By VINCENT SHEEAN,

Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star and North American Newspaper Alliance with the Riff Armies.

In order that Canadian readers may have the true story of the Riff war, transmitted direct from the scene of the fighting, The Star, and its associated papers of the North American Newspaper Alliance has sent Vincent Sheean to Northern Africa. Mr. Sheean, a recognized authority on Morocco, is the only newspaper correspondent with the armies of Abd-el-Krim. His stories, sent without censorship, will come intermittently from now on.

RIFF GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Targhzuit, Sept. 9.—(By Courier to Tangier, Sept. 25.)—Bombarded on all sides by sea, land and air, and cut off from all supply centres of food, arms and ammunition, Abd El Krims' little "Rebel State" is still carrying on. It is not only carrying on, but is actually displaying greater spirit and greater unity in the face of these new dangers than it showed when Spain alone was the enemy.

In my four days journey across the Djebala Country from Tangier, and in one day here at General Headquarters I have seen no evidence of panic in the face of the might of France.

LIBERALS HAVE BUSY PROGRAM

Four Ministers Will Speak For Premier Over Week-End

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (C. P.) — Four members of Premier King's Cabinet will make campaign speeches over the week end, three of them in Mr. King's own interest as candidate for the riding of North York. In addition to the address tonight by Hon. Vincent Massey, newly appointed Minister without portfolio, to electors of Durham at Port Hope, Mr. Massey, Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. G. N. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, will support the Premier, the first two in Newmarket Monday and Mr. Gordon in Stouffville Wednesday.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen will speak in Kingston tonight, before leaving for Ottawa, where he will spend a few hours prior to his departure for his Western campaign. During the journey west he will stop at Renfrew and deliver an address. His original plan of speaking tonight at Napanee has been cancelled.

Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, speaks this afternoon at Kingston, where Liberals will nominate a candidate to contest the riding against A. E. Ross, the Conservative nominee and member for the constituency in the last Parliament.

Liberals will gather also at Owen Sound to nominate a contestant for the riding of North Grey, where M. R. Duncan, former member is Conservative nominee.

Hon. T. W. R. Lowe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. G. N. Gordon and Hon. Duncan Marshall, provincial organizer, were in conference at Liberal headquarters here today.

MRS. MASSEY VERY ACTIVE IN FIGHT

TORONTO, Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Hon. Vincent Massey, recently appointed a member of the Cabinet of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, and who is now conducting his campaign in the County of Durham, has no more resourceful or devoted lieutenant than his wife. Mrs. Massey has thrown herself heart and soul into her husband's campaign. "From now on I am ready for any work that comes to hand," she says. "Just give me the job and I'll do it. I'll work 24 hours a day if necessary."

TORONTO MAN COMMITTS SUICIDE

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (C. P.) — Edward Barr, 41, committed suicide early today by inhaling illuminating gas. Despondency over financial difficulties and the fact that he had been out of work for some time are thought to have been the reasons for his act.

CANDIDATES NAMED IN MANY RIDINGS

Majority of Eastern Ontario Nominations Have Been Made

OTTAWA UPSET

Liberals Seeking a Man When Edwards Goes to Russell

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—(Star Special by Own Correspondent). — In about three quarters of the constituencies in Eastern Ontario nominations have been made for the coming elections. Conservatives are first in the field in Ottawa with two candidates; Dr. Chabot and Stewart McClenaghan, who are considered strong, although a very influential element would have preferred H. P. Hill, K.C., to the latter.

Liberals are at sea for an English candidate to run with E. R. E. Chevrier, former M.P. Reliance had been placed upon Gordon Edwards who had intimated his readiness to run but suddenly switched to Russell County. There is no certainty that he will be chosen by the Russell convention because French-Canadians predominate in the constituency and Alfred Goulet, former M.L.A., has long been organizing for the convention. Efforts are being made to induce Mr. Edwards to stay in Ottawa and a good deal of confusion results. It is by no means helpful to the Liberal cause.

In Carleton both parties have candidates in the field. W. F. Garland, former M.P., Conservative and N. V. Cummings, Liberal. Carleton has always returned a Conservative to the Dominion Parliament. Dr. Preston, former M. P., was nominated yesterday by Lanark Conservatives. So far no Liberal has been found to oppose him. A bitter fight is promised in South Renfrew where Hon. T. A. Low is the Liberal candidate, while his opponent, Dr. Maloney has several times been unsuccessful. Isaac Pedlow, former Liberal M.P., has switched his allegiance and this time is supporting the Conservatives. In North Renfrew the same candidates as in 1921 will fight it out—Dr. McKay former Liberal M.P., and Dr. Cotnam, Conservative.

PRESCOTT MIX-UP.

Prescott County is in a mixup. Five Liberals seek the nomination and the riding executive decided that in view of past experience with packed conventions, they all should go to the polls. Party headquarters, however, are endeavoring to have a convention. It is believed that Binette, erstwhile Progressive who crossed the floor, will be edorsed by the Government. Conservatives are watching developments before choosing a candidate.

In Glengarry County both parties have been nominated and the Progressives are to hold a Convention. Probably J. W. Kennedy, former Progressive M.P., will run again. Conservatives have made no selection in Stormont while the man who got the Liberal convention, G. I. Gogo, a Cornwall lawyer, is repugnant to the executive and the difficulty has not been straightened out. The influential element want Mayor Snetsinger of Cornwall. Party conventions are yet to be held in Grenville-Dundas, which are merged. Preston Elliott will likely run again as a Progressive. The Conservative candidate has not been chosen.

Premier King goes west tonight and Hon. Arthur Meighen tomorrow night. Hull and vicinity are much "pepped up" over the big meeting of Hon. E. L. Patenaude tomorrow night. There will be delegations from all the western Quebec district.

BUFFALO MURDERER IS FOUND GUILTY

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 25 —(A. P.) — A verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, was returned today by the jury trying Mike Kosmowski, of Darien Centre, for the murder of 19-year-old Mildred Durkee, of Hornell.

The jury deliberated less than an hour.

The girl was shot twice and killed while riding in an automobile with Kosmowski on July 17. Her body was found 15 miles from the city in the Werkley woods, where her murderer had driven her after the shooting.

BURGLARS ATTEMPT FAIRBANK'S HOME

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25 — (A. P.) — What was described by the watchman at the home of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford as an attempt by four gunmen to break into the Pickford-Fairbanks home in Beverley Hills near here was reported to the police early today. The police are investigating.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25.—(A.P.) —Official announcement is made that Gilberto Valenzuela, former Secretary of the Interior, has been appointed Mexican Minister to Great Britain.

PATENAUDE STANDS AS CHIEF TARGET OF GRIT SPEAKERS

PREVOST CHOSEN

Minister of Marine Declares Canada Has Sufficient Tariff

ST. JEROME, Que., Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Some bitter comment featured the addresses of several of the speakers at the convention here yesterday, which chose J. E. Provost as Liberal standard-bearer in Terrebonne County. Among those who spoke were Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. Athanase David, Provincial Secretary, and Armand Lebeau, president of the Young Liberal Association of Montreal. Mr. Cardin assailed the Hon. E. L. Patenaude, describing him as a "wolf in sheep's clothing, seeking to get into the sheepfold, and only too willing to deliver Quebec into the hands of Mr. Meighen and 'Bob' Rogers."

Mr. Lebeau informed his hearers that Mr. Meighen had become Premier over Sir Henry Drayton and Sir Thomas White and Sir George Foster, because he "represented the Orangemen and Freemasons."

Hon. Mr. David spoke briefly.

Mr. Prevost, the candidate, characterized himself as a warm supporter and follower of Premier King, the grandson of a great patriot, and one who had given the country wise rule in the past four years, a true Canadian who would never sacrifice the interests of Canada to foreign interests, not even to the interests of the Empire. He had stood beside Laurier in 1917 when others had betrayed the chieftain, declared Mr. Prevost. Mr. King was the enemy of British Imperialism in all its forms, he said. The speaker denounced the Leader of the Opposition as the same man he had been in the past and even had come into the Province of Quebec saying that if the same circumstances arose he would act as he had done. Mr. Patenaude, pursued Mr. Prevost, would bear watching, for he was up to tricks, seeking to divide Quebec.

U.S. PRAISED.

Hon. Mr. Cardin charged that emigration from Canada to the United States was due to the lauding of that country by Conservatives as a promised land. The Minister felt that Mr. Meighen had "dirtied" many pages of Canadian history, and he and his friends were responsible for most of the ills affecting the country. Mr. Cardin dealt with the economic situation of Canada and justified the National book-keeping with respect the railways accounts. With regard to the tariff, he said that Canada had a sufficient tariff now to protect industries that deserve to be protected and have a right to live in Canada. He suggested that instead of reading editorials in Conservative newspapers it would be better to read the financial pages which showed that times were better in Canada than in the United States.

Touching on Hon. E. L. Patenaude's re-entry into the Federal field, the Minister of Marine said that the former's action was an attempt to repeat the 1919 "manoeuvre" but he did not think that Mr. Patenaude could be a Henri Bourassa. Mr. Patenaude, he charged, was a "wolf in sheep's clothing, seeking to get into the fold, only too willing to deliver Quebec into the hands of Mr Meighen and 'Bob' Rogers." He prophesied that Mr. Patenaude would be defeated personally in Jacques Cartier. Mr. Patenaude wanted the people to believe that he was the Messiah, continued Mr. Cardin, but he refused to name his chief.

FOLLOWING BLAKE.

Mr. Lebeau declared that the young Liberals of Montreal were following in the footsteps of Blake, Cartwright, Laurier and King. He then observed that Mr. Meighen became Premier over other aspirants because he (Mr. Meighen) represented the Orangemen and the Freemasons.

Was not this the same Mr. Meighen who in 1917 said he would sacrifice the last man and the last dollar to save England? demanded Mr. Lebeau. Was it not Mr. Meighen who was always prompt to say: "Ready, aye ready," when asked to send soldiers to war? he asked. Was it not he who had muzzled Sir Wilfrid Laurier? Mr. Lebeau declared that the funds for Hon. Mr. Patenaude's campaign were being furnished by Hon. 'Bob' Rogers, whom he characterized as "the greatest enemy of the French-Canadian race."

GALLANT GALLAGHER IN N.Y. COURT

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — Gallant Ed. Gallagher, of the famous Gallagher and Shean team, was in court yesterday and said, "let the ladies have it all. They get it anyway." This was after he had come to an agreement with Miss Marie Chase, whom he charged with larceny of $90.

Miss Chase counter charged that Gallagher had her trunk. Gallagher made a gesture meaning absolutely and said he would return the trunk and overlook the money.

FLAGSHIP BOWDOIN AGAIN HEARD FROM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(U.P). —The MacMillan Arctic expedition flagship Bowdoin, after being lost from communication for 48 hours in heavy equinoctial gales, today re-established radio communication with the Peary, the expedition's airplane-carrier.

The Peary, now near Battle Harbor Labrador, reported to the National Geographic Society that its crew was "extremely worried" until word was received that the Bowdoin was lying in a cove off the Greenland coast near Godthaab.

Writer Says Colonel Amery Not Fit to Control Peanut Stall

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(C. P. Cable)—A vitriolic attack upon Lieut.-Col. L. C. Amery, Secretary of State for the Dominions, appears from Lovat Fraser in today's Daily Mail.

Lovat Fraser, who is chief literary adviser and contributor to the Sunday Pictorial and Daily Mirror, and was formerly on the editorial staff of the London Times and for several years was editor of the Times of India, has done a good deal of belaboring of various notabilities at different times in the Daily Mail, and this paper's opposition to Col. Amery's present Mesopotamian policy is pronounced.

He is "like all people of his type," says Fraser, "more English than the rest of the English and he is the most conspicuous example of imperial megalomania we possess. He does not reveal the smallest instinct of economy in handling the taxpayers' money.

"I have known men who have associated with Colonel Amery in the various stages of his career and they all have declared that in respect of his abilities they would not appoint him to control a peanut stall.

"Why does he carry all before him in the Cabinet? Because he works, and most of the other ministers do not work much," Fraser declares.

PARIS AUTHOR MAY GET BIG FORTUNE

Mrs. Walter Hutchine Receives News About $2,000,000 Estate

HECTIC CAREER

Married Four Times—Twice to Millionaires, Now Broke

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(U.P.) — Twice married to millionaires but now in her words "broke" and forced to earn a living with her pen, Mrs. Walter Hutchins, known under the nom de plume of "Belle Livingstone," heard today from a Nebraska farmer that she might be heir to a $2,000,000 estate.

The man from "the great open spaces," J. C. Curtis, brought into Mrs. Hutchins' modest apartment a story more fantastic than anything the woman could write out of her picturesque career, which includes four marriages, ventures into the far corners of the earth, a fling at society and the stage.

Curtis' wife had read memoirs of Mrs. Hutchins published under the title "The Most Dangerous Woman in Europe," and out of that she believed she discovered the heir to the fortune of a man named Clifton, who years before had gone out prospecting and had not returned. Mrs. Hutchins herself had written that she was "born under a Kansas sun-flower" but did not recall her parents. In fact, Mrs. Hutchins' mother died in child-birth and then the father, seized perhaps with grief and the wanderlust, had gone on a prospecting venture from which he never returned to claim the baby. Mrs. Hutchins was adopted by John Graham, then editor of the Emporia, (Kansas) Gazette, and when she grew to womanhood she, too, heard the call of the distant corners of the earth.

TRAVELLED WIDELY

Her career of four marriages, society, and the stage took her to London, Paris, the Near East, and the Orient. Later she settled in Paris, where she is now a favorite in the Latin Quarter—that cosmopolitan district where gather the Bohemians, the painters, writers, and wanderers of the earth.

Curtis' father was lawyer for Clifton's estate and the Nebraska farmer, urged on by his wife's discovery, decided to seek out Mrs. Hutchins in Paris. He told her Clifton had left an estate of $125,000, which had grown in 45 years to nearly $2,000,000, and he was convinced that Mrs. Hutchins was the legal heir. However, he pointed out that Clifton had another daughter by a previous marriage in England, so he was advertising to locate this daughter before taking final action on behalf of the Paris writer.

Meantime, the Latin Quarter, full of romance and tragedy, rejoiced with its favorite at her good fortune, and yet feared that the great fortune might take from them one they loved.

JAIL TO HOSPITAL COSTS HIM $1,000

Chicago "Beer Baron" Tells Court of Prison Transfer

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 — (U. P.) — Frankie Lake, debonair Chicago "beer baron," took the witness stand in Federal Court today and began telling his version of the Cook county jail scandal.

"It cost me $1,000 to get transferred from a dirty cell to the jail hospital," Lake told Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, who is conducting a contempt inquiry into jail conditions which are said to have made it possible for wealthy prisoners to serve their sentences amid all the comforts and luxuries of home.

The money, Lake declared, was paid to Henry Foerst, secretary to former Warden Wesley Westbrook, dismissed by Sheriff Hoffman when the jail scandal first came to light. Before accepting the $1,000 Foerst made a trip to a Northwoods sanitorium where Westbrook was resting to consult his chief, Lake said.

SOLDIERS WOUND CHINESE WORKERS

SHANGHAI, Sept. 25 — (A. P.)— Fengtien soldiers, guarding the Japan-China cotton mill, located at Pootung, across the river from Shanghai, fired on disaffected workers last evening, wounding nine persons, of whom three were women. The firing occurred when the managers of the mill requested the soldiers to disperse workmen, who had refused to work.

BRITISH FOSTER PROTECTIVE BODY

Organization for the Maintenance of Supplies Established

FIGHT STRIKERS

Notables Head Association —Enlist Workers in Time of Stress

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(Star Special Cable, By J. E. Poole, Staff Correspondent)—A general impatience in the British public, aroused through the reiterated threats of general strikes by Labor extremists, has resulted in the establishment of an organization which promises to take the sting out of future, unwarranted brow beating of this character.

The organization terms itself "The Organization for the Maintenance of Supplies," and has such names at its head as that of Lord Hardinge, president. The Council is composed of the Duke of Scarborough, Earl of Rangley, Earl Jellicoe, Viscount Falkland, Sir James Rodd, Admiral Sir Alexander Duff, Lieutenant-General Sir Francis Lloyd, Sir Lynden Macassey, Lieutenant-Colonel Archer Shee, Colonel Sir Courtauld Thomson, Dr. Walter Seton and Geoffrey Drage.

The organization is engaged in registering throughout Britain the names of men and women willing to pledge themselves, in the event of an emergency, to act under the direction of the society in maintaining and protecting the vital services, such as railways and other transports, the distribution of food supplies, sanitary work and lighting. The organization's articles forbid any entanglement in politics or any attempt to use the society against the legitimate efforts of the trades Unions to better their condition.

This new organization already covers 22 London boroughs. The members agree to their allotment in the following groups:—first, for protection purposes, age 45, all men ready to be enrolled as special constables in time of crisis; second, railway work, omnibus, tramway and tube services, electrical power maintenance and food distribution; third, general transport drivers for cars, lorries, motorcycles, and messenger service to assist if there is a breakdown of postal services.

This movement, if successful, which seems likely in the present temper of the mass of Britishers, will probably teach a much needed lesson to the labor extremists and at the same time strengthen the hands of the sane labor leaders.

CALDER IS IN FIELD AGAINST R. S. WHITE

Will Initiate His Campaign Monday Night—Anticipate Fight

A warm fight in the general election campaign is promising in the constituency of Mount Royal where R. L. Calder, K.C. is in the field for the Liberal nomination opposing R. S. White, the Conservative nominee. Mr. Calder is well known throughout the city not only because of his work in his former capacity as crown prosecutor but also because of his prominence in different public undertakings.

While the official Liberal nominating convention has not yet been held Mr. Calder will initiate his campaign Monday evening when he will deliver an address in the Fire Hall at the corner of Botrel street and Notre Dame de Graces avenue.

Mr. Calder is generally regarded by both Liberals and Conservatives as being capable of putting up a strong fight. He is a resident of Westmount and because of his exceptional debating powers is looked upon as a candidate who will put up an active and interesting campaign.

It is understood that the Liberal candidate will introduce a new note in political campaigning.

Mr. Calder's entry into the political arena is causing a degree of interest throughout the constituency.

ITALIAN KING ATTENDS MOCK WAR

MAZZE, ITALY, Sept. 25—(U. P.) —The King was today an interested spectator at the Northern Italian Army's mock war. The King headed a procession of 20 automobiles over a pontoon bridge, thrown up by the army engineers.

The "blues," under General Ferrari, won the war game when they took up a counter offensive against the "reds" attacking from Borgomasino and Lake Viverone.

BOIVIN REPLIES TO STATEMENTS BY PATENAUDE

Asserts He Was Always Opposed to Conscription

EXPLAINS HIS JOB

Voted Against Meighen Though Deputy Speaker, He Claims

MAGOG, Que., Sept. 25. — (Star Special). — Hon. Georges H. Boivin, Minister of Customs and Excise, replied here last night to the opening speech of Hon. E. L. Patenaude, and more particularly to the references Mr. Patenaude had made to him.

He was speaking in favor of the candidature of W. K. Baldwin, in Stanstead county, and owing to the fact that he will not be able to speak in Montreal until he goes to the West, he took this opportunity to discuss Mr. Patenaude's statements.

"I hope," he said, by way of preface, "that Mr. Patenaude, who is against King, who is opposed to a third party, and who says he will not follow Meighen, will inform us what party he does belong to, or will belong to when he takes his seat in the House of Commons, if he is not defeated, as he deserves, by the vote of Jacques Cartier electors.

"I hope he will tell us why on May 11, 1916, when he was member and Minister, he voted against the resolution of Ernest Lapointe, suggesting the Legislative Assembly of Ontario be wise enough not to deprive French-Canadian children in that province of the privilege of receiving education in their native tongue.

"I hope he will tell us why, on July 5, 1917, after voting for the Barrett amendment, he voted with the members of the Borden Government whom he had just abandoned, against the Copp amendment, asking that the conscription law be put over until steps had been taken to provide for the dependents of enlisted soldiers.

"I hope he will tell us why on September 10, 1917, while still a member, he did not protest even by his vote against the imposition of the closure to pass the War Times Election Act, which enabled the Unionist and Conscriptionist Government of Borden to return to power."

While making up the inventory for which Mr. Patenaude had asked, Mr. Boivin said he would take the opportunity of replying to the charges made against him. He had always opposed conscription everywhere. In so doing, he had followed his chief Laurier, and all the Liberal members for Quebec. He had voted against the Barrett amendment, which had no other object but that of dividing the members from Quebec and rousing against them the much more numerous groups of members from all other parts of Canada.

He had voted for the Laurier amendment and for the Copp amendment, and if he had been mistaken, then Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been mistaken and all the Liberal members from Quebec were mistaken, and the electors of Quebec province had been mistaken in 1917 and again in 1921 in giving their confidence to those members. All this time Mr. Patenaude had stayed at home without once stepping out to warn them that they were on the wrong road.

He had confidence in the citizens of his province, and believed that they were not mistaken in 1917 or in 1921.

He admitted having accepted the office of Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons. That was explained by the statement of Mr. Borden, in proposing him for the position. Mr. Borden said: "By an invariable custom when the Speaker's chair is occupied by an English-speaking member, the Deputy Speaker is chosen from the French-speaking members."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in supporting the nomination, had agreed the Premier had properly interpreted the rule, and had shown a spirit of justice to all elements of the population which, it was to be hoped, would always prevail. Mr. Boivin cited at length the remarks made by Sir Wilfrid regarding his nomination, which were of a compilmentary nature, and then cited the address of Mr. Currie, of Simcoe, a companion of Mr. Patenaude, who opposed his nomination because of his opposition to conscription.

Thus, Mr. Currie did not agree with Mr. Patenaude as to Mr. Boivin having agreed on the principle of the conscription law.

The trifling emoluments that he received in that position as deputy speaker were not voted by the Meighen Government, but were provided by law, and every time he had occasion to vote, although holding deputy speaker's position, he voted against the Government and according to the will of his electors.

WOMEN!!!

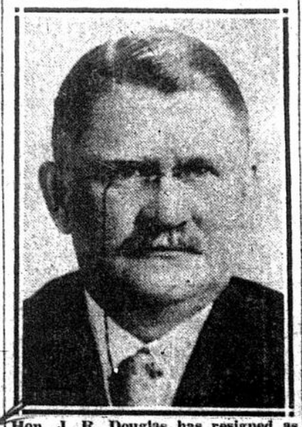

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only five days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country, calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right, but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

TWO ARE DEAD IN ONTARIO TRAGEDY

Dr. J. B. Mann and Wife of Peterboro, Perish in Fire

ON HOLIDAY

Victims Were Spending Three Weeks on River—Escape Cut Off

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 25.—(C. P.) —Dr. J. B. Mann, aged about 40 and his wife, of Peterborough, were burned to death in a fire which broke out at 1 o'clock this morning in a wooden cottage at Fernbank, three miles west of here on the St. Lawrence, which they were occupying in company with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brightman, also of Peterborough as guests of Dr. Geo. Imrie, of Rochester, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Brightman escaped by jumping from an upper window, Dr. Imrie being absent at his home.

Dr. and Mrs. Mann, came here on Tuesday intending to spend three weeks on the river. They occupied a front room in the two storey cottage, while Mr. and Mrs. Brightman were in a room at the rear. The latter awoke to find the place filled with smoke and apparently jumped from the window where they were found a few minutes later by William Brightman, of Rochester, sleeping in an adjoining cottage, who was awakened by the flames.

After having dragged them to safety, Brightman attempted to rescue the other occupants. He procured a ladder and broke the window in their room from which black smoke rushed. Before he could enter, the entire room was filled with flames and further work was impossible.

The flames and smoke evidently cut off the escape by means of a stairway, if Dr. and Mrs. Mann ever awakened from their sleep.

The cottage was totally destroyed, simply a heap of ashes being left upon the rock where it stood. Amid them the charred bodies of Dr. and Mrs. Mann were found side by side.

How the fire originated is unknown. The occupants retired leaving a fire burning in a fire place, but this was protected by a screen. There was no other fire in the place.

Dr. W. E. Harding, coroner, has ordered an inquest.

Conservative Leader Addresses Audience from Truck at Depot

CAMPBELLTON, N.B., Sept. 25.—(C. P.) — Although the Maritime Provinces schedule of meetings to be addressed by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was exhausted at St. John, Wednesday night, the Conservative leader was not to cross the border into Quebec without making another speech. When the train on which Mr. Meighen was travelling arrived here at 7.30 last evening a crowd was at the station and although it was raining, Mr. Meighen stepped from his car, mounted a baggage truck and made a speech.

He made optimistic reference to the probable result on Oct. 29 and told his listeners that he had received word from British Columbia to the effect that the Liberals would not win a seat in that Province. He declared that if the Government felt satisfaction at conditions in the country he felt equally so. He left the Maritime Provinces with a feeling of confidence in the result of the election in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, he declared.

JUDGE FINLAYSON DEAD IN HALIFAX

Found on Floor of Hotel While Daughter Waited in Auto

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 25—(C.P.)—Judge Duncan Finlayson, of Sydney, was found dead in his room at a local hotel at 11.30 o'clock. The judge had arrived on the night train from Sydney, had breakfast, and had gone to his room, preparatory to taking a motor drive about the city with his daughter, who awaited him in a car, outside the hotel.

As a result of his continued non-appearance his room was visited and he was found lying on the floor. A doctor was summoned but the judge had expired, before he reached the hotel.

DELEGATIONS ARE PLEDGED TO KEEP PROPOSAL SECRET

OPINIONS DIFFER

Majority Said to Be Willing to Consider Suggestions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(U.P.)—The American counter-proposal for funding the French debt was laid before the French debt mission today, and from indications it was very disappointing to the French.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(A.P.)—The viewpoint of the United States was given to the French debt mission today in a meeting at the Treasury between the negotiators of the two nations seeing a basis for settlement of the French war debt of $4,000,000,000.

Hardly more than ten minutes was required for the second joint conference between the debt missions, which was described as having "made progress usual in such negotiations."

STUDY PROPOSALS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(U.P.) —The American debt commission held three meetings yesterday, examining Minister Caillaux's offer. The American Cabinet meets under President Coolidge today, when the President will be apprised of the state of the negotiations, preparatory to another meeting between the two commissions at 11 o'clock.

The two delegations are sworn to a secrecy that is well kept. Nevertheless, it is learned that Caillaux says that the principal debt and the surplus stocks debt, respectively, $2,983,265,232 and $407,341,145 be consolidated, proposing to pay off the total in 62 annuities, of which the first year's payment would be $25,000,000 and the second year $30,000,000.

Caillaux reserves the right for France to ask revision of the terms if its assets and capacity to pay diminish. He also insists on cancellation of the accrued interest, offering small progressive payments on the unpaid parts of the principal, but refusing to bind the future with promises impossible to keep within 20 years.

America seems to believe that it can force Caillaux with the question of international credits. This is a great mistake, as France is able to find all the credits it wants in Europe. Caillaux is ready to show that the next budget will balance.

Forty-six persons were present at the White House dinner to the debt delegations last night.

Everyone is anxious to know what Senator Borah will say, but there is no doubt that if Borah raises the question of the Riffian war, the French delegation will reply that the trouble is caused by Bolshevist activities and that unless France is vigorous in Morocco the Bolshevika may turn their attention to this side of the Atlantic.

COMPLETE SECRECY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(A. P.) —Complete secrecy surrounded the nature of the settlement offer, which has been submitted by the French debt commission, as it entered upon the second day of the debt funding negotiations with the American commission.

Joseph Caillaux, the French Minister of Finance and head of his Government's commission, regards the offer for settlement of the $4,000,000,000 French debt, as a "definite proposal."

Under-Secretary Winston, the United States commission secretary, has announced that "no official proposal" was before the American commission.

However definite or formal they may regard the French offer, it was declared at the same time from other quarters, that to some of the United States officials, at least, the French suggestions were unacceptable.

On the other hand, there was evidence that a majority of the United States group were willing to use M. Caillaux's suggestions at least as a starting point for the discussions at today's midday meeting of the two commissions. In any event, developments of the first day pointed to an intensive discussion today, in the effort to find a mutually acceptable basis of negotiation.

NO MORATORIUM

PARIS, Sept. 25—(U.P.)—France asks no moratorium of America in settling her debts, Stephane Lauzanne cabled Le Matin.

A moratorium, declared this noted writer, is all right for a vanquished nation or a bankrupt. France is "neither beaten nor bankrupt, but is poor," and can make only extremely reduced payments, he said.

SAY KU KLUX KLAN NOW IN EUROPE

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(U.P.)—The Central News Constantinople correspondent reported today that Salonika businessmen had been receiving letters bearing Ku Klux Klan insignia, and that the police reported growing activity of the secret society.

That a Ku Klux Klan is being spread abroad is the inference from recent cablegrams which told of organization of a German Ku Klux Klan. Leaders of the American order have denied that they are establishing the society abroad. It is probable that Europe is patterning after the American order without the latter actually participating.

SNOW SEEN ON SUTTON MOUNTAIN

WOMEN!!!

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only five days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country, calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right, but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

(From The Star Files, Wednesday, September 25, 1895.)

Montreal—Charles Richard John Spencer-Churchill, ninth Duke of Marlbrough, Marquis of Blandford, Earl of Sunderland, Earl of Marlborough, Baron Spencer, Baron Churchill and Prince of Mindelheim in the Holy Roman Empire, are the names and titles of the young nobleman who arrived in the city this morning by the Grand Trunk Express from Toronto, and registered at the Windsor. The Duke, who is travelling in the private car of the assistant general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, comes via Buffalo and Toronto from New York. Now that the excitement engendered by the international yacht races have to some extent subsided, he is the object of a great deal of attention in society and in the columns of the newspapers of Gotham. This is scarcely to be wondered at considering the fact that it has been currently reported that he is to wed Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, the daughter of the American millionaire, Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, who will probably receive a "dot" of $10,000,000.

Toronto—Jseph Nelson, a representative of a syndicate of London capitalists, who are interested in the Hudson's Bay and Pacific Railway, is here, returning from the west. The route from Port Churchill to Vancouver, he says, is 1,300 miles less than by the C. P. R. By navigating Hudson's Bay and using this route, Britain could have another military highway to meet Japan clear of interference from the United States. Imperial and Dominion aid will be asked.

Berlin — The Kreuz Zeitung declares that the Franco-Russian alliance has become a political factor of the first importance. At any moment war, which up to the present moment has been avoided only by a miracle, may break out. The signal for hostilities will, however, declares the paper, be given from Paris, not St. Petersburg, where the want of a free hand in the government is everywhere apparent.

Regina, N. W. T.—The budget speech of Premier Haultain was delivered on Friday last. The estimates are for the twelve months ending August 31, 1896. The estimated receipts from all sources are $250,379, while the estimated expenditure is placed as the same figure.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Montreal—By the 15th of next month it is expected that the new Maternity Hospital now in process of construction, will be completed. The new hospital is being erected at a cost of $125,000. It covers a ground area of 220 feet by 170 feet, at the corner of St. Urbain and Prince Arthur streets, and consists of a main structure and two wings facing north and south. The southern wing was built by the donation of Sir William Macdonald to serve as a home and lecture rooms for the nurses.

St. Petersburg—General Trapoff, who as Assistant Minister of the Interior and Governor of St. Petersburg, is practically dictator of Russia, said today to your correspondent: "While the country is apparently calm, there is a possibility of a serious outbreak at any instant. The only cure for the present condition if unrest is the Douma."

Stockholm — The text of the protocol signed at Karistad Saturday by the delegates appointed to arrange the terms of the dissolution of Norway and Sweden has been secured. The document will become a treaty when ratified by the two Parliaments.

Montreal—At the City Council meeting today, two important by-laws will be submitted; one proposing the annexation of Rosemount and the other proposing the annexation of Ste. Cunegonde.

WELCOME NEWS.

It will be welcome news to sufferers from ulcer of the stomach and of the part of the intestine next to the stomach, to learn that many cases are now cured without the knife.

I have spoken of the method of using a fine tube which extended down the throat and past the stomach and first part of intestine. The upper end was fastened by adhesive tape to cheek so that it couldn't slip down the throat. Through this tube liquid food was supplied to the patient and as it didn't touch the stomach, the stomach had a complete rest, and the ulcer healed up in two or three weeks. Feeding just two light meals a day has also been successful in curing ulcer, because the ulcer gradually healed up during the long rest periods between meals. However, a European physician has gone forward another step and has been successful in treating these cases by means of the X Ray. He reports a series of about forty cases, one half of which were completely cured, and of the remainder at least one half were very much improved.

The big point he emphasizes is that this treatment didn't just ease the pain and give temporary relief, but actually healed the tissues, and ulcer disappeared entirely.

In proof of this he submitted photographs taken before the treatments commenced, and again at the end of three weeks' treatment. The little depression which showed the location of the ulcer in the first picture had completely disappeared in the second.

Now nature does her best to cure these ulcers and many patients have obtained relief by living on small quantities of soft foods.

However the point that is forgotten frequently is that it is easily possible to start the trouble again by overeating or eating foods that have given trouble before.

It is encouraging to know that this distressing ailment can be cured, and kept that way, with a little care and self sacrifice.

SILK SMUGGLERS BUSY AT DOVER

Woman Conceals Paris Frocks—Exchange Rate Very Tempting

DOVER, Sept. 25.—Silk smugglers are active. The chief offenders are women. Silk frocks, lingerie, and stockings that can be bought at low cost owing to existing rates of exchange, prove an irresistible temptation to women of every class.

A Paris model frock made of silk that is cheap at ten guineas is no longer a "bargain" when an extra three pounds ten shillings has to be paid in duty. So women bringing new silks into the country are trying to evade paying duty on them.

At Dover five boats a day from the Continent and a record rush of holiday makers give the Customs a busy time in spotting feminine silk smugglers.

"Every woman is a smuggler at heart," a customs official said to me. "Formerly laces and perfumes were the chief temptation. Now that silk is added to the list our work is trebled. The would-be silk smuggler is game to the last—but she always pays up in the end. We have taken £180 in small lines in one day.

"Silk smuggling is still in its infancy. Undoubtedly it will grow."

DEATH CARRIED TO SOREL WORKMAN

BURNS AND SHOCK

Deceased Repairing Wire When 2,000 Volts Went Through Him

When employes of the Sorel Light and Power Company, Limited, threw in a switch putting 2,000 volts through the wire he was holding in his hand for repairs, on the afternoon of Sunday, Sept. 13, Moise Chaperon, aged 65, municipal employe, of Boucherville, Que., received burns and shock which resulted in his death in the Hotel Dieu here last night.

Evidence before Deputy-Coroner Prince this morning showed that the deceased was employed at the waterworks and noticed on Sunday afternoon that the motor had stopped. After inspecting the fuses, he decided the trouble must be due to a break in the wire, which, after some search, he found a short distance from the pump house.

He was accompanied by Louis Bemur, also of Boucherville, who told the court that Chaperon went 200 feet further down the power line, which follows the railway at that point, and pulled out the switch, which is operated by cable, from a man's height above the ground in an enclosure near the railway metals.

Deceased then returned and picked up and examined the broken line, and sent Bemour for a piece of copper wire to make a splice. Witness was away but a few minutes, and when he returned he saw Chaperon lying on his side in the ditch, with flame spurting from his hand. He ran towards him, but an employe of the power company got there first and started at once to apply artificial respiration.

Dr. Laurent Lussier, called to the scene, continued artificial respiration and later treated the victim at his home for his burned hand and a large burn on the top of the head, which the medical man believed to have been caused by the current leaving the man's body. The place where deceased was working was not easily visible from the switch, being round a curve.

In addition to this it was shown by P. P. Tellier, of Sorel, superintendent of the power company, that its employes arrived by a route following which they could have no idea of Chaperon's presence on the line. The switch was thrown in, and the wires, which together carry 27,000 volts, at once became "live" again. It was explained that the repairs which Chaperon attempted to make were of a temporary nature, as it was not expected that the electric company's repairmen would come up from Sorel on the Sunday afternoon.

The Deputy-Coroner closely questioned Mayor Jos. Lasonde of Boucherville, and asked him to inspect the switch with a view to recommending a change of apparatus if he deemed it a danger to public safety. All witnesses were sure that the linesmen had not been notified that Chaperon was working on the wire, and they could not possibly be aware that he was doing so. The victim was brought to the Hotel Dieu yesterday for further treatment and succumbed last night. A verdict of "accident" was returned.

Contractor Finds Bag Full Of Money —Supposedly Loot

What is believed to be loot stolen from Letendre, Ltee., 625 St. Catherine street east, last spring, when the store was entered by burglars and the safe cleaned out of $7,000, when the safe crackers blew the safe door off its hinges, was found by a contractor yesterday afternoon.

Under a gallery at a house on Victoria avenue, Westmount, Ed. Leger, contractor, found a canvas bag, similar to those used at banks for carrying money. When opened the bag contained one $10 bill, one $5 and a roll of twenty-five cent pieces. Bill heads of the Letendre, Ltee., were also discovered in the bag. The recovered money is now at the detective headquarters where an investigation is under way.

WOMEN!!!

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only five days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country, calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right, but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

JOHN LLOYD

Many friends and acquaintances of John Lloyd, a well known figure in Montreal for over half a century, heard with regret of his death last week at Victoria, B.C., where he had been living during the last two years.

Mr. Lloyd was born in Bangor, North Wales, in 1846, and in his early manhood served in the Royal Navy. He later came to Canada and settled in Montreal where he lived for 52 years, being long associated with the St. Lawrence Hall.

His wife predeceased him some three years ago. Surviving him in the immediate family are three daughters and one son, Mrs. T. Parker, of Montreal, and the Misses Alice and Mary Lloyd, of Victoria, B.C., and John Lloyd, Jr., of Baltimore, Md. There are also two grandsons.

The funeral was held at Victoria, with burial in that city.

STRIPPED CAR TO MAKE AIRPLANE

Juvenile Aeronauts Balked by Intervention of Law

Ardent aeronauts without an aeroplane were piloted into the Juvenile Court today after the failure of their attempt to build a flying machine and fly to distant parts.

They were charged with causing $30 worth of damage to a Ford car while it was parked in a field by a citizen whose faith in his fellow humans was greater than his judgment.

Yesterday afternoon he decided to take a little spin and when he arrived at the field where his car was parked found two striplings, aged 12 and 13 years, engaged in dismantling it.

They had removed the motor and were unscrewing the windshield as he arrived. The chassis was intact.

The embarrassed boys explained they contemplated building an aeroplane, but didn't have an engine. This one was to have filled the gap.

A little later a policeman arrested the would-be explorers and took them down to explore the detention rooms at the Juvenile Court.

When they appeared for trial today Judge Lacroix urged them to postpone their trip till he decides what to do with them. They agreed to remain in Montreal for another week, anyway. Next Friday they will appear for sentence.

SIX CHARGES IN "KID" BAKER CASE

Six different charges were laid against Eddie, alias Kid Baker, Dave Schrider, and Abe Muckley, when they appeared in Enquete Court, before Judge Enright today for voluntary statement.

The trio are charged with being in possession of drugs, without having a license, of distributing drugs, of dissuading witnesses, of furnishing money for witnesses to disappear so that they should not give evidence, of subornation of perjury, and with conspiracy with Michael Saggor and Kid Oblay to commit the above offences.

Saggor also appeared charged with dissuading witnesses, furnishing money for witnesses to disappear, and conspiracy.

Hearing of defence witnesses will take place October 2.

DR. KOZACHEMKO TELLS OWN STORY

Motorist, Accused of Murder in Death of Constable, Testifies

ALL EVIDENCE IN

Defence Maintains Victim Left Car After it Had Started

"I am lost. I have killed a man," cried A. Kozachemko, when told by his patron, Dr. Camille Laplerre, that Constable Fred. Chartrand was dead, according to the evidence given by witnesses for the defence at the close of the trial of the Russian doctor for murder, a charge that arose out of an automobile accideht on July 12.

Kozachemko aaverred he was particularly unnerved and upset at the time of the accident because he had spent the greater part of his life alievating suffering and assisting in prolonging life.

"When I realized that this awful thing had happened to me, and that I had caused a man's death I became frenzied. I have tried patiently the past three months to reconstruct the details of the accident in my mind so I could give an intelligent story to the jury. Certain outstanding facts remain clear, but many details are a blur. I know I had just started my machine and had accelerated it to bring the speed up to 15 miles an hour when the accident occurred. Mrs. Roth screamed, she fell across my arms at the steering wheel and I struck the victim—all seemingly at the same instant."

The address to the jury will be delivered at 2:30, and a verdict is expected this afternoon.

CROWN CLOSES CASE.

The Crown closed its case against Dr. Alex Kozachemko after offering the evidence of Constable Donat Ranger and Detective Albert Rochon as to the condition of the accused's machine after the accident. They also effected the arrest.

Frederick Haines, a garage employe, told of storing the car after the accident.

Kozachemko, who is charged with murder in connection with the death of Constable Fred Chartrand who was run down and killed on July 12 by the prisoner's automobile on St. Denis street.

His Lordship asked that the damaged mudguard from Kozachemko's machine be produced in Court, and suggested that the Crown replace the part by a new one.

Louis Millaire, who for the past eight years has been chief guard at the door of the Court of King's Bench was the principal Crown witness at the late afternoon session yesterday. He swore that he was an eye witness to the accident. He was only 15 feet from the victim when he was struck. Mr. Millaire said the prisoner's auto was travelling between 20 and 25 miles an hour and Constable Chartrand was hit and dragged 50 feet. The latter had just descended from the tramcar and was only a couple of steps from the sidewalk when he was run down.

WOMAN TESTIFIES

Mary Roth, 2149 Christopher Columb street, said that on July 12 she had telephoned to the accused, who is a Russian doctor, and asked him to call on her. He had been treating her for 16 months. He suggested that he take her to his office.

She said that there was a tramcar standing at the corner of Laurier avenue and the accused pulled up behind it. "When the tramcar moved, the doctor started. I saw the shadow of a man flash in front of our machine, and I was frightened and grabbed the doctor's hand. I do not remember anything after that." Mrs. Roth said that her malady was nervous breakdown. She then swore that the tramcar door opened after the tram had started and it was then that she saw the shadow and fainted. When she recovered, the accused sent her home in a tramcar and he went back to the scene of the accident.

Dr. Camille Lapierre, of the Dupont Hospital, said that Kozachemko had been his asistant. He had been at the hospital on July 12 and knew of the accident only at 7.30 p.m. The accused was waiting to tell him what had happened. He was very pale and extremely nervous. The witness brought him into his office on Garnier street, gave him a dose of strychnine and made him lie down. We then went to the Dupont Hospital and we telephoned the Russian Consul and also Captain Mercier, whom we told of the accident.

Dr. Lapierre said that the prisoner was of good moral character and a man of great intelligence.

He admitted that they did not go near the scene of the accident for fear the accused would be arrested, but later it was decided that it would better for the accused to give himself up.

ACCUSED'S STORY.

Kozachemko, on his own behalf, said he was a native of Russia, but had lived in Constantinople. He had secured his medical degree in Russia and had practiced in Oppel's Medical Academy in Petrograd for 14 years. He was a Czarist and was forced to flee to Constantinople, being expelled from Russia four years ago. He had been an officer in the White army of General Denekin. He had been obliged to save the patients in his military hospital when the Reds occupied the Crimea. Two years ago he came to Canada, arriving here on December 5, 1923.

As to the accident on July 12, he said he had not a clear recollection of all the details. He was bringing Mrs. Roth from her house to his office. Coming down St. Denis street, he saw a tramcar standing at Laurier avenue. He was two blocks behind it at the time, and people were getting off the tramcar. He slowed down and drew up behind. There was no one either on the roadway or the sidewalk and the tramcar door were closed.

As he stopped, the tramcar moved slowly ahead and he stepped on the gas.

He had run past the trailer and was passing the front car when the front door flew open and a man jumped out and ran towards the curb. The tramcar's doors banged shut. The accused attempted to shut off his gas with his right hand.

Mrs. Roth screamed and grabbed his arm. She collapsed on him and the machine was no longer under control. It swerved sharply, and he could not stop it.

LATE MOUNT ROYAL HOTEL GUEST SHIFTS TO BORDEAUX JAIL

During the next fifteen days Martin Marenelli will have an opportunity of contrasting the delights of Bordeaux Jail and the Mount Royal Hotel.

"There is no doubt that you will find it much cheaper up there than at the Mount Royal," Marinelli was told by Judge Decarie when he sentenced him.

Marinelli was charged with obtaining board and lodging to the value of $94.60 at the Mount Royal Hotel by false pretences. He has been held by the police since September 17, the date of his arrest.

POLICE UNCOVER BIG LIQUOR RING

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — (A.P.)— A big bootleg ring, uncovered by raids here, took orders for 4,800 cases of Scotch whiskey, worth $240,000, in a single day; deposited as much as $200,000 in one bank a month and received at least one letter of credit for $50,000, it is revealed by Federal Attorney Buckner.

Cable and signal codes, maps, charting the routes used by rum ships, bills for huge quantities of liquor, labels and evidence that members of the ring have brokerage accounts running into substantial figures, were found by the raiders.

Thirteen men ,regarded as members of the ring, were arrested by Federal agents and police, in two raids on offices of a Pseudo real estate firm, in the theatrical district, Wednesday. Fourteen others are being sought.

With records of large liquor purchases in rum row, Mr. Buckner said he had several $1 bills torn in half. On parts of the bills that matched were such notation as "500 cases" and "1,000 cases." The rum runner sent out from shore presented half of the torn bill to the skipper of the rum ship chartered by the syndicate. The skipper had the other half of the bill and the runner got his liquor.

The code used in cable messages, and to signal rum ships from shore, contained such designations as wyaxy for champagne; wuyos, Scotch whiskey; wuyfr, gin. There were also code letters for the various brands.

VANDERBILT WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Large Estate is Divided Between Wife and Daughters

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 — (U. P.)—The will of the late Reginald Vanderbilt, filed yesterday at Portsmouth, Rhode Island, does not definitely place any estimate on the value of the estate, but it shows that it is in excess of $12,000,000.

The will stipulates that a trust fund of $5,000,000 be set up for the benefit of his two children—Mrs. Harry Cooke Cushing III of Boston and 18-months-old Gloria Vanderbilt. Practically all of the remainder of the estate, amounting to more than $7,000,000, is left to his second wife, Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt.

Another clause directs that a small amount be distributed in minor bequests to family servants and others.

Vanderbilt succumbed suddenly at his Rhode Island farm near Portsmouth on Sept. 2.

THE MACDONALD GIRLS HAD MANY COGNOMENS BUT COURT AT LAST GETS 'EM SORTED OUT

"Some women change their names as readily as they change their clothes" complained the Clerk of the Recorder's Court today, as he did his best to straighten out a mix up, that halted court proceedings for ten minutes.

The MacDonalds were at the bottom of the trouble. Six of them were on the roll this morning scheduled to answer charges of being found in disorderly houses. There were Rose, Annie, Mabel, Mary, Jennie and Susan MacDonald. But the first three turned out to be the same girl. Mary and Jennie were also the same person. Susan was the only one of the three owning but one name.

Rose, Annie or Mabel, which ever you like, was arrested three times in the past two weeks. Each time she shed her former name and adopted something new. Thus she was listed in the Recorder's Court records as three people, though she was only one and not a very big one either.

The trials of this three-in-one MacDonald were all set for today.

The case of Mary and Jennie MacDonald was similar except that it was only doubled instead of tripled.

It took ten minutes to straighten out the tangle. When clarity was finally established Rose Annie Mabel owed the court $100 and the costs of her case. She was broke so she went to jail for two months.

The same thing happened to Mary Jennie.

"During the next two months you will have time to decide which name you like the best, and please try to remember it when you come here," remarked the court.

Peggy Stewart also came in for some criticism because of her name. She explained how the mistake had occurred, however, and was excused.

The first time she was arrested she was listed as Peggy. This, she claims, is her right name. The second time officers took her name as Maggie. The mistake was all their's, she asserted. "Peggy" has always been good enough for me," she said. "Lots of prominent people are named Peggy."

The prominence of one Peggy will be dimmed for the next two months the court ruled.

Rosie Smith, nee Annie Vineberg, went to jail for six months after her identity had been dug from the obscurity caused by an alias.

Twice she was arrested under the name of Rose Smith and once as Annie Vineberg. Keeping a disorderly house was the charge against her.

HIGHER PRICES IN BONSECOURS

Vegetables Climb as First Frost Strikes the Fields

APPLES PLENTY

Butter Goes Up, Meat, Fish and Poultry Prices Steady

Higher prices prevailed generally in Bonsecours market this morning.

The increase, particularly noticeable in vegetables, is a regular fall occurrence—as regular as the first frost and the yearly harvest.

Wednesday night saw the garden produce around Montreal nipped with the first white frost of autumn, and since then farmers are head over heels in their hurry to bring in all that is left in the ground and store it in their barns and cellars.

Potatoes, for the first time this season, went up this morning, and were selling at $1.20 and $1.50 a bag. Only a few weeks ago they sold for as low as 40 cents. A rise was also noticeable in tomatoes, which heretofore have sold for bottom prices, boxes going for 20 and 25 cents. This morning's figure averaged 75 cents.

Some of the farmers admit they will be mighty glad to get a decent price for their vegetables, as this year, with bountiful supplies on the market, prices have been so low at times, as not to pay for picking. Last year when things were less plentiful they did far better financially. This year, however, brought the market officials more revenue from the increased number of stands leased.

There was the smell and color of autumn in the market today—golden pumpkins, rosy apples, the sweet pungent fragrance of sage, savoury and thyme. Housewives were busy buying ingredients for pickles and seasoning sauces—peppers, little cucumbers, cauliflower, tiny onions—to store away for winter.

Corn was still a plentiful vegetable, but the ears were older and tougher, and it therefore was very cheap selling at 5, and 8 cents a dozen. Beets and carrots were 20 cents a bunch; sweet peppers $1.25 a box, hot ones 25 cents for two dozen; beans 25 cents a measure; vegetable marrows, 10 cents each; cauliflowers from 5 to 20 cents; large bunches of onions, 25 cents; leeks, 35 cents; celery $1.00 to $2.50 a bunch of one dozen heads, sage, savoury and thyme, three bunches for 10 cents; and beets 75 cents by the bag, and onions, $1.50.

The apples seemed to be of a particularly good quality and were moderately priced. Star, Victoria and Wealthy apples were 75 cents a peck; cooking apples were 25 cents a peck; Wolf Rivers were 75 cents a box, and scarlet pippins $1.00. Barrels of number ones were quoted at $4.50.

Butter was higher again this morning, the 42 cents variety has gone up 6 cents. The inferior grade was still 38 cents.

Prices in poultry have remained steady for the last two weeks. Roasting chickens sold this morning for 32 and 38 cents; capons, 42 cents; and boiling fowl 27 and 32 cents. Black duck, which at the opening of the game season were $1.10 a pair have gone up to $1.75. Teale and pintails were as before 75 cents; plovers $1.10 and snipe 60 cents.

Shore haddock was reported to be very scarce, owing it was said to the stormy weather, or possibly, to dogfish. There was plenty of trawler haddock, however at 20 cents a pound, with the exception of bullhead which has dropped from 20 to 18 cents, other prices were the same.

Salmon was 90 cents a pound; lake trout, 25 cents; halibut, 30 cents; dore, 25 cents; fresh filets of haddock, 20 cents, pike 15 cents, swordfish, 30 cents; perch, 15 cents; dressed bullhead, 18 cents, and fresh herring, 10 cents.

Meat quotations were as follows:

Porterhouse steak, 38 cents; sirloin steak, 38 cents; round steak, 25 cents; chuck steak, 15 cents; beef fillet, 5 to 8 lbs. 80 cents; sirloin roast, 38 cents; porterhouse roast, 35 cents; tenderloin roast, 30 cents; wing roast, 35 cents; rib roast, 32 cents; chuck roast, 20 cents; brisket beef, 8 cents; shank beef, 8 cents; beef shoulers, 10 cents; rump roast, 25 cents; rump corned beef, 25 cents; brisket corn beef, 15 cents; leg lamb, 35 cents; loin lamb, 35 cents; fore quarter lamb, 20 cents; lamb chop, 45 cents; leg pork, 28 cents; loin pork, 35 cents; salt pork flank or fat, 28 cents; shoulder pork, 25 cents; leg milk fed veal, 35 cents; loin meal veal, 35 cents; fore quarter milk veal, 10 cents; corn beef tongues 28 cents; sugar cured ham, 38 cents; sugar cured daisy ham, 50 cents; sugar cured bacon, 42 cents.

ADDICT HOLDS JAIL MAKES HIM WORSE

Takes Lot More Dope to Keep Him Going When Gets Out

Francis Therrian, aged 22, Wolfe street, pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing cocaine and was today sentenced to 12 months in jail.

Therrian has already served four terms at Bordeaux for offences against the narcotic laws.

Wednesday he was arrested once more. A few hours after his arrest his condition for lack of narcotic stimulant became so serious he had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. Today he was well enough to appear in court and plead guilty.

When Acting Recorder Morrison questioned Therrian, he declared: "Every time I get out of jail my condition is worse than it was when I went in. Two weeks after I get out it takes fifty per cent. more dope to keep me going than it did before."

Therrian admitted that the last time he had been to jail it had been impossible to smuggle in drugs. His supply had been absolutely cut off, he claimed, but no cure was accomplished.

Today he will begin another 12 month stretch, but stated he was certain he would be in a worse condition at the conclusion of his term than he is now.

FORBES GETS TWO YEARS FOR FRAUD

In December last year Alan Forbes explained to Madam Antoinette Houde, of 5051 St. Denis street, that he had certain influence in official quarters in the province and that he could thereby obtain a tavern licence, and on doing so would rent premises belonging to Madame Houde.

Taken in by this story Madame Houde advanced more than $1,000 to Forbes between the end December and the end of July for trips to Quebec and other expenses, and then, no licence forthcoming, she placed the matter in the hands of the police. They found that the story of Forbes was nothing but a story and that he had never even gone out of town to Quebec.

This morning Judge Perreault wrote "Finis" to the story when he sentenced Forbes to two years in the penitentiary. Her belief in Forbes' story cost her more than $3,000 in all, claimed Madame Houde, as she held the premises empty for six months thereby losing another $2,000.

FROM SCOTLAND TO OLD McGILL

Prof. Lancelot Hogben, of Edinburgh, to Teach Zoology

SPEAKS OF WORK

Impressed With Arrangement of Colleges on This Continent

Newcomers to the staff of McGill University this session include Lancelot Hogben, who has been appointed assistant Professor of Zoology. Professor Hogben comes to McGill from the University of Edinburgh where he was for a short time assistant director of the Animal Breeding Research Department and was for one year lecturer in Experimental Physiology under Sir Edward Schafer. He has already taken up his duties at McGill, in the Biological Building, under Dr. Arthur Willey, F.R.S.

Professor Hogben is impressed with the laboratory facilities on this side of the Atlantic and the arrangement of the college buildings. Here, he said, the buildings are all together, whereas in Great Britain, owing to the way in which the universities have gradually grown up, buildings are often widely separated from each other. Over there universities have not always been able to acquire land in the proximity of the university. As a result, in one university cited as an example, the chemistry building was five miles away from the botany building.

Laboratories here are more modern generally than those in Great Britain, in his opinion. Many laboratories there were built towards the middle of the 19th century, where the ideas in architecture were of an ecclesiastical nature. The result was that most of the British universities have in the last ten years had to rebuild one or two laboratories on modern lines. Cambridge had erected a magnificent biochemistry laboratory, and Oxford had done the same.

The American continent is leading the world in biology today, in the opinion of Professor Hogen. More varied and more spectacular advances have been made in biological research on this side during the past 15 or 20 years than have been made anywhere in the world, he said, and in this connection he cited the "immense contribution" of the late Jacques Loeb, of the Rockefeller Institute, and of T. H. Morgan, of Columbia University, who had "revolutionized our knowledge of heredity."

The great strides which biological science has made in the American continent he attributed to the fact that agriculture all over this continent is an industry which attracts a more enterprising section of the community than it does in England, and offers prospects on the one hand: while on the other, biology has taken its place in the school curriculum in some parts of the United States at least. Further there is much more interest and public support for biology, on this side of the Atlantic.

MURDER HEARING SET FOR OCT. 6

Judge Refuses to Reduce Indictment in Wegener Case

I. Francelli Wegener, alias John Webb, accused of murder, appeared before the Court of King's Bench this morning, and his hearing was fixed for October 6. Joseph Berard, K.C., asked that bail be allowed, arguing that the case was really one of manslaughter and that the charge had been changed to murder by the Grand Jury. It was unjust to his client, he claimed, that he should remain in jail when the postponement was not the fault of the defence.

Mr. Justice Wilson stated that he could not entertain an application on an indictment for murder. A dangerous precedent might be created, and he did not propose to institute new jurisprudence. Bail had rarely been granted in murder cases and then only in very exceptional circumstances.

The accident for which Wegener was held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury occurred on July 11 on Sherbrooke street West near Grosvenor avenue. Wegener was driving a motor truck which struck and killed I. S. Vincelli, a gardener who was carrying a rake, and who stepped in the path of the truck from behind a stationary automobile. Joseph Berard, K.C., and C. H. Berard represent the accused with Lyon W. Jacobs, K.C., as counsel. The latter will address the jury.

BALDWIN NAMED TO CONTEST SEAT

Stanstead Member Unanimous Choice of Liberal Convention

MINISTERS SPEAK

Boivin Takes Exception to Charges Made by Patenaude

AYERS CLIFF, Que., Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — W. K. Baldwin, of Baldwin's Mills, who has represented Stanstead county for several terms in the House of Commons was unanimously elected Liberal standard bearer at the convention held here yesterday afternoon. Alf. Bissonette, M. L. A. for Stanstead, presided. In addition to the candidate, Hon. George Boivin, Minister of Customs, Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, and Dr. Cabana, of Magog, addressed the meeting which followed the convention. Economy and co-operation between Federal, provincial and municipal bodies was the keynote of the address delivered by the Hon. James Robb, Minister of Finance. He also remarked that at the present time there was much overlapping between the different powers and authorities and by careful study and co-operation these could be abolished and better service thereby given to the people.

Mr. Robb expressed an optimistic view on conditions generally in Canada and told his audience that the most reliable news regarding the real conditions could be found on the financial pages of the newspapers rather than in the accounts relating to the political controversies.

FINANCIAL POSITION.

The Minister of Finance concluded his remarks by referring to the financial position of Canada. He remarked that the present Government had reduced the interest on the National debt $9,000,000 per annum, and had also reduced the sales tax. He remarked that as a proof of better conditions it need only be remembered that the Canadian dollar rose from far below the value of the American dollar to, at the present time, above it in value.

Hon. George Boivin, took advantage of the occasion to reply to the Hon. Mr. Patenaude. Mr. Patenaude speaking at St. Laurent on Sunday last had made three accusations against him and these he wished to discuss. Conscription, accepting position of Deputy Speaker in 1917 and trying to get into the Meighen Cabinet were the three charges which Mr. Boivin claimed had been brought against him by Mr. Patenaude. The speaker recalled the proceedings in 1917 which showed that he was steadily against conscription and always voted on this issue with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Referring to the second charge that he had accepted the position of Deputy Speaker, Mr. Boivin remarked that he did so with the permission of his chief, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The third charge brought a firm protest from Mr. Boivin, who emphatically denied ever trying to get into the Cabinet of Mr. Meighen and as a proof he challenged Mr. Meighen to prove that he had done so. If this was done the Minister declared that he would immediately resign from public life.

SAYS SENATE MAKES LITTLE DIFFERENCE

GUELPH, Ont., Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — The city hall auditorium was packed to capacity last night to hear Hon. Dr. H. G. Manion speak on behalf of the Conservative candidate in South Wellington, Hon. Hugh Guthrie. Mr. Guthrie arose from his sick bed to attend the meeting but spoke only for a few minutes. Dr. Manion did not think that Mr. King showed much judgment in referring to Hon. Mr. Guthrie and a few others as "pseudo patriots."

Speaking of Senate reform, Dr. Manion said that if the whole Senate "Lock, stock and barrel," were thrown into the Atlantic ocean it would not make any difference. It would not bring one man in Guelph a job.

He issued a challenge to the audience to name one act that Premier King had brought in in four years that was of benefit to the country.

DRUSE TRIBESMEN ASK LEAGUE ACTION

GENEVA, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—A demand that the League of Nations intervene between the French and Druses in Syria, suspend hostilities there and appoint a neutral commission of inquiry for the purpose of preventing further bloodshed is the gist of a communication received yesterday by President Dandurand of the League Assembly from Emir Chekik Arslan, delegate in Switzerland for the Syrian Independence group.

Emir Arslan declared he was authorized to petition the League by Al-Atlache, leader of the Druse movement, who insists that France is committing arbitrary acts not authorized by her position as mandatory power.

REDS AND POLICE END HIDE-AND-SEEK

SOVIETS STEP IN

Many Workers Who Seek Interviews are Rushed To Jail

TOKIO, Sept. 25 —(Special Star-World Cable, Copyright.) —The hide-and-seek game between the police and the four Russian Labor delegates which Tokio has been enjoying immensely, let up Thursday following the protest of the Soviet Embassy to the Foreign Office in which serious consequences were threatened if it were kept up.

The delegates were invited to Tokio by the Kwanto Labor Council. They were met by 1,000 laborers at the station on Wednesday and had a merry time with no less than 100 uniformed police following them constantly to prevent them from spreading Communistic propaganda. The police took an adjoining room in the Imperial Hotel and set up a small arsenal with a line of guards extending out into the street, where a riot squad waited ready to dash anywhere.

Leaving the hotel the delegates would divide, confusing the police, and visit the labor halls, but the police followed with ambulances, collecting all workers who talked with the Russians. More than 100 were arrested, including Oaku Gaku Sano, and other radical leaders.

Thursday night Japan acceded to Russia's demand that only five guards be stationed in front of the delegates' room. The latter appear mild-mannered, unable to speak English and quite puzzled at the attitude of Japanese labor in inviting them to Tokio and then Thursday drawing up the following resolution:

"Inasmuch as Soviet Russia appears to be reverting to the principle of capitalism, the General Federation of Labor of Japan sees not the slightest reason why it should welcome the Soviet Labor representatives in the country."

The Japanese delegation attempted to call on the Russians Thursday afternoon bearing the resolution but were prevented by the police under orders to stop all Communists in either direction. The Japanese then published the resolution in the papers, trusting that the Russians would see it and return home. There have been wholesale arrests of innocent Japanese workers as well as street skirmishes with the police wherever the delegates have gone.

REDS CUT JAPANESE VISIT VERY SHORT

TOKYO, Sept. 25.—(A.P.) — The Soviet labor delegation of 50 members which came to Japan for a conference with Japanese labor leaders, has cut its visit short, owing to the interference of the police. The delegates were prevented from making a single speech or conferring with any Japanese labor leaders. Some 60 of the leading Japanese Radicals and Socialists, were arrested for detention purposes during the visit of the Russians.

PIGEON SWALLOWED WHOLE BY PELICAN

LONDON, Sept. 25 — While visitors to St. James' Park were throwing bread to a pelican, a pigeon grabbed one of the morsels. The pelican, with great flappings of the wings, snapped at the interloper, which he actually swallowed alive.

The larger bird was in obvious difficulties as the pigeon passed through his gullet, but he eventually entered the water and calmly swam away.

USE BROWN BREAD FOR HARD WORK

Industrial Districts in Britain are Forsaking White Loaf

LONDON, Sept. 25—The industrial districts are forsaking bread made with white flour and putting their trust in wholemeal bread. This fact is a clear indication of the nutritive value of flour that contains all the wheat.

"Extraordinary reports are coming from our salesmen in the mining areas," said a prominent miller to a press representative.

"South Wales, in particular, has gone over to wholemeal bread, and the allegiance is permament as far as we can see. The extremely hard work of the miners makes great demands on their reserve of strength, and they have found in wholemeal flour all the natural elements that rebuild the body."

Athletes, too, are finding that wholemeal flour has better sustaining properties than ordinary white flour.

Striking testimony to the value of wholemeal bread, more especially as it affects the teeth, has been given over and over again by medical men and dentists.

Sir Harry Baldwin, the King's surgeon dentist, has drawn attention to the dangers that lurk in white bread. "The great increase in dental decay," he asserts, "is enormously due to the use of white bread, first because it forms a pulp which sticks to the teeth and induces fermentation, and secondly because it lacks the necessary ingredients for proper development of the jaws and teeth."

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 25. — (C. P.) — John Rocksovitch, 38, a laborer, was seriously injured yesterday when struck by a piece of falling rock while working at the Welland ship canal. He is in the construction hospital at Homer and it is thought that he will recover.

ANDOVER, N.B., Sept. 25. (Star Special).—Two steamers of New Brunswick potatoes are being shipped to the Cuban market every week from St. John and the export trade is about the best it has been in history for the growers as well as the shippers.

Shippers are paying $1.50 and more per barrel to the growers, the demand is good and the best profits ever realized for all concerned have resulted from the arrangements under which operations are being carried on this season.

CANADIAN SCHOONER, BOOZE LADEN, SEIZED

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 25.—(A.P.)—Surprised while off Timblar Light, near Baratira Bar, La., the Canadian two-masted schooner Hazel E. Herman, was captured late yesterday by a patrol boat, and towed into the port here. The schooner, registered out of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, was loaded with 3,900 cases of liquor and alcohol, according to dry officials. Seven men, including Captain Audrey Haughn, were arrested and held in jail in default of bail.

The seizure is the largest brought into Mobile since the capture of the Marion Adams, off the mouth of the Mississippi River by the coast guard cutter Saukee, three months ago. At that time, more than 6,000 cases of liquor, seven small boats, and 30 men were captured.

AXE STILL BUSY ON BRITISH FLEET

"Iron Duke" Battleship Class Latest Victims of Economy

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A drastic reduction in the strength of the Battle Fleet may be foreshadowed in an Admiralty Order which directs the Benbow to be paid off on the completion of her re-fit, and re-commissioned with only half of her present crew, the balance to be made up with boys.

This vessel is one of the quartet of Iron Duke battleships which form the Third Battle Squadron of the Mediterranean Fleet.

The order states the future service of the Benbow is under consideration. In naval circles the view is held that these four ships are to be withdrawn from active commission and delegated to the Reserve when the four ships comprising the "King George V." class are scrapped in 1927. On completion of the Nelson and Rodney, the Iron Dukes will be the oldest battleships left in the Navy. They are, nevertheless, more powerful than any Dreadnoughts possessed by France or Italy.

It is believed that the squadron of four "Queen Elizabeths" (battleships of 25 knots speed, armed with 15in. guns) would be sufficient to maintain British supremacy in the Mediterranean. Consequently the "Iron Dukes" may be brought home, or kept in reserve at Malta.

Only 14 capital ships would then be left in full commission, including two or more undergoing re-fit, and therefore separately detached from the Fleet. This would be the smallest fleet that Great Britain has had in commission for a century or more.

VETERANS TALK AMALGAMATION

Amputation Association in Convention Considering One Big Organization

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 25 — (C. P.) — The third annual Dominion convention of the Amputations Association of the Great War, assembled here yesterday.

Captain S. E. Lambert, Dominion president, occupied the chair at the opening session and the convention was formally opened with a two minute period of silence in memory of former comrades who fell in France. There were 110 delegates in attendance representing all parts of Canada.

A report from the credentials committee indicated a remarkable development in the association during the last year. There are now 11 branches of the Association, with a total membership of 1,581.

A gavel was presented to the President by the Toronto delegates to be used by him and each succeeding President of the Association.

Fraternal delegates representing other veteran organizations attended and in addresses before the convention stressed the importance of the amalgamation question, one of the main items of business on the agenda of the convention.

DECLARES LABOR STRUCTURE RUINED

Hamilton Official Agrees To Stand as Conservative

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 25.—(C.P.) —Harry G. Fester, member of the Ontario Minimum Wage Board and prominent Labor leader here announced yesterday that he has agreed to stand for the Conservative party in the Federal election fight. He will also direct the Conservative publicity campaign in this section, he said.

"The Labor movement is crumbling like a deck of cards," was Mr. Fester's comment yesterday on his action.

Mr. Fester occupied many positions in Labor ranks here. He was president of the Independent Labor Party for some time and was head of the Union Label League.

He succeeded Walter R. Rolls as secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Council when the latter became Minister of Labor and Health in the Drury Cabinet.

DYING MAN RUSHED TO POLLING BOOTH

PARIS, Sept. 25 — Recent elections in the island of Corsica, the birthplace of Napoleon, where political campaigns are always intensely exciting, were so closely contested that each side accused the other of polling a dead man.

The charge was within a few seconds of being true in one instance. A certain elector in a small town was dying in a hospital.

His name appeared on the registration list of one of the parties. Leaders of that party, fearing defeat, rushed to the hospital, dragged the dying man from his bed and hurried him to the polling-booth.

He had just enough strength to hand in the ballot that had been given him before he fell back from the voting booth dead.

The widow accused the successful candidate of murder.

FORM SOCIETY TO KILL FOREIGNERS

German Police Discover Organization of "Fiery Cross Knights"

BERLIN, Sept. 25. — Six months ago three Americans, a father and son, both clergymen named Strohschein, and a young American student named Grey, formed a society called the "Knights of the Fiery Cross," whose object was the extermination of all foreigners.

From documents found by the police it appears that there are already more than 2,000 members all over Germany.

The police made their first discovery while searching for the 19-year-old son of an official who disappeared some weeks ago and has not since been heard of. Whether any foreigners have already been killed is not yet known. Many of the members were found armed with pistols, revolvers, life-preservers, and hand-to-hand weapons.

Many arrests have been made, and it is announced that drastic action will be taken to put a stop to such nonsense.

FLORIDA ESTATES RAMP IN BRITAIN

"Gyppers" From U. S. Who Sold Oil Lands to Suckers

SELL "PROMISES"

Unsuspecting May be Mulcted Unless Watch is Kept

LONDON, Sept. 25—Shortly before last Christmas a disgruntled group of "flat-catchers," known in the United States as "gyppers," left England hurriedly. Their flight was hurried by an exposure which did not come before they had gathered a rich haul by selling to credulous victims supposed oil lands in the United States.

England proved such a happy hunting ground for these "gyppers" that, at the time it was predicted that their departure was only temporary, and that the shortness of memory of the British public and the leniency and imperfection of British laws would soon draw them back. Their return was quicker than was expected, for I now learn that several important "gyppers," with their squads of high pressure salesmen called "loaders," are again operating in London, cables the New York correspondent to the London Daily Mail.

On their return to America the "gyppers" found that likely victims' dreams were no longer associated with Middle-West oil fields. There had been a season of a phenomenal rise in Florida property and every town and hamlet had at least one resident who had gone to Florida and made a fortune overnight through the booming of land values.

Americans, thoroughly on their guard against fraudulent oil stock salesmen, were ready to bite at the bait of the Florida estates' salesman. What might have been a period of idleness for these men was therefore turned into a profitable season.

They established estate companies in various parts of the country, and started selling, for a moderate price, lots in Florida which they glowingly promised would quickly increase in value many times over.

On guard because of the recent oil frauds, the Government Agents have given these "gyppers" only a short season here, but in less than six months some of them made large gains with which to resume operations in Britain.

The most recent of these "gyppers" to run foul of the law here before fleeing to Europe played a prominent part in the management of the Cambrian Trust, Limited, and the British Allied Estates, Limited, with offices in Kingsway.

When this man hurriedly left England last autumn he brought with him several of his "loaders" and opened offices in Chicago under the name of the Florida Land Company. They had purchased a tract in Florida, a large portion of which is under water for the greater part of the year.

ONLY HALF AN ACRE.

"Loaders" were scattered through Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Iowa to permit philanthropically each of the fortunate persons whom they selected to purchase half an acre.

Their land was pictured in a gorgeously illustrated prospectus as a suburb of the winter resort, the City of Orlando, on the Dixie Highway, high and dry and already selected as the site for a huge new hotel. It was declared that Government Agents approved their company and the glowing prospectus carried the names of prominent Chicagoans who had visited the land and praised its possibilities.

In the new company he had enlisted his brother, who had hitherto followed the more prosaic profession of a hairdresser. He, alone of his associates, was not acquainted with the tricks of his new trade and when Post Office inspectors, after a preliminary investigation, raided the Florida Land Company's offices, only he was caught.

His brother was already on the high seas with his other confreres, for whom Federal warrants were issued.

One of those in the warrants has already been convicted of selling only "promises" in connection with a mysterious concern called the Wyoming Asbestos Syndicate.

The warrants were issued against them on a charge of using the mails to promote fraud, although each "sucker" who parted with £20 got something for his money, if it was only half an acre of dismal swamp.

Several of these fugitives are already in London, although I am informed that the organizer of the gang is on the Continent directing operations from there until he is certain that it is safe for him to get nearer Scotland Yard again.

Unless the British public is on the watch, these "gyppers" stand an excellent chance of again mulcting the unsuspecting to the tune of £1,000,000.

TELLS OF DANGER TO CHINA MISSIONS

OTTAWA, Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — That conditions in China were very bad for missionary work and that the anti-British feeling was still growing more intense was in part the report presented yesterday afternoon by Rev. E. Townsend, returned Chinese missionary to the Ottawa Conference of the Holiness Movement Church, in session here. Rev. Townsend, who is originally from Clinton, Ont., arrived in Ottawa yesterday morning. He came home from the mission fields within the last couple of weeks.

He stated that before he sailed for Canada from Honan Province in the central part of China and which is supposed to be the most orderly, student processions marched through streets crying "Kill the foreigners, tear down the mission houses." A letter he received from Rev. Dr. Tutell, American Presbyterian missioner, since his return home, was read and in it was stated that unless the American mission can fit into what the Chinese wanted, their work will be nil. It was also stated in the letter that the English Wesleyan Methodist mission suffered considerably.

CABLES CANADIAN MISSIONS OPENED

TORONTO, Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Without giving particulars of the new regime which has succeeded General Yang in Chengtu, Rev. Dr. Hartwell in a cable that came to Toronto yesterday, states that the Canadian schools have reopened and mission work generally is proceeding in that centre. His message to Rev. James Endicott, D.D., general secretary, admits that student organizations are cause for anxiety but points out that the Provincial Government of Szechwan, or whoever is in control of the capital, is showing firmness in maintaining public order.

MOOSE JAW MAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Sept. 25.—(C. P.)—Mike Fuhr is dead, and Sam Kelley, of the Expanse district, is seriously injured as a result of an automobile accident on the main road four miles east of Expanse last night. It is believed a punctured tire which blew off one of the front wheels caused the car to be overturned.

Riffian Troops Not Alarmed at Fighting France

During the past six months the Riff telephone system, consisting of French field telephones, bought in Algiers before the beginning of hostilities with France, has been extended throughout the Djebala Country and now reaches from a point near Tangier to outposts all along the Taounat Front between Taza and Fez.

HAVE CONFIDENCE.

Sidi Mohammed, younger brother of Abd El Krim, sits here at Targhzuit, his general headquarters, and directs the campaign on three fronts. He keeps in constant and direct communication with his brother, Abd El Krim, who is at Adjdir on the Riff coast.

Foch himself could not go about the job of Generalissimo more coolly, or with more authoritative efficiency, than this Riff General who, still in his early thirties has carried out military victories in the field while his brother, Abd El Krim, was building up an orderly Government throughout the country.

The General Staff at Riff Headquarters certainly show a confidence which is impressive,—a complete confidence in the ability of one Riff warrior to withstand at least ten Frenchmen or Spaniards; a confidence in the military efficacy of Moroccan weather, a confidence in the ineffectiveness of European aviation, and finally a supreme confidence in the semi-legendary genius of their two leaders, the Abd El Krim brothers.

My method of entry into the Riff lines was an adventure which will interest many. On Friday afternoon, at two o'clock, I sat on the terrace of the Hotel Cecil at Tangier, where groups of English tourists were idly watching the gunboats of three nations as they rode at anchor in the sunny harbor. As had been previously arranged, a certain Riff tribesman happened to stroll along the pavement beneath the hotel terrace. He looked up vacantly once or twice, then started to walk away towards the beach, where Tangiers' many sightseeing visitors disport themselves under the African sun.

I strolled along after him to the end of the beach, where he turned sharply into the sand dunes and began to stride along at a brisker pace. Fifteen minutes later I caught up with him between two big hollow dunes. Here a silent and swift operation took place. The tribesman opened a bundle which he was carrying under his arm, and in three minutes I had donned a huge shapeless gown; the Djeellaba of the Moorish peasant.

With my hood pulled well down over my face, I returned to the promenade, again following my silent guide until he led me into a small house in the Arab quarter of the town, toward the outskirts of Tangier.

Here an aged Arab woman, one of Abd El Krim's regular agents, put me through a severe examination, and gave me a few last instructions about how to pass the French Guards.

(Tomorrow: How Sheean passed into the Riff through French and Spanish gunfire.)

WOMEN!!!

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only five days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country, calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right, but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

SLAYERS FLEE, PISTOLS IN HAND

Taxi Driver and Fare Find Body in Auto After Accident

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(U.P.)—The body of a man who had been shot to death was found in the back seat of a big sedan today when a taxi driver and his fare approached the car which had collided with their machine.

When the collision occurred three men leaped from the sedan and fled.

The collision took place at 98th Street and 2nd Avenue. Murray Goff was the taxi driver and Samuel Bonn his fare.

The sedan, travelling at high speed, came out of 98th street and struck the taxi as it reached the corner. Goff and his passenger got out of the taxi, which was not seriously damaged, and had started toward the sedan when the three men leaped out, two of them with pistols in their hands, and fled west.

The two looked into the abandoned car and found the body, half reclining on the car seat. In the left hand were two keys. The dead man was of medium build, dark and about 28 years of age. Preliminary examination showed nothing to reveal his identity and the presence of the money in the pockets discounted a robbery theory.

EX-DRY LEADER TO SUE FOR LIBEL

YONKERS, N.Y., Sept. 25.—(U.P.)—A suit for $50,000, alleging libel, will be brought against "The Christian Century," a religious publication of Chicago, by William H. Anderson, ex-former head of the Anti-Saloon League announced here today.

Anderson bases his charge on a statement referring to the former dry leader as "serving time for misuse of the funds of the Anti-Saloon League" which he asserts the publication made.

If the paper is unable to pay the full amount of the judgment he is willing to take it out in advertising for the American Prohibition Protestant Patriotic Protective Alliance, an organization which he is fostering, Anderson said in a prepared statement.

SEVERAL BELIEVED KILLED IN BLAST

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 25. — (A.P.) — A two-storey apartment house in the northeast section of the city was destroyed by an explosion of mysterious origin last night. Several persons are believed to have been killed. The blast rocked the entire Lincoln Heights district.

BRITAIN IN GRIP OF MID-WINTER

Holiday Camps Wrecked by Gales—Snow in Scotland

LONDON, Sept. 25. — The prevalence of mid-winter conditions is reported in many parts of England and Scotland. Heavy falls of snow have occurred in Scotland.

Coast resorts in particular have been seriously affected by gales, exceptionally high tides and storms of rain. A heavy neap-tide gale raged at Margate, and the sands were strewn with the wreckage of huts, tents and chairs from the holiday camps on the beach.

The mountains in the Scottish Highlands are covered with snow. The weather is bitterly cold, and sportsmen are encountering mid-winter conditions.

Deer are coming close to the villages, and large herds are in the crags a few hundred yards from the town of Callander.

Much damage was done at Cleethorpes by a remarkably high tide, backed by a north-west wind blowing off the sea.

A high tide and heavy seas at Redcar wrought havoc. The roundabouts and stalls on the sands were completely wrecked, and a large wooden erection used by the local amateur swimming club was swept bodily away.

The waves yesterday rose to a height of forty feet at Hornsea, near Hull, tearing away seats from alcoves on the new promenade and flooding fields over a large area. Residents of bungalows were cut off, and some of them had to proceed on horseback to catch trains.

CANADIAN EXPORTS FELT IN DENMARK

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 25. — (C.P. via Reuter's). — Leading agriculturists, farmers, dairymen, representatives of export associations and private exporters assembled here yesterday under the presidency of the Minister of Agriculture to discuss the export of butter to foreign countries, particularly Great Britain. The speakers all emphasized that the heavy increase in the imports of butter from the British Dominions to Britain, coupled with "the systematic agitation organized in England for enhanced marketing of butter from the Dominions in the future," was going to greatly intensify the competition with Danish butter.

REINHARDT'S WIFE REJECTS ALIMONY

VIENNA, Sept. 25. — (U.N.) — Max Reinhardt's offer of annual alimony of $20,000 has been spurned by his wife, Elsie, and she has demanded the right to confront him in court to answer charges which she declares were "framed" against her.

The suit for divorce filed by the famous stage producer was heard in Pressburg, Czecho-Slovakia, Wednesday. The court postponed its decision until next month.

His wife, in rejecting the offer of alimony, declares she is innocent of Reinhardt's charges and demands that the proceedings of the trial, which was secret, be made public.

CANADA PREFERRED BY IRISH SETTLERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. — (U.N.) — Irish emigrants are going to Canada in larger numbers than to the United States now, according to figures announced Thursday by the Commerce Department.

Of the 15,896 men who came from Ireland to North America last year, 4,584 went to Canada and only 3,266 to the United States. Most of them went to work on farms.

Women emigrants to North America from Ireland numbered 10,034, most of whom found employment in household work in the United States and Canada.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF IODINE SUPPLY

Ever since iodine came to be recognized as one of the most important medical substances the world possesses today, the fight for the control of the sources of the world's supply has been going on. The greater part of the world's iodine was formerly obtained from sea tang or seaweed in Scotland, Ireland and France by a process of drying and burning, whereby the ashes were washed out with water and the salts were dissolved out, the iodine being obtained as a sodium iodide.

After the great South American saltpetre deposits were discovered the matter became much more simple, and the preparation of iodine was far cheaper from Chile saltpetre than by the old ways. The result was that by degrees the Incineration methods came into complete disuse. In the United States a California company is going to undertake the exploitation of the huge kelp resources on the Pacific coast.

Discovered in 1811 by the Frenchman Courtois and later more closely investigated by Davy and Guy Lussac, iodine is found in sea water, in many saline springs, seaweeds, in some mosses, muds and in cod liver oil.

LARGE SKELETON OF FLIGHTLESS BIRD

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand, August—(By Mail). — A magnificent moa skeleton, intact and splendidly preserved, has been found in a cave at Waikare Moana, Hawke's Bay.

The height of this skeleton is 13 ft.

The moa (or dinornis) is a genus of extinct flightless birds, which formerly inhabited New Zealand. About 20 species have been identified from their remains. The largest previously found was 12 feet high, and the smallest was about the size of a turkey. The moa's long, powerful legs indicate that it could run with great speed. It had rounded, loosely constructed feathers, and its eggs were pale green.

PICTURESQUE OLD TOWN OF ELSINORE

Elsinore, in Denmark, is a picturesque old town with many seventeenth and eighteenth century houses and its own Carmelite Monastery, the best preserved in Scandinavia. To the northeast lies Kronborg Castle, one of the most beautiful renaissance buildings of the north, erected in 1575. In the park can be seen Hamlet's statue and in the wood behind the old palace lies Hamlet's grave and the delightful walk under the trees to Ophelia's spring.

The gardens in the Marienlyst Park were laid out in the style of Shakespeare's England.

MUSIC

Successful Concert by Choir of Welshmen For Welfare Fund

The Rhondda Male Singers have joined that small body of performers who can count on getting good audiences whenever they come to Montreal, and they did it at the Windsor Hall on Thursday evening just as they have done it on their previous visits. Their singing was always hard to beat among male choirs, and their choral work is still as good as ever. Naturally, perhaps, they are at their best in Welsh songs; there was nothing better in Thursday's concert than the performances of "Harlech" and "Y Delyn Aur," and one could not help regretting that the program contained so little Welsh music, particularly of the old Welsh songs. The choir as a whole distinguished itself also in Elgar's "Feasting I Watch," and in an added number "Gipsy Life" in which the laughing chorus was a very clever piece of work — natural laughter which did not cease to be musical. Two operatic choral numbers, the "Miserere" scene from "Trovatore" and the Pilgrims' chorus from "Tannhauser," contained good singing but rather missed their effect.

Choral numbers made up the smaller part, though the best part of the program. The proportion was even heavier in the performance, since the audience, as usual, demanded and got an extra song from every soloist.

Of the soloists, the tenors did not stand out as on former visits of these singers. This time the chief honors went to the basses. Mr. Edward Hopkins showed a remarkably fine deep voice, especially in the aria "O Isis," from the "Magic Flute," which he added to the program. Mr. Robert Hopkins, too, sang well and gave a most effective performance of an aria from Verdi's "Masked Ball." Mr. David Rees was very successful in an added song "Arise O Sun," but his program song by Verdi hardly seemed to suit his voice. Another baritone, Mr. Walter Evans, sang Emanuel's "The Desert" with a good deal of restraint. Other soloists were Mr. Sydney Charles, whose singing of Coleridge-Taylor's "Eleanore" was a good performance, Mr. Richard Owen, Mr. William Phillips and Mr. Stephen Jenkins. The quality of one or two of the tenor voices is a little hard, perhaps as the result of much choral singing, and clearness of diction was not a strong point with several of the singers.

A second concert, with a different program, will be given this evening, and will be, like the first, for the benefit of the Lions' Club Welfare Fund.

WEST HAM IDLE DEMAND RELIEF

Five Thousand Unemployed Assured of Consideration by Guardians

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(C. P.)—Banners inscribed with such slogans as "work or maintenance" and "better be fighting than starving" were carried in a procession of 5,000 unemployed, a mile and a half in length which marched to the office of the West Ham Board of Guardians yesterday for the purpose of asking additional alowance of coal during the coming winter months. Before the procession moved off the demonstrators were harangued by speakers, which included several local Communists. More than 200 mounted police officers were stationed along the route of the procession, but there was no disorder.

After a representative deputation had been assured by the Board of Guardians that their demands would be submitted to the Ministry of Health, the demonstrators returned to their starting point and dispersed quietly. Before receiving the deputation, the Guardians appointed a deputation to interview Neville Chamberlain, the Minister of Health, on Sept. 29, with reference to his letter in which he expressed the desire to discuss with the Board the difficulty arising from the refusal of the Guardians to accept the Ministry's condition for a loan for poor law relief. The Board also adopted the report of the Finance Committee, which stated, among other things, that no funds were available for the payment of accounts, wages and salaries.

GIRL IS FREED OF MURDER ATTEMPT

St. John Jury Brings in Verdict in Forty-five Minutes

St. John, N.B., Sept. 25.—(C. P.)—Margaret Colpitts, charged with the attempted murder of her five weeks' old daughter by throwing the baby, an illegitimate child into the St. John river near the Reversing Falls on August 18, was acquitted yesterday after less than 45 minutes of deliberation by the petit jury. She was discharged from custody immediately.

G. Earl Logan, Counsel for the defence, said he might wish to hint, in his address to the jury, that the girl might have been temporarily insane at the time the alleged occurrence took place and, for that reason he wished to call Dr. J. V. Anglin, head of the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Disease. Mr. Justice Byrne said he though the jury would have to be re-sworn to decide this issue. Mr. Logan said he did not wish the jury re-sworn as he was not trying to prove that the girl was insane but that he wished Dr. Anglin to say whether there was such a kind of insanity and to describe it.

Dr. Anglin testified that a certain form of insanity did sometimes accompany childbirth, coming after the birth generally It was more common in cases of illegitimate children. The judge insisted that the jury be re-sworn to decide, if they should believe her to have committed the crime, or whether she was sane or insane at the time.

Mr. Logan, in his address to the jury declared that he had not offered any evidence that the accused was insane. At her preliminary hearing the police magistrate committed the girl for trial on a charge of murder and the Crown Prosecutor changed the charge in the indictment to one of attempted murder. The girl, according to a confession made to detectives, which was admitted in evidence, said she threw the child into the river. The body however, has never been found.

Welshmen Bitterly Object to Criticism In the Play "Taffy"

LONDON, Sept. 25—(C.P.C.)—Another disorderly scene occurred in a local theatre last night when Caradoc Evans' play, "Taffy," in which the Welsh people are bitterly criticized, was repeated.

On the first production of the play here, about two weeks ago, it was hissed by the Welsh section of the audience, who were present in large numbers, evidently for the purpose of showing strong disapproval of the alleged reflection on the people of Wales contained in the play, and Evans was accompanied by a strong police escort when he left the theatre.

Last night the disorder during the presentation of the play was obviously organized. It was necessary to lower the curtain repeatedly because of the opposition to "Taffy," and the leading player made frequent appeals to the rowdies in the audience to desist from breaking up the show. Eventually the performance was allowed to proceed.

At its conclusion, however, the demonstrators against the sentiments of the play gathered in the theatre lobbies and sang the Welsh National Anthem, and otherwise showed their disapproval of "Taffy." The noise became so great that the police were called in and six of the disturbers were forcibly ejected from the theatre.

Many Welsh people who have seen the play admit that while the author, Caradoc Evans, himself a Welshman, hits his countrymen in a shrewd manner, his picture of certain phases of Welsh character, in their narrower aspects, is not necessarily a mere Lampoon, as so many regard it.

MIMIC WARFARE BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Observers Surprised at Sudden Termination of British Manoeuvres

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—The battle between the Blue and Red armies with London as the objective ended abruptly last evening, to the surprise of those who have been endeavoring to follow the manoeuvres and the delight of the bedraggled Tommies. Latest reports say that the attack of General Chetwode's Blue forces, who were defending London, did not develop decisively and that "cease fire" sounded with General Godley's invading Red troops holding a strong line.

The operations began at dawn Tuesday, and, instead of waiting for the invasion, the defenders made a surprise attack, advancing in Red territory. From that on, owing to the flooded condition of the entire area the zone of the operations, few details are known of the movements of the respective armies and it is presumed that manoeuvres were brought to a close a day ahead of time because of the physical difficulties encountered by the troops, many of whom were green men.

TROPHIES GIVEN TO C.N.R. TEAMS

Sir Henry Thornton Praises Fine Spirit of Co-operation

Praise for the fine spirit of co-operation and enthusiasm shown by the staff of the Canadian National Railways was voiced by Sir Henry Thornton, K.B.E., chairman and president at the Windsor Hall yesterday in a brief address delivered at the presentation of first aid trophies won by C. N.R. teams during 1925.

Sir Henry stated that the zeal, shown by the various employes in first aid work, was reflected throughout the system in their everyday work. Sir Henry stated that so long as this spirit prevailed success would attend the efforts of the company.

The guests were welcomed by W. D. Robb, vice president, who reviewed first aid work in the National lines and stated that it had grown to such an extent that it was no longer possible to hold the meetings in the board room.

Since the inception of first aid on the railway 27,683 employes had been granted certificates, 3,841 had carried the study on to higher grades and had been granted vouchers, medallions and labels.

Trophies were won by offices and shops from Montreal, Stratford and Winnipeg and the Galloway Cup, for competition on electric lines, was won by office team No. 4 Montreal and Southern Counties Railway.

Prizes were presented by Lady Drummond, Dr. F. Montizambert C. M.G., and Col. C. A. Hodgetts, M.D., director-general of the St. John Ambulance Association. All made short addresses and afterwards a demonstration of first aid was put on by the Stratford Motive Power Shop Team, which had won the Montizambert Trophy, showing their skill in treating a case in which there were hemorrhages and fractures.

BREAK LEGS IN STREET ACCIDENTS

Struck by an automobile as he was running across the roadway opposite 1804 Church avenue, Cote St. Paul, yesterday afternoon, Lucien Frechette, aged 13, of 16 Guy street, suffered a fracture of the right leg. The driver of the car stopped at once and took the child to a drugstore, whence he was taken to hospital, after first aid had been given by a doctor.

Also suffering from a fracture of the right leg, and also in the Western Hospital is Emile Lavallee, aged 21, of 279 Laval avenue. He fell from a waggon he was driving on Sherbrooke street west, near Loyola College, at noon yesterday, and was picked up by passersby, who summoned the ambulance.

AUTO OVERTURNS.

Ernest Alosi of 216 Mountain street, suffered severe scalp wounds when the automobile belonging to M. Alex. Gour, of Montreal, and a party returning from the Terrebonne Liberal Convention, passed a few minutes after the accident and took the injured man to St. Jerome, where several stitches were required to close his wounds. He is progressing favorably.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Treated on the scene by Dr. E. N. Perrigard, for slight injuries received when she was knocked down by an automobile at the intersection of Sherbrooke street and Marlowe avenue, at 10 o'clock last night, Ursula Meeghan, aged 17, of 1829 Valois street, was later removed to the Homeopathic Hospital, where she is reported to be progressing favorably.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER WARNS DOMINION AGAINST DRIFTING

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Sept. 25.—(C.P.)—Sir George Foster addressed the Canadian Club here yesterday and pointed out that the actual ties which bound Canada to the Mother Country had been loosened until but two, the appeal to the Privy Council and the appeal to the Crown, remained. At the same time, he said, there had been a tightening of the actual ties of Empire, which were stronger, if less visible.

He warned that Canada was drifting and not thinking. To offset the "peaceful penetration of the United States", he urged that Canadian history be made to live again in the minds of Canadian people.

PREVOST NAMED IN TERREBONNE

Jules Edward Prevost was again chosen candidate in the Liberal interest in Terrebonne county, by a convention held at St. Jerome yesterday afternoon. Delegates numbered 125, and their choice was unanimous.

Following the convention a meeting was held at which Mr. Prevost, and Hon. P. J. A. Cardin delivered addresses. The Minister of Marine, following a eulogy of the candidate, reiterated many of the arguments he brought forward on Tuesday evening in St. James, Montreal. He denied that the United States was in any sense a more attractive country to live in than Canada, or a more prosperous country, and declared that those who held the States up as the promised land to which Canadians naturally emigrated, were poor patriots and poor Canadians.

Canada's sufferings were mostly the result of the Borden-Meighen administration. He charged Hon. E. L. Patenaude with hypocrisy in his claims of independency.

Chauffeur Steals Famous Cook from Home of President

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 25. — (C.P.) —Jeremiah Shea admits he is lucky. Once, when he was on a Canadian mine sweeper she struck a mine and the whole crew with the exception of Jerry and a pal were killed. Now, Jerry has married the Margaret Carr, who cooked the most delectable corned beef and cabbage for President Coolidge at the White Court, the Presidential summer residence.

It was unfortunate for Mr. Coolidge, that Mr. Shea, chauffeur for Frank W. Stearns, of Boston, happened to taste Miss Carr's corned beef. But, Jerry says; "the President will miss her. But I'm thinking I'll appreciate her more than he does. He is an easy man to satisfy."

MINTO RANCH SALE IS EXPECTED SOON

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 26—(C.P.) —Negotiations for the sale of the Earl of Minto's ranch, adjoining the Prince of Wales ranch in the Pekisko District are pending and the property may be disposed of in a short time, according to information received in the city on Thursday. The Earl of Minto, owner of the ranch, is residing at Minton House, Roxbroghshire, Scotland, and does not intend to return to Canada.

The farm which is said to be one of the choicest in the south country, has been listed for sale for the past year with the firm of Lougheed and Taylor and it is understood that several offers have been made for it.

CORN EXCHANGE ANSWERS OLIVER

Railway Commissioners' Procedure is Scored by Board of Management

LOST CONFIDENCE

Resolutions of Board Quoted—Chief Commissioner Censured

Classifying the statement issued by Hon. Frank Oliver, railway commissioner, on September 17, as "high-handed" and "unusual," and declaring that such procedure would tend to undermine confidence in the Railway Commission, the committee of management of the Montreal Corn Exchange, at a meeting yesterday issued the following statement. F. A. Heywood, president, was in the chair.

The statement, which follows another statement from the same source on September 8, to which Hon. Mr. Oliver's declaration was a reply, reads as follows:

"There can be no doubt," says the statement, "in the minds of anyone who is conversant with the work of the Board of Railway Commissioners, since its inauguration, as to the meaning of Section 12 of the Railway Act, which stipulates that two members of the board form a quorum. It is, obviously, to enable two members, instead of the whole board, to hear relatively unimportant questions affecting local conditions only. It does not seem reasonable to suppose that two members of the board, who, by virtue of their recent appointment, would appear to have the least experience in matters of grain rates, of any members at present sitting on the board, would render a decision on a case—to use the Hon. Mr. Oliver's own words—'which must have a very far-reaching effect; so far-reaching indeed that in fact it would be impossible to specifically notify all interests that might be affected.'

"Mr. Oliver states that notices were sent to the railway associations and to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways. The officials of the Canadian National Railways, who look after that particular part of its organization, state they did not receive any notice. Mr. Commissioner Boyce, in his memorandum on the judgment and order issued recently, stated,—

"The Canadian National Railways whose revenues would be affected by any judgment granting this application to the extent of over a million dollars annually, protested that it had not even had notice of the hearing of this complaint, and no opportunity for preparing its case at the hearing. After a careful and anxious examination of the proceedings, I find, as a fact, that no notice of hearing was ever given to the Canadian National Railways under the rules of this board, or otherwise, and what examination of the complaint did take place at the hearing at Vancouver in November last, was, as far as the Canadian National Railways is concerned, entirely without due notice of hearing or service of complaint. The notice of hearing to all other parties was shorter than that usually allowed for such a hearing at a far distant point.

"The following resolution was passed by the Board of Railway Commissioners, on 2nd September, 1925: 'Whereas, Order-in-Council, P.C. 886, of June 5, 1925, directed the board to make a thorough investigation of the rate structure of railways and railway companies subject to the jurisdiction of Parliament, with a view to the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure which will under substantially similar circumstances and conditions be equal in its application to all territories and localities'; it being set out that this was 'so as to permit the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various Provinces and territories of the Dominion, and the expansion of its trade, both foreign and domestic, having due regard to the needs of its agricultural and other varied industries.'

"And, whereas, it is set out that 'due regard' is to be given in particular to (a) the claim asserted on behalf of the Maritime Provinces that they are entitled to the restoration of the rate basis which they enjoyed prior to 1919.

"(b) the encouragement of the movement of traffic through Canadian ports;

"(c) the increased traffic westward and eastward through Pacific Coast ports, owing to the expansion in trade with the Orient and to the transportation of products through the Panama Canal.

"And, whereas, the order-in-council has by its direction and by the wording contained in clauses (c) above embodied as part of the investigation now before the board, the consideration of the bearing inter alia of 'traffic westward through Pacific Coast ports, thus, of necessity, involving the question of rates on export grain;

"Therefore, be it resolved, by the board that, in terms of the direction so given to it by order-in-council, P.C. 886, the matter of export grain rates via Pacific ports, and other matters, if any, pertinent to the investigation in which hearing may have been held but judgment not rendered, must of necessity be dealt with as part of the general investigation and under the judgment to be rendered in connection therewith."

"Moreover, Mr. Commissioner Boyce in his memorandum says: 'This resolution, in the presence of all the members of the board, was proposed by the Assistant Chief Commissioner, and concurred in by Commissioner Lawrence and myself. The Chief Commissioner and Commissioner Oliver dissented therefrom, and in accordance with usual procedure, in this, as in any other court, the majority governed and the resolution was carried, and is now a resolution of the board, governing the conduct of the general investigation of freight rates in Canada, and was binding upon the Chief Commissioner when he subsequently issued his judgment.'"

"In spite of this resolution, the Chief Commissioner and Mr. Commissioner Oliver issued the order and judgment referred to and telegraphed its contents to the applicants in British Columbia. Again quoting from the memorandum issued by Mr. Commissioner Boyce:

"But for the deplorable celerity and secrecy with which judgment and order of the minority of the board were issued, the judgment would have been over-ruled by the expressed dissent of the majority. But the meeting at which the board's resolution of September 2 was carried by the majority and expressed such dissent, was adjourned with no intimation that any judgment of the minority would be prepared, and such judgment of the minority and order thereupon issued, and the pretended effect thereof telegraphed to the complainants in the far West before any intimation was made that such decision would be handed out.

"In view of this information the members felt that the procedure of the Chief Commissioner and Mr. Commissioner Oliver was not only high-handed and unusual, but would tend to undermine the confidence in a body which they have always regarded as absolutely fair and equitable in all its decisions."

CENTENARY UNITED CHURCH PROSPERS

An increase in membership of 200, who have joined Centenary Methodist church since it became Centenary United was reported at a congregational meeting last night in the Sunday school hall when a survey of the changes which had taken place was given to the members.

St. Matthew's Presbyterian church was the source of 75 of these new communicants, and of 18 elders elected last night four were formerly members of St. Matthew's, while the new board of stewards has on it four names which were associated with that church.

The minister, Rev. W. G. Johnston, declared that the church was free from debt, largely on account of the success of the last anniversary campaign, when of $2,388 promised, $2,274 was received. The total amount of money raised in the year was $13,629, and the number of families administered to 415.

The financial statement covering the church organization features the following receipts: Ladies' Aid Society, $1,699; Sunday school, $1,226; Epworth League (Sr.), $142; Epworth League (Jr.), $7; Women's Missionary, $247; Tokio Mission Circle, $84; Mothers' meeting $181; C.G.I.T., $5; Men's Club, $245; Men's Brotherhood, $44; Klansmen, $25; Benevolence, $169; Rev. H. Howard Mission, $150.

The total amount raised by the board of management during the year was $9,028.

The elders, who were unanimously designated to compose the session, are David Allan, Thomas Anderson, J. A. Beckstead, John Howatt, Samuel Jennings, W. J. Johns, A. C. Johnston, Robert King, G. W. Lester, J. A. Mattice, Alfred Mills, William Millier, Frank Millington, John R. Nutter, James Scarr, Johnson Vivian, Richard Wilkinson and Richard Pike.

The board of stewards consists of John Brown, Robert Collin, R. C. Crombie, Joshua Cuthbert, F. W. Freeman, W. G. G. Horwood, G. H. King, Joseph A. Laing, Michael O'Brien, Humphrey Payne, Thomas Parker, W. A. Pitt, James Porteous, J. Ernest Rose, F. A. Sisson, Ernest Smith, Alfred Staveley, G. R. P. Walker and John Watson.

Hope that some of those who had remained with the Presbyterian faith would one day grasp a broader vision was expressed by David Allan, who reviewed in a short address the various benefits of church union.

John R. Nutter elder-elect, declared that he trusted the newly accepted members would find a congenial home at Centenary.

A presentation of a Geneva gown was made to the minister by Mrs. T. Anderson representing the Ladies' Aid.

PRISONER TAKES SUIT FOR LIBERTY

Another of the men held in Bordeaux jail pending deportation has proceeded against the prison authorities, insisting they they show legal cause why he is being held without a warrant. Most of the cases at present before the courts were instituted by Chinamen, but yesterday's writ of habeas corpus was asked for and obtained by Sam Shanefield, a Rumanian. It is returnable next Tuesday morning before Mr. Justice Bruneau in the Practice Division of the Superior Court. Lionel Sperber, of Jacobs and Phillips, contends in his proceedings that the deportation law is unconstitutional.

Shanefield served six months in jail for an offence against the Narcotics Act, but his solicitor complains that he is still in jail although the sentence was cleared six months ago.

HON. JAS. C. TORY MADE GOVERNOR OF NOVA SCOTIA

Westmount Resident Succeeds Lieut.-Governor Jas. R. Douglas

SERVED IN CABINET

Well-known in Insurance Circles in Province and Montreal

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 — (C. P.)—His Honor James Robson Douglas, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Nova Scotia, has resigned and his resignation has been accepted by the Government.

James Cranswick Tory, former Minister Without Portfolio in the late Administration of Premier Armstrong, former Premier of Nova Scotia, has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor in succession to former Lieutenant-Governor Douglas.

Official announcement to this effect was made late yesterday afternoon.

Former Lieut.-Governor Douglas was sworn in on January 20 last, succeeding former Lieut.-Governor MacCallum Grant.

The newly-appointed Lieutenant-Governor is a former Liberal member in the Nova Scotia Legislature for the constituency of Guysboro; and is well-known in insurance circles in the Province and in Montreal.

Hon. J. C. Tory was first elected to the Nova Scotia Legislature by the County of Guysboro in 1911. He was re-elected in 1916 and in 1920. He was appointed Minister Without Portfolio in the Nova Scotia (Liberal) Cabinet in 1921, although living in Montreal, where he is general manager of agencies of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

The Hon. James Cranswick Tory was born in Guysboro county on October 24, 1862, the son of Robert Kirk and Anorah (Ferguson) Tory. He was educated at the Guysboro Academy and the Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal. After some years in commercial life he became special representative of the Sun Life in the West Indies in 1891; superintendent in 1892; manager for Detroit, 1895; superintendent for agencies, Montreal, 1897; general manager, western foreign department, 1901, and was made general-manager of agencies in 1915.

He is a member of the Westmount Board of School Commissioners, a governor of the Wesleyan Theological College and a member, among other societies, of the Archaeological, Nova Scotia Historical and the Montreal Art Association. He lives at 488 Mount Pleasant avenue, Westmount.

VICTORIA WATCHES FOR CHOLERA CASES

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 25 — (C.P.) Owing to the spread of a cholera epidemic in Japan, immigration officials here are keeping a close watch for such cases on inbound liners. Altogether there are now 34 cases of cholera in Japan, the officials here have been advised. Passengers embarking at Yokohama for this continent are required to pass a medical examination before leaving Japan.

WHEAT POOL WILL ADD TO HOLDINGS

Plans Handling Facilities at Every Saskatchewan Shipping Point

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 25.—(C.P.)—The Saskatchewan wheat pool intends to acquire handling facilities at every shipping point in the Province, according to an official statement on elevator policy issued here yesterday, when the pool passed its objective of nine million acres with 67,000 contracts at headquarters, covering a total of 9,018,251 acres.

A statement issued by the pool after noting that the pool controlled the majority of wheat grown in the Province, added: "But the facilities through which grain is handled are controlled by interests which are opposed to the pool method of marketing, interests whose sole concern lies in profit-making through a system of marketing or dumping which in the opinion of the pool is opposed to the best interests of the producers."

For the first year the pool will avoid conflict with the co-operative elevator companies by not building at points where these companies have elevators unless there is a minimum of 30,000 acres under contract to the pool.

The statement said the pool had already acquired 85 elevators. The acquisition of elevators is in line with the policy of the pool decided last fall when it was decided that in order that the pool might function to the best advantage, it would be necessary to have complete control over the direction of its wheat.

ONTARIO WILL AID APPLE MARKETING

Will Buy 25,000 Barrels And Send Them Overseas

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 25.—(C.P.)—Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, yesterday announced Government assistance in the marketing of the apple crop of the Province. The Government will carry out an extensive publicity campaign urging the citizens to use home-grown fruit, and will aid in securing export markets by purchasing 25,000 barrels of representative apples to be shipped overseas with a view to favorably impressing the buyers there with the quality of the Ontario fruit.

This latter action by the Government will constitute the first time in which the Provincial Government has so aided in the marketing of a fruit crop, going to the extent of assisting to finance it. The fruit purchased by the Government will be subject to Government inspection and will be branded with the stamp of Government approval. The grower will be paid the market price, so that he can lose nothing and, should the Government make a profit on its handling of the fruit, the surplus will also be paid to the grower after deducting transportation and selling costs.

WHO CAN VOTE?

EVERY British subject—man or woman—who is twenty-one years of age and who has been in Canada for one year, and has resided in the district in which he or she is to vote since July 5th last, is entitled to vote at the coming elections provided they are on the list. If they are not on the list they can get on the list if they act now.

Only men voters are on the Provincial lists.

Hence only men voters will be on the lists for the Federal elections—unless the women get their names on, personally, by REGISTERING at the proper booth during the next four days.

All men should not assume that their names are on. They should make sure of it by enquiry, and, if not, they should REGISTER.

EVERY WOMAN VOTER MUST REGISTER, otherwise she cannot be on.

Every domestic servant who is qualified under the first paragraph of this article, has the right to register and then to vote.

Every male and female clerk similarly qualified can similarly have the right to vote.

Every typist, male or female, can similarly have the right to vote.

Every housemaid can similarly have the right to vote.

Every factory girl can similarly have the right to vote.

Every daughter staying at home can similarly have the right to vote.

Every son of twenty-one at home can have the right to vote if he makes sure his name is on the list.

Every chauffeur can similarly have the right to vote.

In fact, every citizen, male and female, twenty-one and over, employees as well as employers, can have the right to vote, but be it remembered the females must register; not a single one who is not registered will be received at the polling booth.

Another thing for the women to remember is that those who do not register may not only lose their vote, but some of the dishonorable people hired to personate may use their names and get their votes.

SOMEONE IN EVERY HOME SHOULD MAKE IT HIS OR HER DUTY TO SEE THAT EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY IS REGISTERED, inclusive of employees, and every employer of any kind of labor should take an earnest interest in perfecting the lists.

* * * *

WOMEN!!!

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government, and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only four days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country, calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right, but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

REMEMBER,
ONLY 4 DAYS MORE.

HANDS OFF THE GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

EMPLOYEES of the Canadian National Railways assembled in convention at Toronto have given unanimous expression to a declaration that they are "opposed to political interference of any kind with the management of the system."

Such a declaration is eminently sound and well-timed. It suggests that there is a real danger of such interference and a presumption that signs of such interference have not been lacking in the past. It is ridiculous to suppose that these delegates would waste their time in passing resolutions about dangers that did not exist. They hardly appear to be the type of men who would create a bogey of their own fears and stuff it with the straw of their own imaginings in order to make a gesture of knocking it down. If there is no danger of political interference, why does the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees solemnly go on record in formal resolution of protesting against such a menace?

Granted then that such danger exists, is it a permanent handicap of all State-owned administrations, or has it been induced in this special case? Sir Henry Thornton has not concealed his annoyance at the interference of party politicians on more than one occasion. It is obviously a direct incentive to the party lobbyists and the petty politicians when a board of directors is appointed, not because of their knowledge of railway management or their outstanding success in the world of business, but as a reward for political services.

It is only natural that men nominated on these grounds should apply the infamous doctrine of the "spoils of office" to such a share in the management as they have a finger in. It is vicious in principle and while it is a natural corollary of Government-owned services, it can be kept in check only by the constant vigilance of the Government itself.

The declaration of the Canadian Brotherhood should be a danger signal to every elector in Canada that the spectre of political interference has raised its head within the ranks of the employees of the State-owned system. If it is allowed to wind its enervating and destroying tentacles around the organization, the railway troubles of the present, huge as they are, will be increased a hundred-fold.

ST. ANN'S DIVISION.

IN the selection of Thomas O'Connell as a candidate for St. Ann's Division, the electors have done themselves credit. Long public service has proven honest Tom's fidelity and devotion. He is trusted as few men in public life are trusted. Broad-minded, kind-hearted, open, frank and honest, he has multitudes of friends and well-wishers, and these include many who only know him by his faithful public service.

GOOD ROADS WORK.

SINCE the establishment of the Canadian Good Roads Association the steady improvement in the condition of Canadian roads, though not equally marked in all parts of the Dominion, has been a highly encouraging sign of the Association's practical work. To bring authorities from the various provinces together in convention once a year and thresh out problems affecting roads is obviously the best way to eliminate difficulties and smooth the path for progress. The convention which closed in Quebec City yesterday has been most successful, in regard both to the matters discussed and the steps taken. The principle of Federal aid to highways has been endorsed, though the convention wisely left all detail for discussion by the proper authorities at Ottawa. The necessity of placing all Federal highways in proper shape for traffic has been duly emphasized, and the convention approved of the legible marking of the names of all post offices for the information of travellers on the highways.

There seems to have been a general feeling against any increase in the municipal levies for roads, though this was advocated by the Deputy-Minister of Highways for Ontario. Further restriction on trucks, which were described by one speaker as the real menace of the highways, was urged by more than one delegate, and would appear to be a matter to which the proper department in each province might well devote attention. The sudden and extensive increase in the number of motor 'buses using the highways is another matter that cannot escape notice. These 'buses are, if anything, an even greater menace than trucks when not driven by careful and considerate drivers, for they occupy a larger space of the road than any other form of vehicle, and there is a general tendency to crowd ordinary automobile traffic to the side. The general subject of motor transportation must inevitably occupy the attention of the Association within very short delay. An important preliminary step has already been taken, in fact, in the establishment of an understanding between the Canadian Good Roads Association and the American Road Builders' Association, which sent delegates to the convention, for co-ordination of the activities of both organizations in the study of traffic problems as they affect the whole of North America. Such co-ordination ought to lead to effective reforms and eliminate much trouble and misunderstanding.

A decision to discuss tourist travel at the next convention shows that the delegates are alive to the necessity of concerted and standardised action. The Province of Quebec Tourist Association's activities are obviously a matter of more than passing interest in this connection. Already 163 hotels in this province have agreed to standardize their prices and to post them prominently in every room. The distribution of 185,000 road maps across the border is another indication of good work done. Though many hotels yet remain to be brought up to the standard set by the Tourist Association, real progress is reported, and with effective co-operation between the provinces and embracing the Good Roads Association, there is sound ground for the belief that conditions may be very materially improved in the near future.

The day will come when there will be a universal peace, not because mankind will have become better, but because a new order of things will force them into a state of peace, as in former days the very conditions of existence placed them and kept them in a state of war.—Anatole France.

The good man prolongs his life; to be able to enjoy one's past life is to live twice.—Martial.

Angora and Arabia.

Angora Hakimietti-Millie: Turkey cherishes no designs against Bagdad. She demands Mosul and the adjacent territory, simply because it forms part of the national entity.

Harsh Words.

Rome Tevere: We should refuse to pay more than we get from our conquered foes. This is a principle which we must defend at all cost, without budging an inch. Our creditors must learn that in order to cut the gordian knot of debts we are at liberty to follow a shining example, the example of Russia.

The Watch On the Brenner.

Rome Epoca: (The frontiers envisaged by the Security Pact are the lines of the Rhine and the Vistula, whilst Italy is only concerned with the line of the Brenner.) The extension of the Security Pact to the eastern frontier demanded by France does not seem to resolve the problem, which, as far as we are concerned, has its kernel in Austria.

Moscow and Mosul.

Moscow Pravda: The vilayet of Mosul, which has been wrenched arbitrarily away from Turkey, must always be an integral portion of the latter country. If Mosul be not allotted to Turkey, that country will be no more than a limbless trunk. She would not be able, in these circumstances, to pursue her political and economic development in a normal manner.

Control by the League.

Vienna Neue Freie Presse: (In favor of Austro-German union and opposed to economic and political control of Austria by the League of Nations.) Great Britain must understand that Austria cannot become a sort of colonial dependency of the League of Nations. Furthermore, we cannot tolerate without protest the handling of a political problem by a financial bureau.

Innocent and Guilty.

Paris Victoire: Would you like to know really why Marshal Lyautey got the boot? Simply because Sarrail had become impossible in Syria, absolutely impossible, and couldn't be touched, without breaking at the same time Marshal Lyautey to make the balance even. Lyautey had succeeded beyond dreams in Morocco. Sarrail had been a pitiable failure in Syria. Put them both instantly in the same cart! This is the reasoning of Republican equality, in the Republic of Comrades.

Regional Pacts.

Paris Matin: It is naturally not in the power of the League of Nations to prevent France, Britain and Germany negotiating a pact, but it is in the League's power to proclaim once again the only principles which can give to these negotiations a character of serious guarantee for the peace of the world. A very interesting and useful result would be that other regional groups, Baltic, Balkan or Little Entente, should organize themselves to show the Great Powers that they cannot resume the policy of hegemony and balance of power which led to the Great War.

Russo-German Trade.

Rheinische-Westfaelische Zeitung: (Commercial negotiations, which have been carried on between Russia and Germany for the last ten months, are likely to be broken off.) Considering the attitude of the Soviet representatives, it would have been advisable for the German delegation to pack up their trunks and return to Berlin to wait there until the hysteria of megalomania, from which Moscow suffers, had subsided. We can afford to wait, for the Russian market is so small and insignificant that a temporary cessation of our exports to Russia cannot result in the conversion of an economic crisis into an economic catastrophe.

The Balkan Pact.

Warsaw Dzien Polsk: (Poland has been invited by Italy to form a pact of mutual guarantee with Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Roumania, while Greece has made an offer of a regional pact to include Yougoslavia, Roumania and Turkey.) As far as Poland is concerned, the pact proposed by Italy would be the more advantageous of the two, the more so because it does not invalidate her treaty of friendship with Turkey, nor her alliance with Roumania, and because it is directed against Germany. If an entente of Baltic states is ultimately concluded, the Italian pact will completely round off the situation to the south of Europe.

Workers and the League.

Vienna Arbeiter Zeitung: The organized workers of the Socialist International approved of the creation of the League of Nations. They are, however, of the opinion that the League will never fulfill the expectations raised as long as it does not include all nations, with equal rights and equal duties. For this reason, the workers demand that the League shall be universal and truly democratic, and they will endeavor by means of unceasing social conflicts to achieve this result. The victory and the reinforcement of their organization, will enable them to exercise a growing and more decisive influence upon the policy of the League of Nations.

Are Collections Capital?

Paris Avenir: It is a fair question to ask if capital which is not active is capital at all? The collector, the enlightened amateur, who bought some time in the early nineties some dozens of pictures by Renoir, Cezanne or Van Gogh at three hundred francs a piece (frame included), is today the possessor of a gallery worth several millions. Yet this does not prevent him from being, in fact, as poor as a rat, travelling second class on the subway and lunching off a slab of cheese. He could sell these treasures if he wished. But if, in fact, he does not sell them? If his simple delight is in the painting itself? Are we going to make him pay for the pleasure which he gets?

United States of Europe.

Berlin Lokal-Anzeiger: We know that the President of the Reichstag, Herr Loebe, has only one object, the formation of an United States of Europe by creating a customs union between the different European nations. It is incredible that Herr Loebe should stretch his naivete to such a point that he should think it possible for a customs union to be formed between States which have never had such high tariff barriers between them as they have at present. If Herr Loebe is expecting the fulfilment, by the Allies, of obligations imposed by the Treaty of Versailles, he will have to wait a very long time and will run the risk of being vilified in Germany as a disturber of the peace.

On a Sand Waste.

This idle waste of dry, grey, glittering sand,
Baked with the August sun's relentless heat,
Burns like a hidden fire beneath our feet,
And all the air is as a furnace fanned
To flame whose breath blows hot on brow and hand,
And thro' the quivering haze our eyes can meet
No semblance of a shade and no retreat,
We are like travellers out of sight of land.

But now the blinding blur begins to fade,
And we with unveiled vision scan the waste,
The distance glimmers green before our eyes;
Yonder the grass begins; a cooling shade
Invites us on, and like the wind we haste

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

PRAISE FOR THE SENATE

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—Our Senate is composed of the best brains Canada can produce—men qualified by long service and distinguished for knowledge and for interest in Canada's prosperity. Regardless of race, creed, party or province, with the aegis of the Senate Chamber, these men become noted as Canadians working for Canada as a whole, unitedly. They become our specialists to unravel problems which members of the House of Commons are unable to solve. They are all specialists. They are high priced, to be sure, but by their wise decisions they save our money. They save more than they cost to the country, which is $4,000 a year for each Senator. If the Senate had the full control of our railway policy, Canada today would not be on the verge of bankruptcy from Government ownership and control of railways. The Senate's plan for the solution of Canada's railway problem should most certainly be listened to and followed.

A QUEBEC READER.

JUSTICE TO EX-SERVICE MEN

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star,

Sir,—In a recent issue of The Star there was an item to the effect that veterans in the employ of the Canadian National Railways fear that at the close of the present month, or that following, a number of them may be advised that owing to a reduction in personnel their services will be no longer required. Surely the head of the system, who is understood to be sympathetic to returned men, will not for a moment tolerate or countenance ex-service men being thrown on the street at the worst period of the year. Will the head of the Government and his Minister of Railways allow those who fought for Canada, and showed the willingness to make any sacrifice required, to starve during the coming winter? What is all this talk of the seniority rule? There should be no rules enforced to the disadvantage of the returned soldier. The only rule affecting returned men that should be consistently and favorably enforced is that of giving them the preference in the matter of employment and retaining their services throughout the year. In view of the move now being made in favor of unity any discrimination against one section of the veterans, particularly those in the employ of the Canadian National Railways, will rouse the veterans throughout Canada.

IDEAL OF CHRISTIAN UNITY.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Sir,—In this department of your valuable paper on September 9th, Mr. F. X. Des Rivieres set forth in a terse, clear manner the New Testament interpretation of the Church of Christ. As a gospel minister, I, in collaboration with many others, hold that this is the only concept of the Church given us by the apostles and early Church writers. It seems to us a logical fact that if all Christians, were to accept this apostolic interpretation of the Church, and eliminate denominational creeds and names, it would be the first grand move toward unity, so much needed among Christians everywhere. Since all Christians possess one spirit, the spirit of Christ, and all belong to one body, the "body" of Christ, "which is the Church" (Colossians 1:24) Why cannot it be possible and practicable for the true spiritual people of Christ, who are scattered in every professed Christian denomination, to be free from the denominational factors which divide them, and remain one in the true spiritual church?

The apostolic Church recognized no denominational distinctions except those which designated Christians as such is their relation to Christ hence the names "Church of God," "Church of Christ," "Christians," "Disciples," "Brethren," and "Saints." No one was a Christian who did not possess the spirit of Christ. (Romans 8:9.) The "seven churches which are in Asia" were congregations of the Church of God in seven different locations in Asia Minor. (Revelation 1:11) and not seven different denominations; nor were they a united national or provincial Church. Already within the last forty years, a movement has been gathering force which is destined to bring about the external as well as the inward spiritual unity, of all who are born again and spiritual members of the body of Christ.

Iron Hill, Que. J. C. BLANEY.

EVOLUTION AND RELIGION.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star,

Sir,—Your correspondent Ernest R. Smith asks: "Why is evolution accepted . . . as the antithesis of religion?" For the very good reason that evolution is antagonistic to, and in its aim destructive of, religion. "Is there no room for serious independent thought?" is another question. Certainly there is, "millions of acres" of it; but let the independent thinkers keep in mind that there are "serious independent thinkers" outside the ranks of those who profess their inability to accept orthodox beliefs. It would be interesting to have your correspondent prove his next statement that "God is. So much is not only proved by science, etc." Of course God is; but where and how has the fact been proven by science? (Perhaps it is necessary here to explain that I mean the Christian's God, and not the definition of a god so beloved of some evolutionists.) "Nature refuses to permit the destruction of matter, and in the so-called 'death' of creatures we view only a process of transition from one form of life to another." A concrete amplification of just what happens to the human body after it is laid in the grave would be enlightening. Just at present this statement of the indestructibility of matter appeals to me as the very explanation needed by evolutionists to meet the noticeable conflict in which evolution finds itself when faced with the fact of death. "If we use those gifts which nature endows us with, they become further developed; if we do not, they stultify, wither and become useless." To my mind, your correspondent here knocks several props from under the evolutionary theory. "If we . . . have sufficient evidence to prove that the human race has been in existence since before Adam, why believe and teach that Adam and Eve were the first humans?" The reason is that we have not sufficient evidence, unless we accept glib talk of "hundreds and thousands of millions of years" as proof. "As nature cannot lie, we must believe that evolution and religion, . . . are in reality partners." My answer is that no evolutionist worth the name can accept the Christian's belief and remain honest with himself. The attempt to reconcile evolution with religion is a demonstrated weakness of the evolutionist's contention, an admission of inability to substantiate the theory on its merits. Or is it just plain fear? May I, in conclusion, repeat with your correspondent, "Let us be open-minded," and remember the age-old landmarks that have so often turned our feet from the brink of the abyss and guided us through many a dark maze.

P. C. W.

THE PASSING HOUR

Brown: "I had no idea you were going to marry that little widow." Jones: "Nor did I. The idea was hers."

MIGHT BE WORSE.

A young woman was on a visit to an old seaport town. One morning, while driving with her host, she said: "What is the diet of all these people?"

"Fish, mostly," responded the man.

"Why," said the girl, "I thought fish was a brain food. They are really the most unintelligent-looking people I ever saw."

"She's a finished vocalist, don't you think so?" "I'm afraid not. They're calling her out again."

There were two Browns in the village, both fishermen. One lost his wife and the other his boat at about the same time. The vicar's wife called as she supposed, on the widower, but really on the Brown whose boat was lost.

"I'm sorry to hear of your great loss," she said.

"Oh, it ain't much matter," was the reply. "She wasn't up to much."

"Indeed!" said the surprised lady.

"Yes," continued Brown. "She was a rickety old thing. I offered her to my mate, but he wouldn't have her. I've had my eye on Tom Ross's for some time."

During a smallpox scare in Glasgow, a certain doctor was so busy vaccinating people that he had to make an auxiliary room for such operations in the basement of his house.

One day a burly man called and said he wished to be vaccinated, and the maid told him that he would have to be done in the basement.

"I'll be done in the arm," said the man, "or I'll no' be done at a'!

Mr. Penn: "It amuses me to see you dressing to go around the corner. One would think you were going to a wedding."

Mrs. Penn: "I didn't spend much time dressing when I went to your wedding."

Mr. Penn: "No, you knew that delays were dangerous."

An old farmer and his wife were standing before their pigsty, looking at their only pig, when the old lady said: "John, it will be our silver wedding tomorrow. Let's kill the pig."

John replied with disgust: "What's the use of murdering the poor pig for what happened twenty-five years ago?"

Dogless Communication. — "Mose, can you explain wireless telegraphy to me?"

"Yessuh. It's like dis: Ef you-all had a long, long houn' dawg, an' he stretched from Cincinnaty to Cleveland, and you step on his tail in Cincinnaty, he would howl in Cleveland. Dat am telegraphy. Only in wiahless you does de same thing without a dawg."

Near Liverpool Street one day a sharp-witted London boy was accosted by a pompous stranger who, uncertain of his bearings said, "Boy, I want to go to the Mansion House."

"All right, guv'nor; don't be long," was the disconcerting retort.

The circus proprietor was anxious to engage a dwarf, and an agent had assured him that he could put him in touch with the very man. "You're sure he's a real midget?" asked the showman. "Real midget, my boy!" exclaimed the agent. "Why he's so short that every time his feet ache he thinks he's got neuralgia!"

Bishop Vaughan, of Sebastopolis, a brother of the famous Father Bernard Vaughan, spoke at a recent dinner in London and made a witty speech. Among other things he said that at such dinners it was a good thing to have a "big gun"—A canon, or possibly a bishop or two. "But," he added, "you always find the bigger the bore, the longer the spoke, the bigger the tire."

TIME REQUIRED.

A school inspector, examining a class of boys in arithmetic, set them the following:—"If a cat dropped into a bottomless pit, and climbed up two feet for every three feet he fell, how long would it take the cat to get out?"

The question proved a puzzler to the boys, but one little fellow went at the problem with a will, and covered both sides of a sheet of paper with calculations.

"Here!" exclaimed the inspector, as he noticed the young scholar hard at work, "surely, my boy, you can see that the cat will never get out, as the pit is bottomless."

"I don't know, sir," the boy answered. "If you'll give me time, I'll bring him out in Australia."

"I understand your son went through college and got his B.A. and M.A."

"Yes, but his P. A. still supports him."

Says the Flapper—I believe I will shingle my hair.

Says the Grand Father—I believe I will shingle my roof.

Says the Brother Law Student—I think I'll hang out my shingle.

Says the Inebriate Hubby—I wish I wash shingle m'shelf.

Faith in Advertising—Dorothy had been praying for a baby sister. The other day her mother, while reading the paper, exclaimed: "I see Mrs. Smith has a little daughter."

"How do you know that, mamma?" Dorothy inquired.

"It says so in the paper, dear."

"Read it to me."

Her mother read: "Born on March 2, to Mr. and Mrs. —— Smith, a daughter."

Dorothy thought a moment, and then said: "I know what I'm going to do. I'm going to stop praying and begin advertising."

Lady (to new maid)—You were in service with Dr. Needlemonk at your last place. Is he a nice man?

Maid—I don't know, ma'am. He was out when I began, and I left before he got back.

A well-known actor was playing to a crowded house, but was frequently interrupted by the squalling of a child in the gallery.

At last the noise grew so unbearable that the actor abandoned his lines and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, unless this play is stopped, the child cannot possibly go on!"

A clergyman was dining with his host before the afternoon service at which he was to speak. He ate little, explaining that it was not good for a preacher to eat heavily before a sermon.

The housewife could not attend the service, as she had to stay home to prepare supper.

When her husband came home, she said, "Well, how was he?"

'RED' ORGANIZATION MAKES MONEY FAST

Charles Garland Fund Increased Over $1,000,000 in Two Years

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 — (A. P.) — Radical organizations, receiving assistance from a fund created by Charles Garland, of North Carver, Mass., "to fight capitalism" have made more than $1,000,000 in Wall Street in the last two years.

The American fund for public service has increased from $800,000 and $1,500,000, Morris L. Ernst, counsel for the foundation, revealed today, despite the fact that $500,000 has been given away to various radical organizations and publications.

"Some of our securities rose in value 2,000 per cent in two years," Mr. Ernst said. "A large part of our capital was stock in the First National Bank, which increased more than $1,000 a share. It shows that radicals are conservative when it comes to handling money on a large scale."

Dr. Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for mayor, described the fund's success in making money in Wall Street as one of the greatest jokes of the season.

"It is a joke on us" he said. "It's a joke on George F. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank. Haw, haw, haw, think of George F. Baker (one of the richest men in the United States) making money for the radical movement."

CHAUFFEUR STOPS N.Y. HOLD-UP GANG

Used Fists to Thwart Robbery Attempt on Vaudeville Star

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 — (U.P.) — Six men attempting to hold up Nora Bayes, vaudeville star, as she stepped from her automobile after returning from a theatre last night were routed when her chauffeur paid no attention to drawn revolvers and launched a fistic attack.

John Carlow, the chauffeur, was injured in the groin by one of two bullets fired at him. The bandits obtained no loot.

The hold-up was well-timed. Miss Bayes' car and that of the bandits arrived simultaneously in front of her home. Four of the robbers leaped to the running-board of the actress' machine and attempted to snatch a paste necklace, which she had worn in her act.

Carlow fought off the bandit, who fired twice. Six other shots were fired as several persons came running up West End Avenue. The bandits then fled and escaped in their car.

It is believed that the bandits were fooled by the paste jewels. Miss Bayes has a necklace valued at close to $50,000 and other valuable jewellery, but she never wears on the stage.

Miss Bayes and her maid screamed as the chauffeur and the hold-up men were fighting. The actress' husband, Benjamin Friedland, came from the house in time to see the bandit car speeding down the street.

THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

The traffic cop on Bleury street accused a motorist from the States of speeding.

"See here, young man, who do you think you are, Barney Oldfield? What do you mean by speeding?"

"I wasn't speeding. How 'ju get dat way, I wusn't going n'more dn twelve miles an hour."

"All right, I'm not going to give you a ticket for speeding—but I am going to give you one for killing the English language."

BROADWAY BRUMMELL.

FOR "OOM HARRY"

I have come to the conclusion "Oom Harry," that you were christened twice "Coo-coo." Of course other people have said the same things as you have about a woman's "no," but one day they find themselves over their depth, in "deep water," and that is when they meet a woman who says "no" and means it, who says "yes" and means it, and there will not be a "maybe." So keep a lookout for her "Oom Harry," or—take the consequences! "DIANA."

FOR JULIET.

No, Juliet, you have proved nothing of the kind. If a person reasoned as you do, by digging out the passages desired, he could prove at will that white is always black, and black white. There would be no difficulty at all in satisfying a wriggly conscience that rape and murder are quite on the cards.

Besides, public worship, which is only another way of saying open profession, is quite as necessary to salvation as the Three Graces. You know this as well as anyone, so we won't argue. Also you practically stated that hypocrisy is the rule and not the exception. Haven't you got things slightly twisted? OLIVER.

A MEAN BOY.

I have been going with a boy for a few months and he told me he cared a great deal for me, so I in turn told him the same. I knew he couldn't afford to take me out very often, so I entertained him at home or went for walks. I had been out with another boy a few times, but this boy asked me not to go out with him again and told me nasty things about him. Now he tells me he can't see me any more as he doesn't care enough for me. I have found out that he gave me up because he found some one else. Now, Miss Currie, do you think he did right to ask me not to go out with the other fellow, then turn me down himself? I could cry any time I think of how he treated me as I treated him so well, but it seems to me the better you treat some of the men the less thanks you get. Boys, take my advice and don't start to go with a girl if you think you won't keep it up, as girls have hearts and they are breakable. I hope you will print this letter as my so-called boy friend reads your page and I would like him to read this.

A WESTMOUNT GIRL.

SELECTING A HUSBAND

I am a constant reader of your interesting page for two or more years. I note with keen interest letters written by "Ora Pro Nobis" and others. Very sane subjects are discussed on this page. I approve very much of this exchanging of ideas; as it serves to instruct people in many ways.

Apparently, in every corner of the world there are girls and boys who fall in love with each other from time to time and who sooner or later fall out again, merely on account of some disagreement over a very simple matter. There are others who fall in love and remain that way constantly until they are bound together by the rope of matrimony. Then they disagree, and quarrel the rest of their lives; which is a miserable one. And yet there are those who love and admire each other from the days of courtship, through married life until the end of their lives.

In the first instance, mentioned, I believe the chief reason for this disagreement is due to the fact that either he or she is not sound in mind,—which consequently resulted in the disaffection.

In the second stage, where the courtship was carried out in friendly manner, and their married life is an unhappy one, it is due entirely to their ignorance of married life; which results often when people marry too young, before their mental development is perfected. Generally, the girl is in fault. Why? Simply because the young man is not a "blonde" and because he is not able to perform all classical dancing, etc., not sporty enough, eh! He is discarded and they say he is no good for a husband. Poor things; they are greatly mistaken. Why don't they choose for a husband a nice neat young man who knows his business to perfection, and who will care for his wife efficiently?

In order to enjoy a happy married life let the girls select the man who is efficient in every way, but above all leave beauty to the last because "beauty is only skin-deep."

JUT' O' BOBIN.

TO CACTUS

Did you ever play tennis in Lachine? Just take your racquet and visit a Lachine court, and after you have tried five or six times to play a set, you will never call Lachine the "city of the dead," in fact you will say the people are very much alive!

Cactus, picture yourself sitting on a bench waiting for a set to finish, anxiously you watch the ball, silently keeping score in your mind, "thirty all, forty thirty, game!" Someone calls out, "game and set," —up you get, racquet in hand ready for a game; but alas! there are exactly four fellows and two girls just as ready, in fact, disputing on who is "going on." At last, they decide on mixed doubles, and start playing doubles. Now, Cactus, while all this has been going on, no one has even noticed you, and nothing would ever convince them that it was your "turn," so you glance at your watch, "8 o'clock!" (no use waiting any longer), so home you go with your racquet.

Yes, indeed, Cactus, the people of Lachine are very lively, and, in concluding, I might say:

"The roses nowhere bloom so white
as in Lachine,
The sunshine nowhere shines so bright as in Lachine;
And nowhere hearts so lightly beat,
For heaven and earth both seem to meet, in Lachine.

The days are never quite so long as in Lachine,
Nor quite so filled with happy song
as in Lachine;
And when my time has come to die,
Just take me back and let me lie—
Close where the ships go sailing by Lachine.

There is nowhere a place so fair as
Lachine,
So full of song, so free of care as Lachine.
And I believe that Happy Land
The Lord's prepared for mortal man
Is built exactly on the plan of Old
Lachine.

—WONDERFUL ONE.

LIKES "LOWBROW"

I have just read "Lowbrow's" article in The Star of September 4, and I must say I think it is ever so amusing, and, above all, very human. Really, I don't remember ever having enjoyed an article as much as I did that one, and I heartily agree with several of the things she said.

I do hope "Lowbrow" will write again soon;—as far as her nom-de-plume goes, however, I doubt very much if she is a "lowbrow" in the truest sense of the word—I think she is just a very frank, unaffected, and unconventional person who doesn't care what people may think of her, and just says what she believes. I admire that type of person no end, and think that, in the long run, they are far more sincere than those who pretend, at an early age, to understand all affairs of State, everything in the newspapers, which religious denomination is the best, and, above all, to enjoy and comprehend Scott and Thackeray!

I don't promise that I "chew gum," "read cheap magazines," or "let my jazz garters show," because I don't,—but that is simply because I don't want to, and I don't pretend to condemn anyone else that does so, because it is none of my business. However, I do agree with nearly everything else she said, and I think that if people would only be natural —would "relax" a trifle—they would admit, in the bottom of their hearts, at least, that they agreed with most of the things about which "Lowbrow" wrote. If the people of today would only be a little more frank and unconventional, I think this world would be a better place to live in.

I love polite, modest people, but I can't STAND dignified, narrow-minded people who are too "proper" and conventional to live, and who think a person has no pride if she shows any emotion or affection whatsoever (I mean in private, of course) and who would die rather than miss, on any account, going to church, or breaking a convention. It is all very well for an elderly person to read and enjoy Dickens, Scott, or Thackeray, but for a girl in her early "teens" to read them and pretend to enjoy them only for the sake of being intellectual, is ridiculous.

I think "Lowbrow" is frankness and sincerity personified, and I do hope she will write again. I would love to hear her version on 'Conventions,'' and I do wish one of your many readers would give some frank comments, either for or against, on these two quotations:—"Some persons are so devotional they have not one bit of religion in them."—B. R. Haydon; and "Some people pass through life soberly and religiously enough, without knowing why, or reasoning about it, but, from force of habit, merely, to go to heaven like fools."—Sterne.

I enjoy your page very much, Miss Currie, and do hope I'm not too young to intrude—this is my first attempt, and I feel rather shy and guilty for having done so!

UNCONVENTIONAL NINETEEN.

Ed. Note:—I should be glad to have you write but please don't forget rules—it puts me to a great deal of trouble.

ONLY BY EDUCATION

I wish to gratefully acknowledge kind words from "Mary James," "Nellie Gray," "Como," "Mary Mills," and "Nettie." All the recent publicity of the subject of animal life is due to the kindness and broad-mindedness of Miss Currie, and to her we all extend our heart-felt thanks.

In replying to some of "Nettie's" questions, I would say that perhaps the greatest causes of cruelty in the world are ignorance, drunkenness, lack of imagination and desire for gain or fame. More can be accomplished for a suffering creature by calm and kindly persuasion, at first, than by heated anger. If this mode of procedure does not cause a halt in the cruelty being perpetrated, it is best to note the name and number of wagon, and report case to the owner of the horse, who is usually grateful and reprimands the employe strongly. Should the offence be very flagrant, and if others are witnesses, the matter will be handled by the S.P.C.A., in court, if necessary, where a case is rarely lost, and where the reporter's name is not mentioned. Always keep in touch with the society and learn the result of your and their effort!

It is almost an impossibility to eradicate the "devilish disease of cruelty" in a grown-up. Good old England recognized this when she established the universal Band of Mercy, the child members of which society promise to "be kind to animals, and to do all in their power to protect them from ill-usage." These little men and women, poor and rich, of lowly or noble birth, will become perhaps, icemen, carters, drovers, farmers, butchers, slaughtermen, policemen, detectives, doctors, teachers, lawyers, journalists, clergymen, judges, mayors, or even members of Parliament,—according to education and status in life. You will readily understand that when these heart-educated members pass into the sphere of labor or profession, that there will necessarily be a more humane atmosphere everywhere. And thus with a continuance of this educational activity, the world will in time be cleansed of cruelty.

In a few cities there are training classes for carters; also auxiliary horses at the foot of hills to help heavy loads to ascend. Both of these assistances are needed in our city, as you wisely suggest.

The work of helping the neglected and misunderstood animals is endless! The greatest suffering to them is never seen by any mortal eye except of him, or sometimes her, who use various ways of torture behind stone walls, where no inspectors or outsiders are permitted to enter. The cruelties of the street are nothing to these atrocities!

Time, money, power, and men and women, of sympathetic heart, and determined will, are required in abundance, before the cause of Fair Treatment to Animals is won by humane laws being passed.

In closing, I might say that my efforts to contribute to this work came about through my glance falling on this sentence, "Take up thy pen for the weak." I obeyed and wish to thank all unknown friends who read my humble articles. Perhaps only ten out of every hundred do so, and then likely only one out of every ten takes the subject to heart and really "does something." As I have said before, he or she who only says, "Poor thing!" accomplishes nothing.

ORA PRO NOBIS.

FOR GAUMGAL

When one assumes a certain theory or idea to be the complete truth and devotes one's entire study and research towards proving the correctness of the theory, it is not at all remarkable that one should begin to think the belief infallible. So it is that I can regard Gaumgal's criticism with tolerance. He surrounds himself with an almost impenetrable cloak of complacence, and quotes platitudes in the mistaken idea that they represent reasoning. "Any man can break a watch. It takes skill to make one." The watch in question (the Church) may have been skillfully assembled, but it doesn't keep very good time, because of a myriad unnecessary and ornate appendages. It is against these appendages that my criticism is directed, and not against the mechanical principle of the watch. How about it, Gaumgal? "The Apostle's Creed was never drawn up for sensations." Think it over! How about the supernatural conception of His birth? The martyrdom of His death? His sensational Resurrection, and still more sensational transfiguration? The entire creed is nothing, if not sensational!

You have resort to the old trick of making my words appear ambiguous, in order to give vent to sarcastic implications. However, in the context you show that no ambiguity existed, by grasping the very point of my statement. "A re-statement of Christian teaching, less customs and rituals unknown to Christ Himself, would have an appeal to reason, which the Church has not had for many centuries." It should not be necessary to describe the complexities of the Church's teaching in detail. They exist, chiefly, in the various conflicting branches of the Christian doctrine. Likewise the simple plan of life as patterned by Christ, needs no elucidation from me, although in a future letter I may give an outline of what it means to me. You admit, there may be hypothetical and widely disagreeing theories on a future existence, also that there are sensational preachers in the Church, but you say they form no part of the Church's "official" teaching. All the evidence points the other way, but even supposing this to be the case, what the constitution of the Church demands, and what it actually emphasizes, are two entirely different things. Your statement, that "the Church numbers the most learned men in the world's history, in its field," is open to question. For example, the ancient Greek philosophers had no connection with Christianity, yet the wisdom of their teachings stands today, glowing bright as the very words of Christ, and much older in some cases.

I said, "The Church concerns itself more with mysteries than with the simple expression of wisdom of living rightly," because it works on man's credulous fear of hell, at the same time inciting his acquisitiveness by picturing a blissful Heaven, playing on his sympathy in enlarging on the martyrdom of Christ's Crucifixion; in every case appealing to one or other of his emotions, offering a blind faith as a substitute for his finest birthright "Reason." Supposing, instead of accusations and sarcasm, Gaumgal, you endeavor to prove my deductions unsound, and give me something in their place. I will be the first to thank you. Truth should be the "end" of all reasoning and it is truth I seek.

NO-SEE-UM.

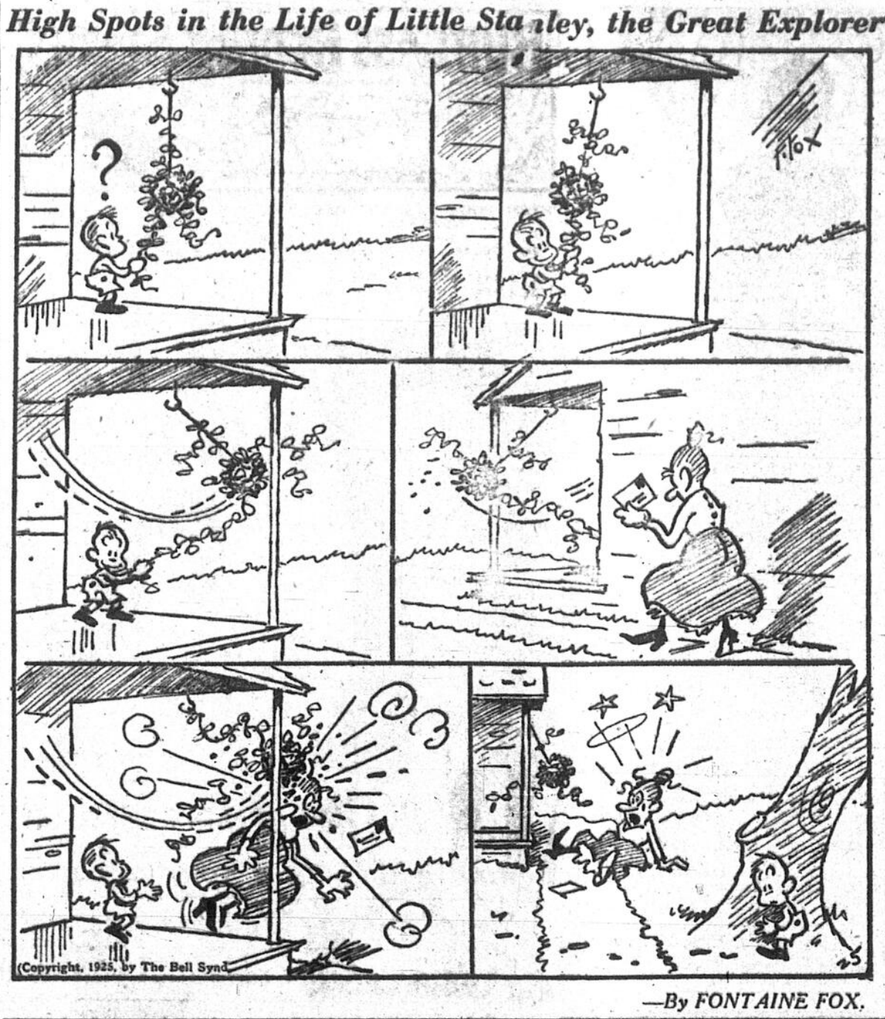

TO A CONSTANT READER

The following is the manner employed in solving your simple problem; and is known as "Partitive Proportion." To divide $180 among four people who receive $60, $80, $40 and $35. To divide $180 into parts proportional to $60, $80, $40, $35, there is a total of $215. Of this the first ($60) gets 60/215, the second ($80) receives 80/215, the third ($40) receives 40/215, the fourth ($35) gets 35/215. Hence to find the amount which each person receives of $180—

40-215 of $180 equals $33.48 36-43
35-215 of $180 equals $29.30 10-43

WOMEN!!!

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only five days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

How to Keep Well: By Dr. W. A. Evans

PRECOCIOUS CHILDREN.

There is a notion that the very bright children, the valedictorians and the near valedictorians, are feeble minded, nearsighted weaklings as well as bookworms. Dr. Terman and his associates do not think so. After closely studying nearly 2,000 selected very bright children in California schools, Terman gives this opinion: "On the whole, superior children are also superior physically." Or, again, "They are not physically weak nor undersized, nor unstable mentally."

The physical measurements of these children were made by Baldwin, who for years has studied the physical development of mentally superior children in Iowa, and in Oak Park, Ill. Baldwin holds that superior children get a good start physically in babyhood and continue in advance of average children in their physical development.

Some other conclusions of this valuable, careful and far reaching investigation by Terman and his associates as as follows:

In a group of superior children, selected without reference to sex, the number of boys will exceed the number of girls. This disproportion is greater than the disproportion between the birth rates of boys and girls.

In selecting a group of superior high school children, it will be found that the number of boys is greater than the number of girls. The disproportion in the high school group is greater than it is in the grammar school group. [This raises the question, "Does the development of the mind of the female of the species stop earlier than that of the mind of the male?"]

The opinion that superior children are one-sided is a myth. There are superior children who are fools and incapables along other lines than those of their special talent, but children of the same mental unevenness are found among average children, among sub-standard children, and, in fact, among imbeciles. The proportion of such uneven folk is not greater among the superior than it is among the ordinary children.

The opinion that superior children do not know how to play and do not care to play is without foundation. The fact is that on the average these children know as much about play as other children, though on the average they choose games that are a little out of the ordinary.

In the nationality groupings, the Jewish children lead all others, having an excess of 100 per cent over the average rating of other nationalities. Negroes, Indians and Latins made poor averages. Racial admixtures, such as Chinese American, Japanese-American, showed up very well.

The states of the Union in which the parents and grandparents were born were given, but the ratings are without value because the distribution of the total school population on the same basis was not discovered.

The health of the superior child was somewhat better than that of the average child.

More than one-half of the superior children had had their tonsils out as compared with one-quarter of the control groups.

WHY EYES PAIN.

M. I. B. writes:

1. Why do my eyes become painful and irritated when I go swimming?

2. What is the reason for a cracking sound in the joint of my knees when I bent?

Reply.

1. Man is not a water animal. The eyes are made for land. Chlorinated water affects the eyes of some people.

2. Getting creaky with age. Some creak earlier than others.

YOU MAY MARRY.

B. M. T. writes: I have a loose kidney and have to wear a belt to keep it in place.

Do you think it a safe thing for me to marry and also should there be any children? Otherwise I feel well and go to business every day.

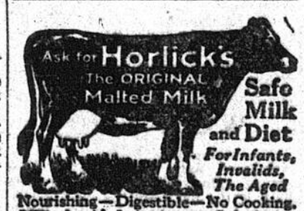

Reply.

Yes, as to both questions.

FUR ON DANCE FROCKS.

Dance dresses are made of lace, georgette, and fur. Gold lace is joined to colored chiffon and edged with golden fur. Shaded georgette and shaded tulle are used with fur. These soft materials are knotted, tied into bows, hung in panels, weighted with fur and embroidery, and they are always slim and simple in line. There is no fussy trimming on the hips; the bodice is invariably slight and well-cut. Velvet coats of the same color go with them.

THE FLAPPER WIFE:

By BEATRICE BURTON

Then Wayburn spoke again.

"Look here, Russet! What do you want to bother with me for, any longer?" he asked. "You quarrel with me all the time we're together, anyway. It doesn't make you happy to be with me any more, does it?"

Gloria frowned thoughtfully.

"It makes me awfully unhappy not to be with you," she said simply. "And Stan, I don't quarrel with you."

"You nag me about other women, though," Wayburn said, "and I don't deserve it. I'm no sheik."

Gloria brightened.

"You do like me, don't you?" she asked, comforted.

Wayburn nodded. "And there's something else I want to say to you, Russet. . . . You know, I have a hunch that you care for this husband of yours a lot more than you think you do. What you hate is married life—being tied down. Isn't that so?" he asked.

Gloria stopped dead. She turned to Wayburn in a blaze of anger.

"So that's it! You're tired of me!" she declared. "You want to kid me into thinking I'm crazy about Dick, so I won't bother you any more, don't you? . . . Well, maybe I am crazy about him! . . . But you, you oil can! I'll bet you have some new girl on your string this minute . . . some cheap Sonya Chotek or other!"

A wild passion of shame and self-disgust swept over her.

She turned to run away from Wayburn. But he caught her by one arm and drew her to his side with a strong steady pull.

"You young wild cat!" he laughed. "Who could be tired of you?"

But Gloria was not to be soothed. She jerked herself from Wayburn, and dashed furiously down the street.

A minute later she was sorry she had lost her temper.

She violently wished that Stan would call her back, or come after her. But he did not.

She walked on toward the centre of town with her head held high. Hot tears stung her eyeballs. But she blinked them away.

The sun had set. And the chill of early evening crept into the still air.

Gloria went into a drug-store and bought a theatrical magazine. She read it, sitting on a high stool as she slowly sipped a chocolate malted milk.

Gloria knew Kit Cameron. She and Kit had gone to business college together four years ago.

"And here she is on Broadway!" Gloria said to herself, "and I'm still here in the same old rut, wondering what it's all about!"

She looked longingly at Kit's picture, wishing her own were in its place. Then she raised her eyes to the mirror at the back of the soda fountain.

Her own reflection smiled back at her, adorably.

"Why, I'm twice as good looking as Kit!" she told herself. "I'll bet I could land a job on Broadway in fifteen minutes, if I half tried!"

The thought was comforting to her wounded vanity. She felt much better as she left the drug store and stepped out into the darkness. She walked home, trying hard not to think of Stanley Wayburn.

When she got home, Mrs. O'Hara was playing solitaire in the living room. She looked up as Gloria came in.

"Ranghild left your supper in the warmer for you," she said.

"I don't want it. I just had a malted milk, and I'm so afraid of getting fat," Gloria answered. "How's Dick tonight?"

"He seems a little better. Wouldn't you like to stop in a minute to see him? He's awake," said Mrs. O'Hara in her sweet voice, that was so like Miss Briggs' lovely accents.

"I think I will," the girl answered. She went upstairs and took off her wraps. With unfailing coquetry, she powdered her nose and fluffed up her hair before she went across the hall to see Dick.

He was lying in bed, perfectly still. Only his eyes moved.

They turned to look at her as she came into the room. They lighted up as she came nearer. His lips moved. But he was too weak to speak.

Gloria sat down on the edge of the bed. She took one of Dick's hands in both of hers. Her heart ached with pity for him.

She leaned over and kissed him on the forehead, much as a mother might have kissed her sick child. Dick closed his eyes contentedly. That was what he had wanted.

In a few minutes he was asleep.

On the table beside Dick's bed was a jar of heavy roses that were beginning to wilt.

As Gloria looked at them a petal fell from one of them. Then another, and another, dropped down upon the polished wood of the table.

Life was like that. One by one the petals fell from it, leaving it bare. First youth went. Then love . . . and happiness.

At that moment Gloria was sure that life was a sad thing. She got up and tiptoed out of Dick's room. She threw herself down on her own bed and cried as if her heart would break, because she had lost Stan Wayburn.

Had she ever had him she wondered. Had he ever honestly cared for her?

Really, hadn't she, herself, pursued Stan? In her heart of hearts, Gloria knew that she had. . . .

Well, she had learned her lesson! She would never telephone him again, or meet him again, anywhere! . . . She would not even speak to him if she met him on the street!

Dick's recovery was very slow. The town was gold and green with April before he was allowed to sit up in his chair beside the window.

At first he was contented to just sit and watch life and movement in the street below him.

But as he grew stronger he called for books. So Mother Gregory and Mrs. O'Hara took turns reading aloud to him.

One afternoon when Gloria was passing his door he called to her.

"Will you see if you can find Stevenson's 'Treasure Island' for me in the book-cases downstairs?" he asked. Gloria brought it.

"This," he said to her, "is the greatest book for boys that was ever written. Wait until I have a kid of my own to read it to. . . ."

He broke off and looked thoughtfully at his wife.

His response to her beauty quickened every day. He would find something new—a wave in her red-gold hair or the long line of her neck—that made an exquisite discovery.

He put out a hand now, and closed it around her wrist.

"You're like a little flame," Dick told her. "They said something when they named you 'Glory.' You are a glory!"

Gloria moved away from him.

She was thankful when the telephone rang, at that moment.

"Hello, Russet!" It was Stanley Wayburn's voice.

"Hello," Gloria cried, trying to keep her sudden gladness out of her own.

"I'm homesick to see you," Stan said frankly. "And I have a fine bit of news for you, too. If I promise to hide all the pictures of my old sweethearts, will you come over to see me this afternoon?"

Gloria hesitated.

"Come on . . . be a sport and say 'Yes'," Stan urged.

"All right, I will," Gloria answered. She hated herself for yielding.

But her longing to see Wayburn swept everything else from her mind.

He greeted her jauntily. He tried to put his arms around her, as he helped her off with her coat. But she slipped out of them.

"What's your wonderful news?" Gloria asked. She took refuge in a dignity that was new to her.

"Nothing except that I think I've landed a job in New York," he said carelessly, dropping into a chair opposite her.

Gloria felt as if he had dropped a bomb-shell at her feet.

"Well, of all things!" she cried. "In New York!"

This was the end, then! Stan's luck had changed.

He would have his chance on Broadway. And, of course, he would make a hit. And she would never see him again . . . except from across the footlights.

"Oh, I can't bear it. . . . I can't bear it!" she cried, suddenly bursting into tears. She put her head down on the arm of her chair and sobbed. Her heart seemed to be breaking.

Stan came over to her, and lifted her head. He looked into her tear-stained face.

"I haven't gone yet," he said. "There's many a slip 'twixt the man and his job, you know! . . . But you do love me a little, don't you, Russet?"

He looked down at her intently.

"Do you know you're an awfully sweet little kid?" he murmured into her hair.

Gloria couldn't speak. There was nothing in the world for her at that moment but the sound of Stan's voice, the blue of his eyes that looked down into hers and his arms that held her. . . These, and the aching thought that soon he would be gone away from her.

"You do care for me a little," he repeated. He kissed her long and clingingly upon her heavy lips.

Gloria didn't resist him. She seemed to be under a spell, an enchantment. Her head dropped like a flower that is too heavy for its stalk. Her eyes fastened themselves on Stan's hand where it grasped her arm so tightly that it had whitened along the knuckles.

Suddenly she noticed that the sleeve of his gray coat was shiny and frayed along the cuff. She gave a little gasp of pity.

Wayburn's eyes followed hers to the frayed sleeve.

He freed her, and stood looking at it with a rueful smile.

"I have a suit for every occasion, and this is it!" he said lightly.

Gloria laughed.

The spell that held her was broken.

"It's getting late," she said. "I must go."

Wayburn gripped her by both wrists.

WOMEN!!!

The voting lists as they stand today have only the names of men voters. This is because the list to be used is the list prepared by the Provincial Government and the Provincial Government has not given women the right to vote.

THEREFORE

All women who want to help their country by voting must secure that right by registering their names. The hope of the country rests with the women voters because women are not led away as a rule to the same extent as men by mere partisanship. If the country is to be saved the women must vote. Every woman of 21 years is entitled to vote if she registers. Only five days more for registering. The welfare of the Dominion, the very salvation of the country, calls for the help of the women. This may be the very last opportunity to give your vote to prevent a catastrophe. The great majority of women can be depended upon to vote right, but they cannot vote unless they REGISTER.

PETER TRIES ALL THE OLD NESTS

By Thornton W. Burgess

Nothing's ever lost by trying;
Nothing's ever gained by sighing.
—Old Mother Nature.

Though Peter Rabbit teased and teased he could get no more information from Ol' Mistah Buzzard. He had to be satisfied with the knowledge that Ol' Mrs. Buzzard didn't have a nest over on the Big Mountain. So once more Peter devoted his time to looking up in the trees of the Green Forest. An idea had come to him, so now instead of looking for a new nest, he went about looking for old nests. You see, he remembered that Hooty the Owl and Mrs. Hooty didn't take the trouble to build a nest for themselves, but simply fixed up an old nest—one built by Redtail the Hawk or by Blacky the Crow. It might be that Ol' Mrs. Buzzard had done the same thing. So now Peter spent his time looking for old nests.

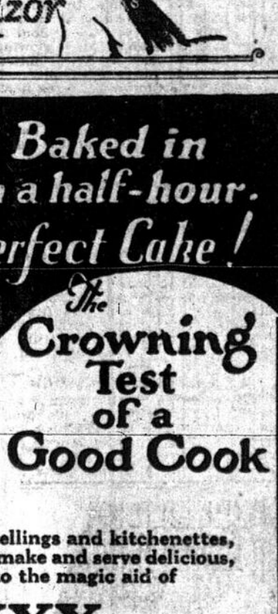

He found a number of them. The trouble was that when he found one he couldn't tell whether or not it was occupied. How he did wish he could climb like Happy Jack Squirrel or Chatterer the Red Squirrel. But he couldn't. He would go all around the tree in which that old nest was and look up at it until his neck ached. He hoped he might see the end of Ol' Mrs. Buzzard's tail over the edge of the nest. But he never did. Then he would wait around in the hope that somebody would come of whom he could ask questions. Usually if he waited long enough some one of the feathered folk would happen along and Peter would be able to find out that that old nest was not being used.

It was surprising how many old nests there were. Peter wasted a lot of time, and in the end he was no wiser than before as to where Ol' Mrs. Buzzard and her two eggs really were. At first Peter hadn't wanted others to know what he was looking for, but at last he didn't care who knew it. So he began to ask everyone he met if they had seen the nest of Ol' Mrs. Buzzard. Of course this started a lot of other people looking for that nest, for curiosity is not confined to Peter Rabbitt. That nest became the greatest mystery of the Green Forest, for no one had the slightest idea where it was, and not having the slightest idea they didn't where to look. Probably the trees of the Green Forest never had been looked through more carefully. No big nest and few little ones escaped the sharp eyes looking for the Buzzard home. But when the little people got together to talk things over none had found the secret of Ol' Mistah and Mrs. Buzzard. It made some of them very provoked. You see, they never had looked on Ol' Mistah Buzzard as being particularly smart, and of course they regarded Mrs. Buzzard in the same way. So it was most provoking to find that these people whom they hadn't considered very smart, could keep a secret so well that on one could find it out. Some of them declared that they didn't believe that Mrs. Buzzard had a nest at all. They didn't believe that there were any Buzzard eggs. But Peter believed it. There had been something about Ol' Mistah Buzzard when he had said that Mrs. Buzzard was sitting on two eggs which made Peter sure that he had been telling the truth.

In all the Green Forest there were just two people who were not puzzled. There were just two people who thought it all a great joke. These two people lived in a certain hollow tree not very far from Ol' Mistah Buzzard's favorite tree. They too, had come from the Sunny South. Can you guess who they were? They were Unc' Billy Possum and Ol' Mrs. Possum.

(Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

SEPTEMBER 25

The sign governing people born on this date is the cusp of Virgo-Libra. Here the steadying factor of the Earth comes to sway those airy people born on this date. They are most impulsive of all signs. There is the same fondness for out-of-doors, sunshine, blue sky, trees, and flowers, that distinguish the Leo-Virgo people.

Give them music as a recreation and a promoter of harmony. This will develop a kindly force and elegance of taste which will bring hope and joy to the household.

The registration of voters, not on the provincial list, or who have moved since that list was compiled is now in full swing and the registrars are finding that many people, who believed that their names were on the list, found on applying that this was not the case. In connection with all voters who moved on May 1 last, they will be compelled to register in the district, in which they have resided since May 1. Many electors are unaware of this but the latest ruling of the Election Act makes it imperative to register, in the district of the constituency in which the voter is residing.

Those registering must have been continuous residents of Canada for one year. To be eligible to vote those applying for registration must have resided, in the district in which the voter is registering, since July 5 of this year as this was exactly two months previous to the issuing of the election writ.

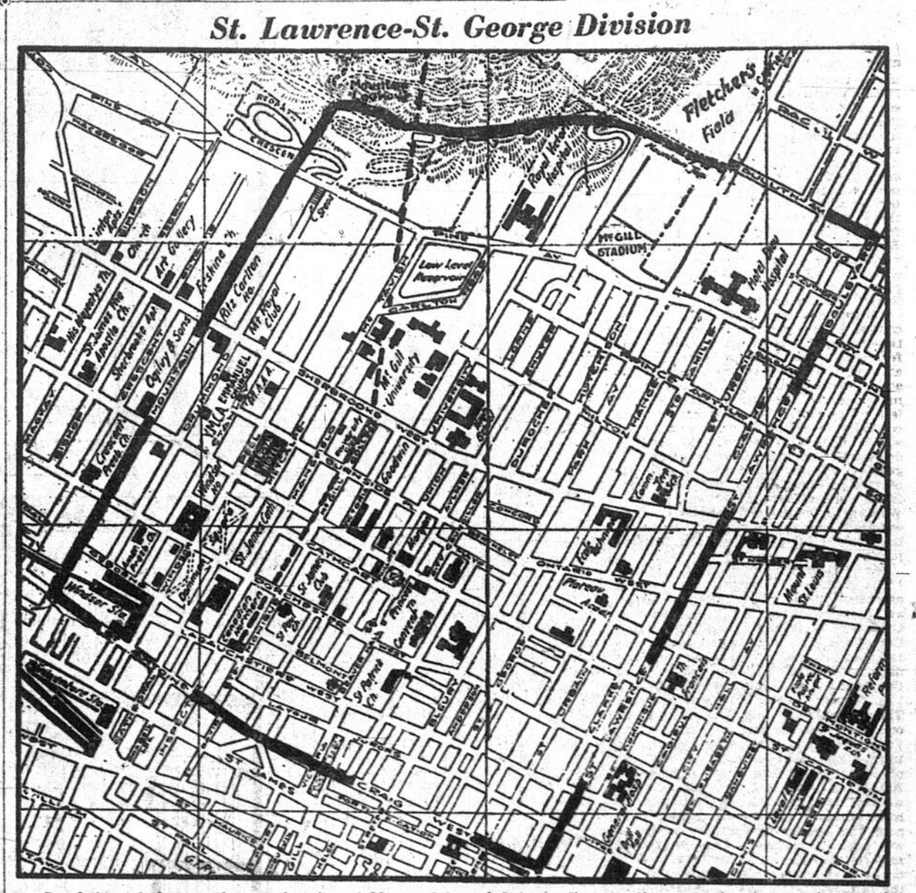

All women over 21 years of age eligible to cast a ballot, must register. There are no women electors on the Province of Quebec lists and unless they register, they will be deprived of their franchise.

A relative or an employer is permitted to register anyone who is absent from the city and unable to register, or anyone who, through illness, is unable to reach the registration office.

The offices for registration are open daily from 9 a.m. (Standard Time) till 9 p.m., with the exception of the lunch hour from 1 until 2 o'clock (Standard Time) and from 6 until 7 o'clock (Standard Time). The registration offices will close next Wednesday, September 30 at 9 p.m. and all who desire to cast a ballot must make sure that their names are on the list on or before that hour.

UNIVERSAL REGRET FELT WHEN LORD LEVERHULME'S COLLECTION GOES TO U.S.

LONDON, Sept. 25 — (Special Star-World Cable, Copyright.) — The acquisition by the Anderson Galleries of New York of the late Lord Leverhulme's art collection, which is estimated to be worth between $1,350,000 and $1,500,000 has astounded the public here, where it is taken as another and extremely sensational demonstration that the United States now dominates the art sales of the world.

The deal was arranged by directors Mitchell and Kennelly of the Anderson Galleries, who arrived here Friday and at once began negotiations with the executors of Lord Leverhulme's will.

"I am glad to have secured the collection for America," Kennelly said Tuesday.

Universal regret is felt here that financial considerations forced the executors to let the entire collection go to the United States and fear is expressed that it will stay there, whereas if a sale had been held here it was hoped that many fine pieces would have remained in this country.

The explanation for the transfer that is given here is that in New York most of the bidding is done by private collectors, themselves, while in this country the sales are attended principally by dealers, which results in lower prices being obtained. This afternoon's Star makes politics out of the affair and devotes an editorial to a re-hash of the thrice-repeated wail about the payment of the British debt to the United States.

BISHOP STATES "OBEY" MEANS OBEY

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—(A. P.)—Bishop Charles P. Anderson of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago, today made clear his stand on removal of the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony which recently attracted widespread notice.

"Obey" means obey and nothing else in the opinion of the Chicago bishop, who will head the Chicago delegation to the 48th triennial convention of the Episcopal Church in New Orleans next month. He labelled as "humbug" the contention of some church leaders that the word means honor and should not be taken literally.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(C. P. via Reuters)—Daylight Saving, or "summer time" as it is called in Europe, will end in France on Saturday night, Oct. 3, the same date as it will end in England.

The French law, which was passed on March 13 last, and the English law, passed on August 7, fixed the resumption of the normal time for the first Sunday in October, and thus ended innumerable complications which ensued in previous years when one country made the change in time independently of the other.

At present the civil rights of those interested are protected by a special law introduced by the Prime Minister but it has only a temporary effect and permanent legislation is necessary now.

NATIONAL POLICY NEED OF CANADA

HITS SECTIONALISM

Scores Plan of Bringing Moody European Peasants Here

Do we want to fill our country with moody, war-weary European peasants, under-nourished and impoverished? Does Canada want to repeat the tragedy of the United States, which finds itself unable to assimilate ill-assorted, ignorant foreigners from Central Europe, who retain the prejudices and rancor, the result of years of oppression, even in the free atmosphere of a new country? In the opinion of Walter Johnson, K.C., who propounded these questions to purchasing agents from all parts of Canada, in the Mount Royal Hotel at the sixth annual convention, we do not, and the Dominion should move slowly lest we simply be preparing for the downfall of Anglo-Saxon civilization on this continent.

These days are probably the most critical in the history of Canada since the stirring times which preceded Confederation, the speaker averred. In at least two matters the Dominion is at the cross-roads. Her citizens must make her welfare their first thought lest stagnation like a blight should continue to settle on our land, or we sow the seed which should lead to destruction in the years to come, regardless of the Maritimes, regardless of the prairies, let us put away sectionalism and have a national policy. Without a clean-cut national policy, enforced through a number of years, the future of of Canada is in jeopardy.

Mr. Johnson introduced his subject, "The Future of Canada," by drawing attention to the general dissatisfaction at the condition of the country. Criticisms were on the lips of too many Canadians to be lightly put aside. He referred to the prosperous pre-war days when labor had not thrown down the gauntlet to capital and the word "Bolsheviki" had not been coined. Then Canadians were happy, prosperous and content, and the boast was "the twentieth century is Canada's." Immigrants were coming to the port of Montreal at the rate of between 200,000 and 300,000 per year. Today we find that the tides of immigration have ceased. We are no longer being paid the old compliment by settlers; we are saddled with an enormous national debt, and income taxes, profit taxes and other levies, unknown in the old days, are now a burden. All this was blamed on the Government, in a measure justly, though there was an underlying condition in Europe for which they could not be held responsible.

The speaker questioned the wisdom of seeking to revive the old flow of Europeans to this side. "Have they the bouyancy, the courage and the enterprise that we expect from those whom we wish to settle here? "Do you think we should sacrifice quality to quantity?" For the future of Canada it was better that she have a population of English and French. "Let us be content to grow slowly, to live simply, with an eye to keeping Canada British in tone at any cost to ourselves."

However the Government could be blamed for a large measure of the country's ills. We have been throwing open our markets to Americans, putting ourselves at the mercy of our competitors, and wasting our natural resources, like a man who has thrown discretion to the winds, and is spending his capital in an orgy of extravagance. The tariff must be raised to protect Canada, and in this matter as in the other problems of immigration and national economy the citizens of the Dominion must sacrifice sectional interest and act as a unit.

The convention was formally opened by Mayor Duquette, who extended the hospitality of the city to the visiting delegates. Rev. W. H. Sedgewick, St. James Methodist Church offered the invocation. K. M. Knudson, past president of the Hamilton Association gave a talk on "Gleanings of a Purchasing Agent." M. Campbell presided.

ONTARIO WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., Sept. 25 — (C.P.)—Lying on a bed which she had carefully made up on the floor against the door of her bedroom, Mrs. Louis Langlois, 50, was found dead by her husband and several neighbors about eight o'clock Wednesday evening. She had taken carbolic acid.

Pinned to the head of the bed in the room was a note addressed to Langlois. It read:

"Dear Husband,—I am sorry, but I can't help it."

According to reports, Mrs. Langlois had been subject to mental derangement for some time, and recently her husband had contemplated placing her in an institution.

N.Z. LEAGUE URGES THIRD BATTLESHIP

LONDON, Sept. 25. — (C.P.)—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Christ Church, New Zealand, says the New Zealand Navy League is urging the Government to contribute a third battle cruiser to the British Navy.

Premier J. G. Coates in reply says that New Zealand's per capita contribution for Imperial Navy defence has increased this year from 8 to 10 shillings, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail, and that personally he thinks a steady development like this is better than precipitate action, such as the Navy League urges.

BELGIUM ACCEPTS PERMANENT COURT

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—The Belgian Government has accepted the obligatory jurisdiction of the permanent Court of International Justice for a duration of 15 years.

Belgium's action is in support of the Geneva peace protocol of 1924, article 3 of which commits the signatories to the acceptance of the compulsory arbitration clause of the world court statutes. Reservations are permitted. One October 2, 1924, Aristide Briand, for France, signed the compulsory arbitration clause on the basis of reciprocity for 15 years.

MONTREAL NORTH SATISFIED NOW

Pleased With Action of Council in Dismissing Officials

Following a report from the delegation from Montreal North which waited upon the Metropolitan Commission last Wednesday, the citizens' committee of that village has drawn up a number of resolutions congratulating the Mayor and Council upon the outcome of their efforts to obtain self-government. The citizens committee has approved of the conduct of its council, both in regard to the Commission and to its own transactions last week when it suspended its police and fire chief and dismissed its building inspector.

The citizens' league goes on record as being unalterably opposed to the naming of an inspector to the village by the Commission, as was proposed at the last meeting, and asks that if such is to be appointed, he be named by the Council.

It was brought to the attention of the league, the resolution goes on, that some town employes had signed a counter petition asking that the administration of the town be left as it is, in the hands of the Commission, and the league takes occasion to ask the council that this action be censured and that in future town employes be warned to keep strict neutrality in town affairs.

Coupled with a resolution thanking the Mayor and Council for their successful efforts, was one thanking the members of the Metropolitan Commission which had supported the change in administration.

At the offices of the Metropolitan Commission it was learned that no meeting had yet been called. At the next meeting the island board will take up the dismissal of the building inspector and the suspension of the police and fire chief, Ubald Villeneuve. These actions by the council have to be ratified by the Commission, according to law governing insolvent municipalities, before they can take effect.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK FOR CANADA

Fire Chief Receives Proclamation Setting Aside Period for Work

Fire Chief R. Gauthier was this morning in receipt of a number of copies of the official proclamation from Ottawa, setting aside the week from October 4 to 10, as "Fire Prevention Week" throughout the Dominion. Local authorities are now completing plans for the proper observance of this annual safety-first period.

The preamble of the official document draws attention to the fact that official statistics show that the average annual loss of insurable property by fire in Canada is over $45,000,000, and that over 350 persons perish annually by fire. It also points out that the same figures show that eighty per cent of the fires are due either directly or indirectly to "inexcusable ignorance and neglect and are therefore preventable."

Among the recommendations embodied in the proclamation as to activities during "Fire Prevention Week" are: the thorough inspection of all private and public buildings, institutions, factories and places of business; special instruction, lectures and fire drills in the schools; Boy Scout activities, and publicity for all legislation of any kind dealing with fire prevention.

QUEBEC, Sept. 25.—(Star Special). — Recent cold weather and frost encountered here has caused serious damage to orchards and gardens.

VICTORIAN NURSES WERE KEPT BUSY

Make 26,088 Visits to 5,000 Montreal Homes in Three Months

During the months of June, July and August, the Victorian Order of Nurses made 26,088 visits to over 5,000 Montreal homes where care was given to the sick and instruction to the well members of the family.

3,428 visits were made to general medical cases and 196 to typhoid, 644 to tuberculous cases, 590 to patients suffering from cancer, 10,345 to maternity cases and 217 visits to contagious disease cases.

Whenever possible the V.O.N. accepts even the smallest fee, but in 1,454 cases free nursing care was necessary owing to conditions of unemployment or prolonged sickness in the families. Fees, though mostly small, were received from 18,000 visits. Though fees have been unusually small this year, the V.O.N. has given its services as freely to appreciative families whose fee is small as to the well-to-do patient who pays the cost of the visit.

Though nursing the sick is the fundamental principle of the policy of the V.O.N., yet other phases of its work are not neglected, for during the three summer months 2,000 visits were made to expectant mothers and 2,074 visits of instruction on the care of the month-old baby. Through the efforts of the V.O.N., nearly 400 mothers and children were sent from sunless homes to benefit by the fresh air and sunshine of summer camps.

At Knowlton in the comfortably equipped home placed at the disposal of the V.O.N. and the Montreal General Hospital for the convalescent patients, by generous-minded citizens, 20 V.O.N. cases were restored to health after a happy sojourn amidst its peaceful and healthful surroundings.

The V.O.N. is at present in dire need of old cotton and linen for their surgical, tuberculosis and cancer patients and donations will be gratefuly received at the head office, 46 Bishop street.

MOTHER AND BABE PREY OF FLAMES

Pouring Coal Oil on Slow Fire Causes Explosion and Fire

Coal-oil poured on a slow-burning stove fire cost Mrs. Vilda Legault aged 28, of 104 Market street, Valleyfield, and her daughter Lauretta, age two and a half years, their lives, late yesterday afternoon.

The baby was found burned to a cinder on the floor of the kitchen, by firemen when they broke open the door, while the woman, who rushed flaming, out of the house to summon aid, imploring neighbors to save her child, died of her burns in the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Valleyfield, at two o'clock this morning.

Dr. Besner, coroner of the District of Valleyfield, opened and adjourned an inquest. It is being continued today.

During the course of the fire, which followed an explosion as coal-oil poured into a store to excite the smouldering coals, came in contact with the flames of the stove, Vilda Legault was summoned from his work at the Montreal Cotton Mills, and was about to dash into the house to save his wife when he learned that she had already left the building. He knew nothing then of the fate of the child. Doctors and nurses fought all night to save the woman's life, but she died from multiple burns about the head, face, legs and arms.

FISHERMEN STRIKE AT FRASER RIVER

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Sept. 25 — (C. P.) — Fraser River fishing industry is completely disorganized following a general strike of fishermen called by the British Columbia Fishermen's Protective Union, W. E. Maiden, secretary of the organization, stated last night. Refusal of the canners to pay the price of seven cents a pound for pinks asked by the fishermen is responsible for the tie-up. Around 700 fishing boats and 1,000 fishermen are idle. Although the fishermen operating outside Steveston at the mouth of the river have been receiving seven cents a pound, they also dropped their nets Tuesday on the request of the association, Mr. Maiden stated.

4 out of 5
is grim pyorrhea's count

DENTAL STATISTICS tell this grim story: four people out of every five are destined, through neglect, to contract pyorrhea after they pass the age of forty. Thousands younger also suffer.

Pyorrhea is the dread disease of the gums which is responsible often for loss of teeth, rheumatism, neuritis and other dangerous disorders.

It starts with tender bleeding gums. Pockets form below the teeth and poisons spread relentlessly through the body.

If you have pyorrhea or any of its symptoms see your dentist at once and start brushing your teeth with Forhan's for the Gums.

To safeguard yourself against pyorrhea make Forhan's your regular dentifrice. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D.D.S., and contains his pyorrhea liquid which has been used by dentists for the last 15 years in the treatment of pyorrhea.

If used regularly and used in time it will prevent pyorrhea or check its course. Don't give this insidious disease a chance to start. Start using Forhan's this very day. All druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

It Cooks Evenly

The burners in a Beach Gas Range are scientifically arranged. It is impossible to get anything but uniform heat, and that means good cooking.

That is only one thing about the Beach that makes it the outstanding Canadian range. It is a fine, handsome range of sound construction, rare appearance, unusual efficiency.

Ask your dealer to show you one.

SAN FRANCISCO IS HOST TO AIRMEN

NOT DRIFTING

Commander Claims Arrangements for Attempt Well Managed

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 — (U. N.) — A city in holiday mood Thursday greeted the return of the Navy's airmen who failed heroically in their attempted seaplane dash to Hawaii.

Back again at the scene of their adventurous beginning, Commander John Rodgers and the four companions who were with him during the nine days of hardship in the crippled PN-9-1 were carried through flag-draped streets, and between long lines of cheering thousands who thronged Market Street for the spectacle.

None of the men showed any effects of the flight experience. All of them weigh more than they did nearly a month ago, when they rode westward though the Golden Gate.

One of the first questions asked Rodgers by newspapermen who boarded the U.S.S. Idaho at the harbor entrance concerned Col. William Mitchell's charges that the flight project had been mismanaged.

"I know little about the charges," the grave-faced officer said, carefully choosing his words. "But in my opinion the project was very well managed by my superior officers. As for the administration of the flight, I was morally responsible. I had practical control of the whole situation in preparing for it. Everything done was submitted to me first for suggestions before the orders were given.

"And if anything was wrong with the administration or arrangement I was responsible. I was ready for the flight and if I had said I wasn't no one would have forced me to go."

Rodgers wanted it understood that the PN-9-1 was not drifting helplessly after being forced down by gasoline shortage and during the time searching ships were patrolling the seas about the Hawaiian islands.

"We were sailing—not drifting" he said.

"It was a good thing we were picked up by the R-4, for perhaps we wouldn't have been able to land successfully. Don't forget—we were sailing!"

Rodgers still hopes for another opportunity to attempt the flight. He mentioned this at each of his talks Thursday—over the radio, at the public reception, at luncheon and at the evening banquet.

Lieut. Byron J. Connell, pilot S. R. Pope, Radio Operator Otta G. Stantz, and Machinist's Mate W. H. Bowlin, the PN-9-1 crew, made short talks at each of the functions. All of the men were showered with the gifts of the city and with funds raised by popular subscription.

Commander Rodgers expects to go on to Washington soon to testify before the Presidential air inquiry, but the time of his departure has not been set definitely.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — (U.P.)— Exploding gas-tanks of 100 motor cars aroused an entire neighborhood here early today when a large garage was destroyed by fire.

More than 100 menaced in an adjoining apartments were driven to the streets. Exploding gasoline made fire-fighting hazardous and reserves were called out. The loss was $150,000.

EX-WARDEN TELLS OF BEER KINGS OBTAINING FREEDOM OF PRISON FROM SHERIFF

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 — (U. N.)— Wesley Westbrook, who was a warden in good standing at the Cook County jail until Terry Duggan and Frankie Lake were made tenants there, took the witness stand in Federal Court Thursday to tell "his side" of the rollicking in and out existence in the jail of those two jovial exponents of the beer "racket."

"His side" of the story was simply that he let Terry and Frankie come and go whenever they pleased because Sheriff Peter L. Hoffman, his superior, instructed him to do so. Ex-Warden Westbrook, whose head was lopped off by Sheriff Hoffman several days ago, when it was whispered about the town that Terry and Frankie were serving their Federal sentences of one year outside the jail, talked long, loud and earnestly during the contempt inquiry. He told many interesting details of the comic opera, but everything he said was a variation on the theme: "The sheriff is to blame."

According to Westbrook, the sheriff was greatly exercised over the fact that poor Terry and Frankie had to serve a jail sentence at all, and he set out therefore to make it as easy as possible for them.

Westbrook testified that Sheriff Hoffman issued special passes to friends of the two liquor lords and that the jail was an open house most of the time. Terry rapidly became "king of the county," said the ex-warden. "The sheriff sent word to me that he was to be permitted to transact his business while in jail."

Other prisoners are not permitted to transact business, the ex-warden said in response to a question by Judge Wilkerson, adding, "but the sheriff said Terry was a fine fellow, and that lots of worse fellows were running loose about the town."

It was a bad day in court for Sheriff Hoffman. He sat back in the room, chewing a cigar and bristling like a porcupine. The Federal authorities, in attempting to find out who was responsible for the special privileges accorded to Duggan and Lake had ordered two ex-wardens, one warden, the sheriff and four former jail guards to tell why they should not be cited for contempt.

Sheriff Hoffman was invited to talk, but he declined. His attorney, however, said the sheriff, would talk at the proper time. That may be today.

NEW YORK LAWYER ENVOY TO JAPAN

Coolidge Passes Over Diplomatic Service in Making Choice

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(U.N.) — President Coolidge has named Charles MacVeagh, lawyer of New York, as Ambassador to Japan, to take the post made vacant by the death of Edgar A. Bancroft.

MacVeagh, who is 65 years old, has been for many years general solicitor and assistant general counsel for the United States Steel Corporation. He is a native of Pennsylvania, having been born at Westchester.

In picking an Ambassador for the important Japanese post the President has thus passed over the diplomatic service and has picked an outsider. Bancroft, late Ambassador to Japan, was a lawyer, like MacVeagh.

During his stay in Japan, Bancroft had done much to restore amicable relations between the two countries, which had been ruffled by the Japanese Exclusion Act passed by Congress.

The new Japanese Ambassador was educated at Harvard and Columbia universities and began the practice of law in New York City in 1883. Four years later, he joined the firm of Stetson, Jennings, Russell and Davis, with whom he has been associated since. He make his home in the Capital, while retaining his practice in New York.

WOMAN KILLED IN FLYER COLLISION

Score Injured in Wreck Near Chattanooga, Tenn.

CHATTANOGa, Tenn., Sept. 25.— (U. N.) — Mrs. Mary Z. Beyer, of Cloquet, Minn., was killed and a score of persons injured when the northbound Dixie Limited collided head on near here late Thursday.

Engineers of both trains were seriously injured, according to physicians at Newell Hospital, where 16 of the injured were taken. Mrs. Beyer died shortly after reaching here. Of the others, none was seriously hurt except the engineers, hospital authorities reported.

The accident occurred near Worley, Tenn., ten miles from Chattanooga. The cause of the wreck had not been ascertained late Thursday night by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, which operates the Dixie Flyer.

The Dixie Limited, carrying passengers, turned over and the Dixie Flyer, made up of mail and baggage cars, rolled down an embankment following the crash.

Every available ambulance in Chattanooga was rushed to the scene and with the aid of private automobiles rushed the injured to Newell Hospital. Spectators flocked to the scene and a squad of motorcycle police was sent to the scene to aid in keeping back the curious while injured were given attention.

CLAIMS ORDERS DISOBEYED.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 25. — (A. P.) — Failure of the crew of the southbound train to obey orders to remain at Chickamauga until they met the northbound train caused the accident of the Dixie Flyer and the Dixie Limited near Chickamauga yesterday afternoon, H. H. Trabue, assistant to the general manager of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway declared last night.

SAY B.C. DISTRICT ANOTHER KLONDYKE

SEATTLE, Sept. 25 — (C. P.) — The Cassiar mining district in British Columbia is due to take the place of the Klondyke in the course of the next few years, in the opinion of Frank J. Cotter, editor of the Alaska Weekly, who has just returned after a trip into that district.

"I make this statement after a four months tour of the entire district," he said, "which is unquestionably the most wonderful country to be found to the north of Seattle."

Bravery of Pupil in Going to His School Injured, Wins Teacher

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 25 — (A. P.) — For his bravery in going to school with his leg crushed by a motor truck, 11-year-old William Thompson will have a teacher at his hospital bedside and his perfect attendance record will remain unbroken, Mayor Quinn took this action Tuesday when he heard of the lad's heroism.

William was on his way to the Harvard public school one day last week when the truck struck him. Determined not to mar his attendance record he dragged himself to the school room whence he was taken to a hospital. It was found that his leg had been broken in two places. Mayor Quinn has ordered that a teacher be sent to the hospital daily to give William his lessons.

THINK WASHINGTON HAS TURNED DOWN ARMS PARLEY BID

Geneva Delegates Believe Coolidge Passing "Buck" to Congress

POINT TO PROGRAM

Say President's Three-point Policy Will Embarrass Him

GENEVA, Sept. 25.—(Special Star-World Cable. Copyright.)—Washington is regarded here as having rejected the invitation of the League of Nations to attend the conference on the private manufacture of arms as a result of reports reaching Geneva that President Coolidge will not accept an invitation to any disarmament conference without the consent of Congress. Nevertheless it is understood that the League will go ahead with the instructions of the Commission of the Assembly that preparations be made for the private manufactures conference to be held during the coming year and that the United States be invited as suggested in a resolution before the Assembly.

The greatest surprise is manifested at the President's action inasmuch as American executives heretofore have never found it necessary to ask Congress for permission to send delegates to any International conference. It is remembered that Representative Porter, of Pennsylvania, had the authorization of Congress at the opium conference, but his was an exceptional case. Representative Burton came upon the appointment of the President as other delegations to International meetings have done in the past.

Realists among the statesmen at Geneva frankly declare their belief that Coolidge does not wish to participate in the private manufacture convention because of the huge financial interests of the arms concerns in the United States, which might be affected. Their view is that the President wants to "pass the buck" to Congress for the non-participation of the United States, knowing that sufficient opposition in either House can be easily developed to enable him to refuse the invitation without the appearance of taking the responsibility himself. However, his three-point program of tax reduction, World Court affiliation, and disarmament is pointed out as an embarrassing argument against his refusal to co-operate with the European Powers, even if the conference is held under the League.

As far as actual disarmaments are concerned there is scarcely a chance of anything being done during the coming year. The December Council will discuss the appointment of a commission which will be empowered to draw up plans for a conference to be called when the security pacts have been signed. It was expected that the United States would have appointed some one to work with the League body just as was done in an advisory capacity to the opium and arms traffic committees.

The question of interest here is whether or not President Coolidge will require the assent of Congress before authorizing participation even in the preliminary plans.

INCREASED VALUE OF TANKS SHOWN

Expected to Prevent Future Stalemates in Trench Fighting

LONDON, Sept. 25 — (U. N.) — The increased value of tanks, armored cars and aircraft as fighting weapons and the important effect they are expected to have on future warfare have been the outstanding impressions gained so far from the British army manoeuvres in Wiltshire.

The new uses of tanks and aircraft have become apparent in the final stages of the manoeuvres, which have developed into a pitched battle. The tanks and airplanes have inflicted heavy losses against the infantry and cavalry and in the opinion of some experts, these weapons may prevent future stalemates in trench fighting, such as were experienced on the Western Front during the late war.

Armored cars roaring down the roads, tanks crashing through fields and hedges and airplanes swooping down to within a few yards from the earth, have demoralized and heavily punished the infantry and cavalry forces. These attacks were made in the form of speedy raids. On other occasions, pointblank battles were fought between opposing sections of tanks.

Two armored cars of the Westland army, in a long dash across the enemy lines, succeeded in cutting all communications. The manoeuvre was considered an excellent bit of war play and the non-commissioned officers who executed it won congratulations from Field Marshal Earl Haig.

GUN AS PRESENT FOR YOUNG LADY

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Gifts made to Miss Elizabeth Murray Baillie, only child of the late Colonel F. D. Murray Baillie, of Cally, near Gatehouse, on her coming of age, seem to reflect the spirit of the time. It is no longer fashionable for young women to be feminine.

The gifts which Miss Baillie has had give the impression of celebrating fittingly her entry into man's estate. She has been presented with a sporting gun by the tenants, with a guncase by the employes, and a gold cigarette case by the townspeople of Gatehouse.

It is not so long since a string of pearls, or at least some pretty piece of jewellery, was held to be the harmonious tribute to a young woman's attainment of official discretion. It may not be long before she frankly prefers a cabinet of cigars or a case of pipes.

SASKATOON, Sept. 25 — (C.P.) — Two men on a threshing outfit operating on the farm of H. Cowan, four miles west of Luseland, died last night as a result of taking strychnine in mistake for salts.

MOSUL QUESTION NEARS OPEN BREAK

British Agree to Swedish Proposal to Send Commissioner

TURKS DEMUR

Object to League Representative Probing Alleged Deportations

GENEVA, Sept. 25 — (Special Star-World Cable, Copyright.) — Troublesome Mosul again almost precipitated an open break between Great Britain and Turkey, when the Council gathered with the Turkish and English representatives to act upon the motion of M. Sjorberg of Sweden that a representative of the League of Nations be sent to the disputed area to ascertain the truth of the charges that the Lausanne Treaty is being violated and Christians deported.

L. C. M. S. Amery, the British Colonial Secretary, agreed to sending a commissioner, but Tewfik Bey demanded that Turkish and British assessors accompany him and that the commissioner also investigate all the alleged acts that have occurred since the signing of the Lausanne Treaty in July, 1923. Col. Amery objected because "bringing up historical matters" would complicate the situation. He said, however, that Britain will not oppose this if the League desires it.

Amery demanded that Tewfik gave solemn assurances that the commission would be allowed to investigate the alleged excesses against Christians between the Wells and Brussels lines. Tewfik demurred, declaring that the alleged deportations was a matter of minorities which he had no authorization to discuss. Amery insisted, declaring the investigation must be carried on as a matter of course and demanded an answer of yes or no from the Turks. Thursday night the situation was completely muddled up. Neither the Turks nor the British had agreed as to what is to be the jurisdiction of the commission.

Tewfik Bey has cancelled his reservations for his return, while Amery is to remain here until the end of the week. Instead of settling the question, upon which the League has spent $40,000 already, equitably and on the condition that the zone north as well as south of the Brussels line is disputed territory, Amery has said that British acceptance is contingent solely upon complete equality.

By demanding a showdown, Amery had Tewfik Bey with his back to the wall. M. Louis Loucheur, the presiding officer, seeing an open break inevitable, exercised the prerogative of the president and declared the resolution for the investigation adopted.

FEARS INCREASE IN WHEAT PRICES

London Newspaper Hears Wool Crop Will Be Held Up Also

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 25.—(C.P.) —Last Night's Star states that the supporters of the "Buy Empire Goods" campaign are gravely concerned over reports that the current stock of Canadian wheat and Australian wool are to be held up for higher prices. It is alleged that the present prices are to be forced up and then kept at higher levels by withholding from the market for a time considerable portions of the Canadian wheat harvest of this year and the Australian wool clip.

The Star gives no indication of what the allegation is based upon.

It may be recalled that the Star consistently derides Imperial preference, or indeed any form of interference with free trade.

HANDLED BY POOLS.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—(C. P.) — "Much of the Canadian wheat last year was handled through the wheat pool, and this year's crop will be largely handled likewise," it was stated at the Department of Agriculture last night. "These pools can sell when they like, or hold up the sale of wheat, if they desire to do so. Whether or not this will be done, we are not in a position to say."

MR. A. LIKELY TO RULE IN KASHMIR

Unless Inhabitants Object Rajah Sir Hari Singh, Will Succeed

BRITISH CANDIDATE

Father Had Objected to Son Being Influenced by Britain

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(Special Star-World Cable. Copyright.) — Unless opposition develops among the inhabitants of Kashmir, Rajah Sir Hari Singh will succeed to the throne of his uncle, the Maharajah Sir Pratab Singh, who died Wednesday. The press of London assumes the accession as certain. Spokesmen for the India Office declared Thursday that only the formal consent of the Government of India and King George are necessary before "Mr. A" of the famous blackmail case, becomes the ruling Prince, entitled to a salute of 21 guns from the British, and with an income of $15,000,000 a year, ruling over 3,500,000 subjects.

Indian cables Thursday were dumb on the question of the succession. Sir Hari is the British candidate for the throne and the reason his name was suppressed in the trial was to shield him from the wrath of his uncle and his people for having broken caste in his intrigue with Mrs. Robinson.

The dead Maharajah had always desired to have his adopted son succeed him, and has objected to Sir Hari as being under the thumb of the British. For this reason the assumption that Mr. A. will succeed to the throne without opposition needs confirmation which at present cannot be obtained.

Sir Hari will certainly obtain British recognition unless his subjects in Kashmir object too violently. As a result of the British help in shielding him on the big scandal, Sir Hari, it is expected, will drop his uncle's objections to the exploitation of Kashmir oil interests and other concessionaries, and to the building of a railway to his capital at Sringar. Sir Pratab Singh always refused to allow these enterprises.

GERMANY DECIDES TO ATTEND PARLEY

Cabinet Strife Precedes Decision on Security Pact Conference Bid

BERLIN, Sept. 25 — (U. N.) — Germany has decided to accept the Allied invitations to a European security conference, but the decision was not made until after a stormy Cabinet debate had revealed demands for important reservations, in any security agreement.

These demands came from the Nationalists, during the Cabinet session Thursday. President Von Hindenburg, however, composed the differences which arose and German participation is assured in one of most pretentious efforts toward permanent European peace which has been made since the war.

It is expected the conference probably will be held in Switzerland, beginning October 5. The main object of the gathering will be the conclusion of the Franco-German security pact, in which Britain and Belgium will join.

The storm in Thursday's Cabinet session was precipitated by the insistence of Nationalist members that the following be discussed during the conference:

1. That Germany's entrance into the League of Nations depend on her exemption from Article 16 of the League covenant—(referring to the employment of armed forces).
2. That the Allies must fix an early date for the evacuation of Cologne.
3. That the Allies revise the Rhineland regime and revoke numerous decrees in order to relieve the occupation.
4. That the Berlin Government notify the Allies that Germany repudiates the charge that she alone was responsible for the war.

The Nationalists' demands, made chiefly for domestic political effect, are not expected to influence Germany's attitude at the conference, for it is known the Berlin Government has agreed tacitly to the terms of the security pact. The Government, moreover, considers its position at home sufficiently strong to make its policy prevail.

Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann are expected to head the German delegation to the conference.

THE McKEOWN-OLIVER ORDER IS DENOUNCED BY TWO COLLEAGUES

Commissioners Boyce and Lawrence Declare Ruling on West-bound Rates Must Be Rescinded—Order Described as "Grotesque and Incredible" and Issued With "Deplorable Celerity and Secrecy"

The following documents are the protests published by Railway Commissioner Boyce and Railway Commissioner Lawrence against the "incredible and grotesque" ruling in the west-bound grain and flour rate-case by a minority of tthe Board, Chief Commissioner McKeown and Commissioner Frank Oliver. They are state papers of such tremendous public interest that we publish them in full:—

Application of the Government of the Province of British Columbia for an Order reducing the rates on grain moving westward for export to the same rates, proportioned to the distance, as the same grain would carry if moving eastward for export. File 30686.2;

COMMISSIONER BOYCE:

On August 29 last, after this case had been discussed at more than one meeting of the Board, presided over by the Chief Commissioner, my brother Commissioner Lawrence and I informed the Chief Commissioner, in writing, through the Secretary of the Board, that if it was proposed to deliver any judgment, purporting to deal with the matters involved herein apart from the general rate investigation, of which the subject is a part, we desired to express our views. The Judgment of the minority of the Board was, however, issued without the knowledge of Commissioner Lawrence or myself, and Order thereupon was signed by the Chief Commissioner, without according to me or to Commissioner Lawrence, as members of this Board, the most usual and ordinary courtesy of perusing, and preparing our opinions upon, such Judgment before an Order issued in terms thereof.

As I and my brother Commissioner Lawrence promised the Chief Commissioner that we would express ourselves, I am obliged, for the reasons just stated, to do so, after Order issued, but as part of the Judgment of the Board upon this complaint as it presents itself to me now. I refrain from further comment upon the ethics involved in excluding expression of opinion in dissent of members of the Board by this method.

Early in July this Board proceeded in pursuance of the direction contained in the Order-in-Council, P. C. 886, dated 5th June, 1925, which, inter alia, directs the Board—

"to make a thorough investigation of the rate structure of railways and railway companies subject to the jurisdiction of Parliament, with a view to the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure which will, under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, be equal in its application to all territories and localities;"

to lay the groundwork for such a thorough investigation.

NEW EVIDENCE SOUGHT.

The Chief Commissioner of the Board submitted to the members of the Board a draft, prepared by him, of a document to be made public, outlining the policy and program to be followed by the Board in commencing its duties under the Order-in-Council and the Chief Commissioner called the Board together to consider and settle the terms of said draft. At two meetings of the Board that draft was considered and settled, and, by direction of the Board, when, and as settled by the Board, that public notice was issued by the Secretary of the Board under date of July 9 last. At the time said notice was considered and settled by the Board, testimony in this complaint had been heard before two members of the Board and no decision had been given. The pendency of this complaint was referred to at that Board Meeting, and, with due regard to this and all other pending complaints in like condition, and with the concurrence of all members present, including the Chief Commissioner, the draft by him submitted for consideration of the Board was changed, and, as finally settled, and evidenced by the initials of the Chief Commissioner, and as issued to the public, contained the following clause:

"Testimony now before the Board in cases already heard and in which no decision has been given is not to be repeated. New and material evidence in such cases may be submitted in the usual way."

Both the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian National Railways, in writing, asked for leave to submit to the Board, "new and material evidence" in this case as such notice in plain terms gave all parties to this or any other proceeding, before the Board, the undoubted right to submit. Their application stood to be dealt with, as I presumed, as a part of the procedure in hearing the general case, and those applications are still standing for decision. All matters of rate complaints affecting any locality in Canada, so stood from and after 9th July last, to be dealt with under the procedure outlined in Board's procedure contained in its public notice of that date.

NOT GIVEN NOTICE.

The Canadian National Railways whose revenues would be affected by any Judgment granting this application to the extent of over a million dollars annually, protested that it had not even had notice of the hearing of this complaint, and no opportunity for preparing its case at the hearing. After a careful and anxious examination of the proceedings, I find, as a fact, that no notice of hearing was ever given to the Canadian National Railways under the rules of this Board, or otherwise, and what examination of the complaint did take place at the hearing at Vancouver in November last, was, as far as the Canadian National Railways is concerned, entirely without due notice of hearing or service of complaint. The notice of hearing to all other parties was shorter than that usually allowed for such a hearing at a far distant point.

Primarily, therefore, the Judgment of the Chief Commissioner purports to dispose of a 'complaint,' involving an aggregate loss of revenue to both the large railways concerned (the one nationally owned and already carrying a heavy annual deficit) estimated at nearly two million dollars annually, without any formal notice whatever as to the National Railway, and insufficient notice as to the other railway (C.P.R.) It is difficult to conceive that such a condition of things should be possible in this country, and in view of the provisions of the Railway Act and the rules and practice of the Board, and of what is generally accepted as a fundamental basis of natural justice, but the facts I state are, as I find them from the record of the proceedings, and were fully brought to the attention of every member of this Board by strong protests from the railways, oft repeated and insisted upon, before any decision was prepared.

The Judgment of the minority members of the Board, issue as the Judgment of this Board, is put forward as part of the Judgment of the Board upon the general rate investigation required be made under the Order-in-Council, P.C. 886, cited. It is so expressly made plain in the opinion of the Chief Commissioner.

REASONS FOR DISSENT.

I entirely dissent from such being, in any way, binding upon the Board, because:

(a) The Board has, as a Body, prescribed publicly the practice to be followed in making its investigations under the said Order-in-Council, and by its public notice had specially stated, that in cases, like the present, where testimony had been taken but no decision had been given, new and material testimony could be given. The Railways having demanded that right, and given notice that they intended to avail themselves of it, the case was not closed or ripe for decision;

(b) There was no investigation, whatever, of the complaint since, in terms of the Order-in-Council P.C. 886;

(c) Since the Order-in-Council passed, the whole subject of the whole rate investigation was in the hands of the Board as a whole, and the Board, as a whole, was directing its course and no hearings of cases whatever had been held—or had been—or could be, provided for until the periods of time for filing and answering complaints, and terms of notice generally of 9th July outlining preliminary steps to the hearings had respectively expired and been complied with.

(d) The whole case, as it now stands, having been laid before the Board, as part of the general investigation, the Board first, without a dissenting voice, had precluded itself from dealing with this case, except as a part of the general investigation, and, records, by a majority vote, at a meeting called by the Chief Commissioner to consider the decision upon this complaint, had decided that no such decision should be given except as part of such general investigation.

(e) The hearing of the complaint at Vancouver at which all evidence upon which Judgment was based was conducted without notice to the Canadian National Railways which had protested against its validity and its protests had not been even considered by the Board.

The Judgment of the Chief Commissioner, therefore, is clearly not the Judgment of the Board, but is contrary to the principles laid down in the Board's notice to the public of 9th July last, above referred to, and to a resolution of the Board, passed at a meeting of the Board, held this 2nd day of September called by and presided over by the Chief Commissioner for the purpose of considering this case at which Commissioner Oliver and all other members of the Board were present, before any Judgment as that now in question was completed, delivered, or issued, and which resolution is as follows

ONLY PART OF INQUIRY.

WHEREAS, Order-in-Council, P.C. 886, of June 5th, 1925 directed the Board—

"to make a thorough investigation of the rate structure of railways and railway companies subject to the jurisdiction of Parliament, with a view to the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure which will under substantially similar circumstances and conditions be equal in its application to all territories and localities;"

it being set out that this was—

"so as to permit the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various provinces and territories of the Dominion, and the expansion of its trade, both foreign and domestic, having due regard to the needs of its agricultural and other varied industries."

AND WHEREAS, it is set out that—

"'due regard' is to be given in particular to—

"(a) the claim asserted on behalf of the Maritime Provinces that they are entitled to the restoration of the rate basis which they enjoyed prior to 1919;"

"(b) the encouragement of the movement of traffic through Canadian ports:

"(c) the increased traffic westward and eastward through Pacific Coast ports, owing to the expansion in trade with the Orient and to the transportation of products through the Panama Canal."

"AND WHEREAS the Order-in-Council has by its direction and by the wording contained in clause (c) above embodied as part of the investigation now before the Board the consideration of the bearing inter alia of traffic westward through Pacific Coast ports, thus, of necessity, involving the question of rates on export grain;

"Therefore be it resolved by the Board, that in terms of the direction so given to it by Order-in-Council, P. C. 886, the matter of export grain rates via Pacific ports, and other matters, if any, pertinent to the investigation in which hearing may have been held, but judgment not rendered, must of necessity be dealt with as part of the general investigation and under the judgment to be rendered in connection therewith."

This resolution, in the presence of all the members of the Board, was proposed by the Assistant Chief Commissioner, and concurred in by Commissioner Lawrence and myself. The Chief Commissioner and Commissioner Oliver dissented therefrom, and in accordance with usual procedure, in this, as in any other Coourt, the majority governed and the resolution was carried, and is now a resolution of the Board, governing the conduct of the general investigation of freight rates in Canada, and was binding upon the Chief Commission when he subsequently issued his judgment.

RESOLUTION IGNORED.

The Order-in-Council of 5th June last, specially, and in plain terms, deprecates "any partial or incomplete consideration of the freight "rate structure," and calls for "a thorough and complete investigation of "the whole subject of railway freight rates in the Dominion." The disposition suggested by the judgment now offered is not only contrary to the policy and principle laid down by this Board by the quoted resolution, but it is a direct departure from the directions of the Order-in-Council as the whole rate investigation committed to the Board by it, and would, in its effect, make of the investigation of the whole rate structure insisted upon by the Order-in-Council a thing of "shreds and patches," of no avail whatever, in the important work committed to the Board of "the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure, which will, under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, be equal in its application to all persons and localities so as to permit of the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various provinces, etc." as in the resolution of the Board as quoted.

In the debate in Parliament upon the amendment to the Railway Act in regard to Crow's Nest Pass Agreement in June last, the claims of the Province of British Columbia, as presented to two members of this Board in Vancouver, last November, were presented to Parliament, which was urged to give relief by that legislation. Parliament, which had available to it if it desired them, all the proceedings and evidence submitted at the hearing, decline to accede to such request, and for the reason, clearly expressed, that the question was one for this Board (not a minority, against a majority, thereof), but for the Board to deal with as part of the Canadian Rate structure, the investigation of which had then been committed to this Board by the Order-in-Council of 5th June.

GROTESQUE ACTION.

It appears to me, therefore, that for two members of this Board, in the face of the expressed negation of the majority of the Board, embodied in a resolution of the whole Board, at a meeting of the Board, called for the express purpose of considering this complaint, and the desirability of disposing thereof, to attempt to do that which Parliament, as recently as June last, declined to do, is incredible and grotesque.

This complaint is either a part of the General Rate Investigation, or it is not. The answer in Parliament was that it is such a part and is to be dealt with by the Board as such a part. The Board itself has so dealt with it in its notice of 9th July and its resolution of the 2nd September, and, therefore, it is a very simple conclusion that no decision of a minority of the Board can dispose of the question involved, any more than a minority Judgment of the Board can dispose of the complaints of the Maritime Provinces. The one case is on par with the other, and, if applied, the absurdity would run through the whole rate investigation and render it futile and farcical.

I specially refrain from commenting, in any way, on the merits involved in the complaint. I propose to deal with them, when the time comes, and according to the procedure laid down by the Board, as I propose to deal with the complaints from every other Province, or locality, in Canada, with an earnest desire to discharge my duty as a member of this Board under the Order-in-Council, and, after a careful and searching investigation of the Canadian rate structure in all, and not only of its features, endeavor to do my part in fulfilling my duties and responsibilities with a view to the establishment of such a rate structure, as a whole, and with justice equally meted out to all localities, as is contemplated and insisted upon by the Government of this country, and which it is palpably impossible to do in the manner proposed by the Judgment of the Chairman of the Board, which cannot be productive, in my judgment, of that confidence and respect of all interests in Canada concerned in the general rate investigation, which it is most essential should be conserved and maintained.

ACTS FOR WHOLE BOARD.

The United Farmers of Alberta at the Annual Convention, January 20th to 23rd last, passed a resolution dealing with the subject matter of reight rates Westbound from the Prairies. Under date 11th February last a copy of this resolution was sent to the Chief Commissioner. It was not submitted to members of the Board for their opinion thereon. On the date of its receipt (16th February, 1925), a letter was written by the Chief Commissioner to the Acting Secretary of the United Farms of Alberta as follows:

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 11th instant, enclosing copy of resolution adopted at the Annual Convention of the United Farmers of Alberta, at its session last month, and hasten to assure you that the Board is in full sympathy with the object of the resolution.

"The Board took the initial step of obtaining an equality of freight rate, involving, we hope, the removal of all mountain differential, but as our action has been held up by appeal in the Crows' Nest Pass Agreement matter we have to await its disposition until we know exactly where w stand.

I feel confident that we will be able to attain the full object of your resolution, as well as more satisfactory freight rate conditions than have ever previously obtained, as soon as the ground is cleared and we are able to proceed with the work, knowing just what we have to meet.

"May I further say that the Board will welcome any further suggestion on the part of your organization at any time you may be good enough to favor us with the same."

I deprecate the assurance, contained in this letter, that "the Board is in full sympathy with the object of the resolution," when the Board had had no opportunity, as a Board, of expressing its opinion thereon. I feel quite certain that in accordance with its usual practice in such cases the Board, had it been consulted, would have referred to the fact that the matters involved in the resolution were under consideration in a case which had been presented to the Board and in which there had not yet been any disposition. I cannot but think that the effect of the reply quoted will prove embarrassing to the Board in attempting to deal judicially with the matters involved in the whole rate investigation.

WHOLE BOARD IGNORED.

The Minority Judgment of the Chief Commissioner is sharply at variance with the Judgment of the Board upon the same rate principles as are now involved in that locality. See Judgment of the Board, Vol. XII (1922), pp. 61 et seq, with special reference to what is set forth on pp. 71 and 72. That was a Judgment of the Board without a dissenting voice, practically an unanimous pronouncement by the Board in 1922, after lengthy and searching investigation. The present Chief Commissioner and Mr. Commissioner Oliver were not then members of the Board. To attempt under these conditions, to over-ride and set at nought by a minority of the Board, after a palpable, informal, hasty and irregular hearing, the considered judgment of the Board, is a novel and unique procedure.

The disposition now attempted cannot be effective in any way towards a final disposition of this part of the general investigation into freight rates constituting the whole structure relative to its parts, and of the parts in relation to the whole. Only the fullest investigation of all parts of that structure in every locality in Canada, with a view to harmonizing those parts in relation to the whole structure, will satisfy the plain requirements of the Order-in-Council and enable the Board to function thereunder.

All Orders of this Board, dealing with rate matters, before signature, are by the long and safe practice of the Board, required to be approved and bear the initials of the Chief Traffic Officer of this Board. This practice has consistently been followed, except in this case, when the Order of the minority was issued without submitting for, or obtaining the approval thereto of that official, whose special expert knowledge on rate problems has always been relied upon with confidence by this Board. Why this most desirable and safe practice should not have been followed in this case; and why no copy of Judgment, or Order was, before issue, submitted to any member of the Board in the usual way for an expression of his opinion upon so important and far-reaching matter, affecting the whole rate structure under investigation, and why effort should be made to commit the Board, in writing, to sympathy with a resolution dealing with and going to the merits of the case, while before the Board, without submitting same to the Board; and why the plain commitments of the Board, with the aproval of the Chairman, in its public notice of 9th July last as to dealing with all pending cases as part of the general investigation upon which the Board was then embarking, should be utterly disregarded, with the protests of the railways as to absence of notice of hearing of the complaint and insistence upon their undoubted right conceded by the Board to submit further evidence, are some of the questions requiring answer and explanation in the face of the apparently desperate desire, suddenly developed, to dispose, by a minority of the Board, against the judgment of the majority, of a complaint which had been pending for more than a year, and which the whole Board had previously, as recently as July, publicly treated as one still open and to be dealt with (if required upon new evidence) as part of the general rate investigation.

DEPLORABLE SECRECY.

For these reasons I dissent, as I have before, in writing, stated to the Chairman, I would dissent, from the disposition he proposes to make of this complaint in advance of such consideration as it should receive as an important part (though only a part) of the whole rate structure which I conceive to be the duty of the whole Board to investigate. But for the deplorable celerity and secrecy with which Judgment and Order of the minority of the Board were issued, the Judgment would have been overruled by the expressed dissent of the majority. But the meeting at which the Board's resolution of 2nd September was carried by the majority and expressed such dissent, was adjourned with no intimation that any Judgment of the minority would be prepared, and such Judgment of the minority and Order thereupon issued, and the pretended effect thereof telegraphed to the complainants in the far West before any intimation was made that such decision would be handed out.

The issue of an Order of the Board, I would point out, was only made possible in this case, and under these conditions, by the mere accident of circumstances that the Chief Commissioner, primarily, has the power to sign the Orders of the Board. It needs no argument to show the utter fallacy of any contention put forward as a justification or excuse for issuing such an Order in the circumstances I have detailed, giving effect, as it pretends to do, to the view of the minority in opposition to the majority decision as regards matters before the Board at a meeting of the Board, presided over by the Chief Commissioner, and called by him, for the consideration of the identical matter assumed to be dealt with by the Order, and at which meeting every member of the Board was present and expressed his opinion. Had the situation been varied, in the same circumstances confronting the Board, so that any other Commissioner than the Chief Commissioner, had sat at what hearing took place in Vancouver, with Commissioner Oliver, no Order of the Board could have issued giving effect to the will of the minority against the majority. This is an indisputable fact. Only the Chief Commissioner, (or, in his absence, the Assistant Chief Commissioner, or any other Commissioner designated by the Chief Commissioner to sign Orders, and none have been so designated by him) can sign Orders of the Board. The Orders of the Board are intended and presumed to express the will of the Board. This Order expresses the contrary. Its issue was, in my opinion, improper and in contravention of the powers of any Chief Commissioner under the Railway Act, and assumes or usurps a power of veto of the will of the Board, as expressed by the majority, which no Chief Commissioner possesses. This Board is constituted by the Railway Act, which provides (Section 9, as 2) that the Commission "shall be a Court of Record, and have an Official Seal which shall be judicially noticed." In this Commission, until now, as regards matters brought before the Board, as this matter was, the majority opinion of the Board has always prevailed. It has been the wholesome practice, of this Board, until now, to invariably consider in Board meeting as a whole Board, any important rate question, irrespective of what members of the Board sat at the hearing thereof. The majority opinion of the Board, in such deliberations, always prevailed and was given effect to. In one case, the views of the late Chief Commissioner (Hon. F. B. Carvell) strongly expressed, concurred in by one other Commissioner, were not concurred in by three other members. The decision of the majority prevailed and the Order was issued. I see every reason for approval of that procedure, I see none, in fact or law, to justify the repudiation of the majority opinion accomplished in this case merely by use of the methods I have referred to and which I unhesitatingly deprecate and deplore.

RECORDS PROTEST.

I assert my claim to express my opinion, equally with that of the Chief Commissioner and Commissioner Oliver upon this case. Every member of this Board has the same right, under the constitution of this Board. That in signing an Order against the will of those members of the Board in the majority, whose views were opposed to and had no idea or intimation that such would be made, the Chief Commissioner should presume or pretend to exclude such a right, especially in so important and grave investigation affecting the whole Canadian Rate structure committed by the Government of Canada, is a matter upon which I can do no more than record my emphatic protest.

The Order, improperly issued, should be forthwith rescinded, and all matters involved in the complaint should be reserved for the consideration of the Board in the same manner, and subject to the same principles and procedure as those complaints from any other Province, or locality in Canada, in the general investigation of the whole rate structure, under the terms of the Order-in-Council, P.C. 886, and the notice thereunder, issued to the public, dated 9th July last, and such matters involved in this complaint should not be separated from such general investigation for special and preferential treatment which would only result in the Board's functions in dealing with the whole structure being crippled and embarrassed. (Sgd.) A. C. B.

Ottawa, September 3rd, 1925.

I concur. (Sgd.) C. L.

Application of the Province of Province of British Columbia for an Order reducing rates on Grain and Flour moving westward for export to the same rates, proportioned to distance, as the same would carry if moving eastward for export.

COMMISSIONER LAWRENCE:

I concur in the memorandum of Mr. Commissioner Boyce, in which he has dealt generally with the legal phase of this question; but I feel I would be remiss in my duty if I did not take the opportunity of making a few observations thereon.

On July 9th, 1925, the Board sent to all interested parties, a circular which among other things,, on page 3, contains the following paragraph:

"Testimony now before the Board in cases already heard and in which no decision has been given is not to be repeated. New and material evidence in such cases may be submitted in the usual way."

APPLIED TO B. C. AS WELL.

The circular referred to, the above paragraph of which is quoted, was drafted by the Chief Commissioner and was thoroughly discussed at a Board meeting, called by him, before it was sent out; and there is not the least doubt in my mind but that the Chief Commissioner understood that it applied to the British Columbia situation, as well as to all points and places in the Dominion of Canada. Therefore, I cannot understand why his change of opinion.

Inasmuch as there have been many protests from different interests, and from several places and localities, against the Board taking any action or giving any decision affecting any place or locality on the rate question until such time as the whole question of rate structure had been thoroughly investigated, or until every person or persons had been given an opportunity to be heard upon every phase of the whole matter. This was intimated in our Circular of July 9th last, and so understood by the Board. Therefore, I am of opinion that we are in honor and duty bound, as well as obligated by our oath of office, to observe the Board's obligations as set out in said circular of July 9th, 1925.

I, therefore, in the interest of the public generally, and also with the object of keeping inviolate the principles laid down in former actions, i.e., serving the whole of the Dominion of Canada with equal fairness, dissent from the Judgment of the Chief Commissioner, a copy of which I had not seen until after it had been given to the public and telegraphed to applicants, and I was thereby denied the usual privilege of pronouncing upon the same which, I think, should have been done, particularly after the matter had been discussed by the whole Board.

I think that, in the public interest, an Order should issue countermanding Order No. 36769, dated September 2nd, 1925. (Sgd.) C. L.

The Aristocrat of fine Toilet Soaps

Test your Toilet Soap on your Tooth Brush

Good pure soap without "free alkali" is an excellent tooth wash. Those who use Baby's Own Soap for this purpose enjoy its fragrance.

It is a good way to test any toilet soap —the sensitive skin of tongue and throat detects the bite of too strong soap which would, in the long run injure the face.

Baby's Own Soap is one of the few toilet soaps which withstands this test.

DOCTORS CLAIM CANCER TO BE TREATED BY TUBE METHOD INSTEAD OF KNIFE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 —(U. N.) —Cancer, most malignant of diseases, may never again know a surgeon's knife, especially those types of cancer near body surfaces.

First announcement of a new discovery, already claimed as most efficacious in experimental treatment of cancer, is expected to be made Friday by Dr. Douglas Quick and Dr. Max Cutler of New York City to the American Roentgen Ray Society in 28th annual session here.

Sealed gold tubes, substituted for glass tubes now in use, and containing "radon," a gas derived from radium emanations, are placed directly into the cancer and left there.

This is the discovery of the New York doctors which is expected to revolutionize medical handling of cancerous growths. The announcement will be made to medicine the world over.

"Radon," the discovery of which has been claimed by British medicine but which is said to have been first found and used in Boston about five years ago, has previously been used in minute, needle-like glass tubes, in the same method of insertion into the cancer. Certain types of cancer, particularly cancerous growths in the mouth, tongue, cheek and the lymphatic glands of the neck, were found to be especially resistant to the glass tube "radon" treatment.

Quick and Cutler, pioneers in the development of the glass tube system, experimented further to find that gold, having greater filtering power, possessed better qualities for disseminating the radium rays into the cancer.

Doctors in convention who have heard an outline of the discovery, claimed Thursday that "it undoubtedly will do away, at least partly with surgery on cancer."

TO TEST ENGINE TROUBLE THEORY

Court of Inquiry Into Shenandoah Disaster to Examine Survivors

LAKEHURST, N.J., Sept. 25.—(U.P.) — To test the theory that had not engine trouble developed the dirigible Shenandoah might have been able to weather the storm which wrecked it, the Navy Court of Inquiry today, was to recall to the stand several survivors of the disaster.

The belief held by most experts that the airship was destroyed because of failure of the control car struts, was virtually cast into doubt by this theory, which was advanced by Colonel Charles G. Hall, army liaison officer and one of the survivors.

Colonel Hall's testimony indicated that the vessel, notoriously slow, was sucked into the vortex of a line squall to certain destruction when two of her engines had failed.

Although the court has as yet issued no summonses ordering high Washington officials to appear before it, Captain Paul Foley, judge advocate at the hearings, has let it be known that those responsible for the dirigible's flight will be called.

The court thus far has sought in vain to bring out evidence that Commander Zachary Lansdowne, who was killed in the disaster, had voiced to his crew a prejudice against officials who had ordered him to take the airship west over his protests.

It is believed that further investigation along this line will be ordered. Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, wife of the commander, is understood to have said the court's investigations have vindicated her charges that her husband was loath to make the trip. Mrs. Lansdowne, speaking on the night of the disaster, was reported as declaring that "several members of the crew agreed with Zachary."

THREE ARE AFTER RUSSELL SEAT

OTTAWA, Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Russell County Conservatives last night decided to hold a nominating convention at Vars on October 5. Those seeking the nomination are D. C. Merkley, of Billings Bridge, R. Beaudet, of Blackburn, and Wilfred Thivierge, of Clarence Creek.

Gordon C. Edwards is expected to defend the seat for the Liberal party, whose representative in the last House was Hon. Charles Murphy, Postmaster-General, who was recently appointed to the Senate. The Liberals will nominate a candidate on October 2.

In the 1921 general election Hon. Mr. Murphy had a majority of 2,233 over Rathwell, Progressive, and was elected by acclamation at the subsequent by-election when he was appointed Postmaster-General.

HEIR TO NORWAY'S THRONE WILL WED

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 25 — (A. P.) —Announcement of the engagement of Crown Prince Olaf of Norway to Princess Astrid, youngest daughter of the Duke of Vestergoetland, Sweden is expected soon.

Crown Prince Olaf entered Balliol college, Oxford, last fall. He is 22 years old, and the only son of the Norwegian royal house.

Princess Astrid will be 20 on November 11. Her father Prince Oscra, the Duke of Vestergoetland, is a brother of King Gustaf of Sweden.

ASK BREWER TO RESUME OFFICE

Christian Feigenspan May Again Head U.S. Brewers' Association

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 — (U. P.) —Upon the decision of Christian Feigenspan as to whether he will reconsider his resignation as president of the United States Brewers' Ass'n., hangs the most recent effort toward modifying the Volstead Act so as to legalize light wines and beer, it is believed.

A committee of three, appointed by the board of trustees of the association, will call upon the Newark brewer today to ask him to resume his post. Since he is violently opposed to co-operation with the Anti-Saloon League and other temperance bodies, his retraction of the resignation would probably mean an end to tentative negotiations.

The trustees of the Brewers' Association, issued a statement however, saying that although the "association is seeking no favors, it cannot and will not refuse to co-operate with any civic body willing to join with us in legalizing the sale of non-intoxicating malt beverages."

GUNMEN KILL NORA BAYES' CHAUFFEUR

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Surrounding the automobile of Miss Nora Bayes, vaudeville actress, as it drew up in front of her home on West End Avenue last night, four hold-up men shot her chauffeur, John Carlow, 35, and escaped in a touring car without getting any loot.

SCIENCE AND RELIGION WILL NOT HAVE VITAL CONFLICT, CARDINAL HAYES PREDICTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 — (U. N.)— There can be no vital conflict between science and religion, Cardinal Patrick Hayes declared in an address opening WLWL, broadcasting station of the Paulist Fathers Thursday night.

Telling his audience that religion, in the dedication of the new station "willingly and gladly wishes to pay tribute to science," the Cardinal said that science sought truth at any cost, adding:

"Without selfishness or passion or prejudice, at the sacrifice of health and wealth, of fame and friendship and life itself, the real scientist worships at truth's altar, realizing as the church teaches, that there can be no vital conflict, or contradiction, between the truth revealed to man by God, in the natural order and that made manifest by Him in the supernatural."

Cardinal Hayes indicated that the new radio station would broadcast music, instruction in the arts and sciences, and the Catholic church's ideals of patriotism and good citizenship. He saw radio communication as a means of breaking down provincialism and termed radio "acquaintance" as an antidote for misunderstanding and the creation of a "more perfect America."

In commenting upon the possibility of radio in breaking down prejudice, he said "the history of the United States shows that in this climate intolerance and bigotry do not strike deep root or live long. Every fresh attempt to set class against class, and religion against religion, has perished quickly, has soon been forgotten. Yet I believe there is much progress still to be made, progress which I trust which will be aided through the instrumentality of radio.

UNDERTAKER SUES CITY OF TORONTO

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (C.P.)—The local Board of Health, through the City Solicitor, has filed a statement of defence in the suit of Reginald Roy Moore, undertaker, who claims that he contracted smallpox from professional attendance on the body of a woman who died from smallpox. The Board states that the medical practitioner in attendance notified the authorities that the woman had been suffering from measles and that all possible care had been taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The Board disclaims negligence of any kind on its own part.

Veteran Rancher and Friend of Prince is Dead at Homestead

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Following an illness of more than one year's duration, George Lane, veteran stock man, owner of the famous Bar-U Ranch and close friend of H.R.H. Edward Prince of Wales, died at his ranch home at Pekisko, Thursday morning at the age of 69 years. His wife, one daughter, Mrs. D. U. Everitt, and a son, George Lane Jr., were at his bedside when he died. Mr. Lane's own request was that the funeral be held from the ranch where he spent so many happy years. Mr. Lane's death was not unexpected. He suffered a breakdown in health last year and he went to Florida. He recovered his health to some extent, but several days ago he suffered a relapse and was compelled to remain in his house. His condition was such that his family moved to the ranch.

OUR LONDON LETTER

By MADGE

LONDON, Aug. 31. — (Special by Staff Correspondent) — London, even in August, can be relied upon to provide sensations and horticulturists are quite excited over a new berry and a new dahlia exhibited at the Horticultural Hall, last week. The delicious berry, which is expected to oust the older and somewhat disappointing loganberry, was produced by crossing a blackberry with a raspberry. It is about twice the size of the ordinary blackberry.

For many years horticulturists have been striving to produce a blue dahlia and "Lady Heath," a large decorative dahlia of bluish-mauve tint was exhibited at this show.

An August bride, who chose Holy Trinity, Brompton, for her wedding, is Miss Pamela Godfrey, only daughter of Sir George and Lady Godfrey. Her bridegroom is Mr. Richard Knight, who is in the Queen's Own Hussars. Pink is evidently the bride's favorite color. Her wedding dress of silver tissue and lace was lined with rose-pink chiffon, and both her bridesmaids, one grown up and the other a child, had pink frocks. Pink figured, too, in the going-away gown of flower chiffon over cyclamen-pink silk with a large cyclamen-colored straw hat trimmed with pink and mauve roses.

The wedding took place on Tuesday last.

With the arrival of the Queen on Wednesday at Balmoral to join the King, the Deeside season began and the bazaar and fete season was at its height in Scotland.

The district around Balmoral saw a succession of such last week for Lady Shaftsbury opened a garden fete at Ballater on Wednesday. Princess Arthur of Connaught a two-days' bazaar at Braemar on the next day. Mrs. Burnett-Smith—otherwise Annie S. Swan—opened it on Friday, Lady Maud Carnegie opened another at Banchory on the same day, and Lady Cowdray performed the opening ceremony on Friday.

The Duke and Duchess of York will join the Earl and Countess of Strathmore's house party at Holwick House, near Middleton-in-Teesdale on Thursday. The Duchess is arranging for a rally of Forfarshire Girl Guides, to be held at Glamis Castle in September. Lady Baden-Powell will be present.

Princess Mary (Viscountess Lascelles) and Viscount Lascelles are on a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe, at Floors Castle, on the banks of the Tweed. Princess Mary will inaugurate the new hall and billiard-room which has been erected behind the fine club premises of the Royal Scots Association in Edinburgh. Her Royal Highness is performing the ceremony as Colonel-in-Chief of the Royal Scots Regiment.

The Earl and Countess of Minto held a large garden fete at Minto House, Roxburghshire, on Saturday.

The Marchioness of Aberdeen has left London for Geneva, to preside at the meeting of one of the three sections of the International Congress on Child Welfare.

Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon will leave in September to attend the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva.

It is difficult to get used to the sight of Ophelia in a short jumper suit, but it is a very pretty one which Miss Muriel Hewit wears at the Kingsway, in the modern dress production of Hamlet, and her skimpy little black morning frock, which she wears instead of the usual flowing white robes, gives a pathetic note of reality to the mad scene.

In the play scene Ophelia wears a simple debutante's evening frock of foxglove-pink but the Queen is resplendent in gold tissue with an orange chiffon scarf, a gold head-dress, and a huge orange feather fan. The traditional note of red which Gertrude usually supplies had not been disregarded, and in the first court scene (where the company was engaged in bridge and cocktail drinking) she wore a red lace gown which "went" surprisingly well with Miss Dorothy Massingham's red-gold hair.

The news that Miss Iris Tree, youngest daughter of Sir Herbert Tree, is going to make her appearance on the stage will interest countless numbers of playgoers. She is now at Salsburg studying the part of the Nun in "The Miracle."

Ermine and silver fox furs are to be given away at the Fur Ball, which is to be held on Guy Fawkes Day at Covent Garden, in aid of the Middlesex Hospital. The ball is being organized by the London fur trade, and will include blues among arctic foxes, waltzes and one-steps among icefields, and a fur fashion parade in which leading actresses will act as mannequins.

It is now the custom for husbands and wives to be "tailored off the same roll." "Men and women dressed to match," so far as material is concerned, might be a new fashion slogan. A significant example of it has been given by the Duke and Duchess of York, who, on several occasions lately, have appeared in tailored blue suits, which, at first glance, appear to have been cut from lengths of stuff off the same roll.

The Queen's Doll's House is now permanently installed in Windsor Castle, where it is on view. It is reached through the entrance to the state apartments on the North Terrace. No alterations to it have been made, but its new home, once the China Room, has been specially adapted by Sir Edwin Lutyens. The Doll's House has been placed in a large glass case, but visitors can walk round it and view everything.

"Feeding London's birds" is one of the favorite pastimes of London folk at the present day. There are lots of small children, who, when they want a special treat, beg to be taken to feed the ducks in the parks or the pigeons at St. Paul's. One of the pleasures of a visit to Kew Gardens is to have tea under the trees, and feed the sparrows and other birds which gather round the tables.

Tons of soap and gallons of water are being used in "spring-cleaning" the Royal Courts of Justice, in the Strand. There are over 800 rooms at the Law Courts, in addition to the actual courts, and all of these are being given their annual cleaning. Nearly 2,000 carpets have been taken up, removed, cleaned and relaid; 600 chimneys have received attention from the sweep. Miles of stone-floored corridors are being scrubbed and cleaned, and thousands of books removed from their shelves, dusted and replaced.

"Spring-cleaning" is also taking place at 10 Downing Street and during the absence of Mrs. Baldwin her apartments are receiving the attention needed after all the entertaining she has done during the past season.

The marriage of Mr. H. E. Plant, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Plant, of Montreal, and Miss Barbara F. Wilbraham, of Northwick, Cheshire, will take place at St. Mary's Church, Weaverham, Cheshire, on October 8.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson, British Columbia, left London last week on a motor tour through England, Scotland and Wales.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cooke, Victoria, who have been on this side of the Atlantic for some eight months, sailed for Canada on Friday.

At the office of the Agent-General for British Columbia visitors during the past few days have included Mr. J. E. and Miss L. Mackin, Vancouver; Mr. W. Tomes, Victoria; Mr. H. C. and Mrs. Shaw, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wilson, Fernie; Mrs. J. W. Corning, Victoria; Mr. J. E. Goldie, Toronto; Mrs. B. F. J. Ward, Victoria; Mr. J. Fernley Dick, Victoria and Mrs. H. W. Ross, Vancouver.

LACHINE SYNAGOGUE CASE GIVEN AIRING

The troubles the Jewish congregation of Beth-Israel had in building a synagogue in Lachine were aired in the Enquete Court this morning when Zepherin Rioux, contractor, 93a Ninth Avenue, Lachine, appeared before Judge Enright on the charge of obtaining $300 from the congregation by false pretences.

According to the story told by the president of the corporation, formed by the congregation to build the synagogue, the job was to cost $4,000, 80 per cent of which was to be paid to the contractor as the work progressed.

Then arose trouble among the workmen, the president declared, consequently payment was refused to Rioux until he produced a receipt from the workmen showing that their wages had been paid. The receipt was formally produced, a cheque for $336.55 was handed over to Rioux, and then the workmen declared that they had not been paid and put a lien on the synagogue.

The defence claimed that the receipt of the workmen was only a statement of account as it bore this inscription in French on the top of the document. It was also claimed that the synagogue owed Rioux money, and that he had taken this means to collect it. It was admitted that the workmen had not been paid.

Rioux will appear in the enquete court for voluntary statement on October 6.

ALD. LEGAULT NOW IN CHARGE

Liberal Committee Rooms Opened in St. James Street Today

Ald. Legault has been appointed in charge of the Liberal campaign rooms, which formally opened on St. James street today. Telephone numbers at that committee are: information, Plateau 1235, 1236 and 1237. Speakers committee, Plateau 2217 and 2218. Organizer Plateau 1234.

The Liberals of Laurier-Outremont nominated at their meeting last night, 555 delegates to attend the convention they intend holding on Tuesday, to choose a candidate for that division. There were 203 women delegates and 352 men chosen. The multitude of likely candidates has now been thinned down, to three, Charlemagne Rodier, Joseph Mercier, and Ald. N. Turcot. A possible fourth is Ald. J. O. Gareau.

A rumor heard in Liberal circles, is to the effect that next month E. Tremblay, secretary to Ernest Lapointe, will be appointed warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

Attention was drawn this morning at Liberal headquarters to complaints from several parts of the city, that people were going from door to door, pretending to be able to register voters. These people asked women to fill up cards, saying if they did this, they need not register, as canvassers would complete the registration for them. Voters are warned that no one can relieve them of the responsibility of personal attendance at the registration office, except a relative or employer, and then only in case of sickness or absence from town.

Registration offices are open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., standard time. In other words, until Sunday, when daylight saving time ceases, the hours will be 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. daylight and thereafter until September 30, 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. as standard time will be in vogue.

Patenaude, in Jacques Cartier division will open his campaign with a reply to Mr. Patenaude's speech of last week, at a mass meeting of electors of the division in Lachine College on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be presided over by the mayors of Lachine and St. Laurent and J. McLaughlin, president of the Liberal Club there. Mr. Rheaume is in Ottawa today, but it is understood that he will deal at length with Mr. Patenaude's St. Laurent speech, in his address on Sunday.

ST. JOHN MILK PRICES BOOSTED

Citizens Must Pay for Row Between Producers and Dealers

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 25.—(Star Special)—St. John faces a higher price for milk today as a result of tentative negotiations between the King's County milk producers and local dealers looking to a settlement of the milk strike, which assumed considerably larger proportions this morning through decreased shipments from the milkmen.

At a meeting last evening, the local dealers decided to meet the demand of the producers to pay 10 cents an eight quart can F. O. B. from Sept. 1 to May 31. This was what the farmers demanded. This price will be retroactive.

A. Ren Smith, president of the milk producers, is due in the city this afternoon with contracts for the various dealers, embodying these decisions. He stated that if all the dealers in St. John did not sign this agreement and take their milk only from King's County that the strike would go on. The producers plan a mass meeting at Apohaqui this evening to hear Mr. Smith's report.

J. N. Riley, president of the local dealers, said today that as a result of acceding to the farmers' demands, the price of milk in the city would have to go up. No figure has been agreed on yet, but it is believed it will be 14 cents a quart, an increase of two cents over the prevailing rate.

A new angle was given the situation today when several local dealers declared they would not sign an agreement to take all the supply from Kings County. Developments are awaited with keen interest here.

McCORMICK'S BISCUITS — For every occasion

Buy Them Now in Bulk.

The tempting varieties of McCormick's Biscuits—first packed in the "Biscuit Basket"—can now be bought by the pound.

Serve these crispy morsels of "abundant quality" at tea—or as a snack of refreshment after bridge—or for every occasion. They are distinctly different—and oh! so delicious.

Only in the great snow-white bakeries of McCormick are these biscuits made. Ask for:—

Bonnie Scot, Rich Butter, Custard Cream, Belmarr, Elite Finger, Society, Digestive, Alaska Wafer, Clovelly Cream, Academy Cream

Why McCormick Biscuits are so deliciously different

Unlike the ordinary types of biscuits which are hurriedly and unequally baked in a super-heated oven for a very short time, McCormick Biscuits are baked in a slow oven for a much longer period.

This gentler, slower method of baking McCormick Biscuits gives that delicate flavor, that crispy freshness and fine texture that distinguishes McCormick Biscuits as "abundant quality" biscuits, and makes them so easily digested and of such splendid food value.

BRITAIN AGAIN FACES PROSPECT OF MINE TIE-UP

Miners Claim Baldwin's Approval of Wage Cut Not Proper

STRIKE FEARED

Cessation of Activities May Result from Operators' Slash

LONDON, Sept. 25. — (A. P.) — There is a new threat of trouble in the coal mine districts.

The miners are upset over a decision by Premier Baldwin, in which he accepted the contention of the mine owners, in their dispute with the Miners Federation, of their right to reduce wages in certain regions. The miners contend that his decision is at variance with the agreement under which the Government granted a subsidy of £10,000,000 to mine owners, to enable them to maintain the current scale of wages, pending an inquiry by a Royal Commission into the entire coal situation.

The immediate fear is that the present trouble may lead to a cessation of activities in the coal industry; but much water will pass under the bridges before such a contingency materializes, as the miners will not make a final decision until Oct. 9, when they have called a meeting to discuss the situation.

Meantime every effort doubtless will be made to settle the trouble satisfactorily to both sides.

A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners Federation, and other leaders of the men, are in an angry mood. They accuse the Premier of having deliberately broken the terms of the truce, which prevented a strike. They charge him with following a mean, dishonest and perilously short sighted sourse, and they have withdrawn from partiepation in the work of the Royal Commission. They also have appealed to the entire Labor movement to support them in their insistence that the miners' wages be not reduced. The defenders of Premier Baldwin say his decision was absolutely correct.

ISSUE COMPLICATED

The matter at issue is complicated. It is largely one of principle and concerns the legitimacy of a variation of the wage basis rates at individual collieries. The miners leaders are standing by the men in these few mines because they would, if the Government view prevails, be deprived of unemployment pay in case the owners close the pits.

Meantime a new organization, known as the organization for maintenance of supply, has been launched. Its purpose is, in case a general strike occurs, to maintain supplies everywhere and keep open all services vital to the needs of the country. Its activities will embrace protection of public services, operating railways, the handling of foodstuffs, and keeping communications open through messengers should the telegraphic and telephonic services cease functioning.

The newspapers this morning, do not give the O. M. S. as it is known in abbreviated form, a reception such as augurs well for its success. It is contended that the protection of the community in circumstances such as is set forth by the O. M. S. is a function for the Government.

UNPLEASANT TURN.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(B. U. P.) — Although the coal situation has suddenly taken an unpleasantly grave turn there is little prospect of an immediate clash between employers and men; or of a boycott of the Royal Commission by the miners, as is suggested by the Extremists. It is pointed out that Premier Baldwin's reference to the dole question, which is the chief snag in the present differences, and his suggestion that it will soon come up for discussion in Parliamentary circles, seems to offer an opportunity for sidestepping this source of disagreement and thus avoiding trouble by the patching up of some sort of agreement. It is further pointed out that if the basic scale is interfered with, as Baldwin thinks could be done within the terms of the agreement reached with the miners, the miners will be eligible for the dole. The Government is little likely to increase the number of dole recipients at this time if it can possibly be avoided.

Save for one or two dissentient voices, the general impression seems to be that Premier Baldwin could not have taken any other stand and something like a sigh of relief went up in London political circles when the text of the Premier's statement was published. This does not mean that there is any diminution of sympathy for the miners for it is recognized that the times are difficult and the future of industry is uncertain, until British coals have regained their position in the world markets.

The Yorkshire Post points out this morning that it is possible that many miners have been misled by the speeches of their leaders and it is a good thing that the documentary evidence of the negotiations is available to back up the Government's case. It is felt that unless there was—and nobody credits such an alternative—some secret guarantee given by the Premier to the miners' leaders, which is contrary to the documentary evidence, any concessions now made by Baldwin would be regarded as a sign of weakness and would be interpreted as such. One Cabinet Minister said today, in commenting on this angle of the situation, "There would be no end to the blackmailing policy of some of the leaders and no finality in industry itself."

POLICE NIP REVOLT PLOT IN HUNGARY

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 25.—(A.P.)—News of the discovery by the police of a plot to overthrow the Government brought horror to the city yesterday, where memories of the regime of Bela Kun are still vivid. The leaders of the plot, Matthias Rakosi, and Zoltan Weinberger, who was Bela Kun's secretary, were arrested with 42 accomplices.

The newspapers say they have made complete avowal to the police of a "black list" which noted for death in a six months' period all the principal Hungarian authorities.

As described by the paper, the final aim of the movement was to again proclaim a dictatorship.

PARIS DRINKING ASTONISHES "DRY"

E. J. Richardson Says Everybody Doing it, Old and Young

LONDON, Sept. 25—(U.P.)—Paris in its drinking is "simply awful" and prohibition in France is a long way off, according to E. J. Richardson, aid to the famous dry crusader, "Pussyfoot" Johnson.

Just back from a continental tour, Richardson admitted that old, young and middle-aged were drinking in France, while Germany was a close second.

"In Berlin with more than 3,000,000 people, however, I met only one man who was thoroughly drunk and he was an American tourist," said Richardson today. "But don't get the idea that Germany is giving up drinking. She isn't. I never in my life—except in France — saw so many people, and especially young people, drinking beer. The cafes, cabarets, restaurants and bars are literally crowded to overflowing with young drinkers. We are hopeful of Germany, however, for there is a strong local option movement now being organized.

"But Paris was simply awful. I counted 47 bars and cafes in three blocks. They were all full with young, old and everybody drinking. I'm afraid prohibition is a long way off in France."

Navy Secretary Wilbur announced that the attempt to make the flight in the new PB-1 seaplane had not been abandoned, but that it would not be made until January, or later.

FREE TUITION CHARGE MADE AGAINST QUEEN'S RUGBY TEAM UNTRUE

KINGSTON, Sept. 25—"The statement is absolutely untrue and ridiculous," said J. S. McDonell, secretary of Queen's Athletic Board of Control, in regard to the despatch from Montreal to the effect that it was charged in certain publications that free tuition had been offered Lashley, of Ottawa, to play rugby for the Tricolor. "Queen's has never offered a bribe to any player to come here, and if anyone says the University has, it is an untruth."

Secretary McDonell pointed out that both Young and Lashley, of Ottawa, came to the city, and were in conference with authorities regarding entrance to the University. They remained here a couple of days, and then went back to Ottawa. Yesterday afternoon the Athletic Board of Control received word from them to the effect that they had decided to stay in Ottawa, and that absolutely closed the incident as far as the University is concerned.

"If any player wants to enter Queen's," said Mr. McDonell, "he is, of course, welcomed by the Athletic Board of Control, but every student coming here has been accepted only on complying with the registration regulations. The University has never held out any such inducements as free tuition to any player, and the report which has been circulated to that effect is incorrect. The fact that Lashley and Young have gone back to Ottawa would indicate that there was nothing offered them." The spreading of this report is regretted very much by the University authorities.

What Queen's Principal Has to Say About it

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 25.—Principal R. Bruce Taylor, of Queen's University, very emphatically denied that such a state of affairs would be countenanced for a moment by the university officials.

"The university accepts the registration of students, and it is their duty to see that they pass the examinations," said Principal Taylor, "there is not now, and never has been, any system whereby a member of the Rugby team, or for that matter any student prominent in any other line of sport, may escape paying his tuition fees, except, of course by the winning of an academic scholarship or being awarded a bursary. I am a member of the athletic board of control, of which Prof. Manley Baker is chairman, and I feel sure that I may speak for that board as well as the university itself in making this statement."

Swimming Instructor Who Taught 20,000 Men, Women and Boys Within Nine Months Coming Here.

The famous swimming teacher, George H. Corson, is to pay a visit to Montreal in October. He will conduct a swimming campaign in the fine swimming pool at the Central "Y" on Drummond street during the week, October 10th to 24th.

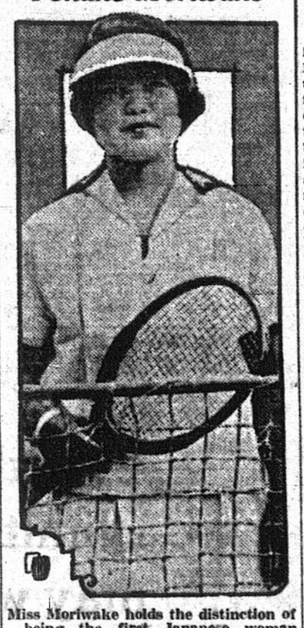

Mr. Corson is the famous originator of the Massed System of Instruction. During the nine months of 1924 he taught 20,000 men and women, boys and girls to swim, handling 5,000 pupils in two weeks at Dallas, Texas; 2,400 at Spokane; 1,300 at Long Beach; between 500 and 1,000 at Tacoma, Butte, and other cities.

Mr. Corson was the swimming instructor and coach, University of Toronto 1904—1921; Professor of Swimming, Ontario Teachers' Training College, Toronto; and Battle Creek College, Battle Creek. He was the first teacher of Boy Scout Masters of America, Silver Bay, 1911 and 1912.

Mr. Corson has taught men, women, boys and girls to swim in 200 cities, in 750 swimming pools.

No teacher of swimming has had greater success in handling large groups. It is a safe prediction that he will teach hundreds of men and boys to swim during his six day campaign in Montreal.

ALLEY BOWLING

Approximately 500 players are directly interested in the Five Pin Bowling League conducted by the Canadian National Recreation Club which will begin its activities for the season on Tuesday evening next week. Last season saw the league in a very active condition, but that record will be surpassed during the coming schedule. The list last season included 24 ladies' teams and 36 men's teams. The schedule now being drafted will have to provide for 26 ladies' and 48 men's teams thus forming the largest bowling organization in Montreal.

As a further evidence of the growth of popularity of alley bowling amongst the staff of the Canadian National Railways in this centre, an additional league has been added to the activities of the special committee this season. This is a junior league which has been arranged for the benefit of the office boys and the junior clerks, ranging between the ages of 15 and 17 years inclusive. Some ten teams have been organized and there is a possibility that the schedule will have to provide for as many as 15 teams.

The schedule for the ladies' teams commences on Tuesday night next at 6 o'clock, and thereafter matches in this league will be played on successive Monday nights beginning at 6 o'clock.

In the men's league play starts on Thursday night of next week at 6 o'clock and will be continued every Thursday night commencing at the same hour. All matches will be played at Karry's Bowling Alleys, St. Catherine Street West, above Childs.

All activities of these leagues come under the jurisdiction of the General Bowling Committee, of which W. W. Swinden is chairman, and J. R. Fidler, secretary-treasurer, the other members being D. S. Miville, W. A. Bannister and H. West.

DOINGS OF THE QUEBEC RUGBY UNION CLUBS

The Columbus intermediate grid gang staged a strenuous workout last night on the Shamrock grounds under the personal direction of Frank Shaughnessy, veteran rugby coach of McGill University, who has had the Columbus outfit under his guidance for some weeks now. There were twenty-two Columbus football stalwarts out in full regalia last night. With such a gang working conscientiously and under Coach Shaughnessy, the team should make a fine showing against the Monties tomorrow. As a matter of fact, Manager Pat Lynch of the Columbus squad says his team is going to win tomorrow. Charlie Lynch, who used to receive the plaudits of the Brockville fans, started with Columbus last week in the Westward game and is doing fine stuff now. He is an excellent man on the half line, and can punt the pigskin with the best in the circuit. The two outside wings, Britt and Whitty, are doing fine, and are nailing their men in splendid tackles, and Skelly is in his old-time form.

Manager Pat Lynch issues a call for 7.30 p.m. this evening, when he wants all his gang to show at the K. of C. Council Hall on Mountain street where they will be put through a short and snappy signal drill. After the signals have been rehearsed the entire squad will be taken in to see the wonderful performance being held under the auspices of the combined management of the Columbus football and baseball clubs. The show promises to be well worth attending.

Moe Herscovitch, manager of the Montefiore squad, announces that Billy Feldstein is on the Montefiores roster, and will play here against Columbus tomorrow, despite reports that he was hooked up with an Ottawa rugby aggregation. Moe put his husky grid men through a gruelling evening on the Shamrock field last night, and promises to have them in tip-top shape for the tussle tomorrow.

The line has received special attention and care, and will include such men as Fieldman of McGill, Schuman, "Big Six" Moe Schaefer, Lobson, Davis, and the husky Romeo Joseph. The outside wing positions will be covered jointly by Nadler, Epstein and two others, all strong and fearless tacklers. Ralph Cummings, the heavy veteran who used to play at McGill, will be tried out tomorrow at centre half. Other available back field men are Sonny Park, Joe Glickman and Billy Feldstein the kicking half. Vic Fischel will perform as flying wing, where he usually gives a good account of himself, while the quarter back position is open to two candidates, Held and Gold. Bailey, the big inside wing, who recently was injured, is expected back again.

The Lachine Rugby Football Club, holding a position in the junior section of the P.Q.R.F.U. held a good workout last night in preparation for the game with M.A.A.A. tomorrow. "Tokio" Glendenning, the new coach, is very well pleased with the team over their improvement since last week. They had a bit of hard luck in the game with Verdun last week, fumbles on the line costing them the game. Coach "Cy" Taylor has had to resign owing to pressure of business, but the club has secured the services of "Tokio" Glendenning, who was once an M.A.A.A. man.

The front line is much improved by the appearance of Glendenning and Miller, and possibly Sandy Lindsay, the paddler. Chisholm is a good man on the half line, where he will be found tomorrow.

Harold DeWitt will hold down the quarter-back's job, and was last night chosen as captain of the team.

TENNIS TOPICS

The final round of the Montreal Cup tournament for the singles lawn tennis title of Quebec, will take place tomorrow afternoon on the courts of the Indoor Tennis Club, when Willard F. Crocker will meet E. H. Laframboise. Crocker has just returned from Toronto, where he played against the French Davis Cup stars.

Members of the Montreal Indoor Tennis Club will be admitted to the finals tomorrow, and there will be limited accommodation for outsider spectators.

POISONOUS APPLE GROWS IN CEYLON

Trees that are said to bear what the Mohammedans regard as "Eve's apples," flourish in Ceylon, but are difficult to grow elsewhere, one reads in Popular Mechanics. The blossom has a pleasant odor but the fruit, which resembles an orange on the outside and is a deep crimson within, is poisonous.

The apples are dented as though a piece had been bitten out of them. Naturalists have been unable to explain this phenomenon. The Mohammedan belief is that the mark and the peculiar coloring of the fruit are warnings against its noxious properties.

By winning the Davis Cup matches for the sixth consecutive year America, we read, has established her complete monopoly of tennis. . . . This is something that will be hard to live down.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 25.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing titleholder, has entered the field of amusement promotions. He is one of the directors of a corporation formed for the purpose of building theatres, amusement halls and wrestling and boxing pavilions.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 25.—Road work—just enough to keep their joints limber—wound up the training yesterday of Gene Tunney and Hartley Madden for their scheduled ten-round fight here tonight.

Tunney, carrying the United States light-heavyweight championship, expressed confidence that the result of the bout would mean an early battle with Harry Wills, negro heavyweight.

"I am going to knock out Madden tonight," Tunney said, "and then Wills' last chance to crawl out of a fight with me will have faded."

Madden has other ideas. "I will be on my feet when the bell rings at the end of the tenth round," he said, "and don't be surprised if I'm the only one standing."

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Pal Moore, of Memphis, veteran of 200 bantamweight battles, meets Tiger Jack Burns, of Oakland, Calif., in a 10-round contest at Aurora tonight. In another 10-rounder, Harold Smith, Chicago, will tangle with Archie Bell, of New York. They also are bantams.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(U. P.)—James J. Johnston, promoter of the Berlenbach-King Solomon and Dundee-Herman fights to be waged at the Polo Grounds on October 5 has noted a change of beneficiary in this event.

The Jewish Maternity Hospital which was to receive the profits, if any, has withdrawn from the plan, voicing no reasons, and the prizefighters' union, otherwise known as the National Sports Alliance, has agreed to accept the money.

BARBERTON, O., Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Nick Newman, Taylorville, Illinois, heavyweight stopped "Fighting Bob" Martin, A. E. F. champion, in the fourth of a scheduled ten-round bout here last night. Martin's seconds tossed in a towel as he hung helpless on the ropes.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Sailor Friedman, of Chicago, won the judges' decision over Morris Schlaiffer, of Omaha, at the local ball park last night. Friedman led all the way and gave Schlaiffer a bad beating.

Joey Gans, of Allentown, was given the decision over Sailor Dardon, of New York, in the semi-final. Young Warner, of Jessup, scored a technical knockout over Gene Baldoni, of Hilldale, in the fifth round of their bout.

4 Men in 7 Bald at 40 —91% needlessly, by tests

Written Guarantee to Grow Hair This New Way—or Money Refunded

This is to offer you, under absolute money-back guarantee, the new Van Ess Treatment, which, under actual tests, grew hair on 91 heads in 100.

It embodies a new principle. A principle heretofore unknown to science. Now high authorities admit baldness may be greatly diminished. For hair roots seldom die from natural causes. And this method revives them. Test it yourself at our risk. Over one million men and women are now using it.

Hair Roots Rarely Naturally Die

We estimate that 4 men in 7 are bald or partially bald, at 40. Our investigation proves this to be unnecessary. Proves only about 9 men in 100 need ever be bald!

Baldness is a symptom of a disease. Note this fact and mark it. It is most frequently a symptom of infection of the Sebum—the scalp oil.

Remove this Infected Sebum and hair will almost always grow. Under the bald scalp the hair roots are generally alive. We have demonstrated this to be true in about 91% of our cases of falling hair or baldness.

We claim this new method reaches the roots. That it makes hair grow. But the public has often been deceived. So we guarantee it. You take no chance of loss.

New Hair or No Money

We make our guarantee without reservation—without strings. It is absolute. We guarantee to stop falling hair. We guarantee to grow new hair in 90 days. Sometimes it grows much sooner. But usually this treatment requires about 3 bottles of Van Ess. If we fail, your money back without question.

Note that your own dealer gives the warrant with each 3-bottle purchase. Thus you assume no risk. Over 800,000 men have made this test. It is safe for us thus to guarantee the treatment. For experiments of years have proven it effective to us on 91 heads in 100. Foremost authorities approve it. Noted dermatologists now employ similar methods—some charge as much as $300.00 for a similar basic treatment.

The Infected Sebum

We have traced about 91% of all baldness and falling hair to infection of the scalp oil (Sebum). Sebum forms at the roots of the hair. Its natural function is to lubricate the hair.

But Sebum cakes on the scalp. It forms a breeding place for bacteria. It clings to hair and destroys it. It lodges in hair follicles and plugs them. Then germs by the millions start to feed upon the hair. Loss of hair soon is marked. Then with neglect comes total baldness.

You can see this Sebum on your scalp, in the form of an oil. Or, when accumulated and dried with other ingredients, as dandruff. But it does not kill the hair roots. Hence when you remove it new hair has a chance to grow. This is a scientific fact—medical authorities will tell you so. You must remove the Infected Sebum.

Now We Remove It

For years, science has experimented to combat Infected Sebum. We found a 91% effective treatment.

Now we have embodied it in a home treatment. It is called Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage.

It is applied in a new way—a scientific way. (Note the illustration at right.) It penetrates to the follicles of the hair. It combats the Sebum and removes it. Results are marked. They are quick. It stops falling hair. We have demonstrated that it grows new hair.

We urge you to try this new way. We know the statements we make are amazing—almost incredible, but remember, we back them with an absolute guarantee.

There is a guarantee in the top of each package. Read it first before you buy. Note its fairness. Note that we let you be the judge.

Note the results yourself. Mark the healthy condition of your scalp—the freedom from dandruff. Look in your mirror—see for yourself.

Go today to any drug or department store. Obtain the VAN ESS 3-bottle treatment. With it you will get our signed guarantee. Hence it is folly not to try it.

Costs Nothing

Unless we grow hair. The Van Ess 3-bottle treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the sole judge. The warrant is given by your own dealer. All we require is his signature showing you have purchased a ninety-day treatment. If it fails, we refund your money. Hence you assume no risk making this test.

Note this New Way

—It Massages the Treatment Directly to the Follicles of the Hair

This patent applicator makes hair treatment, at home, possible for the first time. Blood alone revives. Treatment must reach the infected area under the surface. We accomplish it, as the illustration above shows, with hollow nipples of scientifically perfect rubber massage-cap which comes with every bottle of Van Ess Hair Grower. The medicament is fed directly to the follicles of the hair. At the same time the flow of blood is stimulated by massage to the hair root.

These two pictures show a cross section of the hair root or bulb and the case which encloses each hair from the root to surface of scalp (greatly magnified). Germ infected Sebum causes 91% of baldness and falling hair. Remove it and hair will grow. Illustration A shows Sebum in infected hair and B healthy hair.

TWO PRESCOTT MEN DROWN IN RIVER

Fall Into Water Between Ship and Wharf at Ogdensburg

PRESCOTT, Ont., Sept. 25.—(Star Special)—Frank Jackson, 38, fireman on the Steamer Robert M. Thompson, owned by the George Hall Corporation, and Philip Henry, 35, second cook on the vessel, were drowned at midnight in the St. Lawrence River near Ogdensburg. Both men were residents of Prescott.

The men were apparently returning to the boat when they met their death. It is believed they were making their way up a ladder to the deck of the steamer when one of them missed his footing and the two were thrown into the water between the boat and the wharf. Their cries were heard by Henry Clarkson, night watchman, and he aroused members of the crew who immediately tried to locate the men in the water. With the aid of grappling hooks the bodies were recovered, after nearly an hour's search.

Prospects Fine For Tomorrow's Can. Rugby Season's Start—Ruth a 'Bobby' Now

By PLUS FOURS

Monte Dutra, of Aberdeen, Washington, met William Mehlhorn, of Chicago, and Harry Cooper, of Dallas, played Walter Hagen, of Pasadena, Florida, in the semi-finals of the Professional Golfers' Association at Olympia Fields Country Club. All except Mehlhorn won their way to the third round by excellent golf in close matches.

Hagen, defending champion of the Professional Golfers' Association, earned the right to enter the semi-final yesterday, by eliminating Leo Diegel, Canadian Open Titleholder, in one of the greatest matches in history.

Mehlhorn defeated Tommy Kerrigan, of Siwanoy, 7 and 6, and Morte Dutra conquered Tommy Armour, of New York, by 2 up.

Never before has there been such a match in the history of the P. G. A. championship as the one that Diegel and Hagen fought in the third round of the 1925 tournament here yesterday. It is doubtful if there has ever been anything like it in the history of golf unless it was the 41-hole struggle that Chick Evans waged and won against Reginald Lewis in the national amateur championship at the Engineers' Wheatlyn, in 1920.

Hopelessly beaten [illegible] of the first eighteen holes, [illegible] seemed to defeat going to the [illegible] in the afternoon, rallying [illegible] Diegel's lead from thr[illegible]ng between the fourteen[illegible]nteenth holes and then win[illegible] the fourth extra hole—that was a feat—a feat that no one except Hagen could perform. His victory today, 1 up in forty holes, will go down in the records as the greatest of the many he has won during his matchless record as a professional golfer.

The story of the Hagen-Diegel match really begins with the playing of the fifteenth hole on the number 3 course in the afternoon. That was the turning point. It was where Diegel's safety tactics gave Hagen hope when his stock was almost diminished from the sixth hole in the afternoon round, which Hagen won, 3 to 4, to decrease Diegel's lead to only three holes, to the fifteenth each, and every hole had been halved. Hagen had hit the cup a few times in between on his bids for birdies, but luck was breaking badly for him. A win at the fifteenth would have clinched the match for Diegel, a half would have made him dormie.

DOINGS AND GOSSIP OF THE PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY CLUBS

In connection with the meeting of the National Hockey League, which will be held at New York tomorrow, there are promises of surprising developments. One of these may come in the way of some announcement from Pittsburgh delegates, who, according to information received, will be present at the meeting. Just how far Pittsburgh is in the hockey swim may be seen in information given The Star by a local professional hockey player. He said that he was in conversation a short time ago with a member of the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, of the United States Amateur Hockey Association. During a general talk, the Pittsburgh player told the local man that he had already signed a professional contract and it was for the Pittsburgh Club of the National Hockey League. This would appear as though the "Smoky City" people were serious in their negotiations for a pro franchise.

Judge Amedee Monet, who is the most recently elected member of the directorate of the Canadiens' Hockey Club, has definitely decided with three others to make the trip to New York tonight for the meeting of the National Hockey League there tomorrow and incidentally to attend the banquets afterwards. Joe Cattarinich, who is general manager of the sport interests, which control the Canadiens; H. A. (Louis) Letourneau, one of Mr. Cattarinich's partners in his enterprises, and Cecil Hart, a former director, and staunch supporter of the club, will complete the Canadiens' party.

"Newsy" Lalonde will be back with his old club, the Saskatoon Sheiks, again this season. "Newsy" is leaving Montreal within the next few days and will go first of all to Salt Lake City, where he will have working connection with the new Lagoon race track, operated by Leo Dandurand and his partners. Mr. Dandurand is out there at the present time looking after his interests. Following the completion of the Lagoon meeting, Lalonde will cross over to Saskatoon and start preparations for his season in the Western Canada Hockey League.

BILLIARDS

At a general meeting of English billiard players of the staff of the Canadian National Railways a new committee of nine representatives was formed to take charge of this season's activities. It was decided that in future teams are to consist of five men instead of four as in the past.

J. R. Fidler was elected chairman, and L. J. Forest, secretary-treasurer. The other members of the committee are G. S. Jessup, W. Goldstraw, E. J. Abbott, H. S. Abbott, L. M. Watts, A. J. Williams and W. Beck.

It is intended to begin the season's schedule on Tuesday, October 6, the matches being played at Karry's, St. Catherine west and Peel streets.

Up to the present 12 teams each of five players have been entered and it is anticipated that this number will be added to before the opening of the season.

INTRODUCING
POLICE LIEUTENANT
GEORGE HERMAN RUTH.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — (U.N.) — Babe Ruth may be a disorderly character in the mind of the man who knows him best, his manager, Miller Huggins, but he is one of "the finest" nevertheless.

The Babe was inducted into the New York police force Thursday, as a lieutenant of the reserves, locally and disrespectfully known as the "lawn party squad."

He was given a badge, permitted to buy a uniform and assigned to the staff of Inspector General Charles McKinney, who will call the Babe for duty if and when the police become so hard put to it to enforce the law.

Field Hockey Practice Tomorrow Afternoon

The Westmount Field Hockey Club will hold a practice in Westmount Park at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Word has been received by the secretary that the new sticks which were ordered in England have been shipped, and should be here in good time for next Saturday's game.

An entirely wrong impression of the game may have been had locally owing to the fact that field hockey sticks were not procurable here, which made short sides as only a limited number of sticks were available, but it should be mentioned that field hockey, like association football, is played by eleven players a side.

THE CLOSE-UP

STOP IT! AND STOP IT QUICK!

We all know that Rugby as played by Canadians, under Canadian rules, is no young ladies' game. But it is also known that no prize-ring signals are considered legal, and the sooner the coaches impress that fact upon their charges, the better for the sport.

Also a few arrests might prove wholesome for the spectators who do not know how, or haven't the sporting decency to behave themselves during or after a match. Unless something drastic is done by the authorities these Rugby crowds will acquire that nasty habit of "pop"-bottle throwing which became such a pest at baseball games across the boundary line.

LOW DOWN TACTICS

Healthy rivalry in sport is a desirable thing and a certain amount of jealousy is inadvoidable.

But when that jealousy become so violent as to result in casting despicable slurs upon a celebrated university which has been fortunate enough to number amongst its students boys of championship calibre, it is time that some severe measures were taken to stamp out such dangerous spirit.

Both those who invent and carry such tales as have been aimed at Queen's in regard to the management of its Rugby team may well be thoroughly ashamed of themselves.

It surely "isn't cricket."

RAISING OF FLAG ON M.A.A.A. MEMORIAL FLAG-POLE WILL BE MILITARY FUNCTION TOMORROW

Nine commanding officers of the Montreal district are to be present at the dedication of the memorial flagpole of the M. A. A. A. to be held at the Westmount grounds tomorrow afternoon during half-time of the Montreal-Queen's University rugby game.

The ceremony will be short, but will be impressive, because of its formal military aspect. There will be a parade of past honorary and past presidents as well as the present incumbents and board of directors and military officers. The Last Post will then be sounded by the Royal Montreal Regiment buglers. The unvailing of the dedicatory plaque and unfurling of the flag will then be made by Sir Arthur Currie. The Reveille will then be sounded by the buglers, and following the Royal Montreal band will play God Save the King with players of both teams ready at attention for the beginning of the second half of the game.

The flag to be unfurled will be a 30-foot one at the top of a 125-foot pole. Angus MacLachlan, one of the board of directors of the M. A. A. A., who has been most deeply interested in the details incident to the erection of the flagpole, says that the pole is the mast of an ocean-going schooner. The erection of the pole was a dangerous task and was given to James Martin, a Newfoundland windjammer, who did the work most efficiently.

Commanding officers who will take part in the ceremony says Brig.-Gen. W. O. H. Dodds, vice-president of the M. A. A. A., and in charge of the ceremony, will be Brig.-Gen. C. J. Armstrong, C.B., and staff; Lt.-Col. Porteous, M.C., of the Victoria Rifles; Lt.-Col. E. G. M. Cape, D.S.O.; Lt.-Col. A. T. Paterson, D.S.O, Lt.-Col. Wm. Scully, Lt.-Col. G. S. Stairs, M.C.; Lt.-Col. D. R. McCuaig, D.S.O.; Lt.-Col. J. E. McKenna, M.C. and the commanding officer of the Carbiniers Mont Royal.

FOUTH ANNUAL ROAD RACE AT VERDUN

The fourth annual road race for the P. A. Lafleur trophy will be run Saturday afternoon, Sept. 26, at 2:30 p.m., over the same course as in previous years. The runners will start from the 500 Club house, cor. Third avenue and Lasalle Road to Lachine Hydro Plant. Sixteen will start in this event, which will be one of great importance. H. Bush, winner of the trophy last year, will be in line. The officials in charge of the race are: Starter, A. Claydon; clerks of the course, H. Slack, R. Champion, F. W. Henshaw, F. W. Judge, Timekeepers, H. Bush, J. Richardson; Judges, P. A. Lafleur, Tommy Brown, W. Parry, S. MacKay, J. A. Morrison. Cups and medals will be distributed after the race.

Y.W.C.A. Tennis Season Closed With a Tea

The Y.W.C.A. Tennis Club season has now closed. At the final tea a singles elimination tournament was played and won by Miss Freda Kenney. The doubles Round Robin tournament played throughout the season was won by Miss Mann and Miss Cunningham, and the A Ladder by Miss Mann.

At the closing committee meeting held yesterday evening at the Y.W.C.A. it was suggested that the same courts should be again applied for next year and that if possible some be obtained in Westmount as well.

TO SEND SPORT TEAMS OF WORKERS ABROAD

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 25. — With the purpose of fostering the spirit of sportsmanship throughout the world, the Sportsman' Brotherhood at a meeting of charter members in the Hotel Lafayette last night, approvel proposals to send United States athletic teams recruited from workingmen abroad for competition with similar teams.

Captain Percy R. Creed, executive secretary of the Brotherhood, who presided at the meeting, stated that the purpose of the New York organization was "to form the nucleus of a national organization to extend the method used in Massachusetts throughout the United States."

In Worcester, Mass., a soccer team of working men was sent on a trip to England, to play a Worcestershire team. This is the kind of sportsmanship which promotes international sportsmanship, Captain Creed stated.

Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, was named president of the Sportsman Brotherhood.

Why Name Was Changed To Westward

At a meeting of the Westmount Amateur Athletic Association, last night, the change of name from Westmount A.A.A. to Westward Amateur Athletic Association was officially ratified, and it was decided to hold a drive for membership.

W. Riddlesworth was appointed chairman of the membership drive committee and will compete for the honor of obtaining the greatest number of new members. After the change of name is sanctioned by the Provincial Government, the club will be extended, and every branch of sport will be catered to. It was also suggested by members previous to the meeting that the present club house would be increased in size as soon as arrangements can be made.

The change in name from the Westmount Amateur Athletic Association to the Westward Amateur Athletic Association has been under consideration for some time, due to the increasing number of members of the association who were non-residents of Westmount, and their natural resentment of the name Westmount to describe the association when only twenty-five per cent of the membership resides in Westmount proper. The majority comes from Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal West, and many points on the island of Montreal.

EVERY M.A.A.A. MAN A REGULAR AGAINST QUEEN'S TEAM HERE

The officials in charge of the Montreal Football Club-Queen's University game to be held at Westmount grounds tomorrow were announced today by William Ewing, president of the Winged Wheelers.

Joe O'Brien and "Tim" Murray, the former a coaching official in the Intercollegiate League, the latter a prominent man in the Interprovincial League, will act as head officials of the game.

Major John Long, local Physical Director, will be scorer. Tom Carline will act as timekeeper, with G. W. Brown as penalty timekeeper.

The head linesmen will be Frank McGill, former Rugby quarterback, and prominent swimmer of the Winged Wheelers. Tally Lanthier, out of football on account of an injury, will be on the touch line, while R. G. Johnson, vice-president of the Montreal Football Club, will be a head linesman.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock, and although Queen's are Dominion champions, there are many who believe that the Montrealers will win. Tickets are going fast, and reserved seats can be obtained at the Peel street club house of the M. A. A. A.

Earl Whittall, new half-back, who played with last year's Grand Trunk team, is making a very good impression with the Montrealers. On account of unfamiliarity with the signals due to late turning out, he will not be used Saturday, but should get his chance in the Ottawa game October 3rd.

RUGBY OFFICERS

The Montreal Football Club has for its officers, John F. Savage, former president of the M. A. A. A., and J. Stuart Rayside as honorary presidents. The president is Wm. Ewing. The vice-presidents are R. G. Johnson and R. "Boo" Anderson, now in ill-health at Saranac Lake after years as a star in football, rowing, and hockey. The secretary is Wallace Caven. "Ken" Barwick is manager of the team. Other committee members are "Hoddy" Foster and "Jeff" Russell.

The rain of yesterday afternoon did not affect the enthusiasm of the Winged Wheel squad at their regular practice last night, and the complete squad was on hand when Coach Nicholson called the players together for the drill.

A long signal practice, followed by a lengthy chalk talk, constituted the activities of the evening, and by the way the players romped through their work it is evident that Queen's—despite the fact that they are Dominion champs—will have to step lively to stop the local players tomorrow.

INTERCOLLEGIATE RULES

Queen's will have one advantage in the tussle, and that is through the fact that the game will be played under Intercollegiate rules. For that reason "Nick" gave his stalwarts a thorough talk last night on the style of running interference which is used in the Intercollegiate series.

The spectator who is interested in the inside play of the teams will see something new in the style that Nicholson has drilled into his players this season. The mentor has inaugurated a new system, and the Wheelers will undoubtedly be the only team in Canadian Rugby using it. Each of the separate scrimmage plays of the club will start from practically the same formation, being unusual to the style of Rugby played by the Canadian teams.

As a coincidence, "Chick" Mundell, who will share the quarter-back duties with Weir Wright, will be playing in his first game with the M. A. A. A. team against the club with whom he played his last game two years ago, when he helped the Queen's team win the Canadian title.

The players will be out to do their best tomorrow, as the game means a lot in establishing the confidence in the spectators for their coming "Big Four" games. Perfect harmony exists in the squad and the fans will see a fighting team in action.

The team that takes the field at the start of the game tomorrow will not necessarily be the regular squad. "There will be no regulars in the tussle," said Coach Nicholson today, "all the odd twenty-two players who will be in uniform will be classed as a regular or substitute on their showing in the tussle."

ST. ZOTIQUE-CARSTEEL PLAY AT THORNTON

The two local teams, St. Zotique and Carsteel, still have a chance to win the championship of the National Lacrosse Union. The league officials have arranged for a series to be played between The Saints and Carsteel for second place in the standing with the winner meeting Nationals in a home and home series for the championship of the circuit.

St. Zotique will meet Carsteel in the first game for second place at Thornton Park on the coming week-end and a good tussle should result. St. Zotique will have "Big Six" Jocks back in the line-up and the presence of the big Indian athlete on the team should boost their stock considerably. Carsteel have been playing good Lacrosse all season and will make a good bid for the league honors. The game on the week-end will start at 3 o'clock.

EVEN MONEY SHOULD PREVAIL IN BETTING ON WORLD'S SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(By Henry L. Farrell, U.P. Staff Correspondent.)—With the two pennant races decided in the major leagues, there remains nothing for regular season distribution but the batting honors and the money prizes that the Senators and the Pirates will produce for the second, third and fourth place teams.

There is little more to be decided. Rogers Hornsby, the flashy St. Louis manager, is sure of winning the National League batting championship and the season's home run honors, and Tris Speaker, the venerable Cleveland manager, is the favorite for the American League hitting honors.

First division places in both leagues seem to be taken. In the National League the Giants have cinched second place, the Reds are almost as sure of third place and the Cardinals are a safe bet for fourth place. The three teams are holding their places now by six games each.

The Philadelphia Athletics, who lost the American League pennant by a tragic slump in the last quarter of the race have second place cinched with a lead of eight games over the Browns. The Browns are holding third place by two and a half games, and the Tigers have an advantage for fourth place of three and a half games over the White Sox.

One day later than the National League championship was decided, the Washington Senators won the American League pennant by taking a double-header from the Cleveland Indians, while the Athletics were losing to the Browns in eleven innings.

It was fortunate that the Senators were able to attain the mathematical certainty without further delay, as the team is in bad shape with Bucky Harris and Roger Peckinpaugh disabled. Harris has a badly lacerated finger, and Peck has a slightly sprained ankle, and a rest of one week may not be enough to bring them around.

Peck, and Harris are the whole works of the Washington defence, and Scott and Adams certainly cannot fill their shoes. Practically all of the Washington veterans will be rested up for the remainder of the season, but Billy McKechnie will probably keep the Pirates working, as they are comparatively young and can keep in condition.

There is a diversity of opinion on the outcome of the world's series, and very little money will be offered until the Washington line-up is definitely known.

If the Senators have their full strength to start it is likely that even money will prevail, although the Senators may be slight favorites on account of their experience.

COMBINE FOR POLICING.

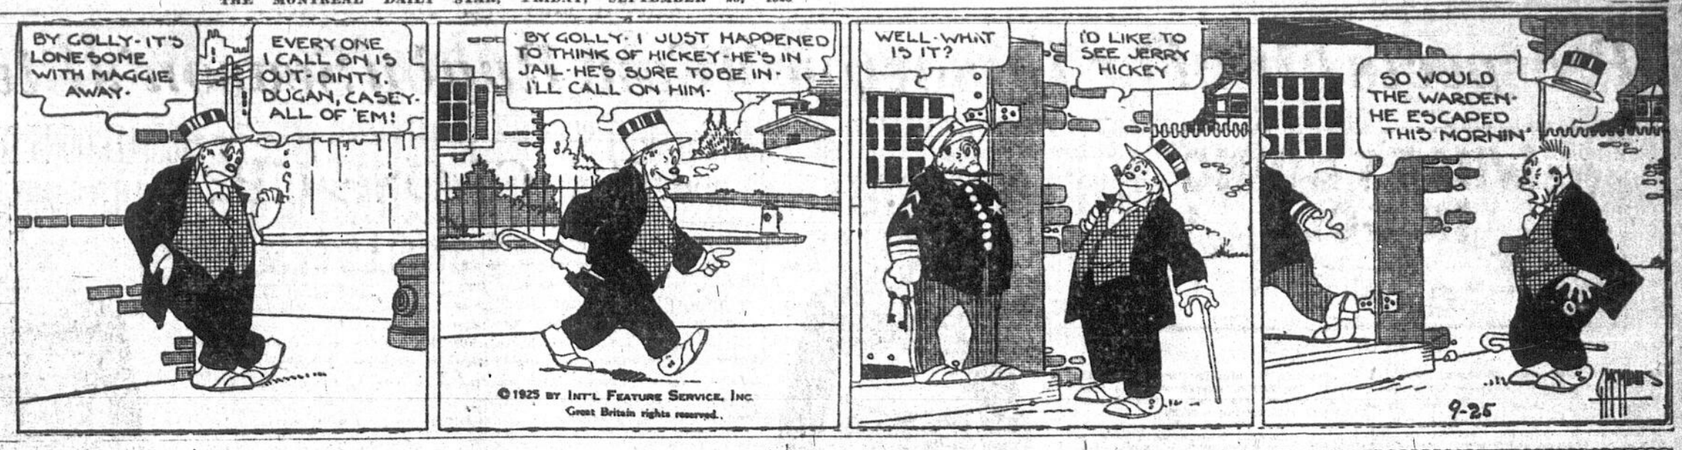

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—(A.P.)—An interchange of detectives to guard the great gatherings of fans who will see the world's series games has been arranged by the Pittsburgh and Washington police forces. The entire Pittsburgh detective force, assisted by sleuths from the United States Capital, will mingle with the crowds at the games. When the scene shifts to Washington, a detail of local detectives will be on hand to help the District of Columbia squad. The detectives will centre their attention on pickpockets.

Federal prohibition officers are also active in preparing for the series crowds. They say they have already blocked many illicit beer channels into this city, and that the beverage will be scarce during the games.

Senators Champions Once Again

(By United News).

FOR the second time in the long and hitherto dreary history of major league baseball in Washington, the Senators won the American League pennant Thursday, taking two games from the Indians, while the Athletics lost one to the Browns.

The National League pennant was won by the Pirates Wednesday and now the American League competition has ended. But the world series, dated for October 7, in order to permit the prolongation of the regular schedule deep into the football season, is almost two weeks off.

Dutch Reuther, a castaway from the Dodgers, pitched Washington's first victory of the day, winning in the tenth, 4 to 3. Aleck Ferguson, a castaway from the Yankees, pitched the game that won the pennant. Washington's margin was 6 to 2.

The Athletics were beaten 6 to 4 and found themselves wedged in second place, from whence they can't be budged, being eight games ahead of the Browns, in third place, with only seven games left on the schedule of each.

The Browns have a margin of 2½ games over the Tigers whom Ty Cobb is trying to lift to third place but without very robust prospects. The Tigers have eight games left.

The White Sox after defending third place most of the season, are pretty sure to finish in second division after all. Eddie Collins, in his first year as manager, almost landed them in the money, but his own injury made them slump and they are now in fifth place, 3½ games back of the Tigers and with only 5 games to play.

Incidentally, the Yankees may be saved the final humiliation of finishing in seventh place, which would convict them as the worst of all major league teams except the Boston Red Sox who couldn't be blasted out of the cellar at this late date. The Yankees nosed out the White Sox 6 to 5 and this victory in combination with the Indians' double defeat in Washington left the Yanks just one game behind the Indians. Both teams have six to play.

In the National League the Dodgers slid into sixth place, and the Braves rose to fifth when the Dodgers lost to the Reds in Cincinnati 3 to 2. This was the Dodgers' tenth straight defeat and they may flop to seventh position to finish a season in which they had world series aspirations.

WIN FOR BOROTRA.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 25.—Jean Borotra, the bounding basque of the French Davis Cup team, scored a brilliant 7-5, 6-3 victory over George M. Lott, jr., of Chicago, in the opening round yesterday of the intersectional team tennis tournament. The French star's win evened the series between the Western Association team and the French, as Luke Williams, of Chicago, had previously won over Jacques Brugnon, of France, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

VERDUN CHALLENGE CUP.

Two games will be played in the first round of the Charity Cup, a competition that commends itself to all.

Owing to McGill Stadium being devoted to rugby from this on, Royal Highlanders had to find another ground, and secured Thornton Park by the courtesy of Carsteel officials, and there they will meet Canadian Explosives. Highlanders will turn out their very best eleven, including Andy Clark, and are going to make a big bid for victory, and seeing the few games Explosives have been able to play this season, the task should not be an extremely difficult one. A big crowd should turn up at Thornton Park, as this is one of the main attractions of the day.

In the same round, Nomads meet Blue Bonnets at Beaumont Avenue, Park Extension. After the trouncing Nomads received last Saturday, when Highlanders beat them, 4—0, it would look as if Blue Bonnets have an easy thing, but what happened last Saturday has nothing to do with tomorrow. That it will be an exciting encounter goes without saying, and quite apart from witnessing a good game, intending spectators will help a good cause, as the total proceeds, without deduction, goes to the Charity Fund.

There are only two games in the Montreal League. St. Paul Town play Canadian National, on the Hadley Street grounds, Cote St. Paul, and must show better form than they did against C.P.R. or the result will be the same.

At Longue Pointe, Canadian Vickers are at home to C.P.R. The Angus team are in fine trim at present, and it will take Vickers all their time to gain even one point.

The Intermediate League will run off five games, the choicest being Sunnyside versus Wood Hall, at Tetreaultville. Wood Hall must win to remain in the running for the championship, and in this, Sunnyside, with choice of grounds, will have a big say.

It appears that there is some confusion over the Maisonneuve-Canadian Spool cup game which was said to be down for tomorrow. This is not correct, as both clubs are engaged with league fixtures. Maisonneuve meet the Swiss, and Canadian Spool go to Blackburn Park, where they will play Verdun War Vets. Imperial Oil engage Lachine Crusaders on Vlau Park, and Fairmount cross the river to meet Montreal South.

At Rheaume Park, Sons of Scotland and Verdun Town play for the "Verdun Challenge Cup," at present held by the Scots. Verdun Town will give the Montreal League leaders a big run for it.

Carsteel players and officials left this morning for Toronto, so as to give the men a good night's rest for the great game with Ulster United tomorrow on the latter's stadium. Carsteel will be represented by the same eleven that repeated All Scots last Saturday: Robertson, Smith, Houison, Buchanan, Thompson, McKean, Miller, Brown, MacLaine, McKenzie and Cheffins. Reserve—McAdam.

After the Highlander-Explosives game at Thornton Park, two junior teams will play for the Mohawk Cup, Verdun Trimu and Ex-Henderson. F. W. Wainwright will referee.

Close Grounds of Soccer Club and Bar Player

LONDON, Sept. 25. — (C.P.C.)—The English Football Association committee yesterday held an enquiry into the disturbance at Griffin Park, Brentford, on September 12 last, when several Brentford players were ordered off the field during a match with Brighton and Hove in the Southern Section of the Third Division, and the spectators staged a near riot which had to be broken up by extra police. The referee and the visiting players were escorted off the field.

The committee announced that after a full investigation it had decided to suspend Allen, Brentford's outside right, for one month from September 28. It was also announced that Brentford's ground would be closed for 14 days from the 28 and the club would not be allowed to play during that period within a radius of six miles of its clubhouse. The club was ordered to post a special notice warning spectators to be careful of their future behaviour, as a repetition of the scenes investigated might seriously affect the position of the Brentford club.

DAVIS CUP PLAYERS FOR MONTREAL CUP

Two members of the Canadian Davis Cup team will meet tomorrow in the final of the Montreal Cup series being played at the Montreal Indoor Tennis Club courts. The two players who have survived the rounds to date are Willard Crocker, Canadian champion, and Henri Laframboise. The winner of the final match tomorrow will hold the silverware for this season.

Upon his arrival back from Toronto yesterday where he was partnered with Jack Wright in a series of exhibition matches with the French Davis Cup player, Crocker got into the play and eliminated the players standing before him for the right to enter the final with Laframboise. Crocker defeated R. Beaudry, 6-1, 6-1, and eliminated C. W. Aikman, 3-6, 6-0, 6-1. Laframboise won his way to the final by beating a clubmate, E. Durand, in the semi-finals, 6-2, 6-1.

Members of the Montreal Indoor Tennis Club will be admitted to the final tomorrow, while a limited number of outsiders will be accommodated.

THE DAILY ROUND

The Follow-Through—Jim Barnes, British Open Champion

A large percentage of golfers have a misconception of just what is meant by following through in a golf stroke. They think of swinging the club back around over the shoulder at the finish, when what is really meant is hitting out after the ball along the line of flight. If you hit through the spot where the ball lies so that your arms send the club head out after the ball for their full stretch, you have done all that needs to be done, and you need not worry whether you get the club back over your shoulder in a graceful pose or not.

A RULE WORTH KNOWING.

What is the rule in a case like this? A player drives from the tee, and his ball lands in a truck driving along a road across the fairway. The driver of the truck, not knowing it, kept driving. Where should the player play his next stroke?

The player should drop a ball as near where the truck was when the ball dropped into it as could be determined.

BASEBALL STILL AHEAD.

Golf is becoming a democratic game—who can doubt it? Private and public links multiply. And yet—and yet—when a national tournament is on few call up a newspaper office to inquire about the score.

ENGLISH SOCCER TILT BETWEEN HEAD TEAMS

LONDON, Sept. 25—(C.P.C.)—English League football will be featured tomorrow by the match between the two league leaders, Tottenham Hotspurs and Sunderland, on the grounds of the latter club.

The game will take on the character of a battle between the North and South, and will go a long way towards deciding whether Sunderland, which until Monday had pursued a conquering career, will continue to be the "wonder-team" of the league. Dazzling success had greeted every appearance of Sunderland until four days ago they ran into a bad trimming at the hands of Blackburn Rovers. This was a serious reverse, but the County Durham Club pulled themselves together following the defeat, and travelling to Cardiff on Wednesday they managed to emerge victorious once more by the merest margin. This was the game which had been postponed from last Saturday. Up to the moment, Sunderland leads all other teams in the first string in point of goal-getting, and until their initial reverse they had been ruthlessly piling up counters against all comers. What they can do against the metropolitans remains to be seen. They have not travelled any further south than the Midlands so far, and it is not improbable that the 'Spurs, bearing, as they do, the honors of the London area on their shoulders, may be constrained to inject into the game just the exact amount of extra pep that will bring them out on top.

Northumbrians take the field at Upton Park against West Ham. The game will be scarcely less interesting than that at Sunderland. Until a week ago, the Hammers gave great promise of accompanying their fellow-metropolitans a long way, but at Leeds they stumbled badly and came out at the short end of a five-two encounter. As if this were not sufficient humiliation, they moved over to Highbury last Monday, and once more had a defeat chalked up against them at the hands of Arsenal. Following a series of four wins and a draw, these two reverses were disappointing to their fans, who are somewhat apprehensive for the day after tomorrow.

Newcastle United have not hitherto been at all impressive and they betray a weakness in defence that may prove fatal to them. Their two trimmings have been inflicted by teams of indifferent calibre, Blackburn Rovers, who made it a seven-to-one carnival two weeks past Wednesday, and Leeds United who whitewashed them two-to-nil eight days ago. Additional to that, the two wins enjoyed by the Tynesiders were obtained over Notts County and Leicester City, neither of which has shown any good form so far. The odds are in favor of West Ham in this encounter, and they have the further advantage of being at home.

Other scheduled games are: Leeds United at Arsenal; Notts County at Aston Villa; West Bromwich at Birmingham; Cardiff at Blackburn; Sheffield United at Bury; Manchester City at Huddersfield; Bolton at Leicester; Everton at Liverpool, and Burnley at Manchester (The United).

LACHINE ROWING CLUB SUPPORTERS DANCE

Judging by the sale of tickets, there will be a record crowd on hand for the final dance of the season at the Dixie clubhouse this evening. The music will be provided by Taylor's Collegians at full strength (7 pieces), and the committee in charge are arranging a number of special features in addition to the drawing for a number of prizes to be distributed to holders of tickets with the lucky numbers.

The team captained by Chas. E. Herl has a commanding lead in the ticket-selling campaign with well over 100 tickets accounted for. A number of the other teams are coming along well with counts of over 50, so that the success of the affair is assured and a substantial balance over expenses will be available to apply to club funds.

The local oarsmen have completed a successful season on the water, having secured their full share of the honors at the Eastern regatta and one Canadian championship at the Henley. The new training quarters at Lachine have been a great aid to the rowing committee who had a large and enthusiastic squad at work and expect an even better one next year, as a number of local athletes intend taking up the rowing game, and of course, the Eastern regatta will be on home waters.

French Rugby Union Wants Aussies to Tour

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(C.P.C.) — The French Rugby Federation suggests that Australia should be invited to send a team to tour France in October and November, 1926, at the same time as the Maoris, or a little later. A French team will leave for New Zealand in May, 1927, returning in October. It is not anticipated there will be any difficulty in getting the French team together, as two years ago, when the Australasian tour was projected, all the players approached consented to go. With regard to the Australian and New Zealand matches in France, the French Federation announces it would organize three important games with regional clubs and itself be responsible for the remainder. It is suggested the visiting teams might afterwards proceed to England, providing the English Rugby Union paid a part of the cost of the voyage.

LAWN BOWLING

Rink competition for the Phillips' trophy will be held by members of the Outremont Lawn Bowling Club tomorrow afternoon. The games will be of twenty-one ends and the draw will be made on the arrival of the players at the greens. It is expected that a large number will turn out for these games.

HARNESS RACING AT DELORIMIER TRACK

Three classes are on the program for Delorimier on Sept. 27. Felix St. Vincent will start at least 10 horses in each class and unusual interest is shown in this first meeting as it is the intention of the promoters to run every Sunday this fall and nothing is being spared to make this first program the best on record.

A baseball game is also on the card and a match between Bougie, Larocque and Cotnoir, three well-known motorcyclists, is expected to cause a sensation.

BARKS AND BITES IN LOCAL DOGDOM

"Witty" Warren writes from Truro, N.S., Just a line to say that a few Montreal dogs made a hit at the St. John, N.B., exhibition last week. Madame Beland's Pom went right up to reserve best in show all breeds, and my whippet Jack-o'-Diamond was judged best whippet in show, finishing his championship. I will show them next week at Halifax.

The dog that got best in show was a sensational new imported English bulldog, owned by Mrs. O'Doherty of Halifax. He was never shown before in Canada and won every class from novice to best in show, all breeds, beating 14 champions. He is sure a good one and I had the great honor of handling him. I will also show him next week in Halifax. The whippets are a great novelty here.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 25.—"Dunalaunt," prize bulldog, owned by Mrs. Ora Doherty, Halifax, added to his long list of trophies by being chosen "best dog in the show" at the opening of the annual dog show which ended here last night. NOTES OF THE HARNESS TURF

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25—The favored Bob Armstrong won the M. and M. $3,100 trotting stake, the feature of yesterday's Grand Circuit card. The race comprised three heats, two of them at distances more than a mile, with a short heat in between. In the distance heats, Bob Armstrong proved much the best of the small field, but in the short dash was unable to finish better than third, Crawford, the second choice, winning.

Cox won the Capital City Stake of $1,200 in straight heats, with Ethelinda. Progeny of Grattan Royal had things their own way in the 2.16 pace, the only class event on the card. Norman Grattan won the first two heats and Jean Grattan the third one.

Because of poor attendance, directors of the Columbus Driving Association announced that for the balance of the meeting admission would be lowered to 25 cents. The directors intimated this might be the last Grand Circuit meeting for this city.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 25.—(A.P.)—Don Mac, brown gelding owned and driven by G. Evarts, of Regina, Sask., is said to have established a world's record for a half-mile track, when he paced the first heat of the 2:08 pace at three-quarters of a mile in 1:33, to nose out Maid Direct, Sioux City mare, at the Interstate Fair harness races yesterday. To prove that his first victory was not a fluke, Don Mac came back in the second heat and won in 1:33¼.

SOUTHERN CANADA MEET APPROVES RESOLUTIONS

Shareholders of Southern Canada Power Company, Limited, at a special general meeting held at noon today, unanimously approved resolutions providing for the creation of first mortgage bonds amounting in the aggregate to $50,000,000 and for the increase of the preferred shares from 50,000 to 100,000. The proxies voted in favor of the resolutions amounted to considerably more than the required two-thirds of the issued number of shares.

Vice-president Jas. R. Woodyatt, who was in the chair, explained that although a bond issue of $50,000,000 has been authorized, it is intended that only a small portion of these bonds be issued at present to retire an issue of bonds made in 1913. The authorized amount has been made large enough to take care of future expansion needs, and a definite sum was necessarily named as the laws of this province do not allow for the provision of an unlimited authorized debt.

In connection with the preferred stock issue, Mr. Woodyatt stated that the new stock is not to be offered for sale at once, but it is to be kept in reserve and sold when the growth of the company requires it. Advantage was merely being taken of the fact that shareholders were already gathered at a general meeting to pass upon this matter also and thus obviate the necessity of holding two separate meetings.

Another resolution, dealing with the borrowing powers of the directors, was also adopted.

DOMINION BRIDGE CONTRACT

It was stated by an authorative source this morning that the contract for the new bridge, let to the Dominion Bridge Company, would be signed on Tuesday next.

Speculation is still rife as to the amount the contract will total, but the same source of information states that it will be between six and seven million dollars.

Strength in Canada Cement was attributed to the statement that the management had signed contracts to supply cement for the substructure of the bridge.

CONFIDENT TONE IN WALL STREET; MONEY EASIER

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Star from Our Own Wall Street Correspondent.) — Showing a sharp reversal of form, the stock market had a firm tore at the opening this morning in response to the news that the Federal Reserve Bank rate had not been changed. Wall Street drew the inference that money rates would be moderate and therefore felt more confidence in the stability of stock prices than it had during the last few days. The selling pressure which had borne down heavily on the market for the last three or four days relaxed, traders who were short of stocks covered, and there was a little new buying for the rise. As an outcome most price changes in the early trading were higher.

C. P. R. was a strong feature of the list, advancing to a new high for the year at 151⅞ after opening at 150⅝. Union Bag was also a strong feature selling at 64 but later easing to 63¼.

Several stocks were in particularly good demand. Chrysler was one of them. It started more than a point higher and quickly was bid up to a level nearly six points above the previous close. Other motors were active and strong also, Mack Trucks rallied about three points, General Motors recovered a point and others made fractional gains. Special buying was also done in a few of the rails, Chesapeake and Ohio was the feature. It was advanced a point to a new high record on rumors that a settlement with minority interests would be made by the Van Swearingens which would end the litigation now pending. Nickelplate rallied a point. Further accumulation of Fleischmann stock was in progress and resulted in advancing the quotation to a new maximum level. Dupont rallied nearly three points, International Harvester was bid up a point and most of the other active specialties were higher. American and Foreign was bid above 50. The tobacco stocks were in renewed demand. Lorillard Tobacco products and American Tobacco were the favorites. Stewart Warner and General Electric were other features.

The oils were steady but quiet. United States Steel common was fractionally higher at 121⅛. International Nickel rallied and the copper shares were firm.

Call money renewed at 4½, a new low renewal rate for this week.

Subsidence of selling pressure, which has given recent sessions a reactionary appearance, characterized the opening, which resumed its march to higher ground. With the prospect of an increase in the New York Federal Reserve re-discount rate removed, for at least a week, and a return to easy money rates assured, speculative operations for the rise were conducted with confidence. Fleischmann opened 2 points higher at 121½, a new record top, and initial gains of a point or more were recorded by Chrysler, Tobacco Products, Stewart Warner and General Electric.

Resumption of heavy buying of the motor shares featured the early trading. Chrysler quickly soared 6 points to a new high record at 167½. Mack Trucks was bid up over 4 points and Briggs Body, which was weak on unfavorable dividend rumors yesterday, rallied 2 points within the first half hour.

Buoyancy of the express stocks also commanded widespread attention, American jumping 6 points and Adams 3. Columbia Gas and Electric, Norfolk & Western and Commercial Investment topped their previous 1925 high marks. Other outstanding strong spots included American Can, U.S. Cast Iron Pipe, General Baking and Dupont, all of which recorded early gains of 2 to 3 points.

Heavy buying of high grade railroad shares, Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern Railway and Nickle Plate, touching their highest figures of the year and a reduction in the call money renewal rate to 4¼ per cent. caused widespread buying elsewhere, with the public utilities again in large demand. Detroit Edison jumped 9¾, United Fruit 8, Chrysler 7⅜, American Can 6⅜, Consolidation Company and Laclede Gas 5 and Brooklyn Edison, Nickel Plate, Remington Typewriter and Eastman Kodak 4 points.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN IN WHOLESALE TRADE

There is a noticeable improvement in the wholesale dry goods trade, and an increased movement of merchandise is in progress, says Bradstreet's Montreal Weekly Trade Report. In the hardware trade there is an active demand for shelf goods, and reports are that the steel outlook is improving. The wholesale grocery trade is busy; the exports of refined sugars are not as heavy as they were. The butter market shows quite an increase; prices took a considerable jump upwards during the week. The cheese market is active; the exports during the past week were the largest recorded so far this season.

The grain market shows some improvement, several shipments of corn, the first of this season, were noticed amongst our grain exports, all of which were consigned to the Liverpool market. The latest estimate of Canada's grain crop from statistics by the Canadian Pacific Railway is between 380,000,0000 and 390,000,000 bushels. Although the threshing has been somewhat delayed by rain, it is reported that about half the crop has already been threshed, and that no serious damage has been done to the crops from the recent frosts. In another month it is expected the crop will be all threshed. The returns from the present crops will no doubt put a large amount of funds into circulation for investment. In several districts fall ploughing has commenced, and a considerable increase in acreage is reported. The exports of grain this season, through this port, have passed the hundred million mark, which record is about three weeks ahead of the usual season.

The paper and pulp exports during August were valued at $12,600,610. Some large shipments left this week for the European markets. Retail trade continues active, and collections show improvement.

Topics of the Street

The local stock market was moderately active today with Brazilian Traction showing a tendency to become relatively more active owing to the exceptionally strong tone of the milreis market which moved up around 14 cents today, recording a new high for years.

On the whole the tone was strong with some fair advances and few losses. Penman's action in moving up three to a new high at 172 tended to corroborate the view that shareholders are looking for a split up, a step which has been talked about at intervals for a couple of years back.

Further strength in Asbestos shares coincided with meetings of the directors here to clean up the details of the merger plan. It is believed that a calling of shareholders will not be long delayed now. The common, which fell to 85½ this week recovered as far as 92 and the preferred was up to 111 compared with the minimum price of 109½ yesterday.

The early quotations on Brazilian were easier in sympathy with the easing of the London price to 73⅝ but this was later improved on and the local, after touching 72½ rallied to 73¼. The continued advance in milreis helped the market considerably.

The market for Canada Steamships preferred had evidently discounted the news contained in the president's remarks after a meeting of the board which took place yesterday. It was stated that net earnings to the end of August were $330,000 ahead of last year and with the grain movement under way the outlook was considered encouraging. The balance of the season depends on the despatch of cargoes. It will be recalled that March first was lost last year by tie-ups in port owing to congestion of traffic. Further comment was also made on the strong cash position which is said to compare favorably with any previous period in the history of the company.

The effect of these points was to encourage hopes of a resumption of dividends on a small scale after the results of the season's business are known. Preferred was steady at 54⅜ to ¼ and common 12⅞.

A reaction of a point in Abitibi to 66 was the most notable feature of the trading in the newsprint group. Spanish River was firm, the preferred touching 116 at the opening but later reacting the greater part of a point. The common opened firm at 102 and reacted a half. Laurentide was easier at 77 and Brompton ⅜ at 22¼.

Canada Cement displayed a stronger tone than for some time past, rallying to 106½ after having sagged to 105. Old favorites like Power at 210½; Smelters at 117 to 116⅛ and Nat. Breweries at 57¾, showed little change.

Some stocks which are not often quoted were strong. One was a gain of one in Woods Manufacturing to 32 and one in Canadian Woollens preferred to 55. Ottawa Power, on the other hand, lost a point to 97.

The Street is inclined to regard such remarks as were made by President Mead at the Spanish River meeting as having a tendency to clear the murky atmosphere surrounding the newsprint situation. That the larger and more strongly entrenched companies will have the advantage is one of the points brought out. In the situation facing new producers something more than timber limits and a mill will be needed. Probably Mr. Mead was wondering where new producers are to find markets. It will also be a problem to start operations of a new plant and find that it is necessary to cut prices to find consumers.

Shareholders are beginning to find out what the heads of the larger companies think of the situation. There was nothing panicky in Mr. Mead's tone and he appears quite satisfied that companies as well established as Spanish will have a big advantage and come through stronger than ever. This should be reassuring, the Street feels.

A good deal has been said in this column about the prospects of newsprint mergers, but it has been difficult to obtain official confirmation of the belief in the Street that developments were shaping up in that direction.

Mr. Mead not only confirms this so far as Spanish and Abitibi are concerned, but he expresses confidence in such a step as likely to prove beneficial to the industry. He talks of accomplishment within the next twelve months but as the Street understands that the line up of such a merger has already been thoroughly studied, it is quite within the range of possibility that something will be done at no very distant date.

In any event the Street regards the situation as considerably clarified and is inclined to face the problem of moderate over-production somewhat more cheerfully in the belief that dividends are safe.

The announcement that Spanish River is now operating its plants 95 per cent. of capacity as against an average of 90 per cent. previously was regarded as a condition which would gladden the hearts of most manufacturers in other lines. The market for the company's shares continued firm today.

M'INTYRE MEET; ADDITIONAL ORE SWELLS RESERVE

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—(Star Special.)—The McIntyre annual meeting yesterday was both brief and harmonious. Directors were re-elected and routine business took only ten minutes.

President J. B. Bickell said that since the close of the year McIntyre had acquired the outstanding quarter interest in the Platt Vet, claim to the southwest of McIntyre for $50,000, making a total purchase price of $200,000. The new No. 11 shaft was now down 1450 feet and proceeding at the rate of 200 feet monthly, which progress was very satisfactory. It would be in operation to 3,000 feet by next fall, he expected. The contract for shaft equipment had been let on much more favorable cost terms than first provided for. He advised shareholders, though, that little if any increase in production or development rate could be expected until the new shaft went into operation, as present shaft capacity was not adequate for any material additional hoisting.

General Manager R. J. Ennis outlined work in further detail. No new levels had been opened last year, but further development of old ones had been most satisfactory, putting in sight the additional ore now in reserve. Five new levels were now being explored and would go into production by the end of the present year. The most favorable geological feature was that the attitude of the porphyries at depth was unchanged with consistent rake of from 50 to 55 degrees east. At the 2300 foot level the basic schist continued to maintain its areas and indications were that this would continue to great depth.

There had been no decrease in values or ore at depth, and at 2,300 feet the average grade compared very favorably with any at higher levels. Two new parallel lenses had been opened, one giving twenty feet of $18 ore and the other, 40 feet away, fourteen feet of $26 ore at 2,300 feet. This indicated an ore structure in the west similar to the highly profitable No. 5 system in the east. A station has been cut at 3,000 feet and work there showed that no adverse geological condition was apparent. Present conditions were likely to continue to great depth.

On the new shaft stations were being cut at 250 foot levels from the 1,250 to 1,875 feet in order to handle ore from the Jupiter in that area. At first it was thought that Jupiter would not be an important producer until below 1,875 feet, but ore showing a very good tonnage had been discovered higher up, hence the utilization of the new shaft for its handling. Mr. Ennis expected that the No. 11 shaft would go into production in June next. Work on this shaft would be rushed to 3,000 feet, after which the final thousand feet would be done at a more leisurely pace.

CASTLE TRETHEWEY

A feature of the Castle Trethewey annual meeting was the presence of the Rochester group, which holds some 300,000 shares of stock, and their expression of complete satisfaction with the management of the company. Directors were re-elected and routine business transacted in a very short time.

Consulting Engineer R. J. Ennis presented a supplementary report in which he stated that operations since the end of the present fiscal year had put in sight at least 500,000 additional ounces of silver. At the end of the fiscal year, the company showed reserves of 2,600,000 ounces, so that the present situation is that Castle has well over 3,000,000 ounces in reserve.

The supplementary report showed that three important finds had been made of late. One, on the surface some 300 feet west of the mill, had been developed for 200 feet, showing high grade. In a crosscut run at the 100 foot level in order to pick up the downward extension of this vein, another vein running as high as 2,000 ounces had been discovered. In the south section of this property, close to the Miller Lake-O'Brien's northern boundary, a further vein had been discovered and stripped for seventy feet. This vein was of such calibre that it had been decided to sink a small shaft in that section of the property. The extension of the vein in question is now being developed on the Miller Lake property.

Excluding these new finds entirely, Mr. Ennis said that the proven productive area of the Castle was some 900 feet long and 350 feet wide, and that production from this area alone had by no means reached its limit. The mill, which was built for a 60 ton daily capacity, was now running an average of one hundred and ten tons. This tonnage was being maintained without drawing upon high-grade stopes at all, coming from those of mill grade and in addition from development ore.

President J. F. Bickell confined his remarks largely to the power situation. He said that on Monday next Castle directors would meet directors of Canada Northern Power Company in Montreal to pass upon negotiations for the building of a transmission line into Gowganda, and supply the Castle with 300 horsepower. Under the proposed terms Castle would pay for half the cost of the line but would be rebated later as they took power under contract. It was further agreed that Gowganda should be given power at the same rate as it is now offered to Porcupine producers. The South Bay Power Company is only giving about 100 horsepower now, a total quite inadequate for the camp's needs. If the deal is consummated on Monday it is guaranteed that the new power will be available by the end of February at the latest.

CAPITOL DEVELOPMENTS

Developments at the Capitol Silver Mines in Gowganda were outlined by Consulting Engineer R. J. Ennis at the annual meeting of that company. Otherwise the meeting was of a purely routine character. Mr

PRICES HIGHER IN WALL STREET AROUND CLOSING

WALL STREET, 1:30 P.M. — Public Utilities responded to reports of high current earnings and rumors of special dividends distributions. Chief speculative interest in the rails centered in the brisk advance in Chesapeake and Ohio and "Nickel Plate" which were heavily bought in apparent anticipation of an early and favorable decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Van Sweringen merger. Sharp gains also took place in other carriers. Norfolk and Southern and Atlantic Coast Line selling 4½ to 3⅝ points, respectively above last night's closing quotations. Prices tapered off somewhat during the early afternoon when the call money rate was marked up to 4½ per cent.

STRONGER TONE FOR SOME LOCAL MARKET LEADERS

Stocks exhibited further strength on the Montreal Exchange this afternoon, several issues recording large advances. National Breweries preferred, on its first box 'a lot appearance in some months, was up 6¾ points at 105 (ex-dividend 1¾ per cent.), being equivalent at this price to a new high as the former peak was 106½. Breweries common was off ⅛ at 57¼.

Montreal Cottons preferred was another feature with an advance of 2 to the new high 116, while Penmans touched the new peak of 173. Converters rose 1½ to the new high of 91½ and St. Lawrence Flour 2 to 33. Mackay common rallied 2 to 137, but the preferred, which was quiet while the common suffered the recent reaction, showed a recession of 3 at 72.

Asbestos common held firm at 91¼ to ⅝, up ¼, and the preferred was not traded in at all this afternoon. Asbestos bonds made a recovery of 2½ points to 90. Brazilian was slightly firmer at 73¼. Other features included B. C. Fishing, up ½, Canada Cement up ⅛, Smelters off ¼, Steel of Canada off ¼, Winnipeg Electric off ⅛, Steamships preferred up ¼, and Atlantic Sugar preferred off ½. NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. — Relief over the retention of the New York Federal Reserve Bank's rate of 3½ per cent., was reflected in the further improvement of bond prices early today. Foreign obligations again made good progress and buying activity reached large proportion in the railroad group. A sharp rise of almost 3 points in Chesapeake and Ohio convertible 5's to a new high price for the year at 122½ synchronized with reports that better terms would be granted to this road's security holders in the pending Nickel Plate merger. Florida Western and Northern 7's rallied more than 2 points with Seaboard, Erie, Norfolk and Western and St. Paul liens joining in the upward movement. Mexican Assented 5's broke into new high ground for the year.

GERMANY TO LIFT AUTO EMBARGO

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—(U. P.)—Germany will let down the bars to foreign automobiles Oct. 1, to the extent of permitting unrestricted import under heavy duties, compared with her previous system of allowing a small specified number of each make to enter annually.

The new duties will be heavy, however, and it is questionable whether there will be any great influx of foreign, especially American cars under the new order.

Consolidated statement of conditions of Federal Reserve banks on September 23 shows an increase of $94,800,000 in total earning assets, more than off-setting the decline of $71,200,000 reported

CECIL SUPPORTS ARBITRATION PLAN

British Delegate Endorses General Disarmament Conference Scheme

GENEVA, Sept. 25— (A. P.) — Lord Robert Cecil, British delegate to the League of Nations Assembly, today supported the resolution, calling for preparation of a general disarmament conference and consideration of some system of conciliation and arbitration.

The characterization in the draft resolution of aggressive warfare as an "international crime," he declared, merited special attention from the entire world. He reaffirmed Great Britain's devotion to the principle of arbitration and cited her attitude in the dispute with Turkey over Mosul, as evidence of his country's anxiety to further the cause of peaceful settlement of international difficulties.

Lord Cecil voiced confidence that progress was slowly but surely being made toward the achievement of both disarmament and security, which, he asserted, were interdependent.

Lord Cecil declared, amid tremendous applause, that the League of Nations, as established, is the greatest international fact of today. He pledged anew Great Britain's support to the League and said the desire to march forward cautiously, as Britain was doing, "does not imply a reluctance to march to the end."

GERMANS HAVE MANY SUGGESTIONS

Delegates to Security Conference Will Present Important Proposals

BERLIN, Sept. 25. — (A.P.)—The German delegates to the security conference, invitation to which was accepted by the Cabinet yesterday, are expected to carry on important private conversations with the Allied statesmen while the negotiations for the security pact are proceeding.

In fact, interest in political circles here centres quite as much in these private talks as in the formal conversations on the security issue. It is recalled that the value of London reparation conference lay as much in the gentlemen's agreements reached between the German and Allied delegates as in the adoption of the Dawes plan.

The Germans at the forthcoming meeting, the date and site for which are yet to be fixed, will stress privately that hand in hand with the security pact, must go the following:

Advancement of the plebiscite in the Saar valley to a date earlier than provided in the Versailles Treaty.

Rescinding of the League of Nations' decision to conduct investigations in Germany from time to time, in which Germany sees merely a perpetuation of the military control commission idea.

The pro-Government organs are declaring that permanent renunciation of Alsace-Lorraine constitutes such a heavy sacrifice that Germany should be compensated by these concessions.

The High Commissioner has been advised of the deposit of the sum of £39,756 to the credit of the Canadian Receiver General by the British Treasury, in respect of the Dawes' annuities.

The Canadian Red Cross office in London will close permanently September 30 and Mrs. Hattie Fraser, who has been the representative here, will return to Canada.

FRENCH ATTACK DRUSE TRIBESMEN

Tribal Chiefs Surrender and Declare Their Fidelity to France

BAGDAD, Irak, Sept. 25 — (A. P.)—Members of a convoy arriving here from Damascus state that the French have begun a big offensive against the rebel Druse tribesmen of Syria, employing 20,000 troops, 44 tanks, 32 armored cars and 140 airplanes.

TRIBESMEN FLEE.

DAMASCUS, Syria, Sept. 25 — (A. P.) — The rebel Druse tribesmen are reported to be dispersing in all directions, and the opinion is generally held that the relief of the French garrison at Suedia has ended the uprising which menaced France's influence in the mandated territory of Syria.

General Sarrail, the high commissioner, yesterday received a number of tribal chiefs, who assured him of their fidelity to the French regime.

LONDON, Sept. 25. — (C.P.) — Harry Beloe, of Bristol, who died recently, left an estate valued at £59,000. VIRGINIA MINERS REMAIN AT WORK

Union Officials Say Strike Will Be Effective Saturday

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 25 —(U. P.)—With the strike call issued by the United Mineworkers to the non-union miners of the northern West Virginia bituminous coal fields, effective today, rival camps issued conflicting statements.

Operators in all sections report that no mines were closed today. The unsuccessful effort of the union to bring about a strike in April is cited by the operators in their prediction that the present strike call will not be heeded.

James McCleary, in charge of the union headquarters here, said there had been a "special response" to the call, declaring that after the appearance of President John L. Lewis, and other mine leaders at Fairmount Saturday, the response would be "general."

A check-up today showed all mines were in operation. The union officials explain this by saying many miners wish to complete their week's work.

"Monotony is a thing we all revolt against."—Captain W. Elliot, M.P.

TRAFFIC HEAVIER DURING SEPTEMBER

Nearly 6,000 Cabin Passengers Brought to This Port in Month

GRAIN CHARTERS

Increase in Boats Chartered for October—Empress Going to Drydock

Nearly 6,000 cabin passengers landed here will be the total for the month of September when the three liners due here this week-end, the last of the liner arrivals for this month, disembark their passengers.

These three boats are the Cunard liner Alaunia, the Anchor-Donaldson liner Saturnia and the White Star-Dominion liner, the Canada, the total cabin passengers on these three ships being 377.

The total for this month shows an appreciable increase in the number of cabin passengers landed here when compared to the month of August, the total for last month being slightly in excess of 5,000.

Fifteen liners have entered the port from European and Continental ports to date and the total will be increased to eighteen for the month when the Alaunia, Saturnia and Canada dock.

TO EXAMINE EMPRESS.

As a result of her experience in the English Channel on Tuesday night, when the steering apparatus jammed and necessitated calling for assistance, the Empress of France of the C.P.S. fleet will go into drydock at Southampton tomorrow night it was learned here officially today.

An examination will be made but until the cabled report of this reaches headquarters here it will not be possible to determine whether another liner will take the place of the Empress on her next scheduled sailing date or whether the Empress will be able to make the trip as usual.

BOAT CHARTERS.

Following an announcement here on Tuesday that sixty grain boats had been chartered for the transportation of Canadian grain overseas to British and Continental port in October, it was learned on good authority today that the number has already increased to eighty, which means that this number of tramps will come into the port from overseas to load grain during next month.

Shipping companies are delighted with the prospects for business next month and one alone has already thirty boats under charter for the movement of the new crop the initial shipments of which are already stored in local elevators.

RIVER LEVEL.

There was no change in the depth of water in the harbor today soundings showing the depth to be 29 feet two inches, the same as yesterday.

826 SHIPS BERTHED .

A big increase in the number of ships and the tonnage using the port to date this season as compared to last season is shown in figures obtained at the Harbor Commissioner's offices today. Up to last week 826 boats entered Montreal harbor this season with tonnage totalling 3,713,208 tons as compared to 739 boats, with total tonnage of 2,563,539 tons in the same period of last season.

In the last two weeks however there has been a decrease in the number of ships entered inwards as compared to the same weeks of 1924, the number for last week being 232, all craft, as against 240 in the same week of 1924.

BRONX APARTMENT UPSET WHEN 'JIMMY' FROM BORNEO PREPARES TO SEE SIGHTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(U.N.)—Jay Quinby, a radio engineer, has lost his boy friend, Jimmy, and he hopes the loss will be permanent.

Quinby's boy friend, Jimmy, is a moon-faced, ring-tailed critter with a general disposition that fits the close-order domestic scheme of a Bronx apartment like the works of a rock-crusher fit the case of a Swiss watch. This is a way of saying that Jimmy is too much for the Quinby household.

Quinby got Jimmy in Borneo, where he (Jimmy) was one of the best curve-ball pitchers that ever threw a cocoanut. He, Quinby, brought him, Jimmy, to New York, and this is a matter of mutual regret.

In the last few weeks Jimmy chased a rabbi, locked his master in the bathroom, tossed all the electric bulbs out the window of the Quinby apartment to hear them pop on the sidewalk and shaved himself with Quinby's razor. The Quinby's were beginning to get nervous about Jimmy's conduct yesterday, when he suddenly went out the window and down the drain-pipe to the street, where he gathered his tail neatly over his arm, hopped lightly through the window of a passing taxi-cab and set out to see New York.

Quinby says there is no reward for the return of Jimmy. On the contrary, he might be willing to give a little something to anyone who can assure him that Jimmy will never return.

ADMIRAL GIFFARD DIES IN LONDON

Served in Canada and Won Medal in Fenian Raid

LONDON, Sept. 25 — (C. P.) — Admiral George Augustus Giffard, died Thursday. He was in his 76th year.

Admiral Giffard entered the Navy in 1862, served on the Canadian lakes in 1866, and was given a medal in recognition of his services in the Fenian raid.

In connection with his distinguished service in the navy Admiral Giffard won medals for having taken part in the arctic expedition on H. M. S. Alert in 1870 and for operations in Egypt in 1882.

Admiral Giffard, who was commodore and senior officer in the Newfoundland fisheries from 1899 to 1901, and Admiral-Superintendent of H. M. Dockyards at Chatham from 1907 to 1909, retired in 1913.

GERMAN 'PLANE IS WONDER MACHINE

Product of Genius Which Has Been Secured for Britain

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A wonderful all-metal flying boat, the product of a German genius, has been secured for Great Britain.

The machine, which was constructed at Copenhagen, is named the Rohrbach after its inventor.

The craft is both an airplane and a sailing boat. It carries telescopic duralumin masts and specially light sails of over 1,000 square feet area. Extended sailing tests have already been made with this air-and-water boat with entirely satisfactory results.

There is not a scrap of wood and not a single sturt of wire.

ANTI-RUST.

The flying boat is built entirely of duralumin, specially treated in order to prevent it from rusting through exposure to water. Even the wings are covered with metal.

The military crew, when it is taken over by the flying officers of the Fleet, will be four, and the all-metal craft is to be used for reconnaissance work over the open sea. It is driven by two Napier engines.

The fact that the machine is built entirely of metal has many advantages. Mechanics can walk over wings or body without the least fear of doing any damage. They can stand on the wings, even when the craft is floating on the water, in order to carry out engine repairs, so that it is possible to overhaul the 'plane without having to "dock" it.

It is possible also to reach the engines when the boat is in flight, so that no doubt minor repairs might be effected as the craft went hurtling across the water.

HEADPHONE AERIAL WITHOUT WIRES

LEICESTER, Sept. 26.—Any number of people wearing head 'phones unfettered by wires may listen to broadcast while moving about the the house by the use of an instrument invented by Walter R. Whitmore, secretary of the Wireless League, Leicester branch.

When he demonstrated his instrument, a three-valve set, not in any way connected with the head-'phones, was used. Each 'phone, however, had an attachment looking like a small frame aerial. This could be slung over the shoulder in a box, and, as long as the listener remained within fifty feet of the aerial proper, reception was good.

Mr. Whitmore is continuing his experiments, aiming at extending that range, and making it possible to operate loud speakers on the same principle.

The discovery will do away with the discomfort of being tied to the terminals, and in hospitals and other large buildings will obviate the expense of long wiring extensions from the central set to the various listening posts.

The principle on which the invention works is by re-radiation from the large aerial to the supplementary coil which is attached to each pair of telephones.

DEPUTY BELIEVED VISITING RIFFIANS

CRAN, Algeria, Sept. 25.—(A.P.)—The French Deputy Doriot, who has been travelling in North Africa since the Chamber of Deputies adjourned and is asserted by Algerian Communist leaders to have visited Abd-el-Krim, chieftain of the rebellious Riffians, is reported to have left Cran yesterday to return to France.

Doriot managed to elude detectives, who were charged with keeping a constant shadow on him. The police believed he was hiding in Algiers, but Communist leaders there were convinced he was visiting the Riffian leader, whose cause he openly championed in the Chamber of Deputies at Paris during the recent debate on the Moroccan war.

MOSQUITO BITES PUZZLE DOCTORS

LONDON, Sept. 25.—(U.P.)—English physicians are mystified by an epidemic of deaths from mosquito and gnat bites which have averaged nearly one a day lately.

Doctors are recommending victims of bites to use silver nitrate or lodine as an antiseptic.

N.Y. JUDGE WARS ON "ALIMONY BUG"

Justice Strong Says Many Women Marry With This in View

COURTS FILLED

Legal Separation Menace to Courts and Law Abused

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Sept. 25 — (U. P.)—That section of New York's population which lives or hopes to live on alimony has suddenly awakened to a danger which threatens its source of livelihood.

Justice Strong, who presides over the divorce department of the Supreme Court in recent weeks has quietly declared war on what he calls the "alimony bug."

Little noticed at first, his activities have now gained wide attention because of his stern refusals to grant alimony in divorce cases where he feels that it is unjustified and the severity of the language of some of his recent decisions.

Justice Strong defines an "alimony bug" as a woman who marries and then seeks separation after a brief period of married life, usually on small pretext, and with a desire for alimony her chief objective.

"Women who marry with alimony in view after a few weeks or months of married life are filling the courts of large cities throughout the nation," Justice Strong told the United Press in an exclusive interview.

"As an instance of the operation of an 'alimony bug,' there has come to my attention the case of a woman who has had six husbands," the justice went on.

"She has had the last one thrown into jail because he was unable to pay alimony, after she had mulcted him of a large share of his property.

"This is a flagrant example of what I mean by an alimony bug. There are not many women who go to this extent, but there are innumerable women who prey upon men .

"Recently I had to refuse alimony to a woman whose mother, two sisters an aunt and several other relatives were living on alimony. She was one of a family of alimony bugs. She thought that she could do likewise.

ERADICATE PLAGUE.

"Eradication of the plague of alimony bugs is necessary before the separation and divorce evil can be remedied. Legal separation has become an even greater menace as under the law of New York state to secure a divorce but separation may be secured on the slightest pretext.

"Separation gives rise to a great deal of immorality, illegitimacy and countless other evils. Men and women after all, are only human beings. It is only natural when a legal separation has been secured that they should seek happiness elsewhere."

The justice advocated special courts of domestic relations to handle all doubtful cases involving "alimony bugs" and all separation cases. He said the ordinary courts were flooded with such a vast number of cases that judges were unable to investigate doubtful cases properly.

"It is not divorce that is on the increase, "he said, "but separations are increasing by leaps and bounds.

"Present divorce laws are just and fair. It is the abuse of the law which gives rise to the evil."

OPPOSE CHOOSING AUSTRALIANS ONLY

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 25, — (C.P. via Reuters).—New South Wales is not in favor of the proposal that Australian State Governors should be chosen from Australians henceforth instead of being appointed by the British Government on the present system.

Sir George Fuller, former Premier of New South Wales, has just forwarded to the British Government a memorandum signed by 44 members of the Legislative Assembly and 26 members of the Legislative Council of New South Wales against the proposed change.

The memorandum states that there is no evidence that the public desires to alter the present system of appointment of Governors.

MANY NUDES IN ART EXHIBITION

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(A.P.)— Varnishing day at the autumn salon gave ocular evidence that cubism is a back number, at least among the younger school of painters, for there are only three examples of the geometrical art in the present exhibition, and these are stowed away in a rear room.

Portraits of athletes and scenes of athletic events predominate, while the nudes are again in high percentage. The American exhibitors are less numerous than last year, but the critics find their work more important than before.
