Mayor Cushing outlines city policy

HAIL AND FAREWELL: Mayor J. C. Cushing receives the chain symbolic of his office from retiring Mayor Sydney Bruneau in a ceremony at City Hall on Tuesday night. Looking on are the city's new aldermen, Laird W. Bovaird, left, and Frank B. Common, Jr., right. Mr. Cushing is the first Westmount 'native son' to take his seat at Council meetings as Mayor.

In his inaugural address as Mayor of Westmount, John C. Cushing outlined the city's thinking regarding Metropolitan Government, forecast a continued improvement in public services and counselled caution against allowing the building of too many commercial establishments in the lower part of the city 'to spoil its essential residential character'.

Retiring Mayor Sydney Bruneau handed over his Chain of Office to Mr. Cushing in a ceremony at City Hall, Tuesday night. Frank B. Common, Jr. and Laird W. Bovaird were also sworn in as new aldermen.

Mayor Cushing said that the Croteau Report on Metro government went further than was originally recommended in the Paquette Report. Westmount supported the latter, and was cooperating with the other municipalities in presenting a brief to the provincial government.

"However," he continued "Westmount reserves the right to present its own views if such a move would protect its interests better."

Major projects slated for the next few years included improvements to street lighting, alterations to City Hall and Victoria Hall and road works on the northern part of Grosvernor avenue and the Saint Catherine street extension.

Mayor Cushing said the city was determined to 'hold the line against frequent requests to build commercial properties in the lower level of the city". Failure to do this would lose Westmount its essentially residential character.

He hoped to keep taxes to a minimum, at the same time maintaining a high level of administrative efficiency.

"We will continue to strive to keep the public informed about our plans — in advance, if possible. Westmounters are always welcome to attend Council meetings and we urge that they do."

In his farewell speech, Mr. Bruneau paid tribute to the fine work done by the city's employees and expressed satisfaction with the conduct of the City Council during several recent controversies.

"In the three years I have been Mayor," he said, "there have been no violent disagreements during Council meetings—though differing views have certainly been expressed. We stand up well in the light of what goes on in some other communities."

Mr. Bruneau said he was grateful for comments critical of Council decisions. "However, I think a good deal of chaff had to be separated from the wheat on several occasions. I'm confident we had the support of 99½% of the citizens."

He said the city was entering a period which would probably see many difficult situations arise but he expressed confidence in the ability of Mayor Cushing and the aldermen to tackle them to the best interests of Westmount.

City criticised for skating mess

John H. Dunne has written to Alderman H. G. Seybold to complain of the attitude taken concerning a free skating hour for the students of St. Paul's Academy at the Westmount artificial ice rink.

Mr. Dunne, who lives at 3194 The Boulevard, has forwarded copies of this letter, here printed in full, to Sister Ste. Augusta, Mother Directress, St. Paul's Academy; Mrs. W. H. Brunini, skating supervisor for the school; ex-mayor A. S. Bruneau; Frank Megan, president of the Parent - Teacher's Association; Mr. A. Lavoie, secretary-treasurer of St. Leon de Westmount School Commission; and Fred W. Gross, president of the Westmount Municipal Association.

Sir:

Early this autumn you called a group of representatives from the various Westmount Home and School organizations to City Hall. The writer attended said meeting in the capacity of spokesman for the English-speaking parents of St. Leo and St. Paul Academies and, specifically, as a follow-up of a letter mailed last spring requesting one weekly hour skating for the girls of St. Paul's Academy. For the record, you are aware that we were invited to do this.

At that assembly the writer requested information about restaurant facilities and professional figure skating lessons for this hour. Mr. Dawe answered in the negative on both counts, with the rider on the second that the City of Westmount would probably hire their own figure skating instructors. The assurance was given, however, for this hour by Mr. Rothwell, with your cognizance, to be on Saturday afternoon from 4.00 to 5.00 p.m. In fact, an offer of more time was refused by the undersigned.

On this assumption we went ahead with plans for this skating hour. Mrs. H. Brunini, our skating supervisor, circulated a letter to this effect throughout the Academy. This brought on a telephone reprimand by the same Mr. Rothwell—with the statement that "yours truly" was "talking through his hat."

At the meeting on several occasions, you called this Mr. Rothwell "my boss, Rocky," but your boss disclaimed all responsibility for any schedule change, and on being challenged for his lack of veracity, stated bluntly that we had nothing in writing, and to take it up with the City of Westmount. Your latest press release to The Examiner apparently closes the door.

The writer feels that he personally let down our Association by an assumption of verbal consent without written confirmation — more so when dealing with a politico.

You had ample opportunity in the eight or nine intervening months since last spring, and again at the conclave, to refuse this skating hour, and no harm would have been done.

Moreover, exception must be taken to the manner and speech of a paid civic employee. Your "boss" has to learn and it is my belief that he will learn it the hard way. This complete lack of courtesy bodes only ill will for the future of the new rink. Unfortunately, the only people who will be hurt are we, the ratepayers

To finalize, my personal regret is the loss of time in order to attend this meeting

Yours truly,
John H Dunne.

Call HU. 1-2771 For Delivery of Examiner

The number is HU. 1-2771. That's the number to call to guarantee home delivery of the Westmount Examiner when the paper leaves the domain of "free" newspapers in a few short weeks.

As you can tell from this week's issue the Examiner has been enlarged, with many new top-flight features added. Distribution problems and the increased size will bring a conversion to a paid circulation, carrier-delivery.

A phone call to HU. 1-2771 (or still better fill out and return the cards that were distributed with last week's Examiner) will ensure prompt home delivery each and every week.

For almost 25 years the Examiner has been delivered to Westmount residents without charge. Now with our new feature, comic and TV sections we know that the Examiner has to become "must" reading in every Westmount home.

The "new" Examiner is payable by subscription at $2.50 per year or 5 cents per week, payable at the end of each month to the carrier.

Remember for your "new" Westmount Examiner call HU. 1-2771 today.

WORK STARTED: Excavations were completed recently for the new addition to the Westmount Municipal Library and piles are now being driven prior to laying the foundations. Pictured here is the 15-ton hammer which is capable of plunging the steel piles up to 60 feet through bed-rock. This part of the operation should be completed early next week. The additions should be finished in August. The library is in the rear of the picture.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

January 24 to 31

A little warmer, partial thaw for some places. Freezing rain and soft snow in the south, heavy snows in the mountains, 4 to 8". Temperature range 10 below to 30 above with 20 hours of sunshine this week.

Sunny periods with some wind and more snow in the middle of the week, then cooling again.

Cold with light snows for the weekend. Icy roads and drifting snow will make driving difficult. Ski conditions good.

Unity Boy's Club

1090 GREENE AVENUE

A PROJECT OF WESTMOUNT ROTARY CLUB

By Maurice Mariasine

HOBBY SHOW EXHIBITION

The annual Hobby Show Exhibition and the annual Variety Show will be held at the Unity Boys' Club early in May. All handicraft and hobby classes are presently preparing articles to be displayed at the Show.

This is the time of the year that parents and friends in the Community are provided with an opportunity to see for themselves what their children are accomplishing in a constructive manner in the Club.

COMING EVENT

Valentine's Day will be celebrated at the Club on Friday, February 13th. The Friday Nite Teen Age Club will hold a special Valentine's Day Dance on that date. A novelty program is being p[illegible] for this special event.

UNITY'S LETTER OF ACHIEVEMENT

Last year it was announced that all Club members will be provided with an opportunity to learn a letter of achievement. In this case it is the Letter "U" for Unity. Although complete details have not as yet been worked out, the letter system had its beginning, as for as points were concerned, in the 1957-58 program year, so that Club members have already begun to accumulate points towards their letter.

The system has been divided into three categories: Program, which can contribute 60% of the total points; Leadership which can contribute 30% of the total points and Academic or services which can contribute 10% of the total points which is assessed at 100 points. For the progressive boy or girl, the letter can be earned in two years; for the less progressive, the points do accumulate and are carried for the duration of membership.

APPRECIATION EXTENDED

Members of the Unity Boys' Club are appreciative of the Health Service that has been provided for several of the Club's athletes by the Westmount Physical Therapy Centre which is operated in Westmount by Ernie McKenzie, chief trainer of the Montreal Alouettes. The service has been extended to the 6 to 16 year olds who might receive minor injuries while in the process of sports. Thank you very much, Ernie McKenzie.

WEIGHT LIFTING EQUIPMENT NEEDED

For some time now, club members have been interested in the physical fitness aspect of the program, and weight lifting has been recommended as a means of accomplishing this phase. Equipment is not available for this program and we were wondering if anyone reading this column might have some weight-lifting equipment not in use and if so would they care to donate it to the Club. We would appreciate this fine gesture.

CHORUS LINES RESUME

Both the Junior and Senior precision chorus line groups under the direction of Miss Heather Smith have resumed their weekly rehearsals, the latter to prepare for the forthcoming Variety Show at the Queen Mary Veteran's Hospital on Wednesday, January 28th.

The Talent Club conducts rehearsals and auditions on Tuesdays at 6:45 p.m. New singers, dancers or musicians are welcome to tryout for a spot on the Unity Boys' Club Talent Parade.

GYMNASTIC CLASS

The gymnastic and tumbling class under instructor Bill Semper which is conducted every Tuesday evening at 6:30 p.m. have resumed their regular schedule and is in full swing especially now that four new mats have been added to the gymnastic equipment. Physical fitness being one of the requirements of good living, boys interested in this particular phase of the program, are urged to attend and participate.

Some of the most prominent members of this class are the following: Jimmy Prince, Jimmy Crouch, Billy Holden, Keith Gavin, Richard Holden. Beginners include: Lawrence Crouch, Brenden Cantwell, Marcel Lefebvre, Sigmund Raddoman, Holger Bauerle, Shawn Molloy, Roger Harte, Shayne Molloy and Philip Lecouffe.

SEWING AND EMBROIDERY

The sewing class under the leadership of Mrs. J. Anderson is conducted every Friday night. The following girls are registered: Barbare Fein, Susan Fein, Linda Brown, Susan Warren, Marlen Doherty, Ann Penny, Rosemary McKay, Ilni Siimann, Heather Fullerton, Sharon Molly, Doris Hunt and Florence Fitzpatrick.

The embroidery class under the leadership of Mrs. S. Simmons, is conducted every Tuesday. The following girls are registered: Gail Ryan, Heather Baylis, Brenda Kirby, Lyn McCarthy, Linda Brown, Marlene Doherty, Dorothy Owens, Helen Wood, Shirley Sauson, Cheryl Raason, Lynn Moore, Lois Moore, Betty Gibson, Sandra Brambell, Janice Campbell, Ruth Boran and Grace Grant.

WELCOME TO NEW MEMBERS

The Unity Boys' Club is pleased to welcome the following new members to the Club who joined since the beginning of 1959: Victoria Daniel, Laurie J. Daniel, Gerald O'Driscoll, James Donahue, Janice Brodie, Edward Driver, Douglas Gavin (member since 1948), Doris Hodgson, Barbara Denbeigh, Jacqueline Pilon, Kathleen Seymour, Carl Blizzard, Ruth Boran, Grace Grant, Ellen Wynnik, Joyce Boran, Gordon Peters, Rosemary McKay and Danny Roy. The membership enrollment is nearing the 700 mark. With six months of the current program year yet to go, it is assumed that the 1000 mark will be reached.

COMPETITION FOR ELVIS ? Young Gerald Hebert, 3094 St. James street west, a member of the Unity Boy's Club Talent Show, strums a mean guitar as he accompanies himself at a recent performance.

Professional skill marks Unity Club talent show

Anyone watching the performance of an energetic group of youngsters and teenagers entertaining the inmates of the St. Vincent de Paul Federal Training Centre recently would be surprised to learn that none of them was born in a trunk backstage.

In fact, they were members of the Unity Boys' Club Talent Show, going through their paces with almost professional aplomb.

The Talent Club is only one of the many activities for boys and girls that have originated in the Unity Boys' Club and nearly 200 members have passed through the club in its nine year span.

Contributory groups within the Club are the tap-dancing classes, led by 14-year-old Ellen Rowland, weekly ballet classes, and the baton twirling group led by Mona O'Brian a Westmount High student who is presently a trainee for the Alouette majorette squad.

Many of the members have gone on to the world of show business, one boy becoming a professional at the age of 15. He has performed in Australia and Canada, and is still on the circuit. Another billed as a pantomime artist, has made the grade in both European and American entertainment circuits.

Volunteer worker Fred Pennell has acted as musical director for the show since its origin in 1950 by Unity Boys' Club director Maurice Mariasine, who was then with the Kinsmen Boys' Club of Verdun.

Starting out as an amateur show, the club graduated to variety show status the following year. In 1952, when Mr. Mariasine joined the Unity Boys' Club, the show went with him.

The young entertainers, who vary from singers and musicians to dancers and even a ventriloquist, have a busy schedule. During the year they perform for patients at military hospitals, children's hospitals, and paraplegic institutions, as well as for inmates of penitentiaries.

Obituaries

Funeral services were held Friday for Charles S. Rubin, 11 Willow avenue, President of Rubin Bros. (Clothiers) Ltd., and philanthropist of note, who died January 14 in his 82nd year.

A native of Lithuania, Mr. Rubin came to Canada in 1889. After learning the tailoring trade, he left for South Africa in 1899 to set up business there.

During the Boer War, he followed his trade in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony areas, afterwards moving to Port Elizabeth where he established a small tailoring business.

In 1905, Mr. Rubin returned to Montreal entering the clothing business with his brother, Bernard. The firm of Rubin Bros. was established by them in 1911.

While in South Africa, he became an active member of the Port Elizabeth Zionist Society. He was among the early adherents to the movement, and continued his interest in it up to the time of his death. He became interested in the Masons there, and in Montreal was a lifetime member of the Ionic Lodge No. 54.

A philanthropist whose activities covered charities of all races and religions, Mr. Rubin was a governor of the Montreal General Hospital, and a trustee of the Jewish General Hospital for many years. In addition he was a governor and active supported of the YMHA.

At the time of his death, Mr. Rubin had been married to his wife, the former Rose Heillig, for 52 years, having celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary two years ago.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Harold and Lionel; two daughters, Mrs. S. Leon Mendelsohn and Mrs. R. Hipps; two brothers, Bernard H. of Montreal, and Saul of Vancouver; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

'Novel writing a science, too' claims Dr. Wilder Penfield

By VALENTINA RAHR

"Authorship and science are not so far apart. What the novelist discovers in the hearts and minds of men may be a science in itself" said Dr. Wilder Penfield, internationally known neurologist and part-time novelist in a speech to the Canadian Authors' Association at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Monday.

"Fiction at the best is a careful search for truth. It describes objective findings accurately, but it can go beyond that too, presenting hypothesis and surmise that are based on reason."

"Fiction well done," Dr. Penfield continued "may be far more historical than facts which are incomplete. And a novelist who is capable of exhaustive research may present the truth as no scientist or historian could.

DR. WILDER PENFIELD

Dr. Penfield revealed that it took him 10 years to write his first novel "No Other Gods" which was published in 1954. Revision, rewriting and research went into this book, which was originally started by his mother who died before it was completed. His second novel, which will be published this year "The Torch" is about Hypocrates, "medicine's first and greatest hero."

RESEARCH

The research which must precede and accompany the writing of historical fiction, is very similar to the research that must precede the writing of a scientific treatise.

"The scientist studies human nature and observe its action, using the special techniques he has acquired. The novelist studies human nature. Like nature itself, human nature seems to have changed very little since the dawn of history. The instinctive reactions of men and women normal and abnormal, good and bad, may be studied today. The truth that is learned may be applied to the nature of ancient man as well as modern man."

All of Dr. Penfield's writing on both books was done at Lake Memphremagog during his summer vacations because he could not possibly be a novelist and a doctor at the same time.

Mrs. Isabel Keiller, president of the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Authors Association opened the meeting. Leslie Roberts introduced Dr. Penfield to the members. Mr. H. Mainer, vice-president, thanked the speaker. Refreshments were served following a discussion period.

ALBERT RAKOVSKY

A public lecture "Focus on the Far East" (New Material and Spiritual Forces) will be given by Mr. Albert Rakovsky of Westmount in Victoria Hall, February 4th at 8.15 p.m., to which the public is cordially invited.

The talk will be illustrated by colored slides taken by Mr. Rakovsky during his recent trip around the world. This meeting is under the auspices of the Westmount Baha'i Community.

South Africa's problems outlined to Rotarians

Charles V. Ruck, a South African by birth and Brazil's Consul General in Montreal, doesn't hold out much hope for a reversal of the apartheid policy currently being enforced in his native country.

Nor is he sure what the result will be of a referendum to be held soon to decide whether South Africa will become a republic and remain a member of the Commonwealth.

And commenting to the Westmount Rotary Club on widespread criticism of present measures he said: "I think you have to live in the country really to understand the feeling of the white population there."

He pointed out that the Union, with its half-million square miles and a population of almost 14,000,000, was the fourth largest in the Commonwealth. However, of that population, only one and a quarter million were whites.

He said that recent demonstrations in Johannesburg by native women were not directed against having to carry passes. Their protest was against having the place where they last paid their taxes stamped on the card.

"Natives always have had to carry identity cards," he said, "but because they're great migrants there were no means of checking their last tax payments. And despite criticisms, it's amazing the number of natives who try to enter South Africa from surrounding territories illegally."

He added that the natives were extremely superstitious, that the government was attempting to stamp out ritual murders and that crime, a big problem in South Africa today, was mostly committed by non-whites.

"However," he added, "there are no tyrannical movements like the Mau Mau. Communist influence accounts for most of the unrest. When Russia had a legation in Pretoria, it was known that the staff were in contact with dissident native leaders."

Club hears talk on Cyprus plans

Members of the Westmount High School Current Events Club delved into the Cyprus question when the club played host to Felix Ammar, who spent twelve years in Cyprus and lived for a time in Greece.

Discussing the history, resources, and political situation of the strife-torn island, Mr. Ammar said that the Turkish plan to partition Cyprus was "impractical and ridiculous", and that the majority of the Greek inhabitants do not support, or condone, the activities of the EOKA underground movement.

Economically, continued Mr. Ammar, Cyprus is not ready for independence. Communists, he stated, have little influence on the island.

Students took part in the discussion, asking Mr. Ammar several questions on the current Cyprus question.

Anyone lost a portrait?

Someone dropped a drawing at the corner of Victoria avenue and Sherbrooke a couple of weeks ago.

The drawing, executed in crayon on sketch paper, about 19" by 12½", is a profile of a young girl.

Mr. J. L. Gane, 414 Victoria avenue, Apt. 2, picked it up and has it at his home.

He told The Examiner about it this week and invites the claimant to call him at HU 1-3944.

MALLARDS TOPS

More than one-half of the estimated 510,000 ducks killed in Nebraska during 1956 were mallards. Other major species, in order taken, were blue-winged teal, green-winged teal and pintail.

WE SAY

What is ahead for Westmount?

ELECTION — by acclamation — of a new mayor and new blood on the local council comes at a time when this municipality, along with 45 others on and around the island of Montreal, faces a municipal future full of promise.

For 300-odd years this island in the St. Lawrence River has been cut up by synthetic municipal boundaries that have become archaic. Many of the governmental organizations have been proved entirely incapable of dealing with the increasing problems of modern day living.

Traffic jams, for instance, have become a very part of our way of life. The urban areas are being depleted of much of their best citizenry through migration to the farther suburbs. Business firms are finding it more and more difficult to find land on which to construct needed buildings.

Westmount's essential services are well handled, there is no doubt of it. The snow-clearing task is excellently done. The men and machines are out with the first few flakes of snow and they keep at the job until the storm has subsided and the last bit of snow-cleaning accomplished.

But when a Westmount resident drives outside of the border of his own municipality — his progress is considerably slowed by an inferior style of snow-removal. If he has, by chance, to pass the Decarie boulevard Traffic Circle, his schedule is ruined.

All indications point to the birth of a bill before the provincial legislature to make possible the establishment of a metropolitan-style administration, similar to that of Toronto.

Opponents of 'metro' take the view: "Why should Montreal govern us" or, more specifically, "do you want us to pay for Montreal's snow-clearing."

There isn't any question of anyone being governed by anyone else. There is no question of the citizens of one municipality paying for the services of another — it is a question of all the municipalities getting together for the greater good of all the residents of these municipalities.

Under such a setup — Westmount has a great deal to offer.

Our services, as we have said, are well administered, therefore we may have some suggestions that will work across the entire island and up and down its length as well.

With a new mayor and new aldermen, in part, on the council, let us hope Westmount can lead the way.

We all need it.

N.B. university has young spirit

NOT all the higher education of local students is received in local institutions.

For many years young men and women of this community have gained their specialized training elsewhere.

The University of New Brunswick, with its traditions and high standards has long educated youth from here in the liberal arts and sciences. In forestry, chemistry and geology — to mention only three particular fields — UNB is outstanding.

Vernon E. Johnson, president of the Canadian International Paper Company, and national vice-chairman of the UNB building fund, in a statement at the St. James Club last week, mentioned the university as one with "a young spirit, reaching out for new ways to do a better job for the people of Canada as a whole".

It is from this standpoint that UNB is seeking funds for expansion purposes. Plans include the construction of a new science building, a new academic building, a faculty office building, two men's residences, a central dining hall and other campus improvements.

Offering a national university, the men behind the expansion of UNB are looking to Canadians from coast to coast to back this drive, businessmen, alumni, friends of the university.

These are asked to aid in this worthy cause.

Examiner Profile:

Ex-fireman now advises

by CYNTHIA JONES

Following his retirement three years ago as division chief instructor of the Montreal fire department, Charles Lawrence Blickstead has carved out a fascinating new career as an independent fire consultant to industry and municipalities. He is the only Canadian thus engaged although he has American counterparts.

Now 51, Mr. Blickstead, who enjoyed a distinguished 27-year-long association with the Montreal fire department, numbers shipping companies, paper mills, hospitals, hotels, theatres, ammunition plants and the Montreal West Fire Department among his 60 clients.

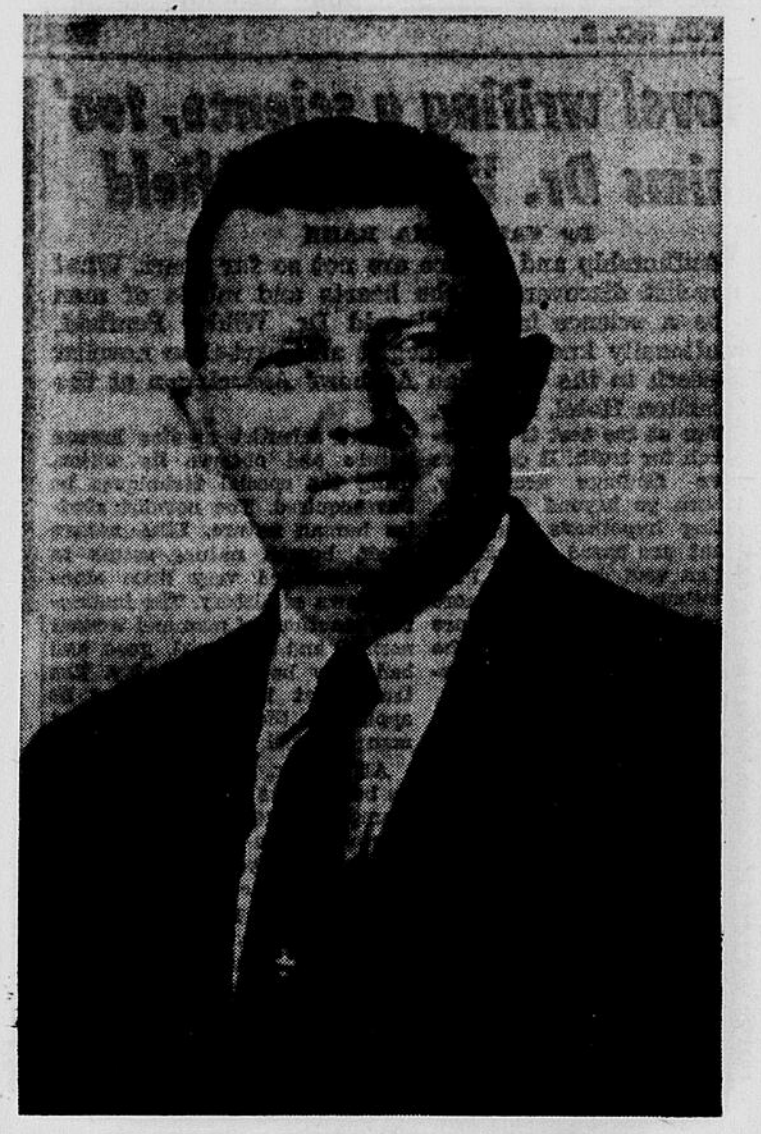

This week will find him checking up on the fire safety program he planned for a large paper mill in Quebec City. Not long ago he spent some time in Prince Edward Island recommending to a shipping company fire prevention and fire fighting measures for two ferry boats which plow between the Island and New Brunswick. Last weekend he masterminded new fire fighting strategy for a Montreal hotel.

"My general fire fighting background gives me the extra know-how for my present work," said the genial Mr. Blickstead during an interview in his attractive home at 3486 Connaught avenue. "There is a terrific need for expert professional advice on fire safety problems. I always had this type of work in mind so when I retired I offered my services to the various contacts I had made during my career with the fire department. I remember that the Royal Victoria Hospital was receptive to my ideas and then the other English-speaking hospitals in Montreal followed and are now among my accounts along with an orphanage."

Civil Defense

Mr. Blickstead was loaned out to the Canadian navy during World War II as chief fire services officer with the rank of lieutenant commander and organized the fire defences of Canada's naval bases. At the beginning of the war he organized the training of the civil defence fire fighting force which was called the auxiliary fire service. After the war he was appointed a deputy civil defence co-ordinator responsible to Brigadier Guy Gauvreau and did a lot of lecturing at the Civil Defence College at Ottawa.

Mr. Blickstead has taken many special courses on fire fighting including those at the U. S. Naval Marine School for Fire Fighting and the U. S. Army Defence College at Amherst, Mass. "I keep abreast of the times," said Mr. Blickstead. "There is always something new in fire fighting equipment and new fire fighting methods to cope with growing and changing industries."

CHARLES LAWRENCE BLICKSTEAD

Describing his new line of work, Mr. Blickstead, a five foot ten, 200 pounder with an unexcitable temperament said: "I just don't go into a building and recommend a new sprinkler system. While that is good protection, you first must rely on people. I indoctrinate the employees of a plant or building on general fire safety, inspect existing fire defences, fire equipment, exits, fire cut-offs, unsafe storage facilities, organize employees in emergency evacuation and fire fighting, organize and train fire brigades.

"I develop what I call preplanned fire strategy in which the employees or occupants of a given area are trained in the defence of that area; in other words when fire breaks out the occupants in the area are instructed to do basic things such as sounding the alarm, attacking the fire, stopping the machinery, evacuating the female personnel, if any, closing fire doors, and other doors to cut down draught, supporting the fire fighting operations in progress by laying out additional equipment as precautionary or necessary measures."

Worst fires

Mr. Blickstead is a born instructor. At one time or another 1,700 City of Montreal firemen have passed through his training classes. For many years he was responsible for the efficiency of the city's fire department. There have been few major conflagrations where he hasn't been active. The worst fires which he "doesn't like to recall" are the old people's home on Atwater avenue where more than 30 died a few years ago, the Bonaventure freight sheds ("a dilly for spectators") and the apartment fire at Sherbrooke and St. Denis. Another eventful time for Mr. Blickstead was when he was flown by charter plane to the terrible Rimouski fire to offer advice on proposed demolition.

The fire consultant was the second youngest child and only son of the late Charles Blickstead, a printer with the Montreal Gazette for many years. His father was of Norwegian descent; his mother, a Kelly, of Irish descent; and he had five sisters, four of whom are now living. He attended St. Ann's Boys' School in Griffintown, spent two years in St. Mary's College Seminary in Brockville, Ontario, studying for the priesthood, returned to St. Ann's to finish his schooling. He worked in shipping offices in the United States for three years, got homesick and returned to Montreal to join the fire department in 1929 at the age of 21. His first station where he stayed a year was No. 15 at Point St. Charles. Then he went to No. 10 on St. Matthew street for a span of eight years. In 1938 he transferred to No. 5 on Ontario street next to the Bellevue Casino and became the first one-man rescue squad which has since grown to two squads of five men each. "We used to have to handle drownings, artificial respiration and lots of gas and smoke asphyxia cases," said Mr. Blickstead.

In 1939 Fire Director R. E. Pare inaugurated the first fire training school in

Some like it cold . . .

THE MID-WEEK RAINFALL was far from indicative of a normal Westmount weather, though no-one should need to be reminded of that! Nevertheless, in one way or another, everyone seems to be making the best they can — depending on their age — of the situation and The Examiner photographer shows this in the two pictures here. Famous radar expert claims science should advance without war stimulus

"The human race is half a million years old, but I am by no means optimistic about its survival in the next ten years," said Sir Robert Watson Watt in a public lecture on "The Place of Science in This Age" at West Hill Auditorium on Monday evening.

In spite of the inclement weather, a large audience turned out to hear Sir Robert, discoverer of the principles of radar, who now lives in Toronto.

Stressing the fact that an insufficient distinction has been made in the past between pure scientists and technologists, he said that the pure scientist should have a thorough grounding in the humanities — including history, geography, and English — before entering the higher realm of abstract science.

Scientists, he said, were too apt to pontificate on politics, instead of keeping to the field in which they are authorities. Relative to education, he continued, history books of today devote too much attention to wars and war makers, overlooking the contribution to humanity by scientists and technologists, and their discoveries and inventions.

He referred to himself as a technologist, one whose task it was to work for satisfaction of humanity's needs. Although his own work in radar was speeded up by the threat of war, he went on, he felt that scientific and technological developments could continue quite well without this stimulus.

END ROMANCE

"Let's get over the romance of wars," said Sir Robert, "and turn to the reform of mathematics into an interesting study for the younger generation." He stated that methods must be found to make them realize that the sameness and "bang-bang" of television is unworthy of minds with five hundred thousand years of polishing behind them.

Sir Robert's own career testifies to the romance that is to be found in the world of science. After graduation from St. Andrew's University, he taught physics, and with the advent of World War I was employed in weather-watching. It was then that he developed a technique of picking up thunder storms up to 4,000 miles away by means of radio equipment.

"Being a Scotsman, I'm very careful with my own money, but extravagant with others'", he said. In developing radar he based his arguments on the fact that if a response of one millionth of a millionth of a millionth was received from a radar beam, the airforce would have all the information needed.

He was so successful that by September 1938, the Thames Estuary was guarded by five radar stations, who practised by tracing Neville Chamberlain's flights to Munich.

CAME HERE IN 1951

Sir Robert came to Canada in 1951, where he engaged in private practice. Six months ago, he decided to "give up doing what other people wanted me to" and devote his time to giving lectures and attending conferences and meetings on science and education.

He believes that students should be encouraged in the study of technology and science. Although he is in favor of the younger generations having a proper knowledge of classics and history, he feels that school curriculums are balanced too heavily in this direction.

If the world is to retrieve itself from its perilous situation, he concluded, it must look to science and technology, not as a means of creating more and more powerful deterrents to war, but as a means of improving the state of human beings on a planet that is fast becoming too small for anything but standing room.

Hamilton defends firing Post Office employee

Before speaking at the N.D.G. Lions Club's 5th Annual Charter Night Dinner, Friday, Postmaster General William Hamilton defended his action in dismissing the postmaster of a Toronto sub-station for taking an active part in politics.

"If the public is to have confidence in the inpartiality of the government officials they deal with, these officials must be divorced from politics in every way."

"This is a tradition of which the whole Canadian Civil Service is very proud."

Asked whether he had faced many such cases, Mr. Hamilton said that in the first 19 months of the present Government, five persons had been fired from the Post Office Department for this offence. In the period 1935-40, as a comparison, 325 people in the Post Office had been fired for taking part in politics.

He added: "Despite the fact we have 12,000 employees in the department, I have not found extensive partisan activity. I cannot condone what the Civil Service doesn't approve."

TRADITIONS USEFUL

Mr. Hamilton again took up the question of tradition in his speech to the club, referring to the recent opening of Parliament with its attendant ceremonies.

"Some people think" he said "that formalities are unnecessary. But they serve the purpose of establishing a dignity and decorum in parliamentary procedure which has been developed through the centuries in England and handed down to us to maintain."

"Our strength lies in government based on tradition. Newer nations have not had this benefit of a long growth of a parliamentary system and so have had more difficulty in esablishing stable government."

He thought Canada obtained better results when compared with the French and American systems.

"France tried to distribute power as widely as possible and, until recently this was clearly unworkable. The United States, on the other hand, put the emphasis on the Executive side of government which, in his opinion, made it difficult to reach decisions quickly.

Public opinion must be aroused to aid in housing the ill, aged

"A strong and unmistakeable public opinion must be aroused regarding the inadequate provision for the aged and chronically ill old people in this city and province," said the Rev. E. J. Bailey of Westmount Baptist Church to an open meeting at Victoria Hall on Tuesday evening.

The purpose of the meeting, said chairman Peter Miller, was to make the public aware of this lack. However, no concrete plans for the actual establishing of a hospital for "the English-speaking aged and chronically ill" were brought forward at this time, beyond canvassing those present for their voluntary help, financial or otherwise.

A panel of four addressed the capacity audience in attendance: the Rev. E. J. Bailey; Miss Jessie Lawrence of the Montreal General Hospital social service department; Dr. Paul J. Weil, attending physician for the Montreal Protestant Home for the aged, and Mrs. Betty Speirs-Miller, originator of the idea.

Although there is some provision for aged people, Mr. Bailey continued, it does not nearly cover the large number who need help. He quoted instances of individuals who had gone into debt and virtually mortgaged their futures in order to pay for care of elderly relatives which could not be obtained except through costly nursing homes or private homes for the aged.

He commended the work of the Salvation Army Eventide Homes, the Canadian Legion, and the Montreal Protestant Hospital, but added that they are unequipped to deal with illness.

Rehabilitation, if possible, was the key phrase of Dr. Weil's address. The value of rehabilitation is, he said, to take advantage of whatever strength remaining to the old or chronically ill, and develop it so that the patient can be restored to his rightful dignity as a human being.

Well old people can get along on their old age pension, he continued, but once illness sets in, the dual problem of expense and attendance arises. Although the Montreal Protestant Hospital is adding an annex for the domiciliary care of the aged, he stated that there is a desperate need for something more in this direction than has already been done.

He also felt that education of techniques for nursing the aged and chronically ill should be greatly augmented.

Miss Lawrence, too, called for an organization which would be "aggressively rehabilitation minded" in caring for the aged. Many patients, she said, will struggle on in their homes with inadequate care rather than submit to "custodial" dead end care.

Comments from the floor criticized the lack of action taken in the past, compared to the many reports that have been issued on the question of care for the aged. One member of the audience asked whether an interim committee could not be set up from those attending the meeting to visit old and sick people in their homes. Another asked if some concrete goal could not be established for those present and the public in general. No action was taken on either of these suggestions.

McGill honors Dr. McNaughton

Dr. Francis K. McNaughton, 618 Victoria avenue, was recently appointed professor of neurology to McGill University. He has acted as associate professor for the university since 1950.

Hailed as "one of the most distinguished neurologists in North America", Dr. McNaughton was among those associated with Dr. Wilder Penfield at the Montreal Neurological Institute in the early days of its fame. In 1935, he joined the staff of McGill University as a research fellow in neurology, and in 1951, was appointed neurologist to the Royal Victoria Hospital, and consulting neurologist to the Montreal General Hospital.

Dr. McNaughton is a graduate of Westmount schools, and has studied at McGill University, at Boston, Mass., and London, England.

New hope held for victims of brain tumors

Attending the annual convention of the Canadian Association of Radiologists in Saskatoon Dr. Jean Bouchard, 23 Springfield avenue, held out hope for brain tumor victims.

"Brain tumors may be treated successfully with ionizing radiation . . . and without any damage to the normal brain," he said. The ionizing treatment is performed by means of X-ray with the cobalt 60 unit, more popularly known as "the cobalt bomb".

The scientific paper which Dr. Bouchard presented was written in collaboration with Dr. Carleton B. Pierce of the Royal Victoria Hospital. Dr. Bouchard is in charge of radiation therapy at the same hospital, and is a consultant to the Montreal Neurological Institute.

They have conducted examinations and treatments of nearly 700 cases of tumor of the brain and spinal cord.

Dr. Bouchard continued that "experience has shown that irradiation of brain tumors is beneficial in a large number of cases in which it is not possible for the surgeon to remove the tumor completely without affecting the normal surrounding brain tissue."

During the convention, Dr. E. radiology department of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital was elected president of the Association

Dr. R. Nicholls named president of railroad group

Dr. Robert V. V. Nicholls, 502 Elm avenue, has been elected president of the Canadian Railroad Historical Association at its annual general meeting. For the past year Dr. Nicholls has been chairman of the Association's Museum Committee which has been actively engaged in planning for the establishment of a permanent rail transportation museum in Montreal.

Other officers elected were S. S. Worthen, vice-president; C. W. K. Heard, secretary; A. S. Walbridge, treasurer, and four directors: O. S. A. Lavallee, R. G. Harries, L. C. Perry, and William Pharoah. The honorary president is Donald Angus, 636 Roslyn avenue.

Trinity Players getting set for big production

Mignon Elkins, 21 Windsor avenue and Ruth Reed, 14 Weredale Park, both actively involved in the Trinity Player's third production of the season, "Plaintiff in a Pretty Hat", are deep in rehearsal for the play which opens February 4, at Trinity Memorial Hall, corner of Sherbrooke street west and Marlowe avenue.

Working with an all British cast, Miss Reed is production manager of the play, while actress Mignon Elkins assumes the role of "the other woman". The play, which enjoyed a successful run in London's West End in 1956, will be produced for three nights here, closing February 7.

Miss Elkins is a graduate of London's famed Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, and has appeared with the MRT, the Mountain Playhouse and the English division of the Theatre du Nouveau Monde. Working with CBC television and radio, she was also featured recently in a National Film Board production, "The Discoverers". Miss Reed is a veteran of many Trinity shows.

Dr. Crawford Radiologists president

Dr. E. M. Crawford, director of the radiology department of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, was elected president of the Canadian Association of Radiologists at their annual convention in Saskatoon last week.

A resident of NDG in his youth, Dr. Crawford has been on the staff of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital for 17 years. In addition to his post of director of radiology there, he has done extensive research in the field.

During the convention, a scientific paper on brain tumors was presented by Dr. Jean Bouchard, 23 Springfield avenue, director of radiation therapy at the Royal Victoria Hospital, in collaboration with Dr. Carleton B. Pierce, also of Royal Victoria Hospital.

Holding out hope for brain tumour victims, Dr. Bouchard stated that "brain tumors may be treated successfully with ionizing radiation . . . and without any damage to the normal brain." The ionizing treatment is performed by means of X-ray with the cobalt 60 unit, more commonly known as the "cobalt bomb."

With a record of examination and treatment of nearly 700 cases of tumor of the brain and spinal cord by the two doctors, Dr. Bouchard said that "experience has shown that irradiation of brain tumors is beneficial in a large number of cases in which it is not possible for the surgeon to remove the tumor completely without affecting the normal surrounding brain tissue."

Zonta members mark memory of A. Earhart

The Zonta Club of Montreal held a dinner meeting on January 13 at the Ritz Carlton Hotel to commemorate the memory of Amelia Earhart, who was a pioneer in the world of flying for women. The guest speaker was Miss L. I. Houseman, RN, chief stewardess, Trans-Canada Air Lines, whose topic was "A Proud and Popular Profession."

The Amelia Earhart Night is one set aside in January of each year on which the Zonta Clubs in thirteen countries pay homage to one of their departed members. The late Amelia Earhart was the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and the first woman to receive the Distinguished Flying Cross. She was a member of the Zonta Club of New York City, the only non-professional organization to which she belonged.

The Zonta International service project in which all Zonta Clubs participate, is the Amelia Earhart Scholarship, an annual grant of $1,200, which has helped to further the careers of young women engineers by helping them to obtain graduate degrees in aeronautics.

Canada and Mr. Blickstead was transferred to become assistant to the chief instructor.

In 1941 he became a lieutenant in the fire department and on the death of the chief instructor, Albert Brisebois, was placed in charge of the training school. From 1943 to '45 he served with the Navy, returning to the training school just before the end of the war as chief instructor. In 1951 he was promoted to division chief instructor because of his civil defence connections and duties. He retired in 1956.

Mr. Blickstead married Loretta Garinther, of Cleveland, Ohio, in 1933. The couple have two sons, Charles, 24, who is studying physical education at UBC and Gordon, 22, who is teaching at St. Albert's School Point Viau, and one daughter, Mary, 24, who married Tony Patterson, last December 27.

A football fan, Mr. Blickstead likes good books and music, has no time for hobbies. In his opinion what qualities does a would-be fireman need ? Good, robust health, fair intelligence and a good education.

By LAURENT PRICE

TO START so early in a spanking new and precious year—such as each succeeding one becomes with the bewiskered Old Man and Scythe inexorably counting out the hours of Time's passage — airing readers' complaints can't be developed into an excitingly agreeable subject matter for this week's column, but at least handled amiably might contribute something in the way of correction — so here goes.

From two loyal distaff followers, pipe smoking in restaurants gets some very severe, if justifiable, criticism. And, thinking the matter over, we'll go along with the girls.

Pipes in the park

Insofar as pipes and their fanciers are concerned, we feel that suitably booted and tweedily garmented, a short and light workout walking a few hundred yards in Westmount Park, or a similarly bucolic setting, puffing a good old Dunhill for companionable solace to be an exemplary means of relaxation and completely in order.

For that matter any place where men gather — and in most business organizations — pipe smoking is not only condoned, but sometimes encouraged over other forms of the habit.

Or, by the hearth at home, providing the missus doesn't mind hubby stinking up the little love nest she's so daintily contrived — although this is generally resolved by relegating the lord and master to a sitting position on the back stoop for this type of smoking pleasure.

Smoke spoils the taste

Specifically, one of the complaining ladies mentioned dining at a well-known uptown Montreal restaurant, where not only the taste but the fragrance of the food attracted her and friends. On one occasion, just as the elegant ambrosia was about to be served, she writes, a fellow customer seated himself at the next table with pipe in mouth, using a new fangled rum or maple mixture of pipe tobacco, and with what our subscriber sets forth in words as "deadly and nauseous fumes," spoiled the evening, the food and ten dollars of her escort's money. (Obviously, the lady prefers rum in cocktails, and maple syrup over pancakes.)

Later, questioning a few cafe owners, we found our complainant not to be alone. According to them, many of their patrons — women and men — will ask to be moved to a table as distant as possible from the guest with the miniature chimney.

The other lady writing in had a modified resentment. She considered her swain to be very manly looking with a pipe gripped firmly in his teeth, and even opined a little smoke didn't discomfort her too much with food; BUT, her boy friend's smoking machinery had to be re-lit so often, she waxed bitter about the time he wasted on the ritual instead of being attentive to her. There's a point here, too.

It would seem then, good fellow-men, that taverns, firesides, men's clubs, parks, the great outdoors, backyards and cellars are the places to enjoy pipes in peace.

As for us, after carefully looking over each shoulder we feel pretty safe and a little like Emily Post reaching for the trusty briar and pouch and puffing contentedly, stroll over to the Winter Sports and Resorts Department.

Vestry meeting

The annual parish vestry meeting of St. Matthias' Church will be held in the parish hall on Monday, January 26 at 8.00 p.m. when reports on all phases of parish activities will be presented, including the work of the youth groups, the men's and women's organizations and the choirs. The wardens will present the financial statement for the year just concluded and will give an account of recent improvements made in the church buildings and equipment, following which the church officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

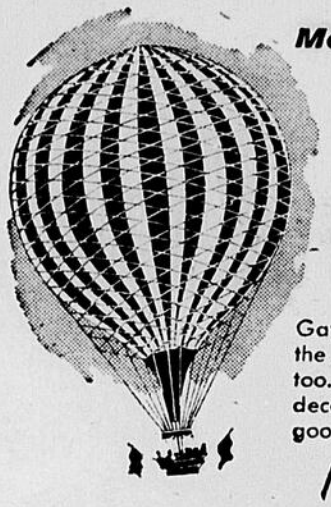

At the conclusion of the meeting there will be a reception in honour of the Rev. and Mrs. E. P. A. Timmons who will be the recipients of a presentation from the congregation in appreciation of their contribution to the parish over the past two years prior to Mr. Timmon's recent appointment as rector of St. James' Church in Hull, Quebec.

The reception will also present an opportunity for parishioners to become acquainted with the Rev. R. S. Northway who succeeds Mr. Timmons as Assistant at St. Matthias' and who comes to the parish from the Diocese of Edmonton.

Winter Sports and Resorts

By LAURENT PRICE

Such skiing bargains!

LAST Fall when this department's existence was being considered and planned for the Monitor, Examiner and Guardian, the guiding wise men of the interested publishing company admonished your reporter to be assiduous in performance of duty; honorable and truthful in the discharge of obligations to readers and advertisers, and above all to be literate and maintain the Winter's mood throughout the series.

At the time we were also warned that should lapses, editorially or otherwise, manifest themselves, or a diminution of the much to be desired "Winter mood" quality be detected, any one of the administrative members of the organization's hierarchy was authorized to hit us with one of Hugh McCormick's old hockey sticks.

Conditions good

Months pass, and looking around the countryside and mountains of snow and the excellent prevailing conditions for skiing and other seasonal sports, we'll concede that this year it's practically impossible to escape the "winter mood" — even long enough to get warm. And, if we ever find out where the hockey implements are stashed, you may be sure one will be used to knock the icicles off the end of our ears and nose — nothing else!

What gives municipal snow-removal brass a big fat pain in the neck and turns them into very poisonous and irritable politically appointed monsters, renders innkeepers and ski tow operators tractable, mellow, generous and sweet tempered, under identical weather conditions.

Skiing, anyone?

In short, we honorably and truthfully suggest a little skiing. Take to the hills, friends, in any direction from Montreal: the Laurentians, Quebec City or Lac Beauport, Stowe, Vermont, the Saranac-Lake Placid-Wilmington Adirondack area, or Franconia and North Conway in New Hampshire.

While last weekend's storms didn't lend comfort to rural driving, news reports from Montreal painted a sorry picture of disastrous parking and driving conditions locally with more emergency measures in the offing. Certainly provincial and state authorities in the skiing sections mentioned in the preceding paragraph cleaned up the roads pronto — and the skiing is accessible and superb everywhere.

In January, especially, resort owners are advertising low-priced, all expense package deals, which include lodging, food, ski instruction and tow charges for weekend or week-long (or longer, of course) vacations.

Big investment

With millions of dollars being invested all over the Province and the eastern States in new lift equipment, hotel and lodge additions and improvements, the industry isn't being casual or offhand about visiting skiing vacationists. They're in downright — and very hospitable — earnest to please at reasonable cost, and proffer rates to suit almost any pocket-book.

Never have skiers been offered so much for so little (are we paraphrasing something?), and Montrealers are in an extremely fortunate geographical situation to take full advantage of a swell buyers' market of ski accommodations and facilities in all directions.

If you're lucky enough to be able to get out of our town's snow clogged streets, the roads are in good shape. If not, go by bus or train; it's worth it.

Just so you won't acquire any icicles, wear something other than a track suit. You know, like three sets of underwear.

If anyone in the front office is reading, we're still with the "Winter mood", too.

Skiers and Scholls

If you're Adirondack bound stop over on the way in Plattsburgh at the Cumberland Hotel's Bamboo Room, or the Witherill Hotel's Fife and Drum lounge, both excellent in the food and beverage department . . . Chateau Frontenac has a nice weekend ski deal going, as does the Laurentide Inn at Ste. Agathe . . . St. Sauveur des Monts in the Laurentians has more ski tows and trails than you can intelligently count early in the morning . . . It also has two outstanding citizens operating fine establishments . . . Mary Glaveen with her smart Win-Sum Inn and Victor Nymark of Nymarks', of course . . . Close by at Piedmont, Eddi Terzi at the Piedmont Country Club is a commendable host . . . We're heading their way this week and Quidi Vidi, the Casgrains, the Montclair, the Chantecler, Lionel Turcotte at the Chatel Boise and other estimable bonifaces at Ste. Adele either can leave town in a hurry or put up "welcome" signs . . . Ruth Pitts of the Wilmington Inn has renamed her dining facilities the Whiteface Room and the snug tippling section the Little Adirondack Bar . . . Fawn Ridge in Lake Placid gets down to something like $22.50 per week for lift charges, according to owner Clarence Lamb (Get what we mean about skiing bargains?) . . . Joe Meconi, at Ausable Forks, an Olympic bob-sled champ and our local correspondent, friend and aide, would like it known that while his "grog" shop has authentic nautical flavor, the tearoom division is the essence of refinement . . . Pearl Howard, a leading Monitor Publishing Company advertising light, is water skiing at West Hollywood, Florida . . . The "water" switch is just to test the composing room boys . . . when she returns her counting ability should improve. . . . Thank you for bearing with us, Mr. Printer. That will be all for this week.

FRANK QUINN TRIO

Has the U.K. under-rated Gaitskell

Not so long ago, the Tories in Britain seemed confident favourites to win the coming General Election. Now there are signs that they may have been over-confident. For a new buoyancy is apparent among the Socialists. In their campaign for the forthcoming election they are counting on having 10 times as much money as they spent at their last attempt. They are less divided within their top ranks. And the man at their head, Hugh Gaitskell, is emerging with new personal strength. How does he see his chances against the now highly popular Macmillan? Has Gaitskell been under-rated? Seeking the answer, here is an extraordinarily intimate glimpse of the Socialist leader, as seen by himself, in this interview . . .

by

Anthony LeJeune

After SuperMac — SuperGaitskell? Well, perhaps. There's no doubt that the coming General Election will be very much a clash between two men. Many newspapers and commentators, have been apt to regard the contestants as by no means fairly matched.

Mr. MacMillan has been growing in stature before our eyes; his ringcraft has been increasingly impressive. But unobtrusively Mr. Gaitskell has been in training too. Behind the prim and unhappy features which the cartoonists show, behind the easy sociable personality his friends know, there is a very tough man indeed.

It does not pay to underrate him.

You have only to talk to Mr. Gaitskell today to realise how much more confident and impressive he is now than he was a year ago. He is the man in charge and he knows it.

The split in the Socialist Party, which was so damaging, has — for the moment at least — been healed.

Whether this new unity could survive another electoral defeat seems doubtful, but during the campaign Mr. Gaitskell can certainly rely on an undivided team.

Family Man

The question now it — can Mr. Gaitskell project himself effectively to the country? It is not a process which comes easily. He is still too much of the university don to enjoy personal politics.

He prefers an academic argument. He is not in favor of the personality cult.

He suspects that the professionals exaggerate the importance of tricks and technique. "But I don't worry about it much," he says.

The Socialist Party has a formidable team of television advisers — Woodrow Wyatt, Christopher Mayhew, John Freeman, Anthony Wedgwood Benn.

They have taught Mr. Gaitskell about a few elementary catches. The truth is that Mr. Gaitskell sented as good family men and Gaitskell really is one. His two daughters grew up when he was a Minister and are used to publicity, but he worries sometimes because the limelight may be a little unfair to them. His wife Dora does more than her share of bazaar opening but she is naturally a political woman and likes it.

Human

There is a very human Gaitskell: the Gaitskell who loves gardening, reads detective stories and modern novels; the Gaitskell who wants to see "West Side Story," who reckons "Five Finger Exercise" was the best play of 1958, who went on his birthday, which is also his wedding anniversary, to the Royal Court Theatre, that home of highbrow Left-wing drama, and sat dismally unamused throughout a long evening of highbrow Left-wing comedy.

Precisely because he is not flamboyant or hot-blooded, he does not share the worst faults of the House of Commons.

At the time of Suez he stood out as the active leader — whether you like his opinions or not — of a large section of the public. As he says, it was an occasion when passion and logic completely combined.

This does not mean that he positively revelled in the clash in the Commons. "I am not a good hater," he says. "Perhaps it's a disadvantage."

The success of the drive for party funds and the massive support of the trades unions have certainly given him new confidence.

"We've got a policy that, I believe, is both sensible, practical, relevant and yet completely in line with our Socialist principles. The Gallup polls have been favorable to the Tories, but I don't pay too much attention to that.

"A politician," says Mr. Gaitskell, "should exaggerate a bit or no one will listen." The charge some of his own supporters would bring against him is that he doesn't exaggerate enough.

Tightrope

It is a difficult problem. The solid Socialist vote has remained pretty stable through all the by-elections. The marginal uncommitted votes are what counts.

Mr. Gaitskell must therefore walk the narrow tightrope between boring the floating voters and frightening them.

It has been said that in pursuit of this difficult aim the party is deliberately glossing over the more alarming features of Socialist policy.

A test case for this is the municipalisation of housing. The party is, in fact, committed to a take-over of all rent-controlled houses.

But all the party's latest propaganda says about this is that councils will be empowered to take over rented property so that old houses can be maintained in proper condition.

I asked Mr. Gaitskell whether this is a piece of deliberate playing-down, and he said no, it is all a matter of timing.

He was concerned that the party should not be unreasonably curtailing the freedom of the local authorities: he was not at all concerned about the freedom of landlords.

"Economics," he says, "are terribly important." And, of course, they are. The coming election will be fought on economic issues — inflation and unemployment — more than any other.

Expensive

The Socialist Party's adver-

He is physically tough, as any man who leads a great political party nowadays has to be. "It's all right as long as you sleep well."

He tolerates perhaps, rather than enjoys, the excitement, "the moments of exhilaration alternating with moments of depression." He would certainly like to be Prime Minister, because he wants to put his ideas into practice: and he thinks he can do the job.

Will he get the chance?

It could be so. He has certainly been under-valued to date. The contest, when it comes, will be fought between well-matched antagonists.

advisers — Woodrow Wyatt, Christopher Mayhew, John Freeman, Anthony Wedgwood Benn.

London Express Service.

They have taught Mr. Gaitskell about a few elementary catches. The truth is that Mr. Gaitskell is an unusual mixture, a don who likes dancing, parties, and meeting people.

All politicians have to be pre-

Expensive

The Socialist Party's advertised programme looks very expensive. How is it to be paid for without higher taxes or inflation ?

Mr. Gaitskell"s answer is "By increased production." He believes productivity can rise by an average of 3½ per cent per year. ("It will be a poor look out for the West if it can't.")

But this increase has not only got to pay for these vast Government disbursements; it has also to cover wage-rise costs.

This is the party's most sensitive spot. While admitting that the unions have been chary of making promises about wage restraint, Mr. Gaitskell believes they will co-operate in the fight against inflation.

With this help from the unions and with the aid of certain key controls, building licences, and foreign exchange in particular, he thinks he can hold inflation in check.

He might even hope to lower the standard rate of income tax.

His life

Some people have accused him of not delegating enough. "It isn't true," he protests. "There are certain things one has got to do oneself."

The truth is that, to the cut and thrust of personal politics, he probably prefers the work of political organisation and the practical realisation of political ideas. That is his life.

Pointers of safety for pedestrians and drivers

Always give yourself double the distance between your car and one you are following during wintertime, the Provincial Highway Safety Committee, recommends. The distance within which one can stop down is much longer when the roads are covered with snow, ice or even if they are only wet. Always remind yourself that to stop down in wintertime, you need at least double the distance of that during the summertime.

Don't blame the weather if a traffic accident occurs. We can't ask the weather man to please the motorist, but on the other hand the motorist should adapt himself to whatever weather turns up.

An average of one out of every six fatal accidents occurs when the weather is foggy, or raining. It is up to the motorist to bend before the onslaught of the weather. If there is a snow storm, then the motorist should slow down. It is for his own good.

Don't try to pass another car on a curve. It is one of the most reprehensible acts which a motorist can do. How can the motorist avoid an accident if he is suddenly confronted by a car travelling in the opposite direction as he tries to pass another car on a curve. And especially in winter time when sudden turns are practically impossible, the motorist is in much greater danger. To pass on a curve is to show complete irresponsibility.

It is every bit a must to cut down on your speeding, especially during winter time. To speed in winter time, the motorist takes upon himself the responsibility of ice, slippery roads and the incautious driver. Summer speeds are prohibitive in winter time because of the bad condition of most of the highways. If you wish to live longer, then slow down.

Bus drivers will render service to their passengers if they tell them not to walk in front of the autobus they are descending from. There are too many accidents which occur after passengers descend from a bus. Passengers are asked to descend from the bus, take your time in crossing and make sure that the highway is clear.

Nearly all highway accidents are the result of an error in judgment by either the one responsible for the mishap, or the victim. It is very true that perfection is not of this world and that there will always be someone committing errors in judgment. But even though this is true, a little more good will on the part of the highway user, and a little more caution, there is every possibility to cut down on the number of accidents.

Direct service from Montreal to Italy

Establishment of a direct passenger service between Montreal and Italy by the Grimaldi Siosa Lines joint service is announced by the Robert Reford Company, as General Agents for Canada.

This is the first occasion on which a direct passenger service from Montreal to Italy has been scheduled, and the service will be provided by the T. V. "IRPINIA" of 21,000 tons displacement and 16 knots, sailing every month from Montreal from April until November to Genoa, Naples and Palermo. Return sailings to Montreal will also take place monthly and also scheduled monthly from these three Ports in Italy.

DISTAFF SIDE

A distaff is a staff which holds the flax ready to be spun off into threads. Since women of a family spun and wove, the distaff became the symbol of the female branch, or 'distaff side."

7:30 P.M. Sermon Subject:

TO DRINK OR NOT TO DRINK?

What is the sane, modern, Christian attitude? In this, the Thirteenth on Life Situations, Mr. Rawson will seek to face up to one of the most vexatious problems of modern living:—

(1). Is it wisest to teach children to handle drink at home?

(2). The problem of the young couple in suburbia, and their social life.

(3). The Executive, and business drinking.

The Home – II

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

The second thing reported from the Home in Nazareth is that "He was subject unto them;" and He "advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men." There is nothing spectacular in the words; they are exactly what one would expect in the report of a normally devout "Son of the Law." He was observing the Commandments concerning His relationships with God and His family and His neighbors and He met with the response one would expect. As He was subject to His Heavenly Father, so He was subject to His earthly foster-father. Yet it always comes with a little shock to find that subjection was a necessary part of His life. Perhaps, with this in mind, we are less troubled later to find that even suffering was necessary to Him.

"He advanced in wisdom and stature" reminds us that the humanity of Our Lord was a real humanity. Just as He had questioned the doctors of the Law to acquire knowledge, so He must have questioned His teachers in the Synagogue school to acquire knowledge of history and Scripture and arithmetic. He may have been as weak in mathematics as I was. We are reminded, however, that He must have been a student, for He knew the history of His people and the writings of the prophets and the provisions of the Law. All that meant study.

Of course, "He advanced . . . in stature;" He went through the normal development of boyhood and young manhood; and as He passed through those stages of developing life He left His blessing upon each of them; the Cub and the Scout and the Rover can all feel in turn that He has shared in their discipline and their games. There is something very natural about His later picture of the children playing in the marketplace.

Again, the response of Jesus surprises us just a little: "He increased in favor with God and Men." He was always within God's favor or grace; that grace is infinite; how could He be more in it, or advance in it? This growth is referred to again in the Epistle to the Hebrews, where we are told: "It became Him (i.e., God), for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Author of their salvation (i. e., Jesus) perfect through sufferings (Heb. 2: 10 R.V.) Yet this same writer says: "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today, yea and for ever."

So it would seem that there is advance even in perfection, and advance without essential change. And if we bring the matter down to the level of our human lives it surely means that there is never a point at which we can stand still until we can say with St. Paul "I have finished my course."

Calvary service recalls start in 1877

Calvary United Church this Sunday celebrates the 82nd Anniversary of its founding on January 26, 1877.

On this Anniversary Sunday, a special offering will be received for the Renewal Program which provides for a renewing of the building and program of the church. This effort by the congregation is to prepare itself for continued service to help meet the needs of a changing area. Two outstanding changes that have been made in the past year have been the new kitchen costing nearly $4,500 and a new chapel costing $2,500.

The present minister, Rev. Charles R. Plaskett, will begin the third year of his ministry at Calvary Church with the celebration of the 82nd church anniversary.

The Anniversary preacher is the Reverend Dr. A. M. J. Gray, B.A., B.D. Dr. Gray was born in Scotland, graduated by the University of Edinburgh. In 1930 he graduated from Queen's Theological College, Kingston, Ontario. Following ordination in the Manitoba Conference in 1930, he was minister of the United Church in Carmen and in St. James United Church in Winnipeg. He has been minister in St. Paul's United Church, Ottawa, since 1946. His services in the Presbytery and Conferences of the United Church were acknowledged by his election as President of Montreal and Ottawa Conference for the year 1957-58.

The Anniversary Banquet will be held on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the church hall. Following the banquet there will be an interesting program with special music for the members and friends.

BEGINNINGS

The beginnings of Calvary Church date back to 1845 when under the auspices of Zion Congregational Church (founded in 1832) a branch Sunday School was started. The first building for the Sunday School was erected below Shaftesbury Hall and opened on December 21 1846.

The Sunday School grew to such proportions as to justify a new congregation which became known provisionally as the "Western Congregational Church" on February 16, 1875.

The same year Charles Cushing purchased a lot on Guy street below Dorchester as a site for the new church building. A fund was opened for this purpose with the mother church, Zion Congregational Church, contributing $5,000.

The formal organization of Calvary Church took place on the 26th of January, 1877, with 36 original members and a large Sunday School.

In 1896 the C.P.R. purchased part of the church property. Of the proceeds, $10,000, was given to form Bethlehem Congregational Church, on the corner of Western and Clarke avenues in Westmount.

In 1911 the C.P.R., expanding its services, purchased the property on which the Calvary Church building stood. At this time the Bethlehem and Calvary Churches decided to unite their membership and combine their resources to build a new church on the present location on Dorchester street west and Greene avenue. Having United in 1912, the corner stone of the new building was laid on June 8, 1912, by T. B. Macaulay and dedication services were held in November 1913.

UNTIL NOW

At present the church is engaged in a gradual effort to renew their building and attract new congregation members to compensate for those who have moved west to the suburbs.

The Planning Committee responsible for the changes and improvements made in the church recently issued a report of achievements of the 1957-58 year, including: a new $500 neon lighted sign for the front of the church, refinishing of the front doors, respacing of the pews in the sanctuary, installing of a public address system, electrical improvements throughout the church, construction of a new kitchen and kiddy korner nursery, acquisition of a new filmstrip projector, record player, and train heaters. Also, to be completed in February, is a new chapel valued at $2,500.

Temple Emanu-El

SABBATH SERVICES: Friday evening, January 23 at 8:15 Dr. Stern will speak on "Israel's Song" at Temple Emanu-El. Saturday morning, January 24 at 11:30 sermonette, "The Sabbath of Shira" based on torah portion.

BAR MITZVAH: At the Sabbath Services this Friday evening and Saturday morning, Ian, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zack, 5802 Davies avenue, will be called to the Reading of the Torah in observance of his Bar Mitzvah. A Kiddush reception will be held by the parents in the Temple community house 4in honor of the Bar Mitzvah.

"DR. ZHIVAGO" TO BE REVIEWED AT BOOK FORUM: At the Book Lovers' Forum under the auspices of Temple Sisterhood, Wednesday afternoon, January 28, 2:45 o'clock, at Victoria Hall, Westmount, Dr. D. J. Wilson will review Boris Pasternak's "Dr. Zhivago." Chairman, Mrs. Harry Joshua Stern; Co-Chairman, Mrs. Reuben Ginsberg. Tea will follow the forum.

LARGE REGISTRATION FOR INSTITUTE ON JUDAISM: Temple Emanu-El Institute on Judaism for clergy and educators takes place all day, Monday, February 2 with Professor Ellis Rivkin, as guest lecturer. Luncheon speaker will be Dr. Robert North, S.J. of Jerusalem. Already a large registration has taken place for this all important event which is now in its 18th year. The morning session which commences at 10:30 o'clock will be chaired by Dr. Stanley B. Frost, Dean of the Faculty of Divinity, McGill University while the afternoon session will be chaired by Dr. Wilfred Smith, Professor Comparative Religion and head of Islamic studies, McGill University. The luncheon session will be presided over by Rabbi Harry J. Stern. Attendance at the Institute is by invitation only.

ISRAELI AMBASSADOR TO ADDRESS 32nd ANNUAL FELLOWSHIP DINNER MEETING: The Temple Emanu-El Brotherhood is sponsoring the annual fellowship dinner which takes place on Wednesday evening, February 18, 6:45 o'clock, Temple Emanu-El. For the past 32 years the Men's club has sponsored these annual conclaves between Catholics, Jews and Protestants in observance of international brotherhood month. His Excellency Arthur Lourie, Israeli Ambassador to Canada will be the guest of honor and speaker. He will deal with the theme "Israel Among The Nations." Leading citizens of the community have been invited as head table guests. Reservations for this dinner are to be made at once with Harry Engels, RA. 8-9281 or Temple Office, WEllington 7-3675. Every member of the Brotherhood is requested to bring a non-Jewish friend as guest. Invitations have also been extended to the members of the Consular Corps to be guests on this most important occasion.

SCHOOL FOR ADULTS: Regular classes commencing at 8 o'clock, Monday evening, January 26 will take place with the following courses: The Bible As The Fountainhead of Learning; Elementary and Advanced Hebrew and Course In Leadership. At 8:45 o'clock, all students will assemble to attend a special lecture to be given by Dr. E. David Sherman.

DAILY SERVICES: Monday thru Thursday evenings at 5:45 p.m., Sunday mornings at 10:15 a.m. Those who recently conducted the worship were: Harry Engels, Stanley Marsh, Samuel Segal, Henry Benjamin, Alvin Florea, Dr. Lewis N. Poch.

WITH OUR TEMPLE SCHOOL: In the assemblies on Saturday and Sunday mornings special programmes in observance of Chamisha Asher B'Shevat will take place. Special songs commemorating Israeli Arbor Day will be rendered under the direction of Yehuda Vineberg, Mus. Bach. The High School, Confirmation and Post-Graduate Departments meet regularly on Saturday mornings at 9:45 a.m. The Kindergarten, Primary and Junior Departments on Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock. Daily Hebrew classes Monday through Thursday afternoons commencing at 3:30 o'clock.

KOFFEE KLUB: Sunday morning, January 25 at 10:15. Guest speaker will be Arthur S. Rosichan, executive director of Combined Jewish Appeal who will speak on "Problems Of World Jewry." The Koffee Klub is a project of the Home and School Association.

Westmount Baptist Church

In man's dream of a utopia and peace on earth, it is often forgotten that once ideal conditions were realized in Biblical records and yet men fell a second time. The gripping story of Noah's Ark is second in importance to what happened afterwards. "After the Ark" will be the sermon topic for the minister, the Rev. E. J. Bailey on Sunday morning and at night the subject will be entitled "Where They Sat."

Preparations are now almost complete for a Lenten School of Religion to be held on six successive Wednesday evenings in Lent, commencing February 11th and concluding March 18th. There will be three courses made available, "Bible Study" conducted by Dr. C. P. Martin, "Sunday School Teacher Training" by Miss Margaret Quigley, and "Love, Marriage and Christian Family Life" with Rev. E. J. Bailey as lecturer. These courses will be open to the public.

Rev. Myles Kelly to St. Anthony's

Rev. Myles Kelly, assistant priest at the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord for the past five and a half years, has been appointed parish priest of St. Anthony's parish and will be installed by His Excellency Bishop Lawrence P. Whelan at 8 p.m. Wednesday January 28.

Father Kelly started his priesthood at St. Anthony's where he served as curate immediately after his ordination. He has also been curate at St. Malachy's and St. Michael's church. Rev. Michael McKenna who has been at Holy Family, has been appointed to the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord to replace Father Kelly.

St. James United Church

On Sunday, January 25, St. James United Church will hold services at 11.00 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Rev. Norman Rawson will preach at both services.

At 11.00 a.m. the minister will deliver the eleventh in his series on the Sermon on the Mount, and has chosen for his topic "Spiritual Surgery."

At 7.30 p.m. the service will be directed to one of our most modern problems, "To Drink, or not to Drink?"

At 8.45 p.m. St. James welcomes the Salvation Army Citadel Band, and a Harbor Light Group from Toronto, men and women from executive and other positions who have met and conquered alcoholism and narcotics.

Young People's Fellowship will follow immediately afterwards.

Christian Science

The vital importance of having a strong, spiritual foundation will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

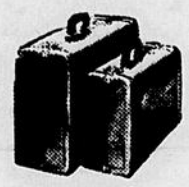

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" is the Golden Text from Deuteronomy (32: 3,4): "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he."

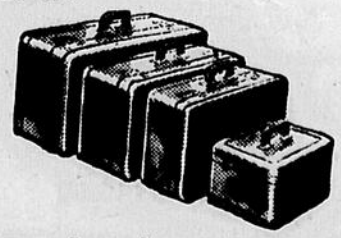

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (481: 8-9): "Through spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves Deity."

Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Psalms 18: 30, 31): "As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him. For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God?"

Patterson-Blickstead wedding held recently at Loyola Church

The marriage of Mary Lena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Blickstead of Notre Dame de Grace, to Mr. Anthony James Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anthony Patterson of Westmount, took place on Saturday, December 27, at St. Ignatius of Loyola Church. Rev. Father Gerald McGuigan officiated. Mr. James Monaghan played the wedding music. Fred Fisher, cousin of the bridegroom, served as altar boy during the mass. Silver Christmas trees and poinsettias formed the decorations in the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a short gown of champagne chiffon over silk taffeta, with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace and a bouffant skirt. Her matching veil was shoulder length, and she carried a prayer book covered with white and pink mums.

Miss Dorothy Charnock as maid of honor wore a short gown of bronze taffeta having a fitted bodice and full skirt and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of mums.

Mr. Kent Farrell acted as best man for Mr. Patterson and the ushers were Mr. Brian Patterson, brother of the bridegroom and Mr. Gordon Blickstead, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Blickstead, the bride's mother, wore a street length gown of rosewood peau de soie with small rose petal covered hat, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Patterson mother of the bridegroom was in a Swiss (Marty) model gown of blue wool with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Edmund Foster, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of blue peau de soie with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held at the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club where decorations were carried out with Christmas trees and holly, following which Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left on a trip to Quebec City. The bride wore for travelling a moss green wool suit, rust colored accessories and a corsage of gold and bronze mums.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garinther of Toronto.

Testament of beauty

Love is not blind,
But looks beyond the outer form,
To inward beauties of the heart and mind,
That only those who love, can ever find.

Love may be blind to faults,
Someone has found,
It only sees the soul within,
A Jewel case, where priceless gems abound.

Noted Neurologist to act as moderator in panel discussion

Dr. Reuben Rabinovitch, Senior Neurologist at the Jewish General Hospital and Assistant Neurologist at the Montreal Neurological Institute, will act as Moderator in what promises to be an interesting and provocative panel discussion, sponsored by the West End Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada on Wednesday, January 28 at 8:30 p.m. at the University Settlement of Montreal, 3553 St. Urbain street.

The Panel will include Dr. J. B. R. Cosgrove, in charge of basic and clinical research on Multiple Sclerosis at the Montreal Neurological Institute, Reverend E. Powell Aikens, of the Presbyterian Church of the Town of Mount Royal, Father P. Dickinson of the Catholic Inquiry Forum and Rabbi S. Herschorn, Chief Rabbi, Jewish Community Council of Montreal. Because adversity of one form or another affects most of us, we are certain that this discussion on "How To Face Adversity" will be interesting and helpful to everyone.

Even though a person cannot always beat his particular form of adversity, with help he can frequently learn to face it — and to live with it. These men are particularly well-qualified to discuss the problem of adversity and will speak to us from their abundance of wisdom, knowledge and experience.

The public is cordially invited to attend and we urge you to make this discussion on "How To Face Adversity" a not-to-be-missed event and to take part in the question period following the discussion. Multiple Sclerosis Patients requiring free transportation to and from the get-together, kindly telephone Mrs. S. Spindel, RE. 8-7577. Refreshments will be served.

Evening Branch WA

The semi-monthly meeting of Trinity Memorial Evening Branch WA, will be held at 8 p.m. today in the Ladies room of the church. New members are cordially invited to attend.

Fine Arts show opens today

An exhibition of some 40 works of African sculpture, including masks used in sacrificial ceremonies and statues to drive away malevolent spirits, opens at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts today and continues until February 8.

The works are all valuable antiques on loan from Segy Gallery, New York, and are being circulated in this country by the National Gallery of Canada.

The collection will later be shown in Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., and St. John, N. B.

The sculptures represent the various kinds of carvings which had their provenance in the French Sudan, French Equatorial Africa, the Gold Coast (Ghana), the Ivory Coast, Nigeria, the Cameroons and the Belgian Congo.

The wood carvings are made from boughs or small tree trunks, usually or of pale wood which was rubbed with oil, colored or later stained by use.

Heads of all the figures are disproportionately large because they represent the centre of the spirit.

Flyers, Indians atop of pee wee

Flyers hold a four-point lead in the Westmount Pee Wee "A" loop over the second place Academites.

Undefeated with four wins and two draws Flyers trounced their closest rivals last time out by a 3 - 1 count.

Tim Rothwell scored twice as did Ronny McJannet; Darrell Munro and hard-working Mike Dench got one each. Julie Desjardins notched the St. Leo's goal, aided by Tony Loftus.

PEE WEE "B"

Indians are atop the "B" section, two points up on Dalhousie. These teams put on a thrilling display with Indians eking out a 3-2 victory on a goal by John Keyserlingk late in the third period. Robin Esmonde-White, although held off the score sheet, was the outstanding player on the ice.

When Milt Schmidt named his starting lineup for the National League All-Stars before their game with the Montreal Canadiens away back in early October, he named his defensemen first, Doug Mohns and Ferny Flaman.

Westmount recreation termite hockey is most popular along with mosquito

Westmount's six team Termite League, with players ranging from seven to ten years of age, have reached the half way mark of the season's schedule.

This league is the most popular operated by the Recreation Department, with Saturday morning games witnessed by large parent turnouts.

Bisons, under Dick Dunbar, are unbeaten with nine points. Led by Brian Hoffman, Philip Thom and Stephen Kerrigan, they maintained their pace by beating Rangers 3-1.

Len MacDonald tallied for Rangers, who though winless, have a unique record with one loss and four ties in five starts.

The second place Dukes, guided by John Kennedy, whitewashed Gillie Beasant's Barons 7-0. Paul Ono fired four, Chris Compton a pair and John Galley a single. John Ojalammi has had but one goal scored on him in five games.

Ricky Rubin set up a pair of goals for Peter Hershorn and Billy Clelland to give Braves a 2-1 win over Maple Leafs. Dalton Barnoff scored for Leafs.

MOSQUITO "B"

Last Saturday morning at the Westmount Artificial Rink, four mosquito and three termite games were played.

In the opener of the mosquito league leading Crowns squeaked out a 1-0 win over the third place Hawks on a goal by John Jear, assisted by Learmont.

Jear played a good game offensively, but the outstanding player of the game was goalie Ross Tyldsley. Hawks had several scoring chances, but could not penetrate the Tyldsley curtain.

Dragons trounced a very listless Ranger team 10-0. Al Case was the Dragon's best flamethrower in scorching the twine four times. Richard Dobell was the leading point scorer with three goals and one assist.

Billy Holden collected the other marker for the winners and young Larry Crouch collected three assists. For the Rangers, Ian Patrick was the hardest worker.

MOSQUITO "A"

Wings continued their winning ways by downing the Canadians 3-0. John Shayer, Billy McJannet and Tim Casgrain were the marksmen for the league leading Wings.

This team has a roster of real diggers and have earned every win they scored. Canadians' Donelly, Fennell and McHugh were the outstanding players for their team.

Raiders and Cadets played to a one-all draw. Johnson scored for the Raiders and McCormick for Cadets. This was a dull game with neither team showing any spark.

Bishop's plays Loyola Friday

Tomorrow night at Loyola Stadium at eight o'clock Loyola Warriors hockey team will play host to the Bishop's Gaiters. The game should prove an interesting match as the Warriors, having won two, tied and lost one, are in second place behind C.M.R.who has won two and tied two.

The Warriors must win all of their remaining games if they wish to capture the Ottawa-St. Lawrence league crown.

Last weekend the Warriors split two games, winning one and losing the other.

On Friday the Warriors romped to a 6-4 win over R.M.C. Scoring for the Warriors were Bob Beaureguard, Jimmy O'Reilly, Leo Harris, Buddy Moore, Luc Henrico and Mike Labrosse.

On Saturday the Maroon and White squad was surprisingly upset by MacDonald College, the League's cellar dweller.

The MacDonald team scored six goals in the first pediod and then roared on to a 9-6 win over the downhearted Loyola team. Scoring for the Warriors were Labrosse, Henrico, Beaureguard, Ion Sheehan, Morre and O'Reilly.

Lions, Varsity bantam leaders

Royals and St. Leo's of the bantam "A" league played a hard fought battle and St. Leo's came out on top of a 3-2 count.

Peter Johnson scored twice and Maurice Cusson once for the Clarke avenue squad. Tony Tyrrell, Connie Nucci, Claude Servant and Allan Keith turned in fine games for the winners.

Buddy McKaig, Bert Wingfield, George Carpenter and Fred Powers were best for the losers.

Clark received a game misconduct and must appear before the Recreation Department before he can participate again.

BANTAM "B"

Front-running McGill and cellar-dwelling Harvard showed a reversal of form. Previously unbeaten McGill got their lumps from Varsity 5-2, while hapless Harvard dumped Acadia 4-2 in bantam "B" games.

Ian Black, rangy Varsity forward, led his teammates to the win with a pair of goals. Ian Dunbar, Tim Chisholm and Tony Rother, the leagues top defenceman, added singles.

Mike DiTomasso and Ron Blumer scored for McGill. Edgardo Garcia, and Paul Hershorn gave Harvard a much needed lift combining to give their squad its first win of the season.

Snow cancels Unity Mosquito hockey start

The inauguration of the Unity Mosquito Hockey House league scheduled to start last week has been postponed due to the severe snow conditions, however, Boys' Work Supervisor Pat Geary has great hopes of the league getting underway this week.

To date, 18 boys have registered and several more are needed to round out the four-team league.

Both the pee wee team under coach Danny O'Shea and the bantams under Coach Doug Wright have earned a record in league play to date.

Florida was ceded to the United States in 1819.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By Peter Johnson

St. Leo's Senior B hockey team was defeated 5 to 1 by a superior Chambly County High team at Verdun Auditorium last Friday afternoon.

The Academy gang showed some smart hockey during their preseason exhibition games but went into a tailspin once the schedule got underway. Chambly iced a much bigger and older club that wore down the locals as the game progressed. Dave White notched the sole counter for the losers on a penalty shot. Paul Froio, Mike Johnson, Allan Keith and Claude Fleury worked hard to stem the Southshore onslaught but received little help from their mates.

On Monday evening in another scheduled game played at Westmount's new artificial rink, the Academy played its neighbors from Westmount High and put up a stubborn battle before going down to a close 2-1 defeat at the hands of the league leaders. St. Leo's went into an early lead on a goal from Dave White and backed up by a stellar performance in the nets from Claude Fleury held the well staffed Westmount High team at bay until well past the half way mark in the last period.

An injury to Allan Keith reduced the team to two defencemen and from here in were no match for the fast stepping Westmount forwards who notched two fast goals to salt the game away. Mike Johnson, Paul Froio, Dave White and George Spare played exceedingly well for the Clarke avenue puckchasers but the teams lack of depth was the big reason that marred a fine performance by St. Leo's.

It was a fine well played game, slowed up only at times by the drifting snow blowing in from the west side of the rink.

RMR in 5-3 win over the Guards

Regiment de Maisonneuve upset Black Watch in the Military Fastball League by scoring a 16-15 decision over the league leaders.

In another game Royal Montreal Regiment defeated Grenadier Guards by a 5-3 count.

Yvon Poirier with four hits paced Maisonneuve to victory.

Dick Dore, Guy Riendeau and Claude Bastien divided the pitching chores.

Tommy Price and Laurie Burpee picked up three hits each for Maisonneuve.

Mary Bergson was the winning pitcher for RMR over Guards. Chill Heward starred at the plate with three hits.

Badminton play set for Jan. 31

The Montreal Badminton and Squash Club will hold their Annual Junior and Juvenile Badminton Tournament starting Saturday, January 31. The events to be played will be junior and juvenile boys and girls singles and doubles. Play will commence at 9:30 a.m.

Members of the Unity Boys' club have been invited to participate, and the following will take part: Larry Dallas, John O'Driscoll, Keith Gavin, Wayne Dallas, Joan Driver and Mona O'Brien.

Girls' Work Supervisor Crystal Cunningham, who is handling Unity's entries reports that others in the club are also welcome if they are in the following age categories: Under 18 before October 1st, 1958 for junior events, and under 15 before October 1st, 1958 for juvenile events.

Flyers in surprise 4-1 win over third place Bombers

Flyers came through with the Westmount Intermediate hockey surprise of the season by downing the Bombers 4-1. Rollie Loftus had his boys up for this one.

Bobby Gaylor nótched 2 goals on assists by Sonny Gavin. Mike McNally picked up one goal and scored the other goal.

Gauvin, Gaylor, McNally, Cavanaugh and McGivern were the best for the winners. Tommy Grant, Frank Jago, Joe Lauzier and Ron Ahern played well for the losers.

League leading Wanderers handed the cellar-dwelling Orphans a 13-2 drubbing.

The Orphans started away fine and at the end of the first period were leading 2-1. However, the bottom fell out of their craft and there were no lifesavers to keep them afloat. Nykoluk was the big gun with four goals and one assist.

Paul Hamilton turned in a fine game with two goals and four assists. Winnie Robinson collected a hat trick and Austin Smith picked up one goal and three assists. Palmer and Roche connected for the other markers.

Brian Heaney, Bird, David Keith were the only players showing desire for the losers.

Another major upset was when Flyers shot down the Stars 4-2. McCormick, Fisher, Gavin and Gaylor were the gunners for the Flyers. McNally, Painchaud and Kavanaugh also played well for the winners.

Pat Lomasney and Ross Murray were the marksmen for the losers. Murray and Fisher were banished for five for rough play and Guy Bonnier received a game misconduct.

Dot Mariasine pots 42 points as Unity juniors win 89-28

Unity Hawkettes wrapped up their fourth straight junior Montreal Ladies' Basketball League triumph swamping Tauras 89-28 in a regular loop fixture played at Unity Boys' Club. The win gave Unity sole possession of first place in the MLBL standings.

UBC's starry forward Dot Mariasine, who seems to improve with every game, topped the scoring for the winners with 42 points.

Mariasine had her left-handed lay-up shot working to perfection throughout the game, and this combined with some shaky checking by Tauras defenders paved the way for her impressive point total.

Ellen Mynnik, youngest member of Unity, hooped in 14 points while teammate Nickie Johnson added 10 more. Unity's defensive chores were handled in fine fashion by guards, Sandra Thomas, Gail Gollan and team captain Peggy Birkett.

Maryte Siniute of Tauras scored 12 points, tops for her club, before fouling out early in the fourth quarter. Teammate Edita Buduilaite added seven more points for the losers.

Although behind in the game from the very first basket, Tauras kept right after their more experienced opponents throughout the entire tilt and on several occasions showed some classy man to man passing that had Unity stymied.

Poor shooting from outside the bucket area and unsteady trys at the free throw lane kept Tauras from scoring additional points.

Hawkettes held a comfortable 40-17 cushion at half-time and were never in any danger of losing the contest. Referee Andy Spura called a total of 37 fouls with Unity catching the eye of the official on 20 counts.

In the free throw department, Tauras hit the twine successfully in ten attempts out of 23. UBC could only manage five points out of 17 trys at the charity stripe.

Unity meets Tauras again Saturday at Unity Boys' Club with the game set for a 3:45 p.m. start. This game represents a tilt that was postponed earlier in the league schedule.

Unity cage teams suffer setbacks

Unity's cage warriors who previously had boasted of a whirlwind winning streak, tasted defeat in four out of six regular scheduled league games.

Bantams lost to East End Boys' Club 40-27.

Midgets came from behind to eke out a victory against Point St. Charles 28-25.

Juveniles lost their first league game to Snowdon YMHA 37-43 after having defeated the "Y" two straight.

Juniors suffered their second defeat of the season by a small margin at McGill University 53-50.

Senior "B" aggregation who were undefeated in league play with four straight wilted in the final seconds to Golden Knights-Unity and lost 54-52.

The only other bright spot in the week's play was the ladies junior Hawkettes decisive win against Tauras whom they defeated by an overwhelming 40 points.

Despite the week's losses, all Unity teams are assured of a playoff berth with the majority of the teams still leading their respective sections.

Unity, Greenfield pace lady cagers

Unity Boys' Club Junior Hawkettes and Greenfield Park juveniles are currently perched atop their respective sections in the Montreal Ladies' Basketball league, according to official standings released by Mrs. R. A. Rawlins, MLBL secretary.

Both the Unity juniors and Greenfield Park juveniles are undefeated in four starts. The showings of these two teams to date seem to indicate that only a major upset in future games will stop the leaders from grabbing the championships of the MLBL.

In the juvenile, Southwestern Y under the guidance of Barbara Hastings are having a tough time against more experienced opposition, so far they have been keeping their league commitments in the true spirit of good sportsmanship.
