PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY ORDERED INTO OPERATION OF WHEAT BOARD

Minister of Trade and Commerce Announces Intention to Investigate Charges of Opposition Leader that New Grain Board Is Protecting Short Sellers—Leaders of Minority Parties Issue Challenge to Government and Opposition to Dispense with Political Bickering.

Ottawa, February 13.—Parliament's one-man party yesterday issued a friendly challenge to the Government party of 178 members. Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader and sole member of the Reconstruction party, challenged the Dominant Liberal party to be true to its ancient principles and declared Liberalism had an opportunity for service unsurpassed in its history in Canada.

If Liberalism, now triumphant, set out to enforce respect for the sanctity of human life as well as the sanctity of contract, he said, it could make an immense contribution to the solution of the economic problems of Canada. The Liberal party in the past had rendered great service in the battle for political liberty. It could now do as much in the battle for economic liberty.

Debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, the first order of business in the House, continues today with Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. Vancouver South, holding the floor. Prospects are it may continue indefinitely, although for a time it was thought it might end yesterday.

Yesterday's discussion brought from Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce and chairman of the wheat committee of the Cabinet, a reply to Conservative leader Bennett's criticism of the new Wheat Board.

Mr. Euler announced a parliamentary investigation would be made into Mr. Bennett's suggestion the new Board had protected short traders.

The new Board, he said, had made a temporary arrangement to encourage the sale of wheat by protecting overnight sales. Finance Minister Dunning said the old Board had made a similar arrangement. Mr. Bennett interrupted that the old Board had not done it in the same way.

The wheat question had now become a national one, said Mr. Euler. The whole of Canada was now concerned in it because of the financial commitments of the Dominion Government.

The policy of the present Government was to offer wheat for sale at competitive prices continuously and to endeavor to clear the market year after year the new crop came on the market. This, he was convinced, was the right method, although the Government was far from being "out of the woods." It should not be suggested that because there was a new Wheat Board the problem of the wheat surplus was solved.

The reason the former Wheat Board, headed by John I. McFarland, was dismissed was antagonism towards it which had developed among buyers of wheat abroad. Mr. Euler read extracts from English milling and grain trade journals to substantiate this statement.

In putting forward this reason the Government was making no reflection on the honor of Mr. McFarland as Mr. Bennett had suggested. "The state of the Union at this hour," he declared, "is a state of confusion—confusion in thought, confusion in economic life and confusion in ideas."

The former President accused the administration of having "the worse unbalanced" budget in history, as "New Dealers" and their foes warmed up today for impending primary and election struggles.

While Republicans, led by former President Hoover, assailed the administration, the "New Deal" leadership moved quietly about the business of crystallizing plans for the June convention at Philadelphia. It was said that Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, might be selected as the "keynote" speaker.

Lincoln Day for the most part was given over to Republican speeches in which there was a general assault on the administration. Hoover, addressing a banquet audience at Portland, Ore., struck one of his sharpest anti-administration notes.

"The state of the Union at this hour," he declared, "is a state of confusion—confusion in thought, confusion in economic life and confusion in ideas."

It was a strange thing, said Mr. Euler, that while the world wheat surplus had been reduced in recent years, Canada's surplus had not. The reason was that Canada's share of the world surplus had correspondingly increased. If Mr. McFarland had been bent on selling wheat at competitive prices Canada's surplus would have been reduced.

Mr. Bennett, he continued, had suggested Canada was "sitting pretty" because it held a large share of the world's available wheat. If he meant by this that Canada could now exact any price it chose from foreign buyers he was just repeating the old story he had been repeating for the past five years of forcing other countries to meet Canada's will.

The wheat business was too uncertain to permit dealings of this kind. No one could say when a new supply of wheat would come on the market. Only recently Portugal and Spain had begun offering wheat for sale when they had not been counted on for any exportable wheat.

DATE FOR OPENING OF TEXTILE PROBE TO BE ANNOUNCED NEXT WEEK

Toronto, Feb. 13.—J. C. McRuer, K.C., of Toronto, expects to be in Ottawa Sunday to start his preliminary work as chief commissioner in the Turgeon Royal Commission investigation of the textile industry. He said today there would be an announcement early next week regarding the date the probe will start.

Mr. McRuer has been detained in Toronto at the trial of Harry O'Donnell in which he is Crown prosecutor.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FARMER DISAPPOINTED IN AMBITION. Toronto, Feb. 13.—A British Columbia farmer wants a "date" with a University of Toronto co-ed. The Student Date-Bureau received a letter with ten cents enclosed as a membership fee in the event the bureau was not restricted to students. He was advised the membership and date privileges are restricted to students.

WHEAT PRICES DECLINED. Winnipeg, Feb. 13.—Wheat prices declined in early trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange today, reflecting reaction at Liverpool from yesterday's sharp advances. Wheat prices near mid-session were 3/4 cent lower, May at 83 1/2, July 84 1/2 and October 83 1/2 cents.

BALANCED BUDGET IS KEYNOTE OF REPUBLICAN PARTY'S BATTLE CRY

Lincoln Day Banquets Served to Kindle Political Fires as "New Dealers" and Opponents Warmed Up for Impending Primary and Election Struggles—Former President Hoover Charged Roosevelt Administration Has Brought Nation to a State of Confusion—Bitter Debate Over Neutrality Legislation.

Washington, Feb. 13.—In the aftermath of political fires kindled on Lincoln Day by both major parties, the "New Dealers" and their foes warmed up today for impending primary and election struggles.

While Republicans, led by former President Hoover, assailed the administration, the "New Deal" leadership moved quietly about the business of crystallizing plans for the June convention at Philadelphia. It was said that Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, might be selected as the "keynote" speaker.

Lincoln Day for the most part was given over to Republican speeches in which there was a general assault on the administration. Hoover, addressing a banquet audience at Portland, Ore., struck one of his sharpest anti-administration notes.

EDWARD VIII TO RECEIVE OATH DURING AUTUMN

Expected to Subscribe to Accession Declaration Assuring Maintenance of Protestant Religion at Opening of Parliament.

London, Feb. 13.—The King is expected to subscribe to the accession declaration in the autumn. This oath ensuring the maintenance of the Protestant religion by the Crown, must be made by the Sovereign on the day of the meeting of the first Parliament after accession or at the coronation, whichever comes first.

Before the Coronation Parliament will probably enter the new session. Therefore the declaration will be "made, subscribed and audibly repeated" by the King at the opening of the new session.

Much to the late King's relief Parliament revised the oath before 1911. Since the days of William of Orange British sovereigns had been required to subscribe to two declarations: Firstly, to maintain the Presbyterian Church of Scotland where there was no objection; secondly, however, with reference to certain Catholic Church tenets, in terms which caused distress to Catholics. Through lack of time it was impossible to alter the declaration before Edward VII's coronation. He let everyone know how repugnant the words were to him and uttered them so low as to be inaudible.

The Protestant Succession is in fact triply fortified by the Bill of Rights, the Act of Settlement and the Coronation oath.

FULL DETAILS ON HYDRO ACTS ARE DEMANDED

Opposition Members in Ontario Legislature Call for Long List of Returns in Connection with Cancellation of Power Contracts.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Full details of Ontario's dealings with four Quebec power companies, Ottawa Valley, Gattineau, Beauharnois and Maclean Quebec, are asked in questions placed on the order paper of the Ontario Legislature by the opposition. George S. Chalmers, Grenville-Dundas, former Provincial Secretary, wants a return showing all letters, memoranda, messages, minutes of meetings between the Government or any members of the Government and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission since July 11th, 1934, and relating to power contracts with these companies.

In addition, Mr. Chalmers wants a return showing all agreements, engineers' reports, inter-department reports and memoranda, surveys, minutes of Power Commission meetings since that date relating to these contracts.

Another return requested by Mr. Chalmers provides for details relative to the purchase of power or energy by the Commission since July 12th, 1934, other than from these companies.

Opposition leader George S. Henry wants the Government to state what persons or companies have been engaged by the Hydro Commission or the Government outside the regular Hydro staff since July 11th, 1934, to advise on hydro matters. He asks the date of the engagement, the remuneration in each case, and what person, persons or companies are at present engaged in an advisory capacity to the Commission in matters respecting production and distribution of power.

Contracts with the four Quebec companies were cancelled last December when the Government proclaimed cancellation legislation passed at the 1935 session of the Legislature.

REFUSAL OF ALDERMAN TO TAKE OATH ONTARIO ISSUE

Dominion State Department Not to Intervene in Case of Hamilton Woman Alderman Who Refused to Take Oath of Allegiance to King.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—Refusal of Alderman Agnes Sharpe, of Hamilton, Ont., to swear allegiance to the King was a matter for provincial and not Dominion authorities, in the opinion of officials of the State Department here.

A despatch from Hamilton said Alderman Sharpe last night declined to take the oath, and that the matter was to be drawn to the attention of the Secretary of State here. Officials of the Department said today the Municipal Act under which municipalities function is a provincial statute. It would probably indicate the correct procedure.

CHIEF FRENCH SOCIALIST WAS BEATEN BY MOB

Leon Blum, Head of Party in French Chamber of Deputies, Badly Injured by Rightist Youths While Descending from Automobile.

Paris, Feb. 13.—Royalist students today violently assaulted Leon Blum, dragging him from his automobile as it passed the War Ministry on Boulevard St. Germain, and inflicting serious injuries on the sixty-four year old Socialist leader.

The students broke from their solemn funeral procession behind the hearse of the dead Royalist leader, Jacques Bainville, to perpetrate the attack on Blum.

He suffered severe cuts about the head. Flying glass severed an artery on his forehead. Weak and suffering from loss of blood he was treated at Hotel Dieu Hospital and removed to his home.

One hundred howling students broke from the funeral procession shouting "down with Blum," "down with the Socialists."

The "camels" pummelled the leader and swung their clubs and fists at him. He was dragged to the sidewalk, and only the intervention of several bricklayers at work on a nearby building was said to have saved him from more severe injuries.

Bainville, foreign editor of the France Francaise, Royalist newspaper, was yesterday denied burial in consecrated ground by the Catholic Church in accordance with the Papal interdiction against the French monarchists.

Three policemen joined in the melee and a number of passersby. With their help, M. Blum was separated from the attacking crowd and taken to a nearby shelter. Police inspectors and a doctor from the Chamber of Deputies arrived a few minutes later.

M. Blum's face was covered with blood when they removed him to the hospital. He was treated for a broken temple artery, cuts in the ears and bad bruises. He became weak from loss of blood. The incident climaxed the series of left bank disorders which have occurred during the past few days and which last night caused the resignation of Dean Edward Allix, of the Law School, following pro-Italian student demonstrations directed against Gaston Lévesque, Ethiopia's legal advisor at Geneva.

Leon Blum is recognized leader of the S.F.I.O., the French section of the Second International. He is editor of the party's central organ, Populaire, and leader of its faction in the Chamber of Deputies.

Together with Edouard Daladier, of the Radical Socialists, and Marcel Cachin and Maurice Thorez, of the Communist party, M. Blum is among the leaders of the "People's Front."

Politically he stands for internal social reform and a policy of firm adherence to the League of Nations and collective security abroad.

ROAST CROW LATEST TABLE DELICACY

Tulsa, Okla., February 13.—Fastidious Tulsa diners have developed a taste for roast crow—and it may mean the end for the black robber of the corn rows.

Because—believes Dr. T. W. Stallings, a crow-hater—as a table delicacy the field pest will rise to the dignity of a game bird. As a game bird unprotected he will become extinct. And Tulsa suddenly is enthusiastic over crow meat. Hospitals and schools are experimenting in crow cooking, the housewives have proclaimed the bird a choice morsel and there is a market price on his head. Butchers have small boys out scouring the fields for crows at $1.50 a dozen.

GERMAN SAILORS ARRESTED IN ESPIONAGE PLOT

Copenhagen, Denmark, Feb. 13.—The frontier newspaper Heimdal said today fifty members of the German navy, including one officer, were arrested at Flensburg, a city in Schleswig, Prussia, in connection with an espionage plot. The newspaper said a waiter, who was once a member of the French secret service, was named as the leader of the plot, obtaining naval secrets from Schleswig bases.

OIL SANCTIONS STILL A MATTER OF CONJECTURE

London Press Convinced Success of Embargo Against Italy Hinges Chiefly Upon Co-operation of United States.

London, Feb. 13.—Great Britain's ultimate position on the question of an oil embargo as part of the sanctions against Italy was a subject for lively conjecture here today. The London press declared in first comments on the oil embargo report of the League of Nations experts, success of the embargo hinges upon the co-operation of the United States.

"The really important question is not whether oil sanctions ought to be imposed, but whether assuming that they ought—success is certain," the Daily Telegraph said. "Obviously that will depend on the action of the United States which at present is uncertain."

U.S. SUPPORT APPEARS UNLIKELY

Geneva, Feb. 13.—Advices from Washington that congressional legislation to authorize an oil embargo seemed improbable strengthened today a general Geneva belief that the action of a League of Nations oil sanction against Italy appeared unlikely.

The League committee of experts, in its report on the possibilities of enforcement of an oil sanction, had ruled that unless the United States participated in the proposed extension of penalties upon Italy for its war in Ethiopia would fail.

FORMER PREACHER ACCUSED OF $100,000 CONSPIRACY

Young Toronto Stock Salesman Also Held in Plot to Defraud Investment Company by Selling Them Bogus Bonds.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—Herbert Wilson, a mission worker, then a preacher and finally leader of a gang that robbed mail trains and banks in the United States west, was under arrest here today, charged with conspiring to defraud a Toronto investment company of nearly $100,000.

The fifty-five-year-old Wilson, released from San Quentin prison, California, last June after serving several years of a life-imprisonment sentence for murder, was arrested yesterday at his London, Ont., home. Donald Holliday, young Toronto stock salesman, was held on the same charge.

Holliday, police said, implicated Wilson in a plot to defraud A. E. Ames and Company by selling them ninety-four bogus one thousand dollar bonds of the Western States Utilities Company.

GERMAN RELIGIOUS LEADERS OPEN BATTLE AGAINST "NAZIFICATION"

Catholic Church Looks to Vatican City for Direct and Powerful Intervention Following Stunning Blow Struck at Youth Organizations—German Confessional Church Calls Synod Meeting Despite Nazi Decrees—Hitlerites Redouble Campaign Against All Alleged Anti-Government Tendencies.

Berlin, February 13.—Catholics and Protestants today marshalled their forces for a struggle against "Nazification." Pulling itself together after the stunning blow struck this week at its youth organizations, the Catholic Church of Germany today looked to Vatican City for direct and powerful intervention.

In direct defiance of Nazi decrees, the German Confessional Church has called a synod for next Monday at Oeynhausen, Westphalia.

Father Peter Winter, of Weier, near Offenburg was arrested today for refusing to help a Nazi trooper prove the purity of his Aryan blood.

Candidates for Nazi office, called upon to prove their descent, are compelled to go to the church for help.

UNIVERSITY GROUPS NEW OBJECTS OF NAZI DRIVE

Berlin, February 13.—The grim, silent struggle by the Nazi regime to exterminate all alleged anti-Government tendencies in social, religious, athletic, commercial and student organizations of the Third Reich persisted today with renewed vigor.

Informed sources said that perhaps the most significant among the recent disclosures was yesterday's announcement that district governors henceforth would take orders from the Gestapo, the secret state police. Rhineland points were systematically silent after the recent raids against Catholics.

The campaign went on, nevertheless, with prison sentences for a number of Communists, allegedly camouflaging their organization as an athletic association, dissolution of such minor organizations as women's coffee clubs, and a warning to students at Hanover that attempts to resume their old fraternity affiliations would be punished by a closing of avenues of post-graduate employment.

POLICE USE GUNS TO STOP UNRULY ANTI-JEWISH MOBS

Many Booths Operated by Jews in Polish Village Markets Have Been Destroyed and Robbed.

Warsaw, Feb. 13.—Growing anti-Semitism throughout Poland, particularly in the country districts, where a number of Jewish shopkeepers were beaten, was reported here today. Police have been forced in many instances to use revolvers and rifles to stop the anti-Jewish mobs. Many booths operated by Jews in village markets have been destroyed and robbed.

The anti-Semitic agitators aroused the peasants by alleging the wide difference between prices they receive for cattle and retail meat prices is due to kosher killing, made necessary by the demands of Jewish communities.

The anti-Jewish agitators assert that "kosher" killing is inhumane since it involves cutting the throats of cattle before animals have been rendered insensible. They also insist the use of butchers designated by rabbis resulted in exorbitant charges, subsequently passed on to the consumer.

GERMANY'S SECRET POLICE GIVEN UNLIMITED POWER

Gestapo Empowered to Act Against All Those Whom Nazi Regime Regards as Its Enemies.

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Nazi Germany today had a force of super G-Men—the Gestapo secret police—vested with unlimited power to be used solely against those from the Nazi regime regards as its enemies.

Free from all supervision by the courts and answerable only to their chief, Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Greiser, under a decree issued yesterday, the Gestapo operatives were entrusted with:

"Investigation of all cases of plotting against the security of the state, high treason, retention of firearms and munitions, and attacks against the Nationalist Socialist party and the state."

Under this authorization the Gestapo is regarded as being free to take the offensive against Communism, anti-Nazi elements in the Catholic and Protestant churches and Jews.

ANCIENT TORTURE BLOCK USED TO CURE ARTHRITIS

Boston Surgeon Describes Block and Tackle Rig Used to Stretch Necks of Arthritis Victims—Cures Claimed in Five Cases.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Modern medicine took a page from the medieval torture books today and rigged up a block and tackle to stretch the necks of arthritis victims. The strange instrument was described in the Journal of the American Medical Association as a head harness and rope-and-pulley arrangement by which patients were lifted into the air.

Cures in five cases of severe shoulder and arm pains were claimed by Dr. Samuel S. Hanflig, of Boston, the inventor. The pains were due to arthritis of the neck, a disease Dr. Hanflig said elderly people often miscall "neuritis."

GILROY DENIES AUTHORSHIP OF LATEST FRACAS

President of Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Brands as 'Preposterous' Suggestion that Canada Seeks Change in Olympic Hockey Play-Off System.

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Feb. 13.—A suggestion that Canada, smarting under defeat by an inferior English team and without a chance for revenge, had asked Paul Loei, president of the International Hockey Association, to call tonight's special meeting of the Olympic authorities was denied today by E. A. Gilroy, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

"Why it is preposterous," declared Gilroy, "it was Loei who rang me up and said the meeting had been called."

There has been general dissatisfaction over the system of deciding the championship. It was reported in some quarters that Canadian officials had threatened to withdraw the defending champions from further play because the first defeat suffered by Dominion hockey men in Olympic competition would affect Canadian chances in the final round.

It is understood Germany had a great deal to do with calling the meeting although the German team is hardly likely to be interested in the finals because it faces Canada tonight and the Maple Leaf representatives are pronounced favorites even though the Germans held the English to a one-all tie in thirty minutes overtime last night.

Gilroy's outburst came after the announcement had been made that the hockey authorities would be held tonight to discuss changing the method of deciding the Olympic and European hockey championships. At the meeting each competing nation will be represented by one member. The special convocation was called because of the intense criticism on all sides regarding the present mode of deciding the title.

Canadian and other representatives have objected most strongly to that section of the Olympic system whereby second-round results count in the final. Under this system Canada's startling defeat by England Tuesday night would count against the Dominion in the final series.

Newspapermen learned that there was a strong sentiment for changing this so that teams qualifying for the final would enter on an even basis and semi-final results disregarded. In this case the English team would have a chance to meet England again and avenge the previous stunning defeat.

It was because of this ruling that Canadian authorities have threatened to withdraw the defending champions, it is claimed. The Dominion officials contended that Canada's team, which had never been defeated in Olympic competition prior to Tuesday night's defeat, would be at a distinct disadvantage. It was also claimed by the Canadians that they had not learned of the final round play-off method until last night.

The way the Olympic authorities had the system mapped out was for the first two teams in the semi-final rounds to enter the final, but if two of the qualifying teams had met previously in the semi-final—for example Canada and England—no further match was to be played. Therefore England would enter the final round with a victory over Canada good for two points in the final round and without the necessity of meeting the Canadians again.

In case of a tie at the end of the final round the goal average would decide the champion team. However, it would not only be the goal average of the final round but the semi-final as well.

ANOTHER OLYMPIC SPEED SKATING MARK BROKEN

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Feb. 13.—Chipping nearly two seconds off the Olympic record, Charles Mathisen, of Norway, today won the 1,500 metre speed skating title of the Fourth Olympic Winter Games.

Mathisen dashed around the course in two minutes, 19.2 seconds to beat his countryman, Ivar Ballangrud, and winner of the 500 and 1,000 metre crowns and eclipse Clas Thunberg's Olympic record of 2:21.1.

Birger Vasenius, of Finland, was third and Leo Freisinger, nineteen year old Chicagoan, fourth.

CANADIAN POINT-GETTERS LED BY FARQUHARSON

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, Feb. 13.—As the Olympic hockey battle was waged both on and off the ice today, Hugh Farquharson, of Montreal, held the scoring leadership of the Canadian team and seemed reasonably sure of finishing on top whether or not this team retained the international title.

In the first five games on Canada's schedule, Farquharson compiled a point total of fifteen, made up of eight goals and seven assists. He scored four goals and one assist yesterday as the Canadians routed Hungary by fifteen to nothing.

Goals and assists have been distributed among the Canadian players as follows:

G. A. P.
Hugh Farquharson	7 15
Ken Farmer	2 0 8
Ralph St. Germain	4 4 8
Bill Thomson	7 0 7
Dave Neville	4 3 7
Jimmy Haggarty	2 3 5
Alex Sinclair	2 3 5
Herman Murray	4 0 4
Pud' Kitchen	1 2 3
Arnold Deacon	0 1 1

NORWAY CAPTURED ANOTHER OLYMPIC SKI TITLE

JULIUS KAYSER IS SETTING INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE PACE.
Howard Leslie is not very small, but the opposing guards apparently lost track of him when Julius Kayser played Dominion Textile in a scheduled Sherbrooke Industrial basketball League fixture. The result was that Leslie led a second-half attack which netted twenty-nine points and brought the Kayserites a thirty-five to thirty victory over Don Johnston's Textiles.

The Kayser attack did not click in the first half which ended with the Textile representatives leading by three points. But during the second half, Munkittrick gave his men a pep talk and the consequences were that Leslie struck his stride and led the successful charge on the Textile basket.

Howard Terrey, centre on the Textile roster, was high scoring with fifteen points, nosing Leslie out for individual honors by the margin of a single point. The two captains, Munkittrick and Johnston, collected eight points each.

The victory placed Kayser at the top of the standing with two victories and dropped the Textilemen into the cellar with two defeats.

The line-ups and individual scores follow:

Julius Kayser: D. Reid 3; C. Katadotis 2; D. McLeod 5; G. Molyneux 1; N. Munkittrick 8; H. Leslie 14; and J. Lowe 2. Total 35.

Dominion Textile: B. Lohr 2; D. Johnston 8; H. Terrey 15; G. Carrigan 1; N. Broadbelt 3; G. Dunn, S. Howcroft and C. Patton 2. Total 30.

DEATH OVERTOOK GIRL ON HIGHWAY

Superior, Ariz., Feb. 13.—Seventeen year old Marjorie Stoll was killed by a car on a highway when she was overtaken and they in the family car.

run yesterday, finished with a winning total of 490.3 points for his performance in the run and in the jumping today. Larsson did not enter the combined event.

Hagen's jumps measured forty-two and forty-six metres (137.76 and 150.88 feet, respectively).

Second place went to Olaf Hoffsbakken, of Norway, with 419.1 points, third to Svend Brodahl, of Norway, 408.1; fourth to Lauri Vilonen, of Finland, 401.2; fifth to Simunex, 394.3, and sixth to Berndt Osterfeldt, of Norway, 393.8.

Tom Moberg, of Vancouver, gave the best performance of the Canadian contingent with jumps of forty-nine and fifty-two metres, but having finished far back with only 143.8 points in yesterday's eighteen-kilometre run he did not threaten the leaders.

Karl Baadsvik, of Montreal, jumped forty-five and forty-six metres but he was too far back in yesterday's event with only 115.2 points.

William Ball, of Montreal, had leaps of 40.5 and thirty-six metres today and Bud Clark, of Ottawa, 36.5 and thirty-five metres. Ball got 147.3 points in the ski run while Clark had 159.3.

Competitors from United States fared no better than the Canadians and were shut out of point-collecting honors.

CROWD DISPLEASED WITH RATING OF TORONTO PAIR

Garmisch - Partenkirchen, Germany, Feb. 13.—Interest in the Olympic figure skating championships reached a new peak today as the pair skaters performed before a large crowd which included Chancellor Hitler and high German Government officials.

Canada was represented by Audrey Garland and Fraser Sweetman, of Winnipeg, and Louise Bertram and Stewart Reynolds, of Toronto. The latter duo created great enthusiasm with their sweeping loops which were nearly flawless. Their performance drew rounds of applause as they skated to a pleasant tanzo. The applause changed to derision, however, when the judges announced comparatively low ratings for the Toronto pair. The crowd whistled madly in protest.

The championship was captured by Ernst Baier and Marie Herber, European and German champions.

GREAT BRITAIN DEFEATED HUNGARY THIS MORNING

Garmisch - Partenkirchen, Germany, Feb. 13.—Dominating the play throughout, the English team this morning defeated Hungary by five to one in the second round-robin series of the Olympic hockey series.

Last night England played a one-all tie with Germany after thirty minutes of overtime and therefore led the Group "A" standing.

Ed Brencley gave the winners a one-goal margin in the first frame. In the second session John Davey made it two and the Canadians, Alex Archer, of Winnipeg, and Jimmy Chappell, of Ontario, added a one-goal apiece to give England a four to one lead.

Davey scored the only goal of the last frame.

As a result of the English victory Canada must at least tie Germany in tonight's game to qualify for the final with England. A tie will be all Canada needs as Germany has not as good a goal average as the Canadians.

Qualifiers from the other group have not yet been decided. Tonight the United States meets Sweden and victory for the Americans will place them in the final with Czechoslovakia which qualified by beating Austria this morning by two to one.

All the scoring in the Czechoslovakian game occurred in the second period.

THOUSANDS TO TAKE PART IN EUROPEAN TRIP

With Deadline for Registrations One Month Away, 3,600 Ex-Service Men and Dependents Have Signified Intention of Joining Pilgrimage to Vimy Ridge.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—Registrations of ex-service men and dependents for the Canadian Legion's pilgrimage to Vimy Ridge in July number 3,600, with the deadline one month away. Brig-General Alex Ross, Dominion president of the organization, said here yesterday.

Due to the problem of assigning vessels to the trans-Atlantic crossing no applications for inclusion in the pilgrimage will be considered after March 15, the date fixed for following representations from companies concerned.

The purpose of the pilgrimage, said General Ross, was primarily to pay homage to Canada's dead, not only at Vimy Ridge, but on other European battlefields where Canadians had fought. Consequently the party will be divided into two groups—one northern and one southern.

The northern group will proceed from Montreal to Antwerp, visiting Ypres and Passchendaele on its way to Vimy, the southern group will disembark at Havre, going by train to Albert and Arras. This party will visit the Somme areas first, then concentrate on Vimy Ridge and the unveiling of Canada's national memorial.

The unveiling is scheduled for the afternoon of July 26.

At present four liners have been definitely allotted to the pilgrims. These are the Duchess of Bedford, the Montrose, the Ascania and the Antonia. They will sail from Montreal on July 15.

positions are reversed.

There will be no revision of the voters' lists this year if a bill introduced yesterday by Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, becomes law. The measure provides for postponing the revision for one year.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King told J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, Canada had entered no undertakings regarding Imperial defence. He said the matter had been discussed at various Imperial conferences, but it had always been agreed that no commitments should be made which were not approved by the parliaments of the different dominions.

SENATE PREPARED TO MAKE LONG ADJOURNMENT TODAY

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—The Senate will likely adjourn today until February 25. Notice was given yesterday by Hon. Raoul Dandurand of a motion to take a recess until that date when the Chamber adjourns, either today or tomorrow.

Yesterday the Upper House concluded its debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, adopted it, paid tribute to the memory of the late Senator Charles Murphy, and heard Senator J. J. Hughes, of Prince Edward Island, ask for more vigorous enforcement of the anti-smuggling laws.

Senator Dandurand's remarks were in the nature of a reply to Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, who on Tuesday night delivered an attack against the government. Citing each paragraph in turn, Mr. Dandurand voiced approval of them.

He praised the proposal to establish an Unemployment Commission, endorsed the Canada-United States trade agreement and warmly supported the Government's expressed purpose to restore to Parliament authority over taxation and money matters.

The Government leader applauded Senator Meighen's sentiments regarding functions of the Senate. While there were differences of opinion in the Upper House, these were not as a rule so forcibly expressed as in the Commons, he said. He believed it was the Senate's duty to review legislation judicially and without partisan prejudice.

Lake Centre. JUNIOR LEAGUE HAS TWO TEAMS SHARING LEAD

Two-All Draw with Bromptonville Last Night Sent Lennoxville into Deadlock with Champepe at Top of Eastern Townships Junior Hockey League Standing.

Lennoxville is today tied with Champepe at the top of the Eastern Townships Junior Hockey League standing as a result of the two-all tie the College Town lads played with Bromptonville in Minto rink last night. The deadlocked pace-setters have twelve points each, but Champepe has played one game less standing as a result of the two-all tie.

The play throughout the three periods of last night's game was as evenly matched as the final score indicated. Neither side enjoyed any marked advantage at any stage of the hard-fought contest, although there were many scoring opportunities missed by the rival snipers.

Lloyd Price put Lennoxville ahead in the first period when he beat Charlie St. Laurent after an individual rush. Before the frame ended, however, Ernie Leblanc shoved home the equalizer and the intermission was reached with the count one-all.

The visitors went one up in the second round when Poulette converted Roger Parris pass into a shot which Hunting was unable to turn aside. Lennoxville pressed hard but it was not until the final frame that the homesters were able to draw on even terms with their opponents.

Freddie Byrne finally made the red light blink behind St. Laurent on a pass from Richie Christian. In the remaining minutes both teams tried hard only to have the netminders block everything they had to offer. No overtime was played.

The game, handled by Larry Perzan and Anatole Choquette, was positive of only two minor penalties for tripping and was witnessed by a large crowd of enthusiastic fans.

Owing to the condition of the roads the Bromptonville squad was obliged to make the journey by sleigh.

The line-ups follow:

Lennoxville goal St. Laurent
Bromptonville defence J. Leblanc
Bozer defence Parr
McMullen centre W. Quinn
Christie wing E. Leblanc
Byrne wing Riddoch
Price wing Hodge, Lane, Ross and Glass.

Bromptonville subs: Poulette, Beauregard, H. Quinn and St. Cyr. The results of last night's game created the following Junior League standing:

	P. W. L. D. F. A. P.
Champepe	7 6 1 0 23 9 12
Lennoxville	8 5 1 2 19 14 12
Nationals	6 2 3 1 8 13 5
Bromptonville	7 2 4 1 12 15 4
x-Bishop's	6 2 4 0 15 21 4
Canadiens	8 2 6 0 16 21 4

x-Bishop's games are only exhibition fixtures because the University squad has over-age players.

IRISH COMMERCIAL CLASS DOWNED HIGH SCHOOL

The St. Patrick's Academy Commercial Class blanked the Sherbrooke High School Juniors by four to nothing in an exhibition hockey match. The Irish school students scored single goals in the first and second periods and tallied twice in the final frame. Maurice Grigsby, Austin Conway, Paul Gingués and Yvan Cote shared the goal-getting honors, while Gingués, Lebrun, Conway and Murphy were credited with assists.

The line-ups were:

St. Pat's: Goal, Dussault; defence, Lebrun and Rousseau; centre, Conway; wings, Grigsby and Frechette; subs, Murphy, Gingués, Paquin, Laurencelle and Cote.

High School: Goal, Carter; defence, LeHura and Ross; centre, Willis; wings, Bridges and Conley; subs, Atto, Hall and Smith.

CHARGE CALLES CREATING MEXICAN LABOR TROUBLES

Permanent Congressional Commission Flays 'Insolent Attitude and Anti-Patriotic Activities of Calles and His Gang.'

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—The permanent Congressional Commission charging former President Plutarco Elias Calles and "His Spiteful Gang" with certain labor disturbances, decided today to send federal senators and deputies to their home states to explain the labor policies of President Calles.

Senator Pedro Torres Ortiz, addressing the Permanent Commission, declared recent disorders in Monterrey and Tampico were the result of "the insolent attitude and anti-patriotic activities of Calles and his gang."

He asserted the former President and his followers were using sections of a foreign press to "accuse President Cardenas of Communist activities, which is a lie since our Government is Socialist."

Calles, ex-Prime Minister of Mexico who lost his political power last June after opposing Cardenas' policies, has declared in recent statements that "a state of anarchy exists in Mexico."

The Permanent Commission, after voting unanimously its support of Cardenas' policies, called a special session of Congress to begin on Saturday, at which the federal labor law will be revised to make payment of salaries for a seven-day week compulsory.

SPANISH ELECTORS SEEK TO NAME NEW PARLIAMENT

Confusion Caused by Perplexing Array of Parties and Candidates Further Complicated by Awkward and Impractical Voting System.

Madrid, Feb. 13.—Electors of Spain next Sunday will cast their ballots for a new Cortes with a perplexing array of parties and candidates from which to choose.

The electoral picture is further complicated by the voting system which all party leaders agree is awkward and impractical.

Jose Maria Gil Robles, Rightist leader, predicts the Popular Action which he leads will win more than 150 seats. In a speech attacking "Bolshevism" and "Marxism," he forecast his forces would "crush the opposition as we crushed the October, 1934, revolution."

Francisco Largo Caballero, Socialist leader, denied Rightist charges that victory for the Left would mean "revolution." He said "February 16 does not mean revolution, but a struggle against Bolshevism, and efforts to put into effect the idealism of workers."

A total of 961 candidates are eligible to run for the 455 seats in the Cortes.

Speaking on "The Crisis of American Civilization," Mr. Durant believed Canadian moral traditions are stronger than those of the United States. He drew attention to what he termed "the deplorable decay of religious beliefs in the United States."

DEFENCE OPENS PLEA FOR LIFE OF O'DONNELL

Counsel for Accused in Toronto Ravine Murder Case Opens Argument as Ten-Day Trial Enters Concluding Stages.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—The final plea for Harry O'Donnell's life was begun before a jury today by Frank Regan, K.C., counsel for the twenty-five-year-old filling station attendant on trial for murdering pretty Ruth Taylor in a ravine last fall.

Opening of argument in behalf of the dapper prisoner marked the closing stages of a ten-day trial. O'Donnell has been on trial since February 2 for the November 4 killing of the twenty-year-old stenographer, found ravished and with her skull crushed the day after she had set out for home from work on a rain-swept, moonless night.

Apparently unmoved by the strain of the long hearing, the slender prisoner displayed his customary disinterest and exterior as he came into court today to hear his lawyer's argument. He conferred in a low voice with Mr. Regan for a moment, and then he moved over to his usual corner of the dock and settled down with one foot propped up against the railing.

From the appearance of the girl's clothing after death, Mr. Regan said, only a small part of her blue sweater would come in contact with her assailant, but blue hairs were scattered all over O'Donnell's top coat.

And if O'Donnell were close enough to this girl to get hairs on his coat, where did all the blood on her go? he asked. "It would have been over his shirt and necktie and the front of his coat. Yet none was found there on O'Donnell."

Sturdy Old Tar tells Story of his Good Health

His folks have used Fellows' Syrup for over 60 years.

John Wilson, sturdy 78 year old seaman, tells how 'Fellows' put him on his feet time and again, and what it did for his family when he was far away at sea.

"Yes," he said, "I've had fever in Africa... nervous breakdown after rounding the Horn... I've laid low with bronchitis. But Fellows' Syrup has been my friend in need. I was soon hale and hearty again."

"My children and grandchildren have relied on it all their lives. 'Fellows' has been a mighty good friend to our family and I've never hesitated to tell friends about this grand old tonic!"

(*The name is fictitious but the story is authentic.)

FELLOWS' SYRUP—the family tonic for 3 generations

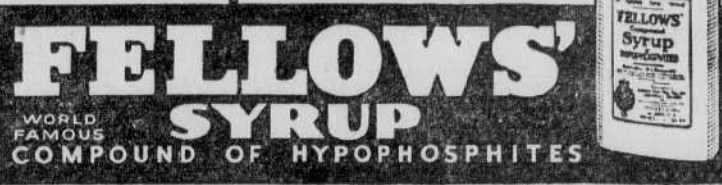

'Fellows' with its perfect balance of Iron, Calcium, Sodium, Quinine, Potassium and Manganese, was originated by a Canadian chemist more than 60 years ago. Today, in Canada and throughout the world, doctors prescribe it for Nervous Debility. Are you fretful, worried, 'jumpy' by day—restless by night? The minerals in 'Fellows' soothe the ragged nerves, restore health and vigour.

Bronchitis, Lingering Coughs. Coughs and choking spasms make life miserable. Your system needs the mineral foods in 'Fellows' to check the spasms and to soothe the inflamed membranes.

Anæmic Conditions. If you're underweight—lack stamina—you need 'Fellows' with its vital minerals to aid in the renewal of blood and tissues.

The name "FELLOWS" is important! Fellows' Syrup has helped 3 generations. The name 'Fellows' is on the wrapper. Two sizes—at your druggist's.

COLD? Do These 2 Things Instantly!

A Simple Method that Anyone can Follow

1. Take two "Aspirin" Tablets. Make sure you get "Aspirin."

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

The moment you feel a cold coming on follow the pictured directions

Your doctor will approve this as perhaps the quickest, easiest way known to fight colds and sore throat.

The "Aspirin" taken internally will combat a cold instantly. If throat is sore, crush and stir 3

Straighten Out The Marriage Law Tangle.

A most important matter that should be dealt with at the coming session of the Quebec Legislature is that of straightening out the marriage law tangle at present existing. Hardly a month passes but some Superior Court judge hands down a ruling either confirming or annulling a marriage between a Protestant and Roman Catholic performed by a Protestant minister. Judges differ as to the relative standing of the Canon law of the Roman Catholic Church and the civil law of the Province. Precedents seem to have been thrown into the discard and each judge seems to be a law unto himself.

The question should be settled once and for all by an amendment to the Civil Code declaring which law should prevail—the law of the land or the law of the Roman Catholic Church, and there should be but one answer. All denominations are under the same law in all other respects. Why should there be any difference in regard to marriage laws?

An International Blackmail Game.

Mussolini's whole exploit in Africa has been described as "a tragedy in which a fourth-rate nation, Italy, is unscrupulously imbued with the aspirations of a first-rate power."

Those who might be inclined to uphold Mussolini as a savior of his country might well ponder over the most recent blast against Il Duce's adventure in Africa, which has been vividly portrayed in an "uncensored" account by William B. Courtney, Collier's war correspondent just back from Africa.

His description of a voyage with two thousand Italian soldiers and "colonists" aboard a typical troopship plying between Naples and Eritrea would make the blood run cold in the mind of one unaccustomed to the base tactics to which a dictator of the calibre of Mussolini would stoop in enforcing his iron rule of oppression.

The transport Sannio, on which the correspondent travelled, is characterized by him as a "hell ship, with men living like animals, levelled to the lowest common denominator of decency." Its African destination, the city of Massaua, he describes as a "hell hole, where buzzards walk the streets." The city's hinterland is "a revolting wilderness, a pestiferous country, unfit for men of this race to live in, impossible for them to colonize."

Finally he declares that Italian propaganda regarding the war is "a crime that will affect the prospects of world peace for a generation." The whole Italian plan is "an international blackmail game." Inside Italy, Mussolini's Blackshirts are accused of fomenting vicious hatreds among a "deluded nation, with a fury that appeals all foreign observers." The result bodes ill, the writer predicts, for the Italian people who already "have descended, through centuries of oppressive governments, to the lowest standard of living among so-called civilized nations, including Russia."

The average Italian troop ship is described as "unkempt, untidy and downright filthy." Italy's luxury liners, like the Saturnia, are reserved for the transportation of "pet Blackshirts"—personages like Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law.

Many of the passengers aboard the Sannio were "colonists" going to Africa as laborers. Their lot was described as a veritable bondage—"no better than convict labor, because when these men go ashore, they are hampered by Fascist methods from any free expression of will usually accorded free white men." The authorities have to "cajole, bully, lie and wield that most cowardly of all big sticks—fineside intimidation—to make their workers remain."

Such is the rule of a Dictator. Such is the suffering of those who come under that rule.

Mountain Climbing Is Foolish—Yet Noble.

Once again several Britishers have started out to conquer that greatest of mountain peaks, 29,000 foot Everest, which has defied four previous attempts and has taken nine lives. Hugh Rutledge, leader of the 1933 expedition which reached within a thousand feet of the summit only to be driven back by a monsoon which broke nearly a month ahead of schedule, declares that with reasonable weather he is certain of success.

Every time some party sets out on such a mission as this, or every time some helpful soul is found frozen to death on the bleak slopes of a high mountain, the average stay-at-home citizen feels the necessity of taking five minutes off and trying to figure out why the late lamented went up on the mountain in the first place.

Mountain climbing is one of the riskiest of all sports, and it is also—from a purely material standpoint—one of the most supremely useless. It butters, as the old saying has it, no parsnips whatever.

The world will roll along on its slow progress to wherever it is going just about as well if all its lonely peaks remain permanently untrodden by human feet.

So when some daring Alpinist pays for his daring with his life—as happened recently to young Delmar Fadden on the high crags of Mount Rainier—most of us have a little trouble trying to understand what it was all about. Why lead with your chin, in a world where most of us get enough of a bumping around without going out of our way to look for it.

And about the only explanation you can get is that man is an incurable romanticist at heart—which is to say that he is an odd blend of poet and fool. This leads him into a great deal of trouble, and invites a good share of the discontent which eternally plagues him; but since it is also the chief thing that sets him apart from his ancestor, the cave man, it is, on the whole, something for which to be thankful.

Because there is this wild, romantic streak in human hearts, a great mountain, to some men, is always a challenge—and one that cannot be ignored. The mountain lifts its white, wind-swept peak against the incalculable blue of the sky, and a man looks at it and thinks, "It would be practically impossible for anybody to get up there."

And then, looking a little longer, he thinks, "Impossible—except for a really brave man who refused to let anything lick him"; and after that he thinks, "Besides, you would be up very high, if you did get to the top, and you could see a tremendous way." And so, pretty soon, he sets off to climb it.

Now there are many ways to take a beating in this life, but none of them is much more effective than this business of mountain climbing. All the rigors of cold and wind, the terror of high places, the torture of insufficient oxygen, the malignancy of ice and snow—the climber gets a double dose of them, and every so often one or another of them kills him.

But the climbers go on climbing, anyway; and the very fact that they do is one of the finest things that has ever been recorded about the human race.

To take all that you have and risk it for something that you can never turn into cash—something that is a private matter between you and your own soul—that is to be truly noble.

The fact that men will do that is the best of clues to their kinship with something higher and finer than anything this earth affords.

What Editors Say

UGHT TO POPULATE CANADA

Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, is reported to have told a Saskatoon audience that Canada may yet have to choose between war and accepting more settlers. Coming from such a responsible source, this statement may be regarded as somewhat prophetic and an indication, at least, of the open-mindedness of the Ottawa Government toward a question that is being seriously discussed in League of Nations circles.

The outcry of certain European nations for colonies to absorb surplus population is being made a pretext for aggressive military programmes. Italy has used this excuse for its campaign in Ethiopia, despite the fact that the Italian colony in Eritrea, which is probably as suitable as Ethiopia for colonization, has never been used to any extent for settlement purposes.

The history of migration shows that the movement of European peoples has always been westward. That movement has been held up during the past twenty-five years, owing largely to international distrust. With the growth of a better understanding between the nations, and as a result of the efforts of the League of Nations, the tide of emigration may flow again across the Atlantic.

The Edmonton Journal, in dealing with this question, says: "We cannot afford to be indifferent to what the population pressure in other parts of the world means to a thinly settled country like ours." This is very true and timely, and Canadians may in the near future have to consider permitting a large influx of the harder peoples of northern Europe to populate those vast empty spaces of the West. Large numbers of Scandinavians and Germans migrated to Canada thirty years ago and they made good settlers and good Canadian citizens. Such a movement would be a boon to our railways and would bring about a revival in industry generally.

Thirty Years Ago Today

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

February 13th, 1906.

Compton County politics took on a new turn when an elector petitioned for the unseating of A. B. Hunt, Liberal M.P., recently returned in a bye-election. The customary grounds for contest were offered.

The South Stukely School Board decided to re-open district school No. 3, which had been closed for some time owing to lack of pupils.

Directors of the Compton County Agricultural Society No. 2 decided to have a permanent location, either Scotstown or Lingwick, for their fair which had previously moved from one place to another. Scotstown was later selected for this annual event.

Officers elected at annual meeting of Sherbrooke Gun Club: Rev. R. W. E. Wright, Messrs. C. H. Clark, C. G. Thompson, T. M. Craig, G. M. Howard, F. A. Briggs and G. H. Foss.

Incorporators of the Wolfe, Megantic and L'Orignal Railway sought a land grant of 320 acres per mile to construct a railway from Lime Ridge to Quebec. The railway has not yet appeared although the Government promised the land.

Black Lake friends staged a farewell party for Mr. Edmund Bennett who had accepted a position in Sherbrooke.

Rev. W. A. Casson, of Manitoba, was named to succeed Rev. F. W. Cornell at East Angus and Ass. Corner Anglican churches, the latter being returned to Missouri.

CENSORSHIP ON BOTH COASTS

My year in the censorship office at Militia Headquarters (1914-15) was one of the most memorable in all my experience. My feelings having been somewhat jarred by watching for years the indifference of British diplomats in their handling of Canadian questions, it was no little satisfaction to note the thoroughness with which the Imperial Government went before had prepared its scheme of censorship in the event of war breaking out. As I have pointed out in a previous article, the day war was declared in August, 1914, every man designated for censorship duty in Canada, and selected months before, was heading for his post. Some had to travel only a few miles others, like Colonel Oxley, of Halifax, had quite a trip, his station being at Canso, the jumping-off place on the Atlantic and one of the important cable headquarters in this continent.

I spent several weeks that autumn visiting all points, cable and wireless, on our Atlantic seaboard, amplifying or simplifying matters of procedure to bring all these stations into the closest working relations. I had been given the fullest credentials that any man could expect to carry. I could invoke the aid of magistrates and police if necessary. I had authority to charter any vessel required in the furtherance of my duties; I could go anywhere and do anything within the law. Never did I feel so responsible.

After my work was completed I was ordered to Newfoundland to meet the Honorable John (later Sir John) Bennett, then the colonial postmaster general and chief cable censor. I spent ten days with him in the co-ordination of censorship methods of the two countries. Together we visited all stations except Heart's Content. We both ducked on that remote point. Winter had set in and neither of us yearned for a thirty mile drive over rough hilly roads along the Atlantic coast. On my inspection tour I only found cause for complaint at one small station off the coast of Nova Scotia. Upon inquiry I learned that the officer in charge had a reputation for unsteadiness, and had been given the job largely out of charity. But in times of emergency such splendid service to Canada by swerving the other day and night and transmitting to Ottawa valuable information of the activities of Germany, so far as the wireless could tell the story. The station grounds were surrounded by a high wire fence, and within this enclosure 250 men of the 7th Northumberland Regiment, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel H. Irving were in camp. When I arrived at Newcastle the finishing touches were being put to the wireless plant, and in about ten days it was hoped to have it in operation.

Talking to the construction engineers on several occasions my suspicions were aroused at the accent of the foreman. I asked Censor Colton what he knew or thought of this man. He could tell me nothing except that he had been sent to Newcastle by the Paulsen people. Like myself, Colton was dubious about his nationality. He thought he was either a German or an Austrian; certainly he was not from Scandinavia where the Paulsen company was principally operating. Fearing the station might be wrecked some night, I suggested that this man be got rid of and that Mr. Colton take over the completion of the construction work, which he was quite competent to do. He agreed with me and on reporting the situation by telephone to Colonel Irving, who had gone to regimental headquarters at Chatham on a brief visit, the engineer was relieved of his duties and sent to the internment camp at Amherst. Then Mr. Colton completed the station in record time.

Germany and Austria were hand in glove in espionage work. In the early weeks of the mobilization of the First Contingent at Valcartier there arrived in Quebec a strikingly handsome lady of about thirty. She had a wonderful aptitude for making friends and kept a generous supply of refreshments in her suite at the Chateau Frontenac, where she dispensed hospitality early and late. This lady made a dead set at young officers encamped at Valcartier, who might know something about the movements of our troops. It was not long before the information leaked out that she was of Austrian nationality, the reason for her stay in Quebec, judging from the many questions she asked, evidently being to learn when the First Contingent was to sail. Her activities were reported to Colonel Sherwood, then commissioner of Dominion Police, and before our transports began to move down the St. Lawrence to Gaspe Basin, the lady was put on the train at Levis and sent to the United States, a Canadian constable for as far as the boundary. When she received her marching orders she was very indignant, but could not refute the charge made against her.

While I was engaged on inspection duty on the Atlantic coast, my colleague, Colonel E. J. Chambliss, was sent to British Columbia, where conditions could not have been worse. The manning of the defence of Esquimalt, to protect the provincial capital, had been taken over (as at Halifax) by Canada in 1906, following the reform of British naval policy, but in the intervening years little or nothing had been done to put the fortifications into effective shape. Big guns had been secured but even as late as 1914 few had been erected on their emplacements; generally they had been allowed to rust on the ground. The fortifications were in such a condition that a few well directed shots from a modern cruiser would soon settle Esquimalt's fate and, of course, Victoria, with Vancouver to follow.

The situation on the Pacific Coast had been accentuated by the disaster to the British cruiser squadron under Sir Christopher Cradock, off Coronel, Chile, on November 1st, fighting against a more powerful German squadron under Admiral Graf von Spee. The question on the lips of everyone in British Columbia, after that disastrous fight, was "Will Von Spee come north and attack us?"

And here let me mention a smart piece of work by the British Intelligence Service at home. Thanks to an Australian officer, who had worked out the German confidential naval cipher, and the Motherland practically controlling all means of communication from Germany, except the Naueu outlet, it was easy to frame up a message to Von Spee, instructing him to proceed south. He was to wreck the Falkland Islands, then station and then cross the South Atlantic to South Africa and harry the ports along the coast. Von Spee fell into the trap although German historians tell us that his officers begged of him to disregard the order and go north. Thus it was that Von Spee and his fleet were saved from being laid in ruins and compelled to pay a heavy indemnity. Admiral Sir Frederick Sturdee, after the Coronel battle, was given command of the flying squadron sent to avenge Admiral Cradock and his men. He had under him two of the first battle cruisers built by Britain, the inflexible and the Invincible, and five armoured or light cruisers. The squadron, steaming at high speed, reached Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, on the morning of 7th December, and had not long to await the arrival of the enemy. Von Spee's squadron was encountered next morning and before sundown that day all his ships, save the Dresden, were at the bottom of the Atlantic.

Colonel Chambers arrived at Victoria before the Fanning Island disaster was written. The wireless rumors were afloat in the coast cities, and in Vancouver especially due to the fact that a Victoria banker completely lost his head and telephoned his Vancouver office that the German squadron was already in the Straits of San Juan, and that at any moment it was expected that the city would be bombarded. It took my colleague some time to run down the source of this report, and what he and the district officer commanding, Colonel Holmes, said to the banker can hardly be put in print.

With statesmanlike foresight realizing that the European news of early August, 1914, was ominous and that the Mother Country, which meant Canada of course, might be embroiled in a world struggle, Sir Richard McBride, provincial premier of British Columbia, decided to do his best to improve Pacific Coast defences. There had just been completed in the yards of the Seattle Construction Company at Seattle two submarines for Chile, but for some unexplained reason the South American republic had declined to accept delivery. Probably Chile was short of cash at the time. Sir Richard knew about these vessels and on his own responsibility, one day before war was declared, he purchased the two boats for the sum of $1,150,000. On August 5th he received a telegram from Sir Robert Borden, Dominion premier: "We appreciate most warmly your action, which will greatly tend to increase security on the Pacific Coast, and send hearty thanks." The submarines, unknown to the American authorities, slipped away across the straits, under cover of darkness, the night of August 3rd, and five days later were "gratefully accepted" by the Dominion Government as part of its defence scheme. The armament had not been installed before the submarines left Seattle, although it was in the possession of the construction company. Lieutenant Pilcher, senior naval officer at Esquimalt, was taking no chances of permitting the American authorities to impound the vessels under the neutrality laws, and did not wait to ship the guns. Within five days after the arrival of the sub at Esquimalt they were equipped with armament which had been rushed from Halifax.

The purchase of these two submarines by Canada was broadcast all over the world and gave rise to the fact that the news should reach Admiral von Spee. The fact that Canada possessed "two powerful underwater cruisers" at Esquimalt in no small measure, it is believed, strengthened Von Spee's decision to disregard the advice of his officers. Whether the construction company, which I cannot say, and in 1920, the war being over, and Canada having no further use for them, they were sold to the New Brunswick Rolling Mills Company to be broken up. As scrap iron they did not realize much, but the fact that the news that Canada was in possession of them undoubtedly contributed to the turning of Von Spee's squadron to its doom, instead of to the coast cities of British Columbia.

BOX SOCIAL AT SNOWSHOE CLUB GREAT SUCCESS

Many Amusing Incidents when Members of the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club Entertained Their Lady Friends.

The regular meeting of the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club last evening took the form of a Valentine box social at which the members of the club were the hosts to their lady friends. The large number present enjoyed dancing during the early part of the evening until about 10:30 o'clock. Then President Arthur Genge ushered the entire assembly to the dining hall, where Vice-President Hurn immediately announced that being the lowest bidder, his tender had been accepted as auctioneer for the occasion.

His credentials, ability and good intentions were at once challenged by certain of the club's trouble-makers, who felt that their bids for this responsible position should have been accepted. The interested bidders, however, presented a formidable and apparently legal document as long as his arm to support his claim. As this document had been signed, sealed and very well delivered, the ceremony was allowed to proceed.

The success of the auction itself will be recorded in club history. Each box of refreshments had been placed in a large paper bag, all bags being identical. Many of the packages, worth seventy-five cents at the most, brought promissory notes for two dollars and a half from the gentlemen present. The vice-chancellor, Newman Hunter, on a bid of two dollars received a bag containing only seventeen cubic inches of fresh suburban air, but upon threat of drastic action under the Weights and Measures act, the bag of wind was exchanged for an apology and the best box in the house.

At the close of the evening, a guest of the evening, William R. Allen, of Montreal, was called upon for a few words of greeting, after which dancing was resumed until 12:30.

The meeting next week will be the Honorary President's night.

SOUND ADVICE 'PLAY THE GAME' WAS GIVEN BOYS

Forceful Challenge Contained in Interesting Message William R. Allen, of Montreal, Left with Twenty-Second Annual Father and Son Banquet Last Night.

"Play the game if you want to succeed" was the sound and forceful challenge contained in the interesting message William R. Allen, of Montreal, delivered to the twenty-second annual Father and Son Banquet last evening. The guest speaker, a prominent Rotarian who for many years has been actively associated with the Boy Scout movement, culled his remarks from his wide experience in boys' work and addressed himself principally to the younger members of his large audience.

There are many opportunities in every profession awaiting the youth of today, Mr. Allen declared as he emphasized the fact that present-day leaders would soon have to retire and be replaced by the younger generation. A sound body, an alert mind and a basically strong spiritual character were the principal fundamentals required by the youth who has ambitions to make his life a success, the experienced lecturer told the large gathering.

"You fathers can go to sleep if you wish because I am talking to the boys," Mr. Allen remarked as he began his address. Needless to say, however, there were no signs of weariness among the older listeners. Using simple language and requiring but a short time to bring home the principal points of his arguments, Mr. Allen held the attention of his audience throughout, the lone regret being that time did not permit further remarks.

The speaker prefaced the main part of his address with a brief description of the boyhood days of his older audience. "We were no better than you when we were boys," Mr. Allen admitted. "We spent our free time swimming in the old creek, often without bathing suits, as you do, we played hockey on the river and in the streets like you do; we gazed into a looking glass for three weeks after our first shave, wondering when the hair would appear again; we got our first jobs and learned to shoulder responsibility before we were twenty; we developed into the marriage stage. And now we are here tonight attending a father and son get-together."

The leaders of today are the youth of yesterday who used their heads and took full advantage of every opportunity, Mr. Allen continued, "as he told his audience to remember that today's leaders in commerce and industry were once boys themselves, boys like you boys." They kept their eyes wide-open, learned to do their duty in all circumstances and today are reaping the rewards of their boyhood efforts.

Mr. Allen urged the boys to go to their fathers for advice, stressing that parents were ever ready to give their children the benefit of their experience. Lying, cheating, bad habits and unclean thinking are not worth the price, the speaker claimed, because they cause a youth to lose his self-respect and his confidence in himself, besides making him ashamed to look his parents "in the face."

The stirring address featured what proved to be another highlight in the history of these important functions. Listening to Mr. Allen were fathers whose ages ranged from seventy-four to thirty-five years. The oldest father accompanied by his son was J. H. Hunter, who is seventy-four years of age and who was with his son, Newman, while the youngest father was Jay Joslin and his ten-year-old son, Dunham. There were many other business men who "adopted" sons for the occasion, thereby tangibly demonstrating their deep interest in the welfare of this city's younger generation.

Presiding over the gathering was William B. Watson, president of the Y's Men's Club, who has as his guests at the head table his Worship, Mayor F. H. Bradley, J. R. Sangster, president of Sherbrooke's Young Men's Christian Association, Rev. Dr. G. Ellery Read, Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon and Howard Aikman, principal of the Lennoxville High School.

In his address of welcome Mr. Sangster remarked that when the first Father and Son banquet was held in 1915 H. V. Haigh was president of the Y.M.C.A. and the late J. H. Wood was general secretary. Some of the guests at the 1915 banquet, Mr. Sangster stated, were overseas when the second gathering was held, but despite the turmoil since then this vital event had been staged annually. His remarks were seconded by W. H. Wolter, the Y's general secretary, who stated the fathers that their sons were well looked after while they enjoyed the facilities of the local Y.M.C.A.

Craig Bishop tendered the word of welcome on behalf of the boys, pointing out in a well-worded and well-devised address that fathers and sons did not get together enough and that there was too much tendency for boys to regard their dads as a mere convenience whenever a service was needed. A. E. Willis proposed the welcome to the dads and urged the fathers to take a deeper interest in the activities of their sons, suggesting this course as a means of fostering closer relationship.

Mayor Bradley introduced the speaker, who was thanked by Bartley Holtham, while into the capable hands of Lyman Tomkins was entrusted the honor of thanking the ladies. Responsible in a large measure for the success of the event were Mrs. Hubert Johnston, who acted as convener, and her co-workers, Mesdames J. Corfield, R. Wood, W. Davey, M. W. Hall, A. Littleman, L. Eichenberg, J. A. Burke, L. P. Petit, W. Southgate, B. Dean, W.

MERCURY AGAIN BELOW ZERO IN THIS DISTRICT

Registered Twenty-One Below in Sherbrooke During Night—Highways Will Not Be Open to Motor Traffic Before Next Week.

The days are getting longer. And that fact, in view of the bitter weather which has been experienced for the past two months, is encouraging, for it means King Winter has started on the downward grade. Brighter or sunnier and longer days are indications that the winter is not so very, very far away.

But that fact has not altered the weatherman's attitude. Twenty-one below zero was recorded at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm during the night and twenty below at seven o'clock this morning. Yesterday the maximum temperature was eleven and the minimum eight below, while that on the corresponding day last year was maximum twenty and minimum twenty-three below.

Efforts to re-open winter highways are being renewed, but according to Lachapelle, of the Lennoxville Road Department office, said today it is not likely the highways will be open before next week.

Continents of the northern hemisphere were wrecked by the elements today as bitter cold, drifting snow, fire and winds of gale or tornado proportions brought death, destruction and privation.

North America counted at least fifteen burned to death and many injured in fires at Lakewood, N.J., Jackson, Minn., and New York. In southern California tornadoes twisted through four cities, injuring six persons, while floods and fires added to property damage estimated at $100,000.

Nine workers and a government engineer, mentioned above, were killed in a blizzard in the Ohio River thirty-five miles north of Paducah, Ky., faced possible death from an ice gorge upriver which stored up a tremendous head of water.

Europe was trembled by blizzards and waves of fishermen were killed and others lost along the Italian coast of the Adriatic, nine persons were known dead and many were missing in Asia Minor. Floods swept Smyrna Plains villages.

In the wake of a twenty-four hour blizzard, at least twenty were dead in Bulgaria, many others in Hungary and Greece. Macedonia had twenty-five known dead.

In Great Britain the toll of the past three days stood at twenty-seven. Paris faced a food shortage as roads became glazed with ice and only a few normal supplies reached markets.

FUR COATS IN ARGENTINA
Buenos Aires, Feb. 13.—Argentina, in the midst of its southern summer while much of North America was being exposed to a series of cold waves, has itself been chilled by sub-normal summer temperatures.

Fur coats have come into use at the seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, where temperatures dropped last week-end to forty-eight degrees Fahrenheit. After a fortnight of unseasonably cool weather, the temperature here rose yesterday to eighty degrees Fahrenheit.

MISSION CIRCLE APPOINTED NOMINATING COMMITTEE
A nominating committee consisting of the Misses Marguerite Mitton, Owenie McKeon and Eileen Davis was appointed to select the members of the St. Patrick Mission Circle at the home of the Misses Davis, Belvedere street.

Miss Helen Slattery presided and reports were received on the financial returns of the play, "The Yellow Shadow," and also on the card parties recently held. The results of both being quite satisfactory and encouraging.

Letters were read from children at Smoky Lake who had received Christmas gifts and also from a young boy ill in hospital in Edmonton to whom the Circle had sent cards.

Cards were played at four tables, the prize going to Miss Eileen McWilliams. At the close of the game, the hostesses served refreshments.

HIGHER STANDARD OF MEAT OFFERED SHERBROOKE PUBLIC
Meat confiscated at Lansdowne Market as unfit for public consumption means that the people of Sherbrooke are being provided with a more healthful and higher quality of meat than they have been getting in the past.

Dr. L. A. Gendreau, municipal meat inspector, in his annual report for 1935 states that during the year a total of 11,581 pounds of unfit meat was seized. This is a decrease of 3,477 pounds compared with the total the previous year of 15,058 pounds, and 6,176 pounds less in 1934.

The decrease, Dr. Gendreau claims, is due to the added precautions which are being taken by the farmers of the nature of meat brought to the city. He also complimented the city Council upon the strict supervision which was being maintained.

Peake, J. Haggie, S. Clarke, L. Liddell, S. Belmont and E. Peabody. The delicious menu was served by a capable staff of assistants, among whom were the Misses Mary Milford, Catherine Davey, Marion Peake, Isabelle Grecoire, Grella Cathcart, Ernestine Lethrop, Gertrude Mittleman, Ruth Eichenberg and Ruth Burroughs.

An entertaining musical programme added to the atmosphere of the evening. Several orchestra selections were rendered by Glen Sampson and his orchestra, while a quartette composed of C. V. Chamberlain, Carl Griffith, Fred Sangster and Hawley Griffith contributed two vocal numbers. The customary singing was led by Glen Sampson, with Wright Gibson at the piano.

MAGOG MAN IS ON TRIAL FOR TEXTILE THEFT

Witnesses Claim Paul Rouleau Had Hiding Places in Floor, Wall and Ceiling of His Home—Hearing Adjourned Until Next Week.

Testimony that quantities of merchandise had been concealed in hiding places in the floor, wall and ceiling of his home; that he unwound a long length of cloth from around his body early one morning upon his return home from work, and that his late wife made dresses from the material hidden in the house featured the opening of the preliminary hearing of Paul Rouleau, of Magog, on a charge of theft yesterday afternoon.

Rouleau is accused of stealing approximately $500 worth of merchandise from the Dominion Textile Company, which he was employed. His preliminary hearing was inaugurated before Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court and adjourned at the close of the afternoon until next Wednesday.

The accused, the prosecution contended, had three hiding places—one in the wall in his bedroom; another under the floor of a room in a different part of the house, and the third in the ceiling of a clothes-closet. The hole in the wall was covered by a large picture frame.

Gustave Dufresne, special constable for the Dominion Textile Company, testified that he visited Rouleau's home on the morning of the theft. He found nothing in the hiding places, but Rouleau instructed Rouleau to open the locked drawer of a bureau in his room and inside were found two dresses, a jacket and a white summer coat. These were later identified as made from material similar to that manufactured by the Magog plant.

Mrs. Donat Provencal said that at the time Detective Dufresne and Bailiff Gendron visited Rouleau's home, she was employed as a maid by the accused. "Mr. and Mrs. Rouleau were away in Charlevoix when the police first came," she said. "The following day Mr. and Mrs. Rouleau returned and I told him about the visit."

Rouleau, she claimed, replied: "I know why."

"He ordered me not to talk, and the next day told me to glue a paper to cover the hole behind the picture frame in his room." She neglected to do so, however.

The witness said that on another occasion she was asleep on a couch in the kitchen when Rouleau returned home from work. Dawn was just breaking. It was about five o'clock in the morning.

"I was awake when Rouleau entered the kitchen and I noticed that he appeared unusually stout. As he neared his room he opened his shirt, loosened his belt and unrolled a long length of material from around his body."

Irene Cadorette, Rouleau's niece, testified that she had lived in the Rouleau home for some time and had seen a drawer filled with material she identified as similar to samples produced by the textile company.

One day Rouleau told her, "come up with me to my room and we'll fix the bed."

They entered Rouleau's room and he locked the door.

Rouleau, witness testified, climbed on the bed, removed the picture which concealed the cache, and took out a large quantity of material from the hole in the wall. Together they placed this merchandise in a drawer, which Rouleau locked.

"How much material was there?" asked Col. Emile Rioux, K.C., acting for the complainant.

About a hundred yards," witness replied.

Miss Cadorette said she had obtained some material from Mrs. Rouleau with which to make a dress. Mrs. Provencal also testified that she had seen Mrs. Rouleau make dresses out of the material which was in the house.

Carrier was sentenced to two years on each of three charges, the sentences to run concurrently. He was accused of theft of a rifle, a box of cartridges, four hens, preserves, vegetables and two log chains from Philippe Poulin; four calves from the pasture of Victim Aime Fortin at Brompton, and three calves from a Southbridge, Shefford County, farmer.

For these three thefts and a fourth committed at St. Edwidge, Wilfrid Sirols was sentenced to one year in jail, while Hormidas Vaudry was given one year for the Brompton and Southbridge offenses.

FRESH LAMB IN WINTER

Madam, have you despaired of getting honest-to-goodness fresh lamb for a family dinner treat? Perhaps the last time you thought to have a toothsome roast of lamb or some delicious chops you found it tasteless and coarse of fibre. It was frozen meat, and had been frozen for months — and frozen is by no means fresh! It is doubtful if in Sherbrooke you can get delicious tender lamb to serve with mint and delicately flavored brown gravy — except in one place. In Toronto the youngest lambs are daintily fed and sent to the abattoir whilst still young. That's the kind that Dixon serves, fresh every week and with never a taint of frost. Treat your husband and children this week to an out-of-season rarity. Telephone 1031 and give Dick the command — a fine fresh roast of lovely lamb! You'll all be delighted. It costs him more but you pay no more.

YOUTH RISKED LIFE TO SAVE HIS DOG

Port Erie, Ont., Feb. 13. — John Boardley, aged eighteen, used the keen blade of his skates to stop at the edge of open water, but his dog Queenie skidded helplessly into the frigid Niagara River. THIS NATURAL FOOD GENTLY REGULATES YOUR SYSTEM

Furnishes Needed "Bulk" for Regular Habits

Your doctor will tell you that keeping healthy depends far more on proper diet than on drugs, that common constipation is usually due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, and that patent medicines give you only temporary relief.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gently acting "bulk" which corrects the cause of common constipation. This "bulk" takes up moisture, forming a soft mass which helps to cleanse the system.

ALL-BRAN gives your body the regular internal exercise it needs to prevent sluggishness. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Careful studies on men and women have shown that this delicious cereal is perfectly satisfactory. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Avoid disappointment—get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

freshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Heather, and a pleasant social hour spent.

DEATHS REPORTED

MRS. ISABELLE LEAVITT, HATLEY

Hatley, February 13.—On January 18, 1936, there passed away at her home in the North Church neighborhood, Hatley's oldest resident, Mrs. Isabelle Leavitt, who had reached the advanced age of ninety-six years.

Mrs. Leavitt, who was born in Hatley, July 29, 1839, on the old Thwaites farm, about a mile and a half from the village, was the second child and eldest daughter of the late James Thwaites and his wife, Ruth Hodgson, of Maryport, England, who were married and sailed for this country in the year 1866. In this family were eight children, two sons and six daughters, all the others having passed on many years ago.

At the age of sixteen, she went to Great Falls, N.H., and worked as a weaver in the mill there for about six years. After returning home, she and Immanuel Leavitt were married on March 25, 1861, at Stanstead by Rev. R. B. Hall. After the birth of their one child, Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt both returned to the States, this time going to Lowell, Mass., where she resumed her work as a weaver in the mill.

After six years in Lowell, the little child with her parents for a few years. Then they settled on the farm near the head of Lake Massawippi for five years, then bought the farm in the North Church neighborhood where they lived the remainder of their lives.

Mrs. Leavitt was a woman of remarkable courage and fortitude, working early and late, indoors and out, to help pay for their home, which she loved and refused to leave even in her old age. She was of cheerful disposition, a good kind neighbor and friend and many hours she spent at the bedside of sick ones, always being ready to go at the call for assistance, night or day.

After the death of her husband in 1912, she decided to run the farm with the aid of her help, and did so for several years. Then her grandson, Bradley Hartwell, rented the farm and, with his wife, came to live with her. She has helped raise their family of five children, who have always been her court and pride, and did not let her could to make her last years peaceful and happy.

The funeral was held in the Anglican Church in Hatley village, Rev. W. J. Smith officiating. The bearers were four nephews, Messrs. Taylor, Thomas and Ray Little and Thomas Reville.

Besides her one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hartwell, she leaves to mourn her loss three grandchildren, Bradley Hartwell, Lora, Mrs. Nelson Fish and Mrs. Eula White; eleven great grandchildren, a number of nephews and nieces and other relatives and friends. She was laid to rest in the Anglican Cemetery beside her husband.

MR. HAROLD MERRILL, ROCK ISLAND.

Rock Island, February 13.—Harold Merrill, who departed his life on Wednesday, January 29th, was born at Fitch Bay, Stanstead County, on September 15, 1896. When ten years of age his parents moved to Tomfobia and on to Rock Island in 1914. In 1910 Harold entered Stanstead College, where he spent three years in the academic grades and one year at Bugbee Business College, from which he was graduated in the book-keeping course in 1914.

After staying a year with his parents, he entered the office of the Ingersoll Rand Company, Sherbrooke, in 1916. For ten years he remained in the employ of this company, giving good and faithful service. During those years he took an active part in different sports and entered into the social life of the city. He was a Past Master of Victoria Lodge No. 16, A.F. and A.M., and a member of the Presbyterian Church, under Rev. Mr. Bright.

In 1926 an appendicular operation so weakened a previously robust system that pulmonary tuberculosis resulted. He returned home to put up a fight against the disease. He spent the winter of 1927 at St. Agathe. In 1929, he went west to Arizona, where he spent nearly two years, returning in 1931 apparently much improved and much encouraged. Four more years he continued the fight. Never did he give up hope until the past summer, when for a time his life was despaired of. His father's death four months ago was a great shock to him. Then, on the evening of January 29th he passed peacefully away.

Throughout his short life of thirty-nine years, Harold was a fine Christian gentleman, admired and loved by all who knew him.

He left to mourn him a devoted mother and a brother, Ralph, of Albany, N.Y., who has been home almost continually since before his father's passing some months ago.

The funeral service was held at the home, Rock Island, on Friday, January 31st. The officiating clergyman was Dr. J. H. Philip, who by previous special request of the departed, was assisted by J. D. McFadden, of Stanstead College. There were many floral offerings, which showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The bearers were Dr. D. R. MacKay, Messrs. P. F. Hunt, M. F. Freneau, H. D. Ames, L. F. Tilton and M. L. Moore.

MRS. B. HENDERSON, DANVILLE, QUE.

Danville, February 13.—A large gathering of sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral of Mrs. B. Henderson, which took place in St. Augustine's Church on December 26th, the service being conducted by Rev. Sidney Wood.

Mrs. Henderson had been in ill health for some time, but her death on December 24th came as a great shock to her many friends.

During the service the choir sang "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee."

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Fred McCoy, Harry Barnard, Thomas Manning and Bert Webb. Among the lovely floral tributes from relatives and friends was a beautiful spray from the members of St. Augustine's Guild, of which the deceased was an active member for many years. She was also a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The crowded church and beautiful flowers all bore testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing husband, a sister, Mrs. William Kent, and a brother, Mr. Charles Irvine, of Saginaw, Mich. She was pre-deceased by two brothers, John and Jerid Irvine.

Her niece, Mrs. Earl Anthony, and sister-in-law, Mrs. J. McCallum, assisted in caring for her during the latter part of her illness.

The burial service was read in the vault at Danville Cemetery in the spring for interment.

Mrs. Henderson, nee Katherine Irvine, was born in Trillick County of Armagh, Northern Ireland, in 1871. Her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine, together with her brothers and sisters came to this country when she was at an early age, and settled in Nicolet Falls, where they resided for many years.

Mrs. Henderson will be missed by a wide circle of friends, who will long remember her kind and charitable nature.

Cheverton, of St. Paul's Church, thence to Trinity United Church, of which the deceased was a member.

The hymns sung were, "Breathe On Me Breath of God" and "Nearer My God to Thee."

Interment took place in the family lot in Malvern Cemetery, Lennoxville.

Tilden company. They are the first women to join the professional troupe since Suzanne Lenglen and Mary K. Browne toured in 1925.

This community wish her a successful operation and a speedy recovery.

The Pioneers Y.P.S. held their meeting recently. This meeting marks a new era for the Young People. The new constitutional rules were read for the third time and adopted. The hand-book provides the topic for each meeting as laid down by the United Church. There was a good attendance and the evening was on the devotional topic, "The Christian Church and Unemployment," with Mr. Crook in charge. The president, Mr. George Jewett, Jr., was in the chair. After the business meeting was over, the devotional meeting was opened by Master Harry Jones, who gave out the hymns. Miss Jean Rogerson gave the Bible reading. Mr. Cook gave the prayer and address in which he showed clearly the duty of the Christian church towards the tragedy of the present unemployment problem. The only solution he said was the Christianizing of the present social system. There is a marked interest shown in the work of the Young People's Society.

The young folks enjoyed a skating party Saturday evening. The evening was ideal, it being rather cold and a beautiful moonlight night. During the evening the party resorted to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mossa, where they enjoyed light refreshments and coffee.

AMES HELD BIG ADVANTAGE FOR RECORD TROPHY

Lennoxville Skip Registered Twenty-Three to Six Victory Over Gordon Armitage's Sherbrooke Quartette in Final Bospiel Event Last Evening.

Hubert Ames is seeking to convince the Eastern Townships curling fraternity today that the Sherbrooke Record Trophy, feature prize of the annual Sherbrooke Curling Club bospiel, should become the undisputed property of the Lennoxville Club members. In view of his twenty-three to six victory over Gordon Armitage's Sherbrooke quartette in the final encounter last evening, Hubert asserts, and is supported by statistics, that Lennoxville has taken the trophy five of the seven times that it has been competed for. And if this has been the case, ownership, what does he ask? However, the Sherbrooke Club officials take a different view on the situation and are convinced that the hoodoo which seems to overshadow their rinks in this contest will go away some day and that the cup will rest for a long period in its original home.

Except for the one-sidedness of the score, there was little to feature last night's event, which marked the wind-up of the highly successful 1936 bospiel. After allowing the Sherbrooke skip a single counter on the opening end, Ames swung into the lead with a four on the second and from then on it was merely a case of what his final lead would be, four, three and two being chalked up with regularity. Only twice in the remainder of the game did Armitage's rink score, making a three on the eighth and a two on the tenth.

Ames, with Lee Watson as lead, Timmy Burton as second and A. H. "Brownie" Baker as third, are the seventh holders of the Record Trophy. This trophy, a beautiful bronze figure of a curler in the act of delivering a stone, was donated to the club in 1930 by the late Alfred Wood, then president of the Sherbrooke Record, for annual bospiel competition. The initial holders comprised the following Sherbrooke rink: Steve Newton, Jim Fuller, Lee Heyman and Jim Watson, skip.

The following year, Jim Balfour, of Lennoxville, supported by McMurphy, Roy Clarke and Bob McFadden, carried the trophy to the College Town and added their names to the base for the second time in 1932. Lennoxville won the event for the third time in 1933, this time the rink comprising W. H. Abbott, Mark Bennett, Brownie Baker and Gordon Ames, skip. After the 1934 bospiel, the trophy rested in the Sherbrooke clubhouse for a year, Jim Watson being responsible for its return, his rink comprising Fred Briggs, Luther Thompson and George Ewing. Last year the Lennoxville club regained possession of the prize, the championship rink comprising Ross Healy, Wes Nichol, Roy Clarke and Rupert Atto, skip.

Last year's cup-holders were eliminated in the semi-final round by Hubert Ames, while Gordon Armitage put the 1934 victory out of the running in the same stage. The score by ends last night was: Ames 432 312 403 022-23 Armitage 100 000 030 200-6

The rinks comprised: L. M. Watson C. O. Gustafson T. H. Burton O. Stenson A. H. Baker M. V. Long W. H. Ames J. G. Armitage Skip-23 Skip-6

Last night's game marked the conclusion of the most successful and the most keenly-contested bospiel held in recent years by the local club. Eighteen rinks representing Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Thetford Mines and Magog entered the two main events, the Record Trophy and Mitchell Cup competitions, and the championships were well divided. Lennoxville carried off the Record Trophy, while the consolation flight prizes went to Lennie Smith's Thetford Mines aggregation. Bob McMurray, skipping this year for Sherbrooke, brought back the Mitchell Cup which he won the previous year by a narrow margin in the Lennoxville outfit. In the Mitchell consolation the prizes were carried off by Gordon Armitage's rink.

Tonight, the Sherbrooke club resumes its regular schedule, with a "Ladies' Night" being the feature attraction.

In addition to the Record Trophy final last evening, a second round encounter was run off in the McCrea Cup series, Jim Fuller registering an eight to five victory over Fred Southwood. The rinks were: E. E. Palmer N. Thériault E. N. Fidler C. S. Hatch J. M. Stratton W. G. Cross J. N. Fuller F. J. Southwood Skip-8 Skip-5

FORBES TROPHY SERIES OPENS AT LENNOXVILLE

Two close encounters featured the inauguration of the Forbes Trophy competition at the Lennoxville Curling Club last evening. In this grand event, Rupert Atto nosed out Mark Bennett by eight to seven and Bert McKindsey held a ten to nine margin over Arthur Speid. The rinks were: A. MacKenzie T. P. Delaney W. W. Nicol Rev. PLAN TO FORM AN E.T. HOCKEY CONTROL BOARD

Committee of Five Appointed Last Night to Investigate Hockey Situation in Eastern Townships with a View to Forming Association Independent of Q.A.H.A.

Contending that the Q. A. H. A. has not been giving the Eastern Townships a square deal—for one thing, as regards play-offs in Montreal for juvenile, midget and bantam teams—Eastern Townships' conveners of the Q.A.H.A. last night appointed a committee of five to thoroughly investigate the hockey situation in this district with a view to forming, if possible, an Eastern Townships' Amateur Hockey Association entirely independent of the Q.A.H.A., but affiliated with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

For two and a half hours hockey problems were aired—at many times with heat and fervor—by the conveners and other representatives who met in the office of C. C. Cabana, district vice-president of the Association. Mr. Cabana said that the Association had come in for a great deal of criticism both from the press and public, particularly during the past few weeks as a result of the argument in the case of Guido Roy, and he could not see why the Eastern Townships could not have an association of their own affiliated with the C.A.H.A., but entirely independent of the Quebec body. The Eastern Townships' clubs paid in between four and five hundred dollars to the Q.A.H.A. every year in fees and other obligations, he said, and had little to show in return. That money could be kept in the district and used to foster and encourage Canada's national sport to better advantage.

Jack Black said that a general rule had been applied in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and that taken into consideration local conditions and circumstances, Roy was refused permission to play here because he had played in a Quebec City League.

There existed a rule and it had to be applied, declared Nelson Charter, president of the Sherbrooke County Intermediate League. "If the rules were not rigidly applied, as they were in the Roy case, you would have players jumping all over the place. That cannot be allowed."

Mr. Cabana: "We have only a handful of good players and we cannot afford to place one on the shelf for a whole season. Montreal should have realized that."

Gerry Wiggitt, president of the E.T. Juvenile, Midget and Bantam Leagues, yesterday said that the future hockey players were not being treated fairly. They were promised play-offs in Montreal but those promises were seldom carried out.

Mr. Wiggitt declared he did not believe in violating rules, but agreed with Mr. Black that the Q.A.H.A. oftentimes did not give satisfaction because it was not familiar with local conditions. "You can't tell me that they don't break rules in Montreal!"

Mr. Charter: "Sure." Mr. Wiggitt suggested that a Board might be appointed, affiliated with the Q.A.H.A., to govern hockey in this district.

Dallas Grant, of Windsor Mills, president of the St. Francis Valley League, said that "rules had to be applied with brains."

"You can't make one rule to govern hockey from Vancouver to Halifax. Rules have to be interpreted with common sense and judgment," he declared.

Mr. Grant then moved the resolution that a committee be appointed to investigate the hockey situation in the Eastern Townships with a view to forming an Eastern Townships Amateur Hockey Association independent of the Q.A.H.A., but affiliated with the C.A.H.A. His motion was seconded by Henry Hanks, vice-president of the Sherbrooke County Hockey League. It was put to a vote and carried.

C. C. Cabana, Gerry Wiggitt, Dallas Landry, Dallas Grant, Jack Black and Nelson Charter were appointed a committee to probe the hockey situation.

Others who attended last night's meeting were Alden Rousseau, president of the Wolfe County Hockey League; H. A. Stevenson, president of the Compton County League; F. P. Kenaly, president of the Richmond County League; Rev. Brothers Benedict and Austin, Bud Howard, Dallas Landry, Emmett Kenaly, Turcotte and W. J. Westgate.

Play was started yesterday for the prizes offered by the president of the Ladies' Club, Mrs. L. M. Watson. In the first match the quartette skipped by Mrs. A. Scott scored a fifteen to nine victory over Mrs. T. Burton's foursome.

The rinks were: Day Series Final Mrs. H. Bassett Mrs. Bickley Mrs. H. Alkman Mrs. H. White Mrs. J. McFadden Mrs. C. Hall F. Day Mrs. F. Browne Skip-5 Skip-4

DISCOVERY OF TWO TOMBS INTACT

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 13.—An archaeological mission headed by Harold Hayden Nelson, American Egyptologist, disclosed yesterday it had discovered two tombs dating from the time of the Pharaohs, with seals placed there at the time of the burials still intact.

LEADERSHIP OF KAYSER LEAGUE CHANGED AGAIN

Blues Gain Pace-Setting Berth from Violets Following Last Night's Julius Kayser Bowling League Games—Four Strings Separate First and Fourth Places.

The leadership of the Julius Kayser House Bowling League changed hands again last night and today the Blues are setting the pace with a one-string lead over last week's leaders, the Violets. One string behind the runners-up are the Grays who occupied first place until the top, while only four strings behind the Blues are the fourth-place Pinks. There are still nine strings left before the schedule is concluded and anything is liable to happen before the champions are declared.

The Grays gained revenge on the violets last night when, with Henry Klein back in harness for the first time since his sojourn in the hospital, they captured two strings from the former pace-setters. Meanwhile the Blues were blanking the Maroons and knocking Paul Thibault and his mates from their lofty perch.

The Pinks, who also led the field at one time, had a chance of creating a deadlock for the leadership, but, instead, they dropped two strings to the Browns and found their hold on fourth place shaken. The Greens drubbed the Whites and climbed into the first division ahead of other ex-leaders, the Blacks, who lost a two to one decision to the last-place Purples.

The sixth fixture on last night's programme saw the Reds remain two strings ahead of the cellar occupants by taking the odd string in three from the Oranges.

Two captains, Aurele Audet and Armand Bourguignon, annexed individual honours, Audet with a single-string total of 165 and Bourguignon with a triple aggregate of 444. Others who qualified in the "400" Club last night were Thibault with 416, Audet with 414 and F. Vallancourt with 403.

TITLISTS BEAT BISHOP'S GIRL CAGERS EASILY

Y.W.C.A. Reds Registered Fourth Straight Victory Last Night, Trouncing College Squad in Sherbrooke County Girls' Basketball League Contest.

The Y.W.C.A. Reds are tolerating no interference in their march towards the Sherbrooke County Girls' Basketball League championship they captured last year as the Y.W.C.A. Whites. Playing on the Bishop's University floor last evening they trounced a determined College quintette by a score of twenty-nine to nineteen, despite the handicap they faced in the difference in size of the Lennoxville and MacKinnon Memorial surfaces. It was the fourth straight victory for the Reds.

Captain Frederick Bradley led her team-mates to victory and was the game's high scorer, accounting for nine of the Reds' points. Gerrie Gaffney, "Dot" Miller and Emily Von Berg each secured six counters, while Marguerite Robins, an old Bishop's star who played a stellar game on the visitors' defence, scored the other two on a tricky long shot from centre court. Nancy MacDougall was outstanding for Bishop's and tallied eight points, four of which resulted from her skill at making free shots good. Isabelle Rothney was runner-up with three points, and deserved several more, being the victim of much hard luck during the game. Betty Brewer and Edith Everett played excellent supporting games.

Play was fairly even throughout the game and both teams were unable to count on a series of good shooting opportunities. Bishop's played a fast, passing game and seemed several times to have the edge on their faster opponents, but their lack of experience told against them. The Purple and White took better advantage of the foul shots awarded them than did the visitors and gained four points in the first half. The Reds were awarded twelve free tries at the Bishop's basket and only succeeded in capitalizing on three.

The score at the end of the first quarter found the Reds holding a five-three lead over their opponents. Their lead was widened to eight by half-time they had stretched the margin to eleven, the score reading twenty-one to ten.

Bishop's managed to whittle their deficit down to eight by the end of the third stanza. Two neat baskets by Miss Bradley and Miss Von Berg and a foul shot scored by Miss Gaffney accounted for the Sherbrooke team's final markers. Bishop's last three points came as the result of a pretty shot by Miss Everett and a foul goal by Miss MacDougall.

Averill's defeat reflected the game in a satisfactory manner, with Les McCaig and Jack Ewing as time-keeper and scorer, respectively.

The line-ups and individual scores were as follows: Bishop's—Betty Clarke, right forward; Edith Everett, left forward; Isabelle Rothney, centre; Nancy MacDougall, right guard; B. Betty

ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING HELD AT EAST ANGUS

Officers for Coming Year Elected at Annual Meeting of East Angus Anglican Church Congregation—Excellent Reports Submitted.

East Angus, February 13.—The annual meeting of the vestry of Christ Church was held at the parsonage on the evening of January 20th, with a good attendance of the church members present. The incumbent, Rev. Charles E. S. Bown, presided over the meeting. The news of the King's death was received at the opening of the session and prayers were said for the Royal Family. The vestry clerk, Mr. R. J. Westgate, was appointed and the minutes read and adopted. The incumbent thanked all the officers for the faithful work in which they had discharged their duties throughout the year.

The people's warden, Mr. R. C. Bailey, presented the financial statement for 1935, which showed all accounts paid and a small balance on hand. The request of the Diocesan Board that the congregation assume a larger assessment towards the clergyman's salary for 1936 was read, considered and granted, it being felt that with improved industrial conditions, the request was reasonable.

The incumbent reported that all the church organizations were performing their different tasks and especially commended the work of the Ladies' Guild and the Sunday School teachers, the one in helping meet the financial obligations, and the other the teaching work of the church.

He then read the Canon governing the election of wardens and again appointed Dr. S. A. Banfill as clergyman's warden, Mr. R. C. Bailey as people's warden, and Mr. J. Apples as clerk. The following were elected as vestrymen, Messrs. T. A. Bagley, R. J. Mills, C. Wilson, R. J. Westgate, Ray Willard, Fred Gilbert, E. A. Bailey and H. Johnson. The following were elected as members of the finance committee, Messrs. F. H. Planché, A. Hall, E. Warcup, and G. Watkins. Auditors appointed were Mr. E. A. Bailey and Mr. A. Hall. The sexton, Mr. W. Gilbert, and the organist, Mr. J. Apples, were re-elected. Delegates to the Diocesan Synod were then selected. Dr. S. A. Banfill and Mr. R. C. Bailey were elected for the two-year term, with Messrs. A. Hall and G. Watkins as substitutes.

Votes of thanks were passed to the members of the Ladies' Guild for their untiring co-operation, to the Sunday School teachers for their faithful and painstaking work throughout the year, to the organist and choir for the musical lead they had given to all services, to the warden for their faithful discharge of duty, to the incumbent for the discharge of his many and varied duties. Several minor repairs needed at the parish hall were discussed and the closing up of the Restoration Fund campaign was given attention. At the close of the business session, refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Bown.

General Notes.

A united service of memorial for the passing of His Gracious Majesty King George V was held in Christ Church parish hall on the evening of January 28th. The platform of the hall had been arranged to represent the sanctuary of a church, the combined choir of a church, the Protestant churches led the musical portion of the service. The opening sentences of the burial service were said by Rev. O. J. Baron and Rev. C. E. S. Bown in unison, the 23rd and 31st Psalms were read, Mr. Baron read the lesson and Mr. Bown led in prayer. The hymns sung were, "Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand," "Nearer My God to Thee," "God of the Living," "Abide With Me" and "For All the Saints." Rev. O. J. Baron gave a brief address in which he stressed the unflinching devotion of the late King to the church and what the Christian religion stands for. Rev. O. E. S. Bown spoke of the King's unrelenting quest to understand his Empire and its peoples that he might serve it more fully, and traced some of the sources of that display of universal loyalty discernable in the Royal Family itself to Him who was its head, and throughout the sorrowing Empire. The members of the Canadian Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Legion turned out in full numbers, also the Girl Guide Company, Boy Scouts, Brownies and Wolfe Cubs for the service.

The Dramatic Club of Christ Church presented what is voted by popular consent to have been one of the best and most amusing plays ever presented in the history of the club, "The Antics of Andrew," by Jay Tobias. The play is one full of humorous dialogue and incident and was well presented by a large cast of young people under the able direction of Mrs. E. A. Bailey. The scene of the play is set in the luxurious college apartment of Mr. Andrew Browne, a senior of Cameron College, played in a pleasing and straightforward manner by Mr. Ed. Clout. Petunia, Andrew's negro cook, and Jacques, his French valet, whose encounters greatly enlivened and enriched the play, were splendidly presented by Miss Georgiana Davis and

Mr. John Apps, whose appearance never failed to bring applause. Andrew's comfortable position is found to be due to the generosity of his Australian uncle, Isaac Zimmerman, who having no other relatives is sending Andrew a very handsome allowance weekly under the understanding that he is married and supporting his mother-in-law. Instead of a wife and mother-in-law his two pals, Willie Waldo and Harold Hadley, are helping him spend his allowance. These two most difficult roles were played by Mr. Thomas Rowland and Mr. Barclay Westgate who brought to their portrayal considerable acting ability, for when "Uncle Isaac" played in his own inimitable way by Mr. Grant Robb decided with short warning to visit his nephews. Two friends had to impersonate his wife and mother-in-law. Their efforts to do the honors suitably at a birthday party to which their best girls and Andrew's lady love had all been invited, brought many laughs from the audience. Alister Thorne, niece of Miss Prunella, and Andrew's girl friend was portrayed by Miss Anita Labonte in a very charming manner, her audience rejoicing and sorrowing with her in the varied tricks of fate in the play. Miss Prunella, her rather hard-hearted and prim guardian, with a love affair of her own to attend to, was well played by Miss K. Currie. Dean Socrates Boynton, who was obviously ill at ease in a party of young college boys and girls, and who alternately fled from Miss Prunella's company and sought after the very flirtatious mother-in-law, was given by Mr. Murray Labonte in one of his well-thought out characterizations. The roles of Misses Julie and Betty Boynton, the nieces of the Dean and typical girls of the party, were played by Misses K. Griffin and Olive Rowland. The two policemen who come to seriously embarrass the already badly embarrassed Andrew and to seriously insult and terrify Miss Prunella, were well presented by Messrs. G. Gaudin and L. Bailey. The part of the benign Rev. Mr. Doolittle, who is called in to perform all sorts of wanted and unwanted marriages, and who in the end turns out to be the true, "Uncle Isaac," was most acceptably portrayed by Mr. Eric Planché. All who attended this performance apparently had a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Capt. Gibson, of the Church Army, Toronto, Ont., gave a lecture on Friday evening at Christ Church on the work of the Church Army in Canada and especially in the Peace River part of the province of Alberta. During his stay in town he was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Bown.

The Boy Scouts held a skating party and dance on Saturday evening. Skating was indulged in on the High School rink, after which the party went to the parish hall, where dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The service and refreshments were provided by the three patrols who lost in the last patrol contests. The winning patrol had the best of the evening with no entertainment duties to fulfil.

Mr. Hodges, who was born in Hatley twenty-seven years ago, was the youngest son of Albert Hodges and his wife, Elvira Woodward, who until a few years ago had lived all their married life on the farm now owned by James Pidduck, since living in dif-

DEATH OF AGED MOTHER IS CAUSE OF FAMILY TRAGEDY

Fifty-Two Year Old Daughter of Dead Woman Alleged to Have Poisoned Her Niece and Then to Have Taken Her Own Life.

London, Ont., Feb. 13.—Despondency over the death of her aged mother was believed by police today to have caused Miss Myrtle Terry, aged fifty-two, to poison her niece, sixteen year old Helen Tozer, and then take her own life in the same manner.

All three deaths occurred within a few hours last night. George Terry, of Windsor, brother of Myrtle, discovered the double tragedy when he broke into his sister's apartment. He had come to the city in response to his sister's phone call advising him of the death of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Terry, whose body had been removed to the undertaker's.

It was the second piece of tragic news of the day for the father, John Tozer, who earlier had been informed of his brother, Chester, had dropped dead at Flint, Mich.

SCOTSTOWN

Mr. D. C. MacLeod, of Canterbury, was a recent visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. John D. Murray, going to Milan to spend a few days with relatives. Miss Christie MacLeod, R.N., was also a visitor at the Murray home before returning to her duties in Sherbrooke.

"STONE WALLS DO NOT A PRISON MAKE, NOR IRON BARS A CAGE"

A prison prince whose wealth made mockery of the penitentiary rules—that is the picture of Richard Loeb, thrill murderer of Bobby Franks, painted in the investigation of his death at the hands of James Day, a fellow prisoner in the Statesville Penitentiary in Illinois. The two cages of canaries so conspicuous in the above picture add a home-like coziness to the cell Loeb occupied. A desk and small library also catered to his comfort.

GRIM TRAGEDY ENACTED IN SASKATCHEWAN FARM HOUSE

Farmer Lay Helpless in Sub-Zero Weather in His Unheated Home After His Wife and Daughter Succumbed to Poison Contained in Salmon.

St. Boswells, Sask., Feb. 13.—With an inquest pending into the death of his wife and daughter, Cornelius Geisbrecht today was recovering from poisoning and chills and his two-year old son was recovering from chills.

Geisbrecht, a farmer near St. Boswells, one hundred and seventy-five miles southwest of Regina, lay helpless in sub-zero weather in his unheated home forty hours with his dead wife and daughter nearby. The son lay for the same period in his cot.

Geisbrecht said he purchased a can of salmon at Hodgeville Monday. His wife, the baby daughter and Geisbrecht ate some of the salmon, but the boy, Abraham, refused to take any.

Feeling ill shortly afterward, Geisbrecht tried to clean the stovepipes, fearing they were clogged. He fell from a chair, pulling down a stovepipe length, and bruising himself badly.

With the weather close to fifty below zero, the house became very cold as Geisbrecht was unable to tend the fires. Smoke and gas also had gathered in the place.

A woman entered the palatial office of the busy film director.

"P-please, sir—" she began.

"Cut out all that," snapped the director testily. "What's your specialty? Let's hear you sing."

The woman nervously cleared her throat and struggled through a verse of Annie Laurie.

"Stop! Stop!" cried the director. "That's awful! You can't sing!"

"I never said I could," replied the woman coldly. "I just came here to clean out the office."
