FLOATING MINES A GREAT MENACE

One British and Two Japanese Vessels Came to Grief

BUT DETAILS ARE LACKING

Russian Fleet at Anchor in Hon-Kohe Bay—Japanese Government Takes Steps to Shut Off its Coal Supply.

New Chwang, May 15.—A steamer which arrived here to-day reports the sinking of a Japanese transport in the Gulf of Chili by a mine. This was almost coincident with the sinking of the Japanese transport Sheyuteu, which struck a mine May 4 near the Miao Islands (at the entrance of the Gulf of Chili), and was last reported in a sinking condition, but refusing the assistance of a Chinese merchant ship.

The details of the sinking of the British steamer Sobralenz off Port Arthur May 12, beyond the facts that she struck a mine, sank in two minutes, and that sixty-seven of her passengers and crew landed at Port Arthur have not been obtained.

Russian Vessels Sighted.

Singapore, Straits Settlements, May 15.—Thirteen Russian warships were sighted May 12 off Cape Varella, about fifty miles north of Kamranh Bay, by the steamer Jason, which arrived here to-day.

Rojestvensky at Anchor.

Tokio, May 15.—It is definitely known that Rear-Admiral Rojestvensky, after temporarily leaving Hon-Kohe Bay on May 8, re-entered the bay and continues at anchor there.

Tokio, May 15.—The government has prohibited the exportation of coal to Saigon. The embargo is to continue so long as the Russian fleet is in Indo-Chinese waters. In order to protect the mat export trade, the government has adopted a system of standards of inspection and stamping. Penalties are assigned for violations.

Oyama Again Active.

Gunshu Pass, Manchuria, May 15.—Skirmishing continues in the Olouri mountain region, on the Russian left, but the fighting is not serious. Calm continues on the right. The Chinese, however, report that Field Marshal Oyama is directing large masses of troops from Fakoman towards Tounziakou, where a concentration is proceeding, and the river is being bridged by pontoons. The Liao River is full of junks, which bring up stores and provisions. About 80,000 Japanese reinforcements have arrived at the front. The Japanese cavalry in particular has been considerably strengthened. Prisoners say that the Japanese armies are ready to advance when the word is given.

During a recent terrible dust storm which raged for three days, the soldiers, tents and entrenchments suffered severely.

The Russian troops are being fitted out with summer uniforms.

BIG INCINERATOR FOR THE EAST END

Committee Will Decide on Erection of $10,000 Edifice

At the meeting of the Incineration Commitee, this afternoon, the question of the erection of a high-class garbage destroyer at the corner of Forsyth and Frontenac streets, will be discussed, and a delegation of citizens heard in opposition to the project.

For some time, the Incineration Department has felt the need of such a structure in the eastern portion of the city; and after a long struggle, the Finance Committee this spring voted $10,000 for the purpose. It was understood that the building was to be of the very latest description, being a direct copy of the prize building of that character at St. Louis World's Fair—but at the last minute, the residents of the last objected to the work going on, and a hich has occurred.

"The destroyer is badly needed," said an official of the department this morning, "and it will be erected. It is not a nuisance, we have the money and the work will go on."

CUBA BUT SLIGHTLY DAMAGED.

Kingston, Ont., May 15.—(Special)—A survey of the steamer Cuba was made to-day, while she was in dry dock, when it was disclosed that her damage was slight indeed, some leaky seams being the chief. Luckily she ran on a smooth rock while all about her were rocky projections and heavy boulders. The steamer will reload her cargo and likely go west to-night. Several of the passengers stayed on board rather than go west by train.

UNSETTLED WITH SHOWERS.

Rain has again fallen throughout Manitoba and the Northwest Territories and scattered showers have occurred in Ontario. The general outlook is rather unsettled. The maximum and minimum temperatures recorded in Montreal during the past 24 hours were 68 and 52. The record at various other points yesterday was as follows: Victoria, 46, 54; Calgary, 26, 52; Qu'Appelle, 40, 62; Winnipeg, 40, 70; Port Arthur, 40, 56; Parry Sound, 53, 70; Toronto, 48, 62; Ottawa, 54, 70; Quebec, 42, 74; Halifax, 36, 62.

THREE MILLION DOLLARS WILL BE EXPENDED IN MAKING QUEBEC IMPREGNABLE IN EVENT OF WAR

Quebec, May 15.—(Special.)—The Dominion Government is about to enter upon gigantic military works in the city and district of Quebec, which will involve a very large expenditure of money and at the same time add materially to the strength of the military fortifications of the country.

It appears that when Colonel Stone, Inspector of Artillery, from England, arrived in Canada three years ago on a tour of inspection, among other things he recommended in a report to the Home Government, was the erection of forts along the south shore of the River St. Lawrence to prevent ships in case of war, from reaching the harbor of Quebec via the St. Lawrence. Ever since then ngotiations have been going on between the Imperial and Federal Governments in regard to those matters and within the past few months an understanding has been arrived at.

The Canadian Government, besides making extensive repairs to the Citadel fortifications in this city, will over overhaul the three forts at Levis, which are to be armed with long distance firing guns and garrisoned by a company of artillery in each one of them.

The most important work, however, to be undertaken by the Dominion Government is the construction of two forts at Beaumont, nine miles East of Quebec, on the South Shore. These forts will be located at a point which gives a sweeping observation of both the north and south channels of the River St. Lawrence and when completed will cost, it is said, in the vicinity of three million dollars.

One of theforts will be located on a strong rock formation overlooking the Beaumont beach and the other and larger one will be erected on the height of land at the same place. The plans for the forts were prepared by the Engineering Department in England, but have been changed to some extent since their arrival in Canada by the engineering branch of the Militia Department at Ottawa.

Col. MacDonald, Quartermaster-General, of the Canadian Militia and Lt.-Col. Wetherbee, director of the engineering branch of the same department, were in Quebec seven or eight days ago on a secret mission in connection with this important work and since then, Capt. H. Alliston, of the Engineers' branch of the service, arrived in Quebec, from Ottawa, in the same connection.

This morning it leaked out that the latter officer together with several other engineers here have been at Beaumont, looking at the land to locate the forts and have expropriated the area necessary. The work on these forts will be commenced in the course of next month when ground will be broken, and when they are completed they will be armed with long distance guns of the most modern pattern which will sweep the St. Lawrence for many miles.

A NOTABLE RAID ON GAMBLING EVIL

Chief Carpenter's Staff Made a Large Number of Arrests Last Night

Of recent days there have been many complaints lodged at the City Hall regarding the alleged falling away from grace of various young city innocents whose footsteps, and loose coin, have been enticed away from the path that is traight, to certain houses where the gaming laws are set at defiance.

And so Chief of Detectives Carpenter congregated to him a bunch of his available officers, and went out for scalps.

The first visit was to 1308 Dorchester street where Nathan Arnold runs a restaurant. Here was found other forms of entertainment not usually set out on the eating list of a place of refreshment, and the following persons were driven along to police headquarters:

Charged with keeping a common gaming house.

Nathan Arnold, retaurant keeper, 1308 DeMontigny street.

Charged with frequenting a gaming house.

Max Rattman, 182 St. Elizabeth street; Isaac Schwartz, 2 Dorchester street; Isaac Bloomstein, 32½ St. Philip; Pastor Zender, 34 Leduc; Phillip Cohen, no address; Henry Silverman, 9 Anderson street; Jake Stribaq, 271 Cadieux; Samuel Kohnanovitch, 248 Cadieux; John Smith, 111 St. Urbain; Morris Komensky, 36 Lemoine; Max Dorfman, 235½ St. Angie; Goodwik Ebes, 113 Cadieux; George Liler, 99 Tagueur; Benjamin Shapiro, 459 St. Dominique.

Kohnanovitch, and Smith, in very broken English, admitted having been in a 10c common gambling house, while Zilch and Komensky also pled guilty to having been courtin fortune while the game was a-going.

Trial will be on Friday.

While he had his men out of doors in the cold night air, the Chief thought they might as well call along at 113, McGill College avenue, where it had been rumored some play was occasionally indulged in, and in addition to scooping a $700 outfit including wheel, chips, &c., the following gamblers were carted down to the City Hall cells:

James Simpson, 2691 St. Catherine street, claiming to be proprietor George Alexander, University street; Thomas Jones, 91 University street; Henry Stuart, 96 Union avenue; Marker Keenan, 18 St David Lane.

The quartette pleaded not guilty, when brought before Judge Lafontaine to-day and were remanded, Simpson until May 17 and the others until May 19.

ACTION DISMISSED.

Mr. Justice Curran this morning dismissed the action of Frederick Voss against Charles Timms for $300. Voss claimed that Timms had illegally sold him a piece of land on the Indian reserve, but Timms replied that he had merely sld the improvements, and on this ground th action was dismissed.

POLICE EXPELLED UNRULY STUDENTS

They Tried to Rush Protestant Meeting But Were Clubbed Out

A very exciting time was experienced at Poirier Hall yesterday afternoon during an address by Rev. W. Marge, the French Presbyterian minister, on the doctrine of the Papal infallibility. For some time Mr. Mage has been engaged in a public discussion of various Roman Catholic dogmas, and his utterances have considerably annoyed many of the city Catholic population.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Duclos, father of Westmount's Mayor. The audience included a good-sized detachment of Laval students, and a squad of police under Inspector Lamouche sent to discourage the students.

However, Mr. Marge became rather excited in his address, and is alleged to have stated that as a result of his missionary work in Africa he had come to the conclusion that the French-Canadians had no more idea of religious liberty than the Zulus. This at once precipitated a row. The Laval students made a rush for the platform, seizing chairs, etc., as they moved. The police at once drew their batons and met the charge, with disastrous results to the students, who were forthwith ejected after a lively scuffle, in which a number of heads and hats suffered. After this clearance of the atmosphere the meeting concluded in peace. No arrests were made.

HARBOR BOARD WILL BE ABOLISHED

Montreal Harbor Bill Will be Put Through This Session.

Ottawa, May 15. (Special) The Montreal Harbor Board Bill will be put through Parliament this session. By its provisions the Government will take over the debt and administration of the Harbor and abolish the present Harbor Commission. This body will be replaced by a small commission, more directly under the control of the Government. It has not yet been decided whether Montreal will be made a free port or not. That and other details of the Bill will have to be worked out later.

ANOTHER FAST AUTO.

Fred Thomson, 64 Bruce Avenue, was before Recorder Weir to-day on a charge of driving an automobile faster than 6 miles an hour, and was fined $10 and costs.

THE TERRORIST CAMPAIGN IN RUSSIA APPEARS TO HAVE SUFFERED COLLAPSE

St. Petersburg, May 15.—With the Russian May Day happily passed without general disorders the authorities breathe easier, and are inclined to regard the danger of a really serious interior crisis this spring as over. Turbulence doubtless will continue with sporadic disorders, but the plans of the social democrats and social revolutionists to produce disaffection with troops and co-ordinate peasant and workmen's movements for the creation of a state of general anarchy have signally failed. The only place where grave disorder was reported yesterday was Kostroff, and that was in response attributable to the revolutionists. Apparently a crowd of soldiers off duty got out of hand, pillaged shops and even government buildings and created a reign of terror among the inhabitants until surrounded and arrested by their comrades. It is now evident that while the social democrats and social revolutionist made a lot of noise they had neither organization or real leadership behind them. Even the terrorists held aloof while waiting for bigger game. Those two parties which already have forfeited the sympathy of the major portion of the liberals now stand discredited by their failure with the working lower classes generally. Their attempt to retrieve their lost prestige in St. Petersburg by proclaiming a general strike for to-day has also broken down, the workmen refusing to follow their leadership. A period o calm is now likely to supervene in which the intelligent elements of reform which are not in sympathy with violence will devote themselves as they are doing to destroying and elaborating ideas of the form which the promised popular representation should take and to bringing rational pressure to bear on the government to meet their views.

Everything now depends on Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky, but cool observers are more and more convinced that the reforms of the Russian state, like all their predecessors, will come from above and not from below. The people are not ripe for physical revolution. In the meantime reforms in all directions are being worked out, although Liberals are too impatient properly to appreciate the great changes which are gradually being effected. The repeal of the law prohibiting Poles from buying land will be followed by a general amelioration of the condition of the Jews touching particularly the extension of the right of residence on which the committee of ministers is now earnestly laboring.

CHAMBERLAINISM AND ITS EFFECTS

Manchester Guardian Thinks Weakening to Imperial Ties

(Canadian Associated Press Cable).

London, May 15.—The Manchester Guardian says that the Toronto Globe, perhaps the most influential newspaper in Canada and one of the most valued supporters of the Laurier Government says in the course of a leading article on the term "Imperialism": "Many people in this country believe that the solidarity of the Empire can be promoted by mutual benefit but not by mutual hurts. They believe that when the masses in Britain can lay the enhanced cost of their food at the door of imperialism the tie between the mother country and the colonies will be weakened rather than strengthened."

This warning, says the Guardian, receives a kind of illustration from the agitation which is persistently carried on in Canada against the present preference upon British goods. To give one example out of many furnished by the last two or three years the Toronto News, an independent journal of considerable influence with both parties, publishes with great prominence, an article headed "Woolen Mills and the Tariff." Canadians badly hit by the British preference, it is time for a change."

Already then the Colonists begin to lay their industrial depression at the door of Imperialism, and in order to make things better we are to give our own people here a dearth of food to lay at its doors.

It is apparent also, on both sides, that a Chamberlainism appears as a solvent rather than a cement for the Empire.

NO WLESH PATAGONIANS COMING.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable)

London, May 15.—Recently rumours have been afloat that some Welsh settlers at Chubut in Patagonia were anxious to emigrate to Canada. A cable just received in London from a Compana merchant at Chubut, Patagonia, the Canadian Associated Press understands states "We know nothing of the alleged emigration, it is false."

ANGLO-FRENCH TREATY.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable).

London, May 15.—A Paris despatch says that the arbitration tribunall, constituted in virtue of article 3 of the Anglo-French treaty, for awarding indemnities to all those whose interests were prejudiced by the abandonment of French rights in Newfoundland, will meet June 1st in Paris. The tribunal is to be composed of Captain Aubry, of the French navy, and M. Deloye, agents of the French Government and Rear Admiral Charles Campbell, and Hon. Ernest Scott, agents of the British Government. The indemnities are claimed by some six hundred sailors, who ask for sums from two to three thousand francs, representing one to two years salary; also by owners deprived of their establishments on the treaty shore. The claims in all amount to twenty million francs.

CITIZEN HELD UP ON CHAMP DE MARS

Detectives Arrived Just in Time to Save Lauzeau's Life

Champ de Mars is getting to be a place to be avoided after the shades of night have fallen on the city. Less than a week ago an unsuspecting individual just escaped robbery by a chance acquaintance picked up while passing through that interesting square and last night Victor Lauzon of Ste. Elizabeth street not only came near to losing his purse and watch, but also ran close to being jabbed by a dangerous looking dagger.

The man with the weapon, who gives his name as Francois Bois, twenty years of age, a Frenchman born in Sweden, says he has only been in this country for a short while and from certain remarks let fall since the arrest, Chief Carpenter is of opinion he may be one of many who are wanted by the French police, and so Judge Lafontaine was asked to-day to grant a remand until Thursday, by which time it is hoped some hints at least, may be forthcoming regarding the prisoner's antecedents.

Lauzon, although rather badly handled, held on pluckily to his assailant, but says the detectives got there just in time to save him from the knife.

ALDERMEN DELUGED WITH LETTERS ASKING THEM TO SUPPORT MAYOR'S ACTION IN APPLYING THE VETO

This afternoon, in the City Council, the aldermen of Montreal will be called upon to sustain Mayor Laporte's veto upon the proposed fifteen-year extension of the Montreal Gas Company's contract with the city. That his Worship will be upheld by the best element in the Council is a foregone conclusion, and the result, confidently expected by the citizens, who pay $1.20 for their gas at present, is that upon the Mayor's reason for his veto being produced, the resolution adopted at last Monday's meeting will be thrown aside. Then the fight for seventy-five cent gas will be initiated.

His Worship's report upon the matter will be a strong argument for cheaper gas for the citizens of Montreal, and a plea for the deepest consideration of the question if the municipalization of the whole gas proposal.

The illegality of the recent resolution passed through the City Council will be touched upon, and his Worship's attitude borne out by the opinions of the city attorneys. Mayor Laporte, it will be remembered, claimed that the resolution, as adopted a week ago, by the narrowest majority of the city fathers, was not in accordance with the regulations of the city charter, and further investigation revealed the fact that to attain the end desired by the Council, a by-law to that effect must be prepared and put through its usual three readings.

It is possible that the whole question may end up in the courts. If there are more than nineteen aldermen vote against the veto, the resolution becomes law—pending the settlement of its legality.

The general impression is that Mayor Laporte has won his fight for the city, and that he will be sustained in his check to the operations of the Council.

In conversation with a Herald reporter this morning Mayor Laporte stated that he had his report in good shape, and expressed the utmost confidence over the coming vote on his veto. Referring to a rumor that Mr. R. Forget, at the special meeting of the Board of Trade last week, had hinted that he was looking for a second term as a result of the cheap gas question, his Worship stated that such was not the case.

"I'm not a second term candidate," said Mayor Laporte. "That was my resolution at first, and I have not changed my mind. My answer to Mr. Forget is that I am opposing the gas contract because I think it is my duty. The reason I became an alderman is associated with this same gas contract, made ten years ago. I entered Council to fight for cheap gas—and I'm going to win."

At this afternoon's session Ald. L. A. Lapointe will endeavor to explain how the words "a going concern" slipped into his now famous amendment, and the whole question will be thoroughly aired. Many aldermen have promised to vote with the Mayor, so that the present contract, as it stands since last Monday, will be declared null and void.

The question of the three per cent., and to what figure it amounts, as well as the difference betwen that sum and the "five cent" annual reduction will be brought up and brought to a satisfactory end.

Herald Stand Freely Endorsed.

In the interests of cheap gas, The Herald sent out Thursday a number of postal cards, with the request that the receiver sign them and return the paper to his or her alderman. Since Friday morning's mail the city fathers have been literally deluged with requests to "vote against the contract—and support the Mayor."

His Worship will be supported.

Hundreds of cards were received at the Herald office on Saturday and today, and there were many applications for more cards by those who were anxious to do missionary work among their friends.

MR. EDWARD DUFFY DIED YESTERDAY

Was Only Surviving Brother of the Late Hon. H. T. Duffy, Provincial Treasurer.

Mr. Edward Duffy, of Ulverton, died there yesterday as the result of an operation following on a severe kick from a horse. Mr. Duffy, who was about forty-five years of age, was the only surviving brother of the late Hon. H. T. Duffy, Treasurer of the Provincial Cabinet, and was greatly esteemed by his many friends in Montreal and elsewhere.

Mr. Duffy's demise is peculiarly regrettable when one considers that five members of the fami have died within the last three years—Mr. Duffy's mother, three brothers and a brother-in-law. Mr. Duffy is survived by his father and two sisters and leaves a widow and one child, for all of whom much sympathy is felt. Mr. Duffy, who was a farmer, lived on the old homestead where the family was born. The funeral will take place at Ulverton at 1.30 to-morrow.

TRAGIC CAREER OF CHARLOTTE WOOD

Spent Half a Century in Prison for Triple Murder

WAS A NATIVE OF QUEBEC

Woman Known as "Veiled Murderess" Was the Daughter of Wealthy Merchant of the Ancient Capital.

New York, May 15.—The Herald says: "Mrs. Henrietta Robinson," known as "The veiled murderess," who died in the asylum of the criminal insane at Mattewan on Saturday, and who has been in prison for more than a half century for three murders, was the daughter of a wealthy merchant in Quebec. Her maiden name was Charlottee Wood. Her father sent her to the Emma Willard Seminary in Troy, N. Y., with her three sisters. As a young girl she was very beautiful.

Of a romantic disposition, she resented the plans of her father to marry her to a titled Englishman and said that if she were forced to wed against her wishes she would leave her husband in less than a year and cause a public scandal.

She made good her threat after her marriage to Lord Wm. Elliott. On her return to her father's house admission was refused to her and she returned to Troy, where she sought the aid and advice of the head of the Seminary. At a hotel she met a politician, with whom she says she secretly married. His name was not disclosed in any of the court proceedings. She took up her residence in one of the quiet streets of the town and lived alone. Her beauty was the subject of much comment, and although she seemed to be a person of culture and refinement she avoided the society of her equals. The only family with whom she was on any terms of intimacy in Troy lived across the street from her house. It consisted of Timothy Lanigan, a grocer, his wife, and Miss Lubee, a relative.

She once attended a party given by the Lanigans, where one of the guests made a remark which she considered insulting and the Lanigans sided with the person whom she accused of offending her.

She called the following day on the grocer, and, saying that she had been hasty, effected a reconciliation with him. At her request the family sent out for a quart of beer and into this she sliped a quantity of arsenic, which resulted in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Lanigan and Miss Lubee.

Every effort was made to conceal the real name of the woman. In her isolated life in Troy she was known as Mrs. Henrietta Robinson.

BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER.

About eight o'clock yesterday morning some men working about the steamer Gaspesian at the Victoria pier saw the body of a man floating in the river. They took it from the water and had it transferred to the Morgue. The body was that of a man six feet in height, stoutclean shaven, with dark hair. It had on blue serge pants and vest, new laced boots, two pairs of black socks, a white shirt, and two undershirts. There was no collar, necktie or caot nor any mark by which the body could be identified. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition and was doubtless in the river all winter.

GAYNOR AND GREENE CASE ENDS BUT WILL GO TO HIGHER COURT

Judge Lafontaine Will Give Decision Next Monday—Further Habeas Corpus Proceedings Probable Before Court of King's Bench

Argument in the Gaynor and Greene case was concluded on Saturday afternoon, and Judge Lafontaine now has it en libere, until Monday, May 22nd, when he will render the judgment which will either free the famous fugitives or send them back to Georgia for trial.

The counsel for the defence are confident that under the many legal objections they have raised they will win out. But even should Judge Lafontaine find against them they have, and will take, one final resort. After an extradition order issues fifteen days must elapse before the prisoners are deported, to permit a further test of the case. If the defence are not satisfied with the decision they can apply to a Judge of the Court of Kings Bench for a writ of Habeas Corpus, and on this re-argue the whole case before the Court of Kings Bench, generally on points of law rather than facts. Should the latter court refuse to reverse the finding of the Extradition Commissioner then, it is "all off" and both the prisoners go to meet their trial. In case it should be necessary counsel for Messrs. Gaynor and Greene state that they will follow this course. In fact when one objection after another on Saturday was disposed of by Judge Lafontaine, Mr. T. Chase Casgrain impatiently remarked: "Of course we'll have to renew our objections before a higher court, they don't seem of much use here."

Mr. D. Frank Lloyd, Asst. U. S. District Attorney for New York City was the first witness called by the prosecutor to minimize the evidence previously given by Mr. Rose attacking the legality of the New York proceedings against the fugitives.

He said he had been practising at New York since 1883, in various offices and was familiar with the course of the New York State courts.

A long argument followed. Mr. Casgrain declaring that Mr. Lloyd's examination regarding the custom of the New York courts in taking evidence could only be declared by a conviction on Mr. Macmaster's part that Judge Lafontaine's previous ruling that the New York evidence was properly taken and admissable was wrong. He might have that opinion very justly said Mr. Casgrain, but that did not make Mr. Lloyd's statements admissable in rebuttal. The defence's evidence on the subject had been ruled out before on parallel grounds and now he demanded that a similar ruling should apply to Mr. Lloyd's evidence.

Mr. Macmaster said that as Mr. Rose had volunteered the opinion that the New York deposition, not being signed, meant no more than an unsigned cheque he wanted now to prove that Mr. Rose's opinion was not correct. In fact he considered the objections childish, and even approaching "poppycock," but substituted the words "futile and unfounded" as counsel for the defence did not like these qualitatives.

Finally Mr. Macmaster argued that while Mr. Rose's statement was on the records the New York evidence was worthless, and he was entitled to ask Mr. Lloyd's opinion as to the signing of the evidence and affidavits.

Mr. Casgrain said they had been excluded from putting in expert evidence on this point, and had sent their witnesses back, and it would not be fair now to allow the prosecutor to bring in experts to prove what the Judge had already ruled could not be proved.

A long argument followed the defence, as anxious to keep out Mr. Lloyd's testimony on this point as Mr. Macmaster was to get it in, finally moving that Mr. Rose's statement be stricken out so that there would be nothing to rebut. Mr. Macmaster objected to this motion, which was rejected.

Mr. Lloyd then said that in his opinion Mr. Rose's opinion was not well founded on the New York laws.

Having got this statement from Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Macmaster then himself moved that this statement of Mr. Rose be "kicked out of the record."

Naturally then Messrs. Casgrain and Taschereau objected to this, but remained in a state of masterly inactivity, leaving Judge Lafontaine to settle the motion, remarking that Mr. Macmaster had already made his choice of opposing the motion when it was made by the other side.

Hon. Marion Erwin was then recalled, and said that all the testimony before Commissioner Shields was taken in his presence, he conducting the proceedings. He finally said that he thought most of the witnesses in New York had an opportunity to read over their depositions. He proceeded to express an opinion on the matter, and was promptly called to time by Mr. Casgrain, who told him that the U. S. already had two of the most eminent counsel in Canada, and it was not necessary to put his oar in.

Mr. Macmaster declared then that it was too late to attack the validity of the New York evidence, as it had been used and not objected to in two New York courts as stated by Mr. Erwin.

OPENING OF ARGUMENT.

Argument by Counsel was then opened by Mr. Taschereau, speaking in French. The Quebec counsel devoted himself mainly to the technical legal questions on which the defense has largely rested its case. He devoted considerable time to attacking the validity of the New York evidence, both as to its not being technically evidence according to the laws of New York, and also emphasizing the point that, as it was taken on a charge of conspiracy it could scarcely now be used on a charge of embezzlement.

Mr. Casgrain reviewed similar points, objecting that extradition was being asked on a totally different charge to that resting against Gaynor and Greene in the States. Reviewing then the evidence in the specific charge laid against the fugitives in Canada that Gaynor and Greene with O. M. Carter embezzled $575,000 from the U. S. Government, he maintained that there was no actual proof against Carter, so that his clients could scarcely be guilty of complicity.

THE OTHER SIDE DIFFERS.

Mr. Donald Macmaster followed, dealing mainly with the legal points raised by the defense, which he, one by one vigorously combatted, taking the ground that in so important an international case it must be a grave technical defect that could interfere with the course of justice. In any event he argued the whole case must be considered from the standpoint of Canadian, not English law, as the defence argued.

Mr. G. G. Stuart devoted himself to the printed evidence in the particular charge selected to secure extradition which he held was amply proven.

Judge Lafontaine then took the case en delibere, remarking that if the defense wished to offer any evidence along the lines previously ruled out he would give them an opportunity to do so.

GET YOUR BOWELS TO MOVE

Now see here a minute, my friend! You ought to know that you cannot cure pain in the head, or heartburn, and shooting pains in the stomach with headache powders and liniments. That stuff, you rub on doesn't remove the cause. You have got to go down where the trouble is. What you want to do is to get your bowels to work. Take three Hutch to-night. Take one after each meal. It takes out these pains by stopping the fermentation of the food. It is easily taken and does not contain any injurious substances. It is a hundred times better than Elixirs, Sarsaparillas, iron and acid preparations. Don't lose time fooling with such things but start using Hutch as quickly as you can. It's a doctor for ten cents.

BOARD OF HEALTH ON CATTLE DISEASE

Wish to Have Provincial Control in Matters of Cattle Inspection.

The Provincial Board of Health, at its recent meeting, suggested the provincial control over cattle in view of the Federal Government having discontinued enforcement of the contagious diseases (animals) act, except for cattle imported or exported. To combat the presumable attendant increase of tuberculosis among cattle, provincial control was suggested as follows:

Notification of any suspicious cow to be given to the municipal authorities; examination of the animal by a veterinary surgeon; isolation of the animal found to be tuberculosis from the rest of the cattle; prohibition of sale of the milk from a cow, which has reached an advanced stage of the disease, or which has a tuberculous udder; tuberculosis cattle to be sold for slaughtering only, the slaughtering to be done in the presence of a special inspector, who would decide if the whole carcass or part of it only is to be confiscated; farmers and breeders should be encouraged to have their herds tested with tuberculine, to fatten up as quickly as possible for slaughtering any animal which has reacted, and to replenish their stock with tested animals only.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"That the Provincial Board of Health would hail with the greatest pleasure the organization in every university rural, employ as their sanitary inspectors of all kinds, only such individuals of the province without exception of a special and practical course of public health, such courses affording to physicians who desire to become heads of health departments, municipal or otherwise, the means of proving their competency by a diploma of public health."

"That it is eminently desirable, in the interests of the public, that all sanitary authorities, whether urban or as have had a training in sanitary knowledge. By such means the public interest would be served, first in the fact that the salaries of such qualified men are much the same as for unqualified; and, secondly, that such qualified men would be enabled to do more work in a given time, and much more efficiently; also that they would, in their dealings with the public, work much more harmoniously, conducing to public support in sanitary improvements."

"Whereas, the carrying out of the sanitary laws and regulations suffers from lack of the most elementary knowledge of hygiene among the masses; whereas, personal hygiene cannot be dealt with by legislation, and that consequently it is only by generalizing some knowledge of hygiene that any improvement can be secured in the unsanitary conditions which are responsible for so many premature deaths, notably among infants; knowing the good results obtained in Germany from the organization of household training schools, of which one of the principal objects is the teaching of hygiene; resolved, that an earnest recommendation be made to the government to inaugurate in the province a method for spreading a knowledge of the teaching of the first elements of the subject in every school."

Many sanitary questions were discussed by the board, and measures recommended, as the necessity of insisting on physicians' certificates for interment, medical inspection of schools, inspection of dairies, and a new method of disinfection with formaldehyde gas. At the meeting were present Dr. E. P. Lachapelle, president; Mr. H. R. Gray, Drs. R. Craik, L. Catellier, Pantaleon Pelletier, Arthur Simard, P. J. L. Bissonnette, Elzear Pelletier, secretary, and J. A. Beaudry, inspector.

CONSERVATIVE PARTY TO HOLD CONVENTION

Will Reorganize Here in September—Hon. Mr. Flynn Out of Politics.

On September 19th next, the Conservative party of Quebec Province, will hold a convention for the purpose of reorganizing the party, electing a leader and generally attempting to wipe out the effects of the hara kiri it committed at the last elections. Every district of the Province will be asked to send representatives to the Montreal convention in order to effect a thorough regeneration.

This is the result of a conference between Hon. T. J. Flynn, the titular head of the party and a number of leading Montreal Conservatives at the Jacques Cartier Club on Saturday night. Mr. Flynn announced that he was ready to do all in his power to help along the reorganization, but had finally decided not to re-enter the political arena, no matter what might happen. He considered that even though the Conservatives had not gained by their tactics of last November they had at least lost nothing. With a good leader he thought it would be found that the Conservative principles were still alive, and the lost ground of the last few years could be recovered by good organization.

The proposition was fully discussed and it was decided to call the reorganization meeting for September 19th, and invite all the Conservative organizations of the city to send representatives to a committee which will take charge of the preliminary work of the convention.

TO REVOLUTIONIZE THE DRAIN-PIPE

Company Formed in Montreal to Acquire Unique Self-Centring Device

The patent rights and the right of manufacture in the rovince of Quebec of a very important improvement in clay and iron drain pipes have just been acquired by a group of Montreal capitalists, who are engaged in the formation of a company to be styled the Dominion Self-centering Drain Pipe Company. Works will be erected on a very large scale in the vicinity of Montreal, and contracts are already being made for the erection of the latest drain pipe machinery used by the British Clayworkers' Association. A Canadian pipe expert is being sent over to England to study the methods of manufacture in the factory of H. R. Mansfield, M.P., president of the Clayworkers' Association, where the pipes have for some time been manufactured for English and foreign consumption. It is propable that a number of trained English pipemakers will be brought out for the new company's operations.

The pipe is the invention of Mr. M. H. Rylatt, Boston, England. Its essential feature is the presence in the socket of three tapered bars, running from the mouth of the socket almost, but not quite, to the end of the interior tube of the pipe. As the spigot of the second pipe is laid in the socket of the first, it rests on these three bars, which as it is pushed in guide it up to its exact position in the centre of the socket, giving what engineers call a "true invert"—in other words, a smooth interior join between every two pipes. This centring operation is done in ordinary pipes by guesswork on the part of the layer, who, if the joint is to be anything like exact, must be a man of considerable expertness. The new pipe can be laid by anybody. The groove between the tapered bars and the base of the socket is simply to provide a solid ring of cement all round the joint. The cost of adding these three bars is so insignificant that the new pipe can be made for almost the same cost as the plain pipe, while other patent pipes have all been extremely expensive. The immense improvement from the sanitation point of view needs no demonstrating, and has already ben vouched for by the city engineers of Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa, and many drainage experts of this country and England. The pipe received distinguished honors and a diploma at the recent International Exhibition of Inventors in England, and Col. Gouraud, chairman of the jurors, wrote to the exhibitors offering personally to bear the cost of a special gold medal, so useful did he consider the device.

The invention is equally applicable to iron pipes, and the purchase of the Canadian rights for this class of manufacture is under consideration by a leading Montreal iron-casting firm. Mr. Rylatt leaves shortly to place his invention in the United States. He then returns to England and is taking out patents for Japan and other countries where not already protected. He has been greatly assisted by letters of introduction and commendation from Lord Strathcona, and in the analysis of clay by Professor Hoffman, of the Department of Geological Survey of Ottawa, and Professor Coleman, of the Provincial Department of Mineralogy and Bureau of Mines, Toronto.

SIX PERSONS INJURED IN PASSENGER TRAIN WRECK

Emporia, Kas., May 15.—An Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe passenger train was ditched by train wreckers yesterday, just east of Emporia. Six passengers were injured and two will probaly die.

This is the fourth attempt in the last four months to wreck passenger trains in the same place. Previous attempts were made by piling ties on the track, and without serious results. To-day's wreck was caused by removing the spikes and fish plates of two rails on the inside of a curve. The locomotive passed over the rails safely, but a mail car left the track and was dragged a hundred yards along the embankement before the train was stopped. The next five cars, two express and baggage cars, a smoking car and two day coaches, went into the ditch across the right of way fence. The end of the bagage car went up in the air high enough to ground the telegraph wires. Two Pullman cars remained on the track.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 15.—Mr. McKinnon, proprietor of the Victoria Hotel, was fined $1 and costs by Stipendiary Magistrate Quibell, on being convicted under the liquor license act of refusing accommodation to travellers. Chetawayo claims to be a nephew to the late Zulu king of that name.

STEPPED BACK TO CANADA.

United States Do Not Want the Fifty Brazilians.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 15.—Fifty Brazilians, to whom admission to this country was refused by immigration inspectors, were deported to Canada. They have been held here for five weeks, pending a decision on an appeal they took to Washington, the men in the party claiming citizenship under naturalization papers purporting to have been issued in West Virgina. The Government held the certificates fraudulent.

Theo Brazilians came across the river from Canada at night, and landed in the country district, going overland to Rensselaer Falls and boarding a New York train. They were detained while changing trains at Dekalb. In the party are twenty-two children under twelve years of age.

TREASURES OF FIELD AND MINE AWAIT THE INCOMING SETTLER IN THE FAR CANADIAN NORTHWEST

Ottawa, May 15.—(Special.)—A man has recently arrived at the Canadian capital from the Peace River country. He is W. F. Bredin and he has been a rancher in the northern portion of Western Canada for many years. With a few other men he has been waiting the advent of a railroad which would let the settlers into the north country and let the stuff that they raise out to the markets of the world.

Mr. Bredin has an interesting story to tell of the riches of the Peace River country and the Athabasca valley. In the former there has been successful farming carried on for two hundred years. Thirty years ago wheat grown at Fort Chipewayan was awarded the gold medal at the Philadelphia Centennial exhibition. Yet this region has been so little settled that it affords sanctuary for the only wild head of buffalo on the continent.

The National Transcontinental Railway is about to pierce this solitude. A hint of what the settlers who will pour in will find there is given by Mr. Bredin's narrative. Perhaps the greatest thing, after the fertile stretches awaiting the plow, is the splendid system of water communication afforded by the Peace River and its tributaries. This system of waterways promises to be of as great service to the people who settle along the banks as has been the St. Lawrence, the Ottawa and the Richelieu rivers in the province of Quebec or the St. John River and its tributaries in the province of New Brunswick. Mr. Bredin tells of the wealth of the fisheries, of the forests, of coal deposits, of oil and gas wells of salt and of agricultural and grazing lands which the new railroad is going to tap. This country would have been settled and largely exploited long ago if it were not for the fact that the streams fall into the Arctic Ocean and therefor an outlet to the sea has been impossible.

NORTH OF EDMONTON.

Mr. Bredin is a member of the firm of Bredin & Cornwall, of Peace River. "The Grand Trunk Pacific" said Mr. Bredin to The Herald correspondent, "will pass through Athabasca for a distance of 150 miles on its way to the Pine River Pass and the Pacific Ocean. The survey shows that it will run within seventy-five miles of the Peace River. The intervening country between the railway and the Peace River is well adapted for general settlement. The whole trade of the Peace River and Mackenzie district will go by the Peace River as soon as the transcontinental line passes through Athabasca. The waters of the Peace River are navigable from the foot of the Rocky Mountain portage at Hudson Hope to the chutes below Vermilion, a distance of 600 miles by river. Below the chute it is navigable for a distance of 300 miles to Smith's Landing. Below Fort Smith, which is at the north end of Smith Rapids there is uninterrupted navigation for 1,300 miles into the Arctic ocean. This line of navigation connects at Chippewyan with the Athabasca Lake, and at Fort Resolution with Great Slave Lake. At Fort Norman on the Mackenzie River by making use of Bear River it connects with the navigation of Great Bear Lake. Great Bear Lake is now estimated by geographers as the fifth largest in area in the world. Th navigation is good for steamboats in the river from the time the ice goes out in the spring until the fall. The ice disappears about the 10th of April and the river closes about the end of November.

A LAND TO BE PEOPLED.

"The country lying along the Peace River is well adapted for settlement. The navigable waters of the Peace River start in British Columbia west of the Rockies. There is steamboat navigation for seventy-five miles west of the mountains to where the Finlay and the Parsnip Rivers come together. Each of these is navigable for York boats for seventy-five miles above their confluence. The Peace River is the most southern one on this continent which has its source west of the Rockies. There is big timber on the river west of the mountains, also on the Finlay and the Parsnip. Last year there were a great many mining claims located near Mount Selwyn. At the confluence of the Finlay and Parsnip there is a large tract of very fine farming land."

WHERE THE PIONEERS ARE.

"What about the settlements on the Peace River, east of the Rockies?"

"At Mowberly Lake, near Hudson Hope, south of the river, there is the nucleus of a white and a half breed settlement. There is also a settlement at St. John. This is the headquarters for "B" division of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police which is now engaged in surveying and building an overland route to the Yukon. St. John is their base. At this point there is a large fur trade with the Beaver Indians who hunt north to Nelson River. The firms engaged in this trade are the Hudson Bay Company, Bredin & Cornwall, and D. Desjardins. There are large deposits of iron and bituminous coal a few miles up the river. There is a Roman Catholic and English Church mission. At Dunvegan, 120 miles below St. John, farming has been carried on for 100 years, first by the Northwest Company and afterward by the Hudson Bay Company. Fifteen miles south of Dunvegan is the Spirit River settlement containing about twenty-five settlers who farm quite extensively and have large herds of cattle and horses. Farming has been carried on here for eighteen years very successfully. There is a Presbyterian mission, a Roman Catholic mission and Hudson Bay Company and Bredin & Cornwall posts. Sixty miles south is the celebrated Grand Prairie. It is a beautiful rolling well watered country, seventy-five miles north and south and twenty-five miles east and west. Here there is a Roman Catholic mission and two trading posts, and farming has been carried on successfully for five years. The average feeding season for the last five winters has been six weeks each winter. The Chinook winds blow strongly over the prairie. The Grand Trunk Pacific will run through the prairie.

"Sturgeon Lake is forty miles south of the Smoky River. The Grand Trunk Pacific will pass close to the lake. White fish are plentiful and the country is excellent for settlement. The soil is good and vegetables grow well. This is a half breed Indian settlement with a Roman Catholic mission, and three trading posts.

MILLS OF TWO KINDS.

"Eighty miles below Dunvegan is Peace River crossing settlement where there are two flour mills, one circular saw mill, two shingle mills, and one planing mill. There is a Church of England mission and a Roman Catholic mission. W. H. Carson who comes from the county of Russell, has one of the grist mills and shingle mills. Mr. Carson will have one hundred acres under wheat this year. The Roman Catholic mission has one of the other grist mills and a shingle as well as a planing mill. The shingle and planing mills were built by the Waterous Company of Brantford, Ont. There is connected with the Roman Catholic mission a propeller steamboat which plies between Hudson's Hope and the chutes. At this settlement wheat, oats and barley have been raised for a great many years. There are 250 people in the settlement, and about 30 settlement claims located.

To my knowledge corn has ripened at this point for ten years. Squashes grow well.

PETROLEUM IN SIGHT.

"Twenty miles south of Peace River crossing is what is known as the Little Prairie settlement where ten settlers are engaged in stock raising and agriculture. A short distance below the crossing there is an exposure of coal on the south bank of the river and a few miles further down on Tar Island there is an exposure of tar indicating that there are deposits of petroleum.

"Fifty miles below Peace River crossing is Cadote River with a half breed settlement and two trading posts. Thirty miles below that is Battle River. At Battle River there are two trading posts. Eighty miles below is Wolverine Point, an old half breed settlement where stock raising and agriculture have been carried on with success for a number of years. There are also a Roman Catholic mission and a couple of trading posts there. North of Wolverine Point about 50 miles near the Hay River and on the Keg River there is a French Canadian half breed settlement. The French Canadians are engaged in mixed farming and raise cattle and grain. One of the settlers, Clement Paul has a saw mill run by water power.

WHERE WHEAT GROWS.

"Eighty miles below Wolverine Point is the old settlement of Vermillion. Here last year there were 12,000 bushels of wheat raised as well as a large quantity of barley and oats. The Hudson Bay Company has a 50 barrel roller mills electrically ligted. This is in latitude 58 1-2. The Hudson Bay Company have also a saw mill, planing mill and shingle mill run by steam.

During the past winter the Hudson Bay Company built a 120-foot steamer to ply on te Upper Peace and they also have a propeller brought in last winter from the Lake of the Woods which will ply between the Chutes and the Rockies. Around Vermillion there is a large white and half-breed settlement, the latter English speaking and engaged largely in agriculture.

ANOTHER RICH VALLEY.

"You have talked so far of the Peace River Valley, what about the Athabasca Valley?"

"In order to speak of that we must go back to Lesser Slave Lake which is 86 miles south of Peace River crossing. There are at Lesser Slave Lake 600 whites and half breeds, and the country is well suited for mixed farming. It is well wooded and has magnificent hay lands and coal deposits. The lake abounds in white fish, lake trouth and five varieties of coarser fish. Large quantities of white fish are shipped from here to the American market. In the settlement there are four stores, two saw mills, two planing mills, two shingl mills, one stone flour mill and two Roman Catholic missions. This is the seat of the Bishop of the Diocese of Athabasca. There is also a Church of England mission with a large and well conducted school attached to it. Through the munificence of Lady Shultz of Winnipeg and the contributions of the settlement another new frame English church was erected last summer at Treaty Point in the settlement. There is a royad North West Mounted Police post in charge of Inspector West, three blacksmith shops and wagon repairing shops, two carpenters who are also building contractors. There are large quantities of grain and vegetables grown and horses and cattle raised. I forgot to mention that Spirit River, Dunvegan, Peace River Crossing and Lesser Lake all have post offices. It is a splendid country, well wooded with large deposits of coal and splendid prairie openings.

RICHES ABOUT A LAKE.

The settlement is around the west end of the lake. The lake is seventy-five miles long with an average width of about fifteen miles. At its eastern end are immense hay meadows and extensive uplands suitable for cultivation, also coal, timber, and everything necessary for a first-class settlement. At the east end of the lake are three large trading posts. The Lesser Slave river runs out of Lesser Slave Lake and into the Athabasca river. The Lesser Slave River is sixty miles long. It more resembles an eastern river than any in the west. On its banks are prairies covered with a fine luxuriant growth of grass. Fifty-five miles from the Lake down the Lesser Slave river is joined by Moose River. At this confluence there are fine prarie lands and the nucleus of a white settlement where grain and vegetables are successfuly raised.

A NORTHERN TRADING POINT.

Fifty-eight miles below is the town of Athabasca Landing, where there are large warehouses used for storing the freight and goods for the Athabasca Lake, Great Slave Lake and Mackenzie River trade. There are four large stores, two hotels, two missions, a public school, two saw mills and large boat building yards. It is also the home of the steamer Midnight Sun, owned by Cornwall & Woods, and plying in Athabasca river below Athabasca landing, 160 miles to the Grand Rapids and up th Athabasca river and into Lesser Slav Lake. The Government has promised a sum of money to fix the riffles on the Little Slave Lake, which will give continuous navigation to the settlement of Lesser Slave Lake.

Natural gas flows out of the bank of the Athabasca River between Grand Rapids and Fort McMurray, and below the latter point for about 100 miles the shore consists of naturally formed asphalt.

At Fort McMurray the steamers from Smith's Landing and Chippewyan meet the freight and take it north. Clearwater river is on the old route from Montreal to the Athabasca and Peace Rivers, and is also the route followed by Sir Alexander Mackenzie when he made his discovery of the Mackenzie river and made his overland trip to the Pacific in the latter part of the eighteenth century. It was also the route taken by Sir John Franklin on one of his explorations, and afterwards by Lieut. Back and Dr. Rae in search of Franklin. There are two trading posts here. From this point to Smith's Landing is a distance of 300 miles. Steamboat navigation is good. The Hudson Bay Company, Hislop & Nagle, Colin Fraser and the Roman Catholic mission have steamers plying over this 300 miles. Sixteen miles below Fort McMurray is Fort McKay, where there are three concerns trading with the Indians; 184 miles below Fort McKay and on Lake Athabasca is Fort Chippewyan, the centre of the great fur bearing region of Athabasca Lake.

LAST OF THE BISON.

Smith's Landing is the beginning of a portage, fourteen miles in length, to pass the rapids on the Great Slave river. Here the river cuts through the Cariboo mountians. Smith's Landing is a very important steamboat point for the west and south. At the other end of this portage is Fort Smith, close to the 60th parallel of latitude, which is the northern boundary of Alberta. West of Fort Smith roam the only wild herd of buffalo on the American contient. These buffalo have been there from time immemorial which goes to show that there is good herbage and that the climate is favorable. A few miles west of Fort Smith is Salt River, along the banks of which salt springs exist and from which the salt supply for the Great Slave Lake and Mackenzie River region is obtained.

Fort Smith is the most southern point to which the inconu fish reach. This is a large silver scale white fleshed salmon, which comes in from the Arctic and which is not found in any other waters in the wrold, whence the name unknown. Two hundred miles below this is Great Slave Lake, which when surveyed may be found to be as large as Lake Superior.

A GREAT OIL REGION.

All the country between Edmonton and the Mackenzie River is underlaid with fuel oil, the same oil as that found in Southern California and Texas. The by-product of it is asphalt, which will permit all the towns on the different transcontinental railways to be paved very cheaply. The fresh water fish wealth of the Mackenzie river basin, which includes the Athabasca, Peace River, Liard Rivers, is probably greater than all the rest of the world put together. North of Edmonton and situated in the new province of Alberta, lying along the Rockies, is a strip of country 350 miles long and 150 miles wide, underlaid with coal.

NO AMERICAN FIRMS HAVE SPACE MONOPOLY

Messrs. Robt. Reford and Company Deny Monopoly of Refrigerating Space.

Messrs. Robert Reford & Company emphatically deny the report from Chicago published in a contemporary on Saturday that the Armour Company had contracted to take up all the refrigerating space in the Thomson Line Steamships sailing from this port.

Referring to the affair to-day, the officials of the company stated that neither Armours nor any American firm have a mortgage upon our space in our vessels; the statement needs denial as several Canadan exporters of butter, etc., using refrigerating suace are enquiring to the facts.

DROPPED DEAD WHILE WORKING ON WHARF

Man, Whose Body is Yet Unclaimed, Died Suddenly While Loading Cattle.

While at work loading cattle on the steamer Huronian on Saturday afternoon, a strange drover dropped dead on the wharf. Thinking it only a faint the workmen present summoned the ambulance from the General Hospital. When it arrived the physician accompanying it pronounced the man dead.

The body was removed to the morgue but as yet has not been claimed. One of the workmen on the wharf said the man's name was John O'Neil, and that he lived at Point St. Charles. The police have been trying to locate the man's friends but have met with no success. Death was due to heart failure.

WAS STRUCK ON HEAD BY A HEAVY TRUCK

Mark Parsons Perhaps Fatally Hurt on Steamship Bavarian.

Mark Parsons, 35 years of age, who resides at 365 Bourgeois street, was very seriously injured yesterday afternoon on the steamer Bavarian, and the physicians say it is almost impossible for him to recover.

About three o'clock, while Parsons was at work in the hold of the steamer, a large four-wheled truck weighing almost half a ton, accidentally fell through the hatchway and struck the unfortunate man on the head. He was removed to the General Hospital, where an examination showed that he was suffering from a fracture of the skull and severe internal injuries. An operation will be performed this afternoon, but it is a forlorn hope, and it is hardly expected that the injured man's life can be saved.

The company will be formally notified that the service is unsatisfactory and requested to do better work, in accordance with their contract with the city.

ALD. VALLIERES HOLDS HIS SEAT

Petition Against His Election Dismissed With Costs

After a long course of litigation Ald. S. D. Vallieres has proved his right to his seat at the City Council, Mr. Justice Archibald on aSturday discussing all the charges brought in the petition brought to unseat him by Mr. F. X. Pepin.

The main ground on which Mr. Pepin sought to unseat Ald Vallieres was that he had treated voters during the contest, especially at a meeting on January 2th, 1904.

In discussing the action, with costs against the petitioner, Mr. Justice Archibald completely exonerated Ald. Vallieres from any wrong doing, saying:

"It appears that on the evening of 25th of January, at a joint meeting of Ald. Vallieres and his opponent, Hon. H. B. Rainville, the latter announced his withdrawal, and then Ald. Vallieres was elected by acclamation. At the close of this meeting, Mr. Vallieres invited those present to a treat at his expense. But this was spontaneous and had no connection with any previous undertaking or promise. The petition has wholly failed to make proof of corruption. Treating after an election can have no influence to annul the election, when the same is made simply with the object of gratifying the electors, and expressing the candidate's sense of his obligation to them and not in execution of any corrupt bargain or undertaking previous to the election."

BODY OF CHILD FOUND IN BOX

Gruesome Find at Ferncliffe. Is a Case of Child Murder.

Kingston, Ont., May 15.—(Special.)— On Saturday while Mrs. Henry Morton, of Gananoque, was looking for ferns and flowers at Ferncliffe, she came across a newly dug piece of ground covered by moss. She turned the moss over and soon found a soap box in which was found the body of a female child. The chief of police and coroner were notified, and an inquest ordered. The body was clothed in fine raiment and had been interred for several days. The infant had lived from three to five days after birth. Careful enquiries ae being made, and it is said the parties implicated will be disclosed.

ONE MORE APPEAL IN GAYNOR AND GREENE CASE

Fugitives' Counsel Seek to Quash Proceedings Before Judge Lafontaine.

In the Court of Appeals this morning a further effort was made by Messrs. Casgrain and Taschereau to have the Gaynor and Greene proceedings before Judge Lafontaine invalidated on the ground of each of jurisdiction. This is an appeal from the application to Judge Devidson for a writ of Prohibition, which was refused, and a subsequent appeal to the Appeal Court at Quebec dismissed on the ground of want of jurisdiction.

Messrs. Casgrain and Taschereau addressed the Court during most of the morning, arguing that although the Extradition Act was a Dominion affair the appointment of the Extradition Commissioners belonged to the Province, and that therefore Judge Lafontaine's appointment was unconstitutional.

Mr. Macmaster opened his reply shortly before adjournment.

"HERALD SERIALS ARE GOOD SERIALS"

"The Law of the Land"

By Emerson Hough, Author of "The Mississippi Bubble."

CHAPTER VII.—Continued.

Colonel Calvin Blount scarcely spoke, yet he gladly welcomed his neighbor, the storekeeper, Ben Buckner, who now came strolling up to the gallery steps; and he smiled with greater pleasure when he peered out of the window into the twilight and saw riding up to the gate his other neighbor, Jim Bowles, who carried across the saddle in front of him a long rifle. Behind Bowles, on the family mule, sat his wife, Sarah Ann, dipping snuff vigorously.

"Good even', Cunnel," said Bowles, alighting, "I heah you-all got a b'ah this mawnin'. just brung my own gun 'long heah, 'lowin' I might see somethin' 'long the road, even if it is gittin' a little dark." Blount smiled grimly. No mention was made of the ringing of the bell until Blount himself explained.

"You-all know something is up," said he.

"Yas, sah," said Buckner, evincing no great curiosity.

"Well, there's trouble enough on hand right now. We need every white man we can get. Bowles, take your wife inside to get something to eat, and you, Ben, go back and get your womenfolks; and don't forget your Winchester."

The bell spoke on. The plantation paths now began to blacken with slowly moving figures, but within the big House there was no confusion. Colonel Blount paced up and down the gallery. Hearing footfalls, he turned.

"Oh, it's you, Decherd, is it? I'm right glad you're going home to-morrow morning, and not to-night. We need men who can shoot. I will give you something for every black head you can make a hole in to-night. What would you like? Say about two dollars?" Decherd gulped and reddened, and made such shamefaced defense as he could. There was an ugly look of ill-temper on his face, but he found Calvin Blount a hard man to approach with any masculine asperities.

"The next time," said Blount to him, quietly, "if I were you, Mr. Decherd, and I heard the Blount pack going out, I don't believe I would ride along." He was away before Decherd could frame a reply. At that instant Eddring appeared on the gallery calling out to him.

"Listen, listen to it," cried Eddring, "don't you hear it? That's their drum; it's coming closer."

The little party of white men faced toward the sound.

"Here, Bill," cried Blount. "Call the ladies here to me at once." He turned to them, as presently they appeared, questioning him.

"Never mind," said he, "there's going to be a little trouble, but we can handle it. It's out of the difficulty with that Sands nigger that I was telling you about, Mrs. Ellison. Now, here, you and Miss Lady take these two pistols, and go into Miss Lady's room. No matter what happens, you stay there until you are called. If anyone tries to get into the room, wait until he gets almost in, then shoot, and shoot straight. Don't be scared, and keep quiet; we'll take care of you, these gentlemen and myself. I must tell you that it was my friend Mr. Eddring here who brought the news and warned us. You ought to thank him, but not now; get on into that room."

The women took the weapons, and Eddring noticed that of the two Mrs. Ellison seemed the more frightened. The younger one was pale, but her eye did not flicker or falter. She looked straight at each man, at Bowles and Buckner, both impassive, at Calvin Blount, now beginning to flush under his fighting choler; yes, and at last at him, John Eddring, pale and serious, but steady as the door-jamb against which he leaned.

"It was fortunate for us, sir, that you came," she said in a voice that did not tremble as much as did his in stammering a reply. So she passed on within, and the eyes of those silent men followed her.

"Now then, Bill," cried Calvin Blount, sharply, "get the hands into line so we can count them. Here, into the kitchen there, all you people, every one of you. If I see a head out of the window this night it will get a hole put through it. Do you hear? Get under cover and stay there. Ring that bell, Bill, louder, louder! Keep it going! We'll show these people what we think, and what we'll do."

So, high over the droning sounds of sleeping evening-tide, there arose the challenge of the white man's bell, calling out to the savage drum its answer and its defiance.

CHAPTER VIII.

The Volcano.

At length the sound of the bell and drum alike ceased. The great house went grim and silent. The sound of the flying night-jars died away, and the chorus of crickets and katydids began as the dusk settled down. Inside the kitchen, a detached building in which the plantation forces were now practically confined, there arose occasional sounds of half-hysterical laughter, snatches of excited talk, now and then the quavering of a hymn. In the kennel yards a hound, prescient, raised his voice, and was joined by another in the air, lifted up in tremulous unison a far-reaching wail.

After a time even the mingled calling of the pack droned away, and silence came once more, a silence hard to endure, since now each occupant of the Big House knew that the assailants must be close about. Each man had a window assigned to his care, and so all settled for the task ahead. An hour passed, that seemed a score of hours. Then, over toward the railroad track, there came a confused sound of muffled footfalls, in ragged unison, and presently a sort of chant, broken now and then by shoutings. Suddenly there boomed out once more, full and unmistakable, the voice of the great drum of Africa. The beating was now rapid and sonorous, and the sound of the drum was accompanied by a savage volume of cries. A mass of shadow appeared at the end of the lane, soon lapping over into the yard in front of the Big House.

There arose near at hand answering calls, containing a scarcely concealed note of encouragement. At a window in the kitchen there appeared a head and arm thrust out. Eddring saw it and pointed. "Why don't you shoot, man?" said the slow voice of Bowles at his elbow.

"I can't; it's murder!" said Eddring, drawing away. Yet even as he did so he saw the long brown barrel of the squirrel rifle rise level and hang motionless. There came a sharp, thin, inadequate report, and at the kitchen window the shoulders of the unfortunate flung upward and fell hanging. Eddring felt sick with horror, but Bowles lowered his rifle calmly, as if this were but target practice. Not a hand in the kitchen dared pull back into the room the body of the dead negro.

LOG DRIVING ON ST. MAURICE.

Three Rivers, May 15. — The recent rains have advanced the log driving on the St. Maurice considerably. What a successful drive means to the city and district will be better understood when it is known that there are some six million saw logs on the St. Maurice, five and a half million of which were made during the past winter, and half a million remaining over from last season. It will take all summer and late into the fall to saw up these logs, and it means plenty of work for the saw mills at Three Rivers, Grand Mere and Shawinigan Falls.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH FORMALLY DEDICATED: SERMON BY DR. POTTS

Very appropriate to the occasion was the text chosen by Rev. Dr. Potts, of Toronto, for the opening sermon at the new East End Methodist Church (Rev. Wm. H. Stevens) yesterday morning, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

Briefly touching on the outstanding features in the life of David, the preacher went on to deal with his writings as handed down to us in the Psalms, where, he claimed, David was seen at his best. In all our moods we turned to the Psalms, and every page gave evidence of David's love for the sanctuary. On the morning of the dedication of a church, what theme could be more appropriate than the gladness of worship which far surpassed that to be found in connection with any other phase of life. It was something appropriate that the house of the Lord lifted us above men and above denominations; they might look around and find no altar, no visible mercy seat, no manifest tokens of the presence of the Holy Spirit, but God was there that bright May morning for the acceptance of the repentant sinner.

The house of the Lord was suggestive of reverence, but the preacher warned his hearers against two extremes. There was no need, he said, to approach the church in fear and trembling as if it were a Holy of Holies from which they were debarred; neither was it right to treat the Lord's house with indifference, and look upon it as an ordinary place. God loved all homes, but he loved the Gates of Zion better than all. David's gladness was not greater than that of some who were present that day. Those who did not know of that gladness of spirit referred to by the Psalmist were those who did not attend church; those who were in touch with the spiritual life were the people who were glad and could realize the grandeur of David's words, "Let us go into the house of the Lord." It was a place of precious memory, a place of rest, and whether cathedral or conventicle, was where conversion was to be got. It was also a place of prayer and instruction. There was the education of the school and the college, but nothing could be greater in education than the Sunday service, nothing could equal the church of God as the Bible.

There was also a safety and pleasure in the house of the Lord. Nowhere was one's character so safe as when in association with fellow-worshippers, and the hours spent there were delightfully pleasant, for there was to be found the happy solution of earth's greatest questions. "What must I do to be saved," and "If a man die shall he rise again?" The scientist and the philosopher could not answer, but the singing, the sermon, and the reading of the word sent the heart out to Christ, the desire came to cling to the cross, the burden fell, and the believer was saved. David was glad, and the present-day church members were glad, because the house of the Lord supplied the deepest needs of our nature; in breathing its spiritual atmosphere we found that for misery there was mercy. There they experienced that hope that came by grace; God satisfied the hunger of the soul, and everything that was wanted by the sinner, all of which accounted for the gladness of David and of those present in church that morning. That gladness in God's house, and in the hearing of the word, was guarantee that after a while they would enter with God a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

After the singing by the choir of the anthem, "O taste and see how gracious the Lord is," the trustees of the church advanced to the front, when Mr. Lewthwaite (senior trustee) formally handed over the edifice, saying: "We present unto you this building to be dedicated as a church for the worship and service of Almighty God."

Rev. Dr. Griffiths, chairman of the Montreal district, conducted the dedicatory service as provided for in the Methodist Church discipline, and after the congregation had joined in a hymn specially written for the occasion by J. K. H., a member of the Sunday school, the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Potts.

Rev. Dr. Elliott, of the Wesleyan Theological College; Rev. G. G. Huxtable, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, and Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor of the congregation, also took part in the service.

There was a special open session of the Sunday school in the afternoon. In the evening Rev. Dr. Potts again preached to a large gathering. At each diet Mr. R. F. Richardson was choir master, with Miss May Gifford at the organ.

The offertory for the day totalled $700.

REV MR. GORDON SPEAKS ON LESSONS OF RAISING OF JAIRUS' DAUGHTER

At the service last evening, in the First Baptist Church, Rev. J. A. Gordon preached on "Lessons from the raising of Jairus's daughter," taking his text from Mark 5, 35-36. "While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house, certain which said, Thy daughter is dead; Why troublest thou the Master any further? As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe."

Rev. Mr. Gordon described the preceding incidents that had led to that referred to in the text, of the sudden illness of Jairus's daughter, the sorrow and anxety of the family, the coming of Jairus to Christ to ask for aid, and the news reaching them as Christ journeyed with him to his home that the child was dead. In the utter helplessness of his despair the father does not think anything can bring back to life, his little daughter, until Christ says to him: "Be not afraid, only believe."

Mr. Gordon then spoke of the lessons this story taught us. One of them was that many of our greatest blessings came to use through trials, difficulties or calamities. "Human judgment put a limit to the power of God, yet history shows us that that power is boundless. Man constantly measures God by the ordinary experiences of life, as Jarius measured the power of Christ by his experience of the power of man and saw no chance of aid from Christ, when the news came to him that his daughter was dead. Yet Christ was even greater than death, greater than any experience could explain, for though His power ran parallel to ours, it far exceeded it, as Times, the days and weeks and months, were measurers of Eternity, but Eternity was infintely more vast than Time. Human judgment measures, human power limits, but there is no measure or limit to the power of God, or the power of the ultra-phenomena, as scientists termed it. God takes up the work where man's power fails.

Mr. Gordon compared the messenger to Jairus bringin such unhappy news, to the world of sense that crowded its despair down upon human souls, but, as Jesus had given the word of cheer and power to Jairus so would he give courage and strength to everyone, saying, "Fear not, only believe."

Unbelief alone could limit the soul's blessing. For the man who believed there was no death, no despair, no limitation, for Christ dispelled these and brought the word of cheer, that all things were possible to them that believe.

Mr. Gordon closed, by exhorting his listeners to keep their confidence in God through all their daily lives not to get discouraged, but to just keep on steadily, and not grow faint-hearted, for the Christ who had raised Jairus's daughter was with them saying: "Fear not, only believe."

REV. FR. CHRISTOPHER ON CHURCH'S BLESSING TO VARIOUS OBJECTS

Yesterday afternoon, a solemn scene was witnessed at the Franciscan Church, Dorchester street. It was a scene which was fourfold in its character, imposing in the grandeur of its ceremonies, and one that for its solemnity has never been surpassed at the Franciscan Church, since the opening. A few minutes to four, a procession of nearly thirty little girls, dressed in their first communion attire, and followed by one hundred professed members of the English-speaking Tertiaries entered the church. Shortly afterwards a second procession of one hundred novices, dressed in white veils entered.

Rev. Father Christopher, O.F.M., preached. He took for his text, "Prepare the way; and lift up the standard to the people.—Isaiah 62-10.

"It is with pleasure," said the preacher, "I see you here assembled to witness the solemn blessing of the religious standard destined to wave above the heads of the English-speaking members of the Third Order of St. Francis. To understand why the Church blesses certain objects you have but to recall the evil results of original sin, and that Christ came to repair the evil consequences of the first Adam's sin. From Christ, therefore, comes every spiritual blessing we receive. When the world was first created by God, it glorified Him—as it is written, "God saw all things that He had made, and they were very good." They answered the two-fold purpose of their existence, viz., the glory of God and the physical and moral well-being of man; but when the responsible head of the human race transgressed the law of his Creator, the consequences of his act were extended to creatures which before had been subject to him.

By the blessings which the Church imparts to the things you use, she sets them apart for Divine service, or by her prayers brings down the blessing of God upon them. Such blessings should remind you of your own calling to holiness of life, for they are blessed for your sake; thus she blesses your houses and your food; your domestic animals and your cattle; she blesses your meadows and fields; your vines and crops; she blesses your ships and the flags destined to excite the courage of your soldiers; and unite them; she blesses, too, the earth destined to hide your mortal remains till Christ comes again to judge the living and the dead."

Immediately after the sermon, the first part of the ceremony took place, the blessing of the banner of the Immaculate Conception, followed by the reception of twenty members who received the cord and scapular of the Order. Then came the third part, the solemn profession of five members. Solemn benediction was then imparted by Rev. Father Christopher, O.F.M., asisted by Rev. Father Ethelbert, O.F.M., and Elphege, OF.M. The new banner is a work of art, and was painted by Miss Coonan, a young lady of only seventeen years. The banner was presented by Rev. Father Christopher, to the Ladies' Branch of the English-speaking Tertiaries.

MGR. VAY DE VAZA SPEAKS OF MISSIONARY NEEDS

At the Church of the Gesu last night Mgr. Count Vay de Vaya, extolled the missionary work of the Catholic Church in the Far East. The Catholic missionaries there were emulating the good work of the sons of St. Ignatius and in particular of St. Francois Xavier. The work was in God's honor and for the physical and spiritual relief of multitudes. Of the young people who came under the care of their missionaries a large proportion proved wonderfully apt students and useful citizens. The east needed good soldiers and mechanics but more than all men of God—spiritual men. This was the obligation of the West to the East—to promote the latter's spiritual life.

Mgr. Vay de Vaya, told of his promise to give the receipts of his lectures sermons and magazine articles to the construction of a new orphanage in Corea.

Hamilton, Ont., May 15.—(Special).—The H., G. & B. It will cost about $2,000 to take up the tracks, etc., and after making allowance for the value of the material, the loss will be about $14,000.

LYNCH KIDNAPPER OF JUDGE'S WIFE

Quick Vengeance Taken on Negro Who Held Woman For Ransom.

Memphis, Tenn., May 15.—County Judge Ferdinand Hess, a former State Senator, and his young wife, were kidnapped by a negro convict named Witherspoon, who, at the point of a revolver, made Judge Hess hitch up his buggy and drive with his wife to a lonely cabin several miles from Belmont, Mo., where he held Mrs. Hess a captive until her husband could go to Columbus, Ky., across the river, and get $600 with which to ransom her.

The money was delivered to Witherspoon by another negro, after which he left the cabin, and eluding a posse that was lying in wait for him, escaped into a neighboring swamp.

Witherspoon was arrested later by Marshal Zimmerman, taken to Belmont and hanged in the public square.

Judge Hess went to his barn to hitch up his horse. Entering the barn he was startled by seeing a negro standing before him with drawn revolver.

"Who are you and what do you want here?" asked the Judge.

"You know who I am," replied the negro, who declared the Judge owed him $600 and must get it for him.

"All right, come on to the house until I can get my boots," Judge Hess replied, "and we will go to town and get the money," and they went to the house.

"Wait out here a minute until I go upstairs and get my boots," said the Judge.

Mrs. Hess was standing on the front portico as they came up. Judge Hess started up the steps leading into the house, but the negro commanded him to halt, and let his wife get the boots.

Mrs. Hess did as she was directed. When she returned and the Judge had put on his boots, Witherspoon made both get into the buggy and drive slowly before him to his cabin, some miles out of town.

When they reached the cabin the negro held Mrs. Hess captive until her husband crossed over to Columbus and obtained the money. A posse of citizens were seen approaching when the negro took to the swamp.

CREDITORS' DEMANDS MAINTAINED BY COURT

Judgment Upholding Dower Reversed by Court of Review.

In the case of Mr. A. Chevalier against J. N. Martel and Bessette, a dispute over an estate, the Superior Court's judgment was reversed on Saturday by the Court of Review, and a new distribution ordered. In 1883 Mrs. Martel (Chevalier), after two months wedded life, secured a separation as to property from her husband, one of the defendants. Her matrimonial estate consisted of $10,000 dower and $500 for movable. Later the Banque du Peuple seized Martel's property and sold it for debt, the proceeds being paid into court for distribution. Mrs. Martel (Chevalier) claimed the $10,500, but the bank demanded that the marriage contract be annulled as to dower, and another creditor, Mr. Bessette, demanded the nullity of the matrimonial rights and dower on the ground that they were in fraud of the rights of Martel's creditors. The Superior Court rejected this claim, but the Court of Review reversed this judgment and ordered a new report of distribution of the estate.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS NEWS.

Sherbrooke, May 13.—(Special.)—The question of running a licensed hotel by the Citizens' League is now engaging the attention of the Windsor Mills Municipal Council. The question will again be discussed at an adjourned meeting of the Council next week.

The Coaticook cattle dealers met with hard luck this week. A few days ago H. I. Nourse was fined $10 and costs for overloading a car of hogs, whereby three had to be killed, and this morning W. B. Lamy of the same place, was fined a similar amount for overcrowding a car of cows, at St. Henri, for Coaticook. The animals were in such a state when the car reached Lennoxville that two were dead, and three had to be slaughtered by the butcher. Both actions were brought at the instance of the S.P.C.A.

The officers of Sussex Preceptory, No. 9, K.L., were installed last evening by R. E. Sir Knight Dr. H. Spencer, Provincial Grand Prior.

MONTREAL, MONDAY, MAY 15.

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND.

One of these days the city of Montreal and the Province of Quebec will have to order an accounting with the light monopoly of this city. Looking back over the past ten or a dozen years, the fact looms up that through the instrumentality of this concern have been brought about almost all the incidents, all the conditions, of which we have had to be ashamed. We never elect a City Council in Montreal without knowing that within eighteen months the agents of the monopoly will have corrupted a majority of its members. We never see the Legislature open its sessions without feeling that in some way it will be brought into disgrace through some phase of the Montreal monopoly's action. And always, as the direct consequence of this immoral influence upon our two most important Legislative bodies, the public are bled to pay dividends on millions and millions of share capital which represent no other investment than the cost of printing the shares. Mayor Laporte remarked on Saturday that he had come in on the gas question, and would go out on it. In that ten years what a history we have had. Assault after assault on the Legislature and on the City Council, met by a resistance not always to be despised, not always unsuccessful. And yet here we are, at the end of Mr. Laporte's term, in the presence of the most daring, the most thoroughly planned, and possibly—to-day will tell—the most successful act of brigandage yet attempted.

* * *

Besides the direct, there is the indirect influence. Action invites reaction, and the reaction may also tend to be bad. When the Power Company's charter was rushed through the Legislature, its advocates claimed that power to override the municipality in the use of streets must in fairness be given, because of old it had been given on other charters. That doctrine is now invoked against the Legislature by applicants for a charter who claim that they desire to compete against the present monopoly. They have asked for powers like those given the Power Company. The city is not consulted. Fight the devil with fire, is the maxim. Fortunately for the city, it appears, those friends of the light monopoly who were so keen about giving it unlimited powers are now, still its friends, disposed to reverse all their arguments, and, as they seem to be in a majority in the Legislative Council, are expected to throw out the clause in the Canadian Electric Company's bill asking for unlimited powers. It is to be hoped so, even if they are acting rather in the interest of the monopoly than of the people. If Montreal is to be saved Montreal should have her voice in deciding how the saving shall be accomplished. Making every Tom, Dick and Harry a present of our streets, without our leave being asked, is not the right way to go about redress of the evil created by making them a present to the existing monopoly, whose strength consists, in point of fact, in its possession of all the existing charters of this kind.

* * *

But when Montreal's natural right to the property in her streets has been asserted, there remains the undeniable right of the Legislature to provide the means whereby Montreal can obtain relief from existing oppressive conditions. There is not, at the moment, any agency to which Montreal could turn for relief. We have not the power, the financial power at any rate, to go into business with an electric plant. This Canadian Electric Company, whose promoters are asking for wide powers, have the right to do business, and are supposed to control a water power at Beauharnois, but they have not the right to get their current here, because they can be stopped in any intervening municipality by such opposition as the monopoly's agents have no difficulty in stirring up. It becomes a question, therefore, whether such a company should not be given the right of passage through municipalities, the right to do business therein being reserved for local arrangement. If real competition, for the benefit of the public, is the object, it would be well also to name a maximum charge, or a schedule of such maximum charges, beyond which such a company could not go under any agreement it might make with any municipality. Inspection should be provided for in the public interest. And any charter issued to the company with a view to putting its functions at the service of the community should be strictly limited as to time. The charter ought to lapse unless the company were ready to deal with the municipalities within three years, and the most effective means possible should be taken to prevent amalgamation. A company operating a charter like that could come to Montreal and be sure of a welcome. If such a charter is put through the Legislature, and is operated, the light and power monopoly, having sown the wind, will be reaping the whirlwind.

THE FORMATIVE STAGE.

General Botha has come to the front again as leader of the Boer group which declines to accept self-government by instalments; the other names made familiar to us during the war attached to the manifesto which the malcontents have issued are those of Messrs. Schalkberger, Wolmarans, Smuts and General Boyer. The names of De Wet and De La Rey are conspicuous by their absence.

General Botha declares that the new constitution must cause "universal dissatisfaction among his countrymen" because it "reveals a deep distrust of public opinion in the Transvaal, and creates a debating society rather than a responsible body which can seriously carry out any local legislative proposals.

The Boer general makes the best of his case in an elaborate review of the proposals, clause by clause, but one of his objections seems curious to those long accutomed to the enjoyment of complete self-government; for General Botha refers to the fact that "men rearing large families of prospective citizens under great trials are placed on the same electoral footing as single men temporarily fortune hunting in the Colony." This is raising the old grievance as to the position of the "Outlanders," which was one of the main causes of the war and savors of an attempt to favor a ruling caste which would be quite as objectionable to constitutional Liberals if it helped the Boer section of the population as if it favored the mine owning element.

For good or for evil the time has gone by when the agricultural interest in any country can exercise authority in proportion to the land which it owns or occupies. The old fashioned type of Boer looked upon the introduction of manufacturing and mining industries as a sort of curse; he and his forefathers had constantly shifted further and further back from the tide of advancing civilization as represented by railways, cities and stores and factories.

The best hope of the future of the dual races in South Africa lies in the fact that there is a rapidly growing Progressive party among the Boers themselves who though not less patriotic than the men of the Botha stamp, are keen enough to see that the time has come when they must assert themselves in the urban centres of population and encourage the extension of railways, good roads, and other public works. The demand for agricultural produce is greater in South Africa than in any other large section of the Empire, and nowhere is the local supply more scarce. However objectionable the mine owning capitalist may be as an individual, he has been the means of creating a demand for just that class of produce which the Boer farmers are best fitted to cultivate, and as the prosperity of the Dutch element in the population increases its ideals will become higher and its unwillingness to mix in commercial and, eventually, in social intercourse with its neighbors, less pronounced.

General Botha does not seem to make sufficient allowance for the fact that it is scarcely three years ago since the possibility that so much reconciliation could have been accomplished in so short a time would have been generally ridiculed.

KEEPING THE GATES.

It is a favorite grievance of the Opposition press, when other topics are not forthcoming, that the medical inspection to which new arrivals are subjected on landing in this Dominion, is not so rigid as that imposed at the borders of the United States. The argument upon which this conclusion is based is the fact that a certain number of candidates for admission to the United States at ports on the Canadian border are not considered good enough to pass the American medical authorities. The United States immigration officials occasionally lend a further degree of color to this charge by complaining that the Canadian border gives them more trouble than all the rest of their ports of entry; which is doubtless true, for it is the only one where a candidate for admission can, without great cost to himself, if refused at one place go on to another in the hope of slipping through eventually. The immigrant arriving at an Atlantic or Pacific port once refused, is shipped off home to his native land and that is the last of him. The point where he is ultimately deported is too far off to encourage him to try his luck again.

If the examination applied by the United States immigration officials were a matter of precise rule or exact science, there is a bare possibility that it would be in the interests of the Dominion to duplicate it at her own portals and make it certain that no one who had once secured access to Canada could be refused access to the United States on medical grounds. Unfortunately there is the strongest possible evidence that the American examination is far from being exact, and that it is impossible to predict beforehand its results in any particular case. If the decisions of the immigration inspectors were sufficiently uniform and scientific to be predictable beforehand, is it to be supposed that the Atlantic lines wopuld continue to bring over the immense percentage of passengers who still meet rejection at Ellis Island and elsewhere and involve the carrying company in a substantial loss for their maintenance and their return to the place of their origin? The fact is that in many cases there is no sufficient evidence in the immigrant himself to indicate whether the decision of the inspecting doctor will be for or against him; the line carries him on a speculative calculation, and because to exclude every would-be passenger who runs any chance of being refused at Ellis Island would be to confine the steerage business to the immaculately clean and the radiantly healthy, who would never be sufficient to keep it at paying proportions. The attitude of the American inspection towards immigration is not unlike that of the British Board of Agriculture towards Canadian cattle imports. Both use the pretext of the possibility of disease to reduce in as large a measure as possible the importation of men and cattle respectively. Both achieve in a disguised form a degree of protection which neither cares openly to avow. Since the adoption by the United States of the vexatious $2 poll-tax, and the display of enthusiasm with which that measure has been carried out to the uttermost letter of the law by the Immigration Inspection Bureau of Washington, it has been impossible to doubt that the attitude of the United States towards all lower-class immigrants is one of hostility. The inspector who has the finest record of rejections is the man who earns the approval of his chiefs and is marked for promotion.

And it must be remembered that the power of the inspector is virtually absolute. The poor wretches who hang upon his word for what they imagine as their one chance in life have no appeal from his decision. They are not in the United States until he gives the word; they have no civic rights, no habeas corpus can protect them. In the case of the Atlantic ports, if rejection becomes systematically excessive and unreasonable the steamship company will doubtless take it up, for it has a great deal at stake in the matter, but even this indirect defence is lacking to the immigrant via a Canadian railway line, to which it can matter very little whether it has to bring him back to Montreal or St. John or not. Under all these circumstances, is it surprising that no previous exanimation by Canadian officials or by a steamship line with a direct interest to serve, should be able to forestall entirely the rejections of the American inspectors?

It is not for us to discuss the wisdom of the American policy. Their circumstances are widely different from ours—chiefly in that the United States attracts an immense immigration of confirmed city dwellers, who are physically the worst and economically the least desirable of all immigrants, and who so far have shown little interest in our less concentrated communities. The point is that we cannot adopt the attitude towards immigration that is now shown by the United States authorities. Our inspection and our rejections must be judged by their own standard, not by comparison with those of our neighbors. Our inspectors can fairly be asked to preserve us from pronounced cases of favus and trachoma and the non-existence of these diseases in Canada ever since the great Russian immigration movement of the last twelve months suggests that they are doing it. But they cannot be asked to act as advance agents for an American Commissioner who was at one time a labor leader and an apostle of general exclusion.

LIFE'S JOURNEY.

(For the Herald)

I see them passing up and down the street,
Husbands and wives they hasten side by side,
Some with the grey of old age in their hair,
Sometimes—bridegroom and bride.

They do not wonder as they journey on
Why they are so content, the world so fair?
They take their happinnes as shines the sun,
They breathe it as the air.

They cannot e'en conceive a time may come
When one must go alone, with bated breath—
Walking with unclasped hands and unkissed lips
The desolate path of death.

"Till Death us part," it is so lightly said,
It means so little in our joyous youth!
It means at last—when one goes forth alone—
Life's saddest, bitterest truth.

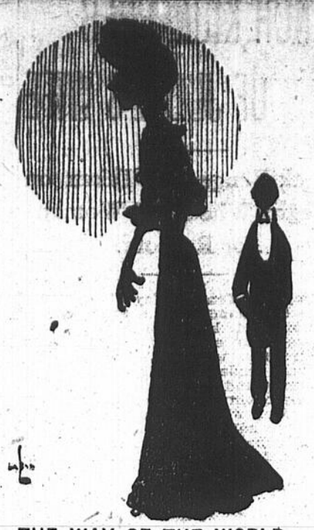
Jiu-Jitsu Bad for Nerves.

"American Medicine" pronounces an expert opinion unfavorable to the Japanese system of "trick wrestling" called jiu-jitsu on two grounds—first, that even if the ordinary American or European could, by years of practice, succeed in becoming adept in the difficult art, the trouble would not be worth the pains, because less practice in boxing would equip the ordinary man with a better means of self-defense, and, second, because jiu-jitsu is harmful to the people who practice it. Every school boy knows that by having one's fingers bent back great pain, or even great injury may be inflicted. The low gangs of thugs in American cities know that by striking a foul blow or by gripping a man by the throat or by eye-gouging an adversary may be disabled suddenly. These are old tricks, known to and practiced by brutes. Jiu-jitsu is something of the kind reduced to a fine art. Jit-jitsu must depend for its effectiveness upon an "intimate anatomic knowledge of joints and peripheral nerves," and the practitioner presses upon exposed nerves or tender joints, or must know how to twist joints out of place and the like. If the Japanese are injured in this kind of game nobody in Japan cares, but American Medicine says that American physicians ought to warn their patients and the public generally that, while Japanese experts may stand a good deal of this sort of handling, ordinary Americans who take up the "fad," will and do now, suffer from "twisted, sprained, and permanently damaged joints and traumatic neuritis." Another objection to this system, which apotheosizes the foul blow, is that it is wholly at variance with our ideas and practices from the days of chivalry down to the Marquis of Queensberry rules or even to those of the old London prize ring.

How to Spoil Umbrellas.

"In most cases umbrellas are not fairly worn out; they are ruined through carelessness of their owners," said an umbrella and cane man to the Detroit Tribune recently. "When I see a man walking with an umbrella tightly grasped in his hot hand I smile to myself, because I know that very soon that man will be wanting a new umbrella. There is no surer way of making an umbrella wear out quickly than this habit of carrying it about by its middle. Again, after being out in the rain you should turn your umbrella upside down and let the water drain off as it stands with the handle downward. By doing this you prevent the water from getting in at the framework and thereby protect the ribs from rusting. Some men open their umbrellas before they stand them up to dry, but this is a bad plan, because the umbrella may stretch when it is wet. Another thing, too, never roll your umbrella up, as to do so cuts the silk."



THE WAY OF THE WORLD.

Before she inherited money
She was called lanky by all;
But now that they know she's a million,
They say she's divinely tall.

The Sabbath Evening

The sun was sinking in a yellow mist of cloud and light behind the mountain. The pale rays that fell across Fletcher's field, and a little brighter over Cote des Neiges, spoke of the coming twilight, while the cool breeze of early evening stole across the tree tops on the mountain, and down into the city streets.

The wonderful green of the feathery foliage of the trees began to turn grey in the mists of night shadows, and the wanderers on mountain paths and roads, turned homeward. There was a stillness, a hesitancy in the air, as if the miracle of spring were holding nature herself in awe and worship, on this first evening in the week.

On the city's quiet broke the ringing and chimes of church bells. Out upon the streets came the churchgoers, in little groups, or singly, and across the light of the city's church doors went the feet of many worshippers. The organs one after another, and all together, broke out in the melody of opening service. At Christ Church, and St. Paul's, St. George's and the American Presbyterian, Douglas' Methodist and St. James, the Apostle, Emmanuel and Olivet, St. John the Evangelist and St Martin's, St. James Methodist and First Baptist—Anglican, Presbyterian, Baptist, Congregationalist, Methodist Unitarian—these and others, east and west, north and south, from city's end to city's end, called the people from the city's life and the day's rest or pleasure, or work to the evening prayer.

* * *

The night falls. Even the late church goers have made their way into the lighted doorways. The cars clang noisily, and the streets are somewhat deserted. In the churches the voices of Montreal's preachers are calling to the mind of listeners those things which eye sees not, nor the thought of man comprehends—each and every one of them a priest of the Unseen to worshippers of the Unseen.

At the corner, by one of the churches, is a very old man. It will not be long before he will see and know of the mysteries beyond the last gate of life. He is leaning against the fence and listening, while the words come to him distinctly from out the open windows:

"Nearer my God to Thee."

And he sings it over with them:

"Still all my song shall be
Nearer my God to Thee,
Nearer to Thee."

The congregation linger on the last words, and the old man's voice breaks quaveringly in the stillness outside.

Down the street the words of another song have stolen out from the windows of another church, and the melodies mingle. Then the first one has died away, and the words, ringing clear and strong, reach the listener:

"Onward, Christian Soldiers
Marching as to war. . ."

The strains come out to the waiting old man. As he listens he shakes his head wearily and turns away. The days of youth call for the song of fighting and struggle; old age for the song of promise, and the trembling lips form the words again softly:

"Nearer my God to Thee."

* * *

From one church and another rises the strains of the last hymn—or the benediction sounds, as a hush falls over these thousands and thousands of worshippers of an Unseen God.

"May the peace of God," one priest is saying. "The blessing of God," says another. "Be With you all," say they slowly, and the thousands of people have bowed their heads in silence.

In one and another the last "Amen" has sounded. The people have come out into the cool evening air. They make their way homeward.

Over all the city the hush and blessing of the first evening of the week have fallen. Somewhere away beyond the sight and hearing of city dwellers, is a choir singing the "Amen" of time and changing it to the anthem of eternity. Only one soul hears that music. It is that of an old man who feebly makes his way homeward, unheeded and alone.

—Francis Daor.

The Real Grand Duke Vladimir.

The Grand Duke Vladimir, who, on the authority of the less well informed part of the London press, has been held up to obloquy as the leader of the grand ducal ring which seeks to sweep back the rising tide of reform with the knout and the sword, is said by those most conversant with Russian affairs to occupy an isolated position in the Imperial family, taking no part in public affairs and exercising little influence on them. A recent correspondent of the London Times says he "recognizes that the worship of the idol of absolutism is a worse foe of monarchy than anarchy itself."

At Ottawa

(Staff Correspondence of The Herald.)

Ottawa, May 13.—There is a suspicion among members of Parliament that the country has stopped thinking about the autonomy bills. Some members believe that the public has ceased reading the reports of what is said in Parliament about the birthrights of the Western Twins. A few members even know that the majority of newspaper readers now salute, with a curse or a groan, a heading which indicates Autonomy Debate below. They pass it unread. The country is tired of discussion. Parliament is weary with its own effort. Yet the flame of fighting debate roars on at Ottawa. The stoking is being done by Conservative irreconciliables. Weary but hopeful of yet setting the country on fire they are fetching flimsy arguments to the chamber where the constitution of the two provinces is being moulded. The flame which follows the flinging of this fuel beneath the crucible cheers the toilers. The supply of combustible material is apparently inexhaustible. A large load has been delivered in the Commons Chamber every working day since March 22. Still the country fails to flame or the crucible to do more than hiss a little.

It is generally understood that the Leader of the Opposition has no heart in the fight. It is being continued by the majority of the minority. With the Conservative contingent split over the question and the Government following united and nothing being accomplished in the country to his political advantage, Mr. Borden would like to give the country an opportunity to forget. But he has followers who do not follow properly. There is no decent docility in Col. Sam Hughes, Dr. Sproule, Mr. George Taylor, Mr. Andrew Ingram, or Mr. Cockshutt. As for Lieutenant George E. Foster, he has been a life long fisher in troubled waters. There is only one line of political advancement for him. It is not the line of least resistance. Mr. Borden stands in the way. Mr. W. F. Maclean is a factor who can hardly be regarded as absolutely stable. He is a member of the Conservative party from whom Mr. Borden derives little satisfaction as any time. Just now he is an impossible person from whom the Leader of the Opposition does not know what next to expect. These and many other elements are just now breaching the peace of Parliament, boring the country, blocking business in the House, bothering the Leader of the Opposition and preventing Alberta and Saskatchewan from becoming provinces.

Thursday's proceedings in the House give a good idea of the relations of various factors in the Conservative wing. The provision of the Alberta bill providing for the continued administration of the public lands by the crown came up. The Leader of the Opposition asked its relataon to the educational clause. The Minister of Justice promised to give the information as soon as he could get his papers and asked that the clause stand in the meantime. At this point the Leader of the Opposition ceased to lead and Lieutenant Foster seized the command. He taunted the Minister of Justice with requiring more time because his opinion and that of the other members of the administration did not conform. Mr. Foster was unpleasant in his inimitable way for a half an hour. He said a large number of witty things which the Ministers did not enjoy in the least. When he sat down he had followed a lead which a number of other Conservatives thought it well to follow. They demanded of the Minister of Justice an instant explanation of the land clause and the educational clauses of the bill. Mr. Borden had nothing to say on the subject. He saw what was coming. It came from the Minister of Finance. The Opposition realized it had been hit when Mr. Fielding said the demand for an explanation of the Autonomy bills seemed a little strange coming from the Opposition at this time. They had received several explanations and had given a good many more in speeches. More that that they had recorded their opinion by vote. It was certainly remarkable that the Conservatives should voter their condemnation of the measures one week and the next demand an explanation of those measures. It seemed to Mr. Fielding that the Opposition had voted to condemn something that it did not understand. It had done this because the proposal had come from the Government. Intelligent and honest Opposition was a good thing for the country, but the Minister of Finance deplored such tactics as that he had called attention to.

Hon. Mr. Fielding's speech produced varied effects. It was delivered just before six o'clock, but it stung the Opposition to a fury which bridged the gap of the dinner hour. At eight o'clock the Conservative side came back primed and continued to reply to Mr. Fielding until two in the morning. Mr. Borden listened to the speeches of a half dozen of his side and replies from the Government side for a couple of hours. He tried to call off his followers. Failing this he did what any sensible man would do in his place. He made an arrangement with the Minister of Justice to have the amendment added and the clause held when his followers had talked themselves out. Having done this he went to bed. The leaderless minority kept the rafters ringing and the pens of the Hansard reporters flying for several hours, while the Government yawned and Mr. Borden slept. The proceedings of the day cost the country a good many dollars. The net result in legislation was nil.

It is understood that the London election is likely to be called soon. The Conservative side of the Parliament is endeavoring to shape the debate on the Autonomy bill to injure Mr. Hyman's chances in his native city. That campaign is being suplemented with other attacks on the Acting Minister of Public Works. Col. Sam Hughes recently tried to fasten a paving scandal upo Mr. Hyman. He failed because there was no scandal in the first place and in the second because it was not Mr Hyman who was concerned with the letting of the contract. However, the efforts of Colonel Hughes were appreciated.

Mr. W. F. Maclean has challenged the Government to open London or North Oxford and let him resign his seat in York and run against the Government candidate on the School question. The Liberal side of Parliament are anxious to see Col. Hughes in the field in London. It is hoped that the Conservatives of Ontario will let Mr. Maclean have the opportunity to make good his challenge by giving him the London nomination. If this is done there is a reasonable certainty that Mr. Maclean will shortly be among the traditions of the House.

Only Girl Babies Grow in Carson City,

Of fifty-five births recorded during last year in Carson City, Nev., only one was a male, writes Barrington King, of Albany, to the London Lancet. The causes underlying the differences in sex (if, in fact, there are any causes other than chance) are not only matters of great interest but of importance as well. Carson City, where this extraordinary proportion of female births occurred, has in its population a much greater proportion of males than almost any other city in the States, it being a Western mining town. Can it be that this is an effort of nature to correct the ratio? If so, has this circumstance been observed elsewhere.

Old Rites at Royal Wedding.

Several ancient wedding customs practised by the Russian royal family two centuries and more ago will be revived at the festivities in honor of the marriage of Crown Prince Frederick William and the Duchess Cecilia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, June 6. One of these is the so-called court at cards, in which the bride and bridegroom, while playing cards with the King and Queen, receive the congratulations of the court. The Emperor, Empress, Crown Prince, and Crown Princess will sit at a regular card table in the white hall of the palace, with card tables for other members of the royal family right and left of the Emperor's table. Behind each distinguished personage will stand his or her suite and the invited guests will mass up in front of the card tables, bow deeply, and then take up positions right and left, making room for similar groups.

Another ancient ceremony will be a dance by torchlight, dating from the early Teutonic times.

After the bride and bridegroom have left the wedding party the chief lady in waiting will give each of the guests a garter of silk velvet, with the bride's monogram and the date in gold letters.

Whether the Grand Duchess Anastasia, mother of the bride, will attend the wedding seems to be still undecided. Assertions that she will or that she will not have followed each other regularly since the betrothal was announced.

Curious English.

The Pioneer, of Allahabad, gives an article to the report of the Hospital for Women in that town, just published, reproducing two letters of appreciation addressed to the lady superintendent. Thus: (1) "Dear She—My wife has returned from your hospital cured. Provided males are allowed at your bunga I would like to do you the honor of presenting myself there this afternoon; but I will not try to repay you—vengeance belongeth to God. Yours noticeably, ——." (2) "Dear and Fair Madame—I have much pleasure to inform you that my dearly unfortunate wife will be no longer under your kind treatment, she having left this world for the other on the night of the 27th ulto. For your help in this matter I shall ever remain grateful. Yours reverently, ——."

CITIZENS ALSO OPPOSE EXTENSIONS

A Public Meeting Strongly Endorses Stand Taken by the Mayor.

A large meeting of the city ratepayers was held on Chaboillez Square, Saturday night, when the action of Mayor Laporte in refusing to sign the resolution of the city council, granting to the Gas Company an extension of contract of fifteen years in exchange for dollar gas, was unanimously endorsed. The resolution of the Board upholding His Worship in the position he had taken, and demanding cheaper gas than that offered by the company was also most strongly commended; while a resolution was adopted favoring the abolition of the water tax.

The meeting was a thoroughly representative one, among the speakers being Mr. J. M. Fortin, who presided, Mr. R. B. Capon, and Mr. W. Darlington. The advantages of municipal ownership were pointed out, and the need of time, in which to clearly show the aldermen that the public supported the Mayor in his stand, was emphasized.

The position of the city press in the situation was thoroughly endorsed.

On the motion of Mr. W. Darlington, seconded by Mr. W. R. B. Capon, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That this meeting of citizens, assembled at short notice, most heartily endorses the action of Mayor Laporte in refusing to sign the contract giving powers to the Light, Heat & Power Company, to further supply the city and citizens with gas, at a rate out of all proportion to that at which it can be made and supplied, and we most emphatically declare that the aldermen who voted to extend the time of the franchise of the above company for a further period of 15 years did so without due consideration of the interests of those whom they are supposed to represent; and, we consider the Board of Trade correct in its action in demanding a much lower price than that offered by the Light, Heat & Power Company, before granting any further extension of contract to the same; and we appeal to the higher sense of honor of those aldermen who may have made a mistake in the way they voted last Monday, and request that they will, on Monday next, put themselves right with their constituents by reconsidering their previous action."

Mr. J. M. Fortier moved:

"That this meeting of citizens of Montreal believes that the time has arrived when the multiplication of taxes should cease, and in the interests of health, economy, and for humanity's sake, the most obnoxious water tax should cease to be a factor in our civic revenue, and all people using water for domestic purposes should be no longer taxed for the water they use."

This resolution, too, was unanimously adopted.

MOTOR BOAT RACE WAS BAD FAILURE

Five Boats Either Sunk or Abandoned in French Race.

Toulon, May 15.— The motor boat race from Algiers, to Toulon, which was organizedA by the Paris Matin, ended disastrously. Five of the seven competitors were either sunk or abandoned in a gale. The first stage of the race from Algiers to Port Mahon was successfully completed. The run from Port Mahon to Toulon began at four o'clock Saturday morning, the racers being escorted by cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. The sea was rough and the wind soon freshened into a gale. The Italian F. I. A. T. boat, the smallest competitor, was forced to give up the race, and she was hoisted on board a war ship. The wind and sea continued to increase, and one after another the racers had to be abandoned. Their crews were taken on the warships. The Camille, which was steered by Mme. Du Gast, a prominent member of Parisian society and a well-known sportswoman, foundered. Mme. Du Gast swam until she was rescued with a companion, by one of the destroyers. Later Mme. Du Gast fell overboard from the destroyer but was again rescued. Another of the racers, the Quand Meme, owned by the Duc Du Cazes, who was on board her, accompanied by two naval lieutenants, is missing. She was taken in tow by the destroyer Arabalate, and neither of them has since been reported. It is hoped that they have reached Corsica, but the fury of the sea justifies fears for their safety. The Quand Meme carried a crew of six. Two cruisers are searching for the missing boat. The crews of the racers and destroyers were much exahusted by the knocking about they received.

THE BIRDS AND BRONCHOS BLANKED EACH OTHER.

SPORTING COMMENT

Now that the M.A.A.A. grounds are in good shape, the track athletes should turn out and get the benefit of Alf. Bennett's training. Mr. Bennett is naturally anxious to secure material and there is quite enough of the latter in the M.A.A.A. to ensure one of the best track teams in Canada, if not the best, if the boys will only turn their attention to this branch of athletics. Last year Mr. Bennett had to bring out the athletes but this would seem to be more the duty of the committees that have charge of the Association's outdoor department.

* * *

Like speed skating, track work is practically neglected in Montreal and the number of good athletes, who have brought honor to the city in the last five years in this branch of sport, could be counted on one's fingers. This does not seem to be right. The M.A.A.A. with its 1,000 members should produce a score of crackerjacks in one line of field sports or another and the committeemen who induce promising athletes to turn out and train will benefit the association and the city.

* * *

In the seven games that have been played in Montreal so far, the scores have been very low and it has been demonstrated that the Birds' staff of pitchers is as good as any other in the Eastern League. The Birds are not hitting the ball with any undue freedom, but if they can once locate the sphere and keep locating it, day in and day out, they'll climb the ladder with a rapidity that will keep the fans dancing with all the fervor that is peculiar to baseball enthusiasts. With Lachance at first the infield is materially strengthened for aside from his own good playing, he will put confidence into the rest of the players and confidence in a baseball team is half the battle. Miller is playing a steady game at second base and Manager Bannon is the best third baseman seen on the local grounds this season. In the outfield, Meaney, Wiedensaul and Joyce are playing fast and errorless ball and the fly that beats them out has to be a screamer. James is filling in the gap at shortstop as Dyer is not showing his usual form. It must be said of Dyer that he has been suffering all season from a sore leg, which has handicapped him more than spectators have known. Then too, he has been discouraged by the roasts that have been handed out to him. When in his best form, Dyer is a splendid infielder and he is likely to be retained in the hope that he will round into condition with the hot weather.

* * *

Speaking of the low scores made in the games here, a glance at the results of the games so far will indicate how effective the pitchers were:

In the Buffalo-Montreal series, the scores were:

May 6—Buffalo...	3	Montreal.....	1
May 7—Buffalo...	4	Montreal.....	1
May 8—Buffalo...	6	Montreal.....	7
May 10—Rochester	2	Montreal.....	1
May 11—Rochester	0	Montreal.....	3
May 13—Rochester	3	Montreal.....	0
May 14—Rochester	0	Montreal.....	1
Total Opponents	18	Montreal....	14

* * *

It will be noticed that in four games Montreal scored but one run a game, that the Birds were shut out once (by Rochester), and that they shut out Rochester twice. On one occasion they weer beaten by one run, the Bronchos turning the trick.

* * *

It sure looks as if strong hitting would enable the Birds to do the trimming.

* * *

The Birds have won three out of the seven games played here. The Bisons beat them two out of three and the Bronchos took two out of four. In the Buffalo series, Buffalo scored 13 runs and Montreal 9, and in the Rochester series, the teams broke even, each getting five runs.

* * *

It was pure joy to see the Torontos take four straight falls out of the bumptious Bisons. Don't think anyone will say that there is any connection between the managements of the Buffalo and Toronto clubs. The Maple Leafs aren't showing the least desire to lie down to the Buffaloes.

Who says this isn't a good baseball city? The attendance at the seven games played here has been over 25,000 or about 3,500 a game, and what would it be, if he had a heavy-hitting and winning team.

* * *

The Eastern League schedule though it gives Montreal its due share of Saturday and holiday games, was evidently not arranged for the local club's benefit. The Birds play here till May 28, which is too long a stretch, and in al that time, they do not meet the only other Canadian club in the circuit, Toronto.

* * *

Hackenschmidt is angry with Gotch, because the latter accuses him of being afraid to meet him (Gotch.) And he announces that when he does meet Gotch, which he will do after his engagement in England, provided Gotch is still chesty, he will make the bout of more than ordinary interest to the wrestler from Iowa. Hack says that when he is on the mat he has to keep vigilant guard over his temper as the consequences to his opponent would be very serious, perhaps even fatal, if he ever lost it. "However," he adds, "Gotch has made untruthful and insulting statements about me and when I meet him, I am going to throw him quickly and throw him hard." So if Gotch is wise, he will cease his cheap talk and fight shy of the big Russian.

* * *

Hack's appearance here Wednesday night, is creating a vast amount of interest. Medical men and physical culture devotees are interested in this tremendously strong foreigner, and will not lose the opportunity to see his wonderful muscles and his wonderful control over them.

* * *

Hack will not only wrestle ten heavyweights within ninety minutes, but will pose, lecture in French and English, and will answer such questions as are put to him. This is an extensive programme even for an extraordinary athlete but Hack looks upon it as being quite an ordinary affair.

The announcement that the Montreal Lacrosse Club proposes to introduce an amendment at the meeting of the N.A.L.U.'s revision committee to-morrow night, has created a mild sensation. This amendment will provide for a change of the two years residence clause to a six months residence clause. Such change would enable Montreal to secure new players and it is stated that their desire to secure certain players has led them to decide to propose the amendment. The Shamrocks do not object to the change but they do object to the change being made on such short notice and in taking this stand they are quite right. Six months or a year is not too long a notive to be given such motion as the Montreal's propose. To-morrow night's meeting may be unusually lively as the clubs involved take decided stands in the matter.

THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The opening dance of this club will take place on Friday, May 19, and will continue on every Friday during the season. Arrangements have been made to serve ices and light refreshments for the convenience of members and visitors. Members are requested to procure full membership tickets by the 24th of May, as admission to the dances will be by ticket only. Tickets may be had at ball.

Even With Lachance at First; Birds Were Blanked Saturday

Schultz Had Their Measure and Did Not Spare Them—Score Was 3 to 0—Royals' Hitting Was Weak.

A thick-set young man by the name of Fetrsch made the Birds look like a lot of amateurs on Saturday afternoon before a crowd of considerably over 4,000 persons. When the game was ended the score stood 3 to 0, and, worst than that, Birds never had even one distanct chance to score. They made a dying effort in the ninth inning after two men were down, but Umpire Zimmer, by a close decision in calling James out at second, put the feeble hope in cold storage.

Felix was on the firing line for Montreal, and, with the exception of the second innings, when he allowed three hits in a row, was fairly effective. He struck out nine men, issued only one pass, and kept the hits down to seven, but these were bunched sufficiently to bring in three runs.

On the other hand, the Birds gave a masterly exhibition of poor hitting. They registered five hits, one a nice two-bagger by Gibson, with no one out, but the next three men failed to advance him past third. At two or three stages of the game a timely hit would have worked wonders, but the batter failed to make good. There were no hits in one inning, and frequently it was a case of one, two and three and out. Until the Birds can hit better, there is nothing for them but last position. Gibson is the only regular over the .300 mark or near it. He picked out a single and a double. Until the ninth inning, Dyer and Bannon were the only two besides Gibson to hit safely. After two were gone in the ninth Wiedensaul hit safely.

The Birds also had five errors, and most of them were costly. Bannon let a throw from centre-field get past him to the grand stand, and this was responsible for two runs. Dyer also fell down once on an easy chance and Gibson's bad throw was responsible for the Bronchos' final tally.

Dyer was jerked out of the game in the fourth inning, and James substituted. The wisdom of the move was questionable. Dyer is hitting some these days, and had made a nice single in two times up. The weakness in his fielding is largely due to his eagerness to make good. He falls down on many easy chances from this very reason. The fans have been in the habit of late of singling him out for their "roasts," and this necessarily affects a player's nerve. There are a couple of others in the Montreal infield who should be roasted occasionally, and Captain Bannon himself was none too effective on third Saturday, making a bad error in only two chances.

Lachance, the new first baseman, made his first appearance on Saturday, and received a cheerful welcome from the fans. He played a nice fielding game, but failed to bat the ball outside the infield in four times up, besides striking out once. However, the general feeling seemed to be to withhold judgment until he has been in the game for a few days.

The game opened up nicely, and a smart play by Gibson and Lachance put the crowd in good humor. It was one, two, three for both teams. Rochester started in to clinch the game in the second. Yancy singled to centre, and Carey followed with another. Meaney threw in to head off Yancy at third, but Bannon was asleep at the switch. Yancy scored and Carey got to third before the ball was returned. Rothfuss followed with a single, scoring Carey. Kennedy reached first, but the next three up were easy outs. The Bronchos tallied another in the fourth, through Gibson's bad throw. After that there was no more scoring, and the Birds never had a look-in.

The score:—

Lachance Reaches for the Wide Ones.

Gibson's Smashing Two-Bagger Won Sunday's Game for the Birds

Brought in Winning Run in Ninth With One Out—Pappalau Shut Out Bronchos 1-0—Lachance Made Two Hits.

Mr. Gibson may consider himself entitled to draw his full salary this month by a very large majority. He has struck his batting gait, and can't keep it too long to please the people who keep the box-office busy. Eight hundred is his little average for the last three games—not mentioning that Faulkner yesterday carefully lobbed him up four balls as far from the plate as he reasonably could, for fear Gib would lace out something with a couple of runs tagged on it.

But that was exactly what Gib did—and he did it in the ninth when a large goose egg represented the combined efforts of both teams in the tally department.

It was quite simple, too. Faulkner weakened a lot as the game went on, and lost track of the plate, sending Wiedensaul and Joyce to first and second. Then Gibson fell against a slow lob, and slammed it against the farthest recesses of the fence, and Wiedensaul cantered home, while Joyce stopped to let out a yell or two just to help out the mighty shout that six thousand ardent enthusiasts uncorked for the occasion.

It was the third shut-out in the Rochester series, and the second for the Birds to take.

Mr. Faulkner got a disagreeable surprise over Lachance. He concluded that "Candy" couldn't hit a carpet tack with a maul and started to exhibit some fancy tricks which resulted in the ex-Beaneater gathering in a couple of bingles. Faulkner failed to see the humor of the situation half as keenly as the fans did.

For once the Birds played an errorless game—and so did Buck's Bronchos. In fact, the play was so smooth that at times it was colorless, even listless.

Pappalau and his deceptive ball did the business for the Royals and kept the Bronchos' seven hits well scattered.

Things looked a little dangerous in Rochester's second when, with two out, O'Brien rapped a safe bingle down centre, and Manning duplicated the trick to left, but Smith rolled an easy one to Pappalau, and it was all over.

Never again did Buck's men come within hailing distance of a score. In the eighth Mr. Pap just pitched three balls. O'Brien bunted the first into James' mit, Manning sent the next in the same direction, and failed to connect with first, while Smith saved a lot of trouble by gracefully dropping the ball into Lachance's left hand.

Faulkner pitched a pretty game for six innings, but lost his control there, and started presenting passes, which were greatly appreciated by the fans.

In the seventh, James got transportation to first, Wiedensaul sacrificed him to second, and he made third while Joyce went out. Then Buckenberger winked a mighty wink to Faulkner, and four lobs sailed past Gibson so far away he could not have hit 'em if he tried, and Gib promptly stole second. But all Pappalau could unloose was a fly to centre which ended the trouble.

Then, in the eighth Miller also drew a pass, and was sacrificed to second by Bannon, but forgot that Smith was guarding that corner, a moment later was caught ten feet away. It probably did not cost a run, as Meaney made a scratch hit, and Lachance flew out.

But in the ninth! Strong men cheered and small boys hugged each other when, in answer to fervent prayers to rip the inside out of the sphere, Gibson sent the leather hurtling about forty feet farther than Yancy could run for it, and Wiedensaul cleared the plate, with Joyce ready to do the same, only he didn't have to.

TORONTO MADE IT FOUR STRAIGHT FROM BUFFALO

Toronto, May 15.—Buffalo was slaughtered in one inning Saturday. Four singles, a double, hit by pitched ball, a passed ball and four stolen bases gave Toronto six runs in the second inning. By winning four straight from the Bisons, Toronto took first place. The score:

BASEBALL NOTES.

Buffalo struck a large-sized snag at Toronto.

Manager Harley, of the Torontos, plays in the outfield. There are some other playing managers who should follow his example.

Lachance and Gibson pulled off a nice play in the first innings.

Rochester has a good string of pitchers this year.

Wagner was on the side lines but did not play. He is wanted to strengthen up that infield.

Montreal has a fast-fielding but light-hitting outfield.

Steelman has a good whip. He kept the Birds pinned to their bases.

Ten thousand persons saw Saturday's game in Toronto. There is money in a winning team, Mr. Kreitner.

Gibson has struck an .800 clip. He says he's going to keep it up. But he won't.

Who said Lachance couldn't hit? Faulkner fancies he can.

Miller should keep awake on the bases. Bad form to go to sleep at second.

Three consecutive shut-out games, and Montreal tagged two of 'em.

Meaney ate everything in sight in right pasture.

His running catches caused several cases of heart failure.

When Lachance gets on the bases he keeps busy.

Raub's rubicund reflection was missed from the landscape.

But nothing noticeable got past Lachance at first.

Bannon missed his usual hit.

But his sacrifice stunt was a wonder.

Faulkner, like Bunthorne, "holds himself like that."

The ladies admired his attitudes muchly.

It was the cleanest game seen here this season—the error department was blanked.

GIBSON LEADS ROYAL HITTERS, JOYCE NEXT

The batting averages of the Montreal team to date are not at all wonderful, but there are signs of improvement, although the men at the head of the batting order show decreases. Miller, Bannon and Meaney have dropped several points. Dyer improved, but so far Wiedensaul has shown no great form with the wood. The men who have moved up are Gibson, Raub and Joyce, the former jumping from .270 to .360. Joyce and Raub have been hitting fairly well, and the former is within hailing distance of the favored .300 class.

The team batting shows some improvement, going from .216 to .241. At the same time the batting of the opponents has dropped from .288 to .258, showing that the Royals' pitching department has been attending to business.

In the field Montreal has done better, but there is room for even better work. The figures in the field read: Opponents, .949; Montreal, .931.

Below are the batting averages, including yesterday's game:—

AUTOMOBILISTS WANT STRICTER REGULATIONS

Such owners of motor cars as are members of the Automobile Club of Canada are desirous that no license should be issued by the city until owners have proved their capacity to run their machines in a capable manner.

At the annual meeting of the club, to be held to-night at the Windsor, a motion will be offered; suggesting that in future the city take this course and hold an examination as to an owner's capabilities before issuing a license. Such a law prevails in France, and in Paris, owners who desire to run their cars must pass a strict test before being allowed to proceed through the streets in charge of their autos. In this way only capable men can handle the cars, and as a result the danger of accidents to pedestrians is minimized.

It is proposed to enforce similar rules here if the city will agree, and it is thought that the civic authorities will be of a similar mind with the members of the club.

KING'S PLATERS AT WORK AT WOODBINE

Toronto, Ont., May 15.—The railbirds had a great day at the Woodbine Saturday. It was the busiest day of the year. The platers to work were: Inferno, which romped 1¼ miles in 2.20; Heather Jock, a mile in 1.54, the mile and three-eighths in 2.37; Capercailzie, five-eighths in 1.07. The plater, Tony Hart, sent the distance for the first time with Gypsano, covered the plate course in 2.19½. Beneiart worked one of the fastest miles of the year in 1.44½.

The other trials were: Scarfell, a mile, 1.46; Light Brigade, mile, 1.48; Loupanga, mile, 1.50; Ailes D'Or, a mile in 1.46; War Paint, mile and an eighth in 2.03; mile in 1.48; War Whoop, mile and an eighth in 2.03, and a mile in 1.48; Charles Elwood, five-eighths in 1.07; The Dragon and Gold Stick, six furlongs, in 1.22; Cobourg and Barbarossa, five-eighths in 1.07; T. S. Martin and Nagazan, half-mile in .51½; Pater, half in .52; Merry England, five-eighths in 1.06, and Scotch Plume and Irish Witch a mile in 1.52.

Trainer Frayling arrived to-day from California with a string of thirteen. He made the trip in a week.

The following notice appeared at the track Saturday:

"Any person who is suspended or ruled off any race course is forbidden admission to any part of the property of the Ontario Jockey Club."

YALE ATHLETES WON EASILY FROM PRINCETON

Princeton, N.J., May 15.—Princeton was easily defeated by Yale Saturday in a dual crack meet, 79½ to 34½. Captain Williams, ex-champion intercollegiate miler, proved no match for Hill, of Yale, who finished several rods in the lead by a remarkable sprint, doing the mile in 4.34 4-5.

S. Rulon Miller, Princeton's crack short distance man, failed to secure a place in the 220-yard dash. The best exhibition of the meet was by Simons, of Princeton, who made a broad jump of 22 feet 11½ inches, breaking the records of both universities. The two miles was done in splendid time by Hale, of Yale, who set the pace for the entire race, and finished ahead of Chapin in 9.49 3-5. In most of the track events the time was not exceptional, chiefly owing to a heavy track.

LONGUEUIL BOATING CLUB'S NEW OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Longueuil Boating Club, held Saturday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, D. H. Grey; vice-president, E. O. Pickard; treasurer, Frank Robertin; secretary, H. Donnelly; captain, W. Davis; committee, Pat Honeyman and Jack Marcou. The report for the year was presented by Mr. E. Pickard, last year's secretary. Mr. Gray presented the financial report, which was most satisfactory. The clubhouse is to be opened for the season on Wednesday evening, May 24, when an informal dance will be held.

SHAMROCKS RETAIN THEIR OLD PLAYERS

Howard and Robinson Practised With Them on Saturday.

The statement that Robinson, Howard and McIlwaine, of the Shamrocks, were going to transfer their allegiance to the Montreals was not founded on fact, as Robinson and Howard have signed with the Shamrocks and participated in their practice Saturday. The other players who have signed are:—Kenny, Reilly, Howard, Kavanagh, Currie, Robinson, Hogan, Hoobin, J. Brennan, Hennessy, P. Brennan, Griffith, Kane and Devine.

McIlwaine has not yet signed, but is expected to do so. Harry Smith is not desirous of playing this year, but if the Shamrocks really require his services, he will again don a green jersey.

The Shamrocks had a splendid practice Saturday in anticipation of their match here with the Capital, May 27.

BRANTFORD'S LACROSSE TROUBLES INCREASING

Brantford, Ont., May 15.—(Special.)—The lacrosse officials here do not at all like the way things are looking in the C.L.A. senior series. With the boosting of prices the Toronto teams are doing, the local management committee finds it difficult to secure any players of repute with a chance of paying what is coming to them. The most kicking, however, is done at the existence of a five-team league. Now that it is too late to mend matters the management committee is openly advised to quit the senior C.L.A., but it is hardly likely this will happen since the season has been almost entered upon. Fred Frank stated yesterday morning that such a course might be pursued and find favor in this city. Tom Nelson, chairman of the management committee, says the team will be strong in any event, but they are not going to pay princely salaries. So far the men actually signed are:—Hutton, Brawn and Layden. No answer has yet been received from Tack Hendry or Dade. Arrangements have not been completed for Degan.

CAUGHNAWAGAS BEAT NATIONALS SIX TO FOUR

The Caughnawaga Indians, unsuccessful applicants for admission to the N.A.L.U., yesterday defeated the Nationals on the Maisonneuve grounds by 6 goals to 4. The winners played excellent lacrosse, their defensive and offensive tactics being exceptionally strong. Their team play was not perfect, but they were in good condition were not afraid to play a strenuous game, which the 2,500 spectators thoroughly enjoyed.

The names of those who played on the winning team were:—Joe Deer, goal; Joe Jacobs, point; Jim Norton, cover; P. Zacharie, Joe Taylor, Angus Leaf, F. S. Kirby, centre; D. Daillebout, Chas. Montour, Dominique Twoaxe, Peter Jacobs and Joe Martin.

JUVENILE LACROSSE.

Teams wishing to enter the Independent Juvenile Lacrosse League, will kindly send delegates to the meeting which will take place Tuesday evening, May 16, at 88 Prince Arthur Street.

RICHMOND TO CELEBRATE VICTORIA DAY ROYALLY

Richmond, Que., May 15.—(Special.)—Victoria Day will be celebrated at Richmond. The purely athletic feature of the day may be confidently looked forward to as something well worth witnessing. In the morning, from 11 to 12, there will be a grand go-as-you-please race from the Town Hall, down Main Street to Hudon's corner, thence to Adams Street, to College Street, back to Town Hall. At 1 p.m. there will be a procession of the Danville, Windsor Mills and Richmond baseball teams, headed by the Richmond brass band, to the exhibition grounds, where the sports will commence at 1.30 p.m. A league baseball match will be played at 4 p.m. between Windsor Mills and Richmond. The following sport will also take place:—100 yard dash, 220 yards dash, 440 yards dash, half-mile race, 1 mile race, 2 mile race, running high jumps, standing high jump, running broad jump, pole vault, putting 16-lb. shot, throwing 16-lb. hammer.

C.L.A. CLUBS SCOUTING FOR CORNWALL MEN

Cornwall, May 15.—The C.L.A. missionaries have been getting in their fine work in this section. Donald Cameron has gone to St. Catharines and Reddy McMillan, who played hockey last year with Calumet, will leave this week for Toronto, where he will play with the Tecumsehs. It is rumored that both the Torontos and Brantfords are after John White, the king of defence fielders. White is not very well satisfied with the treatment he received in Brantford last year, and may turn down his old club. It is also said on good authority that both Brantford and Toronto are after Fred Degan, who figured on the former team last season. Francis Cummings has had a letter from a Toronto club, but will remain in Cornwall and retain his amateur standing. Jim Kervin, who played on the St. Catharines team last year, will probably go West, but his destination is as yet unknown. The C.L.A. clubs are not limiting themselves to a still hunt for players, but are also looking in the East for competent men to take charge and coach their teams. One C.L.A. senior organization has made a liberal offer to Mike Gleason, of Cornwall, to take charge of their team, but the Cornwalls are hopeful that he will remain here to coach the local twelve. It will be remembered that Gleeson made a remarkable record two years ago, when he took hold of the Almonte Lacrosse Club, when they were practically tailenders, and landed the Ottawa Valley championship. Last year he handled the Carleton Place Club and landed them in second place in the same league.

M'GILL CRICKET CLUB BEAT UNDERGRADUATES

The first match of the season was played on the McGill campus on Saturday, when the city members of the McGill Club met the Undergraduates, and defeated them by 57 runs. For the Undergraduates, McDermot was the highest scorer with 14 runs, and for the city, Baker, who played a somewhat fluky innings of 67, not out. Hill bowled splendidly, getting 6 wickets for 22 runs. Appendid are the scores:

GORDON CONCERT.

The Gordon Association concert which takes place Friday, May 19 promises to be a great success, as an excellent programme has been arranged.

THE BALLAD OF GRIZZLY GULOW.

The rocks are rough, the trail is tough,
The forest lies before,
As madly, madly to the hunt
Rides good King Theodore
With woodsmen, plainsmen, journalists
And kodaks thirty-four.

The bob-cats howl, the panthers growl
"He sure is after us!"
As by his side lopes Bill, the Guide,
A wicked-looking cuss—
"Chee-chee!" the little birds exclaim,
"Ain't Teddy stren-oo-uss!"

Though dour the climb with slip and slime,
King Ted he doesn't care,
Till, cracking peanuts on a rock,
Behold, a Grizzly Bear!
King Theodore he shows his teeth,
But he never turns a hair.

"Come hither, Court Photographer,"
The genial monarch saith,
"Be quick to snap your picture-trap
As I do yon bear to death."
"Dee-lighted!" cries the smiling Bear,
As he waits and holds his breath.

Then speaks the Court Biographer,
And a handy guy is he,
"First let me wind my biograph,
That the deed recorded be."
"A square deal!" saith the patient Bear,
With ready repartee.

And now doth mighty Theodore
For slaughter raise his gun:
A flash, a bang, an ursine roar—
The dready deed is done!
And now the kodaks thirty-four
In chorus click as one.

The big brown bruin stricken falls
And in his juices lies;
His blood is spent, yet deep content
Beams from his limpid eyes.
"Congratulations, dear old pal!"
He murmurs as he dies.

From Cripple Creek and Soda Springs,
Gun Gulch and Gunnison,
A-foot, a-sock, the people flock
To see that deed of gun;
And parents bring huge families
To show what they have done.

On the damp corse stands Theodore
And takes a hand of each,
As loud and long the happy throng
Cries "Speech!" again and "Speech
Which pleaseth well King Theodore,
Whose practice is to preach.

"Good friends," he says, "lead outdoor lives
And Fame you yet may see —
Just look at Lincoln, Washington,
And great Napoleon B.;
And after that take off your hats
And you may look at me!"

But as he speaks a Messenger
Cries, "Sire, a telegraft!
The king up takes the wireless screed,
Which he opens fore and aft,
And reads, "The Venezulean stew
Is boiling over. TAFT."

Then straight the good King Theodore
In anger drops his gun
And turns his flashing spectacles
Toward high-domed Washington,
"O tush," he saith beneath his breath,
"A man can't have no fun!"

Then comes a disappointed wail
From every rock and tree,
"Good-by, good-by!" the grizzlies cry
And wring their handkerchee.
And a sad bob-cat exclaims, "O drat!
He never shot at me!"

So backward, backward from the hunt
The monarch lopes once more.
The Constitution rides behind
And the Big Stick rides before
(Which as a rule of precedent
In the reign of Theodore).

MR. HENDRIE HOME AGAIN.

Hamilton, Ont., May 15.—(Special).—Mr. George M. Hendrie arrived home last evening from Nashville, Tenn., where he had been in the hospital with blood-poisoning, following a little cut received in an automobile accident. He is still very weak, though able to move about a little with the aid of crutches and it will take a long rest to restore his former vigor and strength. He was accompanied from the south by his brother, Major Wm. Hendrie, Jr., who has been in Nashville ever since the illness took a serious turn.

LARGEST CROWD ON RECORD SAW THE LAST PERFORMANCES OF THE MONTREAL HORSE SHOW AT THE ARENA SATURDAY

The Judging of the Children's Classes in the Morning Made Very Pretty Scene—E. H. Weatherbee's Pearl Jumped Seven Feet in Afternoon High-Jumping Class—Mr. Gordon Henderson Fell With Sir Robert—The Horse Show Has Been Most Successful Ever Held in Montreal

Saturday evening's performance brought to a close the most successful horse show which has ever been held in Montreal. Not only were there more entries, more prizes and closer contests than in previous shows, but the attendance was also much larger and the spectators showed more enthusiasm and a keener interest in the different events than was noticeable on previous occasions.

The manner in which the arrangements were carried out reflects great credit on the gentlemen in charge of the show. No serious accident occurred, although there were several narrow escapes, and each performance went off almost without a hitch. In this respect but few horse shows can compare with the one which has just been held in this city. The decorations were elaborate, and were very harmoniously arranged, giving an exceedingly pretty general effect to the interior of the large building.

Local horse owners are to be congratulated on the standing taken by Montreal horses. Many splendid animals were brought here from the West for the show, and the local horses were pitted against some of the best horseflesh in the country. They succeeded in holding their own, however, and demonstrated the fact that Montreal is not behind the other cities of Canada in this respect.

Great credit is due to the judges for their accurate and impartial decisions. That the judges position is by no means an easy one was demonstrated on Saturday afternoon, when in one event it took upwards of three-quarters of an hour to choose the blue ribbon horse after all the animals had been exhibited. The gentlemen who chose the winners were all experienced men, and let no points of merit escape their notice.

With regard to the social side of the show, there is no doubt that it surpassed all its predecessors in this respect. The boxes were well filled at every performance with a fashionable crowd, and the display of millinery and dresses was a notable one.

CHILDREN ENJOYED THEMSELVES HUGELY

With old King Sol in his most complacent mood, the forenoon of children's day at the Horse Show excelled itself. Everyone was happy, and in their most appreciative frame of mind. Youthful innocence and beauty tricked out in i's very best thronged the Arena, nor was there any lack of the senior element to look after it. How the judges might have pondered their decisions had they beheld the supernaturally wise expressions on the faces of their juvenile critics! How vigorously the young ones could applaud the successful, how sympathetic they could be with those who missed the prize list, and how alarmed and sorry over the little accidents that occurred. The S.P.C.A. came in for a good round sum over the unlimited sale of ices and cake so dear to the palates of the youthful.

Taken all over the exhibits were pretty well up to the number of entries. In strictly juvenile classes, Montreal having 90 per cent. of the entries, was partly entitled to be successful. In the senior events the two first places were secured by Mr. Adam Beck, London. In the ponies in harness, class 55, the several turns-out were extremely neat, and the winner seemed the general favorite, as indeed seemed the case in every class. As usual, great interest was manifested in the hunter class. In class 57, riding pony, 13 hands and under, Miss Nicholls gave a fine exhibition of horsemanship, and was easily first. The fence performances in class 59 aroused tremendous enthusiasm. Speculation, ridden by Miss Shiela McEachran, gave a superb display. Miss Nicholls, on Little Queen, had much difficulty in getting the animal to take the first obstacle, and when at last she did succeed, was thrown heavily. Although pretty well shaken, she pluckily re-mounted, and after all gained second place. The little gentleman who took third place afforded much amusement by the desperate efforts he made to retain his seat in the saddle. Unhorsed in the easiest fashion at the first two obstacles, without being at all hurt, he valiantly and successfully essayed the second journey round the ring.

The following is the prize list:

AFTERNOON PROGRAMME HIGHLY INTERESTING

The Saturday afternoon performance was marked by several close and interesting contests, the judging of one class ocupying upwards of three-quarters of an hour. The attendance was larger than that of any of the previous afternoon performances, the audience being composed largely of ladies and children. Nearly every seat on the sides was occupied, and there was a good sprinkling of spectators at the ends. The boxes were also well filled.

The most notable feature of the programme was probably the saddle championship class, the last event. The judges experienced considerable difficulty in arriving at a decision, owing to the closeness in points of two of the animals entered for competition. The choice was between Cingalee, owned by Mr. Kilgour, of Toronto, and Hector, owned by Mr. J. A. Stevenson, of this city. Messrs. D. Hughes Charles of Peterborough, and John R. Valentine, of Philadelphia, the judges, were at a deadlock, and so it became necessary to call on Mr. R. F. Carman, of Hungtindon, to decide.

When inquiry was made for Mr. Carman, however, it was found that he had left the Arena and had gone to his rooms at the Windsor. A messenger was ent in a cab for him and he was brought back and gave his casting vote in favor of Hector.

One of the most interesting events was the four-in-hand competition, There were two of these entered, Mr. Pepper's and Dr. Learmonth's:. The latter was in charge of his own outfit and gave an exhibtion of driving which has seldom been equalled in Montreal and was loudly aplauded by the spectators. The driver of Mr. Pepper's trap also showed wonderful cleverness in handling the ribbons. No accidents marred this event which went off without a hitch of any kind. A four-in-hand is a difficult thing to drive in a ring the size of the Arena and on previous occasions some rather bad mix-ups have occurred.

The jumping in the Lady's Hunter's class was watched with interest. There were eight entries in this class and the lady riders negotiated the hurdles in fine style. Several of the horses refused to take the hurdles, in spite of the efforts of their riders to make them doso, and had to be withdrawn from the competiton.

Some good jumping was also seen in the green hunter's class which opened the performance.

The results were as follows:—

EVENING.

For the last time during the season horse was king once more on Saturday night, and he ended his reign as he began it in triumph and splendor. A great throng filled the Arena to catch a last glimpse of the departing monarch whose reign has been so brief, but so eminently successful. During the four days on which he occupied the throne he commanded the sincerest homage from Montreal people high and low. All bowed their heads to him and considered themselves honored in swearing fealty to the noblest of animals. Nor did any vassal seek to break the tie which bound him to his lord. The sovereignty was as complete and as freely yielded as it was splendid. The zeal of the horse devotees kept up till the very last, and interest never flagged for a moment. Horse was complete master of the situation and he used his power like the true monarch that he was to extend the loyalty, enthusiasm, and happiness of his devoted subjects. When at last the sovereign left the scene, and each found himself his own master again, there was a tinge of regret in the reflection that a whole year would have to pass before any could come beneath that delightful sway again.

The performance of Saturday evening was a success, as indeed all the performances have been. The Arena was thronged with spectators all anxious to see the grand finale of the week's entertainment. And as usual these same spectators were themselves no inconsiderable part of the show. What with the costly millinery and gay dresses of the ladies, showing against the severe black and white of the men's evening dress, the scene was as brilliant a one as eye could wish to see. The show had been growing in interest all week and in point of attendance Saturday night carried off the prize. In the reserved part of the building scarcely a seat was untaken, while the boxes were filled with but few exceptions. During the intermissions the promenade was freely used by spectators from both benches and boxes; who took this method of varying their view point.

The chief interest, as always, centred in the hunter class and in the high jumping events in particular. It reached its climax in the last number, when Pearl, a fine bay mare, belonging to Mr. E. H. Weatherbee, cleared the hurdle at seven feet.

The first number of the evening was the judging of the troopers' mounts. At the proper moment, ten horses with riders in full uniform trotted into the ring and circled round the central stand, their dark, simple uniform, flashing sabres and easy graceful horsemanship making a pleasing picture. Corporal Shirley, on a fine light bay, carried off the prize, being closely followed by Sergt. Nutter, on a dark animal, and Sergt. Littlewood on a lively little gray. Q.M.S. H. H. Hale secured an honorable mention Q.R.S. H. W. Hale would doubtless have come in for something were it not that his beatiful dark chestnut was too nervous and scarcely under his control.

The local runabout class prize was a cup offered by Mr. C. M. Hays. Mr. H. H Learmont's Onita, a lively little bay, with fine action, carried off the prize easily But for the whip, the contest was particularly keen between Mr. S. P. Howard's Lady Greyand Mr. Learmont's Fandango, Lady Grey at last carried off the prize.

Perhaps the gayest scene of the evening presented itself in the third number, when the members of the Club de Chasse a Courre Canadien entered the lists in their attractive hunt costumes, bright red coats, white trousers, black caps, black riding boots, with tan tops. All the leaps were made entirely without accidents, though one or two horses refused to take the leaps, and a few knocked the brush down with their knees. The prize, Major Geo. R. Hooper's cup, was carried off easily and great applause, by Silver King, Mr. J. C. Wray's gray. Silver King took every leap with the greatest of ease and was a prime favorite with the spectators. The second prize went to Gladstone, Mr. N. Gravel's bay, while Dr. J. D. Gauthier's Jupiter carried off third.

Class 29 was the final in harness championship and was open only to horses that had taken a first prize already. Only two entries were made in this class, Mrs. Beck's Sparkle and Major G. R. Hooper's Gay Lady. Sparkle won the blue ribbon amid tremendous applause. Mrs. Beck's clever handling of the reins has made her a prime favorite in the ring, and in spite of the fact that she took a sweep stakes prize from a Montreal exhibitor she was cheered to the echo as she deftly guided her Sparkle about the enclosure.

Class 46 was the hunter championship, and was open only to winners of a blue ribbon. A Montreal horse, Mr. Colin Campbell's Kincardine, carried off the prize here, the reserve ribbon going to Gordon J. Henderson's Sir Robert. The most exciting incident of the evening happened during the speeding in his class. Mr. Henderson on Sir Robert, was rounding the corner at the north end of the ring when the horse slipped and fell heavily. Fortunately for Mr. Henderson he managed to extricate himself without injury.

The most intensely interesting of all the numbers was reserved for the last. This was the high jumping championship. The only thing that marred the event was the knowledge that the horses all belonged to one man, Mr. E. H. Weatherbee, of New York. All the leaps were made without mishap. Pearl winning first prize at 7 feet. There was an interesting moment, when San Toy, the lively little bay, after twice refusing the hurdle at 6 feet 2, came at it a third time with determination in every fibre and cleared the barrier with the greatest of ease.

The following were the awards in the evening:

A YOUNG WOMAN'S TRIBUTE!

TWO PHYSICIANS PUZZLED

Frail, Delicate Women and Girls Will Do Well to Heed the Advice of Miss M. Jones, 4019 Dorchester St., Montreal.

MISS M. JONES,
4019 Dorchester Street.

Miss M. Jones, a well known young lady of Dorchester Street west, had been suffering for over six years from general debility, nervous prostration, indigestion and liver complaint. Two doctors had unsuccessfully treated her, and she seemed doomed to suffer all her life.

A friend of hers who had been benefited by the use of St. James Wafers called her attention to the personal letters of grateful appreciation, testimonials and remarkable reports of cures operated by these wafers, adding to this documentary evidence the testimony of her own prompt relief from sickness.

Miss Jones was cautious, but knowing that the best proof is a test, she bought a box of these pellets. Two weeks later she already felt considerably better, and after using the marvellous wafers during six weeks, she was completely restored to health.

What two doctors had been unable to do was thus accomplished by the use of a few boxes of St. James Wafers.

Knowing that what had cured her, could also cure others, and that it would be almost a criminal neglect to let a sick one suffer when by the simple act of adding her testimonial to that of thousands of others who have also been cured by St. James Wafers, she might point out the way to relief and cure, she at once wrote the St. James Wafers Co. the following grateful letter:

"Dear Sirs,—About six months ago I received a shock from which I did not recover, and was threatened with nervous prostration, also my body seemed to ache and pain me. Medicine seemed of no avail, until chancing to hear of St. James Wafers, I decided to give them a trial. I have been taking them for six weeks now, and feel perfectly strong and healthy again, thanks to your wafers.

"Miss M. Jones."

HERALD DAILY PATTERN

CHILD'S COAT 2123.

Little children are always attractive when wearing long, semi-loose coats. This season velvet, plush and silk and moire velours, with lace, are much in vogue, in addition to the familiar cloths, cheviots, and the like. The very pretty model shown is of tan colored broadcloth with collar of silk embroidered in openwork style, but the design suits all materials mentioned equally well. Both front and back are loosely fitted in box style and the former are lapped and closed with buttons and button-holes. The sleeves are made after the Bishop model, but with the new turn-over cuffs. At the neck a big round collar gives a cape effect, with a simple turn-over one that fastens around the throat, but which may be omitted if not desired. To cut this coat for a child of 4 years of age, 3¾ yards of material 21 inches wide, 4¼ yards 44 inches wide, or 1⅝ yards 52 inches wide, will be required. The pattern 2123 is cut in sizes for children of 1, 2, 4 and 6 years of age. This pattern will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents sent to Pattern Department of The Herald.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude; when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.)

"I am but fifteen years of age, am depressed, have dizzy spells, chills, headache and backache, and as I have heard that you can give helpful advice to girls in my condition, I am writing you."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.)

"It is with the feeling of utmost gratitude that I write to you to tell you what your valuable medicine has done for me. When I wrote you in regard to my condition I had consulted several doctors, but they failed to understand my case and I did not receive any benefit from their treatment. I followed your advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now healthy and well, and all the distressing symptoms which I had at that time have disappeared."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Miss Matilda Borman writes Mrs Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my monthlies were irregular and painful, and I always had such dreadful headaches.

"But since taking the Compound my headaches have entirely left me, my monthlies are regular, and I am getting strong and well. I am telling all my girl friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Matilda Borman, Farmington, Iowa.

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her every detail of her symptoms, and to keep nothing back. She will receive advice absolutely free, from a source that has no rival in the experience of woman's ills, and it will, if followed, put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of cures of female ills of any medicine that the world has ever known. Why don't you try it?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes Sick Women Well.

OPIUM CAUSED CROKER'S DEATH

Traced to Opium Joint—Marriage Set in Two Weeks.

Kansas City, Mo., May 15.—The police have completed their investigation of the visit of Herbert V. Croker, son of Richard Croker, formerly New York Tammany leader, to an opium resort and to north end saloons, preceding his death in an Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train near Newton, Kas., Friday morning, and unless the relatives of young Croker request it, no further action in the case will be taken by the Kansas City police.

Charles Wilson, negro porter at the Coates Hotel, who accompanied Croker to the opium den and later put him on a train, was released from jail. Ah Lee and Gee Khee, proprietors of the opium joint, are held and will be prosecuted in the police court for conducting an illegal business.

The coroner's verdict is that he came to his death while between Kansas City and Newton, Kas., from the effects of a narcotic poison taken into his system at Kansas City before boarding said train by means and manner unknown to the jury.

Chief of Police Hays, of Kansas City, says that Croker's death was due to over-indulgence in whiskey and opium. Chief Hays says there is little to indicate that Croker was robbed and nothing to show that he was drugged unless he drugged himself.

New York, May 15.—Miss Toinette Horton, of Horton, N.Y., from whom a letter is awaiting Herbert Croker at No. 101 ranch, Oklahoma, said to-day that she was engaged to young Croker, and that they had planned to be married in Oklahoma in two weeks.

Dublin, May 15. —Richard Croker does not intend to go to the United States for the funeral of his son.

Mr. Croker said that he had no reason to suspect foul play, as Herbert's heart had been affected for five years. Herbert was making the trip west for his health, Mr. Croker said, and he was convinced that his son died a natural death.

The shock occasioned by his son's death has greatly affected Mr. Croker.

BEST IN HORSES AND BEST IN PIANOS.

Mr. A. P. Willis' saddle horse "Peter" won the blue ribbon at the Montreal Horse Show on Saturday in the non-commissioned officers' exhibit, having also won the blue ribbon last year for officers' horses. It may be added that the Newcombe piano, which is a great favorite of Mr. Willis, received the Gold Medal at Paris, 1900, there being three hundred competitors.—adv.

WESTMOUNT BY-LAW EASILY CARRIED

Town Can Borrow $250,000 For Improvements—High Average of Wealth

Only 125 ballots were cast in the voting on Saturday on Westmount's by-law to borrow $250,000 for road and drain improvements, but of these almost two-thirds were in favor of the proposition. The property valuation represented by the "Yeas" was also vastly greater than that of the opponents of the by-law, which will of course now be finally adopted by the Council.

Very little interest was manifested in the proceedings when Mayor Duclos appeared at the Town Hall at eight o'clock to receive the returns, about fifteen citizens were present, but it was regarded as certain that the by-law would carry. The main feature of the vote was the high individual average wealth, of the voters, the 125 who marked ballots representing an assessed value of $1,881,950, or an average of $150,055 apiece.

The exact figures as announced by Mayor Duclos were—

	Votes.	Property value.
For	85	$1,211,075
Against	40	670,875
Majority for.	45	540,200

The money will be expended on concrete sidewalks, drain and macadamized roads, etc. As all this expenditure except that on sidewalks will be collected in the shape of special frontage assessment upon property holders it will not represent a very considerable permanent debt.

ALL THIN PALE WOMEN

Should Know the Cause of Their Nervous Used-Up Condition.

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is Nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

With nerve-energy below par your system, is just ready for pneumonia or consumption.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of vital energy and nerve-force that defies sickness of any kind.

There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont., Read her statemnet:—

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At times I was prostrated with nervous and sick headache. All day I was tired. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You would scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well."

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty chocolate coated tablets for 50c, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn. U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

STOCKS AND MONEY.

Detroit Un. Continues Rapid Climb; Further Cotton Merger Expected

The continued rapid advance in Detroit United and the possibility of the Montreal Cotton Company selling out to the Dominion Textile Company during the present week were the principal features of the stronger market that prevailed to-day.

The further jump in Detroit United was attributed by local brokers almost entirely to the prospect of an increase in dividend. The stock was largely wielded in both here and in Wall Street. On the latter after opening at 87, it advanced steadily by fractions to 89 3-4 while the highest point here was 89 1-4. Throughout the morning the price here was well below the price in New York and the number of big blocks that came out here indicated that interests that usually trade in the Wall Street market were taking advantage of the lower prices here. Even if there is not any increase in dividend in the near future the stock has been selling here for one on a four cent basis.

The only sale of Montreal Cotton which on Saturday scored an advance of 11 3-4 points, was at 110. The Herald saw the leading officials of the company regarding the possibility of the company selling out to the Dominion Textile Company and they stated tht while there had been some talk of it nothing officially had been done. From a well informed source The Herald was informed that the deal is almost certain to go through and that an announcement will likely be made within a few days. The stock of the Montreal Cotton Company is very closely held and as there has been from a 7 to 9 per cent. dividend in it for some time the holders are insisting on getting a good price. By securing it the Dominion Textile Company would practically be without a competitor in Canada.

The new bond and stock of the Dominion Coal Company were well traded in on the local exchange to-day, the list, though not very active, was slightly stronger. Union Pacific selling 123 1-2; U.S. Steel pfd. 99; com., 31 3-8, Detroit United, 87 to 89 3-4; C.P.R., 149 1-8 to 149 3-8.

WALL STREET GOSSIP.

Henry Clews, the New York banker, says of the situation: Many influences have already been partially discounted, and so long as the general situation remains so sound the market is likely to preserve its elasticity and show good rallying powers. There is a growing short interest in the market which is likely to cause sharp upward reactions in the event of favorable news, especially as the general situation remains sound. The foreign situation is still an element of uncertainty, and the European markets are much more sensitive to this contingency than our own, which, however, would certainly reflect any depression or improvement over there.

Sales in Wall Street to 11 o'clock, were: 236,000 shares, to noon, 334,000 shares.

The United States Steel Corporation made over 700,000 tons of pig iron in April, and entered May with 97 per cent. of its furnace capacity in blast.

Earnings of Twin City the first week of May showed increase of $5,469, an increase; from Jan. 1st increase $78,635.

Laidlaw & Co.—Nor. Pacific stock was quite strong, advancing 3 1-2 per cent. to 196, which is the highest price since the day of the panic in 1901. Railway traffic receipts continue very satisfactory. The weather in west and Northwest was reported as quite favorable but the Southwest there were reports of damaging floods.

E. & C. Randolph—The tone of the market has differed greatly. At the weaker fractions there has been very good buying indeed. At the higher range it gets into control of room traders and brings in very little outside support. Jacob Field and C. B. MacDonald have been prominent factors on the long side all morning, operating in many stocks. Amalgamated Copper paid no particular attention to the sharp break in the copper stock in London.

Montreal Exchange quotations today are reported as folows by Marler & Hodgson: New York funds, 1-64 to 1-32 prem., 1-16 to 1-4 prem.; sterling 60 days, 9 1-32 to 9 3-32, 9 1-8 to 9 1-4; sterling demand., 9 1-2 to 9 9-16, 9 5-8 to 9 3-4; sterling cables, 9 19 to 9 5-8, 9 3-4 to 9 7-8. Canadians Control New Enterprise in Havana

Mr. Edwin Hanson, of the fir mof Hansen Bros., returned to the city to-day from New York, where he was elected president of the newly-organized company to be known as The Havana Central Railway Co. Speaking to the Herald of the new enterprise that will result in electric lines being built through all the principal sections of Havana, Mr. Hanson stated that of the $5,000,000 capital, about two-fifths had been underwritten in Canada, 1-5 in Cuba, 1-5 in New York and 1-5 in London.

"The new railway," added Mr. Hanson, "would have a big advantage over all the existing lines, because it would be the first one to run right on the docks of Havana, thus enabling freight to be placed right on board the steamers.

"The company intended going on immediately with the work of construction and would have lines running through the fruit, tobacco and sugar districts.

"Sites had already been secured for the company's stations, power-houses and carshops, and it was intended that a portion of the lines should be in operation within nine months. Mr. Hanson considered the company was being organized at a very favorable time to take advantage of the marked prosperity that Cuba is enjoying.

The new company, although entirely independent of the Havana Electric Ry., will be closely allied with it.

It is intended that the stock of the new company should be listed on the Montreal Exchange.

Locomotive Company Increases Output

The official announcement is made that the locomotive plant of the Locomotive & Machine Company of Montreal, at Longue Pointe, has been increased so that it is now able to turn out 10 locomotives a month, or 120 a year. The Herald is informed that there are now orders on hand for 100 locomotives. The structural steel plant is being increased steadily and it is intended that it should finally have an output of 1,000 tons a month.

Another Big U.S. Co. Establishes in Canada

The American Radiator Company, of Chicago, the largest concern of the kind in the United States, and known as the Radiator Trust, is the latest American company to establish a branch factory in Canada as the result of the anti-dumping clause. The company has purchased the ol. plant of the Cockshutt Plough Co. in Brantford, which it will considerably enlarge, and will manufacture hot water boilers and radiators on an extensive scale.

The American Radiator Co. is an amalgamation of the former's American Radiator Company, of Illinois, which controlled one-half of the radiator business of the United States, and the Titusville Iron Co., Pa.; the St. Louis Radiator Co., St. Louis; the Standard Radiator Co., Buffalo, and the M. Steele Co. of Springfield, O. Its capital is $10,000,000.

Rio de Janeiro Co. Scores Signal Victory

The numerous bond and stock holders of the Rio de Janeiro Tramway Light and Power Company, will be interested in the story that comes from Brussels of the way Mr. F. S. Pearson, the vice-president of the company, secured the controlling interest in the present lighting company of Rio de Janeiro:

London, May 15.—(Can. Press.)—The Financial News' Brussels correspondent says that the Bourse there is trying to penetrate the meaning of a mysterious transaction between Belgium Rio de Janeiro Gas and Canadian Rio Janeiro Tramway, Light and Power Company. It will be remembered that the Canadian company suddenly were refused the authorization of the Brazilian Government to carry out their schemes to contract for the supply of electricity entered into with the Belgian company. On this announcement Rio Gas shares went up considerably. Now, says the Financial News, comes the surprise. Two representatives of the Canadian company, F. S. Pearson and Percival Farquhar, arrived unexpectedly in Brussels and purchased the whole interest of the Banque Liegoise in Rio Gas. The following day an urgently convened meeting took place, when two directors, delegates of the Banque Liegeoise, resigned, and others are expected. In the various movements on the Bourse during the last few days, it may be concluded that other shares have changed hands in the same direction. Canadians are believed to have control of the company. The object of this transaction is to enable the Canadian group, which was debarred for political reasons, to enter the sphere of Brazilian industry by another door. The Brussels Bourse is now asking what about the agreement between the Brazilian Government and the Gas Company, who is the dupe, who has been wire pulling? Lively times are expected at the meeting of the Gas Company, May 2?, when perhaps some light will be thrown on Brazilian financial and industrial methods.

Week in B.C. Mines

Rossland, B.C., May 15.—The Le Roi concentrator has been partially run for the past few days for the purpose of testing the machinery and of conducting some experiments. The part of the plant that is in operation is being run by a small electric motor, borrowed from the Le Roi mine, pending the arrival of electric motors which are being made at Peterboro, Ont., for the plant. Superintendent Mitchell has been putting through the mills small batches of second-class from the Le Roi and says he is fully satisfied that the concentrator will work satisfactorily, and that he will, with this plant, solve the problem of successfully concentrating the second class ores of the Le Roi. He believes that the mill will concentrate the ore so as to save a very large proportion of the values. It remains to be seen, however, whether the mill will do as well on a large scale as it has on a small scale.

Folowing are the shipments for the week: Le Roi, 2,050 tons; Centre Star, 1,500; War Eagle, 1,500; Le Roi No. 2, 90; Le Roi No. 2 milled, 600; White Bear, milled 300; Jumbo, 200; Spitzee, 60. Total for the week, 6,300 tons. For the year, 128,114 tons.

Report of Banque Nationale

The 45th annual report of La Banque Nationale, for the year ending April 29, just issued, shows that the profits of the year after providing for accrued interest on deposits and for bad and doubtful debts, amounted to $140,684.59, which, with the balance at credit of profit and loss on April 30, 1904, of $82,481.67, totals $223,166.26. Out of which there were paid $90,000 in dividends, while the sum of $50,000 was transferred to reserve fund, leaving at the credit of profit and loss account a balance of $83,166.26.

Decline in Jap Bonds

As a result of the rush, both of English and Continental capital, to subscribe to last month's 4½ per cent. Japanese loan, it is probable that the upward movement in Japanese securities has been somewhat overdone. To-day's price even of the old 4 per cent—84—is 4 or 5 points under last month's highest. Were Japan to suffer a serious naval reverse, the effect on her securities would be very serious indeed. War brings its many surprises, and among them may be such an event as a Japanese defeat. But there is no such expectation here. But there is yet another aspect of the matter, presented by French capitalists who are now inclined to "hedge," and, in view of the possibility of Russian bonds falling heavily on any further serious defeat, have effected purchases of Japanese bonds.

Profits in Trust Funds

In a brochure just issued, entitled "Functions of Trust Companies," The Morton Trust Co. says:

"Up to the present time, the average rate to the beneficiaries of all trust funds invested by this company has been about 4½ per cent. after the deduction of all charges."

MARKET REPORTS.

Embargo No Cause for Worry; Hurts England More Than Canada

The opinion of the majority of the Canadian cattle dealers appears to be that the refusal of the British Board of Agriculture to remove the embargo on Canadian cattle will not hurt the Canadian stock-raisers to any extent, but is agains the best interests of the British agriculturists themselves.

"I do not believe that the embargo will hurt the Canadian cattlemen at all," said a prominent Montreal cattle dealer to a representative of The Herald this morning, and there is no doubt he expressed the general opinion of nearly all the local dealers.

But for the embargo the British farmer could get our stock cattle after they had been prepared for fattening, the most expensive part of raising, fatten them himself, and get the bulk of the profits. The British farmer could buy Canadian stock at about £8 a head and sell it as from £12 to £15 a head when fattened, thus making a good profit. This profit might just as well be reaped by the Canadian farmer.

It is, of course, to the interests of the Irish stock-raisers to have Canadian stock shut out of the British marke,t and their influence was no doubt in a large measure responsible for the refusal of the Board of Agriculture to remove the embargo.

The removal of the embargo, on the other hand, would have one advantage to Canadian stock-raisers. It would remove the slur on Canadian cattle as diseased, which, in the opinion of prominent Canadian cattlemen, is absolutely unfounded.

MR. ALLAN'S OPINION.

Toronto, May 15.—Mr. J. D. Allan, president of the Union Stock Yards, speaking of the continuance of the embargo on Canadian cattle to-day, said:

"Canadians can afford to smale at, and, in doing so, pity the stubborn ignorance of the British agriculturist concerning what is in his own best interest."

Mr. Allan expressed himself as strongly in favor of a relaxation of the embargo, by increasing the slaughtering time limit after arrival from ten to thirty days. Owing to the ice blockade in the St. Lawrence Gulf last week a number of ships from Montreal would arrive in England at once and probably 9,000 head of Canadian cattle would be dumped on the market. The demand could not absorb so many at once, and consequently British butchers would be able to make low prices to Canadian shippers. The possibility of loss in this way would be prevented if our exporters were able to hold cattle long enough to tide over a temporary glut.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain.—The week opened with very little business offering and local grain men say that it looks as though the bids over cable will certainly have to show an increase if business is to improve as there is nothing to indicate that the quotations here are likely to go lower.

Flour.—The demand continues to improve from both local and country buyers and business in consequence is steadily increasing. We quote: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.40 to $5.50; strong bakers, $5.10 to $5.20; winter wheat patents, $5.50 to $5.60; straight rollers $5.15 to $5.25, and in bags, $2.45 to $2.55.

Millfeed.—Very little millfeed is being offered on the local market, and it is said that in some instances millers have been buyers in the market. Prices, $1 to $1.50 a ton. The demand for bran is somewhat limited, at present, but there is a good enquiry for shorts. We quote as follows: Manitoba bran, in bags, $19; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario winter wheat bran, in bulk, $18.50 to $19; shorts, $20 to $21; mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Oats.—There was no further change in the market for rolled oats, which is quiet at $2.15 to $2.17½ per bag. The demand for cornmeal is slow at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Hay.—An easy feeling prevails in the market for baled hay, owing to increased receipts and lower prices are anticipated. The demand is fair for local consupmtion. We quote as follows: No. 1, $9 to $9.50; No. 2, $8 to $8.50; clover, mixed, $7 to $7.50; and pure clover, $6.50 to $6.75 per ton, in car lots.

The Provision Market

There was no new developments in the market, prices being firm for all lines, with a fair volume of business passing on both local and country account. Dressed hogs were quiet, with abattoir fresh-killed quoted at $9.75 to $10 per 100 lb.

Prices.—Heavy Canada short cut mess pork, in tierces, $31.50 to $32.50; heavy Canada short cut mess, $21 to $22; Canada short cut back pork, $19 to $20; heavy Canada long cut mess pork, none; heavy Canada short cut clear pork, $19 to $20; heavy flank pork, $19 to $20; light Canada short cut clear pork, none.

Country Produce

Beans.—Business in beans was quiet, but the undertone to the market remains steady and prices for choice primes are unchanged at $1.60 to $1.65 per bushel.

Honey.—The market for honey was dull and featureless. We quote as follows: Extracted white clover honey, 7c to 7½c per 10-lb. tin, and 6½c to 7c in 60-lb. tins; buckwheat honey, 6c to 6½c, and white clover comb, 13c to 13½c.

Maple Product.—A fair usiness continues to be done in maple product, and prices show no change: We quote: Syrup, in 60-gal. kegs, 6c to 6½c per lb.; in tins, 65c to 70c per wine measure, and 75c to 80c for Imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8½c to 9c per lb.

Hops.—The demand for hops is slow and the tone of the market is easy. Choice Canadians, 28c to 29c, and fair to good at 24c to 26c per lb.

Ashes.—A weaker feeling has prevailed in the market for potash and prices show a sharp decline. We quote as follows: First sorts, $5.50; seconds, $5; and first pearls, $7 to $7.25 per 100 lb.

English Cheese Markets

London, May 15.—A weaker feeling has developed in the market since this day week, and prices have declined 1s to 2s to 54s to 57s.

Bristol, May 15.—The market is easier with inside prices 6d lower, the range being from 56s to 58s 6d.

Liverpool, May 15. — Butter, nominal. Cheese, dull; finest white, 55s; finest colored, 53s.

Cheese Boards

Cowansville, May 15.—(Special.)—At the Eastern Townships Dairymen's Exchange Saturday, 31 creameries offered 1,081 boxes of butter and 9 factories offered 249 boxes cheese. H. H. Hibbard bought 145 boxes of butter at 18⅝c and 57 boxes at 18¼c; Gunn, Langlois & Co. bought 80 boxes at 18⅝c and 103 boxes at 18¼c; H. Allen bought 30 boxes at 18⅝c; A. W. Grant bought 90 boxes at 18⅝c; A. M. McCullough bought 95 boxes at 18⅝c and 75 boxes at 18⅝c; J. Alexander bought 130 boxes at 18⅝c; A. L. Hibbard bought 86 boxes at 18⅝c and 20 boxes at 18¼c; F. Fowler bought 28 boxes at 18⅝c. The balance was unsold. Unsalted sold at 18⅝c.

F. Fowler bought 92 boxes of cheese at 9⅝c and 25 boxes at 9¾c; Gunn, Langlois & Co. bought 27 boxes at 9⅝c and 25 boxes at 9⅝c; Hodgson Bros. bought 35 boxes at 9½c. The balance was unsold. Twelve buyers were present. The board adjourned to 20th.

Vankleek Hill, May 15.—There were 698 boxes cheese boarded Saturday, 35 boxes colored and 663 white. Langlois opened the bid at 9½c, no sales. Bennett then raised the bid to 9⅝c and at that figure all the cheese was sold on the board. Weegar, for A. A. Ayer & Co., got 161 boxes; Wilson, for A. D. McGillis, got 58 boxes; Bennett, for Jas. Dalrymple, got 401 boxes white and 35 colored, and Langlois, for Gunn and Langlois, got 40 boxes. There were four buyers present — Weegar, Wilson, Bennett and Langlois.

Belleville, Ont., May 15.—There was offered on the board Saturday 1,620 white and 50 colored cheese. Sales were 715 boxes at 9⅝c, and 65 at 9 9-16c. For the balance 9 9-16c was offered, but holders wanted higher prices.

Cornwall, May 15.—At the Cornwall cheese board Saturday 714 boxes were boarded, 513 white and 201 colored. All sold at 9⅝c. The buyers were J. A. McRae, for Hodgson Bros., 271; J. A. Webster, for J. Alexander, 252; N. Fitt, for Willer & Riley, 153; Logan, for the A. A. Ayer Company, 38.

Chesterville, May 15.—At the meeting of the cheese board, held Saturday, 225 boxes white were boarded. All sold on board to A. A. Logan, at 9⅝c. The buyers present were Messrs. Carson and Logan.

Brockville, Ont., May 15.—(Special.)—The preliminaries at Saturday's meeting of the cheese board was taken up largely with a discussion on the advisability of changing the day of meeting to Thursday, as formerly, and a resolution to that end was introduced and lost.

F. Fowler, the Montreal exporter, and Prof. G. G. Publow, the chief dairy instructor for Eastern Ontario, addressed the board briefly. The former spoke of the bright outlook for Canadian cheese in England this season. Around the table was an unusually large number of buyers, including the following: L. Patton, R. G. Murphy, M. W. Evertts, O. E. Earle, J. J. Dickey, M. H. Bissell, J. Webster, J. R. A. Laing, D. Derbyshire, A. A. Davis, C. R. Earle, and H. N. Gardiner. The last mentioned is a new face. He is a well known resident of Lyn and for the remainder of the season will represent Frank Fowler, the Montreal exporter, at this and other boards throughout this section.

The offerings were 2,599 boxes of which 1,365 were colored and 1,234 white. The cable was quoted at 55s for both kinds.

Though the general feeling of the market indicated a weaker tone as compared with last Saturday, the salesmen, by persistent holding back, forced the buyers to pay the same price, 10c. This was at least ¼c better than they had anticipated. In the eyes of the buyers colored seemed to have the preference, but in many cases factories had both kinds and would not allow the white to go cheaper, and in order to get the desired colored the white had to be taken also. When the chalker got down to work, however, the buyers did not bother themselves much about the color, and only in one instance white went below 10c. A number of factories remaining unsold at adjournment, the salesmen were given the special privilege of selling on the curb.

The curb sales which include the "regulars," that are sent along every week to the same buyers, are reported to be quite heavy, showing that the make is rapidly increasing in volume since the cows were turned loose on the pastures. In round numbers 4,000 boxes represent to-day's transactions at 10c, the buyers being: Gardiner, 679; Webster, 200; C. Earle, 210; O. E. Earle, 75; Bissell, 900. Evertts, 300; Dickey, 175; Derbyshire, 1,000; Murphy, 500; total, 4,039.

The Grocery Trade

The grocery trade in Montreal during the past week has been fairly satisfactory. No heavy ordering has been done by country buyers, but a fair trade has been done, and there has been a slight improvement on the corresponding week last year.

Business in sugar is quiet. Orders from the country are coming in slowly, and there does not seem to be any inclination on the part of the country dealers to stock up for the summer.

Trade in syrups and molasses is quiet and prices are unchanged. Barbadoes, in puncheons, 38c; do., in barrels, 40½c; do., in half-barrels, 41½c; New Orleans, 22c to 35c; corn syrups, bls., 2⅞c; do., half-barrels, 2 3-4c; do., 25-lb. pails, 90c; cases, 2-lb. tins, 2-doz. per case, $1.90; do., 5-lb. tins, 1 doz. per case, $2.35.

Business in tea continues quiet. The market in London is a strong one and several cables for offers during the week were turned back. Lower grade Japans have been a little easier. Japans, fine, 26c to 28c; commons, 12½c to 15c; Ceylon, Pekoes, 17c to 20c; Ceylon, greens, Young Hysons, 16c to 18c; Hysons, 14½c to 15c; Gunpowder, 13c to 14c; China greens, Pingsuey gunpowders, 12c to 13c.

The coffee market is firm and the demand is steady for actual supplies. Stocks are rather low, owing to little new goods coming in. Good Cocutas, 10c to 10½c; Jamaica coffee 10½c. to 11c; Java, 18c to 22c; Mocha, 17c to 20c.

A good active demand is reported for spices, and it is expected that still better business will be done before the end of the month. Prices are unchanged. Peppers, black, 16c to 22c; do., white, 25c to 30c; ginger, 12c to 20c; cloves, whole, 17c to 30c; cream of tartar, 25c to 30c; allspice, 12c to 15; nutmegs, 25 to 50c.

Trade is fair in canned goods. Tomatoes are scarce and jobbers have found it necessary to import more American tomatoes. It is understood that there will be no difference in price this season between outside canners' quotations and the Canada canners' prices. Canners are disposing of the balance of last year's stocks of canned fruits, but without any concession in price, in order to make room for the coming season. In salmon futures are quoted on a basis of $5 f.o.b. coast for sockeyes, $3.75 to $4 for collors, and $2.50 to $2.75 for humback. Salmon, pink, 90c to $1; Fraser River, $1.50 to $1.75; corn, 2-lb. tins, $1.20; tomatoes, 3-lb. tins, $1.30; beans, 80c to 92½c; peas, 82½c to $1.30 per dozen; Canadian sardines, $3.65 to $4 per case.

A reduction of 10c per 100 lb. in rice has been made by the mills. Business is quiet. B rice, in 10-bag lots, $2.95; B rice, less than 10 bags, $2.05; C rice in 10-bag lots, $2.85; C rice, in less than 10-bag lots, $2.95.

Carpets—One Purchaser's Sentiment ECHOED BY ALL

It was a large and one of those regal Axminster Carpets that he had bought. You can gauge the size—the quality, too, when we say that the cost of the Carpet when made and laid, exceeded $250.00. "Nothing that I ever bought," said he, that I will pay for with a greater degree of pleasure." By the bye, while we're talking about Axminster Carpets, it might be remarked that we've had to cable repeat orders for several patterns. And we thought we had sufficient quantities of every kind and quality, too!

But Axminster is one kind of a Carpet—one style of Floor Covering only. We've everything else that comes within the category.

For example The department chief on his stock-assembling trip for The-Store-of-Satisfaction, secured a dozen genuine Merzapore Rugs. They've just come to hand. He's more impressed with their beauty and the excellence of the values now than at the moment of purchase.

The Merzapore Rugs are made in India, and are altogether hand work, and native dye. They are life lasting Rugs, presuming, of course, that you use them with proper care. The sizes and prices of this limited lot.
