To Support King So Troops Overseas Be Reinforced At Once

Former Defence Minister Declares Responsibility Rests with Prime Minister and Gen. McNaughton to See that Proper Reinforcements Are Made Available Even if More Than 16,000 Have to Be Sent Overseas by Compulsion—Shortage of Men More Serious Than Indicated in House.

By JAMES MCCOOK, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—(P)—Col. J. L. Ralston, a front-line soldier of the First Great War, in sober, fluent phrases last night told the Commons of his urgent anxiety over immediate reinforcements for Canadians overseas which led to his break with the Government on November 1 when he resigned as Defence Minister.

For two and a half hours he traced developments since when Overseas in late September and October, he came to the conclusion that draftees must be made available for service Overseas if Canadian units were to be kept up to strength.

Once or twice, Prime Minister Mackenzie King indicated he differed with Col. Ralston's interpretation of events.

When he had completed his review, Col. Ralston said that in spite of his criticisms of the actions of the Government, he would support it in a forthcoming vote of confidence in order that the troops in battle should have reinforcements with the least possible delay.

Gen. McNaughton, Col. Ralston's successor as Defence Minister, listened from a gallery seat.

The former Defence Minister, speaking before crowded galleries which have marked the "crisis session" since it opened a week ago, said he could not support the Progressive Conservative amendment to the confidence motion. This amendment would involve total conscription, making all the 60,000 Home Defence army effectives available for Overseas by compulsion instead of the 16,000 authorized under an Order-in-Council passed last week.

But he said he laid upon the Prime Minister and Gen. McNaughton the responsibility of seeing that money reinforcements were made available even if more than the 16,000 had to be sent Overseas by compulsion. He said the shortage of men had been more serious than perhaps had been indicated in the House thus far,

and that his recommendation on November 1 had been that 15,000 draftees be made available without delay.

SIX E. T. MEMBERS OPPOSED

TO CONSCRIPTION

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—(CP)—Six

Liberal members from Quebec's

Eastern Townships in a joint statement last night "reiterated their formal opposition to all conscription for Overseas service."

The brief statement was signed by J. P. Mullins (Richmond-

Wolfe), J. A. Blanchette (Compton), Maurice Halle (Brome-

Missisquoi), J. H. Leclerc

(Shefford), A. A. Cloutier

(Drummond-Arthabaska) and

Joseph Lafontaine (Megantic-Frontier).

A spokesman for the group said that the statement was only a reiteration of their views on conscription and did not necessarily mean that they would vote against the Government on the forthcoming vote of confidence.

Gen. McNaughton assumed office

November 2 pledged to attempt to obtain the required men by voluntary enlistments, and Col. Ralston said he was concerned over the delay which had occurred in the period when another appeal for voluntary enlistments was being made and before Gen. McNaughton's recommendation for Overseas conscription was accepted by the Cabinet on November 22.

Earlier yesterday, Victor Quech

(S.C. Acadia), said the 10-man Social Credit Party would support the government on the confidence motion

but he also moved an amendment calling for the use of all persons in the armed forces in any theatre of war; assurance of adequate supplies and reinforcements for those Overseas; economic security and financial reforms after the war and assimilation of wartime controls as soon as possible.

Hon. Earl Rowe (P.C., Dufferin-Simcoe), gave the House the official assurance of the Progressive Conservative Party that it would "co-

DEMONSTRATORS SMASH WINDOWS DURING PARADE

Anti-Conscriptionists Cause Damage at "Le Canada" Plant But Are Turned Back by Police Before Reaching Gazette Building.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—After hearing Andre Laurendeau, Quebec leader of the Bloc Populaire, tell an anti-conscription meeting in an east-end market hall that a majority had "no moral right" to "bind French-Canadians to a conscription measure," a group of young men, estimated at more than 1,000, last night paraded through the downtown financial section of the city, smashing windows in a number of offices.

Conscription had been forced on the country by "Toronto's 200 group, imperialists and financiers, who control the English-speaking press and, unfortunately, part of our French-speaking press," Mr. Laurendeau said.

When the meeting closed, the youths formed into a parade and marched through the main streets of the city to the financial section, chanting "A Bas la Conscription" (down with conscription).

At the office of the French-language newspaper, Le Canada, the marchers broke all windows on the ground floor and Bernard Fournier, 16-year-old messenger for the paper, was attacked by some of the youths before he escaped into the building.

From Le Canada, the parade split into two groups, one marching to the National Selective Service office where several windows were broken. The other headed toward the Montreal Gazette Building and smashed open a newspaper kiosk on the way, spilling the contents over the street.

Before the party reached the Gazette, squads of police arrived and turned back the marchers. The youths retreated eastward for several blocks and broke a number of windows in stores near Bleury and Craig streets. Police dispersed the crowd and later said they had arrested a 15-year-old boy.

In his speech, Mr. Laurendeau referred to the resignation last week of Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of National Defence for Air, and said it was "sad" that the only Quebec member of the federal Cabinet who had resigned so far was "an Irishman."

(Mr. Power resigned from the Federal Cabinet in protest over the Order-in-Council which provides for 16,000 N.R.M.A. personnel to be sent Overseas. He announced later that he was "through with politics" and would not seek re-election to his Quebec South seat.)

U.K.-AMERICAN TRADE PLAN IS ARRANGED FOR

After Nazis' Defeat, Lend-Lease to Be Cut in Half with Britain Paying Cash for Goods Intended for Re-Export.

By JOHN F. CHESTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 30.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill revealed today a far-reaching Anglo-American trade agreement whereby, after the defeat of Germany, lend-lease would be cut nearly in half but Britain would pay cash for United States materials intended for eventual re-export from Britain.

Hammering home Britain's necessity for, and intention of, rebuilding its largely-vanished export trade, the Prime Minister reminded the House that "it is no part of the Lend-Lease Act to provide general relief or to provide for post-war reconstruction or to aid our export trade."

"We shall pay cash for any additional supplies we may wish to take from the United States for export purposes," he declared.

He added that the removal of uncertainties should make it possible for exporters to lay plans now "with assurance" that they could become effective after the war with Germany ends.

"Lend-lease—that very great act—has stood us and our Allies in good stead and we have never asked nor expected any assistance which is not strictly within its terms and provisions," the Prime Minister declared.

ARGUMENT OVER CCF PROGRAMME HAS DEVELOPED

Western Delegates Object to Clause Stating Industries Monopolistic in Operation to Be Socialized by Party.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—The 250 delegates to the eighth National Convention of the C.C.F. party today were scheduled to resume study of a 19-point programme for the next federal election, drafted by the National Council of the party.

The delegates last night adopted six sections of the programme with the drafting committee charged with the task of rewording parts of the submitted points.

Adjustment to today came late last night following a heated argument that developed between National Secretary David Lewis and Colin Cameron, member of the British Columbia Legislature for Comox and Harold Winch, C. C. F. House Leader in the B.C. Legislature.

The Westerners objected to the restrictive wording of the sixth section of the election manifesto which stated that key industries, which are monopolistic in operation, would be socialized by a C.C.F. Government in its first term of office.

Mr. Lewis said he had seen personally the wording of that con-

ASK INTERMENT OF REV. T. T. SHIELDS

Quebec, Nov. 30.—The Quebec Municipal Executive Committee yesterday approved a resolution urging the Dominion Government to intern Rev. T. T. Shields, Baptist clergyman of Toronto, and Mayor Lucien Borne said the resolution would be submitted to the City Council Friday.

The resolution was based on remarks made by Mr. Shields' address at Victoria Sunday where he said that "Canada is mastered by the terror church of Rome," and "Quebec is guilty of the murder of thousands of boys at the front."

Mr. Shields also said that Cardinal Villeneuve, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Quebec, was an "unprincipled hypocrite."

Premier Churchill Accorded Warm Greetings On Birthday

London, Nov. 30.—Prime Minister Churchill, 70 years young, was greeted with a cheering and a roar when he entered the House of Commons today to follow his usual custom of putting in a full day's work on his birthday.

"Seventy not out"—an extremely good score in cricket—was the personal greeting given the Prime Minister by 87-year-old Wm. Thorne, Labor, the oldest member of the House, as he passed him on the floor of the House on the way to his seat among the opposition benches.

Mr. Churchill was a deep red rose in his buttonhole and appeared in high good humor as various members came up to congratulate him.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for Air, and Clement R. Attlee, Deputy Prime Minister, were among the first to give the Prime Minister a handshake.

The "70 years young" label was given Mr. Churchill by the Sydney Morning Herald, which said his "flair for living dangerously" had made him the one leader who could inspire the world during the dark days of the war. London papers also were full of praise and congratulations for the Prime Minister.

Even the Germans took notice. Helmut Suendermann, deputy press chief, wrote about Mr. Churchill in today's "Voelkischer Beobachter" under the title "We Accuse."

A D.N.B. broadcast of the article included these words: "Churchill once said there was no chance for him in a peaceful England, in a calm atmosphere. He was a fighter."

Another Liberal paper, the News Chronicle, which like the Manchester Guardian has often severely criticized the present National Government, paid a handsome tribute to the Prime Minister. "We are proud of him," it stated. "We see in him precisely those qualities which, for most of us, epitomize Britain's will to survive. He has courage, unbounded optimism, a zest for living. And, above all, he has stamina."

L. S. Amery, Secretary for India, who has known the Prime Minister intimately as a school-teacher, as a rival war correspondent covering the Boer War and as a Cabinet colleague, paying a tribute in the Daily Mail, wrote:

"Since the days of Chatham he is the first leader of the nation in a supreme crisis who by personal experience and study has understood war . . ."

"Mr. Roosevelt and Stalin are both great men. Each stands for the immense resolution and the immense power of a great nation. But neither sums up to the same extent in his own person the causes for London.—The German Radio reported a huge formation of Allied bombers in the Magdeburg-Dessau area—within 20 minutes of Berlin—this afternoon. A few hours earlier one of the largest United States bomber fleets seen in weeks had rumbled away from British bases and headed east.

London.—Almost 1,300 American heavy bombers climaxed a crushing 48-hour offensive against German rail and oil targets today with raids on four synthetic refineries in the Leipzig area and the railroad yards at Saarbrücken.

London.—President Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz announced today that a new Polish Government had been formed with 68-year-old Tomasz Arciszewski as Premier.

Rome.—Crown Prince Umberto requested Ivanoe Bonomi, who recently resigned as Premier, to form a new Italian Government today. The appointment, however, apparently was dependent upon approval of the six political parties which were in conference.

YANKEE PLANES DEAL JAP FLEET CRIPPLING BLOW

Ten Reinforcements-Laden Transports and Three Destroyers Sunk in Nipponese Attempt to Land New Division on Leyte.

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Nov. 30.—(P)—Swooshing American fighter planes sank ten Japanese transports and three destroyers, with at least 4,000 reinforcements aboard, in a blistering Tuesday-Wednesday battle which crippled an apparent enemy effort to land a full new division on Leyt Island.

The assault pushed to 21,000 the Japanese death toll for reinforcements who failed to reach port, but some fresh troops evidently slipped ashore to join the rain-soaked battle of Ormoc corridor.

Two transports in this sixth major reinforcement convoy were destroyed in Ormoc port, after they had partially unloaded men and supplies. One vessel blew up when hit. The other eight transports were destroyed well out at sea, today's communiqué said, and an estimated 4,000 troops were lost.

The destroyers were sunk while escorting the convoy.

There was no estimate of the number of men who might have landed at Ormoc. Despite heavy sea losses, the Japanese have not ashore more than 35,000 reinforcements since October 25.

Steaming rains limited ground activity for the third straight day. The communiqué reported that 23 1-2 inches of rain have fallen on Leyte since November 1.—An unprecedented record for November.

Front-line American echelons are being supplied partially by air.

In the newly-destroyed convoy were three large cargo transports, ranging from 8,000 to 3,000 tons, four troop transports of from 2,000 to 1,000 tons and three troop transports of 750 tons, in addition to the destroyers.

U.S. LEND-LEASE AID TO BRITAIN ENDS JANUARY 1

New Plan Means Drastic Revision of American War Aid Production Programme During 1945.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—The United States plans to halt lend-lease shipments of iron and steel to Britain January 1—which means a drastic downward revision of the war aid programme for 1945.

It was announced officially today in a statement summing up lengthy Anglo-American lend-lease conferences just concluded here. They resulted in a $5,600,000,000 programme for shipments to Britain during 1945—a cut of almost 50 per cent under comparable figures for this year.

Elimination of cost-free shipments of steel and some other "raw and semi-fabricated materials" to Britain is made possible by decreasing war demands on Britain's own steel industry, it was learned. It has been ordered officially today in order to smooth the way for reconversion of British industry to civilian production on an "equitable basis" with reconversion in the United States. British authorities are eager to reconvert in order to begin restoring their 71 per cent loss in exports.

The principle of "equitable" reconversion was worked out for the first time in these conferences, headed by Lord Keynes, British economist, and Harry White, American Treasury expert.

It is taken to mean that Britain may relax her war production controls and shift production capacity where she can on a basis of equality with the United States, and that lend-lease arrangements from now to the war's end will not deny her that opportunity.

Acting Secretary of State Stettinius, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Leo T. Crowley, Foreign Economic Administrator, jointly announced the new schedule.

The statement promised no change in the fundamental policies

Megantic Unit First To Fight In Germany

By WILLIAM FRYE,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

London, Nov. 30.—(P)—The

Roer River line shielding Cologne and Dusseldorf was cracking today under mounting pressure as the U. S. 9th Army stormed into burning Lindern and Beek in a northward extension of the violent fighting.

Men of the U. S. 1st Army burst into the open from the pines of the Hurtgen Forest, where hundreds from both sides have died since mid-October.

Little action was reported from the British 2nd Army front before the Maas stronghold of Venlo to the north, or from the 1st Canadian Army's sector in Germany east of Nijmegen in the area of the De Wyler forest.

(Maurice Desjardins, Canadian Press War Correspondent, said Canadian troops were operating in that region just inside Germany and about six miles northwest of Cleve, northern end of the Siegfried Line.

(Desjardins' dispatch, dated Nov. 12, said Le Regiment de la Chaudiere of Lake Megantic, Que., took up positions there and the French-speaking veterans of the first Normandy landings last June thus became the first Canadian unit to operate entirely on German soil during this war.)

Gains were scored along the entire 25-mile front on the Cologne Plain east of Aachen and Geilenkirchen where the 12th Army Group was battling behind flame-throwers, tanks and terrific artillery and air barrages. The Germans declared the combat to be one of the greatest battles of attrition in history. The new 9th Army attack won high ground dominating the key town of Linnich.

The U. S. 3rd Army on the Saar front pushed into high ground overlooking the Saar River and within easy shot of Merzig, Prussian stronghold of the Siegfried Line.

The U. S. 7th Army, flanking the 3rd to the southeast, was bursting the bonds of German resistance along its line. It side-stepped the strongly-held French rail centre of Haguenau, 31 miles southwest of Karlsruhe, where the Germans have stores of ammunition and fuel.

LT. Gen. Patch aimed his divisions straight at Karlsruhe, a city of 190,000 beyond the Rhine in the shelter of the Siegfried Line.

The 7th and the French 1st Army had wrested half the Alsatian plain

The War Today

By DeWITT MACKENZIE,
Associated Press War Analyst.

The U. S. 9th Army's fresh drive against the German northern flank, along the flooded valley of the Roer River in the Rhineland, strengthens the belief that another Allied push in this vital zone is imminent.

One suspects that this was the subject of the mysterious conference today night "somewhere in Belgium" between Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery, commanding the 21st Army Group in the north. They weren't playing checkers.

If the present push does develop into a full-fledged offensive it likely will be calculated to turn the enemy flank, compelling the Germans to fall back from the Roer and accept battle in the open plain west of the Cologne-Dusseldorf sector of the Rhine. The grim purpose of these tactics is to force Field Marshal von Rundstedt's armies up against the Rhine and annihilate them.

That's the main business of the Allied command right now—to kill or capture German soldiers. Hitler's fighting machine must be smashed. Territorial gains are secondary and will take care of themselves later. We mustn't forget that the developing battle of the Cologne Plain probably is the decisive engagement.

Von Rundstedt himself has invited these tactics by electing to defend the Cologne Plain to the last ditch. With this in view he has massed in this area all the troops he can rake up. He even has weakened his defence of the great Saar industrial centre on the southern end of the fighting front.

Why should the German commander take such chances? Because the Ruhr manufacturing area, which is the heart of the Rhine opposite the Allied northern flank, is vastly more important than the Saar. The latter has been one of Hitler's mainstays, but the Ruhr is the heart of Germany's industrial effort. Without it Germany couldn't carry on.

Two developments may have opened the way for another offensive. Prime Minister Churchill gave away the secret of one yesterday when he told the House of Commons that the great Belgian port of Antwerp actually is a "strategic" target. Eisenhower is heavily dependent on this harbor for the vast stream of supplies he will need and he had to be sure it was ready for business before embarking on new adventures.

WINTRY BLAST HITS DISTRICT

Wintry blasts today struck at this district as Old Man Winter enveloped the region in a snowy blanket. Although the snowfall which started last night about 9.30, measured three inches early this morning, it had been responsible for no traffic tie-ups or accidents up to noon.

Reports from railroad and city transit officials disclosed that no difficulty was experienced in maintaining their respective schedules, although the fall prompted the use of chains for the transport vehicles.

Director Percy Donahue, head of the local Police and Fire Department, cautioned Sherbrooke citizens to take every precaution in order to avoid serious mishaps. He emphasized particularly the importance of keeping children from sliding on the pavements and streets.

With a light wind and the mercury hovering at a temperature of approximately 28 to 29 degrees above zero, the weather has taken on uncomfortable turn and should these conditions prevail for another few days, skit enthusiasts will soon be enjoying their favorite sport in the surrounding district.

Boston, Nov. 30.—(AP)—New England today was lashed by gales, heavy rains and snow. Winds ranged up to 39 miles an hour on the coast.

Rain fell over a broad belt of central and southern New England.

Four inches of snow fell in the day at Montpelier, Vt., and Burlington, Vt., had light snow. Presque Isle, Me., also reported snow. Bangor, Me., had an inch followed by freezing rain and sleet.

For the first time on record, it was too wet to launch a submarine at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard.

ments which our war commitments demand."

Fred Rose, Labor Progressive Member for Montreal Carlier and the only representative of his party in the House, said unjust attacks had been made on Quebec in the conscription dispute.

Liguori Lacombe (C.D.N., Laval-Two Mountains), also the sole member of his party in the House, said he had opposed Canada's declaration of war and the increases in war expenditures. Conscription was the consequence of these steps and he opposed it.

Mr. King told the House after the sitting opened that Gen. McNaughton had assured him that the situation in British Columbia army camps where draftees had staged anti-conscription demonstrations, was being "completely controlled." He said the situation there did not mean mutiny and he asked members to guard their statements and avoid making a difficult situation worse.

Mr. King said that Works Minister Fournier, a Quebec Cabinet member, has not resigned.

Capt. J. A. Johnston (Liberal, London), making his maiden speech in the confidence motion debate, said he supported the Government in the action it had taken in making Home Defence Army men available for Overseas. Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.C., York-Sunbury), continues the debate today.

Col. Ralston opened this address with the blunt remark that when he returns from Overseas in October, he told the Cabinet "that we needed an additional 15,000 trained infantry as reinforcements Overseas as quickly as we could get them there. That immediate need still exists."

This was the main question. He would not be "deflected" by other matters which had been raised.

He did not think he could be "reprimanded" on the grounds of breaking Cabinet secrecy by discussing matters to which the Prime Minister had referred in his radio address of November 8. He felt that two things said by Mr. King needed correction: "First, the statement in effect that Mr. Ralston had reported that there was an actual shortage of reinforcements, and, secondly, the statement that Mr. Ralston had reported that there was possible shortage of reinforcements in the next few months."

"I have indicated to the public, as I indicated to my colleagues, that there was an actual shortage, that the reinforcement pools were down very much, if not wholly depleted."

It seemed to me that was a situation which indicated an actual shortage of reinforcements, and, secondly, indicated that the possible shortage in the next few months was a probable shortage at the end of December."

He said he thought Mr. King was wrong in saying that the Government had nothing before it up to October to suggest there would be any need for Overseas conscription. On June 1 he brought to the attention of the War Committee advice from the Chief of Staff that after October the question would arise whether an army formation should be broken up or drafted sent over to maintain reinforcements.

Mr. King had said that on August 3 assurance was given that there was no need of considered Overseas conscription, but Col. Ralston said he could not remember any such reference being made.

On September 22, Col. Ralston said he could not consent to the release of trained draftees as they might be needed.

"Those are the matters to which I refer and they indicate that the situation was not altogether unmentioned to the Cabinet, although I admit quite frankly that had the situation been as I have discovered since, and as I reported to the Cabinet, certainly I would have reported it at once," he continued.

As soon as he checked the situation Overseas he hurried home with his conscription recommendation.

Col. Ralston said he could not understand why Mr. King had made a statement that in the Cabinet he had asked one colleague after another whether they could take the responsibility borne by the Prime Minister and they declined. Mr. King had said it was easy to oppose a position hitherto assumed by the Government and propose new measures, but persons so doing should be prepared to take responsibility for the enactment of such measures and had no right to leave a ministry which might collapse in consequence of their action.

"I am going to say that is the strangest doctrine I have ever heard enunciated in this House," said Col. Ralston.

"If it were not respectful for the Prime Minister I would call it just plain nonsense; I will call it rhetoric."

Mr. King had asked three colleagues the question, not any more.

Mr. King: "I say to my honorable friend at once that I asked if any member of the Cabinet would take the responsibility."

Col. Ralston: "I am corrected. What I am saying is that he asked three colleagues, specifically."

The Prime Minister was not in genuine search for a successor and had asked "a purely hypothetical question." Col. Ralston said he had answered "Not" and none of the others had consented. In the course of discussion Mr. King had indicated

SUPERBOMBERS IN CAMPAIGN TO DESTROY JAPAN

San Francisco, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Tokyo, its defense reports by the Japanese Radio to have been penetrated at least twice in five hours Wednesday (U.S. time) by Superfortresses, is getting a foretaste of a campaign "to destroy the heart and the nerve centres of Japan's war machines."

Gen. H. H. Arnold, Commanding General of the Army Air Forces, placed that interpretation last night at Kansas City on a gathering drive which has put bombers over Tokyo on three days within a week.

First started Wednesday it raged for a considerable time in Tokyo. Increased Tokyo Radio announcements fumed that any flyer who parachuted after "blindly" bombing Tokyo would be "killed on the spot by the angry Japanese people."

Premier Kuniaki Koiso held a Cabinet meeting yesterday because to quote Tokyo Radio, "due course various bottlenecks are expected to appear with many expected resulting effects."

In whipsaw action along the bombing road to Tokyo, Liberators from Saipan cratered the Volcano Island airfield the enemy has been using to send fighters in raids on the Superfortresses bases at Saipan.

The 20th Air Force Headquarters in Washington tersely announced Wednesday's raid on the "Tokyo area." It added the results would be reported later.

Incendiary bombs, dropped in the new raid "from great heights from above the clouds," touched off fires in "several places" but "most of them" were put out immediately.

The attacks were spread over the metropolitan area and its vicinity, also a part of the Sunay district. A domestic broadcast previous had told of simultaneous attacks on Shizuoka prefecture south of Tokyo.

Tokyo Radio asserted the bombings were "indiscriminate" and caused little damage to "important establishments" but an air force spokesman at Washington emphasized indiscriminate bombing was not in the American plans.

None of our aircraft was lost from enemy action.

"DESERTER" HAS WIDE WAR SERVICE RECORD

Halifax, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Sought by Royal Canadian Mounted Police for nearly three years because he was absent without leave from a Canadian Army unit, Harry Everett of Halifax, has returned home, after fighting with the British Eighth Army, and serving in the Royal Air Force and in the Merchant Marine.

Local military officers were reported to have withdrawn the charges against him when they heard Everett's record.

In speaking of his wanderings Everett said, "I didn't like the idea of sitting around. If I'm going to be in the Army I want to fight, and that's why I left."

he had not intended going to the Governor-General to resign.

Mr. King: "I say to my honorable friend that we were discussing very seriously at the time whether the Government could be carried on, and the only reason I asked the question was that I wished to make sure as to whether I would have to continue to carry this load under the circumstances, or not."

Col. Ralston: "I say to the Prime Minister it was not so taken by the Members who were asked. When I asked the Prime Minister if he was asking out of curiosity he either assented to that or indicated that he had not any intention of going down to ask the Governor-General."

Mr. King: "No, that is not correct."

Col. Ralston said Mr. King was taking an untenable position in taking him (Col. Ralston) to task for saying he must resign if the policy he favored were not carried out.

Mr. King asked if, at a subsequent Cabinet meeting, he did not say that if the Government felt it had to take the course of introducing conscription at this stage "I would be quite prepared to resign at the end, and that I would like to know if any of them would be prepared to take my place?"

from the enemy and had beat 25 miles south of Strasbourg. The French were moving slowly north from Mulhouse to tighten the Colmar clamp to roughly 40 miles.

The U.S. 1st Army finally captured Lausbourg and Groosau in the Hurlen Forest area. They were digging the Germans from cellars in Moerode, 3½ miles from Duren in a yard-by-yard advance. North of Groosau, the Americans advanced half a mile.

Meanwhile a front dispatch from Maurice Desjardins, Canadian Press War Correspondent, revealed a fifth Allied army—the 1st Canadian—was operating on German soil beside the British 2nd and U.S. 1st, 3rd and 9th.

Desjardins said the Canadians were engaged in the area of the De Wyler Forest. The town of Wyler is just inside German east of Nijmegen. Holland, and about six miles northwest of Cleve, northern anchor of the Siegfried Line.

Despite the water obstacles in the path of the onrushing Americans, the divisions now drawn up along the Roer constitute "a serious threat to German defenses in the Ruhr-Rhine area and hence both Cologne and Dusseldorf," an official statement said.

The U.S. 1st Army assault west of Cologne yesterday toppled Langerwehe, Jungersdorf and Kleinhaus in a drive that smashed across the Inde river at two points and carried to within 3½ miles of Duren, another Roer river stronghold about nine miles southeast of Juelich.

Hurtgen, scene of bitter fighting for weeks, also fell.

In the area northwest of Juelich flame-throwers were used to open a path across the road connecting Lindern and Linlich.

There was little change yesterday in the situation on the British 2nd Army front in Southeast Holland but Lt.-Gen. Dempsey's forces on the west side of the Maas river were brought under increasingly heavy fire by German artillery between Venlo and Roermond, apparently in expectation of a British attack.

There was no report of the Canadian forces in Germany being engaged in action, other than routine patrols.

Driving deeper into the enemy's rich industrial Saar region, U.S. 3rd Army infantry were within half a mile of the Saar river near Merzig and within three miles of Saarbrücken. Troops occupied heights looking down into both cities, and were within eight miles of Saarbrücken.

At the southern end of the long Western Front the U.S. 7th and the French 1st armies gained control of the nearly half the Aisne plain on the French side of the Rhine, a front report said. The two armies yesterday were within 40 miles of forging a junction on the west bank of the Rhine.

The 7th captured Erstein, 10 miles south of Strasbourg, and three miles west of the Rhine after heavy fighting. They advanced two miles to Matzenheim on the road to Colmar. Other 7th Army units smashing through the Vosges Mountains seized Andlau, seven miles north of Selesmat, and St. Maurice, seven miles northwest.

Mr. Lewis said the section had been worded so as to assure the "small business men who are afraid of being deprived of their business by a C.C.F. Government that this will not happen."

The section which was adopted with the understanding that a clearer definition of industries to be socialized would be given in a draft, said:

Marbleton Resident To Stand Trial At Assizes On Rifle Theft Charge

Following his preliminary hearing in Magistrate's Court on a charge of a rifle theft, Louis St. Pierre, of Marbleton, was committed to stand trial at the current session of the Court of King's Bench by Judge J. H. Lemay yesterday. Unable to furnish bail set by the court, the accused was returned to the local jail.

Convicted on a second count of threatening to shoot George Miller, of Lime Ridge, St. Pierre was fined the costs of the case, and was ordered at the same time by Judge Lemay to post a $100 bond to keep the peace for a year.

In upbraiding the accused, Judge Lemay said: "You cannot take the law in your hands. You must remember that."

According to evidence, St. Pierre had gone to the Miller home to get his minor daughter, allegedly residing there, and as a result a row ensued during which accused threatened Miller, holding a rifle in his hands.

It was brought out during the inquiry that the weapon had disappeared from the home of James C. Westman two years ago.

Walter Burt, of Duxswell, confirmed evidence that St. Pierre had the weapon in the autumn of 1942. Additional testimony disclosed that the firearm had been recovered in a sugar cabin by Willard, Arthur and Germain Miller. They came across the rifle accidentally.

The charges against St. Pierre were lodged by Sgt. Detective Charles Perrault, of the Sherbrooke detachment, Quebec Provincial Police. Accused was defended by Attorney Beron Turmel, with Joint Prosecutor Roland Dugre, K.C., appearing for the Crown.

Judge Lemay imposed a fine of $100 and costs, or one month in jail, upon Martin Maltais, of East Angus, charged by the Quebec Medical Board with practising medicine illegally.

In asking that the minimum fine be assessed, defence counsel termed the accused as a "good samaritan" working in the interest of humanity because he had treated a man who had a broken arm. The charge arose from a treatment.

In violation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations, Alfred Bernier, of St. Isidore, was fined $25 and costs for purchasing two tires illegally from an unauthorized party. The tires were ordered confiscated by the court.

In levying the fine, Judge Lemay said that he was being "very lenient" inasmuch as Bernier had done more than his "duty in life" due to the fact that he was the father of fourteen children.

Attorney Armand Rousseau represented the Prices Board.

Eddy Blouin Fined $200 Or Three Months In Jail On Tire Charges

Eddy Blouin, of Sherbrooke, pleaded guilty to charges of purchasing and possessing new tires and tubes illegally and with conspiring with others to buy tires and was fined $200 and costs, or three months in jail by Judge Anatole Gaudet in Magistrate's Court this morning.

Seventeen new tires and twenty tubes, seized by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in two raids conducted on April 19, this year, were ordered confiscated by the Court.

The tires and tubes were brought into the court room and stacked in piles next to the witness stand.

R.C.M.P. officers told the Court that eight tires and three tubes were seized in an office of the McManamy and Walsh building, owned by Blouin, on Wellington Street North, and two other tires and two tubes in the cellar of the building. Seven additional tires and fourteen tubes were seized on the premises of the Blouin residence at 80 Montreal Street, according to police.

The counts against Blouin were lodged in violation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations, following the sweeps under the supervision of Cpl. R. W. Murray Smith, in charge of the Sherbrooke Detachment of the R.C.M.P. Armand Rousseau appeared for the Prices Board.

Pleading guilty to various infractions of the gasoline regulations, Gerard Dubé, operator of the Imperial Gasoline Station on Belvidere Street, was fined a total of $150 and costs. He was charged with being in possession of spurious coupons, depositing these in the banking coupon system and delivering gasoline without coupons.

He was educated at Ottawa Collegiate and McGill University. He received a B.Sc. degree in mining in 1908. He was an engineer with the Matthews Conveyor Co., Ltd., Montreal, for twenty years, and his mining activities included the C.N.R. tunnel under Mount Royal, during the Great War. Mr. Ross served with the Royal Canadian Engineers, ending his service with the rank of captain.

Fourth Member Of Lennoxville High, Flight-Lieutenant Tapp Wins D.F.C.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tapp formerly of Lennoxville, that their son, Lt.-Lieut. Lorne A. Tapp, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry in air action during the course of his numerous operational sorties.

Lt.-Lieut. Tapp, who attended the Lennoxville High School prior to his enlistment in the R.C.A.F. in July, 1940, has served in Great Britain, the Middle East and India, and was recently repatriated to this country with a group of repatriates after nearly four years of Overseas service. He received his pilot's wings in Calgary in February, 1941 and two months later was posted overseas to operations.

His citation reads: "This officer has completed a large number of operational flights including many long range reconnaissance sorties over enemy territory. On one occasion he completed a flight over 2,000 miles in very adverse weather. Lt.-Lt. Tapp has invariably displayed courage and devotion to duty and his determination to complete his missions undeterred by adverse weather or enemy opposition has been reflected in the splendid results achieved."

During the course of his activity as a fighter pilot, he shared with FO. "Bill" O'Connell of Ottawa, in the destruction of a German Messerschmitt 109.

PROSPECTORS IN URGENT NEED OF GOVERNMENT AID

"If Canada's established position in world mining is to be maintained, it is imperative that steps be initiated now for more positive encouragement of prospecting." So stated Robert C. Stanley, chairman and president of the International Nickel Company of Canada, Limited, in an appeal for the Government to take steps to halt the fast-declining stock of prospectors.

Mr. Stanley pointed out that last year there were only about a few hundreds in the field and that of this number, many were retiring every year.

Proposing that the Government offer a more attractive reward to the prospectors and that the Tax Department make advances for the prospectors, the mining company head outlined the following six points of the Prospector and Developers Association plan as a means of remedying the situation:

By providing classes at the Demobilization and Rehabilitation Centres to instruct interested returned men in prospecting; by continued assistance in supplying Co., Ltd., Montreal, for twenty years, and his mining activities included the C.N.R. tunnel under Mount Royal, during the Great War. Mr. Ross served with the Royal Canadian Engineers, ending his service with the rank of captain.

Mr. Ross was a member of the Montreal Board of Trade, the Corporation of Professional Engineers of Quebec, the McGill Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, the Hether Curling Club and the Canadian Legion.

He leaves his wife, the former Rosina North, of Brighton, England; one son, Sgt. Cecil E. Ross, in Belgium with the Canadian Forestry Corps; and a cousin, Dr. A. R. Pen-prospector with whatever information he may need for his work.

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL

Today Prime Minister Winston Churchill observes his seventieth birthday anniversary at a time when the fortunes of the United Nations appear brighter than they have at any time since he took over the leadership of the British people in the dark days of 1940 just prior to the collapse of France.

One of Britain's most versatile and dynamic statesmen, he has had a meteoric career and has played an important part in guiding the destinies of his country through two major wars. At the outbreak of the First Great War he held the post of First Lord of the Admiralty. It was during this tenure of office that he was in charge of directing the anti-submarine campaign, the success of which was in a large measure due to him.

The outbreak of the Second World War, in 1939, saw him back at his old post, later taking charge of the entire defence system of the British Isles prior to accepting the Prime Minister's portfolio. Since entering politics he has held many Cabinet posts, the first of which he received in 1908. These have included such posts as President of the Board of Trade, Home Secretary, First Lord of the Admiralty (twice), Minister of Munitions, War Secretary, Air Secretary, Colonial Secretary and Chancellor of the Exchequer.

One of the strongest critics of German rearmament, he has lived to see his worst fears come true, but unlike many other men he has been given the opportunity of showing the world that he was capable of counter-acting and offsetting this menace and it is to be hoped that before his next birthday rolls round he will witness total victory.

Today a grateful Empire says "Congratulations: good health; long life and God bless you."

A FRESH CHURCHILL WARNING

The declaration by Prime Minister Winston Churchill that the war against Germany may last longer than he had thought is in keeping with his general attitude of caution in connection with the whole Western Front campaign and is reasonable in view of the admittedly slow progress being made by the United Nations forces in their drive against the Reich. True, amazing progress has been made since D-Day, but this fact must be remembered—the advances have been largely through friendly territory and as the Prime Minister points out, the Germans, who are good fighters, may show the same spirit of resistance which proved the salvation of the British people in 1940 now that the war has entered German territory.

Competent military observers are convinced that Germany may still have the manpower reserves for a large scale defence but that there will be a steady worsening of the quality in the months to come. They believe that the reaching of the Rhine River will mark the beginning of the end as Germany's materiel replacement capacity is strained already. They say her aircraft production may be increasing slightly, but that her gasoline and oil production is declining greatly. Tanks are still being produced in some quantities but the tank losses in modern battles are enormous. However, to an extent offsetting her limited and decreasing productive capacity she possesses short lines of communication and consequent ability to get weapons and men from factories and training camps to the front much quicker than we can.

The Allied supply problem has been complicated not only by distance and weather but by lack of adequate port facilities in Western Europe, although the opening of the port of Antwerp as announced by Mr. Churchill should ease this situation to a degree.

Like all military campaigns the Western Front battle has minimum and maximum objectives. The first is to exert continuous pressure upon the Germans and to further weaken them in a war of attrition, while the maximum is a break-through across the Rhine and the destruction of the German armies. But this latter objective can only be obtained by first winning the battles west of the Rhine, and by cutting up and destroying much of the German army against the River. All things considered, it is probable that the Allied command will now be very close to satisfied if our armies are able to close up to the Rhine along most of its length this winter.

The Germans, by the ferocity of their resistance on the Cologne plain, have already indicated that even such a limited victory would be regarded by them as a considerable defeat. Many coal mines and much industry lie between the German frontier and the Rhine; part of the famous Ruhr industries and all of the Saar are west of the Rhine. This and the German army, particularly the Panzer army, is the immediate objective of the present offensive.

RALSTON SHOULD REPLACE KING

Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King bases his appeal for a vote of confidence in the House of Commons on the declaration that he offered the other Cabinet Ministers in turn—including the then Minister of National Defence, Col. J. L. Ralston—the opportunity of forming a government. This offer they refused and thus he, Mr. King, is the only man available to head an administration. Thus he plans to continue in office despite the fact that he bitterly opposes the policies which the majority of the people of Canada are demanding and will only implement to the smallest possible degree the demands of the people when circumstances compel him to do so.

This places the issue squarely up to Col. Ralston. He was the champion within the Cabinet of those policies which are favored by the people generally. He has been the advocate of a clear, definite policy as contrasted with the weak, wavering and evasive course favored by the Prime Minister. Col. Ralston was definite and sincere enough in his beliefs that he resigned his Cabinet portfolio when the Prime Minister insisted upon evading his pledge to impose national military conscription when the war situation made it necessary.

In view of the rising public demand for determined action on the reinforcement issue and in view of his reluctance to meet the call of the people of Canada, there is but one decent course for the Prime Minister to take. He should resign his office, dissolve his Cabinet and recommend to the Governor-General that Col. Ralston be called on to form a new administration. He must do this in the constitutional way. It is not sufficient for him to ask this or that Minister across the Council table if he would under certain hypothetical circumstances form a government.

The people of Canada are demanding an aggressive policy of prosecuting the war, a policy on reinforcements that will not leave the flow of trained men subject to the vagaries of individual whims. They want this without reservation and at the present time Col. Ralston appears as the man who has the personal strength to rally the required support. Mr. King should realize this and act accordingly.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY

Wherever two or more Scotsmen are gathered together, whether it be in the Old World or the New, in the Polar regions or in the tropics, the memory of St. Andrew will be honored today in traditional manner. There will be dinners and entertainments while every true son of Scotland will wear a sprig of the heather.

Exactly why St. Andrew was chosen as patron saint of Scotland is not definitely determined nor is very much known about his personality or his history. It is believed, however, that he visited the British Isles at some time during his career and established Christianity in Scotland, later meeting his death on an unusual-shaped X-cross in Asia Minor.

Several references are made to him in the New Testament and it is supposed that he was a brother of Simon Peter, the chief among the Apostles. Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships are proud of their residents of Scotch descent and those of non-Scottish origin are happy to extend greetings and best wishes on this Saint Andrew's Day.

PITTSBURGH POST GAZETTE

"In this crisis the Government of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King has yielded to the extent of ordering partial conscription for overseas service. Only a month ago he had said that such a step would bring on a general election, precipitate national dissension and perhaps weaken Canadian unity and strength for generations to come. Apparently a majority of the Canadian people prefer to risk all that than leave those gaps in the ranks of Canadian volunteers as they drive forward in the climactic battle for a free world in which Canada will again have the opportunity to handle its own peculiar problems in its own way."

BOSTON HERALD

"Probably an overwhelming majority of Americans, whose own servicemen, whether drafted or volunteers, are subject to assignment in any part of the world, will wish the Mackenzie King Government a large and quick vote of support."

BALTIMORE SUN

"The Prime Minister has found himself on the horns of a dilemma. It is possible the present Government may fall and Canada be thrown into a general election sooner than Mr. King had planned."

HAVE A SMILE

After dinner in a barrack room the cookhouse orderly appeared. "Where's the pudding cloth?" he asked.

"Cloth?" echoed one of the men. "What cloth?"

"The cloth the puddin' was done up in," replied the orderly.

A gasp went round the room. "Lemme," said one of the soldiers, "I thought that puddin' was tough!"

After office hours, Alf and Bert lingered in idle chat. Then, with a sudden glance at his watch, Alf grabbed his hat.

"I must rush off," he exclaimed. "I've got an appointment."

"Who's the girl?" chafed Bert. "Is it so important as that?"

"It is—and it's no girl. It's a fellow to whom I owe a favor."

"Where are you meeting him?" "Meeting him nothing! He's coming here."

Lieutenant: "I've been trying to see you all week. When may I have an appointment?"

Clerk: "Make a date with my secretary."

Lieutenant: "I did, sir, and we had a very nice time, but I still want to see you."

Two business men were discussing a competitor, a former employee of the older of the two men.

"I happen to know that fellow is a sharper and not above lying or stealing when it's to his advantage," remarked the older man.

"Do you know him personally?" "Know him? I taught him everything he knows."

A deaf judge was hearing a case in which both plaintiff and defendant were also deaf.

The plaintiff said: "This man ought to be made to pay his rent."

The judge not hearing the statement said cautiously to the defendant: "And what have you got to say?"

"Well," said the defendant, "I grind my corn at night."

Finally, the judge said: "I have considered the action with great care and have come to the conclusion that both brothers are equally liable to support their mother."

Dr. Robert W. Frederick, professor of education at Albany State College, has his own bridge four-some. He and his three boys have many a rousing rubber together. The boys are apt to overbid a little, but once in a while they drive the doctor too high, make a nice defensive play and beat his contract. East had the ten as he had hoped, and returned a diamond, which West ruffed; his three high trumps provided the setting trick. Five diamonds would have proved a better contract.

Flavor Pumpkin Pie With Maple

Maple pumpkin pie is a surprise dessert.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

How would you like pumpkin pie with maple syrup and chopped nuts in it? Developed by Lucy Malby of Corning, New York, an old kitchen pal of this column, this is a prize winner.

Maple Pumpkin Pie

Pastry: Two cups flour, sifted, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup of shortening, 6 to 8 tablespoons ice water.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening, until the size of peas, with a pastry blender or two knives. Add the ice water a little at a time, mixing it gently with a fork. Use only enough water to make the dough stick together. Pat into a ball and chill.

Roll out two-thirds of the pastry and line a nine-inch crinkle edge heat resistant glass pie plate with it, making a deep crimped edge.

Filling: One and one-half cups cooked pumpkin, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup maple syrup, 1½ cups milk, 2 tablespoons chopped toasted almonds.

Combine filling ingredients in the order mentioned above with the exception of the almonds, and beat all with a rotary egg beater to make sure they are well mixed. Pour the filling into pastry lined pie plate. Roll out remainder of dough and cut pastry leaves with a leaf cutter. Place on top of filling and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees F., for about ten minutes. Then reduce heat to a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., and continue baking for about 30 minutes or until a knife comes out clean when inserted into the pumpkin custard. Sprinkle with the chopped almonds when you remove it from the oven.

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice, oatmeal, soft-cooked eggs, raisin toast, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Creamed codfish and chopped green peppers on toast, celery, enriched rolls, butter, fruit bowl, oatmeal cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Ham slice and raw potatoes baked in milk together, buttered kale, whole wheat bread, butter, raw carrot sticks, maple pumpkin pie, coffee, milk.

ST. PETER'S W.A. ACKNOWLEDGES DEVOTED WORK

Life Membership Presented to Mrs. William C. Marchant, Vice-President, at Monthly Meeting of St. Peter's W.A.

At the November meeting of St. Peter's W.A., held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday afternoon, a very happy interlude occurred when the Rector, the Reverend Russell F. Brown, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. William C. Marchant, Vice-President, with a Life Membership. This honor was conferred not only to give tangible expression to the high esteem in which Mrs. Marchant is held by all her conferees, but in grateful recognition of her zeal and faithful devotion to the work of the W.A.

After congratulating Mrs. Marchant, the Rector, briefly addressed the members urging them to remember and attend their W.A. Corporate Communion on Thursday, November 30th.

The Vice-President then reassumed the chair, and after voicing her thanks to the members for the honor they had been pleased to confer upon her, Mrs. Marchant proceeded with the regular business of the meeting.

The minutes as read by Mrs. Hutchinson, Secretary, and the satisfactory financial statement presented by Mrs. H. Loken, Treasurer, were approved as was the encouraging report given by Mrs. M. Norris, "Dorcas," Secretary.

It was agreed to have Miss Hazel, organizer of the Caravan Mission, as guest speaker at the W.A. meeting to be held in the Church Hall at 8:30 on Tuesday afternoon, December 12th, all members and their friends being cordially invited.

Mrs. Winstanley gave a gratifying report as Thank Offering, Secretary, and Miss Hunt submitted her report on, "The Living Message," the W.A. magazine.

The meeting, which was preceded by the W.A. Litany in St. Peter's Church, with the Reverend Russell F. Brown officiating, adjourned in the customary manner with "The Grace."

Brilliantly heralding the advent of Christmas, the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church entertained hundreds of guests yesterday afternoon at a delectable chicken-patty tea, the proceeds from which were richly augmented by a highly successful Christmas sale.

Mrs. Arthur M. Edwards, President, and Mrs. E. A. Wright, extended a gracious welcome to the huge throng of guests, who between the hour of three and six o'clock enjoyed the Aid's delightful hospitality. Mrs. A. J. Morrison, Treasurer, acted as cashier, and Mrs. C. A. Turner graciously assisted the guests in finding a place at the crowded tables, which occupied every available space in the hall.

Unusually effective Christmas decorations lent additional charm to the festive scene, where spruce boughs tied with wide red crepe paper, marked the pillars, while all the small tables were centered with a tiny fir tree. The platform was lovely with a simulated fire place, shedding a ruddy glow, on a tinsel bedecked Christmas tree on one side, and a large brass bowl of pine and red berries on the other the curtains being decorated to continue the colorful effect. Baskets of poinsettias were arranged on the piano, and the tea table, at which Mrs. Hilson Ross and Mrs. W. Duncan presided, was adorned with a brilliant Christmas centerpiece and lighted red candles. The delicious chicken-patty tea was served under the convener'ship of Mrs. B. Dean with Mrs. W. W. Davey, Mrs. H. M. Thompson, Mrs. C. F. Patton, Mrs. C. Wells and Miss Lapointe assisting.

Mrs. C. Ross was in charge of the bery of waitresses who so assiduously attended to the wants of their numerous guests, they included Mrs. J. MacDonald, Mrs. O. Stenson, Mrs. E. Wells, Mrs. H. J. Shearer, Mrs. L. E. Cox, Mrs. J. Leckie, Mrs. C. Bruyom, Mrs. George Davidson and Mrs. O. H. Parker. The two side tables which formed an important part in the outstanding success of the Aid's Christmas party were in charge of Mrs. Lewis Dunsmore and Mrs. Roy Andrews, their work table, which was laden with many attractive articles, was entirely sold out, as was the sale of home cookery convened by Mrs. David A. Turnbull, Mrs. K. Cooper and Mrs. George Dick. Both tables continued the Christmas motif, in decorations and in the articles sold, thus making quite complete, the exceptionally well organized Christmas Sale.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

The Situation: Another woman compliments the dress you are wearing.

Wrong Way: Say, "Well, I paid much more for it than I should have."

Right Way: Say, "Thank you." (The first is just a way of saying "It's an expensive dress I'll have you know" and isn't subtle enough to fool anyone into thinking it means anything else.)

WEAR CREAM MASK TO BED AND WAKE UP WITH A SMOOTH-AS-SILK SKIN

BY ALICIA HART

GRACE DOWNS: Smooth.

Spend the night with your face cream on if you want it to do a bang-up job of making a winter-tautened skin look like peaches-and-Devonshire cream.

To keep a pillow from absorbing most of your cream, do what Grace Downs, Hollywood model school director does.

Make a mask for confining the cream from layers of cheese cloth, cutting out holes for eyes, nostrils and mouth, and sewing on tabs that will tie it on.

The more ruffling to your skin cold breezes are," says Mrs. Downs, "the more softening your cream should be. My choice is a cream formulated by Bond Street chemists for English beauties, which, if left on overnight, gives you the effect of having had an expensive facial, thus saving both money and time."

WATERLOO

The news of the coming departure of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Paterson from Waterloo was learned with regret by their numerous friends and acquaintances. Mr. Paterson has sold his property and undertaking parlors, both in Waterloo and Granby, to Mr. Felix Beaudry, of St. Césaire. Mr. Lucien Gingras, who has been in the employ of Mr. Paterson since 1927, will continue working for Mr. Beaudry. Having gone into the undertaking business in 1928 as a partner of the late N. O. Rockwell, Mr. Paterson has continued alone since 1934, when the death of Mr. Rockwell occurred. In November, 1938, he branched out and opened an undertaking parlor in Granby, on Dufferin Street. Mrs. Paterson has been a life-long resident of Waterloo, and with her husband has taken an active part in the work of St. Paul's United Church. Mr. Paterson was President of the Overseas Service Club and has filled this post in a most efficient manner, which is exemplified in the numerous letters of thanks which pour in to him from the boys overseas. He is also an active member of the Masonic Order and a Kiwanian and was one of the instigators in the organizing of the recently formed Kiwanis Club in Waterloo. Their plans are as yet indefinite, but they will be leaving shortly for Ontario, where they expect to spend some time with the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Coates. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paterson wish them every success and good wishes in whatever lies ahead, and a hearty welcome back to Waterloo is always extended.

Out of Goodyear Research...

...A RUBBER LIFERAFT ...A BULLET-SEAL "GAS" TANK

...MANY SECRET DEVELOPMENTS OF WIDE POSTWAR USEFULNESS

...AND A CONTINUOUS STREAM OF TIRE IMPROVEMENTS!

Since its foundation, at the turn of the century, Goodyear has carried on with relentless energy its quest for improvement in the making and application of better rubber products.

In the Goodyear Research Laboratory, skilled chemists and engineers with "shirt sleeve" imaginations, utilize all the skill, all the experience, all the knowledge Goodyear has acquired through more than forty years of working with rubber.

There is no waiting for the results of Goodyear research. Ideas and improvements, created by need, become practical realities in the laboratory. Then, tested and proven, in day to day service... they are incorporated into modern Goodyear products.

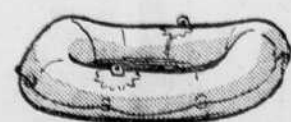

Spurred by war, many history-making products, born of Goodyear research, are serving the fighting forces of the United Nations. Some of these are illustrated below, some must remain secret until another day.

During the years that have passed, many Goodyear discoveries have been adopted as standard in the tire building field. During these years tire performance has improved immeasurably... tire costs have consistently reduced.

Goodyear continually reaches ahead of tomorrow to provide the best for you today. That is one reason why there was no delay in utilizing synthetic rubber to meet the needs of wartime. Goodyear was ready when the need arose. Long ago Goodyear discovered how to use this new material.

In today's Goodyear Synthetic Rubber Tire you get all the benefits that Goodyear skill and experience can put into a modern tire. If you are eligible for new tires... Goodyear is your best buy.

Rubberized Life Rafts; developed by Goodyear, save the lives of aircrauc when planes are forced down at sea. These rafts inflate in seconds with chemical gas released by a rip cord.

Bullet-Sealing Fuel Tanks for warplanes are another product of Goodyear research. When a bullet pierces the tank the puncture is automatically sealed; to eliminate the hazard of fire and loss of fuel.

Dekred is a new Goodyear "war paint" that provides a flame-proof, non-skid, weather-resistant floor and deck covering for ships, trucks and aeroplanes. It also has many potential civilian uses.

Goodyear Pliofilm. A transparent, waterproof, moisture-proof wrapping material with literally thousands of applications as positive protection for moisture sensitive products.

LifeGuards, another Goodyear development, replace ordinary inner tubes, provide positive blow-out protection. If a blow-out occurs, the LifeGuard carries the load, allows the driver to steer to a safe, sure stop.

Beautiful Teeth Start Young

THE building of beautiful teeth starts with mother's diet, before the baby is born. In babyhood, in pre-school years, the teeth are still in the formative stage—and even in adolescence, milk and vitamin D must keep up the good work of nourishing and protecting the teeth.

Irradiated Carnation Milk is a splendid source of calcium and phosphorus, and is enriched with "sunshine" vitamin D. A wholesome, nourishing, digestible milk for all ages. Write for free book, "Your Contented Baby". Carnation Co. Ltd., Toronto, Ontario.

OBITUARIES

MISS MAUDE WYMAN, OF LEN- NOXVILLE, FORMERLY OF WATERVILLE.

Lennoxville, Nov. 30.—There passed into eternal rest at Lennoxville,
on November 28th, Miss Maude Wyman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wyman, of Waterville.

The funeral service was held at the residence of C. O. Swanson, in Waterville, Rev. W. A. Edwards conducted the service. Mrs. Arthur Bell, with Mrs. Roy Beckett as accompanist, sang the beautiful solo
"Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break."

Interment was made in the family
lot in Greenwood Cemetery.

The casket was borne to its last resting place by Messrs. A. E. Wharram, of Lennoxville, C. O. Swanson and E. S. Swanson, of Waterville, and Kenneth Gilson, of Milldale, Conn.

The floral offerings were both numerous and beautiful, and gave silent testimony of the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

She leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. Ben Gilson, of Malden, Mass.; one brother, W. Wyman, of Edmonton, Alta.; and several nieces and nephews.

Miss Wyman met with a tragic accident when only ten years of age, which resulted in total blindness, but she bore her affliction with great patience, and although confined to her room for a number of years, she derived much pleasure from the radio programmes. She never lost interest in world events, and kept in touch with the affairs of the community in which she lived.

Among the relatives and friends from out-of-town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gilson, of Malden, Mass.; Mr. Kenneth Gilson, of Milldale, Conn.; Mrs. J.
Wyman, of Newport, Vt., and Mr.
and Mrs. A. E. Wharram and Mrs.

years ago.

MR. E. J. McKENNA, OF WATERLOO

Waterloo, Nov. 30.—The death of Mr. E. J. McKenna came as a shock to the citizens of Waterloo, where he was well known and highly respected, having lived there all his life. The deceased was born on a farm near Waterloo, on the Granby Road, the son of the late Thomas McKenna and the late Ruth Hunter, was the owner of a furniture store.

Mr. McKenna was a member of Sheffield Lodge No. 18, A.F. and A.M., and an Odd Fellow, and took an active part in the various activities of the town, where his jovial character and sympathetic attitude were always most welcome.

His death occurred on Wednesday evening, November 22, after a brief illness. He had been in failing health for the past four months, but his numerous friends had believed him to be on the road to recovery. However, a sudden turn for the worse hastened death, and he passed away in less than a week's time.

Mr. McKenna is survived by his wife, the former Ethel M. Cook;
one daughter, Marjorie, of Waterloo, and one sister-in-law, Mrs. William McKenna, of Magog.

St. Luke's Anglican Church on Friday, November 24, at 2:30 p.m., with the Rev. Sydney Wood officiating. The hymns sung were "There

Is No Death in Heaven" and "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" led by the choir with Murdoch McIntosh at the organ. The Masons attended the service in a body, later conducting a short service at the cemetery. The bearers were Messrs.
Orval Lewis, Wesley Parks, Alvin Hillhouse, Robert Millinchamp, Kenneth Robinson and Walter Read-shaw. The interment took place in

SCOTSTOWN

The Women's Missionary Society took charge of the service Sunday evening, November 19, under the direction of the President, Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, who opened the service with the poem, "We Give Thee Praise," followed by prayer. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, who read selected passages of Scripture, and led in prayer. Those assisting were Mrs. C. M. Smith, Mrs. F. B. Mayhew and Mrs. William Taylor. The hymns sung were "Spirit of God," "O Master of the Waking World," and "These Things Shall Be." Accompanied by the organist, Mrs. J. B. Scott, a violin selection, "Air for G String," by Bach, was rendered by Mrs. Graham Barr. The offering, which was devoted toward missionary projects at home and abroad, was followed by an organ casion for several celebrations. He preached on the actual date, and gave some outlines of an extensive ministry in Britain and Canada, to which he came in 1910. During all those years he had made the Bible his text-book, and laid emphasis on the gospel as the greatest power for home, social and national good. On the afternoon of the anniversary, a delegation from the congregation waited upon him and presented him with a brief case, suitably inscribed, as a token of appreciation of his help to, and interest in the congregation. On the following evening, a banquet in honor of the preacher was held in the Church Hall, with over one hundred present. Many communications from old and distant friends were read, as well as congratulatory messages from dignitaries of the United Church of Canada. Mrs. Smith was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers and an elegant walking stick, inscribed on a gold band, was presented to Dr. Smith. His son-in-law and daughter, Dr. William Arkinstall and Margaret Arkinstall, with their three children, were among those present. Dr. Smith replied to the addresses and letters with a humorous and effective outline of his ministry, which included a unique work among the lumbertown, and urgently appealed for support of the Christian Church, the one great agency to build up a safe world in the coming days of the new order, far greater than any municipal or Government organization.

Mrs. R. A. Scott, of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end with Mrs. Kenneth Smith. Mrs. D. MacIver and Mrs. J. J. MacIver, of Gould, were visiting friends in town. Mr. Murdoch Graham has returned from Montreal, where he visited his sister, Mrs. D. D. Morrison, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Graham.

Miss Barbara Saxon, of Montreal, spent a week-end with Miss Betty Ladd. Guests of Mrs. N. D. MacIver included her son, Cpl. Russell MacIver, R.C.A.F., of Montreal, her niece, Miss Marion MacDonald, of Sherbrooke, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John R. MacIver, of Maxville, Ont.

The ladies of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church honored the eighty-third birthday of Mrs. Malcolm Smith, Albert Street, by presenting her with a "sunshine basket," attractively done in green and yellow and with a decorated birthday cake, made by Mrs. D. D. Morrison. The presentation was made by Mrs. Murdoch Graham and Mrs. A. P. MacLeod, representing the friends, as due to the illness of Mrs. Smith it was not feasible to arrange the surprise as originally planned. The friends extended congratulations to Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. John C. Smith and Miss Grace MacKay have returned from Sherbrooke, where they visited their sister, Mrs. Erving Elger. Mrs. D. M. Matheson, Miss Margaret Matheson, Miss Eva Matheson, Mrs. George Stewart, Mr. George Gynn, Mr. John Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John MacIver and Mrs. Alex Stewart, of Marsboro, attended the funeral of Mrs. M. W. MacKenzie, held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and you probably know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps to cleanse the blood and with the blood cleaned the complexion should clear up.

CANNED SALMON..

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

To meet the continuing needs of war, the Canadian Government has again found it necessary to requisition most of the British Columbia canned salmon pack of 1944. There will be released for sale in Canada, however, a quantity slightly larger than that of last year. This quantity will amount to less than half the canned salmon consumed in Canada in normal times, not to mention the increased demand which exists today.

Distribution of the 1944 salmon allotments is being arranged with all possible speed, but it will take several weeks to make deliveries to all parts of Canada. If your grocer cannot supply you immediately, please do not blame him... he, too, is co-operating to speed the job.

The need for food supplies by our fighting forces, and by the civilian populations of Great Britain and other dependent countries continues unabated. When canned salmon is no longer required for war emergency purposes, we assure you it will again be available from coast to coast in unlimited quantities.

N.H.L. ENTERS SECOND QUARTER OF SCHEDULE

New York Plays Canadiens At Montreal While Black Hawks Entertain Art Ross' Bruins

By BOB NIELSEN.
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The symmetrical pattern of the International Hockey League race, woven by a quarter-season's play, will be unaltered by tonight's two games regardless of their outcome.

The league-leading Montreal Canadiens will be at home to New York Rangers, tied for fifth with Chicago, whose Black Hawks entertain the fourth-place Boston Bruins.

The pattern is simple, consisting of two well-defined halves of three teams each. That basic design has acquired a look of permanence, and indications are that there won't be anything more than local disturbances in the two sections between now and next March.

Prospects are for an exciting championship battle among Canadiens, Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings, while in the subsection Rangers and Hawks are likely to make strong disputes to Boston's claim on the last playoff spot.

But it becomes increasingly doubtful that any club will jump the fence, currently the seven-point barrier between Detroit and Boston, into the "other league."

Canadiens' objective tonight will be to expand their one-point margin over the Toronto Maple Leafs, who are idle until Saturday. In their only previous encounter with Rangers, they took a 6-2 decision at New York. A doubtful Habitant starter will be goalie Bill Durnan, who injured an elbow in last Saturday's game at Toronto. Paul Bibeault will be on call.

At Chicago, the Black Hawks will be looking for their first points of the season against Boston. Bruins have a 7-5 decision at home and a 6-3 triumph at Chicago over Paul Thompson's men.

For Hawks and Rangers, the games represent a chance to break their deadlock and move into undisputed possession of fifth place behind Boston.

STANOWSKI CONFERS WITH DAY

Wally Stanowski, recently discharged from the Royal Canadian Air Force, is going to play for the Toronto Maple Leafs this season, it appeared from news reported today.

Stanowski, a former defenceman, arrived in Toronto yesterday and was scheduled to confer with Leafs' coach, Clarence (Hap) Day about rejoining the Toronto team.

SNOWSHOERS IN YEAR'S OPENING GROUP MEETING

The Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club last night began its season's activities, the members gathering at the Prospect Road club house for the year's opening meeting.

A toast to the King opened the assembly and the minutes of the last meeting were then read by the Secretary.

Presided over by the President, Reg Smith, the members then heard a report from the chairman of the Building Committee, E. Gordon MacKay. The main item of the report was a discussion of a new driveway in front of the club house.

Remarks were then made by William G. Cross, Honorary President, and Claude Spafford, who joined the club in 1908, and who commended the members for the fine club which was functioning today.

The snowshoers were then led in a sing-song, with assistant-chorister Scott MacAllister leading and Giz Gagnon at the piano.

New members were then voted on, and a final count showed that twenty-four new associates would be permitted to join the club. The acceptance of one honorary member was also approved during the session.

HERSHEY BEARS AND BUFFALO IN A.H.L. TRIUMPHS

Buffalo Bisons last night increased to three points their lead over the second-place Hershey Bears in the American Hockey League Eastern Division by defeating Providence Reds 4-3 at Buffalo. In the Western Division, third-place Cleveland Barons won 7-3 from Pittsburgh Hornets, tied with Indianapolis Capitals for first place.

Providence took a three-goal lead early in the game at Buffalo on scores by Jacques Lavoie, George Bellemare and Paul Courteau. Kenney Kilrea began the scoring for Buffalo late in the second period. Tallies by Len Halderson and Doug Lewis in the third evened the score and a goal by George Pargeter in the last minute of play gave the Bisons the victory.

Barons were ahead all the way in the game at Pittsburgh from Ed (Whitey) Prokop's first score midway in the first session. Lloyd Klein was outstanding for Hornets, accounting for two of their three tallies.

Reds and Bisons meet again tonight at Providence. Cleveland plays the Bears at Hershey and St. Louis meets the Capitals at Indianapolis.

SHAFFER MEMORIAL
Madison.—Plans for a living memorial scholarship fund to perpetuate the memory of Allen Shafer, Jr., Wisconsin quarterback who died as a result of injuries received in the Iowa game, are under way.

Donovan was being shown over a new house by the estate agent, who was perhaps a little more inclined to candor than some of his tribe.

"I think I must tell you," said the agent, "that there is one drawback to this house. It is very close to the railway, and you may be disturbed at night by the trains. Still, I'm quite sure that after two or three days you will get used to it and not notice it."

Donovan thought for a moment, then said: "Sure and ye needn't worry. O'll sleep at my brother's the first three nights."

The Vicar was taking one of the young men of his parish to task. "William," he said gravely, "I hear that you have been raising false hopes in several maiden hearts. Rumor says that you're engaged to one girl in this village, another in Little Muddard, and a third in Ditchley. How can you do such a thing?"

With an uneasy grin, William replied: "Well, sir, I've got a bicycle."

The concealed young man was ever more boring than usual. "It's a fact," he said with pride, "that people often take me for a member of the Guards."

His pretty companion was not impressed. "Really?" she drawled. "Fire—railway—mud—or black?"

Valleyfield Defeats Lachine 6-2 To Forge Into Loop Lead; Joannette Scores Two Goals

Playing through their fifth straight game without a defeat, Valleyfield Braves last night took over sole possession of first place in the Inter-Provincial Hockey League as a result of their 6-2 triumph over the Lachine Rapids before over two thousand fans who crowded into the Lachine Arena.

The game was fast throughout with Valleyfield pouring through the Lachine defence, which was quite weak at times.

Valleyfield chalked up a 2-1 lead in the first frame, with the Braves' marksmen being Joannette and Bessette, both goals being scored before the five-minute mark.

Armand scored for Lachine on a play with Phil Piche at 12:16 of the stanza.

Lachine tied it up at 7:05 of the second with Bean scoring, but Vinet went through for a goal at 18:25 to give the Valleyfield squad a 3-2 lead.

The third period saw the Braves put the game on ice with three goals before the halfway mark. Joannette pumped in the fourth Braves goal, while Gibbon made it 5-2 and Connolly finished off the scoring, giving Valleyfield a 6-2 triumph.

The match was quite rough with a total of eleven penalties being handed out in all.

The teams:

Valleyfield: Goal, Lascelles; defence, Fleet, Poissant; centre, Joannette; wings, Vinet, Boyer, Sub., Connolly, Gibbon, Bessette, Archambault, McIntosh, Cadieux, Anderson.

Lachine: Goal, Lemaire; defence, Whitehead, Demers; centre, Armand; wings, Piche, Valliere, Sub., Morrow, Boucher, Abel, Theriault, Slater, Bean.

Referees: Leo Murray, Tommy Shore.

SPORTING NOTES

Toronto, Nov. 30.—(C.P.)—It won't come to pass, but developments on the Toronto soccer front make one wonder what would happen if the union dispute gets any hotter. There was a little matter of a threatened referee strike last summer, and now the referees' union is asking a closed shop for the officials. Probably if some scab labor gets out on the field to do the officiating, the union refs will have to parade up and down the sidelines with large placards reading: "Unfair to organized bottle-duckers." The union has made a start on tightening things up by asking the Toronto and District Senior Soccer League to bar two referees who didn't take out their union cards last year.

Get Rich Scheme?

Speaking of referees, Myrtle (Montreal Star) Cook doesn't think too kindly of the basketball referees in Montreal who demand a pay boost from $2.50 a game to $3.50. Myrtle says the girls' leagues have to run raffles to collect enough money for the referees and often take up a collection among the players to pay off the officials.

If basketball in Montreal was a paying proposition and the referees depended on their fees for a living, it would be different, the Star columnist said, adding: "$2.50 for 40 minutes actual toil isn't hay—it's victory bond fodder."

Donovan was being shown over a new house by the estate agent, who was perhaps a little more inclined to candor than some of his tribe.

"I think I must tell you," said the agent, "that there is one drawback to this house. It is very close to the railway, and you may be disturbed at night by the trains. Still, I'm quite sure that after two or three days you will get used to it and not notice it."

Venereal Disease

A CHALLENGE TO LEADERSHIP

THE eradication of V.D. is a challenge to leadership.

Those who, yesterday, accepted that challenge left legacies of knowledge, hope and courage.

Through their keen, searching eyes the sinister, squirming syphilis germ was first exposed. From their countless experiments came "606" . . . and the blood test. From determined lips came words which helped tear away the shroud of prudery.

Today, others have taken up the challenge. Science has made priceless discoveries which rob Venereal Disease of much of its terror. Health Departments are waging aggressive war on syphilis and gonorrhea. Physicians and nurses are alert.

Leadership is strong on the HEALTH Sector. It must be equally strong on the other three . . . WELFARE . . . LEGAL . . . MORAL.

To welfare leaders, squalor, neglect and insecurity are challenges to be met . . . to be overcome, if the roots of Venereal Disease are to be destroyed.

On the legal sector, aggressive leadership by law enforcement officials, the legal profession and civic authorities can turn the tide of battle against a vicious enemy of mankind. By permanently closing houses of prostitution and cleaning up undesirable places which facilitate the meeting of healthy and infected young people, Venereal Disease will be sharply reduced.

The continuing threat of Venereal Disease is a tremendous challenge to church and home. The moral sector can reduce V.D. . . . IF the moral fibre of the nation is strengthened . . . IF individual character is fortified . . . IF the sanctity of marriage is upheld . . . IF, above all, the moral wisdom of the ages is applied in the practical, daily issues of personal, community and national life in Canada.

Whether your leadership is in a family group, a club or a community, you have an opportunity to serve. Learn the facts about Venereal Disease and its control. Inform others. See that conditions in your community are the kind that will give your son and daughter, and your neighbour's, the chance to grow up in an atmosphere of decency, wholesomeness and good health.

THIS IS YOUR CHALLENGE!
