Chamber of Commerce Week marked

SHERBROOKE (SB) — The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce officially launched its annual "Chamber of Commerce Week" at a reception held at the mayor's office late last week. The program aims to achieve a better and more widespread understanding of the Chamber's activities and the total economic climate of the region.

At the reception, Mayor Jacques O'Bready proclaimed the start of the week's activities as well as this year's theme: "Let's get a better idea of our regional economic situation."

Organizers of the week long series of events have developed a program that will zero in on various aspects of economic and social life in the Sherbrooke region. Particular emphasis will be placed on economic matters. As a result, topics such as the new industrial park, attracting new industries and the economic impact of new industries on city and regional development through the creation of jobs and increased purchasing power, will be singled out for special attention.

The Chamber of Commerce has invited topflight guest speakers to tackle these subjects. They will address Chamber members and all other interested persons at luncheon meetings scheduled throughout the week.

Social services in the region will be examined at the first luncheon conference. Affecting the daily life of virtually everyone, these services are felt throughout the regional economy in the form of tax revenues, increased family support and the new mentality created by these government measures.

Florent Poirier, Director General of the Eastern Townships Social Service Centre, will present the organization and structure of social services within the region and answer questions. Professionals working in the social field are also invited to attend this meeting.

On Tuesday, April 13, University of Sherbrooke rector Yves Martin will address Chamber members and others on the university's contribution to the economic life of the region. He will discuss the research centres (CRAR) and other positive economic benefits of the university's presence in Sherbrooke.

On Wednesday, April 14, Claude Huot, Department of Regional Analysis of the Ministry of Regional Economic Expansion, will be on hand to deliver a message concerning the different facts taken into consideration by businessmen when establishing an industry in a given area and also will enumerate the different programs put forth by Government to entice industrial development. A second activity will take place on Wednesday evening dealing with the right and proper way to welcome visitors to the area. The seminar will be conducted by Jacques Girardin, Tourist Section of the Provincial Chamber of Commerce, and should particularly interest waiters and waitresses, over the counter clerks, gas attendants, and receptionists. A mention of thanks to the Convention Office for its support in promoting this activity.

The week's program will end where it began — with Mayor Jacques O'Bready. He will present his informed viewpoint on the situation of the cities in 1985 and on what the taxpayer can expect 10 years from now. Mayors and aldermen from all municipalities in the region are invited to hear Mayor O'Bready's luncheon address to the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

Manitoba town fights flooding

SOURIS, Man. (CP) — Residents of this southwestern Manitoba town of 1,700 breathed easier Sunday night as the flooding Souris River continued to recede. "The river level is dropping and all dikes are holding," said a spokesman with the Emergency Measures Organization late Sunday. "No new problems appear to be developing in any areas."

The Souris unexpectedly flooded last Wednesday and caused evacuation of about 25 homes and the local hospital.

Canadian Forces personnel were rushed to Souris, and to Wawanesa further downstream, to assist in sandbagging and evacuation efforts but all have since been withdrawn.

The situation at Melita, upstream from Souris, also had stabilized by late Sunday but residents still are being advised to boil drinking water. The town's well was flooded.

Conditions further south on the Souris, which runs south from Saskatchewan into North Dakota before looping back up into Manitoba, are far more serious.

Some unions defying Bill 23

Sherbrooke Catholic schools open today

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS (GA) — All Catholic schools in Sherbrooke under the jurisdiction of the Sherbrooke Catholic School Commission and the L'Estrie Regional School Commission are in session today in compliance with recently imposed Bill 23. However, English Catholic and CEGEP institutions in Montreal are out in an act of defiance against Bill 23 which legislates all teachers back to school for an 80-day cooling off period.

This walkout follows weekend voting by teachers across the province who openly want to defy the controversial bill designed to call a halt to all so-called harassment tactics. Vanier College teachers will be out of their classrooms today to hold a study session to examine the new bill while study sessions by English Catholics are scheduled for later this week. Champlain College is in session today.

Easter Townships Protestant schools are out on Easter vacation this week with classes set to resume April 20, as teachers who are members of the Eastern Townships Association of Teachers (ETAT) and Bedford Association of Teachers (BAT) will take the six-day holiday to play a waiting game and watch how rigidly the government intends to enforce the newly legislated Bill 23.

Eighty per cent of the 6,700 member Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers (PAPT) opted this weekend to defy the controversial bill. However, they are awaiting voting results from the Centrale de l'Enseignement (CEQ) teacher union locals before planning future action. It is indicated that results of this voting will be made known tonight.

PAPT motions to defy the law are contingent upon similar action being taken by the 50 CEQ locals representing more than 85 per cent of Quebec's 80,000 teachers. CEQ union executives this weekend asked members to vote in favor of the continuance of one-day walkouts, in effect to defy the new legislation. A similar vote has been requested by the executive of the Fédération Nationale des Enseignants Québécois (FNEQ) representing the province's CEGEP teachers advising members to continue their current program of two-day work stoppages per week. Voting results of the 39 CEGEP locals are expected to be known today.

Meanwhile the PAPT board of directors voted this weekend to continue negotiations as long as there is a possibility of obtaining an acceptable contract. The Montreal and North Island teachers' associations are urging parents to keep their children at home this week despite possible repercussions outlined in the act. In Quebec City directors of the common front of public service unions recommended that teachers continue sporadic walkouts, but not enter into a general strike.

According to the new bill, individuals whether they be teachers, school board members or parents, defying the law which bans school disruptions for an 80-day period face fines between $50 to $250 per day while unions may be fined up to $50,000 daily.

Teachers at Dawson College in Montreal voted to attend classes today, but not necessarily to teach students. A spokesman said: "I'm sure there will be much discussion on the law which strips them of their right to strike."

In a radio interview during the weekend Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa defended the government action.

"The choice of the government was either to reach a quick settlement — and we came to the conclusion that this was not realistic — or suspend the right to strike so as not to compromise the school year, and proceed with negotiations."

The Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal criticized the Bourassa government for "seriously misjudging the mood of the teachers, the board and the public," in implementing the law.

Bruck closes Sherbrooke mill

SHERBROOKE (AK) — Poor conditions in the double-knit market have been cited by Bruck Mills Ltd. as the reason for the shutdown of the company's 177,000-foot mill in Sherbrooke and the layoff of 100 more workers at its Cowansville plant, the firm said Friday.

The decision here was not unexpected; employment has dwindled from 291 persons to 44 in less than 18 months and rumours of its imminence have been circulating.

Whereas 114 double-knit machines once operated on three shifts daily at the plant, last week only 12 machines were in use, for one shift each day.

The knitting operation will end this week but spinning, involving 37 workers, will be continued until July 1. A committee will be established shortly to arrange retraining and relocation of the 44 workers immediately affected.

Equipment, including 90 knitting machines and 12,000 spindles, will be sold. Ralph Maddocks, vice-president of operations and manufacturing, said he doesn't know how much would be realized by their disposition.

The building, constructed in 1948, will either be sold or leased, Mr. Maddocks said. He was unaware of its value.

Bruck carries on weaving, finishing, dyeing, and printing at its other plant, in Cowansville. Employment there is just over 500 compared with 884 in November 1974. At one time, 1,700 people were employed at the Cowansville Mill. The company's Montreal head office employs 129 workers. In January 1975, the firm wound up its texturing mill in St. Jean, which had a staff of 29.

Mr. Maddocks predicted that shutting down the Sherbrooke facility will cause "only a slight decrease" in sales this year. However, the company is unlikely to show a profit this year "given the state of market conditions," he said.

In the quarter ended Jan. 31, Bruck reported a loss of $797,000 on sales of $6.4 million, compared with a loss of $968,000 on sales of $6.6 million in the year-earlier period. For 1975, there was an operating loss of $4.8 million on sales of $26.3 million.

Bruck was founded in 1921. Majority control was acquired in July 1973 by two large Japanese firms, Marubeni Corp. and Toyobo Co. Ltd.

Bruck's announcement came shortly after a Senate committee tabled a report blaming the "deplorable situation" facing the Canadian textile industry on Ottawa's failure to implement the textile policy of 1970. The senators said that Canadian manufacturers should be assured of at least 65 per cent of the domestic market, as compared to the 45 per cent share they now have. Soft controls on imports is seen as the main reason behind the industry's present predicament.

Seeing this, Sherbrooke's city council has joined with other bodies in pressing the government to tighten import quotas.

Speaking in the House of Commons last week, Industry Minister Donald Jamieson said the government had still not determined whether such action would be taken.

Rallies continue in China

TOKYO (AP) — Supporters of Chairman Mao Tse-tung have staged more rallies denouncing former vice-premier Teng Hsiao-ping.

The Peking Communist party committee also promised to "track down the behind-the-scenes schemers" responsible for a riot by supporters of Teng in Peking's main square last Monday.

Hsinhua, the official Chinese news agency, said more than a million members of the armed forces and of their families took part in rallies and parades acclaiming the fall of Teng and the appointment of Acting Premier Hua Kuo-feng, 56, as premier and first vice-chairman of the party.

The backing of the army is considered vital to the realization of Mao's plans to emphasize class struggle and political indoctrination. In the past, some powerful army leaders have resisted his radical policies, but so far no prominent military figure has commented on the events of the last week.

WREATHS REMOVED — The Peking party committee said the violence in Tien An Men square last week was "an organized, planned and premeditated counter-revolutionary incident."

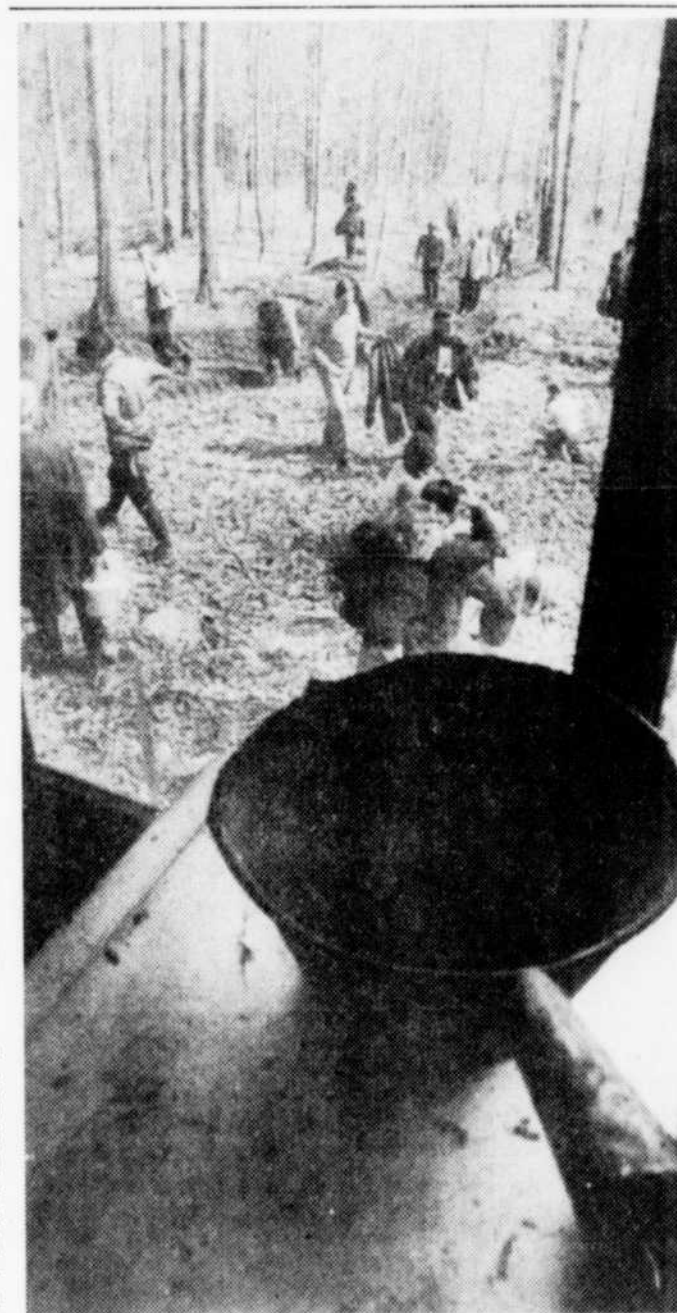

Foreign observers in the Chinese capital said the crowd of 100,000 was angered because wreaths honoring the late premier Chou En-lai had been removed from the Monument to the People's Heroes. The crowd burned automobiles, battled militiamen and set fire to a government building on the square.

Two days later, the party Politburo announced that on Mao's recommendation it had dismissed Teng from all his government and party posts and elevated Hua. Teng had been the target of a nationwide campaign of vilification since the death Jan. 8 of Chou, his sponsor and protector. He was accused of following the "capitalist road," putting production and economic progress ahead of class struggle.

Teng has not been seen in public since Jan. 15, when he delivered the eulogy at Chou's funeral. His whereabouts are unknown.

SUGAR SAFARI — Bishop's University and Champlain College administrators as well as faculty members and their families made a two mile trek Saturday to the Beaulieu Sugar Camp for a day of picnicking, Easter egg hunting and maple syrup eating. The group started at the outskirts of Lennoxville hiking down the tracks and up over the muddy hill to the site of the sugar camp. (Record photo by Gordon Alexander)

Mrs. Jessie Rose

Sympathy is extended to the family of Galen Decoteau, also for Mrs. Lottie Drew and other relatives of Howard Buckland, Way's Mills. Both were former residents of this community.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Lillian Skinner have been, Mrs. Marion Markwell, Coaticook, Judy Goodsell, Montreal, Charles Adam, Howick and Mr. and Mrs. John Gilmartin, Cameron and Melody, Way's Mills.

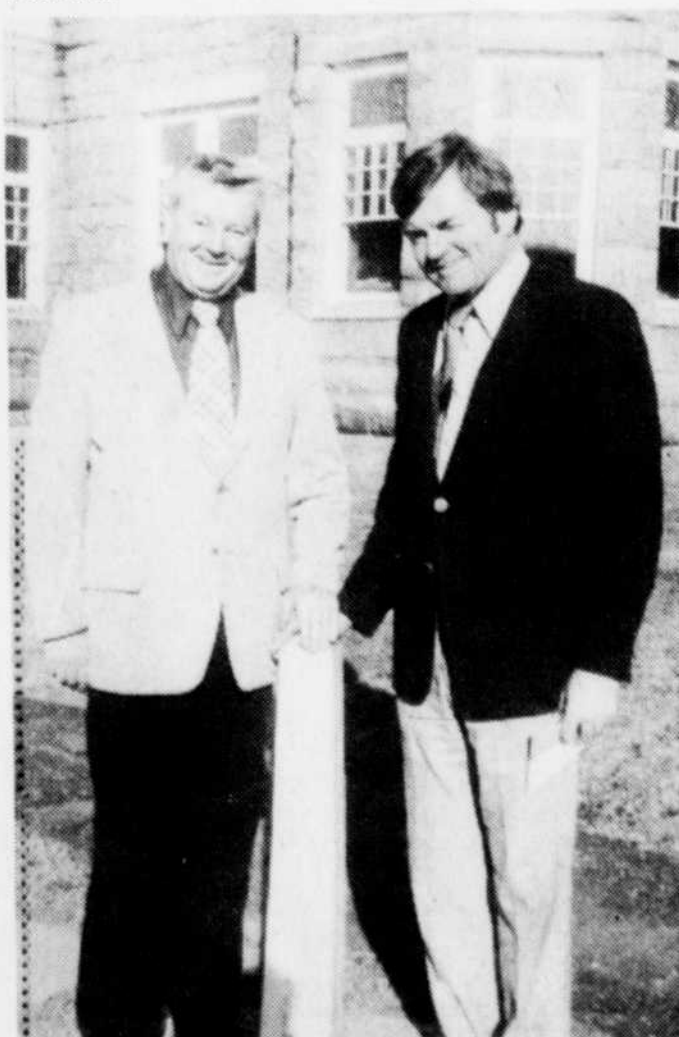

A fire of unknown origin burned the barn on the East Hatley road formerly owned by Bill Smith. Fire took the lives of two horses and destroyed several pieces of machinery.

Recent callers of Mrs. Rose have included Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ham and Rebecca, Dixville, Mr. Merriek Belknap of Rock Island, Que., Rev. and Mrs. Catto, Cookshire, Mr. Leslie Wright, Dixville and frequent visitors have been Mr. and Mrs. Wilson May, Baldwin's Mills.

Mrs. Mildred MacKinnon is now home after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Alvin Ross and family and her sons Stewart and Gordon and families in Ontario.

Mrs. Warren Drew, Windsor, Mass., has returned home after spending ten days caring for her mother, Mrs. Jessie Rose and helped move her to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Sutton for an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Drew accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Catto to Ayer's Cliff to attend the funeral of Galen Decoteau.

VISITS HASKELL LIBRARY — At the right is Vermont State Governor Thomas Salmon and at the left is Kermit Smith, Orleans County representative in the State House in Montpelier. They visited the Haskell Library and building during Vermont Library week at Rock Island. The Governor was greatly impressed with the library and historic building. This was his first visit to this international building believed to be the only library on the border line along the Canadian - American Border.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN — A Red Cross Campaign starts today in the Rock Island-Stanstead area. Planning this year's campaign at a recent meeting held at Rock Island's Stanstead South Church Hall are: (seated, from the left) G. Poulin, branch president, Mrs. J. Beasse, Stanstead chairman, Allan Nourse, general chairman, Dr. J. S. McCannel, Rock Island Chairman, Standing, Doug Putney, chairman of distribution of cans and material in public places, Mrs. J. S. McCannel, assistant to Dr. McCannel, Mrs. A. Jordan, Way's Mills, Mrs. K. Pelkie, Fitch Bay and Mrs. W. Hibbard, Tomifobia.

AUSTIN

Mr. Ian A. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lee of Orford Lake has recently been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal branch in Napierville. He was previously credit manager in the Verdun branch of the bank of Nova Scotia. Ian's wife Carmen is also employed by the Bank of Montreal as manager of loans in the Ville d'Anjou branch, Montreal. Their friends and relatives wish them much success and happiness.

Miss Gladys Hutchins of Montreal was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchins and family. Miss Phyllis Coates spent the week and at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coates.

Mrs. Myrtle Mitchell of Bolton Centre was a weekend guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Lachapelle and family.

Dog leash laws questioned

DERBY LINE (IH) — The annual meeting of the Village of Derby Line was held at the village hall on Tuesday evening, April 6 with several village people attending.

Dalton Downing, moderator, read the warning to open the session. The subject of dogs was the first item on the floor when a Derby Line resident presented a paper about dogs barking all hours of the day and night, racing over lawns, flower and vegetable gardens doing much damage and making themselves a nuisance in general.

How effective is the leash law? was asked. Trustee Gordon Johnston said the village does have its own bylaw, and Mr. Downing noted this had come into effect on May 1, 1973 at a special meeting with 87 voting the affirmative and 67 the negative to adopt this by-law.

Mr. Johnston introduced lawyer David Lalime who replied on the leash bylaw and said this can be enforced through the courts so it would seem village authorities will enforce the regulation.

Mr. Downing was re-elected as moderator for the ensuing year and Mrs. Shirley K. Rivard as clerk.

Village reports as printed by auditors, Harold Bowen and Carmi Marsh were reviewed. These were from the treasurer, Jack Berry; Trustees by Roland Roy; Fire Department by Benoit Blais. The reports noted the village is well managed with a small gain over last year.

Roland Roy was re-elected trustee for another three year term; standing trustees are Gordon Johnston and Benoit Blais. Jack Berry was re-elected treasurer; Harold Bowen and Carmi Marsh, the auditors, Benoit Blais is Fire Chief.

The floor voted to collect taxes through the treasurer in accordance of Sections 4791 - 92 and 93 of the VSA and Gordon Johnston was elected as tax collector.

Authorization was given trustees to borrow money to meet current expenses in anticipation of the payment of taxes. A poll tax of $10 will be assessed to residents over 18 years and under 65 years of age.

The following sums of money were voted: $400 to the Haskell Library; $1,000 for maintenance of a skating rink at Baxter Park; $400 to the Three Villages Swim project.

Mrs. Rivard read a library report from the librarian, Mrs. Adelaide Prangley, noting an increase of 9,169 books loaned over the 1974 year in 1975. Grants have been cut from both sides of the Border. As the Haskell building is in 1976 observing the 75th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone, Edwin Earle recommended an increase of $100, to total the amount to be $400. He remarked that as this Library and Opera House gains in attention there is less money through grants. Last year more than 250 visitors toured this historic building.

After hearing a verbal report on the swim school and the people feeling a need for this each summer, the annual grant was increased by $100 over last year.

The fire department men will be exempt from paying poll tax applicable to those with the company as of April 1, 1976. The same sum of $100 was voted to each trustee to assist to cover expenses in connection with the village responsibilities.

The floor also voted authorization to trustees to spend the revenue sharing monies in accordance with the six regulations of the RS Board.

The treasurer will receive the same salary as last year. A sum of $7,000 is to be set aside for the sewer project from the general funds. Trustee Blais spoke about this project and said the technical problems have all been completed. The present delay is the legal proceedings but they anticipate the vote will come to the people in the ensuing year.

Roger Beadle, chairman of the Village Improvement Committee, read the report prepared by Mrs. Trudy Stevens and added comments of his own.

The west end bank at the Park has been prepared and seeded. The work began last September and has wintered well. This project was estimated to cost $2,130, which is fifty per cent Federally funded. Plans are to plant shrubs this month.

Mr. Beadle noted a gift of $200 from the Derby Lions Club and recommended no money be transferred this year from village funds. The matter will again be presented in regards to funds a year from now. Mr. Beadle appealed for assistance to plant trees and shrubs ordered. Information of dates and time will be given if contact is made with Mr. Beadle.

The village voted to raise taxes by a sum of money by levy of a tax on the Grand list to defray the current expenses for the year and approved 0.64 cents, the same as last year after recommendation of trustee Blais.

Also approved by vote was to use $50 or more per mile for highways classification of One, Two of Three within the village.

The topic of water was brought up. The warning read a request to elect directors in addition to the trustees of the village that now serve the International Water company. This was discussed and Gilles Blais, company manager, spoke noting that each Derby Line, Rock Island and Stanstead have four directors, and that 99.44 per cent of the company is owned by these three communities.

This matter was brought up and discussed because residents on Pelow Hill have a water shortage in the daylight hours in summer and would like to see action taken to correct the situation before this summer rolls around. Mr. Blais said as much as possible will be done for them.

The company manager was congratulated on his work during the two weeks water crisis that arose through the break in the main pipe. A vote of thanks in the form of a letter will go to the Vermont National Guards and to the Vermont Civil Defence who came to aid Border people during these days of water crisis. Note was made that appreciation is extended to all who rallied in the emergency.

Richard Wright gave the report for the celebration of America's bicentennial year. A year ago a committee of 10 was formed to plan events this year. The celebration is based on Heritage - Festival and Horizon. A new flag pole is being purchased and village and bicentennial flags will be raised at the Memorial Day celebration that will include music and other attractions.

An information booklet is being printed of the village's history and a map. These will be made available as souvenirs and to the visitors to this area.

The park program will further include a Senior Citizens rest corner. Bennington Day will be celebrated with four fine events.

All these will be publicized as the date approaches and all details are completed by the committee.

Mr. Wright announced that the next meeting will be April 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Universalist Church Vestry and anyone interested is welcome to attend.

There being no further business the session was adjourned.

SWEETSBURG WARD (JM) — Guy Thivierge, 27, Ville D'Anjou, who earlier pleaded guilty to a charge of having evaded legal custody from the Cowansville Institution in August 1972 was sentenced to six months, consecutive to any terms he is currently serving, by Judge Guy Genest.

Crown attorney Noiseux suggested the six month term and legal aid lawyer Jean Riou, who represented the accused, suggested he might have grown up during his stay at the San Quentin penitentiary in California. Mr. Riou read a letter from the San Quentin warden who said Thivierge had become a highly qualified electronics technician during his three year term there on a count of armed robbery. He then said his client would have little trouble obtaining well paid employment on his release. Judge Genest remarked there were mitigating circumstances, however upheld the term suggested by the

Garage damaged in blaze

ASCOT (SB) — Sherbrooke firefighters responded to a blaze on the Ascot Road between Sherbrooke and Ascot Corner at 11:26 Saturday morning. The automobile repair garage owned by J.C. Paquette sustained over $30,000 damage to building and stock. Fire officials are investigating the blaze. There were no injuries reported.

Lennoxville firemen kept busy

LENNOXVILLE — Municipal volunteer firemen have been on the move in the past week, averaging a call a day in the last seven days. Fire fighters have responded to four grass fires since last Monday and more are likely to crop up if residents aren't more careful during the present dry conditions.

Lennoxville citizens are reminded that permits must be obtained before planned burning can take place. Such permits are available at the town hall. Firemen will also be on the site of fires to supervise if requested.

Thursday morning, a dozen volunteers were alerted to 17 Speid St., only to find a startled housewife. It was the first false alarm of the year.

Saturday night's alarm, however, wasn't a hoax. About 20 firemen rushed to the Queen Texaco self-service station where a gas pump had erupted into flames after an explosion. Another nearby pump exploded shortly after.

Quick attention given to the fires by firemen using a dry chemical extinguisher avoided further outbreaks in the extremely dangerous location.

Fire Chief John Nichol said a lead in the pump's piping likely spilled gas onto a hot motor, thus igniting the gas in the tubing and causing the explosion which sent aluminum sides and plastic covers from the pumps.

Dense smoke filled the area for a couple of minutes, bringing more than the usual number of curious people to the scene.

Chief Nichol stated Sunday he had learned that a fire had broken out in one of the pumps recently and that nothing was done to check out the cause.

The seventh fire of the week, and the 12th of the year, was extinguished in a pile of paper on Sunday afternoon.

In the upcoming weeks, town residents are asked to be very cautious when handling any type of fire outside. The lack of spring rain combined with strong winds have dried grass to a dangerous degree, making it easily combustible.

During the Easter break, parents are requested to keep an eye on children who would be playing with matches in grassy areas.

Contract renewal dispute denied

LENNOXVILLE (RM) — The director of Champlain Regional College's campus here has denied allegations that the administration and campus labour relations committee decisions not to renew the contracts of some faculty members were made unjustly.

In a telephone interview during the weekend, Dr. Peter Hill said the process by which the teachers whose contracts were chosen for non-renewal for the 1976-77 academic year were made within the bounds of the provincial law concerning such action.

Last week an informal group of about 25 students from the 1200-student campus charged in a statement made before the Champlain Teachers Union that the decisions were "made unjustly" and "an outright denial of our right to quality education."

While refusing to provide exact figures, Dr. Hill confirmed rumours that about 13 of the 69 full-time and some of the 20 part-time faculty will not be re-engaged.

Of these, the "significant proportion" include teachers who were hired on a one-year basis to fill in for faculty who had taken the 1975-76 year as a sabbatical and will be returning in the fall, Dr. Hill said.

As for the others, the decisions were made for "a variety of different reasons," after an evaluation of their individual performances had been conducted, he said.

He added that if any of the teachers involved felt that they were unfairly treated during the decision process, they could launch a grievance and asked for arbitration through legal channels.

It is also possible, Dr. Hill said, that some might be rehired in the summer should an increase in enrollment necessitate it. The choice of which teachers will have their contracts renewed or not is made in meetings of the campus labour relations committee, a body comprised of three administration and three teacher union delegates.

After a consideration of each case, a vote is taken for non-renewal. If unanimous, the teacher in question is to be notified directly. If, on the other hand, there is at least one dissenting vote, the campus director is required to make a final decision.

The whole process is to be done according to a 1972 Quebec government decree, which regulates the hiring and relieving of CEGEP staff.

Writes science book for layman

LENNOXVILLE (GA) — Miss Dorothy Harper, a retired associate professor of the Bishop's University Physics Department has written a science book aimed at the educated layman, the non-specialist and unique feature of the book is that it covers the highly technical field of satellites and their role in weather forecasting, communications and for studying the earth and the heavens, all in common everyday language shying away from the overuse of technical terminology.

Miss Harper lives with her sister, Dr. Kathleen Harper, professor of English at the University. "My sister was a great help to me in getting my book published as she checked my spelling, punctuation and atrocious grammar," Miss Harper modestly says.

A graduate of London University, Dorothy Harper came to Canada in 1947 after having spent six years with the Radar Research and Development Establishment in England. For the next 20 years she worked in the research department of Howard Smith Paper Mills (later Domtar Research Center) where she was in charge of a department concerned with physical methods of spectroscopy and X-Ray diffraction measurements. In 1967 she joined the Physics Department of Bishop's University.

Miss Harper is concerned at the lack of awareness among the general public and particularly the young people of the tremendous contribution made by Canadians in the field of science. By her lecturing and writing she is now devoting her efforts to the popularization of science, stressing the part played by Canada.

"Eye in the Sky", as the book is titled, follows her earlier publication "Isotopes in Action" which was published in England by Pergamon Press.

"Eye in the Sky", it is hoped, will be the first in a Canada Science Series to be published by Multiscience Publications Ltd. of Montreal.

The aim of this series is to produce science books which can be easily read by the layman.

"Particular stress will be put on the very great contribution being made by Canadian scientists and Canadian institutions. Most of the popular science books on the market at present have been published in the States and Britain. Practically no such books have been published in Canada. Consequently the general public is for the most part unaware of Canadian achievements in the scientific field.

"In order to choose a topic for this book I went to Victoria about three years ago and, on the return journey I stopped off at various universities and research institutes across Canada to get a broad picture of what is going on. The subject which was continually brought to my notice was remote sensing - a study of our earth from above, both from the air and from space. This is a topic which has been given a great impetus by the advent of satellites. The information which we are gaining about our country particularly in the North is fantastic."

"The satellite itself was put into orbit by the United States, but by arrangement with NASA Canada is being allowed to collect information from this satellite. When Canada was first invited to take part in this programme an estimate was made of the cost and of the benefits which might accrue. Results which we have obtained in the Arctic alone have outstripped even the most optimistic estimates for the whole programme. This is particularly important at a time when so much mineral and oil exploration is going on in this area.

While the US has been responsible for launching the satellite, Canada has made a very great contribution by developing methods for presenting the information to the user in an understandable form, either by photographic type images or by the use of computer tapes," she said.

Miss Harper is not starting another book on solar energy and wind power to be called "The sun and the wind" but according to her, the main stumbling block is finance. Miss Harper claims that books of this nature will never be a profitable venture financially, for either the author or the publisher, because the Canadian market is small and the present costs of publishing are great. "Eye in the Sky" was supported by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources through their organization the Canada Centre for Remote Sensing. She hopes some other agencies will assist financially in the preparation of other books.

"Eye in the Sky" is available in the University Book Shop as well as The Annex in Lennoxville and Classic Book Store in Sherbrooke. At present the Canadian Center for Remote Sensing has purchased 2,000 of the books and Information Canada, 750.

Prison cell fire blamed on cigarette

GRANBY (JM) — A preliminary investigation conducted by members of the Quebec police arson and homicide squads indicates Miss Raymond Belanger, 31, perished in a fire in municipal cells here Thursday morning that was a result of her own negligence.

Police speculate Miss Belanger of Granby, who was arrested outside city limits on a charge of disturbing the peace, was not searched prior to her incarceration. There are no matrons attached to the Granby police force. They further speculate the origin of the fire was caused by ashes from a cigarette which burned her mattress.

Efforts to reach Shefford County coroner Jacques Guertin over the weekend were to no avail.

Wildlife theme of event

KNOWLTON (KT) — Birds, Bird Songs and Wild Flowers is the theme of the 5th Spring Evening Program of Brome County Historical Society. An illustrated talk on birds in this area and recordings of their songs will be given by Mrs. Douglas Smith at The Archives Building, Knowlton, on April 14, at 8:30 p.m. Colored slides of wild flowers of this locale will also be shown.

Refreshments are served at the close of each evening. All are welcome. A small charge is made.

Sherbrooke hotel hosts festival

SHERBROOKE — Le Baron Hotel will feature the food, beverages, excitement and sounds of Germany as it hosts CP Hotels' German Food Festival for five days beginning April 13.

Visitors to Le Chevalier Dining Room will be entertained by the Die Alt Schwabinger, a group of four German performers, while enjoying authentic German food and beverages. The Die Alt Schwabinger provide traditional German folk music and will perform in the hotel's dining room each evening throughout the festival. The German food will be explained in a colorful menu which accompanies the dining room's regular menu. The menu for the festival includes veal cutlet, boiled beef, frankfurters dressed on sauerkraut, pig's knuckles, liver dumpling soup and beef consommé with eggs. Dessert includes warm apple pie with vanilla sauce and hamburger rumtopf (fresh fruits marinated in rum).

The preparation of the German food is being supervised by chef Andruwe Eggers from CP Hotels' Hamburg Plaza Hotel in Hamburg, Germany.

Before the 13-week festival is over it will have visited 17 CP Hotels' properties across the country.

CP Hotels, Lufthansa German Airlines, Lowenbrau International and the German National Tourist Office brought the German Food Festival to Canada to celebrate CP Hotels' recent expansion into Germany, the company's 90th anniversary in Canada and Lufthansa's 50th anniversary in Germany. CP Hotels took over operation of the 580-room Hamburg Plaza Hotel in Hamburg, Germany last year and will open and operate the 590-room Canadian Pacific Frankfurt Plaza Hotel in Frankfurt, Germany, this year.

Golden Age Club

KNOWLTON (KT) — The meeting of Knowlton Golden Age Club held on Tuesday, April 6 at the Legion Hall was well attended with 69 members present.

Five Hundred was played at 16 tables, the top scorers being: Ladies 1st prize, Mrs. Pearl Windle; 2nd, Mrs. Trixie Ladd; Gentlemen's 1st prize, George Mizener; 2nd, Byron Mizener. One table of "Crazy 8's" was also played.

The door-prize winner was Mrs. Edith Watson. Thanks were expressed to those who had donated food or prizes for the afternoon. A pleasant tea hour brought the meeting to a close.

Youville Hospital to mark centennial

SHERBROOKE (AK) — The Youville Hospital is planning a day of activities, May 15, to mark its 100 years of service to Sherbrooke area residents.

First established in 1875 as a facility for the poor, aged and orphaned, the hospital has changed and grown many times in line with the community's needs.

And, Director General Michael Dubreuil told a press conference recently, the hospital will continue in its second century in the same tradition of service to the public, playing its role not only for Sherbrooke but the entire region.

The May 15 program commences at 10 a.m. with a mass in the hospital chapel led by Monseigneur Jean-Marie Fortier, the archbishop of Sherbrooke.

At 11:30, hospital president Gerard Pelletier will receive representatives of the church and the Society of Sisters of Charity of St. Hyacinthe, the order which originally helped establish the facility, for a toast.

The public is invited to tour the hospital between 2 and 4:30 p.m. Visitors will be divided into groups of 10 for the tour. A slide show is featured.

That night, starting at 8 p.m., a wine and cheese party will be held at Le Phare School, 405 Sara Road, Sherbrooke. The public is invited to the party which will be followed by dancing until midnight.

Proceeds will go to the patients committee, a club that co-ordinates activities for patients at the hospital.

Veteran affairs official to attend Legion meeting

EAST ANGUS (AK) — An official of the veterans affairs will be present to answer questions on pensions, allowances and other services at the next general meeting of the Royal Canadian Legion branch here.

Georges Giguere, a welfare officer with the department in Montreal, will be the guest at the meeting slated for Tuesday, April 13, at 8 p.m.

Since less than half of Canada's veterans belong to ex-servicemen's organizations, many are not aware of all the benefits to which they are entitled under the Veterans Charter.

This special meeting should interest all veterans and their dependents, the branch said in a press release.

All legion members and veterans are invited to the gathering. It will be held at the branch hall, 25 St. Jean Street, East Angus.

Deputies named to committees

QUEBEC (AK) — Two Liberal deputies from the Sherbrooke area have been appointed to select standing committees of the legislature. Government House leader Gerard Levesque has announced.

Saint-Francois County Deputy Gerard Deziel will sit on the municipal affairs and corporate professionals committees and the labor committee of the manpower and immigration department.

Sherbrooke Deputy Jean-Paul Pepin will be a member of two committees: finances, public accounts and revenue, and public works.

In making the announcements, Mr. Levesque specified that the role of the members of the 16 standing committees is to study aspects of the ministries in terms of legislation referred to them by the national assembly.

The committees will sit during the fourth session of the 30th legislature.

In the recent furore in Parliament over two retired deputy ministers acting as consultants to a firm with which the government is dealing, one point seems to have been lost sight of. Members of Parliament dealt largely with the propriety of the ex-deputies' actions. No one seemed to be concerned about why the government has developed such a generous pension scheme that top employees find it to their advantage to leave government service at 55. As long as this situation prevails, the government can expect to lose its most highly qualified people at an age ten years lower than that at which the ordinary Canadian is in a position to retire.

In addition, the substantial pensions provided are also indexed, which means that they increase in value if and as inflation increases. Who can blame these people for retiring at 55, when they look at their financial condition and realize that they would be much better off retired on pension and working as well, as consultants, than to keep on in the government service for another ten years?

Both the deputies in question under the new and revised pension plans for senior public servants, would be able to retire on a pension of around $30,000 a year. Top ranking consultants in Ottawa, like these men, taking retainers from major corporations could expect to draw fees of $25,000 a year or more. Naturally, public servants who know how government works are in demand by large corporations, because of their background and expertise.

Prime Minister Trudeau has confessed himself "uneasy" about former civil servants acting for corporations which are doing business with the government, and may produce guidelines aimed at restricting such activities. In the United States, there is a fixed period of a year before retired senior public servants can enter into certain contracts for employment without official authority. In Britain, those with the rank of under-secretary or higher must obtain special government permission before undertaking any post-retirement work involving departments such as defence: and all British civil servants must get government approval before accepting, within two years of retirement, employment in firms that have contractual relationships with the government.

Guidelines of this nature might be help in avoiding future possible instances of conflict of interest. But surely it would be in the interest of the country as a whole if the government were able to give some attention to incentives directed at keeping public servants in the public service longer.

MAN IN THE NEWS

Full circle for Bryce Mackasey

OTTAWA (CP) — Bryce Mackasey, whose quicksilver temperament won him a reputation as one of the more emotional of cabinet ministers, moved back into the front ranks Thursday.

Mr. Mackasey, a voluble 54-year-old Irish-Canadian who has had his ups and downs in more than a dozen years as an MP, takes over as consumer and corporate affairs minister from a fellow Quebec MP who lost his job.

He succeeds Andre Ouellet, who resigned last month to appeal a contempt-of-court conviction imposed after he criticized a Quebec Superior Court acquittal of sugar companies on price-fixing charges.

The new appointment is seen as a promotion for the Verdun MP, who has served as postmaster-general since he rejoined the cabinet following the July 8, 1974, election. He resigned in 1972, under some fire for having broadened unemployment benefits.

He will carry both portfolios until this summer, when Prime Minister Trudeau says he plans a cabinet shuffle. Mr. Mackasey is scheduled then to drop the post office job but retain his new portfolio.

He is a ruddy-faced outgoing man who enjoys a friendly relationship with reporters. He says he is looking forward to his new job which gives him responsibility for the problems of corporations as well as consumers.

BELIEVES IN SYSTEM

"I'm a strong free enterpriser," he said following his swearing in. "I want to see it work. And I'm interested in the problems of consumers."

His appointment is ex-

BRYCE MACKASEY

pected to clear the way for two pieces of long-awaited legislation, reportedly held up by the resignation of Mr. Ouellet.

One of the bills deals with such matters as controlling loan-sharking while the other is designed to curb corporate monopolies.

Emotion is never far below the surface for Mr. Mackasey, who stunned Liberal colleagues last fall with an outburst in caucus over Quebec's controversial language bill.

Under the strain of lengthy negotiations on a new contract for postal workers, he reportedly told them he was tired of being part of a minority in Quebec and that he might leave the province.

But he emerged from the lengthy postal strike with a big public following apparently impressed by a Mackasey image of getting tough with striking postal workers.

FATHER OF FOUR

Mr. Mackasey, married and father of two sons and two daughters, stepped down as manpower and immigration minister in the fall of 1972 after four years in cabinet.

At the time, the minister said he was getting out to spend more time with his family. But others in government said it was because Prime Minister Trudeau had offered him a cabinet portfolio he considered a demotion after the narrow 1972 election victory.

Now, he has taken a step up the cabinet portfolio as the new consumer and corporate affairs minister.

Asked about his health—he suffered a heart attack in 1968 and collapsed last fall during the postal negotiations—Mr. Mackasey said he is feeling fine and had made "a miraculous recovery."

He added, with his usual quick grin, that his good health results from "prayer, good living and sobriety."

BUILT AN EMPIRE

Communications magnate,
Clifford Sifton, 82, dies

TORONTO (CP) — Clifford Sifton, 82, lawyer, sportsman and head of a communications empire, died Thursday in North York General Hospital, after suffering a stroke last month.

A veteran publisher, Mr. Sifton's main business interests were concentrated in communications. He owned two newspapers on the Prairies, Regina Leader-Post and Saskatoon Star-Phoenix.

He also had large holdings in radio stations CKCK Regina, CKRC Winnipeg and CKOC Hamilton and in CK-CK-TV Regina. Until 1969, his Armadale Corp. owned a major share of CHCH-TV

Hamilton. When he was almost 70, his energies brought about the formation of the Canadian committee of the International Press Institute (IPI), an organization dedicated to the freedom of information around the world. It added a strong voice to the IPI's continuing crusade.

He served as president of the Canadian body between 1962 and 1971. Later he was its honorary president and continued to contribute to its work into his 80s.

ONE OF FIVE SONS

Mr. Sifton was one of five sons of Sir Clifford Sifton, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's minister of interior in charge of immigration. Sir Clifford founded a publishing dynasty by buying the Manitoba Free Press—later Winnipeg Free Press—and developing it into one of the strongest newspapers in the west.

On the death of their father in 1929, Clifford and a younger brother, Victor, who died in 1961, inherited The Free Press and other family holdings.

In 1953, the brothers divided the properties, with Clifford becoming sole owner of the Regina and Saskatoon papers, broadcasting stations and various other businesses.

He continued as president, later chairman, of Armadale Corp., the family company set up by his father. His son, Michael, succeeded him as president in 1960.

Mr. Sifton enlisted early in the First World War and had a distinguished military record. He went overseas with the Canadian Field Artillery, 14th Battery, 4th Brigade, and returned as a major with the Distinguished Service Order. He was wounded three times and twice mentioned in dispatches.

His lifelong sporting interest was horses and he judged many equestrian events. He was one of Canada's noted horsemen and, as a breeder of Canadian hunters, was honorary life president of the Canadian Hunter Society.

While he was not often in the public eye, he spoke out occasionally on issues affecting communications.

He proposed in 1965 that Canadian control of publications in Canada be ensured by a constitutional change instead of by the method of removing the income-tax deductibility on the cost of advertising in foreign-controlled publications, which subsequently became law.

Mr. Sifton, a native of Brandon, Man., was married first to the former Doris Green. Widowed in 1962, he later married Elizabeth Crispo, a Toronto widow.

Japanese

TOKYO (Reuter) — Japan shares U.S. concern over the expansion of Soviet military power in the Far East, says Michita Sakata, director-general of the Japanese Defence Agency.

Poor in natural resources, Japan is dependent on merchant shipping to maintain its economy, and a major thrust of its defence policy is an anti-submarine watch on the waters around its islands.

Sakata specifically cited a recent interview Japanese concern over the buildup of Soviet naval forces in the Far East during the last few years.

"The Russians are modernizing their warships and expanding their quality and number," the director-general said.

World attention first focussed on the buildup of Soviet naval power when the Soviet navy held a global exercise, named Okean One, in 1970. U.S. military sources described it as the first occasion in which the Soviet Union had displayed naval command and control capability to fulfil worldwide commitments.

"Let's start a rumor that the Democrats are responsible for the virus."

"PREPARED TO TELL ALL"

Patty Hearst turns informer
in terrorist investigations

WASHINGTON — In a solitary, fourth-floor cell in the San Mateo County jail, a frail, frightened Patricia Hearst is prepared to tell all she knows about terrorist activities. She desperately fears she may have to pay with her life.

She has pleaded through her attorneys for protection for herself and her family. Several threats have been made against the Hearsts by such terrorist groups as the World Liberation Front and the Red World Family.

Patty's concern about her family, according to sources with access to her most intimate conversations, is genuine. Her 39-day court ordeal brought her closer to her family than she has been since she left home. She was deeply moved by the way they stood by her.

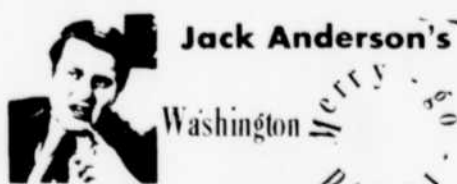

Her parents, Randolph and Catherine Hearst, have encouraged her to cooperate with the government. They are willing to go into seclusion, they have indicated, if this should become necessary to permit their daughter to assist the authorities.

Government sources have confirmed to us that the Hearsts would be in real danger if Patty turns informer. Terrorists and crazies have tried to intimidate them with death threats. As emphasis, terrorists have set off bombs at Hearst headquarters in New York City, the Hearst mansion at San Simeon, and the family's rustic retreat in the foothills of Mount Shasta.

Patty has already given the full details of her life in the underground, meanwhile, to two probation officers. But their report is intended for the eyes only of Federal Judge Oliver Carter.

Through her attorney Al Johnson, Patty has also offered some preliminary revelations to the federal authorities. She has identified the participants, for example, in a fatal bank robbery in the Carmichael section of Sacramento.

She learned about the robbery directly from the participants. Yet our sources say her account differs from the recollections of two eyewitnesses. According to the information Patty has provided, the eyewitnesses have identified the wrong people.

Jack Anderson's

Washington

The government is going ahead, nevertheless, with the trial of Patty's former underground lover, Steven Soliah, for his alleged part in the robbery. Our sources insist that the Justice Department has scrupulously notified the defense attorneys of Patty's revelations.

Patty can also give the government the grim details, say our sources, of terrorist bombings. She reportedly knows who makes bombs on the West Coast and who plans their placement. Last year, 89 bombings were attributable to terrorists, 32 of them in the San Francisco Bay area.

She is even willing to take lie detector tests to help convince the authorities that her revelations are truthful. She has also selected a "father confessor," whom she would like to confide in.

He is Charles Bates, who heads the FBI's San Francisco office and who, ironically, conducted the 19-month search for Patty. His fairness, even as he helped to convict her, impressed her.

Bates is reported to be eager to hear her confessions and to begin checking them out. However, the federal prosecutor, James Browning, held up the arrangements after consulting with Assistant Attorney General Richard Thornburgh.

They agreed not to begin questioning Patty until after she is sentenced on Monday. This will give them time, our sources contend, to assess her cooperation and check her truthfulness before the appeals are exhausted. Then, if they are satisfied with her cooperation, they may recommend a reduction of sentence.

Patty's testimony in court has already alienated her former associates in the underground. Two of them, William and Emily Harris, gave a prison interview to New Times magazine to get back at her. Patty had testified that she had been sexually abused by terrorist William Wolfe and couldn't stand him.

Emily claimed in the interview that Wolfe once gave Patty "a stone relic in the shape of a monkey face." Prosecutor Browning located the stone figurine among her belongings and dangled it in front of the jury.

"She couldn't stand Willie Wolfe," said Browning sarcastically, but she carried the figurine with her to the day she was arrested. The unspoken testimony of the mute, stone monkey face helped to convict her.

Afterward, Patty told intimates that she has always had a weakness for artistic curios, that it was the monkey face not Wolfe she loved and that she hopes the court will return the tiny totem to her.

If the Harrises helped to convict Patty, it may still not be revenge enough. The terrorists now consider her to be a turncoat and will seek reprisals, government sources acknowledged to us. "She is absolutely terrified," said one source.

She is kept under tight security at the San Mateo County jail, with closed-circuit TV and alarm systems to warn against any intruders. The exercise room and showers are cleared before she uses them.

But if she should wind up in some correctional institution, a government source admitted, "there will be no way to assure her safety."

Footnote: Our sources say that the first vote of the Patty Hearst jury was 7 to 5 for conviction. Later the vote for conviction increased to 10, with postman Philip Crabbe and boat operator Oscar McGregor as the last holdouts.

GIANT
GRAB

TORONTO (CP) — Canada could be the big winner in history's biggest territory grab, depending on a decision by a United Nations conference on the law of the seas, says Maurice Strong, chairman of Petro-Canada.

Mr. Strong, a former senior UN official, said Thursday the UN conference is considering extending the borders of coastal states 12 miles out to sea.

The conference also might give coastal states a 200-mile control zone over development of the resources on the ocean floor, he said.

An international agreement on extending national sovereignty over the seas is likely, he said, warning that failure to reach an agreement could threaten world peace and security.

Mr. Strong was speaking to a convocation of the Law Society of Upper Canada to admit graduate lawyers to practice in Ontario.

"As the country with the longest coastline in the world, we stand to benefit more than any other by extending our control over the 200-mile exclusive economic zone."

"In effect, Canadians who already occupy a disproportionately large share of the earth's land area in relation to population, will also become the biggest ocean-grabber of them all."

Kay's Kitchen Korner

Thanks goes to Mrs. Edna Fowler of Compton for the recipe this week. She says this is one of her favorite desserts - she does not like "gooey" sweets! I made them and they were a special hit with the man of the house. I served them with ice cream but they would be very nice "as is". I plan on trying to freeze some.

APPLE CAKES

Cream well one-third cup margarine and add gradually
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1 cup flour sifted with
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons milk
 Wedge in three or four wedges of apple on top of each cake. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 minutes. No sugar or spice on top, please! Tart apples are delicious with this crisp cake-mix.
 The recipe makes six rather largish patty pans. Note: I cut my apples in eightths

Another recipe comes from a Waterloo reader. This is a most beautiful cake and after making the first I immediately made two more and cached them away in my freezer. Everyone who tries this will thank you "Friend from Waterloo."

ORANGE-CHIFFON CAKE
 8" tube pan; preheat oven to 350 degrees; Bake about 40 minutes.
 1 cup cake flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder

3/4 cup white sugar
 one-third cup orange juice
 1 tablespoon orange rind
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
 1/4 cup cooking oil
 3 egg yolks
 3 egg whites
 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar.
 Beat well together egg yolks, sugar, oil, orange rind and extract. Fold in carefully flour sifted with baking powder. Do this with a "lifting" motion to trap lots of air. Lastly, fold in egg whites beaten in stiff peaks. Beat the whites till foamy and add cream of tartar and beat till stiff peaks form.

ICING

2 tablespoons butter
 1/2 teaspoon orange rind
 3 tablespoons orange juice
 1/4 teaspoon lemon extract
 2 cups sifted icing sugar.
 The cake is excellent without icing. The reader states she uses Mazola or Wesson oil.
 Many thanks to all the readers for sending in recipes. Watch for yours!

Perkins-Durkee Wedding

YREKA, Calif. — Wendy Durkee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Durkee, Yreka, became the bride of Kenneth Perkins, Chase, B.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Perkins of Danville, Quebec, on February 7. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Wendell Seward in the Berean Fundamental Church in Yreka at 2 p.m. in front of 150 friends and relatives.

The wedding music was played by Mike Hendryx. Dennis Lamson, Wendy's cousin, sang three solos, including one he had written for the bride. The church was decorated in orange, brown and white.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white polyester crepe dress, old fashioned in style with a high neck, long sleeves gathered at the shoulders, a princess waist tied in the back, and a large ruffle at the bottom. The neck, sleeves and yoke were trimmed with white lace. Her bouquet was a crescent of white roses, baby carnations and baby's breath.

Judy Durkee, as matron of honour for her sister-in-law, wore a floor length gown of tangerine polyester, also old fashioned, with a scooped neck, the bodice gathered at the empire waist and tied in the back. The sleeves were long, puffed, and bordered, as was the neck, with off-white lace and brown velvet. She wore a cameo and had a half wreath of sprayed tangerine daisies in her hair. She carried a mum to match.

Howard Durkee, the bride's brother, was best man. The ushers were Kevin Lamson, the bride's cousin, and James Perkins, the groom's brother.

The bride's mother wore a peach floor length gown and the groom's mother, a green print floor length.

Light refreshments, including the wedding cake, were served in the church hall following the ceremony. The cake, decorated with orange on white, was made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sybil Purcell. Shawn Burkett was in charge of the guest book while Debbie Teeter of Chase, B.C. and Esther Perkins received the gifts. Later a reception was given at the Durkee home where a buffet dinner was served for 48 guests including the families of the bride and groom.
 Relatives of the groom attending were his parents, his brother, James, his younger sister, Esther, his grandmother, Mrs. Laura Webb, all of Danville, Quebec and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Fessenden and family of Spangle, Washington, formerly of Fulford, Quebec. Among the bride's relatives attending were her grandmothers, Mrs. Maryalice Durkee and Mrs. Sybil Purcell, and her great-grandmother, Mrs.

Myrtle Snook.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Yreka High School and a 1972 graduate of George Fox College. Ken Perkins is a 1969 graduate of Richmond Regional High School and a 1974 graduate of Berkshire Christian College, Lenox, Massachusetts. He is office manager for the Little Shuswap Indian Tribe in Squilax, B.C. The couple reside in Chase.

Polly's Pointers

Try club soda on stained appliances

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Do you know how to remove nicotine stains from the outside of a refrigerator? —L.G.P.

DEAR L.G.P. — You do have a problem. Harsh abrasives must be avoided so as not to damage the finish. Have you tried a damp cloth sprinkled with household cleanser. If it does work apply kitchen wax and polish. Also you might try club soda, there is a chance it might do the job. How about this reader? —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Those with limited living space should never underestimate the value of an adjustable ironing board. Mine is used every day and for many things. I put a plastic tablecloth on it to make an extra work table near the stove to use during the day. When my grandchildren come to visit, I put it down low and give them cookie cutters and play dough or coloring books and crayons. They use it as a work table that is close enough so we can visit as I cook. Sometimes I put a bright tablecloth on it and they have a picnic lunch. When I have guests my ironing board table, with a lace cloth on it, is used as a buffet. —HAZEL.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is to purchase items having a coupon giving me a reduced price, and then find the cashier did not deduct that amount from my bill. Many times I would not have purchased the item if there had been no coupon. Better start checking. —MARTY.

DEAR POLLY — Now that more people are driving smaller, lighter cars, they are finding them hard to handle on icy and snowy roads since the rear end of such a car needs more weight. We have a great idea for this. Cut an old inner-tube to make one long tube and tie one end. Fill tube with sand just as one would fill a sausage casing, and then tie off the other end. Keep in the car trunk. The tube will not only provide needed weight for the rear end, but when having trouble on ice untie one end, remove a few scoops of sand and spread on the ice to provide needed traction.

Also, if one is in a serious accident and the car rolls so the sand stuffed tube hits you, it will cause less harm than a concrete truck such as some use. This is a fact to be considered if the trunk is not separated from the passenger compartment, as is the case in some types of small cars. —DENISE.

DEAR POLLY — Many of us find the slacks we buy are too long so a piece has to be cut off the bottom of each leg. I have found such cut off pieces are great to use for making belt loops, so belts can be worn with them and will stay in place. —MRS. H.A.D.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Pet Peeve, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper.

FIRST TWINS OF '76 — Mr. and Mrs. Allen Douglass of Royale Street, Cowansville, are the proud parents of the first twins born on March 26th, 1976, at the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital.

Quebec-Sherbrooke UCW plans annual meeting

SHERBROOKE — The annual meeting of Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial United Church Women will be held Thursday, April 22nd, at Plymouth-Trinity United Church in Sherbrooke. Registration will start at 9:30 a.m. and copies of the annual reports will be given out.

Lunch tickets can be purchased at the same time for $1.50. Local groups are asked to be sure to notify your area vice-president as to number attending so that the ladies of Plymouth-Trinity will know approximately how many to cater for. Babysitting will be provided.

The theme for this gathering will be "Come Let Us Share a Wonderful Love". The guest speaker will be Miss Etta Snow, a Christian Education worker for the Angola Church Council who returned to Canada last Fall for a temporary furlough due to the war. She will help participants to realize the Outreach possibilities of sharing. The offering taken during the afternoon service will go to the World Development Service and Relief Fund.

The members of the executive committee for 1976 will be introduced by Mrs. C.H. Smith, and installed by Conference UCW President Mrs. Lillian Armstrong. During the afternoon there will be varied activities, starting with a song session. A filmstrip made last year of the 50th anniversary banners produced in various churches will be shown. New books and literature will be on display through the day, and there will be news about Summer Event '76.

The Presbytery Youth Worker, Rev. Ken MacQueen, will describe what activities have been going on in his department this winter.

The day's program will end with a Worship Service, closing at 3 p.m. Everyone who is interested will be welcome.

SHLA News and Views

By ELSIE LINHOLM

Uppermost on all our minds at this time are the preparations for our 1976 Spring Project - that being a Candlelight Buffet and Dance to be held May 15. Many members are busy bees writing up invitations and grouping for the phoning brigade! Watch for our posters which will be prominently displayed and don't forget, tickets will soon be available.

The Lennoxville Wing, of which Mrs. Rhoda Matson is president, informs one and all that their tickets for the Annual Penny Sale are available. The date to remember is Friday, May 7th, 3 to 5 and 6:30 to 8. You may find just what you've always wanted!

New business within the Auxiliary is flourishing as well! We are happy to realize success in our funding of a "Diversional" Therapist for the Hospital's new Occupational Therapy area. This project is proving a tremendous benefit to this community and we are pleased to be of service in this manner.

Mrs. Lilli Knudsen, our president, was able to inform Mr. E. Gould, General Manager of the Hospital, of the unanimous agreement by the Auxiliary to purchase for the Hospital a new automatic Electro-Cardiograph machine, which will prove yet another beneficial service available to our community.

A list of new members and resignations will be presented in May. Hopefully, by that time, we'll have many more new members to add.

The Director of Volunteers, Mrs. Elsie Linholm, says new hospital volunteer team members are aiding beautifully in building up a sound Department of Volunteers. Even so, there is still room and need for more!

Special thanks go out to Mrs. Pat Bibeau, for her unbudging help in a pinch on the flower project two weeks ago, even though this is not her usual area of service. Thanks, Pat!

We welcome back into the fold, Volunteer and Recording Secretary Mrs. Irene Perkins, who recently spent some time in Jamaica where she was honored for her beneficial services there while with CUSO. Thanks, Mrs. P. for the interesting post card!

We were sorry to note the passing of Volunteer Miss Karen Fidler's maternal grandfather as well as the passing of one of Mrs. Janet Gale's aunts. Our sympathies to these families.

Mrs. Betty Shaw is doing her best (we consider it a great job) keeping the Volunteer Roster Calendar for the Hospitality Shop Volunteers. It means, at times, a lot of hair pulling and last minute juggling; so her help is invaluable. If anyone thinks their interest might lie in this area, why not give Betty a call at 563-8816.

I'll be back with more news in May. Hope everyone stays happy and healthy till then!

Busy Bees hold meeting

EAST CLIFTON — The Busy Bees held an afternoon business meeting at the home of Mrs. Bernice Black on March 25.

The President, Mrs. Gordon French, opened the meeting with a Bible reading, followed by the Lord's Prayer and Mrs. Frances Bain gave two readings.

Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Gordon Cairns and adopted. Mrs. Bain gave the financial report.

Several members brought in recipes for a cookbook which is to be printed later.

A motion was made to send the allocation to Presbytery. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Black, assisted by Mrs. Eva Ellis.

A work meeting had been held at Mrs. Ronald Bell's when members worked on pillow cases, aprons and a quilt.

Another work meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hazel Blair when a delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Blair, assisted by Mrs. Russell Blair.

After dinner, members and guests tied a quilt which will be offered for a drawing during the summer when members will be selling tickets.

Those working on the quilt said it brought back memories of olden times.

Christening

STANBRIDGE EAST — The infant daughter of Rodney and Susan Maloney of Kingston, Ont. was christened on Sunday, April 4, in St. James Anglican Church, here, and received the name of Angela Marie, Rev. John Carr officiating. The godparents were Robert and Joyce Senkerik of Cowansville and Mrs. Timmy Realife of this place. A christening luncheon was served by grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Senkerik.

Great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senkerik of Prescott, Ont. were also in attendance.

Expos stop Mets for first win 8-6

NEW YORK (AP) — Kark Kuehl, rookie manager of Montreal Expos, waited three days for his first major league victory.

But on the third day, after suffering through eight pitchers, 21 base hits, several hair-raising predicaments and brutal weather conditions, he finally got it Sunday afternoon when the Expos outlasted New York Mets 7-6 in a National League baseball game.

"I hope they're all this easy," said Kuehl, tongue in cheek. "I mean who wants a 3-2 or a 1-0 game all the time."

Certainly not the Expos. They lost the first two games of the season by those scores to the good-pitch, bad-hit Mets.

But Sunday, veteran Nate Colbert and rookie Bombo Rivera, both of whom spent the first two games of the season on the bench, combined to put Montreal in the win column for the first time. Colbert drove in two runs with a home run and a single and Rivera collected two doubles, drove in two runs and scored three. Fred Scherman, the fourth of five Montreal pitchers got the victory.

"I knew it was gone when I hit it," said Colbert of his fifth-inning home run. "I know the manager has lots of new players and I know he wants to see who's best."

"I just hope he has me in the lineup more often."

NEW RECRUIT

Rivera is one of the new players that Colbert was talking about. He hit a two-run double in the second inning to get Montreal off and running against Met lefty Mickey Lolich. He then scored on a single by Jerry White, another Expo rookie. Rivera came home on a balk by Met reliever Hank Webb in the fifth and scored in the eighth on another single by White. Colbert accounted for the other Expo runs with his fifth-inning homer and a run-scoring single in the third.

New York, meanwhile, chipped away with three runs in the third, two of them on a double by Jerry Grote, one in the fourth on Ed Kranepool's ground out, one in the eighth on a home run by Dave Kingman and one in the ninth on a pinch single by Ron Hodges.

The Mets stranded 14 runners, just one short of the team record for nine innings.

"I can't help it if we couldn't hit in the clutch," said Mets manager Joe Frazier. "I didn't have a bat in my hands."

Lolich, obtained by the Mets from Detroit Tigers over the winter, was less than overpowering in his National League debut. He worked only two innings, gave up three hits and three runs, made two errors and was the losing pitcher.

City amateur sport to get boost

Amateur sport in Sherbrooke will be getting a real shot in the arm if the aims of the press conference held at the Sports Palace are realized.

Mayor Jacques O'Bready was named honorary president of the new committee, which was formed to raise funds for amateur sport in the City. Mayor O'Bready gladly accepted to act in such a capacity.

The movement is being sponsored by Maurice Rompre, co-ordinator of Amateur Sport in Sherbrooke, in conjunction with COJO. The revenues will come from the sale of the "Olympic Album" of which Roger de Groote is the author.

The Album is the history of the Olympics since foundation with all details and records of every sports event which was held. It is very well prepared and is a very suitable gift for any sport minded citizen, male or female.

Maurice Rompre is very happy that his Association has the chance to secure some funds to help amateurs in Sherbrooke. Amateur sport is now a costly affair but with the extra funds that will be made available it will make things easier for those who wish to take part in sport.

Mr. Groote was at the conference and he outlined the history of the Album which took 15 years to assemble. The majority of the years was devoted to research as he was obliged to go through all Olympic record books to obtain the necessary information.

The sale of the Albums will be under the guidance of the Regional football organization, who hope to receive the backing of the general public. Maurice Rompre's group, from the funds which they will obtain, will help out other sporting bodies in the City.

The Album will be on display for the public in several stores the coming weeks. The book is in both languages and will be on sale in the States as well as Canada.

Alain Gilbert of COJO, who was on hand, mentioned that the Album would be a big help in giving the public more information regarding the Games. Mayor O'Bready is confident that this project would be successful in the City. "As well as giving information it will help amateur sport in the City," added Mayor O'Bready.

"The Olympic Games consist mainly of the athletes in different sports. We have heard plenty of the Olympic Village and Mayor Drapeau's remarks but in this Album one gets the inside information on how the different athletes proceed in preparing for the Games," stated Mr. Gilbert.

The City of Sherbrooke purchased 50 volumes which will be doled out to visiting celebrities this summer. All local associations who wish to take part in the event should contact Mr. Rompre as soon as possible as all groups who sell will receive a fixed amount in return.

"It started as an Irish team, but a good third of our club now is Canadian. We have had in our history players from England, Scotland, Wales, Australia, Trinidad, Rhodesia, Tonga, Germany, Argentina — you name it, we have them all."

When Jones came to Canada in 1957 there were 14 clubs in Ontario. Last year there were 52.

He said the development of the sport in Canada has been such that he predicts the national team will be able to beat Barbarians.

"I'd have to say the Canadians have it by an inch," he said.

Ray Floyd wins 40th Masters, ties Jack Nicklaus' record

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ray Floyd grabbed the sprawling Augusta National course by the nape of the neck and literally shook it into submission Sunday, winning the 40th Masters golf tournament with a record-tying score.

The great Jack Nicklaus, like everybody else, wound up being a spectator, finishing 11 shots off the pace. Floyd led every round as the glamorous event became a dull one-man show.

Floyd's winning score was 65-66-70-271, tying the record Nicklaus set in 1965.

Only one man made a serious lunge at him and it proved too little too late. Young Ben Crenshaw charged in with a closing 67, highlighted by a gambling eagle on the 13th and a par on the long 15th from the water, to take second money with 279, eight strokes back.

Floyd collected $40,000, Crenshaw $25,000.

NICKLAUS STRUGGLED Nicklaus, recognized "as undisputed king of the game with 16 major titles, never mustered a rally in defence of the title he grabbed for the fifth time a year ago. He struggled in with a 73 to tie Larry Ziegler for third at 282.

Floyd, a 33-year-old veteran of 15 years on the tour, started the final round with an eight-stroke lead after finishing Saturday's round with a birdie. He said he was convinced Saturday night that he could win.

"Realistically, I knew it was over - I was sure no one could catch me," he said. "But I didn't want to finish sloppily. I wanted to shoot a good round."

"After I got that birdie on the 15th, I just wanted to finish and not get hurt. I was in control."

Nevertheless, Floyd's hands were shaking slightly when he reported to the locker room about an hour before his scheduled Sunday tee-off time and began opening stacks of telegrams from friends and well-wishers.

TROUBLE LOOMED

At the very first hole, he hooked his drive behind a tall pine tree. Right off, he was staring at a possible bogey or double bogey.

"I was only about 2½ feet from the tree," he said. "I had no line to the green at all."

"So I punched a hard hook shot out with a seven-iron and it rolled flag high on the green. I almost broke my club but I saved my par."

Floyd got his lone bogey on the fourth hole where his shot into the wind missed the green but he recovered on the next hole, lashing a three-iron shot to within three feet of the cup.

He got another birdie at the short 12th, sinking a putt from 20 feet, and then birdied the 520-yard 15th with a 15-foot putt that gave him a record of having played the four par fives 14 under par for the four days. Jimmy Demaret previously held the record of 13.

Crenshaw played about 45 minutes in front of Floyd and Ziegler, the last twosome on the course.

After turning in 34, Crenshaw was still battling for second and third money at six under par-nine back of the leader until he suddenly caught fire.

SANK 20-FOOT PUTT

At the 485-yard 13th, he threw all his strength into a three-wood fairway shot that sent the ball spinning to the top edge of the green. Then he sank a 20-foot putt for an eagle.

On the next hole, after driving into the trees, he faded a two-iron shot on to the green and sank a 15 footer for a birdie.

All of his heroics seemed for naught on the long 15th when, gambling for another eagle, he saw his 250-yard three-wood shot fall short of the green and dribble back into the water.

Crenshaw proceeded to remove the shoe and sock of his right foot and climbed into the water, saving par by whacking the ball back into play.

Hale Irwin, Charles Coody and young Tom Kite tied at 285 and the veteran Bill Casper came out of the pack with a 69 to finish at 287. Britain's Peter Oosterhuis shot at 68 for 293.

Soderholm's injury gives Canada's Dave McKay spot in Twins' opening fixture

Eric Soderholm's continuing knee problems have given Canadian Dave McKay a spot in Minnesota Twins opening-day lineup Friday night against Texas Rangers.

McKay, a 26-year-old Vancouver native, got his major league chance with the Twins last summer when Soderholm first injured his knee. That same knee forced the Twins to put Soderholm back on the disabled list last month.

McKay, who will be the first non-pitcher from Canada to get into an opening-day lineup in several years, was called up from Tacoma, Wash., late last season when Soderholm was sidelined.

He responded with a .256 average and two homers in 33 games after hitting .257 with seven homers in the Pacific Coast League.

At least three other Canadian players, all American League pitchers, will be on opening-day rosters. A fourth Canadian pitcher, Dave Pagan, is still fighting for a job with New York Yankees.

Boston Red Sox have Fergy Jenkins of Chatham, Ont., and Reggie Cleveland, a native of Swift Current, Sask., while Detroit Tigers have relief ace John Hiller of Toronto.

HASN'T DECIDED

Yankee manager Billy Martin still hasn't made up his mind to carry nine or 10 pitchers. If he carries 10, both Pagan and Larry Gura will make the team but if he carries nine, either Pagan or Gura will have to go.

The 25-year-old Pagan, who lives in Nipawin, Sask., has been up and down with the Yankees since 1973. He split last season between Syracuse Chiefs of the International League and the Yankees, where he had a 4.06 earned run average in 13 seasons.

Boston's acquisition of Jenkins from Texas hurt Cleveland's chances with the Red Sox. The Swift Current, Sask., native finished strong as a starter last September, winding up with a 13-9 won-lost record and 4.43 ERA.

Cleveland, who has had a perennial weight problem, reported to camp at the lowest weight of his major league career, but Jenkins becomes Boston's fourth starter, shunting his countryman to the bullpen.

MALONEY TRIAL SET

TORONTO (CP) — Dan Maloney of Detroit Red Wings will stand trial June 23 for an alleged assault of another player during a National Hockey League game here last November.

British Barbarians to tour Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Rugby officials are confidently predicting their biggest season yet this spring, and giving the sport an added boost will be a cross-country tour by the British Barbarians—one of the world's elite teams.

The Barbarians are an invitational mixture of some of the world's best players and up-and-coming talent. They will play five provincial sides and the Canadian national team during their visit.

The tour opens June 3 with a game against the national champions, British Columbia, in Vancouver. On June 5 the visitors meet Alberta in Edmonton and on June 9 it's Saskatchewan's turn in Regina.

The big game is June 12 in Toronto when the Canadian national team takes on the Barbarians. On June 15 Quebec meets the visitors in Montreal and on June 17 the Atlantic provinces finish off the tour in Halifax. The tour will cost about $25,000.

But even without the big tour Rugby is booming.

Officials say there now are 800 clubs with 3,000 teams and 60,000 players across the country. Ontario alone has 12,000 players and British Columbia only slightly less. The game is played in every province except Prince Edward Island.

STARTED BY IMMIGRANTS

In the early days of the sport in Canada it was mainly a game for immigrants who banded together to play a sport that has a hold in just about every country in the world.

Today this has changed. The interest in the sport at the schools level is reflected by the staging of the first annual Canadian junior championship in Winnipeg June 24-26.

More and more schools are taking to the sport. One of the reasons is economics. It costs as much to outfit a Rugby team as it does to outfit one football player.

The sport now is being played in about 200 schools in Ontario and the figure is climbing.

But Jim Bradley, executive secretary of the Ontario Rugby Union and Toronto-born, said in an interview economics is not the only reason the number of Canadians playing the sport is climbing every year.

"I think the philosophy of the game is really important," he said.

"The fact that when you start the game there is no bench. Everybody gets to play. You actually can learn the game by playing."

"When you are my size that's important—I'm not the biggest fellow in the world. I like the physical contact because I've been involved in Canadian football."

MADE THE CHANGE

Bradley, who is 5-foot-7 and weighs 155 pounds, made the change at university when he found he couldn't take part in Canadian football at the level he wanted to.

"If you look around the province there is not much past high school in football unless you are good enough to play for the university team or professional football. Rugby fills that gap."

He said youngsters regard Rugby as a tough, manly sport and boast how they play without padding.

Next year the Canadian team will be making a major overseas tour, heading to Australia, which while not in the class of South Africa, still is one of Rugby's homes.

Trevor Jones, president of the Toronto Irish club, came to Canada 18 years ago. Born in Wales, he played school Rugby in England before the move across the Atlantic.

He was attracted to Rugby in Canada by the social life—one of the features of the sport throughout the world.

NOW MULTI-NATIONAL

The Irish club had its origins with Irish players, but the club is multi-national today.

"It started as an Irish team, but a good third of our club now is Canadian. We have had in our history players from England, Scotland, Wales, Australia, Trinidad, Rhodesia, Tonga, Germany, Argentina — you name it, we have them all."

When Jones came to Canada in 1957 there were 14 clubs in Ontario. Last year there were 52.

He said the development of the sport in Canada has been such that he predicts the national team will be able to beat Barbarians.

"I'd have to say the Canadians have it by an inch," he said.

MUST BE APPROVED

The contract must still be written up and submitted to the National League office for approval. There had been talk about the pact including provisions for bonuses based on performance. Such clauses are not permitted by the commissioner's office.

Asked about this, Grant said: "If we get it approved, fine; if not, we'll go another way. We have alternatives."

There had been reports the Mets were on the verge of trading Seaver, with the widest speculation centring on a multi-player deal with the Dodgers which would involve Don Sutton. But that talk died down in the past week, as the Mets and Seaver resumed contract negotiations.

Seaver had a 2.39 earned-run average last season. He recorded 243 strikeouts, the eighth consecutive season he has struck out more than 200 batters, and had 15 complete games.

Seaver was 22-9 last season and won the National League's Cy Young Award for the third time in his career.

"Tom Seaver becomes the first pitcher in baseball history to make $200,000 a year," said M. Donald Grant, chairman of the board of the National League Mets, who met with Seaver for one hour, 40 minutes before the club's exhibition game against New York Yankees on Monday night.

Then made final the agreement at a 15-minute meeting after the game.

There had been published reports that Ferguson Jenkins of Chatham, Ont., now a pitcher with Boston Red Sox, would be earning $200,000 this season, but Grant said that figure is not accurate.

"This is the highest salary a baseball player has ever been paid to pitch," Grant said of the agreement with the 32-year-old right-hander.

A flock of 50 to 75 geese travelling west toward Montreal was reported by Mr. Kenneth Battley shortly after 11:30 a.m. Saturday. Sydney Taylor also has seen three or four flocks of geese over the past three weeks - all travelling in a south-westerly direction. Following Mr. Battley's call, the question of why geese were travelling in the "wrong" direction and not to the north was discussed on one of the radio stations. One caller stated they were probably from a Sanctuary near Morrisburg and likely just "touring around."

There is an over population of geese and the wardens at times try to "shoo" some of them out in the hope they will settle down somewhere else. An old hunter here expressed the opinion that the geese always fly "with" the wind - never against it - they "tack" in the same manner as used in navigating a sail boat!

Mr. and Mrs. Brian MacDonald of Denver, Colorado, were calling on Mr. MacDonald's grandmother, Mrs. Marshall

Miller and members of the family Monday (March 29) (March 29).

Mrs. Robert Miller, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kramer and baby, of Dundee, Ill., who were here from the U.S. visiting relatives, were dinner guests at Mrs. M. W. Miller's home Wednesday evening.

An open meeting was held in St. Paul's Church Hall on the evening of April 4, when the rector discussed with members of the congregation some of the problems of ministering in large "cluster-type" rural parishes. Much of the insight is due to a course that the Reverend David Stanway attended recently in Kansas City. The United Church of Canada gave $20,000 for Guatemala relief. Knowlton United Church sent $400 for the relief effort. A small congregation in a small community raised 1-50 of the total. Big where it counts!

A lot of politicians make the mistake of forgetting they were appointed and thinking they were anointed! This can never be said of Heward Graffey, who is known throughout Bromfield-Missisquoi as "The M.P. who will come". Sunday School picnic or a meeting of the Ukrainian-Canadian Association, he will be there if he is invited! Well, he was invited, and came to preach the sermon at both the Creek and Knowlton United Church on Sunday, April 4, even though he is a devout Anglican. He amplified the theme followed throughout the Lenten season at the United Church, that of the individual human being and his/her ability to make a difference. Coffee and a chance to chat with Heward followed the service.

Also at Knowlton United Church on the same evening, John Ambrose was here. "Lift Up Your Hearts" was the title of the feature article in "The Observer" on John Ambrose. He is the United Church's national consultant on worship, his job being to help the million members of the church across Canada worship in a satisfying, creative way. Worship is not necessarily something to be done Sunday morning in church. This wide ranging and profound theme was explored by him and representatives from the 11 churches in the Yamaska Council along with the members of the congregation here. Some brought food for a Pot-luck supper at 5:30 p.m. and some came just for the event at 8:00 p.m.

A special Thought from St. Paul's Church bulletin on Passion Sunday: "The cross is the symbol of the head-on collision between prideful man and the humble God. It is God in action, not simply Jesus in trouble."

When you use a Stayman two-club response to an opening notrump in preference to a transfer bid? In general, you use Stayman because you have five cards in one major and four in the other.

South has 11 high-card points, four spades and five hearts and responds two clubs. His jump to three hearts at his next turn is a forcing bid. North's first thought is to bid three notrump. He only holds jack and two small hearts. Then he thinks some more, decides that his partner's bidding has shown decided weakness in at least one minor suit and that four hearts is the place to be.

It sure is. West gets his two aces and South collects the other 11 tricks. Had North bid three notrump, East might have led the 10 of diamonds. In that case North would be one down. Against a club lead, North would make four notrump, but that would be 20 points, less than the points South scored at hearts.

Ask the Jacobys

A Pennsylvania reader wants to know what North should open with:

♠ A K Q ♥ A Q J ♦ Q J 10 8 4 ♣ K 9. This is a standard opening two notrump. North has 22 high-card points, all suits stopped and 5-3-3-2 distribution.

Beavers win two

Dump Draveurs 10-5 and 8-6, meet here Wednesday

Goalie Daniel Coutu had busy night

On Friday evening the game opened at a fast pace and the spectators figured they were in for a good, wide-open affair but this didn't last long. The Draveurs were the first to get in when Michel Comtois got away but Richard Sevigny came up with a nice save.

The Draveurs were out to apply the pressure and after two minutes of play Guy Dupuis teamed up with Michel Cloutier and the Draveurs were on the score board. Fern Leblanc got in on Daniel Coutu but the Three Rivers' netminder made the save.

Richard Dalpe got the thumb for cross-checking and Coach Delage tossed on his power play but during the two minutes Daniel Coutu was at his best. He stopped Jere Gillis right in front then Bernard Harbec, when he was put in the clear on a pass from Fern Leblanc.

The Draveurs got their chance. Floyd Lahache gave them the man advantage but during this period Richard Sevigny stepped to the fore with some good saves while his mates kept the front of his cage clear smothering the rebound and clearing the puck down the ice. The Beavers, back at full strength, just couldn't seem to get untracked and the fans got to them. They were making bad passes, not checking and doing about everything wrong.

Peter Marsh got away from a ganging play but his attempt was blocked when Coutu came out to cut down the angle. It was a tough break as he tried the lower corner but just missed it. Chamberland was the next to visit the cooler and the Beavers went to work.

Peter Marsh evened the count when he finished off a passing play. Mario Claude lifted the disc to Jere Gillis and he in turn gave it to Marsh who batted it home.

This was all that the Delage squad needed. They then proceeded to drive home three goals within two and half minutes. Ray Roy with Joe Carlevalle made it 2-1 then Daniel Chicoine was at the right spot and when Coutu made a save the disc dropped in front and the husky Beaver pushed it into the net.

The Draveurs were forcing the play with Jere Gillis in the cooler for roughing. Peter Marsh lifted the pass to Simpson and he was away alone. He drove a hard shot which Coutu just couldn't get his mitt up in time for the save.

The middle session opened with the Beavers on the attack. Chicoine and Harbec missed a great chance to extend the lead when they had a wide open net. Lowe went off for interference but nothing happened. The Beavers after putting on good defensive work during their mate's absence seemed to fall into a lapse. Allard and Belanger drew majors for the first fight of the game. Roy and Carter came close but failed to click as the locals seemed to be getting their second wind and were flying.

Checking was close on both sides at this stage. Schmo Simpson got in the corner and made a pass to Denis Halle, who circled the net, and poked the disc between Coutu's legs. The Draveurs pulled up a goal by Richard David and although the Bergeron team dominated the play they couldn't get more than one by Sevigny who rose to the height of the situation.

In the closing minutes of the period a slight altercation in front of the visitors' bench developed. Legault jumped off the bench to take a swing at Gillis but the local player more than held his own. Gillis and Lagueux drew majors. The Draveurs were tagged with a minor and a game misconduct for leaving the bench and was tossed out of the game.

In the third period the Beavers really went to town, so to speak, and chalked up four goals while holding their opposition to three. After the second frame the Beavers held a 5-2 lead but Dupuis cut this down. The locals bounced right back to seal the outcome on goals by Harbec, Simpson, Carter and Marsh. Cloutier chalked up one but Daniel Chicoine potted one in the last minute of play and then Chamberland finished the scoring with thirty seconds left in the game.

During the third period some fans, sitting behind the Three Rivers' bench, decided to take on Coach Michel Bergeron. Someone pulled his hair and then things commenced to blow sky-high. The players came to his aid with sticks in the air, finally the police arrived and cleared the seats. Referee Jean-Claude Clavel ordered both teams to their dressing rooms for a cooling off period.

Just two penalties, minors, were called in the third frame with Ray Roy and Ron Carter getting the thumb. The Beavers swept the Three-star selection with Schmo Simpson, Peter Marsh and Richard Sevigny, in that order, were picked by the press.

Beavers' Denis Halle at work

TROIS RIVIERES — Sherbrooke Beavers jumped into a 2-0 lead in their battle with the Draveurs of Trois-Rivieres here last evening when they posted an 8-6 victory. They had won their first game in Sherbrooke and the third tilt will take place at the Sherbrooke Sports Palace Wednesday evening.

It was a hard fought battle with the Draveurs forcing the play all the time extending Richard Sevigny in the Sherbrooke net time after time. His out standing work was a big factor in the Beavers' victory.

It was a wide-open tilt with both clubs moving at top speed but as in the first game the Beavers were slow in moving into high-gear and the Draveurs moved into a 2-0 lead before Brendan Lowe potted the first tally for the visitors.

Coach Michel Bergeron commenced with Francois Lagueux covering Jere Gillis but he couldn't keep step with the Beavers' fast-breaking winger and that was the end of Lagueux. In the middle session the Beavers came up two goals within the first three minutes and a half. Schmo Simpson and Fern Leblanc were the marksmen while Richer got one back for the Draveurs.

Daniel Chicoine, with Simpson and Harbec, potted one for the Beavers but Cloutier got one for the Bergeron squad and then Fern Leblanc got his second of the period. Daniel Chicoine notched his second tally of the game just before the half-way mark of the final frame and then Ray Roy extended the lead.

The Draveurs kept fighting and finally Richer got his second for the home club and then David put his club within one goal of tying the match. Schmo Simpson got the insurance tally when he lifted one into the open net after Coach Bergeron had yanked his goalie for an extra forward and the Beavers earned a hard fought 8-6 win over the Draveurs.

It was a wide-open affair with only six minor penalties being called but it hurt the Draveurs as the Beavers got three tallies with the man advantage. Simpson, Leblanc and Chicoine potted two goals each while Lowe and Ray Roy notched the others. Richer was the best for the Draveurs with two while Dalpe, Desjardins, David and Cloutier were the marksmen for the home club.

CTV to carry live ABC Tournament of Champions with $225,000 at stake

The ABC Tournament of Champions will be televised live by CTV from La Costa Country Club in Carlsbad, California, Sunday, April 18, completing the week's tournament.

The field of champions will include winners of the forty tournaments which form the Professional Golf Association and the winner of the British Open Championship.

With over $225,000 in prize money at stake, it is one of the richest tournaments in professional golf. The winner receives $45,000, second place $27,000 and third place $15,750.

Al Geiberger, who won the tournament last year in a sudden death playoff with Gary Player, is expected to be in the field again this year, along with other top money winning professional golfers, such as Hale Irwin, Johnny Miller, Jack Nicklaus and Tom Watson. Commentary will be provided by Jim McKay, Keith Jackson and Frank Gifford with color analysis by Dave Marr and Rosburg.

Sunday's final day coverage of the Tournament of Champions will include the final 9 holes of play omitting the 12th hole.

Bowie Kuhn postpones decision on Toronto

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Bowie Kuhn delayed decision on baseball's expansion situation, revolving around the uncertain Toronto franchise.

A spokesman for the commissioner's office said that at the request of the National and American leagues, Kuhn had postponed his decision until Saturday.

The American League voted to make Toronto its 14th franchise at a cost of $7 million, joining Seattle as an expansion team for next season.

A week ago, Kuhn gave the AL permission to place a franchise in the Canadian city, but with one stipulation — that the league make a provision for some games to be played in Washington, D.C.

He gave the AL seven days in which to work out a formula to satisfy Washington, which has been without a franchise since the Senators moved to Texas in 1972.

Habs blank Hawks, Bruins win

All Gilles Gilbert wanted was a little respect.

That's why the Boston goalie wanted so badly to start Sunday for the Bruins in the opening game of their National Hockey League quarter-final series.

Gilbert got the assignment instead of the more experienced Gerry Cheevers and responded by blocking 21 shots as the Bruins blanked Los Angeles Kings 4-0.

In Sunday's other series openers, Montreal Canadiens blanked Chicago Black Hawks 4-0 and Buffalo Sabres defeated New York Islanders 5-3.

A quarter-final round between Toronto Maple Leafs and Philadelphia Flyers opens tonight in Philadelphia. The second games in all four sets are Tuesday.

Gilbert had played more than 50 games in each of his three seasons with the Bruins and had a 2.90 goals-against average, but there had been speculation about his status with Boston since Cheevers returned from the World Hockey Association. "Gerry Cheevers is a super goaltender, but I thought I should be the starting goalie," said Gilbert. "I had a great season this year and just thought I should start the first game."

"You gotta get respect, I respect everybody and I want everybody to respect me. I don't care if I start the next game. It's not the same now. I started this game. Now the coach can do what he wants to do."

CHEEVERS TURN NEXT
Boston coach Don Cherry had said Cheevers will start the second game, "no matter what happened in the opener."

Gilbert had an easy night. He was called upon to make four saves in the first period and two of the shots were from outside the blue line. But he was tough when he had to be as the Bruins extended their home unbeaten streak to 21 games.

Centre Jean Ratelle scored Boston's second and fourth goals and set up Bruins' third, scored by Dave Forbes after Ken Hodges opened the scoring.

Chicago coach Billy Reay was unhappy with referee Ron Wicks' handling of a second-period scuffle between Peter Mahovich of the Canadiens and Phil Russell of the Black Hawks. Each player drew a major penalty.

"The referee-in-chief sends out this pamphlet on what they are going to call and enforce during the playoffs," Reay complained. "One of the things was hair-pulling."

"Mahovich pulled Russell's hair. He should have been out of the game."

Montreal controlled the game from the start, taking a 2-0 lead in the first nine minutes on goals by Larry Robinson and Mahovich. Doug Jarvis and Jim Roberts were the other Montreal scorers.

Chicago goalie Tony Esposito was hurt repeatedly by his team's failure to move the puck out of its own end.

Ken Dryden picked up his fourth playoff shutout for the Canadiens, turning aside 22 shots.

Sabres were bruised and smarting after a rough first-round series against St. Louis Blues that included two overtime games but right winger Rene Robert, who scored twice for Buffalo, figures the Islanders were even more weary than his team.

"Two overtime wins is not as hard as traveling to the West Coast for the Islanders' game Thursday at Vancouver," said Robert. "I'm sure they'll come back. They're a better hockey club than they showed."

LUCE NETS KEY GOAL.
Robert and his French Connection linemates, Gil Perreault and Rick Martin, combined for four goals, with Perreault and Martin scoring once each, but Robert said Sabres took command when a second-period goal by Don Luce increased the Sabres' lead to 3-0.

"We didn't skate and when we started hitting it was too late," New York coach Al Arbour offered.

In Philadelphia, Leaf captain Darryl Sittler said his club is not about to concede defeat to the powerful defending champions.

"It's an altogether different team," said Sittler of the club which went down four straight to Flyers in last year's quarter finals.

"We feel we can stand up to them now."

"Last year you had the feeling the series was pretty well lost before it started."

"Now we think we can play with them."

Nordiques may lay criminal charges against Rick Jodzio Cowboys win second game

There were threats of criminal charges and the World Hockey Association's leading scorer was in hospital Sunday night after a bench-clearing brawl between Calgary Cowboys and Quebec Nordiques.

But when the brawling was over, the surprising Cowboys had an 8-4 win over the Nordiques and appeared headed for an upset in their series with the Quebec team.

The win was the second at Quebec in as many nights for the Cowboys, who finished 16 points behind the Nordiques in the Canadian Division standings.

Calgary won Saturday's game 3-1. The best-of-seven Canadian Division semi-final shifts now to Calgary for games Wednesday and Friday night.

Winnipeg Jets edged Edmonton Oilers 5-4 to take a 2-0 lead in the other Canadian Division semi-final.

WHALES ADVANCE.
New England Whalers captured one United States quarter-final berth, completing a sweep of their best-of-five quarter-final with a 3-2 win over Cleveland Crusaders.

The other quarter-final was tied 1-1 after San Diego Mariners dropped Phoenix Roadrunners 4-2 Saturday night.

The fighting started when Rick Jodzio came off the Calgary bench to charge Quebec's Marc Tardif, high-sticking this season's scoring champion across the face.

When Tardif fell to the ice, Jodzio dropped his gloves and began to strike him. Pierre Roy of the Nordiques came to his team-mate's defence and both benches cleared.

While players boxed and wrestled on the ice, Tardif was carried off on a stretcher and taken to hospital with a concussion. He was ordered to stay overnight, but was expected to return to action Wednesday in Calgary.

TEAMS COOLER OFF

The fighting lasted for more than 20 minutes and referee Steve Dowling left the teams in their dressing rooms for another 40 minutes to cool off.

About 20 municipal policemen stepped on to the ice in the midst of the fighting but did not intervene.

A police spokesman said only that the incident will be investigated but a spokesman for the Nordiques said the club plans to file charges.

Dowling tossed five players from each team out of the game as a result of the incident. Jodzio and Quebec's Gord Gallant drew match penalties while Calgary's Warren Miller, Danny Lawson, Peter Driscoll and Pat Westrum and Quebec's Pierre Roy, Curt Brackenbury, Bill Prentice and Steve Sutherland drew game misconducts.

Gavin Kirk and George Morrison had two goals each.

Take another look... HOMELITE 350 Professional Chain Saw has an all stainless steel muffler

Some of the Homelite 350-P's greatest features aren't immediately obvious. Like the stainless steel muffler. And some features can't be photographed. Like a low noise level — easier on the operator's ears. Like high speed for pulp and limbing, yet sufficient power for hardwood operations. Vibration isolated handles for less fatigue.

The 350-P has the features every pro will recognize. Fuel caps located on top of the saw. Electronic Ignition System. Adjustable automatic oil pump, and large capacity fuel tanks. Homelite's 350-P Chain Saw can be equipped with optional safety features such as chain brake and hand guard.
