GENERAL TAX RATES HOISTED TO FINANCE WAR

Budget Provides For Record Call From Canadians

Imposition of Federal Gasoline Tax, Invasion of Succession Duties Field and Sharp Increase in Individual and Corporation Income Taxes Highlights of Federal Budget—Urge Provinces to Quit Income Tax Fields.

By FRANK FLAHERTY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Ottawa, April 30.—The highest federal taxes in Canadian history were in effect today.

The 1941 budget speech, delivered in the House of Commons by Finance Minister Isley yesterday, announced new and increased imposts designed to draw money from private citizens in all activities of life into the Treasury to finance the war for freedom.

If a Canadian uses sugar he will pay an extra cent on that commodity, although the increase from one to two cents in sugar excise tax actually has been in effect since March 30 when Mr. Isley toasted the price one cent at refineries to curb speculative pre-budget buying.

If he earns more than $600 a year, if single, or $1,200 if married, he will pay more in his national defence tax. If he earns more than $750 a year if single or $1,500 if married with an allowance of $400 for each child, he will pay more in income tax.

If he goes to the movies he will pay twenty per cent on the value of his tickets.

If he drinks wine, beer or soft drinks he will pay additional imposts. If he travels he will pay a tax on his railway, bus or air fare.

If he drives his own car, plus an additional excise tax if he has to buy a new car.

If he uses the long distance telephone the tax on his toll will be higher.

If he builds a house he will pay sales tax on his building materials, hitherto exempt from that tax.

If he dies and leaves an estate his heirs will pay Dominion as well as Provincial tax.

A one-cent pound increase in the excise sugar tax also was announced but this will not affect the consumer since the price increase was ordered March 30 to forestall speculative pre-budget buying.

After hearing the budget address the House turned to consideration of the want of confidence motion on the Government's agriculture policy which has been before the Commons since before the Easter recess.

Victor Quelch (N.D. Acadia), suggested if the Government could not pay Prairie farmers more than seventy cents a bushel for wheat it should give them war savings certificates to bring the price up to a fair level.

But it was the budget rather than the regular debate which held main attention.

"The financial task of the Canadian people in this fiscal year is, by any precedent, colossal but it is, in no sense, impracticable," said Mr. Isley in grave tones as he ended

MOVIES AND RACING AIDING WAR EFFORT

Ottawa, April 30.—From movies and horse-racing the Dominion Treasury will collect more money.

Finance Minister Isley commented in his budget speech yesterday that large expenditures on moving picture entertainment were being made by Canadians. He said paid admissions of more than $34,000,000 were reported in 1939 and they were higher currently.

He said an excise tax of twenty per cent would be placed on receipts of movie theatres, and from this tax he expected to derive at least $8,000,000 in a full year and $7,300,000 in the present fiscal year.

POINTING WITH PRIDE
Fort Ouster, Mich., April 30.—(P)—When the cocks at this army camp point with pride, the chances are that they are gesturing toward Corporal Charles Russell. His weight increased from 140 to 223 pounds in twenty months.

UNITED STATES TAKES VITAL SHARE IN ATLANTIC PATROLS

United States Ships May Operate in Zone Declared by Germany to Be Under State of Siege as Result of Announcement by President Roosevelt that Craft Would Be Used Anywhere.

Washington, April 30.—(P)—Warships of the United States Navy, patrol bombers, and in all probability carrier-based aircraft, informed sources reported today, are already playing a vital role in patrolling the Atlantic.

This assertion was made after President Roosevelt's flat statement that United States naval vessels were not prohibited from entering combat zones by any executive order and that they would operate anywhere deemed necessary for Western Hemisphere defence.

Mr. Roosevelt, in telling this to his press conference yesterday, said that it did not mean that navy units are going into the European combat zone or that they would go in.

Nevertheless, apparently informed sources said it would be no surprise to them if the navy's patrol aircraft has been covering at least portions of area included in Germany's recent extension of her counter-bombardment zone westward.

They mentioned specifically that part of the counter-bombardment zone which stretches from Iceland almost to the coastal waters of Greenland, where the United States has acquired defence base privileges. This has been a danger area for British shipping.

The potential effectiveness of the whole far-flung surface and air patrol is so great, in the opinion of these sources, that it may make the convoy question a dead issue.

Two proposals aimed at preventing use of the navy for convoy duty came up for action today in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but administration forces were confident they had the majority to shelve both of them.

The fact that Chairman Walter George (Dem.-Georgia) has said he did not believe the President would institute convoys without first obtaining Congressional approval was interpreted in some quarters as an indication that such was expected from the wide-ranging defence patrol operations.

Mr. Roosevelt, in discussing the patrol yesterday, repeated time and again that there were no mileage limits for its activities. A little earlier Admiral Harold R. Stark, Chief of Naval Operations, had disclosed that at some points ships of the fleet were cruising as far as 2,000 miles offshore, but Mr. Roosevelt declined to commit himself to this limit, remarking that the 2,000-mile distance depended on where you measured from.

Evidence of Axis interest in the wide patrol system was not slow in forthcoming. Several hours after Mr. Roosevelt spoke, Koh Ishii, Director of the Official Board of Information at Tokyo, spoke of the

BRITISH TAKE HEAVY TOLL OF AXIS SHIPPING

Royal Air Force Sank 42,000 Tons of Coastal Shipping During Single Week, News Service States.

London, April 30.—(P)—Royal Air Force bombers operating in daylight sank or damaged 42,000 tons of Axis shipping off the German, Netherlands, French and Norwegian coasts during the week April 17-23, the Air Ministry News Service said today.

Most of the shipping, it said, was guarded by destroyers or other small warships.

"It is evident that with milder weather the Germans are easing the strain on their railways by coastal traffic," the Air Ministry said.

R.A.F. offensive patrols have made the Germans pay for using sea transport and have deprived them of some valuable supplies, the statement declared.

It cited as an example an incident on the morning of March 31 when one of these offensive patrols bombed two German oil tankers, each about 3,000 tons, moving westward off Le Havre.

DETERMINATIONS
Newark, N.J., April 30.—(P)—Clark Shotwell, 20, who ate 77 bananas in a week to gain poundage necessary to meet army physical regulations, was sworn in yesterday for service as an air corps mechanic.

Recruiting officers said the youth applied for ground duty April 14 but was told he was five pounds underweight. He began eating bananas.

SITUATION IN NORTH AFRICA IS UNCHANGED

Axis Forces Reported Attempting to Drive Through Desert Still Held Up by R.A.F. Planes.

Cairo, April 30.—(P)—Axis air attacks have been "repeatedly repulsed" by Royal Air Force planes flying "constant convoy patrols" over certain areas of the Mediterranean, the Royal Air Force Middle East command said today.

There was no further indication whether the war bulletin referring to the R.A.F. screening ships carrying Empire forces from Greece.

A communiqué from Middle East army headquarters said the withdrawal from Greece is "continuing

How The Proposed Tax Changes Affect Incomes Of Canadians

Ottawa, April 30.—(P)—Tables comparing present and proposed Dominion income tax rates, including National Defence Tax for single and married persons, presented to the House of Commons yesterday by Finance Minister Isley, follow:

500,000	382,555.00	411,720.00	356,423.00	400,408.00

In calculating the above taxes it has been assumed that all incomes up to $30,000 are entirely earned incomes, and that incomes of more than $30,000 include earned income of that amount and additional investment income to make up the total.

Soviet Ban On Transport Of War Material Indicates Intensified Strain On Relations With Reich

By GUY RHOADES
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Russia announced today it had banned transit across its territories of military supplies and machinery to manufacture arms when destined for foreign countries and the move was believed directed mainly against Germany.

The Soviets also declared transit of non-military materials for foreign countries would be subject to strict licence.

Some British circles purported to see in this move a mere "window-dressing" gesture, but the announcement was followed within a few hours by publication of reports that German transports had landed 15,000 troops and mechanized equipment at Turku (Abo) Southern Finland, on April 26.

Disclosure of the German troop movements came from the newspaper Pravda in Moscow. It was countered by a German assertion that the action represented transfer of forces to Norway via Finland-Germans insisted such transfers had been effected on numerous previous occasions, but whether or not this was true it was considered significant that today's Pravda story contained the first mention of such movements.

Persons acquainted with Russia's transportation system said it was in such rocky conditions that transshipments of goods via Siberia to Germany could not amount to much. Nevertheless it was recalled that British authorities in the past had charged there was a blockade leak in shipments of goods by Japan and Russia to Germany.

It was said Russia had imported far more than normal requirements of some classes of goods of military value and in the meantime had shipped to Germany similar goods of her own making.

If the German troop movement was designed merely to take replacements to the Norwegian garrison there remained the question of why the new arrivals should take additional mechanical equipment with them.

NETHERLANDERS HONOR BIRTHDAY OF CROWN PRINCESS JULIANA

London, April 30.—(CP-Cable)—Loyal Netherlands exiles from their country celebrated the 32nd birthday of Crown Princess Juliana today by wearing flowers. The best wishes of the Board of Admiralty, of the British Navy, and of the Royal Netherlands Navy were cabled to the Princess in Canada.

WAR BULLETINS

New York — The commanding officer of Singapore naval base was quoted by the British Broadcasting Corporation today as saying there was a "definite danger of invasion" in that area, according to a broadcast picked up here by the National Broadcasting Company.

The officer declared that defence efforts at Singapore, British Crown Colony, were going rapidly forward.

An Eastern Canadian Port — Two newly-completed corvettes, soon to bolster the navy's anti-submarine and patrol forces, were christened here yesterday in a brief religious ceremony conducted jointly by representatives of the Catholic and Protestant churches.

Berlin — A Nazi spokesman asserted today that "whether Mr. Roosevelt goes into the war zone or not it does not change our declaration nor its consequences."

The spokesman referred to a "categorical declaration months ago that whoever goes into the war zone (with aid for Britain) regardless of what flag his ship is flying will be torpedoed."

WARNS AGAINST UNDUE PLEDGES BY ROOSEVELT

California Utility Magnate Warns Against Pledging More Aid to Democracies Than Can Be Delivered.

Washington, April 30.—(P)—W. C. Mullendore, California utility executive, told the United States Chamber of Commerce today that the extent of aid now being promised by the United States to embattled nations throughout the world was "perilously near to being foolhardy."

He coupled this assertion with the admonition: "In saving others, let us not destroy ourselves."

Mullendore, in an address prepared for a session of the Chamber's annual convention, also declared that the United States already was "involved in a great world war which will subject us to sacrifices, pains and pressures far beyond anything which most of us now expect or imagine."

"It is incontrovertible that we have allied ourselves with the cause of the British Empire and that we have undertaken to do whatever may be found necessary to bring about the defeat of the Axis."

At the same time he charged that only by "specious reasoning and juggled facts" could advocates of the St. Lawrence Waterway development and "authorities to be modelled after the TVA" (Tennessee Valley Authority) seek to promote them as important adjuncts to defence.

On the subject of the "Aid-to-democracies" programme, he said: "One of our greatest perils in our present pursuit of missions

British Evacuation Of Balkans Requested By Greek National Chiefs

Greek Government Advised British Officials on April 21 to Withdraw Because "Further Sacrifice" Would Be in Vain—Barely 12,000 of 60,000 Britishers Sent to Aid Greece Still Unaccounted for.

GERMANS ESTABLISH PUPPET STATE TO HALT GREEK WAR

Berlin, April 30.—(P)—The Nazi commentary Dienst aus Deutschland claimed today that a new Greek Government had been formed and asserted this was viewed in Berlin as "the actual end of the war in Greece."

(Presumably the commentary referred to some sort of administration set up on the Greek mainland to co-operate with German forces of occupation. The lawful Greek Government is functioning from Crete.)

GERMAN ENVOY RETURNING TO MOSCOW

Moscow, April 30.—(P)—Count Friedrich von der Schulenberg, German ambassador to Moscow, is expected to return to Moscow today after consultations in Berlin. He left here the night of April 13 following conclusion of the Soviet-Japanese neutrality pact.

The Foreign Office News Department issued this translation of the Greek message to the British Government:

"The Greek Government, while expressing to the British Government and to the gallant Imperial troops their gratitude for the aid which they have extended to Greece in her defence against the unjust aggressor, are obliged to make the following statements:

"After having conducted for more than six months a victorious struggle against strongly superior enemy forces, the Greek army has now reached a state of exhaustion and moreover finds itself completely deprived of certain resources indispensable for the pursuit of war, such as munitions, motorized vehicles and air planes—resources with which it was in any case inadequately supplied from the outbreak of hostilities.

"This state of things makes it impossible for the Greeks to continue the struggle with any chance of success and deprives them of all hope of being able to lend some assistance to the valiant allies.

"At the same time in view of the importance of preserving the British contingents in view of the limited aviation at their disposal and in view of the extent of the front heroically defended by them, the Imperial forces have an absolute need for the assistance of the Greek army which they could not prolong their own resistance for more than a few days.

"In these conditions the continuation of the struggle, while incapable of producing any useful effect, would have no other result than to bring about the collapse of the Greek army and bloodshed useless to the Allied forces.

"Consequently the Royal Government is obliged to state that further sacrifices of the British Expeditionary Force would be in vain and that its withdrawal in time seems to be rendered necessary by circumstances

GERMANY AGAIN BLASTED WITH SUPER-BOMBS

Rhineland Industrial City of Mannheim Received Thousands of Fire-Bombs and Many High Explosives.

London, April 30.—(P)—Thousands of fire bombs and a large number of explosive missiles, including new super-bombs, were dropped on the German Rhineland city of Mannheim last night by the Royal Air Force, the Air Ministry announced today.

The Ministry described the new bombs simply as "some of the latest and more powerful type," saying that they and the showering incendiaries

Compromise Agreement On Seized Shipping May Free Large Tonnage

Washington, April 30.—(P)—Britain and the twenty-one American republics were reported near a compromise agreement today that would make possible the mutually advantageous use of some 100 foreign flag vessels, now idle refugees in Western Hemisphere ports.

In brief, it would enable Britain to acquire any "surplus" shipping that remained after Pan-American needs were met.

Forecasts that acceptance of such a working formula was imminent followed two conferences between Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador, and State Undersecretary Sumner Welles.

Under the compromise plan, it was reported in informed quarters, Britain will substitute a "realistic" attitude on the seized ship question for the previous "theoretical" position that the seized vessels were still subject to capture as enemy property if caught at sea.

The "realistic" approach calls for recognition of the right of the United States and other Western Hemisphere republics to seize foreign vessels immobilized by war and use them to "promote . . . the peace and security of the continent."

The American nations, on their part, would agree to negotiate for the sale or charter to Britain of London, April 30.—(P)—An authoritative source said today that 43,000 British and Empire troops have been removed from Greece "to carry on the war in other theatres."

There were approximately 3,000 casualties among British troops in the campaign, it was reported, and removal of the 43,000 thus left 12,000 of the total of 60,000 troops sent in to aid the Greeks still unaccounted for.

The Greek Government advised Britain on April 21 to withdraw her expeditionary force from Greece because "further sacrifice" would be in vain, it was disclosed today.

The Foreign Office News Department issued this translation of the Greek message to the British Government:

"The Greek Government, while expressing to the British Government and to the gallant Imperial troops their gratitude for the aid which they have extended to Greece in her defence against the unjust aggressor, are obliged to make the following statements:

WINDOW WASHER AT COATCOOK SUFFERS SHOCK

Grasps Electric Wire to Save Fall to Street While Working on Exterior of Restaurant—Injury Not Serious.

Coaticook, April 30.—J. Proven-cher, employee of a local restaurant, suffered a severe shock but fortunately escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon in an unusual accident which occurred as he was washing the windows of the restaurant.

At work on the outside of the building, Provencher slipped from the step-ladder on which he was standing, and to save himself from falling to the street grabbed an electric light wire with both hands, with the wet cloth he was using still in his grasp.

The electricity surged through his body, and he was unable to loosen his clutch on the wire. His cries for help brought his plight to notice and the current was turned off.
Fortunately the electricity was not strong enough to cause serious injury.

of Ontario, said trucking rates must be increased if the industry "is to survive" the new gasoline tax.

The twenty per cent tax on motion-picture entertainment was said by J. J. Fitzgibbons of Toronto,
Vice-President of Famous Players Canadian Corporation Ltd., to be "a complete surprise" in that it should be "such a high tax."

J. A. Hirsch of Montreal, President of Consolidated Theatres, said the motion-picture tax would "work a hardship" on movie-goers, but "looking at it in other ways, we are lucky to be open."

D. A. Patterson, Secretary-Treasurer of the Builders Exchange in Montreal, said the removal of building materials from exemption from the eight per cent sales tax would retard the building industry. John E. Clarke of Toronto, President of the Canadian Construction Association, said building likely would continue at the present rate.

H. C. James, General Passenger Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said the ten per cent tax on railway and airplane passenger tickets would have little effect on travel, basing his belief on the record of a similar tax on rail travel in the First Great War, when there was no falling-off of ticket sales.

Tobacco men across Canada seemed little concerned over the increase of tax on cigarette tubes from five to ten cents a hundred. A. Haltrich, proprietor of the Oriental Tobacco Company, said it was "a fair tax."
E. A. Thomas of Niagara Falls, Ont., said he hoped the increase of the tax on wines would apply equally to imported brands, stating wine-producers in Canada were "primarily interested" in preventing "any reduction" in the normal consumption of Canadian grapes.

NAZIS CLAIM MANY BRITISH CAPTURED

Berlin, April 30.—(AP)—The German high command asserted today that Nazi motorized forces in "sharp pursuit" of Allied forces in Greece have advanced to the Southern ports of Peloponnese, "cutting the British retreat to sea."

"In this action up to date," the communiqué said, "5,000 British, including one general, as well as numerous Serbs, among whom were four generals and an additional 300 officers, were taken prisoner."

(British confirmation of these claims is not available. It was announced in London today that 45,000 British and Imperial troops already have been safely landed after evacuating Greece.)

Drastic Restrictions

ly under the influence of alcoholic liquor."

Advertising would be restricted
by two clauses in the bill. One provides that it be forbidden "to represent that an alcoholic liquor is beneficial to health, or that it possesses nutritive or curative value," and the other prohibits advertising
"of any alcoholic liquor by means of signs or posters, unless they are placed within a building so as not to be visible from outside."

The hours during which liquor could be sold are made shorter. In place of the present system of selling liquor from eight in the morning until three the next morning, the bill provides for a 2 a.m. deadline in Montreal, a 1 a.m. close in Quebec, and a midnight close in other parts of the Province, with the 8 a.m. opening remaining unchanged.

As already reported the Province is divided into two sections for purposes of the Act. Section "A" means the Island of Montreal and the counties of Argenteuil, Bagot, Beauharnois, Berthier, Brome, Chateau-guay-Laprairie, Two Mountains, Gatineau, Hull, Huntingdon, Iberville, Jacques Cartier, Joliette, Labelle, L'Assomption, Laval, Maskin-onge, Missisquoi, Montcalm, Papineau, Pontiac, Richelieu-Vercheres, Shefford, St. Hyacinthe, St. Johns-Napierville, Terrebonne, The Rivers and Val-de-Fleur-Soulanges. Region "B" means the rest of the Province.

The division is important because no liquor permit is to be allowed outside of cities and towns in Section "B" unless the Q.L.C. is satisfied that such an hotel is needed for tourist travel.

GREAT PART OF TAX INCREASES NOW IN EFFECT

Majority of Changes Provided in Dominion Budget Yesterday Become Effective
April 30.

Ottawa, April 30.—(C)—Increased income tax levies in Canada will be effective for the current calendar year, going into force on April 30, 1941, Finance Minister Ilsley said yesterday.

Excise act amendments will be effective on the same date.
Succession Duties Act will be operative when it is given assent and shall apply to deaths occurring after that date.

The date of filing annual income tax returns by taxpayers, other than corporations, has been changed to March 31 instead of April 30 as previously. The resolution makes clear that the provisions shall be applicable to the income of the 1941 taxation period and fiscal periods ending therein.

New excess profits tax provisions may require that every person liable to tax in respect of 1940 taxation will have until April 30, 1941, to estimate and pay the levy without interest. Thereafter interest will be charged.

Budget Provides

this two-hour financial review and forecast.

"It will require strict economy but not deprivation."

"It will require strict economy but foregoing of profits which pass through our treasuries into that of the nation but it will not endanger the soundness of our business structure nor the value of our resources."

"It will require intense and patient effort for the duration of the war but it will result in a secure future."
"As the Canadian people believe that they are engaged in a war to defend the highest qualities of our common life from destruction, we can accomplish this task, not with ease, but without catastrophe and with triumph too."

As forecast at the recent unsuccessful Don-Union-Provincial Conference Mr. Ilsley found it necessary to step into the field of taxation occupied by the provinces. He announced the first federal inheritance taxes in history. These are in addition to present provincial levies and he indicated they were not a wartime expedient but might be permanent.

He coupled the increases in income tax with a request that the provinces drop their income taxes
both on persons and on corporations, and in return offered them grants,
equivalent to the amount collected last year or to the net service on their debts less succession duty collections.

His three-cent tax on gasoline will come on top of an eight-cent levy imposed in Quebec and some other provinces and higher imposts in others.

The budget proposals evidenced a four-fold objective, the primary aim being the securing of revenue. They were also directed towards conserving foreign exchange, facilitating the sale of British goods in Canada and encouraging economy so that Canadians could have money and avoid buying things which would cause a drain on industrial capacity.

The gasoline tax and amendments to the War Exchange Conservation Act are designed to check the outlay of foreign exchange on imports.

To make it easier for Great Britain to sell goods here and so pay back the bill for enlarged purchases of war materials a list of imports are made free under the British Preferential tariff, and discounts of twenty-five or fifty per cent from duties payable on all other British goods except liquors, tobacco, sugar and silk are provided.

Application of the eight-per cent sales tax to building materials hitherto exempt is designed to check building activity. So is an Order-in-Council announced by the Minister which will require persons and firms enlarging, building or installing machinery in commercial or industrial establishments, to obtain a licence from Federal authorities.

The additional taxes on non-essentials, such as cosmetics, beer, wine, playing cards, soft drinks and telephone calls, and other things have a similar objective as well as the main one of providing revenue.

"Each of us will be affected by one or more of these taxes," said the Minister, "but no one need pay all of them. If people choose to avoid some of these taxes by saving rather than spending, I shall be satisfied."

Here is the financial picture put before the House by the Minister:
In the last fiscal year, ended
March 31, the Government spent $1,266,627,000 and collected in revenue $871,000,000, leaving an overall deficit of $395,627,000.

In the present year expenditures will run from 1,768,000,000 to $1, 818,000,000 and revenues of $1,400,
000,000 are anticipated, leaving a deficit of $368,000,000 to $315,000, 000.

In addition the Government will have to find between $800,000,000 and 900,000,000 to meet the difference between the excess of the adverse balance of trade with the United States over the balance in favor of Canada on trade with the United Kingdom; interest-free loans plus increases in deposits with the Government on account of annuities, civil service superannuation and unemployment insurance are expected to contribute $200,000,000 to this;

The balance, plus the budgetary deficit must be borrowed—totaling about $1,600,000,000.

NEW TAXATION IS CHEERFULLY ACCEPTED HERE

Local Businessmen and Individual Citizens Say They
"Can Take It"—All Agree Measures Are Needed.

The fact that Canada is at war was brought home to businessmen and workers in the Eastern Townships when the budget was brought down in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon and a survey of opinion today elicited the general reply that "We can take it."

In spite of the increased business taxes, Sherbrooke manufacturers and retailers alike all agreed that such a step was necessary and they believed that the public would cheerfully meet increased prices which the budget provisions might cause.

One prominent local businessman said that the new taxes were "pre-tily well spread out" and that no particular industry would be badly affected by the changes in taxation.

Another declared that "We must realize that the British Empire is at war and that we in Canada are part of that Empire. Unfortunately too many people don't know the deadly peril in which they are living today and because of this ignorance are not doing as much as they should to aid the war effort. Perhaps when their pocketbooks are hit it will at last make them realize the importance of the struggle in which we are engaged."

Still another manufacturer declared that "This war is going to cost us a lot of money but it is money well spent. We know this and the only way the Government can meet these additional expenditures is through taxation. We've got to take it cheerfully."

Some others queried for comment on the budget refused to make any statement until they had time to examine the matter carefully.

Active Year

Work on the home front, however,
was not neglected in spite of the heavy calls for war service. Ten families were assisted by group during the year, Christmas baskets were given eleven families comprising fifty-eight persons, and 1,015 quarts of milk and large quantities of cod liver oil were distributed to needy children.

In co-operation with the local branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the group outfitted a boy in order that he might go to Montreal for special treatment, and the expenses of sending a case to the Montreal Neurological Hospital were defrayed. Groceries amounting in value to $122.35 were distributed, and 200 pieces of clothing were given out. The group expressed appreciation for the cooperation they had received from the Victorian Order of Nurses in this city.

The Hospital Committee report, presented by Mrs. J. Shelley, showed that 507 calls had been made on the sick in hospitals and private homes,
and at Christmas sixteen baskets were distributed among the English-speaking residents of the Sacred Heart Hospice. Under the supervision of Mrs. J. Winslow, a large box of clothing and reading matter was sent to the Sisters of Service Mission in Manitoba. The Religious Convener, Miss M. Mooney, reported that a Holy Hour was held each month with a guest speaker in her tendence, and the day of prayer for peace, February 9, was observed.

Miss Loretta Steele, Convener of Education, showed in her report that the library had been very popular, especially with the children, who were allowed to use it two days each week. It was shown in the report of Mrs. F. Hoye, Programme Convener, that interest had been stimulated by the featuring of an entertainment at each monthly meeting. The membership of the group is now 203, an increase over last year, Mrs. J. Murphy reported.

Before leaving the chair the retiring President, Miss Mullins, thanked the officers and members for their co-operation throughout the year. In behalf of the Executive Committee, Mrs. Raymond Provencher presented Miss Mullins with a gift as a token of their appreciation of her services. The Convener of Publicity tendered the press
a vote of thanks for its co-operation throughout the year.

Rev. Canon J. E. Mooney spoke briefly, congratulating the ladies on their fine work and stressing the necessity for Catholic Action in these troubled times. The members regretted the unavoidable absence of Rev. Father Alfred Linahan, of Bury.

started large fires in the town and its river docks.

Mannheim is one of the principal industrial and commercial cities of Southwestern Germany.

Other British aircraft successfully attacked extensive German oil stores at Rotterdam in the Netherlands, the Ministry said.

In daylight raids yesterday a German supply ship of about 5,000 tons was set on fire and four others of between 1,000 and 2,000 tons hit and damaged.

The British bombers, in some cases escorted by swift fighters, made attacks on shipping at low levels off the coasts of France, Belgium and Norway.

Two bombers and one fighter were lost in the daylight operations; one bomber at night.

The British said British planes swooped on a German convoy near Ostend, Belgium, sinking a 2,000-ton ship, setting another afire and machine-gunning the decks.

Several Messerschmitt 109s entered the engagement and "at least one of the enemy was damaged by one of our bombers," the Ministry said.

Near the Isle of Brehat, Southwest of the Channel Islands, a 1,000-ton supply ship was successfully attacked by other aircraft from a very low level, the bulletin said.

Off the coast of Norway two British bombers dived to less than 200 feet to bomb an unescorted convoy, scoring a hit on a large ship of between 4,000 and 5,000 tons.

"Immediately after the bombs exploded the ship was well alight, and may be considered a total loss," the report said.

A ship of about 1,500 tons, hit on the stern, the Ministry said, "made a quick turn toward land and it is believed she was severely damaged, perhaps beyond repair."

character of operations, informed quarters pointed out, would cover air patrols particularly, for planes on reconnaissance would manoeuvre with more freedom than surface craft.

Admiral Stark's remarks on the patrol subject aroused considerable interest because of a cryptic reference to convoys and the fact that he spoke of patrols 3,000 miles out before correcting himself some time later and reducing the figure to 2,000—the approximate distance to the edge of the war zone.

Stark's mention of convoys and patrols in virtually the same breath aroused speculation as to what meaning he intended to convey, particularly whether he wished his audience to think of the two as aspects of the same problem.

One clue, however, could rest in Prime Minister Churchill's words
Sunday when he hailed the extended patrols as "tremendous decisions," representing "naval support" for Britain, within the limitations of the patrol plan. Mr. Churchill spoke of American patrols and British convoys warships as if they were complementary units, one serving in a reconnaissance capacity along

part of Britain's Atlantic lifeline, and the other as the main force that would do duty in the intensified danger zone nearer British ports.

On another phases of maritime developments, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters yesterday that an announcement might be forthcoming soon concerning transfer of coast guard vessels to the navy. Such a step usually is taken only in time of war.

Axis vanguards have reached, was that "patrol activities are continu-

Local Committee Chosen For Rotary International Relief

A committee consisting of Rotarians Willard Cross, Arthur Kerridge and Henri Girard to accept voluntary subscriptions for International Rotary Relief to be administered wherever needed, was appointed by the local Rotary Club at their weekly dinner held last night. In a brief appeal, the President, J. H. Wark, explained the purpose and functions of the Fund and asked local Rotarians for generous voluntary donations. A contribution of one hundred dollars was received by one of the members to start the Fund locally.

In a speech dealing with the present problems and conditions existing in transportation facilities, F. A. Gaffney, special representative, Research and Development Department, Canadian National Railways, made a detailed comparison of the fundamental economics of railway and highway transport under the heading "Trains, Trucks and Wheelbarrows." Saying that present conditions are not "merely a dog-fight between the two carriers," he warned the people that failure to lead them into their proper field of endeavor will perpetuate an ever increasing and unnecessary economic loss which will tax the ability of the Canadian people to meet. In order to rectify existing problems Mr. Gaffney was of the opinion that there must be a co-ordination between the Federal and Provincial Governments in Canada.

He paid tribute to Canadian railways as being "a necessity to our existence" and listed figures of the C.N.R. for the first eighteen months of the present war to show "the extraordinary use of the rails by the state." He also made a comparison of 1941 facilities with those of 1914. The speaker was introduced by Wilfrid Smith and a vote of thanks was tendered the speaker on behalf of the Club by J. T. Hawkins.

Government Would Centralize Appeals In Queen's Fund

The Canadian Government is endeavoring to consolidate all efforts in this country to aid bomb victims in Britain as far as possible under the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims.

This statement of policy was made by Dr. E. W. Stapleford, Director of Voluntary Services, Department of National War Services, in an address to the Royal Empire Society in Montreal.

Dr. Stapleford said: "We are anxious to prevent a great multiplicity of appeals to the people of Canada. We are trying to consolidate appeals as far as possible."

"Many groups and organizations throughout Canada are anxious to raise money for the purchase of Spitfires and bombers and also for the purpose of helping the people of Great Britain who have suffered in the bombed-out areas.

"Fortunately, there have been organized in Montreal two funds—one in the name of Wings for Britain and another fund known as The Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims. These funds are splendidly managed and every dollar which is donated to these funds will be turned over to the purpose for which the funds were organized.

"All applications which are now coming to our office whose object is to raise funds for the purpose for which these major funds have been organized, are now being directed to these funds in order that their work shall be carried on under the auspices of these two central funds. In this way, I believe thousands of dollars will be saved in the way of operating expenses and large amounts of money will be collected to help Britain in her hour of need."

HELD PREVIEW OF WAR FILM AT PREMIER

Military Officials and Civic Authorities See Special Showing of "The World in Flames."

Attended by military officials of the district and civic authorities, a special preview of the picture, "World in Flames," was shown through the courtesy of R. L. Vallee at the Premier Theatre last night.

The film, drawn entirely from the newest records of events, traces the course of world history from the assured peace in 1929 to the bloody conflict that is raging today.

Starting from the signing of the Kellogg-Briand pact which bound nine of the world's great powers to non-aggression, the film lives realistically through the market crash, the period of world depression and the rising of new forces in the world. It shows the military preparedness of Hitler and Mussolini, their part in the Spanish war, the signing of their Axis partnership, the Italian march on Ethiopia, and finally the breaking out of World War II. It follows the German blitzkrieg through Poland, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Norway, Holland and France. Mass bombing attacks with civilians covering under the rain of death, the French in the "impenetrable" Maginot line, and the English in the air, playing for the balance of the week.

"World in Flames" also shows the historic men and episodes connected with each of the individual dramas and shows clearly what the dictators have been up to in playing for the balance of the week.

LITTLE DAMAGE IN TWO ORFORD TOWNSHIP FIRES

Today's Rain Checks Bush Fires Raging for Two Days Near Little Lake and in Brompton Lake District.

Moving rapidly through dry grass and woods, two fires, one between Big Brompton and Little Brompton Lakes and the other near Lake Park, have been burning for over two days but today were dying out in the rain which started to fall early this morning.

The larger blaze, starting on the 13th range, near what is known as the Fletcher Mine, swept across two and a half miles of bush, lanned by yesterday's high wind, and at one time threatened to attack the group of cottages on the shore of Little Brompton Lake. The flames, however, failed to get across the road leading to the cottages and swung off in a different direction. A small barn was burned, but no other damage was believed to have been caused.

For a time the summer community at Little Lake was endangered by the other bush fire which broke out near the Red Brook, which flows into Little Lake just beyond the village. The wind, however, pushed the flames toward Sherbrooke and the danger was averted.

MANY AMERICAN LIONS IN CITY THIS WEEK-END

New England States, Ontario and Quebec to Be Represented at International Conference of Service Club.

Last-minute arrangements are being completed by the local Lions Club for the reception of Lions from all parts of Quebec, Ontario and the New England States, who will meet here on Saturday and Sunday for the first international conference ever held in Canada.

"Lions International" is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary this year, and will hold the annual convention in New Orleans, Louisiana. In view of the anniversary an international conference was held necessary, and the Sherbrooke Club, in operation since last December, has been signally honored by being chosen as the host club for the conference.

Members of the club have completed the erection of emblems of the "Lions International" for the two Americas at the outskirts of the city on the Montreal and Rock Island highways, and other details are being attended to by the Executive Committee of the local organization.

Among the many distinguished Lions who will attend the conference will be Lucius Whipple, President of the Rhode Island College of Education at Providence and District Governor for the State of Rhode Island; Fred Gahbi, of Portland, International Director for the State of Maine; Edward Shea, Judge of the Brattleboro Court and Governor for the District of Vermont and New Hampshire; Willard Thompson, Past Commander of the American Legion and Governor of the District of Massachusetts; Charles Stevenson, International Counselor, of Cambridge, N.Y.; Holger Peterson, International Counselor, of Burlington, Vt.; Clifford Cotter, of Ottawa, President of the International Association for Canada; George Howitt, President of the "Waddington-Morrisburg Ferry," Deputy Governor and Bruce Malcolm, of Chicago. The Quebec and Ontario Government will also be represented.

Total membership of the Lions is 175,000, comprising industrialists and business and professional men in five countries. Clubs are expected to be formed in the near future at Drummondville, Coaticook and Thetford Mines by the Lions Service Club Association.

Divinity Faculty Defeats Arts In Debate At Bishop's College

Debating Team Successfully Upholds Resolution that "Industrial Disputes Should Be Submitted to Compulsory Arbitration in Wartime"—Faculty Wins Skinner Trophy.

The Divinity Faculty of the University of Bishop's College defeated the Arts Faculty last evening to win the Skinner Debating Trophy. The subject of the debate was, "Resolved that industrial disputes should be submitted to compulsory arbitration in wartime."

The Skinner Trophy has been in competition for nineteen years and has been won twelve times by the Divinity Faculty and seven times by the Arts Faculty, counting last night's debate.

Alex Craig, Bob Mackie and G. H. Loosmore represented the Divinity Faculty, and the Arts Faculty was represented by Mr. Haydon, second speaker of the negative, refuted Mr. Mackie as to the reality of these subversive elements. He asked for proof where factories had been sabotaged deliberately by foreign interests. Haydon stated that in the United States labor, capital and the government were all against the scheme of compulsory arbitration. Thus settlements of the compulsory type were not as lasting. He went on to say that workers working of their own free will, produce more than a regimented slave. THE NEW BUDGET

Drastic as its provisions are, the new Canadian budget submitted in the House of Commons yesterday will be generally acceptable to the taxpayers of the country who are fully aware of the urgent need of the Government for funds to finance the war effort. Finance Minister Hsley frankly told the members that the budget was not designed to be pleasant, but rather was based on what the Government thought was the limit that the taxpayers could bear, both as individuals and corporations and that it was drawn up in a manner to spread the burden as evenly as possible.

The increase in the income and defence taxes were to be expected and are no greater than the taxpayers anticipated. The proposal that the Provincial Governments abandon the income tax field for the duration of the war, in return for certain concessions from the Dominion Government, is a highly desirable feature of the budget, for while it in no means will lighten the burden upon the people, it should simplify the tax structure, making it easier for companies and individuals to estimate and prepare for the levy they will be called upon to pay. In this respect, the Government in question might do well to explore other taxation avenues with a view to removing overlapping levies which are often more of a nuisance than really revenue producing.

The increased excise tax on cheaper automobiles is in line with the announced intention of the Government to restrict as far as possible the diversion of money and production facilities to non-essential purposes and is a continuation of the policy introduced in the "little budget" last fall. Similarly the other supplementary excise taxes are imposed for the same end, being designed to conserve the resources of the country as well as to raise revenue. The taxes on theatre tickets and horse race betting are essentially luxury taxes, and while naturally unwelcome are nothing but what the people must be prepared to stand in an effort to win the war.

The new federal tax on gasoline and the increased sugar impost have the merit of simplicity of collection, neither requiring complicated machinery for receiving the money and checking up the returns.

The speech was marked by frankness throughout, Mr. Hsley making no effort to soothe the taxpayers into the belief that this was the upper limit of taxation and indicated that if the war were long-drawn out, even greater sacrifices would be ordered for the taxpayers.

The budget address offers a definite challenge to the Provincial and municipal administrations to cut down needless expenditures to the bone so that more money would become available for war purposes. The time has come when the taxpayer can no longer finance both the war and luxury Government services and the latter must go if victory is to be won.

VALLANDIGHAM

When President Roosevelt dipped into Civil War history records a few days ago to find a term to apply to Charles A. Lindbergh—he called him a "Vallandigham"—he unconsciously selected an incident with a strong Canadian angle.

The President called Lindbergh a "Vallandigham" at a press conference when asked why the army, in which the flier held a reserve commission, had not called him for active service in the present emergency. Mr. Roosevelt inferred that Lindbergh was an appeaser, an advocate of a negotiated peace, a counterpart of the man who told George Washington he could not win the Revolutionary War and of Clement L. Vallandigham and others who wanted the North to sue for peace in the Civil War because they said the South could not be defeated.

Vallandigham was beaten for re-election in November, 1862, by the simple political trick of adding a big Republican county to his district. Later, he was arrested as a traitor and sentenced by a military court to imprisonment for the rest of the war. This, however, created such a public outcry, that President Lincoln commuted the sentence to banishment behind the Confederate lines.

After a brief stay at Wilmington, N.C., Vallandigham went to Bermuda and later to Canada from where he continued his propaganda almost as effectively as if he were in the United States. Canada's reception of Vallandigham and other manifestations of sympathy with the Confederate cause, long played a deleterious effect on Canadian-American relations. During Vallandigham's banishment, and while he was still in Canada, he was an unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Ohio.

THE VULTURE HOVERS AGAIN

Once again the Italian vulture has shown its determination to profit as far as possible through the victories of its Axis partner and obtain slices of territory and other concessions which it is obviously unable to gain for itself. This comes in obviously inspired news reports from Italy that demonstrations are being staged in the principal cities of the Kingdom for the transfer of Nice, the French Mediterranean coast resort bordering on Italy to Italian sovereignty. This has long been an Italian desire and it was to gain this end, among others, that Mussolini knifed the struggling French in the back, hoping to gain for this country territory without cost.

The prize was withheld from him, however, in the armistice settlement and the sorry showing of his troops in Africa and Albania seemingly ended whatever hopes he had for concessions from the senior partner to the deal. However, hope springs eternal and once again he is dressing the window for a big handout from Hitler.

In another quarter he also appears hopeful that he may be given a sop to offset national reverses in the minds of his people. He is casting covetous eyes on sections of Yugoslavia and is openly hinting that Hitler should give him something, even if it is only a consolation prize.

However, just what he actually expects to get from the deal is uncertain, but he may rest assured, as do the people of the rest of the world, that anything which Hitler hands out to him will be something for which Germany has little or no use. Partners who drag down the firm have little sympathy in the Hitler mentality.

THE TOURIST BAN CONTINUES

Perhaps the one disappointment the people of Canada suffered in the budget presented in the House of Commons yesterday was the announcement that the present ban on tourist travel in the United States would continue. Many had hoped that the Hyde Park announcement would ease the drain on the Canadian exchange account sufficiently to allow a restricted resumption of tourist relations with the United States, but in the opinion of the Government this is not the case.

The wisdom of this decision is open to doubt, many authorities in the tourist industry being convinced that this does more harm than good to the Canadian exchange account. Insofar as Eastern Canada is concerned, some strong arguments can be presented against the order. Hotel men and other authorities point out that South of the International Border along the Quebec line is a vast natural playground which for many years has been enjoyed by both Canadians and citizens of the United States. Thousands and thousands of the latter have found their way into Canada for stays varying from a few hours to weeks.

Now, with the ban against Canadians visiting these resorts, a strong campaign is underway to hold the United States citizens to home resorts in an effort to compensate for the loss of revenue derived from Canadians in previous years. That this campaign is effective is apparent by the sharp drop in border crossings and a consequent sharp drop in tourist purchases in Canada. Further study of the situation by Canada would be in order.

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

Heavy damage was caused at Stanbridge East when fire destroyed two dwelling houses, several barns and a number of other buildings.

Sir Charles Alphonse Pantaloon Pelletier, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec passed away at Spencerwood after an extended illness at the age of eighty-four years.

Twenty-five persons were killed and forty were seriously injured in the crash of an excursion train near Philadelphia.

Among those taking part in a musical programme at Stanstead were Miss Lily Macaulay, Mr. C. W. Kennedy, Mrs. L. E. Codere, Mr. Raoul Dionne, Miss Beatrice Fraser and Signor Emile Taranto.

The bill calling for fortnightly instead of monthly payment of railway wages has been killed in the Senate.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Granby Baseball Club: J. C. Barr, C. S. B. Halpin, J. T. Farish, A. W. Colby, T. A. Lynch, Hector Pare, F. G. Dunham, F. W. Kramer, F. A. Morgan, C. J. Davidson, James Topp, J. B. Travers and Ross McCormick.

A great demand was reported for Eastern Townships farms with prices of medium sized properties advancing rapidly.

CANADA-U.S. AMITY PRAISED

Le Jour

The union of Canada and the United States is, so to speak, a fact. To a large extent economic unity exists between the two countries. War has added another very powerful bond: common defence against the enemy. Since a co-ordinating defence committee composed of Canadians and Americans, arms, ports, ships, planes and even men from both countries must serve the same cause: the defence of North American liberties and institutions. Hence, never before in the history of this continent were Canada and the United States more intimately united. That is what the war has done. Would to heaven that this North American friendship, this admirable unity, which has proven to be so necessary, so fruitful and so beneficial in time of danger, may continue in time of peace, that it may intensify, become more bound together, improve, so that the forces league together to repulse the enemy may be joined together to serve the law of Christianity, of love between brothers and create happiness among men. A thing that is so good in wartime should be equally so in peacetime.

HAVE A SMILE

Golfer: "Terrible Links, caddy!" Caddy: "Sorry, sir, these aren't the links. You got off of them an hour ago. We're in Mrs. Smith's rock garden."

The Congressman's sister was accustomed to keeping an eye on him while at home. On this occasion she called him up at Washington by long distance.

"What have you been doing?" she demanded.

"Don't try to fool me. I read the papers. Yesterday they said the Speaker didn't recognize you."

Jones and Smith paid a visit to an exhibition of antiques where they saw displayed a big, thick gold wedding ring of a type used in earlier days, and alongside it, for purposes of comparison, was one of the small, thin rings used today.

"Screwth!" said Jones. "Look at the whopping rings women used to wear. I wonder what the idea was."

"Ah," said Smith, "whose wife had recently divorced him. 'Rings in these days tend to last longer than they do now.'"

A film star met a producer on a Hollywood boulevard.

"How's business?" asked the star. "Why," cried the producer, "it's stupendous. It's colossal. It's dynamic. It's unprecedented. . . . I'll be better next week."

Two men were talking during a concert by Sousa's band.

"That fellow Sousa has no control over his gang at all," said the one.

"How do you figure that out?" asked the second man.

"Well," he replied, "the very minute he quits, threatening them with that little black club and turns his back on them, the quitters stop working. Just watch them."

Mistress: "Look here, Mary. This chair is covered with dust!"

Mary: "Yes, ma'am. I reckon nobody has sat in it lately."

Fortune Teller: "I see a vision—it is your deceased wife. She craves permission to send a message to you."

Client: "Then that's not her, governor. My wife never asked for no permission when she giv her messages to me!"

Man (employed by an Aberdeen firm): "I have been here ten years, sir, doing three men's work for one man's money, and now I want a raise."

Employer: "I can't give you that, but if you'll tell me the names of the other two men I'll sack 'em."

Two men were walking along a country lane on the way to a small race meeting.

As one was getting short they hailed the driver of an approaching horse-car and got a lift.

But soon they became anxious lest they should be late, for the horse took things very casually.

"I say, do you think you'll get there in time?" one of them inquired anxiously.

"Oh, yes, we'll get there in good time all right," was the calm reply.

"You see, I'm not tiring the mare because she's running in the three o'clock heat herself."

Mrs. Cohen awoke in the middle of the night to discover her husband pacing wearily up and down the bedroom floor.

"Vot's the matter, Cohen?" she asked him.

"Vel, Rebecca, I owe Isaac's var hundred dollars and I haven't a penny to meet it with. It falls due in der morning."

Mrs. Cohen slipped out of bed, went to the window, threw it open, and called, "Mrs. Isaac's, Mrs. Isaac's."

Over the road a window went up, and a tousel head in carlers appeared.

"Mr. Cohen, vot is der matter? Is der a fire?"

"No, Cohen owes your husband a hundred dollars and can't meet it in der morning." She shut the window and turned to her husband: "Come back der floor, Cohen, and let Isaac's pace der floor."

The film magnate wanted one of his stars to accept a reduction in salary, so he said to his junior partner: "You tackle him, Paul. You're better educated than what I am. You can give him a better line of talk than me."

Paul went off on his disagreeable job. When he came back, the magnate asked anxiously:

"Well, how about it?"

"He acquiesced," said Paul.

"Did he? The dirty dog."

God cannot be treated as an occasional expedient.

BRITISH NEED A FEW LESS SCRUPLES

Watertown, N.Y., Times

Why should Rome escape bombing when the venerable monuments of London are being reduced to shattered stone? Why is Rome in a different category than Bucharest which has been reduced to shambles by German bombs? Why is it different from Coventry or a dozen other British cities? Rome is Mussolini's capital. It is from Rome that Italian military operations are engineered. It is an important military objective and should enjoy no immunity that London does not likewise enjoy.

We appreciate that Rome is filled with historic monuments. So was London but ruthless German bombers singled them out for special attention. The city is in ruins. Even St. Paul's Cathedral has been desecrated by German bombs and a hundred other monuments, known throughout the world have crumbled away under savage German attack. No one participated in these attacks with more joy than the Italian aviators until the Royal Air Force drove them from the skies.

If the British have made one mistake in this war it is that they have been too humane. They refused for a long time to bomb the civilian population of Berlin and other German cities despite the fact that thousands of English civilians died from German bombs. One cannot win a war against such ruthless tyrants as Hitler and Mussolini by using such tactics as this.

Rome can be bombed without bombing Vatican City. No one, of course would want the Vatican to suffer. Rome proper, however, has been immune long enough. The time has come to meet Hitler and Mussolini at their own game. What the English need most of all are a few less scruples.

SUNDAY IS DANGEROUS MOTORING DAY

Chatham Daily News.

Driving on Sunday usually is done for pleasure, yet a report of accidents in the United States in 1940, as issued by a large insurance company, reveals the fact that the day ends in more disaster than any other day of the week. This would seem to apply to Canada also, as witness the long list of accidents over the week-end that appear in the press almost any Monday when the traffic on the highways is heavy.

"More automobile accidents resulting in both death and injury happen on Sunday than any other day," this report reads, "notwithstanding the fact that upon the Sabbath there is less traffic congestion in towns and cities and fewer pedestrians abroad than on any other day of the week."

"Eighteen out of every hundred motor vehicle accidents happened on Sunday," the report goes on, "with each of the next four days showing an average of around thirteen out of every one hundred accidents. On Friday there was a pickup in the number of mishaps, while on Saturday the increase was still greater, seventeen out of every hundred accidents occurring on that day."

Sunday, day of rest and peace, turns out to be the most dangerous of all, when it comes to motoring. Those who are constant motorists all week will point their fingers with accusation upon the man who drives only on Sunday, and say there is no sense in increasing the number of deaths and injuries from auto mishaps, on this day.

That, however, is rather doubtful for analysis of Sunday accidents will show that a great proportion of them involve motorists who use their cars all week. Occasional drivers, to be sure, cause a considerable number of the highway accidents. But the man who is the constant driver is the man who takes more chances on the road.

WHY MR. KING SHOULD GO TO ENGLAND

Toronto Globe and Mail

We are certain the newspapers are right which say Mr. King cannot justifiably absent himself from a conference of Dominions leaders if one is called. He rather should urge such a consultation. He curtailed his vacation in the United States to return to the centre of Canadian activities when the Balkan crisis became serious. Our real kan crisis became serious in England. It is there the momentous decisions are made. There the need for and disposition of resources and troops are discussed. There successful or unsuccessful war tactics will be agreed upon.

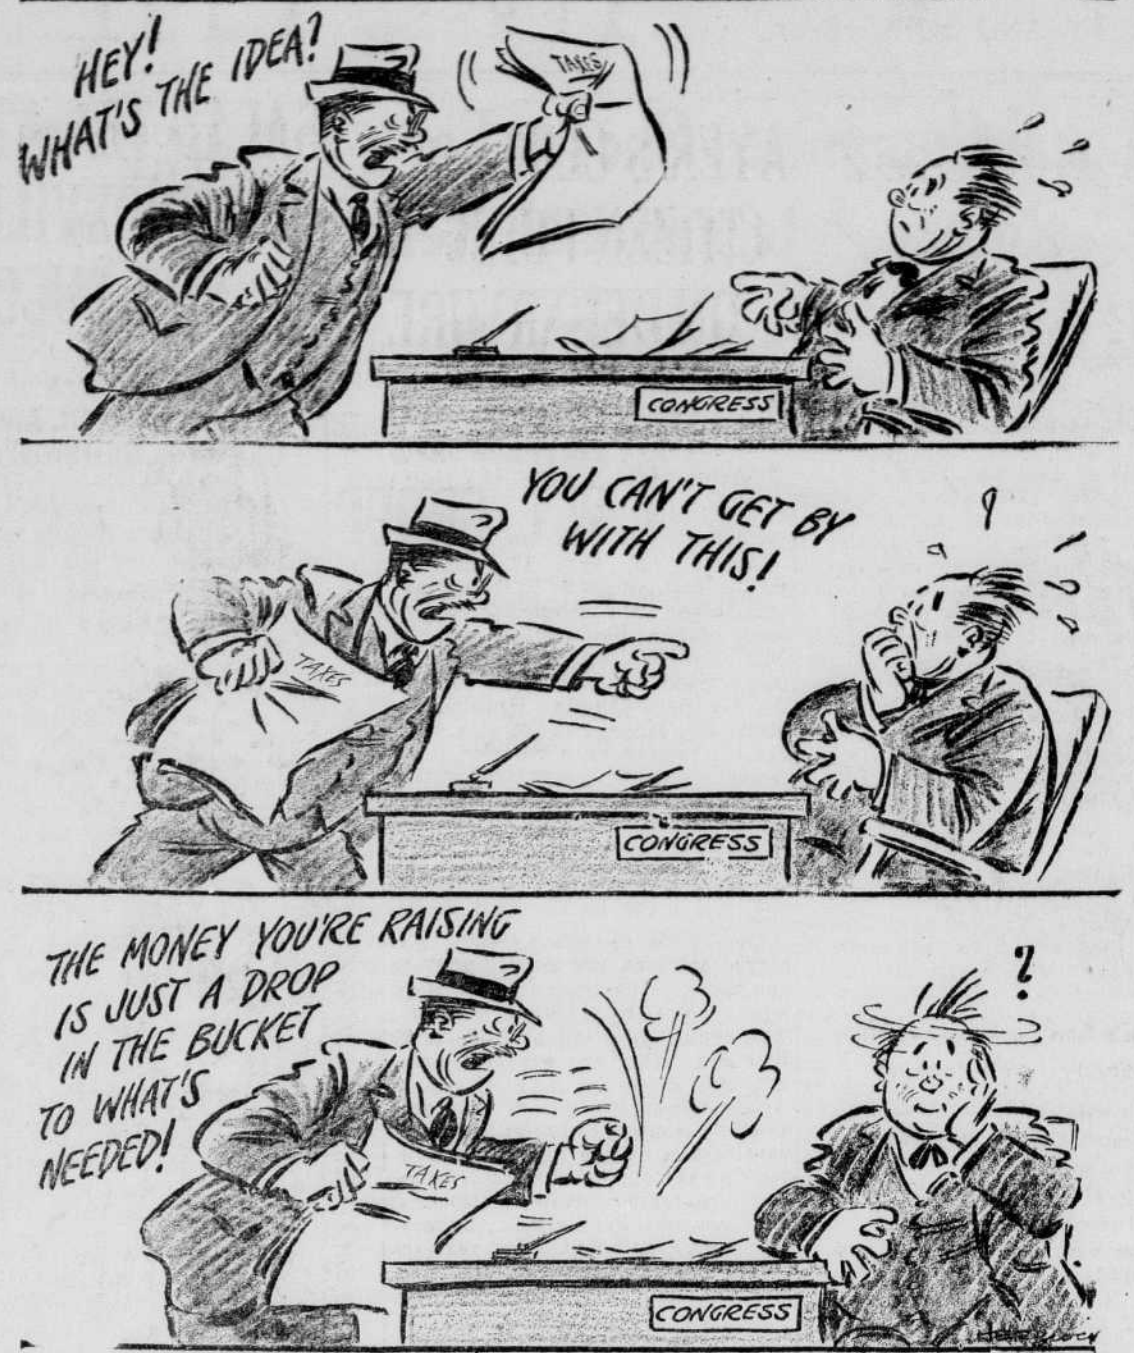

Canadians are anticipating a visit from President Roosevelt, which if it takes place, will be a token of good-will from the American people, a binder for the agreement recently made to help this nation's war programme. Mr. King extended the invitation and will be entitled to credit for the aid to Canadian morale such a visit would bring. He cannot, therefore, be unmindful of the effect on the British people of a visit from the head of the greatest Dominion. We would urge him to further the movement for the conference suggestion, if for no other reason than to give him an opportunity to show the hard-pressed victims of Nazi ruthlessness that Canada's resolution to stand with them to the ultimate will never weaken.

LET US NOT DECEIVE OURSELVES

Fort William Daily Times-Journal

Officially, Canada is heart and soul with the British Empire in the determination to carry on this war to the end and to assure victory. Actually, this Dominion is lagging behind even the record that she made during the last war, when she sent 600,000 men overseas and produced 66,500,000 shells and exported manufactured goods to the value of $839,000,000 to the United Kingdom. Canadians believed that they had made a vast contribution to the prosecution of the last war, but while the sending of over half a million men meant sacrifices, heavy and bitter, the contributions made in war materials put money into the pockets of the Canadian capitalists and the

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

DISCARD ACE OR ALLOW DECLARER TO MAKE CONTRACT

This is the 11th of a series of sixteen articles on World Bridge Olympic hands, giving the committee's par.

This hand presents a difficult defence. South has to recognize immediately that he may be squeezed by West's diamond leads.

The best play is to allow West to win the opening club lead, and now declarer knocks out the ace of diamonds. South leads another small club and West is forced to jump up with his second honor. Declarer now cashes his diamonds, discarding a spade from dummy.

South has to make two discards. The first one is easy—the five of spades—but then he has a problem. To discard a heart will allow the declarer to run four heart tricks. To let go a club will permit declarer to run off his three heart tricks and then toss South in with a club, forcing him to lead a spade.

Therefore, the only play that South can intelligently make is to discard his ace of clubs, and the play is not too difficult. North is known to have the ten of clubs from his opening lead of the jack. The play defeats the contract, as North and South will make two clubs, two spades and the ace of diamonds.

If South makes the mistake of winning the first club with the ace,

Lines of Verse

First line of poems can usually call to mind the title; last lines are more difficult to identify. Here are both. See if you can name the five poems and their authors.

1—Under a spreading chestnut-tree . . . Each burning deed and thought.
2—Hence vain deluding joys . . . These pleasures, Melancholy, give, and I with thee will choose to live.
3—Thou still unravished bride of quietness . . . Beauty is truth, truth beauty—that is all ye know on earth, and all ye need to know.
4—Oh to be in England . . . Far brighter than this gaudy melon-flower.
5—Once upon a midnight dreary . . . And my soul from out that shadow that lies floating on the floor shall be lifted—nevermore.

Social and Personal

Word has been received of the safe arrival in England of Sergeant-Pilot C. J. Nutbrown, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nutbrown, 27 High Street.

Mrs. J. E. Johnson, of Quebec, who with her sister, Miss Andrea Irwin, has been a guest for a day or so of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Mathias, is returning home to the Ancient Capital today.

Sherbrooke's official "Marys," Mrs. M. L. McFadden, received the hundreds of guests who so generously patronized the grand premier effort in Sherbrooke on behalf of the Marys of Canada Spitfire Fund, given through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Conway at the "Leau non tenné" last evening. Seidman has a gay and more enthusiastic social gathering been held for patriotic purposes. The huge bridge party, there were upwards of seventy tables reserved under the conveniences of Mrs. G. H. Carr, the drawing for the beautiful black walnut work box donated by Mrs. Mary Roberts, of Lennoxville, together with the excitement created by the Chinese Auction, all contributed to the festivity of the highly successful event. For a time "bridge" reigned supreme in the entrance hall, lounge and spacious dining room, where tables, filled with devotees of the game, were crowded closely together. To the "order" of "attention," issued by Lieutenant Alex Edmison, who most efficiently acted as master of ceremonies, the huge throng paused for a space while Mrs. Mary Roberts drew the lucky number, 353, from the large box held aloft by Lieut. Edmison, the fortunate winner of her exquisite gift, being announced as Sergeant Crowley, of the International Camp. Mrs. A. W. Reid was convener for the sale of tickets for Mrs. Roberts' lovely gift in Sherbrooke, and in Lennoxville Mrs. Howard Aikman took charge. The drawing for the door prize, donated by J. H. Bryant's Limited, was made by Miss Mary Spaid. Later, Miss Elsie Welsh being announced as the winner, holding ticket 123. Just prior to the drawings Mrs. McFadden, on behalf of the "Marys" of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, cordially welcomed the guests and extended grateful thanks for the generous patronage given to their first venture in the drive for funds for the Mary Spitfire. Miss Mary Milford, who acted as cashier, going from table to table, was assisted in this quite arduous task by Mrs. George F. Chapman. The Chinese Auction, for which Lieut. Edmison and Mr. A. W. Reid acted as auctioneers, was in charge of Mrs. Norman W. Price and Mrs. Mary Racette, this novelty creating quite a furore and going "over the top" in its outstanding success. Floating serenely over the heads of the guests assembled in the lounge was a beautifully made "Spitfire," the handwork of Gerald Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bryant, Victoria Street. Later, coffee and delicious sandwiches were served by the "Marys" under the convener'ship of Mrs. McFadden; Mrs. Glenn S. Sampson and Mrs. Wyatt Johnson, the following "Marys" acting most efficiently as waitresses, Miss Mary Wolfe, Mrs. Mary Ann Price, Mrs. Mary Racette, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Mildred Mills, Mrs. Mary Southern, the Misses Mary Elizabeth Hoye, Margaret McEwen, Sylvia Ross and Joan Milne.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Members of the Daughters of England War Auxiliary at their meeting Monday evening at their President's home, on Wynd Street, heard the familiar voices of several of the soldiers whom they had oftentimes entertained at their regular meetings, in an Overseas broadcast.

Mrs. Hamel presided over the session, during which this most welcome interruption occurred, her son-in-law, Bdr. Jack Whittaker being the first speaker.

After thanking the Auxiliary for gifts received, Mr. Whittaker addressed his wife and gave reassuring news about himself and several comrades.

Another who spoke was Gunner Leslie Brown, who addressed his remarks to the Daughters of England. The meeting opened in the customary manner with prayer, the President afterwards reading several letters from overseas acknowledging gifts from the Auxiliary, these including Aircraftman Bert Davy and Pte. J. Fazoras.

News contained in one letter caused widespread regret amongst the members, for it stated that Gunner E. Enniver, of Kingston, Jamaica, was in hospital, somewhere in England, with a broken back.

In order to express their sympathy the members immediately busied themselves packing a sunshine box to send to the injured soldier whom they had personally known during his sojourn in Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Whittaker also in receipt of a cable from her husband acknowledging gifts for Easter.

The President acknowledged several donations, one dollar from Mr. Wright, and gifts for sunshine boxes from Mr. Fontaine, surprise boxes and wool from a member of the Auxiliary.

Gunner McHugh, of Montreal, who is spending a few days leave with Mr. and Mrs. W. Cotterell, was a guest at last night's session. After hearing "voices from overseas," cards and Chinese checkers were played and later the hostess, Mrs. George Strickland, served refreshments, the enjoyable evening being brought to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

Mrs. L. A. Kimpton, who spent the winter season in Sherbrooke, has returned to her home in Griffin, Que.

Friends of Mrs. Arthur Price, Laurier Avenue, will regret to hear that she is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The engagement is announced of Edith Cavell, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, of Birchton, Que., to Raymond Parker Wood, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood, Sweetsburg, Quebec. The wedding to take place early in July.

Dr. and Mrs. James A. Thompson, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., who arrived in Sherbrooke yesterday and were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Thompson, left this morning for Toronto where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Swail. They were accompanied to the Queen City by Mrs. John H. Kinghorn, of Kinross Mills, who was a guest during the interim of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, Victoria Street.

The attendants at the marriage of Miss Alice Ruth McKenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKenna, of Aircraftman William Gordon, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. J. H. Gordon and the late Mrs. Gordon, which is taking place in St. Patrick's Church at eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, will be Miss Blanche McKenna, R.N., of New York, sister of the bride, maid of honor, Mr. Ronald Mooney, barman, Messrs. Paul McKenna, Charles Gordon, Howard Leslie and Jack Reid ushers.

Mrs. Colin L. Campbell was hostess yesterday afternoon for a largely attended meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church held at her residence on Queen Street, under the presidency of Mrs. Charles B. Howard. After the opening devotional period during which the 125th Psalm was read by Mrs. Walter Mutchler, tentative plans for the fashion show, to be held at "Howardene" later in the season, were discussed. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to social enjoyment, and at its close the hostess served tea and dainty refreshments.

Miss Emily Vonberg and Mrs. G. Colwill entertained delightfully at the MacKinnon Memorial on Monday evening in honor of Miss Gertrude Gaffney, a May bride-to-be. Bridge was played at five tables, a pretty prize being awarded at each. At the conclusion of the game refreshments were served, Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. L. Dwyer doing the honors at the lace-covered table which was attractively centered with blue and yellow snapdragons in a green pottery holder, and yellow candles in matching pottery holders. Assisting were Miss Florence Clark and Miss Vivian Allard. During the interim the bride-elect was presented with a generous shower of lovely pyrex dishes.

Mrs. Frank Caunter and Mrs. T. Marshall acted jointly as hostesses for this week's meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Plymouth Church at the former's home on Marquette Street. The President, Mrs. F. Kimmins, presided over the brief business period during which it was decided to purchase two War Savings Certificates for the United Church of Canada. The only other transaction was the delightful resume given by Mrs. D. Magwood, Secretary, on the pleasant tea party and children's entertainment given in the church hall on Saturday afternoon. At the close of the evening's session refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Magwood doing the honors at the pretty table which was covered with a lace cloth and adorned with daffodils and lighted green candles. The Secretary stated that Saturday's event had been most enjoyable, the guests who were first received by the President, being charmingly entertained with the pretty little act, "Frolic of the Holidays," put on under the direction of Miss Vina Brownlow and her sister, Miss Harriet Brownlow, with Miss A. Woodmark at the piano. This included recitations and songs by the kiddies who later were guests of the Guild for tea under the supervision of Mrs. W. Rook, Mrs. F. Paterson and Mrs. F. Caunter convened the tea and members of the Guild assisted in serving. Miss E. MacIntyre was in charge of the decorations which played such a telling part in the afternoon's success. The lace-covered table, at which Mrs. T. Marshall and Miss E. Hall presided was centered with a parasol decorated with mauve sweet peas, and was lighted with yellow candles in silver candlesticks. The latter were also used to centre the small tables. An added attraction was the sale of home cooking with Mrs. E. G. Hodge and Miss R. Stoddard in charge.

Today's Demands On Women Bring Mothers New Problems In Educating Their Daughters

You're the mother of a daughter. You knew, until recently, just about what kind of education she should have to fit her to take her place as a woman in this modern world.

You realized she would have to know a great many things—that she would need to know how to make a home, not just how to run a house, though that is part of making a home. You knew she would have to have some kind of training that would fit her to earn a living, since girls today often have to work for a few years before marriage, and, perhaps, for a few years after.

And you knew you must not let her neglect the cultural side of education, for you wanted her to be able to use leisure time intelligently.

But now you read that England, conservative England, is drafting its young women of twenty and twenty-one into its wartime industrial machine. There are 800,000 of them in England, Wales, and Scotland, all to be registered for conscription.

That means you start thinking again about your daughter's education. She is learning the things you wanted her to learn, but how would she fare if her own country at some future time drafted her into an essential industry?

Has she been well-enough disciplined at home and at school so that she could take that kind of assignment in her stride?

Is she strong enough physically to stand a job as a porter at a railway freight yard, as a cobbler, as a cabinetmaker, as a mason, as a machinist? British girls are being drafted into all such jobs as these. No One Can Take Home-Maker's Place.

It isn't easy, trying to prepare a girl for the world today. For the world is asking an awful lot of women, more even than it is asking of men.

When the army drafts a soldier, it can put a woman in his place. But there is no one to take over women's traditional job when she is drafted into industry. She must take on any new job that is assigned her, while continuing to hold down the job of home-making.

And she dares not let the man's job she has taken over toughen her—for she must keep her femininity.

In modern war, mothers must think of their daughters as well as of their sons. For today one is as necessary to a country's defense as another.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1—If you do not smoke yourself, should you have ash trays in your living room?

2—Is it correct to serve bottled soft drinks to guests who stop by on a warm afternoon or evening?

3—Is it gracious to say when discussing a person, "She comes from a good family," or "Her family amounts to something in the town?"

4—Is it good manners for a woman, caught by guests in a house dress, to keep talking about how awful she looks?

5—Is it good manners to say, "Haven't you gained weight?" to a woman?

What would you do if—

(a) You are a house guest in a friend's home and you need to have some laundry done—

(b) Ask your hostess' maid to do the laundry for you?

(c) Send your clothes to a commercial laundry?

ANSWERS

1—Yes, for the convenience of guests who might like to smoke.

2—Yes.

3—No. It sounds snobbish. It is all right to say "She has an interesting family."

4—No. It will only embarrass the guests and make them feel that they are not welcome.

5—No. Not unless you know that she has been trying to gain weight.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b) or (c). A house guest should try to take enough clothes that having to have laundry done won't be a problem.

truth—that the secret of the captivating rumba is simple.

When you take a step in the rumba, you do it exactly on the beat, but don't shift your weight to the stepping foot until the next beat. AND while transferring weight to one foot, you're also stepping out with the other.

KELVINATOR'S NEW FEATURES HEAD THE FIELD

Kelvinator Refrigerators, as Featured at J. S. Mitchell's, Give More for Your Money.

For twenty-seven years Kelvinator has been building household refrigerators and each succeeding year has been building them better. The year 1941 is certainly no exception.

This year, Kelvinator's engineers decided that the only way a refrigerator could give lasting satisfaction was through giving lasting service. That is why they incorporated so many "extras" in the new models. An electric refrigerator must have these four essential requirements to be of any use at all: a cabinet, a freezer, mechanism and storage space. Kelvinator's one-piece seamless body has sealed-in insulation to ensure that the cold does not escape and that moisture cannot get in. Kelvinator High-Speed Freezers are manufactured from the best of rust-proof, acid and stain resistant metals, designed to give the utmost efficiency in cooling the cabinet interior and in making ice. As for the mechanism, the former Polarsphere used in Kelvinator is the result of twenty-six years of engineering research. Although fundamentally the same type unit which Kelvinator pioneered, it has been improved and simplified and has sealed-in steel, giving the most powerful, economical and trouble-free unit in the industry. At ordinary kitchen temperatures a Kelvinator Polarsphere runs only twenty per cent of the time. This means that it not only has a tremendous amount of surplus refrigerating power for hot weather and fast freezing, but also sufficient refrigerating capacity to keep five refrigerators cold under normal temperature conditions. The Polarsphere is truly a sealed unit—sealed in steel at the factory. A lifetime supply of oil is sealed into it—so that it will never need oiling. The 1941 Kelvinator "sixes" actually have about six and three quarters feet of storage space available. This extra storage space is typical of the Kelvinator "extras" which are being featured in the new models.

The interior of the cabinet is of stain-resisting porcelain, the cabinet itself is fitted with a full width door to allow easy access to the inside. Automatic lights switch on as soon as the door is opened, showing the roomy shelves on each side of the freezer—shelves in which can be placed the tallest bottles with absolute ease. The frozen food storage space gives absolutely safe protection for quickly perishable foodstuffs—and the anodic finish aluminum ice cube trays, which always stay bright, are equipped with ice cube racks that may be removed in a jiffy. In fact, everything inside this wonderful 1941 Kelvinator is designed for maximum efficiency and long life.

J. S. Mitchell and Company have a complete showing of these new 1941 Kelvinator Refrigerators and ask you to compare them from any standpoint—beauty, economy, convenience, dependability, low price—and know that you, too, will agree, that Kelvinator offers you unequalled value for your refrigerator dollar.

Three presidents of the United States have worn mustaches: Theodore Roosevelt, Grover Cleveland and William Howard Taft. Several others have had beards and mustaches, but the majority of U. S. presidents have been clean-shaven.

run the risk that both ship and cargo might be captured and confiscated by British warships. Chile has been unable to utilize three Danish ships, seized in Chilean ports, it was reported, because of the attitude adopted by the British Government.

The Inter-American Committee's declaration—presenting a common front against Britain on the question—reaffirmed the right of American republics to operate the seized ships under their flags in national and international trade.

There are now sixty-nine idle vessels (thirty-nine Danish, twenty-eight Italian, and two German) in Ecuador and Panama one each.

UNUSUAL FIRE DAMAGES HOME AT COATICOOK

Coaticook, April 30.—Considerable damage to the front part of the residence of Ralph Berzan on Johnson Street was caused by a fire believed to have been caused by an explosion on the piazza before firemen could extinguish the flames.

Cleaners had been working at the residence with cloths saturated by cleaning fluids, and had left them on the porch together with several pieces of freshly polished furniture. Apparently becoming ignited by combustion, the cloths flamed up and the fire was spread rapidly by a heavy wind.

The porch, mats and the front part of the house and furniture were badly burned and damaged by smoke and water.

"protective custody" in United States ports, and ninety-six Axis vessels—as well as a number of Danish and French ships—in South and Central American ports, which might be taken over and operated under the flags of the American republics under the Inter-American Committee's declaration.

The Axis vessels are reported in American ports (outside of the United States) as follows: Brazil 30, Argentina 17, Mexico 14, Venezuela 10, Chile 7, Uruguay 5, Peru 5, Colombia 3, Costa Rica 2 and Cuba, Ecuador and Panama one each.

FRIGIDAIRE'S "METER-MISER" LOWERS COST!

"Meter-Miser," Simplest Refrigerator Mechanism Ever Built. Cuts Current Costs to the Bone.

Since the beginning of refrigeration history twenty-six years ago—and Frigidaire has been building refrigerators from the beginning—the "Meter-Miser," developed by Frigidaire, has set new economy records year after year, and year after year it has been improved. Because of these improvements, the bigger, roomier new Frigidaire, as featured by H. C. Wilson and Sons, have much more power to keep food safer and freeze ice faster. Yet they use less current than any previous comparable models... actually less than half used by the most economical models of just a few years ago. This is the simplest refrigerator mechanism ever built. Super-powered, whisper-quiet, permanently sealed, never needs oiling, and it is completely protected against service expense for five whole years!

Another of the great discoveries that Frigidaire engineers have made during twenty-six years that refrigerators have been made is that of the "Cold-Wall" principle of refrigeration, a principle that protects all foods from loss of moisture. A glass shelf divides the interior of the Frigidaire Cold Wall into an upper and lower compartment, each of these compartments providing a different and vitally essential food-keeping service. In the upper compartment the air is dry because the moisture it contains constantly changes to frost as it circulates past the freezer. This provides proper cooling for foods which are not subject to drying. In the lower compartment the air is moist because it is cooled directly through the walls, instead of by the circulation of a cold dry air from the freezer as in other types of refrigerators.

So it is seen that this revolutionary design combines moist, still air and uniform low temperature throughout the entire Cold Wall compartment. Fresh vegetables and fruits retain their vitamins and other food values; fresh and cooked foods remain tender and retain a more appetizing appearance for a longer period.

Another field in which Frigidaire excels is in the use of refrigerant F-114. The safest refrigerant known to mankind is used in every Frigidaire. The refrigerant operates at a very low pressure. It will not corrode metal, explode, burn or poison anybody or anything should it escape. What is more it actually extinguishes fire. It can be breathed without harm and food dipped in it can be eaten with no effect.

And now let us examine some of the efficient, time-saving features of the 1947 Frigidaire models. The most important of these is the Uni-Matic Cold Control with Automatic Rest Defroster—three controls in one. Master Switch, defrosting control, temperature control. To defrost the freezer you simply push a knob and when defrosting is complete, cabinet operation is resumed automatically. Compactly designed the glass-topped Hydrator slides freely on stainless steel gliders. It provides super-moist cold storage to keep fruits and vegetables crisp and garden-fresh. There's also the Meat Tender with ample space for a large roast, steaks or chops, or for storing canned and bottled beverages and a reserve supply of ice cubes.

Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The remains were laid to rest in the family lot beside her husband, who passed away on June 21, 1927, at the age of eighty-six years.

Mrs. Woods was born Catherine Patton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Patton, of Valcartier, on January 20, 1850. She was married to Mr. Samuel Woods on February 20, 1874, in the home where she continued to live until her passing.

MISSION WORK OUTLINED AT COWANSVILLE

Study Book "Tales from Trinidad" Reviewed at Regular Meeting of C.G.I.T.

Cowansville, April 30.—The first chapter of "Tales from Trinidad," the study book for "teen-age groups" in the United Church of Canada this year, was reviewed at the regular meeting of the C.G.I.T.

The story goes back to the year 1498, when Christopher Columbus, who was seeking a route to India and whose sailing vessels were threatened with destruction, alternately, by storm and deadly calm, vowed that the first land sighted would be dedicated to the Holy Trinity.

When the eventful day came Columbus said, "We shall call the land Trinidad." The day of his coming is celebrated on August 2nd each year as "Discovery Day."

Although Columbus discovered Trinidad, it remained for John Morton, a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Nova Scotia, Canada, to see the need for Christian missions amongst the lonely and religious East Indians. In 1897, Rev. John Morton, his wife and three-year-old daughter, Agnes, arrived in Princetown and commenced the missionary work, which has continued ever since.

The first W.M.S. missionary was Miss Annie Blackadder, who went out in 1867 and began a school at San Fernando with an enrolment of thirty-eight children.

The United Church is the only mission working among these East Indian people, who now number 145,000. The W.M.S. staff consists of eight missionaries and work is carried on in three stations. At San Fernando, the total enrolment in the Girls' High School was 306, including three whose families sought refuge here from Germany and Austria. At Princetown, the Iere Home cares for twenty-five girls.

At St. Augustine, the W.M.S. has a vocational school, the Archibald Institute, which was founded in 1931 and named after Miss Adella Archibald, who spent forty-five years serving the womanhood of Trinidad and who is still on the field, serving as her health permits.

There are about twenty-five groups of Trinidad Girls-in-Training carrying on mid-week activities.

At the business session, arrangements were made for the annual Mother and Daughter banquet.

REGINA DEADLOCKS ALLAN CUP SERIES

Fighting Spirit Lifts Westerners To 3-2 Win Over Seaside Sextette

Amateur Final Stalemate at Two Wins Apiece and One Tie—Millionaires Control Play Throughout Most of Game—Penalty to Ace Sydney Rearguard Gives Rangers Chance—Sixth Game at Regina Next Friday.

Regina, April 30.—An extra large load of fighting spirit is the reason Regina Rangers are all square today with Sydney Millionaires in the battle for the Canadian senior hockey championship.

A lot of courage lifted Rangers to a 3-2 win over the Eastern Canada champions here last night and deadlocked the best-of-five series for the Allan Cup at two wins apiece and one tie.

Coach Freddy Metcalfe has welded his castoffs, rookies and junior-age players into a smart hockey machine, but the fighting spirit he instilled into the team was the deciding factor last night.

The sixth game will be played in Regina Friday night. The long delay between the fifth and sixth games was made to allow Herman Grubn of Regina to attend the funeral of his mother in Winnipeg Thursday and return to Regina in time to participate in the deciding game.

Friday's game will be a sudden death affair for the Allan Cup. If there is a tie at the end of 60 minutes, 10-minute periods will be played until one team is ahead at the finish of one of the extra sessions.

Bill Gill's Millionaires controlled the play throughout most of last night's game and kept the puck in the Regina end for long spells in each period only to have Rangers smother scoring chances with their close checking.

With one minute and ten seconds to go, Coach Gill pulled out Goalie Bill Dickie and sent forwards into the attack. The Regina back-checkers blocked that offense and Rangers went ahead after six minutes of the first period when Grubn broke up a play at the Sydney blue line and then sent a pass ahead to Garth Bush who beat the Sydney netminder from close in.

About the nine-minute mark of the second period Mel Snowdon, Sydney Captain, was sent off for boarding. In two seconds of play Rangers scored the two goals that gave them a win. Scotty Cameron got the first on a rebound and Grant Warwick scored the other with a fast shot from the red line after sailing in right from the faceoff.

Two minutes later Millionaires took advantage of the only checking lapse by Rangers and rattled in two goals in thirty-seven seconds, both from scrambles at the edge of the Regina goal crease. Jack Atchison scored the first and he passed to Grant Hall for the second.

That ended the scoring for the game, but it was only the fight in the young Rangers that did it. They never wilted as Millionaires continued their gangling for the remainder of the second period and throughout the third.

The teams:
Regina: Bush, Sandelack, Kennedy, Kunkel, Bladon.
Sydney: McEachern, Fritz, Latoski, Atchison, Hall, Kowcinak.
Referee: Armstrong and Wheatley.

First Period
1—Regina, Bush (Grubn) .. 5:55
Penalties: Atchison, Bush.
2—Regina, Cameron (Kunkel) .. 9:15
3—Regina, Warwick .. 9:17
4—Sydney, Atchison (Fritz, Latoski) .. 11:25
5—Sydney, Hall (Atchison, McEachern) .. 12:02
Penalties: Snowdon, McEachern, Kunkel, Davidson.
Third Period
No score.
Penalty: Snowdon.

ROYALS FINISH FOREIGN STAND IN 2ND PLACE

Montreal Sweeps International Baseball League Series with Baltimore, Taking 7-5 Decision.

The International League clubs start the second phase of the campaign tomorrow strung out like clothes on a line.

After two weeks on the road, Rochester, Buffalo, Toronto and Montreal will celebrate their homecomings and dig in for a like stand against the other half of the league.

Newark's Bears are leading the parade today 2½ games ahead of the second-place Montreal Royals, with Jersey City, Buffalo and Rochester trailing in that order separated by half a game. Toronto, in sixth place, is a game and a half behind the Red Wings and a half game ahead of Syracuse Chiefs, who hold the same margin over Baltimore Orioles.

The Bears topped off their home stand yesterday with a 9-7 victory over Buffalo Bisons to take the series three games to one.

Buffalo staged a gallant uphill fight, after the Bears had amassed an 8-0 lead in the first five innings, and had the tying run on first with two out in the ninth. Johnny Johnson won for the Bears at that point, however, and struck out Bob Patrick to end the game.

The resurgent Rochester Red Wings took their third straight game from the Chiefs, 4-2, on the strength of first baseman Harry Davis' home run with two men on. Hal Feldman, 21-year-old right-hander, chalked up his third victory as the Jersey Giants trounced Toronto 9-3. He yielded only eight hits and had a shut-out until the ninth.

Montreal Royals swept their series with Baltimore taking a 7-5 decision with the help of some brilliant relief pitching by young Chet Kohn.

The Royals belted Clyde Small and Ken Trinkle for 12 hits, which, coupled with four Baltimore errors, made the job comparatively easy.

Tattle tales: In six months as welterweight Champ, Fritz Zivic has collected $63,100 for eight fights, which is nice clocking for the lighter divisions. Bill Terry, who needs infield insurance, is looking longingly toward Chicago and Billy Herman.

JOEL OF THE TRACKS

Hoople's Derby Forecast Has Sporting World In Dither

By MAJOR AMOS HOOPLE)
Veteran Claiming Expert
Upside Downs, Ecuador, April 29.
—Har-rumph!

One's fame follows one wherever one goes, Egad! I came to this delightful track in the Ecuadorian foothills to watch the claiming races and make a few claims regarding this and that.

But no sooner had I arrived than my editor requested that I select the winner of the Kentucky Derby, May 3. So, without qualms or any further ado, I give you the order of finish:

OUR BOOTS
KING COLE
PORTER'S CAP

I expect a photo finish at Churchill Downs, an afternoon partly cloudy with possible showers and a great many all-out hangers, hake-af!

Your correspondent is opposed to the methods of most handicappers who explain their choices with such vague phrases as "This is the spot," "Throw last race out" and, oh, yes, "My three-star special!"

Egad, what sort of reasons are those? I provide clients with solid reasons based upon careful analysis and painstaking scrutiny.

Facts are what we want. Your handicapper (I am referring to myself) relegates to the scrap heap ideas which are not pertinent arms his followers with indisputable figures compiled in the light of concentration on known factors. (Ed. Note: Do you know what he is talking about?)

I have long retained a wisp of advice which one of my grandfather Hooples passed on to me from one of his grandfathers. Jove, he was a canny chap! I believe he once won a derby with a steed he haltered at old Shoshone Bay, but I am told the hat was not a very good fit.

My grandfather's grandfather was quite a halter man. Several times he incurred some unpleasantness by haltering the wrong horses at night, but in this way he managed to set himself up in an ice business and thrived quite well.

The demand for ice boomed just before July 4 in the thirst-salons of the bygone era. My grandfather's grandfather had to visit a great many of these oases—on business, of course—and inevitably returned home on his hands and knees.

This was a trick in equilibrium he learned from observing horses walk on all fours.

My grandfather was something of a wag. One fine July evening, when his grandfather was proceeding from the stable to the house as usual on his hands and knees, my grandfather asked some such highly original question as "Hot enough for you, gramp?"

My grandfather's grandfather gave my grandfather a long searching look, and replied in his rich baritone:

"Grandson, when are you going to begin thinking with your head?"

Haw! Ever since my grandfather related that tale, I have taken special pains to "think with my head," to coin a phrase.

And now, my advance to you, at this writing, such inescapable and unanswerable logic in support of my choices for the Derby.

And now, um-kum! Farewell! And don't forget to wager $2 for your veteran clocker!

Whirlaway's Stock Soars as Unusual Field Rounded Out for 67th Running of Blue Grass Classic.

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—(AP)—In spite of his defeat in the Derby trial mile, Whirlaway's Kentucky Derby stock rose today as the most unusual field in the memory of the oldest inhabitants was rounded out for Saturday's 67th running of the Blue Grass classic.

Every one of the twelve horses expected to go to the post before an anticipated record crowd of 100,000 at Churchill Downs in this renewal of the chase after the rainbow of roses had a "yarn" behind him to make this the "different Derby" with any colt in the race given a chance to hit the jackpot.

Hoople's Derby Forecast Has Sporting World In Dither

By MAJOR AMOS HOOPLE)
Veteran Claiming Expert
Upside Downs, Ecuador, April 29.
—Har-rumph!

One's fame follows one wherever one goes, Egad! I came to this delightful track in the Ecuadorian foothills to watch the claiming races and make a few claims regarding this and that.

But no sooner had I arrived than my editor requested that I select the winner of the Kentucky Derby, May 3. So, without qualms or any further ado, I give you the order of finish:

OUR BOOTS
KING COLE
PORTER'S CAP

I expect a photo finish at Churchill Downs, an afternoon partly cloudy with possible showers and a great many all-out hangers, hake-af!

Your correspondent is opposed to the methods of most handicappers who explain their choices with such vague phrases as "This is the spot," "Throw last race out" and, oh, yes, "My three-star special!"

Egad, what sort of reasons are those? I provide clients with solid reasons based upon careful analysis and painstaking scrutiny.

Facts are what we want. Your handicapper (I am referring to myself) relegates to the scrap heap ideas which are not pertinent arms his followers with indisputable figures compiled in the light of concentration on known factors. (Ed. Note: Do you know what he is talking about?)

I have long retained a wisp of advice which one of my grandfather Hooples passed on to me from one of his grandfathers. Jove, he was a canny chap! I believe he once won a derby with a steed he haltered at old Shoshone Bay, but I am told the hat was not a very good fit.

My grandfather's grandfather was quite a halter man. Several times he incurred some unpleasantness by haltering the wrong horses at night, but in this way he managed to set himself up in an ice business and thrived quite well.

The demand for ice boomed just before July 4 in the thirst-salons of the bygone era. My grandfather's grandfather had to visit a great many of these oases—on business, of course—and inevitably returned home on his hands and knees.

This was a trick in equilibrium he learned from observing horses walk on all fours.

My grandfather was something of a wag. One fine July evening, when his grandfather was proceeding from the stable to the house as usual on his hands and knees, my grandfather asked some such highly original question as "Hot enough for you, gramp?"

My grandfather's grandfather gave my grandfather a long searching look, and replied in his rich baritone:

"Grandson, when are you going to begin thinking with your head?"

Haw! Ever since my grandfather related that tale, I have taken special pains to "think with my head," to coin a phrase.

And now, my advance to you, at this writing, such inescapable and unanswerable logic in support of my choices for the Derby.

And now, um-kum! Farewell! And don't forget to wager $2 for your veteran clocker!

"DAVID HARUM" NUGENT AGAIN GETS RESULTS

Three Players Obtained from Brooklyn in Sale of Kirby Higbe Perform Yeoman Service for Phils.

Philadelphia, April 30.—(AP)—It looks like President Gerry Nugent of the Phillies put over another of his famed "David Harum" deals in selling pitcher Kirby Higbe to Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers last fall for $100,000 and three players.

While Higbe has lost two of his three starts for the Dodgers, the three players Brooklyn threw into the deal—pitchers Bill Crouch and Vito Tamulis and catcher Thompson "Mickey" Livingston—have done yeoman work for the Phils.

Crouch, making his first start of the season yesterday, twirled a masterful four-hitter against Pittsburgh to pull the Phils out of the cellar.

Thus it appears that what Nugent calls "extra yardage" in getting virtually unknown players in a deal again will pan out for the Phils. To give a few examples, that's how he got Dolph Camilli from the Cubs for Don Hurst back in 1934; Claude Passeau from Pittsburgh in 1937; and Higbe and Joe Marty from the Cubs in 1939 for Passeau after the latter developed into a star.

In between the widely separated swats—by Lonnie Frey and Frank McCormick—he allowed only two harmless singles and the Dodgers whooped their way to their eighth consecutive triumph 13-2.

The victory, second in a four-game series, enabled the Dodgers to hold a half-share in first place in the National League. St. Louis Cardinals won their Eastern invasion by nudging out New York Giants 5-4, came out with the same percentage because they have played fewer games.

A four-run rally by the Cards in the fourth, when they made five hits including a triple by Martin Marion, was the crusher.

Brooklyn Bees, experts at prolonging games into extra innings, conquered Chicago Cubs 6-3 when Sebbie Sisti socked a homer in the 11th with two team-mates aboard.

Rookie Bill Crouch, who was one of the anchors attached to the bundle of cash Brooklyn gave Philadelphia for Kirby Higbe, pitched four-hit ball as the Phils plastered Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2.

Cleveland Indians maintained their firm hold on the American League lead with their fifth straight victory. They made 15 hits, five more than they had accomplished in any other game this season, to swamp Philadelphia Athletics 8-3.

More interest, however, was attached to St. Louis Browns beating New York Yankees 3-2 in spite of the three-hit pitching of Lefty Gomez, who previously had won twice without a defeat. Gomez was opposed by 24-year-old Bob Harris, who scattered five hits. The defeat dropped the Yanks into third place as Chicago White Sox curbed Washington Senators 3-2 on the seven-hit pitching of Lefty Thornton Lee. Joe Kuhel drove in two of the winners' runs with a homer and a single.

Detroit Tigers shattered the 15-year-old jinx of Lefty Grove to beat Boston Red Sox 5-2, scoring all their runs off the veteran south-paw star in the first three innings. Young John Gorsica hurled eight-hit ball for the Tigers and survived late-inning homers by Ted Williams and Jim Tabor.

BOSTON BASEBALL CLUB CHANGES NAME
Boston, April 29.—(AP)—Now that the Boston National League baseball club, called the Bees, has its much-needed new working capital, it again wants to be known as the Braves, the time-honored cognomen that was discarded during its bankruptcy days of five years ago.

"I have been ordered by my new stockholders to kick Bees out the window," Bob Quinn announced as soon as his new associates elected him Club President. "They insist that we again be called the Braves and, from today on, don't refer to our ball park by any name except Braves Field."

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Luke Hamlin, Dodgers—Pitched four-hit ball to beat Reds.
Chet Laabs, Browns—Hit home run in eighth to whip Yankees.
Thornton Lee, White Sox—Stopped Senators with seven-hit hurling.
Sebastian Sisti, Bees—Hit home run with two on in 11th inning to defeat Cubs.
Bill Crouch, Phillies—Held Pirates to four hits.

Turtles cover their eggs with mud and vegetation and leave them to hatch under the heat of the sun.

Today's guest star
John Drohan, Boston Traveler; "The Italian influence on the Yankees is so strong now, what with Joe DiMaggio, Marius Russo, Phil Rizzuto and Frank Crosetti, it wouldn't be diplomatic to ask any of the Yanks out to eat in a Greek restaurant."

Indianapolis, Ind., April 30.—(AP)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corporation announced today that Rene LeBeque and Jean Trevoux, French automobile race drivers, had cabled their entry in the 500-mile race Decoration Day and were trying to get passage on an American export liner to leave Lisbon, Portugal, Friday.

LeBeque advised that his two six-cylinder French Talbot racing cars have been cleared. Speedway officials said that the foreign department of the American Automobile Association and the French Consulate in Washington, were helping the drivers get reservations from Lisbon.

LeBeque, with Rene Dreyfus driving relief, piloted a French car into tenth place in last year's race.

Luke Hamlin Hurls Dodgers To Eighth Consecutive Win

Brooklyn Routs Cincinnati 13-2 and Holds Half-Share in First Place in National League—Cardinals Nudge Giants 5-4 to Tie Dodgers—Indians Maintain American League Lead, Swamping Athletics 8-3.

Last June Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin was fined $500 by President Larry MacPhail of Brooklyn Dodgers for throwing a "home run ball."

Specifically the charge was that the veteran righthander was not giving his best efforts when he blew a 4-0 lead against St. Louis Cardinals one humid afternoon at Ebbets Field. Hamlin refused to pay and went into hiding for six days, until mediators patched up the breach and MacPhail revoked the fine.

Altogether 19 home runs were hit off Hamlin's pitching during the 1940 season and during the winter the club sought to trade him.

But yesterday Hamlin fed two home run balls in one game to the World Champion Cincinnati Reds and nobody even as much as murmured.

In between the widely separated swats—by Lonnie Frey and Frank McCormick—he allowed only two harmless singles and the Dodgers whooped their way to their eighth consecutive triumph 13-2.

The victory, second in a four-game series, enabled the Dodgers to hold a half-share in first place in the National League. St. Louis Cardinals won their Eastern invasion by nudging out New York Giants 5-4, came out with the same percentage because they have played fewer games.
