BRITISH EMBASSY IN MOSCOW SHOT-UP

World News In Brief

Ottawa—(C)—The Red Ensign flew upside down on a government building, the second such incident in two weeks, it was reported Saturday. This time the flag flew upside down for several hours on the justice building. Flying a flag upside down is an international distress signal.

Port Of Spain, Trinidad—(P)—Vernon Roberts, the Calypso musician known as the "Mighty Panther," said Saturday he is on his way to England to "sing at the wedding" of Princess Margaret. Roberts sang for the princess during her Caribbean tour.

Washington—(P)—The U.S. military high command has issued an iron-clad order that long-range strategic bombers shall take off and strike back in the event of any enemy attack on the United States.

There are, it may be said on the highest authority, "very detailed and precise plans" for the instant issuing of orders for launching retaliatory bombing action, even though the president of the United States may be incapacitated or cut off by sudden attack.

London—(P)—Britain has disapproved of a U.S. suggestion to publish the record of the 1945 Yalta conference attended by President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

The Yalta parley laid down the terms for Russia's entry into the war against Japan.

Avegno, Switzerland—(P)—Theodor Plivier, 63, German author, died Sunday after a heart attack. He emigrated to Russia in 1933 and in 1947 returned to Germany. Plivier was the author of "Stalingrad," "Moscow" and "Berlin," describing the battles for these cities as turning points of the war.

New York—(P)—The Furness liner Queen of Bermuda, manned by all but 40 of the crew members who went on strike a week ago, resumed passenger service between New York and Bermuda Saturday. The crew went on strike in protest against firing of three waiters. The 40 who refused to go back to work were sent to England on the French liner Liberte Saturday morning.

Hollywood—(P)—It's a new baby girl from Jimmy Ritz, 49, of the Ritz Brothers comedy team. His wife, Judy, 22, gave birth to the six-pound baby Sunday.

Today's Chuckle

A man finally bought a parrot at an auction after some spirited bidding. "I suppose the bird talks," he said to the auctioneer. "Talks?" was the reply. "He's been bidding against you for the past hour."

Unholy Alliance

Church Opposes Townsend Match

London—(P)—An Anglican bishop, who two decades ago warned King Edward VIII against marrying a divorcee, urged Sunday that Princess Margaret abandon any plan to wed divorced RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

Dr. Alfred Blunt, Bishop of Bradford, said in an interview with a Sunday newspaper that he did not see Queen Elizabeth II—as "defender of the faith"—could consent to her sister entering into such a union.

The Church of England has steadfastly opposed the remarriage of a divorced person, even an innocent party, as in Townsend's case.

The bishop says that if newspaper reports of Margaret's marital plans were true, "it would seem that the only solution would be for one of the parties involved to say they would not go ahead with their plans."

The bishop caused a wide stir when he warned Edward now the Duke of Windsor—against marrying Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Demands Bevan Resign

London—(P)—An elder statesman of Britain's Labor movement Saturday demanded that leftwinger Aneurin Bevan resign from the Labor party "as the only decent course."

Emanuel Shinwell, 71-year-old former defence minister, said persistent flouting of majority party decisions by Bevan must stop.

Another labor MP, Anthony Greenwood, expressed fear Bevan's loss would weaken the party in its next election fight against the Conservatives.

Greenwood said the party "is not so powerful that it can throw aside anyone with Mr. Bevan's great qualities without seriously weakening itself."

Bevan will learn his fate Wednesday when Labor members of Parliament vote on a motion to oust him from the party parliamentary organization for flouting its rules and majority decisions.

Ottawa Balks At Aid Plan For Pipeline

Ottawa—(CP)—The question of how to finance the proposed 2,200-mile natural gas pipeline from Alberta to the East is still a question.

The federal cabinet met Saturday to consider for the second time in a week a request for Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., for a government guarantee of its bonds, expected to total about $275,000,000.

After the meeting, Prime Minister St. Laurent told reporters the cabinet wants "something concrete" from the company before deciding whether to back the $300,000,000 project.

"The company has been discussing it with the Industrial Development Bank, and still is," said Mr. St. Laurent, "and if the bank comes along with a method they agree would be proper and likely to be successful, that method would get consideration."

Meanwhile, any government action "will await the information we get."

The company sought federal backing when it ran into snags completing supply and sales contracts.

Under its present setup, the industrial bank couldn't be of much help. It can make loans to private companies, but much of its $25,000,000 capital is already on loan.

The government has been reported considering amending the Industrial Development Bank legislation to allow help for Trans-Canada.

Rocking Craze Catches Quebec

Quebec—(P)—Quebec province's bewildering rocking-chair marathon craze swayed to a standstill Sunday—temporarily at least.

Andre Dignard, 19, ended Quebec City's contest, quitting after 67 hours and 25 minutes. He didn't come close to the "world's record" set Saturday at Cap St. Ignace.

Dignard carried off about $1,000 collected from about 35,000 persons who thronged the little downtown hall where 12 youths started rocking chairs Thursday night.

Chinese Massing Mainland Troops

Taipei—(Reuters)—About 250,000 Chinese Communist troops are massed on mainland coastal province of Fukien ready to attack the Nationalist offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu "at any moment," usually reliable Nationalist sources said here Sunday.

Admiral Alfred M. Pride, commander of the United States 7th Fleet and Nationalist officers, have worked out "a concrete plan" to deal with a Communist attack on either island, the sources said.

18 Seamen Lost in Greek Rescue

Athens—(Reuters)—Seven British and 11 Greek merchant seamen were drowned off the Italian coast when a lifeboat capsized during all-night rescue operations, radio reports received here said today.

Margaret can wed without royal consent when she becomes 25 next Aug. 21, provided she renounces all successions claims to the throne. She is third in line.

The paper quotes Bishop Blunt as saying he did not see how the church could relax its rules for Margaret.

All but four of London's 11 Sunday papers gave prominent play to the reported romance.

The Reynolds News urged Buckingham Palace to make a public statement about the marriage reports.

"The truth must be known in court circles," The Reynolds News said. "Is it not time court advisers decided to recommend a statement that would either demolish or confirm the rumors?"

In Sydney, Australia, the morning Sun-Herald announced it had fired Richard Martin, correspondent who, after an interview in Brussels with Townsend Friday night, quoted him as saying: "If a situation should demand my exile and that of a certain lady, we should, of course, accept it."

Townsend termed the statement "pure invention."

"It must be treated with the contempt it deserves," he told an interviewer.

Townsend said that as far as he knows, Princess Margaret has made no decision to marry him.

ROYAL ROMANCE II

London—(P)—A gossip columnist for the Sunday Express says the Duke of Kent, 19-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth, is shining up to a flower girl.

The item says the duke has been dining and dancing with blonde Mary Williamson, 20, who sells flowers in a Bond street hotel. The columnist says Miss Williamson already has learned three rules that all the young duke's companions have mastered:

1. "Don't call be 'Eddy'. Call me 'Edward'."
2. Teach him the latest dance steps.
3. Talk about fast cars.

Russian Guard Hurt, Attaches Nab Intruder

MOSCOW—(P)—A husky gunman shot his way into the British embassy Sunday night, seriously wounding a Russian police guard who tried to stop him.

The fur-batted Russian intruder was overpowered and disarmed by two unarmed British embassy attaches after he had forced his way upstairs to the living quarters of Ambassador Sir William and Lady Hayter.

Sir William and Lady Hayter were in the country skiing at the time of the incident and returned just as the gunman was being handed over to Russian police.

No motive for the armed invasion of the embassy could be learned.

This dispatch was telephoned from Moscow to London. The call was broken at this point by an operator who said in Russian: "There will be no more of this call for the present."

Fear Danger From Blasts In Nevada

Denver, Col.—(P)—Two scientists at the University of Colorado said Saturday that radioactive fall-out from the Nevada nuclear tests has reached the point in Colorado where it can no longer be ignored by those concerned with public safety.

Governor Edwin C. Johnson called their announcement a "phony report" and said they should be arrested.

"The report will only alarm people," he said. "Someone has a screw loose some place and I intend to find out about it."

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman in Washington said that on the basis of the readings taken by the doctors, "the commission is of the opinion there is no concern for the public and that the radioactivity is inconsequential."

He forced aside the British guard at the door and run up the broad staircase.

He ran into the great state dining room, hung with portraits of Queen Victoria, King Edward VII and George V and was trapped there by the embassy attaches.

Reports here were that there was strong possibility that Czech and Romanian diplomats would be asked to leave Sweden. Indications were that the Romanian legation was deeply involved in the spy ring.

Police picked up 10 suspects over the weekend and the 11th today. They include five Swedes, three Czechs, a Romanian, a German and one unidentified foreigner.

Although the two spy groups apparently operated independently, police struck at both simultaneously for fear one ring would tip off the other.

Informed sources said the Romanian legation was deeply involved in the alleged spy plot and might be closed as a result.

Government Re-Attacked In Hungary

Budapest radio reported a new attack by bullet-headed Matyas Rakosi, an old rival of Nagy who was pushed out of the top post when the premier took over in 1953.

Five days have passed without a word from Nagy since the original denunciation by Rakosi, Communist party first secretary, accusing him of "right-wing, anti-Marxist, Budapest radio quoted a news speech in which Rakosi charged that "rightwing deviationists tried to destroy the unity of the party." He claimed that "all these attacks were defeated successfully and the party is now stronger and more united than ever."

Assassinator To Undergo Mental Exam

Nagpur, India—(P)—A 32-year-old rickshaw puller charged with attempting to murder Prime Minister Nehru was under observation today in a mental hospital.

Babu Rao Laxman Kochale leaped on Nehru's automobile here Saturday with a six-inch knife. The 65-year-old prime minister pushed the man away and police arrested him at once.

Babu Rao was arraigned before a Nagpur magistrate Sunday on a charge of attempted murder and ordered held for a further hearing within two weeks. Officials said further action would be decided after they receive the report on the mental examination.

One newspaper reports Babu Rao told police his action was "the only way" to draw attention to his own personal difficulties. The account did not say what he meant by this.

Police also were reported seeking past associates of Babu Rao. He is a native of western India's Maharashtra region. A man from the same region was hanged for having a part in the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi in 1948.

Indian law sets a maximum of 10 years' imprisonment for persons convicted of attempted murder.

Israeli Patrol Routs Arabs

London—(Reuters)—Israel radio said Sunday night one Arab was wounded in a clash with an Israeli patrol on the Jordanian border Sunday.

Quoting an Israeli military spokesman in Jerusalem, it said the clash occurred when a group of Arabs were found harvesting on Israel territory in the Hebron sector.

"The army spokesman said that the patrol opened fire and put the Arabs to flight, wounding one of them," it added.

Sutton, Eng.—(Reuters)—

Edward C. H. Rowland, 72, who wrote the First World War song "Mademoiselle From Armentieres," died Saturday night. In March 1915 trying to think up a bright number for a troop show, Rowland wrote the lyric in half an hour at an Armentieres cafe and a Canadian friend, Lieut. Gitz Rice, set it to music in 1915.

RICHMOND TENEMENT GUTTED

FIREMEN BREAK IN—Two members of the Richmond Fire Department break through the upstairs window of the five-family Main st. tenement that burned stubbornly for four hours Saturday morning. Fire was still raging inside the old building as this picture was taken. Richmond brigade won high praise for their prompt arrival and determined bid to stem blaze which caused damage estimated at $50,000. (Record Photo by Pierre Rochette)

Five Richmond Families Left Homeless

Richmond—Five families are homeless and destitute here today, the result of a $50,000 fire that swept through the E. S. Cogan tenement building Saturday morning.

Fire Chief Donat Sevigny is still trying to determine the cause of the Main street blaze that took firemen more than four hours to extinguish. Three small stores on the ground floor also were gutted.

The families were quickly taken in by friends and relatives here. Almost none of their belongings survived the fire.

The homeless were listed as Mrs. Mabel Blanchette, her son Dale and a roomer, Frank Beard; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Morin, who operated a restaurant in the building, and their daughter Louise, aged three; Bernadette and Lucie Morin (sisters of Roland Morin); Lucille Girouard; B. Beauchesne; Mrs. Arthur Cote and family, who operated a remnant store in the building; Mrs. Amedes Leblon, remnant store operator; and Mr. and Mrs. Jean Dore Desoteau and family.

Three explosions rent the air as the flames swept through the upper story of the old building. The fire, which apparently started on the second floor, had gained a strong hold before firemen were notified. They arrived quickly, but by that time flames were bursting through the roof.

Owner of the building, E. S. Cogan, paid high praise to the work of the Richmond fire brigade which he said had saved the building from utter destruction. Mr. Cogan, president of the Richmond and Melbourne Merchants' Association, purchased the building 10 years ago.

Sweden Cracks Spy Rings, May Expel Red Diplomats

Stockholm—(AP)—Sweden may expel Czech and Romanian diplomats, the result of the third Red spy roundup in four years.

Informed sources said today that foreign Minister Oesten Unden probably would summon diplomatic representatives of both Romania and Czechoslovakia this week "for some stern conversation."

Swedish police are holding 11 persons suspected of spying for the two Iron Curtain countries. They were believed to belong to two separate spy rings.

Reports here were that there was strong possibility that Czech and Romanian diplomats would be asked to leave Sweden. Indications were that the Romanian legation was deeply involved in the spy ring.

Police picked up 10 suspects over the weekend and the 11th today. They include five Swedes, three Czechs, a Romanian, a German and one unidentified foreigner.

Although the two spy groups apparently operated independently, police struck at both simultaneously for fear one ring would tip off the other.

Informed sources said the Romanian legation was deeply involved in the alleged spy plot and might be closed as a result.

Trade Minister Predicts Quebec Industrial Boom

St. Johns, Que.—(CP)—Hon. Paul Beaulieu, Quebec minister of trade and commerce, said Saturday he is convinced that many new industries will establish themselves close to Quebec's natural resources.

In the last 10 years Quebec has enjoyed unprecedented industrial expansion and "still we have only touched the surface of our soil," said Mr. Beaulieu.

He was addressing 75 Canadian, American and European newspaper men at the conclusion of a six-day tour of the main industrial centres of the province. The tour was organized in conjunction with a 10-day exhibition in Montreal where the products of some Quebec industries were on display.

Mr. Beaulieu, addressing his remarks particularly to the American reporters, said Quebec invites foreign capital investment to help with the development of resources.

He said he is sometimes criticized for inviting foreign capital here. Some charged that he was selling out the resources of the province to foreigners.

"I am convinced that when we invite foreign capital, we are not selling out," said Mr. Beaulieu. "We are providing for the development of resources that cannot be allowed to sleep forever."

Joe Would Fight To Free POW's

Everett, Mass.—(P)—Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.) says that if necessary he would "start a war" to win freedom of 526 United States servicemen he claims are being held prisoner in Red China.

McCarthy said: "If it were necessary to start a war to get those men back I would say yes, by all means. But we need not start a war."

He suggested the United States tell "our so-called allies" that they "won't get one red cent of American money" until the Americans are freed.

King Of Nepal Dies In Zurich

Zurich, Switzerland—(Reuters)—King Tribhuvan of Nepal died here Saturday. He was 48.

King Tribhuvan arrived in Zurich on Friday to continue treatment for a heart complaint from which he had been suffering.

He resumed treatment he began last year under Prof. Wilhelm Loeffler, a well-known Swiss heart specialist.

For two months before going to Zurich the king stayed at Nice, on the French Riviera.

Entombed For 19 Hours, Miner Saved

Cobalt, Ont.—(P)—A veteran hardrock miner, entombed by a rock fall at the 260-foot level of a silver mine, was freed Saturday after being trapped in a crouching position for 19 hours.

Basil Ruddy, 39, was standing on a platform near the top of a 40-foot vertical shaft when his caving bar broke through an abandoned horizontal shaft. Some 400 tons of loose rock poured into the shaft and imprisoned him beneath an overhanging ledge with a clearance of about 2½ feet.

There he waited while five-man rescue crews, working in half-hour shifts, cleared away the rock to free him.

His wife kept an all-night vigil at the pithead of the Nipissing-O'Brien silver mine in this northern Ontario town. Their six children, awaiting word at home, stayed up all night too.

Ruddy suffered only a slight bruise over his left eye and a stiff neck. Two years ago he lost two fingers in a mine accident.

Hamilton—(P)—Union demands for wage increases for 1,400 employees of International Harvester Company here were rejected Saturday in the majority report of a special conciliation board. The United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) Local 2868 asked a seven-cent increase in the hourly base rate which at present is $1.32.

AT THE PREMIER CINEMA

Robert Newton, in a romantic mood with Jean Rollins in a scene from "The Beachcomber," a technicolor film opening Wednesday at the Premier Cinema.

One of Somerset Maugham's finest tales provides the story for the screenplay of "The Beachcomber," opening on Wednesday at the Premier Cinema through United Artists release. The odd and tender love story of a wretched Englishman and a missionary's sister takes place against the tropical background of an island in the South Seas, the setting of some of Maugham's best yarns. A. J. Arthur Rank presentation, "The Beachcomber" co-stars Glynis Johns, Robert Newton and Donald Sinden. It was produced by William MacQuitty and directed by Muriel Box from a screenplay by Sydney Box. Filmed in Technicolor, "The Beachcomber" was shot for the most part on location in the South Pacific. The large supporting cast is headed by Walter Crisham, Paul Rogers, Donald Pleasance and Michael Hordern. One of England's (and Hollywood's) most distinguished actors, Robert Newton who has created an entire gallery of unforgettablely wild and woolly characters, plays the role of raffish Ted, a disreputable remittance man living on a South Sea island.

The role of the missionary girl in "The Beachcomber" is played by Glynis Johns, daughter of the noted British star, Mervyn Johns, and a most distinguished actress in her own right. The hottest movie property in England at the moment is Donald Sinden, who in "The Beachcomber" plays the role of a harassed government official. A star from his first picture on, Sinden made his film debut in "The Cruel Sea," and has since appeared in "Mogambo," "A Day to Remember," "You Know What Sailors Are," and "Doctor in the House." Muriel Box is that extreme rarity, a top-flight woman director. The wife of Sydney Box, noted British film producer, Muriel began her association with the movies as a continuity girl, and in a short time turned to writing scripts. In recent years she has been acknowledged as one of England's top scenarists.

The Doofer Family

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY

ST PATRICK'S STORY

It was bedtime story time at the Doofer house. Daddie Doofer was attending a town meeting at the school house. Jolie, the happy baby, was sound asleep in her crib. Dollie had tucked Oofoe-Goofoe into his bed and he was pretending to be asleep—so he wouldn't miss anything. Dollie had said her prayers and Mommie was holding a shamrock in her hand.

She began softly: "Now, the patron saint of Ireland was really born in Dumbarton, Scotland, in the year 396, which was a long time ago. When he was 16 years old St. Patrick was captured by pirates and taken to Ireland and sold as a slave. He was kept there six years; then he escaped. Later he went back to Ireland as a missionary.

"The shamrock is the national flower of Ireland because St. Patrick used it as a symbol of the Trinity. He called one leaf God the Father, another God the Son, and the third leaf, God the Holy Spirit. That is why we wear the shamrock on St. Patrick's day.

"Then there is the legend that St. Patrick drove all the snakes and toads and things out of Ireland. You remember that?"

"Oh yes," Dollie laughed, "I love that part of the story. But I'd rather hear you tell about the Little People in Ireland, Mommie. Are there really truly Lep-lep-leps?"

"They are called Leprechauns," Mommie told her. Then she smiled: "I'd certainly like to believe they are real. They are such sweet little folk. So good and kind. And they live in the Emerald Isles of Ireland in lovely little flowers. At night they come out to sing and dance in the moonlight. The Irish people really believe in them."

"Oh, yes," Dollie laughed happily. "They SEE them. They're tiny wee men, no bigger than a minute and they wear funny little hats and short little pants and cute little shoes. They're just darling!"

"That they are," Mommie agreed, smiling. "Oh, my," Dollie yawned sleepily. "I wonder if there are really, truly Leprechauns. Wouldn't it be—just wonderful—to meet them? I'd just love to meet the little—people—Mommie," Dollie's voice trailed off. She was fast asleep. Mommie kissed her soft little pink cheek, turned out the light and tiptoed out. Then a wonderful thing happened.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

by Erskine Johnson

Hollywood — (NEA) — The Laugh Parade: There's magic in the "From Hollywood" label. Columbia Director Anthony Mann went by jeep to a remote mountain area, 110 miles from Mexico City, to scout locations for Vic Mature's next movie, "The Gilded Roster."

The news of a movie director from Hollywood spread from village to village and two small Mexican boys on horseback greeted Mann as he stopped to admire the scenic grandeur. They knew only one sentence in English but Mann was their man.

Without stopping for breath, they repeated over and over: "We rent our horses."

David Brian's telling about the three dogs who met in Beverly Hills. Two of them were pedigreed French poodles, the other a nondescript mutt. The male poodle haughtily announced his name was Pierre. The lady poodle identified herself as Denise.

Asked his name, the mutt replied: "Fido."

"Fido!" the poodles exclaimed. "Bon Dieu! Zai's a name? How do you spell it?"

The mutt drew himself up to his full height and said: "You spell it F-I-D-E-A-U-X!"

Irene Ryan, the comedienne, is perhaps best known for her domestic servant roles. She's played the part of a housekeeper in at least a dozen movies and on several TV shows. Recently she advertised for a maid. One applicant passed the qualifications on the phone and Irene invited her out to the house for a personal interview.

Irene says she answered the doorbell and the job-seeker immediately recognized her. With a fine sense of humor the jobless one said: "Oh, golly. I see you already got THIS job, too."

Jack Carson says he's mighty proud of his chef. "I sent him to pastry school and he graduated with flying colors."

Hugh O'Brien went to Oklahoma the other day to do a benefit. Because he will play legendary Oklahoma law man Wyatt Earp in a telefilm series, his agent cautioned him:

"Be careful what you say about Wyatt. He's a hero in Oklahoma. When you talk about him, do so with reverence. Let's not have another Paul Douglas incident—you know what happened to him in the south."

Several local dignitaries met Hugh when his plane landed and immediately asked him about his work in Hollywood. Very soberly, Hugh took off his ten gallon hat and said: "I've been very fortunate. I've been chosen to play Wyatt Earp on television."

There was a moment's silence before one of the natives replied, "Never heard of him."

Ald. W. H. Bradley Ready To Seek North Ward Election

Still Refuses To Consider Nomination For Mayoralty

Reports appearing in this paper on Saturday that he is prepared to stand for re-election as alderman for the North Ward if requested by the electors were confirmed this morning by Alderman Wesley H. Bradley, Q.C., in a prepared statement issued to the press.

The official statement released by Ald. Bradley clearly indicates that he intends to stand by his earlier declaration that he cannot consider accepting the nomination for the mayoralty, but that he will re-consider that part in which he declined to seek another term as alderman.

The declaration follows: "Since January when I made my declaration that I did not intend to seek municipal office in the April elections I have been under continuous pressure from my friends in all walks of life, both French and English speaking, to consider my position.

"For both personal and business reasons it is impossible for me to accept nomination for the mayoralty at this time. I say this with very real feelings of regret. However to be mayor of a city the size of Sherbrooke requires a sacrifice of time and effort that I find it is impossible for me to make. To accept nomination for an office to which I could not devote the required time and energy if elected would, I feel, be a breach of faith to my electors.

"It has however been impressed upon me that the experience I have gained at City Hall over the past nine years would still be of value to my fellow citizens and that I should accept nomination as alderman for the North Ward. I have a sense of deep obligation to the good people of that ward who have been generous enough to elect me three times by acclamation. If they feel that I can still be of service to them and to our City I am prepared to stand for re-election for a further term."

Cheque Forging Leads To Term In Penitentiary

Roland Robitaille, middle-aged Montreal resident, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Judge Edouard Boisvert last week-end for passing two false cheques amounting to $300 drawn on the Royal Bank of Canada on February 28.

Robitaille was arrested by local police after investigation had been made by Detective Anicet Gosselin. He appeared before Judge Boisvert on March 5 and pleaded guilty to the two charges. Sentence was remanded until March 12.

At present he is at the Winter street jail and will be transferred to Quebec sometime during the week to face a stolen car accusation. Provincial Police authorities are looking for another man who is said to be Robitaille's accomplice in a large cheque forging ring. The men are alleged to have stolen a

Safe - Crackers Foiled In Richmond Robbery

Richmond - Crime certainly doesn't seem to pay very well in Richmond!

Safecrackers did what amounted to a perfect safe-cracking job here during the weekend and escaped with very little for their trouble.

A watch and $10 was all that was stolen from the safe of B. N. Parenteau, Automobile Sales, after the thieves tore it open with the help of an acetylene torch that was conveniently available in the shop.

Police believed at least two people were involved in the job. A company employee offered the opinion that it would take an experienced man to operate the cumbersome torch.

Unfortunately for the robbers, pay-day for the company had been moved ahead one day. Money from the sale of a car also had been removed from the safe just the day before.

Six-Year-Old Is Hanging Victim In Wolfe County

The six-year-old son of a farmer's widow accidentally hanged himself Saturday while playing in a feed crib with a piece of rope.

Provincial Police said Mrs. Arthur Laliberte, of Notre Dame de Ham, Wolfe County, a community about 35 miles north of Sherbrooke, found the body of her son in the barn at 3 p.m. after he had failed to answer her calls.

Police said the boy, Augustin, had climbed up on the cattle crib with a long length of rope and had apparently fallen, the rope encircling his neck and choking him to death.

Dr. Jean Francois Garneau, of St. Paul de Chester, Arthabaska County, was called but pronounced the boy dead. Det.-Sgt. Eugene Morin, of the Provincial Police Sherbrooke detachment, investigated the case.

Aldermen Call Special Meeting On Market Issue

A special meeting of the City Council has been called for tonight to hear a market situation report which will be submitted by Pierre Bachand, city treasurer, and Albert Rivard, city attorney.

Both were in Quebec City last Thursday where they met the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs to discuss several propositions which have been made locally about the market. Tonight's meeting will deal with any new matter arising out of the report. It has been learned on good authority that the Deputy Minister offered three alternatives to the Sherbrooke delegation. What these were will be revealed at tonight's meeting.

There has been talk in the past that private enterprise is interested in taking over the market, which they would rebuild. It has already been decided by council to demolish the front part of the market and replace it with a new bus terminal. But the question of finding a place for the occupants who will have to vacate their quarters to make way for construction of the terminal has presented a problem.

There is also a possibility of building a new market on a site which may have already been chosen. It is believed that a definite decision will be taken tonight on whether to repair and remodel the present market or to build a new one.

Textile Plants Arbitration To Open March 28

An arbitration board will begin a hearing in Montreal March 28 in connection with a contract dispute involving 6,000 employees in the Dominion Textile Company mills at Sherbrooke, Magog and Drummondville, Que., it was learned Sunday.

The National Federation of Textile Workers (CCCL) is the bargaining unity for the mill employees.

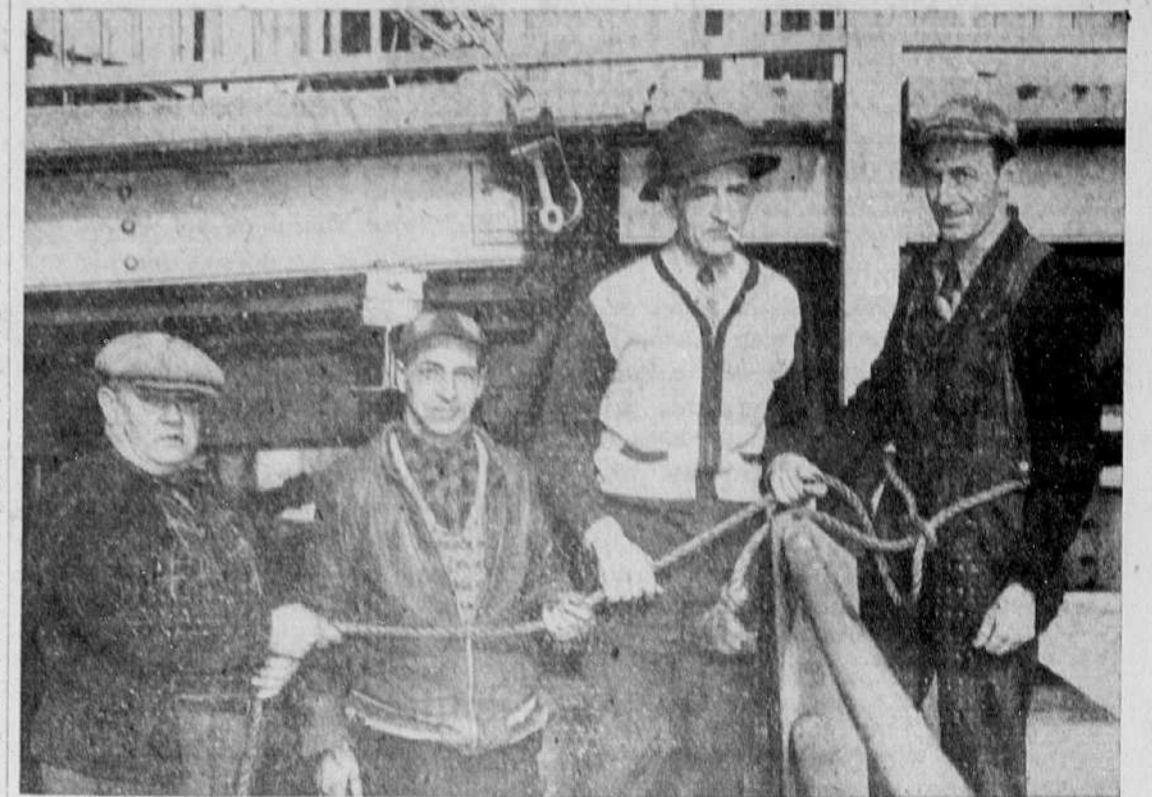

The union's original request for a 10 per cent wage increase has been modified by a request for a profit-and-loss sharing plan. It is asking for a 25 per cent share of profits after provision has been made for depreciation, but before dividends are declared. But the union said it would accept a 25 per cent share of company losses "after accumulated surpluses have been exhausted."

The union is also asking for the check-off and improvements in seniority and grievance clauses. Current wage scale varies widely.

The company originally countered with a demand for a five per cent pay cut but later modified this to a suggested pay cut for certain classification of employees only and reduction of certain benefit plans.

Quick-Thinking Truckers Avert Child Drowning

An eight-year-old Sherbrooke boy narrowly escaped drowning in the icy waters of the St. Francis river Saturday morning thanks to the efforts and quick thinking of four local truckers.

Ivan Duplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodrigue Duplin, 10 Windsor street, was playing with some other children by the market near the Aylmer bridge on King street. As the children neared the edge of the river little Ivan lost his balance, toppling into the icy open water below.

The four truckers, Emile Thibault, Joseph Langevin, Armand Drouin, and Alfred Dion, who were standing near by, saw the accident and using a piece of rope as a lifeline were able to pull the boy to safety.

In the meantime Municipal Police had been called to the scene but by the time they arrived Ivan had already been rescued. Suffering from cold and shock, he was taken to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital but was able to be released shortly after admittance.

No Telephones

Many Britons have been rather shocked to learn that doctors working under the National Health Service (as all, or most, are) are under no obligation to have telephones, or even receive calls if they have.

This was publicised the other day when the mother of a sick child tried to reach her doctor all day without success. She found afterwards that he didn't answer the phone "because it was his day off." Anyway, said the doctor, his phone was "not available for patients."

According to National Health Service officials, the doctor acted within his rights. This led to a suggestion that patients should boycott doctors who refuse to install phones. But even this does not make him answer it if he doesn't see fit.

The truth of the matter is that doctors have little, or no interest in "working for the government." We knew personally of several doctors who left the country for this reason. Patients are obviously not getting the attention they merit and in this light, the British National Health Scheme can well be described as a flop.

Art And Politics

Should art be mixed with politics. This question is involved in the recent fuss stirred by the current American tour of the Berlin Philharmonic symphony orchestra.

Great controversy is raging over suggestions that two men, one the manager of the orchestra and the other its conductor, Herbert von Karajan, had been ardent supporters of Hitler's Nazi regime.

These protests appear to be ill-timed if not somewhat misguided. According to the State Department, both men have been cleared by German denazification courts, and found admissible to the United States under the severe McCarran-Walter Act which denies entry to anyone believed to have willingly been part of totalitarian causes.

Even if this was not so, those who protested can hardly be commended for waiting until the orchestra arrived before complaining. They have known of this tour and its leadership for some time.

Some say the protest should never have been lodged because musicians and other artists, are above political battle. Undoubtedly, a great many people see it that way. But art constantly serves political purposes, and thus the two fields cannot be wholly divorced.

It is likely that the Bonn government financed this tour partly to develop good-will for Germany among American people and partly as a gesture of gratitude for the considerable help given them since World War II.

This is obviously a purpose we all believe in. A better world can't be built by dredging up old hatreds, however justified they may have been previously.

To lift hatred into a lasting way of life is to mimic our old enemies. If they are ever to understand that there is something better, they must be shown by example. To ape that attitude of hate might only convince them that they were right.

Hysteria, it seems, is an infection our friends to the south are finding increasingly difficult to control.

The Price Of Greatness

Professor John Garland has come up with something which may or may not please the people of the United States' midwest. In a new book called the North American Midwest, due this fall, he says Chicago's destruction by bombs would be far more crippling to the nation than would be the loss of New York, Washington or Los Angeles.

Garland puts it down to the location, the rich resources of its region and its distinctively continental culture (as contrasted with that of sea coast cities) that make it a crossroads of the world. He believes it is the hub of an area that may be the key one day to the free world's fate.

While the cheerful, hardworking midwestern folk may get a lot of comfort out of this favorable comparison with the great coastal centers of their country, they must also get upset when they consider that this means they'll be the Number 1 enemy target in the event of war.

The price of greatness is quoted high in this age of peril.

May Fly Golden Cage

Princess Could End Royal Restraint

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London—Two years ago a London columnist wrote: "Why not open the golden cage and let the pretty little figure out?"

Today it looks as though just that may be about to happen. Princess Margaret, most talked-about young woman in the kingdom, is reported thinking of marrying Peter Townsend, a commoner who has been a close friend all her adult life.

If the royal wedding bells do ring—and most people seem to think they will though there is no official confirmation—the Queen's 24-year-old sister will step out of the gilded cage forever.

As Townsend's wife, she would renounce her rights as third in succession to the throne, give up her £6,000 yearly allowance and be free for the first time of the suffocating round of royal duties.

It would be a big change for the violet-eyed, photogenic princess who has been conspicuously in the public eye and has apparently enjoyed it since her first public dance at the age of 14.

In that time, she has known privacy only with her family and a small circle of trusted friends. Though gay and carefree by nature, she has always felt the dangers of a chance remark, the worries of a long-range camera catching her in an undignified pose.

But when Margaret was asked whether she ever yearned to be the anonymous girl in the crowd, she replied decisively: "No. I cannot imagine anything more wonderful than being who I am."

Millions of words have been written about the princess and her personality. Despite that, little is known of her true character. One London newspaper, repelled by "nauseous publicity," said stories about her constituted probably "the least accurate branch of contemporary journalism."

Typical of the perhaps apocryphal anecdotes about the princess is one that appeared in a Paris magazine. This reported that when the Queen reproached Margaret for wearing a too-fashionable creation the younger girl replied: "Look after your old empire—and let me look after my dresses."

Probably nearer the truth is the popular picture of the princess as a pleasure-loving, witty and talented person who likes dancing into the dawn, plays the piano with passing skill and enjoys a practical joke on occasion.

Marion Crawford, governess to Elizabeth and Margaret for 17 years, has told of her fondness for frank—such as stuffing acorns in the shoes of court attendants—and another reasonably well-authenticated story has it that she once painted Charlie Chaplin moustaches on statuary in Windsor Castle.

Certainly the princess seems to have a gayer and more spontaneous nature than her older sister, who is more serious and occasionally carries out public duties with an appearance of constraint.

But Margaret—Prime Minister Menzies of Australia described her as a woman of "great intelligence, high spirits, immense charm"—has also shown seriousness of purpose and occasionally, an inflexible determination. Her life has fallen into four main phases. Born August 21, 1930, at Glamis, her mother's ancestral castle home in Scotland, she had a happy, cloistered childhood in a gentle family atmosphere at a town house on Piccadilly and later, in wartime, at Windsor Castle.

Soon her puckish sense of mischief, budding attractiveness and love of a good time gave Britain's "little princess" a place of her own in royal stories. She was billed as the fun-loving fashion plate whose main ambition was to dress like "Aunt Marina," the Duchess of Kent, memorize hit songs from shows such as "South Pacific" and run through a dazzling list of escorts.

She favored late parties and low-cut dresses, danced the can-can with ambassador's daughter Sharman Douglas, stole the show from seasoned actresses at premieres and gala first nights. It was a grief to her that she was small, just a shade over five feet, she hid it under a mask of gaiety.

She was quick with a quip—after Prince Charles was born she said she'd probably be known as "Charley's Aunt"—and made friends laugh with her talent for mimicry.

What Other Papers Say

LITTLE RASCALS

Charlotte News
We have just come to the happy conclusion that J. Raymond McCarthy of Appleton, Wis., will never be a dictator. He's too big.

The Wisconsin senators measure five feet 10½ inches. Sometimes he wears bulltip shoes to put himself nearer that oh so desirable 72 inches. When someone asked him once why he wore wedgies, he explained soberly that it was on account of war wounds. (His one "war wound," you may recall, occurred when he fell off a ship's ladder.)

But we have strayed from the point of the story, which is that dictators are little men, presumably determined to be "big men, in other than physical proportions.

Harrison Salisbury, long time New York Times correspondent in Moscow, who has just written a fascinating account of life in Russia, says that a six-man junta now rules the Red roost. It is comprised of Malenkov, Khrushchev, Molotov, Kaganovich, Bulganin and Mikoyan, all of them are about five feet four inches.

That makes them about the height Stalin was. Hitler was, at the most, a couple of inches taller. Mussolini was shorter, about five feet two, which was Napoleon's height.

So don't worry much about the big demagogues. But watch those little rascals.

"WHAT MAKES 'EM BUY?"

(Christian Science Monitor)
In North Carolina recently a former president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute told a Cotton Research Council that the textile industry in general should devote more study to "consumer motivation." This is a good $10 phrase which might be defined in one-syllable words as "What makes folks buy?"

A great many industries already are intensely interested in this subject and may become increasingly so. American automobile manufacturers, turning out cars at an unprecedented competitive pace, have some reason to be measuring the size of their actual prospective market.

The textile trade has particular reason to be concerned, since fabrics are said to be attracting a somewhat smaller share of the consumer's dollar than before, even though they are at relatively low price levels.

Economists continue to analyze buying power and sales managers to try various advertising media. Isn't it something to live in an economy where the problem, if anything, is overproduction and where the consumer has a choice?

NEW WHERE TO LOOK

(Windsor Star)
Two Montrealers again have proved that men often look far, and unsuccessfully, for something that was under their feet at home.

The Montrealers didn't invade darkest Africa, or go scrambling across the hard face of the Precambrian Shield, in search of rich and rare metals. They went 30 miles away to Oka, famed as a cheese town, and staked out the claims that made them millionaires.

This wasn't done just on a hunch. Fifty-year-old maps of the area, indicating deposits of low-grade iron ore, gave them a clue. Their Geiger counters did the rest.

Their occupations? One is a mining professor, the other a lawyer who specializes in mining law. Never let it be said again that such people live in ivory towers. The towers those begowned prospectors live in are compounded of columbium, uranium, tantalum and thorium.

and, keeping herself hidden, pretend she was the visitor returning for some forgotten document.

Her father died Feb. 6, 1951, and "life seemed to stand still" for the play-girl princess. The deeply religious side of her nature came to the front and there was even a report she would enter a religious order. At the time, a Buckingham Palace spokesman told this writer it would not surprise him if the report proved true.

More recently the princess has seemed to revert to her old carefree self.

Some might say this is because Margaret, four times a bridesmaid, sees the time approaching when she will be a bride. Her old girl friends, such as the Marchioness of Blandford and the Countess of Dalkeith, now are married and have children, and Margaret may feel out of things when she visits them.

Nobody will know for sure until a formal announcement, if any, is made. The story goes that when the present queen was being courted by Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, Margaret was horrified at the way the romance became public property. She resolved she would keep her own affairs of the heart strictly private.

Perpetual Commotion

Stalemate Means Defeat To Chiang's Airforce

By FRED SPARKS

Tainan Airfield, Southern Formosa.—The water buffalo slowly rubs his moldy flanks against the steel edge of the new American tank, indeed a better scratching post than the thin trees in this orange grove.

The Nationalist tanker on guard in the turret sleepily watches the buffalo. They both twitch but slightly as jet after jet whooshes 50 feet overhead to land on the adjacent airstrip.

Man and beast are already used to the eerie screams of the new fighters now returning over ancient paddy fields from another mission against Communist invasion craft in the East China seas.

It is a futile assignment. For despite minor success, they simply cannot halt, can barely hesitate, the calculated, lumbering sweep of Red China's wooden fleet down the coast, gobbling long held Nationalist offshore islands one by one—the Tachens, Pishan, Nanchishan. . . .

The ground crewmen swing their heads with each arrival like spectators at some grim tennis match and chant each landing pilot's name: "Chiang . . . Ho . . . Wu . . . Ling . . ."

Ho returned! A happy landing in sharp contrast to the previous mission when a fine young ace, with gay almond eyes and a bird's instinct for air-travel, was absent. His engine was shredded by Communist flak Flung free by automatic ejector, his chute failed. He splashed in the freezing waters as his friends circled once in farewell.

In the squalid, odorous surrounding streets, in paper-windowed hovels, pilots' wives, cooking over open fires or washing in public troughs, also note the sound of arrival—and worry and wait.

Their lives are wretched, waiting things. Though their husbands fly the Thunderjet—a quarter-million-dollar U.S. gift—down, leveled off at 40 feet above the waves and zoomed toward one gunboat at 500 m.p.h.

One hundred and fifty feet away he released his two 500 pound bombs with 45 second delayed fuses. They hit the water and skipped.

One went high—over the superstructure. The other pierced the hull above the water line and exploded. Other Thunderjets made strafing runs, pumping 50 calibre machine gun bullets into the burning wreck.

The few planes airborne lacked time for further hunting. Their fuel holds safely for roughly two hours and it's 45 minutes to target. A pilot must watch the gas supply indicator with one eye, the enemy with the other.

Boat busting is about the only assignment now given Capt. Huo and jet-comrades. All mainland China is a sanctuary for communism today—like Red air bases north of the Yalu during the Korean War. As the Free World still prays for cease fire, it pulls its punches.

Naturally, fliers are bitter, frustrated, furious. A "cease fire," a "two Chinas" policy, means the end of their ticket home—a ticket they daily swear to purchase with their lives. Here "stalemate" means "defeat."

FINESSE FAILED TWICE IN THIS HAND

South considered himself very unlucky when he played today's hand. A finesse was possible in each of the red suits, and South took both of them. To his great disgust, he lost both finesses.

Let's see exactly what happened. West led the queen of clubs, and dummy won with the king. Declarer led a diamond from the dummy and finessed the queen from his hand. West won with the king of diamonds and returned the jack of clubs.

Not a bit downhearted (as yet), South won the second round of clubs with dummy's ace and entered his hand with a diamond in order to try the trump finesse. This likewise lost, and East led a third club. West then took the ace of spades, and the defenders thus took a trick in each suit, defeating the contract.

"The odds are 3 to 1," said South, "against losing two finesses." He was quite right, of course. "Only a very unlucky person could lose finesses as often as I do," he continued. "Fortunately I have a very strong character, for otherwise this kind of misfortune might drive me out of my mind."

South didn't actually say all this, to be sure, but that's what he thought. Nobody bothered to record his actual words, which may be just as well. Instead of thinking about his bad luck, however, South should have been thinking about his bad play. He should have made his contract.

South should see that both finesses may fail, and that the enemy will establish and cash a club trick if they are given the time to do so. In order to prevent this, South must establish dummy's spades and discard his losing club.

The right line of play is to win the first trick with the king of clubs and lead a spade to the king immediately. West can take the ace of spades and lead an-

No Coddling

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

Do young people want to be protected from punishment when they're involved in mischief and get caught?

Most of them don't. That's what the Gilbert Youth Research Co. of New York has found in interviewing more than 4,500 teenagers in 35 cities across the nation. More than half thought that sternly weren't handled differently enough.

They felt that if school authorities, for example, cracked down on truants and vandals instead of giving them warnings and reprieves, more pupils would refrain from wrongdoing.

If teachers think that protecting miscreants will reform them or that they have to be coddled to prevent disciplinary troubles, they might think twice about the results of the survey. So might parents who are overprotecting their dear ones.

FINESSE FAILED TWICE IN THIS HAND

South considered himself very unlucky when he played today's hand. A finesse was possible in each of the red suits, and South took both of them. To his great disgust, he lost both finesses.

Let's see exactly what happened. West led the queen of clubs, and dummy won with the king. Declarer led a diamond from the dummy and finessed the queen from his hand. West won with the king of diamonds and returned the jack of clubs.

Not a bit downhearted (as yet), South won the second round of clubs with dummy's ace and entered his hand with a diamond in order to try the trump finesse. This likewise lost, and East led a third club. West then took the ace of spades, and the defenders thus took a trick in each suit, defeating the contract.

"The odds are 3 to 1," said South, "against losing two finesses." He was quite right, of course. "Only a very unlucky person could lose finesses as often as I do," he continued. "Fortunately I have a very strong character, for otherwise this kind of misfortune might drive me out of my mind."

South didn't actually say all this, to be sure, but that's what he thought. Nobody bothered to record his actual words, which may be just as well. Instead of thinking about his bad luck, however, South should have been thinking about his bad play. He should have made his contract.

South should see that both finesses may fail, and that the enemy will establish and cash a club trick if they are given the time to do so. In order to prevent this, South must establish dummy's spades and discard his losing club.

The right line of play is to win the first trick with the king of clubs and lead a spade to the king immediately. West can take the ace of spades and lead an-

Mrs. McManamy Passes Away At Age Of 69 Years

After an illness of five years, Mrs. William McManamy, the former Flora Jeanne Olivier, died in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Saturday, in her 70th year.

A life long resident of Sherbrooke, the deceased who received her education in Mont Notre Dame Convent and Sillery College, in Quebec City, was the daughter of C. F. Olivier, one-time mayor of Sherbrooke, and his wife, Jeannette Benedict. In 1909, she married William McManamy.

An accomplished pianist in her younger days, Mrs. McManamy was always very active in musical circles. A member of St. Patrick's Church, she also belonged to the Catholic Women's League.

Funeral service will be held in St. Patrick's Church, Tuesday morning, at nine a.m., Very Rev. Monsignor J. R. Moisan officiating. Interment will be in St. Michael's Cemetery. Remains are resting at Johnston's Funeral Chapel, Prospect street.

Those left to mourn her loss are two brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. George Cordeau, Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kirouac, of Quebec; two brothers-in-law, Fred Webster and Dr. J. Ethier, Sherbrooke; and several nieces and nephews, among them being Gerard McManamy, president of Sherbrooke Rotary Club; Judge Emmett McManamy, Montreal; Dr. Eugene McManamy, Portland, Me.; Mrs. F. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Paul McKenna, both of Sherbrooke; Mrs. Joseph Adams, Philadelphia; Wilfred Olivier, Mrs. Irene Leveque; Mrs. Charles Clark, Miss Claire Olivier, all of Sherbrooke; Marcel Olivier, Washington, D.C.; Raymond Olivier, Montreal; Paul-Emile Cordeau, Guy Cordeau, Mrs. J. Dionne, Mrs. Norman Breault, all of Sherbrooke, and Yvan Kirouac, Gerard Kirouac, Denise and Therese Kirouac, all of Quebec City, Claude, Jean, Jacqueline and Therese Ethier, all of Sherbrooke.

Miss Watson, a member of the celebrated Bach Choir of the noted Montrealese possessed a full strong voice lending an exciting quality to selections such as "Rejoice Greatly," Teresa Del Rigo's "Thank God for a Garden," Schubert's "Ave Maria," and "Think on Me" by Lady Jane Scott.

Mr. Williams' presentations included "Meditation" by Lehman, "Invictus" by Bruno Huhn, "Were You There," and the Negro Spiritual "I Got a Robe." Mr. Williams' voice which is warm and full lent a light expressive quality to these selections.

Gault Parker, who excels in the simple, direct organ selections, played "In a Monastery Garden" from Ketyelby and several Bach, Grieg, Mendelssohn and Purcell pieces.

During intermission Neil Tracey, regional secretary for the C.N.I.B., expressed his and the association's thanks to the artists for making the recital possible.

Waycross, Ga. — (P) — Wary firefighters considered artificial rainmaking to stop a giant forest fire raging in north Florida today while the week-long south Georgia blaze appeared under control.

'Copter Catches Injured Like Fish

SAFELY NETTED is a "casualty" during a demonstration of the British Navy's new device for rescue by helicopter. 100 trials, claim the British, have proved that "fishing" for casualties by the net have proved that injured or unconscious men are less likely to receive further injuries than when they were hauled out of the water by the old method of a strap or sling fastened around their waist.

BEDFORD

The weekly meeting of the Bedford Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hawes on Monday evening. As this was Fourth Night, there was no specified subject on the agenda for discussion.

The members listened to the Farm Forum broadcast, after which a social hour was spent. The Stanley party, sponsored by the Bedford Farm Forum was held on Friday evening in the Bedford High School. The arrangements for the evening were under the convener'ship of Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus. Mrs. Rogers, in charge of the Montreal district, was the demonstrator and put on an excellent demonstration of the various Stanley products.

The funds raised at this party will go to the fund, which the Bedford Farm Forum is raising to give prizes to boys and girls, displaying grade calves at the Missisquoi County Agricultural Exhibition. The evening concluded with the serving of refreshments. Mrs. Hawes being assisted by Mrs. Ellis Jones and Mrs. Neil Crelmer.

COOKSHIRE

In a discussion of the subject of "Education for Farming" at the Cookshire Farm Forum, the outstanding fact brought out was that a successful farmer needs to be a man of many and varied skills, and therefore needs a broad education.

to be very helpful and informative.

Four groups then discussed the questions from "Farm Forum Guide," and later brought in their reports; these were felt to be of such wide importance that some further time was given to general discussion and co-relation of ideas.

The first question was "How far should young farm people go to school?" The answer was that they should go as far as possible, but at least complete high school.

The second question asked what special training was needed for modern farming. It was felt that at least a short course at an agricultural college, after high school, was desirable, but more of finances and other circumstances would allow. The farmer of today needs to be a mechanic, veterinarian, blacksmith, carpenter, meteorologist, book-keeper, in fact, a jack of all trades. However, it is also important that he should have a love of the land and of animals, have a capacity for taking hard knocks, and possess plenty of good old horse sense.

Question three asked if the high school was the place for agricultural education. The general answer was "yes," at least as an optional subject, following up the science courses in earlier grades. Even urban pupils could benefit from some knowledge and understanding of agricultural problems. The question of what had become of the courses of study on agriculture which were a part of the curriculum in rural schools a generation ago was also brought up. It was also suggested that agriculture should have a place in the guidance program in our high schools.

The Green Leaf raised a number of points with regard to farm organizations and their finances, and a spirited discussion arose on this subject. It was finally decided to appoint a sub-committee of the president, vice-president and secretary to give this subject more study and to bring in a report and resolution at the next meeting.

A social period followed, the feature of which was that each member was asked to contribute some item of entertainment, and a merry time was passed with songs, stories and other diversions, after which the ladies served lunch.

A Key Role Radar Unit Training Plays Key Part In Strengthening Canadian Defences

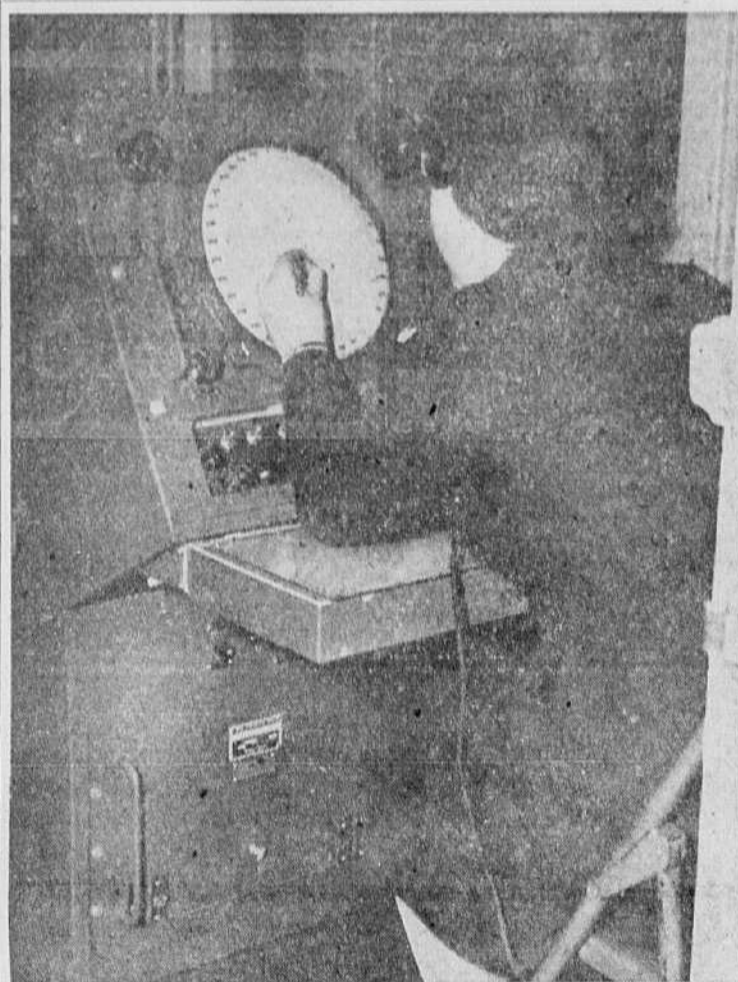

G.S.M. PLOTTERS, listening through their headsets to reports of aircraft, are pictured above plotting on the table by means of plaques and arrows. Clockwise around the table from bottom left are: AW2 Robbs, AC2 Akhurst, AW2 Gills, AC2 Beaudoin, AC2 Caron, and AC2 Hanson, all being trained as fighter cops at the local radar unit. Each of the plotters is following the activities of flight in his area.

There are many ideas in the heads of Sherbrooke citizens as to what goes on at the local Radar unit on Depot Street. What sort of training is actually in practice there is known by very few outside those who participate. The following is an article which will enable interested people to find out just what type of training is carried out here in preparation for action in the event of any enemy attack.

The successful operation of any air defense system depends as much on an alert warning organization as it does on a strong interceptor force. Here at 2450 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron (Auxiliary) Sherbrooke, some of the local men and women are taught trades which they put into practice when going on weekend exercises at a R.C.A.F. Radar site, or the G.C.I. (Ground Control Intercept) station.

Exactly what a Fighter Cop or a Fighter Control Operator, as they are technically known, does when on a Radar site during a weekend exercise may be exemplified by the following extract from an Air Force magazine. This includes all the practice stages which are carried out at the unit in Sherbrooke on the synthetic apparatus.

The description of this imaginary visit to an R.C.A.F. Ground Control Intercept Station is composed from information taken from an article written by Squadron Leader J. E. Mahoney, which first appeared in the Roundel, an Air Force magazine.

SCOPE REPORTER, watching for signs of blips, indicating paths of aircraft through the sky, which information she relays to the plotters in the Surveillance Room. Operating the scope at 2450 AC and W Squadron here in Sherbrooke is AW2 Robbs. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

LAC DOUGLAS THOMPSON, of the local radar unit, 2450 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron (Aux.) who has recently been promoted to the rank of Corporal. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

When we visit the radar station the first thing we see is a huge operations building standing majestically on a hilltop. An imposing radome, adjacent to the Operations Building, houses the radar antenna, and appears as a gigantic observatory. As we enter the building, a security guard carefully checks our identity and issues us with a pass-button. Going into the Surveillance Room, one finds his attention drawn immediately to the plotting table, around which are numerous plotters, wearing headsets, intently listening to reports of aircraft, and plotting them on the table by means of plaques and arrows.

Against the far wall is a huge display board, on which is displayed all information concerning the tracks on the table—the track number, the time it appeared, the altitude, the quantity of aircraft, and the speed and identification. Not seen by the visitor, behind the board are a number of "Fighter Cops," Fighter Control Operators, who are listening to the same information as the plotters.

At the other end of the room is a long dais, behind which are seated the Surveillance Controller and his assistants. They are constantly watching the plotting table and display boards, and comparing the information displayed with that of known flights, as received from control towers at RCAF aerodromes and the DoT Air Traffic Control Centre. Above the main dais is another dais, at which are seated "tellers" who are relaying to the Air Defence Control Centre (ADCC) the information displayed.

Leaving the Surveillance Room, one enters the Reporting Room. At first we see very little for the room is almost completely dark. It is here that the radar scopes are located. As the eyes gradually become accustomed to the darkness, a number of "scope reporters" are seen seated at the scopes, intently watching them for the blips which indicate the paths of aircraft through the sky. A constant murmur of voices is heard, as the scope reporters relay the information to the plotters and display board operators in the Surveillance Room.

After leaving the Reporting Room, we enter the Control Section. Here we meet the mainstay of the G.C.I., the Duty Controller, and his assistants, the Operations Controller and Operations "B." From his vantage point, strategically located so that he can view the plotting table and the display boards, the Duty Controller directs operations. In front of him is a miniature switchboard, to provide him with direct communications to all operations positions in the building. His chief concern is to order aircraft to states of preparedness as required, to scramble them after unknown and hostile tracks, to allot missions to Intercept Controllers, and generally to supervise the conduct of the air battle.

He has direct control over the Intercept Controllers, who are located at radar scopes in rooms adjacent to the control section. It is they who actually control the fighters, when they become airborne and give them directions which will enable them to intercept the target aircraft.

With all these people hard at work, each at his own job, it takes but a few minutes for things to be set into action, starting with the first blips appearing on the radar scope, going through the plotters in the Surveillance Room, with the Identification Officer busy checking the pre-plot board on which are registered all known flights, right down to the Control Section receiving the necessary information and relaying to the Operations Controller. From there it goes to the Intercept Controllers, where orders are sent out for the fighters to become airborne. After the initial warning system and the putting into action of the fighters, the work rests with the Intercept Controllers to direct the fighters to intercept the target aircraft.

It is in all these things of the Aircraft Control and Warning system that the members of the local radar unit are being trained on their synthetic apparatus, learning thoroughly how to put their practise to use on live equipment in cases of a real attack, thus assuring the country of the earliest possible warning organization, which is a great necessity in the successful operation of any air defence system.

Waterloo Kiwanis Club Entertains Junior Chamber

Waterloo, March 14 — The executive of the Waterloo Branch of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were the guests of the Waterloo Kiwanis Club on Tuesday night at their regular meeting. Accompanying the president, Joe Demontigny, were the vice president, Rollie Meunier and Rollie Crepeau secretary, and the following directors, Berthold Latendresse, Andre Bessette, Ben Provencher and Guy Genest, who was the guest speaker.

Introduced by vice-president, Armand Russell, Mr. Genest spoke briefly on the Public Speaking Course sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in Waterloo.

"It is not our aim to make Winston Churchills," stated Guy Genest. "But rather to develop the personality of the person and to help with his ability as a speaker. We hope this course will help to develop a better citizen, so he will be able to participate in civic and in public affairs to advantage."

The speaker continued that it is the idea of the course to give the interested people something that they missed while attending school and college. "We are enabling to build up their self-confidence," concluded the speaker, who in turn was warmly thanked by the Kiwanian Paul Fortin for his efforts.

President Joe Demontigny thanked the members of the Kiwanis Club for their courtesy in entertaining his executive again this year, and stated that it made for a much closer bond between these two service organizations. President Al Grainger welcomed the group to the meeting and stated that he hoped it would become an annual event.

Vice-president, Armand Russell initiated one new member into the club, Burt McColeman, and he was officially welcomed by all members and guests into Kiwanis.

OBITUARIES

THOMAS HENRY RIDDICK, of FARNHAM

Farnham, March 14 — Friends and neighbors were deeply moved to hear of the passing of Thomas Henry Riddick, 140 Main Street, Farnham, which occurred at Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital, Sweetsburg, on Monday January 10.

Mr. Riddick retired from the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Dec. 1946, owing to ill health. From that time until his death, his physical condition was below par, however, the end came more suddenly than expected.

Mr. Riddick was born in Liverpool, England on September 23, 1884, and came to Canada when only a boy. He resided at East Farnham until young manhood and then entered the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Farnham. He served the company faithfully and in the course of time was promoted to locomotive engineer, which position he held at retirement, with a record of forty-four years of continual service.

On June 26th, 1907, he married Rubie Maude Griggs, of East Farnham and one son was born of this union, Robert, who resides with his mother. Mr. Riddick was a faithful husband, a kind father, and a highly regarded citizen, who was respected by all.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, Independent Order of Oddfellows, Order of Eastern Stars, Rebekahs, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the United Church of Canada and served on the Official Board of the church for many years.

Services were conducted in Grace United Church, Farnham, on January 12, by Rev. Dr. S. R. Prince in conjunction with the Masonic Order, the church being filled to capacity. The profusion of flowers was tangible evidence of the high regard in which he was held in the community. The funeral manager was Orel J. Brown, his friend and neighbor.

The remains were borne to their last resting place in the family lot in Kirkwood Cemetery, Farnham by intimate friends, Frederick Braddock, Harry Allen, William O'Brien, Daniel Mewett, Lynwood Hase and Clark Powers. The hymns sung by the choir were "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" and "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me". A trio, consisting of friends from East Farnham, Guy Shuffelt Fred Shuffelt, and Gordon Shuffelt, sang the hymn, "Life's Railroad to Heaven".

Surviving relatives, besides his wife and son, are a brother, Robert Riddick, who resides in England, and cousins John, Robert and Charles Wood, who live in Toronto. A brother, Frank, was killed in action during World War I.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were from Toronto, Montreal, Sherbrooke, Bedford, Knowlton, Sweetsburg, Dunham, Sutton, Brome, Frost Village, Brigham and other points.

EAST ANGUS—

The Women's World Day of Prayer was observed at Christ Church with the Ladies from Emmanuel United Church joining. The service was adapted from one prepared by Rev. J. Lozada of Buenos Aires and had as its theme "Abide in Me". The presidents of the two Missions, Mrs. George Robins and Mrs. Roy Gillis were in charge, and special prayers were offered by Mrs. V. Warner, Mrs. Ralph Luxford and Mrs. R. Willard, from the Anglican Church and by Mrs. Herbert Hatt, Mrs. Claude Cooper and Miss Elizabeth McLellan, from the United Church. Special Hymns were sung with Mrs. J. Westgate at the organ. The president of the Women's Auxiliary Mrs. Robins, gave the address and spoke on the life of Rev. J. Lozada. The collection was taken up by Mrs. Maude Cooper and Mrs. V. Warner. The Service closed with the Benediction.

Mrs. Clarence Tincarre and Mrs. Thomas Mason called on relatives of Mrs. Tincarre in Stamford, Conn., and in Montreal, on their way home from Bradenton Florida, where they were guests of Mrs. Tincarre's daughter, Mrs. Ronald Currier, Mr. Currier and family.

Tiny pieces of nickel speed cabled words three times faster across the Atlantic 1200 FEET DOWN, on the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean is a metal case. In it is an electronic amplifier. Electric signals weak from the long journey by cable are here amplified and reshaped into stronger, clearer signals. With this single installation the cable's capacity was increased from 50 to 167 words a minute.

This is possible only because of the presence of tiny pieces of nickel in the amplifier's vacuum tube.

For years now, communication between this Continent and the United Kingdom and Europe has been a problem. It was particularly serious during the war when communication channels were overloaded by Allied Governments, military and press.

The first of these amplifiers was installed recently by Western Union on the company's cable which stretches under the Atlantic from Bay Roberts, Newfoundland, to Penzance, England.

THE NEW UNDERSEAS CABLE "BOOSTER" being lowered to the ocean floor, where it will amplify trans-Atlantic signals—allowing us to get messages from Europe three times faster than before. This is possible only because of the use of tiny pieces of nickel in the amplifier's vacuum tube.

Case Must Last For 40 Years

Nickel alloys were used at vital points to guard the case containing the amplifier against the many forms of marine corrosion that occur below the ocean's surface. A life of 40 years was demanded.

Sherbrooke Stops Windsor To Lead Semi-Finals 2-1

Bert Morin Tallies Hat-Trick As Locals Down Paper Makers 6-4, 6-2, Meet Tomorrow At Windsor In Fourth

Breaking out in a scoring spree the Sherbrooke Intermediates, downed the Windsor Paper Makers over the week-end for a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five semi-finals of the Massachusetts Valley Hockey League. They stopped the Gendron clan 6-2 Saturday evening before 1,290 fans and yesterday afternoon came through with their second victory when they edged out the Paper Makers 6-4 before 2,170 spectators at the local arena.

The series now moves to Windsor tomorrow evening where the fourth tilt is slated to be played, weather permitting. The Paper Makers chalked up the first decision in the closely fought series with a 4-1 verdict and they must win if they wish to stay in the battle for the right to meet Asbestos in the finals.

On Saturday evening Bert Morin paced the locals attack with a hat-trick while Jean Dumas, George Beaulieu and Rejean Hinse accounted for the others. For Windsor Couture and Lapierre registered the goals. Yesterday afternoon Hinse and Marc Dussault each notched two goals while Gagnon and Dave Hayden registered the others.

The locals moved into a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period Saturday when Bert Morin batted home two goals when he snared two rebounds to lift them into the net from close quarters. In the middle session the Paper Makers got back in the fray when Couture picked up Parker's rebound to tip it in but Jean Dumas made it 3-1 for the Roberge clan just before the end of the period.

In the final frame the locals kept the pressure on and registered three goals to a lone tally by Lapierre of Windsor. Morin, Beaulieu and Hinse were the trigger-boys. Both goalies made outstanding saves in the wide-open battle but the locals in the latter part of the game held the upper hand all around.

On Sunday Rejean Hinse drove a hard shot from fifteen feet out that caught young Dubois on the shoulder and dropped in the meshings behind him for the first tally of the afternoon. Couture evened the count when he tipped in a loose disc from the edge of the crease just fifty seconds later.

Edgar Gendron got the thumb for holding on a delayed penalty and during his absence the locals did everything but put the rubber in the net. Dubois was all over the place in an effort to stop the heavy ganging plays of Sherbrooke.

Hayden, Marc Dussault and Fern Desrochers missed from close range but the disc just wouldn't roll in the net. With both teams back at full strength Murray Parker rifled a hard shot by Labbe and the Paper Makers were out in front 2-1.

At the start of the middle period Windsor was short a player when Marc Dussault drove home the equalizer right after a face-off. The locals were forcing the play and kept driving away but nothing happened. Windsor drew two penalties but nothing developed when they were in the cooler. Hinse broke the tie when Sherbrooke had Dussault in the sin-bin. He blocked a shot at the blue line and was away alone. He made no mistake and kicked the corner with his drive.

In the final period Bergeron evened the count with Marc Dussault and Couture sitting out roughing penalties. It was a partially screened shot which beat Labbe. Just before the half way mark Guy Dussault and Cloutier went off for high-sticking but the teams failed to accomplish anything.

Gagnon broke the stalemate when he drove for the lower corner to beat Dubois the whole way. Less than a minute later Dave Hayden finished off a passing play with Bert Morin and Sherbrooke was out in front 5-3. Just thirty seconds later Couture came up with the finish on a three-way passing attack to reduce the margin.

The Paper Makers were trying to get back in the game but the locals played it smart and kept dumping the disc at every opportunity. Coach Gendron yanked his goalie in the last minute of play but on the first drive down the ice Marc Dussault drove a hard one to put the decision out of reach of the Windsor squad. The siren sounded with Windsor deep in Sherbrooke territory.

Trois-Rivieres-Quebec Series Tied At 1-1

Quebec. — (AP) — In a final series getting hotter game by game, Trois-Rivieres Flambeaux and Quebec Frontenacs are tied with one win each for the championship of the Quebec Junior Hockey League.

Site and date of the third game in the best-of-seven series likely will be announced today.

Flambeaux bounced back Sunday to whip Frontenacs 6-2 in a game that blew up in the third period, when four major penalties and two misconducts were distributed by referee Len Corrievau.

Saturday night, Richard Bouchard scored twice as Frontenacs shined Trois-Rivieres 2-1 in the opening game, Jean Lambert tallied for Flambeaux.

Stan Maxwell was the high scorer Sunday, getting two for Trois-Rivieres while Chet Melski, Eddie Dudyk, Fraser and Claude Labrosse got the others.

Goalie Ed Johnston held Frontenacs scoreless until near the end of the second period when Guy Rousseau beat him. Maurice Bouchard counted the second Quebec goal.

Waterbury, Conn. — Irish Pat Mallane, 137, Union City, N. J., stopped Bobby Weaver, 137½, Hartford, Conn., 6.
Honolulu — Phil. (Wildcat) Kim, 145¾, Honolulu, stopped Dickie Wong, 143, Los Angeles, 2.

Baseball In Brief

Bradenton, Fla. — (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees is wondering when Mickey Mantle is going to snap out of his spring training batting slump.

The switch-hitting outfielder has gone hitless in 12 at bats and has struck out seven times. Mantle went 0-for-3 Sunday as the Yanks bowed to the Boston Red Sox 4-2 for their fourth straight exhibition setback.

Miami, Fla. — (AP) — Jackie Robinson, who played first base in his first season with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947, was back at his old stand again Sunday.

Robinson, a third baseman and outfielder with Brooklyn last season, played six innings at first base as the Chicago White Sox edged the Dodgers 6-5.

Reason for the shift is that Gil Hodges has a pulled leg muscle and rookie Norm Larkin is troubled with stomach pains.

Phoenix, Ariz. — (AP) — Willie Mays went hitless Sunday for the first time this spring. But Monte Irvin continued his fine stickwork for New York Giants.

Mays went 0-for-4 in the Giants' 13-6 defeat at the hands of Cleveland Indians, while Irvin collected two hits in four trips to bring his exhibition game batting average to .557.

Ocala, Fla. — (AP) — Six veterans, three of them obtained in winter trades, will be in the lineup for the first time tonight when Baltimore Orioles take on Brooklyn Dodgers in Miami.

An entire new infield of first baseman Eddie Waitkus, second baseman Bobby Young, shortstop Willie Miranda and third baseman Billy Cox will play in the first of four consecutive games with the Dodgers. Gene Woodling and Cal Abrams will be inserted into the outfield and outfielder Gil Coan and catcher Les Moss, used before, will round out the squad.

Sarasota, Fla. — (AP) — Fred Baczewski, who lost his fine 1953 form last season for the Cincinnati Redlegs, may have regained his stuff.

The veteran lefthander faced the minimum of nine men in holding St. Louis Cardinals hitless in the first three innings of an exhibition game Sunday.

The Reds won 6-2 on homers by Ted Kluszewski and Wally Post and fine pitching by Baczewski, rookie Tom Acker and Jackie Collum.

Wes Santee Cops Milwaukee Mile In Easy Fashion

Milwaukee. — (AP) — Wes Santee made it a one-man race Saturday night as he won the featured mile in the fifth annual Milwaukee Journal indoor track games in 4:08.6.

Art Dalzell, Santee's teammate from the University of Kansas, set the early pace with Santee right behind him but none of other three in the field ever came closer than 20-30 yards after the first two laps.

Provincial Title To Verdun Team

Verdun, Que. — (AP) — Verdun Argyles whipped an RCAF team from Trois-Rivieres 49-22 Saturday to win the provincial ladies intermediate basketball championship.

The victory gave Verdun the two-game, total-points series, 107-39. Argyles now meet the Ottawa Valley champions.

Tillie Jankowicz paced the Argyles with 30 points while Flo Ritchie was best for the losers with 10.

CLOSE SHAVE — Rainville Dubois, is seen crouching in an effort to stop a Sherbrooke drive. Bert Morin, number seven, with his back to the camera has just completed a pass to Dave Hayden, who has just shot and is screened by a Windsor player on the left. ### Late Doubles Victory Gives U. S. Thomas Cup Matches After Close Battle; Dave McTaggart Stars

Winnipeg. — (AP) — A last-match doubles win Saturday night gave the United States Thomas Cup team a 5-4 victory in the two-day best-of-nine, North American zone badminton tie before a capacity crowd of about 1,000 at the Winnipeg badminton club.

Coming from behind a 4-3 deficit the Americans tied the competition with one doubles triumph, then captured the title when Capt. Joe Alston of Pasadena, Calif., and Wynn Rogers of Arcadia, Calif., defeated Daryl Thompson of Vancouver and Gordon Simpson of Montreal 15-8, 15-5.

It was the fourth straight doubles loss for the Canadians who captured four of the five singles matches, largely on the brilliant performance of 22-year-old Dave McTaggart of Vancouver, singles champion of British Columbia.

The U.S. team now moves into further international play against the Asiatic champions of Malaya, May 24-25.

Canada salvaged only one win Friday night out of four games played as McTaggart defeated Alston, No. 1 singles player for the U.S., 15-4, 6-15, 15-11.

The youthful member of the Vancouver rackets club gave the capacity crowd of about 1,000 another brilliant display of speed and reaction as he downed Dick Mitchell of San Diego 15-4, 9-15, 15-7 for his second victory to put Canada back in the running.

Moncton Hawks Take 2-0 Lead In Maritime Senior Hockey Playoffs; Nip New Glasgow Rangers 4-3, 5-1

Moncton Hawks took a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven series for the Maritime hockey crown at New Glasgow Saturday night when they posted a decisive 5-1 win over the Nova Scotia league champions.

Hawks won the hard-fought game 4-3 Friday.

Freddy Weaver gave the Atlantic coast champions a 1-0 lead late in the first period with New Glasgow a man short. Teammates Bert Hirschfeld, Bill Sinnett and Dugger McNeil added unanswered goals in the second.

Rangers move to Moncton tonight for the third game. The fourth and possibly deciding contest is also slated for the Hub City Tuesday night.

National Hockey League Race Moves Into Real Battle After Week-End Of Injuries, Violence; Wings Win Twice

A plugged nickel to a hole in a doughnut is a good bet today if you're trying to pick the National Hockey League winner.

The week-end left the race for Stanley Cup positions as tight as a drum and only eight games remain in which to determine the championship. Two of those games are all-important.

The league-leading Montreal Canadiens and third-place Toronto Maple Leafs slipped a little during the six-game week-end as the bruising stretch-drive hockey brought violence and injury.

Detroit Red Wings, refusing to give up hopes of a seventh-straight NHL flag, won twice at home, nipping Chicago last-place Black Hawks 3-2 Saturday in a game that knocked captain Ted Lindsay out for a week or two, then trimming Toronto 6-1 Sunday. He hurt the shoulder that kept him out of 14 games in mid-season.

The injury to Lindsay and Richard's suspension could well have an effect on the final standings since Detroit and Montreal meet twice before the 70-game schedule ends Sunday. Each has three games remaining and two Detroit victories would mean Wings could wind up in no worse than a tie for top rung.

Leafs and Bruins each have two games remaining — Boston against Detroit and Chicago and Toronto against Chicago and New York — in which to decide third place.

FROM BEHIND
Wings came from behind against Chicago Sunday night, scoring twice in the second period for victory. Vic Stasiuk put Wings ahead 1-0 in the first period, but Hawks came back with goals by George Sullivan and Larry Wilson early in the second. Then Johnny Wilson and Marty Pavelich scored for the win.

Dutch Reibel sparked in Wings' Sunday night victory over Toronto, scoring three goals as Detroit rang up its seventh straight win. Marcel Pronovost scored twice and Red Kelly got one. George Armstrong robbed goalie Terry Sawchuk of a shut-out with less than three minutes left, but the weekend results put Sawchuk three goals ahead of Toronto's Larry Lumley in the race for the Vezina Trophy.

Sawchuk also got an assist in the game. In the second period he made a diving stop of Sid Smith's shot and Pronovost picked up the puck and went the full length to score.

CANADIENS FINISH FAST
Saturday night at Montreal, Bert Olmstead scored with 45 seconds left in the game to give Canadiens victory. All the scoring came in the third period, defenceman Bob Armstrong putting Boston ahead only to have Calum MacKay tie it up five minutes later.

New York's Sunday victory over Chicago clinched fifth place for Rangers. Don Raleigh and Bill Gadsby scored early in the first period and Danny Lewicki, Vic Howe and Larry Popien fired in three more goals in the second. Harry Watson and Metro Prystai tallied for Hawks.

Als Sign Gordon Cooper, Former Denver University End, But If Any Question Arises Will Release

Montreal. — (AP) — Vic Obeck, vice-president of Montreal Alouettes, said Sunday that Gordon Cooper, former Denver University end, had been signed by the Montreal Big Four football club but if there is a question of ownership involved Alouettes will release him.

Obeck said Coach Douglas (Peahead) Walker, now in the south, had corresponded with Cooper and sent him a contract after being told by Cooper that Detroit Lions of the National Football League had drafted him but had never signed him.

In Oakland, Calif., Saturday, Cooper said he had sent his signed contract to Walker. He also said he is owned by the Lions.

Obeck said Cooper was a teammate at Denver University with quarterback Sam Etcheverry and centre Tom Hugo, both members of Alouettes.

It was Walker's understanding that the Lions drafted Cooper three years ago—in the NFL college draft—before the player went into the United States army, but had not signed him.

Buffalo Trails Pittsburgh Hornets By One Point In Close American Race For Honors; Edge Springfield 4-3

The Buffalo Bisons, hoping to repeat as American Hockey League champions, trailed the first-place Pittsburgh Hornets by one point today with only one week of the regular season remaining.

Ken Wharram's goal with 40 seconds left in overtime gave Buffalo a 4-3 victory over Springfield Indians last night. The triumph put the Bisons in undisputed possession of second place.

The setback dropped the Indians into a third place tie with the Cleveland Barons, who dropped the Providence Reds 6-2 in the only other game played. Springfield and Cleveland have 63 points apiece and are two points ahead of the fifth-place Hershey Bears.

Dick Gamble sparked Buffalo with two goals. His second, late in the third period, sent the game into overtime.

Cleveland scored in every period against Providence with Fred Glover finding the range twice. Eddie Olson, the league's leading scorer, gave the Barons a big lift by producing a goal while his team was a man short.

Nails Linesman Thompson With Wicked Right-Hand Punch After Being Cut On Head By Laycoe In Stick-Swinging Act

Boston — (AP) — Maurice Richard, temperamental star of the Montreal Canadiens, nailed linesman Cliff Thompson with a wicked right-hand punch in the third period Sunday night as the Habs bowed 4-2 to Boston Bruins and saw their first-place lead dwindle to two points.

Richard, the National Hockey League's leading scorer, went wild after being cut on the head in a melee with Boston defenseman Hal Laycoe. When Thompson tried to intervene, Richard nailed him against the boards and one of his blows caught the official under the eye, raising a large swelling.

Richard went after Laycoe twice with his stick, connecting to the Boston player's head. Laycoe was cut under both eyes. He said one of the cuts came from Richard's stick and another from a punch.

It was the second major out-

The Montreal star wound up with a match penalty, calling for a $100 fine and suspension until his case is reviewed by league president Clarence Campbell.

Laycoe received a five-minute high-sticking penalty for drawing blood and an additional 10 minutes for misconduct.

The loss ended Montreal's unbeaten streak at 11 games and coupled with second-place Detroit's victory over Toronto, left Montreal in first place by only two points. Fourth-place Boston also pulled to within one point of Toronto.

Boston had the game clinched with a 4-1 lead on two goals by captain Ed Sandford and one each by Real Chevrefils and Fleming Mackell, when Richard went wild with five minutes left in the third period.

Dickie Moore got Montreal's first goal in the opening period and Tom Johnson added the other—following the melee—with only five seconds left in the game.

Summary
First period: 1. Montreal, Moore Leclair, Johnson 13:04. Penalties: Mosdell 29, 15:16, Laycoe 4:45, Ferguson 15:16, Olmstead 17:37, Armstrong 17:37, Bouchard 18:31.

Jackie Macdonald Kept Canada Among Top Ten Countries In Pan-American Games; Places Fifth In Discus

Mexico City — (AP) — A pretty Toronto school teacher who almost missed going to the second Pan-American games because her speciality was not on the venue was Canada's first point-winner Sunday.

Tall Jacqueline (Jackie) Macdonald kept Canada among the first 10 countries in the unofficial standing by finishing fifth in the women's discus final with a heave of 37.33 metres 122 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

The 22-year-old blonde with the statuesque figure earned two points for Canada. Ingeborg Pfuller of Argentina was winner. Argentina won two gold medals against one for the United States in the opening day of track and field competition but the well-rounded American squad—350 athletes in all—produced championships in fencing and weightlifting.

The evening victories in the latter two sports moved the United States well ahead of Argentina in the unofficial point score. The U.S. had 46 points to 34 1/2 for Argentina. Mexico, the host nation, was third with 22 and Panama fourth with 15. Cuba had 10 points, Chile 7, Brazil 4, Dutch Antilles 3, Puerto Rico 2 1/2, Venezuela and Canada 2 each and Guatemala 1.

In addition to the women's discus, Argentina won the 10,000 metres while the United States finished one-two in the high jump.

Only a handful of the 70-odd Canadians competing in the games for the first time saw action on the opening day. Sprinters Harry Nelson of New Westminster, B.C., and Bruce Springbett of Vancouver qualified for the 100-metre semi-finals this afternoon.

Miss Macdonald didn't come close to her best distance in the discus—126 feet—but it wouldn't have made much difference. Miss Pfuller, runner-up in the 1951 games, had a throw of 43.19 metres 141 feet, 8 1/2 inches to set a Pan-American record.

The world record is 57.4 metres 187 feet, 1 1/2 inches held by a Russian. Argentina also took second place when Isabelle Abellan also cracked the game record with a throw of 40.06 metres 131 feet, 5 1/2 inches; a Cuban contestant was third, a Mexican fourth and a United States girl sixth.

The men's high jump provided real drama for the 35,000 fans. Ernest Shelton and Herman Wyatt of the United States set a games record of 2.01 metres six feet, seven inches. Shelton was given first because of fewer misses.

In women's basketball the United States defeated Brazil 51-45 and Chile edged Mexico 57-53. The Americans are co-favorites with Vancouver Elfers, four times Canadian champions, in the five-country double round-robin tournament. The Canadians make their debut tonight against Brazil.

Penticton Is Preparing For Vs' Home-Coming

Penticton, B.C. — This jubilant city is preparing to lift the roof Wednesday in a gala home-coming celebration for the world-champion Penticton Vs.

There'll be a parade, dances, thousands of banners, Christmas tree lights and a fly-past. Even the streets will be painted.

The elaborate plans are being laid by representatives of the Board of Trade, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, service clubs and fraternities in the city.

Three blocks of Main street will be painted in green and white stripes—colors of the Vs—and caricatures of the players will be placed in the arena.

Homeowners will dig into attics and basements for the tree lights which will be displayed in windows in the form of a "V."

Duel For Second Place In Quebec Loop Appears As Battle To Wire; Royals Edge Cats In Wild Contest

The battle for second place in the Quebec Hockey League is going right down to the final whistle.

Montreal Royals remained in the fight for the runner-up spot Sunday by edging the league-leading Shawinigan Falls Cataracts 3-2 at Montreal in a game that saw a chair thrown on the ice and both coaches tossed out.

They remained two points behind Quebec, however, as the Aces downed the tail-end Valleyfield Braves 5-3 at Valleyfield. Quebec has three games left to play and Montreal two.

Referee George Gravel called every infraction in Montreal, handing out 23 penalties, including three misconducts and one match misconduct. Roger Leger, coach of the Cataracts, drew the game banishment, for mimicking Gravel.

Penticton Vs Down Canadians 4-1 In Exhibition At Paris Before 13,000; Leave For Home Tomorrow

Paris — (Reuters) — Penticton Vs, world hockey champions, defeated a team of Canadians in their exhibition tour of the continent.

The Vs, who play a game in London before leaving for home Tuesday, led 2-0 at the end of the first period, added single goals in the second and third periods before the Canadians in Europe got their first and only goal.

Kevin Conway got the first goal at the eight-minute mark of the opener on a pass from Jim Middleton. Fifteen seconds later Jack McIntyre made it 2-0 with George McAvoy assisting.

Bill Warwick scored off Jack Taggart's pass at 4:35 of the second period and Grant Warwick

Fontana, Bedard Win Doubles Crown At Cannes

Cannes, France — (AP) — Two Canadians on a tour of the European tennis circuit Sunday won the men's doubles of the Cannes international tournament.

Miami Boxing Commission Fines Gavilan

Miami Beach, Fla. — (AP) — The Miami Beach boxing commission fined former welterweight boxing champion Kid Gavilan and his trainer $100 each Saturday for protests they made to newspaper reporters after the Kid lost a close decision to Hector Constance here Feb. 23.

The five-man board ruled that their remarks were "detrimental to boxing."

Gavilan's trainer, Mundo Medina, admitted that he shouted "crooks" and "robbers" after the fight, but he said he was talking to fans and did not mean to imply that any of the fight officials were included.

Various newspaper reporters in their columns after the fight quoted Gavilan as saying: "Perhaps the officials here are honest, but they were not honest tonight."

Look of Defeat Worth Trip Over Says Hewitt

Toronto — (AP) — Foster Hewitt says it was worth his trip to the world hockey tournament in Germany to see the look of frustration and defeat on the faces of the Russian hockey players.

Hewitt, who broadcast a description of Penticton Vs' 5-0 win over Russia last Sunday, said in an interview on his return Friday that the Russian team would be a "cake walk for any professional outfit."

"Against any reasonably good Canadian team, they wouldn't have a chance."

As an example of the seriousness with which Europeans regard the tournament, Hewitt told of a broadcast of the game to East Germany.

"When the Canadians scored their first goal, the announcer explained that the Russians weren't warmed up. The second Canadian goal was described as a fluke. After the third goal they substituted a musical program and there was no further comment—not even the score."

The Rangers, in fifth place and out of the playoffs, managed only 19 shots on Harry Lumley in the Leaf net over the 60 minutes.

Defenceman Lou Fontana made it 1-1 after about three minutes of the third period and winger Pete Conacher counted the winner at 7:45 on a screened shot.

Horton, a 25-year-old native of Cochrane, Ont., was leading a rush across the Ranger blue line when he was injured. He apparently didn't see Gadsby who was moving up with his stick and elbows high. The two collided at full speed and Horton spun around and dropped to the ice with a sickening thud as the

Down Windsor 4-1 In Deciding Tilt Yesterday Afternoon After Losing Saturday 7-6; Meet Magog Or Theftford

Sherbrooke Nationals split their week-end bill with Windsor Juniors but managed to wrap up the championship of the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League and move into the Provincial play-downs. The Nationals lost 7-6 Saturday evening in the Canada Paper Arena but yesterday afternoon came through with a 4-1 verdict in the deciding game of the series.

They will now meet the Magog winners this week at a date to be decided when ice will be available at the Arena in a sudden-death fixture with the winners meeting Theftford Mines for the right to meet Montreal.

On Saturday evening the winning tally was scored with Lafontaine sitting out a penalty in the dying minutes of the tilt. Windsor led 4-1 at the end of the first period but Sherbrooke came up with three goals to two for the home club in the middle session and although the Roger Roy squad knotted the count just before the half-way mark L. Abran fired the winning tally to give the home club the verdict.

At the Arena yesterday afternoon the Nationals proved the better club but they had a real fight on their hands until the final period when they tallied twice to put the verdict out of Windsor's reach. Filiatreau opened the scoring but J. P. Abran evened the count three minutes later and then Hamel tallied what proved to be the winner just before half-time in the opening frame.

In the middle session both teams battled through a scoreless session although the Windsor squad had good scoring chances but they failed to capitalize on them. In the third period Denoncourt came up with two goals to sew up the decision and ensure the Nationals of a berth in the Eastern Townships junior playdowns.

Magog Makes Clean Sweep In Annual St. Francis Valley Girls' Tourney; Carol Whittier Sets Merry Pace

Richmond — A quintet from Magog showed remarkable class in emerging victorious in the annual St. Francis Valley girls' basketball tournament.

The Magog entry was unbeaten and had little trouble capturing the tournament from entries that included Theftford High, Lennoxville, Richmond, Three Rivers, Knowlton, Drummondville and Asbestos-Danville-Shipton.

Sponsored by St. Francis High School in Richmond, the annual spring get-together was its usual rousing success under the fatherly guidance of Messrs. Somerville and Smith.

Led by Carol Whittier, the Magog girls had far too much power for their opponents, winning all their games by wide margins. They trounced Asbestos-Danville-Shipton 68-29, knocked over Three Rivers, 68-38, then won the final from Lennoxville, 58-38.

Lennoxville had a tough time slipping by Theftford after edging Richmond, 34-32. In the other two games, Theftford beat Drummondville, 25-24 and Three Rivers stopped Knowlton 25-21.

Ranger coach Muzz Patrick announced here Saturday night that the 35-year-old pivot man had been given permission to return to his home in Port Arthur and that he had decided to hang up his skates. Laprade suffered a groin injury a few weeks ago, returned to action for two games and then decided the pace was too much.

The fast skating forward broke into the National Hockey League with Rangers in the 1945-46 season and won the Calder Memorial trophy as the loop's best rookie.

One of his best seasons was the 1949-50 campaign when he scored 22 goals, had an equal

All donations for the Vermont Conference Missions are asked to be made at this meeting, this includes good used summer clothing.

The announcement was made that Rev. Mr. Tenneson would hold a Holy Communion service at the church the evening of Good Friday, to which all members are urged to attend.

The meeting adjourned and a social hour was enjoyed when lunch was served at the dining table attractively arranged with a St. Patrick's Day cloth, centered with a bowl of yellow daffodils, flanked by lighted green candles in crystal holders.

CRYSTAL REBEKAH LODGE

A meeting of Crystal Rebekah Lodge No. 14, was held at the L.O.O.F. Hall, in West Park, on Tuesday evening, March 8, with a very good attendance of members. Sister Gladys Dustin, Noble Grand, was in the chair and opened the meeting in the usual manner.

Balloting proved in favor of accepting two applicants to membership, with installation degrees to be conferred at a future meeting. Final plans were made for the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs to be in Magog on Sunday, March 13, to present their gift of a wheel chair to La Providence hospital.

Everyone was pleased with the coffee urn which had arrived, and was a gift to the hall from Crystal Rebekah Lodge in honor of the 50th anniversary recently celebrated.

As the flower garden whist card party held at the hall on March 1 was so successful, it was decided to have a second party on Monday evening, March 14. Sister Ida Haselton offered to donate the prizes for the party. Sister Gladys Hunter will arrange for the refreshments.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 22 and will feature Past Noble Grand's night. Sister Madge Chamberlain offered to be chairman for the refreshments which will be served. The round robin basket was passed and won by Sister Mary Yetter, after which the session closed in form.

BALLET RECITAL

Nearly a year ago Mrs. S. S. Lynch started a ballet class in which considerable interest has been taken by Boundary youngsters, so that at this date, 42 children and young people, ranging in age from three to fourteen years are enrolled.

On Friday evening, March 18, Mrs. Lynch has planned a presentation to take place at the Haskell Opera House, and a delightful program has been arranged.

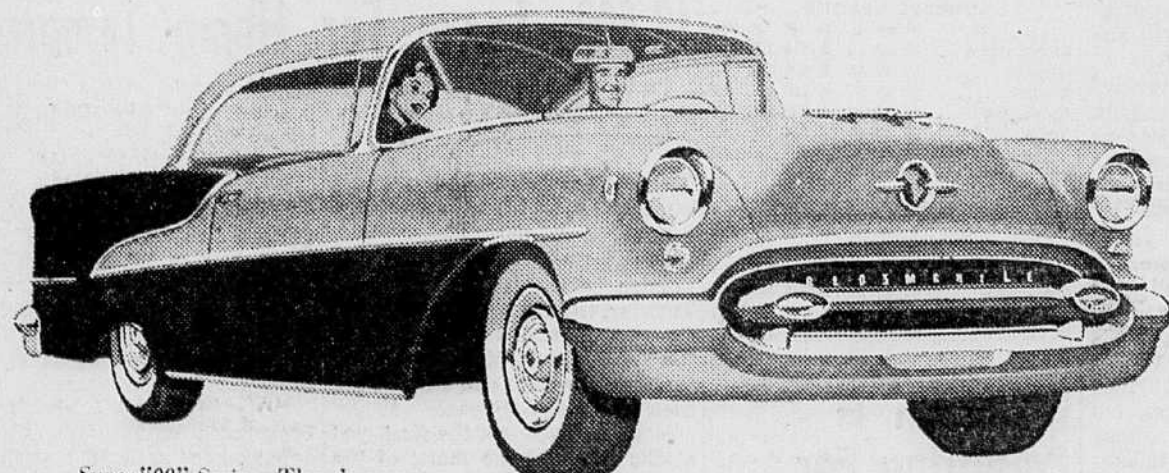

The juniors will present ballet solos, tap dance numbers and acrobatic stunts, while the seniors will present a ballet dance. For weeks the classes have been perfecting their steps for the public's entertainment, and beautiful costumes have been in the making.

This is an event no one will want to miss, the tickets are now on sale at the villages.
