

HEAVY FIGHTING NEAR MUKDEN.

Japanese Are Pressing On With Increased Numbers — General Kuropatkin Reports.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—A despatch was received from General Kuropatkin, announcing that General Rennenkampf and Samsonoff are conducting important reconnaissance operations which have resulted in rather heavy fighting with many casualties.

From General Kuropatkin's telegram which was despatched at 6 o'clock yesterday evening, it appears that General Rennenkampf had recovered from his wound and had resumed command of his troops, the reconnaissance disclosed a further increase in the Japanese forces.

NEAR TO MUKDEN.

London, September 19.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Shanghai says that the Japanese vanguard is reported to be within three miles of Mukden.

FIGHTING NEAR MUKDEN.

London, September 19.—A despatch to the Express from Tokio says a heavy engagement with Gen. Kuropatkin's entire army has begun near Mukden. The Russian positions are being vigorously shelled. Field Marshal Oyama prepared on Friday to carry out the general staff's instructions to assault Mukden and endeavor again to cut off General Kuropatkin's retreat. The Japanese front is twenty miles long. General Kuropatkin is on the extreme right. He is not engaged. He is endeavoring to turn the Russian flank.

HEARD AT ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, September 19.—2 a. m.—The reports that Gen. Kuropatkin is pushing on northeast of Mukden are not borne out by official telegrams that have been received here. According to latest advices the Japanese forces continue to increase at Bianpu and Yenta. A decisive advance in the direction of Mukden is, therefore, not expected to occur for some days. Moreover, indications increase of the probability of the Japanese meeting with resistance. The Russian forces at Mukden undoubtedly are very large and every day's delay enables the commander-in-chief to perfect his defenses.

A private telegram from Mukden reports the arrival here of an immense train filled with convalescents returning to duty.

This may be regarded as good evidence of a large concentration of troops at Mukden. Thong promised Japanese operator against Sakhalin and Vladivostok which were expected to act as a diversion for General Kuropatkin's advance, are not yet in sight.

JAPANESE ADVANCE.

Mukden, Sept. 19.—The Japanese are reported to be advancing on both flanks, from the east, southeast and southwest.

The outposts are closely engaged, twenty miles southeastward, there being almost constant skirmishing.

Indications point to another great battle in the vicinity of Mukden. Russian troops occupy all the surrounding villages.

A good idea how a gold brick operator would in this section can be formed from an incident that developed in one of the competitions. Prizes were for the "heaviest dozen eggs," and, they say, hens' eggs. The prize was a pair of hens' eggs. The prize was a pair of hens' eggs. The prize was a pair of hens' eggs.

ANNUAL FAIR AT RICHMOND.

Good Agricultural Show on Saturday.

REVIEW OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS — THE RACES.

Richmond, Que., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The annual fair of the Richmond Agricultural Society was held here Saturday. The weather conditions were perfect and the attendance was large, considering the fact that this year the show was purely and simply agricultural in the strictest sense of the word. Not even a brass band was engaged for the occasion, and there was nothing on the grounds to detract the attention of visitors from the show of horses, sheep, swine, cattle, agricultural products of farm and garden, and a fairly good show of ladies' work in the industrial building.

The show of vegetables was far ahead of that made at the great Sherbrooke exhibition, and the butter and cheese exhibits were very attractive. Mr. Spence's special bringing out a big list of competitors in the cheese line. Messrs. Wm. and David Taylor each had fine exhibits in vegetables; which to class first must have proved puzzling to the judges in this department. Their displays attracted a good deal of merited attention. In the grade and pure bred cattle departments, the entries were more numerous than ever before in the history of the Society. Mr. T. D. McCallum's prize-winning herd of Ayrshires coming in for a large share of attention.

In the horse lines the entries were numerous and it took the time of Judges Mathew Reid, of Sherbrooke, and J. A. Bothwell, of Ulverton, from 11 a.m. until after 4 o'clock p.m. to complete the awards. The Single Drivers' Competition brought out a big field of contestants. The winners were as follows: 1st, H. Lane, Richmond; 2nd, J. R. Pierson, Asbestos; 3rd, J. S. Snow, Richmond; 4th, C. J. Burbank, Danville.

For the Double Drivers' Class, a good field of serviceable horses were shown, and the winners came in the following order: 1st, John Boast, Tremblenville; 2nd, Jos. Lodge, Cleveland; 3rd, W. D. Stalker, Flodden.

The military spirit in the county brought out a big list of entries in the Saddle Horse Competition. Following are the winners: 1st, Col. Stevens, Tremblenville; 2nd, Lt. Chas. Stevens, of Windsor Mills.

After four p.m. two trotting races were concluded.

In the three minute class there were three contestants, Mr. Jas. Wadhigh's "Doris"; Dr. Moffatt's "Duke"; and Mr. John Wilson's fast young brood mare Prince Billy, "Nelly." They finished the race in the order named, the best time—2:50. There were no heart disease finishes as "Doris" had speed in two out of any period of the game.

The "free-for-all" race was done up in five out of three heats. Mr. R. J. Peter's "Gerald" was winning two straight from Mr. J. P. St. Onge's "Little Rose."

The gate receipts were about $325. This with the membership tickets

SEVERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON STORM.

Wind and Rain in Great Abundance.

AT LITTLE LAKE SAIL BOATS WERE CAUGHT AND SOME NARROW ESCAPES WERE RECORDED.

A severe wind and rain storm swept this section, yesterday afternoon, a little after three o'clock. It came up very suddenly and struck with great force. Apparently no damage was done in the city.

THE STORM AT LITTLE LAKE.

The storm yesterday afternoon was experienced in all its severity at Lake Scawaminopus, and there were one or two narrow escapes by those who were out in the lake at the time. The storm struck with the force of a miniature cyclone, and those standing on the shore could see it approach, the clouds being shaped like a barrel. With the first blast of the wind several tall pine trees were snapped off like pipe-stems, and the waters of the lake were churned into angry waves. There were several boats and two yachts out on the lake, and considerable fears were aroused for their safety. All got to shore safely but two yachts, one of which was driven ashore, and the other turned turtle in the middle of the lake about five miles up. The occupants were thrown into the water, and after clinging to the yacht, were rescued by two men who saw the accident and put out in a small boat. When the storm abated somewhat, a boat put out from the club house, and reached the disabled yacht and righted it.

PRINCE ROBERT BISMARK DEAD.

Was Son the Iron Challoir.

PROMINENT POLITICS—REVIEW OF HIS CAREER.

Friedrichsruhe, September 19.—Prince Herbert arck, died yesterday morning at 1.15 o'clock. The end was painless.

Since he ceased a foreign minister on the retirement of his father in 1890, Prince Her Bismarck has taken part in public affairs only as a member of the Reichstag. His attitude has been that of a man not appreciated by his own, and who was waiting in the background for an opportunity to reshis career.

His delivery a parliamentary speaker improved by year. He always declined to any political group, steadfastly g himself an independent. His dry and imperious manner of life, when he was never conscious of fact that he was the son of most powerful statesman in Eurofitten in later life.

Prince Bismarck's trained him for his successor and led him to the German Empire, advanced him rapidly in the diplomatic until at the age of forty he minister of foreign affairs, in opposition to

MOOSE SHOT AT SAWYERVILLE.

Magnificent Specimen Weighing a Thousand Pounds.

HAD BEEN IN THE VICINITY OF THE VILLAGE FOR A WEEK PAST.

Sawyerville, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—A large moose was shot in the village of Sawyererville, yesterday, and is estimated to weigh about 1,000 pounds. It seems that the moose had been hanging around the village for a week past, and Sunday morning he was chased down to the mill pond, through which he swam. While in the water several shots were fired at him by Mr. C. Saxland, and they took effect. The moose, on reaching land, made for the woods. Several other shots were fired. He was followed up, and after tracing him three miles was found dead.

He is a splendid specimen with fine head. He had evidently strayed far from his usual haunts, for it is very rarely that a moose is seen in this section of the country.

Practically the whole village was aroused by the moose hunt, and many joined in the chase.

BURGLARY AT LUMBER OFFICE.

Safe Belonging to Fletcher & Ross Forced Open.

VALUABLE BOOKS AND PAPERS TAKEN BUT CASH WAS LEFT.

The office of Fletcher & Ross, Liverpool street, was entered by burglars during Saturday night.

The safe occupied the chief attention of the burglars, and when they had finished their work it was a wreck. The door was wrenched off and the band which holds the combination bars and the strip along one side of the door were broken off.

No explosives were used. Appearances indicate that hammer and chisel may have been the instruments first used. When an opening large enough to admit a bar was made, the door was probably pried off by this means.

The burglars may have spent some hours at the place for they could have pursued their work with little fear of detection. The noise of the water at the dam would deaden any noise they made.

They removed the books belonging to the firm, and a cheque belonging to one of the members of the firm, as well as the cheques that had been returned from the bank. There was about four dollars in money lying in one of the drawers of the safe, but this was not touched.

The books taken belonged to Messrs. Fletcher & Ross, and Mr. Wm. McSwiggan, and will be a great loss to a diligent search was made for them yesterday, but so far no trace of them has been found.

TERRIBLE STRUGGLE AT PORT ARTHUR.

Russian Prince Who Reaches Chee Foo Tells Story of Frightful Conditions Which Now Prevail.

Chee Foo, September 19.—According to Lieut. Prince Radzivil, of the Russian army, who reached here Saturday night from Port Arthur, bearing despatches from Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, the commander-in-chief of the forces of the stronghold, to General Kuropatkin, the temper of the belligerents at Port Arthur has reached an absolutely merciless stage.

Prince Radzivil declares that the men of both armies are absolutely venomous in their antagonism. Lieut. Gen. Stoessel has addressed his garrison, saying that if the Japanese soldiers entered the fortress it undoubtedly will be impossible for their officers to control them and prevent a massacre. For this reason Gen. Stoessel is making no objections to civilians leaving Port Arthur. In consequence of the fact that flags of truce are ignored, numbers of Japanese troops who have been lying on the slopes of the hills of the northeast defenses for weeks past are still unburied, and the stench in Port Arthur from decomposing bodies is almost unendurable.

In the course of the assaults which took place in the last four days of August, two companies of Japanese soldiers, according to Prince Radzivil, found themselves at the mercy of the Russians and hoisted a white flag. To this, however, the Russians paid no attention and continued to volley rapidly in the helpless ranks of the Japanese. In the meantime Japanese troops in the rear of the companies that had raised the white flag saw what their companions had done and expressed their disapproval of the surrender by firing into their rear. As a result of this six hundred men were annihilated. For days afterward the wounded men in this area raised fluttering handkerchiefs in their hands in pleas for help, but the Russians were afraid to venture out to give succor. Among the heaps of dead the Prince saw two soldiers, one a Russian and the other a Japanese, lying locked in a death embrace. The teeth of the Japanese were sunk in the Russian's throat, while the Russian had forced two of his fingers into the eye sockets of his antagonist.

The Prince cited this as merely an incident, denoting the ferocity of the conflict at Port Arthur. The Prince will leave to-morrow to rejoin General Kuropatkin.

Prince Radzivil said another Russian officer, two civilians and one woman the wife of a Russian staff officer, left Port Arthur the night of September 16 on a junk and arrived here last night.

Prince Radzivil got into Port Arthur a fortnight ago carrying despatches from General Kuropatkin to General Stoessel. When he landed in this port he did not make himself known under the name given above, but the correspondent of the Associated Press incidentally discovered his identity.

The Prince and the officer accompanying him brought out despatches and mail matter from Port Arthur, weighing in all 80 pounds.

FOOD AND AMMUNITION.

Continuing his interview with the correspondent, the Prince said: "The stories in circulation concerning the shortage of ammunition and provisions at Port Arthur are not true. There is an abundance of ammunition for both large and small arms and plenty of preserved food. The use of Chinese shells was merely a saving measure."

"I left Lieut. General Stoessel in the best of spirits. He is encouraged by the heroic examples set by the wounded men, of whom 5,000 out of the original 8,000 in the hospitals have returned to the front."

"There has been no fighting since September 1, with the exception of artillery and outpost exchanges. The Japanese shells have done great damage to the hospital and other buildings in Port Arthur, but the loss of life from these bombardments has been very slight."

"Madame Soessel, wife of the general, is at the head of the Red Cross work in Port Arthur. She is in constant attendance at the hospitals. The soldiers consider her the guardian angel."

"The newspaper Novikrai, has been suppressed for one month for having published matter considered to be detrimental to Russian interests."

ACTS OF HEROISM.

Individual acts of heroism during the fighting have been numerous and the tragic death of Lieut. Petroff was for long an absorbing topic of conversation. Petroff became surrounded by some Japanese soldiers, whom he fought successfully until his sword broke. He then used his fists upon the Japanese, but their bayonets quickly put an end to his resistance. Before his sword broke Petroff succeeded in incapacitating eight of his antagonists, but he was wounded all over his body.

"One company of Russian troops were occupying a perilous outpost and when they found their position to be untenable they sent the following message to Lieut. Gen. Stoessel: "We are unable to hold this position."

"But you can die," he said in reply, and so they did."

"The fact that the Japanese have on several occasions used explosive bullets has been verified by Lieut. Gen. Stoessel. He gives an instance which occurred at Takushan, when two men of the 10th regiment were killed by such bullets, their bodies being blown to pieces."

"On September 14, the bodies of 2,600 Japanese soldiers were discovered between forts No. 2 and fort No. 3. The stench from the decomposed bodies attracted investigation. The Russian authorities admit that they are not able to explain what engagement resulted in this slaughter."

STATESMEN'S WAGES

The Pay of Those Who Make the World's Laws.

U. S. CONGRESSMEN BEST PAID OF ALL LAWMAKERS—PERQUISITES ATTACHED TO MEMBERSHIP IN THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

(From the London Express.) In view of the discussion which has been aroused by the proposals for the payment of an annual salary to members of Parliament, and to secure them free railway travel from their homes, as well as their constituencies, to the House of Commons, it is interesting to know how foreign nations treat their legislators in these respects.

In France both senators and deputies are paid £360 a year, and the presidents of the two Chambers receive in addition £2,840 for the expense of entertainment. On payment of an annual fee of £2 the members of both Chambers are allowed to travel free of charge on the French railways.

Germany, however, does not pay its members of Parliament. On more than one occasion a bill providing for their remuneration has been passed by the Reichstag, but, as the Federal Council have withheld their approval, the bills remain without effect.

More fortunate than the German legislators are those of Austria, where the amount of payment depends on the regularity of their attendance. Members of the Lower House of the Austrian Reichsrath receive ten florins or 16s. 8d. for each day's attendance, as well as an indemnity for travelling expenses; while members of the Lower House of the Hungarian Reichstag are paid at the rate of 2400 florins, or £200 a year, together with an annual allowance of £66 13s. for house rent. Members of Parliament in Italy, though receiving no payment for their services, are allowed to travel free throughout the country, either by rail or steamer.

Under the Belgian constitution, members of the Chambre des Représentants receive an annual indemnity of 400 frs., or £160. They have besides, the right of travelling free of charge on all the State railways. As regards the railways belonging to private companies, this right is limited to the journey between their residence and the capital. In the Netherlands, where the Parliament consists of two chambers, the members of the First Chamber not residing in The Hague, where Parliament meets, are allowed 16s. 8d. a day during the session of the States General. Members of the Second Chamber receive an annual allowance of £166, in addition to their travelling expenses.

The form of compensation to members of the Swiss Parliament differs from that of other countries in that a payment of 16s 8d is made for each day upon which they are called upon to perform parliamentary duties, he it during the session or out of session. This applies both to the National Council and Council of States, whose members are besides paid travelling expenses to and from the capital at the rate of 2s 6d a mile.

Unnecessary though it may seem, Denmark has a law compelling members of the Legislature to receive compensation for their absence from home, amounting to 6s. 6d. for each day of the session and not allowing them to refuse it. They are also entitled to have their travelling expenses refunded, an amount of which has to be approved by the presidents of both houses.

Adequate travelling expenses are also allowed by the Swedish and Norwegian Parliaments, the former of which pays members of the Second Chamber £66 for each session of four months, or in the case of an extra session £15 a day, besides travelling expenses. In Norway members receive 13s 4d a day while the Storting is in session. The best paid legislators in the world are those in the United States. Though members of the House of Commons are not paid by the State, or otherwise recompensed for their services, yet they possess many privileges which are denied to the ordinary person. In the first place, they enjoy a limited freedom from arrest during the continuance of the session, and for forty days before its con-

HOW SEVEN YEAR OLD LAD OF CENTRAL SCHOOL RAISES FUNDS FOR PURCHASE OF PRIMER.

Among the pupils of the Central School is a little lad, only seven years of age, who has evinced an ambition remarkable in one so young. When school opened he was placed in one room, but at once applied for promotion to another. He persisted and by his brightness proved his qualification and was moved up.

Then arose a difficulty. He must have a new primer. He reported this at home, but his mother thought the old book would do him for a while yet. Not so to his mind. Then last week came two afternoons when the little fellow did not appear at school. The morning following he was on hand bright and early with beaming face and brand new primer. Asked to explain his absence from school, the lad said:

"You know, teacher, I had to have a new primer. Mamma thought the old one was good enough, but I wanted a new one. So in the afternoon I went down to the Record office. I had one cent and I bought two first edition papers. I sold them and had two cents. Then I bought second edition and made six cents the first afternoon. Yesterday I went back and sold Records and made ten cents more. Then I bought my primer and have got one cent left."

"My boy," said his teacher, "you will make your mark in the world."

At the cathedral yesterday the Rev. Father Gignac continued and finished the reading of the Encyclical letter of Pope Pius X. on the Immaculate Conception. Mr. LaRoque was present on the throne.

The retreat of the pupils of St. Charles Seminary, which opened on Wednesday evening last, closed yesterday morning with low mass, and a general communion. The special preacher was the Rev. Abbe Antoine Jolivet, of Stanstead. The custom of opening the scholastic year with a "retreat" is, though not obligatory, almost universal throughout the whole of Catholic Christendom. About a week after school begins, when the pupils have settled to their work, three or four days are given up to religion.

On Saturday evening about 7 o'clock a large globe, covering a lot of gas, outside the house of Mr. L. A. Dufrene, King street, burst with a report that startled the entire neighborhood. A crowd assembled almost immediately on hearing the noise, but were only rewarded by seeing a quantity of glass, almost in powder strewn the sidewalk. A funny incident in connection with the little accident was the fright received by a man who was passing at the time the explosion occurred. So startled was he by the noise that he took to his heels and from his speed and determination may be running yet.

The Rev. E. A. Dunn, M.A., has returned to Bishop's College, after his vacation, which was spent in various parts of the diocese, taking the services wherever a parish was temporarily in need of a clergyman. Mr. Dunn officiated at St. George's, Lennoxville, at Kingsley and Quebec, but the most important and significant part of his work was a three weeks' tour of the Metapedia Valley, undertaken at the request of the Diocesan Board. This district comprised the region from New Carlisle, on Baie des Chaleurs, on the east, to St. Flavie, on the Intercolonial Railway, in the west, and a thorough search was made for the English-speaking people services held and ministrations offered wherever a stop was made. On the return of Rev. Professor Dunn from this journey a report was made of this missionary tour to the Bishop who laid it before the Diocesan Board, with the result that at the recent visitation of His Lordship to the clergy at Lennoxville the Rev. E. A. Roy, of East Angus, was appointed travelling missionary to take charge of the English speaking souls throughout this extensive territory. The numbers found amounted to over 200 church people and 200 other Protestants of other denominations, who have no ministrations, as well as many more who will welcome the work.

PRINCE HERBERT

BISMARCK DEAD.

took part in nearly every important international transaction.

An incident which nearly wrecked Prince Herbert's career, and that caused the old Chancellor great annoyance was Prince (then count) Herbert's elopement with Princess Carolath Beuthen, the wife of Prince Karl, the head of the distinguished Silesian house. The Princess was of the Hatzfeldt family, and young Bismarck at the time was his father's private secretary. Count Herbert lived with the Princess in southern Italy for a few weeks, and then at the command of his father returned to Germany. The Princess afterwards was divorced and has since died.

The title of Prince Bismarck and the large fortune of the deceased will go to his seven-year-old son, Otto.

The late Emperor Frederick gave to Chancellor Bismarck extensive forests at Friedrichsruhe, which have since increased in value, and the Chancellor gave to Prince Herbert $2,400,000 in securities and cash. The estate is now estimated to be worth $4,000,000, exclusive of the lands.

FOUR LADS GET AS FAR AS RICHMOND, AND THEIR DESIRE FOR ROVING IS SATISFIED.

The story comes, this morning, from a neighboring village, of four boys, who, yesterday morning, started out to see the world. They boarded a freight train and rode as far as Richmond. Some of the charm had gone by that time. The ride was not as pleasant as they had anticipated. They saw Richmond and were satisfied to return home. No trains were moving in the homeward direction, however. And besides, they decided that walking, as compared with riding, was not too bad. On reaching Brompton, the father of one of the lads was waiting, and on the midnight train he brought them home.

They are satisfied. They have seen the world.

THE FEAR THAT PARALYZES.

A PHILADELPHIA MAN AND HIS PERTURBING EXPERIENCES ON THE GENERAL SLOCUM.

(From the Kansas City Journal.)

Every one has the hidden notion that in case of a panic he would act with coolness and discretion. Mr. Frank J. Siff, a Philadelphia gentleman, now residing in Coffeyville, Kan., says he had that idea of himself; that he could not understand how men lost their heads or became stupefied in the face of some appalling danger. But he knows better now. He was in the great Slocum disaster, and he understands what it means to be paralyzed by fear. To the Coffeyville Journal he said:

"I had gone out on the boat for a day's outing with Mr. Narden, a New York merchant. The fire started. I never saw such a sight. Terror was the only expression in the people's eyes. They seemed to want to get anywhere, just so it was away from that terrible fire. Then, suddenly, the deck fell in, and I saw dozens of women and children go down into what seemed to be the mouth of a huge furnace.

"Narden and I were standing close together near the side of the boat. I never before possessed of such a feeling as I experienced then. I did not feel any fright, or any desire to flee, for a moment. I seemed to be staring numbly at the sight of those women and children being roasted to death. I could not move, and the thing that stands out in my recollection stronger than anything else was the vague wonder I felt if the boat would burn clear to the water.

"I was aroused from this stupid lethargy by a pull at my arm, and the next thing I knew Narden had dragged me over the side of the boat and jumped into the water with me. The cold water in a measure roused me, and I began to think of saving myself. I swam with all my strength toward a big boat I saw approaching, and the next moment I was nautied into it. It contained two dead children and a half-drowned man. Narden and I were both rowed toward the shore, where we lost no time in getting away from the terrible scene. We could do nothing then. I was too late.

"I have often been asked whether or not I had an opportunity to save some of the unfortunates in the boat. I had an opportunity once if I had been in condition to do so. A child and its mother ran past me screaming for help. But I was so dazed by horror that I could do nothing except to vaguely call after them. I saw them run to the side of the vessel and then jump over. I don't know whether or not they were saved."

Souvenir of the Great World's Fair!

In twelve more weeks the great Exposition now in progress in St. Louis will pass into history. Fortunately the art preservative of all arts, has been evoked to perpetuate the great Event.

It has been photographed in its vast detail and described by the facile pen of the Secretary of the Exposition, distinguished throughout America as a brilliant descriptive writer.

The camera, the pencil, the engraver's and printer's art, have reproduced the Fair and put it on paper for permanent preservation in most artistic form.

A great service to mankind is thus rendered.

The Fittest, Most Enduring, Most Beautiful Memento of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition

THE ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR is conceded to be the greatest Exposition that mankind has ever seen. Practically every product of the earth is there.

The processes as well as the products of the nations are there represented. All humankind from the highest civilization to the lowest savage are assembled in St. Louis' beautiful Forest Park.

An assembled world in product, process and people will soon have performed its mission and have passed into history as a sublime international achievement, but all its best features will have been transferred in enduring form to the printed page in this superb series.

The Forest City Art Albums

We have made arrangements to control this great work in the interest of our readers by securing exclusive rights to distribute in and from this city.

It will be complete in thirty Albums issued weekly, of sixteen photographs to the Album, or 480 in all. We place it in the easy reach of every reader of this paper by making the cost so trifling as to make it a duty to secure it.
