ASSESSMENT APPEALS LIVELY

Westmount Saves Trees Whenever Possible

The above picture shows the great pains taken to save the trees on Sherbrooke Street which is being widened and repaved. It will be noticed that the workmen carefully lay bare the roots before installing necessary service lines underneath them. Out of the 99 trees which lined the thoroughfare under repair 80 have been saved. Some of the 19 cut down were already dead. Altogether 14 trees had to be removed because there was absolutely no way of keeping them. To save the trees it has been necessary to put the sidewalk behind the trees. The remaining trees have been trimmed which it is claimed will increase their life and make for a brighter and more beautiful thoroughfare.

Avenue Theatre Told Parking Lot Required by Law

Some caustic rebuffs were handed out to the appellants of the City of Westmount property valuations Tuesday night in the council chambers at the City Hall by J. C. Kemp, chairman of the Board of Assessors.

But Mr. Kemp was caught off base by Mr. Mannard, representative of the Avenue Theatre, to the amusement of the other appellants gathered in the council chambers.

Mr. Mannard was appealing the valuation of the property owned by the Avenue Theatre, protesting an increase to $28,350 from $18,500 on the basis that the section of the land not occupied by the theatre was not as valuable.

Parkng Public Service

He told the council and assessors that the other half, operated as a parking lot, was a public service and therefore the valuation should have been lower.

Assessor Kemp pointed out to the appellant that the parking lot had been built to enhance the theatre aside from being a public service.

"Besides," he remarked, "I tried to park there once myself and was turned away by the attendant." Then the Assessor stated that the city had a by-law to the effect that theatres in Westmount had to provide so much parking space per number of seats.

Mr. Mannard quickly informed the chief assessor that the by-law had not been enacted until after the theatre was built.

H. H. Cowan, representing Steinberg's, made a similar appeal. He protested the jump in valuation of his firm's Greene Avenue property from $119,000 to $129,350.

Claims Valuation Unfair

Appealing the valuation placed on his property as unfair, M. A. Mendell, of 635 Belmont Avenue, told the council he bought his home for $12,500 and did not think it just that a valuation of $14.500 be placed on it.

Mr. Mendell told the board that he had spent $2,500 for repairs to his home to make it habitable,

Westmount H.S. Alumnae Announces Scholarships

The award of three Westmount High School Alumnae Association scholarships to students of Westmount High School was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Frederick B. Coppin, president of the association.

Scholarships of $300 and $250 were awarded to Tliu Tammist and Chrytyna Maria Palijiw, respectively, for the first year's tuition at McGill University.

A $100 vocation scholarship was won by Louise Riggs Tollstam, which she plans to use for a business course at the Notre Dame Secretarial School.

Miss Tammist, a native of Estonia, has been in Canada for four years. She plans to study science.

Miss Palijiw was born in the Ukraine and came to Canada from a displaced persons camp in the U.S. zone of Germany two years ago. She entered Westmount High School after the start of the 10th year.

Knew Little English

Both girls, according to Mrs. Coppin, began their Canadian education with little knowledge of the English language but both overcame this handicap in a relatively short time to attain high standing in the junior matriculation. Miss Palijiw also won the public speaking contest sponsored by the association earlier this year. She will enter the arts faculty.

Miss Tollstam attended Herbert Symonds and Westmount Junior High School and she took part in many school activities.

The awards will be presented to the winners at the prize giving ceremonies at the school.

Alumnae scholarships are open to all girl-students in the graduating class and they are awarded on recommendation of a special committee, headed by Miss Ruby Hopkins.

Minor Injuries Are Suffered In Accident

A. Dupuis, of 152 Butternut Street was pinned in the cab of the truck he was driving when a load of steel rods shifted forward, crushing the cab.

The accident took place at the corner of Western and Clarke Avenues. Mr. Dupuis told the police he was forced to slam on his brakes at the intersection when a car crossed Western without stopping at the stop sign at Clarke.

The driver of the car was E. G. Smith, of 4358 Western Avenue.

Mr. Dupuis was taken to the Western Hospital and treated for shock. He was released when it became apparent that he suffered no serious injury.

Unveil Window At Calvary Church Next Sunday

A beautiful Memorial Window will be unveiled on Sunday morning in Calvary Church, Westmount, commemorating the life and work of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. E. Munson Hill. This window is presented by their three daughters, Mrs. Martindale (Lois Hill), Miss Sara W. Hill and Mrs. Doolittle (Mary Hill). The scene portrayed is the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus teaching His Disciples and blessing little children.

Dr. Hill was the pastor of Calvary Congregational Church for 18 years, from 1883 to 1901, when he was called to the principalship of the Congregational College, Montreal. Mrs. Hill was for many years superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday School and active in the W.M.S. work.

The Rev. E. C. Woodley and Rev. Charles Cushing, who obtained their ministerial degrees during the principalship of Dr. Hill, will be associated in the Dedication Service.

Old friends of the former Zion, Emmanuel and other Congregational Churches are most heartily invited to attend and share in this service.

At the evening service at 7.30 p.m. the Guest Preacher will be the Rev. F. A. C. Doxsee, M.A., B.D., the minister of Union Church, Ste Anne de Bellevue.

Guest House Operators Are in Belligerent Mood

"The fight for the guest houses of Westmount to stay in operation is more than just a matter of business," Elphege Menard, president of the Westmount Property and Guest House Owners' Association, said in a statement to The Examiner today.

"This is a matter of principal," Mr. Menard stated. "It is a question of democratic principle."

He said that neither he or the other owners and operators of guest houses were going to stand idle while "a gang in the City Hall" decided to put them out of business.

Mr. Menard challenged Mayor J. S. Cameron and the councillors to put the question to a referendum vote and let the citizens of Westmount decide the matter.

"If they refuse to practise the democrary they talk about and continue to hand down ultimatums in a dictatorial way then we will find ourselves forced into a position where we will have to take other means to defend our democratic rights," he declared.

Mr. Menard said it was a sad

I Remember

By G P SMITH

A series of articles by a retired coach and physical director recalling great athletes and great teams. Mr. Smith was 32 years of Westmount High as director of physical education (boys), and concurrently 28 years at McGill as wrestling coach.

1933-34 was one of the most successful of the many we had at the old school from the playing angle. We had a great bunch of athletes that were successful in winning on the ice but unfortunately in the committee room we had four games taken away from us on a technicality that in the opinion of many was a mistake.

At the time there was a rule stating a school boy could not play for a Junior city team and the school as well. This rule was put in in 1930 after Glen Brydson who was of school age and eligible played for the school and at the same time was playing for the M.A.A.A. senior team that won the Allan Cup.

It was taken for granted this new rule only applied to Junior A city, or above and not to the lesser Junior B leagues that were playing in the old Mt. Royal Arena. At the time one of our players who was only 17 years old and a regular attendant at the school, was found by the late Howard Nichol playing for the Westmount Wanderers in this league. As it was against our general policy for a boy to play outside the school he was reported to me and when asked if he was playing for this team he denied it both to the principal and myself. For this offence I suspended him from all future athletics at the school and as a matter of interest we reported it to our league executive.

They held a special meeting that turned into one of the most stormy I have ever attended with no decision being reached. At the postponed meeting I was asked by Worsey, our President, to say nothing and let him handle the talking with Mr. Nichol, our representative on the Executive. He was afraid I might be too positive. In one of the finest and most subtle pieces of sarcasm I have ever heard he read his statement and then said "good day gentleman" and left. The voting then took place and they decided to take four games we had won with this boy playing, away from us and give them to our opponents. Even though we beat the team that was awarded the title by a score of 4 to 0 in the last game the decision still stood.

The hockey team that year was really outstanding with such luminaries as the one and only Russ McConnell, Murray Patrick, Bill Jennings was Capt. C. Smith, D. Fraser, S. Thom, J. Phillips, C. Siggerson, H. Priestman, Curt McDonald and Doug Smaill.

In football we were successful in winning the league title quite handily, with such outstanding players on the team as the late lamented Doug Smaill, who could play any position on the team; the one and only Pat Christie (B of B Ace); Murray Patrick, the converted English Rugger player who turned into a standout in the Canadian game with his kicking; Bill Swindon, a very effective runner on the half line. Norm Rettie and Don Novinger, playing at outside, both hard tacklers. Others on the team, who were all hard and willing workers were Joe Nye on the half line, a very effective ball carrier; another one of the Riddell's, Jimmie, who could hoist the old ball. C. Sigerson, the latter Captain; at snap, K. Thomson (son of the well known Brock of C.S.L.); P. Dixon and R. Litz on the line.

We had a complete team of alternates in T. Bradbury. Rolly Loftus, the latter a hard every-minute type of player. Glenross a very quiet lad. Armitage a fine husky player. John Patrick rather on the light side, but always in there trying. Stu Thom, D. Thornton, John Heward, A. Hamilton, Bobby Hendry and S. Bury. Many of these were standouts on the senior team of the following year.

That was one of the years L.C.C. gave us all we could handle. They beat us in the first game and then lost one to M.H.S., whereas we had won all our other games, thus giving us the title. L.C.C. were a very disappointed lot of boys and I don't blame them, as technically they had a very smart team and it was our habit of building up the weight of our boys by a daily check on the scales which gave them the stamina to play as strongly in the second half as in the first.

In the playoff for the city title the grounds were in terrible condition, with 10 inches of newly fallen snow and no lines. The game was played on the M.A.A.A. grounds against the d'Arcy McGee team, who had won their league title. It turned into a kicking game with Murray Patrick scoring five rouges and always getting his kicks away until near the last paly with score standing at 5 to 0 a kick was blocked on our 10 yard line and the ball bounced back and landed at the feet of a d'Arcy player and he fell on it for a touch and when they failed to convert the game finished at five all. As it was too late to playoff we were co-holders of the Wilf. Wallace Cup for that year. The B team met the strong W.H.H.S. team before the A game and lost. In this game Ralph Morgan, a W.H.S. player ran the full length of the field from behind his own goal line to score a touch. W.H.H.S. had one of the best B teams I have seen in school football and finished up on the long end of 10 to 5 score. They had pep and drive and were as cockey as a team could be. W.H.S. juniors won their league title but owing to adverse weather conditions had to close.

In basketball while we did not win the city championship. We were successful in winning the Western second and in two games played against M.H.S. we won the first game and were beaten out in the second game on a total round score, thus giving them the city crown. M.H.S. had basketball as a major sport and had a remarkably good team.

An incident that had a happy ending occurred in the first game that was played on a neutral floor against Strathcona who had tied us in the western section. Murray Patrick had a wrist watch that had been won by his famous father, Lester whose initials were engraved on it. When the game was over there was no sign of the watch in the place he had left it, naturally Murray felt very badly about its loss as it was highly prized by his father. Instead of creating a furor over it we tried a little psychology. We passed the word around in all the schools that we knew the one who had taken it and if it was returned no questions would be asked. It worked, as a couple of days later the watch was returned and it was not from one of the schools who were playing or from the neutral school where the game was played.

The senior team had on its lineup the following: Bill Swindon, M. Patrick, D. Smaill, Herb Follette, Don Novinger, T. Bradbury, A. Wright, and J. Holmstead, W.H.H.S. won the B as well as the junior titles.

Murray Patrick was rated one of the best players on the Pacific coast, having played on one of the top teams there before coming east. Bill Swindon and Doug Smaill were good ball handlers as well.

All in all 1933-34 proved a very satisfactory season as many of the players became prominent in different sports in later years, also in the armed services. L.C.C. juniors tied us in football and in the playoff we won by a converted touch 6 to 5.

Truck Helper Is Hurt As Vehicles Collide

Roland Hervieux, 11, if 2118 Marie-Ann Street, was taken to the Homieopathic Hospital last week for treatment of a badly lacerated hand suffered in a collision between two trucks at 4822 Western Avenue.

Drivers of the trucks were Marc H. Lavoie, 26, of 4360 Des Erables Street, and Andre Barnabe, 29, of 4324 Des Erables.

Mr. Savoie told the police he was backing out of a lane at the time of the collision. He said his helper was stopping the traffic and the other driver failed to stop.

Legion Members Urged to Join Civil Defence

An urgent appeal to all members of the Canadian Legion in this Province to offer their services as civil defence wardens to the civil defence authorities has been issued by A. G. Munich, jr., president, Provincial Command, Canadian Legion.

The appeal was made at a meeting of the sub-executive committee of the Provincial Command in the Legion Memorial Hall on Mountain street.

Members of the Montreal branch of the Provincial Command should be ready, he said, to give their services as soon as the civil defence recruiting campaign was inaugurated by Brig. Guy Gauvreau, newly-appointed civil defence administrator. Brig. Gauvreau has announced that he hoped to recruit 20,000 persons for civil defence.

"The experience acquired under battle conditions by war veterans in our organization, and their respect for orders and the necessity of remaining at their posts will be of inestimable value to any civil defence organization," said Mr. Munich.

Funeral Service For Miss Donnelly, Music Supervisor

A funeral service was held Wednesday morning in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, for Miss Beatrice Ann Donnelly, 68, retired supervisor of music, English division, Montreal Catholic School Commission, who died Sunday at the Central Division of Montreal General Hospital.

Educated at Sacred Heart Convent and McGill University, where she obtained the degree of Bachelor of Music, she served on the staff of the McGill Conservatory of Music for some years. She retired from the School Commission a year ago. She had arranged broadcasts of many successful school children's concerts.

She was a member of the Ladies' Morning Musical Club and a charter and life member of the University Women's Club.

SPCA Makes Plea For Deserted Pets

People who kept pets at their summer homes which they do not wish to bring back to the city after their holidays are asked to communicate with the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

"We hope that all animal owners will co-operate with us in trying to avoid unnecessary suffering and misery to their pets," an official of the society said today. "The least that any humane person can do is to see that an animal is properly disposed of rather than to allow it to wander around," he west, between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., added.

Unwanted animals sent to the C.S.P.C.A., 1705 St. James street west, betdeen 8 a.m. and 9 p.m., are received free of charge, but the society does not board animals.

FURRY BUSINESS

and to comply with the city's fire and health regulations.

He pointed out that the adjoining house was built at the same time, had been repaired and had a two car garage while he had none; yet was valuated at $12,500.

Mayor J. S. Cameron said, "You installed new bathtubs, didn't you."

"Should I be penalized," retorted Mr. Mendell, "for putting in bathtubs for hygienic purposes."

"Would you sell the house for the same price as you bought it?" the Mayor asked.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the owners wouldn't sell at the city's assessment valuation," Mr. Mendell replied. "The repairs made were necessary . . . "

Mayor Cuts Debate

"You are beginning to repeat. We've got the full story," said the mayor, and Mr. Mendell took his seat.

Among other appellants were A. Goldstein, of 4479-81 St. Catherine Street West, who protested on the basis of the surrounding property being lower in valuation than his.

Dr. George Herbert, of 430 Roslyn Avenue, told the council his home was old and in a delapidated condition. The repairs did not merit the $3,000 increase in value.

J. W. Corber, of 439 Prince Albert Avenue; Mrs. J. M. Walkley, of 232 Redfern Avenue; and Jack Reitman, of 730 Lexington Avenue, also appealed.

Other assessors present were A. S. Rutherford and Donald A. Baillie.

Mayor Cameron closed the meeting after the last protest had been heard and the council retired into private committee. Decisions will be announced at the next meeting.

thing that the Businessmen's Association had backed out of the fight and he stated he was no longer concerned with that group.

"If they do not want to fight for the rights of groups in the city who are being mistreated we are prepared to do so."

He continued that if the Businessmen's and the Municipal Associations were unwilling to stick their necks out in a fight, the Property and Guest House Owners Association were not. "We will take up the fight for any group with a worthy cause."

Mr. Menard strongly refuted the statement by Ken Willock, president of the Businessmen's Association, in The Examiner last week denying that business establishments would lose $1,000,000 worth of trade.

He challenged Mr. Willack to come around with him to some of the estabishments he was acquainted with and see for himself how the proprietors felt.

"Of course," he stated, "you could not expect many of the proprietors of hardware stores and appliance shops to be concerned, because not many of the 2,000 people living in guest houses have need for those items."

He claimed that there were many of the proprietors of groceterias, soda fountains, news stands, cigar stores, restaurants, stationery stores, and clothing shops who will feel the effect.

The trouble is, he stated, that a good many of these people are not acquainted with their customers enough to know which one of them lived in guest houses.

He challenged Mr. Willock to ask some of the residents of guest houses how much they spend in Westmount. "Some of the people living in my guest houses have spent a good deal of money in the last six months on clothes alone in Westmount stores," he said.

If further proof was needed as to the amount of money spent on groceries in the city, he thought Mr. Willock would find it interesting to come around to some of the guest houses about the time the Saturday orders come in the back door.

Lew Haymam Tells Rotary Major Sport Is Football

Lew Hayman, coach of the Alouettes Football Team, told the Westmount Rotary Club this week that Canadian football was seeing success this season that it had never seen in its history.

Mr. Hayman was speaking of the current interest in the sport. He said, "Every game to date across the nation has been a sellout, whether league or exhibition games. This has never happened before."

He said the nation had caught the "fever." From a financial point of view individual teams had developed into a $200,000 business. He saw the game as now being the biggest major sport in the nation.

"Yet," he declared, "football has only scratched the surface in Canada."

He complained about the lack of stadiums in the country and particularly Montreal Delorimier Downs which was inadequate with half of the seats being behind the goal posts.

"The Alouettes are a pretty good club," he said, "despite the fact we got a bad start in the first game." Mr. Hayman saw his team as a hard team to beat by any other in the league.

In establishing the Alouettes in 1946 he said there were two things that had to be sold.

1. A product had to be maintained, costly, but of good quality.
2. The product had to be merchandized as something new to the French.

At that time less than half of one per cent of hte French had seen a football game. Now it had been raised to 20 per cent.

Mr. Hayman told the Rotarians that, the Alouettes had one of the best quarter backs the country had ever seen in George Ratterman. He is extremely good at throwing and as a quarterback is able to call the plays with accuracy."

He was not only good on the plays but is good as a runner

The Alouette Coach said he had the fastest backfield in the league, but stated the line had no depth.

In his opinion the Big Four teams were evenly matched with any team a good bet.

Mr. Hayman maintained the Alouettes' bad start against Hamilton in their first game of the season was typical of their slow start at the beginning of every season.

This was due to a sad lack of a proper practice field. He said the players were loathe to get at it too hard for fear of possible injuries on the hard McGill grounds.

The speaker was introduced by Frank Carlin and thanked by Jack Burrows.

A. J. Jenkins Dead Was Brother of Late Mayor Here

Arthur James Jenkins, retired assistant secretary of the Crown Trust Company, and for a quarter of a century secretary-treasurer of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills at Campbellford, Ont., died Tuesday evening in the Royal Victoria Hospital after a short illness, in his 72nd year.

Mr. Jenkins was one of five sons of the late Henry Jenkins, one of his brothers being the late John Jenkins, who was mayor of Westmount, while the sole surviving brother is Alfred H. Jenkins, of Melville avenue.

Born in Montreal Nov. 7, 1879, Mr. Jenkins was educated at Montreal High School. He worked for the Grand Trunk Railway for a time and in 1904 left Montreal for Campbellford, Ont., to become secretary-treasurer of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills. He returned to Montreal in 1929 and joined the Crown Trust Company, becoming assistant secretary, a post from

R. Charles Young, Prominent Mason, Buried Wednesday

A funeral service for R. Charles Young, a resident of Westmount for more than 50 years, and an executive of the Trust and Loan Company, was held Wednesday in the D. A. Collins chapel, 5610 Sherbrooke Street West, with burial in the family plot at Carrying Place, Ont.

Mr. Young died Sunday, at the age of 82.

Born at Trenton, Ont., in 1869, he was the eldest son of James Young and of his wife Jessie Hamilton Mewburn. He was educated at Trenton Collegiate Institute and Trinity College School, Port Hope. Mr. Young entered the employ of the Trust and Loan Company at Toronto in 1891 and in 1898 was transferred to the Montreal office. In 1911 he was appointed assistant commissioner and in 1914 was named manager of the Montreal office. He became the company's chief commissioner in 1928 and three years later became a member of the board of directors. He retired in 1945 after 54 years of continuous service.

He was married in 1898 to the former Anna Myra Dunning, who died in February, 1950. Their only son, Charles William, died in 1937.

A prominent Mason, he had been a member of Westmount Lodge for 50 years, a member of Westmount Chapter, Royal Order of Scotland and 32nd degree Scottish Rite.

He was a former member of the Canadian Club of Montreal, the Beaconsfield Golf Club, the Masonic Study Club, St. James Literary Society, and the Montreal Board of Trade.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George E. Judge, and two granddaughters, Myra and Betty; two sisters, Mrs. Bentley of Vancouver and Mrs. McMullen of Los Angeles; five brothers, Lynie, Harry, Tom and Blake, all of Carrying Place, Ont., and Ben of Alhambra, California.

Ex-Westmount Resident Refused German Entry

Otto Strasser, one of Hitler's early associates, has been refused restoration of German citizenship.

The one-time big man in pre-war Germany broke with Hitler and eventually came to Canada. During World War II he resided in Westmount in an apartment building on Sherbrooke Street near Greene Avenue. Recently he has made his home in the Maritimes.

The information that Strasser's application for German citizenship had been refused came from Bonn, Germany.

Strasser, who is living in the Maritimes, is understood to be on a trip to Western Canada. He has not been able to secure necessary documents which would permit him to travel to any other country.

Former leader of the "Black Front", Strasser was turned down by the Federal Ministry of the Interior at Bonn in a letter to the Bavarian government.

The Federal Ministry is understood to have stated that Strasser's quarrel with Hitler was not due to disagreement with Nazi principles but to an "internal party dispute."

Girl Is Injured, Ran Into Truck on Arlington

Kathleen Rhind, of 79 Arlington Avenue, was taken to the Homoeopathic Hospital last week suffering injuries inflicted when she ran into the side of a truck driven by Howard Stanley, 17, of 6200 Decarie Boulevard.

Mr. Stanley told the police the girl ran across Sherbrooke from the south side. He applied his brakes but she ran into the rear end of his vehicle.

The girl suffered a sore left foot, a cut on her head and some loosened teeth.

Dorval Weather Bureau Faces Daily "Q" Barrage

A visit to the Dominion Weather Bureau at Dorval Airport discloses a mass of complicated radar equipment quite beyond the understanding of the average layman. This equipment can detect rain within a 60 mile radius of Montreal. The intricate machinery, maps and delicate instruments, by which the weather men forecast probable weather in the district are indeed amazing. Scarcely a second passes but that the staff are not called on to answer a query from some individual who wants to know what the weather is going to be for the next 24 hours or over the weekend.

Some of the queries nearly drive them crazy, a member of the staff told the Examiner reporter.★

What will the weather be like in Colorado Springs, one lady had just finished asking him when we arrived. My sister and I are going there in November for our vacation but we want to be assured first before we finalize our arrangements, that we will have good weather.

An average of 200 calls an hour is received over a weekend which gives some idea of the use the public is making of this Government owned and operated bureau.

Besides giving out information to the public the station keeps the trans-Atlantic air lines posted on the weather probs. Before a plane takes off for overseas the entire crew assembles for a weather briefing.

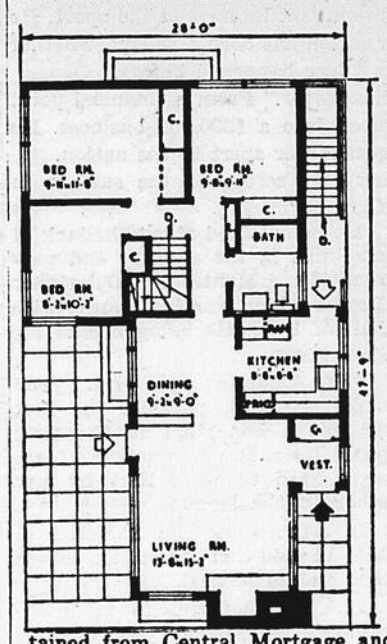

Weather forecasts are collated from information supplied by instruments at the airport itself and from a bank of 20 teletype machines. These machines gather information from all over the world. There is free exchange of such information, even Russia, The Examiner was told.

The radar equipment in use at Dorval was installed by McGill University under a grant from the United States Air Corps.

The Dominion Public Weather Bureau at Dorval is open 24 hours a day.

N.H.A. DESIGN-OF-THE-MONTH

This popular bungalow design has many features to attract a prospective house-builder who is interested in modern comfort, sleek lines and luxury touches in a three-bedroom house. It would be suitable in either a suburban setting or a narrow residential lot in the city.

The most interesting points of the living room are the large stone fireplace and the wide expanse of window overlooking the surrounding patio. The dining room and kitchen are well-planned and aimed towards convenience and efficiency in housekeeping.

Bedrooms are all equipped with sufficient closet space and located conveniently near the bathroom. The basement may be reached either directly from the back door, which is adjacent to the kitchen, or from the center of the house.

This comfortable home is 28 feet by 47 feet 9 inches and for estimating purposes has an area of 984 square feet. Cubic contents measure 19,735 cubic feet.

Working drawings for this plan, known as Design 50-14, may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Old Time Railway Coaches Used In Trip to Ottawa

About 200 members of the National Railway Historical Association from many parts of the United States and Canada Sunday travelled to and from Ottawa using the oldest railway equipment that safety permitted.

The Midwest Chapter of the society scheduled the Ottawa-Montreal trip as a highlight of its three-day convention held here. Equipment for the trip included several old, open-platform coaches.

The convention opened on Saturday and the program included a tour of Montreal's transportation system (somebody remarked that this should be right up the alley of a historical society), a visit to local railway facilities and the annual banquet in the evening.

The convention committee was headed by Omar S. Lavallee, Montreal chairman; and S. S. Worthen, Westmount, secretary. President of the Midwest Chapter is Richard J. Cook, Cleveland, Ohio.

New York Car Driver Sideswipes Tramway Bus

A collision was reported by the Westmount Police between a Tramways bus and an auto last week opposite 4843 Sherbrooke Street West.

The driver of the bus, unidentified, told the police he was forced to stop his bus suddenly when a taxi in front of him stopped in the safety zone to unload passengers.

The man said the car following his bus had to swerve past him to avoid collision and in doing so sideswiped his front left mudguard.

The driver of the car was William E. Towsley, of Levittown, New York.

which he retired two years ago.

He married Miss Jessie D. Bogart, of Campbellford, in 1906. She died in 1937. Surviving Mr. Jenkins in addition to his brother Alfred, are one nephew, John W. Jenkins, and three nieces, Miss Kathleen Jenkins, head of the Westmount Library, Mrs. Maxwell Scott, of Brynmawr, Penn., and Mrs. Charles Sturdee, of Sarnia.

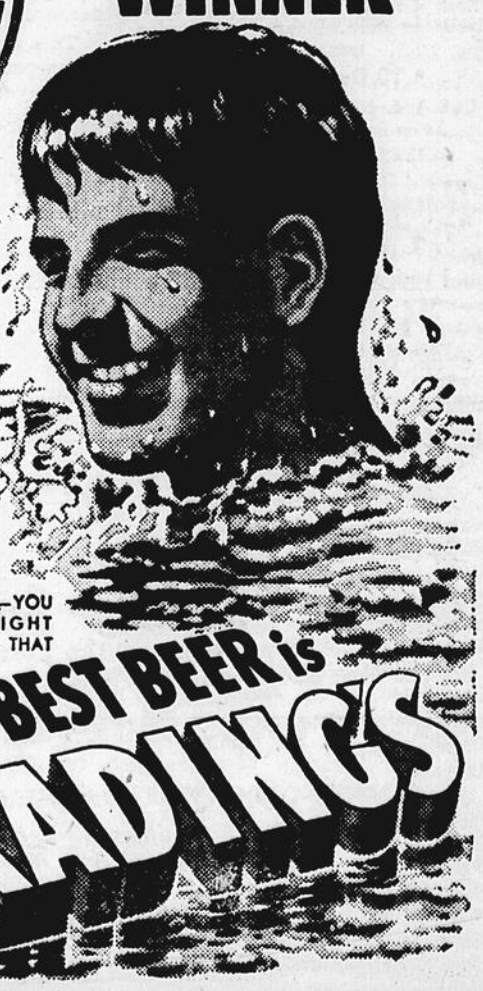

Mr. Jenkins spent the summer at Metis Beach, where he was taken ill and brought back to the Royal Victoria Hospital. Since the death of his wife he had lived a retired life, but formerly was active in business and church affairs in both Campbellford and Montreal, and had a wide circle of friends. He was a member of St. James the Apostle Church, and the funeral service Thursday at the chapel of Jos. C. Wray & Bro., 1234 Mountain street, was taken by Rev. R. K. Maguire, of that church. Burial was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Hon. D. C. Abbott To Chair International Bank Meet

For the first time, a Canadian, Hon. Douglas C. Abbott, Minister of Finance, will preside at annual meetings of both the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund which opens in Washington Sept. 10.

But a matter of direct interest to Canada, the price of gold, may not even be on the agenda unless Mr. Abbott specifically and successfully requests it.

Mr. Abbott is a governor of both the World Bank, formally the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and the Monetary Fund, for Canada, and chairman of the boards of governors of both institutions.

We will preside at the plenary joint session of both boards which will open the week-long annual meetings and at which the agenda will be presented for adoption.

President Truman will address that session if precedent is followed which calls for a speech from the Chief of State of the host nation. President Vincent Auriol of France spoke at last year's annual meetings in Paris. Mr. Truman's appearance, however, has not yet been announced from the White House.

Move Up to Canada

That it will be up to Canada to put gold on the agenda if she desires to discuss it is indicated by the Fund spokesman's information on the course expected to be followed by another British Commonwealth member even more interested in gold, South Africa.

Nicholaas Havenga, South African Finance Minister, has pressed the monetary fund for permission to sell half of all newly-mined gold from his country at premium price but the Fund's Board of Governors has refused to approve the request.

More recently, it has been announced that South Africa has been selling "nearly" half of her gold at premium price anyway, according to the Fund spokesman, and he asks, "if they're happy, why should they bring it up?"

If not on the opening day, admission of Japan to membership in both the bank and Monetary Fund may be added to the agenda before close of the meetings here. Timing of that action probably will depend upon progress of the San Francisco conference to sign the Japanese peace treaty. Following the signing, it has been announced, the former enemy nation will move immediately to seek membership in both institutions.

Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, is the Dominion's deputy governor of both the Bank and Fund.

Many Languages Spoken By Civil Defence Wardens

When mass civil defence recruiting begins in October, with an objective of 20,000 wardens for Greater Montreal, language problems in the city's varied districts will be simplified because the Civil Defence Organzation's 254 original instructors, who graduated during the summer, can speak more than 20 languages as a group, according to Lt.-Col. Laurent St. Pierre, in charge of recruiting.

When the question of language problems in civil defence planning came up Monday at a mass meeting of civil defence supervisors at Mont St. Louis College, Colonel St. Pierre noted that plans would be devised to include all language groups in the network, including recently arrived immigrants.

Col. St. Pierre said that district wardens would be nominally in charge of training and defence in their particular districts, and that they might have to handle communication problems in as many as five languages.

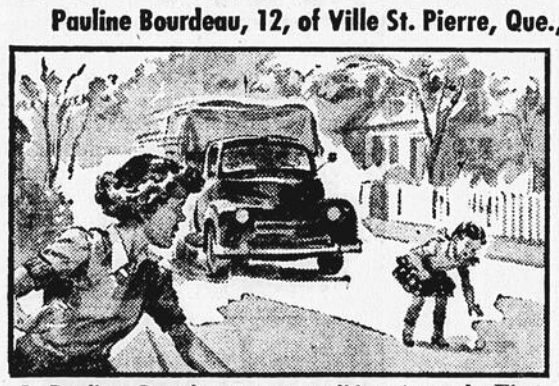

"But our original instructors are fluent in a variety of languages," he said, "Chinese and Japanese are the only ones lacking"

Plans are also under way for the second course of advanced training for the organization's 254 original veterans. They received certificates of primary instructions this summer, making them the first qualified civil defence instructors in Canada.

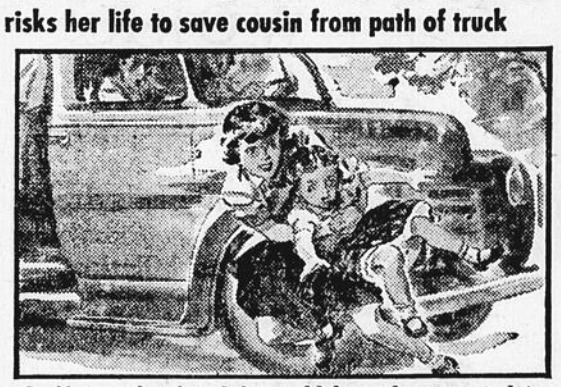

Since Brig. J. Guy Gauvreau, Montreal's civil defence head, considers Montreal Canada's No. 1 target in the event of war, recruiting for wardens, fire watchers, and first aid personnel is schedule to begin sometime in October. Civil Defence personnel will receive basic training, and advanced training in first aid, rescue work, fire prevention, and gas detection.

YOUNG GIRL JUMPS IN FRONT OF TRUCK TO RESCUE CHILD

Pauline Bourdeau, 12, of Ville St. Pierre, Que., risks her life to save cousin from path of truck

1. Pauline Bourdeau was walking towards First Avenue in her home town of Ville St. Pierre, a few miles from Montreal . . . totally unaware that she was about to star in a real-life drama. For suddenly a terrifying sight met her eyes. Out in the middle of the street she saw her 3-year-old cousin Ghislaine Bourdeau . . . and behind her, only a few feet away, was a truck! Apparently neither the child nor the truck driver noticed the danger.

2. Many a hardy adult would have been rooted to the spot in horror. But not Pauline Bourdeau. The 12-year-old girl acted with amazing presence of mind. In what several witnesses described as practically a split second she had dashed out in the street . . . and, throwing herself in front of the truck, grabbed her little cousin Ghislaine and pulled her safely to the sidewalk.

3. Although she had acted with almost unbelievable coolness and speed, the young Academie Martin schoolgirl was so shaken by the incident that it took her several days to recover from the shock. For her deed of great courage we are proud to add the name of Pauline Bourdeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bourdeau, 102 - 1st Ave., to the list of those who have won The Dow Award.

BACK TO STUDIES — SCHOOL AND MUSIC

Quite the contrary to general opinion, most children are glad to return to scholastic studies after a ten week holiday. In England and the European countries, students never have such a long intermission and perhaps that is one of the reasons for foreign children having more advanced knowledge than pupils of the same age on the North American continent.

Routine may be monotonous to some folk but in well regulated lives there must be some routine pattern and as soon as children are back to school, many parents will tell you that the household runs smoother than in holiday time. Holidays are important too, for after they are over people who enjoy their various careers and work return to their respective professions with a fresh and happy outlook and are more ambitious to succeed. The vacation was a complete change. Children are little people, their business at present is school and any other subjects for which they show an aptitude or talent. And just as grown-ups take their vacations seriously, so should youngsters be trained properly for maturity.

As this column deals with music I am going to discuss a question that is frequently asked by parents — When is the best time to start music lessons? Those who are already studying this subject should start their lessons at the same time as the scholastic session because the child thinks of his music in a different light when he starts it later or much later. He does not consider it in conjunction with his education but as an outside subject that is not as important, therefore in many instances he does not put his best efforts in that particular work, whereas if he began his lessons at the same time as school, he associates it as part of his education, curriculum and routine.

Those who have never taken music lessons before start at various times but the best time is at the beginning of the school season. At what age should one start lessons? Generally speaking, as soon as a child can read is the ideal time, because when they start too early (unless it is an unusually musical child) interest wanes and progress is slower. If a parent knows music he can help by seeing that the child practises properly but in cases where a five or six year old who naturally cannot read is left on his own from lesson to lesson, it is impossible for him to advance very quickly. If a parent is satisfied with this type of work, well and good, but if a child can progress four or five times as fast by beginning when he is entering second year at school there are many advantages. Remember, I am speaking of average intelligent youngsters. In second year he has already learned discipline and those who did not attend kindergarten, have enough to burden their little brains in the first season of the school atmosphere.

High school students who are studying a musical instrument should return to their studies as soon as school begins because that way they can plan their routine ensemble, which is far easier than trying to fit in lessons and practising later.

Eden Is Amazed At U.S. Pessimism

Americans are perhaps more pessimistic about the possibility of a third world war than are the British, Anthony Eden, Conservative party deputy leader, said Tuesday in Southampton, England, after a month's tour of the United States and Canada.

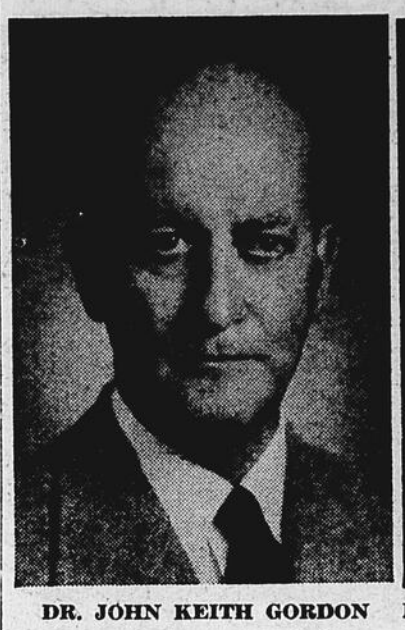

He said people he talked with in the U.S. "were surprised when I said I did not see any deterioration of the world situation from a year ago, and that on the whole the position in Europe was better."

Eden ascribed American fears of another war as partly due to the number of U.S. troops in Korea and their casualties since fighting started there.

"But the Americans are just as deeply concerned to keep the peace as we are. I found exasperation and idditation at the Russian attitude,' 'he said.

Jaywalking Is Dangerous

City of Westmount pedestrians, as well as motorists, have a few things to keep in mind constantly to add to their safety, One of the common pedestrian faults is jaywalking. Above a thoughtless thinker who was marketing, suddenly remembered something he had forgotten across the street. Now he crosses in mid-block, darting out from between two parked cars, ready to be picked off by a third.

Record Changer Given Preview

Claimed to be the world's finest record changer — a product of more than three years of intensive research — the Ultramatic was introduced to Canada this week by Rogers Majestic.

Highlight of the new changer is a [illegible] arm which weighs only three-tenths of an ounce. This light weight — a new low for record changer tone arms — means that records will last more than 3 times as long. Other unique features of the Ultramatic are a removable centre spindle for easy manual operation and unloading; automatic shutoff at the conclusion of the last record; completely automatic three-speed performance for 7", 10" and 12" recordings at 78, 45 or 33⅓ r.p.m. Intermixed playing is another advantage of the Ultramatic — 10" and 12" records of the same speed may be mixed and played automatically.

With this new changer, all or any part of a 7" or 10" record being played in a series can be repeated and the control mechanism for this and all other Ultramatic operations is simple and foolproof.

The Ultramatic Record Changer was introduced to the press and public at the Rogers Majestic Dealer Meeting held in the Mount Royal Hotel. Also on display were representative models from Rogers Majestic's latest line of radios and radio-phonograph combinations.

Scouting Around with REG. GROOME

Well, this column is written back on our old familiar typewriter behind the old familiar desk in the old familiar office located in the old familiar city — Montreal. And, let me tell you, it's sure good to be back home. I think, if I ever have anything to say about what the government does or does not do for the citizens, I shall have them send each citizen out of the country, overseas, for several weeks. In this manner, it will be brought home stronger than any other way how well off we are here in Canada — and how many things we have, all taken for granted, that are rare or unknown in other lands not so fortunate.

Our last Travelogue acquainted you with our journey as far as Copenhagen, Denmark. We left Copenhagen on a Scandinavian Airlines plane (D.C.-6) for Stockholm, where we spent two days seeing all the sights in spite of a hearty rain. Then, by train across Sweden to Scandinavia's largest port, Gothenburg. Here we looked up the sister of a local resident, Mrs. A. E. Watts of Hampton Avenue, N.D.G. In the company of the whole family over there, Mrs. Watts' sister, her husband and their two sons, we went on a 3 hour motorboat trip around some of the thousands of rock islands which comprise a large portion of the Scandinavian coastlines.

From Gothenburg, we took another Scandinavian Airline plane (DC-4) to London, England. Now entering the last phase of our journey, we were both sorry and glad to see London again — sorry because it meant we would soon be sailing home again and this wonderful trip would be over — and glad because London was familiar ground to us and we enjoyed being there. We had only two days on this, our second visit to London, before we had to take the boat train to Liverpool and embark on the Empress of Scotland, bound for Quebec.

We made the most of our time in England — and climaxed it with a visit to the famous old Drury Lane Theatre, where we saw the musical production "Carousel," as the guest of Mrs. Jas. Lecky of London, an old and dear friend of the family. The next afternoon, regretfully, we drove to the rail station for our last journey in England. Arriving at Liverpool, we were soon aboard Canada's largest passenger liner, the Empress of Scotland and the voyage got underway. Our only brief glimpse of Scotland was the stop at Greenoch, where we remained for 9 hours.

Ocean Trip Enjoyable

Our ocean trip this time was even more enjoyable than going over. The only bad weather we had on the whole trip was Saturday last, when the ship rolled considerably, as a result of a rather heavy following sea. The voyage home, slightly shorter than going over, seemed very brief . . . for we had swimming, dancing, movies, concerts, etc., to entertain us. The Canadian Scout Contingent to the World Jamboree returned home a couple of days ahead of us, docking in the Scythia at Quebec on September 1st.

Sunday morning, we were in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and, from that afternoon on, we had land in constant sight (the province of Quebec). Perhaps the most pleasing arrangement we encountered was the fact that immigration and customs men boarded the ship at Father Point at 6 a.m. Monday morning. Passengers could go through the necessary formalities as the ship proceeded to Quebec and, on arrival, needed merely to go ashore, pick up their baggage and commence the next part of their journey.

We found this very satisfactory and, soon after the ship docked at 3.15 p.m. Monday, we were on our way via automobile to Montreal. We should extend a bouquet to the excellent treatment received at the hands of our Canadian customs and immigration men . . . nowhere in our travels have we found more courteous or efficient treatment, especially to the returning Canadians.

Summing Up

And so this whirlwind European tour came to an end late Monday evening as we arrived back in Montreal and, bright and early Tuesday morning, back to the office. We have acquired one or two bad habits which may prove hard to break . . . such as coffee and toast in bed every morning . . . and afternoon tea served wherever you happen to be on board ship . . . but we may yet train the family so to do . . (like fun!)

In all the countries we visited, we never did find one which could compare with Canada. In some cases, cities reminded you vaguely of something back home, but this illusion was usually rudely shattered when least expected. Those of us who grumble at conditions here and inconveniences we occasionally suffer, should take a trip to Europe. Then, and then only, will you realize what a wonderful land we live in . . . and how envied Canadians are in the eyes of Europeans. To them, Canada is a fabulous land, with abundant food and natural resources and unlimited opportunity. So, remember, next time you "beef", you're much better off than you realize. That winds up our travelogues . . . hope you enjoyed them . . . and now back to our regular Scouting Around.

Special Notice to Employers
AND
Those Enlisting in Armed Forces

By The Veterans Benefit Act, 1951, passed at the last session of Parliament, the Government of Canada has extended and made applicable the provisions of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, 1946, to all persons enlisting in the Regular Forces of Canada after July 5, 1950, (nineteen fifty) and who serve therein for a term not exceeding three years.

This provision extends also to members of the Special Force who re-engage for service with the Regular Forces, the three-year coverage period beginning with the date of re-engagement.

This provision extends also to members of the Reserve Forces who after July 5, 1950, are called out for service with the Regular Forces and serve with the Regular Forces for a period not exceeding three years.

By an Order in Council passed in 1950 under the Canada Forces Act the provisions of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, 1946, were extended to members of the Special Force and members of the Reserve Forces who serve on the strength of the Special Force. The reinstatement provisions of this Order in Council have now been incorporated in the provisions of the Veterans Benefit Act, 1951.

Under the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act a discharged person may claim reinstatement either verbally or in writing, usually within three months of discharge in Canada or four months if discharged overseas. There is provision for extension of this time when through a condition of health the employee cannot return to his employment this soon, but the employer must be notified in three or four months, as the case may be, and a Reinstatement Officer should be consulted.

Miss Joan Tennant School To Open

Miss Joan Tennant, winner of the Gold Seal Award of the National Association of Dance and affiliated artists, has recently returned from New York, where she studied with these prominent American and European artists of the dance, Alexandra Danilova, Maurice Boyle, Evelyn Le Mone, Maria Swoboda, Jules Stone, Bill Clower, and many others.

The coming season's calculus will include instruction in classical and modern ballet, Spanish, South American and ballet-tap routines, and promises to be the most interesting to date.

Unique Course To Be Offered

The Evans Sisters School announce the opening of a model and self-improvement class for girls and boys from 3 to 17 years old. Personally instructed by Eva Lieven this course will embrace fashions and photographic modelling as well as self-improvement such as good grooming, poise, posture and personality development.

Miss Verna Evans, of the Evans Sisters School, says that child models are becoming more and more important, not only for photographic modelling but also in the field of children's clothing, such as church, club and department store fashion shows.

Children need training as much as adult models do, therefore the Evans Sisters are offering this unusual course to junior models.

BING GIVES TIPS

Bing Crosby says there are two requirements of a hit song. The star of Frank Capra's "Here Comes The Groom" for Paramount claims the melody must be tuneful yet simple enough for anyone to hum or whistle and the lyrics must express emotions which everyone feels.

Opens Studio For New Season

Karl Steiner, well known local pianist, accompanist and soloist, will re-open his studio at 6532 Somerled Avenue for the new season, this week. Two years ago, Mr. Steiner opened his present studios, where he has enjoyed considerable success. He is a graduate of the academy of music in Vienna, where he specialized in the piano. Mr. Steiner played in many concerts in Vienna as soloist and accompanist and has also played in Shanghai and Nanking.

Among other accomplishments, he has worked with the Ruth Sorel ballet as accompanist in their recitals in New York, Ottawa, Montreal and other large cities. With the re-opening of his studio for the fall and winter season, Mr. Steiner hopes to continue his excellent record in giving piano lessons.

COMPULSORY SPORTS IN SCHOOLS

Participation For All Students Will Pay a Rich Dividend

The announcement by McGill University that participation in some form of sports will be compulsory for all first year students will meet with the approval of most people who believe that all work and no play makes for a dull mind and body. The number of men turned down for the armed forces during World War II due to physical infirmities is proof enough that sufficient attention has not been paid to the physical development of our youth.

At this time of the year when schools and colleges are re-opening, and when sports bulk largely in the minds of the students, it is pleasing to note that organized sports in the schools are now fairly well established. Especially is this so in Westmount.

The high schools have been organized for sports for some time but the same attention has not been given primary schools in this regard, although in recent years there has been some improvement.

That there has been advancement on the conditions prevailing not so many years ago is admitted and it is believed that the inclusion of organized sports in the school calendar will have a beneficial effect on the youngsters.

In the development of our sports in schools however, there is one aspect which is disturbing. In the past fifty or so years sport has grown greatly in popularity, but its adherents have tended to become more and more of the passive variety. The numbers actively engaged in organized games and sports have not increased with the interest and, in fact, the proportion of those taking part to those interested is probably less today than ever it was. Possibly commercialization and the turning of sport into a spectacle for the masses is primarily to blame, but wherever the cause the effect is to be regretted.

Perhaps it is not too much to hope that the good work for organized sport which is being done nowadays in our Westmount and other schools as well as in the colleges, will prove to be the antidote to that distressing tendency, and that, in the not too distant future, we will find that the youth of the country will not be content to pay to see others perform as is too often the case at present. He will want to play himself. Only when that comes about will sport pay its proper dividends.

HIGHER PHONE RATES?

The Public Will Have To Be Convinced

The telephone company is asking for another substantial increase in rates. Rising costs is the reason given. Some cities, like Toronto, are going to fight the application for higher rates. The general public will take a lot of convincing that the increase is justified.

Rightly or wrongly, public opinion in Montreal is against the company in this case. The company enjoys the reputation, for one thing, of paying considerably better-than-average, if not top salaries, to its employees. The company also enjoys the reputation of providing the best and most luxurious service facilities to the public of any of our larger business institutions. Rightly or wrongly, the company also enjoys the reputation of spreading its buying around in small lots, benefiting a great many suppliers, but also running up its costs.

These things would ordinarily develop excellent public relations if the company were, like other companies of similar size, in competition for its business. More power to any company that can meet competition and still spend freely. But the Bell company is a monopoly. Because of the type of service it renders it must be a monopoly. As such, there isn't a great deal of difference between the rates it levies and the right to tax.

This makes its position extremely difficult. The fact that it pays well, spends well, provides de luxe service—things that ordinarily please the public—sour when the bill is passed on to customers who can't do without the service or turn elsewhere for lower prices.

Christian Science

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Romans 8:14: "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:— "And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered. And the scribes and Pharisees watched him whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an accusation against him. And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other." (Luke 6.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick. Our Master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick. It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did nineteen centuries ago."

THE QUIET MOMENT

A Talk on Things That Count

By ALAN LIVINGSTONE WILSON

I saw by the paper this morning that a magistrate had dismissed a case which, up to a point, had gone well for the woman who had brought the charge, because her boy, in his witness, said something that convinced the Cadi that his upbringing was faulty. The mother was suing a man for striking the lad; the man contended that the boy had been insolent, and was spoiling his lawn and flowers. The magistrate asked the boy if he realized that the defendant was an old man, and his wife also a lady of advanced age, folk who should be respected by young people.

The boy's cynical answer and manner convinced the court that the defendent had acted under keen provocation, for in a sneering manner the boy said, "I don't know how old she is; she uses so much cosmetics!"

The man on the bench probably argued that a boy who was so "fresh" with his elders, had been badly brought up, and that the mother deserved trouble seeing she had instilled such erroneous ideas into the mind of her offspring.

In the same paper was the report of the fining of a couple who had left two small children in their parked car, while they spent hours in a nearby bar-room. Thank God, these cases of parental neglect and faulty training are rare. Most folk love the little ones entrusted to their care, and lavish their love and care upon them. All too soon they realize the children will grow up, leave home and the place will seem strangely empty and desolate without the cheery voices and footfalls.

Memories of shrill voices, scampering feet and childish laughter haunt the minds of the parents, and the aching heart is only partly assuaged by the advent of darling grandchildren who are promptly spoiled by granny and grandpa.

A Toronto man, who had "learnt the hard way", had tried to bring up his child in an apartment where it was not wanted, had a windfall and managed to purchase an apartment house of his own. He promptly advertised "Flats for rent; children welcomed!" in striking contrast to those that say, "no children allowed." The world would be a sorry place without children, and civilization must indeed be in a chaotic state if it discourages those little ones whom the Lord Jesus honored so signally. His disciples seemed to have the current idea that children were unimportant, and should be "seen and not heard", but Jesus rebuked them, and "sweetly smiled and kindly said, 'Suffer the little children to come unto me,."

He added that children were of the very nature of Heaven — "for of such is the Kingdom" and on another occasion set a child in the midst of the disciples, using it as an object lesson on the humility and trustfulness that are necessary qualities of those who would find favor with God.

Church of the Advent

The members of The Advent Young People's Association will make a Corporate Communion next Sunday at the 8 o'clock Eucharist.

Sunday School will reopen at 10 a.m. in the parish hall.

At the Solemn Eucharist the special preacher will be the Rev. Father Terry, of the Order of the Holy Cross, West Park, N.Y.

RAINBOW-TINTED COCONUT

For a colorful topping for ice-cream-on meringues, or for just ice cream, tint coconut pink, green, and yellow and toss together to make a lacy rainbow. Put one-third of a cup of coconut in glass jar (it should not be more than half full), and add small amount of diluted food coloring. Cover jar and shake vigorously until coconut is colored evenly and have obtained the shade you want. Toss the three colors together — and you have a lovely and unusual topping.

For supper some night, provide a baked-bean rarebit. Add a chopped green pepper to a can of baked beans, put in tomato catchup to taste and heat well in the oven. When ready to serve, pour a generous rarebit, very hot, over the beans and serve quickly with brown bread.

M.G.H. Auxiliary's Snack Bar and Shop Is Popular Project

Over 2,000 persons were served during August in the Snack Bar and Gift Shop operated in the Western Division by the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal General Hospital, Mrs. Frank S. McGill, Chairman of the Shop Committee reports. This monthly volume, attained in less than a year of operation, indicates how welcome this service is to visitors and busy members of the Hospital staff.

To operate the Gift Shop and Snack Bar, the Auxiliary provides five volunteers daily to assist the one professional worker who is in charge. Mrs. Duncan Jones is chairman of Placement.

Service at the Snack Bar includes tea, coffee, cold drinks, ice cream and such light lunches as salads, soups, bacon and eggs and home made cookies. The latter are donated daily by Auxiliary Branches and individuals.

For the first half of the year, gross receipts from these services were $8,438.00 of which $1,948.00 was net profit, Mrs. McGill reports. This sum includes the receipts from the Travelling Shop under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hector Dale. Already over half of the capital investment of $3,500.00 advanced from Auxiliary funds to equip and stock the Shop has been written off. When this capital advance has been cleared in full, all earnings from this project will go toward special needs of the Hospital.

Assisting Mrs. Frank S. McGill, Chairman, are Mrs. W. Brainerd, in charge of purchases; Mrs. Herbert Lank, Treasurer, and Mrs. H. K. Starnes, in charge of hand-made novelties.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Alice Fitzpatrick, wore a floor length gown having a green eyelet bodice with green net skirt.

The bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Barna and Miss Helen Geletka, cousins of the bride from Cleveland, Ohio, wore matching gowns, Miss Barna's being yellow and Miss Geletka'h aqua taffeta, with hoopskirts caught up with rosebuds. All the attendants carried bouquets of pink and white carnations with babies' breath.

Creams and Liquids, Also Solids, Available To Preserve Daintiness

Today's woman, intent upon protecting her daintiness, will find a large selection of deodorants and anti-perspirants from which to pick. Liquids, solids, creams—all are yours for the choosing.

Powder deodorants are available, too, for those who aim at tip-to-toe freshness rather than spot-control. One firm offers a protective talc in a fragrance as fresh as April showers.

One important virtue of this powder, they claim, is its soothing quality. Silky in texture, it can be applied immediately after shaving or using a depilatory. Since this product contains no powerful astringent, it is non-irritating to normal skin as well as non-damaging to fabrics, according to its makers.

For long-lasting protection, dust this powder on freely after your bath, remembering to give special attention to such danger spots as your under-arms, the area between your shoulder blades, and your between-toes crevices.

Omelets and Other Egg Dishes Are Tasty Meat Substitutes

Eggs are one of the most nourishing meat substitutes. Their versatility in cooking, their mild, delicate flavor, and their universal availability make them a unique food.

An important point to remember in cooking eggs is that they always require a moderate to low temperature. They should be taken from the refrigerator about one hour before using; it is easier to separate yolks and whites, and they beat up faster and to larger volume, if the eggs have first been brought to room temperature.

When combining hot mixtures with eggs, as in making custards, soufflés, etc., pour the hot mixture slowly into the beaten eggs, stirring or beating constantly. Leftover egg whites, if stored in the refrigerator in a tightly covered jar, may be held for a week or 10 days. Leftover yolks, if stored under water in a covered jar in the refrigerator, may be held for two or three days.

Seven Methods

There are seven basic ways to prepare eggs — bake, fry, broil, poach, scramble, make into omelet, and cook in the shell. Most of these ways are familiar to housewives, but the omelet is often considered difficult. To make a good omelet allow one more egg than the number of persons to be served, and allow one tablespoon of milk for each egg. Melt enough butter in skillet to form a thin layer over entire surface. Beat eggs until white and yolk are mixed, then beat in milk and seasoning. Pour omelet into heated skillet and cook slowly. As it begins to thicken at the edges, lift it, tipping skillet so the uncooked portions flow to the bottom.

Do not stir, but keep omelet as level as possible. When mixture will no longer flow, increase heat with spatula and fold omelet in for a few seconds to brown the bottom. Carefully loosen edges with spatula and fold omelet in half and serve on warm platter.

There are many variations of the plain omelet, cheese, parsley, ham, jelly, mushroom. tomato, and herb are among the most popular.

Use Plums, Peaches For Luscious Conserves

Rich Conserves and jams are made from purple plums

We're heading away from summer now and beginning to think of cooler days and bigger meals. So let's buy some of those purple and luscious peaches and make a shelf full of conserves for the winter season.

Plum-Orange Conserve
(Makes about 11 six-ounce glasses)

Four and one-half cups prepared fruit, ½ cup seedless raisins, 7 cups sugar, 1 box powdered pectin, ½ cup coarsely chopped walnut meats.

To prepare fruit: Chop 1 orange fine; add 2 cups water. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Pit and halve 2 pounds fully ripe plums. Chop fine. Add orange. Measure 4½ cups into large saucepan. Add raisins.

To make conserve: Measure sugar; set aside. Place saucepan of fruit over high heat. Add powdered pectin; stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to full rolling boil; boil hard 1 minute stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add nut meats, skim and ladle quickly. Paraffin.

Peach Jam
(Makes about 11 six-ounce glasses)

Four cups prepared fruit, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 7½ cups sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare the fruit: Peel and pit about 3 pounds soft ripe peaches. Grind. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucean. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium-sized lemons. Measure 1/4 cup juice into saucepan with peaches.

To make jam: Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place oper high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in bottle fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns 5 minutes so cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Spiced Peach Jam: Add ½ to 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, and allspice or any desired combination of spices, to peaches before cooking. Proceed as directed.

DINNER AT EIGHT

A dining room that provides a perfect setting for treasured heirloom mahogany furniture has walls painted a lovely, cool ice blue and draperies to match. The Oriental rug on the floor introduces deep crimson tones that blend with the wood of the furniture as well as rose, blue and parchment-beige. Rose colored brocade on the seats of the chairs matches the lamp shades on the sideboard. Above the sideboard, a mirror reflects the silver service that rests upon it and the crystal chandelier above the table.

Your School, Your Child, and You

By Tal Jones
(literature specialist, Verdun High School)

and E. George Cochrane
(assistant principal, Van Horne School)

BACK TO SCHOOL

Yesterday thousands of Montreal youngsters went back to school. Traditionally, it is supposed to be a sad day, involving the red-cheeked boy putting away his improvised fishing-rod, donning his shoes, and making his reluctant way up the hill to school. In reality most of the boys and girls who enrolled yesterday seemed quite happy. They were obviously glad to see each other again, and not noticeably sorry to see the teacher.

How long this beatific state of affairs will continue is very difficult to say. Life, as the English labourer ascknowledges, is not all beer and skittles, nor is school all fun and games; it would be a poor preparation for life if it were. No, before the year is out most of the students who were so carefree yesterday will have to face problems of varying complexity, some of which can have very lasting effects. In the solution of these problems teachers will play an important part, but the teacher can make his full contribution only with the active support of the parents. At present, when school has just begun, parents can do much to start their children out on the right foot.

The philosophy underlying the parents' attitude to school and to teachers will be discussed at some length in future issues. For the present here are a few practical suggestions for the parents of the child who is just starting school and is ready to absorb, in many cases from his parents, impressions and ideas which will colour his outlook for years.

DO's For Parents

On the positive side, here are five DO's for parents:

1.—If your child's school has a Home and School Association, join it. Attend the meetings regularly and let the teacher and principal know that you are interested. Meeting the teacher over a friendly cup of tea is almost always a worthwhile experience.

2.—Lead your child to believe that going to school is an enjoyable privilege extended to boys and girls his age.

3.—Teach your child to put on and take off his outer garments, and rubbers by himself. Attending to the clothing difficulties of 40 or so children is one phase of the primary teacher's job which parents can make much easier.

4.—Get your hands on a book of modern educational psychology. It will give you an insight into what the school is trying to accomplish and the methods it uses in carrying out its aims.

5.—Take a genuine and obvious interest in your child's life at school. Ask him what he did at school each day and don't hesitate to praise him if he shows signs of progress.

A Couple of DON'T

Now, two DON'T's:

1.—Don't portray the school as a sort of prison, the principal as a bogeyman, and the teachers as a group of sadists whose chief joy in life is inflicting punishments on small children. You will either make your child nervous and fearful, or, in a few cases, defiant and difficult to manage. Either way he will be greatly handicapped.

2.—Don't criticise the teacher to your child or before your child. If there is something going on of which you don't approve, drop a note to the teacher and either ask for an appointment or ask him to phone you. The chances are that you'll feel much better after a frank talk.

JOHNSON'S CLEANERS LTD.

"Incomparablly the Finest Dry Cleaning"

Dear Sir or Madam,

We are proud to announce the opening of our new, modern dry cleaning plant, a plant designed and dedicated to offer the finest quality dry cleaning.

Behind this project stands a life time of practical experience in the field of textile research; the highest standard of quality and an intense study of public reaction to conscientious service.

We wish to emphasize CONSCIENTIOUS SERVICE, the only possible way to safeguard the interest of our customers and to help re-establish the confidence of our patrons in the dry cleaning industry.

We feature our exclusive "WENDART" process, a new departure from ordinary dry cleaning. This wonderful, thoroughly tested process — similar to the processes employed by textile manufacturers — re-vitalizes the texture of each fiber and restores the original resiliency of the material. It gives a crisp, new "feel" to the fabric; adds to its natural beauty and makes clothes wear more comfortably — and longer.

You will appreciate the superlative appearance of your apparel without any offensive oder, pins, tags, or steel staples, an always present trade-mark of mediocre cleaning.

You will also enjoy a visit to our Plant and Store with "DRIVE-IN" facilities for the greater convenience to those of our customers, who prefer cash and carry service with a liberal discount.

JOHNSON'S CLEANERS will take pleasure in adding your name to their list of satisfied customers.

A WISE MAN DOES NOT PUT NEW WINE IN OLD BOTTLES

The Editor,
The Examiner.
Sir,

With reference to the present discussion over the permission of rooming houses in the City of Westmount, most of the talks have been from the opposers whose utterances are, quote, "we don't want rooming houses in Westmount—period!"

It is obvious we have a problem. Now there is a solution to every problem. The objective is to find the intelligent solution. Mrs. Peterson states, "we in Westmount have solid roots here" and she for one wants to see it kept that way. I wholeheartedly agree with her — but we do not want the growth of these roots to produce stubble and weeds.

It is unjust to put up walls to prevent people from making an honest living. This creates a two-fold evil, it also curtails our growth within the wall of isolationism.

There is no doubt the natural beauty and excellent administration of Westmount is intoxicating and the glamour of it does rub off to some extent on the citizens, causing them sometimes to lose the perspective. But surely the rooming houses and guest houses in question are not dens of iniquity?

Any person operating a rooming house is proof enough of his good faith that he is trying to earn an honest living, — that may well suit his talents. To prevent him is forcing him to seek a living in crime, vice and racketeering. We don't want to tarnish our hands with such procedures, rather is it our grave concern to eliminate these evils.

Let the administration find such sections suitable and the rooming houses have laws in keeping with the health standards — no overcrowding and sufficient accommodation in sanitary facilities.

I do not believe anybody in the guest house business operates it with the idea of accumulating wealth. This is a falacy — one's expenditures and net income would only be sufficient to render an urgent public service for the good of business people who are away or have no homes of their own — and in return sufficient to earn a fair living of which he is certainly entitled.

We in Westmount are people of homes and families. But let us take a long range view. Our children — in spite of us — do grow up — they will not always be with us, and shouldn't we feel most happy when they are away from home to know they have respectable lodgings and quite likely in a guest house after a day's toil in the wheels of industry?

If the administration and the newly formed council, both approach the issue with a true democratic spirit of intelligence and goodwill toward his neighbour, realizing we are our brother's keeper — it is certain that a satisfactory solution will be found for both parties concerned.

We shall never progress if we keep trying to put new ideas into absolute forms. But rather let us intelligently cast our bread upon the water and it will return to us tenfold.

Mrs. T. W. Deachman
484 Victoria Avenue,
Westmount.

LIKES COMPETITIVE TENNIS

The Editor,
The Examiner.
Sir,

The editorial in The Examiner suggesting that competitive tennis clubs be formed in Westmount met with the approval of all lovers of the game here.

It is quite true that a player does not improve unless he or she is given the opportunity of playing against players of better calibre.

This opportunity is not available if one plays all the time with or against the same players on the average court and Westmount is no exception.

Admitted that the courts here are municipally owned and that they are available to all residents of Westmount — but this fact does not seem insurmountable as all that is necessary is to set aside certain courts on specified dates for inter-club competition.

Club dues or entrance fees to competitions could be raised by club members. It is to be hoped that a sufficient number of tennis players now using the municipal courts will get together before the end of this season so as to organize a strong Westmount club to be entered in local competition next season. We have the talent here but it must be brought out.

Thanks a million for your suggestion.

Lullaby Of Broadway — Monkland

Doris Day and a member of the famed Page Cavanaugh Trio perform a specialty musical number as Gene Nelson looks on admiringly. The scene is from "Lullaby of Broadway," the new Warner Bros. musical film in Technicolor, due on Saturday at the Monkland Theatre.

Fred Astaire, Jane Powell Star In Musical Hit at the Westmount

Fred Astaire is dancing (on the ceiling), Jane Powell is singing a royal parade of new song hits, Peter Lawford, Sarah Churchill (actress-daughter of the famous Winston) and Keenan Wynn are respectively involved in the romantic and comedy hi-jinks. That's the good news of M-G-M's latest Technicolor musical, "Royal Wedding." which brings king-sized entertainment to the Westmount Theatre this Sunday for one week.

There is melody and merriment in every sequence of this smartly-designed offering, which unfolds a captivating story of a brother-and-sister dance team who, after scoring on the Broadway stage, are asked to repeat their triumphs during the celebration of a royal wedding in London. Ellen (Jane Powell), distaff member of the team, becomes involved in a shipboard romance with the jaunty Lord Brindale (Peter Lawford), Tom (Fred Astaire) meets his romantic Waterloo once they reach England, in the person of the London dancer, Anne Ashmond (Sarah Churchill).

Added Feature Attraction

The adventures of three of the most hilarious Privates ever to play havoc with His Majesty's service are brought as the added treat the the Westmount's screen in M-G-M's "Soldiers Three."

Suggested by the famous Rudyard Kipling stories of the Rutlandshire Infantry of the British Army in India in the 1890's, "Soldiers Three" not only packs the dramatic adventure wallop of Kipling's "Kim," one of M-G-M's biggest success, but also adds a barrage of laughs in the story of three rowdy buddies who can't stay out of trouble even if they have to prove themselves heroes in the attempt!

Stewart Granger, the brilliant English star who skyrocketed to American film popularity with "King Solomon's Mines", now enacts Pvt. Ackroyd, leader of the rollicking trio of infantrymen.

Scribe Relaxes, Listens To "The New Betty Hutton"

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6 — One of the reasons news hawks like their profession is the occasional moment of intimacy they enjoy with interesting personalities. Who else but a reporter could travel with the King and Queen, sit high above the grandstand in the press box at a major league game, travel cross country in luxury, hobnob at a Hollywood cocktail party and then saunter up to San Francisco for a glass of vodka with the diplomats at the Japanese treaty conference? All this — and a salary, too, though the job pays off more in fun than money.

Anyhow, I had one of those delightful moments this week when Betty Hutton hauled me off a sound stage and down to her dressing room after a tough day's work in a Perlberg-Seaton Production based on the life of veteran songster Blossom Seeley, "Somebody Loves Me".

In her dressing room Bettina enthusiastically reached for an album of records and tossed them on her player. Then, wrapped in a warmly exciting dressing gown, she plopped herself down on the sofa, poured us each a drink, and said:

"You gotta hear these, Jack. This is the new me. Lissen."

The needle hit the groove and out came a mellow, sexy voice chanting "Somebody Loves Me". The Gershwin tune has never sounded so good. The pace was not too fast, the phrasing perfect, the result extremely come-hitherish.

"I even like it myself," enthused Miss Hutton, the gal who bounced from poverty to fame with a frenetic song style that almost wrecked the joint whenever she opened her mouth. "This is the new me."

The turntable kept spinning. On came "Jealous" — sung as I've never heard it. You could have played discs for an audience of ten thousand and not one would have guessed Betty Hutton as the singer. "New Orleans" followed, and an oldie called "A Dollar and Thirty Cents".

Through it all Betty bubbled with enthusiasm, self-satisfaction and happiness.

"Gee, ain't they wonderful!" she oozed.

I had to agree. Here's a new Hutton, a gal who sings with the best of 'em. The new style results from two things. In the first place, Betty recently underwent a throat operation which raised her range four notes and lowered it four. Secondly, oldtimer Blossom Seeley, whom Betty impersonates in the movie, has tutured her in the restrained and semi-subtle style which Blossom brought to perfection in the decades between 1910 and 1940. Now the Hutton gal can compete on records, radio, stage and teevee with such enchanting chanteuses as Dinah Shore and Fran Warren.

So there we sat in her dressing room, a luxuriously upholstered miniature apartment with kitchenette, bar, dressing-bed room and living room on the Paramount lot. The walls are covered with a green-and-gold thread material, identical to her furniture fabric. The floor is deeply carpeted, the windows fitted with early American style shutters on the interior. There's a piano, a Colonial desk —and, in the rear, the usual make-up gear, hair drier, mirrors and such.

During our hour or so together, we talked about Betty's recent much-publicized and short-lived engagement to producer-writer Norman Krasna. She says she's not going to think of marriage for a long time now, the "new" career is too exciting and she hasn't enough time to devote to both home and profession. She'd love to do a movie with Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and its within the realm of possibility that these three will be teamed in a musical next year.

Around seven o'clock I took my leave and Betty went home to dinner and bed. She had to be up at five-thirty next morning, at the studio for makeup and hairdress an hour later. While I see no reason to wax overly-sympathetic with this state of affairs, it's certainly obvious that a star's life is not all lush.

"Lullaby of Broadway" Tops Bill At the Monkland Theatre Saturday

"Lullaby of Broadway," Warner Bros.' Technicolor musical extravaganza following other smash song-and-dance films like "Look For The Silver Lining," "The Daughther of Rosie O'Grady" and "The West Point Story," brings together lovely singing star Doris Day and nimble hoofer Gene Nelson to the Monkland Theatre screen Saturday till Tuesday.

With Broadway, the world's brightest street, as their playground, Doris and Gene, America's newest sweethearts, portray aspiring musical comedy stars who share in the hopes and joys of show business personalities, giving them a wide scope in which to display their respective talents.

The comedy aspect of the film is well provided with the performances of Billy De Wolfe and S. Z. Sakall, both long-time favorites in the comedy field. Ann Triola, a newcomer fresh from exclusive Hollywood nightclub engagements, teams up in the role of De Wolfe's foil and vaudeville partner.

ADDED ATTRACTION

The kind of an actor you are depends on the kind of people you've known, said Frank Lovejoy, star of "I Was A Communist For The F.B.I.," Warner Bros.' amazing spy-and-chase drama based on the true experiences of Matt Cvetic, F.B.I. undercover operative.

"Consciously or not," declared Lovejoy, "an actor patterns his performance on actual people he has seen, known, lived with, liked, disliked, or quarreled with. A writer may put down certain words, but when the actor interprets them he draws on all the human contacts within his experience.

"It follows then, that the more people an actor has known or even observed closely, the better for him. His acting range will be that much greater."

"Thief Of Damascus" Key Supporting Roles Filled

Lon Chaney, Jr., Helen Gilbert, Elena Verdugo, John Sutton and Edward Coleman have been cast for key roles in support of Paul Henreid in Columbia's Technicolor "Thief of Damascus," it has been announced by producer Sam Katzman. The story concerns the attempt of Khalid, the Iron Man, to capture Damascus by seige in the Seventh Century. Chaney, switching to a sympathetic and romantic role after a run of heavy portrayals, will be seen as Sinbad the Sailor. Misses Gilbert and Verdugo will fill the top feminine spots, the former as Henreid's romantic interest and the latter as the "other woman" and principal heavy. Sutton will appear in the main male heavy role while Coleman has been cast as the Sultan, father of Miss Gilbert. Will Jason directs.

RMR Top Service League RCMP Can Force a Tie

The playoff situation in the Westmount Inter-Service Softball League is still pretty much jumbled up, but as a result of last week's games at least two teams have consolidated a playoff spot, these two being R.M.R. and R.C.M.P.

Two games were played last Wed., August 29th, with R.C.M.P. scoring a narrow 8 to 5 victory over the last place Engineers, while Reg't de Chat. defaulted to R.M.R. On Tues., Sept. 4th, two more games were played, with R.C.A.S.C. being victorious over Navy by the score of 15 to 6, while R.M.R. downed Westmount 14 to 9.

As a result of the two victories, R.M.R. took over first place, but they have finished out their schedule, while the second place Mounties still have one game to play, but must win to tie R.M.R. in first place.

The remainder of the teams are still closely bunched and in the running for the last two playoff berths. Dependent on the weather, the playoffs are set to start on Monday, Sept. 10th, at 6 o'clock sharp with the second games in both semi-finals probably on Tuesday.

The league executive have called a meeting for Friday night, and will discuss plans for the annual dance, which was so well attended and enjoyed last year that a real bang up success is planned for this year's affair. Time and place will be announced in next edition together with the results of the semi-final playoffs.

The standing of the teams is as follows: —

RHR Black Watch To Wage Strong Recruit Campaign

An extensive recruiting and training program, to bring the unit to full battalion strength, will be conducted this autumn, it was decided at an organizational meeting of the Black Watch — RHR of Canada.

E.D., the commanding officer, who presided, announced that from now on the regiment would parade on Tuesday evenings instead of Monday, it being thought Tuesday would be more acceptable and would assist the turnout.

Their armories, said Col. Knox, now possessed better facilities for extensive training and he hoped the recruiting campaign would be successful. He explained that due to formation of the active company of the 27th Infantry Brigade the regiment's ranks had been sharply depleted, especially of NCO's. He added a smoker will be held shortly for all active ranks of the regiment.

Little Man of Iron

West Point Cribbing Reflected at McGill

McGill University will not rely on a "West Point honor system" to prevent "cheating" on the part of candidates in examinations.

This was disclosed by Dr. W. Stanford Reid, chief invigilator for the faculty of arts and science, who announced that regulations have been tightened for supplemental examinations which commenced on Tuesday.

Scores of students will write supplementals in a second-chance effort to "make their year". The examinations will continue in various subjects until Sept. 20.

Dr. Reid has been instructed to eject from the examination room any candidate with notes detected in his possession. It does not matter whether the person is using the notes.

The students are instructed very carefully in the rules of examinations, both by notices and verbally. They are asked to leave any notes in their possession with the invigilator until after the examination. Notes in the possession of any candidate will be taken as intention to "cheat".

Dr. Reid explained in regard to the honor system: "I have found that our students do not want the introduction of an honor system in examinations. On the average there is only about three to four per cent of the students who would cheat. The rest are inherently honest.

"Those who are going to cheat will not be prevented from doing so by an honor system. Such a system also has the disadvantage of turning honest students into informers, a role which they are naturally reluctant to play.

"I have discussed the matter with some of my classes. Practically all the students who expressed themselves were against the introduction of an honor system at examination time."

The system of supplemental examinations provides a student with a "second chance". A student in the first year, in the faculty of arts and science, who has not passed in the sessional examinations at least three of his courses will not be given permission to write supplemental examinations. He must withdraw from the faculty or, if granted permission by the dean, repeat his year.

A student in his second, third, or fourth years who has failed in more than one full or two half courses at the sessional examinations will not be given permission to write supplemental examination. He must withdraw from the faculty or, if granted permission by the dean, repeat his year.

QRFU Seniors Set to Go Sunday, RMR Confident

Calibre of play in the Quebec Rugby Football Union's senior circuit promises to be stronger this season than at any time during post-war years. Players from two disbanded clubs—Three Rivers Indians and Sherbrooke Athletics—have joined scores of young gridders competing for berths on the four operating teams, and the league is likely to be well-balanced from top to bottom.

The defending champion, Lakeshore Flyers, Westmount Warriors, Royal Montreal Regiment and Eastward Regiment are all reported improved over last year, and it's anybody's guess how they'll wind up after the lengthy 12-game-per-team schedule is completed.

While President Reg Watson and his executive are deadlocked in their battle with the referees over a hike in pay, the gridders are ready and raring to go in opening games this Sunday. Lakeshore takes on Westmount at Valois Park, and Army meets Eastward at Maisonneuve.

Club tub-thumpers have done a good job of keeping activities a secret but from word through the grape-vine and a little help from Army Coach Dave Peebles we take our annual step out on a limb to predict the outcome.

Despite Peebles' words of caution we call his R.M.R. platoon to take all the marbles. The 1950 champion Lakeshore team, Eastward and Westmount should follow in that order but not far apart.

As a first-year club last season Army finished third in the six-team loop. Peebles has picked up four standouts from Lakeshore and a trio from Three Rivers to bolster about 18 holdovers.

Lakeshore, which lost one of two games to Army last year, has about the same team as in 1950 with several juniors from champion N.D.G. squad on the list.

Eastward is reported improved right down the line and could pull a surprise.

Westmount has lost players to the three other clubs but Coaches Roy Chesley and Mac Parsons may yet mould together a contender.

Now let's take a gander at the Army roster.

Mickey McFall, a star with Peebles' two title-winning teams at Rockland in 1947 and 1948 has joined in to coach the line. Red Nower is putting the backfield through its paces with Dave doing the master-minding on T-formation plays.

Danny Johnson, Ray Tremblay and Mike Maruska from Lakeshore and Moe Richardson from Three Rivers are in the backfield with such 1950 standouts as Sandy Spence, Harry Miles, Vic Daignault, Ross McClure, Norris Masterman and Johnny Kay.

Larry Doyle from Lakeshore, Three Rivers' Fred Bridel, Larry Brennan who played for Peebles at Rockland and Ray Binmore from Westmount are new additions up front. Ken Zakuta, Tony Italiano, Babe Kastner, Bruce Marshall, George Walker, Hank Cantwell, Paul O'Neill and Dave Binmore will again be sporting Army colors.

Cribbing can't spoil this Army team.

Late T. H. Stewart Started Granite Curling Locally

T. Howard Stewart, who died Monday in his 83rd year, first introduced granite curling to Canada. In 27 years the granite game has grown rapidly and has now reached the point where it has almost supplanted ahe "iron game."

Mr. Stewart's first contact with granites came on a visit to Edinburgh in 1924. He was invited to throw a granite, and his first delivery stopped on the "T."

This so pleased him that upon his return to Canada he set about equipping Montreal and Quebec clubs with granites and formed the Granite Curling Association.

The Edinburg Trophy was put up for competition at the Montreal Arena in Westmount. It was followed by the Pot Lid Trophy. This latter trophy acquired its name from the fact that Mr. Stewart's first granite covered the "T" in Edinburgh like a lid on a pot.

"Rugby Carnival" Slated At Molson Stadium Sept. 21

Local high school football squads are already getting into high gear in the preparation for the earliest start in the history of the league.

Last night a meeting was held at the High School of Montreal to plan the league's schedule and all schools had representatives present to decide in which category each of their teams would be placed. The opening games of the schedule are currently set for the weekend of Sept. 21.

Three of the high school teams in the west end have definitely announced their intention of entering their squads in Senior "A" competition. They are West Hill, Loyola and Westmount. Others in the same division are Montreal High, Catholic High and D'Arcy McGee.

The top schools in the city will be divided into east and west sections. The west section comprises the defending champions, Loyola, West Hill, Westmount and Verdun. The east section includes Montreal High, Catholic High, D'Arcy McGee and Mount Royal.

Carnival Planned

The league has planned a big "Rugby Carnival" at Molson Stadium the night of Sept. 21 to get the high school football rolling. The event was inspired by the success of last year's "Hockey Carnival" when enough money was realized to pay the season's expenses incurred by the league.

The teams at the affair will be drawn against each other and will play a 15 minute period. At the end of this time two other teams will take to the field leaving the ball in the same place with the same side in possession.

Between halves, the crowd will be entertained by West Hill's famed Majorettes and band, while other attractions such as running and passing exhibitions will be given. A cheer-leading contest will highlight the half-time period.

Moe Abramowitz Returns To "Y"

Harry Ditkofsky, chairman of the basketball teams committee, of the Y.M.-Y.W.H.A., has announced the appointment of Moe Abramowitz as coach of the Senior Blues for the 1951-52 season.

Moe, who left McGill at the end of the past season, said: "My first love has always been and will continue to be the "Y." I consider it a great honor that I have been again signalled out to head their senior team. I shall try my best to develop an outstanding team."

Mr. Ditkforsky was all smiles when he glowingly spoke of Abramowitz: "While he is small in size, his coaching stature at the "Y" has been truly gigantic. We are indeed fortunate in welcoming Moe back to the scene of his greatest past triumph when he and his players, three still-active, were appointed to represent Canada at the Olympic Games in London in 1948."

Losing little time, Harry and Moe have already started planning for the pending season's play. They welcomed all candidates for the senior team to try out on September 10 at the Snowdon "Y", at 8:30 p.m.

An exhibition schedule is now in the process of jelling; all games to take place at the Snowdon gymnasium. Correspondence is being exchanged with the following teams: St. Michael's College (Vt.-USA); Lincoln University (Pa.-USA); Harlem Globe Trotters; Tillsonburg All-Starts (Fred Thomas, Bob Phibbs and Co.),, Bensonhurst Jays (B'klyn-USA), and the like.

Maybe The Bishop Has Something

Church singing is being "ruined by the absurd heights at which hymn tunes are set," in the opinion of Bishop R. H. Owen of Wellington, New Zealand.

"There would be a great improvement if the edition of ancient and modern hymns with tunes transposed to a lower key were more widely used by our organists," he said.

Bishop Owen said the throats of men were not made to produce sounds that could even approximate the heights laid down as necessary in the ordinary edition. Even women often found it a severe strain.

The tunes were written in the keys set because it was assumed that the singing would be done for the congregation by a trained choir of boys, the bishop said.

Cotton can be grown in different colors so that it doesn't have to be dyed.
