GERMANS RETREAT FURTHER ALONG WIDE SECTOR

Reds Continue To Take Initiative In Moscow Defence

London, Nov. 7.—(P)—A German retreat was reported in the Volokolamsk sector before Moscow while London observers speculated today upon possible British plans for the establishment of a second fighting front.

Red army infantry, cavalry, artillery and planes have driven German armored units from position after position along a three-mile route in the region of Volokolamsk, sixty-five miles Northwest of Moscow, said dispatches relayed from Kuibyshev.

This explosive seizure of the initiative came after earlier invasion thrusts against the capital were declared to have been blocked.

Even as the Soviet success was reported, possible expansion was indicated in the scope of the war. Reliable London sources said plans for a second fighting front—urged by Premier Joseph Stalin yesterday in a Moscow broadcast on the eve of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution—were "ready to be put into effect when the time is considered opportune."

"It is felt that Stalin made it clear," said the highly placed British Press Association, "that he appreciates that when a real opportunity arises—and that might be very near—an additional front will be created. Where that front will be is something we do not propose to tell the enemy."

Reports today told of unsuccessful German efforts to regain the initiative before Leningrad—of heavy losses on both sides in inconclusive fighting—and some commentators said the invaders might simply be seeking to consolidate their positions for the winter. Actual capture of the city was declared to be out of the question without reinforcement of the besiegers.

Military dispatches said the 10th German Tank Division and the 59th and 86th mechanized regiments were being battered back in the Volokolamsk fighting. The Red army troops were reported to be continuing the advance after occupying a number of towns. The Soviet Information Bureau said Soviet troops fought the invaders on all fronts yesterday and thirty-four aerial raiders were shot down near Moscow. The Russian Air Force was declared to have blown up three depots and three ammunition-laden trains and dispersed a German infantry regiment.

Russian airmen during October, the Information Bureau communique said, "destroyed about 305 enemy tanks, killed more than 12,000 enemy soldiers and officers and destroyed a large number of wagons and about 100 guns of various calibres."

Berlin, Nov. 7.—(P)—A German military commentator declared today the German drive against Moscow has been stopped by weather conditions which preclude major military operations, but asserted that in the Crimea Axis armies have pushed within artillery range of the big naval base of Sevastopol.

He said weather on the Moscow front had become such that any large scale operations—particularly a direct attack against the capital—were not feasible.

AUSTRALIA SEEKING TO REVITALIZE ITS RECRUITING POLICY

Melbourne, Nov. 7.—(AAP)—Army Minister Francis Forde and service chiefs will discuss adjustments in Australia's recruiting policy at a conference Monday. There are three main aspects to the proposed adjustments.

They are: The formation of a common recruiting pool from which men can be allotted to the particular branches of the fighting service for which they are most fitted when they are most needed; the infusion of a new vitality and redoubt into recruiting methods to impress Australian manhood with the issues for which the war is being fought; plans for an eleven-day recruiting drive to be launched all over Australia on Armistice Day.

PROMPT ACTION IS URGED UPON SEAWAYS PLAN

Washington, Nov. 7.—(P)—Leland Olds, Chairman of the Federal Power Commission, called today for prompt construction of the $285,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway in the interest of national defence. The Power Commission Chairman declared in a letter to Representative Alfred E. Beyer (Dem., New York), that all preliminary work on the project has been completed by Canadian and American engineers and its construction can go forward without delay.

"Approval and prompt initiation of the St. Lawrence project," he said, "is essential to the country's great defence effort."

Beyer had suggested to Olds that

BRITAIN SEEKS NEW SUPPLY OF CANADIAN EGGS

Would Sign Contract for Further Supplies When Present Million Case Order Is Completed.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—(P)—With 230,000 cases of eggs for shipment to the United Kingdom already in storage, 170,000 cases of fresh eggs are required for shipment between December 1 and February 28 and 600,000 cases between March 1 and May 31, an Agriculture Department bulletin said today.

The 1,000,000 cases to be shipped represents 30,000,000 dozen eggs. For the December-February period the price agreed on is 32.12 cents a dozen for Grade A, f.o.b. Canadian seaboard, the bulletin said. Between March 1 and May 31 the price for Grade A will be 28.79 cents a dozen. A proportion of this section of the shipment may be Grade B for which 26.58 cents a dozen will be paid.

The British Ministry of Food have indicated also that they wish to negotiate a further contract for a large block of eggs for storage in the spring and shipment in the fall of 1942," the bulletin said.

Finnish Efforts To End Fight With Russians Based On Long-Term Policies, Helsinki Says

Helsinki, Finland, Nov. 7.—(P)—A declaration broadcast by the Finnish radio looking toward the end of the war with Soviet Russia was re-emphasized today as re-emphasizing the Finnish thesis that military operations were purely defensive and would be halted when Finland considered her frontier secure. A transcript of a broadcast yesterday on the war included extracts from a pamphlet published by the Central Union of Finnish Labor Organizations, among them the declaration: "Finland's war is purely defensive and it will come to an end as soon as the threat of renewed attack has been removed and her frontier has been made secure."

Another extract broadcast: "Our frontier cannot be finally determined until the coming peace conference."

United States Military Missions Help Strengthen Iran Defences

By PRESTON GROVER (Associated Press Staff Writer) Ankara, Nov. 5.—(delayed)—(P)—Britain was reported today to be steadily augmenting her military power in Iran, bordering the Russian Caucasus, with a stream of fresh troops drawn from the Empire and American-made tanks and planes and the help of two United States military missions to the Middle East.

The American delegations, each headed by a brigadier-general, are expected to bolster not only the transportation organization but to manage the repair and supply for American-made planes. The transportation and ship unloading situation at the head of the Persian Gulf, an intermediate link in the conveyor belt to Iraq, Iran and the Caucasus, were said to have been vastly improved but remained far from satisfactory. Britain is building up her strength

Billion Dollar Credit Provided To Finance Russian Arms Buying

Washington, Nov. 7.—(P)—The United States backed the hard-pressed armies of Russia with a $1,000,000,000 lease-lend credit today. President Roosevelt directed deliveries "to commerce immediately and to be fulfilled in the largest possible amounts" until the huge stores of munitions represented by the credit are in Soviet hands. The unheralded decision to extend lease-lend aid to Russia was announced late yesterday by the State Department.

The announcement was in the form of an exchange of correspondence between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Stalin. In a letter dated October 30, Mr. Roosevelt wrote that the $1,000,000,000 credit was being made available without interest, and that Soviet repayment would not commence until five years after the war's end. Replying on November 4 Stalin agreed to the credit terms and voiced the "sincere gratitude" of Russia for this "unusually substantial aid in its difficult and great struggle

WAR BULLETINS

London — Reuters quoted the Oslo radio as saying British planes raided the capital of German-occupied Norway early today.

A few bombs were said to have been dropped, "without doing damage."

One British plane was claimed to have been shot down.

Tokyo — The newspaper Asahi said today in a dispatch from Amoy that all British subjects in the International Settlement at Kulangsu, an island near Amoy, had been advised by the British Consul General to leave by November 15.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil — Agencia Meridional, a Brazilian news agency, reported from Recife today that several rafts washed ashore at Pernambuco were identified as belonging to the ship "Yankee Mary."

(No such ship is listed in Lloyd's Registry of Shipping and there was no immediate suggestion of what may have happened to the "Yankee Mary.")

OPPOSITION TO ACT AMENDMENT IS WITHDRAWN

Isolationist Senators Hopeful of Defeating Neutrality Act Changes in House of Representatives.

Washington, Nov. 7.—(P)—The momentous legislation permitting United States merchant ships to carry arms and sail the High Seas at will moved toward a Senate vote today and administration leaders claimed the certain support of fifty-three senators—four more than necessary to pass the measure.

Democratic Leader Alben Barkley considered the chances excellent that the Chamber would vote by nightfall and return the measure for concurrence to the House of Representatives, which originally approved legislation limited to arming ships.

Barkley arranged to ask the Senate today to agree unanimously on a debate limitation—probably one holding each Senator to a maximum of twenty minutes—after Senator Gerald Nye (Republican, North Dakota), an opponent of the pending measure, had completed an hour-long speech.

Nye and other opposition leaders agreed at a strategy conference late yesterday to abandon any idea of a filibuster against the measure. They decided, informants said, there was a better chance for its defeat in the House if Senate action was not held up by long drawn-out speech-making.

Executive Salaries To Come Under Wage-Fixing Measure

Finance Minister Announces Extension of Ceiling Legislation to All Earners—War Has Just Begun in Opinion of Defence Minister in Concluding Review of Activities of Armed Forces.

By JACK WILLEMS (Canadian Press Staff Writer) Ottawa, Nov. 7.—(P)—Managers and executives of Canadian commerce are to take their places at the side of regular wage earners in the Government's anti-inflationary programme by having a ceiling placed on their earnings.

This, Finance Minister Ilsley told the House of Commons yesterday, is an additional step in the Government's plan of price-fixing and wage stabilizing.

A ceiling on ordinary basic wages up to the classification of foreman previously was announced, along with extension to all industry of the cost-of-living bonus policy. But, Mr. Ilsley told the House the salary-freezing action for managers and executives does not mean that they too will receive a cost-of-living bonus.

The Finance Minister, outlining reasons back of the Government's price-fixing and wage-ceiling programme, said the whole plan was designed to avoid inflation which, next to killing and maiming, was the most destructive force of any war.

He was followed in his departmental review by Labor Minister McLaughlin who said that while compulsory—both for employer and employee—might be the quickest way of settling labor disputes, it was not the most effective in the long run. It would hardly produce stability in relations between labor and industry.

"I believe," said Mr. McLaughlin, "that trade unionism is the essence of industrial democracy and must be woven ever more firmly into the fabric of industrial relations."

Mr. McLaughlin's address finished the current series of ministerial reviews which yesterday brought before the Commons himself, Mr. Ilsley, Defence Minister Ralston and Air Minister Power.

Today the House enters general discussion in Committee of the Whole with Munitions Minister Howe available for questioning on the account he gave earlier in the week. Col. Ralston, finishing his review, said in his opinion the war had only just really begun. So far all the democracies had done was avoid losing it. Ahead was the business of winning the war and he believed it would be won by the powers now arrayed against the Axis nations.

Maj. Power stressed the fact there was no limit, in numbers, to the recruiting of men for the Air Force and told in vigorous, colorful language, the story of Canadian youth flying by night, and by day against the enemy.

"Anybody who has been Overseas knows our boys are there . . ." said

Hitlerite Germany Will Burst Under Weight Of Crimes, Warns Stalin

"Germany Is Bleeding to Death, Her Resources Giving Out," Premier Joseph Stalin Declares on Anniversary of October Revolution—Claims Russia in Strongest Position in History to Withstand Attack.

R.A.F. BUSY ON SOVIET FRONT

London, Nov. 7.—(P)—The R.A.F. fighter wing in Soviet Russia has destroyed fifteen airplanes and possibly ten more for the loss of one Hurricane, the Air Ministry News Service said today.

It disclosed that Murmansk, Northern Russian port, was in the area patrolled by the R.A.F. and that since the wing had arrived in Russia Murmansk had been raided only twice.

Snow has converted the countryside into a desolate waste, the Air Ministry said, and the R.A.F. air-dromes are being rolled twice daily to keep a surface hard enough for use.

It added that the Russian air force recently presented the British wing commander with a cheque for 15,000 rubles, "intimating that Soviet airmen received 1,000 rubles for each enemy aircraft they shot down."

Today, he said, Russia has "no serious shortage either in food, arms or clothing," while her "reserves of manpower are inexhaustible." And she has an army, navy, allies and "the sympathy and support of all peoples of Europe who have fallen under the yoke of Fascist tyranny."

In the face of this, he declared, the Nazis face sure disaster. "Germany is bleeding to death, her resources giving out," Stalin said.

"The German invaders are straining their last forces. There is no doubt that Germany cannot sustain such a strain for any long time. Another few months, another half-year, one year maybe and Hitlerite Germany must burst under the weight of her own crimes."

His speech, broadcast over the Moscow radio, was addressed to soldiers, workers, collective farmers and "brothers and sisters in the enemy rear who have temporarily fallen under the yoke of German brigands."

"Our glorious men and women guerrillas are disrupting the rear of the German invaders," he said. "On behalf of the Soviet Government and our Bolshevik party, I am greeting and congratulating you on the twenty-fourth anniversary of the great Socialist October Revolution."

He continued: "Today we have to celebrate the anniversary in difficult conditions. 'We have temporarily lost a number of regions. 'The enemy has appeared before the gates of Leningrad and Moscow. 'The enemy calculated that after the very first blow our army would be dispersed, that our country would be forced to her knees. 'But the enemy badly miscalculated. Despite temporary reverses, our army and our navy are heroically beating off the enemy attacks

Air Force Placing No Limit On Recruiting, Power Tells Commons

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—(P)—So far as recruiting for the Royal Canadian Air Force goes, in point of numbers, the sky is the limit. That is the word from Air Minister Power.

"We will take as aircrew all the young men of Canada who are willing and able to serve and we make no limit anywhere—the sky is the limit," he told the House of Commons yesterday.

With regard to recruiting, Maj. Power said the Air Force did not even follow the example of the army in completing his review of the army set-up, explained to the House how the army released key men needed in industry.

"You may need the army to win, but you will lose the army without the air force," said the Air Minister. "That condition is going to obtain to the end of the war."

The Minister produced figures showing there would be approximately 13,000 young men a year reaching the enlistment age of eighteen who completed their junior matriculation and were eligible for Air Force duties. But the Air Force needed many more than that number each year.

However, for the moment, though there was no guarantee for the fu-

Moscow, Nov. 7.—(P)—Premier Joseph Stalin today gave Hitler "maybe a year" before "Hitlerite Germany must burst under the weight of her own crimes," in an address on the twenty-fourth anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

All Russia was "a single fighting camp" with inexhaustible supplies of manpower, Stalin said, adding that Germany, counting on the Red army cracking after the first blow, "badly miscalculated."

The speech was delivered before a military review in Red Square.

Stalin contrasted Russia today with that of the October Revolution, when Russia had been stripped of the Ukraine, the Caucasus, Central Asia, the Urals, Siberia and the Far East, and had neither allies, army nor arms and lacked bread and clothing.

Today, he said, Russia has "no serious shortage either in food, arms or clothing," while her "reserves of manpower are inexhaustible." And she has an army, navy, allies and "the sympathy and support of all peoples of Europe who have fallen under the yoke of Fascist tyranny."

In the face of this, he declared, the Nazis face sure disaster. "Germany is bleeding to death, her resources giving out," Stalin said.

JAPANESE RUSH FRESH TROOPS TO INDO-CHINA

Shanghai Reports that 12,000 Japanese Troops from Canton Have Arrived to Strengthen Tonkin Garrison.

Shanghai, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Military sources said today that 12,000 Japanese troops, presumably from Canton, disembarked Wednesday at Haiphong, French Indo-China, bringing the total in Tonkin province to 40,000.

Doubt was cast upon the possibility of an attempted invasion of neighboring Yunnan, however, military men saying Japan would need at least 100,000 and possibly 200,000 for a successful thrust against that Chinese Province through which runs the Burma road supply line.

German dispatches from Hanoi, the Indo-China capital, said Japanese were speeding the construction of military air fields and that Japanese officers had inspected the border and asked for extensive hospital accommodations from Hanoi authorities.

PUPPET OFFICIAL ARRESTED FOR ESPIONAGE

Shanghai, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Foreign reports said today that Cheng Wenyan, Vice Minister of War in the Japanese-sponsored Nanking regime, had been arrested by Nanking agents and Japanese police on a charge of espionage in behalf of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek.

Several other senior officials of the War Ministry were arrested simultaneously, it was said, as the result of discovery of an alleged plot to supply information to Chungking regarding movements of the Japanese and Wang Ching-wei, head of the Nanking regime.

re-development of Niagara Falls would meet the needs of defence industries in the Canadian border area and could be accomplished in less time.

Olde disagreed, asserting the Niagara development "involves many technical and legal problems of highly complex nature, not present in the St. Lawrence project."

The St. Lawrence, he added, "will develop the largest single undeveloped source of low cost hydroelectric energy on the North American continent and this will be done as an adjunct to the seaway."

more than we would have," he said. "Anyone who has been overseas knows that our boys are there... there in bombers, there at their stations and there over Germany every night... in Tripoli and Libya and Russia—everywhere the Royal Air Force is."

Eighteen months ago Canada began the training plan with the first class of 168 men. Today there are sixteen squadrons in active operation.

Besides that thousands of Canadians were in the Royal Air Force and before long twenty-five R.C.A.F. squadrons overseas would be equipped with Canadian ground crews.

The men Canada was sending to fight in continental skies were the cream of her youth, he said, adding: "They are the finest leaders of this country and the destiny of Canada will some day be in their hands."

"Therefore it behooves us, or any Government that takes its duties seriously to see to it that these men do not return from overseas with the same sense of disappointment, disillusionment and discontent as did men who returned from the last war."

Maj. Fower, "They are in bombers... at their stations... over Germany every night... They are everywhere the Royal Air Force is."

Finance Minister Lacey gave the House some near-astronomical figures as Canada's war finance. Canada's war expenses will be $1,400,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 into the Treasury in the current fiscal year toward meeting Canada's war cost, which will exceed $1,300,000,000 in addition to ordinary costs of Government.

LAVAL IS HOST TO CONVENTION OPENING TODAY

Representatives of Leading Canadian Universities in Quebec City for C.A.M.S.I. Congress.

Quebec, Nov. 7.—Official opening of the fifth annual convention of the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Interns took place here today with delegates from various parts of Canada, guests of the Undergraduate Medical Society of Laval University. The congress, which will last through Sunday, is being attended by representatives of leading Canadian universities, including Montreal, McGill, Queens, Toronto, Western, Dalhousie, Manitoba, Winnipeg and Alberta.

The C.A.M.S.I. is a national organization of some 4,000 medical students and interns registered at nine medical schools and forty hospitals in Canada and compares to the Association of Medical Students in the United States. Conceived in Winnipeg, the first annual convention was held at Toronto on March 13th, 1938. The 1939 convention was also held at Toronto, followed by Queens and McGill.

Jacques Dube, Executive President, today described the aims of the Association as designed to further the welfare and interests of Canadian medical students and interns, to promote co-operation between interns and hospital staff and to aid in the mutual exchange of ideas between the various medical schools of Canada. The C.A.M.S.I. has various executives at each medical school, and this year's national executive is made up of students from the Medical School of Laval University.

Following registration proceedings this morning, delegates prepared to attend business meetings and clinical sessions which will be held in different Quebec hospitals and at which papers on various medical topics will be read by Laval University faculty members.

GERMAN PRESS GIVES ANSWER TO ROOSEVELT

Declares that Germany is Willing to Match Social Achievements with Those of United States.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A Nazi spokesman, commenting on President Roosevelt's speech before the International Labor Office yesterday, asserted today Germany is willing to match her social achievements against those of the United States.

The spokesman said that labor had become a "slave of the military state" under the Nazi system and that Berlin is "the principal slave market of the world."

"Nobody is hungry in Germany," a spokesman argued.

"There are no multimillionaires but there is also no proletariat. We are glad to be slave if thereby an older slavery is broken and the Reich is led into a period of liberty, comfort and plenty. America's social order is catastrophic."

In contrast to Stalin's speech yesterday, the spokesman asserted it "revealed the spiritual decay of an Asiatic village despot."

His speech was born of fear and terror and "he tried first to scare Germany and her allies, which is of course laughable, second to encourage the Russian people to desert, third to lure figures and third to bring pressure on England and indirectly on America to relieve him by creating an effective Western Front."

(Stalin said that if the Germans want a war of destruction they will get it, that 4,500,000 Germans had been killed, wounded or captured, and that the lack of a second European front was Russia's chief problem in the war of liberation against Germany.)

1—Remove the hostilities, with their attendant devastations, as far away from Finnish soil as possible.

2—Destroy Russian bases along the Eastern border of Finland which, they said, had served time after time as springboards for attacks against Finland.

References to a future peace conference, it was asserted, were intended to point out that Finland would rest her case before international leaders as to whether her security did not justify a move to a defensible frontier than the old one.

The announcement was paralleled by the Finnish news agency's blanket denial as falsehood and propaganda reports that Finland had received Russia's terms for peace last August 18.

(Last Monday United States Secretary Hull said he had informed Hjalmar J. Procopé, Finnish Minister in Washington, that the Soviet Union was prepared to discuss Finnish-Russian peace on the basis of territorial compensation for Finland.)

(The United States also demanded that Finland quit the war against Russia as Germany's ally or sacrifice its friendship.)

CANADA SEEKS TO MAINTAIN UNITED FORCE

Air Minister Declares R.C.A.F. Men Serving with British Are Grouped Wherever Possible.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Efforts are being made to keep Canadian airmen together as much as possible when they serve overseas and, Air Minister Power told the House of Commons, the British Government is enthusiastic over the idea.

"The Canadian Government has a moral responsibility in regard to the general conditions and welfare of these men (in the Royal Air Force), to see that they should not be too widely dispersed and that they should have ready access to Canadian authority," said Maj. Power yesterday.

To implement that policy the R.A.F. invited R.C.A.F. to send its own officers to work in R.A.F. departments in which there might be contact with Canadian crews or groups.

"They would also take our officers into the high commands as soon as we can spare them," he said.

Also it had been arranged for the Air Force that no sentence of court martial involving dismissal, cashiering, penal servitude or sentence of death may be passed on any R.C.A.F. man overseas without being sent to Canada for confirmation.

along the whole front, inflicting heavy losses on him, while our country—our whole country—has organized itself as a single fighting camp in order jointly with our army and navy to rout the German invader.

"There was a time when our country was in a still more difficult position."

"Remember the year 1918... At that time three-quarters of our country was in the hands of foreign interventionists. We had temporarily lost the Ukraine, the Caucasus, Central Asia, the Urals, Siberia and the Far East."

"We had no allies, no Red Army—we had only just begun to create it—and we experienced a shortage of bread, a shortage of arms and a shortage of clothing."

"At that time fourteen states were pressing against our country, but we were not despondent."

"In the midst of the 'conflagration of war we organized the Red Army and converted our country into a military camp. The spirit of the great Lenin inspired us for the war against the interventionists—and what happened?"

"We defeated the interventionists, restored all the lost territories and achieved victory."

"Now our country is in a far better position than twenty-three years ago. Now our country is many times richer as regards industry, raw materials and food than twenty-three years ago."

"Now we have allies, who jointly form a united front against the German invaders."

"Now we enjoy the sympathy and support of all peoples of Europe who have fallen under the yoke of Fascist tyranny."

"Now we have a splendid army and a splendid navy defending with their lives the freedom and independence of our country."

"We experience no serious shortage either in food, arms or clothing. Our whole country, all peoples of our country, are backing our army and navy, helping them to smash the predatory hordes of German Fascism."

"Our reserves of manpower are inexhaustible... Is it possible then to doubt that we can and must win victory over the German invaders? The enemy is not as strong as certain terror-stricken, weak intellectuals picture him. The devil is not as terrible as he is painted. Who can deny that our army has more than once put the much-lauded German troops to a bloody flight?"

"If one judges by Germany's actual position and not by the boastful assertion of German propagandists, it will not be difficult to see that the German Fascist invaders are facing disaster."

"Hunger and impoverishment are now reigning in Germany. In four months of war Germany has lost 4,500,000 soldiers. Germany is bleeding to death; her resources are giving out. The spirit of revolt is gaining possession not only of the nations of Europe who fell under the yoke of the German invaders, but of the German peoples themselves, who see no end to the war."

"Comrades, Red Army and Red Navy men, commanders and political instructors, men and women guerrillas: The whole world is looking to you as a force capable of destroying the brigand hordes of the German invaders. The entire peoples of Europe who fell under the yoke of the German invaders are looking to you as their liberators. A great liberating mission has fallen to your lot."

"Be worthy of this mission. The war you are waging is a war of liberation, a just war. Let manly images of our great ancestors—Alexander Nevsky, Dimitri Donskoi, Kusma Minin, Dimitri Pozharski, Alexander Suvorov, Mikhail Kutuzov—inspire you in this war."

"Let the victorious banner of the great Lenin wave over your heads. Death to the German invaders, long live our glorious Motherland, her freedom and independence. Under the banner of Lenin, onward to victory."

LONE BRITISH AIRCRAFT LOST IN NIGHT RAID

Wilhelmshaven and Bremen Pounded by British Bombers During Night—Bombs Dropped on Oslo.

London, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The big port cities of Wilhelmshaven and Bremen in Northwest Germany and docks at the German-used French port of Le Havre were bombed last night, the Air Ministry said today.

Extensive mine-laying operations by British planes ranging along the German-held coast also were carried out despite unfavorable weather.

The communiqué said one British bomber was missing.

Reuters quoted the Oslo radio as saying British planes raided that capital of German-occupied Norway early today.

A few bombs were dropped "without doing damage," the radio said, declaring one British plane was shot down.

Another communiqué announced that a few enemy aircraft flew over coastal areas of Britain early last night, mainly in the East and South-east of England.

"Some bombs were dropped but they did little damage and no one was seriously hurt."

GERMANS CLAIM TEN PLANES DOWNED
Berlin, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The German high command today claimed ten British planes were shot down yesterday in the Channel area and off the Netherlands and Norwegian coasts while German bombs hit an English utility plant caused large fires.

A communiqué reported that small raiding forces dropped bombs upon localities of Northern Germany overnight.

"Damage was insignificant," it asserted.

German airmen were declared to have sunk a small British ship 125 miles West of Land's End, while night fighters bombed the English Southern and Eastern coast harbors.

Air attacks were made upon the British-held Tobruk area in African operations; it was reported.

(London announced Wilhelmshaven and Hamburg, among other places, were attacked in Germany, while a few Nazi aircraft were over Southwest England.)

LABOR LEADERS ARE CONVICTED OF EXTORTION

Possible Maximum Penalty of Thirty Years in Jail for Two Men Accused of Mulcting Movie Executives.

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A possible maximum penalty of thirty years in prison and $30,000 fines for two men accused of extorting $550,000 from movie executives.

A Federal Court jury found the pair guilty on all three counts of an indictment after deliberating only two hours yesterday.

The verdict, climaxing a four-weeks' trial that brought some of Hollywood's top executives to the witness stand, found Judge John C. Knox told the jurors, "let a lot of fresh air into union halls throughout the country."

Brown, President of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees (A.T.S.E.), and Bioff, his personal representative in Hollywood, were turned over to the United States Marshal to await sentence next Wednesday.

Judge Knox refused to accept bail and denied motions to set aside the verdict.

In characterizing the verdict as "eminently desirable," Judge Knox asserted: "All labor who doubtless be glad to have their unions purged of such individuals," adding:

"For union labor to endure, it must rid itself of men who stand ready to sell out labor when it suits their purpose."

The pair was convicted of collecting from Warner Brothers, Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox and Loew's Inc. for assurance of labor peace in the motion picture industry.

United States Attorney Mathias F. Correa characterized Bioff in his summation as a "Chicago hoodlum" and "a raving egomaniac" who had "lied again and again under oath."

Catholic Charities Campaign Is Behind Last Year's Pace

First Four Days of Annual Drive Have Netted $5,587, Decrease of $1,744 from Figure of $7,331 for Corresponding Period of 1940 Effort—Yesterday's Collections Totalled $1,846—Rev. G. Elery Read, D.D., in Eloquent Appeal.

Receipt of $1,846 yesterday pushed the total collected during the first four days of the local Catholic Charities campaign to $5,587, it was announced today by the campaign Treasurer, Armand Laberge.

This figure is $1,744 less than the total of $7,331 collected during the same period in the 1940 campaign, and today, Saturday and Sunday must see the collection of more than twice the total to date if the objective of $12,000 is to be achieved.

Speaking in behalf of the campaign last night, Rev. G. Elery Read, D.D., Pastor Emeritus of Plymouth United Church, said "We should give as generously as possible because of the constant and increasing need of the poor and the increasing number of those beyond our borders who turn to us in the day of their troubles and difficulties."

Pointing out that Sherbrooke is the focal point and distributing centre for much of the philanthropy which enriches the life of the Eastern Townships, Rev. Dr. Read declared that this appeal is for no merely parochial or local service. "The organizations to derive assistance from this appeal gather within their healing and comforting shelter folk from many communities who thank God for the help they receive and bless those whose vision and service make this possible," Rev. Dr. Read stated.

Referring to the different traditions and customs of the two races predominating in Sherbrooke, the speaker said that although such differences may cause serious difficulties and misunderstandings, they may, on the other hand, become the means of cultural advancement and enrichment. "There is no better way towards the opening of our sympathies with, and our understanding of one another than through helping one another in good works," Rev. Dr. Read said, "and therefore I ask you, especially those nearest to me racially and religiously, to stand by and help with all your heart those who are appealing to you in behalf of the institutions which are serving this city and surrounding areas."

LARGER UNIT ADVOCATED IN RICHMOND TALK

Dr. W. O. Rothney Speaks in Favor of Larger Unit of Administration at Richmond Community School.

Pointing out that the Larger School Unit of Administration is no longer in the experimental stage but has been proven to be successful in every instance in which it has been tried, Dr. W. O. Rothney, Professor of Education at the University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, told members of the Richmond Community School last night that he failed to see how anyone who understands the bill could oppose it.

Dr. Rothney said the Larger Unit had been in operation in Scotland for twenty years, and that almost every other "civilized" country had put it into effect, Canada, he said, is the only exception, although several of the provinces are trying it in part, and Alberta has wholly gone over to this way of administering their education.

In every place where it had been tried education had been improved, costs had gone down, Dr. Rothney explained how the Central Board would be elected and what its functions would be. He pointed out that last year when the bill came up in Parliament the people were not prepared for it. They did not know enough about it to want to adopt it, and so their Committee had decided to postpone its passing for a year in order that people would have time to study it.

A great deal of literature on the Unit was made available to all interested people, and the committee had been ready to go and discuss it with any groups who desired more information. Now he found that the majority of the people were in favor of it, but he stressed the fact that just to be in favor was not enough to get the bill through.

"It is imperative to have action on the part of the people. They should make their desires known to the Provincial Government, and I feel that the Government is quite willing to do as the Protestant people want on this point," Dr. Rothney said.

At the conclusion of Dr. Rothney's talk the students of the Richmond Community School passed an unanimous resolution in support of the bill, and this resolution will be forwarded to the Provincial Secretary.

This was the concluding meeting of the Richmond Community School. Next Friday the members will meet with the Asbestos Community School at Danville for their closing meeting.

BUGBEE BUSINESS COLLEGE

An old fashioned spelling match was put on by the Literary Society and resulted in both profit and entertainment. The champions were Phyllis Davis and Peggy Goodhand and the words were called by the Stenography teacher, Miss Roxie McFadyen. The result was a very close match—the final honors going to Phyllis Davis' team. The One Hundred word test was read by Paul Brainerd. The latest events—home and abroad—were presented most interestingly. Before the programme began it was decided to order rings and pins for the class, which action has since been carried out. The class picture is being taken on the way and it is hoped that the individual pictures may all be on hand before Christmas.

Bob Johnston, who is on the military staff at the Canadian Army (Basic) Training Centre, at Brantford, Ont., was a guest at Mr. McFadyen's over the week-end. Bob was a student of S.W.C. for three years, in one of which he also acted as assistant teacher in the Book-keeping Department. He graduated in the Secretarial Course in 1940.

Mary Sturton has just returned to classes after spending one week at her home in Quebec City where she attended Commencement Exercises at the Quebec High School.

Eleanor Leith, Phyllis Davis and Jean Hunting spent the week-end at their respective homes.

Ronald Killick spent Saturday and Sunday with his grandparents in Sherbrooke.

Mr. McFadyen delivered the jam, jelly and pickles, etc., collected in this community, to the Wales Home Committee at Sherbrooke, on Saturday last.

WALES HOME COLLECTION OF JAMS, JELLIES, ETC.

During the past couple of weeks key ladies in Stanstead, Rock Island and Beebe, collected 190 units of jam, jellies, pickles, etc., plus $3.00 in cash, for the Wales Home at Richmond.

These contributions were made with excellent grace and reflects the fine generous spirit of the people of this community. A load of ample proportions together with the $3.00 was taken to Sherbrooke on Saturday by Mr. J. D. McFadyen and handed over to the Wales Home Committee to be forwarded directly to the Home at Richmond.

MANY SOLDIERS' PARCELS SENT BY COATICOOK

Large Number of Christmas
Boxes Dispatched to Boys in England—Military Whist Held.

Coaticook, Nov. 7.—Officials at the local post office were busy with the large number of Christmas boxes parcels arranged by a committee of the local work fund to be sent to every one of the boys from Coaticook and vicinity in Overseas service. This includes the new foundland. Eighty-three boxes in all were mailed.

The money for filling the boxes was raised by donations and from the proceeds of a theatre raffle party held at the Rivoli Theatre. At the theatre, where the prizes were drawn, the first prize, a radio, fell to Billy Clowery, the number being drawn by Mayor J. H. Pelouquin. Alderman Akhurst assisted the Mayor in the drawings.

Through the generosity of Mr. Ralph Berzan, proprietor of the theatre, a party of the proceeds from the sale of tickets for the evening went into the Christmas box fund, which totalled considerably over $200. The following larger donations were made: Barnston Ladies, $15.75; Compton, $15; Dixville, $10; I.O.O.F., $10; Masonic Lodge, $10; Young Ladies' Bridge Club, $15.

AWAIT VERDICT TODAY IN LOCAL PERJURY TRIAL

Cecile Desruisseaux Claims
Evidence Based on Case of Mistaken Identity—Arguments
Presented This Morning.

Argument by prosecution and defence counsel was heard before Mr. Justice Charles D. White in Court of King's Bench this morning in the trial of Cecile Desruisseaux, 20 years old, of this city, on a charge of perjury.

The judge's charge to the jury is expected to be made this afternoon and the verdict rendered before the close of today's session of the court. The Desruisseaux girl was charged with perjury following evidence given during hearing of an incidental petition in the case of Hebert vs. Hebert for separation as to bed and board, when she stated that on the night of November 19, 1939, she had seen Mrs. Hebert in the company of Leo Pinette at a party at Sand Hill. Miss Desruisseaux was one of several persons charged with perjury in this connection, and Rene Hebert and Eddy Lebel are facing trial on a charge of subornation to perjury.

Defence contends that the girl's evidence was given under a case of mistaken identity, and testifying yesterday afternoon the accused said she had not known personally the woman in Pinette's company on the night of the dance, but had been told that she was Mrs. Hebert. Her evidence, she said, had not been given in bad faith and she had made the statement concerning Mrs. Hebert on the strength of what had been told her at the party.

Mrs. Hebert testified that she was in New York City on the evening of November 19, 1939, and further stated that she had never gone out in Leo Pinette's company.

Other witnesses heard were Rene Hebert, Daniel Chayer, Laura Grenier, Antonio Gilbert, Yvette Bernier, Maurice Couture, Mrs. Joseph Desruisseaux and Albert Desilets, prothonotary of the Superior Court.

Official Charter Presented To Lions Club At Coaticook

Representatives of Lionism from Ottawa, Littleton, N.H., Montreal, Verdun, Sherbrooke and Magog Attend Banquet and Dance Featuring Charter Night of Newly-Formed Organization.

Coaticook, November 7.—A banner night for the Coaticook Club, latest addition to the ranks of Lionism, was climaxed last night by the presentation by District Governor A. H. Thurston, of Ottawa, of the charter from Lions International to President Anson P. Rogers, of the newly-formed organization.

Presentation of the charter was made at a banquet held in the Anglican Church Hall and attended by large numbers of Lions and their ladies from Ottawa, Littleton, N.H., Montreal, Verdun, Sherbrooke, Magog and other points. Following the banquet a dance was held in the Coaticook Armory to bring the evening's celebration to a conclusion.

In addition to District Governor Thurston, other distinguished Lions attending the Charter Night festivities were District Governor John Little, of Littleton, N.H., Secretary-Treasurer W. Gould, of the Littleton Club, District Deputy Governor David Amory, of Montreal, Bruce Malcolm, Special Representative of Lions International, Philippe Juneau, President of the Sherbrooke Club, which sponsored the new local organization, Lawrence Parent, President of the Magog Club, William Adamson, President of the Verdun Club, Arthur Bayne, President of the Verdun Club, and A. Pratt, of Ottawa.

Also attending the event were Raymond Fregeau, M.L.A., of Rock Island, Jay N. White, President of the Coaticook Board of Trade, Leonard Akhurst, Noble Grand of the Coaticook Lodge, I.O.O.F., Cecil Ducton, Wm. Master of the Coaticook Masonic Lodge, and Mayor J. H. Pelouquin, of Coaticook.

Mr. Juneau, who was Chairman of the gathering, welcomed the new Coaticook club in behalf of the Sherbrooke and Magog clubs and predicted great things from the new organization. He also extended thanks to Mr. Ellis, President of the Ladies' Guild of the Church, and the members, for the excellent banquet.

District Deputy Governor Amory introduced the guests at the head-table, following which Mayor Pelouquin welcomed the visitors in the name of Coaticook. Rev. T. J. Matthews, of the Anglican Church, also a Lion, said the club would provide a medium of understanding between the two races of Coaticook.

Greetings to the new club from the United States were conveyed by District Governor Little, who mentioned that it was the third Charter Night which he had attended in Quebec Province, and said that American Lions are keenly interested in activities of the clubs in the Dominion. Mr. Fregeau then praised the Lionism movement in a few remarks.

Tribute to the war effort being made by Quebec Province, shoulder to shoulder with the other Provinces of Canada, was paid by District Governor Thurston, who discussed the aims of Lionism and voiced the confidence that the Coaticook Club would measure up to them. President Rogers, in accepting the Charter, said the members' effort would be directed to helping the needy and making Coaticook a better place in which to live. Bruce Malcolm then introduced a number of guests at the banquet.

William Adamson, President of the new Littleton Lions Club presented the new club with a Canadian flag, while the Stars and Stripes was given the new club by President Lawrence Parent of the Magog Club. Pictures of the King and Queen were presented to President Rogers by Arthur Bayne, President of the Verdun Club, with a gong and road sign being presented the club by President Juneau, of Sherbrooke.

In behalf of the Cornwall and Lachute Clubs, Deputy District Governor Amory gave President Rogers a President's button and fine box.

President Rogers then introduced the Officers and Directors of the Coaticook Club, and Treasurer Allen D. Grady presented gifts to District Governor Thurston and Mrs. Thurston, following which the singing of "God Save the King" and "My Country 'Tis of Thee" brought the banquet to a close. During the evening songs were led by Armand Crepeau, of Sherbrooke, with Francis Labrecque, also of Sherbrooke, at the piano.

THE RUSSIANS STRIKE BACK

The Russians have been so frank throughout five long and bitter months in acknowledging where and when their forces and cities are imperilled that their present announcements of important successful operations read convincingly.

For some days dispatches from the various fronts have indicated Russian belief that the Germans have spent the main force of their present drives. New troops and supplies are needed before it can be resumed. The Russians believe Hitler is combing the occupied countries for fresh soldiery to replace his warworn shock troops.

Most dangerous to the Russians still was the pincer movement around the Sea of Azov. But the Southern flank of this pincer, having pierced the Crimean peninsula from North to South, without determined resistance, now finds itself facing a finish fight before knocking down the barriers to the Caucasus from that direction.

The Northern wing of the pincer, aimed at Rostov which like Moscow and Leningrad before it is proving a tough city for the Germans to take, has met a reverse. Marshal Simeon Timoshenko's armies, standing in the Donets Basin before Rostov, are reported to have forced the Germans to withdraw from a corpse-strewn battlefield.

On the Moscow front the fighting at Tula, one hundred miles South of Moscow where a threat to the Central Russian forces had developed, now was slackening, Moscow said, adding that the Nazi drive had lost its ardor.

This is the front and these the forces that Hitler smashed, dispersed, annihilated and pursued relentlessly—in a speech and a special order of the day more than a month ago.

The Russians appear to have accomplished with signal success the difficult task of moving large and fully equipped troops, with supplies, from far back of the Urals to the fighting fronts to bolster the defenders of Moscow and the Donets Basin.

London dispatches report that already more than 200,000 of these troops are in action. It was to accomplish such reinforcements, as well as to train new armies for next spring's operations, that Marshal Voroshilov and Budenny gave up their front-line commands, in the North and South, respectively. But it had not been foreseen generally that the railway and supply lines of the hinterland could deliver such major support in such a short time.

It appears probable that despite Nazi dive bombers the Russians have also reinforced their troops in the Eastern Crimea. Kerch now is expected to be defended stoutly, as is Sevastopol in the Southwest. While the German high command yesterday spoke of "pursuing the beaten enemy" in the Crimea, that is its customary description of any Russian withdrawal, whether strategic or enforced, and the speed with which the Germans penetrated the Crimea from North to South is clear indication that the Russian withdrawal was strategic, giving up land it did not want to defend, in accordance with the policy it has followed consistently.

THE MARK OF THE BEAST

While certain stories recently published of cold-blooded atrocities committed by the Germans may be exaggerated, the average Canadian is ready to believe that the truth about the Nazi reign of terror in conquered Europe, when at last pieced together and told in its dreadful detail, will reveal such inhuman cruelties as cannot be matched in the record of history's darkest hours.

The Nazi tyranny stalks over Europe as a nameless terror, exciting revulsion and dread to an indescribable degree. Human life under the Nazis has fallen lower than the value of the basest slave of the most vicious Oriental despot. Things have been done by these Nazi beasts to their own fellow-countrymen who dared to oppose them that defy the ability of the most morbid imaginations to match. Men and women have been tortured beyond the farthest limits of brutality and pain, and the human spirit has been defiled by beasts in the uniforms of Storm Troopers.

Some of the first hand accounts that reach the outside world of these atrocities bear official imprimatur testifying to their truth. But still there remain people in the few surviving democracies who do not credit them or realize what the menace of Hitlerism means to them. One would expect to find the world rising as one man in dreadful anger to remove the foul stain of Nazism from the earth. But even now, while one hundred innocent Frenchmen pay for the lives of two Germans, while thousands who have committed no offence save the unwillingness to bow to tyranny are being shot or hanged or tortured in Czechoslovakia or Yugoslavia, while the milk and bread sent to the starving children of gallant Greece is stolen to sustain the Nazi gunmen, and while a thousand men and women are being machine-gunned to death in a ditch in Poland, a few short-sighted, self-seeking politicians in the United States Senate are wrangling over a bill to arm American ships, and people all over the world give their chief thoughts to their trivial private affairs.

It may not be for others to tell the American people what to do but it is strange that they, the best-informed people in this world have not long since seen the danger and united in righteous anger to see justice done not to Europe but rather to humanity. And it may not be for us to criticize for within the Empire there is no certainty that all that can be done is being done to meet the Nazi menace and destroy it before it can strike down many more innocents in Europe, or in Asia. But never has a world crusade had a stronger spur than the desire to end the sufferings of those hundreds of millions who are crushed by the Nazi terror. The Nazi inhumanity to the men and women of enslaved Europe is not a cause for mourning but one for united action in which all obstacles to the speedy construction of the means of crushing Hitlerism should melt, like snow at the approach of summer, before the righteous anger of mankind.

GOD OVER ALL

A clear night.
A sky bright with a million stars
And a far plane, like a star.
What are the thoughts of that young flier,
While soaring higher and ever higher
On man-made wing?
Perhaps of adventure "over there"—
Of flight thro' hell
And a big job done, and a medal to wear—
Dad's chest would swell!
Perchance his musings are of the stars;
Of earth below
With her gardens—and her battle-scars...
Of the things man does not know.
O God, Creator of stars and men,
Who hearest a sparrow fall,
Bring that young flier safe home again—
God over all!

"A People Who Will Not Be Conquered Cannot Be Conquered"

We reproduce below an article from the November Rotarian entitled "My Clipper Trip to England," in which Tom J. Davis, President of Rotary International, gives his impressions of conditions as he found them during a trip to war-torn England. Here is what he saw, heard and what he thinks of the unconquerable British spirit:

"Shortly after entering my term of office, I received a cable from England—from T. D. Young, President of R.I.B.I. (Rotary International in Great Britain and Ireland), asking me to come to Britain in behalf of Rotary. Shortly after, T. A. Warren, First Vice-President of Rotary International, cabled in much the same vein.

"Since it was best for Rotary that its International President and First Vice-President have a consultation and that there be a personal contact between British Rotarians and the international offices, I flew to England from the United States.

"Apart from the official duties of the trip, I had one big question to examine for Rotary: How is Rotary in Great Britain functioning under war conditions?

"I came back with three impressions that I must share with you.

"First—as to my own question: Rotary in Great Britain is, under the superb leadership of Tom Young, and the General Council of R.I.B.I., stronger and better than it ever has been.

"I visited fourteen Clubs in my brief stay. Every meeting was an interesting meeting, and every one was crowded. It meant something for these men, with their duties (as I shall tell later), to give up time and precious 'petrol' to travel to these gatherings, but it was worth it for them to meet with their fellows and see an official visitor from Rotary International.

"Let me say here that while there must be many 'I's' in this narrative, I have no illusions about it. It was not Tom Davis—it was Rotary International in the person of its President—who was greeted, feted, honored. So where you meet an 'I,' just think of it as 'Rotary,' for that is what is meant.

"Rotary Clubs in Britain are gaining members, not losing them; nearly 600 were added in a twelve-month. New Clubs are being organized—two in the past year. Rotary today is building better in Great Britain than ever before.

"Why is this? My second great impression is that the Rotarians of Great Britain have recognized their responsibility to and in the community—and are discharging that responsibility wonderfully well.

"It will not surprise readers who follow the Rotarian's monthly reports that I did not meet a Rotarian in my travels who was not taking part in some of the vital and necessary works of his community. Rotarians are serving as air-raid wardens, fire wardens, volunteer firemen, fire watchers, hospital workers, in control rooms—there isn't a community activity in which Rotarians are not serving.

"To me, Rotarians of Britain have epitomized the spirit of service and the teachings of Rotary. Here, under the most frightful exemplification of man's inhumanity to man that this world has ever witnessed, Rotary is manifestly demonstrating its usefulness by deeds, not words. Every Rotarian in Britain is doing his job—be it great or small, mental or manual. Not only his regular job, but his communal job, as well.

"The third imprint this visit has made on me is the enormous prestige and influence of Rotary in Britain.

"Every door, be it official or private, was opened to me—that is, to Rotary. I did not need to knock—it was open.

"The London Times, for instance, entertained me at one of its famous 'board dinners' in honor of Rotary. When I could not attend on the date set, a special one was arranged. I saw the newspaper made, from the writing of the news and editorials—one after another of the Times' famous editors acted as my host—until the distinguished Geoffrey Dawson, chief editor, took me to see the news presses. Since the

IF OPPONENTS OPEN OR IMPEDE, "V.V." SYSTEM STILL WORKS

EDITOR'S NOTE: In this series of articles a writer is not advocating the "V.V." system. In keeping with his policy to present anything new to his readers, the various details of this system are presented for their information, so that if and when they play against the system, they may have an adequate defence against it.

Unlike any other system, the "V.V." system does not use an honor count table. It deals entirely with the eight high cards, the four aces and four kings.

In the preceding articles I have shown you how they determine the number of high cards held in the combined hands. I might add one thought in regard to a second hand bid. Charles E. Van Vleck explained that you have a right to shade your second hand bid, as he likes to add the value of the original bidder's pass to his hand.

When the opponents open the bidding or try to interfere with the system, the action taken under the "V.V." system is outlined below:

(a) When their side is not vulnerable:

1. An overall shows no more than two high cards.

2. With three high cards, they make an informative double.

3. With four or five high cards and the opponents' suit stopped, they bid one no trump.

4. With six or seven high cards, they bid two no trump.

(b) When their side is vulnerable:

1. An overall shows no damage to the Times' premises some months ago, the presses have been dropped underground, until the new headquarters and pressroom are entirely bombproof!

"As the first copy of that day's Times rolled off the press, Mr. Dawson picked it up, autographed it, and presented it to me as a memento.

"Three Cabinet Ministers invited me to see them. With Anthony Eden, I had a most interesting half hour. Three times I tried to leave, for I knew he was swamped with work, but he kept on with new questions. Finally, I started for the door, and he walked with me; suddenly he drew me back to see the view from his window.

"Mr. Secretary," I said, "I should think that when decisions of such awful import are to be made, and you hesitate to make them, this impressive view would help you."

"Mr. Drvis," Eden answered, "that's just what I do—come here, and decide." Then he walked back with me, out of his office into the corridor, and I went from No. 10 Downing Street to the door of the car that was waiting for me.

"At the Admiralty I saw things that the Admiral told me were not seen by forty-nine out of every fifty men who held passes to the enclosure."

"Why? Because of the respect and prestige that Rotary has earned. It wasn't for Tom Davis—it was an honor and trust shown to Rotary."

"Wherever I went, in each of the fourteen localities I visited—and I travelled in Scotland and Wales, as well as England—the Lord Mayor and the Lord Provost of the town entertained for me. At one reception the Lord Mayor, impressive in his robes and chains of office, greeted me officially, and then, lifting up the lapel of his coat, pointed to the Rotary Flag. President's pin he was wearing there.

"And now, President Tom," he said, "I've put this on so that I can greet you again as a Rotarian." And a Lord Mayor whom we visited told that he was not a member of his city's Rotary Club, because his classification was filled, and asked Tom Young if there were some way he might be accepted!

"At Coventry a tremendous crowd had gathered outside of the building where the reception was held. I heard a lot of remarks, but I prize one most: 'I'd know he was an American—I'd ask him "Tom Mix" hat!'

"I prize another memento of my visit to Coventry. At the Cathedral, the lovely, ruined Cathedral, the provost told me that they wanted to make me a gift; and presented me with a cross made of two ancient iron spikes from the Cathedral, bound together with silver wire. That souvenir of suffering, of bravery, I shall ever treasure.

"When I was in the Custom House at Foyens, an official glancing over my papers said, 'Tom Davis? Why, you'd make the President of Rotary International!' And when I agreed, he introduced himself as a member of the Dublin Rotary Club.

"Whatever inspired the ruthless destruction of Britain's hallowed shrines and priceless relics was as mistaken in the psychology of the people as can possibly be. Instead of filling their hearts with dread and terror, it has stiffened backbones into rods of steel.

"One night Tom Young and I arrived in a city only an hour after 'Jerry' had left. We went out with the official inspection. I stood by and saw the set jaw and the eyes of a man who came home from his work to watch workmen dig from what had been his home the bodies of first his wife, then his older daughter and son, and last his little 8-year-old curly-headed daughter.

"I spoke to an old woman who was passing through the rubble of her home for a few keepsakes. As she spoke with me, she uncovered a little china dog, and all unconsciously she pressed it to her breast as she told me, 'Oh, it might have been so much worse!'

"Yes, an 18-year-old girl, her eyes red with tears for her father, just killed in the blitz, said the same: 'It could be worse!'

"There are no mock heroes. There is no parade of virtue. It's there, deep down in every man, woman and child. It's real. Every blow but raises their chin, already up, a notch higher!

"The impressive thing about it is the fact that everyone insists that it's the other fellow who has the dangerous job—his own is just routine. The captain of one of the destroyers that was in the Bismarck chase and battle assured me that it was no more dangerous than any sea-going duty. It's the people at home who have the dangerous tasks! And the leader of a group of bomb removers, those 'heroes' who dig up and destroy delayed-action bombs, was equally vehement in insisting that his work was purely a matter of course, without any special danger. That's the spirit I always encountered. There's a job to do!

"I went into munitions works, and saw girls handling cranes and lathes and micrometers and grimy tools. I spoke with them.

"What did you do before the war? Were you trained for this? I asked them—and they had come to these shops from dairies, from sculleries, from behind counters; they had learned their trades on the job itself.

"What are you doing this for, I asked one girl. 'For a fine living, or for King and country?'

"'Sir,' she answered, 'for both!'

"I saw a man raise over his newly blitzed store a placard, 'Cheerio!' it read, and then came pictures of the King and Queen—and one more line: 'One day nearer victory!'

"A people who will not be conquered cannot be conquered."

"I had a delightful visit on the way back with the Rotary Clubs in Portugal. They have been extremely active in service, both for their country men and for the many, many refugees who pass through their country. Under the leadership of such men as Ernesto Pires, Ernesto S. Bastos, and Francisco Pinto, all Past Presidents of the Lisbon Club, to name but a few, the five Clubs are growing stronger every month. Five new Clubs will be ready to organize when peace makes it possible.

"All five Clubs met in an inter-city meeting for me at the old palace of the Kings of Portugal some miles from the capital, at which every Club was well represented.

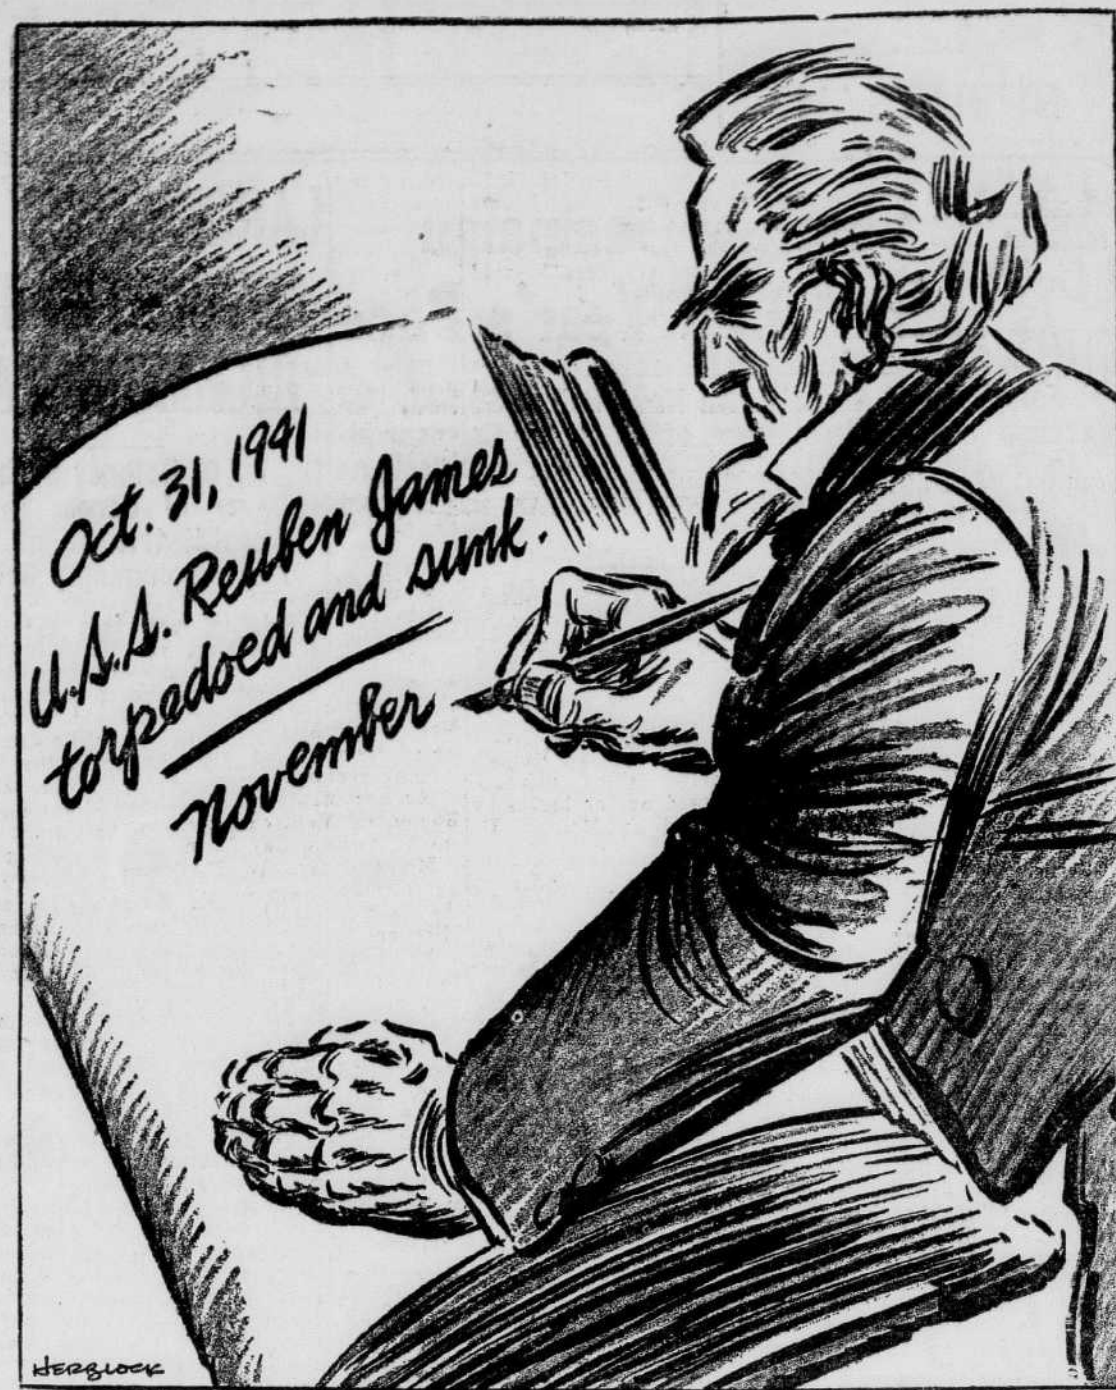

"I had feared that our flight schedule would not permit a visit with the Rotarians of Bermuda, but a layover of some hours at Hamilton on the way out permitted an impromptu gathering of many Rotarians, including Sir S. Stanley Spurling, Immediate Past Governor of the 174th District, and President Aitken and Secretary Munro, of the Hamilton Rotary Club, at which we had opportunity to discuss many Rotary matters.

"To recapitulate: In Bermuda, in Portugal, and in Great Britain, Rotary is definitely stronger, better and healthier than ever before.

"I have a great admiration for the individual Rotarians who have proved, under emergencies, that they know the responsibility of a Rotarian to his community and his Club.

"I do want to pay tribute to the officers of Rotary International in Great Britain and Ireland, to Tom Young and all the members of the General Council, and to our First Vice-President—a genial, hard-working Tom Warren, whose radio message so thrilled us at the Denver Convention in June. Also, my thanks for the helpful services of Secretary F. C. Hickson, whom the Council allowed to accompany me in my journeys. And to the Rotary officers in Portugal, working so marvellously well under unusual handicaps, I wish to make a special bow.

"But, above all, to the people of

A TIME FOR STRONG MEN

Le Jour, Montreal

We have within our hands all the elements of victory. The important thing is to know how to use them. Our democracies are often scandalously weak and almost criminally nonchalant. In spite of all the trumps we hold we may be beaten through our own fault. Up to the present we have watched a terrifying and classic combat. One by one Hitler has beaten our early Allies. We can, if we really wish to, prevent a total defeat of Russia. If the English and the Americans do not understand this, they have signed an order for their defeat and the loss of their liberties. We can save nothing, neglect nothing, forget nothing in order to defeat the hydra. The leaders of the democracies have the sacred duty to renounce political advantages, certain party attachments, those of the gentle times of peace, to save a threatened civilization. It is a swift and cruel hour when softness and indecision become not merely faults, but crimes. Those who have authority in their hands should exercise it with firmness and courage, even by violating sometimes certain so-called democratic customs, in order that the blood of millions of men may not have been spilled in vain.

Britain, unconquered, unconquerable, I raise my hand in salute to its fortitude and bravery unparalleled in the entire history of civilization."

Perhaps you've discovered that the shirtwaister is the most well-fitting dress for larger figures. . . especially when you make it yourself! Pattern 9882 by Marian Martin has just those details you've learned are slenderizing—the pointed yoke with darts below it to control the bodice fullness, the slim front panel of the skirt. The Sew Chart, too, is a great help in securing that tailored effect. The collar may be cut in two styles, made of contrasting fabric like the yoke, or omitted altogether. Make use of the three sleeve lengths (short, three-quarter, long) and the optional button and ric-rac trimming to create several charming versions of this frock!

Pattern 9882 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric.

The stabling period for livestock has been somewhat earlier than usual in many districts this year, owing to the scarcity of fall feed. This presents a problem on many farms, as the additional barn work interferes with the progress of the work outside. As a result, there is a tendency to neglect the stock by allowing it to remain outside with insufficient feed. While the difficulties involved in this situation are evident, particularly under conditions of labour shortage, the practice has disadvantages from the point of view of economy. Production and growth in the livestock are seriously slowed up and much of this is almost impossible to regain. The additional feed required to partially correct this condition more than offsets any saving that may be realized from delayed stabling.

At stabling time, ways and means should be considered that will provide desirable living conditions for the stock and, at the same time, save labor in the long run. As far as cattle are concerned, two important details in this regard are clipping and the eradication of lice.

Clipping the hind quarters of cattle materially reduces the work involved in keeping them clean. If this can be accomplished as the animals are being stabled, much of the trouble caused by an accumulation of dirt in the hair can be avoided. This clipping is particularly important with the milking part of the herd, for it is practically impossible to produce clean milk from unclipped cows.

The problem of lice should be dealt with as soon as possible, after the cattle are in the barn, or if arrangements can be made to start treatments previous to permanent stabling, the results will be even more satisfactory. Most cattle coming from the pastures carrying an infestation of lice, the infestation is light, however, as compared to what it will be after a few months in the barn without treatment. It is, therefore, important to start the treatment early when the conditions are most easily controlled. Furthermore, the cheapest and most effective control measure is a wash and this can be done without danger of causing unfavorable reactions in the animals at this time of the year, when the weather is still moderate.

Lice are found in the greatest numbers about the head and neck and along the back and tail head of the animal. Clipping these parts assists in making the treatment effective. A satisfactory wash can be using any of the creolin type of disinfectants and diluting according to the manufacturers' instructions. Two or three thorough washings at intervals of from ten days to two weeks will be necessary to bring about an effective control.

CHICAGO HAWKS EDGE OUT AMERICANS 1-0

Bill Thoms And Sam Lo Presti Outstanding In Chicago Hockey Opener

Aided by Mush March and Doug Bentley, Ten-Year Man in National Hockey League Gets Winner for Black Hawks—Lo Presti Keeps 12,639 Chicago Customers in Frenzy with Great Goal-Tending—Canucks Fail in Bid for Edgar Laprade.

National Hockey League teams have been stressing youth in recent years, but there is still room for the veteran with a hairy head or two who can pick up goals when they mean most.

Chicago Black Hawks made their 1941-42 bow in the N.H.L. last night at home with a 1-0 victory over New York Americans, and Bill Thoms, a 10-year man in the league, got the only goal.

It may not mean anything, but the four games played so far this season have resulted in 19 goals, and only one of that total was scored by a newcomer. That one went to Nick Knott, the former Ottawa boy who went to the Americans from Toronto Maple Leafs along with three other players in the deal for Lorne Carr.

The rest have been picked up by such old hockey fossils as Sweeney Schriner, Gus Mark, Neil Colville, Babe Pratt, Ted Blake and Carl Liscombe. These players aren't exactly getting applications ready for old-age pensions, but they are many a year out of the rookie class.

Goalie Sam Lo Presti emerged as one of the stars of last night's game. He kept the 12,639 Chicago customers in a frenzy as he turned back the desperate efforts of the Americans to break through with a score in the last few minutes of the game.

It was the first shut-out of the season and, in fact, the first time in the four games played that any team has failed to score at least two goals.

The Hawks gained their victory on a goal scored in the 15th minute of the opening period. Thoms was aided by Mush March and Doug Bentley on the effort.

Manager Red Dutton, of the Americans, used everything in his bag of hockey tricks in an effort to get the tying counter in the late stages of the game. He yanked Goalie Earl Robertson with 30 seconds to go for an all-out offensive, but the move failed against an air-tight Hawk defence.

It Cost U.S. Government $250,000 To Provide Greenberg $21 A Month

New York, Nov. 7. — Corp. Henry Benjamin Greenberg is home on furlough. One of the better baseball executives is with him at Toots Schor's, and we get to figuring what it cost the Government to pay the most valuable ball player in the American League in 1940, $21 a month in 1941.

"About $22,000 in income tax," suggests someone.

"Roughly," replies Corp. Hank Greenberg. "I was getting $55,000 a year, and I got three weeks' pay. I left May 7th."

Figures come quickly. An adding machine would come in handy, but when the club treasurer's pencil stops flying, he is positive that it cost the Government no less than $250,000 to teach Hankus Pankus Greenberg how to fire 37-millimeter guns as a non-commissioned officer of an anti-aircraft outfit at Camp Custer, Mich.

Detroit champions of the year before collapsed with the departure of the great home run-hitting first baseman who converted himself into a left fielder in no time at all for the good of the team.

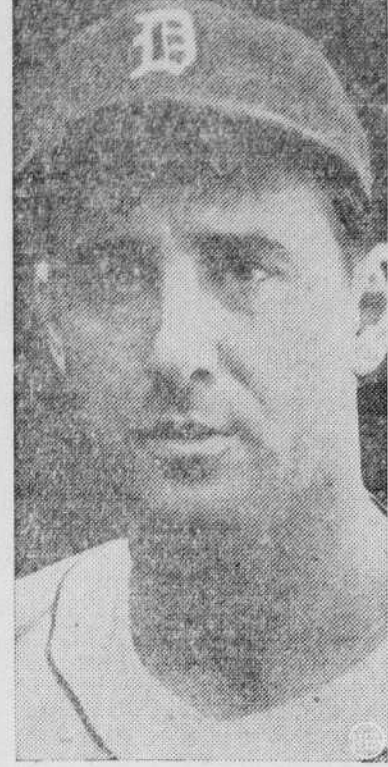

Attendance at Navin Field fell off 450,000. The Tigers drew 250,000 less paid admissions on the road.

The computer finds this cost the Government $84,000 in admissions tax, and arriving at his totals less loosely than you would imagine, something like $160,000 in corporate income tax.

Corporal Greenberg could stand the cut, however, and says it was worth it.

"It might have done a lot of other ball players a lot of good," he says. "And doesn't it strike you as rather funny that out of 400 major league players only one other was drafted—Hugh Mulcahy of the Phils."

Both Corporal Greenberg and Private Mulcahy, of Fort Edwards, Mass., expect to be out by Christmas, but neither will apply for discharge. Men of more than 25 years are being let out, anyway Corporal Greenberg will be 31 on New Year's Day. Private Mulcahy was 23 on September 9th.

Greenberg declares that his several months in the service changed his entire outlook on life.

"I'm afraid I was a little bit selfish," he smiles. "I got in the more important money pretty rapidly, you know. Any ball player with a little bit of ability can if he applies himself."

Greenberg insists he expects to be called again before the unpleasantness abroad is settled.

"I doubt that people who complain because they are shy an aluminum pot realize what it is going to take to lick Herr Hitler," he emphasizes. Army life agreed with Greenberg. He appears considerably heavier than he did while hot-footing it around the bases for the Batting Bengals, and standing six feet three-and-a-half, he came in at 215 pounds as a ball player.

He wouldn't protest too violently if traded to the Boston Red Sox, but would prefer to finish his baseball career where he started—in Detroit.

"My connections are there now, and I'd like to go down in the books as something beside a fly-by-night ball player," he asserts.

The army, Detroit and this country need more men like Corp. Henry Greenberg.

CANADIENS TOP CATARACTS 5-0 AT SHAWINIGAN

Crowd of 3,000 Watches N. H. L. Team Display Scoring Power Against Montreal and District League Club.

Shawinigan Falls, Nov. 7.—Playing before a crowd of 3,000 here last night, Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League chalked up a 5-0 victory over the local Cataracts of the Senior "B" Montreal and District League, giving their best performance of the season to boot.

The Montrealers went right to it at the opening whistle and before the first period was six minutes old, Joe Benoit snared passes from Defencemen Cliff Goupille and Johnny Quilty to score the opening goal, which eventually turned out to be the winner.

Three minutes later, Tony Graboski made it 2-0 when he shot Quilty's rebound past Roger Bessette.

Halfway through the middle stanza Demers received a blue-line pass from Toe Blake and let go with a terrific shot which went by Bessette before he had a chance to see it. The two repeated at 3:32 in the last period with Demers doing the scoring again.

Ray Gettiffe ended the Canadian scoring at 5:05 of the final session on a pass from Jack Portland.

Terry Reardon, who was obtained from Boston Bruins earlier this week, made his initial appearance in a Canadian uniform, but Coach Dick Irvin used him sparingly.

Cormier Will Ice Four Lines For Exhibition Tilt Sunday Afternoon

Nine Holdovers from Last Year and Eight Newcomers to See Action for Indians Against Joliette in Arena Encounter—Military Forward Line Counted on for Big Things—Ex-Villager Player to Centre One Unit.

Roger Cormier plans to start four forward lines on Sunday afternoon against Joliette in the exhibition game which will usher in the Eastern Townships hockey season at the Arena, and figures that with these units in action he will be able to shoot a steady stream of rubber at the Joliette goalie.

Nine of the Sherbrooke players named today by Cormier to see action in the game were with the Indians last year. These are Goalie Roger Dion and Sub-Goalie Bergeron, defencemen Yvan Dugre, Gaston LeRoux and Jean Paul Ranger, Centreman Ovide Gaudet, Left-Winger Roger Mercier and Right-Wingers Emile Letarte and Playing Coach Cormier.

Eight players will be additions to the roster of the local team. Pivot player Chubby Tamblin, Right-Winger Bill Jensen and Left-Winger "Pee Wee" Pachal will play together as an attacking unit. All three lads are members of the 16-22 Saskatchewan Horse Regiment and have played together for the last two years, first at Yorkton, Sask., and then in a Vancouver military league.

Another unit will see Henry Boisvert and Leblanc, last year with Russ Blinco's Richmond team, and Plamondon, now from Juvenile ranks, working together, while on the fourth line Villeneuve, a Centreman from Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre, will make the plays for Cormier on the right flank and Sirols, another Juvenile product, on the left boards. Villeneuve played for Villeneuve of the Montreal and District League last season, and is highly rated.

Leclerc, a former St. Hyacinthe man, is slated to guard the cords for Joliette, with Armand, Leger and Daleish on the defence and Burr, Bellemare, Beshette, Tremblay, Alberts, Hudon, Porreault, Lapointe, Desautel and Levesque among the forwards.

From what we hear, Minnesota's sleeper play against Northwestern was a comparatively simple manoeuvre compared to some. For instance Bert Fenenga, a St. Louis high school coach, comes up with a "mystery play" which calls for a runner to go toward the sidelines and then bat (not pass) the ball forward and out of bounds. He says it has been ruled legal because the ball isn't passed, and, of course, the ball belongs to the side that touched it last.

KNOWLTON MAN WILL SEE GRID GAME IN SOUTH

Brome County C.P.C. Adjutant Played for University of South Against Vanderbilt on November 8, 1891.

Knowlton, Nov. 7. — Adjutant of the Brome County Civilian Protection Committee, Ellwood Wilson, of Knowlton, left yesterday for Nashville, Tenn., where he will attend the celebration of the 50th anniversary of one of the first football games ever played in the South.

Mr. Wilson captained the University of the South team that engaged on a contest with Vanderbilt University on November 8, 1891, and is one of the six players still living. Mr. Wilson and former team-mates will attend the anniversary game between the two universities at Nashville and will take part in a radio programme in which they are expected to reminisce about the day when they played.

He doesn't remember much about it, Mr. Wilson admits. The team travelled the 65 miles from Swanee, where the University of the South is located and by which name it is usually known, to Nashville by train. The journey took four hours and they brought their lunch along, he recalls.

Mr. Wilson feared at first that exchange regulations would prevent him from attending the celebrations. When the committee in charge heard of this, however, they asked him to come as their guest.

Swanee won that first game fifty years ago but Vanderbilt, one of the powerhouses in the South this year, is expected to win easily Saturday.

BOWLING

MAROONS' LEAD WIDENED
Browns came to the assistance of the Maroons in the Kayser Ladies' Bowling League by taking a pair of strings from the second-place Blues, and allowing the pace-setting Maroons, who topped the Greens, two strings to one, to pull farther ahead.

In the third game of the night, Whites picked up two strings at the expense of the Reds.

C. Bilodeau, of the Maroons, and L. Begin, of the Whites, each rolled singles of 128, while Miss Bilodeau had the best aggregate, 328.

INDIANAPOLIS TEAM UNBEATEN IN FOUR GAMES

Held to 2-2 Overtime Deadlock Last Night by Ching Johnson's Washington Ulines.

Indianapolis Capitals, rated in the pre-season books as one of the title contenders for the American Hockey League crown this season, apparently are holding true to predictions at this early stage.

The Caps have played four games thus far, and hold the honor with Springfield, Cleveland and Hershey as unbeaten clubs in the minor circuit.

In their latest test, however, Indianapolis missed keeping their slate perfect. Last night Washington Ulines came through with 48 seconds of regular playing time left to pull out a 2-2 overtime deadlock.

Although those fleeting seconds robbed Indianapolis of what looked like certain victory, they managed to move into sole possession of first place in the Western division, one point ahead of Cleveland. They also held a point edge over New Haven's Eastern division leaders.

It was three former members of the National Hockey League Canadiens who felled the Indianapolis victory attempt. One in particular, little Polly Drouin of Ottawa, provided the counter which sent play into overtime, and also combined with Louis Trudel to feed George Mantha the pass for Uline's first goal.

The veteran Ken Kilrea tallied the equalizer. "Cap" with the only goal of the second period and Caps moved out in front with what looked like the clincher, as Joe Carvath beat Goalie Paul Bilbeault on Butch Keating's pass.

Drouin and Trudel, however, combined to give Washington the draw and also strengthen its hold on third place in the Eastern division.

Jack Shill, Chicago Black Hawks left winger, was relegated to invalid's status for three months five years ago today, following a spinal injury in a game against the Toronto Maple Leafs. An X-ray examination disclosed the seriousness of the injury, and doctors ordered Shill confined to a hospital cot for a month.

ALL CLEAR!

How can an engineer drive his train so confidently through the night? How does he know the track is clear? He is told, infallibly, by signal lights along the way.

It is a tribute to the dependability of Exide Batteries that railroads rely on them for vital signal operation, as well as for car-lighting and air-conditioning. Not only railroads, however, but utility companies, hospitals, coal and ore mines, shipping and air lines, large operators of trucks and buses, manufacturing plants and various branches of the Army, Navy and Air Force—all have learned from long experience that they can entrust essential services to Exide. And millions of car owners put car-starting up to Exide, in all seasons of the year.

With facts like these to guide you, it is easy to avoid guesswork when buying a battery for your car. Is there any other battery which so thoroughly merits your confidence?

If you are hard on a battery—if you stop and start a lot—if you have a radio, a heater or a defroster, ask to see the Exide Hycap Battery. The Hycap is made especially for such conditions. It has ample power to take care of these extras, together with plenty of reserve for starting in any weather.

The Exide Dealer in your community has been carefully chosen for his ability to give good battery service. Look for his Exide sign—symbol of honest service.

Care prevents waste. Avoid starting trouble. Check your battery now.
