If materialism is our god it is useless to pray for peace.

Presentation to Judging Champions at Howick

Banquet Held For Robert B. Ness and Owen M. Ness by Howick Chamber of Commerce

Robert B. Ness and Owen M. Ness, recent Dominion Junior dairy cattle judging champions were guests of honour at a banquet held by the Howick Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening.

Mr. Simeon Beaudin, past president of the Chamber, presented Robert Ness with an engraved cigarette case and Owen Ness with a leather travelling bag. Both young men responded, thanking the gathering for their gifts and describing their experiences in Toronto.

The guest speaker, Mr. Romeo Duford, of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the importance of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade in the life of the community, particularly stressing their relations with rural districts. He stated that they could be of great benefit to a community but only with the whole-hearted co-operation of the general public.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller of Montreal and Aubrey presented an enjoyable programme of singing and dancing, featuring two of their pupils. Betty Hendry, aged 11, and little Sandra Van Der Haegle, aged 3. These were greatly appreciated by the large audience and Mr. and Mrs. Miller were thanked by the president for their kindness.

Those at the head table were Mr. A. S. W. White, O.B.E., President and Mrs. White; Hon. R. R. Ness, M.B.E., M.L.C., and Mrs. Ness; Mr. Simeon Beaudin, Mayor of Howick; Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruce Ness; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ness; Mr. Duford, Mr. C M. Moore, Secretary and Mrs. Moore and the two guests of honour.

U.S. Doctor Says Beware Old Drugs and Self-dosing

Research Director of A.M.A. Warns Home Treatment Causes Many Deaths

NEW YORK — (AP) — You had better see your doctor when things go wrong rather than to take some old medicine in your medicine chest or a drug prescribed for someone else, Dr. Austin Smith warns.

Old drugs and many remedies that people take without a doctor's advice have "caused more unnecessary grief and illness than can ever be calculated," the doctor says.

Dr. Smith is director of the division of therapy and research of the American Medical Association, and secretary of its council on pharmacy and chemistry.

Drugs in your home medicine cabinet can be dynamite, he says. Sometimes old prescriptions change chemically, and can become harmful.

"Too often people take drugs that the family doctor has prescribed earlier for someone else, for an entirely different sickness. The things they take may be actually harmful. Or the self-dosing may prolong the illness or make it worse before they do call the doctor.

Dr. Smith lists the seven most common forms of self-dosing as: drugs for treating colds, laxatives, vitamins, sleeping tablets, pain-relievers, anti-acids, and kidney medicines.

"If you catch a cold, leave it alone," he says. "Rest and sleep will shorten its duration. Eat and drink whatever you like — a cold doesn't last long enough to be affected by special diets.

Nose Drops Help

"Nose drops and inhalants, when used properly and under expert medical advice, can help relieve some of the suffering. But otherwise they may do more harm than good."

Laxatives can actually cause constipation, he says.

"The supposed harmful effects of constipation, as normally observed in most persons are unimportant. They are of no consequence when constipation is of brief duration and occurs only occasionally. Laxatives cannot be expected to bring back that school-girl complexion, that youthful step, or relief from tiredness, business failure or temper tantrums."

As for vitamins, "Only one-tenth of one per cent of the people who take them without medical advice get any good from them. Most people get enough vitamins in their food ..... The additional amounts don't help them at all. It takes huge doses to overcome a real vitamin deficiency."

Over-doses of vitamin D can cause premature aging in the blood vessels and over-doses of sleeping pills cause far too many deaths, Dr. Smith said. The pills may affect a person so that he forgets he has already taken as many as he wanted to.

If you're fat, 99 chances out of 100 it's due to over-eating. There's no drug generally available to the public that can take weight off safely, Dr. Smith said. Doctors prescribe some that dull the appetite. But the real treatment — and still the tough part — is that you have to eat less.

Senior Girl Basketballers Entertained at Three Rivers

Lose by Score of 45 to 30, But Given Enjoyable Time by Home Team

The senior girls' basketball team of Huntingdon Academy left Friday afternoon on the three-thirty bus to play a return game with the basketball team of Three Rivers High School. They arrived in Montreal at 5.30, where they spent the 1½ hours before train time, having supper at Murray's restaurant. Descending the steps of the train at Three Rivers, they were greeted by a gust of cold air and rain which was welcomed after the long, close ride from Montreal. Freda Sawyer, a star player of the Three Rivers team, and her sister Dorothy, were there to receive the visitors and had taxis ready. They were driven to the High School where bright lights and shouts of welcome awaited. Enthusiastic students led the girls through their school and forbade peeks through the auditorium windows where a party was being prepared. When curiousity had been satisfied, all were served sandwiches, cakes, and cookies of great variety, which the students of Home Economics had spent the afternoon preparing. The beverage was steaming hot cocoa. Maureen Kiernan, a basketball player, introduced each one in turn to the girl who had volunteered to billet her for the night. When the girls entered the gym, the boys took over. Music was supplied by a phonograph and the Huntingdon High School girls were royally entertained. The party ended at midnight. Each one sought her hostess and were temporarily separated. One o'clock the next day found all together again in the locker room of the Three Rivers High School. Each one was telling the other of the lovely homes she had visited and the friendly parents she had met. Finally all were dressed for the game and entered the gym eager to start.

At 2.00 the game commenced. The referees were Ted Bernhardt for Huntingdon and Mr. Hardwiche for Three Rivers. Captain Hill is the coach of the Three Rivers girls and Mrs. S. Robb for the Huntingdon team.

The game started off very badly for Huntingdon and at the end of the first half Three Rivers had more than doubled their score. After this Huntingdon played a better game but nonetheless the game ended with a score of 45 to 30 in favour of Three Rivers. Frances Middlemiss was the high scorer for Huntingdon. Peggy Stark, who sprained her ankle, was the only casualty on the team, although there were many complaints of bumps and bruises. The game ended at 3.10 and there was a general rush to catch the train which left Three Rivers at 3.50. During this time cokes and cakes were offered to all the girls who had played basketball. Although these refreshments looked good, the Huntingdon girls, in fear of missing their train, had barely time to sample them. In spite of the worry, they arrived at the station in time. The team made the trip from Three Rivers to Montreal in a little over two hours, arriving in Montreal at 5.55. There was then another rush for the bus terminal for the bus left for Huntingdon at 6.15. This was done on foot by most of the girls, although a taxi was needed to convey Peggy to the terminal. The team arrived in Huntingdon at 8.30. The girls all had a most interesting time over the week-end and enjoyed their trip and their stay in Three Rivers immensely.

Skunk Makes Bus Trip Memorable For Barrie Students

Last Friday some students at Barrie Collegiate Institute had the pleasure of viewing the Royal Winter Fair being held in Toronto, but on the return trip a rather unfortunate incident occurred.

One of the three buses chartered was forced to halt at a nearby farm house for water. Just as the occupant had answered the driver's knock, a skunk appeared and rudely perfumed the threshold standers. The driver, despite his condition, was forced to return to his bus and continue the journey to Barrie, although neither the driver nor the students were too happy over the unavoidable situation.

Predicts Immigration Increase

MONTREAL,—Encouraging prospects for an increased movement of immigrants to Canada during 1949 were reported here by J. S. McGowan, director of colonization and agriculture, Canadian National Railways, who has returned from a tour of the United Kingdom and western Europe.

Mr. McGowan said that by the end of this year, approximately 100,000 immigrants will have reached the Dominion from the British Isles, Holland, the displaced persons camps in Germany, and other countries.

"In those countries," said Mr. McGowan, "there is a growing interest in the opportunities that Canada has to offer, and the promise of additional shipping accommodation should see an increase in immigration next year."

New Band Instruments Purchased

Meeting of Parents To Be Held Thursday

Not much has been said about the band fund for the past several weeks, but it still remains at the $2,300. that was given as collected. The objective was $3,000. and the band is still in need of this sum to achieve the plans that were laid down. At least $200. of this sum is needed immediately to carry out what has already been done in the matter of re-organization.

Since the meeting of the band committee several weeks ago and when it was decided to go ahead with the money on hand, much has been done. Mr. D. Moore informs the Gleaner this week that he has secured instruments for the training of a 30-piece band. At least eighteen new instruments have been purchased with the money subscribed and the band has 21 actual new instruments as its property. It also has 12 used instruments that are in fairly good condition, thus there are 33 instruments available for the use of prospective boys. These are as follows: 8 new cornets; 2 used cornets; 9 new clarinets; 3 E flat used horns; 3 new trombones; 2 used trombones; 1 new and 1 used euphonium; 2 E flat bass horns; 2 used drums.

This week Mr. Moore went through Grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 and obtained 35 applications from boys wanting to join the band and learn to play an instrument. This does not include those senior boys who were originally with the band. Thus it will be seen that there is plenty and to spare of material to start the band rolling once more.

With this idea in mind, Mr. Moore is calling a meeting of the applicants and the parents of same to be held in the school auditorium, on Thursday night, December 2nd, at 8 p.m. The idea of this meeting is to discuss with the parents the responsibilities that will be theirs with regard to the care of the new instruments and their children's chances of becoming permanent members of the Boys' Band. It is therefore important that the parents go with their boys to hear about these plans. It must be understood that the instruments purchased are not toys, but expensive musical pieces that cost into the hundreds of dollars. Properly and carefully handled it is possible that a boy may become a talented musician and have an ability in later life to earn his own living by this one piece of education alone. The training will put into his hands what today may be known as another trade. With the call for musicians for radio and other entertainment professions, there is ample opportunity for good musicians to earn a livelihood. Apart from this side of the plan there is always the benefit one can obtain by being able to entertain at various types of gatherings of a local nature.

Parents of the boys are therefore urged to attend the meeting that will be held tomorrow night at the Huntingdon High School Auditorium.

Possible Suspects in Moore Robbery Case Held

Chief L'Heureux Has Busy Week With Law Breakers

Police Chief L'Heureux has been a busy man during the past week with a number of various cases to attend to. On November 23rd, he received a complaint at 7 p.m. that an oxide battery used by Mr. A. Saumier at his wood yard, had been stolen. Investigation is being carried on in this case.

Report Possible Jewelry Store Robbery

On Thursday, November 25th, Chief L'Heureux received word from Det. M. Rheault, of Valleyfield, that there was supposed to be an attempt to rob one of the jewelry stores in Huntingdon, by three men. Together with Constable O. Saumier they patrolled the town throughout the night and warned both jewelry stores of the possibility, but nothing happened. Cars were checked, but no information was gained. Valleyfield was called for information as to the type of car and the license number and it was learned that it was stolen at St. Martine for want of gas. At about 4.30 p.m. on Friday, a woman called from a point west of Huntingdon to say that three men were at her gas station and had taken on gas and refused to pay for it. She gave the license number of the car and this coincided with the one of the suspects. Chief L'Heureux told the woman to stall the men until he could get out. Valleyfield asked him to apprehend the men until they got there. This was done and the men handed over to the Valleyfield police for investigation.

Theft of Carrots from Car

While the Chief was absent apprehending the three men above, a thief was busy in Huntingdon and stole a bag of carrots from Mr. Rufus Kelly's car. The car was parked outside the Chateau and Mr. Kelly saw the man and caught him in the act. The man was Horace Hutson, age 29, of Athelstan Road. Mr. Kelly made the arrest and with the help of Mr. A. Trepanier took him to the Police Cells. On Saturday, he appeared before Justice of the Peace D. Faubert and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10.00 and costs or 15 days in gaol. He paid the fine and costs.

Arrested for Creating a Disturbance

While patrolling with the police car along Lake Street, on Saturday evening, November 27th, the Chief arrested Albert Corbett, for being drunk and creating a disturbance by fighting. He was lodged in police cells and on Monday afternoon appeared before D. Faubert, J.P., and was fined $10.00 and costs. This was paid.

Cars Collide — Slight Damage

On Sunday, at 1.15 p.m., an accident occurred in front of the Chateau, on King Street, when a car driven by Samuel W. Barrie, R.R. 2, Huntingdon, and a taxi driven by Mr. Beaudin, collided. The taxi was turning to park at the Chateau, when Barrie's car collided with it and struck the left rear fender. Slight damage was done to both cars.

Suspects in Moore Robbery

On Sunday, Det. Adrien Daniel, Provincial Police, Montreal, called Chief L'Heureux to bring Mr. F. C. Moore in to Montreal to make an identification. Four men were being held as possible suspects in the recent robbery at the office of Mr. Moore. The men's names were: Adrien Lamothe, age 32; Wm. Curreck, age 24; Eddy Quinn, age 23; Robert Vaudrie, age 19. One of the men was wearing a pair of shoes that might have been stolen from Mr. Moore. By the number on one of the shoes, Mr. Moore believed that they were the ones stolen at the time of the robbery. Further investigation will be carried on to obtain more proof and establish if these are the men who were responsible for the robbery, which took place on the night of the 9th and 10th of November.

Reported Budget Surplus Not Likely to Ease Taxation

Expenditure For Defence Works, Etc., Reasons For Greater Revenue

OTTAWA, (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott's announcement of a $533,600,000 budget surplus for the first seven months of the fiscal year has spurred unconfirmed reports the government is preparing to ease the nation's tax burden in 1949.

These reports persisted last week even against the warning by the minister that Canadians must not expect him to break the budget record he set a year ago, when the government announced a record-breaking surplus of $670,000,000.

However, argument in favor of the reports have steadily gained prominence. Political observers point out:

1. The Liberal party in power likely will face a national election some time in 1949 and may ease taxation as a means of gaining favor.

2. The national clamor for tax cuts, so that consumers may meet rising costs with more purchasing power, is not abating. Some government officers already have indicated they consider the clamor not unwarranted.

3. With a gradual falling off in the international demand for Canadian manufactured products, government economists say easing taxation may provide extra buying power on the domestic front.

4. The assurance by Mr. Abbott that Canada will have a surplus at the end of the current fiscal year is followed by a factual statement that it will be the third successive surplus for the Dominion since the Second World War.

On the other hand, taxation pressure has continued without letup since the war began in 1939.

More Expenditures

But the argument favoring a reduction in taxation was offset by indications the government was planning greater budgetary expenditures in the next fiscal year—expenditures which may contribute to reasons for greater revenues.

These included further grants to expand Health Minister Martin's family allowances scheme; at least another $100,000,000 to Defence Minister Claxton for more comprehensive defence projects; an estimated $4,000,000 to support prices of Canadian potatoes which cannot be exported and are in excess of the country's needs.

Mr. Martin has already informally announced he is considering amplification of the Family Allowance Act, particularly as a move to boost maintenance of larger families in Canada.

He is expected to place before the next session of Parliament an amendment to the act, specifying that family allowances—decreased after the fourth child—be granted on a more equal basis regardless of how many children there are in a family.

More Problematical

Mr. Claxton's plans are more problematical and more extensive. Granted a working budget of $251,000,000 for the fiscal year 1948-49, he is expected to show the need of a budget well over $400,000,000 in 1949 for an expanded air force and anti-submarine navy.

But the defence problem in Canada does not rest there. Mr. Claxton bases his needs on the probability that Canada will not face attack nor implication in an immediate war.

But if international diplomacy should suddenly crumble, Canada's defense expenditures would soar.

However, if Mr. Claxton calls for a defence budget of $400,000,000 there are still indications Canada's budgeting will allow for a surplus. It was believed this surplus might benefit taxpayers in the form of lower taxation.

Controls To Go

Meanwhile, there were indications the government plans to dispose of some controls next spring.

Solicitor-General Joseph Jean said he was submitting to the cabinet a report on the Continuation of Transitional Measures Act—the act which gives the government blanket authority to control some 57 Canadian commodities.

Mr. Jean said the government will—if possible—rescind the act next March.

The only hitches are, that of the 57 items, the government may still want control over rent, butter, bread and steel.

A government source said these controls may not necessarily hold up disposal of the Transitional Measures Act, passed in 1947. The government would merely pass new legislation allowing control of the four items and releasing the remaining 53.

Potato Exports

Canada has shipped both seed and table potatoes to the United States market for the last five years but last week the government announced shipment of table-stock potatoes will be stopped Dec. 1.

Shipment of seed potatoes to certified seed buyers in the United States will be allowed, but only on a permit basis and only after various dates ranging up from March 1.

To protect potato producers against heavy loss, the government at the same time announced it will introduce a price support program some time next year.

Up to the present time, Canada had an agreement with the United States to ship 1,000,000 bushels of table potatoes and 2,500,000 bushels of seed potatoes across the border annually at a reduced tariff rate.

But the continued howl of American producers that Canada was flooding the U.S. market with potatoes were rotting on the ground persisted until the government was forced to make an adverse decision.

Canada expects a record potato crop this year of about 95,000,000 bushels, 18,000,000 above the last five-year average. At least 40,000,000 bushels will be surplus.

What will happen to the surplus is not known. No one would say whether—like some Maine potatoes—they will be allowed to rot on the ground.

The price support program will grant growers in designated areas of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island a price of $1.15 per 100 pounds for Canada No. 1 grade potatoes on the basis "in the bins on the farm."

PROTECTION FOR OWLS

VICTORIA, (CP)—Shooting of owls and hawks is a big mistake, said William Ferguson, Omaha conservationist, in a speech to the Audubon Society. Hawks and owls kill rodents and deserve protection, he said.

Textile Union to Ask For Increase in Wage

R. Kent Rowley, international vice-president of the United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.), announced his union would request a 20-cent hourly wage increase on behalf of 20,000 textile workers in Quebec, Ontario and the Maritime Provinces when the union's present collective labor agreements comes up for renewal next year.

Mr. Rowley said more than 200 delegates were here to attend the union's annual national conference. The new wage demands, he said, were "based on a program of economic demands that will meet the urgent needs of our membership". He said also that "a motion will be put forward at the conference, asking for the formation of a labor party in Quebec". He added that such a part would favor "independent" political action.

Ward McGill Has Narrow Escape

Tree Limb Falls on Car on Highway 3

What might have been a serious accident and perhaps resulted in death, occurred on Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Ward McGill, Customs Collector, was returning home from work.

Mr. McGill was proceeding along Highway No. 3, about a mile west of Cazaville, in his Ford coupe and a high wind was blowing. At about thirty feet from the point mentioned, he noticed that a limb from a tree was about to come down. He tried to stop the car, but before he could do so the limb fell straight down on top of the hood of the car. The limb crushed the front end of his car and fell right across the road and into the field on the opposite side. The limb was about twenty feet high on the tree and made a clean break and fell straight down. Had it have fallen across the body of the car, the result might easily have caused the death of Mr. McGill. However, he managed to get away by having to pay for the damage to his car, which was cheap in comparison to possibility of losing his life.

It took about an hour's hard sawing to remove the limb from obstructing the road. It was about 12 inches through.

Legion Holds St. Andrew's Ball

Well Attended and Successful Event

The Huntingdon Branch of the Canadian Legion held a St. Andrew's Ball at the Hall, on Fairview Road, Huntingdon, Tuesday evening and it was a decided success.

The affair was something different in that a program was provided as apart from the dancing and this provided much entertainment for all who attended. The Grand March got off to a start at 11 p.m. with President Jack Heald and Mrs. Heald, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McMillan and Dr. and Mrs. H. R Clouston leading the march. The Grand March was followed by a waltz and then the entertainment. Two pipers and a drummer from the Black Watch provided the Scottish music for the occasion. Mr. Adam Waldie, of Montreal, rendered a few Scotch selections among which were: Annie Laurie and Mother Macree. Miss Eileen Waldie and Mr. George Waldie, of Montreal, danced the Highland Fling. Mr. Jock Laurie of the Pipers sang several Scotch comic songs that met with great approval. Miss Eileen Waldie sang "Now is the Hour" exceptionally well and received great applause. A Highland dance, "Shan Trews", was performed by Miss Eileen and Mr. George Waldie. In between selections the pipe band gave several numbers that were received with a grat deal of pleasure. Adam Waldie sang "Rose of Tralee" and this part of the evening's round of pleasure was ended by a sword dance by Miss Eileen and Mr. Geo. Waldie.

A buffet lunch was served at midnight and dancing was resumed for a further period. Music for the dance was supplied by the Playboys Orchestra. All those attending reported a very enjoyable evening.

Howick - Huntingdon Ayrshire Club Honors Champions

Owen and Robert Ness, Junior Champion Dairy Cattle Judges Tendered Banquet

November 30th might well have been designated as Ness Night at the Huntingdon Chateau, when the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club saw fit to honour Owen and Robert Ness, Junior Champion Dairy Cattle Judges of all Canada at the Royal Winter Fair. The Champion Judges were seated at the head table and close by were the proud grandparents, the Hon. R. R. Ness, M.B.E., M.L.C., and Mrs. Ness; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ness and Mr. and Mrs. R. Bruce Ness.

Gerald A. Roy, President of the club, intimated in his remarks that the Club was encouraging calf club work through donating $125 for furthering its cause and another $100 was spent at Ormstown Exhibition for classes in which amateur exhibitors alone could compete. The Field Day held at the Agricultural School, Ste-Martine, was one of the real highlights of the year in the way of club activities. Mr. Roy recommended the taking advantage of present day conditions to improve quality of herds. Our herds were never better than today for we have certainly all had them culled through selling our stock for export and now is an ideal time to raise our herds to an even higher standard through the use of better bulls for breeding.

Gilbert McMillan introduced Captain D. G. W. Douglas, Livestock Export Division, Department of Trade and Commerce. The film, "Blue Bloods of Canada", a trade development film of the Trade and Commerce Department was screened and showed the many favourable aspects of farming and livestock work being carried on in Canada. Captain Douglas stated that this film was being exhibited in many countries in the world and that translations were made as to text matter for various languages.

The Department of Trade and Commerce with 90 overseas offices is spreading the desired agricultural propaganda of Canada with a view to further extending the export trade of Canadian agriculturists. Commendable results are being achieved, especially in the Latin American countries, Switzerland, parts of Africa, Spain, Portugal, Switzerland, China and the far East countries.

The Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association might very well consider it good business to have some advertising literature prepared in the Spanish, Portuguese, French and English languages that could be used in foreign lands. The Ayrshire cow has met with great favour in Hong Kong and that market will grow. The world needs to know more of Canadian livestock and especially the countries that have neglected their farms and livestock in recent years. The future is bright if the breeders can keep up production. Where we have screened the film, "Blue Bloods of Canada" we find the foreigners express words of envy for the way of Canadian Agriculture.

J. P. FLEURY, Federal Livestock Promoter, spoke of the way the Junior Champion Judges, Owen and Robert Ness entered the judging ring at the Royal Winter Fair. They were confident at all times, they were ever cool headed and have returned home in the same way. During the past 11 years, three times the winning of this competition has come to boys of the Chateauguay Valley. Whilst paid agricultural workers may be able to help boys in the judging tuition, the real work I believe is done by their leaders, such as Douglas Ness, Carlyle Dickson, Archie Roy, George Collum, Allan Crutchfield and others.

OWEN NESS thanked the Club and the leaders for the compliments extended to Robert and himself and for the encouragement they received from the Leaders and the Club to enter the judging fray. It was a great week we had, thanks greatly to Mr. Alex. MacLaren, Ottawa, who had ninety of us under his care and we came from all parts of Canada to enter into the various projects of judging.

One day was spent in judging at the Royal Winter Fair and after that Mr. MacLaren had us see such industrial plants as Massey-Harris, International Harvester, visit Niagara Falls, and a great many other places in the Toronto area. It would take hours to tell of the things we saw and heard, but I have returned home feeling I would never want too be in an industrial plant doing such monotonous jobs as we saw being performed. Perhaps the workers received more pay, but for me, I would prefer less pay and longer hours on a farm. Mr. MacLaren had us visit Ottawa where we saw the House of Commons, sat in the desks of our respective members from across Canada and had the routine of passing a Bill through Commons duly explained to us. The Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, spoke to us, using as his topic, "50 Years of Agriculture in Canada".

St. Joseph's Pupils Stage Program in Honour of Saints

Fine Entertainment—Pass Marks For November

Last Thursday at the Parochial Hall, the pupils of St. Joseph's School, offered their parents an evening's entertainment in honor of St. Cecilia and St. Catherine. The pupils were quite encouraged by the large attendance at their program. Every number was a success. Many thanks to Mr. S. J. Currie for the microphones and loud speakers to facilitate each actor's voice and help the audience to hear with greater ease. The Question Box was very much appreciated. Each contestant answered the questions which were on the citizens of Huntingdon. Mr. Currie's Assistants showed movies for about an hour. The entertainment ended with a play recalling to mind the good old times of long ago. Each pupil acted his part very well. Masters Claude Houle, Remi Soucisse, Frederick Hart, Nelson Lepage, and Claude Latendresse were dressed in women's clothes and took part as ladies in realistic manner, accompanied by Roger Caza, Georges Lazure, Philip Lalande, Maurice Fournier and Claude Riel as their husbands and friends.

Many thanks to all the parents and friends who encouraged the pupils, who, in turn, promise to stage another such entertainment in the near future.

Father A. Pigeon came to the school for the reading of the November marks. He is well pleased with the pupils and asked them to continue and do still better for December. Their marks will be the best Christmas gift to give to their parents. Here is the standing of the pupils:

Premier Duplessis Orders Survey of Power Problem

Also to Promote Handicrafts Industry in Quebec Province

QUEBEC — (CP) — The problem of hydro-electric power in the Saguenay district was discussed at a press conference by Premier Duplessis who disclosed that plans are afoot to develop more electricity for the big Arvida plant of the Aluminum Company of Canada.

A glance at the map of Quebec in the vicinity of Lake St. John will show that getting water to make turbines whirl is not the main problem. The mountainous area is veined with rivers.

The big problem is an engineering one and a financial one, and a matter for the Legislature because all the water resources involved belong to the Crown.

It is up to the government to decide how to provide the surplus of electricity needed by the aluminum plant at Arvida.

That is why Premier Duplessis announced first that A. B. Normandin, hydraulic engineer, will survey the area, and second that there would probably be legislation at the next session of the Legislature.

The Premier said he had talked with R. A. Powell, president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, who explained that the company needs 200,000 to 300,000 additional horse-power to maintain present operations at Arvida and could use another 500,000 horse-power for new projects.

At present the Aluminum Company develops 1,500,000 horse-power of which about 250,000 to 275,000 horse-power go to Saguenay's paper industries.

Premier Duplessis said Mr. Powell proposed diversion of the waters of the Bersimis River into the Peribonka River, feeding Lake St. John where the Aluminum Company has hydro-electric developments at Shipshaw and Ile Maligne.

The whole project will depend on the report of the government engineer.

Time For Christmas Seals

HERE it is December 1st and in 25 days from now it will be Christmas Day. What a lot will happen during those crowded 23 days—there will be lots of shopping to be done, presents to be bought, wrapped, addressed and sent away to relatives, friends and so forth. In the excitement of preparing for the Christmas season our thoughts are likely to dwell mainly upon our own affairs, we are apt to forget in the midst of all the rush that there are some who would like to enjoy our excitement also. We mean those persons who may be patients in a hospital, especially those unfortunate enough to be suffering from Tuberculosis.

Yes, the time is here when you will receive a letter from the secretary of the local Tuberculosis Society which will contain a sheet of Christmas Seals and a request to make a contribution to the Tuberculosis Fund. You cannot say that the seals will not be useful to decorate those Christmas parcels, because they will. Each one of these parcels that is sent out will carry the reminder that you have thought of helping the Tuberculosis victims by donating toward a fund to help fight and find a permanent cure for this disease. They will remind those who perhaps have failed to send in a donation, that they too are expected to help. Thus not only will you have made a donation to a worthy cause, but you will have provided yourself with a decoration for your parcels and been instrumental in reminding others of the same cause.

The money received from the sale of these seals remains in your own district to assist sufferers from Tuberculosis, to aid in the detection and possible prevention of the spread of the disease, as well as for many other useful purposes in connection with the fight against Tuberculosis.

The campaign in-so-far as Huntingdon County is concerned, is confined to this county only this year, and not as formerly to both Huntingdon and Chateauguay Counties. Last year from these two Counties an amount of $1,475 was contributed to the fund; of this amount $1,375 came from Huntingdon County alone. This year the objective for Huntingdon County has been set at $1,000 and there seems every reason to believe that this county can reach that amount and go well over the top. It has made a record and it will be a matter of pride to keep it and even do better. Let us all get together and make this year's drive a most successful one. As in other years, Mrs. J. E. Barrett is handling the campaign and all contributions can be mailed to her and will be acknowledged through the columns of this newspaper as they are received.

It is understood that the Patch Test for children is to be put to greater use in the local schools and it is hoped that a system of examinations will be carried out at all the local plants in this district. All this is done through the funds so raised from the sale of Christmas Seals and no charge is made for the service provided. All contributions are deductable from income tax payments. When you receive your letter in the mail, answer it promptly and be sure to include your donation.

Still Holding Public Favour

LIKE the human body depends on blood circulation for life, so does the newspaper depend on subscriber circulation for its life. But unlike the human body which sometimes suffers from high blood pressure, or increased circulation, the newspaper thrives on increased circulation. Low circulation is what does the most harm to a newspaper, for when this happens the advertisers begin to feel that they are losing potential customers or market. Advertisers look for increased circulation and the newspaper that can steadily build its circulation is the one that the advertisers will want to do business with. Another point of increased circulation shows that the newspaper is finding favour among the reading public, it means that they find the newspaper interesting and to their liking. When considering the fact that circulation is increasing, one must look at the facts and know that this increase is actually more than it seems. There is not one newspaper or magazine that does not lose some subscribers during the year and therefore when a circulation increases it must be remembered that these losses have also been replaced. Thus it is that the actual increase is really greater than what is shown, as it merely takes the figure previous and adds to it.

The Huntingdon Gleaner has been building its circulation steadily since the start of the Audit Bureau of Circulations conducted audit, which was for the first three months of 1947. This first audit showed that the actual paid number of subscriptions was 3,097. The next audit was for six months ending September 30th, 1947, and showed the total at 3,111. The following six months ending March 31st, 1948, showed 3,244, and the latest audit for the six months ending September 30th, 1948, shows the figure to be 3,279. The actual press run is far higher than this and stands at 3,765; the extra copies take care of correspondents, employees, advertising agencies, etc. Thus over a 21-month period the Huntingdon Gleaner has increased its circulation by at least 182, an average of a little better than 8 subscriptions per month. It must also be remembered that this increase has not been gained through special subscription campaigns, but entirely voluntarily on the part of each subscriber. No inducement in the way of premiums and such like has been offered. The subscriber has paid for the newspaper for its worth and value alone—such speaks volumes for the service that the Gleaner is giving this District of Beauharnois. It shows that the people are getting something that they want.

Oh yes, there are kickers; it is impossible to please everyone. But the kickers are not overlooked if they have something legitimate to kick about. Their complaints are listened to courteously and if something can be done, it is. At the same time the Gleaner is always trying to improve its gathering of news and presentation and also the area of coverage. The editors try to provide a variety of subjects they feel will interest all types of readers.

During the past few weeks an organization of ladies in Valleyfield has been secured to supply the news for the English speaking residents of that district. In this way the Gleaner is now covering almost the entire District of Beauharnois. Both Huntingdon and Valleyfield are shopping centres which draw a large amount of their business from other points, thus advertisers using the Gleaner for their advertising messages are now able to draw from a greater potential market than ever before. The same applies to nationally advertised products which help to sell these products for the local business man. Reader interest holds advertiser interest and makes the newspaper a valuable asset to all concerned.

Worthy Honours in Cattledom

ROBERT NESS, Jr., and Owen Ness, of Howick, have been fittingly honoured by Howick Chamber of Commerce and citizens of the community, and again last evening in the Huntingdon Chateau by the Howick-Huntingdon Ayrshire Club members and friends. The two Ness boys received these complimentary honours in appreciation of the honour they brought, first to themselves, then to the Province of Quebec and the Chateauguay Valley. These boys won top honours in the dairy cattle judging competition at the Royal Winter Fair. To win such an honour is no small achievement, for every year 70 or more boys will compete for this honour. The teams of two are well coached and come from all provinces of Canada.

Robert and Owen Ness are not the only boys of the Chateauguay Valley to have won this mark of distinction as superior junior dairy cattle judges, for in 1946 Donald McCaig and Eric McCartney were the Canadian Champions and then in 1937 it was Donald and Douglas Templeton who were the champions. The Quebec Province teams won first place in 1942, 1933, 1932 and 1931. Second place in 1945, 1944 and 1936. It was in 1936 that this second place position was won by A. Peddie and J. A. Roy of Howick.

The winning of these high honours in dairy cattle judging, over a period of years, is indeed a tribute to the excellence of work being done in the way of good dairy farming in the Chateauguay Valley. Naturally, the junior competition judges get much practical experience at home, but home is not enough, for on the home farm will be found one breed of dairy cattle and the boys must be proficient in judging four breeds of dairy cattle. The calf clubs have undoubtedly played an important part in developing the judging ability of the contestants. The breeders of this livestock area have given the boys some coaching as to the fine points as well as the weaknesses to look for in all breeds of dairy cattle.

Showing and telling boys all the good and questionable points in cattle is not enough. The boys must have a retentive memory and a developed instinct to know and judge, and then be able to write their expressed thoughts for arriving at a judgment. To achieve all this, it most certainly means the boys must have a scholastic training and a mind developed as to reasoning. Consequently it would seem our schools can also lay some claim to the honour these young cattle judges have brought to the Chateauguay Valley over the years.

It is gratifying to know that the 1948 winners of the Junior Dairy Cattle Judges are representatives of the fourth generation of the Ness Family of Howick. The name Ness, associated with Ayrshire cattle, is known and highly rated in Canada, United States, Scotland, as well as in many other parts of the world. Here we have evidence that the fourth generation of the Ness Family is heading in the right direction to maintain and further extend the family reputation. The Ness slogan, "Our Reputation is Your Guarantee" is being upheld.

Thinking of Ormstown Exhibition

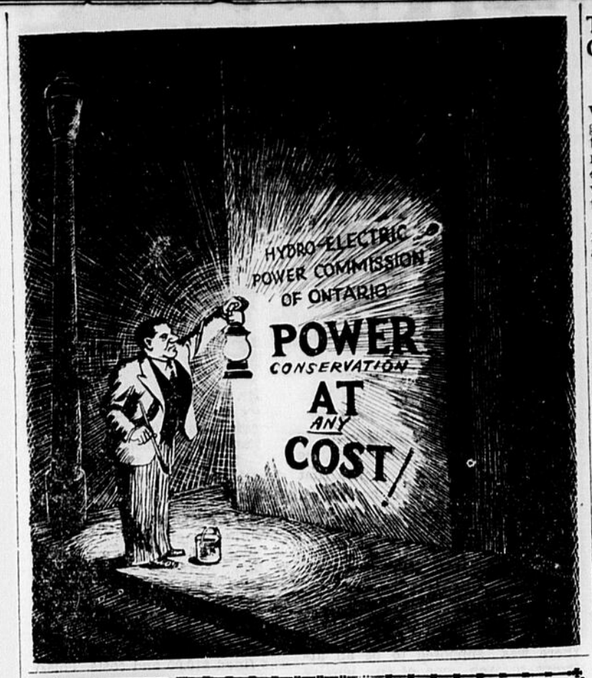
TOMORROW, Thursday, Dec. 2nd, the annual meeting of the Ormstown Exhibition takes place in Ormstown. This annual meeting is of no small importance, for actually Ormstown Exhibition is the biggest thing of its kind that takes place annually in Quebec Province. There are exhibitions and exhibitions; Ormstown Exhibition is a show founded on livestock and not on midway and attractions. True, Ormstown has midway, horse races, and a great many refinements that go to make up an all round exhibition. Tomorrow is the time and place where decisions will be made, or thought brought forward that will keep Ormstown Exhibition on the path of progress and achievement.

Usually speaking, the Town Hall, Ormstown, is well filled by farmers and townsmen interested in the welfare of the Exhibition. The people in attendance don't wrangle over little matters, they look at things in a more enhanced manner and always with a view to increasing the size of the show and its quality. Greed, which so often holds back a fall fair, is not the displayed temperament of Ormstown Exhibition annual meetings. If you have a thought that you really believe would be beneficial to the Exhibition, take the thought and express it before the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Ormstown Exhibition directors work untiringly for the welfare of the show and certainly Mr. C. Dickson, the secretary-manager, exerts himself in a very aggressive manner. The more people cooperate in this way the better for all and the exhibition.

At a recent meeting of the Holstein Club the importance of local breeders showing their stock at Ormstown Exhibition was aired. If local Holstein breeders feel they have built up Ormstown Exhibition to a point where they feel they are out-classed, then to-morrow's meeting is the time to bring in some ideas as to how to create ways and means of making it financially worth while to such breeders to show their stock, and which in the long run will spur them on to have even better stock in years to come.

The Chateauguay Valley has long been noted as a place where a lot of pure bred dairy cattle can be purchased for the export trade. That great avenue of U. S. dollars and cash to the farmers must not be lost. Surely more extensive exhibiting, breeding of even better stock is desired, if we are to see our enviable position maintained. It is not enough to see Ness, McArthur, Murphy, Ayerst and a comparatively few other exhibitors carry the load of advertising the Chateauguay Valley. Undoubtedly many a district breeder would be pleased to see how well one or two or more of his animals would score in the judging ring. The best way to find out how your stock rates in the eyes of the experienced judge, is to see to it that your stock is exhibited. If a breeder does not feel he has sufficient number of head of cattle to make it worth while to show, would it not be possible to work out some sort of a co-operative way amongst a small group of farmers to exhibit their entries? Perhaps! To-morrow would be a time worth while getting down to brass tacks and make some decision.



Weekly Review

"More About the Communist Bible"

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

In my recent article on "The Communist Bible" (Karl Marx's "Capital"), I challenged "the brainiest professors of economics" to read the book through intelligently and preserve their mental balance. This was a rhetorical challenge, such as preachers throw out from the pulpit, and I did not expect any reply from the economists. But, to my surprise, I received a letter from one of the most efficient and widely-known economists in Canada, who is a graduate of St. John's College, Cambridge, and was at one time Professor of Economics at the University of Toronto. This is what he wrote:

"I have just read with enthusiasm (and I need not add, with complete agreement) your article on Karl Marx. It is first-class. I think that there are pages in 'Capital' which I have not yet read; nevertheless it is true that for the past thirty-nine years I have devoted quite a lot of time to mastering this wretched book. It just does not make sense."

Quite naturally, I felt flattered, not to say relieved, at receiving so favorable a reply to my random shot at the economists; and for the purpose of explaining my position further to readers I am taking the liberty of reproducing the letter I wrote in reply:

"Thanks for your generous appreciation of my brief analysis of the sense value of the Communist Bible. You were one of the 'brainiest professors of economics' I had in mind when I challenged them to read the book through intelligently and preserve their mental balance. I am pleased to find that, although not an economist, I am not entirely a dullard. I tried to read the book with an open-mind, but after a few pages I felt as if I were losing my mind and wanted to get out into the fresh air. I have always been fond of reading books that make one think. I read Locke's "Essay on Human Understanding" as a boy, and I enjoyed the mental exercise and could fairly well follow his reasoning.

"Marx can be logical enough in spots, but he thrashes an idea to death. He leads you into such labyrinths of verbosity that it is impossible to follow him. I returned repeatedly to the book and even re-read pages in an honest effort to coordinate his arguments, only to become more and more confused. It seemed to me that he was continually getting himself tangled-up in trying to prove his theories, and that he kept on arguing in the hope of getting untangled. I sometimes felt that he was deliberately trying to befog the minds of his readers and blind them to his fallacies and contradictions.

"As I understand them, by avoiding his dialectical meanderings, Marx's analyses of values are basically false when applied to individuals and to human society as a whole. He assumes that society, with all its social, professional, industrial and commercial ramifications, can be forced into a cast-iron mechanical system. He absolutely ignores the fact that society is made up of human beings with a great variety of temperaments, talents, desires, ambitions and willpower. He takes up a lot of space analyzing 'use value', for instance; but what is use value to one may be of no use value to another, and the same applies to exchange and surplus values.

"In other words, all values are relative in a normal free society. Marx's illustrations of the value of a coat and the cloth from which it is made would apply all right to army uniforms being turned out by the million in a factory. In fact, his whole theory seems to be based upon a sort of militarized society. And we have had enough examples of that kind of society in recent years."

The hue and cry over the "C" form in hockey is far from over and many expolsive outbursts from the press, coaches and hockey men can be expected in the future. But one thing is certain, professional and amateur hockey interests and their battle over the form has aroused the public interest.

The pros have taken a verbal beating from sports writers and coaches in smaller centres and can be expected to suffer a further berating.

Form C has been branded as a type of player slavery. Others claim there's nothing indefinite about the C form—a player signs it with full knowledge of its contents. He gets a certain amount of money for signing the contract, renewable each season by the club on payment of some money. If the club doesn't renew the form, the player is a free agent. The form also says the player must turn pro when the club wants him to.

These fans who say C form isn't as bad as it's made out, say the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association form is just as bad if not worse. The player doesn't necessarily get money for signing, but when he signs he is just as much the club's property as one who signs the C form. If the C.A.H.A. player wants to move to another team, his club can hold him until he graduates from junior ranks.

They cite the recent squabble over George Armstrong as an example to show the C form and the pro club aren't such villains after all.

Armstrong signed the form for Toronto Maple Leafs and when Stratford Kroehlers of the Ontario Hockey Association junior series were seeking players last year, they asked Leafs for help. The pro club said Armstrong was a Toronto prospect, but they could go ahead and use him if they wanted to.

Armstrong was a sensation with the junior club and Kroehlers refused to let him go to a Toronto-owned amateur club this season, saying they wanted Armstrong to stay in Stratford until he was past junior age.

The fight lasted for about a month and finally Leafs obtained Armstrong for their amateur team, junior Marlboroughs, by paying Stratford $2,000 and two other players.

Still on hockey: Did you know the average age of N.H.L. players this year is 25.4 years and only 19 of the 101 playere in the League have reached the 30-year mark?

Toronto Maple Leafs have the youngest team but also the oldest player in 34-year-old goalie Turk Broda. Neil Colville of New York is three months younger than the Turk.

Detroit ices the second youngest club with Montreal next. Boston Bruins are in fourth place while Chicago and New York are one percentage point apart for the oldest club honors.

This Man Hasn't Heard Of the Five-day Week!

(From the New York Times)

The latest biographer of Washington is not only the greatest biographer of Lee but the active editor of the Richmond News Leader and a shining example to sluggards whose workweek is a mere forty or fifty hours long.

Dr. Freeman's is eighty or ninety hours long. He turns out such items as the "Lee" (four volumes). "Lee's Lieutenants" (three volumes) and now "George Washington" (which will run to six) in his off time. He writes a couple of daily columns of editorial matter for the News Leader and makes up the paper, too. He writes and delivers two radio news broadcasts on week-days, one on Sundays. He is rector of the University of Richmond, trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation, director of an insurance company and a railroad and advisory member of practically everything under the sun from the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association to the National Council of the Boy Scouts.

Now in his early sixties, pale and somewhat portly, he follows a schedule that would paralyze the average high school halfback within a month. Up mornings at 2.30. By 3.30 a.m. he is in his office, to check on the news and write the editorials and broadcasts. "No one to bother me at that time of day", he explains, "and nobody calling on the telephone. My secretary does not show up until 6 a.m."

Through with the office by 12 noon or 1, he goes home for lunch, takes a nap and sits down to his biography and history. "I try to keep at least fourteen hours a week free for it, but, counting Sundays, I usually manage thirty-five. Most of the actual research for the 'Washington'—digging in archives and so forth—is being done by Gertrude R. B. Richards, my research assistant. I go over her reports and the photostats she collects and read all the major printed sources. The writing? Longhand, then a first typescript, a second a third. The fourth is usually the last."

By 5.30, tea with his family and his guests, if any—"and a few Mozart records". Then dinner and to bed. Hard work? Long hours? Dr. Freeman says, "I lead the most interesting life I can think of. I pledge you my word".

Things You Have Never Seen

You have never seen a saw give a man a running start and then catch up with him and cut his finger off.

You have never seen a hammer pass a man in a sprint and hit him on the head as it went by.

You have never seen a power drill unscrew its anchor bolts, take off after its operator and drill him full of holes.

Accidents don't chase workers. If a box drops on a man's toes, if his finger is cut by a saw, if a hammer hits some part of a worker's anatomy, if a fellow gets tangled up in machinery, it is because of something the man did or failed to do.

This isn't a case of blaming everything on a worker just in order to make someone the goat. No indeed, it's a simple fact that human beings — not machines, tools, or materials — cause by far the majority of accidents.

Make it a personal matter to avoid accidents. Take the time to think about the dangers of your job and the safe way of performing it. Your future depends on your safety attitude.

What's In The Wind

By Paula Dicks

Fashion Furore

Fashion Week, arranged by Montreal Fashion Industries brought a record attendance of writers, radio and fashion artists, to the preview of spring wardrobes soon to be offered throughout Canada by designers and manufacturers. It was an All-Canadian Show — fabrics, designs and finished articles.

A number of visitors from Toronto and other cities, as well as the local talent, followed an exhausting programme, Monday to Friday, of breakfasts, luncheons, teas, buffet suppers and a composite Fashion Show at His Majesty's Theatre — with Christopher Ellis and Betty Hughes-Koren, Managing Editor of Fashion Magazine, as commentators. A full history of the week's doings better not be written.

Queenly Styles

With the New Look established, Victoria is now supported by Elizabeth and Josephine. The famous collar has been adapted to the new mode and many suggestions of the Empire Waist were presented.

At His Majesty's Theatre performance, handsome programmes with attached tiny bottles of "Arpege de Lenin" Echantillon de Parfum, made in France, were distributed.

The first scene was an exclusive shop in which models displayed coats, suits, daytime frocks, evening gowns, sports and rainwear.

Second scene: Guests arriving at home of bride for the wedding reception, showing a variety of costumes — dressy afternoon cocktail dresses, dressmaker suits that would be equally at home in any fashionable gathering throughout the world.

From Alfrandri Inc. came the bride's costume of white Chantilly lace, three-tiered skirt, long train. Bridesmaids in Toast Chantilly lace, over peach net and taffeta — tiny bodice and full skirt. Matron of Honour in antique rose lace over blush satin.

Many navy suits and dresses were shown. Ballerinas were absent — replaced by slender skirts in tiers or draped. Short capes with contrast in lining were noticed. Elizabethian collars and matching stoles are spring novelties.

Some of the manufacturers listed on the programme are well represented in the popular dress shops in Huntingdon: Alvinna Sportswear Inc.; Sports Togs Ltd. (Lou Ritchie) Torchin Dress Co. Inc.; Yvel Jersey Mfg. Ltd.; Wonder Bra. Hats were by André, Justine Hat Co.; and Piko. Fabrics used in making of costumes: Bruck, M. E. Binz, Celanese, Cohama, Dominion Burlington, Gro-Val, A. Wesley Mason, Riverside, Montrose. Furs: Alexander Furs (Canada) Ltd.; Jewellery and umbrellas by Birks; Furniture by Woodhouse Co. Ltd. The twenty-one mannequins were the pick of Montreal Charm Schools and top photograph studios.

The Foundation Raiment

Tuesday afternoon Jean Rowat with me at Brittany Room in the Mount Royal to view the exhibition of Parisian Corset Mfg. Co. A series of tableaux in a woman's dressing room. Folder with photographs and description was provided by Cockfield, Brown Advertising Agency.

At the tea which followed met several old friends — Wilma Tait, Canadian Home Journal, Toronto — Odette Saintonge (sister of Dr. Claude) of La Patrie.

Mrs. Doreen Day of Eaton's said she was particularly thrilled with the presentation as it was the first big event conducted by her daughter, Anna-Day Troup. Anna received the congratulations of her friends with modesty and some reservations concerning ability to follow such a distinguished parent in the profession.

The Slicker Rainwear — Buttons an' Bows

To the Ritz Blue Room at 6 o'clock to view the Sports Togs exhibited by Lou Ritchie. Models wore raincoats in many colors, styled for rain or shine in a variety of materials. Matching spats and removable or adjustable belts were featured. Table companions at a delicious buffet supper were Mrs. Margaret Cragg, Editor Women's Dept. Toronto Globe and Mail, Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond of Canadian Shoe Manufacturers, Madelaine Levason, Marine Editor Montreal Herald. Jack Marsters, of Cossman, Marsters & Co. Advertising Agency, a kindly host at this and other events.

Wednesday began at breakfast, Chez Ernest, Mr. Diner of Cehrné introduced models wearing raincoats and sports clothing. A black satin celanese with cavalier cape was quite fetching. Dominion homespun was shown in beige, red and green for informal occasions. Sports suits in contrast, plain grey skirt with checked finger length coats, to retail at $25.00. A red checked tweed as complete outfit or mixed; tweeds are coming back. To be worn with slacks, a sports jacket in white, blue yellow and green.

Miss Stewart, buyer for Eaton's Serve Yourself Department, who sat beside me, is quite excited about the quality and style of clothing to be offered in the spring.

Bathing Beauties

At Arnott & Rogers Studio the pillars were turned into palm trees and beach umbrellas covered the tables for the preview of beachwear by Rose Marie Reid. Strapless one and two-piece bathing suits relied on elastic and well placed zippers and engineering feats for the bra. Some models showed narrow strap supports at shoulder in the back, strap over one shoulder or narrow cord halter — for nervous swimmers. Colors to blend with suntan are mocha-rose, pineapple, briar-rose, butterscotch. Five models showed lamé swim suits in gold, blue, silver, chartreuse and orchid — very glamorous. Press women who registered will receive a girdle in the new lace nylon, with compliments of Rose Marie Reid.

A brief visit to the luxurious salon of Alfrandri Inc. before train time. Mr. Alfrandri often comes to Huntingdon for the fishing.

The Fashion Week Beat

The leg work for the girls on the Montreal dailies was terrific. Meeting them at three or four different affairs you wondered how they got time to send in reports. Helen (Herald) Murphy was dashing about, but coming out with special daily stories. Must have been by taxi and television!

The Debutante Set

After the theatre on Thursday, by coincidence we had a spotlight view on the ultimate destination for much of the week's fashion frenzy. A dinner party at Normandie Roof and coming-out dance in Brittany Room by Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Miron for daughter Giselle and a hundred young friends. The Teen Age girls were in ankle length dresses and none of the escorts wore formal clothes. Mrs. Miron was dressed in a gown of black sequin trimmed lace, matching hat with ostrich trim, orchid corsage. Miss Giselle Miron wore an emerald green satin strapless costume with narrow draped skirt.

Mr. and Mrs. Miron invited a number of guests to the Tabourin Night Club where there was an entertaining programme. Billy Munro was at the piano and sang his own famous song — "When My Baby Smiles at Me". Motion picture with this title and theme song opened this week at Roxy Theatre, New York, starring Betty Grable, and also theme of Fred Allen on Sunday night.

Enterprising Quebecers

Adrien Miron and friend Gaston (The Moose) Laurin are successful business men deeply conscious of the profitable opportunities during this period of Quebec expansion. Both have had recent contact with Huntingdon. Mr. Miron, manufacturer of cement block, supplied the material for the new Huntingdon Theatre. The transport truck with novel unloading machinery was supplied by Gaston Laurin. President of Laurin Equipment Inc., Mr. Miron's plant is completely mechanized, producing 50,000 blocks daily. The Mirons are leaving for Paris in January and will tour Europe by motor car.

Ormstown High School Dance Successful Event

ORMSTOWN — On Friday evening, November 26, a well organized and successful dance was held in the Assembly Hall of Ormstown High School. The guests, on their arrival, were received by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McGerrigle, Miss Patricia Lawrence and Mr. Harley Parkinson. They then made their way to the Assembly Hall, which was most effectively decorated as "The Enchanted Forest". The Quadrille Room was also suitably decorated with various colours of crepe paper streamers and music was provided for the Quadrilles by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reid and Mr. Horace Paxton.

Chairmen and committees were most efficient in their arrangements and much cedit is due Miss Helen Greer, who was chairman of the event. Her committees consisted of:

Decoration — Audrey Weale, Chairman; Drummond Elliott, Harley Parkinson, Florence McDougall, Miss Tomlinson, Miss Page, Mrs. Hooker, Mr. Winter.

Refreshments — Carolyn Taylor, Chairman; Bobby McClenaghan, Miss Cumming, Miss Phillips.

Programs — Dorothy McCaig, Chairman; Roberta Rember, Miss Crook.

Invitations — Patsy Lawrence, Chairman; Mrs. Lindsay.

Cloak rooms — Margaret Dickson, Chairman; Mrs. Barrington.

Posters — Florence Dixon, Chairman, Miss Proctor.

It is believed that about 600 persons attended this annual event and the total proceeds amounted to about $450.

Attends Annual Meeting

Dr. H. R. Clouston attended the annual meeting of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in Ottawa, on Friday and Saturday. Dr. Clouston is a Fellow Member of the R.C.P.S. and makes it a point to attend these annual meetings, for at these gatherings it is the big men in the profession who are present and bring forth topics that are to be advanced in the profession. The Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of Health, addressed the banquet held on Saturday evening. Upwards of 400 people were present. Hon. Mr. Martin outlined the procedure the Federal Government intends to follow in regard to the distribution of the $31 million that is to be spent for the betterment of health in Canada. The money is to be spent in co-operation with the provinces, dollar for dollar, in the way of building hospitals, sanitariums, etc.

Rotarians and Wives Dine

Tracy S. Luddington, commentator for the Northern Electric Company, filled with wit and humor, poured it out on Monday evening at a meeting of the Rotary Club members and their Rotary Anns. Mr. Luddington has for 22 years divided his years working on weekly and daily newspapers, radio and public relations work. Throughout his years he has accumulated a great back log of humorous incidents. His description of reporting the Glengarry County Election of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in behalf of the Montreal Gazette, had the audience in stitches of laughter. The assembled gathering was given a picture of the humorous side of newspaper reporting. The speaker said he really did not like radio work for it seemed to him like 85% confusion and 15% commission, whilst in newspaper work you could always check and double check and see the avenue of progress and accomplishment.

A drawing took place amongst those present for a huge Christmas Stocking. The stocking was upwards of 5 feet long and fully two feet in circumference and filled with the kind of things little children would enjoy. Mrs. C. J. Kyle was awarded the stocking.

She wore a white fur coat and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. Camille Turcot.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the well-known Le Clicquot Club at St. Remi, where the bridal table was centered with the wedding cake, and adorned with roses.

The newlyweds left later for their wedding trip to Quebec City and Ste. Anne de Beaupré. For travelling the bride wore a light gray fur collared coat over a blue stone crepe dress, with blue stone hat trimmed with gray feathers and gray accessories.

St. Agnes W.A. Start Organ Fund

STE. AGNES — The Women's Association of Zion United Church met on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 24th, at the home of Mrs. William Fleming, with an attendance of 14 members and 2 visitors. The president, Mrs. Ella McNicol, led the devotional period. The secretary-treasurer gave a very encouraging report on the year's activities, which showed that the ladies had a creditable sum in their account. Much discussion took place about purchasing needed articles for the church kitchen. It was also decided that a donation be made to the managers. The question of an "organ fund" was brought up, and the members thought it advisable to donate the sum of $20. towards the fund, as a beginning. This sum will be put in a "trust" fund with the vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Fleming, and the assistant secretary, Mrs. Norman McPhee, to look after the fund, and any future donations towards it which may be forthcoming.

Down Our Alley

Some interesting highlights were provided in the past week's bowling matches. Probably the biggest upset was the way the Gleaner Girls turned back the powerful Nighthawks, taking four points from them. Up to now these two teams have been tied for first position, but Gleaner now enjoys a comfortable four-point margin. Gladys Renaud, of Gleaner, took single honours with 251 and the high triple of 658. The high single of 309 set by Helen Whittall of Nighthawks one week ago stands unequalled.

Oscar Perras of Belle Vallee Dairy reached a new high single mark when he bowled 353. A guess is that this score stands for a few bowling weeks. Oscar also bowled 780 for high triple. High team score of the week went to Riel Bros., 3024.

League standing may be found on the blackboards in the Alleys. The top teams dominating the different Leagues are Gleaner, Riverside Apartments, Ideal Cafe and Riel Bros. A few of these top teams are coming together this week, so standings may easily be altered by next week.

News and Views

By KITTY

BEAUHARNOIS—Hi folks . . . something different has been added this week. Last Wednesday your reporter was fortunate enough to have the pleasure of attending the Montreal Fashion Guild's Spring Fashion Preview for 1949 at His Majesty's Theatre. The show, under the able direction of Arnold G. Evans, was magnificent. Set in two scenes, the wonderful new styles were a joy to see. The first scene took place in a Fashion Salon and showed the bride-elect selecting a trousseau. Though how anyone could choose from all the stunning creations is beyond me! Here we saw coats, suits, daytime dresses, evening gowns, sportswear and rainwear to delight even the most discriminating woman. The second scene was laid at the bride's home during the wedding reception where the charming guests displayed to advantage cocktail dresses, dressy afternoon frocks, and stunning dressmaker suits. All costumes were complemented by beautiful hats, shoes and other accessories. Something that really caught our eye was the darling little spats, worn with the raincoats and made of matching material. They were definitely new and different . . . After seeing such an array of breathtaking clothes it is difficult to single out any one creation or to describe every costume in detail. We liked Frenchshire's after-five ankle length dress with black double chiffon skirt and bodice of fine chantilly lace, appliqued over white chiffon. This was beautifully modelled by Sylvia Goltman, who looks like a dream walking, herself. Another headliner was Lawrence Sperber's black taffeta evening gown with very low decoltage and featuring the Christian Dior winged lined. Blond Rosemary Massey showed this dress to perfection. . . Breathtaking was Iseman's midnight black taffeta dress with Elizabethan collar and billowing skirt with shirred band: Torchin's bolero dress of mink iridescent taffeta; Novak's red barathea suit in Dior's winged silhouette: Jack Liebman's "Sorcery", an afternoon dress of almond and black checked taffeta with a matching stole. Stoles, by the way, are very much in appearance and très chic! You can wear them so many different ways. I could go on and on mentioning the stunning suits by H. Levy, the adorable rain and sport togs by Alvinna, Sport Togs and Fairway Sportswear, the eye-catching coats by Mayfair Inc. and so on ad infinitum. However, I might say that Montreal and Canada can be very proud of their fashions and, judging from the appreciative audience at the Fashion show, everybody is. Women are in for an exciting spring with the dreamy creations in store for us . . and that's all folks!

Cars Collide on St. Louis Road Two Persons Seriously Hurt

BEAUHARNOIS — On Saturday night, Nov. 27th, around 10:45, on St. Louis Road, two cars met head-on, and tangled with a third car, which was parked on the side of the road. The one car which was on the way to Ste. Etienne contained four people from Valleyfield, two ladies and two men. The car coming into Beauharnois contained two Beauharnois men, Laurent Hebert, and Mr. Rouleau. The drivers of the cars were Mr. Leblanc, of Valleyfield, and Mr. Hebert.

The occupants of the car were quickly moved and carried into Mrs. Robert Tait's house, on St. Louis Road, and two doctors were called to render first aid.

The most seriously injured was Mr. Rouleau, whose face was very badly lacerated, as was one side of his head. The other person seriously injured was a young lad who was in the back seat of the other car, and received head injuries and a fractured leg in two places. The other occupants were badly cut about their faces and necks, and suffered severe shock.

The doctors, Dr. Bonhomme and Dr. Marchand, and Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Manfred Price, worked most efficiently and made it possible to remove the two most seriously injured men to Valleyfield Hospital by ambulance.

Beauharnois is proud of Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Price for the timely aid, rendered prior to the doctors' arrivals, and your reporter has viewed the state of Mrs. Tate's house, which bears witness to the severity of the accident, and the nerve required to the sanguinary conditions under which first aid was accomplished.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

The Barren Lands Produce New Wealth

NEW MINES, new power dams — whole new communities — are rising where only yesterday was nothing but a waste of rocks, water and trees and frozen tundra. Today Canada has a new empire in the wilderness.

The development of our one-time wastelands is one of the most significant phases of Canada's modern advance. Every Canadian is benefitting from that expansion. Today we live in a greater Canada — far greater than we ever knew before — a land of new and exciting opportunities for those commencing their careers today.

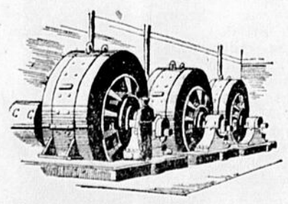
WAR-CREATED transportation facilities — by road and air — have opened up a hundred thousand square miles of the northwest, making accessible, for the first time, vast resources of farmland, forests, coal and power sites.

AT STEEP ROCK the wartime development of one of the richest bodies of iron ore on the continent has given us a new, long-sought primary industry . . . Today under the caribou moss of Ungava vast new areas of high-grade iron ore are now being actively explored.



WHERE BEFORE the war was a roadless Quebec wilderness, Shipshaw is now producing more than a million horsepower of electrical energy . . . At Yellowknife on Great Slave Lake, rich gold-bearing ores are being developed . . . From Great Bear Lake near the Arctic Circle comes precious radium . . .

NEW . . . OPPORTUNITIES

JOHN ADASKIN, son of an immigrant woodworker, developed his talents as a musician to win a distinguished place in Canadian radio. He became CBC's senior program producer; now has his own Productions company in Toronto; has produced over 4,000 radio shows, including some of the most popular on the Canadian air; is Master of Ceremonies and musical conductor on the national talent show "Opportunity Knocks".

JOHN ADASKIN says: "I have never regretted a career in Canada. Today — more than ever before — new fields and opportunities are opening up for young Canadians. As business in general expands, as the arts gain wider recognition, it's certain that opportunity will continue to knock harder and more often for the talent of this country."

Induction Service at Rennie United Church For Rev. Davis

BROOKLET — The Rennie United Church was the scene of a very solemn and impressive service Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28th, when the Rev. Ernest Davis was inducted as pastor of the Franklin Centre charge.

The Rev. C. Leslie Taylor, of Ormstown, Chairman of the Montreal Presbytery, presided and introduced the other speakers. The Rev. R. DeWitt Scott, secretary of the Montreal Presbytery, read the lesson from I Corinthians, chap. 12, and Rev. A. E. Hagar, of Dundee, led in prayer.

Rev. J. H. Lynn, of Valleyfield, gave the charge to the people and also to the minister, taking as his text I Corinthians, chap. 15, verse 58, "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord". His address was both inspiring and instructive and set forth the duties and responsibilities of pastor and congregation alike. This was clearly expressed in these words, "The gospel is preached not only from the pulpit but in the pews.

Rev. T. Knowles, of Huntingdon, after giving a brief resumé of the steps leading up to his arrival here, presented Rev. Davis for induction. Rev. Taylor read the induction service and Rev. Davis pronounced the Benediction.

Fire Destroys Buildings at Late Wm. Wylie Farm

HOWICK — At noon on Sunday fire destroyed the buildings on the farm known as the Estate of the late Wm. Wylie, on Chateauguay River. Smoke was seen from across the river by a neighbor, Mr. Allister McArthur, who at once gave the alarm, but on the arrival of the fire engine, the fire had made such headway, nothing could be saved, as the flames seemed to break out all over the buildings in a few minutes. Some implements, oats and straw were burnt, the wind was in such a direction to carry the smoke and flames past the house. No one has been living on the farm for some time; cause of fire is unknown.

Personals

Fruits of Communism

A second generation of Russian workers now is "enjoying" the fruits of Communism.

In this country, we expect that each generation will have conditions a little better than its predecessors. Is there any evidence that the ordinary worker is any better off in Russia than he was under the Czars? There are many indications that he is not.

In June of this year workmen on the North American continent laboured, on the average, 8 to 11 hours to earn $10. Their British cousins, in the same month, worked 19 hours to acquire enough pounds, shillings and pence to buy what $10 would purchase over here.

Russian workers, in June, toiled 81 hours to earn rubles equal to a Canadian $10 bill.

Special Service in Memory of Isaac Watts

ATHELSTAN — A special service of Divine Worship commemorating the 200th anniversary of the death of Isaac Watts, the great hymn writer, was observed at the afternoon United Church service, when a programme of many of his beautiful hymns was followed; this programme had been prepared for the Hymn Society of America by Rev. Phillip S. Watters, for use at church services and community gatherings. Rev. W. W. Conrad, is his splendid address, touched on many phases of Watt's life. This observance should be welcomed by all those interested in the music and worship of the church as an opportunity to honor a great figure and to emphasize the significant contribution of sacred music to our life today. Though Watts was eminent in his day as preacher, theologian and educator, he is best known as a writer of hymns and of metrical versions of the Psalms. He has been called the father of modern hymnody, and many of his hymns and psalms are loved and sung today everywhere.

The parts, none weighing more than one ton, will be seaborne to Calcutta, entrained to Darjeeling and then taken 390 miles by yak and mule to "the top of the world", for Lhasa is 12,000 feet above sea level. The gears, when set up, will control the output from three sets or turbines which will supply Lhasa with electric light.

An artist who was spending a holiday in a small village entered the store and asked if they kept camel's hair brushes.

"No, sir, we don't," the shopkeeper replied. "Y'see, sir," he added apologetically, "We never have no call for 'em. Nobody in these parts seems to keep camels."

United Church Bazaar

HEMMINGFORD — The annual United Church Bazaar was held in the Church Hall, Saturday, Nov. 26th. There were tables of home cooking, aprons, linen, knitted articles, and various things suitable for Christmas gifts, as well as a "surprise" table. Tea was served during the afternoon.

The nice weather brought out a good crowd and the tables were soon cleared. Around $200.00 was realized.

The community was greatly saddened on Saturday morning when the news was received that Mrs. M. Scott had passed away at the Royal Victoria Hospital. Although in poor health for the past few months, her death came as a great shock to all who knew her. Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, from Armstrong Funeral Parlours, in Montreal. To her sorrowing daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jackson, sympathy is extended.

Miss Viola Brown spent the week-end in Montreal with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Brown.

Mrs. R. L. Hauver and son Bobby spent Saturday in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hadley and Mrs. Stephen Hadley spent Monday in St. Johns.

Members who attended the meeting of Montreal Chapter, No. 20, O.E.S. in honour of Mrs. Bessie McFarlane, who has just recently been elected to Grand Chapter included: Mr. James Akester, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hauver, Mrs. Henry Paré, Mrs. Henry Stewart and Mrs. Aylmer Hadley.

During the mild weather of the past week, Mrs. H. E. Barrington found six big dandelions growing in her back yard. This is not a very common occurrence for the end of November.

Mrs. John Glass has been spending a few days with Mrs. John Ferns.

Miss Mary Ellerton, of Albany, N.Y., spent a few days the past week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ellerton and family.

Mrs. Walter Sample and daughter, Miss Evelyn Sample of Plattsburg, N.Y., spent several days here visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Macdonald and two children Ian and Marilyn, of Verdun, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Hadley and family.

At The Movies

SHOWING AT O'CONNOR THEATRE "THE EXILE" on Dec. 5-6

By now the intention of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., to preserve for his generation the filmic tradition established so securely by his late father is so well known that his name on a marquee is a signal to the fans for swashbuckling and deering-do that their preferred type of entertainment is on display. It would seem to follow that the audiences which turn out for Fairbanks' films are precisely the audiences for which they are fashioned. This time out, Mr. Fairbanks, producing and writing the picture as well as starring in it, observes all the standards set by his father in the middle years of his lustrous career.

Mr. Fairbanks portrays with considerable charm and no end of physical endurance England's Charles II during the monarch's exile in Holland. He and his faithful followers, hiding out from death at the hands of the Round Heads, live by their wits (it's 1660) in the land of tulips, until Charles is summoned back to his throne. Before this happens Charles hires out to a blond farmerette, nicely played by newcomer Paule Croset, with whom he falls in love and from whom he parts, at picture's end, in grief.

Meanwhile, he has adventured valorously and variously, eluding pursuers by enterprise and agility of characteristic kind, inclusive of riding the blades of a Dutch windmill and besting at swords a political adversary commissioned to dispatch him. Direction by Max Opuls is first rate, and the picture is filmed in sepia for purposes of glamour.

Also available for the marquee is the name of Maria Montez, who is accorded top billing by virtue of contractual requirement, although she's in the picture only briefly and most of her French accented dialogue eludes comprehension.

Out of curiosity, a farmer had grown a crop of flax and had a tablecloth made out of the linen. Some time later he bragged about it to a woman guest at dinner.

"I grew this tablecloth myself," he said.

"Did you really?" she exclaimed. "How did you ever manage it?"

It was plain she had no idea of how tablecloths came into being, so he lowered his voice mysteriously as he replied, "If you promise not to give the secret away, I'll tell you."

The guest promised.

"Well," proceeded the farmer, "I planted a napkin."

Specially Written for THE HUNTINGDON GLEANER by LLOYD McDONALD

A world which only a few days previously had hailed with wild rejoicing the birth of a son to Princess Elizabeth was shocked to learn of the illness of the King.

The announcement from Buckingham Palace disclosing that His Majesty was suffering from a circulatory ailment in his right leg set off a wave of sympathy throughout the world — and especially in the "down-under" Dominions of Australia and New Zealand.

The two Dominions were in the throes of preparation for the Royal tour which had been scheduled to start in January. But the King's illness caused an indefinite postponement.

Comparable to Canada in the spring of 1939 was the picture in Australia and New Zealand before reports of the King's illness were issued. Just as Canada turned herself inside out before the war in preparation for the first Royal visit, Australia and New Zealand had gone ahead with countless arrangements for the tour.

Lloyd's of London found the postponement costly. Many Australians and New Zealanders had put forward large sums of money in connection with the tour and its attendant crowds and celebrations. So they insured themselves with the famed London firm against any eventuality which might stand in the way of the trip, and Lloyd's paid out thousands of pounds.

The King's physicians blamed His Majesty's unsparing efforts in the last trying decade for his condition. His official duties, the announcement said, had "lessened his resistance to physical fatigue."

They emphasized at the same time that the King's general health gave no concern. But the 52-year-old sovereign must take life much easier from now on. He will fill no public engagements for at least six months, although a few days after his illness was made known he officiated at a privy council in Buckingham Palace.

The British medical journal, Lancet, said the King may have to lead a quiet life for the rest of his days.

"Yet there is good hope," Lancet went on, "That, provided the acute phase yields to rest and treatment, it will be followed by a return of health and strength; though possibly, like so many of his subjects at the same age, the King will have to purchase continuing health at the cost of his more strenuous activities."

And the people of his realm would count such a cost light for the health of their sovereign.

A new European state was born when Eire voted itself out of the Commonwealth and became the Republic of Ireland. Second reading of the Republic of Ireland bill came at the end of a three-day debate in the Dail (Irish Parliament), and the bill was adopted unanimously.

The bill may be altered in detail by committee or in the third reading, but the main principle has been approved. The bill repeals the External Relations Act of 1936; under which Eire's trade treaties were approved and her foreign envoys appointed in the name of the British Crown.

Passing of the measure marks the first time in history that a republic of Ireland has been recognized by the Commonwealth. The new state has a Gaelic name as well as an English description. In language of old Ireland it will be known as Poblacht Na He Eireann.

Sean McBride, external affairs minister, said the bill fullfils four major purposes: It raises the question and definition of Eire's national status; it realizes the ideal of national sovereignty and assures national unity; it removes the source of Anglo-Irish friction, thus improving the likelihood of ending the partition of Ireland; and it renders the relationships with Commonwealth countries "more normal."

McBride expressed his thanks for the "tremendous help and assistance" given by the Canadian prime minister, Mr. Louis St. Laurent and L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, during the recent Commonwealth discussion on Eire's forthcoming change in national status.

The deputy-premier, Mr. Norton, congratulated Canada and other Commonwealth countries on "statesmanship" which does them credit" in preparing to recognize the Irish Republic.

The new republic consists of 26 of the 32 counties of Ireland. The remaining six counties, which remain part of the United Kingdom, are variously called Northern Ireland and Ulster.

The governments of Britain, Australia and India have announced that they will not treat the republic as a foreign country or its citizens as aliens.

Sun Fo, son of the founder of the Chinese Republic, became premier of the uneasy Chinese government as Communist armies edged closer to the Yangtze River barrier guarding Nanking, arsenal city of the government.

Appointment of the son of Yat-Sen to the premiership was considered by some observers to be the first step in the creation of a "war cabinet" to meet the serious military situation in China.

Other sources, however, said Sun took the job because President Chiang Kai-Shek could not find anyone else for the post. Sun Fo has been president of the legislative Yuan (parliament) since 1932. He has some support from the rightist parties, but is not generally considered a "strong man."

The Yuan voted to send an appeal to the United States Congress for economic and military aid against the advancing Communist armies it described as the instruments of an "international aggressive bloc."

Meanwhile the war front shifted south to the Suhsien-Lingpi area about 150 miles south of Nanking. Government dispatches said both sides were bringing up troops for a major battle, the outcome of which could determine control of the entire northern Yangtze region.

In Washington, President Truman declined a proposal that Chiang Kai-Shek be invited to the United States to give a first-hand account of the situation. The suggestion was put forward by Sol Bloom, Democratic representative from New York, who will be chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee in the new Congress.

Mr. Truman said he "didn't see how Chiang could leave China at this time. The State Department earlier announced that Mme Chiang, the Generalissimo's wife, was planning a visit to the United States.

Recipes

APPLES — THE FINEST FRUIT

Apples are in season all year round, but from November to April they are the standby of the homemaker.

There are varieties to suit every need. Some are best when eaten raw, others bake well; while there are many varieties that are soft and very tender but keep their shape when cooked and therefore are best for puddings and pie. A few varieties break up and become light and fluffy and make excellent apple sauce.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, have some hints for using apples.

Cook apples for sauce in a saucepan with tightly fitting cover and cook quickly to avoid loss of colour and flavour.

Use spices sparingly with apples to bring out the natural flavour, not to disguise it.

A little salt often improves the flavour and sweetness of cooked apples.

Apple sauce icing is delicious and easily made:- ½ cup applesauce and 1½ cups icing sugar will make enough icing for an 8" x 8" cake. This is specially good on spice cake.

Cream cheese and grated raw apples in equal quantities make a delicious sandwich spread. Equal quantities of applesauce and peanut butter also make a good spread.

½ cup of grated raw apple added to 1 cup mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing makes a new type of dressing for vegetable or fruit salads.

An apple in the bread box helps to keep the bread fresh.

Then there are hundreds of good recipes using apples.

HUNGARIAN APPLE PUDDING

4 large sour apples
3 tablespoons fruit juice
1 cup fine, soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter
2 egg yolks
1/3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
3 tablespoons sugar

Pare and grate apples. Add fruit juice and blend. Add bread crumbs. Cream butter, add egg yolks, sugar and salt and beat thoroughly. Add to first mixture and combine well. Beat egg whites until light, add remaining sugar gradually, beating until mixture will hold in peaks. Fold into first mixture and turn into lightly-greased baking dish. Oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350oF., for 1 hour. Serve with Hard Sauce. Yield: six servings.

APPLE MERINGUE SAUCE

2 egg whites
½ cup sugar
1½ grated raw apple (unpeeled)
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Beat egg whites stiffly. Add sugar and continue beating until mixture stands in peaks. Fold in grated apple and lemon juice. Yield: six servings. Use on pumpkin pie, gingerbread or chocolate cake.

APPLESAUCE PUDDING

3 cups sweetened applesauce
2 egg yolks
1/3 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¾ teaspoon vanilla
4 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons brown sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Place applesauce in a bowl. Beat egg yolks, add lemon rind and the ¾ teaspoon vanilla. Add to applesauce. Place mixture in a baking dish. Set dish in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a very slow oven 300oF., for 15 minutes. Make a meringue of the egg whites, salt, sugar and the half teaspoon of vanilla. Heap on the apple mixture, return to oven and bake ten minutes longer. Serve hot or very cold with cream. Yield: six servings.

Chateauguay Valley Farm Forums

AUBREY'S CORNER GROUP

On Monday, Nov. 22, Aubrey's Corners Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Platt. There were 16 members present.

As it was the fourth night of the first series, there was no discussion. After listening to the broadcast, games were played. Refreshments were served by the hostess after which the meeting adjourned.

-o-

On Monday, Nov. 29th, Aubrey's Corners Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hewson. There was a large attendance of members.

After listening to the broadcast, the topic, "I See by the Paper" was discussed at some length. There was no dissension. Everyone agreed that there was no daily paper which catered to the interests of farmers in this area. One weekly paper serves the purpose of farmers to a certain extent. However, it was felt that a more favorable presentation of our problems might not be amiss.

The meeting adjourned with cards and refreshments.

-o-

BEAVER GROUP

On Monday evening, Nov. 29, the Beaver Farm Forum Group were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Harold MacDonald with an attendance of 19.

Mr. Walter Sutherland, leader, ably led the discussion on the topic "I See by the Paper". It was gentrally agreed that the Daily and Weekly papers should print more farm news.

More advertising on farmers' problems should be put in the co-operative organizations and privately owned farm papers.

We feel the Ottawa Farm Journal has the best reporters on farm news.

"500" and crokinole were enjoyed during the recreational period. Prize winners in "500" were Mrs. Myrtle Sutherland and Mr. James Arnold; Crokinole: Mr. Ernest Watterson.

The host and hostess served delicious refreshments.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Leslie.

-o-

RIDGE ROAD GROUP

The Ridge Road Farm Forum at Athelstan, held its weekly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorais, on Monday evening, Nov. 99. Much interest was taken in the topic, "I See by the Paper." Those present expressed their views that all newspapers did not devote enough space to Farmers' Problems. There was also discussion regarding the Quebec Hospital Service Association.

Games were played for a short while after which refreshments were enjoyed by all.

-o-

LOWER TULLOCHGORUM GROUP

During the month of November meetings were held at the home of H. Cameron, L. West and D. Ness. The general opinion was that this series had been more interesting than some of the others. We hope a lively discussion on, "The Farmer Takes a Wife", encouraged some of the local bachelors. All agreed that a good wife was invaluable to a farmer, not only as a cook and housewife, but as a real companion, to enjoy good times, and encourage, and help him through difficult times.

The following meetings concerning father and son agreements should be carefully considered by many of our members. Lack of a harmonious arrangement is one good reason why our sons leave the farms, or remain, unwillingly.

The fourth meeting was a joint one and held at Brysonville. Some of our members attended.

Last year our forum worked on a health project suggested by Dr. Stalker. This project was finally accomplished on Monday, Nov. 29, when 24 people were either fluroscoped or X-rayed for T.B. The clinic was held in Howick United Church and arranged by Miss Bustard, R.N. Dr. Poupart from Montreal was the attending physician During the examination, held in a dark room, the doctor wears a heavy apron of some composition which protects him from continuous exposure to rays. Clinics cannot be held every day by the same doctor or he would soon be ill himself. Dr. Poupart has had several months off duty, the reason why this clinic has been delayed. Those attending were most appreciative. Half the cost of the clinics is covered by the money received from the annual sale of Christmas Seals, so we hope our forum members buy liberally. The government pays the other half.

Another clinic will be held if sufficient interest is shown.

-o-

FERTILE CREEK GROUP

The Fertile Creek Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peddie with 22 members present.

After listening to the broadcast "I see by the Paper", an interesting discussion followed. The group felt that our daily papers were too expensive for our present income, but if the daily papers would advertise our farm products at a cheaper rate, we would have a greater income and more able to afford the daily papers. Cards were played and delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Peddie.

-o-

RIVERFIELD FARM FORUM

The Riverfield Farm Forum group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gruer on Monday evening to listen to the broadcast "I See by the Paper".

After discussing the topic, progressive euchre was played, the winners being Mrs. Ronald Reddick and Mr. James Angell, while the consolations went to Mrs. Arnold McKell and Mrs. James Orr. Delicious refreshments were then served by the hostess.

-o-

ALLAN'S CORNERS GROUP

The Allan's Corners Farm Forum Group met at the home of Mr. Cameron Bryson, on Monday evening, Nov. 29th. There were 32 members and friends present. The radio broadcast was listened to, the subject being, "I See by the Paper." The Green Leaf was read.

Mr. George Rutherford moved that Mr. John Cullen be elected the County Councillor representative, and Mr. George Hope seconded the motion.

Following the discussion, cards were played and a social hour was enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were then served.

-o-

McINTOSH CORNER GROUP

The McIntosh Corner Group of the Farm Forum held its weekly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blair on Monday evening, Nov. 29th, with an attendance of 22 members and visitors.

The broadcast was listened to and discussed. The general opinion being that daily papers were too high in price for the average farmer also did not contain enough material of interest to the rural population. The weekly papers also lack enough farm material, while farm papers were as a rule satisfactory.

Plans were made for a card party to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Barr on Thursday evening of this week.

"500" was played during recreation period. Refreshments were served by the hostess and members. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Simpson.

-o-

O'NEIL'S GROUP

O'Neil's Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Thurston with 32 members present. After listening to the broadcast, the usual discussion took place and everyone present thought that our local weekly newspaper was a first class paper for everyone, including the farmers, but most of the other papers could improve on their farm news. After the discussion cards were played and dancing was enjoyed by everyone. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Leo Curran.

dorsed what Owen Ness had said and expressed their united thanks to the Ayrshire Club and the Leaders for persuading them to get into the 1948 competition. We visited herds and got advice from many quarters but the last day was the top notcher when we visited Burnside and Gerald Roy's herd. Arch. Roy and our Uncles gave us a great going over when seeing these herds and I might also say their herds and individuals also got quite a goingover. (laughter).

MR. ALEX. MacLAREN, Ottawa, who is in charge of the Junior Judging competitions in Canada, presented certificates to five Leaders who had accorded services over a period of five years or more. The recipients of the certificates were Douglas Ness, who is known as the father of Club Leaders in Quebec, as he has accorded such a service continuously for 15 years, George Collum, Robert J. Roy, Carlyle Dickson and A. H. Crutchfield also received certificates.

P. N. APRIL, Ste-Martine. The most important education received by such Junior Judges as Owen and Robert Ness is at home. That is indeed the real key to their success. After such a foundation it is necessary to go to college, but no college can replace the knowledge gained within the family circle.

D. E. BLACK, M.P. Congratulated the farmers upon what they had done during and since the war for the welfare of agriculture in Canada. It is an era of prosperity for farmers, and those present who are not farmers perhaps wish they were. 1947 saw 36,600 head of cattle exported and so far this year the export total as of Nov. 25 was 99,911 head. Prosperity in Canada will continue as long as we are able to hold our heads and if the same is done in Europe. Mr. Black concluded his brief remarks through offering words of congratulation to Owen and Robert Ness, Jr.

MR. ARTHUR LABERGE, M.L.A. Extended words of congratulation and wished the Club all success in its endeavours. He assured all that he as a public servant would be pleased to accord aid when and where desired if within his power to do so.

MR. DOUGLAS NESS, thanked Captain Douglas for his address relative to Trade and Export of cattle. At the same time Mr. Ness introduced a number of American visitors who were present.

President C. E. Dahms, President of the Holstein Club and Howard Fraser, President of the Jersey Club were also present. During the course of the evening Marjorie and Margaret Ness and Mr. Robert Roy sang. Mr. Ivan Heath assisted the meeting through officiating as pianist.
