

Fire Damages Stock And Building Of Marchand Frere Furniture Store

What could have been a very serious fire for Huntingdon occurred on Saturday evening in Marchand Freres Furniture Store on Chateaugay Street. Most of the buildings on this side of the street, which backs on to the river are quite close together and of more or less frame construction. However, the promptness of the Huntingdon Volunteer Firemen and their knowledge of fire fighting, soon brought the blaze under control.

The fire started at about 10:30 p.m. on the outside at the rear of the premises and the flames were shooting several feet above the roof of the building. John Thompson of the snack bar across the street noticed the fire and turned in the alarm. The firemen were quickly on the scene and the fire was under control about 15 minutes after. The fire did not do too much damage on the ground floor, but seemed to go up the well of the staircase to the upper floor, where most damage occurred. The inside walls and the ceiling in this upper story were quite badly charred by the flames and there was considerable damage by smoke and water to the stock on this floor. Damage resulted on the ground floor also from smoke and water. The fire was confined to the rear of the building and although it seemed to gain great headway, the firemen quickly had it controlled so that it did not spread.

The $c. to $1.00 Store which is next door is close to the Marchand store, but no damage occurred there.

Mr. D. Montpetit, manager of the store, arrived quickly and immediately removed the contents of the safe and the records. While he was doing this the flames were rolling down the staircase into the store. Messrs. Guy and Claude Marchand, Valerfield, owners of the store, arrived very quickly after being notified and expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the work of the firemen.

One thousand feet of hose was used from two hydrants and the booster pump was used in the river behind the store, with good result. The electric generator was also used in this area and was found to be a great help in the firemen's efforts to fight the fire. Hoses were used back and front of the store to prevent the fire from spreading and bring it under control.

Practically everything on the upper floor was burned and will be a total loss. As the building will have to be left as it is until the adjusters have made their examination, business will be carried on from the warehouse of the firm which is located at the corner of York and Bouchette Streets, in the former Riel transport building. After about one hour, the fire was declared to be safe and out and the firemen left.

Great excitement raged during the time the alarm sounded and hundreds of cars and people converged on the area to catch a glimpse of what was going on.

Messrs. Guy and Claude Marchand and Mr. Montpetit wish to thank the firemen for the prompt and good work and also all others who assisted in any way at the time of the fire. Photographs showing other facts about the fire.

Memorable Day For St. Joseph's Parish In Huntingdon

Wednesday the 25th of May will stay as a memorable day for a great number of Catholics of the St. Joseph's Parish. At 8 o'clock a.m. one hundred little boys and girls of the parish received their Communion. Mr. David himself wanted to distribute the Communion to his little children, then, together with his auxiliaries, he gave Communion to many parents who wanted to join their little ones at the Eucharistic banquet. It was a splendid act of union of which the children will keep an unforgettable remembrance.

At 10 o'clock, Mgr. Coadjutor arrived from Valleyfield to celebrate a pontifical mass for the elder students of Notre-Dame and St. Joseph Schools. Before the mass His Excellency Mgr. Coadjutor gave solemn blessing over the corner-stone of the new rectory and he visited and blessed all the works that had been executed at the church, cleaning of the inside of the temple, decoration of the altar, repair of the heating room and the new apparatus which has been installed there.

The church was filled with the youth of all the parish in their uniforms, school-dresses, Guides and Crusaders and a large number of guests. Mgr. Coadjutor sang the mass, assisted by the priest of the parish of St. Joseph and Superior of the Seminary of Valleyfield, Mr. Lucien Beauchamp, Priest, and from the College Bourget, Father Eucher LeFebvre, c.s.v., Mr. O. Lepage, former vicar of the parish, and Monsieur Priest of the Parish of Rivière Beaudette, assisted as deacon and Mr. Daignault, priest of St. Antoine Abbe, formerly of the St. Joseph's parish, as assistant-deacon.

The One That Did Not Get Away

Montrealer Walter "Wally" Vass, summer resident of Dupuis Point on Lake St. Francis, is one of the season's luckiest sportsmen to date. Mr. Vass was on his front lawn gazing idly across the water this past week-end when he saw a ripple growing steadily larger a few feet off-shore. Running for his tackle box he grabbed the first rod at hand and cast a lure in the direction of the ripple. Nothing happened. On the second cast, however, something took the lure and then there the fun began. Mr. Vass isn't too sure how long it took to land the fish but when at last it was lying on the ground it proved to be a magnificent 29-pound muskellunge. The extraordinary part of this fish story is that the Muskie was caught from shore and without the usual heavy equipment for muskie fishing, with troling and landing the big boys.

After the ceremony Mgr. Caza returned to Valleyfield, very pleased about the fact that he had brought blessings to his flock of St. Joseph in Huntingdon. All the participants and also all the witnesses of the magnificent ceremony will keep this day in memory as a precious and touching souvenir.

At 3 o'clock p.m., His Excellency Mgr. Caza administered the Confirmation to the children, who received their Communion in the morning. In a sermon he stressed the theme of the words of Our Lord: "Let the little children come unto me". He also told about a little girl who had visited the Holy Father Pope John XXIII. She was suffering from an incurable illness and had accepted willingly to earn her sanctification, and for God's glory. In an English sermon he spoke later about the facts of the reception of the Holy Spirit in our souls. The choir of Notre-Dame School sang the "Veni Creator" and other selections during the ceremony.

After the ceremony Mgr. Caza returned to Valleyfield, very pleased about the fact that he had brought blessings to his flock of St. Joseph in Huntingdon. All the participants and also all the witnesses of the magnificent ceremony will keep this day in memory as a precious and touching souvenir.

Arrears Of School Taxes Must Be Paid

The Huntingdon Protestant School Board met on Thursday evening at the Library of Huntingdon High School for a regular meeting, with all members present and Mrs. S. Ruddock and Dr. Lukacs.

Following the reading of the minutes and passing a number of bills for payment, Dr. Lukacs was interviewed with regard to the position of French Specialist in Huntingdon High School. Dr. Lukacs is a graduate of University of Budapest, Hungary, and taught in that institution for about 12 years. He has not taught in Canada, although he has been here for some time. He applied for the position of French specialist here and is quite proficient in this language and in several others. After discussing the matter fully after Dr. Lukacs had left, the Board decided to offer him engagement here if he would accept.

At noon, a most delicious banquet was served at the Parochial Hall, prepared by the "Ladies of Sainte-Anne" of the Parish. Outstanding at the ceremonies of the day were the presence of Mgr. Caza, Coadjutor and the 72nd birthday of Mgr. David, Priest of St. Joseph's Parish. Guests at this celebration were all dignitaries named above at the mass, the churchwardens in charge and former churchwardens who left the charge in January, accompanied by their wives: Mr. Ernest Leboeuf, Mr. Martin Dineen, Mr. Roger Elie, Mr. Hector St-Onge, Mr. Donat Fortier, Priest, the priests of Trout River, N.Y., Mr. Burns of Hinchinbrooke, Mr. J.

During the course of our experience in the newspaper field and of having interviews with different personalities, it fell to our lot for the first time to have an interview with a man and a monkey.

This interview was none other than one with Col. Lew Alter and one of his monkeys who are connected with King Reid Midway at Ormstown Exhibition this year, and which opens tonight at

At 6 p.m., the annual Senior Class Banquet was served by the Home Economics students from Grades IX and X to the guest speaker, Mr. Gordon Hagen and Mrs. Hagen, the High School Staff, members of the School Board and their wives and the students from Grade XI: Gail Cavers, Linda Cottingham, Raymon Greig, Marilyn Gruer, Floris Henderson, Betty Hope, Fred Jones, Margaret Manning, Alton McEwen, Paul McMahon, Pat McMillan, Dolores Merriam, Helen Rowe, Geraldine Sutton, Connie White, Holly Winter.

At 8 P.M. Graduation Exercises were held in the O.H.S. Auditorium when the class formed in a professional and proceeded to the stage with Mrs. Murray McEwen the accompanist.

Rev. J. C. Hood gave the Invocation and Mr. B. L. McGerrigle, Chairman of the Ormstown School Commission was the Master of Ceremonies and brought greetings from the Ormstown Board. Mrs. Margaret Campbell, vice-principal, introduced the members of the graduating class and Mr. J. C. Moore, Principal, gave a brief address.

Miss Dolores Merriam introduced the guest-speaker, Mr. Gordon Hagen, Principal at Shawville High School and the former vice-principal at O.H.S.

During the course of the Hot Supplement program which commenced at the school in January and ended in May, 10,000 hot supplements were served. It was said that there was a loss, but this has been covered. Another year should see this plan carry itself. Mistakes made had been remedied and with the extra knowledge there should be no loss.

The Board decided it would contribute toward the cost of the refrigerator in the Teachers' Room.

Commissioner Hamilton will be the President for the election of new members for the school board to be held in July. Chairman J. S. Gaw and Commissioner D. Rennie will be the outgoing members.

Graduates Dedication Service Well Attended By Public

There was an excellent attendance at the Huntingdon High School Graduates Dedication Service at St. Andrew's Church, on Sunday evening. The church and the dining hall in the basement were tastefully decorated for the occasion and the school choir accompanied the singing and also sang the anthem. Rev. James Grant, Minister of St. Andrew's was in charge of the service and he was assisted by Rev. R. S. Beal, while Rev. L. L. De Groot, M.A., B.D., gave the address to the graduating class. Mr. Maurice Melnyk, Principal of Huntingdon High School, read the charge to the graduating students.

Rev. De Groot took as his text the following: "That you may have light and have it more abundantly, use the talents God has given us and make the most of them". He said that regardless of what the graduate may have, in the future, he must adhere to the religious life and it should be in all things and is needed.

Following the service the gathering adjourned to the basement hall of the church, where refreshments were served. Impromptu speeches from several of those present were given. Rev. Beal gave a short address. Mr. Stanley Currie gave a talk by a parent on the subject of leaving school. Dr. J. S. Gaw, Chairman of the School Board offered his congratulations and those of the Board and recounted some of the recent activities of the graduating class. He told them they were at the crossroads of life and from now on would be called upon to make many decisions of their own. Mr. Melnyk offered congratulations to the parents for the many sacrifices they had been called upon to make during their child's school years and in order to bring them through to this point. He urged the graduates to persevere and to work hard for the future and always to preserve the kernel of advice Dorothy Taylor on behalf of the graduates thanked all for their help in making this Dedication service possible and for the gathering which followed. Mr. R. Baker, President of the Home and School Association, the sponsoring body, thanked all the committees and others who made the event such a success.

COMPLETES STUDIES

Dr. Claude Boyer, son of late Dr. J. A. Boyer M. V. and Mrs. Boyer, who has just completed his Medical Studies at the University of Montreal with great distinction 90.5. Third in his class, he received the Mgr. Deschamps award and won the Montreal City & District & Savings Bank prize. Dr. Boyer will make a one year internship at Verdun Hospital. He was a student of the "Freres Clercs de St-Viateur" School in Huntingdon and continued his classical studies at the Bourget College in Rigaud.

Town Not To Hire Another Policeman At This Time

The Huntingdon Town Council held a regular meeting on Monday evening at the County Building, with all members present.

Following the reading of the minutes and passing the bills, an application by Modern Machine Shop to build a shop on Dalhousie Street, in the vicinity of the Huntingdon Woolen Mills, was heard. After much discussion, the permit was granted providing it is placed at least 25 feet from the sidewalk and that the outside of the premises are kept clean and tidy at all times. The shop to be open only from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily on working days.

A complaint was made of poor drainage of a lot and the water committee is to investigate to decide what can be done.

The Provincial Health Department has investigated some unsanitary houses and has sent a letter that the situation must be remedied at once. In the matter of the complaint regarding a cesspool overflowing near Lorne Avenue, a plan of the street is now requested.

A request for held toward the softball team was turned down.

In the matter of the new building area east of town, a further plan was proposed. Council turned it down unless this area is willing to annex to the Town.

John Leduc complained of the state of the sidewalk on Chateaugay Street East. This will be taken under consideration.

Alderman Picard said that Mr.

Somerville M. P. P. had informed him that the Government Roads Dept. would pave Church Street. It was also stated that if the Town would put in the catch-basins for draining, Henderson Street would be improved and made wider.

The matter of valuator's is to be decided in two weeks time.

That old bugbear — Police — came into the limelight once more. The matter of whether another policeman is to be engaged to replace the one who recently resigned was introduced by Alderman Gaw as Chairman of the Police Committee.

Alderman Picard said that two were enough and there is no need to have more. Too much time was spent looking after trouble at the hotel. He suggested asking that the Provincial Police give more protection in town.

Alderman Trembley said we need three policemen for proper protection of the town.

Alderman Walsh said we had good service in the time of John Macrow and do not need so many policemen.

Mayor Lefebvre said there is too much criticism of the police. The police committee should get together with the police and work something out and then present it to the council.

Alderman Picard moved that we try two policemen for one month and see how it works out. Alderman McGerrigle seconded the motion.

An amendment was moved by Alderman Gaw and seconded by Alderman Trembley that another policeman be hired.

On being put to a vote the amendment was lost with four against. The original motion was then put and passed with four voting for it.

It was decided to put in an extension phone in Sgt. Provost's home.

The matter of having a special policeman is to be decided.

A grant of $100 toward state for Huntingdon Fair was made.

The meeting adjourned until June 20th.

Interviewing A Man And A Monkey

Ormstown. However, it wasn't so bad after all, the Col is quite an interesting man to talk to and although the monkey gave us some "sassy", he was really quite well behaved, shook hands and took a quiet interest in what was going on.

Col. Alter is celebrating his 47th year in the show business and first started out in a Buffalo Bill Show. He has a menagerie with the Reid show and the monkeys perform tricks to delight children and adults alike.

Good Interest Shown In Nursing Course

The presentation of Acknowledgment Cards to nineteen local residents who participated in the recent Red Cross Home Nursing Course will be made on Thursday evening, June 16th, at the County Building, Huntingdon. The course has attracted wide attention and it is expected a good number of Red Cross members from Huntingdon and vicinity will be on hand to offer their congratulations to both the trainees and their instructors. Dr. K. G. Cameron will be the guest speaker.

Miss Lillian Rankin, R.N., was in charge of the course and was ably assisted by the following Registered Nurses of the district who gave lectures: Mrs. Leo Curran, Mrs. Sanborn Gaw, Mrs. Arthur McFarlane, Mrs. E. S. Harkness, Mrs. Dorothy Catto, Mrs. Clarence Stark, Ober R.N.'s assisting in the lectures were Mrs. Arthur Rankin, Mrs. Ernest Grant, Mrs. Wm. McClatchie, Mrs. Walter Hay and Miss Mary Thompson.

The courses were given on Monday and Thursday evenings throughout the past six weeks and the trainees now have a good knowledge of home nursing requirements that range from caring for the chronically ill to first aid for the injured.

King Reid to Pay Half of Repainting Industrial Building

King Reid, owner-manager, of the King Reid Carnival now playing its third year at the Ormstown Fair noticed that the Industrial Building needed a new paint job when the carnival arrived. He broached the subject to Mr. Carlyle Dickson, secretary of the Ormstown Fair and offered to finance half the paint job provided it could be done before the Fair opens today (Wed.) Mr. Dickson agreed and immediately put a crew of painters to work. They will work all day today and tomorrow morning and expect to finish it by the time the Fair opens.

Last year King Reid contributed to the paving installed on the midway of the Ormstown Fairgrounds so that folks could walk around the Fairgrounds without getting muddy.

Father of The Symphony

Joseph Haydn, who lived from 1732 to 1809, is often called the Father of the Symphony, for according to the Book of Knowledge he composed more than a hundred of them. His name has an honoured place in the development of the modern orchestra.

Graduation Exercises At St. Romain's School, Hemmingford

On Sunday, June 5th, in St. Romain's High School, in Hemmingford, the graduation of eight pupils of the eleventh grade, took place.

They were: Lise Lussier, Roger Beaudin, Fernand Poissant, from Sherrington; Nicole Ouimet, Anne Marie Viau, Robert Vaillancourt, from Hemmingford, graduating from the French class; also Diane Burton, Florence Dauphenaix, from the English class.

Mr. Walter Smith very ably performed the task of master of ceremonies.

First the graduates were presented to the audience and then each one was offered a ring, thanks to the generous donations given by all the business places of the locality and surroundings.

A French speech was presented by Fernand Poissant, and one in English by Florence Dauphenaix.

Mr. Bourassa, principal, very capably thanked the School Board, the parents and the teachers, especially Miss Kathleen Peras and Miss Yvonne Stringer, for their wonderful work as teachers, and also mentioned the good understanding between French and English pupils.

Mr. A. Somerville, M.P.P., with great facility, talked in both French and English. Mr. Roger Bouchard, chairman of the School Board, congratulated the parents, the pupils and also the High School Staff.

Mr. Leo Fortin, mayor of the village, was also present and said a few words of thanks and congratulations to the graduates and all concerned.

Then last, but not the least, came Rev. Father P. Grondin, parish priest, thanking and congratulating everybody. He told the audience, in his usual able manner, how pleased he is with the improvement in education in his parish. He mentioned especially, how interesting it was to come, and teach, and discuss religion in the English class, being very pleased with the discipline in and out of the class. He ended by expressing hope that there would be more graduations in the future years.

Special thanks go to Mr. André Bellemain, teacher of grade 10 and 11, who spent many hours in preparing this event and making it such a success.

This ceremony ended by singing "O Canada".

About a month ago, St. Romain's High School in Hemmingford was blessed by His Excellency Bishop Percival Caron.

Besides the Bishop, there were many notable persons: Mr. Casgrain, representing the Premier of the Province; Mr. Allister Somville, M.P.P.; Monsignor René Gauthier, ex-parish priest; Mr. Fortin, mayor; Rev. Father Grondin, parish priest; Mr. Allard, and Mr. P. Faubert, school inspector.

For a number of years, Hemmingford has been up-to-date concerning education. In 1948 it was first talked about centralizing the schools and after a few years, all the schools formed one central school in the village.

The success of this centralization is very obvious: it is easier to find qualified teachers, more children are able to attend school, the chance for all to carry on their studies, first, to the 9th grade, then to the 10th and 11th.

Our children, like those from the cities, can go to college or to the university, after completing their 11th grade in their own parish.

All this has been realized, thanks to the devotedness of the members of the School Board, who understood the wishes of the population of this parish and with the great help of the government, thanks to Mr. A. Somerville, Member of Quebec Legislature for the County of Huntingdon.

In fact, in 1957-58, a year before adding grade 10 to our primary school, it cost the School Board $127.50 per child, attending school; the government refunded $49.90 by grants, which reduced the cost to the School Board to only $77.60 per child.

The following year grade 10 was added. The results were that the cost of the building increased the cost to $148.90 per child. The grants were $61.40, which meant the school board only had to pay $87.50, that is $10.00 less than before opening a grade 10.

We wish to extend our best thanks to Mr. A. Somerville, our Member at Quebec, for the increasing help he has afforded our School Board.

Langlois Academy was composed of 6 class rooms when built in 1948, costing $58,000. It was enlarged in 1950, costing $20,000; then 4 more class rooms were added in 1956, costing $50,000.

Now we have a High School valued at $94,000, 80% of which was paid for by government grants. We are proud of being able to furnish our teachers and older children the opportunity to work under better conditions and therefore obtain good results.

Our High School has two sections: French with about 60 pupils and English with a complete High School College Preparatory Course.

We also owe many thanks to the following people: W. Keddy & Son, contractors; R. Lavalée,

News from Howick

HOWICK. — The President opened the June meeting of the Georgetown Evening Auxiliary, which was held at the home of Mrs. Merrill Kerr, on Wednesday, June 1st.

Twenty-five members and one visitor answered the roll call by naming their favorite flower.

Mrs. W. Brown led in prayer following the responsive reading by Mrs. G. Berrington.

Mrs. C. McCartney read the minutes of the previous meeting. Several of the girls attended the Chinese Tea and Mrs. N. Simms told all about it. The President and Mrs. Brown read letters. Miss Laura Robertson gave a very interesting reading: "A Garden Inclosed", as the Study Programs were made out for the rest of the year. Meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Kerr and the refreshment committee.

W.I. Meeting
On Tuesday, May 31, the Howick W.I. met in the High School with a good attendance. The roll call was to name a Canadian who had made some contribution to our country within the past five years. A short business meeting was held, when prizes, to the value of $12, were voted for sewing in the Home Economics class and woodwork in Industrial Arts.

The guest speaker was Mr. Ian Watson, who spoke on Water Pollution and included beautifying our community. The main cause of the water pollution is the sewage that has been piped into our rivers. During the late summer the water level is very low and almost stagnant, creating a real problem and one that might endanger the community health. The Chateauguay River from Ste. Martine down to Chateauguay being the worst. Garbage removal to some out of the way place should be enforced. A highway littered with tin cans and rubbish should not be tolerated. A beautiful countryside encourages people of means to invest in homes and good roads bring in more taxes, which are essential to having good schools, etc., and in this way we really help ourselves.

Mrs. Eric Smith thanked Mr. Watson for the suggestions made and expressed the hope that something would be accomplished towards that end. A film from the National Film Board entitled "Chemical Conquest", was shown on the High School projector and run by Burton Lang.

Refreshments were served by the Chateauguay and Tullochgorum members.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Langguth of Montreal spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Craig and Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adams of Wellington, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reddick of Picton, Ont., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buchanan.

The members of the Howick 4-H Club visited the farm of Mr. Alan Wilson at Franklin Centre, on Friday evening. This is one of a series of Friday evening meetings held during May and June.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hunter and Marilyn visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFarlane and family.

Mrs. Thora Nugent attended the C.O.C. and Explorer Conference on Saturday at the Y.W.C.A. in Montreal, at which Miss Ada Adams was the guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford spent a week at Dryden, Ont., east of Winnipeg, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Keatley. Mr. Crawford walked a mile through the woods every day to visit his brother, William, who at 82 years of age, lives alone on his homestead, 11 miles north of the town where he came following World War I. He went West in 1903 and the brothers had not seen one another since the troupe train passed through Montreal from Winnipeg in 1915.

Most of the homesteaders have attractive modern homes, in small clearings, with hydro and telephone, but they work in the big pulp and paper mill at Dryden.

Little lakes are numerous; good gravel roads; school buses take the children to town where they attend splendid schools. The town, which celebrates its 50th anniversary this year, is proud of its new hospital and Nurses' Residence.

Dr. Dingwall, born at Lancaster, Ont., was a pioneer in the district but about 80 years of age, is still active at "Dr. Dingwall Clinic". The town, like many others, is growing rapidly, and there are streets of attractive bungalows with large lawns and gardens.

While there, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford attended the marriage ceremony of Mr. Wm. Crawford's granddaughter, Miss Margaret Keatley and Mr. Eric Parker, and the reception which followed at the spacious new Legion Hall.

In this wooded district there is much wild life. Minutes before leaving the Keatley home for the return journey, a large moose wandered on to their clearing then walked nonchalantly through the newly planted garden

Hold Fashion Show At The High School

A fashion show was held at Huntingdon High School, Wednesday, June first, in which the girls from grades 6-11 participated.

The programme covers were designed by our skillful artist Ruby Hooker. Dawn Henderson and Doreen Rutherford acted as commentators. Our fashion show music was furnished by Dorothy Forget and Jean Anderson.

Parents, friends, and several guests who are Home Ec. teacher in other schools, were there. Miss K. Brown from John Rennie High School, Pointe Claire; Mrs. D. Waters and Mrs. D. Macintosh from Montreal enjoyed the fashions.

The girls from six showed cooking aprons, animal pillows, needlebooks and pin cushions which they had made. Grade 7 girls proudly modelled cotton skirts and blouses. The students of grade 8 paraded in cotton blouses and a couple of the girls managed to complete extra projects which included a dress, jumper, and blouse.

Cotton dresses and some coruroy jumpers were viewed by the audience as the work of Grade 9.

Wool dresses were the main project of Grade 10 but some of the girls made articles from miscellaneous synthetics such as nylon dusters. The guests were indeed treated when Judy Graham, accompanied by her petite sister Valerie, modelled a nylon duster and matching baby dolls. Audrey Lennox showed a life size doll with a nylon dress that she had made.

The fashion show was climaxed by Grade 11.

Plaid wool slacks and skirts were their theme as well as party dresses.

Again the public was surprised and pleased as tiny Suzanne Robidoux appeared in a striped pyjamas of flannelette made by Gail Trueman.

Tea, also planned and prepared by Grade 6-11 under the direction and supervision of Grade 10 students, was served. During the refreshment period, the Grade 7 girls acted as babysitters. As a grand finale to the tea, Mrs. Greig and Mrs. Dahms were presented with lovely cup and saucer sets.

Added attractions were model kitchens made by Grade 9 girls, and the boys displayed their pieces of woodwork made during the year under the supervision of Mr. Laurie. They included bird houses, window holders, pump lamps, book racks and shoe shine boxes from Grades 6 and 7.

Boys, checker boards and tray and spice cabinets by Gr. 8. Grade 9 boys displayed end tables, turned bowls, and gun racks, as did Gr. 10 with bowls, lamps and picture frames.

This year's Home Economics and Manual Training classes have done an outstanding job.

Huntingdon Locals
On Visit Here

Mrs. Daisy Gardner of Meriden, Conn., motored to Rockport and spent a week with Mrs. J. Sloan, and called on some of her friends of long-by years including Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner and their daughter, Miss Daisy came possibly 69 years ago from England and located in Huntingdon, remaining here for a few years, then moved to Meriden, Conn.

They were a very musical family, and did much to add to the local choir, especially that of St. John's Church of which they were members. It was a real pleasure to the friends of the past to meet Miss Daisy once more; now an accomplished pianist — often invited to other towns than her own to assist in the rendition of programs — always ready to give of her best to aid where possible. We hope to see this friend in Huntingdon again.

Huntingdon W. I.

Huntingdon Woman's Institute met on May 31st, at the home of Mrs. Bernhardt in Athelstan. For a variety of reasons the attendance was rather slim. The roll call was responded to by "something I remember about my Grandmother." Treasurer's report showed a balance of $154.91. Thank-you notes were read. Convener reports were as follows: Agriculture: Is your family safe at home? Home accidents almost equal car accidents. Children should be taught to handle pets properly to avoid accidents. A lunch break for men working.

In Memoriam

CAMERON — In loving memory of Kenneth Charles Cameron, who passed away June 4th, 1958 — His Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

GREENWAY — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mury Gordon, who passed away June 13th, 1958 — "Loving memories never die. As years roll on and days go by." Always remembered by, Laura.

BOULE — In loving memory of our dear brother, John, who passed away June 9th, 1959 — "We often sit and think of you The things you used to say and do. And wonder why you had to die Without a chance to say good-bye." Always remembered by his sisters, Elizabeth and Jennie.

HOULE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John, who passed away June 9th, 1959 — "With tears we watched you sinking. We watched you fade away Our hearts were almost broken You fought so hard to stay But when we saw you sleeping So peacefully free from pain We could not wish you back To suffer that again." Sadly missed by, His Wife, Antoinette and Son John-Claude.

HOULE — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, John, who passed away June 9th, 1959 — "The day is sad with deep regret It brings back a day we will never forget. He fell asleep without saying good-bye, But memories of him will never die." Always in our thoughts, Daughter Betty, Son-in-law Jack, and Grandson Johnny.

SUTTON — In loving memory of our dear mother, Beatrice Sutton, who passed away June 10, 1955 — "Like falling leaves, the years slip by. But memories of you will never die." Fondly missed by, Lois, Howard, and Children.

For many years this Branch has sent money and parcels to this elderly lady, but now that she is in a home this practice will be discontinued. Meeting closed with the mizpah. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bernhardt and Mrs. Gray.

County Hospital Auxiliary
An executive meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Huntingdon County Hospital was held on Monday, June 6th, in the Board Room with 15 members present.

The Service Committee reported having purchased dishes and cutlery to be used for the Auxiliary's use and drapes, rug and folding doors for the front porch, which latter items are still in the process of being readied for installation. Berches are also being made and will complete the renovation of the porch.

A letter of thanks was received from Mr. Gilbert Macmillan of the Board of Governors, for the splendid work the ladies put into conducting such a successful Hospital Day on May 15. The Membership Committee convener, Mrs. Wallace Rennie reported 339 members paid up and 87 being new names. There are a number of books yet to be turned in and she also wishes to report that the drive is still in effect and new and renewed memberships will be very welcome.

Mrs. F.G. McCrimmon will again this year be in charge of the June Art Exhibit and stated that all things are to be in by noon Friday, June 17th. Anyone wishing further information might call Mrs. McCrimmon at CO 4-5066.

14 years ago. For many reasons this project was dropped, but since that time Mr. Liversidge has interested himself in many projects concerning youth. His latest work has been that of locating and equipping playgrounds in different parts of the town. The first was opened last year in Garden City. Others will soon be located at other points. There is no doubt that Mr. Liversidge will be missed in many ways.

C.G.I.T. Banquet
Last Monday evening, the C.G.I.T. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church had their closing banquet. Thirteen members, their mothers and grandmothers were in attendance. A delicious supper was prepared by the mothers and group leaders. A presentation was made by the girls to Mrs. McCrimmon and Mrs. Grant. A film on C.G.I.T. work was also screened. A table of hand-work was on display. The girls are now looking forward to attending C.G.I.T. summer camp.

Initiation Of 28 New Daughters Of Isabella In Huntingdon

On June 5th, twenty-eight new members joined the Daughters of Isabella. At nine o'clock A.M., a special mass and communion was celebrated. The church was artistically decorated with many lovely flowers. The singing was beautifully done by the young St. Joseph school boys' choir under the capable direction of Principal Rodolphe Proulx. It was very touching to see young Daniel Langevin, St. Joseph school student at the front of the church, encouraging everyone to sing together.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock, the initiation started with a warm welcome to the new members by Monsignor David.

A delicious chicken supper served at the Huntingdon Chateau was enjoyed by around 150 guests.

Mrs. Therese Caza, as master of ceremonies, introduced the guests of honor who were as follows: Monsignor David, Mrs. Gisèle L'Heureux, regent of Huntingdon, Miss Jeanne Senecal, De-

A Few Suggestions By Chief L'Heureux

Chief L'Heureux is anxious that everyone should have the opportunity of joining up the membership campaign to have fire protection in rural areas. He says why take chances of not having this protection when it can be obtained for a small membership fee? This protection is yours even if you should be away from your home. If your name appears on the list then a fire call will be answered immediately. If it is not then delay occurs and perhaps permission may not even be granted. Why not call on the Chief and talk it over with him, let him explain the details.

There are still some car owners who are either store owners, themselves, or are employers in the stores, who are leaving their cars on Chateaugay Street and thus preventing legitimate shoppers from using parking space. Chief asks co-operation in this matter and suggest these cars be parked elsewhere but on Chateaugay Street.

Some thefts from cars parked on the Fawcett & Grant parking lot were reported to the police recently. The items taken were all of a small nature. However, investigation was made and the culprits were found and also the stolen property, which was returned.

Wedding

THURSTON-WHITE
A quiet, but pretty wedding took place on May 14th, 1960 in the United Church at Hemmingford, Que. Rev. K. Murray officiating, when Bernice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. White, was united in marriage with Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thurston.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a light green suit and white accessories, her corsage was of white carnations.

The maid of honour was her sister Christine.

The room was attended by Arthur Rabideau of Montreal.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston will reside in Montreal.

Seaway's Largest Marina Opens On Lake St. Francis

Port Lewis, Quebec: Fishermen, boatmen, skindivers, water-skiers, and holidayers found something new on Lake St. Francis on Saturday with the opening of the Seaway's largest marina at Port Lewis, near Huntingdon.

With the opening of Lake St. Francis Marine Limited's fine new showrooms, repair service, new gas dock, and adjoining facilities, a boom in water sports is indicated in Lake St. Francis.

President of the new firm is Dallas Grant, "retired" pulp and paper manufacturing executive who now resides at South Lancaster, across the lake from Port Lewis. Others associated include Ross Wilson of the Lake St. Francis Rod & Gun and Bob Henderson, Quebec All Gauge Skeet Champion.

A feature of the marina, unique in Canada, is the 24 hour papermen, radio and television radio watch kept on the distress personalities, magazine editors frequency. This ensures a rescue and writers from Montreal, Cornwall, Massena, Malone, Huntingdon and Valleyfield, and federal skippers to order supplies in members of parliament and local advance. They can then pick dignitaries.

Spring Exhibition Of Arts At Valleyfield Creates Interest

The Spring Exhibition of the Valleyfield Beaux Arts Club took place on Sunday afternoon, June 6th, in the Sauvé Park Chalet before a large attendance of Club members, citizens of Valleyfield and several visitors from out of town points.

There were 68 works on exhibition, including paintings, charcoals, and one beautiful ceramic done by Mr. Bernard Cadieux, and on which the official judges were asked to select a first, second and third in the "Original" paintings, a first from the "Copies" of oil paintings, and a first from the Student's class in charcoals; also a first and second choice from those exhibits submitted by the visitors from out of town. Inasmuch as the ceramics class has just been inaugurated there was only one work submitted, as stated above, and therefore no ratings applied for this branch of the Arts.

Prize winners were as follows: Original Oil (Beaux Arts Members): 1st. Mrs. J. McCracken; 2nd. Mrs. W. Campbell; 3rd. Mrs. J. L. Poirier. (Visitors): 1st. Mrs. M. Bartram, 2nd. Mr. Ted Sonne. Copy - Oil: (Beaux Arts Members): 1st. Mrs. C. Gordon MacPherson. Charcoal: (Student's Class): 1st. Mrs. J. Bayard. Subsequent to the official judging a public poll was taken among those present on the various exhibits; this created much interest and resulted in the following selections: Paintings: 1st. Mrs. P. Comte, 2nd. Mr. D. Morin. Charcoals: 1st. Mrs. J. Bayard. Mrs. E. Bourbonnier donated a beautiful framed oil painting which was drawn for by Soeur Marie de Ste. Therese, S.S.N.J.M.

Obituary

The Late John Clifford Hinks

Mr. John Clifford Hinks, who passed away on Saturday, May 21st, 1960, at the home of his eldest daughter, Mrs. Wm. Shearer, Huntingdon, was the son of the late John Hinks and his wife Dorothy Clegg of Powerscourt, Que. To the host of relatives and neighbours who knew Clifford, his illness and death brought sadness to his community. The deceased was born at Powerscourt on May 17, 1897. He was a farmer at his late residence for a number of years, also was willing to help anyone when needed. He was always a regular churchgoer up until his illness in January.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, Olive Partner, his son Clarence at home, his daughter Irma, Mrs. Wm. Shearer, Huntingdon, Bernice, Mrs. Stanley Petzoldt of Carthage, N.Y., also six grandchildren, John, Kenneth, Allan and Dorothy Shearer, Mark and Martin Petzoldt, two sisters, Tena, Mrs. Harry Deat, Huntingdon; Ethel, Mrs. Louis Percy; also several nieces and nephews, one son Earl, one sister Dora, and an infant brother predeceased him.

The funeral was held from Kelly's Funeral Home on Monday, May 23 at 3 p.m. and was conducted by Rev. Carmen McEwen of Malone. Two of his favorite hymns were sung by Rev. and Mrs. McEwen, "Does Jesus Care" and "When I've Gone the Last Mile of the Way". The Pall Bearers were, Fred Wood, Jim Wattie, Gordon McClatchie, Walter Hay, Alex. Hay and Wilfred Myers. The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous. Interment was in Powerscourt Cemetery.

EARLY MATCH-MAKER

The first real matches were made by John Walker, an Englishman, about 150 years ago. The Book of Knowledge says that they were tipped with gum, antimony and potash, over a layer of sulphur. A sheet of folded sandpaper was supplied with each box. When the lucifer lighted, it went off in a sort of small explosion, with showers of dangerous sparks.

New Manager For "Bell" in Valleyfield

J. D. Paré, of La Malbaie, has been appointed Bell Telephone manager in Valleyfield. He succeeds J. L. Rivest, who is being transferred to Montreal as Methods Supervisor in the Company's Headquarters Commercial Operations department. The appointments were effective May 23. In addition to his duties in Valleyfield, Mr. Paré will supervise the company's offices in Beauharnois, Franklin Centre, Howick, Huntingdon, Ormstown, St. Chrysostome and Ste. Martine. Mr. Paré was born and educated in St. Hyacinthe. He started his career with the Bell Telephone Company at Valleyfield in May 1951, as outside representative with the commercial department. He then held different positions in Montreal and in Quebec. In April 1954, he was transferred to Drummondville as business office supervisor. After serving in Montreal as equipment salesman from November 1955 to October 1957, he was then promoted in La Malbaie as manager. This is the position he leaves to assume his duties in Valleyfield.

Mr. Rivest, who has been manager at Valleyfield since 1955, was born in Valleyfield.

Mr. Rivest studied at the College Ste. Marie, in Montreal where he obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree. He then attended the University of Montreal, where he graduated in June, 1946, as a Master of Industrial Relations. He joined the Bell Telephone the same year in Montreal.

Mr. Rivest is a member of the Industrial Relations Association and of the Ste. Marie Alumni Association. He is also the actual president of the Valleyfield Section of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, Member of the Rotary Club and of the Golf Club in Valleyfield.

Highest average hourly wages in Canada are in the petroleum products industry, $2.47 an hour, and primary iron and steel, $2.40 an hour. — Quick Canadian Facts

Estimated federal government spending of $6,330,168,920 in the coming year is more than double the total of ten years ago.

FARM PROPERTY WANTED

No rush to buy. Simply looking around for eventual purchase of quiet spot in farm country. Mostly for week-end use. Not stupid enough to pretend that city folk could ever earn to run a farm. High in our books are wooded areas, especially with some firs and a brook that makes a noise all through the winter. Some sort of a barn would be nice. So would facilities like plumbing, water and electric power. Wouldn't want the house to fall down the moment we had bought it. Frankly, price is a factor, and size is not. So perhaps you could sell the best part of your farm to the general public and let us have the scruffy five or ten acres with the rocks, trees, some buildings and the noisy brook. Individual letters or even lists from agents would be welcomed by the advertiser. P. O. Box 127, Westmount, Que.

HUNTINGDON HIGH SCHOOL

Final Assembly of School Year The final Assembly of the School Year was held on Monday, June 6th at 11 o'clock in the High School Auditorium. The general purpose of this assembly was to distribute the ribbons to the winners of our own Track and Field Meet held a few weeks prior.

The Assembly was opened with a prayer and a scripture reading. This was followed by reports from the Students' Council of their activities for the year, and also the Treasurer's Report.

The School Choir under Mr. Gill's direction gave five renditions of songs which they have been practising for the past few months. The Choir did an excellent job and the student body enjoyed the singing to its utmost.

Following this the ribbons were distributed to the prize winners. Mr. Douglas McGerrige Jr. was also present and he distributed credits to the members of the Senior Basketball Team, who are this year's champions of the Chateauguy Valley Basketball League.

Following this a few remarks were made by the principal who had congratulated the Students' Council for an excellent job they have done in the past year; also the Choir and Mr. Gill for their fine rendition of the songs which were certainly much above par. He also congratulated the Students for the wonderful participation in the Track and Field Meet which was run off in excellent style and participation in all events was excellent.

Finally, one note of a serious thought was as follows. That throughout the year the students as a whole have taken part in a multitude of activities; they have worked on a variety of committees and in all these undertakings they were able to do an excellent job and one of the prime reasons why any of these undertakings was excellent, was due to conscientious work and application. The same suggestion was presented by the principal to have some conscientious work and seriousness of the same nature extended to their examinations which will be taking place in the very near future.

Large Barn, Machinery And Other Equipment Lost In Fire At Elie Leblanc Farm

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a large barn, garage and machinery shed on the farm of Elie Leblanc, about 1 1/2 miles west of Lee's Corners, on Sunday evening, about 6 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Leblanc were away visiting relatives in Huntingdon, Sunday afternoon, and did not know of the fire until they returned home late in the evening. A fire almost completely burned out. The blaze was discovered by the Leblanc's sixteen-year-old son, who was at home and doing the evening chores in the new cow barn. He gave the alarm to Mr. Leblanc, who responded quickly to find assistance. The Huntingdon Fire Brigade being unable to come, the Fort Covington Fire Association was called and they came and a number of firemen they concentrated on saving the nearby barn immediately with two tank trucks which was only 12 feet away at the nearest point and already on fire when they arrived. The heavy wind was blowing sparks and flying debris in the direction of the farm buildings of Mr. Arthur Kazulak and started several minor fires on the premises which had to be watched and put out. Without the firemen's aid, it is said the Leblanc residence would have gone up in smoke as well. Three tractors were in the burned building but two were saved. A hay baler was taken out but was badly damaged, a tractor mower was also lost and many other pieces of farm equipment and tools amounting to several thousand dollars. The building of good farm com-

Glenelm

GLENELM — On Friday afternoon, May 27th, the Auxiliaries of the Kensington Women's Association and Woman's Missionary Society were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Robt. Beal, of Huntingdon.

There was a good attendance of members, and among the guests were Mrs. R. Tolhurst of Howick, Sectional Vice-President of the Women's Missionary Society in this district, and her sister, Mrs. Bradley. The meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. R. Crawford and opened with the singing of the hymn "Take My Life" with Mrs. Beal at the piano. Miss Lillian Paul read the Scripture from St. Matthew 5, verses three to sixteen, which was followed by prayer by Rev. R. Beal.

The Secretary, Mrs. D. L. Brown read the minutes of the previous meeting and eleven members answered the roll call. After a brief business meeting, Mrs. Crawford introduced Mrs. Tolhurst who conducted an informal question and answer period; discussion of ways to improve our meetings and passed around literature available.

The ladies of the Kensington group were glad to meet Mrs. Tolhurst as this was her first official visit to the group. The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. Beal then invited everyone to partake of a delicious salad tea and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

On behalf of all present, Mrs. Crawford thanked Mrs. Beal for her hospitality.

Hemmingford

HEMINGFORD — The C.G.L.E. of St. Andrew's United Church held their annual Mother and Daughter Banquet in the Church Hall, on Saturday evening, with a large attendance. Miss Myrna Hadley acted as Chairman and introduced the head table guests, Miss Beryl Clark proposed the Toast to the Queen. Toast to the Church was proposed by Ula Christensen and replied to by Mrs. Harry Warner. Miss Carol Smith then proposed a Toast to the Mothers, which was replied to by Mrs. C. Wallace. Mrs. K. J. MacLellan then expressed the appreciation of the Church and the Mothers to the leaders, Misses Ann Northrup and Beryl Clark, who had given so much time and guidance to the girls in the past year. Mrs. Mary introduced the guest speaker, Miss Joan Baxter, M.A., from Kapropia in Kenya, Africa. She gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on life in a Mission field in Africa followed by slides shown by Mrs. Geo. Monaghan from Hudson Heights. The evening program came to a conclusion with a short service conducted by Sandra Greer, Shirley Warner and Mary Hebert and the singing of Taps.

The annual "St. Lambert Deaneary meeting" was held at Hemmingford on Tuesday, May 31st, with a service of Holy Communion in St. Luke's Church at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. J. A. Bonathan was the celebrant, assisted by Rev. J. Selwood and Rev. J. Rogers.

Lunch was served at 12:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall by the members of St. Luke's W.A. At 2 P.M. the business session was opened with prayers led by Mrs. Naylor. A brief report was given from the various branches. Mrs. J. Robertson and Mrs. H. Warner brought greetings from their respective Churches, Mrs. P.S. Powles, wife of the late Bishop Powles, gave a very interesting story of life with her family in Japan. Rev. J. Bonathan closed the meeting with prayer and the Benediction, after which refreshments were served by the members of the Hallerton-Roxham W.A.

High School Basketball Team Feted — Marcel Pronovost Guest Of Honor

The photographers had difficulty lining up Huntingdon High's Senior Boys' Basketball Team for pictures, clustered as they were around Marcel Pronovost. All Star defenseman with the Detroit Red Wings.

The occasion was a banquet at Kirby's Restaurant at Port Lewis, honouring the High School Senior Basketball Team for having won the 1960 C. V. T. A. Trophy, an occasion which many hope is the beginning of a tradition for the Academy when students, who have brought honour and glory to the school as well as to themselves will be similarly feted.

The idea for such a banquet must be credited to the Coach of the Basketball team, Doug McGerrigle, who thought that the boys, having brought great credit to the school, should be suitably honoured. With the assistance of Mr. Gill of the High School staff, arrangements were made for the re-mentioned banquet, and with the kind permission of Mr. Jacques Viau, local representative of Molson's Brewery, Marcel Pronovost, who works for that firm when he is not playing hockey, accepted the invitation of Mr. McGerrigle to be the guest of honour.

Mr. Gill, who acted as Chairman of the Banquet, paid tribute to the many people who made the banquet possible: Mr. McGerrigle for having thought of the idea; the boys for having provided the reason; the girls' senior Basketball Team, who challenged the staff of the High School to a basketball game, charged a nominal admission and used the proceeds to pay for the boys' supper; (unfortunately, the girls were soundly trounced) as well as the parents of the team members, who received the idea so enthusiastically — only one parent was unavoidably absent due to a commitment made some two months ago. Mr. Gill, in his remarks to the gathering which numbered about forty, told the parents that they would have been as proud of their sons as he was for the fine attitude which the boys had when they were playing against the other teams in the Valley — one of true sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct at all times. To the boys he suggested that, like as it was to bring home a trophy, even more important than striving for a trophy was to strive for excellence no matter in what field they found themselves, whether it was hockey or basketball, History or English.

Marcel Pronovost, who was introduced by the Chairman as one who had achieved excellence in his field, and probably for that reason had been hired by Senator Molson, the owner of the Club Canadian, even though he was employed by a rival club during the winter — the Detroit Red Wings — presented the C. V. T. A. crests to members of the winning team. Kerry Johnson, Captain of the team, was the first to receive his crest from the guest of honour. He then called the other members of the team to be introduced to the hockey player and to receive their crests. These other players included Glen Gordon, Grant Hawley, Ken McClatchie, Bill Middlemiss, Merrill Murray, Cyril Steadman, John Thompson and Frank Wilmot.

In his remarks, Marcel Pronovost said that he was pleased to be identified with these teenagers of Huntingdon, in view of the very fine spirit which they exhibit, not only on the basketball floor, but also during the banquet proceedings. Relating a few of his experiences as a member of the National Hockey team, he suggested that even though some boys might cherish the idea of playing professional sports some day, he did not feel it a wise thing to neglect one's studies. He left that as of necessity, studies must come first. The audience listened attentively to Mr. Pronovost's remarks, and in closing he offered to answer any questions put to him by members of the audience, some of whom did.

Mr. McGerrigle thanked the guest of honour for attending, and asked him to convey to Mr. Viau, the Molson Brewery representative in Valleyfield, his thanks for having co-operated by making the visit possible.

Before the proceedings drew to a close, very pleasing incidents occurred. The captain of the basketball team, Kerry Johnson, stood up and presented to the coach a C. V. T. A. crest, similar to the ones received by members of the team, and expressed the gratitude of the team members for his time and effort with them, saying that he and all the others hoped that Doug would be back to coach the team next year. The second incident was the appearance of the owners of Kirby's Restaurant, who presented to the team a sum of money to assist them in their expenses next year. This money was graciously received by Mr. McGerrigle, and roundly applauded by the audience. It was obvious to all that the Kirby's had gone out of their way to prepare a pleasant evening for all; the tables were nicely set; the meals — a choice of steak or southern fried chicken, with all the trimmings, would have been a delight to the most discriminating gourmet. There was no doubt but that the evening forward to next year's venture.

Besides the team members and their respective parents, a number of students were present as well as Mrs. McGerrigle, wife of the coach of the basketball team, Mrs. Gill, whose husband is on the staff at the High School and who chaired the banquet, and Jacques Pronovost, brother of Marcel Pronovost.

Graduation Dance At Huntingdon High School

One of the most delightful events of the spring activities was the semi-normal dance which was sponsored by the pupils of Grade ten in honor of the graduating class of Huntingdon High School. A large attendance of parents and friends enjoyed the dancing to the music of Larry Modler's Orchestra, especially the Hawaiian waltzes which complemented the theme of the decorations. A committee under the leadership of Susan Ferns transformed the gymnasium into a South Sea Island, complete with Hula girls and parrots, which were the artistic efforts of Steve Kowacsny, Grade 8 and 9 also contributed their talents and effort in this successful and lovely event.

About eleven-thirty, the Grads and their escorts led a grand march of parents, staff and friends to the Cafeteria for refreshments. Here, the guests of honor were seated at a long table against a background of palm

ANY SIMILARITY BETWEEN BUICK AND ORDINARY CARS ENDS HERE...

BECAUSE BUICK GIVES YOU AN ENTIRELY NEW CONCEPT IN DRIVING PERFECTION

SMOOTH TURBINE DRIVE TRANSMISSION

No gears, just turbine blades that adjust automatically to your driving speed through a jet-smooth flow of oil. High angle for quick starts and passing... low angle for economical cruising. This is the most advanced and most satisfying transmission available and it's yours exclusively with Buick.

TASTEFUL INTERIORS

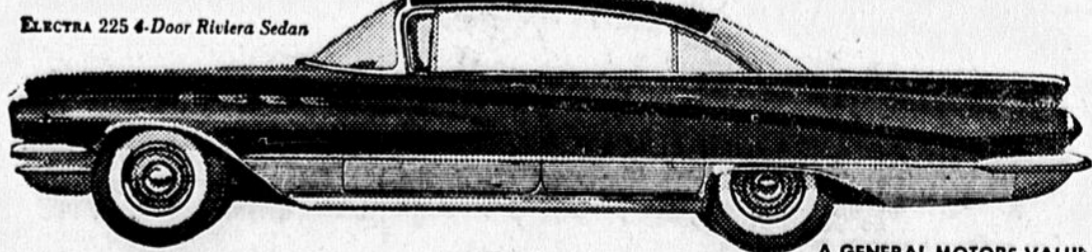

Never before has elegance been so perfectly matched to your own good taste. Buick's fresh, fashion-plate interiors reveal extra touches of comfort, luxury and detail patterns and colors... new chair height seats with deeper foam cushioning... it's all in the ALL-TIME BEST Buick for 1960.

RESPONSIVE, EASY HANDLING

On any road — under every kind of driving condition — you'll find Buick behaves like a true thoroughbred. Full coil suspension and front stabilizer bar make steering lighter, more responsive than ever before. You drive — and arrive — fresh and relaxed.

REALISTIC PRICES

Even more pleasing than Buick's features are Buick's prices. Buick actually competes in price with cars that cannot possibly compete with Buick's luxury. To accommodate every budget there are 19 models and three series. Choose from LeSabre, Invicta or Electra. No other cars give so much value and luxury at such realistic prices.

Still Striving To Have Meeting To Bring About Real Peace

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and President Eisenhower have affirmed their determination to continue to work for peace with justice.

This was one of the main points in a communique issued by the two leaders as the Canadian prime minister concluded his brief visit to Washington last Sunday and departed for Win-

Canada and the U.S., the communique suggested that some grounds are being found to resolve issues. It noted with pleasure the extent to which the problems arising in such relations have yielded to the process of friendly and continuing consultation.

Model Example

The two expressed belief that between the two countries has been established "a model for the relationships between neighbors."

The communique gave no particular indication of what detailed problems were discussed, though it said the two leaders "consulted on a wide range of subjects of both an international and bilateral nature."

Mr. Diefenbaker however had earlier told reporters he might discuss the U-2 spy plane incident, North American air defence including the future of the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile, and means of reducing world tensions. He also said at that time that his offer to have a summit meeting held at Quebec City is still open and available.

Khrushchev's Plan

United States officials at Washington say privately that Nikita Khrushchev's revised disarmament plan contains two new points that might be regarded as forward steps.

In an official statement, the state department promised to give the Soviet leader's plan close study. At the same time it challenged Moscow to do likewise with the "realistic" Western proposals of May 16.

Khrushchev's latest proposal puts priority on eliminating the means of delivering nuclear weapons — rockets or aircraft. The two points noted particularly in Washington were these:

1. An apparent recognition by the Russians of the need for an international peace force, which the West says is necessary.

2. Apparent Soviet recognition that modern weapons delivery systems are a central problem that must be dealt with under any realistic arms control measures.

Open Skies

The Western proposals of May 16 were Eisenhower's plan to turn over high-flying reconnaissance planes to the United Nations, which would conduct aerial inspections in all countries to prevent any war buildup.

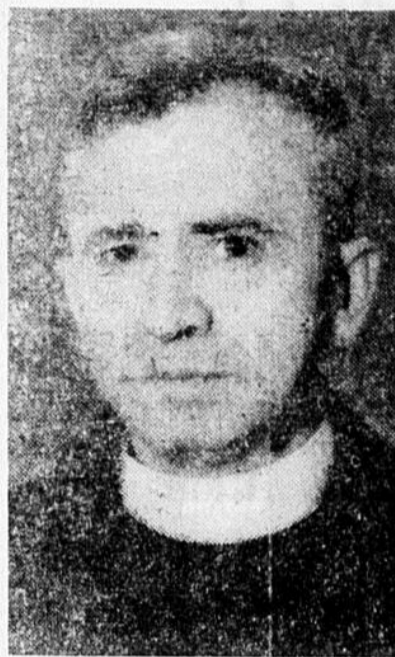

"It is our hope," said the U.S. statement, "that when the disarmament conference resumes its deliberations (this week) substantial progress will be made toward general and complete disarmament under effective international control — a goal we seek."

Visit to Cuba

Diplomats in Washington view Khrushchev's proposed visit to Cuba as a bold move to push Premier Fidel Castro's policies into other Latin American countries. They predicted the Russian leader would fail in any such ambitious project.

U.S. authorities saw a prospect that Khrushchev might run into a cool, even hostile, reception from many Cubans who are worried about the extent of Communist infiltration in their coun-

Died Today

CANON W. S. HATCHER

It was with regret The Gleaner carried at press time this morning (Wednesday) that Canon W. S. Hatcher, Rector of St. John's Anglican Church of Canada in Huntingdon, had passed away this morning at The Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown.

Canon Hatcher was a member of the Roman Catholic prelates in Cuba, it was noted, having been speaking out with increasing frequency about the perils of Communism in the last few weeks.

An eight-year-old boy is in hospital at Flin Flon, Man., battling the effects of a 15-day ordeal of hunger and tragedy in the wilderness of northwestern Manitoba.

Walter Sedor was dazed and faint but in "reasonably good" condition in hospital after being lifted from the rocky, tree-studded terrain June 2, near the place where his father and uncle were killed when their light plane crashed and burned, 12 miles northeast of Flin Flon.

The plane disappeared May 13 after setting out with the boy's father, Steve Sedor, 39, his uncle, Ken Harrison, 32 and Walter, 10, to Taran Lake area. The plane crashed about a mile from there.

The wreckage of the plane was sighted by a bush pilot who spotted the wildly-waving youngster. Pilot Harry Evans said he was passing over Taran Lake when a passenger asked about the missing plane. Evans looked down and "my heart skipped a beat... it was the greatest experience of my life when I suddenly realized I had found the missing plane and the boy was alive."

Evans flew on to Flin Flon and an RCMP helicopter, part of a fleet that had been searching for the plane, took a doctor and an RCMP corporal to the scene.

RCMP Cpl. G. M. Rumble said the boy was "just kind of waving passively when we arrived. He was more numbed than anything. He was wearing a heavy-knit sweater, a pair of blue jeans and only socks on his feet. His shoes were apparently lost in the crash, and his socks were just about worn out."

Dr. Glen Willison, also in the rescue party, credited the heavy clothing worn by the boy with having protected him from frequent heavy rain and occasional near-freezing temperatures. It also helped the boy avoid serious bites from flies and mosquitoes.

Winged hitchhiker

An uninvited passenger in your car that may cause plenty of trouble is a bee. You may be driving along the highway some summer afternoon when suddenly you hear an angry buzz and several sharp "pops" against your windshield. And you'll spy a very annoyed bee trying its best to get through the glass.

If you are wise, you will pull to the side of the road, stop, open windows and doors and, if necessary, just hunt with a sheet of paper, that the exits are open. Don't continue to drive, making sporadic flappings at the insect as it may fly at your face — a bee has been known to fly into a person's mouth, stinging the tongue. The resultant swelling caused death. It is natural to feel panic when a small body strikes your face but a serious accident may happen if you attempt to continue driving while you wage war on the intruder.

Children should be taught never to swat anything that lands on the car driver. The shriek of "Oh, there's a Thing on your collar" is unavailing enough, especially when it is followed by a heavy thump, to send you into the ditch. When you are told that there's something crawling on you, pull to the side of the road and stop the car. It won't matter then if you find you've got a praying mantis or a tomato worm.

When you bring a bunch of wild flowers into the car, inspect the bouquet to ensure that no bees are taking a siesta in any of the blossoms. If, some time later, a bee discovers you've taken him far past his stop, he may get just as angry as you would in like circumstances.

If someone is stung by a bee, get out the car's first aid kit and sterilize a needle or pin by running it through the flame of a lighted match. Wipe the stung spot with a piece of sterile gauze moistened with antiseptic and remove the sting and the poison

"Ideology and Co-Existence" Widespread Grassroots Response

TORONTO, April 11—Over 200 articles and editorials have evaluated in the Canadian Press the national distribution of "Ideology and Co-Existence" in March.

One of every four daily newspapers has so far carried editorials. The "Brandon Sun" writes, "Ideology and Co-Existence" will strengthen the backbone of freedom and instill the will to fight for what is right. "In less than seven months," says the "Regina Leader-Post", "Ideology and Co-Existence" has already become a global phenomenon. It is meant to transform the thinking and living of nations. This is a tremendously timely and creative project."

A business man from Quebec Province writes, "I call it a masterpiece. This book should be read by everyone. It will change the course of the world."

sac. This tiny sac contains the bee venom and it continues to exude the poison until it is empty. The bee, unlike most other insects, leaves its sting and the poison sac in the wound and both should be removed. (Your only consolation here is that the bee is said to die almost immediately after it has stung.) After the operation, cleanse the wound and put on a small dressing. A paste of baking soda will help to allay itching and soreness. Baking soda, by the way, is one of those all round helps in kitchen, car, cottage and camp. It can be used as an ingredient in food, a paste to put on stings or bites, household cleanser and to quench flames in a pan of blazing grease or a chimney fire. It should be kept handy in large quantity.

A bee sting may be regarded by most people as a small prick but there are many persons who are hypersensitive to the venom, to whom even one sting may be a serious matter. Bees will rarely attack you even if the insect is in the same room or if it lights on your dress, providing you stand still and don't try to swat at it. In the small space of the car it is safer to stop and get rid of the bee, before it gets annoyed at something. It is on the side windows, it isn't so difficult to run the window down and give the bee which, in its place, is a useful insect, a chance of freedom.

If you are one of those who are sensitive to bee stings, consult your doctor to ascertain whether he can give you any treatment to help to desensitize you.

Garden Notes

Keep On Planting

Far too many gardeners make the mistake of rushing all their seed in too soon. The first fine days they lay out the whole garden and empty all their seed packets. Like house-planting or some other domestic ritual, they seem to think that a certain week-end in May is the day to plant and that much after that it is too late.

This is foolish and wasteful of both seed and effort. With vegetables, it is especially short sighted. Even if everything survives all late frosts or droughts, there would literally result a feast of fresh vegetables and flowers, then things would mature and there would be no more fresh blooms or salad materials for the season.

The wise gardener doesn't get in a panic. He gardens a bit, makes and the grass cut, then he goes fishing or golfing or just sits in the sun and admires what he has done. That keeps him fresh and interested in gardening and next week or the week after he does some more. He usually sows about a third of his seed just as soon as the weather looks safe. Then the next third is put in from time to time, weeks later, and the final third not sown until well into June.

This spreads out the harvest of bloom or vegetables, gives some insurance against unexpected late frosts, or a flood or a curious neighbor's dog, and means that there is something coming on in garden from early in June until after the first killing frost in late Fall.

Fragrant Garden Just For Sniffs

If one has a bit of extra space, a fragrant flower garden will make an interesting and pleasant feature.

Here are grown those flowers noted for their perfume. People don't have to be able to see to enjoy such a garden and it is just as attractive after dark as in the daytime, perhaps more so.

In the old fashioned garden, there was always a bed or two of specially

Many Changes In Schools Of Today

Inspector W. H. Brady was guest speaker at the June meeting of the Dundee W.I., which was held in the Consolidated School. He spoke of the many changes in education he had witnessed since becoming Inspector of Schools in 1927. Dundee was included in his district and he spoke principally about the changes there. Reaching a school then was often difficult for small schools were on back roads and sometimes the roads were impassable for cars so the inspector had to finish his journey on foot.

The following year in 1928, six schools consolidated into one large school in Dundee. These were Isle of Skye, Dundee Centre, Beaver, Godmanchester, Moody and Maybank. Today most schools are crowded. Some so much so that they must be rebuilt or enlarged. Rural schools are almost non-existent, only two still remaining in Mr. Brady's inspectorate, Laguerre and Grande Ligne. In Huntingdon County in 1927, there was one high school at Huntingdon and two intermediate, at Athelstan and Hemmingford.

Text books have undergone a big change, none of the old ones now remaining in use. The last to be replaced was the history, the Pages from Canada's Story. Today's books are beautifully illustrated with more readable material in them. Some subjects have gone from the course and others have been added. Instead of Agriculture, elementary science is studied, household science and industrial arts are subjects in schools equipped for them. In high schools, chemistry rather than physics is taught. Some courses, such as literature have been enriched. More books are read for pleasure rather than for close study. The French is much more practical today, oral rather than written French being taught.

Local teachers' associations have been formed in nearly every area in the province. Around 125 teachers Work Shops are being formed throughout the province. In this area Mr. Brady began one two years ago. Two work shops have been held each year. Teachers of one grade form a group and they choose a project they wish to study. In it they pool their information and ideas. There is more parent-teacher co-operation. Home and school organizations have been formed in many places, Howick being one. As Mr. Brady is a member of this, he was able to give much information about it.

Mr. Donald Fraser, chairman of the Dundee School Commission, and Mr. Franklin Cameron, Secretary, each spoke a few words of appreciation and thanked Mr. Brady for his interesting talk. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Chas. Smallman, assisted by other members of the Dundee W.I. to guests assembled.

Huntingdon K. of C. Win One, Lose One The Past Week

On Thursday, in the game between Howick and Huntingdon K. of C., the Howick team won by a score 6 to 5 in a very close game. The winning pitcher was McRae. The losing pitcher was Theeche-graber.

The batteries for Howick were McRae and Cole, for Huntingdon, Monique, Theechegraber, Bendon. On Saturday night in one of the best games played in Huntingdon by Knights of Columbus, the Huntingdon team came from behind to win by a score of 3 to 2. The stars of the game for Huntingdon were Bissonnet and Theeche-graber. For Esso, Woodard. The winning pitcher Theechegraber, the losing pitcher Woodard.

The batteries for Huntingdon were Theechegraber, Glaude; for Esso, Woodard and Houle. The next local game will be on June the 18th against Howick.

Political Advertising

When advertisements appear in a newspaper that are of a political character, the publisher is requested to carry a line at the top or bottom of both of the advertisement stating that it is a Political Advertisement. In the last issue of the Gleaner some of the advertisements did not carry such lines of type and this we regret. The advertisement pertaining to St. Antoine Abbe School, may or may not have rated being classified as a political advertisement, however the printers inserted the line believing it was a political advertisement. The advertisement was ordered by the various contractors several weeks ago.

Ormsdown Fair Opens This Evening

THIS is the last call for Ormsdown Exhibition, it opens this evening and will continue until Saturday evening. We feel sure that the officials have rounded out a program that will please most everyone, young or old. For the exhibitors much has been provided in the way of prizes and classes to exhibit in. The Horse Show will run throughout the entire period and there is always a heavy program to run through. One of the highlights will be the calf scramble and a large number of entries have been received.

The grounds have been given a going over and the buildings have been checked. It is possible that some changes will be made in stabling the animals on account of a very large entry of horses this year. In view of the fact that capacity crowds were on hand on certain nights at previous shows in the arena, it would be well to book your seats well in advance. Many, many people were disappointed in former years through the fact they were unable to obtain a reserved seat.

The usual school parade will open the exhibition and this is well worth seeing. Much time and effort is expended in making up the exhibit — the floats and the costumes of those with the floats. The theme depicted is usually quite well taken and appropriate to school and exhibition. It is the one time also when band music is a part of the exhibition. The Ormsdown Band plays while the parade through town is made, and part of the time when the exhibit is in the arena. The band plays very well and more of it would be appreciated.

So as the saying goes — We'll be seeing you at Ormsdown Exhibition.

Progress Takes A Step Backward

FOR some time the Town of Huntingdon has had a three-man police force under the employment of the Town Council. Since the election of the present council, it has continually been a bone of contention that the town had too many policemen. The Force has often been under discussion at meetings and from some members of the council there has been urgings to reduce the number of policemen and thus bring about a saving in the cost of that department.

A few weeks ago, it was announced that one of the men had resigned and accepted a position elsewhere. Thus the force was reduced to two men and there is a likelihood that it will remain that way. The plan proposed and which has been carried into effect the past weeks, to engage "Specials" for duty on Friday and Saturday nights and on other occasions when the need arises.

Whether the move will save very much in the cost of the department is something which will have to be seen when this is calculated in the future. Whether the plan is successful is also another matter that will have to be proven by time and trial. Present day working methods are recognized by everyone as an eight-hour day, or its equivalent over the course of a week. In the case of public utilities — and the police force — comes under this category — at least one day a week is allowed off. This fact alone requires that the "special" should be on duty when the other two men have their day off. It is also required that at least once in so often, that each man has a Sunday off and he should also be allowed extra time for holidays worked.

Under a system of two men — and one must be on duty at all times, day and night

Skilled Newcomers

CANADA'S immigration department this year is trying to encourage the move to Canada of immigrants with skills and professions from Britain and Western Europe. In recent years the improved economic climate in those areas has been a big factor in the over-all drop in immigration.

Now Britain's overseas migration board, which advises the United Kingdom government on matters connected with emigration from Britain, has issued a report which clearly shows the attraction of Canada for professional workers.

While the report is of value for Britons contemplating emigrating, it is at the same time a great boost for Canada.

Canada provided the British board with statistics on the intake of 1958, and some interesting conclusions are drawn. One is that "white collar" workers comprised 58 per cent of the "working" classification of British immigrants that year. Another is that the United Kingdom supplied 46 per cent of Canada's entire intake of those in professional occupations.

There were 24,777 immigrants from Britain in 1958, of whom 11,136 were housewives, children and other "dependents." The remaining 13,641 are described as "workers" of both sexes, and among these 3,474 — about 25 per cent — are described as in professional occupations.

A significant table in the British board's report compares the British immigrants with the total immigration to Canada in that year.

This shows that Britain supplied 46 per cent of all those in professional occupations. She sent 59 per cent of all immigrant nurses, 58 per cent of all teachers and professors, 55 per cent of all electrical engineers and 51 per cent of all physicians and surgeons.

Yet the total from Britain was only 20 per cent of the entire Canadian immigration.

It makes interesting reading for those who have been urging a raising of the standards of immigrants.

The Week At Ottawa

Ottawa, (CP) — The Commons has joined battle on government amendments to the anti-combine law, and the debate could turn out to be the liveliest of the current session.

Both the Liberals and the CCF served notice that they will vigorously oppose the amendments. The Liberals maintain that the proposed changes would undo all the good that was accomplished by the abolition of resale price maintenance in 1951.

Justice Minister Fulton, sponsor of the amendments, contends just as strongly that they would mean no dilution of the present law, but would clarify and modernize principles that have been in force since 1889.

The amendments affect the existing law on combines, mergers and monopolies as well as procedures for curbing such practices, and include changes in the present statutes respecting unfair trade practices and resale trade maintenance.

Most Contentious

The two most contentious provisions of the bill introduced last week appeared to be these:

1. While it still will be illegal for industries to combine to fix prices or divide markets and such, they could co-operate on the exchange of various kinds of trade information, restriction of advertising and pooling of research facilities.
2. While manufacturers still will be unable to arrange distributor or retail prices, they would be able to refuse to sell their products to a retailer who persistently uses them as loss leaders, goods sold below cost to lure people into his store.

It was this latter provision that the Liberals and CCF most strongly attacked in opening skirmishes. Opposition leader Pearson contended that it would encourage retailers to act as informers against one another and said the manufacturer would be "exposed to the constant pressures of retailers wishing to eliminate competitors and prevent price cutting."

Mr. Fulton said the Liberal legislation of 1951 had left small businesses "completely defenceless" against more powerful competitors and "particularly against that practice known as loss leader selling as well as a variety of other types of unfair competition."

Small business had complained, the minister said, and the government was satisfied that the causes of the complaints were "not in general beneficial to consumers."

Looking Southward

External Affairs Minister Green dropped a broad hint that Canada is moving toward membership in the Organization of American States.

"We have very much in mind the need for closer co-operation with these western hemisphere neighbors of ours and steps will be taken toward that end," he told the Commons.

Mr. Green was reporting on a trip he had just made to a number of Latin American countries. The Organization of American States embraces all 20 of the Latin American republics plus the United States in a grouping aimed at promoting hemispheric co-operation and development.

Canada traditionally has held aloof from the association. One of the reasons most frequently advanced is that membership in OAS would somehow weaken Canada's ties with the Commonwealth. Mr. Green has made clear that he does not subscribe to this belief.

The minister told the Commons that Latin American countries seem puzzled that Canadians do not realize the importance of Canada's place in western hemisphere affairs.

At a press conference, Mr. Green noted that the Latin American countries are considering forming a trade bloc among themselves. With trade blocs growing up in Europe also, Canada under present circumstances "could find itself sitting outside a lot of fences," he remarked.

Oil from Russia?

Some Canadian oil distributors are considering importing gasoline from Russia, it was reported last week.

But, said Trade Minister Churchill, "so far as I know nothing has transpired" in the way of a deal.

The reports said negotiations were proceeding for import of $9,000,000 worth of Russia gasoline — 60,000,000 gallons at 15 cents a gallon.

Contest Lay on Sable

Prime Minister Diefenbaker had good news for animal lovers. He announced that the government has abandoned its intention of removing 250 wild ponies from barren, windswept Sable Island, 110 miles off the south coast of Nova Scotia.

Protests against the proposed moving operation had been registered by the SPCA and other organizations, who feared that bringing the unwanted animals to the mainland would inevitably mean suffering for them.

Some reports had circulated that the animals, believed to be descendants of shipwrecked animals of former centuries, would be slaughtered, but Mr. Diefenbaker denied there had been any such plan.

Oral Polio Vaccine

Development in the United States of an anti-polio vaccine that can be taken orally is being closely watched by Canada.

However, said Dr. G.D.W. Cameron, deputy health minister, there has been no undertaking to license the vaccine for sale in this country.

Dr. Cameron was commenting on a statement by Dr. Gerald R. Cox, director of viral research at Lederle Laboratories, Pearl River, N.Y., that Lederle has developed a vaccine that tastes like cherries and is more effective than present vaccines.

Canada is conducting its own studies on oral vaccine at the Institute of Microbiology and Hygiene in Montreal and at Connaught Laboratories in Toronto.

Dr. Cameron said he hopes current discussion of oral vaccine will not deter anyone from getting injections of Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Weekly Review

Khrushchev's Performance

By LEWIS MILIGAN

My last article on Mr. Khrushchev and the Summit Conference was written on the eve of that event, and I promised that, despite the U-2 plant incident, he would try to be genial and enter into a discussion of his favorite topic of World Peace — under protest. But the sneak spy flight stuck in his gullet and prevented him with a desired opportunity to give full blast to his unrighteous indignation and dramatically escape from his appointment at the Summit. From the celerity of that performance, it was obvious that it was well rehearsed at the Kremlin beforehand.

Admittedly, that "you-too" flight was ill-timed, and Mr. Eisenhower has been blamed for permitting it. But, in my opinion, the chief blame falls upon Prime Minister Macmillan for making that special trip to Moscow to persuade Khrushchev to agree to a summit meeting. It was too reminiscent of the fateful visit of Neville Chamberlain to Munich. The experience should have warned Macmillan of the folly and danger of trying to placate a dictator. It only inflamed Hitler's self-importance, and Macmillan's persuasion was interpreted as a sign of fear and weakness in the face of Khrushchev's missile rattling.

Mr. Eisenhower was too naive in replying to Khrushchev's spy-plane charges. On the very eve of the summit meeting the Soviet released its biggest rocket satellite, packed with all kinds of spying equipment, to encircle the earth at an altitude comparatively little higher than that of the miniature U-2. If a Russian rocket could photograph the back of the moon 2,000 miles away, how much more and better can the rocket at present circling close to the earth take perfect pictures of every detail on the surface of the United States and Canada!

In the black art of spying and propaganda the Free Nations are simpletons. While Khrushchev was raving against the audacity of a little plane taking snapshots of Russian landscapes, that giant Soviet spying studio was taking panoramic views of the whole American continent.

"What would Mr. Eisenhower have said if our planes were spying over the United States on the eve of this meeting?" thundered Khrushchev at the press conference in Paris. At the same moment his big rocket was doing that very thing. We cannot compete with such blatant duplicity, and we shouldn't try to.

Khrushchev had said that only a graduate would think of starting nuclear war. Was his wild performance in Paris in the nature of a threat that he was coming to the end of his sanity?

"For ways that are dark, and for tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinese is peculiar," wrote Bret Harte. Mr. Khrushchev's hobnobbing with his friends at Peking suggests another quotation: "Evil communications corrupt good manners."

The Story Of The Coming Of Electric Light And Power To Huntingdon

EXCERPTS TAKEN FROM HUNTINGDON GLEANER FILES

January 15th, 1914 — Three propositions were before the council for supplying light and power. An offer by J. B. Jamieson & Son was based on the same terms as the other two offers, and after being read was dropped.

The main clauses in the other two were read — these being from J. G. Dunn and George A. Munro. After much discussion and some amendments, the offer of Munro was accepted. His offer is as follows:

A 20 year franchise for light and power as far as the council has the power.

The lines, poles, etc., purchased for $2,000. $500. to be paid when contract entered into and the balance in three payments spread over three years with interest at 6 per cent.

At the expiration of the contract the council is bound to buy back the lines. Price to be fixed by mutual agreement or by arbitration. The light service to be continuous, for which the rates are $4 a light for all residences, stores, etc., for a 60 watt Tungsten or 16 candle power carbon light. $2.25 for an 8 candle power light or 25 watt Tungsten, Churches, Halls, etc., half price.

Any person using $125 worth of light per month may have a meter installed. The meter rate to be not more than 10 cents per kilowatt hour. The meter to be rented at a price to be agreed upon.

Current will be furnished for the street lamps, 32 candle power at $12 per light. The village must take at least 60. At any time during the term of contract the contractor may sell his franchise, providing all the obligations are accepted by the purchaser.

For the sum of $2,000 he will pump into the corporation the same amount as it now stands. For all extra used by tanks, boilers, etc., he is to receive 4c a 1,000 gallons and for all new connections 40 per cent of the revenue.

The power-house is to be rented for $5 a year. The school and municipal taxes and $1,000 insurance on the building and pumps to be paid by the contractor.

After consideration price for street lamps was set at $10.00 allowing council to use what kinds of lamps it wished. The amount before a meter could be installed was reduced to $1,000 a month.

February 19th, 1914 — Considerable and lengthy discussion took place on the bylaw, objections were to nearly all clauses and no side wanted to give way. The matter was deadlocked for a time and then a motion was to accept one remaining clause as is. This was agreed. Dr. Walsh on behalf of Munro asked the loan of the bylaw to consider its clauses. He made no mention as to what he would do.

March 5th, 1914 — Still discussion on one clause in contract proposed by Munro. Munro not willing to make any change. Council becoming a little annoyed at the long delay. Decide to meet Munro again and see if amicable agreement can be reached. The whole matter hinges on the council buying back the line at end of contract.

March 12th, 1914 — Owing to Munro not wanting to take light contract unless Council agreed to clause re buying back the line and to the council not wishing to do so, the following motion was made:

Moved by Darius, seconded by Kelly, that the motion made accepting the proposition of George Munro to furnish electric light be rescinded owing to failure of the council and Mr. Munro to agree on certain clauses of the bylaw.

It was decided that the proposition of J. G. Dunn on the board since February 22nd, 1914, be taken up and read. The letter was a request for the right to install, operate and sell light and power for the period of 10 years in the municipality at the current rate, the council to exempt him from taxation and allow him freedom of the streets for his line. After some discussion in which Dunn agreed to supply the same services as Munro if the council would let the line stay in town and with no obligation to buy back. Dr. Walsh said he would accept the same proposition. The council then said that any interested parties could submit their offer in writing to be in by 9:30 the next morning. A special meeting was held in the forenoon of the next day and after further discussion the offer made by Dunn was accepted unanimously. The proposition followed the line of previous submissions with a few alterations. The service to start on January 1st, 1915. The lines, etc., to be bought for cash for the sum of $2,000 paid on February 1st, 1915. The council adjourned to prepare a new bylaw the following Monday evening.

The Week In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — The Province's two main political parties stepped up their vote-catching race this week with only two more weeks of campaigning before the June 22 General Provincial Election.

Both Premier Antonio Barrette and Liberal Leader Jean Lesage continued their province-wide tours in what is believed to be one of the most quiet campaigns ever in Quebec.

The two leaders continued to hammer on several different issues with indications that local issues are playing a more important role than in past elections.

Mr. Barrette's chief theme is that his Union Nationale party should be re-elected on the basis of its record of public projects and aid to farmers and schools.

Mr. Lesage, on the other hand, criticizes the Provincial Government as being responsible for Quebec's unemployment and has accused the cabinet ministers of nepotism.

Unemployment and the Government's Public Works record came in for a lot of discussion in speeches this week by both party leaders.

Speaking in the Gaspé Peninsula town of Ste. Anne-des-Monts, Premier Barrette said there is less unemployment in Quebec than anywhere else in Canada.

The number of jobs in the province would continue to decrease, the premier said, because of the Union Nationale's program for industrial development.

He charged the Liberals had tried to paint too gloomy a picture of unemployment in the province.

But the following night in Hull, Mr. Lesage said the premier made "Irresponsible Statements" about the unemployment situation.

Mr. Lesage said the latest Federal Government figures showed 214,000 jobs in Quebec in April, 41 per cent of the national total.

"Is Mr. Barrette Waiting for Quebec to pass the 50 per cent mark before finding that the problem in worrisome?" he asked.

During the same speech, Mr. Lesage also repeated his charge that nothing has been done under the Union Nationale Government to develop heavy industry in Quebec.

He said Quebec needed a real industrial and economic planning program that would leave nothing to chance.

In another phase of the campaign, Mr. Barrette said that Mr. Lesage has insulted Quebec's farmers by his suggestion of long-term government loans for community centres where the farm population could enjoy social life.

The Liberal leader, Mr. Barrette said, could not have paid many visits to farmers' homes. If he had, he would realize that the farmers represented what is best in Quebec's people. Most of them had attended the family institutes operated by the Roman Catholic clergy.

In Quebec city, while the province's first major forest fire of the year burned near the mining town of Gagnon, Lieutenant-Governor Onesime Gagnon for whom the town was named was presented with a totem pole, emblematic of forest conservation.

The presentation was made ahead a special transportation train which is touring the province for the Quebec Forestry Association.

The 36 inch totem was carved by West Coast Indians. In accepting the totem Mr. Gagnon said it is of the "Highest Importance that the country's forest and animal wealth 'Remain Stable, Serene and unceasingly Productive'."

The fire near the town of Gagnon, 600 miles North of Montreal, burned for several days before being extinguished. At one time it threatened the town, forcing the evacuation of 500 women and children by airlift to Montreal.

Forest in all or part of six Quebec counties were closed to travel because of fire danger but four were reopened two days later.

Saguenay county still remained completely closed at the end of the week and so did part of Duplessis county. Both are on the North Shore of the lower St. Lawrence.

The four reopened counties, all in the Lake St. John area, are Roberval, Lake St. John, Jonquière-Kenogami and Chicoutimi.

Five small fires had erupted in the Lake St. John counties after a spell of warm and dry weather but all were brought under control in a couple of days.

Part XII
Eighty-three persons make up the total number of great grandchildren Queen Victoria had. Her eldest great grandchild, the late Princess Feodora of Reuss, nee Princess of Saxe-Meiningen, was born when the Queen was 60 years of age. Forty-one years separates the age range in this one generation, the youngest great grandchild being the former Mrs. Michael Kelly Bryan of Memphis, Tennessee, USA. As follows are the great grandchildren of Victoria.

1. EDWARD VIII (or David to his family), former King of Great Britain and Emperor of India; uncle of H.M. the Queen, b. 1894 m. 1937 to Mrs. Wallis Warfield Spencer Simpson of Baltimore, Maryland, b. 1896; now residing outside Paris. The former King came to the throne on the death of his father, King George V, in Jan. 1936 and abdicated in Dec. 1936 without having been crowned. His brother, Albert, succeeded him as King George VI. The title Duke of Windsor was bestowed upon him by the new King; however the Duchess of Windsor holds no court position and is deprived of the right to title herself Her Royal Highness. The late Queen Mary, who refused to meet her often referred to her as "that woman". The Duke was Governor of the Bahamas from 1940-1945 and since then has been internationally unemployed. His memoirs, "A King's Story" raised international comment and criticism, not all of it in his favour.

2. GEORGE VI (Albert, called Bertie to his family), King of Great Britain and last British Emperor of India; b. 1895, died 1952; married Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon who became the first commoner Queen England had had since the days of Henry VIII. His health generally poor and totally inexperienced to ever be a King the burden of Kingly responsibility told dreadfully on him and he died as a result a relatively young man at the age of 56, the youngest a King of England had died in centuries. His decision to take the title of George as King was in keeping with the wishes of great grand-mother, Queen Victoria, who let it be known that none of her descendants would ever bear the title of King Albert, that it was her husband's name which must therefore remain alone. George VI and his Queen were crowned on May 12, 1937 and were to have been crowned in India at New Delhi in 1939 but the coming of World War II cancelled the event. In May 1947 the title "Emperor" was deleted from his other titles. He is the father of Queen Elizabeth II.

3. MARY, The Princess Royal, Countess of Harewood, aunt of the Queen, b. 1897 and residing at St. James' Palace, London and at Harewood House, Leeds, England. She married in 1922 Sir Henry Lascelles, who became the 6th Earl of Harewood. He died on May 24, 1947 and was 15 years older than the Princess Royal. This union was considered not to be a love match at the time.

4. HENRY, Duke of Gloucester, uncle of the Queen, b. 1900; m. 1935 to Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott who was born Christmas Day 1901. They lived in Australia 1941-1947 when the Duke was Governor-General of that Dominion.

5. GEORGE, Duke of Kent, uncle of the Queen, b. 1902 and killed in Scotland in an air crash in August 1942; m. 1934 at Westminster Abbey to his second cousin Princess Marina of Greece and Denmark, daughter of Prince Nicholas of Greece and Denmark and of the Grand Duchess Helena Vladimirovna of Russia. Since her widowhood the Duchess of Kent has resided at "Coppins", Iver, Buckinghamshire, England and has apartments at Kensington Palace in London. The Duchess of Kent was a first cousin of Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh but since he married the Queen in 1947 she is also his aunt through marriage.

6. JOHN, Prince of Great Britain, b. 1905, d. 1919 following an epileptic attack.

7. ALEXANDRA, Duchess of Fife, born Lady Duff, died in 1905 created Princess of Great Britain and Ireland by her grandfather King Edward VII. She m. 1913 Prince Arthur of Connaught, grandson of Queen Victoria. She succeeded her father to the Dukedom of Fife in 1912. She was never a popularly known figure of the Royal Family and the latter years of her life were spent largely in seclusion. She was ill most of the later part of her life. Born 1891 she d. 1959.

8. MAUD, Countess of Southesk, formerly Lady Duff and created Princess of Great Britain in 1905 and married Charles Carnegie, 11th Earl of Southesk. Born 1893 she died in London 1945.

9. OLAV V, King of Norway, b. 1903, m. Princess Martha of Sweden, who died in 1954 of cancer. He succeeded his father in Sept. 1957 as King. At present the King is also 19th in succession to the British Throne for he is a grandson of King Edward VII and a legal heir to the crown.

10. ALICE, Princess of Greece and Denmark, now Mother Superior of the Nursing and Religious Order of Martha and Mary at Athens, Greece, born Princess of Battenberg in Feb. 1885; Married 1903 Prince Andrew of Greece and Denmark who died Dec. 1944 at Monte Carlo, on the French Riviera. Alice, born deaf, managed through special training and self-perserverance to speak sufficiently to be understood by the time she had reached her teen age years. Unable to hear even today she reads people's lips and speaks in a deep throaty voice. At the time of her marriage she was regarded as one of Europe's most beautiful Princesses regardless of the fact that a birthmark covered her left eye and cheek. In 1948 she entered the Holy Orders of the Greek Orthodox Church by taking the veil as a nun on the Greek island of Tenos. She established her own Order for the purpose of caring for the orphaned children of Greece left homeless and alone by the war and the Greek Civil War. At the age of 75 in 1960 she undertook a tour of India but this was interrupted by the sudden death of her sister-in-law the Countess Mountbatten in Feb. For a number of years Princess Alice convalesced in a Swiss sanatorium following a nervous breakdown. It was at this time that her son, Philip, was sent to England under the care of the Mountbatten family to continue his education. Twice exiled from Greece, her husband nearly killed by the Greek Revolutionists, her two aunts murdered in Russia in the revolution as well as several cousins and her husband's two brothers-in-law all in some way told on her health. In 1937 her third daughter, son-in-law, two grandsons and her Aunt were killed in an air crash over Belgium and the shock of it brought her out of her illness. Besides her 5 children she has 22 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

11. LOUISE, Queen of Sweden, b. 1889 and m. King (then Crown Prince) Gustaf Adolf VI of Sweden who succeeded to the Swedish throne in Oct. 1950. Louise was formerly Lady Louise Mountbatten, sister of the Earl Mountbatten.

12. GEORGE, 2nd Marquis of Milford-Haven, m. Princess of Battenberg, b. 1892 died of cancer 1938 m. Countess Nadjda de Torby, daughter of the Grand Duke Michael Mikhailovitch of Russia by his morganatic wife Sophie, the granddaughter of the Russian poet Pushkin. The widowed Marchioness of Milford-Haven lives at Cannes, France on the French Riviera.

13. LOUIS, The Earl Mountbatten of Burma, born Prince of Battenberg 1900, the last descendant whom Queen Victoria lived to see. In 1917 he became Lord Mountbatten and in 1947 he was created the Earl Mountbatten of Burma. He married Miss Edwina Ashley who died at Jasscelton, North Borneo Feb. 21, 1960 and was buried at sea off the English coast at Portsmouth. Louis was one time Aide de Camp to the Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor. He was Britain's last Viceroy to India 1946-1947 and India's first Governor-General 1947-1948; Britain's First Sea Lord after 1955 and Chief of Defence Staff after 1959.

14. WALDEMAR, Prince of Prussia 1889-1945 a sufferer of haemophilia, the bleeding disease; m. Princess Calixta Agnes of Lippe. He was twice descended from Queen Victoria.

15. SIGISMUND, Prince of Prussia, b. 1896; m. Princess Charlotte Agnes of Saxe-Altenburg and in 1924 settled in Central America, first at Guatemala City and later in Costa Rica on a fruit plantation where they presently reside.

16. HENRY, Prince of Prussia 1900-1904, died from haemophilia.

17. ELIZABETH, Princess of Hesse and the Rhine 1895-1903 died at the Russian Imperial hunting lodge at Spala, Poland of typhoid fever.

18. GEORGE DONATUS, called Don, Hereditary Prince and Grand Duke of Hesse and the Rhine 1906-1937; m. Princess Cecile of Greece and Denmark, third sister of Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. Both were killed with their two sons and his mother in an air crash over Belgium.

19. LUDWIG, Prince and Grand Duke of Hesse and the Rhine, b. 1907; m. Miss Margaret Campbell Geddes of Dublin, Ireland on the day after his brother and family perished in the air crash, at a private ceremony in London, England. Resides at Castle Wolfsgarten near Darmstadt in West Germany.

20. OLGA NICOLAIEVNA, Grand Duchess of Russia 1895-1918.

21. TATIANA NICOLAIEVNA, Grand Duchess of Russia 1897-1918.

22. MARIE NICOLAIEVNA, Grand Duchess of Russia 1899-1918.

23. ANASTASIA NICOLAIEVNA,

Grand Duchess of Russia 1901-1918.

24. ALEXIS NICOLAIEVITCH, Grand Duke Tsarevitch of Russia 1904-1918. All were killed with their parents at Ekaterinburg, Siberia by the Bolsheviks. Their bodies were never found.

na Lambrino, called Zizi, and the marriage then annulled because of his parents disapproval of the union. Miss Lambrino died in Paris of cancer in 1953. He married second, Princess Helen of Greece, great granddaughter of Queen Victoria, from whom he was divorced in 1928. He married third Mme Elena Lupescu, nee Wolff, called Magda, after living with her for 25 years. They were married once in Rio de Janeiro in 1947 and again in 1949 at Estoril, Portugal in the rites of the Romanian Orthodox Church. Carol died at Estoril and his wife resides there in the Villa he bought for her some years ago.

26. ELIZABETH, formerly Queen of Greece, nee Princess of Romania 1894-1956; married and divorced King George II of Greece, great grandson of Victoria, who died in Athens 1947. After her divorce from the King on the grounds of desertion she remained at Bucharest, the Romanian capital but was driven into exile by the Communists in Jan. 1948. She went to Cannes, France where she died and was laid to rest at the family burial grounds at Sigmaringen, West Germany.

27. MARIE called Mignon, Queen Mother of Yugoslavia, b. 1900 on the same day as Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester. She married King Alexander I of Serbia (after 1929 of Yugoslavia) who was shot to death at Marseilles, France in 1934. The Queen Mother escaped to England ahead of the invading Germans in 1940 and has remained there since. She is a very wealthy woman but lives frugally as though in penury. She is now an invalid resulting from rheumatism and arthritis.

28. NICHOLAS, Prince of Romania, b. 1903; m. Miss Joanna Dioletti-Dimitrescu, a divorcee. As a result of this marriage Nicholas was kicked out of Romania by his brother Carol II and took the name of Nicholas Brana. He returned to Romania after his brother was exiled and was reinstated as a member of the Royal House under the title of Prince Nicholas of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen. When the Communists took over in Romania he was able to live on there until 1948 when they drove the Royal Family into exile. First to Switzerland and later to Spain, Nicholas and his wife now live in Madrid.

29. ILEANA, Princess of Romania, b. 1909; m. first and divorced Archduke Anton of Austria, Prince of Hungary; m. second Dr. Stefan Issarescu of Boston, Mass. She now resides at Newton, Mass. She was driven into exile from Romania in 1948 and went to Switzerland, thence to Argentina where a business deal fell through. Her first husband was not permitted entry into the United States because of his war record in the German Army, the marriage broke up and Princess Ileana moved to the United States with her children.

30. MIRCEA, Prince of Romania 1912-1916 died of typhoid fever.

31. MARIE KIRILLOVNA, Princess of Leiningen, born Princess of Russia and in 1924 created Grand Duchess of Russia by her father, the Grand Duke Kirill. Born in 1907 she died while on a visit to her brother in Madrid in 1951. She married Prince Karl of Leiningen who died of starvation in a Russian Prisoner of War Camp in 1946.

32. KIRA KIRILLOVNA, Princess of Prussia (titled the same as her sister above) b. 1909; m. Prince Louis Ferdinand of Prussia, grandson of the late ex-Kaiser William II and presently Claimant and heir to the German throne. Reside at Bremen, West Germany where the Prince has been a representative for the Ford motor Company for years.

33. VLADIMIR KIRILLOVITCH, Grand Duke of Russia, b. 1917 (Haiko-Borgo, Finland; married the widow Mrs. Sumner Moore Kirby whose husband had perished in a Nazi war camp in Feb. 1945. She was born Princess Leonida Bagration-Mukhranski of the Royal House of Georgia in south Russia. Vladimir is the legal Claimant to the throne of the Tsars of Russia but is most unlikely that he will ever see Russia. He resides at Madrid, Spain. For several years he worked in England.

34. GOTTFRIED, 8th Furst zu Hohenlohe-Langenburg, b. 1897 died May 11, 1960 of cancer of the pancreas at Schloss Langenburg, West Germany. He married Princess Margaritha of Greece and Denmark, eldest sister of Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh who survives him.

35. MARIE MELITA, Duchess of Schleswig-Holstein, nee Princess of Hohenlohe, b. 1899; m. Prince Frederick, Duke of Schleswig-Holstein-Glucksburg. They reside at Glucksburg, Schleswig-Holstein West Germany.

36. ALEXANDRA, Princess of Hohenlohe, b. 1901. Resides at

High Schools to Face New Educational Crisis

High schools across Canada are about to face a new kind of educational crisis this fall, according to an article in Maclean's.

Reporting on the coming effects of the postwar "baby boom," Robert Walker warns that secondary schools will not be able to overcome teacher shortages and crowded classrooms by the same methods elementary schools have used in recent years.

One reason is that a year of high schooling costs more than twice as much, per student as a year of elementary schooling, because high-school teachers are paid more, and building are more elaborate, Walker says. Yet school boards cannot overcome the extra cost by established money-raising methods "because they're running out of places to look for more credit."

They're also running short of Langenburg.

37. IRMA, Princess of Hohenlohe, b. 1902; is doctor's assistant at Heilbronn, West Germany.

38. ALFRED, Prince of Hohenlohe, 1911-1911, lived two days.

39. ALVARO, 4th Duke of Galliera, nee Infante di Bourbon-Orleans, b. 1910; m. Miss Carla Parodi Delfino of Rome, Italy where they now reside.

40. ALONSO, Infante (Prince) di Bourbon-Orleans 1911-1936, killed in the Spanish Civil War.

41. ATAULFO, Infante di Bourbon-Orleans, b. 1913; resides in Spain.

possible sources of new teachers. In the past, some shortages, for instance, were made up by getting married women to return to their old jobs in the classroom, but they can't be expected to remain indefinitely.

Automation seems likely to be of only very limited help in the teacher shortage, Walker reports. He says Assumption University in Windsor, Ont., is trying out a language-teaching device, but no high school is using one. And authorities cannot foresee educational television replacing even one teacher "for several decades at least."

Electronic exam-marking machines, already in use in Alberta and B.C. and due for their first use in Ontario this year, can relieve teachers of time-consuming work at the end of each term. But even the strongest proponents of these machines admit they'll never supplant human exam-markers.

The 90,000 extra students who enter high school this year and next will need 2,500 new classrooms.

Walker quotes one education researcher as suggesting a need for federal aid to help the provinces and their local school boards meet the new financial crisis.

But other authorities believe several provinces would oppose such aid, and lawyers say the British North America Act would have to be amended to make it possible. Under the BNA Act, the provinces are responsible for education.

In 1959 Canadians spent $16, 148,965,000 in retail stores, an increase of $704,624,000 over 1958 and nearly three times the 1946 total of $5.8 billion.

The Rights of A Widow

A very important subject about which there is often misunderstanding is the rights of a widow upon her husband's death.

Many people have the mistaken idea that widow must accept the benefits conferred upon her by her husband's Will even though such benefits might be of nominal consideration. In actual fact, a widow who has received only a meagre allowance under her husband's Will may ask the Courts to rectify her position.

A case in point recently came to our attention. Out of an estate having a net value of about $100,000, the deceased gave to his wife a legacy of $8,000, the life use of all household furniture and effects and the life use of a residence. The widow, feeling that she had not received adequate provision under the terms of the Will for her future maintenance, applied to the Court for a more reasonable allowance. The Court ordered that in addition to the benefits conferred by the Will, she be paid the sum of $2,180 yearly out of the estate until her death or remarriage.

This particular case arose in the Province of Ontario. Other provinces have laws that similarly protect not only widows but children and other dependants. The intent and purpose of provincial legislation is to ensure that a dependant of a testator shall not be left without adequate provision for his or her future maintenance where the testator has an estate sufficient to provide it. It is a most unpleasant and tragic situation when a widow finds it necessary to ask the Court to vary the terms of a Will for her benefit. Apart from the expense of making such an application, happy family relations are often broken or become severely strained. A moral responsibility, therefore, rests upon all persons who are consulted on estate planning to ensure that the rights of a widow are fully understood.

School graduating from Huntingdon Academy, in 1909. He taught in Dundee for one year, then took a course in the C.C.C. at Cornwall, Ont. Went to work in Regina, Sask., for Real Estate, changing to the office of General Motors, he was transferred to Winnipeg, Man. Later he taught in a Commercial School there until the time of his sickness and death.

HOSPITALIZATION...

BEFORE

"Can you pay?"

AFTER

"How is my patient today?"

QUEBEC PAYS $40 MILLION FOR CARE IN OTHER PROVINCES

- * The Government says it can't afford Hospitalization Insurance... yet, supplies it to other provinces!
- * Quebec tax-payers contribute $40 million each year to the Hospitalization Plans of other provinces!
- * The only hospitalization ever provided by the present Government has been its iniquitous system of "pink forms" at election time. This cost us close to $19 million in 1956!
- * The Government today sets up a new Hospital Insurance Commission. Why, then, was it abolished in 1945?

THE LIBERAL SOLUTION:

1. Face up to hospitalization insurance as being of vital concern to the family and a definite provincial responsibility.
2. Recover our lost $40 million.
3. Immediate establishment of a general Provincial Hospital Insurance Plan.
4. Abolish electoral exploitation of human suffering.

Farm Prices May Be Affected By International Developments

MONTREAL. — In the months ahead Canadian farm prices and production may be affected more by international developments than in recent years, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for May, just issued. The review discusses the current agricultural scene and points out that beef prices have declined as herds in Canada and the United States grew. It also points out that since the introduction of deficiency payments, there has been a reduction in pork prices and notes that U.S. hogs can now enter Canada for the first time since 1952. So far as wheat is concerned, it is essential to consider sales prospects in a world perspective, the review says, especially in the light of postwar gains in the U.S. share of the world market. Total wheat exports for the current crop year expected to approach the previous year's level of almost 300 million bushels, the B of M says. This would mean that combined export and domestic requirements would exceed the estimated total crop, so that a further reduction in the "carryover" could be achieved.

LIVESTOCK ADJUSTMENTS
In contrast to wheat farmers, who are interested in world-wide supply and demand, Canadian livestock producers are concerned almost exclusively with the Canadian and U.S. markets, the review adds.

As it is, U.S. herds are increasing steadily and as a result there may be a further drop in Canadian cattle exports south of the border. In hog production, the review notes that the embargo against importation of American animals imposed in 1952 has now been lifted. As a result, it can be expected that U.S. pork prices will influence Canadian prices.

Even so, the outstanding single factor for Canadian hog producers today is the new deficiency-payment system, the B of M believes. Now four months old, the plan has been at least partly responsible for hog marketings falling from the highest-ever figure of 262,000 in the week immediately prior to the start of the plan to the subsequent average of only 148,000 weekly.

But, continues the review, "domestic consumption of pork in 1959 was at a very high level, nearly 20 per cent above 1958, no doubt as a result of relatively low prices. With prices still lower in 1960 to date, domestic consumption has been maintained at close to last year's level."

ADEQUATE MILK
In dairy farming, the bank says a broad measure of price support is accorded to the industry "to ensure income stability to milk producers and an adequate and continuous supply of milk."

"In addition, price supports have been used to influence the pattern of milk utilization in order to effect a balance between output of different dairy products," and recent changes in the structure of price supports have partially achieved this objective, the B of M review adds.

King Reid Carnival Plays Ormstown Fair Third Year

More rides and more shows than ever before exhibited in its 20 year history will highlight the Magic Kingdom of the Mighty King Reid Carnival when it opens for its third year at the Ormstown Fair Wednesday, June 8th and plays through Saturday night, June 11th.

In the realm of rides, four all-new rides, conceived and caparisoned, combine the ingenuity and design of the top ride manufacturers in the country to thrill and chill all comers. The Super-Tilt-A-Whirl spins and dips; the Catapulting Paratrooper provides 12 thrills a minute with its rapid swinging action; the Sensational Scrambler operates on the principle of centrifugal force; and the Flying Coaster which was introduced last year, broke all records at the Canadian National Exhibition and is one of only seven manufactured in the world.

Other major rides include the Merry-Go-Round, the Ferris Wheels, the Dipsy Doodle, the Old Roller Coaster, the Fly-O-Plane, the Scooter and the Comet.

For the children, King Reid has set aside a section of his Magic Kingdom especially for their pleasure. In this area are rides tailor-made for them which include the Whip, Speed Boats, Miniature Autos on a Junior Turnpike, a tiny Ferris Wheel and Acroplanes.

In the realm of shows, Col. Lewis Alters' Circus Side Show, "Can It Be Possible?" features free of charge a menagerie in small gaily painted circus cages which include an ocelot from Central America, a Humble Woolley from the Moon Mountains of the Belgian Congo, "Keno" the Giant Rhesus, a rare black Spider Monkey and a "What-Is-It?" creature that has the pointed ears of a rat, the long tail of a monkey, the tapered nose of a fox, the shaggy hair of a bear and the savage claws of a Giant Hawk. Performing baby monkeys do their bit to entertain children of all ages. In addition, Col. Alter presents Lady Viola, "The world's most beautiful tattooed woman," who is tattooed from her lovely neck to the tip of her toes; Schlitzie, the Pin-Head Girl, the last of the Aztecs from Old Mexico, 'Mysto' the Magician, his famous shrunken heads from the Amazon in Central America originally in Ripley's collection and specimens of a two-headed baby and the Siamese Twins. Col. Lew Alter carries on in the old tra-

Letter To The Editor

Huntingdon, Que. June 3, 1960.

Editor of The Huntingdon Gleaner, Huntingdon, Que.

Dear Editor,

Allow me to express not only my opinion but the opinion of those who have to traverse on Henderson St. in your village. We are well aware of the fact that there is a great contradiction as to where a new bridge will be built. The local merchants seem to be under the impression that by erecting the bridge on the East end of town it would discourage the tourist from doing business in their fair village. Would not the present condition of Henderson St., deter dition of Buffalo Bill who broke him into the outdoor show business 47 years ago.

The Rollicking Rock 'N Roll Revue, "Club Ebony" is another outstanding attraction in the realm of shows. It has twelve colored performers, a Sensational Dixieland Trio, a comely Creole Chorus, a hilarious comedian Lawrence Williams and Chita and her Cha-Cha-Cha dancers direct from Las Vegas. This is a minstrel musical revue featuring Rock 'N Roll rhythms.

Other attractions are the Death Valley Man-Killing Snakes, Lila, the toast of Las Vegas, the Club 17 Revue and the Congo Show, a spooky journey through the dense jungle of Africa.

The Mighty King Reid Shows return to the Ormstown Fair by popular demand for its third year at this Canadian Fair. A neon-embellished Ferris Wheel and a Front Gate paneled with State Seals and the Coat-of-Arms of the different States and Provinces that the Mighty King Reid Shows have toured will mark the location of the Magic Kingdom where fun and frivolity will reign supreme at the Ormstown Fairgrounds beginning to-night (Wed.).

"In-A-Hurry Driver" Is Campaign Target

The motorist who risks his own safety and the safety of others trying to make time in traffic will be hit by safety groups all over North America this summer. This familiar road nuisance is the target for the continent-wide "Slow Down and Live" campaign, sponsored in Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Council during June, July and August.

Provincial and state organizations in Canada, the United States and Puerto Rico, guided by the Association of State and Provincial Safety Co-ordinators, plan an all-out campaign to bring back to highway travel some of the fun and pleasure it once had. One of the ways to do it, they believe, is the elimination of the motorist who calls on every mile he knows to get where he is going as fast as he can, regardless of the rights or safety of others. The driver's selfishness can result in anything from ruffled tempers to death in traffic, the Council warns.

Participation in the annual "Slow Down and Live" campaign is promised by federal, provincial and municipal governments and police and by industry, service and fraternal organizations, women's groups and many more. They will use the drive's 1960 slogan, "Highway Safety Can Make Driving Fun!"

Apples From Cold Storage—Like From Tree

Like to taste an apple with a difference? Then try a Sleeping Beauty! No, it's not a new variety of apple. It's one that, even at the end of a long winter, comes to you with that straight-off-the-tree taste.

Like their fairy-tale namesake who slept for a hundred years and woke to find herself still youthful, Sleeping Beauties emerge from months of storage with the characteristic crispness and succulence of freshly-picked fruit.

A new kind of winter storage for apples is the secret behind this fairy tale come true. Technically known as controlled atmosphere storage (CA storage for short), the recently-developed technique represents a major advance over cold-storage methods formerly used. Some varieties of apples when kept too long in normal cold storage develop a low-temperature disorder and cannot be kept very long when returned to normal temperatures.

CA storage, in which apples are placed within hours of being picked, arrests the normal ripening process to which all fruit is subject and the apple remains in this state of suspended animation for as long as it remains in storage. Apples can be kept in CA storage for a year or longer although they are not normally stored in this fashion for longer than eight or nine months.

Under CA conditions the temperature around the fruit is reduced, the humidity increased, the amount of oxygen available to the fruit lowered, since oxygen is a necessary ingredient of the ripening process, and the amount of carbon dioxide increased, which also helps to retard the ripening process.

The CA process, which was originally developed in England and which has now been adopted in major apple-growing areas in Canada, has proved particularly successful with some varieties of apples, notably the Quebec McIntosh.

Most of the Quebec apples which are on sale throughout the province now, are CA-stored apples. Controlled atmosphere storage is now available at the major apple-growing areas in Quebec and one of the most modern CA plants in North America was officially opened recently at Freilghsburg in the Eastern Townships.

Surveying job
Home should be the safest place in the world but statistics show that a great many accidents - killing accidents, too - occur in the home. A careful survey of the house, from the roof to the basement and grounds, will reveal accident hazards and these should be remedied promptly. Most of them may require a little work with hammer and nails; small repairs to faulty electrical equipment or new cords. With the accident hazards removed by periodic surveys, the home could be a safe place.

Two Car Collision At The Heights

The Jack Jupp Car

The R. F. Patch Car

A two-car collision occurred at the corner of Maple Avenue, on Monday, June 6th, at 6 p.m. Mr. Jack Jupp of the Heights coming along Trudeau from West to East and Mr. Roswell F. Patch of Springfield, Mass., coming along Maple from North to South collided at the intersection. Mr. Jupp and Mr. Patch escaped injury but Mrs. Patch was bruised and shaken up and taken to the nearby home of Mr. and Mrs. Clary Jobber. Mrs. Jobber kindly attended to her and gave her coffee. Constable Vallières of the Provincial Police investigated. Both cars were travelling at the moderate speed of 20-25 miles per hour. Mr. John Mercer, owner of a Service Station, estimated that damages to Mr. Jupp's car were around $700. Mr. Patch's car was damaged in the amount of $500. A truck which was used to get Mr. Patch's car going. Mr. John Mercer arranged towing of Mr. Jupp's car to the Chateauguy Automobile Engr. Our alert young carrier boys John and Arthur Preston reported this accident and Bruce Jobber teenager supplied the photographs. Our thanks to these boys.

Traffic Accidents Numerous In Chateauguy Area

On May 30th, at 3:15 p.m. on Route 4, Caughnawaga, a 1956 Pontiac sedan owned and driven by Romeo Morin, age 31 of R.R. 2, Chateauguy, collided with a 5-ton International truck owned by Gerard Henry, age 29, of St. Christostome which was driven by Roger Bourdeau, also of St. Christostome. Morin's car had slowed down to allow some ducks to cross the road and was almost stopped when his car was struck by the truck which was following. Damage to the car amounted to $1,000. Officer Vallières of the Provincial Police investigated.

On June 2nd, at 6:30 a.m. on Route 4 near Caughnawaga a 1959 Pontiac sedan owned by a Mr. Gespe, age 30 of 346 Markham St., Toronto, collided with a 1956 Ford sedan owned and driven by Jean André, age 30, St-Jean-Baptiste St., Chateauguy. Each car was damaged to the extent of $100. Officer R. Roussy investigated.

An accident occurred at 8:10 p.m. on June 3 on Route 4 at Chateauguy involving a 1955 Ford station wagon owned by Paul Pigeon, age 22 of 110 Des Erables St., Valleyfield, and a 1952 Vanguard sedan driven by Peter G. Martin, age 23, of Caughnawaga. The Vanguard was attempting a left turn at the time of the accident. The Valleyfield vehicle was damaged to the extent of $900, while the car from Caughnawaga was damaged to the extent of $300. Officers Vallières and Marchand investigated.

Also on Saturday, an accident occurred on Route 3 in Chateauguy, when a 1953 Buick sedan owned by Emilen Mahet, age 43, Chateauguy, was struck from behind by a 1955 Pontiac coach driven by Alexander Jacob, age 30, of Caughnawaga. $200 damage was done to each car. Officers Vallières and Marchand investigated.

At 1:25 p.m. June 4, at the exit of Mercier Bridge on the Caughnawaga side, a 1952 Jeep driven by Jean-Marc Henri, Lacoste St., Ste. Philomene, was damaged to the extent of $20, while passing a 1955 Chevrolet sedan owned and driven by Mrs. Florence Cardinal, age 31, of 2955 Maplewood

Will There Be An A & P Store In Chateauguy?

(By Mrs. K. Small)
More news about our A & P store. Mrs. S. Mackey of St. Louis Street, who started the ball rolling on this venture and has contacted all the developments that are interested in having an A & P store in Chateauguy, informs the Gleaner reporter that there is a good chance of getting an A & P store but not necessarily in West End Commercial Centre. They have had several bids and will look over the entire area this week-end so maybe next week's column will answer the questions of where and when.

Chateauguy H. O. A. To Hold Meeting Wednesday, June 15

(by Robert Wormald)

A general meeting of the home owners association will take place next Wednesday, June 15th, 8:15 p.m. sharp at the Chateau Gai Motel.

Business on the agenda will be to nominate several of the members to represent this area on the school board committees and at the town council meetings. They will also nominate members to form a rink committee.

As this will be last meeting until September how about a good turnout. Come and bring a neighbour!

Plans are well underway for the dance to be held by the association on Friday June 24th. The dance will take place at the Chateauguy Heights Recreation Club on Carlyle Ave. An orchestra has been engaged and there are scads of prizes.

Television And Radio Stars In Chateauguy, On June 10th

The official opening of the "Salon Renault de France" will be held in the showrooms of Marc Laberge Inc. on Friday, June 10th, between 7 and 10 p.m.

Many television and radio stars will be on hand to greet you that evening. Marc Laberge, the smiling owner did not spare any effort to make this evening a success. Bert Atkins, your favourite sports commentator will be present. Bert Atkins is featured daily on "Montreal Matinee". The ladies will have the opportunity of talking to Jean Coutin and Henri Bergeron, two French Television's most popular stars. Louis George Arpin, Canadian Judo Champion, will be pleased to answer all your questions on Judo and you will certainly enjoy his remarkably friendly manner. Marc Laberge did not forget the gentlemen, for in this French decor you will have the pleasure of meeting "Clairette" the little French girl from Marseille. While she does not speak too much English you will feel the warmth of her heart by looking at her sparkling eyes.

Marc Laberge extends an invitation to all to come to his showroom on route 3-4 on Friday, June 10th.

When Will Postal Delivery Begin?

(By Mildred McCutcheon)
Copy of a letter sent to Postmaster General Hamilton by a local resident who wishes it to be published.

The Post Master General My dear Mr. Hamilton:

Some weeks ago, a letter was written to you in regard to the door to door delivery planned for Chateauguy. The answer and subsequent action do not agree. Notice of regulations were to be passed to every household. This has not been done.

Copies of regulation requested were not delivered to the writer. Rumours have spread in this local that the starting date of delivery has been delayed until July.

As present ratio of mail boxes is less than 15% - by count - do you intend to start mail delivery regardless? If so - when?

Will personnel be hired to handle sorting as well as delivery in our area? A recent count shows that many homes are not equipped with mail boxes but we feel sure that this will not hinder the commencement of mail delivery in our area. The people would be interested in hearing facts as to when this service will be established.

Over $1,200 Realized From Church Bazaar

(By Mildred McCutcheon)

St. Andrew's United Church annual Bazaar sponsored by the Woman's Association which was held on Saturday, at the Memorial Hall and on the Church grounds, was an outstanding success according to reports. Delighted children stood in line for turns on the "Western" carousel and the Explorers' Fish Pond was a hive of activity. The afternoon tea was well attended and the cold turkey and ham supper which followed later was exceptionally well attended. All booths did a thriving business with the car wash being well attended. Knives, scissors and clippers were sharpened, flowers were sold, parcel post sold out early in the afternoon and all in all, St. Andrew's had a Great Day. Mrs. King, President of the Woman's Association reports that well over twelve hundred dollars was realized.

Blue Sky Revue Well Received

The Blue Sky Revue was presented on Saturday evening at the Julius Richardson School Auditorium to a fairly large crowd. Disappointing in the way of attendance for the producer, those attending were entertained in a wonderful way and were certainly appreciative if applause was any guide. Outstanding performances were given by Carol and Sandy with our own Gordon MacGe getting into the act by singing the "Dummy". Music by Gladys Asquith was received with enthusiasm and young Billy Blythe on the drums went over big with the younger set. The White Spots were received with great applause and the "Golden Tones" brought the house down. These four young lads held the audience for close to an hour and were allowed to leave the stage with great reluctance. We are sure that these boys have a great future in the Entertainment World and we hope to hear them again very soon. The first three rows were occupied by our friends from Vetville who were transported by members of Legion Branch 108 and they seemed to enjoy the show immensely. We sincerely trust that Mr. Tom Blythe, Producer will see fit to bring his troupe our way in the near future and that attendance will be greater. Unfortunately other events in Chateauguy, on Saturday, cut the attendance.

When Marconi received in Newfoundland in 1901 a radio signal broadcast from England it disproved the experts' theory that radio waves couldn't get around the curvature of the earth.

Clean-up Parade Turns Into Political Parade

(By Mildred McCutcheon)

Mr. Fernand Beaudry, former Secretary and newly elected Vice President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce wishes to convey thanks to the Authorities of Chateauguy Centre and Chateauguy Station for their cooperation during Beautification Week. To everyone who helped with the clean-up sincere thanks are also extended.

The cooperation of people in cars following the fire pump during the parade was greatly appreciated, but some assistance. Anybody interested in lending a helping hand kindly contact them at the above phone numbers.

The tickets for the dance are $1.50 per couple. These various committees are working very hard as this is the first social event the association has held. Come one, come all, lets make this an annual affair. Refreshments will be served.

Anybody needing a babysitter for this evening contact Mrs. Ann Kennedy at OX 2-8642.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Elects New Officers

The Chateauguy Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting on Monday, May 30th at Notre Dame De L'Assomption Church Hall. The following were elected to office:

Mr. Richard Bourdon, President; Messrs. Janoh St. Onge, Marcel Veau and Fernand Beaudry, Vice-Presidents; Mr. Bruno Lefebvre, Secretary. Congratulations to you Gentlemen and good wishes for a successful year.

Improved Travel Over Mercier?

(By Mildred McCutcheon)

A local citizen has submitted the following but does not wish his name to be published.

A few weeks ago, a local Association wrote to Director Beauregard, Head of the Provincial Traffic Police regarding the situation on Mercier Bridge. It was pointed out that—with the advent of summer weather and touring too, the moving of bottle neck would get worse—very soon, unless steps were taken. The letter was not written in a critical way, information and suggestions were included.

About a week later an answer was received, indicating that the problem had been referred to the Roads Department. During the week of May 16th to May 20th, our local people spent about four hours at the bridge. The evening of May 18th was more or less excusable, only two hours wasted, but the forty minute movements were not. The morning of May 20th was particularly bad and the third such morning during the week.

No therefore no petition, but a good practical suggestion was to "Pass the Buck" deal the local deputy, Mr. Maurice Laberge was called—that did it—although the call was made about 3:45 on Friday afternoon. The following Tuesday a.m. the suggestion was in effect, four Police Officers kept the traffic flowing very smoothly and quickly.

Since then various methods of control have been tried. A day-by-day check of people who get onto the bridge between 7 and 8 a.m. shows that there is a big difference. May 24th and 25th were the best days and since then the maximum time is about 15 minutes. No doubt everyone will be happy about this, and so they should, but they should inquire, why was this not done sooner? There are many reasons:

No. 1—The party responsible for the original action had attempted to have this done last year, but used the wrong approach.

No. 2—Everybody who squawked, did it to his neighbour, not to a responsible source suggestion.

No. 3—The "Flat Race"—The average motorist does not know that the inch-by-inch approach leads to higher gas bills, shorter clutch life, and higher insurance rates. Also less regard or knowledge of the rules of the road and lack of love for his neighbour.

Jean Desjean Visits Veterans At Vetville

(By Mrs. D.L. Jarvis)

On Monday evening, June 6, Mr. Jean Desjean paid a courtesy visit to the Veterans' establishment at Vetville. Mr. Jean Desjean with his organizers were received at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Mitchell. Accompanying Mr. Desjean were Mr. M. Masson, Notary, Mr. Frank Beebe, Mr. Ed. Pelsen, Mr. J. Mr. Desjean's address was brief but to the point; he outlined his programme, assuring all pres-

Local Kinsmen Attend District Convention At Chateau Laurier

(by Mrs. T. Guthrie)

The Kinsmen Convention of District 6 was held at the Chateau Laurier on June 2nd, 3rd and 4th, with the host club being Ottawa with Tuck Blakeney as Convention Chairman.

This year the convention was titled "Silver Jubilee Pow Wow" in honor of District 6's twenty-fifth anniversary on Thursday, June 2nd, registrations started gathering many Kinsmen and Kinettes from all over Ontario and Quebec. Friday, June 3rd, registrations continued being followed by a business meeting for the Kinsmen and a scenic Bus Trip to the Gatineau Parkway for the Kinettes. Later that evening a mixed dinner was held at the Gatineau Club where the judging of costumes took place along with entertainment featuring Myron Cohen along with other "professional entertainers".

On Saturday, June 4th, the business meeting continued with the election of new officers for the forthcoming year. Among those elected were Chuck Duncan of Kingston as District Governor and Don Frost of Pointe Claire as Deputy Governor, Zone 3, replacing Bill Pearson and Bill Tully respectively.

The grande finale of the Convention, the Governor's Ball" was held in the main Ball Room of the Chateau Laurier. Bill Pearson of the Ottawa Club (district governor) made the presentation of trophies to the various clubs for outstanding a.c.o.m.p.l.i.s.h.m.e.n.t.s during the year. The Lachine-Dorval Club dressed as Chinese, were presented with the best costume trophy. The Host Club were dressed as "The Friendly Indians".

Representing the local Kinsmen Club of Chateauguy Valley were Earl Wakefield, President, Dick Noonan, President-Elect, and Tom Guthrie, Secretary, with Mrs. Guthrie, the Pointe Claire, Lachine-Dorval and all the Montreal clubs were well represented at this Convention.

Next year, the District convention will be held at St. Jerome, Quebec, with the Host Club being St. Jerome.

Opening Of Jean Desjeans' Campaign A Big Success

Last Sunday Jean Desjean opened his electoral Campaign in Ste-Philomene and it was a resounding success.

Great crowds of people were standing on the street next to the meeting place and listened with much attention to the speeches of Mr. M. Masson, notary and Mr. Joffre Daignault. Mr. Desjean explained his program himself in a most convincing way and Mr. Roger Filion was Master Ceremonies.

The assembly was presided over by Mr. Raymond Pitre, Mayor of Ste-Philomene and by Mr. Philippe Desjean, father of the Candidate. Guests of Honor present were Mrs. Desjean and Mrs. Filion.

In his discourse, Mr. Desjean explained the reasons for which he had taken over as Candidate in the present campaign, and what he was going to do if he was chosen as Member of Quebec Legislature.

Everyone present could realize that the program concerning Youth, Industry, Agriculture and so on, as explained by Mr. Desjean, was well organized and had a good chance of being accomplished and that it was according to the needs of the County of Chateauguy.

Summer Games Off To Good Start

(By W. B. MacDonald)

The Heights' Recreation Club is sponsoring a Golf Tournament this coming Saturday, June 11th. Tee off starts at 8:30 A.M. at the Beauchateau Country Club in Maple Grove. This event is to be a community affair and will include a Dinner and Entertainment that evening at the Heights Recreation Club. The total cost for Golf and Dinner is $5.00 per person. Golf only $4.00 or Dinner only $1.25.

The Evening's Entertainment will be provided by local golf players and residents and will include Skits, Songs and Dancing. If there is anyone with talent and would like to perform contact Mr. R. C. Fair at OX 2-6624 this evening. Names for Golf have to be in before Thursday, June 9 at 8:00 P.M. so contact either Dave White, OX 2-4096 or R. C. Fair, OX 2-6624 as soon as possible.

The Heights Tennis Club have two of their three tennis courts ready for players and the third one is expected to be ready by the end of this week. The ping-pong tables, darts boards and cards are awaiting all members. Remember Club fees are only $3.00 and tennis fees for married couples $15.00, Seniors $10.00 and Juniors $6.00. If anyone is interested in teaching tennis to the Chateauguy Juniors for 2 hours a day, 3 or 4 days a week, please contact Dave White at OX 2-4094.

Ferns Cassidy and Glen Fair residents of Chateauguy Heights have been engaged by the Tennis Club this season to groom the tennis courts. Both boys live next to the club and we have to thank them for having the courts playable so early this season.

The name of Westaskwin, Alberta, is a Cree Indian word meaning "the place where the peace was made," referring to an occasion on which the Cree and Blackfoot Indians smoked the peace pipe there.

SUCCESSFUL GRADUATION

ANN SULLIVAN

Ann Sullivan daughter of Mr and Mrs. William Sullivan of 208 Salisbury South, Chateauguy, who was among the sixteen graduates of Marguerite de Bourgeois Convent in Chateauguy for whom graduation exercises were held at the school on Saturday evening.

Ann is deserving of high praise for her successful graduation in a French class. She was awarded first prize in English and also first prize in sewing and was awarded a sewing basket for the latter accomplishment. Previous to being enrolled in the Marguerite de Bourgeois School Ann attended St. Willibrod's School in Verdun from grades 1 to 3 and then grades 4 to 9 at St. Michele School in Verdun.

Mr. H. O. Vaillancourt, l'abbé presided at the graduation ceremony on Saturday evening, when each girl was given a souvenir by Reverend Sister Sainte-Justina, Mother Superior, Ghislaine Auger, 11th year student, delighted the audience with a piano rendition of "Two Miniatures" by Fernandez. The girls' choir sang "Etoile du soir" by Alfred de Musset with music by Gilles Rev. Sister Sainte-Rosa, Grade XI teacher, spoke a few words of congratulations to her class.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan entertained in honour of Ann later the same evening, when a large number of friends and relations gathered at one of the local banquet halls, where the tables were decorated with summer flowers.

Successful Dance Held By Parkview Social Club

(By Mrs. F. BERRY)

Parkview Community Social Club, wishes to thank all the people that attended their dance, which was held on Saturday, June 4th, at Marcel Desrosiers Hall. It was a great success. Special guests attending were: Mayor Maurice Laberge, M.P.P. and Mrs. Laberge, Mayor Dave M. Currie, and Mr. F. MacDonald. There were six spot dance prizes, which were cigarettes for the men and White Stretchy Gloves for the ladies. The door prize was a beautiful Lawn Sprinkler won by Mr. R. Decan. We were unable to get the name of the lucky winner of the raffle ticket, a 40 oz. bottle of rye.

Please watch this column for the announcement of the next dance to be held soon.

On Thursday evening, June 2nd, a large group of men gathered at the Chateau-Gai Motel for the C.P.O.A. meeting. However, although the group was large, there were not enough paid-up members there to be able to have the vote re the change in the by-laws. It has been decided that the directors will set another date and have an all day vote and they are quite hopeful that this will be successful.

The guest speaker, Mr. Gordon Sinclair of radio station CFOX, was introduced by Mr. Joe Dooner and gave a very interesting and enjoyable talk on his experiences in radio. Mr. Milton Kemp thanked the speaker.

Dr. and Mrs. Jos. Morris and their four daughters, and Mrs. Ida Morris were overnight guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. C. Blenkhorn and their four daughters of Lang St., en route from Michigan. They have been touring the St. Lawrence and Laurentian areas and shall go on to Quebec, then down to Boston and home.

Sorry if I raised any false hope about a Quebec Liquor Comm. in the village. Apparently permission had been sought, but not granted. Seems that the bank will be enlarged to take in the former drugstore. Apparently someone also tried to get a permit for a tavern in West End Commercial Centre, but fortunately that was squashed.

Don't forget our next Home Owners' meeting on Thursday, June 16th, at 8:30 in Vetville Community Hall. Hope there is a good turnout as the last meeting.

The West End Bowling League night for mixed bowling is definitely Friday, from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. Our social Committee seems to have done an excellent job of contacting everyone. By this time I believe our contract which starts in September is signed and delivered.

Every resident, no doubt, has received a letter in connection with obtaining our fuel oil at reduced cost. Understand other developments have approached their fuel oil dealers and are now entitled to free cleaning service of their burner and will only be charged for any parts used in case of repair. This matter will be brought up at our next home owners' meeting, so don't fail to be there.

In the next week or two the upper part of St. Louis Street will be paved from West End Drive till it turns out on Highway No. Three.

Not only is there to be a wading pool near the IGA in the village, but also a swimming pool in the not too distant future, we understand.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Laberge were guests of honor at a tea given by Mrs. N. Sproston of St. Louis Street. A number of ladies from the development attended and there was quite a lively discussion about taxes, roads, water, etc. Seems nothing definite is promised; we'll just live in hope. However, it was stated that the water situation would be improved in the next month as the pipes at the present time.

Know the reason Laporte Street has no lights? When the contract for lights in West End Development was signed no mention was made of Laporte Street, hence no lights. A street sign has been promised for this week, as they are even without that. The Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Bishop of Montreal, will administer Confirmation on Thursday, June 9th in St. George's Anglican Church. Among those being confirmed are Janet Clark of Principal Street and Douglas Walker of St. Louis Street.

Social Hi-Lites

Belated birthday greetings to Miss C. Leet of 8 St. Luc Street, who celebrated her birthday on June 3rd.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. S. Moneypenny of 180 St. Louis Street on the birth of a baby girl at St. Mary's Hospital. Looks as though Mr. Stork will be kept hopping around here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mooney of St. Louis Street celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary on June 4th. Best wishes for many more. Nice to hear Mrs. Mooney is feeling so much better after being so ill this winter.

Mrs. F. Jones of 140 St. Louis Street gave a birthday party for her mother, Mrs. E. Beauchamp of St. Eustache sur le Lac. Mrs. Jones' sister and brother from Dorval and Ahuntsic were also present with their families and everyone enjoyed a barbecue supper outdoors.

Miss Janet Clark of Principal Street spent the week-end at home of her aunt, Mrs. J. Forsyth of Verdun.

What's New At The Station

By John Pugh

Work on the new bridge going along at a fast clip everything seems to be in order except for a couple of men who went for a swim, it was too warm.

The new development at the station, Riverdrive Housing Project, really worth while. There has been nothing but compliments from those who have seen the houses located on the new street. This is the beginning of a 1000 home project which will stretch right back from the river side to the new highway taking in three farms, those of Bourcier, Roy, and Maril Sears. This should put the station on an even footing as far as new development is concerned. Bisson's Garage looks to be here to stay, and we all wish nothing but the best success. People not yet receiving the Chateaugay Gleaner. Phone me at OX 2-4147 and I will see that you get a copy.

The flooding conditions have disappeared. All that is left is the cleaning up work of the basements and gardens. Notice has been given to the proper people that speeding cars are still getting away scott free along the river front, let's hope it is stopped soon before someone gets killed. Still no word on who will be running for mayor.

The Chateaugay Aquatic Club is getting ready for the 53rd Annual regatta, June 18th, starting at 12 noon. All the regattas will be starting at 12 noon this year, a word of thanks to all those who supported the C.A.C. Dance last week, especially to the Noonan and Miller families. These people have been supporting the Club ever since it was formed, in one way or another. People interested in following the regattas this year at Otterburn, Cartierville, Lachine, Grand Trunk, Trois Rivières (Radisson) and the Dominion's at Ottawa and would like to join in with the club Chartered bus. Please contact John Pugh at OX 2-4147.

Canada A Heavy User Of Hydro Electric Power

It would be difficult to name a country to which the rise of hydro electric power as a source of energy has been of greater economic significance than it has to Canada. Hydro electric power has been of particular importance to this country because of the lack of coal deposits near industrialized urban centres and close to most of the great pulpwood and mineral resources which, along with wheat, were to be Canada's major contributions to the world's rapidly growing needs for raw materials in the mid-twentieth century.

Today, Canada is one of the foremost of power-using nations in the world. According to the Royal Commission Report on Canada's Economic Resources, year after year, there is a steady increase in the demand for electricity. Based on an average annual increase of 6.5%, the Commission expects that the demand by 1980 will equal 390,400 billion kilowatt hours or approximately four times as much as the estimated 1960 consumption of electricity. For reasons of competitive price and multiplicity of use, it is expected that the demand for electric power will continue to rise at a rate equal to or greater than that experienced over the past twenty years. Insofar as the development of hydro electric power has been, Canada has had the advantage of having widely distributed water-power resources in contrast to her other resources of fuel and energy, notably coal and oil, which tend to be concentrated geographically in the eastern and western parts of the country. The Great Lakes St. Lawrence River systems, and the fast flowing rivers and numerous lakes of the Pre-Cambrian Shield, have been of great significance to the development of the economic resources of the mid-continental area. These have provided power which has helped to establish Ontario and Quebec as the principal manufacturing areas of Canada.

Hydro electric expansion in Canada has depended on two main factors; technical progress which allowed the transmission of power over considerable distances and the development of particular power sites to help develop particular mineral deposits and other natural resources. The history of electric power in Canada, as elsewhere, is confined to this century. In 1900 it was just in its infancy and the distances over which it could be transmitted were very small. Electric power by 1905 was used mainly as a lighting source and history reveals that in those days, generating plants only operated in the

This Is Why I Chose Jean Desjean As My Candidate

For the past few years, like every good citizen, I felt the need to bring my humble contribution to the political events of my Province.

As soon as I had the right to vote, the Liberal Party attracted my attention however, as I saw the inertia of this regime, I took over to the side of a more dynamic and promising Party, the Party of the National Union.

The realizations which have been brought about, and the progress made by this last regime, as well during the administration of the late Mr. Duplessis and under the administration of the late Mr. Sauvé and Premier Barrette, have contributed to prove to myself that I was right by taking over in favor of National Union.

Until now, I have always considered that in politics the best man would be the one who could bring the most possibilities to his province and his country, so as to make them both progress in every point of view. I consider, that under the circumstances, Jean Desjean is this man.

A Deputy is the representative at the Legislative Assembly of the whole county, not only of one part of the county or of one group of friends.

A Deputy must have the necessary strength to administer the affairs of his county by himself, without taking directives from persons who are only interested in the affairs of the County when an election is going on.

That is why, I consider that actually, because of the personal abilities of Jean Desjean, and because he is well aware of the needs in all parts of Chateauguay-County in which he has travelled during twenty years as Organizer for the National Union, Jean Desjean is the most able man in our County to forward the best interests of the National Union policies.

That is why, for the same reason, I took with pleasure, the office of chief organizer for Jean Desjean, in the County of Chateauguay, for the coming election.

is unlikely to change in the years ahead and as stated in the Commission Report, investments in electric power are still expected to be within the region of 40% to 50% of all energy industries in 1980.

Lise Trudeau Graduates
Mr. and Mrs. Roland Trudeau, Edouard Avenue, the Heights entertained for family and guests at the "Rustik" in honor of their daughter Lise, following the Graduation Exercises of the "Congregation Notre Dame Convent" which was held at the Marguerite Bourgeoys School, The Centre, on Saturday, June 4th. Little Miss Suzanne Whalen of Hull acted as flower girl for her cousin and held her bouquet as Lise received her diploma. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Trudeau included Mr. Odilon Caza, Grandfather of Montreal, Mr. Guy Caza, of Montreal, Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edouard Trudeau of the Heights, Grand Aunt Mrs. Caza of Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Horace Caza, Dentist of Hull and his wife, Mrs. Whalen and her daughter Suzanne of Hull. The Cure of St. Joachim's Church, Father G.O. Vaillancourt conducted the Graduation Exercises. Mrs. Perry Laberge Lapointe of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Paul Trudeau, the Heights, Miss Denise Trudeau, the Heights and the misses Jeanne and Denise Trudeau, the Heights, were guests along with Yolande and Richard, brother and sister of the Graduate.

Following the Buffet Supper at the Rustik many of the family and friends returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Trudeau for the evening.

Good Samaritan has Crack-Up
Mr. J. Arthur Laberge, the gentleman of good deeds in Chateauguay Heights, picked up Mr. G.R. Farrell of Trudeau Avenue, early Monday morning. Mr. Farrell had missed his bus and ever ready to do a kindness, Mr. Laberge picked him up and gave chase along the Caughnawaga Road hoping to overtake the bus. Near the farm of his son Frank, the truck struck a large pothole and Mr. Laberge who was travelling a little faster than usual lost control. The truck overturned and landed upside down in the nearby field, but fortunately neither man suffered any injuries. Mr. Laberge feels that he has a "Guardian Angel" as twice now in the last few months he has had narrow escapes. Recently while helping to move a house in Caughnawaga, seven blocks of the chimney came crashing down around his feet and he narrowly escaped serious injuries. Mr. Jos Pickard also of the Heights, who was passing by at the time of the accident, picked Mr. Farrell up and drove him to town. Just hope you carry your rabbit foot in future, Mr. Laberge.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Miss Rhoda McFarlane, Salisbury Blvd. the Basin in the sad loss of her brother, Mr. Alex McFarlane, of Montreal. Mr. McFarlane passed away early Monday morning and will be buried from the D.A. Collins Funeral Home, Sherbrooke St. Montreal, in the Protestant Cemetery at Chateauguay, on Wednesday.

Women and Pigs

Women and pigs don't seem like a fair exchange to use but they do to the Chimbu tribe, a primitive people of New Guinea. Much of the payment for a wife is in pigs.

That's why the women prefer to marry a man who already has a wife or wives. The man usually has many pigs and is regarded as wealthy.

"Most Chimbu women feel that they would rather be the fourth wife of a wealthy man than the only wife of a poor bachelor," explains H. S. Pegg, who has led many patrols among the Chimbu people.

The women's desire for wealth and prestige has driven many young men from their inland homes to plantations where they work as laborers. When they save enough money they return home to marry. Divorce is common and the children remain with their father regardless of which parent seeks the divorce. If the woman seeks a divorce, the husband is entitled to a refund of his purchase price. However, if the man wants the divorce, he gets back only part, and the amount decreases for each year of the marriage.

Health Notes

Painstaking of the victorians

Painting does not seem to be so popular as it was in Victorian times but occasionally someone does lose consciousness in this way. The advisable procedure is to place the patient on the ground with his feet a little higher than his head, to increase the flow of blood to the head. A seated person who feels faint should bend forward until the head touches the knees.

Lunch hour athlete

People who work at a sedentary job, sitting for long periods, should not settle down during the lunch period to read or play cards. Even if only for ten minutes, they should go outdoors and walk. These people would benefit from walking part way home, or to walk instead of riding in a bus.

Historical Notes Gleaned From "Sellar's" History

The Late ROBERT SELLAR
Founder of the Gleaner in 1863

It was still in the power of that officer to redeem the fortunes of the day. Experience having convinced him that firing volleys into the abatis was as useless as shooting in the air, he had issued the order to cease firing when Purdy began to move, awaiting the result of his advance to decide what he should do next himself. For an hour, there was not a shot fired between the two armies facing each other on the north bank, save when two skirmishers happened to get into line. When it became apparent Purdy had failed, two courses were open to Hampton, first, to order an assault on the abatis, and he had men enough to have carried it at the point of the bayonet; or, second, to have his field-pieces brought up and clear a lane through it. He did neither. Apparently he desired nothing more than an excuse for retiring to the United States, and, finding that Purdy was unable to make any progress, and that Lard's volleys were futile, he sent word to the latter officer to fall back on the main-body, which he did slowly and in good order, de-Salaberry not following him, and the only annoyance sustained being from the Indians who lay hid in the edge of the bush. By nightfall the army had reached lot 7, where the baggage-train had been ordered forward, and where they encamped for the night. To Purdy no order was sent, and on that officer despatching a messenger to ask General Hampton for a regiment to cover the crossing of his men on rafts, he was astonished to learn that the main army had fallen back two miles, while Hampton's command to him was to march his men to rapid Croche and rejoin him. As Purdy did not choose that his men should undergo the sufferings of another night march, and this time to be tracked by a victorious foe, he ventured to disobey his superior by deferring to move until daylight.

"In a letter Purdy indicates that Hampton consoled himself for the day's discomfitures with the bottle, and was in an unfit condition to take care of the army. and issued the order to his troops to encamp where they were until morning. His men were in a miserable plight, exhausted by fatigue and suffering from cold and hunger, to which was added anxiety as to their safety. They knew the enemy was watching them from every point in the surrounding bush and from the opposite bank, and that an attack was possible at any moment. Their sentries had instructions to be extra vigilant, which they scarcely needed, for the apprehension among the rank and file of the Indians was such that it amounted almost to a panic. Towards midnight, the sentries on watch on the river-bank fancied they saw a movement of troops on the opposite or north bank. At once supposing an attack was about to be made, they discharged their muskets, and in a few minutes their comrades sprang from their comfortable places of repose, and slumbers made uneasy by dread of the Indian knife and tomahawk. A moment before all was silence, but now the air was filled with shouts and cries, and under the trees the men responded to the commands of the officers and got into some sort of order. The officers themselves were deceived by the movements they could dimly discern through the gloom, into the belief that the enemy was massing on the opposite bank preparatory to plunging into the river to attack them. The order came quick and sharp to fire, and the flash of volleys gleamed on the dark waters of the Chateauguay and their sound rolled far and near, carrying alarm alike to Hampton's camp and shanties of the settlers, who believed the enemy to be again advancing. No response came from the north bank, save a desultory shot or two, and before many seconds Colonel Purdy was started on learning that the men he was firing upon was a detachment sent by Hampton to cover his flank — a night attack by the British across the river, being deemed possible — and that he had been shooting his fellow-countrymen and not the British. There was no more sleep and at the first streak of day the men silently fell into Indian files, and bearing their wounded, returned without molestation to the fort at Ormstown and joined the main camp, where the tidings of the unfortunate mistake of the preceding night deepened the despondency which prevailed and strengthened the feeling in favor of abandoning the expedition. In the afternoon Gen. Hampton held a council-of-war, at which he laid before them a dispatch which had arrived by a courier the evening before, to the effect that Gen. Wilkinson had not yet moved, and submitted this question, "Is it advisable under existing circumstances to renew the attack on the enemy's position, and, if not, what position it is advisable for the army to take until it can receive advices of the advance of the grand army down the St. Lawrence?" After long deliberation the council returned the answer, "It is our unanimous opinion, that it is necessary for the preservation of this army and the fulfillment of the ostensible views of the government, that we immediately return by orderly marches to such a position as Chateauguay (Four Corners) which will preserve our communications with the United States, either to retire into winter-quarters, or to be ready to strike below." This decision gave great satisfaction to the army, which began to pre-

Have noticed a new French fry stand outside Claremont's Nurseries and would like to wish both parties concerned in this new venture, lots of luck in the future.
On Monday morning, June 6th, a little 4-yr-old girl was found on the highway Blvd. D'Anjou and was taken by Mrs. Bronay to Chief Dorais who returned her home safe and sound to her mother, Mrs. Ouellet of Normand Blvd. It certainly is amazing how far little feet can travel.
The writer is in full agreement with the article written in last week's Editorial Notes on the number of accident in Chateauguay and it is becoming more noticeable in every edition of the Gleaner of the number of accidents, some of which could have been avoided if only a little more care were taken on the part of the drivers in observing the law of the Highway Code.
It is still observed too that there are quite a number of drivers who either cannot read or just will not take any notice of the STO's signs which have been put up on our side roads.
They may be under the impression that it doesn't matter whether they stop or not, as the roads are off the highway.
But the law is the law and must be obeyed. Our children out play today are the future citizens of Chateauguay's tomorrow. All citizens are concerned in keeping death off our roads and seeing to it that those motorists who insist on speeding along defying the law, are stopped.
The Annual Bazaar held by the St. Andrew's Women's Auxiliary at the Memorial Hall in Chateauguay on June 4th was very successful and thoroughly enjoyed by young and old alike. The hall was very picturesque with an archway of flowers, the different tables around the hall did a very good trade, very rewarding for those who had spent so much time in preparing for the occasion. The children all enjoyed their rides on the "Weston Carousel" and had lots of fun fishing at the "fish pond" run by the "Eagle" Group. Must also say, well done, to the ladies who prepared the most excellent supper.

party, his guests being Mary and David Pacholka, Wendy Jarvis, Larry, Christine and Gillian Stockdale, Brenda Darling, Tommy Ferguson, Chrissy and Michael Kisil. He was overjoyed and had lots of fun opening his gifts, finding the wrappings wouldn't come off fast enough. After the party, all the children went outside on the lawn to play, leaving the mothers who accompanied their children a few moments to sit down for a quiet cup of tea. The children all went home delighted with their afternoon's enjoyment, and through all the noise, Michael's baby sister Lisa who is only three months old slept contentedly in her carriage, unaware of the joys of birthdays in store.

pare for its return to Chateauguay by immediately marching to its old camp at Spears, Orms-ton, tendering his resignation, and another to Wilkinson, to inform him that he could not, from want of supplies, form the junction with him at St. Regis which he now asked, and proposing, instead, that they should combine their forces at the head of Lake Champlain and attack Montreal from there. After a brief rest, the wearied soldiers resumed their march for Plattsburgh, where they went into winter-quarters, the greater part being soon disbanded and Gen. Hampton relieved of his command.
"I have been unable to locate with certainty the scene of this and, if not, what position it is advisable for the army to take until it can receive advices of the advance of the grand army down the St. Lawrence?" After long deliberation the council returned the answer, "It is our unanimous opinion, that it is necessary for the preservation of this army and the fulfillment of the ostensible views of the government, that we immediately return by orderly marches to such a position as Chateauguay (Four Corners) which will preserve our communications with the United States, either to retire into winter-quarters, or to be ready to strike below." This decision gave great satisfaction to the army, which began to pre-

Alan Donaldson has been making extra money these days by making the best of the week-ends. He gets extra jobs here and there. He also expects to work during the summer holidays.
Julie Kaiser, family and friends took a journey to Plattsburg and then to St. Armond's Beach on Saturday. While there they got in some miniature golf. This is a new attraction for those who don't already know about it.
The Watson family and the Walsh family drove to Huntington over the week-end to go swimming.
The Maple Leaf Riding Stable has become quite popular with the last warm weeks. They have 44 horses so there is every chance of getting a horse. The horses seem very well trained and quiet. The Riding Stables are located on Route 4 very close to the boundary line of the Caughnawaga Reservation.
No birthdays this week, the only week since this column was started that there hasn't been at least one, but there will be next week. Keep those phone calls coming in. The column is getting bigger and better and the calls are becoming more regular.

The Editor,
Chateauguay Gleaner.
Dear Editor:
Your recent issues have made many references to "Door to Door" delivery for mail. The local populace are not aware of the facts. This could be the fault of the Post Office Department, yours, your correspondents, the inability to read or the simple basic fact that nobody cares.
According to Post Office regulations — 80% of houses will have to be equipped with mail boxes before the service starts. The present ratio is 15% (Approx.) Boxes in cupboards, etc., don't count. This is from an actual count in the last ten days.
Should you be interested in publishing the actual figures, I can arrange to have a count every week-end. Chateauguay Terrace with 33 homes hold 33 mail boxes. Our count covered Terrace, Co-tonia, Verville (no Apis) Park, West End, Gardens, Station and Heights. Should you wish to publish this in public interest, I will get figures every week-end.
Anyone who needs a box can leave their phone number with the Gleaner Correspondent, Mrs. McCutcheon. The Local Service Club (Kinsmen) is selling mail boxes, but they cannot sell them unless people realize that they need them.
Signed,
Clifford King.

Members of the Canadian Association of Consumers are watching with interest possible legislation in the United States which would present the consumer viewpoint in the formation of the policies of the government.
A bill introduced recently in the U.S. Senate calls for the formation of a department of consumer goods.
The CAC says the United States department would not test brand goods but would organize conferences, publish surveys on topics of consumer interest, and act as a representative in the courts and before government boards and commissions.
A recent CAC bulletin stated: "It is a long and constructive step forward when a government recognizes the importance of protecting the interests of the consumer. If, in the set-up of a government department of consumers, there is included a centralized source or bureau of consumer information and a scheme for direct consumer contact or liaison with department in the form of some sort of advisory committee of representative women — this could be the answer to a consumer's prayer. If the U.S.A. follows through, we shall hope that our own Canadian government will take note."
Colorful Dentistry
Fixtures and appliances for the home have been available in colors for some time and color now has come to dental offices. Equipment is available in seven colors including jade green, Washington blue, coral and ivory tan.
Jadelein Dupere of the color conditioning service of a Canadian manufacturer says the color of a dentist's equipment is the first consideration in choosing a color scheme for his office. In a home the color scheme is chosen from a painting, draperies or the carpet.
To refresh the marred area, dilute three parts of clear shellac to one part alcohol and apply with a soft brush. Allow to dry overnight. If the spot has a higher gloss than the surrounding area, of the floor, dull it by rubbing with steel wool.
By The Pound
It's news to most Canadian women that eggs are actually sold by the pound. The Poultry Products Institute says a dozen grade A large eggs weigh a minimum of 24 ounces, grade A medium weigh 21 ounces and grade A small weigh 18 ounces.

Did You Know That
 A letter posted Air Mail by Mrs. D. Shaw of Ross St., who is visiting in Portishead, England, at 7.00 P.M. on Thursday, May 19th, arrived in Chateaugay Gardens Saturday morning, May 21st. How about that?

Marathon Bridge
 The grand finale of the marathon bridge club took place at the home of Mrs. Jean Hardy, last week. The final game of the season was played and prizes were presented. Doreen Prowse and Faith Stirling took first prize for the first half and Ellen King and Marjorie Little won second prize. The booby prize was won by Jackie Lindsay and Joyce Driscoll. Prize winners for the second half were as follows:—Doris Clifford and Jean Hardy, first, Jane McGregor and Della Grant, second, Connie Dufort and Eleanor Masson, booby.

Plans are underway for the forthcoming season, Doreen Prowse, Faith Stirling, and Millie Downing were elected officers. Mattie Leslie thanked the outgoing committee for their excellent work. Refreshments were served and everyone felt it had been a most successful season.

Knitting Club
 The knitting club of St. Francis Blvd., wound up the season by having dinner in the "Cavaliar Room" of the LaSalle Hotel. After dinner they travelled on to the Avenue Theatre to see "Carry on Nurse". Members of the knitting club are as follows:—Jean Stanford, Faith Stirling, Eleanor Masson, Doreen Prowse, Della Grant, Ethel Grant, Pat Roy and Agnes Hynes. Unfortunately Pat Roy and Agnes Hynes were unable to attend, but a good time

The gathering was held outdoors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cunningham of Lang Ave. Approximately thirty people attended and the evening was spent playing games and singing. Despite the mosquitoes, the party finished off with a Smorgasbord and everybody felt it was a great success.

Birthdays
 Greetings go out to Jimmie Mosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Mosher of Lang Ave. Jimmie was nine years old last Saturday.

Injury
 Allan Stanley, of St. Francis Blvd., is sporting a badly swollen jaw — the result of standing too near the batter in a baseball game.

Week-end guests
 Mrs. M. Seredynsky and Mrs. M. Zimmer were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Zavacky of St. Francis Blvd.

Welcome Home
 Mr. and Mrs. J. McDowell of Lang Ave., have returned from Windsor, Ont., where Mr. McDowell attended the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion. Mr. McDowell was re-elected President of the Tuberculosis Veterans' Section of the Canadian Legion. He was first elected to this office two years ago at the convention in Edmonton, Alberta.

Confirmation
 in Ontario Mrs. McDowell also visited her parents Rev and Mrs. Johnston in Grimsby.

Liberal Candidate
 There will be a meeting in the model house, 77 St. Francis Blvd., on Thursday evening, June 16th. This will give the people in the Gardens an opportunity to meet Honore Mercier the Liberal candidate for this district in the forthcoming election.

Social Evening
 A social evening was held in honor of Mr. Maurice Laberge at the home of Mr. K. Frank Kennedy, for the people who were unable to attend the other social evenings.

The Chat-teen Club
 On Saturday, June 4th, at 8.30 P.M., Miss Patricia Kennedy entertained fourteen teenagers with the view in mind of forming a teenage club.

It was decided to call the group the Chat-teen Club. Mr. Paul Downing will be host at the next meeting where there will be an

Mrs. J. Abbott and several other ladies of the Park honored Mrs. M. MacLean and Mrs. Andrews at a farewell tea last Thursday. All will be sorry to see the MacLean family and Mrs. Andrew

Lake St. Louis Anglers' News

Lachine Rowing Club Spring Regatta
 Last Saturday, May 28th, saw plenty of hustle and bustle around our Clubhouse with the arrival in the morning of the Brockville and Ottawa rowing crews taking part in this regatta. The weather was ideal for such an event and it did not take long for the races to get underway. There were eight events in all, comprising the 145 lb. fours and eights, the 155 lb. singles and open singles and finally the Heavy Fours and Heavy Eights. Competition in every race was very keen and when the gun was fired indicating the winner of the final race, the standing of the competing clubs was as follows:

 (1) Ottawa — 64 points
 (2) Brockville — 63 points
 (3) Lachine — 39 points
 (4) Mtl. Rowing club — 32 points

Special mention should be given to the following "strokes". A "stroke" by the way is the person in the stern of the boat who sets the pace which the others in the boat must follow (1) Jerry Weiss (2) Don Nicholl (3) Don Neilson

Special mention should also be given to those two stalwarts, Charlie Adams and Phil Grant who worked so hard to make the regatta a success.

The dance that evening turned out to be a "whopper" which taxed the capacity of our dance hall. The jazzy orchestra had every one rolling and we hope to have them back again.

As mentioned in the previous news letter, the Lake St. Louis Anglers sent a delegation to the Megratory Game Bird Assoc. meeting and we hope to have their report ready for our next issue.

The "Suggestion Boxes" have now been installed and hope a member with a constructive suggestion or idea about our club should jot it down on paper and deposit same in these boxes.

The water level in Lake St. Louis is gradually receding and the fishing should correspondingly improve. Remember that worms may now be bought at the club and we hope to have a supply of minnows on hand soon.

Members will notice that the club trophies have all been polished up and are now on display in the dance hall. Anglers who would like to see their names graved on some of them should make an extra effort to hook in a real "lunker".

Have you noticed the large sign on Route 3 (Prudential's side), announcing the building of 35 stores to be known as the Shopping Plaza. When this Shopping Plaza is completed, St. Joseph Blvd., will be extended to Route 3, enabling the people of Parkview and Prudential to walk to the stores.

Don't forget the Weil Baby Clinic tomorrow, Thursday, June 9th, at the Catholic Church from 11.00 - 12.00 a.m.

Happy Birthday to Mrs. Clarke of Laurier St., who celebrated her birthday last Wednesday, June 1st.

For those of you who walk to Leclair's for groceries, your walk will soon be shortened. The new building going up across from the Catholic Church is going to be Roger Leclair's new general store. Little Claude Labelle of Circle Park spent a day last week in the hospital for a tonsil and adenoid operation.

Glad to report that the white and beige vegetable truck that comes to Prudential usually Thursday or Friday is owned by one of our neighbours, Mr. M. Nantel of St. Ferdinand St. His vegetables are good quality and very reasonably priced.

The Ice Cream man with the horse and Jingly Bell made his first trip (to my knowledge) to Prudential last Saturday afternoon. The children were so excited over both the horse and the ice cream cone. Two had the cones are 10c each instead of last year's 5c. The children will not likely be able to have a cone a day at that price, especially when there are 2, 3 and 4 children per family.

Alleys have been reserved at the West End, air conditioned, automatic bowling alley. The league will commence September 21. Those interested, keep Wednesday evenings open from 7.30 - 9.30 p.m.

Last Saturday morning at 9.45 a.m. 18 of our boys between the ages of 8 and 13 met at Tony's Restaurant and went to Chateaugay Park for their first practice. It proved to be a real success, so much so that it is to be a regular outing; meeting at 9.45 a.m. and returning at noon. There will always be at least two grown-ups to supervise. Please call in your news by Sunday afternoon to OX. 2-4424.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Henry Lawson
This community was again saddened by the death of Mrs. Henry Lawson (Bernice Pollock) who passed away on Monday, May 30th, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cameron at Wingham, Ont. Born in 1897, the second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arch. Pollock. She lived here until after her marriage to Mr. Henry Lawson. She had been in poor health for some time and never fully recovered from an operation last August. She lived several years in Montreal where she had a very active life. Always of a cheerful and kindly nature, she made many friends wherever she lived. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, two daughters Agnes, Mrs. Don Cameron, Frances, Mrs. Price and one son, James Lawson, seven grand-children, two sisters, Mildred, Mrs. Farquhar and Margaret, Mrs. Graves, two brothers, Howard and Orick Pollock. Several nephews and nieces and cousins. The remains were brought from Wingham, Ont., to J. M. Sharpe's Funeral Home at Franklin Centre and from there to the Rockburn Presbyterian Church where the funeral services were held. Mr. J. Anderson the officiating minister spoke very comforting words to the bereaved relatives and friends. The beautiful floral offerings also went to show the love and respect her many friends felt for her. Relatives from a distance were her husband, Mr. Henry Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Don Cameron, Wingham, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Price of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. James Lawson, Ottawa, Ont., Mrs. Mildred Farquhar, Saranac Lake, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pollock, Detroit, Mich., Mr. Orick Pollock and son Ralph, Peterboro, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. D. Bailey, Springfield, Mass. Pallbearers were Messrs. Walton Mills, Pete Place, Ralph Pollock and Murdoth Rosevear. Interment was in the Hillside Cemetery.

Circus Fever

by Wm. Garden
Unlike Spring Fever, Circus Fever is a type of illness that "chills and thrills the body. It is very contagious to all 'Kids' from 6 to 60 and spreads through a town in a few hours. It all starts when the person begins to see highly colorful and unusual pictures in places where drab and bare walls stood a few minutes before. This generally starts the patient dreaming of "Thrilling Feats, Beautiful Girls, "Onderous Animals, and Gaily Colored tents. When the Circus Fever has gripped the patient, he begins to hear the blare of the Circus Band, the Blast of the old Calliope, the pitch of the Circus Barker, to smell the tasty aroma of Cotton Candy, Popcorn, Peanuts and all the other peculiar things of the "World of Sawdust and Spangles. As the Circus Fever reaches the critical stage, panic spreads through the community, will the patient be looked after, will there be space left, should he have made his reservations earlier. Well he should have but maybe there is still time if he contacts a member of the Huntingdon County War Memorial Committee, now, because it is for sure you will have Circus Fever when Garden Bros. Circus comes to Huntingdon on Sunday, June 12.

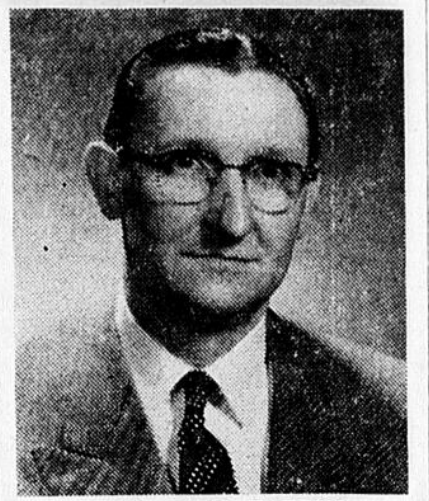

In the coming year industry in Canada will spend an estimated $2.8 billion on new machinery and equipment plus half that amount on repair of existing and equipment.

A TEAM YOU CAN TRUST

Last week, I dealt with the subjects of Hospitalization, Increased Pensions, Education and Farming.

Now, I want to speak to you about three subjects of local importance. Roads, Agriculture and Industry.

ROADS - A master plan for Road-building will be adopted for the County. Road construction will not be "a mile here and a mile there". When we start to build a road, we will complete it.

AGRICULTURE - Ditches, needed and requested for many years will be dug.

A definite program for the apple industry, including the legalization of apple cider will be adopted. A grant of $500. over a three year period will be available to assist in the purchase of chemical fertilizers and sprays.

To encourage farmers sons to buy farms, loans up to 90% of the value will be made. After repayment of two-thirds of the loan the buyer will be given a clear title.

INDUSTRY - A Liberal Government is pledged to assist in bringing new industries to this area.

Sincerely,

KENNETH FRASER

Hon. JEAN LESAGE

says

"When I become Prime Minister, my government, in co-operation with the citizens of Huntingdon, will assist you in establishing industries in this area."

"Highway No. 4 will be completed. Dust is not a charm of this Province."

"When I form a Liberal Government, after June 22nd, I will look to your member, Ken Fraser, for practical advice about farming problems."
