INTRODUCTION

The results on the June 2010 uniform ministerial examinations are presented for each school board and for the public and private sectors. This information reflects the desire of the Ministère de l'Éducation, du Loisir et du Sport to facilitate access to information that is in the public domain.

The report is divided into two parts: organization of the examination session, and results on the uniform examinations by administrative region, school board, public school and private school.

This information document is intended for educational institutions and the general public with a view to enabling:

- public and private educational institutions to have access to information for evaluating their educational practices, comparing their effectiveness over time, identifying their strengths and weaknesses, and comparing their performance with that of other educational institutions
- the general public to have access to official Ministère information

while taking into account the context and different characteristics of each educational institution when interpreting these results.

In order for the objectives of this publication to be met, it is important that the educational institutions and the general public keep in mind certain factors that may affect students' academic achievement when comparing their students' marks with the provincial results. Such factors include:

- Family situation: The support and availability of parents, their financial situation and the family's standard of living in general are among the factors that may affect a student's academic achievement. Studies carried out in Québec and elsewhere have shown that the academic achievement of students from socioeconomically disadvantaged areas is generally lower. School boards have access to socioeconomic indicators for each of their schools and they should take these into consideration when reviewing results.
- The geographic location of the educational institution: Learning in some subjects, such as the second language, may be affected by the institution's location. For example, the conditions for learning English as a second language are not the same throughout Québec.
- Mother tongue: The proportion of students whose mother tongue is not the language of instruction may have an impact on examination results.
- The integration of students with special needs into regular classes: In educational institutions that routinely integrate students with special needs into regular classes, the increased range of disparities among the students sitting for ministerial examinations may affect the overall success rates for those institutions.
- The grouping, in some schools, of students with major learning difficulties or psychosocial integration difficulties: Such students enrolled in special classes in an educational institution may have a significant impact on the overall performance of the school.
- Different practices related to admission: Some educational institutions take in all students, while others base admission on past academic achievement or performance on aptitude tests.

PART I

1. ORGANIZATION OF THE EXAMINATION SESSION

1.1 Coordination

The Direction de la sanction des études has the responsibility of defining and applying rules regarding the certification of studies in general education. Consequently, it has a mandate to coordinate the administration of uniform examinations, correct the examinations and publish the results.

1.2 Certification Requirements

The certification rules in section 32 of the Basic school regulation for preschool, elementary and secondary education have been in effect since the 2009-2010 school year. To obtain a Secondary School Diploma (SSD), students must have accumulated a minimum of 54 Secondary IV and V credits, at least 20 of which must be at the Secondary V level or in vocational training. Of these 54 credits, the following are compulsory:

- 6 credits in Secondary V language of instruction
- 4 credits in Secondary V second language
- 4 credits in Secondary IV mathematics
- 4 credits in Secondary IV Science and Technology or 6 credits in Secondary IV Applied Science and Technology
- 4 credits in Secondary IV History and Citizenship Education
- 2 credits in Secondary IV Arts Education
- 2 credits in Secondary V Ethics and Religious Culture or Physical Education and Health

1.3 Preparation of Examinations

The responsibility for preparing examinations for the certification of studies is shared by the educational institutions and the Ministère de l'Éducation, du Loisir et du Sport. Each year, the Ministère selects a certain number of subjects for which it will prepare uniform examinations. Evaluation in the other subjects is the responsibility of educational institutions.

However, for some subjects, complementary examinations are prepared by the Ministère and made available to educational institutions.

The following are some of the characteristics of uniform examinations:

- The examinations are prepared by teachers and education consultants in the English and French sectors of the education system. Every year, many people contribute to the development of uniform examinations and the Ministère coordinates the entire operation.
- These examinations are not field-tested prior to being administered to students in Québec schools; however, this does not preclude the field-testing of certain items that seem especially problematic. A new examination is developed for each subject and each examination session. The Ministère strives to develop examinations that are comparable from one session to another.

1.4 Administration of Examinations

Every year, the Ministère publishes an official timetable for the examination sessions. Educational institutions must fully respect this timetable. Educational institutions are responsible for administering the uniform examinations and must provide the required premises and supervisory personnel. The Ministère provides the examination materials.

1.5 Correction of Examinations

The June 2010 uniform examinations were corrected by the educational institutions in accordance with the Ministère's instructions, with the exception of the French, language of instruction examination, which was corrected by the Ministère.

1.6 Processing of Results and Determination of the Final Mark

For each uniform examination, the student's final mark is determined by taking into account the result on the uniform examination and the result obtained during the school year.

For the reasons specified below, the Ministère may use two procedures called conversion and moderation, which can affect examination results and school marks. However, under no circumstances does the Ministère normalize results in the statistical sense of the word. If it were to do so, it would have to change the raw scores for an examination so that the distribution of the scores would follow a normal bell curve.

Conversion

To ensure that the examinations are fair, the Ministère endeavours to prepare examinations of comparable difficulty from one year to the next.

Despite the precautions taken during the development of the examinations, an abnormally high failure rate may occur. In this case, the Ministère may either take corrective measures—for example, by removing a poorly worded question—or convert the results. Conversion is a procedure that involves raising all the scores of an examination slightly, thereby lowering the failure rate. In this respect, the first paragraph of section 470 of the Education Act stipulates that, “The Minister may, to avoid penalizing students unduly, revise the results obtained by them in the examinations he imposes, to compensate for any error or ambiguity in the examinations brought to his attention after they are taken.”

In June 2010, no examinations were converted. One question was removed from the oral and written comprehension component of the French, second language examination.

Moderation

School marks, which are taken into account in determining the final mark on a uniform examination, may vary considerably from school to school and from class to class. These differences may be explained by a number of factors. The degree of difficulty of the local examinations varies from one educational institution to another. Some classes are heterogeneous, while others are more homogeneous and include only the strongest, average or weakest students. Finally, some institutions normalize their marks.

Thus, two groups of students from different classes or schools may have identical results on the local examinations, but it is impossible to determine objectively if the students’ level of performance is in fact the same. Uniform examinations are administered to all students enrolled in a given course; therefore the results on such examinations are a good indication of the performance of different classes. It is thus possible to use the marks obtained on a uniform examination to “moderate” the school marks, that is, to minimize or eliminate the impact of the local variables mentioned previously.

When the Ministère uses moderation, it compares, for each class (usually about 30 students), the school marks and the uniform examination marks. Using a statistical procedure, the school marks for each class are changed so that they are consistent with the marks obtained on the uniform examination by this class, according to the mean and the standard deviation (that is, the dispersion of marks around the mean).

Moderation involves adjusting each student's school mark up or downward. It cannot, however, result in the failure of any student who has obtained a pass mark on the uniform examination.

Final Mark on the Uniform Examination and Final Mark in a Subject

For each subject that has a uniform examination, final marks are made up of the students' moderated school marks and their results (converted or not) on the uniform examinations.

When there is more than one uniform examination for a subject, or when one or more components of a subject are evaluated by the school alone, a comprehensive final mark that takes all these evaluations into account is then determined. The comprehensive final marks in each subject that has a uniform examination are used to determine the average marks and success rates published in this report.

1.7 Publication of Results

The Ministère is responsible for publishing the results. After an examination session, it publishes official documents for students and the data lists for educational institutions. This information is distributed as soon as possible after each examination session.

Educational institutions may thus evaluate their performance immediately and modify their educational practices as needed in order to ensure the academic success of their students.

Finally, the Ministère publishes an annual report intended for educational institutions and the general public.

2. EXAMINATION RESULTS

Part II of this report first presents an overview of the examination results on the June 2010 uniform examinations and the results recorded for all of Québec and for each administrative region. It then presents the June 2010 examination results for each school board and public school as well as for each private school. The number of examinations taken and the number of students involved are also given.

2.1 Overview

In June 2010, three uniform examinations in the French sector (for two subjects) and five uniform examinations in the English sector (for two subjects) were administered to Secondary V students.

Examinations in French Sector

132-520 French, language of instruction, written production

134-510 English, second language, oral interaction

134-530 English, second language, written production

Examinations in English Sector

612-520 English Language Arts, reading

612-530 English Language Arts, production

634-510 French, second language, oral interaction

634-520 French, second language, oral and written comprehension

634-530 French, second language, written production

Table 1 presents a few points of general information on the June 2010 examination session for all of Québec. The equivalent data for June 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009 are also presented.

2.2 Results by Educational Institution and Administrative Region

The results presented in this section should make it possible to assess the performance of schools with respect to academic success. However, this information should be used with discernment, taking into account the factors indicated previously, which can affect students' academic achievement.

It is easy to find specific schools, as they are all listed by administrative region and in alphabetical order. Overall results for English school boards have been grouped under the region of the school board's head office; however, data for each school can be found under the region in which each school is located.

The results for all of Québec, presented at the beginning of each table, include all results obtained during the June 2010 examination session. Results for the public sector, also presented at the beginning of each table, do not include those for the Cree and Kativik school boards and those for institutions outside MELS jurisdiction, which are not published in this report.

The results for the June 2010 uniform examinations are presented in tables 6, 7, 8 and 9.

TABLE 6 presents results on all the uniform examinations, for all educational institutions in Québec.

TABLE 7 presents results on all the uniform examinations, for all educational institutions in Québec educating students in French.

TABLE 8 presents results on all the uniform examinations, for all educational institutions in Québec educating students in English.

The Commission scolaire du Littoral and some schools provide instruction in both languages. Their results therefore appear in both tables 7 and 8.

In each table, the results for schools in the public and private sectors are presented separately. For each institution presented in tables 6, 7 and 8, the following information is given: the number of examinations taken, the number of students, the average mark (%), the success rate (%), the ranking of the institution and the variance of the success rate in relation to the success rates of all public and private institutions listed in the table. Table 9 provides the success rates for each uniform examination as well as for the final mark in subjects having multiple-component examinations or more than one examination.
