World News In Brief

London, June 11—(CP)—Faced with Britain's worst industrial crisis since the war, the government today was expected to make a final appeal to rail union leaders urging them to call off the "Sunday strikes" which threaten to cripple transportation in the United Kingdom.

Labor minister George Isaacs last night rejected a request by the railwaymen's union for government intervention in the strikes. He drafted a reply to the union calling for its immediate withdrawal of support of the Sunday strikes.

Windsor, England, June 11 (AP)—Princess Margaret yesterday urged a group of school girls to do all the travelling they can. Travel is "an adventure," the King and Queen's younger daughter said during a visit to the Princess Margaret Rose day school, named for her. The Princess is reported planning a trip to the United States next autumn. She recently returned from a holiday in Italy and France.

Belleville, Ont., June 11—(C.P.)—Two brothers, John and Glen Maxwell, were burned to death when fire destroyed their home on the outskirts of this city early today.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Maxwell, and another brother, Ron, escaped by fleeing down the front stairs of the two-story brick house.

John, 19, and Glen, 12, attempted to escape by coming down the back stairs into the kitchen. Mr. Maxwell said he met them in the kitchen but somehow got separated from them.

Quebec, June 11—(C.P.)—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities yesterday concluded its 12th annual convention with election of its officers for next year.

Mayor George C. MacLean of St. Boniface, Man., was elected president of the Federation by more than 400 mayors of municipalities who attended the convention.

Mayor P. H. Boivin of Granby, Que., was named honorary treasurer.

Trieste, June 11—(AP)—Italian premier Alcide de Gasperi told a political campaign rally last night "the Italian government awaits the return of Trieste." His address climaxed a campaign for the free city's first municipal elections in 27 years, scheduled for tomorrow. Britain and the United States have urged the return to Italy of this east-west trouble spot.

Tokyo, June 11—(AP)—Fifteen Japanese war criminals, including two convicted in the Bataan death march, were hanged at Sugamo prison recently. Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said today. The two hanged for responsibility in the death march were Maj. Gen. Yoshitake Kawane and Col. Kuratary Hirano.

Wider Nationalization Is Planned By Labor Party

By ALAN HARVEY
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 Blackpool, England, June 11—(AP)—Britain's ruling Labor party yesterday wound up its annual conference with approval of a platform calling for further government ownership.

Party leaders prepared for a battle on two fronts—against the Conservatives in the next general election and against the party's own tendency to split up.

The Labor platform proposals for next year's election were left in the hands of the party's executive committee for the final drafting. They call for state ownership of most life insurance, cement making, sugar refining, water supplies, meat wholesaling and minerals.

During the last four years of Labor rule the government has taken over many industries, including coal, railways, electricity, gas, the world-wide communications of the cable and wireless company and airlines. A proposal to take over the steel industry is pending.

Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, said the party's platform might be modified "in the light of economic conditions that may obtain" at election time.

Man Linked With U.S. Spy Investigation Found Dead; Suicide Verdict Is Returned

Drew Calls For Details On Canadair

Esplanade, Ont., June 11—(AP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, in a political address here last night quoted from a government Order-in-Council which he said was "secret" and which authorized Trade Minister Howe personally to conclude the sale of Montreal's Canadair aircraft plant.

Calling upon Mr. Howe to make public the details of the sale, he said the order was passed Jan. 21, 1947, and never was tabled in the House of Commons or printed in the Canada Gazette.

Mr. Drew quoted from the order in respect of his shares in the $22,000,000 aircraft plant, which was operated by the government, had been sold to the Electric Boat Company of the United States for a fraction of its actual value.

(In a political address at Hamilton last night, Mr. Howe denied Mr. Drew's statement that the sale was secret and that no tenders were called. He said the government asked Canadair's original director to form a corporation strong enough to survive. This was done through Electric Boat on a lease-option arrangement.)

Mr. Drew again asked "why were no Canadian aircraft manufacturers given a chance to buy this plant and carry out the construction of aircraft required for the Royal Canadian Air Force and Trans-Canada Air Lines."

He also wanted to know why Mr. Howe chose "to deal with the Electric Boat Company, which specialized in the construction of submarines."

Later, speaking in the northern Ontario town of Timmins, Mr. Drew renewed his demands for devaluation of the Canadian dollar and said the government has "perpetrated a shameful fraud on the people of Canada which is limiting the production of every gold mine in the country."

There was no reason why Canadian gold should be sold below its "real worth on the international market."

There was an outbreak of heckling during the Timmins meeting and a group of alleged Labor-Progressive party workers hung a sign over the balcony of the meeting hall which read: "Remember Ronald Bennett's defeat Drew."

When a member of the audience shouted "give 'em hell, George," a girl replied: "You haven't got a chance."

Mr. Drew told the gathering: "That tiny handful of Communists should go back to Russia and stay there."

90 Days For 160 Beetles

London, June 11—(Reuters)—Elphinstone Gilmour, 26-year-old nephew of the Royal Society of Entomologists, yesterday was sentenced to three months in prison for stealing 160 beetles from the London Natural History Museum.

Morton E. Kent, Mentioned in Coplon Trial, Found With Throat Slashed in Potomac River.

Washington, June 11—(AP)—Police said today that one of the men mentioned in the Judith Coplon trial yesterday had committed suicide here last week.

He was Morton E. Kent, 48, Chevy Chase, Md., whose throat-slashed body was found floating in the Potomac river last Saturday. District coroner Macdonald pronounced the case a suicide.

Kent was a Russian-born former state department aide. Top-secret documents of the F. B. I., read at the Coplon espionage trial yesterday said he had been in contact with Russian secret police.

Kent was a Harvard graduate and spoke nine languages. He joined a private firm here five years ago after working for both the state and labor departments and for the board of economic warfare.

North Hatley Man Given $6,150 Award

Montreal, June 11—In two sections united for hearing in Superior Court, Mr. Justice Frederick T. Collins yesterday (1) condemned Sheffield Woollens, Limited, to pay Frank Johnson, manufacturer, North Hatley, $6,150 for failure to fulfil a contract under which Johnson was engaged as technical adviser and production manager at the Sheffield Woollens, Waterville mill, for eight years, at a salary of $150 a week; and (2) awarded Johnson Woolen Mills, Limited, $4,964 because J. L. Gewurz and David Bosen, from whom the company leased a mill at Waterville, did not install in the building a sprinkler system, allegedly in accordance with the terms of the lease.

Judge Collins said that while there was no specific provision in the lease calling for the installation of a sprinkler system, defendants were liable in damages under Article 1626 of the Civil Code, which declared that a landlord must act as a "good administrator" of his property, "and" the judge said, "prudent administration of the building in question called for adequate protection against fire."

The company plaintiff, the court noted, had, as substitute for a sprinkler system, engaged an engineer and night watchman at a cost of $4,964 and the judge said defendants were liable towards the company plaintiff for that amount.

The building in question was destroyed by fire March 19, 1948, subsequent to the taking of the present action. In consequence, the court was not called upon to adjudicate on the company plaintiff's demand for cancellation of the lease.

In the case of Frank Johnson, Mr. Justice Collins rejected the plea of Sheffield Woollens, Limited, that it was impossible to carry out the contract of engagement as, for reasons beyond the defendants' control, the firm had not been able to obtain certain machinery and wool essential for running the mill. His Lordship said that while it might have been impossible for a period of 18 months or two years to obtain the necessary machinery and yarn, the court was satisfied by the evidence that the contract for Johnson's services could have been fulfilled ultimately. Plaintiff was awarded $6,150 on a claim for $8,400.

Violence Marks Shipping Strike

Gunfire marked a fresh outbreak of violence in Vancouver yesterday as the Canadian Seamen's Union strike against the Shipping Federation of Canada entered its 11th week.

The west-coast action, during which two rifle bullets just missing a squad of police brought the strike back into the headlines almost a week after the Communist-inspired C.S.U. was suspended by its parent body, the Trades and Labor Congress.

Forty officials held a C.S.U. force at bay while a crew from the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) boarded the freighter Rockside. A policeman was knocked off his feet and several seamen were bruised and bloodied during the skirmish.

Also from Vancouver came a report that the C.S.U. had offered to settle the strike in that port on the basis of interim agreements reached with the captains of two vessels, the triport and Lakeside.

Meanwhile, there were reports of shipping operators' troubles abroad being cleared up, except in the United Kingdom where the situation is troublesome with 10,000 dock workers out at Liverpool.

Party H.Q.'s Operate At Top Speed

By DOUGLAS HOW
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, June 11—(AP)—A few blocks apart in downtown Ottawa are the nerve centres of the campaigns three political parties are waging for federal power.

A reporter visited them this week and found the national headquarters of the Liberal party operating a flock of stenographers in two shifts, that of the Progressive Conservative party averaging 100 long distance phone calls daily, that of the C.C.F. coasting tranquilly, over the hump.

At Liberal headquarters pictures of Liberal leaders looked down on men moving occasionally from one office to another, on busy typists, office boys and a switchboard girl who kept saying "yes Senator... yes Senator" for some time.

A spokesman said the normal staff of 15 has been boosted to 25 plus casual help and that the tempo will keep its pace until about a week before June 27. Senior members of the staff work 12-hour days, keeping two shifts of stenographers at work.

At Progressive Conservative headquarters national secretary Dick Bell said he figures he talks by phone to every province at least once a day.

Eight senior officials work daily from 9 a.m. to midnight. The regular staff of 17 has been swollen by 12 clerks, shippers, stenographers and other workers.

C.C.F. headquarters had the serenity of a library. Research secretary Lorne Ingle said the emphasis moved out to the provincial and local headquarters after May 30. He figured any party still sending out literature is "behind the times."

U.K. May Ship Arms To Arabs

Lake Success, June 11—(AP)—Britain is considering resumption of small arms shipments to Arab states, informed sources here and in London said yesterday.

United Nations officials said British representative Six Alexander Cadogan called on the U.N.'s Palestine mediator, Ralph Bunche, to ask his opinion. Cadogan is understood to have told Bunche his government feels the recent armistice signed with Transjordan and Iraq opened the way for the lifting of the U.N. arms embargo.

These informants said Bunche answered that, in his opinion, the arms embargo is still in effect. Cadogan is said to have pointed out that Britain has contracts to supply arms to some of the Arab countries and that the countries involved are pressing for delivery.

A British spokesman said "a decision has been reached or will be reached shortly to send a limited quantity of small arms" to Iran and Transjordan "for internal use only." This, he said, would follow the precedent set by France recently in sending small arms to Syria.

The spokesman said Britain felt such action would not violate the U.N. cease-fire since neither the type of arms nor the quantity would be of a nature to jeopardize peace in the Middle East.

He said he did not feel any Security Council action was necessary to authorize shipment of the arms in question.

Agricultural Scientists Wage War On Pulpwood Forest Killer

By HAROLD MORRISON
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, June 11—(AP)—A killer that is destroying Canada's pulpwood forests—ruining $100,000,000 worth of spruce and balsam each year—is about to be blighted by the greatest attack agriculturists can muster.

The attack will be launched from a special laboratory, now being constructed at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and will be waged throughout the eastern provinces where the killer, an insect called the spruce budworm, has reigned for the last 40 years.

The insect is a native of the Gattineau valley forests about 200 miles north of Ottawa. Swarms of them have spread west, reaching into the eastern borders of Manitoba, and east into New Brunswick.

"Causing damage as great as fire," said Dr. J. J. de Gryse, one of the blitz leaders, "the budworm strips the trees of their foliage, eats the buds and leaves a grey, dry devastation that burns at the first strike of lightning."

"The insect is all over Ontario and Quebec," said Dr. de Gryse. "It now is in New Brunswick and is on the New Brunswick coast."

Dramatic Move By Russia Expected At Paris Meeting

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

Paris, June 11—(AP)—Western officials look for a new dramatic move by Russia when the council of foreign ministers reconvenes tomorrow.

Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia had asked before adjournment yesterday that no meeting be held today. His western colleagues agreed to the Russian diplomat's cryptic request.

A Russian press officer was asked why Vishinsky wanted an adjournment until Sunday afternoon.

"He wanted the day off, that is all," was the answer.

Western officials speculated that Vishinsky, after consulting with the Kremlin, might make a move that could change the course of the Paris conference.

They noted these aspects of Vishinsky's call for a one-day recess:

It came soon after state secretary Dean Acheson of the United States warned that the days of the conference were numbered unless Russia gives ground.

"We are here to deal with realities, the blunt facts of a situation and not to engage in some form of diplomatic minuet," said Acheson.

Secondly, Vishinsky's request was made immediately after the conference had reached a near-deadlock on three German issues before council. These were four-power control in a politically and economically reunited Germany; Berlin and the currency question; and preparation of a German peace treaty.

Vishinsky explained his request yesterday merely by saying he was going to be "busy." Western officials suggested he could "busy" himself by seeing some Russian emissary in Paris, or awaiting word from some top-level policy conference taking place in the Kremlin on the basis of reports he may have sent to Moscow last night.

The United States has insisted that the foreign ministers meetings adjourn at the end of next week.

A senior east-European diplomat, however, told a reporter: "I don't think the conference will end next week." He said he had lunch with Vishinsky three days ago.

London, June 11—(AP)—More than 100 warships of the Brussels-pact powers will assemble June 30 for their first peacetime defence exercises.

"It will be an assembly typical of the solidarity of the western union, setting a precedent in peacetime collaboration among navies which has no historical parallel," the Admiralty announced last night.

About 22,000 men, including the crews of seaborne aircraft, will take part in the defence games. The main exercise will be the Bay of Biscay, with smaller mine sweeping manoeuvres in the English Channel.

Bicentennial Of Goethe Is Major Event

New York, June 11—(AP)—More than a score of the keenest minds of the 20th century will assemble soon in a Colorado resort to study the philosophy and writings of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.

The occasion is the 200th anniversary of his birth. The place is Aspen, 7,800 feet high in the Rocky Mountains. The purpose is to discuss and evaluate the relation of the work of Germany's greatest writer to the problems of the modern world.

Goethe, who was born in 1749 and who died in 1832, has been described by Robert Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, as "the world's last truly universal man." He is best known for his drama, "Faust," on the theme of man's striving, failure and eventual redemption.

The international Goethe bicentennial convocation and music festival opens June 27 and continues until July 16. It is sponsored by the Goethe Bicentennial Foundation, of which Hutchins is chairman.

The convocation is to study every phase of Goethe's life. Besides examining him as a writer and philosopher, it will investigate his knowledge of natural sciences and his political and spiritual views.

In connection with the anniversary, the Foundation also is arranging for a modern English translation of Goethe's most important works, to be published in a ten-volume edition.

Canadian Is Named To Head World Farmers' Federation

By CAMERON JAMES
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

Guelph, Ont., June 11—(AP)—World farmers yesterday ended their conference in this southern Ontario agriculture centre with the adoption of a program calling for aggressive action to solve the world's food needs.

Delegates from 23 nations attending the third annual conference of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers voted for a "determined effort" by the Federation and the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization to establish inter-government commodity agreements as a basic means of attaining the main objective.

The conference unanimously elected Dr. Herbert H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, as president of I.F.A.P.

Dr. Hannam began his career as a farm boy a few miles from the Ontario Agricultural College, scene of the conference. He succeeds Sir James Turner of London, England, who has guided the organization since its inception in 1946.

Development and administration of commodity agreements—similar to the international wheat agreement—will be based on an American plan submitted during the conference. Coupled with this is a Canadian plan, also submitted during the conference, which calls for "special action" to deal quickly

Lowering Of Farm Prices Seen In U.K.

By STUART UNDERHILL
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, June 11—(AP)—Britain's food ministry has a planning headache to match its £1,407,000,000 ($5,628,000,000) yearly business responsibilities.

Next year, in collaboration with the ministry of agriculture, it must set the minimum prices that farmers are to receive for deliveries of milk, cattle, sheep, pigs and eggs in 1954.

Some Whitehall observers are predicting that the ministries will "talk tough"—that farm prices which have climbed steadily since 1939 will begin to point down.

But they must also try to retain the good will of the agriculture industry, which is counted on to expand production steadily and help reduce food imports from dollar areas.

Actual prices are set following a yearly review with the national farmers union, but they cannot fall below the minima set in advance. Where poultry and livestock products are concerned, the agriculture act of 1947 provides that the scale must be known four years in advance, in order to help producers plan ahead.

Such lengthy safeguards are not provided in the case of the other agricultural products for which the act orders price guarantees—wheat, barley, oats, rye, potatoes and sugar beet.

Of the grain crops, wheat is most tightly controlled by the food ministry, which buys from the farms and handles distribution to the millers. It is also the crop most encouraged, even to the sacrifice of land better suited to livestock.

Other crops are bought only when the farmers are unable to find normal outlets at minimum prices.

Meat is another commodity that is rigidly controlled, its purchase and distribution being handled by wholesale meat associations in which the ministry is the majority shareholder.

Vikings Will Invade Britain

Ebbfleet, Kent, England, June 11—(AP)—Vikings will invade Britain again this summer—1,500 years after the first longboats struck terror into Celtic hearts.

It will be a peaceful "invasion," arranged by tourist authorities of Denmark and the United Kingdom, to commemorate the landing near here in 449 A.D. of Hengist and Horsa and their fearsome warriors.

A Viking ship, replica of that which landed on the Isle of Thanet off the Kentish mainland under Hengist's command, is being built in a Danish shipyard, and will be manned by 50 of Denmark's finest oarsmen.

Exact landfall and date of the "invasion" have yet to be decided. Date will depend on tides and weather and will fall sometime near the end of July.

To the 449 invasion and the various Viking incursions which followed it, Britain today owes the fundamental structure of her language, many of the physical characteristics of her people and many of her political institutions.

The Viking influence in Britain, following the collapse of Roman government in England, was the dominant factor in national life until the arrival of William of Normandy five centuries later.

With the problem of distribution of existing overabundant food supplies to needy countries.

The conference also made recommendations for stabilization of agricultural prices.

J. K. Knowles, United Kingdom delegating the National Farmers' Union, said at the closing session that proposals respecting commodity agreements and stabilization of prices were not new. I.F.A.P. had endorsed programs supporting them in previous conferences.

To develop a practical marketing system which would prevent the possibility of farmers being forced to reduce food production, the conference recommended:

"That the basic methods used to achieve expanding international trade in agricultural products at stable prices should be inter-governmental commodity agreements."

Such agreements should provide for:

1. A clause calling for co-ordination of all commodity agreements by an international agency. This agency is to be financed from a fund created by a transaction fee, half of it by the exporting country and half by the importing country.
2. Establishment of minimum and maximum prices for food within a range which would ensure flexibility and utmost freedom of trade.

The nation's newest craze, square dancing, had a quick flurry of popularity in the film colony but now the lads and lassies are back to the rhumba. Square dancing requires four couples for a square and, as one Hollywood-man put it: "I couldn't find four couples who didn't hate each other."

Jane Wyman's role in "Stage Fright" sounds almost as tricky as "Johnny Belinda." She plays a very bad actress who attends the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art to become a good actress. Mr. E. P. Lyon, Of Ayer's Cliff, Announced The Successful Conclusion Of The Red Cross Campaign There

Ayer's Cliff, June 11. — Mr. Elmer P. Lyon, chairman of the Red Cross campaign, has concluded another successful drive. The objective was set at one thousand dollars, this year, and of that objective, $722, was collected and forwarded to the Red Cross Headquarters.

It might seem that Ayer's Cliff district had let this worthy organization down so it is to be noted that a canvass was made for a worthy local family, and the sum of four hundred dollars was solicited, and is being administered, as needed. It was felt that this was really Red Cross work, and should be included in this report. The local Red Cross Society sent $30 direct to headquarters.

The canvassers for the district with their total receipts are as follows: Massawippi, Mrs. Jessye Taylor and Mrs. Galen Young solicitors, $156; Way's Mills, Mrs. Harry Emp, $92; Kingscroft, M. B. ## City Alive With Rumors As Stories About Fate Of Fontaine Boy Spread Sherbrooke yesterday was a city of rumors and all of them concerned six-year-old Michel Fontaine.

Reports that the Provincial Police homicide squad is investigating the possibility of foul play in the disappearance of the Eastman lad, who has not been seen since he went into the woods May 30, started stories as fantastic as they were many.

The Record, La Tribune, Provincial Police, the R.C.M.P. were kept busy all day long replying to the frequent queries concerning the fate of the farmer's son.

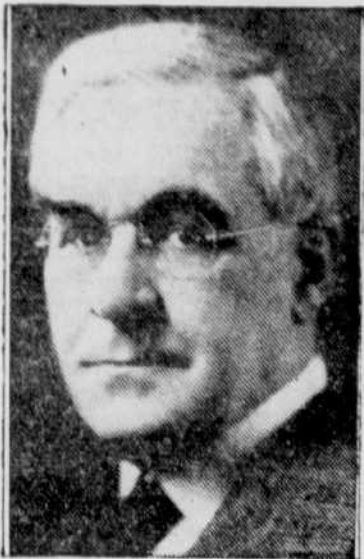

The most common rumor was that the boy had been found dead in a cabbage patch back of the Fontaine farm. Only there is no cabbage patch there.

Bones had been uncovered and shipped "to Ottawa" to determine whether they were human. Michel had been found with a bullet hole in his head. He had been found in the cellar at the farm house. The radio had stated he had been found dead.

One Record reporter who went to a restaurant for a sandwich could not get served until he returned to the office to check the rumors with the R.C.M.P. The fact that he had done this less than half an hour earlier made no difference.

Chamber Asks Everyone To Use Franchise

"Vote as you like... but VOTE!" was the message embodied in a broadcast entitled, "The Man Who Couldn't Vote," heard here Thursday night. The broadcast was one in a series, "Canadian Heritage," sponsored weekly by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

If there should ever appear in Canada a government that interfered with the fundamental rights of citizens, the broadcast stated, the fault would lie with those who failed to exercise their franchise. It added: "There are quite a number of people here in Canada who would like to get into power... and once they were in power, they would run things their way. Those people are a minority, but they get out and vote for their candidates."

Operettas, Awards Mark Closing Exercises Of L. H. S. Lower Grades

St. George's Church Hall, Lennoxville, was filled to overflowing last evening as relatives and friends gathered for the closing exercises of Lennoxville High School's lower grades, 1 to VI.

Following introductory remarks by the chairman, Mrs. D. McEirea, the pupils of Grades I, II and III, presented an operetta, entitled "A Day in Flowerdom."

The stage was attractively decorated with flowers and greens, while the children, in their lovely pastel costumes, looked like veritable flowers, besides acquitting themselves very favorably.

Grades IV and V also presented an operetta "The Golden Whistle," a charming fairy tale, bright and colorful, which the youngsters themselves seemed to enjoy as much as the audience.

It is apparent that Lennoxville has its share of potential singers and actors for, besides showing good training, the children seemed quite at home and evoked around the stage with ease, adding their own touch of originality to the catchy melodies.

A word must be said about the exceptionally attractive costumes. The lovely flowers, the cardinals, with their scarlet plumage and long yellow beaks, the butterflies, the rabbit, and of course the Fairy Queen. In fact all the characters seemed most convincing, and were evidence of the long hours of work which were necessary for the success of last evening's performance.

Much credit goes to the musical director, Mrs. Robert Bell, who also acted as accompanist to the teachers who coached the students, and to the children themselves.

The cast of the operetta was as follows: "A Day in Flowerdom"—Papa Jacques Rose, Mayor of Rose Garden, Robert Montgomery; Mama Jacques, his wife, Marsha O'Boyle; Pink Rose and White Rose, their daughters, Judy Beaudreau and Martha Hurley; "Lora, Queen of Flowerdom, Sherrine Ann Hadlock; Mile, Cricket, a Prima Donna, Alice Bassett; Miss Moss Rose, a spinster, Susan McCubbin; Miss Lilac and Miss Blue-Bell, Buds of Rose Arbor, Audrey Phillips, Diane Hunting and Barbara Moffatt; Mr. Sunflower, a gay Bachelor, John Cowans; Mr. Pansy, Master of Ceremonies, Gary Winslow.

Closing Exercises Held Yesterday At King's Hall School, Compton

Compton, June 11.—The closing exercises of King's Hall School for girls were held yesterday in the school assembly hall, before an overflow audience of students, their relatives and friends.

The afternoon meeting, at which prizes were awarded and a report by the head mistress on the school's activities for the year was heard, climaxed a busy day of convocation activities.

In her address to the members of the graduating class, Miss Adelaide Gillard, head mistress, charged them "to maintain high standards of speech, of manners, and of integrity in personal and public life."

"If girls like you, with your advantages of education and background, do not set the standards, to whom can this country look for fixed standards?" she asked. "It is you who should encourage a respect for learning and a respect for the best in art, literature and music."

"We have in Canada no aristocracy of birth, but we have an aristocracy of breeding and culture, which seems in danger of being lost. Whether it is to be maintained depends largely on the sense of responsibility, the power of leadership, and capacity for service of Canadians like you."

Miss Gillard reviewed the students' efforts of the past year in sports, academic work, and extracurricular activities.

She expressed the school's deep regret at the departure of four of the staff. Miss D. M. Jones, Miss M. Vaughan, Miss M. Michaud and Miss R. Vidal have made plans to leave the school.

The convocation activities were opened in the morning with a baccalaureate service conducted by Dean Kenneth Evans, of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal. The closing exercises in the afternoon were followed by a gym demonstration.

Winners of form prizes were: Arts matric, Cynthia Scott; science matric, Marilyn Wong; 6A, Clara Oaks; 6B, Elizabeth Creery; 5A, Heather Allan; 5B, Susy Gordon; 4B, Ann Rawlings; 3B, Sandra Stewart.

Proficiency awards went to: Deldre Nelson, Mary Ellen McDermid, Judy Morrell, M. Harris, A. Henderson, N. Robinson, B. Shipman, S. Strom, A. Thornton, T. Williams, S. Gray, G. Hebden, Jill Woods, Jane Gordon and Lynn Morris.

Canadian Art Theatre Makes E. T. Bookings

The Canadian Art Theatre's Summer Company, which toured many towns in the Eastern Townships last year, has announced that bookings for this summer have nearly all been completed and that Lennoxville has been added to the circuit. The Gertrude Scott Memorial Hall has been chosen as the Company's playhouse there and the first performance will be presented on Thursday evening, July 7th.

The opening play will be the famous Victorian thriller "Angel Street" by Patrick Hamilton, which took New York by storm a few years ago. This masterpiece of suspense, which later was made into a movie titled "Gaslight", has been directed by Joy Thomson, founder of the C.A.T. and has Bruce Raymond, Amelia Hall and Silvio Narizzano in the leading roles.

The Company will visit Lennoxville every second week, on Thursday evenings, and will bring five plays to this community throughout the summer. Magog will be visited every second Tuesday and Thursday, performances to be presented at the Lantern Inn.

On Tuesday, July 5, "Lily, the Felon's Daughter," a gay nineties melodrama, will be produced and on Thursday, July 7, "Angel Street" will be presented there. North Valley will be given shows every second Wednesday, starting July 6, with "Angel

THE RUSSIANS MOVE IN CHINA

After a long period behind the scenes, Moscow at last appears getting set to take a major hand in the development of a China that rapidly is coming under the control of the Chinese Communist armies sweeping down from the North.

Thus far the Russians have maintained a carefully designed keep-out policy but within the past few days a responsible East European diplomat stationed in Paris hints that Deputy Prime Minister Molotov of Russia has been assigned to direct Russian activity in the Orient, which the diplomat claims will produce an early shift in the Moscow attitude of "aloofness" towards the Chinese Reds.

In itself the appointment of Molotov would lend support to this forecast and obviously the time has come to start organizing China as the keystone of Red influence in the Orient.

Heretofore Russia has played a very cautious game, perhaps due to the fact that Mao Tse-tung, Chinese Communist leader, has displayed Nationalist tendencies that do not fit in with the Russian edict that the sovereignty of communistic countries must rest with her. In short, there has been much speculation abroad as to whether Mao was developing into another Yugoslav Tito who would refuse to recognize Moscow's supremacy.

Time alone can tell whether this does indeed represent Mao's attitude. He always has practised fierce expropriation of holdings of landlords and the redistribution of land to the peasants. When critics say his party is out for agrarian reform only, he counters bluntly: "Make no mistake about it. Ours is a party of communism."

He has stated that once the Chinese Communists are in power they will deal equally with the Soviet and Western democracies. This may be his sincere attention, but it is significant that Russia lies right up against his northern border and furthermore he considers the United States his chief enemy because of the extensive military aid Washington has extended to the Nanking government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in the past.

However, it would be a justifiable forecast that Moscow intends to eschew strong-arm methods for the present and try to bring Mao whole-heartedly into the Soviet fold.

DIVIDING TAX REVENUES

Once again the demand that the provincial governments should make a "fair and equitable" allotment of the gasoline and automobile taxes to the municipalities is being heard, the latest exponent of this theory being Mayor E. A. Bourque, of Ottawa. His argument that the municipalities contribute extensively to the roadways that link highways and carry on many other services for the provincial governments undoubtedly has much in fact to support it. But his plan, like so many that have been presented in recent years, overlooks the fact that the money the province diverts to the municipalities must be replaced by taxation revenues elsewhere and that ultimately all these payments come from the same taxpayer.

Addressing the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, he uttered words that should cause the average individual to pause and think, especially when a pressure group demand for some municipal expenditure is advanced. Mayor Bourque, discussing the plight of the municipalities, declared:

"The question is how and where can we find new sources of revenues to keep up with increasing expenditures? Our citizens are becoming more exacting. They expect more services and better services and, in the case of certain municipalities, the demand for improvements and services has risen beyond all expectations with a resultant increase of property tax to an all-time peak."

This should be remembered by individuals and groups who are seeking the promotion of some particular idea by the municipality using the argument that the dominion and provincial governments may share in the costs. The money comes from the same taxpayers regardless of who collects it.

Admittedly there are many projects that by their very nature require the co-operation of two or more governing bodies, such as a comprehensive scheme of flood control, but when these are entered into it is folly for one party to claim they are getting something for nothing.

THE PROPHET

The role of the prophet is difficult. Consider the sad case of Mr. Coldwell. In 1937 he opposed an increase in armaments — did not believe that war was coming. British statesmen were, in his opinion, "trying to defend their own economic imperialism." Meanwhile Adolph Hitler (nee Schickelgruber) seized power, started to rearm.

Six years later, February 1, 1943, Mr. Coldwell wanted us to conscript capital as well as men. We were to carry on a political revolution and a war at the same time. What a man!

Mr. Coldwell proposed that when peace came we should spend $5,000,000,000 in two years to provide work for the unemployed. Checking inflation, which normally follows war, is a tough job. Mr. Coldwell's proposal would be the equivalent of putting kerosene soaked tinder on a fire, with the hope of putting it out.

The national income in 1938, the year before the war began, was $5,141 millions. By 1945, the year the war ended, the total was $11,614 million. This was the seed-bed of inflation into which Mr. Coldwell, in the first two years of peace, wanted to pour $5,000,000,000 of extra purchasing power.

Mr. Coldwell made a bad guess — he expected a depression, we got a boom. His approach was wrong. There is always a touch of strabismus in the Socialist point of view. Prosperity cannot be bought with money, it must be earned by increased production of goods and services. Mr. Coldwell's answer to that is that we should remove the profit motive. He has not yet told us why some men should save and invest more, while others would work harder and produce more merely because we removed the incentives which, under normal conditions, bring forth increased effort and action.

PRESS COMMENTS

A FAMILY RECORD

J. Wenham in London Times
You have recorded the death of Miss Marion Wenham at the age of 98. She was the last of a family of remarkable longevity. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Wenham, died in 1907 at the age of 102½. She had 11 children, one of whom died in infancy; the other ten reached an average age of exactly 90, the oldest living to within seven weeks of his 102 birthday, while the ages of five others ranged from 90 to 98.

The centenarian prudently purchased an annuity at the age of 80!

STILL OFF THE MAP

Charlottetown Guardian
A new Trans-Canada Air Lines circular, just received, shows that this organization, subsidized at the taxpayers' expense, is still studiously unaware of the existence of Prince Edward Island. On a map which purports to show not only TCA lines but "other air lines" as well, this province is not to be seen.

Attention to this omission has been called on other occasions. The subject has even been raised on the floor of the House of Commons. But apparently TCA is a law unto itself.

TOO MUCH SATISFACTION

Victoria Times
There is unquestionably a large measure of truth in the statement by Miss Emma Dunn, lecturer, teacher, writer and actress, that too much satisfaction with what we have now probably is depriving the world of many improvements. If "too much satisfaction" means complete complacency, then the condition which results is deprived of the spur of ambition and incentive. People who are too satisfied are inclined to drift comfortably through existence, contributing very little to improvement.

On the other hand, what does the opposite extreme offer? Too much dissatisfaction can produce wars, anarchy, jealousy and hatred. Converted to personal terms, it can be the stepping stone to stomach ulcers and the type of disposition which, though it undoubtedly influences people, seldom makes friends.

It all boils down to the principle of moderation. Too much of this or too much of that represents excess which creates a compensatory deficiency elsewhere. But it is a bit disquieting to think that conventional and satisfactory adjustment to life may be infinitely less beneficial to humanity than the mild or acute misery of those who are not satisfied.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me? —Jeremiah 32:27.

All is of God. If He but wave His hand, The mists collect, the rains fall thick and loud; Till, with a smile of light on sea and land, Lo! He looks back from the departing cloud. Angels of life and death alike are His; Without His leave they pass no threshold o'er; Who, then, would wish or dare, believing this, Against His messengers to shut the door? —Longfellow.

Under An Apple Tree

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

Recently I heard a friend describe one of his visits to the old homestead. "It was apple blossom time," he said, "and to see those old trees still stand thrilled me. Their fragrance filled the air. The old house was no more; only a ruined chimney remained. But those apple trees survived the March of Time. I like them."

APPLES HAVE A STORY

Of Apples that evening we talked. They have their story! When my friend remarked that people say that the apple caused all the trouble in the Garden of Eden, but the Bible does not say so, I recalled he was correct, even though men still have an Adam's apple in their throats!

History tells us that an apple, falling on the head of Sir Isaac Newton, as he sat under an apple tree, caused him to formulate the theory of gravitation. Not only in science or religion but even in national affairs the apple plays a large part. William Tell, of Switzerland, became famous for shooting an apple from his son's head. He never could have shot a grape; therefore, the apple all the way round, religion and science and sport, and in every other particular is the greatest of all the fruits and we owe to it an immense debt of gratitude.

When we wish to speak of a particular devotion we speak of someone as being the apple of one's eye! I have to smile when I think of King Solomon's association with apples. Sick of love, this man sighed: "Stay me with figs, comfort me with apples for I am sick of love!" Can't you picture the King with a jug of elder and a plate of apples finding therein more consolation than with all his three hundred wives and assistants?

QUALITY

Those who knew the history of apples remember that their story is writ to that of progressive development. The difference between the McIntosh Red and the first

McIntosh that was produced in Ontario by the man who found them one hundred years ago would be considerable. So, too, it is quality, and not quantity, that we need in our families and churches. In a word, character. Christian character. Towards this goal we must work unceasingly. And there is much to be done to improve things physical, mental, moral and spiritual. Happily a Canadian is one who can do what he will! A Christian Canadian has the advantage of the guidance and strength of the Holy Spirit. Our nation could be far greater were the Dictatorship of the Holy Spirit to be the rule. The Holy Spirit causes us to develop real insight, clear judgment, the courage to think and speak and act according to the standards of Christ. With Him to direct, we can solve all our problems.

MIRACLES

Apple blossoms are miracles! Can't you imagine them suggesting to us to grow? I remember reading that the poet, Longfellow, in old age, pointing to an apple tree in bloom, said: "That apple tree is very old but I never saw prettier blossoms on it than those it now bears. The tree grows a little new wood each year and I suppose it is out of that new wood that those blossoms come. Like the apple tree I try to grow a little new wood each year."

Grow in grace, then, these blossoms suggest. I suppose that God's greatest miracle is a saved man. For one who is converted is committed to grow according to the guidance of the Holy Spirit. He is saved to serve.

June days are priceless opportunities for thinking of this new life in Christ. Then the pageant of that marvellous renewal unto beauty, grace, and loveliness inspires us and we, too, take up the chorus that "God's in His heaven; the Holy Spirit is in the world." The days such as these I suspect that Saul Kane, the drunken prizefighter in John Masfield's wonderful story, "The Everlasting Mercy," when he listened to the kind and earnest word of the Quaker girl,

McKENNY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenny, America's Card Authority

HERE'S GOOD TIP ON DEFENSE PLAY

Today's hand on false-carding was selected from an article written by Alfred P. Sheinwald for The Bridge World. The article is entitled "Practical Bridge." However, it is also well-thought-out bridge of the type that will make the game more enjoyable for you.

If the opponents get all the cards and gaily bid for a game or a slam which is ice-cold, you are the loser. Not too many people like to lose. Too often, Mr. Sheinwald points out, players give up, while if they had their thinking caps on, they could defeat some supposedly ice-cold contracts. Then he gives today's hand.

On the opening lead of the ten of diamonds, declarer played the five-spot from dummy and East won with the king. East returned a club which West won with the ace. He continued with a club which declarer won. He took three rounds of trumps, winning the last in his own hand, and played a small spade toward dummy.

The mechanical player sitting West would simply put on the six-spot. Declarer would finesse the nine-spot and East would win with the queen. Now, when declarer won the next trick, he would finesse the jack of spades and make his contract.

However, if you want to defeat

The Record Short Story

REPAYMENT

By ALISSA KEIR

Susan had been adopted by the Ashburns when she was 8 and Joan Ashburn was 14. Susan's family and the Ashburns had lived in Centerville for a couple of generations and when Susan's parents were killed in an automobile accident, it had been natural for Susan to be taken to the Ashburns' comfortable, sprawling cottage with its gay garden surrounded by a white picket fence, until the matter of a permanent home for her could be arranged.

The long visit became an entering wedge for her legal adoption by the Ashburns, since it was found Susan had no kin but an Aunt Martha who lived quite a ways out of Centerville — a crochety, cranky old woman who elected to lead a hermit's life because she was mean and selfish and because she hated to spend a dollar of her small fortune. It was this latter weakness that, in the main, made her give in to the adoption of her small niece.

Tom Ashburn said to her quietly, "Growing girls are a big responsibility." He added, "You understand also there's no money for Susan's clothes, her keep or her education — which would amount to a considerable sum, until she is able to earn her own living." "Then why do you want her?" Aunt Martha had quavered with hands that trembled as she held on to her cane.

"Because we will never have another child and Susan would be a companion for Joan. Besides we have known her ever since she was born and we love her and we think she'd be happy with us." He didn't speak his thoughts, that he inwardly shuddered at the idea of condemning golden haired Susan to the awfulness of a life in a musty tomb of a place in which the windows were never opened from one year's end to another — where her only companion would be a eccentric old lady.

When Aunt Martha continued to look at him scrutinizingly, he added, "I own a hardware store on Main Street — also we sell electric appliances. I'm not a rich man but Susan will share in what I can afford to give my wife and daughter."

It had ended by Aunt Martha signing the papers relinquishing all claims to Susan. For a moment the Ashburns had wondered whether Joan might be come jealous of Susan. But when she was told the formalities were concluded and Susan was a member of the family, Joan had taken Susan in her arms with one of her rare gestures of affection.

"Now you're really my little sister," she had told Susan throatily, with a serious tenderness far beyond her years.

Right there and then Susan recognized the greatness of their gift to her and she had vowed to herself, in word of childhood, she must some day pay back to them in some measure what they had done for her.

They were a distinct foil for each other, Joan and Susan. Joan had always been a tall girl — tall and thin, with a soft gentle smile that would lighten up her quiet face surrounded by straight blue-black hair parted exactly in the center and rolled into a chignon after she grew up. She'd been an excellent student. She could have aspired to being a successful career woman, had she not elected to stay in Centerville.

Her family and friends accepted without demur her decision to stay at home — they realized shy, timid Joan wasn't made of the stuff to fight her way through a competitive world — she was working in the public library in Centerville, when Susan went to a big college in Michigan on a scholarship.

The Ashburn cottage had a lonesome calm without plump curly headed Susan, who was gay and merry from the time she woke up to the time she went to bed — who kept the telephone ringing constantly for the making of dates, which Joan never cared to share. The boys flocked around Susan, but she never had any particular beau. She played the field with scrupulous fairness.

"Your a flirt, Susie," Joan would say to her while a note of reproach crept into her voice, but she would look at Joan with admiring affection.

"I just can't help wanting men to like me. I was born that way."

Susan said apologetically. "Run along, Baby," Joan had laughed, pushing her out of the door. "Your gang is much too young for me — so have yourself a good time."

There weren't any older unmarried men in Centerville. They migrated to other towns, with bigger and better opportunities. "But Joan never seemed to care for boys even when she was my age," Susan said to herself. It bothered her to have Joan left out of everything. "She's such a swell gal — it would be terrible if she turned into an old maid," she worried. But there wasn't anything Susan could do about it. One needed to live under the same roof with Joan to realize how wonderful she was.

When Susan came home for her vacation after her first year, Tom Ashburn met her at the station, because Joan and her mother were busy with preparations for the big charity dance at the Country Club that night.

"Same old crowd — no fresh inhabitants?" Susan asked.

"Well, there's Hugh Sanders," Tom Ashburn said.

"Who is he?" Susan wanted to know.

"A bright young engineer in his early thirties working on some invention of his with Douglas McPherson at the Iron Works. McPherson asked us to put him up for a couple of weeks until there was a room for him at the hotel. Nice chap," he said. "It was pleasant having him."

"Of course, I remember. Joan wrote me about him. Any romance in the offing?" Susan asked eagerly.

"Maybe," Tom Ashburn shrugged. "Joan seemed to like him and he seemed to like her. They went around together all the time. Joan is quite different since Hugh came here. She's prettier and she's lost some of her shyness and that uncertain manner she's always had. Extraordinary what a beau can do for a girl," he said.

"How wonderful if they got married!" Susan cried in delight. "She couldn't find a better guy than Hugh," Tom Ashburn said as they drew up to the cottage almost hidden by the gray hollyhocks in bloom. "Too bad he can't be at the dance tonight. He had to go to a convention — he won't be back for a week."

In the excitement of Susan's homecoming and dressing for the dance there hadn't been time to talk about Hugh until Susan went to Joan's room and found her in a white gown with a wide silver belt that contrasted so well with her black hair. "Hi," Susan said with an approving twinkle. "That new dress certainly does something for you."

"I thought Hugh would be going with us. I made it all myself," Joan explained with a radiant smile.

"Joan certainly has changed," Susan said to herself. "Are you really in love with him, darling?" she probed tenderly. Joan nodded as a blush came over her cheeks. "And is he in love with you?" Susan asked.

"I think so," Joan said demurely. "I'll show you his picture, Susie," she suggested, pulling out a drawer of her bureau. Under the pane was hidden an enlarged snapshot of a tall, blond young man. Susan liked his quiet, intent face, the look of humor around his mouth. "Then your engaged?" she asked.

"Nice," Susan approvingly. "Not exactly," Joan hesitated. In a quiet voice she explained, "Hugh is an only child. His mother is a widow — she isn't strong enough to travel and she wants me to fly to New Orleans with Hugh when he goes home on his vacation next month and visit with her before we make any formal announcement."

"To look you over, eh?" Susan grinned. "But she won't be able to help loving you, darling," she said. "What's so bad about it?"

"I can't afford the trip," Joan said miserably. "We didn't tell you because there was nothing you could do about it, but business has been terrible. There's no building going on and people aren't buying anything but necessities. Dad doesn't even know about the invitation from Mrs. Sanders."

"Susan had a frown between her eyes. "I hate for him to be worried," she sighed. "Why would it take so much cash?" she puzzled.

"It's not only the fare but I'd want to look my best. Hugh comes from one of those enormous Southern families where they go in for first, second and third cousins and they seem to give parties at each other's houses all the time —"

"And so you need a whole outfit. Honey, with lots of evening dresses," Susan interrupted. Joan nodded her head. "That's just it," she murmured. "I couldn't meet them all and have Hugh ashamed of taking me around."

Susan sat staring for a moment. Then she deliberately reached across the bed where she had put her handbag. After she opened it, she pressed a roll of bills into Joan's hand.

"There, dearest sister of mine," she said affectionately, "next week we'll start to shop."

Joan looked at her in amazement. "Where did you get so much money?" she asked.

"Earned it," Susan answered placidly. "Tutoring the lazy daughters of the rich."

"But it's your money," Joan expostulated.

"Was my money," Susan said.

Activities of Legion Branches in the Eastern Townships

SHERBROOKE BRANCH, No 10
I read an interesting item this week in one of the papers. It seems they are turning Camp Erie, in Headley Downs, England, into a school for children. I am sure this will interest many graduates of the "Reform School of Characters" that the Canadian Army ran there! Many a "Character" spent 28 days vacation at Headley sent for a "rest" by some kindly Commanding Officer! Incidentally I never knew until the other day that the joint was known as Camp Erie. "Headley" was the only name I ever heard it called (I mean polite name) and everybody knew Headley meant the Detention Camp. If you said "Headley Downs" then they knew you were living on the west side of the road in the hutments of the Command.

The Pipe Band made an experimental recording the other day on a Tape Recorder. When played back it sounded exactly like the bombardment of Caen, with a faint sound of bagpipes in the distance (must have been the 9th Brigade moving up to their state line!).

The Branch will meet Monday June 20th, and it is hoped that all members will attend and listen to the Report of Provincial Convention, given by our delegation.

The 5th C.M.R. are holding their annual reunion on Saturday the 18th, with a Church Parade on the 19th. So if Sherbrooke is filled with a tinkling sound on those two days, it won't be "Pennies from Heaven," but just the jingling of the medals worn by the boys!

The 27th Armored Regiment (Sherbrooke Fusilier Reg't) are also holding their reunion on that date, but this year it is being held in the Victoria Rifles Armory in Montreal. As the veterans of War I haven't got their medals yet, any jingling sounds you hear round Cathcart street (named after Midgate Cathcart of the S.F.R.) will most likely be caused by ice cubes.

They must want me to keep on writing the Log, because so far nobody has sent me word where there is good fishing! OK boys. But just wait until I find a good place (and I already have a lead on one) I'm going A.W.L. and if you think I'm going to publish a map reference in this column, you're a bunch of wishful thinkers.

I'd better put this in before I forget it again! On their return match with the Legion a few weeks ago, the Battery erriage experts trimmed up the Legionnaires. So now I suppose they'll have to meet again on neutral ground for the final and deciding battle (Battle, said, not Battle!). Well, Comrades, the entertainment committee have informed me that a social evening is to be held tonight (Saturday June 11th) at the Legion Home at twenty-five cents per couple, now boys and girls, let's make this "Do" a big success.

On this social note, I will now close—Cheerio.

Kilroy.

Special Note—At last night's executive meeting, it was decided to hold a joint 5th C.M.R. and Legion Church Parade on Sunday, June 19th. This is a compulsory Parade and President Joe will like to see a good turnout. Fall-in William Street Armory, 10:30 a.m.

may be transfigured. Jesus one day told Nicodemus that you must be born again. (John 3:7). You must know the Son of God! You must let spiritual incentive and desires overcome all human and natural tendencies. God gave His Son to prove this true in its solemn mystery to a world in order that men might live. Marvel not that we must be born again. Rather resolve to lay hold on Christ and He will give you a new birth, create a new life within you—a spiritual life.

Often as I sat under an apple tree, or any tree, I thought of the Creator who made such a thrilling tree and what He could do with any individual who surrenders to the Holy Spirit. There is only one way to grow in the Christian life and that is by the way of surrender. We must lose our life that we may find it—in Christ. Then shall we have power over the world, the flesh, and over all the devils of world, thought and deed.

If every thirsty, earth-born root drank from the wells of God, if all day long man's every breath answered God's slightest nod. If . . . but we must accept and obey!

MYSTERY
That's the wisest way when in the realm of the mysterious. June 12 is Trinity Sunday, when the Church bids us think of One God

Musically Speaking

By Margaret Doherty

It would seem that the so-called "stronger sex"—in Buffalo at any rate—does not want any vocal competition from the ladies.

The S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. (short for Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America) will remain a men's organization.

The men say they have "a tremendous job to do in furthering the aims of our own society and singleness of purpose is absolutely necessary."

Composed of 23 men, the unit's international board met for the society's 12th annual convention and although female quartets were not mentioned, it was made clear that the resolution adopted by the Board will block any possible merger with Sweet Adelines Incorporated, a national group formed about a year ago to promote barbershop singing among women.

The appointment of Rudolph Bing, artistic director of the Edinburgh Festival and general manager of the Glyndebourne Opera Company, to replace Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan, came as a general surprise.

Announcement of Mr. Johnson's retirement, after 14 years' association with the "Met," gave rise to much speculation, with names of leading singers and conductors in the United States mentioned as possible successors. Apparently Mr. Bing's visit to New York last year, to look engagements for the Glyndebourne Company, has turned out profitably for all concerned.

For a whole week old Vienna reverted to the gaiety of a century past, its people waiting nightly to the immortal melodies of the Strauss family, in observance of the 50th anniversary of Johann Strauss Jr.'s death, and the 100th anniversary of the death of his father.

Joy Thomson, director of the Canadian Art Theatre, has announced that several well known plays will be presented during the summer season at Lennoxville. The new arrangements for the season have been added to the itinerary it is hoped that the theatre-going public of this district will make it a point to see some of these excellent performances. Those who attended any of the plays last year are aware of the C.A.T.'s accomplishments in the dramatic field.

If you expect to be in Montreal on various occasions this summer you should bear in mind the splendid musical offerings planned by the Montreal Festivals, and check on the dates.

Congratulations to the Lucie Triggance, recently elected president of the Jewish Musical, young musical organization which has made a name for itself in this city. Miss Triggance is also a valuable member of the Schubert Club.

The musical season seems to be pretty well over for the time being so this will be the last appearance of "Musically Speaking" until the fall. We hope that the column has helped to some extent to keep you posted on the doings in the musical world, both here and abroad.

In Persons Three. St. Patrick once plucked a shamrock and taught the Irish people that as there are three petals (representing the Father, Son and Holy Spirit) on one stem (God) so there is only one God in Persons Three. A Mystery? Of course! Since Advent the Church has presented for our instruction doctrines ranging from the Incarnation to last Sunday's "Descent of the Holy Spirit." On Trinity Sunday we gather up the thoughts of the Christian year, resolving to offer our worship to God who made us, and redeemed us, and sanctifies us. Creatures of the Creator, we are children of the Father; members of Christ, we are, through the Holy Spirit, members one of another. Our work and our worship, our daily lives and our eternal homes meet in Him who is The One true God. All the strands of our earthly lives are gathered up; the old things are made new; and "all things return to unity in Him from whom they took their origin."

"ROOT AND BRANCH AND ALL"
With this teaching about, and vision of, God Christian action is demanded with the assurance as a reward that "we shall be like Him for we shall see Him as He is." The triple rays which make the white light of heaven are vision, service and likeness! The glory of Christ's heavenly presence should lure us to develop into God-intoxicated, Christ-empowered, Spirit-led people.

Sermons in apple trees? Of course! Whether in the full flush of life's morning, or reaping the harvest of the years or bent, gnarled and time-worn, like many an old tree, we can be honest and strong; good and true, brave and pure, and, with hands and heart uplifted, seeing God's face, serve Him with gladness! That means a life surrendered to God to the motif of "Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost!"

Oh! Thou who made so wondrous fair this thrilling thing, my tree, because its every hour is lived an offering unto thee, oh, take me, root and branch and all—the years go on apace—grow up in me that

Around The Armouries

By The Sgt.-Major

As was the case last week there is not much news around the armouries these days. Preparations for camp take up most of the time. With the A/T staffs of the different units already at camp, training has been restricted. I do know that most of the Reserve Army members are eagerly looking forward to this "active" period of training which will be enjoyed by all who attend. So long until next week.

The Sergeant-Major, 35th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery
Like all other units the 35th is in the midst of preparing for camp. The Battery leaves for Picton, Ont., on July 4. There is still room for more recruits and these can be interviewed on either Tuesday or Thursday nights at the Battery orderly room.

Before leaving for camp the Battery will hold a smoker on June 20. All members are asked to be on hand that evening.

Sgt-Maj. Lazenby of Cowansville has been attached to the Battery for the remainder of the season.

12th Armored Regiment (The Sherbrooke Regiment)
With the departure of the A/T staff for Petawawa, to prepare for the Regiment's arrival at camp on July 10, all is bustle these days at the armoury. The men are anxiously looking forward to this period of their training for at Petawawa they will get the opportunity to put in some real work and use in action the weapons they have been trained to use at the armoury.

Col. Baldwin is expecting a large turnout for camp, but still has room for a few more recruits. The Regiment orderly room is open all most every day and evening and prospective recruits can be inter-

OPERETTAS:
The Junior grades will produce their two operettas at St. George's Church Hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, June 9 and 10. A tremendous amount of work has gone into the staging of these operettas. Both the costumes and the stage stage settings have called for the co-operation of teachers and parents. Grades I, II and III will be seen in "A Day of Freedom."

The action of this operetta is set in a Rose Arbor and later in the Queen's garden at twilight.

Action in the operetta, "The Golden Whistle," presented by the pupils of Grades IV and V, takes place in a woodland where elves, birds, butterflies and flowers come to life.

Following the Friday evening performance the prizes for the school year 1948-49 will be presented to the first six grades.

KNOWLTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Jack Chamberlain
Hello everybody! Here is more news from K.H.S. The headline is focused on Eastman, where over 50 students journeyed on Wednesday in search of little Michel Fontaine, who was lost on Monday last.

Spearheaded by people from neighboring towns, army reserves, Boy Scouts and schools, the search appears successful.

The group of searchers from Knowlton was under the direction of Glen Brown, manual training teacher, and M. C. Tyler, vice-principal. Sandwiches and cakes for the searchers were supplied by the Household Science class under the direction of Miss J. Oughtred.

The bus left the school about 10 a.m. and returned with the weary boys at about 5 p.m. with no success. Hope is faint by now of finding the frail child alive after the cold nights in swamps and woods.

Other news of interest from K.H.S. is that on Wednesday guests were the Gilmour, who presented Bibles to the pupils of various classes.

On Friday afternoon, June 2, there were no classes at K.H.S. due to the funeral of Mrs. J. M. Knowlton. Many of the pupils attended.

Well, that's all for now. I will see you next week with more news from K.H.S.

LETTER FROM BRITAIN

Talking Of Holidays

By EDWARD HODGKIN

Among the many English words which have been adopted by foreign languages—words like "sport" and "club"—there is hardly one which has proved more useful than "week-end." I suppose that some time ago the British became the first people to make a regular habit of treating themselves to one or two days of real holiday at the end of the week, but by now this habit has become so widespread that it is well-nigh "week-end" conveys the same meaning to Frenchmen, Indians or Argentinians as it does to us in Britain.

But one still hears jokes sometimes about "the English week-end" as though it was a time everything closed down and people retired from view completely. Fifty years ago, and among the well-to-do, there may have been some truth in this theory, but today it is almost exactly contrary to the facts. Week-ends have become for most people almost the busiest time of the week; and when I say this I am not just referring to the playing and watching of games, though some time is usually found for this, but to the hundred-and-one interests and activities to which the ordinary men and women in town and country devote their leisure. One so often hears people say: "Let's fix it for a week-end"—"it" being anything from a political meeting to a 200-mile bicycle ride, from a conference of specialists to the production of amateur theatricals.

A number of week-ends throughout the year are made a day or two longer by the addition of a general public holiday. These public holidays became known as Bank Holidays, because on them all banks were (and are) legally closed; but they are now in fact general national holidays. These Bank Holidays vary as between England and Wales (which have much the same public holidays) and Scotland and Northern Ireland. But some are common to the whole of the United Kingdom.

August Bank Holiday
When an ordinary week-end has another day added to it—August Bank Holiday Monday, for example—it naturally gives much more scope for everybody to pay that visit or do that bit of work in the garden they have been planning for so long. Not long ago these week-ends were the only real holidays of the year for a great part of the population—telling her my own little tale of woe. Do you know what the secret was? Grow them in a can, they do much better than in pots. And with the evidence of her success right in front of me it seemed to me that she might know what she was talking about! In case you might be thinking "I'm strictly agin' 'Pots,' I'm not, I'm just thinking of your pocket book and trying to get you started growing things in the quickest and most inexpensive way, and I hope you have good luck with your initial venture in "house gardening."

As I was thinking more of such institutions as the summer schools at the universities, Oxford University, England, for example, organises a university in miniature during the summer vacation, which is attended by factory workers, housewives, miners and others. For a fortnight they are the guests of one of the colleges; they live the life of undergraduates, studying the subject of their choice—it may be literature, or a foreign language, or economics, or even philosophy—under the personal supervision of a university tutor. Many of them come back summer after a winter to continue this student holiday, which they would give up for all the sun and sand in Britain.

Or there are the holidays organized for music lovers, who can stay in a country house and listen to a first-class orchestra every day; their spare time they can play tennis, ride or bathe as they feel inclined. In fact every taste is catered for now in the holiday land of Britain.

laughed, "I'm glad to find a good use for it."

As Joan hugged her gratefully, it seemed strange to Susan there was no bitter disappointment in her at the realization her dream of having a fur coat to take to college next fall was gone, although she remembered clearly her old cloth coat was shiny at the elbows and wasn't even warm enough for a Michigan winter.

Nothing mattered but that Joan would quickly find her happiness with Hugh.

40-Hour-Week Is Sought By Labor Group

Granby, Que., June 11 — The Provincial Federation of Labor yesterday adopted a resolution requesting the provincial government to set a minimum wage law of 75 cents an hour and a five-day, 40-hour week for Quebec.

Some 600 delegates from all parts of the province attending the federation's annual three-day meeting in this Eastern Townships city also agreed that a uniform minimum wage should be applied for all of Canada.

Attention was directed to the fact that the cost-of-living in Quebec is as high as in any other province, yet wages paid in Quebec are the lowest of any province. This was particularly true in the construction trades.

Quebec's minimum wage provisions call for a 54-hour week in some trades and a 48-hour week in certain industries, excluding the textile industry which is covered by special pay scales. The minimum hourly wage varies from 18 cents to 35 cents, depending on the provincial zones set in the law.

A committee was appointed to study the national labor code with the aim of recommending some of its provisions to the provincial government for application in Quebec. Delegates tomorrow are scheduled to study a draft for a provincial labor code.

Experience Has No Substitute!

WHO IS MAURICE GINGUES?

The Present Member For Sherbrooke Must Be Re-Elected On June 27th!

CHAMPION OF THE WORKING MAN!

Mr. Gingues knows, from personal experience, the hard work and problems of working people. He was employed, as a young man, by the Canadian Ingersoll Rand from 1917 until 1921. From 1921 to 1924 he worked on railroad construction and in a store. In 1924 he entered the employ of the Julius Kayser, where he worked for sixteen years, under conditions which were hardly easy. He will obtain better working conditions; he always has the welfare of the worker at heart!

FRIEND OF THE FARMER!

During the war years, when he was Sherbrooke member, he helped our farmers by supporting numerous measures adopted since 1940 to improve the lot of the farmers, notably, minimum prices for their products.

A REAL SHERBROOKE CITIZEN

Born in Sherbrooke November 8th, 1903, the son of Casimir Gingues and Amanda St. Laurent. Educated at the school of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, beginning at an early age to earn his living in the factories of Sherbrooke. Active in many social, sporting and artistic organizations, his keen mind has contributed a great deal to their progress.

AN EXPERIENCED PARLIAMENTARIAN

There is no substitute for parliamentary experience. Maurice Gingues was elected in 1940 and re-elected after that. He has performed many services for thousands of Sherbrooke people; he has obtained passports, permits to allow people to work in the U. S., permits of all kinds during the period when things were so completely controlled, family allowance rulings, helped business men, manufacturers, institutions, professional men, workers . . . and he alone is able to continue in this manner.

A FAMILY MAN

Mr. Gingues is blessed with a wife who has helped him to carry the heavy load on his shoulders. He is the father of a large family, and knows the problems of the working man from first-hand experience. He knows the need, in the Eastern Townships, for family allowances, old age pensions, rehabilitation benefits for veterans, housing plans, etc.

More Reports Heard At C. W. L. Convention Held In Richmond

Additional reports submitted by chairmen of committees at the Sherbrooke Diocesan Convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada held Thursday in Richmond, are the following:

Mrs. Francis Hove, reporting on organization, stated membership in the diocese had reached 484, showing an increase of 79 over the previous year. To this number of lay members, 260 associate members, the Rev. Sisters of the Congregation of Mary, are added.

Mrs. Gilles Fortin, convener of the "Canadian League Magazine," reported no increase in subscriptions over last year's number, but said a drive for new subscriptions was in progress and had showed good results already.

The report of Mrs. Romeo Marcotte, convener of Stella Maris, showed 14 ditty bags had been made and shipped to the Catholic Sailors' Club, Montreal. These contained six pairs of socks, 107 religious articles, Catholic and secular literature, and toilet articles.

In the absence of Mrs. Paul McKenna, convener of immigration and travellers' aid, her report was given by Miss Ann Crochetiere and was concerned principally with service to new Canadians. Miss Crochetiere declared the Junior C. W. L. had escorted D.P.'s to their nearest church, to language classes, had provided layettes for expectant mothers, as well as appropriate gifts donated by the members, and had succeeded in finding a three-room apartment for a family. Miss Crochetiere said although all their efforts had not been crowned with success, they intend to carry on with redoubled zeal in the future.

Mrs. F. E. S. Shelle, convener of education and study clubs, told the convention that the national scholarship had been kept in mind and that all had fulfilled their quota. $25 was donated to the Canon Fiset Memorial Library and subscriptions to "The Catholic Digest" and "The Sign" were donated to the Sherbrooke Public Library. Three study groups held semi-monthly meetings, reading and discussing the following: The Bible Is a Catholic Book, The Power and Apostolate of Catholic Literature, chapters from a book on the "Christopher Movement" entitled "You Can Change the World," "The Treasures of the Mass" and "The Question Box" were reviewed.

Mrs. Robert C. Winslade, convener of the committee on resolutions, submitted the following, which were passed:

Resolutions of loyalty and devotion to our Holy Father the Pope; to Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth; to the national chaplain, Most Rev. William Duke, Archbishop of Vancouver, B.C.; to the national president, Mrs. T. E. Durocher; to His Excellency Most Rev. P. S. Desranleau, Bishop of Sherbrooke, appreciation for his interest in the organization, and also that his appointment of Rev. J. R. Moisan as Sherbrooke Diocesan Director of the C. W. L. is a source of great joy and satisfaction; to the chaplains of the different subdivisions for their interest and assistance.

Other resolutions embodied a more intensive Catholic life and adherence to Catholic principles. That following the suggestion of Msgr. Fulton Sheen that a Holy Hour a day made by every person would bring back peace to the world, that each member endeavor to spend at least some time in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament each day.

That the C.W.L. continue its crusade for family prayers. Resolutions of appreciation for benefits derived through the press, local English and French papers, and radio stations.

Congratulations and appreciation were expressed for courtesy extended by the Richmond Junior subdivision as hostess at the 23rd annual convention.

KING GEORGE V CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The regular monthly meeting of the King George V Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held in I.O.D.E. House, Moore Street, on Monday, June 6. The regent, Miss May Mitchell, was in the chair, and the meeting opened with the prayer of the order.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. W. Eaves, the assistant secretary, Mrs. R. Havard, read the minutes which were approved.

Mrs. Havard also read several letters from recipients of parcels sent by this Chapter to England showing how very grateful they are for the contents of these parcels, and how badly they are needed for these people seldom see some of the things one takes as an everyday necessity.

The treasurer, Mrs. George Hall, gave a satisfactory financial report.

Mrs. S. MacLean, work convener, reported that a parcel is to be shipped on June 13 and requested that all articles be sent to her before that date. Mrs. MacLean announced she had received two more baby sets and a baby afghan for this parcel. She asked for articles of secondhand-clothing in good condition for a further shipment.

It was moved, seconded, and carried that the sum of $10 be sent for the Endowment Fund.

The regent reported that a very substantial amount was realized from the tag days and thanked all those who helped make it a success. She reminded the members of the rummage sale to be held on June 10.

Requested by the regent, several good suggestions were given as to how the members might raise money for the Order during the summer. Some of these are to be adopted.

Mrs. Jack Grundy took the Oath of Allegiance and was received into the Order. She was welcomed by the regent and other members.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which the hostesses, Mrs. F. T. Shorten and Mrs. J. Smallshaw, served refreshments.

DOROTHY DIX

Working Wife

Husband Fears Mate Will Neglect Family For Job

Dear Miss Dix: What do you think of wives working outside of their homes? Will a married woman, who has a good position and who makes a good salary, be likely to become so independent that she feels that she can get along without her husband, and become more interested in her work than she is in her home and family?

I think it is all right for a wife to work for a short time after marriage to help her husband get a good start in life, but I believe that primarily a wife's real job is to make a cheerful home for her husband and children. What is your opinion about this?

DOROTHY DIX

Answer: Whether a wife should be a career woman or a homemaker depends on so many different things. On how much money the different couple have. On the natural attitude and training of the wife. On the wife's temperament and disposition. And particularly on whether the husband is a domestic and home-loving man or not.

If, for instance, a young couple marry without a penny to bless themselves with, it is obvious that the wife must keep on with her job after marriage. For, after all, even the most enamoured can't live on bread and cheese and kisses, so it is not love's young dream, but cold, hard necessity that makes thousands of women stay nailed to their desks after marriage.

SOME SHOULDN'T MARRY

We speak of a girl getting married as passing into a haven of the blessed, but there are millions of women who should never marry because they have no talent for it. They are the women who succeed in business, but never learn to cook; who are keen on a trade, but never know what their children are doing.

It is a sad and curious thing that so many fine and noble women have gifts for being everything else in the world that is desirable, except being good wives and mothers. No woman should marry unless her highest ambition is to make a happy home.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am 19 and engaged to be married very soon. My mother has planned a large wedding for me and the announcements have been sent out. But I do not love the man to whom I am engaged and I feel as if I simply can't go through with it. My family says I can't renege now because they have spent too much money on it, and my mother threatens to move away if I don't get married.

I haven't any love for my fiance and I have told him so and begged him to reconsider the marriage, but he refuses to do so. He says that after marriage I will learn to love him, I pleaded with him to postpone the date and wait, but he said "no," and my mother will not let him back out.

I am so desperate I can't eat or sleep. What can I do?

MISERABLE. Answer: In the olden times when daughters were just chattels to be hawked about like other merchandise it was not uncommon for parents to force their daughters into marriages with men they loathed, but it is a rare thing now for a modern girl to submit to being led like a lamb to the slaughter.

Also, it is an unheard-of thing in these days for a man to insist upon a girl marrying him when she tells him frankly that she doesn't love him and begs him not to force her into a marriage that is abhorrent to her. Certainly between a tyrannical and overbearing mother and a selfish suitor, you have small chance of any happiness if you let them shanghai you into this marriage that you dread so much.

You are 19 years old. You are free. So why don't you summon up your courage and refuse to be sold like a slave on the block? The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

"God the Preserver of Man," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 12th, 1949.

The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy 33:27. "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms."
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead. And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourself; for his life is in him. And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted."—(Acts 20: 9, 10, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"When an accident happens, you think or exclaim, 'I am hurt!' Your thought is more powerful than your words, more powerful than the accident itself, to make the injury real. Now reverse the process. Declare that you are not hurt and understand the reason why, and you will find the ensuing good effects to be in exact proportion to your disbelief in physics, and your fidelity to divine metaphysics, confidence in God as All, which the Scriptures declare Him to be."—(page 397).

Miss D. Nicholson on the presentation, by the Drummondville Home and School Association, of a gift in tribute to her 16 years of teaching service in Drummondville; and to Mr. A. Roy on his appointment as Principal of the Windsor Consolidated School for 1949-50. The meeting heard reports from Mr. G. Rothney on business courses and Mr. K. H. Annett on the Grade 8 and 9 History course. The important topics considered by the meeting included extra-curricular activities, promotion policy, examinations and school tests. Discussion will be continued in a special meeting of the Council called for Saturday, June 11th. The meeting adjourned at 12:30 p.m.

Grade 10 and 11 pupils are eagerly scanning the official time-table of departmental examinations recently posted. Most pupils will finish examinations on Friday, June 24th, as only Grade 11 Extra English is scheduled for Monday, June 27th. Grade 9 pupils will also write a full series of final examinations, but for Grades 1 to 8 promotion will be based on the overall average on the results of the year's work. For these grades the fourth term ends on June 24th.

Reginald Robinson, valedictorian of the graduating class at St. Francis College has been given the Annual Award of the Readers' Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community. Reginald will receive an honorary subscription to the Readers' Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the Editors in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of achievement to come.

The Readers' Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout the United States and Canada. The awards are part of the educational program sponsored by the Association and were a logical outgrowth of the wide use of the Readers' Digest in school work. With the collaboration of leading educators supplements to the magazine containing guides for reading improvement and aids to effective speaking and composition are made available to schools and colleges. The award to Reginald, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Robinson of Greenlay, Que., was made available through the cooperation of L. F. Somerville and his teaching staff. They selected Reginald to receive the award, designed to stimulate scholarship, citizenship and continued contact with good reading after graduation. "On invitation I attended the annual Dinner of the Royal Empire Society at the Windsor Hotel on Thursday evening, May 19th. The dinner, at which about 350 guests were present, was held in the large Windsor Hall there. My Mother and Father were with me. In the hall were large pictures of the King and Queen taken in the Windsor Hotel on their Canadian trip. I then realized that we were in the very same hall in which the King and Queen had been entertained, only 10 years and one day earlier.

Jim Heywood and Derek Hanson, also prize-winners, with their parents and friends were at our table. Col. Kippen, Chairman of the Educational Committee of the Society asked the two boys and myself and the three other prize winners, all boys, at another table to follow him to the outer hall. There we had two pictures taken by news photographers and were interviewed by press representatives.

We went back to our tables where dinner was being served. Fruit cup, turkey with all the trimmings, ice cream and coffee were on the menu. Then Col. Kippen lined us up once more. We walked through the dining room to the head table where Right Honourable Vincent Massey and Mrs. Massey were seated, with the Chairman, Brig-Gen. Gault, and other distinguished guests. We were then introduced to Mrs. Massey, who presented envelopes to us containing our prize money. Just as we received our awards another picture was taken.

Then the Rt-Hon. Vincent Massey spoke on "Canada Today—Some Reflections." He urged our fellow countrymen and women to study our own history and pay more attention to the past while building the future. He spoke on events of past years that have helped Canada to become a nation and to let others hear about us and our aims. He said that the younger English-speaking generation of today cares more about learning French than their parents ever did, which in itself is a step towards National Unity. The British tradition is the very essence of our Canadian life and although we, as an independent unit of the Commonwealth, have our own destiny to work out and are indeed regarded as a leader of the smaller nations, we are heart and soul in accord with our sister members in preserving the best elements of British freedom, fair play and justice.

Rt-Hon. V. Massey was thanked by Lt-Col. Gale. Then with the singing of "God Save the King" a most thrilling and delightful evening concluded.

WINDSOR-BROMPTON CONSOLIDATED. On May 7th, the Students' Council sponsored a dance which provided to be a great success. We would like to thank the chaperons—Mr. and Mrs. Force, Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Watt for their kind help. All those present seemed to enjoy themselves.

On May 14th, the older and younger boys gathered at school with wagons, wheelbarrows and whatnots, went into the highways and byways from door to door to collect paper. The boys are quite glad about this as they made $8.00 in their drive. On May 19th, the pupils had a Clean-Up Day and all were on hand to make the grounds much neater.

Grades 5, 6 and 7 entertained Grades 8 and 9 on Friday, May 20th, with a debate on the subject, "Resolved that a Horse Makes a Better Friend than a Dog." Lyle Robinson was in the chair. Herbert Robinson and Noreen Butler upheld the affirmative; and Shirley Dubue and Lafleche Talbot, the negative. The affirmative won the debate. ### Choice Big Factor For Good Marriage

Scarborough, Yorkshire, England, June 11—Don't marry out of your class. It won't work, says marriage expert Kenneth Ball. At a Marriage Guidance Council conference, Ball said: "It's no good for a girl who enjoys eating fish and chips out of a newspaper for her supper to marry a man accustomed to having soup, savory and sweets served on a white tablecloth for dinner. "That simply couldn't work out. And if he suggested that she should dress for dinner, the girl would merely be inclined to laugh." On mixed religious marriages he said: "It's 10-1 they will not work out happily."

JUNE--THE BRIDE'S MONTH

All eyes are focused this month on the June bride. She is the belle of the ball, the centre of attraction, and rightly so, for looking back as many years as we care to remember, June has always symbolized romance and young love. Following the excitement of the engagement there is the usual flurry of teas and showers, the long list of invitations to be made out. Not the least important is the careful planning of the bridal trousseau, with particular emphasis on the wedding dress. For the memorable day, be it a simple tailored outfit, or the traditional white satin with all the formality it entails. All over the country radiant brides will be walking down that middle aisle this month, some in impressive cathedrals, others in quaint and charming village churches. Whenever it may be, there is something about a wedding that stings at the heartstrings of even the most cynical. You who are about to become a June bride, leave no detail incomplete, because your wedding day should be so perfect that it will ever occupy the foremost place in your cherished memories.

Miss F. Matthews Was Guest Speaker At The Annual Meeting Of The Quebec Presbyterian W. M. S. At Scotstown

Scotstown, June 11—The annual meeting of the Quebec Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, W. M. S., was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, with officers and delegates present, representing seven of its ten auxiliaries.

The meeting was directed by the Presbyterian president, Mrs. Philip Boy, of Scotstown, and the guest-speaker was Miss Frieda Matthews, of Toronto, Ontario national executive secretary. Others participating in the program included Mrs. W. E. Baker of Westmount, first vice-president, of the Synodical Society of Montreal, Ottawa. Mrs. O. R. Campbell, of Westmount, past president, of the Quebec Presbyterian, and now honorary president.

Miss Matthews, for eighteen years in missionary work, as a teacher in Indian schools, deaconess in Alberta, Young Women's Travelling secretary, and in her present work, has had a wide and fruitful experience of which the meeting received the benefit, during the day, by her wise and kindly counsel, in various matters, coming up for discussion.

In her address on "The urgency of the times for Christian work, national and overseas," she impressed her hearers by her vivid description of the needs throughout the world, and the fact that there are now open doors, for the work, in many places, which no one knows how long may be left open. "Rejoice that God has given you the priceless power to live in these great days," Miss Matthews spoke of the great missionary conference, held in Columbia, Ohio, in October, 1948, which was of outstanding interest to all concerned with the out reach of the church, throughout the world. Representatives were present from nearly all Protestant churches in North America, with speakers from all over the world. "The note of all speakers," said Miss Matthews, "is the great urgency of today, and the open doors, which are now before us. We must come alive with greater zeal and energy than ever before. Many things, we are distressed about, in this world, would not take place, if we did not part as Christians. Christian forces are not strong enough to combat evil forces. The Christian world must give out with all its power and force, the Christian message, or evil forces will show their face again. What happens in China will determine what will happen in Asia; what happens in Asia, will determine what will happen to the whole world. Those who go, can take only two things with them, a book, and a testimony, for the church is moving, and going out to people, where they are."

"The church in China will be severely tried; we must enter into a fellowship of suffering with them. Formosa has many needs, chief of which is a Canadian teacher, English, and a young woman to assist Miss Forman with nursing."

"In Canada, more doors are open wide, although the picture has changed. Where emphasis was placed on hospitals, and school residences, now more is placed on nursery schools, in crowded areas. There should be many more of these church centres, with trained young women in charge."

"The Indian work has great needs and opportunities, all that the white can do, is not so great as what one Indian worker can accomplish. New work is opening up in Flin Flon, where a deaconess was sent, until a student could be obtained. There are 10,000 there, under seventeen years of age, and this is only one of the great areas being opened up. The matter of personnel is very important. It is necessary to send the very best, consecrated, not afraid to work, and who can talk to people."

"The doors open for the new Canadian, in Canada. Many have come from almost unmentionable horrors, to find peace, happiness and freedom to worship."

"Remember this; that there are a great many lonely people in the world, that the opportunities in overseas fields are because of the service of many gone before, and because our Saviour gave His life," Mrs. A. G. Murray, president of Scotstown Auxiliary, gave the address of welcome and the response was given by Mrs. Wright, of Sherbrooke.

Reports of the sectional vice-presidents, Mrs. Johnstone, of Quebec; Mrs. W. E. MacIver, of Melbourne; Mrs. D. MacArthur, of Milan, and of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. R. MacDonald, of Scotstown, showed that interest is being maintained in the face of difficulties. Mrs. O. R. Campbell commented on the reports, in her usual capable manner.

The "In Memoriam" service, in memory of all those, in this society, who have passed on to higher service, was conducted by Mrs. W. E. MacIver, of Melbourne, reading from Revelations XXI. The hymn, "Shall We Gather At The River," was sung with Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie, the organist. Mrs. Tony Lortitch gave a rendition of "Fling Out The Banner." The dedicatory prayer was given by Mrs. Boy, who also submitted a report of the annual Synodical meeting and the addresses at Cornwall, Ont.

Resolutions and courtesies on behalf of Milan Auxiliary were given by Mrs. John E. MacDonald; business, by Mrs. George MacDonald, of Milan, and departmental work, by Mrs. Donald MacKay, of Quebec.

A letter was read from the Synodical president, Mrs. Harcourt Emra, of Ottawa, regretting her inability to be present, and sending warm and heartfelt greetings for a happy fellowship at the meeting, and success in the work during the coming year.

Mrs. W. E. Baker, of Westmount, also brought greetings from the Synodical Board, expressing her pleasure at being present. She reviewed briefly the origin and purpose of the Synodical Board.

A very interesting discussion period under the leadership of Mrs. George Stevenson, president of the Sherbrooke Auxiliary, was held, with several auxiliaries taking part, and with benefit of advice from Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Baker and Miss Matthews.

An invitation to hold the 1950 annual meeting, in St. Andrew's historic church in Quebec, was accepted with pleasure.

Scripture and prayer sessions were in charge of Mrs. Johnstone, of Quebec, and Mrs. Malcolm MacKay, of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. O. R. Campbell gave the closing words and prayer, the theme, "Labourers together with God," based on I Corinthians, III: 9. The speaker stressed the great privilege and responsibility, there being no higher privilege than to be worked together with Him, as exemplified by Hannah, Lydia and others. The challenge comes to us to help now, while we have the open doors. Let us labor for God with the love, faith, prayer, courage and zeal that He showed, "That my joy may be in you."

During her stay in town, Mrs. Campbell was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Morrison. Mrs. Baker and Miss Matthews were entertained by Mrs. Alex MacDonald, and Mrs. Johnstone was a guest at the Scotstown Hotel.

Luncheon was served, in the church hall, at noon, by the members of the local auxiliary, under the supervision of Mrs. K. M. Smith, and tea was served at the close of the afternoon session.

peting, they showed the school spirit. The school won a trophy, not for the best athletes, but for the school having the largest number of points for the number of pupils in the school.

On May 23rd, four pupils left Windsor at a very early hour to contact the R. D. A. Quebec which was to convey them to Quebec under the auspices of the I. O. D. E. It is evident that all four of the pupils really enjoyed themselves as they are still talking to their friends about the trip.

Armand and Mabel Forest, who have been with us since September, are leaving to go to Nova Scotia. We wish them all success in their new school.

The following motion pictures have been shown in the school: "Lure of Gaspe; Kruger National Park, and a picture about the Music Festival held each year in Winnipeg."

On Monday, May 30th, the trophies for the track meet were given out. The Dennison Trophy was presented to Kenneth Ward, President of the Students' Council, who received it in the name of the school.

The local boys' cup was awarded to John Phillip. Joan Parker and Carol Whittier will each hold the girls' cup for six months as they tied for the largest number of points in the girls' events.

THE RT. HONOURABLE LOUIS ST. LAURENT and HIS HONOUR, MAYOR ALPHONSE TRUDEAU, your Liberal candidate

The Rt. Honourable Louis St. Laurent will welcome Mr. Trudeau; will congratulate him on the occasion of his victory in the County of Sherbrooke after the June 27th election. Sherbrooke electors are behind Mr. Trudeau; he will be elected with a tremendous majority.

MAURICE GINGUES WILL EVICT 30 FAMILIES FROM THEIR HOMES; more than 120, men, women and children will be thrown on the streets by MAURICE GINGUES next August 1st! These families are presently living in buildings on the site of the new Sherbrooke Post Office.

MAURICE GINGUES HAS NOT TRIED TO IMPROVE THE LOT OF THESE PERSECUTED PEOPLE. He has not made any attempt to find them housing. They are to be heartlessly evicted on August 1st!

ALPHONSE TRUDEAU is in favor of this new post office, but, from a humanitarian point of view, he feels he must oppose the eviction of these people until alternate housing has been found for them at rents they can afford to pay. He has the good of our people at heart.

INSTEAD OF TRYING TO ALLEVIATE THE HOUSING SHORTAGE, MAURICE GINGUES IS DOING HIS BEST TO MAKE IT WORSE!

Guy Lombardo To Try For New Speed Record

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 11.—(AP)—Band leader Guy Lombardo will begin an attempt today to break the world speed boat record.

In fact, Lombardo and another veteran driver, Max Collins, will try to smash four motorboat markers in a series of time trials today and Sunday on Lake Placid.

The London, Ont.-born Lombardo will drive the 32-foot unlimited class hydroplane, "Aluminum First," and Collins will handle the gold cup 28-footer, "Hot Metal." Both boats were built recently for industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Lombardo's principal goal in the measured-mile runs will be the establishment of a mark in excess of the world speed record of 141.74 miles an hour set by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell.

Both drivers also will be aiming for a North American one-mile motorboat speed record and a United States single-engine motorboat speed record, each for unlimited craft.

An "unlimited motorboat," as defined by the American Power Boat Association, is a craft up to 40 feet in over-all length with no limitation on the power of its engine.

Lombardo already claims the United States record for single-engine craft while Gar Wood holds the American title for multi-engine boats. Wood piloted Miss America X, mounting four "ackard" engines, to a top speed of 124.91 miles an hour at Algonac, Mich., in 1932.

Tomorrow's mile runs will start at 4.30 a. m.

"Sport Shots and Pot Shots"

BY LEN O'DONNELL

The "Famous City by-law" was turned down Wednesday by the property owners and now the E.L.A.A. officials have a clear road to make good their declarations regarding the Arena.

The City officials say the vote was the largest ever cast on a loan project, and that shows the amount of interest that the voters had on the loan.

Leo Laliberte, president of the Association, announced that tenders for the building will be asked for at the end of the month and that the repairs would start as soon as possible after that.

No doubt some of the players will get a call by a very near future to report to their teams for a try out and give the big boys a chance to see them in action. Following this they will argue the point of salary and make their decisions. Anyway it will be very interesting to see the outcome of the whole affair, and just how many of the "Outlaws" return back to their parent clubs.

Al Brosch Leads After 36-Holes In U.S. Open

Chicago, June 11.—(AP)—Al Brosch, a near-sighted pro from Garden City, N.Y., grabbed a halfway lead of one stroke in the 72-hole National Open with a one-under-par 141. His steady game staved off two spectacular second day rounds by a pair of veterans.

Six former Open Champions were eliminated as the field was narrowed to 59 for today's closing 36-hole rounds.

Brosch, who can't see the tee without his strong-lensed spectacles, plodded over Medina's "Graveyard of Champions" No. 3 course today in par-matching 71.

Thursday, the 37-year-old shooter whose most recent title was the Long Island, N.Y., Open he won last year, toured the torturous, wooded 6,681-yard layout in 70.

That took the zip out of a course-equaling 67 round by Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist, and a 68 by O'Neil (Buck) White who taught Middlecoff most of the golf he knows.

Middlecoff, equalling the DeWitt course record shared by Tommy Armour, Byron Nelson and Lloyd Manrum, and White shot 75 and 74 respectively Thursday to tie for second midway at 142.

Red Rolfe, Of Tigers, Switches From Yankees To Tigers As Team To Beat For American League Flag

Detroit—(NEA)—"New York and not, as I had believed, Boston, is the club that will have to be saved down in the American League," says Red Rolfe of the Tigers.

"When we were at Yankee Stadium not so long ago, I told you the Yankees could not win, and that the Red Sox would."

"But I now am certain that what I had regarded as a temporary phenomenon in New York is a substantial situation."

"Boston doubtless will continue to be well at Fenway Park."

"But for the road the Red Sox are not sufficiently equipped with pitching. Joe Dobson, Mel Parnell, and then nobody."

"With Bobby Doerr in and out at second base with a chronic back condition, Joe McCarthy is further handicapped. True, Bobby is 31, and has been with the Red Sox for 13 years, but he still is class. I wish we had him."

Tigers Eye Phillips.

Billy Evans of the Detroit Club comes into the discussion with a willingness to support the Rolfe thesis on the Yankees.

"Casey's club is fooling every body, doubtless Stengel himself," body, doubtless Stengel himself, too," General Manager Evans opines.

"Who could have foreseen the success of those shifts at first and third bases?"

"Who would have guessed that Phil Rizzuto, who looked to be so decidedly on the downgrade last season, would achieve his amazing comeback?"

Asked if he could become interested in a deal with the Bombers, Evans replies: "Certainly. I like Jack Phillips. He could do us a lot of good."

"But we have nothing to give except money, and money interests Del Webb and Dan Topping no more than it does Walter O. Briggs, Sr."

"Bill DeWitt of the Browns was here the other day, and I made him a proposition for First Baseman Jack Graham. He is 33, and has knocked about a lot, but he has hit four out of this park."

"I have been reading a lot about our alleged deal for Gerald Priddy. Actually, we have no serious dicker on for him. I offered two players, for Priddy last December."

"Reports that we would be willing to give $200,000 plus Pitcher

Cardinals Would Back Up Game's Most Fragile Infield With Klein

New York—(NEA)—Pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin were the first of the Mexican Jumping Beans to contact Eddie Dyer.

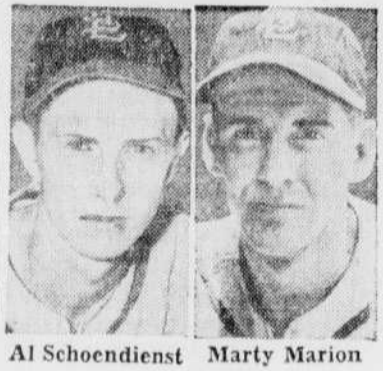

No club ever has enough pitching, of course, but you gathered that the manager of the Cardinals was even more anxious to hear from Lou Klein.

Dyer's keen interest in Klein focuses attention on what is unquestionably the most fragile infield in all baseball history.

Al Schoendienst's throwing arm fits into a shallow socket. When he popped out last season, the living counterpart of Huckleberry Finn was out of 37 consecutive games as a regular.

The optic was injured when struck by a flying nail as the then 17-year-old son of a Germantown, Ill., coal miner was driving in hedge posts as an enlistee in a Civilian Conservation Corps at Greenville, Ill. It was feared that the youngster would lose the sight of the eye, but it was saved by 10 weeks' treatment in a St. Louis hospital.

Al Schoendienst Marty Marion

It was this injury that made Schoendienst a switch hitter, the better to look at a right-hander's fast ball.

When rain left Braves Field slippery the other afternoon Dyer ordered Marty Marion to the hot house, switched Red Schoendienst to shortstop, and inserted Tommy Glaviano at second. Slats Marion is in a fine state of health, the boss explained, and he wants to keep him that way, isn't taking any chances on Mr. Shortstop's chronic sacroiliac kicking up.

Surgeons advised Eddie Kazak never to throw again when his elbow was repaired with plastic, as the result of it being struck by shrapnel and fearfully crushed beneath debris near Brest in late July, 1944.

Young Glaviano is good enough to fill in at second, short or third, but Klein, no more than 30 now, would provide the St. Louis Nationals with sound infield and outfield insurance.

"Double indemnity, you say? That's right, and it is because the remarkable Schoendienst can play well any position outside of pitching and catching. The redhead came up as a shortstop, you know, but when an outfielding shortage developed in 1945, he was the best defensive left fielder in the National League."

It took Schoendienst to chase Klein off second as a Red Bird, and that had no little to do with the New Orleans lad hopping below the Rio Grande. As an accomplished second baseman, the swift Klein helped the Cards to a pennant in 1943, when he hit a long ball batting .287. He scooted around the bases.

Klein joined the Coast Guard in November, 1943, and Schoendienst was among those present when he returned.

Klein joined the Coast Guard the Mexican League, is equally at home at shortstop or third base, and his presence would give the bloopers in the red blazers another formidable right-hand hitter, which makes him all the more welcome, for the bulk of their power is found in Stanley Musial and Country Slaughter, batting from the left side.

This should make it perfectly clear why Eddie Dyer was paging Lou Klein.

It seems that considerable interest has been created throughout the country with Commissioner Hap Chandler's reinstatement of his "Outlaws." But the people least concerned are the players themselves. They are remaining in the district, and are not saying very much one way or the other.

The boys have applied to their clubs to get back in good graces, but the big point seems to be the matter of salary. Some of the players, since leaving their original teams, have been making a good salary and do not want to return at the same price they were receiving back in 46, in fact some of them have been offered the minimum salary by their former bosses.

The viewpoint of the local executive seems to be that if the boys wish to go back there is not much that the club can do about it, although it would be terrific for the A's hurling staff. On the other hand the boys have something solid here, just now, and if they leave, and don't make the grade, heavens knows just where they will end up. No doubt, out in some class B or C loop at a sweet cut in their salary, and that seems to be the big point.

The players want a guarantee regarding their pay, but on the other hand the clubs don't want to set any determined figure, although it seems that St. Louis Cardinals have made offers to Max Lanier and Fred Martin, on condition they make the grade. There is a big possibility that some of the boys will not make it, and that is what the clubs are afraid of. They don't want to get caught with a big salary investment.

Hungary Leads Series With Switzerland

Budapest, June 11.—(AP)—Hungary's tennis team yesterday led the way into the semi-finals of the European Zone Davis Cup eliminations by clinching a quarter-final triumph over Switzerland.

Having won their opening singles tests Thursday, Jozsef Asboth and Andras Adami of Hungary, combined yesterday to defeat Hans Haendler and Rene Buser of Switzerland, in doubles, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

That made it 3-0 for Hungary and left today's two remaining single matches a mere formality. In the semi-finals, Hungary will meet the winner of a quarter-final series between France and Czechoslovakia.

Canada's Bisle Team Leaves For England

Montreal, June 11.—(AP)—Canada's 1949 Bisle Team left Montreal yesterday by train for Quebec City to embark on the liner Samaria for England.

The Bisle team, held annually by the National Rifle Association, starts the second week of July at Bisle and lasts for two weeks.

The 18-man team, commanded by Brig. W. W. Reid of Charlottetown, was inspected today by Brig. Guy Gaveau, Honorary President of the Province of Quebec Rifle Association, and Col. J. D. Max Lanier and Fred Martin, adjutant, president of the Province of Quebec Tennis Association. We are told that the main reason behind the visit is to try and promote interest in the game and give some of the local fans an opportunity of seeing the top players in action.

Canadian Lawn Tennis Association Releases Plan For Development Of Junior Players Throughout Country

Montreal, June 11.—(AP)—Development of Canadian junior tennis talent, long conducted on a regional basis, became a national movement yesterday with announcement of a program by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association.

The plan calls for a series of district elimination meets, followed by Provincial meets, and a final Dominion championship tournament in Ottawa. Sectional winners qualifying for the National title must be declared by July 25.

Drafted by the C.L.T.A.'s junior training committee under Harold Marpole, the plan will be supervised across the Dominion by Laird Watt, former Davis Cup star.

Provisions of the plan are:

1. Only players of junior age (under 18 on Jan. 1 of the year concerned), are eligible.
2. The tournament in each province will consist of (A) district championships; (B) zone championships; (C) provincial championships.
3. The tournaments will be run as nearly as possible in accordance with regulations and conditions governing senior Canadian meets. C.L.T.A. medals will be presented to winners of (A) bronze (B) silver and (C) gold tournaments.
4. Payments from C.L.T.A. player-development funds will be made to each provincial association to cover costs. These payments will be based on the number of winners in the medal tournaments who actually play in the next higher tournament.
5. The tournament, for this year at least, will consist only of men's and women's singles, though other events may be held at the discretion of provincial bodies.
6. Participation of Canadian champions in the United States invitation meet at Kalamazoo, Mich., in August, also is included in the plan.

Italy And Chile Split Their Davis Cup Games

Turin, June 11.—(AP)—Italy and Chile split their single matches yesterday in the European Zone Davis Cup competition.

Italy's No. 1 Gianni Caselli, easily defeated Chilean Rafael Taverne in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

Ricardo Barrios, the Chilean ace, beat Marcello Del Bello, 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Coaticook Wins Three Games

Coaticook, June 11.—Coaticook Canadians put their first visit to Barton Wednesday in the Sun set baseball league and came home with a 6-5 victory.

Both teams used two pitchers in the seven-inning contest, Frechette starting for Coaticook and Proteau finishing.

Despite the cold weather which resulted in several errors, the game was a keen one to watch and was not decided until the last inning.

Gerry Lefebvre and Paul Davignon both scored twice for the Canadians, and Lucien Charron and Jean Louis Frechette scored one run apiece. Jenne, Pierce and Squires scored single runs for the Barton nine, and Cloutier counted twice.

Earlier in the week the Canadians downed the Newport, N.Y. (P.R.) team by a count of 11-2. This victory followed several changes in the Coaticook lineup, made by coach Paul S. Malloy. Jim Fadden went to third base, Marcel Benoit to shortstop and Delphis Letourneau to second base.

This tightening of the infield resulted in errorless ball.

Guy Proteau, pitching for the winners, struck out nine men. Newport used three pitchers, Andrews, Brith and Judd.

Marcel Benoit's fifth inning 375-foot home run with two men on bases was the big blow for Coaticook. It came with the score tied 1-1 and the locals went on from there to an easy victory.

Other blows among the seven-teen Canadians piled up were two doubles each by Fadden and Letourneau, and one each by Davignon and Proteau. Taylor hit a double for the losers.

In a recent exhibition game, Coaticook upset the favored House of David nine from across the border by a 16-0 count. Guy Proteau, one of three pitchers used by the Canadians, hit a home-run.

Ted Spkowski Is Sent To Kansas City Blues

Kansas City, June 11.—(AP)—Kansas City Blues of the American Association announced Thursday they had obtained infielder Ted Spkowski from Newark of the International League.

Both clubs are owned by New York Yankees.

Spkowski, who has played second base and the outfield for Newark, was the second player addition in two days for the fast-fading Blues who have hit bottom in the league standing. Pat Seery, husky outfielder, was optioned to the Blues yesterday by Chicago White Sox.

Watermolen Injured In Grand Circuit Race

Fairmount Park, June 11.—(AP)—Pete Watermolen, 38-year-old harness racing driver, had a narrow escape from serious injury Thursday when his horse fell and threw him heavily to the track.

Driving Doctor Clardy in the conditioned 25-class pace, the veteran reinsman saw his horse stumble and fall about 20 yards after the field broke. Watermolen was knocked unconscious and was rushed to hospital where he was pronounced in fair condition.

Jockey Suspended By Horse Racing Board

Arcadia, Calif., June 11.—(AP)—Ralph Neves, one of the United States' top jockeys, yesterday was suspended pending an inquiry by the California Horse Racing Board into touting charges.

The Hollywood Park Board of Stewards announced "for activities detrimental to racing, Neves is suspended."

The kid, now 79, was more than 30 times a year for seven of his first ten years in the National League. His record for 15 years in the majors was 360 wins and 202 losses.

"My best year was with Omaha before I went up to Boston," said the kid. "I won 40 games in 48 starts."

"How often did I pitch? Every three days. Then sometimes I would pitch every other day. And three times with Omaha I pitched three days in a row. Won every one of them, too."

"He claims he never had any trouble with his arm."

"I threw overhand," he explained. "Just as easy as can be."

Pitchers Ruin Arms With Fancy Stuff

Buffalo, N.Y., June 11.—(AP)—These pitchers nowadays try too much fancy stuff and ruin their arms."

That's the opinion voiced today by one of the greatest pitchers of all time who this year was named to Baseball's Hall of Fame—Charles A. (Kid) Nichols of Kansas City.

"I was out until the last inning."

Gerry Lefebvre and Paul Davignon both scored twice for the Canadians, and Lucien Charron and Jean Louis Frechette scored one run apiece. Jenne, Pierce and Squires scored single runs for the Barton nine, and Cloutier counted twice.

BEEBE MEMORIAL PARK

SUNDAY, JUNE 12th

3.00 P.M.

THE ROSENBLUM REPORTER

WE DOFF OUR smart new light-weight Christy to the City's Parks Department for the beautiful flower mosaic which they are installing on King Street, near Wellington. We've often felt that it was unfortunate that all visitors to Sherbrooke weren't able to see the splendid gardens which we have in our parks, and this plot near the centre of the City will surely bring pleasure to visitors and to our own citizens. We like to see cities, and gardens, and people, as attractive as they can possibly be. We think that Father's Day is a wonderful occasion to do a little beautifying.

TOO OFTEN PAPPY is the worst looking and the poorest dressed member of the family. We're certain he'll welcome your attempts to make him more presentable, particularly if you select your gift for him at Rosenblum's, for the Dads of the district know and respect our merchandise. We're always ready to help you embellish your progenitor with a store full of attractive suggestions ranging from initialed cuff links to our superb Welch Margerton English dressing gowns.

THERE IS A SLOGAN, "Remember Father on Father's Day." We think no one can forget his Dad. The thing to remember is the date, which is Sunday, June 19th. This gives you just one week to do the job.
