SMALL ROYAL COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE BOER WAR

Government's Intention to Inquire Fully Into its Details.

MANY SURRENDERERS ONLY ELEVEN YEARS OLD

And Some of These Were Best Fighters—Feeling Against France and Germany.

London, June 12.—The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, announced in the House of Commons to-day that it was the intention of the Government to appoint a small Royal Commission and institute a general inquiry into the South African war.

MANY SURRENDERERS ARE 11 YEARS OLD.

Pretoria, Wednesday, June 11.—In all, 10,225 Boers have surrendered up to date. Many are youngsters of 11 years old and upward. The majority of them are under 30, though some of the Burghers who have surrendered are septuagenarians. Reports from all the districts say that the Burghers are increasingly friendly. The only bitterness observable among the leading Boers here is against France and Germany. They declare the war was protracted unnecessarily owing to hopes held out by the French and German press. Some of the Boers are so incensed that they have expressed the hope that some day they will fight on the side of the British against one of these Powers.

The anticipated friction between the surrendered Boers and their former comrades of the National Scouts has not materialized to any extent.

The Boers admit that they received ammunition through Portuguese territory.

YOUNGSTERS WERE BEST FIGHTERS.

General De Wet says the youngsters were his best fighters, and frequently held positions after the older burghers had cleared out.

The Boers of the Orange River Colony are handing in only a small percentage of their ammunition. They explain that they used most of it in hunting game since the peace agreement was signed.

Addressing the surrendered Boers at Kroenstadt, Orange River Colony, General Elliott said the only wish of King Edward, his Government and the British people was to help the burghers and get them back to their farms as soon as possible. The King, the general added, telegraphed congratulating the burghers on the good stand they made. This announcement was greeted with lusty cheers for the King and for Lord Kitchener.

WILL BE NO MORE TEAMSTER STRIKES

Traction Lines Have Also Made Arbitration Compact—Chicago Now Breathes Freely.

Chicago, June 12.—Arbitration of labor disputes was won two important victories in Chicago. The teamsters have reached an agreement with the team owners and employers, and after a long conference between the officials and employers, and of the city railway company, an arbitration agreement has been adopted. This ends the last danger of a strike on the south side traction lines.

Committees of the teamsters' union and of the team owners and employers met at the Great Northern Hotel, talked over the arbitration plans, and adopted them. They were incorporated in a resolution, the vital section of which is as follows:

"The contesting parties agree to submit to the arbitration of this board all differences between the contracting parties which do now or may arise during the life of this agreement."

The agreement lasts one year from date. It goes to the union full recognition of the right to consult and treat with the employers. It goes to the employers the knowledge that they will be free from strike annoyance during the life of the agreement. Those concerned, the most vital in traffic matters on Chicago streets, have been incorporated into such an agreement. The board is a permanent one and governs the business affairs of the [illegible] of the largest [illegible] in the world.

The [illegible] agreement was the result of a [illegible] between the officials of the South Side Elevated Railway Company and Grover Morgan Robert McCulloch, [illegible] E. Way Company, [illegible] Chicago Union Traction Company. For one year all differences are settled by arbitration. Union men are given full recognition by the Union.

ALL THE CREW WERE DROWNED

East London, Cape Colony, June 12.—The Norwegian barque Athara, from Hamburg March 13 for East London, the Swedish barque Aurora from Grill, October 15 for East London and the German barque Elz Lue K from Bremerhaven about February 1 for East London, have been wrecked during a heavy south-east gale. All the crew of the Athara were drowned, except the captain, who was ashore. The crews of the two other vessels were saved. The coast is strewn with wreckage and portions of the barques' cargoes.

FIRST RIVER ACCIDENT OF THE OPENING SEASON.

QUEBEC, June 12.—(Special.) — Further details are at hand regarding the accident to the steamship Sahara, now ashore at Bicquette Island. It appears that she struck on the inner part of the reef and was far out of her course. The part of the river there is not considered dangerous, even in such a fog as on Tuesday night, where the accident took place.

There is a Government fog signal station at Bicquette Light, and in that vicinity several other signals can be heard.

A year ago, at an investigation held here, a sea captain stated that he had come from Liverpool to Quebec in almost continuous fog, and had not seen land until he got to the Traverse. He was guided up the river entirely by fog signals.

The Sahara lies in a dangerous position on a shelf of rock. If she slides off she will be in 100 feet of water. The crew have left the vessel.

No particulars as to the mishap which befell the Glasgow Navigation Company's steamship Sahara could be ascertained at the company's office here. She is loaded with rice from Rangoon, consigned to R. Reford & Co. At the offices of Messrs. Reford & Co. no further information could be gleaned than that she was ashore near Bic. The questions of to whom the blame could be laid or as to whether she had a pilot or not could not be answered with more than a "do not know" answer. It has been suggested that she missed her river pilot at Father Point on account of fog, but that is rather improbable. The fact remains that she is ashore and in a dangerous position, and the only cause for it that can at present be given is that dense fog caused her to lose her bearings. A wrecking crew from Quebec has gone to the rescue. As the craft is making water, there is a grave danger of her cargo swelling and causing severe strain to the hull.

PROF. BRYCE IS NEW MODERATOR

Dr. Warden Tells General Assembly of the State of Presbyterian Church.

Toronto, June 12.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Warden, retiring moderator, opened the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada at Bond Street Church last night. Many were unable to secure entrance to the church.

Prof. Bryce, of Winnipeg, was chosen moderator. The only other nominee was Rev. Dr. Samuel Fletcher, of Hamilton.

THE STATE OF THE CHURCH.

Dr. Warden's address dealt with the position of the church. He said: "In connection with the 58 Presbyteries of the Church there are 1,368 ordained ministers, of whom 1,198 are pastors of congregations, professors in colleges, or filling positions to which they have been appointed by the Assembly. There are 783 self-supporting charges, embracing 1,152 congregations; and 203 charges, embracing 370 congregations, aided by the augmentation fund. In a list, ten to three, we have 506 home mission fields, with 1,461 stations at which the Gospel is more or less regularly preached by our missionaries. Our elders number 7,559, our families 118,114, and our communicants 219,470, a net gain of 5,799 to the membership reported a year ago. The number of communicants received during the year on profession of faith was 11,250, an average of seven to each congregation. Not including mission fields, 228 congregations report no conversions during the year. And in 656 of the other congregations of the church, where additions were made on confession of faith, the number in no case exceeds six. There is surely ground for humiliation here.

"Our people contributed last year $1,052,601 towards the salaries of their ministers, and $2,857,189 for all denominational purposes. The value of the property owned by our congregations is a little over ten million dollars, on which there is still an indebtedness of about one million and a half.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND HOME MISSIONS.

"There are 3,196 Sabbath schools connected with the church, an increase of 147 in the number reported the preceding year, with 21,717 teachers and officers, and 182,335 scholars. The scholars show an increase of 626 over those reported a year ago. There are 199 students in the five theological colleges of the church, 46 graduating last year. This number was not enough to supply the demand for pastors and home missionaries, and a number of men were brought from Great Britain.

"The Sunday schools were not keeping pace with the day schools; there was a falling off in the membership of the young people's societies. Lack of parental training was the chief cause of the trouble.

Dr. Warden spoke at length of the great home mission work done by the church. "Home mission work in all parts of the Dominion," he said, "is most hopeful and encouraging. We have 78 home mission fields in the eastern section of the church, with 231 preaching stations, and 428 fields in the western section of the church, with 1,230 preaching stations. In connection with these fields there are 16,474 families and 18,477 communicants. Of the members 1,986 were received last year on confession of faith."

BARNUM ELEPHANT, INSANE, IS EXECUTED.

Tours, France, June 12.—A crowd of about 2,000 witnessed the killing of the largest of Barnum & Bailey's performing elephants in the city park at midnight. The animal suddenly went mad, broke its chains, tried to kill its keepers while on the way to the railroad station, and had to be slain immediately. Two hundred men tugged at the rope which strangled it.

MR. MULLARKEY RETICENT, BUT THINKS SCHEME FEASIBLE.

Mr. J. P. Mullarkey, of the Terminal Railway, was reticent to-day when spoken to regarding the dispatch published in The Herald yesterday, that an electric railway would possibly connect Montreal and Ottawa in the near future.

"The scheme is quite feasible," he said, "and no doubt would prove profitable, if carried out judiciously."

Mr. Mullarkey would not otherwise speak of the matter, except to say that the Terminal Railway was not so far interested in the matter.

The district through which the line would run is a very rich one, and many prosperous towns would be joined. At the Street Railway building nothing could be learned as to the company supposed to have the scheme in charge.

PREMIER LEAVES FOR CORONATION

Representative Ottawa Gathering Bids Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier Au Revoir.

Ottawa, June 12.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier left at 8.30 this morning for the coronation. They will sail from New York on Saturday.

Notwithstanding the downpour, a representative gathering of the citizens was at the depot to see them off. Among those present were Hon. Clifford Sifton and Mrs. Sifton, Hon. James Sutherland, Hon. R. W. Scott, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Mayor Cook, Sir Sandford Fleming, H. J. Logan, M.P.; A. Johnson, M.P., Cape Breton, and N. A. Belcourt, M.P.; Major Maude, and others.

Lady Laurier was presented with a beautiful bouquet from Mrs. Clifford Sifton.

Sir R. Reid (Grenville) will be acting Premier of the Dominion during the absence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in England.

Newly-Appointed Postmaster of Cornwall, Ont.

POLICE MAY STOP POSTERS

S. P. W. C. Brings Subject to the Attention of Mayor Cochrane.

It has been a rule of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children for some time that the Mayor of Montreal, for the time being, is an honorary vice-president of the society, and it was in consideration of this rule that brought Mayor Cochrane up to the office at this morning's meeting.

The Rev. F. McManus, Thomas Harris and Rev. Mr. Paterson were present, as well as Secretary Mitchell. The secretary referred to the subject of the visits of the magician Kellar, he stood up at the last meeting of the society, posters which he thought to have an evil effect in the young and immature mind.

A deputation consisting of the president, Mr. Carsley, and the secretary, waited on the Mayor during the week. His answer to them was that the Police Committee of the Council were fully aware of the matter and were preparing to meet it. He, the Mayor, knew what the evils aimed to were, and would use his influence to remedy them.

The inevitable ice cream question next graced the minutes of the society. The secretary unfolded in strong terms the evils arising from the vendors being allowed to gamble their products. He also thought that the city milk inspector should also supervise the sale of ice cream, and see that no deleterious matter is made for public consumption. After some discussion it was decided that this did not lie within the purview of the society, but rather theless it is possible that representation may be made to Dr. Laberge on the subject.

As His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi is out of the city it was impossible to call on him in regard to the home for old women. It was decided to do so in the near future. The report of the society for the month of May was then read. There were 55 cases investigated during the month affecting the welfare of 42 women and 87 children, of whom one woman and ten children were placed in homes. Fully twenty-two were complaints, four assault and twenty-two of a miscellaneous nature.

MRS. MACINTOSH DIED YESTERDAY

Death of Her Son Said to Have Been Chief Cause of Her Illness.

The news of the death of Mrs. John Macintosh, wife of Mr. John Macintosh, 819 Peel Street, which occurred about noon yesterday, was received with deep regret by a large number of friends, as well as acquaintances to whom Mrs. Macintosh was known as a lady warmly interested in good works and most kind and sympathetic.

The late Mrs. Macintosh took ill a week ago last Sunday. She was prostrated by a stroke of paralysis, and later serious complications set in. The recent death of her son, the late Mr. Grant Macintosh, was a terrible shock to his mother.

TROOPER GIVES PUNGENT REBUKE.

A neat and pungent rebuke administered to the impertinent curiosity of one of the crowd which thronged the Place Viger Station yesterday, gives some idea of the pride which the native citizens of Britain's Chinese colony take in being "Britishers."

A non-commissioned officer of the Hong Kong Volunteers, whose appearance marks him at once as a Chinese of the upper class, was abruptly accosted with the rude interrogation, "I say, are you a Jap?"

"Have you ever seen a 'Jap' in a British uniform?" was the quick and pointed retort. "I never have."

The examination proceeded no further.

Mrs. Macintosh was deeply interested in the work of the Young Women's Christian Association, of which she was a vice-president as well as a member of the House Committee. From 1878 to 1879 Mrs. Macintosh was president of the Association and its welfare was always a matter of much interest to her.

Mrs. Macintosh was an earnest member of Emmanuel Church. The funeral will be private.

On Monday, at eleven o'clock, a memorial service will be held at the Young Women's Christian Association.

The Hong Kong Royal Artillery
Has captured the city now,
With names that would block the trolleys,
And choke off the toughest cow.
There's Drill Sergt. Ali Mohamid,
There's Corporal Lalif Khan,
There's Sherbaz Bazhi Ali,
There's Corporal Rahim Nan,
And there's Ali Mad Mur Mohamid,
A truly remarkable Hindoo,
And a dozen of a fighting man.

When Montreal heard 'em coming,
Bang! bang! how they thumped the gongs.
Bang! bang! how the people rubbered,
Bang! bang! it was hammer and tongs.
The people all rubbered around 'em,
As boys would a circus freak,
But the Ali's and Mur's will forgive us,
Forgiveness is what we seek.
For we don't get the chance, to see the queer pants,
Of the Hong Kong Royal Artillery,
Every day in the week!

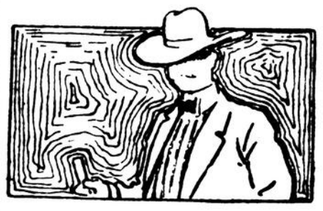
Those Panama Hats.



The Panama,
Composed of straw
And large in its dimensions,
Is now the thing
In faddish swing
And claiming wide attention.

'Tis broad and long
And high and strong,
For closely it is matted;
It shades all sides,
And proudly strides
The man who thus is hatted.

Its brim is bright
And it is so light
Its weight is hardly noticed;
Its rim is made
To cast a shade
From front to rear remotest.

Neath such a tile
As now's the style,
No head has need to swelter,
For it dismays
The solar rays,
So ample is the shelter.

But though so nice
'Tis high in price—
From twenty to a hundred—
And as to why
It comes so high
A lot of folks have wondered.

But just the same
Some men are game
And for the cost ne'er caring;
And such as these
Cough up with ease
And Panamas they're wearing.
But by and by
They'll groan and sigh
Where once they raved and thundered;
For they can't spat
When wifey's hat
Cost's twenty to a hundred.

CONTINGENT FROM CHINA DRILLS WELL

Thousands Watched Men of the Orient at Work Yesterday.

SOLDIERS SPENT DAY VISITING THE CITY

Everywhere They Were Received With Enthusiasm and Warm Praise.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the members of the coronation contingent from China, who are quartered in their special cars at the Place Viger station, lined up for superficial inspection and count, and from that time until 2.15 this afternoon, when they assembled to attend the baseball game, they were at liberty to wander through the city and amuse themselves as they pleased, with the exception of the contingent drill, which took place on the Champ de Mars at 7.30 a.m. to-day.

MORNING DRILL.

When the bugle sounded at 7 o'clock this morning, the whole contingent fell into regular formation on the station platform, and marched to the parade ground in the rear of the public buildings. A large concourse of people had gathered near the depot to witness the evolutions, which were about to be performed by these sturdy sons of the Empire, and as the rank and file of this coronation delegation marched to the drill field, a murmur of admiration swept along their line of march which amply testified to the appreciation which is always accorded by Montrealers to magnificent physical development, coupled with an accuracy and efficiency of movement which marks the acme of proficiency in military tactics.

EXCELLENT DRILL.

The drill, which was simply the ordinary company exercises and bayonet practice, was one long to be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to witness it, and it not only afforded an exhibition of what may be accomplished by systematic training, but presented a pattern of things martial which might well be copied by the local members of the garrison troops.

The Hindoos, Pathans, or hill men from India, who numbered about sixteen men, gave an exhibition of preciseness and promptness in drill which was a revelation to the majority who gazed at them. These fellows are of an average height of 6 feet and go through their evolutions and manual of arms with a stoical indifference which savors of conscious power and self-sufficient pride which characterizes their intercourse with all who meet them, whether on parade or lounging about their quarters.

It has been erroneously stated that these men are Sikhs, an exclusive sect of Mahommedans who have furnished some of the best soldiers in the Imperial service from India, but, as a matter of fact, while this delegation is comprised of the very cream of the volunteer and regular British forces in China, there are no Sikhs among them.

THE CHINESE.

One of the most noteworthy features of this morning's drill was the work of the Chinese, who composed the representatives from the Hong Kong and Singapore Royal Artillery and the H. K. Royal Engineers, submarine miners. The former were put through trying tests of practical and parade efficiency, and, when at a quick march, the manner in which they performed the rifle manual was a sample of what native troops can do and the perfection of movement which can be obtained by practice under an English drill-master and instructor. At the word of command each rifle moved in unison, and the constituent motions necessary to accomplish a given order were executed with clock-like precision, and the arms cut away to the side with one accord in a way to force congratulations from the most phlegmatic. The engineers, clad in dark blue, a welcome contrast from the khaki with which the entire contingent is uniformed, are a most soldierly lot, and execute their drill in equally proficient manner.

The volunteers, who comprise the majority of the contingent, are fine representatives of the citizen soldier of the British possessions in the Orient, and are organized like our own local military corps. Their evolutions on the drill field exemplify the pink of soldierly perfection, and it would be hard indeed to give praise beyond their merits.

INSPECTED BY THE D.O.C.

This afternoon the entire contingent formed upon the station platform at 2.15 o'clock and marched in regular order to the Champ de Mars, where they were inspected by Lieut.-Col. Roy, D.O.C. The men acquitted themselves admirably, and their manoeuvres were heartily applauded by the large crowds who lined the sides of the drill field. The words of commendation which their actions elicited from Col. Roy were well merited, and might confer a justly earned pride upon any military contingent the world round.

After the inspection the men marched out St. James street to Beaver Hall Hill, thence to Dorchester street, and by way of Windsor and St. Catherine to the baseball park, where the rival teams of Montreal and Buffalo gave an interesting exhibition of this popular sport.

To-morrow morning the men will commence the removal of their baggage from the cars at the Place Viger station to the steamship Tunisian, and on Saturday morning they will begin their voyage to Liverpool.

The men have been wandering about the city in their leisure moments and visiting the chief places of interest. Everywhere they have been most hospitably received, and, in the words of a sergeant-major: "Our reception and stay in Montreal, which, for us is all too short, will be one of the most pleasant memories of our coronation trip."

ENTERTAINED AT PROCTOR'S.

Mr. Brunelle, loca manager of Proctor's Theatre, entertained the members of the Hong Kong coronation contingent last night. Major Chapman and some fifty of his men occupied the proscenium boxes and were most enthusiastic in the reception they gave Miss Linthicum and other members of the company.

MAJOR CHAPMAN SPEAKS OF TRADE POSSIBILITIES.

Major Chapman, of the Coronation Contingent, is eloquent upon the trade possibilities open to the British in China. He stated yesterday that Hong Kong is the second port of the world, and that merely the fringe of Chinese trade had been touched thus far, for South China had alone been opened. All the great north lay ready to hand if the British would only awake to the fact.

Although nearly 70 per cent. of the shipping is under the Union Jack, the Germans are making immense strides, and are cutting into Britain's trade supremacy there. They adopt more progressive methods, cater to the Chinaman's wants, treat them as a favored customer, and will go to great expense to readjust his exports to suit the demand. These are his fair means, but the German also employs fraud.

He copies British trade-marks, does his goods up in the British way, and sells utterly worthless stuff as standard British exports, for the Chinese rely absolutely upon trade marks. The best English firms are often discredited in this way, for once deceived it is next to impossible to convince a Chinaman that a double fraud of trade has been perpetrated. Hong Kong being a free port, it is difficult to stop these frauds, and the few prosecutions that have been made have done nothing to crush the evil.

The Britisher is too conservative in his methods, and treats the Chinese customer more as a begging petitioner than a source of revenue. If he hasn't the goods demanded the Britisher will not bother to get them, and to seize upon this great trade opportunity in China John Bull will have to reform his attitude.

CAPT. JAMES EMPHASIZES WEI-HAI-WEI'S IMPORTANCE.

Loyalty to their own city is one of the noticeable characteristics of the men of the Coronation Contingent now in the city. Captain James, of the 1st Chinese Regiment, is enthusiastic about Wei-Hai-Wei's importance, as well as of the soldierly quality of the native troops.

He is strongly against the evacuation of the station at Wei-Hai-Wei, for its importance as a military point could not be over-estimated. It would be impossible to hold on to Pekin or Tien-Tsin without it; it was a base for the Chinese squadron north of Hong Kong, and it needed only the mounting of the guns in the fort and the construction of a breakwater to make it impregnable.

The Chinese make fine soldiers, he says, for they have stood bayonet charges. They need no pampering, and are extremely hardy, standing a punishing campaign as well as Europeans.

JUDGE McISAAC DEAD.

Genial Member of Nova Scotia Bench Expired This Morning of Hemorrhage of the Brain.

Halifax, N.S., June 12.—(Special.) — Judge McIsaac died suddenly at eleven o'clock this morning at his home in Antigonish, after returning from his usual morning walk. Hemorrhage of the brain was the cause of death.

He was appointed Judge of the County Court for Antigonish, Guysboro and Inverness counties in 1885. He was a genial man and will be greatly missed. He was about 62 years old. He was a brother of Mr. C. F. McIsaac, M.P. for Antigonish.

MR. RENWICK PUTS FORTH CLAIMS OF TRAMP VESSELS

CARGOES SHOULD RECEIVE BOUNTY, NOT STEAMERS

All Vessels in Morgan Combine Could be Americanized in Fifteen Minutes.

London, June 12.—George Renwick (Conservative member of Parliament for Newcastle-on-Tyne, and a ship owner), testifying to-day before the Parliamentary subsidies committee on behalf of the owners of "Tramp" steamships, objected to the Government subsidizing the great liners instead of subsidizing the cargoes.

He said the foreign competition which he most feared was the American. The transfer of British ships to foreigners was absurdly simple. All the ships in the American combine could be transferred to the United States within a quarter of an hour and at the cost of a few stamps.

When asked if he thought the American ship subsidy bill would be dropped in consequence of the Morgan shipping combine, Mr. Renwick replied that, on the contrary, he had good reason to believe that it would be pressed.

One of the most important points in the American combine, Mr. Renwick pointed out, was that the sellers were precluded for a number of years from engaging in the shipping business.

AMBUSHED STRIKERS ATTEMPT MURDER

But Miners' Union is Doing all Possible to Preserve the Peace.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 12.—It was learned at the offices of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company to-day that an attempt was made on the life of Superintendent Thos. Thomas, of the Wilnam A. Colliery of the Lehigh Company, at Old Forge, north of this city, last night. Crowds have been gathering twice daily on a hill overlooking the colliery, and stoning the men at work within the enclosure. The day and night superintendents are taken to and from the place on a locomotive. Last night the night superintendent reached the colliery safely. Soon after Superintendent Thomas came out. When about 300 yards from the breaker, he says several men in ambush fired at the locomotive, but it was travelling rapidly and was soon out of range. The officials say about ten shots were fired. The Miners' Union is doing everything possible to have its idle men keep the peace.

NEWS OF CITY AND DISTRICT.

THORVALD HANSEN SAYS FAREWELL TO THIS WORLD

Condemned Man Thanks Those Who Have Helped Him.

ASKS FORGIVENESS OF HIS VICTIM'S FAMILY

Thorvald Hansen, the murderer of little Eric Marrotte, awaits his execution to-morrow with the utmost calmness and apparently with the greatest resignation.

News came from Ottawa yesterday that there would be no reprieve, despite the unceasing efforts of his attorney, Mr. Mathieu, who spent the day at the capital attempting to secure executive clemency.

The doomed man seems to fully realize what is about to take place. He is satisfied with the justice of the sentence, and prays for the mercy of his Creator. Yesterday he gave out the following statement:—

"The profound gratitude I feel toward all those who have been so kind to a poor foreigner, convicted of a great crime, makes me desire to express to them my farewell thanks. In the first place I shall mention the gentlemanly governor of the gaol, Mr. Vallee, and his family, who have been unremitting in their charitable attentions to me; also the officers of the prison staff named to watch over me.

"I cannot omit in my grateful remembrance my excellent lawyer, Mr. Mathieu, who very ably defended my case and has done all in his power to save my life. May the Lord reward him.

"Words cannot convey all I owe to the good Jesuit fathers, who attend the gaol, and to the devoted Sisters of Providence. Both almost daily visit the lonely captives of this dreary abode, endeavoring to make us forget by cheerful kindness that we are exiles from home and country.

"Were I not forbidden to mention Sister Rosalie's name in particular, I would not weary in exalting her praise. She has been an angel of kindness to me, anticipating my every want. God bless her!

"The moment is fast approaching when I shall atone for my sin on the scaffold. I hope by the sacrifice of my life, which I willingly offer to the justice of God and man, being as I am sincerely repentant for the odious crime I committed under the cursed influence of liquor, and I trust in the mercy and blood of my Saviour for pardon, which I humbly crave from His infinite goodness.

"I also beg the parents of my innocent victim to forgive me the great sorrow I have caused them. Mingling my tears with theirs, I have every day and night prayed Almighty God to comfort and strengthen them in their sad bereavement.

"I die happy, fortified by the prayers and sacraments of the Holy Catholic Church, fully trusting in the redeeming love of my Lord and Christ.

"Farewell all who have taken an interest in the unfortunate, who shall not forget you in heaven."

NEW CLUB FOR CONSERVATIVES

Junior Organization Throws Open New Home on Beaver Hall Hill.

The Junior Conservative Club celebrated their establishment in a new home at No. 3 Beaver Hall Square with a love-feast. Three good Conservative speakers addressed them, and told them how strong the Conservative party is. Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P. for Jacques Cartier, told the gathering that political clubs such as this fostered public sentiment in Great Britain. If more such organizations existed in Canada it would not have been possible to have kept a Government in power in Ontario for thirty years. There is still vitality in the Conservative party in Quebec. In the last election it polled 100,000 out of 230,000 votes.

Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron said the Conservative party was the party for young men. It was the party with a future. He said that things had been prosperous enough, but it was when the hard times reached us that the incapacity of the present rulers of Canada would be demonstrated. Like Mr. Monk, he believed that Quebec province was Conservative, and that time would demonstrate the claim.

The member for Montmorency, Mr. Thomas Chase-Casgrain, said that it seemed to him that past leaders of the Conservative party had given the Liberals too many lessons in the art of government. How many blunders have Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Mr. Foster prevented the Government from committing only those who have been in Parliament know. This, however, will not be repeated, for the Liberals will get all the rope they want. Mr. Casgrain said if it had not been for the loyalty of the great Conservative party the Government would have never done their duty to the Empire in sending troops to South Africa.

There were present:—Hon. Louis Beaubien, D. Macmaster, K.C., D. A. McCaskill, Milton McDonald, ex-M.L.A., Campbell Lane, Saumarez Carmichael, F. S. Maclennan, Ald. H. B. Ames, Ald. Clearihue, ex-Ald. Cresse, Frank Curran, J. U. Emard, Joseph Clarke, C. N. Armstrong, S. W. Ewing, J. H. Jacob, A. P. McDonald, Frank Jones, C. Ernest Gault, R. Stanley Bagg, E. Howard, W. H. Halford, Cecil Gordon, A. K. Fiske, John Robinson, Geo. Denison Taylor, James Monk, Edward Parker, Hy. Kavanagh, M. J. Morrison, Edgar Armstrong, W. W. Skinner, Thos. Moore, S. Dugan, F. H. Blair.

FORTY-FIVE SCOTCH CURLERS.

That Many Agreed Last Evening to Come to Canada Next Winter.

London, June 11.—There was a representative meeting at Edinburgh to-day, at which forty-five curlers agreed to go to Canada next winter. The subject was remitted to the Royal Caledonia Curling Club's annual meeting for approval and selection of team.

Fire! Fire!!

When that cry sounds how people rush to help and sympathize! And when some fireman rescues a woman from the flames, the streets echo with applauding shouts.

And yet if that woman had perished in the flames it is possible that she would have suffered less than she suffers almost daily from the inflammation which disease has lighted in the delicate womanly organism.

That fire of inflammation can be put out. The gnawing ulcer can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes womanly regularity and dries enfeebling drains, but it heals inflammation and ulcerations and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for four years with what four physicians pronounced ulceration and prolapsus of the uterus," writes Mrs. Ada Brooks, of Kirbyville, Taney Co., Missouri. "Also inflammation of bladder and urethra. My case was chronic and complicated. Had several good physicians, but kept getting worse. Had been confined to my bed five months when I wrote to you. I received your reply very soon and then dismissed my physician and began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took eight bottles of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and began to get better at once. In two months I could sit up in a chair, and kept getting better. In four months could do all my house work, including washing and sewing."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

COLONIZATION COMMISSION APPOINTED

Three Eminent Authorities on Economics Named by Quebec Government.

Quebec, June 12.—(Special.)—The Provincial Government has decided on the personnel of the new Colonization Commission, authorized last session by provincial statutes 2nd 411, chap. 3, an act to authorize the organization of a commission and to assist the advancement of colonization and in the development of forest industries. The names of the new appointees are Mgr. J. C. Laflamme, retired; Judge J. B. Bourgeois, and Hon. Geo. W. Stephens. The secretary will be J. C. Langelier.

HOW TO POLICE RIVER FRONT

The question of more adequate police protection for the river front occupied the attention of the Police Committee at its meeting yesterday afternoon. Chairman Lebeuf introduced the matter with a reference to the atrocious crime recently committed near the river, and stated that the number of men detailed for the district was not sufficient.

The city has made attempts before to get more policemen, but without success. When Ald. Lebeuf went to Ottawa the civic delegation was told that while the Government admitted the city had a grievance, still to offer redress would be to invite similar demands from other cities.

After several suggestions had been made, it was decided to appoint a delegation to wait on the Harbor Commissioners with the object of asking them to contribute to the expense of policing the wharves. The city is not refusing to do this work, but as the district is not controlled by the city, the assumption is the city should not be called on to supply the policemen.

While on this subject reference was made to the small sum voted for mounted police. The committee was informed there was only money enough to buy three horses at the most. These would be of very little use.

Ald. Ames was of the opinion the better way to do was to hire horses, when the occasion demanded it. Meanwhile Chief Legault will make a report.

The resignation of Constable Hammond, a reserve man, brought on a short discussion. The chairman remarked the recent examination had disclosed the fact that men were on the force who had no right to be there. He saw one or two men so weak he thought they would faint. He added the reserve men, comprising twenty-five constables, did no active service. It was a state of affairs that required looking into.

In reply to Ald. L. A. Lapointe the chairman said the reserve men did light work about the police stations. Another alderman remarked somebody would have to do that kind of duty, and the matter then dropped.

Three Years for Theft.

Michael McGuire was yesterday sentenced to three years in the reformatory for theft of copper wire.

Fell from Street Car.

Mrs. Cunningham, 45 years of age, residing at No. 5 Smith street, fell in alighting from a street car yesterday. She was taken to the General Hospital.

Wykeham House School.

The prizes won for attention to study and proficiency during the scholastic term by the pupils of the Wykeham House School will be distributed at 8.30 to-night at Victoria Hall, Westmount.

Returned the Money.

Detective William Crowe, of the Provincial Detective Staff, yesterday arrested a carter of Longueuil on the charge of stealing $235 from Mr. Pierre Loiseau, hotelkeeper of Chambly. The carter was taken before Judge Lafontaine and on his returning the money was allowed to go free.

Old Man Arrested.

Antoine Baptiste, 71 years of age, pleaded not guilty yesterday to the charge of stealing $13 from Mrs. Pelotte, the wife of a constable. Baptiste called at the house for alms, and while she was preparing food for him, it is alleged he stole her purse.

Catholic School Revenue.

Mr. Archambault, secretary to the Catholic School Commissioners, placed before that body, at its last meeting, a statement showing that the revenue from the school tax for the present year would amount to $180,028. Tenders for the supply of books for prizes were opened, and the contract was awarded to Messrs. Granger Bros.

Presentation to Pastor.

Rev. P. T. Richardson, who is about to leave his five years' pastorate of Sherbrooke Street Methodist Church for Sherbrooke, has been presented by his congregation with an address and a gold watch. Mrs. Richardson received a gold watch and chain, with an address, on behalf of the ladies. Rev. Mr. Richardson will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday.

McGill Grants Degrees.

The McGill corporation met yesterday afternoon and granted the degrees of M.D., C.M., to the men who passed the final examinations in medicine, whose names were published yesterday. Mr. H. H. Murphy was also granted the B.A., and Mr. Eric James Mackay the B.Sc. It was decided that a new edition of the statutes and regulations of the university should be prepared.

Catholic Sailors' Club.

At the Catholic Sailors' Club last night one of their usually successful concerts was held, and the hall was filled with both sailors and citizens. Dr. F. J. Hackett was the chairman, and he delivered a short address to the sailors on the work of the club and its aims and objects. The programme was given by Misses Ina Reid, A. Rowan, L. Rowan, and Brown; Messrs. F. Butler, Smith and P. Morninge, and Seamen Parker, Craven, Willliams, Falconer, Allen, Monochan. Rev. Father Larue and Capt. Christie occupied seats on the platform.

Victory for Ozone People.

The recent decision of Mr. Justice Robidoux in the test case of the Ozone Company vs. John T. Lyons, druggist, granting an interlocutory injunction to restrain the defendant from cutting prices on Powley's liquified ozone, was an important one to the Ozone Company. The latter has a carefully prepared contract, which all dealers handling ozone are asked to sign, agreeing to maintain a fixed price for the sale of ozone. The failure of the above defendants to adhere to the agreement made it difficult to secure a written agreement from various dealers throughout the country. Justice Robidoux's decision will have the effect of establishing a better understanding between the druggists and the Ozone Company.

Mr. Doll Defies the Court.

Mr. W. F. Doll, who, while in the watch case business in Montreal and Toronto, attracted considerable public attention by his methods of doing business, and by his disputes with other dealers, has apparently lost none of his pugnacity since he has been residing in New York. He was found guilty last week by the Court of Special Sessions in New York of maintaining a public nuisance in employing men to advertise his business by means of signs carried through the streets, and the officials are incensed at a letter sent to them by Mr. Doll, which bristles with criticisms of the court, the District Attorney and Magistrate Flammer. Throughout the letter Mr. Doll defies the judges to abridge what he conceives to be his rights, and in a separate communication addressed to Magistrate Flammer he informs the latter that he has "no more right to interfere with these men (meaning the sign bearers) than you have to pick my pocket." The language of the Flammer letter is even more direct than that contained in the communication sent to the Special Sessions judges. It is said that Mr. Doll is likely to be arrested for contempt.

Monster Euchre Party.

This evening a monster euchre party is to be held in Victoria Skating Rink by the C. M. B. A. grand president, Hon. M. F. Hackett and Hon. F. R. Latchford will be present. One hundred and fifty prizes are offered, the chief prizes being the gifts of Mayor Cochrane. The final meeting of the committee in charge was held last evening when the following rules were adopted:

Straight euchre to be played; no assistance allowed.

One mark will be given for each game won, and in the event of a tie the cards are to be cut, the ace counting as the highest card to determine the winner.

At the King table, five points will be played, two points being allowed for a lone hand; at other tables four points will be allowed for a lone hand, the winners will progress and change partners at the next table.

The players are requested to remain seated at their tables in order that there be no confusion, so as to allow the gentlemen appointed to punch the tally cards of the winners to do so quickly, and on the sound of the bell they will progress to the next table, when the bell will be sounded again to start the next game.

The contest begins at 8.15 o'clock, before which a short musical programme will be given.

FAKE STORY OF BOER OUTRAGE.

Tale That Boers Nailed Knisley's Medal to His Naked Breast Has Absolutely No Support.

Kingston, June 12.—(Special.)—Friends of Surgeon-Lieut.-Col. Duff state that it is quite improbable that there is any truth in the story that after the shooting of Corp. Knisley and Private Day and the capture of their companions "the Boers stripped the dead and living and nailed Knisley's D.S.O. medal and South African ribbon to the hero's naked breast. Dr. Duff was sent to Pretoria to get the statement of Brace who read the burial service over the graves of Knisley and Day during which time the Boers knelt while he was reading the service, and in the detailed statement published here nothing was said of the alleged piece of disgusting inhumanity. If any such horrible thing had occurred, Brace would have mentioned it, as his statement was for his commanding officer.

TO IMPROVE SHERBROOKE.

RAILWAY NEWS

When Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was in Winnipeg a few days ago he received with patience and courtesy the explanations which a delegation of business men had to make concerning the voting down of the railway by-law which spoiled in part the C.P.R. scheme of station improvements. The delegation admitted that if the affair had been properly handled the project it would have gone through, and if the same by-law were submitted again it would be an easy thing to carry it—if the C.P.R. would only renew the original offer and erect the new Grand Hotel. Gently, but firmly, Sir Thomas showed the Winnipeg men that the Canadian Pacific only give such opportunities once. It would, he said, have been very convenient to Winnipeg and to the C.P.R. to have had a union depot, but it was too late now to make such a change. His road was too tightly anchored in its present location. He went on to speak of the great improvements the system contemplated in the C.P.R. yards. Their round houses, shops, engine houses and track accommodation were now too cramped to meet the business requirements and these would be extended at once. Sir Thomas expressed himself very much pleased at the reception the delegation had given him, and said it was his ardent desire to do anything he could to please the citizens of Winnipeg and help the city in its forward march. He would be glad to consider any proposition the city might offer, but the hotel and other suggestions would be dealt with by the executive. In the meantime the matter would be left in the hands of Messrs. Whyte and Leonard.

NOT THE CANADIAN NORTHERN.

Mr. C. W. Spencer, general superintendent of the eastern division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, gives an emphatic denial to the report that he is about to leave the Canadian Pacific to become general manager of the Canadian Northern. The news emanated from Winnipeg, and the curious fact about it is that this is the second time a prominent C.P.R. official has been erroneously represented as being about to join Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann's transcontinental venture. The last time it was Mr. William Whyte, the assistant to President Shaughnessy, who was represented as being about to change his sphere of service.

MR. HAYS' WESTERN INSPECTION.

Mr. Charles M. Hays, general manager and second vice-president, and Mr. F. W. Morse, third vice-president of the Grand Trunk, returned to Montreal yesterday after a ten days' trip over the western division of the system. All the principal points were visited. At Chicago Mr. Hays attended the annual meeting of the Western Indiana, which is a terminal for the Grand Trunk, and was re-elected a director. On the return trip the officials inspected the work of the double tracking now being extended to Niagara. The extension is progressing favorably, and it is expected that the work will be completed late this fall, thereby finishing the double tracking of the system from Montreal to the Falls. Mr. Morse, on his return from the west, went to Ottawa, accompanied by Mr. Wainwright, where they were to attend a meeting of the Railway Committee.

G.T.R. FURNISHING AND FINISHING.

Now that the officials connected with the Grand Trunk management have settled down to their new conditions, and now that the offices have been thoroughly furnished, the exquisite taste displayed in all the internal arrangements becomes more striking. Throughout the building the visitor fails to find a single discordant note. It is a symphony of color and all is harmony. The desks and chairs of golden oak are in thorough keeping with the tints of the walls, and so, too, are the carpets in the rooms occupied by the higher officials. The board room—a spacious and magnificent room, in which a cultured taste is everywhere felicitously expressed—and the general manager's room are finished and furnished with highly polished light mahogany and marbles. Altogether the effect is in the highest degree pleasing, and cannot fail to stimulate the higher faculties of those who are employed in this sumptuous industrial beehive.

Got Lame Back or Lumbago?

No need of that now. That sort of pain can be knocked out in short order, for Polson's Nerviline, which is five times stronger than any other, penetrates at once through the tissues, reaches the source of suffering, drives it out and thus gives relief almost instantly. Not magic, but strength that gives Polson's Nerviline this power. You will think it magic, however, if you try it, pain goes so quickly. Sold by dealers everywhere, in large 25c bottles.

Summer heat without

Powley's Liquified Ozone.

May Prove Fatal to the Baby

Hot weather has become a species of trying out time with babies. Imperfectly cleansed bottles, badly prepared and germ infected food, have well nigh made it impossible for the babe to pull through to cooler and more pleasant temperatures. Mothers will find Ozone a valuable ally to fight Cholera Infantum. Other germ caused disorders will be prevented because Ozone will destroy disease germs wherever they are located. A weak solution of Powley's Liquified Ozone and water will sterilize the feeding bottle: a drop or so in baby's food will make it pure. Mothers write us that they owe their little one's life to taking these simple precautions. Not much to do when there's so much to be gained.

DOMINION COAL CO. PRACTICALLY IN HANDS OF NEWER CONCERN

Lease to Iron and Steel Co. Ratified To-day.

BOTH MEETINGS WERE LARGELY ATTENDED

First Step Towards What Many Think Will be Amalgamation.

Shareholders of two of the largest concerns in Canada meet in Montreal to-day. Those of the Dominion Iron and Steel company met at mid-day and those of the Dominion Coal Company at three o'clock this afternoon. Both meetings were of great importance. A lease of the output of the Coal Company's mines was ratified by the shareholders of the Steel Company and the old Dominion Coal Company thereby practically passes under the control of the newer Steel Company. The signing of this lease does not lead to an absolute amalgamation but one of the moving spirits of the two concerns, Senator George A. Cox, said this was the first step, and he hoped, and expected that amalgamation would shortly follow.

The reason why a lease instead of an amalgamation was proposed was also made clear by Mr. James Ross.

Among the many who were present were:—Messrs. James Ross, L. J. Forget, David McKim, C. A. Gault, W. R. Millar, C. E. L. Porteous, A. G. Ross, Gordon Strathy, G. A. Cox, H. C. Scott, C Shields, F. Roach, Jas. McLennan, F. B. Pearson, John Morrison, Andw Robertson, J. P. B. Casgrain, J. J. Pangman, A. Lemieux, Geo. Caverhill.

MEETING CALLED TO ORDER.

In the absence of President H. M. Whitney, who is absent in Europe, the chair was filled by the vice-president, Senator Robert Mackay.

He called the meeting to order and upon the insistence of Mr. John Morrison, the minutes of last year were not taken as read, but read at length.

A suggestion to accept the annual report as read met with objection from the same source, and was read at length and accepted unanimously.

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

The following were elected directors for the ensuing year:—H. M. Whitney, Boston; Sir William Van Horne, Montreal; Hon. G. A. Cox, Toronto; Hon. David McKim, Halifax; Hon. Robert Mackay, Montreal; H. F. Dimmock, A. H. Paget, and F. S. Pearson, New York; R. B. Angus and Hon. L. J. Forget, Montreal; J. B. McLennan, Sydney; Elias Rogers, Toronto; W. B. Ross and B. F. Pearson, Halifax.

The secretary of the company, Mr. A. G. Ross, said there was another matter to come before the meeting. On June 30, 1899, the Steel Company had obtained an option of lease of the Dominion Coal Company's output. The directors had no power to cancel that agreement or enter upon a new one without the sanction of three-fourths of the shareholders. That was what the directors proposed. They wanted the shareholders to approve of the discharge of the old option of lease and enter upon a new one, which had been prepared by the directors of the two companies with a good deal of care.

Then Mr. John Morrison, who seemed to constitute the only attack upon the proposal, asked if this agreement is not that the shareholders of the company are to get 8 per cent. a year.

Hon. Mr. Mackay said the directors had gone very carefully over this proposed re-arrangement of relations of the two companies, and had come to the conclusion that after the charges for rental and otherwise had been paid the Coal Company there would be a surplus from the output of the mines.

Mr. Morrison asked if the Coal Company is in such a favorable condition, why did it not guarantee the holders of shares of Common Steel stock their dilvdends. The only agreement I would wish you to enter into, he said, would be one in which, after the bond and preference stock holders were satisfied, the Steel and Coal common stock shareholders should share alike.

Mr. James Ross, the managing director of both companies, said this was not a proposal to amalgamate the two companies, though he would be glad if it were. The agreement was for an option of lease which was to take the place of another option of lease of the coal properties given the Steel Company in 1899. The old option, by its terms, would expire this year if something were not done. Its terms were the payment of 6 per cent. per annum by the Steel Company upon all the common stock and bonds and 8 per cent. on the preferred stock of the Coal Company. Then a deposit of $600,000 was required, $15,000 a year was to be allowed for expenses of management, and 15c on every ton of coal mined. The present option of lease which it was proposed to substitute for the old was $1,600,000 a year and 7 1-2c a ton royalty on all coal mined. The old lease would hardly be workable. The option was given when the Steel Company was in its infancy. Its terms are such that if entered into would lead to endless litigation. This new proposal is as good or better in terms than the old. Mr. Ross said he would frankly tell the shareholders that in the conferences between the Steel and Coal directors over the terms of this agreement he acted as a champion of the Coal Company. He was managing director of that company, and could not do otherwise. The agreement, however, was favorable, he thought, to both.

Last year the earnings of the Coal Company were $1,550,000. During the first two fiscal months of the present year, February and March, the earnings were $250,000 in excess of what they had been during the similar period last year.

Mr. Morrison—You say the earnings of the Coal Company were $1,550,000, which is $50,000 less than the annual rental the Steel Company is to pay.

Mr. Ross said the entire output for this year had been sold. The difficulty of the company was not to find a market, but to prevent over-selling. The output this year will be about 3,000,000 tons. It has been doubled in three years, and should reach 5,000,000 tons soon, and eventually 10,000,000. The saving in royalty in the new, compared with the old, lease was apparent. Another important feature was that under the old the sum of $600,000 would have to be raised at once, and it would not be convenient for the Steel Company to do this now. As regards amalgamation, he said that the Coal Company had annually had profits since 1899, when the option was given, but instead of distributing them as dividends had put their profit in plant improvement. In the case of amalgamation those profits would have to be distributed.

Mr. W. R. Miller asked in what position the steel bonds would be in after amalgamation.

Mr. W. B. Ross assured him they would have the same standing as at present.

Senator Cox said that Mr. James Ross said he acted in the conferences for the coal shareholders. But as he was the largest shareholder in the Steel Company, it would seem that his interest in it was great.

A stock vote was taken on a motion to approve the proposed lease, and Scrutineers Hogg and Ross reported that out of a total of 250,000 shares 213,000 had been cast for it and 150 shares against.

The meeting then adjourned.

DOMINION STEEL COMPANY REPORT.

The report of the directors of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, Limited, for the year ending April 30, 1902, signed by Senator Mackay, acting president, is given in part as follows:

During the past year the company has steadily pressed forward with its construction work, and your directors have to report that, with the exception of the rail mill, the entire plant is now almost completed. As might be expected, the output during the time when the plant was still under construction did not realize working expenses, but your directors anticipate that the expenses will now show reduction each succeeding month, and as soon as the changes on the blast furnaces and other operations mentioned below have been carried out, the company will be able to show satisfactory commercial results.

The principal difficulty to be overcome in the commencement of an enterprise such as the present is to be able to so contrive from the first that the different parts of the plant will work together harmoniously with the least possible waste of energy and expense, and it is clear that the larger the property is the more difficult it will be to achieve this satisfactorily. Your directors consider that they have no reason to be discouraged by the course of events in the history of your property. The mistake which has proved the one most detrimental was that of not keeping the washing plant well ahead of the blast furnaces. It was originally calculated that it would be necessary to wash only one-third of the coal required for use in these furnaces, but experience has demonstrated that in order to ensure first-class results, it is necessary that the entire supply should be washed. Since, therefore, the washing plant has now been enlarged, this handicap on the production of the blast furnaces is removed.

As regards the quality of the product, your directors think that the company has every reason to congratulate itself. The steel manufactured by the company is of the first quality and has everywhere given satisfaction.

Note is made of the resignation of Manager Moxham and a description given of the property and plant of the company, including the mine at Newfoundland, a pyrites mine in Labrador to make sulphuric acid, lime stone, piers, railway track, coke ovens, four blast furnaces, open hearth plant, blooming mill.

The balance sheet up to April 30, 1902, is as follows:

ASSETS.

Property account	$29,419,534 62
Cash	97,983 20
Accounts receivable	591,198 43
Product on hand	590,793 62
Raw material on hand	600,383 65
Warehouse material on hand	296,894 53
	$31,597,388 05

LIABILITIES.

Bonds	$8,000,000 00
Common stock	15,000,000 00
Preferred stock	5,000,000 00
Notes payable	2,589,550 54
Accounts payable	955,396 14
Reserve for replacement	52,441 37
	$31,597,388 05

Since the close of this report 50,000 shares common stock have been underwritten at $60 per share. This will bring the sum of $3,000,000 (less commission) into the treasury by July 11, and will be used for reducing the debt and further improving the property.

DOMINION COAL COMPANY REPORT.

Report of the Directors of the Dominion Coal Company, Limited, for the year ending February 28th, 1902, signed by Mr. James Ross, as vice-president, was submitted to the steel meeting.

Output in tons, years ending February 28th:

1895	884,000	1896	1,169,785
1897	1,221,471	1898	1,061,669
1899	1,295,543	1900	1,739,374
1901	2,044,877	1902	2,651,263

Owing to this increase in the business of the company, as shown by the above statement, it has been necessary to add largely to the mining plant and machinery; railway and equipment; shipping piers; houses for employes, etc.; and during the past year nearly one million dollars have been spent on such extensions and improvements.

Since the last annual meeting, arrangements for the supply of rolling stock, and for the erection of workmen's houses, have been completed with the Dominion Rolling Stock Company, and the Cape Breton Real Estate Company respectively, by which the Company has acquired the necessary rolling stock and houses for its business, the expenditure upon these being provided for by terminable debentures, liquidated by equal monthly payments extending over a period of ten years, in which capital and interest at a reasonable rate are included. These payments are met by the earnings of these properties themselves, and at the end of the period they will become the absolute property of the Coal Company, free from encumbrance.

The Company has succeeded during the past year in placing its coal in the European markets, where it is well thought of, and when Colliery Dominion No. 2 is completed, the Company will have a market across the Atlantic for any surplus that it may not be able to place among its customers in Canada, Newfoundland and the United States.

The coal areas of the Company have an extent of 140 square miles, and the known seams over three feet in thickness are estimated to contain 1,500 million tons. There are six collieries at present in operation, known as Dominion No. 1, 90,000 tons per month; Dominion No. 2, 30,000 tons; Dominion No. 3, 35,000 tons; Caledonia, 70,000 tons; Reserve, 75,000 tons; and International, 17,000 tons. These collieries have been equipped with the most modern machinery for mining, hauling and hoisting the coal. They are thoroughly ventilated. The bankheads, engine and boiler houses, and pit bottoms of the first four are electric lighted.

Earnings.—During the past year the surplus earnings of the Company amounted to $937,681.44, and there has also been deposited in addition $122,939.55 in the Sinking Fund for the redemption of the Company's Bonds. This latter amount, together with interest on $125,000 Reserve Sinking Fund, is sufficient to retire $115,000 of these bonds, by which the bonded indebtedness will be reduced to $2,589,500.00.

BLANCHARD CASE CAUSES TROUBLE

There is going to be a nice time in lacrosse circles over the Blanchard case. He expressed his intention in writing to play this season with Montreal, and last Saturday played with Nationals. Last evening the Montreal Club decided to push the protest entered by the Capitals. They are making a test case of it. The rule, as interpreted by Montreal, is that a member of a club can't play with another club without the consent of the club he signed with. When the league tackles this question and comes to a decision, it at the same time decides the status in this league of Dade and Henry, who, it is claimed by some, have disobeyed the rules of the league in going to Brantford.

The Montreal men say that they will not give Blanchard his release, and will not allow him to play without being protested until the league declares definitely whether the constitution and by-laws of the National Amateur Lacrosse Union can be broken with impunity or not.

RADCLIVE READY FOR EXECUTION

Radclive, official hangman, arrived in Montreal and reported for duty at the sheriff's office this morning. He came direct from Kamloops, B.C., where he officiated at the demise of Paquette. Although somewhat fatigued by nine days of almost continuous travelling, Radclive is in good health, and announces himself as quite prepared for his grewsome task to-morrow.

In spite of the announcement that the list for tickets of admission to Hanson's execution had been closed, numerous applications were made at the sheriff's office this morning. The list of those who will be admitted to the jail yard numbers about 150, of which a very large proportion are medical students.

Meanwhile the unhappy object of so much interest is passing his last day on earth in much the same manner as those immediately preceding it, spending most of his time in receiving spiritual consolation. His execution will take place at 8 o'clock in the morning.

PREMIER WILL CONVEY CORONATION ADDRESS

The coronation address of the city of Montreal was handed over to Sir Wilfrid Laurier by Mr. Rene Bauset, assistant city clerk, this afternoon, at the Windsor Hotel. Sir Wilfrid will convey it to His Majesty.

WANT THE ACTION DECLARED ILLEGAL

A petition has been presented in the Superior Court asking for the nullification of a resolution adopted by the City Council on March 10, 1902.

The effect of the resolution was to permit the Roads Committee to take $8,000 from the city's reserve fund of 1902 for the purpose of removing snow from the streets on which street cars are operated.

The petitioner is Pierre Gagnier, a laborer, of Hochelaga, who to uphold his contention has engaged Mr. R. Delfausse, law partner of Ald. Martineau. The object of the action or rather petition against the city is to obtain a decision from the court as to what constitutes an "unforeseen expenditure," as it was under this title that the $8,000 were taken from the reserve fund.

In municipal circles it is surmised that the petitioner appeals solely as a formality, and that Ald. Martineau is really the moving spirit in the action. Ald. Martineau claims the resolution is illegal and should be declared null, as snow removal cannot be in any way constituted an "unforeseen expenditure." Article 334 of the charter the reserve fund is to provide for unforeseen expenditures such as those consequent upon judgments, epidemics, floods and damages caused by force majeure. But snow clearing could not by its nature be so considered. In the petition drafted by Mr. Delfausse this is pointed out.

According to an arrangement existing for years between the city and the Street Railway the city removed the snow from the streets over which the Street Railway runs. During five years, 1895 to 1900, the Railway Company paid the city $1,650 per mile of railway for snow clearing, while the city was obliged to pay the balance per mile whatever it was.

Subsequently as doubts arose as to the exact share the company was held to pay for snow removal an arrangement was made by which the company paid two-thirds of the cost of removal pending a decision upo nthe point in the courts.

In 1901 the company refused to advance more than half the cost and the city accepted this new arrangement for the winter of 1901 and 1902. The arrangement was indirectly ratified by a judgment of the Superior Court, which held that the company was not obliged to pay more than half the cost of snow removal. For many years, it is stated, the total annual cost of snow removal has exceeded $100,000.

Past experience, therefore, showed conclusively that the $40,000 voted in December, 1901, for snow removal was not sufficient to pay the city's share of that work, at the time the oppropriations were made the city had ample funds to provide a greater sum for eventualities. The winter of 1901 and 1902, it is pointed out, was not more severe than preceding ones, while the climatic conditions were more favorable and less snow fell.

The Roads Committee was not compelled to take the money from the reserve fund. It could have been transferred from another appropriation, as in fact, it was done in previous years. The conclusions are that the money should not have been taken from the reserve fund and the resolution of the Council should be declared illegal, null and void.

FREIGHT MEN NAME OFFICERS

The Freight Claims' Association resumed their sessions at the Windsor Hotel under the presidency of Mr. H. P. Elliott, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, to-day, when the principal feature of the business was the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The visitors express themselves in terms of unqualified satisfaction at the reception they have received from the local railway officials and the city of Montreal.

The present meeting is declared to be one of the largest that has been held in the history of the organization, which extends over eleven years. It is composed of 95 per cent. of the transportation lines in North America, and embraces 260,000 miles of railway, to say nothing of the fast freight lines and steamship lines. The business transacted was in the line of progress. They took up the consideration of some rules that were forced upon them by the iron hand of progress and competition and stamped them with the seal of approval. The most important related to the prompt payment of inter-line claims.

The retiring officers of the organization are:—Mr. H. P. Elliott, president; Mr. J. J. Harper, of the Southern Railway, Washington city, first vice-president; Mr. P. B. Barlow, Erie Railway, New York, second vice-president; Mr. W. P. Taylor, of Richmond, Virginia, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

This is the first meeting that the association has held outside the United States. One of the most enjoyable features of the gathering was the informal reception which was held last evening at the Windsor, where light refreshments and instrumental music were provided and a dance formed part of the proceedings.

This afternoon the Mayor and a number of the aldermen are entertaining the delegates of the Freight Claims' Association, now in session in the city, to a complimentary luncheon, at the Lookout on the mountain top. According to the programme, the luncheon was to be preceded by a drive around Mount Royal, the carriages leaving the City Hall at 2 o'clock.

PREMIER LEAVES FOR NEW YORK TO-NIGHT

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived in town to-day. This evening at 7.30 they leave on the Delaware & Hudson Railway, from Bonaventure station, for New York, where they will go aboard the Etruria for England. Sir Wilfrid is accompanied by his secretary, Mr. Boudreault. Mr. J. A. Drouin, president of the Reform Club, invites the members of the club to be present at the departure of the train to give Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier a send off.

ASKS FOR THEIR ARREST.

At the Practice Court this morning Mr. Camille Piche, acting for the prosecution in the case of the King vs. R. Wiseman et al., presented a motion asking for the arrest of the defendants, R. Wiseman, Thos. Mitchell and Philip Murphy, and their detention until they should satisfy the judgment recently rendered against them. The judge ordered the rule to issue returnable on June 20th.

CONGESTION OF THE BRAIN.

A man named Bernier, about 45 years of age, was brought to the Notre Dame Hospital this afternoon suffering from congestion of the brain. He is unconscious, and will probably die.

ARE SHOE-BLACKS IN SLAVERY HERE?

A case of more than ordinary interest was disposed of yesterday by Mr. Recorder Weir, when Peter Smirlies, the proprietor of a Greek shoe shining establishment, had an employe before the court for desertion of his employ.

The defendant's name, summarized, was Arstides Freaulofelopoulos. By a contract signed last November, he was to give his services to Smirlies for one year, receiving in the way of remuneration board, lodging and clothing. The question of money was not mentioned.

Freaulofelopoulos stated to the court that his hours of work were from 6.30 a.m. until 10 o'clock at night, with half an hour to bolt meals, and he was expected to report at home every night by 10.15 o'clock. Poor Freaulofelopoulos, hampered and weighed down with his name, was late on two nights, and claims that he was locked out.

His reasons for leaving Smirlies employ were that he was insulted by his employer, he said, and he couldn't stand that even with the advantages of such a sinecure.

The case was dismissed, and His Honor expressed horror that such "slavery" could exist in the city, for the contract was all one-sided and deprived the employe of liberty.

Members of the shoe-shining fraternity who were seen by a reporter with reference to the matter this morning, stated that they had never heard of a contract of this nature in the profession, but Mr. Smirlies himself could not be found to ascertain the accuracy of the defendant's statement.

GOING OVER TO THE PRESBYTERIANS

Toronto, June 12.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Warden, at the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning, read the applications of various presbyteries respecting the admission of students and ministers of other denominations into the Presbyterian Church. Several Congregational ministers are going over to the Presbyterian denomination, two Baptist preachers and an Anglican clergyman. A committee will report.

R. & O. LINE MAY PUT IN WIRELESS

Toronto, June 12.—(Special.)—There is a rumor along the water front here that the R. & O. line may install the Marconi sysmtem of wireless telegraphy on the steamer Toronto, and if the experiment is successful, will extend it to the Kingston.

FELL OFF A BUILDING.

David Dolgie, 46 years of age, was brought to the General Hospital this afternoon from the corner of Hospital and St. Francois Xavier streets, where he had fallen off a building.

THE MANUFACTURERS AND THE PREFERENCE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday told the delegates from the Toronto conference that if Canada expected to obtain a preference in the British market the Canadian manufacturers would have to make concessions, and asked the delegates how far they thought this could be done. Inasmuch as the subject of sacrifices by Canadian manufacturers was never mentioned at the conference, the question was somewhat difficult to answer, but one gentleman made bold to affirm that the manufacturers would be willing to concede a cut of fifty per cent. of whatever the tariff might be. On this point there are just two remarks to make. Mr. Munro adventured a good deal when he made the suggestion, settling off-hand a question the Boards of Trade were afraid to tackle. And, in the second place, as a good protectionist, Mr. Munro probably had it in the back of his mind that the tariff ought to be so high that even with a reduction of one-half the Canadian manufacturer would still have ample protection against the British competitors. This may be doing Mr. Munro an injustice, but if so it is because the view just stated of the way a British preference ought to operate is that to which expression has been given by every recognized Canadian protectionist who has discussed the subject.

The fact is—and Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not need to be told so by the gentlemen who, for the most part, yesterday left him in the dark about it—there is in Canada no disposition whatever to deliberately and knowingly sacrifice any Canadian manufacturing interests. There is, on the contrary, a pretty general recognition that the ordinary Canadian manufacturer who tries to make a success of his business has of necessity a hard job of it, in the face of English or American competition, and a general disposition to afford him whatever assistance may, without inconvenience and without injury, to the general welfare of the Dominion, be derived from the levy of customs duties. On that point there is practical unanimity of opinion. There are differences of opinion, even profound differences, as to what the customs tariff ought to be. There is disagreement as to what is essential to the manufacturer. There is disagreement as to what is best for the general welfare of the country. But on the point of a willingness to help the manufacturers out there is no difference of opinion at all.

Nor is there, as yet at all events, any discrimination on the part of the people generally in favor of those manufacturers whose competition is chiefly American and against those manufacturers whose competition is chiefly British—for in the main the competition resolves itself into these two classes. There would be no support for any politician who undertook to permanently discriminate in favor of the one and against the other. The members of the present Government know this very well, and Sir Richard Cartwright has been very careful to point out that in actual operation, owing to greater distance, lesser facility of communication, and other factors, the protection enjoyed by the two divisions of manufacturers is, under the existing preferential tariff, just about equal. Circumstances transpire from time to time to indicate that the man with American competition has the better of the bargain in some cases, but that is bound to right itself. The salient fact is that the people are in no mood for sacrificing Canadian industries, wherever their competition may be, but are rather disposed, as they have been for years, and to their very great cost, to sacrifice something of the general good for the sake of encouraging these industries.

Such being the condition, it is difficult to know how Sir Wilfrid Laurier or anybody else could go to England and pledge the people of Canada to a steady, continuous lowering of the duties on British manufactures, to culminate in the free entry of British goods. No matter how long it might be before the end would come, Canada is not to-day ready to contemplate the contingency. There are those amongst us who hope and believe, with the late Lord Farrer, that in course of time Canada will, of her own uncontrolled volition, and in the belief that it is for her own good, gradually and safely approach the adoption of that fiscal policy upon which the greatness of England in the Victorian era has been builded. But that is something very different from a policy which, while pampering unduly the Canadian manufacturer whose competition is American, and subjecting the country to various ills on his account, would sacrifice, either summarily or piecemeal, the Canadian manufacturer whose competition is British.

There is, it seems to us, one ground on which Canada can apply for a remission of the grain tax, and even that application we ought not to have to make. Those who go to England will be able to say to the British Government: "In 1897, for reasons that seemed good to us, because it suited with our interests, because we valued the open, stable British market, and for sentimental reasons in addition, we afforded to your merchants in our markets advantages over all other merchants such as they do not possess in any other corner of the globe. Your only answer to that action, so far, has been to tax our grain. One good turn deserves another. Except, by so much as you can, in whole or in part, our Canadian grain from the operation of your tax." Unfortunately, the effect of such a return will be lost if Canada gets it after being obliged to ask for it. It ought to have been conceded at the very outset. But, if we get it, even after asking for it, there will still be no question of exchange of sacrifices, but merely question of exchange of favors. It is true if we ask for it and do not get it there may be a new situation, and that, we have a shrewd idea, is what His Majesty's loyal Canadian Opposition confidently look for. They are not puzzling over what manufacturers ought to be sacrificed, or over what period the extermination ought to continue. Not they.

STREET RAILWAY MATTERS.

It is to be supposed that the Street Railway authorities must be thinking a good deal about the possibility of securing an extension of their contract with the city, for the subject could hardly come up so often unless they were. Moreover, it is matter of history that negotiations were actually opened a year or so ago, but fell through when it was found that an agreement could not be reached. The company at that time contemplated a reduction of fares to something like ten tickets for a quarter, and wanted in return an extension of the contract and relief from a clause under which they can be obliged by the Council to lay tracks and operate a service on certain routes. The contract as it stands is a pretty good one for the company, if we can judge by the market quotations for its stock, so good, in fact, that a good many inquisitive people think a ten-fare rate would afford the company ample return for the service it gives. It may very well be that the whole talk about a rearrangement originated in a desire to know on what terms that ten-fare rate could be had. Of this, however, we may be certain. The company are not going to surrender anything of value they have under their contract, and if we want to travel at ten tickets for a quarter at any time between now and 1923 we shall have to pay, and quite possibly we shall overpay, for the privilege. The company will surrender nothing, nor should they be expected to.

Similarly, the city should be very careful not to throw away the advantages it possesses under that contract. When the contract was made it was looked upon as a good one for the city, and yet already, after less than ten years, it can be seen how much the company got the better of the bargain. Who of us can say to-day, any more accurately than others could ten years ago, what cost reducing devices may be available within twenty years? And who of us, feeling that we ought to be getting a two and a half cent fare to-day, knows enough of the future to warrant him in fixing a figure at which fares should be charged for the modest period of seventy-five years that has been mentioned?

It can be seen that the advantage of the railway company would be served by an extension, for the city franchise is only one of several they operate, and all the others are dependent upon the city lines. If in 1923 the city were to exercise its option and take possession of the city lines, the company's outside lines would be in a peculiar state. The city lines might be sold to another company, and the present company have every means of knowing how unpleasant that company could make it for the outside lines. The financial stability of the larger corporation, therefore, impels to a change in the present condition. What the people should insist upon is that this fact should not be lost sight of, nor its importance underestimated. The natural course would be for both parties to the existing contract to see it through to the end, but if it has to be disturbed at all then the rearrangement must be with full allowance for all attendant conditions.

In one point, above all, there should be general agreement. Instead of using the railway as a tax collector, as has been suggested, and spending the money so collected for ordinary civic services, the contrary principle should be followed, that, namely, of keeping the charge for fares down to the lowest point at which the service can be maintained. It is not for the poor people who ride to and from their work to pay, through the fare box, for street paving. On the contrary, their fares should be made so low that they will have every possible inducement to get away from the cliff-dwelling existence in which too many of them are now to be found, and out where they and their families will have room to breathe.

MAKING A SECOND FIGHT FOR IT.

The Ontario Conservatives are trying hard to convince themselves that they really did win the last election, and that it is only a matter of time until the Lieutenant-Governor shall send for Mr. Whitney. They are letting Mr. Ross go as Premier to the coronation, but they point out that this is a mere trifle, as even if decisively beaten at the polls he would have gone anyhow, since the Legislature does not meet for months, and until then he is Premier. Meantime, not making much of the plan to beat Ross on the judicial recounts, they have started in to beat him by counting the total vote cast on each side. It may well be imagined that in a contest that was so close, when taken by ridings, the Conservatives might have a little the better of this count of heads, for the cities all insisted upon perversely going Conservative, and as they rolled up majorities in the thousands it is easy for an ingenious Conservative to wipe out twenty or thirty defeats by majorities under 200 with the majorities obtained in Toronto alone. The Gazette is horror-stricken this morning over this view of the matter. It institutes comparisons about Ontario to which no Liberal can deny a respectful, if somewhat amused, hearing, for they are just the sort of comparisons with which we have time and again consoled ourselves since the gerrymander of 1882. The Liberals never acquired power by means of these calculations, though, and we do not believe the Conservatives will now. Perhaps the Gazette does.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A preference gained at the cost of opposition from one-half of the British people would be dearly bought.

If the issue resolves itself into "Imperial free trade or no preference," what will Canadian manufacturers answer?

Col. Lynch is getting what he probably was seeking—notoriety. He will probably now get what he was not seeking, but richly deserves—a quiet opportunity for reflection on his deeds and misdeeds.

The workingmen of Montreal should not be taxed, through the Street Railway fares, for street cleaning or street paving. On the contrary, they should be given the lowest possible fares, to the end that they may escape from tenements and live in the outskirts of the city, where more playgrounds and purer air may be found.

Sir Wilfrid's challenge to the manufacturers: "How near to free trade will you go?" touches the very heart of the preferential trade problem. Britain may tax products similar to those produced by the colonies, but only as a means towards Imperial free trade. That the manufacturers of Canada are prepared to relinquish protection there is no evidence.

The primary, and, in fact, the only consideration that should animate the aldermen of Montreal when dealing with the street railway franchise, is to secure the lowest possible rates of fare. The street railway is the poor man's means of conveyance, and every fraction saved in fares is a matter of moment to him. If the streets were paved by the Street Railway Company it would be the workingman who paid for the work.

It is being claimed that the popular majority in Ontario is with the Conservatives to the tune of about seven thousand. This is quite possible, as the cities are predominatingly Conservative, and it has come to be almost a rule in Canada that the unit of representation is larger in urban than in rural constituencies. Under the Federal gerrymander of 1882, however, the Liberals of Ontario, in spite of their opponents carrying the cities and towns by large majorities, had popular majorities at the succeeding elections, yet were sadly in the minority of the House. It was the policy of "hiving the Grits" that carried the day.

SOME LESSONS TO LEARN FROM THE BRITISH FLEET

The German fleet is the object of the Emperor's especial care. "What is its fighting value?" it may well be asked. The morale of officers and men can be understood only if it is remembered that the Kaiser is the father of the fleet. All visitors to the ships confirm the statement that William II. is regarded by those who wear his uniform with an almost religious devotion. We refer to the Imperial German navy, but the word imperial does not convey the right meaning of the German term Kaiserlich, which is the adjective employed. It is really the navy of the German Emperor. All orders, regulations, and promotions are signed by him. His Majesty carefully selects, in particular, all officers for high command, and has introduced a system of retirement under which he obtains officers in the prime of life for the navy. He inspires the service, and closely watches its development in every department, studies the training of the crews, and in the ships portraits of his Majesty are hung and prized.

Everything impresses a visitor with the devotion to Emperor and country that animates every boy and man, and the care that is taken to foster a national spirit. No one can walk round one of these ships without being struck by the monthly list of national anniversaries hung up where the crew can see it.

Much is expected of the men, even to the study of the skeleton model of the vessel to which they are attached, which is most ingeniously constructed in metal, and to a knowledge of the world's men-of-war, gained from diagrams that meet the eye everywhere, depicting the ships of the world's navies. They must be able to recognize craft which are met at sea by the number of their funnels and masts and other details.

But if much is expected of the men, they enjoy many advantages in return. Their food is excellent in quality, ample in quantity, and admirably varied in character. Every day in each week the diet is changed. The food is well cooked and looks appetizing, and, in short, the men, if anything, appear too sleek and well cared for in contrast to the British bluejacket. The dietary in the British fleet is to be improved, but even then bread will not be baked on board ship, as it is in the Kaiser's vessels. In other particulars the German sailors are to be envied. The lower decks are admirably ventilated by mechanical fans, and in winter are kept comfortable by hot pipes that go everywhere. Hand-basins, with water laid on, are numerous, and my impression is that the men are generally more comfortable than in the British fleet. Whether they are thereby better fitted for their work it is impossible to say—certainly they do not look it, though they are well-built and intelligent.

But there can be no doubt that in the absence of the duty of polishing brasswork, of which there is none, and holystoning wooden, well-caulked decks, as in the British navy, they have more time for other and more essential duties. There are in the United States' ships decks of steel, covered with wood, which require great labor to keep clean and smooth, and would splinter in action. How do the Germans manage? On the quarterdeck of the Kaiser class, where the surface is exposed to the weather, a special preparation of cement, with a slightly rough reddish surface, is laid over the steel, and elsewhere, all over the ships, the men walk on linoleum, which gives a good tread, is silent, and is kept clean easily. In fact, wherever a non-combustible material can be utilized in these new battle-ships, it is employed, and in a day every particle of wood, such as the divisions between cabins, can be ripped out, and the vessel rendered fit to go into action. Another striking feature of these armor-clads is the reduction of all weights not absolutely essential, and these economics are utilized in many effective ways, as may be understood from the number of guns and quantity of coal carried. Efficiency seems to be the watchword of the fleet—that, and a devotion to the Emperor, whose apartments on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. I was shown.

The British Admiralty, it is curious to note, have recently pleaded that evil results would be caused by competition for a cup among the men behind the guns of the fleet. How do the Germans promote good shooting? No paltry money prizes, a few shillings to each man only, are awarded, as with us, but the Kaiser gives a cup, which goes every year to the crew making the best record, and the successful gunners are the envy of the fleet as they walk about wearing a distinctive mark. There is, therefore, a conflict between the Kaiser, the student of efficiency in war ashore and afloat, and the Admiralty. One or the other is unwise. Certainly the vessels as they lie off the Irish coast, grim and businesslike, impress one, and the feeling that the fleet is efficient, besides looking so, is not dispelled by a visit on board. As was said of the British soldiers in Natal, the British bluejackets are splendid. We should go far to find the equal of their officers in courage, resourcefulness, and power to command. Our later ships are magnificent. The British navy is not effete, but it may be that from the young, virile force, which is largely the creation and is the hourly pride of the German Emperor, there are lessons to be learned.—London Telegraph.

Important Announcement.

The Herald has pleasure in announcing that it has been successful in securing, for publication in serial form, Miss A. C. Laut's great Canadian historical novel, "Lords of the North."

This story is one of the strongest yet written by any Canadian author. When first published, a short time ago, it was hailed by critics everywhere as indication of the rise of a new star in Canada's literary firmament, and Miss Laut's name at once became known to every lover of Canadian literature.

The Herald considers itself particularly fortunate in being able to announce that in a few days it will begin serial publication of the thrilling tale of Canadian life in the early part of the last century.

MARTINIQUE LIVES FROM DAY TO DAY

Here is where you might expect to find people living to-day as if they were to die to-morrow, writes a correspondent in St. Pierre. Pelee's dust and rocks wake them at night, and they are prepared to sacrifice all, saving a robe de nuit, to escape to sea. Yet by day they put up prices and arrange schedules of profits like persons who were to live for ever, and where riches would buy everything. When a black cloud appears, they are thrown into an attitude of mind fit for Judgment Day, but, because nothing happens, they resume usual habits, and always the most fit for dwellers by a terrible volcano. At least, this is one's first thought. Ruin may leap high and tumble upon them, but until it is actually within sight they are not a jot more solemn about mortal conditions than if they lived in Central Park West, away from subway dynamiting, with only the quiet green drives and trees before them. In their circumstances you would think that (as Stevenson said), "even cheese and salad could hardly be relished without something like defiance of the Almighty." They are not hermits dwelling in prayer and maceration," long-faced, unhappy. I dare say that there are more people at this moment in Harlem worrying over where to spend a two-weeks' vacation than there are here thinking upon where they are likely to pass eternity. Some black boys are frolicking in the water off the beach, while policemen try to compel them to wear a clout; the main men of the town are taking unhurried coffee in the park pavilion; some American professors and writers are bargaining for transportation to a new-sprung crater.

There are only war ships and supply ships in the harbor; and newcomers are here on special duty, like bringing the mail, or succoring the desolate, or keeping the world informed as to what goes on, or pushing as far toward the angry crater as they dare, to take a look for science at a volcano in action. Masters of merchant ships give the disturbed islands a wide berth, and refuse to touch at them; they fear them, as in times back they did the buccaneers. Journalism and geology furnish the only adventurers. There is something interesting in what they attempt. An hour ago Professor Hill sent in runners to ask that a carriage be despatched to him; he was tired with a long jaunt toward Pelee, which he hoped to observe "on the spot." Nearing the spot, night before last, he witnessed the latest eruption of an effloreseing cloud, charged with explosive gases, that sent down lightnings to the earth. At dejeuner now, with the vision of it vivid, he concludes that he has been as near as he wants to be to Pelee—has "seen all he wants to see." Some newspaper correspondents were within several miles of the crater during the same demonstration. They were dining with a priest at Morne Rouge in a church. Running out, they found an artillery officer with a lantern leading the people away from the town, and they followed, abandoning their horses, and fleeing in panic, the artist throwing away his elaborate camera. Both came in afoot this morning, not curious about Pelee any more.

THE RED THROAT.

There are special inquisitive desires which each has to satisfy in and for himself. To look down the red throat of Pelee—standing on its lip—has become, among the Americans here, the thing to do, as if it were riding along the Strand on the top of an omnibus, getting a good seat for the Coronation procession, seeing the sunrise from the Rigi, or taking breakfast in Central Park Casino, some fine June morning. It would be rash to say that none of them will look down Pelee nor snap his kodak at it vertically. There are men here—Borchgrevink, Kennan, Professor Hill, Professor Heilprin—who would adventure as far for a photograph or a piece of description, or an observation of volcanic gas explosion, as would, in war, suffice to capture a citadel. It has come to this, that to go by boat to the hushed and buried city of St. Pierre, one must first gain the permission of the Governor, and to make a tramping tour up the lower slopes of Pelee is to meet with resistance from the gendarmes, and be turned back, regardless of science, instruction and the impulse of energy, in the interest of mere human life.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Hon. Wm. Mulock, Postmaster-General, is in Toronto, and will go from there to London, England.

Count Tolstoi is weaker again. His doctors think that he cannot outlive the autumn on account of senile decay.

Mr. Philippe Roy, C.L.S., has been appointed manager of the C.P.R. Telegraph Company in the Parliament House, Quebec.

The remains of the Spanish poets Larra and Jose de Esponceda and the painter Rosales have been removed to the Pantheon in Madrid.

Lieut.-Col. O'Neill R. Cartwright, C.M.G., inspector of musketry, is in Kingston in connection with the selection of a site for a rifle range.

Governor Jeff Davis of Arkansas has been taken back into the church. Why should a fellow like Governor Jeff want to belong to the church anyway?

M. R. Davis, steamboat inspector, Kingston, is on an official visit to North Bay, Sturgeon Falls, Sudbury and other western and northern Ontario points.

P. Rosenkrantz, a Danish playwright, is engaged on a comedy with the Humbert-Crawford scandals for subject. It will be produced in the autumn at the National Theatre, Copenhagen.

Michael Herbert, who is going to Washington as British ambassador, is known to all his friends as "Mungo" Herbert. No one can explain why the nickname was given to Herbert, but he has it.

One hundred and eighty district messenger boys in London recently received handsome walking sticks from the Duchess of Portland for smartness in uniform and alacrity in answering the call bell.

The Rev. John P. Clyde, pastor of the Congregational Church of Eldora, Ia., is the champion half-mile runner of the state, having a record of 2.03 3-5, though he made better time than that at Yale, and was champion of the United States.

Madame Bernhardt had a hearty welcome from an enthusiastic audience at the Garrick Theatre this week, when she appeared in Marion Crawford's play, Francesca de Remini, under the direction of Maurice Grau and Charles Frohman.

At the convocation of Toronto University this week the degree of D.C.L. honoris causa will be conferred on Mr. James Bain, jr., the librarian of the Public Library, for distinguished services in the preservation of Canadian historical lore.

Professor Horatio W. Parker, of Yale, who is to receive the degree of doctor of music at Cambridge, England, this month, has accepted the task of furnishing an oratorio for solos, chorus and orchestra, to be given at the Norwich, England, musical festival next fall.

Archbishop Duhamel, who is away on his visitation of parishes, had a unique experience the other day at Boileau's camp, on the Rouge River, when he was tendered a banquet in a lumber camp by a couple of hundred shantymen and rivermen, who seldom entertain such a notable visitor.

Mrs. Rose O'Neill-Latham, whose name and signature are known to all readers of illustrated comic papers and many leading magazines, has again ventured on the sea of matrimony. Her newest husband is H. L. Wilson, the managing editor of Puck, the periodical for which his wife has for years been drawing "comics."

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

Corse Payton's stock company will next week present the stirring military drama, "The Girl I Left Behind Me," which is new to Montreal. The play will be adequately staged. Prominent in the cast will be Mr. Burke, as Lieut. Hawkesworth; Miss Florence Hamilton, as Kate Kennion; Mr. Sullivan, as General Kennion; Mr. Barry as the educated Indian Scar Brow; Mr. Will Howatt as Private Jones.

Heavy dramas and classical plays will be succeeded at Proctor's next week, by that delightful comedy, "Because She Loved Him So." Since Miss Linthicum's engagement with Proctor's, she has not been seen in comedy work. The many who admire her in comedy roles, will be pleased at this change of bill. The play is brilliant in dialogue, has a clever plot, and is pleasing in humor.

One of the features at Proctor's next week will be the engagement of Enid Martin, a singer who has just completed a very successful concert tour in Canada.

Eating Fresh Cakes
Is not disastrous when Regent Baking Powder is used—as its perfect purity makes the cake as wholesome as can be—
BUT IF YOU WAIT
a day or two, and have used Regent Baking Powder, you will still find the cake fresh and sweet, and toothsome—while for delicate stomachs it will be perfectly harmless.

MISS FLORA SHAW WEDS A SOLDIER

Times' Lady Colonial Expert and Sir Frederick Lugard Married at Madeira.

London, June 11.—(Special.)—The marriage took place to-day at Maderia, of Brigadier-General Sir Frederick Lugard, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Northern Nigeria, and since 1900 High Commissioner of the same district, and Miss Flora Shaw, the head of the Colonial department of the London Times, the celebrated expert on African affairs, whose advice was mainly responsible for the policy of that paper in the months preceding the Boer war. Miss Shaw has also been special commissioner of the Times in Queensland, Canada and the Klondike.

Sir Frederick Lugard was born in 1858, and has served in many African campaigns. He won the D.S.O. in Burma in 1887. In '97-99 he raised and commanded the West African Frontier force.

RICHMOND VOTES BRIDGE.

Only One Dissenting Ballot Against the Issue of Debentures to Pay the Town's Share.

Richmond, Que., June 11.—(Special.)—All interest in the municipalities of Richmond Town, the Township of Melbourne, and the village of Melbourne Low centres on the bridge to be constructed over the St. Francis River by the three municipalities. In accordance with the bill passed at the last meeting of the Legislature at Quebec to authorize the construction of the bridge, of which the provisions are that the several municipalities would within two months pass the by-laws to determine the amount to be contributed by each, and provide for the issue of debentures and the submitting of the by-law to the ratepayers who are owners of real estate, and that the municipalities shall provide for $36,000 in the proportion of two-fifths for the Town of Richmond, two-fifths for the Township of Melbourne, and one-fifth for the village of Melbourne. The proportion that Richmond is called upon to provide is $14,400, and the vote of the ratepayers of Richmond was taken Monday and Tuesday on the by-law.

The result was 104 votes for the by-law, and against a valuation of $268,356.32, against a valuation of $300, Richmond has declared itself almost to a man in favor of a municipal bridge.

A second by-law providing for the consolidation of the floating indebtedness of the town by an issue of debentures to $15,000 was also voted, the majority being the same as in the case of the bridge by-law. The bridge by-law will be voted on in Melbourne village June 16th and in Melbourne Township June 18th. In consequence of some misunderstanding as to the provisions of the bill, public meetings, commencing to-day, will be held throughout the township every evening up to the eve of the election, which will be attended by Mr. P. S. G. MacKenzie and others. The bridge debentures will be paid at the rate of one annually for twenty-five years, the first becoming due Nov. 1st, 1903. The plan of the bridge is now in the hands of the secretary of the St. Francis Bridge Board. It will be a two-span superstructure, each span 266 feet long.

MILITARY LEAGUE TAKES A HAND

Loss of Cunard Subsidized Cruisers Means Danger to the Country.

London, June 12. — (Special.)—The Military League points out the military danger which will threaten this country if the Cunard subsidized cruisers are lost to the British flag, and the Government is urged without delay to secure by promise of liberal subsidies the replacement of the ships by vessels of twenty-four knots.

Allusion is made in the League's letter to the offer which Mr. Morgan seems to have made to the British Government, under which, for a long term of years, the shipping controlled by the new trust would remain under the British flag, would be subject to British laws, and would, if the Admiralty required it, carry naval reservists in the present proportion.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

L. C. Belanger, K.C., Senior Member of St. Francis Bar, Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud.

Sherbrooke, June 11.—(Special.)—The preliminary investigation was concluded this afternoon before Judge Mulvena in the case of Charles Bresse vs. L. C. Belanger, K.C. The latter is charged in conjunction with James I. Parsons and Walter Drew, of Colebrooke, N.H., with having conspired to defraud the said Charles Bresse of the sum of $4,000. The facts brought out in the preliminary investigation were intended to show that $4,000 had been paid to L. C. Belanger by the attorney representing Charles Bresse, James I. Parsons. In a deposition given by Mr. Belanger before the council of the bar of the district of St. Francis, and certain documents produced in support of said deposition, the accused, L. C. Belanger admitted certain agreements with the other parties by which he sued Charles Bresse illegally, and did not mention the amounts in the said writs, and described the plaintiff in the suit in question as of age when she was a minor to the knowledge of the accused; the exchange of receipts in duplicates with James I. Parsons covering only $2,000, when $4,000 was received; the sending and receipt of a telegram by James I. Parsons to the accused asking him to sue the said Charles Bresse, his own client, and the rendering of an account by the accused to his client, Z. Tremblay, covering only $1,000.

The case was continued over a number of days, the accused being represented by Mr. L. E. Panneton, K.C., and Mr. H. R. Fraser, while Mr. C. C. Cabana appeared in behalf of Charles Bresse.

At the conclusion of the evidence and argument, Judge Mulvena said it was his painful duty to commit the accused, L. C. Belanger, to stand his trial at the next term of the Court of King's Bench. The accused was admitted to bail on a personal bond of $500 and another bond of $500.

The case has created a great deal of interest in the city, not only among the members of the bar, but among the general public, as Mr. Belanger is the oldest member of the St. Francis bar, and has also held many important positions in the gift of the citizens, having been a city councillor for a number of years, and on several occasions has occupied the Mayor's chair.

SABARA AGROUND.

The Sabara, en route from Rangoon with a cargo of rice consigned to Messrs. R. Reford & Co., is aground near Bicquette Island, and is in a very dangerous position. It is believed that she missed taking on her pilot and went ashore during the fog. She is making water, and it is feared that unless relieved her cargo may swell and cause very serious damage. The steamer Strathcona, with men and wrecking appliances, has gone from Quebec to her assistance. The Sabara is the property of the Glasgow Navigation Co., and is a new Clyde-built vessel. She is 370 feet long, 48 feet beam and has a net register tonnage of 2,665 tons.

HOW THE CANADIANS ACQUITTED THEMSELVES AT THE BATTLE OF BOSCHBOLT FARM

Account of Famous Engagement by a Participant.

STEADINESS AMAZED REGULAR REGIMENTS

Mr. J. Lauerence Toole Describes in Detail the Events of the March and Attack.

The following letter from Mr. J. Laurence Toole, special correspondent of The Herald, was begun on April 9th; and written as opportunity presented itself during the succeeding days. It was posted on April 18th, but only bears the postmark: "Field Post Office, British Army, S. Africa, May 2, 02."

Drieknil, Transvaal, Wed., Apr. 9th.

By the time this reaches you, our engagement, at Boschbolt Farm will, fancy, have been mostly forgotten. I have, of course, not the least idea as to what account of that fight was allowed to leak through the cables, but perhaps some further notes of it may be welcome. They cannot, however, be very comprehensive or complete, for the simple reason that in the ranks one does not get any comprehensive or complete idea of an action as a whole. One takes in one's immediate surroundings, and gets disjointed accounts of various incidents afterwards from others. When looked at in its true perspective, the fight was, I have little doubt, not so very important an affair.

At the moment it was a very exciting and a rather terrifying experience for the new hands amongst us, but that soon wears off, and we were a good deal surprised to hear the telegrams from Lord Kitchener, and even Lord Roberts, congratulating us, which were read out in orders to us a day or two after the incident.

SPURS FAIRLY WON.

At the time we were very pleased at the warm expressions of admiration from the English and colonial officers and soldiers who were present at Boschbolt; they assured us that no other regiment of recruits had been known to behave better under similar trying circumstances; but I think our reputation was quite as much established by the display of grit and endurance that we gave in the forced march of which I wrote you in my last. That, we are told, has seldom been excelled. On the whole, we are inclined to think we have "won our spurs" fairly, and I do not think there is a man amongst us who is not determined to keep the good name we have so far earned untarnished. But the price paid for our probably rather trivial victory on Easter Monday—eleven young lives—is a heavy one.

MOVEMENT BEGUN.

On the morning of Saturday, March 29th, at three o'clock, Col. Cookson's column, with which we are brigaded, left the spot where we were camped within a few miles of Klerksdorp, and started out upon the trek. At noon that day we camped, and in the afternoon we retraced our steps about fifteen miles. Our destination, I understand, was a point on the Hart River, where we were to effect a junction with General Walter Kitchener. I do not know why we did not go right on, but I imagine it was because we learned that the Boers were in force ahead. Our camp was situated on the banks of what I believe was the Crocodile River; here we spent Sunday.

At three a.m. on Monday a flying column left camp, taking with it supplies sufficient for two days. The total strength of this column did not exceed 2,000 men; I think a fighting strength of 1,700 is about correct. We were "made up" of about 700 of the 2nd C.M.R., Damant's Horse, and detachments of the R.H.A. and Imperial (Devonshire) Yeomanry. Ten guns accompanied us, four fifteen-pounders, three pom-poms, and three maxims. "C" Squadron (Capt. Moodie) was in the advance guard, "D" Squadron formed the rear guard under Major Cameron and Capt. Macdonald, while the 3rd and 4th troops of "E" Squadron, nearly all Eastern Canada men, under Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, formed a flanking party away out on our right.

All that night we pressed on steadily though not very rapidly, for the country we were passing through was rough, and the progress of our transports was slow. I used to imagine that "flying columns" moved swiftly from point to point; now I cannot imagine why they are called "flying" columns at all.

The morning of Easter Monday was a glorious one, even for a South African morning, that made one feel the anxiety, hardship and fatigue of a night march amply atoned for. The ride, after dawn, was thoroughly enjoyable. We sauntered along, revelling in the delicious freshness of the morning, and thoroughly appreciating the ever-increasing warmth of the sun.

FIRST "FARM BURNING."

We had that forenoon, too, our first experience of farm burning. We passed several isolated buildings, which were conscientiously looted and put to the torch. The houses were apparently deserted, and were burned, I fancy, to deprive stray parties of Boers of shelter. There was nothing so very "revolting" about the task, and the hysterical outcry against "farm burning" seems rather foolish. Over the very large area of country in which we have been operating, nine houses in ten, I should say, are destroyed. In the very few remaining inhabited, only women and children and Kaffirs are living. It is said that the Kaffirs, owing to the somewhat Quixotic conduct of the British towards the Boers in this war, have come to respect the Boers immensely, and keep their mealie fields running for them, so that the Boers about here have all the mealies the cattle, too, that they require So they say, at any rate.

So we jode along we little dreamed lay at the end of the ride. The we were passing through had been very fruitful, and around many of the little Boer and Kaffir settlements that we passed we still had many an opportunity to secure for ourselves an extra good dinner when we reached camp. Men with dead pigs strapped to the pommels of their saddles, their horses' necks festooned with fat fowl, and with nosebags and haynets bulging out with corn and squash, gave the column a curiously ludicrous appearance.

IN CONTACT WITH BOERS.

About nine o'clock that morning the rear guard was surmounting a bush-covered hill. About a mile and a half ahead of us the bush ended, and the ground was clear and undulating as far as the eye could see. Suddenly there was a commotion in the column ahead. Then through the breaks in the bush we could see squadron after squadron sweeping at full gallop across the distant plain. Our advance guard had come in contact with the Boers, and were in full chase. It was a pretty sight, as troop after troop swept onward over the level veldt. It was an ideal place for a gallop, but there we of the rear guard had to sit, impatiently enough, and eagerly awaiting the order to join in the chase. The convoy, however, unfortunately for us, could not be left unprotected, and the order did not come.

Soon the faint rattle and crackle of rifle fire told us that the enemy had been overtaken, and a little later the dull pom-pom-pom that came echoing over the veldt made us hope that the Boers had been forced to stand and fight. The firing continued for about half an hour; then it lessened and grew fainter, and we could see our galloping squadrons disappearing in clouds of dust. The Boers, we concluded, were fleeing across the veldt before them, and meanwhile the convoy proceeded slowly in the direction of the distant clouds of dust.

TRAP WELL LAID.

What I was told afterwards had happened was this: Our scouts of the advance guard mistook the guns which the Boers captured from Lord Methuen for the Boer transport, and Damant's Scouts and the 28th M.I. were at once sent out on either side to try and outflank them. The Boers, however, lay in ambush for them in the bush, and repulsed them with an exceedingly hot fire. They were themselves in turn forced to retire by the advance of our column upon them. The whole affair cost us the loss of about twelve men and some thirty horses, and drew us about eight miles out of our direction. For the Boers, in their flight, took a direction exactly at right angles to that in which we had been travelling. The consequence was that Col. Cookson encamped about noon at Boschbolt, certainly not expecting to be attacked. But it looks as if the object of the Boers was to draw us off into something of a trap; if that is so, they succeeded only too well.

POSITION OF THE CAMP.

It was getting on for one o'clock when we of the convoy came up with part of the column which had given up the chase, and between one and two o'clock when the entire column halted and we began the preparations for pitching camp. Without knowing the rudiments of tactics or strategy, we are inclined to doubt whether the spot selected to encamp was the best that could have been chosen; but that is because of what happened so promptly to us. We were practically in a hollow. All around us, especially at our front and rear, the ground rose, gradually, it is true, but still a distinct rise. The only cover we had was afforded in the rear by a shallow donga, through which flowed, or, rather, failed to flow, a sluggish stream. I fancy it was the presence of this water that decided the position of the camp. On the immediate left of the camp was a ruined farm-house, still inhabited by a Boer woman and her children. Stretching in front of this house was what is known in this country as a "garden," a bare, uncultivated patch of ground, rectangular in shape and hedged on every side by a sort of tough cactus plant. In a rough sketch on the back of one of these pages I have tried to give you a general idea of the positions assigned to the various units that formed the column. As you will see, we were elected to hold the front.

THE FIRING BEGINS.

It was just half-past one when we rode into camp, our squadron being among the last to reach it. We put down our horse-lines on the front of the camp with as little delay as possible, as we were all pretty tired, and were looking forward to a couple of hours' rest. There was the usual bustle of pitching camp, off-saddling, bringing up the waggons, etc. I remember that I had got my saddlery and accoutrements piled in front of my horse unusually promptly, and was off, trying to buy, beg, borrow or steal a smoke from some of the Damant's Horse men before many of the others had well begun.

I was standing talking to some R.H.A. men who were in charge of the gun which you will see marked in the sketch right in rear of the farm-house. Our attention was suddenly drawn to a large body of horsemen that had appeared unexpectedly upon the skyline. They were not more than 3,000 yards off, and, as we stood discussing what they were, their numbers kept constantly increasing.

There were such swarms of them, and they advanced so openly, that we felt certain they were the advance guard of one of the other columns that were supposed to be in the vicinity. I got my smoke and went back to our lines, thinking little more of the horsemen in the skyline.

I had barely reached the lines; some of our fellows were still unsaddling; others were getting out the stuff they had commandeered during the day; our cook was cutting up the meat for our midday stew, when— whir-r-r-r—something flew over our heads, sounding only a few feet over them, too, with a hissing noise that was a bit sickening.

Little groups of men instantly gathered around; the horses broke and scattered, running in every direction with low-bent heads. A fraction of a second latter, it seemed, and something spat into the ground not thirty yards in front of our horse-lines, and a small geyser of earth and loose stones flew up a good many feet into the air. The camp, which but a moment before had presented a scene of the liveliest animation, seemed paralysed.

Another and another shell hissed overhead, and each time the little cloud of broken earth that leaped upward was a bit closer to our lines. Men were now rushing about, crouching low, and snatching up what rifles and bandoliers lay in their path.

Along the skyline a mass of mounted men were streaming in a great circle to enclose us, as fast as their horses could gallop. Out from the rear of our camp little groups of men were hurrying forward, bent almost double as they ran, dropping every few yards to fire, and then running on again as hard as they could. At the front of the camp we raw recruits no longer wondered confusedly what was happening. The first shock was over. Already with perfect steadiness and a regularly that in itself gave confidence, our own artillery was throwing shell after shell, like clockwork, into the stream of horsemen, tearing along the skyline.

ORDER AND COUNTER-ORDER.

In our own lines there was some confusion at first; men were hurrying hither and thither, crouching as the shells screamed past, when the order was given to "saddle up"; it was immediately countermanded, but, in doubt as to what was meant, many remained by their horses and began to saddle up.

A couple of shells actually dropped right into the horse-lines, and one dropped just four yards from where a group of us were standing, making no small hole; we all incontinently ducked; it must have looked funny, but the shell did not explode.

A former artilleryman afterwards remarked: "I was very much interested in the Boer guns, but more particularly pleased, when I found that the gunners did not understand either time or percussion fuze! Our horses stampeded, of course; and but in front of the camp I noticed the Kaffirs trying to gather the scattered mules into herds.

One shell burst just over a herd, which scattered like chaff; but the funniest part was to see its kaffir driver, who seemed to run in half a dozen directions at once; then he lay down and buried his face in the ground. We all burst out laughing, though, truth to tell, our hearts were at that moment pretty much "in our mouths," I fancy. The fight was on in real earnest, now; from every point of the compass the Boers seemed to be pouring in bullets upon our camp. It was no use trying to dodge the shells now; the rifle bullets were flying, and, while I was still trying to saddle up my horse, the horse on either side of mine was shot dead.

MET BRUCE CARRUTHERS.

From what I gather, the Boers meant first to try and capture our convoy; in doing so they ran into Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, who was in the rear guard, and happened to be delayed by being ordered to bring in some cattle, which we had picked up. With him were two troops of the left, or eastern half of the regiment.

The 28th M. I. were in the rear, too, and were driven through Carruthers' ranks, all except four, whom he is said to have held up himself. These M.I. reported to General Kitchener later that Col. Cookson's column had been cut to pieces. Lieut. Carruthers, however, held out till all but four of his command had been wounded, and all his ammunition had been used up. He himself smashed his revolver and threw it away before surrendering. By holding out, Lieut. Carruthers and his command allowed the whole of our transport to reach camp.

I believe that after he surrendered, Mr. Carruthers was nearly shot, the young Boers shooting at him as they rode past; he had any number of bullet holes through his uniform—fourteen, they say. When one of the Boer commandants rode up, Carruthers—not, perhaps, in very orthodox language—demanded to know what these young devils intended to do with him and where he could get water for his wounded men; the Commandant promptly stopped the firing and Mr. Carruthers came back to camp that same evening, not stripped of his uniform.

About twenty minutes, I imagine, after firing commenced we got the order to extend out in front of the camp, the order coming, I think, from an English officer. We ran out to about where I have marked on the plan and lay down to fire without very much in the way of orders or directions, but most of our troop got together out in front of our horse-lines. We had only been out about ten minutes when poor Howard was hit; we who were near him thought he was shot dead; and the doctors, when we carried him in, said the wound was a very bad one; the bullet entered at his right side, poor fellow, and came out just below the heart on the left.

A few minutes later Lieut. Mackay was hit; and then Lieut. Markham was shot through both legs. We were not entrenched, of course, during the first part of the fight, and most of our wounded were, I think, hit by bullets dropping clean over the camp on all sides from the rear; the Boers had the range exactly.

We were now, however, ourselves pouring in a hotter fire upon the Boers than they could stand. I think there can be no doubt that they suffered much more heavily than we did, as they were attacking; for days afterwards we were picking up their wounded in farm houses around. Time and again they galloped in upon us, only to retreat back again to the shelter of the brush before the steady fire that met them. And thus it went on till nearly five o'clock, when they finally gave up, ceased firing, and retreated in a body towards the northwest. Their total numbers in attacking us are set down at 2,800.

Without a moment's delay we were set to work to entrench the camp. Waggons were emptied and the boxes of biscuit and bully-beef and everything else they contained were piled in front of the trenches we dug. By nightfall we had the camp so strongly entrenched that we awaited with some confidence the night attack we expected; and all that night we lay in the trenches with bayonets fixed and eyes and ears straining. We could see the twinkling lights of the Boers', as of our own ambulance waggons, as they searched the field for the dead and wounded. But there was no attack; De La Rey had had enough. He is said to have told one of our doctors that he had not been in a warmer fight since he took the field.

It rained nearly all the next day. About noon Col. Lowe's column came in and relieved us. They had heard, as I said, that we had been smashed up, cut to pieces and captured, and were somewhat amazed to find the camp safe. We were not sorry to be relieved.

NEARLY GAVE UP

A CAPE BRETON LADY SAVED AT THE LAST MOMENT.

A Little Longer and it Would Have Been Too Late.—Her Gratitude for Her Deliverance is Unbounded.

Rock, Dale, C.B., June 11.—(Special.)—One of the most thrilling escapes in the history of the Island has just been reported here.

The subject was Mrs. David Riley, of this village, and had help not reached her the moment it did, the chances for her recovery were indeed very small.

Mrs. Riley has given the following account of her experience:

"I have been a sufferer for the last eight years with weakness of the body and pain across the back, and I could scarcely lift any weight.

"I took lots of medicines but without any good results.

"I always had a dizziness and was gradually growing worse.

"I was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and although I had but little faith in medicine after my many discouraging experiences, I decided to give them a trial.

"I used four boxes and I must say that the change they made in my condition was wonderful.

"With the first box I commenced to feel stronger, and I continued the treatment, and now my back does not trouble me at all, and I am stronger and better than I have been for years.

"If it was not for the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills I would have given up.

"I can heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all women suffering as I used to suffer."

The experience of Mrs. Riley is only one of hundreds.

Bad kidney action is at the bottom of nearly all of the weakness, pain and dizziness with which so many ladies suffer.

Cure the kidneys, and the well kidneys will soon correct all other irregularities and restore perfect health.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT, dusted at first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until, after three weeks, the sores have healed, and best of all the hair is growing well, and is not white, as is most always the case in horse wounds.

CONFIRMATION SERVICE AT TEMPLE EMANU-EL

The confirmation service which took place at the Temple Emanu-El yesterday was marked by flowers and music and an impressive ritual. A choir, assisted by soloists, rendered the choral portion of the service, and the excellence of the musical service was commented upon by many.

Three children were received into the faith of Israel, two boys and a girl. After an offering of flowers by the confirmants, the confirmation hymn was sung, and one of them read the opening prayer, which was followed by all reading from the Torsh.

The girl made the declaration of faith, and the closing prayer was offered by another of the confirmants.

Rabbi Landmann delivered a beautiful address to the children, which he called "A Day in June." He said in part:—"To-day your dependence of childhood is giving way to independence of manhood and womanhood, not only in youth's relation to parental authority, but also in your beliefs, in your moral judgments, in your personal relation to God, and to destiny. You are now taking possession of yourselves, your conscious individuality is complete, your lives begin to assume a true inwardness, your moral sense begins to blossom, you are taking a new interest in others, and in what others think and say about you."

SMELTER AT SHERBROOKE.

Mining Association Formed With Hope of Developing This Industry and Establishing a Smelter.

Sherbrooke, June 12.—With the object in view of developing further the mining industries of the Eastern Townships, a branch of the Canadian Mining Institute has been formed here, known as the Eastern Townships Mining Association, and consisting of:—George R. Smith (chairman), John Blue, L. S. Spafford, J. R. Pearson, B. Bennetts (Thetford Mines), J. S. Mitchell, A. S. Johnson (Thetford Mines), R. Hopper (Montreal), with H. J. Williams, secretary.

Mr. J. R. Wood, speaking at the meeting of the mineral wealth of the Townships, stated that he had prepared a descriptive map of some fifteen different copper properties within a radius of 35 miles of Sherbrooke, and strongly advocated the establishment of a custom smelter of at least 100 tons daily capacity at Sherbrooke, which was the centre of five railway companies, and with easy access of mines through Ascot, and that he thought it could be certainly guaranteed that the copper ore could be furnished already in sight for at least three years' consumption. He pointed out that not only Sherbrooke County, but that Stanstead, Richmond and Wolfe, Bagot County, and the whole district of Bedford were permeated with undeveloped copper deposits, which could not be profitably developed by individual proprietors, but having a common smelter could be worked to advantage.

A committee was appointed to ascertain if a concerted move of the mine-owners in the vicinity could not be made and to approach the Quebec Government on the subject.

ELECTRICAL ASSOCIATION AT QUEBEC.

Quebec, June 11.—The Canadian Electrical Association began a four days convention here this morning, and the Hotel Frontenac and Dufferin Terrace are brilliantly illuminated. Mr. Spaulding, manager of the National Electrical Improvement Company, of New York, arrived in the city several days ago, and has been engaged in arranging for an ingenious electrical exhibition of various colored lights that he is having placed in position in the Frontenac Hotel.

This afternoon the delegates paid a visit to the sub-stations of the Jacques Cartier Electric Company and the Quebec Railway Light and Power Company. One hundred and fifty electricians are present, many of them accompanied by ladies.

The discussions were, of course, mostly technical, but still very interesting. The question of inspectors for installation as a means of reducing general fire insurance premiums was discussed in all its branches.

Last night Mr. W. D. Ryan, of Lynn, Mass., gave a most interesting and instructive essay, illustrated by concrete examples on the development of the electric arc light from its inception in 1810 to the present day. He showed conclusively the immense improvement shown in the modern enclosed arc used for street lighting.

Last evening on the Levis shore was an enormous "C. E. A. welcome" in letters of fire. To-day the party visited the Montmorency Falls and Ste. Anne de Beaupre.

MUSICAL CARNIVAL OPENS TO-NIGHT

To-night the grand Carnival of Musical Romances for the Protestant Infants' Home, opens at the Academy of Music, with a second performance on Friday evening, and a Saturday matinee. The hearts of several hundred young persons are beating a little faster with the excitement of making their debut before a Montreal audience, which will probably fill the theatre. The tout ensemble will be so charming that the few mistakes incidental to any large performance are not likely to attract much notice.

Last night there was a rehearsal, and the stage was filled with young men and maidens, chaperones and children, either actually rehearsing or awaiting their turn to take part in the graceful dances and tableaux. The dancing of the children is charming, the smallest of all the King and Queen of the fairies and the Princess of the Royal House of Glitter going through their parts with much gravity and dignity. The young people who stood about or danced in every day clothes will, to-night, be resplendent as fairies, butterflies, wood nymphs, flower girls, vestal virgins, nuns, Arian monks, cigarette girls, gypsies, Japs and soldiers. If those taking part receive much praise, the ladies who have acted as chaperones and directed the tableaux and scene should receive a special word for their part was exceedingly difficult and trying. Mr. Edward Hughes Coates is general manager, and Mr. P. Lynwood, operatic director.

The officers of the Home are: Mrs. Benjamin T. Davis, president; Mrs. W. J. Benallack, 1st vice-president; Miss Golding, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. W. B. Mathews, recording secretary; Mrs. A. B. Macfarlane, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. Ault, treasurer. Board of lady managers—Mrs. Alford, Mrs. D. McNicoll, Miss Morgan, Mrs. Browne, Mrs. Jephcott, Mrs. J. H. Chapman, Mrs. A. S. Robertson, Mrs. J. B. Reid, Mrs. J. H. Harte, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. J. S. Archibald, Mrs. Brush, Mrs. Geo. D. Ross, Mrs. Edgar, Mrs. Jas. Saxe, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. J. A. Harte, Mrs. J. Ault, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. F. Fowler. Programme committee—Mrs. J. A. Harte, Mrs. R. Cunningham, Mrs. D. McNicoll, Mrs. Smeaton.

The affair is under the distinguished patronage of their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Minto, Lady Van Horne, Lady Tait, and Mesdames Montagu Allan, Hugh Graham, Baumgarten, J. Cochrane, Bethune, W. Peterson, R. Reid, C. Trenholme, C. Morgan, E. B. Greenshields, E. B. Busteed, W. Agnew, Ramsay, J. Bell, S. C. Stevenson, Thom, J. Macfarlane, F. W. Evans, G. Cantlie, John A. 'Lords of the North'

By MISS A. C. LAUT, OF OTTAWA.

One of the Greatest Canadian Novels.

WILL BE BEGUN IN

The Montreal Daily Herald

Saturday, June 14th.

Read What the Detroit Free Press Says of this Novel.

"'Lords of the North' merits a high place in historical fiction. Miss Laut is another Mary Johnston in ability to set forth a story of varied and absorbing interest and catch the very spirit of life that is portrayed. The action never flags. The style is invariably good. The book deserves as much of the public as does 'To Have and to Hold,' 'Richard Carvel,' or 'Alice of Old Vincennes.'"

Every lover of good fiction, and every Canadian who is jealous of his country's literary advancement, should read this product of a Canadian pen.

JUNE WEDDINGS

The wedding took place at Christ Church Cathedral on Tuesday of Mr. William Colcock, New York, and Miss Sara Peters, daughter of Captain Peters, of Montreal. The Rev. F. J. Steen, vicar, performed the ceremony.

The wedding of Miss Louise Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Ewing, Cote des Neiges Road, to Mr. John Lorne Mackenzie, of Montreal, took place quietly on Tuesday evening at St. Stephen's Chapel, the Rev. Day Baldwin officiating.

In St. John's Church, on Monday morning the wedding occurred of Miss Maggie Kehoe, of Glen Toy, to Mr. Terrance Loy, of Perth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Davis. Miss Maggie Noonan, of Perth, was bridesmaid, and Mr. R. D. Hogan, of Westford, best man.

The marriage of Mr. Andrew Ross MacMaster, son of Mr. J. A. MacMaster, Clandeboye Avenue, to Miss Florence B. Walker, daughter of Mr. H. W. Walker, 26 Summerhill Avenue, will take place at half-past eight on the evening of June 25th, at the residence of the bride's father.

Perth, June 11.—(Special.)—Miss Jean Fraser Mitchell, daughter of the late Mr. David Mitchell, of Perth, was quietly married at eight o'clock last night, to Mr. William Campbell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Scott, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will live in Perth.

Miss Margaret A. Byrne, daughter of Mr. John Byrne, of Drummond Township, and Mr. William Ryan, were married in St. John's Church, Perth, yesterday morning by Rev. Canon Foley, of Almonte. Miss B. Herlev, of Bathurst, and Miss M. Dixon, of Almonte, were bridesmaids, and Mr. William Gorman, of Bathurst, was best man. A wedding breakfast was afterwards served at the home of the bride's parents.

Bedford, Que., June 11.—Mr. S. Silverman, of Montreal, was to-day married to Miss Isabel B. Jones, daughter of Mr. E. W. Jones of this place. The ceremony took place at St. James Church, Rev. Canon Nye officiating, and was witnessed by a large number of guests. Miss Alice Jones, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. W. M. G. Scott, of Montreal, acted as best man. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's father immediately after the ceremony.

In Ottawa yesterday the marriage took place of Miss MacLaren, second daughter of the Rev. John MacLaren, to Rev. Thos. Rankin Wilson, of Carp, who is at present taking the medical course at McGill. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Miss Annie Wilson, in white, and Miss Laura Harten, in pink. The best man was Rev. Thurlow Fraser. The wedding gown was white organdie, with lace and ribbon, with tulle veil and bouquet of white roses. Rev. Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson left for Montreal, the bride wearing a blue cloth gown, white chiffon, boa and hat trimmed with white.

At the pretty wedding yesterday afternoon of Mr. Robert R. Neilson, of Sherbrooke, and Miss Marion Olive Earle Walker, an interesting incident took place which was the presentation by the officiating clergyman, Rev. T. W. Winfield, B.D., of a Bible to the bride and groom. The pastor explained that he made the presentation in pursuance of an old custom in the Presbyterian Church, when the first marriage was solemnized in a new church. Melville Church is quite new and this was the first wedding. Rev. Mr. Winfield, in presenting an elegantly illumined edition of the Bible, expressed the hope that both would make it their guide. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, 4187 Boulevard, where a wedding dejeuner was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Neilson left for the West.

Yesterday afternoon the wedding was celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Edward Wallace, McLaren Street, Ottawa, of Mr. Joseph Rowat, of Montreal, and Miss Sadie Wallace, of Ottawa. Owing to the serious illness of the bridegroom's mother, the wedding was quiet and followed by no reception. The bride wore white point d'esprit over taffeta, with transparent yoke and sleeves, and trimmings of ribbon and lace medallions. A white aigrette was worn in the hair and a shower bouquet of white roses carried. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha Wallace, who wore white organdie with lace and carried pink roses. The Misses Ethel Gamble, Dorothy Gamble and Edythe Brownlee, the little nieces of the bride, were flower girls, dressed in white silk and carrying baskets of carnations. The best man was Mr. Gain E. D. Corneil, of Montreal. The Rev. Dr. Herridge officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Rowat left at once for Montreal, the bride travelling in a blue camel's hair, strapped with black taffeta, and a black picture hat. A number of beautiful gifts were received.

A very pretty wedding took place last Wednesday in St. James Church, Haverhill, Mass., when Mr. P. H. Walsh, of Victoriaville, was married to Miss J. F. Chapman, eldest daughter of Mr. J. W. Chapman, of 118th Avenue, Haverhill, Mass. The pretty church was tastefully decorated and filled with guests and spectators. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very lovely and graceful in her wedding gown of white satin. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Lena Chapman. The best man was the groom's brother, Mr. W. J. Walsh, Victoriaville. The only guests were the relatives and a few friends of the bride and groom, who were entertained at a reception held at the residence of the bride's fathers. Immediately after Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Walsh left for a short trip. Mr. C. H. Walsh, father of the groom, and Mr. W. J. Walsh, arrived with them in Canada Thursday. A reception was given at the residence of Mr. C. H. Walsh, at Tingwick. A great many beautiful and valuable presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh will take up their abode at Victoriaville after the first of September.

A Blaze of Glory

CHAPTER XXXI.—Continued

"He's done for—dead," gasped L'Estrange. "I made sure of that. They shot him clean between the shoulders."

"Where have they potted you, old fellow?" asked Piet.

"My shoulder. Never mind me—get her into shelter," L'Estrange replied, and then nature gave way and he collapsed in a heap on the rough grass.

By this time half a dozen others had come down from the entrenchment above and L'Estrange was speedily lifted from the ground and carried at a brisk trot up the hill to the turn of the road and then down to the Drift. Aaltje was the first to come out of the house.

"What has happened?" she asked, her face blanched to the lips and her hands trembling visibly.

"No, no," cried the girl, in a tone of sharp pain.

"They've potted him in the shoulder, but it's not anything serious, I'm sure of that," and then he gave her a brief outline of what had taken place.

"I'll fetch mother," she said, in a curious tone of exaltation. "Take him to the little sitting room, Gerhard. He will be our care, of course. And the lady, is she wounded also?"

"That we don't know. Probably she is, but she's alive, and a pretty young thing, no older than you are. Piet is bringing her down."

"Poor thing! I hope we shall pull her through. I wonder who she is and how she came to be out on the veldt alone."

"She wasn't alone—— Yes," he broke off, "take him to the little sitting room. Have you sent for mother, Aaltje?"

"Yes, Gertrude went for her at once. So she wasn't alone?"

"No, there was a man with her, but they've done for him. Well, doctor, any bad news?"

"The lady is simply fainting from fright and exhaustion. I don't think she got so much as a scratch," the surgeon replied. "Did they say L'Estrange was hurt? Where is he?"

"I'll take you. Aaltje, hadn't you better go and look after the young lady?"

"Yes, I will. Come to me the moment you know the worst."

She turned away and went swiftly along the side of the house from whence the surgeon had come. She found a little party gathered together on the stoep, several women surrounded a recumbent figure in a khaki-colored habit. As she drew near one of the women stopped in her ministrations and looked at her. "She's coming too nicely, poor young lady," she remarked.

Aaltje came a step nearer. In an instant she had recognized the new-comer.

"You are Mrs. Le Gendre?" she said quietly.

"Yes. How did you know?" looking at her with great wondering eyes. "How did I get here? I saw no sign of a house, and the guns—oh, how terrified I was, and somehow I couldn't keep on any longer, and I seemed to be falling—falling—falling down endlessly. How did I get here?"

"Some of the men up on the kopje saw you and carried you in," said Aaltje, in a hard, level kind of voice. "I don't think you had better try to talk much or to worry about anything. You are here, and you are safe for the present, as safe as we are ourselves, that is to say."

Betty Le Gendre shut her eyes and submitted to have her forehead bathed again.

"Give her a little more brandy, not too strong, and do you, Mrs. Friend, go and see if you cannot get a good cup of soup for her. I believe she is exhausted for want of food more than anything else."

"Tell me," said Betty, "are they Dutch or Boer, or what? It's a Dutch name, surely."

"Yes, it's a Dutch name. Mr. Van Beinthoven is a Dutch Afrikander. But they're all for the English."

"And is it true that Major Gavan is here?"

"Of course. He's in command of our men. My husband is a Color-Sergeant of Major Gavan's regiment. He's up on the kopje though and won't be down till Captain Morrison goes up to relieve him."

"Captain Morrison got his arm ripped up this morning," remarked another woman with a baby in her arms, who was standing by.

"Lor! You don't say so. I'd no idea of it. When did it happen? Is it a bad business? Well, then, Major Gavan won't be down till Mr. Paulyn goes up to take charge."

"I must go up at once. I've a message for him," said Betty.

"You'd much better stay where you are. It's a good climb up to the kopjes. Won't it do when he comes off duty?"

"No, no, there's not a moment to lose. I'm quite strong now," Betty cried, struggling up from the big chair. She reeled over as suddenly as if she had been shot, and sank back a gain with a moan of pain and dismay. "Oh, I must go. I must see Major Gavan at once, at once. It's for no light reason. Can't someone help me up? Where is my escort?"

"Do you mean the soldier who was with you when you rode up?"

"Yes, my escort, Private Nicholl."

"Ah, my dear, I'm afraid he'll never escort you or anyone else no more," said Mrs. Friend, pitifully.

"Why? Ah, I remember, I saw him fall. Was he killed?"

"Shot clean between the shoulders, poor fellow, so I heard them saying when they brought you in," Mrs. Friend replied.

Betty uttered an exclamation of dismay. "Oh, is that so? Poor young fellow, he was so good and attentive to me after we got away. I should never have been here if he hadn't looked after me so well. But couldn't you help me to get up to Major Gavan? I must see him. If I have to crawl on my hands and knees I must see him. I've messages for him from General Bruce-Jones."

"Have you, though? I'll go and find Mr. Paulyn. I saw him in the dining room as I came through. He'll go up and send him down. I'm sure you'll never get up there; it's ever such a climb!"

"Then do go at once," cried Betty, impatiently. "I'd go myself, only I'm so stiff from the long ride. And I'm not used to riding. I hate horses. Ah, there's a good soul!"

Mr. Paulyn came to her at once. "You have messages for the Major, Mrs.—Mrs.——"

"Le Gendre," said Betty. "And I don't think I could get up there—I'm so tired. Do you think Major Gavan could come down?"

"I'm sure he will. I'll go up and tell him at once. Meantime, I must congratulate you on the near shave you had of being done for."

"Yes, it was near," said Betty, gravely. "I think I must have tumbled off my horse just in time. I had several tumbles before—I got so utterly tired; and that poor young fellow was so good and so encouraging. I can't tell you how good and helpful he was."

"Well, poor chap, if he knew, he would be glad that he had brought you so far safely. Then I'll go right along and find the Major."

He went off at a brisk trot on a hardy pony that was standing tethered to the post at the end of the stoop, and Betty was left once more to the ministrations of Mrs. Friend. Then one or two other women came to interview the new-comer, asking many questions which Betty was chary of answering until she had seen the officer in command. And, at last, after what seemed an interminable time of waiting, he came—a big, steadfast, resolute man, soldier all over, anxious yet cool, eager yet self-controlled, quick, alert, and devoid of fear.

"I am Mrs. Le Gendre. My husband——" Betty began, when he interrupted her.

"Yes, yes, I know. I have met your husband."

Well Made.

Pure flour and pure yeast do not necessarily mean good bread. It may be spoiled in the making. Just so: material is not everything. Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, after a number of analyses, reports that "Sunlight Soap is a pure and well-made soap." "Well made" means more than you think. Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will enjoy the benefits of a "well-made" soap, and will see that Prof. Ellis is right. No one should know better than he. 214

To Eat Good Food

One week and none the next would not be conducive to health or longevity. That's the way many women treat their faces. Caring for the skin one month and neglecting it for several months will never insure health or a beautiful complexion. BUT A LITTLE CARE ALL THE TIME, and a course of thorough treatment, which are both rational and hygienic, will keep the complexion just as beautiful as nature intended it should be, and many years YOUNGER than nature alone would have it appear. We shall be glad to instruct you in the kind of care your own complexion requires.

DENOUNCES RACE-GOING ANGLICANS

Hon. Sam Blake the Feature of a Lively Session of the Toronto Synod.

Toronto, June 12.—(Special.)—Hon. S. H. Blake, in addressing the Anglican Synod yesterday, said the clergymen were in need of fresh ideas. More life was wanted at the Church's centre, and archdeacons should do more work. Too many church members were worldly and indifferent; members who occupied front pews were among those who went to the races every day. Special meetings for spiritual awakening were necessary. These would be better than pink teas, powder balls and other instruments of the devil.

Rev. Mr. Shearer, field secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, gave great praise to the Anglican Church for its great assistance to the cause, and said that not alone the Protestant churches were interested, but the Roman Catholics, particularly in Montreal, were assisting the movement. One of the warmest friends the alliance had in Montreal was Archbishop Bruchesi.

A MONTREAL DEPUTATION.

Rev. Archdeacon Ker, of Montreal, as head of a deputation, was introduced to the synod and gave an interesting description of the work among the French in Montreal and the Province of Quebec. He made an appeal for support of the Sabrevois schools. Fifteen clergymen of French-Canadian blood were brought into the church through the Sabrevois schools and were now laboring in various parts of Canada and the United States. He did not ask for money—at any rate not to-day—but did ask for their sympathetic influence.

Mr. George Hague, of Montreal, who was the other member of the deputation, pointed out that it was not a work pertaining to the church at Montreal, but of the Church of England of the Dominion. He reported that the finances were in excellent condition, the institution having closed the year with a small balance. There was a debt of about $8,000 on the property, which he was commissioned to eliminate. He had raised a good part of it in Montreal, and he hoped to raise more in some other Canadian cities.

CATHOLICS OR HOTTENTOTS?

Mr. John A. Ewan, of the Toronto Globe, said the talk on French missions was something that always aroused his anger rather than his sympathy. He did not think they had any right to treat two millions of his fellow-countrymen as Hottentots or wild men from Borneo. He contended that they had the Scriptures and a Christian religion and should not be interfered with.

Rev. J. Pitt Lewis declared himself as not in favor of proselytizing good French Catholics, but in bringing into the folds of the Anglican Church those who were dissatisfied with their present religious connections. He believed there was room for much good work along these lines.

Rev. Dr. Langtry moved "that when the synod reassembles on Wednesday afternoon it resolve itself into committee of the whole and sit with closed doors for the consideration of the present state of the Church."

He explained that he judged from what appeared in the Church papers they had a lot of dirty linen to wash, and he was of the opinion that they might as well wash it at home as on the street.

The motion carried.

SUBWAY DIRECTORS HOLD A MEETING

At a meeting of the provisional directors of the Montreal Subway Company, held yesterday afternoon, Mr. H. A. Hodge, of the Quebec Southern Railway, was elected president, and Mr. A. H. Harris secretary. The provisional directors of the company are Hon. Robert Mackay, Messrs. Robert Reford, F. W. White, Henry Miles, Jno. Sharples, Wm. Price, Senator L. W. Jones, A. E. Ames, and H. A. Hodge.

The president was authorized to open stock books for subscriptions, and also to complete arrangements for the preliminary borings of the harbor and for surveys. The work will be begun on Monday next by Engineers Emerson and Carson, of Boston, and organization of the company will be deferred until their report is received, when a general meeting of the stockholders will be held.

TELLS MANUFACTURERS TO LOOK TO ST. PIERRE

Governor Jullen, of the Island of St. Pierre de Miquelon, has invited Canadian manufacturers to look toward that island for a new field for wares that are necessary in the ordinary life of the inhabitants. Speaking at the Chambre de Commerce yesterday at some length upon this subject, he said that the opportunity for Canadian exporters to trade with his people was good.

The island is not a very productive one and there is a great necessity for large importation. The field was easy of access, for goods shipped over the Intercolonial to Sydney would reach St. Pierre by water in fourteen hours. Such goods as groceries, food products, boots, shoes and textile material were much in demand in St. Pierre, and would find ready sale.

A report of what had been done at the congress of the Canadian Boards of Trade at Toronto was presented by President Masson, but was left over after some discussion, until the next meeting, as the members of the committee desired to make some changes in its phraseology. The meeting next Wednesday will be the last one until the end of the summer season.

VISITED THE PARKS.

Mr. Julien was yesterday, with Madame Julien, the guest of Ald. Couture, chairman of the Parks and Ferries Committee. Mr. and Madame Julien were shown around the city. The party, accompanied by Mr. J. X. Perrault and Mr. Jules Crepeau, secretary to the committee, left the Place Viger Hotel at 10 o'clock, and proceeded to Lafontaine Park, afterward visiting the Royal Victoria Hospital, and then going to Mount Royal Park.

They ascended on the Incline Railway and viewed the city from the lookouts. They were greatly charmed. The visitors were then driven around Mount Royal Park, and returned to the city delighted with the trip.

CIGAR DEALERS FIGHT SUNDAY CLOSING

The city dealers who by the new by-law respecting Sunday closing are compelled to close their stores on Sunday are threatening to make trouble. It is said an effort will be made by them to oppose the law. Yesterday morning a meeting was held of some fifty dealers, at which it was pointed out that they had been discriminated against unjustly. A delegation will probably wait upon Chairman Lebeuf, of the Police Committee, to obtain information regarding the standing of retail tobacco dealers. What, it is expected, will eventually be done will be a test case in the courts on the grounds that the law favors one class and discriminates against another class doing just as legal a business.

ENGLISH PAPER APPROVES ST. LAWRENCE PROJECTS

Ottawa, June 12.—(Special.)—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce, a copy of which has been received at the Marine Department, hails with delight the announcement made by Hon. James Sutherland that he is taking such an active interest in the improvements to the St. Lawrence route. The Journal says that undoubtedly the announcement and its carrying out will result in lessening the discriminatory insurance rates which have been placed on Canadian bound vessels.

IDEAL APPOINTMENT.

Hon. H. T. Duffy as Representing Quebec Will Give England a New Idea of Our National Unity.

Quebec, June 12.—(Special.)—Hon. H. T. Duffy, Provincial Treasurer, left last evening for Montreal, and will sail from New York for England on Saturday next by the SS. Etruria. Hon. Mr. Duffy has been specially appointed to represent the Government of this province at the coronation. There is no need to comment on the excellence of the appointment. It will be an object lesson to Great Britain to learn that the representative of the Dominion of Canada, which has a large English-speaking majority, is to be Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a French-Canadian, while the representative of Quebec Province, which is overwhelmingly French, is an Englishman.

Hon. Mr. Duffy expects to be on the other side for about six weeks, but he is not going on pleasure alone. He will follow a couple of cases before the Privy Council in which the provincial treasury is especially interested.

POINT ST. CHARLES

Mr. Edward O'Byrne, Bourgeois Street, is dangerously ill.

Complaints are heard from residents in the vicinity of the bag factory, Grand Trunk Street, of the stench arising from a lot of old bags which are laying out to dry, and whose odor permeates the air for a long way in all directions.

The men of No. 9 fire station have levelled off part of the square east of the fire hall, and intend having a handball court there. The bit of work they have done makes the rest of the square look all the worse by contrast.

SHAMROCKS AND CORNWALLS.

The coming meeting of the Lacrosse Union, which will be held at the request of the Montreal Club, will not interfere with the match on Saturday between the Shamrocks and Cornwalls. The Shamrocks have had troubles of their own in this connection of flying players; but they always have had sufficient material on hand to not bother about these little things; and to put it in the words of the trapshooter, their birds dropped out of bounds anyhow. These things the Shamrocks will not bother about until after their match with Cornwall on Saturday next, which is at present occupying their whole attention, if one may judge by the practice held last evening, when twenty-five players were out, and every man seemed already up to the mark as far as condition is condition. In fact at times the intermediates were making it so hot for the senior bunch that the spectator naturally said to himself, "These fellows cannot go shy, they have too much good material to draw from." There were a couple of vulpinian quillers from the Factory Town doing some sizing up in a silent way, and what they saw could hardly inspire them with confidence. They did not want to say anything; they just happened to be in town and strolled out to the grounds on a street car. Cornwallites are wise people for getting lines on. They will want odds now.

WILLIAMSTOWN BOYS WON.

The second and final round in the series of inter-school games between the Williamstown and Cornwall High Schools was run off in Williamstown. The schools had met in Cornwall on the Saturday previous, and at the close of the afternoon Cornwall had eight points to the good on the athletic events. They also won the lacrosse match after a lively contest by a score of 3 to 0. This gave Cornwall a lead of 38 points, as the lacrosse and football matches each count 30 points.

But the tables were completely turned at the second meeting. In the events Cornwall secured first place in the shot putting. All the other firsts, and most of the seconds were won by the Williamstown boys, who, in some of the events, as in the relay race, and the half-mile run, completely outclassed their rivals. The football match resulted in a draw, neither side being able to score. The game was hard-fought, and, despite the slippery ground, decidedly fast, the home team having slightly the better of the play. The final result left Williamstown 18 points ahead.

CARKEEK AND JENKINS.

Jack Carkeek, the American wrestler, who has been in England during the past two years, intends to return to America this summer to see his folks in Wisconsin. Carkeek is to have one match before he comes back, and that will be with an unknown at the carnival of the National Sporting Club. Carkeek writes: "While in the United States I will try and indulge in one match. I am specially desirous of meeting Tom Jenkins, whom I regard as one of the best men in the business. But I dispute the fact that he is the catch-as-catch-can champion. I won that title years ago and have never been defeated for it. I expect to return to England by August.

DISAPPOINTED BOILERMAKERS.

Kingston, June 12.—The six boilermakers who came from the C.P.R. shops at Montreal to work here have decided to return to the metropolis. The wages offered them, 20 cents per hour, is not considered sufficient, as they got 25 cents an hour for such work in Montreal.

OBITUARY

Toronto, June 12.—Rev. Father Thos. Healy, formerly of St. Michael's Cathedral staff, died on June 8 in the Sisters Hospital at San Antonio, Texas. Rev. Father Healy was curate at St. Michael's for over two years, when his health failed, and he was forced to leave for San Antonio. The body arrived in Toronto yesterday afternoon.

Kingston, June 12.—Mr. Robert Carrol, sr., aged 82, is dead. He had been ailing for a year or more. In politics he was a staunch Reformer. He was a Presbyterian and a steady adherent at St. Andrew's Church. He leaves a widow and daughter, Mrs. E. C. Hiscock, and son James, of New York.

VARSITY DEFEATED JOHNS HOPKINS

And Now Claim College Championship of America—Score Six to Two.

Baltimore, June 11.—The intercollegiate lacrosse championship of North America was won to-day by the University of Toronto, champions of Canada, who defeated the Johns-Hopkins University, champions of the United States, by a score of 6 to 2. The first half was beautifully contested, and ended with a score of 2 to 2. The aggressiveness of the Canadians in the second half soon tired out the Hopkins men, and they were unable to prevent the visitors from gaining victory. 5,000 persons witnessed the game, including "The Kilties," Canada's crack military band, who escorted the teams on the field, and "rooted" for their fellow countrymen from the grand stand.

RUTTER AND THE PROTEST.

A Meeting of the League Will be Called Immediately.

Toronto, June 11.—President Rutter this morning received from Referee M. J. Murphy the formal protest of the Capitals of Ottawa, against the Nationals, for playing in Saturday's match. Blanchard, who was signed with the Montrealers. A meeting of the committee of management will be called to deal with the protest. The rule which applies to the case is:

Rule IV., Section H, provides distinctly that the names of all players who are to play with any club, shall be sent, together with the agreements they sign, to the president of the union. If any players are engaged after the 20th of May, which is the date limiting the registration, their names must be sent in within two weeks. Any club not living up to this agreement will, upon offending, lose the match in which they have offended to the unoffending team that plays with them.

The offending player is to be suspended for the season.

Perth Goes to New York.

Perth, June 12.—The Crescent lacrosse team of this town leaves Perth on the early Friday morning train for Brooklyn, N. Y., to play the Brooklyn Crescents on Saturday afternoon at Bay Ridge, and will go by way of Montreal. The players are in splendid condition, and the team will be picked from the following: Mac. J. Cameron, Matt. Donahue, Bob McLaren, George Lyon, Jas. Tullis, Wm. Publow, Tug Wilson, George Wilson, John Wilson, Kelly Douglas, Pete McGregor, Norman Elliott and Fred. Anderson. The team will be accompanied by Messrs. R. E. Hicks, Harry Montgomery and Norman Mitchell.

Caught in the Goal Nets.

Torontos will line up against Nationals almost as they did in England.

It is likely that big John White, who has been ill, will be able to play with Cornwall on Saturday.

There was a splendid turn out on the Shamrock grounds last evening. Fifteen seniors and seven or eight juniors put in a couple of hours of good hard work.

The Montreal lacrosse team are in no way disheartened by their defeat in Cornwall last Saturday. Last night there were thirty-five men on the field, and they were all working well.

The Brockville Lacrosse Club is negotiating for an American tour, which is being arranged by Mr. Wilkinson, of Philadelphia, an old Toronto boy. The tour will include games at Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Philadelphia and Brooklyn.

The Capital Lacrosse Club held a practice last night in preparation for their game with Montreal here Saturday. There was a good turnout, Baldwin was out for the first time this season. He suffered from an injured ankle last year, but that member has fully recovered, and his addition will be a great strengthening to the team.

The M.A.A. Handicaps.

The spring handicaps of the M.A.A.A., which take place on Saturday next, promise to be more than usually interesting. The entry list closed last night, but could not be straightened out in time. A change has been made in the list of events already published, the steeplechase being replaced by a one mile bicycle race.

Rochester Won.

Rochester, June 11.—The Buffalos again met defeat to-day, principally because they could not hit Becker, while the local team was able to find Gray when hits were most desirable. Three-baggers by Gray and Brain were features.

Westmount vs. St. Laurent College.

On Saturday afternoon the Westmount Baseball Club will journey to St. Laurent to play the College nine for the second time this year. The last time these teams met the Westmount boys pulled out a victory in the ninth inning, and as it was the first defeat for the College boys in three years they are anxious to try conclusions with the Westmount team again. The team will be managed by Mr. Geo. Parks. The Westmount boys are requested to turn out for practice to-night and Friday night as the team will be picked on Friday night.

TIMELY BUMPS WERE WANTED

With Men on Bases the Birds Showed a Disposition to Drop Dead.

Then it was that gloomy shadows—
Shadows black and dire and gloomy—
Came and lingered on the brows of
All that seething dark assemblage.
—Longfellow.

The Birds yesterday should have scored about 10 runs.

A couple of hits at the right time in the first four innings would have sent Toronto hence in the funeral train, but the hits were not forthcoming.

The Birds were searched, and the goods were not to be found on them.

No less than 8 men were left languishing on the bases in the first four periods of heart disease, and a timely hit would have caused a scurry of feet over the platter and would have induced a glad yell skywards by the fans.

Instead of all that we only accumulated 2, the result of a juicy throw by Briggs.

Toronto, on the other hand, took a batting streak in the seventh, and knocked off 4 runs just to show there was no ill-feeling.

Daley's umpiring was heliotrope.

Members of the Knockers' Congress Were Present at the Ceremonies.

In the early part of the ceremonies he gave us the best of it, but with all that the Birds couldn't score.

There was some large-sized hoodoos working overtime, and just as soon as we got men on third and second the batters were suddenly taken with Punkhititis, a disease known to baseball science.

There were interesting doings in the very first inning, when the Hon. Jems Bannon, of Toronto, was carefully tagged out at the plate by Fuller.

Jems attempted to score on an infield hit, and Dooley made a nice play and threw to the catcher.

JIMMY EXCITED.

Jems came down the line like a 2 a.m. trolley car making up lost time, and Fuller tagged him where he wears his $3 diamond scarf pin.

"Out," said Daley, and according to all known laws of sound the echo answered "out."

Jimmy lay as one stunned. A yell announced that he had recovered his understanding, and another yell signified that he was on his legs.

Drawing in a large mouthful of pure Westmount atmosphere, Jimmy thereupon supplemented his earlier observations with a war whoop that sounded like a steam calliope tuning up.

Incidentally Jimmy's gray hair stood on end, and his cheerful countenance assumed an expression that was quite sufficient to sour the week's supply of milk.

It was an exhibition of emotional acting that had Richard Mansfield 2 up and 1 to play.

After a few thousand hurried words on the situation, Jimmy found his way to the bench and launched his troubles into Barrow's ear, carefully rehearsing the event all over again, to the amusement of the fans, who politely requested him to lay down and die.

But all this is incidental, and has no bearing on the tragedy itself.

As previously stated, the Birds were gay at getting men on bases, only to have the succeeding batsmen suddenly taken with stage fright.

Shearon, Dooley, Kelly, Odwell and Fuller all had chances to gladden the hearts of the fans with a timely bingle but they were not on the war-path with the reserves.

THANKS DUE TO BRIGGS.

Odwell intended to sacrifice down the first base line, and he tapped one down there.

Massey and Briggs went after it. Bunty Miller attempted to cover first base, and Briggs picked up the ball and lammed it at him.

Anyone but Miller could have got it, but Bunty, who stands about three feet nothing in his spiked boots, and is a dwarf beside the Hon. Jems Bannon, reached out for it, and it rolled away out in right field.

Kelly made a tour of the circuit, and Odwell got around to third, scoring a minute later on Fuller's hit in the right garden.

That was the best the Birds could do. Jimmy Stafford got a hit after that, but perished in an effort to purloin second; then in the seventh, eighth and ninth Briggs bowled 'em down like tenpins.

In the sixth Souders got himself in a tight hole by getting generous with bases on balls, and with only one out Toronto had the bases full.

There was heart disease on the grand stand just then, but Hargrove and Toft gave an imitation of what the Birds might do under the circumstances, and were pie for the fielders.

Some of the Toronto rooters on the stand subsided a little, but blossomed out in the next inning when five hits and four runs were entered on the score card.

"They're the best ever," yelled a man who betrayed his Toronto origin by the hayseed in his hair, and in his emotion he executed a war dance behind the wire screen.

The peanuts were in good condition as usual, with the quotations unchanged.

And in closing we append statistics of the disaster.

NEW WESTMINSTER INVINCIBLES.

Vancouver, June 11.—The unexpected result of Saturday's lacrosse match, at which the local team scored two goals against the New Westminster's three, has caused much elation in local sporting circles, New Westminster being regarded as invincible. Vancouver held them down and prevented them scoring for 50 minutes. Ten men decorated the fence during the game.

BASE HITS

Feebleness at the bat.

Buffalo to-day, to-morrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The Birds got men around to third in five innings. Couldn't score.

Worcester is coming up strong, but now

has a long series away from home.

Tommy Raub batted for Souders in the ninth, but there was nothing doing.

The Cap's strike out with three men on bases was a most painful proceeding.

Still the crowds are ready to roll any time the Birds show they are in the game.

Briggs pitched an indifferent game and the Birds should have hammered the life out of him.

The outfield is still in dreadful condition. We have had rain every day and the ground is like a marsh.

Joyce, who was nearly released a little while ago, is now standing ace high with the St. Louis fans.

Charley Carr has joined Jersey City for the rest of the season, and will play first base permanently.

The Gazette says it was Quinlan's error. Quinlan did not lose the game. It was the PUNK hitting with men on bases.

Walter Brodie has been called back by New York and is trying to help out the panic-stricken and disabled Sprouts.

Even Kelly and Dooley struck out yesterday. When our two best hitters do that, what can we expect of the others?

Joyce, Montreal's old pitcher, is hitting like a fiend for St. Louis. Three hits in his last game, one of them a homer.

Danny Green is out for the batting championship of the American League. He made four hits yesterday, thus lifting his batting average to .387. Green has often been seen in Montreal. He played with Springfield.

George Smith, who left the Rochester club last spring to play with New York, is now temporary manager of the New Yorks, as well as captain of the team, and it is rumored that his present dual position is to be made permanent. Fogel and Friedman have parted company for good.

A meeting of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. will be held at the Astor House on Friday night for the purpose of selecting a date and place to hold the metropolitan championships of 1902.

"DARDANELLES," pure Egyptian cigarettes, are fully appreciated by smokers. The enormous sale of this brand proves it. Packed in Silver, Cork and Plain tips. Sold everywhere, 15 cts. per package.

FOUR FAVORITES WERE "ALSO RANS"

George Perry Was the Only First Choice to Secure First Money.

Fort Erie, June 11.—The attendance at the races to-day was not as large as on opening day. The track was heavy and the weather cloudy and cold. As usual, after a stake day, an indifferent card was presented. It proved a disastrous one for the public, as George Parry, in the second event, was the only favorite to land the money. All the other favorites, with the exception of Obstinate Simon, in the fifth, were also runs. Summary:

First race, selling, three-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs—The Bronze Demon, 103, Loudon, 2 to 1, won; J. Patrick, 89, Steven, 15 to 1, second; Sir Kingston, 105, T. Walker, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1.16⅘.

Second race, 4½ furlongs, for maiden two-year-olds—George Perry, 104, Blake, even, won; Lee Ridley, 97, Wainwright, 20 to 1, second; Chamblee, 105, T. Walker, 21½ to 1, third. Time, .58.

Third race, 6 furlongs—Messina, 93, Adams, 3 to 1, won; Hutch Miller, 102, R. Steele, 5 to 1, second; Ringleader, 102, C. Alley, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1.17⅘.

Fourth race, 6 furlongs, selling—Taxman, 97, Wainwright, 3 to 1, won; Maria Bolton, 111½, J. Boland, 6 to 1, second; Competitor, 103, Adams, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1.16⅘.

Fifth race, 1 mile, selling—Benckart, 112, L. Thompson, 6 to 1, won; Leenja, 90, C. Kelly, 4 to 1, second; Obstinate Simon, 116, Wainwright, 2½ to 1, third. Time, 1.45.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs, selling—Commens, 98, Johnston, 4 to 1, won; Lithium, 100, Hayden, 6 to 1, second; Maple, 107, Adams, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1.17.

Short Prices at Gravesend.

New York, June 11.—Short priced horses were again in evidence at Gravesend to-day, winning five of the six races, while Ethics, a 15 to 1, won the other event. Although the Myrtle Stakes was the feature and won by the favorite, Francesco, the chief interest was in the meeting of the two fast fillies, Lady Albercraft and Rose Tint, with five straight victories to Rosetint's credit. Lady Albercraft won easily by two lengths in the fast time of 1.00 4-5. A heavy rain storm set in as the horses were going to the post for the fourth race and the fifth and sixth races were run on a track that was converted into a quagmire. Summary:

First race, all ages, handicap, about 6 furlongs—The Musketeer, 124, Shaw, 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, won; Roxane, 104, Redfern, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Hanover Queen, 97, Wonderly, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1.09 3-5.

Second race, handicap, 1⅛ miles—Ethics, 93, G. Thompson, 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, won; Morningside, 113, H. Cochran, 11 to 10 and 1 to 3, second; St. Finnan, 90, Redfern, 20 to 1 and 6 to 1, third. Time, 1.53 3-5.

Third race, two-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Lady Albecraft, 114, Brennan, 5 to 2 and 4 to 5, won; Rosetint, 112, Bullman, 13 to 5 and even, second; Invincible, 105, Shaw, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1.00 4-5.

Fourth race, the Myrtle Stakes, 1 mile 70 yards—Francesco, 85, Shea, 9 to 10 and out, won; Merito, 95, Creamer, 8 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; The Regent, 98, Bryan, 7 to 2 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1.44.

Fifth race, maidens, two-year-olds, 5½ furlongs—Ringdone, 112, Shaw, 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, won; Oakington, 112, Brennan, 30 to 1 and 12 to 1, second; Decoration, 114, McCue, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, third. Time, 1.09 4-5.

Sixth race, 1 1-16 miles—Locket, 110, O'Connor, 9 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Rough Rider, 108, O'Connor, 6 to 1 and 5 to 2, second; Lone Fisherman, 106, Redman, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1 third. Time 1.51.

Paid $4,200 for St. Valentine.

New York, June 11.—The yearling sales were continued to-day at Gravesend, when those from the Millbrook stud and H. T. Oxnard were offered. S. Gardner bought the bay colt St. Valentine, by Himyar-Bracelet, for $4,200.

Canadian Trotting Season Open.

New Hamburg, Ont., June 11.—The Canadian trotting and pacing circuit opened the first event of the season here to-day, and will continue Thursday and Friday, weather permitting. There was a large attendance and the weather was very fine. The races were well contested, and the cards for the next two days are well filled, promising good sport. Summary:

2.35 trot or pace, purse $250—

Dandy Hall, b.g., F. Wood, St. Catharines	2	1	1	1
Edleman, b.g., owner, A. Proctor, Wingham	1	2	2	4

Master Roy, b.g., T. V. Peters, Dresden	2	3	4	4

Time—2.25, 2.21¼, 2.22, 2.25.

Far Sight, br.m., G. Howard, Toronto	7	1	1
Wilfrid Laurier, b.g., F. Thatcher, Hamilton	1	7	2
Antithesis, b.g., E. E. Peck, Cleveland	2	2	3

Time—2.13, .52, .52½.

Santa Bonita, Infelice, Side Light, Innominatum, Badinage, Glessey, Maggie May, Lady Laurier and A. Bonita also ran.

The Suburban Handicap.

The classic Suburban Handicap will be decided on Saturday at Sheepshead Bay on the occasion of the opening of the meeting under the auspices of the Coney Island Jockey Club. If fine weather prevails the largest crowd of the season is expected to be present to witness the struggle for the $10,000 prize.

From present indications the Suburban field is likely to include Gold Heels, Blues, Advance Guard, Reina, Herbert, Contend, Rechampton, Monograph, Watercure, Blue Girl, Pentecost, Sadie S. and Oom Paul. Track conditions and future trials will have considerable bearing, but well informed horsemen feel confident none outside those mentioned will start.

Gold Heels made a very favorable impression on his first appearance this season. He had worked well and gained many supporters by his good second to Col. Bill. With 126 pounds up he closed well in the mile and an eighth event, which was run in 1.52 1-5, one of the fastest races of the season. He is in first-class condition, and certainly should give a good account of himself Saturday. Wonderly, who was to have ridden Watercolor, will have the mount on Gold Heels, who carries 124 pounds.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

If you are looking for a bargain in a good piano or organ, we can give you your choice from over 100 instruments. Closing sale from now to September 1st. Discounts from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. on all our stock. The Karn Company, Karn Hall Building, St. Catherine Street.—Adv.

G. T. War Canoe Fund.

This evening there will be a concert in the Grand Trunk Boating Club quarters in aid of the war canoe fund. A good programme is assured.

Shape-retaining

Feet widen, and contract, in walking. Shoes over-run when over-stretched. In the RESILIA shoe, however, the foot sinks down into the cushion centre-sole when it is borne upon.

This makes the shoe a size wider inside when the foot expands, and thus prevents undue stretching of the upper leather over the front part of foot.

When the foot is lifted and narrows, the insole expands again up into the shoe, from the out-sole.

The RESILIA shoe retains shape longer than any other kind, because it is never over-stretched across ball of foot. Observe construction beneath.

International Canoe Race.

New York, June 11.—Members of the New York Canoe Club are eagerly awaiting a challenge for the international cup from F. C. Kendell Howard, of the Royal Canoe Club, of London.

Howard was the defender of the challenge cup for which Herman D. Murphy, of the Winchester Boat Club, sailed last year, and is reported ready to come here in August. The challenge, if sent, will come through the Royal Canoe Club.

The international challenge trophy of the New York Canoe Club was offered as a perpetual trophy in 1885. It has been challenged for six times and is still held by the donors. In 1886 C. Boyer, Vaux and William Whitlock, defeated Walter Stewart and Baden Powell, of the London Club. In 1888 R. S. Blake defeated Walter Stewart. In 1890, 1891 and 1892 Fred. Jones, of Brockville, was defeated in order by H. L. Quick, T. E. H. Barrington and T. S. Oxholm. In 1893 C. E. Archibald came from Montreal and was beaten by Paul Butler.

St. Anne's Boatmen.

The first annual general meeting of this club has been held and the following officers re-elected for the ensuing year:—

President—C. A. Read.
Vice-president—J. A. Rafter.
Secretary—George H. Kent.
Treasurer—B. A. Bastien.
Committee—E. Lalonde, S. H. Hubbell, J. Bolleau, L. Keany, C. B. Keeling, J. L. Lafleur.

The new club house is finished, and the members are looking forward to a most enjoyable season. The floor of the dancing hall is the finest ever put down on the lake shore. A grand opening will be given on the 21st, when a full orchestra will be in attendance. It is, however, intended to have a small informal dance on Saturday next, to which all members of sister clubs are cordially invited.

Gossip Of The "Street"

Dominion Coal.

The Dominion Coal Co. shipments for May were within 16,000 tons of the monthly record output of the mines—August, 1901, 286,000 tons. May shipments aggregated 269,161 tons. The output for the month amounted to 10,000 tons less than the shipments—259,895 tons. Shipments since the beginning of the company's fiscal year have been as follows. We compare with three previous years:

	1902.	1901.	1900.	1899.
March	175,346	120,200	85,000	22,300
April	174,008	125,000	151,000	59,600

Manipulation.

The way in which stocks are sometimes manipulated in dull times was illustrated by the movement in Kansas and Texas preferred, which advanced about 1½ points during yesterday morning for no apparent reason except because of purchases by a "bobtailed" pool on the floor. Yesterday's operations were helped a little by the strength of Missouri Pacific stock, on which the regular dividend of 2½ per cent. is expected to be declared next week. The only reason offered for the strength of Missouri Pacific, in the face of an unfavorable Government report, that should affect this company adversely unless there is a change for the better, was that as a regular 5 per cent. stock Mr. Gould thought it should sell up closer to the other grangers, which pay less relatively from the standpoint of market value.

Canadian Clearings.

Montreal shows an increase of 19 per cent. in its Clearing House returns for the first five months of the present year, and every city in the country, save St. John, N.B., shows fair sized gains, Winnipeg's being amongst the most notable. The figures in detail for the five months are as follows:

	1902.	1901.
Montreal	$438,450,990	$345,475,358

Wheat in West.

There is still about double the quantity of wheat in the west over last season. There were 2,102,767 bushels of wheat in store at Fort William and Port Arthur on June 2. A year ago stocks in store at Fort William wer 1,686,000 bushels, and two years ago 2,175,000 bushels. Stocks in store at Fort William, Port Arthur, Keewatin, Winnipeg and interior points are estimated approximately at 6,278,000 bushels, compared with 8,390,000 bushels a year ago, 5,500,000 bushels two years ago, 6,800,000 bushels three years ago, 1,782,000 bushels four years ago, 6,328,000 bushels five years ago and 8,000,000 bushels six years ago.

A Keen Interest.

American journals continue to take a keen interest in C.P.R., which reflects the interest taken in the road by investors now in the American market. The New York Commercial of yesterday says: Canadian Pacific was one of the most active issues in the stock market trading in the week ending yesterday, the sales being next to those of Reading common, the largest of any traded in. One of the principal operators in the stock has explained the activity by saying that Canadian holders are fearful of losing control and that they have put in extensive buying orders. There is in prospect, according to information which comes from inside sources, the formation of a land company to take over the land holdings of the Canadian Pacific Railway, amounting to approximately 22,600,000 acres. This land is given a valuation of $4 an acre, or a little more than $90,000,000 in all. The plan is to form a company, having a capital of the exact amount of the Canadian Pacific Company, and to declare a dividend to Canadian Pacific stockholders of land stock to the amount of their present holdings of Canadian Pacific stock. The argument is made that the land company having control of these extensive holdings of land would be able to handle it to better advantage than could be done by a railway company. An instance of the value of some of the land is cited of a tract of some 500 acres near one of the towns along the Canadian Pacific, for which an offer has been made of $1,000 an acre.

THE TEA TRADE

How Present Consumption of Tea Compares With Previous Years.

The British Board of Trade has compiled a statement of the imports of tea and coffee into the principal countries of Europe, the United States and certain British colonies, together with statistical tables relating thereto for recent years. From this we extract the following figures, showing the per capita consumption in pounds of tea during the three years 1898-1900 in the principal countries of Europe and in the United States:

United Kingdom	5.86	5.98	6.10
Russian Empire	0.82	0.79	0.93
German Empire	0.11	0.11	0.12
Holland	1.39	1.39	1.48
France	0.05	0.05	0.06
*United States	0.93	0.93	1.03

*For years ended June 30.

From the above it will be seen that in the United Kingdom over six pounds of tea per head of the population are consumed.

LOCAL STOCKS ARE IN A VERY QUIET GROOVE

Power Shares Were Listed in Wall Street Market This Morning.

CAN. PACIFIC FIRMER, THEN EASED OFF

Local stocks continue to keep in the same dull rut.

There was no news to-day to relieve the monotony save perhaps the intelligence that Power had been listed in New York.

The Street only took a passing interest in the Steel and Coal meetings to-day, interest in the stocks having subsided to an almost remarkable degree.

Of course this is not saying that they will not loom into prominence again later on. Coal, however, having a fixed dividend, is bound to attract less speculative interest than Steel, which has yet to pay something on its common, therefore constituting a speculative attraction that is denied stocks with fixed returns. Steel will therefore probably be the feature of the two when the time for a movement comes.

A few lots of Steel sold this morning around the basis of 55 1-2 to 55 3-4, while Power, which as stated before, was listed in New York, sold fractionally better at 104 3-4 on sales of 250 shares.

The trading in Canadian Pacific seems to be growing less daily. New York still maintains a very fair volume of business, something over 10,000 shares changing hands yesterday, but that is a drop in the bucket compared with what New York has been doing in the stock the past few months. The tone is fairly steady although after an early advance this morning there was easiness at the close, the price here working off from 135 1-4 to 134 3-4.

Detroit holds steady around 79 1-2, and there is little change in Twins or Toronto Rails.

The steady demand for bonds continues and sales of Steel and Street Railway bonds were made at 92 and 106 respectively.

Mr. C. D. Monk's messages said: Americans in London dull about parity. Strike conditions show no improvement. Bull points current on Mo. Pac., April statement expected favorable. Rumors readjustment distilling capital. Amalgamated insiders not encouraging buyers at present. No particular demand for stocks in loan crowd. Trade interests bullish on Sugar. Renewed talk of British Government subsidy to steamships connecting with Canadian Pacific. Fifteen roads, first week June, average net increase 9.22 per cent. Sterling firm. Iron Age says orders for steel rails, structural material, plates, etc., already placed, will carry many mills well on into 1903. Prospects for future are bright. Norfolk and Western gross, first week June, increase $31,959; from July 1st, increase, $1,290,557. Northern Pacific gross for May increased $415, 237; total for fiscal year since July 1st, gross increased $7,591,132. West Virginia soft coal operators hold their own and court restrains idle miners from interfering with workers at mines. Conditions are in favor of maintenance of present strength in grangers. Yesterday's activity will undoubtedly be resumed in Mo. Pac. and St. Paul. Coalers likely to remain firm in anticipation of strikers' position becoming more untenable. Specialties will from time to time be taken up by different pool and worked higher. On strong spots would advise taking of profits as reactions will be in order later on. Wilkesbarre, Pa.: It is rumored that President Mitchell and district presidents are again contemplating an effort to bring about a general strike among bituminous miners and a sympathetic strike among railroad men. Sub Treasury lost $82,000 to banks yesterday, but since Friday gained $1,717,000. London, 3.30 p.m.—Americans irregular. London's entire trading does not exceed 5,000 shares selling St. Paul and buying of Atchison.

Robert Meredith & Co. received the following over their private wire from Zimmermann & Forshay, New York: The market showed a continuation of the improvement that was displayed yesterday and business was increased in volume. Missouri Pacific was the feature and the upward movement in it was made better, it rising 1 per cent. over last night. At the outset the gains were generally confined to unimportant fractions as a rule, but by the end of the first hour they became more noteworthy. In some instances slight concessions occurred, but in others they were later more than made up. The advance in Missouri Pacific was directly attributed to explanation of a very favorable statement of earnings for April. After the early trading the distribution of business showed further improvement, the Gould shares being especially prominent. Sugar was weak, but rallied in sympathy with the upward tendency of the general list and recovered almost all of its 1 per cent. loss. The market altogether reflected a disposition on the part of the professional dealers to pay less attention to the anthracite coal strike, the issues in which, having now been plainly defined, a gradual disintegration of the strike is looked for. The tone of the market is firm despite the amount of profit-taking, and the market exhibits a disposition to rally. There is every reason to believe that the coal strike will be settled shortly, which should cause a better feeling throughout the market. London sold about 5,000 shares out of operations of over 7,000. No special feature to the market, which at noon was quiet and firm. Sales to noon amounted to considerably more than yesterday. Canadian Pacific closed in London at 139¼.

SAW THE PREMIER, GAVE RESOLUTIONS

Board of Trade Delegates Learn They Must Make Some Concessions.

Ottawa, June 12.—(Special)—A delegation from the Boards of Trade of Toronto, Montreal and Brantford and from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday afternoon and presented him with copies of the resolutions passed at the conference of the Boards of Trade in Toronto. The principal speakers were Mr. A. E. Ames, president of the Toronto Board, and Mr. McPhee, president of the Montreal Board. One of the resolutions recommended that the Canadian Government should set apart something annually for the purpose of maintaining Canada in a state of defence, and the other recommended the appointment of a commission to investigate the question of preferential trade between the mother country and the colonies.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply said that he would be frank with them and say that he was more interested in questions of trade than questions of war. He anticipated that the discussions in London at the conference would be very important. He read the resolution asking for the appointment of a royal commission to enquire into preferential trade, and said that the request was not an unreasonable one, but it would be of more value if it set forth what concessions were to be expected from Canada. He would like to know how far the Manufacturers' Association would be prepared to go in return for concessions from England.

Mr. Monroe, president of the Manufacturers' Association, said that they proposed a 50 per cent. preference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply said that the British people were not prepared to go so far. However, it was some satisfaction to know where the manufacturers stood in discussing this question. In conclusion the Premier said that he would take the resolutions which had been presented to him into his very serious consideration.

G.O.C.'S FAREWELL.

Ottawa, June 11.—(Special.)—Major-General O'Grady-Haly's valedictory militia order says in part: "In war and in peace Canadian soldiers have proved themselves worthy to share in the best traditions of the British army, and the Major-General will always regard with pride and affection the Canadian troops, that he has had the honor to command.

"To the officers of the headquarters staff his warm thanks are due for the loyal and most efficient performance of their important duties, and he highly appreciates the good service done by the officers of the district staffs. He also desires to place on record his recognition of the soldier-like qualities that have distinguished commanding officers of units and those serving under their command, and in saying 'goodbye' to the Canadian forces, Major-General O'Grady-Haly assures all ranks that he will ever take the most lively interest in all that relates to the future well-being of the militia, and wishes one and all, good luck and all prosperity and happiness."

INDICATED HARVESTS FOR YEAR 1902

There is a Decline of 2,500,000 Acres in the Spring Wheat Area.

The June report of the condition of the growing crops as reported by the Department of Agriculture was somewhat of a disappointment, as far as wheat is concerned, if the grain trade estimates were any indication. The condition of winter wheat was given at only 76.1, notwithstanding the favorable weather in May, comparing with 76.4 on May 1; and as no change in the acreage has been reported during the month the winter wheat crop stands virtually where it did a month ago, when Mr. J. C. Brown, statistician of the New York Produce Exchange, gave a quantitative interpretation to a condition of 76.4 on 27,108,000 acres, as indicating 341,498,000 bushels. The formula pursued by the Produce Exchange in interpreting the report is to figure the average value of a condition of 100 for a series of five years. As the Government has issued its official harvest figures for 1901 since the May report was issued, it has been necessary to make up a later five-year average than that on which May report was figured; and it is this change in the average that is responsible for what would otherwise be superficially accepted as an increase of about 8,000,000 bushels in the winter wheat prospects during May, the May estimate being 341,498,000 bushels, while the June estimate is 349,629,000 bushels. The June figures indicate a harvest of 80,000,000 bushels winter wheat less than that gathered in 1901. The five-year averages of the value of a condition of 100, on which the reports are figured, follow:

	Value of a condition of 100.
Winter wheat, bushels per acre	16.9
Spring wheat, bushels per acre	17.7
Total wheat, bushels per acre	17.3
Oats, bushels per acre	34.7
Rye, bushels per acre	15.7
Barley, bushels per acre	27.1

	June, '02.	Harvest of 1901.
Winter wheat—
Bushels	349,629,000	420,675,000
Acres	27,103,000	28,749,563
Spring wheat—
Bushels	314,031,000	318,785,000
Acres	18,635,000	21,145,951
Total wheat—
Bushels	664,560,000	748,460,218
Acres	45,738,000	49,895,514
Total oats—
Bushels	736,808,724	736,808,724
Acres	28,541,476	28,541,476
Total rye—
Bushels	31,035,000	30,344,830
Acres	1,978,000	1,987,505
Total barley—
Bushels	126,313,000	100,932,924

Stirling, Ont., June 11.—Cheese board met to-day; 1,300 cheese boarded. Sales: Magrath, 200 at 9⅝c; Hodgson, 315 at 9⅝c; Watkins, 40 at 9 9-16c; balance refused 9⅝c and 9¾c. Board adjourned for one week.

Madoc, Ont., June 11.—There were 1,126 boxes cheese boarded. Sales: Watkin, 250 at 9⅝c; Ayer, 210 at 9⅝c; Brenton, 230 at 9 9-16c; Magrath, 50 at 9 9-16c. Balance unsold.

Woodstock, Ont., June 11.—The May make of cheese is almost entirely disposed of and the offerings to-day comprised the product of the first week of June. The buyers showed a tendency not to risk too much in new fresh cheese, and the sellers manifested no desire to sell at the prices offered. A record offering was made, 3,097 boxes, of which 1,121 were white, being boarded. Bidding opened at 9c and advanced to 9¼c, which was freely bid. Not a sale was recorded at this price, the sellers holding out for 9⅝c and 9¾c.

Richmond, June 11.—A meeting of the Richmond Dairymen's Board of Trade was held at the Court House yesterday, when 360 boxes of cheese were boarded. Sales: A. E. Armstron?, 142 at 9¾c; M. Steel, 144 at 9⅝c; Jas. Murray, 83c at 9½c. The next meeting will be held June 24.

RECORD CATTLE PRICE

Chicago, June 12.—Cattle sold at $8 a head to-day. This is the highest price since 1884, and confirms reports of a shortage in supplies. Hogs are $7.55 for heavy, the top of the season.

DRESSED HOGS.

A fair trade was done and the market was without any new feature. Sales of country killed in small lots were made at $9 to $9.50, and abattoir stock at $9.25 to $9.75 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL MARKETS

Cheese and Butter Are Looking Better.—No Improvement in Grain.

GRAIN.—No improvement in the market, the export demand being slow. On spot No. 2 Manitobas were quoted at 49c and No. 2 Ontarios at 48½c ex store. The offerings of peas, barley and rye are very small, and in the absence of transactions prices are difficult to quote.

FLOUR.—The demand is principally of a jobbing nature and the market is quiet at steady prices. Manitoba spring wheat patents, $4 to $4.20; Manitoba strong bakers, $3.70 to $3.90; winter wheat patents, $3.90 to $4.10; straight rollers, $3.65 to $3.75; do. in bags, $1.75 to $1.80; extras, $1.50 to $1.60.

MEAL.—There was no change in rolled oats, for which the demand is limited at $4.90 to $5.05 per barrel and at $2.35 to $2.40 per bag.

FEED.—There was a fair demand for Manitoba bran, and sales were made at $19 per ton, including bags. Shorts continue very scarce and are quoted at $22 per ton, including bags.

HAY.—A fair volume of business was done in baled hay, but the tone of the market continues easy, owing to larger offerings. No. 1 $9.50 to $10; No. 2, $8 to $8.50; clover, $7 to $7.50 per ton, in car lots.

CHEESE.—There seems to be a slightly stiffer tone to the spot cheese market with a fair volume of business in progress. In the country there has been something of a standoff between buyers and factorymen, but prices realized have been fractionally better than last week. The spot range is about as follows: Finest Ontario, 10c to 10¼c; finest Townships, 9¾c to 9⅞c; finest Quebecs, 9⅝c to 9¾c; undergrades, 9¼c to 9½c.

BUTTER.—There was a good enquiry at firm prices, quite a few sales of finest stock being put through at 19½c to 19⅝c. The indications point to the maintenance of present prices for some time to come. Finest Townships creamery, 19¾c to 20c; good to fine creamery, 19½c to 19¾c; seconds, 19c to 19¼c.

EGGS.—Demand is only fair, but prices are steady, and round lots of straight receipts are quoted at 13¾c to 14c, and No. 2 at 13c to 13½c per dozen.

POTATOES.—The market was steady with a fair trade passing in a jobbing way, but the demand for car load lots is somewhat limited at 70c to 80c per bag.

MAPLE PRODUCT.—Business is slow and prices are unchanged. Syrup in large tins at 70c to 80c, in small tins at 50c to 60c, and in wood at 5c to 5½c per lb.; sugar at 7c to 9c per lb.

HONEY.—White clover comb at 13c to 14c, tinged at 10c to 11c, strained at 9c to 10c per lb.; buckwheat in comb at 9c to 10c, and extracted at 7c to 8c.

BEANS.—The feeling is steady under a fair demand for small lots at $1.25 to $1.30 for primes.

ASHES.—There was no change, and the market remains quiet. Firsts, $4.15 to $4.20; seconds, $3.70 to $3.75; pearls, $6 per 100 lbs.

Quebec, June 12.—(Special.) — A man named Legare, employed by the Metabetchouan Pulp Company, in the this city, was given a cheque for $200 on Saturday, with instructions to get it cashed and bring the proceeds to the office. He neglected to make returns and on Sunday left the city for parts unknown. A complaint was laid at the Police Court yesterday and a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

THE KING DINES AT AMERICAN EMBASSY

Had a Lengthy Talk With J. P. Morgan and Was Extremely Affable.

London, June 11.—A crowd of several hundred persons, including a number of American sightseers, had gathered outside the house of the United States ambassador, Mr. Jos. H. Choate, on Carleton Terrace, when the King and Queen arrived there at 8.45 p.m. Their Majesties drove to the ambassador's residence in what is known as a "town carriage," with outriders in red livery. The front of the embassy was decorated with the customary coronation device, a crystal transparency showing the royal cipher. It was surmounted by the Stars and Stripes. The crowd uncovered as their Majesties passed in. Otherwise there was no demonstration.

GUESTS PRESENT.

The following is the full list of guests present at the dinner:—The King and Queen, Princess Victoria, the Duke of Norfolk, the Duke and Duchess of Portland, Lord Rosebery, the Bishop of London, Right Rev. Arthur F. Ingram; the Earl and Countess of Pembroke, Earl and Countess Spencer, Sir Wm. and Lady Vernon Harcourt, A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, and Miss Balfour, the Earl of Derby, Lady Alice Stanley, the Russian ambassador, Baron de Staal; J. Pierpont Morgan, Whitelaw Reid, special ambassador of the United States to the coronation of King Edward, and Mrs. Reid; Harriet Lane Johnston (a niece of the late President James Buchanan, who was appointed United States minister to Great Britain in 1853); John Sargent, the American painter; Mrs. Douglass Robinson, Mrs. W. S. Cowles (wife of the former United States naval attache here); Lord Kenyon, Sir Stanley Clark, the Countess of Gosford, Mr. Choate, Mrs. Choate and Miss Choate; Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, and Miss White; Mr. J. Ridgeley Carter, second secretary of the United States embassy, and Wm. Woodward, private secretary of Mr. Choate.

RECEIVED THE KING.

The visit of King Edward and Queen Alexandra to Ambassador and Mrs. Choate was one of the most interesting incidents of the present reign, and all London was talking of it to-night.

When King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, and their suites drove up to Mr. Choate's house, the Ambassador, Mrs. Choate, Miss Choate, Henry White, Miss White, and Mr. and Mrs. Carter met them at the door. The American diplomats wore plain evening dress and black knee breeches. The King and his suite wore a dress exactly similar to that of the Americans, with the exception of His Majesty, across whose shirt front was seen the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

A MIX-UP BEFORE DINNER.

Greetings had scarcely been exchanged before dinner was announced, and the party became somewhat mixed up. Mr. Choate found himself leading the Queen into the dining-room ahead of the King, who had Mrs. Choate on his arm. Previous to the beginning of dinner special servants of their Majesties, covered with medals, had arrived at Mr. Choate's residence, and taken up their places behind the chairs at which the King and Queen were to sit. The table was elaborately decorated with American beauty roses. Mr. Choate and his wife sat opposite each other at the centre of the table, at which forty covers had been laid. Queen Alexandra, who was dressed becomingly in an evening gown of black and white, touched here and there with costly jewels, and who wore a diamond tiara, sat at Mr. Choate's right hand. On his left sat Princess Victoria, while next to the Princess sat Lord Lansdowne. On the opposite side of the table sat Mrs. Choate with King Edward on her right and the Duke of Norfolk on her left.

In the beginning the international banquet proceeded somewhat formally, but the vivacious humor of the King and the Queen soon put the guests at their ease. Throughout the dinner music was rendered by an excellent band. Finally Queen Alexandra gave the signal, and the ladies rose and retired to the drawing-room.

THE KING AND MORGAN.

Mr. Choate then walked around the table and took the now vacant seat next to His Majesty, and the King of Great Britain and the American Ambassador entered into a confidential conversation. Before the cigars had got well going Mr. Choate went over to J. Pierpont Morgan, sr., and brought him up to King Edward, and for nearly the next half hour the American millionaire and the ruler of Great Britain talked earnestly.

In an interval between the music the King especially sent for Mrs. Douglass Robinson and Mrs. W. Douglass Robinson and Mrs. W. Sheffield Cowles, and to these two sisters of President Roosevelt His Majesty conveyed his special gratification at his ability to be present at the evening's entertainment. Their Majesties also chatted especially with Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, while the latter's charming daughter, who was too young when she last visited England to be presented at court, was cordially received by both King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

At the conclusion of the musical programme the party went to supper. Here the band played "God Save the King" for the first time, and everyone present paid courteous attention to this air. After supper was over their Majesties chatted with various guests, and especially with Lord Rosebery, who took Princess Victoria down to her carriage.

Curse OF DRINK

CURED BY COLONIAL REMEDY.

Can be Given in Glass of Water, Tea or Coffee Without Patient's Knowledge.

Colonial Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, "a tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using Colonial Remedy.

Indorsed by Members of W.C.T.U. in United States.

Mrs. Moore, Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have tested Colonial Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and indorse Colonial Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work." Mrs. A. M. Townsend, 218 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. (for years secretary of the W.C.T.U.), states: "I know of so many people redeemed from the curse of drink by the use of Colonial Remedy that I earnestly request you to give it a trial." Sold by druggists everywhere and by mail. Price $1. Trial package free by writing or calling on Mrs. M. A. Cowan (for years member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 2204 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

Sold in Montreal by T. R. Goulden, 231 Bleury St.; E. J. Nadeau, Rachel and St. Denis; Gourlay's Pharmacy, 2615 St. Catherine St.

CONTEMPLATE MUNICIPAL 'PHONES.

Ottawa, June 11.—At a meeting to-night of a committee appointed to receive tenders for civic telephones, the tenders were opened and it was found that the only company offering was the Bell Telephone Company. Their offer was an annual contribution to the civic treasury of $5,000 for ten years and to supply telephones to business houses at $45 an instrument and $30 for private houses. Under the present agreement with the Bell Company, the city receives an annual grant of $1,500; this expires in April next. It was the general feeling of the committee not to accept the present offer, but to install a municipal telephone system in Ottawa.

KILLED ON WINIFREDIAN.

Ottawa, June 11.—A message was received by the Governor-General from the casualty department to-day stating that M. Gortio, of the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles, had been accidentally killed while at sea on board the troopship Winifredian on June 6th. He enlisted at Newcastle, N.B.

The same cable states that E. C. Redsmell and I. M. Sole, of the 2nd C.M.R., were dangerously ill of enteric fever, the former at Pietermaritzburg and the latter at Klerksdorp. Redsmell has been previously reported and enlisted at Medicine Hat. Sole enlisted at Revelstoke, B.C.

CANADIAN UITLANDER HONORED

Ottawa, June 11.—The Governor-General's Foot Guards had a turn-out of 230 men last night. After the regular drill, Lieut.-Col. Jarvis called Lieut. James G. Maclaren to the front and presented him with his South African medal. Lieut. Maclaren was not in the service as a Canadian, but as a Uitlander, having joined Bethune's Mounted Infantry under General Buller, who was commanding the Natal army. The medal bears four clasps, viz., Ladysmith, Laing's Nek, Transvaal and Tugela Heights.

PETERBORO'S POWER.

Peterboro, June 11.—The water power of the Buckhorn Falls, two thousand horse power, eighteen miles from Peterboro, has been purchased outright by Mr. Culverwell, of Peterboro, who is also manager of the company which owns the Burleigh Falls, 5,000 horse power. Both dams have been completed, and the work of transmitting power to Peterboro, Port Hope and Cobourg will start immediately.

ONTARIO'S SMALLPOX.

Toronto, June 11.—Dr. Bryce, the Provincial medical health officer, says that the smallpox situation is getting better gradually, and that he hopes to see the Province clear of the disease in a month or two. Three new cases of the disease were reported to-day from North Plantagenet in Prescott, one from Marlborough in Renfrew, and another from the town of Whitby.

NICARAGUA VOTE NEXT THURSDAY.

Washington, June 11.—Just before adjournment to-day the Senate agreed to vote finally on the Nicaragua Canal Bill, and all the pending amendments on Thursday, June 19, the voting to begin at 2 p.m.

HOLLAND'S QUEEN.

Berlin, June 11.—Queen Wilhelmina, of Holland, arrived in Schomberg, Lippe, to-day. She was not fatigued by her journey from the Netherlands.

Next week's attraction at the Theatre Royal is the Victoria Burlesquers, introducing the sensational aerial cycle whirl. Nothing has been seen like this in the city of Montreal. It is a show in itself.

TORONTO CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

Toronto, June 11.—The entries at the Toronto Custom House passed the $100,000 mark this morning, which is the highest point ever reached in this city in any fiscal year. The total for the year ending June 30, 1901, was $96,951. Therefore, this year's figures at the close of the present month will show a large increase.

MUSSOLINO GETS A "LIFER."

Luca, Italy, June 11.—Mussolino, the notorious brigand, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

The Chinese ballet at Sohmer Park is proving a drawing card this week, and an equally pretty thing is being prepared for next week. Among the dancers who are attracting most attention in these ballets are the Misses Marie Corry and Stella Donahue, both of whom have exceptional talent. Several new vaudeville acts are to be presented.

JULY 10 LAST DAY FOR SURRENDER

Commander Kemp Has Come in—A Speech by Joseph Chamberlain.

London, June 11.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain spoke this evening at the Corona Club, which is a gathering of eminent representatives of the British colonies. He said that through the peace settlement the British had obtained all they had hoped for, and their hands in the future would not be fettered. The Government, he added, had been generous to its late opponents in regard to everything concerning personal and private matters, but had given up nothing in substance. It had done nothing to prejudice the ultimate solution of the South African question, to which it looked as its justification for the war. Continuing, Mr. Chamberlain said: "I am sure we are delighted by the way these terms are accepted by our late opponents. If their feelings prevail we are at the opening of an era of prosperity such as that country has never known."

PEACE DID NOT SAVE THESE.

London, June 11.—A casualty list issued by the War Office shows that four men were killed in a fight 36 miles east of Fraserburg, Cape Colony, on June 3, three days after the conclusion of peace. Gen. Kitchener cables that since his last despatch the total number of arms surrendered by the Boers has been 2,648.

SURRENDER OF REBELS.

Cape Town, June 11.—An extraordinary issue of the Official Gazette to-day fixes July 10 as the limit in which Boers or rebels who surrender will receive the benefits of the peace terms. All rebels surrendering before that date will be merely disfranchised for life, and will not be subject to trial or punishment. Exception is made in the case of field cornets and justices of the peace, who may be tried and fined or imprisoned, but they will not be executed. Rebels who hold out after July 10 will be subject to the extreme penalty for high treason.

CHAOS AT TRANSVAAL LEGATION.

Brussels, June 11.—Dr. Leyds, the Boer representative, absolutely declines to see interviewers. Affairs at the former Transvaal legation are in a state of chaos. Preparations are being made to remove the archives.

KEMP SURRENDERS.

Pretoria, June 11.—Commandant Kemp and a number of Boers have surrendered at Mafeking. Commandant Kemp says that he is reconciled to the new situation.

EX-ENEMIES FRATERNIZE.

Pretoria, June 11.—The Boer commandoes that are arriving here bring reports of fresh and striking instances of fraternization between the Boers and the British trops. The surrender of a commando at Balmoral, Transvaal, was followed by a big "sing song," in which the Boers and the "Tommies" joined in singing "Rule Britannia." The British soldiers stationed at the blockhouses between Balmoral and Pretoria in some instances held up the trains, and proffered coffee and tobacco to their late enemies.

Ex-Secretary Reitz, who was a member of the defunct Transvaal Government, has brought in the only ambulance left in the north, and a Cape cart loaded with documents, including a number of bank notes, which were printed in the field and some gold sovereigns which had been obtained by the process of "sweating."

The Boers generally hold unfavorable estimates of their foreign allies, except in the case of the Americans who fought with them, and these they declare to be crafty and great fighters. In the course of a conversation on the foreigners who had fought on the Boer side a prominent commandant said:—"All the Germans are fit for is to give horses sore backs."

FOUCHE'S SOUND SENSE.

Aliwal North, Cape Colony, June 11.—Commandant Fouche, in supervising the surrender of various Boer commands here, said the Boers had been good citizens of their own country, and they would be equally good citizens under the British Government. He hoped the next time they fought it would be side by side.

INCREASE TAX ON MINES.

Pretoria, June 11.—A proclamation has been issued substituting a tax of 10 per cent. net on the profits of mining operations for the 5 per cent. that was imposed by the late Volksraad.

Old People's Favorite

A Medicine That Invigorates the Kidneys and Liver, Takes Away the Pains and Aches and Regulates the Action of the Bodily Organs, Strong Recommendations for

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

The experience of Mr. Brown, as stated in his letter below, is similar to that of scores of men and women who feel old age creeping in upon them. The kidneys grow weak and inactive, the back aches, there are deposits in the urine, and pain and smarting in passing water. The legs swell, and there come pains and aches not unlike rheumatism.

Under such circumstances old people turn to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for relief and cure, and are not disappointed. They have learned by repeated trial that they can depend on Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills every time, and consequently they have become known as the old people's favorite medicine.

Mr. John Brown, 66 Nelson Street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I am getting up in years, and having been a hard worker all my life, I am beginning to fail. For some time past I thought there was something wrong with my kidneys. I seemed to bloat up, was very short of breath, and feared heart disease, although I was told there was nothing wrong with my heart. I got so bad that I had to do something.

"Hearing of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I began using them, and by the time I had used up the first box I felt considerably improved. I continued using this medicine, and to-day feel ten years younger. I am strong and hearty, and do not suffer from my former ailments. I consider Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills an excellent medicine for old people."

There are people in nearly every town, village and country side road who have proved the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Ask your friends or neighbors about them. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

THE GRADUATED INCOME TAX

Sir Michael Not Opposed to It, But Will Not Remove Coal Export Duty.

London, June 11.—In the course of the debate on the Finance Bill in the House of Commons to-day, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, said he was not opposed to the principle of a graduated income tax and added that he would consider the suggestion to refer the matter to a committee of experts.

Replying to a motion providing for the abolition of the export tax on coal, the Chancellor of the Exchequer said he could not possibly entertain it, since the coal exports for the first five months of the present year had been the highest on record.

MASSACRED BY MEXICAN TROOPS

Tucson, Ariz., June 11.—A prominent Arizona banker arrived here to-day from Prietas, Sonora, with details of a massacre of Yaqui Indians, men, women and children, yesterday, in Santa Rosa canon, 35 miles from the Monas Prietas mines, by a detachment of General Torres' troops. It appears that the Yaqui forces that were operating in that section had moved further into the mountains, leaving their women and children in Santa Rosa canon under a guard of eighty men. The Mexican troops came upon the camp and without warning opened a terrible fire, sparing neither women nor children. After the first volley the troops charged down upon the panic stricken victims and massacred all within their reach. Of the guard of eighty men not a single one survived and more than 100 women and children fell victims to the Mexican bullets and bayonets. The bodies of the dead were left in the canon and the remaining women and children were driven to Monas Prietas by the soldiers, and from that point will be taken to Hermosillo.

FRIAR LANDS QUESTION.

Philippine Difficulty Will Not be Dealt With by a Special Commission, But by Permanent Committee.

Rome, June 11.—The idea of appointing a special commission of cardinals to deal with the question of the acquisition by the United States of the Friar lands in the Philippine Islands has been abandoned in favor of submitting the matter to the permanent committee on extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs, consisting of Cardinals Rampolla, the Papal Secretary of State; Oreglia Di Santo Stefano, Parocchi, Vannutelli, Vives Y Tuto, Ledoschowski, Agliardi, Cotti, Depietro, Steinhuber and Segna. In order to curtail the discussion, a sub-committee will be appointed to draw up a report, which will be submitted to the whole committee.

WORKS OUT WELL FOR CANADA.

Vancouver, June 11.—The salmon canners of Washington State have received the consent of the Canadian authorities to build a big salmon hatchery on the Fraser River, British Columbia, for the purpose of perpetuating the salmon industry on Puget Sound. The Canadian Government declined to build hatcheries, and as the Puget Sound traps are fed by salmon which go up the Fraser to spawn, the canners and trap owners decided, in order to prevent the industry from being imperilled, to put up the money for the hatchery and to allow the Canadian combine to share its benefits.

INSPECTING PACIFIC CABLE.

Victoria, June 11.—Mr. James Kent, manager of the Canadian Pacific telegraph; Mr. B. S. Jenkins, general superintendent, and Mr. James Wilson, superintendent for British Columbia, arrived this afternoon from Vancouver. They are here to meet Mr. C. H. Reynolds, manager of the Pacific Cable, who also reached here to-day on the steamship Aorangi. The party left by special steamer to-night to inspect the new Pacific cable station at Bamfield Creek.

WANT SHARE IN RHODES' WILL.

Halifax, June 11.—Cecil Rhodes' will provided for Oxford scholarship for only two of the Canadian provinces, Ontario and Quebec, no mention being made of the six other provinces. The senate of Dalhousie, Halifax, and the other universities of the Maritime Provinces, are now forwarding memorials to the executors of Rhodes' will asking that the will be amended so as to give scholarships to each province of the Dominion.

NEELEY RELEASED.

Havana, June 11.—C. F. W. Neeley, who, on March 24, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment and had to pay a fine of $66,701 for complicity in the Cuban postal frauds, was released to-day under the bill signed by President Palma, June 9, granting amnesty to all Americans convicted of crimes in Cuba.

PENNYPACKER GETS NOMINATION.

Portland, Me., June 11.—At the Republican State convention here to-day John F. Hill was renominated for a second term by acclamation. Amos L. Allen, representing the First Maine district in Congress, was renominated at a preliminary meeting.

YOUR SUMMER VACATION

IF YOU ARE NOT IN A CONDITION OF HEALTH TO ENJOY IT THOROUGHLY,

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Will Send You Off Happy and Joyous.

In every city and town of the land, young and old are already arranging for the "summer vacation" to the seaside, mountains or rural resorts.

Some will leave full of health and vigor; others, suffering from nervous prostration, sleeplessness, headaches, backaches, sideaches, neuralgia, rheumatism and blood troubles will drag themselves off in the vain hope that a change of air and scenery will secure for them a certain measure of relief and comfort. Such hopes are vain and foolish. The cause of weakness and sickness should, without delay, be attacked at home, before trusting oneself to the many discomforts of popular resorts.

If Paine's Celery Compound be honestly used this month by the ailing, rundown, weak and nervous, they will find that in a few short weeks they will be enabled to leave for a vacation with a surprising amount of new vigor and strength, fitted to enjoy themselves, and at the same time be a comfort to those with whom they may associate.

We would urge the necessity of immediate efforts to secure the necessary strength for the enjoyment of a true summer vacation. Paine's Celery Compound will assuredly give you happy results. Try it.
