World News In Brief

Miami, Fla., Jan. 16—(AP)—The television audience in the Miami area last night was asked to help in the search for Mrs. Huguette Lemay, 21-year-old Montreal beauty who has been missing since Jan. 4.

Raymond Daoust, brother of the missing woman, appeared on station WTVJ to describe Mrs. Lemay and show pictures of her.

He said he hoped someone in the audience might have seen her and would report it. Several persons have reported seeing a person of her description on the Tamiami trail west of Miami recently.

Coos Bay, Ore., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Eight children were burned to death early today in flames which destroyed their home near here.

The children ranged in age from three to 15 years. Parents of children, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weeks, and one daughter, Dolores, escaped from the burning structure and were taken to hospital.

Montreal, Jan. 16—(CP)—The St. Lawrence river today dropped back within its banks after spreading over low land near several communities on the north shore east of here. Families who fled to higher ground were returning to their homes.

High temperatures during the last few days were credited with easing the flood, believed to have been caused by soft ice piling up in the river downstream from Montreal island.

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 16.—(AP)—British tanks opened fire against Egyptian snipers today at Tel el Kebir in the Suez canal zone, a British spokesman said. At least five Egyptians were killed. Between 120 and 160 Egyptian police were taken into custody.

British forces staged a surprise raid on the villages of Tel el Kebir and El Hammade near Ismailia in what they described as an extensive sniper-clearing operation.

London, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The North Atlantic Council today was called to meet in Lisbon Feb. 16.

Announcement of the new date — the original meeting scheduled for Feb. 2 in Lisbon was postponed — was made by L. B. Pearson, Canadian external affairs minister and chairman of the council.

France had asked the postponement to gain time for more discussion of the projected European army, proposed as a nucleus for the 12-country North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military force to defend the west against Soviet expansion.

Meanwhile the French government has fallen and France is still without a cabinet.

Garson Declares In U.N. That Free World Will Not Submit To Soviet Russia

Canadian Justice Minister Says West's Defences Are Proof Of Determination To Remain Free.

Paris, Jan. 16.—(CP)—Justice Minister Stuart Garson today sharply told Russia that the west hopes its defence preparations are convincing proof that the free world will not submit to the fate of Soviet satellites.

The Canadian minister to the United Nations political committee delivered one of the most blunt and free-wheeling speeches ever heard in the U.N. He repeatedly slammed Vishinsky, who last week made a personal attack on him.

Garson made it clear he was trying to pin down Vishinsky on Soviet proposals for international atomic control made by the Soviet minister last week-end.

Appealing to Vishinsky to pool his intelligence with western leaders to "banish your fears," Garson said:

"We say to Soviet Russia 'if you have any idea that you are going to do to us, one by one, what already you so recently have done to so many European states, we devoutly hope that these defence preparations will convince you that any attempt to conquer and Sovietize us will be for you an exceedingly unprofitable and unhealty adventure.'"

Garson said the logic Vishinsky used in trying to tell the committee that the United States is seeking to rule the world was an insult to the intelligence of U.N. delegates and would not be good enough to get him into a Canadian university.

He said Vishinsky delivered his speech not for the U.N. but for the Soviet press.

But Garson added that Canada is not ready to "pour any cold water on what may be a real advance in the Soviet position." He said he would reserve judgment until he receives more facts.

Then Garson shot a series of questions at Vishinsky on the technical aspect of the problem of atomic controls. He asked:

1. Would a system of international atomic control be all prepared and ready to operate from the time it is agreed that prohibition of atomic weapons would come into effect?

2. Would atomic inspectors be able to go wherever and whenever they wished in the exercise of their functions?

Garson said that Canada believes it is of great importance to "pin down exactly what is meant by Soviet proposals and because we think that the opportunity of getting an immediate clarification from no less than the Soviet foreign minister himself should not be missed."

The Canadian minister said that if the Soviet proposal on atomic control is what it purports to be then it will be "a pearl of great price."

But Garson said Vishinsky must allow the west to look a gift horse in the mouth since the Soviet proposals were made in the context of a speech which blasted the west as war-mongers, exploiters and monopolists.

Reds Violate Geneva Convention

Munsan, Korea, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The United Nations command charged today that communists in Korea "violate every provision" of the Geneva convention protecting prisoners-of-war camps from the hazards of war.

The charge came from headquarters in Tokyo in comment on a Red report that U.N. planes bombed a camp at Kangdong Monday night. The statement said the question would be raised with the communists "at the earliest opportunity."

There was no hint that it was brought up during today's truce talks at Panmunjon. Negotiators still are deadlocked on how to exchange prisoners and what will be done with Red airfields during an armistice.

The communists denied two international Red Cross representatives permission to enter North Korea.

Red China's official Peiping radio accused the allies of trying "to keep Korea in a chronic state of war" to "create international tension."

At Panmunjom Chinese Maj.-Gen. Hsieh Fang said the Reds' latest counter-proposal for supervising a truce prohibits importation of war planes during a truce and therefore guarantees against a buildup of Red air strength.

But he side-stepped a direct answer to a repeated question from Maj.-Gen. Claude Ferenbaugh: Did that mean the Reds would not increase "military air capabilities during an armistice?" Each time Hsieh replied with a question of his own.

In the prisoner sub-committee session the Reds revised the casualty figure from Monday night's reported bombing of Kangdong to 20 prisoners killed, 15 seriously injured and 40 slightly hurt. The original report was more than 10 killed and 60 injured. The Reds have said they held 1,591 South Koreans and one American at Kangdong.

The U. N. command in Tokyo said allied military aircraft were in the Kangdong area at the time of the reported bombing. But, the report said, the allies can't tell whether the camp was hit because they don't know where it is.

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 16.— (AP) — Outnumbered United States F-86 Sabre jets damaged two communist MIG-15s today in two flashing air battles high over northwest Korea.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force said the first fight involved 36 Sabres and 80 MIGS. Later, 22 F-86s battled the same flight of communist planes. One MIG was damaged in each battle.

Infantrymen huddled in their foxholes as sub-freezing weather covered the 145-mile battlefront. Action was confined to a few small raiding operations by the allies and probes by the Reds.

Son Is Born To Wife Of King Farouk

Cairo, Jan. 16— (AP) —Queen Narriman, teen-age second wife of Egypt's King Farouk, gave birth today to a son—heir to the Nile kingdom's throne.

The boy—born at 8:20 a.m. (1:20 a.m. EST)—was named Prince Ahmed Fouad after his grandfather, King Fouad I. Palace sources who announced the birth said the Queen and her baby both were "doing well."

King Farouk has three daughters by his 10-year marriage to former Queen Farida, whom he divorced in Nov. 1948. Under an Egyptian constitutional provision, common to all Moslem countries, only males can succeed to the throne.

The King was married last May 6 to Narriman Sadek, commoner daughter of an Egyptian civil servant. The Queen celebrated her 18th birthday last Oct. 31. Farouk will be 32 Feb. 11.

A steady procession of cabinet ministers, government officials and other dignitaries visited the palace to record their official congratulations. The education ministry ordered all schools closed today and tomorrow.

Until the birth of the baby, the heir-presumptive of the throne was King Farouk's first cousin, 76-year-old Prince Mohammed Aly.

Birth of the boy gives the King one of the greatest blessings that can come to a Moslem—a son. Farida's failure to produce a male heir was commonly believed to be the reason for their divorce.

The communique announcing the divorce said it was "Allah's will" to divide the couple but said the Royal cabinet was praying to Allah "to prepare for King Farouk what will make the country happy," apparently an heir.

Narriman's romance with Farouk was common knowledge in Cairo as a case of a bride purloined from her fiance almost on her wedding day because her charms had smitten the King.

Egyptian censors heavily pencilled all dispatches mentioning the royal romance and the story of the stolen bride could be told fully only by persons who had left the country.

The 16-year-old girl was engaged to Zaki Hashem, handsome, Harvard-educated economist on Egypt's staff at the United Nations.

Newf'dland Fire Takes Five Lives

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 16—(CP)—Pre-dawn flames today roared through a two-storey home in uptown St. John's, taking the lives of all five occupants.

The victims, all trapped in second-floor bedrooms, were:

Lt.-Cmdr. Victor Hampshire, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Hampshire; their two children, Carl, 5, and Paul, 7; and their Newfoundland maid, Katherine Grouchey, 17.

Police Constable Eric Stoyles, the family's next door neighbor on uptown Pleasant street, turned in the first alarm at 4:53 a.m. The flames broke out in the kitchen and burned fiercely to the upstairs rooms.

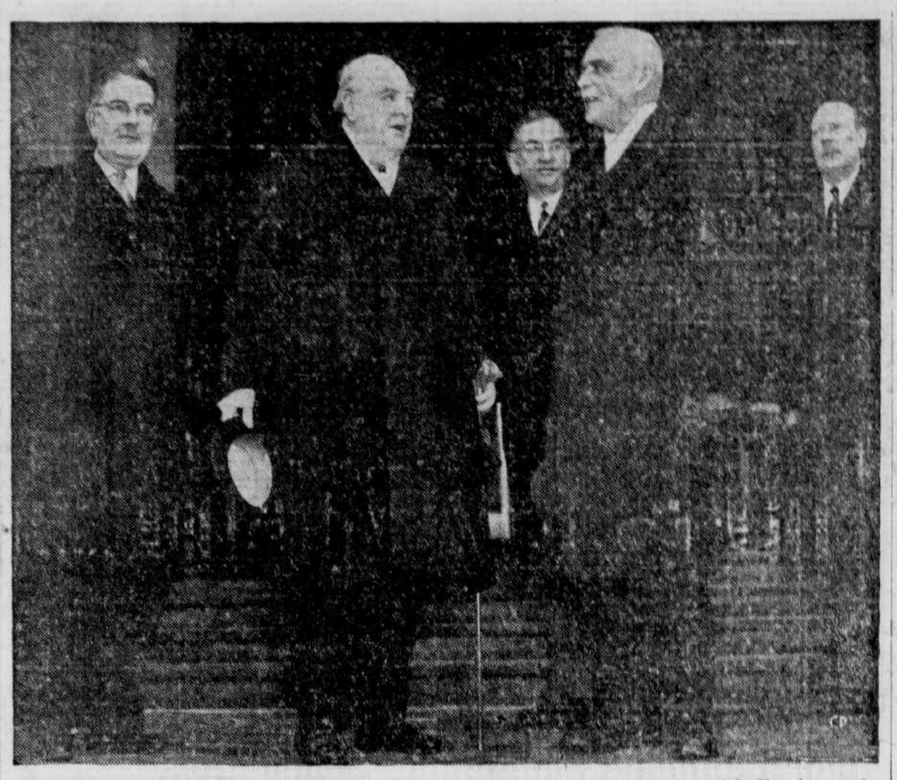

Fire fighters located the bodies of the victims when they entered the flaming house in an effort to rescue the occupants. It was not immediately established if death was caused by flames or suffocation.

The interior of the home was gutted by the outbreak which raged for an hour before being extinguished.

Tehran, Jan. 16—(AP)—Britain today bluntly rejected an Iranian demand to close all nine British consulates in Iran.

The Iranians made the demand Saturday in a note accusing Britain of "interference of British government officials in the domestic affairs of Iran." Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said Sunday that the closure order will stand as long as he heads the government.

Britain's reply invoked an 1857 treaty between the two countries permitting Britain to maintain consulates anywhere in Iran that other powers have consulates.

Churchill, Deeply Moved, Leaves Ottawa To Resume Washington Talks

Talks Were Satisfactory Eden States

London, Jan. 16.— (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today confirmed that the United States and Britain had reached agreement on certain material supply problems.

Eden told reporters on his return from the U.S. and Canada, that his and Prime Minister Churchill's visit to Washington had been "a satisfactory one from the point of view of both countries."

Details of the new agreement would be announced soon, he said.

(According to authoritative sources in Ottawa, an Anglo-American raw materials pact gives Britain a big new supply of U. S. steel—possibly more than 1,000,000 tons this year.

(Britain in return, will send the U. S. an undisclosed amount of aluminum. The U. S. also is reported to have promised to resume buying Malayan tin which she shunned after a price dispute early last year.)

Eden said he had left Churchill "in good heart." He described his two weeks in North America as "strenuous and, I think, successful."

He repeated Churchill's caution at the start of the talks that no sensational results could be expected.

"We did not go out to make detailed and specific agreements," Eden said, "but to review the world scene with our American friends and in Canada to renew the fraternal association which we hold so dear.

"I am confident that the results of our conversations—which covered a wide field—will have further increased the measure of agreement between us and enable us to make a still more effective constructive contribution to the cause we all hold of strengthening world peace."

The Foreign Secretary said he

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—(CP)—Winston Churchill went away with tears in his eyes and dramatic passages on his lips. He was obviously deeply moved.

He stood on the platform yesterday at the rear of his special railway car, camera lights feasting on him, moisture welling in his eyes, people several hundred strong cheering and shouting up at him, the men of associated and subordinate officialdom close around him, the great train waiting to roll him away to Washington.

It was the perfect setting for Churchillian drama and there was Churchillian drama.

The 77-year-old Prime Minister raised his arm towards the people and, like an aging prophet, exclaimed: "Let Canada go forward into her great future."

He tried to say more. He said "No other country has . . ." and the cheers cut him off. He said something about the western powers and that was lost too.

He went inside the car then, away from where he had said his personal goodbyes and heard the R.C.A.F. band play "Rule Britannia," and the first four bars of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, the dit-dit-dit-dah bars that have come to spell V-for-Victory.

He sat down inside the car, but the crowds cried out that they wanted him and he came out and said: "I am not going to say goodbye, I am going to say au revoir."

Then he put his cigar back in his mouth and went in again.

He came out once more. They were shouting for him to come out before the train pulled away, but the dramatic in Churchill forbade that. He waited until the wheels were moving and the cheers were soaring out into the cavernous station. Then he came out.

He waved and raised his hand in the V-sign. When the train inched past the R.C.A.F. guard of honor, he turned and saluted the guard and then he raised his hand again in the V-sign until he could hardly be seen anymore.

When the crowds were thinning out of the station, a woman and her two children were together. The mother said to the children: "I wanted you to see him. He is an old, old man and you may never see him again."

That seemed to have been in Winston Churchill's thoughts as well.

During his five-day stay here Mr. Churchill and his colleagues had a number of conferences with Prime Minister St. Laurent and with the cabinet. A communique issued said there had been "complete understanding" on the many world problems discussed.

Key development of his visit to Ottawa was his reported decision to appoint Governor-General Viscount Alexander as his defence minister. It is expected that Viscount Alexander will leave shortly for Britain.

Shannon Airport, Republic of Ireland, Jan. 16—(AP)—Capt Kurt Carlsen made his second start for New York this afternoon in the Pan-American clipper Washington. He is due to arrive in New York shortly after 11 p.m. EST.

The hero's welcome in New York for the skipper of the sunken Flying Enterprise has been postponed until tomorrow. A ticker-tape reception and a march up Broadway awaits him.

His plane returned to Shannon yesterday after covering 280 miles. A heater in one wing failed to function pro-

Streamliner Still Locked In Drifts

Colfax, Calif., Jan. 16.— (AP) — Snowplows gnawed rescue paths throughout the night in drifted Donner Pass toward 222 persons snowbound for their fourth day aboard the sleek streamliner. City, of San Francisco.

Southern Pacific officials said they hoped to begin moving passengers out at daybreak to a nearby lodge if a highway plow could clean a five mile-exist path.

Downslope, an S. P. railroad plow had pushed within six miles of the locked-in westbound train by 1 a.m. (4 a.m., E.S.T.). A relief train snuggled close behind it. Snow was as much as eight feet deep.

As rescuers worked through the night the marooned passengers huddled in the 20-degree chill of the 7,200-feet Sierra Nevada winter.

They were wrapped in blankets. Fuel oil for heat ran out Monday noon.

Snow drifted high against the windows. Drifts buried the engine.

Some aboard the train were sick, victims of carbon monoxide fumes from a gas heater. However, a railroad doctor who went in by dogsled and snow tractor said most of 60 stricken had recovered.

Only four had made it out from the train. They told a story of cold and chill, and of heroic work by a doctor and five nurses aboard to defeat the deadly gas.

They rode out on a snow tractor yesterday.

Toronto Strike Novelty Wears Thin

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto, Jan. 16— (CP) —The novelty of the street-car strike is wearing thin.

Motorists have begun to ignore the hitch-hiker's thumb, the wistful-eyed pedestrian. Why, it's even becoming tough for a woman to get a ride.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind had to appeal to drivers to pick up eight sightless men who must get to their jobs daily. The men, most of them elderly, have been holding out their white canes in vain to rush hour traffic.

Once a feminine hitch-hiker had only to stand on a corner and wait for the first car. Now she's lucky if she can wheedle a lift after 15 minutes.

One cute red-head walked a mile to work yesterday for the first time since the street-car men walked out 13 days ago.

"Well, it was a nice spring day," she said. "And I felt like walking."

Not an easy thing to admit when the old charm fails.

Another girl yesterday reached home via two rides from "a nice man and a nasty man."

The "nasty man" grumbled because he had been caught in traffic and was being forced to go miles out of his way to take home people in his office.

Meanwhile the "people" he was grumbling about were trying to make themselves as inconspicious as possible in his back seat.

The same girl admitted that while at the beginning the strike was "sort of exciting," now she finds herself quite "bored" with it all.

She's "too confined. "You gotta stay home nights," she said sadly.

Any souring of the motorists' goodwill may be caused in part by the pedestrians themselves.

One driver paused to pick up a man on a corner; was requested to drive two blocks to the nearest tavern.

A truck-driver has stopped offering rides. He said he has been turned down too frequently by persons evidently too fussy to ride in the cab of a truck.

A west-end couple tried hitch-hiking—just for a lark. A car picked them up. They named a intersection at the other end of town. They were driven there and had a real job hitch-hiking home.

Annexation To U.S. Proposed

Washington, Jan. 16 — (AP) — Creation of a special Congressional committee to explore the possibility of annexing Canada to the United States was proposed today by representative Timothy Sheehan (Rep. Ill.).

In a statement accompanying introduction of a bill to create the committee, Sheehan said he proposes the incorporation of Canada into the United States as an additional group of states or as a territory.

Such a merger, he contended, would be advantageous to both countries.

As part of the price that would have to be paid to Great Britain for giving up all rights and interests in Canada, Sheehan said, consideration should be given to money already granted to Britain by the United States.

Government To Stockpile Scarce Medical Supplies

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—(CP)—The government today announced it is embarking on a $2,250,000 program to stockpile essential and scarce medical supplies in strategic points near potential air-attack target areas in Canada.

The emergency stockpiling, part of an expanded seven-pronged federal civil defence effort, is to start at once. Supplies may include blood products and plasma substitutes and drugs to be used in chemical and biological attacks.

Many of the supplies will have to be imported, Health Minister Martin said in announcing the build-up of medical equipment.

Programs will be worked out in consultation with the United States to make sure the best use is made of production facilities in both countries.

The government's sudden move to press ahead with civil defence planning—which may mean total federal expenditures of about $10,000,000 this year—is expected to spark a bigger civil defence drive by provincial and municipal governments to help provide services to deal with civilian casualties in the event of air and atomic attack.

Exact location of potential target areas has never been officially disclosed, but they are believed to include the major population centres, such as Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver, and such other points as Ottawa, Halifax, Esquimalt, B.C., Winnipeg and Windsor and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

First aid equipment and supplies to outfit and replenish civil defence first-aid stations rank high on the list of what is being ordered, said Mr. Martin. Essential medical supplies for hospitals and for laboratory and mortuary purposes will be included.

Reason for the stockpiling, added the minister who has federal civil defence planning under his department, is that there are insufficient supplies in Canada to meet all needs should any major wartime or peacetime disaster threaten all of Canada.

Linked with this emergency stockpiling in regional defence department medical stores will be other parts of a comprehensive civil defence program to help Canada defend its population against attack. These include:

1. Establishment of skeleton staffs to organize health services in target areas.

2. Surveys, now under way, of health resources in target, mutual aid and reception areas, and including health personnel, facilities and equipment available.

3. Establishment of first-aid stations around the perimeter of target areas.

4. A special survey to find out what buildings in the target areas can be used as emergency hospitals. These would include schools, community halls and churches.

5. Plans to make use of trucks and vans as improvised ambulances in time of emergency.

6. Organization of all professional and voluntary health workers to make efficient use of their skills for civil defence purposes.

Mixed Reception Is Given Ottawa's Tax Proposals

By The Canadian Press

New federal proposals for "renting" certain tax fields from the provinces in return for a boosted annual grant, received a mixed reception in various provincial capitals.

Of the first four provinces to react—officially or unofficially—to Finance Minister Abbott's offer to increase payments they would get under the plan, British Columbia indicated satisfaction, Nova Scotia indicated some doubt, Alberta said it had yet to consider it and Ontario's Premier Frost indicates he would reject it.

In Ottawa Tuesday Mr. Abbott made public a letter to the provinces concerning renewal of the tax rental agreements—held by all provinces except Ontario and Quebec—which expire March 31. He offered them all a major increase in payments they would get for relinquishing the personal income, corporation and inheritance tax fields to the federal government if they would renew agreements.

In addition Mr. Abbott asked the provinces now having agreements not to revive the five-per cent tax on corporate profits instituted in 1947 at the request of the federal authority. The legislation providing for this tax expired Dec. 31, but officals said corporations would not know if they will actually benefit until the provincial and federal budgets for the next fiscal year have been brought down.

Mr. Abbott has already said that he plans to revise the corporation-tax structure in his next budget, due in the spring. He could tack onto the federal tax all or part of the former provincial tax of five per cent to the federal tax on corporations in those provinces signing new agreements. Provinces which don't sign will be allowed the five-per-cent credit.

Under Mr. Abbott's new offer to boost the annual "rental" payments to the provinces, the federal payments would total $423,-

Budget Debate Continues In Quebec Legislature

Quebec, Jan. 16.—(CP)—The debate on the provincial budget, traditionally the last formal debate of a session in the Quebec Legislature, will continue today in the Legislative Assembly.

The Legislative Council, provincial Upper House, is scheduled to meet for the first time since the New Year to consider legislation adopted by the Legislative Assembly. Death of J. C. Ernest Ouellet, who represented La Valliere division, has created a vacancy in the appointed 24-member Red Chamber. Standing now is Liberals, 16, Union Nationale, seven, vacant, one.

Yesterday the Assembly gave quick approval to three minor government bills and adopted health department budget estimates.

The rest of the day was occupied with speeches by members on the budget.

Dr. Charles Aimee Kirkland (Lib—Jacques-Cartier), Rene Chaloult (Ind—Quebec County), Hon. Patrice Tardif, minister without portfolio in the provincial cabinet, Gerard Desjardins (U.N.—Gatineau), Frank Hanley (Ind—Montreal-Ste. Anne), and Paul Earl (Lib — Montreal-Notre Dame de Grace), participated in the debate.

Dr. Kirkland criticized the government for leasing "for a pittance" iron ore deposits in northeastern Quebec's Ungava to Hollinger North Shore Exploration Company.

He favored lifting of the ban on margarine imposed by the Quebec government in 1949. He said margarine contained 80 per cent fat matter and could provide good nourishment at low cost to large families who could not afford butter.

Md. Tardif said the government's margarine ban had resulted in the growth of Quebec's dairy industry while elsewhere in Canada, where sale of margarine was allowed, the dairy industry was on the decline.

Mr. Hanley, a member of Montreal's executive committee, said he hoped the government would not suggest amendments to the Quebec liquor law as a result of abuses by a few licence holders.

He said Director Hilaire Beauregard of the Provincial Police deserved congratulations for the work of the force in the past year. Sixteen murders in Montreal had been solved. He expressed his support of government policies generally.

Mr. Earl said information about a government loan contracted on the New York market, April 1, 1951, was not clear.

After refinancing, a balance of $20,000,000 was not clearly accounted for by Finance Minister Onesime Gagnon in his budget speech, Mr. Earl said.

First reading of a bill to increase compensation to workers under the Workmen's Compensation Act was also given in the Legislative Assembly.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

by Erskine Johnson
NEA Staff Correspondent

LIVE A SIMPLE, 'HOMEY' LIFE; HAVE DINNER FROM GOLD PLATE

Hollywood — It's my fiendish pleasure, since I don't subscribe pleasures, since I don't subscribe to the current rhubarb that Hollywood stars are just like your next-door neighbors and folsky as all get-out, to mention that film royalty is eating from gold and silver plates.

And I defy Dagmar, Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca, Jackie Gleason, Sara Churchill, Howdy Doody or any other upstart TV stars to make that statement.

Yep, in spite of tax liens and salary cuts, movie biggies are still munching off fancy platters.

A famous silversmith named Allan Adler, who's been designing silver and gold knick-knacks for celluloid kings and queens at his Sunset Strip studio since 1939, told me about this.

Adler knows every piece of expensive metal in the stars' cupboards and his files are stuffed with the contemporary silver flatware designs he's dreamed up for Thespians such as Gregory Peck, Greer Garson, Diana Lynn, Maureen O'Sullivan, Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin, Katharine Hepburn and Joan Crawford.

Once he hammered out a $50,000 order of solid gold dinner plates, water goblets and a tea service for a male star.

"When he sets his table—wow!" said Adler, a blue-eyed, youngish man. "I can't reveal his name, though. He's afraid of being burglarized. Once some robbers broke into his house, but they didn't take the gold stuff. They figured it was brass."

Except for monograms on their knives, forks, spoons and plates (Greer Garson's hubby, Buddy Fogleson, has his cattle brand on the handles of his steak-knives) stars play it pretty straight in their table-setting.

Fancy Runs Riot On Gifts

It's when they get around to giving silver and gold presents that the wacky note is sounded, Adler said.

He decided that he'd master the poker-faced technique of facing star customers, when a producer ordered a gold-plated telephone encrusted with jewels for a beauty who was still waiting for her final decree.

"And I haven't cracked a smile since," said Sadler.

He also mentioned "gold-plated potties for babies, a silver grater for a screenwriter who loved potato pancakes, and silver keys to her apartment for a certain blonde around town."

Edgar Bergen, the artisan recalled, had him make up a silver key chain and cuff links for Charley McCarthy. Gary Cooper once ordered a silver cigaret box that would hold exactly 20 cigarets. Greer Garson presents friends' babies with silver porringers and Alan Ladd, who's a horse fancier, persuaded Adler to turn out a silver dresser set with handles of carved horse heads.

Gracie Allan came to him one day with an idea for silver troughs for corn-on-the-cob. Adler worked out some corn-shaped vessels that make it possible for Gracie and her guests to swish their corn around in melted butter instead of struggling with blobs of the stuff on knives.

"The other day," he related "Gracie called us and she was frantic. Her maid and butler had just walked out on her and she was giving a dinner party that night. She wanted to know if we'd all come over and polish her silver. We did, too."

There's a big demand for silver pieces on which the signatures of stars are engraved and it's all that Adler can do to keep up with the orders.

He's forever copying their handwriting scrawls on cuff links, buttons, buckles and cigaret cases.

Amateur Silversmiths

Katharine Hepburn, Margaret Sullavan and Jimmy Gleason like to drop into his workrooms and hammer out silver on an anvil that's exactly like the one Paul Revere used, and Adler commented that "Gleason's very skilled, Miss Sullavan's fairly good at it and Miss Hepburn just sort of plays around."

He supplies studios with special props in silver and gold when a script calls for it. An Adler-executed gold tankard was crushed by Vic Mature for a scene in "Samson and Delilah."

It was made of lead so Vic could crush it easly and look strong.

He still hasn't recovered, though, from a job he did for Orson Welles. Orson brought him a gold bracelet that Rita Hayworth had given him and asked that it be soldered to his arm.

"He said," remembered Adler, "that he wanted to wear the bracelet close to his skin for the rest of his life. He wrapped his arm in asbestos to keep from burning him and soldered the bracelet so that he could not remove it."

This happened before their divorce and Adler doubts that Orson is still wearing the bracelet.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

LEARN WHEN TO FREEZE THE PACK
By OSWALD JACOBY

"When is it a good idea to freeze the pack in three-hand Canasta?" asks a Santa Fe reader.

Very seldom. In fact, almost never.

If your intention is to win the pack yourself, you will come a cropper. At least one of the opponents (and perhaps both) will want to stop you from getting the pile, even if it means giving the pile to the other opponent.

Your freeze will come to nothing, therefore, and you will succeed only in losing the wild card that you use to freeze the pack.

A freeze may be successful if your intention is to help your left-hand opponent. It may give him enough safe discards to stay out of trouble.

Your intentions in this case are not in the least philanthropic. In a game of three-hand Canasta you have two opponents and no partner. Nevertheless, you may have a perfectly sound selfish reason for helping your left-hand opponent.

If that opponent has discard trouble, he will give the pack away to the other opponent. He may not want to do so, but he may not be able to help himself. You come to his rescue not for love of him but for fear of the other opponent.

If you can keep the pile from going to the right-hand opponent, you may be able to win it yourself. Or, perhaps, somebody will meld out before anybody gets the discard pile. Even that is a worthwhile goal if the right-hand opponent has nearly 5000 points and would win the game with any large-sized discard pile.

Q—A player drew a red three at his regular turn as the top card of the stock. The next card was another red three, but it was turned face up in the stock pile. Is the player entitled to that exposed red three or must it be buried in the stock-pile?

A—It must be buried in the stock pile. When a card of the stock pile is turned face up, the next player may not take it even if he would like to do so. It must be shuffled into the stock.

Rotary Club's Place In Vocational Service Outlined By Rev. R. C. Tait

Vocational service underlies the very concept of Rotary, Rev. R. C. Tait told his fellow Rotarians at their regular meeting in the New Sherbrooke Hotel, last night.

The speaker, who is chairman of the vocational service committee, added that he is certain it also underlies the national and international scene in Rotary.

It should not be considered only as something intangible, ethereal and idealistic, he continued, but Rotarians should realize that it is intensely practical and that they can serve individually through their jobs.

"Service is a hackneyed word," he pointed out, "but we should take it to mean the dignifying by each member, of his particular profession, with a view to better serving the community."

"In selling merchandise or service do I consider the best value for the customer more important than the largest profit for myself?" he asked, and advocated friendly relations with competitors, and a spirit of co-operation for the general good.

Rotary is of no value without vocational service, he concluded, and, substituting the word Rotarian for the word gentleman, reminded his fellow members of George Bernard Shaw's statement that "A Rotarian (gentleman) puts back into life a little more than he takes out of it."

Rev. Mr. Tait was introduced by C. E. Soles and thanked by Carbery Christmas.

A new member in the person of Eric Swanson, of Waterville, who is on the staff of National Wallpaper, was introduced by Eugene Gingras and inducted by President Emile Levesque.

Four guests were welcomed to the meeting, L. L. Lafontaine, Montreal, A. Lacoursiere, St. Joseph de Beauce, E. J. Tapp, Ottawa, and Bill Clifford, East Angus.

Lee Audet, chairman of the crippled children committee, reported on a number of cases recently brought to his attention, mentioning one particularly where a young boy suffering from cancer was obliged to have his leg amputated. He is being cared for by Rotary.

President Levesque, touching on the six months which have passed during the Rotary year, thanked the members for their support and asked them to continue giving their best efforts to the cause of Rotary for the remainder of the term.

At the head table were A. C. Ross, Mr. Soles, Mr. Tait, President Levesque, Alphee Gauthier, Mr. Swanson, Mr. Christmas and Mr. Gingras.

S. P. C. A. Plans Shelter For Animals With Help Of Funds From City Hall

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is planning to set up a shelter for animals, it was made known at the Society's annual meeting held Monday night in the Sun Life building.

The Society during the past year wrote a letter to the city clerk asking that Sherbrooke guarantee $100 a month towards the upkeep of the proposed shelter.

The City Council has advised that the request was discussed at a meeting and would be taken up for final discussion next month.

The Society has been investigating a farm property on the Katevale road and, if public funds are forthcoming, will repair and rebuild the property as a suitable home for animals out of the Society's own funds.

Mrs. J. W. Neilson was again elected president of the Society with Mrs. Edna Markey again to be treasurer, while J. W. Neilson is the new secretary, replacing Miss Pat Willard.

An executive committee was appointed, composed of the following members: Mrs. Frank J. Thompson, Mrs. William McAnespie, Noble Smith, Miss Pat Willard, Thomas Lothrop and Arnold Baron.

Thanks to the annual tag days and rummage sale, the financial statement showed a bank balance of $652, after all expenses were paid.

Highlight of the meeting was the annual report of S.P.C.A. Inspector Frank J. Thompson.

This report, from May 7, 1951, to January 14 of this year, showed Mr. Thompson had investigated 20 cases of cruelty and warned the owners.

The law, incidentally, R. S. Can., Chap. 145, Art. 542, provides for the following:

"Every one is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction before two justices, to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars and not less than five dollars or to imprisonment with or without hard labour, for a term not exceeding one year and not less than one month, or to both, who

(a) wantonly, cruelly or unnecessarily beats, binds, ill-treats, abuses, overdrives, tortures or abandons in distress, or being the owner permits to be so used, or having actual possession and control thereof in any way fails to provide and supply proper and sufficient food, water, bedding care and shelter for any cattle, poultry, dog, domestic animal or bird, or wild animal or bird in captivity, so that unnecessary suffering or injury is or may be caused to the same;

(b) while driving any cattle or other animal is, by negligence, or ill-usage in the driving thereof, the means whereby any mischief, damage or injury is done by any such cattle or other animal;

(c) conveys, carries, causes, procures or, being the owner, permits to be conveyed or carried any cattle, domestic animal or bird or any other animal of whatsoever kind or species, and whether a quadruped or not, which is tame, or which has been or is being sufficiently tamed to serve some purpose for the use of man, in such a manner or position as to cause any such animal any unnecessary suffering; or

(d) in any manner encourages, aids or assists at the fighting or baiting of any bull, bear, badger, dog, cock, or other kind of animal, whether of domestic or wild nature."

Other items reported were: Two dogs taken in to be destroyed; 15 visits made to Landsdowne Market to investigate conditions there—no complaints; several afrmers warned they would have to look after their stock in a better manner or action would be taken; a trip made to Magog for corrective action regarding abuse of horses.

Two dogs were taken in for adoption—both well placed. A third dog was seized when the owner was found to be abusing the animal and wouldn't listen to reason.

In this latter case, the dog was housed in a box outdoors, in all kinds of weather and without proper bedding. This dog is now with a family which gives it the proper appreciation.

Mrs. Neilson had a hectic two-day period during the Christmas season, returning a lost dog to its owner, Mr. Thompson said. The owner, a Montreal man formerly a resident in Rock Island, had been visiting at the Boundary with his family when, on a trip to Sherbrooke, became involved in a motor accident.

While no one in the car was injured, the accident so upset the dog that is escaped and the owner had to continue without it.

The dog's piteous howling prompted someone around Lennoxville to telephone Mrs. Neilson who, after a great deal of difficulty, located the grateful owner in Granby and returned the dog to him.

Work Of Canadian Cancer Society Is Outlined At Meeting Held Here

"Education, research and welfare are the three major pursuits of the Canadian Cancer Society and only through the co-operation and break down of false modesty of the individual are cancer cases going to be successfully mastered", said Miss Madeline Taylor, Field Secretary of the Quebec Provincial Division of the Canadian Cancer Society in an address here last night.

This concentrated program presented by the Canadian Cancer Society under the organization of Mrs. A. A. Munster, Regent of the I.O.D.E. Municipal Chapter of Sherbrooke and her Executive Officers included, in addition to the speech made by Miss Taylor, an instructive film entitled "Breast — Self Examination" followed by a brief talk by Dr. T. J. Quintin, a member of the Executive Committee of the Medical Advisory Board, Quebec Division, and an enthusiastic discussion period on the part of the audience.

Miss Taylor opened her address by saying that "persons of any age may contract cancer and there should be no reason whatever for becoming ashamed of it."

What is cancer? The answer; cancer is a disorderly growth of cells of the patient's own tissues. This growth does not respond to the laws that control activities of normal cells. It never ceases during the life of the individual and the tissue so formed never functions as does the normal tissue in the same individual. And further, diagnosis of the disease is reaching a new height and acknowledgement. It is the responsibility of the Society to educate people in order that they might fend off the perennial fright that is held of the morbid aspects of the disease.

Only in its fourth year of organization, the Canadian Cancer Society has already progressed to the stage whereby the public is receiving the benefits of the educational devices which include literature, films and lectures made available to all individuals.

She then spoke briefly on the second channel through which the Society is of benefit to the public; research, which is being carried on throughout the country in innumerable research laboratories. These research workers experiment with animals and other lower forms of life as well as with specimens of the various types of cancer that are found in the human being.

Thirdly, the welfare work done by the Society has proven to be a tremendous undertaking; provision of dressings, maintenance of patients in nursing homes and financial aid inclusive. The dressings alone are indispensible, and a need that must be met by the Society. Not on the market, these dressings of necessity are prepared by more than 450 volunteer workers; $75 to $125 worth going to the average patient per month. Financial aid and nursing care are tendered those whose means do not allow such expenditures.

Cancer, generally, can range anywhere from a several month to several year period. If detected in the early stages it has been found in many cases to be curable through administration of such treatment as radium, X-ray and surgery.

In his talk following the film, Dr. Quintin stated that the well balanced woman does not develope a phobia with regard to cancer nor to any other disease. He also said that a "field follow up" of cancer with examinations after treatments is as important as the treatments themselves so that early recurrence may be detected and further treatment given before the tumor becomes unmanageable.

In conclusion, Dr. Quintin spoke of the fully equipped Sherbrooke Cancer Clinic saying that all persons are eligible for examination and if need be, treatment, upon the request of the individual's family doctor. Only through this channel can the clinic take patients, the reason being the large number of patients who are seen at the clinic each year. In 1950, 1409 patients were attended to at this clinic.

19 Organizations In City Of Magog Join To Discuss Formation Of V. O. N.

Magog, Jan. 16.—Eighteen local organizations last night joined with the Magog Kiwanis Club to hear about the Victorian Order of Nurses, a local branch of which the Kiwanis Club is seeking to start here.

Guest speaker of the meeting, held in the Union Hotel, was Miss M. Christine Livingston, chief superintendent of the V.O.N. for Canada, who was accompanied to Magog by Miss Berthe Bourbonnais, regional supervisor for Quebec Province.

President Maurice Levasseur welcomed and introduced the guests while the guest speakers were introduced by past president, Rev. John Comfort and, in French, by Mr. Levasseur.

Seated at the head table were: Mrs. Eric Reford, Boris Reford, Mr. Comfort, Miss Livingston, Mr. Levasseur, Miss Bourbonnais, Ted Foggo, Kiwanis secretary, and Dr. A. Roy.

Among those attending were: Robert E. White, president of the Lions Club; Turner Webster, Lions secretary; Lions F. E. Patch and Elmer Dagenais; E. A. W. Boyce, Cerebral Palsy Association; Arthur Ruck, Army, Navy and Air Force Vets; Douglas R. Hagen, Lake Magog No. 55, A.F. and A.M.; Clarence M. Styan, chairman of board, Magog High School; Leonard Auger, president, Home and School Association; William Bellingham, Dominion Textiles Printers' Association; Gaston Grimard, St. Jean Baptiste Society; R. Landry, Catholic Syndicates; Guy Duchaine, president of Les Francs.

John Peters, Industrial Specialty Manufacturing Company; Edouard Hains, La Chronique de Magog; Charles Catchpaugh, Sherbrooke Daily Record; Mrs. Arleen Pibus and Mrs. C. Auger, of the Red Cross Society; Mrs. Arnold Buzzell, president of Catholic Women's League; Mrs. Jean Gauvin, Catholic Women's League; Mrs. Lucette Pellerin and Mrs. Elaine Gendron, Daughters of Isabella; Miss Patricia Baird and Miss Patricia Roy, Catholic Women's League; Mrs. Leola B. Sandell, Order of the Eastern Star, Harmony Chapter No. 6; Mrs. Marguerite Dumais, regent, and Mrs. W. Pellerin, Daughters of Isabella; Maurice Levasseur, personnel manager, Dominion Textiles Company Ltd.

Speaking first in English, then in French, Miss Livingston said in describing the work of the V.O.N. that the greatest service was that to those less fortunate than ourselves. She described briefly the work of the Dominion-wide organization, terming it "the hospital without walls."

She expressed her appreciation of being brought into contact with so many organizations from this famous and beautiful district.

Miss Bourbonnais reiterated these remarks, in French. She said there were only seven branches in the Province of Quebec because French-speaking Canadians have, in part, frowned on the Order.

But, she said, those who know the service of the V.O.N. really appreciate it.

Dr. A. Roy thanked the guest speakers and, from his personal experience, said that the V.O.N. had never refused him when he appealed to the Order for aid.

Miss Livingston and Miss Bourbonnais presided over round-table discussion to conclude the meeting.

Our Congratulations To:

DONALD KILGOUR, who is observing the anniversary of his birth today.

SECOND PHASE OF TALKS

Prime Minister Churchill can return to Washington for the second stage of his American visit much more confident that he was on arrival for his first talks with President Truman.

American government officials can feel that way about the return visit, too. For much more seems to have been accomplished than the conservative, carefully-worded communique officially admits.

Mr. Churchill, on his second visit after his five-day stay in Ottawa, will make an on-the-record speech to a joint session of the Untied States Congress tomorrow.

He will have an off-the-record luncheon with the Washington press corps, at which he will talk and answer questions on January 18.

Peter Edson, NEA Washington correspondent, writing about this second visit, says that how much more light these sessions will shed on the state of American-British relations remains to be seen.

There are still many details to be swept up by the diplomatic and military white wings. But in addition to the points mentioned in the official communique, these further achievements, writes Edson, might be elaborated:

The Churchill government is now much more in accord with the American government position on Communist China than was the Labor Party government of Clement Attlee. It was the Labor government that recognized Communist China.

The Conservative position at the time was that there should be no recognition until the United States and the British Commonwealth nations approved.

Having recognized the Chinese Commies, the British do not feel that they can de-recognize them, at least for the present. But whatever is done will be in consultation with the U. S. and other allied governments, and not as an arbitrary British action as before.

Communist threats against Southeast Asia are considered far more serious than the communique indicated. Reports of big Chinese Communist buildups around Indo-China are unverified.

Present feeling is that the French can continue to handle that situation.

Situations in Siam and Burma are considered difficult. The American and British governments are now in agreement to be prepared for trouble in these areas before it breaks out.

Approval for the creation of a Middle East command means continued, joint efforts to solve the Iranain and Egyptian crises.

The World Bank's proposal to operate the Iranian oil fields is considered a good plan and it will be given a good chance to succeed before any other approach is tried.

The Egyptian situation is considered better than it was a month ago. The British are pledged to self-government for the Sudan after a 1952 plebiscite which will determine whether the Sudanese want independence, alliance with Egypt or with the British.

American and British governments are now agreed on the need for simplifying the North Atlantic Treaty organization. The cumbersome machinery of the 500-delegate NATO conference in Rome will be streamlined after the Lisbon conference next month.

Prime Minister Churchill will not embark on any solo missions to Moscow to confer with Stalin. The U. S. is to be consulted on any moves for conferences with the Russians.

On the other hand, U. S. bombers based in Britain will not engage in retaliatory atomic attacks without British approval. The atom bomb was not mentioned in the communique, but an agreeement on atomic energy policy is said to be in the making.

MONITORING WORLD NEWS

World peace based on world understanding is a happy state of affairs long sought but never achieved. Such understanding must, of course, derive from knowledge.

Knowledge, in turn, must come from a free and honest flow of information between the countries of the world and within the individual countries.

That's been the hitch. Too often barriers of ignorance, prejudice and fear have blocked this flow.

It is heartening, therefore, to note the progress of an organization set up a year ago to smooth the way for better mutual understanding among the peoples of the world.

The organization is the International Press Institute. The chairman of its executive board is Lester Markel, Sunday editor of The New York Times.

IPI's announced aim is to determine whether individual countries are getting an accurate picture of other countries through their newspapers, and if they are not to try to remedy the situation. To date, national committees composed of leading newspaper editors have been formd in 24 countries.

A main part of their job will be to check and report on threats to press freedom within their individual countries.

The flow of news between countries, with any criticisms as to distortion or general quality, will come under the eyes of officials of the various world press associations.

Fortunately for its future, IPI got off to a sound financial start with a $270,000 grant from the Ford and Rockefeller foundations for expenses the first three years. All it has to do now is turn in a record of sustained accomplishment.

The U.S. State Department, with its worldwide information service to newspapers of other countries, is telling America's story throughout the world, but as a government agency with a definite ax to grind, it has its limitations.

By policing and strengthening themselves, the world's stablished press and news services can offer their readers a quality product that can't be matched.

IPI can go a long way toward establishing this quality.

STATE OF THE UNION MESSAGE PROMISES EVERYBODY EVERYTHING

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Up to now, the United States may have thought it had a choice between Guns OR Butter. Today, following delivery of President Truman's State of the Union message to Congress, his program is revealed as Guns AND Butter AND Welfare.

It is impossible to look at the president's message as anything else than an election-year political document. And if promising everybody everything is good politics — well, President Truman has promised everybody everything.

As an indicator on whether President Truman intends to run for re-election, the message can and probably will be interpreted both ways. If the President does intend to run, this is his platform.

If the President doesn't intend to run, this is a first draft of his political last will and testament, in which he wants to leave everybody everything he ever asked for.

As a political document, the President's message puts the issues right up to the Republicans. The GOP can't possibly promise the pee-pul as much as President Truman would like to give them. Nobody could.

GOP Has Two Choices

The choice of the Republicans, therefore, is to offer what has come to be known as "me-too-ism," which is decidedly unpopular among the old guard, or to offer a program of strict austerity, cutting out all the welfare state stuff.

How General Eisenhower would accept the latter program, nobody knows. It might be hard for men like Governor Warren of California and ex-Governor Stassen of Minnesota to accept.

Senator Taft might take to it with all the ease of a duck on a pond.

Elimination of the welfare state idea has in fact been an ambition of conservative business leaders and politicians for a long time.

Just before Christmas for instance, when everyone should have kindly feelings for his fellow men and be interested in aid to the needy, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce put out a leaflet with a headline:

300 Welfare Plans Take a Third
Of All Government Tax Dollars

Figures which the Chamber cited were that for some 300 federal, state and local government welfare plans, social insurance cost $4.7 billion, public assistance $2.5 billion, health and medical services $2.2 billion, veterans' programs $6.2 billion, education $6.5 billion, housing, the Indians, school lunches and other welfare programs $700 million.

This was for 1950, last year on which complete data was available. The total is $22.8 billion, which is 34 per cent of all government spending for that year.

The Chamber reported that in September, 1951, over 800,000 were drawing unemployment insurance, six million were drawing old-age benefits, five million were on relief rolls and two and a half million were drawing survivors' insurance.

Total, over 14 million people, or nine per cent of the population.

Some Programs Should Stay

To do the Chamber of Commerce credit, it doesn't advocate complete abolition of all these 300 welfare programs. It admits there should be a federal retirement system to which all workers should contribute for basic needs.

But the Chamber "demands" that the federal government get out of public assistance programs and that unemployment insurance be left to the states.

This is apparently the program which organized businessmen would like to sell somebody like Senator Taft, if they could put it over.

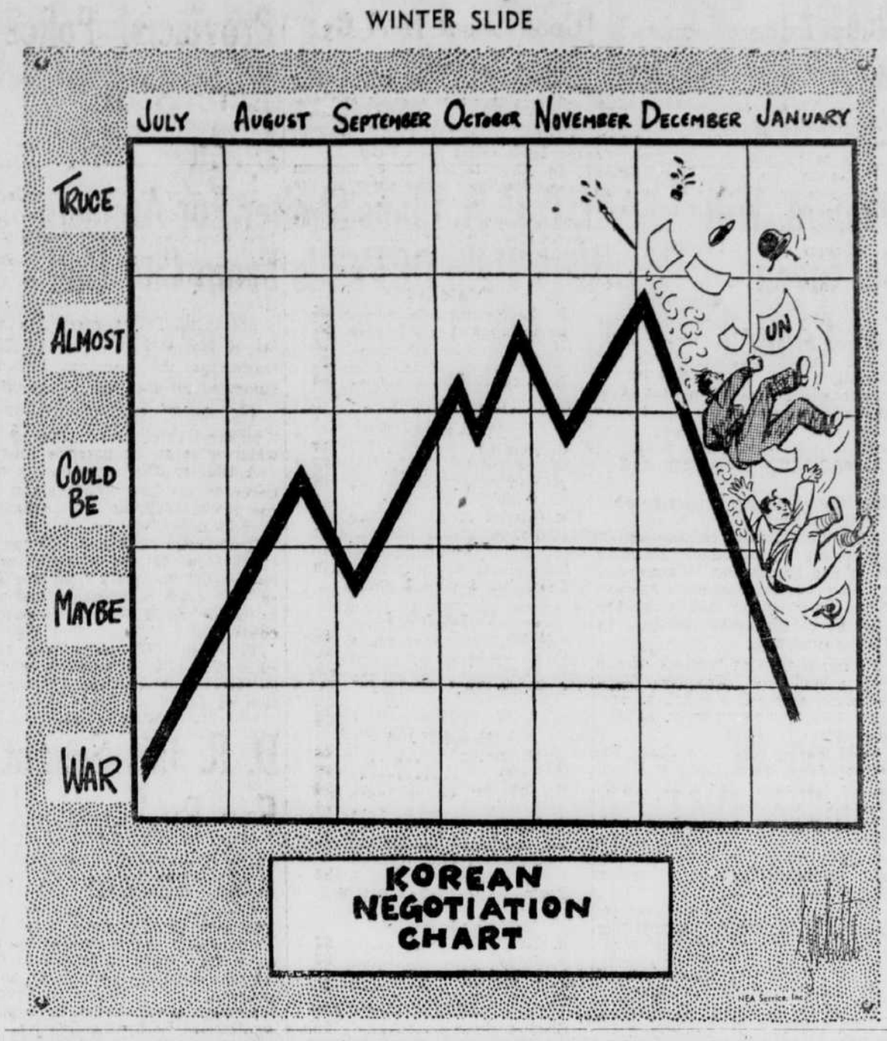

It is the exact opposite of what President Truman advocates in his State of the Union message. He wants to enlarge the welfare system, not contract it.

In a way, the President's message is a good bit like running over the bill at a high-priced night club after a big time.

The items are checked off, remembering all the fun that has been had with the favors, the floor show, the swell service, the food and the drink. Everything is dandy and the world is wonderful.

Then comes the total amount of the bill — and the tax. You'll get that bad news when the President submits his budget message to Congress — come Jan. 21.

WINTER SLIDE

From The Pen Of E.T. Writers

CONFIDENTLY REST

When darkness closes in about a heart too frail to bear
The crushing weight of sorrow that has found an anchor there,
When living seems an effort, when we long
for inward peace,
When human wisdom falters, and when fears
and doubts increase,
Lay down the burden at His feet and confidently rest, Assured that God already knows when we have done our best;
And with the morning's dawn, when night's darkness fades to day,
He'll give the strength He promised, and His hand will point the way.

School Tradition Seen As Aid To Progress Of Blood Indians

MacLeod, Alta., Jan. 16—(CP)—Archdeacon S. H. Middleton is British to the core and a great believer in the virtues of school tradition.

As a youth of 21, drawn to the west by stories of the Indian he came in 1905 from England, where he had been a carriage maker, with the sole intention of working among the Prairie Indians. In 46 years he has found that the old school tie can truly bind a fellowship of man.

Ordained an Anglican clergyman in 1911, he was until retirement last year principal of St. Paul's School on the Blood Indian reserve south of Macleod and rector of Anglican parishes at Cardston and Waterton park in Alberta.

When he came the Indians were poor and suspicious people who went to the ration house whenever they needed supplies, and whose big day each year was treaty time when they collected their $5 a head.

But the people he left in 1951 —moving only to Macleod so that he would still be near them—are the inhabintants of the biggest (540 square miles) and one of the richest reserves in Canada.

Their riches were gained from agriculture. In 1949, for example, the Bloods produced 180,000 bushels of wheat, had cattle sales of $200,000. They have moved from teepees to modern homes with hardwood floors and on their shelves are top-selling books, works on etiquette and even the odd copy of Hansard.

Their sons are farming with equipment worth the price of a small house in the city. Their daughters are nurses and stenographers in Toronto, Victoria, Edmonton and even Bermuda.

This is quite a step from a state bordering on the native semi-starvation in which young Middleton found them when he arrived with romantic ideas of boyhood, including the fear he might possibly be scalped.

Archdeacon Middleton doesn't take the credit for all this. The government has had a lot to do with it. The Bloods have been served by schools of both the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches.

But he does attribute much of it to what he says is "nothing better than the English public school training," and, of course, the old school tie.

He believes—and, in view of the results, with justification—that the continuity of education in the Anglican school, along with the fact he considers the Bloods an intellectual people in the first place, had a lot to do with the success of education on the reserve.

In his years among the Bloods, Archdeacon Middleton instituted the old country style annual class reunions, the old boys' association, the school crest and colors—red and green—and even the ties themselves. Naturally, they came from England.

The most-prized possession of the Archdeacon is his appointment as life member of the Head Chiefs and Tribal Council of the Blood Indians at Cardston.

It was the way the Bloods had of saying "thank you" to the man who introduced them to the old school tie and their school motto Mokokit Ki Aekakimat—be wise and persevere.

The Record Short Story

A HOUSE TO LIVE IN

By CONSTANCE CLARKE GREENE

The Carsons were young and attractive and also snapping at each other. They were the possessors of two reasonably bright offspring, a car not quite paid for and a one-bedroom apartment.

They had had the apartment since their honeymoon days. Then it had seemed like a veritable paradise. Ginny and Ken had spent a lot of time and a minimum amount of money and had done wonders with it. They had painted the living room walls a clear gray and the woodwork white. The bedroom they had done in a lovely shade of green. All their furniture had been second hand, picked up here and there and they had done a good job on that too.

The only trouble was that now the furniture was beginning to show its origin by falling apart rapidly. The walls were still gray only not so clear and the wood work, despite Ginny's scrubbing, was beginning to take on the gray cast of the walls. It was no longer a paradise.

They had turned the dinette into a bedroom for the children. There was a screen separating it from the living room but that didn't do much good when they wanted to have people in for bridge or canasta. The kids tossed and turned and couldn't get to sleep until the guests had gone.

The whole thing is," Ginny sighed, "we have simply got to get a bigger place or we'll all lose our minds."

She was right. Well, almost. Close enough so that it wasn't funny.

So they started reading the real estate sections of the papers and began a thorough search for a place they could afford and which they liked. The new credit regulations made things rather tough but, once they had made their minds up, they were determined to do something concrete about it.

The agent was oily and also rather bored.

"Here you have the living room," he droned, as if they couldn't see for themselves, "with the dinette and your kitchen." Ginny was not impressed. The kitchen was the last word, of course, with shiny linoleum and electric stove, but the whole downstairs wasn't much bigger than the same rooms in the apartment.

"Haven't you something a little larger for around the same price," she asked the man. He smiled patronizingly. "We have a lovely ranch house with four bedrooms and three baths and a 40 foot living room for $45,000," he said and they all laughed as if he'd said something very funny.

So they went on a tour of every compact, modern house within a radius of 50 miles, it seemed. They all had wonderful kitchens, smart new decorations, and two or three bedrooms. Also about four closets and absolutely no space for all the skates, bicycles and other apparatus that the Carsons had accumulated through the years.

Not to mention the fact that they were all pretty expensive and if Ginny and Ken went into bankruptcy to buy a house, they might as well go into it with the knowledge that they had found the house to spend their declining years in.

They spent several months going the rounds with various agents and had come no closer to their goal than when they started. It was discouraging, to say the least.

Then one day they were driving down a tree shaded street when Ginny saw a big old house with a porch running almost entirely arount it.

She pointed to it and said, "That's a lot like Mother and Dad's old place, isn't it, Ken?" He agreed and the agent said, "That's for sale."

He pulled over to the curb and they sat in silence for a minute.

Then Ginny asked fearfully, "How much are they asking for it?" The agent named a price which was about the same as that asked for the little, compact modern places which left the Carsons colder than left-over macaroni.

The agent told them to wait in the car while he went to see if it was all right for them to go inside. Ginny and Ken sat silently in the car and did not exchange a word. Ginny was thinking to herself: It'll probably be awful inside. Nothing at all like Dad's house. It couldn't be or they'd be asking much more for it."

The agent beckoned to them and they got out of the car and went up the path.

The center hall was wide and inviting. There was a big living room with a fireplace and a wonderful large dining room. The kitchen was far from modern and it was about three times the size of the sterile little ones in the new houses.

There was plenty of room for a kitchen table and chairs and a high chair and still room left. There were closets galore and a wonderful big cellar and attic. The bedrooms were all huge by modern standards and the bathrooms, too, although they had bathtuubs with feet and basins with great wide rims.

It was the most wonderful house Ginny had ever seen. It reminded her more and more of the house in which she had grown up. It had room, plenty of room. They could take their time and do the painting and papering as they liked. Even with one room in a turmoil, there was still plenty of space to hutch out in so they wouldn't be stepping on one another.

The children could have their friends to spend the night and Ginny and Ken could entertain to their heart's content without worrying about the noise. The yard was lovely with old trees and perennials. It was a house to grow in and to love.

They moved in a month later, just as the apple trees were coming into bloom. The children ran about like wild things and investigated the house thoroughly from top to bottom, to the horror of the moving men who tried to avoid them without success.

But when the children were in bed, each in their own large room, and all was quiet, Ginny and Ken sat, exhausted, and felt that, at last, they had found a home.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

CAN YOU FIGURE THE CORRECT LEAD?

Several thousand bridge players in this country took part in the Bridge Olympic last November, sponsored by the Australian Bridge Council. The excellence of the hands may be judged from the example, shown today.

South is not required to climb all the way up to four hearts to get full credit for the bidding of this hand. Game at hearts is, however, a reasonable enough contract.

West opens the king of spades against a contract of four hearts and is then supposed to stop, look, and consider the bidding. South should have a six-card heart suit since he has voluntarily rebid a suit that could not be better than ace-eight.

South should have three clubs for his raise in that suit, and should have a singleton to give him some distributional excuse for his bold bidding.

In short, West can practically name every card in the South hand if he really thinks about it. Even so, it is very diffcult for West to find the right lead at the second trick.

Just for the fun of it, try it yourself. Look at the full deal as carefully as you like—and pick the correct lead for West at the second trick.

West must lead the king of hearts. This startling return is the only sure way to set the contract.

If South now tries to ruff spades in dummy, he can ruff only one. He will then lose two trumps tricks to West in addition to a second spade trick.

If South tries to draw trumps, he will lose only one trump trick, but he will have to give up three spade tricks.

The point is that West must lead a trump to prevent declarer from ruffing two losing spades in dummy. But if West leads a low trump at the second trick, dummy can win with the queen or ten.

Dummy's remaining trump can be used to ruff a spade, after which South can draw a second round of trumps with his ace. South therefore loses only one trump trick and two spades.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 Heart	Double	Pass	1 Spade
Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-7-4, Hearts 2, Diamonds K-10-8-6, Clubs A-K-5-3. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. Game is unlikely, but possible. If your partner has a four-card spade holding with fair strength in spades and diamonds, your raise may be just enough to encourage him to try for a quite makable game. This raise shows good four-card support for spades and a solid but not powerful takeout double.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-4, Heart 2, Diamonds K-Q-8-6, Clubs A-K-5-3. What do you do?

Canadian Ski Team Leaves For Olympics

Montreal, Jan. 16.—(CP)—A party of 21 Canadian competitors and officials left by air last night for Oslo, Norway, and the Winter Olympic Games there next month.

The group included 11 skiers—seven men and four women—and four speed skaters.

Canada's total representation at the Winter Games will be about 53, including officials, coaches managers and trainers.

This country's hockey representatives—Edmonton Mercurys—are already overseas and playing exhibition games. Two skiers — the cross-country competitors—Claude Richer of Ottawa and Jacques Carbonneau of Quebec—preceded others of the team and are training in Sweden.

There was a farewell luncheon party, attended by Olympic and other sport officials. In a brief address President A. Sidney Dawes of the Canadian Olympic Association, told the team members that good sportsmanship would help establish them as worthy goodwill representatives of this country.

The competitors included:

Men's skiers: Bob Richardson, Montreal; Jack Griffin, Vancouver; Andre Bertrand, Quebec; Gordie Morrison, Banff, Alta.; George Merry, Trail, B.C.; and the jumpers, Luc Laferte, Three Rivers, Que., and Jacques Charland, Three Rivers, Que.

Billy Talbert Denies Report Of Challenge

New York, Jan. 16—(AP)—Billy Talbert, one of the top tennis stars in the United States asked today to be dissociated from a "challenge" he and four other players were reported to have issued to the U.S. Davis Cup team to play a match for charity.

Talbert, a former Davis Cup star, said the first he knew of the "challenge" was when he read about it in the newspapers.

"What I would particularly like to deny is that I publicily criticized Captain Frank Shields for having played Ted Schroeder in the challenge round against Australia," Billy said.

Kesserling Named As Ontario's Top Golfer

Toronto, Jan. 16—(CP)—Gerry Kesselring, 22-year-old golfer from the Kitchener Westmount, today was selected Ontario's No. 1 amateur for 1951 by the ranking committee of the Ontario Golf Association.

Phil Farley, Scarboro Club, Toronto; Jack Nash, London Hunt; Bruce Castator, Islington Club, Toronto; Moe Norman, Kitchener Rockway; Don Varey, Brantford; Doug McKellar, Scarboro; Ernie Bentley, Weston Club, Toronto, and Emerson Creed, London Hunt.

Kesselring's rise was accomplished in a heavy competitive season. He won the Ontario Amateur, was fourth low amateur in the Canadian Open with a 297 score, reached the quarter-finals of the Canadian Amateur and posted the second lowest score—142 — in the Willington Cup matches.

HOCKEY'S BIG SEVEN

D. R. O.'s Sought For By-Laws Referendum

One of the problems faced by City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers in preparing for the referendum on the five loan by-laws to be submitted to the ratepayers on Thursday, January, 24, is that of engaging Deputy Returning Officers.

Mr. Deslauriers stated this morning that he is seeking application from sixteen local residents who feel they possess the qualifications required to handle this rather important task, one for each of the individual polling stations.

The fact that tive different by-laws, totalling in all $4,650,000, are being submitted at the same time complicates the problem greatly. Each by-law will be listed on a separate ballot paper, with the proprietor's valuation being inscribed on each slip.

Anyone desiring to carry out this task is asked to get in touch with the City Clerk without delay. Each Deputy Returning Officer will be entitled to select his own poll clerk.

812,000 this year if agreements were signed with all provinces, compared with $332,827,000 paid in the last fiscal year. Payments to all provinces would be boosted, in most cases several million dollars annually.

The annual payments now are made on the basis of the preceding three-year average of population and gross national production. Under the new agreements, the provinces could have payments adjusted on the basis of one-year or two-year averages of population and production, but would have to indicate at the outset what formula they wanted.

At Victoria Finance Minister Anscomb who recently conferred with Mr. Abbott, indicated satisfaction, saying the new proposal would boost B.C.'s 1952-53 payment to between $41,500,000 and $42,000,000 compared with $30,250,000 in 1951-52. This was between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 than the existing agreement would have provided.

At Halifax provincial officials said the new formula was "a good arrangement so long as the gross national product continues to rise, but not so good if it should fall." They indicated the federal proposal is being considered.

Stanbridge East Women's Institute Holds Meeting

Stanbridge East, Jan. 16. — A meeting of the Stanbridge East Branch of the Women's Institute was held recently at the home of Mrs. Eric Kemp of Bedford with an attendance of 19 members and three visitors.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. G. Harvey. The Salute to the Flag and the Club Women's Creed were repeated in unison. The Roll Call, "Name a project for Home and Country to which our Institute contributes or one they should, financially or otherwise," was responded to most faithfully, with some most interesting suggestions. The most outstanding suggestion was a Montreal plaque or scholarship to the late Miss Jessie Corey—a life-long resident of this community—a teacher in the "Old Academy" for over 35 years and an outstanding life-member of the Institute. For years the meetings were held at "Gordon Terrace", Miss Corey's home. She held the Institute together through some critical times, when it seemed that there were not enough members to carry forward the work in view. Her efforts have been greatly rewarded now by a very healthy and hearty Institute. Branch, with a membership of over 40, many of whom are young and active, able and willing to carry on the great work of our Women's Institute.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and with minor corrections were approved. The treasurer reported a balance of cash as $66.84.

A rug-making course will be sponsored by the Institute in the Town Hall from March 10 - 14 afternoon and evening classes. The Instructor will be Handicraft Technician, Miss Bruneau of Macdonald College. $25.00 was voted to the Quebec Service Fund. A letter of thanks was read from John Ageter, who won the $10, Theadora Moore Scholarship for 1949-51. Letters also from some who received remembrance from the Institute at Christmas time. A letter of thanks from Mrs. Bruce Kidd for money contributed to Hot Lunch Program for school. A schedule of the month's hot lunch program showed us that the conveners are very short of help on this very worthy project and would be most pleased if any one would be willing to help make a scallop, bake beans or macaroni, etc., whenever most convenient. If anyone should be so inclined please notify Mrs. Bruce Kidd or Mrs. Clifford Rhicard.

We greatly missed having with us at the meeting three of our most regular members who were all ill and unable to attend—Mrs. Husband, Mrs. M. A. Brown and Mrs. Frank Johnson. We hope all are recovering rapidly.

The program was in charge of Mrs. D. C. Blinn who read a letter pretaining to Institute activities and an article entitled "The Passing Years." Each member was requested to write one New Year's resolution and number their papers with a number from 1-100 suggested by the clue. "The number in view has something to do with 1952." The prize was tied for by Mrs. F. Corey and Miss Hazel O'dell, Mrs. Corey winning the draw. Lucky number: Leap Year's "29."

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Cornell and there will be a baking contest. Each member is asked to bake cake, bread or cookies. Cooking will be judged and prizes awarded. The food will be sold at the close of the meeting. The Roll Call is a conundrum.

At the close of the meeting a delicious tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Kemp, assisted by the ladies in charge of refreshments.

For Bad Cough, Mix This Splendid Recipe, at Home

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this easily prepared mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Get a 2¼ ounce bottle of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 ounce bottle and fill it up with your syrup. The 16 ounces thus made gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and is a very effective relief for coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This splendid mixture soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm and helps to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known as a soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

The Children's Corner

New Tool for Private Eyes

BY VIOLET M. ROBERTS

EVER heard of a spectrophotometer? You've heard of a spectrometer, perhaps. That's in Webster's. But this new color-measuring device is in the odd business of matching false teeth, predicting the color of orchids before they bloom, telling good oysters from bad ones and, maybe, finding the pearls.

If these jobs don't earn for it a place in the color Hall of Fame, it is currently performing such extracurricular activities as analyzing lipstick, colors in crime detection, determining for Hollywood which colors are most photogenic for technicolor movies, and finding out for laundries how much soaping certain fabrics can stand without fading.

Known scientifically as a "recording spectrophotometer," this instrument is mathematically capable of detecting more colors than there are grains of sand on Coney Island and Palm Beach combined. If you want to see the actual figure on paper, write 10 with 90 zeros following it. (Jimmy, our Linotyper, says he doesn't have that many.)

BY examining anything from cloth to the skin of a duck, the spectrophotometer is able to record with pin-point accuracy the exact color of the object. Orchid growers knew that the shade of foliage encasing an unopened bud furnished a clue to the orchid's color before it bloomed. The spectrophotometer was used to count the various shades of green of the foliage, and the grower was able to predict and classify scientifically the colors of his potential orchid crop.

Oyster growers, aware that an oyster's color indicates whether it is good or bad, have found the human eye inefficient in detecting color differences. They now use this new device to learn how well their oysters are.

One of the oddest jobs the device has ever performed was to analyze the skin color of several ducks so that by controlled diet the ducks with the "most attractive" skin could be marketed.

HOW does it perform such unusual tasks? This is best explained by comparing it to the human eye. The eye integrates, or brings together, all of the parts of whatever object it sees. Thus, when the eye views a single color, it sees only that color, while the spectrophotometer goes much further and "sees" the amount of all colors, which when blended, make up the single reflected color. To ilustrate, suppose the eye sees white. Now there are many shades of white, but the eye usually sees only white and let's it go at that. The instrument, on the other hand, "sees" how much of each color is in that particular shade of white. The instrument plots an accurate curve of what it "sees" when it's on a matching job. The color of the item under test must follow the same curve to be identical with the color being matched.

And space pilots of the future may use this device. The human blood changes color very slightly with the amount of oxygen it contains. In space a very tiny meteor might open a pin-hole in the outer wall of a space ship. A photometer attached to the ear, or to some other part of the body where the blood is near the surface might detect the loss of air pressure long before other instruments could do so. On high-flying planes the device could also be used.

Waterville Christmas Club Holds Meeting

Waterville, Jan. 16. — Mrs. J. C. Campbell was hostess to the Friendly Christmas Club for the first meeting of 1952. Cards were played at four tables and the prize winners were Mrs. Carl Ball and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald. The travelling prize was won by Mrs. Kenneth Spafford. Refreshments were served in the dinning room. The hostess was assisted in serving by her sister, Mrs. John Murphy, of Seven Islands, Mrs. Edward Sarrasin and Mrs. Rene Rouillard. The president, Mrs. Carl Ball, announced a new member—Mrs. F. Fitzgerald, who was given a cordial welcome. Mrs. Celon Ball will entertain the Club on Feb. 6 at her home on Highland avenue.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICE

A "White Gift" service was held recently when Rev. J. Butler delivered a very interesting and inspiring sermon; Christmas hymns were also sung. The Junior Choir sang the hymn, "Carol So Merrily."

The Christmas service was held on the morning of Dec. 23. The Rev. J. Butler took as his theme, "The Christmas Message." The musical part of the service consisted of favourite Christmas carols and two anthems—"Tidings Of Great Joy" and "That Glorious Song." The solo parts were taken by Mrs. J. Butler, Mrs. C. Smith and Miss E. Nelson.

The duet, "He Shall Feed His Flock" was sung by Mrs. C. Smith and Miss E. Nelson. Those assisting in the anthems and carols were Mrs. J. Butler, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. P. Ingham, Miss E. Nelson, Messrs. F. Davidson, R. Gale and P. Gale.

Miss G. Swanson presided at the organ.

WHIST CLUB

The highest score was 42, and prizes were given to Mrs. Maedwitte, Mrs. Meigs, Mr. Paul Bergeron and Mr. Laurent Gervais. Miss H. Brodier received a prize for the highest score of the month—172. At the end of the card game refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Vimy Street, were completely taken by surprise on Saturday evening, when they answered the doorbell and found themselves surrounded by a number of friends who had gathered to greet them on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Following the impromptu reception, punch was served by Mr. Francis Clark and Mr. Ray Couray, when Mr. Eric Swanson proposed a toast to the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago, introducing a humorous vein in his congratulatory remarks.

This was followed by the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Clark, on behalf of their friends, by Mr. Newman Hunter, of a silver ice water jug and a silver hot water pitcher, coupled with the expression of best wishes for the future, and the hope of another celebration at their golden wedding.

The balance of the evening was spent playing Bridge and Canasta. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lothrop were the winners at Bridge, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Ewing won the prize at Canasta.

Miss Joan Clark and Miss Betty Bangs were in charge of the buffet table, which was covered with a cut-work and filet lace cloth and centered with red carnations arranged in a low silver bowl.

Mrs. E. Swanson, Mrs. N. Hunter and Mrs. Reid Moe were in charge of the party arrangements.

Among the invited guests who were unable to be present at the party were Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, of Beebe, and Miss Elizabeth Bonner, of Sherbrooke.

Lennoxville Women's Institute Holds Meeting

The January meeting of the Lennoxville Women's Institute was held in the clubroom with Mrs. F. J. Glass presiding. Mrs. E. L. Atto acted in the absence of the secretary and after reading the minutes, correspondence included several letters of appreciation for Christmas cheer sent out by this branch.

Conveners' reports showed a course in first aid being held in Sherbrooke in the near future and members wishing to attend must send their names to Mrs. E. L. Day as soon as possible.

Mrs. C. L. Norwood read an article on careful buying to reduce the budget.

Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie noted that statistics showed 582,000 immigrating to Canada and told how many settled in each province. She also read an article on the poverty in Greece which showed conditions as deplorable.

The sunshine committee reported eight baskets sent to sick and shut-ins at Christmas and many cards.

Notice was given of the coming county meeting to be held in the Lennoxville clubroom Feb. 19 at 2 p.m., and Mrs. W. B. Brady and Mrs. A. Fowler were named as delegates. The sum of $15.00 was voted to the Quebec Women's Institute Service Fund and $3.00 for Greek relief.

This concluded the business and afternoon tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. E. Jamieson, Mrs. E. L. Day and Mrs. L. B. Pierce.

DOROTHY DIX

Successful Mother-In-Law

This Reader's Life An Example To All Women

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: To those who believe that all mothers-in-law are either overbearingly possessive, or miserably downtrodden, may I offer my experience?

Mine is a middle-sized family, grown now and married. As each new member was chosen and added, he or she was assured of a welcome. They knew I was proud and happy to have them for my children and that they would be loved like the others. I have been very sure they never had cause to doubt it. When a boy or girl comes into a family not knowing the parents, let alone the countless other relatives, that is the time to win their hearts. One of my girls said not long ago, "Isn't it wonderful; there isn't one of the family who is not congenial, who does not fit." Each baby has been just what grandmother wanted.

Sometimes I have had the impulse to interfere, but I restrained it. The personal lives of my children are their own affairs. The children love to come to Grandma for a day or two but they're not allowed to wear out their welcome. I love to sew for the youngsters. I show no partiality. I'm accepted as mother to all my brood, am always welcome at their homes and, to us, holidays are wonderful events. Mothers' Day is a day of joy and humility—joy because of the remembrances, and humility because I know so many things I might have done differently and better.

NANCY E.

ANSWER: Volumes could be written about the mother-in-law problam—and have been—but what can they offer to supplement the gracious charm of this mother and mother-in-law?

PREJUDICES AT FAULT

The in-law problem becomes an issue only because the protagonists don't want to solve it. Mother is determined to dislike any girl her son marries; daughter-in-law is sure her husband's mother is going to be a horrid, bossy creature and makes no attempt to meet the older woman half-way. Result—the sort of mess that ruins so many marriages.

Nancy has the answer. The heartwarming family picture she shows us is the goal for which every woman should strive. Surely it takes no more effort to achieve than the unhappy in-law situation which is the cause of so much complaint! Of course it takes two to create; but if a boy's mother and fiancee both approach the new relationship with the idea that they are going to share— not absorb — the husband and son, happiness for the whole family is assured.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I are happily married, but there are a few things he does that I would like to correct. First, whenever he does something wrong, he refuses to say he's sorry. He claims that the apology would be an admission that I'm right. Also, he's not very affectionate, especially in public. We've just been married two years and I feel he should be more demonstrative.

M. L.

ANSWER: If these are the only matters that stand between you and a happy married life, they should be easily solved. Your husband is wrong in one point, you are wrong in the other. Now, if you are each willing to give in—presto. All difficulties solved.

A positive sign of immaturity and weak character is the unwillingness—all too frequently met—to admit wrong; to apologize; to say, "I'm sorry!" Many people seem to feel that such an admission is humiliating. Actually, nothing so proclaims manliness as this simple gesture. A man of courage and dignity is as quick to acknowledge a mistake as he is firm in his purpose to defend himself when he is right.

It is not necessary, as you suppose, for two people, no matter how much in love they are, to make public manifestation of their affection. Their feelings will be made apparent through their congeniality, mutual courtesy and consideration; it isn't necessary to make an exhibition of your feelings.

DEAR MISS DIX: Some time ago I was going steady with a boy. We had a quarrel. I left him abruptly and went home alone. Now I'm sorry and more than willing to make up. He says a girl will treat him like that only once. I've pleaded and begged, but can't change his mind. All I live for is the day he'll relent. Can I do anything to hasten that day?

PATSY

ANSWER: Hurt pride is one of the most difficult obstacles to overcome. Your present methods of pleading and begging are particularly ineffective. Why not try leaving him alone altogether and see if a little solitude will do what coaxing couldn't accomplish?

Mrs. A. Farnham Elected President S. H. L. A. "Wing"

Mrs. Ansell Farnham was elected president of the Lennoxville Wing of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, at the annual meeting held in St. George's Church Hall, on Wednesday, January 9.

The president, Mrs. R. S. Pearson, opened the meeting with prayer and conducted a short business session, during which the wing voted $200 to the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, making a total of $500 donated throughout the year. After all unfinished business was attended to, adjournment took place.

Mrs. Pearson also chaired the annual meeting which followed immediately.

Mrs. G. Lessard, secretary, reviewed the activities of the "Wing" during the first full year in operation, as follows: Nine meetings were held, $300 was donated for equipment of Hospitality Shop in the Sherbrooke Hospital, a three year bursary was established, allowing $120 a year to a Lennoxville High School girl wishing to become a trained nurse in the Sherbrooke Hospital; a large number of "tuck in" pillows were made and donated to the hospital, and several bolts of towelling made into tea towels by wing members; the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary was assisted by the wing in many projects including the Hospital Cafeteria held at the Exhibition, the activities committee convened four very successful events, namely a bridge party, a garden tea, a wing party, and the raffling of a gold cigaret case, donated by Mrs. Grace Macdonald. The treasurer, Mrs. F. R. Pattison, gave the financial report which was most gratifying.

Mrs. George Dunsmore read the detailed report of the activities committee, submitted by the co-conveners, Mrs. Raymond Stevenson and Mrs. Dunsmore.

Mrs. R. Lindskow, wool convener, reported a large amount of wool had been bought and knitted into articles for the Hospitality Shop.

Prior to leaving the chair, Mrs. R. S. Pearson, retiring president, expressed her thanks to the executive and members for their fine support during her term of office. She then called on Mrs. E. W. Gilbey to act as chairman for elections.

Mrs. F. Pattison, convener of nominations, presented the slate of new officers, which was approved as follows: Hon. president, Mrs. Austin Scott; president, Mrs. Ansell Farnham; first vice-president, Mrs. Carberry Christmas; second vice-president, Mrs. Lewis Allen; treasurer, Mrs. E. N. Fidler; recording secretary, Mrs. J. R. Mooney, corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. La Due Norwood.

Mrs. Gilbey voiced the thanks of the officers and members to the retiring president, and invited the newly-elected president to take the chair.

Mrs. Farnham thanked the wing for the confidence they had placed in her and made an appeal for assistance and co-operation in the work that lay before them in the coming year.

A short business meeting followed, when it was decided to hold a bridge party on Thursday evening, February 14, in St. George's Church Hall. Mrs. L. M. Watson, Mrs. D. Melton and Mrs. A. R. Jewitt offered to convene the bridge.

It was announced the February meeting would be cancelled. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

New Craft Class Is Started At The Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. C. H. Beaulieu is starting a group on Wednesday afternoons at the Y.W.C.A. in painting and stencilling trays and the painting and decorating of furniture in early American and Peter Hunt design.

The classes will have to be very small to ensure individual attention but an evening and second afternoon group may be arranged if a sufficient number of persons is interested.

It is hoped this is only the start of what may develop into a permanent craft department at the Y. W.C.A., in autumn. Classes in crafts and art at So-Ed and other programs have proved very popular and it is felt that if continuous instruction in a variety of crafts were offered it would answer a need in the community.

Mrs. Beaulieu became interested in this work through buying and refinishing antique furniture and for three summers studied at Mrs. Charles Grier's decorating school at Newbury, Vt.

Record "Help Wanted" column reaches the people you prefer to hire.

LOU SMRKE PACES CHICOUTIMI TO 8-2 WIN OVER SHERBROOKE

Completes Hat-Trick As Chics Hold Upper Hand In One-Sided Affair; Locals Meet Quebec This Evening

Chicoutimi, Que., Jan. 16.—(CP)—Lou Smrke last night came through with a hat-trick in pacing Chicoutimi Saguenays to an 8-2 victory over sixth- place Sherbrooke Saints in a Quebec Senior Hockey League tilt here.

The win put Roland Hebert's boys in sole possession of third place with 44 points, a point behind the idle second-place Montreal Royals and two points ahead of Ottawa Senators.

Jean Paul Lamirande, Germain Leger, Floyd Crawford, Georges Roy and Sherman got singletons for the winners. Tod Campeau scored both Sherbrooke tallies.

Pelletier, the Chicoutimi goalie, played an outstanding game in the nets as he kept the Saints guessing until early in the third period. The Chics led 5-0 going into the third.

Lamirande put the Saguenays ahead at about the halfway mark of the first period when he completed a nice passing play which was started at his own blue-line by Wray and Takchuk to fool goalie Roger Bessette completely. A few minutes later Wray and Takchuk again assisted, but this time on Leger's marker.

The period ended with Bessette being pressed.

With scarcely a minute gone in the second period, Crawford took Moore's neat pass from behind the nets and slipped it past Bessette to put Chicoutimi ahead 3-0. Levesque also assisted.

Smrke got his first goal at the 8:28 mark on passes from Wray and Roy. He scored his second goal of the night near the end of the period with Moore making the play.

Sherbrooke came into the scoring early in the third when Smith relayed Labrie's pass to Campeau who in turn slipped the puck under the falling Pelletier.

Smrke got that one back for Chicoutimi a few minutes later. Moore and Crawford started the play.

Roy scored the picture goal of the night at the 9:44 mark when he weaved his way through a maze of Sherbrooke players, and went in alone on Bessette.

About a minute later Campeau scored his second goal with Smith and Biggs drawing assists.

White scored Chicoutimi's eighth goal at 13:35.

Bessette handled 44 shots for Sherbrooke, while Pelletier turned away 16.

U.S.P.G.A. Review Case Regarding Louis

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 16.—(CP)—Officials of the United States Professional Golfers Association re-examined the case of Negro amateur Joe Louis here today.

Such statements as were being made in advance of any announcement indicated the former heavyweight champion would play in the San Diego open tournament starting Thursday.

Whether he would win his declared fight for equality for Negroes in U.S.P.G.A. tournaments was another matter.

U. S. P. G. A. President Horton Smith said before his arrival from Pebble Beach, Calif., that he was in favor of a re-examination of the U.S.P.G.A. rule and tradition which he said barred Negroes.

He expressed belief Louis' chance to play in the tournament as an invited amateur was "excellent."

N. H. L. Boss and 8,224 Fans Watch In Vain For Thomson-Kryzanowski Feud Revival; Leafs Blank Bruins

Clarence Campbell had a ringside seat for what had all the makings of a hey-rube between Toronto Maple Leafs and the Bruins at Boston last night, but the National Hockey League president might just as well have stayed at home. Leafs won the game 1-0 and there was only one brief battle to enliven the proceedings.

The set-up was a natural with Leaf defenceman Jim Thomson and Bruin Ed Kryzanowski apparently ready to resume their battle of a few weeks ago in Toronto when they clashed head-on twice with Kryzanowski getting a 14-stitch mending job. A crowd of 8,224 was on hand for the expected fireworks.

The fans weren't entirely disappointed. Thomson and the Bruin clashed at centre ice in the third period, traded punches for a moment and sat out majors. Otherwise, proceedings were about normal with nine penalties handed out—five to Toronto.

Tod Sloan was the Toronto marksman, sending Leafs to within 10 points of the league-leading Detroit Red Wings and three up on the third-place Montreal Canadiens. His game-winning goal was scored in the second period with assists going to Max Bentley and Sid Smith while Boston's Leo Labine sat out a penalty.

The loss left Boston in a fourth-place tie with the idle New York Rangers.

The Leaf-Bruin game was the only one on the schedule.

Tonight, Chicago meets the Rangers at New York and Thursday, all six teams go into action with Toronto at Montreal, New York at Chicago and Boston at Detroit.

Bishop's University Ties Radar For Second With 26-23 Victory

Bishop's University moved into a tie for second place in the ladies' E.T. Basketball League last night, defeating the R.C.A.F. girls, 26-23, in a game played at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium.

Poor work under the baskets saw Bishop's outscored in three of the four quarters although the co-eds forced the game throughout. Both team showed the effects of lack of practice during the long holiday break.

Bishop's and Radar now have six points apiece, two behind the pace-setting Windsor Rockettes.

Pam Garland was high scorer for the winners with seven points while May Fontaine kept Radar in the game, scoring 13.

After a lack-lustre start in the first half, after which they trailed Radar 11-18, Bishop's came to life in the third quarter, outscoring the home team 13-4 during that 10 minutes. Radar edged University 8-5 in the final quarter but the third period outburst by Bishop's proved too much.

Bishop's: Mary Dorrian 2, Brenda Styan 4, Betsy McKindsey 5, Daphne Atchison 3, Pam Garland 7, Diana Reid 2, Sylvia Burt 0, Ann Pearson 1, Barbara Magor 2, Nims Smith 0. Total—26.

R.C.A.F. (Radar): May Fontaine 13, Ruth Hamilton 5, Jackie Roberts 2, Elizabeth Grimes 3, Enid Smith, Jill Harding, Pat Morrison. Total—23.

Referee: Bill Fuller.

Victoriaville winger Alain continues to set the pace in individual points with a total of 34 in 12 games, 21 goals and 13 assists. Waterloo defenceman Frank Morneau continues his meteoric rise in the standings and now has six goals and 20 assists, placing himself in a second-place tie with Proteau of Victoriaville.

Edmonton Mercurys Down German Club

Krefeld, Germany, Jan. 16—(CP)—Edmonton Mercurys, led by Engelbert Miller who scoured four goals, easily defeated the German champion team, Preussen Krefeld, 7-2 last night.

It was the Canadians' first game of their German tour and drew a crowd of 6,000. The Mercurys, who will represent Canada at the Olympic Hockey Championships in Oslo next month, arrived here earlier by plane from London.

George Abel, Bob Meyers and Billy Gibson scored the other Mercury goals.

Roy Robertson Elected Head Of Alouettes

Montreal, Jan. 16— (CP) —Roy Robertson yesterday was named President of Montreal's Big Four football entry, Les Alouettes, at a meeting late yesterday of shareholders.

Robertson, a local stock broker, is a new part owner of the Alouettes. In partnership with Charlie Stone, he recently purchased Toronto broker Eric Cradock's one-third interest in the team.

Leo Dandurand, former president, who resigned over differences of club policy with Coach Lew Hayman, refused to be named to the executive.

Lucien Beauregard, a Montreal lawyer, was elected vice-president. He is also a director of the Royals Baseball Club which operates the Delorimier Stadium where the Als play their home games.

The three directors are Hayman, Charlie Stone, and Fred Skelcher, a sports executive of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association.

Men's Cage League Opens Here Saturday

Windsor Mills, Jan. 16.—The Men's section of the E.T. Intermediate Basketball League will get underway at Sherbrooke this coming Saturday, it was decided at a meeting of League officials held Monday night at the Canada Paper Club.

Three teams are lined up so far, Sherbrooke Spartans, Asbestos, and Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A.

The League is prepared to go with these three but the door is being left open until Saturday for any other team to join. It has been rumoured that a cage squad from Rock Island might decide to enter the League this year.

First game of the schedule is set for the Sherbrooke Regiment gymnasium at eight o'clock Saturday night when the Spartans will be at home to Y.M.C.A.

Each of the teams will play eight games between now and March 15 when the two-day Provincial tournament, held in Sherbrooke last year, commences at Three Rivers.

In attendance at the meeting were League president, Perc Whitney, Sally Butler, secretary-treasurer; A. T. Aston, vice-president; Alex Leslie, representing Y.M.C.A.; Dave Turnbull and Norm Stafford, of Spartans.

Asbestos phoned in confirming they are ready to play in the League.

Optimists Drop Close Tilt To Superior Club

Superior School eked out a 2-1 decision over the Optimists last night in a regular fixture of the Sherbrooke Juvenile Hockey League at the Arena.

The game was one of the best minor tilts seen on local ice for quite some time as both squads forgot about roughing and gave the fans a good display of wide-open hockey.

The win allowed the Superior squad to gain on the league-leading St. Francis, who were idle last night. Trudeau opened the scoring for the first winners in the first period after he accepted a perfect pass from Morin. Three minutes later Bedard knotted the count after teaming up with Pepin.

In the middle frame Page finished off a passing play with Williams to complete the scoring for the evening. Only five penalties were handed down by the referees and all were for minor offenses.

On Friday night the Superior School will play Technical at 7.00.

Los Angeles — Bobby Why, 127½, Los Angeles, outpoined Baby Face Gutierrez, 125, San Diego (10).

Frankie Reid Registered Hat-Trick To Play Important Part In Aces' Victory; Hayden Tallies Three

Paced by Frankie Reid, who completed a hat-trick, the Magog Aces staged a real battle to overcome a three goal deficit and edge out Alex Barilko's Sherbrooke Intermediates 6-5 last night in a wide open tiff of Eugene Lalonde's league.

The Aces trailing 5-2 at the end of the second period broke out into a scoring spree and batted home four tallies in the final frame to wrap up the contest in a closely contested affair. It was a wide open game as both sides battled the whole way until the final whistle.

Frankie Reid was the top marksmen with his hat-trick while Bergeron chalked up two markers and L. Thiverge the other for the winners. For the local team Hayden set the pace with a hat-trick with Morin and Menard getting credit for the others.

The executive of the local team stated that they would file a protest on the game claiming that the winning marker was scored after regulation time had run out. The timekeeper had shut off the clock but it failed to stop however he claims time was over just after Reid had fired the debatable goal into the Sherbrooke net.

Sixteen penalties were handed out by referees Pop Leroux and Lyn MacDougall including a misconduct to Sherbrooke player, Morin for having shot the disc after a whistle had been blown.

Sherbrooke opened the scoring in the first minute when Hayden drove home a hard shot. J. L. Thiverge knotted but Morin and Hayden teamed up to put the locals out in front once again. In the middle session it was all Sherbrooke as they scored three goals to Magog's sole tally and move ahead 5-2.

In the final period the Aces took complete charge and had Paul Deschene working overtime as he stopped a barrage of rubber. The local net minder turned in a fine exhibition and it was only his work which kept the score down as the Aces just sifted through the Sherbrooke defense.

Ferguson, between the pipes for the Magog team, did a good job and the ones which got by were tough ones. Frankie Reid was the thorn in the side for the locals as he shifted the Sherbrooke defence almost out of the rink to walk right in on Leclerc time after time. In the first frame the defense held him to a walk with their bodychecks but when they opened up in the final period he just waltzed right through them.

First Period

1—Sherbrooke, Hayden — 1:25
2—Magog, J. Thiverge — 10:33
3—Sherbrooke, Morin (Hayden) — 14:10

7—Sherbrooke, Hayden (Mercier) — 15:23

Granby Holds Canadiens 3-2 In Close Fixture

Montreal, Jan. 16.—(CP)—A goal by Herb English on assists from Pete Larocque and Sandy Morrison last night spelled victory for Montreal Canadiens over Granby Royals. The goal came at 12:10 of the third period as Canadiens downed Royals 3-2 in a Junior Amateur Hockey Association game here.

Bucky Hollingworth, of Canadiens opened the scoring early in the opening stanza, only to have Bob Crevier, of Granby, match it. Les Lilley put Canadiens one goal up before the period ended.

Ebbie Goodfellow Says Jack Stewart, Ace Defenceman For A Decade, Is Finished After This Season Is Over

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Black Jack Stewart, one of the top defencemen in the National Hockey League for more than a decade, may be through at the end of this season.

The predicton was made yesterday by Ebbie Goodfellow, coach of Chicago Black Hawks, who offered hockey writers some of the reasons for his team's poor showing this season.

Goodfellow, whose last-place Hawks meet New York Rangers here tonight, said the 34-year-old 180-pound rearguard hasn't come back as expected after spending much of last season on the sidelines with a slipped spinal disc.

"This will be his last season," said Goodfellow. His latest remarks contrasted with his pre-season statement that "Stewart is all right. He's the same guy you used to know and that's bad news for the rest of the league."

Stewart, a native of Pilot Mound, Man., broke in with Detroit Red Wings in the 1938-39 season and was a consistently outstanding star until he was traded to the Hawks with four other players.

Expected to be a powerhouse on the Chicago defence, he hasn't shown the fire that made him a regular member of All-Star teams and one of the hardest-hitting rearguards in hockey.

Goodfellow said Stewart's inability to come back was just part of the Chicago blues. He mentioned the loss this season of Fred Hucul, the promising rookie who developed a mysterious muscular ailment. Ebbie said yesterday that Hucul now is back with St. Louis of the American Hockey League and might eventually return to the Hawks.

Other disappointments were the loss of Max McNab with a pinched sciatic nerve and the decision of Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher to quit the N.H.L.

Goodfellow was guest at the regular New York Rangers hockey luncheon.

Coach Bill Cook of the Rangers addressed the luncheon and announced he was benching forward Nick Mickoski because he "seems to have trouble skating and seems to have trouble getting his shots off." Mickoski will remain in New York, however.

Russia Reported Seeking Admission To World Amateur Hockey Matches

Oslo, Norway, Jan. 16.— (AP) — The Russians, who have been hinting that they might like to enter the Winter Olympics, were assured today that they still have a couple of days to go before deciding definitely.

"But time is getting short," said Rolf Petersen, secretary-general of the Oslo Winter Olympics Organization Committee. "We can give the Russians a couple of days yet, but bear in mind that we will have to get housing accommodations for them."

The strongest hint yet the Russians have given that they might be here when the games start Feb. 14 came yesterday when Dr. W. G. Hardy, a director of the International Ice Hockey Federation, said in Edmonton that they had requested membership in the Federation and with it permission to compete.

However, nothing has been heard here from the Russians, although they have entered the Summer Games at Helsinki, which is only a couple of hours by air from the Soviet border.

The official deadline for entering the Winter Games was Dec. 31, 1950, but the policy apparently is to accept whatever entries are received a reasonable time after that. Israel and Chile have been accepted since the first of the year.

Dr. Hardy, who said the Russian request was made to him through a man named Korotcov, said he suggested to the Federation president that they be permitted to play if they promise to abide by the rules and decisions of the Federation and guarantee there will be no political interference.

"We want world hockey and not world politics at the Olympics," commented Dr. Hardy.

Russia, incidentally, is known to have some good hockey teams as well as some fast skaters.

Meanwhile, even the weatherman was turning a favorable eye on this city. Winter seems to be settling down and inches of snow have fallen on the bobsled run and ski jumping hill at Holmenkollen. Officials said that nothing short of a catastrophe could keep the games from going according to plan.

Aussie Tennis Team Captain Says World Accepting New Amateur Rule For Outstanding Tennis Players

Melbourne, Jan. 16— (AP) — Harry Hopman, captain of the Australian Davis Cup team, said today that he didn't think any of the world's top 10 tennis players abides strictly by the rules of International Lawn Tennis Federation.

Hopman, tennis writer for the Melbourne Herald, expressed the opinion in his column that a new definition of amateurism "is a pressing world-wide necessity."

"Our top players do not abide by the (amateur) rule because they do gain by their pursuit of the game," Hopman wrote.

"The national body of each tennis nation is responsible for interpretation of this amateur rule and not one association in any part of the world where I have played polices it strictly.

"Our players are allowed to work for sporting goods manufacturer's and quite openly are paid salary. In return they do various work from office jobs to selling and in the propaganda field."

(In Canada, a player can work for a sporting goods firm and still retain his amateur standing providing his job is not solely for the sport in which he majors.

(In the United States, players are not permitted to work for sporting goods companies.)

"Australians also play exhibitions," Hopman wrote, "and use their firm's racquet in tournament play . . .

"There is no big money in amateur tennis. There really is big money for top professionals. International tennis today is in the semi-professional class and it should remain there."

Hopman didn't mention the well-publicized case of Frank Sedgman but he obviously had that in mind.

Sedgman, who works for a sporting goods house, will be married Jan. 30. Several Australian newspapers are raising a wedding present fund for Sedgman's fiancee. It reached $11,685 today.

Sports Of Sorts

By GLEN BROWN

Some day, some time, some hope that athletes, executives and spectators will realize that officials have to arbitrate games to the best of their ability. No official, no spectator and certainly no executive can claim that they are in the Utopian plane of being perfect. The dirtiest, messiest part of game participation is in handling the refereeing end of the business and having to make split-second decisions that can brook no delay of consideration. You've got to call them as you see them, and you have got to go by that little rule book as nearly as you possibly can.

You can line up the finest hockey players in the world, you can select all-star coaches to run them, but you couldn't possibly run a game worth seeing unless you had that deep, dyed-in-the-wool, villain-to-the-core, Mr. Official, there to organize the game.

All of this diatribe is brought about by another of those incidents down at Bedford Sunday afternoon. Two officials were pushed around, cursed at, reviled, mishandled by spectators, and laughed at by at least one policeman. The reason for this was because one hot-headed lout from Bedford decided to maintain his right where he was obviously wrong, and because another neotype from Cowansville decided to do the same thing in the same way. The officials could at least say that both teams were disatisfied.

Both boys were suspended for the game and their case will be brought up before the league executive, and probably by the time that you people read this they will have received just punishment for a very poor show. What I am trying to get at is that this would never have occurred if both teams had not been obviously out to break the rules and most of those concerned on both sides were obviously out to back them in their attempt. The main result is this: the league has definitely lost one of its top officials and is on their way toward losing another. Boy oh boy and are good officials ever hard to replace.

Hockey in this area is certainly on a boom footing. During the week and over the week-end the Yamaska league had four Intermediate teams swing into action, then four Bantam teams tangled in the first league that has serviced boys of that age in the area; at Knowlton four Pee Wee teams angled on Saturday and the High School District of Bedford Senior and Intermediate league got steam up. Cowansville has organized a league between the Battery, Legion and Sweetsburg and the Memorial league has been going at it hammer and tongs. Never a dull moment.

In the Memorial league the teams are beginning to settle down to regulation hockey with Bedford showing great strength to step into a tie with Bruck. Knowlton has come out of its slump and is moving up in the league standings while Granby, off to a fast start, have been slowed down a bit by Cowansville in a smacking six to two defeat. Most interesting series of the week was the Knowlton-Bedford home-and-home set to Knowlton, led by Ernie Benoit at his best, and ably assisted by Pat Tracey and his all-around know how, plastered a surprised Blinco-led club with a five to two defeat on Tuesday night. It was just too much Benoit as Togo, Ernie and Chuck all sank counters, and to make it worse they even pulled in brother-in-law Bud Reynolds to block off those incoming Bedford forwards' shots. Over in Bedford on Thursday night it was another matter. It was a ding-dong battle all the way with Bedford having just a little more fire power to shade Archie Page's outfit by one goal. Jones, Bedford and company played a fine smashing game and two newcomers for Knowlton showed well in Rod Fowler and Clark Kemp. This Bedard boy is certainly a smooth operator; he set his team up for most of their scores.

CHAFF: Bernie Blanchette is still the smoothiest defense player in the area, setting up Mansonville all the way . . . Sutton have retained Brither Gougeon on their team and have a new brother named Robillard who can do some stepping in a hockey way . . . Those three goals of Clark Kemp's against Farnham for Knowlton were sweet tries. Watch Kemp from now in. Page Thornton doing well for the big team . . . Ron MacPhail played nicely for Farnham even if he had to get out of a sick bed to do it . . . John Suitor scored one against Granby to prove that Polio can't get him down . . . Doug Stocks dislocated his shoulder against Waterloo, tough for Cowansville High but Jack Wood and Bill Johnson will do a good fill in for him.

Operation On Arete Turns Out Successfully

Mexico City, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Veterinarians said yesterday an operation on Mexico's Olympic champion jumping horse, Arete, appeared to be a success.

A broken bone in Arete's right foreleg was repaired and covered with a metal plate. The veterinarians said they would not know until the end of this year whether the 13-year-old horse would be able to jump again.

Col. Humberto Mariles, who won the 1948 Olympic jumping contest in London on Arete, helped the surgeons with the operation.
