White-clad members of rescue teams lower simulated casualty at survival demonstration at Sherbrooke Regiment Armoury last night. Here men employ a stretcher, sling and running pulley.

Unexpected Twist

Had 'Drop' Been Real City Would Be Lethal

By NICK POWELL
(Record Staff Reporter)

An unexpected twist to the Army's "Exercise Nuclear" last night "dropped" death-dealing radio active fall-out all over Sherbrooke.

Had the operation been real, the city today would not be a fit place in which to live, nor would the surrounding area.

But it was all part of the largest single national survival and evacuation exercise in the history of the Canadian Army.

At 11.15 last night, 600 men of the Royal 22nd Regiment moved out of the city towards Montreal.

A simulated thermo-nuclear bomb drop took place on Montreal, and the exercise was designed for the speediest evacuation and rescue of all victims involved in the blast.

The drift of the bomb fall-out, according to meteorological reports, would have carried over the Queen City of the Eastern Townships.

All units of the First Battalion stationed in Sherbrooke prior to the drop moved northwards towards Drummondville to avoid radioactive contamination. From this point forward their activities were directed towards evacuation and subsequent hospitalization of simulated casualties supplied by the 3rd Battalion R 22 R.

FIRST MOVEMENTS

First arrivals in Sherbrooke at about 3 p.m. included troops from the First Battalion (Valcartier) moving towards the Exhibition grounds on Park Avenue. Soup kitchens and camp sites for two companies were set up on the location of the fair booths of the annual Sherbrooke Exhibition.

Cooks quarters in the agricultural department of the arena soon began producing roast beef, salads and the usual soldiers' spuds.

Senior officers inspecting the tent layouts took refuge in the arena building for cups of hot coffee as the men laid-out their tents in more than 14 inches of snow.

Major General J. Rockingham, General Officer Commanding, Quebec Army Command, who arrived at the fair grounds by helicopter shortly after 5 p.m. expressed complete satisfaction in survival and rescue activities conducted by members of the First Battalion.

He expressed confidence that the operation would be carried out as a complete success.

Sherbrooke Municipal Police Chief, Edouard Moreau said that the survival and evacuation demonstration was most interesting and completely realistic.

DEMONSTRATIONS

The demonstration proper involved three scenes: a small drama enacted by members of the 1st Battalion

Pinay Resigns His Post

PARIS (Reuters)—Finance Minister Antoine Pinay announced after a talk with President Charles de Gaulle today that he was resigning his cabinet post.

"Circumstances demand that I withdraw from the government. I shall remain at the disposal of the country for the continuation of the work that I have undertaken."

Pinay's resignation followed a dispute with Premier Michel Debre over both foreign affairs and aspects of economic policy.

The finance minister, a conservative who has been the father of the new franc and architect of France's economic recovery, has strongly criticized government policy on economics, NATO and European institutions.

New Montreal Setup By Fall Barrette Assures Delegates

QUEBEC — (CP) — Montreal, Canada's largest city, administered for 20 years by a mayor and a 99-man council which delegates much of its powers to a seven-man executive committee, is to have a new form of municipal government this year.

Premier Antonio Barrette announced Tuesday night at a meeting of the private bills committee of the legislative assembly to a large Montreal delegation here to discuss amendments to the city charter that his government will create a committee of experts soon to study the "best administrative set up" for Montreal.

He guaranteed the committee would turn in its recommendations to the government by September at the latest. The Quebec government would call a special session of the legislature as soon as the recommendations were in, either this summer or in September.

The legislature would study the recommendations and put them into effect in time for the October municipal elections in Montreal.

There would be no extension of the mandate of the present Montreal administration elected for a three-year term in 1957.

Parrot Tells All, His Defense For The Birds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Buenos dias, senor," the parrot said.

That did it. Robert Harold Gerhart, charged with smuggling 65 parrots from Mexico, shrugged and changed his plea to "no contest."

He had pleaded not guilty earlier. After all, he had reasoned, how would anyone know the birds found in his plane came from south of the border?

Investigators couldn't get a word of English out of the birds—only Spanish.

Gerhart will be sentenced Feb. 8.

Two Brothers Are Prepared Put Out Fire

MONTREAL (CP) — Boy scout Joseph Angelhart, 12 was prepared. So was his eight-year-old brother Patrick, a cub.

While walking along the street Tuesday they heard a woman scream that her room was on fire. They called firemen, rushed into the house, dragged out a blazing mattress and blankets and doused them with snow.

By the time firemen came, they had nothing to do but put the mattress back.

Mr. and Mrs. Ermenia Sadalucia, in whose room the fire took place, were treated for mild hand burns.

3 Bandits Hit Bank At Roxton

A daring armed holdup yesterday afternoon netted three bandits about $4,500 from the Banque Canadienne Nationale at Roxton Falls.

Sgt. Det. Eugene Morin, of the Sherbrooke Provincial Police detachment said this morning, that all patrol cars now on the road have been alerted to be on the lookout for the getaway car. Thus far, he said, there has been no sign of the three holdup men.

At 2:45 p.m. yesterday, two of the men entered the bank and herded the employees into the vault at gun point.

They were described as young, wearing plain clothes and dark glasses. The third remained in the getaway car throughout the holdup.

The Montreal holdup squad is still investigating.

Collapse Of Talks Threatens

MONTREAL (CP) — Railway presidents N. R. Crump and Donald Gordon may soon step into the sizzling railway-union contract negotiations in a bid to avert a threatened break-down, it was learned today.

The possibility of direct intervention by the CPR and CNR chiefs loomed as the negotiations headed toward collapse over the union demand for wage boosts and other benefits worth an extra $65,000,000 a year.

Informants indicated Mr. Gordon of the CNR and Mr. Crump of the CPR are considering the advisability of entering the negotiations—left up to now in the hands of senior personnel vice-presidents.

Top negotiators for the railways and the 15 unions representing 120,000 non-operating rail workers met Tuesday to thrash out the wage issue.

1960 May See 5 Provincial Votes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

With four or five provincial elections in the offing this year, unusual political interest is concentrated on legislature sessions either in progress or about to begin.

Double interest is centred on Quebec, where not only is an election expected this year but new Premier Antonio Barrette is trying out his wings in the legislature as the sudden successor to Maurice Duplessis and Paul Sauve.

New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan—and possibly British Columbia—are the other provinces where general elections may be looked for during 1960.

In Quebec, the legislative session was resumed Monday under the guidance of Mr. Barrette after Mr. Sauve's death during the Christmas recess.

The political eyes of Canada are on Mr. Barrette, particularly on how he follows up his immediate predecessor's policy of a more co-operative approach in dealings with the federal government.

Mr. Barrette already has indicated his ministers will have a bigger say than they had previously. Legislation is on the horizon for a revamped program of assistance to universities, and there is to be committee study on a hospital insurance plan.

Saskatchewan's legislature, opening Feb. 11, is expected to run for about six weeks with longtime CCF Premier T. C. Douglas going to the country shortly afterward.

Nova Scotia's legislature, with the Progressive Conservatives under Robert Stanfield in control, is to open Feb. 24 amid expectations there will be an election this year, when the government's traditional four-year term ends.

likely will be Nova Scotia's coal crisis, now part of an investigation by a federal royal commission as Dominion Coal Company threatens to close down three coal mines for lack of markets. The closing could put 3,000 men out of work.

With an election generally expected by about June, New Brunswick's legislators got to work Feb. 18 with Premier Hugh John Flemming's Progressive Conservatives solidly in the saddle.

While there is no indication of legislation, a major issue appears to be the provincial aspect

See Intense Infighting At Federal Session

OTTAWA (CP) — Intensified political infighting can be expected during the new parliamentary session opening Thursday.

Part of this will be generated by the enthusiasm associated with national political meetings, which can usually be counted upon to fan anew the flames of party loyalty.

All three political parties represented in the Commons have either just come out of such meetings or are heading into them this year.

The Progressive Conservatives held their national convention here in December. This was followed by a meeting of the National Liberal Federation's advisory council which decided to hold a big rally this year of all "liberal-minded" people. And the CCF will hold a national leadership convention in 1960.

Fireworks stirred up by these gatherings can be expected to spill over into Parliament which will provide a ready-made platform on countless issues for a good part of the year.

This is one of the middle years between elections so the politicians will be more inclined to look ahead to the next general vote, probably in 1962, and start going all out to woo the voters to their cause.

MAGOG FIRE DAMAGE — Ice coats wires and the facade of the Pratte and Couture blocks on East Main st., Magog, following the fire there yesterday morning. Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How do you figure this one?

Marilyn Monroe and Tony Curtis do some smooching on a yacht in Some Like It Hot and the scene is roundly scored by moralists as being suggestive.

Eva Marie Saint and Cary Grant do some torrid love-making in a train compartment in North by Northwest and no protest is raised.

The answer may be in the delicate touch of the sly, masterful Alfred Hitchcock, who directed the latter film. Sex has often found its way into Hitchcock pictures. Recall the Grant-Bergman clinches in Notorious, the Grant-Kelly fireworks in To Catch a Thief, the Stewart-Kelly romantics in Rear Window.

NEVER IN DUTCH

Yet Hitchcock never seems to get in dutch with the censors.

The thinning maestro—down 22 pounds since Christmas—is again embarked on a sexy suspense saga, Psycho.

"I haven't the slightest interest in sex," Hitchcock said blithely. "How could I? I have been married to the same woman for 34 years and have never been out with another girl."

"Then why do I put sex in my films? Alas, I must bow to commercial necessity. It is apparently the thing that sells, and I am in the business of attracting customers."

ON HIS TERMS

But Hitchcock insists on doing it on his terms. And that means applying his own puckish humor plus no small degree of taste.

"I wouldn't think of casting a Monroe or a Mansfield to play a sexy part," he remarked. "That would be like playing a villain with a long black moustache. It's too obvious. Sex is more effective when it is subtle."

"When I prepared Vertigo, the censor sent me five pages of suggestions. I ignored them. Not one cut was made in the final picture. The reason was that the censor read into the script things that weren't actually there. I'm really very innocent."

Development Outlined

From temples to chartered banks — the story of banking and its significant role in civilization was told to members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night by the local Royal Bank of Canada Manager, J. M. Lambert.

Wars have been declared and peace has been maintained because of bankers, he declared.

Bridge
Entrance Planned

City council homologated about 15 lots between St. Marc and Laval streets Monday night for a five year period.

It is intended to use the land for modern western entrance to the Jacques Cartier bridge.

This homologation kills a request made several weeks ago for a construction permit to build a gasoline service station facing the bridge on Denault Street between St. Marc and Laval Streets.

The land homologated by the city represents about 15 lots and is bounded by St. Marc, Laval, Denault and Galt West.

The council decision was influenced by a report from Town Planner J. C. LaHaye that a new west entrance to the Jacques Cartier bridge would be needed within the next few years.

The plan for the future bridge approach calls for two new one-way streets between Laval and St. Marc Streets.

One of these proposed streets would run east while the other would run west.

The streets would be bounded by parks.

Both Laval and St. Marc Streets from Denault street towards the west would become dead-end streets.

1960 St. Francis District Assizes Open

Burglar Gets
3 Years

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record Staff Reporter)

The 1960 St. Francis District Criminal Assizes opened yesterday before Mr. Justice William Mitchell in Superior Court when Robert Peter Clare changed his plea from that of not guilty to that of guilty and was sentenced to a three year penitentiary term.

Clare pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the Leclerc Dairy Ltd. 76, 12th Avenue South, last spring.

His three year term is to run concurrently to a three year term he is now serving for theft.

Dates of 16 other trials to be held before a jury were released yesterday.

The trial at this year's Assizes that is considered the most important by court officials is that of 19-year-old Jacques Blanchette of Windsor Mills, charged with criminal negligence.

The charge against Blanchette was laid by a five man coroner's jury last July 29 following an accident in which he was involved a few days earlier on the Windsor Mills road.

Three people died as the result of the accident — Charles Mignault, chairman of the Quebec Municipal Commission, and Mrs. Mignault, of Quebec City and Gisele Carrier, of Windsor Mills, Blanchette's girl friend.

HARRISON TRIAL

Another important jury trial is that of Thomas Fletcher Harrison, of Bury charged with attempted murder.

He is charged with the attempted murder of John Lynch, of 444 Vimy Street, a Lennoxville taxi driver.

At the preliminary hearing June 11, Lynch told the court that Harrison had pulled a knife on him and stabbed him in the hand after Lynch had driven Harrison to his destination near Gould.

Harrison's trial has been set for Jan. 28.

Others to stand trial are: Alfred Boucher, charged with dangerous driving. Trial date has not as yet been set.

Lucien Lauzon, four counts varying from theft to a charge of misinforming the police. Date of trial has not as yet been set.

Gregoire Lacasse, conspiracy, Jan. 26.

Sylvia Chouinard, bogus bills, Jan. 27.

Jean-Paul Gauthier alias Jean-Paul Roger Pelouquin, theft, Jan. 29.

Rosaire Gazeille, criminal negligence, Jan. 13.

Andre Tremblay, theft and possession of burglar tools, Jan. 21.

Yvan Jean Paradis, theft and possession of burglar tools, Jan. 21.

Gilles Gaudreau, theft, Feb. 19.

Gordon Wicks, theft, Jan. 19.

Jean-Paul Tislock, charged with receiving stolen goods, Feb. 5.

This year's jury comprises 40 men twenty farmers 10 day workers and 10 others.

December Unemployment Figures
Higher Than Same Month In '59

Unemployment figures in the Sherbrooke area for December, 1959 were higher than those for the same period in 1958, but this increase is far from being an indication that the economic situation is less favorable this year, said E. Charette, local manager of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, in his monthly press release.

At the end of December 1959, the number of unemployed applicants reached approximately 7300 compared to 4159 in November, 1959. In December, 1958 statistics indicated 6915 unemployed applicants.

This increase is largely due to the fact that over 1,200 persons were laid off temporarily during the Christmas period for a week only. Mr. Charette said. They have now resumed work.

Operations in the employment branch during December, together with comparative figures were as follows:

With 4546 registrations in December, 1959, there were 654 referrals and 450 placements. During November, 1959, of the 2545 registrations, there were 750 referrals and 571 placements.

During December, 1958, 4460 registrations were made with 538 referrals and 426 placements.

In the insurance field, the Sherbrooke local office and its sub-offices of Richmond, East Angus and Coaticook, registered in December 1959, 2898 initial claims in person, 1365 renewal claims and 306 postal claims, for a total of 4569, compared to 4602 in December 1958.

The following figures represent the number of active claimants at the end of December, 1959:

In Sherbrooke of a total of 4193 local claimants, 3079 were male and 1114 female. Of the postal claimants, 1748 were male and 401 female.

In Richmond, 182 male claims were registered and 86 female claims. East Angus registered 207 male and 64 female and in Coaticook there were 230 male and 124 female claims.

Nominations Today
Throughout Province

Today is nomination day in the rural sections of the Province of Quebec, the day when most villages, townships and parishes nominate the new members of their local councils.

The village or township council generally comprises a mayor and six councillors elected for two years terms. Three councillors end their terms each year with the mayor going out of office every second year.

In most municipalities, the mayors were elected last year so only three council seats become vacant.

Should two or more candidates be nominated for any seat, the voting will take place next Monday.

In the larger towns governed by the Cities' and Towns' Act of the province, nominations will take place Monday, January 25, with elections the following Monday, February 1.

Informal Music

Bishop's, High Schools
Combine For Songfest

A Glee Club rehearsal was held last night in Bishop Williams Hall at Bishop's University, with the high schools of Drummondville and Richmond sending down their respective singing groups.

The atmosphere was completely informal, and none of the singing had been rehearsed to any extent.

Dr. McCubbin, the Bishop's Glee Club director, took the first part of the practice, and had the combined groups try singing David Grant's "Crimond", a Scottish Psalm tune. After running through each part once, the whole group sang it through several times while Dr. McCubbin worked on the different sections to get some expression into the song. In the space of thirty minutes they were transformed from a room full of strangers into what sounded to be a well-practised glee club.

Mr. Bishop, the director of music of the R.D.A. schools of Richmond, Drummondville and Asbestos then took over the proceedings and taught another new song to the group.

After a short break, the visitors sang two numbers to entertain the Bishop's Glee Club. Under the direction of Mr. Bishop they sang "Roumanian Rhapsody" and Hugh Robertson's "All in the April Evening".

To return the entertainment, the Deep Purples section of the Bishop's Glee Club sang "Blue Tail Fly", "Sentimental Journey", and "Inchworm".

There were 146 voices in all, with 53 students from Drummondville, 33 from Richmond, and the remaining 60 from Bishop's.

"The idea behind the whole thing is simply to get together with the surrounding high schools and to sing and have fun. Everything is strictly informal," said Dr. McCubbin.

Mr. Bishop said he was "very pleased with the get-together at the university. I want to make it an annual affair if it is at all possible because I think that everyone concerned is getting a great deal out of it."

After Three - Hour Fire

MAGOG — (Special) — Damage estimated at about $150,000 was caused yesterday by flames that swept the Pratte and Couture blocks on east Main street here, in front of the Dominion Textile mill, leaving 16 people, living in apartments above the stores homeless.

Seriously damaged by fire were: the Anatole Pratte furniture store, Sylvio Begin, heavy appliance store, and Chez Eddy, a restaurant and billiard hall.

Homeless are: Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Couture and two children; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Young, and two children; Mr. and Mrs. Roberge and child; Mr. and Mrs. A. Roy, pensioners, George Batrie, Bruneau Simoneau and Leo Boivin.

Magog Fire Chief Telephore Lavioie, said this morning that it would be difficult to say where the fire began, but it is believed to have started in one of the upstairs apartments.

Two members of the 35-man fire department suffered slight injuries during the day: Rolland Croteau, a sprained knee, and Stefan Roy, three stitches taken to close a cut caused by an out-of-control hose.

First alarm was turned in shortly before nine o'clock yesterday morning and it was not until nearly noon that the blaze was brought under control. Damage to the outside of the building was superficial, but the second floor ceiling, the interior of the block, and most of the merchandise were wrecked.

Volunteers were pressed into service during the morning to help play hoses leading from the Dominion Textile mill and nearby hydrants. Some 14 streams of water poured thousands of gallons into the burning building.

Dominion Textile Company employees, striking since last September 28, relaxed to some degree their picket lines to allow firefighters within the gates.

Chief Lavioie said today that firemen maintained a watch for some time over the block even after trucks had returned to the station. However no further outbreaks occurred.

NEW OFFICERS were elected yesterday at the annual meeting of the Quebec Shorthorn Club. Seated are Mrs. T. C. Stuart, Arundel, 2nd vice-president and Clifford Gaulin, Bury, president. Standing from the left are Don MacMillan, Cookshire, secretary-treasurer, E. H. Stoltz, fieldman for the Canadian Shorthorn Association and J. Douglas Baird, guest speaker from the federal Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont.

Performance Records Said Key To Beef Production Efficiency

Efficiency in the production of beef cattle could be increased to a large extent if records of their performances were kept, members of the Quebec Shorthorn Club were told yesterday at their annual meeting, by guest speaker, J. Douglas Baird.

"Performance testing of beef cattle throughout Canada would make selection of the outstanding producers in each herd possible, which in turn would allow the mating of top animals, thus raising herd standards," said Mr. Baird, chief of the production section of the federal Department of Agriculture from Ottawa.

Mr. Baird was the special guest speaker at the day-long 21st annual meeting of the Club which was held at the Hotel Sherbrooke yesterday.

The program included the election of new officers speeches and discussion periods when Mr. Baird answered questions concerning beef production. Mr. E. H. Stoltz, fieldman for the Canadian Shorthorn Association was also a guest speaker.

Mr. Clifford Gaulin, of Bury, was elected president of the club. Mrs. T. C. Stuart of Arundel, 2nd vice-president and Don MacMillan, of Cookshire, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Baird explained that since the program of keeping records for the performance of beef cattle had been instituted in 1956, the membership had increased from an enrollment of an estimated 20 herds to approximately 150.

Records of only 340 calves were kept the first year whereas almost 2,500 of them were registered.

The Pork Problem

It's reported from Ottawa that any day now the Canadian embargo on live and uncooked United States pork will be lifted. And when it is, consumers can expect yet another drop in price levels.

Prices are already depressed because of Monday's switch from one price support system to another which is designed to align production more closely with market demands.

The embargo, placed on U.S. pork in 1952 because of a disease in U.S. animals called vesicular exanthema, is no longer justified since both Washington and Ottawa agree the disease has been wiped out. To persist with it would be to invite reciprocal embargos on Canadian pork and possibly on other Canadian farm produce.

While the pork embargo was in effect it produced an artificial, but very welcome, protection for Canadian producers. U.S. exports to Canada were never huge but they were sufficient to be an influencing, and depressing, factor on the Canadian price structure.

However, things may have changed since 1952 and American producers may now make an even greater impression on the Canadian market.

Reports from the United States indicate that domestic consumption of pork has reached an all-time low. A spokesman for the U.S. Department of Agriculture has attributed this in part to the flood of diet books — there were 987 of them published in 1959 alone — which warn of hazards of eating pork and lard.

Whether these claims are justified or not consumption has dropped off to a point where consumer expenditures are 40 per cent of what they were in 1930. During the same period, vegetable oils have all but replaced lard in the kitchens and bakeries of the United States.

This has left the United States farmer in a difficult position. Even with a depressed pork market and an all but non-existent lard market it is still more profitable to produce pork than to hold surplus corn.

We can be sure he will jump hungrily at a chance to sell his surplus pork in Canada when the opportunity arises.

Taxes The Main Interest

Many matters of importance will come before the parliamentary session which opens tomorrow but few will have as deep interest to the general public as the possibility of a tax reduction.

Proposals to amend the old age pension provisions to cover persons who wish to make their home outside the country after qualifying for their pensions, tight money arguments, etc., each might concern directly a small segment of the population. But very few indeed are not affected by the slice of their earnings taken by the various governments.

Prospects are bright for some limited tax relief at the coming session.

Government spokesmen have talked frequently of holding the line on the matter of federal expenditures and there are indications that defence spending will be curbed substantially. These cuts in outlay accompanied by increased revenues from expanded business activity may result in a sizeable federal surplus, which should be passed on to the taxpayer.

If Finance Minister Fleming can provide some sweeping cut in income or excise taxes, he will take much of the sting from criticisms that may be forthcoming from opposition parties on a number of other items.

Bigger And Better Icicles

Creation of bigger, better and more startling icicles is a new college craze that has just started in New England areas.

At the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, students have succeeded in manufacturing a red, white and blue icicle four stories high.

They tied an ice cube to a string, and lowered it from their window. Then a trickle of water was siphoned from a barrel down the string. By using colored water at times, they got the tri-color effect on the mammoth icicle, which, at one point, is about 14 inches wide.

This has telephone booth crowding, eating live goldfish, panty raids and tower climbing beaten hollow.

What's more, it's a good, healthy pastime ideally suited to northern climes in the winter, especially Canada.

It provides, too, a chance for more flamboyantly minded students to improve upon nature. They might become real experts at this icicle making, and come up with a skyscraper monster that combine all the colors of the flags ever suggested for Canada.

Having gone that far, they might decide to install a sound system in the icicle that plays all the national anthems ever devised for this country.

There's something to be said for putting the whole controversy into an icicle. Come spring, it will all disappear.

New Zealand Holiday Halts Work

AUCKLAND (CP)—Business in New Zealand has come almost to a halt. The country's annual holiday shutdown is perhaps the most complete anywhere.

New Zealand was one of the pioneers in introducing paid annual holidays. So the idea has had longer to become a national institution. A full three-week holiday is general. For some people, allowing for weekends, the break is at least 3½ weeks.

Added to that, the midsummer school vacation coincides with the Christmas and New Year periods, on both of which long weekend breaks are taken in any case by shops and offices.

As a result of these influences, more and more factories and offices, have formed the habit of closing for holidays during this period. Companies which tried to keep open found difficulty in retaining staff and even then they discovered that their suppliers or customers were closed.

Stock exchanges close two days before Christmas and do not reopen until mid-January. Lawyers and accountants are also closed. Banks close for five days, reopen for only two days between Christmas and New Years, and then close again for five more days.

Factories and warehouses are shut tight. Some do not get back into full gear until toward the end of January.

Newspapers are less than half their normal size. Services of most kinds are non-existent because builders, plumbers, radio maintenance shops, and all other such regular operations are on holiday like everyone else.

SLIGHT INCONVENIENCE
All stores close for at least four days at Christmas and again at New Year, and some do not find it worth while opening in between. Mail deliveries are suspended for long intervals.

A large part of the population feels little inconvenience because the towns are all but deserted. The proportion of people owning seaside or lakeside cottages or cabins in addition to a town home is believed to be higher in New Zealand than almost anywhere else.

Those who do not own or hire an out-of-town cottage usually shift to tented motor-camps, which spread over acres of land at all the popular beaches.

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:—
I have read in the past in letters to the editor of persons who have seen a robin in the early spring or latter part of the winter and have assumed that spring is not far behind.

For the benefit of members of the Audubon Society and other readers we in this area have already seen one.

We usually in severe weather feed scraps to the birds so you can imagine our surprise when robin red breast flew in with a blue-jay and partook of the food.

Mostly scraps of bread which it lustily ate with the other birds no doubt on account of the worms being in deep freeze.

We assumed that the Robin was just a transient but he has no doubt decided to stay because he has returned here four times during the five days we have seen him.

Would we be too optimistic in thinking that spring is not far away.

Yours truly,
H. J. DREW.

Dear Sir:—
Further to the editorial contained in the January 9th, edition of the Sherbrooke Daily Record, pertaining to teenage credit, I would first like to express my appreciation for the commendable manner used to list opinions which on the surface anyway, seemed in part, to be contrary to my own.

In reality however, these same editorial opinions pertaining to the parental responsibility aspect of teenage credit (which is where we differ re the editorial), are very similar to my own which again, are based on fact.

Actually, and as was explained to your staff reporter during the interview, the primary indicators (indeed, on many occasions, the only indicators) used to establish the potential reliability of a teenage credit applicant, are the credit, character, and capacity records of the parents.

Incidentally, I do not urge the use of teenage credit rather, I urge the recognition and resulting overall improvement in the handling of this phase of our economy, which as mentioned, has been in effect for some time.

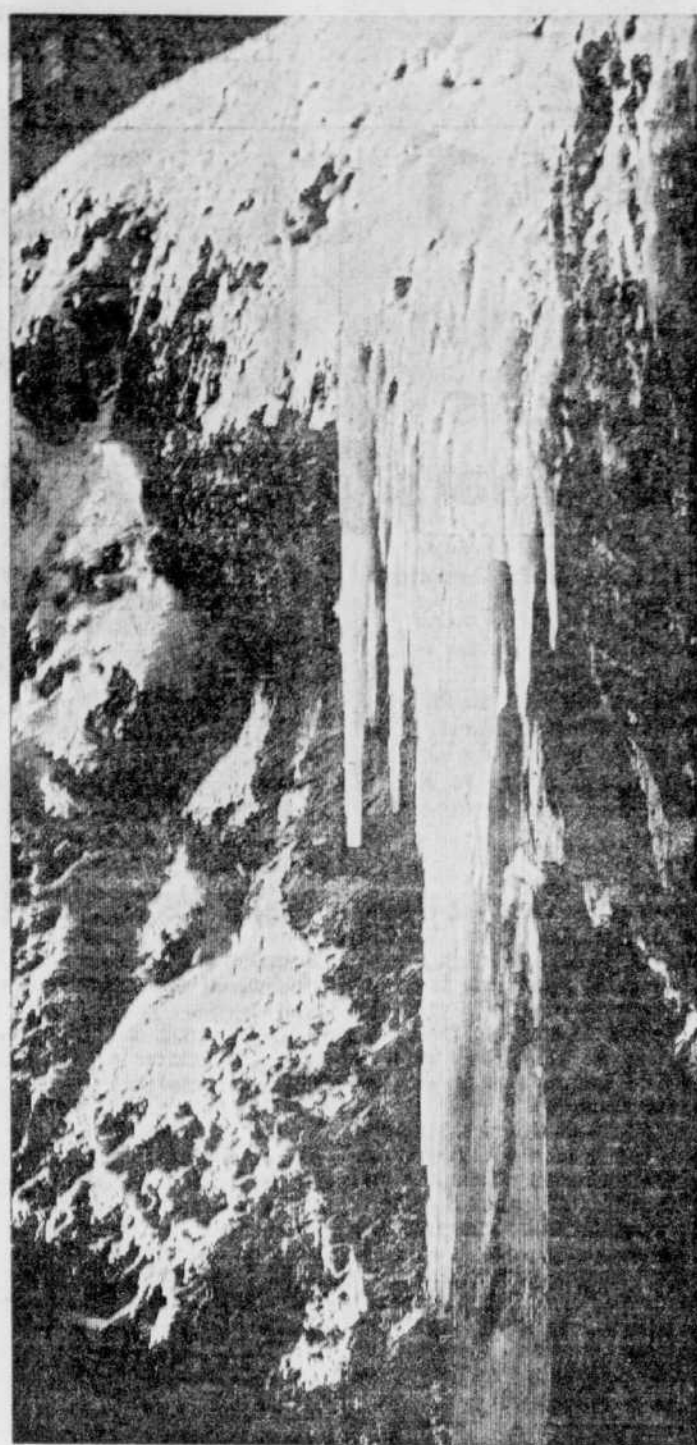

In conclusion, I would like to say that I feel that your staff reporter wrote up a fine article. I realize that she must have had many, many "bits and pieces" to assimilate, not all of which in the interest of time and space, could have possibly been included in the article however, I did want to set the record straight, so to speak.

Yours truly,
J. S. Marcoux

50 Cents A Square Foot For Hides

Canada May Get Kangaroo Coats

ADELAIDE (CP)—Low-cost kangaroo fur coats from Australia could be next season's newest fashion for Canadian women.

Alec Horne, Adelaide businessman recently returned from a visit to Canada, says a Montreal furrier is interested in importing kangaroo fur and skins from Australia. Sample cuttings had been sent to Canada.

Horne is owner of Tannawood Limited, one of Australia's largest tanneries specializing in Kangaroo.

"We think we can offer a very competitive price," he said, interviewed at the tannery in the Adelaide industrial district of Broughton. "The main question we'll have to find out is whether kangaroo fur will be up to the right standard for Canadian fur coats."

Horne's son, Joe, in charge of tannery operations, said an average kangaroo skin is six to seven square feet. It would be landed in Canada at about 50 cents a square foot.

Kangaroo was noted in Australia, he said, for its lightness in weight and hard-wearing qualities. Kangaroo leather was used for whips and bridles on cattle stations, wallets, watch straps, sports shoes. But because of the generally warm climate there was little home demand for fur apart from rugs.

He said untanned, raw skins already were being exported to North America. If Canadian orders came through, it would be the first time finished fur would be shipped.

The hopping kangaroo, which carries its young joys in a pouch, is Australia's best-known indigenous animal. Adored by children in zoos the world over, at home it is regarded as a pest. It's anyone's guess how many kangaroos there are in Australia, but population estimates run from 10,000,000 to 100,000,000 and more.

Sheep station owners are engaged in a large-scale war against 'roos, which they claim are eating scarce feed and causing millions of dollars worth of damage to fences. T. M. Scott, president of the New South Wales Graziers' Association, said the loss in wool alone from kangaroo depredations is running at $14,000,000 a year.

Special hunts are being organized against the kangaroo, and

Individual Action And Not Leaders Gave Allies D-Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel of Germany was Britain's favorite enemy in the Second World War.

But after a 10-year study, author Cornelius Ryan has concluded that the Allies were a bit over-kindly in their estimates of the dashing Nazi armor genius. "Rommel has been sometimes portrayed as a high-minded military idealist who played war as a big exciting game," said Ryan, author of The Longest Day, the most readable account yet published of the Allied invasion of Normandy June 6, 1944.

South Africa Courts Conduct Experiment

PRETORIA (Reuters)—South African courts and prisons are experimenting with three new types of punishment in an attempt to find ways of making prison treatment less like retribution and more like rehabilitation.

The new form which so far has attracted most public attention is periodic imprisonment, or "weekends in jail"—sentences of between 180 and 1,000 hours to be served piecemeal. The idea is not to disrupt a prisoner's productivity. It applies to all crimes except murder, rape, robbery or those for which whipping is compulsory.

But there are two other kinds of punishment equally important in the experiment in penal reform.

One is imprisonment for corrective training. This now can be administered by the courts in cases where they think it would do some good to people who have previous convictions and apparently are heading the wrong way.

"The truth is he was a Hitler favorite bitterly resented by the career officers of the regular German Army.

"Actually, Rommel was a very ambitious man willing to trample on anybody to get ahead. He was an utter politician. He was a fine tactician, but he simply didn't have the depth of training to handle the defence of Europe against the invasion."

INTELLIGENCE BUNGLE
His study convinced Ryan that Field Marshal von Rundstedt, who nicknamed Rommel Marshal Bubi (the baby marshal), was the superior soldier. He feels that the Allied beachhead would have been in great peril—perhaps even thrown into the sea—if von Rundstedt had been allowed to carry out his plans for a concerted counterattack on the third day of the landing, instead of attacking piecemeal on D-day itself, as Rommel ordered.

But both sides bungled their own intelligence reports badly, and says Ryan: "Plans were tossed out the window on that day, and in the final irretrievable moment when the soldiers met face to face, history voted for the Allied guy."

It is impossible to get a completely clear view of what goes on in a major battle. But Ryan gives as clear a picture as we ever will get of what actually happened in those first few mighty hours as an Allied armada of 5,000 ships bearing 200,000 troops hit the Normandy coast.

Ryan, a Dublin-born war correspondent who flew over those beaches himself on D-day, set out 10 years ago to track down the survivors — French, German, English and American. His postage bill alone came to $6,000.

PAINSTAKING RESEARCH
After a search of several years (he advertised in 255 German newspapers), he located 6,300 "survivors." Further mail questionnaires reduced the figure to 3,000.

After cross-checking the accounts of some 700 individual soldiers, Ryan finally used 400 he felt stood up from all angles. He also studied scores of after-action reports, hundreds of diaries and captured German documents. He accumulated 11 file cases of material and plans to give it to a museum.

His conclusion: "I wanted to be fair to both sides, the German as well as the Allied, political affiliations or controversy. Each told his story in his own way by how he died. In the final analysis, com-

Attorney-General Antoine Rivard, who spoke frequently during the discussion, said the study committee would study the relations between Montreal and the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation and the Montreal Transportation Commission.

The private bills committee passed the charter amendments proposed by Montreal and the bill will go to the legislative council's committee next week for further discussion.

Tuesday Speaker Maurice Teller ruled out of order a Liberal opposition motion in the assembly asking members to declare they have no confidence in the minister of labor, now premier of Quebec.

DOCUMENT INCOMPLETE
Rene Hamel, Liberal for St. Maurice, made the motion, saying last Dec. 18 Mr. Barrette then simply labor minister, tabled an incomplete document.

He referred to a list of 277 employees of the Quebec minimum wage commission requested by Mr. Hamel and unanimously ordered to be produced by the assembly in December.

Mr. Hamel said the order required the minister to give the addresses of the commission's personal as well as their names as of Nov. 1. But the document listed employees as of Dec. 15.

Mr. Barrette said the motion was not serious and he would provide the addresses required if Mr. Hamel wanted them.

Indians Protest TV Versions Of Ancestors

FORT GIBSON, Okla. (AP)—Chiefs and leaders of 11 Indian tribes Tuesday night took exception to some television portrayals of their ancestors and frontier history.

In a meeting called to organize a protest to distorted versions of the American Indian and early west, it was decided to draw up a formal resolution by Feb. 1. The 50 Indian leaders at the meeting decided that copies of the resolution would be sent to President Eisenhower and heads of the television networks.

Cherokee tribal counsel Earl Boyd Pierce said Indians would be asked to combat "television's persistent erroneous portrayal of inferred incidents of Indian and frontier history."

The chiefs did not aim their criticism at any specific television program.

Honorary Flying Dutchman Skipper

Jean Pankert, president of Comptoir de l'Estrie, Sherbrooke, left, is pictured being presented with a certificate making him an honorary skipper of the Flying Dutchman, the flagship of the Royal Dutch Airlines, by K.L.M. representative Guy Brennan, at a reception last night. explaining the need for civil defence preparations; the second a dramatization of what can happen when no preparations have been made; and thirdly, nine rescues from different parts of a badly damaged house.

Also on display were mock-ups of some of the various types of wound which may be expected as a result of an atomic blast, supervised by members of the 2nd Field Ambulance.

Directing and participating in the demonstrations were: Major B. Lacasse, Major J. C. B. Forbes, Lt. P. Senecal, Lt. B. Lemieux and Lt. G. Lamontagne, of the R 22 R and Capt. A. Fraser, and WO 1 W. Earl, both RCAMC, 2nd Field Amb.

Attending the demonstrations were: Major Gen. que, Lt.-Col. D. W. Ward, CO Sherbrooke Regiment; Lt.-Col. Richard Crepeau, CO Fusiliers de Sherbrooke; Sherbrooke Police Chief Edouard Moreau, and Sherbrooke Fire Department Director Percy Donahue.

Have Different Views On CBC Film Rules

MONTREAL (CP) — Two film company executives, one from United States, the other from Canada, had widely different views Tuesday on the Board of Broadcast Governors' recent ruling that in 1953 35 per cent of Canadian television content must originate in Canada.

Alex Harrison, general sales manager for 20th Century Fox, said the regulation means Canadians are going to see a lot of "lousy TV programs."

R. Graeme Fraser, vice-president of Crawley Films Limited of Ottawa, said the ruling is "the first real break for about 60 film producers, large and small, across Canada."

of assets to a third party but its origins are even more obscure. Mr. Lambert said. It undoubtedly started under the barter system and rewards for loans (our interest) played an important part.

FROWN ON INTEREST
But here religious turned an unfavorable eye, both Christianity and Mohammedism frowning upon the use of interest. A gradual change was noticed during the Middle Ages and from the time of the Renaissance, on banking started to flourish.

Canada is blessed with a banking system second to none, Mr. Lambert declared and he briefly traced its history from the granting of the first charter to the Bank of New Brunswick in 1820.

Of the 99 banks created since then, nine have remained — strong and among the largest in the world. And Canada, he added, has more banks per capita than any other country.

The speaker was introduced by Frank Pearson and thanked by Past President Lee Watson. With them at the head table were President Lyman Tomkins, Ken Jencks, George Lafontaine, Jim Morrin, Eugene Lalonde and Jim Wark.

Guests at the meeting included Elmer Shultz, Toronto, Don Barron, Walter Lefebvre and Narcisse Amiralet.

"This is not a new idea thought up by beef breeders," said Mr. Baird, "rather breed founders used it to discover the performance of their cattle."

However, he continued, it is only recently that a program has been set up whereby records are kept on a large scale of the performance of beef cattle.

Quebec province has not yet joined the program which includes British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and New Brunswick. Ontario has their own independent program.

Mr. Harrison, in Montreal for a meeting of his Canadian sales staff, said in an interview "there is not enough talent in Canada capable of producing enough material required by a television operation."

His company produces films for television as well as for motion picture theatres.

Mr. Fraser told the Montreal Rotary Club television has been a boon to the film industry.

The Canadian industry was too small to compete successfully with foreign producers in theatre entertainment but was doing well in production of movies for TV, industry and education.

non-op workers as well paid as those in outside industry. Explaining the railways' financial plight, they argued that Canada's major railways haven't the money to meet demands that would add an extra $65,000,000 to annual costs.

One union official said the railway union's financial situation is a "hard-luck story."

The unions, banded together to bargain for such workers as telegraphers, clerks, electricians, freight-handlers and others scattered across the country, want a two-year contract increasing pay by 25 cents an hour. They have also asked for longer vacations for long-service employees and an extension of statutory holiday pay to some 4,500 seasonal extra gang workers in track repair crews.

The current talks started last November—a month before the Dec. 31 expiry date of the existing rail-union agreement—and moved slowly to the present threat of an impasse.

In order to participate in the program the breeder must have five calves of the same sex and sired by the same bull, all born within a period of 60 days.

He must have the necessary facilities for weighing the calves at six months of age and at one year.

"This is not a new idea thought up by beef breeders," said Mr. Baird, "rather breed founders used it to discover the performance of their cattle."

However, he continued, it is only recently that a program has been set up whereby records are kept on a large scale of the performance of beef cattle.

Lesage To Pick Which Riding He'll Contest

QUEBEC (CP)—Jean Lesage, Quebec Liberal leader, said Tuesday he will decide after the current session of legislature what riding he will contest in the next provincial election.

He said probably all the Liberal candidates for the election will be chosen 15 days after the end of the session.

Mr. Lesage represented the riding of Montmagny-L'Islet in the House of Commons when he resigned to become provincial Liberal leader in May, 1958.

A special thanks goes to Dr. Quintin, the nurses and nurses aides on the 3rd floor of the Sherbrooke Hospital. Also a special thanks to Rev. Guy Marston, the bearers and those who loaned cars. Money from the congregation of St. Andrew's United Church W.A., Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Philip and all other friends and relatives who contributed toward my nurse, Willowdale, Rebekah Lodge, No. 24, for the lovely napkins embroidered in gold, "Brother John Cascaden, 100 years." The guest book from my son and his wife, Lewis and Joan and to all who helped to furnish food for the occasion or helped in any way. Since I was able to leave the hospital, I am most comfortable.

Change Mayor After Tussle With Aldermen

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (CP)—

Mayor Rossaire Gauthier Tuesday was charged with simple assault following a tussle with two aldermen at a city council meeting Dec. 21.

Preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 25 on the charges laid by aldermen Roland Roy and Maurice Laquerre who became embroiled in an argument with the mayor during the council meeting.

The argument became a shoving match after the meeting broke up, witnesses said.

The argument arose during discussion of a proposal to seek preferential freight rates for aluminum from this city, 110 miles north of Quebec.

The Doctor Says

HOW TO SAVE YOUR CHILD FROM PAINFUL TOOTHACHES
By Harold Thomas Hymen, M.D.

Fluoride is a relatively rare chemical element that is closely related to the commoner chloride of sea water and table salt.

When the concentration of fluoride in drinking water approximates one part in a million, dental tissues are able to withdraw the element from the bloodstream in amounts sufficient to harden tooth enamel and thus prevent dental decay and cavity formation.

Long use of drinking water containing considerably higher concentrations of fluoride may cause mottled discoloration of teeth. But, except for this one avoidable and relatively unimportant drawback, there appears no reasonable objection to fluoridation of community water supplies as recommended by public-spirited bodies such as the New York Academy of Medicine and the American Dental Association.

For reasons unclear to me, there has been powerful organized resistance to fluoridation of community water supplies. Until this opposition can be overcome, the individual householder may protect members of the immediate family by the following procedures, as laid down by the American Dental Association and published in the journal of the American Medical Association:

Buy a bottle of 100 tablets of Sodium Fluoride, each containing 2.2 milligrams or 1/33 grain of the pure salt. An approved proprietary called Floritabs may be purchased over the counter without prescription. The cost of the bottle should not be more than $2.25 or about 3 cents a day for each person.

Store the tightly stoppered bottle on a high shelf where it is well out of the reach of toddlers.

Officers Elected By St. Paul's Ladies Guild

Mrs. G. Carleton was re-elected president of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild at the annual meeting held recently in the Parish Hall.

Rev. R. S. Jervis-Read opened the meeting with prayer and took the chair for the election of the officers which resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. G. Carleton; 1st vice-president, Mrs. D. R. Sangster; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. Lord; treasurer, Mrs. F. Staniford; secretary, Mrs. H. Buckland; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. Millar.

The mayor congratulated the officers and members for their work during the past year and told them they should not measure success by financial gain alone but by the fellowship and joy of meeting together and helping God's work in the parish.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. H. Buckland, and the financial report given by Mrs. F. Staniford showed that the past year had been a very successful one.

Mrs. Carleton thanked the members for their support during the past year and asked for their co-operation again this year.

Plans were made for an afternoon bridge to be held Jan. 21 and a rummage sale for Jan. 26. Tea was served at the close of the meeting with the members acting as hostesses.

The next meeting will be held in the Church Hall, Jan. 19, with Mrs. M. Mandigo as hostess.

Bazaars Boost Hadassah Funds

By OLI DAUM
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Hadassah-Wizo, one of the few voluntary women's organizations in Canada that raises $1,000,000 annually, disclosed Monday how it obtains some of the funds to help support almost 1,000 institutions and services in Israel.

One of its main sources of funds is a program of bazaars, held annually in almost every one of the 80 Canadian centres where Hadassah has members.

Mrs. Arnold Epstein, chairman of the Toronto bazaar — Hadassah's largest — told delegates at the 18th biennial convention which opened here Sunday that it raises a minimum of $100,000 annually during a one-day bazaar. The profit last year was $116,486.

Montreal's 1959 bazaar raised $90,000 and Vancouver's, $25,000. The three top money-raisers at last year's Toronto bazaar were a white elephant booth which made $2,000; a cocktail lounge for which a banquet liquor permit was obtained — $1,400 profit; and a sale of advertising space to businessmen on a 20-foot high replica of the lighthouse at Eilat, on the Israeli coast of the Gulf of Aqaba, which made $7,000.

Prizes in the white elephant booth included theatre passes, dry-cleaning certificates, paid restaurant dinners and car washes and other items valued between 75 cents and $100. There were 3,000 prizes for which tickets cost 25 cents.

One of Montreal's main money-raisers is a fashion show with original models donated by top international designers. Following the show, the clothes are sold. Mrs. A. Shulman, bazaar chairman, said that last year the fashion show put $2,500 in the Hadassah treasury.

The bazaars usually held in the largest building available, also utilize more ordinary fund-raising projects such as raffles, clothing and toy sales, contests with monetary and travelling prizes, games of chance, and the sale of records and flowers.

Reports on the larger bazaars will be sent to the smaller Hadassah groups in the hope that they will emulate them and raise the profit from their own bazaars.

SUTTON —

After the accident in which his car skidded off the icy highway near the Tetreault corner near the bridge on the Sutton-Abercorn road, Mr. Cecil Carr went to the B.M.P. hospital for an X-ray. No bones were fractured, although he had been badly shaken up and bruised. His automobile was badly damaged. This is only one of many somewhat similar accidents at that section of the road.

On the road to Cowansville several cars have left the highway recently or, in some cases, have piled up together. At present, there are still a few icy stretches, where a driver needs to take special care.

The Laplantes, of Ottawa, and the Sylvesters, of Farnham, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Flanagan and Miss Thelma Flanagan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Wilson and Miss Greta Wilson remained on a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson until after

New Year's Day before returning to Montreal.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats... actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-flowing mix. In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats... for easier and more complete digestion.

"When Everybody Works, Everybody Benefits"

Stimulated by intensive campaigns developed by Winter Employment Committees at the National, Regional and local community levels, all Canada has become "Do It Now" conscious.

The use of manpower the year round is of paramount importance to the economy of the whole country as well as to each community, and the failure to use available manpower, an irretrievable loss.

The annual campaigns to promote winter employment have, during the past few years, become increasingly intensive. Campaigns are developed in two phases: "Plan Now" and "Do It Now." The first phase is pursued until the end of December, and then the second or "Do It Now" stage goes into effect.

There is ample evidence of the co-operation of government at all levels. What of the contribution of the individual members of the various communities? This segment of our population can and should augment the efforts of government.

Local employment committees stand ready with the National Employment Service to advise, suggest, and assist householders and business organizations to give effect to any plans for home or business repairs and/or remodeling, by supplying workers, both skilled tradesmen and helpers.

Other proven measures being adopted to stimulate winter employment, and to maintain a good level of employment, include: the deferral of staff training courses, the liquidation of annual vacations, stockpiling, and the postponement of internal plant and equipment overhaul until the "off-months" of winter. A number of employers offer extra vacation time to staff members for leave liquidated in winter. Other firms report that stockpiling makes for a more even production pattern, and makes overtime in the rush season unnecessary. Many manufacturers and wholesalers offer goods for sale in the off-peak period, with settlement postponed until spring. This has had the effect of a) the maintenance of purchasing power, production and sales, and b) greater availability of storage space in factories and warehouses, which would make for more continuous production.

Construction is a key industry in winter employment; however, every industry benefits from winter work and the situation may well be summed up in the slogan of the Federal Government's Winter Work Campaign: "When Everybody Works Everybody Benefits."

There Are Many Advantages To Doing Construction, Alterations In Winter

It was not so long ago that spring and summer were considered to be the only times for building. Today, however, most work — such as alterations, renovations, redecoration, repair and maintenance — there are many positive advantages to doing it in the winter.

Wise Canadians take advantage of wintertime opportunities in this field in the same way as they look for the best buys in other fields at other seasons.

There are many reasons for this. Consider, for instance, the following points:

1) Skilled tradesmen are available now to do the job you want done. They may not be available for the smaller renovation or repair jobs in the busy months of next summer.

2) When tradesmen are not too rushed they can do better work and this means economy.

3) Deliveries and service on materials are better when supply houses are not so busy, and some firms offer discounts in the winter.

4) If you build a home or place of business in the winter, you will occupy it earlier than if you wait until spring to get started. This means a financial saving in rent, earlier payments on the mortgage, etc.

Besides construction projects there are all sorts of other jobs ous community.

Here then is a realistic way you can help yourself and at the same time help your community to greater prosperity. Remember, when everybody works, everybody benefits! If you need further information or advice, please get in touch with the local office of the National Employment Service.

SHS Midgets Wallop St. Pat's 6-1 For Their Second Straight Victory With Hurley Leading Way With Four Goals

S.H.S. Midgets came through their second win in as many games. Last Saturday they edged Lennoxville High Midgets 3-2 in a close game. On Tuesday the S.H.S. Midgets moved into Irish territory and walloped the St. Pat's Midgets 6-1.

In the first period the maroon and white team moved out in front 3-0 on goals by Hurley and one by Swinden.

In the second period play was even for a while as S.H.S. tallied twice while St. Pat's managed their lone marker of the game. Hurley and Pariseau scored for S.H.S. while Harte cracked the goose-egg on a quick shot for St. Pat's.

In the third, S.H.S. maintained a steady pressure scarcely allowing St. Pat's to get a rally underway. Near the final whistle, Hurley blasted in his 4th goal of the game on a pass from Lavalliere.

Standouts for the maroon and white squad were Hurley, Swinden, Mills and Cooper while Jones and Fabi did their best for St. Pat's.

Olympic Director Of Skating Events Praises Quality Of California Ice

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) How, asks a surprised Bill Kerth, could anyone doubt the quality of Squaw Valley's ice?

Don't they know, exclaims the director of skating events for the Feb. 18-28 Winter Olympics, that Juhani Jarvinen set a world record in the first time the rink was used in competition?

That was last February at the North American Games, which drew 25 of Europe's best speed skaters. In the opening event, Jarvinen sped 1,500 metres in 2:06.3.

"They'd been trying for years to beat the record by a tenth of a second," Kerth elaborated. "Jarvinen cut 2.3 seconds from it."

The same rinks will be used for the Olympics as for the North American—but some of the equipment has been improved. Kerth was director of skating events for the North American also.

EUROPEANS SKEPTICAL

Europeans came to Squaw Valley last winter openly skeptical of American ability to freeze ice properly artificially. After Jarvinen set his world record and others turned in their best individual times, the complaints ceased. Most praised the rink.

"Actually, with our ability to control the ice surface temperature by mechanical means—rather than depending upon nature's temperatures—we can more closely approach the ideal skating surface," Kerth said.

Cookshire Puts End To Richmond Braves' Winning Streak, Post 4-2 Win Over Leaders In St. Francis Loop

RICHMOND — Paced by B. Morin with two goals, the Cookshire club put fins to the surging Richmond Braves on their home ice Tuesday night before a crowd of about 250. Hector Prefontaine's charges outplayed the Braves and took a 4-2 decision over the league leaders in the St. Francis Valley Hockey League.

Morin scored Cookshire's first goal in the first period and added his second in the third. G. Reid scored what proved to be the winning goal in the third period. The win gave the Cookshire team a good hold on second place in the league standings.

The game in Richmond was played close with each club scoring a goal in the first period. Morin opened the scoring at the 10:21 mark after taking a pass from G. Roby to beat Emile Beauchemin in the local cage. Camille Houde tied the game up at 16:45 after going in on goalie C. Dionne with Wayne Crack and Frank Bergeron assisting. Morin was sitting out a penalty at the time. Both sides played it close in the first period and only three penalties were called by referees Veilleux and Beland. Roby got the first at 2:17 for elbowing and Morin had his first of two at 13:40 for tripping.

M. Hote put Cookshire ahead in the second period when he got a break-away and beat Beauchemin at 9:58. Jack Dubois, a former Brave, assisted on the play. Pat Desrosiers came close to scoring midway in the period but was thwarted at the goalmouth. Two players were penalized in this period, Hote at 1:51 for holding and Houde at 12:11 for kneeling.

The Braves got back in the running when Houde scored his second goal to tie the game at 9:11. Wayne Crack earned an assist on the play as the two went in on Dionne with Crack relaying a neat pass to Houde. But four minutes later at 13:25, Reid scored what proved the winner on a play with Talbot and Hote.

Morin scored his second marker at 16:11 unassisted when he got a clean break on Beauchemin. The agile reminder had little chance to stop the shot. That was the final goal of the game and Braves tried everything to even up the score but were stopped by the stalwart defensive work of the Cookshire squad. They had a couple of good scoring opportunities when Roby was penalized with about three minutes left to play, but the Prefontaine boys were quick and cleared the rubber several times. Cookshire goalie Dionne made 20 stops in the game with Beauchemin called on to make 17 saves in the Richmond nets.

The next games scheduled in this league are slated for Thursday night with Richmond moving to Windsor and Rock Island at Cookshire. Braves next home game will be played here Sunday afternoon Jan. 17th.

West Protests Method Selecting Olympic Squad

VANCOUVER (CP) — An official protest will be sent to the Canadian Olympic Association about the method of selecting the Olympic ski team, a western ski official said Tuesday.

Roy McConnell, director for the Vancouver Island and lower mainland section of the Western Canada Amateur Ski Association said he plans the "strongest protest possible."

He objected to elimination of Monday's racing at Rossland, B.C., from figuring in the final selections.

Nine trial races were held in Kimberley and Rossland, with points for each race. The top five men were to make the team, with the next three as spares.

Officials, however, decided that poor conditions in Monday's race should eliminate it from the qualifying races. Only four of 11 starters completed the race.

Named to the men's team were Jean-Guy Brunet of Ste. Agathe, Que., Jean Lessard of Sherbrooke, Que., Fred Tommy of Ottawa, and Don Brunetti and Verne Anderson of Rossland. Spares were Roddy Hebron of Vancouver, Bob Gilmour of Montreal and Arnold Midgley of Ottawa.

Hebron won Monday's race, with Gilmour second. Their performance placed them among the first five in the points.

Bing Crosby's Golf Tourney Set For Tuesday

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) Bing Crosby's $50,000 national pro-amateur golfing clambake was all set Tuesday for its 19th annual go-round, to be played next week over the Monterey peninsula's treacherous seaside courses.

Practically all of the top pros, including defending champion Art Wall of Ocooco Manor, Pa., along with a crack supporting cast of show business personalities, sports figures and other name amateurs, will be on hand.

With any kind of a break from the weather, like the Crosby enjoyed last year when 60,000 spectators turned out, the clambake should raise another $100,000 or so for charity. Over the years the tournament has contributed better than a half million dollars to Bing's worthy causes.

Squaw Valley Gets More Snow

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) Storms during the past weekend ended all doubts that there wouldn't be enough snow for the winter Olympic Games, Feb. 18-28.

Tuesday workers began taking away straw matting that had been placed over boulders near the ski runs. The matting was placed for protection in the event of only light snow for the games. Nearly seven feet of snow was reported in the North Bowl, near the starting point of the men's downhill ski course on Squaw Peak. There was 41 inches on the valley floor.

The weatherman predicted more storms will be arriving shortly in the next to three day intervals. The next one expected is scheduled to hit here late today and Thursday.

Deflected Goal Gives Drummondville Victory To Take Over Top Position; Spike Laliberte Pots Two For Granby

A lucky goal in the first period was all the Drummondville Rockets required to post a 1-0 victory over the Victoriaville Canadiens last night and take over first place in the E.T. Intermediate Hockey League. In the other tilt Granby Vics came through with a 5-2 decision over Asbestos Meteors on their home ice before 1,150 fans.

It was the second victory for the Roger Bedard squad on their home ice this year and it looks as though at last Manager Gaston Fausse and his pilot have finally landed a strong club to represent the Boivin City in the E.T. loop. Spike Laliberte set the pace with two goals while Guy Charbonneau, Leo Allard and John Mentis notched the others. Al Moore got both Asbestos markers.

The battle was close and it was only in the third period when two quick goals settled the issue. Al Moore got the first tally in the first period to give the Meteors the lead. It was the only one of the frame.

In the second frame John Mentis evened the count and a few minutes later Spike Laliberte notched his first goal of the evening to give the Vics a 2-1 lead. This completed the scoring although the Granby squad had another good chance when Roland Rousseau was off for slashing.

In the third period Al Moore evened the count with seconds after the opening faceoff, in fact it was twenty-seven seconds after the puck was dropped. Then two quick goals settled the issue as Charbonneau and Allard tallied before the two-minute mark had been reached. Laliberte potted the last marker of the night.

ROCKETS TAKE OVER

At Victoriaville it was a duel from the opening faceoff right until the final whistle. It was a "fluke" goal which decided the issue as it went in off Ducharme's leg. St. Jean was credited with the tally.

Eight penalties were called during the game but they didn't figure in the scoring in any manner. It was a hard battle and both goalies were forced to extend themselves in order to stop the rubber. Leon Michelin missed a wonderful chance when he had Joe Lacoursiere out of position but his shot was deflected by a defenseman's stick over the net to save the day.

In the final minute of play Coach Pepin pulled his goalie for the extra forward but the Rockets managed to keep things under control while waiting for the final bell to end the hard-fought battle.

Tomorrow evening the Canadiens will visit the Rockets and they will be gunning to make up for their setback and move into a tie for first place. In the other tilt Sherbrooke moves down to Asbestos to clash with the Meteors. This evening a meeting of the league has been called to study several new matters.

Heavyweight Champ Johansson And Adviser Reticent After Grilling By DA And NY Athletic Commission

NEW YORK (AP) — The rematch between a heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson now "looks good" to the world boxing king.

A smiling Johansson emerged from a conference Tuesday with General Melvin Krulwich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

"Do you expect to fight Patterson in June?" he was asked.

"I hope so," Johansson said. "Does it look better now than before you talked to the commission?"

"It looks good."

It had been a long day for the handsome Swede. In the morning he and his adviser, Edwin Ahlquist, were questioned for two hours at the office of the New York state attorney-general.

Irving Galt, of the attorney-general's office declined to discuss what happened. But it was learned Galt is probing any agreements made or planned for the rematch. The sale of radio, movie and television rights is believed to be the attorney-general's chief concern.

A rematch agreement signed in August with Rosensohn Enterprises, later succeeded by Feature Sports Incorporated, had been placed at the disposal of the boxing commission. The agreement was recently purchased by Roy Cohn's eight-man promotional group which has applied for a licence.

"We had a frank and friendly discussion," Krulwich said. "We gave Johansson an up-to-date statement of monies we are holding for him." He said the money totalled $153,475.17.

After he finished his legal business for the day, Johansson headed for a gymnasium to limber up for the first time since his arrival from Sweden Sunday night.

Phil Watson Says Russians In NHL Good Prospect Within Next 10 Years

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you imagine a dour Russian playing right wing for New York Rangers or a broad-beamed Czech guarding the goal for Boston Bruins?

It's not unlikely in the next decade, says Phil Watson, former coach and now chief talent-seeker for the National Hockey League Rangers.

Figuring Europe may be a future incubator for professional hockey talent, Watson said today he plans a thorough scouting of the tournament next month in the Squaw Valley Olympics.

"Who knows what might turn up? If I see anything promising, I will certainly check it out."

"I understand the Russians, Czechs and Swedes are very good. Of course, it may be tough getting a Russian to stay over here and play hockey. Again, it may not."

Watson, an energetic little man with aggressive and impulsive qualities, said his interest in European hockey has been quickened by a slump in the regular source of supply—Canada.

"It's like drilling for oil—some time you have to strike rock bottom. We almost have reached that point with the Canadians."

"In Western Canada, the boys now are going for curling and in the east they are going for skiing. Besides, they're not hungry any more. Most of the boys now are going to college and they're 24 when they get out—too old for us."

"Europe, on the other hand, has plenty of empty stomachs. It wouldn't be hard to get good athletes interested in a few American dollars. In 10 years Europe may be our major source of supply."

"I saw a big Russian with the Soviet team that visited here a year ago. I didn't get his name but he looked plenty good to me. This time I'll get both names and addresses."

Frontenacs Halt Hull For 5th Time

Kingston Frontenacs, in the Eastern Professional Hockey League cellar for most of the season, have proved a stumbling block to Hull-Ottawa Canadiens' chances of catching the leaders.

The Frontenacs belted Hull-Ottawa 6-1 Tuesday night for their fifth consecutive victory over the Canadiens.

The victory moved the Frontenacs out of a last-place tie with Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds, who lost 4-0 to Montreal Royals in the other game Tuesday night. They trail Hull-Ottawa by three points.

The Canadiens, with 38 points, are one behind Trois-Rivières Lions. The Royals, with 45 points, are six ahead of Lions and five behind the league-leading Sudbury Wolves.

NO GAMES TONIGHT

No games are scheduled tonight, the next action being Hull-Ottawa at Sault Ste. Marie Thursday.

Buddy Boone led the Frontenacs with three goals. Reg Fleming, moved up to a line with Boone and Skip Teal from defence, added his fourth and fifth goals in the last four games. Stan Maxwell scored the other Kingston goal. Bob Elliott was the lone Canadiens scorer.

At Montreal, Charlie Hodge turned aside 30 shots as he recorded his fifth shutout of the season and third against the Thunderbirds.

Roger Sawicki, Guy Black, Moe Mantha and Kelly Burnett scored the Royal goals.

McKeesport, Pa.—Bobby Stinson, 175, Cleveland, knocked out Bobby Hughes, 175, Erie, Pa., 1.

Gordie Howe To Get Another Chance To Break Richard's NHL Record

Needs Only Two Points To Break All-Time Scoring Point Record; Wings Take On Black Hawks Tonight

Gordie Howe has another chance to make hockey history tonight.

"The greatest of all the Red Wings," as the Detroit club's 1959-1960 publicity booklet calls him, needs only two points to break Maurice Richard's all-time scoring point record.

He will be gunning for them tonight when the Red Wings visit Chicago Black Hawks in the only National Hockey League game scheduled.

Richard, in his 18th season with Montreal Canadiens, has 945 points in regular-season play. Howe has 944.

If Howe moves ahead of the Rocket tonight, it may not be to stay. Richard, out of the lineup with an injury since Nov. 26, returns to action Thursday night when the Canadiens play host to Toronto.

BROKE LACH'S MARK

Richard has held the NHL's all-time point record since the 1933-34 season, when he broke the mark of 308 set by Elmer Lach of Montreal.

While Howe, in his 14th big-league season, is still going strong, the 38-year-old Richard has been slowed down by age and severe injuries in three successive campaigns.

Howe, who will be 32 in March, has said he hopes to play 20 seasons in the NHL, a feat accomplished only by the former Boston Bruin great, Aubrey (Dit) Clapper.

Closest to Richard and Howe in the all-time scoring lists is Ted Lindsay. In his third season with Chicago after many brilliant campaigns with Detroit, he has 814 points.

NO PLAYER NEAR THEM

No other player has ever gone beyond 600 points and no other active player has reached the 500-point level.

Combining regular-season and playoff activity, the record shows 1,067 points for the Rocket and 1,028 for Howe.

In all-time goal-scoring, it is still the Rocket by a wide margin. He has 531 compared to 435 for Howe, again his closest competitor.

Tonight's game is a crucial one for both Detroit and Chicago, with the Black Hawks trailing fourth - place Boston by three points and Detroit one point behind second-place Toronto.

Eastern Pro Hockey League Getting Best Up-And-Coming Referee Talent To Be Had Under New System Used

MONTREAL (CP) — The Eastern Professional Hockey League, newest pro circuit, gets the best up-and-coming referee talent that can be corralled.

Several who work regularly in the EPHL — and also in the American Hockey League — get refereeing assignments now and then in the big - time National Hockey League.

There is also a group whose work so far in the NHL has been confined to that of linesmen.

Even the two senior referees in the NHL, Eddie Powers and Frank Udvari, may get an occasional EPHL assignment if it fits into their schedules. They also work some AHL games on the same basis.

TWO FROM NHL

Up to the middle of the current season Powers had handled one EPHL game, Udvari none. Dalton McArthur, generally considered No. 3 man in the NHL, had worked several EPHL games.

Assignment of referees in all three leagues is under direction of NHL Referee - in - Chief Carl Voss. He also assigns NHL linesmen. The EPHL and the AHL have their own linesmen, usually local men.

There are 12 men under full-time contract with the NHL and five, largely NHL linesmen, who work part time.

The EPHL, comprising six cities in Quebec and Ontario, came into being last fall with the folding of the Quebec Hockey League. The QHL had its own referees and its own system for assignments.

TOP MATERIAL

"The EPHL is getting top referee material," says NHL President Clarence Campbell. "We control the terms. The EPHL has nothing to say about who handles the games or terms of employment. The referees are paid through the NHL office, which bills the league."

"With this centralized direction, the referees don't have to stand any nonsense. We have plenty of places to put them. There can be as many as nine games, among the 19 teams in the three leagues, on a single night."

"We follow the work of all and can grade them according to natural ability or experience or both. The EPHL benefits in getting capable referees and the NHL benefits through their development."

"Even those who so far have worked only as linesmen in the NHL are getting new experience and atmosphere. There is greater tension in the NHL and the atmosphere is different — as if everything depended upon each particular game."

"There is a certain tension also in EPHL games although it often may be produced by inter - city rivalry."

SEVEN REGULARS

Under contract with the NHL on full-time basis are seven officials, designated as referees, who have been with the NHL prior to the current season. The seven are:

Eddie Powers, formerly in the Western Hockey League; Frank Udvari, formerly in the Ontario Hockey Association and developed by the NHL; Dalton McArthur, from the OHA; Lou Farrelly, who came to the NHL as a free agent after working in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association and later in the WHL; Vern Buffey, bought from the WHL; Matt Pavelich, formerly in amateur hockey and developed by the NHL; and Art Skov, also developed by the NHL.

In particular, Farrelly, Buffey, Pavelich and Skov referee regularly in the EPHL or AHL, with an occasional shot at the NHL.

New men this year, working only as linesmen in the NHL but as referees elsewhere, are John Ashley, from the OHA; Loring Doolittle, also from the OHA, and Jack Patterson, free agent from Detroit who had worked in the border area.

QUICK SHIFTS

Schedule arrangements sometimes call for different roles on successive days. For instance, Doolittle may work as linesman in an NHL game in Montreal on a Saturday night and then referee a Sunday afternoon EPHL game in Montreal.

Also under full-time contract are two men who work only as NHL linesmen. They are George Hayes, long the senior NHL linesman, and Neil Armstrong, formerly in the OHA.

Those on a part-time basis, who work largely as NHL linesmen, are Bob Frampton and Dave Clutsum of Montreal, Bill Morrison of Whitby, Ont., Bruce Sims of Kitchener and Harold Jackson of Indianapolis.

The NHL voluntarily pays branches of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association when officials are brought up to the NHL.

The payment is $500 when an official signs for NHL referee work and another $500 if he signs a contract for a second year. The branch is paid $250 if a man is brought up as NHL linesman or as junior referee; another $250 if he signs for the second year in the same category. If he eventually graduates to the NHL as referee, the remainder of the $1,000 is paid.

Kenny Lane And Ralph Dupas Meet Tonight

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Welterweight boxers Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., and Ralph Dupas of New Orleans clash in a 10-round bout tonight. Each hopes for victory as a stepping stone to a world title bout.

Dupas, an elusive fighter, won a decision over Lane in 1955 and the rugged Lane reversed the decision the next year. The fight will be televised by ABC starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Faloney Turns Down Offer

HAMILTON (CP) — Quarterback Bernie Faloney of Hamilton Tiger-Cats has been approached by Los Angeles Chargers of the new American Football League, but indications are he will remain here.

The 27-year-old product of the University of Maryland said Tuesday he was telephoned by Ron Waller, a former Maryland teammate and now part owner of the Chargers. Waller told him the club wants an experienced quarterback and his name came up.

"I am happy with my family here in Hamilton and unless things change I would not want to leave," Faloney said.

Jack McIntyre Shipped Down

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings today sent veteran Jack McIntyre to Hershey of the American Hockey League, and called up young Brian Smith to replace him.

Faloney is the second member of the Big Four team to be approached by the Chargers. An offer was received recently by Gerry McDougall, the Titans' big Canadian fullback who played college football at UCLA.

Pennington's Open Criticism Of Dutchmen Won't Jeopardize His Club Status Says Manager Goman

KITCHENER — Cliff Pennington's criticism of Kitchener Waterloo Dutchmen's preparations for the Olympic hockey tournament next month won't jeopardize his status with the club.

Team manager Ernie Goman said "we haven't discussed the Pennington situation at all, and as far as we're concerned he's still with the club."

Pennington, 19-year-old former junior star with Flin Flon Bombers, said Monday the Dutchmen need a permanent coach and players should be told who will be making the trip to Squaw Valley, Calif., site of the games Feb. 18-28.

Bobby Bauer, interim coach since Bill Durnan resigned about three weeks ago, said he is taking Pennington's comments in "good stride" and personally liked the Manitoba player.

FOLLOWS WARWICK LEAD

Pennington's comments followed remarks made by Dick Warwick, 32-year-old former member of the 1955 world champion Penttinen Vs who tried out with the Dutchmen but didn't make it because he was in poor shape.

Warwick also criticized the Dutchmen, saying their preparation was inadequate, they lacked solidarity and their organization was inept.

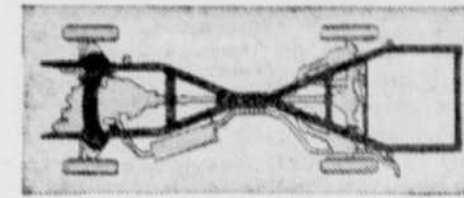

"I feel Cliff has been under some kind of influence from Warwick," said Goman. The two players have been rooming together. "When Warwick came here, he indicated to us that he was in top playing shape," said Goman. "He obviously wasn't and I don't know how he expected to make the team as a player."

"I can't help wondering if Warwick came here with the idea of taking over as coach."

CHEVY'S SUPERLATIVE WAYS

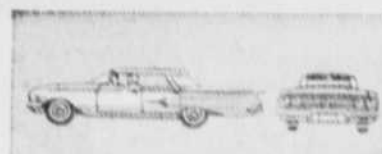

STURDY SAFETY-GIRDER FRAME

Here's the solid basis for your driving safety. Chevy's Safety-Girder frame is X-built, not just X-braced as on some cars, to give you all the protection of strong box-girder side rails reinforced by extra-rigid "X" design. Your safety comes first with Chevy.

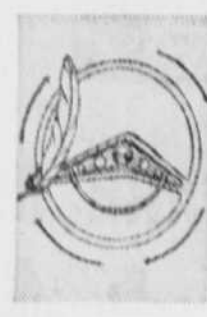

SMOOTH FULL-COIL SUSPENSION

Ruts, holes, bumps seem to vanish like magic for the '60 Chevy. Husky coil springs at each wheel sop up road shocks and vibrations before they can reach the passenger compartment. Fun-test Chevy's ride soon.

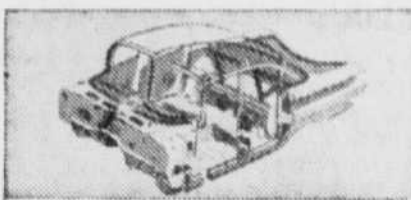

STABLE WHEELBASE AND WIDE TREAD

The firm footing for Chevrolet's Custom-Comfort Ride! Chevy's long wheelbase and wide tread give you a new kind of solid, well-balanced ride, plus a remarkable ability to take rough going in its smooth new stride.

LIVELY BALL-RACE STEERING

Next best thing to power steering... and it's standard on every Chevy. Precision steel balls rolling in a spiral track relay your every steering command with less effort on your part, but with better response at the front wheels.

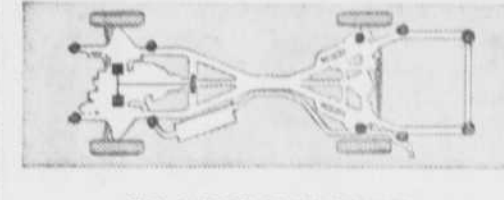

RIGID UNISTEEL CONSTRUCTION

Another great Chevrolet safety feature. The rigid roof, body and floor panels, all of rugged heavy-gauge steel, are welded together into a solid, strong unit. Quiet-riding, too, for your driving pleasure.

SAFETY-MASTER BRAKES

The brakes you need for today's driving conditions — sure, safe, longer-lasting. Bonded lining area is extra-big, and extra-efficient air cooling carries off the heat responsible for fading and rapid wear.

NEW, LARGER BODY MOUNTS

You're serenely relaxed and "hushed" in a '60 Chevy, thanks to new formula rubber body mounts. New softness, new silence, two more good reasons why your new car should be a '60 Chevrolet.

CONVENIENT WIDE DOOR OPENINGS

Chevy's the easiest car in its field to get into... doors open extra wide. And listen to a Chevy door "wump" shut. That's solid, safe Body by Fisher protection.

TO INCREASE

SPACIOUS LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT

That sleek rear deck keeps a big secret... a huge 30-cubic feet of trunk space. In Chevy you have enough usable, practical space to stow everyone's gear.

V8 ZIP ON REGULAR GAS

That's Chevy's terrific new standard economy TURBO-FIRE V8. It's specifically designed to give you all the exhilarating performance of an Eight coupled with top gasoline economy. Put one through its paces soon.

FAMILY-SIZED ROOMY SEATING

Sofa-wide, sofa-comfortable, the '60 Chevy seats six big people at their relaxed, living room best. And there's extra leg room, extra head room, too. Pared down transmission tunnel gives the "middle man" more room.

LIGHTER NO-COST EXTRAS

The convenience of crank-operated ventpanes, cigarette lighter and dual sun visors, plus the comfort of front armrests are yours as standard equipment on every low-cost new Chevrolet.

CONSTANT SPEED ELECTRIC WINDSHIELD WIPERS

New peace of mind is standard equipment with Chevy. New electric windshield wipers never slow down during peak acceleration periods. And their wide arcs ensure clear visibility.

LONG-LASTING RUSTPROOFING

Every Chevy undergoes the industry's most thorough rust-proofing process for unsurpassed, long-lasting value.

NEW FOOT-OPERATED PARKING BRAKE

Easier, safer to release, and with new better-gripping action. Set the brake by pressing down on the pedal. A T-handle pops out below the dash to show brake is "on". Just pull out the handle to release the brake.

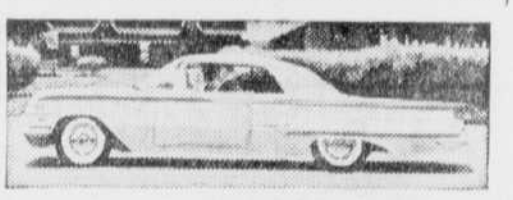

SAFETY DOOR LOCK

Triple-safe action keeps doors securely closed at all times. And just one key fits all doors and locks. And the ignition can be set to work without a key.

LUSTROUS MAGIC-MIRROR FINISH

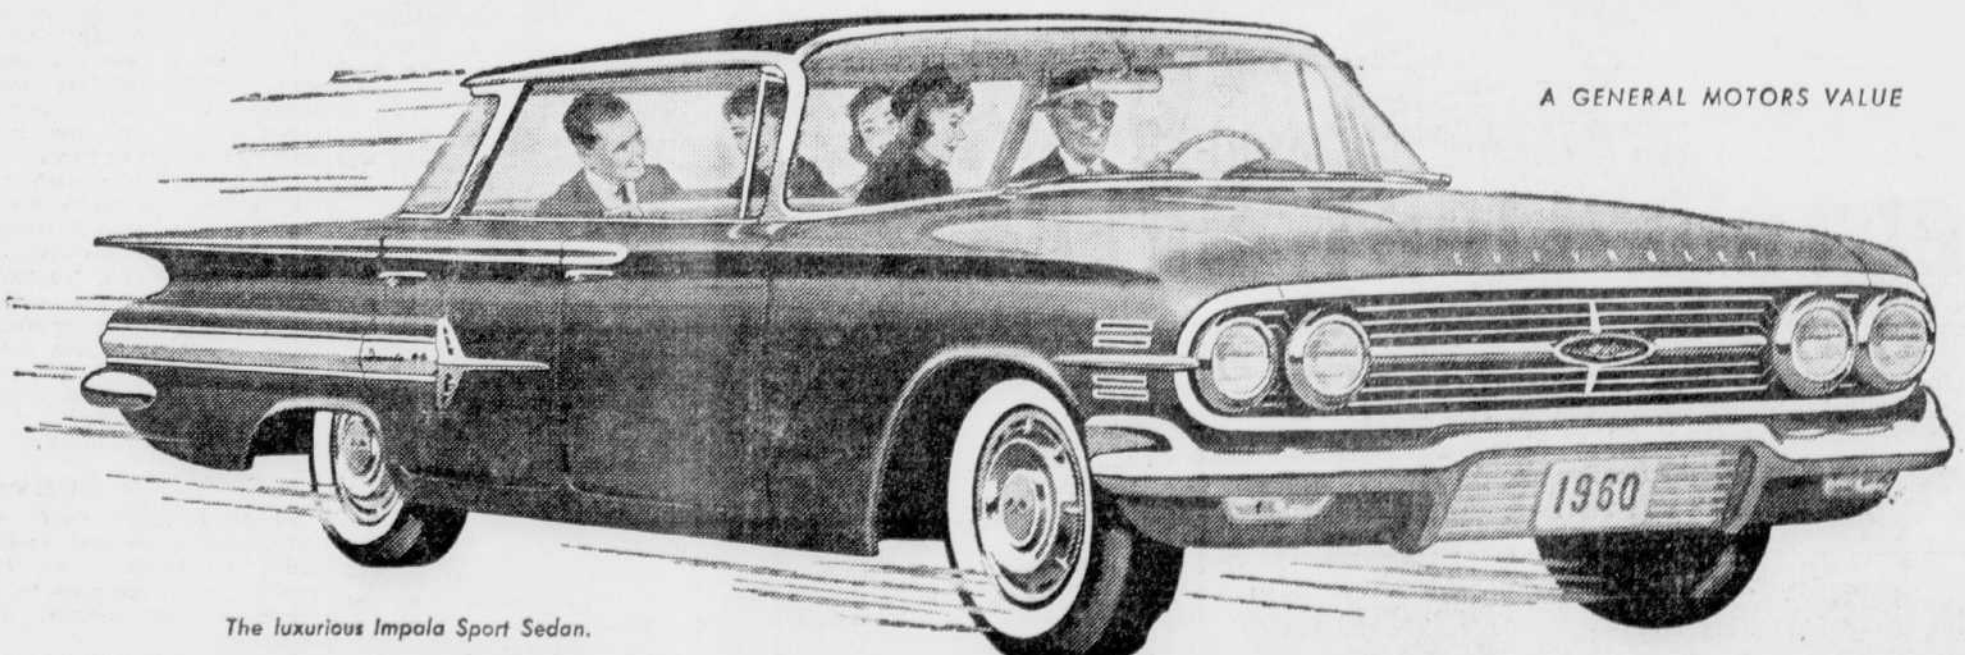

Another reason why your Chevy outshines others in its field. Chevy's deep, jewel-bright colors are "locked in" can be restored to "new" brilliance by simple washing... for years!

ECONOMY HI-THRIFT 6 WITH V8 SPIRIT

Undoubtedly, the economy leader among full-sized engines. Has all the spirit and pep of a V8, with true "6" economy. Quiet-operating hydraulic valves give smooth performance, never need adjustment. Put Chevrolet to your test soon.
