LEVEE BREAK NOT AS SUCCESSFUL AS ANTICIPATED

Place Embargo On Agricultural And Horticultural Imports

Water Spreading Gradually Over Deserted Towns

If Hopes Are Realized, It Is Estimated That Break in Levee Will Take Off More Than a Million Cubic Feet of Water a Minute, Lowering River Stage at New Orleans by Thirty Inches and Thus Relieving Pressure Swift Current Now Exerts on Levees Protecting City Along Crescent Bend.

GREAT WALL OF WATER IS TODAY MOVING DOWN RIVER FROM VICKSBURG

Opening Sixty Feet Wide at End of Series of Gaps Made, Through Which Water Is Running into Parishes of St. Bernard and Plaquemine—Opening Expected to Widen Rapidly.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW ORLEANS, La., April 30.—A widening lake of water was spreading gradually today over parts of two deserted parishes to the southward from three small crevasses made in the Mississippi levee yesterday so that the threat of a serious flood might be removed from New Orleans. The blasting of the broad earthen embankment thrown up to keep the vagrant river in its channel was not as successful as state engineers had anticipated, but erosion in the deep trenches cut by the dynamite charges was noticed early today.

George C. Schenberger, chief state engineer, announced that the levee definitely had been broken and that there was an opening sixty feet wide at the end of the series of gaps through which water was rushing into the parishes of St. Bernard and Plaquemine. He adds that he expected the opening to widen rapidly and that it would have an appreciable effect on the river level within forty-eight hours. The blasting was done on each side of the dividing line between St. Bernard and Plaquemine parishes, and directly in front of the little cannery town of Caernarvon, which, like most of the other villages in the threatened area, had been deserted by its inhabitants.

Few of Houses Damaged. Slowly the water found its way across the highway skirting the base of the levee overran a meadow and spread out over the town, reaching finally to the series of gaps through which the water was rushing. The 1922 flood which crashed through the old levee near the Poydras settlement. All night the streams tumbled down the side of the embankment to push forward the waters in the low, but so gradual was the flow that few of the houses in the cannery town had been damaged.

The breaks in the levee were made a mile south of the 1922 crevasses and almost directly opposite Lake Leroy, through which much of the flood water eventually will find its way to Black Lake and the Gulf of Mexico. If their hopes are realized it is estimated that the break will take off more than one million cubic feet of water a minute, lowering the river stage at New Orleans by thirty inches and thus relieving the pressure the swift moving current now exerts on the levee protecting the city along the Crescent Bend.

Other Levees Threatened. With a great wall of water moving down the river from Vicksburg, where the river is rising steadily, it is not quite clear to what extent the Caernarvon break will reduce the flood to the northward. Levee opposite and below Vicksburg are now threatened, and should they go out the great force of the upriver flood would be dissipated across the plains of central Louisiana, before the flood crest reached New Orleans.

NEW DISTRICT ADDED TO MANITOBA'S FLOOD AREA WINNIPEG, Man., April 30.—A new district has been added to Manitoba's flood areas along the Assiniboine river, to the west of Brandon, according to reports received here early today. Oak Lake, a prosperous farming community, reported the river nearly a mile wide at some points with farms submerged, and roads flooded. (Continued on page 11.)

CITY'S ANNUAL 'CLEAN-UP WEEK' DRAWSTO ANEND

Last Chance Is Given to Citizens Who Have Not Complied With Request of Authorities to Clean Up Their Cellars and Yards and Beautify Their Homes.

Sherbrooke's annual "Clean-Up Week," which has been observed during this week, draws to an end today. A special request was made by the Mayor of the city, the Chief of Police and other officials that everyone enter into the spirit of the week by cleaning up their cellars and yards and making general improvements about the home and grounds so that the city might present a very clean, healthy and attractive appearance during the summer months. Those who have not yet complied with the request of the authorities have still a few hours to get busy and clean out the winter's ashes from the cellars, or rake up their lawns.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING TIME BEGINS AT MIDNIGHT

At midnight tonight Sherbrooke adopts daylight-saving time, which will be in force until the end of September. Upon retiring this evening all citizens are reminded to advance the hands of their clocks one hour.

ASSOCIATION OF ANARCHISTS IS DISCOVERED

Have Large Stores of Secret Arms and Bombs — Members of Band Are Mostly Spanish and Italian.

PARIS, April 30.—A dangerous association of 1,500 foreign anarchists, with large stores of secret arms and bombs, has been discovered by the police in Paris, the Petit Parisien said today.

The members of the band are mostly Spanish and Italian. The organization has been in existence for two years plotting revolutionary outbreaks, for which purpose it was formed, and also carrying out skillful burglaries through which its treasury has been well provided with funds.

The Petit Parisien said it was not known whether the association was acting in conjunction with Communists, but that the authorities attached much importance to the case and have put some of the best French detectives on it.

DRAFTING AN AMENDMENT TO TRADE UNION MEASURE

LONDON, April 30.—The cabinet, says the Daily Express, is drafting an amendment to its trade union bill, which comes up on the second reading in the House of Commons on Monday. The amendment would make combined lockouts by employers illegal, the same as general strikes.

This move, the newspaper adds, is expected to offset the contention of the Laborites that the bill is aimed solely at the trade union movement, and therefore one-sided.

Week-End Offers Nothing Exciting Locally In Way Of Political Manoeuvres

Both Parties Will Be Busy Drawing Up Their Programmes for Ensuing Two Weeks—Next Week Likely to Be a Busy One Throughout the Eastern Townships.

WOLFE CONSERVATIVES TO MEET ON TUESDAY NEXT

J. M. Ponton, of Montreal, Declines Richmond Conservative Nomination—Another Convention to Be Held on Tuesday, at Which It Is Rumored Alcide Roy Will Be Named Candidate.

THIS week-end offers nothing exciting in the way of political activities, although both the Conservative and Liberal workers have stated that they expect to have a busy week.

When interviewed this morning Mr. Armand C. Crepeau, the Conservative candidate, stated that he was not certain whether any meetings would be held during the week-end, but at any rate he and his supporters would be kept busy drawing up their programme of meetings, and next week, he said, would be a busy one.

The Liberal party leaders have also abandoned Sherbrooke for the week-end, but have selected Rock Forest as their place of activity tomorrow. There, following a mass, a public meeting will be held when the speakers will be the Liberal candidate, Mr. Cyrannus Morin; Messrs. C. B. Howard, M.P., and Albert Desilets. It is also expected that much in the way of organizing will be done by the Liberal workers during the week-end. Next week, in all probability, will be a busy one, as there only remain two weeks in which the two

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION FOR WOLFE TO BE HELD AT WOODBURN

WEDON, Que., April 30.—The Conservative convention for Wolfe County has been arranged to be held here on Monday afternoon next. Mr. Prosper Lussier is very prominently mentioned as a likely opponent to Dr. Lemieux, who has already been selected by the Liberals of this county.

MR. PONTON, IT IS UNDERSTOOD, DECLINED NOMINATION AT RICHMOND (Special to the Record) RICHMOND, April 30.—At the Conservative convention which was held here on Thursday afternoon last the nomination was offered to Mr. J. M. Ponton, of Montreal, but according to latest reports Mr. Ponton has declined to accept, and another convention has been called for Tuesday afternoon next. According to the general belief the choice of this second convention will be Mr. Alcide Roy, of Richmond, formerly of St. George, Windsor.

The Liberals of Richmond County have already held their convention and, as had been expected, have again backed on Mr. S. E. Desmarais, the former member, to bring them victory.

WHAT IS REALLY TAKING PLACE IN CHINA TODAY?

(Copyright 1926 by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. Copyright in Great Britain by London Chronicle. Exclusive World Rights Held by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in Whole or in Part Prohibited. All Rights Reserved.)

LONDON, April 30.—Everyone here is asking: "What is really happening in China?" And there is no one who will risk his reputation as a knowledgeable man on a definite answer. A few weeks ago, Chiang Kai-Shek, the redoubtable commander-in-chief of the victorious Cantonese army, was supposed to be well under the control of the Reds and Shanghai was barbed against his entry. Now it turns out that he places Communists first amongst the foreigners from whose sway he wishes to redeem his country. And the methods he adopts for dealing with Bolsheviks must make Mr. Winston Churchill rejoice greatly. They are far more summary than Signor Mussolini's way with Socialists.

LLOYD GEORGE.

What a change! The wolf against which the merchants of Shanghai barricaded their sheepfold has turned out to be a sheep dog whose sole desire is to protect the lambs against the depredations of the raider. What are the powers to do? General Chiang apologizes for the outrages at Nanking. But they were perpetrated by Communists, so he cuts off a few Bolshevik heads at Shanghai and offers to pay compensation for the injuries for which he and his men were not in the least responsible. He feels that that surely must be accepted by the powers as proof of his good faith. What could be more reasonable! He has also set up a new anti-Communist government at Nanking. How can the powers make war on their own friend? It is no use enforcing sanctions against a man who is on your side and is doing his best to help you. As for Mr. Eugene Chen, no one quite knows today where he stands. He is not and never has been a Communist but he is still at Hankow, where the Reds are in command. It is not quite clear, however, that the Nanking government has altogether repudiated him.

The change in the situation in the last fortnight is so complete and baffling that suspicious British journalists on the spot have come to the conclusion that the whole thing is a piece of superb Oriental finessing. One journalist suggests that General Chiang Kai-Shek's wholesale execution of Communists and his open quarrel with Hankow is all a put up job to bamboozle the simple Westerners. Another calls it a smoke screen to hide the real design of General Chiang, who is alleged to be as anti-foreign as ever and is only anxious to gain time over the blunder committed by some of his more excited lieutenants in the hours of victory at Nanking.

Quite frankly, I regard this kind of writing as pure morbidity. These writers clearly express the views of those who want to see guns take in hand the job of "teaching these Chinese a lesson that they cannot insult the white man with impunity." They cannot conceive the possibility of a native of China being both a patriot—an extreme patriot—and an anti-Communist. If you are a patriotic Englishman, you are assumed to be an anti-Bolshevik, but if you are a Chinese Nationalist you must also necessarily be a Red Communist. That is the kind of foolishness which would rush us into war with China. A highly intelligent Chinese student who is an avowed follower of the great Chinese prophet Sun-Yet-Sen, who has been following events in China with sympathy, gave me an appreciation of the present situation in that country. It struck me as giving the most rational explanation of the obscurities of the position and I, therefore, offer it here.

He said there were two main divisions, (1) Nationalists, (2) Northern China war lords. With regard to the Nationalists, they were again divided into two divisions, (1) Moderate, and (2) Bolshevik.

During the last two years, they had been separated because they could not agree on many points. It was only during the last year that both parties decided to fight with one common object against the North. (Continued on page 11)

Troops Being Sent To Kwantung And Hunan Borders To Stem Advance Of "Red" Army

Radicals Are Reported Marching Toward Canton—Still Fighting Government Forces in Outlying Districts.

(Associated Press Despatch) ANTON, April 30.—Troops were being dispatched today to the Kwantung and Hunan borders to stem the advance of Red troops advancing on Canton. The Reds still were fighting the Government forces in the outlying districts.

TO ORGANIZE CHINESE THROUGHOUT WORLD IN MOVEMENT TO AID CHINA

(Canadian Press Despatch) SHANGHAI, April 20.—The Nationalist government has issued an order prohibiting vessels to enter or leave the Whangpoo river by way of the Yangtze between sundown and sunrise, and is insisting that the order be obeyed.

The foreign consuls sent a note to the foreign office agreeing to the order as regards passenger vessels, but declining to comply as far as gunboats were concerned, saying it was necessary for these war craft to move any hour deemed necessary.

To this note the foreign office has replied insisting on compliance with its order to cease the operation of all vessels during the prescribed hours. The Nationalist people's party has formulated a plan, which has the backing of the Nationalist government, to organize Chinese throughout the world in a vast movement to aid China, and, as they say, put them in a better light in the various foreign countries. It is supposed, among other things, to put an end to long wars. In this connection the organizers of the movement intend to have every chop suey restaurant in North America visited by its workers.

CONSERVATIVE ELECTED (Associated Press Despatch) EDINBURGH, Scotland, April 30.—The Conservative candidate, John Buchan, historian and novelist, was elected member of Parliament for the Scottish Universities today in a bye-election necessitated by the death of the former Conservative member, Sir Henry Craik. Mr. Buchan received 16,963 votes as against 2,378 for Hugh B. Guthrie, Laborite.

Definite Agreement Has Been Reached Between Great Britain, United States and Japan.

(Associated Press Despatch) GENEVA, April 30.—A definite agreement has been reached between Great Britain, the United States and Japan, to hold the tripartite naval conference at Geneva, the Associated Press learned from an authoritative source last night. Great Britain and Japan, as members of the League of Nations, it is understood, will arrange for the conference to be held at league headquarters.

RHEUMATIC MISERY

Relief Can Only Come Through Better Blood—Linnments of No Use.

In no other disease does the blood become so thin so rapidly as in rheumatism. Not only does it become thin but it is loaded with impurities—rheumatic poisons. Without the proper treatment these poisons increase, the inflamed joints swell, and the patient becomes a cripple. Most treatments simply aim to keep down the pain, hence with every unfavorable condition a renewed attack follows.

To cast out rheumatism the blood must be enriched and the rheumatic poisons driven out with the natural secretions of the body. This can best be done through a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which have a specific action on the blood, giving it new richness and redness. Thousands have tried this treatment with beneficial results. That every sufferer from rheumatism who does not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is neglecting the most hopeful means of recovery is shown by the statement of Mr. David Carroll, Pictou, N.S., who says:—"For years I was troubled with rheumatism. The pains were not continuous but they always returned, and kept getting worse. I tried so-called electric belts and many medicines, but did not get more than temporary relief. Only those who have suffered from this trouble will realize what I suffered at times. I had begun to despair of getting better when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a short time I could feel this medicine helping me so I gladly continued taking the pills and soon found that every trace of the trouble had disappeared and there was a great improvement in my general health. It is now two years since I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I have not had the least twinges of the trouble in that time. That is why I confidently recommend the pills to other sufferers."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

FUNNY FEATHERS

It is only in your mind Things are ever queer, you'll find. —Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit never did understand why it was he couldn't find the hole Farmer Brown's dog had dug down to the nest of Rattles the Kingfisher. He went over to look for it several times, but it remained a mystery. Finally he gave up.

Then, as there were so many other things to look for, he forgot all about Rattles the Kingfisher until one day he just happened to be on the bank of the Laughing Brook opposite the entrance to the Kingfisher home. Just as he got there he saw Rattles disappear in the direction of the Big River and Mrs. Rattles disappear up the Laughing Brook toward the Smiling Pool.

"Their babies must be pretty big by this time," thought Peter. "I'd like to see them. Perhaps if I sit here long enough I will. I've nothing particular to do, so I think I will."

So Peter sat and watched. The sun was warm, and presently Peter began to doze a little. He was sure he closed his eyes for only a moment, but when he opened them and looked across to the entrance of the homes of Rattles the Kingfisher, there in the doorway sat one Peter was sure must be one of the Kingfisher children. But never had Peter seen any feathers like the feathers of the funny little bird sitting in that doorway.

"Jumping crickets!" exclaimed Peter. "Who ever saw any feathers growing like those? Why, every feather looks as if it were rolled up! It does so I never before saw a feather that wasn't flat. Those feathers are not flat. Never in my life did I see such funny-looking feathers."

Just then the little Kingfisher disappeared. Peter waited patiently. In a moment or two another one of the Kingfisher children appeared in the doorway. This one looked exactly like the first. In fact, Peter wasn't quite sure that it wasn't the first come back. This one stayed there until Mrs. Kingfisher came back to give it a fish. Then it disappeared inside, taking the little fish with it, and immediately another took its place in the doorway. Peter knew then that this was another, for evidently it was very hungry.

"I never did!" muttered Peter.

It was two days before Peter got back there for another look at those young Kingfishers. Hardly had he hidden in his former hiding place when he saw a movement in the doorway of the Kingfisher home. At first he thought it was Rattles or Mrs. Rattles, but a few moments later he saw both of them out fishing, so then he knew that the bird in the doorway must be one of the children. Peter rubbed his eyes! There was nothing queer about the feathers of the young Kingfishers now. They lay flat, just as the feathers of any young bird would lie. In fact, this young Kingfisher looked quite like his parents.

"He can't be the one I saw a couple of days ago," thought Peter, and waited. In turn he saw seven young Kingfishers, and on all of them the feathers were flattened out and properly in order. Peter went away scratching his head. You see, there was no one to tell him that when the feathers of a bird come through the skin each one is rolled up in a little sheath, which in most cases immediately opens, but in the case of the Kingfisher does not open until the young bird is well grown. Then, when the time comes, all the feathers unroll and make a complete change.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK

Dear Uncle Jim: This is my first letter to the Corner folk. I am seven years old and have never been to school, but will go after Easter. I have studied at home and will be in the second grade at school when I go. My daddy died the last of December. I have one little brother; his name is Roland. My letter is getting long so I will close hoping to see my letter in print.

Your loving niece, IRIS GIROUX, Sherbrooke.

Dear Uncle Jim: I suppose you will think I am never going to write again, but I have been pretty busy keeping up my lessons. Our teacher this year is Miss Reed. I am in the sixth grade at school. I have only a short way to go; it isn't a half-mile. I got a lot of nice presents at Christmas, and one of them was this writing paper. But the nicest ones were a dress, a pair of gloves and a pair of stockings. I will close now.

Your niece, VIVIAN G. HOLYON, Lennoxville.

Dear Uncle Jim: How many eggs did you eat Easter Day, Uncle Jim? I didn't eat any as I don't like them. Did you see the sun dance? Did. My father found some mayflowers on April 14th. We aren't going to make any more maple sugar this spring. On April 9th, Daddy, George, Robert and I washed the buckles. George and I washed the most, while Robert and Daddy carried them out. I was at two sugarings-off this spring. I hope my letter is newsworthy and neat enough to use in the Corner. I will close now with good wishes to the Corner folk and Uncle Jim.

Your niece, RUTH JOHNSON, South Durham.

Dear Uncle Jim: This is my first letter to your

This one stayed until Mrs. Kingfisher came back to give it a fish.

"No, sir, I never did see anything in the feathered line like those. There must be something wrong with those birds. Yes, sir, there must be something wrong with those birds. Who ever heard of rolled up feathers?"

Ruth doesn't like eggs! That is too bad, for they are such good food; try to like them, Ruth. I ate two Easter morning. I didn't see the sun dance, but I saw it rise on Easter morning—I was in the country. Yes, Ruth, your letter was neatly written, and we hope you will write again some time.

Until next Saturday best wishes to all from Corner. I am ten years old and am in grade three at school. My teacher is Miss Davidson and I like her very much. I read the Bedtime Stories and the Corner folks' letters. We have four baby kittens, and I have a dog named Buster.

FOR BUSY LITTLE FOLK

The J.R.C. bulletin for May has many interesting ideas and among them are such activities for the Juniors as: Plan a programme for Empire Day; make a wildflower bed, or window-box for a shut-in. Don't forget Mothers' Day (second Sunday in May). Wouldn't it be a good idea to form committees for summer picnics, nature study hikes, sports days, swimming competitions, etc.?

And here is something worth reading: Rub a dub, dub, Have a good scrub, Soap and water and any old tub. Look at the birds, See how they splash, Never a sparrow but loves a good wash, Water's your friend, without any doubt, Use plenty of it, within and without. (From Messenger of Health)

NOTES ABOUT J.R.C. WORKERS

The prize for the best J.R.C. song was won by the Beaver Meadow group, St. Elie d'Orford. It starts off like this: "Have you seen our badges new? Bright red crosses. Don't you want to wear them, too? Bright red crosses. They are emblems of the band, That is working hard in hand, And for services they stand Bright red crosses."

There are three verses and a chorus, and the Juniors of that group must surely be proud of their own song, while many other groups will be proud to sing it.

The J.R.C. yell winning the prize was composed by the Willing Workers of Gaspe Model School: "Juniors, Juniors, Juniors are we; Quebec, Quebec, one, two, three. Ready to answer at duty's call, Rah, rah, rah, for the Juniors all. We are happy, healthy and free, Let's give three cheers for the J.R.C."

Honorable mention is given the Beaver Meadow group, St. Elie d'Orford.

Prizes in the Poster competition were won by groups in the La Tuque, Bristol Mines, and Ezeamin schools.

Several fine portfolios have been sent to headquarters, and Ayer's Cliff High School, Brownleigh, Danville and St. Sylvestre schools are quoted as being nicely prepared. The portfolio from St. Sylvestre has been chosen as a good example of work to be shown at the World's Federation of Teachers in Toronto next August.

The Juniors of the Ayer's Cliff school have a new Union Jack; the Eaton Corner and Huntingdon Juniors have medicine cabinets in the schools, and there are many other interesting things going on in the J.R.C. world.

THE LAST DAY OF APRIL

Today April is bidding us a cold farewell, but her chilly passing must be accepted as the inevitable result of too warm weather during the last of March and the first part of this month. Accredited a season of "smiles and tears," April of 1927 has lived up to its title, for there have been snow, rain, thunder storm, frost, sunshine and moonlight.

There has been a medley of garments worn during the month; one day the new Easter coat and hat, the next day the winter fur collar turned high about the throat, but on the whole April has not been too uncomfortable, for in spite of everything it is spring.

The past week has been one of the busiest this spring, for social activities were numerous, and it was the city's spring house-clearing period. The town looks better, but

MR. AND MRS. PIBUS WILL HAVE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY ON SUNDAY

Tomorrow, May 1st, an aged couple of the Eastern Townships, Mr. and Mrs. John Pibus, Sr., of Bolton Pass, will celebrate the fifty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day. Members of their family and their many friends will extend to Mr. and Mrs. Pibus many congratulations upon the occasion, and also best wishes for years of contentment, health and happiness together.

A rather odd incident in connection with the recorded ages of Eastern Townships' people who have passed their eightieth birthdays, is the fact that not one birthday is recorded on the Record's honor list occurring during the first six days of May. There are, however, many birthdays of aged people during the remainder of the month.

PLYMOUTH SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL BEGIN ITS SUMMER ARRANGEMENTS TOMORROW

The services on Sunday at Plymouth United Church will be conducted by the minister, Dr. G. Elery Read. At the morning service the subject of address will be "Science and Immortality." This is the second of a series of sermons on "The Growing Hope of Immortality," and it will deal with the possibility of still believing in immortality as it is interpreted by modern thought.

In the evening the subject of the sermon will be "Making the Most of Life." The sermon will be a challenge to think of life in terms of service and true wealth. The choral services for the day will include "Gloria" (Buzza Pecchia), sung by Mrs. J. G. Rousehouse, and a chorus for the women of Japan, filed on the lands of Japan by Miss Marjorie Benton, with one on Japanese games, prepared by Miss Doris Waite, and a dialogue illustrating the effect of Christianity on the women of Japan, filed on the evening, which concluded with the Japanese national anthem.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Ladies' Aid Held Meeting

CONDITION OF ROADS BETTER THAN LAST WEEK

Report Received from Sherbrooke Auto Club States that Great Improvement Is Shown in Roads, Especially in Vermont State.

In a bulletin issued by Mr. J. C. McConnell, secretary of the Sherbrooke Auto Club, road conditions are reported as being improved over last week-end, especially in Vermont State.

The following is the report: Route No. 1—Sherbrooke to Montreal via Granby in fair condition throughout.

From Sherbrooke to Knowlton, Cowansville, Farnham, Marieville to Montreal, somewhat rough between Farnham and Marieville.

From Sherbrooke, Knowlton, Cowansville, Dunham, Bedford, Clarenceville, Cantile to Rouses Point, fair throughout.

Sherbrooke to Knowlton, Sutton, Richmond, St. Albans, frost holes in spots, but passably fair.

Route No. 5—Sherbrooke to Quebec via Cookshire, Maribon, Weedon, good as far as D'Israeli only.

Route No. 7—Sherbrooke-Beauceville, good as far as Bury only.

Route No. 10—Sherbrooke to Levis via Richmond, Danville, Victoriaville, good throughout.

Route No. 13—Sherbrooke to Norton Mills, good. Norton Mills to Island Pond, connecting with the various roads throughout New Hampshire, much improved over last week.

We also have a first hand report that the roads from here to Wells River, and White River via Newport and St. Johnsbury are in good condition, but we would advise keeping away from the Willoughby Lake road for another week or two.

Crawford Notch and Franconia Notch in the White Mountains near Newport, St. Johnsbury, Littleton, are in splendid condition.

Newport to Burlington, good throughout except two miles between Johnson and Cambridge which is rough and not advisable.

All sections are being repaired and resurfaced under the supervision of the government engineers and inspectors and if present weather conditions continue to prevail, we may expect a much better report for next week.

McAllister, Nellie Golden, Jeanette Creighton, and the famous Albertina Rasch Girls form only a part of the personnel. There is also the George White's Beauty Chorus, said to have been chosen from a battery of over three hundred girls, and selected for their youth, beauty and dancing skill.

The sketches and comic episodes have been written by William K. Wells, who has contributed facile and sophisticated scenes to many Broadway successes.

According to advance reports, no attention to detail has been spared to make the present tour of the Scandals successful, for all of the original scenic production and all the costumes from the Apollo Theatre, New York, have been brought on tour, and it is understood that the production will be staged here with every attention to detail that marked its long run on Broadway last season.

LENNOXVILLE

JAPANESE PROGRAMME HELD IN DOUGLAS HALL

The local C.G.I.T. groups gave a Japanese evening in Douglas hall last night, which was well attended by friends of the members of the groups. The hall was decorated with Japanese colors, which were used with good effect in shades, and in the costumes worn by the girls, which followed the quaint fashions and bright colors worn among the women of Japan. Small tea tables set about the hall, and centred with chrysanthemums were served with tea in Japanese China, and added to the Oriental effect.

A short programme of Japanese music, including a piano solo by Miss Mina Bergau, a lullaby, in Japanese and English, and a patter on the lands of Japan by Miss Marjorie Benton, with one on Japanese games, prepared by Miss Doris Waite, and a dialogue illustrating the effect of Christianity on the women of Japan, filed on the evening, which concluded with the Japanese national anthem.

FAST MINERAL WEALTH.

The mineral wealth of Canada is immense and its development has but just begun. Nevertheless, some great mining properties have been established. "Financial Service" points out that Canada today has three mines in the $100,000,000 class, remarking, "The appreciation in the market value of the securities of the International Nickel Co. has brought the value of this company's capital above $100,000,000, and it now ranks with Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada, Limited. The total value of the three properties, as placed upon them by investors, is close to $350,000,000. Production of the three concerns includes lead, zinc, nickel, copper, silver, gold and platinum."

No doubt there are many more areas which in time will yield up their now hidden treasures.

CANADA'S PACIFIC COAST CITY.

A news report says: "Rogers Babson, noted statistician, in addressing the Canadian Club, in Toronto said that in 25 years' time Vancouver would be the greatest port on the American Pacific coast, and that it was only a matter of time when the trade across the Pacific ocean would equal, if not exceed, that of the Atlantic."

This is a prophecy which will add to the pride of the people of the Western City. Vancouver, undoubtedly, has a strategic position and is bound to grow as Canada grows. If the Babson prediction is realized, it will mean an advance right across Canada for Vancouver's interests are tied up with those of the rest of the country and particularly dependent upon general western prosperity.

IMPROVED BUSINESS.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is charged with checking up the employment situation in Canada. Its report for March is encouraging. There was more employment in Canada for March than during any corresponding month in six years. The working forces of 5,813 firms aggregated 795,163 persons, as compared with 788,148 in the preceding month. The employment index number stood at 96.3 on March 1st, as compared with 95.4 at the beginning of February, and with 91.5, 87.0, 90.7, 78.9 and 88.0 at the beginning of March in the six preceding years.

Canada is moving forward. Good times have come slowly and should remain long with us.

THE PHILOSOPHER.

My share of the work of the world may be limited, but the fact that it is work makes it precious. Darwin could work only half an hour at a time; yet in many diligent half-hours he laid the foundations of philosophy. Green, the historian, tells us that the world is moved, not only by the mighty shoves of the heroes, but also by the aggregate of the tiny pushes of each honest worker.—Helen Keller.

THE LEAF.

(By Dr. Frank Crane)

The most important of all living things is the leaf.

Many leaves such as spinach, lettuce, etc., are eaten raw in salads or cooked directly.

Most of the foods, however, begin with a leaf and result in a fruit or vegetable. Apples, pears and other fruit, to say nothing of tomatoes and bananas, are all a modification of living forms in some way or other.

The tree is nothing but the developed leaf, as all tree trunks start with a leafy bud.

The leaf products eaten by man produce a certain amount of heat as nourishment. Burned in the fire they give out a definite amount of light and heat.

Dr. Gager, of the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, said in a recent address that Dean Swift's description of extracting sunbeams out of cucumbers for later use during raw seasons is not so absurd after all.

The most striking effect of the vegetation of the earth is its green leaves. Even when these do not appear green, as in copper-leaved beeches, the green coloring matter is there, but it is overwhelmed by the presence of another pigment.

Now this leaf-green depends upon sunlight and it might be said, without too greatly stretching the truth, that sunlight. The leaf-blade also gets water and various salts from the soil, oxygen and dioxide gas from the air. This process can only take place in the presence of light, and is perhaps the most fundamental of all the processes of life.

So the food that we eat, whether vegetable or animal, the clothing we wear, cotton, woollen or silk, the frame dwellings in which some of us live and the wood, coal, gas and electricity that heat and light our buildings depend eventually upon green leaves.

Most of our butter and milk comes from animals that feed on leaves. All the wood and coal in the world was formerly inside of a green leaf and the heat and light of our houses is the sunlight of previous geological ages captured first by green leaves and stored up in our coal mines.

When Adam and Eve, according to tradition, made for themselves clothing of fig leaves it was an act typical of all future clothing as well as of all future nourishment of the race.

If you are going to be a heathen and worship strange gods we might recommend to you as an object of adoration the green leaf.—Cpt. 1927.

PRESS COMMENT

THE NEWSPAPERS OF TODAY.

(Brantford Examiner)
The newspaper of today aims to be a mirror of the important events in the community in which it is published, and of the world at large. It does not follow that the unusual, the unexpected, the surprising, are not news. The light and amusing, the strange and fantastic have their proper and important place in the newspaper, the pages of which they brighten, but newspapers that exploit the oddities of life to the neglect of the great moving force are merely running sideshows to real journalism. Well directed journalism is one of the greatest forces in society today.

A SERIOUS DISCREPANCY.

(Peterboro Examiner)
The small returns from the farms, especially in view of three years' good crops in the Prairie Provinces, as compared with the amount paid by urban workers, undoubtedly explain the unpopularity of the income tax among the employees' class, as well as the anxiety of the Canadian Council of Agriculture and other farm organizations that the tax should be maintained at its present level or should be increased.
The worker in the city believes there is something wrong with a system of taxation that produces only $168,000 in revenue from the basic industry of this country.

HOMER IS DEAD.

(Los Angeles Times)
Modern life seems to have conspired most cruelly against the poets. The poet has had hard sledding in every age, and poetry and poverty have nearly always been synonymous. But in bygone days a bard of great cleverness was usually pensioned by King or noble, and there existed a large body of people with sufficient leisure to read his latest effusion. But the rush of modern life has become such that even people with nothing to do are all worn out doing it. Real leisure is at a premium, and the most profound admirer of poetry could hardly hope to concentrate his mind on the loveliest gem, with the radio running merrily on from morning till night.

HAPPY CANADA.

(Brockville Recorder-Times)
Everywhere save in Canada there seems to be unrest and uncertainty. Such troubles as those which concern the Canadian people are indeed as nothing in comparison with those which afflict the older and more congested countries of the world. We have our little domestic squabbles and our little sectional grievances, but they do not amount to much. It is many, many years since any great disaster has overtaken Canada. We have no volcanoes to fear, and all the minor earth shocks that we feel have their origin thousands of miles away. We are at peace with our neighbors and with the world. We have all of the territory that we want and would not know what to do with any more that we might acquire. We live in no fear of aggression and we do not require the services of a large standing army to maintain our frontiers.

GOING, GOING, WHAT'S GOING NEXT?

(Christian Science Monitor)
Exit the parlor and sitting room. Next—the pantry. What is to become of the traditional New England home? Architects and builders say that modern conditions have eliminated in practically all new building the time-honored institutions, the "front parlor" and the "sitting room."

Fifty years and more ago the average New England parlor was a sort of home museum, containing such treasures as the "parlor set" that had been handed down through two or three generations, the glass-encased wax flowers, the "crayon enlargements," the family album and Bible, sea shells, coral specimens, knickknacks from everywhere, and above all the unforgettable staleness of the atmosphere. One almost looked for the stalactites on the ceiling.

Only on rare occasions was the parlor opened. Its mysterious solemnity produced in the children a feeling akin to awe. Only when distinguished visitors came were the doors opened and the shutters thrown back, and their departure was the signal for an immediate reclosing. Every spring, during the spring house-cleaning period, the parlor was vigorously attacked by the good housewife who oftentimes was in almost total eclipse in the cloud of dust which she raised.

In these days of the necessity for economizing room and thereby bringing down building costs and rentals, the ancient New England parlor has been merged with the sitting room and the amalgamation has been tagged "the living room." Incidentally "the spare room" is disappearing in a great many homes. "The guest room," its successor, still survives but such contrivances as convertible couches and concealed cots in "the living room" forecast the future elimination of even the guest room in all save the home of affluence.

Electrical contrivances are said to be making the pantry unnecessary. The kitchen has shrunk to proportions the mere contemplation of which would almost overcome the housewife of a century ago, while "the breakfast nook" is gradually superseding the dining room. And the great-grandparents of the New Englanders of today need to move comfortably about a kitchen that was almost big enough for "a town meeting."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ANOTHER REPLY TO MR. PAYNE

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record,
Sir:—I have read with interest the controversy between the farmers and Mr. J. B. Payne, in his reference to Mr. J. P. Cleary, of Cleary's Station, as a prosperous farmer. I venture to say he lived on a farm which was operated by his own boys, and hired help. As for Mr. J. P. Cleary, he operated one of the largest businesses in wood and lumber, pulp, bark, etc., ever known in the Province of Quebec for about fifty years and filled a good many offices, one of which was for the C.P. Railroad for nearly twenty years. It therefore is no thanks to the farm for money or autos. As to the Mayor of West Sheffield, he was also as much in business as on a farm. Your father-in-law became well off by settling on a farm years ago, which came of value later, not by milking cows. Ask him and you will get money lender in Ely. I am told he got the home place. In other words, if Mr. Payne cannot run a business in a more profitable way than he tells us in his last letter, why be advising other people. He may have them all in the same mixup. It is well known the farmer's costs overbalances his profits. He is feeding the city dude whose pants wear only at the seat. Costs and prices must be reversed before the farmer is fairly dealt with.
Thanking you very much, I remain,
A FARMER, BORN AND BRED.

RE-YOUNG FARMER'S LETTER.

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record,
Sir:—"Young Farmer's" letter, which appeared in your paper on April 22nd, concerning the gravel question is very misleading to the public and ought to be rectified. He stated that the thirteen teams hired went on a strike for more pay. They did not. Mr. J. B. Reed, councillor, came up and ordered a cut of ten cents per load. The teamsters would not stand for this so they left.
Young Farmer also stated that it has been clearly proven since, that any good team can earn $6 per ten hour day at this job. I understand that Mr. Reed's team did earn $8 one day, but why did he not come back the next day and prove that this could be kept up?
Thanking you for this valuable space, I remain,
Yours truly,
G. J. Conner.
"One of the So-Called Strikers."

INSTITUTE AT HATLEY HELD BIG MEETING

Conveners Elected — Delegates for County Meeting Appointed — Personal and Items of Interest from Hatley and District

HATLEY, Que., April 30.—The April meeting of the Hatley Women's Institute was entertained by Mrs. R. R. Whitcomb on Saturday afternoon, April 16th, at which there was a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. Gage, opened the meeting in the usual manner by asking that the "Club Women's Creed" be repeated in unison. The roll call was responded to by the paying of dues and giving, "Health Hints". Reports from the various conveners were then called for and given.

The election of conveners for the coming year followed with the following result, viz: Convener of agriculture, Mrs. A. E. Gage; Child Welfare and Public Health, Mrs. Glidden and Mrs. Hartwell; education and better schools, Mrs. Eardley-Wilmut; home economics, Mrs. R. R. Whitcomb; immigration, Mrs. H. F. Webster; legislation and national events, Mrs. F. Pope; publicity, Mrs. H. B. Whitcomb; school fairs, Mrs. J. S. Webster. Entertainment committee, for the months of May, June and July are Mrs. H. F. Webster, Mrs. A. E. Gage, and Mrs. LeBaron; visiting committee, Mrs. Eardley-Wilmut and Mrs. Webster. Arrangements were made to appoint some one to canvass for the "Farmers' Guide". The subscriptions for this magazine are to be donated to the public library.

The institute has also offered to finance the repairs of the band stand, which we trust will be under way shortly. It was decided to hold a dance, as usual, on July 1st. Arrangements were made to entertain the annual county meeting in Hatley on May 12th. Delegates were appointed as follows: Mrs. Eardley-Wilmut as delegate for the annual county meeting, and Mrs. Gage official delegate, with Mrs. J. S. Webster as visiting delegate to attend the fourteenth annual convention of the Canadian College in June. A paper on "The duties of the board of health", was given by the secretary, also a paper on agriculture was given by Mrs. Young.

The programme for the coming year was very interesting and favorably accepted, copies are to be ordered shortly. By special request Mrs. Eardley-Wilmut very kindly gave us a very pleasing recitation on "What they say in Japan", after which the business meeting adjourned and tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. R. Whitcomb, assisted by her sister, Miss Davidson.

In point of interest, and excellence, the morning and evening homilies, at the United Church, on Sunday, vied with each other. The first was concerned with "The Vision, and the Task", in which was shown the necessity as one is ever the complement of the other, for combining the attributes, and powers of the two, while that of the evening, "The Swifts of God", to which the attention of the world was early directed by the Prophet Isaiah, called for thoughtful and reverent consideration. Upon both occasions, the music was inspiring and helpful, the aftermath of the Easter songs of gladness, being employed, to a certain extent.

At seven o'clock on Sunday morning, the Sunday School held the annual Easter observance, with specially prepared schedule of exercises, reading and music, under the direction of the superintendent, Mrs. A. E. Pellerin. While in session the hymn, "There is a Green Hill Far Away", to a favorite setting, was given, with fine effect, by the bass soloist of the church, Mr. D. N. Vaughan, accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Hetherington.

In a letter of recent date, written by Mrs. Howe, of "Brooklawn", who has been passing the months of winter, in the beautiful city of Mount Royal, she tells of the return of her grandson, Mr. Ralldolph Howe, from England.
Real regret has been expressed by friends in this village and vicinity of Mrs. R. P. Hurlbut, Sr., upon receipt of a message telling of her death, following a severe accident.

For several years, Mrs. Hurlbut is the guest for a few days of her aunt, Mrs. C. T. Adam, and Mr. Adam.

LABRADOR WORK WAS REVIEWED AT WATERLOO

Miss Warne Told of Dr. Grenfell's Mission—Other General News
and Personals of Interest.

WATERLOO, Que., April 30. — On Sunday evening, April 24th, the special speaker at the United Church was Miss Warne, of Ottawa, who is closely identified with Dr. Grenfell's work in connection with the people of the deep sea fisheries of Labrador and Newfoundland. During the opening service the Rev. Mr. Allenby read Dr. Grenfell's favorite chapter, the thirteenth of St. Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians, after which Mrs. W. F. Colwell very pleasingly rendered the solo, "While the Days Are Going By" (Ware-Stephens).

Miss Warne related many incidents in the life of Dr. Grenfell, which were most interesting, and showed that he had taken a great interest in fishing folk from a mere child. Dr. Grenfell was educated at Oxford, and qualified for his profession in the colleges and hospitals of London, England, was particularly friend of the noted English surgeon, Sir Frederick Treves.

Dr. Grenfell arrived at Labrador with his hospitalship in 1892 and began to establish his work, which has grown to comparatively large proportions, for at that time there was only one government doctor in the whole territory. Today, there are four permanent hospitals, three summer hospitals and three orphanage schools, where a number of children are being educated. These students have done splendidly, some of whom have been given further education, and have graduated as doctors and nurses, etc., and instead of engaging in pursuits in other parts, they have, as a rule, gone back to their homes, and are giving the benefit of their capabilities to their own countrymen.

Miss Warne spoke of the pleasure there was in working among the people of Labrador, one reason being their quick response to medical assistance, which she said was due to their clean living.

In closing, Mr. Allenby paid a glowing tribute to Dr. Grenfell, whom he knew intimately, having been associated with him while stationed at St. Anthony, Newfoundland.

A favorite hymn of Dr. Grenfell's was sung at the close.

CHAPTER I.

Sally Lingfield.

When Philip Sanderson knocked Sally Lingfield down and ran over her as he was turning out of Piccadilly in the early hours of a grey February morning, the gods must have laughed, for Sally Lingfield was the one woman in the world for whom Sanderson had any feeling whatever, and it was an extraordinary coincidence that she should have been crossing the road just as he raced down from Shaftesbury Avenue and across to the Haymarket.

Sanderson was drunk at the time, but then, that was nothing unusual, for Sanderson was generally drunk after six o'clock in the evening, and the inspector at Vine Street police station evidenced no surprise at seeing him, and did not even inquire his name and address. But Sanderson had never run over anyone before, and the shock of recognizing the girl huddled in the wet road, her evening cloak all mud-stained, and her yellow hair torn ruthlessly down, sobered him more quickly than all the pick-me-ups in the world could have done. Sanderson was a waster.

He would have told you so himself had you asked him, and would have seemed rather proud of the admission.

He was the sort of man about whom people really knew very little, but about whom they imagined a great deal.

He lived in a small bachelor flat somewhere behind Manchester Square, and he belonged to half a dozen more or less disreputable clubs, owned a racing car with a red devil mascot carrying a pitchfork, and the only creature in the world for whom he was known to possess any real affection was a queer-looking mongrel dog whom he called "Sometimes."

Sometimes was with him the night he ran over Sally Lingfield, and when she had been taken away to the hospital, Sometimes went along with his master to Vine Street police station, pausing unbidden at the entrance, and wagging his long, whip-like tail knowingly, as much as to say: "That is the place, isn't it? We've both been here before, many a time!"

He wagged his tail again when a friendly constable patted his head and produced a biscuit for him, and after consuming it he curled up contentedly enough in front of the fire and patiently waited for the proceedings to conclude.

Sanderson and Sometimes made an interesting pair, and they were almost as well-known in the West End as the Prince of Wales or the statue of Eros, for Sanderson stood six feet four in his socks, and generally wore a black slouch hat pulled down over his eyes, a tie with untidy flowing ends, and the grandest of socks.

Nobody quite knew his age, but he might have been anything between thirty and five-and-forty, and in a dissipated way he was a good-looking man, with grizzled hair and rather deep-set eyes.

Lately he had begun to look slightly coarser, and to walk with a hunch in his broad shoulders, as if he were indifferent to his appearance, or as if he found the burden of life too heavy.

Sometimes was a cross between a bull-terrier and a sheepdog. He had long, thin legs and a long, thin tail like the thong of a whip, which he banged against everything that came in his way. For Sometimes was eternally pleased with life, and wore a perpetual smile on his extraordinary face.

Round his neck he proudly carried a red, white and blue patent-leather collar, and attached to it was a metal disc which was engraved with the legend: "I belong to Philip Sanderson. My name is Sometimes." And underneath was the address of the bachelor flat behind Manchester Square.

It was commonly supposed that Philip Sanderson had money, for he never borrowed from his friends or acquaintances, and he always paid his way, but even to those who knew him best he was something of a mystery.

He never spoke of his past life, or of his relations—if, indeed, he had any—but there was a story told of him that he had once been in the Guards, and had been kicked out of them for drunkenness and insubordination.

Sanderson was not responsible for the story, neither admitting nor contradicting it, and its origin probably arose from the fact that when he was very much the worse for drink, and in a fighting mood, he would wave his long arms and defy the whole world by shouting at the top of his great voice: "Come on, boys! The Guards never retire!" His other chief characteristics were his indifference to most women, and his hatred of Josh Akers.

Josh Akers was also a waster, only of a different type, and the two men loathed one another as it is said only birds of a feather can loathe one another.

It was common knowledge that on more than one occasion Akers had partaken of the hospitality of a prison, that he had twice been caught cheating at cards, and had once been thrashed within an inch of his life by Philip Sanderson.

Lately they had entered into rivalry for the favors of Sally Lingfield, a dancer in a cabaret show at the Faun Night Club, of which both men were members, and so far the general opinion was that the betting was "odds on" in favor of Sanderson.

Sally Lingfield was about twenty-three with the body of a child and the slender supple limbs of a fairy. She was as light as a thistle-down when she danced and she had the innocent look of an angel which was sadly belied by her sharp tongue and shrewd worldliness.

She was supposed to be the daughter of a once well-known actress who had fallen upon evil days and died in miserable poverty, but all her immediate associates knew of her was that she shared a flat with another dancer several years her senior and that she openly stated that she intended to marry a title.

Sanderson had no title, but he had money, and although he was a great deal older than Sally, she attracted him by her youthful grace and impudence as no other woman had ever attracted him.

A COLONIAL HOME OF REFINEMENT

By F. H. Portnall, Architect.

With persons of conservative temperament the Colonial style is forever popular. Notice the quaint charm, dignity, and restraint, as exemplified by the home shown above, which is a particularly fine rendition of the style.

The entrance, always the focal point of a Colonial exterior, is here well worthy of the study which its importance claims.

The plans are commendably simple and direct and provide seven ample sized rooms, which, if furnished with the same restraint and good taste which characterize the exterior, would create a disquieting atmosphere of great appeal.

In accordance with the Colonial characteristic of restraint the stucco walls are finished in a quiet light grey, which combines very well with the red shingle roof, and cream woodwork.

This home could easily be built facing the street on a 50 foot lot, while if turned sideways a 35 foot lot would suffice.

Each floor, and hot water heating, are included for an approximate cost of $7,500.

Readers desiring further information regarding the plans and specifications of this house should communicate with the architect direct. Address Mr. F. H. Portnall, Regina, Sask.

Miss Grace Amy, of Angus, spent the week-end recently at home.

Mrs. Henry Moulton and little daughter, accompanied Mr. Moulton to Farnham, Mass., on Saturday, April 23rd, where after a time they expect to return to this vicinity to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Woodward, of Maplewood, went to Montreal on Friday, April 22nd, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bithell. Mr. Woodward returned on Tuesday, April 25th, leaving Mrs. Woodward for several days longer. Master Arthur Woodward went with his parents.

Miss E. Stevenson spent a recent week-end at Hatley at Mr. W. Whitcomb's.

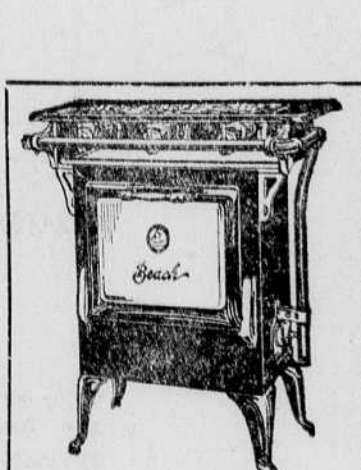

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Munroe, of Newbury, Vt., lately home from a winter sojourn in Florida, were here several days visiting Miss Francis Cox and Mr. A. Cox.

It is now expected that the Hatley Township W.C.T.U. annual meeting will be put off this spring owing to plans being made to hold the county convention of St. Andrew unions earlier than usual. This is owing to Mrs. Oliver, County President, leaving early in June to attend the national convention held at Vancouver in her office of Dominion Y. Secretary.

The annual meeting of the Massawippi Cemetery Association will be held the second Monday in May at the Town Hall, when all interested are invited to attend. Reports will be given and further plans made for the general upkeep of the grounds. If there are those wishing to contribute to the fund on hand, it will be gratefully received, as much more is needed, as yearly a caretaker has to be engaged.

Mr. Homer Noddy, of Sherbrooke, is spending a few days with his parents.

NEWS OF SPORTING WORLD

PACE-SETTERS ALL CHALKED UP VICTORIES

Yankees and Athletics Both Won
Their Games Yesterday —
Cobb Contributed Largely to Mackmen's Success.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 30.—To the ringing tune of bat on ball, the leaders of the major leagues were setting a merry pace today in baseball's big parade.

Twin victories for the Yanks and Athletics sent them farther ahead of the American League pack as the rivals struck into a double quick just half a game apart. In the National League, the Giants led the van with another smashing triumph.

Babe Ruth was on a rampage against the Red Sox. Not content with driving out his fourth home run, the Big Bam added a double and a single, and topped it off with a brilliant catch in his corner of the outer ground. Dutch Reuther held the Sox runless, while the Yanks piled up nine. It was Reuther's second shut-out of the year.

Close at the Yanks' heels, the Athletics matched them stride for stride with an 8 to 7 victory over the Senators. All seemed lost until the sixth when Cobb and Company unleashed a typhoon of hitting that blew in seven runs. A triple, double and single formed the part played by the ageless Cobb, while his team mates, Bill Lamar and Thurston, clouded out home runs.

Like the Athletics, the Giants made it five in a row when they walloped the Braves 10 to 3. Everybody was hitting them hard and far, and Lindstrom, Terry and Tyson each laced out a long one for a joke around the bags. A terrific attack made up for a momentarily weak offense which made six errors. Relieving McQuillan early in the game, Dutch Henry held the Braves to two hits in seven innings.

It remained for the Brooklyn Robins, trailing far in the rear of the National League, to contribute the biggest surprise of the day. They presented him in the person of James "Jumbo" Elliott, called the biggest pitcher in the Major Leagues.
Late of the Pacific Coast League, Big Jim made his debut with a 7 to 0 triumph over the Phillies. To those voracious hitters he granted only three safe balls, all of which were singles. On his own account the 235 pound hurler connected for a double that further gladdened Uncle Robbie's heart.

Another pitcher won a game in his first start of the season when Rip Collins, of the Tigers, bested Buckeye, of the Indians, in a pitching duel. Tight fielding with a Detroit gift for double plays, helped him to a 5 to 2 win which boosted the Tigers into a tie with St.
Louis for third place in the American League.

SPORTING NOTES

BRITISH THREAT REPELLED

(Associated Press Despatch)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 30.—
The relay team from the Delta College Institute, Hamilton, Ont., will get into action at the Pennsylvania relay carnival at Franklin field today when the quartette, Weich, Irwin, Macbeth and Hunter will compete in the mile scholastic relay.

The British threat, repelled twice yesterday, was centred in the 480 yard shuttle hurdle relay championship. In it the Cambridge Timber Toppers hoped to triumph and offset the defeat yesterday of their captain and star, Lord Burghley, in the forty-metre hurdles, as well as the downfall of three other Cambridge University entries in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Penn's sprint stars, who equalled
the world's record of 41 3-5 in winning the quarter-mile relay championship, were out to give time another jolt in the half-mile title race, while Mercersburg Academy, triumphant yesterday in the world's record time of 42 4-5 seconds for the interscholastic 440 yard relay, also went gunning for new school boy laurels.

The carnival's new decathlon
champion, Vernon Kennedy, of the Central Missouri State Teachers' College, crowned yesterday, also is among the record breakers. His brilliant triumph in a sensational all-around battle with nine rivals was scored with a total of 7236.5575 points, which eclipsed the former record of 7169.160 made by Tony Plansky, of Georgetown, last year.

HOW A FLAT FACE
PRODUCES BACKSPIN

THE CUP OF A CONCAVE
FACE PREVENTS SPINNING

Should iron clubs with concave faces be used for back-spin shots?
Why or why not?

By WILLIE OGG
New England Professional and Massachusetts Open Champion.

Clubs having concave faces should never be used for backspin shots as the opposite effect is produced. To produce a backspin shot the ball is hit or jammed against the turf so that when the ball is in motion, it is spinning towards the player. A concave face forms a cup which prevents the ball from spinning and nullifies the shot. A convex face would be more appropriate for this shot, as this type of face would allow the ball freedom to spin and not have the jamming effect that the concave face has.

THE CALL OF ROD AND REEL

When the blanket of snow lifts from our streets—a blanket seems to be lifted from our spirits. With our overcoats we shed dull care and shut-in pleasures and yearn for the great outdoors.

The fishing enthusiast overhauls his tackle. The song of the reel is sweet music in his ears. A limber rod and light means more to him than the wealth of nations.

Where to go for the best of sport is his only problem, and Canadian National Railways helps him solve it. It places the finest fishing spots within easy reach of his front door.
Places there are aplenty and a choice can be made readily by consulting the ington Street North, Phone 88.

Why Thousands are buying Whippets

This Chart shows graphically why people buy the Whippet. Based on reports from thousands of owners. Reasons shown in relative importance.

52% of owners bought the Whippet because of its economy of operation. No other car offers the economy of "35 miles on the gallon," coupled with remarkably low up-keep expense.

32% of owners bought the Whippet because of its extra safety afforded by Bendix Mechanical, four-wheel brakes and low gravity centre. These features are national standard equipment on the Whippet without extra cost and are not obtained on any other light car.

Several thousand owners specifically commented on the Whippet's road performance—its flashing pickup of 5 to 30 miles an hour in 13 seconds.
Its comfortable riding qualities at 55 miles an hour. The ease of parking the Whippet at a 14-foot curb space.

11% of owners commented on the extra leg room they enjoy in the Whippet. This was only possible by an ingenious arrangement of the dash, exclusive on this car. In the Whippet you sit easily, comfortably—not with cramped legs.

The Overland Whippet now is the recognized leader in light car values. Furnished in six distinctive body types.

ern war lords. It was this common object which had united them but differences on other points still remain the same.

The main differences concerning the Communists were of course due to Bolshevik influences. The Moderates followed the three principles of Sun Yet-Sen, which were (1) National independence, (2) Democracy — equal political rights for all classes of people in China, (3) Equal opportunity for everybody to get a living.

The Communists also claimed to believe in these principles. But what they actually practised was exactly the contrary. During the civil war and especially during the last few months, the Communists had taken a prominent part and almost all the outrages and forcible measures were due to their action.

The Moderates were always in favor of settlement by negotiation. It was always known that a split would come between the Moderates and the Communists but people did not expect it would come so soon. When the question of Shanghai came up, the Communists were still in favor of adopting extreme measures and the Moderates refused to carry them out; thus the split came. Only two or three weeks ago, the commander-in-chief of the Moderates, General Chiang Kai-Shek, was still doing his best to prevent the split. One of the means he used was to invite a former Kuomintang leader and faithful follower of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen to come out into the open. This was Wang Ching-Wei, who was probably, even today, the most popular man in the whole movement—popular not only with the Moderates but also with the Communists. It was thought that if he would be willing to come out, that would solve the problem. Ten days ago, he gave his decision but unfortunately, as soon as Wang Ching-Wei arrived at Hankow, he at once came under the control of Communist elements and, instead of reconciling the differences, he simply hastened a split.

Thus there were three important parties: the Northern war lords, the Moderates and the Communists. Sooner or later, two of these would probably combine to fight the third; that is, if they wanted to get a victory at all, and just now there seems a tendency that the Moderates might work together with the Northern war lords. This would be unfortunate because it would be impossible for them to work in harmony, as their principles so widely differed. If they worked together for the time being, it was merely a postponement of the evil because, after the third party had been defeated, they would once more fight amongst themselves.

Chiang Kai-Shek had working with him Dr. Wu, whose father, Dr. Wu Ting-Fang, was one of the most prominent men in China. His father was, in fact, Chinese Minister in Washington, also foreign Minister and later Prime Minister in China.

Even supposing Wang Ching-Wei could influence the situation and bring the Moderates and Communists together, there was bound to be a split later on. The net result of all this would be general unrest in China for four or five years.

The Chinese people, as a whole, were undoubtedly in favor of the Moderates. Very few Chinese students in this country supported any political party but at this moment their sympathy was with Chiang Kai-Shek, who was the leader of the Moderates. Eugene Chen was also in favor of a moderate policy but he was still in Hankow and under Communist control and was therefore unable to say anything. The Moderate people understood his difficulties but they also realized that he himself was not a Communist.

This student again laid stress on his fears that Chiang Kai-Shek might come to terms with the war lords led by Chang Tso-Lin, who was one of Yuan Shih-Kai's strong supporters. The war lords' principles were simply for position, power and money and if there was a chance, they would install an emperor and thus fulfill the desires of their old chief.

He believed that Chiang Kai-Shek had a chance of being successful but it would take at least three or four years. It might be comparatively easy to drive Chang Tso-Lin from Peking but it would be a very different matter, because of climatic conditions, etcetera, to deal with him in Manchuria. The Communist party had the least influence. It might at any moment be dissolved or divided.

Dr. Wellington Koo was absolutely in the hands of Chang Tso-Lin, who was a military despot. Shanghai was full of excitement and rumors. Trade was continuing but nothing like normal.

Both Communists and Moderates had asked Eugene Chen to continue to act as Foreign Minister until the Nanking problem was solved. He was the man who started this affair and as he had all the information at his command it was deemed advisable that he should continue.

With regard to the relationship between Hankow and Nanking, Chiang Kai-Shek knew that Eugene Chen was quite harmless and that he would not do anything against the Moderate party, although just now he was under the thumb of the Communists and could not declare his intentions openly.

Asked why Eugene Chen did not go over to Chiang Kai-Shek, my informant said that the Communists would not let him out of Hankow.

He continued that there was much misunderstanding in this country on the question of civil war. Everyone here compared it with civil war in this country and America, but it was no such thing. Here it was province against province, but in China it was people against militarists. He himself, for instance, lived in Central China. His brother's family lived in Eastern China and for ten years he (the student) had been working in Northern China. Despite present day trouble, he could travel anywhere and everywhere in China so long as he did not enter one of the barracks. That was the difference between civil war in China and in Europe.

Four years to settle down! What a prospect for those who have large forces, naval and military, in China. Are they to squat behind the barbed wire at Shanghai for four or five years, watching this chaos alternatively boiling up and simmering down, until someone at last stamps out the fire underneath the pot or it goes out from lack of fuel?

As to what will ultimately happen to China, there cannot be much doubt. Under some victorious leadership or other, she will emerge from the jungle at a point well on the road to becoming a second and more formidable Japan. All her civil leaders are men trained in Western ideas. They are fully alive to the impossibility of maintaining the independence of China without training her people in Western methods and ideas and equipping them with Western means—industrial and military.

Here are some significant sentences from a recent Kuomintang proclamation sent to England: "Nationalist China will not return to the darkness of the past. Nationalist China is fully aware of the modern science and technique of the West, which must be used by China. We do not turn away from them. On the contrary, we wish to take them over from the nations of the West. The thousands of Chinese students who have, during the last few years, received their training in Western seminaries have gone back to their own country full of the marvels of the countries where they secured their training."

But the extent to which soldiers of the Chinese armies have learnt war on the battlefields of France is a fact which seems altogether to have escaped comment. A prominent British general who commanded in France said to me the other day: "The real origin of the discipline in the Cantonese army is due to the fact that the basis of the army is formed from the labor battalions which fought with the British army in France during the late war. These were drawn from Hongkong and Shanghai and were trained under British officers. They have retained the lessons of organization which they learned during that period and the Chinese Nationalist army is largely built up upon the methods and habits of the British army. The formation of the Nationalist army is quite different from the old idea of the Chinese mob army. The Chinese labor battalions in France learned how to make bomb-proof shelters, understand barbed wire and have imported all the lessons which they learned in the war into China."

Industrially, Western capital is developing Chinese industries. It was inevitable when China had a growing demand for goods and an infinite reserve of the cheapest and most hardworking labor in the world on the spot. Hence the mills and factories that have sprung up everywhere in the great towns where there is sea and transport. Hence, also, the fact that there are over 1,000,000 trades unionists in China.

The ultimate future in China, anyone can forecast. But what of the immediate future; the next twelve months or five years?

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

Daily butter made itself prominent at Lansdowne Market this week by its drop in prices, thirty-five cents being top quotation, while in some cases very good butter could be secured for thirty cents. Eggs were again thirty-five cents per dozen or three dozen for a dollar.

The winding up of the maple syrup season brought maple syrup down to a dollar and ninety cents per gallon, although maple sugar averaged about the same price as last week.

The fruit market offered a good variety of products this week, cucumbers, rhubarb, radishes, celery and lettuce playing a prominent part, while a very attractive choice of fruit could also be had in the fruit market.

Sellers expressed themselves as being well satisfied with present indications and optimistic comments were heard in connection with agricultural situation in general.

DAIRY MARKET

Montreal, April 30th.
BUTTER.—The feature of the butter trade yesterday was the weak feeling that developed in the market, and prices scored a decline of 1-2c to 3c per lb., which was attributed largely to the falling off in the demand, and the fact that there was no competition between buyers for what supplies there were available. Business generally was quiet, with sales of odd small lots of Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized creamery butter at 40c to 41c per lb., and No. 2 grades at 38 1-2c to 39c per lb. There was no change in jobbing prices announced, but the impression was that there would be a readjustment in the near future, while the bulk of the sales of finest creamery butter were made at 44c per lb. in solid packages, and at 45c per lb. in 1-lb. blocks.

It was reported here yesterday that the Milk Producers Association and dealers of Ontario have fixed the price of sweet cream at 52c per lb. butter fat for the months of May and August, and 51c per lb. for June and July.

CHEESE.—There was no important change in the cheese situation owing to the continued absence of any demand from foreign buyers, but a little business was reported for local account in foddern-made cheese at 16 1-2c to 16 3-4c per lb. from No. 1 grade and No. 2 was quoted at 16c per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

Montreal, April 30th.
EGGS.—There was practically no change in the condition of the local egg situation yesterday, the undertone to the market being firm owing to the smaller arrivals as compared with a year ago. The demand from grocers and other dealers for supplies continues good, and a fairly active business in this respect was done, with sales of fresh extras at 36c first at 34c, and seconds at 32c per dozen. The receipts yesterday were 2,410 cases, as against 2,359 for the same day last week, and 4,650 for the corresponding day a year ago.

POULTRY.—A steady feeling prevailed in the market for storage dressed poultry, and prices showed no change. The demand was fair, and sales of selected turkeys, weighing 6 to 15 lbs. each, were made at 39c to 50c per lb.; green ducks, weighing 5 to 6 lbs., at 35c to 38c per lb.; domestic ducklings, weighing 5 to 6 lbs., at 32c to 35c per lb.; pen-fed ducks, weighing 5 to 6 lbs., at 29c to 32c per lb.; selected ducks, weighing 5 to 6 lbs., at 27c to 30c per lb.; pen-fed geese, weighing 11 to 16 lbs., at 28c to 31c per lb.; selected geese, weighing 8 to 15 lbs., at 25c to 28c per lb.; squab broilers, at 47c to 52c per lb.; selected broilers, at 37c to 46c per lb.; milk-fed chickens at 37c to 43c per lb.; and selected fowl at 23c to 32c per lb.

MAPLE PRODUCTS.—The condition of the market for maple products was unchanged, prices being about steady, with a small volume of business passing in maple syrup at $1.50 to $1.50 per tin of 13 lbs., and at $1.40 to $1.45 per tin of 8 lbs., while No. 1 maple sugar sold at 8c per lb.

HAY MARKET

Montreal, April 30th.
HAY.—The market for baled hay was without any new feature to note, prices being steady with only a small trade change in No. 2 timothy hay at $14.50 per ton, and No. 3 timothy hay at $13 per ton, f.o.b. cars here.

GRAIN MARKET

Montreal, April 30th.
GRAIN.—While there was a good business done in Manitoba spring wheat with the Continent overnight, by direct exporters it was not reflected in the Winnipeg cash market yesterday and offerings of all commodities were fairly heavy, but notwithstanding these factors the undertone was again stronger and prices closed 1-8c to 3-4c per bushel higher with No. 1 northern quoted at $1.47 1-4, No. 2 northern at $1.43 3-4, and No. 3 northern at $1.35 1-2 per bushel. The demand for wheat from New York to the United Kingdom and the Continent amounted to 700,000 bushels, and that a good trade was worked in oats, the sales being placed at 300,000 bushels while the estimate for the first week of May was 500,000 bushels of cash oats. The export business in rye was reported at 100,000 bushels. The feature of the export grain trade in Montreal yesterday was the market increase in the demand from Canadian and United States exporters for ocean grain, run for May and June loading and quite an active business was done, the engagements being estimated at over one hundred loads. The tone of the market for Continental freight was again stronger and the rates scored another advance of 1-2c per 100 lbs. to 15c per 100 lbs. for Antwerp and Rotterdam, and to 19c per 100 lbs. for Hamburg. There was no change announced in United Kingdom rates, but the undertone to the market was firm at 3s to 3s 4d per quarter.

Trading in cash grain in the local market yesterday was quieter, the demand being chiefly from domestic buyers for car lots. Prices were firm with sales of American No. 3 yellow corn at 88 1-2c, No. 4 yellow at 83c sample corn at 80c, No. 2 Canadian western oats at 74c, No. 3 C.W. at 65c, No. 1 feed at 65c, and No. 2 feed at 61c per bushel, ex-store.

ed to the depth of two to three feet. Practically all roads leading from the town are impassable. Unless the flood waters make a rapid recession, farmers living along the river flats will be unable to crop their land this year. This is the fourth flood within six years. Virden, Miniota and Brandon reported an increase in the river level overnight and at Brandon the Assiniboine is within 27 ins. of the height it reached in 1923, when large property damage was reported.

"Steadily growing worse," was the report from Virden, where the town is cut off from rural districts by impassable roads and flooded bridges. Hundreds of acres of valuable farm lands already are under water.

FIRM UNDERTONE TODAY ON WALL STREET MARKET

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 30.—Stock prices displayed a relatively firm undertone at the opening of today's stock market. There was a fair demand for seasoned dividend-paying stocks and industrials, and a resumption of short covering in some of the recent weak spots. Western Pacific preferred, which staged a sharp rally yesterday, opened a point lower. Atchafalaya and Baldwin showed large fractional gains on initial sales.

SCOPE OF DISASTER

of supplies at Vicksburg, Natchez and New Orleans.
"Provisions, medical supplies and equipment have been provided, but we believe conditions will not require our fullest services," read a telegram of W. P. Simpson, chairman of the New Orleans Red Cross chapter, to Henry M. Baker, director of disaster relief.

In the lower Mississippi delta, many flood victims were reported clinging to levees, trees and roofs, and fleets of relief boats were being rushed there.

Seventy refugees were found when small boats went into the section isolated by the levee break at Dorena, Mo., twelve days ago.

In one barn left were found a white man and four children and four negro families. Many white persons were found without food. All had been drinking polluted water and some were sick.

Greenville, Mississippi, inundated metropolis of the great Yazoo delta, found encouragement in a slight fall of the water and assurance that no further rise was in sight. Vaccination against typhoid fever had also been completed, and there was no contagious disease in the refuge camp.

Arkansas Death List Today 119.
The next six months will be a period of danger from disease, according to Dr. William Allen Puzey, chairman of the disaster committee of the American Medical Association, who returned to Chicago from Memphis.

"This flood and the problems it has caused, constitute, far and away the biggest calamity we have seen in this country, and the most difficult to handle," he said.

"It is the next six months that we have to watch as the danger of epidemics such as typhoid, diphtheria, small pox and dysentery is great."

The Arkansas dead list today stood at 119, having been increased overnight by the drowning of three negroes near England, the deaths of two others from exposure, and the finding of the floating bodies of two more in the back water near Forrest City.

CITY BRIEFLETS

RED CROSS OFFICERS VISIT PLACES IN EASTERN TOWNSHIPS
During this week Mrs. Shaw, supervisor of the Junior Red Cross in this province, accompanied by Miss Jean Browne, National Director, has been visiting various places in the Eastern Townships.

Yesterday the two ladies visited the schools in North Hatley, Hatley, Way's Mills, and also Stanstead College, where an exceptionally fine programme was given.

Miss Browne, who has recently returned from an extensive visit to England and the continent in connection with her work, brought back with her a banner from the British to the Canadian Juniors. It is impossible for all the children to have the privilege of seeing the banner, but during this week about eighteen hundred have seen it during the visits of the officers to the school groups.

The banner is handmade, beautiful in design and texture, and has the legend, "From British Juniors to Canadian Juniors" and "Serve one another," embroidered on the banner, which is like those hanging in Westminster Abbey.

The banner is another link in the chain of friendly relations between countries formed by the work organization which is growing stronger every day.

COWANSVILLE W.C.T.U. ANNUAL MEETING HELD

Officers for Year Elected—Father and Son Banquet Was Well Attended—Y.P.B. Held Annual—General Notes and Personals of Interest to Residents of Cowansville and Surrounding District.

COWANSVILLE, Que., April 30.—The annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Brown on Monday, April 25th. Devotional exercises were conducted by the president.

It was reported that ninety essays had been written on the subjects, "How Do Alcohol, Tobacco and Habit Forming Drugs, Effect Health?" and "Alcohol vs. Athletics." A very heavy vote of thanks was passed to the principal and teachers of the High School, who had taken so much interest in the work and given their time and co-operation. The essays were of a high order and the task of the judges was not an easy one. One from each grade has been forwarded to Montreal to compete for the provincial prize.

The following officers were elected:—Mrs. Brown, president; Mrs. J. Robinson, first vice president; Mrs. E. A. Turner, recording secretary; Mrs. McWilliams, treasurer.

Following the election of officers, Mrs. Jas. Robinson was made a life member of the Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union. The president had the pleasure of presenting the pin to Mrs. Robinson, who has been, and is a most faithful and helpful worker in this as well as other Christian work. Mrs. Robinson was completely taken by surprise, and graciously thanked the members and friends for this token of appreciation.

Delegates were appointed to attend the county convention, which will be held in Waterloo on May 19th and 20th. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Lora Robinson.

Y.P.B. Held Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Y.P.B. of the W.C.T.U. was held in the United Church parlors on Tuesday evening, April 26th. In the absence of the president, the honorary president took the chair. After devotional exercises, the minutes of the last annual meeting were read. On motion it was decided that a meeting be held the second Tuesday of every month during the next six months, and twice a month during the winter. A very interesting letter was read from Mrs. J. B. Oliver, of Magog, who has been spending the winter at Blue Island, Ill.

Reports were received from the treasurer and the superintendent of parlor meetings. Fifteen social gatherings have been held during the past year and were well attended.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:—President, Mr. W. Sharples; first vice president, Miss Edna McAllister; second vice president, Mrs. Harden; secretary, Miss Chloris Miner; assistant secretary, Miss Lillian Fleeg; treasurer, Miss Ruth Faber; superintendent of literature, Miss Lora Robinson; parlor meetings, Miss Verda McAllister; flower mission, Miss Effie Turfitt; evangelists, Mr. Sydney Cromack; sailors and lumbermen, Miss N. Barrette.

Delegates to the county convention are: Mrs. Harden and Miss Verda McAllister. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring officers for their faithful work during the past year. Four members were appointed to prepare the program for the next meeting. All joined in repeating the mizpah benediction and meeting adjourned.

The names of Miss Lois Webster and Miss Mary Taber, superintendents of Sunday school work, were omitted from the foregoing. Father and Son Banquet Held. The most enjoyable "Father and son" banquet was held in the school-room of Emmanuel United Church, Monday evening, April 25th, beginning at half past seven.

About eighty "dads and lads" were present and after supper the following toast list was announced by the toast master, Mr. John Webster, who performed his duties in a most capable manner.

"The King," all rising and singing the National anthem.

"Our Country," proposed by W. Sharples and responded to by Col. Stowell, who in the course of his addresses referred to the answers given by the Prince of Wales and General Byng when asked what impressed them most in Canada, the former replied "the children" and the latter "the men".

Col. Stowell emphasized the need of courage, knowledge, and tolerance for the building up of a successful life.

The toast to "The Church" was proposed by Mr. Percy White and responded to by Mr. George Ford, who made a plea for the closest co-operation between the laymen with the preacher. Mr. David Christie proposed the toast of the High School and the response was given by Principal Douglas.

He congratulated the ratepayers on the splendid equipped school which they had erected and urged them to visit it occasionally, to take an interest in the work done there and also to keep in touch with the work and studies of their boys. Mr. Douglas suggested that prizes might be offered on a percentage basis, rather than rank, thus avoiding any selfish rivalry which might be engendered.

"Our Dads" was proposed by Clifford Johnston, and responded to by Mr. Turfitt.

The last toast on the list was that to the "Church school," this was proposed by Mr. Basil Donk and responded to by Rev. Coburn. Mr. Coburn said in part that the programme for the Trail Rangers and Tuxis Squares was the greatest thing that had been attempted by the Religious Education Society. They worked in closest co-operation with the church and religion was the uppermost thought in the minds of the leaders. Mr. Coburn urged his hearers to cherish, help, urge upon others, remember and attend church and thus help to bring in the Kingdom of God.

Messrs. Charles Tessier and Clifford Johnston contributed a piano duet and several songs were sung during the evening. Mr. Douglas McAllister, leader of the Trail Rangers, moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for their assistance. The evening was a most enjoyable one and reflected great credit on those in charge. The room was tastefully decorated with flags and streamers.

General Notes. Mrs. Martha Brown received a message on Tuesday telling her of the death of her youngest brother, Mr. Fred Brown, of Attleboro, Mass., who passed away after a short illness. The deceased was born and brought up in Brigham and will be remembered by many of the older residents. A short time ago Mr. Boyd paid a visit to his old home, which he had not seen for twenty-one years. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Dr. Rodger, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McPhee and Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron motored to St. Andrew's East and attended the burial service of Dr. Rodgers and Mrs. McPhee's brother, whose remains had been placed in the vault during the winter months.

Miss Muriel Burnet was a weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Burnet. Mrs. Burnet is recovering from her recent illness.

Miss Thelma Cunningham spent the week-end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney.

Miss Vera Jordan, of Montreal, was a week-end guest of Miss Chloris Miner.

Miss Morey, of Montreal, has been here visiting her sister, Mrs. Penton Douglas.

Mrs. G. Hubbard has returned from several weeks stay in Montreal with Mr. and Mrs. C. Hubbard.

Miss Aileen Miner spent a few days in West Shefford the guest of her cousin, Miss Ruth Knott.

THE LURE OF THE QUEEN CITY

All Canadians are proud of their country, proud of its stupendous wealth untold, its history and romanticism. Equally proud are they of their cities and towns, for in them is reflected the natural prosperity of Canada's fair land. Every Canadian ought to have a practical knowledge of his country, and it is through travel and familiarizing himself with the great centres of activity that he can say that he truly knows his "land of mountain and flood."

In his many travels no man should overlook Toronto, the Queen City, or, as it might be called, the Canadian Chicago of North America. It is a city of fine public buildings, with two cathedrals, a prosperous university and theological colleges. Its general aspect bespeaks a stir of activity among a population where Scottish names are well to the fore. Between the two great cities of Montreal and Toronto runs that "time saving abbreviation" known as the C. P. R., where the weary traveller may refresh himself and, awaking to consciousness, find himself already at his destination.

Gets into the Hard-to-get-at Places—EASILY

NO nook or corner, no ledge or shelf, can escape the long searching, soft, cotton fingers of the padded, "triangle-shaped" O-Cedar Polish Mop. It takes up dust like a magnet, holds it like a vice.

Around the legs of chiffoniers, behind radiators, along baseboards, into closet corners, it goes, cleaning, dusting, polishing all at one time with scarcely any effort at all. No stooping, kneeling, stretching, straining. No "going-over" the surface twice.

With the Sanitary O-Cedar Polish Mop you clean as well as beautify. You save in time, in money, in health. Why not prove this to yourself. Your money back if you are not pleased. Polish Mops for painted, varnished or linoleum floors. Dusting mops for all wax surfaces. Both in $1.25 and $2.00 sizes at grocery, hardware or departmental stores.
