TWO SMALL FIRES OCCUR AT HOWICK WITH ONE AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

No mention has been made in this column about the new fire equipment because the council wished to make as many tests as possible to familiarize the firemen with the apparatus. More news about the equipment will be given at a later date, but two fires have occurred within the past few days and it has been called out. Fortunately both were small fires, and only the extinguishers were used.

The first at the Helm residence on Colville St., had some connection with a bedroom lamp and the cause will be determined sometime today.

The second fire was at Howick High School about 10 o'clock Monday morning. It started in the library cupboard, and reference books stored there were damaged. Grades 1, 2, 3 were absent, but the school was evacuated and about 20 minutes later 250 students or more returned to their examinations. The cause was not known at time of writing.

Howick United Church 35th Anniversary Observed

The Howick United Church enjoyed a week-end of unusual interest, which marked the 35th anniversary of the opening of the church.

Instigated by Mrs. M. Brown, Pres. of U.C.W. plans were made months ahead to have Dr. A. B. B. Moore, Pres. of Victoria College, Toronto as guest speaker on this occasion — also to have a congregational supper with invitations being extended to all former members and friends who knew Dr. and Mrs. Moore, while he ministered here during the nineteen thirties.

The supper, on June 15th, started about 5 p.m. and continued until about 8.30 p.m. During that time many parents came with their children and enjoyed meeting old friends and chatting with Dr. Moore and his wife.

The Church Hall gleaming with fresh paint was decorated with baskets of pink and red peonies. The tables were attractive with bowls of pansies and other cut flowers. Salads and platters of ham looked so tempting, and the boys were glad to see an abundance of pies. Mrs. John Logan was the convener for the supper.

The church was filled on Sunday morning as parents, children and visitors gathered to worship on this 25th anniversary. Mrs. Russel Stewart presided at the organ. A choir of 16 voices sang the anthem, Dream of Paradise, with Mrs. Russell Gruer taking the soprano solo. Mrs. Geo. Lavery sang from the heart, the beautiful solo, The King of Love My Shepherd Is.

The service of worship was conducted by Mr. Geo. Lavery, student minister. Dr. Moore preached an eloquent sermon, using as his text, God's plan for the Church. His three main points were The Church needs to penetrate every aspect of society or it will perish; the Church should be an inclusive fellowship, which means it should transcend every race and notianality; the Church should be a unified fellowship. Christ is the Head of the Church and we should seek to witness to Him in a more unified way.

Guests were present for the occasion from Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Lachine, Abbotsford, Powerscourt, Huntingdon, Ormstown, Beaconsfield, Valleyfield, St. Bruno, Greenfield Park and Waterville.

Another Bank Hold-up At Howick

Howick seems to be a favorite spot for bank hold-ups and once again, on Monday afternoon, at about 2.45 Howick Branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce was the scene of a hold-up.

Two men armed with revolvers and wearing dark glasses entered the bank at about the time given and made the customer and employees lie on the floor while they gathered up the money around. This done, they then made their getaway in a black car, probably a Monarch.

Provincial police were called and made investigation and the case is now in the hands of the Hold-up Squad.

It is not known just how much money the thieves got away with. The whole affair took only a few minutes.

Receives Holy Obedience

Rev. Harold O'Connor, O.M.I.

Rev. Harold O'Connor, O. M.I., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Connor of Huntingdon, recently received his obedience from the Provincial of St. Peter's Oblate Province, Rev. G. Cousineau, O.M.I.

On Friday, June 14, Rev. O'Connor left Ottawa en route to Hazelton, B.C. where he will be stationed for six weeks. After that he expects to take a permanent position on an Indian Mission on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Tuesday evening, June 11, approximately 90 relatives and friends called on Father Harold at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Connor to say farewell and to wish him every success and happiness in his new mission.

Two Howick Couples Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm were surprised when about 65 friends and relatives arrived on Friday evening, June 14, a few days before the date (June 18) to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. They donned their party clothes hastily. The bride looking charming in a green linen dress was given a corsage of pink carnations. The Chisholms, blessed with three fine sons, Dale, Gordon and Donald, have a busy, happy household and their hospitality has brought cheer to many people. A social evening was enjoyed on this special occasion.

Huntley Greig, on behalf of those present, spoke of the part they play in the life of the community where they are regarded with respect and affection. The term: good neighbour, was used and in a farming community this has special meaning. Congratulations and best wishes for many more years together were extended the happy couple.

Keith Greig presented the couple with a buffet set, candlesticks, centrepiece and tray with crystal sugar and cream. This was Ikora ware, silver with a mother of pearl resemblance.

Donald and Margaret were pleased with this beautiful gift and graciously thanked their friends for coming to their home and remembering them in this way.

Delicious refreshments were served by the neighbours.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson were pleasantly surprised when their family, grandchildren and other relatives gathered to celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary with them. The evening was spent in Wilburn and Marian's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were happy to see Mrs. Hazel Ogilvie, Mrs. Pearl Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lyall among the guests.

During part of the evening the conversation centered around the happenings of 45 years ago. Mr. Allan Logan proposed a toast to the bride and groom. Later in the evening refreshments were served by Phyllis, Gladys, Ruth and Marian. The table was centered with a lovely cake and white candles. Beautiful flowers and white bells decorated the home.

On behalf of the family, Wilburn presented his mother and dad with a gift of lawn furniture, and Mr. Andrew Allan presented them with an envelope of money. Willie and Millie also received other lovely gifts and they both very fittingly replied to these presentations.

Everyone departed wishing them many more years of health and happiness together.

Pioneer Rebekah Lodge No. 1 Observes Seventieth Birthday

Another milestone has been reached in the history of Pioneer Rebekah Lodge No. 1 when the 70th Anniversary was fittingly observed by a Church Service in St. John's Anglican Church, Sunday evening ,June 16th. This was the exact date of the institution of this Lodge, which was June 16th, 1893, making it the first Rebekah Lodge in the Province of Quebec.

Rev. P. R. Stote of St. John's Church conducted the service of worship assisted by Rev. J. M. Grant, who gave the Scripture reading and Rev. W. E. Black led in prayer.

Rev. P. R. Stote introduced the guest speaker, Rev. J. B. Hall of St. Mark's Anglican Church, Valleyfield. Rev. Hall gave a very inspiring talk on Friendship, Love and Truth telling how these could be applied to the unrest in the world today.

The Church Choir, assisted by members of Ormstown, under the leadership of Mrs. Mons Duke, led in the singing and rendered a selection (Sun of my Soul), which was greatly appreciated by all.

About 80 members from Rebekah and Oddfellow Lodges from Valleyfield, Ormstown, Montreal and Huntingdon registered. H. Plummer, Past Grand Master and P. Grinton, newly appointed Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, were among the guests.

After the service all adjourned to the Church Hall, which was prettily decorated with peonies. A buffet lunch was served, the table being centred by a beautiful cake in the shape of an open Bible. Everyone enjoyed the social hour after refreshments.

One of the projects of our Past President of the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec, Sis. D. Drouyn, was a prize for the Lodge which had the best planned programme of the year. The programmes were judged during the Rebekah Assembly of Quebec session which was held in Sherbrooke. The programme submitted by Pioneer was the winning one. This prize was presented after refreshments by our Assembly Warden, Sis. Jennie Helm to the Noble Grand Sis. Mina Taylor.

The collection taken is to be donated to the Huntingdon County Hospital. The officers and members sincerely thank all who assisted in any way to make the service a success and inspiration.

New Guard Rails at Monique's Curve

Some markers, or guard rails have been set up on Route 4 at Monique's Curve, as it is called. This particular curve is a dangerous one and every year several accidents occur there. These guard rails have been set up at an agle to the curve, with the purpose of making car drivers see them. There are two posts and between the posts two heavy boards have been set and the whole painted white. There are two of these at a distance of about twenty feet apart.

Car drivers travelling toward Dewittville from Huntingdon will see these and should be warned that there is danger and slow down in accordance. For this reason we say they are markers rather than guard rails, although if a car did hit them, it could save the car from going off the road.

TRAGIC ACCIDENT TAKES LIFE OF YET ANOTHER HEMMINGFORD YOUTH

On Friday, June 14th, at 12.15a.m. (fifteen minutes after midnight) Marven Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore of Covey Hill, was driving toward Barrington in a Chrysler '57. Just at the curve of the highway, near the old school house where the Backbush Road converges onto the highway, he was overtaken by Ralph Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore of Hemmingford, who was driving a Chevrolet '55. It is thought the two cars must have touched, as the Chev. driven by Ralph Moore, spun across the highway, ploughed through the ditch, struck an obstruction on the far side and careened into a tall power pole which carries a large number of wires stretching in three directions. The pole was wrecked and power interrupted over a wide area until, in some cases, 11 a.m. Friday. The youth was hurled through the windscreen and, there being a fairly thick stand of cedar brush at this point, it was some time before rescurers could find his body. The car driven by Marven Moore was also spun round and went into the deep ditch, ending up facing towards Hemmingford. There were no passengers in Ralph Moore's car, the car itself is a complete wreck. It is understood that neither Marven Moore nor his passenger, Jimmy McAllister, were injured. Damage to Marven Moore's car is estimated to be in the region of $500.

Funeral services for Ralph Moore, who was 18 years of age, were held in the United Church, Hemmingford, on Saturday afternoon and were conducted by the Rev. G. Ficko. Interment was in the Hemmingford Cemetery. Ralph is survived by his parents, three brothers, Albert, William and James and four sisters, Noreen, Sylvia, Catherine and Christine.

Allan Hunter, Guest Speaker At Huntingdon Rotary Club

Huntingdon Rotary Club met for a regular meeting at The Chateau, on Monday with a good attendance. No meeting will be held for the next two weeks, the next meeting being on July 8th, when the new President, Mr. Fred Anderson will take office for the ensuing year.

This being Dairy Month each member found a small bottle of milk beside his plate, supplied by the Franklin County Ponoma Grange, which is promoting Dairy Products during the month of June. Mr. Allan Hunter, Master of Maple Leaf Grange, was the Guest Speaker and he spoke of the milk as being an aid by the Grange to help the producer sell more of his product.

When Mr. Hunter addressed the members of the Rotary Club, he gave them a brief outline of the aims and objects of his own organization, Maple Leaf Grange, Huntingdon, which is part of the larger organization of National Granges founded in the United States almost one hundred years ago. The actual time according to Mr. Hunter was about the same time as Canada's birthday, 1867. He explained that the idea was brought forward by a man in the States in order that a better deal might be given to the farmers and farming communities in the States in those early years. It spread into Canada and at one time there were a large number of granges in this country. However through disagreement over having a full branch in this country dissention arose and the whole plan nearly collapsed. There are now very few in Canada, but it is quite strong in the States.

In that country it has done much to help farmers and farming communities and even Maple Leaf Grange has helped to make some of the regulations and new laws. The officers of the Grange are based on officers on estates and societies of the olden days in Scotland. There are several levels for the Granges and the various suggestions, etc. are sent from one to the other until they reach the top level for final decision and action to be taken.

Mr. Hunter said that the local Grange, Maple Leaf, had done much to help the community in a service way, but owing to it being in Canada, most of its work was of a social nature. However, resolutions are forwarded on many matters in the hope that they may prove of benefit in some way and some of them have been useful and put into effect.

Mr. Hunter answered a few questions regarding Grange work and then was thanked by Rotarian Cecil Brown. He thanked Mr. Hunter for his interesting address and he felt that many at the meeting had learned more about the Grange than they had known before. He felt that perhaps too many did not know what the Grange actually stood for.

Past President John Thompson was delegated to make the necessary arrangements with respect to the Colour Parties — That of the Branch to present the colours for dedication and that of the Ladies Auxiliary to receive the colours. Edwin Foers, Athelstan; Robert Victor Stone, Athelstan; Ronald Haywood, Athelstan. Following the disposal of the regular business the Chairman turned over the chair to Past President Irvin Laberge as Chairman of the Elections Committee, the other members of that committee being David Zabitsky and Gerard Lambert. As already intimated the Installations will be conducted by Colonel John Redmond Roche, President Quebec Provincial Command, the Royal Canadian Legion. Colonel Roche, or to give him his civilian title His Honour Judge Roche, has had a distinguished law career, not only as a Judge but in active practise as partly evidenced by in addition to being a Professor in Law, and a Q.C. in Canada, he was admitted to the Bar of England and thereby became a member of Lincoln's Inn, attainments which only a few lawyers outside of the United Kingdom attain.

His record of service during World War 1 is a brillant one, so also has been his record of service for the Legion and Veterans in general.

Chateauguay Valley Historical Society To Create Park At Allans Corners Very Soon

The Chateauguay Valley Historical Society voted overwhelmingly in favour of purchasing land at Allans Corners for the formation of a small park to commemorate the Battle of Chateauguay battle area in a manner which will bring pleasure to the general public for many years.

Speaking to the motion Mr. Ian Watson, M.P., chairman of the Battle Commemoration Committee, stated that it is highly probable that the federal government will support this development of what has been a National Historic Site for many years.

The future park area consists of four lots along the north bank of the Chateauguay River, some 200 feet East of the monument. The committee is charged with producing a master plan of development for the Allans Corners area, one part of which will be the erection on this land of a very old barn which was removed from its original site — about a mile east last fall. This barn will eventually become the first stage of a local museum.

In Less Than Two Years

In taking this action the society has achieved a major step forward for so young a group — since the founding meeting was held less than two years ago. Financing of the project will be handled by a bank loan. Five volunteers were requested to sign the loan on behalf of the society and the response was immediate.

This decision was taken at a well attended meeting held at the home of the society's president Mr. Harry Cullen last Friday evening. During the course of the meeting Mr. Watson, in his report as Committee Chairman, also announced that signs, which will tell the story of the Battle, should be erected by early July.

He also stated that the Canadian army will provide a substantial part of a regiment to carry out part of the commemoration plans in October. In addition he announced that, should plans develop as currently anticipated, it is very probable that both Prime Minister Pearson and Premier Lesage will consider attending the October celebration.

Arrangements are underway for a suitable area of land to be available for carrying out commemoration activities, and the co-operation and support of schools in the area and of the St. Jean Baptiste Society has been promised. The historical society's executive is appointing a special committee to coordinate the program for the day.

Two Interesting Speakers

Highlights of an eventful meeting were two talks given regarding the Battle of Chateauguay from two very different points of view. The Reverend Canon Grondin of Ormstown gave a most interesting account of the battle as it was 'fought' thirty two years ago. Colonel A. F. Duguid, of Ottawa, retired Canadian army historian and an active member of the society, then brought the original battle to life for his audience.

Father Grondin told how he had lead some 140 boys of the Valleyfield Seminary through a pageant which depicted the battle. Illustrated by a number of photographs taken at the time, his talk described how the play was written, then the boys were brought to the battleground for a picnic, when the action was described. Monitors then worked out and rehearsed the action, then rehearsed again with all the section leaders. Finally the whole group of some 140 boys rehearsed once or twice before the final presentation which was attended by over 3000 people in the Valleyfield Exhibition Grounds.

Father Grondin did considerable research concerning the battle which included obtaining descriptions of the uniforms from Ottawa — the sketches of which he passed around to the audience. The boys' mothers made the costumes representative of the U.S., Canadian and Indian troops. The boys did the rest

Boon - Menard Wedding at Hemmingford

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Boon (nee Gisele Menard) cutting the cake.

The wedding of Gisele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Menard of Hemmingford, to Mr. Stephen Boon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Boon, also of Hemmingford, took place on Saturday, June 8th, at St. Roman's Parish Church. Rev. J. M. LaRocque performed the ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass. Wedding music was sung during the service by the Ladies Choir under the direction of Mrs. Walter Smith with Mrs. J. H. L'Espérance at the organ. The church was decorated with white spirea and white peonies.

The bride looked charming in a wedding gown of white nylon sheer. The scoop-neck, high-waisted bodice and the long sleeves were decorated with Schiffli embroidery while the bouffant skirt was fashioned with a wide front panel of deep tucks. Her three-tiered veil of nylon tulle was held with a small coronet of iridescent crystal beads and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bride's mother wore a sheath gown of deep blue lace with a white hat and accessories. Mrs. Boon, the groom's mother, was attired in a gown of printed silk with accessories to tone. Both ladies wore corsages of white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception for some 110 guests was held at Bourdeau's Hotel, St. Chrysostome. The bridal table was graced with a three-tiered wedding cake which had been made by the bride's mother and exquisitely decorated by a friend from Lacolle.

For her wedding trip to Ottawa and its environs, the bride wore a suit of black and white loose-weave linen with a black and white hat, white shoes and purse. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Boon, who was educated at St. Roman's High School, was employed in the office at Hardee Farm. Mr. Boon is an inspector at Pratt and Whitney's. Canada's Centenary

Its Importance To The Chateauguay Valley

Part VII — Who Is Planning ?

by DOUGLAS R. LAMBIE

Editor of Waiting Room Digest, freelance writer, Past President and Centennial Committee Chairman of the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society

Slowly but surely the word trickles in — a hint here, a question there, a small item in the paper ... someone is planning for Canada's Centenary in the Valley but oh so quietly.

The Huntingdon Board of Trade has a Centenary Committee. The Hemmingford Chamber of Commerce has invited C. F. Carsley, deputy commissioner-general of the World's Fair to speak to them in September. The Women's Institute of Hemmingford has been good enough to invite the author of this column to speak to their November meeting. The Chateauguay Valley Historical Society has undertaken two Centennial projects, and the steps taken last week to develop a park on the battle ground at Allans Corners obviously will develop into another project for Canada's Centenary.

Let's Start At The Beginning...

Will all groups and organizations in the Valley unite in a first step — a small task for each, but a major step toward Centennial planning?

Will each group direct its secretary to write to this column supplying the following information:

a) Name and address of the group.

b) Names of the officers.

c) Whether any step has been taken toward Centennial planning (e.g. appointing a committee).

d) If a step has been taken — what?

The object of requesting this information is to compile a list of all organizations in the Valley, so that they may receive information regarding Centennial plans. In any event such a list would be of great value, since information seems impossible to find at the moment.

Countless Ideas

The range of ideas that have been forthcoming since this series started is enormous — and fascinating. It ranges from the establishment of a library to taking serious action to combat water pollution; from encouraging development of new summer cottage areas to removing some of the night marish aspects of driving through some of our communities. The most significant reaction has been the number of people who realize the wonderful opportunities awaiting the Valley if concrete action is taken to use the Centennial as a catalyst to regional development.

Development of the South Shore as a tremendous industrial area of the future has been referred to by several speakers recently. Few of these referred to the South Shore which lies west of the LaFrarie-Candiac area . . . which should stir something in the hearts of those Valley dwellers who can see into the future.

If such a massive industrial development does take place it is bound to affect this area enormously. Either industry will spread more extensively into the Valley, or the Valley will be left behind. Either it will have a greatly stimulating effect on the economy of the area, at the cost of losing our enviable beauty... or such expansion will be planned by the people of this Valley, the valley will be zoned intelligently, its natural beauty preserved and enhanced, gracious residential areas developed, agricultural regions developed to the ultimate degree of benefit, recreational areas created and developed.

It is up to the people of this Valley what happens to this area in the next four years and in the people of this Valley? Stand up and be counted! Let us start at the beginning — start by compiling this list, and then let us take positive action to ensure that the people of the Chateauguay Valley celebrate Canada's Centenary by taking unprecedented steps toward regional development of their own home land.

CORRECTION

Huntingdon High Highlights

This is examination week at school. It is a week of intense study and preparation for higher grades. This week will determine the success or failure of the students.

Camera Club

On Thursday, June 6, the Huntingdon High School Camera Club met to choose their next year's executive.

The officers are: President, Ellen Bulow; Vice-President, Jonathan Chodat; Secretary, Gail Middlemiss and Treasurer, Karl Domingue.

Among other things on the agenda were the discussions of next year's activities. It was decided that all the meetings should be held at noon hour so it would be possible for bus students to attend. It was also decided to charge an entry fee of twenty-five cents per person per month or, in full $2.50 per person for the whole year.

We hope that these changes in our procedure will aid us in the oncoming year as we only made a clear profit of $2.00 for the school year of 1962-63 so it is now up to next year's Camera Club.

— which included planting clusters of trees, painting the 'Chateauguay River', and carrying out the action. A complete text was printed and distributed to the audience. Under direction of the twelve monitors the 'troops' then followed the text which was read over loud speakers while spotlights picked out the activity.

Apart from the enthusiasm shown by the buglers and drummers, the entire exercise developed a tremendous spirit among the boys who participated in the summer 'play activity. Several of those present at the meeting expressed the wish that such an exercise might again be presented.

Jnion Jack Contain: Four Crosses

Colonel Duguid prefaced his remarks about the Battle by pointing out — with a reference to current discussion of a national flag — that the colours under which all Canadians fought so proudly at Allans Corners were — the Union Jack. He further noted the interesting fact that while the Jack's historic origin was based upon the union of three crosses it actually also contains the Cross of St. Louis — a white cross upon a blue ground.

This he felt to be symbolic of the key to the Battle — every Canadian was of one mind and a singleness of purpose. The army command's purpose was — in Colonel Duguid's words, "Yankee go home!" The purpose was not a decisive and bloodthirsty defeat of the American army, but to stop their approach to Montreal. When this purpose was accomplished by de Salaberry's delightful piece of bluff (which convinced General Wade Hampton that the odds were far different from the actual 4500 to 300 in his favour), and the American army began its withdrawl, the Canadian command felt it wiser to let them go.

Colonel Duguid expressed the opinion that contrary to some historian's criticism of the Canadian's failure to harrass and destroy the American army, this very action may have saved Canada. He opined that had the Canadians pursued the Americans, with the thousands of men who stood behind de Salaberry's small force, and had they destroyed Hampton's line, the results could have been disastrous for Canada.

Not only would they have had to look after many prisoners and wounded during the oncoming winter, but the resulting bitterness throughout the U.S. might well have brought all the forces at the U.S. command sweeping across the border the following spring with virtually catastrophic results for this country. On this he rests his case that the Battle of Chateauguay may well have been the most important for Canada.

The evening's speakers were appropriately and eloquently thanked in French by Dr. John Davidson, the society's Ormstown regional director.

Other Announcements

During the evening D. R. Lambie, Centennial Committee chairman reported that conversations had taken place with various persons with regard to two announced projects.

Mrs. J. L'Esperance added a touch of humour to the meeting by announcing that, subject to his acceptance — and he had not yet been invited — Mr. Lambie would be the guest speaker at the November meeting of the Hemmingford Women's Institute, which would be an open meeting on the subject of Centennial planning. Mr. Lambie accepted the invitation.

Mrs. L'Esperance then mentioned the probability that the books rescued from the old Hemmingford Town Hall would become the nucleus of a Centenary library project. She also referred to the Hemmingford Chamber of Commerce's September meeting at which the guest speaker will be Mr. C. F. Carsley, deputy commissioner-general of the 1967 World's Fair.

A motion was also adopted at the meeting that the society would accept an invitation to handle the food concession at the annual Farmer's Picnic at Cairnside and would take part in the afternoon's program. Miss Isobel Frith was appointed chairman of the committee.

Site and date of the society's next meeting will be announced within the next two weeks.

Chateauguay Valley District Cub Rally — Grover Award

Lake Hermas in Hemmingford, once again played host to the large number of Cubs in the Chateauguay Valley for their annual Rally. A wet, miserable night preceeded a grey, cloudy morning, but nothing could dampen the spirits of some 400 boys and their leaders who made the echoes resound, at 10 a.m. with the Grand Howl. The honour of breaking the Flag was accorded our own Mrs Tom Cleland as the Leader with the longest period of service to her credit, (is it 10 or 11 years Ina?) District Commander Bill Sexton then declared the Rally open. The entire programme for the day had been planned by district Cub Master Ed Burgess, who was named Akela for the day.

The first item of the programme was the presentation of the Grover Shield to the Cub Pack making most progress during the past year. Hemmingford had the honour of winning it for the second year and so the presentation was made to Leader Mrs. Tom Cleland.

Assistant Leaders then took over and conducted out-door Pack meetings while Akelas exchanged visits with each other's Pack.

After a picnic lunch came the Olympic Parade and this was something to see. Each Pack represented a different country and whether it was the Leaders or the mothers who were responsible, someone did a lot of work making costumes. There were the Turks (?) in baggy red pants, white shirts and little red jackets and the Egyptians in their flowing white robes, quite outstanding but a terrible handicap in the obstacle races! There were natives from Africa, the Carribeans from Holland, Australia and New Zealand. The Hemmingford boys represented Switzerland and looked quite authentic in their shorts, white shirts and embroidered jackets, with the little tuft of feathers in the Alpine Hat! Altogether it was an outstanding display and it was obvious that careful research had been done before the costumes had been made, in order that they might be as authentic as possible.

After the parade came the races. The boys leapt over streams, crawled under fallen trees and climbed over walls (all imaginary!) they hurled the discus! (ever tried "hurling" a paper plate! most frustrating) they stepped delicately forward, head-balancing blocks, and, all-in-all, had a "whale" of a time and so did the spectators. Each race was a joint effort of the five or six boys and all the results were so close that, in true Cub style, everybody won.

A quick swim, a Nature Ramble, the distribution of a Commemoration Badge to the boys and a very hearty vote of thanks to D.C.M. Ed Burgess for an excellent programme, well planned and efficiently executed, and then the Grand Howl closed another successful Rally. The District Council appreciate very much the generosity of Mr. Fortin in placing the Lake and all its facilities at their disposal for these annual events. The beautiful surroundings, the easy access, the level ground for the race and the shady hillside where tents may be pitched, make it an ideal spot. And with the sun wandering in and out all afternoon, warming up the temperature, everyone voted this Rally the best yet.

Dewittville

Members of the Dewittville W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Norman McLean last Thursday night, for their June meeting. The roll call was answered by naming a fruit or vegetable commencing with the first initial of each person's name.

The president reported that the June 1st visit of the University Students in our community had been very successful. An account of this venture by our Citizenship Convener appears elsewhere in this issue. Many hoped that arrangments can be made to entertain a further group of these young people later this year.

The Treasurer was asked to forward the Annual County dues of 25c per member to the County Treasurer. Further plans were made in connection with the Summer Fair to be held early in July.

Publicity reported on the Ninth Annual Conference of the Canadian Highway Safety Council held recently at Halifax where three Canadian women's organizations were presented Carol Lane Awards for Traffic Safety. These awards are made possible through a grant from the Shell Oil Company of Canada Limited. It is interesting to note that the top award of $1,000 and a 12" Bronze Statuette went to Marshfield W.I. Safety Committee of Marshfield, P.E.I. The group conducted Highway Safety campaigns for the committee as well as had Traffic Safety Education Program for school children of all ages.

The other two awards of $500 and $250 went to ladies of Kiwanis, Taber, Alta. and the Women's Division, Moose Jaw Safety Council of Moose Jaw, Sask., respectively. This seems to be a very worthwhile effort and one that one of our branches in our Counties of Huntingdon and Chateauguay might well pursue sometime in the future.

Anotner item of interest reads as follows: Mrs. Gerda Van Deekhoff of the Netherlands, President of the Associated Country Women of the World will arrive in Canada June 19th for a two month tour of Federated W. I. of Canada.

Mrs. Van Deekhoff now is in Washington attending the World's Food Congress. She is the only woman member of the Advisory Committee for the World's National Food and Agriculture Organization.

She will visit all ten provinces and the MacKenzie district during her Canadian tour. She was elected President of the A.C.W.W. which represents 159 rural and homemakers societies in 1957 and was re-elected to another term last year. Mrs. Van Deekoff will be one of the guest speakers on Wed., June 26th at the Annual Provincial Convention at Macdonald College.

Guest speaker for the evening, Mr. Leon A. Beaudin, County Agronomist was introduced by Mrs. R. Gill. Mr. Beaudin addressed us on the subject of choosing good exhibits of vegetables and fruits for fairs. He pointed out the importance of selecting produce that was uniform in size and color, as well as being free from blemishes and disease. The speaker continued that we should chose varieties that are suitable for our particular soil conditions and proper cultivation, especially of root vegetables, would eliminate many of the qualities that detract from the appearance of our exhibit.

Mr. Beaudin was thanked by Mrs. E. McKellar for his very informative talk.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Ruddock and Mrs. R. Gill, followed by a social hour.

HUNTINGDON W.I. MEETING

Huntingdon W.I. met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Surette. On account of the School Fahion Show, the meeting attendance was small. Pres. Mrs. Bernhardt conducted the meeting and Roll Call was answered by naming a safety hazard in the home. Treasurer reported that $14.70 had been realized from the plant sale at May meeting. An application has been received for our Branch loan. All outstanding loans have been paid up. Miss Frances Turner will be the official delegate at Provincial Convention at Macdonald College. Mrs. Bernhardt reported that 15 Christmas stockings have been filled and there are still enough articles to fill a few more. Two members offered to send handicraft and painting to the Provincial Convention Exhibit.

Only 2 conveners were present. Agriculture gave an informative article on the care of house hydrangea. This plant thrives on a 60° temp., although it will tolerate higher temperatures. To keep the plant for another year it should be cut back half way when blooming is finished. It should be kept in the light and watered until spring, when danger of frost is over. Pot can be put outdoors in an acid soil or peat in partial shade.

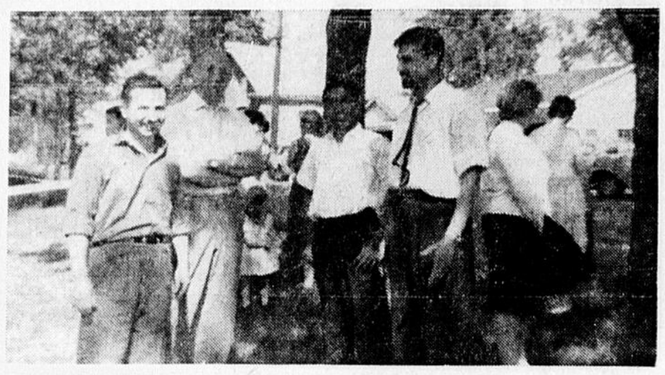
Dewittville W.I. Entertains International Students



A group of international students, members of the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship group, were entertained by the Dewittville Women's Institute members recently. The idea was sparked by a farm forum program during the winter to which WI. members were invited. The forum discussion centred around Canada's part in the Freedom from Hunger Campaign launched by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. The urgent need was stressed for sharing knowledge and techniques so that those in underdeveloped countries may learn to produce, preserve and distribute greater quantities of food. The key to feeding the ever-increasing hungry masses lies in education.

The W.I. members were proud to learn that one of the projects in which they share with other members of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, The Lady Aberdeen Scholarship Fund, has been recognized by the F.A.O as an important contribution to the Freedom from Hunger Campaign. Under this plan, students from underdeveloped countries are financed at overseas colleges and they return to work among their own people when their education is compieted. The first student to use the scholarship is Mrs. Rugumayo of Uganda, who is studying Nutrition Education in London.

On a more personal basis, it was discovered that there exists a need to welcome foreign students who come to study in Canada. The W.I. members were told that often these young people never have an opportunity to visit in a Canadian home during their entire stay here. Apart from offering hospitality to the students, the members felt that as rural home-makers, coping with many of the same problems as women of other lands, an exchange of ideas and information would be of mutual benefit. The Dewittville W.I. members were not disappointed when they entertained a group of nineteen international students on Saturday. In fact they found themselves bombarding their guests with so many questions, they felt perhaps the exchange was a little one-sided!

The group included, besides those from India and East Pakistan, students from China, Hong Kong, Egypt and Jamaica. There were also several Western Canadian students in the group. The Egyptian couple, who were Christians, had decided to remain in Canada because of Nassar's anti-Christian attitude. They mentioned that a great many Egyptians are now entering Canada since the Department of Immigration has substantially raised the quota for Egyptians. The boys from East Pakistan held the children rapt with their tales of lion-hunting exploits in the Himalayas. The Indian students told of appalling poverty and also of the intense religious outlook that pervades almost every facet of the lives of the people. Kawa Ho, of Hong Kong, one of twelve children, said his father feels so deply the hoplessness of Hong Kong's future with its multitudes of crowded refugees, that he hopes to educate all of his children overseas and have them remain there. Kawa hopes to make his contribution to his adopted country in the field of medicine.

One of the things we were pleased to learn is that McGill University is highly regarded in all parts of the globe and that it is one of the relatively few colleges whose standards are recognized everywhere.

We felt that meeting these student made our children more aware of our neighbors in other lands and was one step in helping them to grow up without prejudice. At first, perhaps, the dark faces of some of the guests seemed a little strange and frightening but soon the children realized that they were just people.

Our guests played ball, swam, sang, ate and walked through the woods, asked and answered questions and some of them even milked a cow! It was an altogether pleasant experience for us to entertain them. We think they enjoyed it, too, and we hope they'll be back.

Smoking -- Is It Dangerous?

At a recent meeting of the C.M.A. Canadian Medical Association, much was said as to the possible danger of cigarette smoking, at least. The Members at the meeting made suggestions that something should be done to bring about at least a reduction of the number of cigarettes being smoked today. They said, in view of the fact that it had been proven that cigarette smoking was linked to lung cancer, that warnings should be given of the possible dangers.

It was suggested that doctors should refrain from smoking cigarettes as an example of believing in their own discoveries and in order to have people reduce, or give up smoking them. It was further suggested that cigarette packages should be marked in such a way that people would be fully conscious of the risks involved. This suggestion was to the effect that such marking be made compulsory by law.

These are strong recommendations by the Medical Association and when made by such a body, should provoke thought on this subject. Smoking in general is not condemned and it has never been said that smoking, say a pipe, even a cigar, has the same effect as the cigarette. The layman therefore thinks that smoking in general is not at fault and a number of people are switching from one to the other.

As we remember it, the introduction of smoking in the first instance was that of smoking by pipe. Just where cigarettes came in we are not too sure, but it is a long time ago. Tobacco has been used in various forms for a number of years, but it is only of late that possible harmfull effects have been discovered by the medical scientists. The same discovery has been made in several countries, so there is not much we can do but believe that they are true.

The incidence of cigarette smoking has increased during the war years and those since. Women have become addicts as much as men and this to some extent has been responsible for the so rapid increase. The doctors feel that more especially young people should receive full warning of the possible danger involved, as far more young people are now indulging in this form of pastime.

The meeting alluded to was very much in favor of some action being taken to protect people from the possible dangers of the habit once it has been established. What will come of this is something that will have to be seen. As stated, cigarette smoking, at least, has so greatly increased that it would be hard for a sudden decrease to take place. But as the doctors have pointed out there is need for example to be shown if young people are to be protected in the future. It may be that there will be a greater return to pipe smoking and the pipe manufacturers will stage a come-back. Perhaps the old clay will be a top seller once more — the old pipe rack will be a collector's piece as it was in days of old, when a man was proud to show his pipes. No doubt the match manufacturers will also have to increase their production for more of this product will be used. It could mean another evolution.

A Budget At Last

After waiting two years, or about that time, we have now had a budget brought down by the Government in power. We all know that the last Progressive-Conservative Government did not bring down a budget and they accused the opposition parties of preventing them from doing so. That be as it may, the budget presented last Thursday, is the first in about two years. It too, has caused a controversy in several ways, not because it imposed heavy taxation in a sense, but the way it is composed.

One big objection taken is the fact the Finance Minister Walter Gordon had outside help to prepare his first budget. The budget is a highly secret affair until it is released at the appropriate time. There are supposed to be no leaks until it is actually released in the House of Commons by the Minister in charge. When outside help is brought in it is considered that such secrecy cannot be maintained and that business which could possibly reap benefits by knowing the budget contents could obtain valuable assistance. This is considered a very serious breach of budget secrecy and will give the Finance Minister a bad time during the debate which will be held.

Another feature of the budget that has brought about considerable argument and discussion is the extension of the 11 per cent sales tax on building materials. On the one hand the minister has instituted a gift of $500 to those who will start their building in the winter. The general feeling is however, that the sales tax on building materials will more than offset this gift and mean that erection of housing and so forth will be greatly increased in cost all around. This will eventually mean a slow down in building of all kinds.

There are few benefits to the people generally that is by way of reduction of taxation, but there is no new taxation that is by direct means. Some does appear that will come about by indirect means and of course by extensions as in the case of the building materials. Employers will be given some benefit if they employ persons over 45 in the winter who have been unemployed for some months previously. This offers incentives both ways.

As was expected, the budget is not one to give any great benefit in general, but it does mean a greater amount of spending and the money for this will have to be found. It is intended to provide for this and also to aim at decreasing the deficit as the years go by. Some funds badly in need of replenishing will get a build-up and among these is that to do with old age pensions. While there is no hint of this in the budget, the Government has hinted that it intends to increase this pension to $75 per month from $65. This build-up therefore may be in readiness to take care of this increase.

Certain benefits may be obtained in the new tariffs and in this the textile manufacturers will get some of them.

There does not appear to be any consideration on the matter of the Provincial tax demands such as that made by Quebec, but perhaps provision has been made. Mr. Gordon has promised a meeting in this connection, but perhaps he does not figure this will affect the present budget. It is quite evident however that the matter will be kept alive and not allowed to just subside.

There is a danger that the Government might meet with defeat on its budget and the Opposition seems to be working in that direction. There will be much interest in Parliamentary moves during the budget debate to see if the Government can weather the approaching storm.

The Economy Has Been Bolstered

THE economic crisis which came about in 1961-62 and which the then Progressive-Conservative Government took steps to nip in the bud, has been weathered. The measures taken have proved effective and the economy is well on the way to complete recovery. While the Liberal Government is taking over at this point, it cannot rightfully claim now, or later, that it brought about this recovery. It was already in effect before the time of its take-over.

The dollar devaluation is given the credit for much of the recovery and Canadian business is reaping the results in increased business that is also helping the general economic recovery. 1963 promises to be a very excellent year with a substantial growth in business volume. It is this sort of growth which Canada needs, to be able to get back on its feet. The present government can help this along if they are careful in the sort of promotion they give to such matters that will encourage Canadian business both at home and abroad. With planning for the Centennial celebrations going on, there should be much in the way of business that will affect our internal economy at least and eventually will have effect on the external business that will be done. Not too much has been done in this direction so far, but it will have to be done very soon or we shall be all behind. This is not a celebration that can be planned in a few days. We have about four years now to do it in and we need every day of that time in which to accomplish this task.

It is therefore that we need this recovery and it looks as if it has already started and that it will continue.

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

Twelve years ago last September, their mothers watched with a mingling of smiles and tears as a hundred children set off for their first day at school. The little girls were curled and ribboned and starched and adorable. The little boys were scrubbed and slicked and scared.

This month, the remnants of those 100 tots, and thousands like them, will graduate from Grade 12, their school days just a nostalgic ache. Fewer than half of the original hundred are still together. Some have failed and been left behind. Others have quit school and gone to work some because they wanted to, some because they had to. One is in reform school. Another was killed in an accident. Two are married.

Seven of the original hundred will go on to university. Five of these will graduate. The remaining thirty or forty will be swallowed up by banking, nursing, industry, business. Within a few years they will be parents, citizens, taxpayers.

Perhaps one will be an alcoholic. Three will be divorced. One boy will enter politics. One girl will enter a mental institution. But most of them will be up to their ears in life, even as you and I.

What kind of people are they right now, as they prepare to break out of the shell of school and home and stand on the windswept plains of adult living? What do they think about? What do they feel? Are they better than we were, or worse?

Far be it from me to boast that I can see clearly into that maze of emotion and imagination that makes up the teen-age mind. But as their English teacher, reading their last essays, I learn a lot about them. One thing they are is pretty honest. Thus, I get a peek into that murky maze occasionally. Join me.

On "going steady." An amazing number, of both sexes, agree that it's stupid. One lad says it's great at first, because you always have a date and never feel left out. But, he adds after a spell of the same girl, week after week, you always have a date and it's as boring as being married.

A girl points out that "going steady" is a prestige deal at first, but inevitably leads to a feeling of being left out of normal fun, because you're segregated. It ends, she warns, in one of two things: a too-early, tragic marriage; or bitter arguments and recriminations, just like being married. You can't win it seems.

On making friends. One young lady, with a mind like a cold chisel, observes that we never really look for friends — only for love and security. The same girl suggests wryly that, "Some old friends should be savored; others should be severed."

On noise in daily life. They like it. Tuned to a noiser society than the one in which we grew up, they thrive on the squeal of tires, the squawk of the transistor, the shrilling of the telephone and the thump of the jukebox. Although one lad remarks, "Those signs at the street corners which spell STOP don't necessarily mean Squeal Tires On Pavement."

On manners. Good manners are a must, the essence of society. They are based not merely on politeness, but on consideration for others.

On teachers. Pretty vile things, but not so bad, on looking back. They detest the grouch, the sarcasm artist and the person who can't control a class. They like the teacher who combines courtesy, common sense, reason, a sense of humor, and professional competence.

On leaving school. Even the lunks and the renegades of boys feel an overwhelming almost indescribable, sense of loss and sadness. But it's mingled with a certain eagerness to take on the big world.

Are these young people different from their parents at the same age? Yes, on the surface. They seem more confident, better adjusted, tougher. They are definitely less inhibited, in thought, word and deed. Which is not a bad thing. They appear casual, careless and callous. They are more knowledgeable. They are less bigoted, but just as conventional, in an unconventional way.

Remember, they were born into a different world. While they haven't known the desperate, frightened years of the great depression, as we did, they know the era of transience, loosening family ties, changing morals and standards of living, and the great mushroom cloud.

Personally, I have a lot of respect, and a great deal of hope, for them. Probably more than I had for my own generation. Beneath the teen-age facade of cockiness, they are just as troubled and lonely and scared and uncertain as you and I were, Maggie, when we were young.

They are just as eager to do the right thing, as rebellious against what seems wrong. They are just as good in the moral sense, as we were. And just as bad, with a lot more opportunity.

All I can say as they exchange the morass of the teen-ager for the bog of the adult is, "Welcome to the human race. And may you be fleet of foot."

Dr. Clouston to Address Convention

Dr. H. R. The subject deals with two types of conditions affecting skin, hair, nails, sweat and oil glands, lining of nose and throat in the nervous system and certain internal glands which descend according to certain laws of heredity.

Dr. Clouston has for the past year been making a medical research along the lines mentioned above and the information he will disclose to the convention tomorrow will be in the line of a new discovery which will warrant the information being chronicled in the Canadian Medical Journal for the future reference.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) At a time when Federal, Provincial, Municipal and School Board budgets generally are showing more red than the books of a whalebone corset company, and everybody in the country seems to be in hock for a car, a house or mom's new teeth, the words of Welfare Minister Emilien Lafrance must have hit the family man like oysters and beer on a hot summer day.

And the man who doesn't like oysters and beer in the summer either hasn't tried them or is unusual.

What Mr. Lafrance said was that family taxes should go down and that something should be done to relieve the grip on 80 per cent of the population by "financial sharks."

He told the Assembly that in Roman times, fathers were exempt from taxes because they provided "human capital" to the state.

"I don't think we can go as far as that," said Mr. Lafrance. "But I believe we should think about relieving the family of certain taxes."

Jean-Jacques Bertrand (UN Missisquoi) had raised the matter during debate on the Family and Social Department's estimates. Mr. Bertrand felt the $2,000 basic income tax exemption for married men "does not conform at all with the needs of our times."

He suggested department officals submit a brief along these lines to the Provincial Royal Commission on Taxation which will begin hearings next fall.

Mr. Lafrance said the Department plans to file briefs to any Boards, Commissions or Inquiries giving the family point of view on whatever topic is being studied. The Department already was reviewing Quebec legislation from this angle and hoped to take an advance look at future legislation to suggest amendments helpful to the family.

Mr. Lafrance then turned on Loan Companies, noting that most persons seeking aid from his department are in debt to them.

"Eighty per cent of the cases have financial troubles and most of these people are in the clutches of financial sharks."

The opposition retorted that a Bill designated to put added control on Loan Companies was introduced a year ago but never approved. It had not been reintroduced.

Mr. Lafrance said he could not speak in the name of the government, but the matter is under study and amendments will be made.

As for taxation, even if the Family and Welfare Department does outline the Roman system to the Royal Commission, the Commission report likely won't be made before 1965.

That would mean no tax relief for dad before 1966 at least.

But coming just before Father's Day, it was a nice thought anyway.

WANDERING WITH ADLEY

The recent article in the national magazine concerning our national police force was evidently, in view of the widespread comment made on it, both timely and necessary. It seems most unfortunate that a body of men which has always been looked up to with the greatest of respect and admiration should now find itself in a position where it is called upon to defend its actions towards the very people who, in fact, pay them their wages. There can be no question but that, by and large, they carry out their duties with complete effeciency and impartiality and thus warrant our continued respect and admiration. The possibility that most of them would, if put on horses nowadays, promptly fall off of them, if put to the canter, must not be held against them. The main worry seems to be in the field of political investigation and nobody seems to know or are willing to tell how many of our fellow citizens have been investigated, how thorough these enquiries have been and how biased or unbiased the subsequent report to the governmnet department which initiated the enquiry has been. During two of the war years I held a position in the Dockyard in Halifax and at that time we had to give a detailed report of ourselves, get ourselves photographed and fingerprinted. Then we were issued passes which had to be shown each time we entered and left the Dockyard. This was all quite proper and nobody thought to criticize such precautions. One could assume that, at the termination of one's employment at the Dockyard or at the end of the war, there would be no need to maintain the records of the people who worked there and that they would be destroyed. But I, for one, doubt very much if any such thing was done but rather feel that, parked away in some musty warehouse somewhere but always readily available, all those files are still there.

It so happened that I was investigated two or three years ago. To say that the investigation was conducted in an extremely haphazard manner is maintaining a very high degree of politeness. During the latter part of the war it was my privelege to work very closely with the missions of our allies in Ottawa and I was invited, on one particular occasion, to attend a reception at the Chateau Laurier in order to be introduced to a very prominent man who has since become the President of his country. We chatted very briefly and there is not the slightest reason why he should ever remember meeting me. However, two or three years ago, he came to Canada again and, because of certain and very real personal ties with his country, expressed the wish, through his Embassy to have the honour of meeting him again. The next thing I heard about it was when the doorman of the apartment at which I was then living told me that two men had been making enquiries about me. A few days later I was at the office of a firm in which I am interested when a man came in, spoke to the lady secretary and asked her to go out into the hallway with him. I thought it had the makings of an elopement but she came back alright and told me that the man, and a com-

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) The federal government's annual suspense thriller — keeping Canadians on pins and needles to see what presents or penalties the budget will dish out — ended last week, and the man-on-the-street scarcely had cause to turn his head.

After years of writing about Canada's economic problems from outside government, Finance Minister Walter Gordon produced his first major document, from inside Thursday night. And he deftly skirted around the average taxpayer to aim the full impact at the Canadian business community.

"Face the facts," was the message in the first budget of the new Liberal government. The document laid on $290,000,000 in added taxes, designed to spur economic growth and shove foreign-owned companies into partnership with Canadian investors.

No changes were made in personal or corporation income tax, as Mr. Gordon planned for a reduced budgetary deficit of $585,000,000 in the 1963-64 fiscal year which began April 1.

But there were these major steps:

1. Tax incentives and penalties to encourage a minimum 25-percent Canadian investment in foreign-owned companies during the next 3½ years.

2. Incentives to industrial expansion, including a three-year tax holiday for new manufacturing firms in depressed areas.

3. A stiff 30-per-cent tax on sales to non-residents and foreign-controlled companies of large blocks of shares in Canadian firms listed on Canadian stock exchanges. The tax, to be paid by the seller, will apply if his sales in any one day exceed $50,000. A similar tax will apply if a company listed on a Canadian exchange sells all or substantially all of its property to foreign interests.

4. A bonus payment to encourage hiring this winter of unemployed persons 45 years or older.

5. A cut in the National Housing Act mortgage rate to 6¼ percent from a 6½, plus measures to reduce down payments on NHA homes.

6. Extension of the 11-per-cent sales tax to building materials and machinery used in manufacturing or production other than in farming and in fishing.

Plan for Winter

Perhaps the most novel feature of the budget is the plan for assisting older persons gain employment during the winter. The plan calls for a special government bonus, amounting to 50 per cent of wages or $75, whichever is less, for each month of employment and it will continue up to 12 months. It will be paid on employment of 45-and-over workers who have been out of work for six of the previous nine months and who are not receiving unemployment insurance benefits or pensions.

While large sums of money will change hands with the measures announced for the housing industry, Mr. Gordon indicated that it won't have any detrimental effects on house buyers. While the 11 per-cent sales tax now will apply to building products — increasing the price of average homes by about four-per-cent — changes in the NHA act will lower down payment substantially along with a drop in the interest rates.

"NHA loans will be extended so as to cover 95 per cent of the first $13,000 instead of the first $12,000 of the value of a house, and the maximum loan amount will be raised to $15,600 from $14,900," Mr. Gordon said.

The finance minister estimated that the new sales taxes being imposed will bring in an extra $185,000,000 in this fiscal year and $385,000,000 in a full year. The industrial incentives he outlined would knock an estimated $30,000,000 off the country's tax bill this year and $100,000,000 in a full year.

Block Loopholes

A crackdown on "expense account living" was also announced by Mr. Gordon. Cars costing more than $5,000 also can no longer be charged against a company's taxable income.

Other tax loopholes would also be plugged. Measures would be taken to eliminate such tax evasions as splitting up a company to benefit from low tax rates on earnings under $35,000,000 and "dividend stripping" — tax-free payments to shareholders of a company's retainings from earlier years.

Taxes and duties on liquor cigarettes and tobacco were left untouched. Scattered tariff changes were made, most of them in the textile field.

The finance minister estimated a $260,000,000 increase in budgetary spending to $6-845,000,000 in the current fiscal year, and an even steeper $384,000,000 in revenues to $6,260,000,000. After last year's eight-per-cent rise in gross national product, he estimated a further five-per-cent gain in 1963 to a total national output of $42,421,050,000.

One of Mr. Gordon's chief warnings in the budget was that Canadians are in danger of "sacrificing our birthrights" as a result of continued international balance-of-payments deficits. Foreign capital in Canada "goes far beyond anything found in other countries in a conparable stage of industrial maturity."

Cut Rate

His biggest instrument in promoting what he called "a growing partnership" between Canadians and foreign investors is the 15-per-cent withholding tax levied on dividend payments from Canada to foreign investors. He cut this rate to 10 per cent on dividends from companies at least 25-per-cent owned in Canada and with a proportionate number of Canadians on their boards of directors. For companies that don't meet this criterion, a 20-per-cent withholding tax becomes effective Jan. 1, 1965.

Other items from the budget: sales tax on remanufactured products and repair materials for big pleasure boats, to be imposed at unspecified future date;

Export duty on electric power abolished;

Proposals for two-year write-off for tax purposes on new machinery and equipment and five-year write-off on new buildings in slow-growth areas yet to be designated;

Two-year instead of five-year write-off on new machinery and equipment bought by firms anywhere in Canada with at least 25-per-cent Canadian ownership.

Attacks PCs

Mr. Gordon's 10,000-word budget speech was sprinkled with acid political attacks on the former Conservative government.

"It is the Canadian taxpayer who will have to bear the cost of six years of mismanagement of our affairs," he said.

Comments such as these prompted Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker to describe the budget speech as "simply an exercise in political partisanship." He said Liberal election promises have been dissipated by subsequent experience.

Huntingdon's Recreational Service Deserves Aid Of All

The group of citizens which is studying the possibilities of improving in a quick and well organized way, recreational services for the young people of Huntingdon, wish to promote a movement of social apostolate worthy of help from all people of good-will.

This year, as in the years past, the playgrounds will open the first week of July, for six consecutive weeks.

ENROLMENT

Our two playgrounds, at Notre-Dame School for the girls and at St. Joseph's for the boys, shall receive the children for enrolment and distribution of attendance cards, on July 1st, at 10.000 a.m. and 2.00 p.m.

Two lovely bicycles will be drawn on Festival Day amongst the children (girls and boys) who shall have attended most faithfully during those six weeks of diversified activities.

DIRECTORS

The Recreational Service's Committee, under the active chairmanship of Mr. Laurent Nadeau, has recruited a team of monitors ideally suited for the job.

At the head of this recreational endeavour, a staff of devoted and competent people who have but one aim : enable children to play fully and harmoniously.

This wonderful team of directors comprises a manager of the Recreational Service, at the same time coordinator program director and responsible for sport activities: Mr. Florian Tardif. Two head-monitors, one for the boys: Mr. Maurice Pilon; the other for the girls: Mrs. Thibault. These two play directors will furnish every effort to interest the young people in activities of their choice: singing, games folk songs and dances, soccer, softball, handiwork, hikes, swimming, picnics, etc... healthy and fruitful holidays.

Mr. Michel Mainville and Miss Diane Primeau will see to Physical Educational (athletics) and to the 13-16 year old group, in the evening, from 8.30 to 9.15. Two other young monitors for the boys and two for the girls, will ensure the efficiency of the head-monitors' work (They remain to be chosen by the committee).

PROGRAM:

A well-balanced program allotting a reasonable share to sports, games and other special events, has been prepared for the next vacation. According to the policy of the Recreational Service, these organized activities do not endeavour to produce champions but, before anything else, to amuse and occupy children increasing as much as possible the number of participants and reducing that of spectators. Outdoor sports and athletics shall have first place.

To get the child off the street, it is necessary to have besides well-organized sports and a thousand and one other recreational activities, centres of interest which arouse the curiosity of the young. That is why, on the whole program for the summer, themes for each week have been imagined, with a special event on each Thursday. Here is the list:

From July 1 - 6, it will be GREAT UPHEAVAL WEEK and of the sporting spirit Thursday, July 4, will be marked by the "parks parade". Gay parades with the children dressed up in costumes of their choice.

From July 8 - 13, will be FUTURE CITIZEN WEEK. Thursday, July 11, an election will be held for a mayor for the boys and a mayor for the girls. Nominations, campaigning, speeches, voting. Parade to City Hall to symbolically receive the town's keys.

From July 15 - 20, it will be LOCAL TALENT WEEK. An amateur show will be held on July 18 with distribution of prizes.

From July 22 - 27, it will be PARENTS' WEEK. On Thursday, July 25, the children will put on a great celebration in honor of their parents. There will be a supper and a bonfire.

From July 29 - August 3, it will be YOUNG ATHLETES WEEK. On this occasion, a great olympic for boys and girls will be held on Thursday, August 1. All the parents are invited.

From August 3 - 8, it will be TEAMS AND FESTIVAL WEEK with a draw for the bicycles (for attendance over the holidays), exhibition of the handicraft.

PARENTS:

Thanks to the excellent work of the Recreational Service, the children of Huntingdon will have the opportunity to spend pleasant holidays. The parents will also benefit from this for, in entrusting their children to the playgrounds' monitors, they will be freed of a lot of worries. They may rest assured that their young will be in good hands, secure under a close but kind supervision.

Throughout the town, the program of "Recreation in beauty" will be the order of the day and everything leads to believe that the summer recreational season shall be particularly active and fruitful. To all the children who will enroll: Happy and pleasant holidays!"

Parents and Friends, do not forget the Bingo on Thursday, June 18, for the benefit of Huntingdon's Recreational Service. It is for the good of your children. Our motto 'Together' shall certainly help to make the endeavour a true success.

The Royal Hotel in Cornwall, Ont., was the scene, on Wednesday evening, June 5th, of a unique Hairstyle Show, staged by Monique brothers of Huntingdon. Jean-Guy and Denis Moniqui operate the Jean-Denis Beauty Salon on Montreal Road, Cornwall and with other hair stylists, Mr. Vincent and Aline Moniqui, they began shampooing, trimming, setting and combing tresses at 8.am. and finished at 6.30 p.m. on Wednesday. The show started at 8 p.m. The Moniqui brothers and Aline are from Huntingdon and shown in the above photograph, where Aline Moniqui is modelling a special ensemble and a hair style and the brothers are presenting her. The show is perhaps the only one of its kind ever presented in Canada and over thirty models were used. They were attired in various types of gowns and of many colours and the hair was styled according to the costume. Each one had originality and in some cases the stylist had difficulty if choosing a suitable hairdo. It was a very successful show and has been much talked about.

The Grist Mill

by DOROTHY DAVIDSON

THE GRIST NILL

Every spring, anytime after the 24th of May when it's time to plant the flower beds, we're faced with the disagreeable and depressing fact that, as a gardener, we leave much to be desired. We like to believe we're fairly well organized, as a rule, but when it comes transplanting time, something always goes wrong. Not only does everything gang up on us, but we seem to fall apart at the seams. It's quite possible that part of the trouble stems from a misbegotten idea that Rome was built in a day — that the job has to be completed all at one time.

The preparation is orderly enough. The beds have been turned and aired long ago, the right amount of fertilizer has been administered not a weed is showing, and a more or less general idea of where everything is to go has been planned. The big day arrives and we're up bright and early. The flats are laid out; hoe, rake and trowel are at hand, and the hose, dragged from its winter quarters in the garage, is attached to the faucet at the rear of the house. All is in readiness.

Or, is it? No, we've forgotten the knife we like to use to separate the plants into cake-like squares. This calls for a trip to the kitchen before the operation can get under way. At last, we start to scoop little holes for the pansies and sweet alyssum which are to be planted first. So far, so good. We go to the tap, turn on the water and find it is still disconnected. (Nobody has remembered to turn it on after the winter.) Another trip, this time to the basement, and we're confronted with a maze of pipes and valves to equal any in a factory boiler room. It takes time to trace the pipe leading through the wall of the house before we can locate the right wheel which is almost too stiff to run. Outside again, we're confronted with an exasperating sight: the hose has wintered, poorly; a series of small geysers spurt along its entire length rendering the outflow at the nozzle end to a mere trickle. It takes the better part of an hour to find some friction tape, a pair of scissors and the holes in the hose to bind. A makeshift job, but it will have to do.

Determined to remain cheerful at all cost, we water the holes in the garden and turn our attention to the plants only to realize we haven't a clue which is the white alyssum and which the blue — we particulary wanted the colours around the border this year. The sticks, looking like tongue depressors, in the flat are no help. There's an outlandish jumble of letters written on them (the latin name for sweet alyssum) which doesn't mean a thing. We'll just have to take a chance and hope for the best.

By the time the earth has been patted around the last border plant it is getting very warm and our knees, although they've been resting on the grass, feel as if they'd been in a gravel pit. The petunias are tackled next, and again there is the colour problem. There are three flats, one of which is white that we planned to plant between the other two shades to offset the colours. The "Tongue depressors" like the ones in the alyssum flat are just as garbled. There's not even a bud for a clue. Now, our back is beginning to complain and the mosquitoes have found us.

The sun has started to descend by the time we reach the back of the bed to plant the zinnias and realize the mistake that's been made. This is where we should have commenced in the first place. There's no more room in which to kneel.

Surrounded by petunias, dwarf marigold and goodness knows what, we're forced to leap-frog back and forth across the plants (already three of them have been crushed beyond redemption), misplacing first the knife, then the trowel, and taking longer each time to stand up from a crouching position.

So it goes until the darn beds are finally finished and we limp into the house, a physical and moral wreck. We flop on the couch in the living room, too tired to face the meal which must now be cooked, and allow ourselves to indulge in an orgy of self-pity. Nobody, but nobody has the troubles we have planting a garden.

Not now, but tomorrow perhaps, we'll begin to appreciate the care with each plant was embedded, its roots reaching down into the good earth. In a little while, the painful ordeal possibly will be rewarded by a show of colours to match most gardens. Maybe we will be able to enjoy the flowers the more for the agony that went into their planting.

But all this is too soon. Right now, we're thanking God that there are three hundred and sixty-four, pain-free, no-disorganized days ahead of us before the next bout with the annuals.

panion who had remained in the hallway, had been making enquiries about me. This lady had seen me once a week for the last five or six years and knew absolutely nothing about my personal life. So far as I know, that was the extent of the investigation. I made it my business to get in touch with the highest ranking man possible at the local police headquarters and he was good enough to express his regret at any inconvenience caused me and agreed that possibly I would have been helpful to them if I had been asked. I did not meet the President. But, for all I know to the contrary, that hearsay report is still in their files and it is most doubtful if any notation had been made on it to the effect that I had protested about the manner in which the investigation had been conducted. And if this ever gets into print I will be investigated again.

Cornerstone Laying Ceremony At Maplewood Presbyterian Church In Chateauguay

(By Mrs. R. Young)

Another milestone in the life of Maplewood Presbyterian Church took place on Sunday, June 16th, 1963, as the Corner-Stone for the new Church building was laid. Due to the very wet weather and the muddy grounds, most of the service was held indoors, after the regular morning worship service. Rev. John F. Allan gave the opening statements after which he led the congregation in prayer. Mr. B. Swan, Chairman of the Building Committee then gave a narration of events and called upon the people that had items to be placed in the cornerstone to come forward as called. The following are the items and the names of the people that took part.

1. Coins of the Realm, placed by Ian Watson, M.P. Federal Member of Parliament for Chateauguay - Huntingdon - LaPrairie, 2. Local newspaper, A. R. Tomkins, Trustee. 3. Bible, R. Gerald McKee, Clerk of Kirk Session, 4. Sunday School List, Theo. Black, Superintendent, 5. Steps to Building, Basil Swan, Chairman of Building Committee, 6. List of Women of the Church, Mrs. B. Jordan, President, 7. List of Active Young People, Robert Kerr, President, 8. History of the Congregation, D. Ferguson, Chairman, Board of Managers, 9. List of Choir Members, David Smith, Organist and Choir Director, 10. Order of Service for the Day, The Rev. J. F. Allan, Minister, 11. Greetings from Chateauguay signed and placed by Mayor J. Laberge, George Kennedy M.P. and Gerald Lanie M.P.

After this very impressive ceremony the choir led the congregation in the singing o the Doxology, the assembly was then asked to go outdoors to watch the cornerstone being laid by the Rev. A. Ross Mac Kay, Secretary, Church Extension, Presbytery of Montreal Rev. John F. Allan then gave the Benediction.

This indeed was a very joyous day for the congregation of Maplewood Church, the next step however will be the greatest and that will be the First Worship Service to be held in the new building. It was a great pleasure to have the Rev. A. Ross MacKay, taking part in this historic service, as he has worked hard and long in many ways for this congregation. Some of the other guests who shared in the joy of the occasion were Mayor J. Laberge, Ian Watson, M.P. George Kennedy, M.P. Gerald Laniel M.P. and Mr. and Mrs. M. Reid, the contractor and his wife.

LEGION NEWS in CHATEAUGUAY

District Rally at Caughnawaga

Last Saturday will be recorded by attending Legionaires as a day to remember. Members of the Mohawk Branch assisted by the Ladies Auxiliary, made an all out effort to put this event over in the grand manner. Their hospitality was without bounds and the supper prepared and served by the ladies was excellent.

At this event elections and installations are held for the ncoming officers. Elected were: Comrade Dave Watson, District Commander; Comade Ernie Jacobs, Deputy Commander; Comrade Jack Leclair, Sec.-Treas.; Comrade Melvin Smith, Sports Officer.

Provincial 3rd Vice-President, Sam Butt, was elected Chairman and he appointed Dolly McGlashan and Muriel Robinson as scrutineers.

The officers elect were then installed by Prov. First Vice-President A.L. (Al) Fuller who very capably outlined the duties of each and complimented them on their being elected to office. Comrade Sam Butt was the presenting officer.

The meeting was then closed by the Mohawk Branch President, Wally Montour, who invited all the guests, numbering 272, to remain for supper.

Afterwards a floor show was presented by members of the Mohawk Caughnawaga Reserve and the Mohawk St. Regis Reserve, Hogansburg Branch, New York, all in full regalia.

A special feature of the show was the induction into the Mohawk tribe of Prov. President Justice Redmond Roche and Vice-Pres. Al Fuller. The Mohawk Indian names were Ranenhrine (leader) for Comrade Roche and Rariwanirats (strengthening of words) for Comrade Fuller. Both recipients were greatly impressed by the honour bestowed upon them and also by the ritual of the presentation during which they were called upon to participate in tribal dances, which they carried out with aplomb.

Later the district branch presidents were called on to give their version of a tribal dance, having in mind their efforts of a similar nature as six year olds.

A most enjoyable and memorable day came to a close with dancing to the music of a four piece orchestra.

Prov. President Redmond Roche and Vice-Pres., Al Fuller have signified their intention of attending the unveiling of the memorial plaque in honour of the Montreal Branch of the South African War Veterans, to be held this coming Saturday in the Legion Hall of Chateauguay Branch 108. As our two senior visiting officers have a second engagement at Huntingdon all attending are asked to be on hand at 6 p.m. sharp.

Charter Night Held For Chateauguay Lions Club

Saturday was Charter Night for the newly formed Lions Club of Chateauguay and it was indeed a gala occasion. The event was well attended and the program was very interesting, it being of the banquet type and with an excellent menu.

Mr. Alex Coull, President of the Lachine-Lakeshore Lions Club, which sponsored the newly formed Chateauguay Club, was chairman for this occasion. The opening of the program and Toast to The Queen was conducted by H. Corbeil, Director. The chairman made a few introductory remarks, and the guests at the head table were introduced by C.A. Students Score Hit With Fashion Show Here

(By M. McCutcheon)

On Friday, June 14th, students of Chateauguay High School presented an evening of summer fashions. The program consisted of a showing of clothing made by the students in Home Economics Classes followed by a demonstration of sewing skills. Pupils from grades eight and nine modelled a collection of seventy-two outfits ranging from summer dresses and sportswear to pyjamas and fall suits. Unfortunately, students from grades ten and eleven were unable to be included since they had not had regular classes during the preceding week due to provincial examinations.

Miss Bonnie Baird introduced the commentators, Miss Uta Von Beckman and Miss Sharron O'Connell.

Miss Doreen Clayton closed the first half of the program, presenting a small token of appreciation to Miss Laura Thomas, a grade ten student who acted as accompanist, and a surprise bouquet or roses to the Home Economics Teacher who helped the class coordinators assemble the program.

The two hundred and fifty guests were then ushered through a demonstration workshop where seven students: Joanne Budd, Linda Tonge, Erica Tester, Judy Houldsworth, Pat Swartz, Sandra Peterson and Joy Longley explained and demonstrated various sewing techniques which they had used in their clothing construction projects. Decorating was carried out by the girls of Grade 9B. A Committee of students, headed by Miss Susan Hurst served light refreshments.

The large appreciative audinece indicated that the evening was an unqualified success. Miss Reid and her many girls are to be commended for the wonderful work which they demonstrated.

Mrs. M. Mosher Wins Distinction For Painting

(by M. McCutcheon)

Fellow students of the Thursday Night Art Group consider that Marjorie Mosher has brought great distinction not only to the Group but to the Chateauguay area with the acceptance of her painting by the Square Des Arts in Montreal. College No. 1 was summitted by Marjorie with entries from four other artists and the notice of its acceptance caused a great stir of excitement.

The Thursday Night Art Group sponsored by the Heights Recreation Club has enjoyed seven years under the guiding hand of Willy Hovermann and the Directorship of Bob Fair. Marjorie has been a student for four years, having spent two years on 'charcoal' and two years on 'oil'. Her College, in dark colours depicts the "Depth and Movement of Colour". The Montreal Parks and Playground's Department sponsors the 'Square Des Arts' on Dominion Square where entries are shown throughout the Summer months under glass. They are a distinct Tourist attraction and all entries are for sale.

Marjorie and her husband Russell, Supervisor Principal of Protestant Schools in Chateauguay plan to spend their Summer holidays accompanied by their children Jimmy and Cathy in their trailer in the Great Lakes District and she hopes to do some oils during this time. Sincere congratulations Marjorie from all and a very happy vacation.

The P.R.A. Gets A New Slate Of Officers For Another Active Season

The human race had to start somehow, who knows maybe from monkeys. On this point a lot of us are still confused, but there's no confusion when it comes to the Parkview Recreational Association.

The brain child of only three men, Charles Mullins Dave Constantine and Phi Fleurquin. To develop this brain child as an organization, they had to have help so from the volunteers a temporary executive committee was appointed. President Geo. Barnabie, Charles Mullins, Secretary, Bob Eagleham, Treasurer; Dave Constantine, Ways and Means Chairman Harold Nosewor thy, Membership Chairman Roy McLean, sports directo and Bob King as Jack of all trades. Later these men were joined by Steve Babula, publicity; Dennis Redmond, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, which included Ziziari and Bill Mitchell. These men have one objective in mind in getting this organization on the road that is to give to the children of Parkview area the opportunity to take part in competitive sports and recreational activities and the first activity sponsored by this organization was a Christma Party for the children. Since then there have been dances for the adults and a full season of hockey for the boys and girls. Through the efforts of these men the hockey players had a rink to play on and a shack to change in also coaches to teach them the art of playing hockey.

Now the baseball season is in full swing for boys, girls and the parents, both Mother and Dad, including the old-timers. We still need coaches or umpires so if you have any spare time, join us.

On June 12, 1963, the first annual election meeting was held and an official slate of officers elected.

But first our congratulations and thanks to the temporary executive committee for their hard work in achieving great success during their term in office.

Now may we extend our congratulations to the newly elected executive committee. President, Geo. Barnabei; Vice-President, Gordon Lynch; Secretary, Ronny Lee; Treasurer S. Babula: Publicity, H. Meades; Social Chairman, Dennis Redmond; Sports Chairman, Phil Fleurquin; Membership, Chairman, Bob King; Games Committee Chairman, Jim Myers; Hobbies and Crafts, H. Bergevin; Ways and Means, Dave Constantine; Phone Chairman, Lorn Sauvé. So let's all get together and wish the New P.R.A. executive Committee a greater year than ever.

May I add as a footnote a Field Day is coming in the very near future. Anyone who would like to help in any way, please contact your P.R.A. representative.

Notes and Jottings FROM Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

The northern portion of Franklin was late in being opened up, owing to its being inaccessible and to the dispute with the seignior. Those who went in, squatted, Welch marking the boundaries of the lots for them. When the seignior sent surveyors, the settlers pulled up their stakes. Between the 7th and 8th ranges there was a prosperous little settlement formed between 1830 and 1833. On lot 11 Charles Meehan had a small sawmill.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

The following coaches have been recruited for Seigniory Park softball teams which will be participating in the coming season's play in the Chateauguay Minor Sports Leagues: Squirts, Mac McConnell; Mosquitoes, Murv Thorne: Pee Wees, Roland Poirier; Bantams, Russ Oliver: Messrs. Dulledge, Whelan, Barney Blouin, Bob Bissonette and Hank Wells have been signed up as umpires. Our sports Association still needs a coach for the 13-16 girls.

Welcome to the second Alcan family in Seigniory Park —Mr. and Mrs. Geoff Hofstatter, who have moved into 384 Montmorency with their little boy and girl. Mr. Hofstatter, an Austrian by birth, is an engineer with Aluminium Laboratories, Ltd., Montreal.

Just when we are all looking forward to an early end to these interminable traffic jams, it is reported that when the second span of Mercier Bridge is opened to traffic this Fall, the existing span will be closed for repairs.

Old timers of the mid-1930's must surely feel nostalgic about current resurgence of the cigarette-coupon fad. How well I remember those far-off days before trading stamps were invented, coughing harrowingly my first radio. Now that the craze is upon us again, I'm starting instantly to save up for a mink jacket for my wife. At my present rate of consumption, I reckon we'll have it just 207 years from now, provided I don't have a bad cold in the meantime which would cut down my smoking. On the other hand, if my wife and daughter start smoking themselves, and if our great-grandchildren take up the habit to help the old folk out, we should get that mink jacket in just a shade under 89 years, in 2052. Now if only they'd give Pinky Stamps with Scotch. . . .!

HOME-BAKE SALE

The annual Home Bake Sale held by the Ladies' Committee of the W.E.H.O.A. at the Bowlarama on Saturday, June 15, was a decided success. Two p.m. saw the sales start and the tables laden with food made from recipes treasured through long use and a very favorite one with the family. A display of baking accomplishments is really something to behold under their transparent wrappings. In this day and age when all things are put up in packages for us to add the liquid to make a cake or pastry, when one has a chance to buy a real homemade goodie it is a treat. But to those of us left who prefer to make our own pastry, biscuits and cakes, we know the deep fulfillment of creating. I'm sure many can recall that wonderful aroma of bread baking in the home kitchen. This is an art which seems to be fading fast with the newer generations. The cry now is no time. Well, it's gratifying to know the girls of W. E. did take the time to bake and what's more there was homemade bread for sale.

We send sincere thanks to all who fulfilled their promise to the telephone Committee, for without their cooperation we could not have had such a successful sale. $30.45 will be added to our fund. Thanks also to Mr. G. Marshall Sr., Gary Marshall and Mrs. Betty Hillock who so kindly conveyed the baked goods from the receiving depots to the sale site.

Hope to see as many as possible at Mrs. Hillocks home on the 24th for the children's bingo preparations.

GOLF TOURNEY

Mr. Rene Emard attended and participated in the Foreman's Golf Tournament on Sunday, June 16th at the St. Anicet Golf Club. He reported all had a wonderful time, no rain and he came home with two prizes. Good work, Rene. What a nice way to spend Father's Day, playing golf.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

After their arrival the party accompanied by Mr. F. Jones, proceeded to the W. E. Bowlarama, when everyone enjoyed competitive bowling. Upon returning to Ricky's home they all enjoyed barbecued hot dogs, chips, drinks, birthday cake and ice cream. After supper, a game of Raisin Relay was played and by the sound of it, it must be lots of fun. So glad you had a happy day Ricky and many more happy returns.

To Tricia Smith, who was 6 yrs. old on Tues., June 18th. She celebrated her special day by being hostess to Nana Edna Young of Montreal, her grandmother, Catherine Burch of Chateauguay Gardens, Debbie Hillock, Linda Golden, Lola Cherrier, Anne Sylvestre, Mona and Fay Cotton, Karen Lee Roy, Steven Rankin, Gary Madden, and Paul Poupart, from 12 to 3 p.m. Her table was centered with a cake complete with glowing candles. Games were played and according to mother they were made up by the hostess herself and not the grownups. So happy you had a wonderful 6th party Tricia.

WELCOME HOME

To Barry Pingel who is on summer vacation from Feller College. Hope you have a wonderful summer after a heavy school term.

Monday morning, June 10th, was the scene of great activity at the Club, portable sewing machines were brought to the Club, for the purpose of making Polish costumes, for our Cub Pack. The Woodland's Pack represented Poland at the Rally on Saturday, in Hemmingford.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Alice Munro in the making of these customes, were Mrs. Marg. Crawford, Mrs. W. Roberson, Mrs. Pat Gleave, Mrs. Thelma MacKay, Mrs. Alice Pilotte and Mrs. Shirley Jones, and may I say, they truly looked lovely and very smart.

On the same evening the Cubs held their meeting outdoors, along with the good old Hot Dog Roast.

Grades 1, 2 and 3 were dismissed on Friday, June 14. Grades 4 to 9 will be writing their exams they started on the Monday. The closing exercises will be held on Wednesday evening, June 26th, and on Thursday evening, June 27th, the Students' Council will be sponsoring a Closing Dance. Parents are cordially invited to drop in.

Be Prepared to Stop

Now that the summer holidays are fast approaching and the children are leaving their schools, let all adults remember, we can't change the thoughtlessness of a child, but we can be more alert and attentive because of it. There are children playing ball, on bikes and children darting out for no reason at all. Children call for most cautions driving, not just within posted speed limits. Beware of hidden driveways, and the pet dog, be he on the other side of the road; I'm sure if we all use common sense and obey the rules of the road, our children will have a very happy and wonderful summer.

As I begin to write this column I cannot but help marvel at how quickly time passes. In fact, I have two reminders of this. First of all is the knowledge that one year has now gone by since I've started to write as correspondent for the Gardens area. May I tell you that I've enjoyed it and hope that with my readers continued interest, I may be able to continue bringing you news, views and comments. I hastily add that the opinions expressed are not necessarily my own; most of them are the result of stimulating conversations I had with area residents who are not afraid to speak their minds. My hearty thanks to all those who have helped to make this column more stimulating and informative.

My second reason for noting the passage of time is certainly not the least! Sunday, June 16th was our seventh anniversary. But, we did not celebrate alone. Dorothy and Pat D'Arcy celebrated their twelfth anniversary on the same day. The Vetland's and the D'Arcy's painted the town (as the saying goes) no, not a bright red, just a subdued shade of pink. Very enjoyable indeed.

June 16th was a big day in most families, so may I take this opportunity to send all fathers a belated Father's Day greeting.

The winners for the bicycle draw were chosen on Friday evening at the Chateau-Gai Motel with our alderman Bill Sottiaux doing the honours.

First prize went to Mr. Amie Dufort, who, when informed, couldn't believe it. The Dufort family, Amie, wife Connie and two daughters moved from their Edward Street home on Saturday to take up residence in Sherbrooke. Good luck and congratulations!

Second prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Cuno Oelmann of Langlois Street. Mr. Fortin of Craik Street won the third prize of the 40 oz. bottle.

Sunday morning's torrential downpour resulted in a few flooded basements, among them that of Mrs. Louise Boissonneault of Boissonneault Street. This is the second time water has caused considerable damage to her home during her brief residency here. (The first time was during the spring floods). It is difficult to imagine the frustration, anger and helplessness one must feel to see their property damaged so badly within the space of four short months. It is easy to see that several houses have been constructed in very low-lying areas, where there is no place for excessive water run-off. This has caused untold heartaches to many homeowners. In my opinion, these homes should never have been erected in such low spots unless the ground is built up first. Perhaps our City Fathers will take the necessary precautions in the future. Some one must protect the prospective homeowners from buying property in too low a situation, simply because not everyone is aware of all the pitfalls in home-buying. The town planners of any community should have and use a little foresight and see to it that building permits are not issued indiscriminately.

In Mrs. Bissonneault's case it was also extremely embarassing on this wet occasion. In a finished area of her basement, slept her visiting niece, Miss Betty Crawford of West St. John, N.B. Imagine her fright to see rising muddy water under her bed at 7 a.m.! Mr. Aristide Savoie of Caraquet, N.B. another guest also had to rush from his room to get his car out of the garage before it was damaged. Town officials and some members of the Police Department were summoned to give assistance, which they of course, did give. Let's hope that something can be done by someone to alleviate this very unpleasant problem.

It has been pointed out that several columnists, myself included, have heaped praise upon the heads of the many men in our area who give so much of their time towards children's sports. But, there seems to be a forgotten group of people, and may I be the first to publicity give credit to the wives of the aforementioned gentlemen. These are the gals who rush to prepare supper and have it ready the instant their men walk in the door from their businesses. These men must eat and run to help others, and in many cases, leaving their wives to clean up and to look after the children with nothing much more to look forward to than an evening by themselves after the kiddies are all bedded down. There are many women who, after a day with children and sometimes dull household routine, would prefer to talk intelligently with their husbands, discussing each other's daily events and even world and local news. But, instead, these women face loneliness because in a growing community, these men must give of themselves towards building a good recreational program to help prevent boredom amongst our youth. Certainly, the wives and mothers have a right to complain if the family life is too disrupted, but so far the ladies have accepted gracefully the fact that this is part of living in a new suburb! So, hats off to the ladies in our community, who have been so patient and understanding.

Would you believe it! The dog problem is no longer so serious, but another pet is now causing concern. Cats! To all cat-lovers, a word of warning — learn from past experience and the many columns written about the dogs. If these cats are not confined to their own property, thereby not causing any damage at your neighbours, the uproar to the authorities by the public will force the law to be as strict with you as they have been with dog-owners. So take heed and show a little consideration towards your friends and neighbours.

Happy birthday greetings go out to Andy D'Arcy of Langs Street who welcomes his ninth birthday on June 21st.

The "Old Men" of the Garden played a baseball game last Sunday evening (with time out for rain) against a Prudential team. The score was 29-26 for the visitors. With such a high score I can't help but wonder if these men were playing basketball instead! Every Sunday evening at 6.30 the Old Men and challengers indulge in this sport so why not take a walk or drive down to the ball park on Salaberry and St. Francis and give our boys a cheer or two!

Give me a call at 692-2659 and tell me about the happenings in and around your home.

By the way, I have a tip from a reader. If you are planning to move furniture, large pieces will slide or can be pulled easily across a wooden floor or carpeted area if you first place a large piece of cardboard under the legs of the furniture.

Hi, hope all you Dads had a very happy Father's Day.

Maplewood Presbyterian Church News

The Rev. A. Ross MacKay, Secretary of Church Extension of the Presbytery of Montreal was guest preacher at the morning worship service on Sunday. Mr. MacKay's sermon was entitled "Extending the Kingdom". As Rev. MacKay has been a very good friend and has worked very hard for this congregation, it was indeed a pleasure to have him take part in the Cornerstone ceremony.

Due to the early morning rain on Saturday, the Congregational Picnic had to be postponed until this coming Saturday, weather permitting. If by any chance the weather seems uncertain on Saturday morning, please tune in CFOX and you will hear whether the picnic is off or on.

The activities for the week are as follows: Kirk Session and Board of Managers Meeting at the Manse, 8 p.m. Boy Scout Group Committee will meet at the home of Mr. R. Griffith, 7 Park Ave., at 8 on Thursday evening. Next Sunday at the 11 a.m. the Church School prizes and awards will be presented. Commencing June 30th and all of July the hour for the worship service at Maple School will be 9:30 a.m., conducted by the Rev. John F. Allan.

To the students of Maple School who expect their reports this week, hope you all get promoted.

Visitors

Visiting with the Powers of Macoun Ave., last Thursday were Mr. Pawer's dad, Mr. Power Sr., and his young nephew Michael from St. Eustache. On Sunday, the Powers were hosts to Mr. and Mrs J. McCann of Rosemount.

The Robinson home on McLeod Ave., was the scene of out-of-town visitors on Friday, along with Jessie's mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. J Shearer, were Mrs. A. Hughes and Mrs. A. Thompson of Paisley, Scotland, and Mr and Mrs. G. Smith of Toronto. A great time was had by all.

Mrs. Gilpin of Montreal spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Neal of McLeod Ave Hope you have a wonderful time visiting with your family this summer, Mrs. Gilpin.

The Harvey, Hutton and Neal families had a great day on Saturday, they all went to Plattsburg Beach and had a grand picnic. Meanwhile the Blenckhorn, McKenzie and Weston families picniced at Charlottensburg.

Household Hint

If you have a hard time deciding when your house plants need water, make this helpful gadget for yourself. Fit an empty cotton spool over the end of a short stick. Use this mallet to rap the pots, if there's a ringing sound, add water, if it's a dull sound, wait.

Swim suits care: Wash and rinse swim suits frequently to make them last longer. Pool chemicals, salt and sand will weaken fibres if left in Follow the manufacturer's instructions for washing. If none are given use warm water and mild detergent suds and rinse well. Elasticized swim suits should never be machine dried.

That's it for this week. Meanwhile give me a call with your news, 692-2598.

NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

Written aboard an R.C.A.F. Dakota, flying back to Montreal from Moncton, N.B.

Since writing notes for last week's column, I have packed many miles plus hours of enjoyment into the hours from early last Friday morning until now — Sunday evening. I was only one of the Blue Sky Revue, who flew to Moncton, guests of No. 5 Supply Depot R.C.A.F.

The artists have filled a very busy weekend and are now relaxing while although I've been busy taking notes, my work has just begun. Mrs. Wm. Shannon of Valleyfield and I motored to Montreal to the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Blythe in N.D.G. where we waited with them for the arrival of the rest of the "Revue". Mr. Blythe as organizer of this group years ago has presented many shows. The first time I met them was at the Pre-Liberation Camp in Valleyfield, just about a year ago, but that evening I never dreamed I would be privileged not only to enjoy more shows but be included on a trip such as we are just finishing.

At first I hesitated as the last church service for the season was to be held in the Nitro church this evening, but I did as much as I could in preparation with the girls in the choir and then knew they wouldn't let me down and would cooperate with Rev. Pelletier and I think Mr. Anderson, as organist, and I "took off"!

We landed in Moncton shortly after noon, and since then have put on numerous shows. No matter how many times I see these acts I always enjoy them and hope some day to bring them not only to Valleyfield but to Riverfield, or Howick, so that old friends may be able to enjoy the talents of my new friends.

I'm sure many of the children watch Carolyn Blythe and her little friends on T.V. and most likely the adults saw her perform with Juliette not too long ago.

Another of the artists is Mrs. Shannon, who sings some of the older well known songs. Her rendition of "Walter, Walter, Lead Me To The Altar" is always roundly applauded.

Besides the shows given at the Air Base, we went to the Dorchester Penitentiary and on Saturday enjoyed the Air Force Display for Air Force Day at Lakeburn, N.B. The most exciting thing that happened that day was to watch the Golden Hawks. The pilots of these planes must have nerves of steel. With a very low ceiling we got the full "benefit" — ? — of those motors as they flew over, time and time again. We also saw an Air Rescue Helicopter.

After the show at the Penitentiary we made a detour to visit at the home of Billie Sanders who is a sufferer of muscular dystrophy.

This young man has been "adopted" by the Air Force and Penitentiary and really caught at our heart strings too. He was fascinated by the tricks of our magician, Barry Payne and when the rest of us began fumbling, Carolyn took over and through the voice of her little friend "Sandy" told Billy about the Revue, and prepared this little lad for today's show, also explained how "Sandy" could talk when he's only a doll!

This weekend was the first time I've flown. We had a beautiful sunny day going to Moncton and I enjoyed the scenery of the world below. Tonight we left when it was raining and it has been won-

To Teach in France

JACK JOHNSON

Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson, St. John Blvd., the Station, who is sailing on the Homeric, on Saturday, August 10th, for Metz, France. Jack will spend the next two years teaching children of Air Force Personnel at the RCAF Base located just outside Metz.

He received his Elementary Education at the Julius Richardson School in Chateauguay, attended Montreal West High School, took a two year Teaching Course at Macdonald College leading up to his Bachelor of Education Degree which he received from McGill University. He is presently completing studies for his B. Sc. at Sir George Williams University.

An ardent worker of St. George's Anglican Church Jack has served as a Sunday School Teacher and Lay Reader. During his teaching career, started in Chateauguay and for the past three years at Ormstown High, he has assisted the Rev. Mr. Stote of the Anglican Church in the outlying Parishes. He has also been a Scoutmaster in Ormstown for three years. As a student he took a summer job with the Quebec Cartier Mining Company at Lac Jeannine, now the Town of Gagnon and did Mission work which played a large part in the formation of a Parish for a Mission Church which has since been built and dedicated.

By a strange quirk of fate, Jack's first cousin, Helen Imison of Beaurepaire is also sailing aboard the Homeric to take up teaching duties at Marvil, France.

Chateauguay Valley District Cub Rally Held Saturday

The Annual Chateauguay Valley District Cub Rally was held on Saturday, June 15th, at Lac Hermas. Hemmingford, under the able direction of District Cub master Ed. Burgess.

The Cubs and Leaders arrived at 9 a.m. to commence a heavy scheduled day. The district Commissioner, Wm. Sexton, spoke words of welcome to all Packs.

The programme theme for this rally was "The Olympics". Several countries were represented by costume and banner, or flag. Some of these were Mexico, Switzerland, China, New Zealand, Africa, India, Poland and Australia.

One film was on "Boating Safety" which is obtained from the Canadian Red Cross Society and illustrates the rules for safe handling of boats both motorized and row, or paddle type. The second film entitled "A Personal Item" was a film on tithing and a recommended film for Church groups. Mr Wm. Sexton took charge of the projector and the U.C.W. are very gratiful to him for his Bazaar in the Fall.

Following the films a short business meeting followed. Plans were made for the Garden Party and also for the Bazaar in the Hall.

derful to fly above the clouds and look down.

Last week seems so long ago, I can't even remember if I have any notes put by to include in this week's column. I must admit I forgot to include in last week's notes, anything about the surprise baby shower held at the home of Mrs. Lascelles for her sister, Mrs. Lalonde. I wasn't able to go and haven't heard anything about it, but being anything but a newcomer to Nitro, I know without being told, that Mrs. Lalonde received many beautiful gifts for what will soon be a newcomer.

job is back to normal, we will endeavour to keep you up-to-date on the sports happenings here in Chateauguay.

This past Sunday the C.C.R.A. Has beens took a 29 to 26 victory over the Garden used-to-bes in a fast ball game. Rain forced the boys to take a couple of needed rests throughout the game, but they still managed to play six innings.

As each promoted Explorer received the Explorer Diary and Pin, a member of the C.G.I.T. came forward to receive them into the C.G.I.T. Group. Two boys, Kenneth Whyte and Melville Reddick, had completed three years service with the Explorers, and each was presented with the Explorer Diary and Pin.

Miss Heather McCartney was Valedictorian and her "Valedictory" was very inspiring and challenging. There were a few goodies left over and these were sent to the Senior Citizens' home on the River Road.

Chateauguay Sports Round Up

For the past six weeks or so this column has mentioned very little of the sporting activities that have been going on here in Chateauguay, and your reporter thinks that it is about time to explain the reasons for not keeping you fine readers up-to-date on the sports happenings in Chateauguay.

Throughout the month of May and the first three weeks in June my regular job was a seven day a week affair with a great amount of over time and irregular hours on regular week days. Therefore it is almost impossible to attend sporting events. This reporter has always been one to write freely about sport. Praising when necessary and criticising when in my opinion it was warranted. Therefore it would not be fair in my opinion to write about a ball game unless I could write my opinion of said game.

It would have been easy to print the scores of ball games played to date, but without a rundown on the games, I doubt if many would have been interested. I'd like to take this opportunity to apologize to all my readers for the lack of news in the past six weeks. Now that my regular

"Confidences d'un commissaire d'écoles"

(par Gérard Filion Edirion de l'homme)

Ce petit livre, écrit par un homme qui occupa cette fonction pendant 13 ans — M. Gérard Filion — a eu beaucoup de succès à travers la province, puisqu'il en est à sa cinquième édition, vingtième mille. Comme on le dit en dernière page, ce livre s'adresse "non pas aux spécialistes mais à tous les parents, à tous les citoyens qui ont quelque inquiétude au sujet de l'avenir de notre jeunesse".

D'abord, M. Filion nous transmet ses impressions devant la grande tâche confiée à un commissaire. Les articles 221, 222 et 223 énumèrent les responsabilités d'un commissaire d'écoles. Entr'autres, le paragraphe 8 de l'article 221 donne aux commissaires le devoir de "visiter chacune des écoles sous leur contrôle, au moins une fois tous les six mois, et (...) faire rapport à la commission scolaire de la manière dont les règlements scolaires sont observés, les progrès des élèves, le caractère des instituteurs, et autres choses relatives à la régie des écoles". M. Filion remarque plus loin: "Le progrès des élèves demande un supplément d'efforts. Le commissaire d'écoles qui a terminé brillamment ses études en 4e ou 5e année, doit forcément revoir un peu les matières du programme avant d'aller se rendre compte personnellement des progrès des gars de 10e et de 11e."

M. Fillion nous exprime le désemparement d'un homme, sans aucune expérience dans le domaine scolaire et qui se voit, d'un jour à l'autre, doté de tant d'autorité et, à la fois, de tant d'obligations. Il fait ainsi preuve d'une grande humilité car Gérard Filion n'était certes pas le premier venu; diplômé de l'Ecole des Hautes Etudes Commerciales, ancien secrétaire général de l'U.C.C. et nouvellement promu à la direction du journal "Le Devoir", il avait derrière lui un solide bagage de connaissances théoriques et pratiques. Peu de commissaires d'écoles du Québec, du Canada entier même, arrivent à cette fonction aussi bien préparés. Car les deux seules conditions requises pour être commissaire sont : être propriétaire et pouvoir signer son nom.

On voit donc par ce livre, par le Code Scolaire, que le poste de commissaire est une fonction vitale dans notre système scolaire, demandant d'un homme ou d'une femme, la plus haute compétence, la plus intègre conscience et le plus grand dévouement. C'est la vie d'enfants, de futurs citoyens que gère la Commission scolaire. Un Conseil de Ville, lui, gère les égouts, les routes municipales, les propriétés, tous biens matériels, mais une Commission scolaire, en prenant une mauvaise décision, en engageant un professeur incompétent par exemple, peut faire perdre une année entière à 30, 40 enfants; multipliez cela par 200 jours de scolarité, vous avez 6,000, 8,000 journées de vie humaine enfuies à jamais, gaspillées. Ou encore une Commission scolaire décide d'appliquer la lettre de la loi (loi qui devrait être changée au plus tôt) et de n'accepter que les enfants qui auront 6 ans avant le 30 juin pour la première année. Trente, quarante enfants perdront qui, un an de pratique médicale (combien de malades seront sans soin en l'attendant?) qui, un an de prêtrise (combien d'âmes se perdront en l'attendant?) qui, un an de bon travail dans une usine (combien de matériaux ne seront pas produits, en l'attendant?)

Une école n'est pas une usine ou l'on fabrique en série des pièces toutes semblables; on ne peut donc l'administrer ainsi, avec pour fin première l'efficacité, l'économie de la production. Une école est une fourmillière de cerveaux humains qu'il faut façonner patiemment, éclairer lucidement, guider consciemment.

Le travail d'un professeur ne se résume pas à passer tant d'heures devant une classe. Il lui faudra en plus passer des heures et des heures à préparer ses cours, à faire des recherches, à consulter ses confrères sur tel ou tel point. M. Gérin-Lajoie lui-même, Ministre de la Jeunesse et probablement notre futur Ministre de l'Education, dans toute sa compétence, a oublié un peu de ces impondérables quand il a voulu ramener toute la difficile et épineuse question de l'éducation à une affaire de normes. Des protestations ont fusé de partout, des associations de professeurs, de la Fédération des Collèges classiques, pour lui rappeler la véritable échelle des valeurs. Les normes ont été adoucies.

On dit qu'une ville, un village ont les écoles qu'ils méritent — c'est-à-dire que si l'on ne s'occupe pas de la chose scolaire, elle devient comme un jardin mal entretenu. Les Commissaires d'écoles sont des élus du peuple qui leur a fait confiance pour gérer les affaires scolaires. Ce n'est donc pas de la méfiance, de l'animosité que l'on devrait avoir l'un pour les autres mais un esprit de co-opération. Que l'on cesse de s'entre-déchirer, de se couper mutuellement l'herbe sous les pieds. Après tout, peuple, parents, commissaires, nous avons tous à coeur le même but — la meilleure instruction et l'éducation possible pour nos enfants.

IDEALISTE.

La photographie professionnelle comporte entre autres la photographie commerciale, industrielle, la photographie de journaux, de portraits ainsi que la cinématographie. Elle compte aussi des spécialisations telles que la photographie médicale, dentaire, aérienne et la photographie à grande vitesse, aussi bien que la photogrammétrie, la photomicrographie, la photographie astronomique, etc.

Les conditions de travail du photographe varient selon qu'il travaille en studio ou à l'extérieur, alors qu'il devra transporter son équipement. Le photofinisseur est confiné au laboratoire, mieux connu sous le nom de chambre noire. Le travail du photographe n'est pas dangereux en lui-même mais il se présente des circonstances où le photographe commercial ou industriel tout comme le photographe de journal doit opérer dans des conditions difficiles pouvant comporter certains risques.

Dans la plupart des studios, la semaine de travail est de quarante-cinq (45) heures avec temps supplémentaire rémunéré. Le débit du travail est irrégulier et dans les saisons d'affluence, l'employé doit être prêt à un surcroit de travail.

Le photographe doit être en assez bonne condition physique pour supporter de longues heures de travail et pour transporter son équipement. Il doit avoir une bonne vue (avec ou sans lunettes). L'intelligence, une personnalité agréable et un vaste intérêt pour les gens et les choses doivent le caractériser. Il doit savoir commander d'une façon agréable. Des dispositions artistiques et un sens d'observation développé représentent pour lui des avantages précieux.

Comme dans le cas de toute carrière, l'instruction de celui qui aspire à devenir photographe doit être aussi bonne que possible. L'apprentissage qui est de trois ans ne peut commencer qu'après une 9è année et l'âge minimum requis est de 16 ans. Il comporte une année comme photofinisseur ou comme stagiaire dans un studio. Chacune des étapes doit être sanctionnée par le Bureau des examinateurs du Comité paritaire.

Peu d'écoles au Canada donnent un cours menant à un diplôme officiel en Arts photographique. Il y a le "Ryerson Institute of Technology", à Toronto, relevant du Département de l'éducation de l'Ontario, où la 12è année scientifique est requise pour être admis. Dans la Province de Québec, il y a l'Institut de Technologie des Trois-Rivières qui donne un cours de 2 ans équivalant aux 2 premières années d'apprentissage. Un certain nombre d'écoles privées au Canada et aux Etats-Unis donnent une bonne préparation qui peut être créditée au moment de l'apprentissage. Le coût des études varie d'une institution à l'autre mais il est généralement élevé. De plus, avant de s'y inscrire, le candidat devrait vérifier auprès du Comité paritaire de sa Région si celui-ci approuve le cours.

L'emploi initial dépend de l'entrainement de l'individu. Une fois son apprentissage terminé, le nouvel employé commence très souvent comme photofinisseur ou comme assistant-photographe. Dans l'un ou l'autre cas, les chances d'avancement sont de plus en plus nombreuses puisque de nos jours les besoins sont toujours croissants. En général, un photographe peut devenir chef de laboratoire, contrôleur de la production, chargé d'un département, gérant général, comme il peut aussi devenir propriétaire d'un studio.

Le désavantage principal que l'on rencontre dans le domaine de la photographie est sans doute le manque d'écoles fournissant une préparation poussée. Même si l'entainement est facile à obtenir au travail, il est bon de se demander s'il sera toujours suffisant devant les exigences de qualifications toujours plus grandes.

Rencontre du Service Social Diocésain avec le Ministère du Bien-Etre

Une délégation de Valleyfield a rencontré l'Honorable Emilien Lafrance, mercredi, le 12 juin, pour trouver une solution à l'impasse financière dans laquelle se trouve le Service Social de Valleyfield, qui dessert les 5 comtés du diocèse. Son excellence Mgr. Percival Caza, M. Gérard Cadieux, député de Beauharnois et 3 représentants du Service Social ont obtenu l'assurance de M. Lafrance que le Ministère qu'il dirige aiderait l'oeuvre diocésaine tel que promis, lors de rencontres au cours de l'an dernier.

L'Honorable Ministre a informé la délégation qu'un comité spécial étudie actuellement un mode de rétribution aux agences sociales pour les services professionnels de réhabilitation et de prévention qu'elles rendent à la population.

L'Honorable Lafrance a assuré l'agence sociale de Valleyfield que son Ministère respecterait ses engagements et qu'il y aurait une solution particulière au problème de Valleyfield si la formule de financement tardait.

On annoncait récemment que le Service Social de Valleyfield faisait face à un déficit budgétaire de $35,000 pour l'exercice final en cours.

Fédération des Oeuvres de Charité

Après un mois et plus de travail ardu, la campagne de la Fédération des oeuvres de charité tire à sa fin. Les organisateurs et les collecteurs à domicile ont accompli un travail gigantesque. Ce n'est pas chose facile que de couvrir les municipalités de Huntingdon, Godmanchester et Hinchinbrook. Les distances à parcourir, le grand nombre de foyers à visiter, enfin les préjugés à combattre.

Nombreux sont les organisateurs et les collecteurs qui ont entendu cette phrase : "On donne pour aider les paresseux, les ivrognes, qui se disent malades". Il y a peut-être un peu de vérité mais il reste que la bonté a converti plus de monde que la rudesse. Il y a aussi une jeunesse à sauver, si des adultes sont trop lâches pour prendre leurs responsabilités. Et on donne pour l'amour de Dieu, qui verra à faire justice en temps et lieu.

D'autres trouvent que les organisations de la Fédération ne fonctionnent pas parfaitement. C'est vrai. Je pense que, d'un côté comme de l'autre, chacun cherche à se perfectionner. Grossissez les dons et les services sociaux se perfectionneront. S'ils ne le font pas, un comité qui sera établi sous peu dans la région aidera à leur amélioration.

Félicitations à tous ceux qui loin au succès de cette campagne ont participé de près ou de gne qui rapporta $1771.25 de la part des citoyens des municipalités de Godmanchester et Huntingdon. Hinchinbrook s'est montrée généreuse en donnant plus de $400.00.

Et s'il y avait des personnes qui n'ont rien donné et qui désirent faire leur part, elles n'ont qu'à s'adresser à John Thompson, restaurateur, rue Châteauguay, à Gérard Souisse, grand Chevalier, résidant à 20, rue Chalmers ou à M. le vicaire, C.P. 10, Huntingdon, Qué. Tous se feront un devoir de remettre les argents au trésorier de la campagne. Deux reçus vous parviendront de la Fédération. Encore une fois, félicitations!

Abbé Marcel.

Shower à St-Stanislas

Près d'une centaine de personnes se réunissaient, à l'hôtel Laplante à St-Stanislas de Kostka, vendredi soir dernier pour féter Mlle Raymonde Ringuette et M. Michel Mainville à l'occasion de leur prochain mariage.

Mesdemoiselles Renée Ringuette et Rachel Mainville recevaient le couple ému et épinglaient corsage et boutonnière.

Avec esprit et humour, Messieurs Albert Matte et Maurice Pilon adressaient aux fiancés leurs souhaits et revoyaient ironiquement leurs fréquentations.

Madame Micheline Latreille offrit de la part de l'assistance un grand nombre de billets verts joints en forme de fer à cheval.

La note sérieuse à cette présentation fut apporté par Monsieur Florian Tardif dont on connait l'éloquence.

Une chanson-thème racontant brièvement les amours des héros de la fête fut entonner à plusieurs reprises au cours de cette soirée fort réussie qui se termina par un goûter, naturellement.

9ième anniversaire de M. l'Abbé Marcel Gareau

Né à St-Polycarpe, il fit ses études au Collège Bourget à Rigaud et fut ordonné prêtre le 17 juin 1954 dans son église natale à St-Polycarpe.

Il fut d'abord professeur au Séminaire de Valleyfield, ensuite vicaire à Beauharnois. De là, il fut transféré à la paroisse Saint Jean Baptiste de Dorion pour nous être ensuite donné à la paroisse Saint-Joseph de Huntingdon.

M. l'Abbé Marcel Gareau joue un rôle très important dans notre communauté. Son intérêt principale est de prime abord la jeunesse de notre paroisse. En charge de la J.O.C. et de la J.E.C. il guide sainement nos jeunes.

M. L'abbé Marcel Gareau s'occupe aussi de l'organisation des loisirs (Parcs et terrains de jeu) de notre diocèse.

C'est pourquoi nous nous unissons à ses parents et ses très nombreux amis pour lui souhaiter de nombreuses années de prêtrise et aussi des félicitations pour le bel encouragement qu'il procure à nos jeunes.

Nouveau Hold-up à Howick

Le village de Howick semble être l'endroit idéal pour les vols de banque et, une fois de plus, lundi après-midi, 2 bandits armés et portant des verres fumés firent irruption dans la Banque de Commerce et ordonnèrent aux employés de se coucher sus le plancher pendant qu'ils volaient les caisses de la banque. Ce fait, les deux bandits prirent la fuite dans une auto noire probablement une "Monarch".

La police Provinciale fut appelée sur les lieux et firent enquête. Le cas est maintenant entre les mains de l'escouade des vols à mains armé.

Au moment d'aller sous presse, on ne sait pas encore la valeur du montant qui a été dérobé par les bandits.

Noyade à Ste-Barbe

André Demers, 23 ans, du 352 St-Denis, Valleyfield, s'est noyé samedi dans les eaux du Lac St-Francois près de Ste-Barbe. Au dire de la Police, M. Demers aurait eu crise d'épilepsie et serait tombé de son embarcation dans les flots.
