeared with blood. There was a broken rail, but everything else was in first class condition. In the captain's quarters breakfast was on the table untouched.

The sextent and chronometer were missing. The ship's log revealed that the last entry had been made on November 24 at noon, but offered no solution to the enigma.

The captain of the "Die Gratia" was not troubled by the mystery as the seas abound with them, so he took the "Mary Celeste' into Gibraltar where she was manned by a new crew.

After the ship had docked at Gibraltar many stories were circulated as to what happened. Since then many explanations have been offered.

The most generally accepted belief is that on some morning between the 25th of November and the 4th of December, while the "Mary Celeste' was sailing along quietly and the captain and his family were at breakfast, there was a terrific explosion. This explosion may have resulted from an accumulation of alcoholic fumes in the hold.

To account for the blood on the hatch cover and the sword, it is thought that a cailor must have been near the hatch with a sword in his hand when the explosion threw the hatch cover up at him causing the sword to pierce his body. It is further supposed that the suddenness of the explosion created a panic and in a few moments everyone including the Captain and his family were crowded into a single boat and lowered into the sea, the rail having been broken in the rush.

As they pulled away from the "Mary Celeste' with great haste expecting that she would instantly be blown to the winds by further gas explosion, a stiff breeze sprang up and carried her away. Too late they realized their mistake. They could see her in the distance sailing fast away. While the boat overcrowded and a gale rising they, presumably, all met death by drowning.

After she had been manned by a new crew at Gibraltar and delivered her cargo of alcohol at Genoa the "Mary Celeste' returned to the United States. For the succeeding 12 years she was idle for want of cargo. In 1885 she sailed from Boston, Mass., for Port au Prince and was wrecked off the coast of Haiti. Thirty thousand dollars cargo insurance is said to have been collected by her owners.

There were eight persons beside the captains wife and daughter on board the "Mary Celeste" as she sailed from New York on her ill-fated voyage. They were: Captain Benjamin Briggs, his wife and daughter, of Marion, Mass., Mate Albert G. Richardson, a native of Maine; Andrew Gilling and Edward William Head of New York City; Volkert Lorenzen, Arlan Harbens, Bos Lorengo and Gottlieb Goodschaad, all of Germany.

Today the only authentic painting of the brigantine "Amazon' or "Mary Celeste' hangs in the Fort Beausejour museum, which is located near Sackville, New Brunswick. The question of what took place on that fall day 66 years ago remains unanswered, a dark mystery of the sea.

The Way To A Man's Heart

Raisin Cookies Baked Now Ripen for Christmas Tree

It's time to begin making your Christmas gift cookies. These pack-away raisin specialties grow mellow and tender the longer they keep.

A month from today is Christmas. Time now to begin making up mincemeat, fruit cake and special holiday cookies which are to be packed in white crocks tied with red ribbons and sent later on with your best wishes for a Merry Christmas.

Raisin Pack-Away Cookies

(About 4 dozen medium cookies)

One and one-half cups seedless raisins, 1 cup butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, ½-cup light molasses, 2 eggs, ¼ cup milk, 3 cups bran flakes, 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup cut candied cherries, ¾ cup cut citron, ½ cup coarsely chopped walnut meats, 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, 3 cups cornflakes.

Rinse and drain raisins. Cream butter, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add molasses and beaten eggs and beat. Add milk and bran flakes and mix. Add flour sifted with salt and baking powder and beat. Add raisins, cherries, citron, nuts, flavoring and cornflakes and stir to blend.

Drop by small spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet and flatten slightly. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 15 minutes. For a glazed top, brush with honey before baking.

You'll like these holiday cookies, too. Irma S. Rombauer invented them.

Mincemeat Drop Cookies

(30 cookies)

One-half cup sugar, ¼ cup butter, 1 egg, 1 cup mincemeat, 1¼ cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Sift sugar. Beat butter until soft, then combine with sugar, then beat in egg and mincemeat. Sift flour and baking powder together, then stir into mincemeat mixture until well blended. Drop batter by teaspoons onto greased sheet, well apart. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) for about 10 minutes.

U.S. Pineapple Glut Disturbs Queensland

Queensland — Glutting of the world market with canned pineapples, because of overproduction in the United States, has occurred inopportunely for the Queensland pineapple industry, which next year expected record production.

Early estimates are that within a year the present production of 950,000 cases of pineapples will increase to 1,000,000 here. During the last two years, growers have placed larger areas under pine apples.

Miss Norma McLean Plays in Cornwall

Miss Norma E. McLean, well known west-end violinist, was guest soloist at the St. Andrew's society banquet, held in Cornwall, Ontario, on Wednesday evening. This was the second occasion that Miss McLean had been requested to play in Cornwall. Her program for the occasion featured a variety of Scottish numbers. John Cook was accompanist.

Ontario Deer Bags Approach A Record

Bags of deer brought out of Northern Ontario this year have approached record totals, three game wardens engaged in checking the hauls at Severn Bridge, 14 miles north of Orillia, estimated.

Some parties have shot bear and wolves as well as deer, while 16 deer have been confiscated because hunters have taken more than their quota of one. The confiscated carcasses will be distributed to charitable institutions.

Hijackers Club Makes Dance Plans Early

Announcement by Tom Lewis, president of the Hijackers Club, that permission had been again secured to hold the club's annual year-end dance at Victoria Hall was all that was needed to set the entertainment committee laying plans.

Within the short time since this news, Jack Bain and his orchestra, who have been playing for the majority of the large social functions in town, have been signed to play on New Year's Eve. Details as to the floor show have, as yet, not been entirely settled, but the committee in charge of this very important matter promise that this year they have something entirely new and well worth seeing.

THE MAN BEHIND THE TUNE

"Singin' In The Saddle," a grand, new tune from the fertile pen of Teddy Powell, swept through a battery of NBC microphones and hurtled down the airlanes for the first time early Sunday evening. A few hours later, Powell grounded his private plane at St. Hubert, shivered slightly in the coolness of night, and joined your reporter at doughnuts and coffee in the airdrome commissary.

This Teddy Powell is the same man from whose gifted mind have sprung such fine tunes as "Heaven Help This Heart of Mine" and "If My Heart Could Only Speak," and so it was only natural that conversation should turn to songs and their makers. We discussed Gershwin and Berlin and Gordon and Revel, and finally I centred the discussion on Teddy Powell, himself.

Powell has never banged a keyboard in search of catchy melodies. Hit tunes, rather, seem to "happen" to him.

Several years ago, for instance, Ted was playing guitar in Abe Lyman's band at the Paradise Restaurant in New York. One day, while idly strumming his guitar backstage between shows, he was interrupted by Nick Blair, Paradise boss, who stopped a moment to listen.

"That's a pretty piece," commented Blair. "What is it?"

"Oh! nothing," answered Powell. "Just a little something I jotted down myself."

"It's good," came back Blair. "You ought to have it published."

Powell smiled his thanks for the compliment and promptly forgot the incident. Several days later, however, a music executive signed him to a contract and put the number on music stands across the continent. It was "Boots and Saddles,"—the biggest hit of the year.

There is another instance, too—a more dramatic and touching instance of the story behind a song.

Two years ago Powell was in love and happily engaged to Ruth Greely, one of the current crop of radio singers. Date for the ceremony was set; Powell secured his license, and all wedding arrangements had been completed when Miss Greeley suddenly called the whole thing off and sped away to marry Little Jackie Heller, another network artist.

Powell's grief knew no bounds. Knowing hundreds of people, he yet knew none to whom he could confide. So Teddy sat himself down at the piano and told his story in music. The tune was "Bewildered," one of the best-sellers of last year.

One of the few composers whose talents are not confined to music, Powell is highly-rated a radio producer and is executive-chief of production for Abe Lyman's Waltztime and Manhattan Merry-Go-Ro .. Although his fortune has been built upon songs of the plains, he has never been on a horse. His latest hits are "The Snake Charmer" and "Love of my Life," and he is currently at work on a revue to open in Manhattan simultaneously with the 1939 Worlds Fair.

Bram Seymour, local Hollywood newscaster heard daily through CFCF, has opened studios for the transcription of personal Xmas greetings, and the novel idea of sending best wishes on way is finding favour with many of the folk along Radio Row... Amazing statistics released this week by the Federal Communications Commission show that only 35% of major network programs currently originate in New York, as opposed to 65% at this time five years ago. Such figures tell the story of the swing westward, where talent and facilities surpass anything the east has to offer . . .

MURDER ON THE AIR

"Hollywood Hotel" fades from the air following Friday night's broadcast, but its swan song will be far from a quiet affair. "The Canary Murder Case," with William Powell starred in the Van Dine opus, will highlight this program which features music by Victor Young and songs by Frances Langford... Birth of "Beau," new smart-set magazine edited by Tony Beacon, will probably result in sweeping changes in staff and editorial policy of "The Montreal." Paul Lieven, likeable dean of Tudor Hall, is now editorial boss of the latter publication... And so the dial spins... Adios.

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" Begins A Second Hit Career

"Alexander's Ragtime Band," the song which Irving Berlin wrote nearly thirty years ago and which has lived long enough in popular fancy to become a genuine American folk song, forms the theme of the production which bears the song's name.

The film playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Sunday with Tyrone Power, Alice Faye, and Don Ameche in the starring roles.

While it revolutionized the entire popular concept of dancing and singing in 1911 . . . and is generally admitted to have begun ragtime vogue which has since passed through the eras of blues and jazz to current "swing" . . . there are a number of interesting facts in connection with the song itself.

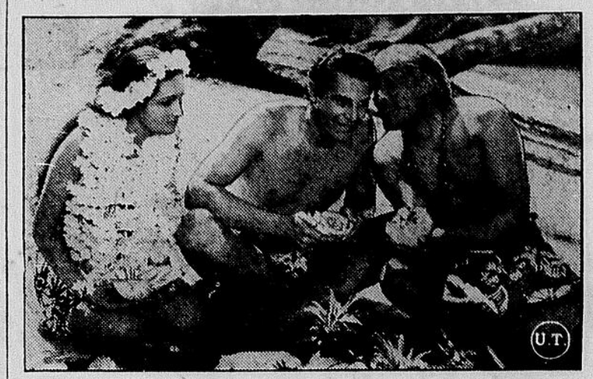

Originally written by Irving Berlin as "Alexander and His Clarinet." The song had no words.

First sung in public in 1911 by Emma Carus in Chicago.

In 27 years, to date, has been given 10,000-odd performances.

Irving Berlin did not own the copyright to the song until 1925 when he bought it. The author and composer was paid $25 a week when he wrote "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

Children's Theatre Group In Splendid Performance

The Children's Theatre production of "Anne of Green Gables" which took place at Victoria Hall on Saturday, was an outstanding success. This play as the seventh major production of this organization, and the capacity house and the prolonged and thunderous applause was a most decided indication of the hearty welcome it received.

Laura Mitchell who played the beloved heroine "Anne" gave a delightful interpretation of the role and not only worked her way into the heart of the icy Marilla but into the hearts of the audience.

Marcia Getz who played the role of Marilla was excellent in her part, while Alfreda Wallace in the role of the busy-body amused the audiance greatly.

While it is difficult to make mention of each and everyone of the sixty players who appeared, it must be said that fine performances were given by Joan Philpott, Yvonne Cooke, Elaine Robinson, James Keith, Pat Joudry, Elika Spector, Thelma Vautour, Pat Pearson, Norman Seigerman, Ed McGibbon and Frank Leonard. Mention must also be made of the large school scene in which each and every individual player showed intelligent understanding. The excellence of the ensemble scenes, the fine work of the principals, the colorful costumes and artistic setting made this production one of the most outstanding of the Montreal Children's Theatre.

Even the tiny tots who were introduced in the first scene showed fine training. Little Iris Shklar and Estelle Horn who had the opening and closing curtain speeches, deserve mention for their splendid delivery. Isobel Weinrauch, Joyce Litwin and Lilian Wilkinson were well received in their specialty numbers.

The whole performance was, supervised with obvious painstaking care by the directors of the Children's Theatre, Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, who are to be congratulated on the performance.

Outstanding Performance By Will Fyffe In Film

Outstanding at the York United Theatre, where the Gaumont production, "To the Victor" is current, is the performance of Will Fyffe. Simple praise is inadequate; his is one of the grandest characterizations we have ever seen, ranking with Emil Jannings, Charles Laughton, and even Paul Muni at their best.

The story of "To the Victor" is a fairly simple one. A dour Scotch sheepherder, McAdam, played by Will Fyfe, is at odds with his neighbors, partly because of his gruff and bullying manner and mainly because of his loyalty to his dog, "Black Wull," a vicious, but magnificent beast suspected as a "killer."

To the village comes a young farmer, who proceeds to fall in love with McAdam's lovely daughter. In the "sheep-trials, Loder's dog, "Owd Bob" wins the cup from "Black Wull."

Fyffe, in a fit of drunken rage, drives his daughter from his home; creditors strip him of his possessions; a mob raids his cottage, seeking to shoot "Black Wull." Fyffe resists stoutly, defends his dog at the risk of his life. It is a hopeless battle, for "Black Wull" is guilty. But the ultimate triumph belongs to Fyffe.

MacMurray And Bing Are Stars In New Fun-Fest

As two brothers, one, happy-go-lucky, irresponsible and amiably ne'er-do-well, the other, hard-working, serious and conscientious, Bing Crosby and Fred MacMurray turn in what are probably the outstanding performances of their careers in "Sing You Sinners," the uproarious comedy which is now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre until Sunday.

As the ne'er-do-well son, Bing makes so much trouble for his relatives in their home town that he goes away to seek his fortune in Los Angeles, which he is convinced is a field broad enough for his talent. He promises to send for his mother, played by Elizabeth Patterson, and his younger brother, Donald O'Connor, the moment he makes a success.

In the big town Bing turns out to be even less responsible than he was at home. After making a killing by placing all his money on a horse, he buys a "swapshop" and thus set up, wires his mother and brother to join him. By the time all of them, including MacMurray and his bride-to-be, arrive, they find that the "swapshop" has gone the way of all Bing's ventures. He has traded it for a racehorse, which he hopes will make him a fortune!

HELPS WITH ENGLISH

Hedy Lamarr glamorous Viennese actress now making her first American appearance in support of Charles Boyer in "Algiers," says that her greatest aid in learning the English language has been her constant attendance at motion picture theatres since she has been in the United States. "Algiers" is released through United Artists.

Another Sister Is Adopted By The Lane Girls

Screen Conan Doyle Novel

"Hound Of The Baskervilles", has been chosen as the first of the Sherlock Holmes stories for screen adaptation. Basil Bathbone will be the famous detective, with Nigel Bruce playing the Dr. Watson role. Richard Greene and Anita Louise have the romantic leads, supported by John Carradine and Lionel Atwill.

Not often does it happen that three sisters in real life play the parts of three sisters in a motion picture. Maybe it never happened before. But now it has happened, as the Lane girls—Lola, Rosemary and Priscilla—play Thea, Ann and Kay Lemp in "Four Daughters," which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Sunday.

There's a fourth Lane sister, Leota, who was to have played Emma Lemp, but a stage engagement forbade, and so Gale Page got the part. She was forthwith unofficially adopted into the Lane family.

Just before Director Michael Curtiz ordered the picture to start, on its opening day, there was an odd little gathering on the sideline of the set. Lola, Rosemary and Priscilla were there, clustered about their mother, Mrs. Cora Lane, who had driven them to the studio and had insisted upon seeing their take-off in the first film in which all three had worked together. But when she kissed them each, and wished them luck, she didn't forget to include pretty dark-haired Gale.

Colorful South Sea Wedding In "The Hurricane"

A wedding procession moves slowly to the stately strains of the Lohengrin march.

The groom is in shirt sleeves, wears denim trousers. The bride is barefoot. But they both have that rapt expression which should go with weddings everywhere.

Behind them stride two brown skinned men, escorting two dark hued women.

Suddenly the sound of the organ is drowned by yells and laughter. From behind palm trees, from around palm trees, from around the corners of the whitewashed church swarm scores of sarong-clad natives.

The laughing girls surround the bride, tear at her pale blue organdy wedding gown. In a moment, it is gone and also she stands revealed, lovely and slender in her green and white sarong.

"Cut" booms a powerful voice. "That was great, kids."

We've just seen the end of a South Sea Island wedding, filmed for Samuel Goldwyn's "The Hurricane," for release through United Artists, which is now showing at the Seville United Theatre until Sunday.

The bride and groom are Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall who play the 'Marama" and "Terangi" of the Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall saga.

John Ford, the director, strides over to where Miss Lamour is combing flower blossoms out of her long dark hair.

GUILD PLAYERS GIVE FINE PERFORMANCE

Surprisingly good scenic effects, colorful costumes and a cast of excellent players featured the three presentations of "The Shoemakers' Holiday," given last Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings by the Guild of Players of St. Matthias Church.

Harold Eustace Key played the title role to perfection and was ably assisted by the cast. Outstanding for their work in difficult parts were Bruce Clarke, Frederick Sheward and Percy Innes.

Each performance attracted a large and enthusiastic audience. The production was directed by Evelyn Smith with music arranged by Harold Eustace Key.

Adolphe Menjou, the sartorial star, who will be seen in "Thanks For Everything", insists upon sartorial perfection — even in illegal attire. Scheduled to wear a straightjacket for scenes in that riotous comedy, Menjou queried of Director Seiter, "Don't I even get one fitting before wearing that contraption? What will my public say if it should bulge in the wrong ploces?" Jack Oakie and Jack Haley, who also don straightjackets in this production,, were not that particular.

W. C. Fields resolves that for the New Year he will try to like Charlie McCarthy. "That will be one resolution it will be a pleasure to break.

WESTMOUNT JUNIORS TO MEET REGINA DALES HERE

LITTLE FOUR TITLE TAKEN BY WESTMOUNT

Red and White Squad Downs Hamilton Italo-Canadians 10-8 At Athletic Grounds

On the frozen Westmount Athletic grounds Westmount junior football team secured the Little Big Four title by defeating the Hamilton Italo-Canadians by a score of 10-8 in a sudden death game last Saturday.

No better brand of football was witnessed in many a year, veterans of the game said. Both teams took the lead in different parts of the game until in the fourth quarter Westmount went into the forefront and remained there.

Spectacular broken field running by Cliff McClay led the Westmount squad to victory in the last quarter. "Chick" Gilbride, Westmount half and kicker again starred by scoring eight points.

The Hamilton team led by George Slinn and Fred Kijek, threatened the Westmount boys in the first half, but the purple and white team stopped the Italo squad before it could gain much ground.

In the first half George Slinn and Fred Kijek outbooted Gilbride but he more than held his own in the final stages.

In the third quarter Westmount picked the ball up on Hamilton's 20 yard line, and an end run by Walter Ferrier to McClay and then threw a long lateral to Gilbride who went over standing up. Johnny Thornber converted the point on a placement.

A fumbled ball by Fred Fidkins on his 12 yard line was picked up by Kernigan who ran over the line untouched. An attempted convert failed.

Slinn and Kijek kept the Westmount backfield in action by constantly kicking the ball in to the Westmount territory but without success. Kerrigan attempted placement near the end of the first quarter from the 25 yard line and went over for one point.

Half time came around with Hamilton in the lead by three points after Slinn had kicked three singles.

The third quarter marked up the two touchdowns of the game and the score was 8-7 in favour of Hamilton.

Gilbride kicked for 50 yards for a rouge point and tied the score. Gilbride again booted another 50-yard kick for the winning point. On Hamilton's forty yard line Gilbride kicked for another final rouge point as the game ended.

Four Important Games Played At Heather Club

As play was thinned in the Cote St. Antoine Trophy tourney at the Heather Curling Club, four important games were decided on Wednesday evening. The outstanding quartette of G. Artie Wood, with C. G. Perry, A. C. Wood and H. R. Cockfield pulled out an 8-7 win over W. B. Hutchinson's entry.

H. K. Wright advanced at the expense of O. Mowatt's team with a 17-12 count, R. B. Ross, jr., turned back J. McKee's squad, 15-9, while T. Rattray's foursome defeated a team handled by President W. E. Clarke, 10-6.

Play was resumed in the Duncan McIntyre Trophy event at Thistle with six games being held. Winning rinks were skipped by C. N. Moisan, W. E. Burke, sr., J. I. Rankin, T. S. Simpson, H. A. Whitley and J. MacGregor.

On Saturday, the usual luncheons will be held at Royal Montreal Thistle, Heather and Caledonia rinks. The Rev. C. G. Smith will address Heather members with S. B. Cayford in the chair.

Fingerprinting Is Becoming Popular

Americans are becoming fingerprint conscious.

Justice Department officials estimated today that one out of every 130 persons in the United States has voluntarily submitted fingerprints to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Additional cards are arriving at the rate of 2,000 per day.

The civil identification file, not to be confused with the criminal records, was started by Director J. Edgar Hoover in 1933 to aid in identifying accident victims of persons suffering from loss of memory.

As an indication of the civil file's value, Hoover said 400 dead persons were identified between January 1 and October 31 from 1,254 fingerprint impressions sent in for examination.

BASKETBALL TEAMS ACTIVE AT LOCAL 'Y'

Four Teams Met in Scheduled Games on Gym Floor on Saturday

Further interest in the Junior division of the Westmount Y's house basketball league was shown last Saturday afternoon when four teams met in scheduled games.

John Peirson's Team the "Bat". defeated Ross MacNicoll's "Red Wings" and Walter Stien floored a fast team, the "Aces" to defeat the "Seals". Final scores were; Bats, 15, Red Wings 2; Aces 26, Seals 6.

Two more senior teams are expected to play in the league next Saturday. They are the Millionaires and the Flyers.

In the senior boys league, Paul Cheese's team, the Meat Eaters turn out to meet all comers and are healthy competitors for the Royals, the strongest team in the senior boys' grouping.

"Mitchy" Mills' team will be with these squads, and with one strong team from the intermediates there should be keener competition for the rest of the year. By the enthusiasm shown by the group of preps turning out each Saturday it has been necessary to provide floor time for them between one and half-past two o'clock.

TEAM WINS BY DEFAULT

Owing to uncontrollable circumstances the Seventh, Maisonneuve Co. of the Boy's Brigade, were unable to field a team for the title football match against the First Westmount last week, and on account of the lateness of the season it was decided by the athletic committee to award the title to Westmount and name them as defenders next season.

This marks a successful beginning in organized sport for the local lads this season, and plans are being rapidly pushed for the formation of a hockey team. It is expected that Brigade hockey will continue in the same way as last season with three leagues operating.

The Company will not compete in the West end Church Basketball league this year, owing to the fact that last season this interfered to a great extent with the Friday night program, and will confine itself in this field to the odd exhibition games.

For the Juniors a small boxing class is being organized, but this will be confined to a few lads around the hundred pound limit. The N. C. O's are also endeavoring to lay plans for a junior hockey team.

TALK ON INDIA HEARD AT HI-Y CLUBS' SESSION

West End Well Represented at City-Wide Meeting Held in Central "Y"

All Hi-Y clubs of the city of Montreal, as well as Westmount, were represented at a special meeting held in Central Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evening last. Feature of the meeting was an address by Taylor Statten, well known worker among young people's organizations, who spoke on "India." Also speaking on the program was Preston Robb, past president of Westmount Hi-Y Club, and player on McGill football squad.

Mr. Robb told the meeting how much the Hi-Y club had meant to him, emphasizing particularly the importance of clean sports, which is a large part of the club's platform.

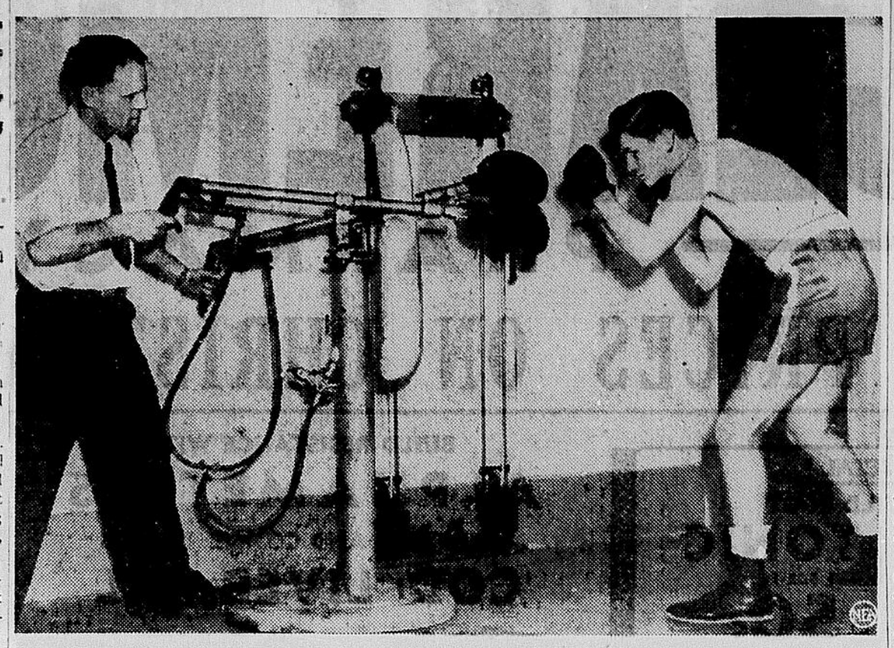

Taylor Statten, who has said he hoped to see a Hi-Y Convention take place before long, and informed the audience of his interest in the newly-formed Girls' Hi-Y Clubs.

Coloured Pictures

The evening's entertainment was also greatly enriched by Mr. Statten's coloured pictures of India, among which were shown the burning ghats in Benares and the colourful costumes and landscapes of the surrounding country. He told of extremes in climate, class and ideals, so prominent in India.

During dinner the various school yells were given. Bob Patterson of the Montreal West Boy's Hi-Y presided. Westmount was well represented by both girls' and boys' Hi-Y

MECHANICAL SPARRING PARTNER MEETS ALL COMERS

Play To Health Through EXERCISE

-V-

BY HUGH A NOBLE

This article is written for the benefit of the coaches and trainers of the various sports or any individual who is directly responsible for the condition of his team.

The first consideration in any form of recreative sport is the condition of the competitors, and no one knows more than the coach just how essential it is for the players to be kept in first class shape through the season. With this in mind, proper protective measures are of prime importance; this is particularly true with the more strenuous sports, such as football, hockey, and Lacrosse; but it is also true with the minor sports, such as, basketball, volleyball, badminton and handball.

The protective measures of strapping and bandaging are essential in all competitive sports. More and more the coaches are realizing the need for such strapping before scrimmages as well as before games; by strapping we are strengthening the player's position and assisting in the prevention of injury.

The ankle is one part of the body that is usually subjected to much strain; and an injury to the ankle is usually caused by turning over on it, thus straining or tearing the ligaments. Should an injury like this occur, the first treatment is hot and cold applications, followed by the shaving of the ankle and the application of alcohol.

Before the tape is applied and also in order to protect the skin, some compound is used to toughen the skin; such as tincture of benzoine. With the foot being held at right angles to the leg the ankle is then tapped in much a manner as to give the most support to the injury. Then rest is very essential.

When the knee is injured more rest is needed than in an ankle injury. Usually the period of rest runs from two to three weeks and this is only if the injury is not aggravated. The treatment of such an injury should consist of cold applications followed by heat, preferably of the 'whirl-pool' type—gentle massage and strapping.

The strapping may be of various kinds and done in various ways, but it is adviseable to use two inch tape and about twenty inches long. The first strip should be started on the inside of the leg just above the knee and drawn diagonally down and across the lower side of the knee terminating on the outside of the calf. The second strip should be started just at the same position as the first, but on the opposite side of the leg. The following strips are then place in similar positions but being very careful that the knee-cap left free, and also that the circulation is not stopped on the lower side of the leg.

In all strapping when adhesive tape is used, the tape should be applied properly and care should be taken that there are wrinkles, because wrinkles cause blisters. The tape is there for protection and not for looks, hence, it is not necessary to have even ends or strips of the same length; but this does not necessarily mean that care must not be taken when the adhesive tape is applied—a neat piece of work is always commendable.

The skin that is to be strapped should be first washed off and then shaved with a clean razor; the injured part should be covered with alcohol and any breaks in the skin covered a sterile gauze. It does not take long before the strapping works loose and because of this plus the need to air the skin, new strapping should be applied before each game or practice and removed after each contact. Should the individual need a support when walking a new strapping should be supplied.

Wreath Sent Out On Tide In Memory

Once again the outgoing tide has borne down Lunenburg harbor the floral offerings of a solemn people gathered in annual ceremony to honor those of the fishing fleet lost during the past year and "in memory of all the seamen who through all the years have found a last resting place in the waters that wash every shore.'

Impressive Service

It is an impressive service, this annual memorial, and one of the deepest significance to the people of Lunenberg. The people of that town know only too well the perils attendant on the business of the sea.

Many of them have known the suffering that comes with the news that some loved ones will not return. The joy marking the return of the fleet from the summer trip to the Banks has always been tempered with sorrow for the loss of brave seamen.

M'GILLIS' SQUAD SUCCESSFUL IN PROMOTING SUFFICIENT FUNDS TO STAGE ENCOUNTER

Game Will Be Played at Westmount Athletic Grounds—Purple and White Boys Raise $950 in Three Days — Match Will Decide Dominion Championship

A concentrated drive on the part of members of the Westmount Junior Football squad to raise funds to bring Regina Dales here for a Dominion Championship match went over the top this week and the Red and White crew will definitely meet the western titlists at the Athletic Grounds.

Andy McGillis team have been out working since Tuesday to promote the necessary $950 to bring the team here and were able to raise that amount within a three day period.

The sale of broadcasting rights and agreement the City to let the team use the grounds free of cost have been principal factors in the feasibility of the venture.

The practicability of the endeavour was evident early in the drive and approximately $860 was promised the team at the outset of the campaign.

The broadcasting rights will bring in $200 alone and subscriptions from sports enthusiasts where obtainable with but little difficulty by the club.

From Tuesday on the local squad has been active in workouts. They are in excellent form as was shown during the meeting with Hamilton Italo-Canadians on Saturday when there was not a single casualty.

As regards the game with Regina, Coach Andy McGillis stated."

"We had a little meeting of our own," "and the fellows decided they weren't going to let the matter drop without attempting to raise funds. Winning a Dominion title is the chance of a lifetime to them, and they don't want to pass it up."

It is planned to have two reserved sections, tickets to cost $1.00 apiece. General admission will behalf that figure. Tickets were being printed and the players will dispose of as many as possible personally.

Trees Again To Line New York Sidewalks

"The sidewalks of New York" for three square city blocks are to be resorted to the same tree-lined estate that they had when barouches rolled down the avenue, the lamplighter made his nightly rounds, and the horse cars would be heard jangling over on Madison avenue.

The tree planting schedule has been inaugurated by Rockefeller Center, Inc., and the first of the 150 sixteen-feet high oriental plane trees are making their appearance from 48th to 51st Street surrounding the centre.

The mackerel migrates upward and downward. When winter cools the surface waters, the fish drops downward to warmer levels.

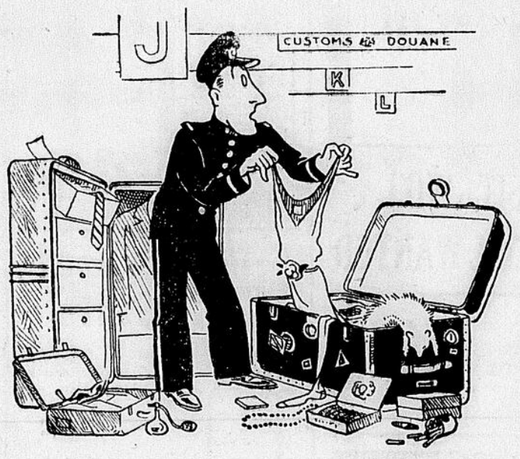

Charcoal and diamonds are made of the very same element, carbon; yet, diamonds of the poorest quality sell for more than $2000 an ounce, while charcoal is worth only about $15 a ton.
