'Scouts still up-to-date' Rowallan tells Rotarians

Speaking at Westmount Rotary Club, Wednesday, Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth, claimed that a Scout's training compared favorably with the requirements of a scientist or technologist.

"Scouts are taught to have inquisitive minds, observe accurately, learn how to use their hands and develop integrity. Without integrity, especially, work has no value. You deceive others and, worse, you deceive yourself."

Lord Rowallan thought that this answered critics who complained that scouting had not kept up to date.

He saw the movement, which had started under Lord Baden-Powell in 1908 and had grown to its present world-wide membership of 8½ million, as the continuance of a tradition which emphasized leadership.

MAFEKING

At the siege of Mafeking, Baden-Powell had seen the necessity for bringing in boy messengers who were able to shoulder responsibility like a man. This attitude to boys' capabilities differed sharply from beliefs current at that time.

"When he returned to Britain after the war," continued Lord Rowallan, "he met Sir William Smith, who had organized the first company of the Boys' Brigade in Glasgow. It was Smith who persuaded him to write the book which has had such a tremendous influence on boys all over the world for the last fifty years."

He thought the main challenges which the Scouting Movement offered a boy were duty to God, his country and his fellow-men but what made it different from other movements was the challenge of leadership of boys by boys.

"This teaches him that the person who makes mistakes is the best person to pay for them, contrary to the opinion held by many nowadays that one's mistakes should be shouldered by someone else, leaving one free to pursue an untroubled life at the expense of others."

HERITAGE

Lord Rowallan suggested that Scouting offered the only common ground for boys from all parts of the world to meet, regardless of their religious beliefs, and share their heritage with each other.

In these Jamborees, he stated, there was no need to shout "Peace, Peace" like a Communist "Festival of Youth" meeting.

These Scout meetings helped to build respect without which there could be no conception of the brotherhood of man.

"Scouts can enjoy the advantages of the best of another nation's heritage, or tradition. You can't destroy traditions without getting a woolly cosmopolitanism that contributes nothing to the benefit of mankind."

Architects have been appointed and plans will shortly be at the drawing-board stage for the construction of a new high school for Westmount. Accommodating approximately 1,200 pupils, from Grades VII to XI inclusive, the building will cost in the region of $2½ million.

Tories meet on Tuesday

St. Antoine-Westmount Conservative Association holds its annual meeting Tuesday at Westmount Junior High School at 8:30 p.m.

Members will hear Minister of Defence Production, Raymond O'Hurley, PC MP for Lethbridge, who was elected to Parliament in June 1957 and appointed to the Cabinet last May.

R. L. Hunter, president of the Association will preside at the meeting at which Ross Webster, MP for the Riding will give a report.

Reports will also be heard from the various committees and a new slate of officers elected for 1958-59.

One quarter of the land now occupied by the Westmount Athletic Grounds (including the Clubhouse) has been purchased as the site by the School Commissioners for the Municipality of the City of Westmount from the City of Westmount at a price of $250,000.

The complete program will include the sale of King's School on Western avenue and Queen's School on Olivier avenue and the eventual sale of the present Senior High School on Cote Saint Antoine when the new school has been completed.

The present Junior High School will be converted into an elementary school to accommodate the pupils from King's and Queen's.

This will mean that four schools now under the Board's

Mayor Bruneau opens newly renovated 'Y'

The official opening of the newly renovated Westmount YMCA on Sherbrooke street took place Monday night. A short speech was made by E. R. Hamilton, Chairman of the Board, followed by Irving R. Tait, member of the Metropolitan Board, who made a symbolic presentation of the new keys of the building to Mr. Hamilton. Mayor S. Bruneau then cut the traditional ribbon, and a dedication prayer was given by Rev. G. C. Cochrane of Melville Presbyterian Church.

In his speech, Mr. Hamilton thanked the members of the Metropolitan Board of the YMCA and the Renovating Committee, who planned and carried through the improvements. He praised the work of Mr. Bill Robb, who, he said, was the instigator of the renovation, Mr. Norton Fellowes, Chairman of the House Committee, Don Ross and G. L. Welton, Executive Secretary of the Westmount YMCA.

Mr. Hamilton also mentioned the Annual YMCA Maintenance Campaign, presently going on, and said he hoped the public would realize that there is a place for the "Y" in Westmount, even though it is not a new or expanding community. In past years, he went on, the Westmount "Y" has contributed largely to the YMCAs of Montreal by providing and training leaders, of which Mr. Tait was one.

Mr. Tait commented that the "Y" had received "a real face lifting", which he hoped would attract new members, as well as giving better service to present ones. He then presented Mr. Hamilton with the keys of the building, and introduced the Mayor.

After the ribbon-cutting ceremony, the Mayor spoke briefly on the renovations, mentioning the days when he himself was an active "Y" member.

The opening was followed by a general tour of the building, led by the official party which included the Mayor, Mr. F. G. Hubbard, General Secretary of the Montreal YMCA and Mrs. Hubbard, and Aldermen F. E. H. Gates and C. H. Drury.

THE LOW-DOWN ON THE NEW LOOK: Mayor Sidney Bruneau officially opened the renovated YMCA on Monday night. He is seen here after the ceremony looking over a guide-book of the building in its new form with, left, Irving R. Tait, a member of the Metropolitan Board and, centre, Eric Hamilton, Chairman of the Westmount Board.

jurisdiction will be condensed to two.

LOWER COSTS

Summarising the events which led up to this decision, the Board states that the proposed plans will lower the operating costs of the five schools it administers, presently running at just over $1 million.

The net capital cost of the rehousing should also be reasonable, it states, since the $2½ million figure quoted for construction of the new school should be reduced by the amount obtained from the sale of the three other properties.

At the moment, no offers have been received and none are likely to be seriously entertained until final plans have been completed for alternative accommodation.

PROPERTY PRICE

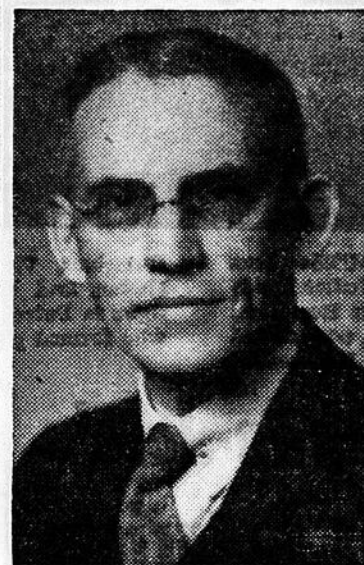

When the final plans have been drawn up, the Board will be in a position to determine how much additional property they require next to the Athletic Grounds.

The law requires the Board to settle the purchase price directly with the owners. Failing satisfactory agreement, the Board has the power of expropriation.

In view of the many factors to be taken into account it is expected that the plans will require a minimum of three years to complete and may take more.

APT PUPIL: This is Ivan Peter Nagy, a Hungarian boy who escaped from Budapest during the uprising there two years ago. He has since made spectacular progress in English and French, largely through the help of Dr. Helene Saly, Hungarian French specialist at Westmount Junior High, who is pictured here with him. Capping this amazing performance, Peter won a scholarship based on examinations passed in June.

Ivan Peter Nagy walked into Principal Trenholm's office for the first time on November 19, 1957, exactly ten months less one day since his escape from revolution-torn Budapest over the Austro-Hungarian border.

do much more for my Hungarian students than my others, Peter likes to learn."

He is a big, bright-eyed fellow. He enjoys swimming at the YM HA, where he has earned a scholarship membership. Peter plays intramural sports, soccer, volleyball and football, though he says he's not much good at the latter because it's all new. Peter is also quite an accomplished pianist, but he says that he doesn't have much time for swimming or piano because after sports in the afternoon he must study. Peter adds with a quick smile, "There is one thing that was better in Hungary. School ended at one o'clock. I liked that!"

The teachers are very much like Peter's teachers in Budapest, but he notes that the Canadian system is quite different. "In Hungary we had no written exams, just orals. Perhaps school was harder. The teacher explained five pages and then he would say, Now, Peter, talk about this. I would get on my

"When that boy walked in here in November," says Mr. Trenholm, "he couldn't speak a word of English or French. I spoke to him through an interpreter."

Last Friday, at the annual Awards Assembly at Westmount Junior High, the principal announced that Peter had won a Scholarship, based on June examinations and awarded to the top 10 per cent of the students in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. This scholarship entitles Peter to free tuition and books this year in the ninth grade.

Mr. Trenholm, when he reviewed the records of his students for the scholarships, found Peter at the top in every one of his subjects, in French and English, as well as in his favorite mathematics and science. "I couldn't believe what I saw," remarks Mr. Trenholm, "and I was so pleased. On Friday I just couldn't help but stop and tell parents and students what this boy had done. I wanted to tell our Canadians."

CAME ALONE

Peter was brought to Canada from a boys' camp near Salzburg, Austria. He might have come to any other country, but, through the perseverance of his uncle, 27-year-old Thomas Guralynik with whom he now lives, also a refugee of the November Revolution, and his sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heaps, he came out alone to Canada.

Peter remarks, "When I came I didn't make many friends. I didn't speak English." Peter goes on to tell how he began to learn to speak English, two weeks after his arrival, from Dr. Saly the Hungarian French specialist at the school, who worked with Peter twice a week.

She explained his beginning French to him in English. "He should have had 'double trouble,' as you say," adds Dr. Saly, "I am very proud of Peter. I didn't

October police report reveals reduction in traffic injuries

Police Department figures for October reveal a total of 121 accidents reported, resulting in injuries to 25 persons. There were no fatalities. These figures represent an increase of 15 accidents and a decrease of 5 persons injured when compared with those of the previous month. 16 of the 25 persons injured were conveyed to hospital in Police Patrol cars. Ambulance service was required on 7 occasions.

Two street accidents and 11 accidents other than traffic or street were reported, resulting in injuries to 13 persons.

For comparative purposes the following are the figures for the months of July, August, September and October:

Total accidents, 65, 84, 91 and 108. Average daily, 2.09, 2.70, 3.03 and 3.48. Number injured: 9, 11, 15, and 25.

The reduction in the number injured is significant as with the increased number of traffic accidents an increased number of injured persons would have been expected. The opening of the campaign against imprudent driving on October 13 should be credited with a major contribution towards the control of injury accidents, the report states.

With the enforcement campaign in October, following are the comparative figures for July, August, September and October:

Court tickets: 661, 380, 838 and 1367. Arrests, 78, 81, 64 and 77. Summonses, 22, 4, 33 and 228. Warrants, Nil, 6, 5, 3. Caution tickets, 313, 300, 581 and 718.

Of the 718 caution tickets issued, 500 were for parking over 4 hours, 47 for parking on private property, 26 for parking on vacant lots, 13 for parking less than 25 feet from a Stop Sign, 41 for obstructing pedestrian crosswalks, 24 for failing to yield right-of-way to pedestrians at (Continued on Page 5)

Darkness, winter
create new hazards

EARLY darkness and winter conditions place hazardous strain on both drivers and automobiles, even in a big, busy Metropolitan area such as ours according to the All Canada Insurance Federation. Each year as the first snow and cold weather are felt across the country, highway and traffic accidents increase.

Officials of the federation recommend the following precautions for safe winter driving:

Drive more slowly. Speeds allowable under good conditions become excessive on slippery streets.

Have the mechanical condition of your car checked, particularly brakes, steering mechanism, lights, heaters and defrosters.

Give pedestrians time to cross streets safely; winter conditions make walking difficult too.

If you plan a considerable amount of driving during winter months, have your car equipped with snow tires or chains.

Check for leakage in your exhaust, muffler or tailpipe. Danger from fatal carbon monoxide fumes is most acute during winter months.

If your car skids, turn your wheels in the direction of the skid, but do not apply brakes.

On ice, stop and start gently. Pump your brakes as you stop; start off slowly in second or high gear to obtain traction.

By the Way . . .

The Interplanetary Society (with which is incorporated the Friends of Space Society) has been considering the possible effects on human beings of travel to the planets.

A journey to, say, Mars does not sound very stimulating when the diet recommended is "frozen food in tins." There is no need to go to Mars to enjoy that standard of living. Furthermore: psychologists, pathologists, physiologists, and psychiatrists say that lack of sleep in space acts on people "like alcoholic poisoning." My advice is, stay at home and enjoy both your drinking and your sleep.

Municipal interest urged on residents

(The following letter is reprinted from The Monitor, Nov. 20.)

Sir:

Since in constitutionally governed countries the municipality is a minor democracy, it behooves all who are interested in good and efficient government to avail themselves of opportunities to participate directly or indirectly in making their contribution. Direct participation is accepting office as a member of the administration. Indirect participation is membership in an association that devotes itself to the study of the problems and situations that every level of government is confronted with.

The example of the nearby Westmount Citizens Association should not only awaken an interest in the municipality's welfare but generate an urge to serve, that has been so characteristic of the public spirited citizens who have given so generously of their time and ability to make Westmount one of the most outstanding civic administrations on this continent.

The people of Westmount have indeed been fortunate in the type of citizen who was induced to become a member of the Council or the City Chief Magistrate. For this interest in the city's welfare and government, the credit is due to the Municipal Association. It has been instrumental over the years in getting the City's prominent and highly respected citizens to become associated with it and make it a model that earned the praise of all who are concerned with municipal government.

I think it can be said of Westmount, that it is a city of distinction, of which its residents can well be proud. It is also a splendid example of that civic patriotism that is willing to serve without compensation other than the satisfaction of making a worthwhile contribution to every activity within the city that affects the health, general welfare and security of all who dwell within its borders.

Westmount's highly competent and experienced General Manager and the principal officers of his staff have been frequently commended for their readiness to help citizens who may request their counsel, aid, or cooperation. The several departments are manned by efficient employees who are as anxious to still further enhance the prestige of the city as those who constitute the Council. In its appeal, the Municipal Association mentions: "The high standard of administration our City enjoys today."

Prescriptions are his business

By CYNTHIA JONES

Victor Cape, the widely known Montreal pharmacist, has devoted a lifetime to preserving the pharmacist's role in the community.

He entered the pharmaceutical profession in 1915 as a 13 year-old delivery boy, studied on his own, and without attending high school entered McGill University to graduate in pharmacy in 1924.

Today at 56, energetic and young voiced, Mr. Cape owns four drug stores located at 5333 Queen Mary road, 3723 St. Lawrence boulevard, Guy and St. Catherine streets, and Quirk's, St. Catherine and Pierce, where he first started to deliver prescriptions.

Mr. Cape likes to say that he and his community-minded partner Nathan Cohen operate drugstores with the accent on prescription service rather than junior department stores. A true pharmacist, Mr. Cape welcomes the current trend in his profession to return to the professional prescription pharmacy.

During an interview in his administrative office at 2765 Bates road, Mr. Cape said: "Our prescription departments are operated as separate entities, with personnel specially trained for that work. We specialize in prescription service and the large volume of prescriptions filled proves that point."

Quirk's Drug Store, one of Montreal's oldest pharmacies, founded in 1899, received this year the Prescription Award from E. R. Squibb and Son for one million prescriptions filled.

It was Quirk's Drug Store where Mr. Cape first became a $4 a week delivery boy. The son of the late Israel Cape, whose shoe business was hit by the depression in 1912, Victor was born in the heart of Montreal where the old Montreal General Hospital was located.

He has six brothers and one sister, Mrs. Edith Yates. Five brothers are associated with Mr. Cape today. The sixth and youngest brother, Saul, owns the Monkland pharmacy which Victor Cape and Nathan Cohen once owned.

Shortly after Mr. Cape joined Thomas Quirk the latter was badly burned while preparing a prescription. Victor showed such interest and devotion during that period that Mr. Quirk promised the boy to help him in his studies. "I studied at night, had a bit of

This standard was made possible because of the Association's work and successful endeavor to influence prominent and distinguished residents to actively identify themselves with City's government. The invitation that the Association extends is one that should be accepted by those who appreciate good progressive and efficient government. The very fine women of the municipality should enroll in large numbers since the municipality is really a large household, the members of which seek to live in harmony, peace and goodwill.

Bernard Rose

tutoring at Macdonald College, and tried my pharmacy board examinations without attending high school," said Mr. Cape. "I entered McGill for a three year course, graduated in 1924, and received my license as a pharmacist in 1925."

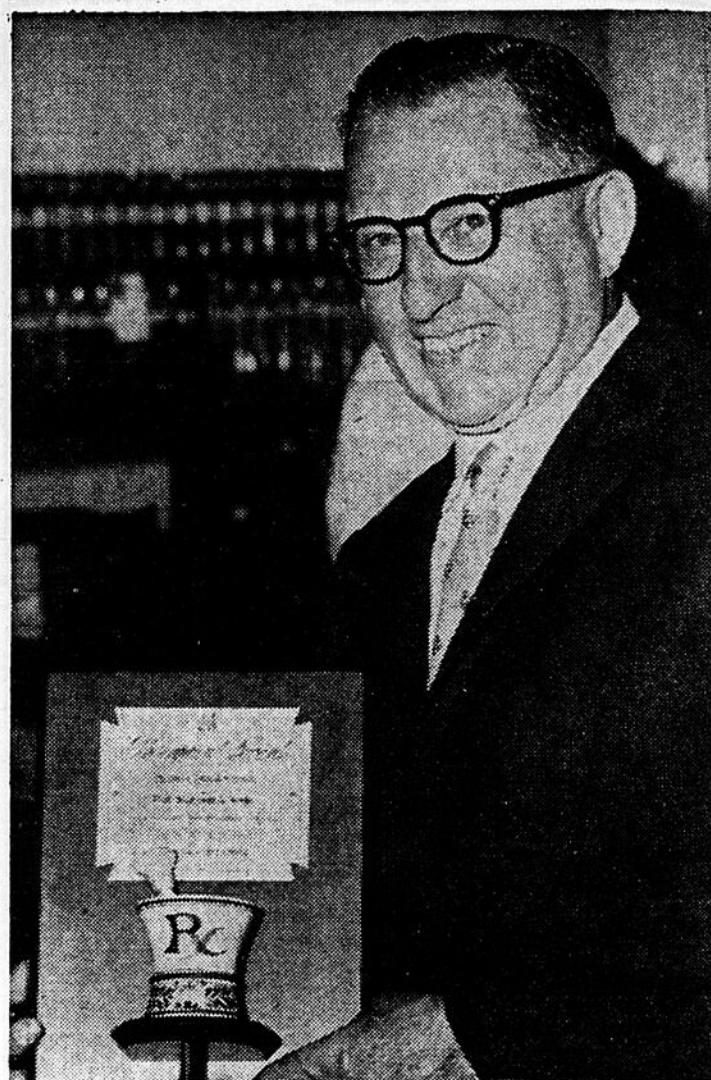

At the same time he entered McGill in 1921 he went to work for Liggett's, managing their store at St. Catherine and Mansfield. In 1924 he also took on the management of Liggett's store at Guy and St. Catherine which he subsequently bought in 1954. During all that time Mr. Cape kept up his association with Quirk's, often working there on Sundays and the odd night.

In 1925 he left Liggett's and established his own business, a tiny store at the corner of Mount Royal and DeBullion.

the cost of prescription products have increased accordingly."

Merchandising and modern ways of business have made such inroads, Mr. Cape said, that the drug business has become departmentalized and the drug store functions as a family service store catering to all members of the family. The change in buying habits, he continued, had taken place as a result of the movement of the population to suburbs.

Mr. Cape, a small, lively man, with a sandy complexion, travels to many medical conventions to keep abreast in all medical and pharmaceutical developments. He has just returned from a trip to Europe to investigate a dramatic new product in medicine which is still at the secret list. He made calls in London, Paris and

"To give you an idea of the volume after the first day's business—16 hours' effort—the take was $8," said Mr. Cape. "In those days prescriptions ran from 25 to 50 cents and nowadays with antibiotics one prescription ranges from $8 to $15. That's the change in pharmacy."

In 1926 in association with partner Nathan Cohen, Mr. Cape opened a second store on St. Lawrence boulevard. In 1928 he became associated with Thomas J. Quirk and took over the business when the latter died in 1936. "In 1929 we opened our present store on Queen Mary Road," he said. "We have grown with Snowdon and N.D.G."

Mr. Cape said his career had followed a steady pattern of study and work. "When I first entered the pharmaceutical profession we were trained to manufacture and compound but with the scientific advances that have been made in recent years the pharmaceutical manufacturers have taken over the work of the pharmacist and today more prescriptions are filled by prescription specialties than by actual compound," he said. "The trend has changed from compound to prescription specialty dispensing with the result that Since June, 1929, Mr. Cape has been married to the former Fan Rashkin, petite and attractive. They have two sons. Ronald, 26, a graduate of Princeton University (in chemistry) and Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, is associated with his father's distributing agency dealing in highly specialized medical products. Ronald graduated first in a class of 700 at Princeton and was a Baker scholar at Harvard.

Michael, 20, is in his third year engineering at McGill. He is vice-chairman of the junior division of the Combined Jewish Appeal and vice-president of the ZBT fraternity.

An ardent fisherman, Mr. Cape is a member of the Moose Lake Fish and Game Club at St. Donat. In his office is a photograph of Mr. Cape with his prize catch of a nine and a half pound speckled trout caught in July, 1942. That fish won him the contest sponsored by the magazine, Hunting and Fishing.

Mr. Cape has always participated in the social, communal and sporting activities of local areas, sponsoring junior hockey teams and assisting various church and community functions.

START NOW...

BEFORE YOU KNOW IT Christmas will be here and for Yuletide music played well, teachers, choirmasters, organists and soloists must give forethought and start planning. Young music students are often bored when kept too long on any one number but if they have other pieces at the same time they will continue to work on a sonata or similarly lengthy piece.

All children love Christmas Carols and since they know the tunes of many of them from infancy, they like to practise and be able to play them. There is such a variety of carols to choose from that each and every child can be happy with his practice.

Here are a few exceedingly popular collections for elementary pianists: Christmas Carols For Children (John Ferris Loth), Christmas Melodies (Ada Richter), Let Us Have Music For Christmas (Maxwell Eckstein), World Famous Christmas Carols (Boris Berlin), Christmas Carols (two books, Blake and Capp). Solos for piano are available in all grades but are too numerous to mention here.

There is a Book of Carols by Harry Hill called The Singing Period which does a triple service. The 32 carols included in this volume are suitable for Church choirs, children's voices and the home circle. All your favorite tunes are in the index. There are several sorts of combinations in Christmas choral music: two-part treble (soprano and alto); three-part treble (two sopranos and alto); 3 part mixed, 4 part mixed (soprano, alto, tenor and bass) with piano or organ accompaniment.

An interesting album, Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer Band Book has been assembled by Arthur Case. It contains ten favorites, among which are Jolly Old St. Nicholas, Deck The Halls, Jingle Bells, and Rudolph The Red Nosed Reindeer. Another splendid collection of 17 Chorales and 22 carols is a book chosen and arranged by Charles O'Neill. Also The Christmas Band Book by Clair W. Johnson and Harold Walters is a selection of 14 favorites containing Adeste Fideles as a concert paraphrase, Christmas Reverence (processional); The First Nowel has been arranged by Johnson as a band fantasy, Jingle Bells has been made into a Rhapsody, The Messiah an Overture, Yuletide at Yorkshire is a pot-pourri of English Carols and Two Christmas Classics are specially arranged for brass sextet. This book ought to appeal to school and scout bandmasters.

crosswalks and 11 for parking illegally.

Comparative figures for the cases most frequently made during July, August, September and October, follows:

Parking, 443, 247, 436 and 1214; Speeding, 183, 121, 377 and 249. Red Light Infractions, 31, 15, 21 and 51. Failure to carry Motor Vehicle Registration, 13, 9, 19 and 20.

A large number of speeding offences committed during the last week of October will not be laid before the courts until this month. The Police Department is depending upon obtaining the information from the Provincial Registration Bureau regarding the registered owners of the licence numbers of the offenders.

The training of the three Corps of Commissionaires employees as parking inspectors was completed during the last week of October. They are concerned with parking infractions only.

During the month, signs were erected on Grosvenor avenue prohibiting through truck traffic.

Another band book, equally important, with 22 numbers is Christmas Carols arranged by G. E. Holmes. This musician has done a good job for trios, quartets, quintets and sextets.

The Piano Accordion is more popular in the States than Canada but performers on this pleasant instrument will find joy in an album entitled Christmas Time, which is a treasury of 14 famous Christmas Carols by accordionist Nicolo Antonelli.

Flower Show closes soon

There's just about a week to go before the Annual Fall Chrysanthemum Show at the Westmount Conservatory closes down for another year.

The 42 varieties of more than 300 blooms on display have been arranged and grown under the supervision of George Cooper of the Parks Department and his four assistants.

In addition to the chrysanthemums, shown under the four categories of exhibition, commercial, bush and cascade, a large purple orchid and a banana tree in bloom can be seen.

The show is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on week days and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Recognition of man's true nature as God's spiritual image and likeness is a central theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" which will be heard in Christian Science services Sunday.

From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the following (II Corinthians 5:1):
"For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Also bringing out man's spiritual nature is this passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Rightly understood, instead of possessing a sentient matterial form, man has a sensa-tionless body; and God, the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, harmony, and immortality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man,
— through Mind, not matter" (280: 25-30).

VISITORS MOST CORDIALLY INVITED

1958 - XV

By

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

For the time being at least this article will bring the series to an end. It has not been a satisfactory series of articles. It has not said clearly enough the things it was intended to say. The reader may well ask: Is there no cut and dried answer to all the problems raised? Perhaps there is, but cut and dried answers are seldom satisfying.
What we aim at is rather a progressive understanding of our relationships with God and Man and Nature.

It is sometimes said that we need a new revelation. Mohammed thought that he had such a revelation. Bahai Ullah felt that a new revelation was granted to him, and Mary Baker Eddy had the same self-assurance. But to the Christian the revelation is complete in Jesus Christ; it is a given thing, just as the world is a given thing. We cannot add to the world or subtract from it — we try to understand it.

The scientist, as I think I have said before, is a man who is deeply concerned with the natural world and spends himself to the uttermost in unravelling her secrets. Even in his moments of apparent relaxation he is aware of nature's problems, and ready to solve them. Nature is his life.

So there are men who are deeply concerned in super-nature, in the fact of God, in the revelation which He has granted of Himself, in the facts of the Incarnation and Redemption, not only as facts, but as making known the nature of God. One might add that the sociologist is a man deeply concerned in the problems of men. And just as the scientist enjoys a progressive understanding of nature so the theologian enjoys a progressive understanding of God and the sociologist gains a deeper understanding of man. Neither scientist nor theologian nor the sociologist can alter the basic given facts; but each must go on with his study, and seek interpretations that are both deeper and simpler. The given facts remain unaltered.

Each student should be aware of his own field of study and also of the other fields; and each will contribute to the other.
We know more about God today than our grandfathers did because we know more about man and his world. But there is a danger that we may become less aware of God because we are satisfied with an earthly knowledge. We need a breadth of vision and a depth of understanding if we are in any degree to comprehend the truth.

Forum on publicity for churches hears prominent news directors

At a forum on external publicity for churches held in Westmount Park-Emmanuel Church Wednesday evening, Carl Reinke, chairman, said, churches must use the daily and weekly press and radio to publicize their activities but in doing so must comply with required procedures. He expressed the opinion the Montreal press and radio have been wonderfully cooperative, not only with space and time but in getting into the act themselves as well.

Three speakers were scheduled; Richard Haviland, city Editor, Montreal Star; John Sancton, publisher of The Monitor and H. E. McCurdy, program director of Radio Station CJAD. Regret was expressed that Mr. Sancton was unavoidably absent.

Mr. Haviland spoke of the problems of a metropolitan daily; one of the chief being the finding of sufficient space. Major stories and pictures from all parts of the world stream into the editorial rooms of these papers all day long, amounting to millions of words a day. In addition, the larger papers have their own correspondents.

Next to world news comes Canadian news, a large part of which is associated with the Federal Government. Government today directly affects the lives of all individuals and the countless government agencies are continually making news. As Montreal has grown, the city itself produces more news: more crime, traffic, waterfront stories. The big hotels are the sites of frequent conventions. Important personalities visiting or passing through the city are interviewed.

At the local or community level the problem of providing news space is still more acute. In former years it was less difficult to find space for community matters. Now the dailies must leave most of this type of news for the weekly or community papers to handle and, Mr. Haviland added, they are performing a valuable service. Dailies are still glad to publish unusual church news that has appeal to a large segment of their readers and are glad to interview church leaders and lecturers.

The situation is further complicated by the habit big stories have of coming in bunches all at the same time. This brings the problem of selection for the available space so many good stories have to be left out.

Mr. Haviland made some suggestions to those sending church or other news to the papers. He pointed out that old news is not news so, he said, get it in on time; in advance if possible. Be brief, give the correct place and time and the pertinent facts. When possible, take or send your copy in rather than phoning. This gives greater assurance of accuracy. Typewritten copy is preferable to hand written as it saves the editorial staff time and trouble. Double space your lines and use one side of paper only.

Church notices are not news but he advised that they be sent in just the same, not that they will necessarily be published but they often give the newspaper staff a lead to some story they are glad to cover. Such notices should always be sent well in advance.

During the question period it was shown that compared to other metropolitan papers, Montreal dailies give a generous amount of space to church and community news. Mr. McCurdy speaking on radio publicity said, many of the problems of the newspapers applied to radio publicity with the difference that with radio time instead of space was involved. It was a principle of broadcasting to allot a proportion of free time to what was called public service. There are of course necessary limitations to free time. He explained a number of points that apply to radio alone.

During the discussion period some criticism was made of ministers and lecturers who have a fine message but spoil it by poor delivery and poor radio technique. It was suggested that such faults could be overcome if the ones into the reconstruction of the Temple sanctuary the Chanukah dinner meeting and dance will be held at the Queen Elizabeth hotel and the constituent societies of the Temple are participating in this all important congregational event and the Chanukah observance.

High School department and Junior congregation are planning an Oneg Shabbat Sabbath luncheon on the Sabbath of Chanukah, Saturday, Dec. 13, at 12:30 o'clock. The annual school Chanukah celebration and dramatic presentation takes place Sunday morning, Dec. 14, at 10:45. A "Chanukah Fantasy" will be presented by members of Classes 3a and 3b under the direction of Mrs. Rose Hollander and Miss Irene Rosenberg.

Temple school board meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, at 8:15, under the chairmanship of Mr. Reuben Ginsberg.

76th annual congregational meeting: Under the chairmanship of President Hyman Grover, the 76th annual meeting and the election of officers and trustees of the congregation will take place Saturday evening, Dec. 6. Preceding the meeting the annual Chanukah dinner will be held and after the brief business meeting dancing will follow. Due voiced would take the trouble to get some training in broadcast speaking. It was pointed out during discussion that religion like commodities has its greatest appeal when the package is attractive. Even the irreligious will be interested in an attractive package.

It takes people like Jack MacLennan...

...to give you good telephone service

Your Bell Telephone installation man — whatever his name may be — is a lot like Jack MacLennan.

On the job, his skillful work reflects his careful training. But more than that, we like to think that a friendly smile and unfailing courtesy lend a pleasant touch to his brief visit.

We try to encourage this friendly spirit all through the business. You'll see it when you visit the Business Office. You'll hear it in the operator's "voice with a smile".

This helpful, friendly spirit is one of the many ways in which we try to give you good telephone service.

As you like it

By LAURENT PRICE

Young man with a happy horn — and restaurant.

Unlike the motorist in search of a short cut who wanders off the main highway onto a small country road and winds up milking cows, Tommy Tomasso has held for the most part to primary and reasonable routes during his varied and remarkable career.

The proprietor — or we should write co-proprietor with his mother, Giovannina Tomasso, of Piazza Tomasso — at the age of sixteen, clear of eye and firm of step with a trumpet under arm landed his first job as a music man with Andy Tipaldi and his Melody Kings. To those with memories able to stretch back three decades or so, this group in Montreal dance and stage history was absolutely the "most".

* * *

So our subject for this week, either must have had plenty of horn blowing talent, or lots of nerve to apply; and knowing the centemporary existing quality standards of the Tipaldi organization we have to settle for the former.

* * *

At any rate, our hero continued successfully with the Melody Kings and after they disbanded, went on to work with other top band aggregations in Montreal, New York and London. All this, plus time out to trumpet his way through St. Lawrence University at Canton, N.Y. in the interest of culture, higher education and future ambitions, makes for a well travelled and busy fellow.

* * *

Back at a little fruit and grocery stand in Saint Laurent Tommy's mother held forth while his father, Michele, worked at building construction. In the rear of the store, on appointed occasions, golfing parties and sundry connoisseurs were served some very delectable Italian food. Later, the Decarie boulevard restaurant was built.

* * *

Depression years were tough with tight money and few customers; World War II conditions presented problems in getting kitchen and serving help; nevertheless the Tomassos persisted.

* * *

Tommy had returned to Montreal from his musical wanderings and search for erudition, and recalls with wry humour how often he washed dishes donned in a tuxedo between radio and club dates. He remembers too, how his father, an old country stylist on a double bass horn, serenaded his mother working at the hot kitchen stoves; at the same time knocking out a couple of well rounded notes to soothe irate and waiting customers.

Since devoting himself to the restaurant business on a full time basis some years ago, most people now look upon Tommy Tomasso — aided, of course, by his mother's cooking skills — as an outstanding restaurateur. This is very true. But he's also a first class public relations man.

* * *

His promotions, with the past aid of Tiny Koren on the Tom Auburn Thursday night club for children, and the present enlightening efforts of Frank Heron in the same directions, are not empty advertising fantasies. The fun and laughter are real; the atmosphere wholesome; and the food excellent.

* * *

Oh, yes! Before we sign off, guess what Mrs. Tommy Tomasso, mother of their four sons, gave hubby for his birthday? A brand new trumpet, natch!

IF YOU'RE MANHATTAN-BOUND

It seems to us that more and more West Enders are spending more and more time in New York. Montrealers are among the more widely and more frequently travelled Canadians, and so many of them seem to be just as much at home around Fifth Avenue as they are along Sherbrooke west. Which, as Uncle Beauregard is wont to say, is the way it should be. There's nothing like travel to broaden a person's outlook, says Uncle Beau. The old boy adds that inasmuch as we live in Canada's principal city, we should know what is going on in the principal city to the south.

Among the more popular New York hotels frequented by Montrealers is the Warwick, which contains the famous Raleigh Room, wherein many well-known entertainers got started on the path to fame. The Raleigh Room was originally conceived by William Randolph Hearst, who built the hotel in 1927, as a rendez-vous for celebrities in the newspaper and theatrical fields.

The co-proprietors of the famous Decarie boulevard Piazza Tomasso — Mrs. Giovannina Tomasso with her son, Tommy.

feet and talk. We were marked for this from 5 to 1 and 1 was a failure."

Dr. Saly explains that school in Hungary, as it throughout Europe, is a serious undertaking. For a boy or girl from the bourgeoisie who wants to go on to the state schools and the university, it is an uphill struggle. A boy learns young how hard he must study and the best students go far. Languages are begun at 12, and learning Russian grammar early is a hearty mental discipline.

Peter might have gone elsewhere. He might have stayed in Hungary. He would have gone through the state schools and probably been sent to Russia for specialized training. He plans to be an engineer (and a tycoon)! In the year that he has spent in Canada he has become an important part of his school. He worked last summer at the Redding Yacht Club, near Pointe Claire, learned a lot of everyday English, and earned an exceptional sum as a bus boy.

Peter wants to stay in Canada. He likes life here. He will go through a university and he hopes he will be an engineer. He is already a builder of a new life.

Wilson exhibits

Local resident, Stanley B. Wilson is holding an exhibition at 231 Elm avenue every afternoon and evening, through November 29th. The majority of the pictures, all painted within the last year, are water colors.

The subjects vary from still life and portraits of both humans and birds to landscapes. The last form the main portion of the exhibition, which includes 63 paintings.

By-Law No. 633 entitled "By-law to levy an assessment to meet the current expenses and other expenses of the City for the fiscal year 1959 and to levy the school tax imposed by statute for the fiscal year 1958-59" was adopted by Council with second and third readings at their meeting, Monday night.

NDG, Hilltops in jr. final at WAG Sunday

NOTRE Dame de Grace, when they take on Saskatoon Hilltops at Westmount Grounds in the sudden-death junior football Dominion final on Sunday will not be the first team to have done this.

After winning 22-6 over Toronto North York Knights, everybody went to the record book and came up with only one real Montreal Dominion winner and that was in 1925 when MAAA beat the Ontario winner and then Regina.

Back in 1923 Loyola from the N.D.G. district won an Eastern title, but there was no Dominion. N.D.G. Maple Leafs of 1950 and 1951 were beat out both times by Hamilton. For the past two years the same Leafs, a few years older, were beaten by Parkdales.

MAAA have won two Dominions, one, in 1922 and 1925. So N.D.G. Leafs of today are the third time to have a crack at the Dominion and this time it will be in their own back yard.

Hilltops have had good teams in the past and will have in Sunday's game with N.D.G. They are former Dominion holders of 1953.

The line work of both N.D.G. and Toronto played a large part. Leafs were ahead 8-6 at the half called a fine game. He kicked the convert and three other singles, besides scoring a fourth quarter major and throwing a pass to Schaffer for another major. Bill Shink kicked one convert.

Toronto's desperate efforts to score in the third and fourth quarters saw them lose the ball on the third down when the with N.D.G. having very much of the first quarter and splitting the second. A fumble by N.D.G. on the 25 set up Cockburn to score from 10 yards out.

This sort of squared off the scoring as on the kick-off, N. D. G.'s Vern Griffiths scored.

Toronto fumbled on a pitch out

Junior Tickets

Tickets for the Dominion junior final between NDG Maple Leafs and Saskatoon Hilltops, Sunday at Westmount grounds may be obtained by calling Sol Mastro's Service Station, HU. 1-8831.

These tickets will be delivered on a COD basis as soon as the order is taken.

play behind the line of scrimmage and N.D.G. made it pay off from the five.

Quarter back Bob Anderson Leaf's line stood up like a stone wall.

It was a pass play in the fourth that saw Anderson score the major that broke up the game and it was the clincher for N.D.G. Anderson threw a pass to Schaffer from the 30.

On the first play there was an N.D.G. fumble and Lea recovered. McBride took another of Anderson's passes and on the next play, from two yards out, Anderson scored.

A Toronto bad snap gave Leafs their third touch of the game. Toronto lost the ball on their own 20. On the first play, Schaffer caught the pass in the end zone.

N.D.G. several times were moving downfield strongly, but the line work was so good, that the ball carrier would fumble. Toronto made the best recoveries.

At one time during the game, a N. D. G. ball carried fumbled the ball while running down field, later recovered the pigskin and then was tackled.

The NDG defensive platoon, spearheaded by Walter Kunanec, limited the Knights to 77 yards rushing. In the air, the visitors completed eight out of 19 passes for 123 yards. Ron Hitchen, Terry Diamond, John Moulard, Peter Lea and Len Davis were other NDG defensive stalwarts.

FOR THE FIRST time in 10 years, since the Doug Smail Memorial trophy has been up for competition for the Eastern Canada junior winner, the silverware came home when Leafs beat Toronto North York 22-6. Leafs have been beaten four times for this award since 1948. Left to right, quarterback BOB ANDERSON and captain KEVIN DUNIGAN, coach ROY CHESLEY and trophy donor WALTER SMAILL, old time footballer and executive.

The Maple Leafs' offensive linemen also played a powerful game. They refused to give ground despite the all-out efforts of rushing North York linemen.

Bob Shink and Peter McBride bore the brunt of the NDG offensive thrusts. Shink struck for 86 yards rushing and McBride 60. Gerry Langlois accumulated 37 yards and Griffiths collected 36.

The Maple Leafs machine ate up 229 yards rushing and 67 passing. NDG lost three of its five fumbles. North York recovered four out of seven fumbles.

'Tops are tops fast and big

Saskatoon (Special). From this Western city, football fans are saying that the Hilltops, who meet NDG Maple Leafs at Westmount Grounds Sunday in the sudden-death Dominion junior final are the best to come out of the West.

Coach Johnny Babineau has a big strong line and a speedy backfield. The team has many all stars from Western schools who won 11 positions on the Junior all star teams picked this year.

The 'Tops won all of their eight league games and three playoffs for an 11 straight. They will be up against the Leafs who are also undefeated with 10 straight.

Montrealers who have watched the Edmonton professional team play will see a somewhat junior copy.

In their playoff against Regina Rams. Tops won 84-39 scoring 300 yards in the air in the first half, and 425 yards on the ground for the whole game.

They played the Edmonton Wildcats to win the Western title last Saturday and won that 26-0 on a snow covered field.

In a sudden-death playoff Hilltops beat Winnipeg Rods, who lost to Parkdales last year for the Dominion crown.

Westmount captures rugger title

Behind a brilliant two touch down performance from captain Tony Smith, the Westmount club captured the provincial rugger title defeating the defending champions Barbarians 6-0 at West Hill High School field. The winners were presented with the newly awarded Mair Shield, now emblematic of club rugger supremacy in the province.

Westmount can make a clean sweep of the silverware this Saturday when they tangle with the Montreal Irish in a sudden death play-off game to decide league champions.

These two clubs finished in a deadlock for first spot in the standings with identical seven and one records.

This game goes at the Northmount High School ground at 2.15 p.m. Winners will be given the Standard Life Trophy.

Westies scored once in each half to deservedly wrap up the game although the Barbs were knocking at the door several times and came close to equalising during their heavy seige of the Westmount line in the early stages of the second stanza.

Only brilliant defensive work by the entire Westmount team prevented the Barbs from leveling the count and had usually sure-footed Cyril Fagan been able to kick a fairly easy penalty goal to knot the score the game might have gone the other way.

Westmount were clearly on top throughout the first period and their attacking backs showed their best form of the season and were unlucky only to score the single TD when Tony Smith outwitted two Barbarian defenders with a loose ball to score in the corner.

At the change-over Westmount held a slim 3-0 edge. The Barbs swarmed to the attack in the second stanza and the Mounters seemed unable to clear play away from their own territory.

Tony Smith, besides providing the scoring punch pulled off the defensive gem of the day when he flattened Barbarians flying Frenchman, Blanc de la Tour when he was in full flight for the line.

During this heavy weather round the Westie line Geoff Jackson, Terry Ryan and John Jackson were prominent. After two previous penalty kicks by Gordie Burnett and a drop-goal by Dick Hyde had been unsuccessful Westmount were penalised for off-side right in front of their posts and Fagan booted wide.

This seemed to take the fight out of the Barbs and the winners were on top for the balance of the afternoon.

Although it was a great team effort which won the day for Westmount both in attack and defence Don Gladwin at full-back gave one of the finest displays in that position seen in local parts for several seasons. His sure handling and fine touch kicking laid the foundations for the win. Tony Smith also was outstanding for the winners as was hooker Ronnie Pinkerton. In a losing cause, Dick Hyde, John Izod and Denis Gustard were stand-outs.

Motion, Sight and Sound
Weber, Stevens Point, Wisc., has a new spinning lure on the market called the Mystic. According to the company, its qualities are: it acts, looks and sounds alive. Body contour and unique grooved design of this 1/4 oz. spin-lure make all three features possible.

Unity club seeking girl cagers

Maurice Mariasine, director of Westmount Unity Boys' club, announced that the Greene avenue youth centre will enter a team in the junior section of the Montreal Ladies Basketball League, under coach Norman Yule. The team will be known as the Unity Hawkettes.

Girls with some past experience, who are interested in trying out for a berth on the squad are asked to contact the club director at WE. 2-5506. The league age is 20 years and under as of December 31.

Greenfield Park, Manoir NDG, East End Boys' club and Tauras are also scheduled to floor junior squads, according to league president Phyllis Glenen.

The five-team loop is set to start next week and Miss Glenen reminds clubs that they must have seven players registered by November 21.

St. Lambert, juvenile and junior champions of the Province of Quebec Amateur Basketball Association last year, will not take part in MLEBL action. However, the Southshore club will play off against the Montreal league winner of each section.

Toronto's Corpus Christi juniors and St. Lambert's juveniles are the present Canadian Amateur Basketball Association Dominion title holders.

For those who need Money for Personal Purposes

Why 1 in 4 comes to "MY BANK"

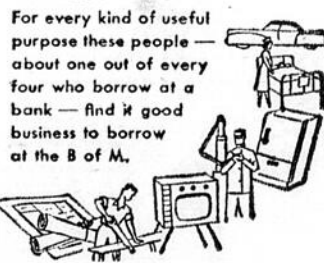

TO 2 MILLION CANADIANS

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians in every walk of life regularly look to the Bank of Montreal for assistance in their personal financing because they know that:

- 1 At the B of M they borrow at the lowest interest rates and on the most favourable terms.
- 2 When they ask for a loan at the B of M they do not ask a favour.
- 3 If their proposition is sound and reasonable, there is money for them at the B of M.

If you have a good reason to borrow, talk over your requirements with the Manager of your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will like his helpful approach to your problem.

For every kind of useful purpose these people — about one out of every four who borrow at a bank — find it good business to borrow at the B of M.
