Central Board Honors Teachers At Banquet

The annual banquet given by the Pontiac County Central School Board to honor teachers and board members of the unit was held at the High School cafeteria last Friday evening. Catered by a circle of the Shawville United Church W. A., the meal was a great success and entertainment was better than ever.

Miss Frances Murdock, French Specialist, read a very amusing French-Canadian poem about an exciting hockey game and the common meeting place of the French and English speaking Canadians.

Douglas Sharpe, grade teacher at Onslow Intermediate, gave a polished performance singing "The Prayer Perfect" accompanied by Mrs. Little.

Mrs. S. E. McDowell sang the beautiful song "In The Garden of My Heart" and Inspector Bill Monroe led the gathering in singing many favorite songs, including his trademark, Allouette in several versions.

Arthur Dagg, Chairman of the Central Board was master of ceremonies: Miss Faye Smart, seventh grade teacher at the High School, accompanied the singing; Frank Trecartin, Supervisor of Schools, introduced the teachers; Jack Tolhurst, High School Principal, introduced the guest speaker; Mr. Harry Pullen of Ottawa.

In Mr. Dagg's opening remarks, he expressed the hope that the new teachers had found a congenial home away from home. He also stated that school board members were finding more and more that public relations are a very important part of their lives. Pleasant living conditions for the teachers were a large factor in these public relations.

The guest speaker, assistant superintendent of secondary schools in Ottawa, has had a wide and varied experience in the educational system and spoke with considerable authority upon the subject of board-teacher relationships.

Mr. Pullen repeated that trustees are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of public relations. The teacher, said Mr. Pullen, sometimes forgets the dual job of the trustee who must both run a business to satisfy the public and also provide sufficient salary to keep his teachers.

The strain placed on property by the educational systems is the biggest problem of education in Canada today, according to Mr. Pullen. Describing the average trustee,

Mr. Pullen said that the average trustee is not a trained educationist and therefore "is extremely ignorant" of the art of changing the behaviour of human beings which is the art of education. He gets his opinions of the schools from children or from gossip at the barber shop. The trustee cannot know from direct observation what actually goes on inside the classroom although it is of vital concern to him. There seems to be a growing concern among school trustees about the seeming resistance of the teaching profession to public relations programs, even though it is the teachers who would benefit most from such programs.

(Editor's Note: The above mentioned ignorance of what goes on in the classroom need not necessarily apply to school board members in the Province of Quebec as it is written in the Education Act that among the duties of school boards they are "to appoint two or more from among themselves to visit each school under their control at least once every six months, and to report to the corporation of which they are members, the state of the school, the manner in which the regulations are observed, the progress of the pupils, the character and capacity of the teachers, and every other matter relating to the management of the schools".)

Mr. Pullen spoke on behalf of teachers, describing their job as most complicated, made even more difficult by the wide spread in the intelligence of children lumped together in one classroom to be taught the same material. A terrific problem is presented in the differences in native ability and the other factors which affect a child's abilities and aptitudes in class.

The teacher needs every bit of training he can get, said Mr. Pullen. The nervous strain alone, of changing the behaviour of such varied groups of individuals, is tremendous. The trustees should give the teacher everything possible to make the job easier. Mr. Pullen expressed delight at the new High School in Shawville, particularly remarking upon the intelligent use of bright colors in classrooms and corridors.

Reviewing what is written in the Public School Act of Ontario with regard to a teacher's all but impossible duties, Mr. Pullen besought trustees and parents to realize that the teachers are, after all, human beings too. The list of duties for Quebec (of more interest here)

Three Recent Deaths Shock Norway Bay

It is with sincere regret that we have to record the passing of three residents of the Bay, Mr. Frank G. Bower who passed away in the Pontiac Community Hospital, after a few days illness. Mr. Bower has been a summer resident for more than 40 years. He was one of the oldest Bank Note engravers with the Company. He was married some 15 months ago to Miss Lillian Chiver who survives. Also surviving are Mr. Russell Bower and Mr. Walter Bower of Ottawa, brothers and a nephew, Dr. Robert Bower of Pembroke.

The second was the shocking death of Mrs. J. J. Sullivan who

Police Nab Shop Lifters

Rev. Dr. C. Younger-Lewis describes an alleged series of robberies in his district as follows:

"We often hear the saying 'Crime does not pay' but still it falls on deaf ears, one named Adre Daigle was arrested in Fort Coulonge over the weekend for not heeding the saying. He extracted or should I say stole a cash box with its contents from a garage in Jims Lake, and also a watch. He then walked into Spences store and gave a watch to be repaired and while the proprietor went to another part of the store he decamped with watches and clocks to the value of about $200. Owing to the clever work on part of the police he now awaits trial in Campbell's Bay."

"Spring" Comes To Shawville

On November 1, Mrs. William Dale of Shawville sent a sprig of honeysuckle buds into The Equity office. Couldn't decide whether this was a late spring 1955 or (wishfully) an early spring 1956.

H. M. Cuthbertson brought in a bunch of radishes from his garden on Wednesday. These radishes said Mr. Cuthbertson are this year's second growth. He planted radish seed in the spring which grew up. He ate all he wanted of the first growth and left the rest in the ground, where, it went to seed, which germinated and produced the second crop of big healthy radishes now ready to eat.

Request For Hike Refused By Court

Judgment has just been rendered by the Provincial Electricity Board of Quebec, (dated October 21st, 1955), dismissing the application made by the Gatineau Power Company for an increase in rates. The application if it had been approved would have been a general hike in power rates in this locality of about 18 percent.

Among the municipalities and public bodies opposing this application were the Municipalities for the Villages of Shawville, Quyon and Campbell's Bay and for the Townships of Clarendon, Onslow South and Onslow North.

The Board sat several times and for many days at Hull last fall and winter and heard proof adduced by the Gatineau Power and counter proof submitted by the opposing bodies.

The Board in its judgment noted the strong opposition to the increase voiced by the above mentioned Municipalities and others of Western Quebec. In its judgment the Board stated that the Gatineau Power had failed to establish its need for higher rates at the present time, and in particular stated that a different method of accounting would show that its distribution department was realizing a reasonable return on its investment.

was the victim of being hit by a car on Wellington Street, Ottawa, while on the way to church with her sister. Mrs. Sullivan lived only a few minutes after the accident. Mrs. Lawless is still very ill in the Civic Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan have been residents of the Bay for some 15 years, living in the East ward.

The third passing we have to record is Miss Grace L. McKechnie of Seattle, Wash., formerly of Bristol. Miss McKechnie returned many times to spend the summers on the Bay, a spot she loved very much. She built her cottage which later was purchased by Mr. Russell Rudd. Miss McKechnie was a school teacher all her life and had traveled a great deal on the continent of Europe, the Holy Land, China, and Japan. She taught the English language for some years in China and was also in Honolulu where she was decorated with the customary flower decorations by the natives of the Isle. Miss McKechnie was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archie McKechnie of Elmside. Mr. J. W. McCredie, and Mr. P. D. McCredie of the Bay, Mr. Wyman McKechnie of Wyman are nephews and Mrs. Ruby Armstrong of Bristol is a niece.

tioned Municipalities and others of Western Quebec.

In its judgment the Board stated that the Gatineau Power had failed to establish its need for higher rates at the present time, and in particular stated that a different method of accounting would show that its distribution department was realizing a reasonable return on its investment.

Special Preaching Missions Planned

In all the churches of the United church across Canada, the month of November has been set aside as a special time for Bible study, preaching and evangelistic services. The effort will be made to so present the claims of true religion that there may result a deepening in the spiritual life of the congregation.

In Pontiac county the ministers of the United congregation are working on following this plan; and they are asking their people to co-operate in every way in this church-wide movement. As a result, on every pastoral charge, there will be held a week of special preaching services. The Pastor of the church concerned will be in charge of the service; and will be assisted by ministers and laymen in preaching and singing.

The services will be held each evening except Saturday, and will begin at 8 p.m. The places and dates of meetings, with the ministers to preach each night are as follows:

Week of November 5th.
Quyon: Dr. A. F. Fokes, Shawville.
Fort Coulonge: Rev. W. S. Griffith of Campbell's Bay.
Bristol, St. Andrews: Rev. Geo. C. Heslop of Yarm.
Week of November 13.
Starks: Rev. J. A. Veldhuis of Fort Coulonge and Mr. W. Huskisson.
Campbell's Bay: Rev. H. G. Lester of Shawville.
Yarm and Radford: Rev. G. K. Stewart of Bristol.
Week of November 19.
Shawville: Rev. Basil Long, Quyon

Best birthday present this 17-year-old could hope for was a pilot's license which makes her one of the youngest licensed fliers in Canada. Pretty Helen Bradley of Pic-

—Central Press Canadian Photos

Credit for Blue Bombers' 24-13 victory over B. C. Lions goes to this pair of young native Winnipeggers. In clinching the third and last playoff position in the WIFU, Bombers were sparked by homebrews Gerry James and Lorne Benson. The 21-year-old James scored two majors and bulled his way for 142 yards to set a new Conference ground-gaining record of 1,079 yards. Fullback Benson also starred on the ground, plowing for 81 yards besides scoring one T.D. James' record later was eclipsed by Edmonton's Normie Kwong, who now has 1,250 yards

DRAW UP A CHAIR FOR THE FELLOW (The Printed Word)

Every month or so some profound thinker makes a statement on how many Canadians he thinks there will be by the year 1980 or some such date. Statements like these are fairly sure to draw attention and perhaps that is why some of them are made, as it is known that almost everyone is interested in the subject. Of course there are a few people who don't want more Canadians, because they don't feel they have the ability to compete with them, or because they have a mediaeval distrust of strangers, or for various reasons that seem adequate to them; but, whether one is for or against immigration, he is likely to be interested in it.

One of the attractive features of the subject is that most people feel they can talk as much as they like about it without having to do anything. Immigration is a matter for the government, they say. Immigration is something for "them" to do something about, they say. Weaklings chatter a good deal, usually, when nothing can be done, but they become quiet in a crisis and are usually looking the other way or tying a shoe lace. Some weaklings can hardly wait for an event to get past before they start criticizing, but one hears little from them while the event is going on, while others are trying to do something about it. Chattering about immigration seems a safe occupation, as the matter is out of the hands of individuals, depends on conditions in Europe, or on who has what job in the immigration department, and governments seldom do what the voters want — especially the voters who couldn't get to the polls that day for one reason or another. All these things and others are said by too many, even by those who are not weaklings, for immigration is so attractive a subject in its seeming impossibility of being tackled by an individual.

Let the weaklings beware and serious folk take thought. There is a good deal that the individual can do. If he does not happen to know any good foreigners whom he might encourage and help to come here, he is almost certain to know at least one human being who has lately arrived here. Let the talker on how there should be more immigration arise and do something about the newcomer. Draw up a chair for the fellow. If this seems too much of an effort, at least a talker should not mind talking to the newcomer.

The competing product in the next show window continues to draw off the newcomers along with a lot of oldcomers. There may not be much that can be done to dissuade a third-generation Canadian from accepting that job in a cigarette factory in Richmond, Va. After three generations a man ought to know his own mind. But newcomers may leave from ignorance of the opportunities here. Whose job is it to tell them about Canada? Many newcomers leave, however, because there is more here than the climate that grows chilly, or so it is thought in some quarters. Curing this misapprehension about Canadians is definitely a job for the individual, for friendship is a personal matter, not one that can be loaded on a government to look after.

OTTAWA Report: by Anthony J. Wright

The way things are Canadian taxpayers may soon be paying out to put socks and vests on 500,000 men in the new West German army. This is the way it works. Canada exports quite a lot of woollen rags to Germany. Textile plants there shred and sort them and make excellent reclaimed material from them. One of the best sources of 100 percent pure wool, the Germans have found is from old socks cast off from the Canadian Army and shipped by some shrewd exporter to Hamburg or Bremen. The chances are good that this same wool, originally bought by us taxpayers for our army, will be keeping German feet warm when it reaches the end of its trail. Woollen rags sent from Canada to West Germany between last January and June were worth $106,803. That's no rag trade—it's a luxury line. Soon there may be acute shortages of woollen rags. (Australia, France and Switzerland also supply West German textile houses with rags.) Woollen rags with the longest staple and in the largest pieces reach Germany from our Salvation Army. Canada has a good name for rags it seems. Eh, you, get out of my garbage can!

British and Dutch papers kicked up a big fuss when the U.S. raised its tariff on incoming cycles. Canadian financial papers also smote our neighbor for putting up barriers because European bikes were selling better than heavier American ones. It now turns out, says U.S. envoy R. Douglas Stuart, that the duty was a mere 83 cents on light bikes, $1.25 on others. It also appears that Canada's "most favoured nation" duty on European cycles is heavier than the U.S. tariff. Mr. Stuart regrets that our papers and speakers wail when a restriction appears likely but say nothing when one is lifted, as recently on imports to the U.S. of barley and oats.

Charles Soupav, 19, now studying watches in Winnipeg, may become the first fully-qualified Eskimo watch repairer back home in Aklavik. He's on a Northern Affairs vocational training course. A buddy of his, an Indian by name Stephen Firth, learned to work a crawler shovel in Montreal and Cedar Rapids, Iowa. They are two of 50 northerners learning either dressmaking, electronics, forestry, mechanics, nursing or any of 15 other subjects under the plan.

The Liberals as well as Conservatives have been spurred on by the P.C. gain in Toronto-Spadina, but for opposite reasons. Few seats will be taken for granted at the next general election after that upset, especially if there is another huge wheat surplus in 1956. Most folk here cannot understand why the Wheat Board cannot pay advances on farm-stored wheat if traffic and market gluts are exceptional. There has been talk of something other than government marketing. It appeals to one's sense of free enterprise but as gluts seem likely to continue when harvest weather is good, farmers may be hurt more by scrapping the board than by leaving things as they are. If people don't want so much wheat as they did, not even a genius can sell it.

Governor General Massey is sending a copper kettle to Udluriak, an Eskimo lady at Cape Dorset. She gave her own, left there in 1921 by Lapp reindeer herders, and much prized around tea-time, to help fashion the crown on a mace made by Eskimos. Mr. Massey is to present the mace to lawmakers of the N.W.T. Council next January. The ball of its orb is of whalebone probably left by Scottish whalers 100 years ago. Without instruments the Eskimos have carved it almost perfectly round.

The T. Eaton Co. urge the Finance Department to continue its present custom of slapping excise taxes on articles as they leave the place where they are made. They, and other department stores who buy lines and add their own name to them for prestige reasons, do not wish to be classed as manufacturers. That would mean two taxes on many goods. They say too that taxing manufacturers, who are few, is less clumsy for Ottawa than taxing retailers who number 150,000 in Canada.

I have not been able to get proof from newsprint companies that the latest $5 a ton rise in price is absolutely essential. So it is not possible to present their case for the increase which has angered and dismayed Canadian and American publishers. Higher costs are the reasons given by the mills; they have passed them on to the newspapers. Would the situation be different if Canadian newsprint makers did not hold leases to the last remaining substantial sources of paper left in the world? Having permanent orders for three out of every five newspaper pages printed anywhere gives them a wonderful feeling of being able to charge what the traffic will bear. But you have to have all the figures and understand them before you can say our newsprint firms are doing that.

300 Lb. Buck Shot Outside Bryson

Another 300 pound buck was shot within ear-shot of Main Street last week by one of our lucky marksmen. Deer seem to be edging nearer the village this year, owing perhaps, to the presence of wolves in the hunting areas.

Supervisor's Notebook

By Frank Trecartin
Supervisor of Pontiac County
Protestant Schools

For the past couple of weeks we have, in this column, been endeavoring to examine the teaching profession and the role of the teacher.

It might be interesting, this week, to say a word or two of what leaders in Education expect of the teacher. The list of "requirements" is long, and in all probability not too rigid, in a time of greater teacher shortage such as the present, but the Education Leader is prone to expect the teacher to possess "a communion of traits, inherited or acquired, impressive enough to deter an angel."

The teacher is expected to have (and these are not in any special order) a pleasing personal appearance, poise, refinement, and pleasantness of manner. She must be industrious, ambitious, forceful, progressive, and work with a great deal of "drive" and initiative. And of course we want our teacher to be enthusiastic and possessed of the wisdom and good judgment of Solomon.

If the teacher "passes" on all these scores we then observe carefully to make sure that she has the professional and academic equipment necessary for the job, coupled with a thorough knowledge of children and society as a whole. She must be mentally alert, free from defects, overflowing with physical energy and vitality, the whole being tempered with a complete understanding of the current methods and objectives of education.

And just to be on the safe side and to make sure that we are getting the proper kind of people in the classrooms as teachers, we must add to the above requirements, common sense, emotional stability, tolerance, freedom from what might be considered unreasonable beliefs and prejudices, and self control.

The teacher's social adjustment must be satisfactory in all respects, she must be able to get along well with others, she must know about the social graces and moral conduct must be above reproach.

To cap it all the teacher must still leave room for a sense of humor or because as one writer says, "A teacher without wirth is like a wagon without springs."

That's the list, Dear People, and the Encyclopedia of Educational Research says, "Absence of any of these traits or qualities may be looked upon as probable causes for poor work."

Shower Given For Marjorie Armitage

On Saturday afternoon a shower was given by Mrs. Wm. Alexander, assisted by Mrs. Irwin Armitage, Mrs. Carmen Ireland and Mrs. Percy Armitage at the home of Mrs. Alexander in honor of Miss Marjorie Armitage, whose marriage will take place shortly.

As the bride entered the room, she was escorted to a prettily decorated chair and presented with a corsage by Mrs. Irwin Armitage.

Baskets of gifts were carried in and presented to Marjorie by Helena Young, Diana Ireland, Eleanor Armitage and Lorna Beattie.

The bride-to-be was assisted in opening her gifts by her mother, Mrs. Gerald Armitage and Mrs. Carmen Ireland.

The bride who was taken by surprise thanked the ladies in a few well chosen words.

Afterwards refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rev. C. Watson

(Guest written by Mrs. C. Watson)

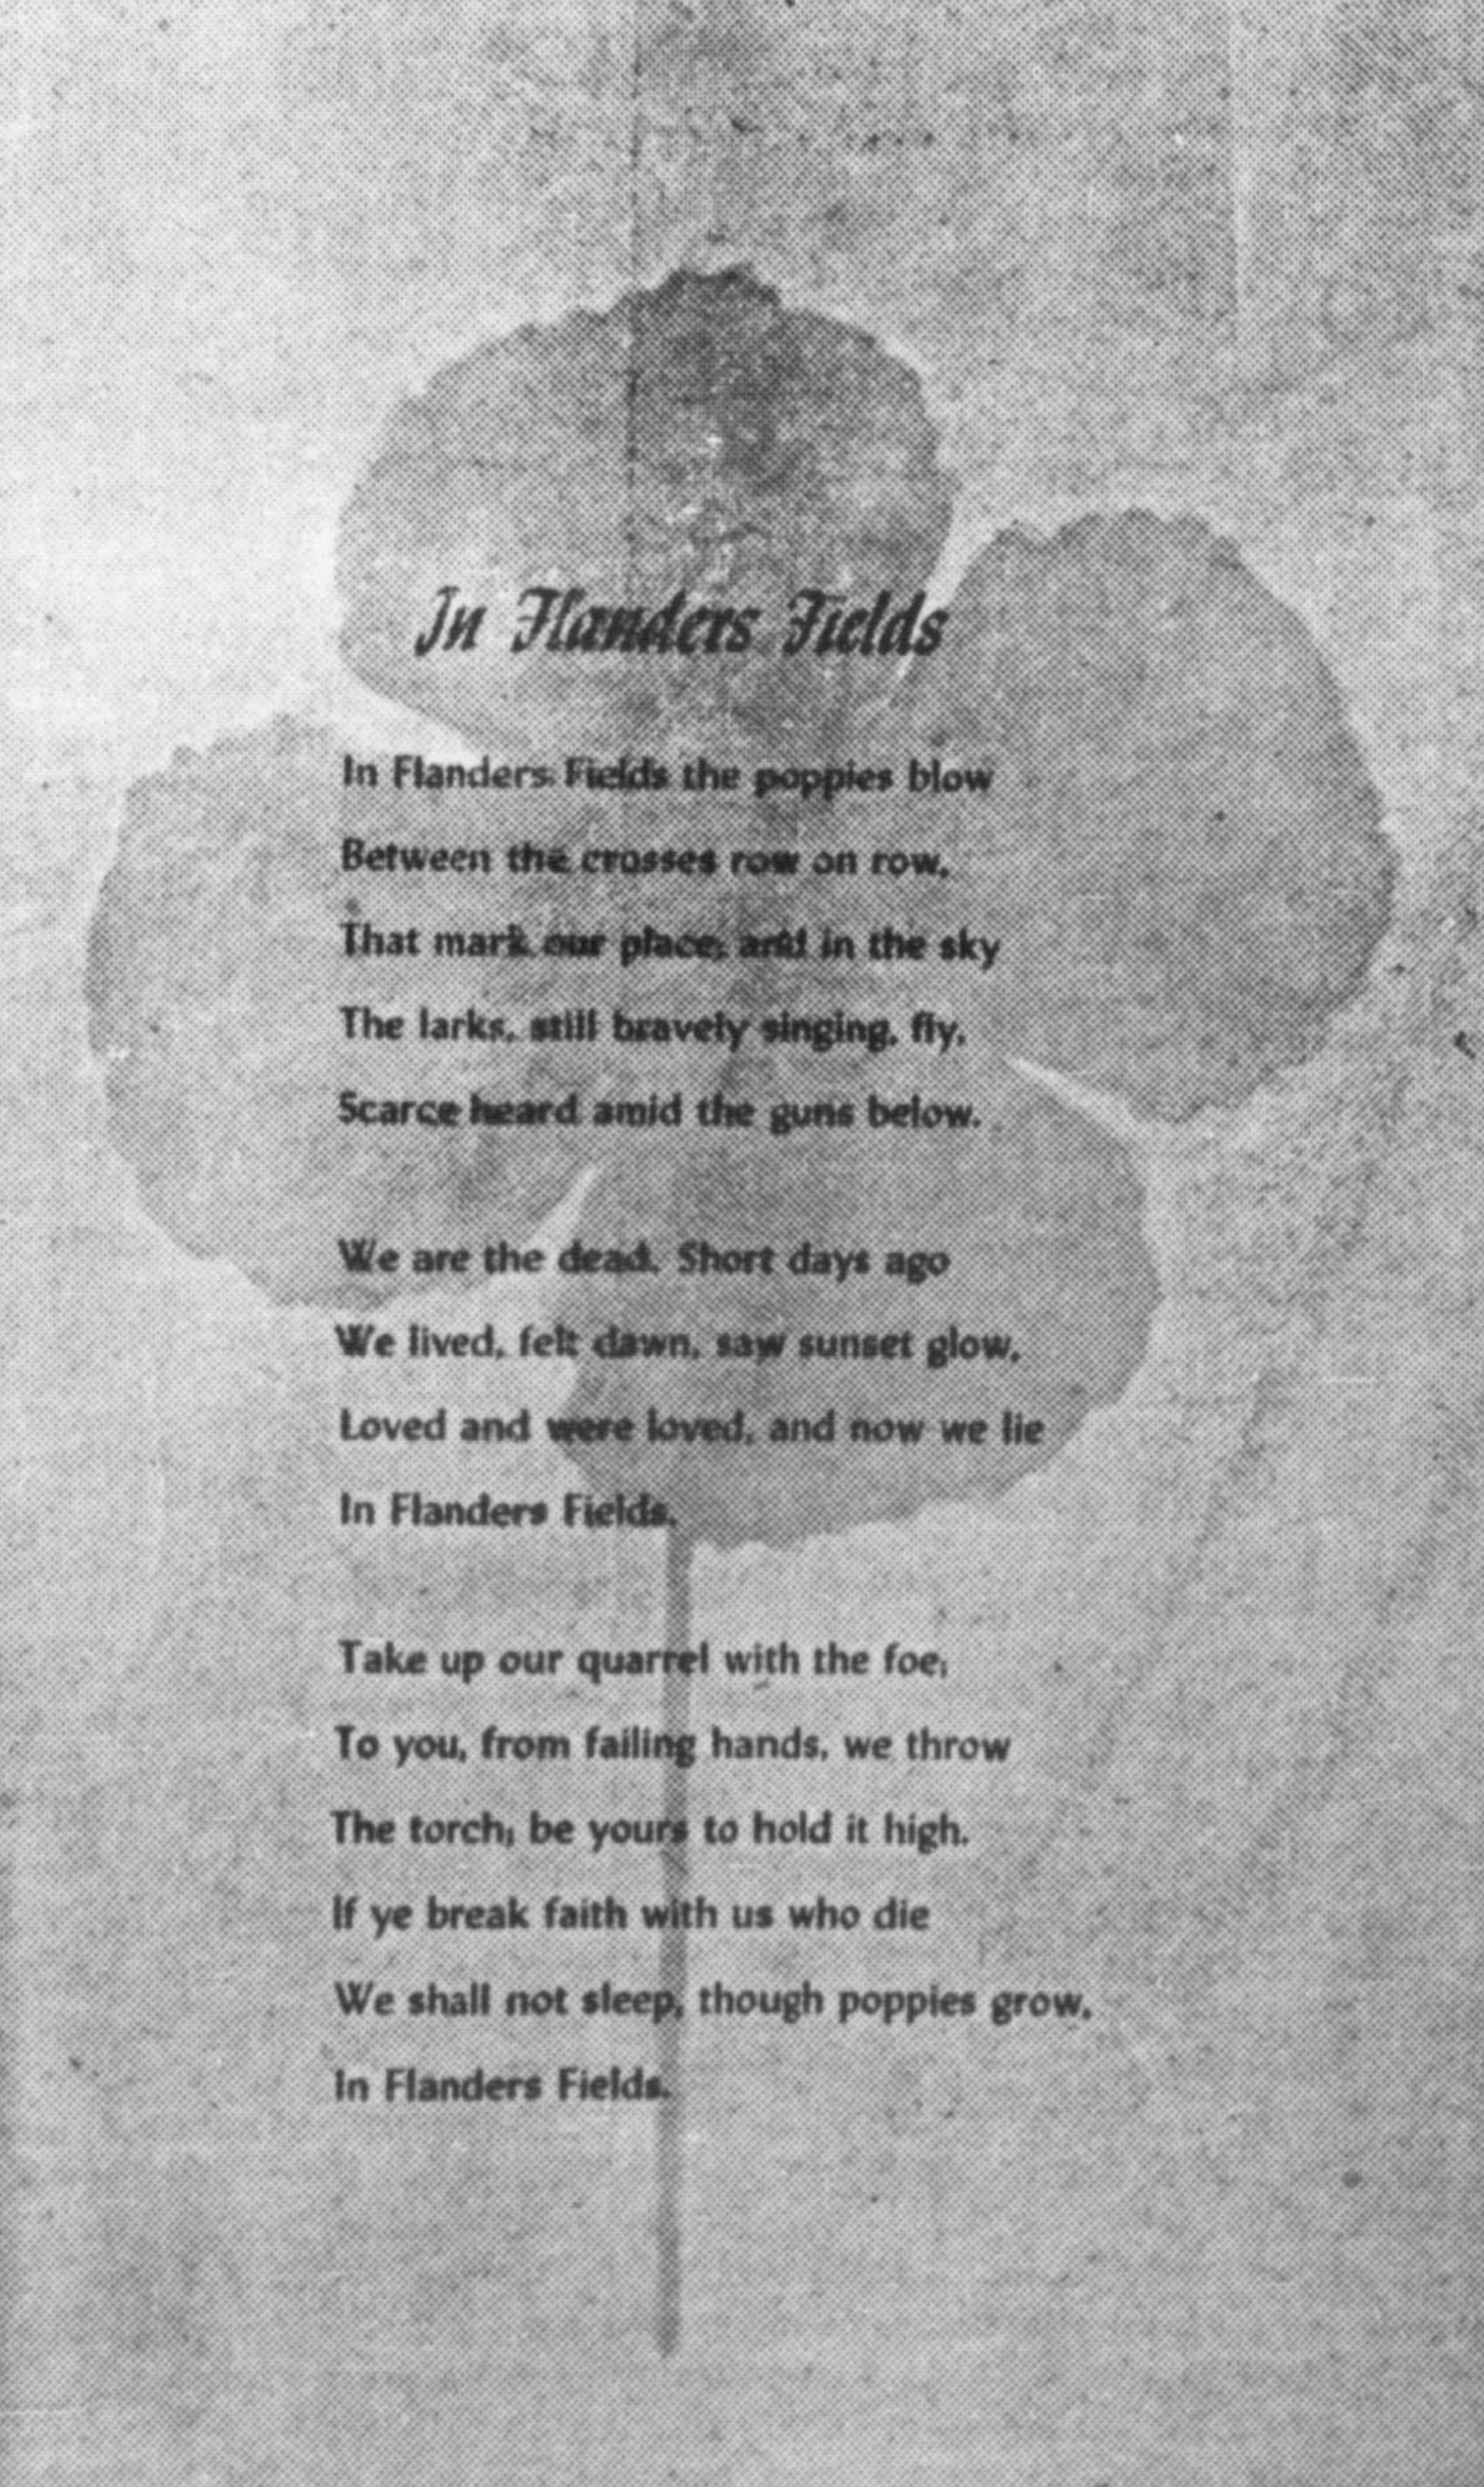

This week, I would like to discuss the secondary modern school with special reference to the Arbourthorne school in which I have been acting as a supply recently. Secondary modern schools take children ranging in age from twelve to fifteen and ranging in I.Q. from 120 to 65; the subject matter taught at the highest intelligence level being about that taught in our Grade 10, with the exception that the only language taught is English.

Arbourthorne school, built in 1937, is one of five different schools all built on the same piece of property. The building is of modern design, one-and-a-half stories in height, designed in a circle around a central grass quadrangle. Like all other English schools it is over-crowded and understaffed.

It has an enrolment of about 800 and staff of 35. At present, three more teachers are needed and there doesn't seem to be much hope of getting them. The school is fairly well-equipped, with auditorium, domestic science room, sewing rooms, lab, music-room, art-room, extensive playing fields, showers and staff rooms. There are also facilities for cooking school lunches in the building, although these are served in the classrooms, as there is no canteen as yet.

Arbourthorne school serves Arbourthorne estate (housing development) which is a slum-clearance section which means that many of the children come from homes which leave much to be desired, and are therefore rather tough customers.

A word now about conditions for teachers in this country. A fairly high standard must be attained before a teacher is licenced. (It took the authorities in London and Sheffield three months and much trans Atlantic communication, before they finally decided that my qualifications were satisfactory). However, once you're in, you're in for life. Teachers are discharged only for dishonesty or gross immorality very, very rarely for incompetence. Salaries are low. (I make about $65.00 a month). However, there are two teachers' unions doing their best to improve things and women teachers are now to receive equal pay for equal work with the men.

In Flanders Fields

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch, be yours to hold it high,
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow,
In Flanders Fields.

Statistics show that October was an unhealthy month. We hit 50 in residence on two days and our bed compliment is 52. Anyone else with an ache? Could be we will have a full house yet. And we are not playing poker.

According to commercials on the radio and television wouldn't it be wonderful advertising if some merchant or kindly soul donated a television set to the Nurses Residence. Say who thought of that, its great?? The first one that offers will be long remembered.

Mr. Rochon of Montreal was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leveque on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lough have found a new way of catching partridge whether within the law, I know not. While travelling to Shawville by car on Sunday morning, when they came near Murrell's Hill a partridge flew out of the woods and dashed itself against the car and killed itself. Mr. Lough stepped out picked up the bird and they have an extra meal provided. Considering the fact that Mr. Lough sells guns and ammunition, his means of capturing birds is not a good advertisement for his store.

A very fine hallowe'en dance took place at the Laurentian Pavilion on Friday evening, October 28.

There has been many a case of Blackleg among calves in Mansfield district which has caused many deaths, but the herds are being inoculated by the vet to stop any danger of the disease spreading.

How YOU Can Help

When electric service is interrupted be SURE to turn off the heavy appliances such as ranges, water heaters, other heating devices and motors.

Otherwise, when service can be restored, an exceptionally heavy load is put on the system which sometimes causes the circuit breakers to open again.

Leave at least one light on so you will know when service is restored. As soon as the light comes on you can turn your appliances on again without further delay. It only requires a few seconds of light load to enable the power houses to get back to normal.

By reducing the load to a minimum you can help to restore service promptly.

Help us and also help yourself by making SURE that all heavy appliances are turned off when service is interrupted.

Hermits Welcome Company and Coffee

MOST hermits hide away from the world. But these hermits love a crowd—and a crowd will love these Apple Hermits.

They're cookies, of course. Like traditional hermit cookies they are tangy with spices and old-fashioned molasses. Bite into them and taste plump raisins, crisp walnut meats. There's a special ingredient too, that makes these hermits-with-a-difference. Chopped apple gives them a touch of the unusual, a welcome change of pace.

When you have both of them on hand, it's practically certain you won't be alone for long!

Apple Hermits

- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
- 3/4 cup molasses
- 3 eggs, unbeaten
- 3/4 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 8 teaspoons powdered cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg
- 1 cup broken walnut meats
- 1 cup finely chopped raw apples, peeled

Rinse raisins in hot water and drain on absorbent paper. Cream shortening with brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add molasses. Add unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating after each addition. Mix and sift flour, salt, baking soda and spices and add to molasses mixture. Mix lightly. Stir in walnuts, chopped apples and raisins. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 dozen.

BEARDS ARE "IN ATTUNE" WITH GOOD OLE' MOUNTAIN MUSIC

These boys aren't up in the Ozarks fighting the McCoys, they are part of the Pioneer Platoon of the 2nd Battalion, The Royal Canadian Regiment, now serving in Germany. When they aren't "on duty" they practice their mountain swing. Besides having "music" in common, all are winners of beard-growing competition held by the three pioneer platoons of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade and will wear this growth of "shredded wheat" until their return to Canada. In the front row, from left, are: Sgt. Joe York, Toronto, with jug; Pte. Al Selig, Hansport, N.S., with musical saw, L/Cpl. John Larmasinuk, Winnipeg, with accordion. Back row features Pte. adopted by a judicious parent in his family; to supervise carefully the conduct and habits of the pupils during school hours; to keep a journal of daily attendance, to inquire into causes of tardiness and absence and to report them to the proper authority; to endeavour to improve his professional status by study and by attending summer school and teachers' conferences when opportunities are available; etc. . .

In Ontario, according to their Act, teachers are also supposed to be paragons of all virtues. This is actually written into the rules which regulate their duties and makes their job as impossible for them as the Ontario ruling which prevents trustees from visiting classrooms makes theirs.

In thanking the speaker for his most interesting talk, Dr. S. E. McDowell of the Quebec Protestant Committee on Education remarked on the differences in the rules governing teachers and trustees in each Province.

During his talk, Mr. Pullen said that the most important man in education today is the principal. He should be given everything he needs. It is his opportunity to teach loyalty to the children, starting right at home with loyalty to the school. This is done by gathering together frequently, laughing together, singing together as a school unit. No job, said Mr. Pullen, gives one deeper satisfaction and more honest pleasure than working with children.

In a short closing speech, Dr. McDowell said that in Pontiac County our teachers are all very good, that we have no weak spots in our schools and that our school board trustees are for the most part ex-teachers, clergymen and others who know about the instruction of children and the changing of their lives. Cooperation between teachers and trustees in Pontiac, said Dr. McDowell, is perfect.

Miss Jean Neville, principal of the Onslow Intermediate School, spoke for all teachers present in thanking the Central School Board for the banquet and the evening's program.

10-YEAR-OLD COMPOSES SONGS

—Central Press Canadian

Marie-Elizabeth Morgan of Welland, Ont., is only 10 years old, and like other 10-year-olds she has to be coaxed to play the piano. But the similarity ends there, for Marie rattles off original tunes, four of which have been published. Her mother, shown with her, writes down the music as she plays it. All told, she has written 15 tunes, which even Marie admits isn't bad for a 10-year-old.

Chief mourners and survivors included his wife, the former Mary Gibson; three sons, Thomas and Benedict, Portage du Fort; Aluysis of Montreal; three daughters, Fedelis (Mrs. Robert Lynn) Portage du Fort, Helen (Mrs. Harold (Mrs. Herb Toner); one brother, Alphonse of Portage and one son Omer and one daughter Melanie (Mrs. A. Giroux) are predeceased.

Mr. Tanguay was the son of Joseph Tanguay and his wife Celina Fleury who had established one of the first tinshops in Portage du Fort. Paul learned the tailoring trade and branched into the General Store business which he continued until the time of his death. He was a devout practicing Catholic. He had been a member of the School Board and the Municipal Council. His sudden death was a shock to his many friends.

Young Folk Enjoy Hallowe'en At Bryson

Bryson—Hallowe'en in Bryson is fast becoming one of the major feast days of the year for boys and girls in this community. Since the Lions have given some semblance of order to the "Witches, Goblins, Indians and Tramps", that made up the grotesque characters that are about on this eerie night and herd all into the Town Hall where candy, peanuts and apples are provided in plentiful supply and prizes for the best costumes are awarded.

The youngsters of this village are heaven's first law' and from the appearance of the father's and mother's of the large group of children attending this Bryson Hallowe'en Party in the Town Hall, Monday night was a very enjoyable affair.

CHICKEN CORN PIE LEADS FOOD-FASHION PARADE

A new recipe like a new hat "sets a woman up", especially when it proves a hit with the whole family. A dish to prove the point is Chicken Corn Pie.

Now's a good time to use golden kernels fresh from the cob, but canned corn is fine year 'round. Tender chunks of chicken, left from Sunday dinner or poured from a can add flavor. And a luscious sauce, smooth and "chicken-wonderful", comes ready-prepared in a can of condensed cream of chicken soup. Make pastry from your favorite recipe, or speed up the job with a prepared mix. Then the pie bakes for an hour while you attend to other tasks.

Pass spicy bread and butter pickles and tiny white onions with the chicken corn pie. A tossed vegetable salad of lettuce, carrot rounds, radish chips, and tomato chunks adds its flair to the dinner.

Complete the parade with homemade ice cream. Make it with fresh cherries or peaches, and pass chocolate chip cookies to munch with it. When the family gets a taste of this sumptuous meal, they'll declare it's a style to adopt.

CHICKEN CORN PIE

- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
- 1 cup diced cooked chicken
- 1 cup cooked whole kernel corn
- 1 package (9-ounces) pie crust mix or enough pastry for a 2-crust pie.

Cook onion in butter; blend with soup, chicken and corn. Roll half of pastry dough on floured board and line a 9-inch pie pan; pour in chicken filling. Roll remaining pastry into circle; place on top of filling; pinch edges together and make several slits in top to allow steam to escape. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 1 hour. 4 generous servings.
